Petition On Airport Presented

The Scurry County commissioners court this morning received a petition signed by over 200 citizens asking that the court rescind their action in denying use of Winston Field to the US Air Force.

The court had voted not to renew the lease permitting Webb Air Force Base to use the county airport for practice landings. The lease expires June 30.

In part the petition said that the signers "believe that the use of (Winston Field) by the United States Air Force is a patriotic service rendered by Scurry County and also it is of economic benefit to the people of Scurry County, and whereas a small group of citizens of Scurry County have. . .petitioned not to renew said lease, and whereas the Scurry County Airport Board has recommended that said lease be renewed. . . we petition that the (court) follow the recommendation of the Scurry county Airport Board (and) renew such lease."

The petition was presented by Eddie Don Floyd.

Also meeting with the court was Dave Adams; representing the Snyder Jaycees.

Adams read a resolution which was passed last week by the Jaycees, a copy of which is found elsewhere in this edition of the News, recommending continued use of Winston field. Adams said the Jaycees felt the commissioners should know of the action of the club.

It was noted that the petitions were circulated after the Jaycees' meeting, and that the petitions and the resolution were not connected.

Also meeting with the court this morning were two members of the court - appointed Coliseum Committee. John Boren and Stanley Noah asked the court to define their duties and responsibilities as committee members.

The court asked that they, and the other members of the committee collect data regarding a site and also regarding for what uses the building would be needed. Other members of the committee are W. A. McGlaun and Cullen Toombs.

Chester H. Hewitt, representing the Fort Worth architectural firm of George L. Dahl, also met with the court to present that companys' bid for the architectural work on the coliseum.

The court convened as a board of equalization to hear anyone who wished to discuss the evaluation of his property. There were none, and the court, acting as the equalization board, recessed until next Monday. The meeting with the major tax-payers will be held June 18.

IN RIGHTS DEBATE

Solons Try New Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — An abrupt change in strategy by supporters of the civil rights bill appeared obvious today as the marathon Senate controversy stretched into its 10th week and 52nd session.

The new battle plan is to pound out a compromise package — outside the Senate chamber — and then try to pledge 67 members from both parties — a two-thirds majority — to stand solidly behind this on all votes.

This would be no easy accomplishment, but it would duplicate the strength Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois massed March 26 to make the bill the pending Senate business.

Senate maneuvers on the measure began March 9 when it arrived in the Senate after House passage. Although the flood of oratory got under way promptly, the bill wasn't officially the pending Senate business until a 67-17 vote to make it such was attained March 26.

Initially, Senate sponsors talked about trying to pass the House bill without major changes.

Longer-than-usual daily sessions and Saturday meetings failed to dampen the Southerners' oratorical ardor, but they finally allowed votes last week on the first of more than 100 amendments.

These tests involved attempts to make provisions for jury trials in contempt of court cases that arise from the bill.

A series of daily conferences has been held in Dirksen's office. With all factions except the Dixie opponents represented, this group has been laboriously seeking agreement on all provisions of the legislation.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his top legal aides have been participating. All results are cleared with key House members for expected later action there.

There was no session Saturday but debate on the measure continued elsewhere.

The Dixie chief, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., told a Georgia audience that opponents lack the votes to prevent eventual passage and that the final outcome is uncertain.

Sens. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and John Sparkman, D-Ala., in a program taped for radio use, said they would fight to prevent any watering down of the measure—the inference being that such compromises might bring Senate approval.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said President Johnson should "lift the telephone and do a little talking" with Southern senators in an effort to get the bill passed without crippling amendments.

Johnson told audiences North and South that a civil rights bill will be passed, even if round-the-clock Senate sessions are required.

Two Negro civil rights leaders—James A. Farmer, director of the Congress of Racial Equality and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference — appealed in radio-television interviews against weakening the bill through amendments.

71 Killed In Crash Of US Jet Transport

By CARL ZIMMERMAN

MANILA (AP)—A U.S. military jet transport plane crashed and burned tonight during a rainstorm at Clark Air Force Base north of Manila. The U.S. Air Force said 71 of 83 persons aboard the plane were killed.

An Air Force spokesman said wreckage was strewn over a wide area of the strategic base, a relay point for supplies to the U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

The spokesman said the plane, a C135 jet carrying 73 passengers and a crew of 10, broke up and burned less than a half mile from the runway.

The plane left Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Sunday and had stopped at Hickam Field in Hawaii.

The injured were taken to a hospital.

"The present confirmed count is 12 survivors," the spokesman said.

In Japan, a spokesman for the U.S. 5th Air Force said he had been informed by Clark Field that the plane carried "military passengers," and he interpreted this to mean no dependents of military personnel were aboard.

The four-jet transport capable of carrying 126 persons crashed at about 7:15 p.m. Manila time, in a level, unobstructed area of dirt and grass, the spokesman said.

There was no sign of distress before the crash, and the plane "just didn't make the runway," he added.

Most of the 12 survivors were "in pretty bad shape," he said.

The spokesman could not say which service most of the passengers were from—Air Force, Army or Navy. He also could not say whether the plane was bound for another destination after landing at Clark.

Clark Field, about 60 miles north of Manila, is the main U.S. base in Southeast Asia. It is headquarters of the 13th Air Force, and serves as a principal shuttlepoint for supplying American forces in South Viet Nam.

The plane was attached to the 44th Air Transport Squadron of Travis Air Force Base. A spokesman there said it left the base at 9 a.m. Pacific time for the Philippines, and stopped at Hickam, in Hawaii.

Earlier in the day two Philippine air force jets crashed at Basa base in central Luzon island. The pilot of one plane was killed but the pilot of the other parachuted to safety.

Delegates Named By Both Parties

Scurry County Democrats moved to throw their support behind President Lyndon B. Johnson and Gov. John Connally, while county Republicans backed Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in his bid for the presidential nomination at county political conventions Saturday.

The Democrats also approved a memorial resolution to the late President John F. Kennedy.

Both parties voted to put their delegates under the unit rule at the state conventions.

Named delegates to the state Democratic Party Convention were Frank Wilson, L. A. McClanahan, Charley Bley, Sterling Williams, Herbert Feather and C. T. McLaughlin. Alternates are Mrs. H. A. Flournoy, Mabel Brock, M. L. Andress, George Killam, William H. Wilson and J. R. Helms.

Republicans named Gene L. Dulaney, G. P. Proctor, B. J. Bartels, Doug Flynn and Charles Musslewhite as delegates to their state convention.

Tests Scheduled For Apollo Escape System

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP)—A major test of the Apollo spacecraft escape system is scheduled Tuesday at the White Sands Missile Range, near here in southern New Mexico.

Space agency officials said the test will involve the firing of a Little Joe 2 solid-fuel rocket saddled with a full scale model of the apollo spacecraft.

Their goal is to check the ability of the rocket engine on the escape tower, with 155,000 pounds thrust, to pull the 9,500-pound space capsule off an exploding launch vehicle.

McNAMARA PLOT

Red Suspect Takes Leap

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A Communist agent suspected of plotting to kill U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on his arrival Tuesday leaped from a window at police headquarters today, police said.

The agent, identified as Nguyen Van Troi, leaped from a second-floor window, landed on a jeep, suffered a broken leg and was hospitalized. Police said he was in a coma.

