Dodson Found Not Guilty On Murder Intent Charge

Fine, For Assault 90 Day Jail Term,

Wendell Blaine Dodson was found "not guilty" to the charge of intent to murder Wednesday in a trial by jury and was assessed a fine of $100 and given 90 days in jail for assault, a charge to which he plead guilty.

Dodson was charged with assault and intent to murder his father-in-law Marvin Robertson on Oct. 22, 1961. Attorney for the defense was Dell Barber, and District Attorney Weldon Kirk represented the state in the case.

Marvin Robertson, first witness to take the stand, testified that Dodson came to his home on Oct. 22, 1961, and struck him on the head with a child's baseball bat after he had asked the defendant to leave. Robertson, at the time, had both feet broken from a previous injury, and was on crutches.

When asked by Dell Barber, in cross examination, if he remembered asking for a gun after Dodson hit him, Robertson testified that he did not recall any such request.

Richard Robertson, a bystander who was the first to talk with Dodson when he knocked on the door of the Robertson home, testified that Dodson had asked to come in and see his sons. Robertson said he told him that he would have to see Louise (Dodson's estranged wife) first. Then, he said his father came to the door and asked Dodson to leave, after which time Dodson struck the elder Robertson on the head.

The defendant, in his testimony, stated that he did not see the crutches upon which Robertson leaned, nor did he see the casts on both his feet. He said that he just asked to see his children, and Robertson cursed him.

"After he cursed me," Dodson stated, "I just lost my head and hit him. I don't know why I hit him; when he cursed me, I just went blank for a moment."

Dodson said that after he struck Robertson, and he was slumped down with Richard holding him, that Robertson kept saying, "Get my gun and I'll kill the sorry s.o.b." Dodson said he was scared, and therefore, fled from the scene.

"I am sorry I hit him," he said. "I was sorry right after I hit him and I'm still sorry," he continued. Dodson said he did not mean to hurt him, and if he had meant to kill him that he could have, but did not.

Serving on the jury were Ray Noble, foreman, E. A. Spann, Mrs. Arma Watlington, Mrs. Marie Swafford, Kenneth Hardegree, Trevlyn Kelley, Kenneth Dockrey, Herman Minor, Charles Snyder, Paul Beeman, Pat McKinney, Jr. and Lloyd Brame.

Anthony's New Manager

Tommy LeMaster, left, will assume duties as new manager of the local C. R. Anthony Company this week. He will come here from managership of the shoe department in the Big Spring store. Ronnie Norrell, right, will become manager of the Vernon store. He has been manager of the local store for the past 2 years.

TOO MUCH CHLORINE

Council Hears Reports On Water System

The city council heard Monday evening a report from J.A. Sadler, Jr., on the condition of the local water system.

Sadler said that the contractor who recently installed equipment had met his obligations.

However, Sadler continued, the chlorinator equipment is not functioning properly. He said that the equipment was designed to put in not more than 2 parts chlorine per million parts of water, but at times up to 2½ parts per million are getting in the water.

He indicated that the higher percentage is not at all dangerous. The municipal swimming pool water, for instance, the water department official said, carries up to 6 parts per million chlorine, which is not considered excessive.

He said an air leak could give a wrong reading to the automatic dispenser system, making it put in more chlorine than necessary.

The council decided to delay payment on the contract until the equipment is made to function properly.

The council also heard a proposal from a representative of a city-planning firm to do a comprehensive city plan for Colorado City.

The representative said the new type city plans are more complete than the old ones, such as the city's present plan.

When asked about costs, the representative said "it is dependent on services required and present available data." He said the city of Post paid $12,000, and Orange $35,000. Estimates cannot be made on population, he added.

The state, through the federal government, will pay 2/3 of the cost if the city desires, he indicated, on a comprehensive plan. Most cities use the government aid, he concluded.

The councilmen asked that a proposal be drawn up for study.

The councilmen also engaged in a lengthy discussion on a retirement plan for city employees, as required by law. They asked city attorney John M. Worrell whether such a plan would require an ordinance. He said yes.

City Manager Earl Keaton read the proposed ordinance, which, in effect said that all employees of the system is adopted would be required to put aside a certain portion of their pay check toward a retirement fund. However, the city may refuse, unless required by statute, to place new employees, or city departments, under the system.

The council tabled the issue until the employees could be consulted as to their wishes.

In other business, the council was read a letter from the

DEADLINE IS JULY 15

Paving Being Delayed By A Few Owners

The paving program for Colorado City additions is going well, according to Earl Keaton, city manager, but it is being delayed in certain areas by a relatively few home owners.

He said that 20 blocks due for paving are being held up by 2 or 3 homeowners in each block who have not yet signed.

Another 6 blocks are nearly completely signed, he said.

"The program will be stalled until next spring if these blocks are not signed up," Keaton indicated.

A deadline, July 15, has been set for signing, so that the firm contracted to do the paving can get started.

Jesse H. Southerlin Jr., representative of First of Texas Corporation, who is handling public contact and sign - up work, said he wished to emphasize that the program is being held up by a small minority in each block.

