Civilian Personnel

Reese Program Wins Approval

Col. C. P. West, base commander, has received a letter from Headquarters, USAF, complimenting Reese AFB on the favorable condition of the civilian personnel program for the base. The letter of commendation follows an inspection conducted during the week of July 12-16 by Thomas B. Elliott of the Eighth U. S. Civil Service Region in Dallas.

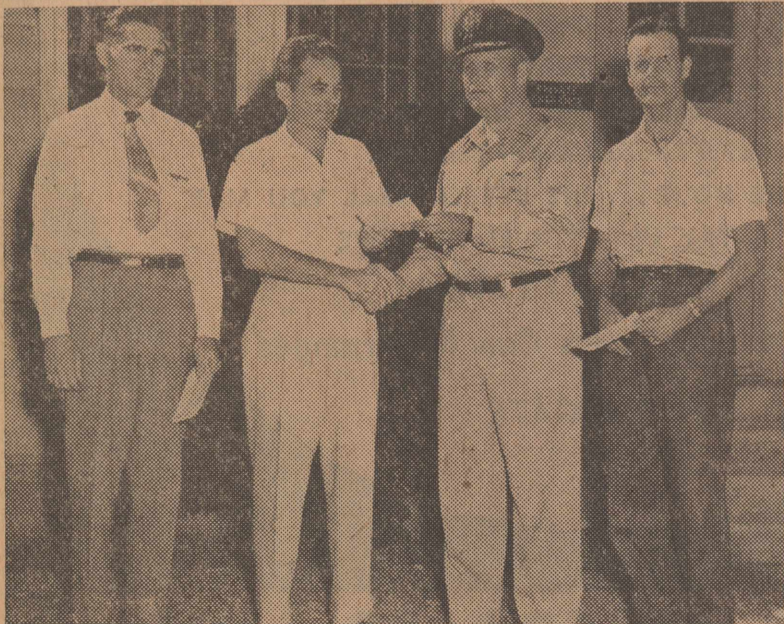

The report submitted by Mr. Elliott stated that personnel and operating officials were aware of their responsibilities for improving personnel management, the conservation and utilization of manpower and that special emphasis had been given to the employment of the physically handicapped. It was found that operating officials were doing an effective job in all three fields.

Lt. Col. Charles E. Wilson, wing personnel officer and the Civilian Personnel Officer states that all operating officials of the base, through their recognition of the need of effective personnel management, are responsible for the complimentary inspection report. Operating officials throughout the base have received cooperation from supervisors in their sections, both military and civilians, in carrying out good personnel management techniques.

Tennis Lessons Held Saturday Mornings For Base Teen-Agers

Every Saturday morning at 1100, the base will offer Tennis lessons to all youngsters between the ages of 11 and 16. The first class was held last Saturday morning, with 2nd Lt. Richard Macey and 1st Lt. James Joyce as instructors.

Although enrollment will always be open it is advisable for all who want to attend to come this Saturday, or they may get behind in training. Approximately 20 kids turned out for last weeks (Continued on page 4)

NUMBER 46

Base Commander Welcomes Kids

Welcome to Reese Air Force Base, kids! I am happy to join with the Kiwanis Club of Lubbock in sponsoring the annual observance of Kids' Day.

We have opened the base to all kids today so that you may have an opportunity to see your Air Force in action. You'll see how we work and live at Reese and how we accomplish our mission of training young men -- the kids of yesterday --- to be capable pilots, the Air Force commanders of tomorrow.

Exhibits have been set up on the base to show you just how we accomplish this mission. You'll see the aircraft we fly, mechanics working on these aircraft to keep them the best and safest planes in the world, and the Ground School, where we teach the thousand and one things a good pilot must know.

Enjoy yourselves, and we hope you will be able to tell your friends and families that you are proud of Reese AFB and of the United States Air Force!

Service Club To Start Monthly Birthday Party

Starting this month the Base Service club will hold a monthly airmen's birthday party, Mrs. Catherine Mundell, service club director announced today. The first of these parties will be held this Sunday afternoon at 1600.

