IMPEACHMENT DELAYED

Six Towns Are Now Taken By German Separatists

COBLENZ TO BE CHOSEN AS THE RHINE CAPITAL

Near Panic on Berlin Bourse as Mark Hits 47-Billion Figure

BAVARIA IS MASTER

7th Division Troops Abandon Allegiance; Berlin Helpless

By The Associated Press.

AIX LA CHAPELLE, Oct. 22.—Six towns are known to have been occupied by the separatists up to this evening, in addition to Aix La Chapelle. They are Munchen-Gladbach, Crefeld, Julich, Montjole, Cleve and Duren. The present plan as learned tonight calls for the occupation of Coblenz tomorrow.

Coblenz will be declared the capital of the republic, and its occupation will probably be carried out under the leadership of Joseph Matthes, who, surprised at Wiesbaden by the events at Aix La Chapelle Sunday, spent most of the night in an automobile travelling to the scene of action. He reached Duren this morning, in time to give orders for the occupation of the city, which took place early in the afternoon.

Herr Matthes was not present at the actual occupation of the town hall, having gone on to Aix to consult with the other leaders regarding further activities.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Scenes approaching a panic took place on the bourse today and at one time there was some question of closing the house. The tragic political situation sent the dollar up to 47 billion marks after the official rates had been quoted. Many of the stall holders in the public markets preferred not to open today for fear of being plundered, while others anxiously sold their goods from behind the protection of iron shutters.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 22.—the Rhineland republic movement has entered the French zone of occupation, separatists today taking over Muenchen-Gladbach, where the opposition was not serious and also Berncastel and Treves, Erkelez, near Aix La Chapelle, where the movement originated yesterday, I was occupied without resistance.

Reports from Cologne lead to the belief in Belgium circles that the British will not tolerate the entry of the separatists into their zone of occupation. The British are said to be unwilling to treat with any other than the central government at Berlin.

It is confirmed that the proclamation of the Rhineland republic was hastened by the apprehension of the separatist leaders that Berlin had decided to favor the proclamation at Cologne of an autonomous Rhineland which would be obedient to the central authorities.

MUNICH, Oct. 22.—The hand of the Bavarian secessionists has been strengthened by the action of the seventh division of reichswehr troops, which today abandoned allegiance to the reich and swore obedience to the Bavarian government, of which Dr. Von Kahr is the director.

It had been hoped in Berlin that this division would remain faithful to the central government, but the troops readily took the oath binding them to obey their superiors and the Bavarian government until an understanding between Bavaria and the reich has been reached.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—With Dr. Von Kahr, the military dictator, and General Von Losow, commander in chief of the Bavarian Richewer, completely masters of the situation in Bavaria, the German government for the moment has been forced by the Munich insurgents on the defensive. Its only temporary recourse has been an appeal to the nation and an indictment of Bavaria on the ground that Bavaria is violating paragraph 48 of the reparation constitution.

Political leaders confidently express the opinion that the Berlin authorities have lost out in the judicial contest with the Munich autocrats, in that the latter have so well defended their contention that the whole issue will now be referred to the federal council for interpretation.

In both Saxony and the Ruhr basin the food and social conditions continue to grow worse at a pace which the Berlin government apparently is unable to counteract with relief measures, while the secessionists movement in the Rhineland, also finds the central government a helpless onlooker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—In fine fettle despite his defeat by Zev, in the international match at Belmont Park Saturday Papyrus, England's three-year-old champion walked up the specially rigged gang plank today and entered his homegoing box stall aboard the Aquitania with a whinny of satisfaction. The Aquitania will sail tomorrow.

TEA POT DOME PROBE BEGINS

Geologists Testify Potentialities Were Over-Estimated

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The senate public lands committee, beginning an investigation today of the government's lease last year of the Tea Pot Dome, Wyoming, naval oil reserve to the Sinclair interests, made public the reports of two expert geologists which declared the field's potential production had been greatly over-estimated.

Both experts, who made an investigation for the committee, agreed that a large part of the reserve was subject to drainage by nearby wells and also that it could not be held indefinitely as an undeveloped field. Leasing in some form was necessary, the committee was told, to prevent greater loss through drainage by adjacent wells.

As against an original bureau of mines estimate that the reserve would produce 135,000,000 barrels of oil, Frederick G. Clapp of New York, one of the committee's geologists, gave a rough estimate of 26,000,000 barrels, while the other investigator, James O. Lewis of Tulsa, Okla., said it would not be less than 12,000,000 nor more than 24,000,000 barrels.

The "first" sand, from which 20,000,000 barrels had been expected, was said by the experts to be entirely barren. In other respects also their reports minimized the value of the field whose lease Harry F. Sinclair testified before the La Follette investigating committee last winter, was worth more than $100,000,000.

General support was given by the two experts to the chief reason advanced by administration officials for granting the Sinclair lease—the danger of drainage from adjacent wells in the Salt Creek field. This danger had been denied by critics of former Secretary Fall of the interior department, largely responsible for the lease made jointly with Secretary Denby of the navy department, to the Sinclair interests. Mr. Fall attended the committee session today and probably will be called to testify tomorrow.

WALLACE PROBES HOG PRICES

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Investigation as to whether the prevailing low prices being paid for hogs are the result of undue influences is being made by Secretary Wallace.

Over a period of 50 years, the secretary has found, the value of 100 pounds of hogs has been approximately the equivalent of 11 bushels of number two corn at Chicago prices but the price has fallen to such an extent as compared with the rising prices of corn that the corn-hog ration at present is much out of line with normal.

Hogs closed last week around $7 per 100 pounds for the average of bulk sales, while corn closed the week at $1.07 a bushel.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETED FOR SEN. UNDERWOOD

Scribes to Be Sent By the Big Dailies and Wire Services

TICKETS SELLING FAST

Many Reservations Have Been Made by Out-of-Town People

Developments in the plans for entertainment of Senator Underwood Wednesday afternoon and night also include preparations to entertain representatives of the Associated Press and of several of the great daily newspapers of the United States.

These developments are the result of telephonic information received Monday by Chairman Silk from Dabney White of Dallas, who is in charge of the Underwood State headquarters.

A large table has been arranged in the Kemp dining hall, just in front of where the presidential candidate will deliver his first public utterance in the state of Texas. At this table will be seated the dozen or so newspapermen, and the conveniences will permit them to prepare and forward their reports with the greatest facility. Similar arrangements have been made for the newspapermen in the Palace Theatre where the great Alabamian will appear at eight o'clock to address the public. Reports indicate that the speaker will appear there before a sympathetic but expectant audience for whom there will not be a sufficient number of seats.

W. W. Silk, chairman of the Underwood reception committee, reported Monday that few if any of the tickets to the dinner given in the honor of the visiting Alabama senator would remain unsold to the reception committee members. Mr. Silk was asked all those who intend to come to the dinner be in their places at the table at five minutes before 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Requests for reservations have come to the chairman of the committee from many out of town members of the committee. Judge J. S. Dickey of Henrietta, R. H. Henry of Burkburnett, Judge W. E. Forgy of Archer City, C. W. Coffee of Electra with others from their cities have reservations.

HUGE PROFITS IN COAL REPORTED

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—There are not only too many wholesale coal dealers, but despite their number, they made "large" profits in most of the ten year period from 1913 to 1922 and "excessive" profits in the panic years, 1917 and 1920, according to the conclusions of the coal commission, published today to its report on coal distribution. While wholesale profits in the trade have shown an increase of more than 200 per cent in recent years over pre-war margins, the profits of retailers, the commission found, have shown a tendency to decrease.

DuPont's Father Dead.

By The Associated Press.

SHE IS YOUNGEST FOR HER AGE

Dr. Davenport, 99, Strong For Texas

"I have come back to Texas to regain my health and be young again," were the words of Dr. Charlotte de Goliere Davenport, 99 years old, mother of 11 living children and for the last five decades one of the foremost health and hygenic experts of the world.

Likes Texas.

"Texas people are always kind to me, and genteel," said the woman who for 45 years was teacher of the four hundred in New York and Philadelphia. She expressed the observation that Texas girls are beautiful and lovely to a remarkable and interesting degree. This teacher who "raised the society girls from the prominent families of the east." She remarked further that she always likes Texas for a little excitement which she must have.

Dr. Davenport is interested in ranches and cowboys as well as the oil game from a business standpoint, she said. She owns a ranch in Wyoming, but loves the southern and southwestern country and its people. Indeed, her husband, who is 57, is from an old Virginia family, but "he has mixed with northerners so much that his nice southern mannerisms and drawl has been replaced by the Yankee brogue," she remarked.

The long life story of this interesting and virile woman just on the brink of 100, would fill a page in the histories of several countries.

Born into an ancient Russian family in 1824, she was raised in Switzerland and married her first husband, Prince Goliere of France at the age of 15. Her sons were the issue of this marriage. Of those eleven living, two are physicians, two newspaper editors and one a surgeon. The eldest, Prince Goliere of Paris is 80 years old.

"I with seven other Russian women was one of the first women to graduate from a German university," said Dr. Davenport. "They said that women did not have enough brains to take a degree, but we soon showed them, and they had to admit it." This was in 1892, when she graduated with her second son from Vienna Medical and Hygenic university.

"But I did not like to practice medicine," continued Dr. Davenport, "not liking to be around sick people. So I took up the practice of hygiene—the prevention of sickness."

Taught in New York.

After studying in Paris, Dr. Davenport was brought to the United States by Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan and other prominent women, soon after which she began teaching hygiene and military training to girls in New

Car Flips 4 Times At Bowie; 1 Dead

J. Fred Drake, Oil Well Drilling Contractor, Hurled 75 Feet From Car and Instantly Killed; Companion Injured.

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, Texas, Oct. 22.—J. Fred Drake, of Duncan Oklahoma was almost instantly killed and Grady Epperson of Ryan was hurt when the car Drake was driving turned over at 2:30 this afternoon half a mile from here on the Ringgold pike. The two men, in a new Cadillac roadster, were hurled 75 feet off the right side of the road when the car failed to make the curve and turned over four times. Drake died about 10 minutes later while on the way to the hospital here, where Epperson was at once treated for minor injuries.

