Ike Thinks Dulles Should Keep His Post

Weather Eye Hurled Aloft By Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Vanguard rocket—Designed to put a weather eye in orbit about the earth—was launched here today. All three rocket stages fired successfully.

Ten minutes after the launching, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said all three rocket stages had fired and had performed smoothly.

Confirmation of a successful satellite orbit usually requires about two hours from the time of the liftoff.

The payload was a shiny 21½-pound sphere housing delicate instruments designed to report on the world's weather.

The slender rocket blasted skyward at 10:55 a.m., EST.

An announcement was expected from Washington in from two to three hours on whether this effort to put a sixth U. S. satellite on course had been a success.

Spurting a glowing trail of orange flame, the missile climbed steadily for some 10 seconds after the launching before knifing through a blanket of gray storm clouds.

The missile's behavior appeared to be perfect during the brief time that it was in sight.

It had begun to rain lightly just before blast time, but this did not affect the launching.

If all went well, the first-stage rocket would burn out at an altitude of 38 miles 2½ minutes after launch.

The second stage—the guiding "brain" of Vanguard—then was to go into full action for a full two minutes boosting the payload's speed to 9,000 miles per hour.

C. C. Marr Dies Monday

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow here for Charlie Claude Marr, 76, of 3311 Avenue G, who died at about 5:20 p.m. yesterday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Marr, a retired farmer, had been a resident of Scurry County since 1891. He was born Dec. 11, 1882, in Hickory County, Mo. He married Artie Bell McGaha Dec. 13, 1903, and they made their first home in the Ira and Knapp communities. He was a member of the Knapp Baptist Church and had been a member of Masonic bodies 50 years.

The Rev. Cleck Smith of Clinton, Okla., formerly of Ira and Knapp, will officiate in services at the First Baptist Church here, assisted by the Rev. A. J. Martin, pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church.

Pallbearers will be Moddrell Burrow, Odell White, Ben Weathers, Wright Huddleston, Aubrey Huddleston, and Bernard Bishop.

Survivors include the widow, two daughters, Mrs. H. H. Bynum of Redondo Beach, Cal., and Mrs. Reid Bates of Dumas; three sons, Dewey Marr of Borger, Glen Marr of Snyder, and Fred D. Marr of El Centro, Cal.; one sister, Mrs. Effie Franklin of Big Spring; nine grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Six In Ira School Race

IRA (Spl.) — Six candidates, including two incumbents, have been listed so far in the election for two places on the Ira school board.

The election will be held April 4.

The candidates are Lewis Dunn, Leon Sterling, Jake Autry, Harold Hester, Marvin Sorrells, and Marvin Jordan.

Dunn and Sorrells are incumbents. Two places are to be filled.

The six names were petitioned to J. Ray Martin, county judge, by J. C. Stirling, C. M. Kruse, Howard G. Sterling, J. H. Kimbrell, and M. L. Wilson, all of whom are members of the board whose terms do not expire this year.

Study Launched On 'Frozen Sleep'

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Experiments to determine if man can be frozen solid for years-long trips to other solar systems are under way at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. John Lyman of UCLA's biotechnology laboratory plans to freeze mice and rats at first, but believes his findings can be used to turn humans into ice-like statues for ageless trips through space.

"The big problem is not getting man into space," Dr. Lyman said in an interview. "That will be done within a very few years. The problem is to keep him from becoming psychotic—going insane—under the unnatural conditions and confinement of space flight."

Giving man a natural environment — building space ships big enough to provide oxygen, food and social and recreational facilities—may be prohibitive in cost, Dr. Lyman believes.

The best answer, he said, is frozen sleep. The voyager would not need food, oxygen or companionship. His ship would be operated by electronic brains and he would be revived by an automatic warming process as he neared his destination.

Within two weeks, Dr. Lyman and his associates will begin dunking mice in dry ice-and-alcohol baths to reduce their temperatures to as low as 100 degrees below fahrenheit.

"Experiments with monkeys have shown that their temperature can be lowered to 39.2 degrees for up to two hours without detectable after-effects," Dr. Lyman said. "The monkeys, however, were merely in a stage of hibernation.

"What we want to do is stop the life processes completely, then resume them at will.

"If we can do this with man, he will arrive at a distant star — which might take him several normal lifetimes to reach—not one day older than he was when he left earth."

Another frozen sleep would bring the space traveler home years or even centuries after his departure, said Dr. Lyman, and he would have aged only for the period between frozen sleeps.

Makarios May Block Quick Cyprus Pact

By GARVEN HUDGINS

LONDON (AP) — A roundtable conference on the plan to give independence to Cyprus opened today amid indications that Archbishop Makarios might block speedy agreement.

Greek Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis hurriedly took a plane from Athens for London. Foreign Minister Evanghelos Averoff reportedly appealed by telephone to his chief to intercede with the Greek Orthodox archbishop who is the unchallenged leader of the 400,000 Greek Cypriots.

Averoff, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu agreed Monday night on the basic principles of the independence plan approved last week in Zurich by Karamanlis and Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes.

Fazil Kutchuk, leader of the 100,000 Turkish Cypriots, was believed certain to accept the plan.

Menderes already was on his way to London by special plane to be on hand for the windup of the conference.

But Makarios apparently was balking at a promise that Britain, after granting freedom to a republic of Cyprus, would retain sovereignty over the military bases she has established during her 81-year rule of the island.

The archbishop also was believed objecting to the restriction that Cyprus must forever remain independent and could never unite with Greece. Makarios had led the Greek Cypriots' original demand for Enosis—union with Greece—which the Greek government finally abandoned in hopes of ending the nearly four years of bloodshed on the island.

If all goes well, Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis and Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes are expected to attend the final stage of the conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The agreement reached in Zurich reportedly provides that Cyprus should be an independent state under a Greek Cypriot president. Makarios is seen as a strong possibility for the post. A Turkish Cypriot vice president will have certain veto powers to enable him to protect the rights of the Turkish minority on the island.

The two communities will have separate legislative chambers for community affairs, and a single assembly will make laws for the island as a whole.

LATE BULLETIN

LONDON (AP) — The British Press Assn. said an aircraft carrying Turkish Prime Minister Adnan Menderes crashed today.

The crash occurred near England's Gatwick Airport. The place carrying Menderes to London for talks on Cyprus had been diverted from London to Gatwick Airport because of poor visibility.

First reports from Gatwick did not give the fate of the Turkish leader and his party.

Safecracker Blamed For Fire In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A fire apparently started by a frustrated safe cracker caused damage to six downtown stores early today.

Over 100 firemen battled the blaze in a three - story clothing store near the intersection of Main and Texas, across from the Rice Hotel.

Police said the fire was set after burglars attempted to break into a 500-pound safe.

Cold Front Over State

By The Associated Press

A cold front hung poised over Texas Tuesday and colder weather was forecast for nearly all the state.

The front stretched on an east-west line over northern Oklahoma early Tuesday. Forecasts called for it to get colder in the Panhandle and South Plains Tuesday night and over northern Texas Wednesday.

However, the front was stalled out early Tuesday and the Dallas Weather Bureau said it might take longer for it to move down.

Patchy fog was reported along the middle and upper sections of the Texas coast with clear skies elsewhere. Temperatures ranged from 61 degrees at Midland to 43 at Texarkana before dawn. No rain was reported.

Springlike weather covered Texas Monday without a drop of rain reported. Monday's highs varied from 85 at Wink and Childress to 63 at Galveston.

Arson Suspected In Houston School Fire

HOUSTON (AP) —Fire caused an estimated $100,000 damage to a public school last night and firemen say it was the work of an arsonist.

Deputy Fire Chief Joe Loubue said one fire was set in a wooden building behind the Mabel Belle Wesley Elementary School building but that it went out before firemen arrived.

May Shift Parley Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported today to feel that John Foster Dulles should stay on as secretary of state as long as he feels able to carry on and wants to do so.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Republican chief in the house, told newsmen about the President's view.

He said the matter of Dulles' condition was discussed briefly at the President's regular weekly meeting with GOP congressional leaders. Dulles is in Walter Reed Army Medical Center suffering from a recurrence of cancer.

In response to a question, Halleck said at first there will be no firm determination for several days as to whether Dulles will be able to continue in the top State Department post. A moment later, after a whispered conversation with White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, Halleck amended that to a few weeks.

Halleck said that Eisenhower personally feels that so long as Dulles "is able and wants to carry on, the President of the United States will avail himself of his services."

Responding to other questions, Halleck said he was talking about Dulles staying on as secretary of state rather than in some advisory capacity.

But Halleck added that Dulles, so long as his condition permits, would be just as valuable as an adviser as he would be as secretary.

Keeping Dulles on the job would fit in with an apparently developing move to shift a foreign ministers meeting on the German problem from Paris to Washington.

Earlier tentative plans had been to hold the Paris session next month. Now the talk is about holding it here about April 1.

A major factor in such a shift would be to permit Dulles to take part, if he is able, without a long journey.

The meeting of officials from the United States, Britain, France and West Germany had been arranged to work toward new proposals on German unification and European security in advance of a projected conference with the Soviet Union — in late April or early May.

If his health will permit, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles plans to take an active role in the shaping of Western policy. He will be confined to Walter Reed Hospital for several weeks, at least, undergoing cancer treatment.

Diplomats said that a meeting of his Western colleagues in Washington rather than Paris would permit some consultation with Dulles as well as with other top U.S. officials.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe told reporters at the State Department Monday it was also possible that preliminary work of diplomatic experts would not be completed in time for the suggested mid-March assembly in Paris.

Foreign ministers of all the 15 North Atlantic Treaty countries are due here April 2 for a 10th anniversary celebration of the creation of NATO, and the meeting could be held about that time.

State Department press officer Lincoln White announced Monday night that a special assistant, Joseph N. Greene Jr., had spent a half hour with Dulles and gave him "a brief oral summary of current developments in international affairs."

Dulles, who underwent a hernia operation last Friday, left his bed and sat in a chair for about 30 minutes during the day.

White said that Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Walter Reed commandant, had called in Dr. Gordon Zubrod, clinical director of the National Cancer Institute. Dr. Zubrod will be consulted on the treatment and presumably will try to determine the extent of the abdominal glandular cancer found as a result of the hernia operation.

Dr. Heaton expects to start radiation treatment later this week. There were indications it will involve use of a huge 4,000-pound X-ray machine which can shoot out a million volts of energy.

That machine, normally used for deep-seated cancers, is one of three available at the Army hospital.

Fluvanna Has 5 Candidates

FLUVANNA (Spl.) — A petition has been presented to J. Ray Martin, county judge, to place five names on the ballot for the April 4 election to fill two places on the Fluvanna school board.

The candidates are Weldon Key, Bill Jones, A. W. Scrivner, Paul Turner, and Robert Jones.

The two members whose terms are expiring, James Stansell and Burl Belew, have indicated they will not be candidates.

Members whose terms do not expire this year are Dee Pylant, Hurston Lemons, Joe Landrum, Bob E. Warren, and Dean Ball.

Signers on the petition were Landrum, Stansell, Pylant, Lemons, and Belew.

Ramsey Cold To Any Tax Measure

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Prospect that the Senate will give any House-passed tax proposal a chilly if not downright cold reception has been underlined by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

He emphasized his position that any spending demand requiring a tax would have to be a "must" to get his support. He spoke out in a televised news conference last night, while House committees continued to wrestle with money matters.

