A WALL THAT IS A LONG-REALIZED DREAM

One of the earliest dreams by members of the Wellington Cemetery Association when improvement of the two city plots was begun a dozen years ago was a retaining wall along the front of the West Cemetary. This became a reality Friday, November 1, when volunteer workmen put up this wall, using concrete railing slabs donated by the Texas Highway Department several years ago from a bridge that was dismantled near Estelline. Space behind the reinforced wall is to be filled in, then evergreen trees will be set out immediately back of it by members of the Wellington Garden Club.

Voters Ballot on Local Road Tax and State Amendments Sat.

Wellington voters will go to the polls Saturday, Nov. 9, to vote in two separate elections, one state and the other local. Both, however, will be held in the same polling places.

The local election concerns a proposed 30¢ farm-to-market road tax to be levied for a five-year period.

In the state election, voters will indicate their choices on four constitutional amendments.

There has been little apparent interest in either elections, observers said this week.

Only six absentee ballots had been cast Tuesday afternoon in the amendment election, and only four in the road tax election, according to Lorene Jenkins, county-district clerk.

Voters going to the polls will receive two ballots, which, when marked, will be placed in two separate ballot boxes.

Wording on the tax ballot will read:

"For (or against) a farm to market road tax of not exceeding thirty cents (30¢) on the one hundred dollars ($100) valuation levied only in the years 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967 and 1968."

The four issues on the Amendment ballot concern:

- Repeal of the poll tax as a requirement for voting.
- Elimination of residence requirements and allowing more expenditures from state funds for needy aged, blind, dependent children, and disabled persons.
- Authorize retirement funds in political subdivisions within Jefferson county.
- Increase the Veterans Land Fund by $150,000,000, increasing the rate and extending the life of the program.

Pollings will be at the usual voting boxes:

North Wellington, Commissioners' Court Room.

South Wellington, County Court Room.

Dodson, school.
Dozier, Church of Christ.
Samnorwood, school.
Lutie, gin.
Quail, school.
Marella, store.

Hatch will succeed Jack Sanford, who headed the chamber this year.

Directors to serve for two year terms beginning Jan. 1, 1964 are Clyde O. DeMoss, manager of Ben Franklin Store; Denver Powell, manager of West Texas Utilities Company; and W. E. (Dub) Marchant, manager of the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Brucellosis Tests in County Herds Slated

Testing will begin Nov. 12 of all the cattle herds in the county for brucellosis. When the testing is completed Collingsworth will be a modified certified brucellosis county, which means that cattle from this county will be able to move to other counties or states without a test.

The laboratory and men who will do the testing have just completed testing Hall county and will move to Wellington on Friday and be ready to begin testing next week.

Three adjoining counties have already been tested: Donley, Hall and Childress. The testing will be done by three or four crews which will take the blood samples from the cows to be tested at the mobile laboratory that will be set up at the county barn.

It will help speed up the testing if each cattleman will stop by the county agent's office and indicate a preference as to when he would like to test.

County Agent Regier explained in some detail how the testing program will work.

Directing the testing lab will be Dr. Riley Eaton of the United States Department of Agriculture, with probably four men assisting in taking the blood tests.

All cattle, both beef and dairy, must be tested. If an owner has 50 cattle or less, all animals are tested. If the herd is more than 50 head, only 20% are tested.

There is one exception to this, Regier said. If there are

A Health Measure

Wellington Gin Installs New Equipment to Catch Dirt, Lint

Lint and dust collectors that practically eliminate refuse from flying free over town from its plant have been installed by the Wellington Gin, Alonzo Cartwright, manager, announced this week.

This was the Wellington Gin's answer to a problem that has plagued the city for years, but which is part and parcel of harvesting the county's major money crop.

"The collectors stop about 85% of the dirt and lint that used to blow outside the gin," Cartwright said. Now it goes into bags or a dust bin that is enclosed on three sides.

There are two types of collectors, the gin manager explained, both located on the north side of the gin building. Pipes run from each unit of the two sets to attach onto machinery in the gin.

The Wellington Gin is one of between 25 and 30 plants owned by Chickasha Cotton Oil Company in which dust and lint collectors have been installed, and Cartwright has helped put in a number of these.

The experience he gained was put to work in designing and installing the collectors here.

One set of collectors works off the suction fans on the cyclone dropper. The dropper, located high in the building, is where the cotton is suctioned from the trucks, and contains whatever dirt and refuse and trash that may have been on the seed cotton or gathered in with it in the field. All this is gathered into two tall upright cylinder collectors and dropped into a bin a few feet from the gin building.

The other set of three lint collecting units are attached on the inside to the condensers

Strong Broncho Team Comes to Powell Field

Wellington Skyrockets will return to Powell Field this week to meet the Clarendon Bronchos Friday, Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m.

"The Bronchos will be much like McLean, possibly stronger," Coach Don Beck said.

"They have a real strong defensive team, maybe stronger than McLean, but the offense is not quite as strong — we hope."

Coach Beck analyzed the team members:

The Bronchos have a fine fullback in Teddy Graham. He has better speed than any Rocket back. He is a power runner and a shifty runner, an outstanding passer and receiver and also does the punting and the kickoff.

In David Moring, quarterback, Clarendon has a small but outstanding passer who throws an average of around 17 times a game—which is a lot of passing. When he can't find a receiver open he is a capable runner.

The Bronchos have an outstanding tackle in Larry Gray.

Center Kenneth Price is a good defensive linebacker and blocker and protects his quarterback well.

Ronny McAnear is a defensive linebacker and offensive tackle, and one of the outstanding boys on the team. He is also a good blocker.

No. 88, Lester Welch, is a dangerous pass receiver.

The team as a whole is quick on ball pursuit on defense and much like Tulia. They are always a dangerous threat.

