GOVERNMENT'S ATTORNEY PROMISES PROOF OF CROOKEDNESS

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—A picture of Harry M. Daugherty as an attorney general who stooped to graft while sworn to enforce the law, was sketched today by United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner in his opening address at the trial of Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian.

Premises Full Proof "We will show you," Buckner said, "that Jess W. Smith, who later committed suicide in Daugherty's Washington home, was his agent in the transfer of $7,000,000 of the assets of the American metal company to Richard Merton, a German who came over here and negotiated with John T. King, Connecticut, who was a Republican national committeeman and who died last June, for the return of that enemy-owned property."

Liberty Bonds Traced We will show it, no by Merton's testimony, for he will tell you he paid money only to King and talked only to King and Smith and Miller, but by tracing some of the $31,000 of liberty bonds, the very ones Merton gave to King, to the bank of Daugherty's brother, Mal S. Daugherty, in Washington court house Ohio.

For Beauty and Grace, Healthy Spine Necessary

Carol Krouse Showing spine stretching exercise.

By NINON For NEA Service

THERE can be no real beauty without grace and no grace without a healthy, normal spine.

I suppose if we could see our backs and had to see them as we do our fronts we would develop some standard for them. Then if we saw our spine functioning the straight and sure manner, we would realize something was wrong.

Now our greatest concern for our backs is that the skin that covers the bony structure be sufficiently white and beautiful to allow us to wear as low cut a gown as we crave. If you analyze the faults of any figure, if you try to account for the hump or bumps that don't belong, if you wonder about jerky unlovely movements, you can trace any or all back to lack of coordination between the spine and that particular portion of the body.

Your spine, like any other part of your body, will shirk its job whenever you let it. Likewise, it will assume obligations that belong elsewhere.

One of the best, all-round exercises for keeping your spine limbered up is the one illustrated today. Lie flat on the floor with your arms folded across your back. Your legs are not important in this particular exercise, so you can let them lie out flat or point skyward, as you will.

Raise your body as far from the floor as you can. Then raise your head up and then down and then turn it to the right and then to the left. Then roll your head in a complete circle. Then relax completely.

It is extremely important in all exercises that you do not overdo at first and that you do not strain your muscles. This exercise will relieve the nerve tension at the back of your neck—where you probably carry all your worries, and it also is excellent for the muscles of the stomach and abdomen—it has been known to reduce superfluous flesh in this region quite noticeably.

The contest is divided into two classes: 1. the greatest amount of improvement made for a sum not to exceed $25, and second, for the greatest amount of improvement made for a sum over $25. Judging will be based on the greatest amount of improvement, entirely, but on the expenditures for the improvements.

Judges in the county contest will be Mrs. Roy Sides, formerly Miss Leola Cox, who was home demonstration agent in Van Zandt county; and Misses Eula and Rena Smith. Ten women in the county are now actively in the contest as follows:

Mrs. Travis Tubbs, and Mrs. A. G. Jones, Carlisle; Mrs. Ed Schroeder, and Mrs. W. M. Blair, Wolfarth; Mrs. L. E. Dendley, Southwest Ward; Mrs. L. E. Robinson and Mrs. J. L. Coleman, Woodrow; Mrs. J. N. Davis, Mrs. R. L. Wicker, and Mrs. L. D. Coleman, of the City Line club, Slaton.

AWKWARD BOY FAILS TO SHOW ANYTHING GOOD

EDDIE HUFFMAN GOES TO FINISH LITTLE HURT BY GEORGIAN

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The figure of William L. (Young) Stribling, stocky boxer from Georgia, cast but a pale shadow over Tex Rickard's heavy-weight tournament today.

Although victorious in his ten-round match with Eddie Huffman, La Blanche's light heavyweight, at Madison Square Garden last night, Stribling failed to impress fans with his ability just as he failed in his 1926 fight with Paul Berlenbach for the 175-pound championship. Stribling looked like a victory over Huffman in a featureless match, marred by clinching, bounding and acrobatic feats.

Fights Defensively
Stribling from the start waged a defensive campaign that left the spectators yawning. There was little snap in his long left jab, little desire to force the milling.

