

DAVID MARION'S Cessna 172 airplane crashed Saturday morning in a cotton field west of Colorado City. Neither Marion, nor his son, Paul, who was travelling with him, was seriously injured.

Two Walk Away From Plane Crash

God, not allowing fear to take over, emergency training and the design and strength of the Cessna 172 are what David Marion gives credit to for his walking away from a plane crash Saturday morning. "God brought us down," said Marion. "He was in the cockpit with us."

At 6:05 a.m. Saturday, Marion and his 11-year-old son Paul left Colorado City Airstrip in their Cessna 172 airplane headed for Jayton. There they would pick up friends and fly to Lawrence, Kan., for the Texas A&M University of Kansas football game.

But cloud coverage prohibited the plane from getting much past the Dunn Community.

Knowing that the weather condition would not permit the trip, Marion attempted to turn around and head back to Colorado City.

Marion said that he remembered from flight instruction he took from Frank Deregibus what to do in an emergency situation and he did not panic. "Fear did not take over," Marion said. "When fear gets in the way, you can't think."

Fog hovered over the ground and the sun had not yet risen so Marion had to estimate the distance to the ground.

"The plane landed on the landing gear, which absorbed most of the landing shock," Marion explained.

But the plane landed in the blank rows of a cotton field and the loose soil caused the nose gear to dig into the ground. Speed caused the plane to do a cartwheel, coming to rest upside down. Location of the crash was north of FM Road 1808, west of Colorado City.

Marion forced the door of the plane open by kicking it out and he and his son got out.

"Paul remained cool and calm throughout the whole incident, which is what a co-pilot should do," said Marion.

After Marion checked his son and himself for injuries, he completed the emergency procedures, closing all fuel, ignition, master and electrical gears. He secured the plane so there would not be a fire or an explosion.

Marion tried to determine their location and the two began walking toward FM Road 1808. When they reached the highway, an oil field transport truck gave them a ride to Preston Morris' house where Marion telephoned his wife.

The passenger who Marion was planning to collect in Jayton is also a pilot, so Mrs. Marion telephoned him to tell him what had happened. That way, Marion explained, the man would not send out an air search when the plane did not arrive within 30 minutes of schedule.

Morris drove Marion and his son to the airstrip where Marion's truck was parked. Marion and his son then drove home.

A neighbor, Roy Barker, accompanied Marion and his family back out to the scene of the accident so that they could review the condition of the plane.

About 9:30 a.m., Marion and his son went to Root Memorial Hospital for a check up.

Paul had sustained a cut on his leg which required a few stitches and he was treated and released.

A hairline fracture on Marion's left wrist and a small broken bone in his right knee were discovered. He was admitted to the hospital and released Monday afternoon.

Marion noted that avoiding panic is the key to escaping from any emergency situation.

Although Marion's plane has substantial structural damage, he does not intend to give up flying. In fact, he said he has begun looking for another plane.

Dominating Tuesday night's regular meeting of the City Council of Colorado City was discussion on the Colorado City Airstrip.

The three hour meeting got off to a start with the council unanimously approving the authorization of Mayor Marion Bassham to execute an indenture for government property at the Colorado City Airport.

However, after that approval, the council seemed to find it difficult to reach a consensus.

In reviewing a hangar ground lease agreement for approval, the council was apparently split on what the lease should stipulate.

Whether to include the provision that "hangar doors should be closed and locked at all times, except when aircraft is being removed or replaced" seemed to cause a ripple of conflict.

That provision was restated to read "hangar doors shall be closed..."

Councilmember Loyd Ledbetter noted that some of the provisions—like the regulation to prohibit smoking or open flames in hangars—would probably be violated, but having the provision would clear the city in case of an accident.

"I don't think it rings very true," said Frank Deregibus, a visitor at the council meeting. "Why have rules that are going to be busted?"

In discussing the building of hangars, uniformity seemed to be the key factor some Councilmembers had in mind.

In the hangar lease agreement, no specifications were stated as to size and model of hangar, although they "shall be of metal construction."

A concern of some councilmembers was that the hangars be uniform to make the airport more attractive.

"We spent $9 million on an airstrip and I don't think we should have a bunch of junk out there," said Councilmember Rick Perkin.

