

Russians Try To Block Tests

Unpoliced Ban Urged

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union launched a series of diplomatic maneuvers today in an attempt to block the American atmospheric nuclear weapons tests due soon in the Pacific.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin called in the 17-nation disarmament conference for an unpoliced moratorium on testing—a move firmly resisted by the American ambassador.

Zorin demanded that the United States promise to refrain from conducting shots over the Easter holiday weekend. He declared the Soviet Union would not agree to a recess of the conference unless such a promise was received.

The American tests would start this weekend. Westerners speculated that the first shot in the projected Christmas Island series was at least seven days away.

In a long session of the conference, U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and British Minister of State Joseph Godber insisted there was no change in the Western position. Simply stated it is this:

The United States tests will take place as planned unless the Soviet Union quickly accepts a test ban treaty with international control arrangements. In Washington and London, President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan have said the same thing.

Zorin repeated that the Kremlin never would accept international control.

The American and British said they also would be willing to use the neutralist proposal for negotiating purposes provided the Soviets accepted the concept of scientifically sound international enforcement.

The American and British delegations said they, too, were willing to negotiate on the neutralist plan if the Soviet Union would accept the principle of an international control system and of on-site inspections.

The plan was submitted three days ago by the eight nonaligned countries at the conference—all, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and the United Arab Republic.

The eight countries tried to hide the differences on inspection and control dividing the Soviet Union from the United States and Britain.

Dean said the Soviets "are accepting what is in their favor but rejecting what they are opposed to."

The Soviet Union is ready to stop tests if the Western powers do, Zorin said. He claimed that fruitful negotiations can not be carried out in Geneva if tests are going on.

The Soviet move came less than 24 hours after President Kennedy said a Washington news conference that the United States intends to proceed with the tests in the Christmas and Johnston Island areas. Only a change of view by the Kremlin can alter this situation and there is yet no doubt that it is about to do this, the President explained.

Dallas Plane Crash Claims 3rd Victim

DALLAS (AP)—A third man died today of burns suffered as a twin-engine plane crashed while taking off for a test flight.

Witnesses saw the blue and white D2, of World War II vintage, stall about 200 feet off the ground and plunge in flames at Love Field, the Dallas airport, late Wednesday.

The explosive crash killed Paul Misonneive, 40, pilot and maintenance chief for Purdue Aeronautics Corp. in Lafayette, Ind., and Tom Copburn, an electrical Dallas Aero Service.

Arthur Mitchell, 29, radio and radar technician for Dallas Aero, died this morning.

One of the first persons to reach the wreckage, Julius Hudson, said the plane was in the air for about 10 minutes before it crashed.

Hudson, owner of a charter plane service and an ex-Air Force pilot, suffered slight burns on his left arm.

An unemployed Negro who lives adjacent to the field, John Phouts, 19, and Hudson reached the burning plane together.

CANDIDATE'S WIFE HONORED—Mrs. John Connally, center, was honored this morning at a coffee given by local supporters of her husband's candidacy for nomination for governor. With Mrs. Connally are Mrs. Frank Wilson, wife of Scurry County's Democratic chairman; Mrs. Renal Rosson, wife of state representative Rena Rosson; Mrs. J. Ray Martin, wife of the Scurry County judge; and Mrs. Merrill Connally, sister-in-law of the honoree.

14 Dead In New Algiers Terrorism

ALGIERS (AP)—Fourteen persons were killed and eight wounded today in a new wave of Secret Army Organization terrorism in Algiers.

The terrorists struck in rapid succession in Algiers and its suburbs while top military and civil authorities were meeting in nearby Rocher Noir to discuss means of re-establishing order in Algeria's major cities.

Most of the victims of today's killings were Moslems. In one secret army commando raid, three Moslems were shot to death and another wounded in an open air fruit and vegetable market in the center of Algiers' European quarter.

The other attacks were scattered through greater Algiers.

Two powerful explosions wrecked government tax offices in downtown Algiers. Fire followed the blasts and damaged or destroyed files. No injuries were reported. The secret army opposed to Europeans paying taxes to the government and has set up a collection system of its own.

The secret army seeks to maintain French rule in Algeria.

Louis Joxe, Algerian affairs minister, called together top officials to discuss the maintenance of order in the big cities.

Major preoccupation of authorities is the right-wing secret army faction in Oran. A showdown between French forces and secret army terrorists is expected there soon.

At least eighteen persons were killed and 18 wounded. In terrorist actions Wednesday in Algeria's major cities. Most of the victims were Moslems.

PARIS (AP)—A company of security police, about 200 men, was dispatched today to Algiers by air. Wednesday, a company of riot police was sent to Oran, a second center of activity by the secret army.

Texas Solons Have Bills To Curb Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fourteen Texans were among the 32 congressmen proposing legislation today on imports of crude oil and petroleum products.

The 32 introduced identical bills calling for limits of not more than 14 per cent on domestic production for a basic period to be picked by the president.

One section provides for imports of residual oil used for fuel to be held to a level which, coupled with domestic production, would meet the nation's needs.

Supplies for vessels or aircraft would be excluded. National requirements would be determined by the availability of domestic fuels and an average level of imports during a basic period selected by the president.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America recently urged passage of legislation to restrict imports of crude oil and most of its derivatives to 14 per cent of domestic production.

Texas offering the bills were Reps. Lindley Beckworth, Omar Burleson, Bob Casey, Henry Gonzalez, Joe Kilgore, George Mahon, Graham Parrell, Ray Roberts, Walter Rogers, J. P. Rutherford, Olin Teague, Clark Thompson, Jim Wright and Jim Young.

Jacobs Not Testifying

LUBBOCK (AP)—A former Agriculture Department employee has decided not to testify in a court of inquiry probing the affairs of financier Billie Sol Estes, Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said today.

Wilson was here for the fifth in a series of hearings on the complex dealings of Estes, who turned over his enterprises to a court receiver after being indicted on a federal charge of fraud.

The attorney general said E. E. Jacobs, who quit a $16,350-a-year Washington job in the department because earlier testimony linked him with Estes, telegraphed he could not appear at a similar session in Dallas tomorrow because of "a conflict of engagements."

Wilson said Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman advised that James T. Ralsh, a former official under Freeman now training for a State Department post in the Philippines, was en route to Dallas.

Concerning Jacobs, Wilson said: "I can't imagine what kind of engagement he has that he can't come down and testify about his own integrity. . . I renew my invitation for him to be here Friday and suggest to him that whatever engagement he has, this ought to take precedence."

Store clerks testified in Dallas last week that Jacobs bought two $245 suits and other items while shopping with Estes in the fall. They said the two men went into a fitting room alone and Jacobs had cash to pay for $615 in clothing as he and Estes reappeared.

Jacobs said as he resigned a day later that he was innocent of any wrongdoing and wanted to appear as a witness in Texas.