He flitted about the ring stinging punches at the awkward Huffman from long range, closing now and then to maul away at the Californian's ribs. Huffman pleaded forward, rarely landing effectively, but constantly forcing his way into a defense that he could never quite solve.

Huffman was unable to evade Stribling's long left hand consistently. At close quarters, the southerner lifted his right at times to Huffman's head but at no stage were the blows heavy enough to bring a semblance of a knockdown. Blood trickled in the late rounds from cuts in Huffman's left ear and mouth while a mixup in the sixth frame drew blood from Stribling's nose. Both men scored 11½ points, but Huffman's three points over the 175-pounder limit.

Here's Brand New Way to Win the Varsity Letter

ELLIOT TUGENT, NORMA LEE

By NEA Service
COLUMBUS, Feb. 8.—Ohio State University has just awarded an honorary varsity "O" to Elliott Nugent, author and star of the play, "The Poor Nut." The award is made for "service" to the university.

"The Poor Nut" deals with college life, and during the course of the plot, the young Ohio graduates speeds around the state in a cinder truck carrying the scarlet and gray of his alma mater to glorious victory.

For nearly two years Nugent, at night and during matinees, has kept the name and fame of Ohio State before the public. Hence the honorary "O."

MATADORS WILL SHOW STRONGER FLOOR COMBINE

TEAM THAT MEETS SAM'L HOUSTON FIVE IS MUCH IMPROVED

Coach Grady Higginbotham's scarlet clad engers will take up their basketball schedule again tomorrow evening with the strong cinder aggregation of Sam Houston Normal, of Huntsville. The game is called for eight o'clock and will be played on the assembly hall floor. The Houstonians are on a banistering journey and have added much experience through their trip. Several of the strongest quintets among the state colleges have suffered defeat at the hands of the Huntsville crew and no doubt they will do their best to defeat the Matador five in their two appearances here.

Tech Is Improved
A much improved machine will go into the encounter with the visiting Teachers here tomorrow evening to carry the scarlet and black banner. After returning from the Abilene trip the Matadors have been shaping up on their faulty plays that were exhibited on the floors of the three Abilene educational institutions.

The Houstonians finish their scheduled dates with the W. T. S. T. C. Buffs this evening and will be in Lubbock tomorrow morning. The Buffs gave the Huntsville five a mean drubbing last night defeating them by a score of 46 to 9.

Paul Berlenbach To Quit Ring, He Says

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—Paul Berlenbach, former world light heavyweight champion, who was recently beaten by Mike McTigue in four rounds, announced his retirement from the ring today to enter the lumber business. His net ring earnings are estimated at $250,000.

Rival Leaders Fear Strength Of Tiger's

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—American League managers already are beginning to worry about the pennant chances of the Detroit club. While some are skeptical of George Moriarty's chances to do big things in his first year, all frankly admit he knows baseball and has a pretty good club to work with.

While the rival managers look for a few years' improvement in the play of the club, on the theory that the spirit will be better, it is improved pitching that is being given the most consideration.

"I look for Detroit's pitching to be at least 30 per cent more efficient this year," says a certain American League pilot. When pressed for a reason he replied:

"While Cobb's intentions always were of the best, his system of trying to tell the pitcher what he should do on every batter will not work out. In a short series, such as the world championship games, it might be all right. John McGraw worked it successfully one year. However, it won't function properly over a season's play."

"Moriarty will allow his pitchers to work out their own salvation, to use their own judgment, and is certain to get much better results."

SHERMAN MAN IS MOVING SKATING RINK TO LUBBOCK

While the statutes of the City of Lubbock prevent skating on the public sidewalks devoted to the "standing-sitting" pastime will not have to go without their fun. H. G. Benson, formerly of Sherman, said today in announcing the removal of his portable skating rink from that city to Lubbock.

The rink, which has a good smooth floor, is sided and topped with canvas. Mr. Benson says it will be erected and operated on Main Street, near College avenue, he stated.

High School Five Leaves For Out-Of-Town Play With Lamesa Machine

Coach L. J. Von Tungen will go south with his Westerners this afternoon where they will engage in a return contest with the Lamesa Tornados at the Lamesa high school gymnasium. The Buff Stevens crew of Dawson county is planning on a great evening with the local high school team as they are anxious to retribute their loss with the Von Tungen machine in Lubbock last week when the Lamesans went under with a count of 25 to 21.