According to men in a truck which the two passed just before reaching the turn, the occupants of the Cadillac were making about 60 miles an hour. It is said that Drake and Epperson were on their way to the Dallas fair, and were probably trying to reach Dallas before sundown.

Drake was a well known oil drilling contractor, Epperson working in a restaurant at Ryan. Deceased is survived by a wife and child, the body being held here until the arrival of members of the family from St. Louis.

PROPOSE A BANK AT MEXICO CITY

Frank Kell Chairman of Committee Appointed for Project

"The eleventh federal reserve bank of Dallas, Texas, has appointed a committee to investigate the feasibility of establishing an agency of the federal reserve bank of Dallas to be located in Mexico City," said Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, Monday afternoon.

The committee appointed consists of Frank Kell of this city, chairman, John T. Scott of Houston, and H. H. Patrick of Clarendon.

"The committee is actively pursuing its investigation," Mr. Kell continued, "and is in touch with the leading bankers of the United States and those of Mexico, as well as in close touch with the leading citizens of both countries, seeking information and trying to get benefits for both countries.

"At the last meeting of the federal reserve board held in Dallas, Oct. 7, the committee asked for further time to complete the investigation, and will probably not make any definite recommendations in the matter until the treaty recently negotiated between the two countries is ratified or rejected by the American senate. The senate will not pass on the matter until congress assembles in December."

SPIRITED MEET ON CITY PAVING

Bitulithic versus brick for paving Indiana from Seventh to Tenth was the suoject which evinced much comment and decided opinions from a number of the property-owners before the city council last night, the bitulithic adherents, winning the first round.

The occasion for the discussion was the public hearing on the paving question for Indiana. The city council two weeks ago had announced that brick paving was its choice and opened bids. The Plains Paving company was awarded the job, on condition the property-owners accepted brick, but no contract was signed.

To the apparent surprise of Mayor Frank Collier and the majority of the city council, excepting Street Commissioner Clifford, the property-owners for the most part wanted bitulithic instead of brick. Mayor Collier explained to the 25 Indiana street property-owners and their representatives, that the city council had carefully gone into the paving question and found that brick was the most economical paving.

Mayor Collier said as the city was to pay 45 per cent of the expense for the Indiana paving he felt the city council should have a right to help determine the kind of paving desired. One of the property-owners spoke up at that juncture and said, "Yes, and that 45 per cent is our money, too." The mayor agreed with the assertion.

A Mr. Ward was the first to speak on the project. Ward said he was a heavy property-owner in the downtown district and had 500 feet on Indiana in the proposed district. He said he favored treating the present paving if possible and cutting down expenses. He said he favored bitulithic rather than brick if a change had to be made.

C. W. Snider was the next speaker and expressed himself strongly for bitulithic. "We are glad to pave but we want to make Indiana a street to be proud of. Brick is unsanitary and unsightly and bitulithic is the kind all modern cities are using and we want Wichita Falls to keep step with the most progressive," Snider said.

J. J. Perkins said, "We want paving by all means. I prefer brick but we want paving of some kind and want it bad."

J. A. Richolt, next addressed the council and strongly favored bitulithic as did representatives of J. I. Staley, L. M. Guggenheim, the P. B. M company and others.

An executive session was then called by Mayor Collier. The mayor said he feared the claims of the bitulithic supporters were going to ruin the whole street paving proposition on Indiana. He said it meant a great loss of time and that some of the owners might get out of the paving notion.

Street Commissioner Clifford took the position that the bitulithic supporters had a right to demand that kind of paving and should be heard. Finance Commissioner Shepherd agreed and said the majority should be given the kind of paving it wanted.

Burton Stayton, public utilities commissioner, said the main thing to be decided now was to find out what attitude the traction company would take in bearing part of the street paving expense. "If the center of the street is not properly fixed, the paving will be of little value and if the traction company will or will not pay for having this done right, we should find out," Stayton said. Health Commissioner Patton was strongly of the same opinion.

This angle of the discussion became the crux of the question. It was decided no matter whether bitulithic or brick were used, it was necessary to get the car track area fixed properly. This meant the track ties must be of steel and a cement base laid between the rails for the brick or bitulithic to be placed on.

The council decided to continue the hearing a week and in the meantime confer with traction officials and see what part of the expense would be borne.

While the executive session was on, the owners and representatives in the room adjoining the council chamber, had also been holding a meeting. From the volume of voices outside of the council room, it was evident the bitulithic supporters had just begun to fight.

When the council finished the executive session, the property owners filed into the council room a second time. Mayor Collier's announcement that the hearing had been postponed a week, was met with questioning from the crowd asking if bids for bitulithic paving had been opened. The mayor replied they had not and explained the street car company situation had to be disposed of.

Ray, for a second time, addressed the crowd and said whether the traction company paid its part or not

20 MILLION IS NOW REQUIRED FOR DRY PLANS

Drastic Measures Proposed to Check Smuggling of Liquor

PLANS BEFORE MELLON

Changes Will Require Huge Sum from Congress to Carry Out

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Expansion of the federal government's prohibition enforcement machinery in an effort to stop liquor smuggling and to check what is described by officials as rapidly increasing supplies of "high-power" beer, is under consideration at the treasury department. The program contemplates practically doubling the strength of the coast guard and the placing of a prohibition agents in every brewery.

While the changes under consideration for the coast guard have not yet been placed before Secretary Mellon those in charge of the service have calculated approximately $20,000,000 would have to be appropriated by congress to carry them out. The larger plans call for the addition of more than a score of cutters and about 50 speed powerboats to be used in tracking down rum-runners off the coast. Additional personnel also is proposed.

Secretary Mellon is said to recognize that "high power beer is becoming all too common" in many sections of the country, and it is said, is inclined to favor a return of the old arrangement of putting an agent of the treasury as guard in all breweries so that daily tests may be made of products.

RANGERS CONTINUE LIQUOR RAIDING

By The Associated Press.

MARLIN, Texas, Oct. 22.—Texas rangers made a raid through the northeastern part of Falls county this evening, continuing a drive launched here last night. One additional arrest was made this evening when George Gill of Otto was taken into custody for alleged illegal sale of whiskey.

C. O. Moore, sheriff of Falls county, Wesley Hunnicutt, former deputy sheriff, and Ben Briggs, well known farmer, were arrested last night on similar charges as those made against Gill this evening.

Sheriff Moore was released today on bond of $2,500, while Hunnicutt and Briggs were released on $1,500 bond. The sheriff, who took up his duties right after his release from jail tonight said he did not care to discuss the charges filed against him.

Rangers Wheatley, Plott, and Lewis smashed a number of containers of wine, "choc" beer, and mash at various places in this evening's raid. Liquor found in jail and seized by the rangers consisted solely of intoxicants confiscated by Sheriff Moore and other officers in previous raids in this county.

CHECK SHOWS 5 DEAD IN CRASH

By The Associated Press.

WINFIELD, Ala., Oct. 22.—A check this afternoon shows that five persons were killed and one injured as a result of the grade crossing accident one mile north of here yesterday, in which an automobile loaded with people returning from church was struck by Frisco railroad passenger train number 6.

The family of Percy F. Lucas of Winfield, Ala., which included himself, wife and two year old child was wiped out. Rev. W. D. Otts, Sullignant, Ala., and Rev. Max Hankins, Fulton, Miss., were also killed. The injured man, Rev. B. A. Carter of Fulton, Miss., has a good chance to recover.

The curtains were up on the car, it is stated, and a sharp curve north of the crossing also obstructed the view of Lucas, who was driving. The automobile was thrown some distance and the Lucas infant was picked up by the pilot of the engine and carried nearly a mile before the train was stopped.

The 205,780 figure, included an actual counting of tickets and cash and a full check of the turnstile records not completed until this evening, he said.

ACCUSE WELTY IN COOK TRIAL

Witness Charges Him With Sending Letters for Allied Co.

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22.—W. P. Welty, one of the defendants on trial in federal district court here with Dr. Frederick A. Cook, charged with using the United States mails to defraud in connection with oil operations, sent out letters signed by him as special trustee of the Allied Oil company, a Delaware corporation, to the stockholders of that company relative to the transfer of their stocks to the Petroleum Producers association when he did not have any connection with the Delaware corporation, according to the testimony this afternoon of F. T. Conner of Mineral Wells, Texas. Mr. Conner is treasurer of the Allied Oil company, he said.

He testified that the letters signed by Welty were sent out from Fort Worth and that the Allied Oil company never at any time had an office here. He also testified that Welty sent out a letter to the stockholders calling a meeting in New York city enclosing in the letter a proxy for them to sign if they would be unable to attend, giving him the right to represent them.

Conner further testified that he (Conner) sent out letters to the stockholders advising them not to sign any papers sent to them by persons who were not connected with the company.

He stated that he advised W. G. Allen, one of the company's attorneys, of Welty's operations and that they warned him that he must stop sending out letters to the Allied Oil company's stockholders. Later, he said, a receivership for the company was appointed but that papers were never served. He said that the company is still active, having outstanding more than 1,000,000 shares of stocks.

W. G. Allen, of Fort Worth, former United States attorney, who is now a member of the law firm opposing the Allied firm, took the stand next. He corroborated Conner's testimony so far as he was concerned.

Henry C. Platte of Steubenville, Ohio, testified that he was a stockholder in the Allied company and identified letters received by him signed by W. P. Welty.

John G. Steele, Lathrop, Pa., also testified that he owned 1100 shares of stock in the Allied company and that he transferred it to the Petroleum Producers association, making a cash payment of $275 at the time. He stated that he never received a dividend from the latter association.

