Abilene Farmer Kills Wife And Girls

FATHER KILLS BABES, THEIR MOTHER, SELF

Walter Wills Uses Butt Of Shotgun to Brain Three Victims

ABILENE, Sept. 20. (AP)—After he had gone to a field on his farm and informed a tenant that he had killed his wife and daughter, Walter Wills, 30, well known farmer of Fluvanna, Scurry county, returned to his home, killed his six-year-old daughter and sent a bullet through his own heart.

"I have just killed my wife and little girl," Wills is said to have told his tenant. "Jump into an automobile and rush for a doctor."

The tenant did as instructed. When he returned from Fluvanna with Wills' father and brother he found the four bodies. The woman and two children were not shot. Wills is said to have beat out their brains with the butt end of a shot gun with which he ended his own life. Wills' clothes were covered with blood when he came to the field, the tenant said.

The physical evidence showed that Mrs. Wills and Elizabeth, the older daughter were fleeing from Wills at the time they were killed as their bodies were found fifty yards from the house.

It is believed that the tragedy occurred when Wills became suddenly insane.

TRAINS TO RUN TO ISOM OCT. 1

New Panhandle Railroad On Verge of Completion; Serves Oil Field

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (AP) — The Santa Fe railroad will open its new Amarillo oil field extension from Panhandle to Isom on October 1, T. B. Gallaher, general freight agent of the road announced here Monday. Completion of this line establishes what is said to be a record time for railroad construction in Texas.

The extension, 31 miles long, and running northward through Carson and Hutchinson counties to the southern bank of the Canadian river, was started in May. Its completion will be one of the greatest strides forward in the development of the Panhandle oil fields, Mr. Gallaher declared.

31-Mile Road

Spurring out from the main line of the Santa Fe about 27 miles east of Amarillo, the new line will give rail transportation to the oil fields and make possible much more rapid development of the area, aside from serving the rapidly growing communities along its route.

Isom will be terminal station from which will be served the various adjacent communities which have practically grown together, already—Borger, Dickson Creek, Whittenberg and Phillips.

"The Santa Fe has instructed all traffic publishing agencies covering all rates to make the effective date October 1," Gallaher said here before leaving for Amarillo today.

C-C Sending To East Texas For 2,000 Pickers

Cotton Fields Opening Rapidly in Wichita Falls Section and Acute Shortage of Help Felt; Many Farmers Already Assisted.

E. C. McKenzie of Iowa Park, representing the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, leaves this morning for east Texas in quest of cotton pickers for the farmers of Wichita county.

It is estimated that fully 2,000 pickers could be placed in the fields of the county and efforts are being made by the chamber of commerce officials and members of the staff to assist the farmers in the hour of need.

The chamber of commerce began several days ago to interest cotton pickers from other sections to come here and assist in gathering the crop. Quite a number of helpers were procured. The hot weather of the past few days has caused the cotton to open with remarkable rapidity and this is the reason the heavy demand for pickers at this time.

To Use All Means.

Every means to get the necessary pickers will be exhausted by the chamber of commerce, according to President J. C. Mytinger and for this reason Mr. McKenzie is being sent to east Texas.

To get first hand information on the subject and to be able to give the many farmers of the county who have appealed to the organization for help in this work, the chamber of commerce has communicated by telephone and telegraph with the United States Labor Bureau in Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, San Antonio and other points in Texas as well as Enid, Muskogee, Oklahoma City and other points in eastern Texas. The cotton pickers bureau at Iowa Park is literally swamped with requests for the pickers.

Sending Out Trucks.

Many farmers, not only in this county, but from others, are sending large trucks to east Texas points in the hope of getting pickers. More than one hundred trucks, it was estimated, loaded with cotton pickers, passed through Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon. Almost an equal number of trucks were reported going east in quest of the pickers. These figures were gathered after a survey and a check of the trucks was made Sunday afternoon. Many other farmers of the county are planning to invade east Texas in the next day or two in search of the pickers provided they may obtain some assurance that the pickers may be obtained.

This shortage of labor, according to the chamber of commerce representatives, based on the inquiries made in Texas and Oklahoma, exists not only in this immediate section, but throughout both states. Texas is calling on Oklahoma for help, while Oklahoma is calling on Texas. The situation is growing serious.

The chamber of commerce is doing everything possible to get the necessary help ot gather the crop, and will spare no work and expense to get all the labor possible. In an effort to relieve the situation a representative of the organization was sent into east Texas to see if pickers may be found. If so, those who are in need of them will be asked to send trucks and transportation to get them here.

MAN INJURED

Brooking of 1414 Twelfth street suffered a broken nose and bruises about the face Monday shortly before noon when he fell from the roof of one of the buildings of the Wichita Foundry and Machine Shops. ## Dan's Sister-in-Law Starts Sensation

AUSTIN, Sept. 20.(AP)—Quite a flurry has been caused in Greek letter circles of Texas university by the pledging of Miss Helen Paxton, sister of Mrs. Dan Moody, by the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Miss Paxton lives at Abilene.

It is understood, however, that Mrs. Moody made no suggestion to her sister leaving her to choose. At any rate, Greeks are all excited about the incident.

AIMEE PLEADS FOR CASH AID

Accused Evangelist Asks Her Congregation for Funds To Fight Devil

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.(AP)—New overtures for the provisional surrenders of Kenneth G. Ormiston, believed to be the key witness in the Aimee Semple McPherson case have been made to District Attorney Asa Keys by an attorney newly engaged by the former Angelus temple radio operator, a statement issued by S. S. Hahn, who first represented Ormiston said today.

Keys who has detailed his entire staff of detectives in a search for Ormiston has refused to offer the radio man immunity from charges of criminally conspiring with the evangelist and five others to manufacture false evidence in support of Mrs. McPherson's kidnaping story in return for turning state's evidence.

Mrs. McPherson who has not yet been served with the warrant for her arrest was directing a campaign for a "fight the devil fund" among her followers to be used to defray expenses of her defense. In her sermon last night she made an appeal for contributions of $100, $500 and $1000 which she said a committee of business men would be asked to administer. The evangelist appeared about completely recovered from an infected facial gland which confined her to bed and prevented formal service of the warrant Friday.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff, whose confession that the "Miss X" story concerning the Carmel angle of the McPherson case was a hoax engineered and financed by Angelus temple, precipitated the sensational developments leading to the charges against the evangelist appeared for preliminary hearing in municipal court today on charges of issuing bad checks. The case was postponed one month owing to the crowded court calendar.

48 ROAD BOND BILLS OKAYED TO GOVERNOR

They Now Go to Governor For Her Signature Before Becoming Laws

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—Forty-eight senate road district bond validating bills Monday unanimously passed the house of the 39th legislature here in call session, and were slated to go Tuesday to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson for her signature.

K. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, chairman of the house judiciary committee that favorably repored the senate bills, said the house members were confident the bills would meet with the governor's approval.

Track Now Clear.

The track was cleared for the "validating special," all members bending every effort to expediate the creating of 555 riad districts, and validate $100,000,000 of bonds issued by the districts. The house finally passed 74 validaing bills that originated in the house, engrossed 23 others, while 36 bills were introduced.

In passing the senate bills and finally passing the house bills, 170 roll calls were required. Carl Phinney, chief clerk, estimated that before the installation of the electric voting machine, seven days would have been required by the 170 roll calls, as the legislature ordinarily is in session six hours a day.

Much Time Saved.

"Under the old system, where the reading clerk called each name, 15 minutes was taken for a roll call," he said. "Under the present system, only forty seconds is needed."

Under suspension of constitutional rules, the senate adopted the general validation bill by Senator John H. Bailey of Dewitt county; the deficiency appropriation bills, aggregating $2,002,242 for the past two fiscal years; received the submission from Governor Miriam A. Ferguson asking for an emergency appropriation of $98,038 for payment of district attorneys, and others for whom Comptroller S. H. Terrell requested payment.

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, Sept. 20.—M. T. Crabtree, 57, a pioneer citizen of the Texas Panhandle accidently shot himself to death here at noon Sunday while attempting to clean a double barreled shot gun that he had just carried into the back yard of his home. No one saw the accident but the supposition is that the gun was loaded in both barrels and had been cocked and when the butt of the gun struck the ground both triggers were released. One shot went just under the left eye and the other just above the right.

Crabtree was born in Mississippi near Macon and came to Dallas, Texas at eighteen years of age and stayed a short time before coming to the Panhandle where he worked on all the famous ranches and amassed considerable property. He was a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges which bodies will officiate at the grave Tuesday afternoon in the Citizens cemetery, near Clarendon.

Besides his wife he is survived by one son, Edley A., jr., at A. and M. college and two daughters, Obie 17, and Josephine 19, students of Clarendon college. Funeral services have not been exactly arranged, pending the arrival of the son from College Station, Texas.

HURRICANES OF HISTORY

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP) The hurricane which swept southwestern Florida Saturday was the twenty-second disaster of the kind since the great storm which swept the southern states in 1884. While the death toll may not be as great as that of the Galveston hurricane in 1900, the property damage is believed to be greater.

This is the fourth disastrous storm to visit Florida in less than a year. On April 5, 1925, five were killed in Miami; December 1, 1925, five were killed in Tampa and Miami suffered much property damage; July 29, 1926, seventy were killed and great damage to property by a hurricane which swept up from the Bahamas.

PENSACOLA ISOLATED WHILE MOBILE GETS 88-MILE HURRICANE

Storm Veers Westward And May Yet Strike In Texas Is Warning of U. S. Weather Observers

TROY, Ala., Sept. 20. (AP)—The West Indian hurricane was slowly creeping northwestward tonight. A virtual water spout was turned loose here tonight. Wrecked automobiles are strewn along the highway from Montgomery to Troy. The storm seemed to be veering westward.

100-MILE WIND AT PENSACOLA

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 20. (AP)—A hurricane riding a hundred miles an hour swept into Pensacola shortly after 11 o'clock today, the Southern Bell Telephone company here was advised by its Pensacola office.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 20. (AP)—Mobile was being swept by an 88-mile gale at 7 o'clock tonight, attaches of the American Telephone company there reported to their New Orleans office tonight over a telegraph wire that was maintained in operation of only a few minutes. The barometer reading in Mobile at that time was 28.91.

The telegraph operator at Mobile who sent the messages telegraphed that he was unable to give any estimate of the damage because the men working in the telephone office there had been unable to leave the building because of the high winds for many hours, and were not in communication with other parts of the city. He reported that practically all the telephone and telegraph wires in Mobile were out of communication and the efforts to resume normal service were being continued.

Mobile Was Damaged.

A communication tonight to the Tropical Radio company's New Orleans station from their operator in Mobile indicated that the storm had already caused heavy property damage there. The Mobile operator reported that he obtained an unverified estimate of a half million dollars worth of damage. He added that many persons were marooned in their downtown offices by the gale. They found it unsafe to attempt to reach their homes.

The operator verified reports that telegraph and telephone wires had failed to function and revealed that thousands of homes were without electricity because wires had been blown down. He reported that the speed of the wind reached a peak of 100 miles an hour shortly before 5 o'clock.

Pensacola Silent

The Tropical Radio campany had received no reports from Pensacola tonight.

The Associated Press bureau here was notified by long distance telephone that the velocity of the wind in Biloxi at 8 o'clock was 50 miles an hour and had hovered around that speed since noon. No property damage had been reported there at that hour. Shipping remained at a standstill in the Biloxi neighborhood.

An earlier report from Mobile received by radio from staff correspondents of New Orleans newspapers was to the effect that the towns of Lillian and Seminole between Mobile and Pensacola had been destroyed by the storm and that several persons had been killed there.

Other towns along the gulf reported severe winds.

NO EFFECT OF STORM ON TEXAS COAST.

GALVESTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—No effects of the tropical storm which today passed inland between Pensacola and Mobile were perceptible on the Texas Gulf Coast in the vicinity of Galveston. The sky continued clear and the wind blew from the north at an average velocity of 12 miles an hour. Tides were normal, even the slight rise communicated from the hurricane which struck the Louisiana coast a few weeks ago being absent.

The barometer, which registered 29.92 this morning read 29.81 at 7 o'clock tonight. I. R. Tannehill, in charge of the local weather bureau office, explained that a slight decrease in barometeric pressure is normal under the circumstances.

Radio From Mobile.

The Galveston radio station of the Radio Corporation of America at 7 o'clock tonight picked up the following message from the tropical radio station at Mobile: "Several roofs off or partially off. Water front is clear of shipping. The bay and rivers are unusually low, the water having been sucked out by the hurricane, thought to have sideswiped Mobile. Fear expressed returning water backs up on the city."

