BANKERS OFFER THEIR SUPPORT IN BOND WORRY

The bankers of the city have promised their unqualified support to the movement of the city commission to sell bonds for the purpose of raising money to pay the city's debt. It is expected that when the plans for the sale are worked out that the banks of the city will be heavy buyers.

In a meeting held yesterday by the city commission, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary club, it developed that because bonds had no present market, the citizens would have to absorb the entire issue which amounts to $250,000 or else the work being done by the McKenzie Construction company on street paving would stop.

PREPARE FOR FIRST TRAIN ON NEW ROAD

BRECKENRIDGE, TEXAS, May 29.—A great force of construction men has been at work for the past month on the station and other buildings for the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth Railway, and are completing the work today. One half mile south of the station more than a hundred teams and men are finishing the dump and clearing out the cut in the hillside. In one explosion this week 1,000 kegs of powder were exploded, tearing through the hill and hurling great pieces of rock several hundred feet.

The neighboring town of Breckwalker seven miles south of Breckridge, has all steel laid into the town and by May 29 will have its first train, and regular train service, according to announcement, by June 6. Developments have been held back until freight service is established.

Many transients are visiting the city anticipating the rush that will follow when the trains begin to run. All the hotels and rooming houses were crowded last night and lodgers were turned away from many.

The Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to put on a demonstration when the first train arrives in Breckridge.

WILL INVESTIGATE SHIPPING STRIKE

NEW YORK, May 29.—The strike of coastwise longshoremen which other strikes crippled freight movement of this port to a serious extent is the subject of separate investigations today by Governor Smith and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Gompers announced last night that the strikers are willing to arbitrate.

Fifty million dollars, according to the estimate made by railroad officials and members of the Merchants' association is the total of losses suffered by business in the present series of longshoremen, harbor and railroad strikes. One of the experts who has been directing the fight of the merchants said:

"During the complete railroad tie-up this port's business losses were about $1,000,000 a day. Since the resumption of service the persistence of some of the yardmen in remaining out and the manner in which the marine strikers have curtailed lighterage traffic have caused a daily loss of about $500,000."

"These figures do not take into account the losses in wages suffered by the strikers or the throwing out of work of many men in trades immediately connected with the harbor and longshore trades. Hundreds of plants have either shut down altogether or are operating only on part time because they can not get raw materials."

The boxing bill was introduced into the Senate.

The governor recommended the passage of a bill proposing the appointment by the governor of bona-fide inspectors in certain livestock associations as rangers, creating men appointed from the reserve state ranger force.

Other subjects submitted were a proposal to authorize the state board of medical examiners to revoke the license of physicians convicted of felony; a proposed zone around schools of cities of more than 25,000 population with a speed limit of ten miles; proposal to regulate headlights on motor vehicles; and a proposal to prohibit the selling of road vehicles with tires less than a prescribed width. ROBBERY CHARGE PLACED AGAINST FORMER OFFICER

BRECKENRIDGE, May 29.—Bob Peacock, a former peace officer of Desdemona, has surrendered to Sheriff Sears of Stephens county on a charge of robbery with firearms.

Several weeks ago Peacock leased a hotel in Necessity from S. Isner for one year. He made a payment of $300 and gave to Isner $1,500 additional within a few days. Peacock operated the place for twenty-four days. In the mean time, Isner said, the $1,500 had not been paid. Isner threatened ejection proceedings.

According to the story told by Isner, Peacock Monday beat him up with a gun and promised to kill him, then through force and fear made him go to the bank and refund the partial payment of $300 which had been made on the lease.

The warrant charging Peacock with robbery was then sworn out.

TEXAS GHOLSON SPOUTING 1,100 NO. 9 SPURRED

Sinclair Oil & Gas company's J. T. Watson No. 1, in the Gunsight district, will be shot with 200 quarts in the next day or two. It has been making some oil natural at a depth of 3,225 feet and is expected to show good production following the jolt.

Texas company's J. M. Gholson No. 8, located near Sun company's E. Y. Jennings B-2 five miles northeast of Ranger, is still making 1,100 barrels of oil. It blew itself in about ten days ago with an initial production of 2,000 barrels. Nothing further has been done to the well and it may be regarded as a temporary completion. No. 9, located some distance from No. 8, has spudded in and several locations will be made soon on the Sun company's 1,000 acre tract. Operators regard this area as one of the most promising in the entire field. The performance of the Jennings and the Gholson wells is being watched with much interest.

