Farmers Vote For Marketing Quotas

Hot Oil Confiscation Becomes Issue In Governor's Race

Thompson Hurls Criticism At Wm. McCraw

Attorney General's Department Rapped For Selling Confiscated Oil At 20½ Cents A Barrel

By HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 12.—Administration of the hot oil confiscation law by Attorney General William McCraw became an issue today in the governor's race.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, opponent of McCraw in the gubernatorial derby, criticized the attorney general's department for assertedly selling 83,963 barrels of confiscated oil a week ago at Longview for 20 1-2 cents a barrel.

"Racket Should Be Stopped"

He voiced the opinion "this confiscation racket should be stopped" and said he did not intend to sign a tender permitting movement of the oil "unless compelled to do so by court proceedings."

McCraw made no reply, but debate on operation of the confiscation act probably will wax warm by late spring.

The other big political development of the day was withdrawal of former State Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman from the lieutenant governor's contest.

Announced candidates for the lieutenant governorship were Sen. G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, author of the law which drove horse race betting from Texas, Coke Stevenson of Junction, twice speaker of the house, and John Lee Smith of Throckmorton.

Governor James V. Allred, who may or may not try for a third term, had been silent on politics for several days. His quarrels with McCraw highlighted earlier stages of the campaign.

Thompson, who is chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission, had about convinced even the most skeptical he was in the race to the finish regardless of whether Allred should seek renomination. Plans went forward for opening of his state headquarters here later this month.

Reports were current that Myron G. Blalock of Marshall, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee friendly to Allred, would

Holman Elected Teachers Head

(By The Associated Press)

BIG SPRING, March 12.—Adoption of a new constitution to conform with that of their state organization, action on resolution touching on educational topics and election of officers marked the concluding session of the West Texas Teachers association here today.

Selection of the place and date of the next meeting was left to the executive committee.

Holman Elected President

Hayes Holman, superintendent at Post, was elected president, succeeding Dr. R. E. Garlin of Texas Tech. Dr. Albert Barnett of Tech was named vice president; George Gentry, Big Spring, secretary, and Supt. O. L. Laas, Plainview, treasurer.

Resolutions adopted included: endorsement of the state board of education in raising the per capita appropriationment to $22 and recommending that be the minimum figure; recommendation of adequate equalization fund with regulations

Only Three More Days Left In Which To Fill Out Returns

If you haven't already prepared your income tax return, you have only Sunday and two days afterward in which to do it and escape the penalty for belated filing.

Hitler Stalks Triumphantly Into Austria; Defies World

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, March 13, (Sunday) — Adolf Hitler has joined Germany and Austria and defied the world to part them.

He proclaimed this new Pan-German union from a Linz balcony to cheering thousands yesterday.

This union joins a Germany of 66,020,000 population with an Austria of 6,748,826 and adds 32,360 square miles to the German reich.

FASCISTS APPROVE MOVE

ROME, March 13. (Sunday) (AP)—Italy's Fascist grand council gave its approval today to Adolf Hitler's nazification of Austria.

The council's approval was expressed in a communique issued after it had received Hitler's promise that German expansion to the south would stop at the Italian frontier.

German troops today reached Brenner Pass, strategic gateway between Austria and Italy.

In a personal letter to Premier Mussolini, Hitler embodied a similar guarantee to France, but gave no assurance he would respect frontiers of other countries.

Vienna Prepares For Entry

Hitler spent the night at Linz and Vienna was prepared for his triumphal entry today. There were wild demonstrations throughout Austria, especially in Granz, long a Nazi stronghold.

As Hitler spoke at Linz Nazi forces, tanks and planes swept through tiny Austria to re-make the map of Europe and rouse new fears of European war.

"Any other attempt to part this people will be in vain," the triumphant Fuehrer told throngs massed to welcome his return to his native land and fulfillment of the long-dreamed union of Germany and her southern neighbor.

HERE'S HOW TO PRONOUNCE IT

NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—This is how the last name of the new Austrian chancellor, Seysz-Inquart, is pronounced: Zize (as in nice) Inkwart.

Declared "Divine" Mission

Declaring it his "divine" mission to return Austria to the German fatherland, bare-headed Hitler in an army overcoat told the crowd "your presence is testimony it is not the wish of only a few to found this pan-Germany but is the full will of the German people itself.

"It would be fine also if some of our well known international seekers after truth could not only see the truth here but also recognize it."

Proclaims Annulment

The new Nazi chancellor of Austria, Arthur Seysz-Inquart, greeted Hitler by proclaiming annulment of the treaty of St. Germain which forbade union of Germany and Austria.

Diplomatic circles expressed belief the presence of so many German troops was not intended primarily to intimidate Austria so much as Czechoslovakia.

They pointed out that German troops, encircling half of Czechoslovakia, form a powerful threat to a

Connally Praises Farm Tenancy Act

DALLAS, March 12. (AP)—The federal government's farm purchase program for tenants was declared today by Senator Tom Connally as one of the most sanely progressive steps this country has taken.

The senator made his remarks as he presented a check for $6,003 to Clarence Clark of Van Zandt county, first Texas tenant to receive aid toward land ownership under the Bankhead-Jones act.

"The man who tills the soil should own it," the senator said. "Farm ownership gives stability both to the farmer and to the country's institutions."

Another visitor, A. G. (Pat) Mayse, chairman of the Texas state FSA advisory committee, said he saw indications a similar program might be adopted by large land owners.

He said several large land holders had discussed the idea with him, and that it is likely some of them would soon start selling their property in small tracts on long time terms and at low interest rates.

More Than 300 Oil Men Attend Institute Session At Midland

MIDLAND, March 12. (AP)—More than 300 oilmen from this area attended the regular quarterly meeting of the Permian Basin chapter of the American Petroleum Institute here today.

Technical papers were delivered by Ed Heston, G. C. Stanley, and R. E. Rader, all of Hobbs, N. M., and Frank G. Arnold, president of the Nebraska Federation of County Taxpayers leagues, made an address on "The Nebraska Tax Plan."

OFFICE IS ABOLISHED

BORGER, March 12. (AP) — The Borger city commission, meeting in executive session, today passed an ordinance eliminating the office of city manager, held the past three years by Lloyd S. McCann.

Czechs' Fate Is Up To Britain And France

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 12.—Adolf Hitler's bold Nazi seizure of Austria today thrust the fate of Czechoslovakia squarely before Great Britain and France.

The British cabinet in an emergency session weighed possibility of armed aid to France in event the independence of the war-created republic was threatened by Germany.

TROOPS HELD TO POSTS

PARIS, March 12. (AP)—Troops manning the powerful Maginot line defenses facing the German border tonight were held to their posts as France took an increasingly grave view of the European crisis.

French officials meanwhile sought to convince Great Britain it was necessary for mutual safety to take a joint stand to discourage any German encroachment on Czechoslovakia.

They considered the war-created democracy on the reich's border the real powder barrel because of alliances with France and Soviet Russia.

France, with definite commitments to protect this third democracy against invasion wanted Britain to join her in a warning to Reichsfuehrer Hitler to keep "hands off."

The cabinet apparently hesitated at taking the momentous decision on what to do.

Opposition Leaders Clement Attlee, laborite, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, liberal, were summoned to Whitehall in what was believed to be a government effort to unite all parties and the public behind the fateful steps in the grave crisis.

The cabinet arranged to meet again Monday after which Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was expected to state his position in the house of commons.

In some quarters there was a sug-

Boy's Sleep Passes 85-Hour Mark Today

Eight-year-old Frederick Meyer at Saturday midnight continued in the deep sleep into which he fell shortly after Wednesday noon on eating all or part of 65 luminal sedative tablets missing from a container of 100.

Not once has he fully regained consciousness. Once he partially raised himself up in the hospital bed and opened his eyes, but he did not recognize his father, Fred Meyer, farmer of near Slaton, nor did he answer when addressed. He immediately returned into the coma which early today had passed the 85-hour mark.

His pulse was normal and he was able to swallow small quantities of liquid when placed in his mouth.

He swallowed the tablets after taking them from a mailbox a quarter of a mile from his Slaton, route 1, residence.

Friendship Of U. S. Is Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 12.—European ambassador eager for Uncle Sam's friendship trooped to the state department today, but Secretary of State Hull refrained from any public utterance that would indicate this government was taking sides.

The British, French and German ambassadors called separately upon the secretary.

Conversation Not Disclosed

Whether the representatives of the two democracies discussed their governments' concern that the republic of Czechoslovakia might go the way of Nazified Austria was not disclosed.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, would not comment to them one way or another on the German seizure of Austria.

Rene de Saint-Quentin, French ambassador, was just as noncommittal.

"Happy Day For Us"

But Dr. Hans Dieckhoff, the German ambassador, exulted that "this is a happy day for us." He lent a swastika flag—the Nazi emblem—to Edgar L. G. Prochnik, Austrian minister, who unfurled it above his legation on compliance with orders from Vienna.

At his regular press conference, Secretary Hull declined to comment on the Austrian situation on the grounds the United States was not

Booted Gunman Goes On Spree In South Texas

Two Officers Badly Wounded At Beeville, Third Near Rosenberg; On Watch For Him In Houston

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, March 12.—A booted young gunman with the word "love" tattooed on his hand and a heart and a snake tattooed on his arm was expected at the home of his sweetheart here tonight.

Police think the outlaw is Harry Wells, escaped Arkansas convict whose description tallies with that of the man whose blazing guns dropped two of his pursuers near Beeville today and nicked a third in a roaring gun fight near Rosenberg.

Gunman's Car Disabled

His first victims, Police Chief Pat Martin, 60, and Deputy Sheriff R. J. Ball, 37, both of Beeville, were wounded when they tried to arrest the young outlaw for robbing a Luling bank of $3,000 a week ago. The gunman's car had been disabled on the highway five miles from Beeville when Sheriff Harper Morse and Deputy John Rutledge of Kenedy fired a volley at it as it roared over the Karnes-Bee county line.

As Chief Martin and Deputy Ball drew alongside the disabled car, the flames from two pistols in the outlaw's hands spouted in their faces. Martin was hit in the chest and Ball in the hand, hip and leg.

Fled In Officers' Car

The outlaw rolled the two seriously wounded men out of the car and fled in their machine, taking their highpowered rifle and a sawed-off shotgun with him.

Shortly after noon, Deputy Sheriff C. R. Siebrecht and Constable Buck Lane of Wharton sighted the outlaw near El Campo. There followed a wild 40-mile chase culminating in a roadside duel between the officers and the gunman. At least 50 shots streaked back and forth between the two cars which were used as barricades. Deputy Siebrecht was nicked in the shoulder by a bullet.

Forced To Drive Car

While the battle raged, Frank Albright of Beasley, Texas, drove up. The gunman ran to Albright's car, levelled a rifle at the Beasley man,

Eastland County Votes Give Beer Slight Lead In Election

EASTLAND, March 12. (AP)—Incomplete returns tonight showed a slight wet lead in Eastland county's vote on legalization of beer.

An estimated 317 votes were in several unreported boxes as the count stood 2,399 for legalization and 2,101 against.

Texas Votes Eight To One In Favor; County, 1,677 To 138

A LANDSLIDE of ballots Saturday reflected Lubbock county farmers' favor of marketing quotas for the 1938 cotton crop.

Out of a total of 1,815 votes cast in nine boxes, the stand on marketing quotas stood early Saturday night:

For, 1,677.
Against, 138.

That represented a favoring vote of 92.4 per cent.

Broken down, results by individual boxes were:

	For	Against
Lubbock	388	52
Shallowater	217	3
Idalou	184	11
Becton	66	15
Slaton	260	11
*Woodrow	112	18
Wolfforth	155	10
Monroe	145	8
Roosevelt	154	10

*8 votes not counted, presumably having been challenged.

Returns Are Unofficial

Results from polling places, which were opened at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and shut down at 7 o'clock that night, were sent to the office of C. C. Jobson, county agricultural agent, who announced the returns as being unofficial.

It had been expected that Lubbock county, which last year led all others in Texas for cotton production, would poll a heavy vote.

Also, it came without surprise that the county "went New Deal" in its farm control legislation favor. Government subsidies in this section had saved the cotton farmer before, in the estimation of many leading farmers and crop authorities.

Vote returns came in quickly, since there were only two squares on the simple ballot, one to show favor of marketing quotas, the other disfavor.

Idalou's report came in at 7:40 o'clock, only 40 minutes after polls closed, and Monroe at 8:40, to conclude the Lubbock county reports.

Numerous Funds Of State Grow

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 12.—The amount of cash and bonds in the state's numerous funds has grown nearly $40,000,000 in the last seven years, a report released today by State Auditor Tom C. King showed.

King said the balance at the end of the last fiscal year August 31 was $105,268,496 after taking into consideration deficits in the general and Confederate pension funds. This was a gain of $10,120,270 during the fiscal year and of $37,431,995 since August 31, 1930.

The state's bonded indebtedness was $19,890,700 and that of state educational institutions $9,631,000.

Of the $105,268,498 balance only $25,327,814 was in cash after deducting the deficits. Nearly all the bonds were in the permanent school and permanent University of Texas funds, the totals being $51,062,091 and $24,875,650 respectively.

King said higher taxes for the general fund were inevitable unless there was sweeping re-organization of the state's "archaic" financial machinery.

Should Set Up Control

"Fiscal control comes through effective budgeting," he said, "and in my opinion unless action is taken to set up such a control in Texas in the very near future, increased taxation may be expected, that could be avoided by such action, without the impairment of governmental services."

King said he favored abolition of all special funds with the possible exception of the highway fund, creation of a budget-making authority direction under the government's control and establishment of an agency free from political influence to pass on qualifications and moral

John D. Biggers May Be Asked To Become Business Conciliator

WASHINGTON, March 12. (AP)—Well-informed officials indicated today the administration may ask John D. Biggers, Ohio glass manufacturer, to become its official business conciliator, with the title of assistant secretary of commerce.

They said his name was most frequently mentioned among possible successors to Ernest G. Draper, nominated by President Roosevelt yesterday to the Federal Reserve board.

Biggers was described as unusually fitted for this task and also meeting a need for a business representative in the $9,000-a-year assistant secretaryship.

American Tanker Nantucket Chief Back In Home Port After Adventurous Trip

(By The Associated Press)

PORT ARTHUR, March 12.—The tanker Nantucket Chief reached her home port safely today after an adventurous cruise during which she delivered two cargoes of gasoline to the Spanish loyalist forces and then was captured by Spanish rebel warships and her cargo confiscated on her third attempt.

E. J. Lewis, captain, who was held for two weeks in a rebel jail in Palma, Island of Malga, denied previous reports that he had been beaten with a hose while a prisoner. He said neither he nor his crew had suffered mistreatment and reported all hands in good health. The vessel was released by Gen. Francisco Franco's forces after the gasoline was seized.

The Nantucket Chief is to undergo a minor overhauling here and sail in about two weeks with a foreign cargo. Whether another effort will be made at delivery in rebel Spain, the ship's agents did not say.

Between $15,000 and $20,000 will be paid the officers and crew of the ship Monday, ship's agents said. Should disagreement arise, it was said, it will be in connection with pay for overtime.

The agents, however, indicated that in all probability this would be adjusted, but that in the case it could not, it was to be arbitrated by ship owners and the union.

The vessel was formerly the Gulflight, owned by the Gulf Refining company. She was sold Nov. 21, 1937, to the Nantucket Steamship company and sailed from Port Arthur with a cargo of gasoline, bound for Barcelona in loyalist Spain.

MARK ALLEN

Mark Allen, in the gin and oil mill office supply business and a resident of Lubbock county since 1933, yesterday announced his candidacy for the office of county commissioner, precinct No. 4.

Never in politics before, Allen announced his candidacy as being purely an effort to take part in his county's government as "the representative of my neighbors." He is 35, married, has two children and resides at 2402 Fourth street.

Has No "Ballyhoo"

"I have no ballyhoo to offer in connection with my race," Allen said. "I have no long statements to offer and no long-winded oratory to bare on the stump during the campaign. I have managed, through hard work, to care for my own affairs ever since I was 17 years old and if elected will give the same energetic and thoughtful attention to the business of my fellow citizens in Precinct 4. I believe I can make a good commissioner. If elected, I know I'll try my dead level best to be one. If my neighbors want me, I'll be happy to serve them—but if they choose someone else, I'll still be here to help and to work for the betterment of our precinct and of the county as a whole."

Allen is a member of the Episcopal church and of the Masonic lodge. Prior to moving into the City of Lubbock in 1935, he operated his own farm in the Union community.

Texas Tech Band Is Accepted Into Musical Fraternity, Only Member In Texas; Annual Spring Concert Tour To Begin On Monday

One of the most distinctive honors ever conferred on the Matador band of Texas Technological college was announced Saturday afternoon, when the crimson clads became the first Texas group to be recognized by Kappa Kappa Psi fraternity.

There are only 32 such chapters in America and, until the Tech Alpha Omicron chapter was organized Saturday, there had been none in Texas, despite the fact two other great schools are seeking such affiliation.

Wiley Honorary Member

Acceptance of D. O. Wiley, Tech band director, as an honorary member made him first in Texas to enjoy that status. Listed in that classification is a limited list of such musicians as the late John Philip Sousa, Edwin Franko Goldman, Frank Simon, Herbert L. Clarke and Fred Waring.

Approximately 55 members of the band and Wiley will leave in two buses at 8 o'clock Monday morning from the college on an annual spring concert tour which will include 12 concerts in 13 towns in five days.

Concert Schedule Given

Parent-teacher associations will sponsor the concerts in most towns.

The schedule follows:

Monday—Plainview, 10 a. m.; Tulia, 2 p. m.; Hereford, 8 p. m.

Tuesday—West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, 11 a. m.; Amarillo High school, 2 p. m.; Amarillo Municipal auditorium, 8 p. m.

Wednesday—Panhandle, 10 a. m.; Pampa, 3 p. m.; Borger, 8 p. m.

Thursday—Stinnett, 10:30 a. m.; McLean, 2 p. m.; Memphis, 8 p. m.

Friday—Spur, 8 p. m.

Officers Are Elected

Members of the Tech chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, together with officers elected at a 2:30 o'clock Saturday initiation in the textile building, are: Norman Heath, president; Carroll McMath, vice president; Paul Coe, secretary; Jim Nevins, treasurer; Leon Harris, Billy Smith, Ed Hall, Joe Haddon, Fred Stout, Bob Dickason, J. C. Douglas, R. E. Martin, James Stevens, C. E. Williams, H. A. Anderson, Carl Hyde, and Jack Turner a total of 17.

A banquet at 8 o'clock Saturday night in Lubbock hotel honored the affiliants and members of a degree team that installed them: Herman V. Ziemer, national executive secretary of the organization; Dave Johnson, Nathan Blanton, Nelson Doughty and Ed Halbach, all of the University of Oklahoma degree team.