This will be the last encounter the Westerners will enter into before the county basketball tournament is held here this week-end.

New York Boxing Men Probe Recent Bantamweight Go

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—The New York state athletic commission today suspended Charles (Phil) Rosenberg of New York's Bushey Graham of Utica and their managers pending an investigation Friday into the contracts for the match in which Rosenberg defeated Graham last week at Madison Square Garden. Rosenberg had forfeited the world's bantamweight championship by scaling 122½ pounds for this bout.

Chairman Farley of the commission declined to disclose details of the investigation, but admitted some question existed as to "the honesty of the contract" entered into by Rosenberg and his manager, Harry Segal, with William J. Parr, Graham's manager. Graham who weighed 117½ for the bout and was within the bantamweight limit, was not understood to have been involved in the contract situation.

MEXICAN REFINERY SHUT DOWN

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP)—The refinery of the transcontinental petroleum company at Tampico, Mexico, will be closed down within a few days, it was declared today at the offices of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey of which the Transcontinental is a subsidiary. Because of the enforced curtailment of drilling new wells, due to cancellation of permits under the Mexican Oil laws, volume of crude oil has steadily dropped off and the working force of the Tampico plant has been materially reduced. The company's refinery at Matias terminal, also in the Tampico district, was closed down several days ago.

Hitting Sports Highspots With James R. Dow

The Bearkats of Sam Houston Normal, were defeated last evening on the Buff floor at Canyon by a score of 46 to 9. The Sam Houston Teachers journey next to Lubbock for a two game series with the Matadors.

The Arkansas Razorbacks have gone home with the Southwestern Conference basketball championship. The Arkansas lads defeated the Southern Methodists last evening on the S. M. U. floor by a score of 32 to 28. Just enough to win a victory.

Young Stribling won a decision bout over Eddie Huffman in a ten round go. The match was slow and very uninteresting—both lacked punch and pep to stir life among the Rickard customers. Stribling made his entry in Tex's heavyweight elimination tournament.

Texas Tech Matadors were seen in baseball uniform yesterday—but I hardly think they will venture out today. However, the Matadors are taking advantage of the warm days and adding practice to their baseball.

Coach L. J. Von Tungen will take his quintet to Lamesa this evening to give the Tornados another chance with the Westerners. This is a return engagement and Dawson county five is preparing a warm welcome. The local high school crew recently defeated the Golden Tornados by a count of 25 to 21.

Completion of the Matador track is nearing and when finished will be one of the finest tracks in the Panhandle and West Texas. Curbs have been placed around the circle giving the track a neat appearance.

Tomorrow evening the Matadors will resume their schedule by meeting with the Sam Houston Teachers. Coach Grady Higginbotham plans to send in a much improved machine to do battle with the Houstonians.

Grid Ambitions Bring HE'S AN OIL KING NOW Fortune To Youngster

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8.—Wishing to condition himself for football at the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, George A. Henshaw, jr., of Oklahoma City, went to work in the oil fields near San Angelo, Texas, several years ago. He became a good player but a better millionaire. He has just sold his company holdings in Brown county, Texas, for $2,000,000, more or less, to the Texas company. The exact price will be determined by gaugings of fourteen producing wells, which have averaged around 6,000 and 7,000 barrels daily.

Two weeks ago Henshaw sold a block in Howard county to the Magnolia Petroleum company for $50,000. He also has oil property in Pecos and Crockett counties.

Bristling Battles Bare Fist Days MY LIFE STORY

By Jack McAuliffe

One of the greatest fighters in the world had his career shortened and his heart broken by a man he had legitimately whipped once and one he was always the superior of. I refer to Jack Dempsey and his knockout at the hands of either I should say the elbow, of George La Blanche, the French Canadian marine.

Dempsey easily knocked out La Blanche in 73 rounds at Larchmont in 1918. In 1925 La Blanche was in San Francisco training under Jimmy Carroll, a British lightweight, who was an instructor at the C. A. C.

Carroll, not La Blanche, as everyone believes, invented the illegal "pivot punch."