NEW MEXICO HOLDS WATER FROM PECOS RIVER VALLEY MEN

PECOS, TEX., May 29.—Pecos River Valley towns in Texas are planning a determined fight to secure what they regard as their full share of the waters of the Pecos River and are now preparing petitions to the attorney general of Texas demanding that he take immediate action to compel the irrigation districts in New Mexico to release part of the water held in dam for use in the irrigation projects of the lower river.

Numerous rains have averted the probable water famine that was feared this spring because of the numerous new tracts placed under irrigation and the consequently greater demand for water.

An appropriation passed by the last legislature is cited by the land owners as authority for the demand. This appropriation directed to the attorney general to bring legal action in case the New Mexico districts refused to give up the stored water under authority of certain decision of the United States Supreme Court that governs interstate water rights.

HOOVER FUND WAS GREATER M'CABE SAYS

Testifies Food Mans Friends
Used Well Over $300,000 in State

WASHINGTON, May 29.—"Between $100,000 and $125,000" was spent in the California primary by the campaign organization in behalf of Senator Johnson of that state, the state investigating committee was told today by Alexander McCabe, California state insurance commissioner, who acted as treasurer of the Johnson organization. McCabe said his estimate was based upon "the last time I looked over the books," which he did not have with him. He offered to send for the books.

McCabe later raised the estimate of funds raised in California to $200,000. He declared Hoover supporters in California spent "eight or nine times as much as we," at the lowest estimate $300,000.

A small little man with shrewd, gray eyes, plainly dressed and as plainly spoken, told the senate subcommittee investigating campaign expenditures today how he carried the state of Nebraska for Hiram Johnson with an expenditure of only $1,112, working "under" through small country weekly newspapers, and welcoming even such diminutive contributions as uncancelled stamps.

"This has been my most expensive campaign," he declared apologetically, throwing the investigating senators, who have been fed this feast week with tales of half-million contributions from individuals, into gales of laughter.

His name was Frank A. Harrison, editor of the Lincoln Tribune, a small weekly paper. According to an article from the Lincoln Journal, which he had read into the record at the request of Senator Reed, "Harrison can raise more political hordes with 15¢ than the average man can with $15,000." When asked for the secret of his success for Johnson carried the state over Wood by 29,000 votes—he smiled calmly and replied: "My method is to find out what the people want and then to be with them."

Stamps Contributed.

Harrison said he received $1,800 for his campaign from Johnson's California organization, but that he didn't get it until after the primaries were over, advancing the money for the senator's drive himself. The other came in such small amounts as $26, raised by a local committee in Lincoln; contributions of $5 and $10 from farmers whom he knew; and "stamps in envelopes" in response to a call on his subscribers, amounting to $12.

What would you have done if you had $500,000 to spend on this campaign? he was asked.

"I would have done what other managers did, divided it up among my friends," he retorted.

Nebraska, according to Harrison's description, must be the heaven of advertising space buyers. He said he paid only $1.50 to each of 100 county newspapers to insert a picture and accompanying story about Senator Johnson, totaling seven inches of space, and other his numerous meetings, mainly of Johnson meetings, cost him 70¢ per insertion.

The advertising rates of the big city dailies, he confessed with a sigh, "were a little too steep for me," so he let the Wood and Pershing forces buy what they would at from $1.40 to $2.80 an inch. "The Sunday before the primaries," he asserted, "I counted at least $4,000 of advertising in the Lincoln and Omaha papers about equally divided between Pershing and Wood."

Although he has managed three gubernatorial campaigns and one senatorial, Harrison says he only works in politics when he wants to. He has never held public office. He told the committee he had been offered the job of running the campaigns of Wood and Lowden, but had declined.

CAPTURE PIG AT SEA HEADED FOR EUROPE

NEW YORK.—Pigs are pigs, wherever they be, whether sleeping in their sties or swimming in the sea.

A small white pig was found swimming across the Atlantic ocean yesterday afternoon by two Staten Island fishermen. The pig, name and address unknown, was in perfect health, thus dissipating the old theory that a swimming swine will cut its own throat with its feet.

Charles and Frederick Petersen, prominent citizens of Totenville, S. I., went fishing three miles off shore from Keyport, N. J. They were drifting in their motorboat when Charles glimpsed something swimming nearby. The brothers agreed that it was a sea turtle and decided to capture it.

One of the brothers boarded the dinghy and overtook the swimmer and brought him aboard. It was a nice young shoot, weight thirty pounds. They carried him back to Totenville and intend to make a hog of the derelict.

Frederick Petersen is chiefly interested in the blasted scientific theory.

It is thought that the shoot fell from a steamer.

LOWER MORALS RESULT FROM POOR HOUSING

CINCINNATI, May 29.—Lack of adequate housing facilities in America has been the cause of a distinct lowering of living and moral standards among thousands of families at present under the supervision of the Associated Charities, according to Miss Alix Richard, a leading official of such American organizations.