Troi was one of three suspected Communist Viet Cong agents picked up Saturday night as they tried to mine a bridge on the route McNamara will take from Saigon airport into the capital. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was expected to be riding with McNamara.

Several other Viet Cong suspects have been picked up. A quantity of high explosives has been unearthed since the arrest of the three, police sources said.

The Viet Cong agents confessed they planned to blow up the bridge. One of the agents was caught laying a wire under the bridge. He led police to the two other agents and a mine with an explosive charge hidden in an old kerosene can buried in the mudbank of the river.

U.S. officials did not say whether alternate plans had been made for McNamara's arrival.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived without incident today to join with McNamara in conferences on the war against the Communist guerrillas.

"I have come here to get a sense of reality about the situation here," Taylor said. "That is the same reason McNamara is coming, too."

Taylor, who accompanied McNamara on previous visits, said officials in Washington were encouraged by the steps undertaken by Premier Nguyen Khanh, but he added it was too early for "comparative statements."

"Don't be surprised if we are back here every couple of months," Taylor said. "We get regular analyses of the Viet Nam situation in Washington but we need to update them."

McNamara, who was winding up a visit to West Germany Sunday, showed no concern about the alleged plot.

"You can say that I have no comment to make, absolutely no comment," he told reporters in Bonn.

Reliable sources said a Vietnamese policeman happened on the plot about 10 p.m. Saturday when he spotted an underwater swimmer near the bridge. The swimmer and two other men in the area were arrested.

L. H. Reeder Rites Today

Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. today for Loy Henry Reeder, 54, of Fluvanna.

Mr. Reeder died at about 3 p.m. Saturday near his home southeast of Fluvanna. Witnesses said he fell from a horse for no apparent reason, and had apparently suffered an attack of some sort. It was not immediately determined whether the fall or the attack was responsible for his death.

The funeral services were to be held in the Fluvanna Baptist Church of which Mr. Reeder was a member, with the Rev. Thomas Hall, pastor of the church officiating. A life - long resident of Fluvanna, Mr. Reeder was to be buried at the Fluvanna Cemetery with Bolger Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Reeder is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. A. Reeder of Fluvanna; two sisters, Mrs. Glenny Hutcherson of Fort Worth and Mrs. Florence Perry of Greenfield, Mo.; four brothers, Clay of Fluvanna, Rue of Dallas, Ray of Muleshoe, and Homer of Chula Vista, Calif.

Delay Ordered In Murder Trial

FORT WORTH (AP)—Judge J. E. Winters ordered the Clifford Carroll murder trial postponed today until June 22. Carroll, 21, is charged in the March 3 beating and scalding death of Paula Bowman, 2, daughter of Doris Jean Bowman. Mrs. Bowman was convicted of the same crime in April and sentenced to 50 years.

Television Debate Deemed Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican presidential nominee may get equal time, but he is unlikely to get on the same television screen with President Johnson in the campaign.

Congress has ready for action a compromise bill to suspend for the Democratic and Republican presidential nominees the provision of the Communications Act which requires broadcasters to make equal time available for all candidates if free time is given to one.

Passage of this legislation presumably would open the way for television-radio debates between the major candidates such as those between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon in 1960.

While there has been no final decision, top Democrats do not expect President Johnson to agree to face-to-face debate with his Republican opponent.

Instead, Johnson may take televised time to discuss the issues and state the case for his election. His GOP rival would have the same amount of time for the same purpose, but would appear separately.

The late President Kennedy told a news conference that he would debate his Republican opponent. Republicans already are citing this pledge and suggesting that Johnson is ducking a debate.

The President was said to feel that the situation this year is different from 1960 when neither of the major party candidates was carrying the responsibilities of the presidency. What they had to say did not constitute American policy as would any statement of a president.

Separate appearances of the nominees might deny Johnson's opponent some political advertising he could get by being on the same screen at the same time with the President.

Some of Nixon's supporters in 1960 opposed his decision to appear in debate with Kennedy. They felt that the vice president was much more widely known by the voters than the senator and was only helping his opponent get television exposure.

Wallace Speaks On Heels Of Riot

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace carries his Maryland presidential primary campaign to this racially divided city today on the heels of a noisy, stone-throwing Negro demonstration Sunday night.

The Alabama Democrat is scheduled to speak tonight to the Dorchester Business and Citizens Association, the group behind the referendum defeat last Oct. 1 of a Cambridge equal accommodations law.

About 50 youthful Negroes paraded singing through the streets of the Negro section Sunday night, tossing firecrackers and stones in apparent protest to the governor's scheduled appearance.

A brick smashed through the window of the home of Edith Jolley, principal of the Negro high school.

"It was like a Negro spiritual Sunday revival," said the National Guard commander, Maj. Bernard Feingold. "But it was a little late in the evening for it."

Only 10 guardsmen were in town when the outburst occurred, but plans call for increasing the force to 400 today. Guard troops were sent in last June 12 when racial violence resulted in injury to 12 persons. They are still there.

Demonstrations are specifically banned by the modified martial law still in effect, but no arrests were made Sunday night.

Gloria Richardson, Cambridge Negro leader, was on the streets for some time quieting her people.

Negroes planned a rally two hours before Wallace was to speak. Mrs. Richardson promised National Guard officials there would be no demonstrations.

A spokesman for Wallace said he did not know if the demonstration would change the governor's plans.

"We have our own security forces to handle these things," he said, "but we certainly don't want to get involved in anything like that. "As a matter of fact, we'd run a country mile to avoid it."

Star Carol Haney Dies Sunday Night

NEW YORK (AP) — Carol Haney, the Broadway musical star, died Sunday night in a hospital here.

Miss Haney, 39, was a singer, dancer and choreographer.

The cause of death was not learned immediately.

Miss Haney was taken from her home at Saddle River, N.J., to Valley Hospital in Ridgewood, N.J., on Thursday. Later that day she was transferred by ambulance to the New York hospital.

Born on Christmas Eve in 1924 in New Bedford, Mass., Miss Haney was married to actor Larry Blyden. She had three children.

6-SIDED DONNEYBROOK

Oregon Claims GOP Spotlight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oregon's Republican presidential primary election Friday holds the week's top political billing as a six-sided donneybrook.

The big West Coast scrap comes after Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller cruise through a pair of uncontested GOP presidential primaries Tuesday — the Arizona senator in Nebraska, the New York governor in West Virginia.

With the Republican National Convention opening two months from Wednesday in San Francisco, an Associated Press survey now shows this lineup of first-ballot votes:

Goldwater	266
Gov. William W. Scranton	63
Henry Cabot Lodge	43
Sen. Margaret Chase Smith	14
Richard M. Nixon	7
Rockefeller	4

As favorite sons, Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio has 58, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin has 30 and former Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota has 6. In the uncommitted column are 210.

With 701 of the 1,308 delegates chosen, Goldwater now has less than half of the 655 needed for nomination.

Goldwater is the only entry in the Republican presidential preference primary in Nebraska but efforts have been made to secure write-in votes for Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam. And a last-minute campaign for write-ins for former Vice President Nixon was announced Friday.

Rockefeller is the only candidate on the GOP preference ballot in West Virginia. There is no provision for counting write-in votes in that state.

Voters in both states also will choose delegates to the party conventions—who are not bound by the outcome of the primaries—and nominees for senate and governor.

