On Missing Plane

Plane With Space Official Missing

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A massive air search was organized today for a plane carrying the U.S. director of space medicine missing since Sunday on a flight over the rugged mountains of Colorado and New Mexico.

Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, 57; his wife, Mary, 53, and pilot Milton Brown, 27, Albuquerque, left Aspen, Colo., en route to Albuquerque about 12:30 p.m. Sunday and haven't been heard from since. The flight would take about two hours.

The twin-engine plane was not missed until Monday, largely because Lovelace's many interests frequently kept him out of town.

PLANES GATHER

"I think we're going to find him," predicted a hopeful associate at the Lovelace Clinic in Albuquerque.

Planes from California to Florida were gathered for the search.

An official of the Civil Air Patrol in Albuquerque said improved weather was expected along the 282-mile flight path between Aspen and Albuquerque. Bad weather Monday prevented an organized search.

Planes were expected from Hamilton AFB, Calif.; Luke AFB, Ariz.; Eglin AFB, Fla.; Kirtland AFB, N.M., and the North American Air Defense Command, Colorado Springs, Colo.

An Albuquerque flight service which owned the plane the Lovelaces had rented for the weekend trip, had 14 planes ready to go, and the Civil Air Patrols of both New Mexico and Albuquerque were mustering all possible aircraft for the search.

NO PLAN FILED

Brown, a veteran at flying in the Southwest, filed no flight plan. Weather was good when the party left Aspen, where the Lovelaces had visited Dr. Alvin Eurich, president of the Aspen Institute.

One of the Lovelaces' three daughters, Jacqueline, 16, said she had not been overly concerned when her parents failed to return home Sunday night because of their frequent travel.

Aerial Strikes Aim At Red Escape Routes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines called today for heavy blows from the skies to cut off Communist escape routes on the seventh day of Operation Harvest Moon 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. jets seared the ground with napalm after the elusive Communists fired on U.S. Marine helicopters lifting a Leatherneck infantry unit into blocking positions to prevent the flight of elements of the big Communist force by river.

B52s STRIKE

As the massive U.S.-Vietnamese sweep south of Da Nang attempted to tighten the vice, U.S. Air Force B52s pounded suspected Communist positions for the third straight day, blasting huge craters in the river valley battleground.

"Beautiful," exclaimed the commander of the Marine task force, Brig. Gen. Jonas Platt, as the aerial barrage rained down on targets near the town of Viet An, 32 miles south of Da Nang.

While the Communists played hide-and-seek with several thousand Leathernecks and Vietnamese troops, helicopters carried Marines from Viet An to lookouts over the Chang River to overtake Viet Cong trying to escape to Laos.

MARINES RETALIATE

The airlift drew bullets from across the river, but the Marines retaliated with artillery, mortars and an air assault that sent up huge balls of fire over the valley.

Marine officers said the air blows halted movement across the river and estimated their bag of enemy dead in the week-long operation at 600, although only 127 bodies were reported counted.

Vietnamese units claimed 570 of the enemy died in their sector, bringing to nearly 1,200 the total of claimed enemy dead.

The Marines said their overall losses were light, although one Leatherneck company was hit hard in a helicopter landing last week.

LEATHERNECK TOLL

In Washington, a Pentagon list of U.S. casualties issued Monday showed 27 Marine deaths in recent fighting. The exact period for the toll was not announced, but it obviously included losses in the Harvest Moon operation.

Vietnamese forces took heavy casualties at the start of the operation when an elite ranger battalion was virtually wiped out and a rescue column badly mauled.

Radio Hanoi claimed a victory for the Communists, declaring that the Viet Cong had killed, wounded or captured 1,050 men, including 20 Americans, in the initial action last Wednesday and Thursday.

In another sector of "Death Valley," the Marine name for the 20-mile-long battleground, Viet Cong troops aimed small-arms fire at a Marine platoon and fled.

All's Well; Pair Await Gemini 6

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bearded and beginning to itch, astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell raced on in their record-busting space flight today after giving Carnarvon, Australia, a few scary moments.

Both the Gemini 7 spacecraft and the five-year-old Echo 2 satellite showed up in the skies over Carnarvon at the same time, and seemed to be converging on a collision course.

RESIDENTS GASP

As residents gasped at the sight, the two vehicles appeared to collide, but the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., said they actually were in orbits 434 miles apart.

Gemini 7 entered its 148th orbit late this morning.

Borman and Lovell woke up this morning scratching and griping about the food.

"We're starting to itch a little—getting kinda crummy," Borman reported.

In the tenth day of the demanding 14-day mission, Borman said "Jim and I have been noticing the days seem to be lengthening a little."

TUNED IN

Traveling at five miles a second, Gemini 7 kept tuned in with preparations to launch Gemini 6 from Cape Kennedy. The firing, scheduled for Wednesday, would culminate with the first rendezvous of orbiting space ships.

Mission control reported that the Gemini 7 orbit, once circularized at 185 miles, had gotten a little lopsided. The high point now was 187.5 miles and the low 183.6 miles.

"It's a fine journey," was the message to earth as Borman and Lovell neared the 4-million-mile mark in their 14-day voyage, toppling more space flight records along the way.

The pilots, bearded by now, eclipsed the individual endurance mark held by Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., who amassed 225 hours and 16 minutes on his Mercury and Gemini 5 flights.

TITAN READIED

Launch teams at Cape Kennedy, Fla., labored long hours to ready a mighty Titan 2 booster rocket for a second try to start Gemini 6 on a 17,500-mile-an-hour chase after Gemini 7 at 7:37 a.m. Big Spring Time Wednesday.

If all goes well, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, the Gemini 6 pilots, will ease their space craft nose to nose with Borman and Lovell nearly six hours after blastoff while 185 miles over the Philippine Islands, east of Manila.

The opportunity for a spectacular meeting in space was stalled Sunday when a tail plug on the Gemini 6 launch vehicle prematurely fell from beneath the rocket, forcing a shutdown of the engines at the moment of ignition.

Inspectors discovered Monday, however, that even if the plug had remained intact, a more serious malfunction would have cut off the engines a second later. They found a two-cent plastic dust cover still attached to a fuel line.

"CARELESS ACT"

Space agency officials termed the failure to remove the dust cover a careless act. They said someone had left it in place when the rocket was assembled Baltimore, Md.

Designed to keep contaminants from the gas chamber during assembly, the tiny cap had been inconspicuously clogging the fuel line for months, escaping several inspections. Officials said at least two persons had signed checklists confirming the cover was removed before shipment.

That same little cover also would have caused a postponement Oct. 25 of the original Gemini 6 mission to rendezvous and link up with an Agena rocket. However, the rocket's engines were never ignited — the time wen the trouble would have been detected — because the Agena did not go into orbit.

C-C Library Bids Opened

COLORADO CITY — Bids for construction of the Mitchell County Public Library were opened in Colorado City, Monday afternoon with eight West Texas general contractors submitting proposals.

Low bidder was the partnership of Burk and Millican of San Angelo and Odessa, at $59,380 for the general construction, that included the electrical and mechanical work. Furniture and equipment was a separate item with Library Bureau, Dallas, being low at $19,724.80.

The bids were opened by County Judge Elmer Martin and the commissioners with Mrs. George Whittington, the County Library Board chairman, assisting. Architects for the job is the firm of Allen and Allen, Lamesa, and Howard Allen expressed satisfaction at the bidding interest and stated that the bid offer for the masonry building was within his cost estimate.

Second low bidder was Lawler Construction Co., Lamesa, with $61,650 and Taylor Manufacturing Co., Taylor, was second on furniture with $19,805.

According to Judge Martin, examination of the bids will be made soon by a joint session of the Commissioners Court and the Library Board. Their approval will forward the proposal for final action for participation in federal funds and construction will be jointly supervised by Allen and the government agency.

Location of the new facility will be on a one half block tract just east of the downtown courthouse location.

Pakistan's Ayub Arrives In U.S. Capital Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan arrives today for talks with President Johnson that are expected to focus on the Kashmir dispute between India and Pakistan and other Asian problems such as the war in Viet Nam.

A red-carpet welcome with full military honors was being planned for Ayub on the south lawn of the White House.

President and Mrs. Johnson will give a state dinner fo Ayub tonight. The Pakistani leader also plans to lay a weath on the grave of President John F. Kennedy.

With Ayub on his U.S. trip is his foreign minister, Z. A. Bhutto, considered an advocate of closer Pakistani ties with Communist China and stronger moves against India.

Ayub, who has labeled his mission here a "quest for peace," told the U.N. General Assembly Monday that Pakistan was willing to sign a no-war pledge with India, if India agreed to self-determination for the people of Kashmir. The two nations have been feuding over rival claims to the border province for years.

COLORADO CITY — Roy Dozier, 77, who spent most of his life in Colorado City and who served as a city manager here, died at 11 p.m. Monday at the Root Memorial Hospital. He had been hospitalized only three days, however he had been in failing health for several years.

Services have been set for 2 p.m. Wednesday at the First Methodist Church, where he was a member. The Rev. Darris Egger, his pastor, will officiate, and burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker & Son Funeral Home.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mamie Dozier; a step-son, Don Taylor, Houston; a step-daughter, Mrs. Howard Cox, Colorado City; and five grandchildren.

Born in Erath County July 18, 1888, Mr. Dozier came to Colorado City as a small lad and had made his home here continuously since except for time overseas in the famed Rainbow division in World War I. He was a member of the locally historic Company D, 117th Supply Train which was mustered into service in August of 1917 at Big Spring.

He also was a member of the Methodist Church and of the Masonic Lodge. Until 1948, he operated a barber shop, and then served half a dozen years as city manager before becoming associated with Mrs. Dozier in operation of the Colorado Abstract Co.

'ICE BALLS,' TEETHING RINGS

Hong Kong Imports Being Taken Off Market Here

Ice balls, suspected of possible contamination, were being pulled off store shelves here today in response to an appeal by health officials.

Lige Fox, city sanitarian, said that at noon today only five firms had been found with the items — under four different names — and all were pulling them off immediately.

He appealed to clubs which might be selling them to withdraw them from the markets.

The items are marketed generally under the name of Ice Cools, Ice Kool, Ice Ball, Pink Elephant, Ice Kools. Most of them have come out of Hong Kong, and water filling has been found in several instances to contain infectious bacteria.

The balls are about the size of an old-fashioned jaw breaker (about an inch in diameter as a general rule) and the plastic covering is filled with a liquid. These are put inside the freezer compartment of a refrigerator, then used in lieu of ice cubes. They thus cool a drink without diluting it.

There have been instances, said Fox, where the spheres have broken in the freezer compartment, and others where children have bitten off bits of the little (pink) elephants.

Dr. R. E. Johnson, Midland, director of the tri-county health unit, was here Tuesday to confer with Fox and other members of the staff.

People who may have bought the balls were urged not to make use of them until they can be checked.

The Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, local women's sorority, sold the controversial ice balls recently as a fund raising project, at $1 per dozen. The organization has announced it will return the money to anyone who requests it. Persons who bought the ice balls may contact the member who sold them for a refund.

State Commissioner of Health J. E. Peavy notified all local health departments and food and drug inspectors Monday that the products should not be sold for public consumption pending further investigation.

Eddie Stanky Named Manager Of White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Stanky was named manager of the Chicago White Sox Tuesday, succeeding Al Lopez who resigned last Nov. 4.

This is Stanky's second try as a big league manager. He led the St. Louis Cardinals to third place finishes in the National League in 1952 and 1953 and sixth in 1944.

He was replaced as Cardinal manager by Harry Walker May 28, 1955.

Lopez moves up to the role of club vice president.

The new White Sox manager has been player development director of the Mets, with emphasis on the farm system, since September, 1964.

Mail Now, Postmaster Says As Volume Sets Records

It's too late to mail your Christmas parcels early—so do the next best thing. Mail now.

This is the advice of Frank Hardesty, postmaster.

He points out that so far in December the volume of mail handled by the post office is five per cent ahead of the same period last year. Each day sees the flood of letters and packages increase in size.

Between Dec. 1 and Dec. 13 of this year, the post office had handled 422,122 pieces of outgoing and 707,543 pieces of incoming mail. This totals 1,129,654. For the same 13 days in December 1964, the office had 402,161 pieces of outgoing mail and 677,987 pieces of incoming mail. The total was 1,080,148.

Hardesty said that the postal crew is keeping well abreast of the mail and that every effort to expedite delivery is being made.

Extra temporary help has been employed and the crew has been brought to full size by employment of extra help. The staff is also working overtime.

One problem facing the office is the acquisition of extra trucks to handle Christmas packages. In the past, the post office has been able to borrow trucks from Webb AFB for the Christmas rush. This year the trucks are otherwise engaged.

"We borrowed a few trucks Monday from the Veterans Hospital," said Hardesty. "However, these are not available today and we are doing the best we can with available vehicles."

The lines of package mailers at the post office grow longer each day.

Hardesty said that the branch post offices are showing increased activity. He pointed out that parcels and letters can be mailed at these stations and that all postal services are available at each.

The substations are in Hemphill-Wells department store, Edwards Heights Pharmacy, Wackers Store at Eleventh Place, and at Webb. The Webb station is showing a heavy volume of mail.

The post office also operates rural stations at Vealmoor and Sand Springs.

It is quite evident this year's Christmas mail will hang up an all-time high total. This means that the urgency of getting parcels and Christmas letters and cards on their way with the least loss of time is most urgent, if these items are to reach their destinations ahead of Santa Claus.

To Attend Sale

Horace Garrett will leave Wednesday for Longmont, Colo., to attend the winter sale from the herd at the Garrett-Wynne Ranch. Several top lots will be offered, including the reserve champion in the American Royal and Texas State Fair Angus shows.

