Reds Warned 'Yanks To Stay'

Strike Okayed By Telephone Labor Group

(By The Associated Press)

THE strike affecting 35,000 employes of International Harvester company was settled Wednesday night, but tension rose on another labor front as members of the CIO Association of Communication Equipment workers authorized the union's bargaining committee to call a nationwide strike against the Western Electric Co.

This was announced Wednesday by Ernest Weaver, union president. Weaver said the union would begin a "cold strike" Thursday. Unionists will march with placards around principal telephone offices but will not attempt to keep persons from entering the buildings, Weaver said.

The "cold strike" might spread into a real walkout, the union president continued. He said union members voted four-to-one to authorize such a walkout to enforce their demand for a 31-cents hourly pay raise.

Negotiations Continue

Weaver said ACEW members now earn an average of $1.15 an hour and that the company has refused "even to make an offer." He said a strike would affect 30,000 installers of heavy telephone equipment in 44 states and the District of Columbia.

Other labor developments:

At Chicago a two-day strike of 35,000 workers at nine International Harvester plants was settled.

Boost Of 11 Cents Granted

A company spokesman said Harvester and the CIO-Farm Equipment Workers uniod had agreed that a 11-cent hourly wage increase be made retroactive to June 28. The retroactivity clause had been the main stumbling block in the dispute. The union, in accepting the offer, had asked that it be made retroactive to June 14.

The spokesman said the current contract is "substantially" extended. Harvester had asked seven changes in the contract. The spokesman said Harvester "waived" these.

Tito Ends Seclusion With Visit To Belgrade Area

Yugoslavs Defy Moscow With New Independence Declaration

By WALTER WELEBIT
Associated Press Staff Writer

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, June 30—Marshal Tito's Communists today nailed up another proclamation of Yugoslavia's nationalistic independence of Moscow.

They hinted their willingness to deal with the West as well as the East on a basis of peaceful cooperation and equality, and revived the Moscow - derided project of a Balkan federation.

The program was announced as Tito appeared in public today for the first time in more than two weeks. Accompanied by top Communists and high-ranking army officers, he inspected a construction job in Belgrade. Members of youth brigades working on the job hailed him with shouts of "Tito, Tito" when he appeared. He spent two hours at the site.

Slavs Back Tito

His appearance indicated Yugoslavia's Communists still are behind Tito in defiance of the accusation by the Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform) that he is leading them astray from the world party line.

Meahwhile, reliable word was received here that the Cominform plans to discontinue publishing its bi-weekly newspaper in Belgrade. This was interpreted here as meaning that the Cominform would move its headquarters from Belgrade, but there was no confirmation of reports that the agency would shift its offices to Warsaw or Prague.

Outwardly the Yugoslav party leaders continued to hold out the olive branch by declaring they stood for "strengthening and further developing tight cooperation with the Soviet Union" and with the "peoples Democracies" of the other Soviet satellites.

Stronger Army Asked

But stoutly, they asserted, "the national independence of the people of Yugoslavia is the condition for their road to socialism and their progress in general."

They called for a "general strengthening" of the Yugoslav army which they declared "protects the freedom and independence of the people of Yugoslavia."

The declarations were contained in an eight-point program which Yugoslav Communist leaders have drawn up for the fifth congress of the party July 21. Its publication in the party organ, Borba, came only a few hours after the Yugoslav Communist party had denounced as lies and slander a Communist information bureau statement calling for Tito and his chief aides to change their course or lose their leadership.

Balkan Bloc Talked

The fourth plank of the party program espousing a Balkan bloc called for "uniting the Albanian and Bulgarian peoples and Yugoslav people on the principle of national equality."

(Communist Premier Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria proposed a Balkan federation last January after Tito had spoken favorably of the idea. The two leaders were believed to have discussed some phases of the project at a conference. Pravda, the Communist party newspaper in Moscow, openly declared Moscow's opposition. After this slap, both Dimitrov and Tito were silent).

The eight-point Yugoslav Communist party program declared for the continued "cooperation of the federated peoples republic of Yugoslavia in the struggle of democratic, anti - imperialistic forces of the world, headed by the Soviet Union, against anti-Democratic imperialistic forces and warmongers."

However, it emphasized its objective of "peaceful cooperation with all countries who wish to cooperate with the federalist peoples republic of Yugoslavia on a basis of honoring their independence and equality in the framework of the pricinples of the charter of the United Nations."

This appeared to be a guarded inclusion of the West, as well as the East, in Yugoslavia's relationships.

Further it declared its support of "all countries and all movements" which are "against interfering in the internal affairs of other countries and for respecting their independence."

In addition it stressed its continued support of "workers move-

Marshall Says Quick Action To Be Taken

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 30—Secretary of State Marshall today sternly warned Russia that American troops are in Berlin "to stay" and declared the United States will "deal promptly" with the Soviet-inspired crisis.

In a statement obviously designed for worldwide consumption, Marshall asserted Russian efforts to drive the western powers out of the German capital have raised "basic questions of serious import."

The secretary said these questions would be answered promptly.

Bevins Cheered

An Anglo - American - French note, couched in the strongest possible language, to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was forecast as the first step in this "prompt dealing."

(In London, Foreign Secretary Bevin told a cheering House of Commons today that the Western Allies will not surrender to Russia in the Berlin crisis even though it may mean "a grave situation might arise."

(In a biting attack on Moscow's policy in Germany, Bevin demanded that the Soviets end "this immediate crisis" by removing "restrictions and interference" on western links to the four-power city.

Vandenberg Informed

(In Paris, French Premier Robert Schuman informed International News Service that the Western Allies are now discussing the question of trying to reach agreement with Russia on the whole German problem.)

U. S. officials declined to discuss further steps should a joint protest fail to bring about immediate lifting of the Russian transportation blockade which threatens starvation to two million Berliners.

A State department official disclosed that Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich), GOP foreign policy leader, has been informed of U. S. plans to deal with the Berlin crisis.

Action Favored

Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, reportedly favored positive action to protect the entire American stop-Communism foreign aid program, particularly the Marshall plan for European recovery.

One development in particular

200 Planes Fly Food To Berlin

BERLIN, June 30 (AP)—An Anglo-American air caravan of more than 200 transport planes came to the rescue of beleaguered Berlin today in the greatest air ferrying operation in peacetime history.

Russian authorities, who clamped an overland blockade on the German capital affecting supplies from the west 10 days ago, apparently now have added a water blockade to the land siege.

In answer to a Russian promise that the overland blockade would be lifted as soon as possible, Col. Frank L. Howley, U. S. commandant in the German capital, said: "We want deeds rather than words."

Barges Are Halted

The British Royal Air Force, joining the Americans in the ferrying operation, flew 100 transport planes into Berlin today. They promised to double the number by the end of the week.

The U. S. Air Force had sent 125 transports to the city by late afternoon. More were on their way to Berlin's Tempelhof airdrome carrying vital supplies for the people of the city's western sectors.

U. S. authorities at Tempelhof said 157 planeloads of supplies had been received during a 24-hour period up to last midnight.

The water blockade was reported by a British officer in Hamburg who said the Russians had halted the movement of barges along the Elbe river.

Wheat Parity Placed At $2

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 30—The Agriculture department announced today that it will support grower prices of 1948 crop wheat at a national average of $2 a bushel at the farm.

This compares with a $1.84 support price for last year's crop, and with an average of $2.11 received by farmers on June 15 from regular markets.

The department will support prices by means of loans to growers. However, government buying for shortage areas abroad will provide indirect support.

Rates To Vary

Loan rates will vary by locations where the grain is stored and by grades. Generally speaking, rates are highest at terminal markets. Although terminal rates are considerably above the national farm average of $2, a farmer would net no more in grain stored at such markets than on grain stored on farms. Transportation and handling costs makes up the difference.

The support program is designed to assure growers at least 90 per cent of the parity price of grain as of July 1. The July 1 parity price was determined to be $2.22 a bushel.

Loans Available Soon

The increase in the support rates over last year reflects the fact that the parity price of wheat is higher. A year ago it was $2.04.

Loans will be available through December 31 and will mature on April 30, 1949, or earlier on demand of the department.

If foreign demand for wheat continues strong, no large amount of this year's wheat crop — now estimated to be the second largest on record — would be put under loan.

Support rates announced today replace interim or temporary ones set up May 25 to cover early harvested grain. Those rates averaged $1.96 nationally at the farm.

Base Rates Given

Today's announcement gave base rates, at terminal markets, for these grades:

No. 1 hard winter, No. 1 dark hard winter, No. 1 yellow hard winter, No. 1 red winter, No. 1 western red, No. 1 soft white, No. 1 white club, No. 1 western white,

Valley Firemen Save 22 Trapped By Flood

McALLEN, June 30 (AP)—Twenty-two persons trapped by Rio Grande flood waters were rescued yesterday afternoon by Mission volunteer firemen, fire chief Ray Landry said today.

Landry said one group was taken from high ground and the other from treetops along the river near here. Firemen used a 16-foot boat to take 10 persons in two farm families for a small hillock southeast of here after a sudden rise surrounded them.

At La Gruilla, southwest of here, Landry and firemen Wayne Gerner and Perry Horn found 12 persons marooned in treetops where they had spent the night. The water around them was six feet deep and the spot was a mile from the nearest high land.

Just after the firemen's boat rescued the people from the treetops, a goat leaped off a raft, swam to the rescue boat, and clambered in.

The 10 persons rescued from the hillock southeast of here included Mr. and Mrs. Crisoforo Solis and three daughters Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Perez and two children, and another child.

Construction Permits Total $6,539,763

Half-Year Building Record Is Set Here

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

BUILDING records for any half-year in Lubbock history were broken by a wide margin during the first six months of 1948, City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross reported late Wednesday.

Permits for construction costing $6,539,763 were issued during the six months, exceeding the previous record, which was set during the first half of 1947, by $634,331, or nearly 11 per cent. The total for the first half of 1947 was $5,905,432.

In third place among the half years was the last six months of 1947, with $5,225,428, increasing the total for that entire year to $11,130,866 to break all previous records.

Construction Is Steady

The record for the first half of 1948 surpasses that of any other entire year in history except 1946, when $8,946,191 in new construction was authorized.

Construction in Lubbock during the past two and one-half years thus has aggregated a grand total of $26,613,820—a sustained average not far short of a million dollars a month for 30 months.

The accelerated building pace this year, as compared with last year, has been even greater than the figures indicate.

This year the new construction has maintained an astonishingly even pace. The range in building permit values by months has been from a low of $719,792 during January, when much bad weather made construction work impossible, to $1,360,172 during June.

City building permit totals by months during the first halves of 1948 and 1947 follow:

Month	1948	1947
January	$ 719,792	$ 405,915
February	1,259,097	454,260
March	1,148,248	2,254,513
April	1,091,739	583,555
May	960,715	1,154,487
June	1,360,172	1,052,702
Totals	6,539,763	5,905,432

Resident Building Boosted

The record set during the first six months of 1947 was due chiefly to permits approximating $1,600,000 for two junior high school buildings and the Texas Technological stadium, all issued in March.

More than half of this year's building has been residences. The remainder has been divided among

Congress Again Lashed By HST

WASHINGTON, June 30 (INS)—President Truman renewed his feud with the 80th Congress tonight by charging that it had played "recklessly and irresponsibly" with the national security in failing to provide for public power projects.

The President described as "inexcusable" the failure of Congress to approve a new electric power generating plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn., and said this decision may affect the nation's atomic program.

He denounced the congressional refusal to vote funds for transmission lines from western power projects. He scored the provision which will remove two reclamation officials from office. And he criticized the Congress for not doing more for the Virgin Islands.

Statements Given

The President's new barbs were contained in three statements which accompanied announcements that he had signed appropriation bills for government corporations and the Interior department, and one continuing the present Virgin Islands company.

He said he signed the Interior department bill only because the department otherwise would have to close down on July 1. Mr. Truman continued:

"The rider to this bill is designed to remove from office two men who have supported the public power policy of the government and the 160-acre law which assures that western lands reclaimed at public expense shall be used for family size farms.

"Special Interests" Aided

"The result would be to serve the purposes of special interests desirous of monopolizing the rich farm lands of the west and intent upon stopping transmission lines for the delivery of power from federal dams."

The two officials to be removed Jan. 1 are Michael W. Straus, reclamation director, and Richard Boke, California regional reclamation director. Congress inserted a provision that these posts must be held by qualified engi-

Truman Expected To Sign Farm Bill After Blast At Congress

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—President Truman is expected to sign the new long-range farm bill tomorrow, but to take a crack at Congress for failing to write into it plans for feeding surpluses to the hungry.

The President urged such plans in a special farm message to the lawmakers on May 14. Farm officials expect new surplus problems within a year or so.

The information that President Truman is expected to put his signature to the bill tomorrow came from a high ranking administration official who asked that he not be quoted by name.

The President was said also to be planning to issue a statement blasting Congress for what he considered shortcomings of the bill.

TRUMAN SWEEP IS FORESEEN

High Demos Predict Efforts To Block HST Nomination Will Fail

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 30—Highest Democratic quarters predicted today that the drive to block President Truman's nomination will fail by several hundred votes and the Chief Executive will sweep to victory on the first ballot.

These sources, close to the Democratic national committee, said that of the 1,234 convention votes only 142 are certain to go against the President, while 248 are doubtful, a possible maximum anti-Truman total of 390. A simple majority of 618 is necessary for the nomination.

The experts made their calculations in the face of revived moves to "draft" Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower or Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas for top spot on the Democratic ticket and ditch the President.

Southern supporters of Eisenhower remained hopeful that the general, now head of Columbia university, will reverse his position and become "available" for an actual "draft" from the convention floor.

Indications arose, however, that

Boat Explosion Victims Hunted

CEDAR KEY, Fla., June 30—(INS) A widespread armada of planes and boats swept the Gulf of Mexico off Cedar Key today searching for 10 persons missing after the fishing boat Hazel exploded and burned Sunday with 18 aboard.

Two survivors — who lived through two days and nights without food or water—were found late Tuesday.

Two bodies have been found.

William P. Sanders, 40-year-old Ocala, Fla. barber, told today how the pleasure-outing ended in disaster soon after the party left Yankeetown, early Sunday. He said:

Flames Sweep Boat

"The explosion rocked the boat suddenly and with no warning just two hours after we left on our fishing trip. We must have been more than 30 miles from the mainland.

"Flames swept over the Hazel in a matter of seconds."

No one ashore knew the 38-foot boat had exploded until Sanders and one other survivor, Mrs. Merle Potts, were found on tiny Snake key by a fisherman. They suffered from exposure, burns and shock, but managed to tell of the blast as they were taken to a hospital in Ocala.

The body of Mrs. Ted Hill was found last night and that of

One Dead, 18 Hurt As Bus, Truck Collide Near Dallas

DALLAS, June 30. (AP)—Eighteen occupants of a Texas Motor coaches bus were hurt and the driver of a truck was fatally injured today in the collision of the two vehicles on the Fort Worth highway at the west edge of Dallas.

The driver was Willie C. Davis, 45, negro, of Fort Worth.

Most seriously injured of the bus passengers was Mrs. Alice Steen of Burlington, Kas. Hospital attendants said she suffered internal injuries. The others, including R. H. Hiett of Dallas, the bus driver, were not believed to be seriously hurt.

The bus was coming to Dallas from Fort Worth.

Fourth Man Charged In Houston Slaying

HOUSTON, June 30. (AP) — A fourth man has been charged with murder in the death of the "queen of the Beaumont highway."

Richard Fisher Flournoy, 30, student at a Houston telegraphy school, late today was charged with murder in the death of Miss Louise Russell, 25, former night club photographer, who was shot fatally early today at a San Jacinto river fishing camp.

Similar charges were filed earlier today against Willie Eugene Parnell, Elroy Lester Hertel, 23, and Norman Howard Preston, 20, all of Houston.

All of the charges were filed with Justice of the Peace R. R. Zierlein, Baytown.

Jake Colca, chief criminal investigator for the sheriff's department, admitted the fourth murder charge confuses the situation but expressed hope of an early solution.

He said two .22 caliber rifles, a 12-gauge shot gun and a twisted slug taken from the dead woman's body have been sent to the Department of Public Safety laboratory in Austin.

"A ballistic report should show which weapon fired the fatal shot," Colca said.

Oil Company Reports Opening Of New Field Near Seminole

BARTLESVILLE, Okla, June 30. (AP)—Cities Service Oil Co. announced today the opening of a new oil field in West Texas at the No. 1 Proctor in section 355, block G of CCSD-RGNG survey, five and one half miles west of the Seminole field.

The well is owned by Cities Service and Atlantic Refining Co.

The wildcat was drilled to 5,620 feet to get salt water with a show of oil and water. It plugged back to the San Andres lime at 5,144-98 feet, the present total depth. After acidizing the well tested through various chokes and was completed for 410 barrels of oil a day through 30/64th inch choke on tubing.

The well had about 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

Johnson To Bring Senate Campaign To Area Today

CONGRESSMAN Lyndon B. Johnson, leading candidate for the U. S. Senate from Texas, will bring his campaign to the South Plains today with visits to five towns on the first day of a two-day flying tour over the area in his now famous helicopter.

LYNDON JOHNSON

Arriving at Lamesa at 10:45 o'clock this morning after a hop from Big Spring, Johnson will set the curious aircraft down for his first stop of the day. He'll make a 30-minute talk to Dawson county people and then take to the air again.

In rapid-fire order, he'll drop down for appearances at Brownfield at noon, Levelland at 3 o'clock and Littlefield at 4:30 o'clock before arriving in Lubbock at 5:30 p. m. The young senatorial candidate will make speeches at each of the five places.

Johnson is making a swing over the entire state in the helicopter in his first primary campaigning and everywhere he has landed he has been met with large crowds.

During the past ten days on a swing through East Texas and Central Texas, he talked to 65,000 people who came out to see the queer-looking craft and to hear him speak on his program for Texas and the nation. The crowds grew bigger from one day to the next, his headquarters reports.

To Land On Vacant Lot

The helicopter will drop down on a vacant lot adjoining Sam Rosenthal baseball park this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Immediately loudspeakers will be set up and the Congressman will make a 30-minute campaign speech.

He will be introduced by Lloyd Croslin, district attorney and long-time friend of Johnson, who is serving as area manager for Johnson in the 19th congressional district.

Following his talk at the ball park, Johnson will be greeted in

Five Navy Fliers Killed In Crash

ATLANTA, June 30 (AP)—Five Navy reserve fliers, including war hero "Snuffy" Smith, died today in an airplane crash five miles north of Fredericksburg, Va.

All five aboard the two-engined Navy transport were from Atlanta or vicinity. They were returning to the naval air base here from Anacostia, near Washington.

Many Awards Held

Smith, a lieutenant commander listed on the records as "Allen W.," held the Navy Cross, the Silver Star, the Air Medal and the Purple Heart.

The others aboard the craft were Lt. Com. R. L. S. Eidson, 35, a wartime instructor, Lt. James A. Cotton, Machinist Julius Bassolotti, 44, a veteran of 22 years in the service and Lt. (jg) Cornelius Idwise.

BULGARIANS FLEE

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 30 (AP)—A bloodstained plane, its pilot killed and two other crewmen wounded, landed at Istanbul airport tonight with 20 Bulgarians aboard. Turkish police immediately clamped a tight security blanket on the landing, but not before it was learned from airport attendants that anti-Communists had commandeered the plane while it was aloft.

Lubbock ABC Wins National Trophy For Juvenile Work

The Lubbock American Business club yesterday was awarded a trophy for the best juvenile program during the year at the national convention of American Business clubs at Savannah, Georgia, the Associated Press reported last night.

The local club was recognized for its juvenile program in connection with the ABC-sponsored Lubbock Boy's club here, local club members said last night.

Delegates from Lubbock to the convention at Savannah were B. Watkins, club president, Bob Rose, vice president, Virgil Kirkland and Virgil E. Goodwin. The men left Lubbock Sunday by plane, and planned to return today or tomorrow.

F. M. (Doc) Bachman of Champaign, Ill., was elected president of the National Association of ABC clubs yesterday at Savannah, and Big Spring, Texas, was chosen as the meeting place for the 1949 convention.

COURTHOUSE IS ROBBED

Daring Burglar Sends Portion Of Loot Back To Aid Victims

(By International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo. June 30—"Pistol Pete"—an otherwise unidentified burglar with a sense of humor—has returned $500 of $14,661.50 taken from the Kansas City courthouse two weeks ago "to help those bunnies who are in a jam for leaving that much dough laying around."

The Kansas City Star disclosed tonight the kind-hearted burglar's action. The Star said it had received a letter postmarked from Detroit, and signed only "Pistol Pete."

Authorities disclosed that $14,661.50 had been taken from the courthouse, and that no clues had been found. The money, $5,000 of it in cash, was taken from the office of Sheriff J. A. Pardome. It was the day's receipts from a delinquent tax sale.

The Kansas City Star said the letter read thusly:

"Gentlemen:

"The haul I made at the courthouse a fortnight ago was a dandy.

"It was so good and so easy, and to think, the sheriff's till. I just want to spill it, and might as well help out those bunnies who

Senatorial Candidates Assail High Cost Of Living, Taxes

(By The Associated Press)

Senatorial candidates Wednesday hammered at the high cost of living, high taxes, economic security and how to gain it.

George Peddy and Coke Stevenson both noted that high taxes are an undue drain on the public's pocket. Lyndon Johnson bore down on how little the $31 average pension paid each month to the old folks of Texas can buy.

Johnson spoke at Bangs, Santa Anna, Coleman, Ballinger, Winters, Bronte, San Angelo. Peddy was at Athens, Jacksonville, Tyler. Stevenson was in Galveston and Houston.

Government Controls Hit

Here are some of the things they had to say on economics:

Peddy in a radio speech from Athens said "I see on every hand proof of what our free, uncontrolled adventuresome American system of private enterprise and individual initiative can accomplish." He asked for a reversal of the trend toward "paternalism in government."

"The federal government has been turned into an octopus with a thousand arms or tenacles that reach into the pockets of every one of us and take our money then thrash out in every direction and scatter that money to the four winds."

Johnson Repeats Claims

Johnson—The $31 average pension paid Texas old people serves merely to move them "from the poor farm to the poor house." All they can buy with such an amount is "chittlins and bluejohn." Johnson is urging a $50 monthly minimum pension.

At Coleman he led his listeners in a chant: "There ain't gonna be a run-off," repeating his claim of a first-primary victory. At Bangs, Santa Ana and Coleman he plugged for action to "hold the water on the land" in dry West Texas. "You wouldn't milk a cow without a pail and let the milk waste on the ground," he said.

Stevenson—Reduction of federal taxes is imperative as a result of ever-increasing costs of food and other necessities.