Debris In Streets.

A later message said: "Streets filled with debris, broken window glass, etc. Telegraph and telephone wires went out early."

Galveston today took steps to join in the nationwide movement to aid the Florida storm sufferers. Mayor J. E. Pearce sent a telegram to the mayor of Miami tendering the sympathy of Galveston and asking in what manner this city could assist.

FLORIDA'S KNOWN DEAD NOW SET AT 325

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 20. (By The dead in Florida's storm area as a result of Saturday's hurricane and tidal wave stood tonight at 325, the number of injured estimated at over four thousand and the property damage was placed at fifty million dollars.

Approximately forty persons were missing.

Miami proper had 125 dead and approximately two thousand injured; Miami suburbs including Coral Gables, Miami Shores, Little River and Hialeah total 45 dead and the injured was numbered into hundreds.

Hollywood Wrecked

Hollywood, with 75 dead and 600 injured, presented the most pitiful scene in the storm area as scores of children cried for their parents and an equal number of adults, scantly clad many in bathing suits searched the wreckage of their homes for traces of loved ones now missing.

At Fort Lauderdale there were 13 dead, twenty other persons were probably fatally injured and 503 others less seriously injured were being treated by the Red Cross hospitals and emergency stations. It was said by Red Cross oficials there that about 7,000 persons were dependent upon them.

At Denia there had been found ten bodies and 140 persons injured. Virtually every home or business building was wrecked. At Davie, five were killed and 40 injured.

Clewiston Isolated

Reports are that 41 dead have been located at Moore Haven and Clewiston across Lake Okeechobee. Because of the inaccessibility of the towns an accurate check tonight was impossible, it was indicated several hundred were injured.

Fifty persons were suffering from injuries at Progresso and three at Pompano. Each place reported one death. At Floranada there were three injured and at Deerfield two.

Throughout the storm area it was estimated conservatively that 40,000 persons were homeless and virtually without clothing or immediate methods to recoup their loss.

Martial Law Raised

Martial law declared Saturday continued in effect throughout the storm area until late this evening when the restrictions in Miami were modified. None were allowed during the day to enter the stricken area except upon some mission of relief, official business of the government or state, or for the press of the nation.

Hundreds were turned back by the soldiers despite their pleas that relatives were in the storm area and had been unheard from. It was considered best until things had better adjusted themselves that the water and food supply be not further strained by additional mouths to feed. It was decided too that the work of checking the dead and injured and caring for the destitute would be hampered by permitting additional persons within the area.

Fight Epidemic

Sanitary engineers and inspectors were mobilized today to avert serious epidemics in the path cut by the hurricane.

Huge signs now warn the people of the stricken area that drinking water must be boiled 20 minutes. The signs are not advisory orders from the health department of the cities affected but are posted and enforced by the authorities of the martial government which temporarily rules.

Sewer and water systems generally were crippled, but train loads of water arrived last night and city officials announced today that Miami and Hollywood water plants were back in commission.

Surgeons who have been working day and night attending the thousands said today that they were badly in need of tetanus serum.

The relief committee in the towns and cities visited by the hurricane were almost unanimous today in asking that no further supplies be sent but that money be sent instead. The supplies of food, water and clothing available

At that time she is having the first real love affair of her life. The man in the case is TONY GAINES, an ambitious young lawyer, who wants to marry her. Their engagement ends when he learns that Merry goes out with other men. He goes to Montana to live, and a year later Merry hears that he is engaged to marry a girl there. She tries not to care.

HELEN, her oldest sister, marries and later dies in childbirth.

Then CASSIE, the second oldest, marries her rich employer, MORLEY KAUFMAN. Merry envies her soft easy life, despite the fact that Morley is not true to her. Through Cassie, Merry meets BILL ERSKINE, a wealthy bachelor. She becomes engaged to him, but he keeps putting off the date for their wedding.

Moms takes in two boarders, to help both ends meet. One of them is LILLIE DALE, and the other is a MR. HEFFLINGER. A year later she marries him.

JINNY, the youngest sister, never forgives Moms for her second marriage. She leaves home and marries DERRICK JONES, who lives next door, and goes to live with his parents.

Bill Erskine goes to Florida, to be with his dying father. He promises to marry Merry in the spring, but when spring comes he writes and tells her that he does not think she is the girl for him—that she is too young and flighty for him. Merry knows that he hears about her love affair with LES PURCELL, a married man. She tells Moms about the letter, and Moms promptly announces the engagement, and writes Bill a letter that she says will make him "sit up and take notice."

Several days pass by. Then Bill writes to say he is coming to town.

One night, after Merry has been out with Derrick and Jinny on a "bat," Cassie comes to the house, all alone, carrying two bags with her. Merry is sure that she has left Morley, at last.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER LIII

A minute or two later, Moms came heavily up the stairs, and stood in the doorway with her hands on her aproned hips.

"Well, Cassie, what does all this queer behavior mean?" she demanded to know.

Cassie yawned and stretched herself like a great sleep sleepy cat. Then she sat up, and gazed dreamily out of the window.

"It means that I've come home to stay for a while, Moms," she answered. "I suppose that my mother's roof is the best place for me while I'm divorcing Morley."

She glanced up quickly to see how her mother was taking the news. She knew, as everyone in the family, knew, that Moms thought divorce one of the seven deadly sins.

"I've thought it all out," Cassie explained, "I can have my old room back, and—"

"But Lillie has it!" Merry broke in. "She pays Moms ten dollars a week for it."

"I'll pay her fifteen," Cassie said easily, "I'm suing Morley for plenty of money."

Moms let that pass. "What have you and Morley quarreled about this time?" she asked.

Cassie raised her plucked eyebrows. "The thing that we always quarrel about!" she snapped. "His so-called friendship with Mrs. Pell. He took her out somewhere last night— and while he was gone I packed my trunks. They ought to be here pretty soon."

Moms' face became longer and longer. For Cassie was not the easiest person in the world to live with.

She had always demanded for herself the things that now belonged to Moms' second husband. The top of the milk for her coffee, the bathroom at stated hour, the softest chair in the house, the white meat of the chicken when there was chicken for dinner.

In short, she demanded the whipped cream and the silk-backed velvet of life. She thought that the best was none too good for her! Not good enough, really!

But so did Mr. Hefflinger, and ten minutes later when Cassie was starting across the hall to the bathroom for her morning dip, Mr. Hefflinger was just opening the door of his room.

Now, it so happened that Cassie hated and loathed Mr. Hefflinger. Not only because he was her step-father, but because he was—in her opinion—loud and cheap.

As a matter of fact, his clothes were not half so loud as Morley's wide stripes, black and white checks, and bright-colored ties.

Cassie's eyes became blank green stones as she looked him up and down, from the bald top of his head to the hem of his purple bathrobe.

She looked him up and down with a kind of scorn, then she said "Good morning" in a cold tone, and walked into the bathroom. The door of it closed sharply in his face.

A half hour later the door was still closed while Cassie sang in her bath, and Mr. Hefflinger stood scowling in the hall.

She Pulled Aside the Curtain to See Who It Was.

At a quarter after eight he was still standing there.

"Well, your sister seems to think she's in her own house, and her own bathroom!" he remarked loudly to Merry, as she slipped past him on her way down to breakfast.

Merry hoped that Cassie would hear him and take the hint. But if Cassie heard him she gave no sign. She went on singing "At Dawning," in a high nasal voice that she herself, no doubt, admired.

"Where's your papa?" asked Moms when Merry appeared in the kitchen. "His chops are drying up, and so are his potatoes. I've never known him to be late for his breakfast."

Moms wanted Merry to call Mr. Hefflinger "Papa," or at least "Uncle Ed." But Merry stubbornly stuck to "Mr. Hefflinger." She, like Cassie and Jimmy, resented his marriage to Moms.

"I think Cassie beat Mr. Hefflinger to the bathroom this morning, Moms," she said sweetly. "That's why he's late, I suppose."

Moms poured a little hot water over the drying lamb chops, and put a lump of butter into the pan with the potatoes.

"Dear! Dear!" she fretted, "everything will be ruined for his breakfast." She began to tap the floor nervously with the toe of her shoe.

"Run up and tell Cassie to hurry," she said, frowning. "She can't lock herself up in that bathroom the way she used to in the old days!"

As Merry reached the top of the stairs, Cassie was just coming out of the bathroom. Mr. Hefflinger almost knocked her down as he rushed past her, and slammed the door behind him violently.

Cassie looked after him with wide, insolent eyes. "Sweet little thing to have around the house, isn't he?" she drawled. "What ails him? Is he going to catch a train, or something like that?"

Merry giggled. "No. But he's a kind of sacred cow around here," she laughed, pushing her sister ahead of her into the bedroom.

"He's supposed to have the bathroom to himself every morning at seven-thirty."

"Isn't that lovely?" mocked Cassie. "I suppose his whiskers are just ready to be cut at that time, don't you? Is that the reason, or is it because he breakfasts at eight? I seem to smell broiling meat and broiling coffee and other comforts of home."

Merry nodded. "Yes, he has breakfast at eight sharp," she replied. "Bath at seven-thirty, breakfast at eight, leaves the house at nine. He's a regular railroad time-table, he is!"

Cassie smiled, and uttered the thought that was in both of their minds. "It's too bad Dad couldn't have had some of the attention she wastes on this Hefflinger!" she said bitterly.

They went downstairs together. In her slim little tube of a dress, Cassie looked like a young girl in the sudden April sunshine that flooded the dining room.

She looked as unreal as one of the velvet orchids that are sold in dry goods stores.

Her hair, dropped close to her head, had been "touched up" to a pale gold. Countless beauty treatments had given her skin a freshness and a sheen that nature had never given it. She had had her white eyelashes dyed, so that they remained dark until they grew out.

Rings sparkled on her thin white hands, and when she moved, the delicate ordor of French perfume came from her clothes.

In Moms' shabby comfortable dining room, with its cuckoo clock, its plain white muslin curtains, its golden-oak furniture, she was as out of place as the Czarina of all the Russias would have been in a soviet hotel.

"Could I have some grapefruit, Moms?" she asked, with a sidewise glance at the two halves that waited, iced and sugared, at Mr. Hefflger's place.

Moms looked unhappy.

"There isn't one in the house," she said, "except that one. And it's all fixed for Ed. He has two oranges one morning, and a grapefruit the next. Doctor's orders."

A crooked little smile just touched Cassie's reddened lips. "Does he have to have both halves?" she asked.

Then, as her mother picked up one half and put it on another plate for her, she shook her head. "No, thank you," she refused it with freezing politeness. "No, thank you. I wouldn't touch that grapefruit."

The door of the dining room opened and Lillie came in.

She was looking even more gay and colorful than usual. Merry knew that she had put fresh henna on her hair the day before, and her head glowed like a torch. A rhinestone pin was stuck among the puffs and waves of it. She wore a pink Jersey jumper over her black skirt, and there were rhinestone buckles on her satin shoes.

"Hello, folkses!" she greeted the three women, in her kindly smiling way. "Isn't this a morning to drive the blues away? What are you doing here, Mrs. Kaufman? Left your husband?"

She meant that question as a joke, or course. But Cassie answered it with cold silence and a colder look.

"Could I have my coffee?" she asked her mother, and Moms vanished into the kitchen.

Mr. Hefflinger came down.

He ate his grapefruit with relish—smacking his lips once or twice.

But when Moms set his blackened chops and dried-up potatoes before him, he did not touch them. He looked at them and then asked her for his coffee.

"I'm sorry about your chops, Ed," Moms apologized.

Her husband raised one of his big flabby hands.

"That's all right, Sadie," he said. "It's not your fait that they're not fit to eat! I'm not complaining, but next time Mrs. Kauffman wants to spend an hour in the bathtub, she's better stay at home. I hear she has four or five bathrooms in her wonderful new home."

Cassie's lips tightened. "That's all you'll ever do—hear about my home!" she said, and her voice sounded as if her teeth were clenched. "You'll never step one foot inside of it! That much is certain, anyway."

She got up, just as an express truck rumbled up the driveway.

"Those are my trunks," she said to Merry. "Please tell the man to take them back where he got them from. I certainly am not going to stay another night under this roof!"

Merry started for the front door. But as she crossed the sitting room she caught sight of an auotmobile just pulling up in front of the house.

She peered out from behind the net curtains. It was Morley Kaufman's huge black town car, and in it was Morley and another man. A man as stout as Morley, and dressed like him, in a light overcoat.

It was Bill Erskine!

Petrolia Man To Run Cotton Gin

PETROLIA, Sept. 20.—W. E. Givens of this city has leased the Wichita Falls Cotton and Oil gin at Petrolia and expects to be ready for work by Thursday.