There is immediate need of a doubling of the housing capacity in all cities supervised by such charities, Miss Richard stated, as the average American family of five persons is living in two rooms or less. This number is increased by 451 individuals specifically listed last year by the organization as either boarding or temporarily living with those families.

"The question of housing in America is a financial one, primarily, with the people," Miss Richard stated. "We in Cincinnati have urged them to move their residence in the past, feeling that such changes made for a betterment in their living standard. At present there are no additional rooms or houses available, particularly in the central states, and the families are confronted with the problem of paying more rent, a thing which they cannot afford, or of being told to vacate. Four rooms at least are necessary for such a family, but at present the prospect generally in the United States does not promise to become better, but rather worse."

"We are experiencing, in Cincinnati especially, a distinct tendency among our cases toward a lower standard of morals and living. The Associated Charities of this city represents but one of the many organizations for social service work, said Miss Richard, confronted by the same problem."

Miss Richard declared that the cost of giving relief in Cincinnati has been at an average rate of one-half of 1 per cent a month. Last year's figures show that it has risen here 25 per cent over the preceding year, she said. Charity work in the United States during the coming year is to be concentrated upon preventing dependency rather than upon curing it in order to lower the dependency rate during the next few years.

Change of name of the local organization to conform to its future policy of constructive social service, instead of mere charity, is to be considered at a meeting of the board of directors.

CAUGHT IN HUMAN NET.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—While giving an exhibition to "student" firemen here, Henry Walton, a fireman, slipped and fell four stories to be caught by three firemen who were standing on the ground. He was not seriously injured, hospital physicians said. Walton was being passed from one window to another by two other firemen when he fell. A cry from spectators attracted Firemen Richard Murray, Jacob Seiger and James Underwood, who, by speedy action, were able to lock their arms a few seconds before Walton crashed into them.

SHOWING AT THE LAMB.

Those who think that a farm is a dull place haven't seen Mack Sennett's five-reel feature comedy entitled "Down on the Farm," which showed at the Lamb theatre yesterday and will show again today and tomorrow. Mack Sennett's farm is about the liveliest place imaginable.

The comedy gets over in good fashion. The grasping landlord and the boob hired man, the country girl and the fiery-tempered storekeeper of the old melodramas, are all present. Cows, pigs, chickens, geese and other animals play parts in the picture. The acting of a huge dog is exceptionally good, and the animal displays rare intelligence.

The story is a pleasant combination of dignified and slap-stick comedy with a dizzy whirl. The villain is properly humiliated in the last act; to be plain he receives about the worst treatment ever accorded a villain short of actual death.

Some of the scenes would go well in a melodrama. For perilous rides and daring jumps over chasms, through tunnels a half-length ahead of speeding passenger trains, over crooks and bridges, out in the pastures among the cows, the antics of the picture should rank as masters of daring.

But the strongest appeal is to the funny side of life. One forgets his worries if he has any and laughs like a small boy at a circus and thoroughly enjoys the whole five reels and then wishes it were longer. And what better purpose could a picture serve than this?

DEATH CHAIR TO BE ALTERED FOR CRIPPLE

International News Service.
OSSISING, N. Y., May 28.—John Egan's wooden leg will not prevent his electrocution in the death house on June 14. Warden Lawes, after a conference with John Hubert, who has charge of the electrocutions, says it will be possible to attach the electrode to the left side of the chair, instead of the right as has always been done.

Egan, who is twenty-one years old, is the first cripple ever sentenced to death in Sing Sing prison and his case has attracted much so attention that it would not be surprising if Governor Smith commuted his sentence.

LOCAL OPTION FOR SCOTLAND.

Coincident with the coming into force of the law prohibitionists are planning to launch an electoral campaign, which in intensity, cost and use of all varieties of publicity will be comparable only to the latter stages of the anti-alcohol crusade in the United States.

PLAN TO IRRIGATE ARABLE LAND FOR GREATER FARMING

BARNHART, Texas, May 29.—Thousands of acres of prime land on Spring and Dove creeks and the Concho river in Irion county are susceptible to irrigation on an economical basis, aside from the 5,000 acres already watered by gravity from these streams.

Along Spring creek, in the vicinity of Sherwood and Mertzon, about 3,500 acres are irrigated, and on the Middle Concho about 1,500 acres. The greater per cent of this land is under gravity flow, but a lesser amount where pumping is necessary. This land has been subjected to irrigation about twenty years, but the soil shows no erosion or depletion or sourness. In the first years of this project the land was sown mostly to feed-stuffs, but in recent years has been utilized for production of cotton.