All airmen whose birthday fell in the month of September will be honored at this Sunday's affair. Gifts and cake will be given to all those attending.

All airmen who have not registered in the club birthday book are encouraged to do so.

Scenes like this will occur at air bases all over the United States as the U. S. Air Force joins in the celebration of National Kids' Day on September 25th. Here, two instructors answer the many questions fired at them by the inquisitive youngsters.

New Rotation Plan In Effect

A new overseas rotation plan for officers went into effect here this week, following receipt of a letter from FlyTAF headquarters.

Under the new plan, officers in category IV, that is, officers who have never been overseas, or who have not been overseas within a period of 73 or more months, will be given foreign assignments in any specialty in which they are qualified, including additional and secondary AFSCs. Previously, officers were assigned overseas in their primary AFSC only. Officers in categories I, II and III will continue to be assigned in their primary AFSCs, the letter from headquarters read.

The new plan went into effect immediately on a trial basis, and will continue until January 1, when it will either be permanently adopted or discarded.

Another provision of the rotation plan is a ruling that all officers volunteering for overseas volunteer for AF-wide assignment, although they may specify their areas of preference. Formerly, officers volunteered for area assignment only.

Officers must have been at Reese 14 months before making volunteer statements, except in the case of class "B" personnel, who must have served 32 months before volunteering for overseas. "B" officers are those who are here on a specified tour, such as instructor pilots.

AF Orders New Sabre From North American

Los Angeles (AFPS) -- A sixth model of the Sabrejet series, the F-86K, has been ordered by the Air Force from North American Aviation.

The new fighter is almost identical in appearance to the rocket-firing F-86D jet interceptor. The chief difference is in armament. The "K" carries four 20-mm cannons instead of the 24 "Mighty Mouse" rockets carried by the "D".

Sec. Talbott:

US Air Defenses Are Good Enough To Repel Attack

Washington (AFPS) -- The nation's air defenses are now good enough to possibly forestall any attack by the Russians, according to AF Sec. Harold E. Talbott.

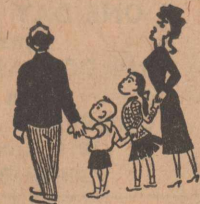

Mr. Talbott, interviewed on the NBC-TV program "Meet the Press" recently, said that he had noted impressive gains in air defenses while on a recent tour of Alaskan installations.

He implied that U. S. defenses would be able to destroy more than half of any attacking force when he said that he did not believe "the enemy would attack if he thought he would lose 50 percent of his weapons."

He conceded that the present defenses would not be as effective against the Soviet's new high-flying jet bombers. But he added that the problem of defense against this type of bomber "is what we're working on--and we're making progress."

The AF has to work on the assumption that the Russians now may be concentrating a lot on producing heavy jet bombers for attack purposes, Mr. Talbott said. Now they could attack only with piston-type Tu-4's which the U. S. and Canadian defenses could destroy easily.

Local Youngsters To Get Acquainted With Reese AFB

Kids' Day, 1954! Reese Air Force base throws wide its gates to all kids who want to learn more about the men and equipment of the air age--and enjoy themselves. Kids' Day is sponsored by Kiwanis International and supported by U. S. Air Force bases throughout the United States and in Alaska and Hawaii.

So, Kids . . . this is your day! While you are visiting with us here at Reese we want you to see the many exhibits and demonstrations that have been set up especially for you. At 8:30 a. m. there is a parade at the Wing Parade Grounds as the men of Reese Air Force Base march in review.

Beginning at 9:00 there will be a series of exhibits to inform and entertain you. Check the map on page six of the ROUNDUP to find the location of these points of interest.

The ground school is open for your inspection, Kids. There you will see cut-away of a B-25 bomber training plane which will show all the working parts. There are classroom demonstrations, too, but these are a little bit different from those in your own classrooms.

At the base theatre there is a continuous movie of combat films in addition to a Kid's matinee. Don't miss this!

You youngsters will be able to see and "fly" the link trainer which the Air Force uses to train its pilots without leaving the ground.

