ACP Checks Received by County Agent Brings Total Up To $232,942.76

Daily shipments of Agricultural Conservation Payment checks during the past week has boosted the total payments received here on the 1939 Farm Program to $232,942.76, according to E. W. Thomas, county agent. The payments are being made to Ochiltree County farmers for compliance with the triple A Farm Program.

Sixty per cent of the checks have been received on a total of around $400,000 applied for from this county under the program. This amount includes parity payments made in the spring of 1939. More checks will be received in the near future.

Bad weather and snow-clogged country roads have kept many farmers from claiming the checks, but payment will be made within a few days. Many farmers have already been notified of the arrival of the shipments.

Perryton Men On Hi-Y Board

Two Perryton men were appointed on the board of the Great Plains District Young Men's Christian Association, which was organized at Amarillo last Wednesday by representatives of towns in the Panhandle and eastern New Mexico. Carl Ellis is a member of the finance committee and Tom Elzey is on the executive board.

Judge John Honts, Dalhart, judge of Dallam county, was elected chairman of the new organization. Other officers elected were Guy Carlander, Amarillo, secretary; L. H. Rhodes, Tucuman, N. M., first vice president; Judge Sherman White, Pampa, second vice president; C. T. Crowe, Amarillo, treasurer.

Chairman Honts named Tom Elzey of Perryton and H. A. Close of Hereford to the executive committee; Carl Ellis of Perryton, Roger McConnell of Pampa, and E. S. Ireland of Hereford to the finance committee; and Mr. Carlander, Mr. Rhodes and Frank Day of Plainview to the personnel committee.

The purpose of the organization is to work with Hi-Y clubs in the area and to cooperate with the national and Southwest Area YMCA in promoting activities designed to develop boys and young men into good citizens, officials said.

Organization headquarters will be in Amarillo directed by a full-time adopted, with participating county secretaries. A $5,000 budget was submitted to raise certain quotas. Perryton is cooperating.

Pay Your Poll Tax Now, Avoid Rush

Less than 600 citizens of Ochiltree County had qualified to vote in this year's elections by paying their poll taxes, according to the records of J. S. Talley, tax assessor-collector, Wednesday evening.

Fred Huston, who is in charge of tax collections in Talley's office, urges everyone to pay their poll tax or obtain exemption within the next day or so, and thus avoid the last minute rush.

Approximately 1,500 are eligible to vote in this county, and only 523 have paid. If the greater part of these intend to pay poll tax, the tax collectors office will be busy the remainder of the month. The deadline for poll tax payment is Thursday, January 31. Pay your poll tax today.

Pay 1939 Taxes By January 31, No Penalty

Tax payments in Ochiltree County are exceeding last year's payments for the same period, according to the tax collectors' records in the offices of J. S. Talley, collector of county and state taxes; Mrs. Luther Wade, Perryton Independent School District tax collector; and M. M. Cudd, city tax collector.

Taxes for 1939 must be paid during January to avoid addition of penalties and interest. All 1939 taxes will become delinquent on February 1. Delinquent penalties are added at the rate of one per cent per month until July 1, 1940, when the penalty is increased to eight per cent and interest charges at the rate of one half per cent per month start.

Fred Huston, in charge of tax collections in the office of J. S. Talley, reports that at least 250 more tax receipts had been issued on Wednesday, January 24, than had been issued at the same time last year. Approximately 550 poll taxes had been paid.

Mrs. Wade stated that she had issued 121 more tax receipts for tax payments than she had for the same period last year. Total tax collections for the Perryton Independent school district on January 24 amounted to $27,959.65, compared to $20,741.18 for January 24, or an increase of $7,218.47 on collections.

Mrs. Wade reported the tax roll for 1939 at $49,684.21.

City Clerk Cudd said that the 1939 tax collections for the City of Perryton were running ahead of last year's payments. He had issued more than 300 receipts above the same period last year.

Poll taxes must be paid on or before January 31 if you want to vote in the county and state elections. Persons entitled to exemption must obtain an exemption certificate from Talley's office during January.

Car tags for 1940 cannot be purchased before February 1 and must not be placed on cars before March 1. All cars or trucks operated on the highways must have 1940 plates on April 1.

Road Conditions Dangerous in County

The County Commissioners of Ochiltree County are urging all persons traveling county roads to be careful. Many side roads have not been opened for travel since the heavy snows. Roads that are opened will allow only one-way traffic.

The four big snow plows, recently purchased by the county, are in operation and roads are being opened for travel as fast as possible. The deep snow on the right-of-ways makes it difficult to clear the roads, and only one lane is being opened. Drivers are warned to watch for places where they can meet cars.

All car drivers are urged to carry a shovel, and not travel alone unless absolutely necessary.

If you doubt the danger of travel on these snow covered roads, just try driving out a few miles on a side road and see for yourself. Another big snow would doubtless close the side roads in this area for the remainder of winter. It would be impossible to reopen them even with the snow plows.

Rangers Guests At Lion Banquet

The entire Ranger Championship football team and members of the boys' basketball squad were honored guests of the Perryton Lions Club at the Hotel Perryton Monday night at the annual banquet given by the Lions organization.

More than seventy persons were in attendance to hear an address by Jack Curtice, head coach at WTSTC, Canyon. In addition to giving the principal address Curtice presented the group motion pictures of the Buffaloes in action last fall.

J. H. Woodward, for many years a Perryton Lions Club member, was also an honored guest at the affair. Woodward is leaving for Ellsworth, Kansas to make his home.

All Is In Readiness for President's Birthday Celebrations in Perryton January 30

To Raise Funds For Aiding In Infantile Fund

E. W. LeMaster, general chairman for Ochiltree County for the observance of President Roosevelt's birthday, announces that all is in readiness for the fight on infantile paralysis here Tuesday, January 30. The President's Ball will be held in Donley Hall with the music of Hetrick's Rhythm Clowns, admission $1.50. Local organizations are sponsoring an entertainment program at the School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock directed by Mrs. G. W. Acker and the "March of Dimes" drive has begun under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Kelly. Coin collection containers have been placed at buy points. Fifty per cent of all money raised will remain in Ochiltree County for direct relief of the dread disease and the remaining portion will be sent to the national organization.

Weather still remains very cold with the temperature going to zero and below every night. Last Thursday night was probably the coldest of the season when it went to 12 below. Yesterday, Wednesday was the coldest day of the year when the temperature hovered just above zero all day.

Main highways are open but many county roads are still blocked. The four new county snow plows are getting the highways open but motorists are warned to travel with caution as most of the newly opened roads are one-way.

Membership committees from the Perryton Chamber of Commerce will be soliciting pledges for 1940 within the next few days. Before starting out, the committee has made a thorough study of the pledge list and have made recommendations for the amount of pledges in an effort to equalize support.

When the committee calls give them the cooperation they deserve. Remember it's your Chamber of Commerce just as much as it is the Chamber of Commerce of the membership committee members, and the more members and funds, the more the Chamber can accomplish during 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huston, Edna and Mickey, were in Okeene, Okla., over the week-end to attend the funeral Saturday of Mrs. E. E. Legate, a former school teacher of Mr. Huston and a neighbor of Mrs. Huston's family.

Sid Talley is now serving his 32nd year as Sheriff of Ochiltree county. For many years this office was confined to peace duties and collection of state and county taxes. Now it also does the tax assessing and much additional work has been added by sale of car tags and administration of various other motor laws. During the 32 years, that Sid Talley has been setting an all time record for the United States in tenure of office, he has made a host of friends by his friendly and neighborly administration of this important office. In asking for re-nomination at the Democratic primary on July 27, Mr. Talley states that if returned for a 17th term, he will continue as in the past, treating all, both friend and foe, in the same fair and impartial manner.

Former Perryton Man With New Mexico Bank

Don E. Woodward, who was cashier of the Perryton National Bank in the early days of Perryton, has accepted the vice presidency of the First National Bank in Albuquerque, and will assume his duties there on February 1.

In 1923, Mr. Woodward left the Perryton bank to accept a position with a Raton, N. M., bank, and has lived in Raton ever since. The last few years, he has been in business for himself, operating an insurance agency, and looking after collections for the Raton bank. He will retain his insurance business in Raton.

After moving to Raton, Mr. Woodward married. His wife was a member of the Raton faculty, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward have two daughters. The Woodwards have been active in American Legion affairs, and Mrs. Woodward is candidate this year for State President of the American Legion Auxiliary of New Mexico. All reports indicate that she will be elected without opposition.

School Spirit And All!

Jane Withers is quite a grown-up lady in her latest 20th Century-Fox comedy, "High School," but there's still that gleam in her eye that promises a load of fun and mischief. Above are highlights from the film showing at the Ellis Theatre Thursday and Friday, January 25-26.

