DUMAS-SPEARMAN LINE IS CONTESTED

ROCK ISLAND OPPOSES NEW RAIL PROJECT

OTHER TESTIMONY FOR TRUNK LINE NOT NEEDED, RULED

(By Associated Press)
AMARILLO, Jan. 24.—The Dumas-Spearman branch of the Santa Fe's proposed 380-mile construction program was considered today at the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here, after Examiner T. F. Sullivan, conducting the hearing, ruled that additional testimony in support of the other two lines was unnecessary.

Various witnesses from points along the proposed lines through Colorado and New Mexico and from Denver to Pueblo, told of the need for more rail facilities before Examiner Sullivan called a halt to the testimony.

Isn't Necessary
"Isn't necessary," he said, "to offer more testimony for these lines." Those upon which testimony was offered are a 220-mile trunk line from Amarillo to Las Animas, and 110 miles from Ft. Collins, Colo., to New Mexico. No protest, except the routing of the Las Animas line in Southern Colorado, was offered.

Strenuous objection to construction of a 30-mile branch from the Spearman was made by the Rock Island, and all witnesses from the Spearman territory were cross examined. Lengthy Rock Island officials contend that the extension

Racial Hatred Seethes In California; Seven Jailed

POWERFUL SEARCHLIGHT WILL SWEEP BORDER IN SEARCH OF RUM BOATS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—A 2,500,000 candle power searchlight installed by the local coast guard forth a new defiance to rum smugglers. It has been placed on the roof of the customs house, directly across from the Bridgeburg, Ont. liquor docks. Its 1,500-watt bulb, magnified a thousand times by a 25-inch lens, has a range of two miles, and if it were focused on the Bridgeburg liquor docks, 2,500 feet away would flood the area with light, permitting easy scrutiny of all activity there from the American side.

It is planned, however, to play the searching rays of the huge light on American waters, and rum craft will be kept covered until overhauled by a government boat.

Only ten such lights would be required to place one to each mile from the mouth of the Niagara river to Grand Island, Lieutenant M. W. Rasmussen, coast guardsman to spot liquor boats over a ten-mile stretch in a territory where most of the liquor smuggling is now conducted.

Byrd Expedition In No Immediate Danger, Says Party's Representative

ANIMALS PLENTIFUL IN AREA WHERE MEN ARE STATIONED NOW

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Captain H. H. Byrd, personal representative of Admiral Richard E. Byrd, today said that although an ice pack barred ships of the expedition from reaching the base on the Antarctic coast, the expedition is in no immediate danger.

The statement published in the New York Times, which is sponsoring the expedition with associated newspapers said:

"While it is true that the expedition is not fully equipped to spend another winter in the Antarctic, there is no immediate shortage of the food supply. There is ample fuel for heat and for operation of the radio. The men are not on reduced rations. There is no immediate prospect that they will be. They are well clothed, comfortably housed.

Animals Plentiful
"In extreme circumstances, an adequate supply of whale, seal, penguin will sustain life—but those who might have to rely upon such a diet, over a prolonged period would scarcely count it a pleasant experience."

"It is believed that, through the kindly offices of the state department, which has instructed the American ambassador at London and the American minister at Oslo to the cooperation of the whaling companies whose vessels are now fishing in the Ross sea, a navigable passage to the Bay of Whales will be discovered or, if necessary, forced.

The period of greatest separation of the ice in the Ross Sea is in February. It is possible, therefore, that the present impenetrable condition of the ice pack may be so altered within the next ten days that Admiral Byrd's vessels will be able to proceed south under their own power to his base on the ice barrier.

Admiral Byrd's present position is exactly that of a cool, wise commander.

CIVIC POOL BEING FORMED TO MAKE PROVISIONS FOR CHICAGO'S DEBTS

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—A civic pool was being formed by leading business interests today on which to float the city, the county and the school board from their "no funds" dilemma.

The pool will be for the purpose of buying $50,000,000 in tax anticipation warrants, and this sum will be enough, according to officials, to run the local government bodies until the reassessment is completed and 1928 tax bills collected. The Citizens' Relief committee, under the chairmanship of Silas H. Strawn is organizing the pool.

Mr. Strawn explained that large businesses, public utilities

FILIPINOS AND WHITES MIX IN FIGHTING; FIVE INJURED

(By Associated Press)
SAN JOSE, Calif., Jan. 24.—Racial hatred, inflamed by employment of white dancing girls in a Filipino club here, seethed again today as the result of two clashes at San Jose in which one white man was stabbed and four Filipinos badly beaten.

The outbreak at San Jose last night came while armed patrols were guarding streets and highways here to prevent recurrence of fighting which has raged intermittently for five days resulting in the death of one Filipino, the flogging of several others and the arrest of seven white men.

Youth Wounded
Alfred Johnson, 22, was stabbed twice in the back and critically wounded while he was watching a clash between Filipinos and whites at San Jose. There were two fights, two Filipinos having been beaten in each. Police said white men were the aggressors in each case.

Discovery of an alleged Filipino pamphlet called "The Torch" to which was attributed the statement that "Filipinos have as much right to American girls as Americans," was reported to police officers.

Filipino Found Dead
The body of Fernan Tehera, 22, a Filipino, was found in a bunk house east of here. He had been shot through the heart. Authorities said shots were fired into the building by a mob of white men.

NAVAL PARITY GAINS FAVOR IN CONFERENCE

FIRST WEEK'S WORK IS NEAR END; MEETINGS ARE NUMEROUS

BY BYRON PRICE.
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Jan. 24.—Delegates to the five-power naval conference virtually wound up their first week's work today with a whirl of activity bringing Anglo-American parity sharply to the fore for the first time and pointing to publicity for all future full meetings of the conference.

At the suggestion of Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state, the troublesome cruiser problem which wrecked the Geneva conference seems certain to be the first taken up in arranging details of parity of the British and American navies.

The day's rounds of conferences also kept the Italian demand for parity with the French and Anglo-French disagreements over the scope of the conference constantly under the microscope.

EUROPEAN UNION, NAPOLEON'S PLAN

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—(By Associated Press) That Napoleon and not Aristide Briand was the originator of the "United States of Europe" idea is brought out in the film "Napoleon on St. Helena," which has been shown in a Berlin theater. It is a historical fact that the Corsican, when after his defeat at Waterloo he was banished to St. Helena, confessed that his policy had been wrong.

The medley of European nations could never be fused into a permanently peaceful whole by the sword, he said, but only by the creation of a "federation des etats Europeens."

EVIDENCE OF RABIES FOUND IN DOG HERE

LOCAL FAMILY UNDER TREATMENT AFTER EXAMINATION

Positive evidence of rabies in the brains of a dog which has exposed Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Guthrie, 501 Avenue Q, and their baby to hydrophobia was revealed today in a message to Dr. L. B. Hodges, local veterinarian, from Dr. S. W. Bohls, of the State department of health.

The small child of Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie, slightly bitten, is now taking treatment to prevent rabies.

Only 15 vaccinated
Seventy-five dogs in this city have been vaccinated within the last month, following a series of exposures resulting six weeks ago when 17 persons were either bitten or exposed to hydrophobia by a "mad" dog.

Dr. J. W. Rolfe, city health officer has issued a warning that all dogs must be vaccinated against rabies.

According to Dr. Hodges a vaccination loses its effect after one year has expired. He estimates that there are 500 dogs in the city which should be vaccinated.

MR. ELECTRON SETS UP AND HAS HIS PICTURE MADE; REVEALED IN NEW WAY

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—An electron-tube unit of matter known to the physical world—set for an enlarged portrait last night in Franklin Institute.

