More Doctors Will Be Called

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—The Army plans further calls on the selective service system for physicians, dentists, and veterinarians.

It said today that the request already made to selective service for 922 physicians, 500 dentists and 100 veterinarians by Jan. 1st represents only part of the Army's total needs.

"Additional requests will be made later as necessary to meet our requirements," a spokesman said. "Current uncertainties preclude firm estimates being made more than a few months in advance."

Selective service is to meet the pending request from among 21,101 medical men who registered last Monday.

As soon as the medical draft law has produced enough doctors to meet current requirements, an Army spokesman said reserve medical captains and lieutenants who have been called to active duty involuntarily and who have had previous military duty will be relieved progressively if they request it. Slightly more than 100 doctors now on active duty will be eligible for such relief.

French Give Up Another Post In Indochina

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
(By The Associated Press)

SAIGON, Inochina, Oct. 21. — French abandonment of the headquarters fortress city of Langson was announced today, signalling the fall of the indochina-China frontier zone to the firm control of the Communist-led Vietminh Nationalists of Ho Chi Minh.

A French communique disclosing this development, asserted the French will assume the offensive after regrouping as mobile units and "no further withdrawal of our troops is foreseen."

GRADUAL RETREAT

The evacuation of Langson, part of a gradual retreat from border positions, ended French chances of a decisive military victory anytime soon in the struggle for domination of this gateway country to Southereast Asia.

Five French post had been yielded previously.

Abandonment of the remaining French positions, at Laokay in the West and Moncay in the East, is regarded here as only a matter of time. The French defense line in North Indochina is being shifted an average of about 75 miles southward to the northern fringes of the rich Red River delta.

French troops began Wednesday the withdrawal from Langson.

Yielded to the Vietminh is a near impregnable mountainous base area with good trans-frontier connections to supply sources and training centers in Red China.

ALL-OUT DRIVE?

This means the Soviet-backed Ho Chi Minh regime now has the space and means of preparing a full scale offensive against the principal French strongholds farther south. The purely guerrilla phase of the four-year old war in Indochina has ended.

The turning point was marked this month by a series of stunning reverses for the French frontier garrisons, in two weeks, the French lost more than 3,000 first line troops.

During their first successful engagement with major French forces, the Vietminh disclosed a striking power that [illegible] was unforeseen. That was the most significant aspect of the Vietminh victories.

EL PASO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Five El Paso youths died in a head-on collision today after an all-night drive.

They were returning from a football game at Plainview when their car smashed into a truck 20 miles east of El Paso at 7 o'clock this morning.

"I saw the car coming at me," the truck driver said. It looked as if the driver was asleep. There was no place to go. I set my brakes.

"I blacked out. When I regained consciousness, I was lying in the highway. The car was imbeded into my truck. A car came along and they started to get the bodies out of the wreckage."

The engineer, fireman and brakeman of an MKT freight train burned to death in the cab of the locomotive while rescuers were unable to help.

Tuck Reeder, Engineer.

Gilbert Johnson, fireman.

G. H. Erlich, brakeman.

The accident happened about 7:30 o'clock this afternoon at the [illegible] crossing [illegible] and a half east of San Marcos. It was on the Katy San Marcos-Smithville branch line.

Nearly 28,000 Men Trapped By 'Chutists

Communists' Refugee Government Sets Up New Border Capital

SEOUL, Oct. 22. (AP)—South Korean infantry struck speedily northward toward Manchuria today to seal the fate of the shadowy remnants of the North Korean Red army.

That army, once a ruthless, Soviet-equipped invasion force of 150,000, now is estimated by Gen. MacArthur's headquarters at 68,000 men—unsupplied and unable to get set anywhere for a stand against overwhelming United Nations forces.

MacArthur's officers said a daring air drop of 4,100 U. S. paratroopers 30 miles north of the fallen Red capital of Pyongyang Friday trapped nearly half the shattered Red force—28,000 men.

SOME TO ESCAPE

Some of the trapped Reds undoubtedly will escape into the hills to form harassing guerrilla bands, as they have done before in the south.

Five Korean divisions, under orders of Gen. MacArthur to drive to the Manchurian border as fast as possible, were roughly 80 miles from that line.

The Republican Sixth Division was 85 miles southeast of Manchuria at Sunchon, where it linked up with the U. S. parachutists Friday.

On the northeast coast, forward elements of the Republican Capital Division were 40 miles northeast of the big industrial area of Hamhung-Hungnam and still driving north.

Chasing the Reds to Manchuria, a part of Red China, apparently is up to South Korean troops alone. Other UN troops probably will be kept well away from that explosive line, to avoid border incidents.

SET UP CAPITAL

A Korean Communist broadcast from Sinuiju, in Korea at the Manchurian border, announced the establishment of a refugee Red capital there.

Paratroopers who dropped Friday near Sunchon and Sukchon, captured Sunchon Friday night. Fighting was reported in the Sukchon area.

A task force of the U. S. First Cavalry Division linked up with the paratroopers of the 11th Airborne Division four miles south of Sunchon Saturday morning.

Reds in the Sukchon area were reported to have some heavy weapons.

Pilots said they spotted "many enemy troops" trudging southeast into Sunchon with their hands above their heads.

HUGE TOTAL

The total of Red prisoners rose to more than 82,000 Saturday. About 7,000 prisoners were taken Friday and Saturday.

The U. S. 24th Infantry Division was still battling for Chinnampo, the port for Pyongyang.

Red resistance ceased in Pyongyang, now occupied completely by allied troops, but guerrilla outbreaks at widely separated points gave the allied troops a taste of things to come.

An American adviser to the South Korean army said 15,000 bypassed Reds were creating "one hell of a rumpus" far behind allied lines.

Special battalions of Republican troops, highly trained in counter guerrilla warfare, have contracted fighting hold-out Reds in the south east coastal area.

Boy Admits Murder Of Father And Mother

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Oct. 21. (AP)—A 14-year-old schoolboy confessed today, state police said, that he shot his father and mother to death because he was punished unfairly.

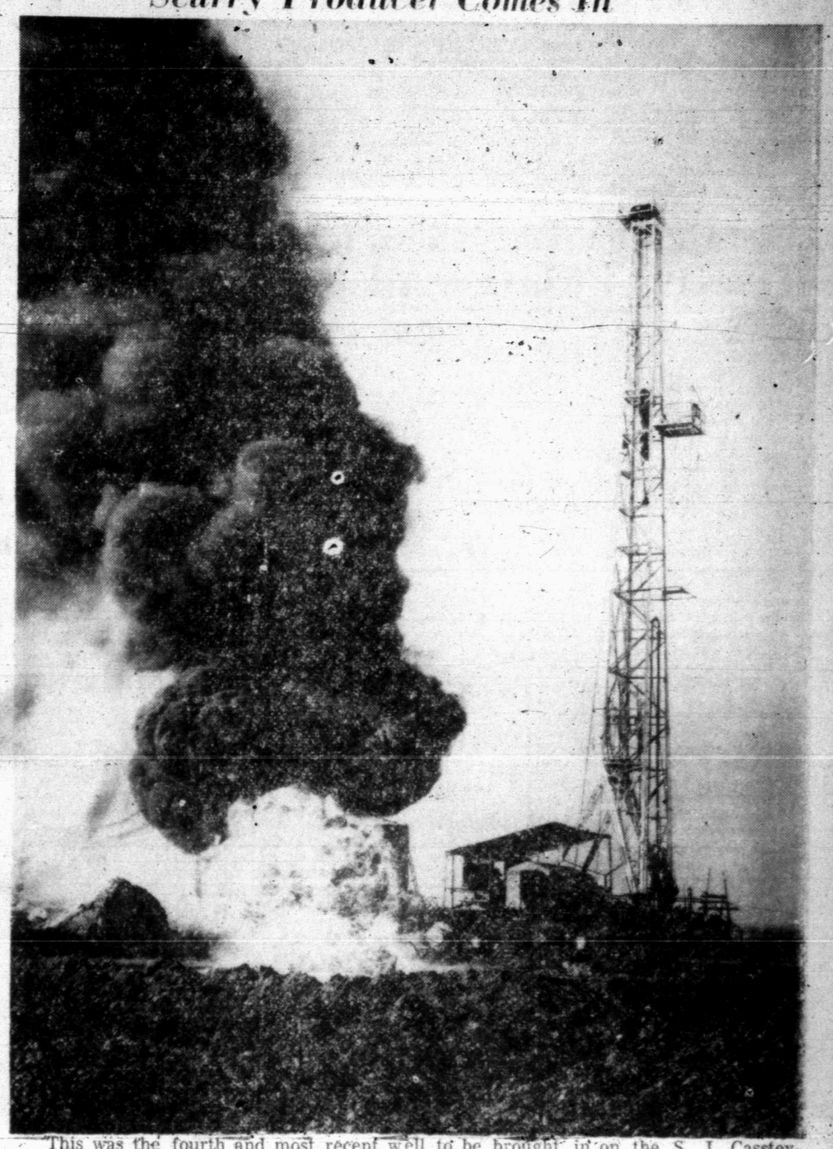

Raymond Peers, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Peers, was quoted as saying he killed his parents for "punishing me when I didn't have it coming."

His father, a 44-year-old Mattawan High School Manual Training Instructor, was mortally wounded while standing on a ladder outside their farm home.

The boy then called his mother, Marian, 38, from her bed and killed her with a shot in the forehead, state police Sgt. Kenneth H. Cook and Detective John Dalman said.

Police had been ready to write off the deaths as murder and suicide when the youth confessed, according to the officers.

Officials Admit Building Ban Is Based on Scant Information

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—The nation's industrial mobilization is being planned largely in the dark, because the National Production Authority still doesn't know how big the defense program will be.

In the absence of a specific target, NPA Administrator William H. Harrison is following the safety-first policy of shooting high, in his preparations to divert materials from civilian to military production.

GET SET

One industry after another, summoned here to organize itself for coming curtailments, has asked how much cutback to expect. NPA has replied, in effect "We don't know, but get ready anyhow."

One high NPA official, in a closed staff meeting this week, is known to have described the lack of information as "our biggest problem." Another told a reporter privately:

"We need some statements of material requirements behind the military funds already voted, even if the estimates are wrong by a sizeable margin."

Such proposals as NPA's pending ban on the building of amusement places are hard to "sell", officials admit, when the construction industry cannot be told even approximately how much steel, lumber, copper and aluminum must be saved.

JUST SO FAR

The munitions board, procurement planner of the armed forces, has handed NPA within the last 10 days its bill of requirements for these and a number of other materials. But the list covers only the spending so far approved, up to next June 30.

This seems to put it up to the White House and the Defense Department, and to Defense Co-ordinator W. Stuart Symington to make the best guesses they can on needs and on that basis shape up the longer-range program of preparedness.

NPA officials say the information recently supplied by the munitions board is a "great help", but still inadequate as a basis for a rounded program of industrial controls and limitations on civilian out put.

Atom Scientist Disappears In Mystery Cloud

[illegible] abouts of an Italian-born British atom scientist, reported by Rome newspapers to have left Italy for Moscow seven weeks ago, developed into an international mystery tonight.

The scientist is Bruno Pontecorvo, who arrived in Finland, Sept. 2. That is the last official word of him. He was with his wife, Helena Marianne, and his three children.

All Rome's newspaper except those of the Communist line carried under their blacklist headlines a report that Pontecorvo skipped to Poland en route to Moscow. Some said he got out just ahead of Italian police and British intelligence agents.

NOT INTERESTED

The British foreign office and Scotland yard indicated they had no interest. His father, Massimo, in Milan, said he had not reason to believe the physicist would not return to Britain a the end of a vacation he began in July. Finnish police said that, although they did not know the whereabouts of the scientist and that he and his family had not passed through any Finnish border control post to neighboring Russia or in any other direction since they arrived in Helsinki via plane from Stockholm.

The ministry of supply in London said there was no reason to believe the scientist would not return to England to take up an appointment as atomic physicist professor at Liverpool University Jan. 1. The ministry is in charge of atomic research in Britain.

OPEN INQUIRY

The London Star said military intelligence agents have begun inquiries.

UN Endorses Resolution For Big Powers Peace Conference

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 21.—The UN Assembly's political committee unanimously endorsed today a Syria-Iraq resolution calling for big power peace talks. The actual vote was 59. Iceland's delegate was absent.

Russia's Apdrei Y. Vishinsky stubbornly attempted to have the Chinese Red regime listed as one of the big powers, but after two rebuffs voted along with the committee in the rare UN show of unanimity.

JUDGE BY DEEDS

While U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles approved the proposal, he has warned the world not to get its hopes up. He has repeatedly emphasized that Russia must be judged by her deeds, not words.

The Syria-Iraq proposal recommends that the five permanent security council members — China, United States, Russia, Britain and France consult together on their differences. It sets no date for the talks.

The big five, however, agreed after a Security Council meeting today to meet some time before Tuesday to attempt to solve the impasse over the secretary-general's expiring term.

WOULD BE FIRST

Such a meeting would be the first session of the big five in the spirit of the Syria-Iraq resolution. The Security Council got nowhere again today in its attempt to agree on a secretary-general. Actual selection of a secretary-general is up to the assembly, acting on recommendations of the security council.

In the political committee, Vishinsky repeatedly urged the committee against an "ostrich" policy of refusing to identify the Communist Peoples Republic as the representative of China.

Week-end Influx of Mexicans Adds Spice to Snyder Scene

The sights and sounds and smells of Old Mexico are to be found just a few blocks off the square.

Snyder's "Tortilla Flat," a colorful little village, springs up each week end during the cotton harvest in the 2300 block on Avenue R and on Twenty-fourth Street where the City Tabernacle once stood.

Here Latin-Americans and Mexicans nationals engaged in cotton picking converge every Saturday and when they meet, the ancient community life of a Mexican village takes form.

NATIVE FOODS

Pungent odors of tangy Mexican food draw hundreds of itinerants to the Caballo Blanco on Avenue R, and directly across the street, a vendor, Simon Ceballos of Del Rio, Tex., has set out his little market filled with the wares that are to be found in all Mexican markets on both sides of the Rio Grande.

Serapes go for $12. Religious charms, jack knives, fans, baskets, rough rock for grinding corn, pottery, canes, red peppers, sombreros — they're all for sale in the portable market which Ceballos takes throughout Texas each year following the harvest.

Among these decorations are other wares and commodities, such as baskets of garlic, books and magazines in Spanish, vases, shaving mugs, aprons, straw hats, rugs, pictures, and purses.

All these are hand made either in Mexico or in South Texas near the border.