Also on tap Tuesday is the Rhode Island Republican convention. A nominally uncommitted slate which includes supporters of Goldwater, Rockefeller and Lodge is being pushed by Gov. John H. Chafee but there are indications Goldwater supporters will seek a delegation more strongly committed to the senator.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Summer is just around the corner and with it will come a problem that I have battled for the last four summers. My husband fancies himself an expert barbecue cook. He thinks he knows all there is to know about barbecuing and the results are disastrous! He never asks anyone how they like their steaks or hamburgers done, but proceeds to burn everything until it's dry and tough because that's the way HE likes his. He gets so mean and stubborn when he puts that apron on that nobody can tell him anything. I love the delicious taste of outdoor barbecued meats that cannot be duplicated in the kitchen. Any helpful ideas to solve my problem would be appreciated.

RAGGED EDGE

DEAR RAGGED: Sorry, but you are fighting a losing battle. There is nothing as impossible as a man who thinks he can barbecue. Pray for a short and rainy summer. And forget the "delicious taste of outdoor barbecued meats." It's not worth it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I understand that the bride has the say when it comes to the wedding, but what is the proper procedure when the groom's father is a minister (of the same faith) but lives in a distant town? If the bride asks her future father-in-law to perform the ceremony, what about her local minister? If she asks her own minister to officiate, what about the groom's father? Weddings can be difficult. Thank goodness I am the mother of only —

ONE DAUGHTER

DEAR ONE: Let the bride have her say. A minister who would resent it is a poor minister.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I haven't been getting along too well for quite some time. When he goes to work, he calls me all day to make sure I'm home. He's so jealous it's sickening. I get one hour a week for shopping. (At night.) He says there's too much cheating going on in the world and he doesn't want it to happen to us. Abby, I've been so bored and lonely for so long that when this young man spoke to me (on my hour out) I couldn't help myself. He's been coming to my house while my husband works, and I've never been happier. This other man is not married and he loves kids. (I have one.) He wants to marry me. I am under 25 and have my whole life ahead of me. I can't get a personal reply as my husband picks up the mail, so answer this in the paper. I can always deny it's me. What should I do?

WANTS A CHANGE

DEAR WANTS: Stick with the man you're married to. He has his faults, but as least you know what they are. The new Romeo may provide a new thrill, but that will wear off, too, eventually. The only thing you can be sure of insofar as the new flame is concerned is that he spends his afternoons with married women while their husbands work. Is THAT the kind of husband you want? Think it over.

DEAR ABBY: Last year I paid $45 for a pair of skis. They were hardly used, and as good as new. A very good friend of mine offered to buy them from me, so because of our friendship, I sold them to her for $12. Then she turned around and sold them to someone else for $25 and went bragging all around town about the profit she made on the deal. It's not the money, it's the principle of the thing. I would like your opinion of this person.

MAD

DEAR MAD: Your friend was stupid for "bragging" about the profit she made. But unless she bought the skis from you with the understanding that she was not to sell them, they were hers to do whatever she wanted with them.

Rusk Urges Quick Terms In Cyprus

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged Greece and Turkey today to come to terms quickly over Cyprus.

Rusk met first with Greek Foreign Minister Stravos Kostopoulos, then with Turkish Foreign Minister Feridun Erkin at the U.S. Embassy. In both talks, Rusk warned that clashes between the Greek and Turkish communities in Cyprus could disrupt Allied unity on Europe's southeastern flank.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who is in Europe as a personal envoy of President Johnson, is due here Tuesday to bolster the U.S. plea. Fulbright has just visited both Greece and Turkey to deliver personal messages from the President to the leaders of those two countries.

Just how Fulbright will figure in the picture here was uncertain. Also here is Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, who is a member of the American delegation to the ministerial conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Rails Enjoy Shaky Truce

CHICAGO (AP) — A shaky peace was restored to the nation's railroads Sunday night as the sixth walkout by railroad workers since Thursday came to an end.

A federal court injunction obtained Sunday in Chicago halted a work stoppage on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The stoppage, called a wildcat strike by management, began Saturday night when 40 men reported sick. About 120 more called in sick Sunday.

The Pennsylvania walkout followed a 7-hour, 20-minute strike by firemen against the New York Central in Mattoon, Ill. The men returned to work following telegrams from union officials advising them that their walkout was unauthorized.

Four other brief strikes on Thursday—the day the railroads put into effect an arbitration ruling eliminating hundreds of firemen's jobs—followed the same pattern.

The strikes were flareups in the five-year dispute between the rail lines and the operating unions about work rules and what management calls featherbedding.

Mt. Etna Eruption Begins Again

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—A new lava flow poured down the west slope of Mt. Etna today in a resumption of an eruption which started three days ago.

Lava flow from the great central creater of Europe's tallest volcano had stopped Sunday after the stream of molten rock had flowed nearly five miles down the mountain to the outlying orchards of the 20,000-population town of Bronte.

Explosions from the crater began again Sunday night and the new lava stream, over the earlier lava bed, was flowing at four to six feet a minute. The new flow still was about six miles from Bronte.

Aviatrix Forced Back To Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—Flier Joan Merriam got 200 miles toward Oakland, Calif., on the final leg of her trouble-plagued around-the-world solo flight before being forced to turn back Sunday night because of a rough-running engine.

The Long Beach, Calif., pilot's plane was escorted back to Honolulu by a Coast Guard search plane that met her 150 miles east of the Hawaiian Islands. She landed without incident.

She started from Oakland in mid-March in an attempt to follow the planned route taken by the ill-fated Amelia Earhart in 1937. Miss Earhart vanished in the western Pacific.

Krush. Pledges Aid To Arabs

By GEORGE MC ARTHUR

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev gave his support to the Arab world today in its opposition to diversion of the Jordan River waters by Israel.

Speaking to the United Arab Republic's one-party National Assembly, Khrushchev said Israel planned to "rob the Arab world of its own water."

Khrushchev called on Israel to implement U.N. resolutions on Palestine, which would reduce Israel's present frontiers.

The assembly rose en masse in boisterous cheering at Khrushchev's new declaration of support for the Arabs.

The Israelis have announced that some time this summer they will begin diverting waters of the Jordan to irrigate the Negev Desert. The Arabs have threatened counter action to cut off the headwaters of the Jordan.

The 70-year-old premier also assailed British occupation of military bases in Cyprus and Aden. His government supports the "just and reasonable" demands of local populations for the evacuation of these and all other foreign bases, the Soviet leader said.

"The presence of foreign armies is the source of danger, tension and disputes between countries," Khrushchev added.

He denied that there was any contradiction between the Soviet Union's stated policy of seeking international understanding and its shipments of arms to foreign trouble spots.

"It is true that we give arms for the struggle against imperialism and for the sacred struggle of national liberation," he said. "Our armaments will always be available for peoples seeking self-determination."

The 360 members of the assembly cheered and applauded throughout the speech, which Khrushchev delivered in Russian. It was translated into Arabic by a Soviet interpreter.

Four Pleas Are Heard

Four pleas of guilty were heard in county court here this morning.

Jessie Thomas Williams was fined $100 plus court costs of $26.35 and assessed the three-day jail term after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. The charge had been filed by city police.

John Thomas Thompson and Jones Chapman each received a fine of $100 plus court costs of $26.35 and the mandatory three day jail term after pleading guilty to DWI charges filed by the sheriff's department.