TESTIMONY TO BE READ BEFORE VOTING STARTS

Suspension Resolution by Senate Effective When House Files

ALDRICH BLAKE FIRST

22 Specific Charges Are Named in Report of Committee

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—A delay of two or three days in the impeachment program of the state legislature was seen late today when the lower house voted to have read all the testimony received by its committees in investigation and impeachment before voting on the acceptance of the committee's report. It was estimated that several hundred thousand words were included in the voluminous transcripts from which the testimony will be read.

Under this procedure a vote on the charges which formed the basis for a bill of impeachment against Governor J. C. Walton laid before the house earlier in the day by its committee on investigation and impeachment, is not expected before Wednesday.

Moral turpiture, corruption in office, willful neglect of duty and incompetency are alleged in the 22 counts collected in the house indictment, all of which will be voted upon separately. Each of the counts constitute sufficient grounds upon which to bring the executive to trial before a senate court of impeachment.

Arrangements to suspend Governor Walton from office until his trial, should any of the charges be sustained by the house, were completed today by majority members of the senate when they agreed in caucus to vote a resolution of suspension immediately the house formally files the impeachment proceedings.

The house adjourned late this evening until tomorrow morning after the first committee testimony to be read—that of Aldrich Blake, former executive counseller, whom the governor summarily removed soon after the legislature convened—had been completed. Tomorrow the reading will be resumed. Two clerks reading continuously, are expected to consume at least 24 hours in the oral presentation.

Early this evening, Governor Walton had made no coument on the impeachment proceedings.

A dense crowd packed the galleries when the committee report to which was attached the bill of impeachment, was presented to the house. The body previously had voted a call of the house, permitting no members to be absent during the proceedings.

The seats of three members—Charles H. Baskin of Nowata, now a district judge; E. W. Moothart, of Miami, now president of the Miami school of mines, and Charles Hutson of Creek county, now a justice of the peace were declared vacant on motion of Representative Pullen, of Murray, who charged that they had been appointed to their present offices illegally by the governor.

Reading of the committee report and articles required nearly two hours.

After conclusion of the reading, Chairman Disney of the investigation committee moved the report and articles be printed in the Journal.

Voting on a motion as to whether all the testimony should be read or printed in full in the Journal brought an overwhelming majority for oral presentation of the testimony.

A summary of the twenty-two specific charges, as enumerated in the committee report, under the general allegations, follow:

1. Apointment of Charles H. Baskin as district judge while a member of the lower house of the state legislature.

2. Diversion of funds from the state treasury to private use under the guise of placing his private chauf-

KLANSMEN FILE ENJOINING PLEA

Now Seek to Prevent Simmons from Forming the "Kamelia"

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 22.—An injunction against William Joseph Simmons, former chief executive of the ku klux klan, was asked in court here today by the klan, which seeks to prevent Simmons and ten other defendants from holding meetings under the name of "Knights of Kamelia," or "Kamellia." The petition states that the defendants are attempting to form a new klan body.

Judge E. E. Porterfield, in whose court the suit was brought, granted a temporary restraining order to Chet A. Keyes, attorney for the plaintiffs, returnable October 29, when there will be a hearing on a permanent injunction.

The petition states that Simmons was not re-elected ruler of the klan and that he is now trying to capitalize the secret information gained, in forming a new society.

The other defendants are: Caleb S. Ridley, Jack R. Jones, Vergil Shook, Frank Fay, C. L. Borden, L. A. Wynn, A. S. Gaffney, J. J. Herrin, H. D. Ward and S. H. Harper.

the bitulithic supporters would pay their part just the same. C. W. Snider said the same thing and said if the people who owned the property wanted to pay a higher price and get a better brand of paving, the council should not object. The announcement as first made by Mayor Collier was final and the hearing continued until next Monday night.

Police Commissioner Young said he had visited a number of the largest cities in the country this summer and found a number paved with brick. The commissioner said, however, if the majority of the Indiana street owners wanted bitulithic rather than brick, they should be allowed it.

Street Commissioner Clifford favored a committee of the city council, and property-owners going to leading Texas cities on an inspection tour of the streets and find out about the best way of paving the street car area.

CITIZENS IN LINE FOR NEW PAVING

That the citizens of Wichita Falls are rapidly falling in line with the city council's paving program was shown last night at a public hearing for paving several blocks on Eighth street between Denver and Van Buren.

Of about 12 property owners present all voted enthusiastically for the paving to begin at once, with the exception of one. It later turned out this property owner did not live in the neighborhood where the paving is to be but had rent houses there.

Petitions for paving two blocks from Twelfth to Fourteenth on Austin, a block on Harrison street from Travis to Burnett street on Seventh were filed with the city council and the first preliminary steps taken.

A public hearing to determine whether there were any objections to a filling station being installed at the Hooks grocery at 2208 Avenue S was held. There being no objections the permit was allowed.

Sheriff W. W. Murphy sent in a bill for $96 on citations served in city cases and city treasurer authorized to pay as much of the bill as collections had been made.

Sam Beattie, local commander of the American legion appeared before the council and was given permission for the legion to bring in some shows for Armistice week.

A motorcycle belonging to the city was ordered sold to J. S. Donohoe who had offered $150 for the machine.

DR. CLARK HAS NOT RESIGNED

Dr. Joe Frank Clark, county health officer, who was reported in certain newspaper accounts last week as having resigned, sent word to the county commissioners' court Monday that the report was erroneous and unauthorized.

Dr. Clark, who is out of the city, wired County Judge B. D. Martin and Commissioner Kuntz Monday the resignation report was a mistake. The court voted to instruct Dr. Clark to be present at the next Monday meeting if possible.

MOTHER! Children Cry For "Fletcher's Castoria"

STAGE AND SCREEN

By JOSEPHINE FISK

MOVIE CALENDAR.

OLYMPIC—Gloria Swanson in "Zaza."

STRAND—Percy Marmont in "If Winter Comes."

EMPRESS—John Gilbert and Gertrude Olmstead in "Cameo Kirby."

GEM—Douglas MacLean in "The Sunshine Trail."

"If Winter Comes" played to a packed house at the Strand Sunday evening and was enthusiastically received by the "first-nighters". The picture has long been looked forward to by Wichita Falls fans who read and loved the book by A. S. M. Hutchinson, and they were in no way disappointed with the interpretation given by the splendid cast who portrayed the story faithfully as Hutchinson wrote it.

Percy Marmont is the star. Beyond a question of a doubt Marmont is Mark Sabre. No actor that didn't live and feel his part could possibly give such an accurate presentation as does Marmont. Hutchinson himself has said that the selection of this accomplished English actor was an inspiration. Harry Millarde, the director, told Mr. Htuchinson that never before had he seen the cast of a picture so thoroughly absorb the spirit of a play. There were occasions where it was necessary for the directory possibly an hour after the shooting of a screen, to order certain members of the cast to relapse—to forget their parts. Percy Marmont didn't have to relapse. He was a Mark Sabre before the book was written.

Most of the scenes seem naturally to work out their own finish, so perfectly do the actors understand the characters in the book. "High" and "Low" Jinks, the two maids of Mark Sabre, merely keep their eyes on Percy Marmont, adoring his every word and act, and go through their scenes smoothly. They aren't actresses, but typical English servants who thoroughly understand and appreciate Marmont as the ideal English master. And so it is with the English countryfolk. Everybody enters into the spirit of the story.

"If Winter Comes" is one of the few really great pictures that have been successfully built around a really great novel. Go and see this picture and note how grippingly human and real the characters are; how unlike actors they seem. You almost feel you have met and known them intimately somewhere.

That is art.

Doug. Jr. Plays Traps

If Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., ever quits the screen he can easily get a job as a trap drummer, for he is a master in the art of syncopation with that implement.

This is merely another of the surprises that young Fairbanks served out to the crowd gathered around his set at the Lasky studios where he was starring in "Stephen Steps Out" his first Paramount picture.

The consequences were to be shot in a Turkish set and Doug claimed he couldn't work before the camera until he had proved to the orchestra drummer in the pit next to his that he wasn't jamming the drumstick properly.

Work was suspended until after the demonstration, whereupon, to the surprise of all concerned, young Fairbanks soloed the drum and traps in a way that started everyone's feet shuffling.

Gloria Vivid in "Zaza."

Acting for two audiences was the task confronting Gloria Swanson during the filming of "Zaza," at the Olympic.

Miss Swanson in the title role is the vivacious little French actress, headliner on the bill at L'Odeon, a cafe chantant in St. Etienne. The frequenters of the cafe forming one audience—the camera, representing the picture-going public, being the other. "So," declared Miss Swanson, "I had the rather unusual experience of being both a stage and screen actress at the same time."

"Zaza," is the character Gloria Swanson has alway wanted to play. And when her big chance came she really didn't play it at all—she lived it.

Great artists of stage and opera have played "Zaza." But never with the fire and emotional intensity that Gloria Swanson gives the role.

That's why it's one of the outstanding performances of the year.

Hard-boiled New York went crazy over "Zaza," and it had to be held over an extra week. Louella O. Parsons, of the N. Y. Telegraph, saw the picture on a Thursday afternoon and reports: "Every seat was filled and there were many people standing. Tell me when such a condition has prevailed in any of the Broadway theatres at an early afternoon performance."

Dustin and Patsy Ruth.

Dustin Farnum and Patsy Ruth Miller have been engaged by Vitagraph for leading roles in "A Tale of Red Roses," the next David Smith production, adapted from the novel by George Randolph Chester. Patsy Ruth Miller is making a smashing hit in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" in Broadway, New York, and Dustin Farnum's career on stage and screen is known throughout the world.

Kerrigan Heads Cast.

Vitigraph will soon release "The Man From Brodney's," a glorious romance adapted from the famous novel by George Barr McCutcheon. J. Warren Kerrigan heads a remarkable cast including Alice Calhoun, Miss DuPont, Wanda Hawley, Pat O'Malley and Kathleen Key. A battle between hordes of natives and the white guests at a chateau on the Island of Japat provides one of the sensational thrills.

Richard's Favorites

Nita's Negligee.