Ceballos, who is here for the first time, picks cotton during the week and sets up his market on the week ends. It's a good happy life, he says, and he enjoys both the cotton and his market.

TRAVEL IN TRUCKS

All around the week-end colony are the monstrous, wheezy trucks which carry the cotton pickers. Usually of ancient vintage, the trucks frequently are gaily decked with streamers and painted, like bombers in World War II, with girl's names. A giant old Chevrolet with a canvas top is "Carmencita." Another non - descript vehicle, packed with bedding, pots and pans, and innumerable little faces peering over the tail-gate, is named "Chula."

The itinerants say that each truck or group of trucks has a boss, who is to his people like a manager is to a traveling entertainment troupe. They depend upon him, and he is trusted to draw the best wages for them and to dole out their week's pay. They also hint that he settles many problems and quarrels outside the realm of his normal business. Usually he is quite a physical specimen.

USUAL WAGE

Cotton picking, or boll pulling as we know it here, brings $1.50 a hundred pounds in most communities, and the ire of the farmers whose price is upped by another farmer is strong.

Lovers of gay color, the Mexicans who promenade around the square on Saturday night add an interesting flavor to the local scene, not usually encountered north of the Rio Grande valley.

But "Tortilla Flat" is a short lived thing—bustling with life and activity Saturday, it dissolves Sunday and by the beginning of the work week, hardly a trace of the colony is to be found.

Weather

WEST TEXAS—Generally fair Sunday and Monday. Not much change in temperature.

EAST TEXAS—Partly cloudy in south mostly cloudy with occasional light rain or drizzle in north portion Sunday and Monday. Not much change in temperature. Gentle to moderate variable winds on the coast.

HOUSTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Undefeated, untied Southern Methodist, powered by hard charging Kyle Rote and protected by an iron-clad pass defense, knocked Rice from among the unbeaten, 42 to 21, tonight before a crowd of 70,000.

For Rice, starting defense of its 1949 southwest conference championship, it was the first defeat in 13 games, its first conference loss since October, 1948.

SMU touchdowns and paved the way for another as the Methodists relied most of the night on power instead their anticipated aerial show.

Fred Benners, the pass magician, connected with End Jimmy Hawn for the second Mustang score. Pat Knight and Davis Powell teamed to start the second half rout by returning a Rice pass all the way. Val Joe Walker intereepted another and raced to the next score.

The Mustangs' final tally came as Gene Roberts climaxed a 75 yard march with a smash from the 7.

Last-Quarter Touchdown Gives Texas 19-14 Win Over Arkansas

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—Fullback Byron Townsend, a rip-snorting runner, scored a fourth-quarter touchdown against Arkansas to save Texas today, 19 to 14.

The 6-foot, 180-pound ramrod blasted over from the 6-inch line early in the final period to give Texas victory in its initial Southwest conference game. It was largely Townsend's efforts that put the ball in scoring position.

The defeat for Arkansas, witnessed by nearly 40,000 nervous Texas fans, virtually chilled the Razorbacks hopes in this years pennant campaign. It was Arkansas second league loss against one triumph.

The winning Texas drive ate up 77 yards, with Townsend accounting for more than half the distance with his bristling power.

Texas got off to a 13-point lead with touchdowns by left half Bobby Dillon and Townsend in the first and second quarters, respectively. It looked like Texas, the No. 7 team of the nation, would have an easy afternoon.

Then, bam! Safety John Cole of Arkansas took a long Texas punt on his 25, snaked his way out of an encircling group of Longhorn tacklers and sashayed 75 yards. He had a host of blockers ahead of him but didn't even need them as he slanted away to his right and open country all the way. George Thomason kicked his first of two extra points to leave it 13-7 in favor of Texas at the half.

The ball swapped hands four times on fumbles and intereeptions in the third quarter, and Arkansas came out ahead on the exchange.

Back Bob Cross intercepted Texas Dan Page's pass on the Arkansas 36 and the Giants from the Ozarks ripped to a touchdown in nine plays. A 17-yard pass from Jim Rhinehart to end Bill Jurney put Arkansas on the Texas 3, and Quarterback Don Logue sneaked through the middle three plays later from hte 1. The handful of Arkansas rooters went wild when Thomason sent his team ahead, 14-13.

Kentucky 34, Villanova 7

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21. (AP)—Vito Babe Parilli, a sharpshooting passer, led Kentucky's unbeaten football forces to a 34 to 7 victory over Villanova today.

Parilli's passes, some of them completed after he seemed hopelessly trapped, were directly responsible for four of the five Kentucky touchdowns although only one actually was scored on an aerial play. The fifth was made by Bill Wannamaker, a standout defensive guard, who galloped 35 yards after intercepting a pass.

After rolling up a 20-0 lead in the first eleven minutes, Kentucky let a great defense take care of things until the final quarter, when 14 more points were added. A slender crowd of about 17,000 saw Villanova score the second touchdown made against Kentucky in six games just before the lopsided contest ended.

Kentucky's varied attack seemed to be unstoppable in the first quarter as it produced three touchdowns. Parilli's passing was directly responsible for all three.

Late in the final quarter Harry Jones fumbled a [illegible] and guard Ted Oroski recovered on the Kentucky 24 yard line. The home club punched its way down, aided by an offside penalty, to the one. Big Pete D'Alonzo, Villanova's most effective ball carrier, pounded through for the touchdown and Bob Haner converted.

Hawkeyes Slam Purdue 33-21

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 21. (AP)—Iowa shocked favored Purdue 33-21 today in a Big Ten Football thriller that had a homecoming crowd of 51,521 in a tizzy from start to finish.

It was a sizzling duel for which Iowa came out swinging with a vengeance.

The Hawks shot into a 7-0 lead on Glenn Drahn's 33-yard fourth down pass to Don Commack with only four minutes gone.

Purdue came back on the expert arm of Sophomore Dale Samuels who completed six straight passes in the remainder of the period. One, a nine-yarder to Darrell Brewster, was good for the first Boilermaker score. Then a six-yard toss to Leo Sugar accomplished another touchdown.

That turned out to be Purdue's only time in the lead. Iowa picked up two touchdowns in the second period on a 23-yard pass play, Drahn to Sophomore Bernie Bennett, and a 10-yard dash by Commack to climax an 80-yard Iowa drive. Iowa added scores in each of the final periods.

Challenge To Army's Blaik

LOS ANGELES, Oct. . (AP)—As a result of his uncomplimentary evaluation of professional football, Earl (Red) Blaik, head coach at army, today faced the unhappy prospect of having to prove it.

The colonel may now include among his dissenters about every pro-coach in the country; his No. pupil at Army, Glenn Davis; Professional players, some college coaches, an assortment of plain citizens and the American Legion.

If Blaiks Simon Pures are better than the pros, a legion group said here yesterday, let him prove it on the gridiron.

When the colonel wrote in a national magazine (Colliers) that the pros play "a showman's game and not football, the effect was tantamount to what happens when you spit tobacco juice on an ant hill.

Bring your army team out here, challenged Harry Myers, director of events for the legions Los Angeles county council. Let the cadets meet "the third best team in the national football league in a December charity contest.

Navy Victor Over U.S.C.

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21. (AP) — A crew of hard-hitting Navy backs ran rings around a hulking Southern California football team today to score the Middies' first triumph of the season, 27-14.

Navy pulled away to a 20-0 third period lead before an estimated 24,300 sun-warmed fans. The West Coast invaders came to life with two last quarter touchdowns, but the Middies rebounded for another one of their own to clinch the triumph.

Quarterback Bob Zastrow, showing the form that earned him third team all-America last year, skippered the Middies in the third defeat in four games for Southern Cal.

The 200-pounder ran over for two for himself after getting Navy into position with comparatively sparse, but effective, use of his passes with a strong running attack.

Zastrow principally called on Sophomore Fred Franco, Frankie Hauff and Bill Powers to rip apart the ponderous Trojan line. Twice when they failed in scoring territory, he called on Roger Drew to kick field goals from the 21 and 17 yard lines in the third quarter.

Navy zoomed away to a 14-0 half-time lead after killing off two Southern Cal threats at the start of the game.

Rayburn Stumps For Democrat Candidates In Oklahoma Race

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 21. (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn stopped in Oklahoma last night to put in a good word for Democratic candidates.

The Texan spoke at a Democratic Party campaign rally.

"Anyone criticizing the war in Korea is walking out on the United Nations and anyone who said we shouldn't have gone in is walking out on the Democratic nations of the world," Rayburn said.

(The Korean War has become an issue in the U. S. Senate race in Oklahoma between Rep. Mike Monroney and the Rev. Bill Alexander, the Republican nominee.)

Oklahoma Takes Kansas State to 58-0 Whipping

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 21. (AP)—After two weeks of last minute victories, Oklahoma enjoyed an afternoon of relaxation today in whipping Kansas State, 58-0, to open defense of its big seven football title.

The victory before 40,000 homecoming fans was Oklahoma's 25th straight and 14th consecutive triumph over Kansas State.

The ease by which Oklahoma scored—through the air and on the ground—was in contrast to the hard-earned victories over Texas Aggies and Texas which made the Sooners the No. 2 team in the nation.

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson tried to hold down the score by using 49 players but it was no use. The scores came as easily as the one by Dale Crawford, a sophomore, who went 66 yards for a touchdown the first time he ever ran with the ball in a college game.

Florida Upsets Unbeaten And Untied Vanderbilt By 31-27

By A. P. BRYAN

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21. (AP)—Underdog Florida outrushed and outpassed previously unbeaten and untied Vanderbilt to win a 31-27 Southestern Conference football victory here today.

A stunned homecoming crowd of 24,000 partisan fans watched Florida score early in the opening period and match Vanderbilt score for score thereafter. It was Florida's first victory over Vanderbilt. Rain marred the early periods and left the field slippery in the latter stages.

Four of Florida's touchdowns were scored on the ground, but Sophomore Haywood Sullivan's passes clicked for one touchdown and helped set up the others.

The famed Vanderbilt passing combination of Bill Wade to Bucky Curtis accounted for two touchdowns. Two other Vanderbilt markers were scored rushing.

Jack Nichols broke away for a 55 yard touchdown run for Florida and teammate [illegible] Broadus almost matched it with a 51-yard payoff jaunt.

Vanderbilt's most spectacular play came in the dying minutes of the fourth period on a 76-yard play sequence. Wade passed from his 24 to Curtis, who lateraled to Mac Robinson as he appeared trapped. Curtis broke free and took a lateral from Robinson on the 22 and raced over for the final touchdown of the game.

Broadus, halfback Billy Reddell and Fullback Floyd Huggins blasted through and around the wavering Vanderbilt line for repeated gains. Sullivan's passes kept Vanderbilt from setting up a stiff ground defense.

Fullback Dean Davidson and Sophomore Halfback Dick Foster accounted for Vanderbilt's chief gains on the ground.

The Florida passing defense was the deciding issue in this tough game. The alert Floridians almost bottled up Wade and his receivers. Wade completed only four of 14 passes attempted and two were intercepted. Up until today, his four-game record was one interception. His passing game accounted for 118 yards and two touchdowns. Curtis snagged four passes for 103 yards and his two markers.

Sullivan outshone Wade, completing nine out of 14 passes for 110 yards and one touchdown.

NEW YORK, Oct. . (AP)—Arthur Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., U. S. Men's Singles Champion, and Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., will compete in several Australian tennis tournaments, it was announced today.

The U. S. Lawn Tennis Association said Larsen and Savitt had accepted an invitation from the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia. Savitt, a semi-finalist in the Nationals this year at Forest Hills, N. Y., leaves today by plane for Sydney.

Larsen will fly from San Francisco Oct. 25. The first tournament they will compete in will be at Brisbane beginning Oct. 28. They will appear in the Australian championships in January.

Wake Forest 13, Washington 0

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Oct. 21. (AP)—An 83-yard touchdown run by Sophomore Halfback Larry Spence highlighted a Wake Forest third period explosion today as the Deacons defeated George Washington, 13-0, to remain unbeaten.

The victory, before a homecoming day crowd of 10,000 [illegible] Wake Forest in a [illegible] with Washington and Lee for top place [illegible] Southern Conference.

Both touchdowns resulted from pass interceptions.

Midway of the third period, Quarterback Ed Kissell shot a 10-yard pass to halfback Guido Scarton for Wake Forest's first score. It climaxed a 55-yard drive set up when Tackle Ed Listopad intercepted a pass by Colonial Fullback Bob Cilento.

Minutes later Spencer intercepted a pass by Andy Davis on Wake Forests 17 and scored standing up.

U.C.L.A. Wins Over Favored Stanford 21-7

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21. (AP)—Stanford's football team tumbled out of the unbeaten ranks and its Rose Bowl hopes for a shocking jolt today by the astonishing Bruins of UCLA.

The twice-beaten Uclans sank the favored Stanfords, 21 to 7, to the surprise of 58,143 fans.

Coach Red Sanders' spirited Bruins found three golden scoring opportunities and promptly hit the jackpot with three aerial blasts to sew up this Pacific Coast Conference game.

Stanford, getting its first real test after four wins over less staunch opposition, could not generate a score until the final period.

Army Rolls Over Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21. (AP)—Mighty Army, the nation's No. 1 college eleven, overwhelmed Harvard, 49-0, to add another blotted page to the Crimson's 77-year-old history today.

It was the third straight 1950 setback for the Crimson and the first time that it ever had been shut out by such a one sided margin.

The cadets lost little time clinching their 13th straight triumph and their 24th without a reversal.

Less than 10 minutes after the opening kickoff, Army had scored thrice on a 36-yard romp by veteran fullback Gil Stephenson, a six-yard pass from Bob Blaik to Winger Dan Foldberg and a three-yard slam by Jack Martin.

And just before the initial session closed, Blaik set up the Black Knights for a fourth touchdown by completing a 35-yard aerial to Winger John Weaver on Harvard's 15.

Kicking specialist Al Pollard, who had seven conversions, banged thrice before going over from the three-yard line to open the second period.

Army then marched 40 yards before Frank Fischl scored from the five and before the first half ended, the Cadets moved from their own [illegible] Harvard's 10 to set up a counter for Vic Pollock.

The Cadets added a seventh talley early in the third session. John Kimmel blocked a Harvard punt, which Charlie Shira smothered on Harvard's 18. Pollard then took off for his second touchdown.

Score by quarters:

Army	21	21	7	0	—49
Harvard	0	0	0	0	—0

Army scoring: Touchdowns—Pollard 2, Stephenson, Foldberg, fischl, Martin, Pollock. Conversions—Pollard 7.