Harold George Hill of Lubbock was fined $25 plus $26.35 court costs after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while his operators license was suspended. The charge was filed by the Highway Patrol.

Solicitation Check Urged

Local veterans organizations have reiterated their plea for Snyder area businesses and individuals to check authenticity of any person soliciting advertising or donations under their auspices.

The Veterans of World War I, Inc., the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, joined in the plea. They urged that officers of the local posts be contacted to determine whether such solicitations are in order.

It was noted that in the past some groups had solicited advertising or donations which were not sanctioned by the local veterans organizations.

Close Call Fails To Stop Work On Sinatra Movie

By JAMES LAGIER

LIHUE, Kauai (AP)—Entertainer Frank Sinatra planned to return to work today directing and starring in his new film, apparently suffering no ill-effects from his near drowning on Kauai Island.

Sinatra was rescued Sunday after an undertow swept him seaward. Although exhausted, Sinatra was not harmed, a physician reported.

The movie company's publicist, Harry Friedman, said Sinatra insisted he continue filming today in spite of the incident. Sinatra is making the movie—"None But the Brave" — on Kauai.

Mrs. Howard Koch, the wife of Sinatra's executive producer, also had to be rescued.

Sinatra and Mrs. Koch were swimming near Sinatra's rented cottage, close to the Coco Palms Hotel on the east coast of the island, which is about 100 miles from Honolulu on Oahu Island.

A big wave dragged the two out to sea. Sinatra was pulled further out than Mrs. Koch, according to Friedman, who estimated the distance at 200 yards.

Although considered a fairly good swimmer, Sinatra could not return to shore, Friedman said. Someone at the nearby hotel called the Kapaa fire station.

Brad Dexter, an actor, swam out to Sinatra but could not bring him in.

Harold Jim, assistant manager of the Coco Palms, and Louis Gonsalves Jr., a Kaual County official, swam out and took over for Dexter, who returned to shore, police said.

Alfred O. Giles, manager of the Hawaiian Fruit Packing Co. and Sinatra's next door neighbor, hearing a call for help, went into the ocean on his surfboard. Jim and Gonsalves put Sinatra on Giles' board.

The three made several attempts to get Sinatra back through the fast, choppy surf but failed, police said.

Firemen arrived and one of them, Theodore Williams, swam out with a floatline—a rope with a cork—and brought Mrs. Koch to shore.

A rope was thrown to the men and firemen pulled them to shore.

THE AAUW honored Scurry County junior and senior girls and their mothers at a tea Saturday morning. Sixty guests and members attended. The Snyder branch of AAUW sponsors a scholarship for a graduating senior girl each year and the scholarship will be awarded at the graduation exercises.

Large Group Attends Annual Tea

The Snyder Branch of the American Association of University Women held its annual tea Saturday morning in the community room of Snyder Savings & Loan, honoring the junior and senior girls and their mothers.

The serving area was enhanced with arrangements of pink spring roses which blended beautifully with the surroundings and gave a pleasant touch to the fellowship hour.

Elizabeth Odom poured punch from a unique punch bowl, resting upon a beautiful ecru lace table cloth purchased in Ireland.

Mrs. Travis Rhoades, president, greeted the guests and paid special tribute to the Mother - Daughter teams for their effort in attending and participating in the event. She also invited the girls when they had graduated from college to think of becoming University Women.

Mrs. Marshal Parham entertained the group most highly, and paid tribute to the mothers, since it was pre-Mothers's Day, by reading two poems by Amy Lowell entitled "In Tribute to Women" and "Spring." It was the concensus of the group that it had been time invested rather than time spent, since it's purpose was to meet and to entertain our attractive young girls.

New Civil Rights Legislation Not Apt To End Agitation

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For three centuries American Negroes had been waiting at the gate that kept them in the Jim Crow cellar of American life. Then on May 17, 1954 the Supreme Court unlocked it for them.

That was 10 years ago but Negroes have been able to push it open only very slowly.

On that far-reaching day in May the court said public school segregation because of a child's race was wrong, that it meant unequal treatment and was therefore unconstitutional. But the ruling really went far beyond schools.

For in effect the court said the very principle of segregation is wrong, which meant from then on Negroes could fight with confidence against all forms of segregation and discrimination in public places.

They have been fighting since. And many white people — including the clergy — who had no racial prejudice but had sat idly by through the decades until 1954 have joined them in the struggle.

But prejudiced whites are an obstinate army who never really believed the Declaration of Independence which said all men are created equal and have tried to ignore or defy the court in preserving segregation and discrimination.

Even some white Christian churches still refuse to let Negroes in. And Negroes are discovering, if they doubted it, that the South has no monopoly on prejudice. They have found it intensely against them in the North, too.

Negroes, with increasing confidence and swelling numbers, have fought to batter down the barriers in a thousand places, a hundred ways, North and South through sit-ins, lie-downs, marches, freedom rides, demonstrations and court fights against discrimination in voting, restaurants, schools, housing, unions.

As the struggle grows, so does violence, which causes national concern.

Thomas Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence in 1776 and had slaves but sought to end slavery, also had concern about the future when he thought about the condition of the Negro in America.

He said: "I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just."

If it had not been for that court decision of 10 years ago the American Negro might still be suffering discrimination in comparative silence for the law — or the court's interpretation of the law — was again him.

Police would probably have felt far freer to smash Negro protests because of a decision of the Supreme Court in 1896 which said segregation was constitutional.

It wasn't until 20 years later that Negroes were able to begin chipping away at that decision. This was against a discriminatory housing ordinance in Louisville. But the fight thereafter was tortured and slow.

The real march began in the 1930s when the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People decided on a strategy which was crowned with the final triumph of 1954.

This was the category: bit by bit, case by case, fight all the way up to the Supreme Court specific cases of discrimination, like segregation of Negroes on buses, trains, in graduate schools. They won case after case but never total victory.

In each specific case the court might say the segregation practiced was wrong without ruling out the principle of segregation.

That finally came 10 years ago, thus wiping out completely the decision of 1896.

Negro agitation will increase this summer and even if Congress approves the kind of civil rights bill the Negroes want it will still be, as their leadership has said, only a part of what they feel is their due.

Journalism is a risky occupation in China. It's oldest newspaper is over a thousand years old, and it is reported that during that time 800 of its editors lost their heads for criticizing authorities.

The word blackmail literally means "black rent." Along the Scottish border in olden times, farmers paid cattle in tribute to outlaws to be left safe from pillage. If they paid in silver rather than in cattle, this was known as "whitemail."

Quips from our contemporaries: "Too often a man keeps his nose to the grindstone just so his wife can turn hers up at the neighbors" — Kiwanis magazine.

Despite the tremendous increase in automobile traffic, pedestrian deaths have been cut nearly in half during the last quarter of a century. They dropped from a record 15,500 fatalities in 1937 to 8,200 last year.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOLAR BATTERIES

QUESTION: How does a solar battery use sunlight?

* * *

ANSWER: We are apt to think of solar batteries as big mirrors which reflect the heat of the sun and store it so it can be used. This can be done, as we see in (1). The sun's rays are intensified, first from mirror A and then from mirror B, storing great heat in an "oven." But this is actually a solar furnace rather than a battery, since "battery" refers to something which furnishes electric current.

