Four Air Force families have already moved to Snyder to man the equipment, and more are expected to move here this week when an ambulance is stationed here. Extensive work has been done on the runways, including topping, vacuuming and marking.

SNYDER AREA OIL

Three wildcat locations have been spotted in the Snyder area, one in Scurry County and two in Kent.

Farm Bureau Has Election

The Scurry County Farm Bureau elected officers for the coming year at a board of directors meeting Friday afternoon.

Officers elected were Ross Williams, president; Whit Farmer, vice president; and M. L. Andress, re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors which held the election had been elected to the board at the general membership meeting Thursday night at the district courtroom. Eighty-seven Farm Bureau members attended that meeting.

Re-elected to the board at that meeting was Ross Williams. Also elected were James Eddie Wall and Whit Farmer. Farmer had served as a director some years ago.

Carryover directors are C. H. Light, Martin Murphy and M. L. Andress.

The general membership meeting also elected six delegates to the state convention to be held in Fort Worth Nov. 16-13. Elected were Ross Williams, Raymond House, James Wall, T. B. Knight, Whit Farmer and M. L. Andress.

Since the president is automatically a delegate, an additional delegate will be selected.

Demand For Water Hiked By Drought

Late summer drought is reflected in the increased deliveries and revenues of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Abnormal rains in late spring had put the district behind the previous year, but 1,252,316,000 gallons were metered in September to make 7,828,996,000 for the first nine months, an increase of 54,000,000 for the period. Member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder used 5,870,000,000 gallons for the nine months period, a gain of 77,000,000 gallons. Oil companies generally lowered repressing demands during the month, but the new Sun Oil project more than overcame this.

Of the 1,252,316,000 gallons metered in September, 1,049,947,000 of it came from Lake J. B. Thomas, which had 167,940 acre feet of water in storage at the end of the month.

Revenues for September amounted to $23,920, of which $146,639 came from member cities, $83,341 from oil companies for secondary recovery, and $3,777 from recreational facilities. Gross revenues for the first nine months amounted to $1,690,552, a gain of $108,000. Total operating expenses for the nine months amounted to $565,124, an increase of $28,000. The difference was transferred to the indebted fund's debt service, improvement and extension, etc.

Tiny Child Found Alive; Abductor Being Sought

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Tiny, blonde 5-year-old Michelle Moran, kidnaped from her mother's car at a shopping center Friday night, was found alive in a roadside ditch a few miles from here today.

The little girl, missing 12 hours, had been molested, a doctor's report indicated after an examination at a hospital.

A huge search meanwhile went on for Michelle's abductor, described by a brother of the girl as a dark-complexioned, slender young man wearing eyeglasses, a stranger to the boy.

Two truck drivers on their way from Chicago to Saginaw found Michelle lying in a ditch near Michigan 78 near Williamson, east of here.

Hundreds of police and volunteers had been searching for Michelle. Police cruisers swept a 13-county area around Lansing, Michigan's capital city.

Dr. Irving Silverman examined Michelle. Silverman said Michelle had been "frightened and shocked." He also said she had been bruised.

Police Det. Lt. Larry Murphy said it was a case of criminal assault.

Michelle's mother, Mrs. Donna Moran, a divorcee, hastened to the hospital from her home, taking with her Michelle's favorite doll.

Mrs. Moran, fatigued after a sleepless night, saw Michelle briefly in the child's hospital room.

As she emerged she was tired and drawn. She brightened, however, when reporters asked her if Michelle had been glad to see her.

"Yes," she promptly answered, with an effort at a smile. Then she departed.

The truck drivers, Stanley Van Wagener and Max Apsey, came upon Michelle about 7 a.m.

Van Wagener told police he saw the child, stopped his truck, and walked back to Apsey's vehicle. Apsey also had stopped at a drug store. Two other children, Lisa, 7, and Christina, 2, "I must be the one we heard about on the radio."

At the moment a sheriff's car was going by the trucks. The sheriff's car stopped and Apsey said Michelle, a controller for a Grand Rapids Industrial firm, convinced them he had no knowledge of the abduction.

Michelle's brother, Frank, 8, gave this chilling account:

The man, described as about 25, and wearing glasses, parked his car about six spaces from the Moran auto at a shopping center. He walked back to the Moran car, leaned his head inside, and told Michelle: "Come here."

Michelle and Frank huddled together on the back seat as the man opened the door.

"He told her to 'come here' again," the boy said.

The stranger then slapped Michelle. She lay down on the seat and tried to hide behind two shopping bags.

"He got inside the car and pulled her arm and made her get outside with him," Frank said.

As he led her toward his car, the man's manner changed. He talked gently to Michelle, Frank said.

Frank described the abductor as 5-foot-11, dark complexioned, with dark, wavy hair, and dressed in a dirty T-shirt and brown trousers. He said the man's car was a 1962 or 1963 model (Chevrolet) two-door, either black or brown and white.

Rains Encourage Texas Ranchers

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Good rains fell in parts of Texas at midweek, bringing some hope of replenishing stock tanks and improving prospects for oats and wheat.

Showers earlier in the week brought only minor benefits, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Some said the heavier mid-week rain in some places may be too late to revive grazing for the winter.

The earlier showers in the High Plains delayed the harvesting of cotton and grain sorghum.

District farm agents, before the latest rains, still emphasized problems ahead.

Some showers fell in the Panhandle where wheat needed rain, and cotton and grain sorghum needed dry weather. The cotton harvest was in full swing. The lettuce harvest was producing fair to good yields at favorable prices. Livestock were in good condition but the market is off.

Scattered showers and high humidity stopped South Plains harvesting. Much cotton is open but very little hand harvesting was noted. Cotton needs more hot, open weather. The sorghum harvest is nearly over. Grains and ranges need rain.

Rain is needed in all the Rolling Plains. Cotton harvesting and wheat planting are near completion in some counties. Wheat made very little growth. Army and cut worms were causing some damage. Stock water is short.

Stock water was being hauled in some North Central Texas areas. Livestock were in fair to good condition because of feeding.

All harvesting in Northeast Texas was about over. The pecan crop was short. Pastures were below average; cattle were losing weight; hay was being fed; and cattle marketing was increasing.

Light showers slowed the cotton harvest in the El Paso valley of far West Texas. Spotted rains in the Davis Mountains helped there. Livestock conditions were fair to good.

The cotton harvest in West Central Texas was past the peak. The peanut and pecan harvests were on. Deer are in good condition. Feeding is increasing, and it looks like a long winter for feeding.

Only scattered cotton fields in Central Texas remain to be harvested. Pecan prospects were only fair. Grazing is short. Marketing and feeding are increasing.

Many stockmen in East Texas are feeding. Most calves have been sold at light weights.

Pastures in the western two-thirds of the upper Gulf Coast District provide little grazing. Stockmen are feeding. The harvest of pecans and second crop rice are on.

Livestock producers are making plans to winter their cattle under short grazing conditions. Feeding is increasing.

Permian Rig Count Is Up

MIDLAND, TEXAS—A gain of three over the prior week was registered on Reed Roller Bit Company's Friday survey of rotary drilling operations in the Permian Basin Empire.

