

Many Sidewalks Now Being Laid Over Wellington

Many Property Owners Cooperating In Improvement Campaign

Women Assisting City Federation Assisting In Work Of Beautifying Wellington

With property owners cooperating in the movement sponsored by the city federation of women's clubs to beautify Wellington, many sidewalks are now being laid over the city, practically every street coming in for its share of the work. The laying of sidewalks comes as a result of a spirited campaign instituted by members of the city federation who have determined that Wellington will take its proper rank with other cities of this size in the matter of sidewalks. Until the campaign was started, Wellington had fewer sidewalks than any nearby city and the women of the federation realized that in order to keep pace with the other towns, nothing that adds to civic beauty should be neglected. Then, too, the federation is ambitious to secure city mail delivery for Wellington, but under the present conditions such delivery is prohibitive because of the limited amount of sidewalks.

The actual laying of sidewalks in Wellington is being handled by the Caprock Construction company, who has agreed to do the concrete work for 20 cents per square foot, cash or credit.

Women interested in the sidewalks have been making personal calls upon every property owner in Wellington who does not have sidewalks on his property. They intend to continue their personal calls until the matter has been discussed with every property owner. Approximately forty women of Wellington are enlisted in the work of making the personal calls upon property owners.

Miss Ruth Laney returned home from Lubbock the last of the week where she has been attending school the past year. She will spend the summer months with her parents here.

Lightning Strikes W. W. Sugg Home

A heavy bolt of lightning struck the W. W. Sugg residence in Wellington Tuesday night at about 11 o'clock, badly shocking members of the family and causing alarm in that vicinity of the city. Members of the family at first believed the house to be on fire following the bolt, and the Wellington fire department was called to the scene but according to Chief Bura Handley, no blaze could be found when the department arrived.

All electric meters, the electric and all other electrical equipment of the household was destroyed by the force of the bolt.

Novelty Program Will Be Presented At Quail Friday By Dramatic Artist

Mrs. Adelaide Harvard, dramatic artist, assisted by a number of people of the Quail community, will present a novelty entertainment Friday night, June 8, at 8:20 o'clock at the Quail school auditorium. Some of the features to be presented at that time include the presentation of "The Failure" by R. J. Poindexter, which won first prize in the national Little Theatres play contest. Something different will usually take the prize and "The Failure" is no exception.

Other features include the dramatization of Edgar A. Guest's "Heap o' Livin'" by the Miller sisters; saxo-melodies, song review and a playlet, "Steppin' Along with Sally." The characters in this who assist Mrs. Harvard are Mr. and Mrs. John Hilgenfeldt, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wain, Helen, May,

Griffith Amusement Company Buys Rialto and Gem Theatres Here

Griffith Amusement Company, owners of the Ritz theatre in Wellington and who also own extensive theatre properties in Texas and other states, took charge of the Rialto and Gem theatres in Wellington Monday following a business transaction made last week with Henry and E. W. Coker. Cecil J. Callahan, manager of the Ritz, will assume the management of the new holdings in Wellington. Both the Rialto and Gem have been closed for the present time, but it is planned to reopen the Rialto in the near future as soon as a few changes have been made. Mr. Callahan states that the Ritz theatre will continue to bring the very best entertainment possible to Wellington, and that the Rialto will show the same high quality pictures that have always been booked by the former management.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coker, former managers of the Rialto and Gem theatres, have been in the theatre business in Wellington for many years and their many friends regret to learn that they are disposing of their interest in this work. Mr. Coker's plans for future business in Wellington are unannounced at this time. He intends to take a two month's vacation in Colorado in the near future after which he will return to Wellington.

Wellington Team Is Still Winning Over Many Clubs

Fans Showing More Interest As Locals Continue Winning Streak

Wellington baseball fans are evidencing more and more interest in the local club now that they are continuing their winning streak and favorable comment is the only sort of comment which is being made about the Wellington team at this time.

Since last week, Wellington has played three games, tying Cordell 0-0 in a 12 inning game, losing to Mangum 2-1 and winning from Elk City 6-3.

The first of these games was played at Cordell Wednesday, May 29, which went 12 innings with no runs on either side. The game was finally called because of darkness. McDuffy pitched eleven and two-thirds innings, with Bunte pitching one and one-third innings. Holland caught the game for Wellington. Chodie pitched all twelve innings for Cordell with Gregory catching. Each team got five hits and three errors. Wellington's hits were contributed by Brown, Wilson, McMahon, Andre and Newman. Wellington got four men to third base during the game, and one man crossed the home plate as he was called out. Cordell ran three men to third and none ever reached the plate.

Thursday's game was played at Mangum with Gene Bunte pitching Bill Morgan pitching to Newcomb

Pleasant Point Club Girls Win Contest in May

Pleasant Point 4-H girls pulled up their record considerably because two members could report that they have their 20 quarts of products canned for home use. When a girl can give this report she wins 500 extra points in the contest.

Aberdeen was a few notches behind Pleasant Point, and ranks second while Buck Creek comes third, Miss Swafford states.

Five hundred extra points will be given for finished record books and histories.

Manages Theatres

Cecil J. Callahan became manager for all of Wellington's theatres this week, following the purchase of the Rialto and Gem theatres by the Griffith Amusement company. Mr. Callahan came to Wellington from Panhandle last March to assume the management of the Ritz theatre here and he will of course continue the management of the Ritz while taking up his new duties.

Statement Made Regarding Study

No Credit Given Summer Study Done Outside Standard School

Statement has been made by G. L. Farrar, superintendent of Wellington schools, that no credit will be given summer study done by students unless that work is done in a standard school. This statement was published in The Leader two weeks ago and is being repeated in order that no misunderstandings will arise.

Mr. Farrar states that students who want credit on summer work must get it in Wellington or in some other standard school, as no credit will be allowed work done under a private teacher. Two summer schools are running in Wellington at this time, offering courses from the low fourth grade through the high school grades, and this work, which is being handled by regular teachers of the faculty, is the only accredited work offered in Wellington at this time, Mr. Farrar states.

The summer course opened Monday, May 26, but enrollment may still be made.

GOFORTH BOY INJURED

Fermin Goforth, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goforth, was painfully injured Tuesday afternoon when he sustained an injury to his knee while playing at the east ward school. He was taken to the Wellington hospital where an x-ray picture revealed that his knee-cap had been cracked by the fall. Although his injury is not serious, he will be unable to use his leg for several days.

Singing Service Church of Christ Sunday Afternoon

Beginning next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and continuing until 5:00 o'clock the general public of Wellington will enjoy a singing service at the Church of Christ conducted by Marvin Curry of Hollis, leader of the quartet and Professor Stafford of Denton will be present also.

Many Present At Clothing Contest Held Last Week

Two Hundred People Attend Clothing Contest And Baby Show

More than two hundred people were in attendance at the clothing contest and baby show which was held last Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church by the demonstration women of Collingsworth county and under the direction of Miss Veda Swafford.

Fifteen babies competed in the popularity contest. All of them were well behaved although they were unaccustomed to being on parade before so many people. Many visitors wanted to vote for them all, but the winners were: Willa Jane Cummings of Salt Fork was the youngest baby present. She was five weeks old. The most popular younger baby (under one year) was Vestal Brown of Lillie. The most popular older baby (over one year and under two) was Wanda B. Shaw of Aberdeen. Aberdeen was awarded the prize for the club entering the most babies in the show.

Famous Airplane Plans Trip Here

Plans are being considered to fly the famous "Woolaroc," which was used by Col. Art Gobel on his successful flight from the Pacific coast to Honolulu to win the Dole prize, to Wellington in the near future.

Frank Phillips, of the Phillips Petroleum company, is building a hangar on his ranch near Bartlesville, Oklahoma, in which the "Woolaroc" will remain permanently but before the plane goes into its permanent hangar, members of the petroleum company are attempting to induce Mr. Phillips to fly this ship on one more flight throughout the marketing territory of the company, according to J. R. Darrow, Phillips distributor in Wellington.

If the Phillips company can secure sufficient response from various civic bodies and officials of the various towns where the company operates, Mr. Phillips will probably make this last flight with the "Woolaroc" and it will consequently visit Wellington.

Nowlins Claim Pacific Ocean "Is Success"

In a communication to The Leader this week, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nowlin claimed that the words of Mark Twain were most suitable to describe the Pacific and stated that "the ocean seems to be a success." Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin have taken up their permanent address in Long Beach, California. Mr. Nowlin's office will be in Los Angeles where he will be broker of Gold Tip products for the state of California. Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin are retaining the ownership of their wholesale supply house in Wellington which is now being managed by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Braxton.

Catholic Church To Be Dedicated Here Next Sunday

Our Lady Of Mercy Recently Completed At Floydada And 12th St.

Bishop In Charge Bishop Gerken Of Amarillo Will Conduct Dedication Ceremonies

Our Lady of Mercy, Catholic church located on the corner of Floydada and Twelfth streets in Wellington, will be dedicated Sunday, June 9, at 10 o'clock when Bishop Gerken of Amarillo will be in charge of the ceremonies, assisted by Reverend Kramer of Childress.