"When taxes force citizens to cut down on the food for their children—certainly our greatest natural resources—we are facing a problem that must be solved, and quickly. . . . As United States senator, I will work to eliminate waste and extravagance in the expenditure of government funds." Stevenson cited federal bureau of labor statistics that retail food prices have risen 110.5 percent above the pre-war levels.

In the governor's race, Holmes A. May of Houston said at Kerrville that 60 percent of the people are anti-Jester, but that most Texans have never heard of the other candidates for governor. He has finished a campaign trip through 100 north, central and south Texas counties.

Exchange Club Told 209 Derby Racers Checked Out 'Okay'

Roy Finley, Soap Box Derby director, told members of the Lubbock Exchange club meeting for luncheon Wednesday at Hotel Lubbock that 209 Derby racers were inspected and checked out "ok" at Derby headquarters, 1903 Texas, Monday and Tuesday.

Finley said he expects 230 to 240 racers to compete, making Lubbock's first Derby the biggest race of its kind in Texas.

The club was split into various committees for handling phases of Derby day duties, and announcement was made that all members will be able to pick up their Exchange Club official shirts Thursday or later in the week for use on Derby Day.

Mrs. W. B. Agee, Lubbock Blood Bank, chairman, explained the new "from the community to the community" blood donor service, and members signed forms volunteering blood donations. H. Klaus, a local oil man, gave a brief talk on the history and future of oil in this country.

Selznick Allows Prize Italian Actor To Make American Debut With MGM Pictures

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 30 — New full-fledged associate in Arthur Lake's independent picture setup with Irving Allen is Gilda Dahlberg, wife of Bror Dahlberg, fabulously wealthy head of Celotex corporation and building materials manufacturer. Gilda played a mere "backer's" role in the first venture, "16 Fathoms Deep." But she steps out front with associate producer credit on the second, "Flying Lady."

Arthur and partners, glowing over advance notices on their exciting movie about Florida sponge divers, have selected another tall adventure yarn—this time about the wild horse country of Wyoming. Most of the picture will be filmed in Wyoming, getting the real backgrounds.

Getting back to Gilda, she isn't exactly new in the professional field. She has had several successful singing and artist proteges and has backed shows on Broadway.

Young Stars Admired

David Selznick, the "leadingest" producer in town, is letting his prize import, Rossano Brazzi, make his American debut on the MGM lot.

Mervyn Leroy has snagged the Italian actor for the role of the professor in "Littl Women," June 25, days after Brazzi left Italy with a record of such successes as "Furia" and "The King's Jester" behind him.

He spent today meeting June Allyson, Peter Lawford, Elizabeth Taylor and Margaret O'Brien on the MGM lot and tomorrow, David hosts a cocktail party in his honor at Ciro's.

Sam Goldwyn, so hepped over Farley Granger and Cathy O'Donnell, runs off "The Twisted Road" (formerly "Your Red Wagon") in his private projection room at odd hours just to admire his young stars again.

Frankly, I don't see that comparisons are in order between these kids and Vilma Banky and Ronald Colman, Janet Gaynor and Charlie Farrell, or any of the other great teams, past or present.

The thing that gets you about them — particularly Granger — is that they are not reminiscent of other screen personalities. Farley, who is 23, reminds you of no other actor. He is not a "second" anybody. He has a throbby maturity, specially in his speaking voice, that will find an echo in plenty of heartbeats.

Louella In Sweden

Comes now another breezy cable from Louella Parsons covering all European countries, including the Scandinavian:

"Ingrid Bergman is expected in Sweden in August and while she is here she will visit the SF studios where she made her first picture. I paid a visit to Dr. Harald Molander at the studio which once was the movie home of not only Bergman, but Greta Garbo, Viveca Lindfors and Marta Toren. Two pictures were being filmed.

"The very good-looking Molander says he does not believe he can give America another Garbo or Bergman. 'We don't have them every day,' he explained and added wistfully, 'I'm not sure I'll let the Hollywood producers see my pictures. Every time they see a star they like, they grab her!' "

McCarthy Named 'Axel'

Scandinavian shorts: "Our visit to the yacht of King Haakon, just before we left Oslo, was an experience I shall never forget," continues our lady ambassador without portfolio.

"The boat was given the king on his birthday by the people of Norway. The reason we were able to visit aboard is that our hostess was Ruskin Isdahl, who had been one of the crown princess bridesmaids. It seems, when Marta married the crown prince, she had four Swedish bridesmaids and the queen of Norway selected four Norwegian girls. Ruskin was one of them."

Back to Sweden—"Edgar Bergen has renamed Charlie McCarthy 'Axel' and he is talking Swedish. Frances and Edgar are in a small town near Stockholm for the holidays, I mean midsummer, the longest days of the year.

"No one speaks English to me but the International News Service head here. He was sent here originally as a war correspondent.

"My face has been plastered in all the local newspapers, which is flattering publicity, I suppose—not being able to read a word of the interviews.

"Dr. Martin says I now speak English with a broad 'a,' plus an Irish brogue and a Swedish inflection and no one dares think about what will happen to my speech when we land in France next week."

PLANES MAKE FLIGHT

OMAHA, June 30 (AP)—A flight of 19 F-84 Thunderjets left Offutt Air Forces base shortly before noon today en route to their home base, Dow AAF Base, Bangor, Me., by way of Selfridge AAF Base, Mt. Clemens, Mich. Two other planes which started west with the group from Dow field last week were waiting at Selfridge field to rejoin the flight. Lt. Col. Clue E. Smith, 29, of Amarillo, was in command of the flight as it took off today.

New Furr Food Store To Hold Open House For Public Tonight

Furr's Super Market No. 19, at 2002 Fourth, Lubbock's largest completely self - service super market, will make its bow to the public tonight with a formal open house scheduled from 6 to 9 p.m., Roy Furr, president, said Wednesday.

Newest of all markets, this new Furr's unit is most modern, with 155 feet of refrigerated food cases, of which 40 feet is strictly for meats. Here the consumer will have minutes of time in selecting choices to fit tastes and budgets. Fixtures, air-conditioning and nationally-known merchandise is all new, Furr said.

To Serve Refreshments

Music by Bailey Ireland's orchestra will play throughout the affair. Refreshments, including cakes, cookies, candies, iced tea, punch and coffee will be given to all coming. Souvenirs will also be available. No sales will be made Thursday night, with business starting Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The store, boasting the largest parking area of all of Lubbock's markets, faces south, just behind the new Colonial Apartments. It is 100 feet on the front, with 107 feet deep, 10,700 square feet in all.

New is the 40 feet of fruits and vegetables, all refrigerated. Furr's boasts of being the only market in Lubbock with such equipment, it being in its No. 5 store on Texas Avenue.

Manager will be Donal Wolfarth, formerly of No. 5 on Texas while market manager is Jack Slagle, formerly of several Furr's stores in Lubbock and Childress. The new store is 26th of the string out of Lubbock's headquarters and 47th of the total number, including Amarillo division.

Reds Claimed To Control Many Workers In Department Stores

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 30 — A Gimbel brothers executive today pictured 25,000 New York department store workers as a Communist-dominated mass who would cause "great trouble" in case of a war with Russia.

Louis Broido, executive vice president of the big New York department store, told a House Labor subcommittee that these workers were "held in tow and manipulated" by a little clique of "brilliant" Communist leaders.

He described the labor troubles of New York department stores and said they stemmed from "an internecine quarrel" between powerful Communist-dominated New York locals and a "right-wing" CIO United Retail and Wholesale Employes union.

Contract Defended

Harold M. Lane, executive vice president, and Irving H. Dale, labor relations director of Lerner's, another big retail organization, defended a work contract with employes which committee members said would keep left-wing union leaders in power.

The union would be permitted by the contract to demand ouster of workers whose employment was "a source of friction." Although any such demand would be subject to arbitration, committee members said this would enable a Communist-dominated union to cause the discharge of non-Communists.

Lane and Dale said Lerner's signed the contract to avoid a strike which the store "could not win." "Local 65," with which the contract was made, was described as "the most militant and aggressive" of the left-wing unions.

Dale declared this union "has never deviated from the Communist-party line."

Hearings Are Slated

Rep. Hartley (R-N. J.), labor committee chairman and one of the authors of the Taft-Hartley labor act, said he had arranged for hearings at the federal building in New York, beginning Wednesday, at which the union leaders will be called to testify.

Broido accused American businessmen of "emasculating" the Taft-Hartley act by entering into work contracts with unions which circumvent the law. He said they were doing this to avoid strikes.

He proposed these changes:

1. A requirement that any strikes to force inclusion of a contract clause to get around the law should be an unfair labor practice, and therefore subject to legal restraint.

2. A provision that any union not qualified under the act could not conduct a legal strike. This would make all strikes by such unions subject to court injunctions.

3. A flat prohibition against mass demonstrations, which he described as part of the Communist technique.

Youth Slays Couple Because Son Married Girl He Loved

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., June 30 (INS)—A 25-year-old college student was charged with murder today in the deaths of an elderly Bowling Green couple he admittedly shot to death because their son married the girl he loved.

Warren county attorney William H. Natcher identified the youth as Harry Edward Kilgore, of Glasgow, Ky. He was a student last term at Western Kentucky State college at Bowling Green.

The youth's attorneys were granted permission later to have him examined by psychiatrists. State Sen. Rodes K. Myers, one of the student's attorneys, said he is convinced Kilgore "is mentally unbalanced at this time."

In admitting the slayings, Kilgore told officers ruefully:

"I've always been disappointed in all my relations with girls."

Victims of the slaying, whose bodies were found early today, in the palatial, colonial home, were Dr. C. B. Martin, 80, and his 70-year-old wife.

MIXED WITH A BANG

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A bottle of hair dye and a small keg of bleaching powder tumbled from a cart at a branch postoffice. They mixed and a small explosion, fire and smoke resulted. Five men were injured, none seriously.

National Guard Will Seek Armory Funds

AUSTIN, June 30 (U.P.)—The Texas national guard armory board laid plans today for new armories, if it can get the money.

The board made its plans contingent on passage by Congress at the next session of the armories appropriation bill. State participation, the board expected, would amount to 25 per cent of the federal appropriation.

The next legislature will be asked to appropriate money to allow new construction. The board pointed out that present appropriations permit only alteration of old armories.

The board said that with new appropriations it could stand the expense of validating bonds. But officials said no estimate could be made of the amount to be used for building Texas guard armories.

At its meeting here, the board elected Major General Preston A. Weatherred of Dallas president. He succeeds Lieut. Gen John A. Hulen, retired, of Palacios.

Major General Albert S. Johnson of Dallas was named a new member of the board, succeeding Major General Claude V. Birkhead, retired, of San Antonio.

Other members are Brig. Gen. H. Miller Ainsworth of Luling, Brig. Gen. Clayton P. Kerr of Dallas and Brig Gen. John W. Naylor of Fort Worth.

NEWSPRINT SOURCE

PITTSBURGH. (U.P.)—A survey by a Pittsburgh engineering firm shows that building of mills for the production of newsprint and bleached sulphate pulp products in New Zealand would be economical and would help relieve the world-wide newsprint shortage. New Zealand has vast timber resources.

Houston Fireworks Salesman Victim Of Vicious Prank

HOUSTON, June 30 (U.P.)—Robert F Walker calmed his jangled nerves today and wondered whether to replace his fireworks stand.

He was doing a landslide business last night—had a store full of 200 holiday-conscious cutomers—and then disaster struck.

Somebody threw a lighted firecracker as a convertible whipped down the street. Roman candles zoomed across the street, skyrockets darted waist-high among the scurrying customers, the whole neighborhood glowed.

Walker's loss: $600 worth of July 4 pyrotechnics.

Acuff Farmers Able To Replant Crops Without Additional Help

C. E. Maedgen, president of Lubbock National bank, said Wednesday that the people of the Acuff community in east Lubbock county won't need any outside help in replanting their crops, wiped out by a heavy hail and rainstorm Sunday.

Maedgen Tuesday had proposed an appeal for aiding the farmers with tractors, laborers and seed should they have expressed a desire for aid.

"They tell me out there that everybody will be able to take care of his own situation with the exception of a little help from a neighbor or two," Maedgen said today. He said E. R. Davis, one of the community leaders, said the farmers would be replanting their crops within a day or so.

A great number of the farmers in the area had hail insurance, but they will be compensated for only a small portion of their losses, it was said.

TO STUDY SEA BOTTOM

AMHERST, Mass. (U.P.) — Foraminifera, tiny animals which populate the sea in countless numbers, will be studied this summer in an effort to learn more about the history of the Atlantic Ocean. The shells of the animal form part of the ocean floor. Dr. Fred B. Phleger, who will carry on the studies, said he hopes to interpret conditions under which ancient marine rock was formed.

Wedding Service Read In New Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fortenberry of New Home are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mentha Poston, to Morlin Maloney, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Maloney of Lubbock, Route 7, which took place Friday, June 25, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown of New Home, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom. C. B. Henry of Lubbock read the service.

The bride wore a white suit and white hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations on a white Bible. Jewel Harmonson was maid of honor and Coleene Savage and Mary Davis were bridesmaids. Royce Hemmeline attended the bridegroom.

After a reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Fort Worth. For travel, the bride wore a blue crepe dress with white accessories and a carnation corsage. The couple will be at home in Lubbock where Mr. Maloney is employed. He attended Post High school and served in the Army. Mrs. Maloney is a graduate of New Home High school.

New Book Arrives On Stands, But It Won't Be Best Seller

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 30 — A new book hit the stands today. But its chances of getting on the best-seller list are remote.

In fact, the Congressional directory, 80th Congress, second session, June 1948, price $1.50, will be lucky if it's read at all.

Your Congress has beat it home to do some pre-election tub-whacking. It may not come back until the first of the year. By that time, we'll have a new poll of the people and there will be some strange faces around. Calling, of course, for a new directory.

Authors May Change Page

For instance, the authors conceivably may have to whip up a quick rewrite of page 311, among others. Right there it says "executive department, Harry S. Truman, Democrat, of Independence, Mo., President of the United States, born May 8, 1884, etc. x x."

By the time Mr. T. cuts his next birthday cake, a fellow named Tom Dewey hopes to be sitting on the balcony the man from Missouri built, looking down across the rolling acres of the White House lawn at the shrubbery and flowers. And then again, of course, Mr. Truman may stay there and on page 311.

Some of the fixtures in the directory have been there since you and I were young. Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, since 1917. Sen. Arthur Capper, the Kansas publisher, since 1918. He isn't running for another term and won't be in the next edition. And there's the dean of the House, Rep. Adolph Sabath of Illinois, who has been around since 1907.

Already Out Of Date

Anyhow, the little blue book which came out today was out of date before it was delivered. While the proofreaders were working on the thing, Clint Anderson packed his files on the corn borer and left for New Mexico to campaign for U. S. senator. The writers left it like this: "Secretary of Agriculture (vacant)." Charlie Brannan, Clint's successor as secretary, had to pencil in his name after press time.

The vice president space, which has been empty since FDR died and Mr. Truman moved up a notch, remains empty. But a couple of other people have an eye on that.

The new book is interesting if you like to read between the lines. A lot of folks are worried. Some Republican; some Democrat. Maybe they'll be in the next edition; maybe not. The people have a lot to say about that. Voters, after all, ghost-write the Congressional Directory for the most part.

But one old-timer who is sleeping well and feeling no pains is Bill Mann. On Page 437 of the new book he's director of the national zoological park. Presidents don't make a habit of firing an efficient zoo man once he's in there doing a good job.

SOME STILL IN HIDING

MANILA (U.P.) — Philippine constabulary came upon two tattered Japanese soldiers walking near a forest and shot one to death. The other Japanese fled into dense woods. Constabulary officials theorized that the two Japanese had been hiding in the forest since the end of the war.

Wheat Harvest Nearly Complete

Wide scale harvesting of a generally poor wheat crop was being resumed in West Texas Wednesday after weekend rains as heavy as three inches in parts of the area, but harvest hands and equipment appeared to be adequate for crop needs, according to latest information from the Texas Employment commission covering the situation.

The TEC office at Amarillo, which is directing the harvest labor movement, has advised other offices to discontinue referrals of men and machinery to Amarillo, Spearman and Perryton, effective at noon today.

Harvest Nearing Completion

The harvest was in various stages of completion, ranging up to 90 per cent, and some operators and equipment were moving on north into Oklahoma and Kansas, the bulletin said.

A few machines were moving north after completion of contracts in Gray, Wheeler, Roberts and Hemphill counties, where the harvest was reported 46 to 62 per cent complete. Hutchinson county was 30 per cent complete, and Hansford, Ochiltree and Lipscomb reported 40 to 65 per cent complete.

In Hansford a few trucks and combines were standing by, with some moving north, and continuing demand for operators and laborers in Ochiltree were being filled readily.

Crosby county was reported 80 per cent complete, and Hale and Floyd 45 per cent. Castro, Briscoe, and Swisher were 58 to 70 per cent complete, and a few machines were moving north.

Harvest was practically complete in Oklahoma except around Woodward and some Panhandle counties, which reported 25 to 30 per cent finished.

Kansas reported that rain over most of the state was delaying harvest operations, but most of the wheat is ready and cutting would start as soon as fields dry out. Combines are reported entering the state from Texas and Oklahoma, but "they will all be needed as they come in."

ALBANY TURNS OUT TO GREET GOP NOMINEE

Cheering Crowd Greets Dewey Upon Return To New York State Capital After Convention Win

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., June 30—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey returned to Albany from his Pawling farm tonight and a cheering crowd of 5,000 persons made the Republican presidential nominee welcome.

Standing on the massive front steps of the capitol, from which he has directed the affairs of New York state for nearly six years, Dewey declared that the United States is the trustee for the hopes of two billion persons for world peace.

America, he predicted, can "restore world faith in our moral leadership."

He said:

Look To America

"All over the world people are looking to the United States in the prayerful hope that we will lead this great nation into the path for building a firm and lasting peace.

"People have an almost mystic faith that we of America are so wise and strong that we can somehow prevent future wars. That is the greatest aspiration all over the world."

Dewey motored to Albany from his quiet farm home accompanied by his foreign affairs adviser John Foster Dulles, Mrs. Dewey and Paul Lockwood, the governor's secretary.

Dewey said the welcome accorded him in Democratic-controlled Albany was "heart-warming."

Crowd Massed In Park

The crowd, which massed in capitol park, included state officials and employes, Republican leaders and residents of several nearby counties.

They displayed banners predicting a Dewey victory in November, and many of the women carried parasols emblazoned with the governor's name.

The Dewey car was met at the city limits by a military escort and the band of the 27th Division Signal company, New York National guard.

Dewey and Mrs. Dewey changed to an open car and rode from the outskirts into the city amid the cheers of people lining the streets.

Mrs. Dewey wore a green print dress and a green straw hat, embellished with flowers. She wore a gardenia.

Showers of ticker tape descended from buildings as the Dewey car proceeded to the capitol building. There, a red-coated band greeted the governor and his wife.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the assembled throng and the master of ceremonies, speaker Oswald D. Heck of the state assembly, introduced Dewey.

Dewey In Jovial Mood

Dewey said this was a "delightful occasion"—but a little saddening.

Turning to Mrs. Dewey he remarked:

"We have lived in Albany six years and it won't seem right when we're not here next year. You have been so nice to us."

Dewey went on:

"Here I am trying to get away and I don't mean it at all."

He drew a laugh when he said he didn't think he'd learn to like a place so much where there are so many Democrats. He added he hoped, if he is called upon to "live in another city, further south," that the substantial vote he had been receiving from Democratic Albany would be even larger.

Sees "Cleanup" Job

Recalling that before he came to Albany, the capitol for 20 years was in the hands of Democratic governors, Dewey said:

"Now I am in the position of endeavoring to break 16 years of similar uninterrupted rule in the national government. The problems of getting that house cleaned up are almost the same down there that they were when I came here, only now I have the benefit of experience of cleaning up after them here in Albany.

"I think it will be easier in Washington."

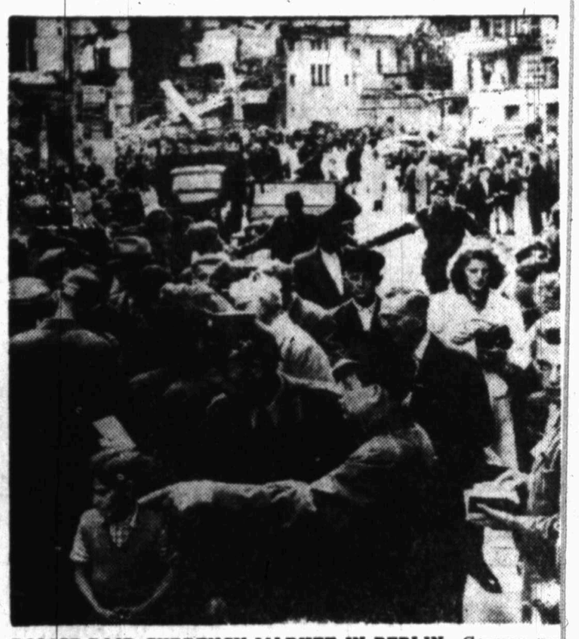

Lashing out at left-wing organizations which have staged repeated "marches on Albany" during this gubernatorial administration, Dewey explained that most of those groups staged meetings on the same steps from which he was speaking.

"Some of those people," he said, "would destroy everything we believe in. And yet, when I was asked if they should have a permit to use the capitol steps, I said 'give it to them.'

"Let everyone in this country have his say. Keep them out in the open—everlastingly out in the open.

"It has worked here. These people, to whom we granted freedom of speech, come here each year with a lesser following."

Dewey went directly from the capitol to the executive mansion where he was to dine with Dulles. His aides said he and Dulles were to discuss "the international situation" tonight and that a news conference might be arranged for tomorrow morning.

Court Action Is Won By Lollar

Judgment for Ernest Lollar and against L. D. Thomas and M. L. Young has been entered by Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court in the civil action of L. D. Thomas, Bertha Thomas and M. L. Young against Ernest Lollar.

The plaintiffs have announced appeal to the court of civil appeals for the seventh supreme judicial district, in Amarillo.

The case was called for trial Oct. 23. A jury of which E. A. Wood was foreman answered 19 special issues and was discharged Oct. 29.

On June 1, the defendant and cross-plaintiff, Lollar, through his counsel, the Lubbock law firm of Nelson and McCleskey, filed with Judge Blair a waiver of a deed of trust lien sued upon in his cross-action and moved the court for judgment in favor of Lollar upon a $30,000 note sued upon against Thomas and Young. He asked for a judgment providing that the deed of trust be set aside and declared to be ineffective, that it be cancelled and that the cloud upon title to the west 72 feet of lots 4, 5 and 6 of block 118, Overton addition to Lubbock, property described in the deed of trust, be removed and that the property be decreed free and clear of the deed of trust lien.

