Ike And Taft Conferring On New Congress

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower and Sen. Taft, his rival for the Republican nomination, conferred today on legislative problems that will confront the next session of Congress.

Taft arrived at Eisenhower's Hotel Commodore headquarters shortly before 11 a. m., EST. He said he and the president-elect expected to reach only general conclusions today and there would be no definite program worked out at this meeting.

Joining in the session was Rep. Joseph W. Martin, (R-Mass), prospective speaker of the House.

Martin arrived at the general's sixth-floor offices a few minutes ahead of Taft. Both legislators were smiling and amiable as a corps of almost 100 newsmen and radio and television reporters peppered them with question as to the topics to be discussed.

Taft said a list of subjects was bound to come up concerning the congressional session starting in January and remarked "a lot of laws" will be expiring. The purpose of the meeting today, he said, was to "decide what you are going to do." Then he said he did not expect any definite program to be worked out but there would be an exchange of views to reach general conclusions.

Sens. Bridges of New Hampshire and Wiley of Wisconsin were other senators who expected to see Eisenhower today.

The schedule also listed as callers Rep. Joseph Martin, of Massachusetts; Jack Porter, Texas national committeeman, and Lewis K. Gough, national commander of the American Legion.

No information about the subjects of the conferences has been given.

But the lineup of men suggested:

1. Korea—Gough has just returned from a trip into the war zone. Wiley, a member of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations, recently urged the President-elect to send a representative to the U. N. to support the American position in the debate on Korea. He said Eisenhower invited him to discuss foreign policy when the general had returned to New York.

2. Eisenhower's thoughts about his cabinet—Taft told a news conference yesterday that Eisenhower has asked him for suggestions on top-level appointments, including cabinet posts.

3. The legislative program—Taft and Martin, likely choice for speaker of the House in the next session, probably will go into Eisenhower's office together to discuss that question.

4. The organization of the Senate, plans for the inauguration of Eisenhower and some fiscal matters.

5. A report by Eisenhower on his talks with President Truman yesterday, and his own plan to go to Korea.

A joint Truman - Eisenhower statement issued after the White House meetings said in part, "We have worked out a framework for liaison and exchange of information between the present administration and the incoming administration." It added, however, "Gen. Eisenhower has not been asked to assume any of the responsibilities of the president until he takes the oath of office."

Completion In Hobo Field

Standard of Texas has completed its No. 5-7 T. L. Griffin in the Hobo field of Borden County for a daily potential of 492 barrels of oil.

On a potential test on total depth of 7,135 feet, it had a natural flow of 287 barrels of oil in 14 hours with no water. Flow was through a 16-64th inch choke.

Seven inch casing was cemented at 7,125 feet.

Gravity of the oil was 43 degrees. Casing pressure was 150 pounds, and tubing pressure was 750. Gas - oil ratio was 806-1. Top of pay was hit at 7,124 feet.

The well is 2,500 feet from north and 1,200 feet from east lines of section 47-25-H&TC.

FISHING IN KENT

General American No. 1 Atkins Ranch in Kent County opened up on a test and kicked off and flowed 27 barrels of new oil in two hours before the flow died.

It then swabbed and flowed 68 barrels of new oil in four hours and lost the swab in the hole. It is now fishing for the swab.

General Crude has located a wildcat in the southwest part of Fisher County as the No. 3 Edwin Aiken, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 250-3-H&TC, one and one-fourth miles west of the farthest south completed oil well on the south side of the Claytonville field. It will drill with rotary tools to 6,000 feet or a test of the Pennsylvanian reef, beginning at once.

DRILLING REPORT

Cities Service No. 1-B Leverett, wildcat in northeast Dawson County, now at a depth of 11,455 feet in unidentified lime, had a drillstem test at 11,370-425 feet with tool open two hours and recovered 40 feet of drilling mud with no shows oil, gas, or water.

Plymouth No. 1 R. C. Miller, wildcat in Northeast Borden County, has set eight and five-eights inch intermediate casing at 2,430 feet. It will drill deeper.

Also in Borden, Superior No. 2-517 Lemons, wildcat, is running seven inch casing; Superior No. 8-580 Jones, wildcat, is drilling at 2,816 feet in lime and shale; Husky No. 1 Higginbotham, wildcat, is at 5,100 feet in lime and shale; and Standard of Texas No. 6-7 Griffin, stepout to the Hobo field, is drilling the plug on intermediate casing and preparing to drill deeper at 2,528 feet in lime.

In Howard County, Roden, Darden & McRae No. 1 Gaskins is at 8,525 feet in lime and shale; Laughlin-Potter No. 1-10 Fisherman is at 7,112 feet in lime and shale; and Sun No. 1 Jones is at 2,170 feet in lime and anhydrite.

Johnson & Cox No. 1 Bomar, wildcat in Mitchell County, at a depth of 4,680 feet in lime and shale, had completed a fishing job and was preparing to drill deeper.

Dry Weather Due In State

By The Associated Press

Fair skies and cool, dry weather pointed to a renewal of Texas' aging drought Wednesday after two days of spotty showers and thunderstorms.

Warmer weather, along with gentle to moderate northerly winds, were due Thursday, the Weather Bureau's latest forecasts said.

Freezing weather early Wednesday in the top reaches of the Texas Panhandle were offset by balmy weather along the coast and the Rio Grande Valley.

Meanwhile, farmers, stockmen and water-short cities assessed the benefits of the two-day run of rains which mostly fell south and east of Wichita Falls.

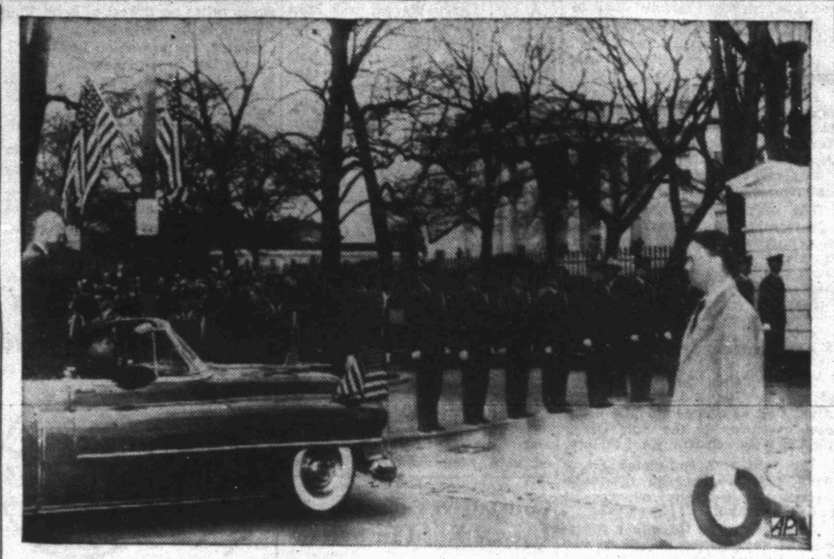

For one thing, they filled stock tanks in Navarro, Collin, Gregg, Dallas, Grayson, Henderson, Hopkins, Hunt, Harrison, and Angelina Counties. The rains ranged from sprinkles to 3.54 inches at Renner on the Dallas-Collin County line and 3.51 at Forst in Navarro County.

The rains also stopped, for the time at least, the forest fire menace which had ravaged pinelands in East Texas around Lufkin.

Temperatures Tuesday afternoon ranged from Brownsville's 80 degrees to low maximums of 54 at Dalhart and Amarillo. Dalhart's 25 degrees was the minimum for the day.

To Freezing Mark

The temperature struck a low of 32 degrees last night, according to Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, official weather observer. At 7:30 o'clock this morning the reading was 37 degrees. Yesterday's high temperature was 60, she said.

$15 Billion Cut In Truman's Budget Sought By Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 15-billion-dollar cut in the new federal budget is the goal of two Republican leaders — if President Truman's budget request calls for the 85 billions some predict.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP's Senate Policy Committee, told a news conference yesterday his target for the fiscal year beginning next July is a 70-billion-dollar budget.

Taft said he and President-elect Eisenhower, at their Sept. 12 meeting in New York, agreed upon this as well as upon a 60-million-budget goal for fiscal 1955. Barring any interfering commitments, Taft added, tax cuts of 12 or 13 per cent would be theoretically possible in 1955.

The Ohioan and other Republican leaders in Congress are discussing legislation with Eisenhower at a conference today in New York.

Rep. Taber (R-NY), who will head the House Appropriations Committee in the new Congress, said yesterday:

"Spending can be held to 70 billion dollars."

That means, he said, that Congress will have to use the axe on every federal activity, including defense and foreign aid spending.

Spending figures for the present year that started last July 1, Taber said, indicate that the outgoing Congress appropriated too much for both foreign aid and military programs.

Taber predicted that President-elect Eisenhower will send Congress a revised budget after he takes the oath of office late in January. The budget due early that month will be transitted to Congress by President Truman.

Taber said he doesn't know how much, if any, Eisenhower will be able to whack from the Truman budget.

Taber said the House Appropriations Committee necessarily will get off to a slow start in considering the appropriations bills for the new year. Since Republicans won't take over control of the House until Jan. 3, they can't organize the appropriations committee until then.

Republicans gain 10 seats on that important committee, going from 20 to 30 members, while the Democrats, as a minority, will have 20 seats.

Taber said he has no plan to return to the once-tried system of handling all appropriation bills in a single measure.

Testimony On Unit Operation

AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP) — Statistics and technicalities made up most of the hearing yesterday on the proposed unitization of the Canyon Reef Pool in the Kelley - Snyder and Diamond M fields of Scurry County.

Most of the day was spent in questions and answers between William Horner, vice - president of Sunray Oil Corp., and Gillis Johnson, attorney for W. A. Moncrief and others.

