SOUTHERN KANSAS.
Destructive Cyclone Near Arkansas City—The Celebrated "Cherokee Strip".
An Expensive Cause.

Correspondence of the Kansas City Times.

ARKANSAS CITY, KAN., April 15, 1884.

One of the most remarkable cyclones that ever visited this section of the country, and at the same time the most perfect in its demolition, swept over that portion of the "Cherokee Strip" just south of this section of the Kansas line last Sunday night, and returning, was equally destructive and remarkable the following night. It was remarkable because of its narrow width, zig-zag course, and peculiar destructiveness. It was not more than a foot wide and about in the shape of a Virginia worm-fence, destroyed fencing, tearing down posts, and in some cases, absolutely pulling out the holes. It struck a rider to the scene and found the description inadequate to the facts. He found twenty miles of barbed wire fence down, the posts awry, the stays gone, and in some places the holes perforated. Close examination revealed the fact that every panel of the wire was neatly, sharply cut close to the posts, as though done with nippers, and every strand lying on the ground. The posts had, some of them, been pulled out and were missing, as well as all the stays.

Just inside the Kansas line, across the road from the north line of this fence, was found two heaps—a barbed-wire load of barbed wire on spools, which was to have been partly used in fencing in more pasture. This had been set fire to and literally burned up. I could hardly believe it possible until examination explained: The wire is wound on spools and is then immersed in coal-tar, as a preservative. Kerosene had been poured into the tube of the spools and over the heaps. Ignition was powder-like and combustion easy. In each heap were burned holes through the ground, the melted metal running together like lava, looking not unlike cooked "job-lolly." [I express you a lump taken from the pile.] The little not melted was totally ruined; the ends of barbed wire not a yard fit for use.

Immediately on the line between Kansas and the "Cherokee Strip" in the Indian Territory—but inside of this state—is a line of thriving farms, whose owners have watched from the desert and made to blossom like the rose these acres of Kansas soil. A common road separates these farms from the barbed wire fencing of the Standard Oil Company. Long miles of jagged, rusty, straight, and jaggedly before these hardy tillers of the soil, shutting out from their stock the green fat of unlimited pasture and completely cutting off the timber. To add insult to the injury, the wire for further use in fencing the twenty-five miles square for the Standard Oil Company had been dumped down right in the front yard of one of them.

Mutterings of distant thunder had been heard, lately it grew portentously, and last Monday and Tuesday nights the remarkable cyclone above described burst upon that fence, followed it all the way round the twenty miles, and every panel, only pausing in its sweep to send a lightning streak into those heaps of barbed wire in that mad farmer's front yard.

The agent of the Standard Oil Company immediately put the United States marshals Reed and Rarik on the hunt after the cyclone. Evidence, sure, was found against six men, and the agent, Pink Fouts, posted to Winfield (the county seat) to consult the company's attorney, W. P. Hackney, Esq., who told them the news in no uncertain tone. He hastened to Wichita to get United States Commissioner Hatton to issue warrants; but he told him he had no law to do so. In final despair he telegraphed to United States Attorney Halliwell at Topeka, but he electrified Agent Fouts with the message: "No law to cover the case; the Stock association are trespassers, as were all other stockmen on that strip." The agent returned and reported to the anxious deputy marshals, Reed and Rarik, "We are beat and could do nothing; but we will get a law passed that will 'cover the case.'" Imagine the pheelinks of the expectant marshals! The penalty was said to be $500 in each case, and here went $3,000 upon the flume as that fence went down!

We most decidedly dissent from United States Attorney Halliwell's statement in his message to Agent Fouts when he states "the Stock association are trespassers, as were all other stockmen on that strip." The lands were leased by the Cherokee authorities to cattlemen and this action officially approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

SQUEEZING THE STOCKMEN.
The Land Board of Texas Knocking Profits of Cattle Raising into a Cooked Hat.