Solar batteries create electricity directly from sunlight. They do this by using a remarkable property of certain minerals, such as silicon and selenium. When light falls on certain forms of these substances, it changes the arrangement of electrons and "holes," or openings from which electrons have escaped. A flow or movement of electrons and holes is created and this becomes an electric current. Portable radios have been powered by such solar batteries and panels of silicon crystals have been used to operate telephones (left). Used in earth-girdling satellites, solar batteries can supply current to operate transmitters, so messages can be sent down to earth.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: It is possible flashlights will be made using electric energy stored by solar batteries. Try to imagine why these will be better than ordinary flashlights. (The silicon crystals, which will charge them in daylight, will never wear out.)

Sunday Was A Dark Day For Catchers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

J.D. Salinger wrote Catcher in the Rye and it was a bestseller. Charlie Dressen's book on his catchers won't sell as many copies but it's sure to make interesting reading.

It wasn't exactly a good day for American League receivers Sunday, and for Dressen's Detroit Tiger catching staff, it wasn't even a reasonable day.

The Tigers lost twice to Baltimore and that matches that number of times Dressen probably blew his top in the Tiger dugout watching catchers Bill Freehan and Mike Roarke heave throws with reckless abandon.

Norm Siebern was on first base with a leadoff walk in the fourth inning of the opener when Brooks Robinson laid down a bunt. Freehan pounced on the ball and uncorked a picture throw which landed in the Baltimore bullpen in right field.

Siebern scored and Robinson dashed all the way to third on the error. He later scored on an infield out. Milt Pappas, with ninth inning help from Dick Hall, made the runs stand up for a 2-1 victory.

Dressen sat Freehan down in the nightcap and started Mike Roarke behind the plate. Things didn't get worse, but then, they didn't get better either.

Baltimore had a 2-0 lead and the bases were loaded with two out in the fourth when Roarke tried for a pickoff at third base. His throw sailed into left field leaving Dressen with a 4-0 deficit and no other catchers to turn to. The Orioles added three more runs and completed the sweep, with a 7-1 victory.

In other American League games, Minnesota got a three-run homer from Don Mincher and dropped Kansas City 6-3; Chicago bested Los Angeles 5-3 with Ron Hansen and J.C. Martin homering: New York swept two from Cleveland, 12-2 and 3-2 in 10 innings and Washington split a pair with Boston, winning 13-4 and losing 9-4.

In the National League, Cincinnati blanked Philadelphia 2-0; Los Angeles routed San Francisco 9-1; Chicago split with Houston winning 4-3 and then losing 4-1 in 11 innings; Milwaukee clouted Pittsburgh 11-5 before the Pirates came back 6-5 and New York split with St. Louis, winning 4-1 and losing 10-1.

Mincher's three-run homer and Earl Battey's solo blast provided a tidy cushion for Camilo Pascual who needed it.

Tigers, Wolves In Crucial Encounter

The Snyder Tigers are poised for another crucial outing on the baseball diamond.

The Bengals go to Colorado City tomorrow to challenge the Colorado City Wolves who are perched in a tie for the District 3-AAA lead. Winner of the Tuesday encounter will be in a good position to make a run down the stretch for the title, while the loser will find itself handicapped as the third round of district play progresses.

The Wolves held on to their piece of the lead Saturday by nudging the Lamesa Tornadoes, 2-0. Meanwhile, Brownfield, tied with the Wolves for the lead, continued its heavy hitting by walloping Sweetwater, 18-5.

Saturday's action gave Colorado City and Brownfield identical district records of 7 victories and 2 defeats. Snyder, which had an open date on the district schedule, swept a non-conference doubleheader from the Andrews Mustangs 7-0 and 3-0. The Tigers are 6-2 in the district won-lost column, and until Saturday's action were in a three-way tie with C-City and Brownfield for the loop lead.

Game time for tomorrow's game in Colorado City is set for 4 p.m.

Lefthander Rob Hall hurled a two-hitter and righthander Leslie Brown followed up with a three-hitter as the Tigers won their pair of shutouts Saturday over Andrews.

The Bengals lashed out 12 hits in the opener. The attack was paced by Brown and J. N. Wall. Each batted in three runs as Brown connected for a triple and two singles and Wall had a double and two singles.

The Mustangs didn't get a man past second base in the first game, and only got one as far as third in the second game. Tiger fielders turned in three double plays in the twinbill, one in the first game and two in the nightcap.

In the second game the Tigers got only three hits themselves, but each of them figured in scoring a run. Bobby Kay's pinch single in the sixth sent Mack Galyean across with the first run of the game. Galyean had led off the inning with a walk and moved to second on Ray Kizer's sacrifice.

In the sixth inning, Martin Benitez singled and then came around on Rob Hall's booming triple to left center. Hall trotted across the plate for the third and final run after the catch of Brown's long fly to center.

Casper At Peak On Tough Course

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Give round man Billy Casper a tough golf course and chances are about three to one that he'll win on it.

He says himself that "I like a long, tough course where I seem to play best." And he proceeded to demonstrate the point Sunday when he swept up $14,000 first money over the 7,122-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Such astute observer as Gary Player rates Colonial among the top three courses in the world.

Casper, the 32-year-old, 215-pound portly citizen of Bonita, Calif., had a closing par 70 for 279—one under par—to win the Colonial National Invitation by four strokes over struggling Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif.

He commented afterward that Colonial was a mite tougher than even Winged Foot at Mamaroneck, N.Y., where he won the National Open in 1959.

"This is a tougher driving course," he explained.

That he is at his best on a tough layout is shown by the fact that he won the Buick Open at Warwick Hills, Flint, Mich., in 1960, and twice has taken the Bing Crosby at Pebble Beach, Calif. Those courses are frightening.

Casper now has won 23 tournaments in 10 years on the tour and his triumph Sunday vaulted him into fourth place among the all-time money winners.

He has run his total to $312,305 and that puts him ahead of Sam Snead, who has gobbled up $311,790.54 in a much longer career than the chubby man from California.

Trojans Go Down Twice

The Lincoln Trojans dropped a doubleheader to Sweetwater here Saturday in their final action in district play.

Sweetwater won the first game, 10-7, and the second game, 9-2. Linwood Durst pitched the first game for Lincoln. He gave up only four hits, but walked 11 and hit four batters. Robert Wilson was the winning pitcher for Sweetwater.

In the second game, Sam Davis pitched the first two innings for the Trojans and L. J. Brooks finished up. Butch Denson was the winning pitcher for Sweetwater.

Colorado City won the district crown with an 8-0 record, while Plainview finished up 5-3, Sweetwater 4-4, Lincoln 2-6 and Hamlin 1-7.

World 100 Mark Tied By Newman

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Take a short, brittle - legged balding fellow and match him with brawny Bob Hayes, the world's fastest human and a football player when he isn't sprinting.

It sounds like the other man might win the race — if Hayes ran backwards.

But incongruous as it seems, Darel Newman, Fresno State College, is the one man in the world who apparently can give Hayes his closest race at 100 yards—and he fits the bookish description.

Newman blazed a 100 in 9.2 seconds Saturday at the West Coast Relays as he equaled the listed world's record and became history's fastest Cacucasian at the distance.

He shared the spotlight with veteran shotputter Dallas Long who upped his world record to 66-7¼ despite a foot injury.

