At a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees last Thursday evening, H. Lee Clifton was re-elected principal of the grade schools in Burkburnett to serve for the 1938-39 term. At the same time, M. S. Dean, vocational agricultural instructor in the local high school, was re-elected for next year.

Mr. Clifton came to Burkburnett in September, 1925. He has been principal of the grade and grammar schools since 1927. He has been one of the most popular teachers we have ever had. He is a graduate of the East Txas State Teachers' College at Commerce. At present, Mr. Clifton is working on his Masters Degree at the University of Southern California.

Mr. Dean has been associated with the local school system since 1935. He has been responsible for much of the intereset being taken in plant cultivation in our city, and has stimulated interest in agricultural pursuits among the students here. Mr. Dean is a graduate of Texas A. & M. College.

C. of C. to Write to Secretary Wallace

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce held their regular monthly meeting Monday night, March 14, at the City Hall. The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has been instructed to address a letter to the Secretary of Agriculture, Henry A. Wallace, petitioning him to lend his influence to the establishment of one of the four regional research agricultural laboratories in Texas. Chambers of Commerce all over Texas are joining in this petition.

The function of these laboratories is to conduct research into and to develop new scientific chemical and technical uses and new and extended markets and outlets for farm commodities and by-products thereof. There will be four of them and one is to be located in the cotton region. As the greatest cotton producing state in the union, Texas is the logical site for the location of the cotton research laboratory. However, we will have a fight on our hands, since other states in the cotton belt will be after it, too.

The directors also passed a resolution to provide a local pipe yard for out of town trucks coming in from Oklahoma to unload. President Wiley Browning appointed R. P. Reagan, chairman; Oscar Kemp, and B. F. Gilchrist, a committee to locate the yard.

Trade extension and good-will trips were also discussed, during the evening, and a special committee is to be appointed to see that all community functions are well attended.

It was decided to have a bulletin board, listing the regular meetings of all civic organizations, made and put on display at an early date.

Large Crowd Here Wichita County's Singing Gathering

Stamps Quartet Special Feature On Program

Dinner On Ground

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a Wichita County Singing Convention gathered in Burkburnett Sunday to attend the singing convention which was held at the Calvary Baptist church.

Approximately 1500 people were in attendance, many having to stand outside as the church was filled to capacity. Song leaders from all over the county were present and each led several songs.

The principal feature on the program was several numbers by the Stamps quartet, radio stars from KRLD, Dallas.

During the noon hour a bounteous feed was served to the guests and singers.

Lee Copeland, president of the Wichita County Convention, was unable to attend and the program was in charge of Blake Johnson of Wichita Falls, assisted by P. B. Fox, local pastor of the church here.

The next singing convention will be held in Thornberry, Texas, the second Sunday in June.

Fire Department Has Busy Week

The local fire department answered two calls on Saturday of last week. One to West 5th street where the burning of waste oil endangered several dwellings and another to the Gulf Road where a burning feed stack had got out of control.

On Monday the first call was to a burning chicken house at the Campbell residence on East Main. Another call came later in the afternoon from the Cagles at the Gulf plant south of Burkburnett, where the floor of the garage was burning.

Only slight damage resulted from any of the fires.

Bicycle Riders Urged To Obey Rules of Traffic

Quite a bit of comment has been made on the poster that is being exhibited in a window of the Star office this week. The poster urges that all people who ride bicycles should comply with all traffic regulations for public safety.

This circular was sent to us by the Cycle Trades of America, Inc., an organization which is doing much work to make cycling safer for those who ride bicycles.

The following is a quotation from their letter to us. "We believe that Bicycling is safe if the Rider obeys traffic laws and rides as he should.

"The increase in the number of Bicycles on the road is far greater percentagely than accidents are, but we want to not only say 'Bicycling is Safe'—we want to keep it so. To that end we are sending you this poster, believing that your paper is always interested in anything that benefits the public."

Everyone who rides a bicycle is urged to look at this poster sometime in the near future and to read the rules and regulations printed on it. Parents of children who own bicycles should instruct them as to all traffic regulations, and should stress the importance of their complying with such regulations.

Every year an appalling number of children lose their lives while riding their bicycles on the public highways. Nation-wide education on this vital subject should begin at once. We are indeed glad to join with the Cycle Trades of America in placing information where riders of bicycles may absorb it.

WHITAKER GROCERY MOVING

The Whitaker Grocery, located on East Main Street, moved this week to a new location on Avenue D.

Flour Sack Patterns Designed by Burkburnett Lady

Housewives of Burkburnett who use Bewley's Best Flour will receive a surprise when they order their next sack.

On the back of the sacks are four quilt scraps, pictures of a Dutch girl, Dutch boy, and the gingham dog and the calico cat.

These designs were sent to the Bewley factory by Mrs. W. H. Farrar of this city, with the request that they be used on each sack of flour.

The officials wrote Mrs. Farrar a nice letter stating as soon as their present supply of sacks were exhausted they would use her designs. The first shipment of these sacks of flour arrived at the Carver Hatchery last week.

Another Freak

The Carver Hatchery this week is displaying a freak in the form of a four-legged chicken. The fowl was brought to the Hatchery by Mrs. Oran Hofacket and is a Rhode Island Red. It has two normal legs and the other two legs are on its back.

Mrs. Hofacket stated that the baby chick lived several weeks until the mother hen started to peck it. She took it away from the hen and it froze to death.

MRS. MILLS IMPROVING

Mrs. Ray Mills, who was injured in a fall last Saturday is able to be up in a wheel chair part of the time.

The following boys received service letters as members of the basketball team: Woodrow Robison, Wilson Robison, Chink Wright, Carl Winkles, Leon Brown, Tommy West, James Enloe and Wendell Goins. Reserve letters were presented to C. W. Goins, Dail Boyd and Clayton Owen. Doug Roberts received a manager's letter and jacket. Presentations were made by the boys' coach, Erwin Brand.