Organized In 1919

Members of the Kappa Kappa Psi have grown slowly because of the difficulty of meeting exacting requirements. The fraternity was organized in 1919 at Oklahoma A. and M. college to promote leadership, scholarship, musicianship, and fellowship among band members. William R. Wehrend, band director of Oklahoma university, is national president.

Members of the fraternity, other than those mentioned, are: The Universities of Wyoming, Washington, Oklahoma, Arkansas, North Dakota, Michigan, West Virginia, Montana, Ohio, Indiana, Arizona, and Florida; Stetson, Oklahoma A. and M., Montana State, Mississippi A. and M., Pennsylvania State, Ohio State, Oregon State, Georgia Tech, Colorado A. and M., Colorado School of Mines, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Tulane, Ohio Northern, Cincinnati, Butler, Duke, Temple, Colorado State Teachers, George Washington, and North Dakota A. and M.

Of unusual interest, it was learned Tech presented its application for affiliation only two months ago.

DICKENS LANDMARK GOES

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Another Dickens landmark has disappeared with the demolition of an 18th century red-brick house, No 11 in Easy Row.

It is the one to which Mr. Pickwick is supposed to have gone to visit Mr. Winkle, senior, about his son's amorous affairs.

Dickens called it "an old red-brick house with three steps before the door."

Death Marches Steadily On Texas Highways; 371 Are Killed Since January 1

Pace Is Said To Be Increasing

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 12.—While war reaped grim toll in other parts of the world, state police today counted 381 deaths by highway violence since the first of the year in peaceful Texas.

Death marched steadily on the highways through February and fresh graves received 142 broken bodies as compared to January's 152.

Pace Actually Increased

Keepers of the "Black Book," a record of accidents at the state department of public safety, attributed the discrepancy to January's three-day margin over February and warned that, on a pro rata and law of average basis, death actually increased its pace last month. The total for the first twelve days this month was estimated 77.

Six triple and eight double fatalities occurred during February and injuries totaled 1,300 as compared to a lower figure in January.

Lower Than In 1937

The highway patrol, however, noted a decrease in deaths recorded the first months of this year as compared to last. Forecasts based on 1937's toll of 2,042 placed the current total near 400.

Authorities explained the slump as probably due to acceleration of a statewide safety campaign, patrolling of "death corridors" and the effect of examining drivers and vehicles prior to issuing licenses, a law operative since last November.

Full Ticket Supported By Lewis And Guffey Set In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 12. (AP)—A full ticket supported by John L. Lewis and Senator Joseph F. Guffey (D-Pa.) will take the field in the Pennsylvania primary to oppose the state Democratic committee's slate, it was learned today upon high authority.

The ticket will center around Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, put forward weeks ago for Democratic nominee for governor by Lewis and endorsed yesterday by Guffey in a statement in Washington.

The CIO-supported ticket will include the name of Governor George H. Earle for the U. S. Senate.

Three East Texas Churches Get Cash Benefits From Contest

LIVINGSTON, March 12. (AP)—Three churches received the cash benefits of two awards by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in its one-variety-cotton community contest.

Onalaska community in Polk county last night received $200 for second place. The cotton association split the money between two churches for auditorium renovations.

When Coupland community in Williamson county recently received $400 for first prize, the money was given its community church to apply on an organ.

"I am thoroughly convinced that Gly-Cas is the outstanding medicine of the modern day," said Mrs. R. A. Tompkins, 9 N. Border, Hot Springs, Arkansas. "My entire system had become filled with poisons from my chronic case of constipation. My stomach soon became greatly disordered and caused me much distress. I was enduring awful dizzy spells, could not sleep as I should at night, had no appetite for I realized what intense suffering was sure to follow with gas, bloating, and heart palpitation and indigestion. I lost in weight and strength and began to think all medicines were alike as they repeatedly failed to help me—but finally a short trial of this new Gly-Cas soon changed all of that for me."

"In a very short time after my first few doses of Gly-Cas I saw a remarkable change in my condition," continued Mrs. Tompkins. "My bowels began to function normally, that drowsy and sluggish feeling soon left and my stomach too, has been regulated. I now eat the foods I wish without any after distress and my appetite has been restored. My strength and energy has been renewed and I am now able to enjoy my health as others. Gly-Cas has accomplished in my stubborn case what I had thought impossible."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv

L. R. Rampy, Lubbock business man, has announced his candidacy for Place 3 on the City commission in the election to be held April 5. In making his announcement, Mr. Rampy states:

"I have lived in Lubbock for the past 14 years and have been engaged in business during most of that time. It is my opinion that the City of Lubbock is one of the largest business institutions in this city and that its business affairs should be conducted in the same manner that an individual would conduct his personal business. I believe in economy in city business, just as I believe in economy in personal business, but at the same time I am in favor of an aggressive, practical management of the business of the city. Therefore I shall do all in my power to give the taxpayers of this city as low tax rate as possible, keeping in mind, however, that every department of the city government should properly function, and that the taxpayers have a right to demand and expect certain services and benefits for their tax payments.

Would Be "Hired By People"

"If the people of Lubbock see fit to elect me, I promise to ever remember that I am only a servant of the people and that I have been 'hired' by the people to assist in caring for their business matters. I am sufficiently interested in the upbuilding of Lubbock, that I will earnestly work at the job of being City commissioner and will attempt at all times to work for the best interest of the citizens. In event I am elected, I respectfully invite the advice, counsel and constructive criticism of every citizen and taxpayer of Lubbock.

"Due to the press of business matters, it will be impossible for me to see many voters and I therefore earnestly solicit your vote and influence in this election and respectfully request that you investigate my reputation for honesty, integrity and industry; and in event you believe that I will honestly work for the best interest of Lubbock, I assure you that I shall appreciate your vote and influence."

'Rich Northerner' Of Leon County Becomes Benefactor At Death; Vast Ranch Is To Be Turned Into Experiment, Research Unit

(By The Associated Press)

CENTERVILLE, March 12.—A retired Philadelphia textile man became benefactor at death to natives of northeastern Leon county who once called him "the rich Northerner."

William P. Simpson, 68, who died at Honolulu February 19 and was buried at Philadelphia a week ago, directed in his will that his 18,174-acre ranch, "Leone," valued at more than $100,000—be operated for the purpose "of experiment and research in scientific and at the same time practical methods of farming for the free benefit, through education and example" of farmers and ranchers of the vicinity.

Plans Under Way

Herman Hawker of Teague, manager of Simpson's Texas holdings, said plans were under way for completely stocking the Leon county ranch with cattle and clearing additional lands for working out farm and ranch problems.

Experiments in improved grain sorghums have been made, Hawker said, and tomatoes rich in minerals because of the colloidal content of the soil have been grown.

Corporation Is Set Up

Hawker's photostatic copy of that part of Simpson's will pertaining to the East Texas ranch directs that a Texas corporation, with stock fully paid, be set up with Hawker as president, for operation of the ranch.

Income from oil property in the Bolling dome area was to assure the ranch corporation of a constant $50,000 working capital.

The will directed that William Simpson III be vice president of the ranch corporation, William J. Clark of Philadelphia secretary-treasurer and Cloyd Read of Dallas, counsel.

Bought Ranch In 1910

Simpson began assembling the ranch in 1910 and completed the present block over a period of years. He retired from the textile business in 1925.

The Philadelphian was a frequent visitor to the ranch where he hunted in its vast virgin expanses, and became a friend of neighbors to whom at first he was "the rich Northerner."

The ranch at present has a herd of deer, a flock of wild turkey, a small herd of pure-bred Hereford cattle and Poland China hogs in addition to 500 head of other cattle and 1,500 hogs.

SEMINOLE HOUSE BURNS

Preparations In Full Swing For Annual WTCC Convention In Wichita Falls

Full Program Is Being Arranged

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

WICHITA FALLS, March 12.—Plans to make the twentieth annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, to be held in Wichita Falls on April 25, 26 and 27, an outstanding one in the organization's history, were in full swing here today.

Triple themes for the convention, "A Square Deal For the Producer," "The West Texas of Tomorrow," and "Fun in Wichita Falls," gave promise of a busy three-day program, combining business sessions and entertainment.

La Guardia Is To Speak

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York City, chief executive of America's No. 1 city, and one of the nation's most colorful public figures, will head a notable array of speakers. Mayor LaGuardia will address a general assembly, at the afternoon session, on Tuesday, April 26.

Milburn McCarty, Eastland, president of the WTCC, D. A. Bandeen, Abilene, its manager, and Wilburn Page, secretary of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, and the convention manager, are directing general planning.

Crump Heads Group

E. M. Crump, Wichita Falls civic leader, heads the local executive group, with Walter D. Cline, past president of the WTCC, and Albert E. Kelly, as vice chairmen.

Convention offices in the Hamilton building are busy with host city planning, with Miss Margaret Hell, of Fort Worth, special events director, and Miss Mildred L. Anderson, secretary, working with Convention Manager Page.

Conference group programs will emphasize the "square deal for the producer" theme, and will be devoted to agriculture, live stock and oil industry problems.

Williamson On Committee

Chairman J. S. Bridwell, of the program committee, has named H. H. Williamson, director of the state extension service at Texas A. and M. college, to head the agricultural group sessions. Albert Mitchell, national known Albert, N. M., Hereford breeder, is an already scheduled speaker at the Monday afternoon conference.

J. C. Hunter, president of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas association, and president of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, Senator C. C. Small of Amarillo will speak on oil legislation, and C. P. McGaha, of Wichita Falls, on oil taxation problems, at this group meeting.

Entries Already Received

Judge O. M. Caldwell, of Abilene, chairman of the "My Home Town" speech contest, for West Texas high school students, is already receiving entries for this event. Indications are that the record entry list of 71, established at Brownwood, in 1937, may be exceeded. Ben J. Dean, jr., of Breckenridge, was the contest winner a year ago.

Convention delegates will be adequately housed in Wichita Falls, hotels, private homes, and a Pullman city, host city committees are making sure.

Entries in the annual band contest, attracting more than 25 bands at the Brownwood convention, a year ago, will be invited soon.

Pageants To Be Presented

Highlight of the convention will be the Monday and Tuesday night pageants at the Memorial Auditorium.

Here, representative West Texas beauties from member cities will be presented.

Miss Inez Mayo, of Denton, elected Her Majesty, Queen of West Texas, at Brownwood in 1937, will reign over her subjects, with her attendants and court.

Wichita Falls sponsor, and hostess to other visiting beauties will be Miss Elizabeth Huff, granddaughter of Judge R. E. Huff, pioneer Wichitan and city builder. Miss Huff will be known as the convention "Oil Queen."

Tours Of Oil Field Planned

Center of much interest at this 1938 WTCC convention will be KMA, busiest oil field in the nation today, and daily afternoon bus tours through the KMA field are planned by the host city.

Social events already planned include dances each night of the convention at the Wichita club, the Kemp and Holt hotels, with music by leading orchestras.

Screen tests for "Miss West Texas" following the coronation ceremonies, are planned as an innovation.

Wichita Falls last entertained the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in 1927. Big Spring is already an announced candidate for next year's convention, with Abilene, Waco, and El Paso probable contestants.

Fort Worth Man Is To Address Engineering Society Monday

The Engineering society of Texas Technological college will hear an address by S. V. Jay of Fort Worth, lubricating engineer for the Humble Oil and Refining company, at 7 o'clock Monday night in the engineering building auditorium.

"The Lubrication of Internal Combustion Engines" will be Jay's subject and will deal with both automotive and stationary units. He will speak to mechanical engineering classes Tuesday morning on "High Speed and Internal Combustion." Dean O. V. Adams of the engineering division arranged for Jay to come here.

NYSTEL BUYS BUILDING

ABERNATHY, March 12.—J. P. Nystel has bought the building in which the Sanford Helpy-Selfy laundry is housed and has sold it to Hobart Duggan. He is moving it to lots in the southeast part of town and will use lumber to erect a new home. Sanford is storing his equipment until he can secure another location.

Hub Jones Announces For Place 3 On City Commission; He Makes Brief Statement

HUB JONES

Favoring a business-like operation of the city's affairs with careful attention to needs for expansion as they arise, Hub Jones, Lubbock automobile dealer, yesterday announced his candidacy for the City commission, subject to the election of April 5.

He seeks Place 3 on the commission.

Jones, who lives at 2114 13th street, has been a resident here since 1923, when he established the business which he still operates and has continuously operated since that time. He is married and has two children.

Sees Important Years Ahead

"It is my belief," he said in making his announcement, "that the next few years will be among the most important in Lubbock's history and that the operation of the city's business during that time will call for careful administration and close attention upon the part of its officials. If elected, I propose to do my best to help get the job done and to see that the city's business is kept abreast of growing, changing times, but keeping in mind at all times that people's business should be as efficiently cared for as any private business. Should I not be elected to serve in an official capacity, I shall continue to help in any way in a private capacity."

Jones has never before offered his candidacy for any elective position here, or elsewhere.

Opportunities For Electrification In Area Are Stressed

Lubbock county and the entire South Plains "offers unlimited opportunities for rural electrification," P. W. Smith, Washington, D. C., utilization expert with the Rural Electrification administration, said before leaving Saturday for Central Texas. He had been here for several days conferring with officials of the South Plains Electric Cooperative Inc., and with others interested.

"I understand that this country is ideally suited to the production of sorghum grains,' Smith said. "This, and the fact that your dairy farming is increasing rapidly, should indicate that the farmers of this area are looking towards crop diversification as a means of increasing their cash revenues from farms.

Makes Prediction

"On any farm, electricity properly used, will help one man do the work of three. I believe that within five years practically every farm home in Lubbock county and the adjacent territory, will be receiving electric service."

Smith spoke highly of the present status of the rural electrification project now under way in Lubbock. From what he said he had seen and heard, Smith indicated that a concerted effort and harmonious cooperation had been exerted since the inception of the project last year.

Work on the actual construction is not expected to get under way until the latter part of March, Superintendent C. C. Fagg said. Mattison-Wallack Co., are holders of the contract.

Interesting Facts About The Habits Of Plants Are Revealed Here In Lecture

Why don't plants grow down instead of up?

Why does a sunflower face the sun?

Dr. E. L. Reed, professor of biology at Texas Technological college, explained in a lecture, "Plant Hormones", before the Science club.

No Hidden Magic

According to Dr. Reed, there is no magic or hidden intelligence associated with this phenomenon. Nature simply provided plants with a sort of mechanism which takes care of all that and effectively sees to it that plants grow up where they belong and that the roots don't come bursting out above ground where they have no business.

It seems that there are certain substances present in all plants, and animals too, called hormones. Scientists have never seen these hormones, but they have found fluids which contain them and and other fluids which produce them. Technically, hormones are "any substance normally produced in the cells of some part of the body and carried to some distant part which it affects for the good of the whole body." In other words, hormones are something which profoundly affect the growth of a plant or animal. Sometimes they accelerate it and sometimes they retard it.

Dr. Reed explained scientists have found if a plant is so placed so that on one side of it is darkness and the other side light, the plant will bend toward the light, just as the sunflower bends to the sun. This happens because the hormones in the plant seem to abhor the light and collect on the dark side. Consequently that dark side has a lion's share of the hormones and grows faster than the light side. Naturally, all this causes the plant to bend away from the faster growing side or toward the light. This "abhorrence" of the hormones for light has never been completely explained. Dr. Reed said, but added that one theory has it that the light causes polarity, or the building up of an electrical potential in the plant itself. This theory says the hormores are positive and collect on the negative side of the plant.

In contrast to the action of the stem of a plant, Dr. Reed explained, the root acts in just the opposite manner. When the hormones collect on one side of a root they retard the growth instead of accelerating it. Consequently, the root bends the other way.

In explaining the growth of plants up instead of down Dr. Reed said that the effect of light coming from above the plant, and the pull of gravity cause the hormones to collect on the bottom side and the affect explained before causes them to bend upward. Once started upward, the concentration of light and gravity is the same on all sides and the plant continues to grow upward. Similarly, the roots grow downward.

National Commander Of Veterans Of Foreign Wars To Visit Here Wednesday

Plans Made For Large Meeting

Scott P. Squyres, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, fulfilling a promise made several weeks ago, Wednesday will be the guest of the Lubbock VFW post and the city, according to Robert J. Allen, commander.

Accompanying him will be Arthur P. Dodds of Dallas, department commander of the VFW. The national commander is making his official visit to this department beginning today, according to official information to attaches of this post.

To Make Radio Address

Commander Squyres is scheduled to arrive here at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Tentative plans are for him to make an address to be broadcast over radio station KFYO that afternoon and speak again that night at a meeting for all West Texas and Panhandle members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Overseas veterans. Allen said the meeting possibly would be open to the public.

Arrangements have not been completed for the time and place of the Wednesday night meeting, Allen said, but it probably will be held in a place with seating accommodations adequate for a large crowd.

To Go To New Mexico

After his visit here, he will leave for New Mexico.

Plans will be effected for hotel accommodations, interviews, receptions, police escorts, luncheon clubs for the national commander.

Senior Vice Commander Tom Carter will accompany Commander Squyres here for his visit to Texas posts.

"This is the first time the great Southwest ever has had one of its own members selected for the high office of commander - in - chief," Dodds said in communications to the post here. "We put him in office. Now let us show him how much we appreciate him." Squyres is of Oklahoma City.

NEW POST RESIDENT

POST, March 12.—R. E. Outlaw, Taylor, brother of N. C. Outlaw, Ford dealer here, has come here to take charge of the front service department of the company's garage, formerly the Gulf garage.

Quints' Photographer Takes The Prize

(Copyright 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Of hundreds of outstanding pictures on display at the International Leica Exhibit in New York, those most popular with the 65,000 persons who viewed the display were—can you guess?—those of the Dionne quintuplets! Which is why Fred Davis, left, NEA service cameraman who makes all the quintuplet pictures that are an exclusive feature of Avalanche, receives the Oskar Barnack medal from Augustus Wolfman, exhibit chairman. The picture that pleased most spectators is that in the background, showing the quints in night clothes and holding candles in a night-before Christmas scene.

Anniversary Of Founding Of Legion Will Be Observed

A program commemorating the 19th anniversary of the founding of the American Legion will be presented at the semi-monthly meeting of Allen Bros. post at the hall at 7:30 o'clock Monday night, according to information given Saturday by George A. Meiser, program chairman.

Similar observances are planned during the week by Legion posts throughout the world, A. C. Jackson, post commander, said.

A brief address by Clark M. Mullican, musical numbers and other events will be included in the program here, Meiser said.

Texas Tech Debating Teams Are Expected To Return From Trip

Texas Technological college debating teams are expected to return tonight or Monday morning, said Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the speech department. She said she had not heard from the group in several days, since they had telegraphed they were safe from western coast floodwaters.

