The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

IT WAS GOOD entertainment put at the Community Gym last Saturday night when the Cisco Lions Club presented the first professional wrestling show staged in Cisco in many years. The performers put plenty of action into their matches. It was a lot of fun and everybody enjoyed cheering and booing.

MR. W. P. Knight, the American Legion adjutant, is a winner again. A telegram arrived yesterday to tell him that he has won a portable radio and a chance for the jackpot in Radio Station WFAA's "I Like Radio" contest. It will be announced on the Early Bird Show on Thursday morning.

ATTRACTIVE Miss Bobby Reynolds of Cisco is a majorette over Abilene's ACC. The band recently decided to have two girl majorettes for the first time in the school's history. So a faculty committee was appointed to select the two girls. After the committee studied the situation, one of the girls selected was Miss Reynolds, a sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Reynolds of Cisco.

UP AT TEXAS State College for Women at Denton, Miss Mary Scott of Cisco was "written up" in the school paper last week. The story about her was as follows:

"Mary Scott, Cisco, came to TSCW because of its reputation for occupational therapy work. Mary, who is 18, preferred typing and civics at Cisco High School, and was active in the band and as a cheer leader. She was also class representative to the student council in her senior year and worked on the staff of the annual 'The Lobo'."

Miss Scott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott of Cisco.

SEVERAL MORE Press paper boys have claimed their reward of $1 for making honor roll grades at school the first six weeks, including Alpha Elder, and Dwaine Crowder. A goodly number of American Legion and Auxiliary members attended the convention in Eastland Saturday and Sunday.

ACCORDING TO our birthday calendar, a number of Ciscoans will be celebrating this week, including Mrs. H. M. Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Elder (the same day - Oct. 23), Vicki Mosley, Patricia Fuston, Ralph Glenn, J. W. Slaughter, Mrs. Lewis Lee, Edessa Pingree, Mrs. A. G. Sander and Mrs. D. J. Smelley.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE if you want to say "Happy Birthday" to Dr. W. P. Lee, pioneer Cisco physician. He was 92 years old last Sunday, and he went to Colorado City to spend the day with his son, Fielding Lee, and family.

Back in Cisco, Dr. Lee's fellow members at the First Presbyterian Church gathered at the church Monday night to give him a birthday party. It was a wonderful party with a huge cake. Dr. Lee, who has been an elder of the church since Nov., 1894, was invited to say a few words. His talk was recorded by a recording machine and was later played back for him to hear.

