Commissioners Against Park And Jail Bonds

All four members of the Scurry County commissioners' court went on record this morning as being opposed to the county park and courthouse annex bond issues on which Scurry County property owners will vote Saturday.

In an open letter to the people of Scurry County, the commissioners stated their views and opposition to the bond issues. Edgar Taylor, county judge, who is now out of the county on official business, has given steady support to both the bond issues.

STATEMENT

The statement made by the commissioners follows:

As commissioners of Scurry County, we wish to make the following statement in regard to the approximately one and three-fourths million dollar bond issues to be voted on Saturday, Aug. 18, concerning two county parks and an addition to the county courthouse.

We have not been able to find any county with our population that has nearly as large a park as the proposed 300 acres which cost $950,000 to develop. We believe that this size project is far beyond our needs. The statement being circulated that our oil valuations will pay 90 per cent of this bond is true at the present time, but as this oil is depleted the valuation will decrease accordingly. A bond issue is a mortgage against your property, and should the oil field be depleted before this indebtedness is paid, your real estate will have to stand good because the debt must be paid. DO NOT BE DECEIVED: You, as a property owner and taypayer, will pay your share of any tax, large or small.

Should the oil valuation remain substantial until the bonded indebtedness is paid, we feel that the maintenance cost for 300 acres of park land would be so great that the people of Scurry County could not bear them.

We highly endorse a county park because we feel that any community needs recreational facilities that a park could provide; but we believe 30 or 40 acres, well developed, would be adequate. A park of this size would cost about $300,000 and could be maintained after our oil is gone without creating a financial burden on any taxpayer.

We also believe that our present courthouse, with a few minor changes, will be large enough for our needs. We realize and heartily agree that we need a new jail house, but contend that it should not be annexed to the courthouse. The estimated cost of a jail built separately from the courthouse is approximately $200,000.

Therefore, we believe that approximately $500,000 will do the job adequately, on a smaller scale, compared to the proposed one and three quarter million dollars involved in the bond issue, and at the same time leave our county in healthy financial condition for the years to come.

In the event the bonds are voted, there is a possibility of selling the bonds for the courthouse. The bonds for a park cannot be sold until after the national emergency is over.

However, we would like to stress that we, as your commissioners, are anxious to do what the majority of the people want done. The only way we can know your desires is for you to come out and vote on this very important issue. We hope that every qualified voter casts a ballot in this election.

Regardless of how you vote, be sure and vote.

Sincerely,
Commissioners of Scurry County
W. H. Grant

DANGER FROM OPTIMISM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Senator Hill (D-Ala) has warned the Senate there is "great danger" Russia might become overoptimistic and launch a surprise atomic attack on America.

This warning was pointed up by Senate information that Russia has out-stripped the United States in pilots and planes and has a 20,000-plane air force and a 4,000,000-man ground force.

These estimates were contained in a staff memo covering highlights of recent conferences in Paris between a nine-member Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee and Gen. Eisenhower and members of his staff.

Harriman Asks Moderation In Oil Settlement

TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 14. (AP)—U. S. trouble-shooter W. Averell Harriman called on Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi today to appeal for continued moderation in the critical British-Iranian oil talks.

While President Truman's special envoy met Iran's ruler, Premier Mohammed Mossadegh called the cabinet into special session to discuss the latest British offer to settle the oil nationalization dispute.

Neither the British nor the Iranians would disclose the specific details of the offer, presented Monday night by chief British negotiator Richard Stokes.

But informed sources said Mossadegh's first reaction was coolness toward the British proposal for joint operation of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's wells and refineries, which Iran nationalized last spring.

Stokes did reveal that Britain had offered a guarantee against any interference in Iranian affairs — a sore point on which extreme nationalists have based heated charges against Britain during her years of oil operations in this country.

It is believed Harriman appealed to the Shah to use his influence to keep the talks from breaking down over the delecate point as to whether British oil experts should continue to operate the installations under the new Iranian National Oil Company.

Britain has renewed her offer to turn over all assets of the British-owned AIOC to the Mossadegh government and to abolsih AIOC as such in this country.

Stokes had indicated that he would agree to Iranian participation in a new nationalized company, but that British technicians would insist on working under British management. Iran — woefully short of technicians — could not keep the complex operation going without highly-skilled foreign help.

The Iranians turned down this same general offer after only 20 minutes of negotiating last June. That deadlock led to the closing of the world's biggest refineries at Abadan, Iran's Persian Gulf oil port.

Former Snyder Man Is Crushed by Trailer

WINNSBORO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Joe English, 28, was crushed to death near here Monday by a two-wheel trailer he was uncoupling from a truck.

He recently returned to Winnsboro from the Snyder oil fields.

Bigger Water Bills Draw Many Protests

Numerous complaints about the size of city water bills have been received in the last two days at the city hall.

"But we've had similar complaints every summer since I've been working here," commented W. J. Ramsey, city superintendent.

Ramsey said the average person doesn't realize how much more water he is using during the hottest part of summer, and is surprised when he gets a water bill far in excess of an average months consumption.

"In every case, we are happy to check the meter readings with the person who believes a mistake has been made," Ramsey said. "We can make mistakes, and want to correct any we find.

"Yesterday we reread three meters, then pulled each meter out and checked it against a new one here at the city hall. In all three cases, the meters showed they were recording consumption correctly. We will do this for any customer who believes his meter is inaccurate or is incorrectly read."

Peak consumption is usually in July and August. Then, when summer is at its hottest, air conditioners run longer, and in normal times more is used on lawns and flowers than at any other season.

The water bills mailed last Saturday are for the month of July, and reflect probably the peak consumption of the whole year, Ramsey stated.

Oil Agreement Made In Iraq

BAGHDAD, Aug. 14. (AP) — Iraq has reached a new 50-50 oil agreement with American, British, French and Dutch interests which share jointly in exploiting this country's rich oil resources.

The agreement — retroactive to Jan. 1, 1951 — will give the Iraq government half the profits.

Iraq's oil royalties for 1951 are expected to be about $42 million, rising to $165 million in 1955.

The agreement was made between the Iraq government and the Iraq Petroleum, Basrah Oil and Mosul Oil Companies.

The Iraq Petroleum and Mosul Oil Companies agree to produce a minimum of 22 million tons of crude oil annually in 1954 and thereafter, and the Basrah Oil Company agrees to produce a minimum 8 millions tons annually in 1951 and thereafter.

The companies will supply the government refinery with crude oil necessary for local consumption at 77 cents per ton.

No Progress in Truce; Allies Talk of Fighting

Telco Workers Return After 'Heat' Strike

DALLAS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Telephone operations in Dallas were back to normal today after a one-day strike for air-conditioned work places.

A. M. Allen, toll district traffic superintendent, said workers were back on the job at 7 a.m.

"Everything seems normal this morning," he said, "and it looks like they are all coming back."

Some 1,500 workers struck Monday.

T. E. Webb, Texas director of the CIO Communications Workers of America, said the strike was unauthorized.

Webb said plans are being made to resume talks with the company regarding lack of air conditioning, a condition which the union says precipitated the walkout.

A formal grievance was filed on this situation two weeks ago, and the last meeting was held on it Wednesday," he said. "Talks will be resumed by Friday."

Emergency long distance calls were handled by supervisory personnel.

The union claimed that measures taken by the company to cope with the heat were inadequate. Tubs of ice had been placed near switchboards, with fans blowing across the ice.

The company said the heat has been uncomfortable for "people in all walks of life," and that buildings were well-ventilated.

Company officials called the walkout a violation of a contract entered into with the union on June 3 when the company granted 10 per cent wage increases."

The officials said that several girls left their posts last week because they felt faint but they said none had fainted.

Last week 225 workers in Houston left their jobs demanding air conditioning. They returned when the telephone company agreed to call in experts.

School Budget Hearing

A hearing on the public school budget will be held by the school board tonight. The meeting is to start at 7:30 and will be held in the office of M. E. Stanfield, superintendent of schools.

Biggest Military Program Is Passed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The House authorized today the largest single military construction program ever presented to Congress in war or peace. It calls for spending $5,768,720,000.

The major portion, $3,480,661,000 is allotted the Air Force and will be used to strengthen its bases in this country in the territories and overseas.

The sum of $1,368,025,000 is earmarked for Army construction and $786,267,000 for the Navy. About $133,766,000 is for joint projects and for construction of recreational and welfare facilities at bases.