Johnson's questions and Horner's answers revolved around porosity of well core samples and other figures used in arriving at an estimate of additional recovery possible through a secondary program.

Horner estimated unitization and secondary recovery will bring an extra 720 million barrels of oil from the 47,438-acre area.

The hearing was expected to run through most of this week and possibly longer. It is the largest oil unitization program ever proposed in Texas.

Corruption In Russia

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Reports of graft and corruption on a vast scale in the Soviet Union prompted Pravda today to demand a "ruthless" campaign within the USSR Communist Party to eliminate breaches of discipline.

"A formal attitude toward the decisions of the party and government, a passive attitude toward their implementation, is a vice which must be stamped out ruthlessly," the official party newspaper said in an editorial broadcast by Moscow Radio and monitored here.

Alaniz Granted Bail, Sapet Denied In Alice Murder Case

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today said $15,000 bail should be granted Nago Alaniz, but refused Mario Sapet's bail pending their trials for the murder-by-mistake by Jake (Buddy) Floyd Jr.

The decisions on appeal of the two men for the right to freedom on bail pending trial were made in two separate opinions one week after the court heard oral arguments.

Presiding Judge Harry N. Graves said circumstances indicated Alaniz's right to bail.

He noted testimony in the record showing Alaniz was aware that Jacob S. Floyd Sr. was to be murdered, that he talked with the elder Floyd just prior to the killing of the latter's son and admitted he was in on the plot.

Judge Graves also called attention to the fact Alaniz was "not present at the scene or nearby at the time this offense was committed."

Judge Tom L. Beauchamp, author of the court opinion in Sapet's case, observed that the indictment against Sapet also alleges he was convicted March 3, 1936, on a plea of guilty to a charge of murder without malice.

Commenting that Sapet and Alaniz are represented by different attorneys "and it is indicated the defense will be difficult," Judge Beauchamp said the appeals court was of the opinion the trial court did not abuse discretion in denying bail to Sapet.

Attorneys for both men contended last week that evidence was insufficient for a possible death penalty, the only justification in Texas law for denial of bail.

Appeal on the question of bail was brought after Dist. Judge Sam G. Reams ruled in the South Texas city of Alice, where Floyd was killed, that he had no jurisdiction and dismissed a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus.

Reams was one of two men said to have been marked for death in a bungled assassination plot. He ruled he had no jurisdiction because no examining trial had been held by a justice of the peace.

The charges against Sapet and Alaniz include three counts, murder, accomplice to murder and conspiracy to murder.

Wreck At Hale Center Fatal To Scurry Child

The two-year-old son of a Hermleigh couple and the child's maternal grandmother were killed last night in a traffic accident near Hale Center.

The grandmother, Mrs. H. O. McAdams of Roscoe, and the child, Johnny Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowen, were occupants of a car which was in collision with a pickup truck at a rural intersection. Billy Tom Young, driver of the pickup, was hospitalized for shock and examination but was not believed seriously hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen live approximately four miles southeast of Hermleigh. They have membership at the First Methodist Church at Hermleigh. The child's father is a native of Scurry County. The son was born in the spring of 1950. He was their only child.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdams and Mr and Mrs. Bowen were temporarily living in Hale Center while Mr. McAdams and the Bowens were working on the Odell Culp farm about eight miles east of there. Mr. and Mrs. McAdams were long-time residents of Roscoe.

Funeral services for the Bowen child will be tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Hermleigh Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Pyron Cemetery under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Officers investigating the accident said Mrs. McAdams and the grandson were going to the Culp farm to pick up her husband and the child's parents when the pickup truck, traveling south, and the east - bound McAdams car, a 1948 Plymouth, collided. The intersection of dirt roads was hidden by tall grass, they said. An opinion of Thurman Keffer, highway patrolman, was that neither driver saw the other vehicle until both were in the intersection.

Merrell, deputy sheriff from Hale Center, said the child was found beneath the empty overturned trailer which had been pulled by the pickup. Both the child and the woman died shortly after being taken to the High Plains Hospital in Hale Center. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. McAdams is survived by her husband and daughter, Mrs. Bowen, two sons, H. O. McAdams, Jr., Seminole, and Cpl. Roy McAdams, with the Marine Corps near Reno, and another daughter, Mrs. Cleo Rogers of Dickens.

Hermleigh acquaintances of the Bowens said Bowen's father had died in 1936, the victim of a traffic accident, and that his mother now lived near Gainesville.

Israel Asks Einstein To Take Presidency

JERUSALEM, Nov. 19 (AP)—Israel still sought a new president today. Albert Einstein—it was officially announced—has declined to succeed the late Chaim Weizmann.

A statement issued by Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's office last night said the prime minister had messaged Abba Eban, Israel's ambassador to Washington, to inquire of the noted scientist if he would accept the presidency. The statement said Einstein turned down the honor.

Stevenson Wants To ExpressHimself,HeSays

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson says he is not considering any public service posts after his term of office expires in January.

But, the defeated Democratic presidential nominee told reporters yesterday: "I would like the privilege of expressing myself from time to time on important issues" during the next four years.

Bombers Strike At Red Oil Storage Depot In Area Near Manchuria

SEOUL, Nov. 19 (AP)—Allied warplanes roared deep into North Korea today and blasted a large Communist military headquarters and oil storage area about 25 miles from the Manchurian border.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said F86 Sabre jets flying protective cover for the fighter-bombers damaged a Communist MIG15 in an air battle between four Sabres and four MIG's.

Allied infantrymen hurled back violent Red assaults on the Western Front and parried repeated Chinese thrusts against their Central Front positions on Sniper Ridge. Temperatures dropped to a bone-chilling eight degrees, coldest of the winter.

The Air Force said its fighter-bombers leveled 25 buildings of the military headquarters and destroyed the oil storage plant.

B26 and B29 bombers were out in force last night. They blasted Communist transport, ammunition and supply dumps and a communications center at a town near the West Coast.

U. S. Navy Panther jets intercepted four Communist MIG15s far from their usual haunts yesterday. In one of the few air battles fought off the Korean East Coast two Red warplanes were shot down and a third was damaged. One Panther jet was damaged, but limped back to the carrier USS Oriskany.

In their Western Front attack, the Chinese smashed into Allied lines on the Hook, a strategic height northeast of Panmunjom.

They struck first at 9:45 but were hurled back after savage close quarter fighting.

The Reds attacked in strength again at 1:15 a.m. and dented the U. N. lines. Forty minutes later an Allied counterattack swept them back down the slopes.

The Reds attacked in force again 4:10 a.m. but Eighth Army troops stood their ground. Fighting continued sporadically until 8:10 a.m.

The Chinese attacks on Sniper Ridge were primarily light jabs. Then the Reds pulled back to let their big artillery open up. Allied warplanes flew more than 60 sorties against Red positions this afternoon.

Implicate Sec. Snyder In Tax Refund Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators report that, after a year of trying, they now have documents purporting to show Secretary of the Treasury Snyder took undue interest in a multimillion-dollar tax case.

The report came, after a closed-door session yesterday, from a House ways and means subcommittee investigating tax scandals.

It said the group has received from the Justice Department's Criminal Division a log of telephone conversations between Snyder and Charles Oliphant, former chief counsel for the revenue bureau. Oliphant served in that post from 1947 until last fall, when he quit under fire.

Committee sources said extracts from the long-sought telephone transcript show Snyder displayed "an unusual degree of interest" in a claim by Universal Pictures, Inc., for a 20-million-dollar refund on excess profit taxes levied some 10 years ago.

The sources said Snyder telephoned Oliphant frequently in 1948 and 1949 to speed up handling of Universal's claim. The case was expedited from the New York field office directly to the Treasury, where a two-million-dollar award was made last December.

Along with the stenographic record of the conversations, Snyder sent the committee a letter of explanation, not made public.

60-Year-Old Woman Unnoticed For 5 Days In Wrecked Car

HAMBURG, Ia. (AP)—A 60-year-old grandmother lay seriously injured and helpless for five days and nights in the wreckage of a car concealed in a weeded gully beside a busy highway.

She had a broken left hip, broken left arm, several fractured ribs and was suffering severe shock.

Thousands of cars sped by, but no one spotted her.

Her only food was a few pieces of fudge and her only drink a little rain water and a bottle of boric acid solution.

Throughout the 120-hour ordeal, between spells of unconsciousness, she prayed desperately.

And then, by chance, a highway grader operator saw the wrecked car from his high cab. "I just happened to look back for some reason," said Jack Kraschel.

Today, Mrs. Glen McKnight of St. Joseph, Mo., lay in a Hamburg hospital. Doctors said her condition was "remarkably good." They said it was a case for the medical books."

Mrs. McKnight was driving from St. Joseph, Mo., to Bronson, Ia., last Thursday when she apparently lost control of her car on a curve of U. S. Highway 275 three miles north of Sidney, Ia. The car plunged down a 40-foot embankment and overturned against a culvert.

Her injuries and a seat cushion wedged on top of her prevented her from reaching the light switch or horn to attract attention of passing motorists.

When Kraschel reached her yesterday, she exclaimed: "Thank God! I am sure glad He sent someone to find me."

Kraschel said, "She grabbed my hand and held on to it tight and then asked me for water. She told me she had 'not suffered a bit.' She is really some woman."

India Delegate Pleads Case

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—India's V. K. Krishna Menon takes the U.N. stump today to urge East and West to accept his compromise plan for ending the bitter prisoner of war deadlock holding up a Korean armistice.

So far, neither the United States nor Soviet Russia apparently looked with favor on the proposal.

The 55-year-old Indian delegate was expected to explain in detail to the General Assembly's Political Committee his resolution calling for a four-power commission to supervise the nonforcible repatriation of prisoners and to care for those who don't want to go home until a political conference decides their fate.