According to Southerlin, if the blocks in question, which are in the Eastover Addition, are signed up by the 15th of this month, the contractor can be ready to start operations by Monday, July 16.

Blocks which are signed up first will be the ones where construction will start.

He said there are two methods of paying for the paving.

Cash may be placed in escrow in the City National Bank. The money will not be released to the contractor until paving is complete, and has been accepted by the city engineer and the city council.

The other method is for the home owner to sign a paving contract.

Payments will be in four installments. The first installment will be due 20 days after paving has been completed and accepted. The remaining payments may be paid once a year for three years.

This contract provides for 7 percent simple interest.

Southerlin said that anyone wishing more information may call his office (RA 8-4115), or ask him to visit them. His office is on the second floor of City Hall.

Two Mitchell Wildcats Show Good Oil Returns

Two Mitchell County wildcats reported a return of oil this week.

Gordon Knox No. 1 nail, an Ellenburger wildcat, has tested new oil from an unidentified zone between 6,900-85 feet.

The formation is probably the Pennsylvanian. Recovery included 2,500 feet of "free oil." The 'cat is about 18 miles south-east of Colorado City and about one mile northwest of the McCabe field.

British American No. 1-B Berry, a wildcat in Wichita-Albany, returned oil and gas shows from the Abo Reef on drillsteam tests.

The venture is about nine miles northwest of Westbrook and is set for 5,000 feet to test the Wichita-Albany. The Abo Reef was tested between 3,460-96 feet.

SCHOOL SERIES REPORT

Superintendent Has Many Duties

By JANE DOBBS
Record Staff Writer

During the three summer months when students are on vacation, the school Superintendent's Office is a beehive of activity.

This office, located in the Administration Building, west of the high school, operates on a twelve month schedule coordinating the continuous school program.

Through this office is coordinated the planning and direction of the total program upon which the entire school system is based.

Along with regular duties that must be performed each day are numerous interviews with principals, teachers, maintenance personnel, applicants, citizens of the community, and many students in the interest of the school.

Many of the duties begin in the spring and continue throughout the summer. One of them is retention and replacement of teachers and other personnel, which is not usually completed until late summer, due to unforeseen resignations.

To refill positions created by these resignations a great deal of searching, interviewing and investigation is involved.

Another of the major duties begun in the spring is the preparation of the annual budget. Two budgets must be made, one is the minimum foundation budget, and the other is the operational budget. The minimum foundation budget is the one which determines the amount of money the school district receives from the state. The operational budget is based on receipts and expenditures of both state and local money.

Approximately 50 per cent of the money comes from local taxes, and 50 per cent from the state. The tentative budget is submitted to the Board of Education for study, revision and final approval.

The Superintendent's Office serves as the contact between the school and State Department of Education. This is necessary, because the school is dependent on the State Department for accreditation and financial aid.

This contact includes such basic requirements as for accreditation, finances, teacher credentials, certification, census enumeration, student enrollment and attendance, transportation, textbooks and lunchroom facilities. Each of these requires a complete system of records and reports.

In addition, the state provides a portions of the funds for numerous special positions and services made available to schools upon eligibility for approval.

The Colorado City schools take advantage of many of these. To receive approval, an application for each service, along with plans for carrying on the work, is submitted.

Then, at the close of the school year a final report is made. All records, applications, plans, and final reports are subject to state audit.

Some of the services for which our school has approval are: vocational agriculture and homemaking, special educa-

Mirelez Fined And Jailed In County Court

Ray Mirelez plead guilty Monday to the charge of illegally carrying a pistol and was fined $150 plus court cost and given ten days in jail by County Judge Elmer Martin.

Mirelez was reportedly arrested at a Loraine Mexican Dance Saturday night. When Officer Bill Bowles commanded him to stop following a disturbance, Mirelez refused to do so. Officers said he had the gun on his person and had been displaying it when arrested by officers Bill Bowles, Wendell Relm and Bob McGuire.

DWI Results In Fine & Jail

Freddie Lee Smith, charged with driving while intoxicated, plead guilty Monday and was fined $100 plus court cost, and given three days in jail by County Judge Elmer Martin.

Smith was arrested Sunday afternoon on East Highway 80 by City Policemen Truman Henderson and Selma Dickson.

Rural Wreck Rate is Down

Rural traffic accidents for June 1962 were fewer than at the same time last year, according to Sergeant B. J. Butler of the Sweetwater highway patrol sub-district.

He reported that 3 rural traffic accidents occured last month in which no one was killed, but 3 injured, and property damage amounting to $2,385.00 was incurred.

During the same month last year, there were 5 accidents with no deaths, but 2 injured—property damage amounted to $3,565.00.

Butler said that more strict compliance with traffic laws would further reduce traffic accidents.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PROSPECTS

Industrial Team Forging Program

The Chamber of Commerce's industrial prospect team is advancing its program for bringing new industry to Colorado City.

About 60 letters have been sent to various companies in all parts of the country. The letters asked the companies to consider Colorado City for branch plants or terminals, if any were being planned for this area.

The names of the companies were taken from trucks passing through the city, R. L. Kendall, chamber manager, said.

Kendall said the letters were a "stop-gap" measure "to develop prospects—to do something as fast as possible," while the chamber's industrial program is being implemented.