The cotton crop in the vicinity of Petrolia is better than in several years although it is estimated it is cut by one-fourth because of the leaf worm. It is believed it will average a third of a bale per acre.

Two years ago, 6,035 bales of cotton were shipped from Petrolia and last year only 3,660. Prospects are that this year's crop in the vicinity of this city will rival that of 1924.

The first fifty bales of 1926 cotton were harvested near Charlie last Thursday, and other cotton was picked during the week, it was said.

Ice Pick Employed In Family Battle Act

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Three persons who were stabbed with an ice pick Saturday apparently were recovering Monday, but the recovery of all depended on whether infections set in. Hospital attendants said it would be two or three days until it could be determined if they would live. The stab wounds in themselves were not fatal, but fear of infections was expressed.

The three were Otto Brandes, 61, his estranged wife, Mrs. Christine Brandes, 31, and her mother, Mrs. Kate Dietrich, 61. The stabbing took place at Mrs. Brandes home.

20 Brides Ordered In Telegraph Note

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20.(AP)—The days of long ago when the handful of New England colonists sent to England for a ship load of brides were recalled here when a man walked into the United States labor bureau and produced a telegram from Nash, Mississippi, asking for Mexican girls who were eligible for marriage.

"The twenty Mexican cotton pickers we have on our plantation will not stay unless thy are married," the telegram stated.

Word was received Sunday morning of Hudson's condition, saying that he had been stricken with appendicitis.

Acute form of eczema yields at last to soothing treatment

Chicago, Illinois, April 14:—"A few months ago I had what I presume was an acute form of eczema. Red blotches and cracks, which refused to heal, appeared on the fingers of my left hand, then spread to my right hand. Both became raw, inflamed and blistery. I began to apply Resinol Ointment and after using three jars my hands are again in perfect shape. Your ointment is wonderful not only for its soothing effect to burning, itching skin, but for its quick healing qualities. From today on I am a volunteer booster of Resinol." (Signed) F. R. ## WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwinski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and rundown that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women past fifty, say they owe their health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

BETTER THAN SODA

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this sour-ing waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

TRY A 25c BOTTLE

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and 50c bottle, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Fainting Spells

"SHORTLY after I was married, I suffered from general weakness," says Mrs. J. W. Dawson, of Blountstown, Fla., whose picture is printed at the left. "My first baby was expected and I had all the ailments women usually suffer at such a time. I was dizzy and nauseated. I had fainting spells and awful headaches.

"My mother told me to try Cardui, as it was the best tonic she knew of. I began taking it as she directed and found it a wonderful help. It was no time at all until I was able to be up and at my work with no bad feelings at all. From that time on, for seven years, I have used Cardui as a tonic whenever I got run-down.

"I was dreadfully bloated," says Mrs. Dawson, telling of another time when she found relief through the use of Cardui. "I swelled all over. My feet just swelled awfully. I had a dreadful time. I got so scared I was almost wild. A friend was with me and she sent for Cardui for me. Cardui did the work. Almost immediately the swelling began to leave me and in a few weeks I was back to normal."

MISSING MAN'S AUTO LOCATED

San Antonio Police See Clue To Man Who Was Last Seen In May

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20. (AP) Location of an automobile which belonged to Georgd E. Mengel, 50, lavatory worker, last heard of on May 8, may lead to a solution of the mystery surrounding the man's disappearance, police said Monday. The automobile, a coach answering the description of the car in which Mengel left home, was found in Nuevo Laredo by Constable Ed Villareal of Laredo. It had been left as security by a man who borrowed some money on it, Villareal said.

The description given of the man who borrowed money on the machine did not answer that of Mengel, leading officers to believe that Mengel was kidnapped, perhaps slain and the auto being sold by the perpetrators of the crime.

No Other Clues

No clothing was found in the machine, Villareal said, the auto apparently having been freshly cleaned before it was taken to the money lender.

Mengel on the night of May 8, hurriedly left his home without a hat or coat, but with a sharp edged razor in his hand, immediately after receiving a telephone call, Mrs. Mengel told police.

No word has been received from the man since that night, his wife said.

Shell Shock Victim

It is believed that he was either kidnaped, or was suffering from shell shock, and was not aware of what he was doing.

Mengel had been employed in the laboratories and had apparently recovered from a previous shell shock and was doing well in his work, Mrs. Mengel said.

NEWS FOR JOHN BULL

JOHN BULL is the master of the seven seas. In war time the American people spent three billion dollars for a merchant marine. T. P. O'Connor, who is the chairman of the United States shipping board, is doing London. That is, he is on vacation. Invited to talk to British financiers and shipping men,, he accepted the invitation. What did he say?

He said something else: That at least half of the United States' exports and imports should be carried under the American flag if a law by the American congress was enforced to the letter.

He cited the law authorizing railways to give preferential rates to freight destined for shipment to foreign ports in ships under the American flag. He followed this up by making significant words, "I need not dwell upon the benefit to American shipping if we attempted to invoke this law."

Then a law passed by the American congress for the protection and the support of the American merchant marine has not been invoked by the shipping board. Has the shipping board authority to ignore the law of the land. If so, where did the shipping board get its authority?

Chairman O'Connor in conclusion let loose this bolt for the edification of the foreign world. "It should be clearly understood that the American congress is determined to have a permanent merchant marine, privately owned if possible, but a merchant marine at all event."

Not many years ago the flag of the merchant marine disappeared from the seven seas. A World war made it possible for the American flag to return to the seven seas to float from the mastheads of American ships that plowed the seven seas.

Isn't it true that the nation that controls the ships of the seven seas dominates the commerce of the world.

WARD ON THE WARPATH

SENATOR PIERCE B. WARD of Johnson county is on the warpath. He would send all chicken and turkey thieves to the penitentiary. He wants a law passed with teeth in it. He has asked the governor to submit a bill increasing the punishment for theft of domestic fowls, mentioning chickens and turkeys by name, so that felony indictments can be returned where the value of the bird justifies it.

His bill would permit such theft to be a felony or a misdemeanor and impose a prison sentence of from one to two years, or 12 months in jail and a fine up to $200 or both.

Senator Ward hails from an agricultural community. There are vast poultry interests in his district. He would make the punishment fit the crime.

A white man who would steal a chicken should be sent to jail. A negro who would steal a chicken should be shown some mercy. Even in slavery days lifting chickens was looked upon as a legitimate pursuit on the part of the Afro-Americans.

According to the lawmaker from Johnson, white men make a business of stealing chickens and turkeys the state over, and they sell the plunder to the best bidders in the nearest market.

It is an organized industry and for this reason the poultry grower should be protected. Why not the whipping post? If not the whipping post, why not the road gang?

Texas needs road workers. Chicken and turkey raisers need protection.

EVANS A ROYAL RULER

TEXAS is on the map again. Dr. Hiram Evans is on the map. He is a Texan. He is the head of the invisible order. He is the imperial wizard. He was authorized by the Washington convention before adjournment to continue to occupy hotel bridal suites during his travels, and "to maintain otherwise, the living standard commensurate with the dignity of the klan."

This former Texan, this imperial wizard in explaining his use of expensive automobile numbered only three behind the newest car in the service of the president of the United States, said to the delegates:

"Boys, I have just been strutting my stuff. I'm going to leave it to you whether I shall continue to do so."

There was a roar of approval on the part of the delegates, according to the Associated Press correspondent. And then the delegates by a unanimous vote, turned over to the imperial wizard, a former Texan, for his private use a small yacht owned by the organization and now in Florida waters.

Why shouldn't the imperial wizard ride in one of the newest and finest automobiles? Why shouldn't he have for his private use a handsome yacht? Where is the use of being an imperial wizard unless a man thus honored is able to "strut his stuff" wherever he goes.

If given an opportunity they all do it. Man was made to strut when the strutting time of life falls upon him.

KANSAS MAYOR OUSTED

KANSAS CITY is the largest city in Kansas. It is a near neighbor of Kansas City, Mo. This Kansas City is a republican stronghold. Its mayor is a republican. His name? Gordon. He was accused of winking at violations of pro laws including the Volstead act. His accuser was the attorney general of Kansas, who filed an ouster suit against Mayor Gordon. This before the supreme court of Kansas.

Exhibit A, of the attorney general was made up of stills taken from rum makers in this most important city in Kansas town. Mayor Gordon had breezy lawyers; the state had a breezy attorney general and his collection of captured stills.

Mayor Gordon was suspended, practically kicked out of office. Kansas City, Kan., is to be purified. Kansas City, Kan., is to be made as dry as the Sahara desert. What will the state of Kansas do with the homebrewers in the first city of the state in population and wealth. Will they be suspended? Will they be ousted from their home? Will they be made to feel the vengeance of the law?

Every time John Barleycorn dies he comes to life in another place.

CARAWAY OF ARKANSAS

CARAWAY of Arkansas, Senator Thaddeus H. Carraway has returned to the United States after a two months' tour of the countries of Europe. Caraway of Arkansas is in favor of collecting every cent of the money that the nations of Europe owe the United States.

Caraway of Arkansas declared in an interview if President Coolidge would tell France either to pay her debt or repudiate it, he would become a national hero and his re-election would be certain. Furthermore, he gave it as his opinion that France is proserous today and that its agriculture is more prosperous than that of the United States.

He ventured the prediction that France would avoid paying her debt if she could. Before sailing for Europe, Caraway of Arkansas told the reporters of New York City that governor Alfred E. Smith is debarred by his religion from ever becoming president. Before Getting away from New York to Arkansas on his return trip, the senator said to the reporters:

"Governor Smith is a wonderful man, but he can never be elected president of the United States. The country knows him as a capable and honest man and it has been arrested by his personality. It is a great pity that he should be crucified on account of his religion."

Caraway of Arkansas and democrats of his way of thinking are reminded that there are more republicans in the United States than there are democrats and when their conditions are normal, no democrat can be elected president of the United States.

Liberal republicans assisted the democrats to elect Samuel J. Tilden and then Tilden was counted out. Tilden was a New Yorker. Liberal republicans and independent tariff reformers made it possible for the democrats to elect Grover Cleveland, not once but twice. He was a New Yorker.

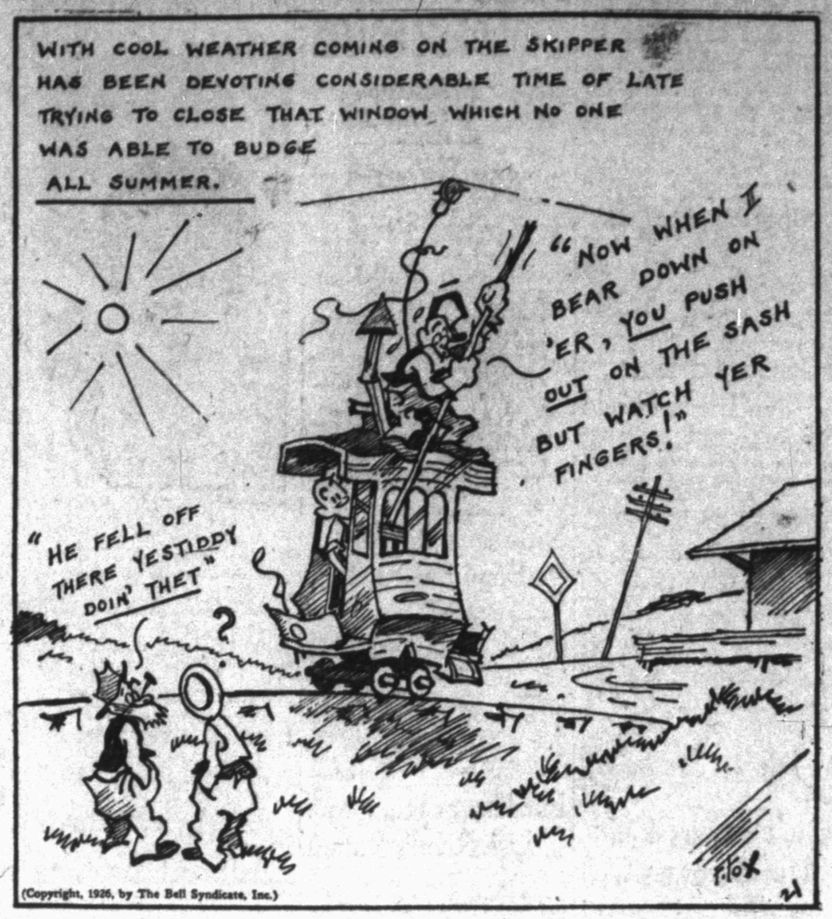

Theodore Roosevelt split the republican party wide open in 1912 and made it possible for the democrats to elect Woodrow Wilson. Woodrow Wilson was an adopted citizen of New Jersey, which is the playground at the time of his election.