It was a punch used with a swing starting from a left hand lead. The body would be swung clear around as on the heel as a pivot with the right arm up and the elbow stuck out shoulder high horizontal to the body. It was the theory that if the elbow did not strike the opponent on the jaw—the fist was sure to land with terrific force and momentum.

Carroll taught La Blanche the punch and the fight was held Aug. 27, 1925.

In the 32d round La Blanche, who was getting an unmerciful beating and staggering along the ropes, suddenly went into the pivot, whirled and his ELBOW hit Dempsey a terrible smash. Dempsey fell flat on his face and broke his nose.

I was angry at the illegal tactics used and determined to seek revenge for my good friend Dempsey. I determined to go out to San Francisco and paste this guy Carroll who taught La Blanche the pivot punch.

I started out for San Francisco with hardly a cent in my pocket and railroad tickets to Chicago. I met Jake Schaeffer, the billiard champion, there and he lent me $1,000 to get to Frisco.

EDITOR'S NOTE—In the next chapter, McAuliffe tells of his experiences training for the Carroll fight and his fight superstitions.

CHANG TSOLIN IS ASKING PEACE

(By The Associated Press)
PEKING, Feb. 8.—Marshall Chang Tsolin, Manchurian dictator and generalissimo of the armies which are fighting the Cantonese, made a bid for the favor of foreign powers today when on behalf of Oho, the northern military forces he issued a statement pledging protection of all foreign lives and property in the realm of the Peking government.

He promised that the Peking government would maintain its credit obligations but warned that "we expect the powers to respect our public opinion and sovereign rights so that the Chinese may be freed of fear of possible invasion from the outside while the powers may be freed of apprehension over anti-foreign movements."

The northern generalissimo declared his military forces were operating only against Bolshevism and that "there is room for negotiations for all others except Bolshevists."

SAINT AND SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN COPYRIGHT 1925 NEA

"CHURCHILL is not inclined to put much stock in the worth of the clue," Bob Hathaway admitted reluctantly. "He says that every lawyer is pestered with crank letters of this sort—written by prisoners who boast over fancied wrongs. Every district attorney receives thousands of threats and never pays any attention to them."

"But isn't Churchill going to trace the sender of this letter?" Faith demanded indignantly. "After all it is a threat, and it was received during the months that Cherry worked for your uncle. It seems to me it should be an easy matter—compare the handwriting with the handwriting of the men who were sentenced by Mr. Cluny and sentenced for ten years."

"The sentence was probably indeterminate," Bob pointed out. "Or his term might have been whittled down by good behavior. By the way, there is one thing I didn't tell you. By good fortune the original bears the date it was received. All his letters were stamped with a rubber date stamp and we can be sure Uncle Ralph saw it for it is marked in a corner by his initials. He always initialed letters after reading them, and if he intended to answer them, made a pencilled note or two. There was nothing but his initials, however, on this bird's letter."

"He was sent to prison ten years ago," Faith interrupted impatiently. "Surely not so awfully many of your uncle's clients were sentenced to prison just exactly ten years ago."

"But we don't know how long after the trial he waited for a supreme court ruling on his appeal. But of course Churchill will ferret out the writer of this letter, if it is humanly possible."

"Court records are available," Faith protested. "And you at least have his initials—"

"This bird is crafty," Bob pointed out. "That may not be his initial at all. If he took such pains to conceal his identity from everyone but Uncle Ralph it is at least conceivable that he signed an initial that only Uncle Ralph would recognize. Whoever it is, he isn't taking any chances of being sent back to prison for blackmail. This letter, if it could be nailed on anyone, would convict him, you know."

"Then as Churchill says, this may be from a completely demented crank, whom Uncle Ralph, if he were alive today, could not possibly identify. But don't look so distressed, child. Of course Churchill is going to investigate. But he doesn't want us to pin much faith on the thing as a clue. He says if I went through the files I would undoubtedly find other letters of this kind that she filed during the time she worked for Uncle Ralph. He had as few enemies as any criminal lawyer ever made, I believe."

"Did she remember if your uncle ever had a visit from a newly released prisoner?" Faith asked, frowning thoughtfully at the copy of the letter she still held in her hands.