Wellington may possibly have four starters out this week, Coach Beck said. Joe Rudy has had an asthma at-

Morris Enters Army Career

Darryl Morris will report to Fort Sill, Okla., Wednesday, Nov. 13, for active duty with the United States Army on a career basis.

He holds the rank of second lieutenant, and is a member of Battery A, 2nd Battalion 131 Artillery, 49th Division. He will be at Fort Sill for the next nine weeks.

Morris, a graduate of Quail high school, also attended SMU and received his degree from West Texas State College. He taught in Childress high school the last two years.

He is married to the former Sharon Bettis and they have a three-year-old daughter, Debbie. Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morris.

LINT COLLECTORS

These three lint collectors are part of a system that collects and deposits approximately 85 per cent of the free-flying dirt and lint that comes out of each bale of cotton at the Wellington Gin. The lint collectors work off the condensers on the lint cleaners, and the debris is deposited in tow sacks at the bottom of each cleaner. One is examined by Gin manager Alonzo Cartwright, kneeling at right. The bur pile is no part in the dirt and lint collector system.

Legion Auxiliary Sets Poppy Day Sales Saturday

The American Legion Auxiliary and the Junior Auxiliary will sell Poppies Saturday, Nov. 9, Poppy Day, in downtown Wellington.

Plans are being completed under the direction of Mrs. Paul Spillman, chairman.

A number of Auxiliary members will work at tables around the square throughout the day.

Junior Auxiliary members will be directed by Mrs. B. M. Sims, sponsor, and Sue Saunders, president.

Mayor Proclaims Veterans Day

Veterans Day, Monday, Nov. 11 has been designated as an official holiday of the City of Wellington and Mayor Hiram Cudd has issued a proclamation asking that it be observed as such.

However, Wellington banks will be open, as will most business houses, since the county's cotton harvest is just getting into full swing.

On the other hand, federal, county and city government offices will be closed, as will those that traditionally close.

To Help the Kids

Kiwanis Club Slates Pancake Supper Nov. 8

Wellington Kiwanians again will flip their famous pancakes to help the children of the area, this time at a supper slated for Friday, Nov. 8 at the elementary school cafetorium.

Serving will begin at 5:00 and continue until 7:00 p.m., and along with the pancakes, the Kiwanians will serve bacon and coffee. Tickets may be bought from any member of the club.

Underprivileged children of Wellington benefit from the annual Kiwanis Pancake supper, according to B. F. Chance Jr., chairman. Out of this fund those children whose parents cannot afford to buy them are furnished glasses and eye tests, milk at school and other small items.

This year, Kiwanis donated $200 to the Little League baseball program, which included Peewees and Pony League also. They are considering this project again for the summer of 1964.

"You'll have all the pancakes you can eat . . . and anyone who has eaten a Kiwanis pancake knows the treat that is in store," said John Coleman, who is helping with the plans.

The Rev. Jack Durham is securing the pancake mix; Bobo Castleberry, Steve Owens and Jimmie Kelso will bring home the bacon.

Rockets Down McLean 6-0 in Rugged Defensive Battle

By JACK FORD

Stopping a McLean drive on the Wellington 2-yard line, with 35 seconds left in the game, the Wellington Skyrockets came out on top 6-0 over the McLean Tigers at Duncan Field in McLean Friday, Nov. 1, before a predominantly Rocket crowd of 2000 fans.

Playing one of the toughest opponents the Rockets have had to face this year in the Tigers, the Rockets a number of times got inside the Tiger 20 but were stopped by a fine defensive stand by McLean.

Again it was the Rocket defensive line of Tim Bailey, Joe Rudy, Billy Clubb, Johnny Maxwell, Joe Henard, Ronnie Nix, Jennings Wells and Gary Bergvall, along with the defensive backs Bobby Hudson, Glenn Thomas, Danny Martin, Ray Floyd and Gary White who stopped Dickie Crockett most of the night and forced the Tiger backs into the middle of the Rocket line or stopped the Tigers from going wide for possible good yardage.

Gary Bergvall, coming off the bench to replace the injured Bryan Hatch, and Tim Bailey did yoeman service, stopping the Tiger backs on wide sweeps coming to their side of the line.

The offensive unit of the Rocket team played a fine game. The Rocket fans were brought to their feet by the great running of "old reliable" Kenneth Patterson, Wayne Barton and Danny Martin.

Patterson, Barton and Martin wandered around most of the night in the Tiger secondary positions. All three boys did a great job of picking up their blockers and using them to the best advantage. The only time these three boys were slowed down was inside the opposition's 20 yard line where maneuvering room was limited.

This would be an appropriate place to mention the Rocket reserves. Just mention any of the names—Gary White, Jackie Duncan, Olan Moore, Lynn Wolf, Ray Floyd, Johnny Maxwell, Winston Hicks, Adam Garcia, Freddie Bobo or Gary Bergvall and most of the Rocket fans remember at least one game this year where these boys have gone in to replace a regular and they have justified the faith of the coaches in them. Knute Rockne once said, "A football team is only as strong as its bench strength." Well, that's been proven to all Rocket fans. With some key injuries this year, the Rocket bench strength has come through for the team. The Rocket coaches, Don Beck, and Harold Lamb, have done a fine job of getting maximum effort from the Rocket team.

This game was hard on the Rocket fans. The first quarter saw the Rockets score the only points. It was near the end of this quarter that the Rockets got their first drive going.

They took over the ball on their own 42, and short plunges by Thomas, Patterson, Barton and Hudson moved the ball to the Tiger 41. A great pass by Barton and a fine catch by Tim Bailey put the ball on the Tiger 19. Barton and Hudson moved to the 4 and on the next play Patterson scored. The extra point try failed.