En route home, members were expected to debate the University of Redlands, a meeting deferred because of recent floods, possibly Occidental college at Los Angeles.

The group, composed of Betty Dale West of Memphis, Johnnie Birdwell of Ralls, Junius Carter of Childress, Waggoner and Wallick Carr of Lubbock, left with Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, debate coach, Feb. 26.

Itinerary included stops for debates with Arizona, USC, California Institute of Technology, University of San Francisco, College of the Pacific, California, and Stanford.

1938 FORD V·8

Now that National Used Car Exchange Week has reduced dealers' used car stocks, this is an opportune time to buy the new 1938 Ford V-8 you have been wanting. There are three excellent reasons for acting now.

First, the ability and desire of your Ford dealer to accept additional cars in trade—now.

Second, the fact that spring arrives officially next week, and it's a real thrill to meet it with a new car.

Third, the 1938 Ford V-8 itself. It is a great value at its present low price—and the value seems even greater when you learn the exceptional amount of equipment included in the advertised price.

The big 85-hp. De Luxe Ford V-8 offers a new standard of luxury at a low price. The newly styled Standard Ford V-8, even lower in price, is available with either engine size. With the 60-hp. V-8 engine it is "Public Economy No. 1"—owners are reporting 22 to 27 miles per gallon.

You are invited to see your Ford dealer this week for an appraisal on your present car—and a chance to drive the Quality Car in the Low-price Field.

District A.A.U. Boxing Tournament Holds Sport Spotlight Here This Wee

Friday Night Is Fight Night At Local Arena

Gangway for the boxers!

They're coming back Friday night, of this week, to do battle at the Auditorium for Amateur Athletic Union honors, and the fists should fly freely.

It'll be the Golden Gloves all over again, with the preliminaries missing. The high points of the Golden Gloves, plus the showing of several new faces, will be done up brown in the District A. A. U. tournament.

The A. A. U. has been known to the boxers, if not the fans, all season, and they have been getting in shape for the country's biggest amateur show. They "warmed up" with the Golden Gloves, and have retained their speed and spirit for the A. A. U.

All of the City and District Golden Gloves champions crowned here in January and February are due back for the big March show, plus a state A. A. U. champion from last year, John Buck of Crosbyton and Morton, the 1937 state middleweight champion who will seek the light heavyweight title this year.

Tourney At Slaton

"Warm-up tournaments are being conducted Tuesday night at Slaton and Lockney, and probably other points who haven't advertised the fact.

At Slaton, Promoter Curtis Hamilton winds up a month of preliminaries with his "fight night" extravaganza at the City Auditorium. He'll have Boxers from Slaton, Wilson, Southland and other surrounding towns and neighbors in there for the finals, and will send a complete team to Lubbock Friday night for the A. A. U. tournament.

Several Slaton and Wilson boxers competed here in the Golden Gloves tournaments. They had just started, then, and found the going a bit rough here. But they have stayed in there, kept in shape and improved their boxing ability. The Slaton-Wilson team this week should produce some excitement.

Lloyd Henry, well known for his boxing prowess is a favorite already in the welterweight group. The ex-Slaton High school football star is quite a lad when it comes to handling the mitts, and there'll be plenty of handling done Friday night.

And At Lockney

Over at Lockney, Horace Gearhart, the theatre magnate, is putting on a show Tuesday night. It will involve fighters from Lockney, Floydada, Silverton, and Flomot. Gearhart sent a good team here for the district Golden Gloves tournament, and believes he'll have even more for the A. A. U.

The Lockney and Slaton preliminaries are due to provide a couple of heavyweights for the District event. Herbert Lamb of Wilson, known to be a good scrapper, and young Fats Mitchell of Lockney are due to oppose each other in the District finals.

Babe Ritchie, Golden Gloves champ who was eliminated in the semi-final round of the National tournament at Chicago Friday night, will be back in town, and efforts are being made to arrange an exhibition bout between Babe and a well known heavyweight. Ritchie automatically qualifies for the State A. A. U. tournament, scheduled for Dallas the following weekend, but the winner here will be eligible, also.

There's room left for some more fighters in the District tournament, particularly in the flyweight, or 112-pound class, the bantamweight, or 118-pound class, and the heavyweight division, 175 pounds or over. A vacancy or two still existed in the light heavyweight division, but Matador fighters were expected to fill these.

Twenty-Four Fights

There will be but one night of fighting in the District AAU tournament. According to present plans, there'll be four fighters in each weight division, meaning 24 bouts to settle the championship in each group.

Tickets for the tournament go on sale Tuesday at The Hub Clothiers, Hotel Lubbock Drug store and Hotel Hilton lobby. The prices are 40 cents, ladies and children; 75 cents, men's general admission, and $1.10 for ringside seats. All prices include taxes.

These Champs Return For A.A.U. Meet

Always eager for a fight, the above gents 'll be back in the local ring Friday night to increase their boxing prestige for 1938. Three of them are District Golden Gloves champions, and the fourth, John Buck, in the light colored trunks with the A. A. U. emblem, represented this district in the State Golden Gloves. Buck won district and state A.A.U. championships in the middleweight division last year, fought in the light heavyweight group this year. The others are, left to right, Lightweight Jack Lovin, Light Heavyweight Bob Ritchie and Heavyweight Babe Ritchie. Bob Ritchie defeated Buck in the Golden Gloves finals here, and competed in the state tournament. Babe Ritchie returns home today after reaching the semi-finals in the National Golden Gloves tournament at Chicago. Lovin won the District featherweight title, but will compete as a lightweight in the District AAU tournament Friday night.

Gehrig Settles For $39,000

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12. (AP)—Lou Gehrig will have to wait at least another year to realize his ambition of drawing down $40,000 for playing baseball with the New York Yankees.

LOU GEHRIG

The "Iron man" first baseman today agreed to play this year for $39,000, terms offered by Owner Jacob Ruppert earlier in the week.

While failing to get the salary he desired, Larrupin', Lou has the satisfaction of knowing he is the second highest player in Yankee history. Only Babe Ruth, who got as much as $80,000 during his heyday, has ever taken more out of the colonel's pocket in one year.

Asked 15 Per Cent Boost

Gehrig originally asked for a 15 per cent increase or $41,400. He cut his demands to $40,000 at his conference with Ruppert. At the same time the Colonel boosted his figure to $39,000 and declared Gehrig could take or leave it.

Gehrig, to leave New York with Ruppert tomorrow, will don his uniform here Tuesday.

Since replacing Wally Pipp as the Yankee first baseman in 1925, Lou has played in 1,965 consecutive games. He has hopes of carrying on until he reaches 2500.

He batted .351 last year.

Dick Sampson To Face George Hartay This Week In Main Bout

It's a native Texan against a Hungarian Wednesday night at Sled Allen's wrestling emporium.

Dick Sampson, the Denton and Boston footballer and a local favorite with mat fans, is pitted against George Hartay, the furriner who made quite a showing in his initial match here last week.

Pogi Battles Mandell

Hartay was one of three new faces brought to the Auditorium ring. He handled himself well and may give the Texan some trouble.

In the semi-final, Gorilla Pogi, the wiry Boston grappler has not had a world of success in the local ring, but can take it and is about as clean as they come.

Newcomer To Show

Another newcomer to the Lubbock scene, Soldier Thomas will make his debut against Bill Hall of Hollywood in the curtain ringer. Thomas learned his tinear tactics while learning military science and tactics in Uncle Sam's army.

Hall got a big hand in his first appearance here last week for his rubberman antics. He is just about as pliable as an India rubber man. The soldier, however, comes here with a reputation for ability. It may turn into a good fight.

GLASSES FOR DIMAGGIOS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12. (AP)—Sharp-eyed Joe DiMaggio has no need for glasses but both of his baseball-playing brothers wear cheaters. Dominic, playing for the San Francisco Seals, has worn glasses for several years, but Vince, Boston Bee outfielder, started wearing them only last season. His batting average took a jump shortly afterwards.

Time Turns Backward And The Two Maxes May Go Into Heavyweight Mix

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 12. — The clock has turned back to another day, and once more the two Maxes, Baer and Schmeling, stand athwart the path of a heavyweight champion. Max Baer, the golden boy, has fought his way back to the heights.

It took fifteen rounds of blistering action against Tommy Farr, the sturdy Welshman, to do it. In those 49 minutes the years slipped away and the arrogant, smiling Baer who walloped Schmeling and the thunderous righthand puncher who felled Carnera, battered the iron-hearted Farr around the ring.

Has Something Left

Baer did more than pull himself almost level with Schmeling in taking the decision. He proved to the 18,222 fans, who booed him roundly when he entered the ring, that he had something left, enough to batter Farr to the canvas three times, a feat that Joe Louis found well nigh impossible.

He didn't come out unscathed. They breed them tough in Tonypandy and Farr got off the floor three times to lash his left to Baer's face and sink stinging hooks in the Californian's ribs. Baer's left eye was puffed up the size of a walnut, a trickle of blood ran from his mouth, his ribs were sore and red as he sat dead beat but happy on his dressing table.

"Yah," he exulted, "Louis didn't floor him, Braddock didn't really knock him off his feet. But old papa Baer did. I've still got that right hand, fella, and it's going to take me a long ways. I've got something to fight for now. My son. You watch me.

"Gee, my timing is off. I should knocked him out in the third when I had him down for—how much? Oh yeah, six. Well, a coupla more fights and I'll be ready for any of them."

Tommy Praises Max

Farr was a beaten man. Only tremendous courage kept him coming in to meet those thunderous rights, to stab away at Baer's eye, to pound at his body. Several times he seemed to be going at full steam. When he did Baer unleashed his body attack.

In Baer's dressing room they were talking about a fight with the winner of the Schmeling-Louis bout. There was no talk of another fight in Farr's. He had lost his third American start.

"Baer fought a great fight. It's tough to lose but I'd like to meet Baer again or anybody else," said Tommy.

Someone mentioned something about his new style. The Welshman lifted his war-scarred face: "I just went into the ring to give the public their money's worth."

Cunningham In Second Best Run

NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—Glenn Cunningham, the master miler, ran the second fastest indoor mile in history tonight as he spread-eagled a fine field in the Knights of Columbus games at Madison Square garden.

The veteran Kansan, unbeaten in 13 races this year, was clocked in 4:07.4 as he sprinted to the tape 30 yards in advance of Gene Venzke of the New York A. C. The only faster indoor mile was Cunningham's 4:04.4 at Dartmouth last week.

Second Best Mark

The sensational time not only bettered Cunningham's listed indoor mark of 4:08.4 but marked the ninth time in which he has been clocked in 4:30 or better. It had been bettered outdoors only by himself, who held the International standard of 4:06.7 until beaten by Sydney Woodersen's 4:06.4 and the 4:07.2 turned in by Don Lash and Archie San Romani at Princeton last summer.

Norman Bright of San Francisco's Olympic club let loose one of his famous bell lap kicks to hand Indiana's Don Lash his first defeat of the season. Bright was clocked in 9:02, the fastest time of the year in the two-mile.

Five-Year Conservation Plan For Wild Life Worked Out

Ray E. Benson, New York, executive secretary, said expenditures would be in the Canadian breeding grounds for wild fowl.

National AAU Cage Tourney Starts Today

DENVER, March 12. (AP)—Basketball's greatest display of talent, manpower and diversity of play goes on view for an entire week with the opening of the 31st National A.A.U. championship meet in the City auditorium tomorrow morning.

Fifty-five teams, most of which know they haven't much chance of getting far but will be in there hoping and shooting, are ready for the marathon.

Started Back In 1899

The best two of them will fight it out next Saturday night for the title that dates back to 1899 and the Knickerbocker Athletic club of New York, just eight years after Dr. James Naismith invented the game.

Twelve games will be run off tomorrow, starting at 11 a. m., central standard time. An additional 27 must be played Monday and Tuesday to slice the field to 16 for Wednesday's third round. The entry list is the largest since the tournament first came here in 1935.

Denver Safeways Favored

A number of basketball veterans, who began arriving this week for the tournament, picked the Denver Safeways to be the first team to win two titles in a row since the Tulsa Oilers did it in 1933-34.

Coach Everett Shelton declared the defending champions fit for the wearying drive, but said the competition is much tougher.

The big Denver club, which has three all-Americans in Jack McCracken, Bob Gruenig and Jack Colvin, will make its first appearance Monday night against the winner of the Tulsa Freuhaufs-Shakopee, Minn., Sparklers game.

Seeded Teams Listed

The eight seeded teams are the Safeways, Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips, Wichita Gridleys, Kansas City, Kas., Healeys, Oklahoma City Parks and Colorado Springs Antlers, all members of the Missouri Valley A.A.U league, along with the Hollywood Athletic club and Montana State college, Rocky Mountain conference champion and one of the 10 college teams entered.

The contests will be interrupted Monday night as the tournament pays its tribute to Colorado's only two all-America gridders in history, Earl (Dutch) Clark and Byron (Whizzer) White, although the Whizzer won't be here.

Trophies To Be Awarded

He left yesterday with his Colorado team to compete in a New York college cage tournament. Trophies will be given to Clark and Bernard (Bunny) Oakes, White's grid coach, and to Alan Gould, general sports editor of the Associated Press, who will be here for the meet.

Gould is the only football expert who picked both Clark and White for all-America teams—Clark in 1928 and White last season.

Two Performers Star To Give Whiteface Win On Track

SUNDOWN, March 12. (Special)—Brilliant performances by E. C. White and Cecil Scott who, between them, captured seven first places additional to assisting in winning the mile relay, enabled Coach G. L. Detrixhe's Whiteface High school track team to win a dual meet from the Sundown aggregation here Friday afternoon, 75 1-2 points to 65 1-2.

White scored 21 1-2 points, scoring firsts in vault, high jump, high hurdles and the half mile. Scott took firsts in the 220 low hurdles, shot put and discus throw and scored a total of 20 1-2 points. Kendall Dean made 18 points of Sundown.

W. A. Fite is coach of the Sundown team.

MISSION SQUAD READY

LAREDO, March 12. (AP)— The San Antonio Missions will go into the second week of training next Monday with the entire roster lining up before Manager Zack Taylor.

The final group of outfielders and infielders is expected tomorrow night, including Milton Byrnes, Ralph Rhein, Art Scharein, Buck Stanton, Ralph Caballero and Frank Piet, regulars last year.

The first casualty was Arnold Funderbunk, San Saba catcher, who spiked his left leg while playing third base. The wound was not serious, but he will be out for a week.

The Missions will play an exhibition game Sunday, March 20.

Football Joints Creaking

By Collier Parris

FOOTBALLERS AGREE with the baseball boys, or vice versa, that the first five days are the toughest.

It was a sore, stiff, groaning gang of athletes doing their calisthenics out at the Tech Stadium yesterday. Once limbered up, they looked better in the scrimmage, but the veneer of boyish exuberance had been rubbed out and replaced by a more serious attitude by the first five days of conditioning exercises.

There has been a reduction in the squad, too, which isn't at all surprising. The opening day turnout of more than 80 has been slashed by nearly a score, or appeared to be yesterday. Coaches started the process of what they laughlingly call separating the boys from the men in a tough blocking routine Friday, and some of the physical education boys found it convenient to "cut class" yesterday. It is surmised that the "cut" will be more or less permanent.

Only two "casualties" reported so far are F. M. "Butch" Sachse, the torpedo from Quitaque, and Jodie Marek, the Temple Terror. Nothing serious just minor bruises that prevented active workout. Big Bill Davis was complaining of a sore throat and was excused from uniform, but was on the field. "No use me working until some of these tackles start showing something, anyway," he shrugged, but not where Coach Smith could hear him. Forrest Covin, up from the freshman squad, was also among the missing.

A.A.U. Boxing Is Looking Up

A boxing announcement of interest may be made tomorrow.

As you have heard, the Amateur Athletic Union fight parade starts all over the country this week with a string of district tournaments. From Maine to Florida, from coast to coast, amateur boxers are sharpening their left hooks for preliminary work. Next week, state and sectional tournaments will be conducted, to be followed by the national roundup in Boston.

THE announcement, after a session today, may concern the Texas or Southwestern A.A.U. tournament. It has been scheduled for Dallas, the weekend of March 24, 25 and 26. Recent reports have it that Dallas is sort of "cool" on the event, and that President Bob Humphrey is having a bit of trouble finding somebody to underwrite the event. This comes from Scribe Charles Burton of the Dallas News.

Now up at Amarillo, a town known chiefly for its Mother-In-Law day, its helium, its roses and its Sandies, there's a crowd which goes pretty strong for athletics, of any and all kinds, except maybe baseball.

They're keen for boxing and wrestling at Amarillo; they supported the Golden Gloves tournament mighty nicely, almost as well as Lubbock supported the city and district tournaments here.

So Jerry Malin, th Globe-News scribe and promoter of amateur athletics there, has made a grab for the State A.A.U. boxing tournament. It's a strong grab, but on a mere thread of a line just now. If Dallas doesn't want it, he figures, why not have it in Amarillo?

WE should know in a day or two the result of Malin's bid for the big tournament. It certainly would be a big thing for West Texas, having district champions from all over the state coming up here for the tournament and going directly to Boston.

The fans of Amarillo, we believe, with the help Lubbock fans would offer, could put the thing over. It would involve an expense of three or four thousand bucks, but a good three-night fight carnival should make that much. The State Golden Gloves tournament cost in the neighborhood of seven grand, but it would not be necessary to stage such an extravaganza, and still have a show worth the money for the fans and big enough for the boys. Here's wishing luck to the aspiring and perspiring Malin.

Room Left In Lubbock Tourney

AND speaking of AAU tournaments, there is room left for a dozen or so boxers in the Lubbock District tournament.

The spaces may be filled after "fight nights" at Slaton and Lockney Tuesday night, but it is likely that there'll be room for flyweights, bantams and heavyweights, at that. If you have a little flyweight in your home that needs a bit of dressing down, or some building up, send him along. Or he may be a bantam, feather or heavy.

One or two places were left last night in the light heavyweight division, but entries of some of the Matador boys are expected any time. They entered for the Golden Gloves tournament, but were unable to compete due to basketball duties.

NOW that Babe Ritchie has been eliminated in the National Golden Gloves, he should be home and ready to go in the AAU. But it is doubtful that an opponent can be found for him. He is automatically qualified for the state AAU, but probably would be willing to appear in the AAU if Director Killer Coffey can find him an opponent. Efforts will be resumed along that line.

Tickets for the tournament, which goes on Friday night at the auditorium, will be placed on sale early this week, at the Lubbock Hotel drug, the Hilton lobby and Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers. It's a one-night show, with all the best fighters and best fights crammed into it, but not too long a show to grow boresome.

Roswell Entry Nearly Assured

ENCOURAGING baseball news is provided by Hank Hart, Big Spring scribe, regarding the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league business.