Kendall said the program's plan is to study the city's industrial potential, and to see what Colorado City is best suited for.

"With over 100,000 industries in the United States, it is necessary to narrow the field down in order to see what industries it is possible for Colorado City to support," he indicated.

He said that committees will be formed to study various industries, with help from Texas Electric and other companies, until the members of the committees become expert in their particular field.

Companies in the various fields will be contacted, and asked whether they would object to representatives of the teams calling on them. Then the various team experts will go to the companies, and attempt to show them that they can make money in Colorado City, Kendall said.

The committee on industrial prospects study, a sub committee of the industrial team consists of Roy Bates, Joe Bell, and Charles Root, Kendall indicated.

The letters recently sent to industries were sent to the following cities:

Elberton, Ga., Rome, Ga., East Point, Ga., Tuscumba, Ala., Greensborough, N. C., Winston-Salem, N. C., Eartersville, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., Morristown, Pa., Los Angeles, Calif., Phoenix, Ariz., Little Rock, Ark., Downey, Calif., High Point, N. C., Jersey City, N. J., Columbus, Ga., and El Dorado Ark.

El Paso, Ennis, Garland, Dallas, Weslaco, Houston, Kilgore, Waco, Round Rock, San Angelo, Lubbock, Abilene, Odessa, Midland, Austin, and Fort Worth, Texas, were included in the mailing.

Other cities were Bossier City, La., Fort Smith, Ark., Sheffield Ala., and Oklahoma City, Okla.

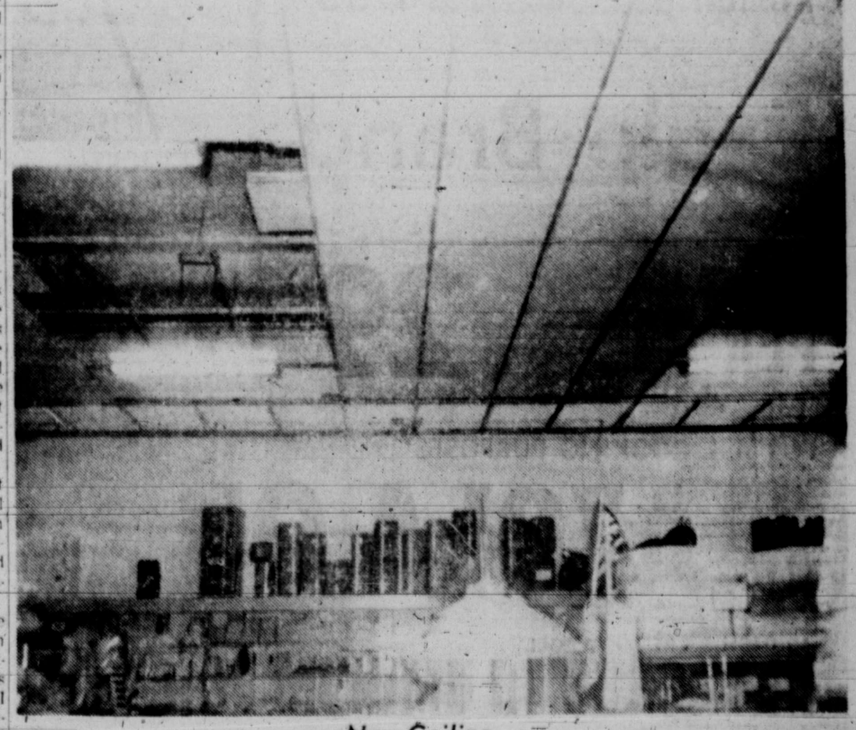

Accident— In Reverse

A 1958 Oldsmobile driven by Mrs. Zelda P. Arledge of Sweetwater was in collision with a 1954 GMC pickup driven by Andres G. Garcia of Colorado City Tuesday afternoon.

The Arledge car was going backward down Hickory street. The engine was stalled, according to police. Garcia's pickup was headed north on Hickory, but was stopped.

No one was injured.

Damage was estimated at $25 for each vehicle.

New Ceiling

The Ben Franklin store here gets a new look. The "hanging ceiling" is made of aluminum and fiber-glass, and is extremely light. The framework is held in place with wire—the panels are dropped in and are held in place by gravity. The store is also getting new lighting, and a paint job.

IN WESTBROOK'S METHODIST CHURCH

'Christ Above All' Is WSCS Program

"Christ Above All" was the subject of the evening study Monday when the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Westbrook Methodist Church met in the church parlor.

Mrs. L. E. Gressett irected the evening study. She told the members present; "Youth is the focal point of life's dreams and memories. No group in a church commands quite so much anxiety or enthusiasm criticism or commendation, neglect or indulgence as its youth. No age group requires so much of its leaders and teachers as do the youth.

"The church seeks to help its youth to be aware of God's self disclosure and seeking love in Jesus Christ, and to respond in faith and love to the end that they may know who they are, and what their human situation means; to grow as sons of God rooted in the Christian community, live in the spirit of God in every relationship, fulfill their discipleship in the world and abide in Christian hope."