The court rendered judgment upon the verdict and findings of the jury in favor of the defendant and cross-plaintiff, Lollar, against Thomas and Young upon the note sued upon for the sum of $30,000 upon the principal and for $3,000 as attorney fees, as well as costs of court.

Judge Blair further rendered judgment that the cross-plaintiff should not prevail upon his suit to foreclose the deed of trust, and ordered that the property described should be declared free and clear of the deed of trust and that the cloud, if any, should be removed.

The Thomases had maintained that the property improved with an apartment house, is their residence homestead.

The plaintiffs live in Lubbock. Lollar lives in Iowa. The suit grew out of alleged business deals of Lollar with Thomas and Young, who were associated with a plant that manufactured the Rocket airplane in Fort Worth.

Fielder Trio To Give Tech Concert Friday

The Fielder Trio, composed of flute, cello, and piano, will present several arrangements of both classical and popular music at 8:30 p. m. Friday on the Administration building green, Texas Technological college. The concert is the third to be presented on the Texas Tech artist course program for the summer.

Alex Fielder, flutist with the group, is the twin brother of Arthur Fielder, cellist, and the pianist is Jean Fielder, who is Mrs. Arthur Fielder, non-professional. Both Alex and Arthur Fielder are affiliated with the Dallas Symphony and the Kansas City Philharmonic orchestra as soloists. Of Mrs. Fielder's performance last January with the Trio, the Kansas City Star said: "Mrs. Fielder's rendition of the piano score was at once brilliant and finely proportioned to the string parts, exemplary of the unique use the composer made of the piano in numerous sonatas and trios."

Admission to the concert will be season artist courst tickets for students, and $1 to townspeople who wish to attend.

Hubbers Defeat Clovis Nine, 11 To 0

Moore's Homer Sparks Victory

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Hubbers said it with base hits last night, banging out 17 safeties good for an 11-0 victory over the Clovis Pioneers behind the brilliant five-hit pitching of Robert "Red" Ramsey, who aided his own cause with a home run.

But the big blow of the game was Don Moore's circuit clout in the first inning with the bases loaded, the first grand slam homer to be hit in Rosenthal Field this year. After that Clovis was a beaten team, although they kept trying.

Fireworks Start Early

Ramsey was great last night, scattering five hits that included a first-inning double by Jess Jacinto. Jacinto moved on down to third on an infield hit, but was stranded there, thus earning the distinction of being the only runner to get that far off Ramsey's slants.

The fireworks started in the initial frame when Jackie Wilcox was safe on Mel Serafini's bad throw to first, the runner going to second. Charley Scarborough pumped a double to left center scoring Wilcox and Sullivan sent him to third with a single, going to second on the throw-in. Virgil Richardson walked to load the bases and Don Moore smashed out his fourmaster over the left field fence.

Ramsey Hits Homer

Chick Fowler grounded out, but Gene Hixson blooped a double to center and rode home on Frank McAlexander's single to right. That removed George Herter, a newcomer from a Class B West Coast league making his first start for Clovis. And George Matthews proceeded to get the inning over, although Wilcox struck a warning note with a single.

Scarborough opened the second with a double, only to be caught at third on a great throw by Wilcy Moore. But the Hubbers got rolling again in the third. Moore led off with a walk, went to third on Fowler's single to right, Fowler going to second on the throw-in and when the ball hit Moore's leg, bouncing to the screen, Moore dashed across the plate, Fowler moved to third on a ball that the catcher lost under him and scored on McAlexander's fly.

Brilliant Defensive Work

Single runs crossed the plate for Lubbock in the fourth and fifth innings, Sullivan's single, an infield groundout and Moore's drive through the box scoring one in the fourth and McAlexander's triple and Ramsey's line drive out to the leftfielder scoring the final marker.

Brilliant defensive work also aided Ramsey last night, although he was staying ahead of the batter most of the way. Richardson made a beautiful catch of Serafini's foul fly in the first to end that inning, but Sullivan turned in the greatest piece of work. With Wilcy Moore on first in the fourth, Ray Sanders poked a drive over second. Sullivan somehow reached the ball, flipped it underhand to Wilcox and Moore was forced to end the inning.

And Richardson turned in another bit of defensive work in the ninth, when he raced to the first base line, speared Sanders' hot grounder and flipped to Ramsey for the second out.

FOUR CREWS QUALIFY

PRINCETON, N. J., June 30 (INS)—Crews from Cornell, Princeton, Washington and California shattered Lake Carnegie's 2,000-meter course record in winning their heats today to quality for Friday's semi-finals in the Olympic trials.

Dukes Trample Lamesa, 31-10

LAMESA, June 30 (Special)—Albuquerque's home-run clouting Dukes smashed three league records here tonight to swamp the Lamesa Loboes, 31-10.

The Dukes slugged out a total of 12 four-baggers during the tilt, four of the round-trippers by Len Attyd. Both feats chalked up new West Texas-New Mexico loop marks.

Eddie Skrabacz collected one homer for the home nine, and the resulting total of 13 for both teams in one game shattered another league record.

Attyd blasted his first home run in the third, the second in the fourth frame, another in the sixth stanza and the last four-baser in the ninth.

Lefty Bill Jones started on the mound for Lamesa, but was shelled for three hits and seven runs before an out was made.

Legion B May Play Littlefield Despite Use Of Negro Hurler

Lubbock's American Legion "B" team will probably go to Littlefield July 8 for a scheduled District 2 game, local Legion officials indicated Wednesday night, despite Littlefield's continued use of a negro hurler.

The Lubbock nine forfeited a tilt to the Littlefield squad last Friday, as a result of opposition by parents of several of the Lubbock players to their sons playing against a "mixed" team, but the local officials are reportedly now asking the boys to get their parents' permission to play against the negro—if necessary.

H. J. McCabe, Lubbock team manager, said last night that he "didn't know anything about such a move," but reported that he was planning to play the game with Littlefield.

Huston Hoover, Littlefield team official, said Wednesday night that Littlefield would continue to use the negro pitcher.

First Sacker Boasts .392 Mark

Hubs' Richardson To Start On Star Squad

When the South All-Stars from the West Texas-New Mexico league trot out on the Abilene Blue Sox diamond Saturday night in the annual extravaganza of baseball, a tall, quiet and able first baseman named Virgil Richardson will go to the initial sack.

Election of the outstanding Lubbock Hubber player came as no surprise to baseball fans in West Texas. Indeed, had he been left off the All-Star team it might well have called for an investigation.

Consistently Good

For Richardson is heads and shoulders above any other first baseman in the league. He is a consistently good hitter, he is one of the most dangerous men in the clutch, he is a fine fielding baseman and he is always a perfect gentleman, both on and off the field. On the rare occasions when Richardson beefs to the umpires, fans lose no time in backing him to the limit. They know that he never hollers unless a decision is the rankest possible.

The Lubbock first sacker this season is one of the top hitters in the league, ranking third in the latest statistics for men participating in 60 or more games, with a .392 average. He has been stationed above the .400 mark this season and his work on the recent road trip indicates that he will go above the .400 mark again.

Richardson has pounded out 92 hits in 235 trips to the plate and has made his hits good for a total of 155 bases. Included in his extra-base blows are 25 doubles, four triples and 10 home runs, although latest statistics will show him with even more hits.

Richardson also has driven in 83 runs this season to lead the Hubbers in that department. He has fanned only 12 times and has been walked 49 times, again topping all other Hubbers.

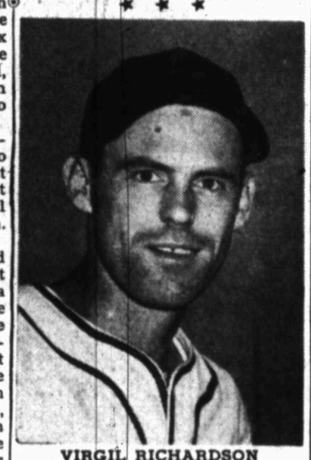

As a team player, Richardson probably has no equal. He is quiet on and off the field, hates to lose, but takes defeat in good grace. He is a steadying influence on the younger players and as reliable a player as there is in the entire league.

Richardson's ability to stretch for the ball on close plays usually results in the runner being out, while he often demonstrates his classy bag-playing by picking up inaccurate throws, either in the dirt to his left, to his right or over his head. The South All-Stars will be stronger because of his presence in the lineup.

His rival in the All-Star game will be Ron Bowen of Albuquerque, another fancy first baseman. Bowen, also playing in 61 games, is batting an even .353, with 98 hits in 278 plate appearances for a total of 162 bases. Included in his blows have been 22 doubles, six triples and 10 home runs.

Bowen has driven in 71 runs, but has fanned 26 times while drawing only 20 walks. The Duke first baseman is capable of driving the long ball and is a capable initial sacker, although not considered quite as able around the bag as Richardson.

It should be a great duel and add to the interest of the All-Star game.

DEAD HEAT RAN IN DOVER

DELAWARE PARK, Stanton, Del., June 30. (INS)—Elmendorf Farm's Whiffenpoof, and William G. Helis' Ennobled raced a thrilling dead-heat today in the tenth running of the $10,000 added Dover Stakes for juveniles.

MULESHOE BEATS PLAINVIEW

MULESHOE, June 30 (Special)—Muleshoe's American Legion junior baseball nine took a firm hold on the runner-up spot in the District 2 title race by drubbing Plainview, 14-4, here this afternoon.

Bob Lemon Beats Tiger Nine With No-Hitter, 2-0

DETROIT, June 30. (AP)—Righthander Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indains tossed the first no hit run game of the major league season as he blanked the Detroit Tigers 2 to 0 tonight. It was his 11th win of the season and his fifth shutout.

Only three Tigers reached first base, all via walks, as the big converted outfielder put together his niftiest pitching performance of the year.

All the scoring came in the first inning as the Indians pushed over two unearned runs to give Lemon a headstart. It was all the big righthander needed, as he had the Tigers swinging futilely for the rest of the distance.

It was a tough loss for Art Houtteman, hard luck man of the Detroit Tiger mound staff, as he yielded only two runs and five hits. The Tigers kicked in two errors in the initial inning to get Houtteman into trouble.

The 27-year-old Cleveland pitcher gave the 49,628 fans a real treat as he moved the Tigers down inning after inning.

BOSTON DROPS YANKS

NEW YORK, June 30. (AP)—Jack Kramer posted his seventh victory of the season today and his fifth in a row, pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 7-3 seven hit triumph over the New York Yankees.

Kramer got off to a rocky start, yielding two runs in the first inning but thereafter he muffled the Yankee bats on three hits until the ninth when they scored their final run on a double and single.

Chicago Defeats Cardinals, 9-1

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs lashed out from their lowly cellar position with unexpected fury today when they made it two straight over the St. Louis Cardinals with a decisive 9-1 victory.

Ralph Hamner scattered six hits while his mates pounded Jim Hearn and four successors for 13 solid wallops. One of the blows that knocked Hearn out of the box in the third inning was Gene Mauch's first major league home run. It came with none aboard.

The frail-looking Hamner fanned eight while registering his third victory in five starts.

TURNER, CLARK HURL B TEAM WIN

Lubbock American Legion B Nine Blasts Brownfield Squad, 14-6

Lubbock's surging American Legion "B" nine blasted out 12 hits and 14 runs to defeat Brownfield, 14-6, in a North half District 2 tussle Wednesday at Chapman field.

The Lubbock team coasted to the win—the sixth in district competition this season—behind the hurling of Morris Turner and David Clark and, except for a short-lived Brownfield rally in the sixth frame, was never in danger.

Hub city sluggers pounded Brownfield starter Glenn Herring for 10 safeties and 11 runs in five innings, then collected two addition hits and three tallies off Reliefer Kenneth Grauander. Turner aided his own mound efforts with two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate, while Bobby Sexton and Mack Taylor each slammed out a two-for-three.

The Lubbock nine took a one-run lead in the first stanza, when Dan Adkisson received a free pass to first and was sacrificed to second and third by Mackie Lawrence and Johnny Tatum, then came in on Tom Brown's single.

Two more Lubbock runners crossed the plate in the second frame as Turner singled. Tommy Yelvington doubled and Adkisson dropped in a Texas league bingle. The home nine tallied two runs each in the fourth and fifth innings, then broke loose for a six-run offensive in the sixth to clinch the triumph.

Brownfield was shut out with one hit for the first four frames, with the dependable "Moe" Turner on the mound, but when Turner shifted to third and David Clark took over the twirling chores the visitors started to find the range. The Brownfield boys chalked up one run in the fifth on singles by Herring and Billy Anderson, then pushed across four more in the wild sixth.

Dean Curtis led off the sixth with a ringing triple into right field, then Glenn Hahn signed to score Curtis. Gene Joplin was safe on a fielder's choice that cut down Hahn at second, but Jerry Roberts walked to put two runners on the basepaths. James Roe singled in Joplin and McNiell drove in Roberts with another bingle.

That was all for Clark as Turner returned to the mound and set the next two men down in order to put out the fire. Turner gave up only two safeties in the final three frames, one a two-bagger thats cored Gruander from first.

The Lubbock Legion "A" nine, leading the South half of the district with three consecutive wins, will be the host team at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Chapman field when the potent Spur squad invades the local diamond for a conference encounter.

Economy Mills Downs American Legion, 8-4

Three games were unreeled in the Industrial Softball league Wednesday afternoon, with Economy Mills dropping the American Legion, 8-4, in one of the top encounters. Pete Bell was the winning pitcher.

In other games Panhandle Steel battered the Post Office, 17-5, behind the twirling of Bill Claiborne, and Sanders Motors capitalized on the chunking of Walter Bumpass to nose out Lubbock Auto, 7-5.

Weidner Wins Mat Bout With Murdoch

Bill Weidner, the speedy grappler from Boston, took over top honors at Sled Allen's arena Wednesday night by besting tough Frankie Murdoch in the two of three falls main event.

Weidner grabbed the first fall in 18 minutes with a full nelson, but Murdoch rebounded to cop the second decision in seven minutes. Weidner then clinched the match victory with a flying head scissors in 11 minutes of the third setto.

Sammy Kohen wasted little time in gaining a two of three falls win over Billy Hickson in the semifinal event, copping the first fall with a surfboard in 18 minutes, and taking the second fall in 10 minutes with a repeat performance.

Burly Gil Knutson and Olan Boynton, the Amarillo referee-grappler, battled to a 20-minute draw in the preliminary.

THREE QUALIFY FOR OLYMPIC EVENT

Olympic Hopefuls To Compete In Milwaukee AAU Track Meet

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 30 (INS)—Authorities said today more than 500 athletes, many of them faced with a grim last chance of making the Oympic final trials, will compete in the National A.A.U. track and field meet at Milwaukee Friday and Saturday.

With the exception of the 10,000-meter run, whose top three finishers qualify direct for the London Olympiad, the N.A.A.U. goings-on will serve to send leading survivors to the final trials at Evanston, Ill., July 9 and 10.

One other "semi-final" meet, the N.C.A.A. carnival at Minneapolis June 18 and 19, qualified almost all of the nation's star collegians for the Evanston showdown. The A.A.U. presentation, then, is mostly for the athletic-club and unattached boys, even though there'll be many college aces on the Marquette university premises.

Dillard Barred From NCAA

At least one of the collegiate performers in the N.A.A.U. meet must finish high. His name is not unknown, nor are his accomplishments, since he is Harrison Dillard, nonpariel among hurdlers.

The Baldwin - Wallace standout was barred from the N.C.A.A. meet because of an eligibility-committee ruling. This time, just to make sure nothing goes wrong, the whippet-swift Dillard has entered himself officially in the 100 and 200-meter dashes besides his specialty, the 110-meter high hurdles.

On hand to qualify, too, will be Gil Dodds, America's paramount and practically only hope in the metric mile, at 1,500 meters; Bill Mathis, defending champion at 100 meters; and at least two gents who made news in another Olympic year, that of 1936: Don Lash in the 10,000 meter run and Dave Albritton in the high jump.

Earle Meadows To Try

Earle Meadows, the United States' pole vault man of that 1936 Olympiad, has signified he'd make a try for this year's olympic team, too, but as of this afternoon, his entry still hadn't been received by the supervising fathers.

One official says, however, that this doesn't necessarily prelude a Meadows appearance. Despite the prominent posting of June 22 as closing date for entries, this authority said this noon, the N.A.A.U. is such a vital track meet to some that "you could hand your entry blank to the starter one minute before you start to race and probably be okay."

TO MEET SOLOMONS

CHICAGO, June 30 (INS)—Chicago lightweight Johnny Bratton, whose jaw was fractured in a fight with Beau Jack Jan. 23, makes his return to the ring at Marigold gardens next Monday, facing Jackie Solomons of Johannesburg, South Africa, at 10 rounds.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

If any South Plains schoolboy or college athlete needs a lesson in determination and "will to win," the Texas Aggies' Ray Holbrook should be a fine example. Holbrook, a member of the undefeated Aggie mile relay team was the victim of a tough break in the National Collegiate meet in Minneapolis recently. He didn't qualify for the finals, although his time for the 400 meters, 47.9 seconds was better than that turned in by his teammate, Art Harnden.

It just happened that he fell into a much faster heat. Harnden finished second in his heat and then second to Norman Rucks of South Carolina who ran the 400-meter event in 47.2.

Holbrook did not give up, however. He came back to Texas and entered the South Texas AAU meet at San Antonio, placing high enough to make the squad that will compete in the National AAU meet at Milwaukee Friday and Saturday. If he takes one of the top six places in the national AAU, he will be able to join Harnden and the Aggies' George Kadera in the final Olympic field trials at Evanston July 9 and 10.

Holbrook, who has staged several close duels with Harnden this season, is confident that he can become one of the five Olympic 400-meter runners, but he has a tough job ahead of him. The top quarter-milers in the entire nation will be battling for the coveted positions and it will take a brilliant performance, probably the best of his career, to finish in the high six. But with real Texas spirit, he'll be in there trying all the way to the finish line.

* * *

Reports keep trickling in from downstate areas on Primo Carnera, the former heavyweight boxing titleholder who now performs in the grappling circuits. Carnera, according to reports, is making back some of the money that was "stolen" from him during his ring reign. Carnera drew a $15,000 gate in Buffalo, and knocked down nearly $2,000 for a one-night performance in Houston recently. "Da Preem" has bought a home in Los Angeles, obtained first papers for American citizenship and apparently "loves everybody" now.

Ezzard Charles Favored To Capture Heavyweight Title

NEW YORK, June 30 (U.P.)—The maneuvering had started today to make a belated presentation of the world heavyweight championship to New Jersey—via a September title bout between Jersey Joe Walcott and light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich.

But whether it be Lesnevich or Walcott whose luster was dimmed by Joe Louis in the champ's finale, it is a temporary arrangement. For no matter which one of these aging gladiators gets the "award" he'll only be holding it in escrow for a lad named Ezzard Charles.

There are a lot of points on his side. At 24 he still is eating his way into the heavyweight division. Then too, youth is on his side and, a big item, he is the choice of Louis, himself.

"I think Charles is the best heavyweight around," Louis declared. "I'd rather fight Lesnevich than Charles 'cause I'd have a better chance against Lesnevich."

Recent knockout victims have been such top ranking heavies as Jimmy Bivins, Elmer Ray, Lloyd Marshall and Fritzie Fitzpatrick. Bivins once was regarded as the next boss man and Ray, the violent one, was no push over.

Charles was signed yesterday to battle Bivins at Griffith stadium, Washington, on August 2.

Charles never was defeated as an amateur, winning 42 fights as he grabbed a hat full of honors including the Golden Gloves and Senior AAU middleweight crowns.

Mrs. Stiles Wins Tourney Match

Mrs. J. H. Stiles defeated Mrs. T. E. Patterson with a plus five score in the third round of the Ladies' Round Robin golf tournament Wednesday at Lubbock Country club, as Mrs. George Soash took a plus eight victory over Mary Jarrott.

Other championship flight results included: Mrs. E. H. Holcomb defeated Mrs. T. L. Sampson, plus three; Mrs. O. D. McCoy defeated Mrs. Fenner Tubbs, plus three; and Mrs. John Markham won over Mrs. Herb Schroeder, plus six.

In the nine-hole first flight Mrs. Tom Duggan defeated Mrs. E. S. Hall, plus one; Mrs. David Haymes defeated Mrs. W. T. Bradbury, plus three; and Mrs. Culver Hill defeated Mrs. Kenneth Leslie, plus four.

Second flight matches resulted in a victory for Mrs. M. H. Cope over Mrs. Bill Honey, plus three; Mrs. E. M. Hennersdorf defeated Mrs. J. B. McCauley, plus five; and Mrs. C. O. Campbell defeated Mrs. Roy Autry, plus three.

In the beginners' flight Mrs. O. G. Wilson defeated Mrs. Ben Williams, plus one, and Mrs. C. A. Rosebrough won over Mrs. E. F. St. Clair, plus three.

White Sox Win, 9-8 In Pee Wee Game

Long-range clouting by Ronald Hall and Jimmie Harris gave the White Sox a narrow 9-8 victory over the Dodgers in a Pee Wee league tilt Wednesday afternoon at Lubbock Boys club. George Harris pased the losers with a homer and a double.

In the Junior loop the Optimists of the North division edged out the Exchange club, 5-3, behind the slugging of Charles Hodges. Hodges collected a single and a double in three trips to the plate.

Three games are scheduled today at the club diamond, with the Pee Wee loop All-Stars battling at 2 o'clock, the Tigers meeting the Yankees at 4 and American Business club clashing with the Methodist Men at 5:30.

Bishop Martin Takes New Post

New general superintendent of the Dallas area of the Methodist church, which includes the North and Northwest Texas conferences, will be Bishop William C. Martin of Topeka, who more than 10 years ago conducted a series of services at the First Methodist church in Lubbock.

Bishop Martin was assigned to the Dallas area of the Methodist church at the south central jurisdictional conference at El Paso Monday. He has served as pastor of three Texas churches.

Will Preside Here

He possibly will meet with the Northwest Texas conference, which includes the Lubbock district, next November.

In May of 1949, he will preside at the annual meeting of the conference in Lubbock.

Bishop Martin was born July 28, 1893, in Tennessee. He was elected bishop in 1938.

He had served as pastor of Grace church at Houston four years, First Methodist church at Port Arthur three years, First Methodist church at Little Rock, Ark., three years, and First Methodist church at Dallas six years.

Has Honorary Degrees

He received his education at the University of Arkansas, Hendrix college, University of Aberdeen and Southern Methodist university. He received an AB degree from Hendrix college and BD degree from Southern Methodist university. He received honorary doctor's degrees from Hendrix college, Nebraska Wesleyan college and Baker university.