Poland, also scheduled to speak at this afternoon's session on the Korean debate, might offer some hint of the official Communist reaction.

Meat Rollback Order Brings Sure Study From Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's proposed meat price rollback was booked for searching congressional study today.

The Senate-House Defense Production Committee headed by Sen. Maybank (D-SC) called Price Stabilizer Tighe E. Woods to report on the price control program. Members said he also would get a thorough quizzing about the meat rollback plan.

Woods has ordered his staff to have either (1) an order ready for his signature next Monday cutting retail meat prices, or (2) an explanation of why it can't be done.

Woods' move came as Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Republican congressional leaders conferring in New York with President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower sought from the next president a statement of the incoming administration's views on whether the whole wage, price and rent control program should be scrapped.

Taft told a news conference here yesterday that the controversial controls program was one of the most important subjects slated for discussion at today's meeting in New York.

Authority to continue those controls is scheduled to expire next April 30.

The defense production committee, a watchdog group set up by Congress has called for detailed recommendations from Woods concerning the future of price controls.

One member, Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) told reporters he believes the controls program "has been loaded down with foolish orders, unintelligible and unenforceable, and it ought to expire."

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), another member of the group and slated to head the Senate Banking Committee in the next Congress, predicted the price chief would be questioned on a variety of subjects, including the stabilizer's proposal to turn price controls over to local boards.

That plan, Capehart said, "isn't too sound."

Capehart stuck to an earlier announcement that he intends to submit to his committee the whole question of whether to continue the controls program, and said he has "a 100 per cent open mind" on the issue.

Probe Started On Texas Firm Accused Of Mixing Poor Wheat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Investigation of reports that a Texas firm mixed low grade Canadian wheat with good quality domestic wheat has been completed by the Agriculture Department.

Canadian wheat was said to have been imported ostensibly for livestock feed but was mixed instead with high grade U. S. wheat in such proportions as to make it usable for milling and export as food wheat, officials said in a statement yesterday.

Such a procedure, the Agriculture Department spokesman said, could be a violation of government import and export regulations because it would permit an escape in paying full duty on food wheat.

Officials made known last spring that they were investigating the reports. The information has been turned over to department lawyers for a decision as to whether the matter should be referred to the Justice Department for legal action.

SOME GOES ABROAD

Officials declined to discuss the case or to give any details pending the legal decision. They would not comment on reports that a few department grain officials knew of the matter and did nothing about it.

Some of the mixed wheat was reported to have found its way into wheat and flour which was shipped abroad under a subsidy paid by the department under an international wheat agreement.

The subsidy, which has been averaging about 75 cents a bushel, is designed to encourage export of U. S. wheat only. To the extent that any Canadian wheat might have been involved, the government would in effect be subsidizing the export of Canadian wheat in competition with this country's grain.

SUBSIDY HELD UP

Officials did say that some claims for export subsidy payments are being held up pending conclusion of the case. They would not say what the amount was. It is possible, they said, that the government may file claims for return of some payments already made.

The investigation also covered reports that some of the Canadian wheat has been mixed with U. S. wheat owned by the government and stored under farm price-support programs.

Mixing of low grade Canadian wheat with top grade U. S. wheat apparently would not affect the quality of flour milled from the mixture providing of course the mixture met flour milling grades.

Taxation Is Going To Be Big Problem Of State Legislature

By BU BYERS

AUSTIN, Nov. 19 (AP)—Texas legislators figure they face one of the toughest tussels over taxation in many a year when they meet Jan. 13.

The pleas for more money, coupled with the objections of people who don't want to pay more taxes, mean the worrisome money-raising problem will be the most important of the session in the opinion of lawmakers interviewed by The Associated Press.

Four of 15 senators and 36 of 66 representatives rated taxation more important than any other issue, including such vital ones as water conservation, highway financing and higher teacher salaries.

REP. CARR SUMS UP

Many made the observation that expanding the highway program or boosting teacher pay will depend on finding more money.

Rep. Waggoner Carr, Lubbock, gave a succinct summation of why he views taxation as the big issue.

"I think the most controversy will be connected with the taxation problem," Carr wrote.

"This controversy will be two-fold: (1) whether we can keep appropriations down so we will not have to raise taxes; (2) if not, who shall pay the taxes. The present status of the natural gas tax is bound to complicate this controversy."

The tax to which he referred was passed last session. It was designed to tax the gathering of gas and was aimed at pipe line companies. A district court judge ruled it unconstitutional this year and appeal of the case may keep revenue from this levy tied up two years or more.

TEACHER PAY STUDIED

Oil and gas interests can be expected to oppose any new attempt to tax them, arguing the Legislature should leave that industry alone pending final court decision on legality of the gathering tax.

While many of the lawmakers place taxation first in importance, that does not mean they favor new or higher levies.

Sen. Jep S. Fuller, Port Arthur put it this way:

"There seems to be a definite need for monies to take care of the highway and road system of Texas as well as the underpaid teaching profession of Texas. In my opinion, the greatest problem we will ever have will be the means and ways of doing same without additional burden of more taxes.

LESS THAN SOME

"Although Texas has less state taxes than most other states in the union, with the ever increasing burden of the federal government taxing program, we certainl. want to prevent any additional taxes being levied in Texas unless absolutely necessary."

All tax bills must originate in the House of Representatives.

Like many others, Rep. Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde, said the tax fight will be directly related to the teacher-pay and highway financing issues.

A leader last session in the successful struggle to pass a gas gathering tax and to prevent a cut in the farm-to-market road program, Briscoe said his stand remains the same.

OPPOSES GASOLINE TAX

"I will oppose any increase in the gasoline tax until the natural gas that is being exported from this state pays its fair share of the tax load," he declared, adding:

"In other words, if additional funds are necessary to improve the primary (highway) system, I think those funds should come from a tax on natural gas, and I think that represents the thinking of 90 per cent of the people in this (South Texas) area."

Sen. Carlos Ashley, Llano, a veteran legislator who termed taxation "always of first importance," went on record as "not in favor of adding to the burden of the present list of taxpayers."

"I would like to see the list enlarged to include big hotels, big deparmtent stores, etc.," Ashley said.

Johnnie Ray Returning Star

DALLAS, Ore. (AP) — Youthful Johnnie Ray, who earned fame and fortune with a sobbing singing style, came back to his hometown here yesterday.

And Dallas gave him one of the biggest welcomes in the town's history. Schools were closed for the Johnnie Ray parade. Signs and banners hung in stores' windows. Johnnie Ray records blared from all the town's juke boxes.

He told an audience at the high school auditorium that the welcome was a dream come true, that he had always wanted to come home a star.

Then he gave his formula to success: "Faith is the whole key to happiness, and if you pray to God, He will help you. I know, because I prayed, and then I felt just like God picked me up in his arms and said, 'Johnnie Ray, I love you,' and then he kissed me."

Government Agencies Move Together Here

Production and Marketing Administration, Soil Conservation Service and Farmers Home Administration have moved their offices to the top floor of the Yoder building at 2515½ Avenue S.

Until a month ago, SCS and FHA occupied office space in the basement of the courthouse. PMA was located at 1913 Twenty - Seventh Street.

"Through this consolidation we can better serve the farmers," said Mrs. Louise Disheroon, FHA county office clerk.

Schools Vote Champ

KERRVILLE, Nov. 19 (AP)—The five-way tie in District 12B six-man football was ended here yesterday when representatives of the five schools voted to name Center Point the 1952 district champ.

Center Point will meet Pflugerville, winner of District 11B, in the bi-district playoff next week. The site is yet to be selected.

Center Point, Rocksprings, Comfort, Medina and Harper ended conference play with two losses each for the unprecedented tie. However, one of the losses chalked up against Center Point was a forfeiture of its 55-12 victory over Rocksprings because an ineligible player had been used.

Non-Lawyer Governor For Florida Picked

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Dan McCarty, 40-year-old cattleman and citrus grower, who has little to say and takes pride in saying it, becomes governor of Florida Jan. 6.

"I won't be a headline-hunting governor," he told reporters during his campaign.

Since winning the Democratic nombination that meant certain election, he has spent most of his time quietly at home in Ft. Peirce.

He'll be the first non-lawyer governor in 40 years and the first in many years who won't be faced with a critical financial problem.

Most of his campaign pledges were broad—no new taxes, reorganization of government to get more efficiency, strict enforcement of laws against gambling, promotion of industry, agriculture and business.

He sums up his objective this way:

"It is my aim to conduct the affairs of government in Florida in a sound, progressive, business-like manner, striving to develop to the fullest Florida's great natural resources so that Florida will be universally recognized as the outstanding state for healthful, wholesome, Christian living."

McCarty, like most of the state's other top governmental figures, got his start in student body politics at the University of Florida, where he received a degree in agriculture in 1934. He was class president and student body vice president.

Out of college, he soon was a member of the State Legislature. In 1941 he was the youngest speaker of the Florida House in history.

His political career was interrupted then by 54 months service in the Army. He went in a first lieutenant, came out a colonel after long duty in Africa and Europe.

He tried for the governorship in 1948 but was beaten by the incumbent, Fuller Warren. McCarty kept his campaign organization intact, added to it and won this year.

The McCartys have three children, the oldest 11.

Library Group Meets To Organize Drive

The Rev. and Mrs. Ronald E. Hubbard will give a coffee for members and visitors of the Scurry County Library Committee at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church.

A committee meeting will also be held under direction of Lawrence W. Dumas, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Dumas. All persons interested in building a library are invited to attend the meeting, whether interested in working in the drive or asisting in plans.