On the latest tabulations, 204 working units were counted as compared with 201 on the seven-day earlier report. The last 1963 total was an increase of one from the 203 active rotaries in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico region on the comparable date last year.

Lea County, N. M., despite a decrease of six, down from 43 to 37, continued in first place. Pecos County, showing a jump of four, up from 14 to 18, moved into second position while Ector, also listing a decline, from 18 to 12, ranked third.

Two rigs were shown working in Scurry County both this week and last. Kent County gained two for a total of three, and Borden County held steady with four each week.

Location is 12 miles southwest of Aspermont and 467 feet from north and 1,700 feet from west lines of section 127, block 1, H&TC survey. The field also has two upper Strawn producers.

General Crude Oil Company of Midland (formerly Orbon H. Tice and B. L. Coulson of Abilene) No. 1 V. T. McCabe has been completed as a Strawn oil discovery 22 miles southeast of Colorado City in Mitchell County.

On the 24-hour potential it flowed 92 barrels of 41.8-gravity oil through a 14-1/4 inch choke from perforations at 6,120-129 feet. The zone had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 5,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was 1,234-1.

Location is 660 feet from north and 2,001 feet from east lines of section 3, block 1-A, H&TC survey. It is 1 1/4 miles northwest of the Jameson, North (Strawn) pool and 2 1/4 miles southwest of the McCabe (Pennsylvanian) pool but separated from it by failures.

Buck Royalty Company of Wichita Falls has completed No. 1-B Hodnett as a Pennsylvanian discovery in Northwest Mitchell County, 10 miles southwest of Ira.

On the 24-hour potential it pumped 30 barrels of 40-gravity oil plus 85 per cent water from perforations at 7,367-10 feet which had been stimulated with 250 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 250-1.

The location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 89, block 97, H&TC survey. The well is a re-entry of the former Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Lucy K. Hodnett which was drilled to 8,050 feet and abandoned as a failure in July, 1952.

Continental Oil Company No. 1 C. R. Killgore, Nolan County, located three miles southwest of Maryneal and 1/2 mile east of the lone producer in the Group. West (Strawn) field sprayed oil on two drillstem tests in the Strawn reef.

Gas surfaced in seven minutes at oil in one hour and 20 minutes, flowing by heads during the remainder of a three-hour test at 6,120-65 feet. Recovery was 3,360 feet of oil, the bottom 700 feet being mud-cut. Flowing pressure was 224-584 pounds.

A three-hour test at 6,165-190 feet surfaced gas in two minutes and a spray of oil in one hour and 33 minutes. Operator was pulling a drill pipe at last report.

Location is 853 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 114, block 1-A, H&TC survey. The contracted depth is 6,300 feet.

John L. Cox of Midland No. 1 Clayton, Borden County, explorer 11 miles north of Vealmore, has set 4 1/2-inch casing at total depth of 8,217 feet and will undertake to complete as a Canyon Reef time discovery.

A 53-minute drillstem test at that formation at 8,192-217 feet surfaced gas in six minutes. There was no estimate on the volume. Recovery was 1,600 feet of oil and 1,360 feet of salt water.

Flowing pressure was between 130 and 507 pounds. Shut-in bottomhole pressure in 15 minutes was 305 pounds. The indicated pay section will be tested through perforations.

The project is 1,813 feet from west and 2,187 feet from south lines of section 9, block 32, T-4-N, T&P survey. It is one location northwest of the depleted operator of the one-well Gail North (Spraberry) pool and two miles north of the Good, North-east (Canyon) area.

Two projects, one a wildcat and one a re-entry, have been abandoned in the area.

SCURRY—T. A. Kirk and H. L. Neeb No. 1 Sally Dunigan, wildcat, total depth 6,790 feet, 25 miles northeast of Snyder, 660 feet from south and 1,560 feet from west lines of section 640, block 97, H&TC survey.

DAWSON—Ard Drilling Company No. 1-A D. R. Kimsey, re-entry, abandoned at 5,295 feet, one mile southwest of Lamesa, 1,900 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block 36, T-S-N, T&P survey.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I notice in your column so many people complaining about the high cost of drugs. I, for one, would never complain. If sulphur had been in existence in 1953, I might have had a pair of twin sons celebrating their 30th birthdays this Christmas.

"BLUE BOOTIES"

DEAR ABBY: Today's prescription is the biggest bargain in history. Mozart, the great Austrian composer, died at the age of 35 with a simple fever! Robert Louis Stevenson died at 44 with tuberculosis. Felix Mendelssohn, 38; Jack London, 40; Robert Burns, 37; Chopin, 39; Keats, 25; Lord Byron, 36; Jean Harlow, 26; Rudolph Valentino, 31; George Gershwin, 39; Thomas Wolfe, 38. Think what these talented people might have accomplished had they lived another 30 or 35 years! Modern drugs almost surely would have extended their lives.

NO COMPLAINTS

DEAR ABBY: I was shocked to learn that people are stupid enough to resent not being able to return medicine. There is a law which prohibits returning prescribed drugs. This is for the consumer's protection. How does the pharmacist know what has happened to the drugs once they have left his store? Wouldn't the crooks have a field day ordering drugs in capsule form, extracting the medication, filling the capsules with sugar and returning them to the store?

NEW PILLS, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: Twenty years ago it took an average of three months' wages to pay the hospital bill resulting from a case of pneumonia. Today, a case of pneumonia can be cured at home—with drugs that cost an average of only five hours' wages. Please be fair, and print this for all those people who think prescribed drugs are "expensive."

C. D. A.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to tell Harold of Gardena a thing or two. He says all the pharmacists in California are paid a minimum of $7 an hour. Ask him where, please! It takes a man six years of college and $10,000 to become a pharmacist. A plumber doesn't need a college education and he earns more. And furthermore, he isn't taking someone's life in his hands every time he picks up a wrench.

BARRY AT SCHWAB'S

Time Retreats Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Time marches on, so the expression goes. But Sunday, in 17 states, time retreats.

Some 90 million Americans will regain the hour they lost last spring when they turned their clocks back one hour.

The change, effective at 2 a.m. Sunday, marks the annual switchover from daylight saving time to standard time.

Hope Gone For Miners

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP)—Authorities abandoned hope today for 39 miners trapped in a flooded mine since Thursday night, but said four other men are expected to be saved.

The announcement by the mine management came after 11 relatives of the missing men, who had been keeping a steady vigil since the disaster, stormed the mine office demanding information.

Rescue workers, many of whom had toiled through the night, continued their search despite the announcement.

The management declined to give any other details but it is believed the four are huddled in a chamber in the east section of the mine, with their escape blocked by water.

Some of the 39 men are believed trapped in chambers of the mine's water-swept gallery, as far as 300 feet below ground.

Queen's Doctor Dies

LONDON (AP)—Lord Evans, the Queen's physician, died today. He was 60.

Cause of death was not announced.

Lord Evans, who numbered kings, queens and prime ministers among his patients, entered King Edward VII Hospital in September for a checkup. He had been gravely ill for some time.