You can see how parachutes are packed for the flyers when you visit the parachute loft.

There are a lot of exhibits waiting for you down at the flight line, too. That's where all the planes are parked. You will get a close-up look at the T-28 and B-25 training planes, you can even go inside them and look around. Also on the flight line you will find crash trucks which are always (Continued on page 6)

AF Day At Fair

It's FREE for Reese Personnel. There will be no admission charge to the Panhandle and South Plains Fair on October 1. That is the day that has been set aside for Armed Forces Day at the Fair, which opens in Lubbock next week.

THE ROUNDUP

The ROUNDUP is the unofficial newspaper of Reese Air Force Base, published every Friday by Dennis Bros. Printers, 1820 19th St., Lubbock, Texas. Opinions expressed herein are not necessarily endorsed by the Air Force.

Chaplain's Chat . . .

Every so often we see a store window with a sign in it "Under New Management." In like manner people come under the new management of God in all their avenues of self-expression and stewardship.

Once in filming a new production, the actress Loretta Young said to a man in a minor role, "We have missed you around here. Where have you been?" He replied meaningfully, "I have been away. In fact, last year I died." Puzzled, she inquired what he meant. He told her his story. He had become an alcoholic. A friend who was to be away for the winter offered to let him use his town house. He fell unconscious in a stupor one night and in the cold caught pneumonia. When "neighbors" discovered him and took him to the hospital the authorities said he was dead.

But a young intern kept working on him. The only special nurses the Motion Picture Relief Association could supply for help were members of another race whom he despised. Their zeal and devotion for fifty solid hours brought back his health, and a new spiritual outlook. So he said, "As a result of their giving my life is under a new management."

One of the great Biblical ideas is that our lives both personal and commercial, local and national, need repeatedly to come under the new management of God. We have freely received the gifts of God to guard and use as his trustees. Our management of life's materials should be the same as that of the trustees of a hospital -- who administer the hospital but do not own it.

M/Sgt. P. J. O'Keefe left recently for Brooks General Hospital at San Antonio. Mrs. O'Keefe and their two children accompanied him.

Friends were happy to see the smiling face of M/Sgt. Clarence Shearer this past week end after a lengthy absence. Sergeant Shearer has been recuperating from an illness at Sheppard AFB hospital.

Mrs. Marvin Hill has returned home after undergoing major surgery.

T/Sgt. and Mrs. Joe Blanks were honored with an anniversary and going-away party Saturday night in the home of S/Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Dwyer at 113 Arnold Drive. Sergeant and Mrs. Blanks celebrated their 14th wedding anniversary. He is due to report to Olmstead AFB, Pa., next month for assignment in the publicity branch of a recruiting group. Home movies were taken of the party at which 19 guests were present.

Major General and Master Sergeant:

Former Cadet Classmates Meet As General Disosway Visits Base

Major General Gabriel P. Disosway, commanding general of the Flying Training Air Force, stopped briefly here at Reese AFB early this week. The purpose for the visit was a routine inspection but it wasn't altogether "routine." Col. C. P. West, base commander, presented Master Sergeant Dallas M. Tourtellot, Hq ABG, to the general upon his arrival here at Reese. Then, the general and the sergeant proceeded to talk over "old times."

General Disosway and Sergeant Tourtellot were classmates in cadet training at Randolph Field, San Antonio, in 1933. At that time the general was a student officer, having graduated from West Point. Sergeant Tourtellot left the cadet program in January, 1934, and maintained inactive reserve status until 1941. At the beginning of World War II he returned to active duty and has been serving as an enlisted man since that time. Sergeant Tourtellot is now NCOIC of organization supply, Hq Sq Sec, ABG.

The main topic of conversation between the general and the sergeant was the accomplishments of other classmates, many of whom are now full colonels or general officers.