From this point until the end of the game it was the great defensive playing of both teams that dominated the game. The Rockets did score again in the second quarter but a 15-yard holding penalty rubbed it out. Four times Patterson, Barton and Martin broke into the clear but were brought down from behind. The Rockets penetrated three times, up to the Tigers' 18, 14 and 20 yard lines but lost the ball on downs.

The fourth quarter was the Tiger quarter. Taking the ball on their own 18, they moved steadily to the Rocket 5. It was first and goal to go, but the Rocket defense rose to the occasion and stopped the Tigers on their 2 yard line, where the Rockets took over and put the game on ice.

Clarendon Bronchos here this week. Clarendon has lost some close ones and are considered capable of upsetting some team in the district race. The Bronchos nearly got Lefors last week.

Bobwhites Down Draughons of Amarillo 46-25

The Quail Bobwhites defeated the girls from Draughon's Business College 46-25 in a game played at Quail Tuesday night, Oct. 29.

Leading the scoring for the Bobwhites was Sue Saunders with 19 points, while Shirley Horton made 11 and Lonetta Neeley 8. Powell was high for Draughon's with 16 points.

Leading the defensive work for the Bobwhites were guards Dianne Moseley, Patricia Kimbro, Mary Ann Lindsey and Mary Katherine Conner.. "I feel the guards never get the credit they are due in a basketball game. These girls work very hard and believe me if the guards didn't get the ball to the forwards, they sure couldn't score the points," said Coach Don Lacy.

The Bobwhite reserves also did a fine job as they played a great portion of the second half. "These girls, Linda Peters, Clariece Wheeler, Judy Campbell, Mary Frank Cummings, Margie Kennedy, and Rosie Baker are a vital part of our team and are improving with each game and could give some of the starting girls a race for their positions in the near future," Lacy said.

Quails Edge Briscoe; Girls Lose Thriller

The Quail Quails and Bobwhites split a double header with Briscoe Friday night, Nov. 1 before a large crowd at Quail.

The Bobwhites lost the opener by a heartbreaking 59-52 score. The Quails took the boys game by a close 79-76.

In the opener, the Bobwhites got off to a 10-point lead in the first quarter but with the help of several free shots, the Briscoe girls came back to tie the score at half-time.

The third quarter was nip and tuck with the Bobwhites holding a 2-point lead going into the final period. By this time the Bobwhites were in serious foul trouble with three of the regulars fouling off early in the fourth quarter.

The free shots made the difference, as the Bobwhites outscored the Briscoe team 44-32 in field goals but Briscoe held a 27-8 edge in free shots. The Bobwhites committed 31 fouls and Briscoe 17. Earlier this year the Briscoe team won a game 48-27 from the Bobwhites. High pointer for Quail was Shirley Horton with 27 points. Fulks had 41 for Briscoe.

In the boys game, the first quarter looked like a run-away for the Quails as they jumped to a 15-3 lead at one point. However the Briscoe boys settled down and trailed by only 8 points at the half.

The Briscoe boys really got hot in the third quarter and were trailing by only 2 points going into the last period. The fourth quarter was nip and tuck with the lead changing hands several times.

Then with 20 seconds to go, and the score tied 76-76, Smokey Mitchell made a free shot to put the Quails ahead to stay. And with 10 seconds to go, Johnny Carson added two more free shots for insurance.

Both teams committed 20 fouls, with Briscoe making 12 free shots and the Quails 11. High pointer for Quail was Dale Morris with 20 points. Other Quails hitting the scoring Column were Robert Russell 16, Joe Harris 14, Smokey Mitchell 11, Bruce Ward 7, Carroll Kennedy 5, Don Morris 4 and Johnny Carson 2. Duane Campbell also got in on the playing but was unable to score.

High pointer for Briscoe was Hayes with 35 points and 33 of these were scored in the second half. The Quails took an earlier game with Briscoe 65-64.

FUTURE FARMERS TREAT TREES FOR PEACH TREE BORERS

Wellington Future Farmers have learned that this is the season to treat peach tree borers by going into orchards and treating more than 300 trees in recent weeks.

The time to treat borers will be over about Nov. 15, and any other orchard owners who would like to have their trees treated may contact the Wellington FFA chapter, according to Graham Bowen, chapter reporter.

Work was done under the supervision of Danny Garcia, vocational ag instructor.

The chemical used is paradichlorobenzene, easily available in some brands of mothballs and crystals.

Trees doctored regularly for borers receive one ounce per tree; those never treated are given two or three ounces, depending on the size of the tree.

The aggies dig a 6-inch trench from an inch and a half to two inches out from the tree and put the moth crystals around it in a band. Dirt is packed down then is heaped for about six inches above the ground level.

When the pupae come out, fumes from the chemical kill them.

This work was done by boys of the third year agriculture class, including Bowen, Kenneth Patterson, Kent Holland, Ray Floyd, Max Phipps, Phillip Hughey, Bill Driver, Leamon Bawcom, Walt Campbell, Mark Fires, Grady Cochran, Roger Weems, Jackie Duncan, Gary Bergvall and Lynn Wolf.

Trees were treated in the Dick Judd and John Robert Henard orchards.

Rocket B to Meet Memphis

The Skyrocket B team travels to Memphis Thursday night Nov. 7 to meet the Cyclone B team in what is the last scheduled game of the year.

Coach James Stavenhagen said, however, that the Wellington and Clarendon schools will try for a make-up date on the game between the B teams which was cancelled by Clarendon last week. Illness of several Broncho B members made this necessary.

The Cyclone B has improved a lot since the Rockets played them earlier in the season, but so have the Wellington boys.

Memphis has not lost a game since Wellington won over them, an easy 26-0.

Since then, a quarterback has been dropped back from the A team because he was not getting enough action on the varsity. This has added strength to the team.

Retaining Wall Step in Plans for Cemetery

A long-planned retaining wall along part of the front of the West Wellington Cemetery became a reality Friday, Nov. 1 when voluntary workmen built the wall from materials that were donated to the Wellington Cemetery Association.