The demonstration given by Prof. G. P. Thomson, of the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, showed the smallest of all known units, not only to be a particle of which every atom is made up, but also a spider-like net of electrical waves which can expand greatly. In its spider state, it was revealed as a powerful agent for transforming the general conception of space and substance.

The scientist obtained his results by the combined use of x-ray and the latest radio tubes. On a vacuum tube emitting electrons and sealed at the opposite end with films of metal that could be changed at will, he sealed another tube to which was attached a photographic plate.

When the electrons pierce the thin metal films into the plate chamber they were deflected by the electrical nature of the metal through which they passed. By microscopic measurements of the im-

COUNSEL FOR WOMAN SEEKS INSTRUCTIONS

MOTION FOR VERDICT IS GIVEN COURT IN TRIAL TODAY

(By Associated Press)
GEORGETOWN, Jan. 24.—Counsel for Mrs. Rosa Waybourn of Smithville, charged with the murder of her husband, W. W. Waybourn, sought an instructed verdict of not guilty at her trial here today.

The defense based a motion for the verdict on the allegation that the same evidence was offered in this trial as was presented in Mrs. Waybourn's previous trial and conviction at Bastrop, reversed by the court of criminal appeals.

Recounts Charges
The motion recounted that originally four charges were lodged against Mrs. Waybourn, that the first two were virtually abandoned, that the defendant was acquitted on the third and convicted on the fourth count, which charged her with being an accessory to the killing.

This verdict, the argument proceeded, was reversed because testimony of Hugo Middleton, star state

SOLONS VISIT PRISON FARMS

HOUSTON, Jan. 24.—Members of the legislature arrived here on a special train today and left in buses for an inspection of penitentiary farms in Harris and Fort Bend counties.

This was the first stop on a three-day junketing trip suggested by Governor Moody in order that the legislators could get a "personal touch" before beginning consideration of prison centralization legislation. Before the lawmakers get back to Austin Monday to take up the five bills offered as a solution to the prison problem which is awaiting action, they will have looked at 11 of the state's farms, comprising 72,772 acres, in addition to having scrutinized "the walls" and what's behind them at Huntsville, central headquarters for 25 years.

The rubber man then waved a tire and said, "We'll pump this up no higher than it really ought to be. I'll do things right this time. Then you can ride off on your way. This won't be work, but merely play. Not far from here I think you'll find some mountains you can climb."

And then he pried the old tire loose and said, "I think you'll have no use for this thing any more, so I will rip it all apart. Too bad it can't act as a spare. But it is spoiled. 'Twould only tear. Just keep your eyes on me, lads, and you'll soon be set to start."

The Tinties watched him work away until he shouted, loudly, "Say! Don't crowd so close. Please give me room to do this thing up right. I want this tire to stick on fast so for a long time it will last. If I'm not interfered with I can work with all my might."

"Excuse us, please," one Tinty said. "We're sorry. You go right ahead."

PAVEMENT OF AVENUE H IS TALKED HERE

CITY PLAN REQUEST IS MADE; CHARTER CHANGES UP

The city engineer was instructed to submit as early as possible a feasible plan for the paving of south Avenue H after a committee of residents alongside the thoroughfare had appeared before a session of city commissioners yesterday afternoon in behalf of the project.

Paving on the project has already been authorized, but difficulties have been encountered in the matter of drainage.

Amendments likely
A resolution, having for its purpose notice that certain charter amendments will be submitted on an election date to be set later, was passed. It was said that they likely will be submitted at the elections in April. Another meeting is to be held this month at which time decision as to amendments will be decided upon.

The commission announced that official action will be taken within the next 30 days with reference to adoption of a city plan after a committee from the Lubbock Board of City Development had made recommendations.

The committee's report told of the group's study of city planning in general and for Lubbock in particular, and of conferences with experts planners. It further recommended that Lubbock's city plan be placed under the supervision of McCrary, Culey and Carhart, of Denver, and that the commission invite a member of that firm to meet with it in the near future.

THOUSANDS PAY HOMAGE TO MAYOR OF OMAHA; OLD TIME TALE IS REVEALED

(By Associated Press)

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 24.—As the body of Mayor James C. Dahlman lay in state at the city hall today and thousands paid homage to the man who headed their city government for twenty-one years, the picturesque life of the man was told and retold.

There were those among the crowd who had known him when he was plain Jim Dahlman, the cowboy, feared and loved as one of the best shots and hardest riders on the western plains. These men were in great demand, for the people of Omaha had never tired of hearing of the early exploits of their mayor who died Tuesday night at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Story Revealed
In all this story telling there came to light a tale which Dahlman's old cronies said had been revealed to the public only once before and that was twenty years ago. It revealed how Dahlman once "got his man" and that this man was his brother-in-law.

The story, as told by Dahlman himself:
"An older sister of mine married a man named Charley Dree. He was a shiftless sort, in reality nothing more than an outlaw and he did not treat her right. They lived together two years. When their child was born, Dree deserted her."

Sent Him Word
"I was about 20 at the time, fiery of temper, having gone much in bad company since I left home. I knew the nature of the man. The law in that country was not likely to reach that sort of a man. So I sent him word that I would shoot him the first time I laid eyes on him."

"We did not see each other for a long time, but I happened to be in a town in Lavaca county (Texas) one night when I saw him in a saloon."

"Word that I was in town must have reached him, for, when we met later at a dance hall he came at me with rifle in hand. We saw each other about the same time. He raised his rifle and missed me. I got him over the eye. I was pretty handy with the stunner then."

"I ran over to him and he looked

Reception Is Held Thursday In Home Of Dean A. H. Leidigh

Dallas And Amarillo Clubs Hosts For Attractive Affair; Two Hundred Call

Chatting of matters pertaining to their cities and of college activities, two delightfully informal hours were enjoyed Thursday evening in the home of Dean and Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, 2101 17th street, when members of the Dallas and Amarillo clubs joined in holding a reception from 8 to 10 o'clock.

About 200 guests called during the evening, each club member being permitted to invite one faculty member and one student.

All details of the decorations favored scarlet and black, and, when blending with green foliage, they produced an attractive color effect. Tall red tapers were used on the mantel, and ferns and cut flowers were placed in every appropriate place throughout the entertaining suite.

At the front door, guests were greeted by Lankford Shaw, Donald Boggs and Laurin Blaydes, while in the receiving line were Miss Flora McGee, spouse of the club; Bob King, president of the Dallas organization; Wilbur Pittman, president of the Amarillo club; Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Horn, Dean and Mrs. A. H. Leidigh and other officers of the clubs as follows: Vincent Foster, Lloyd Reeves, Gladys Townes, Elizabeth Tolk and Helen Coon.

Also in the house party were Messadams J. C. Granberry, R. M. Chitwood and E. L. Robertson.

Presiding at a lovely tea table were Messadams George Smallwood, Gus L. Ford, W. H. Bledsoe and Miss Ruth Horn, while girls assisting in serving fruit cookies with tea and coffee were Misses Frances Ford, Virginia Smallwood, Rhonda Pools and Mary Leidigh. The cookies were made by a class from the school of home economics taught by Miss Mayme Twyford.

The table was covered with lace over red and was centered with a bowl of red carnations. A lighted taper was placed at each corner of the table, and silver service was used.

Arrangements for the event were made by Miss Flora McGee and Lankford Shaw, assisted by a number of the club members.

Endeavor Group In Executive Meeting

Election of officers featured a business and executive meeting of the senior Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon with Miss Mary Lou Hopper in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Overstreet, 2101 18th street.