REESE ON SPORTS ON REESE

By A/2C JIM REESE

A record has been established! Not a single miss on the football predictions for last Saturday, the opening day of the season. Yessiree . . . Ole' Reese on Sports on Reese didn't miss a one. And we intend to maintain that record! No, you don't need to look for last week's ROUNDUP to check on this. We didn't miss any predictions because we didn't make any. Some of the other erstwhile prognosticators might do better this way. How were we to know Mississippi Southern was going to bushwhack Alabama again?

One thing we did say last week -- we said that Oklahoma and California were going to play a whale of a football game. Haven't heard of anybody who was disappointed. Looks like the Sooners are the class of college football again. If Bud Wilkinson keeps this up, they'll probably deed him the state of Oklahoma. The Big Red takes on the Horned Frogs of TCU tomorrow. TCU took Kansas by three touchdowns last week. OU and TCU both are undefeated and untied (that's not too hard -- after just one game each) but there the similarity between the two teams seems to end. Coach Abe Martin of TCU is predicting a "close" game, whatever that means.

But the big one this week is up in Hoosierland at South Bend. Notre Dame is out to corral the Texas Longhorns. Last week the Irish had scouts in Austin taking notes on the Texas victory over LSU. (Notre Dame had an open date.) But Texas didn't show much to the scouts as the 'Horns played the entire game under wraps. Coach Ed Price seemed to be content with a two touchdown margin. Texas scored the first two times it took the ball, then the second team took over. When LSU scored their lone touchdown (final score 20-7 Texas) the first team went back in and marched 92 yards for another tally. Then they settled back to think about Notre Dame. An' that takes a little bit of thinking! The Fighting Irish beat Texas in Memorial Stadium at Austin back in 1952 by a score of 14-3. It was exactly 20 years ago that the Longhorns took Notre Dame into camp, the score was 7-6. This will be the fifth meeting between the two schools, Notre Dame holding a 3-1 edge. Look for the winner of this year's game to move into the number one spot in the national rankings and the loser will probably stay in the top ten -- that's how powerful these two clubs are.

That takes care of the 1st (Oklahoma), 2nd (Notre Dame), and 4th (Texas) teams. The number three team, Maryland, has the day off tomorrow. Georgia Tech takes on once-beaten Florida and Illinois plays Penn State. Michigan State, the nation's seventh-place team ties into twelfth-ranked Iowa in a nationally-televised game and UCLA goes against Kansas. Mississippi plays Kentucky in the south and has its ninth-place ranking at stake. Baylor has pulled into a tie for tenth, primarily on the strength of the trouncing of Houston by 53-13. This week the Bears play Vanderbilt. Wisconsin, the other tenth-place club is host to Marquette.

There you have the top ten for this week. Look for a major overhaul in the make-up of this honored circle. That's about the only prediction it's safe to make.

Well, you know the base intramural football schedule is in full swing. Beginning next week, after all the teams have had a chance to accumulate their share of skinned knees, we'll start running the weekly standings.

There's some fine tennis being played here at Reese, too. The semi-final match in the base championship tourney will be held tomorrow morning at 9:00. The final tilt will be run off Sunday afternoon at 14:00.

World Series time is here again -- you can sing the foregoing refrain to the tune of the old Democratic standby, "Happy Days Are Here Again." All Dodger and Yankee fans will probably refrain from singing the refrain, so to speak. The Giants and Indians will square off in the first game of the best-of-seven series on the 29th. Incidentally, you don't have to take leave to see the games . . . they're all going to be televised. But watch those lo-o-ong coffee breaks . . .

Officers Wives Club

By Mrs. Clyde H. Plemons

Members of the Officers Wives club attended a bridge and canasta party at the Officers club Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Lawrence Weber, senior hostess, was assisted by Mmes. Gayle Crawford, E. N. Gallaway, Ralph Reese, Jerome O. Witty and Bill McDonald. Mrs. B. E. Sailors scored high, second high went to Mrs. B. M. Kraas, and low was scored by Mrs. William E. Campbell.

In canasta, high was made by Mrs. George J. Swingle and second went to Mrs. Clyde L. Elliot.

Favors were presented to Mrs. Dexter Martin, John Kubo and Swingle.