Jack Price Jr., one of Wilson's aides, said the Lubbock court inquiry would go into Estes' multi-million-dollar business of storing government grain primarily "but we may get into some other areas too."

Witnesses subpoenaed to appear here included employees of Coleman McSpadden, one of three men indicted with Estes on charges of conspiring to bilk lenders through fraudulent mortgages. In most cases the loans were on tanks for anhydrous ammonia, a liquid fertilizer on which some former associates accuse Estes of trying to corner the market by selling below cost.

Ranger Shot Is Due Soon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The moon moves into a favorable position next week and the United States is ready to launch a gold-and-chrome-plated Ranger 4 spacecraft toward it to take closeup television pictures and record moonquakes.

Scientists hope that modifications made in the booster rocket and spacecraft will eliminate previous troubles.

A similar payload, Ranger 2, missed the moon by 22,882 miles Jan. 18 after a guidance malfunction resulted in excess speed by the Atlas-Agena B rocket. And a circuitry error prevented the camera aboard Ranger 3 from snapping lunar pictures when the payload reached its nearest point to the moon before zipping past and into orbit about the sun.

Monday is the first day of four days when the moon—about 230,000 miles away—will be in a desirable position for the launching.

More Entries In Friendly Campaign

More nominees have been submitted in the campaign to name the "friendliest, most courteous" employes in Snyder.

Votes may be cast on the official ballot which is published daily in The Snyder Daily News. And, of course, when a ballot arrives for a person not previously nominated, he or she automatically gets into the race.

Readers are reminded that the rules of the campaign specifically exclude owners and managers of business firms. The campaign is for employes only. Some owners and managers have been listed on ballots, and in obedience to the rules, they are not included on the official list.

The latest nominees include the following: "friendliest, most courteous" woman employe and the "friendliest, most courteous" man employe each will receive a $50 savings bond.

The latest nominees include the following: Muggie Brown, Williams Jewelry; Cleo Caperton, Stevenson's Cash Food; Mabel Covey, Geneva Duke, Village Restaurant; Grady Erwin, Barrow Furniture Co.; Haskell Francis, Stevenson's Cash Food; Katherine Hardgrave, Anthony's; Orsina Jeffress, Norge Cleaning Village; Judy Lockhart, Whitfield's 5 & 10; Vida McCune, Piggy Wiggy; Judy Richardson, McCuskey. In Snyder, Mary Starnes, Penney's; L. A. Scott, Lieb's; Velma Smith, Snyder Drug; Helen Trammell, Ben Franklin's 5 & 10; Barbara Thornburg, Ben Franklin's 5 & 10; Jeanette Way, Whitfield's 5 & 10; Melvin Way, Dicus Standard Station.

Pandas To Replace Jackie's Tigers

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy is going to get two rare baby pandas to replace the two tiger cubs that died after they were presented to her during her visit to India.

The pandas, natives of the Himalayas, are difficult to locate but two have been found.

Because they must be brought down gradually to sea level, two from the zoo in Hamburg, West Germany, will be sent to Mrs. Kennedy in three or four weeks.

U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith said today. The two that have been captured in the Himalayas will be sent to Hamburg.

Tshombe Back In Katanga

BY ADRIAN PORZEN
ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe flew into Elisabethville today after U.N. soldiers with fixed bayonets deployed against Congo government troops who had prevented his departure from Leopoldville.

"We must pay tribute to the United Nations for all they have done for my protection and for the protection of my colleagues," the Katangan president told a crowd of 5,000 as he landed here in a U.N. chartered plane.

The secessionist president had been in Leopoldville for more than a month for unity talks with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula. He started to return to his capital Wednesday.

Congo authorities ordered fire trucks to block the runway as his U.N. plane was ready to take off and prevented his departure.

Tshombe and 22 other passengers remained in the plane despite the steaming temperature, while U.N. officials tried to iron out the situation.

Robert Gardiner, U.N. operations chief in the Congo, finally gave the order to U.N. Nigerian troops to clear the runway and permit Tshombe to leave.

The United Nations had guaranteed Tshombe's safety and his freedom to return to his capital if he would go to Leopoldville to discuss conditions for ending the secession of Katanga.

Eyewitnesses said Nigerian troops with bayonets ran to positions surrounding the runway on Gardiner's order, and jeeps raced up and down. Congolese soldiers finally gave way.

Gardiner said that while waiting to take off, Tshombe still talked of returning to Leopoldville for further negotiations.

To the cheering crowd in Elisabethville's main square, however, Tshombe spoke bitterly of the Adoula government, and praised the United Nations.

"Adoula and I have not had one real meeting yet," Tshombe said, charging that the central government acted in bad faith and had no thought of real negotiations. But he said he would meet with his cabinet in an effort to contrive a new approach to negotiations.

In leaving Leopoldville, Tshombe said he was coming to Elisabethville merely for an Easter visit.

Ex-Solon Summers Dies Today At 87

DALLAS (AP)—Former Rep. Hatton W. Summers, who represented the Dallas district for many years, died today. He was long-time chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. He was 87. Death came from a heart condition.

Summers died at St. Paul's Hospital. Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Anny Norton of Dallas and Mrs. Willis Davis of Atlanta, Ga. Summers was in congress for 24 years until his retirement in 1946.

He was admitted to the hospital at 11:15 p.m. Wednesday and died today at 7:30 a.m. After he ended his service in Washington, he was active in private life, and was outspoken against what he called the over-centralization of the federal government.

New Argentine Crisis Flares

By ISAAC A. LEVI
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Battle-equipped troops deployed through Buenos Aires today as a new Argentine crisis flared between President Jose Maria Guido and the military leaders who put him into office three weeks ago.

Soldiers and national policemen were posted at key points in the capital to guard against Peronist disturbances as the military chiefs, pressed Guido's government to lead the followers of ex-Dictator Juan Peron from politics once again. An estimated 5,000 more troops were summoned from the provinces to Buenos Aires.

Guido was reported standing firm against the military demand, but his new government began to waver under the same pressures the military put on President Arturo Frondizi before ousting him last month.

Interior Minister Rodolfo Martinez resigned and charged the government was planning to defy the constitution by taking over the provincial governments. Labor Minister Oscar Gulgorra hinted he might resign.

The military federal intervention in the 17 provinces and under local control replacing their elected governors with federal appointees approved by the military.

Informed sources said Guido turned down the military's demands in a 90-minute meeting Wednesday night with the three military secretaries, the army's Gen. Raul A. Poggi, the navy's Rear Adm. Gaston Clement and the air force's Brig. Jorge Rojas Sivera.

The military chiefs demanded that Guido order the military federal intervention in the 17 provinces and under local control replacing their elected governors with federal appointees approved by the military.