Girls who received awards and sweaters as volleyball players, were: Virginia Bayne, Rosalie McCall, Troy Northcott, Virginia Spencer, Hazel Todd, Faye Morrison, Lillian Pearl Zink. Miss Mildred McKinney, volleyball coach, made the presentations.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the "Musical Maidens" orchestra from the Five-in-One-School of Wilbarger county. Ira Young, superintendent of the school was also present.

A vocal number was presented by Dreda Miller, Rosalie McCall, and Wanda and Frances Goins, who were accompanied by Miss Balnche Butler, music instructor from Burkburnett.

The principal speaker of the evening was K. C. Spell of Wichita Falls, candidate for congressman, who addressed the assembly on the subject "Importance of Each Child's Developing Individuality."

The P.-T. A. ladies assisted in preparation for the banquet, which was attended by about 100 guests. Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, teacher of Home Economics in the Fairview high school, and her class assisted in preparing the menu and in serving.

Work Remodeling Dodson Dry Goods Started This Week

Work on the remodeling of the Mat Riley brick on Main St. was started this week. The building will be the new home of the Dodson's Dry Goods Store.

The entire front is being removed and a modernistic black onyx front being supplemented. Mr. Dodson stated that they expect to be in their new location by the first of April. This building is much larger than their present location and will enable the firm to display their goods to much better advantage.

H. J. Brown has the contract for the remodeling of the building.

Samson Building Repaired

The building occupied by the Betty Anne Bakery and the American Legion is having a new roof put on and the ceiling is being repaired.

W. T. Holman, J. H. Cecil and E. F. Gilbow announced this week that they would be candidates for city commissioners, subject to the election, April 5th.

In announcing their candidacies for this important position in the city these men state they have no axes to grind with the present administration or any individual, and are making the race upon the request of numerous friends who have the interest of Burkburnett at heart.

They state that if they are elected that they will conduct the affairs of the city to the best of their ability, always striving for the betterment of the town and its people.

W. T. Holman has been a resident of Burkburnett for the past 8 years and has resided in this community for the past 18 years. He has never been a candidate for any city office. His first years in this community were spent on a farm. He moved to Burkburnett 8 years ago and has been manager of the Farmers Co-Operative Gin since that time. He is a present director of the chamber of commerce.

J. H. Cecil has been a resident of Burkburnett for the past 18 years, 13 years of which were spent as engineer for the Sinclair Oil Company. He later was employed in the production department of the Panhandle Refining Co., and now operates a Panhandle Service Station and is local wholesale agent for the Panhandle Refining Co. He has never been a candidate for any public office. He is secretary of the I. O. O. F. lodge and a member of the Masonic lodge.

E. F. Gilbow has been a resident of Burkburnett for the past 16 years. For 8 years he was on the city police force. Later he entered the grocery business and was a trucking contractor for a number of years. He is at present manager of the Gilbow Service Station.

The present incumbents, Henry Grace, Wylie Browning and Joe Majors, have not made an official statement as to whether they will be candidates for re-election. They state they will probably make a definite decision in the near future.

The other two commissioners, Frank Kelley and A. R. Hill term of office does not expire until next year.

Baylor County to Vote on Bonds To Build Free Park on Lake Kemp

Construction of a beautiful fisherman's and sportsman's park on Lake Kemp between Gray and Pony creeks for North Texas and Oklahoma residents was projected Tuesday when the Baylor county commissioners court called a bond election for funds to build the project.

The election was called for April 9, with only qualified property owners voting. The bond issue was set at a maximum of $25,000. The park will be under the supervision of Baylor county but will be open without charge to anyone, the commissioners announced.

County commissioners will purchase from 300 to 400 acres of land from the Waggoner estate on the shores of the lake. The exact location has not been settled yet, but will be about eight miles from Seymour.

A works progress administration project has been promised the county to gravel the old road from Seymour to the water's edge. Plans for the park call for planting trees, shrubs and grass.

FOR THE SAKE OF POLITICS

Collective bargaining has been made the law of the land and everyone is now agreed that it is a substantial national gain.

The National Labor Relations Act was intended to establish definite standards for employers and employes. But everyone knew when the law was passed that it was an experimental measure which would show defects in its actual operation. There was not long to wait as there were more strikes in 1937 than in any year in history. Of course the general public had no patience, and no sympathy, with the sit-down strikes. The public reaction has been aroused against the Maritime labor disputes in which communism threatens to "rule the wave."

One of the labor bills in the House bearing the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor proposes a flat 40 hour week and a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour for the entire country.

Unemployment increased 1,427,000 in January over December, bringing the total to 10,342,000, according to a dependable unofficial statement.

Congress has lost most of its enthusiasm for the wage-hour bill. The same opposition that has defeated the matter in the past year exists in Congress, and continues to be backed by the belligerent South—that wants none of it.

Many Members of Congress would like to clarify their records regarding labor. Perhaps more than hundred House Members oppose bringing labor matters up in any form. In a large number of instances the Representatives of the people are thinking more about the elections next Fall and their chances of returning to Washington than they are about improving legislation that has been passed in recent years, or new legislation that would better safeguard the rights of either the employer or the employes.

SAVE A LIFE

Motor vehicle traffic conditions in the United States are so important to the people of the country that there is always a local State or Federal authority concerning itself with the various problems. The Department of Agriculture has reported to Congress upon the subject of "official inspection of vehicles" concerning the "save-a-life" or "vehicle-inspection-campaigns."

Within recent years fifteen States have carried on an inspection of vehicles. In one State more than 36 per cent of the cars were found to have faulty brakes. Lights failed to meet requirements more frequently than any other item in most State inspections. Windshield wipers have grown in favor, and added to public safety. Two windshield wipers on automobiles, trucks and buses are now required in several States.