Romance Amid Redskins

Even two soldiers bent on destruction of Geronimo, ravaging the scene of the Great Southwest, have their moments of romance. Preston Foster, Ellen Drew and William Henry, featured in Paramount's "Geronimo," due Saturday, January 27, at the Ellis Theatre, are seen here in a less destructive mood.

Original Cast of "Four Daughters" Back in New Film Sequel, "Four Wives"

"Four Wives," sequel to last year's "Four Daughters," will be shown at the Ellis Theatre Sunday and Monday, January 28-29. "Four Wives," in which Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola Lane, and Gale Page play the title roles, features the same cast as "Four Daughters," including John Garfield, who died in the original story. He returns in vision form in the new picture.

Others in the original family portrait who are prominent in "Four Wives" are Jeffery Lynn, Claude Rains, Mary Robson, Frank McHugh, Dick Foran and Vera Lewis, the gossipy "gate-slinger" of "Four Daughters."

There's a new and very delightful addition to the family, too. Eddy Albert, the young comedy star of "Brother Rat," plays the young doctor for whom Rosemary Lane successfully sets her wedding bonnet in the film. Rosemary, you will remember, is the only one of the four daughters who didn't "get her man" in the earlier picture. Also added to the cast is Henry O'Neill in the role of Albert's father.

Still other additions to the family tree are four girl babies. First of these to make her appearance in the film is the year-old child which is adopted by Lola Lane and Frank McHugh in the story. Then Priscilla gives birth to a girl baby, and Lola caps that by having twin girls.

"Four Wives" takes up the story of the Lemp family where "Four Daughters" left off. The two oldest daughters are already married, Priscilla, the youngest, widowed in the earlier film, is about to marry her first love, played by Jeffery Lynn, when she learns that she's to have a baby by her dead husband. The fourth girl, Rosemary, puts on a matrimonial campaign, as mentioned above, with the help of all her sisters.

Suggested by the Pannine Hurst novel, "Sister Act," the script was written by Maurice Hanline, Philip G. and Julius J. Epstein, Michael Curtis directed.

Ann Sothorn Has Unique Method of Not Getting Man

There's more than one way to meet the man of your choice, but throwing a ten-pound knapsack at him isn't one of the best. However, Ann Sothorn does just that in "Congo Maisie," and lives to marry the man in the picture, which is coming to the Ellis Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, January 30-31.

When John Carroll, as the renegade doctor, walks into his cabin on the jungle river boat he tosses his baggage into the upper berth, only to have it come hurtling down on top of him. He investigates and finds Maisie ensconced in the berth. Maisie, of course, is Miss Sothorn, who for the second time in her screen career plays the honky-tonk showgirl, this time stranded in Africa.

No amount of persuasion on Maisie's part convinces Carroll that she has a place in his cabin, and for once, a boy-meets-girl episode ends in parting—Maisie is unceremoniously thrown out of the cabin. But the couple are reunited later in the story.

Featured in the picture with Miss Sothorn and Carroll are Rita Johnson, Shepperd Strudwick, J. M. Kerrigan and E. E. Clive, under the direction of H. C. Potter.

5,903 Ships Thru Canal

Five thousand nine hundred and three ocean-going commercial vessels used the Panama Canal during the 1938-39 fiscal year, Secretary of War Woodring told the President in his annual report submitted early in January.

Tolls amounted to more than $23,500,000, with a net return of more than 2 1/2 per cent on the $500,000,000 canal, its largest earnings during the past decade.

American ships carried 35.6 per cent of the cargoes, British ships 34.4 per cent, Japanese 6.1 per cent, German 5.3 per cent, Swedish 3.6 per cent, while the remainder was carried by ships of some fifteen different countries.

Florida Made Film Is Flown Over Continent

Lemuel Q. Gulliver made some extensive journeys as a result of the unrestrained imagination of his creator, Jonathan Swift, but his travels were as nothing compared to the adventures of the film dealing with him—"Gulliver's Travels," Paramount's full-length Technicolor cartoon fantasy which shows at the Ellis Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, February 4-5-6.

Since the film was produced at the Fleischer Studios in Miami, Florida, the negative had to be flown to Hollywood to be developed in the laboratories of the Technicolor Corporation. Figures reveal that it has thus far traveled a total of 178,800 miles by air.

Shortage of Redskins

Every available Indian actor in Hollywood was used in the battle sequences of Paramount's "Geronimo," which is showing at the Ellis Theatre Saturday, January 27. More had to be imported to the cinema capital since the "Vanishing American" had lived up to his reputation in the film capital.

Nearly 150,000 veterans of the World War had failed to file claims for bonus payments when the deadline for submitting applications in this connection was reached on New Year's Day.

Funeral For Mr. Keim Held Friday

Walter, son of Jacob J. and Elizabeth L. Keim, was born in Kirksville, Mo., July 24, 1869 and departed this life January 16, 1940 in Perryton, Texas, being 70 years, 5 months and 22 days of age.

He grew to manhood in Kirksville and on October 28, 1890 was united in marriage to Miss Dora Furnish. Four children were born to this union, all present during the last hours.

Mr. Keim first came to Ochiltree County in 1907 and purchased land northwest of Farnsworth. He returned in December 1915 with his family to make this their home. He traded his farm for ranch land on Wolf Creek in 1926 and lived there until he retired from active business two years ago, moving into Perryton to the present home, 602 Southwest First street.

Mr. Keim was converted and joined the Baptist Church at the age of 28. He had the true, pioneer spirit ever ready to help those less fortunate. His happy, cheerful disposition was a tower of strength and inspiration to his family and to all with whom he came in contact.

He is survived by his faithful companion, Mrs. Walter Keim; four children, Mrs. Harry Bishop, Waka, Dillard of Spearman, and Frank (or Doc) and J. J. of Perryton; ten grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Clara Wood, Mrs. Mauida Yates and H. S. Keim, all of Kirksville, Mo., and all older than Mr. Keim; and a host of other loving relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, in the Baptist Church with Rev. S. R. McClung officiating. A male quartet from the Baptist choir gave several favorite selections.

Pall bearers were J. R. Keim, Jay and June Rogers, Charley Robinson, Harris Russell and Carl Hickman. Honorary pall bearers were Leroy Sattiewhite, Texoma, Linus Taylor, Charley Dutcher, George Seitz, Herman Hargrove, Dick Jones, Sam Herget, Lake Patton, Jess Stump, Allen Dennison, Merton Smith and Roy Hogland. Flower bearers were Mrs. M. F. Hethcock, Mrs. J. W. Herrell, Mrs. W. L. Philpaw, Mrs. M. M. Cudd, Mrs. George Yates and Mrs. B. B. Lee.

Interment was made in the Ochiltree Cemetery under the direction of the Wilson Funeral Home.

Silage is Boon To Local Farms

Sheep growers who have put in a supply of silage are finding the feed a life-saver during the long extended cold weather, according to E. W. Thomas, county agent.

O. C. Rogers put down several hundred tons in three silos on his farm northwest of Farnsworth last fall and has already emptied one silo and started on a second. The ewes in the flock have held up remarkably well on a ration of silage and cottonseed meal and are giving plenty of milk for their lambs.

Herman Hargrove and Merton Smith are feeding ewes and young lambs silage on the John Rogers farm southwest of Farnsworth, and the ewes are furnishing a heavy flow of milk for the young lambs. The lambs also start eating silage by the time they are two weeks old.

Milk is over four-fifths water in its natural composition, and the body of an animal is three-fourths water, and digestion, as well as other functions of the body is dependent on water. Thus it is not surprising that a cow can use twenty to twenty-five gallons of water a day when in hard working condition.

Industrial Activity Tends to Lighten Business Map

This map represents current business conditions. It appears in the February number of "Nations Business", published by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The brighter map reflects good holiday buying at retail as well as the continued high rate of industrial activity. On the barometer following the sharp upswing since the outbreak of war in Europe, business activity continued at a relatively high level in December despite a seasonal slackening in some lines.

Large Enrollment Legion Auxiliary

With one-half million members as its goal, The American Legion Auxiliary is making a strong start on enrollment of its membership for 1940. Mrs. Blansit Carter, Unit president, announced today. The local Unit is bringing an invitation to join the Auxiliary to all eligible women in this community. Perryton Unit now has 110 members for 1940. This is one of the largest memberships since it organized in 1928.

"In 1939, the Auxiliary had an enrollment of 480,000," Mrs. Carter said, "the largest in its history and a gain of nearly 20,000 over the previous year. A like increase this year will bring us to our goal of 500,000 members.

"The Auxiliary has not yet approached the limits of its possible membership strength. All wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of Legionnaires and deceased veterans, and women who themselves were enlisted in World War service are eligible. Every year, more and more of these women are coming into the Auxiliary to enjoy its opportunities for civic and patriotic service."