Tigers Come Back With 40-0 Victory Over The Roby Lions

Back on the upward climb in district standing, shining Snyder Tigers proved to be more than the Roby Lions could stop Friday night by winning 40-0.

The first few minutes of the game saw the first scoring when Roby received the kickoff and punted out from the 26. A drive to just a foot from paydirt by Quarterback Max Coffee gave a heavy-blocking line and Halfback Franklin Woods the chance for the touchdown. End Lowell Bearden's kick was good and the score was 7-0.

A senstational 35 yard pass from Coffee to Bearden, who nabbed it on the 20 yard line was good for anothre score. Bearden's point was again good and 14-0.

Soon after the second quarter began, Halfback Clifford Green took the ball from the 9 yard line over. Another good Bearden point made the tally 21-0.

Receiving the Lion kickoff at the half on the Tiger 10, Coffee, Green, and Woods ran behind a line of good offensive blockers to the Lion 6, when Woods took it around left end to another touchdown and score of 27-0.

Minutes after, the Lions again punted soon after they received the kickoff and the Tigers took the ball from the Roby 39 back to the 10, where Coffee swung around right end for pay, making the score 33-0

The last scoring came in mid fourth quarter when Coffee drove through center 39 yards to touchdown. Bearden's kick was good this time for the final score of 40-0.

Lacking defense, the Lions ran a good offense all through the game breaking for several long runs and for several passes and long drives. Halfback Sonny Etheredge, Center Franklin Waddell, and Tackle Buddy Nail showed up on the Roby defense. Etheredge is the fastest man on the Roby team.

While Coffee, Woods, and Green were outstanding in the Tiger backfield, those who kept up a good line were tackles Don Keller and R. W. Thornton and end Lowell Bearden Tackle W. G. Birt took the offensive center in place of Grant Teaff, who has an injured hand but took center on defense.

(By The Associated Press)

New Braunfels, unbeaten but tied, the only point-a-minute club in the 220-team division dropped out of this classification, even though it licked Lockhart, 31-14.

Arlington, a North Texas power, need a first half splurge to blank Terrell, 28-0. The second half the big tarrant county team had a ball game on its hands.

Tech Fights Hard But Goes Down Before Baylor 26-12

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

WACO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Young Larry Isbell, who throws right, kicks left and thinks down the middle, teamed up with fleet, ebullient Buddy Parker today to send Baylor to a 26-12 victory over Texas Tech.

Isbell, brother of the immortal Cecil of Purdue and professional football fame, passed for one touchdown, set up two more and did an excellent job of generalship. Parker scored two touchdowns and made runs that brought cheer to the crowd of 12,000 scattered in the big, new yawning Baylor Stadium.

Tech, which has dropped five straight games—all it has played—fought back and furnished the biggest thrill of the game. It was a 76-yard touchdown run by Bobby Close, who broke over tackle in a quick opener and scooted to the Bear goal line like a Jack Rabbit.

TECH SCORES FIRST

Tech drew first blood with a 59-yard touchdown march in the opening period but Baylor quickly tied the score, went ahead on Parker's second touchdown and never was in danger thereafter.

It was the Bears third win of the season and Tech's fourth loss to a Southwestern Conference team. Previously the Border Conference eleven had fallen to Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Christian.

Tech's first touchdown was late in the opening period. It came after Eural Ramsey intercepted one of Isbell's passes and ran to his 41-yard line. Pete Edwards' passing and the blistering runs of Frank Graves pushed to the Baylor four from where J. W. Thompson, power of the Tech backfield for the day, slashed across. Tim Hatch missed the try for point.

BEARS TIE SCORE

Baylor took the kickoff on its 33 and in 10 plays had the tying touchdown. A fourth-down pass from Isbell to Stan Williams that gained 40 yards set up the score. From the Tech five, Parker, in two smashes, went over. Hank Dickerson missed the extra point.

Baylor scored again a minute before the half ended. Johnny Curtis ran a punt back to the Tech 48. Isbell passed to Bob Trout on the 38 then Parker went over left tackle and cut back to race down the middle to the Tech 22. Isbell passed over the line to Parker on the 15 and the little speedster ran down the sidelines for the score. Dickerson converted.

WILD THIRD PERIOD

The third period was a wild one with three touchdowns being scored, two by Baylor. The Bears took the kickoff and in eight plays drove 45 yards to a counter. Dickerson missed the try for point.

Baylor kicked off to the Tech 24 and from here roared to the last touchdown run. Hatch failed to convert.

Baylor got the ball on Thompson's fumble on its 15-yard line to end a 44-yard Red Raider drive and from her eroared to the last touchdown of the game. Dick Parma dove over from the Tech three and Dickerson kicked the extra point.

Big Sale Of Cotton Bowl Tickets To Get Underway November 1

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—It will be 71 days before a couple of top college teams play in the annual Cotton Bowl football game—and at this time there's nothing to identify either one—but an estimated 115,000 ticket applications will start rolling in Nov. 1.

They'd jam up the mails sooner except that the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association won't receive them until that date.

Howard Grubbs, secretary-treasurer of the Cotton Bowl, estimated the 115,000 requests on the basis of the past several years and inquiries already received.

All applications for tickets must be mailed to reach the Cotton Bowl office, 13-43 National City Building, Dallas, between Nov. 1 and Nov. 4, inclusive. Requests received before or after those dates will be returned.

No application may be made for more than four tickets. A drawing will be held to determine the order in which they are filled.

Checks must accompany all applications. Each ticket costs $4.80 and a 25-cent mailing fee must be added to the check of each applicant.

President To Speak To UN Next Tuesday

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. —President Truman probably will deliver a new world peace plea to the United Nations Tuesday, following up his conference with Gen. MacArthur and his foreign policy speech in San Francisco.

The speech is expected to steer clear of controversial subjects since the chief executive will speak as head of the UN's host nation on a ceremonial occasion—United Nations Day.

SHARPENS DILEMMA

The President will deliver it nevertheless, against the background of his Pacific flight and his repeated warnings to Russia against further aggression. Thus, the speech will serve to sharpen the dilemma developing in the policies of the western powers as the Korean war draws to a close.

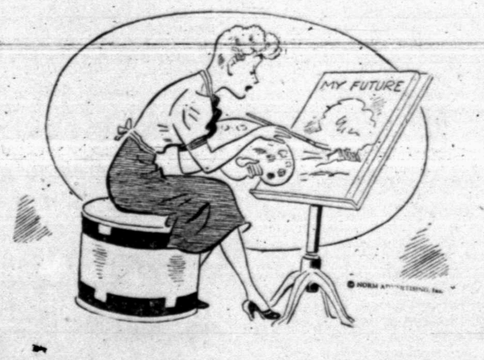

Informed diplomats in Washington feel now that Russia is trying to take advantage of the Korean development to lull the world into a false sense of security.

The dilemma arises from the fact that they are almost anxious to be lulled. The United States, along with other anti-Soviet powers, can neither oppose the genuine peace sentiment nor permit a wave of false hopes to wreck the defense efforts which could eventually lead to peace.

BIG QUESTION

Despite these accusations and warnings, one of the great questions now agitating many capitals is this: Is there now a real chance for East-West negotiation looking toward peace as a result of the utter defeat of the Communist forces in Korea?

The American reply to this question was given by Secretary of State Acheson Friday. It is a flat no. Acheson believes there is no chance for productive negotiations until the non-Communist nations have armed and unified themselves and until the Russians themselves have proved through actions that they have changed their attitude.

Ann Sheridan Left $1,500 In Man's Will

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Actress Ann Sheridan has been willed $1,594 by a man who never met her.

But the man, a lonely longshoreman named David Johnson saw her often on the screen and plastered his waterfront hotel room with her pictures.

He died at Christmastime last year. His will, approved in superior court, stated simply:

"I leave everything to my beloved Ann Sherridan, picture star (and no one else)."

Commodity Index Up

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP) — The Associated Press wholesale commodity index closed higher this week for the first time in four weeks, advancing to 189.00 from 188.53 last week end and comparing with 158.38 a year ago.

The base year of this index of 35 important wholesale commodity prices is 1926, which equals 100.

Baylor Bears Back Home Now

WACO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Barney's back. . . Bailey's glad . . . and Baylor's not mad. . . anymore.

The missing cub mascot of the Baylor football team was discovered late last night after an anonymous caller telephoned a men's dormitory attendant and told him Barney could be found tied to a certain telephone post at a certain place on the old Twelfth Street road. Sure enough, there was Barney. . .

Barney, and his twin Bailey, were taken from their pit on the campus before dawn yesterday. But four hours later Bailey turned up.

One anonymous caller yesterday afternoon had told a Baylor employe that the bear was at the student union building at Texas A&M College.

"We are not accusing anybody or any school of anything," said Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor.

It was learned that Dean Monroe S. Carroll of Baylor telephoned officials at A&M and several other Texas Colleges asking that they be on the lookout for Barney.

Baylor and A&M play a home coming football game here Oct. 28.

Calumet Won't Have Pimlico Special Entry

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21. (AP)—When they run the famed Pimlico Special here Nov. 3, it won't seem right not to have a Calumet Farm horse in the winner-take-all event.

Calumet has won five of the 13 specials with Whirlaway, Twilight Tear, Armed, Ervent and Citation. The only time the stable entered a horse and didn't win the race was last year when Capot beat Coaltown. All this came in eight years, from 1942 through 1949.

This fall the Calumet horses will be in California during the running.

Pampa, power of the Panhandle rushed over Lamesa 27-6, Palestine was upset by Lufkin 21-14 and Midland was ruined by down-trodden Brownwood. Defeat of Midland was thrice-beaten Brownwood 20-13 was the major upset of the season thus far.

Still undefeated and untied are Pampa, Breckenridge, Texarkana, Cleburne, Port Arthur, Freeport Galena Park, Corsicana and McAllen.

Strong Aggies Rout Horned Frogs 42-23

By WILBUR MARTIN

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 21. (AP) —Texas A&M today unleased the fury of three years of impotent Southwest Conference football, storming from behind to smother Texas Christian University, 42-23.

Two bruising backs—Bob Smith and Billy Tidwell—a sharp-shooting quarterback, Dick Gardemal, and panther alertness brought the Aggies seven touchdowns in the second half—four in the final quarter—and their first conference victory since October, 1947.

With sickening suddenness to Texas Christian supporters in the sun drenched crowd of 20,000, the bruising game turned into a pitiful rout.

Spotting the Horned Frogs a first period field goal and a second quarter touchdown, the Aggies stormed back from a first half of fumbling frustration. They sent Tidwell sweeping 18 and 25 yards for third period touchdowns, then Gardemal tossed two touchdown passes to Andy Hillhouse, Smith raced 38 yards for another tally, and Yale Lary intercepted one of Dan Wilde's desperation passes to scamper 33 yards for the fourth Aggie score in this wild finale.

Homer Ludiker had shot Texas Christian ahead just before the first period ended, kicking a field goal as the ball rested on the Aggie 10-yard line.

Less than three minutes after the second quarter began, Frank Struska, lumbering 215-pound TCU tackle, snared Ray Graves' pass and heaved his bulk 43 yards for a horned frog touchdown.

Texas Christian stayed in the ball game until the last 20 minutes, while taking a touchdown pass from Gilbert Barfoot. And at the end the Horned Frogs boosted their final total, John Harvine making a brilliant catch of Dexter Bassinger's three-yard pass just nine seconds before the game ended.

Darrow Hooper kicked seven extra points for A&M. Ludiker booted two for Texas Christian.

The Aggies who won only one game in 1948 and 1949, shattered all sorts of records set in the immediate past lean years. One went all the way back to 1942, that was the last time an A&M team scored more than 40 points.

A&M using a bruising ground game to wilt the Frogs, gained 280 yards on the ground and 206 by passing. Texas Christian picked up 192 yards on the ground and 97 passing.

Explore Spraberry Sand In Northwest Glasscock County

Southern Minerals Corp. is to explore the producing possibilities of the Spraberry sand section in Northwest Glasscock County at its No. 1 S. C. Houston, a wildcat project which is six miles south-southeast of Stanton.

The prospector is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 13, block 36 T&P survey, T-2-S.

That makes it about ten miles east of the town of Germania and approximately six miles east and slightly north of the Germania-Spraberry field.

This wildcat is a shallow dry hole which was abandoned June 28, 1949, at total depth of 4,111 feet in dry lime and shale.

Since the Spraberry sand has been showing for production in various sectors of the Midland Basin in recent months Southern Minerals has decided to deepen it to 8,000 feet to test that horizon. Operations are to start within the next week.

Midland Wildcat Is Below 11,000 Feet In Devonian Lime

Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 H. F. Timmerman, Central-West Midland County wildcat, 11 ½ miles southwest of the city of Midland is drilling ahead below 11,888 feet in Devonian lime.

A drillstem test was run at 11,764-868 feet. The tool was open three hours. Gas came to the surface in 5 minutes.

Maximum gas volume was at the rate of 5,000 cubic feet per day. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud and 90 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud. There was no water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 80 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 1,700 pounds.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 40, T&P survey, T-3-S.

Tubb Zone Production Indicated By Test In West Ector County

Production from the Tubb zone of the Permian was indicated on a drillstem test from 6,095 to 6,351 feet in Texas Gulf Producing Co. No. 1 Woodard and others, scheduled 10,000-foot wildcat in Central-West Ector County.

Open four hours and 10 minutes on the drillstem test, gas was at the surface in 20 minutes and oil in three hours and 40 minutes.

It cleaned into pits for 30 minutes, then flowed at an estimated rate of 11 barrels hourly. Flowing pressure was 1,100 pounds and shut in pressure 2,100 pounds in 15 minutes.

Tool was full of oil when tester was closed and the test headed some oil while drillpipe was being laid down. Final recovery was 200 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

Deepening will continue at the drillsite, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block 45, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Home Builders Say They Can Build But Won't Be Able To Sell

HOUSTON, Oct. 21. (AP) — A group of home builders say they'll try to meet the government's goal of nearly a million housing units next year, but don't think they'll have that many buyers.

Frank W. Cortwright of Washington, executive vice president of the National Association of Home Builders Association, said his group believes there will not be 800,000 to 850,000 American families who can afford to buy homes under new credit terms.

The NAHB board of directors met here this week in conjunction with a southwest builders conference.

Drillstem Test In North Crane Wildcat

Operator is going in the hole with tool to take a drillstem test at Atlantic Refining Co. No. 1-LL University, North Crane County wildcat between the University-Waddell multipay pool and the Sandhills-McKnight area.

The test will be taken in the Ellenburger from total depth of 11,625 feet up to packer which will be set at approximately 11,600 feet, which is tentative top of the formation. Elevation is 2,645 feet.