Whereas it was feared for a time that trouble in Roswell might clog the works, or at least hold up the progress of the league, Hart reports that:

"Jin Payne, who seems to be going back to operate the Roswell franchise after all, paid a visit to that city and returned with the announcement that everything is 'hunky dory.' He said the city's rapid baseball fans met him at the gates and gave him another key to the city which should go well with the one he received last year when he took the game into Roswell for the first time.

It seems that certain members of his organization weren't so popular with Roswell fans and when all the trouble came up and Payne kicked in with suspensions and whatnot old Gus Q. Fan was right chipper.

"This thing is assured," Hart assures us. "Either Payne will operate the Roswell franchise again or Hobbs will become a member of the league and leave Roswell out in the cold and odds are much better than they were on the Admiral at Hialeah last Saturday that the flags will fly over the Roswell field again this season."

We haven't heard much from Harry Faulkner since he left here for the Longview training base, but there really isn't much to hear until he brings the Lubbock team here about the middle of next month.

If it will stem the tide of letters from self-admitted Lou Gehrigs and Joe DiMaggios to this deparement, let us report that all candidates for the Lubbock team must first contact Harry Faulkner at Longview, not Lubbock, and report there for training; not at Lubbock.

Football Popular In Japan; Used For Military Tactics

TOKYO, March 12. (AP)—American football is zooming to unprecedented popularity in Japan as a result of a curious discovery by the Japanese schoolboy.

He sees a similarity between gridiron strategy and military tactics.

"Football is good military training," a Japanese athlete explained.

He compared massing interference to massing shock troops, and said the principles of an end-run were exactly the same as those of a flanking attack. The feints and thrusts of football, as he saw it, are miniature duplicates of military maneuvers.

ANOTHER FRANCIS

LINCOLN, Neb., March 12. (AP)—Nebraska has high hopes for another Francis. Not long ago Sam Francis won all-American honors as a Cornhusker fullback. His brother, Vike, who resembles Sam closely, will be a backfielder next season.

Bill McKechnie Says Get More Runs Than Other Team To Win

CINCINNATI, March 12. (AP)—Bill McKechnie, winner of the Sporting News' award for the best managerial job of 1937, says the simplest way of doing things is the best way.

McKechnie piloted the Boston Bees last season. He is now Cincinnati manager.

The best strategy, he says, is to score more runs than the opposition.

There are smart players and dumb players. The wise ones can grasp ideas, plays, signals. The dumb cannot. They become befuddled when asked to think beyond their capabilities. Their outstanding capabilities are physical, not mental.

With men like these, McKechnie doesn't try to be a master mind. He tries to place himself on their level. To them the best signal is no signal. They are left to think only of hitting, running, fielding, throwing.

EXPORTERS COP CONTEST

BEAUMONT, March 12. (AP)—The Beaumont team of the Texas league came from behind twice today to beat the "B" team of the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 3, in an exhibition game. Connie Mack managed the A's team.

PELS BEAT TRIBE YANS

NEW ORLEANS, March 12. (AP) — Four New Orleans Pelican hurlers gave up 16 bases on balls and ten hits today to pave the way for an easy 13 to 5 victory over the Cleveland Indian rookies in an exhibition game.

Don Gugler, first baseman for the Tribe Yanigans, got three hits in four trips to the plate.

CARD ROOKIE STARS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12. (AP)—The New York Yankees opened their Grapefruit league campaigning today by topping the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 4, with rookie second-sacker Joe Gordon cast in the hero's role.

Gordon, who replaces Tony Lazzeri this season, drove three runs across with a triple with the bases loaded.

STEERS READY FOR WORK

DALLAS, March 12. (AP)—Manager Ray Brubaker of the Dallas Steers said today his charges would get down to serious work Monday.

With outfielders in infielders ordered to report, Brubaker said the week would be started out with batting sessions, and about Wednesday or Thursday intra-squad games would be in order.

Next Saturday the Steers will journey to Marshall for their first exhibition game of the season with the St. Paul Saints.

FOURTH STRAIGHT WIN

BATON ROUGE, La., March 12. The New York Giants won fourth straight exhibition game victory today, defeating the Phillies 6 to 5 on Mickey Haslin's single with one out and a man on second in the ninth inning.

Cliff (Stringbean) Melton pitched the first three innings and held the Phillies hitless and runless.

REDS PRACTICE OVERTIME

TAMPA, Fla., March 12. (AP)—The Reds went through a doubleheader practice session today, with three infields in action, as a prep for their first contest against a big league foe, the Boston Red Sox, tomorrow. MUNGI LOOKS GOOD

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12. (AP)—Manager Burleigh Grimes gave his ace pitcher, Van Mungo, a workout today during a long practice drill by the Brooklyn Dodgers, and was highly pleased with the fireballer's flinging.

There was no trace of last season's shoulder injury as Van poured his fast ball at the batters.

NOISE SCARES OYSTERS

EMPIRE, La., (AP)—You wouldn't think oysters were sensitive to noise, but shell-fishermen here say they are.

The oystermen assert noise from dynamite blasts set off by oil prospectors in the vicinity so disturb the shellfish that a large percentage of them are dying.

Either that or the dynamiting is loosing gas deposits which seep into the bayou and kill the oysters.

Dodgers Have No Corner On Daffiness; Cleveland Indians Provide Rivalry

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, March 12. (AP)—One can't help being convinced after a short stay here in the gumbo belt that the Brooklyn Dodgers, known long and fondly as the "daffiness boys," have been flying under false colors. They are not and never will be as funny, on and off the field and nothing barred, as are the Cleveland Indians.

Strange that the Indians haven't been appreciated at their real worth. True, they have gained a certain reputation as eccentrics who changed managers at 2 o'clock in the morning—any morning—and they have been up before Judge Landis trying to look innocent more often than the average club. Yet, the feeling persists that their comic capacities have been rankly undervalued.

They are, essentially, the dead-pan type. They're in there doing their level best, very serious about the whole thing (they finished third in the American league last year). But they're always bungling into the wrong bathroom.

As one "Stu" Bell, a Cleveland sports writer, put it last night: "I've been following this outfit down here since 1923, and I haven't had a good night's sleep yet."

What's focussed the light upon the inept Indians in recent days is, of course, the strange career of Bill Nowak, the busher from Detroit. Bill is back with the New York Giants now, or, rather, their Jersey City farm, after having been abducted by the Giants, re-abducted by the Indians, and finally restored by Judge William Bramham, the elder of the minor leagues, to Colonel Bill Terry.

It couldn't have happened to anybody except Cleveland. Not even to the Brooklyn Dodgers, in all probability. The Indians undoubtedly had Nowak first. They discovered him as a semi-pro second-baseman around Detroit last year, and they got his name on a contract. Then they forgot all about everything, including Nowak, pending spring.

"Sure," says Oscar Vitt, the Indians' new manager. "We forgot to promulgate Nowak's contract. But that's no excuse for Terry to be quite so sharp about it. As I always say: The sun doesn't shine forever on the same dog, and something's going to happen to Terry if he keeps this up."

HUNT JUNGLE GANGSTER

NABOOMSPRUIT, South Africa (AP)—A motor "army" of 100 automobiles carried farmers, native beaters and hunting dogs on a search for a "killer" lion.

The animal, which has killed many cattle and sheep, is thought to have been wounded.

Garden Club Drive Saturday 'Falls Short'; To Continue

Because of committeewomen's inability to see sufficient business men, a proposed one-day drive of the Garden club to raise money for civic projects "fell short" Saturday, and the campaign will be continued this week, said Mrs. J. E. Hartley, president.

The club in the past has conducted two annual drives, thus defraying expenses of giving prizes in yard beautification and in Christmas lighting campaigns.

It had been hoped to raise $275 Saturday, proceeds to serve both for yard beautification and Christmas lighting, "but our work will have to be continued," said Mrs. Hartley.

Women who assisted in the drive: Mesdames Marvin McLarty, chairman, J. G. Porter, S. S. McKay, W. G. McMillan, J. E. Conner, Bill Whitson, W. L. Bradshaw, Clark M. Mullican, Rufus Rush, and Hartley.

Appreciation for public response was said by Mrs. Hartley.

Weather records show that dust storms of the type that scourged the high plains country the last few years injured the range as early as 1890.

South Plains Farmers Preparing Land In Anticipation Of Spring Plantin

Good Moisture Supply In Soil

Farmers have begun to turn under crop land in anticipation of spring planting, with the best moisture content of the sub-soil of the South Plains in recent years.

Late harvesting of cotton and sorghums and dry top soil late in the fall, held back many farmers in getting ploying under way.

Good Underground Season

February rains, together with what fell in January, has for the most part been sufficient to incure a good underground season. Top soil and sub-soil moisture has met in nearly every community.

March rains have, according to reports from many communities, been enough to keep the ground too wet to work.

Soil In Good Condition

During the past week or ten days there has been a considerable amount of plowing done. Those who have worked their seed beds report the soil in excellent condition, with plenty of moisture.

Rain has kept down the sand-storms to a large degree. There has been but little plowing of sand, or dust from the dust bowl, to combat.

Not much more than half of the area has been prepared for planting. However there is plenty of time as crops generally are not planted until late in April in this area.

Hitler Marches Into Austria

pincer-like action to that country, in whose 3,500,000 Germans Hitler has expressed an interest.

Backed With Military Might

Hitler backed his dramatic union of the two German-speaking peoples with the reich's military might thrusting its gray ranks into every part of Austria and bringing German troops face to face with Italy at the Brenner Pass.

The Fuhrer saved for tomorrow a triumphal entry into Vienna.

All Austria went Nazi. Federal, provincial and municipal governments were taken over by Nazis.

Austrian army troops not only stood by, but also fraternized with the invading legions.

Wave Of Arrests Made

A wave of arrests struck fear to thousands of Austrians—Catholics, Jews, Socialists, and former Austrian government chieftains alike.

Austria's frontiers were closed quickly to prevent a mass exodus of those who fear Nazism.

The Nazi government forbade sending money outside the country, under heavy penalties.

The chancelor Hitler forced out of office, Kurt Schuschnigg, was imprisoned in Belvedere palace surrounded by 2,000 storm-troopers and 50 police. Nazis said the guards were for "his own protection."

Face Italian Allies

Gray lines of German troops, marching on foreign soil for the first time since they quit France in 1918, streamed down to the Italian frontier, coming face to face with their Italian allies at historic Brenner Pass.

Beyond the pass Benito Mussolini gave silent benediction to the triumph of an expanding reign, his ally of the Rome-Berlin axis.

As the first troops marched unmolested into Austria, Nazis took over all government posts from provincial governships down. They assumed control of telegraph, telephone and radio communications. Strict censorship was imposed.

Planes Transport Troops

German warplanes swooped down on Vienna, bringing more than a thousand infantry to take command of the capital. Other squadrons scattered Nazi pronouncements of union while army trucks sped more thousands of German troops to strategic posts throughout Austria.

Hitler's choice as chancellor, Arthur Seysz-Inquart, flew to Linz to greet the Fuehrer at the provincial capital of upper Austria. Vice Chancellor Edmund Glaise, Horstenau too went to pay him homage.

"Ling live the liberator of Austria," shouted crowds in Linz as Hitler in an automobile rolled into the city's main square.

Realizes Long-Cherished Dream

"Today after a long time Hitler again is stepping on Austrian soil," declaimed Glaise-Horstenau, as the Reichsfuehrer realized his long-cherished dream of gaining mastery of his native land.

With Hitler were General Wilhelm Keitel, commander-in-chief of Germany's armed forces, and other Nazis chieftains.

For half an hour Hitler stopped in Braunau for a sentimental visit to his birthplace. At other villages along his route scenes of wildest enthusiasm greeted him.

The governor of upper Austria said Hitler would spend the night at Amstetten, 80 miles from the capital, while Vienna made mammoth preparations to receive him.

FRAU DOLLFUSS FLEES

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, March 12. (AP)—Frau Engelbert Dollfuss, widow of the Austrian chancellor assassinated by Nazis in July, 1934, arrived here today from Austria with her two children.

and forced him to drive away from the scene.

A short distance down the road Albright jumped from the car. He was unhurt and furnished officers with a description of the gunman.

At East Bernard the gunman bought 10 gallons of gasoline and headed for Wharton. Captain E. W. Mayr of the state highway patrol here said he had a report later the sedan was sighted in Eagle Lake.

Police thought the fleeing outlaw might circle through South Texas and enter Houston and go to the home of a woman.

RECOVERY NOTE SOUNDED

NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—After a week of general droopiness, the stock market ended today on a gentle recovery note.

War tension, as a result of the latest Austro-German developments, which touched off a late slide in the list yesterday, appeared to have lessened consiederably.

Some market observers, studying political complications overseas, looked for no outbreak of hostilities immediately and expressed the thought that, even if an explosion should occur, the chances were better than even foreign capital would jump to the United States as the safest haven.

Today's turnover amounted to 399,850 shares compared with last Saturday's low volume of 272,000.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 42.3, although showing a net decline from a week ago of 2.2 points, the most sizable set-back for any similar period since the last part of January.

NEW ELEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 12. (AP) — After declining $5 to 80 cents a bale cotton prices rallied later today under local and outside speculative support and increased trade buying. The close was very steady, net one point lower to 2 higher.

The decline uncovered some stop loss orders which were forced out at the lowest. Occasional flurries of hedging added to the easing tendency and before the offerings were absorbed active positions were 11 to 16 points net lower.

In the second hour buying increased from all sources with some based on expectations of a favorable vote on the marketing quotas today and some on the theory that the worst in Europe is over, at least for the time being.

The market closed at the top with March at 9.06-bid, May at 9.07@9.08, July at 9.14, Oct. at 9.21, Dec. at 9.23 and Jan. at 9.24.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—Nervousness over European political developments accounted for opening cotton losses of about 75 cents to $1 a bale but they were almost recovered by the close. May advanced from 8.81@8.88 and ended at 8.83, with final prices 2 to 5 points net lower.

The market opened 15 to 21 points lower in partial response to weakness at Liverpool and Bombay and under rather heavy and general foreign selling. Opening declines to the lowest levels since February 15 uncovered further active scale down trade buying and local and New Orleans covering. Southern offerings continued light. The market displayed a fairly steady tone in the later trading.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 12. (AP) — The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.98 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 9.06 cents a pound.

involved. He gave closest attention to reports from European capitals, however, and President Roosevelt was kept well informed.

Had Violated Promise

The German ambassador told Hull former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria — who resigned under pressure of Nazi opposition to his proposed plebiscite on the question of continuing independence—had called the plebiscite in "flagrant violation" of promises made when he talked with Adolf Hitler at Berchtesgaden February 12.

The plebiscite order, issued March 9, made it "perfectly clear" Dieckhoff contended, that it constituted "an attempt to subjugate" the nationalist socialist party in Austria.

Austrian Nazis would have none of it, Dieckhoff informed Hull. He explained they were so resolute that they had forced Schuschnigg to resign in favor of Hitler's old friend, Seysz-Inquart, who then asked for German police and military intervention to avoid "chaos."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 12. (AP)—The wheat pit hummed with traders' talk about the European political situation today but it had no lasting bullish effect on prices.

Wheat quotations rose as much as 1⅛ cents at the opening to a high of 89⅝ for May delivery. Later, however, the advance was wiped out by scattered profit taking and commission house selling.

Speculative interest was small, many traders apparently being unwilling to take a position in the market until the European situation became more quiet. Prices in other world markets were marked up ⅜ to as much as 1⅞ cents but the full advance was not maintained. Observers said the action of prices indicated traders apparently did not appraise European developments as an immediate war threat.

Wheat closed ¼ lower ¼ higher compared with yesterday's finish, May 88⅝@88⅝, July 84⅞@84¾, September 85¼@85⅛; corn was ⅛ off to ¼ up, May 59@59⅛, July 60⅜, September 62; oats ⅜ up, May 30⅛; rye gained ¾ to 1, May 69¾; lard uncharged to 7 higher.

Favor Single Salary Schedule

The group also favored adoption of a single salary schedule, a program for enactment of a tenure law, and establishment of a "Texas school of the air," whereby radio facilities would be used for a program of education.

The group elected 13 delegates to represent the association in the state organization's council and named three to the state executive committee.

Numerous Funds

character of state employes.

Funds Encourage Waste

Regarding special funds, which are set up to maintain specific governmental operations, the auditor said they encouraged waste and extravagance and created "conditions under which certain activities and functions are supported in luxury while others are starved."

King asserted establishment of a central mailing service perhaps would effect a large saving in inter-departmental mailings. The state's postage and postoffice box rent bill last year aggregated $280,-168.

One of the most interesting tables in the report showed that of governmental operating expenses aggregating $144,572,102 last year, 81.8 per cent came from special funds and only 18.2 per cent from the general fund.

Traveling Sizeable Item

Traveling of state employes costs a sizeable sum. During the last fiscal year, automobile mileage on personal cars amounted to $773,303, train fares, hotel bills and other traveling expenses $639,224, repairs to state automobiles $53,258, and state automobile supplies $197,061 or a total of $1,662,846. This did not include the cost of new automobiles, most of the state highway department's travel expense, which is charged to construction, or travel paid for out of local funds of colleges and eleemosynary institutions.

In addition to travel expenses, some of the big items in the state's expenditure for the year: highway construction and maintenance, $43,-372,071, school aid $33,594,075, old age pensions, $18,673,213; Confederate and Mexican war pensions, $1,-752,319; principal and interest on public debt, $3,258,884; state assumption of highway bonds issued by counties or districts, $8,625,483; construction of buildings and acquisition of property, $4,941,542; salaries and wages, $16,985,596, stationery, printing and office expenses, $3,260,-548 and sundry supplies, commodities and expense $3,352,872.

down during the period from the last of the year until the past week. Farmers who completed sales of their cotton crop had had time after the first of the year to take up their indebtedness. Business men also could reduce their debts.

Usual Slump Not Evident

Farmers are not expected to begin asking for loans with which to start 1938 operations for several weeks. Most of them will wait until the provisions of the agricultural act are better known and when they know how much cotton they will be able to plant.

The usual slump early in the year is not evident in Lubbock this year.

Youth Is Charged In Burglary Of Home

Ewing Lee, 18-year-old Lubbock youth, late Saturday was charged in the justice court of Walter Davies with burglary in connection with the recent entrance into the 2324 Sixteenth street residence of Roy Neal, said Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney.

Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, said Lee was released on bond of $1,000.

A 20-year-old man also was arrested and questioned in connection with receiving and concealing assertedly stolen property which was taken from the Neal residence, said Bill Mabray, police identification officer, who with Aubrey Fawver, Tom Cannon, and Lewis Kittrell, all of the police department, made the arrests.

Neal said his residence had been entered twice and missing from the residence were three pistols, two rifles, and two cameras.