At this time when conditions hold so much danger to our country's peace and security, women of World War families have an especial urge to become active in the Auxiliary. They know what war means to women and they want to help keep America at peace. They realize the value of American democracy and they hope to preserve it for themselves and for their children. In the Auxiliary they have opportunity to work for these things, to join with women of the same patriotic background in united effort for America's peace and security.

The Perryton Post and Unit hold their business sessions the first Monday of each month. On the third Monday evening of the month, the members of the Post and Unit enjoy a pot-luck supper and social. All eligible members are invited to attend these meetings as guests.

Contours Benefit
Pasture Lands

Several things can happen on cold January days that will increase grass growth during the dry hot days of July and August and among the most important is the retention of winter moisture on grass land, according to H. A. Finch Superintendent of the Soil Conservation Service CCC Camp located at Perryton.

By the use of contour furrows, many farmers of this area have learned within recent years that they can increase grass growth to a considerable extent. Finch points out. The furrows catch snowflakes and raindrops and hold them where the moisture can be stored in the soil for use by grass plants in periods of drought. These furrows also help to reduce erosion on areas where grass stands may have been thinned by grazing or drought.

Several farmers report that practically all moisture from rains as heavy as two inches have been held on their grass land by contour pasture furrows, while on similar unfurrowed areas the same amount of rain resulted in heavy run-off.

Contour furrows, in addition to holding moisture on fields where it can be used for grass production, also help in a limited way to solve other problems, he says. They keep some water out of streams, thus reducing flood dangers; in some cases they keep run-off water off cultivated fields, thus preventing water erosion; and on many pastures adjacent to highways contour pasture furrows have been found effective in preventing the blocking of roads by snowdrifts. The furrows catch the snowflakes and hold them on the grass land rather than permitting them to be swept by high winds to some nearby road cut.

Winter moisture held where it falls on grass land is excellent insurance for summer pasturage, Finch points out. Usually there is sufficient rainfall during the year to produce a good crop of grass, the only difficulty being the distribution. Contour furrows help to distribute the rainfall in such a way that a maximum effectiveness can be obtained from it, Finch believes.

Interested farmers and ranchers are requested to see the results of pasture furrowing done two or three years ago on the lands of C. R. Hartman, C. E. McGarragh, Andrew Peterson, Ralph Arnold, Ollie Morris, Joe Venneman, and others.

Nature does not allow us to explore her sanctuaries all at once. We think we are initiated, but we are still only on the threshold—Sereca.

Charles R. Perry Has Been Secretary of Rotary International Since 1905

Charles R. Perry of Chicago, Ill., U. S. A., is Secretary of Rotary International, and as such is the managing officer of the entire international organization. "Ches"

Perry joined the original Rotary club in Chicago while it was still the only Rotary club. He served on numerous committees of the club and in 1910 was chairman of its extension committee. With Paul Harris, he formulated a plan for a National Association of the dozen or more Rotary clubs then in existence and arranged the details of the first convention which was held in Chicago in 1910. The convention unanimously chose him as its presiding officer. After the organization of the Association and the election of Paul Harris as its president, Harris and the board of directors prevailed upon him to take the job of secretary for a couple of months, so that the proceedings of the convention might be gotten out, the constitution and by-laws printed, the association made to function, etc. He has been secretary ever since. He created "The Rotarian," the monthly organ of Rotary, and was its editor and manager for 17 years.

He was born in Chicago, received grammar and high school education, worked as newsboy, janitor, clerk, buyer and manager in stationery and tobacco stores. He was a leader in all high school activities. For about nine years he worked at the Chicago Public Library and taught in the public evening schools. He engaged in newspaper and magazine work. He served as an officer in the U. S. Army in Cuba during the Spanish American War. At the same time he acted as "war correspondent" for the Chicago Times-Herald.

On his return to civil life he resumed his library work and school teaching and became Secretary of the School Extension Society of Chicago, an organization in favor of playgrounds, gymnasiums, etc.

Charles R. Perry
Secretary, Rotary International

He resigned from his library and school work to take up first fraternal and then general insurance, and later was western representative of a cement-brick machinery company.

He has traveled extensively in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, the British Isles, and Continental Europe. He has attended every Rotary convention and every meeting of the Board of Directors of Rotary National and International.

Home Ec Course
For Boys in Wheeler

Home economics for boys has definitely arrived in the Wheeler schools! Literature of the past dozen or so years record its steady progress. In 1938 the United States Bureau of Education reported that 33 states and the Territory of Hawaii had programs of home economics for boys.

Thus, in harmony with the forward trend, Miss Mary Frances Salmon, homemaker instructor, and W. C. Zirkle, vocational agriculture teacher in the Wheeler schools, recently decided to exchange classes for two weeks and introduce boys homemaking and girls agriculture work locally.

Every student affected seems to be greatly interested in this innovation and is entering the new work with much enthusiasm.

Some of the subjects the boys will study are:

Personality development, manners and table service, grooming, clothing selection, care, foods for health and cookery.

Girls' subjects include home beautification and painting. It is hoped, says Miss Salmon, that boys and girls will enjoy the exchange to the point that they will want it to become a permanent part of the school. The Wheeler Times.

An all-time high in the use of electricity in the States was reached in 1938 for the third consecutive year according to the Federal Commission. The average consumption of "juice" last month was 134 per cent more than for the comparable month of 1938.

There's Camouflage in Taxation

If Europe's powers at war could hide their troops and guns with the skill of U. S. experts in tax camouflage, there would be no fear of discovery by the enemy.

Wandering about the country are thousands of citizens blissfully unaware that through their purchases of goods and services they are kicking in nearly two billion dollars annually in "nuisance" and excise taxes. Ingeniously devised, these various methods of indirect, painless taxation have become a nation-wide income success for state and federal governments.

In many cases the purchase price of an article already includes the state or federal tax and through signs may inform the customer of this, he usually doesn't take notice. In others, the price of product plus tax comes out to the even nickel, and again the squeeze is unfelt.

It is when purchasing involves the breaking of quarters to get an odd penny for tax, or when a citizen's pocket bulges with aluminum tokens, that the cloud begins to lift. This generally occurs in the charging of state or municipal sales taxes, so the federal government escapes the blame.

You'll find these hidden taxes on gasoline, theater tickets, perfumes, cigarets, amusements, restaurant checks and long distance phone calls. Most prefer to pay out in this manner, for it seems easier than getting it all at one dose.

There are some who advocate the single tax. They think we should be taxed openly and directly in one lump sum each year, and then have it all over with. These are, no doubt, the type who prefer taking their castor oil in one gulp, instead of diluting it with the juice of a couple of oranges.

One lost soul, an honest citizen of New Jersey, was so deceived by these hidden taxes that he felt he wasn't contributing his share towards the upkeep of government. He wrote the Newark finance director requesting a tax bill. Glad to oblige and always ready to receive treasury contributions, the city promptly supplied him with one.

It is cruel to inform an unsuspecting citizenry that they have been painlessly paying out all this while. But the truth must out to ease the minds of others who, like the New Jersey man felt he wasn't doing right by his government, have been deceived by our camouflaged taxes.

Soil Erosion Has Damaged Half of the Land in United States

Half of all the land in the United States has been damaged by erosion and the process is costing farmers of the nation at least $400,000,000 a year in the removal of soil fertility alone. H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, declared in presenting his annual report to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

"Across the farm and range lands of the country," Bennett says, "some 262 million acres either have been ruined or severely damaged by soil erosion. On an additional 775 million acres the process of erosion is actively under way."

To fight this wastage of soil resources, farmers are organizing soil conservation districts under state conservation legislation. By June 15, Bennett reports, 36 states had passed laws permitting farmers to organize these new subdivisions of government "for purposes of cooperative attack on local land problems." By the same date, 161 districts, covering approximately 88,500,000 acres, had been organized in 26 of these states. (As of December 15, the number of districts had been increased to more than 200, covering nearly 120,000,000 acres.)

Defining these districts as "the most promising avenue to nation wide conservation of many of our natural resources, and to nation wide improvement in the use of land," the Soil Conservation Service declares "this type of cooperative community enterprise — advantageous to farmers and ranchers within a district—is proving helpful at the same time to a number of governmental agencies because they are able, in many cases, to discharge their responsibilities more economically and more completely through soil conservation districts than in any other way."

Data collected by the Soil Conservation Service during the past five years, the report states, "indicate that on thousands of farms and ranches the application of soil and water conservation measures and other practices of wise land use may reasonably be expected to result in immediate financial returns, and certainly would cause no losses."

Bennett also cites a study made by the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station with soil conservation farmers in southern and southwestern Iowa. It declares: "Practically all farmers stated that the program had increased the value of their farms, and the average increase reported was $5.44 per acre." In this same study, 55 per cent of the farmers reported that the productivity of their farms had already been increased by the Soil Conservation Service program, 92 per cent reported that the productivity would be increased in the next three years, and 95 per cent reported it would be increased in the future.