Birch Society Said Rejected At GOP Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie says Republican chieftains were talking about the John Birch Society when they rejected extremist organizations — but named no names.

Smylie spoke out after a Birch Society leader praised Monday's resolution in which the Republican Coordinating Committee said party members should "reject membership in any radical or extremist organization."

VIET QUARANTINE

The GOP policymaking council also urged President Johnson to set up around North Viet Nam the kind of naval quarantine President John F. Kennedy once used against Cuba.

The committee recommended "maximum use of American conventional air and sea power against significant military targets" in the Communist North.

"Under our present policy in Viet Nam," the coordinating committee said, "there is a growing danger that the United States is becoming involved in an endless Korean-type jungle war."

"Since it appears that the major portion of North Vietnamese military supplies arrive by sea," it added, "our first objective should be to impose a Kennedy-type quarantine on North Viet Nam."

Republican resolutions on extremism and Viet Nam were unanimously adopted Monday at a day-long committee session.

John Rousselot, the Birch Society public relations man, said the coordinating committee acted wisely in dealing with the question of extremism.

"We're pleased they have taken this stand," he said.

"Who is Rousselot?" asked Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

"If John Rousselot endorsed this statement," House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford said, "I have grave doubts that he fully understood the import of it."

HELD EXTREME

Smylie put it this way in an interview:

"To us, the resolution that was adopted means the John Birch Society is an extreme and radical organization."

Smylie said he told the committee its five governor-members interpreted the resolution that way. He said no one at the closed-door committee session objected to that reading.

"We had the Birch Society in mind," said Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky.

Man, 101, Has New 'Hobby'

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP) — For the first time in his 101 years James Arthur Adams finds himself in a hospital, and it wouldn't be much fun except for his new hobby: nurse-watching.

"I like those big corpulent nurses," he said Monday. "Weigh about 190."

Adams caught cold in the rain last Nov. 11 when he insisted on riding in a convertible with the top down in a Veterans Day parade.

The cold persisted and he contracted "a slight infection." He was persuaded to enter Veterans Hospital Sunday.

Longevity runs in his family. "My mother was 105 when she died, and my daddy was 104," he said. "I had two boys and a girl, and they all died of old age."

Adams said he likes a drink now and then, but he never smokes.

"I'll smoke in the hereafter," he said.

NATO Shelves Controversies

PARIS (AP) — Ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization put proposals for West German participation in nuclear defense in cold storage as they met today for their annual policy review.

Diplomatic sources said the controversial projects were shelved for the time being to keep alive the prospect of reaching an agreement some day with the Soviet Union to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

The sources said the West Germans themselves were anxious to delay the nuclear question long enough to determine what the Russians were willing to give to get NATO to drop proposals for an integrated nuclear force.

FAVOR TREATY

Informants said the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain realize they would all gain from a treaty halting the spread of nuclear arms to countries which do not possess them.

The Russians say there can be no such treaty unless the Western powers drop the American proposal for a multilateral nuclear force — MLF — of surface ships or the related and broader British idea of an Atlantic nuclear force — ANF.

Western diplomats said if MLF and ANF are abandoned the Russians should give something in exchange: for example, new guarantees to protect the Western access routes to West Berlin, new negotiations looking toward the reunification of East and West Germany, or cooperation in efforts to obtain a cease-fire and peace negotiations for Viet Nam.

Discussing nuclear problems at a news conference Monday night, Canadian Foreign Minister Paul Martin said: "I do not expect any spectacular initiatives will be taken — for that matter any initiatives at all. The stage is now set for important decisions, but the situation is not right for a final decision at this meeting for obvious reasons."

SCRAP VIEWS

NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio told newsmen the object of the meeting "is not to take decisions" but to exchange views.

After a preliminary round of consultations, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk planned to explain American policy in South Viet Nam in detail to the foreign, finance and defense ministers of the other 14 NATO nations. Informants said he hopes to convince the European members of the alliance that victory in South Viet Nam is as important to them in the long run as it is to the United States.

Newspaper Executive Joe Leonard, 75, Dies

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Joe M. Leonard Sr., 75, a figure in Texas journalism and broadcasting most of his life, died Monday night in a Gainesville hospital.

He entered the hospital four weeks ago suffering from cancer, a son said.

Funeral services were pending.

He started in the news business when he was five as a carrier for the Gainesville Register which his late father, John P. Leonard, founded in 1890.

Leonard was vice president of the Register Publishing Co. and had been president of Gainesville Broadcasting Co. since it was founded in 1947 by him, his son, Joe M. Leonard Jr. and Louis Pitchford.

He was the past president of the North and East Texas Press Association, serving in 1932-33; was named with his late brother, Clarence, as 'newsmen of the year" in 1957 by the Dallas Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi; a director and past vice president of the Texas Good Roads Association, a director of the Texas Safety Association; and a lifetime member of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers Association which he helped organize.

Leonard went to New York City when he was 17 and studied linotype operation in the linotype factory. Later he worked on newspapers in New York, Oklahoma City, El Paso, Tex., and Santa Fe, N.M.

On Feb. 3, 1917, he was married to Miss Phoebe Myers of Gainesville. The couple had two children, Joe M. Leonard Jr. and Earl M. (Bud) Leonard, both of Gainesville.

Union Re-Elects George Meany

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The AFL-CIO, its aging top leadership about to take on a more youthful appearance, pledged today to renew its fight to win a better life for "all the little people of America."

"They have no one else to represent them," said 71-year-old George Meany, unanimously elected to a new two-year term as president of the giant labor federation and voted a $25,000 salary boost to $70,000 a year. He is the only president the federation has had in its 10-year history.

There were a few "no" votes from the floor Monday on Meany's pay raise.

The nearly 1,000 delegates to the 10th anniversary convention vote today on a virtually unopposed slate of candidates that will chip about two years off the 64-year average age of the federation's powerful executive council.

Patrick Gorman, secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters Union, is the only maverick opposing a Meany-backed slate to replace eight retiring federation vice presidents on the council.

Gorman, 72, was given virtually no chance of election.

"The American trade union movement is the conscience of America," said Meany in a speech accepting his new term of office and voicing the federation's aims.

"We can look around with some satisfaction at the record of the trade union movement," Meany said. "We see good contracts, we see good wages."

But, he added: "We have a great deal of work to do for all the little people of America. There are still too many people in America who are not sharing in the prosperity of this great nation. There are too many people who are suffering from poverty, the lack of education and disease."

EDUCATION FUNDS

The convention passed resolutions Monday recommending $10 billion more in federal funds for education, pledging to help wipe out discrimination in all areas of American life and to work politically in the 1966 elections to reelect labor's friends in Congress.

A resolution to invite James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union, Harry Bridges International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the United Mineworkers and all other unaffiliated unions into the AFL-CIO was pigeonholed without a murmur of dissent.

Texas Area Rains Spread

By The Associated Press

Rains dampened widespread reaches of South Texas today and clouds generally kept the state's temperatures at a higher level than Monday.

The front containing the showers became stationary during the night in extreme South Texas but spread on the outer edges from Corpus Christi to Laredo and into North Central Texas.

The Weather Bureau said the showers should spread into much of Central and East Texas today while continuing in deep South Texas.

By tonight, the Texas Panhandle should be colder with light snow included in the forecast.

Temperatures were mainly in the 40s and 30s over the western third of the state and in the 50s and 60s over Central and East Texas. The only noticeable change forecast is for slightly colder temperatures in Northwest Texas by morning.

Early today readings varied from 33 degrees at Dalhart to 71 at Corpus Christi.

Santa's Copter Guided By Radar

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A helicopter which takes Santa Claus to shopping centers would have been unable to make its flight last weekend because of poor visibility.

Several hundred children were waiting at a shopping center across town from the Municipal Airport. So the Federal Aviation Agency came to their aid by using radar to guide the helicopter to its destination.

Firms To Design Johnson Library

AUSTIN (AP)—Architectural firms in Austin and New York City will design and supervise construction of the Lyndon B. Johnson Library at the University of Texas.

W. W. Heath, chairman of the University's board of regents, announced Monday the selection of the firms of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill of New York and Brooks, Barr, Graeber and White of Austin.

"Their record achievement in design is such that we are confident they will develop a building worthy of a national archive which will lend great distinction to the University," he said.

Heath and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson personally inspected a number of buildings designed by Gordon Bunshaft, partner and chief designer of the New York firm.

Heath said selection of a site would be made after the architects had studied available locations and made recommendations to the regents.

Bunshaft and Max Brooks, partner in the Austin firm, were classmates at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Austin firm has been the University's consulting architect for the past three years. It designed the new federal center in Austin and was associated with design of the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City and the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston.

Board Gives No Sympathy To Suspended Girl

IRVING, Tex., (AP) — A high school girl, ordered to trim her bangs so her eyes are visible, got no sympathy from the Irving School Board Monday night.

Vicki Norman, 15, a ninth-grade student at Irving's MacArthur High School, was suspended Friday for a three-day period and ordered to cut her hair by Principal Arthur Casey.

"That cut me very deeply," Vicki said of her emotions — not her hair.

Principal Casey had called in seven girls to suggest they trim their blinding bangs or face suspension. Vicki refused and was suspended.

Her mother, Nell Norman, told the school board she felt the girl was being harrassed.

The board listened politely, made no comment, and then went on to other subjects.

Lack Of Production Of Leaders Claimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner says the United States desperately needs national leaders but isn't doing anything to produce them.

In fact, he says, there is an "antileadership vaccine" being used to immunize "a high proportion of our most gifted young people against any tendencies to leadership."

In an essay written while he was still president of the Carnegie Corp. of New York and published Monday, Gardner said:

"The academic world appears to be approaching a point at which everyone will want to educate the technical expert who advises the leader, or the intellectual who stands off and criticizes the leader, but no one will want to educate the leader himself."

Elaborating on this in an interview today, Gardner said, "The colleges and universities ought to honor what they say in their catalogs and from the commencement platforms.

"They say they are training leaders, but they are only paying lip service to the idea. If they lived by what they say, I'd be satisfied.

"Every professional field ought to assure that some small fraction of their best men would move toward positions of leadership, and be encouraged to do so. But this doesn't happen.

"College faculties, for instance, are traditionally critical of college presidents, but they do nothing to encourage their best young people to aspire to administrative positions of leadership."

In his essay, Gardner said that contrary to the popular notion, there is no "power elite" or "establishment" making the big national decisions. Instead, he said, national leadership is fragmented into many fields.

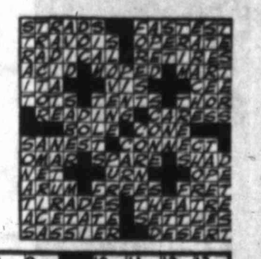

In the interview, Gardner said he did not think there should be a "national establishment."

Council To Buy ROW

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Colorado City Council passed an ordinance Monday night providing for the acquisition of right-of-way by the State of Texas for an extension of State Highway 208 to Interstate 20 and agreeing that the city is liable for half of the cost.

Mitchell County will share half of the city's cost in acquiring the right-of-way, which is slightly more than a mile.

In other action, council received a financial report from the Colorado City Flying Service which leases city - county airstrip. The city's contract calls for two per cent of all profits above $4,400. The flying service enclosed a check for $5 for its 1965 payment.

Council reappointed Wayne Griffin and Luke Thomas to two-year terms on the Colorado City Housing Authority.

Council voted to table ordinances on airport zoning for further study. Zoning will limit the heights of towers and buildings that could be built at the end on the city - county airstrip.

Suit Asks For $10,750

A damage suit for $10,750 has been filed in 118th District Court against Texas Electric Service Co. and Cecil Hamilton. The plaintiff is G. B. Putman.

The suit alleges that on May 1, Putman was engaged in training a young horse in a pasture in this county. He claims that Hamilton was an employe of the Texas Electric Service Co. at the time, flying his airplane along highlines and right of ways.

Putman alleges that on the occasion described, Hamilton "deviated" from his regular course, passing over the trainer and his horse. The plane, Putman alleges, frightened the horse with the result the animal jerked suddenly. The inman alleges, caused serious injuries.

Putman asks $10,000 for his own injuries and $750 for the damage to the horse.

Colorado City Shooting Brings Charges On Two

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Two Mitchell County men were charged with assault following a shooting in downtown Colorado City Sunday afternoon, resulting in a slight injury to Joe Valdez, 25, of Sweetwater. Valdez was struck in the left thumb by a small caliber pistol bullet.

Manuel Chavez, 21, Loraine, and Johnny Selvera, 18, of Colorado City, were charged with assault following their arrest on Colorado City's East Hill about an hour and a half after the shooting.

Valdez returned to Sweetwater before reporting the shooting. He told Sweetwater police that he and a companion, Manuel Garcia Adames of Sweetwater, were first fired on in the Sands, a Latin-American district in the northwest edge of Colorado City. A few minutes later on US 80 in the downtown area, more shots were fired at them, he said; one of the bullets striking him in the thumb.

Sweetwater police called Colorado City and the arrests were made by Colorado City police, the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department, and Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger.

Police Chief Leon Yeager said that the car driven by Valdez was struck several times in the rear and left side by bullets. Police are holding a .22 caliber revolver, believed to be the weapon used. Valdez told Sweetwater police that he and Adames were unarmed.

Chavez and Selvera were accompanied by Moises Garcia Jr., Catarino Lujon and Tommie Castillo. No charges were filed against Garcia, Lujon and Castillo.

Chavez and Selvera are being held in the Mitchell County jail. Bond was set at $2,500.

Vandals Break Glass At YMCA

Two instances of vandalism were reported to police Monday.

Almost $220 worth of glass was broken in the YMCA, Curt Mullins, general secretary, told officers. Glass was broken in three large sliding glass doors on the northwest corner of the structure, and three windows on the west side of the building were smashed, officers said. Indications were rocks were thrown against the doors and windows.