It will be interesting to observe whether compulsory inspection will be worth continuing and extending over new fields.

A HOT TIME IN THE OLD TOWN

Washington started the month with TVA gas on the stomach, but it is now a serious case of acute indigestion, plus complications that may result in uncovering scandals in handling public moneys.

Congress knocks the Administration tax demands over the head by refusing to crack down with death penalty taxes on family firms that would practically destroy many great industries that are owned by the founders and their families, instead of sustained through stock-market investors.

Congress shows every sign of enjoying the first fruits of victory over the President—since it has produced concrete evidence of its independence.

NO TOTAL TAX REDUCTIONS

You might just as well talk against the Northwinds as waste wind talking about reducing taxes. The politicians in control will tell you that the total tax structure connot be reduced, and they repeat it over and over and show that they mean it.

Burkburnett .... History

A special meeting of the Oscar Frye Post American Legion will be held Friday night, March 10. Plans for forming a ladies' auxiliary will be discussed.

Burkburnett, Clara and Archer City high school track and field teams will meet here this afternoon at 3:15 on the track field south of Shamburger Lumber Co. This is the initial meet prepatory to the County Meet. Some of our entries are: Wilburn Griffin, Douglas Tiffin, Floyd Patterson, Leroy Eddie, Floyd Phillpy, H. D. Hurd, Harvey Moore, Milledge Hall, Mitchell Wolfe and Harold Hickman.

Little Frances Alexander, one of the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Alexander, was bitten by a dog Wednesday morning. The bite was not considered serious, but the shock unnerved the child considerably.

The Burkburnett Independent School District is facing a deficit in funds to maintain the school for the last two months of the 1925-26 term. Pupils have been notified that they will have to pay tuition. Members of Burkburnett schools and other public spirited citizens, realizing that it will be difficult for some students to continue on this basis, have offered their assistance.

Roy (Fat) Blancett has announced for the office of Constable of Precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. In making his announcement, he stated that his platform is "a square deal for all."

The Wichita Chick Hatchery, operated by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Carver, south of Burkburnett, was visited by a couple of Star men on Thursday of last week. They learned that the plant has a hatching capacity of 41,000 chicks every three weeks. Ship chicks to all parts of Texas and other states. Only hens that are heavy egg producers are retained for breeding purposes. One Leghorn hen on the farm is credited with a 300-egg record. The plant is five years old.

Big Rabbit Creek

March 13, 1938

This Sabbath day is a beautiful, summer-like day. Only the wind from the northwest is blowing pretty hard and there is quite a lot of sand blowing.

The wheat is sure growing and is looking nice. If nothing happens to the grain crop, and we get one or two more good rains before harvest time, there will be a bumper crop.

Mrs. Martha Nails for the past week has been on the sick list and up till Saturday, wasn't any better.

The high grade students in the Randlett high school put on a fine play Friday night at the Randlett High school house auditorium. The play was fine, says everyone who attended it. A very large crowded saw the play.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin, who went to Jal, New Mexico, several months past, to look after their oil interests, came back last Wednesday evening and are staying at the Owens' family home, but will leave some time next week for their future home. Soon after W. H. arrived here, he went over to our friendly little city, Burkburnett, and purchased one of those fine, reconditioned 1 1-2 ton Dodge trucks which the Grace and Barrow boys handle.

W. H. was asked why he didn't get his truck out in Jal, New Mexico, where he lives. The answer was "No." He said he was going to buy a truck from the Grace and Barrow boys as he has known them a long time and he knows they are reliable men. He has done quite a bit of car business in the past with them and has always found them honest and reliable. Believe me, W. H. has a real truck and at a very reasonable price. W. H. and his wife will take back their furniture and household goods to their future home in their big Dodge truck.

Spud planting and corn planting time is just around the corner; the 17th in the dark of the moon, or sometime after the 17th of this month. There will be quite a lot of land this year, up and down the Big Rabbit Creek and Red River bottoms planted in corn and spuds. More corn than last year will be planted.

Well, another one of the vast multitudes of people was in the city and on the streets of Burkburnett, the big oil city, Saturday. Everyone was sociable and pleasant, and enjoying themselves by visiting with one another and going to two of the best picture show houses in the good old Lone Star State; the Tex and the Palace.

Last Tuesday this neck of the woods had nearly an all night's rain. Just a nice slow rain.

Coming up the street Saturday morning, who did Hawkeye meet by my old friend Roy Jackson's place of business but his friend Stanley Gartside, manager of the Palace and Tex play houses. After talking a few minutes to Bro. Stanley, Hawkeye asked how he was getting along with the remodeling of the Palace. Bro. Stanley says, "Well, let's go up and see." So, Hawkeye did. Believe it or not, folks, Hawkeye hardly believed his own eyes to see what had been done in the past few weeks to make the Palace the fineest and prettiest picture house in Wichita county. The whole interior is beautiful; 3 large glass lights on each side of the wall in 3 different colors. It is amongst the most modern and up-to-date play houses in the state. It will take two more weeks to finish the job.

Three-fourths of the Big Rabbit Creek population was shopping and transacting business over in our friendly little city of Burkburnett Saturday.

One of Burkburnett's esteemed citizens, a Mr. Hurt, who lives in and owns property in Burkburnett, met Hawkeye Saturday. In talking, Mr. Hurt asked Hawkeye where was the Big Pond which Hawkeye speaks of sometimes. We have ponds over here from 10 feet wide to 6 and 8 miles wide. If Mr. Hurt doesn't believe this statement, just come over in your car, if you have a car, and Hawkeye will take you to these ponds. If you should be from Missouri, of course, you would have to be shown. Hawkeye won't fall out with you for that ,Mr. Hurt. Lots of people, in just talking, call Red River, our boundary line, the Big Pond, but that isn't really proper as it is a river.