Newman accomplished his 9.2 despite a start that did not satisfy him and a misjudgment of the finish line. Yet one of three official watches caught him in 9.1 and one of the 9.2 official clockings was only a hair over 9.1.

Hayes, history's only 9.1 sprinter, still hasn't had the mark accepted as a world's record because he ran on an asphalt track.

Newman, only a 20-year-old junior, despite his deceiving hairline, ran on the Ratcliff Stadium track that officials call "just plain old, San Joaquin Valley clay."

The record came in a heat when, said Newman, he eased up too soon because he thought another cross stripe was the finish. He won the final in 9.3 and had slight, but allowable, aiding winds each time.

Newman, 5-9 and 155 pounds, said he had "built myself up all week long" in anticipation of the race before 12,000 hometown fans.

Long almost did not compete because he dropped a weight on his left foot the week before the meet.

Aggies Await NCAA Bid

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Texas A&M awaited action by the Dist. 6 selection committee of the NCAA today, hopeful it would advance to the national college baseball tournament without a playoff.

The Aggies won the Southwest Conference championship last week with a 12-3 record and a 19-6 season mark.

But if there are worthy independent teams in the district, they are to be given a chance at beating A&M for the NCAA spot at Omaha.

AND WHAT ELSE CAN THEY DO?

Censured Schools Abide By Ruling Of Conference

DALLAS (AP) — Officials of the two schools plastered with probations by the Southwest Conference for recruiting violations — Texas and Southern Methodist — pledged strict adherence to the rules today.

Southern Methodist, which drew the severest penalty—two years during which it can not participate in NCAA activity, including bowl games, although allowed to compete for the conference football championship, had terse comment from its president, Dr. Willis Tate, a former SMU football player.

"It is the commitment and policy of Southern Methodist University to comply with the spirit and letter of the regulations of the Southwest Conference," Dr. Tate said. "Any violation by SMU was unintentional and unknown.

"The incidents happened in 1963, and all corrective measures have been taken to assure complete adherence to all regulations."

Southern Methodist was charged with offering special inducements to prospective athletes, excessive financial aid for students already in school, offering financial aid to prospects beyond the legal limit and campus visitations by prospects, financed by alumni and yet unaccompanied by the alumnus (which is required by the rules).

Texas, the national football champion last season, was given an indefinite probation with the privilege of having it removed within one year and was not barred from post-season games. Texas has been in four bowl games in five years.

Coach Darrell Royal said, immediately following the meeting of the conference Saturday, that he already had moved to correct the conditions that brought the Longhorns their penalty.

Texas was penalized for excessive visits to prospective athletes, campus visits by prospective athletes at the expense of but not accompanied by alumni and excessive entertainment of prospective athletes while on the campus.

In the most sweeping and severest action ever taken by the conference in its 50 years of existence, Baylor and Texas Tech also were included among those penalized but were not hampered in their athletic programs.

They were reprimanded for making too many visits to prospective athletes. The allowable is two.

Athletes figuring in the SMU probation are Randy Behringer of Waco and Jim Helms of San Benito. They went to Baylor and Texas, respectively, although SMU tried to recruit them.

Reportedly Behringer received an automobile but Harlan Ray, Southern Methodist alumnus who identified himself as the man who offered Behringer a summer job, said he offered to sell the car to the youth. Behringer verified Ray's statement.

Ray also said a Corpus Christi alumnus offered to fly Helms' parents to Dallas to see Helms play, if he went to SMU.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

GRADUATION TIME'S A-COMING and Harold Bennett displays a few of the practical gifts for the graduate that are to be found at Bennett Office Supply. Leading the list, of course, of most-wanted gifts is a Smtih-Corona portable typewriter, but also welcome is a Parker or Sheaffer pen set or a dictionary. These and many other graduation gift suggestions are featured now at Bennett Office Supply.

'Perfect' Graduation Gifts At Bennett Office Supply

A really welcome graduation gift is one that the graduate can use.

The chances are that most graduates have studied typing. But the typing skill, like so many other skills, must be constantly used or it becomes forgotten.

That's where the perfect graduation gift of a portable typewriter from Bennett Office Supply comes in.

Not only does the graduate receive the machine itself — he also receives the gift of the continuing skill of typing.

Some graduates will go to college. Some will go to work. But regardless of what their future activity might be, a portable typewriter will be a helper and a prized possession for years to come.

Bennett Office Supply has several models of Smith-Corona portables from which to choose —both electric models and manuals, and the friendly salespeople at Bennett's will be glad to explain the advantages of each model.

Many other welcome gifts for the graduate are at Bennett Office Supply. They suggest Sheaffer pens or pen and pencil sets as an always appropriate gift for a graduate.

Other gift suggestions include items which may be personalized with either the graduate's initials or full name. Such items which can be personalized include the popular inspirational book, "Leaves of Gold," a dictionary; Montague stationery; or a Buxton billfold for either a young man or young lady.

Personalization on a gift makes it something special for the person who receives it. And the nice part for the person who gives, a personalized gift from Bennett Office Supply is the fact that no extra charge is made for the personalization.

The person who knows what he wants, or the person who is "just shopping" for a graduation gift, will surely find just what he wants at Bennett Office Supply on the north side of the Snyder Square.

70 Nations Start Tariff Discussions In Geneva

By SAM DAWSON
AP business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As sparring over tariffs starts in Geneva the United States still holds a neat trading advantage over most other nations. Can it make this stick?

American exports still exceed imports by impressive figures. In recent months many nations have been increasing the amount of American goods they buy.

The surplus in U.S. trade with other nations looked especially good in the December-January-February period. Then it was running at an annual rate of more than $7 billion. This went a long way toward wiping out any deficit caused by expenditures of American dollars for other things — tourism, foreign aid, military commitments, private investments.

In March imports increased at a faster pace than did exports. This trend could quicken if the federal tax cut induces a business boom that opens more markets to foreign materials and goods.

The American negotiators at Geneva are afraid that protectionism is increasing among other nations, especially the six in the European Common Market. This could close doors to American products.

The Geneva meeting is the preliminary for hard-nosed bargaining by some 70 nations that may go on for a long time. Officially the talks are known as the sixth conference of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade — GATT — devised to lower trade barriers.

Each nation naturally would like to see the others cut tariffs. The United States would like to see many tariffs cut as much as 50 per cent by all nations.

Its talking point is that this would make it easier for everyone to sell in world markets. Producers would benefit. So would consumers. As standards of living rise, so would production volume.

The 70 nations pretty much agree on the virtues of increasing exports—their exports. The trouble comes over increasing imports — and everything exported by one nation has to be imported by another.

The European Common Market — France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg — has seen its industries grow strong in years. As their production costs rise they become increasingly sensitive to the competition of imports of American goods, and their farmers dislike American produce on their markets.

In the United States a number of industries complain of growing imports of lower priced foreign items.

Pistol-Toting Man Evicted From Plane

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Dallas-bound American Airlines 707 jet was delayed 30 minutes Sunday while police removed suitcases of a passenger carrying a loaded pistol.

Officers identified him as L.J. Anderson, 29, a cab driver of San Francisco. They said he bought a $45,000 insurance policy for the flight.

Emmett Crews, an airline employe, said he saw Anderson, standing at the ticket counter, transfer a .25 automatic pistol from one pocket to another. Crews notified officers who arrested Anderson.