Construction of the Catholic church in Wellington was completed this week. Gau and Vagel of Amarillo were contractors in charge of the erection of the building, with Bishop Gerken actively in charge as supervisor. Reverend Kramer of Childress will serve as temporary pastor of Our Lady of Mercy, as no definite arrangements have been made to secure a pastor to reside in Wellington.

Services are to be held every other Sunday. Mass will be said at eight o'clock on one Sunday and at 10 o'clock on alternate Sundays. No services during the week have been announced or planned.

The building is constructed of brick, containing a large auditorium and balcony. The entire building is attractive in design and confirms with plans for a modern edifice.

The public is welcome to attend any and all services at Our Lady of Mercy, it has been announced.

For the past 18 years the Catholics have been without a church in Wellington and during most of this time mass has been said at the home of John M. Shields. Members of the church are most grateful to the Extension Society of Chicago, the cooperation of the Bishop at Amarillo and to the people of Wellington for the new church. The pastor states that thanks are also to be extended to Eugene Lewis for his donations.

At 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning preceding the dedication ceremonies, mass will be said at which time the entire congregation will go to holy communion. At 2 a. m. there will be confirmation and benediction of most blessed sacrament.

Saturday, June 8, there will be mass and confession at 8 a. m. The pastor will be available all day Saturday and says he will be glad to meet all people wishing information on the church and its teachings.

Rev. Gregory A. Boeckman of Amarillo will also assist in the Sunday service.

Rev. Kramer extends a personal welcome to all people of Wellington regardless of creed to attend the services. He states that the people of Wellington are to be congratulated upon securing another church to carry on Christ's work.

Ritz Drug Store Will Open Soon

Ray Miller is completing arrangements to open a drug store in one of the shops of the Ritz theatre building which promises to be one of Wellington's most attractive business places. All fixtures, with the exception of the soda fountain, have already arrived and are installed. The fixtures are all of green and the entire store will be most colorful throughout. The fountain will probably be installed within the next two weeks and the store will be opened to the public at that time.

Mr. Miller and his sister, Miss Loraine Miller, will leave the latter part of the week for Wichita Falls and Fort Worth to purchase stock for the drug store. A complete line of drug sundries, patent medicines, etc., will be carried, and a first class soda fountain and sandwich service maintained.

Miss Loraine Miller, Miss Lucille Miller, Miss Louise Harle and Mrs. Budge Harle in Memphis Tuesday.

Sails Today

Miss Veda Swafford, home demonstration agent of Collingsworth county, who will sail Thursday, June 6, at 2 p. m. from Port Arthur aboard the S. S. Shawnee for a cruise to the West Indies.

Veda Swafford Sails Today On Indies Cruise

Is One Of Four Demonstrators Taking West Indies Cruise

Miss Veda Swafford, home demonstration agent of Collingsworth county, sailed Thursday, June 6, from Port Arthur aboard the S. S. Shawnee, bound for the West Indies.

The cruise to the West Indies is being given to four demonstrators of the Texas Panhandle who have been selected on the merits of their work. The other three agents from the Panhandle who are making the ocean trip are from Donley, Childress and Potter counties.

The trip is being made for business, educational and relaxation purposes. The S. S. Shawnee is a well-equipped, trans-oceanic type vessel. This voyage will be what is known as "the heart of America" cruise starting from Kansas City via Beaumont to Havana, Cuba; then to Port-au-Prince, Haiti, then to St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, to San Juan, Porto Rico; then to San Domingo City, Dominican Republic.

June is most favorable for the Caribbean cruise, with an average temperature of 76.8 degrees with an average daily range of 20 degrees. O. B. Martin, director of extension work in Texas, and Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent, have permitted these home demonstration agents to make the West Indies cruise. D. W. May, director of experimental stations in Porto Rico has asked that the agents make the cruise at this time as special arrangements have been made for them.

4-H club girls and club women of Collingsworth county are most elated that Miss Swafford is one of the fortunate agents named to take the ocean voyage, and have indicated that they will be glad to take care of club work in Collingsworth county while she is away. Miss Swafford will return to the

J. Frank Norris To Preach Here At Methodist Church Thursday Morning

Arrangements have been completed to bring J. Frank Norris, well known Baptist preacher of Fort Worth, to Wellington this week, and Norris will deliver an address in Wellington Thursday morning, June 6, at 10:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church. He will be heard at the First Methodist church because of the fact that it is the largest auditorium in the city and those who have made the arrangements to bring the Fort Worth pastor to Wellington requested that he be permitted to use the Methodist auditorium.

Norris has been serving as pastor of the Baptist church in Fort Worth for many years. He has been a public figure for a long while and is possibly one of the best known Baptist pastors of the

Ed Fulcher Is Acquitted Of Murder Charge

Jury Returns Verdict Of Not Guilty After Being Out 12 Hours

Court Is Crowded Many People Crowd Court Room During Each Day Of Trial

Ed Fulcher was acquitted of the charge of murder of Roy Oatman when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty after they had deliberated the case exactly twelve hours.

The Fulcher trial came before district court in Wellington Monday morning, May 27, with R. H. Templeton and R. H. Coker representing the defense counsel while the attorneys for the state were District Attorney Jas. C. Mahan and the local law firm of Tucker and Croy.

Examination of jurors took up all of Monday and Tuesday. A special venire of 125 men had been summoned, but this first venire was exhausted Tuesday afternoon when only nine jurors had been agreed upon. A second venire of 25 men was summoned by Sheriff Claude McKinney to appear Wednesday morning, and the last three men for the jury were selected before noon Wednesday.

Jurors who were finally agreed upon were: C. E. Roberts, Merlyn Carter, W. E. Reynolds, J. W. Carreker, O. H. Hodel, E. L. Wilson, H. B. Black, George Clark, W. A. Box, Lawrence Wayne, B. A. Aycock and E. Ward.

The state introduced testimony Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday night, while the defense introduced testimony Thursday, the case being argued Thursday night. Self defense was the plea of the defendant. The case was presided over by Judge Newton P. Willis

It Isn't Adequate Now

The little red school house, a salient feature of the American landscape for nearly a century, is passing—and the more quickly it passes the better for all concerned, in the opinion of Dr. William Cooper, head of the federal bureau of education.

It is Dr. Cooper's opinion that the little red school house did very well in its day, but that now it must give way to something broader.

"We need a unit of administration much larger than that served by the one-teacher school," he explains. "The area of administration should be large enough to support a complete school unit, elementary and secondary. If the area is very sparsely populated, lodging and boarding at the high school may be required as well as good transportation facilities.

"We have so much evidence of the beneficent effect of well-trained leaders in developing courses of study, improving teacher skill and otherwise furnishing educational opportunity for the country child approaching that of the city child that we can safely recommend legislation to increase the salary, improve the training and raise the standards for the county superintendents."

The changes suggested by Dr. Cooper will not, of course, come into being overnight. They will take time and careful planning, and in many localities will cost more money than can be afforded at the present time. There is small doubt, however, that he has charted a course that will eventually be followed.

The one-room, one-teacher country school served the country very well, all things considered, for many years. But we live, now in a different age. American life is almost infinitely more complicated.

There was a time when a fair grounding in the "three R's" was about all the education the average man needed. Now, however, all of that is changed. The man who is imperfectly educated is constantly at a greater disadvantage than he was the year before.—Altus Times Democrat.

The Oil States Conference

President Hoover's call for a conference of representatives of the ten oil producing states envisions a sort of treaty between these states to attain the ends sought by the American Petroleum Institute's production restriction plan which has been placed in abeyance because of technical difficulties. It was the president's suggestion that the matter be arranged by the states themselves, and accordingly he sent a request to the governors of these states to designate representatives to attend a conference which will be held at Colorado Spring beginning June 10.

Needless to say, all the governors invited will respond to the invitation. Whatever may be done at the conference, whatever agreement may be reached, will perforce be tentative. None of the representatives will have the power to commit the state to any program. But, with the power of the governors to select from each state a delegation which will represent the best interests of its oil producing industry, the probability is exceedingly high that whatever plan may come out of the conference "subject to approval" will be worthy of that approval.

In Texas' case the need for genuine conservation measures which shall do away with waste of the all-time petroleum resources of the State and put an end to the depression which wasteful overproduction has brought on the State's most important industry is obvious to everyone. Texas, as the actual and potential leader of petroleum production should take the lead at Colorado Springs. And for the State to take such a position it is necessary that the delegation which Texas sends shall be selected from the best men in the industry.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Age of Miracles

A Pathe movie cameraman went to Churchill Downs to take a movie of the Kentucky Derby.

In a New York studio the Pathe people set up one of their sound film machines. They had a radio set besides it; and the noises from the track, sent through the air for hundreds of miles, were recorded on this film.

When the photographer got back, his film was synchronized with the sound film—and a technically perfect "talkie" of the great race was ready to be shown in the movie theatres throughout the land.