Monday the March 18 elections in which the Peronists drew more than 2.5 million votes, elected Peronist leaders to more provincial seats and 45 seats in the national Chamber of Deputies.

Once again ban Peronists and their allies, including the Communists, from political activity; and 4. Scrap labor legislation the military considers too favorable to the Peronist unions.

After the meeting with Guido, the service secretaries met for three hours with their top commanders. They were reported demanding that Guido order the military federal intervention in the 17 provinces and under local control replacing their elected governors with federal appointees approved by the military.

TOWERING SYMBOL OF ENERGY
The towering "Space Needle" at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair symbolizes a new era of progress for man in space.
The 60-story needle, topped by a 40-foot torch of natural gas, also symbolizes an era of energy: energy which increasingly in recent years has given impetus to the economy of the Pacific Northwest, California, and other states of the West, served by El Paso Natural Gas Company.
Millions of visitors to the Seattle Fair will see, during the next six months, what has been described as "the most extensive scientific display ever assembled."
More than that, they will visit—many of them for the first time—one of the nation's vital economic frontiers: a growing, vibrant, northwestern region, attracting new business and new industries, a land of the future.
The record total of more than 1.34 trillion cubic feet of natural gas delivered to the markets by El Paso's 18,000 miles of pipelines in 1961 is the equivalent of more than 10 times the electric power energy delivered by all the federally financed electric power generators (including the Bonneville Power Administration and Hoover Dam) in the 11 western states served by El Paso.

'Our Risen Lord' Presented By Mrs. Moore At Meeting

The April meeting of St. John's Episcopal Churchwomen was held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Hart. The devotion "Easter" was presented by Mrs. Maurice Kingsbery. The program entitled "Our Risen Lord" was presented by Mrs. Moore.

The text of Mrs. Moore's report was from the book "The Days of Our Life" by Francis L. Wheeler. "Our Lord's body which has been, and still is, the perfect instrument of the divine will, is held helpless on the Cross. The hands which have blessed and healed, the feet which have been swift and tireless to preach the glad tidings of the gospel of peace are fastened by the nails to the Cross. The voice of truth is to be silenced. Presently the very heart of Jesus, the furnace of love towards God his Father, and towards men his brothers, will be pierced by the spear. Evil could not injure the citadel of Christ's humanity from within; all it can do is to seek to destroy it from without. Christ yields up his body to repair the insults to the divine Majesty. Six nails him to the tree.

"Throughout his passion Christ's will has been unflinchingly united to that of his Father. Now that his mission has been accomplished, from the pit of indescribable suffering, by a free and final act of will, he surrenders his soul to his Father, and so dies. The only offering completely worthy of God is consumed; the only sacrifice which could redeem the world and sanctify human souls is fulfilled. For by one offering he has perfected for ever those that are sanctified, and again, who made there a full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction for the sins of the whole world.

"We belong to him, not only through our creation by and for him, but now also by redemption. By his blood, he has paid the cost of drawing us out of the shadow of death. Everything in Jesus is of infinite value, since he is both God and man. It was by the Cross that he promised to draw all men to himself. He wished to manifest beyond all doubt the extent of his love for us. Therefore he suffered the whole of his passion, the Cross, the shedding of his blood to the last drop when his heart was pierced. The immensity of God's love is manifested in the completeness of the sacrifice.

"Although the Cross is at the center of Christian life, grim and uncompromising, the symbol of obedience, sacrifice, and self-denial, it is through the figure nailed thereon that life and grace pour out, making glad the city of God, through him the instrument of fortune and death becomes, an instrument of life and hope, through him it becomes a tree of life, a noble tree, a tree of glory, a tree of peerless and unlimited fruit, the one source of virtue for the saint and pardon for the penitent.

"Christ did not redeem us by his death alone, but by the whole of his incarnate life. He lived as well as died for us. The sacrifice of Calvary was the culmination of a long chain of sacrifice offered by him on our behalf, through the whole of his human life. Similarly we are not to regard the last part of Holy Week, the events of the Passion, as completely separate from the Resurrection. We have been taught that Christ is like unto us in all things, sin alone excepted. His body was subject to natural laws; he knew an infant's weakness; he was hungry, thirsty, weary. He knew sadness, disappointment, fear, anguish of mind. He endured the physical torments of the Passion as would any other man, and finally he died.

"Now he is risen from the dead, but not as a spirit, with a simulated human body; his risen body is that which was born of Mary, which walked the streets and lanes of Palestine, which had lain inert and lifeless in the tomb. Jesus is careful to impress the fact upon his disciples; "See my hands and my feet, that I am I myself; for a spirit hath no flesh and bones as ye see me have. It is to confirm the reality of his Resurrection that on other occasions he eats with the disciples, rather than that he has need of food.

"Having freely submitted to death on the Cross, he has gained the victory over death. We know that the Resurrection was the triumph of life over death, the supreme quality of holiness. More accurately he is holiness, for holiness is "being set apart"—a separation from all that is evil, and a detachment from creatures and things, and wholeness—an enduring, complete total belonging to God.

"Yet on his glorified and immortal body, independent of creaturely existence, Christ still retains the marks of the nails and the spear. Why? Perhaps because they are no longer emblems of suffering and humiliation, but badges of victory. Surely also to remind his disciples (and us) that he passed to the glory of his Resurrection and merited for men a share in the Resurrection life. All Christian worship is but a continuous celebration of Easter; the sun rising and setting daily, leaves in its wake an uninterrupted series of Eucharists."

Mrs. J. Mark McLaughlin, president, presided over a short business meeting. Coffee and homemade cookies was served by the hostess from a table carrying out the Easter theme.

Those attending were Meses. B. A. Belknap, John Best, T. A. Burke, Castis Fletcher, J. E. Green, Maurice Kingsbery, Bill Line, C. J. McCaleb, Jr., Jim Norred, Scott Patterson, Charles Sutton and Royal Haggerty.

When you buy or are given a corsage, be sure you wear it properly. The stems should always point down and the flowers up, the way they grow. They'll look prettier that way.

Kids Never Out Of Style

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP News-Feature Writer

NEW YORK — A year usually lapses before grown-up styles influence children's wear. But the tables are turned. Recently toddlers have been leading the way.

Take the military influence, which youngsters have been doing this year—right along with the adult fashion intellectuals.

Kids have never really needed a Norman Norell to tell them that navy is very good, and especially when crisply tailored and trimmed with brass buttons and touches of red.

Mothers have been slipping this classic coat style on and off well-scrubbed youngsters for several generations. The only real difference in it this year is the extreme brevity, a European influence which gives the little wearers a leggy look.

Take capes, which women have been taking in especially large doses for the past few seasons. The wee ones have always enjoyed wearing them. Remember Little Red Riding Hood?