Lester Morton told police windows in the First National Bank's drive-in booths were damaged. Officers surmised gravel had been hurled against them, causing several small breaks in the glass.

Teague Expects Early Okay On New Bill For GI Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Olin E. Teague, the father of the GI Bill of Rights for Korean War veterans, predicted today early approval of a new bill which would grant similar benefits to American fighting men in Viet Nam.

Teague, a Texas Democrat who heads the House Veterans' Affairs Committee, said in a telephone interview from Waxahachie, Tex., he expected Congress to pass by the end of February a bill extending education and home-buying benefits to veterans of more than 180 days' active duty since 1955.

Such a bill already has been approved by the Senate.

EASE OBJECTIONS

He said he hopes the Johnson administration will retreat from its opposition to the measure when his committee resumes hearings next month on the measure.

"There is reason to believe they have changed their views," Teague added, noting that conferences have been under way in Washington to ease administration objections. "We want to try to pass something they can live with," he said.

Explaining why the administration opposes the bill, Teague said: "Money is the whole thing." He estimated the bill would cost several hundred million dollars in the first year.

IMPORTS

not aware of any illness that has resulted from use of water-filled "ice balls" imported from Hong Kong which it says contain potentially harmful bacteria.

As of now, it said in a statement Monday night, action toward banning sale or seeking withdrawal from the market of the plastic novelties used to cool drinks is up to states or localities.

Such action has been taken in the District of Columbia and several states, including Maryland, Nevada, Washington, Indiana and Pennsylvania. Some cities took similar action.

Analyses by State Health Departments in Wisconsin and Arkansas turned up the bacteria — staphylococcus aureus and pseudomonas species — in the water inside the ice balls, the Health Service said.

In Indianapolis, the Indiana State Board of Health warned health departments to look out for water-filled teething rings which it said may be more dangerous than the ice balls.

"The teething rings which we have found on sale in Indianapolis scare us to death," said Frank E. Fisher, director of the board's Food and Drug Division. "A baby a few months old has no immunity to such things as typhoid fever, against which many adults have been innoculated."

Fisher said laboratory tests to determine whether the teething rings contain dangerous organisms would be completed later today or Wednesday.

Sanity Hearings Being Held Today

No county court session was held Tuesday morning because Judge Lee Porter and County Attorney Dee Jon Davis had to be at the Big Spring State Hospital for the regular December sanity hearings.

This afternoon, Katherine James, accused of selling liquor without a permit, was slated to go on trial.

A second case scheduled for today — a charge of DWLS against Edward Smith — was dismissed by the state. Davis said that the testimony available to the state was too weak to merit going to court.

Cases slated for Wednesday include:

George L. Rice, DWI; Arthur M. Gruber, DWI; Perry Marvin Thurman, DWI; George Solomon Ingram, DWI; Carlos Martinez Franco, theft.

Social Security Claimants Must Have Proof Of Age

Erven Fisher, Big Spring Social Security district manager, announced that policies for establishing age for Social Security purposes have undergone significant changes recently and that from now on, people applying for Social Security benefits will have to provide evidence recorded as near to birth as possible.

The reason for this change is a special study which showed that older evidence of age than that previously used is generally available, and when used, it increased accuracy by some 18 per cent, and in early two-thirds of these cases it benefited the claimant.

The revised policies are already in effect, Fisher said, and people who are approaching retirement age should start taking the necessary steps now to write and obtain evidence of age recorded as near to birth as possible, if they do not already have it.

The revised policies require that the date of birth be based on a birth, baptismal or other public record established before an individual's fifth birthday. Where such record is not available, date of birth may be based on two (2) pieces of evidence recorded or established as close as possible to the individual's eleventh birthday.

Fisher pointed out that merely stating that the earlier evidence is not available is not enough. This must be investigated by the person, by writing letters or presenting a statement from the custodian of the records to the effect that there is no record.

The Social Security office in Big Spring and the representative who visits Colorado City, Lamesa, Snyder and Stanton will discuss this with everyone. There are forms which can be used to secure birth, census and school records and will be able to advise people on what they need to do, Fisher said.

A person applying for Social Security benefits has the responsibility of presenting satisfactory evidence to establish his right to these benefits. There may be charges connected with obtaining such things as birth records or census records and the individual must bear the cost of them, Fisher said. The Social Security Administration does not charge for its services. Information and forms are available upon request. The Big Spring Social Security Office is located at 1009 Gregg.

Scout District Has 'Wanted' Sign For 31

The Lone Star district has out the wanted sign for at least 31 boys to become Cubs, Scouts or Explorers before the end of the year.

"We don't want to stop at that," said William S. Crooker Jr., district chairman of the organization and extension, "but we do need 31 boys in order to reach our goals for the year. Our district has a good chance to be the first in the Buffalo Trail Council to reach its goal if we can."

If every unit in the district will enlist at least one boy between now and the end of the year, the goal will be met with room to spare.

As of the first of this week, this district had 664 Cubs (boys 8-9-10) enrolled, or 21 short of the goal for the year. There were 652 Boy Scouts, which is 12 over the objective, and there were 208 Explorers, which is 22 below the goal.

The current membership of 1,524 has exceeded the total for the same date a year ago, said Crooker.

Evidence Of Season Put Up

Christmas is upon us. It has entertwined its spirit everywhere, including city hall and the police station.

Several city employes were plugging in lights in the lobby of city hall this morning, and an eight-foot tree was having its snow, made appropriately enough from cotton, circled around its base.

"What kind of tree is that," a reporter queried. "A Christmas tree," replied an employe. the tree is a full - branched Scotch Pine, and it will remain in the lobby for all officials, to see during the holidays.

At the police station, on the entry - way bulletin board, is a "Wanted" poster, with two smiling gentlemen in prison array beaming upon the tiled foyer. Happy cons? No, the picture is one of another city's police chief and assistant police chief, and the writing says they want a "Merry Christmas" for everyone.

Land Banks To Mark Birthday

As a service to farmers and ranchers, the Federal Land Bank Association of Lamesa will join in a national program of public information keyed to the 50th anniversary of the Federal Land Bank System. The Lamesa Association will help carry out the program to make all Americans aware of the importance of agriculture.

H. M. Fitzhugh, assistant manager of the local association, said that large segments of the country's population, such as city dwellers, factory workers and the like, are not aware of the vital part which agricultural people take in adding to the basic strength of the nation.

Fitzhugh noted that the numerous meetings, commemorative activities and special anniversary events will get under way in the coming months, leading up the nation-wide 50th anniversary in 1967. The 12 Federal Land Banks were established in 1917 under the Farm Loan Act.

Metal Stolen, Police Told

About $175 worth of sheet lead and brass was stolen from John Tucker, 1606 Lancaster, he told officers Monday. The sheet lead, about 25-30 feet long, 25 brass plumbing ferrules and 30 pounds of junk brass were in the rear of his home, Tucker said.

Pablo Bryand, 816½ W. 8th, told police 13 dimes were taken from a wedding ring box and his home was ransacked between 2 p.m. Monday and 1:30 a.m. today.

Meat, milk, ice cream, beer, clothing and jewelry were found scattered over the home by officers, who said they found footprints of small boys tracked throughout the house.

Choir Takes Extra Bows

A near capacity house should have conveyed the message to the Howard County Junior College choir Monday evening of how the community feels about their work. The 40-voice group under direction of Gary Ebensberger, drew generous applause throughout the program at the college auditorium and Ebensburger had to take some extra bows with his group and accompanist, Harland Thornton, at the end of the offerings.

The choir showed the effects of greater depth in numbers as well as training and hard work, for in general the performance was good to excellent.

Two soloists, Cynthia Pond, who not only did well but showed much potential, and Marilyn Lawson, who reflected the maturity and strength that improved on her fine showing last year, got vigorous applause. Miss Pond was accompanied by Merry Lee Dibrell, and Miss Lawson by Mr. Thornton.

The opening number, "Fanfare for Christmas," was all the more striking by reason of a brass quartet. Among the selections of the first portion which seemed to bring out the best of the choir were "Cantate Domino," "Sons of Eve, Reward My Tidings," and a series of three Christmas hymns, none done quite so beautifully as "It Came upon a Midnight Clear."

"The Holy Infant's Lullaby," unique in its harmonics, was well done and well received, but the audience relished the "Carol of the Drum." The choir was tremendously effective on this interpretation.

It is difficult to single out any group, but the sopranos were in exceptionally fine voice. The young singers were at their best in the soft, delicate registers and the rich, resonant passages, and of peak quality on high, strong swells. Based on the showing, the choir could be outstanding by the time it completes its year's work.

Color was added by the sets provided by Hemphill Wells, and G. W. Shelley, and by the luminaries put out by the Spanish Club around the circular drive leading to the auditorium. Most of all, however, were the lovely blue evening dresses, many of them made by the young ladies themselves. Miss Dibrell took the scraps to make pocket handkerchiefs for all the men in the choir.

AF Ends 68-Day Simulated Space Trip

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — While Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. orbited toward a record of 14 days in space, four Air Force officers Monday ended a 68-day simulated space trip testing helium for possible future space cabin use.

Each of the four was decorated with the Air Force Commendation Medal as he emerged smilingly from a space chamber at the School of Aerospace Medicine, Brooks Air Force Base.

Col. Harold V. Ellingson praised their "distinctive contribution to the national space program."

The men entered the cylindrical space chamber Oct. 4, and Oct. 13 "went up" from the familiar atmosphere of about 20 per cent oxygen and 80 per cent nitrogen to an atmosphere of 70 per cent oxygen and 30 per cent helium at about a third sea-level pressure.

Five days ago they returned to ground level conditions, but remained in the chamber for comparison studies.

Their first ordinary food in two months came half an hour before they left the chamber-a fried egg sandwich and some orange juice.

SPECIAL DIET

"It was unbelievably good," exclaimed Lt. Richard P. Sessler, Syracuse, N.Y.

Asked how they liked the space chamber diet of bite-size freeze-dehydrated food supplemented by a liquid similar to a vanilla milkshake, the four laughed and said that was a "very sore subject."

The men were reported in excellent health and morale.

In addition to Sessler, they were Capts. Roger C. Gall of San Francisco, Lawrence A. Smulczenski of West Mifflin, Pa., and Robert J. Till Jr. of Bangor, Maine.

They are Strategic Air Command aircrew members and were selected from 250 volunteers.

TV Show Heartening In Disheartening Times

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At a time when men are fighting, when international bullies are abroad in the world and when self-doubt is endemic, ABC came up with a heartening and reassuring television program. "In Search of Man" Monday night was an hour's tribute to the good guys, to men of good will, the builders, the creators and the believers.

True, it was a pretty large assignment for only 60 minutes and sometimes it seemed the show was racing to get everything in as we were zipped from prehistoric cave drawings to men walking in space.

The narration by Van Heflin was skillfully written but with a slight tendency to get high-flown. But it was an hour of tranquility and good feeling. As the program insisted, mankind may have its faults, but we're not all bad.

NBC's Huntley-Brinkley news show Monday night produced a startling film shot in a Viet Nam field hospital while a badly wounded Marine colonel was being given first aid and, between gasps of pain, described the action in which he had been hurt.

The network censors wisely permitted the colonel's strong language to remain on the sound track. It vividly illustrated the dreadful aspects of that faraway war, further underlined when Chet Huntley said the colonel's leg had been amputated.

On the warm and happy side was Andy Williams' Christmas program, also on NBC. For the fourth year, Williams was joined by his three brothers for a song session, and at the end by the whole Williams family including the star's parents.

Opening lead: Jack of ♣

A pessimistic attitude was an essential ingredient to South's campaign in today's hand. Only by anticipating everything that could go wrong was he able to take the steps necessary to protect his four-heart contract from an upset.

West opened the jack of clubs and, when the dummy was spread, South feared that he had underbid, for if the cards divided favorably he might score 12 tricks with ease. At such moments, the smart player is well advised to take time to consider whether there is any distribution of the cards that might threaten the more modest commitment he has undertaken to fulfill.

South observed that, if East held the king of clubs and if the ace of spades was located in the West hand behind his king, there was a risk of losing three tricks in those suits. Finally, if the trumps were divided three-one, h.. might also lose to the queen of hearts.

In order to protect himself against every adversity, it was necessary to keep East out of the lead, so that declarer's king of spades was not subject to attack. As an initial step, South played the six of clubs from dummy at trick one and the seven from his hand, permitting West to hold the lead with the jack. The club continuation was taken by South's ace.

A heart was led to the king and the jack was returned from the dummy. East followed with the seven and South played the eight. West showed out and, on the next lead, East's queen was picked up. Declarer ran five diamond tricks, discarding two spades from his hand, and then he conceded a spade to the opposition—claiming an overtrick on the deal.

Observe that declarer's heart play was taken not with the primary intention of finessing for the queen, but rather to assure his contract. Even if it develops that West has the doubleton queen of hearts and wins the trick, he cannot profitably attack South's spade holding. The defense is limited to one club, one heart, and one spade for, when declarer regains the lead, he can discard two of his spades on the dummy's diamonds.

Hearing On Discount Rate Hike Resumes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The problem of how to control a speeding economy in wartime has emerged as a key issue in a congressional probe of the Federal Reserve Board's decision to raise interest rates.

The Senate-House Economic Committee resumes the inquiry today after getting into a discussion of possible other weapons against inflation. Board members have cited the danger of inflation as a major reason for the board's action raising the discount rate, the basic element in determining interest rates on money lent by the Federal Reserve to banks, from 4 to 4½ per cent.

Some of these other anti-inflation weapons, mentioned Monday in day-long questioning of the board's chairman, William McChesney Martin Jr., and four of the other six board members, were controls on consumer time payments or tightening reserve requirements on certain kinds of high-interest bank deposits.