Think about that episode for a little while, let yourself ponder on the way in which time and space were conquered—and see if you don't agree that the real age of miracles is the age in which we are now living.—Childress Index.

This is a sad old world. When there is a big wheat crop, the price of wheat is low and when there is a wheat failure, the price of wheat is way up; when a lovey-dovey has no lovey-dovey, life is on the brink and when the lovey-dovey has a lovey-dovey, life is on the blink and one lovey-dovey shoots the other lovey-dovey and gets into the newspapers, while the lonely would be lovey-dovey behaves and never has a word of publicity at all. The up's want down and the down's want up and the fat want to be lean and the lean want to be fat and the poor want to be rich and the rich squeeze a penny trying to be richer and the rains rain too much or not enough and there is no rest for the wicked. Surely the world is a sad old place and a hard road to travel.—Higgins News.

TEXAS & TEXANS

By Will H. Mayes

FORTUNES IN TEXAS WOOL

The spring wool crop of Texas is estimated at 33,000,000 pounds. Of this, more than 20,000,000 has been sold at prices ranging from 32 to 35 cents a pound. At this rate, Texas will be enriched some $11,000,000 by the spring clip. Flocks of sheep and goats are increasing every year but many farmers have not learned the value of a few head of these money-making animals on the small farm. These read of the great flocks in the hill countries of West Texas and decide if they can't have large flocks there is no need to go to the trouble of caring for a few. Ten sheep or goats often will bring larger proportionate return than flocks of hundreds or thousands because the small flock picks up its feed from what would otherwise be the waste of the farm. There are few Texas farms too small for profitable sheep or goat raising.

HIGHWAYS AND SMALL TOWNS

Efforts of Texas highway engineers to straighten out the highways have in some instances resulted in leaving small towns off the through routes of travel. In some cases this has engendered criticism and bad feeling. The Central Texas Press Association in a recent resolution takes the right position, saying: "In the progress of highway construction in Texas and the relocation of highways, highways should be designed over the shortest routes possible when feasible, practicable and economical, but small towns which have come to depend largely on tourist traffic as a source of revenue should be protected in the location of any highway, and the opportunity of such towns to gain this additional revenue should not be unreasonably sacrificed for the sake of economy in distance or construction costs."

All progress is made through compromise, and in most cases building progress of every kind involves some temporary losses to somebody. These should be as small as may be consistent with public interest. In no case should there be "unreasonable sacrifice."

PUBLIC BUILDINGS

The business of the Texas Highway Commission has grown to such proportions that hundreds of officials and other interested parties from all over Texas are drawn to Austin on the days that road contracts are let. These are unable to get into the small quarters in which the commission meets and holds its sessions, but have to loiter in the streets and open spaces to await their turn, often standing around in the cold and rain for hours. Many of them have petitioned the Legislature to construct an office building that will provide the needed rooms for the commission and those who have business with it. Many other State department workers are now so crowded for office space that the State's business can not be handled expeditiously. A building large enough to relieve this condition is much needed. The Legislature should provide for it without unnecessary delay.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT HONORED

Baylor did well to honor Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general of the United States, with the degree of doctor of laws, when she delivered the commencement address at the institution recently. Mrs. Willebrandt is an outstanding character because of the position she holds, which alone would entitle her to the distinction given her by the university. Aside from that her activity in the enforcement of prohibition laws has won international recognition, and her attitude toward law enforcement has been in line with the principles for which this Baptist school has always stood. Even those who are not in accord with those principles must concede that Baylor did the nice thing in honoring the notable woman.

MILLION MOTOR CARS

Texas now has more than a million motor cars most of which are classed as "pleasure cars." Nearly 150,000 trucks are busy in the State as vehicles of commerce. Streets and highways everywhere are crowded with all classes of motor vehicles. Not many years ago some Texas farmers threatened to shoot motorists because their cars frightened horses, and cows and endangered lives. Now, practically every farmer owns a car and many have several cars. The motor car has replaced the buggy, and wagons are seldom seen on the highways. Tractors are no longer novelties. Texas is well into the era of motor driven power, and this is evidenced in many other ways besides by its motor cars used for pleasure and transportation.

CASSAVA PLANT GROWING

The United States Department of Agriculture, in a recent bulletin calls attention to the possibility of profitable cassava plant production in the section of Texas south of San Antonio. The cassava is a tropical plant grown extensively in Brazil and other South American countries for use in the manufacture of starch, tapioca, glucose and other such product. It is also a fine feed for live stock and poultry. It is stated that it can be cheaply and profitably grown. Mention is here made of this crop possibility merely to emphasize the fact that Texas has numerous sources of revenue of which Texans have not as yet dreamed.

WHY VALUES INCREASE

Values in real estate seldom increase except as a result of some local activity of a town's citizenship. In a news item from Brady the statement is made that values there have increased greatly in the last two years owing largely to civic improvements, such as street paving, water works extensions, etc. Look where you will and the towns that are progressing are those that have a citizenship that is forward looking enough to work together for the and lack of united efforts towns are not even stand-general good. Where there is strife and bickering ing still—they are rapidly retrogressing.

Great American Home

Boy Scout Work Is Valuable

BY I. E. JOLLY
Scout Executive

The annual crime bill of America totals twelve billions of dollars, and about one half of the criminals responsible for this tremendous bill are under twenty-one years of age. One commissioner reports that of 154 men serving life sentences more than one half were under twenty-one years of age when caught and none had ever had a contact with a boys' club, boy scout troop or a trained leader.

The average cost of arresting, sentencing and incarcerating a criminal is $2,000 to each community and you still have a criminal perhaps worse than in the beginning.

There are in Hall county about 1400 boys of the ages from 12 to 17 inclusive. Donley 600, Collingsworth 1,000, Gray and Wheeler (the part embraced by the South-east Panhandle Area council Boy Scouts of America) another 800. There is also another 800 eleven year old boys coming on in all about 4600 boys of the dangerous age. We are spending about $1.00 a year on each boy to provide him with leisure time activity. For the greatest time of peril in any boy's girl's life is that time when he hasn't a thing to do. The scouting program fills this time with worthwhile activities that build character and develop in the best educational method, "learn by doing."

The scout learns to be a better citizen by picking up nails and glass from the street. His "daily good turn" is the service idea over again. By his association with men and leaders of character he catches high ideals, for character is caught and not taught.

The tremendous task of reaching the 4600 boys cannot be done by one man. The man power of every community must be mobilized to do it. Churches, service clubs, schools and parents must unite in the body and give some of their time to this tremendous problem. The school cannot do it alone for we can educate criminals as well as citizens, for the greatest criminals are the educated ones. The church cannot do it as seven out of ten boys of this age are lost to the church. Every force of the community must be organized for service and every available man must be mobilized for the task. Not only money but man power is needed.

Part of the boy scout program is a summer camp, now recognized by educators as necessary to a boy's or girl's education and filling a part of the leisure time a boy with worthwhile activities such as archery, model aeroplanes, sex health, hiking, cooking, swimming, games and athletics, camp fire programs, where individual and group stunts are encouraged, woodwork and wood carving, boomerangs and marksmanship. Every minute filled with something worthwhile. Even the cook will be chosen by his character as well as his cooking. Is your boy planning on spending his vacation or planning a worthwhile one? You have a tremendous stake in your boy. It costs an average of $7,380 to raise a boy to 18 and that does not take into consideration mothers' care, work, worry, suffering and privations. If a college man, he will earn an average of $150,000 in a life time. As a high school graduate $78,000. Use every opportunity you can to aid and assist him to get the right ideals of life.

Apple bitter-rot, a serious disease throughout the South, flourishes very rapidly in hot, moist weather, and where the disease is prevalent it is best to begin spraying before infection appears, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Unless infection is especially severe, three or four applications of a 4-4-50 Bordeaux mixture, about June 15 and at two-week intervals may be enough. The fruit must be completely covered with the spray, but care must be taken not to spray the fruit too close to picking time or too much spray may remain on the fruit. Usually this does not occur if the last application is made not later than 4 or 5 weeks before ripening.

DECK'S Didactics

By H. D. W.

Spring fever is with me as I write—I long to be doing anything but the work in hand. A swimming pool, a stream and a fishing rod or the sound of the sad sea waves would be cheering. Anything would be preferable to a hot office with a certain amount of copy to be ground out. And to think that the birds in the back end who are hollering for copy have all the fans in the place.

But spring fever does make me realize more than usual the need of Wellington for better forms of outdoor recreation. It may be a long time before we get them, and we may never have them, but Wellington does need recreational facilities. The park at the edge of town is splendid, but it is designed principally for children. There is such a thing as grown-ups needing outdoor exercise.

Although chopping weeds has never appealed to me as a form of recreation, I believe it is all that I will get this year. Like a large number of other people in Wellington, I find that I am going to have to do all my home landscaping over again since my street has put in sidewalks. There is considerable pleasure to be derived from pottering around with grass and flowers and shrubs, but I hate to do the initial work that makes the future beauty possible.