Take the feminine look which Paris and Seventh Avenue have been making the most of by means of ruffles and ribbons and laces and embroideries and pastel confection. These are things that little girl fashions have always been made of.

To be true at times little girl apparel has borrowed A-lines, T-line, sacks and chemises from big girl couture. But there has never been a season when there was not also an abundance of padded sleeves and pinafores, smocked and embroidered yokes, appliques, laces and ribbons and ruffles galore.

Both the big boys and the little boys are applauding the equal distribution of fashion femininity this season, for it is appealing on any sized girl.

The stem length is of prime importance in arranging flowers. We offer this advice: When using a tall container, the longest flower stems should be one and one-half to two times its height. For a low container, the longest stems should be about one and one-half or twice the diameter. The other flowers should have shorter stems of varying lengths. The largest and darkest flowers should always have the shortest stems, for they appear heaviest in the arrangement.

REUNION OF FORMER SOLONS—Gov. Price Daniel's appearance here Wednesday provided an opportunity for three former members of the Texas Legislature to reminisce. Harold Lack, left, Snyder Chamber of Commerce President, is an interested bystander as Gov. Daniel, District Judge Sterling Williams and Claude Callaway of Crowell confer. The latter were colleagues in the legislature several years ago.

Men's Styles Reflect Mood Of Times

By LEE LINDER
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Men's fashions have no Dior. There may be style influence from Rome or Paris—but no trend-setting individual designers like those who dictate the fashion line for the world's women.
And, unlike women's fashions, clothes for men undergo no jolting changes.
New styles in men's clothing result through evolution, not revolution. Changes from season to season average only fractions of an inch.
Why?
Robert Well, president of the International Association of Clothing Designers and chief designer together for After Six Formals of Philadelphia, says, "Men are adverse to violent changes in clothes, whereas women crave it. Men do not want to be conspicuous. Of course, there are exceptions. But generally men want to be identified by groups."
Twice a year, the association, with headquarters in Philadelphia, makes its style predictions. Latest one: The double-breasted suit is coming back. It was last big in the 1940s.
"There is a very close relationship between the style of men's clothing and the mood of the time," Well points out.
"With the advent of the jet airplane, the mood of the times is one of conservatism. Men are more conservative in their clothing than they were during the 1940s and 1950s."
The mood of the times is one of conservatism. Men are more conservative in their clothing than they were during the 1940s and 1950s.

"We try to stay away now from anything frilly or fancy."
"The latest style is the uncluttered, slim-line look. It reflects the serious mood of the time."
But he emphasizes the final decision is made by the consuming public.
A manufacturer who makes at least 10 per cent of his total production in one style considers it a big seller.
Sometimes a name sells a style, says Well, like "Ivy" or "Continental."
Most manufacturers produce many alternatives because the man likes to choose.
Today's trend is two-button and one-button jackets with increased emphasis on the double-breasted, all slimmer-down through the shoulders and in the lapels.
Trousers, too, are trim and tapered, some with single pleats.
And, coming back into favor, are vests.
Well predicts that by 1965 more one-button and two-button jackets will be sold than three-button, still the big favorite today.
Suit colors? More brown, in solids and plaids, is forecast.
Dark colors are still the mode but Well says shades are lightening.

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

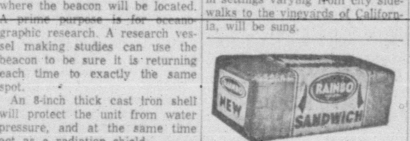

9:00 CBS "Reports" presents a timely tribute and explanation of the tax system to the more than 75,000,000 American wage earners who comprise the most generous source of income in the history of civilization. This is the second of the two-part series and will feature Vincent Sardi Jr., proprietor of Sardi's restaurant in New York City. Tonight's discussion is labeled "The Taxed American-hoop-holes of '62".
OTHER HIGHLIGHTS
6:30 NBC "Outlaws", Judy Lewis stars in the title role of "The Connie Masters Story". In this episode, outlaw Jack Masters (Cliff Robertson), Connie's former husband, promises to reunite her with her son if she will help him rob the express office where she works.
6:30 CBS "Oh, Those Bells!" The Bell brothers are forced to match wits with a smooching landlady and an amateur detective when they try to keep secret the fact that a monkey is staying in their apartment. Rita Shaw and Harold Peary are featured.
7:00 CBS "Frontier Circus", Because it adheres strictly to a policy of pacifistic defeatism, the Duncanite religious sect is being destroyed by the town tyrant so a boy defies his elders' rigid morality and tries to start a new life with the circus.
8:30 NBC "Hazel" fears hollid buying charges when high spirited neighbors not only volunteer their house as a polling place for a school bond proposal she favors but mail engraved invitations and supply caterers and a string quartet.
8:30 CBS "Zane Grey Theatre", David Niven, noted for his deft performances in numerous motion picture hits, stars as a meek and mid-mannered book peddler who is called upon to outwit a gang of killers.
9:00 NBC "Sing Along with Mitch", Old favorites, presented in settings varying from city sidewalks to the vineyards of California, will be sung.

Deepsea Nuclear System Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is planning a navigational beacon, powered by atomic energy, at the bottom of the sea.
The Atomic Energy Commission announced Wednesday award of a $60,000 contract to the Martin Co. of Baltimore for development of a deepsea nuclear generator, an energy storage system and a launch and recovery system.
The Atomic Energy Commission announced Wednesday award of a $60,000 contract to the Martin Co. of Baltimore for development of a deepsea nuclear generator, an energy storage system and a launch and recovery system.
The announcement did not say where the beacon will be located. A prime purpose is for oceanographic research. A research vessel making studies can use the beacon to be sure it is returning each time to exactly the same spot.

New Hope For Heart Attack Victims

By The Associated Press
Medical research reports offered new hopes today for male heart attack victims and babies born with imperable heart conditions.

Dr. Jeremiah Stamler and associates of Chicago told a symposium on coronary heart disease in Philadelphia Wednesday that female sex hormones apparently can give many men extra years of life after a heart attack.

At the same time, in St. Louis, four Stanford University surgeons reported a giant step forward toward heart surgery outside the body, which they said they believe might help many of the 15,000 babies born annually in the United States with imperable heart conditions.

Stamler told the Hahnemann Medical College symposium that he used a preparation of natural, mixed female hormones, or estrogens, in a five-year study among 275 middle-aged men.

He said that among men who suffered a single, uncomplicated heart attack, only seven per cent taking the hormone died within five years, compared with 17 per cent not treated. Statistically, he said, this represented a reduction of 59 per cent in the mortality rate.

In St. Louis, the Stanford surgeons said they had removed dogs' hearts for as long as two hours, then replaced them without apparent harm to the animals. "So far the experiments have been successfully carried out on four dogs, which are still alive from five to nine months after the operations," the surgeons told the annual meeting of the American Thoracic Society. The report, presented by Dr. Edward J. Hurley, said the technique may be the first step toward operations in which a patient's heart is cut out of his body to correct serious heart defects.