HAWKEYE.

Effort, fortified by study, will do more to speed success than any other thing you do.

A LOT OF CAR for a VERY LOW PRICE

The Ford effort to make your dollars buy a constantly better car is well illustrated in the Standard Ford V-8.

It has all the basic Ford advantages. It is built on the same chassis as the De Luxe Ford V-8. It gives you a choice of smooth 85-horsepower or 60-horsepower V-8 engines. But it sells at low prices, and includes bumpers, spare tire, cigar lighter, twin horns and other equipment that make it a still bigger bar

With the thrifty 60-horsepower e the Standard Ford V-8 is priced cially low and gives the greates mileage in Ford history. Hundre owners report averages of 22 to 27 a gallon — or even more.

Shelterbelt Will Be Planted Soon

W. E. Webb of the State department of agriculture is here this week with representatives of the federal government checking on the final details preparatory to beginning cultivation of the shelter belt project which has been planned for this area.

A strip of land three and one-fourth miles long has been donated for this project. The land is from the farms of the following men: J. D. Cooper, Arthur Ramming and Matt Riley.

Soil from the three farms will be tested on Friday to determine what trees will be best suited to conditions found there, and planting will begin as soon as the tests are complete.

This part of the country is indeed fortunate to obtain this service from the government, as it was not included on their schedule at all, and it is only through the untiring efforts of public spirited citizens that we have this privilege.

Time is an earnest, important, vital affair. Make the most of it. Use it to advantage.

C. J. Duncan Heads Teachers of Wichita County

C. J. Duncan, superintendent of local schools, was elected president of the Wichita County unit, district 7, Texas State Teachers' Association, at a meeting held in Wichita Falls Monday evening.

Other officers are Ralph Davis, Clara; and J. B. Golden, county superintendent, vice-presidents; R .C. Boulware, Iowa Park, secretary; and George Blair, Electra, treasurer.

Mr. Duncan is the first president of this organization, which is a unit of the State Teachers' Association. At the State Teachers' association convention, which met last November in Houston, a constitution was adopted which provided that groups of teachers of 25 or more might organize local units to meet three times a year. These units are allowed to elect delegates, one for each twenty-five members, to attend the district meetings.

The State is divided into districts of about twenty counties each; each district having a meeting in the fall at which time delegates are elected to the State Convention. This is district 7 and includes what is known as the "oil belt" including some 20 counties. There are approximately 3,000 teachers in this district.

The local unit, of which Mr. Duncan has been elected president, includes our own schools, all the rural schools in the county, and neighboring towns, with the exception of the teachers in Wichita Falls, who have a separate unit of 250 members. There are about that same number in the local unit, which is representative of the rest of the county.

Farmers Of County Favor Cotton Quota

Wichita county cotton farmers voted in favor of the establishment of cotton marketing quotas on the 1938 crop by a two-to-one majority last Saturday.

A total of 478 ballots were cast in the county, 306 in favor of the quotas and 152 against. Farmers of the Burkburnett vicinity were the only group to vote no to the plan, provided in the new triple-A farm bill. They balloted against the measure 83 to 40.

Poll box chairmen reported their tabulations as follows: Wichita Falls, 113 for, 29 against; Electra 57 for, 31 against; Burkburnett, 40 for, 83 against; and Iowa Park, 96 for, 9 against.

County committeemen will meet at 9 a. m. Monday with County Agent G. R. McNeil for an official canvass of the returns, which will be forwarded to Washington, D. C.

If a two-thirds majority of the nation's cotton farmers favor the marketing quota system, the plan will be put into effect. It is designed to hold surplus cotton off the market by restricting cotton production in 1938 to acreage allotments for every farm and providing heavy penalties for overplanting.

To the People of Texas

In announcing my candidacy for re-election as member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, I do with profound appreciation of the trust reposed in heretofore by the people of my native State.

True to my promises in the past, I have discharg the duties of an important public office; and due to tensive training and experience I have qualified myse to pass upon matters coming before the Railroad Co mission—a department which constantly faces co plex problems vitally affecting every citizen of o Commonwealth.

The jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission embraces the sup vision of railroads, trucks, busses, express companies, dock compan gas utilities, pipe lines and the administration of the conservation la of this State dealing with the production of oil and gas; investme totaling more than three billion dollars.

The Commission has caused the rates on cotton to be reduced some instances from $1.00 to $1.25 per bale, resulting in a saving to cotton farmers and people of the State of several million dollars a nually. Through its action the rates on grain are lower than they oth wise would have been and the grain farmers of Texas have thereby be saved, and are being saved, in excess of two million dollars annual Because of the action of the Commission the rates on stocker cattle 15% lower than they would have been, which saving has accrued to cattlemen of our State.

An order of the Commission directing a reduction of the gas ra to the City of Laredo, by which the consumer will be saved more th 25 per cent was recently sustained by the Supreme Court of the Unit States. Since I have been a member of the Commission no order of Commission fixing gas rates has ever been stricken down by the Cour

The Railroad Commission's policy of oil and gas conservation h yielded to the permanent public school fund, the University of Tex and A. & M. College more than forty million dollars, the benefits which will extend to coming generations.

Standing upon my record in these and many other achievements the Commission, I ask with confidence my re-election to this highly r sponsible office; and I pledge a continuation of my best efforts for th public welfare.

A faithful performance of public service in the past is the bes guarantee of like service in the future.

Beauty Aids

Modern woman's path to beauty passes the oil well and refinery! Perfumes, hair dressings, nail lacquers, pomades, facial creams, and other beauty preparations are made with solvents, essences, oils, greases, bases, and other petroleum products.

