Cooling Showers Break Heat Wave In Northwest Texas

Rains Reported Last Night In Plains Areas

Shower Follows On Heels Of Slight Dust Storm Here; North Plains Dampened

RAINS in this section and in the Panhandle and other portions of Texas late last night brought relief, at least temporary, from a ten-day heat wave.

First rainfall at Lubbock came about 11:30 o'clock last night after a heavy dust cloud struck about half an hour earlier. Shortly after midnight hard rains began falling here. At 12:30 o'clock this morning, Lubbock Municipal airport reported .5 inches.

Follow Dust Storm

At midnight several South Plains towns reported rainfall which followed a dust storm and was accompanied by brilliant electrical displays and thunder.

Although railroads and bus lines at midnight had not had rainfall in this section reported to them, telephone communications said Littlefield and Crosbyton received precipitation.

Littlefield reported at midnight that rain had been falling in a slow drizzle for about 30 minutes. Rain there was accompanied by lightning and thunder and came on the heels of a slight wind and dust storm.

Crosbyton Reports Fall

After about 15 or 20 minutes, rainfall had ceased at Crosbyton at midnight although nearly quarter of an inch had fallen. Clouds there drifted south and east and indications were for more precipitation, reports said.

Brownfield reported no rain nor indications for rain; Lamesa reported no rain but slightly favorable indications; Post had received no rain early today but skies were cloudy and the electrical display was brilliant; Tahoka had slight wind but no rain.

Limit Is Placed On Housing Act

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Fervent appeals by Senator Byrd (D-Va.) induced the senate today to put a $4,000 limit on each home to be built under the Wagner low-cost housing bill.

The Virginia advocate of economy warned legislators against a repetition of the expenditures of the resettlement administration. Declaring this agency had spent $16,182 for each unit at Tugwell-town," a housing project at Greenbelt, Md., Byrd said:

"It is a willful waste of money such as has never occurred before in any civilized country of the world."

Then, the chamber adopted the Byrd amendment, which would withhold federal loans or subsidies from projects costing more than $4,000 a family unit, or $1,000 a room.

Later the senate plunged into new controversy over a proposal by Senator George (D-Ga.) to limit the life of the housing authority to three years.

"Unless you put this limitation on the act," George asserted, "you will have state socialism now and forever."

But the amendment was defeated.

Contends $4,000 Enough

Byrd contended $4,000 was enough to spend on a home "for a man who wants to get out of a slum."

He declared the bill would start

Japanese Drive Deeper Into China; Clash Is Impending

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 5. (Thursday)—Hurried evacuation of Japanese noncombatants from a vast area of China caused fear today that Japan's week-old undeclared war in North China might spread deeper than had been expected.

Japanese reports disclosed that withdrawals of Japanese nationals were being effected with increasing rapidity and were drawing Japanese residents even from China's interior.

More than 3,000 Japanese concentrated at tehe port of Tsingtao to await developments or sail for home.

Even from south central China, reports arrived that many Japanese

AMERICAN PHOTOGRAPHERS BEATEN

PEIPING, Aug. 5, (Thursday) (AP)—American photographers were beaten over the head and pushed about by Japanese troops today to prevent them from taking pictures of troop movements in this conquered city.

Japanese news photographers and news reel cameramen were permitted to take pictures without any objections being raised.

were en route here and to other coastal cities from Hunan and Kweichow provinces.

At the same time, authorities in Nanking were said to fear for the safety of 8,000 Chinese nationals in Japan and to have considered evacuating them.

Shifts To South

The theater of war shifted definitely to the south, apparently toward an impending clash between both nations' main forces.

Two Japanese columns, one in eastern Hopeh province and the other in western Hopeh, penetrated steadily southward to strike at the central Chinese government's first-line defenses. Japanese commanders reported virtually no opposition.

The eastern column was said to be about 20 miles from the Chinese vanguard near the Hopeh-Shantung province border. The parallel western column, at a point about 20 miles southwest of Tientsin, was believed to be about the same distance from an arm of the Chinese forces along the Pukow-Tientsin railroad line.

Japanese Get Reinforcements

Inpouring reinforcements, authoritative reports indicated, multiplied Japan's war material and raised to about 25,000 the number of her well-equipped, fully-armed effectives.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, commander of the Nanking forces, was believed to have massed about 50,000 troops in southwestern Hopeh and a somewhat smaller force in the

More Funds Are Given To Tech

Texas Technological college was well taken care of in two appropriations from Austin Wednesday as the state board of education more than doubled federal allotments for vocational agriculture and home economics teacher training work, according to word received here last night.

President Bradford Knapp said he had been informed by Tom Garrard, member of the board from Tahoka, that the college had been granted $4,400 for vocational agriculture work and $6,500 for home economics.

Came From New Law

The additional funds came from the new George Dean law recently placed into effect. Tech received $2,000 for vocational agriculture under the Smith-Hughes act and $2,400 under the Dean law. In home economics, $1,800 was granted under the Smith-Hughes act and $4,700 under the Dean act.

Tech only received $2,000 for vocational agriculture and $1,800 for home economics last year.

"I feel that the college owes Tom Garrard a pat on the back for his work in securing these funds for Tech," Dr. Knapp said last night.

The funds will be spent on increases in salaries and additional instructors in teacher training work, it was indicated.

Lubbock May Become Haven For Victims Of Hay Fever; Drug Believed In Fir Tree

By MARIE GEORGE

RELIEF for hay fever victims of Lubbock and its vicinity soon may be found practically in their back yards.

The United States department of agriculture has asked Dr. E. L. Reed, professor of botany at Texas Technological college, for specimens of a native fir tree which he discovered six years ago on the South Plains. The tree is thought to contain the drug ephedrin, which is used in treatment of hay fever, pupils of the eyes and as a heart stimulant.

Named After Dr. Reed

The scientific name of the tree, which was named after Dr. Reed, is Ephedra texana Reed. No American Ephedra yet produces the drug ephedrin. The Chinese Ephedras stand alone in production of the drug.

The Ephedra texana Reed does not grow outside Texas. It is peculiar from Lubbock to Spur, south to the Edward plateau region. A small green tree, almost a shrub, it has no leaves, only scalelike resemblances. The branches are joined, much like the plant scouringrush. It is a short tree because it is a browsing plant for horses and cattle.

Largest Fir On South Plains

It is the largest growing fir on the South Plains.

Lately, Dr. Reed found the largest specimen of the species ever catalogued, 6 feet tall and 4 inches in diameter, at Buffalo Springs. It had been allowed to grow to such size because of its location on a rock cliff overhanging the canyon wall where stock could not reach it.

The cliff is an escarpment of Buffalo Springs, and part of the Yellowhouse canyon.

Dr. Rreed is in charge of classifying all plant life existing on the South Plains. He discovered the Ephedra texana Reed when he "tried to identify it and it wouldn't identify."

Description In 1935 Bulletin

A description of the new species was published in the bulletin of the Torrey Botannical club, New York City, in January, 1935.

In the same article also was de-

Beer Price Set At $65 Per Can

BALLINGER, Aug. 4. (AP) — Beer in Runnels county is worth $65 per can—that is, it is worth that much to the county.

H. O. (Boss) Green, Winters, was fined a total of $325 in county court here today on a charge of possessing five cans of the illegal beverage for the purpose of sale. The verdict will be appealed, Green's attorney said.

During the past 30 days County Judge Paul Trimmer has heard ten beer cases and has assessed fines aggregating $2,325 against the defendants.

Montgomery Is New Highway Engineer

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—Julian Montgomery of Fort Worth, former director of the Public Works administration in Texas, today accepted appointment as chief highway engineer in succession to Gib Gilchrist who has resigned effective Oct. 1.

Members of the highway commission were unanimous in their choice of Montgomery, who was not an applicant for the position but whose wide engineering experience, including previous service in the department, led to his selection.

Gilchrist Takes A. & M. Post

Gilchrist, who will become engineering dean at Texas A. & M. college, has held the job for 11 years.

In Raymondville, where he was engineer for a Rio Grande valley irrigation project, Montgomery said he would not "disrupt the highway organization in any way." He will become the chief executive officer of perhaps the largest state department which spends approximately $40,000,000 annually on road construction and maintenance and employs 700 salaried persons.

"It will be my earnest endeavor to treat the public courteously and

W. C. Stobough Dies After Heart Attack

LORENZO, Aug. 4. (Special) — W. C. Stobough, 60, long-time resident of Lorenzo, died at his home here at 6:30 o'clock this afternoon of a heart attack.

Prominent resident of this section, he had been in the grocery business here 14 years.

Late tonight funeral arrangements had not been completed, but burial probably will be here or in Coleman county, it was reported. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

He was survived by his wife, two sons, Bud and Gene Stobough, both of Lorenzo, and three daughters, Miss Mary Lou Stobough and Mrs. Cecil McFarland, both of Lorenzo, and Mrs. S. G. Drake of Brownwood.

Stobough was associated with his two sons in the Piggly Wiggly store here.

Ambassador Says European Nations Rushing Into War

(By The Associated Press)

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 4.—William Dodd, American ambassador to Germany, said today that despite the tragic experience of the World war, the nations of the world, and especially those of Europe, are rushing madly into debt as they arm for another World war, that will probably destroy civilization.

A basic objective of some powers is to frighten, even destroy Democracies everywhere, he said.

Ambassador Dodd expressed these views in a prepared statement given out upon his arrival here for a three month's vacation.

"No man," the statement said, "can say when we shall have another World war; yet no man can know the facts as to the sad Spanish situation or the menacing behavior of Japan in the Far East and rest easily. . . .

"All peoples hate war; yet all governments are spending twice as much of their people's money for armaments as before 1914. Think of the dangerous debts of all the greater countries, 1928-1930 and yet they are being doubled and quadrupled for another war—a war which would probably destroy modern civilization."

Controversy Is Said Settled

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The National Mediation board announced tonight settlement of a controversy resulting from a wage increase demand by 14 non-operating brotherhoods of railroad workers.

Otto S. Beyer of the board said the settlement provided for a wage increase of five cents per hour effective August 1st. The crafts had demanded an increase of 20 cents per hour in their basic rates of pay. Beyer said that the settlement provided an average of eight and one-half to eight and three-quarters per cent increase per hour.

VOTE TO AUTHORIZE STRIKE

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4. (AP)—David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, announced today that 96 per cent of 350,000 railroad workers, members of five operating brotherhoods, voted to authorize a strike on the nation's railroads if their demands for a 20 per cent wage increase were not met.

The settlement covers between 750,000 to 800,000 rail employes in the non-operating crafts. On a basis of 1936 operations, the board said, the increase would amount to approximately $98,000,000 annually for the class one railways of the country. The agreement is subject to ratification by the general chairman of the brotherhood involved, but Beyer said this was simply a formality. Proceedings in the controversy were instituted on July 16.

House Members Keep Senate's '40-40' Clause

Committee Changes Its Mind About Giving Broader Powers To Board; Bill Is Reported

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — The house labor committee, changing its mind about giving broader power to a proposed wage-hour board, decided today to stick to the senate's "40-40" clause.

This clause stipulates that the board shall not set minimum wages higher than 40 cents an hour or a maximum work week shorter than 40 hours.

Had Approved Higher Scale

Only a few days ago, the house committee tentatively had approved an amendment by Rep. Wood (D-Mo), long-time labor leader, to stretch the limits to 70 cents and 35 hours.

After reversing this action today, the house committee reported the measure to the full chamber in somewhat the form it passed the senate. Amendments, wanted by the American Federation of Labor, prohibit the board from lowering wage rates fixed by a collective bargaining agreement, forbid establishment of wages lower than the rates prevailing in a locality and permit the fixing of minimum wages and maximum hours only where collective bargaining does not cover a "substantial number" of employes in an industry or is "inadequate or ineffective."

Other Amendments Approved

Another amendment approved eliminated a section giving the board supervision of the wage-hour provisions of the Walsh-Healey government contracts act.

Other amendments approved would:

Close the channels of interstate commerce to foreign products produced under working conditions which do not meet the standards fixed for domestic industries.

Apply the labor standards to retailers.

Provide for appointment of administrators in each state.

Nowotny Not To Take Position

Arno Nowotny, assistant dean of men at the University of Texas, yesterday announced he would decline the appointment as dean of men at Texas Technological college, a position to which he was elected at a recent board of directors of Tech at Fort Worth, according to an Associated Press dispatch last night.

President Bradford Knapp of Texas Tech said school officials here had been informed that he would decline the appointment and that another man was being considered for the place vacated by Dean James M. Gordon who will devote his entire time to deanship of arts and sciences of the college. Dean Gordon formerly was both dean of arts and sciences and dean of men.

President Knapp said he did not know when announcement would be made regarding the new dean of men.

Nowotny said he would retain his present position at Texas university because of "certain advancement and inducements" offered him.

Plane Is Said To Have Struck Water With Terrific Force

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Aug. 4. (AP)—The navy said tonight that the Pan-American-Grace airliner which crashed with 14 persons in the sea off Panama struck the water with terrific force, tearing the ship into scattered fragments.

The violent impact strewed pieces over a wide area, only the plane's steel frame staying intact, and probably pinning bodies of passengers and crew members inside the shattered fuselage, the navy said.

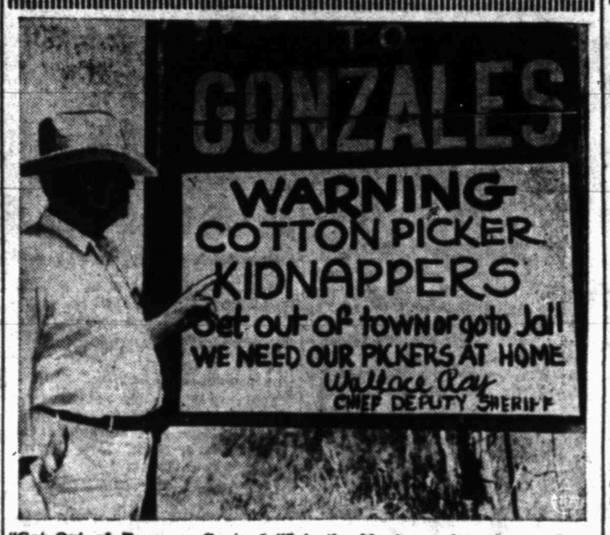

Relinquishing search for the bodies, a navy spokesman said it probably would recall two submarines and two destroyers from the scene of the disaster tomorrow. No more planes will be sent out.