The committee had planned to take today off but Martin was asked to return when the committee finished Monday's lengthy session with several members still waiting to ask more questions.

He refused to say whether the board has any further actions in mind that would affect interest rates, arguing that he can never make predictions without setting off disturbances in the money market.

Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., told Martin he has only one remedy for financial disturbances — higher interest. Martin retorted that Patman has only one answer — lower interest.

J. C. Wall Joins SCS Unit Here As Conservationist

J. C. Wall, formerly of Snyder, has joined the work unit here for the Martin - Howard Soil Conservation District.

He has been assigned as a trainee in soil conservation, said J. J. Waller, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

This area is not new for Wall, for he was reared in Snyder, obtained his degree in agricultural education in 1950 at Texas Tech. He taught vocational agriculture in a vocational school in Knox County, then later at Ira school. More recently, he has been handling insurance through the Farm Bureau agency in Snyder.

He is married to the former Dorothy Davis of Snyder, and they have two sons, Rodney and Reagan, and two daughters, Twylia and Kimberley. They likely will join him here at midterm.

Lost Peace Corps Trainees Turn Up

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Eight Peace Corps trainees lost in the Manzano Mountains of central New Mexico came through because "these are bright and resourceful people."

That was the way the four men and four women were described by Dr. David Benedetti, head of the Peace Corps Center at the University of New Mexico.

They were found Monday after five days in rain and snow and subfreezing temperatures—at one time down to 15 degrees. Dr. Benedetti sent them back to class today. They are in their ninth week of training to be volunteers in Chile.

"There are no exceptions made," said Jane Whitmore, 25, of Manhasset, N.Y., one of the lost trainees.

SPIRITS HIGH

The eight trainees, between the ages of 21 and 28, kept their spirits high — even though they were lost almost from the beginning of a hike across rough mountain terrain nearly 9,000 feet high.

They ran out of food Monday morning, finishing up a breakfast of dehydrated ham and eggs. It was 12 hours until their next meal, hamburgers and hot coffee at Albuquerque.

An organized search was started Sunday after they failed to arrive at their destination on the fourth day, but the hunt was almost entirely on the opposite side of the Manzano Mountains.

ARE IDENTIFIED

The trainees were Mike Mitchell, 21, Bronx, N.Y.; Tom Jacobs, 23, Columbus, Ohio; Bruce McCracken, 25, Wellesley Hills, Mass.; Lindsay West, 28, Hurst, Tex.; Judy Johnson, 21, Pleasantville, N.Y.; Sue Selbin, 22, St. Paul, Minn.; Bill Pastreich, 24, New York, and Miss Whitmore.

The group walked to a locked ranch house on the west side of the Manzanos Monday, near from where they started.

They waited outside for help, hungrily eyeing some turkeys in the farmyard, McCracken said.

After three hours, a ground unit of the search party passed by and carried them to Albuquerque where they resume their Peace Corps training today.

HCJC Plans Ready For Asking Bids

Only final approval by the Federal Home and Housing Finance Agency remains as a barrier to setting a bid date for two buildings at Howard County Junior College.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, told the board Monday he anticipated this should be received within about two weeks. Previously the agency had given tentative approval.

Sets of plans and specifications for the two buildings, which may cost $700,000 or more, have been received and were scanned by board members. There will be a one-story new library unit and a two-story new science unit. Both are plotted for easy future expansion. Alternate plans for electrical refrigeration are being prepared and will be handled as an addendum. Original plans envisioned air conditioning with a gas-operated system.

The punch list on the field house, undertaken jointly by the Big Spring School District and HCJC, has not been completed, hence the college has not been billed for its share of the improvement, said Dr. Hunt. He said that some sound proofing materials for the music building had been ordered and may be installed during the holidays.

The board received with obvious pleasure a report that HCJC has again been fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges, which means that all work here is transferable in its field to any other college or university in the country.

Approval was given the borrowing of $10,000 for the auto mechanics and body repair MDTA classes. It is fully reimbursible.

An increment of $10 a year will be added to faculty members' scale with the start of the 1966-67 school year, the board voted.

Financial report for November showed receipts of $125,649, including $124,234 in current taxes, bringing the total for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 to $314,804. This leaves $313,002 to come up to budget estimates. With $120,067 expected from current taxes and $123,830 more due from the state, there appears little doubt that the receipts will be achieved or exceeded.

For the month general administrative expense amounted to $3,612 (making $10,759 for three months), general operating expenses $1,690 ($19,825), instructional $30,312 ($89,433), library $3,148 ($6,980), maintenance $7,486 ($22,077), auxiliary activities $499 ($975), athletics $6,396 ($47,698), capital outlay $1,469 ($5,924). Total expenses for the three - month period stand at $164,368.

Launch Plan Is Conditional

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A sun-orbiting satellite will be launched on schedule early Wednesday only if the Gemini 6 launching is postponed, the space agency says.

G. Merritt Preston, deputy director of launch operations for the Kennedy Space Center, said tracking stations along the Air Force eastern test range would not be able to support both launches in such a short period.

The Pioneer 6 satellite tentatively is scheduled to blast off between 1:45 and 2:15 a.m. (EST) to study charastics of the sun, the region between the sun's atmosphere and interstellar space and magnetic fields.

Resigning D. A. Hits Court, Code

HOUSTON (AP)—Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe, who is expected to run for Congress after his resignation becomes effective Jan. 21, has taken sharp slaps at the U.S. Supreme Court and Texas' new code of criminal procedure.

Houston police solve only one of every four serious crimes, but the ratio will drop to one in 10 after the new code becomes law Jan. 1, Briscoe told the Houston Crime Commission Monday.

"As a practical matter," Briscoe said, "the new code will prevent police from questioning suspects. It will be a direct factor in preventing police from solving crimes."

New 'Selected Force' To Be Ready On Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of the National Guard Bureau predicted today that the new 150,000-man "selected force" of Army National Guardsmen and Reservists will be fully ready to back up the regular Army for crisis duty by June 30.

"There is no question in my mind that we are going to meet the eight-week goal by June 30," Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson said in an interview.

Wilson referred to the objective of having the "selected force" in shape to deploy within eight weeks of mobilization.

This could be significant from the point of view of how the selected force might fit into any long-range military buildup plans of the Defense Department related to the growing war in South Viet Nam.

GUARD, RESERVE

Composition of the force was announced on Oct. 13. It comprises 119,000 men from the National Guard and about 31,000 from the Reserve.

The heart of the selected force is made up of three Guard divisions and six independent brigades.

Wilson told The Associated Press that Guard units in the selected force are already built up to more than 97 per cent of their combat strength. This has been done by absorbing volunteers from lower-priority units in the Guard and from the Reserve.

Builders of the selected force have tried wherever possible to draw into its ranks trained men who have seen at least two years of active military duty.

All 50 states now are conducting expanded training for their selected force units. This represents about 24 hours of drills a month.

WEEKEND TRAINING

Some states, Wilson said, are combining these periods into three-day weekend training which permits field exercises.

The Guard Bureau is in the process of shifting equipment from low-priority, understrength units to the selected force elements to give them the required level of gear for training.

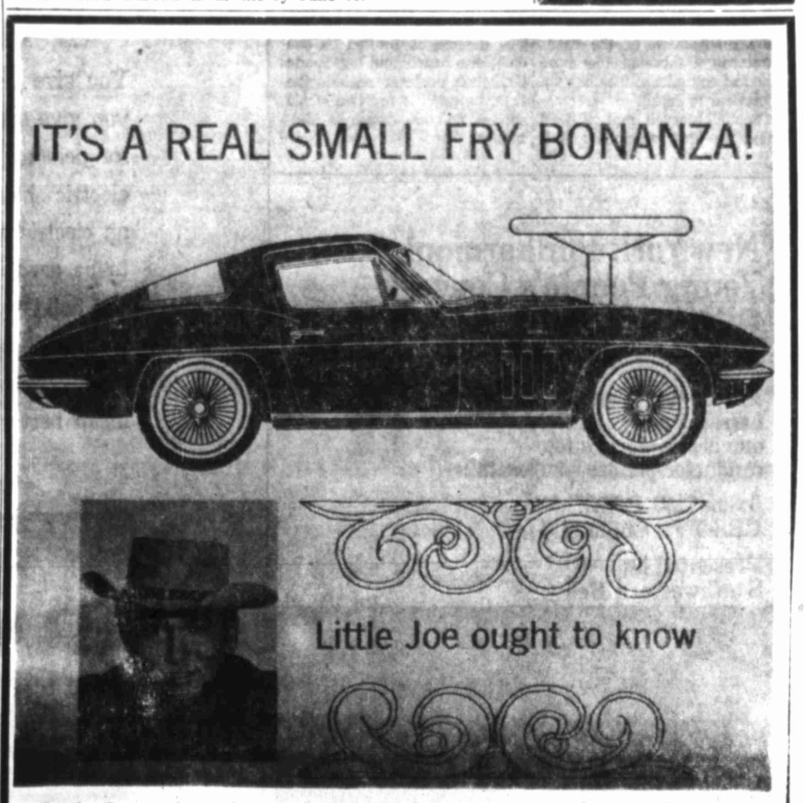

For the first time, Guard units will undergo their annual field training starting in the winter, rather than waiting for the traditional summer training period.

Some units will be taking two weeks of annual training as early as February, and the whole selected force is expected to have that training under its belt by June 30.

Japan Boat Feared Lost In Sea Storm

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese fishing boat manned by a crew of 24 was reported missing and feared lost today in stormy seas near the Soviet-occupied northern Kuriles.

The Maritime Safety Agency said the 298-ton Eiyo Maru radioed Monday afternoon she was taking water and her crewmen were about to abandon the ship.

Search by four Japanese vessels nearby failed to locate the ship or any life raft, an agency spokesman said. Two Japanese patrol ships were sent to join in the search.

Commissioners Give Themselves A Present

Howard County Commissioners gave themselves a sort of Christmas gift at their meeting Monday.

They voted to cancel their Thursday morning meetings and meet only on Monday of each week.

No one could remember just how it happened that the court had fallen into the habit of meeting Monday morning and coming back Thursday morning. The uselessness of this plan has been discussed on numerous occasions.

Monday the commissioners took the bull by the horns and cancelled out the Thursday meetings.

Simon Terrazas, one of the commissioners, pointed out, "We can meet on Monday and stay on into Monday afternoon if there is any business to require it. Or, if something comes up of importance, we can have a called meeting on any day in the week."

Lee Porter, county judge, said that the court has been holding the two-a-week sessions for several years.

"The law," he points out, "sets only the requirement the court meet on the second Monday in each month. Of course, in a county like this, one meeting is enough to take care of the business. I've never thought there was any need for the two meetings each week."

Porter said all three of the commissioners — Terrazas, L. J. Davidson and R. C. Nichols — voted for the abolition of the extra meeting.

South Plains And Panhandle Due Snowfall

By The Associated Press

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast snow over the Texas Panhandle and South Plains Tuesday as rains dampened widespread areas of Texas.

The slow moving cold front which caused the prediction of snow approached the Panhandle from the north and was expected to cause continued rains in East, South Central Texas and North Central portions.

However, the cold front was not expected to drop temperatures much below the overnight lows. The minimum early Tuesday was 28 degrees at Dalhart.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. included Laredo .18 inch, Victoria 1.27, San Antonio .38, Galveston .65, Beaumont .64, Cotulla .93, Palacios .70, College Station .39 and Lufkin .58.

Old Landmark, Memphis Hotel, On Auction

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Hotel Peabody, a Memphis landmark for 96 years, was to go on the auction block today to the strains of Dixieland jazz.

A price of at least $2.3 million was expected to satisfy mortgage and tax claims against the hotel, owned since 1953 by the Alcon Corp., of Chicago, owner of the Alsonett hotel chain.

A Dixieland band was on hand for the auction on the courthouse steps.

The couple has a daughter, Tracey, 4, and another adopted son, Mark, 5.

Kiwanians Play Santa Thursday

Christmas will come Thursday noon for 121 boys and girls who live in the Westside Park area.

They range in age from 2 to 11 years and come from families in the area who are in the low income bracket. The visit of Santa to these 121 kids is arranged by the Big Spring Kiwanians. Each Kiwanian has been given the names, age and sex of two kids and instructed to purchase a toy for each. Not more than $2 will be spent on any gift.

In addition to the Kiwanis enterprise, the American Business Club provides candy and fruit which is placed in mesh bags by the United Churchwomen.

At noon Thursday, the Kiwanis Club will meet at the Westside Park Community Building with their 121 special guests.

Wives of club members, under the guidance of Mrs. Delaine Crawford, will be busy tomorrow preparing a mountain of sandwiches and cookies. Cold drinks will be provided by the club.

The club members and their little guests will dine at the Community House. When lunch-eon is over, there will be an interval of carol singing. Santa Claus will then make his appearance and the gifts, which will be piled about the Christmas tree, will be distributed to the 121 boys and girls. Each youngster will also receive a sack of fruit and candy.

Kiwanians are asked to bring their gift packages to the office of Horace Reagan, across the street south from the post office by Thursday morning. They will be taken to the Community House from there.

The Kiwanis Club obtains the names of needy youngsters from the social worker who is assigned to the Westside Park.

Jim Thompson is chairman of this year's party.

Kiwanians have been hosts to these annual parties at the park for nearly 20 years.

A Devotional For The Day

"I am the root and the offspring of David, the bright morning star." (Revelation 22:16, RSV)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, who art all brightness, may Thy searching light shine into our hearts. Then we shall know how far we have sailed in the wrong direction. Help us to find the true course and to journey on, looking to Jesus as our guiding star. In His holy name we pray as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Firmly In Control

The Russian Communist Party leadership appears to have solved one of the most delicate problems of authoritarian rule: Providing for the transfer of authority without an internal explosion.