At the close of the fiscal year, the Soil Conservation Service chief reports the Service had carried on work in approximately 800 research, demonstration, land utilization, and watershed projects. Soil Conservation Service nurseries, Civilian Conservation Corps camps, water facilities areas, and soil conservation districts. These work units were located in 47 states and Puerto Rico and covered more than 200 million acres. Conservation plans had been prepared by service technicians for more than 22 million acres of land in private ownership, or under lease to farmers and ranchers. Approximately 81,500 far-

Modern Motor Has Few Troubles

NUMEROUS as may be the apparent troubles of the modern motorist, there is much to be said on the other side, and his budget of joys and sorrows in motoring is more easily balanced with a knowledge of some of his present advantages over the motorist of 1900.

The man who bought a car 40 years ago paid six times as much per pound for his vehicle as does the motorist of today, whose car costs only about 26 cents a pound. When the 1900 car shoved down the road—without top, headlights, windshield, fenders or bumpers—it was estimated that it cost the driver 30 cents a mile to own and operate the vehicle. Today the average cost is figured at less than three cents per mile.

From a few mechanics and bench hands who in 1900 puttered away in barns and shacks making a handful of cars every year, present-day automobile manufacturing makes possible, directly or indirectly, an annual employment of more than six million people. Furthermore, modern cars will run, and that is more than could be said of those 40 years ago. In proportion to the millions of cars on the road the number of breakdowns is almost negligible.

To some — watching the development of a great industry — this may call to mind the old saying, "Despise not the day of small things."

mers and ranchers were actively cooperating in the program.

"All the evidence of history supports the conclusion that a nation's soil is its most valuable and basic natural resource," Bennett asserted. "In the final analysis," he continued, "this resource must be maintained almost regardless of cost because it is the source of our food, clothing, shelter, fuel and other basic requirements."

New Hope Club

Mrs. Albert Ackley, Reporter
"I suggest that chances be sold on the demonstration mattress that will be made, to balance the budget for 1940," was a part of the report given by Mrs. Alvin Koehn, finance chairman, to the Ochiltree County Home Demonstration Council at a meeting January 20, at two o'clock in the County courthouse.

Mrs. Martin plans to call together two delegates from each club and make a mattress for demonstration purposes. The council voted to sell chances at 10 cents each on this mattress. The materials will cost around $7.00 besides the women's work. The council plans to raise the money to balance their 1940 budget in this way, without having to ask the individual clubs for assistance.

Mrs. Alvin Koehn presided over the meeting in the absence of the regular officers. The council decided they would prefer a meeting of adjoining counties rather than a Short Course at Canyon this year. This is a question for the district to decide.

Those present for the first council meeting of the year were: Mrs. J. R. Stump of Waka; Mrs. D. D. Taliaferro and Mrs. W. L. Philby of Perryton; Mrs. Arlo Williams of Ochiltree; Mrs. Alvin Koehn and Mrs. Albert Ackley of New Hope;

El Toro

These teachers certainly must have the memory of an elephant. They have been digging up questions for our reviews and exams that I have never heard of before. But if all this reviewing and stuff is about to get you down just follow the advice of that dumb Freshman who said, "Plunk early and avoid the rush."

"Spoge" McWilliams has been doing a great deal of worrying lately and it isn't about exams either. He has been wondering when the roads east of town will be opened. By the way, "Spoge" has a new name. Don't "Glenny-Wesley" simply ducky?

Hear ye! Hear ye! That big handsome red headed football player has scored again! He was seen at the show Sunday escorting "Luscious" Lois Todd, and "Tiny" Teddy Devore. We'll chalk up twelve more points for him!

Say Clifford. What were you doing up in Oklahoma in all of this snow? Surely you didn't have a date this kind of weather.

Gene Lawrence is another gent that is worrying about the roads. He has been snow-bound at home. While his "heart-throb" has had the run of the town.

Bob Schuster doesn't go out for basketball but he still has to get in at ten. Queer, don't you think? Oh yes, anybody wishing information on "How To Make Love," see "Felix" Allen and her boy friend. They are experts on the subject.

With mid-term exams coming on everyone needs to have their minds at the utmost peak. Lois Todd and Billy Jo Smith don't seem to believe this though. They believe in mingling with the children in the lower grades just so they can eat at the little table in the cafeteria. Oh, well, they aren't the only ones.

Sally and Spoge stayed together at Mobette. Sally remarked, "Say Spoge, I don't know what love is but I think I got it." He woke up the next morning and all that was left of the pillow the next morning was feathers all over the room and a wrinkled pillow case.

Willis Neal Lilly seems to have some fans. The Spearman girls nearly raised the roof when he took a long shot. "Nice goin'," Billy Boy. There seems to be some dispute as to just who likes H. G. Evans. Anyhow he has plenty of admirers in the 8th period history classes.

Leroy Halsey has been getting all the new girls. It appears to be a little girl from down Canadian way, lately.

In signing off here's a little ditty for you to think about.
I think, you think, He thinks, All think!
I copy, you copy, he copies, All Plunk!

DUCK TALK

Now that mid-term exams are upon us, we are unhappy. Worried we all are and so cramming is now the pastime for most of us that are unlucky enough not to have brains.

There is one thing that Sally Mc doesn't know yet. That is never to put one's love in writing, because it gives a good ground for blackmail. Here is the story. It seems that Sally wrote a letter to his blacksmith (?) and lost it during church. It was picked up and read by at least three persons. Sally's pet name for her is "Boots" for the letter was "To Boots from Me." Sally always prove your love in vocal form and never in writing.

And "Big Squid" says he likes bows (?) Are they cute, Squid? Dorothy Woods was floundering around in the snow one afternoon and was wondering why it was so dark. Surely she knew she had on her colored glasses.

Sadie, who was the cute little skirt who asked you what time it was Sunday evening about seven thirty. Or was she just flirting with you? And say, Sadie, I heard one little girl say that you surely were cute and that she would like to go with you. Yes, she is from Spearman and is called "Sparkle."

And why did Charles Linville spend so much time at that car spend so much time at that car from Spearman Sunday night?

Hip, Hip, Hooray. The students have received their pictures. I imagine there were plenty of disappointments because the pictures didn't do them justice, either good or bad.

I wonder why Gene B. hasn't been to school for the last two days. Could it be that he went some place say to Oklahoma, and it got him down? I wonder.

Did you know that filling this column without ruffling someone's feelings is like winking at a girl in the dark—a lot of exercise but no results.

Meeting on Annual

Mr. Winkler, Steck representative, met with the Ranger staff last Monday and various problems of our annual were solved. He allotted us more time on getting our annual in; therefore, we are giving those that didn't get their annual another chance, however, the cost of the annual for those who haven't gotten their money for their deposit turned in will be increased fifty cents, because of the discount of all money turned in earlier in the year.

Our annual is well under way and a sure promise is given by editor Hazel Cook that the annual will be a big improvement over the last year's annual. Mr. Winkler commented that our art work was exceedingly good. The "Ranger" staff promises one of the biggest surprises of the year in their 1939-40 issue of the "Ranger."

Adventures in Song Titles by "Freddie"

"Once Upon A Tune," but that is getting old, so my hearties, we have the life story (at least a portion of it) of a "Soldier of the Car." He was half-way drowned when he was dumped in holy water and christened Ivan. Ivan was a handsome guy in a rugged sort of way. He had a black "Curly Top" and "Azure" blue eyes. But no big feet.

Now Ivan didn't like being a soldier so he came to "America." After wandering about the country, he finally went to Miami Beach. There he saw a "Copper Colored Gal" lying on the beautiful white sand. My what a nice suntan she has, thought he. The little guy that is in need of a suit of clothes shot Ivan with an arrow there in "My Old Kentucky Home."

To impress her, he started off to catch "The Little Red Fox" and make a fur neck-piece of him. But did he have trouble catching the fox. Finally the fox was transformed into a piece of ladies' apparel. This gesture of a polished gentleman impressed the gal. But she was mean. When the "Blue Rain" was pouring down, she would make him pick flowers for her. Poor rain soaked Ivan picked "Lilies in the Rain" and even "Roses in the Rain" were his victims.

But Ivan became the victim for this "Copper Colored Gal" was none other than the gun moll of "Fidgely Joe," the gangster. He wasn't going to let a foreigner steal his woman. So he politely tossed a brick at Ivan's head. "Out of Space" came this missile of destruction projecting at him. "Wham" it struck him. Then Ivan had a "Crazy Little Dream" about a "Cuban Boogie Woogie." When he came to he was very mad. People, he was "Fit to Be Tied."