There is no telling what will happen to the democratic party in 1928. Many of its leaders favor the abrogation of the two-thirds nomination rule, which permits a boss and his henchmen in certain states to hogtie a delegation and throttle freedom of expression.

These states are not northern states. Name them and take them. If the national leaders of the party would cast aside the two-thirds rule and the unit rule then it would be possible to create a united democratic party in this republic.

There is no national democratic party now, and it will be impossible to create a national party with the old rules clinging to the organization as barnacles cling to the hull of a ship.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains

The Infernal Machine

By F. Britten Austin.

What was that? His heart stopped in recognition of a far-away, muffled shock. He listened, his senses strained to an intense acuteness. What was that faint shock, deep down in the ship? His scream rang, strange and terrifying, in the ears, unconscious as he was that he had uttered it. He started from his bunk, clutched at the edge of it with claw-like, rigid fingers, sweat pearling upon his forehead, as he steadied himself upon the sloping floor that listed away under him and came not back. He listened, ears at strain for the slightest sound. There was a strange hush, an utter absence of the vibration so long continued. The engines had stopped!

At last! It was the explosion. He had no doubt of it. A breathless terror swept over him, denying utterance to the flood of wild blasphemy which rose in him like an inversion of agonized prayer. Mingled with it was a great relief. The whirring of that infernal machine in his head had stopped. He could think now, think with a rapid lu-cidity that amazed him. His mind, miraculously alert, took in all the implications of his position, while yet he clung to the bunk, speechless and incapable of movement.

Would anyone come to let him out? There was a rapid scurry of feet along the corridor. It passed, ceased definitely. Then, in heart-stopping confirmation of his fear, the light in the corridor went out suddenly. He stopped clutching at his bunk, in an absolute darkness that enveloped him almost tangibly. He let go of the bunk in a dash for where he knew the door to be, slipped, with a sharp stab of accentuated terror, upon a wet floor sloping permanently at an acute angle, despite its slow rise and its seemingly endless subsequent subsidence. He crawled upwards on it, knocked his head against the door, pulled himself upright with a grasp upon its handle. Then, in a sudden access, he found his voice. He shrieked—piercingly, shriek upon shriek that rang through an appalling silence, shrieked like a maniac forgotten in his cell.

None came to answer him. There was no sound in the corridor outside. What was happening in that deathly silence which pervaded the great ship? He failed to bring himself to exact imagination. She still rose, still subsided, heavily, lazily. But the list which sloped the floor slippery under his feet remained uncorrected. Was she still afloat—settling, slowly but surely? He ceased his maniac shrieks to listen. There was no sound. This far-down corridor, remote from the general life of the ship, tenanted only by emigrants on the westward voyage, was deserted. He shook furiously at the implacably-locked door, crashed his fists against its panels in frenzied blows that had no result but the flaying of his knuckles. He flung himself against it like a wild thing in a cage. The door remained immovable.

He stopped again, listened—listened for the rushing cataract of water he knew must be pouring into the ship, down her companionways, along her corridors. He floor seemed to sink endlessly beheard nothing. There was no sound perceptible in that rayless blackness which pressed upon him, save a sough and swish of water exterior to the ship. Then he understood. Of course, they would have closed down the water-tight doors. He shrieked a curse at that unknown officer on the bridge for performing his obvious duty, in a vivid imagination of the great steel doors sliding down into their immovable positions, shutting off the water indeed from this compartment, shutting him off inexorably from escape even could he break out into the corridor.

In the horror of this realization he relaxed his hold upon the door tilted forward against him, slipped and slid, in that utter blackness, down the sloping floor to the wall of the ship. He felt over it with trembling eager hands, felt for the heavy brass fastening of the port-hole. It was still firm, though his hands were wetted in the water which welled up gently around its rim.

Despite the complete cessation of the crashing impacts with which the ship had so long smashed into the heavy waves, her equilibrium was by no means stable. She still rose, though heavily and draggingly; still sank, ever more and more deeply it seemed, in a sluggish roll which emphasized in its swing-back the ugly list that the lift had failed to correct. In that engulfing blackness she seemed to subside ever lower and lower, inert, incapable of righting herself, cradled still by a motion of the waters that swished and washed against her flanks, sinking with every lurch into rayless, unimaginable depths.

The frenzied man huddled there in the darkness against the wall wet with water from the leaking port had no doubt of it. He knew. That infernal chunk of coal had done its work only too well. Paralyzed for any movement, his imagination worked feverishly and yet, in that complete dark, could form no definite mental images. To his horror, that terrifying machine in his head had started again—beyond his control. It was like being in a darkened movie hall, where the still whirring machine could only project flitting and fragmentary pictures from a torn film in the intervals of frequent "blackouts" upon the screen. But still the machine went on maddeningly—the more maddening because, somehow, the machine was part of himself. The mental photograph of a sinking derelict he had once seen recurred over and over again in that patchy sequence—the hulk sagging in the seas which lapped over her, higher and imperceptibly higher—the decks awash, waves licking the canvas of her bridge—and then the silent, sudden engulfment, disappearance.

Were they still afloat, upon the surface? He dared not give himself the answer. Even though they had sunk beneath the wave-tops, he remembered—all scraps of opposite knowledge that he had ever picked up coming to him with a memory preternaturally acute—that great ships like the Gargantuan, if their bulk-heads were closed, did not drop like a stone to the bottom of the sea, but remained, swung as it were at an intermediate depth, in a slow and gradual subsidence as one compartment after another was burst into by the pressure of the water.

Questions from the World of Love Answered by a Noted Authority

Could Two People Who Are Very Much Alike Be Happily Married or Should They Be Opposite Tpyes?—Why a Husband With an Incompetent Wife Should Stick by His Children—The Folly of Secret Marriages.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to be married to a girl who is almost my counterpart, we are so much alike in our thoughts, actions and moods. What is your observation in this connection? Have you found that a union between two people who are so closely akin spiritually and mentally turns out to be an unqualified success? L. A. Z.

Answer:

My observation has been that the more alike a husband and wife are the better they get along together, unless they both possess very bad dispositions.

You can see, for instance, that if two very high-tempered people o rtwo very selfish people married they would be bound to like a Kilkenny cat sort of life. Certainly it would always be better for an overbearing man to pick out a meek and mild girl for a wife, instead of marrying a lady who had a will of her own and who is set and determined on doing her own way. Likewise, a domineering woman should choose a patient, humble-minded man, instead of one who is possessed of the head-of-the house complex.

The attraction of opposites, which makes the big man as a general thing pick out a pocket-edition wife and the brilliant man select a wife who is beautiful but dumb and which causes the butterfly woman to fall in love with the poor clerk instead of the millionaire's son and that makes the Puritancial maiden fall for the rounder is merely nature's effort to hold the balance level for humanity and keep the race from running to giants or midgets or highbrows or lowbrows or saints or sinners.

Nature does not concer herself with the happiness of the individual. They very differences that drew people together before marriage often thrusts them apart after marriage, and there are no more discordant households than those in which the husbands and wives are of totally different types and differ in every taste, habit and inclination.

After the honeymoon has waned marriage settles down into a glorious friendship or else it becomes that most terrible of all things, an enforced intimacy with an uncongenial companion, than which nothing on earth is worse. Now it is only possible to be friends with those whose ideas and ideals, whose interests and tastes jibe with our own. We do not enjoy the society of those who differ with us on every subject and with whom conversation is a perpetual acrimonious argument. We want those with whom we must live our daily life to enjoy reading the same books as we do, to like the same food, to want to go to the same church and to the same plays and fovies, to vote the same ticket and to amble along on the same hobbyhorses that we ride.

Our mental picture of a happy family is one in which the husband and wife go together, not one in which they pull apart, with different interests, with different friends, with different objects in life.

So I should say that the more alike the husband and wife are, providing they are both reasonable human beings, the better their chance for happiness.

DOROTHY DIX.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

MEN WILL BE BOYS.

Boys will be boys, I know it's true,
For men are boys their whole lives through,
Boys when a spaniel wags its tail,
Boys when they hear a flapping sail,
Boys when the engine starts to miss,
Boys in a hundred ways like this.
We think them old, we call them men,
But poof! and they are boys again.

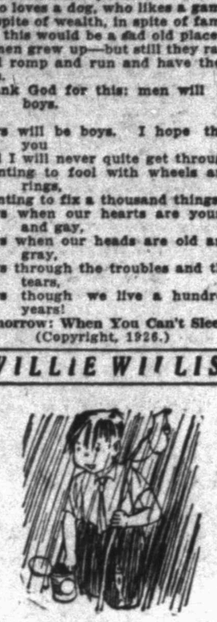

Boys will be boys, they ought to be,
And even wiser yet is he
Who loves a dog, who likes a game,
In spite of wealth, in spite of fame.
Oh, this would be a sad old place
If men grew up—but still they race
And romp and run and have their joys.
Thank God for this: men will be boys.

Boys will be boys. I hope that you
And I will never quite get through
Wanting to fool with wheels and rings,
Wanting to fix a thousand things,
Boys when our hearts are young and gay,
Boys when our heads are old and gray,
Boys through the troubles and the tears,
Boys though we live a hundred years!

Tomorrow: When You Can't Sleep.

What Do You Know About It?

DAILY SCIENCE SIX

1. What percentage of the energy of coal is captured by the machines that burn it?
2. Is our coal supply giving out?
3. What is the original source of all energy?
4. What other substance beside coal which gives energy is derived from the ground?
5. Is the energy of the ocean's motion ever hitched up to anything?
6. What becomes of the energy of a man when he strikes steel with a hammer?

Answers to these questions in tomorrow's Record News.

COALS TO NEWCASTLE

The extensive use of coal is not above two hundred years old; but it had long been known, especially in the north of Eengland, around Newcastle, where coal is found beside the sea, that coal could burn. When coal became important, with the industrial revolution, Newcastle was a center of mining, and "carrying coals to Newcastle" is an expression for trying to sell somebody something of which he has plenty and of the best. Yet so important are the coal mines of other parts of the world that the mines of Eengland do not supply all the coal needed for English factories, and recently a large consignment of American coal sent right to Newcastle itself.

Now what do you know about that?

Answers to yesterday's questions: 1. Cream is made of fat and protein and water. 2. Cream rises because the specific gravity of fatty oils is less than that of water, and milk is more watery than cream. 3. Cream sours faster because its fatty nature is a richer culture for the bacteria that cause souring. 4. Cream is more fattening than milk. 5. But milk is more easily digested. 6. Goats and camels are also domesticated for milk.

Texas is in danger of losing the renowned band by virtue of the Oklahoma American Legion's challenge to the Texas legion. The challenge stipulates that the state which enrolls most members in the legion by September 24 midnight, will claim the right to take the old gray mare, band mascot, to the national legion convention and will have official sponsorship of the "Old Gray Mare band." Oklahoma now has a good lead over Texas in the contest.

WORMS RUIN COTTON CROP

They're So Thick They Cover Roads in Affected Region, Report

ELECTRA, Sept. 20.—Mell Gribble, prominent ginner and owner of valuable farm land north of Harrold was in Electra Saturday and reported that the leaf worm had not only destroyed the leaves of the cotton in the Guyer community but were eating the half grown bolls.

The farmers north of Electra reported that Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning the pavement and gravel road leading north to the Electra-Frederick bridge was completely covered in some places with the worms to such an extent it appeared to be slick from traffic having crushed the worms on the pavement.

The pest seem to be migrating and much fear is felt as to the safety of the Sudan hay crop and early wheat.

Savex

Savex is a marvelous success with baby things. Each tiny flannel piece washes as soft as can be and each sheer white garment becomes so freshly "white white." When baby clothes have been laid away they may become yellow—brown spots often appear on the flannels—but washed in Savex, they come out "like new."

And what Savex will do for tiny baby things it will do with equal success for little tots' tub suits and khaki play clothes. No matter how hard the play, dirt and stains vanish when washed with Savex. Nor will it harm pretty colors.

Soap, water softener and mild, safe bleach—all in one package—Savex is the laundry help that mothers have hoped for.

At the Mission Today

RICHARD DIX AND LOIS WILSON IN A SCENE FROM THE PARAMOUNT PICTURE "LET'S GET MARRIED"

Stars Travel In Mission Picture

After having completed "Womanhandled," Richard Dix felt the need for doing a little automobile driving. In that picture of the wild and wooly west, he did a whole lot of work on the backs of various horses. But on being assigned the leading role in "Let's Get Married," a modern farce comedy, Richard said to himself, "Here's where I come down to earth again." He did!