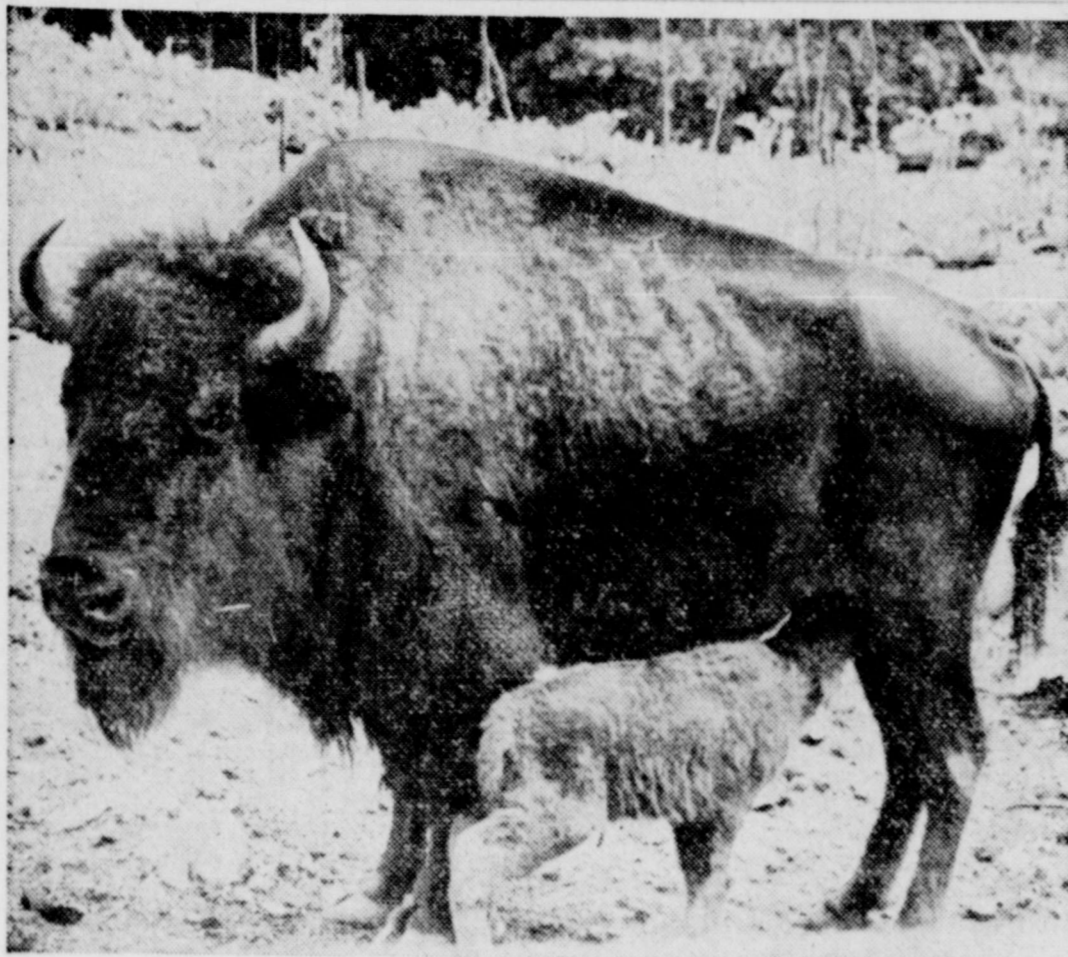

The church gave a lovely present and a good crowd enjoyed the occasion. It was a fine tribute to a grand gentleman.

OUR SCOUTS report that Mr. and Mrs. Harve Woodriddle of 305 West 8th Street will observe their 59th wedding anniversary on Oct. 31. . . . There are some pear trees in bloom up at the Gid Bowers home at 810 West 12th Street. . . . Remodeling work is underway at the home of Mrs. Charles Kleiner on West 14th Street. . . . They're getting ready for the annual Hallowe'en carnival at the West Ward School on Saturday night.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Miss Janet Ferguson of Austin underwent an emergency appendectomy at the Seton Hospital in Austin Monday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ferguson, of Cisco, were in Dallas attending the Spring Market at the time and left immediately for Austin. Miss Ferguson is in room 222. Her condition was reported as satisfactory.

CHOW TIME—A baby buffalo in a zoo in Kansas City, Kans., is only a few days old, but it knows where its next meal is coming from. Here, it's sheltered by mother buffalo, or bison, as the always-hungry offspring takes time out for a bit of lunch.

Stamps - Baxter Quartet To Sing At City Jamboree

The feature entertainers at the Cisco Jamboree scheduled for Saturday night, October 31, at the high school auditorium, will be the Stamps-Baxter Quartet of Dallas, famous radio and recording artists.

The Jamboree has been moved from the city hall auditorium to the high school in order to take care of the steadily growing crowds, it was announced.

Other entertainers will be the Kendrick Quartet of Cisco, Drucilla Townsend, Cisco girl who is a western song artist, the Aloha Trio, players of Hawaiian music, Shorty Kendrick and his Hiwaini steel guitar, and many others.

The Cisco Jamboree was originated in February and has enjoyed steady growth in popularity. It is sponsored by the Cisco Fire Department as a means of raising funds for their work here. The Jamboree features gospel songs, western songs, popular songs and spirituals as well as music of the same variety. Spoken for the fire department said that the cleanliness of the show was the principal factor in its growing popularity.

Admission prices for the two hour show have been set at 60 cents for adults and 35 cents for children. J. H. Kendrick is the producer and works with the fire department on the arrangements.

CAPACITY CROWD TURNS OUT FOR WRESTLING MATCHES SATURDAY

The community gym was filled to capacity Saturday night for the first of a monthly series of wrestling matches sponsored by the Cisco Lions Club which will bring to Cisco some of the top wrestlers in the profession.