When it comes to clothing, oil helps again. Soft, sheer underthings; warm, cuddy furs; shining purses, compact, and travelling bag; woolen clothing—all processed, in one way or another, with petroleum or its derivatives.

Nomenclature

The task of finding suitable names for Pullman cars has its parallel in the petroleum industry. Determining the proper nomenclature for petroleum products and operations is a job for petroleum technologists. They are conducting research, exchanging notes, and doing everything humanly possible to make certain that the names they select have identical meanings in all sections of the country.

Nomenclature was easier in the early days of oil. It was known as "Greek Fire" after the Greeks successfully destroyed a Scythian fleet by pouring oil upon the sea and igniting. In Biblical times various were ascribed to petroleum in its various forms, such as "pitch," "napthai," and "salt."

Research

Synthetic rubber of long-wearing quality now can be made from petroleum, researchers say. When mixed with celluose, a synthetic wool fine enough for a Sunday go-to-meeting suit comes off the loom. Edible fats and foods also can be manufactured from petroleum. At least $12,000,000 a year is spent on research and development in the refining branch of the industry. As a result a higher percentage of valuable products is being obtained and waste is being eliminated.

'Gold Brick' Insurance Chiselers Pay Only 50c on $1.00

A series of articles telling how thousands of unsuspecting policy holders in mutual assessment life insurance companies in Texas are being hilked and their beneficiaries cheated out of full payment of death claims is being published in several metropolitan newspapers in the state. The author of these articles is Dick Vaughan, an Austin newspaper man. The following was clipped from one of his articles which ran in The Houston Press:

There are about 500,000 persons in Texas who are relying on mutual assessment life insurance policies written under the laws of this state to take care of their families when they die.

Few of them know that as long as these companies pay off as much as 50 cents on the $1 they are complying with Texas insurance laws, and as long as their managers can keep thinking up ways, they can contest claims and settle for even less, entering the chiseled settlements on their books as payment in full.

The many honest, square-shooting mutual assessment companies in Texas pay off claims promptly and in full not because they have to but because they want to.

This leaves the companies that don't want to pay off in full free to dispute claims, delay payments, argue and dicker, spend the insured people's money fighting claims until finally the beneficiary is glad to take a fraction of the face value of the policy.

Let's take a look at records of the State Insurance Commission for 1936, the last year for which the records are complete, and see how some companies pay off at a fraction of their policies with full sanction of the Texas insurance laws.

One Houston company paid off $15,542.90 in claims for $7,449.50. It paid off an $800 claim for $25 because the company claimed the insured had heart trouble; a $1000 claim for $300 because insured had tuberculosis; a $500 claim for $150 because the insured had a stroke prior to the application, and many others for like percentages, all because the company claimed that some disability existed before the policy was applied for.

More mutual assessment companies make the applicants the judges of their own health: They render a certificate saying "I am in good health." If the applicant signs it, woe betide his beneficiaries if the insurance companies take little interest in their clients' health until they die and become a source of loss instead of profit. They then search doctors' records for every ache and pain and if they find any, they contest the claim and try to settle for less than face.

But charges of misrepresentation or illness are not the only excuses companies have for paying off at less than face value. Many have clauses that reduce the face if the insured dies of certain diseases. Others automatically reduce benefits when the insured reaches certain age limits.

All policies are conditioned on the companies' collecting the money from their customers. The companies agree to pay nothing. They agree only to pass on to beneficiaries of dead members their share of 60 per cent of income from live members, less cost of settling claims. If there isn't enough to pay the policy at face, although everything else might be in order, the beneficiaries get only what the company can pay them.

There are many ways to chisel claims. The advice of anyone who has made a study of the present situation under existing laws, is to take out insurance only with reliable companies, and to consult authorities upon the subject before finally selecting any company to protect you.

Farm Leaders of Texas-Oklahoma Discuss FSA Work

The leaders of farm life in Texas and Oklahoma who constitute the advisory committee for the Farm Security Administration met in Dallas March 12 and spent the day in conference with staff workers. In addressing the body, A. G .Mayse, chairman of the Texas committee, said, "We find the leadership of the government in attacking the farm tenant problem has not only heartened the tenants themselves, but has inspired many landlords to take steps to enable tenants to become farm owners. As this program proceeds, we hope that improved relations between landlords and tenants will show the way for private capital to augment the farm purchasing movement on terms and interest rates comparable to the government's plan," he continued.

Merchants, bankers, industry and professions in general will profit in the long run from the FSA program, Mr. Mayse pointed out. "Not the least of the benefits is the value of information that is being disseminated," he said. "Good seeds are being planted in the minds of the people and their reasoning is being cultivated. The exhibit being built up by tenant purchase and rehabilitation loans will convince even the most skeptical that we may expect to see again the great agricultural regions of the nation populated largely by home owners, under happy conditions, enjoying normal comforts and some of the luxuries of life. Under such conditions, their buying power will make for prosperity for other people in general."

Mayse reminded his hearers that no one could expect to carry on such a gigantic effort without mistakes and that in his estimation it was remarkable that the work has progressed to its present state in such a satisfactory manner. FSA is attacking the farm tenancy problem on two fronts, first by helping tenants to improve their situation as tenants, through improved methods and longer leases, and second, by assisting them directly to buy their own farms through long-time loans and low interest rates.

"The Rest Of The Record"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

This week has been designated by official proclamation as Natural Resources Week in Texas.

Thousands of school children, civic club members, and other publicspirited citizens are studying the possibilities for industrial development in this State as well as the immense importance of such development to the continued progress of Texas. Industrialists, business leaders, bankers, and capitalists are co-operating to insure the fullest realization of the importance of this week.

Thinking Texans for many years have realized the need for developing the unlimited natural resources of our rich empire to supplement the wealth obtained from our basic resources of agriculture and livestock. The wisdom of such a plan has become more apparent as world-wide competition has restricted the markets and sales of the elementary products from Texas farms and ranches.