Among cattlemen of this city who are greatly interested in the grazing lands of Texas, a good deal of fear has been expressed of late that the workings of the newly created land board of Texas will result in incalculable loss to the stock interests of that state, a loss which will be reflected on the cattle business of this city. One of the largest stock owners residing in this city, whose grazing lands are in Texas, returned home from a trip to his ranch a few days ago, and in discussing the situation yesterday, gave the following account of what he saw: "It was made the duty of the land board, by the law which created it last year, to rent the school land of the state, of which there are several million acres. The price was fixed by law at 4 cents per acre per annum, in all cases where competitive bidding would not give a higher figure. The board has construed the law to give it power to regulate the price and as a consequence has placed the price at 3 cents per acre for dry land and 20 cents for watered. This is a granger move, no doubt, as there is considerable prejudice in Texas against foreign capital, and the approaching session gives an occasion for carrying favor with the people.

"The effect of this raise in price will be to drive out cattlemen from some parts of Texas. A large amount of land has been rented at 3 and 20 cent rates, but it is all good land and is worth the figure. But there are in Texas from 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 acres of school lands which are dear at 4 cents an acre. The Panhandle country is only fit for grazing purposes, and the grass is so poor that it takes about 20 acres to one animal, while in the good districts further south, a fourth as many acres will support a steer a year. Cattle absolutely cannot be raised with a profit in some parts of Texas, where this enormous tax is charged.

"What will be the result I do not know yet, but if the board insists on exacting the high rates it has agreed upon, I believe the ranchmen will go north where there is free grass. Unless the board can be prevailed upon to make some equitable rates, great hardship will be caused. Many ranchmen own the alternate sections, and will be unable to pay the price asked for the rental of the school sections, and unless they can move the herd or move their ranch, they will have to turn the cattle loose, when the country is in the mercy of the rustlers." The situation is really a grave one, and deeply affects the interests of the stockmen, and through them the interests of Kansas City."—Kansas City Times.

The above views of a large owner, who lives in Kansas City and owns cattle in Texas, are not overdrawn as to hardships sustained through the action of the state land board in its raising lease price of school lands.

There is an error creeping into the minds of our Northern friends, however, in regard to the extent of the grazing area at the disposal and under control of the land board. It altogether falls less than 20,000,000 acres of grass lands, that cattlemen would accept as suitable for range. Of this amount less than ten million acres would be taken even at 4 cents. Leaving of pasture lands attainable by cattlemen over 75,000,000 acres suitable for range that is owned by individuals and railway companies. The greater part of this is unleased and open commons. Free grass in Texas is abundant and of necessity will so continue long after the present generation has passed away.

Texas cattle growing has been hurt this far and no farther. Some large cattle companies who had leased railroad sections alternating with school lands, are necessarily compelled to complete their range, to secure a lease of the school lands or turn their stock loose. Small stock men can run cattle as cheap on the commons as they ever could. All that is necessary to run cattle in Texas is to secure control of a few sections of land for ranch purposes, located so as to control, by its water privileges, a large extent of the commons contiguous. The ranchman will not have absolute control, he can neither enclose or line-ride the commons, but his cattle can graze over it. Its grass will put fat on their ribs and he has not one cent to pay for this privilege. The time may come in a few years when a goodly part of our grazing lands will be sold to actual occupants and become enclosed, until this is done, the commons will remain free ranges and enough in quantity to meet the wants of range men.

The Cattle Bill.
WASHINGTON, April 24.—Senator Coke to-day supplemented his yesterday's speech with another vigorous attack upon the cattle disease bill. His remarks were largely directed against Plumb, who is credited with the authorship of the bill in the senate. Coke has prepared an amendment which will probably be submitted to-morrow, which in effect will destroy every feature of the bill objectionable to the Texas cattle interest. The general impression among senators is that the amendment will be adopted, and if so, the bill will be harmless and contrary to the wishes of the agricultural department and the attitude of Plumb. Coke's conduct as leader of the opposition is warmly commended by cattlemen of the entire Northwest, as is seen by communications and press comments. His course has been to prevent as long as possible a consideration of the bill, and has caused changes which will make its passage almost useless to the originators.