Mabray said one of the rifles and one of the cameras had been recovered and that officers expected to recover the other property probably Monday.

Texas Politics Warming Up manage Thompson's campaign.

The feeling was growing in some quarters here that former governor James E. Ferguson had made his last race in behalf of himself or his wife, former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. "Farmer Jim" now is 66 and can't campaign like he once could. His comment this week, however, was:

May Have Something To Say

"I may have something further to say about the governor's race a little later on. I see no reason for me to hurry. The election can't come off until the last days of July and between now and then the issues and candidates may become better defined."

One possible entrant in the gubernatorial competition was removed when Mayor C. K. Quin of San Antonio announced definitely he would not run. Another South Texas Mayor, P. D. Renfro of Beaumont, pushed plans for an active campaign.

Farmer Publishes Paper

Publication of a paper in the interest of the gubernatorial candidacy of Rep. Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth began at Waco. The Fort Worth legislator, who favors liberal old age pensions and repeal of the 7,000-pound truck load limit, said he would have state campaign headquarters at Waco.

Josephn King, Harris county tourist camp operator, came in with payment of the $100 filing fee, announcing he favored re-legalization of horse race betting and authorization of sales of whisky by the drink in hotels and cafes in cities desiring such sales.

Rail Contest Hottest

The Railroad commissioner's contest, in which incumbent C. V. Terrell perhaps faced one of the stiffest fights of his long political career, had attracted the most participants.

Running against Terrell were John Wood of Timpson, state highway commissioner the last five years; former Senator Robert A. Stuart of Fort Worth; Frank Morris of Dallas, who was in the run-off in the rail commission race two years ago; G. A. (Jerry) Sadler of Longview, former Senator Will Martin of Hillsboro, Richard A. Tullis of San Antonio and O. C. (Red) Christie of Allen, Collin county.

The state superintendent's race was enlivened by indistment of an assistant of Superintendent L. A. Woods, who is seeking renomination. Woods claimed politics was back of the charges, which were in connection with the handling of certain fees, and urged an early trial. The trial has been tentatively set for May 16, long before the first primary.

CMA Gains 200 New Members

The annual membership drive conducted by the South Plains Civic Music association last week and which closed at 10 o'clock Saturday night, netted approximately 200 new members for the 1938-39 series, insuring more than ample funds for securing a well-balanced program, according to announcement from association officials.

The campaign recently was changed to the spring from the fall so as to allow the talent committee to obtain better artists, said Dr. Fred W. Standefer, association president. Most of the artists make their engagement in the spring, it was pointed out.

Woods Expresses Appreciation

H. D. Woods, chairman of the membership campaign, expressed appreciation to the workers on the teams "who helped to make the campaign a success."

After tabulations Saturday night, the talent committee selected the following numbers for the 1938-39 season: Florence George, soprano; Alexander Brailowsky, pianist; Emanuel Feuermann, cellist; and Susanne Fisher and Clifford Menz, soprano and tenor, respectively, in a concert.

The fourth and last number of the present season will be a presentation of Douglas Beattie, basso, about April 1, it was announced.

The next campaign will be conducted next spring for the 1939-40 season.

Sam Harrington of the National Broadcasting company headquarters was here throughout the duration of the campaign conferring with association officials and assisting in the drive.

Exchange Posts New Regulation

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 12.—Acting swiftly after the failure and indictment of its former president, the New York Stock exchange put into effect today a new rule requiring exchange brokerage firms to make available a statement of financial condition to any customer upon request.

The ruling, figuratively compelling brokerage houses to keep their asset ledgers "in their front windows" for the guidance of security-trading cusstomers, applied to all member firms regardless of whether they carried margin accounts.

Investgations Pressed

It was adopted by the exchange governing committee as state, local and federal investigations were pressed into the tangled finances of Richard Whitney. The failure of his brokerage firm four days ago gave Wall street its biggest scandal in years.

Whitney, five times head of the stock exchange, was free on a total of $35,000 bail on state and county charges he had illegally appropriated at least $208,000 to his own use.

Hearing Scheduled Monday

A hearing is scheduled Monday on a grand larceny indictment obtained by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey charging Whitney with misappropriating $105,000 in securities from the estate of his father-in-law.

The middle-aged broker stood in depressed silence yesterday while his attorney arranged $25,000 bail on a second grand larceny count brought by State Attorney General John J. Bennett.

Bennett ordered Whitney's arrest after Commodore William A. W. Stewart of the exclusive New York Yacht club testified at a state inquiry that Whitney, long his friend, "unlawfully" had taken $103,000 in club bonds from a safe deposit box. Whitney was treasurer of the club.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Gregory Noonan, conducting a quiet federal investigation, said he would have sufficient information by next week to "decide whether to go before the grand jury."

Relief From Tax Burden Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 12. — Chairman Harrison (D-Miss), of the powerful senate finance committee, proposed today that tax relief to "encourage new investments and melt much frozen credit" go far beyond the administration-approved provisions of the house tax bill.

In a statement issued while his committee arranged to begin study of the house measure Monday, Harrison declared the undistributed profits tax should be killed in its entirety.

Will Haunt Business

"While the house retained only the skeleton of the undistributed profits tax, he said, "the remains will haunt business, and its complete removal and return to a sufficient flat corporation tax is preferable. It is simpler and more understandable."

Harrison declared also that the capital gains provisions of the bill which the house approved yesterday should be revamped to substitute a flat rate for the present sliding scale.

Fight Is Expected

Administration leaders were expected to fight abandonment of the principle of the undistributed profits tax, which many business spokesmen have blamed for the current economic slump. The house bill, which must be acted upon by the senate before it can become law, would modify this levy substantially but retain its principal for corporations making net incomes in excess of $25,000 a year.

Harrison also mentioned possibility of broadening the tax base to bring new taxpayers under the income levy, and of cutting some of the surtax rates on higher bracket individual income.

A 42-year-old Lubbock man was arrested late Saturday by Aubrie Cummings of the police department for investigation into the theft of a suit of clothes and a sleeveless sweater from a department store, a spot light from a truck belonging to Jesus Martinez, and a 10-pound sack of beans from the truck. All but the beans late that night had been recovered, said M. N. Davidson, night sergeant.

Czechs' Fate Up To Two Powers

gestion Chamberlain might be planning a snap general election to seek endorsement for a stronger British foreign policy, possibly including a promise of armed aid for Czechoslovakia.

Might Be "Death Warrant"

But most informed sources indicated the prime minister might sign his own political "death warrant" if he faced the country before public opinion might swing around sharply from the present isolationist stand.

A communique issued after the cabinet meeting made it evident any Anglo-German agreement now was out of the question.

Seen As Next Objective

France, where Premier-designate Leon Blum wrestled to form a strong and open Anglo-French stand would save Czechoslavakia from being Germany's next objective.

The French are obligated by treaty to aid Czechoslavakia in event of attack.

In Berlin it was expected Hitler soon would turn toward that democratic neighbor of his where there are 3,500,000 Germans in whom he already has proclaimed his interest.

Nazi scorn at Anglo-French repsentations over Austria was cited here as evidence mere protests were vain in dealing with Germany.

The big silent looker-on may add impressiveness to the dance stag line, but Betty Co-ed holds a special grudge in her heart for him.

That she proved at the annual "stagette" dance sponsored by the Press club of Texas Technological college Friday night in the men's dormitory, and at which co-eds "tagged."

True, the co-eds gave their dates a royal treat, calling for them, paying the expenses, and in some cases buying corsages, but some took the opportunity for resentment.

"I'm not going to dance with him, because he never dances with me," said many a co-ed, and one more actively ridded herself of resentment.

She left the stag line, appeared on the point of "tagging" a couple, then drew back her hand, looked critically at the man, and sauntered away. "He did me that way one time," she explained.

But despite revenge, most men received a "rush" and considered the occasion a "treat" for them.

Five Charges Of Burglary Are Filed On Youth At Muleshoe

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

MULESHOE—Sheriff Jim Cook of Bailey county tonight said five charges of burglary had been filed here against Roy Pine, 17, who formerly lived at El Paso.

The charges are in connection with burglary of five farm residences in the county. Most of the property assertedly taken had been recovered, Cook said. The boy has made sworn statements to officers, it was indicated.

Pine was arrested on the highway here about the middle of February, the sheriff said, by W. E. Renfro, deputy sheriff, and Joe Bartley, jailer.

Renfro swore to the complaints which were prepared by Cecil H. Tate, county attorney, and filed with J. F. Vaughn, justice of the peace, Cook said.

The cases will be investigated by a grand jury in May, it was pointed out.

Pine is under a federal charge filed at Lubbock alleging transportation of an assertedly stolen automobile in interstate commerce.

At least 40,000,000 persons in the country had some kind of a vacation in 1937, it is estimated.

Girl Scouts Are Observing Week

Amid a setting of cedar trees, pastel paintings, Indian blankets, wood and sandstone carvings and pottery, three girl scouts of the Lubbock troops began an exhibition Saturday afternoon in a show window of Hemphill-Wells department store representing the customs and domestic inclinations of the almost-forgotten Indians that inhabited areas of West Texas several decades ago. Representations such as this have been chosen for celebrating National Girl Scout week. The girls will be in the display window afternoons after school for the next week.

An Indian maiden dancer, represented by Martha Hughes, dressed in typical Red-Skin body coverings, head dress, bracelets, and war paint, "goes into her war dance" sounding the call to battle on a painted drum.

Squaw Is Represented

Doris Crim represents a squaw with her papoose slung on her back as she sits before a cedar constructed loom, weaving a bright-colored blanket. The papoose was carved from sandstone by a member of the troop. Another ornamental cloth is being woven by Dorothy Mae Lewis at a smaller loom.

A table of eats has been set with biscuits, bacon, baked potatoes, leg-of-mutton, cauliflower, watermelon, pies and confections, all represented by variously formed and colored rocks. Spoons were made from cedar knots and near the table, suspended from a cord, a ham turns slowly over a fire.

Other main features of the exhibit include a mineral collection arranged by Raymond G. Sidwell, professor of geology, at Texas Technological college, which includes staurolite of granite schist, hematite, granite, copper, and shale. A scale map of a portion of Lubbock with indications shown of houses, grasslands, wire fences, windmills, orchards, lakes and pools, cotton fields, light and telegraph lines is also shown.

Other interesting Indian relics and representations are shown.

One Of World's Largest Sugar Refineries Closes On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12. (AP)—One of the world's largest sugar refineries, the Crockett plant of the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining corporation, ltd., which employs 1850 men, was closed today as a CIO union threw a picket line around the plant.

I still have one farm that I can sell at an attractive price and give possession for this crop.

I also sell brick and if you are going to build I wish that you would come to my office at room 200 Leader Bldg. and see them. Did you know that it only cost a very little more to build a brick veneer than it does to use, siding, if you count the cost of a few paint jobs, brick buildings sell much better than frames.

Farmer Speaks Here Saturday

An audience made up largely of those with gray-hair heard Rep. Clarence Farmer of Fort Worth promise pensions of not less than $30 per month to every needy person more than 65 years of age if he is elected governor as he urged his candidacy in an address in the 99th district courtroom here Saturday afternoon for the Democratic nomination next July 23.

He assailed Governor Allred and the present state administration as having "double-crossed" the people because old age assistance payments are no larger than now is the case.

Cites Lubbock Condition

He recited that in Lubbock county last month only 520 persons received pensions averaging less than $16 for the month. He declared that the county's payment of gasoline, automobile and truck taxes last year approximately $600,000 which, he contended, should be made available for old age relief ahead of anything else. He argued that at least 2,000 aged persons in Lubbock county should be on the pension rolls.

Farmer proposed, if he is nominated and elected, to seek laws placing the determination of who is eligible for pensions in the hands of county judges; to simplify and speed action upon pension applications; to abolish poll taxes; to increase greatly the present 7,000-pound load limit on commercial trucks; to strive for laws enabling "any man who wants a home to have one"; and to increase taxes on crude oil and gas.

Predicts His Strength

The candidate devoted considerable time to attempted refutation that he belongs among the minor gubernational candidates. He theorized that he will receive the votes of 400,000 old people, 250,000 younger members of their families, 50,000 from organized labor and 200,000 from tenant farmers.

Mrs. Julia A. Sharp, former deputy sheriff at El Paso, spoke briefly after Farmer ended his talk.

Henry Lowery, farmer residing near Lubbock, introduced the candidate.

City Park Beautification Is Launched By Sudan Groups

SUDAN, March 12. (Special) — The City park beautification program was inaugurated today with the completion of installation of sprinkle system, making possible the watering of the entire area at one time. Fifty-six sprays have been placed over the city square.

Posts will be set around the park's outer edge, trees and shrubbery are to be planted, and Bermuda grass will cover the entire park.

City Water Superintendent Frank White has charge of beautification work and is being assisted by the city council and the Rotary club.

Over 1,000 feet of two-inch pipe were laid in the park to permanently connect the $350 sprinkling system.

COURSES IN COURTSHIP

TO eliminate the "trial and error" marriage, Philo T. Farnsworth, assistant superintendent of the Granite, Utah school district, is urging courses in courtship and marriage for students.

In a recent interview he stated the courses should encourage young people to (1) Marry a person of the same religious denomination or understanding, (2) Avoid loud talk in disputes, (3) Maintain a sense of humor, (4) Refrain from concealing little differences until they reach the breaking point, (5) Establish a home and avoid living with the in-laws, (6) Realize that candy and flowers should not stop with marriage, (7) Review each day and make right all misunderstandings.

ON TURNING BACK

IN a beautiful tribute paid to Captain Edwin C. Musick and the six men who died January 11 when the Samoan Clipper was destroyed by fire of unknown origin, an editorial in the Pan American Air Ways magazine has this sentence: "He was a sturdy pillar for those younger flight officers who are only now struggling on the first rungs of that long ladder, and an unfailing example of conservative judgment, endowed with the greatest of all courage—the courage to turn back."

In these days of the ambitious cries "Onward," "Forward," and "Upward," it behooves us to consider there may come a time when, even though we rebel against it, it's best that we turn back. Methodism everywhere this year is turning back, seeking inspiration anew from Aldersgate, where lived John Wesley, its founder. If great pilots turn back to get their bearings, why would it not be worth while for us in our round of every day life to take example by them and chart our ways anew?

Katharine Cornell observed her new birthday by telling everybody she was 40, which is refreshing candor in these days of edited birth certificates and perennial youth. . . . Simple, but commendable, the note Mrs. Maybelle Hope McIntyre (Mrs. O. O. John Young-Hunter, who painted the portrait of Dr. Bradford Knapp that hangs in the Tech library, will exhibit paintings valued at $50,000 in Lubbock in the near future. . . . IF you want a dozen fashion and beauty tips all rolled into one it is simply this: "Wear pink this spring." . . . Wish we didn't have to take age on the chin. . . . Don't forget the petunia in the planting and be sure to arrange for new ones to be placed in beds while on vacation during the summer, as they will withstand much heat and abuse in the absence of the gardner.

THERE'S an undeniable thrill to receiving a flattering letter, even an anonymous one. . . . For reasons the trade can't fathom, toothbrushes with red handles sell best in the 10-cent class, while those with amber handles are best sellers in the 25-cent division. . . . The dissatisfied age: When Fortune, in a nation-wide survey, asked, "If you could go back to the age of 18 and start life over again, would you choose a different career or occupation?" 44.8 per cent of the men and 37 per cent of the women queried said they would. What would you do? . . . Fair enough: A New York radio station now signs off each night with a prayer. . . . Girl Scouts Are Planning Week Of Activity

LUBBOCK Girl Scouts are joining girls all over the nation this week in celebration of the 26th anniversary of Girl Scouting. Throughout the week there will be an exhibit of local Girl Scout handicraft in a Hemphill-Wells store window.

Each afternoon, girls will sit in the window weaving on a Navajo Indian-type loom made by girls of the Ellwood troop.

This morning, the troops will attend, in uniform, services at the First Christian church. The girls will be accompanied by their leaders.

At 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, there will be a 15 minute broadcast by the troops over radio station KFYO, and Saturday, there will be an all-day, all-troop picnic at Mackenzie State park. Other activities are being planned.

This spring the Fitzgeralds will go to Lincoln, Eng., to visit her parents.

from Lou to Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: Well, the South Plains Civic Music association membership drive went over with a bang, Mrs. Roosevelt has come and gone, the shouting and the tumult at Amarillo is dead, the highly entertaining Trudi Schoop show is now a pleasant memory and social activities of the week have left me in a receptive mood for whatever spring has to bring.

I don't believe I'll have a busier week in a long, long while, and certainly never as interesting a week.

Three Parties At Once!

Friday night I was invited to three parties, a bridge party, a shower for Geraldine Turner Fedrick and a shower for Rachel Campbell (two of my predictions come true) who is getting herself married today to handsome Bruce Ferrell of Austin. Saturday night I went to a birthday dinner and personal shower for Mr. Ferrell and today I'm going to the wedding. I think I'll leave town for a rest this afternoon.

I haven't been alone in the social rush. Everyone I've seen since Saturday has looked like he wished he were in bed asleep.

I'M afraid I'll have to disappoint you on my promise of a marriage prediction. I was asked not to mention it for awhile. I'll be letting you know soon, however.

I do have an inkling of another marriage, a long time off: That of Miss Louise Conner of Floydada, former Tech student, to O. B. Haught of Lubbock in August, I believe.

There will be lots and lots of weddings this summer and some of them, if history is to be repeated, won't get announced until mid-winter or the following spring. And while I'm not a person to spill the beans on secret marriages (of you recall, I've never called names when speaking of one and I never shall), I'm very much against them.

Just As Hard On The Folks!

It's been my experience, during many years behind a society desk, to observe that parents are just as grief-stricken when they find their children have been married secretly as they are shocked when the wedding is announced publicly after the ceremony.

Often there are legitimate reasons, such as the seeming necessity of fooling a school board or other employer until one or both parties gets a more satisfactory means of making a living, but more often it is an idea or "pulling something smart" that causes the eloping couple to keep their secret as long as possible, I believe.

WHETHER or not Tech college will have national sororities and fraternities any time soon is something which I am not prepared to predict. I can only hope, and my reasons for wanting them are too numerous to mention here.

However, when and if Pan-Hellenic sororities are established here, the secret marriage situation among students will become a thing of the past because the Pan-Hellenics make a girl turn in her pin when it becomes known that she married without previous consent of her guardians and a public announcement.

To turn in a sorority pin is a very deep disgrace in college circles.

Trailer Survey Set This Week

A survey will be made early this week as a final preliminary to actual and vigorous enforcement of the newly enacted city ordinance designed to eliminate trailer type houses as plaves of habitation from Lubbock city limits, according to information given Saturday by Jim Reid, city building inspector.