The residents of Barnhart, Irion county, are interested in the development of this section and have taken up exploitation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has as one of its major programs in 1920 the irrigation of all West Texas.

The opening of Shamrock park has been set for Tuesday, June 1.

OILBELT LEAGUENitros Clout Out
Another Victory
Over Judges, 11-4

The Nitros had their eye on the apple Friday, to Mr. Matthews' regret, and the second straight game of the Judges' series and the third straight won and fourth victory of the last five played was won by the hearty score of 11 to 4. The game was not as uninteresting as the score indicates. The club was playing snappy ball, and although the Judges looked stupid in one or two cases, adding the Nitro rallies, the home aggregation never played with such smooth precision and co-operation.

Lefty Adkins started on the mound and after getting away rather slowly, worked six good innings, with four hits and one run. His lame side took hold of him then and Frank Hudspeth finished. The Nitros had amassed a ten-run lead by then and it was easy sailing. Frank cased up and permitted three hits for three runs in the last frame, just before Daredevil Oakley started demonstrating just how little a man may care for his life.

Two of the Nitros' red-headed flingers, all of them good, thus shared the victory, which is officially credited to Lefty, of course. Red Hill, the third flaming blonde and the reddest of the trio Hudspeth, Adkins and Hill, goes to the mound in the final of the series today. Adkins goes to Fort Worth, where an osteopath will put him in shape to work at Mineral Wells Tuesday.

Three in the First.

Rabbit Flashkamper started the deal with a walk in the first. String Clapp sent a teasing bunt toward third and made a hit out of it. Lovelace fanned, but Manager Jim cracked a triple to right and Rabbit and String tallied. Jim scored on Mooney's infield out, making the count 3 to 0.

The Judges got one-off Adkins in the second on Lewis' single. Gross' out and Payne's one-base smacker. They did nothing more until the ninth, when the outcome was no longer in doubt.

Six in the Fourth.

Joe Tate opened the artillery in the fourth with a blow to center. Chapman, catching his first Nitro game—and a good one—drew a walk. Gross bunted, drawing Bratcher off the initial bag and although there was no chance to make the out, Bratcher threw to Matthews, covering, and it went wild. Tate scoring. Adkins rolled to first and there was no one to cover. Chappie bluffing at a trial at home which gave Adkins time to beat it to first. Bases full again.

Rabbit Flashkamper was called on and got a real hit, a short drive which he arched over second. Chapman scored. Bases still packed. Score 5-1.

String Clapp was next up and his contribution was a smash which left the ball in lonesome left center. Three bases, three more scores, total 8-1. But Clapp had to score, and so Levy drove him home with a blow to right. Then Matthews sought the showers.

Lovey stole, Galloway walked. Dude Mooney, ninth man up, made the first out, and Lovey was out at the same time trying to pillar third. Whiffing. Tate got his second life that inning on Standifer's bad throw and stole second. Chapman ended it, rolling out to Gross.

We added two more in the sixth, when Clapp walked, advanced on Lovelace's out to the box and counted when Manager Jim poled a single to right. Jim took second on the throw-in, third on Mooney's out to short and scored when Tate drove a sweet single to left.

The Judges' three in the ninth didn't interest anybody.

ON THE ROAD.

After today's struggle with the Eastland Judges, the Nitros are on the road for ten days, in which they will meet Mineral Wells, Abilene and Cisco. These games with the teams just above Ranger in the standing, the Resorters and the Scouts, will have much to do with the way the league race stacks up when the Nitros return, with Eastland again, June 9.

The road schedule is:
At Mineral Wells May 30, 31, June 1.
At Abilene June 2, 3, 4, 5.
At Cisco June 6, 7, 8.

NITRO NOTES.

After the game, the victorious Nitros were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Davenport at dinner at their home in Highland park. There was little or no "pulling away from the plate" as Manager Jim noticed, and String Clapp was of the opinion that he stood to pick up from 155 to 158 or better. (That's String's weight, not his batting average, as every fan might guess.) The scorer was lucky enough to be included with the boys.

Chapman made his first appearance behind the bat. He reported to the Nitros from Abilene. He caught a consistent game, with no boots and one throw-out.

Umpire Jess Price missed a bad one in the fifth inning. With Standifer on first and one out, the play was a hit and run and Jim had Standifer fooled. He dashed in towards the bag and Standifer thought the ball was on the ground. He ran as wildly as if two were gone. Instead the drive was to left, and Clapp caught it. He hesitated between the peg to second, which Standifer had passed, and to first, where he was due. He made the throw between and the ball came on the hop to Crow, rather slow. Price was moving over toward first, to be on top of the play, and Standifer cut across the diamond, ignoring second. He reached first in front of the ball and Crow made the throw to second. But Price didn't see Standifer cut across and would not call the double play.