In the matches Saturday night the first event featuring Leopard Boy of South Africa vs. Mexican Joe of Mexico City ended in a draw. Leopard Boy won the first fall and Mexican Joe took the second. The third fall ended when the time limit ran out without either performer pinning his opponent.

Nature Boy won a best two out of three fall event over Pedro Martinez in the second match of the evening. Nature Boy took the first and third falls while Martinez pinned the long haired wrestler's shoulders to the mat for the count in the second fall. The match was a rough and tumble affair which kept the fans in an uproar.

Frost Not Likely To Damage Crops

A heavy rain late Sunday added a foot of water to Lake Cisco to bring the lake to the highest level in recent months. Figures show that the lake had gained almost eight feet in the past year and that the situation was more encouraging than it had been for the past two years.

Lake Bernie also caught its share of water and lacked approximately a foot of running over the spillway.

The fall Sunday afternoon and night measured approximately 1.25 inches at the city hall and over two inches at Lake Cisco. The fall was heavier in West Cisco but lighter in East Cisco, it was reported.

The first frost of the season was evident Tuesday morning, but it was thought that it did little damage because of the wetness of the ground. The first frost was about a week earlier than last year.

The norther which was ushered in by rain Sunday dropped the temperature to 43 degrees Tuesday morning and held it to a high of 57 degrees Monday. It was expected to climb higher Tuesday.

The Sunday rain brought the total for the month to almost six inches and the total for the year to 23.13 inches. The total for the corresponding time in 1952 was 15.53 inches and in 1951 14.23. The total for the 12 months of 1952 was 19.60 and for 1951 was 17.23.

The total rainfall this year lacked less than an inch measuring up to the normal precipitation figured on averages for the past 30 years. Normal for the first 10 months is 24.03 and normal for the year is 27.51 inches.

THE BUSINESS CLIMATE

WASHINGTON — Is the business boom heading for rough seas? Some economic weathermen say so. Their barometers are the stock market decline, the decrease in sales of scrap steel, shrinkage of the money supply, the absence of a backlog of consumer demand, and a number of other factors which seem to indicate the boom is aging.

These are the kind of barometers the experts see. But most of us are affected by another kind of barometer which is a bit harder to describe. You might call it a state of mind which causes people to say: "Don't buy now" or "Don't invest now, wait 'till things get better."

If this psychological barometer becomes too depressed, those affected may become "prophets of pessimism," as Benjamin F. Fairless, Chairman of United States Steel Corp., said the other day in Detroit. He warned against "predicting ourselves into a depression."

Actually, says the Economic Research Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, there are a lot of favorable factors in our economy.

Employment is at an all-time peak. So are sales and business income. The national income, too, is rising. During the last year national income increased $15 billion, of which employees got 18.5 billion. That is a marvelous "trickle-downward." Next year, there will be several federal tax reductions, including a 10 per cent cut in personal income taxes beginning January 1. People are already planning how they are going to spend that extra ten per cent.

Meanwhile, new products are being developed very rapidly (color television and room air-conditioners are examples), and population is growing at a phenomenal rate. If the same rate continues, we will add 26 million people to our population during the current decade as against nine million in the '30's and 19 million in the '40's. This new population, of course, means new markets.

So despite pessimism, there is much justification for optimism. A soundly built ship may be rocked by rough seas, but it doesn't sink.

MUSIC ON A GRAND SCALE—Ten hands cover the keyboard of one of the pianos heard at a Carnegie Hall concert in New York. Thirty-four noted pianists took part in the musical event, five of whom are shown here. The audience was assured of lots of piano playing.

UNHAPPY REFLECTION—Six-year-old Pamela Ansaldi couldn't wait to get to that mirror in New York. She's inspecting the result of a new hair-do, with curlers all over her head.

GOOD AUDIENCE—Composer Harold Arlen has obviously just told famed singing-actress Ethel Waters a good joke in New York. They were among a galaxy of theatrical personalities attending a fete for a new radio show. Long a leading figure of the American stage, Miss Waters is about to begin a nation-wide tour with her own one-woman show.