Sent to a House subcommittee was a franchise tax revision proposal designed to erase 29 million dollars of the state's current 65 million general fund deficit.

Chairman V. L. Ramsey of the Revenue and Taxation Committee said that there is "plenty of time" to get tax bills through his committee. He said there was no significance in the fact that revenue measures are being sent to subcommittees without instructions on when to report back.

The lieutenant governor said it was much too early to give any idea of how the Senate would greet tax proposals. These must originate in the House.

Spending requests held the legislative spotlight as the House Appropriations and Senate Finance Committees held lengthy sessions. Floor work in both branches of the Legislature was a minimum. Very few bills have been processed by committees, leaving the calendars virtually clear.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee scheduled a 2 p.m. hearing on a measure urged by Gov. Price Daniel as another point in his deficit-erasing program. It would give the state use of dormant bank accounts and other apparently-abandoned funds.

Tax and economy talk was heard in almost every committee session.

Rep. R. H. Cory's proposal to set up a 12-member, four-year commission to study the executive branch of the state government was urged by him as an economy move that could save the state millions of dollars. Some members of the House State Affairs Committee which heard it last night questioned the prospects of an appropriation of $100,000 for it. The measure went to subcommittee under a standing rule.

The Senate Education Committee heard J. R. Sorrell, chairman of the University of Texas board of regents, say yesterday that the public would support a broad-based tax to help finance higher education.

Sorrell said by a broad-based tax that he meant "a general sales tax, a corporation tax, a personal income tax, or any combination." He said the university would back the Legislature in seeking to pass such a tax bill.

Plan Effort To Preserve Court

Efforts are underway here by the Chamber of Commerce to preserve the 132nd Judicial District of Scurry and Borden Counties.

The judicial district, which was set up only on a temporary basis, will die in 1961 under the present districting.

The chamber's civic affairs committee, headed by D. R. Scott, has begun work in attempt to have the district preserved.

The local committee's attempt will be to have the district kept within its present boundaries of Scurry and Borden Counties or with the possible addition of another county.

Several counties in this area of West Texas are in large judicial districts, with one judge serving four or five counties.

If the district here is allowed to die, Scurry County will probably revert back to its old district, the 32nd, with Nolan and Mitchell Counties. Borden County would probably be included in a district west of here.

The temporary district here was first organized because of the heavy local caseload crowding the docket in the 32nd District. The district came into being in March, 1951.

The district was to expire in 1957, but it was extended to 1961.

Sterling Williams is judge of the present district, and Wayland G. Holt is district attorney. Court is held in both Scurry and Borden Counties.

Since continued growth is expected in the Snyder area the chamber committee said it feels a separate district will be needed here to handle the civil and criminal dockets.

Should Scurry County revert back to the 32nd District that district's population would be two to three times as large as the population of the 132nd District, and crowded dockets would prevail, preventing speedy action on litigation in court.

County Funds Are Allocated

Allocatior was made yesterday by the county commissioners court on the balance of previously-unallocated funds in the county's permanent improvement fund.

The balance of the fund was $7,827.43. The court set out in its action that $1,127.43 would be used in precinct 1 for the new county park in north Snyder, $1,200 in precinct 3 for air conditioning in the new Ira Community Center, $2,500 in precinct 4 to help finance the building of a community center at Dunn, and $2,500 for precinct 2, still unallocated.

The park in north Snyder already had $30,000 budgeted for use, while some $28,000 had been spent from the budget and from unallocated permanent improvement funds on the Ira Community Center. The county has budgeted $13,000 for the Dunn center, and $2,500 will be used in that center if needed.

The allocation was made on motion of J. Ray Martin, county judge, seconded by Pat Moore, commissioner of precinct 3. Those two and J. C. Massingill, commissioner of precinct 4, favored the motion, while T. B. Knight, commissioner of precinct 1, and Bill Herring, commissioner of precinct 2, abstained from voting on the motion.

Election Law Change Studied

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Marshall O. Bell's plan to hold primary elections in May and three bills aimed at plugging loopholes in the absentee ballot law were under study today by a House subcommittee.

The measures went to subcommittee automatically following public hearings yesterday by the House Eelections Committee.

Bell said his plan to hold the primaries on the first and fourth Tuesdays in May would get the voters to act before they leave on vacations.

Primaries are now held on Saturdays in July and August. Bell said this made sense in the days when most Texans lived on farms and needed dry weather to get to the polls. Now he said, most people live in the city and the farmers have 40,000 miles of farm roads.

Opponents said moving the primaries up and switching the day to Tuesday would make it difficult for working people, mothers and farmers to participate in politics.

Brown County Democratic Chairman Thomas H. Taylor said earlier primaries would increase the size of the vote because, "the nearer it is to taxpaying time, the more people will vote."

Rep. Harold Coley of Conroe said his bill would prevent abuses of absentee voting such as he said occurred last year in Montgomery County. The measure would require voter to have absentee ballots sent to their permanent home address, business address or temporary home address. Coley said if a lot of ballots were sent to the same place, it would become apparent quickly to the county clerk.

The only qualifications for voting by mail would be disability or illness, absence from the state or military service. All other absentee voters would have to vote in the county clerk's office. The period for absentee voting would be increased from 20 to 30 days.

A bill by Rep. Herman Yezak of Brenham would require that ballots cast in the county clerk's office be kept with those sent in by mail, to make it possible for improper ballots to be challenged without a formal election contest.

Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Angelo told the committee his bill would remove the requirement for statements on the absentee ballot application be notarized. He said some notries were charging as much as $5 for certifying an application. The sworn statement isn't necessary, he said, since violations are covered by other statutes.

A bill which Rep. Charles Sandahl of Austin said would clarify conflicts between the election code and penal code was approved by the committee. The bill covered reporting of campaign expenses.

Foundation Board Hears Panel Reports

Reports from several committees and from individuals working on industrial prospects were heard yesterday by the board of directors of the Scurry County Industrial Foundation in its first monthly meeting of this year.

Mark McLaughlin, president, headed the meeting.

Reports were made by individual board members on three industrial prospects. None of the three had indicated an interest yet in locating in Snyder, but all were prospects which might be contacted for possible consideration of Snyder.

A report was made to the board on the status of the natural resources survey made here last year by the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas at the request of the foundation and the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The survey is complete, but the final report is still being edited before being sent here. Preliminary reports show little evidence of resources which could be used commercially here which are not already being developed or not already tied up. The survey did not cover oil.

A report was made by Roy Dunlap on a recent industrial conference held by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Attending the conference from Snyder were Dunlap, Bill Brown, and Grady Elder.

Nine-Foot Python Found In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A nine-foot python was found on a downtown street early today but it was harmless.

Police said the snake had died only a short time before it was found in front of a department store.

City zoo officials said no python had escaped. Police records indicated no snake had been reported lost, stolen, or missing.

Drug Addict Put On FBI 'Wanted' Roll

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Midwestern badman described as a drug addict and a heavy drinker was added today to the FBI's roll of "10 most wanted men."

The fugitive is John Thomas Freeman, 40, who has a 22-year crime record and who, the FBI said, has been involved in vicious knife assaults in the past. The bureau said he is probably armed and should be considered extremely dangerous.

Freeman, who has a host of aliases, is currently listed as a suspect in a series of robberies around Lebo and Topeka, Kan.

Freeman, believed to be native of Oklahoma City, has been in police difficulties on a variety of charges since 1936, and has served numerous prison terms.

He is of medium weight and height with dark hair, gray eyes, ruddy complexion, and two scars at the left side of his mouth. Freeman also wears a variety of tattoos on both arms.

Guterma's Wife Is Robbed Of Jewels

NEW YORK (AP) — Two men posing as FBI agents invaded international financier Alexander Guterma's hotel suite Monday night, tied up his wife and 14-year-old daughter, and escaped with $60,000 in jewels.

Guterma, 44, free on bail on charges of securities law violations, was not in the suite. Earlier this week Guterma yielded control of his vast industrial empire to Hal Roach Jr.

The men bound and gagged their victims, then fled.

Mrs. Guterma worked free and called police. Guterma arrived soon after.

Part of the jewelry was insured.

A taxicab driver, who picked up two men with a small case near the hotel, identified one police photograph and said a second picture appeared to be that of the other man.

Glass Firms Expected To Resume Work

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. pushed preparations today to resume normal production following the end of a 134-day strike of 13,000 employes at nine plants.

Workers, balloting in seven locals of the United Glass & Ceramic Workers Union, voted Monday to accept a memorandum of agreement that union and company negotiators initialed Feb. 11 in Philadelphia.

Unofficial estimates are that workers lost 30 million dollars in pay and the company dropped as much as 75 million dollars in sales.

Chrysler Corp. laid off 14,800 auto workers when exhausted glass supplies slowed auto production. The firm said the first of its furloughed workers will be recalled this week.

Union President Ralph Reiser said the long dispute officially ended Monday night at 8 o'clock. The firm said the first of its furloughed workers will be recalled shortly after. Normal production is expected by Wednesday, the firm said.

Left for the board of arbitration to decide are issues over what the company calls overmanned production staffs, operating speeds, incentive systems, and seniority programs.

Wages had no part in the bitter dispute. Pre-strike agreements on pay scales were applied for the first time when work resumed. The new contract will run through Feb. 15, 1961.

The wage hikes provide 12 cents an hour more each year for the five and maintenance employes. Incentive jobs will pay eight cents an hour more each year for the next two years.

The old pay scales were not disclosed.

Both union and company officials hailed the settlement as a new era in labor relations at the firm's nine plants in Cumberland, Md.; Clarksburg, W.Va.; Mt.Vernon, Ohio; Crystal City, Mo.; Henryetta, Okla., and two each at Creighton and Ford City, Pa.

Broad-Based Tax Backed By University

AUSTIN (AP)—Official University of Texas backing for a broad-based tax — such as a general sales or income levy — to support higher education spending was on the record today.

J. R. orrell of Corpus Christi, chairman of the board of regents, told the Senate Finance Committee yesterday he also believed the public would support such a levy for improved state colleges and universities.

Sorrell defined a broad-based tax as "a general sales tax, a corporation tax, a personal income tax, or any combination."

"I can't see how higher education can be financed without some broad based tax. I haven't seen anything else to do the job?" Sorrell told the committee.

"Do you think this is an important enough problem that the Legislature has to buckle up and go?" asked Sen. Willam S. Fly of Victoria, Chairman.

"I think everyone does," replied Sorrell.

President Logan Wilson told the committee he thought the recommendations of the commission on higher education were "very realistic and very conservative." He asked for more money for intramural athletics and student medical treatments, which the commission suggested should not be financed with state tax funds.

The vice president and provost, Dr. Harry Ransom, said the commission's recommendations were fair "but not enough to put the university among the schools of eminence."

Nixon Is Proud Of Conservative Tag

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon says Republicans should wear the conservative tag proudly.

"I don't think we could make a greater mistake than to say that because some people don't like being called conservative, the Republican party should stop being conservative," Nixon told 1,100 cheering party workers Monday. "We should be proud of what we believe."

He spoke at a luncheon honoring retiring GOP County Executive Secretary Orville J. Evans.

Aviation Panel To Map Plans

Plans for a preliminary conference with officials of an airline in view of possible service to Snyder will be made by the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce in a meeting at 10 a.m. Thursday.