In the meeting, the committee will organize for the drive and make plans for it to begin after Dec. 11, when Mrs. Lucille B. Wilson, state director of the library extension service, will speak here.

The place and date for Mrs. Wilson's address have not been decided. She will be here Dec. 11 and 12 for a two-day visit of all communities in the county.

Court Gives Shuler Use Of Road In Suit

A district court jury yesterday afternoon rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, Harvey Shuler, in a suit against R. A. Smith for use of a road across the defendant's property.

Shuler brought the suit against Smith after the latter had closed a road across Smith's property, connecting the Shuler property with a public road. Shuler contended the road Smith closed had been in use several years and was the only reasonable means of getting to and from his home.

The property involved is about seven miles northwest of here. The road is to be reopened.

Shuler was presented in the suit by the law firm of Sentell, Rosser & Willbern. The firm of Park & Hemphill represented the defendant.

Mamie Visits Friends While In Washington

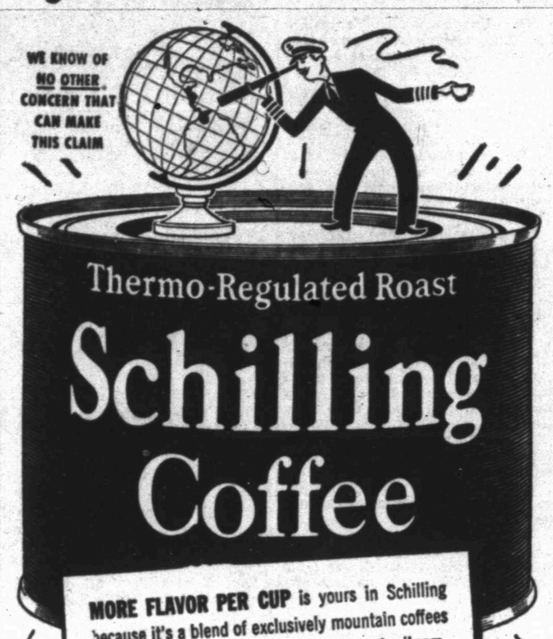

WASHINGTON (AP) — While her husband paraded through Washington and conferred at the White House yesterday, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower visited kinfolk and went to the doctors.

She left the welcome parade en route to the White House and was driven to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital for "a small checkup."

Afterward, she told reporters the doctors said she was two pounds overweight. Biographical sketches describe her as being 5 feet 4 and weighing 138 pounds.

Mrs. Eisenhower then went to the home of Mrs. George G. Moore Jr., her sister.

Sees No Trouble In Mixing Monroe, Russell Together

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How to shoot Jane Russell and Marilyn Monroe—with a camera. That's our problem for today.

These two outstanding glamor dolls start work together this week in a modernized film version of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." They possess two of the most photographed frames in history, but until now they have generally posed alone. That presents the problem of how to shoot them together.

I discussed the issue with Gene Kornman, who has been photographing glamor girls at 20th-Fox for 20 years. He said he didn't anticipate much trouble.

"Don't underestimate Marilyn's intelligence," remarked the photographer. "She's a smart gal when it comes to posing, and she's easy to get along with too. From what I hear, Jane is a nice gal too. And since she has been in the business longer, she can and probably will give some pointers to Marilyn.

"I think I'll use the same technique I used when Betty Grable and June Haver were making 'The Dolly Sisters.' I always went to Betty first, since she was the bigger star. If she said she was too tired or busy, I asked June to pose. And sure enough, when Betty looked out and saw June posing for pictures, she'd come out of her room and volunteer to work too.

"I had another technique. Whenever I had Betty in a picture with June, I always placed Betty on the left. Then the caption always put Betty Grable's name first."

Gene has lensed virtually every glamor girl on the 20th-Fox lot. He said that each one required a different technique.

"Marilyn Monroe is better when she closes her eyes just before the picture is snapped," he said. "She takes her time to get ready. Then when I give her the signal, she opens her eyes and blossoms out like a rose coming out of the bud.

"Jean Peters is a fast poser. She can be standing with a blank expression. When I get ready to shoot, she'll flash on the most expressive face I could ask for. I could photograph her all day and get a different expression each time. Once I asked her to imagine herself as a black widow spider. The result was terrific.

"Betty Grable is another one who can turn it on or off. She can be very tired at the end of a long sitting. But just before I click the shutter she turns on the brightest smile you ever saw. It goes away as soon as the picture is made.

"Susan Hayward likes to move into a pose. She snaps her head around and holds the position like a mannequin."

I asked Gene what time of day was best for photographing the glamor queens.

"For pure beauty, it's best to get them when they're fresh," he replied. "That means in the morning or early afternoon. But sexiness is a different matter. I found I get my sexiest shots of Monroe when she is a little bit tired. Her eyelids begin to droop, and her whole face looks languid."

His easiest subjects? Gene cited two: Loretta Young and Billie Dove.

"They are the most graceful women I have ever photographed," he said. "You didn't have to pose them. They naturally assumed the most beautiful pose."

Helps For Homemakers

Would you please give me directions for preparing baked beans? I was given a bean pot by my family for my birthday, which evidently means they intend to have baked beans the next time they come to visit. Mrs. R.

Baked bean fanciers quarrel as bitterly over whether or not to season their beans with tomatoes as do the clam chowder people up East over whether tomatoes belong in their brew. You may like them with or without. Here are two recipes to try, both requiring several hours of preparation. The first is for Country Club Beans:

1 pound navy pea beans
½ pound salt pork
¼ cup brown sugar
1 small onion (chopped)
1 teaspoon dry mustard
⅓ cup tomato catusp
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper

Soak beans overnight and drain, reserving liquid. Combine beans with other ingredients. Place in bean pot and add bean water to cover. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) about seven hours. Cover beans during first hours of baking. Add water from time to time as needed. The salt pork rind should be scored before placing the meat in the middle of the bean pot, so that it will be easier to cut and serve. Let the rind come just to the top of the beans, so that it will get crisp and brown at the same time they do.

Another recipe is for All American Beans:

1 pound navy beans
½ pound salt pork
2 tablespoons sugar
1 small onion (half a larger one)
1-3 cup dark molasses
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Soak beans overnight. Boil gently in same water one and one-half hours or until tender. Drain, saving liquid. Dice rind of salt pork and cut in half. Put half on the bottom of bean pot with the whole (or half) onion. Cover with the beans. Put other half of salt pork on top. Mix all other ingredients with bean liquor and pour over beans. Bake at 300 F. for four hours or until done, adding water when necessary. Uncover for last half hour.

Alexis Smith Dosen't Like Cool Types

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How to draw fire from Alexis Smith—call her "cold and statuesque."

"I see red when I hear those two words," she told me. "I've been trying to escape them for years."

She is finally making some progress. But she has had to use a combination of jujitsu and smoldering love scenes to do it.

The jujitsu came in "Here Comes the Groom," the Bing Crosby flicker of a couple of seasons ago. Alexis played a society matron who unbended in a most alarming way. The climax was a body-throwing match with Jane Wyman.

"Although I was never told about it, I'm sure many at the studio had trouble visualizing me in the role," she commented. "After the picture came out, people kept telling me, 'Great work, old girl; I didn't know you had it in you.'"

She happily went into another picture in which William Holden and Edmond O'Brien battled for her hand. "Although it wasn't exactly a sexy role, at least I wasn't 'cold and statuesque,'" she said.

Now she gets a complete change of pace in "Split Second," in which she plays a gal with physical tendencies. Set watchers say that she has a love scene with Stephen McNally that will sizzle the screens—if it gets by the censor's shears, which is doubtful. She was directed in the scene by a onetime crooner named Dick Powell.

Alexis said she got stuck in the cool category during her nine long years of duty at Warner Brothers.

"Just about my best picture there was 'The Constant Nymph,'" she recalled. "That's what got me typed. The studio couldn't think of me in any other kind of role."

The actress admits to being a "dirty blonde" in the shade of her hair and she has resisted any efforts to make her do or dye.

"In my early days at Warners," she said, "they claimed I would have to change my hair to be sexy. They thought I would have to be redhaired, but I wouldn't change. I wore a wig whenever they wanted a different hair color."

Famous Apartment Of Henry VIII Burned

LONDON (AP)—Fire last night damaged several Tudor apartments in the Clock Court of historic Hampton Court Palace — favorite residence of the much-married Henry VIII.

The burned-out area included spots supposedly haunted by the ghosts of two of Henry's six wives, Jane Seymour and Catherine Howard, in the rambling 16th-century building.

Oklahoma Considers Dropping Out Of Big 7 To Take Bowl

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma astonished the Big Seven Conference last night by threatening to withdraw and accept a football bowl bid—perhaps to the Orange Bowl—in defiance of conference rules.

The surprise announcement came from Dr. George L. Cross, university president, who told a student rally he would sanction a bowl trip if the team wants to go.

He and Athletic Director Bud Wilkinson meet this morning to discuss the explosive subject—and perhaps decide whether to sever their ancient ties with the Big Seven.

Dr. Cross indicated strongly the Sooners, fifth ranked in the nation and headed for a fifth straight loop crown, have their eye on the Orange Bowl, from which he reported receiving several feelers.

Such a course, he told cheering students, would entail withdrawing from the conference—and turning independent—or certain suspension for violating the bowl ban added:

"The only honorable course would be to withdraw from the conference."

As for himself, he said, "I would be perfectly willing to go," but pointed out he couldn't authorize a trip unless all concerned agreed to face conference disciplinary action, or other consequences.

"Neither Bud nor I think it would be smart to violate the rules," he declared.

The development came only a week after faculty representatives, meeting in Kansas City, refused to make an exception to the conference restriction on any postseason athletic activity.