Obviously a systematic and scientific expansion of these latent resources is necessary before the realization of a well balanced economic program between agriculture and industry can be attained. The result will be a more abundant life for the people of Texas.

Working toward that attainment are two agencies; Texas Institute of Natural Resources and Industrial Development located in Dallas, and the Texas Planning Board, an official arm of the State government. The Institute during Natural Resources Week will display more than 100 potential resources capable of development. In addition there will be addresses by informed and prominent citizens whose knowledge of Texas resources and their grasp at the problems to be solved should insure the best presentation of Texas' industrial future available.

It is hoped that this week will emphasize to the people of Texas the need for continued interest and thought on this subject so vital to the future progress of our State. It is fortunate that for three years Texas has had the unprecedented benefit of favorable nation-wide publicity which began before our Centennial Year, and extended through the Pan-American Year, and is continuing into 1938.

The rays of the nation's publicity spotlight has played upon Texas during these years, outlining in bold and favorable relief not only the progress we already have achieved, but the tremendous latent wealth of our resources upon which proper development depends our future. By every possible publicity medium —the press, radio, newsreels, magazines, billboards—Texas has been presented to the nation.

As a result, thousands of tourists—both winter and summer—have filled our resort cities carrying back with them the story of Texas. National conventions have attracted thousands of delegates from over the nation who have become so enthusiastic that conventions of other national associations have been booked for years ahead in Texas cities.

Last week the representatives of a prominent motion picture studio visited my office, told me of plans for the filming of the Life of Sam Houston, and said that the industry planned other films based on Texas history. Already on location in Texas at the time was another company filming a Texas picture. During the week, representatives of three national magazines visited in Austin on assignment for stories of Texas.

More recently, the Mother-in-Law Day Celebration in Amarillo held the eyes and ears of the nation toward Texas. This union celebration was honored by the presence of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, and the governors of four neighboring states. Thousands of visitors from other states accompanied them while a national radio hook-up carried the mental pictures of the mammoth celebration to an interested nation. News stories, newsreels, and magazine articles told the story of Mother-in-Law Day and while doing it, reflected favorable national attention upon Texas.

It is timely then for us to observe National Resources week and reflect upon the invaluable publicity for Texas which has focused the eyes of the nation upon our present and future development. We certainly have something to sell and the buyers of the nation certainly will hear of it through continued publicity.

Retail Grocers to Meet In Dallas

Officers of thirty local retail grocers' associations of Texas will meet at the Hilton Hotel, Dallas, on March 21, for a two day conference of the presidents and secretaries, the first gathering of its kind to be held in the State.

One of the main purposes of the conference is to study the fundamentals of organization work and to give local officers training in the performance of their respective duties. Representative retail grocers from Texas' cities not having an organization will also attend the conference with the view of later organizing their own communities. The directors of the Texas Retail Grocers Association will remain in Dallas a third day for a board meeting.

One of the principal subjects of discussion will be campaigns now in progress or to be launched this spring by independent grocers to reduce agricultural surpluses. Through the Independent Food Distrbiutors Council, independent grocers of the nation are making weekly drives and holding special sales to clear agricultural surpluses that threaten to break price structures and reduce farm incomes. Aid of the independent grocers is given to various groups of agricultural producers only after the United States' Secretary of Agriculture has reported the real need of help for them to the Independent Food Distributors Council.

Other subjects to be considered at the Dallas conference include: organization and membership, preparation of programs for local associations, unethical trade practices and means of combatting them, association and store advertising, and publicity.

W. B. Addison, president, of Houston, and Roger Q. Flournoy, Dallas, secretary, of the State organization, have completed the arrangements for the Dallas meeting.

Thompson Urges a New Farm Program

Thompson Urges Equal Break For Texas Farmers

A farm program for Texas which will assure the farmer an equal break with the manufacturer, was urged last week by E. O. Thompson in speeches to several farm groups.

Thompson, state railroad commissioner, and a candidate for governor, pointed out that manufacturers had enjoyed the benefits of a protective tariff, but that no similar protective program had been worked our for the farmer.

Prosperity of the state, he declared, starts with the farmer, and a program which will bring better prices for their products and increase their market will benefit all the state.

"Something," he said, "must be wrong with a system where you have to mortgage your farms and ranches and then can't make enough money to pay off the mortgages. Something can be done if we will work out a program that will bring real help to the farmer and the ranchman.

"It is my purpose to work out such a program and to co-operate with the federal government in the work that it now is carrying on. I want to see things in Texas so that the people who raise the things we eat and wear will get an equal break with the manufacturers.

"Back in the early days of our country, the protective tariff was inaugurated to help industry and the manufacturer. But there was no program to help the farmer and the stockman. Only in the past few years has some effort to help them been made.

"I want to see the present work go on and new programs started that will take the penalty out of owning a farm or a ranch; that will make it so owners of farms and ranches can enjoy their share of prosperity and profits.

Thompson, as railroad commissioner, has saved farmers and ranchmen thousands of dollars through reduction of freight rates on cotton, grain, and livestock, and through granting of emergency rate reductions in drouth stricken areas.

Allred Announces He Will Announce An Announcement

Gov. James V. Allred announced Tuesday that after much meditation he had reached a decision on whether to seek a third term and would make it known probably later this week.

Answering questions somewhat gaily, at his regular press conference, the governor said he had established definitely the "dogwoods are blooming" and was about ready to life the veil of mystery which has long obscured his political intentions.

In Washington several weeks ago he stated he would announce his plans "when the dogwoods bloom."

"Have you come to a decision on what you will do?" the governor was asked as he returned to his office after a week's tour of West and North Texas.

"Yes," he replied, "I think so."