"We want to be assured that some type of uniformity will be exercised," Councilmember Jody Neff noted.

The group of pilots on hand at the meeting discussed the lease agreement with the council, offering suggestions.

After much discussion, the council voted to accept basic lease agreement with the understanding that more detailed specifications regarding the building of hangars would follow.

"It's not our airport, it's not the pilots' airport—it's the citizens' airport," said Perkin.

Later in the meeting, the council returned to discussion of the airport when Ledbetter suggested that the council consider granting 10 year leases to be paid in advance to persons wishing to build hangars at the airport. He suggested that the lease be $50 per year for those paying 10 years in advance, with the understanding that the money would be used to finance the lighting system at the airport.

Ledbetter added that those paying the $50 per year with a 10 year advance would assist in installing the lights at the airport.

The council decided to investigate the matter further before setting the lease charge.

Those present elected as directors George Martin for Area I, in Lorraine and Robert Holman for Area II, the area south of Colorado City.

After the Co-Op meeting, directors elected officers and the officers remained the same as last year—Martin Murphy as president; A. K. McCarley Jr., vice president, and G. C. Strange, secretary-treasurer.

Co-Op Manager Kenneth Rogers told those on hand that a rate increase has been requested and approval of a 13 per cent increase is expected from the state utility commission. The rate increase is expected to go into effect in mid-November.

This was made necessary by the fact that last year, revenues are up 14 per cent over 1966 but at the same time, cost of power is up 28 per cent and cost of operations is up 21 per cent.

800 Attend Meeting

Some 800 people were on hand Tuesday for the annual meeting of Lone Wolf Electric Co-Op members here.

David Marion, Farmers Home Administration supervisor, noted that the council might consider applying for an FmHA loan to help with airport costs. That possibility will be investigated and further discussed.

City Manager James Campbell reported to the council that the Colorado City's suspension of Texas Electric Service Company's proposed 24.43 per cent rate hike had been studied.

"They came up with 6.7 per cent rate increase," said Campbell, "which is 27 per cent of TESCO's request."

The Public Utility Commission will now consider the rate consultant proposal and TESCO's proposal Monday and set the rate increase.

"It will probably be between 11-12 per cent," said Campbell, adding that, "I think we're looking at an annual rate hike request from TESCO."

As a service project, Campbell reported that the Colorado City Jaycees wanted to remove the junk cars from town.

Campbell said the city ordinance defines "junk car" as an inoperative vehicle which doesn't have a current inspection sticker or current license plate.

Campbell requested that the city grant the Jaycees the legal authority to remove the junk cars, which they will have compressed and sell.

"Voluntary compliance" was what Campbell said would be used to have the estimated 100 cars moved.

In other business, Campbell reported that he had received a letter from William S. Webster of the Federal Bureau of Investigation inviting Colorado City Police Chief Fred McWhorter to attend the National FBI Academy in Virginia in January.

There will be no cost to the city for McWhorter to attend the academy and Campbell noted that it was a "great honor."

The council voted to approve the 1979 tax roll, which reflects a four per cent increase over last year.

Also approved by the council was the proposal to advertise for bids on two new police cars for Colorado City, to replace two vehicles now in use.

In final business, Mayor Bassham read a letter from the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department, thanking the city for getting the fire department equipment back in service.

Colorado City Mayor Marion Bassham has issued an official proclamation regarding the Kiwanis Kid's Day to be held Sept. 23.

Plans for the Kiwanis Kid's Day are moving toward completion through the efforts of the local Kiwanis Club and local community leaders.

A full slate of activities have been planned, including a movie, a parade and a baseball game.

By unanimous approval, the commissioners decided to hire Adele Morgan as the new agent.

Mrs. Morgan is married to Dan Morgan who is formerly of Colorado City. His mother, Mrs. Ann Morgan, lives in Colorado City.

Mary Watson of the state extension service presented Mrs. Morgan to the commissioners Monday. She explained that Mrs. Morgan had three years experience in extension work as an agent.

A graduate of Texas Tech University, Mrs. Morgan has worked in Shelby County in Center as an agent for 16 months and is now working in the Tom Green County office, where she has been for the past two years.