It also brought to the surface long - smouldering discontent, referred to by Dr. Cross cryptically last night when he said, "We're in the doghouse with the Big Seven for many reasons."

Asked about the conference position at a Quarterbacks Club meeting Monday, Wilkinson said:

"I have a strong feeling the rule will be changed in January, but that's just a month too late."

The pronouncement from Dr. Cross, a strong sports booster, is a direct reversal of his stand a year ago when he went on record, along with university regents, as opposing post season football games.

The president said he had already contacted the regents, who left the matter up to him and Wilkinson.

In Kansas City, Conference Executive Secretary Reaves Peters said, "It's all news to me."

Rocky Gets His Punch In Pool

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano isn't a fancy dan in the ring. In fact his boxing is only a few points above nothing.

But he can punch. Joe Louis, Harry (Kid) Matthews and his title victim, Jersey Joe Walcott, and others can testify to that.

Where did Rocky develop his punching power? In swimming pools, under water.

Al Weill, his manager, told of the unusual training routine while lounging in the expanse of the Presidential Suite of the St. Francis Hotel.

Marciano is here to referee a fight tomorrow night.

"Rocky gets his punching power under water," Weill said. "He stands up to his neck and swings. The resistance of the water strengthened his arm and shoulder muscles.

"That's why when I make hotel reservations, I check to see if the place has a pool. This is a nice place but it has no pool. We'll be fixed up in Los Angeles. We will be there Saturday for a two-day rehearsal for the George Jessel show, Nov. 29."

Weill said he hoped to set back the date for the title defense against Walcott until June and mentioned New York City as the site he preferred. He expressed the opinion there was a possibility the athletic commission of that state would relent and issue a license to Walcott's now-barred manager, Felix Bocchiccio.

59-Year-Old Man Holding Court Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Every fall at about this time some youngster who ought to know better tries to win the world court tennis championship from Pierre Etchebaster, a spry little Dervish who will be 59 on his next birthday in December.

Nothing ever comes of it, or at least nothing has come of it in the past 24 years, the period during which the amazing Basque has been undisputed ruler of the world's most complicated game. It begins to look as though Pierre will eventually have to will the title to somebody.

At the moment a brash young American of 40, named Alastair Bradley Martin, is giving Etchebaster the annual testing to see what holds him up, and is getting plastered all over the austere premises of the Racquet and Tennis Club here. It is the only joint in town, we believe, which owns a court tennis layout.

Martin, the four-time American amateur champion, already has taken a bad beating in the first of the three-match series, and it was taken for granted that Pierre would complete the treatment today.

A yellowed clipping tells us that Etchebaster, who looks to weigh around 130, won his crown in 1928 by first defeating Jock Soutar of Philadelphia, the American professional champion, and then trouncing George Covey of England, the world's open champ, in London.

Since then they've all taken cracks at the wonderful little man, hardbitten pros and wealthy young amateurs usually named Ogden Phipps, but none of them has ever come really close to matching Pierre's wizardry.

Until someone starts an argument, we wouldn't be surprised if Etchebaster has been champion of a sport which requires physical agility and stamina longer than any man who ever lived. Willie Hoppe, the ageless billiard wonder, gives him a run in some respects, but nobody ever got a Charlehorse walking around a table.

Court tennis is a pretty tough game, calling for a lot of wind and for a wrist which can stand the gaff. We know at least that much about it, having watched Etchebaster and a number of others less gifted swat the hard little ball around the nooks and crannies of the fun house in which the game is conducted.

Pro Moguls To TurnDownAny Dallas Offer

DALLAS, Nov. 19 (AP)—Pro football won't be returning to Dallas anytime soon if ever. National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell has squelched any plans for this city to regain the Dallas Texans franchise it gave up a couple of weeks ago when losses were so heavy the group owning it couldn't carry on any longer.

A new group of moneyed men, willing to post three-quarters of a million dollars to put pro football on a sound financial footing in Dallas, was spurned by Bell yesterday when he refused to allow Dallas to bid for the franchise unless the group paid $200,000 in rental on Yankee Stadium in New York.

The $200,000 lease was assumed by Giles Miller and associates last winter in buying the New York Yanks franchise for $100,000. The rental was to be paid out at $25,000 a year. But before the first payment came due, the franchise had been turned back to the league by Miller and his group who lost over $225,000 in operating the club for a little more than half a season.

John Coyle ,former stockholder of the Dallas Texans, acting as spokesman for the new group, said they were willing to pay $100,000 for the franchise, reimburse the league for any loss it may suffer in operating the club for the remainder of the season and clear up any obligations of the Dallas Texans.

Henderson Is Angelo Spark

By The Associated Press

Gene Henderson, San Angelo quarterback, is not only the busiest but the most versatile football player in the Pioneer Junior College Conference.

He leads in rushing and kick-off returns and is second in punting, second in punt returns and second in scoring.

Henderson has carried the ball 64 times for 515 yards. He has taken seven kickoffs back for 208 yards, has punted 40 times for an average of 36.7, returned 12 kicks for 365 yards and scored 48 points. Quite a fellow.

Sam Howard of Arlington State tops the passers with 57 completions in 143 throws for 992 yards. Bobby Bowmer of Schreiner is second with 37 of 74 for 529.

Joe Bill Fox of Tarleton State is the leading punter with an average of 39.2 on 27 kicks. Johnny Kozart of Arlington State is first in punt returns, having taken 19 back for 383 yards.

Jube Belcher, San Angelo end, is the leader in pass-receiving. He has snared 25 for 363 yards. James Brazell of Schreiner has caught 27 for 361.

Ken Vavra of Arlington State tops in scoring with 62 points on six touchdowns and 26 extra points.

Arlington State leads in team offense with 3,032 yards in nine games. Ranger is the defensive leader, allowing only 58 points to be scored against it and holding the opposition to less than 170 yards rushing and passing per game.

Two Hermleigh Gridders On All-District 5-B Eleven

Two Hermleigh gridders were named last night to the all-District 5-B team in a vote by representatives of the nine schools in the district.

Names to the first squad were End Jimmy Cooper and Fullback Dicky Wall, both on the first for their second year in a row.

Wall, a senior, was leading ground gainer for the Hermleigh Cardinals this season, as well as leading scorer. Cooper, also a senior, was the team's chief defensive player and best pass receiver.

Also named to the team for his third year in a row was Bill Etheredge, Hobbs fullback who was leading scorer and ground gainer for that team.

Hermleigh, the district champion, is slated to meet Sanderson of District 6-B in Snyder Dec. 5 for the bi-district playoff.

Others named to the first team were End Billy Joe Cramer of Coahoma, Tackles Robert Payne of Trent and Jim Ed Taylor of Loraine, Guards Milburn Wilk of Robert Lee and Jimmy Gray of Bronte, Center J. O. Bagwell of Bronte, and Backs Gary Hoover of Coahoma and Roy Johnson of Loraine.

Center Bill Huston of Hermleigh, outstanding defensive player and senior, was named to the second team. Also chosen for that team were Ends Earl Neves of Hobbs and Norman Roberts of Robert Lee, Tackles John Turner of Coahoma and Lewis South of Hobbs, Guards Douglas Wilson of Loraine and George Ogden of Hobbs, and Backs Donnie Duncan of Robert Lee, Lyndon Waldrop of Bronte, Bill Reed of Cohoma, and Doyce Nix of Loraine.

Floyd Hacker, quarterback and outstanding passer for the Cardinals, Tackle Denzil Kight, Guard Julius Roemisch, both defensive standouts, all made honorable mention. Also on the honorable mention list were End Bobby Price of Loraine, Tackle Ad Davis of Robert Lee, Guard Alton Freeman of Trent, and Backs Jimmy Woolsey of Ira, Phil Goodwin of Trent, Bill Havens of Robert Lee, J. M. Heatley of Trent, Kenneth Rasco of Hobbs, and Donnie Whiteside of Divide.

The district committee passed a resolution of protest against a recent ruling of the Interscholastic League splitting the district. The league named Hermleigh, Loraine Coahoma, Hobbs, and Ira to District 6-B in a tentative setup, while Trent, Robert Lee, Bronte, Divide, and Highland were placed in District 7-B.

Both Divide and Highland have indicated that they will not participate in Class B athletics next year because they do not have enough boys to play. Highland was not a member of the district this year.

OPEN SEASON

By DALE WALTON

Coach Speedy Moffett had something interesting to tell at Quarterback Club last night that makes the picture for the Tiger grid squad look much brighter for next year.

While the Tigers will lose five seniors off the team this year, three of them regulars, every other team in the district will have a big loss.

Moffett said team eligibility lists show that Sweetwater will lose 19 players, Lamesa will lose 18, Vernon 17, Plainview 12, and Big Spring 10.

However, all five of those teams still may have more experienced players next year than does Snyder, because the Tigers will not have many seniors then. Most of the squad playing now are sophomores and freshmen.

* * *

Jack Dillon, assistant coach who has scouted Big Spring several times this season, says things look rough again for the Tigers this Friday when they meet the Steers.

Dillon reports that Big Spring is a good first and third quarter team. The squad scored first on Vernon last Firday night, then led off again after Vernon had tied up the score, but the Vernon eleven finally overtook the team and won 34-21.

* * *

Joe Baxter, quarterback, and Frankie Minton, tackle, will both probably be out of the game Friday night. Baxter has a virus infection, and Minton is still recovering from a fractured collar bone.

* * *

Reserved seat tickets for the Snyder - Big Spring game, which is to be played in Big Spring Friday night, are now on sale at the school administration office and at the office of the county superintendent in the courthouse.