Twice within 14 months the party has shaken up its hierarchy without precipitating either a crisis or a revolution. The first was the removal of Nikita S. Khrushchev as premier 14 months ago. Then during the past week, the last old Bolshevik in power within the party, Anastas I. Mikoyan, stepped down as chief of state.

Nikolai V. Podgorny, a Ukrainian, succeeded Mikoyan as chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet. At the same time Alexander N. Shelepin, a rising star in the Communist firmament, was downgraded by removing him as vice premier and chairman of the now defunct party-state control committee, supervisor of the internal security machinery.

Undisturbed in this reshuffling of power were Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Leonid I. Brezhnev, first secretary of the Soviet Communist Party, two offices which Khrushchev once held simultaneously.

The dust apparently has settled in Russia. There can be no serious argument any longer that the Communist Party is not, at least for now, completely the master of Soviet Russia.

Battle For Clean Air

The Western Oil and Gas Association is fighting a losing battle asking the courts to enjoin the enforcement of regulations which prohibit the burning of fuel oil in the Los Angeles area. The attack is on the state's air pollution control act of 1947 which sets up smog control districts with power to regulate air pollution.

The association conceivably can overturn the state law. Even so it can hope to do no more than delay the enforcement of stricter anti-pollution by the state or by the federal government. Air pollution has become a matter of urgent concern to people in many parts of the United States.

Concern at the federal level has been expressed this year by the Clean Air Act passed by Congress. This is warning enough to the states that if they do not act the federal government will, strengthening by amendment, as needed, the Clean Air Act.

Terrifying smog has visited many of our cities in recent years, including Los Angeles, New York and St. Louis. It has been blamed for aggravating severely respiratory diseases, sometimes causing death, for eye irritations and for damage to plants and metal structures.

Contamination of the air by internal combustion engines, by power plants and incinerators, the chief culprits, must be reduced to acceptable levels. For we have even come to the point that some scientists have begun to worry about the capacity of our atmosphere to absorb the growing wastes which we discharge into the air. It is no longer far fetched to say that our very environment may be in danger.

Around The Rim

Second Childhood

Do little kids really like these complicated toys they will be getting this Christmas?

Some require a short course in electronics to operate, and even the simpler forms may involve computer calculations.

WHAT I SUSPECT is—the fathers of the little kids are fascinated by these gorgeous devices and want a chance to fiddle with them. Obviously, a grownup man with a brief case under his arm and a responsible job, cannot be caught operating a super-duper space rocket or jet disintegration gun without a reasonable excuse.

What more reasonable excuse is there than the father has bought the device, not for himself, but for Junior?

ACTUALLY JUNIOR would prefer something a lot simpler—like a little red wagon with rubber-tired wheels, fr'instance. Alas, it doesn't matter what Junior wants if Papa wants to try his hand with the space rocket.

Years ago, when life was much simpler, there were certain more well-to-do youngsters in my community who were given train sets for Christmas. The kid may have liked very much to have a hand at operating the train set. Unfortunately, Dad also liked to run the train. Until he had become weary of the pastime, the real owner of the gadget could only sit and look on. Usually by the time Pops had finished "showing son how the thing worked" he had broken something. The result was that the kid ended with a disabled train which would only operate if you pulled it with a string.

LITTLE GIRLS, too, used to be victimized by older folk who gave them lovely shut-eye dolls.

I know a case in which a little girl was handed a gorgeous doll on Christmas morning—a doll that had golden curls, blue eyes which opened and shut. It also had shoes which could be taken off and put on. And the doll was dressed in a fancy gown.

The little girl was delighted.

What she didn't know was that the oldsters had plans for that doll. It was taken away and hung on the wall in its box. The little girl was told not to play with it but to "enjoy" looking at it.

SIMILARLY I know a lot of fathers who have a heck of a time making their sons go with them to see a circus when it comes to town.

"But, Pop," pleads the kid, "I don't want to go to the circus—I don't like circuses."

"Oh come off it," replies Dad," of course you like the circus—you love the clowns, the acrobats and the animals."

The kid begins to blubber.

"I don't like 'em," he says, between sobs. "I hate 'em."

WHEREUPON THE need for paternal discipline takes over.

"Well, it doesn't matter whether you like a circus or not," sternly proclaims Pops, "You're going. All red-blooded American kids like circuses. I am not going to have a namby-pamby son. So get on your feet and let's go. Otherwise, we'll miss the grand entry."

So they go. And Dad has a heck of a good time.

Marquis Childs

From Moscow, Louder Talk

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union's new propaganda offensive against the United States is being used in varying tones of threat and hope by all those forces around the world which are declaring that we must in one way or another abandon South Viet Nam to Communist invasion.

IT HAS, in consequence, stirred some anxiety among those responsible for the strictly political and diplomatic aspects of U.S. policy. Undeniably, it has to some extent freshly armed those here and abroad who clamor for "negotiations" with the North Vietnamese aggressors and an end to American bombing even though North Viet Nam continues to scorn any honorable negotiation and continues to make quite plain that a suspension of bombing would not change its mind.

THUS, THE NET of it is that Moscow's renewed screeching has to some not precisely measurable degree injured the purposes of the United States and equivalently strengthened the hand of the North Vietnamese. To that degree also the Russians have knuckled under to prolonged pressure from their Chinese rivals for the leadership of world Communism and so agreed to "do something" in behalf of North Viet Nam's effort to bring the famous blessings of garrison Communism to South Viet Nam.

IF THE POSITION for the United States in diplomatic terms is damaged, however, there is the soundest of cause for the backers of the war or resistance in Viet Nam not to be thrown into flapping distress. For — and this is the core of it all — the highest military authorities of the United States are not in the least alarmed by Moscow's new verbal push.

They see this whole business — including the small announced rise in the Russian military budget which was trumpeted coincident with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin's interview with The New York Times — as meaning that the Soviet Union is now willing to spend rhetoric against us but is by no means looking for trouble in the sphere of action as distinguished from the arena of words.

AS TO THE announced 5 per cent boost in the Soviet military budget, the people who ought to know the most are the least worried — that is, the Pentagon. In the first place, it may be only a bookkeeping increase intended to dramatize Kosygin's tougher talk. But even if it is a genuine increase it is, ironically, calculated more to diversify than to harden the total Soviet military establishment.

It looks, in a word, that the Russians have decided to go through a military evolution which the United States started under the Eisenhower administration and has pushed through the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. Here, that evolution meant the adoption of a greater variety of weapons at the expense of maintaining intact a more nearly monolithic weapons system thought to have become a bit out of date.

AT THE TOPMOST levels among the military here, the really significant factor to be deducted from Kosygin's interview is not some actual hardening of the Soviet intentions but rather simply the shrillness of his tone. He is protesting so much as to suggest that apart from verbally submitting, in part, to China's tougher line he is speaking in inner fear that the allied position in South Viet Nam, for the first time, really threatens the Communist invaders.

The historical fact is that every time a so-called "war of liberation" has begun to go against Communist arms, Moscow's talk has got harsher — while its actions have become more cautious.

Interview With Kennedy Historian

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. had a room at the top, or near it, as special assistant to President John F. Kennedy. Now he has another room at the top, an office on the third floor of an old three-story building here.

There in 14 months, turning out on his working days 2,000 to 4,000 words a day, he wrote his best-selling, 1,087-page book — "A Thousand Days" — on the Kennedy administration. It has been criticized for revealing too much; it has been highly praised.

FOR YEARS it probably will remain the best book on the Kennedy days. It is not the final word; he didn't pretend it was. It is not totally objective, far from it. It bulges with adoration of Kennedy. But Schlesinger frankly said in his first sentence the book was a personal memoir.

Schlesinger, 48, is one of the most readable historians this country has produced. His books are full of people moving with events or causing them. In 1945 he won the Pulitzer Prize for his "Age of Jackson." In the 1950s he turned out three superb books on the New Deal.

Now he expects to finish that job over the next 8 to 10 years with three or four more books on the New Deal period. They will be full of people, too. How did he come to write that way? What goes into shaping an historian? Asked those questions in an interview, he gave these answers:

G. A. HENTY'S romantic histories for boys began his interest in history. The first big influence was his father, Arthur M. Schlesinger Sr., a distinguished historian who recently died at 77. From his father he got the realization of constant change in history and that it was "something more than past politics."

These were some of the other influences, all historians except one:

Francis Parkman (1823-1893) — "I was entranced by his narrative skill." Charles Beard (1874-1948) — "His interpretations stimulated me," although Schlesinger thinks, in general, they were wrong. Henry Adams (1838-1918) — "He had one absolutely indispensable quality for an historian — the gift of irony." And Reinhold Niebuhr, Protestant theologian and writer still alive — Schlesinger found in him the "relationship of the hero in history, the individual against determinism."

Redskin Birth Rate High

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Paleface, beware: The U.S. Indian population has risen from 240,000 in 1900 to more than 525,000. Their birthrate is nearly double that of the rest of the country—22.4 per 100,000. At this rate the Indians may take over America again — in 1,000 years.

If science were able to build a machine to duplicate the functioning of a housewife's three-pound human brain, it would be about the size of the Empire State Building—and require as much power as Niagara Falls produces to operate it.

NURSES HAD it tougher in the previous century. In addition to washing patients, they were also expected to wash the hospital windows at least once a week.

U.S. universities graduated 4,314 Ph. Ds in the sciences in 1951 and turned out 7,597 last year.

College no longer can be described as a four-year loaf on father's dough. Studies show that 65 per cent of American college men work to pay at least part of their educational expenses.

Safety hint: There is no doubt that it is more dangerous to drive on Saturday and Sunday. Insurance statistics in 1964 disclosed that almost half of all traffic disasters occurred on weekends.

IF A TRUCK driver approaching you holds up his fingers in the old V-for-victory signal, you'd better brake your speed. That's his friendly way of letting you know police are up ahead.

A new camera for missile tests has been developed that is so sensitive it can pick up the flight of a baseball batted 15 miles away.

Quips from our contemporaries: Definition of a consultant: "A man who borrows your watch and tells you what time it is"—Catholic Digest.

The name Potomac for the river which flows past the nation's capital, comes from an Algonquin Indian term meaning "trading place"—a bit of history which politicians who still trade votes there probably never knew.

It was Josh Billings who observed, "The trouble with most folks isn't so much their ignorance, as knowing so many things that ain't so."

Kiss Me, Stupid

WASHINGTON — A Florida dentist named Dr. Doran D. Zimmer has discovered after a five-year research program that cavities can be caused by kissing. The results of his studies, which were financed by a grant from the United States Public Health Service, has thrown the dental profession into a tizzy and could change the kissing habits of the country.

It is too early to know what effect the results will have on kissing in the United States, but a spot survey I made over the weekend shows that people are really worried about it.

I CALLED my own dentist and asked him if it was okay to continue kissing now that the scientific facts had been established.

He replied, "It's all right to go ahead providing you brush your teeth before and after each kiss."

I pointed out that this might cause some consternation in the circles I travel in.

"It's your teeth," he said, "and all I can do is warn you of the consequences."

"Is there anything else I can do?"

"THE ESKIMOS rub noses and their teeth are excellent. Have you ever thought of that?"

"I did once, but I caught a cold," I said.

After I hung up, I called a teenage daughter of a friend of mine and asked if the kids had been affected by the news.

"We had an experiment in our class," she said. "Half the kids necked and the other half didn't, and the half that didn't had 25 per cent fewer cavities than the kids that did."

"WELL, THERE'S a lot to be said, then, for not kissing," I told her. "The kids that didn't neck didn't have to go to the dentist and that must have saved their parents a lot of money."

"Not really. Because the kids that didn't neck had to go to psychiatrists instead."

I made another call to a toothpaste manufacturer who said that as soon as the news broke his research people got on it right away.

"WE'RE WORKING on a new toothpaste for people who kiss a lot but can only brush once a day. It's called 'Lust' and the minute your teeth come in contact with another person's teeth it kills all the germs in both your mouths."

"It sounds like a breakthrough," I said excitedly.

"We're very high on it. Our entire advertising campaign next year is going to be to fight 'smooch decay.'"

I finally called someone connected with the government and asked if they were going to propose any legislation to prohibit kissing in the United States.

"WE CAN'T STOP Americans from kissing," he said, "but we think the government should at least warn people what they're getting into."

"Is there any truth to the rumor that the government will demand warning labels on perfumes that induce kissing?" I asked him.

"It's being considered. We would prefer to find something to add to the drinking water which could protect everybody. But so far we haven't come up with anything, so we'll have to stick with an educational campaign. We believe that people who have been kissing for years won't be able to stop. But perhaps those who are just starting out will realize the damage it can do to their teeth and will take up cigarette smoking instead."

Billy Graham

I have a daughter-in-law who incessantly tries to prejudice her children against me, their grandmother. I have gone out of my way to change this picture — I have kept the entire family for months when they were in financial straits. But all to no avail. I love my grandchildren, but what can I do to change this? J.F.

I wouldn't try too hard! These situations develop in families, and not knowing all the circumstances, I couldn't make a proper judgment. Sometimes there are tensions between in-laws because of rivalry for the children's affections. The mother sometimes sees that the children love their grandmother very much, and she bids to be "first" in their affections, or vice versa.

It would be a mistake for the children to become conscious of this rivalry. They need love from parents and grandparents, and if they become aware that there is a contest going on, it would upset them and cause them to wonder about the sincerity of both parents and grandparents.

Love, Christian love, is the answer to this problem. The Bible says, "Love never faileth." Change from a rivalry "for love," to a rivalry "of love." You display love, both for the children, and your daughter-in-law. One can fight against rivalry, against partiality, and against envy — but it is difficult to fight against a Christ-like love. Let the words, "Love never fails," be seen in your life, and this problem will be resolved in due time.