Electra Superintendent Named Textbook Division Director

AUSTIN, Aug. 4. (AP)—D. M. Densmore, superintendent of Electra schools, today became director of the textbook division of the state department of education.

He succeeded J. C. Mathews of Denton, who resigned recently to join the faculty of North Texas State Teachers college.

Farmers Warn Picker 'Kidnapers' Away

"Get Out of Town or Go to Jail" is the blunt warning, shown above, which cotton plantation owners have posted at Gonzales, giving notice that they will not brook any attempt to lure away their pickers with higher wages or otherwise. An abundant cotton crop and a shortage of workers caused the drastic action. Other signs warn loafers that they must work or face jail terms.

FDR Decries Use Of Gases And Chemicals In Warfare; Vetoes "Chemical Corps"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. — President Roosevelt declared today that use of gases and chemicals in warfare is inhuman and said he is doing all he can to discourage the practice.

With that assertion, he refused to approve a bill to change the name of the chemical warfare service to "chemical corps." He told the senate in a veto message that in his judgment it is "contrary to sound public policy" to "dignify" the service by calling it a corps.

(A corps is a large and permanent branch of the army.)

Hopes Far Abolishment

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the hope that "the time will come when the chemical warfare service can be entirely abolished."

The chemical warfare service was created by congress shortly after the close of the World war. It is a research division of the war department which attempts to keep the United States abreast of other nations in the use of war chemicals.

Mr. Roosevelt added that "while, unfortunately, the defensive necessities of the United States call for study of the use of chemicals in warfare, I do not want the government of the United States to do anything to aggrandize or make permanent any special bureau of the army or the navy engaged in these studies."

Paralysis Believed To Be Controlled

SCRANTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Infantile paralysis, which has claimed four lives in this little Callanhan-Eastland county line community, was believed under control today, with three patients apparently recovering and no new cases reported.

Health officers of Callahan and Eastland counties and Commissioner King of the Putnam precinct met here today and after discussing the situation agreed to employ a nurse. Her duty will be to see that the three families under quarantine are supplied with food and their mail and to direct nursing.

Under quarantine are the Robert Cozarts, who have three children still ill and who have lost a son and a daughter; the Ben Cozarts, whose 19-year-old son died Sunday morning; and the family of Mrs. Pete Thompson, whose four-year-old daughter died Sunday.

Eastland county has three cases, all past the contagious stage. There is one at Alemeda, on the eastern edge of the county; another near Gorman, and the third between Eastland and Carbon.

Abductors Claim Boy's Parentage

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Swift solution of the "kidnaping" of 30-month-old Donald Horst precipitated a struggle for his custody today.

On one side were John Regan and Lydia Nelson, who admitted snatching the wide-eyed youngster from the arms of Mrs. Otto Horst last night, but contended he was their child, born out of wedlock.

Mrs. Horst Not Real Mother

On the other was Mrs. Horst, who told Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert Crowley she was not the real mother of the lad but gained possession of him shortly after his birth.

The dramatic denouement came after officials brought the two women face to face in the prosecutor's office.

"I am going to ask the Regans to let us keep Donald," Mrs. Horst sobbed. "We love the boy as much as any parents could."

But the unwed Regans insisted that they be allowed to keep the baby.

Donald Bewildered

Donald stood bewildered.

Crowley ushered Horst, part owner of a sound equipment company, Mrs. Horst and the Regans into his office.

Young Donald, he told them, would be placed in an orphanage pending a decision on his custody in the civil courts.

Both women wept and fondeled the youngster before he was led away.

Regan and Horst promised to hire

Bob Alexander Is Out In Front Early For House Speakership

AUSTIN, Aug. 4. (AP)—Rep. Bob Alexander of Childress today observed his race for the speakership of the next house of representatives was coming along nicely.

Others either openly in the race or expected to get in are Fred Maurits of Ganado, R. Emmett Morse of Houston, Alf Roark of Sisisbee, and Charles O. Tennyson of Wichita Falls.

It is reported Speaker Bob Calvert will not seek re-election, but, instead, may run for the office of attorney general.

Southern Solons To Ask FDR To Revive Loans

Georgia Delegation To Consider Asking For 12-Cent Loan On Cotton; May Block Bills

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. — A new drive for federal crop loans developed in congress today despite President Roosevelt's statement that he is opposed to them unless general crop control legislation is adopted.

A group of Southern house members decided to ask the president to revive the loans, which have been made on major crops in former years.

Senator George (D-Ga) also announced his state's congressional delegation would consider tomorrow asking the administration to lend 12 cents a pound on cotton.

The huge group, called together by Representatives Ford (D-Miss), talked of attempting to block the administration's wage and hour and housing bills unless the loans are granted.

Ford said President Roosevelt "has been known to change his mind" and added "I feel that he will this time when the facts are presented properly to him."

To Visit White House

Upon motion of Representative Dies (D-Tex), he named six Democrats to visit the White House as soon as possible and report back to a caucus of farm state congressmen. The six are Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Tarver of Georgia, Sparkman of Alabama, Derouen of Louisiana, Terry of Arkansas, and Ford.

Dies said the group's strtegy would be like this: if the administration refuses to authorize crop loans, the Southerners' representation in the house rules committee will be strong enough to block special legislative right-of-way for the wage-hour and housing bills.

"We are going to insist on general crop loans of immediate adjournment until, say, October,' Dies said.

Crop control legislation, which the president said yesterday should be enacted before any crop loans are made, has been put aside by the house and senate agriculture committees until congress reconvenes in January.

Plymouth Plant Closed Down

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Aug. 4.—Smouldering antagonism between the United Automobile workers and the Independent Association of Chrysler employes flared into violence this afternoon at the Plymouth Motor Co. plant and ten men were injured before the plant was closed.

Events preceding the shut-down included the beating of two officials of the independent association at noon, dismissal of four members of the U. A. W., a second outbreak of fighting and a riot call for police.

Closed Until 7 A. M.

The management closed the plant until 7 a. m. tomorrow. A company spokesman said a strike in a key department necessitated the shut-down. He called the incident a "serious violation" by the U. A. W. of its contract with the corporation.

A conference of union and company representatives was in progress tonight. The U. A. W. was demanding reinstatement of the four discharged men.

Fantastic Extortion Plot In Amelia Earhart Case Bared

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug.—A fantastic plot to extort money from George Palmer Putnam on a promise to return his missing flier wife, Amelia Earhart, was disclosed today by the federal buresu of investigation.

Rhea Whitley, special agent in charge of the New York office, announced the arrest of Wilbur Rothar, 42, a seaman, who allegedly received $1,000 from Putnam as half-payment on his promise to deliver Miss Earhart to a New York hospital from a mystery boat off New York. Rother said she had been under medical care since the vessel picked her up on a South Pacific island.

Whitley said Rothar made a complete confession of the plot. He conceived it he said, because he had in his possession a scarf of Miss Earhart's which he had picked up at Roosevelt field several years ago. He admitted, Whitley said, he had never seen Miss Earhart.

Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, vanished last month in the South Seas while on a round-the-world flight.

Diversified Groups Have Planned Interesting Entertainments For Today

The Woman's Angle

IT WAS a dark and stormy night when the weary husband returned home.

"I've been to every shop in town and they can't match that bit of ribbon for you anywhere, dear," he said to his wife.

"Splendid," she cried. "I just wanted to make sure that it really was unique."

WHAT A PITY!

At seven years of age, the Rev. Charles Jaynes, jr., is probably one of the youngest ordained ministers in the world. Star-gazers who have nothing to do pack his revival meetings. Too bad Barnum's not alive. That sort of thing would be so much more adaptable to a side-show than a church.

Babies should be seen in sandpiles, not heard in pulpits.

WELCOME TO NEWCOMERS

THE Merchants Greeting service, an organization to make new comers feel at home and happiness in moving to Lubbock, is one of the nicest things we have heard of this summer. And the city hostess, Mrs. D. C. Ridge, is a personable young woman who knows the correct answers to the many perplexing questions that arise when one moves to a new place.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock at 1906 Thirteenth street there is to be an informal tea sponsored by the service with Mrs. Ridge and Mesdames Ray F. Hinchey, P. H. Laverty, John B. Rountree, Glenn Ridge, Cecil R. Matthews and Fred Litton serving as hostesses. Every woman who has established residence here during the year is invited to attend. We cannot think of a more representative group of women to make strangers feel at ease than those selected.

WHEN Mrs. Ridge calls on a new resident, she presents her with a folder containing letters from several merchants of the city, letters of greetings and invitations for them to drop in to look around over the stores and make purchases at their will. Of course there are those who say that the thing is commercialized, but what pray tell us, isn't in this fair day? And, as someone pointed out, a form letter of "we're glad you've moved here" makes you feel better than being ignored.

We think of a young Lubbock couple who moved to a West Texas town not far from here after living here all of their lives. They have been there two months and while the husband has made a few business accuaintances, the wife has not met a single soul. She has spent the hot weeks sitting at home, sometimes in tears because she is so lonely. They went to church and presented their letter and even then weren't welcomed.

Contrast that situation with the one adopted here and you'll see what we're talking about. And the new women we have heard mention the service are pleased.

USING CRAB APPLES

ONE USE of crabapples was telephoned by Mrs. Web Cammack, 1902 Eighteenth street. She says they are excellent when picked, the recipe being much the same as for peaches, plums and other fruits. If you use the spiced plum recipe we gave last week add a pint of water in addition to the pint of vinegar. Crabapples also make delicious preserves, she said.

DEAR MISS TURNER: When I first read your request for uses of crabapples, I said I would send you some recipes, but as I recently spent a vacation (?) or 2 weeks in one of your hospitals I did not feel quite equal to it at that time. My experience with crabapples dates back twenty years to our old South Dakota home. We had several varieties, of which I recall the name of only one, "trancendent." It was a large yellow crabapple and washed and quartered (with the peeling left) made excellent preserves and jams.

We also had a later variety (ripening there in September) that made excellent sweet spiced pickles. I steamed those for pickles as they cooked to pieces otherwise. The amount of sugar, vinegar, etc., is the same as for other tart fruits.

I am in hopes this will help some. I enjoy "The Woman's Angle" each day and although of an "older" generation find we "like and dislike" many of the same things.

Your friend, Mrs. A. G. Shaw, Post, Texas.

Thank you for your letter Mrs. Shaw, which came in the late mail after we talked to Mrs. Cammack. We are sorry that you spent your vacation in the hospital and hope you are back on your feet before long. Won't you please write again sometime?

PROMISING YOUNG SINGER

IF YOU want to see a young singer who is in all probability bound for grand opera success go to the First Methodist church tonight at 8:30 o'clock and avail yourself of the opportunity of hearing young Mary Jane Nicholson. There is no admission.

Miss Nicholson studied last year at the Juilliard school on a scholarship and received favorable praise from critics and her teachers. She will compete for a scholarship the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago is offering this fall.

She has the bearing of a young opera singer. Too, she is charming and very sensible. For instance, while chorus and radio work appeal to her and she has had offers to enter both fields, she wants to study for several more years before deciding on anything definite.

Her parents, former Slaton residents, live in Topeka, Kas. Her father is superintendent of the mechanical department of the western division of the Santa Fe.

Variety Marks Local Events

Today's events are varied and interesting.

Diversified groups, ranging from the high school-college set bent on merrymaking to a recital of what is considered a potential grand opera star, are entertaining.

The Sub-Debs this morning will do as they please in the world of sports by way of continuing their annual visitors' week celebration. Tonight they will have a watermelon supper in the home of Miss Brunette Beard, 2602 Twenty-first street.

The potential grand opera star is Miss Mary Jane Nicholson, soprano of Topeka, Kan., who will appear in the following program at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the First Methodist church.

Program Announced

"Tell Me Oh, Blue, Blue Sky" (Giannini); "O, Lovely Night" (Ronald); "Selve Voi che le Speranze" (Rosa); "Vergin Tutta Amor" (Durante; "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte); Aria, "Suicidio" from la Gioconda (Celebri); "Joy" (Watts); "Hills" (La Forge); "The Star" (Rogers); "Cradle Song" (Brahms); "At Parting" (Rogers.)

Mrs. Lillian Butler of Slaton will play accompaniment.

Miss Nicholson spent the last year in New York City studying at the Juilliard School of Music. She has had opportunities for chorus work but is anxious to continue her studying. Opera is her aim. She received favorable criticism from her teachers in New York. This fall she plans to go to Chicago to compete for a scholarship offered by the American Conservatory of Music.

The South Plains Music Teachers association is sponsoring the appearance of the young singer. There will be no admission.

Air Mail Route Between Kansas City And Tampa, Fla., Urged

Washington, Aug. 4. (AP)—Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee and post office department officials had joined today in expressing hope that a proposed new air mail line between Kansas City and Tampa could be established within the next few months.

The line would connect Kansas City, Springfield, Mo., Memphis, Birmingham, and Montgomery, Ala., Tallahasse and Tampa, Fla.

Harlee Branch, second assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail, said the proposed line "has a good deal of merit."

Among routes on the department tentative program, branch said, are Brownsville, Texas, to Houston and Houston to San Antonio.

One person in every 40 of London's population is either Scottish or Irish.

DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

Hot Weather is Here—Beware of Biliousness!

Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headache, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.

These are some of the more common symptoms or warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts, combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. Sears, Roebuck and Co.

1115 Broadway — Lubbock, Texas

—The News Of The Day Through The Camera's Eye—

MEN OF MARS.
World war zeppelin raids dispelled England's age-old island security. Now she looks to her air fleet. These two air force fighters are togged out in absolutely air-tight suits, which can be worn only 40 minutes, used for anti-gas decontamination.