The prospector has already proven for a discovery from the Connell sand of the lower Simpson.

After a drillstem test in that formation at 11,472-530 feet, with tool open 90 minutes, recovery was 5,000 feet of clean oil and no water.

The No. 1-LL University is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 6, block 1, University survey.

Magnolia To Explore In Northwest Upton

Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 2 C. W. Ryburn is to be a new exploration for the Pembrook-Wolfcamp field in Northwest Upton County.

It is located 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 1, block O, EL&RR survey. That makes it one location east of the same concern's No. 1 Ryburn, complete the first of the current week as the second producer in the Pembrook field.

Magnolia No. 1 Ryburn was finished for a 24-hour natural potential of 303.75 barrels of 37.5 gravity oil flowing through a three-eighth inch tubing choke.

The production was from pay in the Spraberry and at 6,988-7,106 feet.

The No. 1 Ryburn is a north offset to Humble No. 1 Pembrook, discovery of the field, which is a small pumper from the Spraberry pay zone.

Oil Found In Wildcat In Schleicher County

Petroleum has been found in the Wolfcamp of the Permian at Frank & George Frankel of Houston and Shell Oil Co. No. 1 R. S. Williams wildcat in Northwest Schleicher County.

Operator is coming out of hole with tester after taking a 30-minute drillstem test at 5,501-45 feet. Gas came to the surface in four minutes, fluid in 20 and clean oil in 22 minutes.

It flowed for an unreported length of time at an estimated rate of 20 barrels of oil hourly.

Previously the indicated discovery recovered 2,435 feet of free oil, 30 feet of drilling mud and 810 feet of salty water after a six-hour drillstem test in a higher Permian zone.

That test was taken at 4,266-4,375 feet.

A top for the Wolfcamp has not been picked.

The wildcat is 12 miles south of Mertzon, almost exactly on the Irion-Schleicher County line south of the Tankersley field.

New Field Opener in Southwest Kent Flows From Ellenburger

Star Oil Co. and associates No. 1 Blanche Young, Southwest Kent County wildcat, has been officially completed as a flowing discovery from the Ellenburger with a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,476.72 barrels of 41.2 gravity oil.

The potential gauge was calculated from an actual 10-hour flow. The test was taken through a three-quarter inch tubing choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 960-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 150 pounds. Casing pressure was 200 pounds.

The production was from open hole in the Ellenburger between the bottom of the five and one-half inch casing cemented at 7,782 and the total depth 7,822 feet. Top of the pay is at 7,780 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of section 54, block 5, H&GN survey.

That makes it five miles northeast of the town of Polar and four miles north and slightly west of the two small pumping wells in the Polar Ellenburger field.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 7,787 feet. Elevation is 2,322 feet.

This project also showed possibilities of producing in the Strawn lime, which was topped at 7,188 feet.

The new field discovery is almost on the east line of Garza County.

Aviation Gasoline Increase Making Satisfactory Progress

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP) —The drive to boost aviation gasoline production by 25,000 barrels daily is making "very satisfactory progress" and has won a good reaction from the oil industry, government officials say.

The increased production, which it is hoped will be realized by the end of the year, is wanted for defense purposes.

The program has not brought about a reduction in the octane content of civilian-use gasoline, officials said, adding that whether it does will depend on developments.

"The program isn't out of the woods yet, but it looks like we'll make the goal by the end of the year," the officials said.

TIDELANDS

The battle over control of rich oil lands beneath the marginal seas along the nation's coasts appears headed again for Congress following a Supreme Court decision last Monday.

The Court refused to reconsider its recent decisions that the government has paramount rights to the so-called tidelands along Texas and Louisiana coasts and oil industry officials consider it unlikely that the court would change its mind.

Nevertheless, the states have until Oct. 31 to file a second request for rehearing.

STATE OWNERSHIP

Senator Connally (D-Tex), expressing disappointment at the recent court ruling, declared Congress will be called upon to "exert its power and authority in behalf of state ownership."

Rep. Teague (D-Tex) said he thought congress would approve legislation guaranteeing ownership by the states but he added he was not certain there would be enough votes to override a presidential veto.

It may be several days before Bruce Brown, of Pan Am Southern Corp., New Orleans, decides if he will accept a position as deputy director of the PAD in the Interior Department, a representative of a Washington oil organization said.

The industry representative said he understood a proposed executive order was under preparation which might make it possible for such men as Brown to come into government defense posts without making too great a financial sacrifice.

Oil jobbers are ready to ask Congress to put commercial petroleum co-operatives on the same tax basis as the independent businesser with which they compete.

Otis Ellis, representative here of the National Oil Jobbers Council, said there is no quarrel with farmers' co-operatives.

Oil co-ops do pay some taxes, he said, but not enough in relation to competing businesses.

The bureau of mines has reported that the nation's oil and oil products pipe line system increased 25,463 miles to a total of 152,814 miles between May 1, 1941 and Jan. 1, 1950.

Capacity of the network also has increased greatly.

The pipeline transportation subcommittee of the National Petroleum Council will meet in Tulsa next Tuesday to study data it has already obtained and to begin preparation of a report to the main committee, the council said.

Dawson Well Fails In Try At Drillstem Test

Standard Oil Co. of Texas No. 1 Smith, Central - North Dawson County wildcat, four miles south and west of O'Donnell, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 34, block 41, psl survey, tried a drillstem test to total depth of 8,037 feet in lower Permian lime and sand.

The test failed and another attempt is being made on that activity.

This prospector had previously shown as a possible discovery in the zone at 7,928-72 feet. It recovered 4,780 feet of 37.6 gravity oil, 720 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 10 feet of salt water during a five and one half hour drillstem test.

In addition to the oil the well flowed out three barrels of drilling fluid during the four hours.

Operators planned to continue to flow until the well is thoroughly cleaned out and will then take the potential test and complete.

The production is from open hole at 9,465-9,501 feet and is natural.

Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 18, block 34, T&P survey, T-2-N.

Seaboard Oil Co. of Delaware No. 1 Canon, Central-West Borden County wildcat, between the Spraberry field in Dawson County and the Good field in Borden County, cored at 8,359-79 feet.

Recovery was eight feet of lime and shale. The current formation is thought to be the Pennsylvanian reef, despite the fact that the solid lime has not yet been entered. Another core is to be cut.

Location is at the center of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 47, block 33, T&P survey, T-5-N.

No. 4 is 2,324.2 feet from north and 1,699.6 feet from east lines of section 6, block 43, T-2-S, T&P survey. This test is a southeast outpost to the operators No. 1 Cowden.

Operators are preparing to try to complete their No. 1 E. F. Cowden. The section at 3,9804,246 feet has been shot with 530 quarts of nitroglycerin. After the hole is cleaned out production tests will be made.

This new discovery is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 6, block 43, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Sixty Barrels From Clear Fork Discovery

The first swabbing gauge reported at the Texas Co. No. 1 Biles, Clear Fork discovery in Northwest Andrews County, showed recovery of 60 barrels of fluid cut with eight per cent basic sediment and water the rest was oil.

The opener, located 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 15, block A-31, psl survey, is continuing to swab.

Total depth of the venture is at 7,573 feet swabbing through tubing which was run to 7,572 feet.

Record Radio Deal Is Made

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21. (AP) — When employees of General Tire and Rubber Company put out $12,320,000 for the Don Lee Radio Network, here's what they got for their money:

About $5 million in cash or easily negotiable securities, a Hollywood mountain, a mansion, five radio stations, a TV station and contracts with 41 other radio stations.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said it will purchase the TV station, KTSL here, and the rubber company—which already owns New England's Yankee Network—plans to buy the radio stations.

The purchase was made Friday by the First National Bank of Akron, O., as an investment for the employees' retirement fund. The offer topped a previous high bid of $11,200,000 from H. L. Hoffman Radio Corp. of Los Angeles.

The mountain involved in the deal is 1,500-foot Mt. Lee, and the luxurious home of the late Thomas S. Lee goes with the deal.

More Than A Million Feet of Gas From Irion County Well

Wilshire and Balboa No. 1 Lawrence D. Brooks, East Irion County discovery, rated 1,200,000 cubic feet of gas and 30 barrels of distillate daily. Actual recovery of distillate was 15 barrels on a 12-hour gauge.

The preliminary test was through a three-quarter inch tubing choke from Wolfcamp sand which has been shot with 320 quarts of nitroglycerin at 5,945-6,000 feet, and treated with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Flowing pressures on the test were 400 pounds on tubing and 475 pounds on casing.

Testing through various size chokes will continue.

No. 1 Brooks failed in the Ellenburger in drilling to 7,651 feet and plugged back.

Location is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 21, block 3, H&TC survey, five miles southwest of Tankersly.

Two New Projects In Howard Are Spotted

Two new projects have been spotted in the Vealmoor area of West Central-North Howard County for immediate drilling. Both these tests will be drilled to approximately 8,000 feet with rotary tools.

L. H. Armer, Ray Oil Co. and G. H. Chizum No. 1 S. L. Lockhart is 560 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 34, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey and four miles east of Vealmoor.

Three New 1951 Model Cars To Be Introduced This Month

By DAVID J. WILKIE
(Associated Press Staff)

DETROIT, Oct. 21. (AP) — The second of three new lines of automobiles to be introduced this month was disclosed today.

It is Studebaker's 1951 line, with a new V-8, valve-in-head engine for the Commander series, as an outstanding feature. Hudson already has announced its new line with an added series named the Hornet, and Mercury will put its 1951 models on display in dealer showrooms next Tuesday.

Harold S. Vance, Studebaker board chairman and president, said $15 million had been invested in developing the new V-8 engine and in enlarging facilities for producing it. The engine has a 120 horsepower rating and 7-to-1 compression ratio.

REVOLUTIONARY STYLES

Vance said the use of premium fuels will not be required with the new engine. He added, however, that it has been so designed that it may be readliy adapted to increased compression ratios when higher octane fuels become generally available.

Studebaker's entire line of new cars continue the somewhat revolutionary styling introduced a year ago. There have been some design changes at the front and rear. Front end changes are mainly in the grille, while those in the rear are noted in new trunk deck handles and redesigned tail lamps. The aircraft motif is retained in all models.

In the lowest price Champion models changes include a redesigned instrument panel and steel jacket-enclosed steering column and gear shift lever on all but the custom series.

NEW PRICE TAGS

Studebaker's automatic transmission will be available on all models as optional equipment at extra cost. New price tags also go on the new 1951 line of Studebakers. As previously announced the Champion models will go up $50, but reductions of as much as $100 are being made on the Commander series.

A new engine is a feature of Hudson's new line for 1951, which dealers put on display Friday. It is a 145-horsepower, six cylinder unit, with 7.2-to-1 compression ratio, and will be used in the Hornet model. Hudson prices are up generally, from $98 to $122 over the 1950 line.

It already has been disclosed that a major feature of the new Mercury line will be its new automatic transmission which will be named the Merc-O-Matic. The torque converter device will be offered as optional equipment at exrta cost.

New Victim Falls To TV

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21. (AP) — That old debbil, television, has claimed another victim—adult education.

A nationwide survey conducted by Woodbury College of Los Angeles shows that without exception, cities that have television are showing a decrease in adult night class attendance.

Hal Evry, who directed the survey, said 50 selected cities were chosen. Superintendents of adult education schools were asked to report on increase or decrease of classes this fall, compared with last fall. The overall report shows a 15 per cent decrease in cities that have TV.

A notable exception is Albuquerque, N. M., which is employing TV in its adult education classse.

Cleveland reported that its adult education night class enrollment a year ago was 9,800. It is now 7,800, a drop of 20 per cent.

Cities that do not have television are showing a normal increase in adult education. El Paso, Tex., is leading the way with a 40.46 jump among the cities reached by the survey. Wichita, Kan., reported a 20 per cent climb. It, too, is out of the TV sphere.

Other cities solicited included Salt Lake City, Dallas, Detroit, San Francisco and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Stassen Says He is Still Hopeful That Stalin Will Answer

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21. (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, twice unsuccessful in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination, said today he still is hopeful that Russia's Joseph Stalin "will answer my letter in the interests of world peace."

Stassen, former GOP governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, wrote Stalin Oct. 1 asking for a face-to-face conference to stop "the drift to war."

Friday Pravda, Russia's official Communist Party newspaper, flatly rejected Stassen's plea for a meeting with the Soviet premier.

Pravda said Stassen was resorting to a dirty, clumsy election campaign trick. It described him as a "shameless warmonger and feverishly active political campaigner with a thirst for self advertisement."

But Stassen, after reading the Pravda denunciation of himself, said in a statement:

"I do not accept the Pravda story as an answer to my Oct. 1 letter to Premier Stalin. . . . I will await an answer from Premier Stalin.

"If he is sincere in his expressed desire for world peace, he will answer me in due time."

West Texas Cities Win Battle Before Water Committee

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—West Texas yesterday won a victory before the Texas Water Code Committee. They gained retention of a 19-year-old law giving municipalities top priority to appropriate water without condemnation or need for payment.

A proposal to replace the law with one allowing cities to appropriate up to 200 gallons per capita population was opposed successfully by State Senators Pat Bullock of Colorado City and George Moffett of Chillicothe and Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock.

The water code committee scheduled public hearing on the proposed recodification of the state's surface water laws in Austin beginning Dec. 11.

Committee members said the hearing would last as long as interested persons wish to study the widespread revisions of the state permit system.

The water code committee late in the week had reversed a closed door policy it had decided upon earlier for its sessions.

A new development was the assignment of a study of overlapping water pollution laws to a subgroup headed by Senator Bell of Cuero and dealing thus far in water districts and storage of surface water.

Sen. Bullock and Rep. Smith were among those assailing the committee's early decision to hold closed meetings, with a public hearing to be conducted in December.

Korean Relief Is Set By General MacArthur At $146,500,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has put the cost of Korean civilian relief at $146,500,000 for the remainder of the fiscal year ending next June 30.

His estimate was received Friday by the Army Department, which has taken over from the Economic Co-operation Administration the relief job in war-damaged South Korea.

MacArthur said 610,000 tons of food, 220,000 tons of industrial material and equipment, and 16,000 tons of medical supplies will be needed.

ECA, the Marshall Plan agency, had authorized $21,767,688 for Korean relief and rehabilitation as of Sept. 15. Other United Nations members have offered supplies to aid the South Koreans.

New Building For Clinic Is Finished Here

The Snyder Hospital Clinic has completed its expansion program with the addition of a new clinic building adjoining the old hospital building.

Opened last week, the clinic has an entrance on Twenty-sixth Street. The old entrance on Avenue F will be used strictly as a hospital entrance.