Ivan went straight and got the money from "The Old Tin Can" where he had hid it when he first came over. Then he went home and fell in love with his childhood sweetheart, "Tanya" was her name and well it did fit her for she was enough to make any man's blood race. He is again a "Soldier of the Car" and he married his "Tanya." Now, they hang out "The Washing on the Siegfried Line." So to Ivan we say, "Ride, Cowboy, Ride." And "All's Well" that ends well. So there, too.

Quality is always admired.

WE THE SENIORS

Henry Doyle Stone, or as we know him, H. D. was born January 27, 1922. He has brown hair, green eyes and is 5 feet 8 inches tall. He has played football two years. His favorite food is peach cobbler and his hobby is pamphlets. He plans to be an aviator.

H. D. was born in Cole County, lived there about 3 years, then went to Lubbock, and in 1927 he moved to Perryton. He has gone to school in dear ole' Perryton High all of his life.

Can you imagine H. D. fat? Well when he was a little kid his nickname was "Fat!" He evidently was. The football boys christened him Rocks about a year ago. Maybe the reason he is a good football player is because he used to enjoy fighting and stealing peaches.

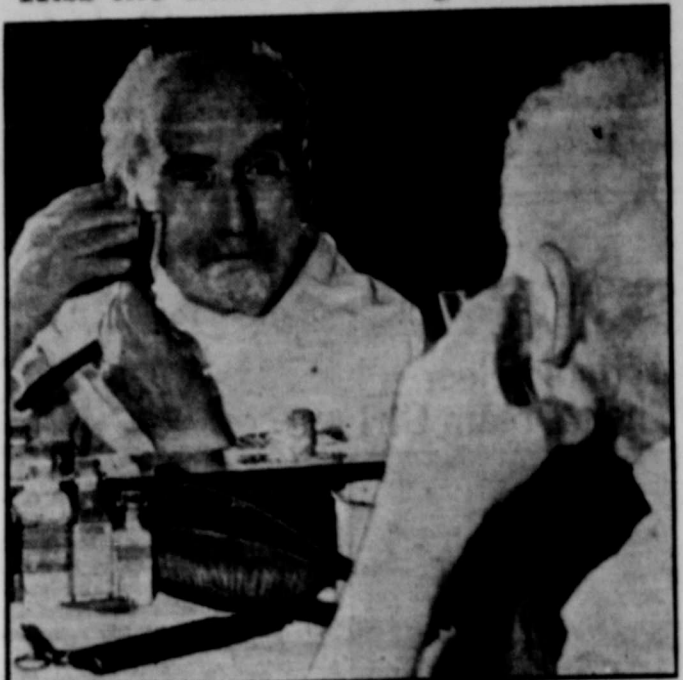

Says, "Perryton High is O. K. but could stand improvement."

Theda Camille Black is the little red headed gal that causes so much trouble in Senior High. She has blue eyes and is 5 feet and three inches tall. Her favorite food is stuffed lobsters (stop) and her hobby—Gee, she is stubborn—She refuses to tell me. Maybe she'll tell me what she plans to do when she finishes school. Stuck again. She hasn't even thought about it! But from what I see, well, housekeeping will come in handy. Her favorite color is red and she wears a size 5 shoe.

Although she won't tell me very much about herself, I know she draws. Some of her paintings are oil and others are charcoal. She is the family housewife and enjoys keeping house and cooking. She makes most of her clothes, and even darns her own hose. She likes to go riding every evening in a little black V-8.

How do soybeans compare with our common table beans? They rank higher in food value, they are richer in protein and fat, and their protein is better used by the body.

'Kiss the Girls' His Long Life Secret

"Plenty of walking, a cold bath every day, kiss the girls whenever you get the chance and take a good nip of spirits now and then"—that's the formula for living Dr. S. KATIE KILOWATT Says

Why wear out your clothes and yourself when you can do your washing electrically for a cent or two a week?

Washing clothes by hand is hard on you and hard on your clothes. And when you have them done by outside help you run the risk of contamination and loss by careless handling. Why take a chance either way when an electric washer will clean your clothes gently, thoroughly and effortlessly at a cost of only a cent or two a week? Electricity is cheap—let it do more work for you in 1940.

Modern Crusoe Lives on Isle To Escape Mad Civilization

Herbert Lester and family. . . Their "find" is a mine, relic of first World War, that washed ashore near their island home.

ON a tiny, wind-swept island in the Pacific, 45 miles off the coast of California, lives one of the few men in the world who has managed to get away from it all, to escape the mad civilization of this turbulent globe.

He is Herbert Lester, a veritable potentate of the Pacific, who, with his family, rules his own private kingdom on the island of San Miguel. No hermit or pioneer, he is a one-time New York clubman whose father was a member of the stock exchange.

He first became sequestered on the island during World War I. A German shell explosion that came too close sent Lester to Veterans' Hospital in Washington for several years, where he heard about San Miguel. He went there with his bride in 1928.

HIGH winds, rough seas and expanses of desert land had made San Miguel somewhat inaccessible, not desirous to live on. But on the grassy plains of the west end of the island, near where sea lions basked on the coast, Herbert Lester planted his twin fig trees, set his sheep to grazing and outfitted his home.

The house the Lesters lived in was built some 40 years ago, but San Miguel history dates from 1542, when the Portuguese explorer Cabrillo discovered the island and later died on it. More recently it was the scene of shooting for South Sea sequences of "Mutiny on the Bounty."

White shrouds of Finnish soldiers are copied abroad as ghost troop movement spreads to branches of U. S. military. Army machine gunners at Fort Myer, Va., above, wore white mantles over campaign hats in experimental exercises, and Massachusetts National Guardsmen held a trench against the "enemy" with sheet camouflage.

Republican Farm Committees Forced to Hear Farmers Endorse New Deal

Representatives Clifford Hope of Kansas and his Congressional committee of Republican farm troopers who have been touring the country in an effort to stir up discontent against the New Deal farm program have recently run into stormy weather.

Their last meeting at Des Moines, Iowa, got off to rather a bad start when a grizzled and sunburned farmer named Fred Herschel, one of the witnesses before the committee, took all the starch out of the members by remarking that the purpose of the meeting was for "this group to find out how to get re-elected in 1940."

Dan Turner, former governor of Iowa, said there should be no attempt to replace the AAA, but that it should be modified if necessary. Earl E. Johnson, a livestock association official, testified: "It would be a mistake for any Republican to come into Iowa and try to upset all the things that Henry Wallace, a native son of Iowa, has been trying to do." He added: "One of the dumbest things we did in the last election was to make so much fuss about importations from the Argentine. The farmer . . . understands that we can't sell without buying, particularly when we are a creditor nation." E. Johnson confessed despite these enlightened views that he had voted for Hoover twice. He's learned much since then.

In the final session of the committee at Des Moines, five out of the six speakers urged that the principles of the New Deal farm program be retained. Frances Johnson of Terrell, President of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, said that the compliance of 85 to 90 per cent of Iowa farmers in the 1939 program clearly indicated the way they felt about it. The small attendance at the committee hearings he said was a sign that the farmers were satisfied, for if they had a kick they would have come in to register it. He pointed out that Governor George Wilson and Secretary of Agriculture Thorburn had both said that "we could build on the present program." Mr. Johnson condemned the drive against the reciprocal trade agreements, saying: "I have never seen the time when the farmers did not get whipped in a tariff fight. It would be the same thing over again."

Oscar Helme of Marcus, President of the Farmers' Grain Dealers Association, testified: "Don't scuttle the present farm program. Let's refine and build from here." William F. Yungclas of Webster said: "It would be folly for any thinking farmer to want to drop the present program." A. C. Lewis of Macedonia said: "We should not scrap anything that's good, no matter what party started it." Lyle Embree of Red Oak told the committee: "Unless Republicans adopt the AAA program they'll be sinking the party ship just as effectively as the Nazis sunk the Graf Spee."

Almost at the same time the Republican committee was sitting the Polk County Farm Bureau was holding its annual convention and adopting resolutions which read: "We approve the work of Secretary Cordell Hull in his trade treaties except as to Argentina. . . Conservation work in its various forms should be enlarged and we should seek a permanent source of funds for the AAA. . . We believe the so-called 'American free enterprise' is in part the cause of our depression."

Population Census Starts April 2

Population census takers, who will swing into action with Uncle Sam's blessing April 2, will go through things with a fine-toothed comb to get a true picture of the United States population, a bulletin, issued Wednesday by Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins, revealed.

Persons on public jobs will be separated from the unemployed by the census taker.

You will be asked to tell what grade was the last you completed in school.

The number of young persons, who have completed school in recent years but are still unemployed will be counted.

The census men will use three questionnaires covering people, homes and farms.

Hopkins acclaimed it as the "greatest fact-finding drive in the nation's history."

The nose count will cover about 132,000,000 persons, 33,000,000 dwellings and 7,000,000 farms.