"Churchill asked her, of course, but she doesn't remember any such visit. Of course such a man might have called and not been noticeable enough to make an impression on her memory. Uncle Ralph saw a lot of callers who did not state their business to his secretary."

"I know!" Faith exclaimed. "Ask Mr. Neff, your uncle's law partner. He ought to know."

Rubber 'Reducers' Are Foes of Comfort but Not of Fat

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and IN the craze for reduction which agitated most of the women of the United States during the past few years, many of them undertook all sorts of exercises, diets and the use of all kinds of apparatus to remove what they considered superfluous weight.

Among the most widely advertised articles were corsets and brassieres, made of pure gum rubber, which were supposed to be worn next to the skin. It was perhaps the notion of those who promoted these devices that they would squeeze the flesh into a more solid form, perhaps causing the body to eliminate the superfluous matter from inside.

There is not, of course, the slightest scientific reason to believe that such apparatus could do anything of the kind. The chief effect of wearing rubber garments next to the skin is that they prevent perspiration from evaporating. Since the perspiration is rubbed into the skin, it is likely to produce irritation.

Some persons have severe irritation of the skin from contact with the rubber itself. The rubber garment does not increase the sweat, but simply causes it to remain on the surface. Certainly it does not cleanse the skin, but rather tends to make it accumulate deposits of waste products.

The sweat regulates the temperature of the body by evaporation from the surface. It also keeps the skin soft by keeping it moist and well lubricated. Rubber garments prevent evaporation of the sweat, which produces laceration of the skin.

Certainly you cannot in any way aid the lubrication of the skin, since retention of salts and other substances is likely to make it drier and to cover it with crusts.

As A Woman Sees It

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE FAMILY PAYS

I WONDER if our grandmothers were sure of their beauty sleep, and thereby able to get up at five in the morning and cheerfully face a days work that would stun two men now—because there were no installment collectors!

How many heads have erayed and nervous systems gone to rack and ruin because of the spectre of the man who comes as inexorably as taxes and death, on certain day of the month, to take his toll of the family budget.

The moving finger writes and having writ, signs its name to a contract that says you will pay on a certain day of every week or month a certain amount to a certain firm for a certain piano or set of books or a fur coat or a radio, or maybe an automobile, and from that moment on you try to convince yourself that you have not just about given a mortgage on your life.

The feeling of slavery is there and cannot be shaken off until the debt is paid. Oh, joyous moment that when you will be free again!

America's installment houses have lined their pockets for years by taking advantage of this psychological weakness of honest people who buy and live to pay, instead of saving and buying to live.

In a way the installment plan is a good thing. The idea itself is not all wrong. Many times in the course of human events it is necessary for people to have things that they cannot at the moment pay for. The Building and Loan Association is a sort of sublimated installment plan—one of the most necessary things in the world we cannot deny.

But the vast majority of installment paying is for luxuries. Things we could do without until we had the cash in hand to pay. Generous credit systems are about as bad. Sleep stealers, both! Charge accounts I heartily believe are responsible for our great national extravagance. Other nations are less willing to trust their citizens than America. Their citizens have no reason to dread the door-bell. Why not learn that to be free of debt is the greatest luxury we can have?

Lisbon Described As Armed Camp As Revolt In Portugal Waxes Stronger

(By Associated Press)
 LISBON, Feb. 8.—Not only was the Portuguese revolutionary movement still in full swing today in Oporto, where it began last week, but newspaper reports from the capital, Lisbon, were that virtually all the civilian population there was in arms.
 Other unconfirmed dispatches reaching London indicated that the movement, at first confined to an insurgent garrison at Oporto, had assumed serious proportions with the revolutionaries clamoring for restoration of the constitutional rights which they allege were suppressed by President Carmona when he assumed the dictatorship after a military coup last spring.

Lisbon "An Armed Camp"
 BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 8 (AP)—Lisbon is described as an armed camp and in open revolt against the government of President Carmona, in a dispatch to Lusa from its correspondent in the Portuguese capital dated Monday. He says Oporto is "in arms with the dictatorship" and "long live the constitution," were heard on the streets.
 "The foreign minister and minister of the interior are prisoners. The whereabouts of General Carmona, the dictator, is unknown."
 "The official announcement by the government yesterday (Sunday) of the imminent collapse of the government in Oporto was a maneuver to stave off the uprising in Lisbon by symbolism who wanted only for the signal to revolt."