The bill simply authorizes the program. Actual funds will have to be supplied later. The military services are asking $4.6 billion to get the work started.

This is in addition to the $56 billion military appropriations measure for 1952 passed by the House last week.

The House passed the authorization measure after rejecting an attempt to strike out of the bill a $19,019,000 project for expansion of the Grandview, Mo., air base in President Truman's home county. That action came on a voice vote.

Rep. Gross (R-Ia) had sought to knock out the Grandview project on the grounds that it was an "extravagance." He contended the Air Force could use a nearby field at Sedalia, Mo.

Watering Rule Is Changed To Include Lawns

Success of the city's anti-watering ordinance has made it possible to relax the rules slightly to permit watering of lawns during the four hours allowed for watering each week.

W. J. Ramsey, city superintendent, said today that the emergency and the anti-watering ordinance still were in effect, but that increased storage and the addition of a new well to the city system made it possible to permit lawn sprinkling during regular weekly watering hours.

Previously, watering of shurbs, flowers, and trees only was permitted during the four hours weekly.

That was the only change made in the watering rules.

"We feel that the ordinance has been a success, because the city has never been critically short of water since it was passed, and it has made this relaxation of the rules possible," Ramsey said.

Under the ordinance watering is legal from 6 to 8 in the mornings and 6 to 8 at night on the days specified for the different sections of town.

They are : Tuesday — north of Twenty-fifth Street.

Wednesday — Twenty - fifth to Thirtieth Streets.

Thursday — south of the Thirtieth Street and east of the Big Spring highway.

And Friday — south of Thirtieth Street and west of the Big Spring highway.

Since the ordinance was passed a new 200 - gallon - per - minute well has been turned into the city's mains, and another well is now being drilled. Completion of the second well should be possible withing the next 10 days, Ramsey said.

The court also ordered that McGee be before Judge Daniel Blair and held in custody until the adjudication of the sanity issue.

McGee has been sentenced to die, Sept. 1, in the Lubbock slaying of grocery executive R. L. Allston.

Reds Attack As Navy, Air Arm Hit Back Again

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 14. (AP) — Red front line troops, which Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said have been materially strengthened during truce negotiations, felt out Allied positions in Central and Eastern Korea with small probing attacks, the Eighth Army announced today.

All were repulsed.

Powerful U.N. air and naval forces — belittled by Reds at cease-fire talks — smashed at Red reinforcement lines to check the build-up.

Warships led by the U.S. cruiser Toledo shelled bridges and railways as much as 230 miles north of the 38th Parallel. The Toledo and the Dutch destroyer Van Galen joined besieging warships Monday in a stepped-up bombardment of the Songjin-Chongjin area on the East Coast.

Air forces mounted 690 sorties in their incessant attack on highway transport. About 100 night flying planes attacked Red convoys on the road while Sabrejet fighters and B-29 bombers ripped up highways, bridges, railways and supply depots.

The Far East Air Force reported 280 trucks were hit on the moderately traveled highway.

But most Red trucks get through. As many as 2,000 have been reported sighted on the highways in a single night. Traffic has been substantially lighter in recent days.

Australian and American jets went hunting along MIG alley for Red jets in Northwest Korea but didn't find any.

U.N. ground troops bumped into Reds every time they moved.

Largest were on the East Coast near Kansong. Reds launched two attacks in this area in battalion strength. One was broken up by allied artillery. The other forced U.N. troops to withdraw.

Midnight Is Deadline On Absentee Voting

With the deadline for absentee voting in the park and jail bond election set for midnight tonight, only 15 ballots had been received in the office of Pat Johnson, county clerk, at noon.

Ballots received through the mail postmarked before midnight will be counted as regular absentee

Generals Say Army Ready For Attacks

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 14. (AP)—Kaesong armistice talks snagged today on an argument over the importance of Allied air and naval supremacy.

If cease-fire negotiations break down, the United Nations ground commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, said his troops are ready to "clobber" the Reds.

In Tokyo Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. N. supreme commander, said the Reds have been steadily building up and are in a materially better position to attack than they were when truce talks started July 10.

Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army, commented:

"The military feels we would like to have the opportunity to meet the Communists if they attack. It would be a real clobber.

"I don't know of a better way to get it over faster.

"The enemy is hurting. He is in bad shape. He needs peace."

Van Fleet's opinion of the ability of the Eight Army to meet a Red onslaught coincided with views expressed by Ridgway, when the top Allied commander told of the Red build-up.

NAM UNSHAKABLE

At Kaesong, just before negotiators adjourned until Wednesday, North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, top Red envoy, wound up Tuesday's two-hour and 40-minute session by announcing the Red demand for a truce on the old political boundary line is unshakable.

It was the demilitarized zone deadlock which generated the argument at Kaesong over U. N. air and navy might.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the U. N. delegation, told the Reds planpes and warships "are prosecuting a war behind your front lines which is not duplicated behind our lines."

A U. N. spokesman said this was a reply to a one-hour and 13-minute attack by General Nam attempting to "discredit the independent effectiveness of air and naval power which the U. N. command would relinquish in an armistice."

In one breath the North Korean Reds would run U. N. troops out of Korea except for Allied planes and warships.

The spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, who attended the session, said, Nam's speech was sprinkled with such words as "irresponsible," "belligerent," "abusive," and "ultimatum."

Nuckols said Joy, in a one-hour and six-minute reply, emphasized air and naval power in an effort to convince the Reds of the reasonabilessness of the U. N. proposals for a demilitarized zone along approximately the present battle lines.

Hearst Dies In 88th Year

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 14. (AP)—Publisher William Randolph Hearst died today at 9:50 a.m. PDT.

Death came only a day after the builder of a newspaper empire sank into a coma.

He had been in ill health for many years, but still kept an active interest in his many newspapers.

Hearst, 88, was attended at the death bed by his family.

Present were his sons, William Randolph Hearst Jr., Jr., George, John, David and Randolph Hearst.

Also present were Martin F. Huberth, chairman of the board of the Hearst Corporation, and Richard E. Berlin, president of the corporation.

Republicans Would Slash Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP) — A Republican-sponsored move to cut the $8.5 billion foreign aid program 15 per cent was opposed today by some Democrats who called it too drastic.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) told reporters he will push for an across-the-board slash in both military and economic aid funds when the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees resume work on the authorization measure. The measure now carries authorization for $6.3 billion military and $2.2 billion economic aid.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) put off any showdown until the House acts, possibly this week, on a similar bill from which its foreign affairs committee trimmed $651 million.

HOW MUCH CUT

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) told a reporter he thinks a 15 per cent cut which would mean a total reduction of $1,275,000,000, is "to much."

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) said he thinks a 10 per cent reduction in the original total "might not be far off."

He added he likes the idea of cutting military and economic aid in equal amounts, because he believes the economic aid will largely go into the building of European defense industries which can produce arms cheaper than they can be made in the United States.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he doesn't want to reduce the military outlay as much as the economic aid, but finds it difficult to separate the two.

CUT PREDICTED

The Iowan predicted that in the end the authorization will be "cut substantially." Senator Lodge (R-Mass) had moved to approve the full military total in the bill, but Knowland's motion was made as a substitute to his and will be voted on first.

Before the committees began work on the bill Monday, the foreign relations group approved a subcommittee report which suggested that $200 million in military and $200 million in economic aid be given to Spain.

The full committee deleted from the report sections criticizing the Franco regime. This action apparently took into account an assertion attributed to U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffis that unless American help is given, any additions to the Spanish Army can be equipped "only with broomsticks."

Price Stabilization Board Man Here Today

A member of the Fort Worth district office of price stabilization will be in Snyder to confer with any interested business men tonight.

He will be in the courthouse after 7 o'clock.

An Estimated 4,500 Americans Being Held As War Prisoners

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP) — Unofficial estimates indicated today that, of the 10,624 Americans officially listed as missing in action in Korea, as many as 4,500 probably are being held in Communist war prisoner camps.

This figure comes from Allied military sources which cannot be named but which are in as good position as anyone on the Allied side to know the score on this hush-hush matter.

The prisoners are said to be confined near Kanggye, deep inside North Korea about 20 air miles from the Manchurian frontier.

NUMBER UNKNOWN

The number of American and other U.N. prisoners never has been announced. Allied sources estimate the total number at approximately 10,000.

The Communist Peiping radio has carried over a period of months the names of approximately 1,000 Americans it has said were being held in Korea. The Red radio released the names a few at a time in propaganda broadcasts from January through early July. There have been numerous duplications.