The Officers Wives club will sponsor a style show Thursday, September 30th, at 2 p.m., at the Officers club. Models will be chosen from the club roster.

Mrs. Kubo is in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Kenneth W. Woglemuth will serve as narrator and Bernie Howell, organist, will furnish the background music. Mrs. James C. Watkins is to be senior hostess.

All associate members, honorary members, and guests are invited to attend.

Capt. and Mrs. Howard Cassells, 302 Harmon, Reese Village, have as their house guests her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Elliot of Jerome, Idaho. The trip was planned so the couple could see their infant grandson, Mark G. Cassells.

New OIS Officer

August, 1953. Before his assignment as information officer he instructed here in both T-28s and B-25s.

The captain and his wife are residents of Reese Village.

In Service Since 1932

Sergeant Blanks, on active duty since 1941, was born and raised in Petersburg, Va. He served in the National Guard from 1932 to 1941, in the Army between 1941 and 1943, in July, 1943 he came to the Air Corps.

Information and publicity have been his main duty since he has been in the Air Force. Before coming to Reese in January, 1952, he was stationed at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, where he was the top information man. He also wrote a highly classified history of the area while there. For more than a year of his tour here at Reese, he was in complete control of the information office.

Blanks lives in Reese Village with his wife and four children, the oldest of whom, Joe Jr., represented Reese in the recent Lubbock Soap Box Derby.

Tennis Lessons

Lesson, but the class can still handle many more students.

Lieutenant Macey is the Lubbock tennis champion, and he represented Lubbock at the Tri-state Tournament in Amarillo, last Labor Day.

The class is to be incorporated as one of the Youth Center activities, which is under the supervision of the Base Chaplains office.

The Saturday morning kids matinee has been moved back to 0945 to accommodate those wishing to attend the tennis lessons.

FLIGHT 1

Capt. Guy A. Belzon
2025

By 1st Lt. Ronald E. Nelson

A very successful party was enjoyed by all at the Officers club to celebrate the honor of being top T-28 flight for the month of August. With only the empty Texas fifth around the flight room, in remembrance of our party, gives the flight the desire to go after another Texas fifth.

Night flying is in full swing and with the help of Flight Two we should be able to finish up by tonight. That full moon surely has made night flying a pleasure.

The flight has lost an old timer from the gang for about two weeks in the name of Lt. Bennie Jew, who is being up graded to B-25's. Lt. Jew held out as long as he could but he was finally called. With the loss of this instructor our ratio is back to five to one.

At the beginning of the Special Weapons course the entire flight was scheduled, however with a number of the instructors having gone through this course as cadets and student officers they were excused, which made them very happy.

Next week instruments will be on the agenda. With many of the students ready for their IF-4 rides it won't be long until they will be ready to start range work and then the fun will begin. The thought that may be in the minds of some of the instructors during this phase of training is that they wish they were on a "slow boat to China".

FLIGHT 2

Capt. Frederick C. Schmidt
2175

By 2nd Lt. Kenneth C. Maltby

A new arrival in the family of Lt. and Mrs. Richard Jarvis, put in his appearance at the Base Hospital September 12th. Congratulations and best wishes are extended from everyone in the flight and the cigars were fine.

Back with us again is Lt. Earl Handing, who left the flight for a short time in order to complete Multi-engine Up Grading.

In line with the Air Forces policy of explaining the functions and employment of atomic weapons to personnel on the squadron level, Lt. Dausman, Lt. Rieder, and Lt. Jarvis will attend Special Weapons classes in the academic section.

Flight Two welcomes heartily our new flight commander Capt. F. C. Schmidt and our assistant flight commander Capt. Rudolph Kiss.

FLIGHT 4

Maj. Earl Morris
2150

By Capt. Frank K. Emery

The instructors of Flight Four were sorry to hear about Capt. Rance's current illness and hope that he will be out of the Base Hospital real soon. Capt. Rance entered the hospital last week and has been undergoing a series of laboratory tests to determine his trouble. Capt. Rance is in room 5, Ward 4 and may have visitors during regular visitors hours.