Situation Is Grave
 PARIS, Feb. 8 (AP)—Travelers from Portugal, says a dispatch to the Journal from the Portuguese frontier, describe the present revolutionary movement as the gravest since the fall of the monarchy. These travelers fully confirmed accounts of heavy fighting in Oporto and stated that when they left Sunday night the situation appeared to be getting worse.

BRIBERY CASE

the measure, referred him to Dale Ranger's testimony heard

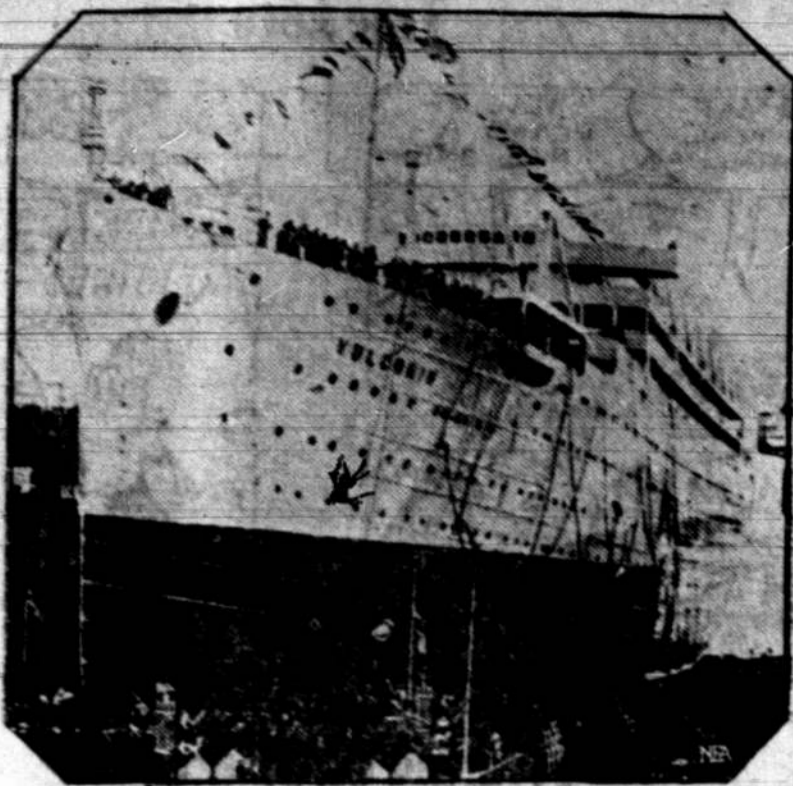

The clerk also got through Ranger Captain Frank Hamer's testimony. Hamer told the investigating committee that he arrested Dale as the representative who received $1,000 on marked bills from Chamberlain. Moore, he said, was arrested later in his hotel room, the scene shortly before of a dinner conference between Chamberlain, Dale and Moore. Chamberlain testified that firm details of the purported bribe were worked out at the time.

Overriding the plea of Speaker R. R. Bobbitt for immediate action to indicate the name of good government and show the people of Texas that we are not a bunch of bribes, the house yesterday supported those favoring a delay of various sorts. Before Representative R. C. Voss's insistence on a full reading of testimony was sanctioned, proposals were made variously that Chamberlain be made a defendant, that the case be set for a special order several days in the future, that the testimony be printed in the house journal and the case be given a chance to see what it's all about and sundry other motions.

Punishment Is Mentioned
 The unanimous report of the committee carried recommendations that the "highest punishment" of which the house is capable be imposed on Dale and Moore.
 As reading Clerk Percy Foreman today planned into the testimony of Hamer Captain Tom Hickman, several other house members were absent, and the case, he said, and other read newspapers, or attended to other business.