Morgan said the bill provided for a number of inspectors, who would be interested in keeping alive the impression that the disease existed among the cattle of the country, as continuance in office depended upon the fact or supposed fact that such diseases existed.

Plumb then addressed the senate in reply to objections made to the bill, and in opposition to the motion to recommit. A recommitment he said would be destructive of the bill, and an indication that the senate did not want to pass any bill on the subject of cattle diseases this session. All the stock growing associations had passed resolutions favoring the bill, and every intelligent stock grower favored it. In regard to the constitutional question, Plumb said when a state had attempted to keep out cattle from another state the supreme court directed it to send the constitutional power to do so, and to assert now that the United States had no power under the constitution to regulate this interstate commerce in cattle would be to assert that the power existed nowhere. Plumb continued a considerable length, discussing the subject in various ways.

Coke said a great interest of his state had been assailed and libeled, and its value in consequence depreciated by officials of the United States. The bulk of testimony before the senate went to show there was no pleuro-pneumonia in this country. One gentleman had told him he had advanced $500,000 on cattle, and if the bill had passed he would lose half, if not all his money. The cattle interests were suffering and would suffer from this constant agitation. Where, he asked, was the pleuro-pneumonia? Agitation could not route it, except in the agricultural reports. If there was any testimony of contagious diseases among Texas cattle he would only be interested to get passed the best bill he could, but as there was no such evidence he must oppose the bill. Between one-seventh and one-sixth of the cattle of the United States were in Texas, and the treasurer of the cattle commission recommended that these cattle be quarantined from March to November. The only time they were fit for market. This would make a great difference in the price of beef, and consumers would be largely out of pocket by it.

Senator Florida took the floor, but gave way to the motion for the senate to go into executive session. After a few minutes executive session, the doors re-opened, and the senate adjourned.

Cattle are still being driven out of Eastern and Western Texas. This should not be the case as we need our cattle here. We need before us a yoke of cattle were sold on the street to our market men for $105, their gross-weight being 2550 pounds. Fine grass raising is getting to be one of the industries in Rusk county.—Henderson News.

A correspondent from Seven Rivers, N. M., writing to New Mexico Stock Gazer, says: Judge Thomas Gardner, whose range is about seven miles west of the mouth of Seven Rivers, has sold his whole herd, consisting of something over 600 head, to Bryan & Gardner of Penasco, at $22.50 per head. Mr. Gardner proposes to stock his range with horses or sheep.

THE SHERMAN RACES.

The Closing Day of a Successful Meeting.

Friday, the 19th, was by far the most enjoyable day of the meeting, notwithstanding a cloudy morning and a slight rain presaged a muddy track and slim attendance.

The first race on the programme was the unfinished race of Thursday, 2:35 class, in which Jim Trumbull had secured one heat, with John M second, and Jug, Jr., third, in 2:38.

The second heat of the day, but third of the race, Jim Trumbull won readily in 2:34, Jno. M coming in second and Jug, Jr., third, in 2:38.

In the second heat of the day, but third of the race, Jim Trumbull won readily in 2:34, Jno. M coming in second and Jug, Jr., third, in 2:38.

Now came the fifth and last heat of the first race, and resulted in Jim Trumbull winning the heat and race in 2:37; John M second, and Jug, Jr., third. This was a well contested race between Jim and John, but Jim got the purse, John the cake and Jug the crumbs.

Summary—Jim Trumbull, 1 1 2 1 1; John M, 2 2 2 1 2; Jug, Jr., 3 1 3 3 3. Time, 2:38, 2:44, 2:34, 2:39, 2:37.

SECOND RACE—2:26 CLASS, TROTTER. This brought to the string Executor, Texas Bill, May H and Whirlwind. The first heat was won by Whirlwind in 2:28; the second heat by May H, in 2:27; the third by Whirlwind, in 2:27, with a tie for second place between May H and Bill.