Friday's work was sponsored jointly by the Cemetery Association and the Wellington Garden Club.

The wall is built of concrete railing slabs which the State Highway Department gave the cemetery association about 10 years ago, when a bridge at Estelline was dismantled, according to Zook Thomas, president.

Each slab is seven and one-half feet long and approximately six inches thick and weighed 340 pounds.

Members of the Wellington Garden Club served coffee and cookies to the workmen during the afternoon.

Volunteers were Zook Thomas, Jimmie Kelso, Jake Leach, Ernest Harwell, Hug Bowen, R. B. Lucas, Billy Williams, Juan Guojord, Walter Castor and Shorty Cortez.

This was not all the volunteer work.

The slabs were hauled — at the time they were given — by Cudd Brothers, Hezze Jones, Horton and Harwell, Poteets, the late Earl Epps and Bill Tarter.

Friday J. B. Stevenson sent out a tractor and East Side Welders a lift to go on it.

L. E. Ward saw the work in progress, stopped to see what was going on, and made a $20 donation on the spot.

Darrel Layton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Layton of Arlington is spending two weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hezze Jones.

Who Wants More Light?

Owls don't. People do—about 50% more light than they did 10 years ago.

Now, ask yourself these questions . . . have your lighting needs kept pace with other modern improvements . . . are you and your family still struggling along in shadows and glares inside . . . and in the pitch black outside?

No need to be in the dark any longer. Light conditioning in your home makes it safe, pleasant and enhances the decor.

Indoors or out, good, even lighting means good living. More fun and freedom are yours.

Lighting makes entertaining a pleasure—outdoor work safer and more convenient. Yard lighting gives you extra working hours at times when you need it. Garden and patio lighting beautify your home and give you extra leisure hours.

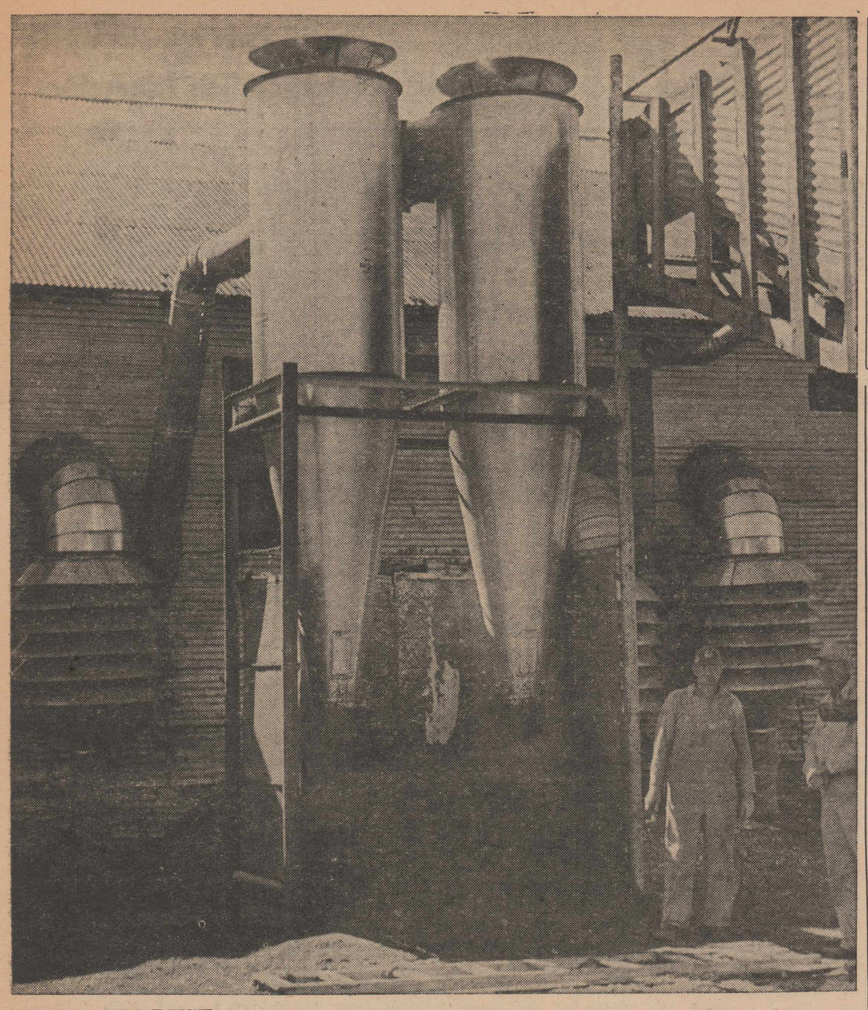

Your rural electric system can help you plan all your present lighting needs. Why not call today for professional advice.

STOP GIN DUST

Lint and dust collectors installed recently by Wellington Gin are shown here. In the foreground are the dual dirt cleaners that work off the suction fans of the cyclone dropper. This takes care of loose dirt and debris suctioned in as the cotton is unloaded and drops it in a pile beneath the two outlets. In the background are the three lint collectors, which take lint and still more debris out of the cotton by working off the condensers. Their size is more accurately shown in a picture on another page.

Norwood to Play McAdoo

Samnorwood Eagles and Eaglettes have games with two strong opponents slated during the coming week, Coach Lloyd Stephens announced.

On Friday night, Nov. 8, McAdoo will come to Samnorwood for a return game, then on Tuesday, Nov. 12 the Norwood teams will meet the Reed, Oklahoma boys and girls at Reed.

This will be the fourth time a county team has met the Class B state champion McAdoo boys team, and the second time the Eagles have met them this season.

Norwood boys lost to McAdoo boys 71 to 44. That team has been beaten only once this season, by Quitaque in a 63-62 thriller. Quitaque defeated Norwood by a wider margin of 69 to 43.