Dix starts "Let's Get Married" which came to the Mission today, by riding down New York City's windiest thoroughfare, Riverside Drive, in an antiquated electric coupe which ambles along so leisurely, he is able to jump out, run around and inspect the tires, without stopping to turn off the juice.

After that he rides to Blackwell's Island Prison in a police patrol wagon. Then Dix escapes from jail by being deposited in a laundry wagon which lumbers away with him.

Here and there through the picture, he does some tall ground covering in a high powered car that looks like the Twentieth Century sweeping across the plains. Another bit of traveling achieved by Dix in "Let's Get Married," is a trip down the prison laundry chute. He accomplishes this without the aid of any vehicle other than the seat of his trousers. These, he admitted did not seem to be entirely friction proof. Lois Wilson is featured playing opposite the star. Gregory La Cava directed for Paramount.

You May Have It And Not Know It!

Are you constipated?

How do you know your are not?

Constipation desn't mean merely failure of the bowels to move! You must have a complete and thorough evacuation every day! If you don't your system is not thoroughly cleansed—and germs of disease and poisons breed in the putrefied wastes left in the intestines.

The poisons enter the blood through the blood vessels in the intestinal walls. The headaches you get—the fatigue—the skin blemishes—the mental sluggishness—the suseptibility to colds and countless other ills are directly due to the presence of these poisons in the system. Continuing constipation may lead to serious trouble and the sick bed.

Don't take a chance. Be sure your entire intestinal tract is THOROUGHLY CLEANED OUT. The best way is to take KLOK-LAX. Just a KLOK-LAX tablet with a swallow of water! And you may be sure that every inch of your twenty-eight foot drainage canal, including your stomach, upper and lower intestines IS WASHED CLEAN, CLEAR AND PURE.

The KLOK-LAX way is the new, improved method to overcome constipation. It produces complete cleansing—not just cleansing in spots, as with oils, salts, cascaras and ordinary laxatives and purgatives.

Everybody is using KLOK-LAX now! Its so effective—and so easy to take! No griping—no nausea—no time lost from work. Just a nice, pleasant way to keep refreshed, alive and active—with plenty of "pep" and energy and a hearty appetite.

Get KLOK-LAX from any good druggist.—Adv.

The Cardinals don't have to play ball to win a pennant. Let the Braves do it for them.

And speaking of breaks, the Hendricks clan biffed an even ten hits in the first game to an odd five by the Bostons. Results: 4 to 2, Braves.

* * * *

Zitzmann's two-run muff in the eighth inning of the opener will go down as a heavy money loss in Cincinnati. That miscue may have cost a championship.

* * * *

STRATEGY? OR LUCK?

Eight hits and seven in the second game, yet no runs for Cincy and three for the Braves. Then some enterprising folk inquired as to why neither Beaumont nor Wichita Falls copped a pennant in 1926.

Branch Rickey has invited Spud Prez Gardner to attend the world series with him. The two boys have been getting quite chummy of late. Says Branch, "Yaas, if my team trains in Texas again next spring I'll give you two playing dates in Wichita Falls."

* * * *

The White Sox, also, have promised a two-game stand at Spud pasture in 1927.

* * * *

Gardner slipped out of town last night for New Orleans and the inter-conference clashes all unannounced. Probably to cop pointers on what it may take to win a Dixie series next fall.

* * * *

Guy Airey disappeared yester morn. Gone a-snooping around New Orleans, too. Dallas will have plenty of support in this two-man rooting detachment.

* * * *

OH WHY, OH WHY?

Doesn't it beat all how these after-enders perform toward the fag part of the race when everything's almost settled? Boston's Braves, in lower seven of the National league ladder, bliks Cincinnati, the contender, in a pair. Boston's Red Sox, leading the American procession from the wrong side, knocks the props under Cleveland while the Yanks are doing their best to help the Tribe along by dropping a couple to Chicago.

* * * *

That's Settled, at Last!!

Back to the Dixie clash: Dallas has a staunch believer in Gardner. Our Alvin is one of the few baseball men in the south who predicts a triumph for the Texas leaguers. Comparing the combatants man for man, Gardner dopes it out the Steers are the better. And, he says, "New Orleans' punch rests in Hendricks and Tucker, both lefthanded hitters. Why, Love and Shuman will stop them cold!" Gardner saw the Pelicans in a number of games this summer.

AW, LIE DOWN

The impossible Jinx Tucker gets in the way again with a run of prognostications on the probable outcome of the impending Texas university interscholastic league grid campaign. Jinx selects Amarillo as the probable champion of this section. Jinx, on the face of it, as usual, is wrong. Unless Amarillo improves fully 100 per cent this season over the Golden Sandstorm of 1925, Wichita Falls, looming with its most powerful team in grid annals of the city, should tear through the Panhandle outfit for a six to ten-touchdown victory.

BRAVES BLAST PENNANT HOPE FOR CINCINNATI

Welsh's Home Run and Lax Fielding Spell.. Double Disaster

BOSTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—Boston boosted the chances of St. Louis in the National league pennant struggle today by defeating Cincinnati in both games of a double header, 4 to 3 and 3 to 0, while the Cardinals were idle. St. Louis thus gained a two game advantage over the Reds. Bob Smith was the hero of the second game. His single in the fifth drove in the first run after Brown had doubled off Luque. A home run drive by Welsh in the sixth went over Roush's head. Moore's Texas league single, a bunt by Burrus and Bob Smith's triple gave Boston its third and last run in the seventh. The Braves fielded brilliantly behind their pitchers. The outstanding defensive play was Welsh's catch of Pipp's short drive to right in the sixth and his throw to Burrus at first, which doubled up Roush and ended the inning before Walker, who had reached third, could cross the plate. In the first game, Rixey held the Braves to five hits, but a muff by Zitzmann of High's drive to left field in the eighth with two out and two on bases let two Boston runs in. High knocked out a home run in the second inning.

Three Stars Have Chance to Collect Seventh Series Melon

Four men now in the big leagues have participated in six world's series—collected their divvy in the fall classic. They are Babe Ruth of the Yanks, Carl Mays of the Cincinnati Reds, Stuffy McInnis of the Pirates and Eddie Collins of the White Sox. The first three have high hopes of sharing in their seventh divvy.

Texas Detachment Off for Pel Island and Dixie Series

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (AP)—Dallas Steers, 1926 Texas league champions, with the official entourage consisting of sports writers, club officials, and ladies to the number of two score or more, departed for New Orleans Monday afternoon at 5:10 o'clock for the opening game of the Dixie series with the Crescent City Pelicans. The series opens on Wednesday afternoon. Pullmans attached to the Sunshine Special carried the party.

Departure of the Steers was the occasion of a large send-off on the part of Dallas fans who crowded the lobby and waiting rooms of the Union Terminal station for an hour or more.

"You may tell Dallas fans we are in grand shape for the Dixie Series" Manager Snipe Conley of the Steers said just before entraining. "We shall fight every inch of the way and we will win the Dixie championship if we get our share of the breaks, I am sure."

The Dallas team is the only team in the Texas league besides Fort Worth to enter a Dixie series.

Des Moines Wins Western Pennant

DES MOINES, Sept. 20. (AP)—Des Moines won the Western League pennant today for the second consecutive year.

The first game of a double header with Lincoln gave the Demons the championship for which they nosed out Oklahoma City.

A batting rampage that resulted in an 8 to 1 victory wound up the pennant race, the Demons hitting two Lincoln pitchers for fourteen safeties.

The Des Moines management has announced arrangements for a post season series with Springfield, Ills., pennant winner in the Three Eye league.

Varsity Forward Wall Shapes Up

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—Aspirants for the Texas University football team took it easy Monday. A number of regulars were slightly injured in Saturday scrimmage, and Coach Stewart took no chance on aggrivating the injuries.

Eddie Beular of Beaumont, first string quarterback, sprained an ankle Saturday, but it is said he will be ready to go Saturday against the Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers.

The Longhorns forward wall seems to be shaping with Higgins and Slover, on the wings; Gooch and Cowly, tackles; Moore and Wray, guards, and McCullough, at center.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Another omen: Mrs. Estelle Taylor Dempsey is unlike the Spartan mother who told her fighting son to bring back his shield or come upon it. The pre-battle message from the Mrs. to Jack is "win or lose, hurry home," if notables on a train en route from moviedom to Philly have it straight.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—When F. P. Shaw was arrested for driving his auto while intoxicated, his pulse registered 130. When it was taken in court it registered 140. He was released.

Downing Returns To Coyote Pack

McCallum Arranges New Plays For Lawton Game

Coyote hopes were still further boosted Monday afternoon when Wymore Downing, stalwart guard and letterman from the '25 squad, returned to school and to his old uniform. Several additional new men also came out to swell the ranks of the Pack.

Coach Bud McCallum took stock of his gang and found that the first game Saturday had not been devastating to his ranks as only a few turned up with any injuries worth mentioning. Pinney was out with a bunged up shoulder and Francis had to nurse his ankle slightly. A few others carried minor scratches and bruises, though none of consequence.

Eradication of defects in Saturday's melee, together with instruction in three new plays and the necessary signal drill to fix the plays, constituted the bulk of Monday's workout. Tuesday the Pack may expect some thorough mixing in preparation for Friday's encounter with the Sooners of Lawton in the Lawton home lair. Reports from Lawton give that village credit for having a powerful eleven and considering the fact that Lawton had some lookouts down for the Walters set-to Saturday to investigate the Pack, McCallum's crew should find an interesting reception awaiting them.

British Colonel In Defeat by Channel

13 To 5 Wagered On Champ To Win

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP) Jack Dempsey became a more pronounced favorite in Wall Street today for his title match with Gene Tunney, wagers placed at odds of 13 to 5 on the heavyweight champion representing the longest yet registered. Several freak bets were recorded, one of them a wager of $1,500 to $3,000 or at odds of 1 to 6, that Tunney could not answer the bell for the third round. Another of $1,400 to $1,000 was made that the bout would not go the limit.

Ludgate Grooms Indians For Sill

Newcomers Swell Tribe To 27 in Number During Monday Drill

Much work is ahead of the Tribe of Junior college, all candidates realize, if the Fort Sill assignment for Saturday is to be mastered. While the college boys have been toiling pretty faithfully for the past week, they know that a large portion of practice is still due in order that the Maroon and Gold may give a good account of itself against the older and more experienced opponents.

Ludgate Monday started his outfit out with a good heart-to-heart talk on the season's possibilities and responsibilities. The practice field found 27 men ready to hit the hard dust, the largest number of men ever to appear in one practice for the Junior college. Williams, from Burk, quarterback, on last year's Decatur Baptist eleven that poured it on the Tribe last Thanksgiving, worked out with the Indians and is planning to go to school here this year if he can locate a job to help him finance his stay. Reed Pace, another very capable performer from the oil-town, also returned and will cast his lot with the Tribe if he can locate a job.

A look over the bunch on the training ground shows the presence of enough good material and experience to build a creditable team. It is now the hope of the Coach, the team and fans that the town will back the Tribe in its second conference season, in order to improve on the very good record left by the pioneer eleven of '25.

You'll make 'em fast and frequent

WHEN you discover what a perfect pippin of a cigarette you can make with a pinch of P. A. and a makin's paper, you'll be going like a one-man factory, morning to midnight. No fooling, Men, Prince Albert makes the finest little home-rolled cigarette you ever smoked.

The reason for this is the wonderful quality of the tobacco itself. Just get yourself a tidy red tin of P. A. today. Swing back the lid and release that marvelous aroma. Every fragrant whiff is saying "Come and get it." Your fingers fairly itch to get at the papers.

And when you apply a match to one of these cigarettes and pull in, you'll wonder where you've been all of Prince Albert's life! Cool as the spray from the prow of a yacht. Sweet as the breath of clover. Fragrant as fresh-cut flowers. Altogether a most delightful smoke.

This same wonderful tobacco goes great in a pipe too. If you like a pipe, you'll like it more with Prince Albert for filling. No bite. No parch. Just cool contentment every time you load up and light up. Get some P. A. this very day. Smoke it either way.

P. A. is sold everywhere. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

SOX SLAM IT ON HUGMEN IN TWIN VICTORY

Windy City Outfit Launches Attack That Brooks No Barrier

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Chicago cut down New York's lead over Cleveland to three games today by taking both games of a double header, 7 to 2 and 4 to 3, while the Indians lost their game to Boston. Chicago launched a vicious attack in the seventh of the first game and took a commanding lead which New York was unable to overcome because of Faber's steady pitching. Meusel's error coupled with Jones' wildness and some daring base running by Mostil and Hunnefield put Chicago out in front in the second game and they bunched their hits thereafter to win. The league leaders played an uphill game and threatened in the ninth when Blankenship weakened. Connally came to the rescue striking out Reuther, pinch hitter, and disposing of Severeid and Paschal, another pinch hitter, with only one run scoring.