Miss Catherine Robinson was named president; W. B. Jackson, vice-president; Miss Jessie Lee Hunter, secretary; Charles Cobb, treasurer; Miss Catherine Leidigh, corresponding secretary; Miss Ruth Donnell, social chairman; Miss Mary Lou Hopper, publicity chairman; Miss Mary Leidigh, parliamentarian.

Plans were made to have a matinee party Saturday evening. The group will meet in the home of Ruth Donnell, 2201 Main street, and will go in a body to the theater.

They will be served refreshments in town. At the close of the evening, Mrs. Overstreet passed candles to Miss Catherine Leidigh, Ruth Donnell, Holly Wolcott, Marguerite Hanson, Catherine Robinson, Josephine Powell, Mary Lou Hopper, Jessie Lee Hunter, Messadams W. B. Jackson, C. J. Hanson, and the sponsor, Mrs. N. L. Peters.

Mrs. Bledsoe Has Function For Club

Members of the Ell Kars club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. F. D. Bledsoe, 1304 Avenue Q, for a few hours' enjoyment of bridge.

The Valentine motif was emphasized in all appointments. A variety of red flowers was used to decorate the entertaining rooms while heart-shaped talies were used at the tables.

Bud vases with red rosebuds were given as cut prizes to Mrs. R. C. Harvey and Mrs. Marcus Heber while high score went to Mrs. Victor Payne.

Lovely refreshment plates featuring red heart-shaped sandwiches, fresh strawberry pie and coffee were served at the close of the afternoon to Messadams V. W. Bradley, Gertie Tucker, Hurley Carpenter, Marcus Heber, Victor Payne, Ernest Cannon, Albus Sansom, R. C. Harvey and the hostess.

Intimate Chats

with Eve Ve Verka on PERSONALITY-BEAUTY-HEALTH

Madame Ve Verka Will Conduct The Avalanche-Journal Free School of Beauty and Charm, February 3-7

"No, no, no." The little old lady's voice rose in a crescendo of surprised protest. "Oh no, my dear. And she folded her primly mitted hands and shook her head. 'I never wear anything but black or gray or brown. Why I'd feel so—so—strange in that rose.'"

It was the softest shade of rose, this bonnet which the salesgirl had brought to show the little lady of the blacks and grays and browns. The sweetest, most gentle rose it was like the sweet and gentle heart of the lady-dear herself. It would have been perfect for her. This shade of rose pastel, and its sister shades of violet and blue and green pastel, were the shades she should wear. Never should she wear the drear browns and sad grays and funeral blacks. These belong to the vibrant age of youth for whom they form a background against which their glowing personalities are outlined.

Persons of low vitality, those suffering from anemia or subnormality fall into something of the same category. These individuals must be careful of the effect of their surroundings. They must be careful that the colors of their costumes do not fling out the very suggestions of lifelessness and inertia which they are trying to combat. Persons of low physical vitality or persons of negative retiring personality should not use black or dull lifeless colors.

Let's talk a moment about this rather eccentric color, black. Black cannot be effectively worn except with the greatest comprehension of its eccentric nature. Black can be said to be the mother of all colors, because in it are contained all the other colors. It is therefore not so much a "dead" color, as a heavy rich, overpowering color. If the individual who is wearing it is negative, then the black seems to take advantage of her ineffectuality; it overwhelms her, pushes her into the background, makes her dull, drab, tomblike. Black surrounds such a person with an aura of depression, helplessness.

But if there is sufficient dash and brilliance to the personality, then the black becomes a most effective background upon which that brilliance is cast in high relief. A woman of positive, radiant personality is never more impressively charming than in a black gown.

What is true of the black gown is concomitantly true of any dark or dull color.

It is not only the effect produced upon the beholder that is to be considered. The effect reflected back upon ourselves must be calculated. The deep heavy mood of night lurks in the black gown. Makes certain that you can cope with the unusual personality of black, and the inevitable reactions which it will seek to produce upon you, before you challenge it.

In the use of black, the safe compromise is to introduce some color or some brilliance. This flash of red or green or rhinestone will be a veritable staff upon which you may lean, or a straw which you may grasp for succor.

A costume of which I enjoy very much, is an all black afternoon frock created for me by Quill. It is of transparent velvet, unrelieved in its moth-wing blackness from frenzied little waist-cape to tip of ankle-length flare of capricious hemline—except that I always carry an important bag of brilliant green.

If you're addicted to the blacks and grays and drabs, listen just once when the salesgirl brings you a bonnet of rose; try it just once, and if something doesn't happen to you on the inside, I'll be surprised.

Based on prices of materials of today, the sacred shrine of Nikko, in Japan, cannot be duplicated for less than $1,000,000,000, according to recent estimates.

High score was made by Mrs. A. B. Ellis while Mrs. John Dalrymple was favored with low score prize. Mrs. Tatom was assisted in entertaining by her daughters, Melba Mae and Doris Dell and Misses Margaret and Theresa Everhart.

Those invited were Messadams C. B. Powell, Beatrice Hendrick, A. B. Ellis, George Smallwood, L. S. Mait, J. C. Hardgrave, R. Q. Pierce, A. B. Davis, J. L. Dow, Harry Hall, John Dalrymple, W. C. Rylander, George Wolfarth, R. I. Tubbs, W. L. Baugh, E. B. Harris, Charles Middleton, W. W. Royalty, R. F. Easing, J. H. Jenkins, M. H. Sued, A. V. Brown, J. B. Maxey, J. M. Everheart, R. M. WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 24. (P)—Testimony of officers that they found a loaded gun cocked and clutched in the hands of P. R. Philadelphians Held Up By Lone Robber

The holdup occurred a few minutes after Mr. and Mrs. Paley and Blumberg had returned from a late supper at an exclusive Hollywood cafe.

NEW RADIO TUBE IS DEVELOPED; WILL CUT DOWN NUMBER OF UNITS REQUIRED

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Radio Editor, Associated Press
Feature Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (P)—A new radio tube, hailed as forecasting a reduction in receiver cost by cutting down at least one half the number of tubes required, has been developed.

It is the "twin screen grid," pentode, or five element tube for house current receivers, having more than double the efficiency of the four element screen grid tube to which the public was introduced a year or so ago.

To Offset Extra Tubes
Engineers said the tube, a development of the Ceco laboratories at Providence, R. I., would make possible the designing of a three or four tube receiver that would be equivalent in output to some present day sets containing up to eight tubes.

"The pentode," Ernest Kauer, president, summed up, "will represent as great an advance in radio as did the three element tube back in 1906.

"The public has been asking for receiving sets which do not employ so many tubes. This development makes it possible to build sets which will satisfy that demand. Bringing more simplicity into radio manufacture and receiver operation and maintenance, it will reduce manufacturing costs, material costs and therefore costs to the radio public."

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 24. (P)—A two-day battle with fire while their ship raced for port, was related to El Universal's correspondent at Vera Cruz by passengers of the German steamer Rio Bravo on its arrival, a week overdue, from Europe.

Fire broke out in the hold on New Year's Day, the passengers said, and the captain immediately ordered a course steered for Horta, Azores, the nearest port.

For the two days it took the steamer to reach Horta, the crew battled ceaselessly with flames which finally were extinguished with the aid of the city fire department after the ship pulled into the harbor and the passengers disembarked.

General Motors' Lowest-Priced Eight... the Car with Superior Performance

Today a new eight-cylinder motor car makes its appearance. It is the newest General Motors eight and by several hundreds of dollars the lowest in price. It is the New Oakland Eight with smart new bodies by Fisher.

Superior Performance
The New Oakland Eight develops 85 horsepower and is the first stock car of its size and weight to employ an engine of such high power. Since performance depends largely on the ratio between horsepower and weight, the New Oakland Eight is exceptionally fast and powerful because it produces one horsepower for every 37 pounds of car weight.