A bitter fight is expected on the expulsion recommendation when reading of the record is completed, probably late this afternoon. The committee's report, allowing the cases of Dale and Moore to be considered separately, is considered significant and may change the course of action. Some members have indicated that they may consider technicalities of evidence and vote two different ways in the two cases.
 After five hours and thirty minutes the two clerks at noon today finished reading the entire transcript of testimony, and the house recessed until 2 o'clock without action.
 Stormy scenes are admittedly in prospect before final decision is reached.
 Speaker Bobbitt has received an opinion from the attorney-general's department that two thirds of a house quorum will be necessary to expel either or both the accused.

Shivering Passengers YES, THEY HAD NO HEAT Rescued From Steamer

(By Associated Press)
 HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 8.—Relief was brought today to 700 shivering passengers who for three days have wallowed in the North Atlantic on board the United States liner steamer President Harding surrounded with every luxury but one—heat or the means of producing heat.
 A leak in one of the fuel oil tanks discovered after liner had touched at Queenstown on the voyage from Bremen to New York developed to such an extent that when near Nova Scotia last Saturday the supply was so low that it was decided to make for Halifax to make temporary repairs and replenish the tanks. But the oil supply was too low even to bring the liner into Halifax and yesterday the captain anchored off Jeddore and asked for a conveyance.
 Three tug boats went out last night, one of them carrying a supply of fuel oil, and found the crew of the President Harding burning the wooden hatch covers to make heat for cooking purposes so that the people on board might at least have hot food and drink. The President Harding was taken in tow and brought to port.

POLICE DELVE INTO MYSTERY

Try To Find Reason For Two Deaths On Golf Course; Widow In Breakdown

(By the Associated Press)
 LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—The story of a tragedy on the golf links was woven today into the annals of the royal and ancient game in Los Angeles as police sought to learn why Andrew Jankowski, automobile dealer, shot and probably fatally wounded his friend and business partner, Cornelius J. Callahan, also of Toledo, as they played on the eighth green of the Belvedere club links and then killed himself.

Mrs. Jankowski who was with them in a threesome and who witnessed the shooting was under the care of a physician after having become hysterical and unable to tell a coherent story.
Insanity Theory Discussed
 Police believe Jankowski was seized with a fit of temporary insanity, precipitated by an argument over the golf course.
 Mrs. Jankowski said her husband flared into a rage, cried out that he was going to kill her and drew a pistol. Callahan, she said, leaped between her and the angered husband at the critical moment and dropped with a bullet in his head.
 "You've killed the best friend I ever had," Mrs. Jankowski screamed.
 Jankowski then turned his weapon on himself and sent a bullet into his temple.
 Mrs. Jankowski's story was corroborated in part by Edward Wells, a caretaker of the course, who said he saw Jankowski kill himself.

Jankowski Had Breakdown
 Jankowski recently suffered a nervous breakdown and came here with his wife a month ago hoping to regain his health. Callahan accompanied them. The two friends frequently played golf together, as physicians recommended outdoor exercise for Jankowski.
 Jankowski and Callahan had been close friends and business associates for several years. The former was president and general manager of a motor sales company in which the latter was a heavy stockholder.
 Besides his widow, Jankowski leaves a son Andrew, jr., who is in St. Joseph's academy at Monroe, Mich.

MacDonald Raps Speech
LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The British government is "playing with fire" in sending troops to China, said Ramsay MacDonald former labor premier during debate on the King's speeches from the throne.

Mr. MacDonald appealed for reopening of the negotiations with the Chinese, after which, he said, the troops now on the way to the far east, could be diverted and not landed anywhere in China.

DILLON JURORS HEAR OF CASE

'Jake Case' Under Way Draws Spirited Legal Skirmish From Attorneys

Taking of testimony in the case of J. Dillon, on a charge of violation of the prohibition law, which was started late Monday in District court here following completion of the jury, was resumed Tuesday morning, and all indications are that the case will not reach the jury until possibly late Wednesday.

The state introduced several witnesses at the Tuesday morning session, including two or three young men, who testified that they had bought extract of ginger, possession of which the defendant is specifically charged with from the drug store owned and operated by the defendant. Several more witnesses are slated for testimony by the state, including city policemen who made the arrest.

Efforts of defense counsel at the morning session to have certain testimony offered by the state withheld from the jury were unavailing. Repeated objections were made to the court, the most of which were overruled. The law permits possession and sale except for beverage purposes.