The committee, headed by Bill Atwood, is spearheading a drive to secure an airline carrier to serve Snyder, replacing Continental Air Lines, which dropped Snyder and several other West Texas cities in its attempt to become a trunk line carrier only.

The conference, set for next Monday, is with officials of Central Air Lines. In the conference, the local group will determine whether that line is interested in serving Snyder.

Central serves several Midwest points and has a new route into Plainview and Lubbock from Amarillo.

Members of the aviation committee are Atwood, Sam Joyce, James Rosser, H. C. Denson, Ben Weathers, G. B. Clark, Jr., Dan Warren, Noble Young, Joe Alexander, Dale Walton, and Lee D. Stone.

Gas Roars From Well

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Gas roared out of a wildcat test 2½ miles north of here last night. Workmen curbed it after a battle of several hours and started pumping in drilling mud.

Kenneth Grissom, Nederland, Tex., superintendent of the drilling crew, said there was danger the gas might blow out again.

Patrolmen halted traffic on several miles of the Port Arthur-Beaumont highway for more than an hour because of fire danger. Planes landing at the nearby Jefferson County airport were cautioned to avoid the area.

Grissom said a strong north wind helped dissipate the escaping gas and possibly prevented a fire.

The well is being drilled by Keredith & Co. for the Kilroy Co. of Texas and M.P.S. Production Co. about 1½ miles southeast of the New Port Acres gas field.

The blowout occurred as a five-man crew prepared to couple on a new section of pipe, Grissom said. They scrambled quickly to safety.

The heavy rumble was heard at Port Arthur and Beaumont as the gas broke loose.

Automobile Is Damaged By Fire

A 1954 Cadillac was damaged by fire 15 miles east of here at Midway on the Roby highway about 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The car is owned by Jerry Brunson, whose address was not learned by city firemen who went to the scene.

Firemen siad the fire had been put out before they arrived by a trucker who had a fire extinguisher.

Edmondson Sees Victory On Repeal

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Gov. J. Howard Edmondson appeared confident of victory today as the battle lines formed for a free-for-all fight over liquor prohibition repeal in the Oklahoma House.

The countdown still hasn't started, but House leaders said the blastoff may come tomorrow.

Edmondson would not predict what the vote will be in the House but he said he was well satisfied with results of his conference with representatives.

The governor continued to meet individually or with small groups of House members, seeking support of resolutions which call for special elections April 7 on repeal and county option.

Both resolutions passed the Senate last week after feverish debate.

Edmondson hopes to push the Senate resolutions through the House without amendments, so the vote will be assured. But he will have to ward off attacks from both drys and repealists favoring state-owned stores.

A bloc in the House thinks the resolution should be changed to provide for state ownership rather than private liquor stores.

The repeal resolutions now are before the House Constitutional Amendments Committee.

JUDY BROMAN

Miss Broman Named To Choral Group

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Miss Judith Broman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Broman, 3001 39th, Snyder, has been named a member of the Christian College Double Sextette for the second semester of the 1958-59 school year.

Miss Broman is a junior (first year student) at the junior college for women.

The Double Sextette, one of the college's most outstanding musical organizations, has made several extended tours in the Midwest and appearances on radio and television as well as at schools, churches and civic club meetings. The group was first organized by Mrs. Anna Froman Hetzler, mother of singing star Jane Froman and a former voice teacher at Christian. Miss Froman, an alumna of the college, formerly sang with the Sextette.

The group has been scheduled for Columbia and campus appearances and will make an out-of-town tour in the spring.

WOMEN

Women's Medical Aux. Offers Nurse Scholarship

The Women's Auxiliary to the Canyon Reef Medical Society is offering a nursing scholarship in the amount of $200.00 toward the education of a senior girl who meets the following qualifications:

Fifteen credits upon graduation including, English 3, mathematics 2, history 2, science 2, (at least chemistry preferred).

Grades in upper 1-3 of class. Age 17 years or above before Sept. 1, of following year. Unmarried. Good physical health and emotional stability.

The nursing school is to be the girl's own choice, however, it must be a 3 or 4 year school, accredited by the National League of Nursing Education.

Member of Future Nurse's Club. One semester of hospital employment. These two items are preferred but not compulsory.

A governing board, consisting of 31 local people not connected with the Medical Auxiliary has been appointed to review all applications and do whatever investigating they feel is necessary, after which they will designate a recipient and one alternate. Their decision is final.

The money will be paid directly to the nursing school for tuition as needed. The student receiving the scholarship is under no obligation to its donors except to use the best of her ability to be an outstanding nurse.

The deadline for filing the applications is Friday, February 20th. The applications can be obtained at Mr. Jackson's room at the high school and also returned back to him.

Valentine Tea Given Saturday

A Valentine tea was given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Howard Milburn, Mrs. Elmo Weyel and Mrs. Robert E. Dawson in the Dawson home at 2911 Avenue U.

The refreshment table was laid with white linen, centered with an arrangement of red carnations and appointments were of silver. An attractive Valentine tree graced the living room, with other decor carrying out the Valentine colors.

Mrs. Charles Spivey, Mrs. John Reaves and Mrs. Bob Hargrove poured. Others in the houseparty included Miss Candy Weyel, Mmes. F. G. Hoefer, Howard Harrington, Robert Patterson and Harold Lacik.

Approximately 100 guests attended.

Snyder Girls Receive Nurses Caps

Two Snyder girls were candidates in a capping ceremony recently held at Park Cities Baptist Church in Dallas. Miss Faye Pannell, Dean of Texas Woman's University, College of Nursing, capped the sophomore class of which Miss Grimmett and Miss Wright are members.

Rita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grimmett, 1301 Avenue R, and Miss Wright is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wright, 2308 Thirty-second Street.

Both students are 1957 graduates of Snyder High School and entered nurses training together and have been roommates since enrollment.

A reception was held in Louis Olsan Memorial Room of Parkland Memorial Hospital following the capping program.

The main address of the evening was given by Dr. Norman Biggs, professor of anatomy and physiology at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School.

Young People Honored With Party, Saturday

The Willard Gladson home, 2705 West Thirty-fifth Street was the setting for a Valentine banquet for the young people of the Northside Baptist Church, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Approximately 53 young people attended.

Joe Fowler acted as master of ceremonies, and the invocation was given by Eugene Glasscock.

Tables were laid with red and white linens and held arrangements of white and red carnations. Following an enjoyable meal a short musical program was presented. Betty Snider sang and Jackie Dean gave a reading. A duet by Vondell Sumruld and Judith Gladson was also given.

Sweetheart speaker of the evening was Eld. E. E. Swearingen of Texarkana.

Teachers and officers of the senior and intermediate departments attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Glasscock, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gladson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Glasscock, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Glasscock, Mrs. Jack Dean, Mrs. Cecil Caswell and Pearl Claxton.

Union Baptist Church Banquet Held Friday

UNION (Spl.) — The annual Sweetheart Banquet of the Union Baptist Church, honoring the young people, was held in Fellowship hall Friday night.

Women of the church were in charge of decorations and prepared the food. Approximately 43 young people were present.

The banquet theme was "Youth Holds the Key", with the following program carried out:

Stanley Woolever, toastmaster; Rev. Roy Womble, prayer, "Keys to Fellowship"; Mrs. Carla Clark, keys to fellowship; Sandra Cooper, keys to response; Inice Womble, keys to the accordian; "Eat", keys to fulfillment; Clyde and Pat Wilson of Midland, keys to music; and Ronald Smith from Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, keys to youth for Christ.

Tea Party For Cat Raises Funds For March Of Dimes

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — A goldfish with a $10 bill.

A poodle flying in from Dallas with a check for $160.

The billygoat that ate his hat.

It sounds like something out of "Alice in Wonderland" — a jet-age Mad Hatter party.

But it's only the annual Animal Tea Party given by a 12-year-old yellow cat named Rufus.

Rufus, says his mistress, Lorraine Carr, doesn't give the party for fun. In the last five years, Rufus' animal parites for the March of Dimes have produced $3,000 and an iron lung.

Miss Carr is a columnist for the Santa Fe New Mexican. Rufus, a purebred, 16-pound Persian who hates fish, belonged to an artist who gave the animal away. Rufus finally wound up at Miss Carr's door.

"I took him in to feed him, five years ago and just 10 days after I buried my husband. The cat and I were both lonely."

She didn't mean to keep him "but after he ate, he came to the fireplace where I sat and put his paws around my neck and purred as if he might break. His paws have been around my neck ever since."

Personal Interest

Miss Carr had a special reason to be interested in the March of Dimes.

"I lost my little boy and only child with polio many years and many tears ago."

Rufus' mistress always wanted to fight polio. "But I was a poor gal and only could do publicity for the drive."

Then, someone sent Rufus a Christmas card with a $1 bill inside. Miss Carr was sitting with friends when she opened it. She announced that Rufus' dollar would go to the polio drive.

The friends started a collection — from their pets to Rufus — right there and collected $30.

Miss Carr started listing the names of pets who donated to the drive in her column. That year, she collected $279.

The next year, the Animal Tea Party began.

"It was a snowy day, but here came school kids with dogs dressed in blue jeans like ball players or like clowns.

"There was a pet rooster; a goldfish in a bowl that brought $10; a donkey tied outside with another $10; cats, dogs and pet turtles."

Mops Not Required

The following year, the tea party was moved to the big La Fonda Hotel, when the hotel management sighed "O.K., Lorraine, you can have the Santa Fe Room and we'll send a mopping crew in behind you."

Miss Carr proudly reports no mishaps at all so far "and not a single fight."

A guest of honor that year was Little Folk, a French poodle flown in from Dallas with a $160 check from her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Morten.

Santa Fe service clubs presented Rufus with a portable iron lung, which Rufus donated to the county.

Other guests on Rufus list of friends have included squirrels, monkeys, rabbits — and the billygoat that ate his straw hat and ruined his appetite for the refreshments.

Refreshments usually consist of dog biscuits for the pups, catnip for the feline guests, and to the others according to their tastes.

For the chaperones, only one dish is in style. Coffee and — what else? — animal crackers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lindsey and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lindsey were in Big Spring Thursday.

Spoil A Child

Allow a child to do as he pleases without regard to the interests or comfort of others and you start him off on a lifetime of punishment. According to Margaret Spader, home service editor, young children need and welcome the firm support of adults who will not let them behave in antisocial ways. Children should be taught very young what is right as well as what is wrong. It will save punishing and guilt feelings in the years to come.

Gift Tea Honors D. Thompson

Miss Doris Thompson, bride-elect of Charles Young was honored with a gift tea Feb. 12th in the home of Mrs. M. H. Roe, 3107 Avenue U.

Miss Thompson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thompson, 3008 Thirty-eighth Street. Mr. Young is of Big Spring and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Young of Laredo.

Bone is a fashion color you'll see a lot of this spring. It's exactly what the name indicates: the shade of bleached bone.

J. M. Kayser Guest Speaker For Opti-Mrs.

The Opti-Mrs. Club of Snyder was entertained by J. M. Kayser with a talk on Alaska at a luncheon held Friday at Mary Lynn's Tea Room.

Following an introduction by Mary Ruth Worthington, Mr. Kayser, assisted by Bob Clinton, pointed out by map the sections of Alaska that he had visited, then proceeded to show color slides of his trip.