Mrs. Morgan's employment as the Mitchell County agent will be effective Oct. 1.

Also meeting with the commissioners Monday was Noel Wofford of the 32nd Judicial District Adult Probation Department in Sweetwater.

Wofford reported that as of Sept. 1, adult probation has been handed on a state basis and not by judicial department, as was the practice in the past.

Texas now has a uniform adult probation system, Wofford explained.

"The closer we can work with people who have violated the law, the better results we will have," said Wofford.

Judge Bill Carter noted that there are 27 people on probation living in Mitchell County.

Wofford said that between 110-120 people are put on probation each year in Mitchell County.

Board Discusses Stadium Progress

Discussion of Wolf Stadium renovations took the spotlight at Monday's regular meeting of the Colorado Independent School Board of Trustees.

"I think we need to put a stop to it somewhere," said Board President Tom Rees in regard to the renovations.

It was noted that thus far, about $77,500 has been spent on repairing and remodeling the stadium.

The next project will be to lay a concrete slab on the east side of the stadium at the south end.

Board Member S. L. Mac Morris suggested that the board consider installing plumbing in the stadium before the concrete is laid. The plumbing will be for the future project of building restroom facilities and a concession stand.

"It's good to put these things in while we can," said Gene Blessingame, board member.

After some discussion, the board decided to continue with the current renovation plans but to stop with making further repairs when the concrete slab is laid across the top of the stadium. Although the board did not set a definite financial limit, the consensus was to keep the costs at about $80,000.

With school in its third week of session, the board voted to accept the resignation of one teacher and approve the applications of five teachers.

The resignation of Jan Cogburn, language learning disability teacher at Middle School, was accepted. Superintendent Charlie Uselton noted that Mrs. Cogburn's child was ill and required her care at home.

"Normally, I wouldn't recommend that a resignation be accepted at this late date, but considering the circumstances, I will make the recommendation," said Uselton.

The board approved the following teachers for the 1978-79 school year: Linda Stewart, second grade at Kelley Elementary; Frances Rundell, language learning disability at Hutchinson; Kathryn Landes, Plan A speech therapist, system wide; Deborah Magouirk, SEA math at Middle School, and Susan Garcia, first grade at Kelley.

Uselton explained that Mrs. Garcia of Sweetwater would be hired as an additional first grade teacher. Currently, there are five first grade classes with 28 students in each class. With the addition of Mrs. Garcia, the student/teacher ratio will be 23:1.

Originally, Uselton explained, five kindergarten classes were planned. However, four classes adequately met the demand but another teacher was needed for the first grade. Because it was expected that another teacher would be added in kindergarten, the salary was allocated in the budget. That salary will be used for Mrs. Garcia.

Noting that two vacancies remain in the CISD, Uselton said filling the language learning disability slot at Middle School "will be difficult." The other position is that of librarian at Middle School.

Considering bids on lease vehicles for the school system was carried out by the board.

Three bids were submitted—one from Hutchins Ford, one from Frank Motor Company and the third from Jay Adams Chevrolet.

The low bid—from Jay Adams was accepted unanimously.

Jay Adams will furnish the school with five vehicles for $90 per month for each vehicle. After 1,000 miles per month, the school will pay 8c per mile.

Updating the substitute teacher policy was acted on by the board Monday night.

Uselton explained that substitute teachers who do not have certification must be approved by the Texas Education Agency before they can be hired by the school system. Each principal is then supplied a list of names of qualified substitute teachers. Substitutes are paid $25 per day.

"We've been running short of substitutes this year," said Uselton.

In other business, the board discussed the tax relief bill which has been proposed in the state legislature. The bill states that the local fund assignment for CISD be increased $78,000. Those funds come from school district property values.

Uselton reported that the board has 30 days to protest these values.

After some discussion, the board decided that J. S. Craddock, school tax assessor-collector, and Uselton should meet with Pritchard and Abbott, the school consulting firm, to review the tax relief bill and decide if CISD should file a protest. Deadline for filing a protest is Sept. 31.

The board decided to accept bids for siding work to be done to Bus Supervisor Coy Adams' house.

Davila, Morgan Hired County Fills Vacant Slots

A county librarian and county extension agent were hired by the Mitchell County Commissioners in Monday's regular monthly session.