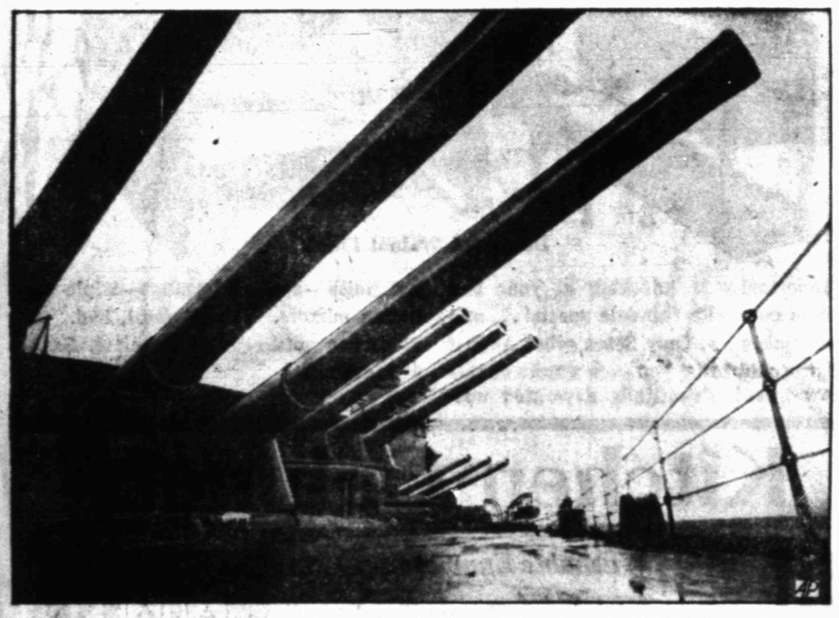

RAID SHELTER.
It's serious business, this civilian training in England for imaginary air raids. For instance, in the "black out" of the Portsmouth area, animals and humans were directed to shelters. In the rush, this little shelter drew an odd assortment of refugees.

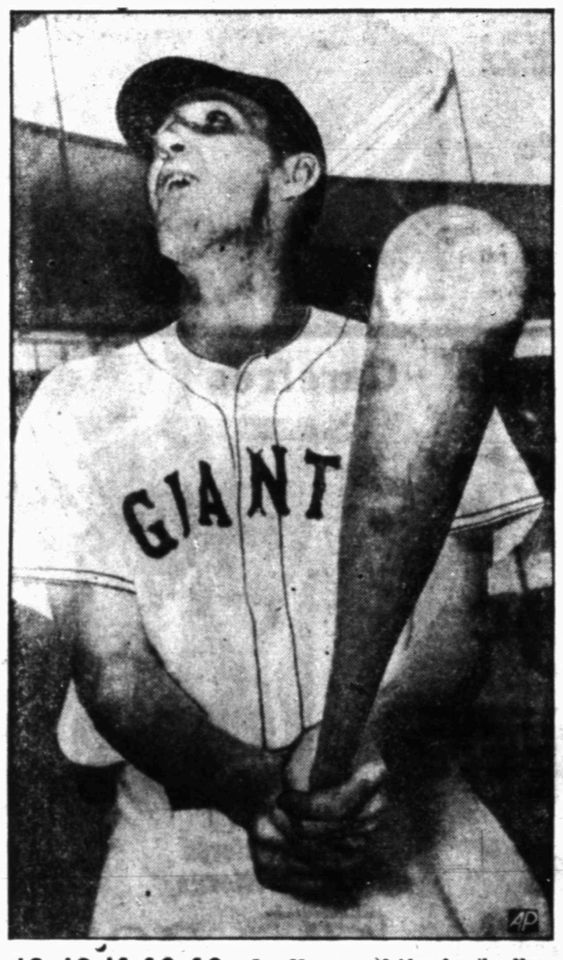

"WAR" IN SOUTHERN ENGLAND.
Just across the English channel from Europe, coast dwellers of Britain at Portsmouth enacted realistic wartime scenes, joining in with the army, navy and air force in the coastal defense exercises. Here are city engineers doing rescue work after a "bombing" attack. An "injured" man is being borne on a stretcher down a ladder.

CLEAN UP.
This flier in an anti-gas suit is cleaning up his gas-contaminated plane following the aerial "war raid" on southern England.

FIRES ON ENGLAND. Britain used part of her military forces to "attack" the south coast at Portsmouth during war maneuvers. This photograph shows all nine of His Majesty's Ship Rodney's fifteen-inch guns trained on the city of Portsmouth during the mock raid. The ship belonged to the "Blueland" force of ships and planes which sought to break the defense of the "Redland."

JO-JO IS SO-SO. Joe Moore, outfielder for the New York Giants, is shown here with the bat with which he made three hits in four trips to the plate in a game against the Chicago Cubs, contributing to the final score of 5 to 0 for the Giants. Moore's from Texas.

GOING SOUTH.
Lincoln Ellsworth, New York polar explorer, is back from Spitzbergen with plans for an Antaretic flight from South Africa.

THANKS, POP! "Nothing like a good big black cigar after a meal," Brandon Hanson, 21-months-old Memphis youngster, seems to say. His father, Nick Hanson, with whom he is shown, says the boy has been smoking cigars since he was just one year old.

FOR SUNNY SMILES. This summer hat by Patou has a crown and border of plain black organdie, but the brim—which is designed as a sun-filter—is of the same material, eyelet embroidered, to encourage sun-tanned cheeks by letting the sunshine in.

DREAMS TRUE.
Mrs. Alben W. Barkley, wife of the newly elected senate leader, at last is mistress of "The Angles," long-desired mansion near Paducah, Kentucky.

SENATOR BOB.
Sen. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., Wisconsin Progressive, was among the considered "possibilities" for appointment to the supreme court vacancy.

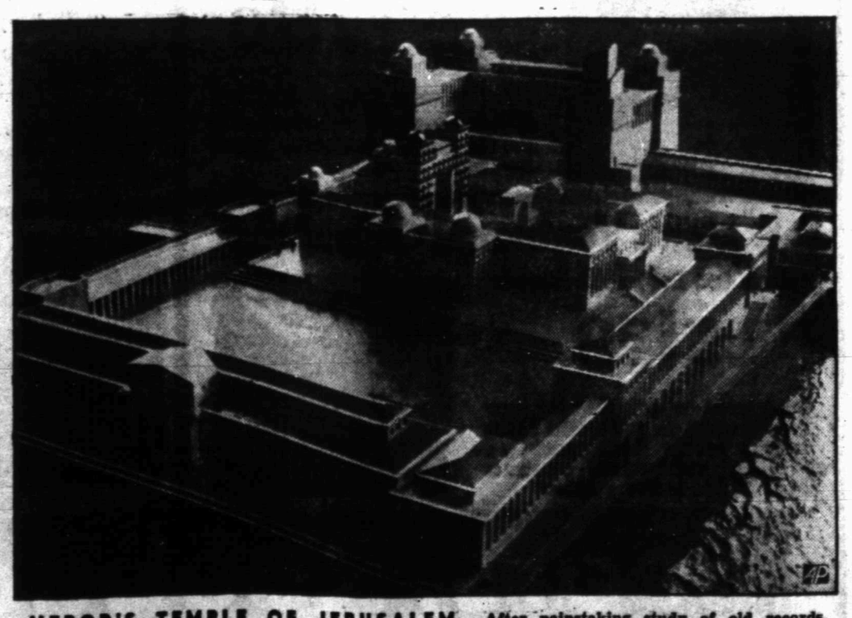

WILL IN BRONZE. Will Rogers, America's famed humorist, would probably have poked fun at the idea of himself in bronze, but here is Jo Davidson, the distinguished American sculptor, finishing a model of Rogers for a shrine in Colorado Springs.

STALIN'S MUSCLE MEN. In celebration of the 20th anniversary of the U.S.S.R., and the adoption of the Stalin constitution, more than 40,000 athletes from the eleven republics of Russia marched in a gigantic formation in the Red Square in Moscow. The sturdy marchers shown here are a part of the contingent from the Usbek republic, in the southwest corner of Asia.

STAR'S BOARDER. Little Joan Le Sueur, 3-year-old niece of Joan Crawford, with whom she is shown here, is lucky. She will spend the summer "at least" with the movie actress and her husband, Franchot Tone, and thus get an inside view of Hollywood.

HEROD'S TEMPLE OF JERUSALEM. After painstaking study of old records, Viennese architects have ascertained various specifications of the ancient Temple, constructed by King Herod shortly before the birth of Christ. A model, shown above, has been made by Felix Alecki, of Vienna, based upon the available records, and is now on display in the Holy Land museum, in Vienna.

Thompson Says Texas Not To Get Out Of Bounds On Production Of Crude Oil

Close Watch Is Kept By Body

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 4. — Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate oil compact commission and also a member of the Texas railroad commission, oil regulatory body in this state, assured the industry today that Texas had no intention of getting out of bounds on the matter of crude production.

While oil circles still buzzed with talk of the railroad commission's action two weeks ago in granting a big increase in production for August, Thompson said that body was in close touch with the situation, that demand had justified the boost and that September would see a reduction.

To Cut Allowables

"The Texas commission will undoubtedly cut the Texas allowables for September so as to not build up too much oil in storage above ground when consumption begins to drop off," he said.

Thompson noted that the next regular proration hearing at which Texas oil allowables would be set for September had been called for August 19, but said the commission could legally issue supplemental orders cutting down production "even prior to that date if oil appears to be increasing in storage at too great a rate."

He also observed that stocks of oil above ground, after deducting amounts to fill pipelines, tankers en route, gathering lines and necessary operating stocks at refineries, amounted to only about 200,000,000 barrels and asserted these were held by a "very few major oil companies."

The hearing on August 19 will develop who holds this crude oil, he said, because the commission has sent out a questionnaire to show how many days supply the refiners have on hand and what supplay they deem a safe operating basis, all things considered.

"The point is," he said, "the Texas commission is not guessing. Their action was taken and will in the future be based on demonstrable facts which the industry can furnish to it for the industry's own protection and the protection of the consuming public."

He voiced great optimism over conditions in the industry generally and predicted demand for fuel oil in the winter months would go a long way toward making up for the decrease in consumption from other sources.

Tech Professor Is Back From Course

Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the department of government at Texas Technological college, has returned to Lubbock from Ann Arbor, Mich., where he attended the sixth annual summer session on international law.

Dr. Jackson was one of fifty delegates selected to attend the session sponsored by the international law division of the Carnegie foundation and the University of Michigan. Two delegates were from Europe, a German and a Belgian.

Stimulate Interest

"Purpose of the session, which consisted of a five-weeks series of lectures and conferences, was to stimulate interest in international law, as such. Stress was placed on application of law to settlement of disputes on a legal basis rather than on a political one", said Dr. Jackson.

Lecturers on the program included James Brown Scott, director of the division of international law, of the Carnegie endowment for international peace; Jesse S. Reeves, professor of political science, University of Michigan; George G. Wilson, professor of international law, Harvard university; Percy E. Corbett, professor of Roman law, McGill university, Canada; and G. A. Finch, managing editor of the American Journal of International Law.

Dr. Jackson was accompanied by Mrs. Jackson and their son, Billy, who vacationed in Michigan.

Work Of Filling Jury Wheel Is Completed Here On Wednesday

Work of filling the jury wheel from which names of jurors will be drawn for county and district courts during the next year was completed Wednesday forenoon, more than half a day ahead of expectations.

Slips of paper bearing the names of more than 8,000 Lubbock citizens, the largest number in the history of the county were put into the wheel, according to Hurley Carpenter, county tax assessor-collector from whose records the names were secured. Other officials designated by law to assist in the work were County Clerk Ed D. Allen, Sheriff Tom Abel and District Clerk Floyd Jackson.

OKLAHOMA OFFICIAL DIES

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 24. (AP)—H. L. McCracken, state tax commission and one of Oklahoma's most powerful politcal figures, died in a hospital here today.

New Evidence In Dispute Given

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, Aug. 4.—B. S. Priml proferred evidence today that the ancient Aztecs of Mexico did indeed slaughter beautiful maidens on their sacrificial altars.

He brought up the subject because Mexican Consul Adolfo Domingues of Dallas protested vehemently last week that warriors alone were sacrificed. The protest was by way of forcing Pan-American exposition officials to withdraw a scene in one of their shows depicting a fetchingly-garbed maiden enduring the sacrificial knife.

Priml, who said he has studied Mexican life and history for 30 years, dug up an old chronicle by Fray Bernardini de Sahagun, a Franciscan monk, from the book were quoted passes relating that the Aztecs not only offered up young girls but took the lives of women and children in their worship.

Priml's argument came a bit late, however, because the exposition already agreed Domingues must be right and removed the maiden.

Mexican Consul Sticks To His Claims In Situation

DALLAS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Confronted with a new claim that the ancient Aztecs sacrificed beautiful maidens on their altars of worship, Mexican Consul A. G. Domingues, who last week succeeded in having a warrior substituted for a girl in a sacrificial scene of the Pan-American exposition's Cavalcade, remained firm today in his convictions that such was not the case.

The latest claim was made by B. S. Priml of Galveston, who studied Mexican life and history for 30 years, and who cited a Franciscan monk, Fray Bermardini de Sahagun, as reporting the sacrifice of a maiden in Aztec worship.

This monk was one of the earlier and less accurate writers on Aztec history, Domingues declared, and offered to quote a half dozen authorities which hold the opposite view for each one which upheld the maiden sacrifice.

Claude B. Teer Named Head Of Teachers Retirement Board

AUSTIN, Aug. 4. (AP)—Claude B. Teer, chairman of the board of control, today was elected chairman of the new teachers retirement board, which held an organization meeting here.

Figures compiled by state officials reveal it costs North Carolina $450,963 to feed her prisoners.

Amazed Tramp Receives Dime He Didn't Ask For; Driver Of Taxi Is Generous Soul

An amazed tramp received a dime he hadn't asked for in a street drama.

A bearded old man in tattered clothes was walking along Broadway, apparently deep in thought. A half block beyond a taxicab station, he was accosted by a running taxi driver.

"Want a dime?" said the driver.

The surprised tramp took the dime and turned into a cafe.

International Longshoremen To Seek Six-Hour Work Day

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Delegates attending an executive conference of the International Longshoremen's association from Gulf and Atlantic ports said today that the ILA would seek a six-hour work day instead of the eight-hour day at expiration of the present contracts Sept. 30.