Sitting under a Pecan tree in Ft. Worth many years ago Mr. Kayser expressed the desire to attend Texas Tech, visit Mexico City and go to Alaska. "I guess I'm ready to die now," he laughed, "because I've fulfilled that childhood dream." Mr. Kayser is at present assistant principal at Snyder High School.

Although Mr. Kayser worked for the railroad and as a fisherman while in Alaska, the greater portion of his time was spent, along with his wife, as a rural schoolteacher in Ekook, an Eskimo village in western Alaska.

The first snow falls in October and is still there in May, the Opti-Mrs. were told. The average temperatures are 15 degrees below in January and 55 degrees in the summer. Mr. Kayser went on to say that the Alaskans can not stand the cold any better than anyone else, but on the other hand they cannot bear hot weather nearly as well.

A short business session was held following the program. Those attending the luncheon meeting were: Carmen Ivison, Daphne Grice, Joyce Francis, Mildred Tracy, Frances Wharry, Mary Kate Hunt, Mureen Herod, Helen Clemmer, Mary Ruth Worthington, Texas Dryden and guests Ellie Dryden, Mr. Kayser and Mr. Clinton.

Red Chinese Waste Manpower

By Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar
Copyright, 1959,
by The Associated Press

A major aspect of the Chinese scene that cannot escape one is that the whole nation is at work, hard at work, 24 hours a day.

Three shifts in a textile mill or a steel plant are understandable for technical reasons. But in Communist China people do everything on a day and night basis.

I was told about this by my Chinese friends and I did not believe it. But it was brought home to me at 1 a.m. one morning when I was driven to the Peiping hotel, where I was staying, after a dinner with some Chinese officials.

I saw that both sides of the road were brightly lit by a million electric lights strung in festoons as in a fairyland. I was told that these lights meant that people were working. I stopped the car and inquired. It was true.

Some 2,000 workers nearby were building the new Peiping Opera House so that it might be ready for the 10th anniversary of the revolution. The work had been going on night and day on a three-shift basis.

It was the same story in other cities. In one suburb of Peiping alone, where a new cultural center is being created, I counted some 18 massive structures being built around the clock. They will house the various technological research institutes that will carry on research in steel, oil, water conservation, etc. These institutes are usually completed in three or four months.

I have visited many parts of the world—in Asia, Europe and the Americas—but I have not seen anywhere men and women of all ages work this hard day and night. This tremendous effort is not confined to any particular segment of the economy but embraces practically every field of human endeavor.

Not only do the Chinese work all the time, but they work in massive numbers. You see 20 people pulling a loaded cart—some pulling with ropes like animals, some pushing from behind. One would expect, in a "People's Democracy," that people would not be substituted for animals. But I have even seen men and women pulling a plough.

The reason for this phenomenon is that people are at the beck and call of the regime and need not be paid high wages. So the economy can afford to waste human labor which, in terms of human dignity and monetary value, means nothing. What could be accomplished by two people is done by 20.

And yet, paradoxically, everyone from the minister and departmental head down will tell you seriously that China is underpopulated and that there is an acute labor shortage.

A further new aspect of the Chinese scene concerns the position of women. Their traditional role was confined to the bearing and rearing of numerous children. The wife had no rights except as the mother of sons. In times of famine it was the girl baby or the young daughter who was sold to the landlord or to those who ran the houses of illfame.

All this has been radically changed. The Chinese woman has become the equal of man with a vengeance, legally, politically, morally. The double standard of morality has gone. There is no prostitution. The Chinese woman is no longer under the supervision of her father, husband, or son. There is no job that is not open to her.

I have seen women in steel mills, textile factories, heavy tools plants; they drive huge lathes, operate two-ton hammers, control traffic in big cities, run cultural centers, obtain an abortion or a divorce without too much bother, and can and do denounce their husbands at party meetings if they suspect them of rightist and bourgeois tendencies.

The Chinese woman has finally come into her own. But on the debit side, she has ceased to be feminine. Not even a hint of cosmetics or the slightest bit of jewelry adorn her. Millions of women are on the march, going somewhere, or returning from work grim and serious, earnest and purposeful—all in padded blue uniforms with nothing to distinguish them from men.

And the final striking aspect in the New China is cleanliness. Public health and sanitation are attended to with positive vigor. There are literally no flies, no rats, no dogs, and no sparrows in China. (The destruction of sparrows was not to improve public health but to save grain, which the sparrows would otherwise eat.)

Nobody any longer spits anywhere he likes. Streets and pavements are all swept clean — and they stay clean, morning, noon and night.

I did not see a single Chinese throw a banana skin or a cigarette butt on floor or pavement. Hundreds go about with white cotton masks covering their mouths and noses, as they might sneeze and spread colds.

At an exhibition in Harbin I was shown a peasant's invention called a rat detector. It is like a stethoscope, with a small amplifying motor mechanism in the middle and long tapering antennae. You put the "stethoscope" to your ears and place the ends into the suspected rat hole and you can hear the slightest noise of the remotest rat.

How are the streets and sidewalks kept clean? Apart from the regular methods employed by other countries (providing efficient sanitary staff and appealing to the civic conscience of the people) China uses the free and patriotic services of children between 8 and 17. These youngsters, called "Young Pioneers," in red scarves (the Communist equivalent of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides) stand on the pavements morning and evening and shout through cardboard megaphones, "Don't spit, don't spit" in a monotonous chorus.

In a crowded street in Peiping I saw an old man spit on the pavement. A young Pioneer immediately took him by the arm and asked him, "Comrade, what will Chairman Mao say when he hears that you spat?" The old man was unconscious of the act but offered profuse apologies and disappeared into the crowd promising better behavior worthy of a comrade-citizen in future.

Six Student Musicians To Galveston

Six Snyder High School students will go to Galveston tomorrow, where they will participate during the remainder of the week in all-state band and choir activities.

The all-state choir members from Snyder are Vondell Sumruls, junior, second soprano; Jimmy Guy, a senior tenor; and Gay Nell Nicks, a senior alto who is an alternate.

The all-state band members are Phillip Smartt, junior alto sax player; Ray Lashaway, junior baritone sax player; and Delbert Lloyd, senior clarinetist. Smartt and Lloyd are on the all-state list for the second year.

During the rest of the week the all-state band, choir, and orchestra will rehearse under outstanding directors, who will lead them in a concert at 8 p.m. Saturday at Moody Center in Galveston.

Leading the band, which will have 110 pieces, will be Maj. Chester E. Whiting, director of the U. S. Army Field Band. Directing the choir will be Dr. Charles Hirt, choral music director at the University of Southern California. The choir will have about 250 voices.

The all-state activities are held in connection with the annual convention of the Texas Music Educators Association, which sponsors the event. The students were chosen in tryouts earlier in the school year.

Faculty members who will accompany the students and will attend the convention are Melvin Montgomery, school instrumental music director; Bob Clinton, school choral music director; Mrs. Nan Lee, junior high choral director; Tim Dennis, junior high band director; Bill Green, elementary band director; and five elementary public school music teachers, Jo Ann Shows of West Elementary, Lynn Reedy of North Elementary, Patricia Yarborough of East Elementary, Roger Gee of Central Elementary, and Mrs. Gwen McLaughlin of Northeast Elementary.

Castro Takes Up Premier's Duties

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro swung quickly into action as Cuba's premier today, officially charged with the responsibility as well as the power to carry out the social revolution he shaped as a soldier.

The bearded rebel fighter's first moves as head of the government were to slash in half his own pay and those of Cabinet ministers, approve reopening of gambling casinos and establish a new national lottery.

No date was set immediately for reopening the casinos, long one of Cuba's most alluring tourist attractions. The plush parlors were closed with the flight into exile of ex-President Fulgencio Batista. Cuban players will be barred and the tables will be under government control. Under Batista some were operated by American racketeers.

With Castro presiding, the Cabinet sat into early morning and voted to suspend the long-time Cuban practice of "secret expenses" for government officials and to set up an effective civil service system.

Castro took over the premiership Monday night disclaiming political ambitions to become president.

Jury Expected To Get Beck's Tax Evasion Case Tomorrow

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The income tax evasion trial of Dave Beck, 63, once one of the most powerful men in the U.S. labor movement, is expected to go to a federal jury of eight men and four women Wednesday.

The government spent 57 days, entered thousands of exhibits and put 115 witnesses on the stand in its effort to prove the former president of the Teamsters Union evaded $240,000 in income taxes for 1950-53. Total cost of the trial itself has been estimated at more than $203,000.

After the government led its witnesses through lengthy and involved testimony concerning Beck's intricate financial affairs, the defense dramatically closed its case with presentation of only one accountant.

Carl Houston, whose Seattle firm prepared many of Beck's tax returns and helped establish his bookkeeping system, took the stand Monday. He entered into evidence the books of the Beck-owned B & B Co. which handled most of the labor leader's financial transactions.

Government attorneys and Internal Revenue Service agents, who began investigating Beck's personal finances more than five years ago, had never seen the records which have been held by Beck's lawyers as privileged documents.

Houston was on the stand less than an hour as defense attorney Charles Burdell's questions brought out the fact that Beck had little or nothing to do with keeping the books.

Earlier Judge George H. Boldt instructed the jury that Beck could not be held accountable for errors of his accountants or bookkeepers unless "he had knowledge and participated therein."

President and former members of the giant Teamsters organization, members of Beck's family, ex-college football players, secretaries, gardners and grocers have taken the stand since the marathon trial began Nov. 10.

The government based its case on the "net worth" method. Tax experts set Beck's worth by 1953 at $874,127 and his assets at $1,229,193.

Testimony, filling more than 10,000 pages, has covered financial transactions ranging from the weekly grocery bill to awnings for the luxurious Beck home on Lake Washington to real estate manipulations involving thousands of dollars.

Day by day government attorneys introduced testimony designed to show these purchases were made with union funds, money the government contends was taxable.

In its opening statement the defense conceded Beck had borrowed money from the union in a "sloppy manner." Beck repaid $370,000 and the defense contends this payment should be regarded in the net worth compilation as a liability and not taxable.

Beck draws an annual pension of $50,000 from the union.

The portly labor leader was convicted by a Superior Court in Seattle December 1957 on a charge of grand larceny in the embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

Beck was sentenced to not more than 15 years in the Washington state penitentiary. He has appealed.

Girl Bandit Not Pretty This Time

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A girl bandit tried to hold up a storekeeper Monday but for a change the moll wasn't pretty, vivacious, attractive, alluring, demure or anything like that at all.

"She was not a bit good looking," said the intended victim, Benjamin Prince, 65.

A detective said "It's a good thing Prince wrenched the pistol out of her hands and turned it over to us. Otherwise she might go back and shoot him for a remark like that."

The girl fled after Prince disarmed her. Police are still seeking her.

Bids Are Due Tomorrow On Travis Gym

Bids will be opened tonight by the Snyder school board for another of the school district's major projects in its present building program.

The bids will be on remodeling and refurnishing of the junior high gymnasium, which was built in 1936.

Bid opening will also be held for folding bleachers for that gym and for permanent kitchen equipment for the new Lamar Junior High School and the new Stanfield Elementary School.

The board will hold the bid opening session at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The gymnasium project, which has been estimated at about $130,000 in cost, will include a complete redoing of the inside of the gym, using only the present shell. Even some outside doors will be changed.