A SKY FULL—One hundred F-86 Sabrejets—the largest formation of jet fighters ever assembled—pass in review over Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada for outgoing commander Col. John R. Ulrichson. The fly-over was a training mission, simulating a combat maximum effort to put all available planes in the air. Actually, the jets would be scrambled in event of an enemy attack.

Vet Questions And Answers

Q — My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently. As long as he lived, he never had any kind of disability. Would I be entitled to a VA death pension, since my yearly income is less than $1,400?

A — No. The law requires that a World War II veteran must have been entitled to disability compensation, pension or retirement pay at the time of his death. Or, if he served 90 days or more, he must have had a definitely ascertainable service-connected disability when he died.

Q — I am now on active duty, and I am covered by a free $10,000 indemnity. If anything happens to me, would it be possible for my family to collect the $10,000 in a lump sum?

A — It would not be possible for your beneficiaries to receive a lump sum payment. Under the law, payments are to be made in 120 equal monthly installments of $9.29 per $1000 of indemnity.

Q — I've been in service since 1941, and I expect to be discharged in the near future. Would I be allowed to train under the World War II GI Bill, even though the cut-off date passed in 1951?

A — Yes. The July 25, 1951, cut-off date applied only to veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. You would be permitted to start training under the World War II GI Bill, but you should keep in mind that the program ends for nearly all veterans on July 25, 1956.

Q — I am planning to take an on-the-job training course under the Korean GI Bill. I understand the law contains a $310-a-month ceiling for job trainees. Does that mean my employer may not pay me more than $310 a month?

A — There is no limit to the amount of money your employer may pay you, while you are taking job training under the Korean GI Bill. However, if your training wages plus your GI allowance exceed $310 a month, VA must scale down the GI allowance accordingly, under the law.

Q — I trained for 48 months under the World War II GI Bill, and then I went back on active duty. Am I eligible for additional training under the Korean GI Bill, now that I've been released from service?

A — No. Under the law, veterans with 48 months of training under the World War II GI Bill may not be eligible for additional training under the new Korean GI Bill. Those with less than 48 months of World War II training, however, may be entitled to training under the new law.

All-Americans

Anytime is the time for a pretty girl, and a pretty girl and a seasonal favorite make a wonderful combination. She's Mamie Van Doren, Hollywood star who has been chosen as the "All-American Waitress" by the National Restaurant Association. One thing all the approaching holidays — Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas — have in common is good food. And this is the season when dessert comes into its own. From the many delicious items offered by the baker — cakes, doughnuts, pies and pastries — the blonde discovery has chosen an old favorite, pumpkin pie, as the All-American dessert.

FOR BOYS—Nylon does the trick in this cardigan with the cashmere feel. Light in weight and warm, the comfortable garment by Matey is washable, long-wearing, and attractive as well as practical. The small crest adds just a wee touch of color to please a small lad.

"AFTER FIVE" FASHIONS

JEWELLED FROSTING for star studded nights... these Fall dresses separates from the collection of designer Stephanie Koret of California. Cashmere-like wool jersey cardigan is studded with scintillating mock pearls and gold tracing. Matching skirt is permanently pleated to give the illusion of slenderness. Surprise of surprises... they're washable!

HOLDING THINGS UP—In Chicago, young Darit Lindgren went to a nearby market and threatened an employe with toy guns in hopes of being given one of those golden pumpkins. With Halloween close by, kids everywhere will be challenging neighbors in similar fashion, with or without the sort of guns Darit carries when he's on a foraging expedition.

Whooping Cranes Due At Aransas

AUSTWELL, Oct. 27. — The stage is being set for one of Nature's exciting events over on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, according to Julian Howard, Refuge manager.

The stars in this featured spectacle are the giant Whooping Cranes which summer in the far north and then return south in October to winter on the Refuge.

Supernumeraries in the great outdoor classic are the myriad waterfowl, shore birds and songsters which likewise seek winter sanctuary in the ancestral wintering grounds of the Whoopers.

Preliminary to the annual fall rendezvous of the assorted winged species, some birds which summer on the famed Black Peninsula have departed for wintering areas farther south. Conspicuous among these are the lurid Roseate Spoonbills.