Stamler, director of the Chicago Board of Health's heart disease control, said female hormone was used because women seem to have an inbuilt resistance to coronary arteries, at least until after menopause when their production of female hormone declines. He said the hormone (trade name Premarin) produced feminizing effects in the men, such as breast enlargement, and made some of them impotent but it did not harm their health.

Adair Rites Set Sunday

House Approves Military Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has unanimously approved the nation's biggest peacetime military budget—a hefty $47.8 billion for the next fiscal year.

The appropriation bill was approved 385-0 in a roll-call vote

Wednesday and sent to the Senate. The money bill, $97.5 million less than Kennedy had requested, continues to emphasize a buildup of conventional ground forces and weapons capable of fighting limited as well as global wars.

The bill earmarks 18 per cent of the money for such items as six more Polaris firing nuclear submarines and 200 more Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles. The bill is $1.3 billion more than Congress approved last year. The new measure is for fighting forces and military hardware. Still to come are appropriations for military construction, civil defense and military assistance abroad.

In recent years the Senate generally has been more liberal than the House, and even the administration, with the Pentagon's purse strings. So the final figure could be even higher.

The House version would support 2,683,881 active military personnel and reserve forces of 1,035,501.

The House voted more than was asked for Army Reserve and National Guard forces, but the action would not prevent Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara from going ahead with his proposal to trim these forces by $3,000. The House measure would also give McNamara virtually a free hand to continue the controversial RS70 bomber program at the current cautious rate, or to use additional millions provided to expedite radar research if his experts recommend it.

NTSU Exes To Organize

Snyder-area residents interested in the formation of North Texas State University Ex-Student organization have been asked to contact Harrel McKinzie, 500 Thirty-fourth Street, or call HL 3-8947, before May 1.

Plans are being made for a dinner to commemorate University Day on May 8, as the first meeting. McKinzie has asked to those who can help with arranging for the dinner and are interested in joining the organization to contact him. He also has asked that interested persons help locate and inform other NTSU exes about the dinner.

Bus Line Explains Decision To Quit

VINCENNES, Ind. (AP)—Ed C. O'Neal, secretary-treasurer of Washburn-Cochran Lines, gave this explanation Wednesday for the firm's decision to discontinue Vincennes' three city buses, May 31: "Even the people who come to the township trustee's office for surplus food come in cars."

Parking Problem Gets Consideration

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—The City Council has voted to give serious consideration to Milo Yoder's parking problem. Yoder, a resident of the nearby Ames community of Ekalona, wrote the council recently complaining that when he made a trip to town he always had difficulty finding a hitching post.

Thinclads In Mustang Meet At Andrews

Snyder's track Tigers will be in Andrews Friday for competition in the one-day Mustang Relays, with preliminaries slated to begin at high noon and finals in the early evening.

The past Saturday saw the local athletes of Coach Dutch Stebbins losing out in their quest for a third straight Region 1 title. They finished fifth among a close-knit field with 51 points. Lamesa nabbed the crown—its first regional title in history—with 62 total points.

The Tigers qualified a relay team and two individuals for Austin's state meet May 4, however. The 440-yard foursome composed of Bax Callaway, Jimmy Taylor, Gail Read and Mike Morris scored a victory in the time of 43.2, while Morris was second in the 100-yard dash to qualify there and Bill Weaver runnerup in the shot put event to gain state meet entrance in that field of endeavor.

Neither Callaway nor Morris will be running at Andrews. Two divisions of competition will be offered in tomorrow's Mustang Relays—one for schools of class 4A and 5A designation and the other for classes 2A, A, and B. Fort Stockton, a 2A power, may compete in the upper division, though.

Following is a rundown on the events and Tigers slated to take part in each:

440-yard relay—Jackie Wasson, Jimmy Taylor, Gail Read, Tim Hardin.

800-yard run—Mike Mayo, Fred Sanger.

High hurdles—Taylor, Jimmy Wilson.

100-yard dash—Wasson.

440-yard dash—Hardin.

Low hurdles—Read, Taylor, Wilson.

1-mile run—John East, Charles Alexander.

220-yard dash—Wasson.

1-mile relay—Read, Sanger, Hardin Mayo.

Broad jump—Taylor.

Pole vault—Darrel Aldridge.

Shot put—Bill Weaver.

Musial 'Might Try It Again' In 1963

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Aging Stan Musial was almost apologetic about it.

"I guess Stan Musial admitted when asked whether his blistering start may prompt him to try it again in 1963. "I told John (St. Louis manager Johnny Keane) I wanted to play just this one more. But I think he knows if I had a

Brilliant Light Seen
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—A dazzling multicolored light, apparently from an exploding meteor, flashed across the sky from Kansas to Northern California Wednesday night.

The light was so brilliant that street lamps in Eureka, Utah, operated by a photoelectric system—went off momentarily, just as they do automatically at daybreak.

Many people reported hearing what sounded like an explosion as the fireball vanished.

Dr. Robert Kadetsch, associate professor of physics at the University of Utah, said it apparently was a bolide, or exploding meteor.

"It probably exploded 50 to 60 miles in the atmosphere or perhaps a little lower," Dr. Kadetsch said.

McKinley Choice To Reach Finals
DALLAS (AP)—Chuck McKinley of Trinity University, a member of the Davis Cup team, appears to have the best chance of reaching the finals of the Dallas Country Club Invitation Tennis Tournament starting today.

But Whitney Reed, the nation's No. 1 amateur, gets the top seed although he must move aside the likes of Ham Richardson, Vic Seixas and Antonio Palafox.

Reed, from Alameda, Calif., plays young Cliff Bucholz of Trinity in the opening round.

McKinley, the second seeded player, may find only one strong competitor in his drive to the finals—Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn. The Trinity ace plays Mike Arnis of Dallas in the opening round.

There are 16 players in the tournament.

Diamondmen In Lamesa For 3-3A Tilt

Following Tuesday's opening heartbreaker loss to Colorado City, Snyder's Tigers will be attempting to rebound at Lobo Park in Lamesa Friday in another District 3-AAA contest.

The holiday game time has been set for 2 p.m.

Snyder dropped its opening tilt to the Wolves by a narrow 2-1, while Lamesa got off on the right foot the same day with an equally slim 14-13 victory over Sweetwater. Lamesa survived bi-district and regional play in 1961, being beaten out in the state tournament in Austin. The Tornados emerged as 3-AAA representatives when they dropped ex-champ Snyder in a post-season series.

Coach Speedy Moffett has granted senior righthander Freddy Miller the starting nod for tomorrow's battle. At 2-4, he sports the best win-loss mark of any hurler on the staff.