The farm census will be on a scientific scale.

For instance:

Queries about sugar cane growing will not be asked in California, because there's very little sugar cane grown in California.

This will be known as "regionalizing" the crop census.

"Vital new statistical knowledge will be developed by questions on education, mass migration, employment, unemployment, occupation and distribution of wages," Hopkins said at Washington.

Previous censuses merely divided the literate from illiterate. This year's census will determine the degree of education of the nation by the question about "at what grade did you quit, or were you ejected from school?"

The unemployment tangle will be attacked by questions to determine if you are a public employee, a private employee, an emergency public employee or just plain unemployed. If you've got a home, Uncle Sam will find out whether or not it's mortgaged. If you rent a house, you will be asked what rent you pay. Uncle Sam will probe into the heating, lighting and sanitary facilities of your home.

Farmers will be queried about crops, livestock, debts, labor and machinery.

Hopkins pointed out all that census detail is confidential, available only to the bureau of the census.

Paul B. Harris Founded First Rotary Club in 1905 at Chicago

Paul P. Harris, founder of Rotary was born April 19, 1868, at Racine, Wisconsin. He was educated in the public schools and academies in Vermont, the University of Vermont, Princeton University, and the University of Iowa, receiving the degrees of Ph. B., LL. B., and LL. D.

After completing his law course in 1891, he spent the following five years in seeing the world and coming to know his fellows by actual contact with them under all sorts of conditions. He worked as a reporter on daily papers in San Francisco and Denver, rode the range in the cow country, picked oranges in southern Louisiana, sold marble and granite, crossed the Atlantic twice on cattle ships, and made a third trip to Europe on business.

The acquaintances which he made in college and during his travels were of material assistance in the early extension of Rotary. In 1896 he felt he had gained sufficient practical knowledge to be of service to his clients and opened a law office in Chicago. He had neither friends nor relatives in that city. He had much time for reflection and pondered much on conditions of life and business in a large city. In 1905, as a result of his studies and reflections, he had formulated a definite philosophy of business relations. Calling together a few of his friends, each of whom was engaged in a different line of business, he expounded his theory to them.

This group was the nucleus of the first Rotary club in the world, the Rotary Club of Chicago. Through the work of Paul Harris and other members of the Chicago club, similar clubs began to be organized in a number of other cities.

After a few years the necessity for some organization to bind these different clubs together became apparent. Thereupon Paul Harris, Chesley Perry, and others organized the National Association of Rotary Clubs in America, in 1910. When clubs were formed in Canada and Great Britain, making the movement international in scope, the name was changed. In 1912, to the International Association of Rotary Clubs. In 1922 the name was changed to Rotary International.

Paul Harris was the first President of the National Association and the first President of the International Association of Rotary Clubs. He has traveled extensively and has visited many countries throughout the world in which there are Rotary clubs.

On July 2, 1910, he was married to Miss Jean Thomson, of Edinburgh, Scotland. She has accompanied him on many of his Rotary travels and has assisted him in entertaining many Rotary friends from all parts of the world at their home, "Comely Bank," in suburban Chicago. His friendship garden is one of the features of "Comely Bank."

While Paul Harris has devoted much of his time to Rotary, he has also been prominent in civic and professional work. He is honorary vice president of the International Society for Crippled Children and has served as chairman of the Committee on Professional Ethics and member of the board of managers of the Chicago Bar Association at the International Congress of Law at The Hague. He has also served as a member of the International Committee of the American Bar Association.

Citizens and governments of many countries have expressed their appreciation of his work through official decorations, honors, and awards which they have bestowed upon him.

Surplus Food Products Go to Needy Families

The annual report of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation reveals the great progress made by the New Deal in correcting the evil of need in the midst of plenty. By means of the Food Stamp Plan, School Lunch Program and the distribution of food commodities to State welfare agencies, thousands of tons of the agricultural surplus have been brought to people who were in need of them and who, without the employment of these methods, would not have been able to secure them.

By means of the free school lunch program 29,000,000 pounds of commodities were distributed in 14,000 schools for the benefit of 900,000 children. State welfare agencies received for distribution to needy and unemployed persons farm products of about forty kinds in the amount of 30,500 carloads. Among the commodities were such important items of diet as butter, skim milk and evaporated milk, eggs, oranges, grapefruit, apples, peaches, raisins, prunes and many kinds of vegetables.

These surplus commodities went to an average of 10,500,000 needy people each month to supplement their regular supplies.

British, Irish Police Hunt Outlawed I. R. A. Terrorists

Firemen search wreckage after bomb explosion in London

PATROLING the 180-mile border between Northern Ireland and the Irish Free State are 5000 special policemen, armed with rifles and revolvers, one of the many forces now at work in the British Isles to crush terrorist bands of the Irish Republican Army.

In training its guns on the I. R. A., the government of Eire is joining with that of England to effect the purge of a group whose activity, they feel, can bring nothing but unrest, perhaps civil war. By policing the border and guarding ports, they hope to break up the I. R. A. and sever contact between its functioning bodies.

Recent assaults which spurred this drive on the I. R. A. included the robbery of a state arsenal in Dublin, the shooting of a government agent in Cork. The country-wide search for members of the group followed the granting of new and sweeping powers, almost dictatorial in character, to Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and his government.

IRELAND'S fight for complete independence from England reaches back through the centuries to the days of Irish kings who went into battle with their fierce wolfhounds. The present movement began 23 years ago when groups of men and boys banded together as the Irish Volunteers.

This organization wanted home rule, fought and bled to get it. De Valera was one of the original leaders, and once was under sentence of death for his part in the revolt of Easter, 1916, a bloody rebellion that was a failure.

NYA Operates 60 Texas Workshops

Austin.—Sixty workshops have been set up throughout the State since the inception in June 1938, of a state-wide workshop program to give unemployed Texas youth work experience and training to help fit them for earning a living, according to J. C. Kellam, State NYA Administrator.

Training, he said, in woodworking, general metal working, auto mechanics, aviation mechanics, radio, sheet metal work, arts and crafts, foundry work, and farm shop work afforded the needy out-of-school youth of Texas an opportunity to work and earn money while they learn.

The San Marcos Resident Center, giving instruction in the fundamentals of wood-working, general metal working, and auto mechanics, was the first workshop to be started, Kellam said. He added that since that time the remainder of the sixty workshops have been set up with the advice of local advisory committees and in conjunction with city and county sponsors, school systems, county political subdivisions, and state institutions of higher learning.

According to Kellam, these local committees advise and help set up policies as to the type of training to fit youth, the labor turnover, and the future employment possibilities in various trades in each particular community. One of the main services of these committees is cooperating with the National Youth Administration and the Texas State Employment Service in placing youth who have had NYA work experience as apprentices in private industry.

Kellam declared that in setting up the program the National Youth Administration had been fortunate in having the advice and help of a state-wide committee composed of outstanding leaders in industry, education and labor.

Members of the state-wide committee are Harry W. Acreman, Executive Secretary Texas State Federation of Labor; Frank Kinzbach, President, Kinzbach Tool Company; C. E. Doyle, County Superintendent of Education; S. W. Doerner, Business Agent, International Machinists Union; Carl White, President, White House Printers, Inc.; R. C. Fragin, Houston Foundry and Machine Company; C. L. Mulholland, Field Representative, International Machinists Union; C. E. Evans, President, Southwest Texas State Teachers College; and Travis J. Lewis, former member of the State Planning Board, representing Labor, and NYA Field Supervisor, who serves as Consultant to the Committee.

"The most satisfying knowledge to me," concluded State Administrator Kellam, "is that in acquiring coordination of hand and mind in NYA workshops to better equip them for private employment, these youth have received work experience in basic fundamentals of modern shop equipment as well as a thorough background of necessary safety standards."

FSA Provides Funds To Improve Farm

SHALLOWATER, Texas.—It's an ill wind that blows no good.

Grover C. Johnson, who is looking forward to the brightest farming prospects in more than 20 years, readily agrees with this old adage for it was a storm sweeping thru the Shallowater area last June 20, leaving destruction in its wake, that has indirectly improved the outlook for him.

For more than 20 years Johnson and his family had resided near Lamesa. By hard work and economical living they finally had succeeded in paying for the 10-acre farm upon which they resided. During most of this period they had rented and farmed additional land in order to make a living.

Two years ago, Johnson's son rented a farm in Lubbock County near Shallowater, and the father commuted back and forth between this land and his Lamesa farm while assisting with the work. Then came the storm of last June.

Soon, Johnson learned that one 252-acre farm upon which the storm had destroyed the house, windmill and outbuildings was for sale. He decided that this farm was just what he wanted and a deal—soon was consummated whereby he traded his 10-acre Lamesa farm as down payment on the larger tract.