The Norwood girls won their earlier game with McAdoo easily.

Reed girls are due to be fairly strong, while the boys team is not expected to offer too much competition.

Vickie Allen and Charlotte Allen of Canyon spent the week end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Starr who met them at the football game at McLean Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson were in Dallas last week end to attend the S.M.U.-Texas football game.

Let's Drive Over Collingsworth to Know This County We Live In

This is a good time of year to see Collingsworth . . . to experience the "feel of Collingsworth" that is a tangible thing.

Busy as most of us are now, it is well worth while to take a few hours to drive the county roads. The paved roads are good for a starter, for they pierce every part of the county. Then branch off on the dirt roads. Few counties have so fine a system of county roads.

Fields of cotton where two bales and more per acre are being harvested will give a feeling of the solidarity of our economy . . . some of the beautiful country homes that are scattered through the area.

Soon there will be pockets of beauty along the rivers and streams, as the leaves turn. Not so brilliant as in some years, they are nevertheless worth seeing.

If you can, take someone with you who knows the country, who can point to the horizon and say: "There is Red Bluff that was the landmark to our pioneers," or "We're driving by Old Aberdeen . . . you can almost feel the ghost of its heyday."

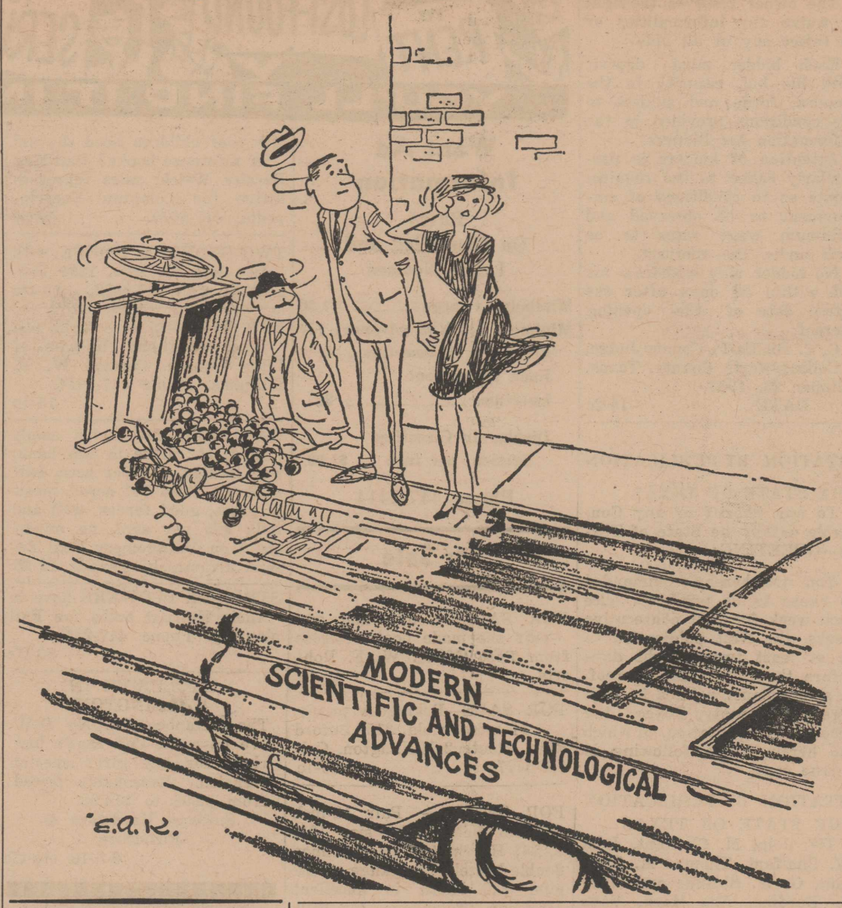

We cannot say we know Collingsworth until we know it in all its seasons, Autumn is probably the most pleasant of all times to begin.

How many of us realize the vast returns we get from helping develop a strong community? Communities flourish because the people living there keep faith. People have not hesitated to make their initial investments. They invest in a home, in a business, in friendships, in living conditions. There are those who are short sighted and fail to see that a community needs keeping up just as surely as does a home — Odessa, Wash., Record.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where Agriculture Secretary Freeman is reported to have said that farmers who don't agree with him are nuts.

Which is the same thing lots of us non-officialized mortals call folks who don't think to suit us, but it looks like a highly educated man like Mr. Freeman could think of an insult with more class.

My non-obeisant farmer neighbor says he feels discriminated against by being called just "nuts", when President Kennedy honored unruly businessmen with a much more virile and distinguished term.

I see where cases of conservative fever keep cropping out in places, in spite of the noble fight being put up all over to curb it.

My store-keeping neighbor says the other day one of his customers came in and looked around but flat refused to buy a new hat, on the irrelevent grounds of not having any money.

Of course, this is heresy against our New Economic Order, but society hadn't ought to give up on such people, because these pretty automobile ads sooner or later will cure nearly anybody of the sin of letting his credit lie fallow.

I see where a little gang of demonstrators gave Ambassador Adlai Stevenson a real modern-like reception in Dallas, complete with insults, rude signs, and riotous behavior.

However, it is said that most Dallasites still go in for courtesy, even toward a guest they may think is misguided, and are not yet adjusted to the new custom of reasoning with wrong thinkers by means of demonstrations in the streets.

And some people in that city may still favor dignified disagreement, like an earlier type Texan, who might feel obliged to shoot an err-headed neighbor once in a while, but would always do it politely.

I see where many high moguls are pretty concerned about how some people give vent to their frustrations by attacking the government.

My Constitutional neighbor says he was brought up on the teaching that a feature of living in the U.S., is that the people are the government, and he thinks anybody ought to be eligible to criticize himself.