The proposal was made by Joseph Ryan, of New York, president of the ILA, delegates said. The conference was called here to discuss wage scales and working conditions.

APPOINTMENT APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee approved today the nomination of Federick A. Sterling, Texas, to be minister to Estonia and Latvia.

Registration To Start Aug. 23

Supt. W. B. Irvin has announced that registration of students in Senior and Junior High schools will begin late this month. Irvin has returned from Perryton where he completed transfer of duties to his successor there.

Registration will be conducted from Aug. 23 through Sept. 3 at Senior High school, from Aug. 26 through Sept. 3 at Junior High. Hours will be from 9 to 12 in the mornings, from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoons.

Each principal will make his own arrangements for registration assistance, said the superintendent.

Contrary to an earlier announcement, students of the high eighth grade will not attend classes in Senior High school the first semester, but will be at Junior High until they have completed work for the low ninth grade, said Supt. Irvin.

Tech Graduate Is Appointed To Position In Annapolis Hospital

Appointment of Miss Georgia Mae Smith as dietitian at St. Johns college at Annapolis, Md., has been reported of the home economics division of Texas Technological college, of which she was a graduate in August of 1936.

Miss Smith, who was an honor student at Tech, accepted a position in September after her graduation as apprentice in the International house catering department in Chicago and in March of this year was appointed as assistant to the manager of the catering department.

Dr. J. O. Ellsworth Returns To Tech

After about one and one-half years in Amarillo with the Resettlement administration, Dr. J. O. Ellsworth has returned and will start duties with opening of the fall semester at Texas Technological college as head of the economics and business administration department.

Dr. Ellsworth was in charge of farm management of the 12th district of the Resettlement administration, during a leave of absence. He received the appointment as head of the department at the June meeting of the board of directors.

GETTIN' THE BUSINESS
means giving the mileage

It's strictly up to me to make this business go, because I own it myself. I never did a smarter thing for my place than featuring Conoco Germ Processed oil, with all its long mileage for you. We both know that talk doesn't make mileage or customers, but I can tell you what does . . . Oil-Plating your engine with Germ Processed oil. The patent Germ Process makes oil actually take ahold of every working part and keep it coated with a durable Oil-Plating. This Oil-Plating is entirely extra to the regular so-called moving type of oil film. Oil-Plating backs up the oil film while the car is running, and never drains down during hours of parking. Then you'll never make one start—or a hundred—without good lubrication. And at the end of your longest run on a scorching hot day, your engine will still have its full safe plating of Conoco Germ Processed oil. The way it lasts will make you say I've got a good right to be called Your Mileage Merchant.

Vic Weber Puts Sudden Stop To Hagen's Victory March

Vic (Martin) Weber and Jack (Coy) Hagen re-lived an old "The Martins and The Coys" feud last night, and all that was missing were the muzzle loading rifles.

Triumph, temporarily at least, went to the Vic (Martins) Webers, who outshot the Hagens in a real shootin' match that lasted for the better part of two hours at Sled Allen's mountain range last night.

The Hagens got in the most shots, and for a long time seemed in the lead, but the Webers came from behind with a sudden barrage from an unexpected quarter and took the Hagens quite by surprise.

Truces were called twice, as the Webers won the first attack, then failed to repulse a Hagen salvo, then came back, their bodies full of punctures, to claim a third and final victory over the slugging Hagens.

It was a feud, in fact, as Vic Weber of the New York Bronx Webers clashed with Jack Hagen, of the Louisianan Hagens. East versus South, and the paying guests along the battle front, all from the South, cheered the East.

Because Hagen of the South has become a bit too fanciful with his fists to suit the paying guests, the latter rebuked him and strung along with the Dutchman from the East.

Weber Makes Charge

The climax and the finish came suddenly after nearly 50 minutes of rugged warring in the third fall. Referee Allen Plummer was holding Hagen by force, after Hagen had booted Weber from the ring, in an effort to let Vic regain the area of battle. Twice Hagen broke from the referee's grip and kicked Weber among the cash patrons. Weber hesitated the third time, then lunged. He hit both Referee Plummer and Wrestler Hagen, toppled them both to the floor, pushed Plummer aside, and devoted his attention to Hagen, whom he pinned with a body smother a few seconds before the 50-minute gong would have sounded.

During those 40-odd minutes, Hagen and Weber fought like feudists of old, neither giving ground, each fighting his own fight, staying on his feet and never giving up. At times it was amid loud silence they fought, the fans holding their breath, waiting for one or the other to get an opening. The opening never came, until Weber, charging from outside the ropes, made a perfect shoulder block to knock down both the referee and the opponent.

Weber had won the first fall, in about 20 minutes, with a series of Irish whips off the ropes. He had absorbed a lot of punishment, including a stomping hammer lock, twice applied, but he recovered to grasp Hagen's wrist, heave him against the ropes, then off again, to toss him mightily against the canvas and finally to smother him there.

Except for a bit of customary warfare, neither had become rough in the first fall. In the second, Hagen, who got a name for being rough when he met Buck Lipscomb and Gus Johnson recently, became the villain again. He used straight-to-the-jaw punches, a right-hand cross, to knock Weber senseless and win with a flying fall in about 20 minutes.

The stage was set for a battle, and a battle it was. They fought themselves groggy, rested awhile with legal holds, then battled again, with Weber coming out in front.

New Villain Wins

A new Big Bad Bilious Vilain was added to the local chorus last night when Frank Wolfe, introduced as being from Johannesburg, South Africa, muzzled Olie Erickson in 16 minutes.

Wolfe was not as rough and mean as advertised, but he drew his share of boos in his debut. For ten minutes, he was fairly clean, and he made Erickson, who is not so much as a wrestler, look pretty good.

Erickson, fat and out of shape, showed frequent signs of being good, but had Wolfe set out as he finished up, Erickson would have looked pitiful indeed. Wolfe, using choke holds, punches and pinches, pinned Erickson at least three times before Referee Plummer gave the high sign.

All of last night's matches were finish events. In the preliminary, Gus Johnson from Minneapolis toyed with Tex Hager for a spell then applied a beautiful Japanese crab to win in about 14 minutes. Hager did his best, and Hager is nobody's fool. But Johnson is better. He stood for a lot of torture, then grasped Hager's legs, applied a long Flying Dutchman, followed up with a perfectly executed Japanese crab, and the match was his.

Strategy Board Of TCU Plots Against 1937 Enemies

"We're sweating now in the hope that we will be able to keep a little cooler next fall," says Coach Dutch Meyer of T.C.U., as he diagrams a Horned Frog grid play and talks it over with his assistants, Mike Brumbelow (left) and Howard Grubbs. Coach Meyer is charting more than 100 plays for the 1937 campaign, which opens Sept. 25 against the Ohio State Buckeyes at Columbus.

Bids Are Mailed For Lubbock Country Club Golf Tourney

Blanket and individual invitation cards calculated to reach more than five thousand golfers are going out today from Lubbock Country club, announcing its fifth annual invitation tournament.

Charles Akey, Country club professional and general manager, is mailing invitations to every organized golf club in West Texas, several below Fort Worth, and to all known clubs in New Mexico and Oklahoma. In addition, hundreds of personal bids are to be mailed in an effort to make the forthcoming tournament the biggest and best of the 1937 season.

Starts August 26

Dates for Lubbock's biggest annual golfing event are August 26-29, inclusive. Qualifying will be conducted on Thursday, August 26. First and second rounds of match play will be held on Friday, quarter-finals and semi-finals on Saturday, 36-hole finals on Sunday, August 29.

Shorty Hornbuckle of Clovis, N. M., is the defending champion, and is practically certain to return and defend his title. Numerous other New Mexico are expected, including the Roswell hotshots and possibly several from Las Cruces.

The local club hopes to attract some of the well known Dallas and Fort Worth stars, notably Don Schumacher of Dallas, the state and Trans-Miss champ; Reynolds Smith and other popular amateur stars.

All amateur golfers are invited to participate in the event.

The course will be thrown open to all entries on Tuesday and Wednesday before the tournament opens, for practice rounds. The tournament entry fee will take care of green fees for the two-day practice rounds.

Between now and tournament time, a "home and home" series of golf team matches are threatening between picked teams of Meadowbrook and Country Club, both of Lubbock.

Meadowbrook issued a challenge to Country club which met with an answer yesterday, Professional Charles Akey replying that the Club would be ready, any time. Definite arrangements have not been made, but it is virtually safe to say that Sunday will see the youthful hotshots of Meadowbrook in a ten-man team match against the Country club. It is advised that the teams will play one match at Meadowbrook, the other at Country club.

Favorites Given Tough Work In Women's Tennis Tourney

EAST HAMPTON, L. I., Aug. 4. (AP)—All four favorites encountered stern opposition as the semi-final round brackets were filled this afternoon in the Maidstone club's annual invitation tennis tournament for women.

Carolin Babcock, of Los Angeles, seeded fourth, yielded her place in the tournament to Mme Sylvia Henrotin, of France, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4.

Both Mrs. Sarah Fabyan, of Canabridge, Mass., top-seeded among the American stars, and Jadwiga Jedrzejowski, who heads the foreign honor list, were within a single point of dropping the opening sets of their matches before they prevailed. Helen Pedersen, of Stamford, Conn., finally lost to Mrs. Fabyan, 9-7, 6-0.

Dorothy Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., daughter of the former Wimbledon champion, had set ponit in the twelfth game of their first set, but a perfect lob to the baseline by the Polish socker ruined that opportunity, and "Jaddy" finally pulled through at 8-6, 6-3.

Gracyn Wheeler, also of Santa Monica, seeded second to Mrs. Fabyan, dropped a set to Katherine Winthrop, of Boston, before she prevailed at 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

In tomorrow's semi-finals Miss Wheeler plays Miss Jedrzejowska and Mrs. Fabyan plays Mme. Henrotin.

Ranger Makes It Third Straight Over Endeavour

By ALAN GOULD

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 4. (AP) — Britain's challenger for the America's Cup, Endeavour 2nd, couldn't do more than make it closer today, even with the lead taken out of her feet, and consequently took her third straight defeat from Harold S. Vanderbilt's sensational Ranger.

Gaining virtually all of his victorious margin of a record-breaking 15-mile beat to windward over a 30-mile course, the American skipper brought his big white ship home in front once more nearly a mile in front.

Needs One Victory

Vanderbilt needs only one additional victory to clinch this country's 16th and his third consecutive yachting triumph in competition for the America's Cup. The American has now captured seven straight races from his British rival, T. O. M. Sopwith.

Ranger crossed today's finish line with a margin of four minutes, 27 seconds, in the closest, fastest and most artistically-sailed race thus far.

The defender negotiated the 30 miles in 3 hours, 54 minutes, 30 seconds. Endeavour 2nd was clocked in 5:58.57.

Vanderbilt executed his grand coup this time at the very start, where he achieved a split-second getaway that was a thing of seagoing beauty to watch. On a starboard tack, Ranger crossed the line simultaneous with the signal. It was so close that thousands in the naval gallery held their breaths for fear skipper "Mike" might overplay his hand and risk being recalled.

SOPWITH CONCEDES DEFEAT

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 4. (AP)—T. O. M. Sopwith, multi-millionaire British skipper of Endeavour, 2nd., conceded tonight the hopelessness of his current America's Cup quest.

"Ranger's a faster boat and all we can do is try to catch her tomorrow," he said. "There's no doubt of the defender's superiority to windward. Three races have proved that to the satisfaction of all of us."

Class B Baseball League To Include Lubbock Discussed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., (AP)—Aug. 4. (AP)—Plans were being formulated by local baseball men today to develop a Class B league to include teams from Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

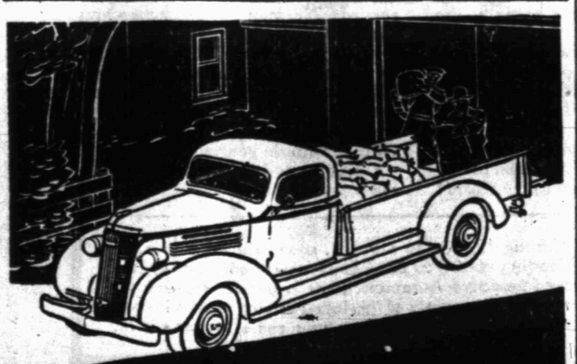

Elmo Sganzini, president of the Albuquerque club of the Arizona-New Mexico (Cactus) league, said he hoped to get into the new circuit teams from Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, El Paso, Amarillo, Lubbock, Roswell, Hobbs and Albuquerque. Sganzini expects to go to Denver next week on the project.

Air Conditioning Of New Texas Tech Library Being Considered By Officials

Building Plans Being Revised

"Serious and mature consideration is being given to air conditioning in the new library building to be constructed at Texas Technological college," said Dr. Bradford Knapp in discussing plans being revised this week for submission to the building committee of the board of directors for approval.

The building, with a seating capacity in reading rooms of 1,000 students, will be located north of and opposite the chemistry building. Its outside appearance will be similar to, but not identical with, the chemistry building.

Capacity 190,000 Volumes

Estimated capacity of the stack room is 190,000 volumes and stack rooms can be enlarged. There will be an automatic elevator.

Main reading room and loan desk, according to tentative plans, is to be on the third floor. Construction plans provide for this room, 60 by 140 feet, to have an arched ceiling so as to make pillars unnecessary. On this floor also are special rooms for the card indexes, bibliographies, offices of librarian, cataloging room, and five seminar rooms.

Reserve desk and reading room, the same size of the main reading room, will be on the second floor. A recreational reading room, and a room for archives, rare books, documents, and maps also will be on that floor.

Special provisions have been made for advanced students. In the tower, similar to the one in the chemistry building, there will be 10 individual rooms for teachers or advanced students. Around the stack area will be booths equipped with desks for individual students who need access to the stacks.

Dr. Knapp said he hoped final plans would be prefected and that the contract for the $275,000 building would be let in October.

Governor Allred Being Accorded Official Honors In Mexico Trip

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4. (AP)—Gov. James V. Allred of Texas is being accorded official honors in his trip through Mexico toward the capital, where the government has prepared lavish entertainment.