Not Guilty Plea Heard

L. M. Kruse, Cabin Courts, Snyder, pleaded not guilty Saturday to a charge of DWI.

The case heard in county court, had been filed by the Snyder city police department. Bond was set at $500.

Quack Probe Spotlights Krebiozen

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A verbal duel over Krebiozen's value as a cancer drug has erupted from a cold war over medical quackery.

Despite a decision by federal authorities that the serum is worthless, Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, Krebiozen sponsor, challenged the president of the American Medical Association Friday night to a debate on the drug.

Dr. Edward Annis, AMA president, declined, saying he would not provide a platform for what he called "any proponent of a fraud."

The challenge is tied to two consecutive meetings in Washington hotels two miles apart. In one, the AMA and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration are sponsoring the second national congress on medical quackery — its announced purpose to focus public attention on quacks.

In the other hotel, an organization called the National Health Federation is holding a national congress on health monopoly—to reply and rebut the AMA and FDA.

At the quackery congress, Annis called Krebiozen "one of the greatest frauds of the 20th Century."

The song "School Days" was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller, clad in their old-fashioned attire, and Gena Fay Layne and Evelyn Holladay, dressed as little school girls with short red skirts above their knees and red ribbons in their hair.

A short business session was conducted by Corky Kruse, president for this year. It was decided that the next homecoming will be on the third Saturday in October, 1966. Mrs. O. W. Holladay was elected president, Eugene (Red) Maulking, vice president and Anita (Kruse) Erwin secretary.

A colorful pep rally was held in the gym following the program, and a barbecue supper was served to over 500 persons.

Crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen and the Football Hero and Sweetheart were highlights of the half-time festivities of the Ira-Hobbs football game.

Norman Turner was chosen Football Hero, and his sister, Donna Turner, was Football Sweetheart. Inez Wilson was elected Homecoming Queen.

O. W. Holladay was elected president, Eugene (Red) Maulking, vice president and Anita (Kruse) Erwin secretary.

Buddy Trevey was elected King. Sheila Kruse and Paula Falls were mascots.

Minutes of the 1961 homecoming were read by Mrs. Howard Sterling and approved.

An inspirational song was sung by Mrs. Lloyd Holley and Mrs. O. W. Holladay, accompanied by Mrs. Willard Gladson. The benediction song was by Mrs. Harold Holladay and Mrs. Buck Layne. Mrs. John W. Lewis was pianist.

Snyder Tigers Defeat Lamesa 20-0

BROWN GETS SIX—Leslie Brown is shown running into paydirt from his five-yardline with only 50 seconds left in the first half in the Snyder-Lamesa game Friday night. The Tigers defeated the Tornados 20-0.

TWO-POINT PLAY—End Billy Stewart is pictured just after he had caught a pass from Jimmy Wilson for two extra points in the third quarter of the game with Lamesa Friday night. Tom Kincaid (43) is shown in the background.

Defense Sparkles In District Win

The Snyder Tigers made their initial district encounter a great one here Friday night by rolling over the Lamesa Tornados 20-0. The win was a team victory all the way as the Tigers exhibited a combination of effective running and passing, along with a superb defense that held the Tornados to seven first downs and only 103 yards total offense.

Snyder now shares the district lead with Sweetwater and Brownfield. All three teams played and won their first conference contests Friday. Sweetwater defeated Lake View 24-6 and Brownfield, the next Tiger foe, ran over Colorado City 33-6.

The game with Lamesa was not nearly as close as most of the "experts" had anticipated. The only time the Tornados threatened was late in the third quarter after the Tigers had scored all of their points. An intercepted pass and a penalty put Lamesa on the Snyder 8 yardline. However, the savage Tiger defense pushed the Tornados back and a third down pass was intercepted by Jim Marcum to end the threat.

The closest Lamesa could come to the Snyder goal line on any other occasion was to the Tiger 27 in the first half. Further evidence of the effective Snyder defense is shown by the fact that the Tornados made two first downs in succession only one time.

The Lamesa defense lived up to its advanced billing. The Tornados gave up yardage grudgingly, as they held the Tigers to a total offense of 204 yards, far below their average per game. However, quarterback Jimmy Wilson was able to move the team well by using all the ball carriers, including himself, and occasionally throwing a pass to keep the Tornado defense guessing.

TIGERS LOSE NO TIME
The Tigers lost no time in lightening up the defense and took the opening kickoff and marched on to a touchdown without relinquishing the ball. Leslie Brown started it off by returning the kickoff back 38 yards to his own 47. It looked for a moment that he might go all the way.

From that point it took the Tigers just nine plays to cross the goal. Fullback Danny Aycock drove for four, Tom Kincaid got one, and Wilson went for five and a first down on the Tornado 37. After penalty put Snyder back five yards, Wilson threw to Kincaid and another first down on the 26.

The Tornados getting a little anxious, were penalized five yards for off-sides, and then Brown ran for 13 and a first and goal-to-go on the nine. Kincaid and Wilson picked up three and two, then Kincaid, using sheer power, drove over for the final five yards. An attempted pass for the two points was unsuccessful, but the Tigers led 6-0 with only four and a half minutes gone in the first quarter.

Throughout most of the remainder of the first half both teams showed stingy defenses, and each team was forced to punt three times. As the second quarter neared an end the Tigers got a break as Billy Stewart pounced on a Tornado fumble on the Lamesa 29. Snyder worked its way goalward bit by bit, but had to give up the ball on the nine when a first down was missed by inches.

SNYDER SCORES AGAIN
At that point it looked like the Tigers would have to settle for what they had, but such wasn't the case. With the half about over, Reed Robinson recovered another Tornado fumble on the 27.

Battling both the clock and a tough Lamesa defense, Wilson took to the air on first down and passed 21 yards to Stewart, who made a remarkable falling catch on the Tornado six yardline.

Kincaid picked up one, Wilson passed incomplete, and then Brown carried it over from the five with just 50 seconds showing on the clock. Brown ran the second half kickoff back 26 yards to his own 39, but Lamesa held him back over on his own 35 after a penalty. After making one first down, a Tornado pass was intercepted by Aycock and the Tigers were in business once again on the Lamesa 34.

Aycock fought for two yards and Jay Williamson drove for four to the 28. On the next play Wilson faded back and hit Brown for a beauty that upped the Tiger points to 18. Wilson passed to Stewart for the two extra points and Snyder led 20-0 midway in the third period.

TORNADOES THREATEN
It looked as though the Tornados might get into the act a few minutes later as a Snyder pass was intercepted and run back to the Tiger 16, and a penalty moved them to the 8.

The Snyder defense stiffened, however, and the Tornados couldn't go. After two tries they were back on the 10. A third down pass was intercepted by Marcum in the end zone and Snyder had the ball on its own 20.

With time running out, the Tigers gained possession on their 41 and held on. The Tornados tried to get their hands back on the ball, but to no avail. Snyder kept marching.

Snyder In 3-Way Tie For Lead

Snyder, Brownfield and Sweetwater all chalked up wins Friday night to go into a tie for the lead in District 3-AAA. Lamesa, Colorado City and Lake View were the losers.