CONCRETE MIXED ON WAY TO JOB

Trucks of the Caprock Materials Co. are shown above lined up before the firm's huge machine which mixes the raw materials for ready-mix concrete for delivery all over this part of West Texas. From the hoppers the sand, gravel, cement and water are poured into the mixers on the trucks, and auxilliary engines mix the concrete on the way to where it is to be poured. Some of the biggest concrete pouring jobs done around here in the past three years have been handled by the company. (Lee Watson Photograph.)

Taxes, Vehicle Law, Election Code On Legislature's Agenda

(EDITORS NOTE: What are the most vital issues facing the 53rd session of the Legislature meeting Jan. 13? To find out, Associated Press staffmen interviewed scores of lawmakers by mail or in person. This story summarizes their findings. Other stories will develop the issues in detail.)

By BO BYERS
and MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN, Nov. 15 (AP)—A new tax fight, water conservation, highway financing and a pay raise for teachers are the prime problems facing the 53rd Texas Legislature in January, say the lawmakers who will serve there.

Seators and represenatives gave priority to these four issues in response to a survey by The Associated Press.

Taxation drew far more first-place votes than any other legislative problem.

Four of 15 senators and 36 of 66 representatives said avoiding more taxes or determining where to raise new money is the most urgent task they will have. Many others not rating it at the top still listed it high.

The need for water conservation has been emphasized by devastating effects of a three-year drought. Concern over this problem was reflected particularly in the comments of West and South Texas legislators but also was indicated by senators and representatives in all regions.

Placed on the same level of importance as water conservation was the financing of highway construction and repair.

Higher teacher salaries were rated the fourth most significant matter, well ahead of any other topic on which the legislators voiced an opinion.

Other issues which lawmakers ranked in descending order of importance were the Auto Inspection Law, which most said should be modified or repealed; establishment of a presidential preference primary; revision of the new Election Code; the Drivers Financial Responsibility Law; a constitutional amendment to remove the 35-million-dollar annual ceiling on public health appropriation, and truck load limits.

Mail questionnaires were sent to all 31 senators and 150 representatives. Some were interviewed personally. Those who took time to answer included 10 veteran legislators and five newcomers in the Senate and 33 oldtimers and 33 freshmen in the House.

Results of the survey of the House:

Taxation was named the No. 1 issue by 36. It was ranked second by four; third by one; fourth by four; fifth by four; sixth by one; and seventh, its lowest rating, by one.

Water conservation loomed first in importance to eight. It received four No. 2 votes, five votes each for No. 3 and No. 4, seven No. 5, and other votes through No. 10.

Highway financing received only three first-place votes, but 17 listed it No. 2, nine No. 3 and No. 4 each, with additional votes for as low as eighth place.

Teacher salaries drew top billing from two members. Six placed this issue No. 2, eleven No. 3, nine No. 4, six No. 5. Its lowest ranking was No. 9.

A House fight over merits of the auto inspection law is indicated. Six representatives picked it as the No. 1 issue, one of the six advocating repeal, one calling for modification or repeal; two for modification and two not indicating their attitude toward the present law.

Among members who rated auto inspection in lower spots from second through eleventh, seven called for repeal, 18 for modification, three for modification or repeal, one for modification or no change, three for no change and three did not indicate their attitude.

Establishment of a presidential preference primary was boomed as the No. 1 problem by one House member. Four placed it No. 2, one No. 3, four No. 4, eight No. 5, and it drew scattered votes all the way to the bottom of the 12-place list.

Revision of the Election Code, changes in the Gilmer-Aikin School Laws, and removal of the 35-million-dollar welfare ceiling were the only other issues that drew single first - place votes among House members.

Possible controversy over the Drivers' Financial Responsibility Law is reflected in the fact two members urged repeal, one sought modification or repeal, 15 suggested modification, two recommended modificatiin or no change, 10 voted for no change, and six did not indicate their attitude. The issue drew three votes for second place.

A majority of the House votes on the importance of a higher public health approiation placed it no higher than ninth although two ranked it as high as third.

Most representatives apparently feel the question of truck load limits, a hot subject last session, has been settled for the time being. No one proposed lowering the weight limits and the House leader in gaining an increase last year was the only one to suggest another boost. Seventeen said there should be no change.

Survey results in the Senate:

Only one senator omitted taxation from his list. Four rated it top issue, six through it was No. 2 and four others rated it generally important.

Water conservation impressed two senators as the No. 1 issue, three others thought No. 2, two rated it No. 4 and six others rated it generally.

Highway financing pressed hard on the heels of water in Senate popularity. Two gave it No. 1 importance, four thought it rated No. 3, one put it in No. 6 position and four tagged it generally.

Teacher salaries failed to get any first-place votes but came in strong nevertheless with two No. 3 votes, two No. 4 votes, one No. 5 vote and six votes generally.

The only other issue getting a first-place Senate vote was the question of a presidential primary. It got one vote each as No. 1, No. 3, No. 5, two votes as No. 8, and five votes generally.

Auto inspections appeared to be in store for some Senate slugfests. Four want to repeal the law, five want it changed, one wants no change, and two think it'll create a Legislative flurry but declined to indicate their stand.

Driver responsibility, too, may bring some fireworks. Two want it repealed, four want changes, three want no change, two think it's in for a scrap but took no stand.

Nine senators indicated the election code needs some changes.

Four think Gilmer-Aikin Education Laws need reworking. Six think truck load limits may stir up some fuss but three of them want no change and the others took no stand. The public welfare ceiling got four votes, one for repeal, one for raising it, one for no change and one no stand.

Public health as an issue got only two Senate votes.

Mt. Everest May Have Been Conquered By Swiss Alp Climbers

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Swiss and Nepalese mountain climbers trying to scale the world's highest peak were believed today to have either conquered Mt. Everest or to have failed in their attempt.

A nine-day-old report, brought here yesterday by native runner, said the Swiss-led expedition then had established its eighth camp only 150 feet from the top of the more than 29,000-foot-high Everest. That, itself, is higher than man has ever climbed and lived to tell it.

Experts said they were certain that by now "the attempt is over and the Swiss are on the way down, whether they have won or lost," because it would hardly be possible for them to remain long at such a height.

Negro Singer To Wed White Jazz Drumer

LONDON (AP)—Pearl Bailey, popular Negro blues singer, and her white fiance, jazz-drummer Louis Bellson Jr., say "definitely" they will get married tomorrow or the day after despite his father's objections to the mixed match.

The smiling American couple hugged and kissed warmly when 29-year-old Bellson, a member of Duke Ellington's band, flew in from New York yesterday. Miss Bailey, 34, has been appearing here in the chic Colony Club.

Bellson told newsmen his father, Louis Bellson Sr. of Moline, Ill., had cabled him a warning he would disown him if he marries his Negro sweetheart. But nothing, young Bellson vowed, will halt the couple's plans.

They have the blessing of Bellson's mother, who yesterday told reporters in Moline that when the pair return, "My home certainly will be open to them. I wish both of them all the happiness in the world. My son is 29 and he certainly knows what he's doing."

Woman Speed Pilot To Receive Harmon Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Auriol, daughter-in-law of French President Vincent Auriol and holder of the women's air speed record, is here to receive the Harmon Trophy from President Truman tomorrow.

The trophy, symbolic of the record, will be presented to her at the White House. She arrived here from Paris yesterday.

Mrs. Auriol, a professional pilot, set the record with a speed of 509 miles per hour in a French-built jet fighter in May. 1950.

These items are among the many gifts arriving here in daily floods at Eisenhower's residence. There is also a pile of 35,000 letters and telegrams.

Wolfe Using Tree To Make Photograpic Xmas Cards

Jumping the Christmas season by a few weeks, Wolfe Studio & Camera Shop, 1710 Twenty - fifth street, has decorated a Christmas tree for use in making photographic Christmas cards.

Wolfe stated that many people expressed the desire for these type cards but felt that pictures made last year, especially of small babies were out of date for use this year.

"As a solution to this problem we are getting the Christmas spirit early," Wolfe said.

Nearly everyone who hears of the idea agrees it's the answer to the problem of what picture to put on the cards, he added.

"Most people are pleasantly surprised to find that photgraphic cards made from their negatives or snapshots cost very little.

He said the prices are $9.95 per hundred, $5.50 for 50, and $2.95 for 25 cards. That price makes them cost only very little more than snapshots. And the price includes envelopes.

Mrs. Wolfe added that a lot of persons are getting movie and still camera outfits this Christmas on the easy credit terms which Wolfe Studio and Camera Shop offers.

"Many persons put off buying a movie outfit because of the initial cost; I know from experience with my two small children that they change from day to day and next year they are not going to do the same cute things they do this year," she said.

"Some of the appreciated movies of our children are the ones taken on Christmas morning. With modern lights this is so simple people who have never taken a movie before get perfect pictures," she stated.

Wolfe added that as little as ten per cent down and up to 18 months to pay mean no strain on the pocketbook. He also added that they appreciate "lookers" and invite anyone interested to stop by and browse around.

Among the many lines carried are DeJur, Revere, Eastman, Exa, Argus, and Polaroid.

Executives Are Impressed With Space Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some top-ranking businessmen little given to fantasy are so impressed with prospects of man-made islands circling in outer space that many today believe such a project should be financed for defense purposes.

Several members of the Business Advisory Council of the Commerce Department, made up of executives of some 100 large corporations, said at the council's closing session at Sea Island, Ga., yesterday that a recent off-the-record report by an Army guided missiles expert had "excited a lot of interest."

Werhner Von Braun, the ordnance expert, told the group two months ago that a space station of military value could be built within 10 years at a cost of four billion dollars or less.

Von Braun, project director of the Army Ordnance Guided Missiles Center at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., went on to say that the nation that controlled outer space could achieve world peace.

But, he said, the United States has "mighty little time to lose" because it is known that Soviets "are thinking along the same line."