The gym floor, which now runs east - west, will be changed to north-south. There will be new flooring, new roof, new showers and dressing room facilities, and many other improvements in the gym. Folding bleachers will be used, rather than the present permanent bleachers, to allow more physical education room in the gym.

The kitchen equipment for the two schools is expected to cost about $20,000.

Already either built or under construction now in the present building program are the addition to the school warehouse, addition to the main portion of the Travis Junior High, new buildings for the Stanfield Elementary and Lamar Junior High, and a sprinkler system at the high school.

The last portion of the building program will be an addition to the administration building. Plans are now under study by the board for that project.

Garner, Farley See Demo In White House

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — John Nance Garner and Jim Farley talked politics for an hour yesterday and came up with a prediction that the next Democratic nominee for president will be elected.

Farley, former Democratic national chairman, called on the former vice president while en route to Mexico on a business trip.

"I was pleased to see Mr. Garner looking so well," Farley said. His mind is clear as a bell. We spent an hour in very enjoyable conversation."

Farley called Garner, who was 90 last November, "one of the greatest Americans I have ever known."

There are 4,000 larger in-board cruisers and auxiliary sail boats documented by the U. S. Bureau of Customs in current use.

Refunds May Pare Names

"Don't fret if that tax refund check from Uncle Sam doesn't show your full name," says Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue Service.

Due to mechanical limitations on the high speed electronic machines now printing tax refund checks, only the taxpayer's first initial of the given name, or names, is being used.

In rare instances, where a taxpayer's surname is unusually long, one or more letters at the end of the surname may even be dropped.

The IRS representative advises taxpayers to endorse their refund checks exactly as drawn. Then, if letters are omitted at the end of a surname, a second endorsement should be made showing the full surname.

County Officials Get Certificates

Certificates of commission for county officials were received this week by the county, according to J. Ray Martin, county judge.

The commissions are issued under signatures of Price Daniel, governor, and Zollie Steakley, secretary of state.

The commissions went to those who were elected to offices beginning Jan. 1. They were Martin, Buford Browning, county superintendent; Dan Cotton, county clerk; Mrs. Eunice Weathersbee, district clerk; Mrs. Agnes Brown, county treasurer; B. F. Darby, county surveyor; W. C. Davidson, peace justice of precinct 1; Mrs. Viola Carmichael, peace justice of precinct 2; Dudley Mayes, constable of precinct 4; Bill Herring, commissioner of precinct 2; and J. C. Massingill, commissioner of precinct 4.

The Phoenix, Ariz., Chamber of Commerce reports there are 3,700 real estate agents in the vicinity of the city and the Valley of the Sun. That's one agent for every 156 current residents.

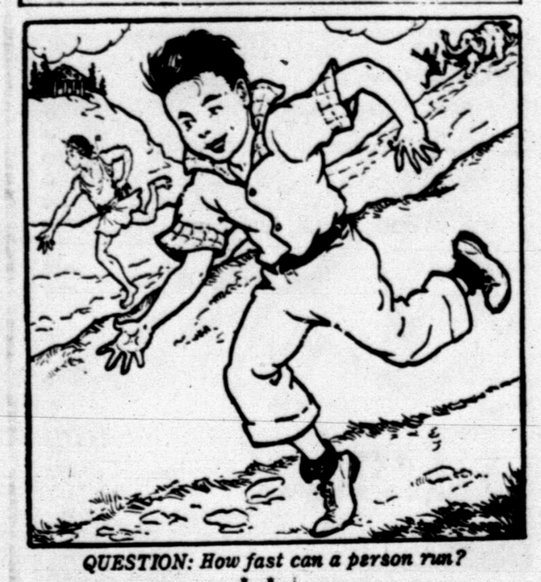

Italian Teacher Is Convicted Of Adultry

PADOVA, Italy (AP)—A school teacher convicted of adultery for receiving artificial insemination without her husband's consent is preparing an appeal to the Supreme Court. The case is the first of its kind in Italy.

Mrs. Carla Casarotti Faedda, 35, was sentenced to 20 days in prison by a Court of Appeals Monday night on adultery charges brought by her husband, Antonio. She testified her 20-month-old daughter was born through artificial insemination without Antonio's knowledge.

The appellate court reversed a lower court ruling in favor of Mrs. Faedda.

Junior Editors Quiz on RUNNING

QUESTION: How fast can a person run?

* * *

ANSWER: From his earliest days, man has been running—for one reason or another. At the beginning, it was a matter of survival. If a man could not fight his enemies with some weapon, the best thing he could do was to start moving and try to out-run his pursuers.

Foot racing as a sport was popular with the ancient Greeks and many of their festivals featured such athletic meets. We have no way of measuring today how fast the ancient Greeks ran, but the object then was the same as it is today: to cover the set distance in the shortest time.

On the basis of current records, the fastest speed recorded by man is 21.8 miles an hour. This is based on the time of :09.3 seconds for the 100 yard dash.

When the distance of a mile is used, the fastest man has been able to run it comes to a little more than 15 miles an hour. The longer the distance, the slower the speed. For instance, the record for the marathon—a distance of 26 miles, 385 yards—is 2 hours 14 minutes and 14 seconds. This is a speed of a bit more than 11 miles an hour.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Organize your own foot-races. You don't need any equpment to run, but make sure you do your running in a safe place where there is no traffic.

Alcholism Is Major Texas Problem And Still Growing

(Editor's note: This is the first of six articles on the growing menace of alcoholism and steps being taken to combat it in Texas.)

The Texas Commission on Alcoholism is an official arm of State Government which deals on the state level with the nation's third most serious public health problem.

Members of the Commission are six prominent Texas business and professional men, appointed by the Governor to work at the task because each has reasons for being personally interested in alcoholism and its treatment and is especially well informed on the subject.

Alcoholism? What is alcoholism, anyway? And why should it concern us Texans.

First off, alcoholism is an illness—a sickness — a disease. The American Medical Association flatly asserts that alcoholism is a "chronic illness."

There are approximately 5,000,000 alcoholics in this country—200,000 in Texas. Each directly affects the health and welfare of four non - alcoholics, which means that 25,000,000 Americans — 1,000,000 Texan—are its victims. We are well aware of our concern if we are among these.

But even if we've never set eyes on an alcoholic, it's still our problem because it is picking our pockets every day.

A nationally circulated magazine calls alcoholism "Industry's $1 Billion Hangover" — the amount drained off annually through alcholism-caused absenteeism, inefficiency, slowdowns, accidents, and loss of trained personnel. We, the consuming public, foot the bill. Alcoholism's grim accounting shows up in figures on crime, fire loss, traffic accidents, concomitant illnesses, and early deaths. We get the tab through higher insurance premiums. The disease takes an unhealthy bite from our tax dollar for care of its indigent, its institutionalized, its abandoned families.

Alcoholism is our business, all right. It's everybody's business.

Much remains to be learned about this ancient malady which claimed Noah the ark builder among its illustrous early victims. Its causes are obscure, through evidence indicates that they are rooted in a combination of physical and mental - emotional factors. We know that while about 70,000,000 Americans drink alcoholic beverages, only about one in 15 becomes an alcoholic. This seems to rule out alcohol as the cause, in itself, of the illness.

Loss of control is the most significant symptom and the one that separates the alcoholic from the heavy drinker. Control gives way to a pathological compulsion, so telling the alcoholic to heal himself by exerting will power is like telling a cancer victim to will away his tumor.

In the light of existing knowledge, complete abstinence is the alcoholic's only salvation. But this can be achieved only through appropriate and often complex treatment.

Alcoholism is not hereditary, but neither is it selective — striking high, low, rich, poor, dull, and brilliant with fine impartiality. Like an iceberg, alcoholism reveals only a small portion of its bulk to the casual observer in the form of so-called "skid row" alcoholics. The great mass of the problem — 85 percent - 90 percent — lies beneath the surface throughout our communities, among our apparently healthy coworkers and acquaintances, the guy and the gal next door. One in five or six alcoholics is a woman.

Technically, the alcoholic is "incurable" in that there is no known way to restore him as a "social drinker." But he can achieve complete and lasting recovery through absolute abstinence.

A belief that the alcoholic was unrecoverable as well as incurable was widely held until Alcoholics Anonymous came along twenty - odd years ago and dramatically disproved the notion. This remarkable organizatian which limits its activity to helping the individual who seeks help, has aided over 200,000 sufferers to resume normal living.

AA's striking proof of hope, coupled with the alarming increase in incidence of the illness —303,000 new cases last year — spurred a significant number of key individuals and organizations to take action against it on a broad front.

Within the past two decades:

The American Medical Association has formally designated alcholism a disease, set up a special committee to deal with it.

Scientists initiated research projects to probe its mysteries, notably the Yale School for Alcohol Studies.

Church leaders have re - evaluated the religious approach to the problem, advocating fresh attitudes in various statements including one by the National Council of Churches.

The American Federation of Women's Clubs formally joined the ranks of those combatting alcoholism.

AFL - CIO urged its members to support local alcoholism abatement programs through their Community Services Committees.

Dedicated plain citizens banded together as the National Council on Alcoholism, launched a nationwide program of education and service.

State governments realized they had a special stake in the fight against this serious public health menace, and in the last 15 years all but a handful have established agencies to deal with it. The Texas Commission on Alcoholism is one of these.

Uniquely Texan, the Commission is embarked on a program of public enlightenment, prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation for our vast state. Subsequent articles will tell of its work and the people it is helping.

Fast Drawing Marshal Creases Own Thigh

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—City Marshal Joe Billy Hobbs of Wilmer, Tex., drew and fired his six-gun so quickly Monday that a bullet creased his thigh.

Hobbs isn't the first man to nick himself while practicing quick draws.

Murrow Will Take Leave

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward R. Murrow will take a year's leave of absence from the Columbia Broadcasting System effective July 1.

He said in a letter to CBS President Frank Stanton that his contract contains a provision for leave, and said his only reason for seeking it is to take time for travel and reflection. Stanton replied that the network was happy to grant the leave and looked forward to his return.

Murrow's move followed reports of strained relations between him and CBS officials. It was reported that his leave has nothing to do with his health nor with the controversy that followed a recent radio program on prostitution.

Murrow, 50, has been with CBS since 1935.

While on leave Murrow will continue his program, "Small World," a filmed Sunday evening TV series of international conversations, on a reduced basis.

He will discontinue his documentaries, his nightly radio program of news and commentary, and his weekly television visits to celebrities, "Person to Person."

The name of Kentucky means "dark and bloody ground." This derives from the many bloody wars between various Indian tribes before Kentucky came into the Union in 1792.

Tigers End Season Against LV Here

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

LAKE VIEW'S CHIEFS WILL be in the same boat tonight as the Tigers were a year ago today in their bid for the District 3-AAA cage title.

Lake View comes to Snyder needing a win over the Tigers to nail down the title. A year ago, the Tigers went to Lake View and needing a win over the Chiefs to clinch the crown in the season finale.

In each instance, the Chiefs this year and the Tigers last year, the two teams carried a 6-1 district record into the final loop game with a title-tie already cinched.

The Tigers proceeded to down Lake View, 70-61, to clinch last year's pennant. As it turned out, though, the Bengals could have lost and still won the title since second place Sweetwater was upended by Lamesa that final night. But the Tigers didn't know at the time that Sweetwater was going to lose and therefore they couldn't take any chances of being slipped up on by the Chiefs.