"Why not make the announcement today?"

"I want to talk to a few more people,' he said, adding he had not decided on the form of his statement, specificially, whether to make it long or short.

"I probably will make an announcement, one way or the other, about the latter part of the week," he said.

Ex-British Soldier Is Rotary Speaker

Eig Waghorn of the Humphrey Printing Co., of Wichita Falls, and president of the Optimist Club of that city, was the principal speaker at the Rotary club Tuesday at noon.

Mr. Waghorn gave a travelogue of his experiences while in the British army and of his trip to the United States. He gave a vivid picture of the hardships encountered by the British soldiers during the first year of the World War. He was introduced by M. C. Tucker, who had charge of the program.

Rotarians from Wichita Falls present were: Edd Debbs, Rev. Paul Martin, Bill Duncan, Geo. Merkel and Bryan Miller. Harry Elliott, co-captain of the 1938 football squad was a quest of Coach Volney Hill.

Tolly McKown, who has been a guest of the club for the past six weeks, expressed his appreciation of the courtesy extended him.

O. C. Wills has charge of the program next week.

Farm Bulletins

It is now planting time and each one is interested in the latest and best information available, as to the best methods of preparing and planting whatever crops, flowers or gardens, etc., he may be interested in. It is a serious question as to the best methods of distributing the 10,000 Agricultural Bulletins assigned to each Member of Congress. Different methods of distribution have been tried by different members. It seems to me in fairness to all residents of the District, that each resident should be entitled to select his proportionate part of the bulletins for his particular needs. To this end, I have mailed each voter a list of these agricultural bulletins together with a self addressed post card, making your selection easy. If each family made full request, it would require more than 250,000 bulletins to supply the needs of the District. I am trying through my contacts among the city Members of Congress, to supply the requests made, and make this statement so that all parties requesting bulletins in excess of their share will understand why it is impossible to fulfill the many large requests being made.

The Tax Bill

The New Tax Bill, brought in at the request of the President to remedy the evils pointed out in his message to the Congress on June 1, 1937, was debated all last week and finally passed by a vote of 294 to 98. The great mass of propaganda spread since the Revenue Act of 1936, enacting the undistributed profits tax, has all been based upon the great hardship caused by this Act, particularly, as to how the undistributed profits tax worked hardships on small corporations with net incomes under $25.000.

The government records show that the average tax rate, because of the undistributed profits tax law on the net incomes of all corporations last year, was 1.81 per cent, so that all this propaganda raised by the National Manufacturers' Association, the United States Chamber of Commerce and kindred organizations, through their agents and members in the different communities, has been largely "bunk." The committee bill, however, instead of removing the inequalities on small corporations of under $25,000 net income, raised their net income under the new bill, to where they pay more tax than they do under existing law.

However, the Committee was careful to lower actual amount of taxes paid on net incomes in excess of $25,000 net, for the proposed bill repeals the normal and sur-taxes on this group of corporations and reduces the maximum rate from 32.4 per cent in the case of complete retention of undistributed profits to a maximum of 20 per cent, or according to the Committee's statement, this decreases amounts to a 40 per cent reduction.

On the Third Basket, (Title -B, struck out by a vote of 234 o 153) affecting not to exceed 00 corporations, the Committee admits the rates on this group will be slightly less than under existing law. On capital gains and losses, we find the committee has materially lowered the rates on all gains held over five years, has placed a 16 per cent maximum tax which amounts to a 40 per cent reduction, thus favoring the wealthy who speculate in stocks and bonds. In fact, throughout the bill, have carefully been placed exemptions, alternate payments, carryover losses and so-called cushions, all of which favor the wealthy through tax evasion, avoidance and exemption, which experts tell us will lose more than $300,000,000 in revenue over existing law.

The President, in his message to Congress, January 3rd, on taxes, in part said:

"First, the total sum to be derived by the Federal Treasury must not be decreased as a result of any changes in schedules. Second, abuses by individuals or corporations designed to escape taxpaying by using various methods of doing business, corporate and otherwise,—abuses we have sought with great effort to end—must not be restored. Third, we should rightly maintain provisions which have proven to work definitely and especially on the small men of the nation, that active income should be favored over earned income.

The Naval Authorization

The House will begin consideration Monday of the naval authorization bill, which is estimated will increase the figures for the naval building program nearly one billion dollars. The bill already fared better in the administration than any legislation in the history of the government. Our expenditures averaged well above $1,000,000,000 a year for the Navy. The bill already authorized a 20 per cent building the Navy to full strength, which is the responsible for this enormous sum. To increase these figures more than 20 per cent in the next five or six years will require a great deal of courage. The taxpayers and a large majority of both Houses are undoubtedly out of harmony with the past nine years. If we are for the defense of America, it must be done. If we are for our Navy to assist in policing the world, we believe it should not be scrapped. The bill will be debated this week and until the Senate debate is out this week the bill and will continue subject until disposed of.

Good progress is being made on the different appropriation bills pending in the House, and it now seems probable that the major appropriation bills will be finally passed by the House by April 1st.

All right, Leon, where did I see you and Bonnie Lee Sunday?

Why does Charles' thoughts wander when he looks at Marjorie? Does she look like Annie Marie?

Well! Well! We wonder what the rumor is that has risen about Virginia and a medium size red hair boy named Claude—Every one in the study hall heard him when he gave his call to take her somewhere about 7:00 o'clock Friday night. Really we do wonder if it was Claude or someone else?

Connie asked George where Dick was. George said, "Who is taking care of you; me or Dick?"

Norman is getting thick with a Polar Bear. He dates her out at night and gets a letter at noon the next day.

As we came up to the party last night at Wighams Charles, he could hardly wait until Vivian Marten came. He fairly had a good time with her.