For the season, the Snyder club has a record of 5-13, while Lamesa is 5-5.

A couple of changes will be evident in the Tigers' starting lineup. Kenny Wellborn will take over at first in order for Miller to tend to pitching chores, while Dalton Walton—who absorbed Tuesday's loss to Colorado City—will be in left field in the stead of Keith Moreland.

Senior shortstop Steve Free continues to rank as the team's leading hitter. He has collected 18 safeties in 53 trips for a .337 average.

Moffett's announced batting order along with current averages follows: Spencer Dyer, third base (.226); Jerry Franks, center field (.220); Free, shortstop (.327); Marley Rynn, right field (.233); Bob Smith, catcher (.182); Tim Marcum, second base (.143); Miller, pitcher (.227); Walton, left field (.143); Wellborn, first base (.000).

In the other scheduled 3-AAA clash of Friday, Sweetwater takes the trek to Colorado City.

Colorado City Raps Trojans

COLORADO CITY—Host Colorado City made the most of its base knocks Wednesday in toppling Snyder's Lincoln High Trojans, 10-6.

Both hurlers went all the way, giving up 11 safeties apiece. Winner Frank Biggers shifted six walks, one while loser Buford Thompson struck out seven and issued passes to two batters.

Biggers and W. Belvin each collected a double and two singles to lead the hitting attack for Colorado City. Pacing the Trojans at the plate was Cornelius Davis with a double and two singles. Thompson and Ronald Green each chipped in with a double and single in support of the losing cause, also.

Lincoln is to engage Sweetwater this afternoon at 4 o'clock on Snyder's Winston Field diamond.

A DAILY VIEW

From me to you
Rev. H. Charles Spivey

"And when he rose from prayer, he came to the disciples and found them sleeping for sorrow, and he said to them, 'Why do you sleep? Rise and pray that you may not enter into temptation!'"

Luke 22:45-46 (read verses 39-46)

I have been reading an interesting book about prayer. There are many on this subject, and one can find almost as many different approaches to prayer as there are books. But one thing is clearly brought out in all of the books on the subject of prayer on which they all agree: reading about prayer is no substitute for actually praying, and there are not enough people in our world today who are actually praying.

The words of Jesus in the scripture today are especially appropriate for Christians and especially American Christians. "Why do you sleep? Rise and pray..." The peculiar thing about the whole matter is that we rather loudly proclaim that there is "power in prayer," and "prayer changes things," and "the family that prays together, stays together," and I could go on and on with these plousisms; but as loudly as we proclaim all these things, we do not actually pray. We are like a person who has been handed a check for a million dollars, yet he starves to death because he refuses to cash the check.

STOP! Yes, stop reading right now and PRAY.

Firing Starts In Houston Golf Classic

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The $50,000 Houston Golf Classic got under way today without a strong favorite but with $100,000 in the bank.

Bill Casper and Mike Souchak, a couple of long hitters, hold a narrow edge in speculation that has varied from day to day since Arnold Palmer withdrew his entry to concentrate on business affairs.

NEW CARD COACH — Leslie Johnson

Leslie Johnson, 28, has been named head coach at Hockleigh High School to succeed Ted Averitt, who resigned to become superintendent of schools. A graduate of San Angelo College and San Ross College, he has coached at Divide (Nolan County) for the past three seasons, where his teams have won two district titles and completed a 23-4-1 record.

Travis V-Ball Girls Score Triple Win

The Travis Junior High Volleyball girls met Lamar Junior High in a trio of games which served to cap off the season for both schools. Travis reigning supreme in all three contests.

Travis 7th won out 47-36, with Patsy Rainwater serving for 18 points to pace the effort. Linda Rinehart had time for the Lamar girls.

Gold Sox Tarnished

By The Associated Press
For defending champions and favorites, the Amarillo Gold Sox are acting a trifle strange in the Texas League race.

The first week ends Thursday night, and the Gold Sox have yet to win. They've dropped five straight games.

High wind at Albuquerque kept the Sox from playing Wednesday night while Tulsa's Oilers pulled back into a tie for first place by beating Austin 5-2. Tulsa and Austin have 2-1 records.

El Paso Edged San Antonio 10-8

El Paso edged San Antonio 10-8 to remain two games away from the lead and one-half back of Albuquerque.

Bill Wakefield pitched a seven-hitter as Tulsa downed Austin's Senators.

El Paso knocked seven home runs in beating San Antonio. Jerry Robinson hit two of them and batted in five runs.

TCU Linksters Win

FORT WORTH (AP)—Texas Christian edged Texas Tech 31-27 in Southwest Conference golf Wednesday.

The Horned Frogs' Jack Montgomery, Mike Walling and the team of Montgomery and Walling won their matches. Bruce Jobbe won a singles match for Tech. Rick Jennings tied Leland Phillips and Dobb-Jennings won in the doubles.

Women's Magazines Advised To Adopt Grace Kelly Look

BY INEZ ROBB

The magazine world is in a state of upheaval, with new editors arriving on the hour and old editors departing on the same schedule. This is a period of maximum soul searching and new programming, with the slick-paper publications for women hitting the saviciest trail, hoping to see the light.

Well, sir, the editors of periodicals aimed at my sex could do worse than to vow from henceforth and forever to quit plugging the sensational, the bizarre and the eccentric as the height of fashion. I am willing to let them off any vows of chastity and poverty if they will solemnly swear to embrace good taste and use it as their standard in the future.

Despite all we read and hear to the contrary, most American parents spend a prodigious amount of time trying to transform their girl-children into ladies. Let those who will deny this sweet impachment, but it is still true.

Parents have had scant help in this noble work, always uphill, from women's and fashion magazines in the past decade. The most damning and damaging mistake such magazines ever made was to seize on the Brigitte Bardot dishevelment and hard-sell this unmade-bed look as high fashion. If anyone wants to write a Ph.D. thesis on the subject, she will probably discover that the rapprochement between such magazines and their readers began to fall apart at the seams when the latter realized that the former expected them to eschew soap and water, comb and brush to attain that best-dressed look. And this in a nation reared, generation after generation, in the firm belief that cleanliness is next to Godliness.

When magazines junk good taste and good grooming in favor of any momentary sensation, from the beatnik to scrawny nudity, they deserve to lose the confidence of their public. And when, year after year, their models look as if they had just been blown out of a wind tunnel, the reader is bound to suspect that there is more than one screw loose in the editorial department.

It is with a good bit of hope that I read a prediction that Grace Kelly, soon to be condensed to Hollywood, will be the new Queen of Fashion. Miss Kelly may not be the world's greatest actress but she is always beautifully groomed, with every blonde hair in place.

She has the wonderfully fresh and appealing soap-and-water look that was always associated with the American girl until fashion editors took up Bardot and the barrel-house routine.