The fans rode him on this score, which was a bad boot. But in general, Price runs a smooth game and is impartial. With his sixteen years of umpiring experience, he is the coolest arbiter in the circuit.

Bob Crow nipped Standifer with a neat catch of his foul in the third. He came nearly over to the stand to get it. Rabbit Flashkamper cut him down again in the sixth with a stab of his drive.

Rabbit's hit in the sixth was hand made. It dropped a short ways back of a drawn-in infield and scored Chapman. The final with the Judges today.

"CAN I KEEP FLAG ANOTHER YEAR?" MORAN ASKS HIMSELF
AS PENNANT IS PULLED TO TOP OF POLE AT REDLAND FIELD

A closeup of the Cincinnati manager and view of the flag raising. Moran, manager McGraw of the Giants and Mayor Galvin are raising the flag.

When the closeup above of Pat Moran was taken he might have been asking himself: "Wonder if I can keep this bunch of mine a championship outfit another year." The popular leader of the Reds is going about the 1920 campaign as if he meant to keep the pennant flying above Redland Field at Cincinnati. The flag, a mammoth affair, was officially raised at one of the early games with the usual ceremony.

IRRIGATED TRUCK FARMING.

A plan is being talked in Ranger of putting into operation a truck farm that will go a long way toward supplying this city with all kinds of vegetables.

The scheme looks feasible. In the immediate vicinity of town there are countless ravines and creeks that could be dammed at successive places for nominal costs that would supply enough water to supply hundreds of acres of land with ample moisture during the growing season.

In support of the feasibility of this scheme it is pointed out that the Haganman lake supply of water is estimated at 500,000,000 gallons. This volume of water would amply care for a large tract.

The dam across this lake does not represent a prohibitive sum of money.

In a project of this kind, the force of gravity would carry the water from the ravines to the lowlands, thus saving the expense of a pumping station.

In Menard county, hundreds of acres
are irrigated from one ditch that is built from a distance up the San Saba river
that is high enough to allow a free flow
of water without artificial force.

It has been demonstrated time and again that the truck lands of South Texas will support a family to every five acres and still leave a margin of profit.

Farm land around Ranger is not an expensive item. Many fertile valleys in farms have been abandoned, many others have never been turned by a plow. This land as it now stands is worthless. With water upon it for even a small irrigation purpose would increase its value
several hundred per cent.

The project of the government in always been a success. By this means hundreds of people have found permanent building dams in semi-arid regions have
and profitable homes.

RENT PROFITEERS MAY BE HIT WHEN NEW BILL PASSES

MADISON, Wis., May 28.—Extortion
of collectors of rent were flayed by Gov.
E. L. Philipp in his special message to the legislature this afternoon, in which he recommended the enactment of a law applicable to all cities in the state, giving the state railroad commission power to fix the rental of business buildings as it now has the power to fix public utility charges and railroad rates.

"Those who have taken advantage of the situation, either directly or by skillful device, have compelled the state to resort to official regulation," declared Governor Philipp. "It is an inefficient government, indeed, that will permit avarice to pick the people's pockets or to permit them to be put out on the street by soulless property owners or by equally soulless agents."

Just Rentals Urged.
"Briefly stated, the thing to be accomplished is to establish an emergency regulation by law that will insure just and reasonable rents. This should be construed to mean a fair return to the landlord for the use of his property and the services rendered. A rent based upon that principle will be fair and just to the tenant."

Under the scheme advanced by Governor Philipp the railroad commission will hold hearings and issue an order fixing reasonable rentals of buildings upon complaint. The legislation recommended follows the line of public utility regulation throughout the country.

The establishment of a four-year medical course in conjunction with a large state hospital for treatment of crippled and deformed children also is recommended by the executive.

Favors Full Course.
He declared the state should abolish
the two years of medical instruction
now given or furnish the full instruction and care for the student who apply for medical education.

"The proposed state hospital, being associated with the university, should maintain a high grade nurse training school
in connection with it and would secure very desirable students from the university," said the governor.
Complete bills covering all subjects recommended were immediately presented in both houses of the legislature and full consideration of these measures is now to be had. The indications are the session may last ten days.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

THE ATTIC BEDROOM.