Yesterday he and his party were entertained by Gov. Valdes Sanches of Saltillo, Coahuila. He was expected to arrive late today at Queretaro, where he will be entertained by representatives of Gov. Rodriguez, arriving in Mexico City tomorrow.

He will be honor guest at a Charro festival, the Mexican variety of rodeo, with luncheon afterward.

Dogs Are Being Picked Up Here

More than 75 "dog calls" asking police and the city health department to pick up stray dogs and cats was the response Wednesday to the appeal of city health officials to citizens for their cooperation in combatting dangers of a rabies epidemic.

Dogs with tags were being placed in the city pound to await destruction unless they are claimed by owners. Stray dogs and cats were destroyed immediately.

One Believed Mad

Among the dogs killed was at least one which may have had rabies. It was killed in the 500 block on Avenue R after a resident of the neighborhood had reported it was having fits. Another dog was destroyed in the 2300 block on Twenty-fifth street.

No more cases of possible infection among persons were reported, to be added to the 15 taking treatment after having been exposed to a dog which died Friday in the 200 block on Eighteenth street.

Cooperation Is Urged

Continuation of the apparent cooperation general among citizens today, in the opinion of Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, will likely mean that Lubbock will escape any genuinely serious problem. In spite of the numerous calls to various city departments, stray dogs upon the streets were few. With few exceptions, owners were heeding the advice of the health superintendent to keep their dogs penned up where they cannot be reached by strays.

The danger leading to present drastic measures, Dr. Rollo added, will continue for several weeks, until all cases of rabies resulting from contamination by the dog on Eighteenth street have had time to develop. Until then, he said, it is advisable to keep dogs and cats under close observation and to report without delay any illnesses which may develop.

Funeral Services To Be Held This Morning For Young Girl

Funeral rites will be read at 10 o'clock this morning at First Baptist church at Idalou with Rev. R. A. Tennyson, pastor, in charge, for Loneta Hamlin, 17, who died Wednesday morning at the home of Ronnie Shepherd, a brother-in-law, at 2011-T Tenth street. Burial will be in Idalou cemetery with Rix Funeral home in charge.

Death was attributed to cardiac ailment from which she had suffered since she was 12. Miss Hamlin became dangerously ill three months ago. She had completed grammar school work here and had attended high school at Lubbock and Plainview. She was a member of First Baptist church.

Survivors include the father, Lonnie E. Hamlin, her mother, both of Lubbock, and a sister, Mrs. Shepherd.

Pallbearers will be Ernest Ohnemus and Garland Mystel of Lubbock, Alton Marricle of Goldthwaite, and Virgil, Robert and Bernard Isom, all of Idalou.

Jackson Speaks On Far East Crisis At Rotary Club

Aspects of the present Sino-Japanese war, the third between the two nations since 1885, were clearly outlined to the Rotary club yesterday noon by Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the department of government at Texas Technological college. W. L. Bradshaw and Charles W. Tinney were co-program chairmen, the former handling the musical section and the latter the address.

Earl Harrison, Malvern, Ark., an International Rotary field man, attended the luncheon.

Harry E. Blocker, jr., and Douglas Blocker, played several selections. Douglas played two numbers on a "potato" horn and also on a cornet. His brother was the accompanist.

Spain, Japan "Bad Boys"

Dr. Jackson termed Spain and Japan as the "white elephants" of the world, the so-called "bad boys," who were at the bottom of most present international troubles. "Japan is the "colossus" of the East, he pointed out, adding "expansion is no new thing for Japan, she has been at it for more than 2,000 years. The earliest records of Japanese expansion are to be found in the Chinese records."

There have been 17 expansion dates in Japanese history in 2,000 years, Jackson said. Modern Japan, as we know it, dates from the visit of U. S. Admiral Peary about 1854. Then came the rise of social and industrial changes, followed by political changes.

Since 1885 Japan has been classed as an imperial government. It had a war with China that year, followed by the Russo-Japanese war in 1904-5 and the World war, in which Japan sided with the allies. Expansion of territory followed each war.

The second Sino-Japanese war in 1931 marked the defeat of the League of Nations, as an arbitrator of troubles, he said. The third war is now on. Russian influence prevails in China. Germany has aided Japan.

Dr. Jackson made a plea for settlement of international troubles by a court of law and justice. He pointed to settlements by states of the United States of these troubles and said world peace only will come when nations agree to such settlements.

Sergeant R. B. Butler Assigned To Patrol Office In Lubbock

Sgt. R. B. Butler is the first man to join the highway patrol of this division since the passage of a bill by the last legislature allowing additional men for the Texas Highway partol. He will be second in command in this division, said Capt. W. W. Legge.

Sergeant Butler, formerly of Seguin, took an examination recently in Austin.

He was accompanied here by his wife and four-year-old son and will live in Lubbock at 1512-A Sixteenth street.

No definite number of men to be assigned to this division has been set, said Captain Legge.

Advance Attachment Of Guard Units Leaves On Wednesday

Capt. H. H. Griffith and fifteen men of the service battery of the National Guard left by train at 4:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon as an advance attachment to the annual Texas National Guard encampment at Camp Palacios.

Remainder of the service battery and the C battery will leave Saturday morning, the band going by train and others in army trucks, said Capt. J. L. Walton, commander of C battery.

Hard-Booted Texas Ranger Of Frontier Had His Moments Of Mooneyed Love, Vet Says

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA ANNA, Aug. 4. — The hard-booted Texas Ranger of frontier days, in saga and song a cold-eyed, straight shooting officer who inspired terror in the hearts of miscreants, had his moments of mooneyed love, too.

R. G. Kimbell, 83-year-old former Ranger attending the annual reunion here of the fabled guardians of the peace, recited today how he had served a three year stretch with the force—facing extermination in battles with Indians, cattle thieves, train robbers and murderers— all because of a pink-cheeked girl he refers to simply as "Texas Rose."

Fast Fading Group

Meeting here with ten others of the fast-fading group of old-timers, Kimbell, a corporal in company D of the frontier battalion, told his story.

Wanderlust and the prospect of adventures in the new Texas carried him from his native Tennessee to the Lone Star state in 1870.

He drifted to Fort Parker in Limestone county, famous in history of the West for the capture by the Indians of Cynthia Ann Parker.

He met a girl—one who brought to mind the popular song he had heard back in Tennessee—"the Yellow rose of Texas beats the belle of Tennessee"—and told his love to her.

Would He Join Rangers?

She loved him but the romance of the Rangers stirred her. Would he join the law enforcing brigade; then she would accept his suit.

September 10, 1878, he was sworn into the service at Austin. His first duty was mild as a milkshake—guarding the treasure vault at the capitol.

Ere long, however, he was transferred to Kimble county, alive with outlaws.

In service later at Fort McKavitt, Kimbell and several others were dispatched in pursuit of Indians who had stolen horses. Many miles from their base, an open gun battle ensued. Casualties were numerous on each side until cow punchers came to the rescue of the officers.

Married The Girl

At the end of his three-year term of service, Kimbell received his honorable discharge and married the girl from Fort Parker who had waited.

They settled in Texas. Kimbell said Oklahoma had tried for several years to induce ex-Rangers to live in that state. He said he refused because he had sworn allegiance to Texas.

"One morning I discovered the state line had been moved and I was a resident of Oklahoma," he said.

He lives in Altus, Okla.

Kimbell said that when he dies he wants to be taken to Groesbeck, Tex., the scene of some early romantic adventures, within two miles of Fort Parker, which to him is "my Texas home."

Former Vice President Dawes Dons Cowboy Regalia To Ride In Monte Vista Festival

MONTE VISTA, Colo., Aug. 4. (AP) — Charles Gates Dawes, former vice president, donned cowboy regalia today and rode horseback beside Gov. Teller Ammons of Colorado in the opening parade of Monte Vista's Ski-Hi stampede.

Also "straddling" a horse in the parade was former Gov. William H. Adams, veteran stockman.

Dawes is one of a group of Chicago business men vacationing in southern Colorado.

Liquor Law Violation Cases To Be Heard In County Court Today

Judge J. J. Dillard of county court yesterday dismissed a jury until 9 o'clock this morning when it is scheduled to hear three charges of liquor law violation set for today's docket. No cases were tried yesterday.

Defendants in cases set for today are: Leslie Cantrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Morris, charged jointly, and Ed Lightfoot. On tomorrow's docket are an embazzlement charge against T. P. Addison and charges of liquor law violation against Louis Espetia and Frank Flores.

Case of Mrs. T. M. Hill, charged with liquor law violation, was called for yesterday, but she entered a plea of guilty Tuesday afternoon and was called for yesterday, but she entered a plea of guilty Tuesday afternoon and was sentenced to an hour in jail and was assessed court costs.

Building Permits In City Top $750,000

The total for building permits this year went beyond three quarter of a million dollars with issuance yesterday of four permits authorizing construction estimated to cost $17,500, according to records at the office of D. J. Schlag, City building inspector. Exact total was $751,619, more than $300,000 more than the figure at the same time last year.

Permits were to: Dr. W. C. Holden to construct an adobe garage and servants house at 3111 Twentieth street, $2,500; T. C. Porter to construct a duplex and double garage at 2314 Fifteenth street, $4,000; Mrs. Rosie Agee to construct an apartment house at 1215 Ninth street, $6,500; and Floyd Beall, owner, and W. G. McMillan, contractor, to construct a service station at 1419 Avenue K, $4,500.

In addition, inquiries have been made concerning at least two warehouses for which formal permits may be asked at any time, members of the department said.

On Meritorious Citizenship

HOW many Lubbock and South Plains citizens have lived well past middle age without having ever run afoul of the law—even to the extent of breaking a traffic regulation?

The question arose in connection with a recent news story from Detroit, where quite an interesting matter bobbed up in connection with law observance.

Wondering how many persons in the vicinity of Detroit had, like himself, lived 70 years or more without being arrested, one John A. Williams, 76, decided that the best way to find out would be through a letter to the editor of a newspaper.

The letter was published and in due time Mr. Williams began to get answers. In fact, so many answers from people who could meet the stringent qualifications, that Mr. Williams was impelled to organize them into a club.

Now in these days, almost any kind of an excuse will start someone organizing something which, nine times out of ten, is nothing more than a dues-collecting scheme. But a club of people who have never been arrested somehow is different. And its virtue is that it lays the foundation for a monument to one of the most deserving varieties of the "forgotten man."

ENORMOUS portions of the nation's talents and resources are being devoted to cutting down the activities of the gangster, the murderer, the bandit and the parole-breaker. They are held constantly in ridicule before the public, as examples of lawlessness.

But comparatively little has been done to popularize the career of the law-abiding citizen or make him the model for positive education in the principles of progressive civilization.

It is when he is contrasted against his opposite that the man who has never been arrested assumes his real proportions. In general he is the man who does not kidnap children. He does not rob banks, run gambling houses, sell liquor to minors or break traffic laws. He does not run up the taxpayer's bill in lengthy trials or prison maintenance. He is the fellow who does not slug pedestrians along dark streets or shoot G-Men or write bad checks.

In summary, he is the fellow who has not caused every civilized nation most of its household grief and has not cost that nation appalling sums in money and misery.

OF course, there are many who have committed illegal acts and got off scot free. And there are others who have been haled before the judgment bench when they were perfectly innocent.

But when account is taken of all exceptions, there still remains a large section of the population whose clean record with the law attests its value as a bulwark to the national morals.

Other heroes have been eulogized and their status set up in the name of other noble causes. But the award of high distinction for the man who has just simply kept out of trouble all his life is strangly missing.

With Our Contemporaries

"In helping the men of the soil, the county agents have, of course, helped all of us to enjoy a fuller life, more prosperous communities," J. C. Smyth points out in the Scurry County Times.

* * *

"Seems like some one knows our business down here at the office better than we know it," V. A. Short says in the Meadow Star. "At least they have told that the Star has changed hands. If it has, it is news to us and we have tried to stay on the job the best we could."

"Clad in striped pants, dark coat and a derby, the barker prances back and forth on the platform like a monkey fresh from the cocoanut trees of Africa, while swinging a cane to the rhythm of his cry," Jeane Suits chatters in the Lockney Beacon.

"Lamb county is almost the largest county in the state, from every standpoint, and now that we have a planning board, there is no question but that, as a county, we will march right on to the top as far as progress is concerned," Lamb Chops says in the Amherst Argus.

The One-Minute Sermon

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned; forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.

Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.—St. Luke, VI, 37 through 38.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

BEYOND GOLD AND RUBIES

On August 16, 1896 an Indian guide named Tagish Charlie called the attention of Robert Carmack, a prospector, to the coarse gold on Rabbit Creek (later called Bonanza Creek). This little intermezzo led to the Great Klondike gold rush which produced nearly $400,000,000 of gold.

Tagish Charlie was rewarded for his discovery in a peculiar manner. At his own request, he was given the right to walk into any saloon and buy a drink whenever he wanted. The sale of drinks to Indians was forbidden, and his exceptional status, conferred on him by the Canadian Government, pleased Charlie more than any other reward he could think of.

BREWER OF ALASKA

Prof. Wm. H. Brewer, (1828-1910), head of the agricultural department of Yale University, is the man who convinced Secretary Seward of the desirability of Alaska as a source of ice for the ntire Pacific Coast.

Seward was sold on the idea, although he smiled when Prof. Brewer suggested that Americans might eventually be induced to go to Alaska to admire the scenery. But President Johnson was still to be won over.

It so happened that the President came to New Haven in 1866 to visit Yale College. Prof. Brewer was assigned as his escort, and it was in this capacity that the Professor took the Chief Executive aside and "sold" him on Alaska, which was acquired the following year for $7,200,000. Alaska has since yielded more than $1,000,000,000, of which gold, silver and copper alone account for $700,000,000.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

BY ESTHER TYLER

SYNOPSIS: A raging February storm breaks on Farrington Bluff after Michael, his sweetheart Gay Palmer and I arrive for a weekend with his aunts. That night, Jude Blinshop, the fourth guest, and the Skipper, Mike's tall and tweedy younger aunt, disappear. Michael hurts himself in a fall while we are searching the island. William, the chauffeur, and I continue the search, finding Jude's body on the bluff. I have just carried it to the kitchen, when the Skipper walks in saying she has been in the stable with her collie which was bearing a litter.