Mrs. Price Hendrix said, "For centuries men have responded to the ancient injunction, 'know thyself,' and have sought to discover and define the properties and qualities of human nature: In their church young people should come to know who they are, that God created man in His own image, crowned him with glory and honor. The Church should help its young people to understand their situation and the situation of other people, and today's great social problems. Do we, as church members, set an example for our young people? Do we embody trust that dispels fear, reflects tranquility of spirit and speaks of hope?"

It was announced that the youth seminar would be conducted next week in the church each night. The members were asked to help by serving refreshments at each meeting.

The president, Mrs. L. R. Messimer, president over the business session.

The members sang "The Church's One Foundation" and, Mrs. C. W. Newton led the prayer. Mrs. Gressett's scripture lesson was taken from Genesis 1:1 and Luke 2:52.

A life membership pin and certificate will be presented at the next meeting, August 6.

Mrs. Gressett announced that the cards the society ordered had arrived and could be found at the R. and B. Grocery and Market in Westbrook.

BRIDE-ELECT OF KENNET SIMMONS

Local Persons To Attend Meet

Approximately 30 persons from Colorado City will attend the district assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in San Angelo, July 27-29, according to A. L. Wristen, local presiding minister.

The eight circuit convention includes Texas, portions of Oklahoma and New Mexico. Also, there will be visitors from various other states, Wristen said, which make up the 135 congregation assembly.

Purpose of the "Courageous Ministers Assembly" is to stimulate acts of faithfulness in preaching and teaching "this good news of the kingdom," Wristen explained.

He said that Jehovah's Witnesses, being a society of ministers enrolled in ministerial training of at least five classes weekly, also, meet together often in circuit, district, national and international assembly to encourage one another to perform ministerial service in faithfulness.

The San Angelo congregation with 11 near-by congregations is preparing to accommodate 5,000 delegates expected to attend the assembly.

The three-day event will be climaxed Sunday at 3 p. m., July 29, with a speech entitled "Take Courage—God's Kingdom is at Hand."

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Roland visited Mrs. Jim Johnson Monday. They were enroute to Kermit to visit Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spikes.

Double-ring vows exchanged by Miss Virginia Louise Willis and Thomas George Reaves united the couple in marriage June 29.

Wedding music was played by Miss Sharon Shankland. Adrin Jones sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was joined to a full street-length skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of pearls. She wore a strand of pearls and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses atop a white lace Bible.

Latricia Willis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a full-skirted dress of yellow nylon organdy over taffeta. Nancy Willis, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress identical to that of the maid of honor.

Best man was John Parks of Irving.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Willis wore a pale blue linen sheath fashioned with a matching jacket. Her accessories were white. Mrs. Reaves wore a blue lace dress with white accessories.

Talk

By PEGGY BELVIN

The atmosphere of threatened wars and nuclear powers of today's world has had its effect on many of this earth's inhabitants. From every corner of the globe, mankind is alerted to the danger of possible demolition.

Each country must strive to create more powerful and more deadly weapons, so as not to be left behind in the frantic struggle for world power and not to invite destruction by being helpless and unable to counter-attack.

Nuclear bomb tests are made miles away from civilization, on deserted islands where only the quiet sands and the oceanic waters can witness the destruction and havoc they wreck.

But from atop the deck of a US NAVY ship, anchored in Pearl Harbor, come these words from TM3 R. L. PRESCOTT, a U S Navy sailor, native of Mitchell County.

PLACE: Pearl Harbor, Hawaii
DATE: July 8, 1962
TIME: 2300 or 11 p. m.

Some 750 miles southwest of our ship, the US Government has just exploded a nuclear test bomb on Johnston Island. There was no sound at all here at Pearl Harbor, only a bright green flash which lasted approximately 20 seconds. Then, a reddish glow which lasted 15 or 20 minutes more. The clouds looked as if they were on fire. It was hard to believe that the detonation point was 750 miles away, and even harder to believe that man had been the trigger of this gigantic nuclear wonder.

The first flash of green gave one the impression that a flash picture had been taken at close range, but the flash lasted much longer.

The first 5 minutes of the brilliant reddish color had the same qualities of the phosphorescent glow of a new automobile when it leaves the factory, but it began to fade in a matter of minutes.

The time is now 12:30 a. m. and it looks a little darker. I don't know if it's because of the blast or if a cloud has moved overhead. But, in comparison to the rest of the sky, it looks much darker at the place where the bomb exploded.

Others who witnessed the blast said there was a faint odor in the air, but we smelled nothing.

There were 8 of us aboard ship who were witnesses to the explosion, and it left us astonished, but with a feeling we can hardly describe, no matter how hard we try. We agree that we'll remember this the rest of our lives. It was a sight that every man, woman and child should witness, so as to be aware of the power held in human hands.

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

IT'S ENOUGH to discourage us born pacifists who belong to the live-and-let-live school. Just reading the daily headlines.

Now they're having a cat fight in Tyler, Texas, rose capital of the world. It is not a hair-pulling contest at some woman's organization. It's a sure enough cat fight. Following a new leash law ordering Tyler citizens to keep all dogs on a leash, or in an owner's yard, a woman has demanded an amendment "belling the cat."