He has a wife and two children.

He will leave in July, accompanied by his wife, for Amsterdam, Holland, to attend a meeting of the World Council of Churches, representing the Methodist Council of Bishops.

Truman Sweep Seen

Eisenhower might issue a fresh statement before the July 12 Philadelphia convention reiterating that he does not want the nomination and will reject a "draft" if it is tendered him.

Nevertheless, the 26-member Alabama delegation, first on the convention roll call, still intends to nominate the general in hopes of stampeding the conclave and forcing him to accept from "sense of duty to his country."

Pennsylvania Backs HST

If Alabama persists in its plan to nominate Eisenhower, his name will go before the convention ahead of that of the President. Southerners reportedly see this strategy as their main hope of defeating Mr. Truman.

Justice Douglas, like Eisenhower, is regarded by political experts as unavailable and unwilling to play any part in politics, especially in the anti-Truman revolt that has swept the embattled Democratic party.

The President received encouragement, meanwhile, from the action of the 74-member Pennsylvania delegation in Harrisburg, Pa., which went on record as endorsing his candidacy to succeed himself.

President Opposed

Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) called at the White House today and assured Mr. Truman of the support of the Massachusetts delegation.

Ira Haymaker, chairman of the Indiana delegation, also visited the President to assure him that the Hoosier group would be in his corner in Philadelphia.

States definitely arrayed against Mr. Truman in the Philadelphia convention will be Mississippi, with 22 votes; South Carolina, 20; Alabama, 26; Florida, 20; Georgia, 28 and Virginia, 26 for a 142 total.

Virginia picks its delegates July 2, and the slate is predominately anti-Truman.

Doubtful states with anti-Truman leanings include Arkansas, 22; Connecticut, 20; Illinois, 60; Michigan, 42; Minnesota, 26; Tennessee, 28 and Texas, 50 for a 248 total.

Top Democrats close to the White House said they expected among the other delegations there would be occasional anti-Truman votes by individuals, but they estimated the grand total would not exceed 400 votes.

Clemency Recommendation For Lubbock Man Is Turned Down

AUSTIN, June 30 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today reported he has turned down 15 recommendations for clemency from the board of pardons and paroles.

Those refused conditional pardons included:

Alfred Homer Keeton—sentenced in Lubbock county to 15 years for rape. Recommendation turned down because he has not served one-third of term and was involved in a similar offense prior to this.

Willard Howard Wood—sentenced to 15 years for murder in Montgomery county. Governor refused clemency because of nature of crime and fact that Wood's record in prison is not clear.

Jess Smith and L. V. Powell—sentenced to 5 years from Bell county for assault with intent to murder and intent to rob. Each has credit for 2 years and 10 months on his term Governor rejected recommendation because of nature of the crime and the protest of the local officials.

Johnnie Orr jr., sentenced to three years from Bowie county for felony theft. Refused because of subject's record and reputation prior to this sentence and the protest of local officials.

Lonnie Paul Freeman—sentenced to two years from Wichita county for two cases of burglary. Refused because of lack of support of the recommendation by local officials.

voted in Chicago to comply with non-Communist phases of the Taft-Hartley law. Unless a union's top officers sign affidavits that they have no Communist connections, the union is denied the services of the National Labor Relations board in labor disputes.

Rails: White House conferences between representatives of the railroads and brotherhoods were recessed to await a court decision Thursday on the government's plea for a permanent order banning a railroad strike. Members of three operating unions are working under a temporary anti-strike injunction that expires Thursday.

Wage talks between the CIO United Railroad Workers and the Pennsylvania railroad broke up at Philadelphia. The company asked for time to draw up counter proposals. The union is seeking a shorter work week and a 25 cents hourly wage boost for the 50,000 non-operating workers it says it represents.

Miners Sign Contract

Coal: Conferences to reach a new hard coal wage agreement continued in New York with indications a final agreement is near. Meanwhile, at Springfield, Ill., the Progressive Mine Workers union signed a one year contract in behalf of its 12,000 working members with the Illinois Coal Producers association. The agreement provides for a $1 daily wage increase and 20 cents royalty on each ton of coal mined.

Steel: The Iron Age, metal-working trade weekly, predicted that steelworkers will get a pay boost "within a few weeks." The publication added that steel prices would go up "maybe as much as $4 to $6 a ton over quotations presently in effect with major steel firms."

Shipping: Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed issued a court order restraining the National Maritime union from striking against Great Lakes shippers for 80 days.

Fishing Boat Blast

Salem Musley, jr., 23, was found this morning. Both were from Ocala.

Grab For Wreckage

Searchers expressed fear that all other members of the party were killed. Sanders said that he saw the boat owner, L. R. Burnett, of Yankeetown, drown.

Sanders said the life preservers were given to the six women aboard the craft.

He said:

"Then the rest of us went over, grabbing for any bit of wreckage we could find. Some of us held on the sides of life preservers. I was clinging to the edge of the preserver used by Mrs. Potts.

"We began floating and hoping and praying.

Crabs Attack Survivor

"We had a rainstorm Monday and several squalls, but our greatest discomfort was from thirst."

Mrs. Potts' husband is among those still missing.

Sanders said that he was cut badly by needle fish and that "big crabs in groups of 25 or 30" attacked the survivors. He continued:

"Porpoises and sharks circled us but somehow never attacked.

"Every minute we were fighting something."

The barber said that he saw the body of one woman and took her life preserver. He said that Tuesday morning there were four left, drifting together in the gulf. He identified the other two, besides himself and Mrs. Potts, as Mrs. Henry Mays and Ellen Counts.

"We saw an island some three miles distant and began swimming for it. Mrs. Potts and I made it."

"I don't know what happened to the others."

Marshall Warns Reds

was credited in informed circles with inspiring Marshall to force the issue with Moscow to an immediate head.

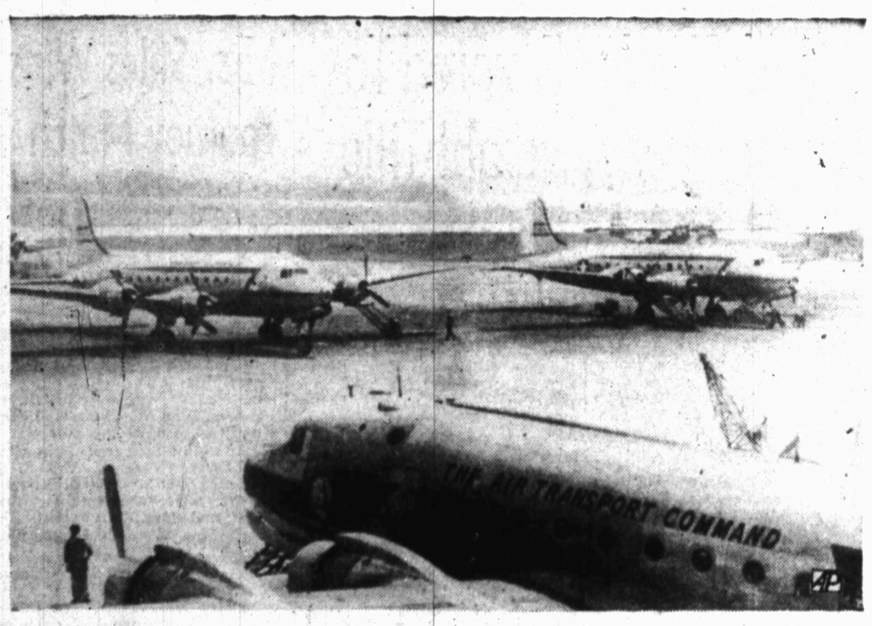

This was the report that Russia had raised barrage balloons in the American air corridor leading into Berlin immediately after Marshal Sokolovsky, Soviet commander in chief, had expressed "hope" that rail traffic into the German capital might soon be resumed.

Air Ferry To Continue

Ironically, latest Berlin reports state that only one balloon actually was sent aloft. Any concentration of these balloons would make extremely hazardous flight over the aerial supply line on which the non-Soviet area of Berlin depends for emergency food and medical supplies.

In today's 89-word statement, Marshall made it clear that the United States would continue to meet food shortages with aerial transport. He said that the tonnage which could be carried by air is much greater than had originally been assumed.

The secretary was at Walter Reed general hospital completing a routine physical checkup when he reached the decision to force the issue with Russia. He will return to his State department desk tomorrow to assume more intimate command of the delicate situation.

Congress Assailed

neers of five years' engineering experience.

Act Criticized

The President described the provision as an invasion of executive functions, and said it "subjects federal officials to the risk of being legislated out of office if they incur the wrath of special interests."

He said Congress should have passed legislation to make the Virgin islands economy self-sustaining and to provide for schools, hospitals and other essential services which are lacking.

Mr. Truman's most bitter criticism was reserved for the act which denies a new power installation at New Johnsville, which had been requested by the Tennessee Valley authority.

The President said that the steam generating plant is needed to provide more electricity for civilian use in the area served by the TVA as well as for the demands of the atomic energy plant at Oak Ridge, and for production of war potential in aluminum and chemical industries located throughout the Tennessee valley.

"When the dumb deputy went up on the third floor I poked along behind and spotted where he left the dough. I was bowled over when I saw what was there. Having a lot of time, I just locked it up again so that nothing else would get stole. Oh, yes, I just waited on the blind landing until eight, and then walked out.

Texarkana Club Franchise Sold

DALLAS, June 30. (AP)—R. W. Burnett announced today he had sold his Texarkana franchise in the Big State league to Claude Lee, an oil man, for $75,000.

The Texarkana club had been used as a farm for the Dallas club of the Texas league, also owned by Burnett.

All players sent to Texarkana on option by Dallas (Hal Van Pelt, Jimmy O'Connell and Lou Garland) are to become the outright property of the Texarkana club. Burnett retains title to six players optioned out through the Texarkana club to other leagues.

In announcing the sale, Burnett explained that he wanted to devote all of his time to building a club in Dallas.

TEXARKANA CLUB'S SALE DOES NOT AFFECT HUBS

Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, owner of the Lubbock Hubbers, said yesterday that the sale of Texarkana's baseball franchise to Claude Lee did not affect any of the players on option to the Hubbers.

Mrs. Rosenthal said that the only bona fide player now on option to Lubbock from Texarkana was Pitcher Fred Pollack and that Chick Fowler and Virgil Richardson, optioned to the Hubbers by Texarkana through Dallas, remain Rebel property.

Dallas and Lubbock retain their working agreement.

Sunbeamers Win Title By Beating Baldridge

Sunbeam's high-flying nine clinched undisputed possession of the South Plains Softball league championship by drubbing Baldridge Bakery, 6-1, in the opener of a "make up" twin bill Wednesday night at Jumbo Webster park.

Jackie Neel limited the Bakerymen to five scattered safeties to notch the seventeenth victory of the season for the Sunbeamers, while the Sunbeam sluggers were connecting for six hits—including Willis James' homer.

In the nightcap the Thomas Jewelers took over the third slot in the loop standings by dropping Golden Light, 4-1, behind the twirling of G. W. Warden.

Air Ferry To Berlin

a vigorous attack on their expanded emergency air freight service published in the official Soviet newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau. The Russian organ said:

"Claims that this service is designed to feed Berlin are a bluff to cloak the plundering of the city by shipping out machinery and products on the return flight."

U. S. air authorities promptly denied the Soviet charge. They said most planes were returning to western Germany empty.

Some western officials speculated whether this new attack might be a forerunner to a Russian attempt to restrict use of air corridor lifelines to the west.

Balloon Causes Scare

A lone Russian balloon used for artillery range spotting caused a false scare today on the aerial supply route. Excited U. S. Air Force authorities reported a barrage balloon barrier had been raised across the air corridor.

It finally was found that the balloon is flown to help figure artillery range and bearing and never is up more than an hour at a time.

Before the case was straightened out, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander, said if barrage balloons were raised "we would deal with them as during the war."

In Washington the U. S. Air Force announced tonight it has contracted with four U. S. commercial airlines to fly 62 tons of spare parts, extra engines and other equipment needed by the fleet of 39 Air Force transports which are flying supplies to blockaded Berlin. The first two flights by the commercial cargo planes left this afternoon.

Lubbock, Plainview Sales Show Boost

AUSTIN, June 30 (AP)—Texas retail sales last month jumped 13 percent over year-ago figures, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today.

The month's sales were estimated at $449,000,000.

The greatest increase—41 percent—was reported at Plainview. Texas City sales jumped 19 percent, Austin 15 percent, Lubbock 15 percent and Temple 13 percent.

April-to-May changes varied from a 6 percent rise in Waco to a 12 percent dip in Big Spring. The overall state picture from April to May showed little change.

For the first five months of 1948, all Texas cities showed retail sales above a like period in 1947, the bureau reported.

ments, democratic movements and national liberation movements" in Yugoslavia. The Yugoslav Communists thus appeared to be standing their ground against the Cominform's criticism that the National Front, embracing political and other groups besides the Communists, was not sufficiently under the control of the Communists.

U. S. Eyes Situation

The party last night declared the accusations of the Cominform (Communist information bureau) which is made up of Communist party representatives from Russia, Yugoslavia, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, France and Italy, were "founded on hearsay."

It denied Yugoslavia was preparing to make "concessions to imperialists." It denied it had strayed from the true precepts of Communism, as the Cominform charged.

The possibility that the Tito revolt threatens the whole structure of Soviet-Allied satellite states in eastern Europe is under close study by the State department, said Washington dispatches.

The only sign of repercussions so far, however, came from Vienna, where they were indications of differences among Austrian Communists as to the line to take toward the Yugoslav rebellion. A closed meeting was called for Saturday.

Elsewhere in Communist circles, a smooth facade of solidarity with the nine-nation Cominform and against Tito was maintained

U. S. READY TO RETURN YUGOSLAV GOLD HOARD

WASHINGTON, June 30 (INS)—Diplomatic sources reported today that the United States is ready to return $50,000,000 in gold to Yugoslavia if Marshal Tito's government agrees to an overall settlement of other differences.

The gold was deposited in America early in 1941 when the Germans overran Yugoslavia.

Return of the gold is part of a general agreement for the settlement of many matters long in the stage of delicate negotiation between the U. S. and the Balkan nation.

Coincident Seen

The decision to agree on a matter which has been hanging for three years came as Tito, strong man of Yugoslavia, refused to be read out of the Communist party by the Moscow-controlled Cominform.

Although U. S. officials undoubtedly will assert publicly that any settlement at this time comes as a sheer coincidence with the rift in the Soviet bloc, none would deny that the announcement will spray fuel on the fire.

Burglary Probe Continued Here

Law enforcement officers had an unusually quiet tour of duty last night with no new offenses being reported, but investigation was continued in a burglary and two attempted burglaries.

Thompson Hardware company, at 1712 Ave. H, reported that three rifles and two shotguns, valued at $145.75, were taken in a Tuesday night burglary.

Radio Patrolmen Pete Hubbard and Doyle Clark investigated. They said entrance was at a door, glass of which had been broken.

All guns taken were new, store officials informed the investigators.

Two Attempted Breakins

Police said there was an attempted burglary of McKee Wholesale company, at 2524 Ave. H. There was no entrance reports indicated.

They also said a window had been broken at Massey Motor company, but that officials believed there had been no entrance to the building.

According to members of the liquor control board and the sheriff's office, E. R. Balch, of 2209 Seventh, was arrested in Lynn county yesterday and charged with liquor law violation. In the county court of Judge Tom Garrard he was fined $450 and costs, the officers reported.

Don Webb, of 2007 Tenth, reported theft of a maroon, Texas Ranger bike from Pioneer park last night.

a reception at Hotel Lubbock from 7 to 8:30 o'clock.

Friday morning he will continue his aerial swing, landing at Crosbyton at 9 o'clock and dropping down at Spur at 10:15 a. m. From there he will go to Aspermont and Stamford and spend the night at Abilene.

On a later trip, he will visit the northern Plains area, his headquarters has announced.

On each of his stops at South Plains towns, landing places have been provided by Johnson supporters and arrangements made for his speeches Johnson-for-Senator organizations have already been set up in 16 of the 25 counties in this district.

Before leaving Lubbock Friday morning, Johnson is to make a radio talk at 6:45 a. m. over a special state network hookup originating in KFYO.

LARGE CROWDS TURN OUT FOR JOHNSON'S TALKS

BALLINGER, June 30 (Special)—Lyndon Johnson chalked up his 140th major speech in fourteen days of helicopter campaigning today as he spoke to the largest crowds yet seen along the trail of his whirlwind travels.

At small towns and large towns, Johnson crowds far exceeded expectations. Business houses in the little community of Bangs, near Brownwood, closed their doors and more than seven hundred people heard Johnson after he landed on Main street. That was the smallest crowd of the morning.

No Run-Off Forecast

In Coleman, Johnson landed on a roped-off block of Main street in the town's business section and spoke to a crowd estimated by local editors at 2,500 people. Portions of the crowd had to be shoved back into store buildings to make room for the helicopter to land.

The smiling, confident candidate brought his crowds into the campaign too, calling on them to chant —"so loud they'll hear you in the clubs of Houston—" that "there ain't gonna be no run-off."

Hitting hard on the need for action to meet West Texas' water problem, Johnson brought cheers at Coleman when he declared: "You know why the water problem hasn't been solved. You know why every ranch here doesn't have lights. Because you sent men to office who just puffed their pipes and kept sitting and sitting and sitting."

He has been assured at every stop that he has walked into the lead in West Texas, and will lead the ticket in this sector on July 24.

Israeli's Flag Is Raised Over Haifa Harbor As British Leave

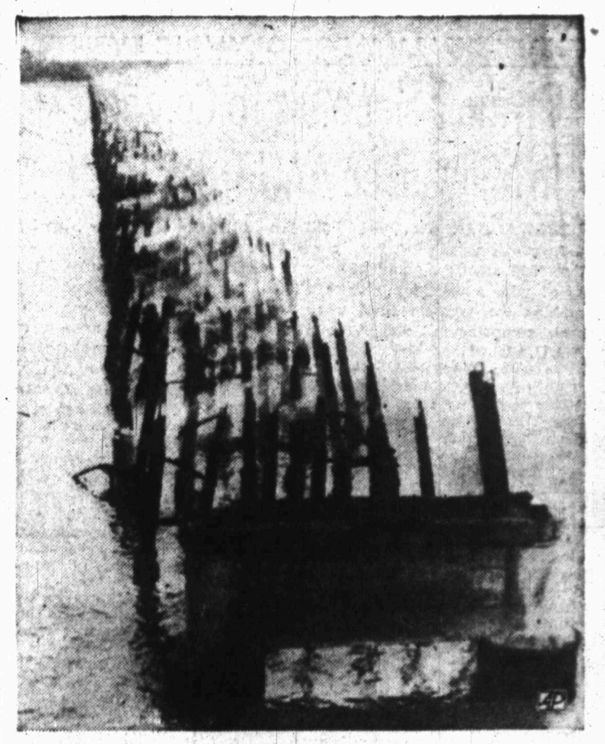

HAIFA, Israel, June 30 (AP)—Israel's Star of David banner replaced the Union Jack over Haifa harbor tonight as the last of British troops pulled out of Palestine.

Britain's 31 years of military power in the strategic Middle East ended quietly and calmly.

A selected crowd of 1,000 Jews filed through the port gate and watched the ceremony of hoisting the blue and white Israel flag.

At the ceremony David Ben-Gurion, Israel's premier described the evacuation as "one of the greatest days in the state of Israel's history."

"We are prepared to forget this shameful British chapter in the history of Palestine if they will stop war against us," he continued.

FIRE DESTROYS BRIDGE—Smoke still rises from the wreckage of the vehicular bridge across the Bay of St. Louis between Bay St. Louis, Miss., and Henderson Point, Miss., which was destroyed by a fire. The flames destroyed a half-mile section of the bridge from the main land to the drawbridge, resulting in the detouring of heavy traffic on U. S. Highway 90. (AP Wirephoto).

People In Missouri Not Surprised That Another Jesse James Made Appearance

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 30. (AP)—When an old man down in Lawton, Okla., turned up recently claiming that he was Jesse James, no one around St. Joseph was surprised. The folks around here are accustomed to that sort of thing. It has been going on for years.

Jesse James has become an American legend. His connection with St. Joseph was merely that he lived here briefly. But, unfortunately for the city that gave the world the pony express and launched Eugene Field on his career, Jesse James and St. Joseph are almost synonymous. Jesse had the hard luck of being shot in the back of the head, with fatal results, during the period he was holing up here under the name of Mr. Howard.

That was more than 66 years ago. Jesse was shot on the morning of April 3, 1882. It was the day of the hottest city election St. Joseph ever had, but hardly anybody bothered to vote after it was learned that the nice "Mr. Howard" who had been everybody's friend was really the outlaw, and that he had been slain for a reward.

New James Appear

The numerous claimants to the name of Jesse James in the last generation always have had to contend with the fact that since Jesse was shot for a reward, every legal effort was made to establish the identity of the dead man.

For about 50 years the identity never was questioned, so thorough was the proof at the time. About 1930 the new Jesse Jameses appeared. First off was a story from Florence, Colo., to the effect that a man who died there was believed to have been the real Jesse James. His body was exhumed and photographed.

The story was enough to cause the St. Joseph Gazette to go to a great deal of trouble to hunt down the facts. Judge T. F. Ryan, who was an Assistant Prosecutor at the time of the slaying, was interviewed Dec. 13, 1931. He was convinced that the man slain in 1882 was Jesse James. He described in detail the events of the fateful day.

He had received a telephone call from the city marshal. (St. Joseph had telephones in 1882 though few cities could boast of such a system). Marshal Enos Craig reported he had two men in custody who said they killed Jesse James. They were the Ford brothers.

Ford Brothers Pardoned

Judge Ryan described the day's events, including the tearful visit of the widow of Jesse James, asking for custody of the body. He never was able to find any legal basis for Governor Crittenden's pardon of the Ford brothers from their death sentence after their plea of guilty to a murder charge. The fact that a $5,000 reward had been offered for Jesse James, dead or alive, had made no difference to him.

On June 22, 1932, a gentleman appeared at the office of the News-Press, which had taken over the Gazette, and calmly announced he was the original Jesse James. To prove it, he wanted reporters—and a photographer—to go with him to the old James house on Lafayette street, where he would submit convincing proof, he said.

The new Jesse James said it was true a man was killed in the home, but the man wasn't Jesse James. He said he and his brother Frank were riding toward the house when they heard the shot that killed the man later identified as Jesse. He took $50 in gold from the body of the dead man, ran outside, buried a gun and fled.

Circuses Try Stunt

"Now to prove to you I am Jesse James I am going to dig up that gun, provided it already hasn't been found. That gun will have the initial 'B' carved with a penknife on the black handle."