Miss Kelly always looks spick-and-span, bandbox spruce and, if one is permitted an archaic word, ladylike. If her return to movpictures can reinstate such an ideal as high fashion, I promise, to beat the drums for her new picture, whatever it is.

It would be great to see girls look like girls again—sugar and spice and everything nice—instead of ragamuffins with a grainy old coiffure and a predilection for toilet water rather than aqua pura.

With Miss Kelly on the horizon and fuller skirts a reality, there is hope. My new spring suit with the pleated skirt enables me to get in and out of a taxi for the first time in years without doing a strip that would have caused a raid on Minsky's 30 years ago.

Now, if the women's magazines will line up behind the Kelly vs. Bardot look and sponsor good taste once more, all will be forgiven. I will even stop reading such magazines under the dryer and start buying them again.

Now, if the women's magazines will line up behind the Kelly vs. Bardot look and sponsor good taste once more, all will be forgiven. I will even stop reading such magazines under the dryer and start buying them again.

Woman Unknowingly Causes Accident

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A unidentified woman driver today caused a five-car accident, but probably doesn't know it.

Kent County sheriff's deputies said the woman, driving a bright red car, put out her arm to signal a left turn at a Grand Rapids intersection. The driver immediately behind her slammed on his brakes, and four other cars crashed while attempting to stop.

Patricia Stroth of Bitley was taken to the hospital and treated for head injuries.

The woman driver? She decided not to turn and went straight ahead as the chain of crashes started.

Borrowing Is Now On Level Of Fine Art

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Are you a good borrower?

Borrowing is no average business office today has been raised to the level of a fine art.

The ability to borrow successfully is more than a test of personal charm or salesmanship; to most white collar workers—it is a test of survival.

Shakespeare's famous line, "Borrowed time is not time at all in the office life," a fellow with an attitude like that is shunned as a Pariah.

The general philosophy is to lend and let lend, to borrow and let borrow. If you don't lend a fellow worker a paper clip today, he may refuse to let you borrow one from him tomorrow—when you need it most desperately.

You can judge an office employee by what and why he borrows. Here are a few typical borrowers you may have noted in your own firm:

Pompous Paul—"Let me have 10 bucks now and it'll be well worth your while later," he says importantly. "I've got a big deal cooking with the boss and want to take him to lunch, and when I get him satiated up I'll be sure to put in a good word for you." Later you find he needed the dough to make an alimony payment to his ex-wife.

Public Phil—This is the compulsive borrower. He has to borrow to be happy. He'd prefer to borrow the shirt off your back, but if you just lend him a last year's commuting timetable, he'll go away content.

Willie the Weeper—It ain't your money he wants to borrow, it's your car. And if you lend it to him, he'll return it full of all his woes and the trouble he's been having with everybody from his girl friend to his landlady.

Ambrose the Abstainer—He's trying to save dough by cutting down on his smoking. So he borrows half a pack of cigarettes a day from you. "In a way, I'm doing you a real favor," he remarks lightly. "Now you're not smoking so much either."

Roundabout Robert—He begins by inquiring about your health, your views on motherhood and atomic fallout. After a 45-minute buildup of your ego, he asks casually as he gets up to leave, "Oh, by the way, could you let me have $3.87 until Friday? I need it to pay for my laundry."

Cunning Carl—This bright lad read in a psychology book that people tend to like anyone for whom they have a favor. So he borrows from everyone, whether he needs it or not, figuring that once he is in their debt they will love him forever and ever.

Gen. Clay Slated To Leave May 6

BERLIN (AP)—Retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay will leave here May 6 after eight months as President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin, the U.S. headquarters announced Wednesday.

It was announced last week that Clay's mission to Berlin was to be terminated.

Clay plans to return to private business but will remain the President's advisor on Berlin affairs, the White House has said.

Clay has promised to visit Berlin from time to time. The announcement said he would return here for a visit in July.

A recent survey of 135 Japanese girls born and reared in the United States showed that 60 percent of them had never seen an American girl in Japan.

Junior Editors Quiz on CAPITOL BUILDING

QUESTION: Why is the statue on the top of the Capitol dome in Washington, D. C.?

ANSWER: The statue is of a woman, called "Armed Liberty." She is so high up and so far away that visitors to the capital can usually only tell that she looks like a woman with some kind of feathered headdress. Each visitor has his own idea as to whom it might be. Guesses range from Pocahontas to Captain John Paul Jones. In truth, the woman is not supposed to be a historical person, but a historical idea. She stands 6 feet 6 inches high, wearing flowing robes, with a helmet and a sheathed sword. The helmet is topped with an eagle's head and decorated with stars and feathers. The statue was designed by sculptor Thomas Crawford in 1855, at the order of Secretary of War Jefferson Davis. She is now known as the Statue of Freedom. The Statue of Liberty in the New York Harbor is also a statue of an idea rather than of a particular person. The two statues differ greatly. The Statue of Liberty holds only a book and a light, while "Armed Liberty," or the Statue of Freedom, is clothed for defense.

FOR YOU TO DO: Sculptors work with many different materials, and in many different ways. Some use marble and others use bronze. Recent sculptors have been experimenting with steel. When you make a clay figure, you are sculpting. Try designing and sculpting with clay. You may want to make a sketch first, or you may prefer to work from a model.

Clay Artist of Auburn, Mich. wins $10 for this sketch. Mail your question on a postcard to Junior Editors, in care of this newspaper.

Neighbors Are Taught Counter-Insurgency

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 160 military officers from all over Latin America are at a U.S.-operated school in Panama which teaches the techniques of counter-insurgency.

Another class of 33 officers began studies in classrooms and a and at a more will come in subsequent classes.

Graduates range in rank from second lieutenant to brigadier general.

Counter-insurgency is of prime importance to Latin America, a primary target for Communist efforts.

Although the course of study provided for military personnel of nations which request the accent on guerrilla and anti-guerrilla action, it also includes such related items as intelligence and counterintelligence, psychological operations, and civil affairs.

The Army says none of the training is designed specifically for the country and emphasis is placed on the program is not aimed at training forces to invade Communist Cuba.

Facilities of Ft. Gulick, in the Panama Canal Zone, and the Army's jungle warfare training center—which includes rain forests, mountains, streams and lakes—are used.

Latin-American military personnel have attended both the jungle school and infantry schools in the United States.

Classes in the unconventional warfare school in Panama are small and select. A maximum of 40 are in each class.

The Army's instructor staff includes both commissioned and non-commissioned personnel. All teaching is in Spanish.

The Army says jungle warfare, favored by guerrillas, places an extreme demand for physical fitness, endurance and resourcefulness on the individual soldier.

The jungle is humid and in many places a tangle of trees and undergrowth. Mountainsides are steep. Jungle streams can be swift and treacherous to cross.