Something new in negligee!

Howard Greer, head of the costume department at Paramount studio which designed all the costumes used by Herbert Brenon in producing Pola Negri's starring picture, "The Spanish Dancer," has created something in negligee which is hailed as entirely different to anything which has yet appeared in the field of diaphanous undress.

The new negligee was created for Nita Naldi to be worn in Cecil B. DeMille's production "The Ten Commandments," story by Jeanie MacPherson, with Theodore Roberts, Leatrice Joy, Richard Dix, Nita Naldi, Charles de Roche, Estelle Taylor, Rod La Rocque, Julia Faye, James Neill and Edythe Chapman.

Mr. Greer was temporarily attached to the costume department which prepared all the costumes worn in "The Ten Commandments" under the supervision of Clare West. He was called upon to design two special costumes, one for Leatrice Joy and one for Nita Naldi.

The negligee for Nita Naldi embodies a Chinese theme which combines strong orientalism with strict practicability. The appearance of this design is very striking and may start a new fad when it appears on the screen.

Hugo Set for "Big Brother."

A score of architects artists and decorators are hard at work at the Paramount Long Island studio designing the great interior church set to be used in the Allan Dwan production, "Big Brother." Stained glass windows twinkle in the sunlight a hundred feet above the big stage floor while far below, half hidden in the sombre light, stands the altar. In the rear of the church, and raised above the rows of pews, is the choir loft and organ.

Charles Henderson, who came directly from an engagement on Broadway in "Icebound," has the role of Father Dan Marron, pastor of the church. Before going into motion pictures, Mr. Henderson was one of the leading members of the Henry W. Savage English Grand Opera company singing bass in "La Tosca" and "La Boheme."

BRYANT ATTENDS SCHOOL MEETING

Burl Bryant, county superintendent and member of the Texas educational survey commission, returned Monday from Dallas where he attended a meeting of the commission.

Bryant said Dr. G. A. Works, noted educator and Cornell professor of rural education was chosen to direct the survey. Bryant since his appointment last August as one of the 12 commissioners has made three trips to meetings of the commission. Bryant says Dr. Works will probably begin his work next Dec. 1, and will continue for a year, the time allowed by the state legislature for the completion of the school survey.

All members of the survey commission, except the president, Gov. Pat M. Neff, who is in Indiana, were present at Friday's meeting. They are Dr. P. W. Horn, vice president; Dr. T. D. Brooks, Mrs. Henry Redmond, Corpus Christi; Representative R. M. Chitwood, Sweetwater; Gus Taylor, Tyler; G. D. Staton, Canton; State Senator A. E. Wood, Granger; Tom Finty, Jr., Dallas, secretary; Mrs. Chalmers W. Hutchinson, Fort Worth, and B. K. King, Douglassville.

The commission adjourned subject to call, but with the understanding that its next meeting probably will be held a day or two before the teachers' convention, so that Dr. Works may be present.

The director will chose his staff for the survey, subject to the approval of the commission.

ARE AFTER MORE DELINQUENT TAXES

An effort to collect $16,667 50 delinquent funds due on city water and sewage taxes was launched by the city council last night at the instance of Burton Stayton, public utilities commissioner.

Stayton said since the collection of the sewage and water taxes had been left to the city water department about a year ago, $3,752 had been collected. The tax bills were at that time removed from the city tax assessor's office to the city water superintendent's office.

City Tax Collector Hyer was instructed to again assume the collection of the water and sewage taxes and to move the books back to his office. Hyer was instructed to give no clearance on abstracts of city property unless all water and sewage taxes were paid.

The water bills will be collected hereafter at the same time city and school taxes are brought in, Hyer was instructed. Finance Commissioner Shepherd said the more than $16,000 due the city on the sewage taxes was badly needed and if collected soon would come in at a most opportune time.

SHE IS YOUNGEST

York and Philadelphia. She continued this work until the war took her Austrian teachers, and then she became active in Red Cross work. Her health became bad from the strenuous life, and she has since been traveling and gradually regaining her health. Today, she seems to be more strong and healthy than the average woman at 50, and swells her chest out like the true gymnasium director that she is when talking of her prowess in fencing.

Knew Noted People.

She has traveled extensively, having met and known many distinguished personages in her long lifetime. Sitting there in the little hotel room, she spoke of having met Robert Louis Stevenson at Tahiti, and Rudyard Kipling in the Himalyas. Once she was introduced at New Orleans by Sarah Bernhardt. A newspaper clipping, written by Warren G. Harding when he was a reporter, is a cherished possession.

"Eternal Youth"—Hobby

Dr. Davenport's hobby is "Eternal Youth" capitalized. She does not believe in old age, and does not like to associate with it. Young people are her chief interest, as her long connection with them in teaching the secrets of health and strength will attest. She eats frugally and takes regular military training. Her chief interest is of course, in girls, and she has her ideas about the duties of women. She thinks they should be home makers and live strong and happily for their children and their good. She will speak to men and women probably Thursday at the Kemp, and expressed the desire that the people come to hear her talk on "Longevity."

In summoning up an impression of Mrs. Davenport, an observer would say that she, although born and reared in Europe, is the best type of a strong American mother, who is virile and interesting far more than her years might suggest.

Dr. Davenport is stopping with her husband at the Kemp and will be here about two weeks. Mr. Davenport is a correspondent for a European newspaper syndicate, his home being in Virginia.

IOWA PARK-BURK ROAD PROPOSED

Plans to link Burkburnett and Iowa Park with an improved gravelled road were made by the county commissioners' court Monday when County Auditor E. P. Walsh was instructed to advertise for bids to repair the Clara road between the two cities.

Only a few miles of paving is necessary to make the connection.

R. R. Commission To Come Here For Hearing On Gas

All the three members of the Texas railway commission will be in Wichita Falls next November 1 and will hold a hearing in the Seventy-eighth district court room at the courthouse on the controversy between the city council and the Municipal Gas company regarding the ready to serve charge of 50 cents on each gas meter the gas company proposes and which the council opposes.

This announcement was made Monday by City Attorney W. E. George. The city attorney said the case was so complicated and so many witnesses were necessary, the members of the railroad commission decided to come to Wichita Falls. An appraisal of the gas company's holdings will be made on that date.

Clarence E. Gilmore, chairman of the railway commission and W. M. W. Splawn and W. A. Nabors, the other two members, all plan to be present. Assisting City Attorney George in representing the city's side of the suit is C. C. McDonald, local attorney.

BRIDGE BID IS ACCEPTED BY CITY

The county commissioners' court Monday received three bids for the repairing of the bridge across the Wichita river on the Parks-Jonesdale road, the bid of the Austin Bridge company of $3,885.58 being accepted.

Others bidding were J. A. Wallace, $3,911.28 and G. B. Burgess, $4,027.84.

OIL LEASES HIT AS DELINQUENTS

County Tax Assessor Irving Deaton was instructed by the county commissioners' court Monday to compile a supplemental delinquent tax roll of all funds due the county on oil leases since 1919.

This roll will be turned over to W. R. Anderson, recently appointed by the court to collect a large amount of delinquent taxes.

CHARGES FILED IN FATAL SHOOTING

Assault with intent to murder charges were filed yesterday morning against the three men who were members of the party Saturday night which came to a tragic end when they were fired upon by Albert Johnson, farmer, whose chickens they are alleged to have attempted to take. A fourth member died late last night from gunshot wounds received in the affair.

The condition of Hubb Lay, the other man shot, was not considered serious yesterday.

The charges filed were against Lay, Tom Ashley and Barney Sims. No charges were filed against the five women.

TODAY'S POEM

In Autumn Woods.

Autumn, upon a throne of gold,
With all her airy trumpeters about her
Chanting a dirge for scented summers dead:
In her deep eyes the tenderness of tears,
On her wreathed brow the Shadow of a Dream.

A dream of hills that fed the flocks of God
And heralded the Morning; and dim vales
Where Love was lost in violets; rills that rocked
The laughing water-lilies, singing far
The secrets of the green land to the sea;
And meadows where the moonlight loved to dwell,
And red retreats of roses rimmed with rain—
Love's joyous tears—but still the Light of Tears!

But from her brow the Shadow of that dream
Passed: and the sun burnt bloom into her cheek;
The winds came fragrant from the fields where sweet
The harvest smiled to heaven: came and tossed
Her streaming tresses over her dim eyes,
And cast her gold upon the Summer's graves,
And sang the Reaping Song!
"Thy flocks are fed;
The fields—the forest bless thee; hills and vales
Sing to high heaven; and the ample barns
Are plied with bright Abundance, and the hearths
Of happy homes make glad the wintry nights,
And Plenty smiles, and the deep wings of Peace
Brood o'er the golden land; and Love is thine,
And starlight and sweet dreams, and that great Gift—
The benediction of the smile of God."

CLUB WOMEN WILL ATTEND MEETING

Mrs. O. E. Nicholls and Mrs. Walter S. Robertson will leave Thursday for Dallas where they will attend the executive board meeting of the Texas Federation of Music clubs. Mrs. Nicholls goes as one of the directors at large and Mrs. Robertson is chairman of music of the first district in the Federation of Music clubs.

Important information concerning the work of the Federation of Music clubs as given out by Mrs. R. E. Chambers, of Dallas, chairman of publicity and printing, follows:

"In view of the fact that many of the music clubs of Texas do not clearly understand the relation of the Texas Federation of Music clubs to the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, a few words of explanation seems expedient.

"The Federation of Music clubs is a separate, self-governing organization, yet a department of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, thereby representing music throughout the state for that organization.

"At the annual state meeting of the T. F. W. C. musical programs are provided by the music clubs; this federation being entitled to representation at annual meetings by one delegate for every six clubs, delegates being appointed by the executive board of the Texas Federation of Music clubs.

Attendance Rules.

"Members who desire to attend meetings of the State Federation of Women's clubs should be recommended by local club presidents, so this privilege may be accorded them, and in order, too that delegates appointed may be those who are interested and anxious to attend.