It is a strange thing to me, but the men who have the most leisure seem to keep the most unattractive lawns. They have nothing but time on their hands, but they do nothing about keeping their premises looking well. Wellington does not have a lawn contest this year, and the weeds are liable to make inroads unless property owners are unusually diligent. Wellington could be an attractive town. Let's make it so. Gosh! I hope I find a negro to cut my weeds before this is published.

And since I am writing about spring fever, I am also reminded that summer is also here, and we have prospects for the largest fruit crop in several years. Saturday Bill Burden gave me a big bowl of luscious dewberries for breakfast. I didn't ask him whether he bought them or whether he stole them, for I didn't care as long as he gave some of them to me. When summer is further advanced, I hope others will remember how hot this office is, and how I like good ripe peaches.

Editors congratulate themselves on having passed the day when people brought in watermelons, peaches, etc., to pay for their subscriptions, but in my present frame of mind, I can't decide whether or not it is a good trend that the business has taken after all. In fact I have to pay more for the peaches and watermelons that I have bought in recent years than we get for a subscription to the paper.

But even the laziness that is an inherent part of spring will not keep Wellington from getting a railroad this summer, and when that railroad comes a lot of you folks will remember my advice about buying lots in Wellington. Coon Cooke, Lee O'Neil and Miss Jessie Fuson have some business lots, but if you had enough money to buy them you wouldn't be worrying about buying lots, so I guess you had better see me or Bill Go-forth about some first class residence property.

We are going to miss out on the big political speakers this year, because there is no election; but we will be honored with a visit from Dr. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth, and what I mean is The Frank Norris. Bob Hickman says he is going to talk about "Rome's Challenge to America." In case you are one of those who is quaking in his boots, because of the danger that threatens from Rome, you ought by all means go out and hear the sermon of Dr. Norris at the Methodist church on Friday evening.

It looks like the Republican party is going to live up to its promises of relieving the farmer. With wheat nearing 60 cents a bushel and cotton going down, it looks like the farmer might be relieved of considerable.

Amarillo Mayor Seeking Civic Consciousness

Would Build Young Texans into American Patriots

Amarillo, the Helium City of the Texas Panhandle, is committed by its new mayor to the highest standards of citizenship. It would rid itself of bootleggers, end professional gambling and tone up its morals. It would also teach respect or vested authority, through the symbol of the flag in the public schools.

Thirty years ago Col. Ernest O. Thompson was selling papers on the streets of Amarillo. He made a brilliant war record. Today he owns two hotels with a thousand rooms in his home city, and other hotels and investments in and out of Amarillo. In the campaign for mayor, against three opponents he received 75 percent of the votes.

Paul V. McNutt, national commander of the American Legion, is coming to Amarillo to assist at the inauguration. In the ceremony he will plant the new mayor with a flag in the name of the Legion.

The presentation planted an idea in the mayor's mind. It is reaching and powerful in the possibilities for building good citizenship that some men of national standing who have heard of it are ready to give the means that will carry it into every part of the country. The American Legion will have its share in the work. The newspapers will participate.

The aim is to teach greater respect for the flag in the public school. Thompson plans to start it in his home town. A flag will be prepared for presentation to each school room. The newspapers will run a series of questions and answers that will make up a thrilling history of the flag. Every star and every stripe will have its story painted against a background of fascinating human interest. The magnation of the mind of youth will be appealed to.

The honor pupil in each room who makes the best study will receive a flag for his class. It will belong to the room forever. Flag presentation day will be a gala event. Hundreds of honor pupils will bank themselves on the stage of the City Auditorium as they receive the classroom trophy.

"The great purpose of the flag study is to foster a love of country and a sacred regard for law," says Mayor Thompson. "I have set the example for the city by leading to do all in my power to rid Amarillo of bootleggers, end professional gambling and tone up the city's morals. I will not touch liquor while I am mayor of Amarillo, nor allow any city employee to do so, with my knowledge."

"We are trying to make Amarillo a model American city. We are going to have a civic consciousness and conscience. I hope to see the study of the flag established in every school in the state and spread from Texas over the nation. The American Legion will thus be able to serve in peace as in war, and will become a power in vanishing disrespect for law and order."

"The hope of civilization is respect for vested authority. We should teach this respect through the symbol of the flag."

Clarendon Has Larger Supply of Water Now

With the completion of the flow-line from the site of the new city well at Clarendon to the reservoir near the pumping plant, the latest addition to the city water supply was thrown into use Tuesday morning of this week. The well was allowed to flow free for a large part of the day that the line might be cleaned and that as little sand as possible might be fed into the storage tank.

Many citizens of Clarendon took advantage of the opportunity offered and visited the power plant, many of them for the first time, and saw the volume of water that was coming through the line. This amount of water approximates 275 gallons per minute and the well is continuing to be developed indicating that a figure in excess of this amount will be available when it completes taking gravel.

The well just completed, together with the old well that has been in use for the past two years, will furnish Clarendon with an ample supply of water for some time to come. The total capacity of the two wells is near 415 gallons of water per minute at this time, an amount in excess of twice the needs at present.

Agricultural Meeting Held at Memphis

Delos L. James, nationally known chamber of commerce executive and noted farm authority, of Washington, D. C., spent Tuesday afternoon with a group of Memphis men who are interested in the development of the agricultural interests of Hall county. He discussed with them various phases of livestock, dairying, poultry raising and other subjects pertaining to farm activities.

In the promotion of dairying, Mr. James urged the importance of good bulls. He said that the opening of a creamery would take the milk and make butter, cream and powdered butter milk and be of great benefit to the community. Plenty of cows, proper feed, establishment of bull circles, opening of a creamery and information that would keep farmers well informed concerning markets were listed as aids to the advancement of dairying in this county.

Poultry raising was then discussed. Mr. James stated that the essentials for a successful poultry raiser are standard flocks, proper houses, proper feed and the guarding against disease. To familiarize the people with more efficient methods of poultry and livestock raising, the suggestion was made that competent lecturers be secured and short courses conducted.

Soil erosion, rotation of crops and similar subjects were then discussed. The conclusion was reached that rotation of crops, cover crops, terracing and proper fertilization would be of great benefit to Hall county farmers. The banks, commissioners' court and chamber of commerce have pledged their cooperation in this important work.

Fire and theft insurance are necessary forms of protection for car owners.

Much Interest Is Shown in Growth Oakland Company

Dealer Outlets and Facilities Expanded at Parallel Rate

Keen interest in the recently announced election of A. R. Glancy, President and General Manager of the Oakland Motor Car Company, to a vice-presidency in General Motors, is evidenced in automotive circles at Detroit.

Mr. Glancy in point of years of service with the corporation is among its youngest major executives, it is pointed out, his election to a vice-presidency climaxing an unusual record of achievement.

In his new capacity with General Motors, Mr. Glancy will remain in active charge of the Oakland division, according to V. A. Porter and Clarence Hunsaker, Wellington Pontiac-Oakland dealers.

Although affiliated for some time with the Du Ponts, Mr. Glancy first became identified exclusively with General Motors in 1920 as general manager of the Samson Tractor Company at Janesville, Wisconsin. In 1924 he was made vice-president and assistant general manager of the Oakland Motor Car Company. The following year he succeeded to his present title of president and general manager.

During the four years of his exclusive control, the Oakland Motor Car Company has revealed an amazing growth. Five years ago it occupied a minor comparative position in the industry. In the official rating for the 1929 National Automobile Show, it ranked in fourth place among all members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Annual production five years ago hovered around the 44,000 car mark while last year it was in excess of 260,000 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes, with this year's schedule calling for a substantial increase.

During Mr. Glancy's early connection with the Oakland division and the manufacturing facilities of the company were confined to a small factory with cramped working quarters while today the plant is housed in a mammoth structure with a roof area of more than a hundred acres, which is claimed to be the newest and most modernly equipped automobile plant in the world.

Dealer outlets and service facilities have been expanded at a parallel rate, with the result that today Oakland is regarded as one of the hardest and fastest growing companies in the industry.

Margaret Puryear Awarded Degree

Miss Margaret Frances Puryear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Puryear of Wellington, was one of the 700 students who were graduated from the University of Oklahoma June 4, in the 36th annual commencement exercises of that institution.

Miss Puryear was granted a B. S. degree at that time, according to a special communication to The Leader from G. E. Wadsack, registrar at the university. Practically every state in the United States was represented by the graduating class, as well as several foreign countries.

At the National Automobile Show, it ranked in fourth place among all members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Check Oldsmobile Performance by the Surest Test of all—

DRIVE IT - KNOW WHAT IT CAN DO

THERE'S one sure way for you to prove Oldsmobile performance . . . come and drive the car yourself! Learn by actual experience, not only what this Oldsmobile can do, but how it does it.

Get behind the wheel. Make yourself comfortable . . . regulate the adjustable driver's seat to suit your height. Note the convenient arrangement of controls and instruments—the facility with which you can operate the starter, lights, gear-shift, accelerator, clutch, and brakes.