"My husband and I have bought a small home, writes a reader friend, "but it is short one bedroom, so we are partitioning off a portion of the attic to supply this need. My unmarried sister will occupy this room and I would appreciate it if you would tell me how I could furnish it attractively. It is a front room, sunny and medium large. We are having the steam heat extended to the attic so that the room will be well heated in winter. It will also have electric lights.
The ceiling is sloping because of the peaked roof of the house."

In furnishing an attic bedroom one should strive for an effect of coolness.
For furnace heat and the small portable
heaters can make an attic room comfortable in cold weather, but no device can cool a room in summer and this will be the most trying time of the years for the dweller directly under a hot roof. (An electric fan should be furnished, but this of course cannot successfully combat the sun-baked roof.)

Just how can an effect of coolness be achieved? Mainly through the color scheme of the room. French gray is a notoriously cool color and is an excellent
"base color" to choose for an attic room.
By "base color" I mean the color which predominates. The rug, furniture and wall paper might be of this color, for instance. The curtains at the window might be of dead-white scrim with sage-

green-and-old-blue cretonne valances over them. Sage-green and old-blue are both cool colors and can be easily found combined in cretonne and chintz. With the gray wooden furniture I would have several pieces of wicker, which will add to the effect of coolness.

To be specific, I would have a three-quarter bed, a dressing table, a dressing
table bench, chiffoniere, and night stand of the gray enameled wood; and I would have a low rocker with arms, a table-top desk, desk chair, and small darning or sewing stand in the wicker. The seat and back pads of the two willow chairs
should be covered with the green-and-blue cretonne of which the window valances
are made.

A Reader.—Answer—Clarify your drippings in the following manner: Place
the drippings in a large pan, pour on a quart of boiling water and pass the whole through muslin. Let cool and the dripping can be taken out in a cake; the refuse at the bottom may be easily scraped off.

JOHN-A-DREAMS

XXXVII. OF MURDER AND VIO-LENT DEEDS.

Three dread dreams there are that mean dread things: To see murder done, to do murder and to be murdered. The accompanying circumstances are of practically no significance, unless the entire dream be dominated by them and the deed itself becomes a minor episode in the chain of events. Should you dream thus, let me know quickly, so that I may perhaps be able to relieve your mind; it will be best even not to apply the interpretations I shall here give you until you have consulted me.

To see murder done is an omen of a dire accident, no matter who the victim, no matter who the perpetrator. The accident will befall someone with whom you talked within the twenty-four hours
preceding the dream.

To do murder is a sign that in a short while you will, either through viciousness or the force of uncontrollable circumstances, turn treacherously on one who has given you his or her full confidence, and, as

Foul deeds will rise
Through all the earth overwhelm them,
to men's eyes,

so will you be found out and suffer the consequences of your witting or unwitting infringement.

To dream that you are being murdered
indicates that, no matter what you may do,
a most harmful and bitterly felt reversal will turn your life's course into the shadow of regrets and into the darkness of care. For some time to come you will sigh and say:

Comfort's in heaven; and we are on the earth,
Where nothing lives but crosses, care and grief.

Answers to Dream Questions.
Maria—The outstanding points of your dream, then, are these: You found yourself in a garden, weeping. A man of whom you think very much approached you, smiling, and though you wept he laughed. Later you felt as though you were walking through water and your feet got cold; and towards the end of your dream, you dreamed a gown.

Had you only known at the time, you would not have worried over this dream,
but rejoiced. All the other episodes you have related in such minute detail mean nothing at all, and these I have repeated have significance. The garden is your life, your tears represent your thoughts.
The man's smile and later his laughter prove that what you consider cause for worrisome is a mere passing matter of no importance whatever; and that, in fact,
you have no valid reason to be unhappy.
Your walk through the wet stands for a period of doubt, of unsettled speculation and of lack of decision which will precede the great event of your life—
when the man you saw in your dream will lay all he has, and hopes to be, at your feet. Of this the garment you admitted is positive proof.

Mrs. B., Main street—Cabbages may be rather prosaic things to dream about
but they signify good health and high spirits.

Doubling Thomas—Don't be so sure about all dream interpretations being "bunk." When you have a dream, let me know and we will put the matter to a test.

Frightened—Remember that dream
pictures are never the bodily but only the spiritual form of their real meanings. Your dream of an open grave—providing it was not accompanied by connected incidents which may require a different reading—meant that you will,
before long, own your own house.
"What Shall I Do?"—I doubt very much that you will be able to rouse your self sufficiently in the midst of a dream
to be able to get up and write down Many have tried this. In most cases the awakening is only partial and, as you dimly remember the dream episodes, you have an idea that you will find it easy to recall every detail the next morning,
so you let it go at that without going to the trouble of writing down your slumber impressions. The result is that in the morning the whole story is forgotten.