Chapter Seven

Was It A Tramp?

They were all waiting for me to speak. Desperately I plunged into my story, an anxious eye on the Skipper's face. But the Skipper was never hysterical. Aside from the color of her face and the slight twitching of her mouth, she might have been listening to a plot for a novel. After I had finished there was no sound in the room but the crackling of the fire. The Skipper recovered first.

"The first thing for us to do is to get hold of George Foster. He's the coroner—and a good doctor."

"We can't," I said dully. "The bridge is down—and the telephone wires."

Her grip on my shoulder tightened. "Are you sure?"

"Positive."

She drew a long breath.

"I see. Well, go up to Mike and tell him the best you can. I'll handle Martha. Higgins, you and William had better carry Ju—Miss Blinshop to her room. Wait until Mr. Wells and I get upstairs. I'll send Cook and Annie down right away."

At the foot of the stairs I stopped her.

"Skipper, wait a minute," I said. "There aren't any other servants here on the Bluff, are there?"

"We're all here, Jim," she said evenly.

"Then it must have been a tramp on the grounds or some fool shooting to call for help!"

We stared at each other. As plainly as any words could say it, her eyes said, "And Jude went out there for what?" God, but she looked haggard! Taking my arm, she started me up the stairs.

"We've got to bite on it, Jim," she said in a husky voice.

Mike's Implication

I left her at M. Farrington's door and walked on to Michael's. It took an effort to knock and turn the knob. Michael was aselep. Gay, still holding his hand, half rose from his side as I entered and closed the door behind me.

"How is he?" I whispered.

"Just fagged out, I think, Jimmie! You didn't find them!"

Her voice was low, but not low enough. Mike's eyes flew open and lighted on my face. He struggled up. "Jim! Where are they? You—"

"We found them, Mike," I said, "but—"

"But what?"

My lips were dry. I was obliged to moisten them before they would seem to move. "There's been an accident. The Skipper's all right, but we—we found Jude out on the bluff." I swallowed hard. "She's been shot, Mike. She's dead."

For one never-ending second they stared at me. Then Gay's hand flew to her throat. "No!" she cried sharply. "No!"

But Mike sat like a wooden Indian, a shred of coverlet tearing away in his clinched fingers.

"Skipper!" he said heavily. "Skipper! Oh, my God!"

I was riveted to the spot, too busy fighting back the implication of those words to do anything. But Gay moved blindly to him.

"Mickie!" she said. "Oh—oh—"

Michael's arm went around her, but the expression on his face never changed. I turned away to the mantel and left them that way. There were a few pictures in my own mind right then that were all I could deal with. In the end it was Michael who forced me to go on. Gay huddled beside him, her freckles standing out in startling relief against her chalky face, but Mike, propped up against pillows, was ghastly. The hand that supported Gay was shaking.

"We found Jude on the bluff, Mike. And just as we got into the house the Skipper came in. She'd been with a sick dog in the stable. Jude must have gone out to look for her and been hit by a shot from a boat in distress—or—"

"Bunk!" said Michael curtly.

The bluff was a sheer drop of at least fifty feet to the water, and I knew it. There was a strained silence. Then Gay's voice, forced but level, said:

"There must be a tramp in the grounds somewhere."

More silence. A tramp coming to a place like the Bluff on such a night? Hardly. Burglars? That didn't make sense either. Jude would never have pursued a burglar into the storm. Would she have followed the Skipper without hat or coat? Was there someone else out there? My head was roaring with wild ideas.

'Sleep. Do You Get Me?'

"It wouldn't do any harm to see that the house is locked," I said. "That's one thing we can do." The look in his eyes was giving me the creeps. He was a sick man and, unless I missed my guess, he was going to be sicker. "And you're not going to do anything. You're going to sleep."

"Sleep!" said Michael violently. "Sleep!"

Gay's hysterical laugh agreed with him.

"Look here," I said, "you've been through enough for a good case of pneumonia. We're cut off from shore and will be until this sea stops running. And there's a lot of damned unpleasant figuring to do in the morning. If you don't sleep, you may die on our hands. Do you get me?"

He didn't, but Gay did and that was all I wanted. I left her to carry the point. The Skipper opened M. Farrington's door in answer to my knock, and just one glance told me that she had not been having an easy time of it.

"How is she?" I whispered.

The Skipper smiled, a rather twisted smile. "She'll live. How did Michael take it?"

"Hard." I hated to alarm her, but there seemed no help for it. "I'm agraid he's pretty sick, Skipper. Shock, cold water, and his shoulder."

She nodded. "Stay with Martha a minute. I want to have a look at him."

Of all things on earth that I did not want at that moment, a tete-a-tete with M. Farrington headed the list. It was difficult enough to answer her questions when the answers were obvious. Right then there were no answers and I was busy enough with questions of my own. But the Skipper didn't wait for a reply. For the first time in my life I entered M. Farrington's room.

Postal Receipts For July Break Record

July postal receipts at Lubbock set an all-time July record, officials said yesterday in announcing receipts were $13,608.27. This was an increase of $1,682.22 over the corresponding July 1936 total of $11,926.04.

Net increase was 14.1 per cent. This is slightly above the percentage gain for the year.

Total receipts for the calendar year of 1937 were $94,276.76. Corresponding receipts for 1936 were $83,713.62, a net gain of $10,563.14, or a fraction under 12.5 per cent less than for the seven months of 1937.

Average Over $13,000

In only one month this year so far have receipts fallen below the $13,000 mark. That was in February, with but $12,567.12. Average monthly receipts so far are $13,468.

Receipts for July this year were larger than for any quarter of a year up to and including the third quarter of 1924, records of the postoffice show.

Should the percentage of increase made so far in 1937 continue throughout the year, total receipts will probably exceed $175,000 for this year. Last year's receipts were $155,957.

Until June, 1927, there had not been an eclipse of the sun in England since 1724. There will not be another there until 1999.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ira Bennett

CONGRESS is having one paroxysm of uncertainty after another as it moves toward adjournment. Leadership is lacking. Joe Robinson is sorely missed—but even he could not have wholly mended a situation caused by six months' delay which the administration consumed in pressing the court bill.

Farm and labor legislation hang in the balance at the eleventh hour. The farm program is practically hopeless—no agreement on any bill. Wage-hour legislation faces obstacles and ambushes. So the two big special-interest blocs are disappointed and resentful.

Members are scrambling to put through their personal measures. On the President's program they are badly split. Part of the split can be charged to deliberate sabotage by Democrats who are trying to break F. D. R.'s grip on their party.

COUP: In emergencies F. D. R. has usually made some audacious move that has given him the victory. This party mutiny creates an emergency different from others that he has mastered. It calls for more expert knowledge of Congressional psychology than was necessary when F. D. R. had a subservient majority and practically no insurrectos in his party. His critics say that since the court bill defeat he has seemed to be puzzled in dealing with Congress. They now think that Joe Robinson was more influential as a presidential adviser than appeared on the surface.

Yet in capitol cloakrooms it's generally expected that F. D. R. will execute one of his sudden and brilliant coups. The chaotic farm and labor bills, with defeat hanging over them, must have his personal attention.

GRAVY: Senator Pat Harrison's deadly thrust at the wages-and-hours bill is not attributable to disappointment over his defeat for Senate leadership, according to insiders. He was dragooned into that contest—he was already a leader, without a leader's responsibility. He remains more influential than Leader Barkley. Nevertheless, his attack on the wages-and-hours bill was chalked up by many people as an outburst of anti-F. D. R. feeling.

Senator Bilbo, Harrison's Mississippi colleague, isn't thanked back home for defeating Harrison. Mississippians have found out that Leader Joe Robinson was skipper of the biggest gravy-boat in New Deal times. Arkansas has drawn down millions, and scores of Arkanas hold fat federal jobs, thanks to Joe. Now it's assumed that the lion's share of the gravy and jobs will go to Leader Barkley and Kentucky rather than to Pat and Mississippi.

LOGICAL: While open and secret warfare continues in Washington, Chairman Farley makes speeches breathing reconciliation and party harmony. It's a situation that doesn't make sense, and the anti-F.D.R. crowd ridicules Farley for what they describe as a reckless waste of soft soap. These antis are convinced that F.D.R. isn't seeking party harmony. They believe he is organizing a Roosevelt New Deal party and is expecting the Democratic party to fall in behind him. They don't like his program. His move against the Supreme court permanently antagonized them. Partiality to non-Democrats is distributing patronage infuriates them.

All these factors enter into the situation that makes for chaos in Congress. Add to this party feud the fact that Southern Democrats really believe their section is threatened with disaster by labor legislation, failure to provide against aslump in cotton, etc., and the uncertainties attending hangover legislation become understandable.

JOBHOLDERS: The harassed President has other pressing matters to attend to. He isn't finding much enthusiasm among cabinet members in cutting down expenditures by 10 per cent. The grim old bureaucracy that has always strangled retrenchment is getting in its work. It has also baffled F.D.R. in reorganizing departments, just as it baffled Harding and Hoover. F.D.R. can't put his finger on every bureau chief who belongs to the tightest union of all—the Union for the Protection of Federal Jobs.

Congress has been very liberal in appropriations as F.D.R. demands. Now the jobholders want that money distributed, and not maybe. It's not in the cards that this money should be returned to the Treasury.

THREAT: Apparently the Spanish and Far Eastern fracases are not linked, but some of the foreign envoys are wondering, just the same. One of them said the outburst in China would engross the attention of the Soviet, which might suit the plans of Germany and Italy if they contemplate action in Spain.

A General Board Admiral said he wished the U. S. was well out of the Phillippines. He also remarked that whenever foreign conditions seemed to call for cooperation by Great Britain and the United States this country always came out the loser.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE high command of the C.I.O. has functioned to date with very little friction largely because the handful of top-flight leaders have accepted Lewis as the big boss without argument. But there are some indications of a rift deep down—invisible as yet to the outside eye—which may lead to sensational changes in the C.I.O. setup.

Sidney Hillman, head of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and one of Lewis' ablest lieutenants, has admirers of some influence who feel that he is better fitted to direct the successful growth of the C.I.O. movement than the aggressive Mine Workers' chief. They point to the quiet and effective progress Hillman has made in organizing textile workers in comparison to the steel strike setback and the more or less constant uproar in motors.

Those who feel this way have no intention of precipitating a rebellion inside the C.I.O. to unseat Lewis. They figure that sooner or later Lewis will make some impetuous blunder that will wreck him, and that when that happens Hillman will be the logical man to take over the reins. Some sources are bold enough to predict that this will happen within a year. Meanwhile Lewis and Hillman remain perfectly friendly so fas as the world can tell—only the latter doesn't exactly haunt C.I.O. headquarters in Washington, nor does Lewis frequent the Textile Workers Organizing committee in New York.

COALITION: Al Smith has taken full command of Senator Royal S. Copeland's candidacy for mayor of New York. The Senator was in something of a dither when Tammany leader Dooling died and left him apparently the bone of contention between competing Tiger factions. Then Al stepped in, told the doctor to keep his chin up, and squelched the panicky dissension with a vigorous hand. He doesn't porpose to let this chance to mop up the New Dealers in New York be lost by default.

It was Smith also who sold Copeland on entering the Republican primary as well as the Democratic. This was an essential brick in the foundation of the national coalition movement which Al and a number of backstage New York anti-New Dealers hope to build into a substantial structure for 1938 and especially 1940.

Many of the G.O.P. machine politicians in the metropolis will rush for the Copeland bandwagon with a whoop. What do they care if he is a Tammany Democrat? They have more to hope for from Tammany than from LaGuardia. And they will have strong backing from important financial and industrial sources—even though the latter have no great love for Copeland personally.

WORTHLESS: Amusing angles on those celebrated $2500 Democratic campaign books continue to come to light.

President Roosevelt's critics have razzed him for signing his name on so many blank pieces of paper, ostensibly not knowing the use to be made of his signature. Latest discovery is that the signatures were inscribed with a duplicating pen machine, 36 at a time.

Letters To The Editor

Your Voice Is As Loud As Our Own

MODERN PARABLE

Editor, The Avalanche: Very interesting things are taking place in Palestine, that little speck of land that used to be the nucleous of the home of the Israelites, and for many reasons the most famous spot on earth. There the people of Israel dwelled safely and prosperously for a time, but was driven from the land by the Gentile powers and scattered "like as corn is sifted in a sieve among all nations" (Amos 9:9) and they have remained thus scattered to the present time, with a longing desire in their heart to return to their home land like Daniel of old, who prayed three times a day with his window open toward Jerusalem. But they have never been permitted to return, for their land has been "trodden under foot of the Gentiles" it has been in possession of their hostile enemies the Turks, for many centuries.

But in 1917 General Allenby, a Christian Jew in command of a British army of Jews, drove up to the gates of Jerusalem for the purpose of driving out the Turks and taking possession for Great Britain who had convenanted with the Jews to give them the land for a national home. While mediating on how to make the attack, (much as Joshua did when he went out to look at Jerico) for he did not want to damage the city, it is said that he prayed most of the night. He must have met a heavenly messenger (as Joshua did) for when morning came he sent his great air fleet out to fly low over the city shouting out a war cry with General Allenby's name in it (much like Gideon's great army of 300 who shouted "the sword of the Lord and of Gideon") and those Turks were greatly frightened and surrendered the city to the British without making any resistance, a thing the fighting Turk never was known to do before. I wonder if Isaiah 31:5, which reads "As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending also he will deliver it," has reference to this incident. At any rate Jerusalem was "delivered" to Britain and was "preserved" from destruction.

Then Great Britain threw Palestine open to the Jews but the Arabs who inhabited the country, seeing that it would soon be overrun by them, raised such an uproar that Britain limited Jewish immigration and thus retarded the return of the Jews for a time, but recently Britain has determined to divide the country into three parts, one for the Jews, and one for Britain, and one for the Arab, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

And thus it appears like the day of the Lord has come when "Thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee." (Zach. 14:1) at any rate the land has been "spoiled" while in the possession of the Gentiles and now it is being divided. However that word "spoil" has another meaning.