In what was billed as the biggest of the three, the Snyder Tigers won out over the Lamesa Tornados 20-0 in a defensive battle that was played in Snyder.

The Brownfield Cubs ran roughed over the Colorado City Wolves 33-6 in the home territory of the Cubs. Ronnie Davis tallied twice for Brownfield in leading the Cubs to their fourth victory of the year. They have lost two.

After a scoreless first quarter in the game in Sweetwater, the Mustangs started rolling, and scored in each of the last three periods to beat Lake View 24-6. Jerry Pace led the Mustangs as he gained 112 yards in 12 carries, completed four of nine passes for 51 yards and one touchdown, and punted one time for 54 yards.

The district race may be narrowed down somewhat this Friday as Snyder journeys to Brownfield for a crucial tilt. Other action will see Lamesa at Lake View and Sweetwater at Colorado City.

San Angelo Wins Over Abilene Eagles

ABILENE (AP)—San Angelo, one of the powers in Texas' Class AAAA football, came back in the second half Friday night to take a 27-7 victory over Abilene.

Abilene scored in the first quarter when Bob Bearden returned a punt for 63 yards and a touchdown. Jimmie Edwards' kick was good.

In the second, Ronnie Henson passed to Jimmy Bihl for 7 yards and a touchdown. Henson kicked the extra point to tie the score 7-7 at halftime.

In the third quarter Henson crashed over from the 2 for a touchdown and minutes later Paul Bean went over from the 31 for another tally.

Ira Loses Squeaker To Blackwell

BLACKWELL—The Ira Bulldogs fell to the Blackwell Hornets in an offensive battle here Friday night 51-32. The loss dropped Ira to a 0-2 record in district play. Blackwell has now won one and lost one.

The big man for Blackwell was tailback Mickey Campbell who scored five touchdowns and passed for two more to end Robbie Cook. For the Bulldogs, Bob Hart recovered a fumble in the end zone for one score, passed to Jack Payne for two and passed to Johnny Lindsey for one.

Ira took the opening kickoff and marched all the way to paydirt without giving up the ball. The try for points was blocked, but the Bulldogs were leading 6-0.

The lead was short-lived, however, as Campbell took the ensuing kickoff on his one yardline and ran 79 yards for a score. (Six-man fields are 80 yards long). The Bulldog line rose up and blocked the try-for-point and the score was tied.

The offensive fireworks got hotter, and with Ira trailing 14-21 Payne hit Johnny Lindsey with a scoring pass with just two seconds showing on the clock. Ira tried an onside kick, but the ball was whistled dead and the clock did not start. On the first play Campbell ran about 45 yards to cross the goal after time had run out. Half-time score was Blackwell 29 Ira 20.

Next week the Bulldogs will travel to McCauley where they will take on the defending co-champions. McCauley is undefeated in seven starts this year and is 2-0 in district play. Scoring for Ira: Touchdowns—Jack Payne 2, Bob Hart 1, Normann Turner 1, Johnny Lindsey 1; Extra points—Turner 2 pts.

Ford May Buy Detroit Lions

DETROIT (AP)—Stockholders of the Detroit Lions were urged Friday to let a Ford take sole possession of the driver's seat of the National Football League club.

In a unanimous vote, 13 Lions' directors accepted William Clay Ford's offer to buy the club for $6 million.

The directors recommended that the 14 stockholders of the Detroit Football Co. make the deal official at a meeting Nov. 22. Stockholders approval is necessary—though it's considered a formality—before the 38-year-old Ford can become sole owner of the club.

Ford, a member of the Ford automotive family, greeted the board's recommendation with three words—"I am absolutely pleased."

"I've given a lot of thought to changes," Ford said, "but I have to get the stockholders' approval before I do anything." He was asked to comment on reports that Paul Brown, former coach of the Cleveland Browns, was being considered as a replacement for Lions' General Manager Edwin Anderson.

"I've made no commitments to anyone so far," Ford replied. He added, however, that Lion's Coach George Wilson is secure in his job, despite Detroit's lackluster showing this season. Considered championship contenders in pre-season speculation, the Lions have fared with only two victories in six starts.

"I certainly have no plans to get rid of George Wilson," the automobile company executive said. Ford has been Lions' president since 1961.

Ford is a grandson of Henry Ford, founder of Ford Motor Co. His brother, Henry II, is board chairman of the firm, and William Clay himself is a Ford vice president and director.

Hobbs Runs Past Divide

HOBBES—The Hobbs Panthers won their second consecutive district-outing—here over the Divide Trojans 55-12.

The Panthers were behind one time early in the game as Divide was the first to score. Bobby Owens ran over from 35 yards out to give the Trojans a 6-0 lead.

Hobbs went ahead, still in the first period, as Ruben Mijares ran 58 yards from scrimmage for a tally and then passed to Jerry Hodges for the extra point.

Near the end of the period Panther Tommy Lay went two yards for a score to make it 13-6. The try for point was no good.

The second quarter was all Hobbs as Divide was held scoreless while the Panthers picked up 14 points. Mijares passed to Freddy Martinez for a touchdown on a play covering 45 yards. Mijares then kicked for two extra points. Tommy Lay ran 11 yards for a marker and the Panthers led 27-6 at half.

In the third period Tommy Lay went 18 yards for a score. A few minutes later Hobbs picked up two more points as Ben Garcia tackled Divide's Owens in the end zone for a safety. Still in the same period Lay went 40 yards for another score and Mijares kicked the extra two points.

In the final period Lay went 35 yards for a tally, and then Divide scored another as Gary Rotan passed to Bobby Owens for 27 yards and a score.

The final Panther marker came as Lay went over from two yards out. Final score was 55-12 in favor of Hobbs.

Next Friday the Panthers will play host to Blackwell in another District 4-B clash. Blackwell is 1-1 in district play.

Tough Luck Hits Buffalo

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Buffalo Bills have to be the toughest luck club of pro football this season.

Going into tonight's home game with the Boston Patriots, the Bills already have lost seven games for the season. The latest was Roger Kochman, former Penn State halfback, who never will play football again after suffering a knee separation.

The list of Buffalo's maimed and wounded who will see no more service this year includes halfbacks Wray Carlton, Fred Brown and Kochman, defensive backs Billy Atkins and Jim Johnson, linebacker Jim Moss and tackle Dick Hudson.

The Bills, picked by many to win the Eastern Division of the American Football League, face a disappointing 2-4 record in the game with Boston. The Bills were shaken early by injuries to quarterback Babe Parilli but have moved into a tie for the division lead with a 4-3 record with Parilli back in action.

New York's Jets, losers of two straight on the road after an auspicious start, face the battered Denver Broncos at the Polo Grounds in the other Saturday night pro game. The Jets are favored.

Seven games in the National Football League and two more in the AFL will complete the pro schedule Sunday.

Both the New York Giants and Baltimore Colts approach the do-or-die point. The Giants must win at Cleveland to stay alive in the Eastern Conference. A defeat would drop them three full games back of the unbeaten Browns. Baltimore also must beat Green Bay to stay in the race in the Western Conference where the Packers and Chicago Bears share the lead at 5-1.