But the main attraction are the majestic Whooping Cranes which by last winter's count, number only twenty-one. Howard's staff shortly will begin a rigid vigil to check the whoopers back in. Meanwhile, the word has gone out to hunters everywhere to help them along to a safe voyage by NOT shooting at any large white birds.

Students At TCU Mostly Baptists

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. — Students of 36 Christian denominations and other religions are enrolled in Texas Christian University this fall, according to the compilation released this week by the registrar's office.

As they have for many years, students of the Baptist and Methodist denominations outnumber those of the Deciples of Christ (Christian Church) on the campus. This year there are 1,025 Baptists, 779 Methodists and 707 Christians.

The others in order are: Presbyterian 257; Catholic 213; Church of Christ 201; Episcopal 155; "Protestant" 118; Lutheran 79; Christian Congregational 33; Assembly of God 17; Mormon 10. Students listing "none" total 158. Non-Christian religions listed were Hebrew 6, Jewish 18, Buddhist 1, Moslem Druse 1.

Others with less than 10 students included: Odventist, Community, Congregational, Evangelical, Foursquare, Nazarene, Pentecostal, Union United Brethren, Unitarian, Church of England, Church of God, Methodist Episcopal, Evangelical Reform, Gospel Hall, Jehovah's Witnesses, Peoples Church, Unity.

Hens Lay Eggs In Variety Of Colors

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 27. — For several centuries at least, mothers have wistfully wondered during the Easter season, why a hen couldn't be found which laid eggs already colored.

Such a hen has been found. In fact, a whole breed of chicken which lays such eggs now exists. Several chickens derived from this breed are at Texas A. and M. College, where they are subjects of scientific research.

So far as is known, the chickens which lay blue eggs are natural mutations of South American origin. Their eggs were obtained from a Cornell University researcher so they could be used in a different research problem.

However, the blue and green eggs which the hens lay are of little interest to the Texas researchers as anything but curiosities.

The chickens are being used in genetic research on blood-groups under direction of Dr. W. E. Briles, poultry geneticist with the Poultry Husbandry Department of the college.

Dr. Briles' research uses another characteristic found in many of the Easter-egg-laying hens — their naked necks. For some of the hens which lay the colored eggs have no feathers whatever on their necks, and this lack is noticeable earlier in the life of the chicken than the fact that its eggs will be colored.

Both characteristics are inherited, and it is here that Dr. Briles centers his study. All inherited characteristics depend upon the action of "genes," which are handed down from parents to their off-spring.

George Washington never did occupy the White House.

A&P Celebrating 94th Anniversary During October

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Ralph W. Burger, president of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, has urged the nation's food industry to strive for greater efficiency in its operations in order to further narrow the spread between farm and retail prices. In a statement concerning a month-long celebration of the nation's oldest food chain's 94th anniversary, Mr. Burger cautioned the industry against wasteful practices that might tend to increase the cost of food to consumers or reduce returns to producers. "The entire food industry, from producer to distributor, has given the American people the highest standard of eating in the world today," Mr. Burger said. "The average family in this country has a better and more varied diet and spends a smaller percentage of its income on food than do the residents of any other country. But if we are to remain the best-fed nation, we must continue to seek new and better ways of producing and distributing food." Mr. Burger cited three major areas in which the industry should seek improved performance: 1. Narrow the spread between farm and retail prices. 2. Reduce waste and spoilage of food. 3. Avoid both merchandising practices and types of merchandise that will reduce efficiency and increase operating costs. "In the past 94 years the food industry has made great progress in shortening the route between farm and dinner-table," Mr. Burger said. "This has been beneficial to consumers because it has given them more food for their money, and it has helped producers by giving them a larger share of the consumer's food dollar." Mr. Burger said that modern refrigeration, improved storage, transportation and handling operations in recent years have resulted in a substantial reduction in the waste and spoilage of food, but that this was still one of the most challenging problems for the entire food industry. "The government estimates that as much as one-fifth of some crops grown in this country are lost through spoilage on the farm, in transit, or in the home," he said.