Lake View, too, can't depend on Colorado City to clip Lamesa tonight so you can rest assured the Chiefs will have their tomahawks well honed tonight against the Tigers.

Eyes Of District Focused On Game Here

The Chiefs, quite likely, will have a large following for tonight's game here. This is the nearest the Chiefs have been to any kind of a pennant since joining District 3-AAA and the Redskins don't want to let this chance get away.

And speaking of fan support, Lamesa may charter a bus or two here for the purpose of giving the Tigers a little encouragement. After all, it won't do any good for Lamesa to beat Colorado City if Lake View also wins.

Since Lamesa should handle the Wolves with ease tonight, the Tornado fans probably are keeping a closer eye on the Tiger-Lake View game than they are their own game.

We feel sure there are a lot of Tiger fans who haven't seen the Bengals play this season and, of course, tonight is the last chance to see the locals in action this season.

While victories have been few and far between this season, the Tigers nonetheless have never ceased to hustle and for that reason they are to be commended.

It's pretty difficult for a team to keep its spirits up when it loses game after game. But with exception of a game or two this season, the Tigers haven't been "outhustled."

Berry Switched To QB

Here and there in the sports world:

Powell Berry, former all-district quarterback for the Snyder Tigers, has been shifted from wingback to quarterback at Texas A&M—Berry currently is rated as the No. 2 signal-caller in the Aggie ranks behind Charlie Milstead — Milstead, incidentally, is one of two SWC players who made the 1958 National Scholastic All-Star team — the other was center Dale Walker of TCU — this team was picked from those who star in the class rooms as well as on the football field — Midland's basketeers lost only four games this past season with three of 'em coming at the hands of arch-rival Odessa.

Locals Could Spoil Chiefs' Pennant Bid

The curtain will fall on the 1958-59 Tiger basketball season tonight when the Bengals take on the league leading Lake View Chiefs at Tiger Gym.

While the Tigers are out of contention for the 3-AAA pennant of which they had won the past two seasons, the Bengals hold the "key" to the final outcome of the flag race in tonight's game.

Lake View comes to town leading the league with a 6-1 record, one game ahead of second place Lamesa with a 5-2 mark.

The Tigers, thus, could deadlock the race by upsetting the Chiefs tonight, provided, of course, Lamesa wins over Colorado City at the latter's court tonight.

In an earlier meeting of the two teams, Lake View won a hard fought 68-60 decision over the Tigers at Lake View. The first game was tied at halftime, 31-31, and the Bengals were still much in contention going into the final quarter at which time the Chiefs led 50-45.

Three of the top four scorers in District 3-AAA will be seen in action tonight. William Keel and Jimmy Tomlinson of the Chiefs rank second and third in scoring thus far while the Tigers' Danny Tankersley is fourth.

Buford Patterson of Sweetwater leads at the moment with 120 points but he has played one more game than Keel, Tomlinson and Tankersley. The Mustangs finished their season last week.

Keel has 116 points in seven games for a 16.6 average just a fraction over Tomlinson who has 115 and 16.5. Tankersley has scored 104 in seven games for a 14.8 average.

Another Chief, Billy Winans, ranks sixth in district scoring with an even 100 points for a 14.3 average.

The next high scorer in the Tiger ranks behind Tankersley is Bill Dubose with 75 points.

Five Tigers will conclude their schoolboy cage careers tonight. They are Tankersley, Dubose, Jerry Fleming, Stan Hulen and Terry Lee. All but Lee are listed as starters tonight. The fifth starter will be sophomore Jimmy Don Robinson.

The B teams of the two schools will vie at 6:30 with the varsity tilt to start at about 8. Tiger B, with a 4-3 record against 3-AAA teams, will be out to avenge an earlier 49-47 loss to Lake View B.

Bradley Jars St. Louis 5; Auburn Wins 30th Straight

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thanks to the chopping block job Bradley and St. Louis have done on each other, Oscar Robertson — the player everybody wants to see — seems headed back to the NCAA basketball tournament again this year.

The Big O and the Cincinnati Bearcats just about wrapped up the Missouri Valley Conference title and an NCAA berth Monday night without turning a finger.

While they were idle, Bradley dragged challenger St. Louis into a second-place tie behind Cincinnati with a revenge 72-65 whipping at Peoria, Ill. Only last week, St. Louis had spilled Bradley at St. Louis.

Although Cincinnati has a game left with each team among six remaining conference tests, the Bearcats and the fabulous Oscar ought to be hard to catch now with an 8-0 slate compared to 7-2 for St. Louis and Bradley.

The loser in this case is the National Invitation Tournament, which was angling to snap up Cincinnati and the crowd-luring Robertson in case they lost the Mo Valley race.

In other features, Auburn rolled over Tulane 79-56 for its 30th straight, Bailey Howell's 33 points led Mississippi State (21-1) over Georgia 75-56, and Oklahoma City (18-4) celebrated its NIT berth announced earlier in the day with a 98-84 victory over Florida State.

Mrs. Von Roeder Wins Ladder Tourney

Mrs. Nolan Von Roeder won the "Ladder Tournament" for ladies completed recently at Snyder Country Club.

Mrs. Jodie Raines was awarded the prize of lowering her score the most. Both winners were given their prizes at last Friday's weekly luncheon.

In last Friday's weekly play, Mrs. Raines and Mrs. Betty Ann Henderson were the winners in a "Blind Partners" contest. Other winners were Mrs. Virginia Jones low putts and low gross and Eloise Devers, a new member, low net.

Another new member, Jo Birdwell, competed in last week's play.

Tar Heels Climb To Top In AP Poll

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

North Carolina's Tar Heels have taken the lead in The Associated Press weekly college basketball poll followed closely by Auburn and Kentucky.

But something's gotta give before the sports writers and broadcasters go to the polls again.

North Carolina, with 16 victories in 17 games, took over the top spot from Kentucky, upset by Mississippi State 66-58. Kentucky dropped to third place. Unbeaten Auburn moved into the runner-up position.

The top ten teams, with first place votes in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1.	North Carolina (38)	871
2.	Auburn (20)	822
3.	Kentucky (15)	773
4.	Kansas State (14)	711
5.	Mississippi State (12)	613
6.	(tie) Cincinnati (4) and North Carolina State	569
8.	St. Louis (5)	463
9.	Michigan State (1)	205
10.	Bradley	160

Second ten: West Virginia (2) 159; Seattle 76; Marquette 73; St. Bonaventure (2) 67; California 65; Texas Christian 50; Utah 47; Oklahoma City 45; Indiana 44; Purdue 39.

Three Defending Champs Returning

By The Associated Press

Ten district champions, including Pampa, the defending state titlist, have been determined in Class AAAA of Texas school basketball.

The other six will be determined this week as will many district kings in the other divisions — classes AAA, AA, A and B.

Laredo became champion of Dist 16 in Class AAAA Monday night to bring the number to ten. The others are Pampa, Odessa, Wichita Falls, Dallas Jefferson, Tyler, Houston Bellaire, Port Arthur, Austin McCallum and Corpus Christi Miller.

Pampa and Port Arthur were in the state tournament last year, meeting in the finals.

Defending champion Waxahachie of Class AAA and Belton, kingpin of Class AA, also have won their district championships and set a return to the state tournament.

Regional championshipss in all the division will be decided next week.

Waxahachie doesn't yet know its bi - district foe. Other district champions determined in Class AAA are Hereford, Graham, Greenville, Killeen, Smiley, Beaumont French, Alvin, South San Antonio, French, Hereford, South San Antonio and Waxahachie made up the state tournament field in 1958.

Joining Belton in winning district titles in Class AA are Dimmitt, Abernathy, Bowie, Duncanville, Whitesboro, Atlanta, Linden-Kildare, New London, West, Humble, Buna, Clear Creek, Needille. Belton, New London and Clear Creek made it to the state tournament last year.

Senators Aiming For .500 Season

By COOKIE LAVAGETTO
Washington Senators

ORINDA, Calif. (AP) — The 1959 goal for the Washington Senators is to finish with at least a .500 season.

Since the close of the 1959 year we have made a couple of trades and we will have several good rookies in spring training. I am hopeful there will be more changes by trade before the season opens. One thing is sure, there'll be a definite emphasis on the "new look" this year.

We are not going to be pushover this year.

It's too early to name a starting lineup. The way I see things now, though, Reno Bertoia and Ron Samford should bolster the defense on the left side of our infield. Samford will play short and Bertoia third.

J. W. Porter, who looks like a big league hitter to me, can play first, third or catch.

Jim Delsing, obtained with Bertoia and Samford from the Tigers, will get a crack at playing center field regularly. If he can't, he should help our bench. Little Albie Pearson, our rookie of the year, will be in there some place, center or right field.

Out big guy, of course, is still Roy Sievers, who hit 39 home runs and knocked in 108 runs. With Sievers, Jim Lemon, who hit 26 homers, Norm Zauchin, 15 homers, and catcher Clint Courtney, eight homers, we have a pretty good nucleus of long ball hitters.

Some of the newcomers with a chance to make the club are Bob Allison, John Schaive, Angel Oliva and Harmon Killebrew. Allison is a king-sized 24-year-old center fielder who hit .307 at Chattanooga in the Southern Assn.

Schaive will get a chance at second base after a .295 season at Chattanooga. Oliva is a 21-year-old righthanded relief specialist who worked 62 games for Chattanooga and had an ERA of 0.75 in the Cuban Winter League this season. Killebrew was up before.

We have good pitching. Pete Ramos and Camilo Pasqual are getting better each year. Dick Hyde is the league's best relief pitcher. Tex

Boys Club 5 Drops 1st City Tilt

All good things must come to an end.

The Boys Club dropped their first City League game of the season last night when Poe & Wasson chalked up a 69-65 victory at Junior High Gym.

The defeat, however, didn't hamper the Boys Club's rein as the league champions as the Boys Clubbers had already clinched the title. The loss left the Blys Club with a 7-1 record, two games better than second place Poe & Wasson's 5-3 and with only one game to go.

James Wesson led Poe & Wasson to victory last night with 23 points. He was followed by Bob Womack with 18, Doug James with 15, Orville Hooker with six, Don Cole with 4 and Doc Dawson with 2.

Israel Hinojos led the Boys Club with 23. Royce Burrows followed with 13, Mickey Brous and Ace Amos with 10 each, James Cantwell with seven and Lynn Atkinson with two.

Poe & Wasson led after the first two quarters, 16-10 and 31-30 before the Boys Club pulled ahead, 43-41, after three quarters but P&W regained the lead and held it.

Canyon Reef retained its chance of tieing for second place by defeating D&H Grocery, 60-47, in the other half of last night's doubleheader.

Dwayne Prince poured in 39 points to lead the Reefers, with Robby Robinson following with 13.

Two Grocerymen also hit in double figures, Dub Holt leading with 16 and Jim Strother hitting 11.