BOSTON BEATS TRIBE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 20. (AP)—Cleveland's chances to win the American league pennant practically went glimmering today when the tail-end Boston team won, 2 to 1, in ten innings. Wingfield held Cleveland to seven hits and did not allow a run until the sixth. A home run by Speaker tied the score in the ninth. In the tenth Tobin led off with an infield single, took second on Jacobson's sacrifice and third on Regan's infield out. As Rosenthal came up to bat for Shaner, Speaker replaced Hudlin with Shaute, whereupon Bratche batted instead of Rosenthal and singled to left scoring Tobin with the winning run.

TY SPLITS WITH MACK

DETROIT, Sept. 20. (AP)—After taking the first game, 8 to 0, behind Rommel's air tight pitching, Philadelphia dropped the second game, 5 to 2, when the Tiger pitching proved too much for the visitors. Rommel allowed only two hits in the first game. Two of Detroit's runs in the second game scored, when Sammy Gray, fielding Fothergill's bunt in the first inning threw the ball to third base, which was uncovered. Two runners scored and the ball rolled to the left field and Fothergill got to third.

IT'S TO BE A HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT
And Gene, Who Hasn't Fought Many, Meets Champion

Whether or not Gene Tunney cares to make this coming meeting with Jack Dempsey a test of the power of mind over matter the fact remains that when the two men enter the ring the ensuing moments will be given over to what should be more or less the usual run of heavyweight championship fights—the efforts of a young and hopeful challenger to dethrone the champion.

As recited before it is tradition that heavyweight kings are dethroned generally through the effective results obtained with a horseshoe in the glove, so to speak. In other words ability to knock the king flatter than the highways around Jefferson Ohio.

It is to be expected then that the winner of the coming bout will be the man who can be on the producing end of the knockout punch.

All right.

Dempsey climbed to his battle with Jess Willard and since held the title by striding over a row of unconscious heavyweights, large, small, fast, slow, clever, dumb, crafty, courageous and confident.

Here is the list of the better known opponents who were bowled over by Dempsey:

Dempsey's Main Victims Via The K. O. Route

| Opponent | Round |
|---|---|
| Jim Flynn | 1 |
| Bill Brennan | 6 |
| Arthur Pelky | 1 |
| Porky Flynn | 1 |
| Fred Fulton | 1 |
| Battling Levinskye | 3 |
| Porky Flynn | 1 |
| Carl Morris | 1 |
| Gunboat Smith | 2 |
| Jess Willard | 3 |
| Billy Miske | 3 |
| Bill Brennan | 12 |
| Georges Carpentier | 4 |
| Luis Firpo | 2 |

Dempsey knocked out Bill Brennan in six rounds early in his career—when Brennan was younger and stronger and still experienced. Bill was tough, a hard hitter and fast.

Battling Levinsky had no wallop but he was one of the cleverest boxers of the day.

Gunboat Smith ranked as one of the hardest men in the heavyweight ranks to beat back. He can take anything and smile. Dempsey knocked him out.

Billy Miske was a clever boxer but couldn't escape Dempsey's punches.

Jess Willard was the biggest heavyweight the game has known and one of the deadliest hitters.

Carpentier goes down in history as the craftiest ring general and one of the hardest hitters in the game.

Firpo, a throwback to the prehistoric stone age, carried the wildest style ever seen in the ring game and one of the deadliest punches into the ring against Dempsey and fell short—woke up with the birds singing about his black wire hair.

Against this showing Tunney, we repeat, offers only a knockout victory over Gibbons and a technical one over Carpentier.

Here are the only heavyweights worth mentioning—and practically the only recognized heavies, that Tunney has knocked out.

| Opponent | Round |
|---|---|
| Charlie Weinert | 4 |
| Erminio Spalla | 7 |
| Georges Carpentier (technical) | 15 |
| Tommy Gibbons | 12 |
| Bartley Madden | 3 |

Outside of the 12-round knockout victory over Gibbons this list of Tunney's gives him or his friends no reason to assert that he is within 27 1-2 miles of Dempsey as a hitter.

Carpentier was a burned out, decrepid shadow of his former self when Tunney succeeded in getting a technical knockout victory in 15 long rounds. Dempsey knocked out Carpentier three years previously in four rounds.

Erminio Spalla was one of those overtouted foreign invaders, Bartley Madden an old trail horse.

On the other hand it must be admitted that the men listed among Dempsey's k. o victims were of all ages, stages of experience, stamina and ring craft.

It requires then some delicate dissecting of the relative merits of these opponents, the conditions under which the bouts were fought, ad the ultimate outcome to drive home the point that Tunney has a good chance to knock Dempsey out.

There's no logical argument for that belief.

Coyote Pups Prep for Archer City Tiff Here Friday

Junior High's Coyote Pups will open their practice season with Coach Wilson's Archer City gang Friday afternoon on the local gridiron. The game is of interest to supporters of both teams as the same aggregations will meet October 2 to tune in the '26 interscholastic league season of Class B schools in the district.

With more than 30 candidates reporting for regular practice, Coaches Lewis and Golden have a good field to select from. They expect to build a creditable eleven around the eight letter men who have returned to school. Junior Coyote followers were somewhat disappointed when it was found that Clyde Fly, star back of last year, would not be back with the Pups for another season. He had been much counted on. Fly has two subjects in junior high and two in senior high and hence is eligible for the senor Coyotes, with whom he has decided to cast his lot.

Kearns Detours Idea of Stopping Biff Title Affair

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.(AP)—Threatened injunction proceedings to stop the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney heavyweight championship bout did not make their appearance today, but tomorrow is expected to settle the matter one way or the other.

Attorneys representing B. C. Clements, president of the Chicago Coliseum club who obtained an injunction in Indiana prohibiting the world's champion from meeting any other boxer before he fights Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, were in consultation most of the day. They were trying to decide which would be the better method to press Clements' claim that Dempsey broke a contract to fight Wills. One method is to enjoin him, if possible from fighting Tunney here. Another is to bring suit to attach his receipts in the Tunney fight and try to recover damages for alleged breach of contract.

Counsel for Jack Kearns, who is suing Dempsey, both in New York and in Atlantic City to recover money alleged to be due him are steering clear of any move that would stop the bout. They do not favor "killing the goose that lays the golden egg" said one of them, for if the bout is not held there would be no receipts to be attached later.

In the last analysis, it was said that Clements' lawyers may take the same view and try to collect some of the gate receipts through a suit rather than stop the bout.

Mantell Has Ambitious Program Starting With Yaqui Match Thursday

The eminent Alf Mantell apparently is more of a glutton for real punishment than many give him credit for being.

When the doughty Dutchman swore a solemn oath here several weeks ago that he intended sooner or later to invade Wichita Falls and "clean the clocks of all your pets, going right down the line," not everybody took him seriously.

Dutch had just been trimmed in more ways than one. He had been euchered out of a decision in a match with Bill Romonoff and some fans imagined his tirade merely was a result of excess steam and anger caused by the unkind turn of events.

But with acceptance of Yaqui Joe's challenge for a finish battle at the Eleventh and Ohio arena Thursday night and declaration, "I'll come down there and kick that blanked savage's head off," Dutch has shown that he is in earnest.

"After I beat the savage I want another chance at that guy Romonoff and after him give me Jack Gorman and the Chinaman. I'm going to attend all of 'em," said Mantell, "and put those bums in their places."

Yaqui Joe takes Mantell's threats more or less as a laughing matter.

The Indian, inspired more or less by his topheavy victory the past week over Romonoff against whom he wrestled his smartest and cleverest probably of his career to date, smilingly remarked, "Dutch, he no can kick me. He try before and can't. Beat him good this time."

The Indian is training industriously for the melee.

Joe Kopecky, who tackles Jack Vincent, the blonde Oklahoman, in a finish match on the same card is hard at work, also.

MAKING IT FOUR OF A KIND

Judge Issac Russell, chief justice of the court of special sessions of New York City, went on a private and unannounced tour of inspection among the various corrective and charatible institutions of his jurisdiction. Late in the afternoon he entered the outer office of one of the insane asylums.

"I should like to take a trip through this place," he said to an under keeper who chanced to be in sole charge of the office temporarily.

"Visitors' days are Wednesdays and and Saturdays," the the keeper shortly; "and besides, it's after hours."

"But I insist on being shown through," said His Honor.

"Well, you've got a nerve," growled the keeper. "Who are you to be givin' me orders?"

"I am Chief Justice Russell of the court of special sessions" was the answer.

"That'll be about all," said the keeper wearily. We've got three of you in here now. Why don't you call yourself George Washington—there's only one of him?"

Partial identification was said Monday to have been established al[illegible]dy. The men who held up the inn escaped after a chase by Robert Pope. # HIGHWAY MEN FACE CHARGES

Written Protest Filed To Prevent Confirmation Of Nominees

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—Written charges against Hal Moseley, chairman of the highway commission and John Cage, member, were filed with the governor's nominations committee of the senate in the 39th legislature late Monday, and will be heard in executive session Tuesday.

The charges were handed to J. C. Strong, chairman of the committee, without signature. They oppose confirmation of the commissioners, the reason being based on resurfacing contracts awarded on highways surfaced by the American Road company.

The charges bring in the names of two members of a former commission and a former governor.

The charges review the activities of the highway department during the past year and half, and strong argument is made in opposition to confirmation.

Man Is Learning That Feminine Beauty Aids Are a Help To Him, Too

BY MADAME IDA CHARNOFF

There was a time when the masculine gender frowned on talcum as effeminate. Not so long ago, it was a hideous crime for the male animal to submit to any other odor than bay rum. To accuse a man of using a powder puff was to pin skirts on him! He would as soon have axle grease on his face as cold cream. But, listen! The druggists are selling cleansing and soothing creams today to men who have learned that too much pride is discouraged by sunburn and windchap. They are selling special powders to men who want to allay after-shaving irritation. And toilet water is now as often found on the shaving stand as on the feminine dressing-table.

You can open your husband's eyes to the comforts and joys of the dainty and medicinal aids to your toilette. Here are some of the wifely kindnesses you can do him. When he comes in from the drying wind and hot sun of the first warm days, offer him your cream to cleanse his face. Tell him to keep soap and water away from it for the once, and we will quickly learn the lesson. If his lips are dried and chapped from exposure, teach him to protect and soften them with your white pomade or a heavy cream. After shaving, let him sample some of the daintiest of your toilet waters. And here's a worth-while secret; get him to dust a little of your face powder on his neck, right where the top of his collar rubs the closely cropped hairs. He will be delighted to learn that your powder doesn't rub off so quickly as plain talcum, that it remains to protect and heal. You will discover that after a while he will own a powder puff also, and will have purchased a similar powder specially packed in a can for masculine use. Then, too, if he comes in on a hot day from hard work or exercise, add a few drops of perfume or some bath salts in his before dinner bath. He may grunt and protest, but he will finally grin and admit the real refreshment in this pleasant touch of fragrancy. It isn't hard to teach men that your aids to beauty and to the toilette are some thing more than paint and kalsomine, that they have honest value in healing, protecting and comforting!

NANCE'S BODY SENT TO HOME

Murdered Texas Farmer To Be Buried At Roaring Springs

CORSICANA, Sept. 20.(AP)—The body of J. C. Nance, 29, farmer of Afton, Tex., which was found Sunday on the banks of Cummins creek, seven miles north of Corsicana, was forwarded to Roaring Springs, Tex., for burial late Monday.

The body, in an advanced stage of decomposition, was found by a Mexican boy and apparently the man had been dead three days. He is survived by his father, widow and one child, all of Cottle county. G. T. Andrews, father-in-law of the dead man, and A. C. Martin, both of Afton, arrived in Corsicana today and took charge of the body.

Officers investigating the death are of the opinion Nance was murdered. There was one pistol wound ni the head and a pistol was found near the body. It is the opinion also of the officers that robbery was the motive for the supposed killing.

Nance left Afton in search of cotton pickers and is thought to have left Dallas accompanied by a negro. The dead man is said to have been unarmed when he left home.

More Livestock Exhibits Entered

Another important addition to the livestock exhibit at the Texas-Oklahoma fair was indicated yesterday when two more entries were filed. One is from Mrs. C. C. Perry at Anadarko, who will ship a car load of fine hogs here for exhibition purposes; and the other comes from S. D. Lawlis of Vernon, who will exhibit some of his fine thoroughbred hogs here.