Philadelphia limps into Chicago to meet the Bears, still smarting after that upset in San Francisco. Charlie Johnson of St. Louis and Norm Saper of Washington will be the opposing pitchers at Washington where everybody scores. Tom Landry is going with Don Meredith at quarterback for his Dallas Cowboys at Pittsburgh where the Steelers need a win to stay close.

Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings won't have to contend with Joe Schmidt, Detroit's fierce middle linebacker, in their game at Detroit because Schmidt is out for perhaps a month with a dislocated shoulder. The San Francisco-Los Angeles game in the Coliseum is a dead even affair. Each team won its first game last week.

NOBODY'S BALL—It looked like anyone of several might have caught this pass from Jimmy Wilson in the second quarter of the Lamesa-Snyder game Friday night. After it was bounced around Billy Stewart (83) almost ended up with it. The Tigers were not hurt by the incompletion as Leslie Brown scored on the following play.

Many Good Things Are Free For Texas Sportsman

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The best things in life may not always be free, but where the Parks and Wildlife Commission is concerned, there are lots of them at least free for the Texas sportsman.

Texas landowners may ask for and receive free from the department:

Bass, catfish, crappie, brim and sunfish from 13 state hatcheries for privately owned waters.

Surveys of private waters and recommendations concerning fertilization, vegetation control and management practices by inland fisheries biologists.

Aid from game wardens in preventing or halting poaching of game.

Ideas for game management, including estimates of game availability.

Recommendations for improving game habitat conditions.

Methods of relieving crop loss caused by game.

The commission is accepting applications for the public waterfowl hunt on the Big Hill Bayou Wildlife Management area in Jefferson County, Dec. 3-Jan. 4. Deadline for completed applications is Nov. 20.

Illinois Scared But Gets Win

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Highly favored Illinois, stunned and trailing by two points as UCLA scored two touchdowns in the third quarter, rallied with a 91-yard touchdown drive to defeat the Bruins 18-12 Friday night.

The winning drive consumed 16 plays, with sophomore fullback Jim Grabowski diving over the pile for the final yard and the winning touchdown. Fred Custardo passed to Rich Callaghan for a two-point conversion to tie the intersectional battle.

UCLA was blanked 10-0 by the No. 4 ranked visitors from the Big Ten at the half.

But abruptly the complexion of the game changed and the excitement of the sparse 24,616 in Memorial Coliseum mounted as UCLA hit the scoreboards for two touchdowns.

The first UCLA touchdown came when Illinois' quarterback Mike Taliaferro was hit, the ball spun into the air, and the Bruins' Byron Nelson grabbed it and ran 34 yards to score.

Soon afterward, the Bruins gained 32 yards in an exchange of punts and UCLA traveled 36 yards in five plays with Larry Zeno passing the final seven to Nelson. He caught it on the two and stepped over.

A pass and a kick for the extra points were both unnecessary.

The first Illinois touchdown came the first time the Illini got the ball in the first quarter.

They traveled 79 yards in 13 ground plays, with Sam Price racing the final 21 yards on an option pass from Taliaferro.

Illinois recovered a fumble on the UCLA 20 in the second quarter and turned it into a field goal on a 25-yard boot by Jim Plankenhorn.

Illinois apparently had the game locked up. Its big backs and hard-charging line stormed 71 yards to only three for the Bruins on the ground in the first period.

Three times UCLA threatened in the second quarter, with its lone weapon, the pass.

The Bruins got to the enemy 30, 22, and the 3 but couldn't score.

College Football Hits Halfway Mark

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The college football season hits the halfway mark this weekend with Texas, Wisconsin and Pitt, the nation's 1-3-3 teams meeting Rice, Ohio State and each other—Paul Marth of Pitt, and Roger Staubach of Navy.

Those who like to watch their college football win their feet propped up at home on Saturdays can take in the Notre Dame at Stanford game on Pairings for the remainder of the Top Ten in The Associated Press poll find Mississippi, No. 5, at Vanderbilt; Oklahoma at Alabama, No. 6; Houston, No. 7 at Kansas State and Michigan State at Northwestern, No. 8.

Illinois, No. 4, came from behind to beat UCLA 18-12 in an intersectional game Friday night at Los Angeles. Richmond and Virginia Military battled to a 7-7 tie in a Southern Conference game at Richmond.

Behind 10-0 at the half, underdog UCLA stunned the Illini with two third period touchdowns by Byron Nelson to go ahead 12-10. The Big Ten team pulled it out in the last quarter on a 62-yard march that ended with fullback Jim Grabowski diving over from the 1. Rich Callaghan grabbed a pass from Fred Custardo for a two-point conversion to wind up the scoring.

Illinois' first half points came on a 21-yard run by Sam Price and Jim Plankenhorn's 25-yard field goal. Nelson's touchdowns for UCLA came on a 24-yard run with an intercepted pass and on a seven-yard aerial he caught from Larry Zeno.

The No. 1 Texas Longhorns, who have won five straight, have no illusions about Rice. The underdog Owls spoiled a perfect season for the Longhorns a year ago by gaining a 14-14 tie. This is a night game at Austin.

The No. 2 Wisconsin Badgers 4-0, are at home to Ohio State and they fear the Buckeyes may be on the rebound after losing to Southern California last week.

Looking Back

25 Years Ago

From The Snyder County Times Oct. 27, 1938

Definite action looking toward continuation of the route from Snyder northward, known for years as the Clearmont Route, is planned for the near future. It has been reported in recent weeks that the route will be discontinued unless the road is improved.

Of the business transacted by the Commissioners Court, in session Monday, probably the arrangement whereby the county pays one-half and the citizens pay one-half for retaining a wolf trapper, will be of interest to most county people.

10 Years Ago

From The Snyder Daily News Oct. 27, 1953

C. F. (Frank) Sentell, Snyder lawyer and state representative was twice found in contempt of court here this morning, fined $100 on the first finding and taken to the county jail on a three-day commitment at the second finding.

The sheriff's department confined Sentell in the jail on orders of District Judge Sterling Williams about noon when Sentell refused to abide by the court's ruling during testimony about which Sentell had made an objection.

Four Snyder County men are included in a group of eight to be inducted into the Army through selective service Friday.

Snyder men are John Jay Boren, Harold Dewitt Makey, and Joe Rylander, Jr., D. P. Ammons, Jr., of Hermleigh is also to be inducted.

JFK Honors Robt. Frost

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Kennedy pays a swift visit today to Amherst, Mass., and the campus of Amherst College to honor an old friend and beloved poet, the late Robert Frost.

Kennedy will speak twice, receive an honorary doctor of laws degree as did Frost before him and preside over the ground breaking for a $3.5-million Robert Frost memorial library.

But the President isn't expected to toss a shovelful of dirt. He still is bothered by the back he reinjured doing that at a tree planting ceremony at Ottawa, Canada, a couple of years ago.

The oratory and ceremonies over, Kennedy is flying to Alaska, Va., 50 miles west of Washington.