He picked up a grubbing hoe, started digging in a clump of currant bushes and in practically no time had dug up a gun. "Gentlemen, does that convince you I am the original Jesse James?"

A lot of people weren't convinced. The controversy raged until July 5, 1934 when Henry Bauman, now dead, came to the Newspress with a photograph. He was a grading contractor in 1895, and as part of the improvement of Lafayette street the whole top of the big hill had been cut off. A gun buried by Jesse in 1882 would have been at least 14 feet under ground in order to be within reach of a grubbing hoe in 1932.

That was the last St. Joseph heard of the Jesse James of 1932. But there have been others.

About that time every circus and carnival company had an original Jesse James.

Education In U.S. Nearing Disaster, Observer Believes

NEW YORK, June 30. (U.P.)—Edward Alvey, Jr., dean of Mary Washington College, says the nation's education system is heading for disaster.

Alvey, in an article written for the new Encyclopedia Americana Annual, said the current crisis in our schools, caused by the shortage of teachers and lack of facilities, is going to get progressively worse.

Alvey finds that an increase of more than 30 per cent in children of elementary school ages is expected for the 10 year period of 1942 to 1952.

"Such a trend has obvious implications for elementary and secondary school enrollments," Alvey said. "Already the effects of the increasing birthrate are being felt in the lower grades of the elementary schools."

Youngsters Increasing

Alvey estimated that there will be nearly 3,000,000 six-year-olds by 1952, an increase of about 1,000,000 in 10 years.

"This will only serve to aggravate an already dangerous shortage of qualified teachers," Alvey said. He estimated that at least 350,000 trained teachers left the profession during the last five years.

"At present," Alvey said, "there are more than 100,000 teachers working with 'emergency certificates' because they lack the minimum teacher qualifications."

Alvey added that since 1942 the average collegiate preparation of teachers had dropped approximately one year.

The dean said the major cause of the teacher shortage was low pay scales.

Alvey finds the outlook "in the higher education plants continues to be grimly tight." The enrollment for last year, he said, doubled the previous one.

Alvey predicted that the enrollment in colleges and universities would be doubled next year and re-doubled the year after.

Building Record Set

miscellaneous types of construction—business, industrial, schools, churches, municipal and the like.

Helping materially toward the imposing six months' total were $243,160 in construction for which permit were issued Wednesday. Included in this total, however, were several projects which had been authorized and upon which work actually has been started. Applicants simply were too rushed to pick up their permits earlier.

One of these was for the $75,000 physical education and gymnasium building for Senior High school, for which a site has been prepared on nearby Chapman field.

Three were issued to R. H. Edler as contractor for projects costing a total of $76,965 on the Texas Tech campus. They include a plant industry shop, $32,875; a garage and lumber storage building, $28,710, and repairs to the gymnasium, $15,380. Edler also got a permit as contractor for alterations costing $5,000 to the Howard Hunt residence at 1904 Seventeenth street.

Carl Hensley obtained permits to build a two-story residence costing $26,000 for himself at 3304 Twenty-fourth and as contractor for a pumice tile dwelling costing $13,700 for Gaylord Hankins at 3412 Twenty-sixth.

Other permits reported during the day included:

M. H. Day, contractor, and L. G. Pierce, jr., owner, residence at 2825 Twenty-fourth, $12,000; C. H. Tisdel, contractor, alterations and remodeling at 1101 Broadway for the Sweetbriar shop, $10,000; Henry Drake, pumice tile residence at 3603 Twenty-sixth, $9,000; J. C. Griffin, frame residence at 2908 Allen, $6,000, and Mary A. Hatcher, pumice tile business building at 707 Broadway, $5,000

ALWAYS IMPRESSED JURY

Dewey Used Unusual Court-Room Strategy As District Attorney

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 30 — Sidelights at celebrities:

When he was the two-fisted D. A. of New York, sending a long series of hoods and their protectors to prison, Tom Dewey had a courtroom maneuver which never failed to impress a jury.

He would build up the examination of the defendant to a key question on which the whole case might rest. But when he asked the question, Dewey would turn his back and start walking away from the defendant before the latter could begin his answer.

Was Surprise Move

You see, Dewey used to drink gallons of water during a day in court. He would plant the water pitcher at the extreme far end of a long table that stretched in front of and beyond the jury box. It was toward this distant pitcher he would stride after asking the $64,000 question.

It might be something like, "Why did you kill Dutch Schultz?"

The unhappy guy on the stand, a bit startled by the fact that Dewey was walking away from him, would hesitate, then maybe blurt, "I didn't kill dat bum."

Dewey would stop as if stabbed, then turn slowly around and face the witness.

"What did you say?" He'd ask incredulously.

"I said I didn't kill dat bum," the guy might persist.

Dewey would look at the jury, shrug, sigh, then complete his trip to the water.

Brewster Appreciates Note

Wistful little note from Sen. Owen Brewster, who has been kicked around a bit this past year. I wrote a piece recently congratulating him on pushing through a bill which will lift (from $100 to $400) the amount of junk which American tourists may bring home from overseas duty free.

"It is occasional episodes at this time of this character that constitute the chief compensation for the vicissitudes of public life," the gentleman from Maine writes.

Stars Hit In London

Biggest wow on the London concert stage in years is Tony Martin, the Hollywood singer. Judging from News - clippings received from there his popularity is such that he has stimulated a whole new field of madness among the bobby-soxers. (England has them, too.)

Now, when he leaves the Savoy hotel, they line up in droves—as usual—and when he hops into a car to get to his theater the kids (and many oldsters) jump into cabs they have had waiting, and pursue him through the streets.

Jack Benny and his group are headed for the same concert stage and if the form holds true, will be a greater success over there than here.

New Business Started

Back in 1945 at a sun-blistered Army air field in Barrackpore, near Calcutta, I met a first sergeant named Kermit Miller and did a piece about him. He had organized an Indian police force to guard the installation, and later helped show some of us through China and Burma.

Well, Kermit made it home okay and wasn't doing much until one day his little daughter Janessy asked him to build her a stone house. That started it.

Today he is president of the Allegheny Stone Engineering Corp., and is building full sized houses with especially cut slabs—or resurfacing others with this arresting type of rock—in a half dozen states.

The ex-sergeant's chief aide is Harold Rupp, former major in the AAF. His chief engineer, C. S. Joslyn, was a colonel and helped build the Burma road. His sales manager is William Stoker, Jr., former lieutenant commander and test pilot for the Navy.

He has GI's scattered through his growing industry and he himself, a native of Jersey Shore, Pa., who now works out of North Haledon, N. J., is well on his way to creating something of a revolution in the devastated field of housing.

But Kermit hasn't forgotten the role Janessy played in the new industry. The little girl, now seven, is vice president of the engineering firm and owns one share of stock, out of which she may cut paper dolls at any moment.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—Two boys were eating ice cream cones of different flavors. Mrs. L. B. Robison, a bystander, said a third boy seemed undecided which flavor to order until he took a lick from the two cones held by his companions. Then he ordered two cones of the same flavors.

New Weapon Against Disease Is Studied

NEW YORK, June 30 (U.P.)—Man may find his most effective weapon against disease from chemical compounds made of the corn cob and the oat hull.

From these by-products of agriculture, science already has developed an oil known as furfural, and from furfural has come a compound known as furacin.

Furacin is a powerful drug and has received little recognition, although it is being used by thousands of doctors and by many hospitals. Until recently it was used on the surface, not orally, or by mouth, in patients.

It is a double-action drug in that it is effective against certain types of bacteria in both groups of germs—the so-called gram-positive and the gram-negative.

Developed by scientists of the Eaton Laboratories, Norwich, N. Y., furacin now is being tried experimentally in oral administration.

Furacin was discussed in the New York State Journal of Medicine by Dr. Louis Daily, medical director of the Eaton company.

He disclosed that the University of Texas is making a study of its effectiveness in sleeping sickness, and that the American Trudeau Society plans to test it as an agent against tuberculosis.

FALSE TEETH TRAP SUSPECT

INDIANAPOLIS, (U.P.)—A burglar lost his false teeth while fleeing Naomi Estelle's home. Police picked up a suspect and popped the set into his mouth. It was a perfect fit. The 48-year-old man was held for questioning.

Texas Supreme Court Will Hear Road Case

AUSTIN, June 30 (AP)—The Supreme court today agreed to hear a case involving legality of the county unit road building system established last year in Jim Wells county.

The court approved the application of county Commissioner Gus Canales and others for a writ of error.

The appelants contend the San Antonio court of civil appeals was wrong in holding the commissioner's court of Jim Wells county could legally adopt the unit road building system without submitting the matter to a vote of the people.

The system was put into effect by a 3-2 vote of the commissioners court. Canales seeks a temporary injunction to prevent the other commissioners and the county road unit administrative officer, Bryan Patterson, from using public funds to carry on the new road building plan.

He contends the action of the commissioners in changing from a precinct to a county pattern of constructing and maintaining roads put Jim Wells county under the "optional county road law of 1947" enacted by the state legislature. That law requires a vote of the county electorate before its provisions can go into effect.

The court of civil appeals held that the provisions adopted by the commissioners' court are not the same as the optional state law even though similar. The Supreme court denied Canales' motion for submission of the case to be advanced, indicating it may not be heard before the court recesses July 7.

Ambassador's Widow Indicted On Attempted Tax Evasion Charge

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—The widow of a former French ambassador to the U. S. and her one-time French cabinet member son were indicted today for attempted evasion of more than $2,000,000 in income taxes in 1930.

The federal grand jury indictment of Eleanor Louise Patenotre, 78, and her son, Raymond, 48, hinged on a year-old investigation of sale of the Philadelphia Inquirer in Montreal for $10,500,000 in 1930.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey said the indictment specifically charges tax evasion on a net income of $8,769,108.27 and a tax liability of $2,183,347.68 in 1930. Mrs. Patenotre then owned a controlling interest of the Inquirer, he said.

Mrs. Patenotre, widow of Jules Patenotre, French ambassador to the U. S. whom she married in 1894, is attempting to regain U. S. citizenship. Federal attorneys said profits from sale of the paper never were reported to the federal government.

Oklahoma Will Ballot Tuesday

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 30 (AP)—Oklahoma voters will show their preferences next Tuesday for a United States senator, eight congressmen and a handful of state officials.

In adidtion the full membership of the state House of Representatives and half of the Senate will be up for nomination.

Leaders of Tuesday's primary will then go into the run-off election July 27 unless they can obtain a majority of votes cast in the first balloting.

Kerr Is Best Known

Perhaps the most widely known Democratic candidate in the Senate race is Robert S. Kerr, oil man and former governor. Kerr is generally regarded as the man to beat.

Gomer Smith, Oklahoma City attorney and former congressman, James E. Berry, lieutenant governor, and Attorney General Mac Q. Williamson are candidates with proved blocs of support.

Glen D. Johnson, freshman congressman from the Fourth district, is making the race in his first state-wide campaign. Ora J. Fox, veteran pension group organizer, is another making an active campaign.

On the Republican ticket Rep. Ross Rizley, Guymon, is conceded the nomination for senator.

Moore Not Running

Sen. Ed H. Moore, Tulsa Republican, is not seeking re-election.

Some state offices are filled by four-year terms and will not be up for election until 1950.

Each county will elect a full slate of officers and half of the district judgeships will be up for election.

Three constitutional questions will be submitted in the election. They would provide for an extra mill levy for separate schools, increased pay for legislators and a new constitutional board of regents for six state colleges.

ODDS AGAINST THEM

COLUMBUS, O. (U.P.)—The odds against a family with children finding housing in Ohio's capital city today are 2,581 to 1, the city housing board reported. The board has had only one recent offer of housing for couples with children. There were 2,581 applicants for that vacancy.

Traits Of Edison Are Recalled By Lubbock Man Who Worked With Famous Scientist

Some of the traits of Thomas A. Edison, with whom Gwin C. Harris of 1718 Thirteenth became acquainted while working four years with the famous scientist, were humor, congeniality, tremendous capacity for around-the-clock work when necessary, and sternness when the occasion demanded.

"He was a humorist in many ways. He could see the funny side of a lot of things," said Harris, who began work as an electrical engineer with Edison soon after World war I ended.

Once, while Edison was working nights to personally supervise a certain phase of work in the industry which grew up around his laboratory at West Orange, N. J., the scientist's wife sent a midnight meal and two cigars to him.

No Smoking Allowed

A sign in the room bore the ruling that there was to be no smoking. Finishing his meal, Edison demanded to know whether an employe at the far end of the room was a certain man, whom he called by name, and whether he had a cigar. Harris, who was nearby, agreed to identify the man but tried to evade answering whether the man had a cigar.

Finally, he agreed the man appeared to have a cigar.

"If he can do it, so can I," said the noted man who established the laboratory and invented the developments to aid mankind on which the industry was based. He lighted his own cigar.

Humorous Slant Revealed

Men who worked with him were accustomed to such day-by-day happenings revealing a humorous slant to the famous man's nature.

They also were subjected to some of the sterner developments. when Edison trimmed the personnel sharply, as he did once while Harris was in his employ. Harris began working for Edison in 1918 and worked four years.

During that time the entire staff of the testing laboratory in which Harris worked was potified because of the depression it would be "laid off." Several tests were underway and Harris hurried to summarize them. When he went to place his summary on record, he was given opportunity to fill in a questionnaire being given to prospective personnel. Graded by Edison, he was passed and remained with the laboratory.

Staff Worked Hard

Edison sometimes pitted work of one employe against another to get utmost work from his staff. "He would tell Moore what Freddie was doing," said Harris. "He would say, 'I believe Sam is going to finish before you do.' He knew how to get the maximum work. He would work hard all day and he expected others to."

"I regard my experience there very highly," said Harris. "I treasure it because it was under the direction of a pioneer scientist.

"He was not a tyrant," he said of Edison. "He was very congenial. He may have been eccentric, but that was his way of doing things."

Harris Moves To Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. Harris and children moved to Lubbock in February.

Harris, however, had lived in Lubbock before, he had moved from Alvin in South Texas in 1911 when his father became a homesteader on school land in Yoakum county.

He came to Lubbock about the time he entered high school in order to go to school here and worked for Rev. George B. Overton, pioneer Methodist minister, and the minister's son, Dr. M. C. Overton, pioneer physician of Lubbock. Harris' brother, A. L. Harris, who lives at 1724 Thirteenth, had come to Lubbock two years earlier.

Early Jobs Recalled

Harris recalled that one of his tasks was to milk cows, which grazed on land which now is a part of Texas Technological college campus.

"I finished high school under J. K. Wester," said Harris. Eight boys and two girls were in the class. Chester Hubbard, Chester Wright and Byron Dickinson were among the class members.

P. F. Brown and George M. Atkinson were teachers. The city's only school was located where the Sears Roebuck & Co. store now stands.

Harris Drove Buggy

While attending school in Lubbock, Harris frequently would drive the Rev. Mr. Overton's phaeton, two-seated buggy with fringe around the top, to a church where the minister was to preach.

After graduating from high school, Harris went to Rice institute in Houston and studied electrical engineering, almost completing work for his degree before he entered the Navy. He served two years, then was released from service at New York after the war ended. He went to an employment office of engineering societies and was sent to West Orange, where he began work in the engineering department of Edison laboratory.

After leaving the Edison laboratory in 1923, he worked for the Western Electric Co. engineering department several years, then went back to the Edison organization.

Ten years prior to coming to Lubbock in February, he lived at Houston. He was a manufacturing representative.

During his second period of employment with the Edison organization, he worked for Theodore Miller Edison, son of Thomas A. Edison. It frequently fell to him to introduce the son as Theodore Miller, because the son wanted to be known by that name at times rather than to coast on his father's reputation, said Harris.

Harris has bought a tract of land, which he is developing here.

Morton Lions Club Installs Zeke Sanders As President

MORTON, June 30 (Special) — Zeke Sanders, secretary-treasurer of the Lions club here for the past year, was installed as the 1948-49 club president today at the annual installation held in the Morton Methodist church. Sanders replaces M. C. Ledbetter as head lion.

Other new officers installed today were Charlie Cravy, first vice president; Homer Thompson, second vice president; L. W. Barrett, third vice president; Jack Rice and L. E. Huggins, directors; David Todd, secretary-treasurer; Courtney Sanders, tailtwister, and Paul Goodman, liontamer.

K. L. Riggs was installation officer. The installation committee included Willard Cox, P. B. Ramby and Roy Hickman.

Man Given Life Term For Treason

BOSTON, June 30 (INS)—Robert H. Best was sentenced today to spend the rest of his natural life in a federal prison.

Best, the minister's son who was convicted of treason against his country by giving aid to the Nazis, was sentenced almost one year to a day after Douglas Chandler received a similar fate.

Chandler and Best were captured in Germany by advancing American forces before Hitler's collapse, and were flown to the United States.

The two former American newsmen were to have been tried in Washington. But the plane winging them to the U. S. made a forced landing at Westover Field, so they had to be tried in Boston. They were the first two Americans tried and convicted of treason in modern times.

The sentence could have been death. But in each case Federal Judge F. W. Ford imposed a sentence of life imprisonment and a fine of $10,000. Best and Chandler are financially well off.

Best was "Berlin's Best" and Chandler the "Paul Revere" of the powerful Goebbels radio propaganda machine.

They were convicted on all counts after federal juries heard playbacks of their tirades against the Jews, Roosevelt, and "capitalistic imperialism."

The records revealed their appeals to American troops in Africa to lay down their arms.

Best is 52 and a native of Sumter, S. C. Chandler, 54, is a native of Baltimore. The latter is now at the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn.

Best was returned to Charles Street jail. Where he will be transferred will be determined by the attorney general of the United States.

Best was given permission to read a statement, in which he said:

"I would not change places at this moment with any person anywhere in the world."

Roof Repairs In House Of Representatives Delayed Due To Inflated Building Costs

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 30—Congress isn't getting the roof fixed this year because things are too expensive.

Back in 1940, capitol architect David Lynn found that there was some danger that the ceiling of the House of Representatives chamber might cave in, conceivably interrupting some important debate. There are 120 tons of cast iron in the ceiling—enough to make a weighty interruption.

Temporary Supports Built

To guard against this danger, a temporary framework of steel girders was erected to support the roof. No matter what else the girders did, they added nothing to the chamber's good looks.

Ever since then Congress has been planning to have that roof fixed, and maybe do a little remodeling at the same time. They haven't done much to the House chamber in the last 80 years.

To launch this project they set up the special-committee-on-reconstruction-of-house-roof-and-skylights-and-remodeling-of-house-chamber, Rep. J. Harry McGregor, R., O., current chairman.

Of course they couldn't do anything during the war, or immediately thereafter. But early this year Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., passed the word that this summer might be a good time to get going.

Estimated Cost High

The committee asked for bids. No bids were forthcoming.

"No contractor seemed to be interested," said McGregor. "A couple offered to do it on a cost plus basis, but we weren't biting on anything like that."

"We'll just have to get along until prices come down. Its unsightly, but safe."

McGregor estimated that when the House does get a new roof, it will cost the taxpayers several million dollars. That will also include better lighting and some new seats. The old ones are pretty uncomfortable, he said.

Fresh apricots add a delicious note to fruit salads. They may be halved and each hollow stuffed with a nutted cream cheese ball.

Lubbock County Blood Bank Opens Today

Plans Announced For New Service

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

The Lubbock County Blood bank, representing months of planning and effort, will open at 5 o'clock this afternoon at Lubbock county Red Cross headquarters at 1513 Ave. K.

Mayor W. H. Rodgers and W. C. O'Mara, retiring chairman of the Lubbock county chapter of the Red Cross after five years service, will be the first donors of blood.

A doctor, nurses, nurses aides, canteen workers, motor corps workers and staff assistants will be present, each to do his or her part in duties connected with the obtaining of blood and the care of donors and other multifarious tasks related to proper operation of a blood bank.

Ten Donors Expected

Ten persons are expected to give blood during the two-hour period the bank will be open. Hereafter, the bank will be open on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 5 to 7 p. m.

Appointments are being made for donors to give blood Friday. Anyone wishing to give blood was asked to telephone 8534, Red Cross headquarters.

The bank is ready to go into permanent operation, furnishing a steady supply of blood for patients in member hospitals of the American Hospital association in the county, when request is made by a physician.

Maximum Charge Set

Announcement was made Wednesday afternoon that member hospitals had agreed upon a maximum charge of $5 to be made for administering blood to a patient.

The blood bank, operating under the slogan "From the Community to the Community," will make no charge for obtaining the blood or making it available for use. A patient in participating hospitals may eliminate those major costs when a transfusion is necessary, unless the patient chooses to obtain blood from a professional donor rather than the blood bank.

Participating hospitals are West Texas, Lubbock Memorial and St. Mary's hospitals.

A system is to be worked out later whereby negroes may give blood for transfusions for their own race, blood bank officials announced Wednesday.

Director On Duty

Dr. S. C. Arnett, jr., medical director for the blood bank, will be on duty during blood bank hours today.

Mrs. W. B. Agee, blood bank chairman, will be present and announced the following others will be on duty today: Nurses aides, Mrs. O. R. Hand and Mrs. Lee E. Hale; staff assistants, Mrs. Val Williams, Mrs. M. D. Watkins,

Cars To Be Brought To Central Point Saturday

Over 200 Boys Set For Derby

Lubbock's first Soap Box Derby will have at least 249 cars ready for the starting flag, Derby officials announced Wednesday after a check of entry records and inspections.

A total of 209 boys sent their cars through the inspection line at Kuykendall Chevrolet company's parking lot Monday and Tuesday and calls to other entrants revealed that 40 more boys were finishing their cars this week and would be ready for the race Monday.

Derby Director Roy Finley issued another appeal for "heat prizes" for the youngsters, declaring that an effort will be made to award every winner of the race's 60 or more heats-some sort of prize of at least $5 value.

Finley said announcement of all prizes would be made in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal.

Take Cars To Kuykendall

He corrected an error in Wednesday's paper regarding Saturday's assembly of racers for the Derby. Instead of Dickinson Motor company's truck plant on East Broadway, the cars can be brought to the Kuykendall lot and from there they will be transported to the Dickinson plant, where final inspection will be made.

Those boys who do not bring their cars to the Kuykendall lot by Saturday afternoon must have them at the Dickinson Motor company plant by 8 a.m. Monday, race day.

Finley and Lubbock Exchange club members, co-sponsors with the Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet in staging the Derby, will complete final plans for handling the large crowd in meetings Thursday and Friday. All officials of the race are to gather in a meeting Friday to map out final details for handling the contestants.

Advice Is Given

"We're going to have a lot of rough spots to be ironed out before the race starts and we'll likely run into more trouble as we get under way, but every effort will be made to run the race off as quickly as possible," Finley said.