Invariably the broadcasts, purporting to be messages written by the prisoners themselves, stressed that the men were being well treated.

Since the Kaesong military armistice conference opened July 10, and the question of troop withdrawals was deferred until a later conference at a higher level, the Red radio has made no further broadcasts of prisoner messages.

SOME WELL TREATED

A group of 18 Marines who escaped last April on the central front confirmed that prisoners were fed the same food as Communist troops and were given medical attention.

The apparent purpose for this good care was to weaken the resistance of hard-fighting Allied troops and make them surrender more easily.

Before releasing a group of men, the Communists require them to attend "school" eight hours a day for indoctrination courses on communism.

All prisoners attend school.

Allied sources are reticent on the effectiveness of these courses.

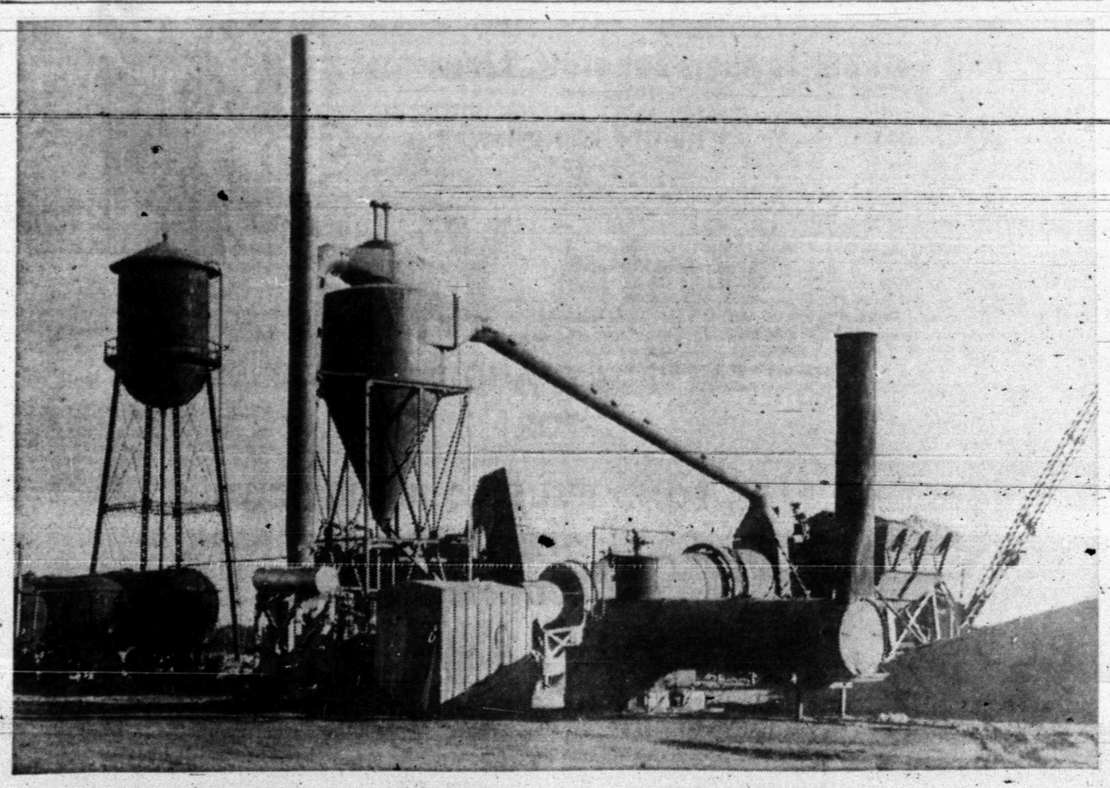

The technique of releasing indoctrinated prisoners is not new to the Chinese Red Army. During World War II it was tried against the Japanese and again during the civil war against the Nationalists.

The Allies have announced they hold 164,766 counted prisoners of war. Most of them are North Koreans.

Eye Witnesses Tell Of Plane Crash Killing At Least Eleven

SEATTLE, Aug. 14. (AP)—Charred, smoldering rubble and melted metal marked the pyre today where at least 11 persons were consumed in gasoline-fed flames spewed out from a crashed B-50 Air Force bomber.

Those who lived remembered the hot breath of death that swept through a hillside apartment house into which the medium bomber plunged Monday afternoon moments after taking off on a routine check-out flight.

Dozens of persons in Seattle's south end industrial section saw the doomed plane suddenly lose altitude from 700 feet up and veer off sharply to the right.

With its four engines churning at apparent full power, a wing dipped violently, the B-50 flicked against the side of a brewery, then plowed into the fame and brick Lester Apartments on the hill behind.

BURST INTO FLAMES

"The noise was so loud I thought it was a jet coming," recalled Fred Prout, who was below the residential hill. "Then I saw it, the wings at a 90-degree angle to the ground — straight up and down." In the next instant it struck and burst into flames.

Six of the dead were members of the plane's crew — three Air Force men and three flight analysts from the nearby Boeing Airplane Company, maker of the B-50. The other five known victims were dwellers in the 42-unit apartment house whose entire north end was destroyed.

Firemen probed the still-hot debris until midnight, searching for the remains of others who might have been trapped in the inferno touched off by the plane's 3,500 gallons of high test gasoline and 300 gallons of oil.

Twelve persons in the apartment building were painfully burned or injured in the impact of their escape from the lightning quick spread of the flames.

Three residents were unaccounted for today.

Seventy - six year old Peter Nelson, who occupied an upper apartment, said he ran through a fire-filled hall and heard screams coming from the unit occupied by Al Mason, one of the missing. Mrs. Mason's body was the 11th taken from the wreckage.

William Cain saved his wife by dropping her through a second-story window and then jumping after her. Mrs. Cain's hair was singed and she suffered multiple bruises.

One of the victims, Mrs. Evelyn Smith Macabeo, 25, was identified by her tearful husband from the wedding ring he placed on her finger two months ago.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

Several brewery workers saw the ill-fated bomber coming and dodged, fearful it would strike the plant. When it grazed by, they ran to give assistance.

What caused the bomber to crash is not known. Military and civilian investigators were to probe the wreckage today. The parent Boeing Company said the B-50 was one of many being modified at the Seattle plant. It took off from adjacent Boeing Field on a flight to check out military equipment recently installed. The company statement gave no indication what type of equipment was being tested.

Veterans Decide to Rebuild Clubhouse at Former Location

An almost unanimous vote to rebuild the American Legion - Veterans of Foreign Wars clubhouse at its present site was recorded at a joint meeting of the two clubs last night.

Hilton Lambert, member of the joint board of directors, presided over the meeting held in a small building constructed at the site of the old clubhouse last week.

Lambert told the group that there was on hand a little more than $30,000 to begin construction of a new club house to replace the $50,000 clubhouse destroyed by fire on July 29.

The club has over $1,000 cash on hand and $35,000 fire insurance money is due the club. Of this some $6,000 is owed to a Snyder bank and will be paid from the insurance money.

An open forum on what the veterans wanted in the new building was held. It was decided to have the plans include an auditorium large enough to accommodate district meetings; a stag room; rooms for the two auxiliaries of the two posts; a gable roof; washed air or evaporated type cooling system, and overhead forced hot air, powered with gas for heating. A cement floor was agreed upon.

Only the major specifications were discussed and the definite plans will be voted upon at the next joint meeting, set for next Monday night.

The following delegates will represent the American Legion at the state convention to be held at San Antonio Friday through Sunday: Lambert; George Killam, Jr., Jack Caperton, Claude Ingram, Miss Leah Davis, Junior Duke, and Richard Caldwell. They will depart Thursday night. The Snyder delegation will stay at the Plaza Hotel in San Antonio.

C. E. McGaw, lawyer and war veteran, explained the county park and jail bond election and what it would mean to Scurry County. He urged the members to support both bond issues at the polls Saturday.

Lambert reminded the joint group that Elmo Crowder, American Legion member and druggest, had announced his candicacy for city councilman in the special election set for Sept. 18. Lambert told the group that it was their duty as veterans to support Crowder.

Propose Bill To Give Reservists Notice

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The armed forces would be required to give reservists 30 days' advance notice of recall to active duty under a bill approved Monday by an armed services subcommittee in the house.

The only exception would be in cases where "military conditions as determined by the appropriate secretary do not permit."