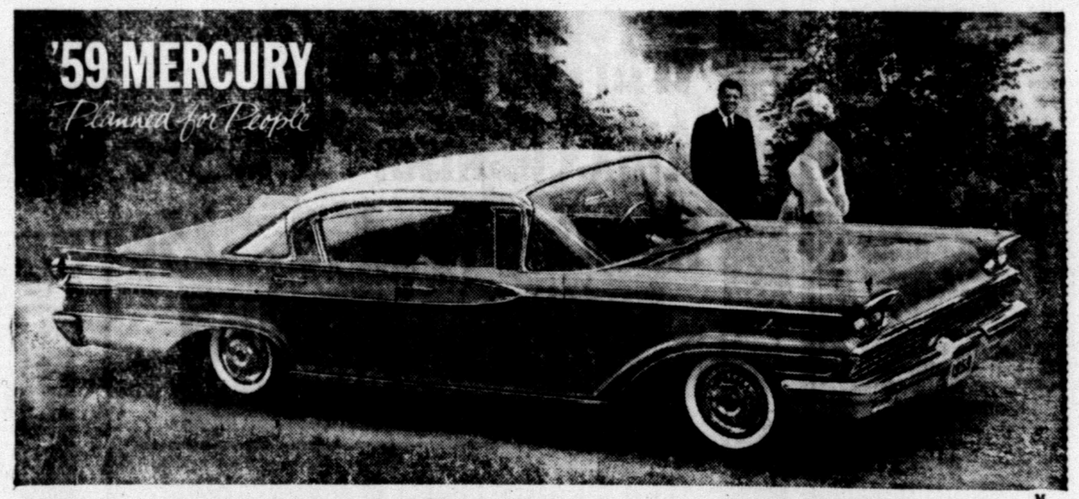

Cards Open Cage Playoff

Hermleigh and Westbrook boys open a best two-out-of-three game playoff tonight for the District 16-B basketball title at Westbrook.

Second game of the series will be played at Hermleigh Thursday night with the third game, if necessary, slated for Colorado City Saturday night.

Westbrook and Hermleigh finished in a two-way tie for first place in the double-round robin schedule, each with a 6-2 record. Westbrook lost to Loraine last night to drop into a first place tie with Hermleigh which had already finished its season.

Mercury's new beauty is planned for people—makes room for 6, not just 4!

Here's proof you needn't sacrifice comfort for beauty. Unlike most '59 cars, Mercury is beautifully built for roominess. For instance: the hump on the floor has been cut in half, giving the middle rider more leg room . . . and a thicker, softer cushion. Mercury has the roomiest passenger compartment of all. Has the widest doors. Has the most visibility. Yes, you're comfortably fixed . . . in a Mercury.

IN MERCURY THERE'S MORE SEAT CUSHIONING, deeper, thicker, softer—under the middle rider. You'll find it's the most comfortable center-of-the-car ride on the road. Mercury gives you normal sitting height, too, for relaxed riding comfort.

FIRST SIDE-TO-SIDE WIPERS that clear a 5-foot swath, including the center area! Gives you better visibility thru the world's largest windshield.

OUR VIEW

Same Old Situation

Snyder's post office situation is back in the news, and indications are that something must "give" before many more months roll by.

Rep. Omar Burleson has renewed his bill to provide construction of a post office building here, although no action can be taken on it immediately. Rep. Burleson introduced a similar measure last year, but it expired without action when congress adjourned.

The 17th District Congressman said he dropped the bill in again just to keep Snyder's name in the pot when congress decides to adopt a federal building program, which is good business.

The fact that the government's lease on present post office facilities will expire in about 18 months indicates that some action must be taken in the near future. Undoubtedly the government would not take a new lease on those facilities, unless they were remodeled and expanded. Moreover there have been reports indicating that the present building will not be available for a new lease for post office use.

The last contact between local interests and the Post Office Dept. on the matter evoked information to the effect that some action would be launched early this year.

The Chamber of Commerce Civic Affairs committee pushed the project off and on for three or four years, but it became apparent last year that the government would take no action until the expiration of the current lease approached.

Meanwhile, time has marched on, and Rep. Burleson's bill should serve as a reminder to those in authority that Snyder still has the same old post office situation and that it is about time something was done to improve it.

Illness Of Dulles Points Up Unity

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — In full health Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was criticized, but in this moment of his serious illness he is eulogized and is even spoken of as indispensable. Why?

For perhaps these two reasons:

1. His critics at home have fully differed with him not on his basic foreign policy but only on his handling of individual situations.

2. He has so completely dominated foreign policy that he represents it and it is hard to think of anyone else coping with the crisis coming up in Germany.

The policy followed by Dulles and President Eisenhower was the one laid down by President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

This as to surround the Soviet Union and Red China with military bases and alliances and make no concessions, or very few.

At the root of this policy there has always, perhaps, been a certain amount of wishful thinking that if a ring could be kept tight around the Communist world, in time it might weaken, suffer drastic internal changes, or perhaps disintegrate.

It's a wish that hasn't come true. The man credited with being the author of this containment policy back in Acheson's day, George Kennan, who was then head of the State Department planning staff, is having second thoughts now.

He's not the only one. There is talk nowadays of being flexible with the Soviet Union. Being flexible can mean giving concessions, with or without concessions in return.

While Dulles has been pretty much as one with the rest of the country on his basic policy of containment, there have been times when his wisdom on individual decisions within the broad policy has been questioned.

He has been criticized, for example, for his handling of President Nasser of Egypt, for his use of big-sounding phrases, like "massive retaliation" and "brink of war and for his disproven optimism about the results of the 1955 summit conference.

But through it all he was a sturdy, unyielding antagonist of world communism.

Because he ran foreign policy almost by himself and made his job such a one-man operation, both his critics and his admirers have difficulty now in seeing anything but a vacuum if he should not be able to return to his desk.

It's possible Dulles will for some time have a strong hand not only in current problems but in foreign affairs in general.

Nevertheless, as a matter of reality, the Eisenhower administration must be thinking in terms of a successor just in case the cancer-stricken secretary, despite his extraordinary endurance, can't come back.

There's a good, immediate reason for the need of such forethought.

The United States and its Allies face an upcoming crisis over Germany, created by the Soviet Union which wants the Allies out of West Berlin and threatens to turn control of access to the city over to the East Germans by May 27.

Solon's Colleagues Bring Useful Gifts

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—When Utah's Legislature debated a Sunday closing law, State Sen. Clyde L. Miller of Salt Lake noted it would close grocery stores but allow sale of beer on Sundays.

He pictured a harassed father—crying baby in arms and no food or milk in the house — saying some Sunday: "Shut up and drink your beer!"

Pace Of Recovery Is Under Scrutiny

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Both a congressional committee and a group of Cabinet officials are narrowing in today on two of the big questions of the hour.

Is the U.S. economy growing as fast as it should in view of the Soviet spurt? Can we speed up our growth and shrink the number of the jobless without paying the price of inflation?

After its recession breather our economy is back again on the business recovery road. But it isn't exactly sprinting.

The economy has been growing at a sedate average rate of 2 per cent a year—while the Soviets assert, at least, that their economy is growing at a rate of 7 to 8 per cent a year. They still have a long way to go before catching up with us, but some economists feel that Americans should speed up their economic growth rate to stay well in front.

The government is being urged to accomplish this through various pump priming schemes and tax incentives.

Opponents warn that such schemes could mean greater government spending—and doing so on money borrowed from commercial banks, which can be a prime factor in monetary inflation.

And monetary or credit inflation has the habit of translating itself into a rising cost of living.

This nullifies for everyone part of the benefits of increased economic activity and higher employment. For those making do on a fixed income, inflation is just a longer word for thief.

A few advocates of faster growth through use of stimulants argue that inflated prices could be warded off with government controls. The unpopularity of such controls in peacetime is widespread, however.

The Senate-House Economic Committee is about to start a broad study of all the above problems.

President Eisenhower's group, headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is expected to concentrate largely on the danger of more inflation.

The President himself has on several occasions urged management to show restraint in raising prices and has called on labor for like restraint in demanding higher wage scales.

And he was warned that if they don't, the nation might be forced once again to turn to government controls.

He also urges Congress to get the budget balanced to ward off another embarrassing Treasury deficit.

The congressional study proposes to look into the manner in which prices, wages, production and employment react on each other and set the pattern of economic growth or stagnation.

It also wants to find out how such growth is affected by increases or decreases in the effective supply of money and credit.

And it proposes to analyze its own role, too. That is, to study the effect on prices, jobs and output of government spending and taxation, which Congress is supposed to control.

The growth in our economy — rather than just snuggling in on some prosperous plateau — is sought for several reasons other than keeping up with the Soviets.

One is to take care of a growing population that needs jobs. Another is to build up spendable incomes so that consumers can buy more things. This would put excess industrial capacity to work, and make jobs for the present unemployed and for the new workers entering the labor force all the time.

Some say you can't have such growth without a little more inflation. Others say you can have a much healthier one by avoiding inflation. The question is how?

This Is A Trying Season For Men

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the season that tries men's souls—and tempers.

Spring won't come and winter won't let go.

Somewhere birds are singing and the sun is shining bright. But not here. If it ain't raining, it's snowing; if it ain't thawing, it's freezing. If the sky ain't clouding up, well—it's about to.

The milk of human kindness is frozen into an unfriendly icicle. The first robin, wearing a brignt sunrise-colored vest, arrives on schedule.

But before this pitchman for warmer weather can sound his first note of cheer someone hits him with a snowball, and he comes down with sore throat and a virus. But he's in good company. Anyone who doesn't have a virus is an exhibitionist.

"The virus seems to be a bit more powerful this year," says the doctor, coughing as his pen scratches across the prescription pad. "Don't know when I've seen so much of it around."

The doctor speaks as cheerfully as he can. But inwardly he is out of patience with patients with the virus. He'd like to find a wonder drug to cure his own virus.

Everybody is out of sorts and grumpy.

The strong man beats his wife. The weaker husband, standing at a safe distance from his mate, barks at her. She barks right back.

The laundry puts more starch in everybody's shirt collar—just out of pure cussedness.

The postman swears at the ice on the trees, the snow underfoot. He wonders how many years he'd have to spend in jail if he dumped his mailbag into the nearest sewer—and ran away from home.

The philosophic cab driver is moody and silent. He refuses to solve the problems of his passengers or tell them how to live. To heck with them. Let them pay their fares and get out.

The restaurant waiter with the far away look has a look that is farther away than ever. He couldn't see a customer if he had a seeing-eye dog. He doesn't want to see a customer. All the customer will do later is complain to him about the food. The waiter eats the same food. He knows it won't improve until the chef's disposition improves.

Demos May Help Balance Budget

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democratic leaders apparently are planning to help President Eisenhower try to balance the budget despite their contention he is playing 1960 politics in this field.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has urged colleagues on the Senate prune deeply into the regular money bills.

Johnson also has asked for early hearings on Eisenhower's request for a $1,375,000,000 contribution to the International Monetary Fund and an increase of $3,175,000,000 in obligational authority for capital in the world bank. He made it clear he has no intention of delaying action on this measure until after June 30.

Any such delay would unbalance the 77-billion-dollar budget Eisenhower has outlined for the year beginning July 1. It would add the $1,375,000,000 monetary fund outlay to expenditures then instead of in the current fiscal year, for which it is budgeted as part of a deficit of nearly 13 billion dollars. The World Bank fund is not to be spent and would not affect the budget balance.

Johnson is reported to have agreed with his party's House leaders that while the Democrats may increase defense, housing, airport and some other outlays, they will try to cut back Eisenhower's requests in other fields.