Eight-Cylinder Smoothness
The New Oakland Eight has all the smoothness which results from the overlapping power impulses inherent in eight-cylinder engine design. In addition, it enjoys exclusive mechanical advantages which make it even smoother and more delightful to drive.

Sound Basic Design
Several of the engineers who participated in creating General Motors' first eight back in 1914 were responsible for the development of the New Oakland Eight. So this latest task they brought a wide knowledge of eight-cylinder design. It is reasonable to expect that the Oakland is a finer eight because of this fact.

Moderate Price
We believe the New Oakland Eight will appeal to you all the more forcibly when you consider its very moderate price. And a demonstration will reveal how well it merits the description "the car with superior performance."

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f.o.b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

NEW SERIES PONTIAC BIG 6

$745 AND UP

A Famous Name—A Finer Car... Introducing Important Improvements

The announcement of the first Pontiac in 1926 brought to the low-price field a new order of beauty, performance and reliability. And each Pontiac announcement since that time has introduced a car which represented an improvement even over its own highly regarded predecessors.

Important Improvements
Now comes the New Series Pontiac Big Six—an even finer car with a famous name. It retains all those excellent qualities which have been responsible for Pontiac's success in the past. And in addition it introduces many improvements.

New bodies by Fisher make this latest Pontiac Big Six more beautiful than ever.

Greater Smoothness and Safety
The smoothness of Pontiac's 60-horsepower engine is further increased by the use of improved type rubber engine mountings. Pontiac's large non-squeak four-wheel brakes have been made even more efficient. A new sloping non-glare windshield also adds to its safety. Greater-than-usual handling ease is accomplished through the use of a new type of steering mechanism. Improved Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers give increased riding comfort.

Time-Tried Performance
In speed, power and pick-up the New Series Pontiac Big Six continues to uphold the Pontiac reputation for spirited performance. Come now to our showroom and inspect this finer car with a famous name—the New Series Pontiac Big Six.

SCHMELING TO MEET WINNER OF SHARKEY-SCOTT FIGHT IN JUNE

MEET TONIGHT

Big Boy Peterson, top, giant Mississippi mauler, battles Primo Carnera, tonight in New York, in a sort of test to see if the great Carnera's European victories were pugilistic or publicity.

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

Decision of the Texas Inter-scholastic League to sponsor for the first time in history a state-wide baseball race for the high schools of the state during the coming season listens like one of the wisest moves that has been made in some time. The oldest of pastimes had just about come to be a stepchild in the high school and college world as high school and college were concerned, and it appeared headed for permanent desertion.

Many times in the past there have been high school teams that claimed the state baseball championship, but never has there been an official title holder. Waxahachie High school, recently brought into the spotlight by Art Shuren, has perhaps had the most consistent winner in the high school division, claiming the state title on several occasions. News of the action by the league will undoubtedly be welcomed by the Indians down on the banks of the Trinity river.

Athletics at Lubbock high school have been sailing along very smoothly during the past few years without baseball included, but we would like to see the Westerners place a team in the field this season, since official honors will be at stake. A large number of players in the local city league last summer came from the high school ranks, and there is undoubtedly baseball material aplenty here in high school now. Either Moran or Frink are capable of coaching a Westerner. The matter is at least worthy of consideration.

District One executives gather in Quanah on Feb. 1 for the annual confab to work out schedules for the following football season and to adopt policies to be followed in the grid campaign. Superintendent M. H. Duncan and Head Coach Henry Frink will represent Lubbock at the meeting and a merry time is promised. The Westerners were unusually fortunate last season in the way their football schedule was arranged and if Coach Frink can outbaffle the other members again, another favorable program can be expected. Pampa, the new member of the district, will be represented at the confab and the old members must work the Harvesters in on their 1930 schedule.

Over at Ralls, the basketball hotbed of the South Plains, the school officials are planning a cage tournament for girls' teams in this section. Sixteen teams are expected to compete in the tournament, which begins this afternoon. Ralls citizens are furnishing homes for the visiting girls.

The first annual basketball tournament for Lamb and Hockley counties will be staged at Anton next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30, 31 and Feb. 1. E. E. Hancock, principal and Coach Fred Owens are in charge of the meet, held under the auspices of Anton High school. The Anton Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with high school officials will present the winner of the tournament a loving cup. These meets furnish a meeting ground for teams of this section and tend to develop a higher class of basketball.

When winter comes and the football season is over, the average sportsman has little to do than to wait for the opening of another baseball season. Right now we are

BUCKLEY ANNOUNCES BOUT; CARNERA WILL FIGHT TONIGHT

(By Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 24. — Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, will meet the winner of the Jack Sharkey-Phil Scott fight here February 27 in the Yankee Stadium, New York. June 26, Johnny Buckley, manager of Sharkey, announced here today.

GIANT ITALIAN AND PETERSON TO FIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—Primo Carnera, Venice's fighting carpenter, will assemble his six feet eight and one-half inch superstructure in Madison Square garden tonight with intent to amuse the populace and annihilate Big Boy Peterson of Minneapolis, himself no candidate for membership in the midsize union.

Carnera, whose feet have been compared in size to one of his native city's gondolas, makes his American debut against Peterson in a bout which may go ten rounds provided the battlers and the ring stand up.

FIELDS RESUMES FAMILY FEUD

CHICAGO, Jan. 24. (AP)—Jackie Fields, ruler of the world's welterweights, tonight will renew his feud with the Dundee family of Baltimore in a 10-round bout with Vince Dundee at the Chicago stadium. It will be the second meeting between the pair in Chicago, and Fields, who gained a hair-line decision over the brother of the former champion was out to score a knockout. Fields, however, will be at a disadvantage in the weights, coming in at about 141 pounds, the division limit, while Dundee probably will weigh around 135 at fight time making the bout a non-title affair.

STUDENTS SKIP GYM

PARIS, Jan. 24. (AP)—Physical education isn't working out very well in French schools, says Georges Ferre, a writer, who has investigated the much criticized overwork of pupils. Because of this, he adds, two-fifths of the pupils get themselves excused from exercise.

In the middle of what is considered the dullest sport season of the year.

But did you ever stop to think of the numerous other pastimes that the fans in other climes are enjoying? Here in West Texas we are quite certain that this is the dullest time of the year, while in other sections there is nothing doing but boxing, basketball, hockey, indoor tennis, handball, bowling, indoor track, squash tennis, indoor swimming, curling, southern golf tournaments, soccer football, billiards and wrestling.

We are reminded by an Abilene sport scribbler that the Simmons university basketball team will have the well-known blood in their eyes when the Matadors pay them a return visit there on Feb. 8. In the first place the Cowhorns were not accustomed to taking the sort of beating that was dished out to them here last week by the Tech cagers.

The Baptists also went back to their home fort with weird tales of one concerning an alleged bad deed by the referee in the game played here. For the information of those who failed to see what happened, it might be explained that the members of the Simmons team that were ejected from the game just happened to get their anger aroused and speak out of turn to the wrong person. It's an old Spanish custom for a basketball official to take complete charge of a game in which he works, and Del Morgan believes in just that.

We would advise the official who calls the Tech-Simmons fray in Abilene to wear a good-sized weapon in case of hand-to-hand warfare.

BAYLOR BEARS ENTER BID FOR HONORS IN SOUTHWESTERN CAGE RACE; TEST WITH TEXAS LONGHORNS IS SCHEDULED

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Jan. 24. — A third team will be added to the list of aspirants for the Southwest Conference basketball title on Saturday night when the Baylor University Bears meet the Texas University Longhorns in Austin. The Bears, as a result of their decisive victory over S. M. U. Tuesday night, appear likely to make a determined bid in the race for honors between Texas and Arkansas.