It is the present policy of the services to give at least 30 days' notice to reserves before calling them to active service. The bill would write this policy into law.

Man Pleads Guilty To Charge of Possessing Intoxicating Liquor

Luther Tucker, 40, Negro, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, entered a plea of guilty in county court this morning and was fined $250 and assessed $23.50 costs by Robert R. Patterson, special judge.

His brother, James Tucker, 24, Negro, when arraigned on the same charges, entered a plea of not guilty, and his bond was set at $500 by Judge Patterson.

The pair were arrested by Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, last night. The sheriff said he confiscated 311 cans of beer, 38 pints of whisky, 11 quarts of wine and 8½ pints of gin from Luther, and 13 quarts of wine, and 26 cans of beer from James.

HIGHER PRICES

TROUT CREEK, N. Y., Aug. 14. (AP)—A school house which cost $500 to build in 1899 will be remodeled at a cost of 10,000.

Frank M. Clark of Oneonta, the contractor who built the frame school, recalls he paid two carpenters $1 a day, plus board, and worked them 18 hours a day. They finished the job in 20 days.

Catholics To Take Ex-Cadets In 3 Colleges

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Many of the 90 accused West Point cadets — who had been wondering where to go after leaving the Academy — were reported elated today over Francis Cardinal Spellman's announcement they could enroll in three Roman Catholic men's colleges.

Monday night the Cardinal, saying "to err is human, to forgive divine," opened the doors of the three schools in his archdiocese.

Many of the cadets involved in the cheating scandal — subject to the draft unless they continue their studies elsewhere—said they would give Cardinal Spellmen's offer "serious consideration."

One said, "The first good news we've had."

Another commented, "That man really has a heart."

Some cadets have said that colleges appear "afraid" to accept them. Many educators say it is not fear but merely routine policy on transfers.

The Cardinal's statement came as many of the 90 were preparing today to leave the Academy for their homes. They are accused of violating the West Point honor code by cheating on examinations.

The Cardinal asked the presidents of the three schools — Fordham University, Manhattan College and Iona College — "to accept any of these students who may apply to them for admission."

At West Point, an Army spokesman, commenting on Cardinal Spellman's action, said:

"We are glad such an opportunity is available to them."

Although many of the accused cadets were members of Army's football squad, Cardinal Spellman made no mention of athletics in his statement.

Fordham's president, The Very Rev. Laurence J. McGinley, S. J., said the school's policy denies varsity competition to transferred students who already have taken part in intercollegiate athletics.

Iona's president, The Very Rev. Brother Arthur W. Loftus, Fh. D., said Cardinal Spellman's announcement "takes in the views of the three college presidents." Iona, in New Rochelle, N. Y., enrolls some 1,300 students.

The president of Manhattan, The Very Rev. Brother Bonaventure Thomas, Ph. D., could not be reached for comment.

A Difference of Viewpoint

On page one of this issue, the county commissioners have stated their reasons for opposing both the county park and courthouse annex bond issues up for a vote next Saturday.

They believe the proposed park is too big, costs too much, and will be burdensome to maintain.

They state that they know of few counties with Scurry County's population which have such big and expensive parks.

But the issue as we see it is not merely to provide a 30 or 40 acre park for today's needs, but to prepare for the tremendous possibilities for growth which Snyder and Scurry County now have because of their oil resources.

To grow and to establish a permanent and perpetually prosperous economy, Scurry County must have new industry. Industry is attracted to a community which has these things: water, recreational facilities, good educational system, natural resources, and improvements which make it a pleasant place in which to live.

The natural resources are here, the water will be available from the Colorado River dam soon, and the educational system is being built as rapidly as possible.

But we still lack the recreational facilities, the paving, parks, hospitals, and libraries which everyone has come to expect in a modern community.

We are not voting Saturday to take care of today's inadequacies. We should be voting to build the kind of community which can compete in a few years for industry and new business.

Two years ago a different commissioners court of Scurry County undertook to prepare for today's needs. They spent $122,000 on renovation of a courthouse which has again become inadequate only two years after their action.

If it is the wish of the people of Snyder and Scurry County to return to the population and opportunities of 1947 after oil is depleted—be it 15 years from now or 40 years from now—one way to insure such return is to provide those who are now attracted to Scurry County by job opportunities with none of the facilities that make living in Scurry County pleasant.

That few other counties have parks as expensive and as big as this proposed park is possibly true. Is that any reason that for once Scurry County cannot have the BEST rather than an adequate substitute? There is NO county in West Texas with the tax support of Scurry County. To have something that no other county of similar size has is not unreasonable.

The issue is whether our oil boom will leave us a virtual ghost town like Ranger, or will be our stepping stone to a diversified, expanding economy as it has for Midland and Odessa.

It's a question of vision—the view of today's needs only, or the bigger prospects of tomorrow's growth.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By FRANCES BROOKS

The president of Hardin-Simmons University, Dr. Rupert Richardson, has just written another interesting manuscript, "Adventuring With A Purpose". It's the life story of Arthur Lee Wasson, who with his late wife donated more than $2 million to institutions run by the Southern Baptists.

"It never occured to the Wassons that they would not make money, even in days when they had very little,", Richardson writes. Long before their wealth was made they were giving thought to the question of disposing of it. Both active church members, they were determined to devote their money to the Christian cause through agencies which upheld the ideals of their belief"... A full - fledged cowhand at the age of nine, Wasson met head on the dangers and opportunities of early nineteenth century ranching.

"For him the cattle industry of later years has been a series of adventures. To make profits he had to take risks; to maintain his rights he had to exercise both restraint and courage. The oil industry, through which he added a large fortune to the modest one already made, stimulated anew his love of adventure." ... Prof. Richardson has found time to write much history of the southwest. "The Greater Southwest", "Texas, the Long Horn State", and many magazine articles.

"Calorie counting, like golf-score counting, sometimes allows a little leeway for fudging," admits the Texas Medical Association. Making it easier for those of us who have let the pounds steal up on us these frustratingly hot days, the medical association suggests the ideal day's diet. If you follow it, varying it sensibly with similar substitutions every day for a month, you will lose the proper weight, which should not be more than two pounds weekly.

Breakfast:
one-half grapefruit.
soft cooked egg
1 slice whole wheat bread
one-half square butter cup of coffee, 2 tablespoons cream (No sugar; saccharin if necessary)

Lunch: (or supper if served at night).
Thin slice cold ham
one-half cup green beans
5 or 6 stalks celery and carrots
2 halves canned pears
one-half pint milk

Dinner (served noon or night)
one cup broth
a small piece of roast beef
one-half cup mashed potatoes
one-half cup new cabbage one medium tomato
one-half pint milk
whole wheat slice, buttered medium orange sliced for dessert

There you have all your needs, and the size 14 can shrink in a beautifully short time to the desired size 12, the new fall silhouette gratifyingly slimmed down... Forego potatoes mainly, one-half cup daily being sufficient. Don't take cereals, use instead a whole wheat slice at each meal. No ham, turkey, veal, kidney, liver, nuts, no dried beans or peas; lean beef is o.k. as is chicken, lamb, sweetbreads, tongue, canned salmon or tuna without oil, and whitefish daily. Always get one egg daily. Avoid fatty meats—goose, pork, fish in oil.

Betty Co-ed Deaf to Tons Of Advice

By the Associated Press

The annual big push is on, to make real-live college girls look like they do in the movies.

Each year about this time, millions of words are poured forth on what the well-dressed girl will wear to college.

Fashion magazine staffs predict that this year's college girl will look neat and sweet, clad in plaid, piquant in pique or cute in corduroy. They exhort her to cultivate the "clean, shining American look," remind her that this is the year for feminity with a capital F, urge her to be a belle in bell skirts over crinolines.

Department stores open their college shops with displays of what their buyers think college girls should wear, against a background of pennants, footballs and classroom impediments.

For the rest of this month a disinterested observer might think the fate of the world hung on whether Betty College chooses the "little boy look," the "cleancut look" or the "shaggy dog look" for her 1951 college term.

All this effort on the part of magazine staffs and ad writers likely will be a study in futility.

For what Betty probably will wear this year is just what's she's been wearing on campus for lo, these many years — blue jeans, preferably patched, a frayed shirt or old sweat shirt discarded by father or brother, bulky socks and moccasins.

This is provided, of course, that Betty goes to a women's college.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Rogers of Snyder are the parents of a son, Michael Wayne, born Aug. 5 in a Big Spring hospital. The baby weighed eight pounds, five and one-half ounces at birth.