Hundreds Are On Hand For Glittering Charity Ball

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Kilg lights emblazoned the sky Friday night as 1,800 persons pressed against the roped-off entrance to the Americana Hotel to witness the annual grand extravaganza to the biggest, most extensive charity ball in the country.

Movie stars, royalty, international society, a Russian ambassador—1,350 people all told—paid $150 each to be applauded by the crowds as they made their way into the 12th annual April in Paris Ball.

Elsa Maxwell, founder of the gala affair, arrived in a wheel-chair, arrived in a wheel-chair, arrived in a wheel-chair.

Black & Gold

By TREVA MOORE
"School spirit in SHS has reached great heights this year," stated Melvin Montgomery, band director, in pep rally Friday. A large majority of students wore black and gold as it was official color day, which is sponsored by the Student Council each year.

Miss Virginia Grove, geometry teacher, and Mr. Franklin Pruitt, history teacher, were elected by the faculty members for the honor of Mr. and Miss Faculty. As Mr. Kayer placed a congratulatory kiss on Miss Grove's student body cheered and applauded.

Dr. Emmitt Smith: head of the visiting evaluation team, talked to the students in assembly Wednesday. He said that the team members had enjoyed visiting in our school and appreciated our cooperation.

Johnny Meigs, well known artist, presented an assembly program Tuesday night on the various phases of an artist's work. He advised students who are interested in the art profession on how they should plan their career.

One-fourth of the school year will have slipped by when the nine weeks comes to a close next Friday.

Everyone in the stands at the ball game Friday night "oohed" and "ahed" as the band marched on the field in their new uniforms. The new suits are black with a gold metallic overlay on the front of the uniform. Snyder is written across the overlay in Old English letters. Two Tigers are on each sleeve.

Next spring the Texas Inter-scholastic League Foundation will award about $50,000 in scholarships to participants in college, academic and literary contests.

Rules Against Nine Farmers

PECOS, Tex. (AP)—Federal Judge Adrian A. Spears of San Antonio has handed down summary judgments of nearly a million dollars against nine farmers in the Billie Sol Estes fertilizer tank deals.

The agreements are in favor of CIT Co., a finance firm deeply involved in tank loans. Forms on file here show the judgments were agreed by lawyers for both sides.

The government contends Estes persuaded farmers and others to sign notes which were secured by mortgages said, by fertilizer tanks that did not exist.

These farmer notes were sold to numerous finance companies in complicated financial deals.

Estes is under federal and state prison sentences totaling 23 years as a result of the deal.

The judgments totaled $941,125.90.

Rocky Terms Reception 'Fantastic'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who returned from a two-day whirlwind tour of California, compared himself politically with Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater by saying: "So who's a Republican?"

The governor and his wife arrived Friday night.

Rockefeller goes to Amnesh Lake, N.Y., where he addresses the 6th annual convention of the state AFL-CIO.

As he headed home from Los Angeles, Rockefeller termed his reception there and in San Francisco "fantastic, far better than anticipated."

At Idlewild Airport, the governor was asked about remarks by Goldwater to the effect that he was unable to politically classify some of his stands.

Replied Rockefeller: "I stand on the Republican platform of 1960 and every plank of it. It's interesting that Goldwater said he wouldn't run on that platform. So who's a Republican?"

The governor winked at newsmen and added: "Goldwater has a lot of friends, but they are open-minded."

Through his press office in Albany Friday, Rockefeller issued a prompt reply of "absolutely untrue" to a report he had been named as governor if nominated for the presidency.

The Buffalo Evening News said earlier Friday it had been informed that Rockefeller was planning to resign as chief executive if he won the nomination and thereby free himself from "the countless responsibilities faced almost daily" in state government.

Two Agents Killed In Gun Battle

BRENT, Ala. (AP)—Two federal liquor agents were killed in a gun battle Friday night at a dance hall suspected of selling moonshine whiskey.

Dead are Ralph Holt and Joe Cooper, who were gunned down after serving a search warrant on the white operator, Tom Tidwell.

Holt and Cooper were agents with the alcoholic tax and tobacco unit out of Tuscaloosa. They were with two other agents and a state officer on a raid of the establishment.

Harold Traft, an agent, said Tidwell opened fire on the two men with a pistol.

Tidwell was then shot at least twice by officers. Harcourt said Tidwell was taken to a hospital in Marion.

High School Now Awaiting Team's Evaluation Report

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is an extract from a summary of the Snyder High School evaluation report.)

Although I am sure the faculty is relieved to be finished with the evaluation, many expressed their pride in having this team take such a close look at our school. More than anything else we were all very proud to "show-off" our school.

Snyder High School has been evaluated by a team of fourteen educators representing the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Since September of 1962, the faculty has been preparing for this visit. Throughout last year the teachers looked at themselves and the entire program of studies in undergoing this intensive self-evaluation. The committee used this self-evaluation as a starting point for their three-day study. The committee's job was to add objectivity to the evaluation. The teachers were not involved emotionally or actively with the school or students. For this reason their comments and their final written report should be of great benefit in giving the high school a sense of direction and a guide for further improvement in the years ahead. Dr. Snyder, Enniss Smith, coordinator of the project, will meet at a later date with the Board of Education.

THOMAS BROCKMAN

SCA To Present Thomas Brockman Monday Night

The Scurry Concert Association will present Mr. Thomas Brockman at 8 p.m. Monday night at the High School auditorium.

Had he not decided upon music as his life's work, American pianist Thomas Brockman feels that he might have chosen the career of a diplomat. However, as there are many roads to Rome, it is becoming increasingly evident to all who have followed the progress of this uniquely gifted young artist that he is more than fulfilling an international role as ambassador of good will. . . with piano, rather than portfolio.

A veteran of four European tours, Brockman has been hailed in capitals from Stockholm — "one could have imagined one heard Gieseking, a magnificent performance" (Tidningen) — to Milan, where he was lauded from the Corriere della Sera for his "completely musical nature and sense of interpretation of the highest order." In London, the ultra-conservative Times concurred that "the glowing accounts from press notices proved to be scarcely exaggerated," and dubbed him "a musician of insight."

In his own country, Brockman, who made his first tour for Columbia Artists Management during the 1959-60 season, is already a familiar figure in many of the major music centers, playing repeated engagements with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the National Symphony of Washington, the Atlanta, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Detroit Symphonies, and coast-to-coast radio and television programs. Of one of his most recent New York appearances, the Times adjudged Brockman "a superb artist (who) played like a master," while the Herald Tribune affirmed his gifts as "one of the most deeply sensitive artists we have heard in a long time."

Brockman of whom the famous Sunday Times of London wrote, "He is steadily extending the frontiers of his art," finds newer and farther horizons to conquer each succeeding season. The brilliant young pianist looks forward to a busy year of engagements which will take him throughout the United States and present him in both the solo and symphonic engagements.