Reid described the survey as being necessary to "let us know just where we stand." Its purpose will be to ascertain where houses may be located which are in violation of the ordinance and to work out a system as simplified as possible enabling city officials to keep constant check on the trailer house situation.

Many Already Moved

The building inspector estimated that 200 such houses already have been moved in compliance with the ordinance.

Some of the requirements of the ordinance are: such houses may not be more than 16 feet in width and 30 feet in length; they may not be placed at the front of property unless they compare in contruction to existing buildings in the same district; they may not be placed at the front of property in "new building districts;" when placed at the rear of property, they must be at least 80 feet from the street line on which the structure faces; there must be at least 3,000 square feet of lot space for each building; at least 10 feet of open space must be left between such buildings; and they must be ventilated so as to give at least three changes of air per hour.

To Grant Permits

Preparations also will be made, Reid said, for the enforcement of another provision of the ordinance under which transients and tourists will be permitted to obtain permits for temporary residence in trailers. The permits will be for two weeks with privilege of renewal another two weeks.

However, to come within meaning of the ordinance, the building inspector said, the trailer must carry a state highway license plate and be of sufficiently substantial construction for travel on highways.

Semi-Annual Session Staged In Vernon

Most South Plains towns and cities will be represented today at Vernon at the semi-annual district convention of Texas Retail Credit Bureaus and of the Retail Merchants association secretaries and Credit Grantors, according to information given Saturday at the Lubbock association.

Attending from here will be A. B. Davis, district vice president of credit bureaus, and Mrs. Gladys Workman, secretary, and Mrs. Billy Frances Price, member of the personnel of Lubbock Retail Merchants association. Also planning to attend is Mrs. Adella S. Drew, secretary of Plainview association and of the district organization.

Principal speakers at the all-day meeting will include C. T. Lux of Austin, secretary of the state association, and Joe Burwell, of Fort Worth, of the sales and service department of the state organization. Davis will be program chairman.

Sound is that which is recognized by the sense of hearing. The sensation of sound is produced in the auditory nerve centers by vibrations communicated through the ear.

Life Insurance Officials Will Visit City Wednesday; Luncheon Will Be Conducted

Invitations were extended Saturday to life underwriters throughout the South Plains to attend a luncheon at Hilton hotel here Wednesday at which A. R. Wilson of Waco, president of Amicable Life

A. R. WILSON

Insurance company, and Lucian T. Jones of San Antonio, secretary of the Texas association of Life Underwriters, will be guests of honor.

Chas. A. Whitacre, president of South Plains chapter of the state association, and a group of others will go to Big Spring late Tuesday to greet the visitors and accompany them to Lubbock. They are to speak at Big Spring Tuesday night and in Amarillo Wednesday night.

Wilson has been a visitor to Lubbock and the South Plains on many occasions and has been one of the most enthusiastic boosters of the region. He recalled on a recent visit here that the company of which he is head has more loans in force on property in the vicinity of Lubbock than in any other area of similar size. He has been in the life insurance business more than 30 years.

Subject of his address here will be, "Service of Life Insurance As Applied to Human Needs." His appearance here will feature the sixth of a series of special monthly programs arranged for West Texas cities by O. D. Douglas of San Antonio, president of the state association.

Club Contest To Close Tuesday

Deadline for the yard beautification contest, being sponsored by the Lubbock Garden club, is Tuesday. Anyone may enter the contest, Mrs. J. E. Hartley, president, has announced. The entries may be telephoned to Mrs. Hartley or Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw.

Yards will be inspected soon after Tuesday, then again about October 1 and judging will be based on the amount of improvement accomplished.

Taking the place of a regular garden club meeting for this month will be an annual plant and flower exchange to be held from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. Friday in the Harold Griffith Furniture store, 1015 Main street. Anyone interested in trading or giving away plants or flowers is invited to participate, the president said.

All members of the club are asked to register in the store during the day, so that their March attendance may be recorded.

Saturday members of the club sold tags and azaelmum plants downtown to raise funds for the beautification contest and other altruistic work of the organization.

Flowers For Mrs. Dean

"Don't you think Mrs. Kirk Dean is strikingly like Dolores Del Rio? Incidentally, she seems to be calmness personified."

Yes, I think she is striking but not like Dolores Del Rio who isn't in my opinion, calmness personified. I'll take lovely John Anna (Mrs. Dean) in preference to Dolores any time.

I HAVE some more compliments saved up. They are for Mrs. Cassius M. Stanley of Jawja who characterizes my idea of a typical, lovely Southern girl; for handsome Mrs. George Simmons who is my idea of an ideal mother, and for Mrs. Dale Ackers who is extremely intelligent as well as extremely pretty.

Among the many Lubbock residents who trekked to Amarillo for the Wednesday celebration were Mrs. Clem Boverie and Mrs. Turner Adams who were guests of Clarice Hull, formerly of Lubbock. There were several parties for them Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Here's the finest example of neighborliness or something that I've bumped into in a long time. The W. W. Condrays have a new daughter and the Fred Hackels, next door, buy a bassinet so they may keep the baby some of the time.

Yours, Lou.

County Girls' Club Sponsors And Demonstrators Gather

A joint meeting of girls' 4-H club sponsors and poultry demonstrators was held recently in the district court room. Program material on "Poultry Breeds" was given to the demonstrators for use at their next club meetings with the assistant county home demonstration agent, Miss Elizabeth Brooks.

Some feed hoppers and watering fountains that may be bought at hardware stores at little cost were exhibited. Miss Brooks stressed the importance of having plenty of equipment that might easily be kept clean.

"At least one foot of trough to every ten hens should be provided in order that there will not be waiting at the feed hoppers and watering fountains", Miss Brooks explained.

Plans were discussed for raising money for sending girls to a short course at Texas A. and M. college in July. Twenty-two persons attended the meeting.

IT'S A BIG HONEY FOR MIGHTY LITTLE MONEY!

ASK YOUR FRIENDS, ask your neighbors, what they think of this '38 Buick, and they'll give it to you quick in six little words:

"It's a honey for the money!"

That's praise all right—but praise that still doesn't do this great car full justice!

For here's a traveler that would be a buy even if you had to pay a premium to get it!

It's a car with power like no other. Power literally born of the hurricane — power that makes gasoline deliver more—power that's smooth, willing, brilliant.

Here's a car, too, with an utterly different kind of ride. A ride that gentles every jar and jolt. A ride that's safer in nasty going, that gives sureness to control, that cuts down upkeep and makes rear tires last longer.

NEW DYNAFLASH ENGINE . . . puts cyclones at your service . . . nearly 10% more power from the same rationing of fuel.

NEW TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING . . . gentles every jar and jolt . . . reduces skid-risks . . . makes rear tires last longer.

And here's a car that in addition sparkles with features as a Christmas tree sparkles with ornaments.

New quiet, from "silent zone" body mounting. New comfort, from deep, broad comfort-angled seats. New pride of possession, from style hailed as the smartest of the year.

Yet big and satisfying as this beautiful Buick is, a little money buys it! No more than you'll pay for some sixes. Less than for any other eight of its size.

So there's no longer any reason for not stepping up to the kind of car you've always wanted.

Go now and get the details from the nearest Buick dealer—see the car that folks just won't do without.

"Better buy Buick!"

Church Indebtedness Cleared Last Week

Calvary Baptist church has during the past week finished paying all indebtedness on both church property and the pastor's home.

Organized March 20, 1927 with 11 members, the church was first located at the corner of Nineteenth street and Avenue Q. Outgrowing facilities there six lots on the corner of Eighteenth street and Avenue T were secured and a stucco building covering 7200 feet of floor space was built. The first services there were held the first Sunday in July, 1938.

Since the church organized, about 1300 people have come into its fellowship. Many of these have moved elsewhere and there are now about 675 names on its roll. Rev. W. A. Todd of Brownwood served as pastor for about 16 months. Rev. C. J. McCarty has been pastor since September 17, 1928. The church plans to continue its building program in the near future.

Baptist Associational Meet Is Scheduled At Dickens

DICKENS, Mar. 12.—A Baptist associational Sunday school meeting is to be held at the Baptist church here Sunday afternoon, Rev. B. B. Huckabay, pastor, announced.

HAT HAS VINTAGE

SOUTHLAND, March 12 (Special)—J. E. Noack, about 65, of five miles south of Southland, has worn the same hat 38 years.

The hat company that manufactured it has offered to present him with a new topper if he will send in the battered relic.

Noack owns a section of land he acquired in 1918 and grows cotton and wheat for cash crops.

Greatest risk of appendicitis, according to doctors, prevails during the second and third decades of life. The greatest number of cases affect people between 10 and 20.

Anniversary Is To Be Observed

The fifth anniversary of the Tabernacle Baptist church, at Avenue N and Fifteenth street, will be observed today.

Dinner will be served at the church and all visitors "may be assured of a hearty welcome," said Rev. Ben D. Johnson, pastor.

Organized In 1933

The church was organized with 18 members March 12, 1933, and the congregation met at the home of J. M. Norman. Place of meeting later was moved to a store building on Broadway where services were held three months. By that time plans had been made for a building and the site on which the church now stands was selected.

Three lots were purchased at a price of $1,250. The church has paid that debt, with exception of two notes, one payable in February, 1939, and the other in 1940. The notes total $400 and the church and property are estimated to be worth $5,000, Mr. Johnson said.

300 Members Enrolled

There are approximately 300 members enrolled in the church and the Bible School is showing substantial increases, it was pointed out. Average attendance has jumped 35 in the last three months. A goal of 200 has been set for the first Sunday in June.

"The Tabernacle Baptists have conducted a radio broadcast the last five years at 8 o'clock Sunday mornings. Church officials expressed appreciation "for the friends and listeners who have helped to sponsor the broadcast," Mr. Johnson said.

There have been two churches organized by the pastor, Mr. Johnson, one at Floydada and the other at Brownfield. Both organizations are continuing their growth and progressing as the Tabernacle Baptist church, it was pointed out. The pastor preaches two Sunday afternoons a month at Brownfield. The church has 65 to 70 members and is free of debt with two lots.

Aged, crippled Chief John Osceola, seen above in colorful tribal costume, said John Billy, black sheep of the Pirate's Cove, Fla., Seminole Indian village, was "heap much bad." Shylock and other Shakespearean characters will walk across the stage of Senior High school March 28, when Jack Rank, dramatic actor, will present a revue. His lightning-like changes will transform him from Othello to Portia and Antonio to Lady Macbeth and other characters. The protean was here last year.

Fifty members of the Senior High school glee club will leave by cars Wednesday morning for a program in Abilene High school. The group will include in its songs those of Abilene and Lubbock, as well as Go Down Moses, Winter Song, Until the Dawn, Drink to Me Only, Song of Love, Ranger's Song, Homing, In A Sentimental Mood, and Marie. There will be presented a girls quartet, boys chorus, girls chorus, boys quartet and a mixed chorus.

Three musical organizations of Senior High school will represent the school April 28 through 30 at the West Texas State Band contests in San Angelo. All "A" bands will be required to play Beatrice, by U. Bard and Benedice by Berlos. Narator by Holmes will be required for "B" bands. The public will choose other selections to be played, when a concert is presented soon. The orchestra also will go to San Angelo, and will compete with San Angelo and Abilene. It will be required to play Prelude Chorale in Fugue, Bach, and Gypsy Baron Overture by Strauss.

Deadline for the first 16 pages of the 1938 Westerner, Senior High school yearbook, was Thursday, and the other will be Friday. Following tradition, the yearbook will be dedicated to a teacher, but the name will be kept secret until the book is distributed. In addition, a directory of seniors will be included.

Directors of the Lions club are to meet Monday noon in the Hilton hotel for the regular monthly session. W. H. Evans, president, is to preside.

Loan Program To Stabilize Wool Prices To Be Started

Millions To Be Made Available For Program; Rates Announced

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—Secretary Wallace announced today inauguration of a $50,000,000 loan program to stabilize the price of wool and help producers carry heavy stocks and an anticipated heavy 1938 clip until markets improve.

The loans will be made by the Commodity Credit corporation, agency lending similar assistance to growers of cotton, corn, tobacco and other farm commodities, under provisions of the new farm act.

Average 18 Cents

The loan rate o nthe principal classes of wool will be made at between 15 and 22 cents a pound on a grease basis at Boston. Agricultural Adjustment administration officials said the loans were expected to average approximately 17.5 to 18 cents per pound grease basis to producers, and about 75 per cent of the prewar parity price of wool.

All producers, including, under approved regulations, producer-owned pools, will be eligible for loans, the officials said.

The fund set aside for the loans will cover, officials said, about 250,000,000 pounds of wool.

For 10 Months Period

The loans will be for a 10-month period provided that does not make the maturity date later than May 31, 1939. They will bear four per cent interest. Although loans will be made for the 10-month period, producers may sell the wool at any time by repaying the loans and accrued storage and handling charges, officials explained.

AAA officials declared the loan was not a "price-fixing" loan, but a marketing loan designed to protect wool producers against the effect of unfavorable conditions in the wool industry while the 1938 clip is moving to market.

They said study of the wool situation indicates that present wool prices were "unduly depressed" and that the rates established would enable producers to market their wool in an orderly manner and at better prices than they would receive if they had to sell all their wool at shearing time. Officials said producers may obtain loans on wool stored at eastern and western concentration points after the wool has been classified and stored under supervision of the Commodity Credit corporation.

Anson Weeks Brings Band Here March 29

Anson Weeks and his noted orchestra will play for a dance March 29 in Sled Allen's auditorium, according to announcement Saturday.

Anson Weeks

Weeks and his musicians, most of whom have been with him since he made his debut 10 years ago in Sacramento, have played in hotels of San Francisco, New York, and other cities, and gained wide attention through broadcasts over NBC, piloted by Walter Winchell.

When he appears here, Weeks will present Kay St. Germain, "Big Ben" Gage, Frank Saputo, and the Weeks trio, all of whom have been featured in his nationwide broadcasts. Weeks is well known on the South Plains, having appeared here before.

Annual Inspection Set For Monday

Annual visit and inspection of Lubbock commandery No. 60, Knights Templar, is to be Monday night in Masonic hall with Otto Stehlick, Wichita Falls, a past grand commander, as the inspecting officer.

John N. Denman is commander of the local group, which has a membership of over 200. Only about 100 are resident members, the others being residents of other cities and communities.

Invitations to other lodges to attend have been sent out and a number from other towns are expected.

Criminal Cases Are Scheduled

For the most part, Lubbock's courts will devote busy weeks to hearing of criminal cases.

Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court, however, will wind up this term with hearing of nonjury civil actions. Saturday he closed a busy week of jury civil cases.

Eleven To Be Called

At least 11 criminal cases will be called by Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court. Representing the state will be Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and his assistant, Victor H. Lindsey.

Cases subject to call in that court are: Howard Bumpass, attempted burglary; Frank Undray, alias Frank Taylor, assault with intent to murder; A. C. Alexander, murder; E. R. Phegley, swindling over $50; Oscar Garner, forgery and passing; J. A. Bell, driving when intoxicated; Herbert Aduddell, driving when intoxicated; Benny Carver, forgery and passing and being an habitual criminal; Jeff Reagan, hog theft; Marvin Monroe, theft over $50; and Floyd Myers, forgery.

Jury Will Report

A jury will report at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon after Judge Pitts calls the criminal docket at 10 o'clock that morning.

When Judge J. J. Dillard of county court called his criminal docket last Monday for two weeks, he set seven cases for hearing this week.

The first case will be heard Tuesday, since the judge will devote Monday to meeting with Lubbock county commissioners in regular semi-monthly session. Only routine business is scheduled for the meeting, the judge said.

Cases set for this week in county court: Tuesday—two charges of swindling with worthless check against J. W. Cook; Wednesday—liquor law violation against Oran Ashcraft and swindling with worthless check against W. D. Kitron; Thursday—aggravated assault against George R. Smith; Friday—embezzlement against Son Chance and speeding against C. E. Luper.

It was indicated several cases scheduled for last week and which were not heard possibly would be called this week.

Surprising Results After Treatment For Cancer Are Reported With New Machine

BY A. MURRAY DYER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BOSTON, Mar. 12—Phyzicians who have been treating cancer patients under a million volt x-ray machine, the only one of its type in the world, report "surprising results" during the first six months of experimentation.

Under the treatment, doctors at Huntington Memorial hospital reported in the New England Medical Journal today, certain forms of cancer had been found to disappear completely. They emphasized that their results could not be considered as a cure and stated only that on the basis of 100 cases treated, in certain types of cancer the symptoms had disappeared and the sufferers appeared well today.

Need More Radium

They hope that ultimately treatments as intensive as those given with radium will be possible, and are looking forward to the development of a 2,500,000 volt x-ray machine. The treatment would be quicker and cheaper, they said, and pointed out that there is not enough radium to meet requirements.

The doctors cited the results achieved with their first case, a patient given "only a few weeks to live" when brought to the hospital. The patient showed improvement under the powerful machine, they said, and "today is clinically free from cancer."

Dean Of College Presidents In Texas To Be Honored At Prexy Sandefer Day In Abilene; Educator Is 70 Years Old

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ABILENE, Mar. 12.—To honor the dean of senior college and university presidents in Texas, this West Texas city will observe tomorrow as "Prexy" Sandefer Day in Abilene.

The occasion is the seventieth birthday of Dr. Jefferson Davis Sandefer, veteran educator who has been president of H-SU for twenty-nine years.

Mayor W. W. Hair of Abilene, issued a civic proclamation, calling on citizens to pay tribute to Dr. Sandefer, as one who has "devoted his life to the cause of Christian education, and service to mankind."

At a university chapel convocation today, Dr. J. F. Cox, president of Abilene Christian college; Rev. J. H. Hamblen, Methodist minister; W. J. Behrens, president of H-SU board of trustees; John H. Alvis, Abilene atturney, and Mayor Hair, paid tribute to the veteran educator on behalf of the city's educational institutions, churches, trustees, alumni, and city.

Open House Sunday

Tomorrow, an open house at the home of Bernard Hanks, Abilene newspaper publisher and H-SU trustee, will mark observance of the day. Special recognition will be accorded the anniversary in the churches.

Today, from alumni and friends, a stream of congratulatory telegrams, letters, cards, and messages, began arriving.

Recognition day for President Sandefer climaxes a half century of service as an educator.

DR. J. D. SANDEFER

A native of Sharp County, Arkansas, he moved to a farm home near Palo Pinto, Tex., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Sandefer, when a boy. Educated at Parker Institute, Whitt, Tex., at the University of Texas and the University of Chicago, Dr. Sandefer became president of Strawn college, at Strawn, Tex., in 1894.

Taught At Granbury

He was superintendent of schools at Granbury, in 1900 and 1901. In 1902, he was named professor of Latin and history at John Tarleton college, Stephenville. In 1907, he was named superintendent of schools at Stephenville, and was elected president of John Tarleton in 1908.