Finley reminded boys that they must bring their lunch or money for their lunch on race day.

"One thing we want," he added, "is for a boy to be ready to take his car down the hill when his turn comes, so that there won't be any delay. This, we must have. We can't hold up three boys from racing just because the fourth in the heat isn't ready to go. It simply will be his hard luck if he isn't ready to race when his time comes around."

Early Monday morning detours will be set on Highway 82 east of Lubbock and traffic will be routed via Avenue A and the old Idalou road running to Purina Mills.

Exchange club members will man the detours and see that traffic is routed over the temporary route.

Finley said final and complete plans for the Derby would be carried in detail in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal.

NEW DEVICES SPEED BANKING

Tellers' Machines To Go Into Service At Lubbock Bank Today

Commercial tellers' machines, expected to speed up services at tellers' windows as much as 25 per cent, will go into use today at the First National bank.

One of the latest developments in mechanized banking, the machines not only will save depositers' time at tellers' windows, but will produce printed receipts for deposit which cannot be duplicated or altered and will be "positive verification" of deposits.

Passbooks To Be Eliminated

The machines are expected to eliminate passbooks for checking account customers at the bank. Manila folders will be furnished in which customers may keep their deposit slips which will replace passbooks, said J. B. Castles, cashier at the bank.

Tellers already have been experimenting with the machines a month, to become acquainted with their use before issuance of receipts from the machines to the depositers.

Depositors will continue to make out their deposit slips in the usual manner and no other feature of the use of checking accounts is to be changed. The registered slip merely replaces the passbook giving both the customer and the bank printed records of the deposit.

Receipts Are Complete

Each deposit receipt issued will bear the particular identification number of the bank, the year, the number of the deposit, the date, the amount of the deposit and the number of the teller. Re-

Most Texans Oppose Jester, May Says

KERRVILLE, June 30 (AP) — Holmes A. May of Houston, candidate for governor, said here today 60 per cent of the people are decidedly anti-Jester but that most Texans have never heard of any of the other candidates for governor.

May returned to his summer home here after a campaign trip through 100 counties of North, Central and South Texas.

He said talk that any candidate would receive the old people, labor and veterans vote was erroneous because this vote will be split up among all the candidates except Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

May said his final campaign trip would include East Texas, the Sabine district and the Houston area.

Safety Council Notes Traffic Death Hike

CHICAGO, June 30 (U.P.)—The National Safety council reported today that traffic deaths had taken an upward swing for the first time in seven months.

There were 2,650 traffic fatalities in May—a jump of three percent over the same month in 1947.

More than 30,000,000 vehicles are expected to be on the move this weekend during the July Fourth holiday, the council said, with the chances of serious accidents multiplied.

The deaths in May pushed the year's total to 11,270, which is five percent below the 11,830 killed in the first five months of 1947.

Poll Tax Receipt Check Is Urged

L. C. Ellis county Democratic committee chairman, suggested Wednesday that persons who have poll taxes should examine them to "be sure that the voting precinct number on the tax receipt corresponds with the individual voter's precinct of residence."

In case it does not, Ellis suggested that the voter "drop by the tax assessor-collector's office and have the correction made."

Polling Places Named

Ellis also cautioned that persons who have moved from one precinct to another since issuance of poll tax receipts should go to the assessor-collector's office and have the receipt formally transferred, not less than three days before the July 24 first Democratic primary.

For convenience of voters in determining whether poll taxes list the correct voting precinct number Ellis listed polling places thus:

No. 1 southwest corner of the courthouse; No. 2, southeast corner courthouse; No 3, northeast corner courthouse; No. 4, northwest corner courthouse; No. 5, Dupree school; No 5-a, Roscoe Wilson school; No 5-b, George R. Bean school; No. 6, Junior High school; No 6-a, Senior High school; No. 7 K Carter school; and No 7-a, Arnett-Benson addition.

Help Is Sought

Ellis also pointed out that "a lot of help" will be needed in connection with conducting the election, and that "any qualified voter desiring to help hold it should get in touch with the presiding judge of his precinct or call me, at phone 7761."

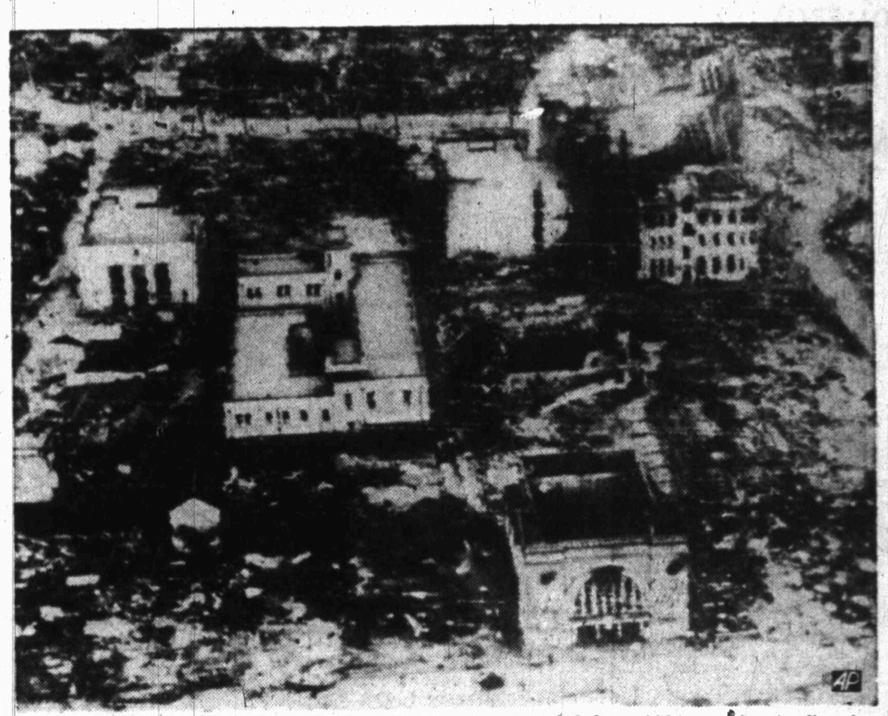

Pay for such service is $6, plus 60 cents an hour for overtime.

Absentee voting in the election will commence July 6.

Ellis, asked to estimate the first primary vote, said he "wouldn't be surprised if the figure is 15,000—and it may run 16,000. We have a potential voting strength of more than 20,000."

FATHER NEEDS HELP

NEW YORK. (U.P.)—Women buy 75 per cent of the men's ties, shirts, underwear and hose, according to a survey made by the American Women's Institute. Fifty-nine per cent of the men who buy suits are accompanied by women. The only thing men can buy by themselves is shoes, the survey concluded.

Jaycee Installation Banquet Set Tonight

Announcement of the "Man of the Year" award, the naming of the new state director for the Lubbock club and installation of officers and directors will highlight the annual installation banquet and dance of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock tonight at the Supper Club.

Melvin B. Evans, young Wichita Falls businessman who recently assumed the presidency of the Texas Jaycees, will be the principal speaker of the evening and will install the local officers and directors. L. D. Whitely, regional vice president of the Jaycees, will also be presented at the banquet tonight.

Dance To Be Held

Identity of the Lubbock Jaycees' "Man of the Year," selected by a committee of three from candidates presented by the club at large, will be made known tonight.

Following the banquet, a dance will be held, with C. A. Rodgers and his orchestra furnishing the music. Both banquet and dance will be semi-formal.

New officers to be installed include: President, Horace Gearhart; first vice president, Russell Wilkinson; second vice president, Weldon Gibbs; secretary, Clifton Haynie; and treasurer, Linley Millsap.

Directors to be installed are: Waggoner Carr, James Morris, Joe Baldridge, J. P. Watt, J. C. Hughes, Leroy Land, Harold Chapman, Jesse Gordon, Asher Thompson, Barney Stagner, Bill Linn, Harry Woody, Homer Hensley, A. C. White and Hugh Rowland. Roy Forkner, retiring president, will automatically assume a position on the board of directors.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Texas Drivers Are Warned To 'Take It Easy' On July Fourth

"Take it easy on the fourth and be alive on the fifth" is the warning issued to motorists planning trips over the Fourth of July by Col. Homer Garrison, jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Many persons who start out to celebrate the Fourth of July this year won't come back, if the holiday toll runs true to form, according to a statement in connection with the safety campaign by W. J. Elliott, chief of the highway patrol.

Huge Toll Feared

"The Fourth of July usually is the summer's most dangerous holiday," Elliott said, "and this year promises to be no exception. A three-day holiday, an upward trend in vehicle mileage, prosperous times—all these add up to a big celebration and a huge toll of dead and injured unless we all make it our business to do something about it."

Elliott particularly pointed out the perils of speed, which contributes to two out of five fatal traffic accidents.

"Speed Kills—Take It Easy," has been adopted as the slogan for a month-long program sponsored by the highway patrol as the July theme of "Operation Safety," a continuing traffic safety education campaign directed in Texas by the patrol and nationally by the National Safety council.

Suggestions Offered

"We can make our July effort pay big dividends in lives saved by getting off on the right foot during the Fourth of July holiday," Capt. E. L. Posey of the Lubbock office of the patrol said. "Then if we can keep up the good work through the vacation season of heavy travel, we can make a big dent in this year's traffic toll."

The patrol offered these suggestions to holiday drivers:

1. Start your trip a little earlier so you won't be tempted to speed. Take it easy on the fourth—be alive on the fifth.
2. Don't drink if you drive.
3. Don't cut in and out in heavy traffic. Stay in line unless passing is safe.
4. Drive as if your life depended on it—because it does.

COMPROMISE IS PROBLEM

Jews May Have To Settle For Smaller State In Holy Land

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The writer of this dispatch is a veteran United Press correspondent who just has returned from Palestine, where he covered the last days of the British mandate and the subsequent Arab-Jewish warfare. He was in Jerusalem throughout the siege of the Holy City by Arab troops.)

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 30—Qualified foreign observers in Palestine believe that the Jews may have to settle, in the final analysis, for a smaller state than that they would have been assigned by the United Nations partition plan of last November.

They may have to trade part of the southern desert for a portion of Arab Galilee, these observers believe.

The first problem, it appears, will be to persuade the Arab leaders, especially King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and King Farouk of Egypt, to agree on a division of Arab Palestine. Then will come the problem of a compromise between Arabs and Jews.

Compromise Seen

That will probably include:

1. Division of the Jewish Negev or southern desert between Trans-Jordan and Egypt, which will give King Abdullah a coveted port on the Mediterranean and Great Britain a naval base from which to protect the Suez canal. Britain, who has lost her hold on Syria, Lebanon and Egypt, is vitally interested in keeping a finger on the Mediterranean coast.

2. The Jews in return receiving part of Arab Gallilee which Jewish armies now occupy.

3. Possibly an economic coalition which would give the Jews the sovereignty they demand and the Arabs the "Palestine federation" on which they insist.

Tempers Still Hot

But the time has not come yet to talk compromise. Neither Arab nor Jew was hurt seriously in the four weeks fighting before the present truce. Confidence is high and tempers hot.

Delano McKelvay, stocky, blond, youthful new American consul, told me when he arrived in Haifa from Mukden, China, en route to Jerusalem to replace the late Thomas C. Wasson: "The Jews can't hope to conquer all the Arab countries, which they would have to do to win the war, and the Jews can hold out for a long time. Both sides must have the edge taken off their temper before they are ready to compromise. The Jews may have to settle for a smaller state."

A UN advisor to Secretary General Trygve Lie said that if the United States and Britain would agree today on division of power in the Mediterranean, peace would return to the Middle East tomorrow. America is on its way in. Britain is struggling to hang on.

No one believes such an agreement will be reached until after the presidential election in America. Meanwhile, America is the strongest force in Israel. And when Britain applies the pressure, the Arabs will stop the shooting.

Truce May Continue

For the time being, Count Folke Bernadotte, the UN mediator, expects nothing more than a possible extension of the present four weeks cease fire which ends on July 9. Already the Egyptians are restless to nail down their claims.

A Swiss spokesman close to Bernadotte told me that the Swedish mediator despaired of reaching any agreement after both sides refused to budge from their original demands. This source quoted Bernadotte as saying he would not jeopardize his reputation as a mediator by proposing a formula acceptable by only one side. Bernadotte was quoted as saying if no progress is made he would advance a proposal which would be rejected by both Jews and Arabs, then wash his hands of the matter.

Jewish officials are saying that Bernadotte has no authority to suggest anything short of the partition lines for Palestine drawn by the United Nations on November 29 which started the present war.

They say Israel would never surrender the Negev as a matter of principle. They admit, however, that Gallilee is much more valuable, would accommodate more settlers, is more fertile and could be developed much more cheaply than the desert which experts estimate would cost $1,500,000 to irrigate.

Judges To Meet On Problem Of Returning Aliens To Mexico

HOUSTON, June 30 (U.P.) — Five federal judges will meet here tomorrow to discuss a possible speedup in the return of wetbacks to Mexico.

Wetbacks, aliens who have entered this country illegally from Mexico, now may be sent back across the border only after a trial by a federal judge.

Circuit Judge J. C. Hutcheson, jr., announcing the session, pointed out that the lack of a resident federal judge in the Rio Grande valley has affected delays that sometimes last a full month.

Judge Hutcheson said one solution would be to deport the aliens as soon as they are apprehended, permitting the United States commissioners to handle trials.

New York's Famed Nickel Subway Fare Changed To Dime

NEW YORK, June 30 (U.P.)— The city's 5,000,000 straphangers bid goodbye to the nickel subway fare today. At midnight tonight the fare becomes 10 cents.

After that, about all a nickel will buy is three minutes of noise on a juke box or a three-minute telephone call.

At midnight, transit workers will convert the coin slots in the subway and elevated systems 3,390 turnstiles. Change booths will begin doling out the 27 1-2 tons of dimes (10,000,000) sent here by the Philadelphia mint to replace the millions of nickels now in circulation.

The City Board of Estimate voted the fare increase last April to grant a pay raise to transit workers and provide needed transit improvements.

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet nor for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe to take off ugly fat.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 30 Pounds

"I wish to state that I lost 30 pounds taking Barcentrate. I didn't starve myself and I feel better than I have in years. I am sure that the easy, safe way to lose weight is by taking Barcentrate."—Mrs. Florence Chadwell, Route 1, Box 650, San Antonio, Texas.

25 Pounds Lost

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 195 pounds. I now weigh 170. I certainly praise Barcentrate."—G. W. Miller, Weatherford, Texas.

Germans To Be Given Signal To Organize Western Government

By DONALD DOANE
Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, June 30 — Germans will be told by the three western powers tomorrow to start forming a German government for all western Germany.

They also will be offered an occupation statute to take the place of a formal peace treaty until all four occupying powers can agree on final peace terms.

Plans for this political fusion of all three western occupation zones were virtually completed today at a meeting of the British, American and French military commanders in this proposed capital of the new western Germany.

Still Hold Offer

It will leave the Russian-occupied eastern zone of Germany all by itself in almost complete political and economic isolation from the rest of Germany.

The Western Allies still held out an offer to include the Soviet zone in an all-German government whenever the Russians will agree.

The Russians, however, were reported going ahead with their own plans for forming a rival German government in their zone which will claim to represent all Germany.

German ministers present were summoned to meet here tomorrow with the Allied commanders to hear the terms of the Allied agreement.

They will be told to have a constituent assembly ready to meet by Sept. 1 and begin drafting a constitution for the new government, said Gen. Lucius D Clay, U. S. zone commander, as he emerged from the meeting with British commander Gen. Sir Brian Robertson and the French commander, Gen. Pierre Koenig.

Clay said the "general principles" of the proposed occupation statute will be outlined to the Germans tomorrow, but details will be worked out later. German suggestions for procedure in setting up the new government also will be received later.

Jones Installed As Head Of Rotary Club

Rotary club, at its weekly luncheon Wednesday noon at Hilton hotel, installed Irving L. Jones as club president, and paid tribute to Rex Webster, retiring president, for a "fine administration" of progress and public service the past year. A technicolor travelogue of Mexico was shown at the luncheon.

Webster was presented the past president's pin by J. Ben Cole, program chairman and club president preceding Webster, then Webster in turn pinned the president's pin on Jones with words of congratulations. Jones takes over as presiding officer at next week's meeting.

A brief review of the year's activities by retiring president Webster showed a net membership gain during the year of, 14. He said the club's student loan fund was doing much to help Tech students, and that the international service committee had raised $1,500 during the year for Rotary Foundation, designed to foster peace and world understanding.

Other activities included underwriting of a cerebral palsy clinic for this city and county, and cooperation with other clubs and agencies in various vicic and welfare projects.

The travelogue sound film was presented by the Gulf Oil companies as an educational and good neighbor project, with Henry Bell, representative of the oil company, at the machine. Other company representatives present were T. H. Beach, district manager here, and D. N. Leaverton, local distributor.

Visiting Rotarians included Hubert Mapes of Ozona, Aven D. Steed of Amarillo, Lloyd Moyer of Slaton, Jack Welch of Sheridan, Ark., Al Cooper of Ralls, Paul Brannon of Seminole, George Gibson of Slaton, Ivan Juge of Fort Worth, and George McLendon of Dallas. Invocation was by Rev. Wm. F. Blakeslee.

Court Ruling Allows Over-Age Voters Chance To Cast Ballot

AUSTIN, June 30 (UP) — The Supreme court made final today its decision which will give thousands of over-age voters a chance to cast their ballots this year.

The court refused a motion for rehearing of the case in which last week it had ruled that voters over 60 may still obtain renewals of exemption certificates.

The Supreme court last week reversed the decisions of the district court at Big Spring and the court of civil appeals at Eastland, which had ruled that over-age voters in cities of 10,000 or over were ineligible to vote unless they had obtained certificates by Feb. 1.

The suit was brought originally by Ted Groebl against George T. Thomas at Big Spring, arising out of a school district election held to vote on levying of a maintenance tax and issuance of school bonds.

Groebl had contested the election results on the grounds that the votes of 45 persons over 60 who had not obtained exemptions before Feb. 1 were illegal.

Children From City Parks Projects Visit Tech Museum

Thirty-seven boys and girls from Burns Park and Community Center vicinities visited the museum on the Texas Technological college campus Wednesday morning.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Gladys Sims, nature, camping and story telling specialist of the City Recreation department.

Negro children from Booker T. Washington park vicinity will go to the college farm Friday afternoon. A bus will pick them up at the park at 3:30 p. m.

Lubbock Youth On Duty With U.S. Navy In Pacific Area

A Lubbock youth, Gunner's Mate 1-c Truman D. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M D. Anderson, 1418 Ave. D, left Long Beach, Calif., last week for Pearl Harbor aboard the USS St. Paul. He is to return to the states in late July.

Anderson, a veteran of World War II, was formerly employed by the Dickinson Motor company here, and re-enlisted in the Navy on Oct. 21, 1947. He has been assigned to the USS St. Paul at Long Beach since his re-enlistment.

Texas Firm Receives Deed To Daingerfield Pig Iron Plant

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 30—The $30,000,000 pig iron plant at Daingerfield, Texas, today became the property of the Lone Star Steel Co. of Texas.

A formal deed to the property was turned over to John D. McCall of Dallas, company attorney, by War Assets administrator Jess Larson.

McCall will fly to Texas to be on hand at ceremonies set for tomorrow at the Daingerfield plant, where Rep. Patman (D-Texas) will formally present the ownership papers to the company on behalf of the government.

Patman Backed Project

Patman has backed the East Texas iron plant since it first was proposed. It was constructed by the government during the war.

The sale price of $7,500,000 includes a blast furnace, coke ovens, iron ore deposits and two coal mines in nearby Oklahoma.

Shortly before Larson gave the papers to McCall in return for a final payment check of $4,685,081.68 the WAA official said he had cancelled a hearing scheduled for this morning to receive complaints about management policies of the company.

The complaint came from Carl L. Estes, Longview newspaper publisher and a Lone Star stockholder, who contended that deliveries of pig iron were not being made for veterans housing according to promises made the public when stock was offered for sale.

Estes Unable To Appear

The hearing was called off because Estes was in bed with a heart condition and unable to come here.

Larson said he had found no indication of fraud against the government, but if such charges are brought up later and proved the contract yet can be nullified.

In the latest of an exchange of telegrams between Estes and Washington officials, the Texan denies he had charged that officials of Lone Star had failed to employ war veterans.

A telegram to Larson from Estes read:

"I suggest in your next press release that you correct the line in your statement which says that one of my charges was that officials of the Lone Star Steel company had 'failed to employ war veterans.' What I said was 'if the pig iron was kept here and used by the small factories in the area, war veterans, hundreds of them, would be given additional jobs in those plants, not the Lone Star steel plant.' "

McCall, questioned about the deliveries of pig iron from Daingerfield, made the following statement:

"In the usual course of our business, a considerable amount of Lone Star iron goes into housing channels.

"One of our most recent direct contributions to government-sponsored projects is being made at the specific request of the Atomic Energy commission.

"We are supplying substantial tonnage in the construction program of the commission."

McCall would not elaborate on the atomic commission purchases other than to say that deliveries were being made to Hanford, Wash.

Lubbock Air Force Reserve Unit Will Conduct Meeting

A semi-monthly meeting of the 707th Bomb squadron, Air Force reserve unit, will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in building 62, Lubbock Army Air Field, with both members and prospective members urged to attend, Capt. Cecil E. Jennings, assistant operations officer for the unit, has announced.

Wives of the members will also hold an auxiliary meeting at the same time, Jennings said. A buffet supper will be served.

Members of the Air Force reserve will receive drill pay for attending the meeting.

An invitation was extended to men interested in affiliating with the unit, which now has three airplanes at the base and engages in flight training daily.

CONVICT IS CAPTURED

HUNTSVILLE, June 30 (AP) — A 58-year-old negro convict was captured at Trinity, today, about five hours after he disappeared from the Wynne Prison farm near here. Texas prison system officials said Eb Massey, a trusty at the farm, was arrested by Sheriff Floyd Farris of Walker county. Massey disappeared shortly after noon while herding milk cows at the farm.

Three Texans Named State Delegates To National Bar Group

HOUSTON, June 30 (AP)—Three Texas attorneys were nominated today to represent the state bar in the house of delegates of the American Bar association.

They are Judge Ben H. Powell, Austin, Leo Brewer, San Antonio, and G. W. Parker, jr., Fort Worth.

The nominations were made at a meeting of the board of directors of the state bar of Texas, preliminary to the organization's ninth annual convention which opens here tomorrow.

Two County Groups Honored

Directors also approved awards of merit to two county associations for activity programs.

Receiving the awards at the opening convention session tomorrow will be the Wichita (Wichita Falls) and Ector (Odessa) county bar associations.