What To Do For A Vomiting Child

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Today's remarks are in response to a number of inquiries about what to do for a child who has an attack of vomiting.

My comments will in large degree apply to adults, too, but severe vomiting, particularly when accompanied by diarrhea, can be quickly dangerous for an infant or small child. The loss of fluids and minerals, plus fever if it is present, can lead to acidosis, and prompt steps must be taken to alleviate the condition.

In adults, vomiting can result from various causes—appendicitis, intestinal obstruction, kidney colic, pregnancy, gall bladder disease, viral infections (often called "intestinal flu"). Naturally such other symptoms as may be present should be noted, to indicate whether the situation involves some serious underlying cause, or is a transient intestinal upset. In children, viral infection, appendicitis or intestinal obstruction are causes.

For the uncomplicated cases of vomiting, one of the simplest remedies, yet often highly effective, is a half teaspoon of table salt, dissolved in three ounces of water, or a bit less than half a cup.

The dose is one tablespoonful of this solution taken by mouth every 20 to 30 minutes. It can be surprisingly helpful.

Along with it, sipping carbonated drinks (ginger ale is excellent) not only helps to settle the stomach but replaces fluid that has been lost. The sugar (not present in the one-calorie beverages) also affords some nutrition.

As the nausea subsides, salty broths or soups supply fluid, minerals that have been lost, and nourishment. Fluids also can be given in the form of fruit juice, or the sucking of ice chips. Candy, if tolerated, will, like the fruit juice, provide sugar to combat acidosis.

(Acidosis in a child can be recognized by listnessness and fruity odor of the breath.)

Once the child can start solid foods again, crackers, toast, soft egg, apple sauce, custard, milk and juices in small amounts, but taken frequently, restore strength, nutrition and mineral and protein balance.

Most children, sometime or other, experience an attack of vomiting. Usually the foregoing suggestions put an end to it.

But if the vomiting persists, don't wait too long, particularly if you detect the signs of acidosis. Extreme loss of fluids and minerals can rather quickly become a serious matter.

There are, to be sure, more sophisticated medicines and injections to control vomiting. They aren't usually found in a family medicine chest, but your doctor will have them available if you need them.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there an illness known as gout of the ear? How is it treated? Mrs. J. T.

I presume that you mean the little chalky deposits which sometimes occur in the rim of the ear. These are called tophi.

Gout, basically, results when the body accumulates chemicals of the uric acid family instead of discharging them. The consequence is pain in joints—the big toe most often, but other joints, too.

In advanced cases, uric deposits can occur elsewhere, the ear being a frequent spot. However, these little lumps can be a cosmetic nuisance and may ulcerate. The best thing to do is to take your gout medication regularly and avoid departures from such diet restrictions as your doctor has stipulated. This will minimize or (as is so often the case now, with modern medications) prevent painful attacks in the joints.

Bob Kennedy And Internal Revenue

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service has a morale problem. At first glance the reason seems to be Senator Ed Long (D., Mo.) — but on a closer second look it also turns out to be Senator Bob Kennedy (D., N.Y.).

Long is feeling the bad effects in his home state, where the newspapers are giving him a hard time. Kennedy will feel it over a larger area — to the detriment of his campaign for a presidential image.

SENATOR LONG'S investigation of snooping into the private lives of citizens got off to a flying start when he found that a number of federal agencies were using wire-tap, mail coverage and two-way mirrors for evidence - gathering. But he pitched too much of his case against the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Several of his key witnesses turned out to be crooks and disgruntled ex-agents whose testimony against the tax-collecting agency looked like a personal peeve at getting caught.

BUT A CERTAIN amount of damage had been done. Some of the agents who'd testified under the kleig lights, and who'd admitted to tossing aside the rule book in getting evidence against underworld characters, received crackpot phone calls about their "gestapo" tactics. They and their wives were threatened and abused. On top of that, they got chewed out by their bosses for being over-zealous.

"Our agents will be less gung-ho after all this," an IRS official declared. "They'll feel less free in trying to crack their cases. It's been bad for morale."

SOME AGENTS, as the story unwinds, were expecting help from a powerful figure who started the big crackdown on crime a few years ago but who now has other fish to fry. Bob Kennedy, former Attorney General, launched the Organized Crime Drive, as he called it, and demanded help from investigative units outside his own Justice Department.

"We got the idea that Bobby wanted results, and didn't much care how results were obtained. He wasn't the head of our department, but he let us understand that if he himself didn't have authority, his brother at the White House did. The agents went to work. They landed a lot of convictions. They wonder why Bobby did not stand up for them when they got into trouble with Senator Long's investigation."

BOB KENNEDY, possibly the best organizational politician of our time, seems to lack something of the touch for personal politics. He won't get many votes from the 60,000 employes of Internal Revenue.

Political railbirds, who watch future presidential races through the binoculars of experience, report that Bob Kennedy is making a lot of early mistakes that will hurt him later.

IRRITATION

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Neuritis is one of the most painful, nerve-racking experiences known to man. The pain is boring and stabbing. The victim is unable to get any rest or sleep. Every movement means suffering. There is loss of power and feeling.

A local inflammation of a nerve is called simple neuritis. It is localized in one spot and is usually caused by pressure on a nerve at a point of exit from the spine. Pressure on a nerve near the surface of the body, such as the shoulder or elbow, will result in numbness and tingling.

Repeated constriction and pressure may result in inflammation of the affected nerve. The nerve sheath or neurolemma may squeeze the sensitive nerve fibers and form adhesions. This will aggravate the neuritis and develop in a chronic stage. Blows, falls, contusions and long exposure to cold will result in a similar way. The spine should be checked in ALL cases.

If you are still suffering from a similar condition or discomfort, have your spine checked at the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic — across from Piggly Wiggly, AM 3-3324, as this woman did:

This woman complained of pains in the left leg (Sciatic nerve), left arm, shoulder and neck. Extremely nervous with headaches in the right temple, gas bloat and constipation complicated by insomnia from her aches and pains. Now, after correction of her spinal nerves, she enjoys freedom from her pains and aches. No. 2173. You can have the same health when your spinal nerves are freed from nerve root irritation.

Dodge's Rebellion Starts New Car-Buying Trends

The big rebellion started recently in "breaking habits" over the country is the Dodge Rebellion.

People are demanding more power in their cars, more size in their cars and more newness in their cars, and they want compacts that are not so small they're mistaken for insects. Dodge is giving them what they want.

A lot of the new Dodges for 1966 are down at the Jones Motor Co., 201 Gregg, and people are inspecting them, and driving them — especially drivers who have had a yen for a Dodge for some time. The inspecting public, young and old, are wondering if they haven't been missing something after hearing new-Dodge owners talk about performance, service and warranty, and they are coming in to see for themselves.

Jones Motor Co. has one of every model in the 1966 line, and sales managers at 1501 W. 4th and 201 Gregg are inviting all and sundry to go by one of their lots, or the show room, and become convinced that the Dodge "yen" is really a rebellion among the motoring public.

What does the Dodge line offer you? The Monaco is the style leader of the Dodge Rebellion. This leader, including the Monaco 500, is available in four - door hardtops, two - door hardtops, four-door sedans, in a choice variety of colors, color combinations and upholsteries.

What's next? The Polara, that's what. Nine new models for 1966 are in the Polara line, with all V-8 power; Coronet '66 with four beautiful series and 12 models; Dart '66, the "Man-Sized Compact," with mucho spunk and sizzle, the lowest-priced Dodge (but not a cheap, "junked-up" car by a country mile) of all in the three series and 10 models.

Station wagon lovers, and needers, will find gorgeous, yet practical wagons in Monaco, two in Polara, three in the Coronet line and two Darts — and as though that weren't enough, in addition, there are two others, the Sportsman and Custom Sportsman.

What makes these new Dodges move? Power. For Monaco—Polara, a 383 cubic-inch V-8 (two-barrel carburetion); 383 cubic-inch V-8 (four-barrel carbs) at extra cost, and 440 cubic-inch V-8 (four-barrel) option at extra cost; Coronet—225-inch six (one-barrel carb.); 318 inch V-8 (two-barrel) optional for all models; 361 cubic inch V-8 (two-barrel) option for all V-8 models; 383-inch V-8 (four barrel) on all V-8 models requiring premium fuel; Dart Series—170-inch six (single-barrel) standard on all six-cylinder models; 225 six (single - barrel); 272 V-8 (four-barrel) optional on eight-cylinder models for premium fuel.

Anyything else different about Dodge? Yes. Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the power-train parts of its 1966 cars for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first.

Cactus Paints Designed For Westex Residences

Don't look now, but with the coming of the holidays it is a sign that it is only a few months until spring, 1966, blooms out, winds step up their gusty intensity, and more and more sand storms hurl more and more dust pounding against your home's paint. Will the paint you now have on your home stand it? Or not?

If you look in the near future and discover paint beginning to crack or peel or looking "dingy," it should be time to make it look more like some of the flowers soon to sprout forth after winter's trial onslaught, and the only way to get that "brand-new" look is with a new coating of Cactus paint.

Cactus, a local industry which has for years helped the booming economy of Big Spring and the area with its superior products, makes paints for homes, both interior and exterior, business buildings — all uses — made to stand up under the extremes of West Texas weather conditions, including the biting dust storms.

A huge amount of testing and analyzing goes into the mill before any Cactus paint is placed on the market, and all products must meet extraordinarily high standards before Cactus Paint Co. approves them for their many uses.

If you need a paint to paint a room to match the remainder of the house where the finish is still adequate, a Cactus job will give you exactly what you want. If you need a color not shown on the color cards or charts, or if it is one of your own choosing, Cactus men can help you. Fact is, they can help you with any painting difficulty you may have, no matter how perplexing.

Honda Cycle Is Listed As World's Best Seller

"You Meet the Nicest People on a Honda," is the motto of American Honda Motor Co. The A-1 Cycle Shop, at 3103 US 80 west is the area dealer for the Japanese motorcycles, and has been for the past eight months and more.

Honda cycles have been sold all over West Texas, including a lot of business right here at home, especially among men at Webb Air Force Base.

Honda's are listed as the world's best sellers, and no wonder — engines are all four cycle, some with dual carburetors and electric push-button starters, and the smallest models will get up to 200 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Doc Young Music To Host Concert

Doc Young Music Co. will host a Christmas concert at the store, 910 E. 4th, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Performing on the Wurlitzer Concert Organ will be Mrs. Donald M. Richardson, Mrs. L. B. Thomas accompanying on the piano.

Jim Stevens will be the featured singer. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Richardson are the pianist and organist at the College Baptist Church, and are mother and daughter. Stevens is College Baptist Church musical director.

First portion of the concert will consist of varied popular songs — including "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "Frosty, the Snowman," "Silver Bells," "Winter Wonderland," "Deck the Halls," "White Christmas" and "Santa Claus is Comin' to Town."

Second portion of the free concert is set to include many familiar Christmas hymns, Stevens as vocalist.

Doc Young Music Co. urges all Big Springers to come to the concert, for some fine music will be heard — Mrs. Richardson is a member of Big Spring Piano Forum, and is a music teacher (her class presently numbers 30); Mrs. Thomas knows her music too, for she is in the sales department of Doc Young Music Co., which features Wurlitzer instruments, for more than 100 years makers of fine musical instruments.

Wurlitzer's standards for materials, craftsmanship and product development have served as examples for the entire music industry, and Doc Young Music Co. has a complete selection of Wurlitzer pianos, Wurlitzer organs — even Wurlitzer solid state stereophonic record-players. Wurlitzer is the world's largest builder of pianos and organs. The company produces more than 50 pianos in basic furniture styles and in a variety of mahogany, cherry, walnut, maple and oak woods.

Doc Young Music Co. wants everyone to see and appreciate the outstanding response and superior tonal quality of Wurlitzer instruments, and a good opportunity to do so is offered at the Thursday concert at the store. Those attending the concert will hardly fail to take notice, too, of the lasting beauty that is a built-in part of every Wurlitzer instrument, a beauty that will remain perfect for many Christmases to come.

Steers Host Lubbock In 8 O'Clock Joust

Big Spring seeks revenge here at 8 o'clock tonight against Lubbock High School, a team that upended the Steers, 55-53, Nov. 26.

Both teams have come a long way since that time. The Steers are 8-4 for the season and are fresh from a tournament sweep at Snyder.

Lubbock High, coached by Max O'Banion, boasts a magnificent 8-1 record and in its last start upset highly rated Pampa High School, 48-35. Earlier the Westerners had defeated Amarillo Caprock in a conference joust, 42-38.

This will be the final warmup for the Longhorns until they open District 2-AAAA play against Midland Lee a week from tonight.

Pampa is one of the four teams to hold a victory over the Steers and the only foe who has beaten the locals decisively.

Over the season, the Longhorns have scored a total of 674 points for a 56.2 average while holding the opposition to 570 points and a 47.5 average.

Simon Terrazas leads the locals in point - getting with 161 points, only one more than tall Paul Thomas. Robert Jackson is a close third, with 133. Then comes Joe Jaure, with 83; Robert Jones, 57; Paul Soldan, 40; Bobby Griffin, 24; Robert Green, 8; and Russ Kimble, 6.

Coach Allen Simpson will probably go with a lineup consisting of Thomas at center, Terrazas and Jackson in the forecourts and Jaure and Green backside.

Don Burrell, 6-2 senior, and Bill Green, 6-5 senior, lead the Westerners in scoring with 11.5-point averages. Then comes Wesley Verner, 6-1 junior, who has averaged an even ten points.

Others who will probably start for the visitors are Jimmy Poe, 5-9; and Nello Armstrong, 6-6.