Mr. Dillon, drug store and hotel proprietor, is specifically charged with possession and sale, as beverage, extract of ginger in violation of the prohibition law. The jury was completed late Monday, and follows:

They were the only trousers Tahil had with him. He protested could not attend the conference at the royal palace without trousers, and so the negotiations were held up.

The Sultan, the story goes, waited until his royal patience was exhausted and then believing one of his chiefs had ignored the command, sent word to the Philippine constabulary to go ahead and attack Tahil if they cared to.

The constabulary did. It moved up to the fortifications and then learned that the Princess was inside. That drove off the attack for several days. Finally Tahil and the Princess fled with a few followers, but leaving most of the rebels to face the fire. Special correspondents reported sixty Moros were killed in the attack. Official reports listed the dead at 25.

The Princess was later found exhausted and weak, wandering on a mountain side. Her husband was nowhere about. He is being sought on a charge of sedition. His people have turned against him. The Princess is being kept in semi-confinement, but she had shown such penitence that it is believed she will not be punished further.

VETS STAND TO GAIN ON BONUS BILL BY GREEN

LOANS MADE POSSIBLE IN NEW STATUTE ON WAR RISK INSURANCE

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—A half million former service men who hold government life insurance policies stand to benefit by final passage of the Green bonus bill although its primary purpose is to facilitate borrowing on adjusted compensation certificates.

Under the bill, interest profits made on the compensation certificate loans would go to a fund set up to retire the government's life insurance policies which, it is intended, will be redeemed with lower insurance premiums through dividend declarations.

Loans Are Authorized
The Green bill authorizes the veterans' bureau to make loans on bonus certificates at two per cent interest in excess of the current federal reserve discount rate which means that the normal rate to loan seekers would be approximately 4 per cent.

In order to make these loans, the treasury would advance $25,000,000 to the veterans' bureau, the bureau giving as security an equal amount of bonds it holds to redeem insurance converted from war risk policies. The treasury would be authorized to charge the veterans' bureau 4 per cent interest.

Inasmuch as the bureau would receive 6 per cent on loans and pay only 4 per cent to the treasury, a 2 per cent profit would accrue which would be turned into the government life insurance fund.

Dividends To Be Declared
The securities held in the fund are to retire policies at death or at term expiration. Whatever profit is made by them (at present it is 4 per cent) reflects in lower premiums to policy holders by virtue of dividend declarations.

The greatest benefits would result to policy holders in the event certificate loans were not repaid. John Thomas Taylor of the American Legion, estimates that 1,000,000 service men will not repay their loans, permitting them to remain as compound interest bearing charges against their certificates, the face value of the loan plus eighteen years compound interest to be deducted at maturity of the certificates.

Although it desired a lower interest rate, the legion is not opposed to the Green bill and is expected to support it when it comes up in the senate shortly.

INTEREST SEEN IN SCOUT WORK

Campaign Will Be Given Big Support Leaders Of Work Announce Here

As the time nears for the actual financial drive for the budget asked for promotion of Boy scout work in twelve South Plains counties this year, the citizenship of the counties affected by the drive apparently is fully impressed with the importance of the work, and will support the campaign heartily, it was said at scout headquarters here Tuesday.

Several trips have been made over the territory by leaders in the movement here during the past few days, and similar meetings were scheduled to be held today at Shallowater, Anton and Littlefield. Yesterday, a group of men met with citizens at Slaton and Post, and were enthusiastically resolved, it was said upon their return here.

Meeting Tonight
A general meeting of the citizenship of Lubbock is to be held tonight in the auditorium of the First Methodist church, where demonstrations showing the value and importance of scouting will be given. The demonstrations include administering first aid, fire making, and the famous scout tree ceremony.

The public is invited to attend this gathering, and it was said today that no collection of any nature, or solicitation of any kind will be made. At the close of the demonstrations, John C. Campbell, deputy regional director of the Scout movement in this territory, will briefly discuss the movement, and his intents and purposes. The nucleus of the team organization that will be actively in charge of the finance drive here, opening Wednesday, met at headquarters Tuesday morning, when the campaign was discussed. The solicitation campaign is to get under way Wednesday.