The new hollow-tile structure adds 2,150 square feet to the hospital plant. It gives office space to five physicians and examining rooms with each of the offices. The clinic has its own laboratory and an ample waiting room. Also there is a library and lounge for the doctors which has showers and rest room facilities.

Dr. W. M. Smith, Dr. L. J. Neal, and Dr. Mary Booth have already moved their offices in the new section. Dr. Raymond Mundt will open his office there when he arrives tomorrow. When Dr. Dan Harrison returns to practice his office also will be in the clinic.

The walls in the new section are painted buff and the ceilings light blue. The cost of this addition together with some renovating to the old hospital will run around $50,000, according to Bruce L. Greer, manager. He said that with the rearranging that can be done in the hospital now that the physicians have moved to new offices, an additional 10 beds will be added.

In the hospital there will be a new emergency room and cast room. Four rooms will be added to the obstetrical ward.

The lot just south of the hospital is being landscaped and beautified at the present time.

Poage Attacks Cotton Export Ban In Waco

WACO, Oct. 21. (AP) — Rep. W. R. Poage said last night he was "boiling mad" at President Truman for sustaining the Agriculture Department's cotton export ban.

Poage said the ban was a "lot of hokum" and that neither Truman nor Secretary of Agriculture Brannan knew anything about the cotton business.

The representative said the export ban has cost small farmers more than a hundred million dollars.

Poage said Brannan had told him farmers could put their cotton in loan to wait for higher prices.

Poage called that a lot of hokum, too, "small farmers have to sell their cotton to pay debts," he said.

Houston Mare Wins Three-Gaited Title

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21. (AP)—Sweet Lavender, owned by Twin Oak stable of Houston, won the 3-gaited championship of the American Royal Horse Show last night.

The chestnut mare was the favorite of the audience of 8,500 as well as the judges. The championship carried with it the second largest purse of the show, $2,500, also a $400 sterling silver salad bowl. There were nine other contenders.

Runner-ups were, second, Jovial Kalarama, owned by Claudette Roth of Chicago and, third, Hazel Dawn Again, owned by Mrs. Royal Lee of Milwaukee.

Another feature event was presentation of the Conformation Hunter Championship award and trophy of the Midwest Hunter and Jumper Association to Her Time, entry of August A. Busch, Jr., Afton, Mo. Lady Gordon, owned by Si Jayne of River Grove, Ill., was named reserve champion.

Ground cork is still used for bottle stoppers, but the larger quantity goes into insulation for refor cold pipes and gaskets; and cork floor tile.

Divorce Given On Grounds Of Spying

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP) — Mrs. Evelyn Roberts, 25, complained in circuit court that her husband spent much of his time spying on her—with the aid of a telescope and binoculars.

She told Judge Daniel Roberts in her suit for divorce that her husband, Howard, 29, a railroad clerk, was jealous. She said she frequently caught him spying when she went shopping or calling on neighbors. Worst of all, she told the court, he made erroneous deductions from his spying and disputes resulted.

Curse Is 28 Years Late In Coming True

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 21. (AP) — Maj. C. Robert Hoyme, one of the party of 22 men who opened King Tutankhamen's tomb, is dead at the age of 64.

Mayor Hoyme believed he was the last survivor of the party which nearly 28 years ago defied the curse inscribed over the tomb's entrance 'Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of the Pharaoh."

Maj. Hoyme, a Mack Truck vice president here, leaves his widow, Elizabeth. He was a native of Eau Claire, Wis.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 21. (AP) —An authoritative government source said today the United States will turn over six destroyers to Greece under its military aid program.

Four of them are old-type vessels and are scheduled to be transferred by the end of 1950. The other two are modern ships and will be handed over later, the government source said.

He added that crews already are en route to America for training before they man the destroyers.

Creation Of Atlantic Power Army Is Near

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. —Military leaders of the North Atlantic powers get together here Tuesday to shape strategy for their defense against Communist aggression.

From sessions of the subordinate military committee of the North Atlantic treaty organization will come recommendations to the defense ministers of the 12 nations.

On Oct. 28, ministers themselves will begin a four-day parley at which they hope to agree on how many infantry divisions, ships and planes each nation will provide for the combined force—and how they will be used if any one of the treaty nations is attacked.

When Defense Secretary George C. Marshall initials the final agreements it will mark the end of a policy as old as the United States.

It will be a far step from George Washington's proclamation that "it is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world."

Many questions await answers at the meetings.

Near the top, there is the matter of whether to partially rearm western Germany under allied control.

France has another problem. She is engaged in war with Red forces in Indochina. It is a question how much military force she can spare elsewhere.

There there is the question of naming a supreme commander for the western European defense force. The popular idea has been to appoint an American—perhaps Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower or Gen. Omar Bradley.

The American position has been that it would be premature to appoint a supreme commander before there were forces for him to command. Now the creation of those forces is close at hand. Because Eisenhower figures in speculation over the 1952 Republican presidential nomination, the question has political overtones in the United States.

The Russians, who haven't liked any part of the Atlantic Powers defensive preparations, are annoyed especially by the West Germany proposals.

At the western military chiefs' meetings, the United States will set down on paper, with the other nations, what forces it proposes to station in Europe.

Truck and Two Cars Collide West of City

Four men yesterday afternoon escaped injury when two cars and a truck collided at the west end of the bridge just outside the city limits on the Lamesa highway.

The accident occurred as a car driven by Theodore Roosevelt Rowe, 46, of 2400 Avenue N, was struck from behind by a Western Co. truck driven by Robert Overly, 23, and pushed into the rear of another automobile driven by C. C. Clopton, 48, of Hermleigh.

The men told officers that Clopton's car entered the highway from a side road in front of the other two vehicles, and that Rowe attempted to stop quickly to avoid hitting it, the truck then striking Rowe's car.

About $50 damage was done to Clopton's car, and about $200 to Rowe's. The truck was not damaged. Another passenger was with Clopton.

Gas-Cut Mud Recovered In Lea County

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Dickenson, wildcat in Northeast Lea County, N. M., recovered 480 feet of gas-cut mud, 360 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 30 feet of free oil and no water on a drillstem test in the Mississippian lime.

The tested interval was at 11,392-500 feet. Tool was open three hours. Gas was to the surface in one hour and 20 minutes. No fluid came to the surface while tool was open.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure ranged from 273 to 340 pounds. Shut-in bottomhole pressure after 15 minutes was 765 pounds.

Operator is now drilling below 11,506 feet in Mississippian lime.

The No. 1 Dickenson is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 35-14s-37e. Drillsite is one and three-quarters miles north of the Denton field and about 17 miles north and a little east of Lovington.

Man Arrested For Carrying Quarters In His Gasoline Tank

HOUSTON, Oct. 21. (AP) — Police today arrested a 33-year old man after he took 4,408 quarters from an automobile gasoline tank as he sought to purchase a new vehicle.

The man is being questioned about the Oct. 1 robbery of a refrigeration company from which a large quantity of quarters were taken. Police said the arrested man sought to trade in his two weeks old automobile on a new one after being involved in a traffic accident.

W. B. McKee, automobile salesman, said he told the man it would take $1,000 to complete the trade-in.

"I've got that much in my gas tank," the man said.

He quoted the man as saying if you travel a minimum of 2,000 miles a month and put your gasoline change in your gas tank the first four months you will have enough money to trade for a new car.

Dionne Quints Having Fun In New York City

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP) — The Dionne quintuplets, shy but smiling, faced up like veterans before the pop of photo flash guns as they got in their first good look at big city sights Friday.

The 16-year-old quints—Yvonne, Marie, Cecile, Emilie, and Annette—were accompanied on the tour by 11 classmates from Villa Notre Dame High School near their home town of Callander, Ont.

With Francis Cardinal Spellman as their host, the celebrated sisters sandwiched in sightseeing with a radio broadcast, a visit to St. Vincent's Hospital, and pose holding babies at the New York Foundling Hospital.

Vice Squad In Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 21. (AP) — Houston's new police chief today combined his morals and gambling divisions in a new vice squad.

Establishment of the vice squad followed the resignation of Capt. J. R. Davidson as head of the morals division, who has been assigned to the detectives division.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 21. (AP)—Joe (Red) Holt, Oklahoma City, was arrested Friday on charges of whisky possession and vagrancy. He paid a $40 fine.

Boss Kelly Funeral

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP) — Chicago's city hall entrances were draped in purple and black today as a mark of mourning for Edward J. Kelly, former mayor and long time Democratic political leader.

Kelly, 74, died of a heart attack Friday in his doctor's office where he had gone for a checkup.

Services will be Tuesday in Holy Name Cathedral.

Methodists In Korea

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP) — Representatives of the Methodist Church are in Korea so the church can determine what kind and how much aid it should give in relief funds. Bishop William C. Martin said Friday the aid will probably be allotted through the Methodist Committee on Overseas Relief.

Man Sues Over A Postal Card

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 21. (AP)—Barber Bert Stone told a district court a post card he received a year ago contained only a short message—but big enough to get him in a jam with his wife.

He filed suit for $10,000 damages against Hall's Clothing Inc. and Evelyn Williams, one of its credit department employees.

The card said:

"Dear Bert: Call me today. Ph. 2-7648. Evelyn."

Carmon C. Harris, Stone's attorney, said Stone wasn't at home when the postman delivered the card—but Mrs. Stone was.

"When Stone returned home, he found his wife pretty upset," Harris told a reporter.

Harris said Stone later learned it came from a clothing store and gave his wife that explanation.

"She looked up the clothing store telephone number and it wasn't the same," Harris continued. "That didn't help much."

He said the number on the card is an unlisted number at the store's credit department. The lawyer said Evelyn answers the phone.

Evelyn was described as the happily married mother of a daughter.

Stone charged that the postal card implied he "was carrying on a clandestine love affair with a woman named Evelyn."

The plaintiff said the card embarrassed him and reflected on his marital fidelity.

Benson said it was surprising the number of people who call Evelyn after receiving one of the cards—after other efforts to reach them failed.

CADIZ, O., Oct. 21. (AP) — Petitions are being circulated in this Eastern Ohio town of 3,000 seeking the release from the Army of its only full-time physician.

Dr. Donald Tippett, an Army Reservist, was called to active duty recently. The petitions asking his release will be sent to Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio).

Cadiz still has three doctors, but the hours of practice of two are limited because of age and the third is ill.

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BIOW

In a day of vanished buffalo, stays, scissor sharpeners, and hore nound candy bars, it is heart warming to note that in Snyder we still have one old American stand-by, and they can't take that away from us. True, it is becoming scarcer and scarcer. But so long as gallantry lives in the male heart, we have it. I refer to hat-doffing. Hat doffing probably originated with lonely John Smith or one of those other Pilgrim forebears, whose adventurous but impoverished lives contained so few of the fairer sex that when one was sighted, sheer, undiluted rapture moved him to sweep off his broad beaver in a gesture yet alive in our land. Hat doffing, like the buffalo, has faded, but this is one reservation where it is still nurtured. Chief exponents of this grand old custom are C. T. McLAUGHLIN and BOB DAVIE, representatives of two generations, one as expert at the hat-doff as the other. To meet Attorney Davie on a workday morning one almost walks right off the sidewalk in admiration of his warm greeting. He throws everything he has into it. His arm swoops up, strikes the 45 degree angle, whooosh, off with the semi-western hat, and downnnnn in a generous, elegant motion, which is, frankly down right swashbuckling! "Mr. Mac" holds to another type of salute, similar, and equally stirring to the recipient. His is graceful, sincere, but perhaps more modulated. It shows more practice, less force, but not necessarily less spontaneity. Both certainly set up a girl's spirits, and were this realized more widely among the men in these parts, hat doffing would thrive again, I believe.

MRS. H. P. BROWN, 2812 Avenue U, who has a way about her in describing a party, is naturally one of my favorites. She tells vivaciously of the Tacky party Mrs. A. D. ERWIN gave in keeping with the pixy Halloween mood going around these brisk fall days. MRS. T. L. LOLLAR must have stolen the show, with her mock-fancy costume. . . many strands of beads swinging, long ear screws, a white dress discarded 15 years ago by her daughter "who never would wear it." ::Except she didn't look tacky" complained Mrs. Brown. MRS. FRITZ SMITH won the tacky priz hands down, in a pitiful-looking small orphan boys mask, lips drooping, wretched mien that wrung all the hearts present. The kids suit she wore enhanced the facial expression. MRS. R. C. MILLER Mrs. Erwins daughter, helped pass around "refreshments," a cardboard box of "grub—crackers, sad-looking preserves, and sour milk. Later, a lovely repast popped up, though, and they all ate elegantly in the end.

A 15-minute telephone conversation across the wide, blue Pacific must have cost LT. O. W. JOHNSON a month's salary, but he and his mother, who lives in San Antonio, enjoyed it. Lt. Johnson is a grand-son of MR. AND MRS. A. P. MORRIS, who are always eager to hear news from him. He called from Tokyo, Japan, on leave, before returning to Korea and action. . . MRS. CAROLYN REON insists you would profit and enjoy the Guidance Class, now in session each Monday night at the high school. Taught by a professor from Hardin-Simmons University, it's an extension course, worth college credits, and, moreover, helpful in any walk of life, particularly if you have or know children. Room for more to enroll. Call the school about it. . .BETTY and CONNIE CONNELL, ardent tennis fans, as well as rodeo artists, tap dance queens, and various other versatilities, are eagerly awaiting their spanking new tennis court, to be a reality one day soon. Located near the new Connell home, going up south of town, it will be "super" for the teen-agers because D. C. VAN SICLEN, expert tennis player as well as geologist and good at engineering, too, drew it up and promises the Connell sisters will be mighty popular with the best tennis court in town. . .Everybody, especially those interested in the oil industry (and who isn't one way or another) is going, has gone, or would enjoy attending the oil show in Odessa, today being the last day of the four-day exposition, which vies with the larger but no showier oil event in Houston. . .''Brownie'' suits, and all other girl scout gear are much sought after, with a big drive on to swell the ranks of the popular organization here . . .Dunlap's is trying for the franchize to sell the gear, and before you drive to Sweetwater, nearest place thus far, enquire if MR. WOODY WILSON, store manager, has the suits right here in town.

G.O.P. Congressional Strength Up From 1948, Survey Reaveals

Democrats Are Expected To Hold Control

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J. Oct. 21 — While the Republican party has made a slight gain in congressional strength, survey figures reflecting sentiment as of early October show that control of the House will likely remain in Democratic hands.

The Democrats can take comfort in the fact that there has been a substantial upturn in their strength in comparison with 1946. On the other hand the Republicans will find grounds for optimism in the fact that the total voting runout, always lower in off-year races than in Presidential years, will fall substantially under the 1948 election total.