The Longhorns, to all intents and purposes, are engaged in another duel with Arkansas for the court crown. They are tied with the champion Razorbacks, each with three victories and a single loss. What the Baylor quintet has in mind is to sock the Steers, thus leaving Arkansas at the top of the heap and then to deal firmly with the Razorbacks when the champs visit Waco next week.

Coach Henry Frink this morning said that the Lubbock high football spring training will start Monday afternoon on the basis of numerous reports concerning the plans of the Westerner grid forces.

With promise of a decided let-up in unfavorable weather conditions, the high school football commander has issued the call for all candidates for the 1930 eleven to report for equipment Monday afternoon.

This year's spring camp will be utilized principally for instruction in fundamentals. Coach Frink said this morning. The training period will be cut from eight weeks to approximately four weeks.

WESTERNERS LOSE TO LAMESA FIVE

Lubbock High Westerners dropped another basketball skirmish last night when the Lamesa Tornados captured a 26 to 17 decision from the Morgan crew at the Dawson county capital.

Although exhibiting a far smoother floor combination than in previous games, the Westerners were never quite able to hit their scoring stride and the Tornados romped away with a decisive victory.

Saturday night the Lubbock quintet will tackle with the Crosbyton Chiefs at the Tech gymnasium in another practice fray.

Tonight the local high school five will take on the Meadow aggregation at the college gymnasium, following a game between the Lubbock Hornets and the Tech reserves.

NEW YORK PRO SETS RECORD FOR COURSE

HORTON SMITH AND AL ESPINOSA TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

(By Associated Press)
AGUA CALIENTE, Lower California, Jan. 24. — Gene Sarazen, New York professional, today ushered the Scottish pastime into the big money class of the sporting world.

With his magic clubs, Sarazen yesterday transformed his 285 strokes for the 72-hole first annual Agua Caliente $55,000 open tournament into $10,000, the champion's share of the largest stake ever placed on the golfing mart.

Comeback Recalls Adversity
A stirring comeback which recalled his adversity to the list of the elite back in 1922 when he, as a 21-year-old youth, stepped out to win the national open title, marked Sarazen's play.

Fourteenth at the end of the first round, the former caddy finished his triumphant tour of the four-day event with a two-stroke edge over the pride of Missouri's Ozark region, Horton Smith, and the veteran Al Espinosa, Chicago professional, both of whom finished with 297.

Set Course Record
Sarazen set a course record of 68 in his startling finish. It was one of only two scores which eclipsed the par figures of 71 during the tournament.

Wirt G. Bowman, president of the Agua Caliente Company, Inc., announced the affair would become a permanent fixture among the Pacific coast winter money events.

MEETING OF LEAGUE SET

OFFICIALS TO GATHER IN QUANAH FEBRUARY 1 FOR CONFAB

Recommendations received here by Superintendent M. H. Duncan from the executive chairman of the District One of the Inter-scholastic League indicate that school representatives to the annual meeting of district officials in Quanah on February 1 will have a full day's work in deciding the various leagues due to arise in addition to arranging schedules for the 1930 football race.

Coach Henry Frink will accompany Superintendent Duncan to the meeting in Quanah to complete the football program for the Westerners next fall.

Chief of the matters which are due to come up at the Quanah confab is the likelihood of Slaton Pampa, and Childrens entering Class A football next fall. Pampa is the only one of the three that must enter the Class A ranks because of increased school enrollment. Slaton and Childrens may gain admission through application.

Recommendation that the district be divided into two divisions will also come up for consideration. The plan would have Lubbock, Pampa and Amarillo in the West section and Vernon, Quanah, Electra and Wichita in the east section. The winners of each division would meet for the district championship.

FOX MUST SHOW CAUSE FOR MOVE

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—After attempts of a compromise on a trusteeship, had failed, Federal Judge Coleman today issued an order requiring the Fox Film corporation to show cause why an equity receiver should not be appointed to take over its assets. The order will be argued Monday.

The suit on which the order was signed was filed Monday by Mrs. Susan Dryden Kuper, widow of one of the original Fox backers, and holder of 20 per cent of the voting Class B stock in the company. Last Saturday Ira M. Galt, a minority Class A non-voting stockholder, brought a similar suit, and today a third suit was revealed. Arthur Bernson, attorney for two Class A stockholders, said papers in an action for his clients had been served on William Fox before either Mrs. Kuper or Mr. Galt's suit was filed.

Mr. Fox had a conference with Judge Coleman today before the argument of counsel which culminated in the issuance of the show cause order. He sat in the judge's chambers and listened intently to the debate.

WRIGHT MAY BECOME A SOUTHPAW

GLINN WRIGHT, BROOKLYN'S GLASS-ARMED SHORTSTOP

Central Press Sports Columnist-Writer
It is a hard, long winter for Glenn Wright, the Brooklyn shortstop, but he is not allowed to touch a baseball until he reaches training camp at Clearwater, Fla., next month. The former Pirate is in the dark as to what the future holds for him. But Glenn's hopes are high. At his home in Harrisonville, Mo., he plays golf and tennis without the slightest pain to his "souper" and believes the same old zip will return to him if he takes care of it in the south.

If his arm fails to respond, Wright intends to convert himself into a southpaw and is confident that within a short time he will be able to throw just as well from the other side. He did try it out last year after his arm went bad and found that he was able to whip the ball around in fair fashion.

Wright plans to start for the south ahead of the regular squad in order to go about his comeback more gradually.

BUFFS LOOKING FOR TOUGH TIME IN GAMES WITH A. C. C. WILDCAT QUINTET

CANYON, Jan. 24. — The basketball games between Abilene Christian College Wildcats and the West Texas Buffaloes this week will be plenty tough for the Herd.

Here is the dope: A. C. C. beat Oklahoma Christians 30-25, Tech beat Oklahoma Christians 37-31, which makes the Cats look a little better than Tech. But read on and see why Coach Burton is not looking forward to this week-end with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Simmons beat the Buffaloes 22-18. Tech beat Simmons 41-19, which makes Tech look lots better than the Buffaloes, and A. C. C. looking better than Tech and Tech appearing much better than the Buffs.

The Cats appear to be the favorites Friday and Saturday night at Buffalo 6 p.m. Dope is often up, however, and the followers of the Thundering Herd are not conceding a Cat victory. The Buffaloes have not gotten their scoring machine to functioning just right as yet, but signs of improvements are seen from day to day and it is hoped they will swing into the old time form and score victories for themselves.

The Buffs have lost one of four conference games and if they can win the six remaining, they have a good chance to cop the T. I. A. A. Confab again.

The remaining games are the two with A. C. C. Friday and Saturday of this week. Sul Ross on January 31 and February 1, McMurry in Abilene February 12 and 13.

The McMurry men are unusually strong this year. When asked about the chances for another T. I. A. A. Coach Burton's only remark was:

WASHINGTON MEN WILL REPORT LEGGERS TO OFFICERS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Members of the Washington Real Estate Board have decided to engage in a war to exterminate bootlegging in the capital.
Today the board decided to strike a blow at the illicit liquor traffic by promising District Attorney Rover to report to him all information available about persons on their properties violating the prohibition laws with a view to obtaining a basis for ejecting them.
John A. Petty, executive secretary of the board, announced the decision. It was preceded by conferences between District Attorney Rover and officials of the organization which comprises most of the real estate dealers in the District of Columbia.