B teams of the two schools square off at 6:15 p.m.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

WILLIAM CHAPIN, San Francisco writer:

"The idea that God is partisan, that He can be relied on to help our side and confound the enemy side, is an idea shared all over the world by athletes and by soldiers and, very frequently, by national leaders. It is an idea not limited to the Judeo-Christian God. Other Gods serve the same partisan purpose. Athletes may have fire in their eyes, but before the crucial contest they kneel as a team in solemn prayer—because the good Lord may give them that extra edge so essential to victory. The spiritual lift that defies defeat. At least, an appeal to Him can't do any harm . . . President Lyndon Johnson acknowledged the existence of a Being superior to himself by enlisting God in his administration, and by calling for a national day of prayer for anti-Communist forces fighting in Viet Nam. The notion of a partisan God, however, is not subscribed to by all of us. It seems presumptious, and a trifle arrogant, to think that God is going to be your own private resource, is going to be a kind of silent partner on your team, just because your team is the more deserving. Why should God bother? If we're all supposed to be His children, then why should He play favorites? Why should He risk His reputation by taking sides in anything as silly as an athletic contest or as wasteful as a war? . . ."

"Between you and me, the Detroit Lions management is allowing a ridiculous situation on the club in which a Detroit newsman hasn't dared enter the dressing room for a month since he was threatened by that old pen pal Joe Don Looney."

CHARLES McCABE, San Francisco columnist:

"Another of those obscenities which defy ridicule was held in Las Vegas recently. They still call it the heavyweight championship of the world. It was between Muhammad Ali and Floyd Patterson, better known as the grim contender. As you know, Clay won. Like Adoph Hitler and Jack The Ripper, it would have been better all around if this baby had never been born. The whole thing was enough to make the stones weep. Compared with it, Little Egypt in the '90's and Sally Rand in the '30's were high art. Beside it, Eddie Fisher looks good. In the palmiest days of Gorgeous George, and his pansy pantomine, 'rasslin,' even, produced nothing like it. It was the nadir, as they say in show biz . . . Since there are no heavyweights who can fight (as far as anyone knows) we may expect religion in these dubious 15-round deliberations . . . It will be hard to top Patterson's fears of Clay's assassination in the ring at the hands of a fanatical opponent of Black Muslim tenets . . . Clay has billed himself as a religious savior in the class of Jesus Christ, and Mohammed himself . . ."

GENE MAUCH, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies:

Linksters Say They Wouldn't Like A Timer

NEW YORK (AP) — A gold-plated panel of professional golfers, headed by millionaire Arnold Palmer, agreed today they don't want a stop watch put on them while they ply their delicate trade.

"It would be ridiculous to put a time limit on the time a fellow can take to make a shot," said Palmer. "It would make a travesty of the game."

Palmer and other members of golf's 1965 All-America discussed tournament golf's major headache — a tendency toward snail's-pace play — at a press conference prior to a dinner honoring the top shot makers picked by Golf Magazine.

With Palmer, cited for long irons, were Tony Lema, short irons; Dave Marr, pitching wedge; Sam Snead, sand wedge, and Billy Casper, putter. Jack Nicklaus, named the best driver for the second straight year, missed the session but attended the dinner. Gene Littler, middle irons, was grounded on the West Coast and Gary Player, fairway woods, was unable to make the trip from his home in Johannesburg, South Africa.

The group as a whole praised the new U.S. Golf Association rule which demands removal of the flagstick only when the ball is on the green but dissented from two experimental local option measures dealing with action on the green.

One of the rules limits the marking of the ball to one time. Another demands that a player continue to putt out without marking the ball unless he stands in the line of his opponent's putt.

"The pros would never go for those rules," said Marr, the PGA champion. "For instance, in the Bing Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach sand can blow against the ball between putts. No one should putt with sand against the ball."

Lema, the former British Open champion, said he believed increased slow play could be attributed to the bigger purses.

"In one tournament last year (Carling's World, which he won), I had $18,000 riding on the last two holes," Lema said. "Nobody's going to tell me I have to speed up with that kind of money staring me in the face."

"You don't waste or save time on the greens," insisted Palmer. "Only a few seconds are required to mark the ball. The time is taken up somewhere else.

"I think we need more officials on the course to make instantaneous rules decisions and prod players who are dawdling."

Archer's Backers Say Decision Hurt

BOSTON (AP) — "We were taken," protested Jimmy Archer Monday night after Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, successfully defended his American middleweight title against Joey Archer.

"One judge (Harry Sundberg) gave my brother only one round," said the older Archer, who now handles his brother. "It was impossible to give just one round to my brother in that fight."

That also was the opinion of many veteran ringside observers who agreed with the vote of referee Jimmy McCarron.

Jimmy Archer said he would protest the decision to the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

Fullmer, fifth-ranking middleweight according to the World Boxing Association, retained his regional crown with a split 12-round decision over the second-ranked Archer at Boston Garden. Both fighters weighed in at the limit — 160 pounds.

McCarron voted for Archer 117-115. Sundberg voted for Fullmer 119-114 and judge Alexander Scioli gave Fullmer the nod 117-114.

Sundberg gave Archer only the sixth round. Sciolo gave Archer the first, the third and the sixth and McCarron gave Archer four rounds.

The Associated Press card had Archer on top 117-115 under the 10-point "must" scoring system.

Many in the crowd of 4,208 paid were satisfied with the decision, backing Fullmer because Archer didn't stand and fight.

Of more interest to the crowd, which produced a net of only $13,000, was a four-round exhibition between two recently retired ring greats, Sugar Ray Robinson and Willie Pep.

The pair, escorted into the ring by a host of former boxers, including seven world champions, were presented trophies as "great men of the ring" from New England boxing fans.

Then featherweight Pep and Robinson, who held the welter and middleweight crowns and once fought for the light heavy title, clowned their way through the exhibition to the delight of the crowd.

Fullmer pressed the fight most of the way, trying his hardest to counterpunch or otherwise break through the guard of the elusive Archer. But Archer kept his quick left jab in Fullmer's face throughout the fight and kept Fullmer off balance and unable to land solid blows.

SUCCEEDS BAILEY

Rains Is New BSGA Prexy

Bernard Rains, a teacher in the local public school system and a long-time advocate of the sport, has been elected president of the Big Spring Golf Association.

Rains, who has won numerous links championships here in the past, takes office Jan. 1 and will serve for a year. He succeeds Charles Bailey.

Other officers named by the association include Marvin Williams, vice president; and Jimmy Newsom, secretary. Armando Torres formerly served as vice president while Bill Patton was the secretary.

The present officers served for about 18 months, during which time about 15 tournaments were staged, including two "grand" tournaments.

The association now has 115 members. One of the objectives of the organization, which uses the Muny course as a base of operations, will be the construction of a new clubhouse.

BERNARD RAINS

Rains teamed with Al Kloven last September to win the annual Big Spring Invitational Golf championship.

Packers Can Sew Up NFL Divisional Title Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — It takes a math major to figure out all the permutations and combinations in the National Football League's Western race but Green Bay can make it simple by winning Sunday at San Francisco.

Baltimore also can win it outright if it can beat or tie Los Angeles Saturday and Green Bay loses on Sunday.

The only chance for Chicago to get into a tie situation is for the top two teams to lose.

Here are the tie possibilities:

(A)
Green Bay loses 10-4
Chicago wins 10-4
Baltimore loses

(B)
Green Bay ties 10-3-1
Baltimore wins 10-3-1

The championship game will be played in the home park of the Western champion Jan. 2 with the Cleveland Browns as the visitors and defending champions.

The tight second-place races in both conferences heighten interest in the Playoff Bowl at Miami, Jan. 9. Each player on a winning team in the Miami game gets $1,200 and each loser $500. In addition, each second-place team member will get about $1,000 as his cut of the championship game.

The New York Giants-Dallas game Sunday at Yankee Stadium will decide the Eastern second-place team. The Giants, leading by a game, can assure themselves of a trip to the Orange Bowl by beating or tying the Cowboys. If Dallas whips the Giants, the Cowboys will go on the strength of two victories over New York.

In the West, either Baltimore or Green Bay is the likely runner-up. Chicago could get in if it ties with either team because the Bears never have played in the Miami game.

The American Football League will have a replay of the 1964 title game with Buffalo defending against San Diego. However, this time they will play at San Diego and the Chargers will have Lance Alworth in the line-up. Buffalo is the crippled team with its top receivers banged up but the meeting of Jack Kemp and John Hadl should provide top-flight football.

Dooley Is Given Sooner Backing

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The job of taking over Oklahoma's football team, spurned Monday by Texas Coach Darrell Royal, appeared to be up for bids today.

One of the favored contenders, Georgia Coach Vince Dooley, was expected to appear on the OU campus today to talk with Dr. George Cross, university president, and other school officials.

Cross said Monday night Dooley "is a likely candidate" for the job vacated by Gomer Jones last week on the heels of a 3-7 season.

Royal was the first choice of the school's Athletic Council for the post, but the former Sooner quarterback, terming it the "hardest decision I've ever had to make, announced he would remain at Texas.

Besides Dooley, Southern Methodist University assistant coach Chuck Curtis is to appear for an interview. Curtis, saying he was "aggressively" seeking the post, related Monday night he has been invited to appear on the OU campus Wednesday morning for an interview.

Others believed high on the list of those under consideration by a nine-man screening committee are Army's Paul Dietzel and Colorado's Eddie Crowder, another former Sooner quarterback.

However Dietzel, when contacted late Monday at West Point, said "I haven't been contacted, and I don't expect to be."

Dr. Cross said Monday night he has hopes the coaching job will be filled by the end of the week. Jones, who served as an assistant under Bud Wilkinson for 17 years before taking over the post two years ago when Wilkinson resigned, will remain as athletic director.

When he announced plans to visit the university, Dooley said he had not received a definite offer but that the school "has made me an attractive initial offer" and that he was ready to discuss things with the school's officials.

Dr. Mark Johnson of Oklahoma City, vice president of the OU board of regents and a member of the screening committee, said Dooley was "the first one contacted" after Royal decided to stay at Texas.

Royal, who makes a base salary of $24,000 a year plus fringe benefits at Texas, reportedly turned down a promise of about $35,000 plus benefits at OU.

Dooley, 33, has four years remaining on his contract as head coach at Georgia at a base salary of $18,000 plus about $2,500 a year in additional benefits.

Gene Corum Out At W. Virginia

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — "When you get old, you get run down and a little tired," 44-year-old Gene Corum said after handing in his resignation as West Virginia University's head football coach.

"I haven't been satisfied with the success we've had. But I don't know what we could have done to do better.

"I thought a change would be better for everyone."

Corum compiled a mediocre 29-30-2 record in his five years as coach of the Mountaineers, but WVU President Paul Miller, in announcing the resignation Monday, said the won-lost record wasn't the university's primary concern.

Two Juniors Are Bison Honorees

STANTON—A couple of Stanton High School juniors have won football Player of the Year awards presented by the Big Spring Daily Herald.

The honored parties were quarterback Buddy Shanks, selected as Back of the Year, and guard Phillip Payne, named Lineman of the Year. They were recognized at the Monday night banquet honoring the Stanton team, staged by the Buffalo Booster Club.

Payne is a 170-pounder who gave 100 per cent in every Buffalo game the past season. Shanks has been described as "one of the finest backs I've ever coached" by Bill Milam, head mentor of the Bisons. He weighs 175 and is a passing wizard.

Stanton's hopes for a winning team in 1966 are brighter than they have been in years, mainly because both Payne and Shanks will be back.

Lamar Twice Rips Locals

Snyder Lamar twice winged Big Spring Runnels teams in basketball exhibitions here Monday night.

The Yearlings quintet return to action here Thursday evening against San Angelo Edison.

Lamar's ninth grade unit handed Runnels its first loss in seven starts, 53-37. Claud Tucker, the Yearling scoring ace, was held to 14 points, one of his lowest outputs of the year.

NOBIS SIGNS

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas linebacker Tommy Nobis signed a contract today with the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League.

PATTON FLYING TO PHILADELPHIA

Eagles Will Honor BS Coach Sunday

Cliff Patton, varsity football assistant at Big Spring High School, has been named to the all-time all-star squad of the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL and will be honored along with other former players at the Eagles' home game with Detroit Sunday.

The half-time program during the contest will be devoted to the introduction and interview of old-time Eagle stars. The entire program, along with the game, will be televised nationally.

Patton, who played his high school ball here and who now has a son in the local system, will catch a plane out of Fort Worth Saturday for Philadelphia.

Cliff is the greatest goal kicker in the history of the Philadelphia team. He performed with the club from 1946 until 1953. The Philadelphia club won two NFL titles in succession while he was with the team—in 1948 and again in 1949.

The Texan, who played his college ball at TCU and ACC, still holds the Philadelphia record for consecutive points after touchdown, having kicked 84. Counting exhibitions and championship contests, he had a string of 126 straight.

His longest field goal in a league game was 49 — against Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh in 1949. He booted two that day to help the Eagles post a 34-14 victory.

CLIFF PATTON

Against Baltimore in an exhibition game, however, he booted one 56 yards through the uprights.

Patton played a guard in Philadelphia's alignment and was on the same team with such all-time greats as Steve Van Buren, Pete Pihos, Tommy Thompson and Neil Armstrong.

All players who have worn Philadelphia uniforms from the year the club was founded, 1933, until the present time will be honor guests of the club.

In addition to Patton, members of the all-time, all-star Philadelphia team are:

Pete Retzlaff and Pihos, ends; Vic Sears and Al Wistert, tackles; Frank Kilroy, guard; Chuck Bednarick, center; Norm Van Brocklin, quarterback; Tommy McDonald and Timmy Brown, halfbacks; and Van Buren, fullback.

Greasy Neale was the coach during Patton's tenure with the club.