But the jungle, while presenting obstacles, also provides concealed places from which to strike at guerrilla bands. The weapons are, of course, the basic rifles, side arms, light mortars, grenades and knives of the infantryman, plus that all-purpose tool, the machete. The latter is good for chopping wood or people.

But the jungle, while presenting obstacles, also provides concealed places from which to strike at guerrilla bands. The weapons are, of course, the basic rifles, side arms, light mortars, grenades and knives of the infantryman, plus that all-purpose tool, the machete. The latter is good for chopping wood or people.

Because all anti-guerrilla action doesn't occur in jungles, the course includes the use of civic action. This means that people in an area under guerrilla control can be used to help clear the area and oust Communists—if they can be convinced of the friendliness of the counter-guerrilla force.

Lectures at counter-guerrilla schools in the United States and overseas explain that civic action can range from basic military courtesy and discipline on up to formal projects. It is wise to be sure that the fundamentals are being followed soundly. "For example, troops can be polite with civilians at road blocks and still be ready for action if necessary. No amount of fancy, showy projects can over come the harm of bad troop behavior," the lectures explain.

"A stolen chicken, a carelessly driven jeep, may well make villagers so angry that they would withhold information and let an ambush succeed. On the other hand, when troops and people have joined together against a common enemy, combat intelligence increases greatly—with the people tipping off the troops about enemy activities, units, hidden arms, caches and agents."

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

Acapulco, Mexico—A few months ago when the tourists discovered this place, it was only a town by the Pacific Ocean. The local citizens went about in sloppy clothes and this appealed to visitors, who could not be so comfortable at home without getting criticized. So many persons came down here with large bundles of spending money just to be sloppy that the locals began having serious thoughts.

Everybody started building hotels for the cash customers. Grown men from push offices in other nations appeared on the streets in baggy shorts. Barefooted Matrons can around wearing practically nothing except nail polish.

Finally, the sewing machine ladies got in on the act.

"They put out fashions everywhere except in Acapulco," the ladies said. "Hawaii has wild shirts and even this stuff from Paris is considered the very latest. Let us get the fashioning business spreading here, girls."

Among the pioneers of this industry were the Misses Jazmin and Katy Hadden, erstwhile Californians, who came down 15 years ago with a bolt of goods and a pair of sewing machines.

They set up the Madam Butterfly shop and began stitching clothes together. Shirts, skirts, dresses, blouses, shorts and other necessities. If you don't like what they have in stock, they'll create an original for you. And make it while you sit around sipping coconut juice or cokes.

The Mexican textile industry gave a helping hand by turning out some might fine material. Highly colorful designs on tricky cloth you won't find anywhere else in the world.

Others moved in and set up air-conditioned shops with fancy labels on the same cloth. This did not upset the sisters Hadden, whose machines hum 14 hours a day and most of Sunday.

Business skyrocketed and they hired a couple of local ladies to pilot the sewing apparatus. Jazmin keeps a sharp business eye on the cut of the goods and Katy hawks merchandise from the shop's open front.

An Indian lady walks past with a shawl draped across her shoulders. Miss Jazmin studies the effect and gets an idea for a new style blouse. As they laugh, they are coming off the production line.

And I noticed an od-looking garment hanging on the rack.

"It is a sort of Acamumumu. I guess," said Katy. "Something like the Hawaiian muiumu except we give it a low neckline and no sleeves."

All sizes, colors and cuts. Originality.

So it happened that I needed an inspiring shirt and no body ever has a garment to fit me. When a tailor starts measuring you ever-loving correspond, he judges in terms of feet and yards.

Jazmin has long since discarded such unnecessary equipment as the tape measure. Her practiced eye works in decimal points. A few seconds of scanning your landscape and she has your shape and size. And what I wanted was a modest number from the cloth with stripes, spirals and streaks of lightning.

"Take off your shirt and sit down," said Jazmin. And added, "you put on a little weight since last time I see you." Real snide.

Miss Jazmin personally took over the controls of the sewing machine and fastened the seat belt. Katy sent for cokes all stood in the front of the shop to lure clients inside.

How about turtle eggs? We used to get them all the time. But it seems this is not the season of romance for turtles. They are occupied with other ideas this time of the year.

By the time soda pops arrived, Jazmin had her wheels up and was gaining altitude fast. When the cokes were finished, so was the shirt. Thirty-five minutes by my chronometer. It fit, too, and I must say it is a mighty elegant number. Stripes, spirals and streaks of lightning.

And there you have it. A shirt

Delay Due Tax Relief In Politics

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress may postpone action this year on proposals to grant tax relief to political contributors and to tighten up on legal provisions on campaign spending.

Influential House members said they had found colleagues unenthusiastic about acting before this year's elections on a proposed $10 tax credit for political donors and a Senate-passed measure increasing the ceiling on expenditures by the two major parties.

President Kennedy is expected to send to Congress soon a message incorporating recommendations of a bipartisan commission for tax incentives to broaden the base of political contributions.

The commission proposed in a report made public Wednesday by the White House to give individuals a direct tax credit of $10 to apply against donations they make to authorized political committees. Larger donors could take a deduction of up to $1,000 yearly for political contributions in figuring the taxes they owe.

A Senate-passed bill requiring more stringent accounting of campaign contributions and expenditures is languishing in a House committee.

"This measure boosts the present $3 million yearly limit on spending by major party national committees to what sponsors said would be a more realistic figure of about $7 million each.

The report of the presidential commission, headed by Dean Alexander, heard of the North Carolina University Graduate School, recommended that the federal government pay the expenses of a successful presidential candidate in the interim between the election and his inauguration.

This cost the Democratic party $360,000 in Kennedy's case and there has been talk, but nothing more, that Congress ought to do something about it.

Camera Nabs Bank Robber

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John W. Gains, 26, was held today in a $3,065 bank robbery during which a hidden camera snapped several pictures of the holdup man.

The FBI charged him with the Jan. 31 robbery of a branch of the Royal Bank and Trust Co.

The camera snapped shots as the robber approached a teller's window, kept a hand in his jacket pocket as though he carried a gun and shoved a note to the manager demanding currency in 10's, 20's and 50's.

Pictures of the robbery were transmitted by The Associated Press wirephoto network. There was no comment on the part of the pictures filed in the arrest.

The FBI arrested Gains at his home Wednesday. He was indicted by a federal grand jury Monday at Paducah.

Homesick Convict Is Headed Back

DETROIT (AP)—Homesick for his old job as the warden's cook at Indiana State Prison, Herman Lawson, 45, was headed back there today.

Lawson, an admitted parole violator, surrendered to Detroit police Wednesday and then waived extradition.

He called from an eastside Detroit restaurant where he had been working and said he was tired of running from the law; that he had violated his parole by leaving Indiana without permission.