Is Unprecedented
The policy of the real estate men was believed in Washington to be unprecedented and possibly signifying far reaching moves in the interest of stricter dry enforcement. The board's statement said the decision was designed to protect the value of properties, the reputations of law abiding owners who might become victims of disreputable tenants, and the characters of innocent tenants who might become involved in court proceedings through mistakes in location and ownership of questionable premises.
Petty said that members of the board as individuals already had been cooperating with the authorities. He described the action today as setting up "a standard for organized cooperation."

Amarillo Oil Men Protest Price Cut

AMARILLO, Jan. 24.—Three hundred oil producers and royalty owners here last night went on record condemning the recent action of the Humble Oil and Refining Company in reducing the price of crude oil, favoring a reasonable tariff on foreign oil and a prohibitive tariff on gasoline.
Resolutions also were adopted condemning the Prairie Oil and Gas company and all other purchasing companies that had so far refused to follow the lead of the Humble company in the price reduction.
The resolutions adopted on the action of the Humble company were practically identical with those adopted recently by operators in Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Kansas, Dallas and Fort Worth.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—Senator Tom Connally, democrat, Texas, has established a record in the United States Supreme court.

He has already appeared for five consecutive days in moving the admission of lawyers, on one day appearing twice.
For many years he has been active in making laws, having been a member of the house before coming to the senate. Now he is the most active man in congress in obtaining the admission of young lawyers to practice before the supreme court to test out some of the laws.
So far this week he has had nine lawyers admitted to practice, and expects to continue his record for consecutive appearances by asking the court tomorrow to admit another.

Removal Of Silver Tax Is Requested

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 24. (AP)—Removal of the government tax on production of silver is asked in a petition to President Portes Gil by the Chihuahua state mining chamber, which says such aid is necessary to help the mines in that region out of a difficult situation caused by the drop in the price of bar silver.
The chamber refers to a decree issued by the late President Obregon providing for temporary removal of the tax when the market price of silver falls below 60 cents gold. The price has gone down to 43 cents and government assistance is needed to keep the mines running. It is claimed.

Several Indian uprisings and land seizures have been reported from the interior of Ecuador.

BRIDGE WORK IS LET IN CONTRACT

AUSTIN, Jan. 24. (AP)—G. G. Wickline, state highway bridge engineer, said today that the contract had been finally awarded on the proposed bridge across the Red River between Ringold, Texas, and Terrell, Oklahoma.

---the hardware age

This is the age of hardware. No one doubts this when he pauses for a moment to realize the multiplicity of conveniences—in every conceivable form—that are bought and used daily to further human happiness. You start the day by lighting a Reznor heater; you perk the coffee—more hardware; you pour it in the saucer—more hardware; you open the door to leave, and it swings on hinges from a hardware store. In fact, almost every move you make is vitally connected with hardware. It may be a tiny screw or hinge, a food preserver such as General-Electric, or again, something electric—a radio—or a set of Pyrex—Sherrods have it.

---for home convenience

Master minds are working each day to improve just common necessities; new conveniences are daily becoming necessities—all is a transition from the old to the new. Keeping up with the times in the hardware business is to use modern merchandising methods; yet it requires a most discriminating taste for things worthwhile. New and staple merchandise has stood the test of time. We are ever striving to serve you satisfactorily—we are keeping up with the times in a hardware age—all for home convenience.

LOANS GIVEN BUTTER MEN

CREAMERY WILL SHARE
IN FARM BOARD'S LOANS

(By Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—Butter Co-operative Marketing associations, facing a huge surplus in their product, were given hope for stabilized prices today through the announcement that more than $4,000,000 has been made available by the Federal Farm Board for loans to them through the Land O'Lakes Creameries of Minneapolis.

Action of the farm board, it was said, makes the Minneapolis co-operative, one of the largest in the country, the official agency of the board in the butter market. Under direction of this agency, loans will be made to local creamery associations in a widespread attempt to aid them in withholding butter from the market until prices advance.

Designate Clearing House
A. J. McGuire, general manager of the Land O'Lakes company, said the loan would enable his company designated as a clearing house, to make advances to other co-operatives in cases where they fail to obtain finances locally. Independent co-operative creameries as well as those affiliated with Land O'Lakes would be granted loans, he said.

"We have already helped creameries as far away as Oklahoma," he said. "And we are working with creameries on the Pacific Coast. We are taking over this stabilizing job to aid others."

A surplus of 25,000,000 pounds of butter is facing the creameries.

Waver Tells How Indigestion Was Relieved After He Had Taken Black-Draught.

Greenville, S. C.—Mr. Clyde Vaughn, a weaver living at 10 Shippy Street, this city, says he has used Theodor's Black-Draught "a good many years."

"My work is confining, being in the mill," he writes, "and often I eat hurriedly, causing me to have indigestion. Gas will form. I will smother and have pains in my chest. My heart seemed to beat fast. This made me very nervous, besides the smothering."

"I had to be careful when I ate, but after someone had recommended Black-Draught and I found a small pinch after meals was so helpful, I soon was eating regularly."

"Now I keep a package of Black-Draught at home and one on my work-bench, and when I feel the least pain, smothering or uncomfortable bloating, I take a pinch of Black-Draught and get relief."

Theodor's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable cathartic or laxative medicine, composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Get a 25-cent package, today. Sold everywhere.

IS PLANNED

Rev. H. L. Munger, pastor of the First Methodist church, was re-elected president, a proposal for preparing one sermon each week for publication in the Lubbock Daily Journal of Monday was adopted and plans were inaugurated for a religious census when members of the Lubbock Ministers' association met Thursday afternoon.

J. D. Carroll, director of religious activities of the First Baptist church; Hunter W. Richardson, activities director of the First Methodist church, and Miss Virginia McLean, activities director of the First Presbyterian church, were named to compose the religious census committee.

Action in voting to submit a sermon each week, alternatively, for publication in the Journal followed a recent discussion of church publicity carried on in the Journal by Mr. Munger and Charles A. Guy, editor, writing under caption of "The Plainsman."

In answering Mr. Munger's criticism that the newspapers are publishing too much sport and crime news and not giving enough space to churches, "The Plainsman" offered to print a sermon per week in the Monday edition.

Those who attended the meeting held in the study of Mr. Munger, were: Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. G. P. McCollum, Asbury Methodist church; Rev. W. P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church; Rev. Gregory A. Boeckman, St. Joseph's Catholic church; Rev. H. C. Ziehe.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The dentist at the District of Columbia jail was charged today with accepting valuable gifts from Harry F. Sinclair and Henry Mason Day in exchange for favors shown the wealthy oil men during their terms at that institution.

Jail authorities have been investigating reports that Albert E. Kling, who cares for the teeth of prisoners in exchange for his room and board, had been presented an automobile by Day and a watch valued at $150 by Sinclair. He was ordered to appear Saturday before a special board of inquiry. He has denied the receipt of any gifts from the oil men.

Captain M. M. Barnard, superintendent of district penal institutions, said he had questioned J. R. Ellis, manager of a local garage, who said Kling had bought an automobile from his firm. Ellis informed Barnard that the dentist had paid for the automobile in $100 bills.

Kling said today that he had performed no service for Sinclair or Day during their jail terms, other than to clean their teeth.

Kling has been a resident of the district jail since last July. He is a senior at the Georgetown University dental school.

EXCHANGES PROTEST ON FARM BOARD

CHICAGO BOARD LOOKS ON CAREFULLY AS TWO PROTEST

BY LEO J. RYAN
Associated Press Feature Service
Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—"Watchful friendliness," continues to be the official attitude of the Chicago Board of Trade toward the Federal Farm Board.

In spite of increasing protests by grain dealers in the middle west that the board's policy of entering the exchanges and buying grain constitute "socialism," the Chicago exchange, largest in the country, today reiterated its policy remained that announced several days ago by John A. Bunnell, its president.