When we came back from our vacation I discovered that the butter I had in the refrigerator has an old taste. Is there any thing I can do to restore it to its natural taste? Mrs. S.C.

Please give me a recipe for liver loaf. Mrs. P.W.

1 ½ pounds liver, ½ cup tomatoes, 1 tablespoon diced onion, ½ green pepper diced, 1 ½ cup soft bread crumbs, 1 egg, 1 cup milk or tomatoes, 2 tablespoons melted fat, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper. To prepare, parboil liver for five minutes. Grind liver, onions, and green pepper in food chopper. Add milk, bread crumbs, beaten egg, tomatoes, fat and seasonings. Beat well and pour in greased baking dish. Bake 40 minutes in a modern oven. This recipe was published by Texas Technological College, Division of Home Economics.

... Could you tell me the best remedy for the control of cockroaches? Mrs. L. L. A.

Sodium flouride powder is the best all - round cockroach remedy. It is poisonous to man if taken internally in sufficient amounts, and it should be kept out of food and away from children and pets, but if used carefully in roach control no harm will follow. When placed where they will run over it it kills chiefly as a stomach poison. It sticks to their bodies and in cleaning themselves after running over it they transfer the powder to their mouths and thus swallow it. Applications should be repeated at intervals of a week or two until all roaches disappear.

Can you tell me how to prepare sweetbreads for frying? Mine never taste just right. Mrs. L.D.S.

Wash the sweetbreads and simmer them for about 20 minutes in salted water to cover, then allow them to cool in the liquor. Remove the skin and tough membranes, leaving tender lobe-shaped pieces of delicate flavor. Either keep the cooked lobes whole. Dip divide them into a few pieces. Dip the pieces into a beaten egg, diluted with 1 tablespoon of water, sprinkle with salt and flour, and fry slowly in a generous quantity of fat.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

WOMEN'S AAU WINNERS

Female muscles tensed in Waterbury, Conn., as records toppled and new queens were crowned in the National AAU Senior Women's Track and Field Championships. Displaying form which won medals are: Nancy Phillips, left, German American Athletic Club of N. Y., whose 17 feet 2½ inch jump gave her second place in the running broad jump, and Frances Licata, N. Y. Police Athletic League, who won first place in the javalin throw with a toss of 120 feet ½ inch.

Lopez Takes Tribe To Eleven Straight

(By The Associated Press)

Cleveland's onrushing Indians continue to whiz by all opposition as the "Lopez Limited" speeds steadily toward its destination — Pennantville.

The Tribe won again Monday night, defeating Detroit, 7-1.

It increased their first place margin over the runnerup New York Yankees in the American League to two and a half games as Philadelphia shellacked the Bronxites for the third straight time, 16-8.

It stretched the Tribe's winning streak to 11 straight, only two short of the club's all-time record of 13 accomplished in 1942.

FELLER NEARS NO. 20

It marked the 19th triumph for Bob Feller, who celebrated a "night" in his honor by limiting the Tigers to seven hits.

"We're on our way," said Manager Al Lopez. "I don't see how anyone can stop us now.

It was a homer by Al Rosen — his 20th — that proved the difference Monday night. It came in the fourth inning and snapped a scoreless duel between Feller and Martin Stuart.

Philadelphia raked four New York chuckers for 18 hits — its season high — and scored in all but the first and eight innings. Catcher Joe Tipton got four hits and drove in three runs. Elmer Valo also made four hits and drove in two. Morrie Martin won his seventh game. Vic Raschi started for the Yankees but Joe Ostrowski was charged with the loss.

HODGES' 100TH WINS

A three-run homer by Gil Hodges in the eighth inning gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 7-6 victory over Boston's Braves and left their 12½ first place margin intact. The runner-up New York Giants won their third straight from Philadelphia's Phils, 5-2.

Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 2-0 and 7-1 while Chicago's Cubs upset the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3.

Hodges' homer was his 33rd of the season and the 100th of his big league carreer. Carl Erskine was credited with his 13th victory but needed relief from Clyde King in the ninth.

Whitey Lockman cracked a three-run homer in the first inning off Bubba Church and that was all Larry Jansen needed to record his 15th triumph for the Giants.

Boston, Washington, St. Louis and Chicago in the American League were not scheduled.

Middle-Sized High Schools Can Cry 'Coward' At Class AAAA

DALLAS, Aug. 14. (AP) — Coaches of the larger Texas high schools can't see the humor of it, but it's funny how they got pulled into competing with the middle-sized schools.

Under the reclassification in football, AAAA, AAA, AA, A, B and six-man divisions were created. To establish what should be regarded as a bona fide champion, the Interscholastic League submitted a referendum in which AAAA was asked if it wanted to play AAA for a grand state championship and vice versa. AAA voted for it, AAAA voted it down. The coaches said they weren't about to risk being humiliated by smaller schools.

They took this view: What have we to gain by beating the AAA champion when we have so much to lose by being beaten by the AAA champion? It leaves things open to suggestions from Class AAA that AAAA is a coward. Actually, the AAAA attitude is this: It wouldn't be fair to the boys on a Class AAAA state championship team to have to play the AAA champions and run the risk of having the season ruined by a defeat when nothing much except a nice sum of money at the gate would be gained.

Anyway, there will be no play-off between the champions of AAAA and AAA in football.

BASKETBALL DIFFERENT

The Interscholastic League had different ideas about basketball. There is a state tournament in this sport—not like football with its state play-offs. The League operates this tournament, thus feels it should set all the rules.

To the surprise of the larger schools, the League worked out its tournament to bring a play-off between AAAA and AAA for what will be known as a Division 1 Championship of Texas.

The League couldn't handle 40 teams in its state tournament, where 24 has been the number, so it allotted places by classes to 24. Here was another rub for the big school coaches. AAAA got only four places, Class B got eight. This is based on the fact there are more Class B schools than any other class. The coaches think the major interest lies in the AAAA schools, thus their state tournament should be the largest.

SOME SUGGESTIONS

In view of the football referendum, it appears the League went a trifle far in ordering a play-off between the two classes in basketball. It would seem the schools ought to have been asked if they'd like to play under such a system at Austin or have their own state races as in football. Or better still, why not an eight-team Class AAAA division that will play for a state championship and not be worried with a play-off with AAA for a division title? Give the other classes four teams each in the state tournament.

While AAAA was deciding the blue ribbon champion, Class AAA could be playing Class AA and Class A and Class B could be getting together to determine the other division titles. Or perhaps each division could decide its state champion. That would make five of them.

ALL-STAR RULES

The Interscholastic League rule against all-star games goes into effect next year. Under this rule an all-star game that uses high school facilities and coaches is banned.

This means the death knell for most of the games as now operated. But the Oil Bowl at Wichita Falls, which will be played Aug. 24, isn't going to die, says Harry Parks, publicity man for this game.

"If (this will be determined by the Texas Interscholastic League) the Oil Bowl can't use Coyote Stadium (which the high school plays) under the Midwestern University franchise, then it probably will be played in Oklahoma City, Dallas' Cotton Bowl or Fort Worth. We'll probably use college coaches next year."

Question and Answer Sessions Planned in Farm Communities

A series of four community meetings will be held in Scurry County the first of September, when members of the County Agricultural Mobilization Committee will meet with farmers to ascertain what they need to improve their conditions, it was announced yesterday afternoon by O. M. Fowler, program chairman.

The dates for the meetings, which will start at 7:30 o'clock at night are as follows: Sept. 4, Fluvanna; Sept. 6, Dunn Creek; Sept. 7, Ira; and Sept. 10, Hermleigh. Guy Glenn of the PMA will be master of ceremonies at all sessions.

Fowler explained that the government has started an analysis of all the programs of the federal agricultural agencies to determine how they can be improved from the point of view of service to the family farm.

INFORMAL SESSIONS

In order to find out what the farmer wants, the government has asked all its farm agencies to meet with farmers in their various communities for question and answer sessions, Fowler said.

"Because the family farm is the center of the goal for improved agriculture in peace and war, it is necessary to find out what they, the farmers want, to improve their conditions, and we want the farmers to be free to tell our committee what changes, if any, they want in the government farm agencies," Fowler continued.

"Chairmen from the federal agricultural agencies in this area will attend the meetings to discuss and answer all questions, if possible, on matters relating to the family farm."