CALLING ALL cats "Jezebels," a woman named Mrs. A. G. Detrich wants the leash law amended to include a bell for every Tyler cat, "because they're bird-catching Jezebels."

Tyler's City Manager, fellow named Casey Fannin, is to give the lady's demand "further study," poor man.

SUREST WAY to have a howling good fight in any town is to bring up the subject of cat laws. Fur flew like lint in ginning season, recently, at Big D when the council there actually considered limiting cats to four for a household, cat traps for strays.

They didn't consider long. Cat lovers rode the press and the council day-and-night, night-and-day until somebody had the sense to change the subject. So then everybody in Big D just jumped into the Turtle Creek tree-chopping-feud.

And Big D cats went about their Jezebelling business as members in good stalking of the Bird Watchers Union.

OUR SHEBA is no Jezebel. She's the loyal, home-loving type. She'd rather have fried chicken than raw sparrow. She and the birds in the yard have worked out some sort of truce. When she takes her tree-climbing beauty exercises, the papa Cardinal just flits up high on the TV antenna next door and whistles insults at her. Mostly they ignore each other. Live and let live.

WHAT STOPS us cold, about citizens and cat-fighting, is not affection for Sheba—bright, funny, lovable, temperamental little creature that she is.

What stops us cold is simply this: how come? Why can't it be a case of to-each-his-own-likes without so much disliking?

Why can't you walk your dog, while I pet my cat,
And all of us just let it go at that?

FIND THE WAY to that-how-come-question and you'll have the why to far more serious questions—most human contention, all humanity's wars.

But even if you already knew the why—human nature—you'd still have to find the cure—compassion, understanding. Live and let live.

To date, with human nature fighting human nature on every level from City Council to United Nations, that cure still seems as remote as raising radishes on the moon, this season.

Meantime, dogs get along with cats
Better than people do with each other.
And cats get along with birds
Better than man and his brother.

IN C. CITY for a little business visit Monday was Mrs. John L. Doss, long-time pioneer resident here who lives now in the convalescent home in Snyder. Mrs. Doss continues to recover from a severe attack of pneumonia earlier this year.

Here for a visit with her mother Mrs. Frances Young and grandmother Mrs. Frank Lupton is former Betty Jane Young who's married name is Mrs. Ray Burt Norris. With her is the Norris son, five-month-old red-head Stephen. Husband Ray is to be released from Army duty at Camp Polk, August 9th.

HERB AND DAISY GUNN and Daisy's sister, Jureue Myhre left here Sunday morning at four o'clock by alarm time for North Hollywood, California. They'll spend their vacation days with Daisy's brothers Allon and Glen Myhre.

ROSS DIXON JR.—remembered here as "Little Ross" on the other hand, is here from California on business. Ross Jr., wife Ginni (nee Caffey) and their four little Dixons live in Costa Mesa. They like it out there, Ross was saying at intermission time when we spied him with Annie Dixon (Mrs. Ross Sr.) at the Palace.

That reminds us to opine, apropos of nothing a tall, that in "Lonely Are the Brave," Kirk Douglas's horse acted more like a horse than Kirk Douglas acted like any real cowboy. Whiskey, the horse, deserves the equine oscar. With or without a dimpled chin.

AND THAT brings up the Junior Rodeo somebody was talking about. Think it was attractive Johnnie Hammond (Mrs. Romaine) of Buford who was saying that members of the Western Riding Club here plan to stage the event next month. In August. At the roping arena, West Highway 80.

HERE FOR THE SUMMER at the Tommy Moseley house, 505 Pine, are Richard and Brenda Moseley of College Station where Richard is to begin his Texas A&M senior year as a pre-dental science major this coming fall. This summer he's working as chemist in Col-Tex Lab and taking one course at Howard County College. He'll be interviewed next week-nd by Baylor College of Dentistry's dean. Wife Brenda's parents are the Mardell Feasters of Buford.

Sanford Burrus, husband of the former Rayvell Moseley, has just completed his first year at Baylor's Dentistry College. Rayvell finishes, come September, training as medical technologist, at Baylor Hospital. Sanford is employed as chemist by the city of Dallas, this summer.

Such reports of brother-sister zeal makes you wonder if ambition runs in families. Like curly hair. Or stubborn behavior. Or maybe liking a cat on the hearth at home.

Houseguests of Karen Fugate are her cousins Shirley Donnell of Waco and Ann Fugate of Fort Worth.

Recent Silver visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ross and family of Fremont. They visited their son who is a summer employee of Sun Oil Co.

SAYING HELLO . . .

That's quite a long way G. F. Cauthen, the new Northside Church of Christ minister, has traveled to be among us. He's fresh from Melbourne, Australia.

Tommy LeMaster, the young blond who succeeded Ronnie Norrell as Anthony manager, journeyed only from Big Spring.

Why not make it a point to say "hello" to both of 'em . . . and, later, drop by Corner Drug for a cool respite from the heat. We're always glad to see you.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

State-Owned Lands Ready To Be Leased for Industry

State-owned islands along the coast, and submerged lands in inland waters, now are available for lease for industrial purposes.