Student—The question of how long it really takes for a dream to develop and pass is one of the oldest and most disputed questions. Pardon me for not going into the subject today. Some time I shall tell you all I know and have learned about this.
The next chapter will tell of dreams
of dancing.

John-A-Dreams will be glad to interpret dream experiences seen to the editor of the Times by its readers. No replies will, however, be given privately and no fee will at any time be asked or accepted. It is distinctly understood that there can be no guarantee when such questions will be answered, though every effort will be made to satisfy inquirers
within three or four weeks.

H. C. OF L. LECTURER
VICTIM OF PICKPOCKET

International News Service.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 29.—Pickpockets play no favorites, according to Frank Urban, the high-cost-of-living lecturer, who complained at police headquarters that he had been robbed of $890
as he was entering a theatre to lecture.
"I didn't think they would do that to me," said Urban when told that "Providence pickpockets are capable of drawing a chamber set through a keyhole.
Urban said he had the money snugly
tucked away in a back pocket.

Twelve Given Certificates at Terms End

BAIRD, May 29.—Graduation exercises for the twelve members of the senior class were held in the auditorium of the high school last evening. Judge L. L. Black delivered the address of the evening, speaking to a crowd that packed the auditorium to the doors.

The graduates are: Bennie Cuthbert, Annie V. Foy, Isadore Gilman, Irma Powell, Beatrice Baber, Irene White, Elizabeth Webb, Glyndell Elliott, John Hildeth, Charley Mahan, Jr., Howard Farmer and Murray Harris, Jr.

Dr. C. C. Cooper, foreign languages instructor at Simmons college, delivered the baccalaureate address and superintendent J. F. Boren awarded medals for proficiency to the following: Thelma Lois Boatright, Vernon Johnson, Frances Vestal, Irma Lydia, Ruth Strain, Mary Darby, Lola Johnson, Frances Harris, Ross Dawkins, Catherine Mullican and Howard Farmer, who were listed in the order given. Isa Grimes was given an award for having been neither absent nor tardy during the four years of her high school course.

The school completed its full term with unusual success. The school trustees announced a forty-three per cent salary increase for the next year. The salary boost raises the minimum wage from $65 to $100.

ST. LOUIS GIRLS WILL VISIT ENGLISH QUEEN

Misses Nancy and Dorothy Walker, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Walker of 12 Hortense place, will be presented at the Court of St. James during their visit abroad. They will sail for France in company with their father.

The presentation will take place early in July shortly before their return home, and probably will be at a garden party at Buckingham Palace. Such functions are always attended with all the traditional pomp and ceremony of the English court and those being received by the majesties are required to wear a court train of regulation length and style.

During the reign of Queen Elizabeth the gowns and jewels worn by the women represented many thousands of dollars, but Queen Mary is encouraging simplicity of dress and entertainment. The presentation ceremonies consist of bowing before their majesties and a court functionary announces the names of those being received before the assemblage.

IT'S NOT FISH BUT BARLEY THIS TIME

HASKELL, May 29.—Luther Burbank, agricultural wizard, might profitably study the barley prodigies of this county.

Haskell has only lately gone into barley growing on a large scale. One seed dealer last year sold 1,000 bushels in the northern part of the county, and probably a great deal more was disposed of in other parts, for barley seems to be greater in acreage than wheat. Here is the story told to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"A certain farmer living near town found an isolated barley stalk which had 60 stems having an average of 60 grains of barley to each stem, making 3600 grains. The Bible truth that they should produce some twenty-fold, some sixty and some a hundred fold, was here verified 3600-fold."

Barley is expected to make on an average of 75 bushels per acre. Oats and wheat are now, while the acreage is slightly less than in 1919 the harvest here is expected to be heavier.

Rains have fallen throughout Haskell county in the last forty-eight hours, meaning that the crops will have an early start. Haskell county is expected to be represented at the Dallas State Fair, the Cotton Palace and in the National Exhibits Movement of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce this fall.

MAYOR IS ARRESTED ON WARRANT ISSUED IN CIVIL WAR TIME

MARION, Ohio, May 29.—Captain Edward Masterson, of the Marion police department, was arrested here on a warrant sworn out May 11, 1878, charging him with "playing at ball."

The captain explained that the warrant resulted from a ball game on a main street here in which he knocked a ball through the window of a bakery.

When "arraigned" the mayor reserved judgment and the warrant was given to the captain to keep as a souvenir. A policeman found the warrant among old records in the city hall and served it on the captain when he reported for duty today.

RUBE GOLDBERG'S BOOBS—To Say Nothing of the Solid "One-Piece" Brain

"Tinker Bob" Stories by Carlyle H. Holcomb

JERRY IN DANGER.