Their economy drive apparently was aimed at making it impossible for Eisenhower and the Republicans to blame the Democrats if the budget is not balanced.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) told the Senate Monday Eisenhower is asking for speedy action on the monetary fund proposal and other requests in an effort to "dump all of these things into this year's deficit."

Agreeing, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) said that several money requests ordinarily would have been included in the 1960 fiscal year budget "but the President is bringing them in by the back door and slipping them in on this year's account."

Johnson said he supposed that if the Democrats support these requests "We will have to defend ourselves from the spokesmen of the administration for doing what the President requests."

Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill), the Senate GOP leader, said the previous Democratic - controlled Congress had acted to drain the Treasury of $3,788,000,000 more than Eisenhower had anticipated, largely through what he called back door spending authorizations not carried in regular money bills.

Johnson replied that none of the money could have been spent if the President hadn't approved. He added that Dirksen often was "in there elbowing me out to get in that back door."

Labor Bill Due To Draw Union Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A far-reaching labor control bill which is almost certain to encounter labor union opposition has been introduced by Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee.

In submitting the bill Monday, Barden said it was aimed at ridding unions of "tyranny imposed by gangsters, racketeers, mobsters and powermad demagogues."

Among other things, the bill would prohibit use of union funds for political purposes and require approval of the union membership by secret ballot before a strike could be called or dues changed.

Barden said his committee will begin hearings this week on his bill and House versions of two other major labor-management measures. They are the bill sponsored by the Eisenhower administration and one by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Barden's bill would require unions to write protections against abuses of power into the union constitutions.

This would include a provision that if a strike was voted, no units of the union which voted against striking could be forced to participate or contribute to the walkout.

Lamarr-Lee Rift Widens

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal court petition marked another chapter yesterday in litigation between a Texas oilman and his estranged wife, actress Hedy Lamarr.

The petition filed by W. Howard Lee asked that all agreements between he and Miss Lamarr be cancelled. It answered a suit filed by her in Colorado asking the courts to dissolve her business partnership with Lee in operation of a hotel in Aspen, Colo.

Jan. 21 she filed a $51,000 damage suit against Lee in which she claimed he failed to live up to a separation agreement signed last August.

Miss Lamarr said she was ill and that Lee was behind in his $3,000 monthly payments that he agreed to send her.

Lee said the agreements they signed were "so completely unfair" as to be invalid. He said they were living in Houston at the time and that under Texas law a husband and wife may not contract as partners.

Second Session Of Faculty Concert Tonight

About 200 persons last night attended the first of two nights of a faculty concert presented by the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Teachers of the Snyder schools were featured in the concert, which will have its second installment tonight at the clubhouse at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets, which are $1, will be on sale at the door.

Following last night's presentation the board of directors of the club entertained the artists at a buffet supper.

The program opened with "Sinfonie," "Andante," and "Allegro," "Allemande," and "Rondeau" from Bach's "Partita No. 12 in C Minor" by Mrs. Jane Womack, pianist.

Nest, with Roger Gee as baritone, Mrs. Wanda Clinton as accompanist, and Joann Cruthirds as violin obligato, were Handel's "Ombra Mai Fu" from "Xerxes," "The Last Song" by Tosti, and Lohr's "Where My Caravan Has Rested."

Beethoven's "Sonata in C Minor" was presented by Mrs. Nan Lee, pianist. Mrs. Womack as soprano accompanied by Robert Clinton, presented "Si Mi Chiamano Mimi" from Puccini's "La Boheme," some Kentucky mountain songs, and "Love Is Where You Find It." Mrs. Womack then accompanied Joann Cruthirds, violinist, in Faure's "Elegie."

Mr. Clinton, tenor, sang "Che Gelida Minina" from "La Boheme," "Tally Ho," and "The Rovin' Gambler," with Mrs. Clinton as accompanist.

Mrs. Womack presented at the piano selections from Bartok's "Sonatina." Mrs. Gwen McLaughlin, alto, was accompanied by Mrs. Nan Lee at the piano is presentation of "Habanera" from Bizet's "Carmen," "Sometime I Feel Like a Motherless Chile," and "Until."

Next were "Sonata in D Minor" by Scarlatti, "O Chicote Do Diabinho" and "Le Polichinelle" by Villa-Lobos, presented by Miss Lynn Reedy, pianist.

Mrs. McLaughlin and Mr. Clinton teamed to sing the Rogers and Hart favorite, "With a Song in My Heart," and then Mrs. Womack and baritone Roger Gee sang Coward's "I'll See You Again" from "Bittersweet."

The program was concluded by selections from the Rogers and Hammerstein show, "The King and I," by Mrs. Womack, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mr. Clinton, and Mr. Gee, with Mrs. Lee as accompanist.

Young Soldier Is Convicted

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP)—A 24-year-old soldier-scientist at the Army chemical center here has been sentenced to four months at hard labor after being found guilty of disrespect and disobedience.

A court-martial also ruled Monday night that Pfc. Richard C. Savage of Salem, Mass., must forfeit $52 of his monthly $90 pay while he is in confinement.

The sentence is subject to review by Brig. Gen. Harold Walmsley, commanding general of the post, and by the commanding general of the 2nd Army Headquarters at Ft. Meade, Md.

Army specifications charged Savage "hissed" three lieutenants and made uncomplimentary remarks to them at an all-night diner in Edgewood about 2 a.m. last Jan. 25.

Savage, who has a degree in chemistry from Lowell (Mass.) Institute of Technology, is a member of the Army's enlisted scientific professional program.

Ten other members of the same outfit were found guilty last October of being disorderly during a beer party near the post.

Parking Ticket Brings $33 Fine

DETROIT (AP)—A $1 overtime parking ticket has cost retired antique dealer Fenton R. Mathews $33.

The suburban Birmingham man got the ticket last October. He refused to pay and asked for a jury trial. The jury found him guilty. The fine, delay and court costs came to $33.

School Enrollment Up Sharply Here

School enrollment has increased considerably since the beginning of the 1958-59 school year and has shown a sizeable gain over this time last year.

At the end of the 20th week of school here, the public schools here had a total membership of 3,986, while there were 90 in the Ryan Parochial School for a total of 4,076 school students here.

That is 150 more students than the 3,926 in the schools here at the same time last year.

Enrollment since the beginning of the school year has picked up 183 students. When the school year opened there were 3,893 students in both public and parochial schools here, 3,808 in public and 85 in the Ryan School.

By schools, the public schools here had a total of 830 in the high school, 561 in the junior high, 466 at East Elementary, 325 at North Elementary, 811 at West Elementary, 565 at Central Elementary, 324 at Northeast Elementary, and 104 at the Lincoln School.

The elementary schools had 2,556 of the public school students. All 90 of the Ryan School students are in elementary grades, which run from grades one through six.

By grades, elementary enrollment here in the public schools was 549 in the first grade, 469 in the second, 425 in the third, 359 in the fourth, 371 in the fifth, and 374 in the sixth.

Snyder High School had 830 students, while the high school grades at Lincoln School had 20 students. The enrollment by grades at Snyder High School was 149 seniors, 222 juniors, 229 sophomores, and 250 freshmen. Lincoln School had two seniors, seven juniors, three sophomores, and eight freshmen.

The Travis Junior High had 266 eighth graders and 295 seventh graders for a total of 561. Lincoln had 19 students in the two junior high grades, nine in the eighth and 10 in the seventh.

'Minuteman' Program Is On Schedule

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Air Force says its program for the Minuteman, an intercontinental ballistic missile, is rolling along.

Development schedules are being met, competition for the engine contracts will be concluded before next Jan. 1, and the flight test program will get under way next year, the service says.

The Minuteman is a solid propellant ICBM, intended for launching from underground silos or hiding places.

Once in place, the Minuteman will be left unmanned, unattended. It will be fired from underground control centers housing two or three men, connected with other subterranean control centers.

The Air Force expects to reduce the manpower needed for ballistic missiles from approximately 100 per Atlas or Titan to 7 for each Minuteman.

The new missile will be installed in hidden locations throughout the country. To deceive the enemy, the Air Force plans to build more Minuteman holes than missiles. Occasionally, too, a missile may prove defective and worthless. In such cases, the faulty Minuteman may be kept in its hole, again for the purpose of deceiving the enemy.

The Minuteman is a three stage missile, slimmer than as well as smaller than the Atlas. Its rocket engines will provide 2½ times as much power as anything yet built, propulsion experts said.

86-Year-Old Woman Weds Man Of 34

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Lottie L. Houle, 86, and her 34-year-old husband of two days are honeymooning in Oklahoma City after being married Sunday by a justice of the peace.

Mrs. Houle, whose first husband died in 1934, owns a rooming house in Oklahoma City. Her new husband, Edward, runs a cafe next door.

Asked about her romance, Mrs. Houle quipped:

"Why, everybody gets married, don't they?"

Four Killed In Crash Of Navy Blimp

WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP) — A Navy blimp crashed and burned in a swamp near here early today killing four of the seven crew members. Three were injured.

Rescuers using farm tractors brought the injured to a nearby highway. The men, who were burned but apparently not critically, were brought to a Washington hospital.

The crash occurred between 2 and 2:30 a.m. in a swamp about 1½ miles north of the crossroads community of Pinetown, about 16 miles northeast of here.

A deputy sheriff said there was "nothing much left" of the blimp, based at the Glynco Naval Air Station at Brunswick, Ga.

An ambulance driver said the three injured either jumped or were thrown clear of the blimp. The four who died were trapped inside.

The accident was described as rare by officers of Airship Squadron 2 at Glynco, which was ferrying the blimp and another to the Lakehurst Naval Air Station.

The officers said the blimp was in radio contact with the other, separated by only some five miles, but gave no word of any trouble.

This led to the belief the blimp was flying at cruising speed and went directly to the ground, a mishap almost unheard of in that type of craft.

Ruptured gasoline tanks caused the fire.

Names of the dead—two officers and two enlisted men—will be released after next of kin have been notified.

The injured were listed as Lt. Linford May, Oswego, Ore.; Roy Lyon, Ferndale, Mich.; and Orville L. Moore, McAllister, Okla. The latter two are enlisted men.

Couple Weds In Airliner

HONOLULU (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Willis landed today after being married in an airliner over the Pacific half way between San Francisco and Hawaii.

Both are professional singers. They met in an airplane on a similar flight to Honolulu last year.

Their honeymoon trip is the gift of an airline, a Hawaiian hotel and Los Angeles stores.

Willis and the former Regina Douglas, each 28, were still wearing formal wedding clothes when the plane landed.

The ceremony was performed by Superior Court Judge Alfred Gitelson of Los Angeles.

The couple held an airborne reception after the ceremony in the lounge of the plane.

They were met by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Willis of Sherman Oaks, Calif., who were celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary.

The bride is a naturalized U.S. citizen from Germany.

Willis' home is at Great Neck, Long Island, N.Y.

Herter's Illness Not A Handicap

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Globe today quoted Christian Herter's physician as saying the arthritis from which the acting secretary of state suffers does not handicap him in any way.

Dr. Theodore B. Bayles is quoted as saying Herter's arthritis is the 'wear and tear'' osteoarthritis mostly suffered by older persons.

The physician who has been treating the former Massachusetts governor for eight years said Herter "has some arthritis in his hips, brought on by curvature of the spine from which he suffered as a boy."

Herter took over as acting secretary when John Foster Dulles took a leave of absence to undergo radiation therapy for cancer.