Leasing for industry was authorized last year by the Legislature. First step in the program was for Gov. Price Daniel to select the men to serve on a committee to advise the School Land Board on leasing procedures.

Daniel now has named J. Chrys Dougherty of Austin, an attorney, and Dr. Armstrong Price of Corpus Christi as the advisors.

Procedure is this — a person who wants to lease state government, if the land lies government, if he land lies in a city limit, or to the county commissioners court. They publish notices and have public hearings. If they recommend the lease the three-man School Land Board then can consider it and set the amount of rent to be paid.

First application was from Port Aransas, which wants to lease part of Mustang Island for an airport.

SCHOOL BUS BARGAINS — Prices of school buses are falling.

State Board of Control, which buys buses for all the school districts on sealed bids, found hat the price of 72-passenger buses has fallen by about $1,200 this spring.

May purchases averaged $5,430, while the 1961 average was $6,618. Same sort of declines were noted in prices of smaller buses.

LEASES GO UP — But there was a note on higher prices, too.

For many years, the University of Texas lands in West Texas have been leased for oil and gas with only one-eighth royalty reserved for the University of Texas and Texas A & M College, which share in the proceeds.

This year, the royalty was raised to one-sixth, and only 9 of 101 tracts offered for lease were passed over by the oil company bidders who bought them at an auction sale. Cash bonuses averaged $38.64 an acre. This is lower than at some sales in the past But if they find oil or gas, the University fund will get more of it due to the higher royalty fees.

IMPACT STILL DRY — That long-expected "oasis" in West Texas will stay dry awhile longer.

It is the town of Impact, in the edge of bone-dry Abilene, which incorporated and voted itself wet in 1961.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and the City of Abilene brought suit to declare the incorporation invalid. But District Judge J. R. Black held that the incorporation had been validated by the Legislature It was done in a validating act passed mainly for the City of Plano, which just happened to apply to Impact, also.

However, State Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. announced that he will not grant a package store permit which has been pending for months. He'll want to see what the higher courts say about Judge Black's ruling, since the case will be carried to the Texas Supreme Court.

So there won't be any legal liquor in Taylor County for many more months.

Big Club

Jack Nicklaus, winner of the U. S. Open in Oakmont, Pa., packs a big club, but not as big as it seems to be here. Camera distortion has enlarged Jack's driver.

Youth Gets Lone Star Degree

Michael Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Geiger of Star Route Colorado City, will receive the Lone Star Farmer Degree at the State FFA Convention in Fort Worth, July 8-20.

The State Farmer Degree is the highest award that may be awarded by a boy in FFA work in the State of Texas. Only 2 per cent of the 38,000 membersship of the FFA organization will receive the state's highest award.

Michael has had a labor income from his project program the last three years of over $2,000.

His project program has been:

First year
Pigs for Pork ---------- 2
Cotton ---------- 6 acres
Second Year
Pigs for Pork ---------- 4
Cotton for Lint ---- 6 acres
Third Year
Pigs for Pork ---------- 12
Sow ---------- 1
Cotton ---------- 15
Milo for Feed ---------- 8
Calf for show ---------- 1

Michael has exhibited pigs in the county show all three years. Placing a first pig last year and a 4th place at Abilene, which sold for 30c per pound. He has a calf on feed for this years' show. Michael will be a senior in Colorado High next year.

Hill in Army

Oland Donald Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hill of Colorado City recently enlisted in the U. S. Army.

He is receiving basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

The 1962 graduate of Colorado City High School will be stationed at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene following basic training. While at Dyess, he will be enrolled in the "missile school" there.

NEWS FROM THE LIBRARY

The following is a list of new books received at the Federation Library. They are available by request from Mrs. Boyd Dozier, librarian.

"The Lands and Peoples of of Central America," Gerard Colvin (Macmillan.) The history, geography, and life of the inhabitants of Central America. In the Lands and Peoples series. Illustrated with photographs. Ages 10-14.

"Builder of Israel; The Story of Ben-Gurion," Robert St. John (Doubleday.) A biography of Ben-Curion that gives good information about the subject and about the state of Israel, but is weakened by an awkward writing style: the text seems to be written down to the audience and is abrupt, often choppy in construction. The book follows Ben-Gurion's career up to 1958 and the celebration of Israel's tenth anniversary.

"Find a Career In Law Enforcement," Lt. Henry F. Whaley & Tom MacPherson (Putnam.) After informational chapters on general types of law enforcement, federal, state and special, the authors gave more detailed chapters on the training involved in ordinary police work and the routines that follow after such training. The New Jersey State Police, the Los Angeles City Police Department, and the New York System classification are given as real backgrounds. The routine work of a policeman is set against the background of any composite city-metropolis. Ages 11-15.

"The Supreme Court; America's Judicial Heritage," Patricia C. Acheson (Dodd.) An intensive examination of the Supreme Court, made in a serious and fairly heavy style. The author writes with interest and competence; the material is well-organized. Mrs. Acheson acheives admirably the goals she sets fourth in the preface; to examine the roll of the Supreme Court in the nation's history, to survey the political and economic origins of some of the cases it has decided, and to evaluate the impact of those cases. Not a book for the browsing reader, this will be one that is most value to the serious student of American history. Appended are the Constitution, a list of judges of the Supreme Court arranged by presidential appointment, a list of sources for cases cited in the book, and an appendix in which case citations are italicized.