Dr. Sandefer was elected president of H-SU in 1909, and his continuous service in that capacity established him as dean of senior college and university heads in the state, with the retirement of Dr. H. F. Estill, president of Sam Houston State Teachers college, Huntsville, a year ago.

NOT A CANDIDATE

ABERNATHY, March 12—J. D. Norman, mayor of Abernathy since 1934, announced definitely he would not be a candidate. So far no one to succeed him has been mentioned.

CRITICS HARD TO FIND

DENVER, (AP)—Gov. Teller Ammons, attempting to obtain a few ideas on how to economize in state government, discovered instead something about psychology.

He sent letters to all state employes, asking them to offer suggestions for improving their departments and to criticize anything that appeared to be wrong.

The answers were few and the governor soon learned why. The employes were afraid their bosses would see the letters.

Six Different Girls Turn Down Tyrone Power's Bid For Date; Suppose He Is Slipping?

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 12.—Short takes: Six different girls turned down Tyrone Power's bid for a date the other evening. It isn't that Mr. Power is slipping; the gals just couldn't believe that it was his voice on the wire. What they didn't know was that Cute-as-a-Button Gaynor was out of town for a couple of days, and the actor wanted company on a round of the gay spots.

A picture called "Lucky Piece" went into production a year ago and has just been finished, although it's only a one-reeler. The makers are members of the employes' club at Columbia. Using studio equipment, they worked only on sunny Sunday afternoons. The film had been budgeted at $100—but it ran 18 cents over.

Director Fritz Lang attended a stormy conference the other day in a producer's office. He had his say with a few well-chosen, defiant words, then rose to make a dramatic exit. Bowed to the gentlemen, opened a door, and walked into a coat closet.

Aiding The Elements

REAL rain and fog don't photograph well for the movies, so while Hollywood was being drenched by a storm the sprinkler pipes were running full blast on three Paramount sound stages. An artificial shower halted the Mexican festival in "Tropic Holiday"; the "Cocoanut Grove" set was ankle-deep in real mud; and George Raft and Sylvia Sidney, in "You and Me," worked all day in a downpour for some New York street scenes.

Just before they were ready to photograph a riding sequence in "Kidnaped," Director Al Werker discovered that Arleen Whelan couldn't stick on a side-saddle. And so, with blushes all around, she was tied there by half a dozen hitches to waist and knees. Her voluminous gown covered the lashings, and Miss Whelan rode like a centauress.

Dear Teers

A FOREIGN director receiving a fat salary in Hollywood has about decided that he can't afford to remain here any longer. His wife, who refuses to join him in America, keeps calling him every night from Paris to tell how lonely she is. The other evening she scarcely said a word—just cried $200 worth.

Another cavalcade of modern music is in preparation. "Alexander's Ragtime Band," based on Irving Berlin tunes, is in production at 20th-Fox, and Warner Brothers are plotting a picture on the life of the late George Gershwin. The latter never wrote any music for Warners, but the studio is buying screen rights to his best compositions before he came to Hollywood.

Charles Laughton, who has been scorning the fanciest offers of American producers, is not likely to be missed so much hereafter. Metro so much desired him for the role of Louis XVI in "Marie Antoinette" that it considered filming those sequences in London. Instead, the part was given to another English actor, Robert Morley, and everybody's delighted with the substitution.

Cardiac clinic: The George Raft-Virginia Pine romance is still flourishing, in spite of all those reports . . . While a radio chatterer was reporting a final rift and separation of the Spencer Tracys, they were dining together with friends. And as soon as the recently-hospitalized Tracy is able to travel they'll vacation together in Europe . . . Judy Stewart, Florida cutie, is taking all of Rudy Vallee's time . . . The names of Jimmy Stewart and Rosalind Russell already are being linked. It's a studio build-up for a picture they'll do together.

Extension Of Rural Telephone Lines Is Being Contemplated

ABERNATHY, March 12 (AP)—Three rural telephone lines have tentatively been worked by farmers and the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce in meeting with Southwestern Associated Telephone company officials at a meeting of the local civic body.

C. R. Hurmence, representing the phone company, said his firm was ready to cooperate in extending rural lines. One proposed line would extend north six miles to the John Lewis Harral home, thence west. Another would connect with a trunk line to County Line, west of town and the toll line east to Petersburg may be added. President A. M. Medlin presided. W. A. Richter is secretary.

Europe's "Draw Poker" Game

IF we should liken the European situation to a crooked card game, it may make the understanding easier of why Adolf Hitler has been able to "get away with" so many aggressions since he rose to power.

Even the well-informed observer often finds it difficult to comprehend why certain of his acts have failed to provoke other nations to war. His militarization of the Rhineland for example; or his bold announcement that Germany was re-arming in flaunted defiance of the Versailles treaty; or, his most astounding, most brazen act of all, the invasion of Austria to bring to all but a theoretical end the national existence of that unhappy country.

In any card game, especially draw poker, each player has the opportunity to form his judgment of the strength of the hands of other players from their actions. In this European game, the task is further simplified because the cards, so to speak, not only are marked but there are mirrors behind the various players. The "markings" and the "mirrors" in this case are the elaborate intelligence systems of all the European powers which attempt, usually with success, to keep their own nation informed of what goes on in other nations. So successful have been spy systems that it has become the first axiom of diplomacy that no nation can keep a secret long.

Thus, when Hitler has made his various plays, he has known the strength of the "cards" of his potential enemy. He has known what they could do and what they could not do under a given set of conditions. He knew when he invaded the Rhineland, for example, that France would be ready for war, but that England would not, and that France would not force war without England's aid. He doubtless knew—or at least thought he knew—in the case of the Austrian outrage that other protesting powers lacked the "cards" to call his hands.

But even in crooked card games, slips sometimes occur. It even happens, occasionally, that the most experienced and expert of "sharks" misreads the cards in his own hand. Something of that nature will happen to Hitler some day and the result may be an exit for Hitler, a world involved in war, a German people forever crushed or even a shattered civilization.

Rustling Is The New Vogue

ESTABLISHMENT by Texas rangers of a temporary headquarters in Lubbock may cause the average citizen to realize that the cattle theft problem has grown to alarming proportions.

The average layman is apt to think of the cattle rustler as an individual who disappeared with the old west. It is difficult to realize that the rustler still is with us, that he steals more cattle of greater value than in the days of the wide-open range.

The explanation of the general ignorance of conditions is that the modern rustler is less spectacular than his somewhat fiction-like brother of other days. The old-timer sometimes got away with entire herds. If caught he either killed his accuser, or was himself killed, or, if captured, soon dangled at the end of a rope.

The thief of today doesn't take so many cattle at one time. But he steals regularly and frequently. He operates usually with closed trucks or trailers. Sometimes he steals cattle on the hoof. More frequently he does his slaughtering on the ground, which is not so dangerous in the sparsely settled range country. Given a start of a few minutes with a dressed carcass, a successful prosecution becomes almost impossible even if he should be captured. Being caught in the act means, at most, a comparatively short prison term—sometimes no more than a suspended sentence.

However, vigorous enforcement of existing laws would prove a strong deterrent. The fact that rangers are on the job is an encouraging indication that something, at last, is going to be done about the problem.

Women will suffer more than men for the sake of duty. You never hear a man say: "I've got to invite him because he invited me."

If the safeguards of liberty are violated to punish bad people, nothing remains to insure the liberty of good people.

If you meet a lady on the street, you can fool the watching gossips. Don't lift your hat and they'll think she's your wife.

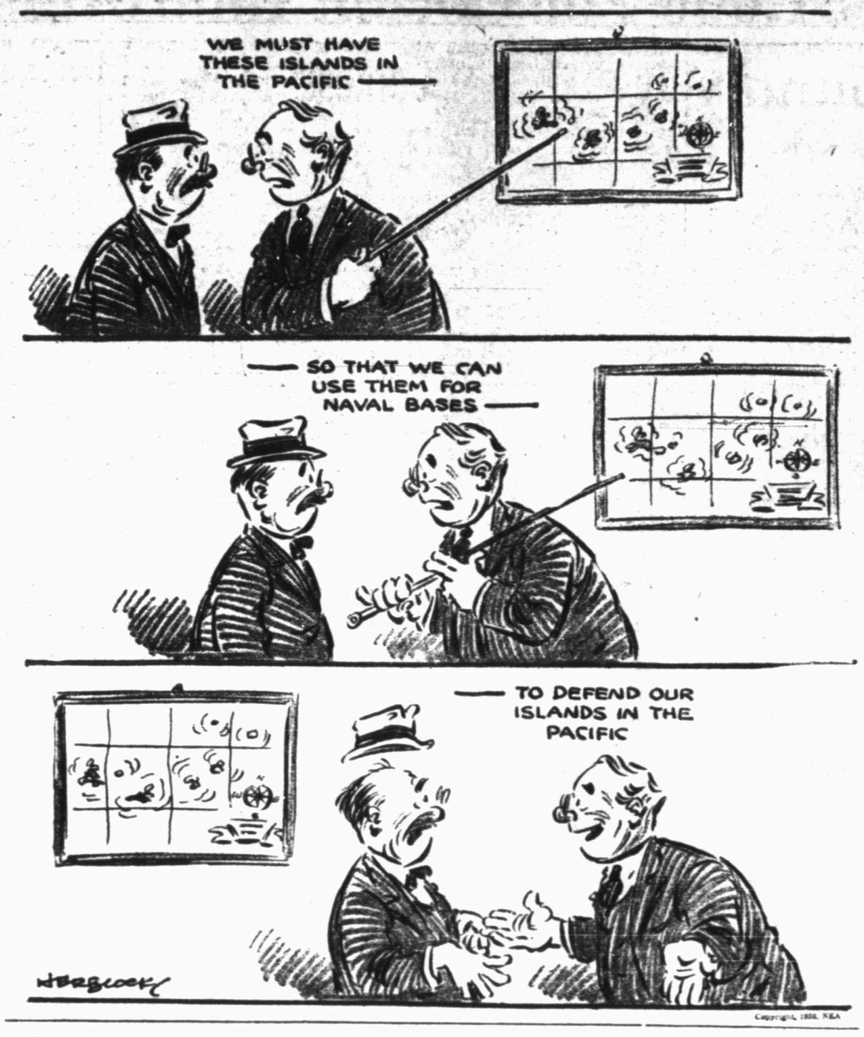

The One-Minute Sermon

Let not thine heart envy sinners: but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long.

For surely there is an end: and thine expectation shall not be cut off.

Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way.—Proverbs 23: 17 through 20.

Thomas Mann Continues His Personal Version Of Joseph Story In Latest Book, "Joseph In Egypt"; John D. Craig Pens Adventure Book; Katherine Mayo Digs Up Some Obscure American History For Us

"JOSEPH IN EGYPT," by Thomas Mann; (Alfred A. Knopf, New York).

THERE can be no doubt of the genius which underlies and refreshes Thomas Mann's recreation of the Joseph story from the Old Testament. There can be no doubt that the current installment of the story, "Joseph in Egypt," is to be classed with the finest writing of the present century. Its richness, both in thought and verbiage, are almost beyond comparison, and certainly the book mirrors also Mann's own spiritual progress through life.

It is perhaps this richness which provides the only greatly disturbing element in the entire transaction. It is one of the great literary miracles that a race given to the exercise of a lush and oriental imagination could have given birth to such books as make up the Old Testament. In these, when the time for lushness comes there is a book like the Song of Solomon. But when the implications of the story were toward stronger expression all this richness was at once dropped, and words as immovable as rock replaced it at once.

"Dresses Up" Bible Stories

This, and a great many other things have made a collection of Hebrew legends into the great Book, and it is no great help to dress the Bible stories in gorgeous robes. Two parallel quotations:

"(Potiphar's wife) called unto the men of her house, and spake unto them saying, See, he hath brought in an Hebrew unto us to mock us; he came in unto me to lie with me, and I cried with a loud voice . . ." (Genesis 39:14)

"Egyptians!" she cried. "Children of Kemt! Sons of the river and the black earth!"—What did she mean by that? They were just ordinary people, and at the time nearly all of them a little drunk. Their Egyptian birth as children of Hapi—in so far as it was a fact, for there were among them Moors from Kush and people with Chaldean names—was a native merit: they had nothing to do with it nor did it help them in the least if they neglected their duties. . . ." (Thomas Mann).

And on the next page she tells the fact of the matter. This is polychrome prose, but the polychrome of a genius.

Fast Living

"DANGER IS MY BUSINESS," by John D. Craig; (Simon & Schuster, N. Y).

IT'S a bit hard settling down to the routine job of living after 40 pages or so of John D. Craig's exciting book, "Danger Is My Business." Here is assuredly one of the best-written autobiographies to come off the presses in a long time.

That is, if you can call the book an autobigraphy; for John Craig, adventure photographer and deep-sea diver, is only now 34. But consider what he has packed into those years since he was 20!

Traveled In 35 Counties

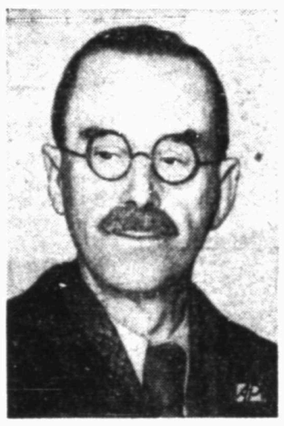

To begin with, Craig inherited a small fortune in oil wells just as he turned 20. So he set out to see the world. And he did! He traveled in 35 countries, was captured by the Riffs, shot big game in the heart of India, accidentally unearthed the original building plans for the Taj Mahal. Then he went broke. But not before he had become a camera bug.

He returned to America, became deep-sea photographer for Hollywood; shot sequences for "Trader Horn," "Eskimo," "I Cover the Waterfront" and other pictures. And in this extremely risky business Mr. Craig found danger his chief occupation. No man knows better, for example, how it feels to have the lifeline cut just a hundred feet down with only eight minutes left to live; the eerie sensation of the first test of helium in a diving suit.

Plans More Adventures

This spring the author is going to dive off the Virginia coast to the decks of the treasure ship Merida, and in early summer go down to photograph the salvage operations on the Lusitania. After that he hopes to spend a few more years exploring the slimy hulks of other famous ships. The fellow loves his work!

You ought to enjoy his book as much.

THOMAS MANN is continuing his highly personal version of the Joseph story in a two volume contribution, "Joseph In Egypt," which traces Joseph from the day he was sold to the Ishmaelite to the day of misery brought to him by intrigue—and the passion of Potiphar's wife. It is an epic of literary reconstruction.

In Full-Dress Regalia

"GENERAL WASHINGTON'S DILEMMA," by Katherine Mayo; (Harcourt, Brace, N. Y.).

AN odd bit of ooscure American history is dug up and presented in full-dress regalia by Katherine Mayo in her new book, "General Washington's Dilemma."

It appears that when Cornwallis surrendered, divers of his officers were assigned (under the formal and elaborate code then prevailing) to look after the comfort and well-being of the British private soldiers who had been taken prisoner. These officers were themselves prisoners, of course, but there was a definitely implied pledge on the part of their captors to deliver them right side up and in good condition at the end of the war.

Promptly Hanged Him

Along in 1782, then, some British Tory troops captured an American officer who had been raiding Tory strongholds in New Jersey. Accusing him of various atrocities, they promptly hanged him.

Washington, highly incensed, forthwith demanded of the British that they turn over to him the Tory officer who had ordered the hanging. If they refused, he said, he would hang one of the British officers taken with Cornwallis, in retaliation.

The British did refuse, so a young officer was chosen by lot and sentenced to be hanged. And here arose Washington's dilemma; he found himself forced to execute a prisoner whose person he was pledged to keep safe.

The affair raised a great stir, at the time, and apparently cost Washington a good deal of sleep. In the end it was settled happily, and the young Briton went unhanged; and Miss Mayo has wrapped it all up here and presented it as a queer little sidelight on our revolutionary history.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE ablest advocate of world peace at Washington is an attractive, smartly tailored, throaty-voiced woman. Her biting analyses of Army, Navy and State department pronunciamentos harass big-armament advocates at both ends of Pennsylvania avenue.

As secretary of the Women's League for International Peace, Dorothy Detzer has achieved two reforms which may revolutionize the American people's attitude toward war. She inspired and obtained adoption of the resolution creating the Nye Munitions committee, which forced enactment of the Neutrality act. That has contributed to a change in popular and political psychology. It was also she who first raised the pertinent question of what kind of foreign policy our army and navy are designed to carry out—aggressive or defensive. Nobody has yet given a satisfactory answer.

Several years ago big-navy senators gave her only half an hour's notice of an important hearing on naval expansion. She had no time to prepare a brief, so she adlibbed by concentrating on the problem of "policy." It was entirely new approach. Now everybody is asking the same question—to the embarrassment of President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull and Secretary Swanson. The latest to utilize this device for smoking out State Department secrets are Isolationists Borah and Johnson. They got the idea from Miss Detzer, though they may not realize it.

PACIFIST: Miss Detzer first exhibited her daring and original spirit as a youngster. Disliking the "tincan type of education" (her words) which the colleges were handing out, she spent her educational fund in a visit to the Orient. There she first saw the seamy side of diplomacy.

Returning to the U. S., she entered social welfare work as a protege of Jane Addams at Hull House. To obtain more practical experience, she visited Europe, and served as the Quakers' representative in charge of feeding—keeping alive—86,000 children under 6 years of age in Vienna. From there she moved on to Russia, where she mothered more than 500,000 through years of starvation and suffering. Her favorite brother—Donald—died a lingering death from gas. Under the impact of these emotional experiences she decided that orthodox welfare work was simply "patching up" the wounds of society, and she wanted to attack causes rather than cures. War seemed to her the basic problem.

PROPHET: Dr. Constantine McGuire is the Capital's man of mystery. You never see his name in the newspapers, and you won't find it in Who's Who, but foreign nations, domestic corporations and American statesmen in the know beat tracks to his bachelor home in Georgetown when they're in an economic jam. He seems to know the answers.

The modest, aesthetic Bostonian came to Washington with a Harvard background of study and teaching with a Harvard background of study and city which he foresaw would eventually become the economic as well as the political capital. Though others grabbed the credit—they like publicity while he doesn't—he first spotted the approach of the 1929 crash. So he advised his clients—banks, insurance companies, corporations. Now they swear by his periodical reports on economic trends. He keeps the Vatican advised of business prospects in the U. S., and every so often he slips off to advise several South American countries on economic and monetary problems.

Dr. McGuire is no cold, calculating sort of slide-ruler. Unlike so many economists, he doesn't depend entirely on charts and figures; he knows that human nature can often upset mathematics. There's a streak of Irish mysticism in his makeup—he can sense economic clouds before they drop low enough to measure their potential rainfall.