Then drive! Try this finer Oldsmobile in traffic and on the open road. Test every phase of its performance. Even in thickest traffic, you'll find Oldsmobile easy to drive. Swift, stageless pickup gives you the advantage at the signal light. Easy handling and flexible performance enable you to slip nimbly through crowded streets. Fingertip steering and a short turning radius simplify parking.

Out on the road, Oldsmobile's big 62-horsepower, high-compression engine delivers a smooth, rhythmic flow of eager power. There is greater speed than the average motorist ever needs—quick, sure acceleration to flash past other cars—tremendous reserve power for the hills—stamina to maintain a touring pace hour after hour.

Come drive this Oldsmobile. Compare it, point for point, with other cars. Talk with owners and get the results of the trials of months and miles. Then, when you know what Oldsmobile can do, judge it by your own standards of performance.

Graveyard Stuff

BY BUDGE

Journalism instructors insist that only those happenings which are unusual are "news." Conceding that point, I have some of the hottest news that has ever been published in The Leader. Here it is: Last Friday Jim Richards and Bob Wilder spent the entire morning chopping the weeds from around the Allen-Figh salesroom.

In fact, Jimmie proved himself so adept that Deck has been trying to persuade him to chop the weeds from his lots in the west part of town which he recently purchased.

If that can be arranged, Bill Goforth will be highly pleased. Mr. Goforth has been to this office six times in the past week trying to find the boss so that he could tell him that his weeds need cutting.

Noel Martin, who used to assist Coon Cocks in the operation of the Wellington theatres but who now lives at Spur, wrote a letter last week in which he admitted that The Leader was a good newspaper.

That's something that Jack Knight and Ray Goodson have never done and probably never will.

There is one thing, at least, which is reassuring about the first of the month. When all the bill-collectors start hounding us, it is nice to realize that a person can get that much credit.

There should be one restriction on bill-collectors. They should not be allowed to begin their collections before 5 a. m. on the morning of the first.

Quite a number of Wellington people seem to think this town needs an airport. Possibly it does, but there are a number of things which are more essential at the present time. We can't have everything, so we should make it a point to get those things which are needed most.

To be more specific, a new courthouse for Wellington would improve the appearance of the business district 98 per cent, and would give the public officials the room which is needed for them to adequately serve their public.

It's a well known fact that the vault in the sheriff's office won't hold many more bottles of liquor, and no one wants to see them pour any of it out.

Wellington could afford a few more paved streets, a few more street lights, and even a few more sidewalks, although the sidewalk situation is improving fast enough just now.

Here are a few of the things of which Wellington has plenty, and no more are needed: Drug stores, filling stations, ozark monuments, locust trees, and dirty back-alleys.

Improper Roads Are Drain Upon Public's Funds

Not long ago a manufacturing company in Cleveland startled the business world by advertising its willingness to pay well for machinery improvements of such efficiency that scrapping old equipment would be justified.

Obsolescence has come to be regarded in industry as one of the chief enemies of profit. Countless cases are on record wherein companies on the verge of bankruptcy have saved themselves by discarding both new and old equipment of low efficiency.

A report presented recently before the American Society of Civil Engineers makes known the facts that again point out that the application of this business-like procedure to government operation would in many instances save the public considerable sums of money. The report, prepared by H. J. Kuelling while state highway engineer of Wisconsin, concludes that an average mile of concrete road, over which 500 to 1500 cars pass daily, will save roughly $172,000 over gravel in the 20-year period.

He declares, "If $4,935 is deposited in a bank every year, drawing interest at five and a half per cent, compounded annually, it will amount to $172,000 at the end of 20 years. In other words, under traffic conditions assumed a concrete road plus $4,935 saved annually is the equivalent to the cost of a gravel road. These figures are so staggering that they appear quite fallacious. This is because of the habit of neglecting to recognize the indirect taxes paid for highways. Bills for tires, gasoline and repairs are part of the operating costs."

Mr. Kuelling bases his conclusion on facts derived from comparing the first cost of gravel with concrete, and the costs of maintaining them, of the tire and gasoline expenses over both highway types, all for a period of 20 years. This saving includes interest. However, if interest is eliminated, the saving over concrete for the same period is still $99,000.

Motor transportation is a business, a tremendous business, but its success and economy are now largely dependent upon the highway. It costs the public more money to travel over inferior roads rather than good, just as it costs a manufacturer more to use a piece of unperfected equipment. A locomotive company reports that on one division of a certain railroad thirty-five new super-power locomotives have replaced engines, most of which were but five years old, because the new design operates at a 34 per cent reduction in ton-mile costs.

Certainly the private citizen, the engineer of his own personal engine, is worthy of the greatest possible highway efficiency.

Intense Drama Is Feature of Bancroft Film

Timely Story of Stock Markets Coming to Ritz Theatre

Cecil Callahan, manager of the Ritz theatre, has made arrangements to present "The Wolf of Wall Street" to his patrons in Wellington next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 10, 11 and 12. This sparkling drama is all-talking and one of the most timely and intensely human photoplays brought thus far to Wellington's popular playhouse.

The Wolf (George Bancroft), and his pool, out to corner Copper, are faced with disaster unless they can secure a loan from Sturgess (Brandon Hurst), the Wolf's enemy. The Wolf, domineering and uncouth succeeds where David Tyler (Paul Lukas), his business associate failed. Tyler, angered by the Wolf's boastful taunts, plans revenge.

Olga, a former trapeze performer admires her husband, the Wolf, but her social ambitions interest her in Tyler. She encourages his advances. Gert, the maid (Nancy Carroll), disgustedly watches the fair progress. Tyler is spurred on, half from attraction and half to seek revenge upon the Wolf.

Frank, Gert's boy friend (Arthur Rankin), notes the activity in Copper. He invests his meagre savings, sure he will make money along with Gert's boss. He wins, and reinvests above his head.

The Wolf carries Copper to the peak, then sells short. The market catches fire as the Wolf pounds the stock down while the copper interests fight to keep it up. They are not desirous of their firm's being placed in a bad light due to stock manipulation. The company is a sound one. Frank, one of a thousand small suckers, however, is wiped out as the Wolf succeeds in driving the price down. To recover his losses, Frank steals from the firm and is jailed.

Meanwhile, Gert has learned that the Wolf's deal in Copper has been crooked, and knowing that her boss is the cause of her sweetheart's being jailed, she scores him bitterly. The Wolf laughs at "the suckers." "You are the sucker!" she cries, and directs him upstairs. There he sees Tyler and Olga in a fond embrace. His first thought is to kill them, but decides then on another plan. He will hurt them where it hurts the most—in the pocketbook.

The Wolf then buys out all other members of the pool except Tyler, then returns home. The market takes its course under pressure of his enemies, the bulls. The Wolf calmly sits and chats with Olga and Tyler, ignoring their evident alarm.

When finally his floor man telephones that the stock is once more at the peak, he reveals to Tyler that they are both penniless. That is his revenge. He leaves Olga with Tyler, and goes back to Wall Street. There he listens to an old man continue his ever-lasting soap-box harangue against stock dealing. Gert and Frank come up to him there. The rising market has saved the boy and they are to be married. The Wolf silently watches them depart.

"Fishermen" in Galveston Bay Take Rich Haul of 5,000 Bottles of Rum

UNCLE SAM has turned fisherman—fishing for rum.

And he is catching it—and how! By the hook loads it is being brought up from about four feet of water in Galveston Bay, between Galveston, Texas and the mainland. By truck loads it is being hauled from a coast guard patrol boat to a storage vault on the island.

"WET" FISHERMEN
It all started a few nights ago when a coast guard boat spied a suspicious looking barge anchored about 1000 feet from the causeway which connects the island with the mainland. Investigation disclosed about 200 sacks, each containing six or 12 bottles of choice foreign made whiskies, champagne, cognac and other liquors. Using grappling hooks and by diving, two men found with the barge admitted they had "fished" the dripping mud-covered sacks from the bay.

Customs officers and coast guard officers got their heads together then and began a little fishing expedition of their own. Almost daily since then a little coast guard boat has put out from the docks, returning at night loaded with liquor.

GET 5000 BOTTLES
About 5000 bottles already have been taken from the subterranean cache—and the end is not in sight.

Federal officers believe a rum boat was attempting to dash to the mainland, that it reached this homes.

The largest one structure contracted for at Altus this year is the $250,000 hotel being built at the corner of North Main and East Commerce streets, while the second largest project being built now is the $10,000 building to be occupied by the Altus Times-Democrat. In addition a $6,000 auto laundry and storage, a kindergarten building and a barn near Altus are under construction in addition to three repair jobs, a survey of the Altus lumber yards show.

"Once a scrub, always a scrub" may be said of an individual cow, but not a dairy herd. Use a good purebred dairy bull in a scrub herd and the daughters will be productive grades, and the granddaughters high grades of larger production.

point, which is much shallower than the surrounding water, became stuck and was forced to dump a big part of its cargo overboard in order to get loose.

Day and night watch has been kept on the area where the liquor was found—for there are many fishermen along Galveston Bay.