"The Happy Birthday Present," John Heilbroner (Harper.) A delightfll book for beginning independent readers, with beguiling and humorous illustrations. Problem: what to give mother for her birthday? Small Peter takes his still smaller brother Davy to the shops to find something for 10 cents. Their excursions are realistic, Davy's behavior is entertaining, and the conversation captures remarkably the ingenuous childlike attitude.

"Texas and the War with Mexico," the editors of American Heritage Magazine. Another fine volume in a series distinguished for careful research, curricular use, handsome format, and good writing style. The text describes the relations between Mexico and the United States from the time of he waning of Spanish power in the New World to the end of the Mexican War in 1848. Profusely and handsomely illustrated, this welfth book in the series has appended as do the preceding volumes — a bibligraphy, a reading list, an index, and a list of picture credits.

gives you hotter water...faster

In a flameless, quick recovery electric water heater, two super-fast heating elements are in the water, inside the tank, rather than just one heat source outside the tank bottom. Element at top heats water at the point of draw-off. Element at bottom heats incoming water. Notice, too, that heavy insulation completely surrounds the tank, including the bottom. Heat is sealed in, and none is wasted up a flue, since an electric water heater is flameless and needs no flue or vent. That's why an electric water heater gives you the hot water you need for dishes, laundry and other uses . . . as fast as you need it. See both round and table top models at your dealer's soon!

SAVE NOW...WITH TEXAS ELECTRIC'S
$50 INSTALLATION CERTIFICATE
Good for $50 on the retail purchase and installation of a new electric 40-gallon (or larger) glass-lined, quick recovery water heater, replacing an existing water heater, in any home served by Texas Electric Service Company. This offer good only until August 31. See your appliance dealer, plumber or electrical contractor.

NEW LOW RATE FOR ELECTRIC WATER HEATING
Only 1¼c per kilowatt-hour for all electricity normally used for water heating by the average family. Call our office for full information.

What is Your Question?

QUESTION: Is conscience a safe guide?

Many people say, "It does not matter what one believes or does in religion just so he follows his conscience".

THIS IS NOT TRUE in secular matters. In travelling on the highways, we do not follow conscience about the road to take . . . we use the road map. In matters of health, we do not follow conscience—we want a doctor. We may take poison in all good conscience and die because our conscience was wrong.

HONESTY, SINCERITY and a good conscience do not change the physical laws of nature. Nature's laws were formed by the same God who gave us the laws of religion and worship. Why then should we think conscience could change any of God's laws?

CONSCIENCE IS NOT safe in the business world. Sincerity does not keep banks from failing, businesses from going broke, or companies from losing money. It is not enough in marriage. Many marriages fail, not because of insincerity, but because of other factors.

IF CONSCIENCE is not safe in these matters, why should we think it safe in religion? Conscience is not our guide; it serves as a court. It is the exercise of one's judgment of knowledge previously acquired.

CONSCIENCE may accuse or excuse (Romans 2:12-15) or bear witness (Romans 9:1). Conscience warns us only when we are going CONTRARY to what WE HAVE BEEN TAUGHT.

WHEN ONE IS DOING what he has been taught to be right, his conscience is clear and is spoken of in the Bible as good (Acts 23:1), pure (II Tim. 1:3) and void of offence (Acts 24:16). If one violates what he has been taught, his conscience is said to be defiled (Titus 1:15) or seared (I Tim. 4:2).

CONSCIENCE SHOULD NOT BE VIOLATED (Romans 14:14). However, to think a thing is right does not make it right, for the Apostle Paul persecuted Christians with a good conscience (Gal 1:13; Acts 26:9-10; Acts 23:1; Phil. 3:6).

WHAT THEN IS OUR GUIDE? In religion it is the Bible only. "Through thy precepts I get understanding . . ." (Ps. 119:104). Christ has all authority (Matt 28:18). We must not go beyond His word (II John 9). Reject His word and you will be rejected (John 12:48). We will be judged by His word (Rev. 20:12).

CONSCIENCE IS NOT A SAFE GUIDE. THE BIBLE, GOD'S WORD, IS THE ONLY SAFE GUIDE IN RELIGIOUS MATTERS. TO LEARN WHAT IS CONTAINED THEREIN AND TO FOLLOW IT IS TO BE GUIDED SAFELY AND THUS ONE WILL BE ASSURED OF HAVING A GOOD CONSCIENCE.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Bait casters, fly fishermen, and spinning reel enthusiasts often look down their aristocratic noses at the trolling fisherman.

Bt he who never trolls is missing one of the most thrilling forms of catching game fish. Furthermore, such fishermen varied catch, all in the same day, and with identical lures.

A trolling man's outfit is simple and relatively inexpensive. Of course a boat and motor are necessary. But most anglers have them, as well as a casting rod and reel. All his other needs can be bought with a ten-dollar bill.