Akin of old was a typical Jew; he was of the tribe of Judah, and when he made his famous assault, along with the rest of Israel, on the helpless, defenseless city of Jerico, whose walls of defense had fallen down flat, he found a wedge of gold, (much like our gold bricks I suppose) and a quantity of silver (like we are laying up for them) and a fine Babylonish garment. Although they had been forbidden to appropriate any of the valuables to their own personal use, he wrapped them up and took them to his tent and buried them in the earth and covered them over nicely and said to himself "Now that is perfectly safe." But alas! alas!

When Moses came down from the top of Mt. Sinai he found Isreal bowing down to a golden calf. If Christ should come down from High Heaven at the present time who would he find worshipping at a golden shrine? The Jew, but also the Gentiles.

At whose instance are the crazy Gentile nations of the earth taking the gold out of their citizens' hands and moulding it into convenient sized bricks for shopping and burying it deep down in the earth and trying to make it impregnable with standing armies watching over it? (Much as they did Christ's tomb as though they fear it will burst forth and get out among the common herd again.) But we know where it is destined to go, and that is going to be the occasion for the greatest row the world has ever experienced. When "Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem and the wealth of all the heathen (the Gentile nations) round about shall be gathered together, gold, silver, and apparel, in great abundance." (Zach. 14:14) Read the entire chapter for when men's "flesh shall consume away while they stand on their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongues shall consume away in their mouths" it is something to think about, and this is not symbolic language either and it is still in the future.

Veal Manly,
Lubbock.

TARZAN'S QUEST No. 22

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Jane dropped down before the lion, the surprised beast snarled and charged! Once more the girl sprang upward, barely in time to avoid those vicious talons of death. And her moments of hazard had allowed time for Sborov's fumbling fingers to tie the strap.

"Hoist away!" she cried. Brown and Tibbs pulled vigorously, and Alexis rose out of the underbrush slowly, a few inches at a time. Then the lion caught sight of him and rushed at the terrified prince. The beast reared to its full height and struck violently.

A raking talon touched the heel of Sborov's shoe, and with a final scream, he fainted. Before the furious lion could strike again, the unconscious prince was out of harm's way; and soon Brown and Tibbs had hoisted his limp body safely into the place.

Jane was pleased with her first defiance of sinister jungle forces, but her satisfaction faded when she realized that the lion was still master of the situation. The beast would lie in wait below, forbidding their descent. They were indeed trapped in the trees!

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Hershell Box, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the 99th District Court of Lubbock county, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the First Monday in September, A. D., 1937, the same being the 6th day of September, A. D., 1937, then and there to answer Plaintiff's first amended petition filed in said Court on the 13th day of July, A. D., 1937, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 7023, wherein Ina Box is Plaintiff, and Hershell Box, is Defendant, and said petition alleging, Being a suit for a divorce,; that on or about February, 1936, plaintiff and defendant legally married, and lived together as husband and wife until about May 1st, 1936, plaintiff would show to the court that defendant unkind and cruel treatment towards plaintiff, and on April 25th, 1936, the defendant struck her with his fist and kicked her and threatened serious bodily injury, and that defendant failed to support plaintiff, wherefore plaintiff prays for judgment for divorce and custody and control of her said children, and for such other relief that she may be justly entitled.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 13th day of July, A. D., 1937.
FLOYD JACKSON, Clerk,
99th District Court, Lubbock County.
(Seal)
By U. BROWN, Deputy.

NAZIS SHIFT TACTICS
VIENNA (AP)—Some people believe the nazis are abandoning terroristic acts in favor of propaganda by persuasion. Such, at least, is the campaign being waged by members of the Austrian Legion in Germany, who write to relatives and friends in Austria telling of the glories of the nazi regime, and finding fault with everything Austrian.

It costs Uncle Sam 42 cents a day for each sailor's meals. Army meals cost 31 cents each.

Order Issued On Oil Industry

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—Mexico's 400,000,000 foreign-controlled oil industry was ordered today to make wage increases and establish other workers' benefits aggregating $7,200,000 annually.

Eighteen thousand employes staged a 12-day strike two months ago which brought their demands and the employers' arguments before a three-man board of arbitration. A 250-page, nine volume decision was handed down last night.

Take Large Licking

Spokesmen of the 16 affected companies generally withheld comment, saying numerous "reservations and observations" would be filed with the board.

One, however, commented: "We took a licking."

The board's decision called for: A 40-hour week, with 56-hour pay. The companies had offered this in an effort to settle the strike.

A minimum wage throughout the industry of $1.38 a day. The companies had offered $1.18 and had said, before the walkout, an average of $1.05.

Benefits Are Ordered

Wage boosts, pension increases and other social benefits amounting to $7,200,000 a year. The company had offered concessions in this direction to the extent of $4,000,000 annually.

Creation of a parmanent, five-man board, consisting of two company representatives, two from the workers and one from the government, to settle future disputes without recourse to strikes.

Kidnaping Solution

attorneys for the legal fight ahead.

Crowley opined the Regans were the "natural parents" of Donald but commented the Horsts had given him "excellent care" since they obtained him in a manner designed to give "neighbors" the impression he was their real child.

All were released.

Crowley and Captain Gilbert of the state's attorneys police linked this chain of events together after the Regans ended a 16-hour hunt for the child by surrendering and disclosing he was at their home.

Borne By Miss Nelson

Donald was borne by Miss Nelson Jan. 6, 1935, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ewert. Ewert performed odd jobs betimes for Dr. John Anthony Rose, the attending physician.

Miss Nelson agreed to let the doctor arrange to place the infant with a "wealthy man" who wanted a child but, believing it would be only temporary, signed no papers. The boy was taken away 15 minutes after his birth.

About that time, Horst brought Mrs. Horst to the home of Mrs. Josephine Triolo.

Birth Certificate Filed

"Ewart came there and told Mrs. Triolo to telephone for a doctor," Crowley said Mrs. Triolo told him. "Mrs. Triolo was gone for about 15 minutes. When she returned, she saw the baby."

The prosecutor said he learned both Mr. and Mrs. Horst were parties to the incident. "This was not an attempt to defraud Mr. Horst, as was thought earlier," Crowley said, "but was rather an effort to keep neighbors and other inquisitive persons from knowing too much of the circumstances attending the arrival of the child in the Horst home."

Crowley said a birth certificate, purporting to show the Horsts were the parents, was filed.

Little Donald was taken away from his yard in an exclusive residential area on the northwest side last night. A report that $5,000 ransom had been demanded spurred an intensive search.

Deprecates Ransom Angle

But Crowley deprecated the ransom angle. He stated:

"The only real source of information concerning a demand for money has come from Mrs. Horst, who said that 15 minutes after the child was taken, she received a telephone call and a man asked for $5,000. Later, when the telephone rang again, and she (Mrs. Horst) answered, she began to cry. When Policeman (Edward) Strandberg snatched the phone and continued to weep in imitation of Mrs. Horst, he heard a man's voice say: 'Don't call the police. You know the baby isn't yours.'"

Crowley said Miss Nelson, 25, told him she was the common-law wife of Regan, 26-year-old machinist, and that they never married because she had not been divorced from a man named Lavin.

"I tried for over two years to find the baby," Crowley quoted her, "but it wasn't until ten days ago that Ewert told me the Horsts had him."

scribed the Ephedra coryi, which Dr. Reed found growing near this section. It grows in sandy soil, from Meadow to O'Donnell and from Big Spring to Andrews. Like the Ephedra texana, it is a browsing plant, though much smaller and reproduces by underground stems like Johnson grass. It also is being tested for ephedrin presence.

The department of agriculture has not yet reported its findings to Dr. Reed. If it finds the Ephedra texana Reed to contain the drug, Lubbock should become a paradise for victims of hay fever, he said.

RAILS ROVIDE LEADERSHIP

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP) — Setting a steady pace rails provided the stock market with consistent leadership today and helped the list turn in gains of fractions to a point or more.

At the opening shares drifted aimlessly and it appeared as though the market would be in for a dull run. At mid-morning bullish enthusiasm for carriers was touched off by a Wall Street rumor.

As interpreted in board-rooms, it indicated the net results of rail wage negotiations might have a less averse effect on share values than expected earlir.

The fillip of the carriers, brokers said, released potential demand for shares which had dammed up as the result of bright news from the steel industry, improved earnings and scattered favorable dividend actions.

Commentators stressed the point that various groups had specific benefits on which to base their advances. Steels had the word of "iron age" production would be well-sustained. Oils leaned on more favorable statistics and improved earnings for such units as Socony and Standard of California. Coppers borrowed energy from talk of a possible rise in the price of the domestic metal and expanding domestic sales. Lead shares responded to a boost of $5 a ton for the metal.

Utilities were draggy. Their behavior, analysts said, reflected indifference to traders following recent gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 shares was up .3 point at 69.7. The rail average gained 1.3 to 39.6; industrials one .3 to 98.3; utilities dopped .3 to 43.6.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4. (AP) — Despite various bearish influences cotton bounded up $1 a bile here today under covering by shorts anxious to even commitments in advance of the official production estimate on Monday. The close was steady at net advances of 20 points.

Weather conditions over the belt were fairly favorable and the weekly crop summary was about as expected but these factors together with another large private estimte failed to halt the advance which reached its height in late trading.

Final prices were at the best of the day with Oct. at 10.85 bid, Dec. at 10.80, Jan. at 10.93, March at 11.03, May at 11.07 and July at 11.09. Spots were 22 points net higher with middling at 11.22.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—A sharp prebureau covering movement lifted cotton prices over $1 per bale today, the market closing within a few points of the best and at net advances of 18 to 24 points. December sold up to 10.85 and closed at 10.78.

The market opened 6 to 10 points higher on an overnight accumulation of trade and foreign buying, prompted by the recent agitation in Washington for a loan or other legislation to check the downward movement in prices.

The president's apparent unwillingness to recommend a loan unless accompanied by crop control legislation and further large crop estimates had comparatively little influence as the market was evidently well sold out and in a firm technical position.

Two private estimates ranged from 18,114,000 to 18,721,000 bales and average of five leading crop reporters was 18,378,000 with average guess of 73 members of New York Cotton exchange at 18,082,000.

Weather and crop news continued generally favorable and spot and textile markets were dull.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 11.14 cents a pound; average for the past thirty days 11.94 cents a pound.

New Businesses To Open In Seagraves

SEAGRAVES, Aug. 4. (Special)—This Gaines county metropolis is on the biggest business boom in its history and Thursday will see the opening of three new business firms and continued activity for the completion of buildings for others.

Building permits for $8,050 in construction were issued the first three days of this week.

Today's openings will be: Jimmie's Sweet shop, L. B. Child's Men's store and the Wallace theater.

J. F. Hall of Big Spring and T. S. Armstrong of Odessa purchased a site here today for the erection of an ice plant. Work on the structure is to begin Thursday.

Work is progressing on the new 16-room Gaines and Scott hospital and opening is expected next week.

Construction of an addition to the bank buildings which will house ten offices is also being rushed to completion.

City officials will consider the construction of a sewage system next week.

Santa Fe officials, here this week on an inspection trip, announced work on two spur tracks to serve oil well supply houses would be started immediately.

southeast.

About 20 miles north of Peiping, meanwhile, another Japanese army marched north toward Hankow pass to attack Chinese positions along China's Great Wall.

Japanese Ordered Out

Japanese communiques reported that air raiders bombed Chinese troops and trains near Kalgan, along the Great Wall in the region where the opposing armies were expected to meet. All Japanese nationals were ordered to evacuate Kalgan, a Chinese stronghold and capital of Chahar province.

The Japanese also continued hunting down alleged mutineers to retaliate for the reported Tungchow massacre last Thursday in which the Japanese civilian population of the city, capital of the Japanese puppet state of east Hopeh, was said to have been virtually wiped out.

Heavy forces of Japanese concentrated today in Peiping, the first Japanese troops to enter the city during the crisis except for the normal embassy guard.

Japanese air squadrons dropped leaflets in the vicinity of Peiping declaring that Chinese troops at Paotingfu, 85 miles to the south, "perished or fled" under a Japanese air raid.

Both Tientsin and Peiping reported conditions returning to normal although the destruction in Tientsin and the swarms of refugees into both cities created a difficult relief problem.

Grains..

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Late rallies of Chicago wheat prices today more than overcame downturns that carried wheat and all other grains to bottom levels heretofore unreached this season.

Nearly 4 cents a bushel overnight tumble of Liverpool wheat quotations was largely responsible for the transient setback of grain values here. The chief reason given for the bearish action of the Liverpool wheat market, however—selling pressure from Russia and the Danube region—was soon looked upon by most traders here as misleading.

Aggressive buying on Chicago wheat price declines became an outstanding feature as trade drew to an end, with experiers and domestic millers conspicuous on the purchase side. Chicago wheat specialists said all indications have been that should Russia sell wheat this season the quantity is not likely to be great.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to ⅛ cent higher, compared with yesterday's finish, Sept. $1.13⅜@1.13½, Dec $1.13⅞@1.14⅛, May $1.18¾@1.18¾, corn 1 cent to 2¾ up, Sept. 96⅛@97, Dec. 63⅞@66⅛, May 67⅛@67⅛, oats unchanged to ⅛ advance, Sept. 38⅛, and rye unchanged to ⅞ bulge, Sept. 77⅛. Provisions results were unchanged to 15 cents off.

Rye and oats swung upward with wheat and corn following early downturns.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Aug. 4. (AP) — Demand was moderate on the cash grain market here today. Estimated receipts were: wheat 72 cars, oats 4, and sorghums 2.

New Engineer Named

fairly at all times," Montgomery said.

No stranger to department policies, he has served as county engineer, division engineer and chief office engineer in recent years and only lately resigned the PWA position to engage in the irrigation work.

In a statement the commission said the new engineer was competent, experienced and an executive of character and ability, "thoroughly acquainted with Texas and its needs and in full accord with sound principles of highway construction and maintenance."

"He has the facility of expediting the tremendous problems involved in this important position," it said.

Increase May Be Asked

It added Montgomery comes to the department at a "sacrifice of salary" which strengthened a belief in some quarters that the forthcoming session of the legislature would be asked to increase it.