Last week the students of the flight were set back a notch with the recent change in solo requirements. There were several that were ready for solo except for a little total dual time and now the requirements have been increased to a total of sixteen hours dual instead of the previous fourteen.

Within the next few weeks the cross-country flights will be started and the students of Flight Four will get a chance to try out their navigation training. The day-night flights will leave in the afternoon, fly out to points about three hours distant and return by midnight with one refueling stop enroute. The three-day flights will leave on Fridays, fly out to points as far as six hours away and will return by midnight the following Sunday. This usually gives the students and instructors at least one days "rest and recuperation" at their destination before they have to return to the home base. Most of the students look forward to the 3-days with hopes of landing near their home towns and in many cases this works out. Of course the primary mission of the three-day flights is to familiarize the students with the requirements for planning an extended cross-country flight, landing at strange fields and flying in different weather and geographical conditions than available at their home base.

FLIGHT 5

Capt. Lawrence J. Bassett
2150

By 1st Lt. Robert J. Swanson

By far the most important news this week is the all important three-day rest between classes. The boost to morale can already be felt and seen throughout the flight. It would be a wonderful habit to get into.

Four instructors from Flight Five are attending the first class of Special Weapons instructions for permanent party personnel. These instructors are Captains: William F. Bassett, Norvin E. Rader, DeWitt R. Bunn, and Lt. Robert J. Swanson. Although the course is in addition to flight line duties it's proven so interesting that no one seems to mind.

As I mentioned before in this column, Class 55-F will start B-25 training on Thursday, 16 September. The rest of the week will be taken up with student assignments, ground briefing and familiarization rides.

FLIGHT 7

Capt. Robert C. Anderson
2550

By 1st Lt. Perry L. Allred

Congratulations to 55-F in completion of another phase of their pilot training. Flight seven released its half of 55-F Wednesday of this week and is gathering reinforcements in anticipation of a much larger class in 55-J. They are scheduled to report to the flight line September 20th.

Flight seven continues its quest for knowledge, when night school starts at Texas Tech this fall. Lt. Golden, Brown, Allred and Bunce will be on hand with sharp pencils and eager ambitions to further their education. Its a rough schedule but worth the extra effort.

FLIGHT 8

Capt. Frank Fuson
1900

By Lt. L. M. Standish

Capt. James A. Bishop and Capt. Donald W. Mishler have left for Maxwell AFB, Ala. to attend class 54-C of the Squadron Officers Course, for approximately three months. Lt. Jerry E. Fullerton departed last week on 21 days' leave. This leaves Flight Eight dejectedly looking around for new instructors. "But we've never lost a class yet," is the famous cry of the old timers.

A few words about our new flight commander, Capt. Frank C. Fuson, Jr. He has served in several other flights before taking charge of this one, so he is no stranger to the work. Neither is he any stranger to the Aviation Cadet Program, since he was on an aviation cadet team at Wichita, Kansas, immediately before coming to Reese, via Craig AFB (Pilot Instructor School), last December. During the last great war Capt. Fuson had extensive experience in the European Theater of Operations, flying thirty-five missions from England in the B-24. He served a tour in Alaska from 1946 to 1948, and from there until 1952 he was commanding officer of various basic training squadrons at Lackland, Sheppard, Sampson, and Parks Air Force Bases. Capt. Fuson heads a flight of experienced instructors, nearly all of whom have been in their present jobs over two years.

Kids' Day Points Of Interest

Howdy Kids! Here is your schedule of the big doings on Reese this morning. From 8 'til 12 the base is holding open house. Check the map next to this article for the location of the points of interest.