These additional accessories include a few trolling lures, a line, several gut leaders, pork rind, and sinkers. The line should be strong. Non-twist cotton, silk, or nylon lines are particularly good as they resist snarling from the twirling motion that trolling gives to lures. Your sporting goods dealer can tell you just what kind and weight-test of line to use in your particular case.

Lures can be spoons, wigglers or bucktailed hardware of any sort that attracts attention. Be sure that your line and leader are strong, for you are bound to hang up now and then on logs or brush, especially when your lure runs deep.

Should you own no rod and reel, buy a cheap set. This is an exception to the general rule. Any casting outfit can be used in trolling. A stiff rod is, in this case, preferred.

As for the most effective trolling bait — there is none. Lures depend on the particular time and location.

Try each of the ones mentioned above. If none of them work, then hook on an extra bucktail, or bacon rind. Even red flannel is often effective when attached to a Dixie Spoon.

Spoons are the all-around trolling favorite. Secret of their success seems to be their twinkling brightness as they slide through the water.

Small plugs are sometimes used, both surface and deep after whites, stick to some running. Blacks are more likely to take these. If you are sort of rigged-up spoon.

Most trollers carry a good supply of all the lures mentioned, to be ready for any eventuality. And, oh, yes! Be sure you have a long, strong stringer on hand. You will probably need it.

Usually, when black bass strike at trolling lures it's when the bait passes weed beds, logs, etc. Whites are different. They run in schools, whereas blacks are found singly, or in small groups.

Trolling, whether for whites or blacks, takes a degree of know-how and skill. Don't just get in your boat, fling your line in the water and zip up and down the lake, with your lure bouncing around on the surface far behind like a skipping pebble.

Instead, first determine which of the two fishes you aim to catch, then study the shore line. Snap on the best bait for the fish you have chosen, and work the weed beds, now and then dragging your bait near land promontories and coves.

Cut the motor down to one or two miles an hour and play your line out. Let it drop a good distance back, then bring it to within ten or fifteen feet of the boat.

Motor noise doesn't seem to frighten bass. Often they follow the whirling propeller. In fact, large blacks have been known to attack an outboard's spinning blades, apparently in anger.

Most trollers report their biggest catches when their lures are as close as fifteen feet behind the boat.

If you have poor successs near the surface, try letting your spoon, or plug, sink deeper. Admittedly this increases the danger of your lure snagging on submerged objects. But it also brings surprising results, not only in the size and number of fish caught, but in the variety.

Channel catfish of two or three pounds have been hooked with spoons and small, deep running lures. Big channel cat put up a terrifically exciting battle, and will give you plenty to talk about later.

Once you catch a channel cat, make a half-dozen passes over the same area. Usually cats run in schools of from several to a dozen or more, and you may catch others near the same spot.

White bass also run in schools, but white bass are taken in a different manner.

Usually the troller can see the white bass school working on the surface. So look for agitated water. This water agitation is caused by shad trying to escape the feeding whites.

On large lakes, often you can locate feeding schools by watching for flocks of seagulls soaring over the water and diving for shad. Actually, the gulls are feeding on shad the whites have crippled.

When you spot such a school, run your boat back and forth, dragging your spoon again and again through the school.

A PRAYER OF THANKSGIVING

As a Baptist, the son of a Baptist Preacher, the grandson of a Baptist Preacher, and the father of a Baptist Preacher, and a Lawyer of 31 years practice.

I thank God that my ancestors escaped to this land of ours from the prosecutors and penalties of the State imposed by zealous members of the State Church.

I thank God that my forefathers were wise enough, and had intestinal fortitude enough, to place in the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States the provision that no Church that succeeded to the political power of the State could pass a law in any way effecting religion or the right of a man to worship.

I thank God that the Christianity of Jesus Christ was made optional by Him, and no man need accept Him or his religion except by his own free will and accord.

I thank God that the Constitution of the United States is constructed by men of legal training; and

I thank God that we still have men today on the Supreme Court that have the legal training and the intestinal fortitude, or "guts" if you please, to decide a case regardless of the attitudes of public opinion; and

I thank God that most of the criticisms we have heard of such opinion of the Supreme Court have come from people who are not an authority on anything, and especially legal matters, and I think that if the Baptist, Protestant, and Catholics, and other minority church groups would really study and understand the recent opinion of the Supreme Court construing the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, that every minority religious group would thank God with me instead of "popping off" about something of which they know nothing; and

I would thank God if the newspaper editors and preachers of the land, who are writing on this subject, would study the doctrine of separation of Church and State as taught and preached by Baptists, some Protestants and other minority groups, and the history of prosecution and persecution brought about by the unity of Church and State, and discuss the questions of

If a State can tell you how law with some good lawyer before they endeavor to expound to the world on this subject, and before they try to raise their prestige by belittling the Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States.

to pray if and when you pray, it won't be long until they can tell you when to pray and when not to pray, as well as what to say, and even though the opinion might have been the extreme, it certainly shows that our Honorable Supreme Court of the United States is going to enforce the law of separation of Church and State.

If we will teach our children to pray before they reach school age, they won't be hurt by not being forced to pray a prayer dictated by the State during their school age.

And, I thank God that as an American Citizen, I can thank God either publicly or privately, and no manner government can deny me that right.