TO ATTEND

Elsworth Jones of the PMA and Marion Everhart of the soil conservation service will be there to handle the PMA and soil conservation programs. B. C. Drinkard of the Farmers Home Administration will represent that agency, which deals with the financial aid available to the farmers.

A. M. Roberts of the Rural Electrification Administration will tell farmers how to obtain telephones and electricity, and Broadway Browning of the vocational agricultural agency will be on hand to answer questions along this line.

Haskell Beard of vocational education, including veterans training; Mrs. Mildred Spark, county home demonstration agent; and Fowler, the county agent, will also attend.

A special educational committee composed of Mrs. Sparks, and Browning as co-chairmen, with Fowler and Beard, has been named to handle the educational questions that may be asked by the farmer.

Another committee meeting has been set for 1:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon at the PMA headquarters.

A full county report is slated to be completed by Sept. 15, and forwarded to State Agricultural Mobilization Committee, at College Station.

Similar programs are being carried out by all counties in Texas.

Gainesville In 2-Game Lead

(By The Associated Press)

Gainesville widened its lead to two full games in the Big State League.

The Owls won a doubleheader Monday night from Wichita Falls while Temple was losing to Austin.

Jimmy Gleason bested Billy Hyde, 1-0, on Harry Scherting's seventh inning home run in the first game. Bill Sweatt coasted home to a 10-3 win in the second.

Austin blasted Temple, 11-5, with Stumpy Jones getting his 21st win.

Tyler humiliated Waco, 5-4, as Gail Pringle and Leon Hayes scattered seven hits. Sherman-Denison shaded Texarkana, 6-4, to improve their third place position.

Julio Ramos pitched Sherman-Denison to its fourth straight win. The Twins scored three unearned runs in the sixth inning to sew up the game although Texarkana rallied for one run in the ninth when they threatened. They had the bases loaded when the game ended.

Two Waco errors on a possible double play ball gave Tyler its winning run in the ninth inning.

Minoso Pacing American Loop

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Orestes Minoso of the Chicago White Sox is still the hitter to beat in the American League batting race.

Although the fleet Negro slumped two points last week to .342 with nine hits in 29 trips, he remained eight points ahead of injured Ferris Fain of Philadelphia, .334.

Detroit's George Kell had .331.

Bobby Avila of Cleveland moved into the fourth spot with .327, one point ahead of Boston's Ted Williams. Gil Coan of Washington, fourth last week, continued his slump — dropping nine points to a sixth-spot .322.

Other leaders were Gil McDougald of New York, .310; Nellie Fox, Chicago, .309; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .304; and Johnny Pesky, Boston, .302.

Mickey Cannon, San Angelo 40-46—86.

Walter Choate, Baytown 40-40—80.

BIG TURN OUT FOR BOB FELLER NIGHT

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—One game short of rejoining the 20-game winners after three years, Pitcher Bob Feller says he's "got to win a lot more than one, if Cleveland is to cop the pennant."

And Bob thinks they will, but he phrases in conservatively:

"No good reason why we shouldn't."

Monday night 46,290 fans turned out for "Bob Feller night" and Bob labored mightily not to disappoint them. He didn't and beat the Detroit Tigers 2-1, but he wasn't very proud of his seven-hit triumph.

"I stole that one. I didn't win it," he said afterward.

Yank Pitchers Not Up To Par

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14. (AP) — Don't count the New York Yankees out—yet.

The Yanks haven't abdicated the world championship throne or given up the fight for the American League pennant despite their current slump. It's nothing that a little better pitching — particularly from an over-worked bullpen — couldn't cure.

And Manager Casey Stengel, grizzled veteran of the baseball wars, agrees. He watched sadly as Philadelphia Athletics' hitters, generally not a ferocious bunch, clubbed his pitchers for three straight victories for a total of 46 hits and 32 runs.

It's really not as bad as it seems. Actually the Yanks were worse off on this same date (Aug. 14) a year ago. Then they were tied for second with Cleveland, three games behind the Detroit Tigers. But the Yanks went on to win the pennant.

Failure of the Yankee bullpen, the relief pitchers, is the chief cause of the current reverses.

Colleges Exist For Education Coach States

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Big time college football has its ills, says the coach of the nation's top team of 1950, but it shouldn't be blamed for scholastic scandals and failures.

Bud Wilkinson of the University of Oklahoma, chief instructor at the coaching school here, had the floor in an impromptu roundtable on criticism leveled at the game since the uncovering of the West Point cribbing scandal.

"Actually," said the Sooner grid boss, "football takes less time from classwork than any other college sport. You practice or play a couple of hours a day three months in the fall — part of that before school opens — and four weeks in the spring.

"Colleges exist for education, not for football. But football is important. It is a point of common interest among all the students."

Draft Calls On College Men To Start Monday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The blanket deferment of college students will end next Monday on schedule, Selective Service said today.

"There definitely will be no extension of the deferment," a spokesman said. "If draft boards don't have reports as to the scholastic standing or aptitude test scores of college men by the 20th, they can start classifying those men for the draft on the 21st."

The deferment to Aug. 20 was granted to allow sufficient time, after the end of school, for school authorities to mail scholastic standings to the draft boards, and for the educational testing service at Princeton, N. J., to send to the boards all scores from the aptitude tests it administered throughout the nation last spring.

Local boards may use this information to decide whether a student deserves deferment for another year.

Fourth Place Fight On Coast

By The Associated Press

The battle for fourth place in the Gulf Coast league is picking up again.

Joe Aguiar pitched Galveston to a 7-1 victory over Laredo last night to cut the Apache fourth place lead to 2½ games.

Aguiar stopped the Apaches with two hits.

Corpus Christi, the league leaders, disposed of Texas City as Ray Mink hurled the Aches to a 5-2 decision. Brownsville downed Lake Charles, 9-2, and Harlingen shut out last place Port Arthur, 4-0.

George, 17, and from Iowa, knocked par winding on the front nine of Hope Valley Country Club's course Monday with a 33 — two under par; on the homing side he clumped one over par to take a 36.

Behind by one thin stroke was Kent McLachlin of Vancouver, Wash.

Musial Leading Hitter Again

With seven weeks to play, Musial held a 19-point lead on runnerup Richie Ashburn of the Phils according to averages including Sunday's games. Musial was hitting .368, Ashburn .349. Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn was third at .344, Roy Campanella was fourth with .334.

Jersey Joe presently is committed to a return fight some time next year with Ezzard Charles, from whom he took the crown.

Former Editor of Daily Texan Says Cribbing Is Widespread

By RON DUGGER
(EDITORS NOTE)

(Former editor, The Daily Texan, University of Texas newspaper, en route to Oxford University as Rotary Fellowship student. From England, he is to write special articles on a Texan's viewpoint for this newspaper.)

WASHINGTON,—The West Point cheating sensation is more than a news story. It goes to the roots of American education.

Most Texans may have forgotten the Life magazine story a few year back that 65 per cent of University of Texas students admitted cheating on exams at one time or another. The student magazine conducted the poll, and the national publication picked it up.

The poll was officially attacked, but four years at the University of Texas convinced this reporter that it was not altogether off the track.

What happened at West Point? It is a simple story. The profs gave the same quizzes to different classes. Cadets are on their honor not to discuss those quizzes—not to pass on the questions to their fellows.

TREMENDOUS PRESSURE

But the tremendous pressure on the football players (and baseball and basketball athletes also implicated) to keep up studies and still keep up with sports practice and games caused cadets to help them. As the practice spread, non-athletes began to benefit. One student tutor discovered problems he was using in cram sessions with athletes turned up the next day in class.

Academic cheating isn't confined to West Point, nor to Texas. It is widespread, affecting virtually every major college in the United States. Most schools keep their scandals locked in the closet. West Point didn't.

A partial source of this deterioration of academic standards is big-time athletics. And the danger is serious enough that it is worrying President Truman.

This reporter asked at a press conference whether he felt that the West Point incident justified a general collegiate de-emphasis of big-time sports. He replied he was investigating the matter. Two hours later, he announced he had ordered a full-scale investigation of the effect of football and other sports on academic standards at Annapolis and West Point.

CRAM SESSIONS

At the Academy, Football Coach Earl Blaik admitted special six-weeks' cram sessions were held for football players to help them pass entrance exams. One-third of last year's team—15 of the 45—went through this six-week course. Expenses of the players during the sessions were paid by wealthy alumni.