The nominees for the house of delegates also will be placed before the convention for approval.

Demand Big City Services

"There should be some way of reaching these non-residents and forcing them to pay a joint contribution toward the maintenance of the central government's services which they enjoy," Kucera stated.

"They live in these suburbs and make demands upon traffic, transportation, streets, police and fire protection of their business interests but contribute nothing toward the cost of these benefits," he continued.

Kucera also called for united action among the state's major cities in seeking broader powers from the legislature for authorization of local city authorities the right to impose new taxes.

W. H. Wilbanks, city tax assessor and collector at Cleburne, urged city attorneys to support a plan for the summary sale of all property on which taxes are delinquent.

INDUSTRIALIST IS CONVICTED

BADEN BADEN, Germany, June 30 (AP)—For the first time in history, an industrialist was convicted today of waging aggressive war. The judgment was by a French dominated international court against Hermann Roechling, 75-year-old German steel magnate. He held an iron grip over the Saar through two World wars.

TELEPHONE SOUNDS ALAM

SEYMOUR, Ind. (U.P.)—A telephone turned in a fire alarm at the Truman Hotel. An electric disinfecting machine got hot and set a bed afire. The flames melted the telephone and caused the instrument to drop to the floor. That started a buzzing signal heard at the hotel's switchboard.

AMERICANS AID JAP VICTIMS

Death Toll Expected To Reach 5,000 In Japanese Quake Area

By PETER KALISCHER
United Press Staff Writer

FUKUI, Japan, June 30—Workmen, toiling in the steaming summer sun, searched today for additional victims of Monday's earthquake and fire that is expected to claim 5,000 dead.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters officially listed the death toll at 3,215 and the injured at 7,232 in Fukui city and neighboring villages. Most Japanese and Allied authorities believed the number of seriously injured would be more than 10,000.

Americans Give Aid

American medical officers worked in a candlelight all night to administer blood plasma to a steady stream of sufferers. They also gave typhoid and paratyphoid anti-toxins in an effort to stem a possible epidemic resulting from drinking polluted water.

American GIs, rushed here by train and motor vehicle from Osaka, Kobe and other nearby cities, brought out thousands of injured. They turned their weapons carriers into ambulances, hauling five patients at a time.

The minor tremors which followed in the wake of the devastating shock stopped for the time being, but fires still smouldered in the calm and muggy atmosphere.

Refugees Leave City

The narrow road which stretches 12 miles between Fukui city and Takefu was a scene of indescribable confusion. Thousands of refugees, their possessions piled on bicycles, handcarts and ox-drawn vehicles, streamed out of the city.

Military policemen regulated the traffic in 25-minute periods. Vehicles and pedestrians leaving Kukui were allowed to move for 25 minutes. Then the road was cleared to let relief traffic move toward the city.

The stench in Fukui was nauseating. It was a sour-sweet mixture of death, unwashed bodies, open sewers, burning flesh and wood and decaying foodstuffs and vegetation.

Aid Sped To City

Stretcher-bearers outside the first-aid room at Sabae national hospital added scores of new bodies to the growing collection of dead in the temporary morgue. Groans of the injured and the dying filled the air.

The Japanese government and local authorities rushed all possible aid to the victims.

Gov. Harukazu Obata said rice would be distributed free for three days in the disaster area and the Tokyo prefectural government gave Fukui prefecture 1,000,000 yen for relief.

A nine-car relief train full of American food, medical supplies and communications equipment was enroute to the city, Eighth army commander Robert L. Eichelberger said.

YOUTH ON WAY TO U.S.—Joseph Donnelly, 11, right, and Comdr. Ernest H. Hale, Fall River, Mass., prepare to board the U. S. Navy transport Gen. Randall in Honolulu for the last leg of their trip to their American homeland which Joseph has never seen. To protect the boy's U. S. citizenship, Comdr. Fruit Worm Survives Electronics Attack

HARLINGEN, June 30 (U.P.)—Two agricultural experts — one an American and the other Mexican — learned today that what kills the fruit sometimes doesn't kill the worm.

It all started this way.

A group of citrus men decided they'd try electronics on the Mexican fruit fly worm, hoping that the worm wouldn't turn and they still could market the fruit.

Federal requirements call for sterilization of grapefruit — the little worm's home. Steam kills the little intruder, but it damages the fruit at the same time.

They shot 15,000 volts through a grapefruit and worm. The worm seemed to like it. They jumped it to 20,000 volts. Still the worm wasn't fazed.

At 30,000 volts, the grapefruit lit up like the aurora borealis. The experimenters cut open the grapefruit.

"The worm wiggled out and danced the can-can," Austin Anson, head citrus man in the Rio Grande valley, explained.

The grapefruit?

Week's Vacation Bible School Is Concluded By Cone Church

The Baptist church of Cone, a small country church with a membership of only 152, ended a week's Vacation Bible school last Friday with an enrollment of 103 children and workers, it was announced this week.

With an average daily attendance for the week of 92, offerings totaled $20.47. The money will be used to send five underprivileged Mexican boys to the Baptist youth camp ten miles south of Floydada.

Rev. J. B. Harlan of Plainview was general superintendent of the school, and Rev. L. B. Mass, pastor of the Cone Baptist church was general principal.

Seminole Merchants Declare Legal Holiday On July 5th

SEMINOLE, June 30 — A survey conducted by the Seminole Chamber of Commerce today, revealed that all merchants and professional men, with the exception of hospitals and filling stations, have declared a holiday on July 5th.

One department store operator stated, "The majority of our patrons will probably be out-of-town anyway, and it is our policy to grant the same privilege to our personnel whenever and wherever possible."

Grasshoppers Ruining Cotton, Corn Crops In Mississippi

BASSFIELD, Miss., June 30 (AP) —Desperate farmers are praying for rain and fighting with fire a hungry army of grasshoppers that is widening a path of destruction through corn and cotton here.

At least 10 different localities have been laid waste by the crunching, crawling insect masses.

Dr. Clay Lyle, a state entomologist, has advised the farmers to use white arsenic or toxaphene. Farmers have been herding the hoppers together and attacking with burning fuel oil.

The farmers said a heavy rain would halt the insect crush, and chances appeared good, for scattered showers beat down yesterday afternoon.

Rains Brighten Crop Prospects

AUSTIN, June 30 (U.P) — Rains this week provided a boost to growing crops pastures and ranges over most of the state, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

The rains checked crop deterioration and ended drouth conditions in north-central, western and northwestern areas.

But, the USDA added, crop prospects were still low due to dry weather in eastern, southeastern, central and southern areas. However, rains fell in Central Texas after the completion of the USDA's report, aiding crops in that area.

Crop Losses Light

The department said that crop losses due to floods and rains were light and wheat harvest on the high plains was well along and half completed or better in northern Panhandle counties.

Harvest of small grains, the USDA said, was practically complete in all remaining parts of the state.

Corn prospects were improved by rains in north-central and northern counties, though some corn was "too far gone" for the rains to help

Cotton was fruiting in south-central and southern counties, though the department noted some premature opening and shedding due to continued heat. Rain still was needed in some eastern counties, the USDA added.

Melon Crops Aided

Scattered parts of the late commercial vegetable areas were improved by local rains, but yields in many eastern sections were expected to be low.

The crops mainly affected by continued dry weather in some sections were cantaloups, watermelons and tomatoes.

The Department of Agriculture said summer range feed prospects were "revived" in most of the western two-thirds of the state by heavy rains. But rain was needed in the trans-Pecos area in extreme West Texas, and drouth conditions prevailed in eastern and extreme southern areas.

The USDA's report for the week ending June 28 showed Hondo to be the wettest point for the week, receiving, 6.85 inches of rain. Junction had 6.43 and Rocksprings 6.41.

Fort Worth Man To Head Firm

FORT WORTH, June 30. (Special)—J. Clyde Jones of Fort Worth today became the new president of Waples-Platter company, succeeding the late Admiral Adolphus Andrews, and W. L. Peterson of Denison was elected chairman of the board, in a meeting of the Waples-Platter board of directors held in Fort Worth Monday. J. W. Shugart, also of Fort Worth, is the new first vice-president and general manager, succeeding to the position formerly held by the late Galen H. McKinney.

Jones, who will retain the office of treasurer in addition to his new duties, has been associated with Waples-Platter since 1917, and has been vice-president, secretary and treasurer since 1933. In addition to a full business career, including directorships in the Continental National bank and a subsidiary of the Texas and Pacific railroad, and extensive lumber interests in West Texas and New Mexico, he is a director of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest and Better Business Bureau, and is chairman of the Tarrant county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He is a member of the Fort Worth club and the Exchange club.

To Continue Duties

Peterson, who will devote a "limited amount" of time to his duties as Waples-Platter board chairman, will continue his active career as president of the State National Bank of Denison and as a director of the Federal Reserve bank in Dallas. He has served as a director of Waples-Platter since 1935.

Shugart, newly-elected first vice-president and general manager, has been a key executive of Waples-Platter for over two decades, and is well-known throughout the grocery industry in the Southwest and in the nation. On the board of directors since 1910, he was elected vice-president in 1925, and has directed sales, advertising and merchandising for many years.

Named as secretary was Edward W. McKee, since 1928 manager of Waples-Platters' laboratory and research departments. McKee is a director of the company and became assistant secretary in 1941.

Other newly-elected officers are Adolphus Andrews Jr., assistant secretary, and Neilsen Platter, assistant treasurer. The firm, distributor of White Swan foods, is now in its 76th year of continuous operation, with an organization of 14 wholesale grocery houses in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, including the local Lubbock branch headed by C. C. Files.

Housewives' Boycott Brings Down Meat Prices In Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 30 (AP) — A housewives' boycott brought the price of beef today below 50 cents a pound.

Butchers quoted farm prices for pork and lamb, to which shoppers turned because of high beef prices.

Sirloin, T-bone and round steak were selling for 49 cents a pound and hamburger for 33. Two days ago better cuts of beef were 64 to 66 cents.

Fiddles were not invented until the middle ages, hence the instrument on which Nero played while Rome burned, if he played on that occasion, was not a fiddle.

Rehearsal Is Conducted For Miss Lubbock Contestants

Fourteen Miss Lubbock contestants held a preliminary rehearsal at 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Lubbock Supper Club.

The rehearsal, however, was not open to the public — their chance will come Monday night when a full-scale floor show revue is set at 8 p.m. at the Supper Club, at which time yet-unnamed judges will select Miss Lubbock.

Tickets for Monday's revue, which include dancing, have been on sale at the Jaycee office in the city hall through the week, and will go on sale at Wylie's Drug today and remain on sale through Monday. Persons who purchase tickets at Wylie's will be able to make table reservations at the same time at no extra charge. Tickets are $1.80, tax included.

Most recent hopefuls to enter the contest are Jo Ann Webber of 2218 Broadway, Jane Wier and Glynna Addington, Texas Tech students, and Juanita Thomas of 1710 Main.

The winner selected from the group of entrants Monday night will receive an all-expense paid trip to Port Arthur for the Miss Texas Pageant on July 9, and should she emerge the judges' choice there, will compete as the Miss Texas entry in the original Miss America contest set for Labor Day in Atlantic City, N. J.

Complete Story Behind Dispute Over Slav Stand Not Yet Known

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Perhaps to save face over failure to unseat the Yugoslav government or perhaps in an effort to keep a highly offended Tito from pulling out of the Russian sphere, Communists now appear to be swinging over to the line that a party matter is not necessarily a factor in international relations.

So many ingredients have now been thrown into the stew created by the Cominform attack on Tito's regime that, as is frequently the case when Communist ideology runs up against political facts, it doesn't make sense.

Calls For Stronger Army

Tito's party says it wants to be friendly with Russia, and in the same breath blasts intervention in Yugoslavia's internal affairs, calls for a stronger army to maintain independence, and returns to the Moscow-disapproved campaign for a Balkan bloc.

And, of all things, the renewed Balkan bloc appeal is addressed to Bulgaria, which is ruled by Georgi Dimitrov, Tito's rival for first place in southeastern European affairs. Bulgaria is also the only satellite which is historically pro-Russian. (Belgrade's reference to inclusion of Albania in the bloc means nothing. Albania already is a Yugoslav county.)

Bulgaria has had no time to reply regarding the bloc, but says with one side of her mouth (her government press department), that the international crisis within the Communist party has nothing to do with continued close Yugoslav - Bulgarian relations. From the other side of her mouth her all-controlling Communist national front formally approves the Cominform blast against Tito.

Whole Story Not Told

In other places, too, including Moscow, Communists would have you believe that the Cominform action was merely a part of Communism's normal self - searching and an effort to prevent a brother from following the wrong track, not an effort to break his back. They apparently would like to forget the call issued to the Yugoslav party, which was forcefully rejected, that it rise up against the leaders who were conducting a "hateful" policy toward Russia.

It may be some time before we are able to separate the real from the seeming in this crazy picture. The Marshall plan seems to be having its impact. Tito's unwillingness to force collectivization on his violently opposed peasants is a factor. Moscow and Georgi Dimitrov both seem to have become painfully aware of Tito's size and independence. He has flouted Andrei Zhdanov's "thought-police." Set-backs in the Communist-sponsored Greek civil war may be involved.

You could go on listing the angles all day.

Only one thing is absolutely clear. There is a crisis in Communist-sphere affairs. Handled properly, it may result in great profit for the anti-Communist world.

The United States has moved quickly to reach a financial settlement on war-sequestered funds which may net Tito some $30,000,000. Other blandishments from the West undoubtedly will be offered in an effort to make his split with Moscow final. There is a bare possibility that Yugoslavia, once considered a rock-ribbed bastion of Russia's new empire, may be the first satellite to be rescued.

GOP Chief Says Party Will 'Toss No Dirt'

PHILADELPHIA, June 30 (INS) —Rep. Hugh Scott, the new Republican national chairman, declared today the GOP will "toss no dirt" in the coming presidential battle but will keep the campaign "clean."

The Philadelphia congressman, successor to Carroll Reece in the party chairmanship, said the GOP is going to fight for a "return to constitutional government."

Scott, who left Philadelphia for Washington this afternoon, said he is in receipt of "many letters" from Democrats pledging support of the Dewey-Warren ticket.

A. B. Reese To Attend Meeting Of National Education Group

A. B. Reese, president of the Classroom Teachers council of Lubbock Public schools, will leave Friday for Cleveland, O., to attend the 86th annual convention of the National Education association Monday through Friday, July 9.

High spots on the program are to include presentation of the issues facing American voters in the November election. The Republican platform is to be presented by Sen. Wayne Morse and the issues as they may be stated in the Democratic party platform are to be presented by Sen. Elbert D. Thomas. Discussion groups will be devoted to current problems relating to education.

Keynote address of the convention will be delivered by Glenn E. Snod, president of the NEA and president of Dixie Junior college, St. George, Utah.

VISITING FIREMEN LEARN

BURKBURNETT, Tex., (U.P.) — Delegates to the West Firemen's Association convention here got a practical demonstration of how it's done. The Burkburnett volunteer fire department put the fire out as 150 visiting firemen looked on and cheered.

SAVED BY SWING—Because the Nazis liked the way he played American swing music on his violin, Heinz Meyer survived two of the worst Nazi death camps. The 24-year-old musician is now in New York, brought to this country by the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society. His instrument is a gift from famed concert violinist Nathan Milstein, who heard him entertain American troops.

Radio Show Vocalist To Take Part In Corsicana Event

MARSHALL, June 30 (AP)—Anita Gordon, vocalist on Edgar Bergen's radio show last season, is going to take part in the Corsicana centennial celebration this week.

She arrived here yesterday, accompanied by her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon, all of Los Angeles.

Here, the radio singer visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harwell. She plans to return to the west coast Sunday.

Her father said that arrangements have been made for her to appear on the Bob Hope show this fall, but that the contract has not yet been signed.

Miss Gordon was married three weeks ago to Dale Sheets of Columbia Broadcasting system.

Plans Announced For Conference At Tech

July 5 is the opening date for the audio-visual aids workshop and conference to be sponsored by the Education and Psychology department at Texas Technological college, and it will continue until after 10 p. m. July 7. Registration for the conference, which is to be held in the education building of the First Christian church, Ave. X and Broadway, will begin at noon July 5.

There will be no registration fee, and free instruction in the operation of all makes of projection and other forms of equipment will be given to all who want to learn. Plans have been made for the previewing of educational and religious films which will take more than 20 hours to show. Five projection rooms are to be available each day for the showing of the films. Speeches have been reduced to a minimum, and emphasis placed on previews and various other aids in learning activity.

Payments For Vet Students At Tech To Be Made Soon

Veterans attending Texas Technological college under the GI Bill of Rights who have received subsistance checks for less than the regular amount will receive full compensation July 10 or 12, Hugh A. Anderson, coordinator of veterans' affairs at the college, stated Wednesday afternoon.

Many reenrollment records for the summer session failed to reach the finance office before the payroll was sent to the Treasury office in Dallas, and for this reason, many veterans will be payed for 7 days in June plus 15 days leave pay. Adjustment will be made on a supplementary payroll and leave pay will not be lost, Anderson said.

Official Urges Ban Of Certain Goods To Communist Countries

WASHINGTON, June 30 (U.P.) — Economic cooperation administrator Paul G. Hoffman said today that so-called "contraband" items produced in either the United States or Marshall plan nations should not be exported to eastern Europe.

Just as the United States has certain restrictions on shipment of such goods, such as airplane engines, so should the nations participating in the European recovery program, Hoffman said.

Trade between eastern and western Europe should be encouraged, he told a news conference. But the United States should be the judge of what commodities should be banned from shipment to eastern Europe.

British Ship Engines

This policy applies, Hoffman said, to items produced in the ERP countries as well as items purchased in the United States.

"A jet engine would still be a jet engine," Hoffman said whether produced in the United States or in a country participating in the recovery program.

The British have shipped some jet engines to Russia, and they are also reported negotiating a broad trade pact with the Soviet.

He said ECA would feel that "discussions" would be held with any nation shipping such "contraband" items to eastern countries. He said ECA is furnished with export information to determine what goods are being shipped.

The European recovery program, he said jubilantly, is "really under way."

"Success," Hoffman said, "will depend mainly on our partners across the Atlantic."

Small Part Contributed

"We now have four years at the outside in which to achieve success," Hoffman said.

The American contribution to European recovery, "large as it is" amounts to only a "critical five per cent" of the income of participating countries, he said. It will be effective, he added, only to the extent that it is used "with imagination, courage and vigor to increase the productivity of labor and farms and management" in the participating countries.

Hoffman, who is charged with running the multi-billion dollar European recovery program, denied that the United States is "attempting to dominate Europe and to impose our economic system upon each participating country."

Meanwhile, he set for July 14 the first meeting of ECA's public advisory board, whose 12 members include Allan B. Kline, Iowa, president of the Farm Bureau federation.

FCC Affirms Ban On Station Censorship Of Political Talks

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)— The Federal Communications commission today affirmed its previous ruling that a radio station may not censor the content of a political broadcast, no matter how libelous the material may appear to be.

And it asserted anew that since Congress has tied the hands of the broadcaster in this matter, the station may not be sued for damages by those who feel they were injured by the broadcast statements.

Speaker Is Liable

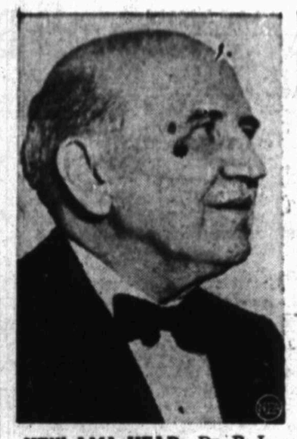

The commission emphasized, however, that this immunity from damage actions does not extend to the actual speaker, who may be talking on either paid or free time. The speaker, FCC said, "is completely liable for the contents of his remarks."

FCC pointed out that under the law a station may refuse to carry any political broadcast for any given office in any particular election. But, it said that once the outlet is committed to handling such broadcasts, it may act only to prevent the airing of "obscene, indecent or profane language." These are ordinary prohibitions applying to all forms of communication.

Station Censored Scripts

The occasion for the decision was an authorization for renewal of license of radio station WHLS at Port Huron, Mich., tentatively granted last January.

WHLS has been operating on temporary authority since 1945, when the station handled one broadcast in connection with a city election and received complaints that its content was actionable. The station then examined the scripts for proposed further broadcasts, concluded they contained possibly libelous material, and cancelled all broadcast schedules in connection with censorship, but since there had been no previous clarifications of the rules, it was not wilful, warranting renewal of the license.

WE HAVE A JOB!

The Fliers Return

ALTHOUGH everyone recognizes to some extent the importance of the forthcoming reactivation of the wartime Lubbock Army Air Field, it is doubtful if many of us here realize the full importance of the action.

Re-institution of air training at the base nine miles West of Lubbock will give this city an added payroll of somewhere between five and 10 million dollars per year. It will bring added expansion of all sorts to Lubbock, which means more permanent civilian population, as well as military population. Reactivation of the field will mean more business for everyone.

But aside from the resultant impact on population and business, reactivation of LAAF will be important to Lubbock in many other ways, too.

Annually, it will draw to our portals thousands of young men who otherwise might never have come here, or to this part of the country. Through them, other thousands will hear of and be attracted to Lubbock and the South Plains. LAAF, in flying line reformed, will again be an avenue of terrific publicity and recognition for this city and section.

OF importance, too, is the fact that once again to Lubbock will come people from all over the United States, people who can learn something from us but, more important from our standpoint, from whom we can learn a great deal. These newcomers will bring us outlooks and attitudes which will change to some extent the thinking and the practices of those of us who long have been here.

Some of the outlooks and attitudes will not be good, to be sure. But more of them will be good than bad and can be employed by us all to build a better city and area than otherwise should be the case.

Furthermore, the return to Lubbock of the Air Force will give this city and all of its people at least a little part in our country's great preparedness effort. We shall be part and parcel of the global fight by this democracy against the encroachments of vicious totalitarianism. We shall have the opportunity to help accelerate the increase of our defenses in "the wide, blue yonder."

BUT as we contemplate the return of the fliers and the ground crews to our community, let us not fail to realize, too, that there is much work to be done in getting ready for the influx of people incidental to the reactivation of Lubbock Army Air Field.

Of primary importance are living facilities which must be arranged for in advance of the field's reopening. There must be quarters for many of the military and their families. There must be quarters for the 300 to 400 civilian families temporarily living on the station because there is not housing available for them in Lubbock at this time. If the Army were moving in here tomorrow, for instance, 500 new homes and apartments would not take care of the housing needs.

In short, Lubbock must get busy. We must prepare for this large group of people who shall come here in connection with matters military—in addition to the others who are coming in every day for different reasons.