Next came the fourth and champion heat of the second race, which resulted in Whirlwind winning the heat and race in 2:27; Texas Bill second, Executor third, May H fourth. This was the handsomest heat of the race, all the horses holding well together till they came to the home stretch, when May H broke and dropped behind much to the disappointment of her many admirers.

Summary—Whirlwind, 2, 2, 1, 1; May H, 2, 1, 0, 4; Texas Bill, 3, 3, 0, 2; Executor, 4, 4, 4, 3.

Time—2:28, 2:27, 2:27, 2:27. After this Richbald gave an exhibition pace of a mile, jogging around in 2:25.

Following this was the FREE FOR ALL PACE, Purse $50. The entries were Westmont and Fuller, and Fuller won the first heat in 2:17, after a gallant contest. He also won the second and third heats, and race, Westmont being at his throat latch in the second heat and within a neck in the third.

Summary, Fuller, 1, 1, 1; Westmont, 2, 2, 2. Time—2:17, 2:19, 2:18, 2:18.

This was by far the best wheel race on the course and a very exciting one.

THE MILE HEAT RACE. Two best in three, free for all ages, purse $200, was next, and Olivette, Heartless and Frank Harper entered the ring as the contestants, betting rather 1 to 1 in favor of Olivette.

Summary—Olivette, 1, 1; Heartless, 2, 2; Frank Harper, distanced. Time—1:45, 1:50.

FIFTH RACE. This was a special race, five-eighths of a mile dash, for a purse of $100, in which New Moon, Ben Thompson, Adventure, Grey Eagle and Bay Rebel contested. Ben Thompson won with ease. Time 1:07.

Summary—Ben Thompson, 1; New Moon, 2; Bay Rebel, 3. The meeting closed with a very creditable mile dash, when in the best time a mile has ever been run on the courses embraced in North Texas Circuit, it was

THE CONSOLATION PURSE OF $100. The entries were Thady, Virgie Hearne and Rocket, and the wire was reached at the outcome, in the order named, Thady winning.

Summary—Thady 1, Hearne 2, Bay Rebel 3. Time, 1:44. Thus ended the Texas spring races, with great credit to the management of each of the associations, Gainesville, Fort Worth and Sherman, and the latter has great reason to feel proud of her debut in the racing world.

up the fires of horse improvement among Texans, until the state at large and the world be benefited through the development here of the highest type of the racer, the roadster and the general utility class of horses. While Fort Worth and Gainesville have merited and received great and just praise for their excellent parks and well conducted races, Sherman at one bound has caught up with them and stands a little in advance in inspiring the surrounding counties to aid in the good work. Will not Waco, Dallas and the other cities enlarge the circuit?

PANHANDLE CATTLE RAISERS' ASSOCIATION.

Spring Meeting April 8, at Mobeetie, Texas. Harmonious Action—Round Ups.

The subjoined report of the proceedings of this meeting failed to reach us in time for last week's JOURNAL, but knowing its importance to many of our patrons we give in detail the round-ups.

The regular time for the spring meeting of the Panhandle Cattle Raisers' Association having arrived, the assembling of members was deferred at Mobeetie, Texas, until 7 p.m., on the 8th inst. O. H. Nelson, the president, not being present, Mr. J. F. Evans was elected to preside.

A committee was appointed to arrange the spring round ups. Lon Beverley, Dan F. Cole, Perry LeFors, J. J. Drew and Tom F. McGee for the North Fork division, and H. W. Cresswell, Harry T. Groom, W. H. Hopkins, M. W. Hays and C. B. Willingham for the Canadian division.

For the Canadian division, work to begin May 20th, at the trail on the Canadian and Washita and work up to mouth of Red Deer creek, then divide, one party going up Canadian to Bats and Bear's range, the other to commence on head of Wolf Creek and work down to Sixteen-mile creek.

A Good Week's Market—Native Steers From $4.50 to $6.75.

Corn-fed Texas Steers—Offerings Common—Sold from $4.50 to $5.25.

The Run of Horses Large—Prices Good.

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL., April 22, 1884.