Retzlaff and Brown are still active with the club. McDonald is now performing with the Los Angeles Rams. Bednarick retired a couple of seasons back. Van Brocklin is now head coach of the Minnesota Vikings. The others have been out of pro ball for some time.

When Patton joined the team, Alexis Thompson was owner of the Eagles. He later sold out to 100 business men, however.

Cliff helped the Eagles win a divisional crown in 1947 but the team was beaten in the playoffs.

Dobbs' Optimism Given Acid Test This Year

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The effervescent optimism of Tulsa Coach Glenn Dobbs got perhaps its sternest football test this season — but Dobbs wavered only slightly.

The test came in the form of more than a dozen crippling injuries to key members of the Hurricane squad which, even without injuries, would have been considered thin by most standards.

Even as the Hurricane nears the zero hour for its date with Tennessee Saturday in the Bluebonnet Bowl, the playing status of five regulars is in question.

But Dobbs refuses to second-guess whether the team could have improved its 8-2 record without the injuries.

"Actually," it's been a combination of real bad luck followed by a most fortunate turn of events," he said. "We lost some boys we had counted on early in the season but we feel the boys who took their places performed remarkably well."

Before its first game, the Hurricane lost for the season three men who had been expected to start — defensive end Dan Pavlak, wingback Brent Roberts and safety Jimmy Hall. Hall, a speedster, also had been slated for offensive duty at tailback and flanker.

Tulsa's other top defensive end, Scott Schuhmann, ended his college career in November when he underwent knee surgery. He missed the final two games.

The No. 2 quarterback, Glenn Dobbs III, also was hurt in early drills and missed the entire season.

"We were just real fortunate that Billy Anderson was tough enough to stay in there at quarterback all year," Dobbs said.

When the team left here Monday for Houston, Dobbs was still uncertain about the condition of tight end Mark Maddox, defensive tackles Willie Towns and Tom McGuire, linebacker Dwight Claxton and tailback Bob Daugherty.

Townes, McGuire, Claxton and Maddox are expected to start Saturday but coaches are worried about their effectiveness. All were held out of prebowl scrimmage sessions.

Daugherty, the team's top running threat and a valuable blocker, probably will see very little action, if any, because of a deep leg laceration suffered last Friday night in a traffic accident.

It was a crushing blow for the big tailback, who refused to let an off-season knee operation keep him from playing this year even after doctors expressed little hope the knee would heal fast enough.

"We won't know about Bob until Saturday," Dobbs said. "Although it's doubtful, he's fooled a lot of people, including some fine doctors, in order to play as much as he has this season. You just can't tell about a guy like that."

Both reserve tailbacks also have bothersome injuries, senior Ken Parsons a sprained wrist and sophomore Gary McDermott a pulled hamstring muscle.

Reserves have performed brilliantly in most cases.

"We have made it a point never to complain or cry about injuries," Dobbs said. "They're just a part of the game and you have to accept them and make adjustments."

Baseball Out At Cee City

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Colorado City School Board affirmed Monday night a decision made in November to drop baseball from the school's program of interscholastic competition. The decision was made because of scheduling difficulties.

Colorado City, in District 5AA, had no spring competition in the district and was not able to fill a full baseball schedule with non-conference foes.

The November decision had stirred objection from parents and baseball fans, and local automobile dealer Frank Deregibus presented the school board with a petition signed by over 650 people, asking the board to reverse its decision.

Board members expressed regret at the necessity of dropping baseball but felt that it was impractical to continue under present conditions.

Any further action on baseball was tabled until the present situation changes.

"We'd like to keep baseball if it were feasible," said school board president Bill Carter. "If other district schools decide to field teams or if we were placed in a district with schools that play, I'm sure the board will want to go back into baseball."

In other action, the school board heard a report from Frank Wilson, superintendent of schools, concerning the school's participation in the elementary and secondary act of 1965. Wilson said that he had hoped state and federal funds would be available for use beginning with the spring semester.

The board asked Wilson to prepare a report on dropouts and truants for its January meeting and told him to use legal means, if necessary, to keep school children in school.

Excitement High Over Title Go

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — The football fever is so high in Odessa that eight men camped out Monday night to wait for the ticket sales to open at 2 p.m. today for the schoolboy football finals game.

Permian of Odessa meets San Antonio Lee for the championship in Class AAAA Saturday in San Angelo.

The men brought a lantern with them and planned a shift change to allow for eating.

January Verdict

NEW YORK (AP) — American Olympic officials will decide at Chicago on Jan. 15 which American cities will be put in the bidding for the 1972 Summer and Winter Olympic Games, an officer of the U.S. Olympic Association said Monday.

Tom Matte Will Guide Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tom Matte, who hasn't played a full game at quarterback since his collegiate days at Ohio State in 1960, will direct the Baltimore Colts in their do-or-die battle against the Los Angeles Rams Saturday.

Matte, a halfback during five National Football League seasons, takes over as Baltimore's No. 1 quarterback following disabling injuries to John Unitas and Gary Cuozzo.

JOBS! JOBS! JOBS!

During the next two or three weeks our office will receive many new job orders from employers in Big Spring seeking qualified applicants to fill their job openings for the new year. We have a shortage at this time of applicants who are qualified for the positions available now, and other jobs that will be open in the very near future. We fill all types of positions from secretary to sales clerk, from accountant to truck driver; if you are seeking that first job or want to make a change, visit our office next week. We also work on a state and national basis. If you would like to relocate to another area, we are affiliated with other employment agencies in the state and the nation.

Buy this car for only $1681

Our original plan was to put a picture of our car in the space above. But then we reflected: our car doesn't really look like much at all.

So we decided to omit the picture but include these facts: The price above is our full delivered price, only license and local tax are additional. Our car has the best re-sale value in the world. It uses little gas, little oil and no anti-freeze at all. When it comes unstuck (which isn't often), it can be easily (and inexpensively) stuck together again.

Light Turnout Expected In Sooner Vote

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Pre-election voter apathy set the tone for an expected light turnout in today's special election on a bond issue providing funds for improvements and expansion of state colleges and other institutions.

Observers predicted that no more than 150,000 of the state's more than 1 million registered voters would cast ballots on state question 433, even though all voters are eligible to participate.

The vote was to decide the fate of $54.75 million in bonds that would, when coupled with federal matching funds, provide $85 million in capital improvements for state colleges, mental hospitals and other institutions and agencies.

In an election eve statement, Gov. Henry Bellmon gave his support to the proposal.

He said bonds will be retired from existing cigarette taxes and "no new taxes will be necessary . . ."

DR. G. C. TENNISON

REV. FRANK POLLARD

Missionary To Portugal On 1st Baptist Program

Missionary to a small but vigorious minority in Portugal, Dr. Grayson C. Tennison will address a meeting of the First Baptist Brotherhood at a ladies night meeting today at 6:45 p.m. The entire church family is invited to hear him at 7:30 p.m.

He is to be the featured speaker during the Christmas (Lottie Moon) mission offering season and one of the speakers during dedication week for the church's new plant.

Baptist missions in Portugal began as a grandchild of missionary work in Brazil, for Southern Baptists sent missionaries to Brazil, and Brazil sent missionaries to Portugal. Dr. Tennison fits into the pattern, for he served 10 years as a missionary in Brazil before going in 1959 to Portugal. There he has made himself ready for advice and encouragement as requested, for religious liberty is limited. Portugese Baptists number only 1,200, but the 1964 crusade resulted in 700 professions of faith in Christ.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., Rev. Frank Pollard, who served the church here in 1959-60 as associate pastor, will be the speaker on the topic, "Dedicated to Proclamation and Witness." A graduate of Texas A&M and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Rev. Pollard went from here to Seagraves and then more recently to the First Baptist Church in Dimmitt.

Yule Greetings Sent On Film

PORT HUENEME, Calif., (AP) — The cameras rolled as family after family paraded across the stage, talked briefly to Santa Claus, then turned to wave at the cameramen.

Most youngsters, asked what they wanted for Christmas, said: "Daddy."

They might not get daddy for Christmas, but daddy will get them — via the sound movie filmed by the U.S. Navy.

The filmed greetings from nearly 600 wives and children will be flown to Viet Nam where the dads, all Seabees from this base, will view it Christmas Day.

Pair Pays Fine On Assault Count

Two defendants entered guilty pleas Monday afternoon in Howard County Criminal Court.

R. E. Martin Sr. and R. E. Martin Jr., charged with aggravated assault, were fined $25 each, plus costs in the cases and each placed on 6 months probation.

Willard Ray Lane, charged with DWI, had his case passed for the term. It was shown he could not be tried at this time because his attorney is trying a case in district court.

Snow, Rain, Fog Cover Most Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Snow, rain or fog covered most of the country today.

Freezing drizzle chilled the New England coastal area during the early hours, coating streets and roads of greater Boston and Rhode Island, and extending into southern New Hampshire.

A widespread snowstorm deposited moderate cover over the central Rockies and Plains. Lander, Wyo., reported three inches of snow accumulation in six hours. Denver, Colo., and North Platte, Neb., had two inches, and there was an inch or so in the central mountain area.

Flurries, light snow and drizzle fell from the Great Lakes to New England.

Another weather disturbance over southern Texas and Louisiana produced rain.

In the Middle Atlantic and central Gulf coastal regions, travel was impeded by heavy nighttime fog. There was some light fog in upstate New York where drizzle was the rule.

Skies cleared on the West Coast after western Washington experienced the season's first snow Monday.

Electrical and phone repairmen still were busy restoring service for 3,400 families in southeastern North Dakota after a sleet storm snapped wires and downed about 2,500 poles in the Dakotas during the weekend.

Servicemen Gifts Wrapped By Pupils

DUMONT, N.J. (AP) — Some 280 high school pupils have finished wrapping 150,000 Christmas packages bound for American servicemen in South Viet Nam. The New Jersey American Legion, sponsor of the drive, has rasied $100,000 to finance the project.

College Petitions Back Viet Policy

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Students representing 17 Tennessee colleges and universities have presented Gov. Frank G. Clement petitions supporting U.S. policy in Viet Nam. The students asked Clement to forward the petitions to President Johnson.

Wife Of Singer Paul Robeson Dies

NEW YORK (AP)— Eslanda Robeson, 68, wife of Negro singer Paul Robeson, died Monday in a New York hospital after returning from a five-year self exile in Russia.

The Secret Pours Out

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — Joe Pantano and Helen Hench said they had planned to keep their wedding a secret for a while. But it just didn't work out that way.

It seems they were the 6,000th couple to obtain a marriage license this year in Coeur d'Alene, and the north Idaho community rolled out the red carpet for the Renton, Wash., pair Monday.

The Pantanos got a free blood test, their marriage license was paid for, flowers were provided, and there was a free tank of gasoline, lodging for the night and even a wedding cake.

DEAR ABBY

'Separate Checks'

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those "STUPID WAITRESSES" who can't read the minds of customers to determine whether they want separate checks or not. Don't they realize that all our checks are numbered? And when they tell us at the end of a meal that they wanted separate checks, we have to void the original check and start all over again? THIS TAKES TIME!

If some customers weren't so stupid, they could divide up the check themselves.

"ANOTHER STUPID WAITRESS"

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Put me down as another "stupid waitress," who not only can't read minds, but who can't tell when people are kidding. When cocktails are being ordered before the meal, I have been told that the party was going to be on "Old Joe." And when I presented the check to "Old Joe," I was asked if I couldn't take a joke. Then I've had to unscramble the bill and give everyone separate checks.

On other occasions, I've had the guests loudly demand, 'Separate checks!" — and when it came time to pay, one man will disgustedly take them all and say to me, "Where's your sense of humor? You know when I'm in the party, the party's always on me!"

EGG ON MY FACE IN DENVER

* * *

DEAR ABBY: At last you have proved to me forever that no man ghost-writes your column, although on the question of restaurant checks you could have used a man's advice. No woman understands the problem as a man does. No waiter is likely to make the mistake a waitress makes in assuming that one man is picking up the check for the entire party unless he is told that he is.

A waiter always makes out separate checks for each couple in a dinner situation, as well as situations involving a group at lunch from an office or something similar. Only a waitress will do it the "easy" way and stick one man with the bill.

E.F.F., DETROIT

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Here is one waitress who is not as stupid as she used to be. When I first started waiting on tables, the girls told me if a lot of men came in together, to put it all on one check and give it to the man who looked the most successful. And if they all looked successful, to give it to the oldest man. I have learned through experience that this is a mistake. For some strange reason, the man who looks most successful is usually the one who is least able to treat the crowd. And age doesn't mean anything, either.

QUIT GUESSING IN HOUSTON

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a waitress, but I am far from stupid. When a group of people come in for lunch or dinner, whether they are all men, all women, or mixed, I always make out separate checks. If, after the meal, one person wants to pay for them all, I let him fight it out with the others.

British automotive sportsman R. R. C. Walker knows cars, but one thing he didn't knowwas how quiet the '66 Ford is.

"1966 Ford quieter than my Jaguar? Not jolly likely!" said Rob Walker

...then he drove the Ford.

Ford's Quiet Man, who recently demonstrated the 1966 Ford to owners of some of the world's most expensive cars, here discusses the '66 Ford LTD with Rob Walker at his family's estate in Wiltshire, England.

"Astonishing . . . I believe this Ford of yours really is quieter!" exclaimed Rob Walker, famed British automotive sportsman.

Ford's quiet ride is the result of built-in quality and overall engineering excellence. Other examples of this engineering magic from Ford are: ▪ New Stereo Tape Player option with easy-loading cartridges. ▪ New Magic Doorgate on wagons—swings out like a door for people and down like a tailgate for cargo. ▪ Silent-Flo Ventilation, standard on Ford 4-door hardtops, gives open-window freshness with all windows closed. ▪ Quiet-test a '66 Ford, at your Ford Dealer's.