"The music clubs of Texas should pay dues to only one organization—the Texas Federation of Music clubs. This organization pays dues as a department to the Texas Federation of Women's clubs and should a music club pay an additional fee, it is being doubly taxed, without deriving any additional benefits.

"Active membership dues in the Texas Federation of Music Clubs includes club dues with the following organizations: Texas Federation of Music clubs, National Federation of Music clubs, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, music department General Federation of Women's clubs.

Eligible Organizations.

"All musical organizations of Texas are eligible to active membership, namely: Music Study clubs, music department of women's clubs, choral societies, festival and orchestral associations, community choruses, church choirs, etc.

"Musicians and those interested in the advancement of music in Texas and not affiliated with local musical organizations, are received as associate, artist and life members, and may enjoy all the privilege of the federation, except the rights of voting.

"The following new departments have been added for the season of 1923-24: Industrial music, church and choir music, exchange, state park music, colony and Texas composers' guild. These, with the many departments already functioning, afford ample opportunity for giving or receiving assistance in almost every line of musical endeavor.

"Membership in the T. F. M. C. is of mutual benefit to clubs and to the federation, for in unity only is there strength.

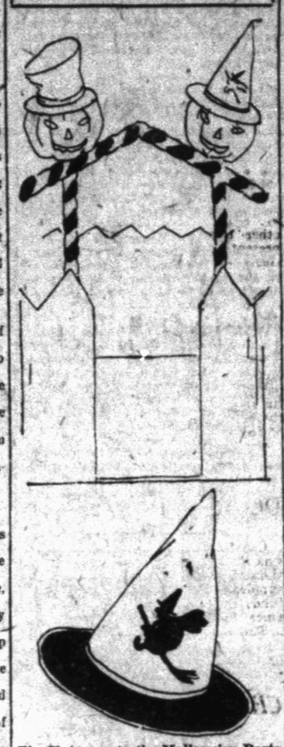

"The federation exists for the purpose of promoting music in Texas, and this can only be accomplished through co-operation."

COLOR CUT-OUTS

The Entrance to the Hallowe'en Party

"Where' ya going with those boards and nails, Billy Cut-out?" asked his cousin Tom one afternoon.

"I'm going down to Natalie Clipper's to build an archway over the gate to her Halowe'en party. Come along and you can help me."

Tom held the boards in place while Billy pounded in nails, and when they had finished, Natalie and Betty wound the posts with orange and black streamers.

You are using only the base of a hat box for your Hallowe'en party fence, so you may cut the strips for your arch from the lid. Paste them on and wind with orange and black paper. Make a second lantern face, by tracing the one given yesterday. Color it and today's witch hat orange, then mount the two lanterns as in the picture.

These directions for the arranging of a complete doll Hallowe'en party inside a hat box fence, with ghosts and goblins and goodness-knows-what, may make you want to give a real Hallowe'en party in your backyard or barn, using the same features and ideas that are given here.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run-down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. IDA HEWITT, 1529 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Your Heart and Home Problems Solved By Elizabeth Thompsun

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I have been going with a young man for the last two or three years, but not as steady company. Of late we had a little misunderstanding. Although he has asked me for dates since, I have never given him any. Now although he meets me every noon and walks home with me and we talk, he never asks for dates.

There is a girl he has gone with a few times, but he says he doesn't care for her. Nevertheless he goes with her at times.

I do care a lot for him and I think he does care for me too. Please tell me what to do. Did I do wrong in treating him the way I did? Shall I try to forget him and let him go on with the other girl?

RAENNA.

It is only natural that the young man would not continue to ask for dates after you had refused him several times. I think you made a mistake in turning him down so many times when you really cared for him. Now the thing for you to do is to say that you would like to have him come to see you some time. He has gone his half of the way and it is your turn to go your half.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I have been going with a girl friend for two years and it has always been a problem to know just what to buy her for birthdays. Please make a few suggestions that would make a real nice present for a girl twenty-two years of age.

VERY GRATEFUL.

You might give the girl flowers and a book, a box of choice stationery, a fountain pen, flower bowl, or a half a dozen fine linen handkerchiefs.

Fine Features Don't Count

A boy or girl may have ever so perfect a face, neck and poise, but if even one little pimple, blotch, bump or red spot shows, it ruins their whole appearance. You know how true this is, because you just naturally avoid people whose appearance is not pleasing.

These things are no longer to be endured, however, because thousands of people are getting rid of the worst and most stubborn cases of such skin diseases easily and quickly since the introduction in this country of the wonderful Black and White Ointment. It seems like magic to eczema, ringworm, itch, "breaking out," etc.

Dealers everywhere are recommending Black and White Ointment now. It is economically priced in liberal size packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size.—Adv.

THE KIDDIES LIKE THE CUT-OUTS

Newspapers used to be entirely for grown-ups. It isn't so any more. The newspaper today must cater to the little folks as well as their elders in order to enjoy the popularity every newspaper seeks. These are the comics and other features, some of which have a like appeal to young and old.

Being more or less human, the average editor thinks a lot of the child admirers of his newspaper. Editors know that little folks, not having learned the ways of the world, are inclined to say just what they think, and to be more frank than their parents sometimes are. So, a note from some little boy or girl always is appreciated.

Since the Record News started the Color Cut-Outs for children as one of its many features, the kiddies have indicated that they like the Cut-Outs. Little Lola Gates, age 11, of Henrietta, wrote us a very good letter to let us know she enjoyed the Cut-Outs. She says she has "Betty, Billy, Tom and Alice all colored, that they sure do look cute" and that she "thinks Alice is the cutest." And Lola's liking for The Record News is not confined entirely to the Cut-Outs. She says she thinks "Barney Google and Spark Plug are very good; that she is fond of Hamgravy and Olive Oil, and Jerry on the Job."

But Lola makes one request we just can't grant. She asks us to make a few more clothes for the paper dolls. "Isn't that just like a woman"—more clothes. Lola, we are sorry but you know more clothes mean more money, and the Cut-Out kids do not come of a wealthy family, and have to wear just what is sent us by the ones who furnish their clothes. There are other interesting Cut-Outs coming along, which will give Lola and all the other little girls in The Record News family something to do.

And we appreciate the interest of the children in our efforts to make The Record News a better newspaper. We just couldn't get along without the kiddies.

TRUE TO FORM

State Chairman W. L. Ward of New York predicts the nomination and election of President Coolidge in 1924. It is the sacred duty of a state chairman, regardless of where the state happens to be on the map, to predict the nomination and election of his own particular favorite.

Texas has a state chairman, a democrat, Hon. Frank C. Davis, who is an exception to the rule. He clings to the conviction that a state chairman represents all factions of his party and should not boost one candidate at the expense of another. There are many factions in Texas, all supposed followers of Jefferson.

Early the coming year the mud throwing and the throat cutting will begin. If Texas had an aggressive and powerful minority party it would be different. Some day Texas may have a minority party that will keep the democrats guessing as well as very busy.

KING CORN

Corn is selling for $1.10 per bushel with one of the largest crops ever grown under American skies. Corn is a food for man or beast and three bushels of corn is a staggering reality.

In the good old days, western farmers, when the price was low burned corn in their stoves on account of the high price of coal.

They are not using it for fuel this year. Corn products, for breakfast foods, tell the story.

ON THE TOBOGGAN

Governor Warren McCray of Indiana, is keeping a stiff upper lip and is telling his political enemies to go to the devil, using the choice language of a pious man.

Governor McCray may serve out his term but his political career has been written. He started in with a large fortune and when he returns to private life, his pocket book will be his lean of that of an unlucky street beggar. That is what politics has done for the farmer Governor of Indiana.

POWDER AND PERFUME

Paris is the wonder city of the world. Women in Paris use an average of two pounds of face powder yearly. This makes the total consumption by the women of the city one thousand tons. This is not all.

More than one thousand tons of perfumery is consumed by the women of Paris annually. In the old days the motto was "See Paris and die." This has been changed to "See Paris and live."

PANTOMIME . :-: -:- . By J. H. Striebel

Somebody's Been Getting Into Our Private Stock

Black Money

BY J. S. FLETCHER

AUTHOR OF "SCARBOROUGH REEF," "THE BOROUGH TREASURER," ETC.

"I know what this job is!" Matherfield exclaimed triumphantly. "Blackmail!"

"Just so!" agreed Hetherwick. "I've been thinking that for the last ten minutes. Baseverie has been trying to blackmail Lady Riversreade. But that's not our affair, you know. What we're after is the solving of the mystery surrounding Hannaford's death."

After a little more conversation the men returned to London.

The late afternoon edition of the evening papers were just out when they reached Victoria. Matherfield snatched one up: a moment later he thrust it before Hetherwick, pointing to some big black capitals.

"Good God!" he exclaimed. "Look at that!"

Hetherwick looked and gasped his astonishment at what he read.

Whereas Robert Hannaford, formerly superintendent of police at Sellithwaite, Yorkshire, died suddenly in an underground railway train, near Charing Cross (Embankment) station about 1:15 a.m. on March 19 last, and expert medical investigation has proved that he was poisoned, and there is evidence to warrant the belief that the poison was administered by some person or persons with intent to cause his death, this is to give notice that the above-mentioned sum of 5,000 pounds will be paid to anyone first giving information which will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons concerned in administering the said poison, and that such information should be given to the undersigned, who will pay the said reward in accordance with the above stated conditions.

PENTENEY, BLENKINSOP & PENTENEY,
SOLICITORS

Matherfield pointed to the names.

"Penteney!" he remarked. "Probably a junior partner in the firm."

"It's very plain," said Hetherwick, "that advertisement has been issued on behalf of Lady Riversreade. Penteney, Blenkinsop & Plenteney are no doubt her solicitors. But—why?"

"It ought to be looked into," muttered Matherfield. "They've left the police clean out."