We had a good week of it and sellers could not complain at the prices they obtained. The run was large and consisted mainly of native steers from common to prime, for which $4.50@6.75 per 100 pounds was paid, with the bulk of the sales going at and around $6 per 100 pounds.

Our native and southwest butcher steers of 1000 to 1150 pounds maintain their own right along. Prices range from $5.00@5.75 per 100 pounds. Fat grass Texas, of equal weight, are worth more than these grades. This goes to show that Texas steers are worth just at present. Even common to fair mixed butcher stock, as old cows, heifers, thin steers, yearlings, etc., sell well and bring from $4.00@5.00 per 100 pounds.

The outlook for the future is quite promising. There, I will not go any further. This is enough of a prophecy. The run of Texas horses was large the past week. Yesterday thirteen car loads came in. Ten of these belonged to Harold Bros. of Hogg, Texas, and are en route for Wapella, Ill., to go on a stock farm.

J. M. Freeman of San Antonio, Texas, had two car-loads on the market, and sold at good prices.

H. Norton of Terrell, Texas, had one car-load and sold at private terms. The weather is still cold and the season is late. Spring White, the superintendent, says keep your horses back until the weather gets warmer.

Wonderful Stories. I recently saw an item to the effect that some California horsemen are about to stock a ranch with Indian ponies, with the purpose of supplying this state with the rugged species of one Indian pony that may also be had with profit by the projectors of the new enterprise.

I rode once with some cattle buyers through the stock ranges of Nevada. My pony it was called Bob had drifted into Nevada from Utah, and was known as a buffalo hunter, though whether because Bob himself had been addicted to the sport of buffalo hunting or descended from buffalo-hunting parents, I never learned. Bob was as meek looking as a sheared sheep, and as bullet-headed as a political opponent.

FROM McMULLEN COUNTY. Good Rains—More Needed—Range and Stock Poor—Stray Cattle.

TILDEN, TEXAS, April 20, 1884. Editor Texas Live Stock Journal. While looking over your issue of last week, I noticed in the San Antonio column that Rufe Moore (our Rufe) reported good rains and plenty of grass in this section.

When I say cure, I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of Fits, epilepsy or falling sickness a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed, is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a bottle and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give express and postoffice. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. Address Dr. H. G. Root, 13 Pearl St., New York.

FARRELL & BEATY of Galveston, Tex., on the 23d, sold 800 head of cattle to W. H. Williams, for $15,000 cash.

WE learn from Corpus Christi, Texas, by a special of the 24th, that from scarcity of water a large number of cattle in that section are dying.

W. F. BENTLEY the horseman of the Texas Investment Company, since our last issue has sold and delivered the following cow ponies, to-wit: 1 carload of first-class broke ponies to Col. John N. Simpson, at $65 per head, and to Mr. Power of Fisher county, 1 carload at $55.

C. C. SLAUGHTER evidences his faith in the cattle business in the future by joining in a new company in the Indian Territory, composed of Hunter & Evans of St. Louis, Mo., and himself.

It is believed that those who are so earnest in advocating the passage of the pleuro-pneumonia bill do so with a hope of shutting Texas cattle from Northern markets during the summer months.

READ the news from Washington in regard to the animal industry bill, and the utterances of Senator Coke in opposition thereto.

Wintry Weather. After a fortnight of genial sunshine, inducing leaves to put forth and buds to form in this section, a northern blast came on the night of the 21st, and for forty-eight hours it seemed the chilling winds of December had come to drive away spring.

Cattle Purchase. C. E. Odum and L. B. Collins were fortunate enough to secure last week by purchase from the Perrin Bros. & Strickland the W Cross and other brands, amounting to 5000 head, and the ranch outfit in Knox, on Salt Fork of the Brazos.

The Animal Industry Bill.

The evidence continues to accumulate, notwithstanding hasty denials by the advocates of the Hatch bill, that those who are so earnest in its passage do so with the hope of shutting off Texas cattle from Northern markets during the summer months.