Says some of the elected great appear to think that criticizing them is a sign you don't love your country, but he claims anybody can deplore how the hired help drives his car, and still go on loving the car.

Said one not-so-young Wellington spook to a friend who opened the door Halloween night: "Trick or Drink!"

And a good many potential spook hosts were dismayed when the B team football game was called off Thursday night due to illness on the Clarendon team. Whether they are football fans or not, they had planned to attend this game.

On crutches this week and for some weeks to come, is John Eron Forbis. He was trampling and pushing back cotton on top of a three-bale trailer behind a cotton stripper. The driver stopped unexpectedly and John Eron fell off, injuring one leg. He was in St. Joseph's several days.

Back in familiar work is LaVerne McLain, keeping books at Wellington Gin. She grew up around a cotton gin. Patsy Falk is helping her.

This note came to the newspaper from Mrs. Marvin Armstrong, state PTA vice president from Lubbock:

"Please let me add that everyone present at the workshop was impressed with the warmth and friendliness of the welcome we received in Wellington. I LIKED your town!"

Halloween P.S.: A small and shivering spook appeared at the Jack Fords' door. "Are you cold, honey?" Dela B asked. him. "No, ma'am," the youngster replied. "I'm not cold. I'm a ghost."

Some of the small Mexican children did not wear masks, but had their faces effectively painted in black and white. A small girl had an artistically done kitten face.

Resident Highway Engineer Clyde Drake likes to give this problem to high school boys who work for him in the summer: If you could lay a paved highway around the world at the equator, how much would it add to the weight of the earth. It usually takes about two days to come up with the answer, he says.

LETTERS from the People

Denison, Iowa.

Dear friends:

Iowa's weather has finally caught up with the calendar Monday—about 5 weeks late.

The long and beautiful fall continued on a slightly cooler level Tuesday, after the first frost and freeze of the season.

Ideal humidity, wind and temperature conditions have advanced the corn harvest, likely more than 50 per cent of the county's corn crop has been picked before the first frost came. Quite unusual this is.

The yield of corn per acre is estimated to be from 80 to 100 bushels. Most of this corn is stored and fed by the farmers, as this is the center of the meat production of the state, with three meat packing plants located in Denison. The pork plant slaughters about 13,000 hogs each week and the beef plants are geared to handle between 2,500 and 3,000 cattle a day at its two plants.

Due to the long winter months, more labor is required in the care of livestock. In fact there is more work attached to the farming interests involved here.

Corn and oats are the main grain crops grown in this section of the state. Alfalfa, clover and orchard grass are sown for hay crops. Rotation of crops has proven, as it has there, to be a worth while practice.

This part of Iowa has not experienced any drouth. In fact they hardly know what a drouth is in Crawford county.

It has been said that Iowa has only one season of the year—Winter and July. This is really not true. Usually there is a lot of unstable weather during the spring and fall months. The summer time climate is delightful. As a whole, the 1963 weather up to date has been good.

We will be returning to our Wellington home in late November to enjoy a more mild climate during the winter months.

Until then,
Our best wishes to all,
Mrs. Alfred Hutchinson
(formerly Mrs. Jim Light)

Norwood Splits With McAdoo

The Norwood Eagles lost their game with the defending state Class B champions, McAdoo, by a 71-44 score in a game played at McAdoo Friday, Oct. 25.

The Eaglettes, however, were victors 41 to 28, Coach Lloyd Stephens reported.

McAdoo boys led all the way and employed all the tactics that last year took them to top honors in the game. High scorer for the Eagles was David Kindrick with 14 points; Wayne Lindley made 10; James Martindale 9; Loyd Stice and Billy Wischkaemper, 4 each; Butch Tate 2 and Augustine Zermino Jr. 1.

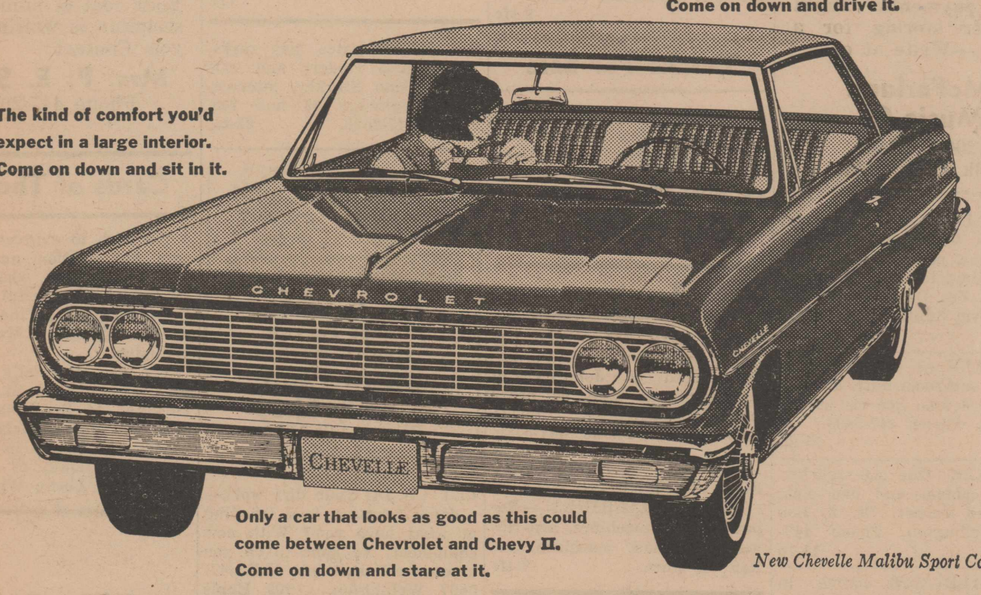

Larry Morris was high for McAdoo with 16 points.

The Eaglettes' top scorer was Jo Nell Breeding and Kay Purkey was next with 18.