The plane carried 53 passengers and a crew of eight.

Anderson was booked on a state charge of carrying a concealed weapon and a federal charge of trying to take a weapon aboard an airliner. He posted $350 bond.

The world's highest known clouds sweep across the Arctic. Formed of meteor dust, these clouds blow 50 miles above the earth's surface.

Tape Brings FBI Probe Of Crash

CONCORD, Calif. (AP) — "Shot," the one clear word from an airliner before it crashed, has top-level investigators probing for clues to the death of 44 aboard, one of them a passenger informed sources said carried a new insurance policy and a gun.

Twenty-five Civil Aeronautics Board officials sought to learn if the diving crash Thursday was caused by any physical incapacity of the crew.

A force of FBI men probed the possibility of crime aboard the plane.

Neither agency would comment while the investigation was under way. There were these developments:

1. The CAB played for newsmen a tape recording of a garbled radio transmission from the pilot's compartment of the Pacific Air Lines Fairchild F27 moments before it plunged nose first into the green hills near here on a flight from Reno to San Francisco.

Some heard the lines as: "I've been shot! I've been shot! Oh my God, help!" Others didn't hear it that way. But all agreed they heard the word "shot."

2. Washington sources said the FBI established that a revolver found in the wreckage had been fired six times. The sources said also the FBI had traced ownership of the .357 Smith & Wesson magnum revolver to Frank Gonzalez, 27, of San Francisco, an expert at crewing a yacht as a pastime, a sometime waiter, and recently a warehouseman.

Gonzalez, a member of the Philippine yachting team in the 1960 Olympics, had been living in San Francisco.

Wear Clothes For Trip

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Charles and Sissy Morrow, who were wed in the nude, dressed for their honeymoon.

Charles, 23, a Miami sailor, and his bride, 16, interrupted their wedding trip Sunday to hold an ice cream and cake, clothes-off reception "for friends only."

John Dawson, nudist camp operator and father of the bride, said, "We couldn't hold a reception on the wedding day because all their friends were afraid of publicity."

Still wearing their wedding attire — a veil for her, a suntan for him — the couple stood in a receiving line to smile for more than 100 guests.

Dawson wouldn't say where they were going on their wedding trip.

Some 200 guests — all nude— attended the ceremony Saturday at Dawson's nudist lodge.

Oklahoma Crash Kills Texas Serviceman

COOPERTON, Okla. (AP)—A Texan, 1st Lt. Monte Williams of Hondo, was one of six Air Force men killed as a C124 military transport plane crashed during a severe thunderstorm Saturday night.

Williams was the pilot of the four-engine troop carrier, which was enroute to Dover Air Force Base in Delaware from Clovis, N.M. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Williams of Hondo.

Witnesses said the plane exploded in the air and fell in flames.

Man Urged To Jump From Bridge

NEW YORK (AP)—A man who threatened to jump into the East River Sunday from a cable of the Brooklyn Bridge was encouraged by bystanders who shouted "Jump, jump," police reported.

Deputy Chief Inspector William McCarthy said about 100 persons gathered as Jose Manguan, 26, climbed the cable after telling a pedestrian he had troubles. He gave the pedestrian his wallet, ring and watch.

Police ordered pedestrians to leave the bridge and brought a loudspeaker to the scene. Manguan was finally talked into coming down by the Rev. James Conroy of Loyola University at Scrub Oak, N.Y., and was taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Queen Victoria popularized preserved ginger. The monarch liked the candied spice from the Orient so well that she served it at state banquets.

Texas, Louisiana Join In Building Toledo Bend Dam

DALLAS (AP)—A work order authorizing the start of construction on the Toledo Bend Dam, powerhouse and outlet works was to be issued here today.

It will go out from the offices of Forrest & Cotton, consulting engineers, to Massman & Johnson of Kansas City, general contractors.

Issuance of the go-ahead on this $22,196,000 segment of the $60 million reservoir in the middle Sabine River watershed follows a revenue bond sale in New York.

This transaction, involving twin $15 million issues of the Texas and Louisiana Sabine River Authorities, was concluded at the Chase Manhattan Bank. The $30 million from the sale will pay half the cost of the reservoir, a joint undertaking of the two states.

The rest will be financed with a $15 million grant from the state government of Louisiana and the purchase, for an identical amount, of reservoir storage space by the State of Texas.

Massman & Johnson has said earthmoving for the dam will begin within a few days.

The first of a million cubic yards of earth to be shifted for the 11,552 feet of the earthen embankment and saddle dike will come out of a big hole to be excavated for the powerhouse foundation.

This will be on the Texas side of the river at the damsite, 20 miles southeast of Hemphill. Earthmoving then will proceed on the dam and saddle dike in both states. List & Clark expect to use about 200 workmen at Toledo Bend.

Massman & Johnson is scheduled to begin work on the powerhouse around Sept. 15, said John Simmons of Orange, Texas SRA general manager. Completion of the reservoir is expected by mid-1967.

Toledo Bend will impound about 4.5 million acre feet of water and will be the nation's sixth largest man-made lake. Although on a north-south flowing river, the dam will extend in these same directions because of its location on the upper leg of the massive Toledo Bend.

Independent Operators Spokesman Breaks Calm To Protest Campaign

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — H. A. True Jr., chief spokesman for independent oil operators, is a quiet man who rarely raises his voice.

The Casper, Wyo., oilman-rancher, did a bit of voice-raising, however, last week while making his presidential report at the mid-year meeting of the 7,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America.

True, 48, obviously was upset and perhaps a bit mad over what he said was a whispering campaign against the 35-year-old trade group.

In general, he said, the campaign charges the association no longer represents independents but is "dominated by or acts as a 'stalking horse' for major oil companies."

True said some charges have been printed. He did not say so but most of the 700 independents in the audience knew that both True and Minor Jameson Jr., executive vice president, have received several letters making such allegations.

True said the association is not above or beyond criticism but the charges being made are not true.

"What I do resent is unfounded carping, innuendo and whispering campaigns that are nothing more than misrepresentations based on misinformation," he said.

"We have too many serious and complex problems to waste time engaging in divisive backbiting aimed at discrediting the one national association representing independent producers."

About one-half dozen major companies, True said, are members of the association "but in my many years of experience not one of those companies has cast a vote at one of our meetings."

"Our policies are hammered out by independents, voted on by independents, and implemented by independents," he said.

He said a Houston man had made the "stalking horse" cnarge and that a West Texas man had said he had it on good authority 55 per cent of the association's budget is financed by major oil companies.

"To my knowledge, neither of these men has ever been at an association meeting," he said.

Scientists Plan For ESP Study

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A space psychologist declared today that scientists must explore extra sensory perception —ESP—or other mental processes as a means of communicating with future astronauts who voyage millions of miles from earth.

Everett F. Dagle, chief of data sciences for the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories, told the 35th annual meeting of the Aerospace Medical Association that the research may produce nothing.

However, he said: "not only do we have a scientific responsibility for doing this research, we also have a moral responsibility for doing so, even in the face of strong ultraconservative opposition."

Dagle noted that there have been hundreds of examples of extra sensory perception reported, involving mental contact between persons far apart, clairvoyance or precognition of events to come. He conceded none have been explained satisfactorily on a scientific bases.