The true wisdom of this national movement to create a commission to arbitrarily control diseased animals is first to get a few extra stalls provided at the public stables to fatten old party hacks, who have fed at the public crib, as treasury commissioners or other places, where the benefits all go to the taxpayer, and secondly to use this commission to keep Texas cattle from Northern markets.

These associations have within them detective and protective features, that strike terror to the hearts and paralyze the hands of thieves.

The live stock interest of a state is in a large measure a public as well as a private one. This fact is recognized by the most advanced states and nations of the world, in the public measures provided for caring for this great industry.

Both sanitary rules, where there are any at all, and treatment of diseases, are left to hap-hazard, skilled and unskilled--mostly the latter.

The losses by disease that year are also given, and a fair valuation would be about as follows:

Cattle Purchase. C. E. Odum and L. B. Collins were fortunate enough to secure last week by purchase from the Perrin Bros. & Strickland the W Cross and other brands, amounting to 5000 head, and the ranch outfit in Knox, on Salt Fork of the Brazos.

shown this to be both wise and economic treatment of the whole matter. The commission and its work would not cost a tithe of the annual losses which are now suffered by the state.

Fine Bulls. The 112 head of high grade bulls, purchased by C. E. Odum of R. L. and W. A. Greer of Missouri at their sale in this city in February were shipped by rail to Wichita Falls on the morning of the 23d by L. E. Collins who reports them as a real top lot of bulls.

Cattle Growers' Association. As each recurring spring passes, the wisdom in organizing and the benefits resulting from the action of range stock growers in their association meetings become more and more apparent.

These associations have within them detective and protective features, that strike terror to the hearts and paralyze the hands of thieves.

Combination of unfortunates surroundings, growing out of fence-cutting troubles and range locations, started the fight to keep down cattle values, and this warfare, beginning in range troubles at home, has been fed by rumors first of closed trails, then of the land board's rulings, stopping purchase or leasing at reasonable rates, and fearing these would not be sufficient to permit buyers to secure cattle at their own prices.

The losses by disease that year are also given, and a fair valuation would be about as follows:

The Bull Problem. We refer in this, not to the bulls of the stock market, but the bulls that produce the stock for market.

TEXAS STOCK INTERESTS.

Land Board Action Hurtful to Small Owners.

The 15th of April, the time for acting by the State Land Board on their latest change of ruling, has come and gone and the result is not satisfactory to the school fund or small stock owner.

With a flourish of trumpets, it was proclaimed abroad that immense bodies of land had been leased in Tom Green counties at over 20 cents per acre for dry and more than 40 cents per acre for watered lands.

Men who domicile in glass residences should not be free in hurling stones, and with all due deference to the sapient manipulator of the general land office, our very wise, able, but versatile commissioner, we would kindly whisper a word of warning.

A Bad Day for Texas. We recently called attention to the fact that L. D. Voak had severed his connection with the Gould lines as general manager of livestock transportation of Texas cattle.

BRIEF MENTION.

Thousands of cattle have been shipped to this place and driven from here to pasture this week.

V. Weldon, one of the most enterprising and energetic stockmen of this county, has been adding to his selection of improved cattle, having purchased ten head of Durhams from the Emison stock.

The Wichita Land & Cattle Co. has received through its manager, Mr. A. H. Parmer, eighty-seven head of young blooded bulls varying in age from yearlings to eighteen months.

We refer in this, not to the bulls of the stock market, but the bulls that produce the stock for market.

HEREFORD RANCH.

A Stock Farm on the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad.

On the line of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, between Fort Worth and Decatur, there is a station called Hereford Ranch.

Since then Mr. Houts has spared no expense to obtain choice bulls of noted strains to improve the native stock, and has had several young Hereford bulls imported.

Best breeding establishments in the state and the leading one in the specialty. Not least of all the improvements showing Texas progress is the fine stock industry of Texas, and it is a source of satisfaction to know that some of the best stock-farms are in easy reach of the great railroad center of the Northwest.

PERSONAL NOTES. Tom C. Shoemaker, the genial cowman of Wise, is in the city.