A 1972 Lorraine High School graduate, Miss Davila has worked five years at the library, presently serving as assistant librarian. Her certification as a librarian will be complete prior to December.

Rev. Roy Byrd, chairman of the Mitchell County Library Board presented Miss Davila's application to the commissioners.

"Mrs. Dozier highly recommends her," said Rev. Byrd.

By unanimous approval, Miss Davila's application was accepted. Gladys Oden will replace Miss Davila as assistant librarian.

KRISTI LEE MANOR NEWS

By Jewel Baird
Mrs. Emma Harkins and Johnny Anderson are back from the hospital and are improving some each day.

Alpha White has returned from a weeks vacation with her sister, Mary Humphrey. She enjoyed visiting the state of Colorado very much during her trip.

Lester Jarratt and Sister Jarratt have returned from a visit with his son and daughter in Fort Davis.

From The CMS Newsroom

Colorado Middle School Chatter

The Colorado Middle School 1978-79 year is off to a howling good start. Everyone is settling into their new schedule and looking forward to the challenge of new knowledge.

This summer the CMS twirlers went to Cisco Junior College for twirling camp. We worked hard and learned six new routines and some tricks. The camp director was Ken Sasser. Janice Kimmel from Colorado City was also one of the camp instructors.

We have been practicing all summer and are ready for pep rallies, parades and football games.

Janice Glasscock

The cheerleaders for CMS are Loretta Morris,

Mickie Palmer, Pam Wilson, Christina Castillo, Patricia Martinez and Robyn Turner. We have been busy practicing our cheers and chants.

We will be getting the spirit up for the fighting Wolves. Our first pep rally is today in Wolf gym so come on out and join us.

Pam Wilson

Now that school has started the football season is in full gear. Thirty-seven football players are excited and ready to give 100% to this season.

The first two weeks we have been working on basic fundamentals like blocking and form running and tackling. We have also been working successfully on some plays. We are improving and we are ready for Sweetwater.

Last Friday afternoon the 8th grade scrimmaged the 7th grade and our coaches said we looked good.

Tom Rees

This year's CMS Stage Band consists of 15 8th graders who are able to play more advanced music. This music is a mixture of jazz, rock and folk.

The songs we are playing are Food, Tuxedo Junction, Traces, Londonderry Air, and Lonesome Road Blues. The stage band plans to perform some of these numbers soon.

Kerry Spivey

The Middle School Jamborees had their first meeting Wednesday, Sept. 6. We went over rules and elected officers.

Teresa Gorham

The new officers for the year are Kerry Spivey, president; Pam Wilson, vice president; Sandy Castillo, secretary; and Teresa Gorham, reporter.

We also divided into committees. We will have a ribbon selling committee and a run-through sign committee.

If you want to see a bunch of spirited girls in red and black come on out and join the CMS Jamborees in cheering the Wolves to victory.

Mrs. Buddy Hertenberger is serving as the Middle School secretary. Her husband works for the Department of Public Safety. They have two children and a new 9-month-old grandson.

Mrs. Hertenberger graduated in Paducah, where her favorite subject was English grammar. She has been living in Colorado

City for the past 20 years and has been working with the school for the past 9 years.

She is a sports fan and likes football best. Glad to have you with us in Middle School.

Jamie Howell

Mrs. Vestal is also new with us this year. She is teaching Title I reading. Mrs. Martin is helping her and they both said they were enjoying their work.

Mrs. Vestal lives in Snyder with her husband and two children. Mrs. Vestal says she thinks the CMS students are friendly and that she is happy to be here.

Rosa Gonzales

Thoughts from the CMS Wolves of their first game: Stacey Tarter: "I'm just ready to play."

Tom Rees: "We will win you know."

Coach Zamarippa: "I'm looking forward to it and so are the boys. I'm anxious to see them in action and they are ready to play. The players go thru some warm-up drills and then down to good hard head knocking. If the players keep up the enthusiasm and spirit that they have shown these past few days I believe that they will do well against Roscoe."

Coach Gierhart: "I'm excited about not only our first game but our whole season. We have the possibility of having one of our best teams in the history of CMS. Our workouts have been concentrated on getting our base offense and defense on."