"If any change in this policy is made," it was said, "it will be formally announced."

Adds Protest
The Kansas City exchange added its protest yesterday to that of the Minneapolis exchange last week. In a resolution adopted and forwarded to the United States chamber of commerce at Washington, the Kansas City dealers called the federal marketing act "unfair and of socialist character."

The acts of the federal farm board were termed "arbitrary and inconsistent."

Is Interfering
"The Farm Board," the Kansas City resolution said, "is using government and public funds to interfere with prices and legitimate business, to force unfair competition, to build uneconomic facilities, and to endanger honest business enterprise and investment."

"Business men everywhere should take notice of these things. If they can be done in one line of business they can be done in another," the Minneapolis exchange was said to be circulating widely a speech written by its secretary, John G. McHugh, in which business men in all lines were warned that "it is clear that if the elimination of all those who distribute the grain and produce of the country will advance the well-being of the producer, then the elimination of the retailer, wholesaler and manufacturer who supply the farmer with his needs will, in equal or greater degree, advance the standards of living on the farms of the country."

The middleman, said Mr. McHugh, was made "the scapegoat" upon which "the multitude is laying the consequence of its folly, and which is to be driven into the wilderness."

Purchases of grain by the farm board have continued, however, with the purpose of holding the market up to somewhere near the board's American Author Ruth Kennell...

Russia's only woman general sought her sympathy in a dark hour.

By RUTH KENNEL

THE only woman general in the world is to be found in the Red Army. The principle of complete sex equality put into practice by the Soviet government gives women also the right to fight. While they are not encouraged to enter the Red Army, women who show a propensity for military science are not barred because of their sex.

There are now no women in the ranks—perhaps the "Women's Battalion" demonstrated too revoltingly during the Revolution that the weaker sex can fight more ferociously than men—and the fact that they are not included in compulsory military service indicates that sex equality means equal rights with men instead of equal duties.

There are, however, several women officers and students. And ranking above them all is Olga Minskaya, who was graduated last year from the Moscow War Academy. She stood at the head of a class of several hundred men and finished with the rank of general.

General Minskaya is 27 years old, tall and slender, with fair skin and blue eyes. Her mother was an English woman and her father a White Russian. Her hair is cut short and the men in her cavalry division do not necessarily know that the officer who sits in her saddle like a trim boy is a woman. But when off duty General Olga usually wears feminine apparel.

In fact, I knew Minskaya only in her feminine role. For in spite of her devotion to military duties she has found time for womanly pursuits. She is the wife of an army officer and the mother of two children, the first of whom died in infancy.

I REMEMBER one bleak winter night in 1925 when Minskaya came to the Lux Hotel in Moscow, creeping into our room like a forlorn child.

"My baby is dead," she said dully. "won't you let me stay here tonight?"

There must have been something soothing to her about the foreign civilian environment; she probably wanted to forget that she was a soldier and be just a woman—and a bereaved mother.

Two years later we visited her at the summer encampment of the War Academy near Moscow. It was located in a beautiful grove of trees and Minskaya was living in one of the log cottages. The room, off the community kitchen, was only large enough to contain her cot and the maid's, the baby's crib and a table. Like many women workers in Moscow, she hired a peasant girl to look after her child.

Looking frail and feminine in a cotton house dress, she sat on the veranda and told us her troubles, holding the sturdy baby while he tried to walk on the railing. Her husband was on vacation in the Crimea; her maid had gone into town, had fallen ill and was taken to the hospital.

The general had no idea what had happened to the maid, but waited for her return, trying to care for the baby and unable to attend to her duties. For three days she was up against a domestic problem which all her military training could not solve. Then she found a woman in camp to care for the baby.

General Olga and I went for a stroll through the woods and over the meadows. Soldiers were lounging about under the trees or playing football and cavalymen were riding over the open fields; no one paid the slightest attention to the girlish figure walking beside me.

"I sometimes wonder what my boy will think of me when he grows up?" she mused, a little wistfully. "Do you suppose he will be ashamed of his soldier mother?"

I replied that quite the contrary, he might be expected to develop a mother complex, especially if she maintained a higher rank than his father.

THE weather was hot and we sat down in the shade of a clump of bushes. I noticed how white and smooth was the skin of her bare arms and she explained that she never burned or tanned. Then I noticed on the inside of her delicate wrists a number of scars, as if a red hot iron had been laid across them. But when I mentioned them, she was embarrassed and looked away.

"I am ashamed to tell you how they came there," she said, her sweet face flushing. "They recall a moment of weakness I want to forget."

But another time I heard the whole story.

It was during the Civil War of 1918-1919 that Olga Minskaya, then only a young girl of 17, threw herself with passionate devotion into the cause of the Bolsheviks, acting as a scout in the Red forces. She displayed such courage and such ability for leadership that, when a revolution broke out in Hungary, she was sent there. But the Hungarian Soviet Republic was short-lived. On the eve of the counter revolution, the Hungarian revolutionary leaders fled to Russia, leaving Minskaya and her comrades to face the debacle.

She was captured and thrown into prison. This was a terrible memory. She was mistreated, humiliated, tortured. Finally in what she called a "weak moment," she felt she could bear it no longer. There was a piece of broken mirror in her cell and with this she slashed her wrists, attempting to sever the veins. But a guard discovered her.

Deliverance finally came. The Soviet government offered oil in exchange for a number of prisoners, including some Hungarians as well as Russians. Olga returned to Moscow.

The Woman General In Russia's Red Army

A painting in the modern Russian manner of the late General Frunze... Outcast Trotzky's successor as Commander of the Red Army... His memory, not Trotzky's, is revered.

UNDUNTED by sufferings, Minskaya begged to be permitted to continue her career and her case was brought to the attention of Leon Trotzky. Trotzky was then commander-in-chief of the Red Army and was idolized by his soldiers. Now he is in exile and his name is never mentioned in the ranks. Thus does the rigid discipline of the Russian Communist Party, which for 12 years has held the political power in Russia, operate to annihilate individuals who are not considered in harmony with accepted Party policies.

Nothing could illustrate better the thoroughness with which the "campaign of silence" was employed against Trotzky than the Art Exhibit commemorating the tenth anniversary of the birth of the Red Army, calling itself a complete history of the Red Army in paintings, portraits and sculpture.

I searched in vain through the galleries and through the catalog for the name and the face of Leon Trotzky, its organizer and first commander. There was, however, a painting of heroic proportions of the late General Michael W. Frunze, who succeeded Trotzky as commander-in-chief of the Red Army.

While Olga Minskaya may no longer, being a loyal Communist and Red soldier, reverse the former commander, it was Trotzky who, struck by her unusual ability, arranged that she should enter the War Academy on an equal footing with men.

His confidence in her was not unfounded. No student in the Academy has surpassed her in scholastic standing and display of military genius. Her professors declared that her mind was a marvel—she seemed to learn without effort and to master easily the most difficult problems.

IN 1927 an American writer on a visit to Moscow wanted to meet this "woman general." I invited them both to have dinner in my room at the Lux Hotel.

The American suggested that it would be a lark for him to make a blueberry pie—his favorite recipe—perhaps wanting to show the army officer how democratic and versatile we Americans are. Varya, my maid, bought the ingredients, blueberries being then in season.

When I came home from work I found the American writer in the community kitchen busy rolling out the crust, attended respectfully by Varya, while half a dozen maids gathered about laughing and talking. Their remarks—fortunately incomprehensible to him—flew about as thick as the flies that came through the open windows in unmoistened swarms.

"I'll bring the general out as soon as she arrives," I told him, while he chuckled with delight at the situation.