The party standings in the latest Institute survey on the Congressional (House) races are as follows:

	Per Cent
Democratic	43
Republican	42
Undecided	15
Total	100

The undecided vote can be of vital importance in determining the outcome. If it is assumed that the undecided group will either not vote or will vote in the same way as those who express a preference, the party standings nationally would be 50.5 per cent Democratic, 49.5 per cent Republican.

Outside the South the vote is 48 per cent Democratic, 52 per cent Republican, reflecting a Republican gain of a half per cent since the previous Institute report in September.

* * *

To obtain a clear picture of how these figures relate to past elections, the standings of the parties must be compared with other mid-term races, and not confused with Presidential election years when there is at work. Here is how today's are many additional factors at work. Here is how today 'survey figures compare with off-year election results dating back to 1934:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OFF-YEAR ELECTIONS

	Democratic P.C.	Seats	Republican P.C.	Seats
1934	56.8	322	43.2	103
1938	50.8	262	49.2	169
1942	48.0	222	52.0	209
1946	45.7	188	54.3	246

*Minor party seats not included in above table.)

Although party strength percentages are an indication of national trends of sentiment, there is no absolute relationship between the percentages and the number of seats won by each party in the House.

Nevertheless, the indications from today's survey are that, in terms of seats, the Republicans would gain over their present representation in the House. It is doubtful however, that the extent of the gain would be enough to enable them to take control.

As the above table shows, when the Republicans polled a higher figure than that in today's survey — 52 per cent in 1942 — they fell short of winning control of the House.

The division of seats at the last election (1948) was 263 Democratic, 171 Republicans and one minor party seat. It takes a minimum of 218 seats to win control.

* * *

Analysis of Factors

An examination of survey data dealing with four separate but related aspects of the present political situation should help dispel some of the confusion in the minds of political observers as they contemplate the Nov. 7 election.

These four factors combine to give a picture of the trends or currents of political sentiment. They are (1) degree of interest in the election and the probable number who will vote, (2) how the independent voters are leaning as between the two major partes, (3) the party which people think can best handle the problems they consider most important today, and (4) the popularity of the head of the administration and leader of the party in power, Mr. Truman.

* * *

Survey data on these factors show:

39,500,000 Turnout

1 — On the basis of New York City registrations and the turnout in three state elections within the past year — New York and New Jersey in 1949 and Maine in 1950 — the indicated turnout this year is 39,500,000 in the Congressional elections.

This vote would be higher than the turnout in any off-year election, but it would still be substantially below what might be expected in view of increases in the size of the population. Moreover it would be 9,000,000 below the 1948 turnout of 48,691,317.

Here is how the expected 1950 turnout would compare with the vote cast in the last mid-term election:

1946 election turnout	34,400,000
1950 indicated turnout	39,500,000

While this increase will bring cheer to the Democrats, it will nevertheless be a turnout far below that of other countries. If the voting rate in the United States were the same as in England, France, Italy and a number of other European countries — around 85 per cent — the 1950 turnout would reach the colossal total of about 80 million. A turnout of that magnitude would be a great advantage to the Democratic party.

As a way of finding out how much interest and excitement the 1950 elections are arousing in the population, the Institute asked a cross-section of voters whether they had discussed the elections with any friends or members of the family.

Up to last week only about half or 49 per cent, of those questioned said they had talked about the election. A much greater interes was found among persons who classify themselves as Republicans than among those who consider themselves Democrats.

Here is the survey question:

"Have you talked over the coming election with members of your family, or friends, or people in your (your husband's) line of work?"

	Per Cent
Yes	49
No	51
Total	100

Only 42 per cent of Democrats interviewed said they had talked over the coming election, as compared to 57 per cent of the Republicans.

The greater interest displayed by Republicans than by Democrats in mid-term voting helps explain why the G. O. P. makes substantial gains in off-year elections only to lose them in Presidential year.

The Independent Vote

2 — Just four years ago this week — on Oct. 16, 1946 — the Institute reported that a trend in favor of the Republicans in the Congressional races had gone so far as to indicate that the G. O. P. would take control of the House — which it did. The same report went on to say that a considerable majority of the Independent voters who had been Democratic in their leanings had shifted to the Republican side.

Today, four years later, the Independent voters still lean toward the G. O. P., but by a reduced margin.

Handling of Problems

3.— Another index of political sentiment is a survey in which voters are asked what problem they would like to hear discussed in the campaign, and then are asked "Which party do you think will do a better job of handling the problem you have just mentioned —the Democratic or the Republican?"

When this survey was conducted in 1946 the Republicans came off far the best. Today this is not the case.

	1946	Today
Democrats can handle problem best	40	51
G. O. P. can handle problem best	60	49
Total	100	100

In 1946 the principal issues named were rationing and shortages of clothing and other necessities; labor troubles and strikes; foreign policy and dealing with Russia; reducing the high cost of living, and the housing situation.

Today, by contrast, the principal issues named are avoiding general war and getting along with Russia, military and naval preparedness, the Korean situation, aid to Europe, the high cost of living and taxes and government finances.

Republicans are staking much this year on possible public reaction against high prices, higher taxes, the lack of military preparedness under a Democratic administration when the Korean war broke out, and other factors.

4 — Another adverse factor besides low turnout on the Democratic horizon today is the comparatively low popularity rating of President Truman. However, it is higher today than it was just prior to the 1946 Congressional elections.

In October, 1946, a total of 32 per cent of voters questioned by the Institute said they approved of the way Mr. Truman was handling his job as President, while 53 per cent disapproved and 15 per cent had no opinion.

Today the Truman popularity survey shows 39 per cent approving, 42 per cent disapproving and 19 per cent undecided.

Cop On Beat For 45 Years Can Recall "Twenty-three Skidoo"

NEW YORK, (AP) — In 45 years of directing traffic on the same busy corner, Patrolman Sydney Hutchins has seen millions of cars, thousands of horses and dozens of heroes.

He remembers the parades up Manhattan. He saw Marshal Joffre go by and the Prince of Wales and Queen Marie of Romania. He remembers that Jimmy Walker shared the applause with Lindbergh. He remembers Churchill and his cigar, and he got a smile from Eisenhower.

But at 73, the thing Hutchins remembers best was when a lady in mourning came across 23rd St. she ignored the light and came perilously close to the moving cars.

WHY OFFICER!

"So I grabbed her," Hutchins said, telling the story furtively, looking up and down the street as though he was afraid of eavesdroppers. "I grabbed her kind of hard and then I was embarassed because, after all, it was a lady I didn't know and she was in mourning. . ."

Hutchins, a stout, grey man, clapped his elbow. "Well sir," he said, 'know what happened? The lady turned on me and said, 'Why officer, I've never been hugged like that before.' "

Hutchin, a stout, gray man, clapped a hand on his mouth to stifle his laughter, glanced quickly up and down the street again and then relaxed at his post at 23rd St. where Fifth Ave. condescends to cross Broadway. He rested one hand on a no-left-turn sign and with the other waved cars on.

"Sure," he said, "I've been here on the same corner 45 years, been on the force 49. My feet get a little moving around on this job like a shortstop.

"But I still like it. I get a kick out of moving traffic, out of helping people make lights you might expect them to miss in a heavy jam. I hate to give tickets but I do. Yes, after 45 years here I still like people."

Hutchins' post is located on Madison Square, and he remembers the Square in its more glamorous days.

BUILDING MIRACLE

When Hutchins went to work on the Square, the 21-story "Flatiron" building was the natural miracle of its age. The building is still there, now obscured by taller, more impressive structures. But the Square still has its legends.

According to one, the intersection was the windiest spot in the city in the long-skirted days before the first world war. Therefore it was a good place to catch a glimpse of a trim ankle, and policemen, according to the story, were busy shooing away staring men. Thus, "twenty-three skidoo."

Hutchins remembers well the days of horse-drawn carriages, and he thinks automobiles are a big improvement.

"A horse," he said, "has its own mind and will walk away when you don't expect it. An auto won't do anything you don't want it to do. Besides, The S.P.C.A. was always getting after us to care for horses parked at the curb when there was no driver around. We had to blanket them and secure them and worry about them."

In 45 years, people haven't changed much but perhaps they may hurry more, Hutchins says.

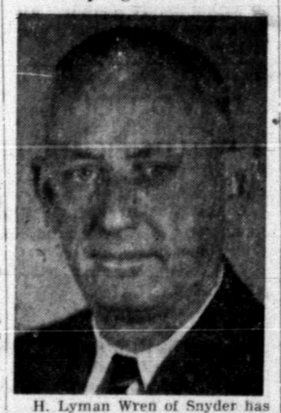

He recalls Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous British yachtsman out for a walk one morning. Hutchins consoled him by saying, "Even if you didn't win the cup race you have won our hearts." Sir Thomas was so touched he presented the cop with a shamrock pin.

Hutchins prizes, too, commendations he got from various police commissioners. In 1907, he was cited for stopping a runway team of horses. In 1943, he captured one of four holdup men trying to stick up a pool room. That was the only time Hutchins ever drew his gun.

"Been here 45 years," he says "and never had a fatal accident. But I was hit twice myself, by cars. Once in 1931 and again about eight years later. Lost six weeks that first time."

And in 45 years, Hutchins has found that drivers' alibis have varied little. It's eiter "Honest, officer, I didn't see the signal." Or "Sorry, officer, but I've had a lot on my mind lately and I just wasn't thinking."

WINDOW WHIMSY
Have you been wishing you could give your living room windows a new treatment without a lot of work and expense? Draperies can use up precious space in a small living room and make furniture placement difficult.
For a novel, easy-to-keep-clean plan that will make your windows look world's larger, try puting wallpaper panels about twelve or fourteen inches wide up each side from the floor to the top of the window. Then cover a scalloped—or straight-edged valance box with the wallpaper, and you have a striking effect for almost any type room.
Choose the wallpaper with the colors and the furnishings of your room in mind. Bold geometrics for Modern; Colonial or Medallion patterns for Early American or French Provincial.
If you already have wallpapered walls, reverse the plan... have plain panels and valance. Here's a drapery effect that always stays put, has no dust catching folds. Wax the wallpaper to finger-print proof it.
In the window sketched above no bulky drapes interfere with the placement of the lounging and reading group of two comfy barrel-back chairs and the step table. The two ottomans add a homey touch.

Psychological Warfare Now Is Recognized Branch of Strategy

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—The British laughed at the German Broadcaster Lord Haw Haw during the war—and hanged him afterward. American GIs usually were only amused at Tokyo Rose.

Experts in the Army's newly enlarged psychological warfare branch believe Haw Haw and Tokyo Rose were laughable because they showed no respect for the truth and that they did the Germans and Japanese more harm than good.

The basic idea with the Army's word-fighters is that in any conflict among peoples the truth must prevail sooner or later—and that the faster it spreads, the quicker the fighting will end.

The unit's job is to deliver the truth to enemy peoples and troops through mass communications and in such a way that they recognize it as the truth.

KOREAN CASE

As the Korean conflict began, the Communists were claiming the United States was the aggressor. Within hours American communication facilities were pouring the true facts to both North and South Koreans via radio, newspapers and leaflets.

The purpose was to assure the South Koreans they were fighting on the side of justice and to convince the Northerners they were making a mistake.

Psychological warfare received a good test in World War II. The fact it now is being elevated to a position of new importance is evidence top Army officials are convinced the use of words and ideas will save lives and shorten war.

Less than a year ago only one man was assigned to psychological warfare planning in G-3 the Army's plans-operations-training section.

Now Brig. Gen. Robert A. McClure has been assigned to head a fourth branch within G-3—psychological warfare. Army officials say a "substantial" number of experts will staff it. Most of them will come from the Army or Army Reserve or from the ranks of present government civilian employes. Some will be psychologists, others artists who will create posters and leaflets. Many will be technicians familiar with methods and equipment of mass communication.

THREE DIVISIONS

The division's work has three basic parts:

1. Developing new techniques for influencing people. This is mostly a peacetime task.

2. Conducting war with words and ideas, alongside combat soldiers.

3. Handling the flow of information in occupied nations after war has ended. This means information and other material available to the radio, newspapers, magazines and even theaters.

Wartime psychological warfare will have many applications, among them:

1. Radio programs to enemy populations and troops to tell the U. S. or United Nations' side of the story.

2. Droppings of leaflets to populations and troops urging them to surrender or evacuate areas about to be bombed or shelled or to otherwise influence their activities.

3. Broadcasting of news and commentary to newspaper and radio stations in friendly territory where normal channels of news transmission might be cut.

4. Distribution of leaflets urging humane treatment of prisoners and pointing out consequences that might result if they were mistreated.

5. Distribution of leaflets bearing safe-conduct passes through American lines for enemy troops who surrender. The Army says that almost all the North Koreans who gave themselves up carried those passes.

GOOD RESULTS

The Army has been broadcasting a news and commentary program to the South Koreans from Tokyo ever since the Korean fighting broke out. Officials say it has had good results on South Korean morale.

More than 50,000,000 propaganda and safe conduct leaflets were dropped or shot over North Korean troops and populations. The leaflets are dropped in bombs and fired in artillery shells. Both are directed so that they do no damage to people but scatter the leaflets over wide areas.

A lot of the planning of psychological warfare in time of war is done far behind the front lines. But there also are front line units. They consist of a company of leaflet-writers and crews operating with tanks, trucks and jeeps equipped with mobile printing presses and loud speakers. The speakers can be heard up to two miles. Recently airplanes have been equipped with speakers.

In World War II these crewmen, talking through loudspeakers to Japanese barricaded in caves and jungles and hopelessly surrounded or outnumbered, sometimes convinced the enemy he should surrender. This saved both Japanese and American lives.

Army officials say they cannot accurately estimate the number of prisoners captured or the number of lives saved by psychological warfare during World War II and in Korea.

But they say interviews after World War II with former enemy peoples and troops indicated the program was effective.

The job of the combat word-teams is to find the right words and ideas to apply to a rapidly changing situation, immediately, so enemy troops or populations are influenced in favor of U. S. forces.

The Germans sometimes gave psychological warfare another twist, scaring civilian populations into attempting to flee to the highways, thus blocking an American advance.

General McClure headed psychological warfare at Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force in Europe in World War II. He directed Allied information and censorship work in North Africa also and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for this.

He is 53 and has been in the Army most of his life, since World War I.

No Injury In Car Accident

Roy B. Crow, 27, of Sand Springs, escaped injury near Ira Friday afternoon when he fainted at the wheel, his car leaving the highway and striking a high-pressure natural gas line ventilation pipe.