At the University of Texas, chemistry professors give special cram lectures to athletes the night before examinations. A full professor of chemistry at Texas said to me one time: "If you want big-time football, you've got to pay for it."

And so it goes with every big-time university. Scholastic dishonesty doesn't necessarily occur with special privileges for athletes; at Texas, the evidence has not indicated more cheating by athletes than anyone else. But every university that wants a top athletic machine has to recruit it; and to recruit athletes puts scholastic matters in a secondary light immediately.

While it is true that special privileges for the athletes damage the standards of other non-privileged students, is also true that academic dishonesty is a symptom of a more general condition.

TEMPTATION APPARENT

Three facts, common to big colleges and universities everywhere in the nation, increase the temptation to put grades ahead of honesty:

1. Employers scanning the graduation lists naturally look for the best students to hire. Since grades are the only visible measure of good students, the temptation to crib overcomes some who might otherwise fail and wind up jobless.

2. Big colleges and universities place first value on high grades. A student's prestige depends on his marks. He is graduated "with high honors," "with honors," occasionally "with highest honors." Most students are just graduated.

3. Mass education, single classes containing 200 or 300 students, and mechanical grading and testing processes cause the individual to lose his feeling of integration with, and importance to the college system. With few personal ties, honor wilts.

If the West Point misfortune did nothing else, it at least focused the nation's attention on the dangers of putting athletics before education.

The impact of the incident may affect many more students than the unfortunate 90 cadets who closed their eyes—and took a chance.

Commissar Is Flower Fancier, But Soviets Fail to Appreciate Him

MOSCOW, Aug. 14. (AP)—A Soviet factory director with a penchant for pansies and other posies has been taken to task for letting tractor production go to pot while he prettied up the plant.

The government newspaper Izvestia Sunday chided Victor Suslov, director of a new tractor factory at Minsk for keeping his men busy nursing fragrant blooms when they should have been laboring at their lathes.

According to Izvestia:

Suslov, hearing that the minister of the auto and tractor industry, Comrade Khlamov, was about to pay his plant a visit, pulled hundreds of workers off the assembly lines and put them to work planting flowers about the place.

The factory was transformed into a "living garden" Izvestia acknowledged, but tractor production dropped sadly.

The roof began to leak and tools rusted in the shops where workmen were busy putting flowers in vases and pots.

Not only that, the paper declared, but when the windows in the smithy section of the plant needed cleaning, Suslov summoned the plant's fire brigade and had the firemen knock out the dirty panes.

Landscaping around factories is a fine thing, said Izvestia, but in Suslov's case it was costing the state too much in lost tractor production.

Aureomycin Dressing Atomic Bomb Wound

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—A new aureomycin dressing for burns is described as an "important step" in medical preparations for atomic warfare.

The dressing, disclosed Sunday by Davis & Geck, Inc., is a gauze bandage impregnated with aureomycin, a wonder drug, in an ointment base.

Davis & Geck said it would be valuable in atomic warfare, which would require treatment of large numbers of persons suffering serious infected burns as well as the prevention of infections in minor burns.

Russia's Attendance At Jap Peace Meet For Propaganda

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Russians are coming to San Francisco, Sept. 4, to fire some more anti-American propaganda, this time over the Japanese peace treaty which this country has taken the lead in working out.

On that date this country invited 50 of its wartime partners to the coast city to discuss, agree on, and sign the treaty which is mainly the work of John Foster Dulles, Republican lawyer working for the State Department.

Not every country is satisfied with all parts of the treaty which already has been distributed for examination and criticism in draft form. But the most strenuous objection has come from Russia.

Although the treaty has been in the works for a couple of years, it doesn't seem to have attracted much attention from, or discussion by, the American public.

Maybe that's because the war or now six years ended, seems far away, or Russia has become the big center of attention, or the public is just glad to get the loose ends of that war cleared up.

Or it maybe that the public feels the Janpanese can be trusted now as an American ally in any trouble with Russia. And it's on that very point that Russia will have plenty to say.

Under the treaty, as proposed by the United States, the Japanese will be able to rearm and the United States will be able, by agreement with the Japanese, to keep large military forces in Japan just in case of trouble with Russia.

Japan will become this country's strongest Pacific outpost. After looking at the proposed treaty, Russians at first said they wouldn't take part in the San Francisco meeting at all. Monday they said they'd send a delegation.

Since the treaty points in dispute between this country and Russia are so fundamental, it's impossible to believe the Russians will change their minds and sign or that this country will alter the treaty to please Russia.

So the only purpose for the Russian delegation in San Francisco must be to make more anti-American propaganda and perhaps try to line up some of the other 50 nations against the United States.

The State Department had hoped the treaty conference could be ended in a week. But now that Russia is coming it may drag on for many weeks unless this country can find some way to make the Russians shut up.

In the end, after delaying, obstructing and propagandizing, the Russians seem sure to walk out. By that time the American public, and people elsewhere, will have been made more conscious of the treaty.

Profs Content They Can Hear Corn Growing

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 14. (AP) — Seven men, including three University of Wisconsin experts, said they believe they've heard corn grow.

A tape recording of corn growth sounds was available to substantiate the claim of a newspaperman that there was basis to support an old saying that "it's so hot you can almost hear the corn growing."

"If that wasn't corn growing that we heard I'd sure like to know what it was," Robert S. Beeler, assistant professor of agricultural journalism and editor of the college of agriculture's farm science reports, declared after he witnessed and heard a recording of the stunt.

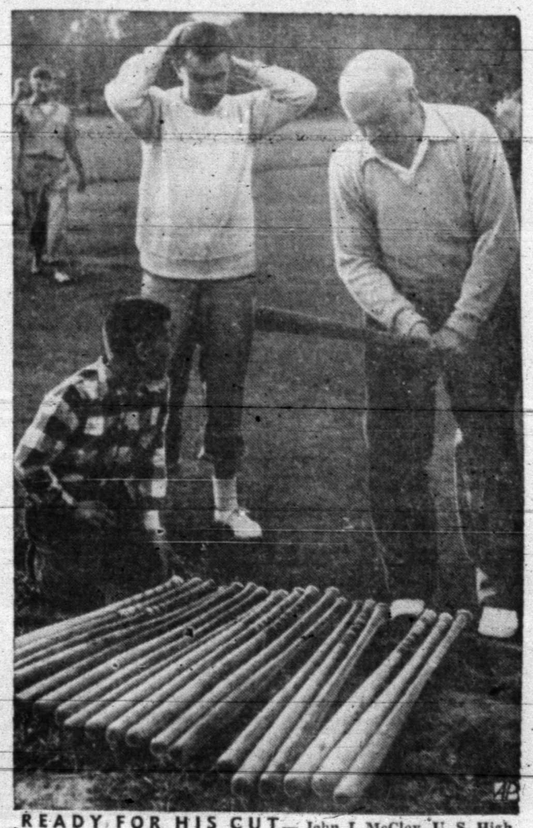

"When background noises subsided, you could hear that corn growing," Verner S. Suomi, associate professor of meteorology said.

The project briginated with Herbert Jacobs, telegraph editor and farm news editor of the Capital Times.