Chevrolet Has New Sales Head

A new figure rose to prominence on the automobile horizon a few weeks ago with the appointment of H. J. Linger as Vice-President and General Sales Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company. Mr. Linger takes charge of a selling force of more than 35,000 people and becomes the leader of an organization geared up to sell more than one million automobiles annually, according to M. M. Kern and J. B. Castleberry of Wellington Motor Company, local dealers.

In his new position, Mr. Linger, at 40, takes over the work formerly directed by R. H. Grant, now a Vice President of General Motors.

Mr. Linger was born July 5, 1889, at St. Clair, Mich. where he lived until finishing at the St. Clair high school in 1908. That fall he entered the University of Michigan becoming a member of the Lit-Law class of 1912.

He left the university before taking his degree to become associated with the Chalmers Motor Company, where he remained for a short time. His first introduction to sales work was in the summer of 1912 when he went with the Murphy Chair Company in Detroit. During his five years with this organization, the new Chevrolet sales chief had a hand in the company's advertising work, served as traffic manager and later as sales manager.

At the outbreak of the war he volunteered and was sent to the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he was commissioned a first lieutenant of Infantry. He was transferred later to the Fourth Anti-Aircraft Machine Gun Battalion with which he saw a year's service overseas. After he was mustered out of service early in 1919, opportunity beckoned in Dayton and he went to the Ohio city and joined the sales organization of the Delco-Light Company. In his five years with this company he gained a broad knowledge of sales and advertising in varied capacities and in many sections of the country. This was his first contact with R.

H. Grant with whom he was later to become more closely associated.

Ownership Announcement

This is to announce to the people of Wellington and Collingsworth County that the

has purchased the Rialto and Gem theatres in Wellington and is now in charge of all photoplay houses in this city.

For the present time, the Gem theatre will be closed. We are also closing the Rialto for a short time in order to work out a few changes and will later re-open the Rialto and continue its operation. Watch for the re-opening date which will be announced in the near future.

It is our intention to bring only the highest type entertainment to our patrons in Wellington at all times. We will continue to give you the same class of pictures which you have been enjoying at the Ritz, and the Rialto will continue to show the same high quality pictures.

Amarillo Man Makes Statement

Says He And Wife Will Always Speak A Good Word For Orgatone

"Anyone who had noticed the dreadful condition my wife was in can readily see the great change Orgatone has made in her," said J. E. McCollum, living on rural route Number 1, Amarillo, Texas. Mr. McCollum is a smelter workman and has been a resident of the city for several years.

"My wife has improved so much that her neighbors often speak of it. Her health has been broken up for over two years and she suffered from stomach trouble. Her appetite left her and what little she did eat would sour on her stomach, causing gas and intense pain. She was never able to eat breakfast at all, she was weak and dizzy and had terrible, raging headaches and was losing weight and strength. She had severe cramps in her stomach and sides most of the time and would roll and toss at night and never got very much rest. She had a bad case of constipation.

"Since taking Orgatone, my wife is greatly improved and feels like a different person. She isn't bothered with stomach or indigestion troubles and eats anything she wants, and now eats a hearty breakfast. Those terrible headaches and dizzy spells have disappeared and she isn't bothered with constipation. Orgatone has certainly helped her and we think it is a wonderful medicine and both will always speak a good word for it."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Wellington at the Palace Drug Store.

Cooling System Is Installed At Ritz

One of the most complete and up-to-date cooling systems to be obtained has recently been installed at the Ritz theatre. This cooling system is capable of keeping the temperature of the large building at a low degree even in the hottest of summer weather. This system is the Nu-Artic Washed Air, which was installed at a cost of $5,862.

All air of the unit is pulled into the building from the top at the rear of the structure. It is forced through a heavy and continuous spray of cold, washed air and then pulled by large suction fans into the building. After circulating through the length of the building the front of the building. In this it is forced out into the street in manner, a continuous flow of fresh pure air is circulated through the theatre and no stale air is ever allowed to remain in the building. The cooling system is by far the most effective in this section of the country and is well in keeping with the entire arrangements of the new Ritz theatre which is conceded to be one of the outstanding theatres of the Texas Panhandle.

in the clothing contest. The judges were Miss Ruby Adams of Memphis, Miss Zelma Ferguson to the Ritz theatre by making the of Wheeler. Each of the judges commented that as a whole the garments this year showed an improvement over those last year.

There were five different divisions to the contest and it is hoped that all garments entered Saturday may be entered in the county fair next fall, Miss Veda Swafford states.

Winners in the house dress division were: Mrs. A. M. Duvall, North Wellington, first; Mrs. A. L. Gollighugh, Salt Fork, second; Mrs. Mary Dowdy, Marilla, third. Winners in the sheer dress division were: Mrs. E. E. Amburn, Buck Creek, first; Miss Agnes Hicks, Fresno-Pleasant Point, second; Mrs. A. M. Duvall, North Wellington, third.

Winners in the boys' suit division were: Mrs. T. A. Jones, Dodsonville, first; Mrs. W. W. Johnson, Salt Fork, second; Mrs. O. B. Wilson, Salt Fork, third.

The winners in the girls' dress division were: Mrs. A. B. Hicks, Fresno-Pleasant Point, first; Mrs. L. F. Kennedy, Aberdeen, second; Mrs. L. L. McDonald, North Wellington, third.

Cross Roads won the free trip to the Ritz theatre by making the highest percentage. Salt Fork was second and Bowen third. The theatre party was immediately arranged by Cecil J. Callahan, manager of the Ritz, who stated he was glad to give these worthy women this evening of entertainment.

of Canadian who had exchanged benches with Judge A. J. Fires because Judge Willis was disqualified to preside over some cases which were being tried in his own district that week.

Arguments were completed and the case given to the jury Thursday night at 11:30. Friday morning at 11:30 the jurors reached an agreement and returned the verdict of not guilty. Judge Willis, before the verdict was given out, had cautioned the courtroom that there be no demonstration of any sort, no matter what the verdict turned this week to spend the summer vacation in Wellington. They are, left to right, Miss Mary Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene might be, and consequently the court room was orderly when the verdict was read, neither side making any demonstration.

Ed Fulcher is 23 years old and unmarried. He is the son of I. M. Fulcher who lives near Wellington and who is well known over the county.

Roy Oatman was 30 years old and married. He is survived by his widow, three children and several other relatives who live in Collingsworth county. Oatman was killed on the night of February 23 in an altercation which occurred during a dance at the Black-shear home on the Jarve Seale place nine miles northwest of Wellington. His death was caused by a knife wound in the neck.

to Holland for Wellington and with for Mangum. Wellington hit six times, Mangum's hits totaling eight. Wellington's hits were chalked up by McMahon, Bellah, Brown, Holland and Bunte, Bellah hitting twice. Bunte struck out five men during the game. Mangum's hits were made by Ray Morgan, Heatley, Nell, Brown, Bill Morgan. Ray Morgan, Nell and Brown each hit twice. Morgan also struck out five men.

Local fans agree that Sunday's game with Elk City at the local park was one of the best played thus far. The first run was made by Wellington. Elk City then scored. Wellington scored and then Elk City ran in two more scores, giving the visitors a one-point lead. Wellington staged a slugging rally to run in four more scores before the ninth innings was completed, giving them a 6-3 win. Hits for Wellington were made by McMahon, Bellah, McKenna, Andre, Brown, Wilson, Newman and Holland, with Mc-

Lewis; Miss Clara Castleberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Castleberry; and Miss Mildred Henard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henard.

Horace Scruggs Is Critically Ill

Horace Scruggs, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Scruggs of Wellington, is reported to be critically ill at this time, suffering from lockjaw.

Two weeks ago he shot his hand with a blak pistol, lockjaw developing last Saturday. He is being given constant medical attention and his chances for recovery are said to be favorable at this time, although his parents and the friends of the Scruggs family have been most alarmed at his condition for the past few days.

Mahon, Holland, Brown and Newman hitting twice each. Hitting for Elk City was done by Jones, Cooper, Thomas, and Gowdy, with Jones hitting three times, Gowdy and Cooper hitting twice each. Jones played first base for Wellington two years ago and Sunday was showing up well before his former fans and admirers. Jack Knight pitched the game for Wellington, accounting for seven strike-outs. Heil, Elk City pitcher struck out only two men.

Wellington has three more games to play that have not been made up. A game with Elk City that was rained out several weeks ago is yet to be played, as well as a more recent one with Sayre which was also rained out. The third game to be made up is the tie game played last Wednesday with Cordell. Plans are being made to play off the Sayre game at Wellington Saturday. No definite plans for playing off the other two have been announced as yet.

If Wellington is successful in winning these three games which are to be made up and if the locals can also continue their wins on their regular schedule, Wellington's percentage will be comfortably near the top of the Oklahoma-Texas league.

Mangum played Wellington, June 5 on the local diamond, but the game had not ended at press time.

Mrs. Burt Dies Last Monday At Daughter's Home

Mrs. J. W. Burt died last Monday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leslie Woodriddle, in Wellington. Mrs. Burt was 69 years of age at the time of her death, having been born November 2, 1859, in Alabama.