Johnson erected a temporary shack on the storm-swept farm and moved in with his wife, son and two daughters. He and his son then set about salvaging all usable lumber from the wrecked buildings, and started work on a new home, doing practically all of the work themselves.

"I already had observed results of soil and water conservation practices being demonstrated by the Soil Conservation Service CCC camp near Lamesa, and had decided to use such practices on my newly-acquired farm," Johnson said. "While discussing this plan, I learned that loans for development of small water resources were available under provisions of the Department of Agriculture water facilities program."

"The result was that I obtained a loan through the Farm Security Administration which provided a good well, windmill, 1,500-gallon storage reservoir, a milkhouse with overflow water running through the cooling troughs, and piped water to the poultry house, barn, stock drinking tank, and an earthen tank which will be used to irrigate a home garden. Water also was piped to the house for use in the kitchen and bathroom."

Last November, the Johnson family moved into a modern, six-room stucco home which had been constructed largely from the salvaged materials Johnson's $4,200 gross income from two farms cultivated last year was sufficient to pay all costs of erecting the new home as well as the usual family living expenses.

In connection with the water facilities development, Johnson has instituted a complete soil conservation program on his new farm. He is constructing terraces this winter and expects to be able to hold practically all of the water from spring rains on his land.

"With my family located in a new home on a farm large enough to provide a good living, I am confident that the end of 1940 will find me well on the road to success if we have anything like a seasonal year," Johnson said. "My milk cows, hogs, chickens, and the garden which will be possible through irrigation should provide practically all of our food with an excess for market, and I am certain that the better land use program outlined for my farm will give me assurance of producing fair crops if rainfall should be low."

Lone Tree

Mrs. George Fletcher, Reporter Mrs. T. S. Fletcher left soon after Christmas with her niece, Mrs. Dave Steiner and family for Canon, Kans. From there, Mrs. Fletcher went to Springfield, Mo., to visit in the home of her son, Henry Fletcher, and with her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Rogers, Sparta, Mo.

The school buses for Lone Tree could not run several days last week because of the big drifts. Byron Fletcher worked all day, Monday with his tractor and bus trying to open the roads but Tuesday morning the tracks had blown full and it was all to do over.

Paul Fletcher, who uses propane gas to heat and cook with, ran completely out Tuesday. The truck from the Perryton Liquefied Gas Company were until midnight breaking thru the drifts.

The George Fletcher children have been quite sick with the flu the past two weeks.

Noah Fletcher is driving the school bus while Harvey Fletcher is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wagner, Alene and Leta, broke thru the roads Tuesday to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wagner, to see how they fared thru the storm.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fletcher, Thomas and Judith, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hurter, Thursday.

The Good Samaritan club did not meet because of the roads. Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Adair have been visiting the past week in the Paul Fletcher home.

PAY YOUR SCHOOL TAXES!

Deadline, February 1!

Taxes for 1939 in the Perryton Independent School District are due and must be paid before February 1, 1940, to escape the burden of additional penalties and interest charges.

The officials of the Perryton school district appreciate the general attitude of the taxpayers toward the importance of keeping the schools functioning. We know that many have sacrificed in order to make their school tax payments.

Due to this splendid spirit of cooperation on the part of most of the taxpayers of the district, the Perryton schools have not only been maintained at a high rate of efficiency, but it has been possible to gradually raise the standard of the school system.

Delinquent Penalties!

Pay your 1939 taxes before February 1, 1940, and avoid the addition of extra penalties and interest charges. Remember that penalties on 1939 unpaid taxes are added at the rate of one per cent per month until July 1, 1940, when the penalty is increased to eight per cent and interest charges at the rate of one-half per cent per month are added.

Taxes Must Be Paid Now!

Although valuations have been lowered five per cent the tax rate remains at 70c. The operating budget is higher and delinquent taxes must be collected. All property owners in the district must carry their part of the load. Delinquent taxes are going to be collected! Arrangements can be made to pay delinquent taxes on the partial payment plan. Do this and avoid suit.

INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

Jesus on the Eve of Calvary

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 28.
Text: Matthew 21:1-16

ALTHOUGH the shadow of tragedy was drawing over the earthly life of Jesus, we find Him on the eve of Calvary in a scene of popular enthusiasm as he enters Jerusalem. There he virtually proclaims or acknowledges His Messiahship while multitudes along the way cry, "Hosanna," and welcome Him as "the King that cometh in the name of the Lord."

History affords many such examples of popular enthusiasm concerning great leaders and teachers, whose careers ended in martyrdom. Popular enthusiasm is very fickle, and where devotion to a Christian teacher is not based upon love and loyalty and an understanding of his teaching, emotional devotion soon runs out or even turns to hostility.

It seems doubtful whether the people ever really turned against Jesus, but His enemies were effective in developing at least some popular opposition; for, when Pilate offered to release Jesus in accordance with the custom of pardoning some prisoner at the Feast of the Passover, those who were within the sound of Pilate's voice cried, "Not this man, but Barabbas." It would seem on the surface as if Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem were at variance with what He had been telling His disciples about the nature of His kingdom. He had been trying to make it plain that His kingdom was not of this world, that He had not come to set up material power, but that He had a deeper spiritual purpose.

Did not this triumphal entry into Jerusalem, with the people acclaiming Him as king, give an altogether different emphasis? One would think so, and one wonders just what was its purpose.

MAY it not be that Jesus realized that "his hour was come," and that this was a great outward avowal of His Messiahship, challenging the faith and devotion of the people as He had already challenged the faith and devotion of the inner circle of disciples, inviting the people to recognize His Messiahship and preparing the way for the fulfillment of His earthly mission which was so shortly to follow?

As a part of this outward witness to His own Messiahship came the symbolic purging of the temple and the driving out of those who had materialized religion and, as Jesus said, made the temple "a den of thieves."

So extreme an acknowledgment of His Messiahship, with its challenge, could not but bring results. While the people welcomed Him, throwing their garments in the way of spreading palm branches and crying, "Hosanna to the son of David," the priests and scribes, the official representatives of religion, were roused to indignation. The very triumph of this entry of Jesus into Jerusalem may have intensified the opposition to Him and hurried the events that were bringing Him to His sacrificial death.

Christian Science

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 28.

The Golden Text is: "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth" (Isaiah 25:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge, that I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?" (Proverbs 22:20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings" (page 286).

A. J. Neufeld Laid To Rest in Bethel

Friends and relatives of A. J. Neufeld, a resident of Beaver County, Okla., for thirty-five years, gathered in the Bethel Mennonite Church, January 10 for simple, impressive funeral services conducted by H. P. Kleiver, pastor, assisted by F. D. Koehn and others.

The choir sang his favorite hymns and after the final rites the body was laid to rest in the Bethel Cemetery.

Obituary

A. J. Neufeld was born in the village of Sparrow, Russia on June 4, 1869. In 1878, he came with his parents to America and settled about ten miles south of Hillsboro, Kans.

In the year of 1890, he realized his lost condition and accepted Christ as his personal Savior. He was baptized by his uncle Peter Neufeld and accepted into the Mennonite Brethren Church of which he remained a faithful member until his death.

In 1897 he was married to Julia Goetz and with her shared the sorrows and joys of life for 43 years and two days. To this union were born five sons and five daughters, all of whom are living.

The family moved to Cooper, Oklahoma, from Kansas in 1901 and four years later moved to the present home in Beaver County. Mr. Neufeld had been sick often during his lifetime but he was always very patient in his suffering. On January 5, about six o'clock in the evening, he had a sudden spell of dizziness and had to be led to the house. As he reached the door he collapsed and in two hours his spirit had returned to Him who gave it. Death was caused by a stroke of paralysis.

He leaves to mourn his death, his wife, five sons, five daughters, two son-in-laws, four daughter-in-laws, seventeen grandchildren, six step-grandchildren, one brother, P. A. Neufeld, Hitecock, Okla.; and two sisters, Mrs. H. H. Fast, Fresno, California and Mrs. John Bechtloff, Watonga, Okla. One infant grandson preceded him in death.

On January 1 more than 33,000 postmasters, of whom 29,000 are in the fourth class, were brought under the Federal Retirement Act. The retirement age is 70 years, but beneficiaries must have served at least 15 years.

Wildlife Increases in Southern Great Plains

During the long period of drought in the Southern Great Plains which brought the black blizzards and dust storms, food and shelter for wildlife was reduced to such an extent that some species almost disappeared from the Plains. Within recent years the ever-increasing use of soil conservation practices has been of great benefit in increasing valuable wildlife. Lack of vegetation around stock watering ponds (upper left) prevents use by wildlife, while development to encourage wildlife (upper right) results in production of ducks and other valuable species. Plants along the banks also reduce wave-cutting and catch silt. Control of gullies by use of trees, shrubs and grasses (lower left) provides homes for quail and song birds. Field border plantings for wind erosion control (lower right) supply food and shelter for wildlife on the Plains. Such birds compensate farmers for this help by aiding in insect control, Soil Conservation Service technicians declare.