At the last general session the chief engineer's pay was hiked from $6,900 annually to $7,750, effective Sept. 1, but a rider attached to the appropriation bill provided that in the case of vacancies in positions paying $3,000 or more the appointee would receive 20 per cent less if he had not served five years with the department.

In accepting Gilchrist's resignation, tendered several weeks ago, the commission commended him as an "honest and efficient engineer and wished him success in his new venture.

National Young Businessmen's Fraternity Is Holding Meet

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 4. (AP)—The national convention of the Phi Chi fraternity, a non-academic young businessmen's organization, opened here this morning with registration of delegates from California, Mississippi, Iowa, Oregon, Idaho, Colorado and Texas.

Expansion of the fraternity and constitutional changes will constitute the main topic of discussion. Tom Pierce, Corpus Christi, grand vice consul, presided in the absence of Dan Polk of Oakland, Calif., grand consul.

Rates Protested By Companies

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4.—Faced with the stiffest business competition in years among Gulf ports, large shipments of cotton and petroleum products now moving through New Orleans will be diverted to other ports if switching rates are increased here, witnesses testified today at the Interstate Commerce commission hearing on the New Orleans Public Belt railroad application for higher rates.

The witnesses were placed on the stand by E. H. Thornton, manager of the New Orleans joint traffic bureau, intervening in the application of the proposed increase by the railroad from a flat rate of $6.30 to a minimum of $7 and maximum of $10 per cent.

Several Give Testimony

Those testifying were Frank Phillips, traffic manager of the Hamberg Cotton company, Memphis, Tenn.; H. W. Roe, traffic manager of the Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation, Tulsa, Okla..; and C. A. Talley, assistant traffic manager of Shell Petroleum, with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo.

Phillips told the examining board his company would be forced to divert much of its cotton export business from New Orleans to Mobile or other Gulf ports, in spite of the fact the firm only a few days ago closed a new lease for a compress and warehouse in this city.

Roe said competition is so keen that his company is planning to divert petroleum shipments from New Orleans to a port in Texas.

Talley said the proposed additional costs of shipping rates would force the Shell company's export business to be diverted from New Orleans.

Cooling Rains Fall

ported a thunderstorm at Abilene with a .35-inch shower which cooled that section. Earlier yesterday Abilene recorded a temperature of 105 degrees for the year's high there. At 9 o'clock last night the temperature there had dropped to 76 degrees. Snyder reported a seasonal high of 105 degrees.

Rain Over Panhandle

Messages from Amarillo reported general rain over the Panhandle, extending from Amarillo and Texline in the west and north and east to Higgins and southeast as far as Quanah. Between an eighth and a quarter inch fell there, according to estimates. Towns of that section reporting moisture were Texline, Dalhart, Claude, Clarendon, Memphis, Childress, Hedley, Estelline, Pampa, Panhandle, Lefors, White Deer, Miami, Canadian, Higgins, and Shamrock. Temperatures earlier there went above the 100-degree mark.

Olney reported that a shower brought an inch of precipitation, refreshing crops and filling tanks in that section.

Associated Press reports said an electrical storm and high wind damaged small buildings and electric service at Beaumont. Two inches rain fell there.

As indicated by high temperatures early yesterday, maximums in the afternoon exceeded the 100-degree mark to continue a heat wave in this section.

Highest reading here for Wednesday was 103 degrees recorded at the state agricultural experiment substation. Low there was 70 degrees. The main line sation of the West Texas Gas company, whose readings usually are higher, reported a maximum of only 101 degrees at 6 in the afternoon. Twelve hours earlier the main line station recorded its minimum of 66 degrees.

Only 99 At Airport

As usual, the Lubbock Municipal airport's top was lower than those at the other places with its official thermometer climbing to 99 degrees. Minimum reading there was 69 degrees. At 6:30 o'clock in the afternoon the mercury had receded to the 94-degree mark.

July's official weather report showed sixteen cloudless days and a mean temperature of 80.5 degrees. Maximum was 99 degrees and minimum was 60 degrees.

A monthly report of Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment sub-station near Lubbock, showed that precipitation of 1.32 inches for July was .66 inch below the 25-year normal, but that the year's total of 12.53 inches is 2.32 inches above the quarter-century norm of the seven-months period.

Other figures submitted in his report showed:

Maximum relative humidity, 77 per cent; minimum relative humidity, 36 per cent; total wind run, 3,419 miles; normal wind run, 4,668 miles; total evaporation, 9.385 inches; number partly cloudy days, 11; number cloudy days, 3.

Rain for the month, while not normal, was "extremely opportune," Jones' report said.

Limit On Housing

"one of the most expensive undertakings in history" and that it is being passed when "not more than ten per cent of the senate has a clear understanding of its provisions."

The measure would authorize a $700,000,000 bond issue over the next three years and a $26,000,000 appropriation with which to make loans and grants to state and local housing authorities for slum clearance and new dwelling construction.

Amerada Corporation Reports Increased Profits In 1937

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—Amerada corp., crude oil producer, reported consolidated net income for the quarter ended June 30 of $552,991 after charges, equal to 70 cents a share compared with $456,300 or 58 cents a share in the June 1936 quarter. Net income for the six months was $1,070,106 or $1.36 a share, against $930,296 or $1.18 a share in the first half of 1936.

Former Davis Cuppers Win In Meadow Club's Joust

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 4.(AP) Two of the seeded teams dropped by the sideway today as play in the doubles competition of the Meadow club's annual invitation tennis tournament reached the quarter-final round.

Ramsey Potts, of Memphis, Tenn., and Earnie Sutter, of New Orleans, third-ranking pair, were eliminated by Sidney Woods and Frank Shields, old Davis Cup teammates, in a thrilling, second round battle, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4.

Gregory S. Mangin, New York, and Frank D. Guernsay, jr., Orlando, Fla., seeded fourth, lost to Alfred Jarvis, of Tenafly, N. J., and Gardnar Mulloy, of Miami, Fla., 6-4, 6-2.

Martin Buxby, Miami, and Elwood Cooke, Portland, Ore., the top-seeded pair, gained the round of eight defeating John Van Ryan, Austin, Tex., and Modesto Alloo, Berkeley, Calif., 1-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Favorite From Oklahoma Is Upset In Broadmoor Tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. Aug. 4. (AP)—Dee Replogle, 18, Oklahoma City, one of the favorites, was upset today in the first-round of the Broadmoor invitation golf meet.

Replogle lost a 20-hole battle to Eddie Stokes, Denver, one up.

All other favorites reached the second round, the highpoint of which is expected to be the match tomorrow between Rufus King, jr., Wichita Falls, Tex., and Ray Lowell, jr., Colorado Springs, the tournament medalist.

Today's results included:

Ray Lowell, jr., defeated Jimmy Taylor, Fort Worth, 5 and 4. Rufus King, jr., Wichita Falls, defeated W. A. Moncrief, jr., Fort Worth, 1 up.

Happy Lenz, Galveston, defeated J. C. Wynne, Tyler, Texas, 6 and 4.

Jack Malloy, Tulsa, defeated Rodney De Lange, San Antonio, 4 and 2.

Hundred Contestants To Be After Fishing Rodeo Title

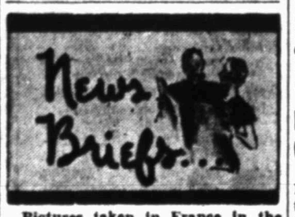

PORT ISABEL, Aug. 4. (AP) — A hundred contestants will start riding herd on deep sea fighters when the fourth annual Rio Grande fishing rodeo opens at daybreak tomorrow.

Sailfish and Marlin will be most sought because points for catching them are high. Eight sailfish have been brought to gaff here recently and several Marlin have been hooked.

The rodeo will sat through Saturday with awards being made Sunday.

A. L. Harris of 1724 Thirteenth street reported to police that early yesterday afternoon a size 6, one-half carat diamond ring and a small gold stone pendant on a gold chain were taken from a jewel box at his residence. The pendant was "heart-shaped," police were told. Early today the missing jewels had not been reported found.

Eddie Simms Wins 10-Round Event From Texas' Beaupre

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 4. (AP) Hammer-fisted Eddie Simms of Cleveland nailed crepe on Tom Beaupre's Pacific Coast debut by winning 10 straight rounds from the lanky Dallas heavyweight last night.

Up against a foe favored to knock him out, Beaupre stayed mostly on the defensive.

Strip Cropping And Contouring Talked In Soil Course

Strip cropping and contour operation in soil conservation was the theme of an address by R. R. Hinde, associate agronomist of Region 6 of the Soil Conservation program last night at a meetng of the soil erosion and conservation short course at Texas Technological college. He is from the Amarillo office.

He illustrated his lecture with about 100 pictures shown on a screen, said Dr. A. W. Young, associate professor of agronomy at Tech and who is director of the course.

Hinde said the main problem of the program is to show the farmer how to control wind and water erosion and still make a living. He also gave results in pictures and data on farms in Texas and Kansas showing conservation practices in production of wheat, corn and cotton. He pointed out grain sorghums are control factors.

Fred C. Newport, regional agronomist, will speak tonight to enrollees of the course from the standpoint of range and pasture management, Dr. Young said.

U. S. Navy Plans For Four More Ships In '38

Congress To Get Funds Request

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. — The navy intends to ask congress at its next session for funds to build two new battleships and two light cruisers.

This was announced today by Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, in response to questions at his press conference as to the navy's future building program.

Defects Are Discovered

Leahy, discussing other phases of the ship-building program, said also that mechanical defects discovered in the almost completed aircraft carrier Yorktown probably would keep the vessel from joining the fleet for an additional year.

Regarding the battleship program, Leahy pointed out that two super-dreadnaughts of 35,000 tons each were authorized at this session of congress. Their keels are to be laid down this year.

Leahy said the navy's objective was to build to the limit provided in the old London naval limitation treaty which expired last year and from that point to follow a continuing program for the deplacement of vessels as they become over age.

New Mexico Druggist President Is To Be At Local Session

Frank J. McCarthy, president of New Mexico Pharmaceutical association, will be among visitors and speakers at West Texas Pharmaceutical association convention here Aug. 17 to 19, according to announcement at the chamber of commerce Wednesday.

Acceptance of an invitation to be present was received from the New Mexico president during the afternoon. He will head what likely will be a large delegation of New Mexico druggists attending the convention, the chamber of commerce was advised. McCarthy resides at Hagerman, N. M.

Officials To Be Present

Notification also was received that L. B. Barkley, deputy collector of internal revenue here, and Joe K. Wells of Austin, state field supervisor for the state unemployment compensation commission, also will be present. Both will participate in discussions of problems of major importance to druggists.

Two committee meetings this morning, both at the chamber of commerce, will discuss plans for two additional features of the convention program.

The entertainment committee, of which Bert Pinson is chairman, will continue arrangements for the golf tournament to be staged the opening day of the convention. Pinson announced Tuesday that prizes will be awarded to winners of that event.

The salesman's banquet committee, headed by John Powers, will discuss the program for that event, which will be held the opening night of the convention. Traveling salesmen in the drug business will be hosts.

Slayer Of Four Secretly Held

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Ky., Aug. 4.—Accused by his wife of slashing their four children to death with a butcher knife and stabbing her, W. J. Morse, 45, was rushed away from a crowd of threatening neighbors late last night, it was learned today.

The wife, Mrs. Jame Morse, 42, was stabbed in the back five times and a physician who examined her today said she might not live.

Mrs. Morse said her husband became enraged in an argument when she remonstrated with him, as she said she had frequently done, over his treatment of the children. She said Morse grabbed the knife, ran to a bed and slashed the throats of their son, James Theodore, 5, and their daughters, Inez, 8, and Margaret Elizabeth, 1. She said he next plunged the blade into the back of the oldest child, Billy Lee, 8, five times. The child ran from the house and was found dead later about 100 yards away.

Marshal Charles Burton and Sheriff H. A. Hicks were summoned by neighbors who heard Mrs. Morse's screams. The sheriff said Morse surrendered and told him, "I don't know why I did it; just crazy, I guess."

Sheriff Hicks said Morse had suffered from shell shock during the World war and that he had supported his family on his government pension and by raising a garden and occasionally working as a laborer. There was no mob, the sheriff declared, but neighbors were talking excitedly and to be sure the man would not molested, he sent him to jail at Mayfield in an adjoining county.

Oliva de Havilland And Her Sister Have "Temperament Schedule"; It Is Success

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4. (AP)—Olivia de Havilland and her sister, Joan Fontaine, have agreed on a "temperament schedule."

It provides that both girls shall never be "difficult" on the same day. They did it to make life easier for their mother.

"It seems to work, too," said Olivia today. "On the mornings when I get up on the wrong side of bed, feeling abused and cross, Joan, according to our agreement, must come down to breakfast all sweetness and light, and when Joan is irritable I have to be a 'sunbeam' at home."

There is no rule against both sisters being good-natured on the same day but they must never both be full of temperament at the same time.

Counterfeiting Gang Captured

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—William H. Houghton, in command of the secret service agents in this district, announced today the seizure of a gang of eight persons, responsible, he said, for the circulation of half the counterfeit money in the country.

Houghton said the investigation of the gang lasted four months, so thorough was the search for evidence and so clever were the members of the band.

The last of the eight was seized this morning, Houghton said.

The capture netted $20,000 in counterfeit $20 New York federal reserves notes and in $10 silver certificates, "dangerous enough to fool the average small shopkeeper," but not good enough to fool a bank clerk, the secret service agent said.

One of those arrested, he said, was a woman, in whose flat the agents found a quantity of narcotics as well as card index of nearly a thousand names.

Why Firestone STANDARD TIRES are EXTRA SAFE

TAPPING RUBBER TREES ON FIRESTONE PLANTATIONS IN LIBERIA

From these plantations comes an ever increasing supply of the world's finest rubber. Economies in producing raw materials, manufacturing and distribution make it possible for Firestone to give you so much for your money.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Firestone Standard Tires give you all these extra value features because they are first-quality tires built with high-grade materials and patented construction features. You SAVE MONEY because you buy this high quality and extra value at such low prices.

Before leaving on your vacation trip, join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires —today's top tire value.