The livestock department will be full to overflowing with the finest graded animals in the southwest, was the belief expressed yesterday by Carl Williamson who has charge of that department. Every available pun and stable will be occupied and it is probably that a number of new pens will have to be provided at the last moment.

COUNCIL HEARS STREET ISSUE

Country Club Estates Issue Is Aired Monday Night

A weighty matter of civic improvement in the way of street extension came up before the city council Monday night, when a petition offered by property owners adjacent to the Country Club Estates for the opening of a street which would cut through the design of the Estates into Speedway was objected to by W. B. Hamilton and N. K. Martin, owners of the new addition.

There was a difference of opinion as to the advisability of opening the street through, and Mayor R. E. Shepherd requested the two groups of contestants to work out a proposition agreeable to all parties and the city would order the street opened on that basis.

A number of other street projects were acted upon, including paving ordinances. Paving was ordered for the following streets:

Victory street from Brook to Duval streets.

Lamar street from Fourth to Third streets.

Victory street from Duval to Harrison streets.

East side of Broad from Eighth to Ninth streets.

Bluff street from 15th to 15th streets.

Eleventh street from Van Buren to Sunset Drive.

An alley in block 166, from Seventh to Eighth streets.

Paving work already finished was approved on the following streets: Elizabeth, Fifteenth, Elm, Mississippi and Avenue A.

The council refused to provide funds for installing a sewer manhole in the alley at the rear of the new Marchman Hotel, on the grounds that such improvement would be solely for the benefit of the hotel property and would be no relief whatever for the city sewerage department, and it was also disclosed that other such improvements in the city had been installed at the expense of the property owners themselves.

VALLEY VIEW TO OPEN.

The Valley View school building will be ready for school to open early in October, County Superintendent Bryan stated yesterday. The contractor for the building has promised to turn the building over to the authorities by the last of October and school will probably be opened on the first Monday in October.

The Valley View school is located ten miles southwest of Iowa Park, and is one of the largest rural schools in the county, having approximately 400 scholastics.

CITY BALLOTS ARE PRINTED

Only Property Owners To Vote On $750,000,000 Project

Ballots were ordered printed yesterday for the city bond election which is to be held here September 30th, for the purpose of voting $750,000 in improvement bonds for the city. The bond issue will include $500,000 for building the new city auditorium and office building.

There will be three separate and distinct issues upon which to vote, and these will be separately entered on the ballot. Voters will vote on the three issues in one ballot and will make three separate markings, thus providing the issues so that a voter may vote for one and against another if he so desires.

The city auditorium calls for $500,000.

An additional $100,000 is asked for sewer extensions.

An additional $150,000 is asked for street improvements.

Either of these items can be voted for or against without affecting the others.

Only property owners will be permitted to vote on the issue and 2000 ballots have been ordered which amount will be ample for the number generally voting at such an election here.

Croquet Tournament Lasts Entire Sunday

FREDERICK, Okla., Sept. 20.—It is chess history that Paul Morphy, one of the most brilliant of all the great players, once burst into tears of vexation at the slowness of an opponent.

Morphy's vexation was probably duplicated by wives of Frederick's croquet team, which played a championship match with Altus Sunday. The game commenced at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued until 10:25 o'clock Sunday night. The Frederick team won six games and the Altus team two. Altus had previously defeated the Frederick team by eleven games to nine, played at Altus on a previous Sunday. The Frederick court is electrically lighted.

Three Building Projects Granted

Three building permits for business houses in the residential section were granted by the city council Monday night, there being no protest entered against them.

A permit was granted to H. McQuigg to construct a brick business house at 1501 Holliday street.

A permit was also granted for the construction of a brick grocery building at the corner of Harrison and Avenue H, to W. S. Ellis.

Permission to install a gasoline pump at 500 Virginia street was given to W. B. Allison, who also operates a small grocery at that place.

BOY'S HEAD CUT OFF IN CRASH

Joe Jumper, 8, Victim In Accident Sunday At Randlette, Okla.

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Sept. 20.—Joe Jumper, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Jumper of Paris, was instantly killed in an automobile collision in which his head was cut off Sunday night on the highway a few miles south of Randlette, Okla. The body was buried in Burkburnett cemetery Monday afternoon.

The boy was riding in a baggage carrier on the left running board of a small touring car driven by his mother when the accident occurred. The car met a larger automobile on a culvert crossing, both traveling at a comparatively fast speed. A head-on collision was narrowly averted, but the heavier car tore off the fender and running board on which the youngster was riding and hit with such an impact that the boy's head was severed from his shoulders.

The family was living two miles east of Randlette on the Frank Linkgule farm during the cotton picking season and at the time of the disaster was returning from a visit to an uncle, H. L. Uckhurch, on the Van Cleave farm east of Burkburnett on the Red river bridge highway.

The funeral service was held this afternoon and burial was in the Burkburnett cemetery.

BUILDING LINE SET IN CITY

Council Adopts A Rule Governing Future Construction

The city council in regular session Monday night passed an ordinance setting a definite building line in the residence section of the city, which will govern all future building of residences in the city.

The ordinance requires that where fifty per cent or more of the houses on a street have established a line, that no other houses can be built closer to the street than these. The ordinance also provides a general building line to take care of new additions, and these requirements will be cited when building permits are granted.

The ordinance is passed for the double purpose of making the streets look more attractive and more regularly arranged, and also to prevent houses from being built right up against the sidewalk, thereby obstructing the view of motorists on cross streets. It is estimated by the police department that fully 75 per cent of the auto accidents in the city are caused by the obstruction of the view by houses.

A penalty of not less than $25 nor more than $200 are set for violation of the ordinance, and each day a house remains in such violation can be constituted as a new offense.

British Go After American Whiskers

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Sheffield steel manufacturers, in their efforts to cut into the American steel razor blade trade are now turning out millions of blades every week. One firm alone employs 1,300 workers and produces more than a million blades weekly. It is making preparatio double its capacity within the next few months.

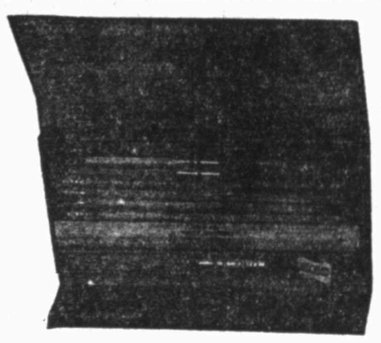

In his annual report, Sir Gerald Bellhouse, chief inspector of factories, says that for some years Sheffield has been supplying a good proportion of the steel for the manufacture of safety razor blades in the United States, but of late the Sheffield manufacturers have been exerting themselves to produce the actual blades themselves for Britain's share of the world trade in this particular line.

The shipment weighs approximately twelve thousand pounds and is a general assortment of agricultural exhibits. It will be on display in the agricultural building at the fair ground.

Diamond Dealers Fear Cheap Stones

PARIS, Sept. 20 — Diamond brokers are shuddering over the possibility that the increased alluvial diamond diggins in South Africa may result in a lot of cheap stones being thrown on the market.

Discovery and proclamation of an additional number of alluvial diggins has caused anxiety not only among directors of the diamond mines, but also to the south African government officials, who fear the consequent flooding of the markets with a cheaper grade of gems will seriously affect their business.

The opening of a new diamond field always attracts both professional diggers and men who are either out of employment or are lured from their regular work by the hope of striking a fortune. The vast majority who try their luck, however, are bitterly disappointed and every diamond rush is invariably followed by a frantic endeavor by many disillusioned men and women to return to their former jobs.

CURTISS AEROPLANE AND MOTOR COMPANY, INC. 5 3-4 Year Record.

The Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor company, incorporated, was formed in 1923 to take over the assets, contracts and business of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor corporation, the concern originally founded by Glenn H. Curtiss. The control of the concern, which for some time had been vested in the Willys-Overland company, was secured by

G. M. Keyes, who sold a substantial part of his holdings to Leonard Kennady and company.

The company has control of a number of subsidiaries and plants at Buffalo and Garden City, N. Y., with a capacity of about 1,500 aeroplanes and engines a year. In addition the Burgess plant at Marblehead, Mass., also controlled, has a capacity of producing 30 aeroplanes a month. The company owns the inventions of the Curtiss flying boat and the Curtiss motor.

Funded debt includes a $552,000 first mortgage and a $300,000 second mortgage on the Buffalo plant to the United States government. Capital stock consists of $2,523,100 outstanding in 7 per cent cumulative preferred shares of $100 par and $218,060 shares outstanding of no par value common. The preferred issue is cumulative as to 5 per cent, but non cumulative as to the remaining 2 per cent.

Under the reorganization initial dividends on the preferred stock were started at the regular 7 per cent annual rate for the 6 months ended December 31, 1924. Six per cent was paid in 1925 and March 1, 1926, the payment was 3 1-4 per cent. No dividends have been paid on the common. In 1925 sales amounted to $1,933,688, while net profit was $156,781.

As of December 31, 1925, current assets were $1,438,225 and current liabilities $41,407, leaving net working capital of $1,396,818. In the first part of 1926 business on the books was three times what it was at the corresponding period in 1925.

Queen of Britain Goes After Bargain

LONDON, Sept. 20.—When a queen goes shopping the broad glare of publicity continues to play upon her as it does upon virtually all her activities outside the precincts of the Royal palaces.

Queen Mary took occasion while stopping at Goldsborough to make a shopping expedition to Harrowgate, nearby, and the account of her trip through the curio shops, filled a full half colum of close print in one of the big provincial papers.

Even the purchases she made were enumerated in detail. These included a Chinese jade elephant and a monkey in similar material, some other Chinese antiques, a pair of blue wedgewood vases and a sheraton tea caddy of exquisite workmanship.

Her housewifely eye for a bargain as well as her tasted were especially marked.

Latest News of the Markets

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept 20(AP)—Marking up of the call money rate from 5 to 5 1-2 per cent the highest charge since last April and reports of tremendous property losses in the Florida storm caused heavy liquidation of stocks for both accounts in today's market. Scores of issues closed one to three points net lower, despite repeated attempts to rally the list by bidding up General Motors, some of the Van Sweringen rails and a few selected specialties.

In view of the fact that call money went up without any unusually heavy calls for loans, bankers were inclined to regard the higher rates as a reflection of steps taken to correct the large deficit in reserve shown in last Saturday's clearing house statement which, in turn, was explained by the huge mid-month treasury operations. In other quarters there was a tendency to regard the stringency of funds as a forecast of a higher federal reserve re-discount rate, the fear of which has had a depressing influence on speculative sentiments for the last few weeks.

While few companies whose stocks are listed on the exchange were directly affected by the Florida storm, the fact that large insurance companies might be forced to sell a large volume of securities in order to pay their losses naturally induced some liquidation. The risks are believed to be sufficiently well distributed so that no individual corporation would be seriously embarrassed. Moderate recessions took place in the Seaboard Air Line and Southern Dairies issues, having direct property interests in the storm area.

Publication of the quarterly report of the Hudson Motor Car company showing $1.20 a share on the common stock as against $2.49 in the corresponding period of 1925, was a rather unfavorable stock market factor that issue breaking nearly four points to 51 and then rallying to 57. Genereal Motors, which reported record breaking August sales today was bid up to a new record high of 159 for the present stock, closing a point below that figure for a net gain of 2 3-4 points on the day. DuPont touched a new record high at 217 and then fell back two points and Bethlehem Steel touched its highest price of the year at 51 1-8 but lost most of its gain. U. S. Steel common, on the other hand dropped over two points to a new low on the current movement at 142 1-2.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.(AP)—The tropical storm news caused rallies from an early decline in the cotton markets today, but except for covering, failed to promote much buying as prices broke into new low ground for the day and movement in late trading. December contracts rallied from 16.10 to 16.42 and closed at 16.05, the greneral market closing weak at a net decline of 18 to 22 points.

The market closed barely steady at an advance of three points to a decline of seven points and soon showed net losses of 12 to 16 points under southern hedge selling and continued liquidation.

When the early offerings had been absorbed, prices steadied on reports that the tropical storm, after sweeping across the lower end of Florida over Sunday, had reached the gulf coast between Pensacola and Mobile and was working into the interior of Alabama. Later reported heavy rains in Alabama and Georgia which were expected to extend into Mississippi and the Carolinas and there was quite a flurry of covering during the day on apprehensions that the storm would lower the grade of open cotton even if it did not cause actual loss of cotton in pounds.