Brockman's deep love of the art which was to entrench itself so firmly in his life began when he was still a young child. The eldest son of a leading Greenville, South Carolina, physician and surgeon, Tom, while still a toddler, became entranced with the music he heard played by his mother, a gifted amateur pianist, and persuaded her to give him lessons. His interest was overwhelming for one so young, and progress was rapid. Encouraged by his family — who nevertheless saw to it that he led a normal boy's life — Tom always found time after school and piano practice for a session of listening to recordings of masters of the instrument. He dreamed of the day that he would hear these artists in the flesh. When he was ten he was taken to hear both Hofmann and Rachmaninoff, and he still remembers these events as milestones in his life.

Tom approached his musical studies with redoubled effort, and at fifteen won a scholarship to Philadelphia's Curtis Institute. Three years later he was awarded a fellowship to the Juilliard School of Music in New York, where he studied with the late great piano pedagogue, Olga Samaroff. The following season, while still at Juilliard, Brockman won the important Philadelphia Orchestra Youth Contest, and made his professional debut as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra under the baton of Eugene Ormandy. But his studies continued and after graduating from Juilliard he set off to Europe, where he worked with such outstanding masters as Edwin Fischer, Robert Casadesu, Clifford Curzon, and Nadia Boulanger.

Brockman's New York debut took place at Carnegie Hall in 1950, immediately placing him in the forefront of the younger American artists. Since then he has been heard frequently in New York, each time receiving warm acclaim from press and public alike. Typical of the enthusiasm which greets a Brockman performance is the recent comment of The New York Times: "Mr. Brockman made his New York debut in 1950. On his return two seasons ago he showed a maturity and sensitivity that raised strong hopes for his future. At his recital yesterday he seemed constantly on the verge of playing like one of the really big pianists of the day. The entire recital was engrossing. . . First and foremost, Mr. Brockman relished the music he was playing and the audience shared his feeling. The result was that each piece seemed too short. . . A musician's growth can be an exciting thing, particularly when it seems to be carrying him as far toward the top as Thomas Brockman."

When he returned for another Town Hall recital in January 1959, the New York Post scribe summed up that paper's critical eulogy, and others. "In short, Brockman, now a mature artist of imposing stature, not only plays the piano as one born to it, but as if he had earned his glory."

Braised Veal Chops

1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
6 loin veal chops, about 3/4 inch thick
2 tablespoons butter
1 clove garlic, halved
1/2 small onion, sliced
1 1/2 tablespoons flour mixed smooth with 1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup red wine
2 tablespoons diced ham, raw or cooked
18 prunes, soaked overnight and drained
Mix together the salt, pepper and nutmeg; rub into chops. In a range-top-and-oven casserole, heat the butter; add chops, garlic and onion; brown chops on both sides; remove. Discard garlic and onion and excess fat but leave brown drippings. Add flour mixture, wine and ham; stir constantly over low heat until thickened. Return chops to casserole; add prunes; cover tightly. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 40 minutes or until chops are tender. Add more salt to sauce if necessary. Makes 6 servings.

They Started Their Own

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Mrs. Marjorie Moyer has stacks of pleading letters from gift shops lying unanswered at her home in Tully, N. Y.

She started 13 years ago making dolls and cloth toys for her three children. Since then Moyer toys have become works of art collected by adults. But Mrs. Moyer says:

"I make them for youngsters. I wish I could give them away to all the children who need them. As it is, I prefer to place them personally, to give them in the right places. That's why those gift shop letters don't get answered."

Mrs. John Ezzo of Canastota, N.Y., mother of five children needed extra cash. After talking with her mother, who runs a pet shop in Albany, she started making coats for dogs. Now Ezzo-clad dogs are among the most sartorially elegant canines.

In Brooklyn Mrs. Mildred Abel's husband was about to retire and she wanted to do something to bring in extra income. What was this grandmother's solution? Making high-fashion colored terry aprons has developed into a good business.

These are only three of the many New York women who have made a success of a home-grown business.

Mrs. Moyer, a small, dark-haired woman with a gentle smile, says: "If you find an idea that's new and different and has something of yourself in it, I don't know what it is, but people will knock at your door."

Mrs. Moyer's particular moustrap—handcrafted, imaginative character animals and dolls—stems from her years of art training. She's a talented painter and sculptor and exhibits often. But so many of the enterprising entrepreneurs the New York State Woman's Program brags about have had no particular training for their business.

"We don't take credit for their success," says Guin Hall, deputy commissioner of the state's Department of Commerce and head of the Woman's Program.

"Their own determination, talent and imagination have done it. But the free counseling service provided by the program, whether it came at the beginning or at some interim stage when expansion or new marketing methods were needed, has probably saved needless expenditure as well as providing information that made progress easier.

"Sometimes what we give is just the encouragement to continue when things seem black." At the recent New York State Exposition at Syracuse a special Woman's Program booth showed just how effective the unique personal business counseling has been.

Here are some of the money-makers displayed: Men's neckwear designed by a New York City woman who got the idea from making bow ties from dress fabrics for her husband.

Pillows with sport subjects. Luxury fabric boutique items such as check book covers, ear-ring and cigarette bases, by a mother of two pre-school children.

Ceramics. Decorated cutting boards. Handwoven hangings using grasses and pods.

Spaghetti sauces, developed from a "secret" home recipe. Chocolate lace candies. Wooden serving trays with inserts of plastic layered over motifs of dried leaves and flowers.

Alice in Wonderland puppets and dolls by the mother of three young children and wife of a university professor.

THE 5-CENT U. S. stamp honoring the Red Cross centenary and that organization's helping hand in the Cuban prisoner exchange program will feature a group of refugees on the deck of the S. S. MORNING LIGHT silhouetted against the night sky. Above the scene flies the Red Cross flag. It goes on sale Oct. 29 in Washington.

The design of this new stamp was based on a photograph made by Rudolph Vetter at the moment the boat docked at Port Everglades, Fla. (May 24, 1963.)

Collectors desiring first day covers may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C. The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers International Red Cross stamp". Cover requests MUST be postmarked not later than Oct. 29.

H. E. Harris has published a new looseleaf World Stamp Album containing spaces for 50,000 stamps in its 1,000 pages. There are more than 30,000 illustrations making it easy for beginners to identify their stamps. Also included is an illustrated stamp finder to help identification plus the stamp collectors dictionary. A U. S. stamp identifier tells rare stamps from common "look-alikes." The looseleaf album, available in nine colors, has a new mechanism which allows pages to lie open for maximum possible flatness. The big book is available for $11.95 at H. E. Harris & Co., Box A, Boston 17, Mass.

Belgium has announced the issuance of a three franc stamp to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the Belgian Airlines. The design features a Caravelle plane flying over the Brussels National Airport.

She Captures Egypt

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (U. S. Press) — Men, it is said, climb mountains because they are there. Tourists probably photograph ruins for the same reason.

At least it started that way in Egypt with Dorothy Hales Gary. But through a complete fluke, as she likes to call it, she now has a book, the recently published "Sun, Stones and Silence," with text by Robert Payne woven among her photographic studies of the land of the Nile.

Mrs. Gary is an attractive and wealthy green-eyed blonde who has spent 20 years in the art field as painter, critic, connoisseur and discoverer of hidden talent.