"Well, I make a suggestion," said Hetherwick. "I think you and I had better call at Penteney's tomorrow morning. We can tell them something—perhaps they'll tell us something. Anyway, it's a foolish thing to divide forces—we'd far better unite in a common effort."

"We've certainly a card or two to play," admitted Matherfield. "All right! Tomorrow morning, then."

The two callers next day were conducted to an inner room wherein Blenkinsop, a cold-eyed man sat at a desk, while another, in whom Hetherwick immediately recognized the Major Penteney, stood, hands in pockets, on the hearthrug.

After instructions and a preliminary discussion Hetherwick said: "Now, as you are so much concerned in bringing Hannaford's murderer to justice, we think you must know a great deal, and I suggest to you gentlemen, that you ought to place your knowledge at our disposal. I hope my suggestion is welcome, gentlemen?"

Blankinsop drummed the blotter-pad before him with the tips of his fingers.

"I don't think we have anything to say," he said. "What we have to say has been said already in the advertisement. We shall pay the offered reward to the person who gives satisfactory information. I don't think that interferes with the police work."

"That doesn't help me much, Mr. Blenkinsop," protested Matherfield. "You, or your client, must know more than that! This is an intricate case—there are a good many wheels within wheels." Then, interpreting a glance which he had just received from Hetherwick as a signal to go farther, he added: "We know what a lot of wheels there are—no one better. For example, gentlemen, there is the curious fashion in which this affair is mixed up with Lady Riversreade!"

The two solicitors could not repress signs of astonishment. Penteney started.

"What do you know about Lady Riversreade?" he demanded.

"A good deal, sir, but not so much as I intend to know," answered Matherfield firmly. "Hannaford believed her to be identical with a certain Mrs. Whittingham who was through his hands on a charge of fraud, ten years ago, at Sellithwaite, in Yorkshire."

Blenkinsop suddenly rose.

"A moment, if you please!" he said. "Penteney," he continued, "a word with you in your room."

Matherfield glanced triumphantly after the retreating pair, and laughed when a door had closed on them.

"That's got 'em, Mr. Hetherwick!" he exclaimed. "They see we know more than they reckoned for. In some way or other, it strikes me, this advertisement is a piece of bluff!"

"Bluff!" said Hetherwick. "What do you mean?"

"What I say," answered Matherfield. "Bluff!" 'Done to prevent somebody from bringing up that old Sellithwaite affair."

Blenkinsop and Penteney soon came back.

"We have decided to talk freely to you," said the former. "Now, to begin with—just get the absolutely irrefutable fact into your minds at once: Lady Riversreade is not the woman who was known as Mrs. Whittingham at Sellithwaite ten years ago; nor did Hannaford believe that she was, either! It was not Lady Riversreade's portrait that Hannaford cut out of the papers!"

Hetherwick could not repress a start at that.

"Whose was it, then?" he demanded. "For I certainly believed it was!"

Hetherwick at once saw it was a duplicate of the portrait in his own pocketbook. But there was this important difference—while Hannaford had cut away the lettering under his picture, it was there in the one which Blendinsop exhibited. He started again as he read it: Madame Anita Listorelle.

"I see," said Hetherwick, "that this purports to be a portrait of a Madame Listorelle, who is described as a famous connoisseur of precious stones. Now, in relation to what we're discussing, may I ask a plain question: who is Madame Listorelle?"

Blenkinsop smiled oracularly.

"Madame Listorelle," he replied, "is the twin sister of Lady Riversreade!"

This news struck Matherfield with all the force of a lightning-like illumination.

"Oh, that's it, is it!" he exclaimed. "A twin sister, eh? Then—but go on, Mr. Blenkinsop; I'm beginning things."

"The matter is doubtless puzzling—to outsiders," responded Blenkinsop. "To clear it up I shall have to go into some family history. Lady Riversreade and Madame Listorelle are daughters of a sea captain who knocked about the world a good deal. He married an American woman, and his two daughters were born in Galveston, Texas."

"There's a certain particular that I should like to have some information about, if you please," interrupted Hetherwick. "Mrs. Whittingham had the figure of a snake tattoed round a wrist. Now——"

Blenkinsop smiled.

"I thought that would come up," he said. "Well, both sisters are tattoed in the same fashion. That was a foolish fancy of the old seadog, their father, much to their disgust when they grew older. Each lady wears a covering velvet armlet."

"Now let's come to the Sellithwaite affair: For reasons of her own with which we've nothing to do, Mrs. Whittingham as she was legally known, stayed at Sellithwaite for a while. She bought from a jeweler there a diamond necklace at a price—3,900 pounds. She gave him a check for the amount, fully expecting that by the time it reached her bankers in Manchester funds for her credit would have reached them. There was a hitch; the funds didn't arrive; the check was returned. Hannaford arrested her—but she got away from him and returned to America. For some time she was in financial straits. But she did not forget her liabilities, and eventually reimbursed the Sellithwaite jeweler.

"The situation as regards Lady Riversreade and Madame Listorelle some little time ago—say when Hannaford came to town—was this: Lady Riversreade, widow of Sir John Riversreade, had founded a home for officers. Her sister, Madame Listorelle, had a flat in Paddington and another in New York. Madame Listorelle is an expert in precious stones and a dealer in them. But she has recently become engaged to be married to a well known peer, an elderly, very wealthy man—which possibly has a good deal to do with what I am going to tell you. "About a fortnight ago, Lady Riversreade was visited by a man whose card bore the name of Dr. Cyprian Baseverie. He told a strange tale. He let her know, to begin with, that he was fully conversant with the Sellithwaite episode—in short, he showed that he was well up in the family history.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

NO CHANCE

I never dared to leap the floes,
Or fight with bears or polar snows,
Or board with igloed Eskimos,
For dreary months together,
The Arctic may be full of thrill,
With lots and lots of game to kill,
But it is always rather chill
And I don't like cold weather.

If it were warm in Baffin's Bay,
As it is in New York in May,
If one were sure that any day
A blizzard wouldn't blow there;
If one beside the sea might sit
And watch the sea mews wheel and flit,
And hunt or fish or golf a bit
I think I'd like to go there.

It is the glaciers I've been told,
Whose beauty tourists have extolled,
That make the place so doggoned cold,
But lately I've been reading
Some news that brings a little cheer—
The weather's getting less severe,
For something like ten yards a year
These glaciers are receding.

If they continue for a while
Some day the sun up there will smile
And I might seek some arctic isle,
By polar storms unharried,
But at the present languid rate
With which these glacier things abate
I sort of think I'll be too late,
For I'll be dead and buried.

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

NEW YORK BAD, BUT EUROPEAN CITIES WORSE, SAYS DR. STRATON

That New York is bad and getting worse, but is a fairly decent place in comparison with the great European capitals, is the expressed opinion of Dr. John Roach Straton, New York pastor who has just returned from a tour of England and western Europe.

"Berlin I found to be the worst city in Europe. Somehow, it was worse than Paris, which had always seemed the apex of wickedness. But the French manager to make vice artistic, while with the Germans it is gross. London—well, London is ponderous and heavy, but it is on the way to ruin. It is avoirdupois, not virtue, that holds London back.

"The drinking and smoking among European women shocked me profoundly, for accustomed as I am to cigarette smoking among New York girls, I had never seen it so prevalent in public. And I saw there what I never saw here—girls actually taking out their lipsticks in public. They used so much paint on their lips that they soaked it off with the soup and were obliged to make up again between courses.

"A visit to London is the best lesson in prohibition for a worried American. There you see women and little girls slinking into the bee shops with buckets and drinking side by side with the men. You see women on the streets, not actually drunk, the bobbies take care of such cases, but mellow, bleary-eyed and slouchy.

It is not the bootlegger, but the cigarette-smoking, dog-kissing woman, however, whom Dr. Straton finds the greatest menace in New York this autumn.

"I came back on the Berengaria, the boat of the wealthy," he said, "and there I saw a girl whom I wanted to photograph as an example of the degenerate modern so-called society girl. Bobbed-haired, loud-mannered, utterly careless as to the disposition of her lower limbs, she held in her left arm one of those libels on the name of dog, kissing its nose and mouth, and alternately puffed on a cigarette which she held in the other hand. She didn't know how to blush, and, if she did, it couldn't have been seen for the paint."

Such a girl, said Dr. Straton, is a menace not for herself alone but because other girls—high school girls—ape her manners and imitate her morals."

IRRIGATION

By A. M. McPHERSON

THE COLONIZATION QUESTIONNAIRE
Settlers from Other Irrigation Projects

It is the opinion of most people who are interested in the success of the irrigation project that it will be necessary to bring in settlers from other irrigation projects.

The reason for this belief is that almost all the local farmers are totally unacquainted with irrigation and irrigation methods and of course settlers brought in from any part of the country except the west would be the same way.

Judge Scurry pointed out in his speech at Iowa Park that previous experience in irrigation is not necessary to make a success, and he is correct.

Many of the western projects were colonized wholly with people who had never seen an irrigation project before.

Any attempt to bring in settlers from other irrigation projects is bound to be very costly and would very likely result in securing a class of settlers not very desirable. We do not have the space to go into a complete analysis of the matter, but it is a fact nevertheless.

It will be of especial interest to know the attitude of the land owners on this question. They were asked "Do you think that settlers should be brought in from places where they are now irrigating?"

The vast majority of those who answered said "Yes."

One man says "Don't think it could be done."

One says "Let the people have the first chance."

Another says "Bring them in from any where they will learn."

However it is apparent that the idea of bringing people in from other irrigation projects is very firmly fixed in the minds of most of the land owners.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

SCORPIO

The aspects are rather good today although not sufficiently favorable for important matters. The strongest influence tends to lower the mental stamina and it is therefore best to leave until another day those things which require concentrated effort. The evening is propitious for social pleasures.

A child born today will be sturdy and belligerent in disposition.

Today is the beginning of the Zodiacal sign Scorpio, the influences of which continue until November 21. If today is your birthday you are either an angel or a devil, good or bad. There is no happy medium in your nature. If you are the "angel" type, you possess all the fine traits that man is given, such as generosity, good fellowship, consideration of everyone with whom you come into contact, respect for law of land as well law of society and last but not least a fine religious code you practice but do not preach.