October which had sold off early to 15.92, rallied to 16.25, while January sold up from 16.20 to 16.60, but demand was attributed almost entirely to covering. Whenever this tapered off, the market sagged as if lacking support otherwise, and prices broke again in late trading, to or selling off to 15.80 and January to 16.12.

The effects of the tropical storm news seemed to be offset by privat to mid-September reports which showed condition figures ranging from 55.8 up to 62.3 and figures on the crop indication ranging from 14,010,000 up to 15,-040,000 bales and averaging about 15,-140 00. There were reports of heavy hedge selling at the start and again in late trading. No doubt the presence of these orders encouraged bearish sentiment and led to further local selling or reselling on the late decline.

Exports today 24,396, making $94,983 so far this season. Port receipts 81,928. U. S. port stock 585,965.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.(AP)—The cotton market was fairly active today and although fears that the tropical hurricane which struck inland between Mobile and Pensacola would cause heavy rains in the eastern gulf states caused some good rallies, the strend of prices was gradually downward due to liberal hedge selling and selling resulting from straddle operations between this market and New York. As Liverpool was better than due the market opened eight to 14 points up but soon eased off after losing 12 to 18 points from the opening highs. The market rallied 26 to 27 points from the lows after the weather bureau announced that the tropical hurricane had moved inland but later declined 53 to 56 points from the highs mainly on hedge selling. After rallying six to seven points from the lows in the late trading the market closed steady at net losses for the day of 12 to 20 points.

The early prices showed 16.08 for October, 16.34 for December and 16.75 for January. The emarket then eased off to 16.86 for October, 16.06 for December and 16.12 for January, or 12 to 19 points down from the opening prices. The market later rallied to 16.20 for October 16.38 for December and 16.43 for January, or 31 to 34 points up from the lows and 28 to 29 points above the previous close.

The decline after mid-session carried October to 15.85, December to 15.85 and January to 15.90, or 55 to 55 points down from the highs and 24 to 26 points below the previous close. Near the end there was a rally of six to seven points from the bottom.

Four private crop reports were issued today with condition averages ranging from 55.8 to 60.9 and crop indications from 14,796,000 to 15,616,000 bales.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Eastern buying coupled with forecast of wet weather in Canada gave much strength at times today to wheat values here.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at only ⅛ to ¾c net advance. Corn finished 1½ to 1¾c down; oats ¼ to ½c down and provisions varying from 10@12c decline to a rise of 10c.

Likelihood of enlarged receipts of corn here had a bearish effect on corn and oats. Absence of frost too had also a similar influence.

In the provision market profit taking sales largely counteracted the strength of hog values and of cotton seed oil.

ASSEMBLY AT COLLEGE TODAY

First Welcome Program Of Year To Be Held In Auditorium

A welcome program for the new students in the Junior college and high school will be given at the first regular assembly period this morning. Introduction of new teachers, speeches of welcome to all those not hitherto connected with the institution, and arranging of the seating of all pupils will make up the program. All students will assemble for chapel exercises every Tuesday and Thursday at the regular period, 9:30 to 10, at which time, as has been the annual custom, programs will be given, consisting of speeches by prominent citizens and by students, musical numbers and announcements.

Miss Dorris Smith, new Girl Reserve secretary for local clubs, was present at the first meeting of the Sam Houston Girl Reserves, and will attend many of the meetings in the various schools this week, preparatory to beginning her work here.

Totals Rise Higher.

Many new students were reported to have registered in the schools Monday for the beginning of the second week, making enrollment totals rise even higher. Several enrolled at the high school and Junior college, beginning their classes with those already enrolled.

The first regular meeting of the school year for Sam Houston Girl Reserves was held Monday afternoon immediately after school. Miss Smith and Miss Denton, teacher-advisors, assisted by Mrs. B. H. Freeland, member of the local Girl Reserve committee, and Miss Evelyn Hardeman, member of the college Girl Reserves, explained the purpose of the organization and its aims to the many enthusiastic girls present, and it was decided to elect officers at the next meeting, Monday, September 27.

Miss Eva Weber, instructor in the English department of the Junior college, has been appointed exhibit chairman for the college by Miss Jennie Roberson, general chairman of school exhibits. Miss Weber will be in charge of all Texas-Oklahoma fair exhibits for the college.

Tabernacle Feast To Be Celebrated By Jews of City

Succoth or the Feast of Tabernacles will be celebrated by the Jewish congregation in this city, beginning this week, according to Rabbi Samuel Phillips of Temple Israel. The feast this year falls on the fifteenth of the seventh month, Tishri, which this year, is on Thursday, September 23. Rabbi Phillips will speak on the subject, "Succoth—the Festival of Faith," it was announced yesterday.

The festival was explained by Rabbi Phillips as follows:

The festival lasts eight days, the final day being known as the Feast of Conclusion. Only the first and last days are regarded as days of sacred character whereon public assemblage and worship are held.

"Succoth" is in character a harvest festival. Scripturally, it is known as "the Feast of Ingathering," and is ordained in Exodus XXIII-16 and XXXIV-22. Historically, it is associated with the journey of the Israelites through the wilderness when they lived in tents, or temporary habitation. In Leviticus XXIII-42 it is commanded that the Israelites shall "dwell in booths seven days in commemoration of the fact that Israel dwelt in booths when God brought them up out of Egypt, hence the name, the Feast of Tabernacles or Booths.

After the destruction of the national exisitence of the Jews, the festival gradually assumed the character of a modern harvest festival of a religious nature, in which the stress is laid upon the Providence of God as evidenced in the richness and bounty of nature. Here again the high ideal of Judaism is taught in the Conception of God as the Supreme Lord of all, and in contrast to the idolatry, whether ancient or modern, that defies the forces of nature or nature itself. The fruitfulness of the soil, the teeming bounty of the earth, the Jew is reminded are the gifts of the great Giver and Author of all life. Hence gratitude is due to him alone. Man, in the midst of his many blessings, is to rejoice before, and to give praise to Him, the supreme and all governing Creator.

The Synagogs are decorated with fruits and flowers and products of the field, and the whole service of the festival is redolent with the joyous, grateful recognition of the divine goodness and blessing.

The meeting adjourned with prayer by Mrs. R. F. Ligon.

Trash will be hauled free of charge this week in order to help citizens clean up their premises and observe fire prevention week. All persons are asked to put their trash in suitable containers in the alley so they can be removed early this week.

High weeds and grass in alleys and on vacant lots constitute a fire menace, Fire Chief J. L. McClure said, and in case they are cut and not hauled off by the trash wagons, the chief said he would send a chemical fire truck to the spot while they are being burned.

RED CROSS IN PLEA FOR AID

Local Chapter to Help In Relieving Suffering Of Storm Victims

A plea to the local Red Cross chapter to aid in relief work for sufferers in the Florida hurricane area was received yesterday by B. A. Stayton, chairman of the Wichita county Red Cross chapter. A message came to Mr. Stayton from William M. Baxter Jr., in charge of the St. Louis office of the Red Cross, asking that any contributions obtained locally be remitted at once to be added to those from other sections, all of which will be applied on the sending of food, medical supplies and other relief agencies into the Florida storm center.

The wire from Baxter follows, addressed to Mr. Stayton:

Mobilizing All Forces

"Red Cross mobilizing all its resources for relief of disaster sufferers in Florida hurricane. Fliezer Baker and other experienced disaster workers now on or enroute to disaster area. Your chapter should announce through the press its readiness to receive contributions. The need is obviously great and can be adequately met only if public responds generously. Remit daily sums received."

Mr. Stayton, in making the wire public, asks that any one wishing to contribute to the fund, send their check to N. M. Clifford, treasurer of the Wichita county Red Cross chapter, or to Mrs. T. B. Smith, executive secretary of the chapter. Mr. Clifford may be reached at the Security National Bank and Mrs. Smith in the basement of the court house.

Fair Grounds Road Is Being Repaired

Road crews are busy on the roadway leading from the Lake Wichita highway to the fair grounds, patching holes and repairing frayed edges in preparation for the thousands who will use that particular stretch when the Texas-Oklahoma fair is held October 2 to 7.

The road in several places has been full of holes and bumps, and these are being filled in or leveled so that motorists may sail smoothly along when the fair opens.

Good Headway In Henrietta Road

Concrete has been laid on the Clay county highway for the western portion of the road connecting with the Wichita county paving and it is expected to be opened within a week or ten days. This brings the paving to a point six miles west of Henrietta. It is believed the new paving will be opened in time to be used by the people going to the Texas-Oklahoma fair.

Work is also progressing rapidly on the laying of the concrete on the highway between Jolly and Henrietta, and the fair weather is making it possible for the contractors to do quick work.

On the road east of Henrietta going to Smith Creek concrete is being put down and early completion of the highway is expected.

More Profess Help From Faith Healing Work Of Evangelist

Testimonies of persons who have received benefit in the gospel healing services in the revival at the tent meeting now in progress on Eighteenth and Holiday was a feature of Monday night's service. A woman who has been suffering with goiter told the audience that she had gained relief; a mother who appeared Sunday night with her 3 months' old baby asking for the prayer of faith testified last night that the child had felt much better Monday and was helped. Another woman told of miraculous healing after suffering over a long period of time.

The prayer of faith was said by Evangelist Davis Monday night for two women, one of whom had been a sufferer of stomach and lung trouble for the past eight years. Immediately after the prayer she left better and believed that she would b permanently cured. The other case was that of a woman who has been a sufferer from asthma and goiter, and she will give her testimony later in the week.

Preaches On "Sin."

Evangelist Davis preached on "Sin" taking his lesson from the seventh chapter of Romans. "Sin will invade the most sacred precincts of humanity and destroy it," he declared. "You can't flirt with sin. Jesus died on Calvary that sin might die. Sin produces coldness in the hearts of men and women, and when death strikes a person, the first sign is coldness. So sin is death."

He scored the hypocrite and made his point plain by an example. "One may put on lipstick and rouge the cheeks, pencil the byebrows, but the same old body is there. One may go to church, sit in the pews and listen to the sermon and go through a form of worship but the old wicked feeling may remain."

Preceding the services a singsong was held. A duet was sung by Miss Emma Maier and Miss Katherine Ford with piano accompan'ment by Mrs. Fisher.

Services were announced for 9:30 o'clock this morning and at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

A Correction

The birth of an infant daughter to Mrs. L. N. Carrol on Elizabeth street, was announced in Sunday's issue of the Record News, the information being phoned in to the society editor by a woman. The report, which was accepted in good faith, proved untrue and this correction is gladly published.

Mrs. Carrol explained that Mr. Carrol died about 18 months ago and that it would seem that she is the victim of malice or a perverted sense of humor. She knows no reason why anyone should seek to make her the victim of such misrepresentation.

The S. B. A. will meet at the Labor Temple Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

99 DEGREES HERE MONDAY

September's Warmest Day Recorded As Thermometer Soars High

September sweltered through its warmest day Monday when the thermometer veered to 99 and stood there an hour or two in the mid-afternoon. Little relief was brought by the breeze, for the average wind velocity was four miles throughout the 24-hour period, and the maximum reached only seven miles per hour.

The heat dropped five degrees by 5 o'clock and the thermometer stood at 94 and the thermometer partly clouded. The barometer was slightly below normal, registering 29.04. Records standing next to Monday's temperature for the month of September are 95 and 96.

Nursery Makes $600 In Concert

A fund of approximately $600 was netted by the Kiwanis club for the Day Nursery fund in the benefit performance of the Symphony Orchestra from Mexico City which gave a concert last week at Junior college, according to announcement to the club Monday at the Kemp by Mike Ellis.

This includes the Kiwanian's share of receipts and the advertising carried on by the program committee. This reduces the debt on the new Day Nursery building to slightly more than $1,000 it was announced.

Appreciation of the work of Mr. Ellis, Grover Bullington and D. M. Bernard toward the success of the concert was given by the club.

Reports from the delegates of the club to the district convention at Muskogee, Okla., were given and the concensus was that nothing was left undone by the Muskogee club and the city to make a success of the convention. Those reporting included Ed Riley, Paul Colvert, Kenneth Bebb, Hank Wolff Lawrence Elkins, Walter Nelson Jr., Davis Shepherd, W. A. Little, J. N. Sherrill, Rex Watland, Homer Sanderford, Dr. F. R. Collard, Ray Patton, R. H. Peterson and Julian Bobo.

Paul Seeds, saxophone instructor and band director, who recently came to this city from San Antonio, and his son, Paul Seeds Jr., entertained with a saxophone duet with J. S. Pitman at the piano, and Mr. Seeds played two saxophone solos. They were introduced by Walter Nelson Jr., chairman of the program committee. J. L. Jackson, president, presided at the meeting.