For a long while Mrs. Burt resided in Hollis, moving to Wellington about a year ago and since then has made her home with her daughter in this city. She was a member of the Methodist church and was loved and respected by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Burt is survived by three sons and three daughters who are W. C. Burt of Hollis, R. L. Burt of Seeve, A. B. Burt of Vinson, Mrs. Leslie Woodriddle of Wellington, Mrs. John Logan of Amarillo and Mrs. Quantrel Tucker of Hollis. Two brothers and three sisters also survive.

Funeral services were held from the First Methodist church at Hollis at three o'clock last Tuesday afternoon with interment in Fairmount cemetery.

Most farmers think that May sweet clover is a better soil improver than the July crop. As a matter of fact, it makes little difference. Unless the clover is plowed under in early May, however, it is better to wait until July. Plowing under in July should be started before the clover is dead ripe.

Watch For

In case of failure of an alfalfa or clover seeding, winter grain, or a spring crop, there is still time to grow soybeans, which make an excellent hay of high feeding value if cut at the right stage of growth and properly cured. Soybeans should be cut for hay when the seeds are about one-half developed. The leaves are the valuable part of the hay and should be kept if possible. Soybeans hay needs to be thoroughly cured before being stacked, housed or baled. If cured in bunches or shocks, the hay should be opened a few hours before hauling, to dry it out. Soybeans will yield from 1 to 3 tons an acre, sometimes 4 or 5 tons. They are also good as a summer catch crop following early crops or in fields not in a regular rotation.

Glycerin Mixture Stops Constipation

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, saline, etc. (Aclerika) acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and relieves constipation in TWO hours. Brings out old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Don't waste time with pills or remedies which clean only PART of the bowels, but let Aclerika give stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel.—Palace Drug Store.

Notable Features In New Whippet Commercial Line

A new conception of values in commercial cars is found in the new line of Superior Whippet Six 1-2 ton units announced by the Willys-Overland company. In outstanding mechanical features, which include four-speed forward transmission, heavy seven-bearing crankshaft, Invar-strut pistons full force feed lubrication, timing chain big four-wheel brakes, "Finger-Tip Control" and a chassis of exceptional sturdy construction, the new Whippet Six commercial unit is seen as a striking advancement over present day engineering practices employed in other commercial units selling in the Whippet price brackets.

The company's presentation of this new line complete the Whippet commercial car program for 1929 and provides complete coverage in the now priced commercial field, according to J. W. Ricketts of the Ricketts Whippet-Knight company in Wellington.

In the construction of the new commercial units, Willys-Overland engineers perfected the Whippet Six chassis to provide power, speed, reliability lower cost per ton mile and general economical operation throughout, thus assuring the owner of utmost dispatch in the safe delivery of merchandise. Notable among the mechanical features listed is the four-speed forward transmission, which should have a marked appeal to all commercial car and truck operators. The incorporation of this type of transmission in the new Whippet Six commercial chassis provides added pulling ability in the low gears and enables the driver to make a quick getaway with a capacity load.

The "Finger-Tip Control" system, which has proved so highly successful in the company's passenger cars, also is standard equipment in the new commercial chassis. This system, with a button in the center of the steering wheel, enables the driver to control all the functions of starting the engine, operating the lights and sounding the horn without changing the driving position. It is also recognized as a distinct safety factor since any one or all of the operations are performed without the necessity of the driver removing his foot from the brake pedal or taking his eyes from the roadway ahead.

The heavy seven-bearing crankshaft is an important feature and is admittedly essential for the smoothest possible operation of a six cylinder engine. This crankshaft is drilled for full force feed lubrication and is an innovation in the construction of commercial chassis selling in the Whippet Six classification.

The Whippet Six chassis, which has a wheelbase of 131-inches and is sturdily built with six crossmembers, is designed to accommodate a wide range of body types such as a panel body, fully enclosed with two wide rear doors, being well adapted to the needs of practically every form of business; the canopy top body with curtains at the sides and at the rear to provide protection for merchandise against inclement weather. This latter body is especially adapted to meet the requirements of bottlers, grocery stores, hardware stores, laundries, packing companies, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Stansell Scott of Hollis spent last week-end here visiting Mrs. Scott's mother, Mrs. Manzer and family.

"Lucky Boy" Will Please Audiences At Ritz Theatre

It is strange what the introduction of sound can do to the emotions of a movie fan when that sound is the heart-throb of a stirring human interest story.

Tiffany-Stahl has performed a unique accomplishment in their latest feature production, "Lucky Boy," starring George Jessel which will come to the Ritz theatre on Thursday and Friday, June 6 and 7. They have combined a powerful photoplay, one fraught with laughter, heart-ache, romance and adventure, with all the sounds that go along with these emotional experiences in real life. The sound sequences follow straight through the picture. There is heard talking, sobbing, laughter, singing, George Jessel, whose greatest gift is his wit and his ability to portray his emotions through his voice, loses none of the dramatic force that has made him famous on the speaking stage, for his jokes and heart-throbbing songs are faithfully voiced.

The picture is the story of an East Side boy who has melody and rhythm in his soul, but little else to distinguish him from hundreds of boys born in poverty. His mother's love and faith in a son she believes to be different gives him his first chance at fame and fortune. He fails, and in disgrace goes to California and fights his way painfully to a place in the theatre. It is one of the five songs he sings — "My Mothers' Eyes," the theme song of "Lucky Boy," which first brings him notice. He falls in love with a society girl, and courts her against the opposition of her aristocratic family. The solution to all his problems and his rise to fame follows.

One of the most unusual features of the picture from an artistic viewpoint is the photographic and sound reproduction of a Broadway musical comedy chorus. This is really a masterpiece.

"Lucky Boy" was directed by Norman Taurog and Charles C. Wilson. The sparkling dialogue and titles of George Jessel's authorship and Rudolph Flothow supervised all dialogue and singing sequences.

Margaret Quimby plays an appealing and charming role as the society sweetheart of Jessel, while Rosa Rosanova does excellent work in the role of Jessel's mother. Others in the cast include Gwen Lee, Richard Tucker, William Strauss, Gayne Whitman and Mary Doran.

School In Michigan Has One Family And Teacher Lives at Pupil's Home

MISS BEULAH BERLIN, of Iron River, Mich., teacher in the McPherson school, 26 miles from here, gives all six of her pupils individual attention. For they all come from one family and she lives with the family.

Henry McPherson, father of the children, is almost like a feudal baron of old. The county maintains a school for his children only; the township this year is building a road which will aid him more than any other individual; the nearest town, Kenton, is seven miles away and the nearest neighbor about four miles distant. In all that district he rules.

LIKE A PRIVATE TUTOR

The pupils, who go to school with teacher and return home with her, are Rosalie, first grade; Dorothy, fourth; Florence, fifth; George and Henry, seventh, and Chester, eighth.

There are some advantages for both teacher and pupil in this remote school house. The children have their teacher with them all the time and when they are bothered with some problem of their "home-work" all they need do is turn to Miss Berlin and they get individual attention—at home!

For the teacher, there are only two visits a year from the superintendent of schools and she always knows when he's coming. No chance of being caught unprepared. Roads out McPherson way are such that traffic is stopped when snow comes and remains that way until after the road is dried again in the late spring. Miss Berlin is her own supervisor and superintendent.

The McPhersons, residents of the farm since it was homesteaded

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return hereon, showing how you have executed the same.

about 30 years ago, have hewed out a "Home, Sweet Home," to them. The farm, although far removed from the usual line of traffic during winter, is often visited in the summer months.

Farming, trapping and "just living" make up the routine at the McPherson home. During the winter, trapping has proven a lucrative enterprise. The McPherson area is not disturbed by the invasion of hunters, and as a result abounds in small wild life. Often as much as $1000 has been annually added to the McPherson bank account from furs.

The McPherson school has a close competitor in the Paint Lake school, another remote unit of the Iron River township system, which is presided over by Miss Mabel Peterson. She has 11 pupils from two families.

FORT WORTH AND DENVER NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY hereby gives notice that on the 27th day of May, 1929, it filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. Injuries Received Playing Are Fatal to Shamrock Boy

Melvin Leon Burkhalter, 13 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Burkhalter of Shamrock, died at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, as the result of complications which set in after he had been injured in a game of black man at the North ward school at Shamrock, six days before.

An X-ray picture made of his injured leg Tuesday morning when his parents first learned his condition was critical, revealed a broken thigh. Blood poison had already developed and the youngster had contracted pneumonia, physicians said, and there was no hope for him.

Not thinking it was anything serious Melvin had not mentioned the injury to his leg when he went home from school Wednesday. After having some playmates fall on him, he had stopped playing and gone in the school house for a few minutes rest. He felt better in a little while and so said nothing about it.

Monday night the child took a turn for the worse and Tuesday morning his parents had an X-ray picture made of his leg. He was unconscious. Physicians announced he had contracted pneumonia, probably four or five days before, that blood poisoning had set in his leg and that there was no hope for his recovery. He remained unconscious until death came that afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jones and son, Bobby, of Memphis visited in the home of L. C. Jones and family Monday and Tuesday.