1. At 8:30 the Airmen of Reese will parade, for you, on the parade grounds.

From 9 'til 12 displays will be open at:

2. The ground school and B-25 demonstrator.

3. The base Theater which will be offering a continuous showing of combat movies and the Kids Matinee.

4. The Link trainer where you will be allowed to "fly the Link."

5. The flight line which will have B-25's and T-28's on display.

6. The new hanger, Bldg T-82, is the place you will be able to see airplanes being repaired.

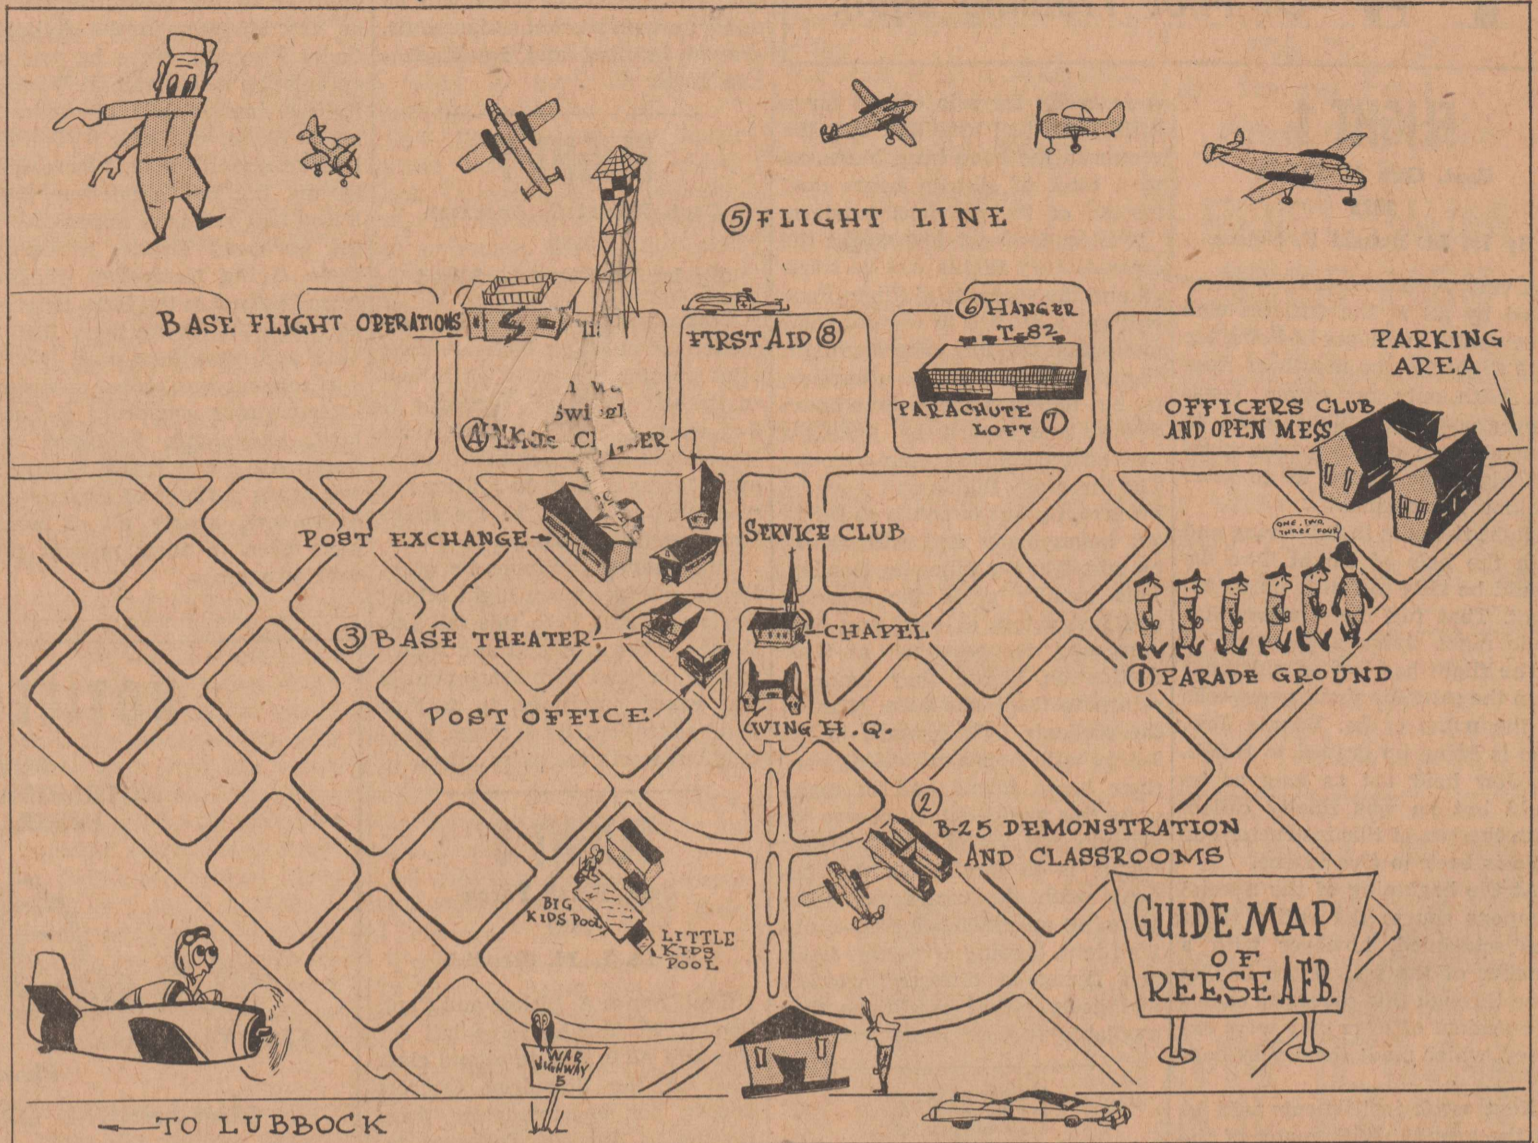

7. The parachute loft, where you can watch parachutes being packed.

Welcome Kids!

held in readiness for any emergency. The mobile first aid station is set up for you to see. The mobile control unit which handles the airplane traffic around the field is there for your inspection, too.

Yes, Kids, these and many other exhibits are waiting for your "tour of inspection." Reese AFB is happy to have you here. It is hoped that you'll have a good time, and will feel proud of this base--and the whole United States Air Force.

Capt. Whalen New OIS Officer As Capt. Ours Migrates North

NCOIC Leaves For Recruiting Duty

The past week has brought big personnel changes to the Reese information office. Both the officer-in-charge and NCOIC have been lost, and only one has been replaced.

Capt. Elmer E. Ours, information officer since December, has been reassigned to Greenland, and replaced by Capt. Byrne P. Whalen, who had been a B-25 instructor. However, no one has been designated to replace T/Sgt Joseph A. Blanks, who is going to Olmstead AFB, Pa.