Arms and the Men in Bomb Plot

Terrorist gun and bomb plot to overthrow the United States government was charged by G-men in arrest of members of "Christian Front," anti-Semitic organization, and seizure of their small arsenal of bombs, ammunition, rifles and materials for making explosives. Among 17 being held for hearing are John Thomas Cassidy, left inset, and William G. Bishop, right, described by FBI as "brains" of the alleged conspiracy.

Perryton Legislator is Candidate for Senate, 31st Senatorial District

Max Boyer, Perryton attorney and a member of the Texas House of Representatives from the 124th district, is a candidate for the State Senate of Texas from the 31st Senatorial District, which includes Ochiltree and 25 other Panhandle counties. The district is now represented by Senator C. C. Small.

Mr. Boyer is now serving his second term as state representative from this district which is composed of ten counties, Dallam, Hartley, Sherman, Moore, Hansford, Hutchinson, Ochiltree, Roberts, Lipscomb and Hemphill. His home district is almost solid behind him in his desire for promotion to the upper house.

Max Boyer came to Perryton from Perry, Oklahoma shortly after graduating from the law department of the University of Oklahoma. After practicing law for two years, he was elected and served three two-year terms as county attorney.

He is married and a member of the Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge, and the Perryton Lions Club of which he was president in '36. He has been very active in civic work in this community and in the ranks of the Democratic party. Mr. Boyer was the Permanent Chairman of the first West Texas Young Democratic organization and presided over its first convention held in Lubbock in 1933.

Among the highlights of his legislative career was the Dallam-Hartley Counties Land Bill which permitted reappraisal of 50,000 acres of Panhandle land, preventing loss of this land to many Panhandle farmers, which measure was authored and sponsored by Boyer in the Legislature. Other legislative activities of the Perryton legislator included joint authorship of a measure to prevent transportation of stolen livestock; supported measures authorizing State to carry workman's compensation on its employees; supported measures designed to set up system of control of erosion to protect the soil of the farms of Texas and supported measures to provide funds to provide for needy aged, blind, dependent children, and teacher retirement. His leadership in the House is well known and his interests have always been for the "average citizen" of the Panhandle.

In making his decision to run for the Senate, Boyer commented, "I have gained much experience in the House, and I can accomplish a great deal more for the whole Panhandle by membership in the Senate. The 'average citizen' will be my first concern if I am elected and I do not expect to promise the impossible during the course of my campaign. I earnestly believe that Panhandle citizens are entitled to full consideration in all proposed legislation and I pledge my best efforts to that end," Boyer concluded.

Universal To Be Host Mon.

The public has been invited to visit the showroom of the Universal Motor Company on Monday, January 29, when the Mercury Economy Test Run Car comes to Perryton. The 1940 Mercury has been equipped with a special gasoline meter and valuable prizes will be given for the person able to drive it the farthest on one-tenth gallon of gasoline. Anyone is eligible to enter the contest. The car will arrive here from Woodward, Oklahoma, at 4:00 p. m. and will leave the following morning at 8:00 o'clock after remaining in Perryton overnight.

In addition to the contest all persons entering will receive a miniature Mercury 8 coin bank that will prove to be a hit with the kiddies.

All persons interested in what the Mercury will do in the way of gas saving are requested to look over the official log book that contains the complete record of the test run held in other towns during the period the car has been on the road.

Gayland Redfern, manager of the Universal Motor Company, invites the public to come in and see for themselves what the amazing economy of the new Mercury 8 shows by these tests.

NO. 1—CONTINUED FROM FRONT PAGE

Commissioner from Precinct No. 4, the southeast part of the county. Mr. Calliham served as Commissioner from this Precinct for two terms, 1935-38. He did not run for a third term. Mr. Calliham states that he made his decision to run only after R. L. Flowers, now serving his first term as Commissioner from this Precinct, informed him that he would not run for a second term. During the 14 years that he has resided in Ochiltree county, Mr. Calliham has made many friends by his fair business dealings as the owner and operator of a large cattle ranch on Wolf Creek. His record for four years as a Commissioner, his first and only time to run for or hold public office, is Calliham's best recommendation. He is worthy and will appreciate the support and consideration of his friends and neighbors of Precinct No. 4.

Gyger for Sheriff

Ernest Gyger will be a candidate for sheriff, tax collector and assessor in the July primary. Mr. Gyger made his first race for a public office two years ago when he ran for this same office and was defeated by only four votes by Sheriff Talley. Gyger is a native Texan, being born of native Texan parents in Comanche county in 1897. In 1907 he came to Beaver county with his parents when they fled on land near Gray. When Perryton started in 1919, he moved to this town where he has resided ever since. During the World War, he served in the United States army and is now an active member of the American Legion. He is a member of the Masonic orders and the Christian Church, is married and the father of two sons. Mr. Gyger is a farmer and stock raiser and during the construction of the Wolf Creek dam was a labor foreman. He will appreciate the consideration and support of all voters, and pledges that if elected, he will administer the affairs of this office with fairness and justice and to the best of his ability.

Boyer for State Office

An announcement that will create much interest in Ochiltree county is the entry of a home man into the race for the State Senate from the 31st Senatorial District. This district is composed of 26 north counties of the Panhandle. Senator Clint Small is the present incumbent in this office. During the 11 years that Mr. Boyer has resided in Perryton, he has risen to a position of much power and prestige, not only at home but throughout the entire state. He is now serving his second term as Representative from the 124th district in the State Legislature and the wonderful record he has made in this office entitles him to the united support of his home district in his race for the State Senate.

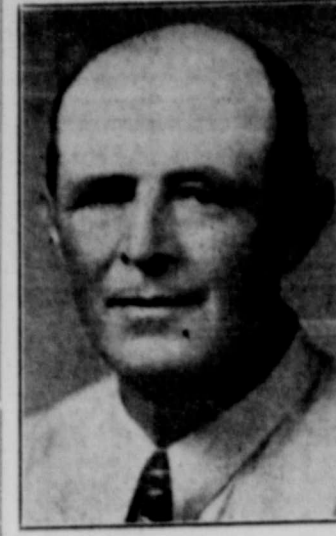

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. LaMaster returned Friday from a two weeks trip into southern Texas. Her mother, Mrs. C. S. Tandy, who accompanied them, remained in LaPera, in the home of a daughter.

Seeks Reelection

J. S. "Sid" Talley, now serving his 32nd year as sheriff of Ochiltree county, will be a candidate for a 17th term in the Democratic primary in July. Sheriff Talley holds the unchallenged record for the longest continuous service of any sheriff in the history of the United States.

For Commissioner

J. H. Calliham is back into the Ochiltree county political arena as a candidate for Commissioner from the southeast part of the county, Precinct No. 4. "Cal" served this precinct as Commissioner for two terms, 1935-38. He did not run for reelection in 1938 for the 1939-40 term. R. L. Flowers is the present Commissioner from Precinct No. 4.

For Reelection

B. H. Peckenaugh, farmer-stockman from the west part of the county, will be candidate to succeed himself as Commissioner from Precinct No. 2, the northwest quarter of the county. Mr. Peckenaugh is now serving his first term in this important position.

Gyger for Sheriff

Ernest Gyger will oppose Sheriff Talley for renomination in the coming Democratic primary, July 27. Gyger fell short four votes of receiving as many votes as Talley in the primary two years ago. It was Gyger's first time to seek a public office.

Entire Family Is Rescued By Plane

A mother and two small children were brought to the Perryton hospital here Saturday in the only ski equipped plane in the Panhandle, suffering from badly frozen hands and limbs. Pilot Harold Hawk had been flying medicine to the Noel King family who were marooned since last Wednesday at the Phillips Booster Station, 26 miles southwest of Perryton in the snow-bound waste.

The King family, residents of Guymon, Oklahoma, skidded into a ditch Tuesday night of last week near the booster station in a raging blizzard. King left the car taking Lorea, age 2, with him and walked three miles to get help. Both suffered with frozen face, feet and hands. Upon the return of a relief party, it was found that Mrs. King and Gracie Faye, age seven months, were almost frozen to death. Medical advice was received by telephone from a Phillips Company doctor at Bartlesville, Okla. Members of the family are all recovering.

In addition to daily feeding his marooned cattle northwest of Perryton, Harold Hawk has rescued

HURN'S Mid-Winter Clearance SALE

Due to the extremely cold weather and the snow blocked highways that have prevented many of our regular customers from taking advantage of the money-saving values in our annual mid-winter store-wide clearance sale, we have decided to continue this sale. You'll save many a "buck" by bucking through the snow drifts at Hurn's!