Good luck Middle School Wolves!

Diploma Awarded To Former LHS Student

Susan McCollum Hull, daughter of Joan and Weldon McCollum of Loraine, received her diploma from the Malone-Hogan School of Radiologic Technology at graduation ceremonies Aug. 26.

Ceremonies were held in the Brass Nail Banquet Room, after a buffet dinner for the four students and their guests. Approximately 100 guests attended the presentation dinner and reception.

Eddie Decker, Susan Hull, Michael Hutte and Janie McLaughlin were presented diplomas by the Radiology Department's Chief Technologist and chairman of the school's advisory board.

Dr. Buerk Williams, Chief Radiologist and director of the school, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison of Canyon. Mrs. Harrison was instrumental in setting up the teaching curriculum for the school during its inception three years ago, and titled her challenge to the graduating students "Today's Education for Tomorrow's Occupational Survival."

The students will take the National Registry examination in November in Dallas. Meanwhile they have already secured positions in their field. Janie, along with Eddie Decker, will remain as staff technologists at Malone-Hogan Hospital, and will serve as faculty members of the school. Susan Hull has accepted a position at West Texas Hospital in Lubbock and Hutto chose Flow Memorial Hospital in Denton.

Farm Tour Challenge To City Slicker

By PEGGY WILLIAMS
After living nine months in Mitchell County, you'd think by now I'd know the difference between a cotton crop and a patch of okra.

But I don't.
At least I didn't until Thursday when I attended the Annual Mitchell County Frm Tour.
Certainly I was a bit apprehensive when my boss, Mac McKinnon, informed me that I would be touring various farms in a bus Thursday. He slyly slapped a luncheon ticket in my palm, patted me on

Sweatt Injured Sunday

Sunday afternoon a Colorado City man was sent to Root Memorial Hospital as the result of a hunting accident.
Marcus Sweatt of 142 W. 8th was in the process of shooting at a dove on the Roy Sweatt farm, located north of Interstate 20, when the shotgun came apart at the breach.
Sweatt said that a shotgun shell had apparently been overloaded and caused too much pressure on the shotgun, causing it to blow up.
Although Sweatt was not shot, metal from the barrel of the gun shot apart and chopped up his ring finger and little finger on his right hand.
Sweatt said that his fingers were stitched on and doctors were keeping him in the hospital to guard against infection.

the back and returned to his office chuckling.
Born and raised in a city, outings like farm tours scare me. At least the first time.
I tried not to think about the first time I went to a livestock show in West-brook wearing sandals and had to squat down in the arena while I nervously focused my camera on a grunting boar.

Brothers Arrested For Burglary

Two Colorado City men were being held Monday at Mitchell County Jail for burglary.
According to a report by Mitchell County Sheriff Bill McGuire, at 8:30 a.m. Monday, a call was received to report an apparent burglary at Buford Co-Op Gin.
By 10 a.m., two brothers were under arrest, charged with the burglary.
Eusebio Gonzales, 18, and Johnny Gonzales, 22, both of Colorado City, were arrested. Justice of the Peace Mary Lee Moore set bond at $3,000 each.
The items stolen were recovered in Sweetwater, according to McGuire. Recovered items included an AC/DC heavy duty welder, 100' of leads, one Victor cutting torch, one barrel for the cutting torch, one Victor tip, 100' of hoses and one portable radio.
The burglary apparently occurred Saturday night.
Investigation in the case is continuing by Jim McGuire and Deputy Jim Reynaud.

Remembering that I survived the Westbrook Stock Show ordeal, I decided the farm tour wouldn't be so rough—at least the cotton wouldn't charge me, I hoped.
The night before the tour, I decided to study up on cotton by reading the program listing the various demonstrations. It seemed easy enough—all I would have to do was sit on a bus, look at what everyone else looked at and snap pictures when the sun was in the right position.
Standing in line at registration, I tried to understand what the farmers in front of me were discussing. The only rotation I was familiar with took place in a volleyball game.
Glancing down at my feet, I noticed I was wearing sandals again. Oh well, maybe no one would notice.
At that moment Mac appeared.
"Ready for the tour?" he asked brightly.
"Sure," I stammered, trying to cover my feet.
Mac apparently guessed my discomfort and said, "Not sandals again."
I blushed and he walked away laughing heartily.
As we boarded the buses, I decided to choose a seat next to someone who knew more about cotton than I did. That wasn't difficult.
At first I thought I'd pretend to be a cotton expert so I would be more easily accepted by my fellow bus buddies.
Sitting next to Travis Turner, I told him bluntly, "I know nothing about cotton."
For the remainder of the trip, I would count on Travis to fill me in on why some of the cotton had little flowers on the top, why some of it had cotton balls sprouting out (I quickly learned that they were not cotton balls at all but cotton seed) and how cotton seed is reused.