You can be sure that Tinker Bob did not show himself to the Forest dwellers, but kept very quiet to see what move Major Pole Cat and Sammy Squirrel would make. Jerry the Jay was struck dumb, as it were, to think that his feet were fast on the limb. He tried every possible way to get loose, but in vain.

"You see, I said that you could not move," said Major Pole Cat talking again. "Now you stay right there until we get ready for you to move."

"Thief! Thief!" cried Jerry, after trying all kinds of ways to get away. "Why are you so cruel? What have I done to you?"

"You always seem to think you have never done anything, but I think you have said enough about the King and Bob White, and if the King was here you would get worse than this. He would take all your feathers away from you."

Tinker Bob could hardly keep from laughing out loud to think that no one could see him, and he could see every body, and then to think that Major Pole Cat was taking so much care.

"What are you going to do with me?" cried Jerry, as he struggled to get away. "I hope you will not do me any harm for I just came here with my new feathers."

"But you thought we could not catch you because the King was away," said Sammy the Squirrel. "But you see, Jerry, the King has given us power to do this while he was away. Now you have been very mean to me and I am going to teach you a lesson. I am going to cut the limb that you stand on and let it drop, and then Major Pole Cat will take care of you when you get down there."

"Oh Sammy, I will never say anything about you if you will not let me drop. Oh, it would kill me to drop so far. Sammy began to cut the bark of the limb with his teeth and at the same time Jerry began to plead for his life. Major Pole Cat was enjoying the scene from below, for anything that worried Jerry pleased him.

When Mr. Blue Bird saw the danger that Jerry was in, he hurried off at once to find Mrs. Sparrow Hawk, thinking perhaps she could make things right. In the meantime Sammy kept cutting away at the limb, and Jerry kept protesting and crying loudly for help.

Tinker Bob was watching closely to see what the two creatures were going to do—that is, Sammy Squirrel and Major Pole Cat. Suddenly there came a shrill cry and Mrs. Sparrow Hawk appeared.

PARENT TEACHERS MAP OUT PROGRAM OF SUMMER WORK

The Parent-Teachers club of the Cooper school gave a social and entertainment at the school center Thursday night. The children gave their program in one room while the grown folks met in another.

Rev. C. M. Collins led the community singing and an informal talk was made by Mayor M. H. Hagaman. Miss Gertrude Dwyer, of community service, told of the organization plan for a community center and asked that delegates be appointed to represent the Cooper club in the general council which meets on June 4. Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. Hamilton were elected.

The committee on organization was appointed as follows: W. J. McFarland, chairman; Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. V. V. Cooper, Mrs. Mills, Rev. Gurken and Mrs. Lander.

Mrs. Robert McFarland and Mrs. Nolan will have the directed work of story telling for the children during the summer vacation.

At the conclusion of the program there was a pie and cake sale and Mr. McFarland acted as auctioneer. A neat sum was realized for the use of the club.

NOTHING LIKE IT DECLARES THIS TRAVELING MAN

Says Tanlac Built Him Up Eighteen Months Ago and He Still Feels Fine

STUBBORN STOMACH TROUBLE OVERCOME

His Strength and Energy Soon Returned and He Now Feels Like New Man Since Taking Tanlac.

It is indeed doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many traveling salesmen throughout the country as has Tanlac.

One of the latest of these "Knights of the Grip" to testify is G. P. Harper, 2314 Sixth avenue, Birmingham, Ala., who represents the Yel-o-Pine Company of Montgomery.

"When it comes to medicines for indigestion and other ailments caused by a bad stomach," said Mr. Harper recently, "Tanalac beats anything I have run across. It put me on my feet eighteen months ago and I have been feeling fine, and able to attend to business cheerfully and with plenty of energy ever since."

"Before taking this medicine I had been suffering for two years from indigestion. My stomach would not digest anything properly and I could not eat without bloating all up with gas, which caused the worst sort of pains through my chest and made my heart beat like a trip-hammer. I could eat no meats or drink coffee and I even had to cut out smoking. My appetite was very poor and my nerves had become so upset that I could never get a good night's sleep. I was considerably off in strength, had but little energy and could not take proper interest in anything."

"I had tried to find something to correct my troubles, but nothing seemed to reach my case. Finally I concluded to try Tanlac, hearing it so highly recommended, and since taking it I have felt like a new man. I can eat just anything, drink black coffee when I please and never have the least trouble with my digestion. I sleep like a child and am feeling fine all the time. Tanlac has helped me wonderfully and it's a pleasure to recommend it."

Tanalac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros. and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.