KNOWS: Senator H. Style Bridges of New Hampshire is carrying on an old New England tradition on Capitol Hill, though nobody may have told him. He is proving that the best senatorial gossips always hail from Yankeeland.

When George Moses of the same state was in the senate, he was regarded as the ranking political gossip of the capital. He heard and saw and knew everything that was going on—both the trivial and the important. His colleagues used to call him the "Walter Winchell of Congress." Mr. Moses' only rival in this field was Calvin Coolidge, whose knowledge of unimportant details was remarkable. Eventually the dubious honor was passed along to Senator Austin of Vermont, who kept track of minute and momentous happenings all around the town.

But Mr. Bridges now takes the cake. He doesn't tell where he gets his information, but he knows more about numerous New Deal agencies than the commissars do themselves. And gossips are dangerous people in national politics, provided they watch their step and tongue. Give him a few more years in Washington, and Mr. B. is going to be a real troublemaker for the opposition!

EFFICIENT: Naval officers often grouse over inefficient conditions at the headquarters dispensary. They complain that the diagnoses of their ailments are frequently erroneous, and that the pills handed out tend to kill rather thar cure.

A high ranking officer walked in the other day for a casual checkup. The door to the inner office was shut, and nobody appeared to answer his questions. Inside, however, there were sounds of violence, and he concluded that an exceptionally important case was being handled by the medical personnel—a captain, a chief nurse and three hospital corps men. Suppressing his complaints and his curiosity, he sat down to await the end of the treatment.

In half an hour the staff emerged. The admiral, being a good fellow, laughed till his sides shook when he learned that the cause of the medical commotion was the birth of a kitten—only one—to the office cat. In his official report he gave the dispensary a high rating of efficiency.

THURMAN W. ARNOLD, the man chosen to take Bob Jackson's place as "trust buster" for the Department of Justice, is popular with his classes at Yale Law school. They have found him a brilliant and witty analyst and a facile and entertaining lecturer.

Mr. Arnold might well be nicknamed "Big Three," since he attended Harvard, Yale and Princeton. He has practised law in Illinois and Wyoming, and served as dean of the West Virginia College of Law before coming to Yale. The Roosevelt administration has drafted him for temporary jobs on several occasions—as special counsel to the defunct Agricultural Adjustment administration, as special assistant to the Attorney-General and as trial examiner for the S.E.C.

Men who have worked with him say he is a keen and resourceful trial lawyer but not notably methodical in the preparation of his cases. He should become a colorful Washington figure—provided he runs the gauntlet of Senate confirmation successfully. His satirical book, "The Folklore of Capitalism," is sure to be quoted against him by conservative solons.

CHANDLER: Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler is a great favorite in New York nowadays. Anti-New Dealers are banking on him to hand the administration a solar plexus wallop by licking majority leader Alben Barkley in the Kentucky senatorial primary.

"Happy" is a sort of homespun Al Smith, blunt and direct of speech and very much a man of the people. He started life as a barefoot farm boy. His career as a member of the Kentucky state legislature and as lieutenant-governor gave him an expert working knowledge of politics. He has built one of the most efficient state machines in the country. Moreover, he has been a good governor.

Income Tax Experts See Funny Sides, Too

They Have To Be Able To "Smell" Violations Of The

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 12 — If you think one income tax return a year is a tough problem how'd you like to worry over more than 6,700,000 of them?

That's what the Bureau of Internal Revenue does the year around. And an income tax inspector, like the old time prohibition agent (remember?), must be able to smell a violation of the law a mile away.

If you think you can save a little income tax by deducting the taxes on your smokes and drinks in 1937 you are wrong. When Mr. Tax Inspector goes to work on your return they'll get after that. Those taxes aren't deductible, he says, because in the eyes of the law they are levied, not on you, but on the manufacturer.

But the federal tax on movie tickets — that's different. The law regards that tax as levied on you, the theaters only collect it.

They Develop Humor

About 3,750 deputy collectors of internal revenue spend their lives worrying about taxes on incomes of less than $5,000. As part of their duties they read the newspapers to see if you've won a lottery or made a killing at the track.

Your winnings are subject to the income tax just as if you'd earned them. And gambling losses can be deducted. But don't try to subtract such losses from earned income because the inspector won't allow it.

Another 3,400 revenue agents keep an eye on incomes above $5,000. Many of them are certified public accountants and have a nose for missing revenue. If they lack a sense of humor they soon develop that too.

One collector, after hunting high and low for his man, received this communication: "Am detained here on very important business, but do not intend to beat you out of this tax, and will call upon you promptly upon my return." The man was in jail.

Time Out For Burglars

THEN there was the case of the offender who was late in filing his return and pleaded, "I was married on March 13, and did no time to file my income tax by March 15, and as a mat fact, have been in a daze since." It was a good idea b did not get an extension of t

Deduction of losses baffle Bureau too. One reported "Loss of upper set of false in Broar Street subway, $28." cials aren't saying how this came out but they look sy thetic when they tell about it.

Marriage exemptions are other problem. One fair Idah wrote the Bureau, "answe your inquiry about my income return, please be advised that not married. Sorry I overlo same."

Well-Rounded Wheat Program Is Offered To Farmers Under New Agricultural Measure

COLLEGE STATION, March 12 (Special)—The new AAA farm bill recently passed by congress will offer wheat farmers a well-rounded wheat program including acreage allotments, agricultural conservation payments, wheat loans, crop insurance, and marketing quotas if supplies are so large that quotas are necessary, according to Geo. Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation committee.

The following brief summary of how these provisions in the new farm bill will operate for wheat farmers is given by Slaughter.

The act provides for acreage allotments to wheat farmers each year which will produce enough wheat for domestic consumption and exports and provide a substantial surplus for reserve. The act will aim to provide a supply each year of around 900 million bushels. Wheat allotments will be made for 1938, but only for the purpose of computing AAA payments to farmers. The act provides that compliance for 1938 shall be checked against the general soil-depleting goal for each farm. The first acreage allotments which will apply fully will be those for 1939.

Payments to farmers will be made under the provisions of the 1938 agricultural conservation program. The act also provides for parity payments to farmers, but only if specific additional funds are made available for this purpose.

The act provides that wheat loans are to be made to farmers in any year in which the farm price of wheat on June 15 is less than 52 per cent of the parity price of wheat, or in any year in which the July wheat estimate is more than the normal domestic consumption and exports of about 700 millions bushels. These loans are to oe made by the Commodity Credit corporation and are to be made at between 52 and 75 per cent of the parity price at the beginning of the marketing year. Loans may be made in 1938 if prices or supplies are within the limits set by the act.

The act establishes a Federal Crop Insurance corporation. This corporation will offer crop insurance to wheat farmers, beginning with the 1939 crop. Farmers who store wheat under marketing quotas may use some of this wheat to pay premiums on crop insurance. Under the crop insurance plan farmers can pay premiums in wheat and receive loss payment in wheat.

Marketing quotas are provided in years when the total supplies of wheat exceed approximately 950 million bushels. Marketing quotas when approved by a two-thirds majority of farmers in a referendum, will apply to all commercial wheat growers. Farmers who produce less than 100 bushels of wheat are exempt from the quotas. When there are marketing quotas, each farmer will be asked to hold a part of his crop off the market in order to keep prices from being demoralized. Quotas will not be effective in 1938 unless funds are provided by congress for parity payments on wheat in 1938.

Renner, dairy products department head at Texas Tech as judge; 4—poultry, with a local hatcheryman, Mr. Crockett, as judge.

Prizes will be awarded the county boys in beef cattle, hogs and sheep.

Twenty-five schools have been asked to send teams here for the judging.

Common Sawdust Is Being Drafted As Weapon Against Grasshoppers; Infestation Threatens

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, Mar. 12—Common sawdust, preferably weathered one year, is being drafted as the principal ammunition for the campaign farmers and federal and state entomologists plan to wage against threatened grasshopper infestation this year.

Entomologists have found a combination of sawdust, mill-run bran or "red dog" flour, and sodium arsenite will kill the hoppers almost as effectively as more costly mixtures. The bran and sodium arsenite, when mixed with water, form a dough and coat the sawdust. Mr. Grasshopper likes to nibble the dough-covered flakes, but when he does he eats enough of the arsenite compound to kill him.

"Zero hour" for th attack, the control committee has decided, will be about April 15 when the first hoppers begin to emerge. By attacking quickly, the workers hope to thin out the first generation considerably before the insects have time to multiply.

Grasshopper control work directed by the committee in 1937, it is estimated, saved farmers $6,000,000 and produced $110 in results for each dollar spent.

Entomologists who made hopper egg-counts last fall and winter, estimated hoppers left from the 1937 infestation laid enough eggs in 77 counties in Texas to warrant assumption the insects will be present in record numbers this spring and summer. They estimate 14,000 tons of poison mash material will be needed.

Federal entomologists are experimenting to find a capable substitute for sawdust for use in localities where it is not available in quantity. Bran and sodium arsenite can do the job even without sawdust, if necessary, they said.

A number of federal employes, one to each county where damage is expected, probably will be available to assist county agricultural agents in the control work.

CONDITIONS BETTER

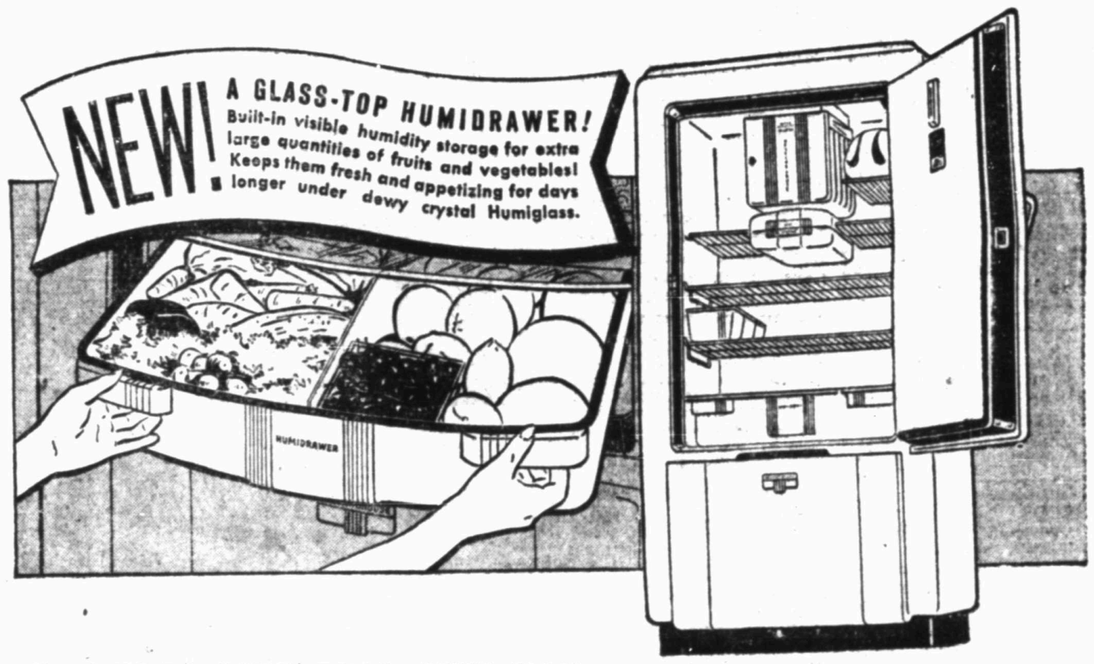

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12. (AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today the 1938 early spring lamb crop was 15 per cent higher than 1937 with weather and feeding conditions favorable on March 1, and predicted marketing before July 1 would be materially larger than for the corresponding 1937 date.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 49 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Woora pushed the glowing iron forward, pointing it at the eyes of the helpless ape-man. Suddenly Tarzan heard the door open behind him. He saw Woora shrink back; then a man leaped past him, clutching a stout wooden bar in his hand. It was Lord.

Woora turned to flee into the next room, but Lord overtook him, striking him a glancing blow on the head with the hot iron. He screamed for mercy; but there was no mercy in Lord's attack.

Wielding the club in both hands, the Englishman struck the iron from Woora's hand. Again and again the club descended upon the hapless magician. Then Lord swung furiously, crashing full on the grotesque skull. With a gasping cry Woora sank to the floor lying still.

"I got worried, and followed you," Lord said; "it's a good thing I did." "I shall never forget it," Tarzan answered simply. The Englishman found a knife and slashed the net that held the ape-man. "We'd better hurry. The guard might have heard Woora's cry!"

War Is Really Hell On Sailors--Even If It's Only Make-Believe Confli

It's Death That They Play With

On March 14 U. S. fleets will steam out of San Pedro and San Diego for the biggest war games ever played on the north Pacific. Official secrecy bars news reporters from this year's maneuvers, but W. B. Clausen, veteran seageing reporter, has seen it all before. In the following article, drawing on his experiences as an observer of previous maneuvers, he previews life on the battle-wagons as 58,600 officers and men will live it for six weeks while 150 warships and 500 airplanes test America's first line of defense.

BY W. B. CLAUSEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN PEDRO, March 12—They're called "war games." But when the fleets set out from here and San Diego on March 14, won't be in a spirit of fun.

It will be all tension. Wives, children and sweethearts of men in the fleet will be crowding navy landings. There will be the pathos of farewells. This always has been the case. This year the scene will be more dramatic. Censorship is stronger than ever, the world's eyes will be on the Pacific.

Of the 3,600 officers and 55,000 men who will take part, few are in on the secret. The 150 surface ships and 500 fighting planes are under sealed orders.

Unknown Power

And when this vast fighting force goes into action for six weeks somewhere in the 12,000,000 square miles of ocean from Alaska to Hawaii and along America's West Coast the country's defense will be the stake, men's careers will be in the balance and death may strike anywhere along the line. No, they're not "games" at all.

The most powerful death-dealing implements man has devised for navies will be unlimbered. Men keyed up by weeks of anticipatory practice, even the inventors, often do not know what limits of power, destruction or protection these implements have.

To say that one time is more dangerous than another for a man who sits on a powder keg may sound silly. But what these ships are out to do is only a slight remove from war — they do everything except hurl actual shells and torpedoes at each other. The possibility of disaster always is there.

Out Of The Blackness

Take those night rides of the battle fleet. Any merchant skipper would call them suicide jamborees. Even a landlubber would.

All ships dark. Fifty vessels — battleships, destroyers, cruisers — in tight formation. Moving at good speed. Making turns and twists by whistle signal.

A second fleet. Moving twice as fast. Just as dark. Both fleets hunting each other.

The officer of the deck strains his eyes from the darkened pilot house of a dreadnaught. Tries to make out a bit of darker black in the shadows ahead — the ship that's looking for his. Fifteen knots is his speed.

Suddenly the blackness seems a bit more intense to starboard, close aboard. Things like that are sensed rather than seen. The officer snaps into action, gives a long blast of the dreadnaught's siren and shouts:

"Sound general alarm; collision quarters."

The dreadnaught flares into lights, grinds full speed astern. Almost at the same moment another ship bursts into light off her starboard bow. A cruiser, speeding at 25 knots. She slithers past, so close the two bows just miss by inches.

A Mere Detail

Only the alertness of all hands—and the intervention of fate — averted a collision that might have sent a thousand men to death.

That's the way the navy tests the mettle of man and ship. But that's just a detail.

High strategists and tacticians on the Navy General Board at Washington have worked out a little war for the navy to fight. This year it's called "Fleet Problem 19."

Tactical and strategic formations, plans and orders, these are all secrets, the things that make one nation's fleet stronger than another's.

The frailties or force of a man are called out when he is called to leadership in these tests. Many of the most interesting stories of these war games never can be told; censorship sees to that.

But out of 21 years' close contact with the fleet in war and peace come some highlights.

There was a maneuver in the battle line a few years back that set some officer back in his career and might well have brought disaster. And there probably are officers in the navy now who still do not know what happened.

When dreadnaughts are in formation, the flagship, while flying the blue pennant at its forepeak, is fleet guide. All other vessels in the formation must keep their designated distances from the flagship and follow whatever move it makes. Changes usually are made by signal.

Amazed, No Doubt

In this particular year the flagship, without any warning, swung off her course. This maneuver was not in the plans. Officers on the following ships were amazed, no doubt, but they had nothing to do but veer their courses, too.

What had happened was that the flgaship had planned to switch from electric to steam drive control. The man executing the order did not pull the switch far enough so the steam control gears failed to mesh. The guide ship really was out of control and the rest of the ships were following its wanderings. If that had happened at night, ships darkened, it might have meant disaster.

The deck officer was in error. When the gears did not mesh he should have hoisted the "breakdown" flag immediately. That would have warned the following ship to take over the guide and the battle line to carry on.

News men assigned to the fleet have to know something of military matters. And it helps, too, if they know something of the navy's private lingo.

There was that time the fleet, under radio silence, was entering Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and two destroyers crashed in the dark. Some lives were lost. Reporters on the flagship couldn't send out the news because of the radio silence.

About Pancakes

On shore a reporter got an inkling that something had happened. He rushed to a headland as the vessels were due in the harbor. There was a navy man there, too. He hadn't heard of any disaster.

Then the first vessel loomed through the mist, a big one with scarcely a sailor in sight on her decks. The navy man sized up the ship, noted the absence of sailors and told the reporter:

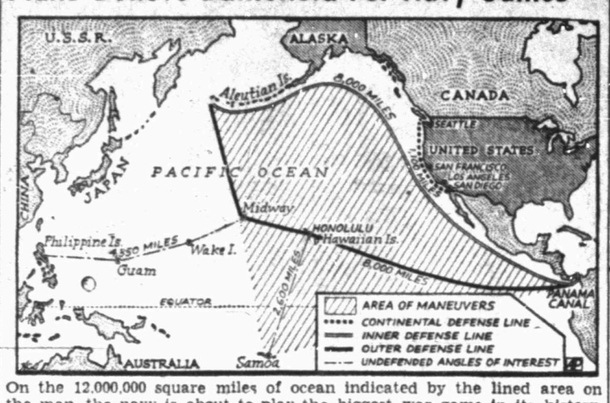

"That's the Pennsylvania. Her collision mats are down."

Zip. The reporter dashed away and wirelessed his big news to the states. The fleet flagship had come in with collision mats down!

Alas, poor landlubber. He hadn't known that the navy man with him on the headland was just trying to tell him breakfast was being served on the Pennsylvania.

"Collision mats," in scuttlebutt parlance, means "pancakes."

Make-Believe Battlefield For Navy Games

On the 12,000,000 square miles of ocean indicated by the lined area on the map, the navy is about to play the biggest war game in its history. Fleet Problem 19, the admirals call it. In secret six-weeks maneuvers all types of naval warcraft will engage in sham attacks and defensive operations to test America's defense of Hawaii and the West Coast.