At the first demonstration—on the Don Latimer farm—we viewed maize growing. I was startled when I caught a glimpse of a man eating seeds from the maize, but Mildred Free assured me that it was all right and he would not die on the spot.
Stickers pricked at my feet as we trooped around the fields, but I didn't dare to emit a sound. As we once again boarded the bus, various tour participants were picking the grass burrs from my clothes.
After we stopped at a couple more demonstrations, I was beginning to feel more confident. The farmers on the tour were

Loraine Grocery Robbed

Green's Lil Souper in Loraine was hit by burglars Sunday night, according to a report by Mitchell County Sheriff's Deputy Mike Stutts.
About $900 in cash was stolen, $2,000 in personal checks, 15 Timex watches and some costume jewelry.
According to Stutts, entry was made through the back door of the grocery.
Investigation is continuing by Stutts.

being quite helpful, explaining various sites.
Then it came time to stop at the Custom Ag Service for watermelon. This I knew I could handle.
When we got inside, I carefully scouted the area for the tables and chairs. All I could see was a long table set up inside the barn.
Within a couple of minutes, I was standing over a cardboard box with a handful of other people, spitting seeds into the box.
I wiped my hands on my clothes and once again boarded the bus.
At the next stop, W. H. Redwine returned to the bus with a handful of cotton bolls which were infested with boll worms. Nine months ago, I would have screamed at the sight of a worm, but Thursday I was breaking the bolls open, carefully examining the crawling creatures. Then, in the fields I would scout out boll weevils and crunch them with my fingers.
As we travelled down the country roads, I asked Travis where you learn to be a farmer. If it was a correspondence course, I was going to enroll.
He informed me that farming is an inherited profession and the farmer usually learns his trade from his father.
"There's always things you think your dad does wrong, so you change them," said Travis, but

Reserves Stop Vehicle

By using a moving roadblock, Mitchell County Sheriff's Reserve Deputies were able to stop a car fleeing from Howard County Sunday morning.
According to reports, about 2 a.m. Sunday, Mitchell County Sheriff's Reserve Deputies Jimbo Stewart, Fred Petty and Bobby Sparks received a call that Howard County patrol units were chasing a car at a high rate of speed fleeing toward Mitchell County.
The Mitchell County officers were near the scene and stopped the car with a moving roadblock.
The suspect, a 26-year old female, had been travelling at speeds over 100 miles per hour since Coahoma. According to the Coahoma police chief, she was intoxicated and had nearly caused two wrecks before Mitchell County officers were able to subdue her.

value that the farmers do this. Rather, it depends on the contour of the land and it is referred to as terracing.
Conversation turned to estimating the number of cotton bales the county would produce.
"I'll guess about 200,000," I confidently stated.
When everyone laughed, I suspected I must be off by a couple of bales.
I listened carefully while the farmers made their estimations, taking an average in my head. I came up with 27,771.
As I stood at the edge of a cotton field on the last stop and looked out at the sea of flourishing green, I wondered why a simple airplane plant couldn't survive with my tender care.
When the bus pulled

4-H/FFA Meeting Today

The Mitchell County 4-H and Future Farmers of America Livestock Association meeting will be held today (Thursday) at 5:30 p.m.
Originally, the meeting was set for Tuesday, but due to scheduling conflicts, the group will meet tonight at the C. C. Thompson Meeting Room at City National Bank.

back into the Civic Center parking lot, I was sorry that the tour had ended. I wanted to see some more cotton, since I was now able to distinguish it from a patch of okra.