Well, if Willie Meek wants to continue his courtship with Georgia Mae, he had better take tennis lessons. Johnnie plays good tennis.

Virginia and Trevelyn can't fool us. They don't have any Wichita beaux.

Mr. Matthews had very little trouble getting Virginia to enter debate when she found out that George was entering too. Do they have fun?

It looks serious and peculiar too, Barbara Lee Ferguson is beating Ima Gene's time as well as her sister's too. Some ride was it not?

Miss Curtis, does he have to come to Clara to play ping-pong? You're improving.

Frances we all know you took Raymond off and told him that you hadn't a way to come to P.-T. A. Don't deny that.

What gave Connie the idea that George could do the Big Apple?

Laverne, there's no fun in writing love letters during study periods, is there, or isn't there?

Miss Gibson, I surely do enjoy going to dinners, don't you?

Lena, tell him not to hold your hand so tight next time. Did it hurt?

Interscholastic News

The tennis try-outs are now being held, and at the present, the senior singles and senior doubles girls have played. Georgia Mae Lamb will play the singles and Lena Haynie and Barbara Haynie will play the doubles. The junior girls have not yet finished the try-outs. In the boys, E. H. Haynie will play junior singles, Oscar Goetze and Dick Grozier the junior doubles. The senior boys are still battling for the championship. The debaters and declaimers will have their try-outs Tuesday night, and the winners will be announced next week. The actors are still acting, and the spellers are spelling with high hopes of carrying off ribbons.

Barbara Haynie and Johnnie Pounds will represent the school in extemporaneous speech. Other League activities have not as yet held their eliminations, but as soon as the winners are known, their names will be given.

First and Second Grades

We are very glad to have Bertie Sue Wetzel back in school again. She has been in Bellevue for the last six weeks. Our goldfish are going to have a new bowl this week. The Story Club will meet Wednesday of this week.

Third and Fourth Grades

This is to be a very busy week for us. We are to be in an assembly program Friday, and we want it to be a good one.

We are making plans to see the show "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," when it comes to the Majestic theatre in Wichita Falls. We have a saving bank and have been saving money for the past six weeks to help pay our way.

TENNIS

By Polk Robison

No, tennis is not a game for girls only. It can be played by girls, yes, so can football, baseball, and basketball be played by girls. Often the game of tennis has been referred to as a feminine game by those unfamiliar with the game. Certainly those that have made such accusations have never played the game, nor observed good tennis very closely. Such a person should try playing a match against some competent player. Such a match would be convincing to such a person.

The game of tennis is one of the oldest of all games. As with all games, the rules governing the game have been altered thruout the years. Tennis is referred to as "The Royal Game," because it was first played by royalty. It was introduced in the United States about a century ago and today it is played by thousands in every civilized country. With the exception of basketball, more people participate in tennis than in any other one game.

Tennis is a game that may be played both by young and old. To play the game well, one must acquire the ability to think and act quickly. Proper footwork and form are essential. Speed and endurance are very necessary in perfecting one's playing ability. Study and consistent practice are imperative, if one wishes to perfect his playing ability.

During the past two years a great deal of interest has been taken in tennis at Burkburnett High School. This has largely been due to the fact that two new concrete tennis courts have been constructed on the school campus. These two courts are not nearly adequate for the large number of high school students alone, who would like to play the game. There should be several well built tennis courts over the town. All children have so much leisure time. The proper use of this leisure time is a problem. Give the children places to play and certainly they will play. Play is essential to a child's development. The construction of several more tennis courts over the town would certainly help to give idle children something clean and wholesome to do instead of loafing on the streets. "An idle brain is the devil's workshop." That continues to be a true axiom.

In learning to play tennis the boy or girl learns to play a game that con not only be played during school age, but a game that may satiate his or her hunger for play and physical activity thruout most of life.

About thirty boys have been working out for tennis during the past few weeks. Some of these have continued their practice of the game throughout the year. Only six of these boys compose the high school tennis team, that will represent the school at the county meet. Probably a ward school team will also be entered. A senior singles and junior singles player and a senior doubles and junior doubles team will represent Burkburnett at Electra Saturday. This team has made a clean sweep of the two matches played and should bring back some blue ribbons from Electra.

The Intermediate girls of the Methodist Sunday School met at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Judd Exley, last Thursday evening for a tacky party. After 15 minutes of mutual admiration, the girls engaged in a story of an Automobile Romance. Five tables of "Cootie" were started and several games of "Bingo" were played. A general sing-song was held for an hour, with Jack Exley, son of the hostess, accompanying the girls at the piano. Everyone was then ready for refreshments of cookies, candy and pop. Those enjoying the lovely party were: Mary Blackstone, Mary Jane Patterson, Josephine Utts, Jean Wills, Peggy Jean Kemp, Dorothy Maben, Joy McFarlane, Colleen Mattingly, Bobby Joe Thompson, Mildred Wright, Ann Danforth, Frances Brady, Clara Mae Parker, Ruby Nell Russell, Bula Miller, Wanda Lou Gragg, Doris Mae Wolfe, Betty Jo Smith, Maggie Bruse, Juanita Arrington and Fordia Outzts.

The girls are planning a hike soon. Mrs. Exley urges all girls of intermediate age to join this class and take part in their activities.

If you can find time to grumble it is because you aren't keeping very busy.

Think!

YOUR home, furnishings, automobile and other possessions are valuable. They should be insured . . . not only against fire but every hazard that threatens. But think before you choose the type of insurance. There is a difference.

Consider this: 4 out of 5 property owners choose Capital Stock Company Fire Insurance because it provides definite protection at a known cost . . . because it is backed by financial surplus and capital stock as well as legal reserves . . . because it maintains local Agents for quick, courteous service when you're in trouble.

That's the kind of insurance YOU want! That's the kind of insurance WE supply.