In 1950 she was searching for unknown but promising artists in Cairo.

"I had heard there were some," she recalls, "but I couldn't find any. I had three months on my hands, the time I had scheduled for Egypt, and I was getting tired of being entertained."

"So I got out my camera — I've had them slung around my neck since I was 12 — and shot about 100 pictures. The light was so strong, they were terrible."

Needed, Mrs. Gary set to work. "It became a challenge," she admits. "I resolved to take home something that meant something."

Back in Rome, where she was living at the time, friends exclaimed over her pictures. Then Alice Bucher, a leading European art publisher, wanted to make them into a book.

Convinced that everybody was serious, Mrs. Gary spent two more winters photographing in Egypt with naked camera and natural light before she thought she's covered the subject.

"The Egyptian people are close to nature," she says, "and that makes them very gay. They're far more sophisticated than we think of them."

"The children mob you, but if you play with them a bit and throw them candy, they couldn't be cuter."

Mrs. Gary has a way with children, undoubtedly acquired through bringing up a son Robert, now 16. She dedicated the book to him and says "he's a good abstract painter, but he's more interested in science."

A divorcee, she's now settled in New Canaan, Conn., where she paints every day in her studio. "I paint more as an art critic than an active artist," she explains.

She isn't very pretentious about her working clothes.

Although some lady photographers affect exotic sports-clothes to snap pictures in, when she was in Egypt, she says, "I wore my oldest cotton $2.95 dress or a $1 cotton skirt and blouse."

"You're sometimes in pretty difficult places; and even in winter it can be dry and hot. As for shoes, you've got to have rubber soles or you're lost."

Some of her most powerful photographs deal with the great temples and colossal statues carved out of the cliffs at Abu Simbel.

"They're dedicated to one man, Ramses II," she says, "and he was a big ham."

She stayed up all night to get inside the largest temple and take pictures at the exact hour, 5 a.m., when the mighty pharaoh used to come to pray to Amon-Re.

Soon these great temples will be inundated in the waters of the Aswan Dam, and although she thinks Abu Simbel "marvelous" Mrs. Gary says: "Artistically, these are below the temple of Karnak, and besides, the dam means irrigation for millions who need to be fed."

Ever add drained tuna to a cheese sauce? Serve the combination over toasted frankfurter buns. Add a green salad and you'll have a pleasant and easily prepared lunch. The cheese sauce can be made from condensed cheddar cheese soup.

IF HE CAN JUST HANDLE IT OKAY--

No. 2 Spot In Agency May Give Roosevelt New Start

By ADREN COOPER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The No. 2 spot in the government's chief business agency may seem an unlikely place for Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., but he could be headed from there into a new political career.

Roosevelt expresses enthusiasm for his job—undersecretary of commerce—and says he is making no plans for a new political future.

Still, rumors about big things ahead are constantly bouncing along the gray walls of the Commerce Department building. Here's the gist of them:

1. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, 65, will run for governor of North Carolina next year and Roosevelt, 49, will succeed him as secretary.
2. Roosevelt will run next year for the U.S. Senate seat held by Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y.
3. He'll bide his time and aim at the 1968 gubernatorial election in 1968.

And if you want to carry it farther along the daydreaming trail, there is even talk that the Roosevelt name would add something to a Lyndon B. Johnson presidential ticket in 1968.

"I read the papers," Roosevelt says, "and I know they are showing in West Virginia in 1960 a contest that proved to be, turning point in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Among the factors in that West Virginia victory was the work done by young Roosevelt in a tireless five-week campaign stint.

Kennedy's appointment of Roosevelt was widely interpreted as the payoff of a political debt.

Despite liberal leanings, Roosevelt often speaks a language businessmen can understand. He operated an automobile agency in Washington for several years, although he has been a lawyer and politician most of his adult life.

Does he have any trouble with businessmen who remember the elder Roosevelt as an exponent of organized labor, a president unfriendly to business?

"Well, that's a popular misconception about my father," Roosevelt says. "I don't believe there would be any business if he had not taken the steps he did. It might have collapsed completely and some other system might have replaced it. Of course, we have a modified free enterprise system, now."

"Some businessmen come in this office just out of curiosity to see if I have anything besides sawdust between the ears. The leave, I hope, with the idea that we are trying to help business."

Some 15 years ago, he challenged Tammany Hall—again in the pattern of his father—and came out ahead by 2-1 in a race for Congress. In 1954, he took a shot at the governorship of New York but succeeded only

The 'Chaps' Are Back In Again

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
LONDON (AP)—Ten days of political turmoil are fading into history, but the British middle classes are waking up to what they thought was a dead dream of the past.

"All the chaps are back in again," said one young progressive conservative. The "chaps" are more than just a group of well-mannered, well-dressed and well-bred members of the upper class. They are all that the 14th Earl of Home symbolized to the man who catches the 8:17 to London from his suburban home. To this middle class commuter, Sir Alec Douglas-Home may have shed his hereditary titles on the road to power, but he is still the same aristocrat with the same hereditary connections.

In short, Douglas-Home belongs to the Establishment—members of old families, graduates of a few old schools, officers in the right regiments. He is one of those in Britain born and trained to lead.

"The Establishment," political commentator Kingsley Martin has written, "is that part of our government that has not been subjected to democratic control. It is the combined influence of persons who play a part in public life, though they have not been appointed on any test of merit or election."

This system of choosing a governing elite worked handsomely while Britain was a world power. It produced men of talent, vigor and courage who built an empire.

It had one virtue not often found on the continent—it was open to successful men from all ranks, especially the middle class.

Rough Jack Churchill, a 17th Century soldier, became the Duke of Marlborough and ancestor of Sir Winston Churchill. The Cecil family, country yeomen in the 15th Century, created the Salisbury line and served as advisers to the first Queen Elizabeth. Harold Macmillan is the grandson of a farmer but a son-in-law of a duke.

As an example of the continuity and strength of the Establishment, go back only to 1957. Churchill and the present Lord Salisbury engineered the choice of Macmillan as prime minister. This month Macmillan almost singlehandedly picked Douglas-Home.

Junior Editors Quiz on CODE

QUESTION: Why are there two Morse codes?

ANSWER: Samuel Morse was a successful American portrait painter who also had a great interest in electricity, which in his day was something new. Hearing that it was possible to send electricity over any length of wire, the idea of the telegraph flashed into his mind, which he perfected after many trials and disappointments. The sender pressed a key and released it, and this made a click-click sound in the receiving set at the other end of the wire. Morse made a code in which a dot was represented by the sender quickly pressing and releasing the key. When the key was held down twice as long, it made a short dash. A long dash equalled four dots. This code was used by all telegraphers until superseded by the automatic machines of today.

The International Morse Code, however, is still very much in use today, but this is sent over air waves instead of telegraph wires. Instead of a click there is a buzz sound. Although based on the first Morse code, this is a simpler one. There is only one standard length dash. During the day, ships send this over shortwave radio; at night, they can use it with blinker lights.

FOR YOU TO DO: Decode the messages the ships are sending. The first means a large boat; the second is the same as the first.