NEW CHEVELLE!
BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

A number of people have expressed interest in my comments last week on the drouth in the eastern part of the United States. The best map on the unusual condition that I have seen is one in the current issue of U.S. News & World Report. It shows the dry belt covering all of the southern part of Texas and most of the southern and all of the eastern half of Oklahoma, the southern parts of Missouri and Illinois with the line running past the Great Lakes and including all of New England except the northern tip of Maine. It takes in all of the southern states with the exception of the southern half of Florida. Some thirty of our most productive states are affected. In all of this vast area from 20 to 50 per cent of normal rainfall has fallen thus far this year.

We are not in the drouth area and neither is Childress and Harmon or Jackson in Oklahoma, but the line is no farther away than Electra, providing the map is exact. We have had some beneficial rain in spots recently, but we need a lot more if there is to be much wheat grazing this winter.

Regarding the museum in Memphis, Tennessee: Eva Baumgardner says that she would have let the bus go off and leave her. That may be all right for her; but I have an inherent fear of someday not being able to find my way back home.

International News: Hurshel Tyler got off a plane at Las Vegas, Nevada just as another bearing Mrs. Nhu was arriving and he was a spectator as a throng of photographers took pictures of the controversial lady. Hurshel says he knows nothing of the lady's politics, but that when it comes to looks—woo, woo. The Associated Press reports that Mrs. Nhu is now penniless and plans to make her living by writing her memoirs and special articles on Viet Nam. Wonder if she has ever thought about Hollywood. My guess would be that Hollywood has thought plenty about her since her recent visit to Los Angeles.

My old friends the Farm Bureau and The Dallas Morning News are now advocating passage of the amendment that would repeal the poll tax in Texas and substitute annual registration in its place. Oh well, the best of friends do not always agree on politics and government. I still intend to haul out my biggest and softest leaded pencil and march over to the courthouse next Saturday and vote NO. I do intend to vote for the Veterans Land amendment; but I have some doubts of the wisdom of that.

Better mark November 16 on your calendar for that is the date for the annual Leonid meteor shower. Oldsters like myself will need to set the alarm clock for the shower will not be visible until after midnight. Scientists hope the Leonids of 1963 will be a big show although 1965 is set as the next peak.

This season is providing us with one of the latest maturing cotton crops on record, but the quality continues high and so are the prices compared to last year.

Cotton is not the only thing that is late this fall. My October peaches have fruit for the first time this year and were supposed to ripen last month. Here it is well into November and they are still hard and green. There are some here at the office if you want to see them.

The Rockets and the Longhorns are alike in one respect: Each team barely squeaked to a victory last week end. In fact both teams came painfully near getting beat.

The Wellington boys should not have too much trouble with Clarendon; but there is no way of telling what will happen in a football game. And there is still the long ride up to Canadian next week and they will be tough. On the other hand, the Rockets could be the district champions after Friday night.

The Texas-Baylor game will be the testing time for two entirely different schools of football. One is the hard-nose, ball control, field position type of Wilkinson and Royal, and the other is a collegiate type of pro-football in which the passing game is set up first and the running game second. Baylor has the outstanding passer of the nation among major colleges and Texas has no one particular star unless it is Scott Appleton, a tackle. Texas has the fastest, quickest hitting, line in the entire southwest, but it remains to be seen as to whether they can outplay "that good old Baylor line" immortalized in song for decades. "The eyes of Texas" and perhaps the nation will be upon both teams next Saturday.

The Howard Riggs and the J. Frank Johnsons both brought us a bucket of sorghum molasses this past week. Now if I could just buy, beg, borrow or steal a sugar cured ham we would be fixed up for the winter. We have plenty of flour in the house.

any dairy herds of more than 50 head, every animal must be tested.

The owner is responsible for getting the cattle together and penned. The testers carry head gates on their pickups and these can be attached to chutes or lot gates to hold the animal while the blood sample is taken.

"These men will try to cooperate with the ranchers as much as possible in working at their convenience," Regier said.

Blood samples will be tested in the mobile laboratory and the owner notified of the results. Any reactors will have to be branded and sent to slaughter.

It is expected the work here will take from 30 to 60 days.

The brucellosis eradication program is a joint federal - state project.

Cattle moving out of a non-certified county must be tested and quarantined before they can go into a brucellosis-free or certified area.

tack during the week end and it is not definite if he will be able to play. Neither is it known if Bryan Hatch and Chester McLain, out with injuries, will play.

"Other than that, we ought to be ready to go," Beck said.

"The offense will have to be much sharper than it was Friday night for us to win the ball game," the head coach continued.

Line coach Harold Lamb also expressed disappointment in his line blocking, but said he felt his boys will improve.

"The defense gradually improved the entire season, but the offense has been up and down," Coach Beck continued. "They are capable of being a real fine offensive club, and we are going to go back this week and check them fundamentally on all blocking."

The distributive education program sponsored jointly by the C-C, the Texas Education Agency, and the University of Texas Extension Department was approved again for the summer of 1964.

These courses last one week and merchants and professional people and their employees are urged to attend.

The public is invited.

Dr. Foote has been pastor of churches in Amarillo, Little Rock, Ark., Montgomery, Ala., and Dayton, Ohio. He has studied at major universities and schools of theology throughout the nation.

His work in behalf of the Methodist Church has taken him around the world. He was a delegate to the World Conference on Faith and Order at Edinburgh, Scotland; the World Conference on Christian Youth, Oslo, Norway; an accredited visitor to the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam, Holland; and a representative to the Board of Missions, West African Missionary Conference.

As an exchange minister to England in 1949, he preached in London and Brighton. Later he attended the Ecumenical Conference in Oslo, and has preached in Guatemala City.

Dr. Foote has attended major conferences of the Methodist Church also.

He toured the world on the Christian Century Seminar in 1957. He now serves on the Conference Board of Education and formerly was president of the conference board of missions.