Crow's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Crow, also of Sand Springs, said they were driving another car ahead of the accident victim, who was following them to their home, when the mishap occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Crow told Lloyd H. Merritt, sheriff, and E. W. Green, highway patrolman, that Roy Crow was subject to occasional fainting due to a former accident in which he suffered a head injury.

They said that after passing through Ira, they noticed that Roy Crow was not following them; so they turned around and drove back until they came upon the accident scene. Roy Crow was taken to the Snyder Hospital in a Bolger-Barnes ambulance after complaining that he was ill, but he was not kept in the hospital. He was not injured in the accident.

The mishap occurred at 1:30 o'clock about one-half mile south of Ira.

Male Monopolies End As Girl Aims At Horse Opera Heroism

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21. (AP)—Reno Browne is a slender, gold-blonde beauty who has spent the last three of her 26 years trying to convince Hollywood it has overlooked the cowgirl as a highly exploitable commodity.

From William S. Hart, Tom Mix and Buck Jones right down to Roy Rogers and Gene Autry, the horse opera has been a male monopoly. The ranch owner's daughter traditionally ranks after the hero's horse in his affections.

Miss Browne, who has played the daughter of ranchers from the Pecos to Portland in a score of films, believes the time is right for a woman to invade the Hollywood range.

THEY SOON QUIT

True, the screen has had its Belle Starrs and Calamity Janes. But they were played by actresses who went western only for those roles then limped, saddle sore, back to the drawing room.

A gal willing to buckle on her guns, climb into the saddle and stay there could make a million rounding up the dogies, says Reno.

"I hope it's me. If not me, it's bound to be someone else. The spot is there to be filled."

Why is she so sure?

Because little girls like to play Wild West, too.

"Cowboys," Reno says, "have become big business. They make more from commercial tie-ins-cap pistols, costumes, comic books — than they earn from pictures. But it's all for little boys. The girls have nothing."

To tap this market, all that's necessary is a cowgirl star. That's where Reno comes in.

MOVIE LOOMS

Having wound up her film contract with Monogram Studio, where for three years she was the kissless sweetheart of Johnny Mack Brown and Whip Wilson, she is preparing a series of television films which will find her—not the boyfriend—chasing the rustlers. The series is backed by a merchandising firm which hopes to capitalize on her popularity with the sagebrush set. If it clicks a movie version will be the next step.

Any other candidates for the job of western queen will have to hustle. For besides being willing—"I have no ambition to be in anything but westerns"—Reno is able.

She's a crack rider. She can rope, shoot, even play a guitar. And in case it's ever required, Reno says she's practicing knife throwing and cracking a bull whip. As all Hollywood cowhands must, she has a glamor horse, Major, $6,000 worth of prancing Palomino. Her closets contain some 20 gaudy cowgirl outfits for parade and rodeo appearances. She has a fan club of 5,000.

BY ACCIDENT

Relaxing in her living room in the brushy Hollywood Hills, Miss Browne said she got into the cowboy business by chance.

Born Ruth Josephine Clarke, the daughter of a wealthy Reno, Nev., attorney, she came to filmland "on speculation," after graduation from the University of Nevada.

"I wanted to be a dramatic actress. I'd studied ballet. So I spent a year at the Pasadena Playhouse. Then I hired an agent. When I told him I had learned to ride on a Nevada ranch, he wasted no time. The next thing I knew I was performing in an 'eight day wonder' at Monogram."

That was three years ago. Since then she has galloped through more than 20 flyweight "oaters," always playing second fiddle to the hero.

"They won't even let me ride Major. He would have drawn attention from the star."

HOW IS THE VOTE

Will the fans accept heroics from a woman?

"The little girls will," Reno said. "And there are a lot of boys in my fan club. The oldest is 97. I can give them action. In the television series I'm to shoot and rope -everything but hand to hand fighting. After all, it wouldn't be gallant for a rustler to sock a lady."

Miss Browne, who lives alone and likes it, said she devotes most of her spare time to her fan club. When she receives a request for a picture, she sends back with it a request for a photograph of the fan. These she files, along with his name, age, hobbies and the name of his dog or cat.

The club has a quarterly magazine and chapters in every country outside the iron curtain.

Its expenses are borne by the founder, Reno's father, who also bankrolled her house, private plane, automobiles and lavish wardrobe. Next to his daughter, he is most interested in seeing Reno Browne become "queen of the westerns."

Earlier Arrival Of Morning Mail Here Is Proposed in New Plan

A plan for speeding the mail delivery to Snyder is under consideration by postal inspectors in Fort Worth, it was learned last week.

An appeal has been made, and was reiterated last week to a postal inspector visiting in the Snyder office, that the mail be brought to Snyder from Sweetwater by truck instead of by the morning Santa Fe passenger train.

This would get the mail into the local office at about 4:30 o'clock in the morning, instead of about 7 o'clock when it now arrives on ee train. This three - hour advantage would enable mail sorters to handle the morning mail by 10 o'clock in the morning, and would greatly improve service here.

The plan, which was first proposed to the post office department six months ago, would be to send a truck to Sweetwater to pick up the mail as soon as it arrives there on the Texas & Pacific. Under the present system, the mail is taken off the Texas & Pacific and held for a few hours waiting on the westbound Santa Fe which brings it from Sweetwater to Snyder.

In the clutches of THE LAW and he doesn't know why

Most of the teen-age youngsters who run afoul of the law do not know why!

They can hardly be expected to realize that a lack of proper moral and religious training has left them ill-equipped for honest, decent living.

In many cases, their parents did not give them the advantage of religious education in the Church. And so, all their lives they may have to pay the penalty of their parent's neglect.

Juvenile Delinquency is hard to cure, but it is easy to prevent. The Church, with the support and cooperation of faithful parents, can equip every child with the sure foundation of Christian truth.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prisoners Reveal Seoul Death March

By TOM LAMBERT.
(Associated Press Staff)

PYONGYANG, Oct. 21. — Three American survivors said today 280 U. S. prisoners of war were beaten and murdered on a Red death march from Seoul to Pyongyang, the captured Red capital.

The three said they saw no other Americans in Pyongyang except those they marched with from Seoul.

They said they were told in Seoul that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, commander of the U. S. 24th Infantry Division who disappeared when Taejon fell last July, was in Pyongyang.

TOLD HE DIED

But when they arrived here they were told Gen. Dean had died in Seoul. There was no confirmation of this report.

United Nations losses in dead, wounded and captured approach the 25,000 figure.

Swinging down Stalin street—the Russian-named main street of Pyongyang—the bearded and long haired captives were found by a group of correspondents as the prisoners marched arm in arm with three North Korean students who had befriended them. The Americans told of buddies being "beaten and murdered" on a torture march from Seoul.

SURVIVORS

The three American survivors of the death march were:

Air Force Capt. William Locke, 30, Enfield, Ga., an F-51 pilot whose wife Ronda and nine-months-old daughter, Karon, were at Yokoda Air Base in Japan when he crashed in North Korean territory near Waegwan Aug. 17.

Army Lt. Alexander Makaroumis, 27, Lowell, Mass., of Co. I, 29th Regiment, captured near Hadong July 27.

Army Sgt. Takeshi Kumdai of Honolulu, Headquarters Company, 34th Regiment, 24th Division, captured July 20 when the Reds took Kaesong.

They had been hiding since Saturday.

The three were the only survivors of a group of 283 American prisoners of war marched here from Seoul in late September and early October.

HIDE UNDER SCHOOL

The three Americans had hidden under a school and had been fed by the three students.

They came out today as the city fell to American and South Korean troops.

The trio said the Red Koreans told them they were being moved from Seoul to Pyongyang for "safety."

Capt. Locke said he pleaded with North Korean officials not to move the men and to give medical attention to the wounded.

The airmen said the North Koreans replied:

"We already got enough atrocities listed against us so a few more won't make any difference."

Capt. Locke said that during the death march Americans "died like flies from starvation, cold, pneumonia and dysentery."

Seventeen in the group were wounded when an American plane strafed their column, obviously mistaking them for Reds.

OTHERS LEAVE

The three survived because they had hidden under the school. They said others of the group were marched north as the United Nations forces approached Pyongyang. Their fate was not known.

On the trudge from Seoul to Pyongyang, the trio said the Reds shot those Americans who could not walk.

Said one:

"Some of the men were carrying their buddies on their backs. Guys who fell down were beaten and bayonetted by the Red guards."

Kumdai said the North Korean guards told him earlier the Americans were to be taken to Mampojin, which is located along the Yalu River on the Korean-Manchurian border.

The three survivors seemed to be in fair physical condition. They said they were in better shape than any of the Americans who were marched out of here Saturday.

ASK FOR SWEETS

First thing the three asked for was sugar—or anything sweet.

They ate heartily of Army ration jelly and cookies.

They gulped Army ration spaghetti and hamburger.

Capt. Locke remarked they would probably get sick from overeating.

Since their capture they had lived on scant rations of rice and water plus food given them by civilians who visited the school.

All three accused the North Koreans of starving American prisoners and failing to give them necessary medical treatment.

Capt. Locke said 373 Americans were moved out of Seoul on Sept. 20 as the Americans advanced on the city. He said many of the prisoners were suffering from hunger.

The American prisoners could hear artillery fire and "knew something was up" but did not know of the Sept. 15 landing at Inchon by allied forces.

Macaroumis, a bewhiskered giant in tattered clothing, said he saw the North Koreans shoot and kill one of the American prisoners on the trek to Pyongyang.

He added he was beaten by Communist civilians.

The three Americans said the Reds refused to allow any of the marchers to take blankets or bedding from Seoul.

SLEEP ON GROUND

They slept on the ground or boards. Some died of exposure.

The Reds refused an American plea for water during the march.

Capt. Locke said once an American plane dropped 36 cases of rations for them but "the bastard North Koreans took them although our men were starving."

When the Americans arrived in Pyongyang they were placed in the school. Some civilians, including the three students who marched down the street with them today, were allowed to visit them. Some brought them cigarets.

The students told the trio of a trap door in the school building. The trio dropped through the trap door Saturday shortly before the other prisoners headed north.

Trains at Fort Hood

John C. Ezell, Jr., son of Mr. J. C. Ezell, Snyder, has recently arrived at Fort Hood and has been assigned to a combat unit of the 2nd. Armored Division for basic training.

Girl Scouts' Drive Planned

A finance drive for Scurry County Girl Scouts will get underway Oct. 30, members of the Girl Scout council decided last week at a meeting in the Methodist Church.

"At least $2,000 must be raised during this drive or Girl Scouting in this county will fold up entirely," Nolan Watson, finance chairman, declared.

Facilities are now sufficient to take care of only a small part of the girls who have indicated they want to be Girl Scouts, it was pointed out.

Volunteer workers will attend a breakfast on Monday morning and then disperse to canvass the whole town.

The drive will coincide with National Girl Scout Week, which begins next Sunday.

Council members, leaders and others interested in working during the drive will meet at the church again next Thursday night to complete plans.

Inside Work Is Started At Youth Center

Finish work on the Youth Center building is now underway, and is expected to be finished by Saturday, the Rev. Charles Mathes, finance chairman, announced yesterday.

Sixteen light fixtures will hang from the Celotex ceiling in the large ballroom, Mathes said. Four fixtures will be placed in the anteroom. Walls of the ballroom and anteroom will be varnished knotty pine, trimmed in natural coloring. Outside trim will be green on the white building. Veneer doors will be put at the front and back. Rest rooms will have knotty pine and tile walls, the tile running half way up the walls, colored pink in the girls' room and green in the boys' room.

A Wurlitzer juke box, valued at about $1,000, was donated this week for the ballroom by a Chicago manufacturing concern connected with the Wurlitzer company. Redwood tables and benches were donated for the patio.

Leveling of dirt has begun around the building, and grass will be planted all around and all the way down the bank of the creek.

Still hoping to have Bob Hope here to perform for the opening, Mathes said the ceremony will be televised by the National Broadcasting Company.

With less than $100 on hand, Mathes reported the fund still in need of $4,255. Several money-raising plans are in the beginning to build up the fund.

"Right now I would like to express appreciation to several people who have given much help to the Youth Center program," Mathes added. "They are Frank Stevenson, Mrs. Ethel Nowlin, Harold Bennett, Mrs. Ophelia Blackard, Ed Harte, the Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, Veterans of Forgign Wars, American Legion, Altrurian Daughters, Business and Professional Women's Club and radio station KSNY. They have all played a big part in developing the Youth Center, and I would like to thank them."

Plane to Pick Walnuts

HEMET, Calif., Oct. 21. (AP) —Now they've found another use for helicopters — picking walnuts. But the first test of the system wasn't too successful.

The idea is to have the 'copter fly over the walnut grove. The downdraft from the prop blades is supposed to blow the nuts off the trees. A large audience gathered here yesterday to watch.

But most of the walnuts stuck to the trees. Lack of moisture in the air, decided the helicopter experimenters. They'll try again maybe, under better weather conditions.

Gets Korea Command

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, (above), liberator of Seoul and commander of the U. S. 10th Corps, has been named commander of all United Nations forces in Northeast Korea.

Business Outlook

Economist and Baruch Argue Merits of Economic Controls

By J. A. LIVINGSTON

Controls are beginning to cramp business men's style. The brief postwar period of laissez-faire—following OPA—is over. No longer can the government "let business alone."

Thus, William H. Harrison, head of the National Production Authority, is now talking of imposing limitation orders on the construction of non-essential commercial buildings — race tracks, theaters, dance halls, night clubs, and so on. This follows hard upon the credit curbs placed by the Federal Reserve Board and the Housing and Home Finance Agency on new home-building, which is expected to reduce the number of new dwellings next year to about 800,000 as compared with an estimated 1,200,000 this year.

PINCH AND SQUAWK.

Harrison reasons: If we curb the building of homes, we cannot permit the use of scarce materials and manpower to go on unabated in the construction of amusement places. A seasonal turndown in home-building has already commenced. An estimated 115,000 new homes were begun in September as against 141,000 in August.

Controls can be measured by squawk. Automobile dealers are complaining that the new Federal Reserve Board installment regulations—one-third down and only 15 months to pay, as against a third down and 21 months—are "murder." And some retail merchants have formally complained that the Federal Reserve Board acted "ill-advisedly." That's evidence of pinch.

More and more manufacturers are using priorities, D. O. forms, to speed military production — a sign of the spread of controls! Civilian rubber consumption has been fixed at 90,000 tons a month; it had been running about 100,000 tons. Aluminum and copper are on the schedule for "future restriction."