Col. J. H. Britton of Sherman, state engineer of railway matters, spent yesterday in the city.

Volney Hall of Marshall, who owns a ranch and some fine blooded cattle, was in our city on the 22d.

E. G. Leonard of Leonard Bros. came down from Henrietta on the 24th, and reports cattle doing well.

J. G. Halsell of Decatur came in on Thursday night and reports his cattle not injured by the cold snap.

Hon. W. J. Swain, the able and clear-headed Comptroller of Texas, was in our city on the night of the 23d.

T. G. Cairns and Charley Smith were in the Fort yesterday. They report Gainesville flourishing and some cattle trading.

Col. McCoy, of Wren & McCoy, gave us a call on yesterday morning. He thinks congress ought to pass an animal industry bill.

Jas. H. Millican spent Saturday in the city, on his return from St. Louis, Mo. He thinks the outlook for good prices for grass beef is good.

Mr. W. Mason Greenup of Sull, Sons & Greenup, solicitors of London, England, reached our city on Tuesday and is a guest of the Pickwick.

John Millap, the moving young cattleman, came in from Nolan county Tuesday and is still in the city. We are always glad to welcome him to the Fort.

W. R. Bourland of Gainesville, a leading cattleman and member of the North Texas cattle raisers' executive committee, was a guest of the Pickwick on Thursday.

Phil McCusker of Anadarko, B. I. T., came in on Thursday. He is well known as an old scout, interpreter and general utility man around the agency, and is always welcome in Fort Worth.

J. R. Plummer came in from Henrietta yesterday and reports the Panhandle, excepting what is now being recently passed, needing rain. He is a good worker for stock interests.

Ira Hays, cattleman from San Angelo, Tom Green county, came in on Thursday night, and will spend several days in the Fort. He sold out his ranch some time since and we hope to record him again as a stock grower soon.

O. H. Nelson, president of the Panhandle association and largely interested in cattle both in Texas and Kansas, spent Saturday, the 19th, in our city, on his return from Austin, where he was interested in land leasing under the old law.

Eddy Dyer of Seven Rivers, New Mexico, informs us by letter that there is great activity in their section among stockmen, and that nearly all the herds on the Pecos are sending their steers north. Ranges too much crowded to grow beef. Very dry and water scarce.

A. J. Wren, C. M. Mann, Harve R. Adams and W. F. Lewis, wealthy and worthy cattlemen of Colorado City, came in from the west on yesterday morning and report cattle on their ranches improving rapidly and no bad effects or losses from the recent cold snap.

S. M. Thorp, of Stinson, Case, Thorp, Ryburn & Co. Cattle Company on Dove Creek, Tom Green Co., came down from a visit to his old Illinois home in Dewitt county, on the 19th, and reports the ranch. He reports prospects for good prices for beef this spring are very favorable.

L. L. Moore, of Moore & Johnson, this city, came in from a land and cattle trip from head of Canyon Blanco, in Crosby, and reports grass good, cattle looking well, and the calf crop large and healthy. He reports good feeling among the cowmen and splendid rains on Double Mountain and Salt Fork.

S. H. and Neal Truitt reached Fort Worth from their home, LaGrange, Ga., the first of the week. They will spend a few weeks in this part of Texas and express their appreciation as they pleased with Fort Worth. They are on a visit to their brother, A. F. Truitt, Esq., of the Fort. If they are chums from the same block as their entering brother we would be glad to have them locate here.

Mr. George B. Loving and wife reached the city yesterday morning, returning from their trans-Atlantic tour. They are both in excellent health and much pleased with Europe. Mr. Loving was eminently successful in his business arrangements. H. J. Bentley and family also returned with the party. Mr. Bentley has been the resident representative of the Loving Publishing Company and the Texas Investment Company Limited in London, England, for the past year, and did much to advance the interests he represented in Great Britain. His children suffered much from the thirteen days' travel by land and sea. These two families will be warmly welcomed by their many friends in Texas.