An author as well as preacher, he has written a number of inspirational books, the two most recent being "Transformation of the Twelve" and "The World's Vagabonds." Readers of the Fort Worth Star Telegram are familiar with his column "Footnotes".

James was born and grew up in Wellington, playing in the Skyrocket Band through high school. This will be his first public appearance here since he went into religious music as a vocation.

James received his bachelor of science degree in music from McMurry College and taught instrumental and choral music in Texas public schools seven years.

He is now in his third year of full time church work, having served as minister of music a year and a half at Garland First Methodist Church before going to Big Spring.

He is married and has two children: Dana 5, and Jeffrey 2.

Quail Church Enters Development Ministry

The Quail Baptist Church has entered the 1964 Texas Baptist Church Development Ministry, the Rev. Fred Porter, pastor, announced this week.

Sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas and the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, the plan is aimed toward stimulating interest in church work.

"Each participating church selects projects relating to the local church, the local community and world-wide missions," Rev. Porter said.

These projects are recorded in detail and at the close of the participation period, evidence of their completion is submitted and judged against that of other participating churches.

The general committee to guide and promote this program at Quail, together with the pastor, are Frank Kennedy, Jim Lowe, Mrs. Charley Starkey and Mr. and Mrs. Dock Johnson.

that clean the lint cotton. They are located just behind the presses and all cotton passes through them. It is in the condenser that trash within the cotton is removed, along with lint and other particles.

An ordinary tow sack hangs at the bottom of the lint collectors to catch the debris. In the sack it looks like rather fluffy but dirty cotton, but it is actually the lint that covers everything around a gin plant or flies in minute particles over a wide area.

The amount of dirt and lint collected from a bale of cotton depends on the condition of the seed cotton brought in, how dirty it is and how much trash is in it, and sometimes whether it is hand or machine pulled.

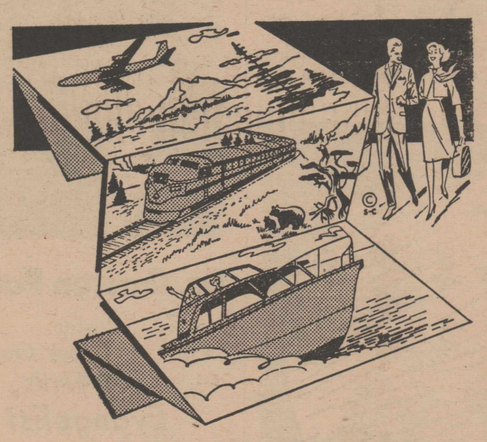

Cartwright said that next year an enclosed bin will be set up and all lint will be dropped into it.

This is not the first effort by the Wellington Gin at eliminating lint and trash. Two years ago Cartwright secured machinery from a plant that was being dismantled and installed it to eliminate part of the lint which was a hazard to men working inside the plant.

Cartwright, manager of the gin for a number of years, has been with the Chickasha Cotton Oil Company for 39 years, his entire career in the cotton ginning business.

The collectors were built to specifications by Anderson Sheet Metal Works at Quanah and Sam Breedlove of that city was the engineer.

Miss Whitfield Weds Bobbie North in Rites at Fort Polk October 22

Miss Jerry Merle Whitfield became the bride of Pvt. Bobbie E. North in a single ring ceremony Tuesday, October 22, at the chapel of Fort Polk, La. First Lieutenant Lewis G. Burnett, chaplain, officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Muriel Whitfield of Blair, Okla., formerly of Dodson, and the bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. North of Waitsburgh, Washington.

Mrs. Bobbie North

The bride wore a bone brocade satin sheath with matching accessories. Her corsage was white baby carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lemons, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, were the couple's only attendants. Mrs. Lemons wore a brown suit with beige accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations.

The bride was graduated from Dodson high school in 1962, and is a student at Clarendon Junior College. The bridegroom received his education at Centralvue, Okla., and Clarendon Junior College.

Mrs. North will continue her studies and Pvt. North will report to an assignment in Germany.

1924 Study Club Notes Holiday

On October 31 the members and guests of the 1924 Study Club responded to the "magic spell" of that day with a Halloween and Thespian Masquerade. Mrs. B. M. Sims was hostess at the Greenbelt Electric directors' room.

The program theme, "Feminine Focus . . . on Thespians," included a review by Mrs. Don Van Pelt of Noel Coward's "Hay Fever." This satirical play in three acts was revived in recent months with actress Faye Emerson as the leading character. Mrs. Van Pelt noted that versatile Mr. Coward is an author, composer, poet, actor, night club entertainer, as well as a playwright.

Members answered roll call with "my favorite actor or actress, a Halloween myth, an actor or actress of note."

A poem, "It's Halloween Time," preceded the masquerade parade before the costumed judges, Mrs. Carter Holcomb and Mrs. D. C. Powell. Motion pictures were taken as each member promenaded individually and enacted her costume character. Prize winners announced in four categories were: Most original, Mrs. L. E. Gribble (with honorable mention to Mrs. D. F. Cook); most dramatic, Mrs. Edward White (with honorable mention to Mrs. Chester Fires); most mystifying, Mrs. Henry Vaughan; gayest, Mrs. Mack Bush.

A jolly jack-o-lantern set a jovial mood for this festivity. A huge, handsome, orange candle glowed amid an arrangement of gold and black thespian masques. Black cats accented with gold glitter completed the room decorations.

A "trick or treat" refreshment plate with "witches' brew" was served to Mmes. Holcomb, Powell, Vaughan, Bush, Cook, R. R. Crawley, Fires, Gribble, Sims, Van Pelt, White, and Misses Sara E. Jones and Hattie D. Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson were in Minot, N.D., last week to visit their daughter and family, Sgt. and Mrs. Dickie Sweat and baby.