Minskaya came quietly into the kitchen, wearing a simple summer dress and looking her usual girlish and unassuming self. The American writer, completely taken aback, dropped his pie and stared at her. Instead of surprising her in his favorite role of cook, he had surprised him in her favorite feminine role. He confessed later that he had expected to see a booted and spurred masculine woman.

AS Minskaya told the writer in the interview which followed the blueberry pie course, smiling a little at his naive question about "democracy" in the Red Army, the day is long past when the Red soldiers elected their officers, although they vote at elections to the Soviets and thus are represented in the government.

"It wouldn't be an army, you know, if we had democracy," she said.

But there is nevertheless a comradeship spirit among officers and men, entirely lacking in social distinctions and striking contrasts in uniforms, standards of living and advantages.

Minskaya's little room in the community dwelling for students of the War Academy was as simple as that of any common soldier. Her salary was 150 roubles ($75) a month. When she had her babies, she was given the usual vacation allowed under Soviet labor laws of two months before and two months after confinement, and time off from daily work for nursing the infant.

The standard of living for soldiers and officers is simple, but their wants are well taken care of. In fact, military people are often termed the pets of the new society. Because the Revolution and Civil War are still in the very near past, and because the alleged danger of foreign aggression is ever held before them, the Russian people look upon the Red Army and fleet with the loving and trusting eyes of frightened children. The status of a common soldier is still very much higher in Russian communities than elsewhere.

A peasant or working class boy—or girl—receives a liberal education in the Red Army. I knew a reserve officer who had been a poor factory worker at the outbreak of the Revolution. With his mother, also a worker, he threw himself into the Bolshevik cause. Joining the Red Army at the age of 18, he received a complete academic education and is today one of the foremost literary critics in Moscow.

IT must be remembered that all women officers are not as feminine as Minskaya. I met another in full uniform, spurs and all, short, stout, deep-voiced—a regular old war horse. But still another, Marie Sakhnovskaya, staff officer, who was given the decoration of the Order of the Red Banner for bravery under fire, in appearance is also a credit to her sex. However, her bearing is more dignified and soldierly than Minskaya's.

It would seem that girls who take up military careers are under special obligation to prove the soundness of the new theories of sex equality now taught in Russia. As far as that goes, the United States is also demonstrating these theories about the ability of women to do "men's work." If not officially and as a matter of principle as in Soviet Russia, nevertheless perhaps even more widely in actual practice.

Although there are not many women in the Red Army, almost every working girl as well as boy learns to shoot. There is the workers' army, corresponding to our state militia, in which women factory workers as well as men, train.

Every trade union local has not only its own chemical warfare division and Red Cross, but also its rifle practice circle to which women belong. Within the ranks of the Communist Party, girls and women learn to carry guns, on the principle that women and men alike should be ready at all times to defend the "Workers' Republic" against its enemies.

THE Czar's standing army had a numerical strength of 1,400,000 men. Today the Red Army, though conceded to be vastly superior as a fighting machine, has a total enrollment of only slightly more than a half million.

In addition to the regular army, however, there is the territorial militia in which millions more have received military training without leaving their regular employment for more than a few months each year. There are about 5000 of these militia training centers scattered throughout the country.

All Gaul may have been divided into three parts in Caesar's time, but all Russia has been divided into nine for the purpose of organizing this militia system. And each of the nine areas is headed by a commander appointed by the Revolutionary Military Council. About 800,000 men are constantly in training in the militia.

Minskaya's belief that a perfect democracy cannot exist in an army is probably founded on her confidence in the Soviet military system, which, for all its outward show of democracy, still maintains strict discipline. Its officers are never referred to as such. Such words are used to designate only those in the Czarist and other capitalistic armies. In the Red Army they are called commanders and their rank can be told only by the insignia on their collars. Soldiers do not salute after drilling hours, nor outside the ranks.

Minskaya's exalted military rank does not prevent her being addressed by the lowliest private as "Comrade," the cherished salute of all Communists.

While the Red Army has been growing to command more and more respect among the world powers, appropriations for its upbuilding have been on the decrease. In 1926, 14 per cent of the national budget was spent on the army and navy. Since that time the percentage has steadily decreased, and this year it amounts to slightly more than 11 per cent, or $382,000,000. Taking into consideration the depreciation of the ruble, this is less than half what was expended annually before the war.

The per capita expense of maintaining military forces in Europe shows that Russia spends comparatively little. Against every Russian's contribution of $2.83, each Englishman drops $12.67 into the collection plate of Mars, each Frenchman $9.73 and each Italian $6.

Olga Minskaya, like all Red soldiers and loyal Soviet civilians, says she wants peace above all things; if there were general disarmament she would rejoice to see the Red Army disbanded, but—she is ready to give her life in defense of the Soviet power.

"We do not want war, but if we are attacked we must be prepared to defend ourselves," has a familiar ring to us all.

THE Red soldiers as they march over the cobbled streets usually sing, and everyone halts to listen. There is seldom a peasant boy who does not naturally possess a good voice or a Russian who is not naturally musical, and special vocal training in the Red Army makes the soldiers sing like a Grand Opera chorus.

And in the same spirit which Minskaya, their "woman general," shows, they march singing:

"Bravely we march to fight
For the Soviet power;
As one we'll gladly die
In the victorious hour!"

STOCKS MAKE RECOVERIES

FEW SOFT SPOTS CROP OUT; FOX BLOCK IS OFFERED

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—Stock prices made further recovery at the opening of today's market, although a few soft spots cropped out here and there. Union Pacific opened 2 points higher, General Electric 1 1/4 and U. S. Freight 1. U. S. Steel common opened at 175 1/2, up 1/2. Fox Film, which ran up from 22 to 34 and then dropped back to 27 1/2 yesterday, opened with a block of 5,000 shares at 25 5/8, off 1 7/8 net. Kroger declined nearly a point.

Early buying was rather broad in character and embraced nearly all high grade industrial issues. American Can opened at 125 1/4, up 1/2, and extended its gain. Bethlehem Steel opened at 96 7/8, up 7/8.

Warren Brothers jumped 5 points. J. I. Case moved up 3 1/2 and Columbia Carbide 2 1/2. Early gains of a point or more were registered by U. S. Steel Common, Superior Steel, American International, Woolworth, American Water Works, Columbia Gas and Underwood Elliott Fisher.

Foreign exchanges opened firm with sterling unchanged at $4.86 5/8.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (AP)—Increase of wheat shipments from below the equator, together with reports of numerous business failures in continental Europe led to early downturns in wheat values today.

Starting 1-3 to 1-3 1/2 lower, Chicago wheat advanced under an additional setback. Corn, oats and provisions were also weak, with corn starting 1-8 to 1-3c off, and subsequently continuing to recede.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (AP)—Cotton opened steady as Liverpool came in as due. As New York opened a shade higher prices here improved slightly after the start. March trading up to 11 1/2 and May to 12 1/2, or 1 to 2 points above yesterday's close. This slight bulge induced some further liquidation as well as selling by ring traders and March eased off to 11 1/2 and May to 12 1/2, or 4 to 5 points down from the highs. The market became steady at these levels.

The market ruled steady about the middle of the morning owing to price fixings by mills and covering by shorts for over the week-end. March traded up to 11 1/2 and May to 12 1/2, or 4 to 5 points down from the highs. The market became steady at these levels.

witness and admitted accomplice to the murder, was not corroborated. The defense maintained Middleton's testimony has not been corroborated in the present trial.

This argument was contested by the state with the assertion that it was necessary for the evidence only to tend to connect Joe Morales, the Mexican who allegedly beat Waybourn to death March 18, 1928, and that the testimony had so tended. The fact that Morales was a fugitive from justice was also cited as "tending" to show his guilt.