Captain Ours arrived at Reese in May, 1951, and was assigned as a flight instructor. He then became an academic instructor, and in June, 1952, became assistant director of academics. From September, 1945, until coming to Reese the captain was in civilian life.

Shot Down on D-Day

During World War II, he spent two years flying with the 435th Troop Carrier group in the European theater, logging over 400 hours in C-47's. Captain Ours was shot down twice, once over Normandy on D-Day, when he had to ditch the plane in the English channel, and once over Bastogne.

A native of Winchester, Va., he is presently living, with his wife and three children, in Reese Village.

Captain Whalen, whose home is PERSONNEL CHANGE IN INFORMATION OFFICE — Capt. Byrne P. Whalen, seated, reads the orders designating him as Reese's new information officer, while Capt. E. E. Ours, center, whom he replaces, and T/Sgt. Joe Blanks, right, NCOIC, look on. We don't know what Captain Ours is laughing about, he's going to Greenland. Sergeant Blanks is being reassigned to Olmstead AFB, Pa.

Philadelphia, has been on active duty since May, 1951. He was commissioned in July, 1943, and released to inactive duty in August, 1946. An electronic counter measure pilot before going to Korea, Captain Whalen flew 50 night intruder missions in B-26s there. Returning from Korea, he attended Basic Instructor school at Craig AFB, Ala., and came to Reese in