The off - the - record address aroused so much interest at the time that it was printed and sent to council members, thus gaining somewhat wider circulation.

Robert T. Stevens, council chairman, told a reporter that although some labeled it "Buck Rogers stuff," others were impressed.

One executive said: "If I had four billion dollars I'd give it to him right now."

Von Braun told the business council that supporters of the project "are faced with far fewer basic problems than were the men who undertook the atom bomb development back in 1940."

The technique of getting materials to the stations' site at more than 1,000 miles from earth is known, he said. It would be an enormous, three-stage rocket, similar to, but larger than one already successfully tested.

The cargo needed for the space island would be left suspended in space while rockets returned for more payloads, landing like any airplane.

Gradually the materials would be assembled in space, creating an artificial satellite in the shape of a wheel.

It would rotate on its axis and circle the earth at 16,000 miles an hour.

Europeans Not Up To Date On Farm Methods

PARIS (AP) — World corn-husking champion Elmer Carlson left for the United States Friday with the parting observation that the governments of some European countries are "just plain stupid" about helping their farmers.

Elmer, a strapping, 43-year-old Audubon, Iowa, farmer, said European governments are "taking the easy way out. They put high taxes on gasoline, automobiles and farm machinery. The results are that European farmers are years behind the times in mechanized farming methods — they cannot afford machines and they could not afford to run them once they had them."

Elmer was brought to Europe in mid-September by the Mutual Security Agency to demonstrate to farmers of France, Holland and Italy how to shuck corn with a husking hook—a hand tool used by American farmers so speed the job of ripping the dried husks from ears of corn.

MSA hopes to persuade European farmers to adopt the hook method, enabling them to husk more in less time and thus cut costs.

Big First Day Bag Of Deer As Reports Trickle In Over State

By The Associated Press

The Texas deer hunting season went into its second day after one of the most successful opening days in years.

Figures reported to The Associated Press show that kills Sunday topped first day totals of last year in many seconds.

Hunters said the deer were fat and plentiful but turkeys were hard to find.

Fred Maly, outdoor editor of the San Antonio Express-News, put the opening day kill at around 8,000.

Dave Coslett of The San Angelo Standard-Times said his figures showed these deer on storage: Mason 231, Llano 170, San Saba 40, Kerrville 81, Uvalde 61, Rocksprings 30 and Brady 24.

DOUBLE LAST YEAR

Kenneth Foree, Dallas News outdoor editor, reported from Kerrville that the day's kill was almost double that of the first day last year.

Foree said that although the area was parched by the drought, the animals mostly were fat. It is believed a timely rain that made an acorn crop put the lard on the deer.

Some highlights of the first day:

Game Warden Jack Gregory, Kerrville, saw to it that three men paid $158 for using a spotlight to kill a 10-pointer on the eve of the season.

R. H. Webb, Dallas, bagged a buck in Palo Pinto County at 7:20 a.m., "just good daylight."

LIMIT FIRST MORNING

Mrs. Tom Harrington, Clarksville, bagged a 190-pound, 10-pointer on the Stiles Ranch near Anona in the Red River Valley. Ed Green, Clarksville, got a 190-pounder on the same ranch.

In Gillespie County, R. H. Fowler, Austin, and W. R. Cox, Gladewater, killed two bucks each to complete their season's bag limits the first morning.

Victor Keller, Mason, won the first deer award in Mason County.

In Edwards County, O. J. Kubish, Pleasanton, made the first kill. Almost 85,000 acres in the county were reported still open to leasing for hunters.

ONE HAS 19 POINTS

Arthur Boenig, Converse, killed a 106-pound buck with 19-point Antlers.

What may be a near world record white tail deer horn spread was carried by a 13-point, 146-pound buck killed by A. W. Anderson, Sinton, in McMullen County. The spread measured 31 inches, or six-eighths inch shy of the recognized record.

Kerr County reported an opening day as good as last year. The county had a record of 3,600 bucks and 400 turkeys killed last year by 9,000 hunters.

The patient, whose name was not announced, was flown from Korea to Japan.

Gentle Housewives Are Seeking Mechanical Flogging Machines

SUTTON COLDFIELD, England (AP)—The good housewives of this Midlands town want to bring back flogging—but with tender thoughts for the whip-wielders. They suggested today that electric punishers handle the task.

A housewives' league told the district's member of Parliament that corporal punishment for criminals is necessary to end the recent wave of blackjack crimes.

"I'm not mechanically minded," said League Chairman Mrs. Dorothy Woodland, "but surely scientists can devise something. If they can invent an electric chair, I am sure they could invent an electric flogger."

McDonald Named To Head Steel Workers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—One of the late Philip Murray's jobs has been filed temporarily.

David J. McDonald, for 30 years right-hand man to the veteran labor leader, was named acting president of the CIO United Steelworkers until the union's members can select a new leader in a referendum to be held next Feb. 10.

McDonald was selected Saturday by the USW's 35-member Eecutive Board. He will continue his duties as the union's secretary-treasurer.

Baby Falls From Car Traveling 80 MPH

Tragedy was narrowly missed last week when a baby fell from a car traveling 80 miles per hour on the Big Spring highway.

The accident occurred Thursday afternoon.

The child, Lynda Carrol Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, 2701 Avenue G, was treated for severe cuts and bruises, and a broken collar bone at Battenfield Hospital, and was released yesterday morning and is now at home under a doctor's care.

The Jacksons and Mr. and Mrs. Otis A. Lee were enroute to Big Spring to visit relatives when the baby opened a rear car door and was jerked out and rolled from 20 to 30 feet.

LANDMARK IN HISTORY

Monticello stands on a high hill, two miles south of Charlottesville. In the past, this hill was called "Jefferson's little mountain" commanding as it does magnificent view of the surrounding country. When a young man, Jefferson was a keen student of architecture as well as law and on this hill, he decided to build a mansion. While the building was in the process of erection, the family home, "Shadwell," near-by where Jefferson was born and which he had inherited upon his father's death, burned to the ground in 1770. Fortunately; one room in the new house was sufficently finished for occupancy and, using this room as parlor, bed-room and study, Jefferson was able to superintend at close hand the completion of his residence and the laying out of the formal garden, both which have been carefully restored and now are visited by thousands.

New York Underworld Leader Drops Out Of Sight Suddenly

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal officials took denaturalization suit papers in hand again today to make a new attempt to find Thomas (Three-Finger Brown) Luchese, prime target in a state crime probe.

U. S. Atty. Frank J. Parker yesterday filed a petition in Brooklyn Federal Court asking that the Sicilian-born Luchese be stripped of his citizenship, a preliminary move to deportation action.

A U. S. marshal and two deputies later sought Luchese to serve him with the papers but he could not be located at his Quenes home or his summer home at Lido Beach.

Meanwhile, the New York State Crime Commission continued its public hearings today (10 a.m. EST) into political-underworld relationships. The current inquiry sessions may wind up today or tomorrow.

The government brought its denaturalization action against Luchese on the grounds he obtained his American citizenship nine years ago in Newark, N. J., by illegal means.

In the government petition, it is alleged that Luchese did not list five arrests, including two for homicide, when he sought naturalization. The petition says he listed only a 1922 conviction for car theft.

U. S. Marshal Eugene J. Smith of Brooklyn and his aides were expected to visit Luchese's business office today and to seek a reported third residence.

A wealthy garment manufacturer, Luchese is listed as secretary-treasurer of a midtown Manhattan dress firm.

Luchese, who will be 53 Dec. 1, has 60 days to file an answer to the government denaturalization suit after he is served with the papers.

The State Crime Commission decided yesterday not to call Luchese, contenting itself with putting on the public record testimony given by the ex-convict at a previous closed session.

His testimony was read last Friday after the commission was told Luchese took over for gambler Frank Costello when the latter started serving an 18-month sentence for contempt of the U. S. Senate Crime Committee.

Yesterday's crime commission hearings centered around nominations for judgeships by Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

An attorney, Frank J. Dufficy, said Tammany District Leader William Connally once offered him a $10,840-a-year judgeship if Dufficy put up between $15,000 and $25,000. Dufficy said he declined.

Connolly took the stand to deny the offer.

Benjamin Bernstein, another attorney, said he wanted a 1945 Municipal Court nomination and went to two Tammany district leaders, Angelo Simonetti and J. Raymond Jones. Bernstein said he was told he would have to put up $18,200 for expenses, expenses he did not consider necessary in a strongly Democratic district.

Jones, taking the stand, replied that a primary fight was anticipated and contended that any estimate given Bernstein was for expenses, not contributions. Jones, informed the election law limits such expenditures to $3,300, said he did not know this.

Simonetti said he recalled the talk with Bernstein but could not remember any discussion of money.

The commission has no prosecution power, but will report to the state legislature and to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Japan's 1st Major Labor Strike Begins

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's biggest strike since formation of labor unions in 1946 began today when electric power workers seeking a wage hike cut the power supply in various areas.

Government officials said unless agreement is reached within the next two days, gas and electricity throughout Japan will be cut down 50 per cent.

GOP Leaders Want To Study Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans' top congressional leaders say they favor appointment of a commission to study the federal government's role in future social welfare programs.

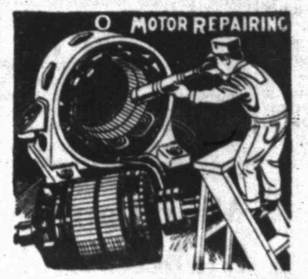

The idea was proposed yesterday by Sen. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP's Senate Policy Committee, and endorsed by Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, slated as speaker of the House in the Republican-controlled Congress.

Taft told reporters such a commission could examine social security, housing and health problems as well as look at other social welfare issues.

The nasturtium is a perennial but in cultivation it is treated as an annual.