There is no time to lose.

Let's get going!

It's An Idea!

WE note by the papers that Governors and Ex-Governors "Jimmie" Davis, of Louisiana; "Kissin' Jim" Folsom, the barefoot boy of Alabama, and Roy Turner, of Oklahoma, have succumbed to the lure of the Kleig lights and are to be featured by Hollywood.

Naturally, that gives Texans—especially West Texans—an idea: Why not make "Beautiful, Beautiful Beauford" Jester Texas' gift to cinema-land?

When it comes to "ham," the curly-thatched squire of Navarro county has few equals and no superiors. And it's a cinch he'd make a lot better actor—or anything else—than he's been a governor!

Whee! The People!

The Innocent Impostor

By RENEE SHANN
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Paul finds Patience in the train corridor. She tries to explain the mistaken identity incident at the party but he forestalls her by saying she'll probably claim it was her "twin sister," in whom he evidently doesn't believe. When he comments on the way Roger Dickson kissed her goodby at the station, Patience flares up. She turns her back on him, finishes the journey alone.)

THE next "threat" came Patience's way not by her own seeking. It was a fortnight later. A fortnight during which she had resolutely tried to put all thoughts of Paul from her. When she saw him on the train, as happened quite often, neither took the least notice of the other. She thought bleakly once or twice: "We might never have met." And then that she wished they hadn't. There wouldn't be this aching loneliness now if they'd never known each other.

But though there was no longer Paul instead there was Roger. She wasn't very easy in her mind about Roger. Because she'd not mentioned him at home at all. She'd wanted to once or twice, but she'd known it would only lead to trouble. And each time she saw him the thought: "Well, it's only this once." Firmly she refused to make any definite future dates with him. But he'd a habit of coming along to the Academy just at lunch time. And then quite often he'd be there when it was time for her to leave in the evening.

Still, there wasn't any harm in it. Not even though he now always kissed her when he said goodby to her. No, of course there wasn't any harm in it!

It was at breakfast one morning that Miss Helen looked up anxiously from a letter she was reading. "It's from Cousin Ethel," she told Miss Alice. "It seems she's very ill." And she handed the letter to her sister.

Cousin Ethel lived near Oxford. She was the only living relative in whom her aunts had any interest.

Miss Alice looked unhappy as she gave the letter back. "I really think we should go and see her, Helen."

"I think so too. And at once, I'd say."

"So would I. Why don't we go this week-end? If we went on Saturday morning and stayed till Monday—"

They both looked at Patience.

"You wouldn't mind being left alone with Mary, dear, would you?" said Miss Helen.

"Why no, not at all," and then, an idea coming to her: "Or could I perhaps go and stay with Charlotte? She's always said she'd love to have me any time I like."

THIS was indeed true. Only yesterday Patience had had a note from her asking her when she was next going to see her.

"I may go, mayn't I, Aunt Helen?" Patience asked and, without waiting for her aunt to reply, added quickly. I'll just slip out to the post office now and ring her up. This is quite a good time to catch her." And she fled before any objections could be raised.

In a moment or two she was speaking to a very sleepy Charlotte.

"Darling, you woke me up."

"I'm terribly sorry. Listen, is your spare room empty for the week-end?"

"Sure. Why? Want to sleep in it?"

"Yes, if it's all right with you."

"I've told you 50 times, come whenever you like."

Patience went back home singing a little song of delight deciding that she'd not felt so high-spirited for a long while. Was it possible that at least she was forgetting Paul just a little? This morning when she'd awakened it must have been fully a couple of minutes before she'd begun—as always—to think about him. But then instead she'd been thinking about Roger. Roger, who'd seen her off last evening and kissed her in the taxi that had driven them to the station. Who'd said: "I wish you'd spend just a little longer in London. You and I could have such fun . . ."

IT was a rush and a flurry to catch the train Saturday morning.

"You'll be going to the Academy straight from Charlotte's flat on Monday, Patience," said Aunt Helen, once they were all safely aboard. "Then we'll all travel down by the 6:30 Monday evening. Your Aunt Alice and I will meet you at the barrier."

"I'll be there, Aunt Helen," said Patience, and knew that this would be one occasion when Roger mustn't see her off whatever happened.

At Liverpool Street, when they came to go their separate ways, Miss Helen said again: "Patience, I shall look for you at the barrier here at 6:30 on Monday."

Patience kissed both aunts and left them, hurrying to catch a bus that would take her to Charlotte's.

As she was about to leave the station she felt a hand on her arm. She swung round quickly to see Roger smiling down at her.

"Goodness, how fast you run! I was afraid I wasn't going to catch you. I was watching that fond farewell from a respectful distance."

Patience gasped. She was thankful it had been from a distance.

"But how did you know I'd be here?"

"Charlotte said you'd be coming on this train." He looked her up and down: "It's very nice to see you. We're going to have fun. Did you know?"

She smiled.

"I thought we might."

"Great plans are afoot."

"Exciting plans?"

"You wait till you hear. Look, the car's just over here." He took her suitcase from her. "Come along. We've got to make it snappy. We have an extremely busy morning before us."

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

BOGHOS Elikuchukian, of Detroit, told the judge that his name was too complicated. He wanted it simplified.

"What name do you want to use?" the judge asked.

"Boghos Kuchukian" was the answer.

"O.K.," said the judge and entered the change on the books.

BRANDEIS

"He also authorized Boghos' wife, Arousiak Elikuchukian to call herself Arousiak Kuchukian hereafter, for the sake of simplicity.

By the way, speaking of simplicity reminds me of an article I read in Editor and Publisher, the newspaperman's trade paper, yesterday.

The article told of a "simple, two-factor formula" for readability that had been developed by two college professors.

Naturally I was interested. Readability in writing means simplicity of expression, and every writer naturally wants to make his writing as readable as possible.

So I started to read this almost page-long article which was going to tell me how to make my stuff more readable.

"A simple two-factor formula" is very enticing—whether it is a formula for better writing, for winning on the horse races or for other ways of making a lot of money without work.

I read the first column, and halfway through the second column. The more I read about this "readability" thing, the more confused I got.

Finally I gave up, when I came to this sentence:

"For example when we speak of John and Mary, and he and she, referring to John and Mary, there is a justification for subtracting from difficulty. This is because in writing about John and Mary we usually say things that are not abstract."

And that is how those two professors express themselves when they want to tell you to be more simple, more readable in your writings!

This very way a lot of educators have of expressing simple thoughts is one of the reasons why education is so unpopular among children.

Complicated sentences show a lack of clear and simple thought.

A man or a woman who has to use involved phrases to state simple facts always reminds me of the old-fashioned doctor who thought he could hide his lack of knowledge behind a Vandyke beard and a long white coat.

BUT back to Boghos and Arousiak Kuckukian, erstwhile Elikuchukian, of Detroit.

I have always wondered what people try to accomplish by changing their names.

It reminds me a little of a joke I heard on the radio the other day.

A woman was smearing a lot of

FOR GOP CAMPAIGN

Domestic Issue Tops

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — Post-convention conferences here, in New York City and at Washington substantiate the theory previously advanced in this space that the Republican strategy in the 1948 Presidential campaign will be to shelve the foreign policy issue and to hit Harry S. Truman where the G.O.P. thinks it will hurt—in the domestic solar plexus.

TUCKER

Despite surface reports of complete harmony, there was a serious struggle behind the scenes over the phraseology of the plank on foreign affairs. The so-caled isolationistic faction wanted to hedge all promises of financial and other support for anti-Communist countries with a barbwire fence of if's, and's and but's. Isolationists advanced the idea that the G.O.P. must leave open an avenue of attack on the Truman-Marshall program, if circumstances warranted.

"PRUDENT": They did not prevail, due chiefly to the influence of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. However, the Lodge resolutions committee did accept the short but important provision that future financial, material and diplomatic assistance shall be made with a "prudent" consideration for the "limits of our own economic welfare."

And the man mainly responsible for that restriction and limitation, which may loom large as the campaign progresses, was not any rabid, British-baiting, selfish, isolationistic American. It was former President Herbert Hoover, the great humanitarian and—which many people seem to forget—a dollar-and-cents engineer.

As an old-time Hoover friend and admirer, ever since he reached the capital in 1928, Senator Vandenberg accepted and approved this safeguard against so lavish an outpouring of our material resources that it would produce a domestic depression and thereby give "good old Joe Stalin" a cheap and painless victory over the western, capitalistic society.

REDISCOVERY: Incidentally, in view of the rediscovery of Mr. Hoover within the last month, by way of Eugene Lyons' eulogistic book, Ray Moley's recent editorial comment in Newsweek, and the fourteen-minute ovation from the delegates at Philadelphia, Mr. Hoover may be one of the G.O.P.'s most effective campaign speakers and writers.

From the standpoint of getting votes for the nominee, it makes no political difference that this recent outburst of warmth and sympathy for the "depression President" derives from a sneaking, sadistic belief that he has been treated shabbily and unfairly for fifteen years, both by his Democratic successors and by the sometimes cruel but always romantic and emotional American public.

TEST: Television suffered its first severe test here, and the results have given the shivers to present and prospective candidates for political office. It has created more misgiving among vote-seekers of both sexes, handsome and ugly alike, than did the advent of the radio more than a quarter of a century ago.

Just as talking movies drove such a star performer as Mary Pickford from the screen because she could not "utter" to the ear's delight, so television may mean the retirement of many men and women otherwise fully qualified for high or low posts.

APPEARANCE: These observations are based on the unhappy appearance of Clare Luce on video.

When a seemingly lovely woman like the witty orator, playwright and natural actress is represented on a nine-by-twelve screen as a scraggly, artificial, old lady, then what chance has a man who would rate no votes in a looks contest except from his wife and mother?

What chance, for instance, would Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Jackson or even bespectacled Teddy Roosevelt have enjoyed under the handicap of this new campaign apparatus? It is a fearsome thought.

The feminine reporters present quit the press gallery en masse when the former Connecticut congresswoman began her address, rushing for the television headquarters.

And what they said about the really attractive and dainty Clare's video debut should not be repeated across the tables of the most gossipy bridge club in town.

The Republicans have one consolation, however. "Telly" experts here report that President Truman will never be mistaken for Cary Grant.

SONG: Despite her horrible failure as a video performer, Clare Luce may have provided the Grand Old Party with a theme song that will sharpen the issue which the G.O.P. plans to make against President Truman on the question of foreign policy.

Although the major parties agree on the basic principles of the world program, the Republicans do not share Mr. Truman's expressed liking for "good old Joe" Stalin.

"I like good old Joe" remark was adroitly linked to his references to "bad old Joe Martin" and "bad old American Congress." Miss Luce's quick-witted insertions and amendments of her original manuscript did not, however, escape the notice of Republican ballad makers.

They are already hammering out a campaign song incorporating these anti-Truman ideas. Tentative title is "Old Black Joe," with a dedication to Harry S. Truman. In fact, they think they may persuade him to try it out on his White House piano.

WORRY: Despite their songs and air of confidence, former National Chairman Carroll Reece and his cohorts left Philadelphia with a deep and secret worry. If their fears materialize, the result could upset almost all their campaign plans.

Although their fretful attitude was set forth in this space several weeks ago, it deserves repetition, for it becomes sharper as the days of battle approach. They are afraid that Henry A. Wallace may withdraw in favor of Mr. Truman, or that, unlikely as it seems now, the Democrats may stage the surprise of modern American politics by nominating "Ike" Eisenhower. In either event, they admit that the election would be a "dogfight."

Many a nest egg the size of a turkey's has been reduced by inflation in recent years to the size of a canary's.

A Western man says one can live to be a 100 years old by hard work. But the average man wants some easier method.

Judging from what it costs, the American taxpayer is entitled to a lot of government.

A soft answer may turn away wrath, but not a persistent salesman.

NO STRONG CANDIDATE AVAILABLE

Anti-Truman Fight Claimed Weak

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — It seems now that the chief entertainment in the preliminaries next week before the Democratic national convention opens in Philadelphia will be one of those "stop" movements that occupied the Republican convention briefly before it fizzled out.

This, of course, will be a stop-Truman performance.

It is, interestingly enough, the failure of the stop-Dewey maneuver that has given new hope to the stop-Truman crowd. If Senator Taft of Ohio had been nominated, or if a deadlock had occurred and resulted in the selection, say, of Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio or Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin or some other conservative, then President Truman would have been a stronger candidate than he now appears and the case of those who want to ditch Mr. Truman would have been weakened.

STOKES

GOP Lineup Strong

But the Dewey-Warren ticket, it is generally agreed, is about the strongest that the Republicans could have picked. Such a ticket, the anti-Truman people now argue, emphasizes the need of another and stronger candidate for the Democrats.

So, for a few brief days at Philadelphia, we'll see the huddles of anti-Trumanites, the issuance of statements filled with high hopes and optimistic claims and then it will all blow up after filling columns in the newspapers and taking big chunks of radio time. But it will all be fun.

The job of the stop-Truman crowd is literally Herculean compared to that of the stop-Dewey crowd. Where the stop-Dewey forces had a whole bevy of candidates—too many, in fact—the anti-Truman contingent has none that it can count upon. The stop-Dewey drive collpsed, as so many such "stop" movements have wilted in the past, because of too many prima donnas. But the stop-Truman campaign lacks even one prima donna. Nobody courts this role, that is, nobody who could satisfy enough delegates and pull together the dissident elements of the badly mangled Democratic party.

It is the schism in the party that raises the chief obstacle to the stop-Truman group. The latter necessarily is made up of so many irreconcilable elements which could never get together on a candidate who otherwise might be available.

There is the old New Deal element now organized in Americans for Democratic Action, ADA, and embodying C.I.O. support and some smattering of A.F.L. labor. There is the bloc of southern revolters, extremely conservative and anti-New Deal and anti-labor for the most part, which was moved to rebellion by President Truman's civil rights program which they abhor and which the ADA crowd is supporting strongly. Then there is the big city machine element represented so far chiefly and publicly in Jake Arvey, the new Democratic boss of Cook county and Chicago, with which New Dealers have joined forces before, strange as that alliance always seemed, but which has little in common with the southerners.

Claims Are Made

Field marshal of the ADA forces is chunky, talkative Leon Henderson, ADA chairman. He will have headquarters for his group in a college fraternity house in Philadelphia, hired for the occasion, and he promised, being himself an inveterate cigar smoker, that there would be "smoke-filled" rooms for the anti-Truman campaign. He makes grandiose claims about the number of delegates who are ready to drop President Truman, far more than a majority by his calculations, but is a bit vague about how these are to be drawn together behind another candidate.

All the otherwise dissident elements probably could agree on General Dwight D. Eisenhower—for varying reasons and for no one particular reason except that the polls show he could win against any Republican combination. But Ike is having none of this, he has made quite clear.

The real candidate of the ADA-CIO alliance is Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court. Mr. Henderson points out that the justice has raised no bar against the campaign for himself. How well the justice, an ardent New Dealer in the Roosevelt administration, would suit the southerners is quite a big question. He is for the civil rights program, and his views on social and economic welfare measures do not comport with the standard southern conservative viewpoint.

After the usual amount of smoke at anti-Truman conferences you may expect to see Harry Truman nominated. There is no easy way of salvation for the Democratic party, such as a new face on the campaign posters. It seems destined for the hard road of defeat and slow rebuilding.

cream on her face.

"What are you doing that for, Mommie?" asked her little boy who was watching her.

"To make myself beautiful," the mother replied.

The little boy didn't say anything but kept on watching her.

She rubbed in the cream, massaged her face for several minutes, and then wiped it all off.

She looked in the mirror and then at her son.

"There you are, dear. Now you see why Mommie did it," she said with a smile.

"Yeah," said the kid dryly, "but it didn't work. Did it?"

Blood Bank Opens

Mrs. G. W. McCraw and Mrs. Payne Wood; canteen workers, Mrs. F. B. Malone and Mrs. C. B. Qualia; motor corps, Mrs. L. E. Davis and Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, technicians, Miss Betty Bachman and Gerald Jarvis; registered nurses, Mrs. I. B. Wright and Mrs. Grady Harrist.

Announcement was made that two additional appointments have been made to visit business firms for purpose of typing blood of employes who are willing to give blood to the blood bank. The first National bank is to be visited Tuesday and Sears Roebuck & Co. on Thursday, July 8.

The Red Cross, of which Ernest St. Clair is newly elected chairman, has established the blood bank upon request of the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society, a member of which is to be on duty at all times the bank is open, members of the American Hospital association and the City Health department.

ceipts for no two deposits would be alike.

A continuous journal tape on each machine records each day's transactions on the machine.

Through eliminating various steps in the tellers' former hand written process, the machine steps up the rate that depositers may be served. The estimate of 25 per cent greater speed was given to the First National bank here by El Paso and Amarillo banks which have installed the machines.

Such machines first came into use in some banks about one and one-half years ago.

STOCKS IN GOOD ADVANCE

NEW YORK, June 30. (AP)—The stock market finished the first half of 1948 today with a general advance that carried prices near to a 22-month high. The high was reached on June 10.

Rails and oils stole the show with advances running to more than 5 points. Most gains, though, were fractional.

Sales totaled only 990,000 shares.

Nickel Plate railroad jumped a tidy 8 points or so at one time to a new high for the year and ended 5⅜ higher at 80½.

Gains of around a point or less were posted for Illinois Central 41⅛, Atlantic Coast Line 58, Great Northern preferred 47½, and Santa Fe 113⅜. Central of N. J. moved against the trend with a 1¼-point loss at 27.

Seaboard headed the advancing oils column with a gain of 3 at 55.

Others higher included Plymouth Oil, Richfield, Gulf, Pacific Western, Mission Corp., U. S. Steel, Chrysler, American Telephone, and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Lower were Firestone Tire, Schenley, General Electric, N. Y. Central, Standard Oil (NJ), and American Can.

CATTLE — Unevenly 25 cents lower to 25 higher; top $38.75.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP) — Cotton futures were lower in slow trading today. There was further evening-up in nearby July and switching to later months, following the issuance of five July notices. Light liquidation and hedging were offset by trade buying in the later deliveries.

Cotton futures declined into new low ground for the day on a late flurry of commission house liquidation in nearby July, with New Orleans and locals also on the selling side. Futures closed 60 cents to $1.50 a bale lower than the previous close.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, June 30. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was $1.35 a bale lower at 35.87 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 36.87; middling 7/8ths-inch average 32.68.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP) — Grain futures were firm during most of the board of trade session today.

Higher government parity figures, lack of country offerings of corn, and reports of spring wheat damage in Canada were factors in the firm market.

Corn showed more strength than other grains.

Wheat closed ⅝ to 1⅛ cent higher than the previous finish. July $2.32⅜, corn was ⅛ down to 1⅝ up, July $2.21⅞-2.22⅛, and oats were ⅛ off to ⅝ up, July 92⅝-⅞.

Lynn Conservation Meeting Scheduled

TAHOKA, June 30 (Special)—Supervisors of the Lynn County Soil conservation district have called a special night meeting at the district courtroom here Friday at 8 p. m., and have invited attendance by every person in the area who is interested in soil conservation.

One feature of the meeting will be a sound movie "The People Gather," a film that deals with soil conservation. It is in technicolor, and was made especially for such meetings, the announcement said.

The program also includes a short talk on soil conservation by Louis Dawkins of Plainview, field representative of the state soil conservation board.

Letters have gone out from R. L. Littlepage, chairman of the district board, to civic clubs, agriculture leaders, veterans vocational school instructors, voational agriculture teachers and others inviting individuals and groups to the session.

Several farmer-district cooperative agreements are to be submitted for discussion and approval by the board of supervisors at a regular business meeting of the board that will follow the general meeting.

Funeral Services To Be Held For Mrs. Effie L. Sharp Today

SUDAN, June 30 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Effie L. Sharp, 56, of Sudan, will be conducted Thursday at 3:30 p. m. at the First Baptist church at Friendship. Burial will be in Sudan cemetery under the direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home of Lubbock.

Mrs. Sharp died at a Sudan hospital about 9 a. m. today, shortly after she was admitted for treatment of a heart ailment.

The wife of D. L. Sharp of Sudan, she had lived here eight years.

Survivors in addition to her husband are six daughters, Mrs. Mozelle Hendricks, Mrs. Bessie Alene Wood, Mrs. Louise York, Misses Pauline, Sarah and Wanda June sharp; four sons, Thomas, Robert, Dewey and David Sharp; her mother, Mrs. Sally Dorsey, and seven grandchildren.

Table d'hote (from the French) means "table of the host" and is an heirloom of the days when inns had no menus and guests had to take whatever was offered at the landlord's table.

VETERANS GOOD SCHOLARS

BERKELEY, Cal. (U.P.) — Nearly half of the 192 students on the Berkeley campus of the University of California who were initiated this semester into Phi Beta Kappa, national scholarship society, were veterans, the coordinator of veterans affairs has announced.

DEPEND ON FRAGRANCE

White flowers have a stronger fragrance than colored ones. Insects, which pollinate flowers, are attracted to colored blooms by their bright hues, but white flowers must depend upon their fragrance for their attraction.

LUBBOCK'S MARKET of TOMORROW!

MOST SPECTACULAR!

Dear Friends:

Proudly, Furr's presents its newest and finest market, No. 19, for your approval.

This completely air-conditioned market, with its entirely self-service meat department and 155 feet of refrigerated cases, its most modern fixtures and pleasant surroundings, is built to make your one-stop shopping easier.

In step with the times, we offer this new unit with confidence that you will accept it as you have in the past. For your demonstration of shopping in our stores, we thank you. May we keep your confidence with top service and courtesy.

Sincerely,
FURR'S SUPER MARKETS, INC.
ROY FURR, President.

SUPER DEPARTMENTS

This new Furr's will offer the latest in meat, grocery, fruits and vegetables, drugs, bakery and tobacco departments. Well-known national brands of merchandise will be carried—priced low every day. This store and Furr's exclusively in Lubbock, offer refrigerated fruits and vegetables cases.

Open House
Thursday, 6 to 9 P. M.
July 1, 1948

Open For Business
Friday, 8:30 A. M.
July 2, 1948

YOU ARE INVITED!

TO ATTEND

OPEN HOUSE THURSDAY NIGHT 6 to 9p.m.

REFRESHMENTS!

Punch, iced tea and coffee to accompany Furr's delicious cakes and cookies will be for the taking at the formal open house, from 6 to 9 p.m. You will want to taste these choice bits while being among the "first-nighters."

MUSIC!

Bailey Ireland and his musicians will again make a Furr's open house a delightful experience. Soft music streamlined for young and old, will pour out for all attending.

SOUVENIRS!

A Furr's open house would not be complete without souvenirs for all. Colorful balloons, choice candies and other novelties will be there without the asking! These will be remembrances of Furr's open house.