PRELUDE TO A FIGHT

Pressure to introduce all-out price control and rationing, as suggested by Bernard M. Baruch, is certain to mount in Congress. During the next three months, living costs, already at their postwar high, will rise sharply—reflecting recent markups in textiles and foods. Baruch still feels we're too lax in mobilizing. Recently he wrote me:

"Having followed your writings for some time, I was surprised to see you take the position that you did. My recommendations were not simply for the control of prices, wages, and all other costs, but along with that I stressed the need for raising taxes to a pay-as-you-go basis.

"I want both things done—heavy taxes and other measures to reduce spending power, and, along with that, a general overall ceiling to keep prices in balance and to keep people from passing on the higher taxes to those groups least able to pay for them. By your own admission, 'it looks as if inflation will just keep rolling along.'

BARUCH VS. SYMINGTON

"As to your remark that I am thinking in terms of the last war, the principles of mobilizing a nation remain the same. They were the same in World War I, in World War II, when many parroted the phrase, 'This is another kind of war,' and they are the same today. The degree to which less essential civilian activity must be curtailed varies with the need, but at all times all mobilization controls must go together in a balanced way."

That's what makes horse-racing—a difference of opinion. Despite Baruch's persuasive letter, I still can't see the need for an astringent economic program for a 10 per cent to 15 per cent war effort. And, what's far more important, neither can W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. In an interview with U. S. News and World Report, Symington said:

"The portion of national production going into military uses is substantial and will go higher. But it is not high enough to justify at this stage the complete system of controls that we had in 1944 when the military 'take' was practically half of the total economy. . ."

To adopt the Baruch plan would mean building up huge supervisory staffs. Beyond that, however, price controls would merely conceal and perhaps promote inflation. Congress, seeing that prices did not rise, would not raise taxes. Then, later, as when OPA folded, the under cover inflation would spill out all over the place.

BOON TO THE POUND

Some temporary relief from inflation may occur early next year. The government will run a large surplus in the first quarter as tax receipts rise. That will take money away from corporations and consumers.

Further, the Reserve Board's tight credit policy, initiated in August, will begin to take effect. As yet, banks haven't been squeezed by higher-interest rates or by the Reserve's open-market efforts to restrict credit. But along about March—just when taxes are coming due—the pressure will be on in earnest.

Meanwhile, defense buying has been a boon internationally. Since Korea, prices of imported commodities—rubber, tin, burlap, coffee, wool—have gone up on the average 33 per cent. And U. S. purchases from abroad have risen. The scarce dollar has become plentiful. Imports in August exceeded exports for the first time in 13 years. That's the basic cause of the new-found strength in the pound sterling. By lightening the financial burdens of the non-Communist world, the defense effort is, indirectly as well as directly, a blow against the spread of Communism.

New Grocery South of City

The H. and L. Grocery, north of Gordon's Drive-In on the Big Spring highway, was opened formally yesterday by its owners and operators, Richard Hardee and Alfred S. Lieb.

The store, which will also have a meat market, is in a building built by A. E. Henry of Colorado Springs and S. S. Steinberg of Snyder, and occupies a little more than half the building's area.

The concrete block structure is 50 by 75 feet, with 30 front feet for the grocery store and 20 for a tailor shop which Steinberg expects to open in the near future.

Hardee, widely-known in Scurry County, has lived in Snyder and near Ira. He has been in the retail grocery business a few years, and formerly had a store on the Lubbock highway.

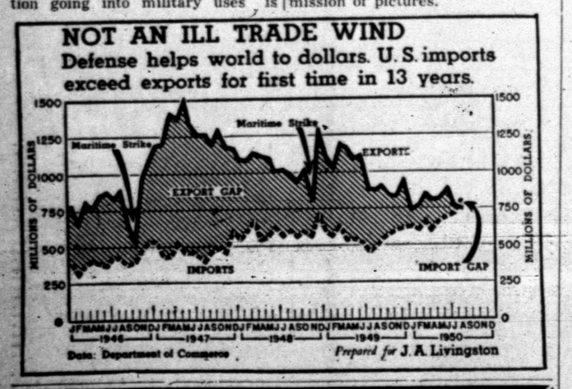

Lieb, a resident here four years, has had 20 years experience in wholesale grocery business with H. O. Wooten of Abilene. This is his first retail venture.

Chile Orders End To Crippling Dock Strike

VALPARAISO, Chile, Oct. 21. (AP)—Chile's government last night ordered 10,000 striking dock workers and seamen to go back to work at once. It also told naval forces to take over merchant shipping and piers.

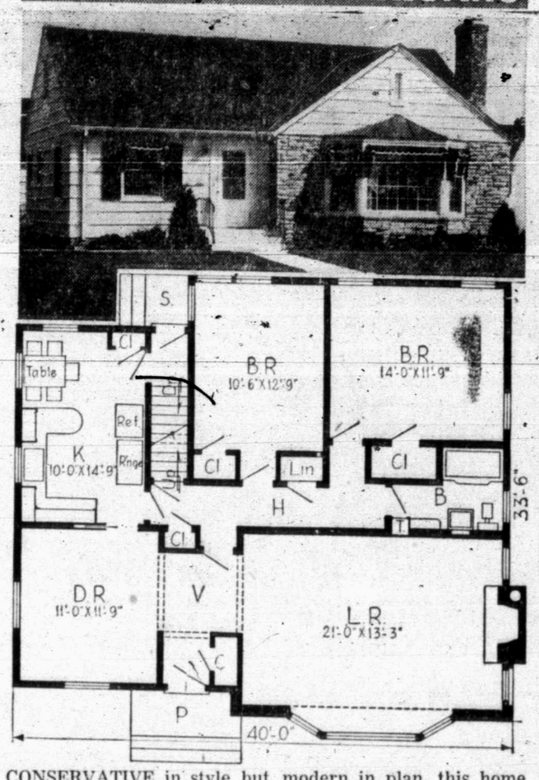

The seamen and dockers went on strike yesterday morning in protest against a government ruling that they were not covered by social security benefits. The tieup has halted shipping in all Chilean ports.

Paul Nipkow, German scientist who died in 1940, is regarded as the nearest to the "inventor" of television because of his development of the scanning disc, basis of transmission of pictures.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

CONSERVATIVE in style but modern in plan, this home was designed to meet popular preferences as well as the needs of normal American family living. Space for expansion is provided on the second floor and a full basement provides a recreation room, heating and laundry rooms. This plan NJ-115 by Norman R. Johnson, St. Paul, Minn., architect, was selected by the American Builder magazine, 30 Church St., New York 7, N. Y., for its features in meeting small house demand. The exterior combines stonework with double-coursed wood shingles and cedar shingles are used for the roof. The house covers about 1,200 square feet.

West Virginia Prison Mine Is Tranquil Spot in Labor Scene

By DONALD A. WILLIAMS

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Oct. 21. (AP) — Imagine, if you can, a coal mine that never misses a working day and never is bothered either by strikes or lockouts.

West Virginia, the nation's biggest soft coal producing state and scene of some of its most bitter employe-management disputes, has one.

The wages are low. There is no union or grievance committee. The operator is the absolute boss. But despite the apparent one-sided control, there is a waiting list for jobs.

Even so, not a single man working there, or on the waiting list would hesitate a minute about moving to another job.

ALL MINERS

The mine is run by the West Virginia state prison. The output goes to various other state institutions. The 50 employees, with the exception of the foreman, are penitentiary inmates. All are men who were miners by occupation before their enforced retirement from private employment.

There is no "slave labor" label on the mine. The men are keen and eager about their jobs. They live outside the walls, they get better food, they have their own recreation quarters. And, of course, they are keeping their hands in on their old civilian occupations.

Just recently 12 of the more experienced took an examination for mine foreman permits. The two-day tests, administered by the State Department of Mines, were the first ever given at the prison. The questions were the same as those put at regular examinations on the outside.

J. P. Aden, chief examiner for the state mines department, expressed frank surprise at the result.

Four men passed. Five others failed in only one of the 13 subjects and are eligible for a re-examination.

Aden said the record was better than the average.

THEY SURE DO

He had a ready explanation "They have plenty of time to study."

He noted that for the most part, the convict-miners made better marks on the technical subjects which required book study and lower marks on the practical phases.

The applicants, all trusties, qualified for the examination from an experience standpoint, based for the most part on their prison employment.

Their technical know-how was obtained from the "mine foreman's guide," a handbook published by the Mines Department and a standard text for all mine foremen. The study program was arranged by James Demarchi, vocational director of the prison's education department.

Aden said all of the men who took the tests were short-term prisoners who have a definite prospect of obtaining their releases within a relatively short time — either on parole or upon the completion of their terms.

Columnist Sees Compulsory — Education As False Principle

By J. EVETTS HALEY

These times are full of compensations, of a sort, for those who figure that life is simply a process of education. With a lack of discipline that should be "liberal" enough for any "progressive" educator, school goes on continually. The trouble is that the lessons are never learned. For illustration just take the present threat of national bankruptcy.

Despite the recordings of history throughout the ages, we were at first assured there was no danger in quitting the gold standard, in living upon an unbalanced budget, and in spending without stint beyond our means. Inflation? It was the bogey of the bears of Wall Street and of reactionary interests everywhere. Savings were really harmful. A little indebtedness was a good thing. And why worry what it is, for don't "we owe it to ourselves."

* * *

Shibbaleths and smartaleck catchphrases have played a part in muddying up the once fairly clear waters of American thought. Their influences would be a fitter subject for a doctoral thesis than many conceived in the intellectual stratosphere of our universities, and still-born in their seminars.

Nowhere in the Southwest were they more readily bandied about with the smug intellectual assurance that borders on arrogance than among the pink fringe at the University of Texas. Whoever dared question their lofty wisdom, their boorish manners, their disregard for decency, or even their blatant denials of the fundamentals of freedom, was guilty of "fascist sympathies." Any attempt, even by the University authorities, to restrain their dishonest propaganda was an outrageous assault upon the untouchable charter of their license — "academic freedom."

* * *

But this is not intended as a verbal treatment upon an old sore at Austin. There is time enough for that. Right now, along with a lot of other Texans, we are still involved with controls on cotton. So again we'll shake the dirt out of our sack, re-adjust our kneepads, and wearily work out another row in an attempt to pull some lint out of the prickly burs.

Washington has stepped into the cotton patches with its police power. It is warning farmers whose children are picking cotton. Its agents are even stopping Mexican families from work just after another federal agency has admitted them for this purpose. It is they allege, against the child labor law for them to be at work when school is in session. Some are being pulled out of the patches, while in many places boards of education are dismissing school until the crop is in, thus forcing many to be idle while others work. What does all this racket really mean?

Does it mean that cotton is given preference over calculus? If so, after our own brief and abortive courses in both, we vote wholeheartedly for cotton. After all, in a land hell-bent on humanitarianism, there should be some limitation upon this disregard of the sensitive natures of mathematically backward children. Perhaps some of them would rather work, dream and rest in the shade of a cotton stalk than wrestle in mental agony with problems they can't comprehend, and would never use if they could.

Could it be possible, in a world still requiring a lot of mental effort, that some are better served by learning the dignity of hard and useful labor in a cotton patch, than by being moulded into cynical misfits in the classroom? Who will do the common labor when all are educated to the managerial level? Is it so bad that some sweating youngsters, being disciplined by a little deprivation, should perhaps thereby come to dream and labor a little more fervently for a brighter and better world beyond the cotton rows?

* * *

The pinks of this generation are the product of the higher class-cotton patches. It is a little too rooms: not the results of the much to expect this kind of education to find favor among people who have for years accepted, almost without question, the fallacious theories of compulsory, universal education.

A lot of cotton in Texas has always been gathered by families of pickers. The sad plight of children learning to work has torn the hearts of the do-gooders for generations. And so at least, irrespective of individual differences and the wishes of the parents, their salvation has been arbitrarily provided by two laws. One by the state compels their attendance at school. The other invokes the federal police power to make it an offense for them to work on the farm when school is in progress.

* * *

Nobody paid too much attention to this misguided legislation until federal functionaries showed up recently to threaten farmers with the law. Instead of Texas rising in righteous wrath and running these meddlers out, it accepts the revolutionary principle involved, and to evade it, schools are being shot down so that picking can continue.

This immoral federal act is of deep and potentially tragic significance. By our acquiescence we unconsciously accept one of the basic principles of total regimentation. Long ago it was sold to us upon the proposition that it was for the good of our children. Now its fearful import is obvious.

* * *

Parents are no longer legally in control of their children. We have agreed that an all-powerful state, in its superior charity and wisdom, may tell fathers and mothers what is best for their children. This too is true in Russia. No matter the child's inclination or ability, no matter the wholesome and educative value of the job at hand, no matter the dire need for its help in making a living, it is now the ward of the state and under its control.

If this degenerate assumption is allowed to stand, then we bipeds who breed for the sake of the state may expect complete control. In order gradually to induce its acceptance, advance police agents are stalking through our cotton patches. The economics involved are of little moment. The problem of the integrity of the human soul, and hence in dividual freedom, is here. If this issue arising in the fields should help to wake us up, then cotton may again rank alongside calculus in a curriculum that is in harmony with the realities of life.

Connally Asks Modification

MARLIN, Tex., Oct. 21. (AP)—An appeal to modify the cotton export limit order has been made by U. S. Sen. Tom Connally to President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

He charged the order created hardships and discrimination against the cotton grower.

In telegrams to both men he asked for a review of the order.

Connally said if the order should be modified to allow the export of cotton covered by contracts made before announcement of the limitation order, it would do much to relieve the immediate situation and "Redeem the integrity of the government in not repudiating such contracts."

Secretary Brannan limited cotton exports to two million bales in the 18-month August to March period.

Connally said the limitation penalizes the cotton producers and aids cotton and textile mills. He said these latter can secure cotton at prices lower than the world price. He said that "Mexican cotton is selling at from 60 to 65 cents per pound as against 40 cents per pound for American cotton, and that Brazilian cotton is selling at 20 cents per pound above American cotton."

"Cotton farmers are in a panic," he said. "They are marketing 60,000 bales daily at present at a discount by reason of the order. Texas cotton farmers are furnishing one half of this amount."

One-Legged Man Wins Suit Against Landlady

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 21. (AP) — A one-legged man won a court case in a walk yesterday.

Harry Rost, 38, appeared in court on his landlady's charge that his artificial leg had damaged floors and produced "thumpings" so loud she could hear them in her own home two doors away.

District Judge Maurice Murphy asked Rost to walk across the courtroom and later gave a verdict in his favor.

Although often rated as a weed, mustard is valuable as a soil binder in conservation wtrk.