Testimony In Treason Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Two treason trial witnesses against John David Provoo testified yesterday about a clash between the defendant and an American officer who was executed by Japanese captors on Corregidor.

The executed officer was Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Ia., Hospital mess officer on Corregidor. Provoo was an Army sergeant allegedly in the good graces of the Japanese.

Charles Benjamin Walker, 54, retired Army noncommissioned officer who was a hospital mess sergeant after the fall of Corregidor in 1942, testified that Provoo threatened Thomson.

The witness told this story:

Provoo entered Thomson's mess after the meal hour and demanded to be fed, and the captain told Provoo he would have to take his meals at the regular hours. Provoo became insolent, and the captain told him that as long as he wore the uniform of a U. S. Army sergeant he owed respect to superior officers.

Provoo replied: "I take orders from nobody. I'm working for the Japanese and I'll give you three minutes to get me something to eat or I'll turn you over to the Japanese."

Walker said he himself walked away at this point—and "I never saw Capt. Thomson again."

The government charges Provoo, 35, of Sausalito, Calif., with responsibility for the execution of Thomson. Provoo is accused of going over to the Japanese and selling out his fellow prisoners. He could get the death penalty if convicted. The defense has contended that Provoo did nothing except what the Japanese forced him to do under pain of death.

Walker's testimony was supported by Col. John K. Borneman, 54, of Lancaster, Pa., a retired member of the U. S. Army Corps of Chaplains.

Conservatives Win Test In Parliament

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's Conservatives more than maintained their parliamentary voting margin last night in the first crucial test of their drive to roll back Socialist legislation passed by the previous Labor government.

The House of Commons approved 302-282 the decisive second reading of a bill restoring Britain's nationalized trucking industry to private ownership. The normal Conservaitve margin in the 625-seat House is 16.

The Conservatives also intend to denationalize the iron and steel industry but the parliamentary battle on that issue will come later.

Chaplains Suffer Losses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army says that, in two years' fighting in Korea, seven of its chaplains have been killed, five are missing and an undetermined number have been injured.

Good Feeding Fools Vicar In England

SELBY ABBEY, England (AP)—The Rev. John Kent announced in the parish magazine last month that his dog Lassie was going to become a mother and her puppies would go on sale shortly at 2 shillings, 6 pence (35 cents) each.

Today the vicar said it was all a mistake.

"Lassie had us all fooled," he explained. "She is just a well-fed dog."

The basin area of the Great Lakes is about 248,500 square miles.

$100 Per Month Will Put You In Ancient Florentine Villa

By EDWARD H. HARTE

FLORENCE, Italy—Do you crave "background?"

Do you want to live like a king in a palace? For relatively few American dollars you can exchange the American way of life for the regal way of life in Florence.

Here, for $100 a month, you can be the master of a 15th Century palace—completely furnished.

In the beautiful hills above Florence there are innumerable villas, some big, some small. Many can be had for less than $100 a month. But let's not fool around with those little places (10 to 15 rooms). Here's Lo Strozzino, a choice one. Let's try it for size.

FOR $100

In this 400-year-old pleasure palace of the famous Strozzi family (rivals of the Medici) your $100 will bring you:

One gigantic drawing room;

One human - sized living room;

Three bedrooms, one roughly the size of a hotel lobby and about as cozy;

Four bathrooms;

Dining room, kitchen, and pantry; and

Numberless servants' quarters, servants' baths, laundries, storage rooms, sewing rooms, etc.;

And linking all this grandeur together is a network of stately halls and corridors, which represent a lavish waste of space but contribute immeasurably to the background for princely living. When one goes someplace in a house this size, he allows time for the trip . . .

Now for the furniture. Included in your $100 rent are complete furnishings. Silver and crystal lamp, all emitting a minimum of light. Inlaid and heavily carved furniture in abundance. Huge gilded armchairs upholstered in blue velvet standing guard in the hallways. Fifteenth and 16th Century beds—probably guaranteed to induce curvature of the spine within the first month. Paintings galore—portraits, naked athletes, madonnas, and landscapes—most of them good. And, of course, plates, glasses, and silverware.

15TH CENTURY

The villa was built in the 15th Centruy. The bathrooms were added later — but not much later. The bathrooms in your Florentine villa will be as big as your living room back home. Amidst the unfamiliar and antiquated fixtures will be a gleaming intruder, a monstrous little contraption which heats water for your bath. The Italians have all kinds of bath-water heaters, gas, electric and wood-burning, and apparently the smart householder is the one who has installed at least one heater of each sort as a measure of safety in this country of uncertain utilities.

But there is one compensation for the chilly, barn-like bathrooms, at Lo Strozzino at least. For there the baths are paved and walled in handpainted tiles, like a huge Dutch fireplace.

Outside each velvet-draped window of your villa you will have an incomparable view, looking north to snow-capped Appenines, west to the marble hills of Carrara, and south and east to your exclusive neighbors, perched in their villas atop little hills like you own.

This is the life of Riley in Italy.

But as you may have guessed, there is one glaring omission in this picture of Italianate splendour. That missing quality is what we Americans call comfort.

NO CLOSETS

For your villa, so rich in history, is pitifully poor in closets. Your 15-foot ceilings, with their gorgeous painted beams of ancient oak, are splendid props for elegant living, but they will make it impossible for you to be warm in winter. Heating your villa will cost more than the rent, because the central system will function only when the whole villa — which probably has 40 rooms — is heated.

So you will struggle along with wood stoves, which are neither elegant nor very warm. Your floors, too, will be like an ice pan. For in Florence princes and plebes alike pad about on tile floors, made of brown tiles such as we would use for paving a walk or outdoor terrace.

Your kitchen, a relic of yesteryears, will be far removed from the dining room. It will be the ruins of old equipment for "open-hearth" cooking, covered over with a thin veneer of modernity, consisting of an antique gas range, a refrigerator like the one you traded back in '32, and some three-legged stools.

But these are small worries, because you won't be in the kitchen, anyway. Your cook, who will live on the place and will cost you about $17 a month, besides her room and board and uniforms, will know how to make heavenly meals with this ancient equipment.

REGAL GROUNDS

While she is struggling with the old stove, you will be walking in your extensive grounds. And what grounds! They're truly regal, alone worth the $100 you're paying each month for the villa. You have the customary paved terrace, from the edge of which you look down through statuary, urns, balustrades, and Italian cypress to Florence in the valley below. Wandering down the hillside are your gardens — two formal gardens, where hedges and gravel paths cut designs through the lawns and flowers. Up near the house is your greenhouse. And at the bottom of the garden the crowning luxury of the whole layout— your private swimming pool.

It must be seen to be believed. It is in a little plot of ground sunk about 15 feet below the level of the formal garden above, a monumental staircase, crumbling with age and covered with light green moss, sweeps down to the pool.

There you find yourself in utter privacy, walled all around — only you and the mosquitoes and the deep, calm pool.

Such a villa is fit for a king, and $100 a month makes you the king. In the hills around Florence many Americans are living in similar surroundings, paying relatively little rent. For three or four months in the winter, their huge dwellings are so cold they are almost uninhabitable. But for the other months of the year they are the setting for a life so pleasant and so easy that many foreigners who come here for a season never go home again.

Many Can Have Diabetes And Not Know It

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — A medical manhunt is on this week—to find more than one million Americans believed to have diabetes without knowing it.

You could be in peril if you actually have the disease and it's left untreated. If you are found your disease can quickly be brought under control with insulin and proper diet, sometimes diet alone.

A small army of doctors and volunteer workers will be on a special hunt for "hidden" diabetics all this week, which is known as Diabetes Week, sponsored by the American Diabetes Association.

Many of them will offer free urine tests for excessive sugar, usually a reliable means of detecting diabetes.

Collection stations, where urine samples can be left, have been set up in many of the 700 counties which have established formal programs. Drugstores, public schools and firehouses have been designated for that purpose in some communities.

The American Diabetes Association (ADA), a nonprofit organization of doctors and laymen especially interested in diabetes detection, treatment and education says that whether the tests are offered without charge is left entirely to local medical authorities.

Medical authorities in 31 of the 48 states have organized state-wide detection and education programs.

The ADA estimates about one million diabetics now are under treatment and that another million persons have diabetes without knowing it.

Still another two million Americans at any one time are believed to have a potential for developing the disease sometime during their lives.

People who are overweight are among likely candidates—especially if there's a history of diabetes in the family. Excessive thirst, frequent urination and excessive hunger are among danger signals.

Russia Behind In Her UN Assessments

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations reports that Russia has handed in $2,168,217 on her 1952 U.N. assessments but still owes more than four million dollars.

The United States and Britain headed the list of a number of nations who are paid up in full for 1952. The U. S. contribution was $23,682,125.91.

Bikes May Be Hard To Find

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Buying junior a new bike this Christmas?

You may not be able to get the exact style and color you want. Manufacturers who have been bucking shortages of chrome and steel are hard-pressed trying to keep up with demand.

"The sales outlook would be terrific if we could only get enough steel," says an industry spokesman. "We're selling more bikes than we can make."

The tight situation in bicycles goes back to 1951 when steel restrictions held production down to 1,800,000 units. The industry's entire output for that year was sold out by Christmas.

Things looked pretty grim but the manufacturers scrounged around for scarce materials and developed new sources of supply. Today they feel they've produced enough bikes to take care of this year's Christmas rush, although the selection may be somewhat narrow.

Retail prices are about the same as last year. Prices next year are expected to reflect a 7 per cent increase recently allowed manufacturers by the Office of Price Stabilization.

One of the hottest items right now is the junior size two-wheeler with attached outrigger wheels designed for beginners 5 to 9 years old. The outrigger wheels hold the bike upright while the tot is learning to balance.