The most pronounced characteristic of the "devil" type is selfishness which makes it appearance in most every thought, action and deed of the native. Through this unfortunate curse the good things in life and in people will blotted from view. They will be hindered from attaining great success in business. Their married life will probably be extremely unhappy marrying for money is their sole ambition.

All of the Scorpio natives are unusually handsome, some of the sensuous order, while others are very ethereal.

They are gifted with second sight and powers of magnetic healing. They love the good things of the world. The lower types loves them too well.

Their secretive faculty frequently succeeds in concealing their faults and they can assume a dignity that rarely fails to make a good impression.

They have extraordinary ability for discovering the secrets of others.

They will marry early in life and raise large families.

Successful people born on this date are: Mrs. F. N. Doubleday, author; Francis Hopkins Smith, engineer, writer and artist; Adlai E. Stevenson, vice president.

Buy It In Wichita Falls

You can travel some distance in most any direction and you will not find a more modern, little city than Wichita Falls. And its merchants are up-to-date and cater always to the demands of the time. Why then, should any one send their money out of Wichita Falls? Keep your dollars at home, where you will get a chance to shake hands with them again.

The Boardman Oil Company, located at 304 Barwise street, has every claim to being strictly a home institution. The company, owned and operated by L. L. Boardman and E. G. Boardman, as partners, was established in 1919, and does a wholesale business in gasoline and oil. The products handled by this well known concern are Sunshine Gasoline and Veedol Oils.

The company began business just four years ago, and it was a small beginning too. But in four short years it has grown to a jobbing concern doing a yearly business of $200,000. Stocks of gasoline and oil amounting to from $40,000 to $50,000 are kept in storage all the time.

The company wholesales its products and operates no filling stations. In the beginning the company started with the operation of two trucks and had no warehouse, hauling direct from the refinery. Now purchases of gasoline and oil are made in carload lots, and eight trucks and cars are used in the business. All towns within a radius of 30 miles are covered in the sale of gasoline and the company's oil customers, to which the product is shipped, cover 15 counties.

HOME OF THE BOARDMAN OIL COMPANY

An indication of the rapid growth which the company has enjoyed may be obtained from the fact that the buildings and equipment of the company now occupy two lots—one 75x150 feet and the other 40x150, the dimensions of the warehouse being 40 feet by 125 feet.

The Boardman Oil Company has a strict policy of buying everything it possibly can in Wichita Falls or the community immediately adjacent to the city. Every truck operated by the company is a Wichita Falls made truck. There is not one dollar of outside capital in the concern. The Boardmans have been residents of Wichita Falls for about 10 years.

The men who have played a prominent part in making the company the success it has been, aside from the owners of the company are:

F. W. Boardman, manager of the warehouse and office.
M. M. Ingham,
W. B. Butcher,
Grady Morgan,
John Pryor,
C. T. Ingham, agent at Electra.

Mr. L. L. Boardman, in voicing the sentiments of the company regarding the policy of trading at home says:

"It is hard to find a better town in the country than Wichita Falls. That is enough reason for the people of this city backing up the community with a solid, trade-at-home policy. We not only believe in that sort of a policy but we practice it."

MEANS FACING 4 INDICTMENTS

Puts Up $15,000 Bond "Right Now" and Pleads Not Guilty

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Gaston B. Means, a former special agent of the bureau of investigation of the federal department of justice, today was arraigned on four indictments charging use of the mails to defraud and violation of the prohibition and international revenue liquor laws in the transfer of 512,000 cases and 12,000 barrels of whiskey from licensed distilleries to bootleg channels. He was also charged with leading a conspiracy to bootleg the liquor.

Means was once acquitted of the murder of wealthy Maude A. King of Chicago. He figured in the famous King forged will case, he confessed to having been financial agent for Captain Carl Boyed, German naval attache in Washington in 1917; for years he has been an investigator for the department of justice and William J. Burns.

Means smiled as the indictments were read to him. Through his attorney he immediately pleaded not guilty and asked that bail on all four indictments be set at $10,000 instead of the $20,000 demanded by prosecutors.

Judge Knox made it $15,000, offering to give the prisoner until tomorrow to produce the money.

"We'll put it up right now," said Means.

Pecora On Stand In Stokes Case Denies Charges

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Assistant District Attorney Pecora, on the witness stand in the Stokes divorce trial this afternoon, denied subordination charges on Joseph A. Thornton, a negro witness for W. E. D. Stokes, who testified last week that officials of the district attorney's office had induced him to contradict his evidence after the first trial.

Mr. Pecora told of questioning Thornton on a perjury complaint from attorneys from Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, after Max D. Steur, counsel for the wealthy hotel owner, had abruptly closed the plaintiff's case as the twenty first of his 70 witnesses stepped from the stand. Twelve of the 21 were negroes, many of whom contradicted themselves repeatedly.

Mr. Stokes was called to the stand twice by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes, after Mrs. Stokes had waived the right of a wife to forbid testimony by a husband at his divorce trial.

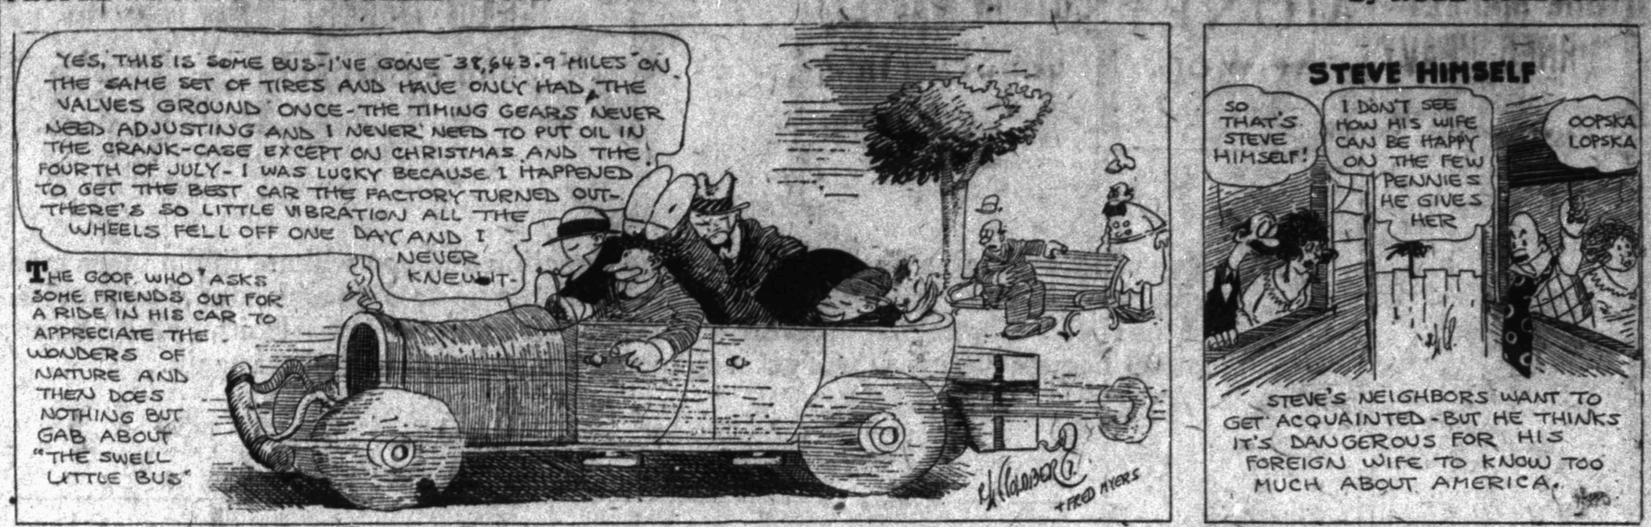

While the last witness for Mr. Stokes, Adam Butterfield, negro, was on the stand, Mr. Untermyer charged the hotel man with playing on the superstitions of his negro witnesses. He drew from Butterfield, who had testified to seeing Mrs. Stokes and Wallace at Bethel, Conn., the statement that Hattie Johnson, negress procurer of witnesses for Mr. Stokes, had placed a sign on her Harlem house reading "Saint Mathews Church of Silence."

"Were you there," asked Mr. Untermyer, "when Mr. Stokes appeared under a green light in a darkened room Saturday night, in a sheet and holding a paper labelled 'bill or divorce' in his hand, and when Hattie Johnson told witnesses present that it was a sign from heaven that Mr. Stokes was right in his case?"

Butterfield said he was not there Saturday, but had been present at "spiritualistic seances."

STOCK MARKET TURNED HEAVY

Opened Firm But Exchange Weakness Stopped Rise

By The Associated Press.

Total stock sales today 548,000 shares.

Twenty industrials today are aged $7.48; net loss .34.

High this year 105.38; low 86.92

Twenty railroads today averaged 81.05; net loss .57.

High this year 90.51. Low 79.53.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Stock prices opened firm in today's market, despite the unfavorable week-end political developments in Germany, but the general list turned heavy in the third hour, on selling believed to have been inspired by the increasing weakness of the foreign exchanges, demand sterling and German marks touching new low levels for the year.

When the market opened Wall street appeared to be of the opinion that stock prices already had discounted the worst that could happen in Germany and that the week end uprisings would have little effect on the domestic economic situation. Short covering operations were resumed in the leaders with the result that gains of a point or so were recorded by Baldwin and American locomotives, American Can and Du Pont.

The continued heaviness of Sterling, which dropped below $4.50 and was attributed to the withdrawal of American bank balances in London through fear of inflationary measures in Great Britain eventually created pessimistic sentiment among professional traders which found its reflection in a larger volume of selling orders.

Special weaknesses again cropped out in the rubber shares, U. S. Rubber common and first preferred sinking to new low levels for the year. New minimum prices also were established by a number of other issues including Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil.