JV Beats Miles

The Loraine Junior Varsity football team stomped the Miles Bulldogs 36-0 Saturday morning at Johnson Field.
With 4:41 left in the first quarter, Loraine's Sophomore Quarterback Bobby Sanchez carried the ball over for six and Jerry Rose added the two extra points.
In the second quarter, Joe Barrera added the second touchdown and Nicolas Leija went over for two points making the score 16-0.
Leija scored again from a pass from Freshman Quarterback Stanley Taylor. Rose added the two extra points. Rose scored again on another pass from Taylor but the extra point attempt was no good.
Frank Sanchez took a pass from Taylor for the final touchdown, making the score 36-0.
Coach Ken Lightfoot commented, "It's fantastic. The boys were hustling and moving the ball."

PUBLIC NOTICE SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 7, 1978

"The Tax Relief Amendment" (H.J.R. 1)
H.J.R. 1 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing the legislature to exempt intangible personal property, requiring the legislature to exempt certain household goods and personal effects, and allowing the legislature to exempt all or part of the personal property homestead from state and local property taxation.
The amendment requires the legislature to provide for the taxation of farm and ranch land on the basis of its productive capacity instead of its market value and allows the legislature to provide for the taxation of timber land on its productive capacity.
The amendment permits local governments to extend the present exemption of not less than $3,000 of the residence homestead of persons 65 and older to include certain disabled persons.
The amendment grants an exemption from public school property taxes of $5,000 of the market value of the residence homestead. It authorizes the legislature to grant an additional exemption from public school property taxes of an amount not to exceed $10,000 of the market value of the residence homesteads of persons 65 years of age or older and certain disabled persons. If a person 65 years of age or older qualifies for this exemption, the total amount of public school taxes imposed on that person's homestead may not be increased.
The amendment prevents local governments from increasing property taxes unless the governing body provides public notice and conducts a public hearing. The amendment requires the legislature to provide by law for each property owner to receive notice of the reevaluation of his property and the amount taxes will be increased.

Handicapped Tourney Wraps Up Saturday

Handicapped by umbrellas, weighted boots and a bucket of bricks, several Mitchell County residents competed in the handicapped doubles tournament Saturday.

The women's teams were given the option of handicapping the men's teams by either having them carry an opened umbrella, a bucket of bricks or wearing a boot with ankle weights.

Each team competing played four games. Winners in the women's division were determined by the number of games won. In the men's division, places were determined by the number of games sacrificed.

First place in the women's division resulted in a tie between the teams of Kitten Arthur and Terre Bird and the team of Jo Damron and Diana Davenport, each copping 13 games.

A play off was held and the team of Arthur and Bird managed to score 102 points to take first place while the team of Damron and Davenport scored 100 points to nab second.

Third place went to the team of Lulu Turner and Gay Powell who won 10 games.

Seven games were captured by Janie Farda and Debbie Magouirk to take fourth place and fifth place went to Tammy Aguilon and Kara Lee McMillan when they won six games.

Sixth place resulted in a tie between Diane Kelly and Lisa Bobo and Hortense Neff and Nancy Hamner, who each won five games.

Donna Lain and Teresa Lain were seventh and Another tennis tournament is in the making, this one for mixed doubles teams.

The tournament is scheduled to be played Sept. 22-24 at the Colorado Middle School tennis courts. Deadline for entry is Sept. 21 (Thursday).

According to Tournament Director Coach Dave Redwine, there will be two divisions of play—novice and advanced.

"To have a division, we must have a minimum of eight teams," said Redwine.

Play will begin at 6 p.m. Sept. 22, since the Wolves' football team has an open game that night.

Entry fees are $4 per person and a can of new tennis balls per team. Participants must be residents of Mitchell County.

Redwine noted that a male and a female must play on each team. For more information, call Redwine at 728-3080 or Kitten Arthur at 728-5013 or go by the Middle School tennis courts.

When the 7th graders took the court, they played Sweetwater's 8th grade B-team, losing by 1-15 and 7-15. High point girl for the Wolves was Rhonda Rich with six points.

"The 8th grade surprised me," said Coach Linda Mathis, adding that they played extremely well for the first game. "They had good passes, sets and spikes."