Ex-Sheriff Feels 20 Years Younger

"I am 63 years old. Take a man my age, down and out physically, and let him find some medicine that puts him on his feet like Sargon did me, and he is going to tell about it," said Henry C. King, 2112

HENRY C. KING

West 11th St., Oklahoma City, an "old timer" who for 50 years as cattleman and deputy sheriff has maintained a reputation as a "straight shooter."

"When I saw myself begin to get old and puny a few years ago, I began to try nearly every medicine I ever heard of to get me straight but I couldn't get anything to do me any lasting good.

"Then I tried Sargon, and it soon had me feeling twenty years younger! Today, two months since I quit taking Sargon I feel just as good. A friend met me the other day and said "Why Henry, somebody told me you had been sick. He must have been mistaken. I never saw you looking better.

"We old timers learned to help one another so I want people to know what Sargon did for me. I couldn't digest anything I ate, my skin was yellow and spotted, and I was so weak that when I lay down I didn't care whether I got up or not. I never had a natural action of my bowels, and had to get up all during the night on account of my kidneys.

"Sargon made me gain fourteen pounds, I eat more and digest it with no trouble; my kidneys have stopped bothering me and my bowels are regular as clockwork; and mind you it has been two months since I quit taking it."

Sargon may be obtained in Wellington from Joe Hardy Drug Co., and in Quail from Dr. F. V. Walker.

"The Rainbow" Is Desert Gold Tale

Deliberately to bring hundreds of people out into the Nevada desert on a false scene of gold, knowing they stand to lose everything they invest in the useless search—that seems incredible to Lola, listening to Derby Scanlon's goating over the success of his ruse.

As her guardian goes on raving about the poor suckers whom he has invited into giving up their hard won money while they search frantically for the golden wealth his bare-faced lie has promised them—Lola reluctantly admits to herself that the man she has looked to, her whole life, for protection is a thorough rascal.

And worst of all, Derby's schemes has caught, among all the other victims, the particular young man for whose success she is most anxious, because it will mean their happiness together.

"The Rainbow" is a Reginald Barker Special Production for Tiffany-Stahl, and that means vivid, vital, throbbing drama. Dorothy Sebastian and Lawrence Gray play the leading roles with the support of Sam Hardy, Harvey Clark, Paul Hurst, Gino Corrado and King Zany. L. G. Rigby is the author of "The Rainbow" and one of its thrills is a desert sand storm. It is synchronized by RCA Photophone with music and sound effects.

"The Rainbow" will show Saturday, June 8, at the Ritz theatre.

Great Power of Auto Engine Is Recently Shown

One Drop Gasoline Will Roll Ton and Half Forty Feet

Through the medium of an efficient automobile engine a single drop of gasoline will roll an automobile weighing nearly a ton and a half over more than a foot of highway.

This example of the marvelous power developed in modern automobile was figured out by Werner Fetz, research engineer for the E. L. Bruce Lumber company of Memphis, Tenn. after he had completed a recent 3,000-mile trip through the east in his Oldsmobile Six landau, according to V. A. Watts of Watts Bros. Oldsmobile company, Wellington dealers.

For the first 1,000 miles of the trip Mr. Fetz and a companion alternated at the wheel of the Oldsmobile, each driving 100 miles at a time, and made stops only for gasoline and one meal. The remainder of the trip was made by Mr. Fetz alone but it showed equally outstanding car performance.

At the conclusion of the trip the engineering mind of Mr. Fetz was intrigued by what a fine automobile of today can and does accomplish and he figured to the drop of gasoline how much power was developed.

"Car owners talk a good deal about the mileage their car make per gallon of gasoline," said Mr. Fetz. "I doubt, however, that the majority of them realize what their statements involve. We may discuss the billions of dollars spent during the war, or the hundreds of light years a star is away from us, but if we cannot visualize such figures they have absolutely no meaning.

"It is the same with gasoline mileage. Take, for example, a car which averages 17.8 miles per gallon and see what this consumption of gasoline actually means after we have reduced these figures so that we can grasp them more easily.

"Seventeen and eight-tenths miles represents 93, 984 feet, and one gallon of gasoline contains 68,602 drops. Consequently it requires 0.73 drops of gasoline to move the automobile one foot.

"Thus we end up with figures we can grasp, understand and visualize, this is, this powerful six-cylinder Oldsmobile, by these figures, requires a scant three quarter drop of gasoline to move it one foot along the road. To comprehend the full significance of this fact, look at the size and weight of the car and the engine, the three-quarter drop of gasoline and one foot of road. One cannot help but be amazed at such marvelous performance, utilizing the energy stored up in a tiny speck of gasoline.

Literally millions of us are driving automobiles every day, yet there are few drivers who know little or anything of the me-

Miss Edwards Is Visitor in County

Miss Bess Edwards, assistant state home demonstration agent for Texas, visited Collingsworth county last Wednesday.

During her stop here she was entertained by the Aberdeen club. Miss Edwards is touring Texas to observe the work being done by girls 4-H clubs and is also locating women who are carrying on an outstanding demonstration.

Miss Edwards was well pleased with the work of the 19 4-H club members at Aberdeen. She complimented the girls on their clothing and food work. She said she was well pleased to find the women's club at Aberdeen with 25 active members and added that she was glad to find them all present at the afternoon meeting.

Miss Edwards stopped to visit Mrs. Mayhaff's garden on her way back to town. The asparagus which reached the length of one side of an acre garden was a novel to her. She stated that to see the unusual variety of vegetables growing in this garden proved that anything in the vegetable line would grow in Collingsworth county and disproved reports that sandstorms would not permit garden work in this section. This remark is doubly true in view of the fact that Mrs. Mayhaff has a similar garden every year.

Collingsworth has a large number but needs more demonstration women such as Aberdeen has.

Childress Getting Additional Paving

Contracts for 13 1-2 blocks of additional paving for Childress streets totalling $55,000 were let Wednesday afternoon, it was announced by Childress councilmen following the opening of bids from competing contractors.

W. M. Hale, Childress was awarded the contract calling for the paving of 6 blocks on avenue F, northwest, which will extend the pavement on that street to the city limits.

The project on 12th street will be in charge of J. T. Foty, Fort Worth contractor, whose bid was near the $26,000 mark. The pavement on this street will be extended to the city limits north, past the new C. M. Crews residence.

The pavement to be laid on Avenue F will be of brick on a concrete base, while that on 12th street will be of asphalt on a concrete base.

Both contractors stated that they would begin work on the new projects as soon as possible. Preparatory details make it impossible to begin within less than 40 days, they said.

To make cinnamon buns or rolls, simply roll out your ordinary raised bread dough, cut with a large cookie butter, brush the tops with egg, and sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Do not use too much cinnamon.

Hollis Bonds Fail To Sell Tuesday

Hollis school bonds failed to sell Tuesday when they were offered for sale in the office of Dr. S. W. Hopkins.

The reason for failure of the $68,000 issue to sell is accredited to the low rate of interest which was maximum allowed under a city of the first class. Interest cannot exceed over 5 per cent over a period of 25 years loan. This is in accordance with the state ruling. Previously bonds have sold from 5 per cent to 5 1-4 and 5 1-2 per cent.

Another condition which made the present time an inopportune one for the sale is the excessive market rate of interest on the New York markets which within the past few days has jumped up as high as 20 percent. This was the worst condition that could have happened, and the present time is an exceptionally bad time to make the sales. However, it is expected there will be no difficulty in selling bonds after a short time, as this is only a temporary condition. At this time there are 11 counties in Oklahoma unable to sell bonds.

Bonds will be offered at Hollis during the month of June, it is believed now.

Prune salad is made by simmering prunes until soft, removing the stones carefully and stuffing the cavity with well-seasoned cottage or cream cheese.

Miss Doris Leggett Receives Degree at Teacher's College

Wellington is represented in the Senior class of the West Texas State Teachers college by Miss Doris Leggett who will receive her Bachelor of Science degree with this year's class.

According to reports from the college, Miss Leggett has been very actively identified with the work of the home economics of the college and is a member of the Kappa Omicron Phi, national home economics honor society.

There are 110 members in the graduating class this year, coming from 46 different communities in Texas and from Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico.

Miss Leggett was a member of the faculty of Wellington high school for several years before entering the Canyon institution two years ago.

chanical, electrical or chemical actions which take place in producing the desired result of locomotion. The modern automobile is truly phenomenal."

Other features of performance of his Oldsmobile were commented upon by Mr. Fetz. Speaking of driving comfort, he said:

"The handling of this car is easy and does not require any unnecessary effort. The driver's energy is conserved and with it comes a sense of security in driving which is vital on long distant trips.

"Drivers who have experienced a flat front tire while going at high speed know the usual steering difficulties. During our trip the right front tire went down. Although the car was going fast over a hard but rough road there was no noticeable change in the ease of steering. And in spite of this almost stubborn steering steadiness the car obeys instantly to the slightest turn of the stirring wheel. This is particularly helpful in city traffic."