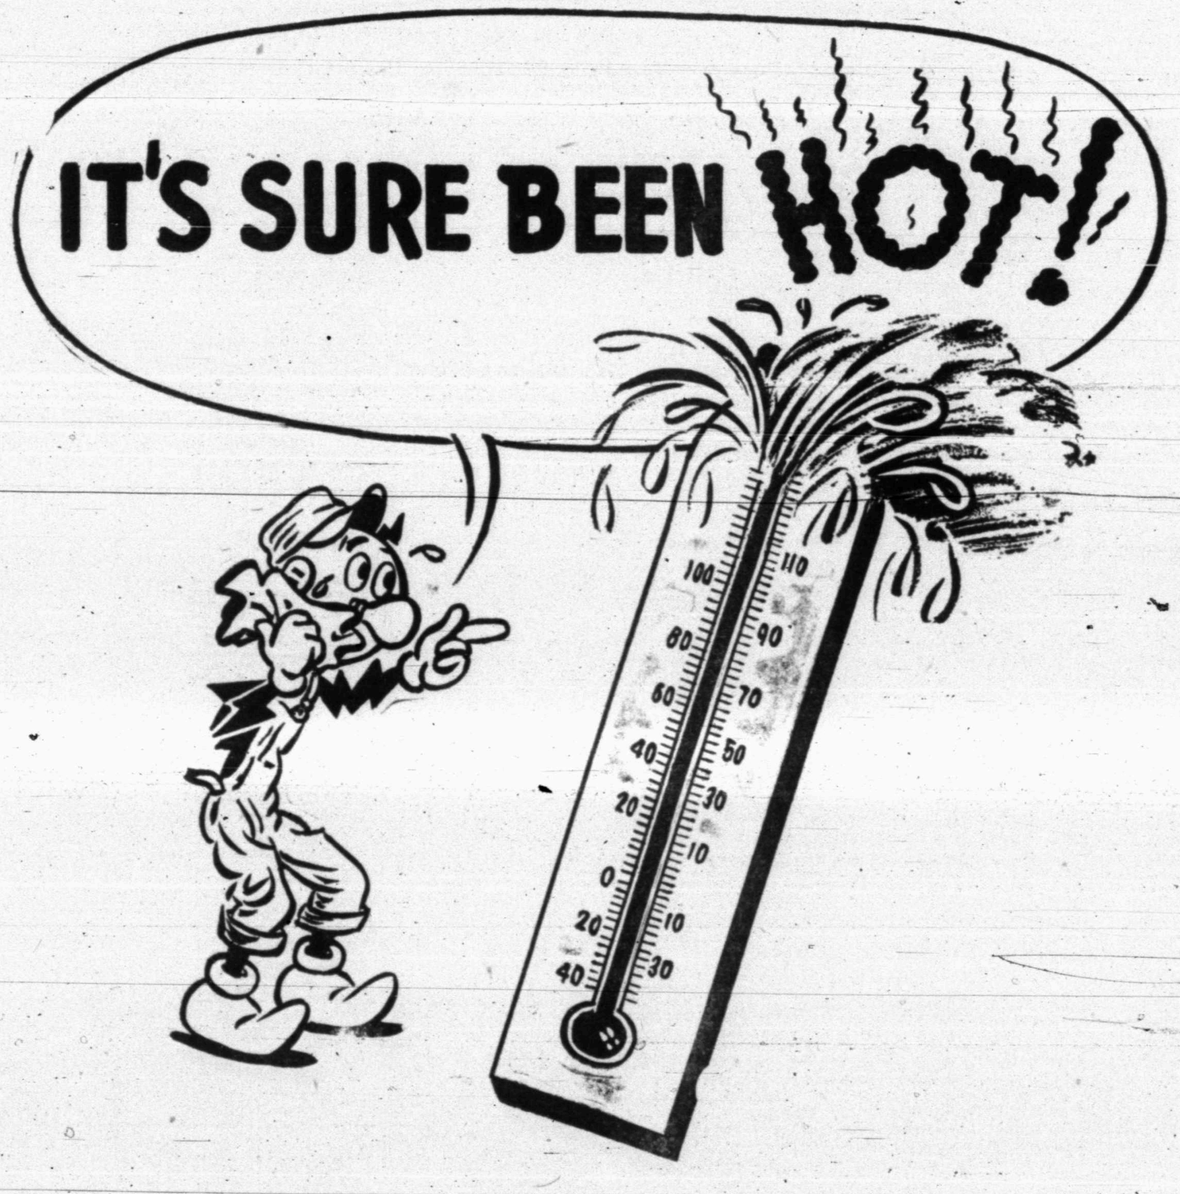

UN Accused Of Using Poison Gas In Korea

MOSCOW, Aug. 14. (AP)—Moscow newspapers and radio today claimed the Americans have dropped poison gas bombs in Korea.

The reports said a protest has been sent to the United Nations. They claimed the bombs were dropped on Aug. 1 and Aug. 7, and that deaths have resulted from chemical poisoning.

READY FOR HIS CUT— John J. McCloy, U. S. High Commissioner in Germany, hefts a bat before going to plate during softball game in Frankfurt Military Post League. The Commish, after choosing a good wood, made two hits, one with bases loaded.

"This summer, I have put in a great many extra hours of work for my customers every day.

"Air conditioners, attic fans, evaporative coolers, and portable fans have been going full blast around the clock – 24 hours a day practically every day. High temperatures, lack of rainfall and many nights without our usual cooling breeze have combined to make it an exceptionally hot summer. Electric refrigerators have had to call on their reserve power to keep food fresh and wholesome at constant temperatures under 40 degrees and to maintain ready supplies of ice cubes and cooling beverages.

"Some electric bills may be higher during such extreme hot weather because of this extra work but now – when you're able to stay cool and comfortable in spite of the heat – is when your electric service really proves to be the biggest bargain in your home."

No Change in Tax Rate Seen, Regardless of Bond Election

The combined county and state tax rate here next year will be virtually the same as it was this year despite increased indebtedness, Edgar Taylor, county judge, explained yesterday. Approval of the county park and new jail bond issues Saturday would not change the picture, he said.

Because there are more taxpayers this year than last—and because many of the big taxpayers have so much more wealth to be assessed—more can be collected at practically the same rate of assessment, he said.

The combined rate last year was 37 cents lower than it was the year before, but the assessment was $609,762 more than the year before. This was due to the increased valuation in the county, which jumped from $7,470,242 in 1949 to $49,818,647, an increase of $42,348,040.

This year it has increased to more than $115 million more than double that of a year ago.

Next year, the valuation will jump again, giving the county an increase in wealth of approximately $25 million, according to estimates of valuation engineers, he explained.

"With as much wealth in the county as this, the people can enjoy many improvement without the burden of high taxes," he stated. "We will pay less tax per value than we did when we had none of the improvements approved in bond elections since the boom."

The increased valuation next year will be due to values of the three gasoline plants which were not ready for assessment Jan. 1, of this year, but will be on the tax rolls next year. Another factor is the completion of approximately 200 deep wells to date which were not on the rolls Jan. 1. All of these additions to the tax rolls probably will be assessed at a total of about $25 million, he said, giving the county a total valuation of about $140 million.

The county's tax rate for this year is to be set late next week when the budget is due to be completed.

Half-Century Subscriber To Scurry Paper

The history of Scurry County as it was reported in the county's newspapers has passed through the hands of Mrs. Ada Henderson, 2801 Avenue M, for the past 50 years. Her subscription renewal to the Daily News this week was the fiftieth consecutive year she has subscribed to the paper here.

It was half a century ago that the Henderson family moved to Scurry County from Coleman. They started a subscription to the countys only paper, The Coming West, the next week, and Mrs. Henderson has been a continuous subscriber to the papers which followed since then.

The Hendersons lived in a ranch about 14 miles southwest of Snyder near Ira, and their children went to school at Ira. Mrs. Henderson said she didn't recall that there was anything really outstanding about The Coming West, probably because they didn't know anyone here, and the paper was devoted almost entirely to local news.

However, she added that even though they lived quite a distance from their neighbors it didn't take long to get acquainted. Now people frequently don't bother to even learn the names of people who live just a few steps away, she commented.

Mrs. Henderson moved into Snyder in 1926 when she bought her present home. Her house is just south of the high school gymnasium and there were very few houses in that neighborhood further from town than hers.

Mrs. Henderson also had an optimistic word to say about the drouth. She said it wasn't nearly as bad as some she had seen here.

Mrs. Henderson has been in ill health in recent years, and spends most of her time at home. She embroiders pillowcases, scarves and many other articles to pass the time. She said they weren't made specifically to sell, but after considering for a moment decided "they are stacking up."

THE STARS

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14. (AP)—Howard Philbrick, who ordinarily can spot a movie trend a mile away, got caught with his cycles down last week.

Philbrick is the chief of Central Casting, which supplies extra players. He can tell what kinds of pictures are being made by scanning the order lists for extra talent.

"But I got caught out on a limb," admitted Philbrick. "I guess I should have seen the trend to musicals a month ago. But it sneaked up on me and I found we were too low on dancers.

"And so I did something that was a complete reversal of our usual policy. For years, we have done everything we can to discourage people from seeking to enter extra work. But this time I issued publicity that we needed young dancers. I'm beginning to regret it now, because we have been flooded with applicants.

"Actually, we don't need too many dancers, except when there is a musical cycle such as we're in now. But the kind of dancers we need are rather specialized. They have to be that rare combination—girls who are good looking and shapely, plus better than average dancers."

Aside from beautiful, talented dancers, the employment outlook for extras is not promising, Philbrick indicated. At one time Central Casting had as many as 20,000 people on its rolls. Now the list numbers 3,500.