Next, the 8th grade girls will meet Loraine Monday at 5 p.m. at Colorado City. The 7th graders will play against Big Spring Sept. 25 in Colorado City beginning at 5 p.m.

Loraine Examines Code

One of the main items of discussion at the Loraine Board of Trustee's meeting Monday evening was the school dress code.

A parent met with the board concerning Loraine's dress code. The board agreed the code should be reaffirmed and the administration would enforce the policy.

This code must apply equally to all, commented members of the board and should be enforced 100 percent.

James Clifton was elected delegate to attend the Texas Association of School Administrators and the Texas Association of School Board Convention in San Antonio Sept. 23-25. Hubert Meadows was elected alternate.

The board also discussed moving the tax office to the building formerly housing the barber shop. This will be completed later in the year.

Also discussed was requiring English IV for high school graduation. No immediate decision was made on this item.

The board approved the contract with Pritchard and Abbott for the 1979-80 biennium evaluation, the 1978 tax roll, the 1978 supplementary tax roll and discussed the market value and agricultural information from the School Tax Assessment Practices Board.

Wolves To Face Mustangs Friday

Colorado City's Wolves and Sweetwater's Mustangs will be looking for their first victory of the season when the two teams face each other at Wolf Stadium here Friday night.

Kick-off is set for 8 p.m. The two teams played tough defense in their opening game last week but both were edged out, the Wolves losing to Slaton 20-13 and Sweetwater being downed by Breckenridge 22-0.

Sweetwater has a big and strong team, said Wolves Coach Mike Farda. They held Breckenridge, the No. 1 ranked AA team in the state, to only six first downs, said Farda. The only way Breckenridge could score was on one long run, a fumble and when the ball was centered over the head of the Sweetwater punter.

Sweetwater has a senior team, much like the Wolves, although it is an inexperienced team, again much like the Wolves, said Farda. But the Mustangs are good and they really want a win over the Wolves, the Colorado City coach added.

Loraine To Play Miles

The Loraine Bulldogs will play Miles Friday night in Johnson Field.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. "Miles will be strong but we should beat them. Our boys are hustling," commented Coach Caddo Matthews at the Booster meeting.

About the Wolves, Farda said everyone seems to be in pretty good shape and players have a good attitude. Monday's 2 1/2 hour workout went well, Farda noted.

About the game with Slaton, Farda commented that he was disappointed with the lack of aggressiveness of the players on defense. "That's not like we play," he said.

Members & Guests Welcome

Ride a Mustang:

Colorado City's arch rival, the Sweetwater Mustangs, come to town Friday night.

The game starts at 8 p.m. at Wolf Stadium and, as always, you can expect a tough, hard hitting game when these two teams get together.

The annual Colorado City - Sweetwater contest goes back a long way and it is always a defensive game. Last week, Sweetwater limited Breckenridge, the number one AA team in the state, to only six first downs so you can see they are tough on defense again this year.

Our team is certainly no slouch on defense and we believe our offense will be in gear and challenge the strong Mustang defense.

Our Wolves showed last week that they play exciting football. They deserve our support. Let's all go out to the game Friday night and back our Wolves.

"Last year, using lignite coal saved Texas Electric's customers $48 million. It's a step in the right direction."

"Prior to 1972, Texas Electric made all your electricity by burning natural gas and oil. By last year, lignite coal had replaced gas as boiler fuel for about a third of this. In dollars and cents, here's what that meant to you, our customers:

The cost of lignite burned in 1977 was about $20.5 million. Had that same amount of electricity been generated using natural gas at then-current market prices, it would have cost $107.7 million. That's $87.2 million more than the lignite cost!

Even after deducting the annual cost of the new lignite plants, Texas Electric saved its customers $48.4 million last year because of the switch to lignite.

And that's just the beginning. As gas prices continue to rise, Texas Electric plans to become less and less dependent on this increasingly scarce fuel. By 1983, lignite coal and nuclear-fueled plants are scheduled to provide more than half of our customers' electricity.

It gets harder all the time to provide dependable, economical electricity. But this has always been Texas Electric's goal. And it always will be."

B. B. HARDEE, Manager, Phone 728-2331

Texas Electric Engineer Damon Holditch: "We burn 55 pounds of lignite to generate the electricity to run a three-ton air conditioner for a day."