Dagle said that neither the United States nor the Soviet Union has yet put a man in true space.

"While it is true that impressive orbital flights have been made by American and Soviet astronauts," he said, "it must be realized that as they went spinning around they still had visual reference to mother earth below them and they still were tied to her gravitational apron strings."

Dagle said "we can only theorize as to how an astronaut might react when, finally, the gravitational strings are severed, and he finds himself in the apparent center of a dimensionless sphere of black, relieved only by sharp pinpoints of light from the stars. There will be no up, no down, no front, no back.

Dagle said that space travelers, to minimize any sense of disorientation, should be provided with a swift, effective means of communicating with earth.

Tiny Ozark City Refused To Die

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department today cited the South Missouri Ozark mountain town of Ava as a rural community which has refused to die.

Agricultural technology had been driving farmers around Ava off the land, and they migrated to other areas, largely to the cities. As a consequence, business in Ava suffered and it began to lose many of its residents.

But in 1955, Ava leaders decided to see what they could do to keep their community from becoming a ghost town. Acting under guidance of the department's rural areas development program, they organized an industrial development corporation.

The Ava leaders raised $24,000 to buy land for an industrial park and persuaded the state to build a highway through the area. This encouraged a sporting goods manufacturer to locate a plant there. Ava built a house the manufacturing unit. Since then the manufacturer has erected a new $270,000 plant.

A wood treatment concern was persuaded to put a plant at Ava. It now plans to double its output.

The community built a new $350,000 school. It constructed permanent concrete bleachers and lighted the town's ball park for recreational use. It expanded the community's water and sewer system.

In addition, community leaders started an annual eight-day guided tour through the nearby mountains. The first year this tour attracted 6,000 persons from 22 states.

Furthermore, the leaders inaugurated feeder pig and feeder cattle production and marketing programs.

Migration from Ava and its adjacent area has been halted. In fact, the area's population is growing again. Business activity is more than $1 million a year higher than in 1955.

A total of 120 new homes have been built. Real estate values have increased 20 per cent.

Blast Won't Stop Mississippi Paper

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — The Laurel Leader-Call planned to publish on schedule today although all 65 windows in the press room were blown out by a mysterious explosion Sunday.

The 36-page press of the afternoon daily was not damaged. No one was in the building.

"I don't know why we were hit," said J. D. West, editor and publisher, who estimated damage at $2,000.

"We haven't taken any recent editorial stands that would be called controversial. The city of Laurel has been quiet of any racial troubles. No one has been fired recently. I can't imagine why anyone would want to do this to us."

Eagle Pass Is Victim Of Storm

By The Associated Press

A storm lasting several hours caused widespread damage Sunday night in Eagle Pass and across the Rio Grande at Piedras Negras, Mexico, a survey showed Monday.

The storm knocked out plate glass windows, uprooted trees and interrupted telephone service for a time.

Between one and two inches of rain fell at Eagle Pass.

A severe thunderstorm forecast was issued early Monday for the north tip of North Central Texas, but the forecast period ended at 7 a.m. without reports of damage.

Shower activity moved from the Eagle Pass-Del Rio area into the Austin and San Antonio vicinity by dawn.

Dry air, however, spread eastward over the northern portion of the state and was expected to bring gradual clearing from west to east.

At Eagle Pass, several trailer homes were overturned by the storm.

Some families along the river were forced to higher ground by a rapid rise, while one family was evacuated from a low area along the railroad tracks.

By midmorning, 2.3 inches of rain had fallen at Eagle Pass. The W. E. Pitman Ranch three miles south of the town reported 4.9 inches.

Two small private planes were overturned, while the wing of a larger aircraft suffered damage.

Hoover Has No Plans To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — With much of the vigor and enthusiasm of a rookie policeman, J. Edgar Hoover set out today on his fifth decade as chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Characteristically, he warned Americans in plain language that their morals are sagging, issued once more his stern caveat against Communist infiltration, and staunchly defended his FBI's performance in the civil rights field.

Hoover, 69, said he hasn't even considered retiring. "My desire is to continue to serve the American people to the best of my ability as long as I am needed," he said. President Johnson has waived for his old friend a requirement that he retire at 70.

The chief of the nation's 6,000 G-men offered his views on these and other matters in written replies to questions by The Associated Press. He has shied away from direct interviews in recent years and sharply curtailed his public appearances.

But a social visit of more than an hour with Hoover last week showed him to be in fine fettle —vigorous, candid, amiable and apparently in good health. His associates report that he is still very much in direct charge of the FBI.

Asked to describe a typical day, Hoover replied, "There is no typical day in the FBI—the nature of our duties does not lend itself to routine. If there is anything that could be called typical about every day in the FBI, it is my practice of closely following every important matter being handled by this bureau to insure that each is receiving the proper attention."

Here are some of Hoover's thoughts as he begins his 41st year as FBI director:

—Rising crime rate: The causes are "parental neglect, a growing insensitivity to the difference between right and wrong, the coddling of criminals and public indifference," he said.

"We seem to be witnessing a moral deterioration in our population, Hoover said. "It is apparent in the actions of those who are willing to compromise their ideals if an easy dollar can be made, and it can be seen in everyday life where a citizen will obey the law himself, but will also passively tolerate immorality and disrespect for authority within his own community."

Crime will continue to flourish, he added, "as long as people believe it cannot be eliminated and that we should seek ways to live with it."

Rites Set For Noted Odessa Man

HOUSTON (AP)—Last rites for R. T. (Cotton) Waddell, 75, Odessa millionaire and philanthropist who died of a heart attack at a motel here Saturday night, will be held in Odessa Tuesday.

The funeral service will be held at the Belmont Baptist Church. Burial will be at Midland, where Waddell was born.

The body was returned by plane to Odessa Sunday.

A member of the Texas Commission on Higher Education, Waddell was pronounced dead at 7:40 p.m. Saturday after a heart attack.

Friends said he had worked strenuously all day and had no history of a heart condition.

The West Texas philanthropist was in Houston with the famed Chuck Wagon Gang of Odessa, a group of chamber of commerce boosters for the city. This group had fed several thousand persons attending a Humble Oil & Refining Co. picnic at nearby Baytown.

Waddell had contributed large amounts of money to Baylor University and other institutions of higher learning in Texas. Ralph Chenault, a friend, said Waddell "founded just about everything there was to be founded in Odessa."

On this list were the first National bank of Odessa, Home Savings & Loan Association, National Bank of Odessa, was a partner in Waddell and Blank real estate, was founder of the Civil Hotel Corp., and builder of the Lincoln Hotel, Odessa's largest.

He is survived by the widow, Mary Lee of Odessa, a son, R.C. (Dick) Waddell, and two brothers, Frank Waddell and Jim Waddell, all of Odessa.

Bullets Increase Texas League Lead

By The Associated Press

The San Antonio Bullets got in the only game in the Texas League Sunday night and it had some sweeping results.

The Bullets beat second place Albuquerque 5-2 and advanced to a three-game lead.

Since the other clubs didn't play they all lost half a game. Thus San Antonio is 3½ ahead of El Paso and Tulsa and 5½ to the good over Austin and Fort Worth.

Jacky Davis slugged a three-run homer to furnish all the margin San Antonio needed.

Albuquerque again is at San Antonio, El Paso at Fort Worth and Austin at Tulsa tonight.