The market, however, was not without its bright spots. Woolworth jumped six points to 271, a new 1923 top, and Kresge climbed ten points to 245 1-4. New peak prices also were established by Tobacco Products A, and Reynolds Tobacco B.

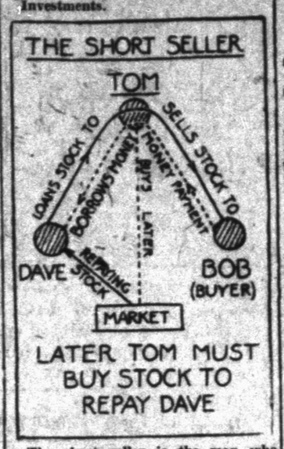

In the foreign exchange market, French and Belgian francs, each broke about 18 points, the former selling around 5.77 cents and the latter around 4.96 1-2 cents. German marks sold as low as two cents a billion.

Brokers were reported to be lending large sums on call, the call money rate opening at 4 1-2 and easing to 4 per cent before the close. The time money market was dull with brokers bidding 5 and bankers asking 5 1-2, some 90 day loans being arranged at the higher figure.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

The short seller is the man who makes money when stock prices fall. He does it by selling borrowed stock which he later buys back at a lower price. A typical short sale is diagramed above and described below.

Tom decides to sell short. He goes into the market and sells stock to Bob. But he hasn't any stock and he must deliver it to Bob the next day, according to the rules of the exchange. Consequently Tom borrows the stock from Dave and delivers it to Bob.

Dave is willing to lend Tom the stock because Tom will loan him money up to 100 per cent of its market value. The best loan he could hope to get from a bank would be 80 per cent of its value.

Everybody is happy; Tom is short, Bob has his stock, and Dave has borrowed money under favorable terms.

However, Tom is short, although probably no one except Dave knows it, and some day he must go into the market and purchase the stock to repay Dave.

Of course Tom, Bob, and Dave do not actually trade with each other. All are represented by brokers who trade for them.

Fort Worth Livestock

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22.—Receipts today were estimated at 5,450 head of cattle and 2,000 calves, 80 cars of which were late in arriving. Fat cows and canners averaged 15 cents lower, but on steers the market was steady, heifers and yearlings displayed a fully steady trend and calves averaged steady. Good light calves were dispo. of on an active and strong basis and on heavies and medium weight calves the trade was slow and weak. Stockers were disposed of to a good demand and prices on all kinds remained in line with last week's closing. Grass steers in the native yards made 5.35, these being the best on offer, and a few cars from south Texas went at a spread of 4.50@4.90. Fairly good cows sold at 3.00@3.50. Good canners cleared at 1.75@1.85. Cutters ranged around 1.90@2.50 for the most part. A few cars of heifers and yearlings sold around 6.00 for a high range. Most deals were within a spread of 3.50@5.50.

Bulls sold up to 3.75@4.00 but most of the supply went at 3.00@3.75.

Some sales of calves were made at 7.50 and several cars were desirable enough to clear at 7.00.

It was late before the hog market became established, but the movement scaleward was brisk. The general market as 10 to 15 cents lower, although a few sales on the medium grades were only slightly down. Receipts amounted to 2,500 head. Packers and shippers made purchases at 7.25, and small draft of hogs went to a packer at 7.30. Most of the day's offering cleared at prices ranging from 7.00 to 7.25. Pigs were 50 cents lower. Most sales were at 6.00.

Receipts of sheep amounted to 2,300 head and of that number at least 1,800 were on through billing. The market was hardly quotable, only a few feeders being on sale.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A moderate advance at the opening of today's cotton market was followed by reactions but after selling off from 29.65 to 29.32, December rallied to 29.80, closing at 29.69. The general market closed firm, net 2 points lower to 13 points higher, the more active months being five to 13 points above Saturday's final quotations.

The market opened steady, at unchanged prices to an advance of 15 points on relatively firm Liverpool cables and reports of frosts in the belt. The most general feeling appeared to be that temperatures had not been low enough to do any general damage, however, and the market turned easier under liquidation and scattered selling for a reaction. Rumors that private returns pointed to a ginning of 7,000,000 bales and the report of prominent cotton seed oil interests placing the crop prospects as of October 18 at 11,000,000 bales, were factors or the decline. After easing off from 29.90 to 29.50 for October, and to 28.87 for January, or about 17 to 30 points net lower, the market turned firm with most positions reaching the highest prices of the day in the late trading on trade buying and covering. The rally was accompanied by rumors that instead of 7,000,000 private ginning returns pointed to about 6,300,000 bales ginned to October 18. January sold up to 29.34 and last prices were a few points off from the best under realizing.

Exports today 11,359, making 1,390,884 so far this season. Port receipts 29,286. U. S. port stocks 681,165.

GRAIN MARKET HAS A SETBACK

Ideal Corn Weather Effects Other Grains—Wheat Rallies

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Ideal weather for conditioning the corn crop led to a decided setback today in the price of that cereal, and had a bearish effect on wheat, but gossip about prospective amendment of the Capper-Tincher bill tended somewhat to rally the wheat market at the last. The finish in wheat was unsettled at the same as Saturday's close to 3-8 cents down, with corn 1 to 3 cents lower, oats 1-4 to 5-8 cent off, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to 12 cents advance.

The corn market the fine weather was generaly looked upon as the forerunner of big receipts. Oats declined with corn.

Provisions showed the effect of lower quotations on hogs, but later responded to continued good demand for meats.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—It was a session of ginning rumors in the cotton market today and during the greater part of the trading prices were depressed because of persistent and widely circulated reports that private bureau figures on ginning were about to be issued and that they would be full. In the fast few minutes of the day the complexion of the market was completely changed by rumors that private ginning figures would be issued after the close, and that they would be small. On such reports there was a violent upturn to the highest levels of the day, highest prices being reached in the close range of sales, which on December were from 29.26 to 29.30. Closing quotations showed net advances of 6 to 20 points.

On the opening enough selling came on the market to put prices 8 to 13 points off but this initial decline was met by buying, based on the cold weather over the belt, that was sufficient to put price 4 to 9 points over the close of Saturday.

Cotton Seed Oil

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—After opening steady, cotton seed oil eased off below the previous close under pressure from refiners and local bears but subsequently advanced again in response to improvement in cotton and lard. Closing bids were 1 to 8 points net higher; sales 14,000 barrels. Prime crude, 9.50@9.75; prime summer yellow spot, 12.00@12.75. October closed 12.15; December, 10.85; March, 10.95, all bid.

All of the 1,500 varieties of grapes grown in Europe were originally from one species of vines.

FIRE INSPECTOR COMES NEAR TO SEEING ACTION

If the city hall and the down town fire station had gone up in smoke Monday, as it had a good chance to do, the state fire inspector who had just arrived in the city, would have had another fire prevention arguing point.

Chief McClure was showing R. W. Miller, the state fire inspector, over the fire station and telling of the efficacy of the department, when the veteran chief began sniffing. "I believe I smell smoke," Chief McClure said as he looked about.

Police Chief George Hodgins smelled the smoke too and began to look on both floors of the city hall. Chief McClure finally located the blaze. It was in the clothes locker of Fireman George Osteen. Some oily work clothes had caused spontaneous combustion and the locker was afire on the inside.

The blaze was soon extinguished, and very little damage done to the clothing of Firemen Osteen. Osteen was accused of allowing his clothing to catch fire so the fire inspector could see the local fire department in action.

1922 FIRE LOSS WAS ENORMOUS

Visiting Fire Marshall Says 15,000 Lives Lost During Year

"Nero fiddled while Rome burned, and the people of the United States emulated him in 1922 and fiddled while 15,000 lives were lost and $600,000,000 worth of property destroyed because of fire," was the statement of R. W. Miller, assistant state fire marshal Monday.

Miller is in Wichita Falls direct from the state fire marshal's office to make a two weeks' inspection tour of the Wichita Falls' business district. "Our idea is to put out the fires before the blaze begins. By inspecting all the large cities of Texas we hope to eliminate many fire hazards and cut down the number of fires," the official said.

While here, Miller with Fire Chief McClure and Commissioner John Young and other officials, will go into every business house in the downtown area and inspect them. Wiring, trash, garrets, cellars and all will be looked over. According to Miller the loss per capita in the United States is $3.75 annually while in Europe the general average per capita is 30 cents.

"If the fire loss of Texas for 1922 in dollar bills were distributed bill to bill the line would extend from Borwnsville to Texline and from Texarkana to El Paso with 17 miles left over to go to Juares and celebrate," Miller said yesterday.

The oficial said the inspection being conducted here would have nothing to do with the lowering or raising of key rate for local fire insurance.

Twenty million automobile license plates are discarded annually in the United States.

BOWIE COUNTY TO HAVE BLUE SUNDAY

By The Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Tex., Oct. 22.—Many persons in Bowie county whose employment has required them to work on Sunday are to have a day of rest on the seventh day, according to Judge Hugh Carney, Bowie county district judge, who, in his charges to the grand jury at the opening of court at Boston today, assetred that the Sunday closing laws must be enforced. Judge Carney stated that he would hold law enforcement officers strictly accountable for this work, threatening them with removal from office unless the mandate of the court is observed.

Filling stations must close all day although gas may be sold in a limited quantity in a case of dire emergency. Provision stores and ice stations will be permitted to remain open until 9 o'clock but all other stores must close. Drug stores and regularly established confectionery and cold drink stands were exempted from operation of the order. When court opened today there was only one capital case on the docket, and only two awaiting grand jury investigation, which is a new low record for Bowie county.

Baltimore Orioles Cop Seventh One of Series

THRILLS FURNISHED BY BOTH SIDES IN THE NINTH INNING; SERIES NOW STANDS 4 TO 3

By The Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22. — The Orioles prolonged the Little World's series by winning the seventh game from Kansas City at Oriole park this afternoon, 10 to 9. Five runs behind, when they came to bat the last time, the Blues flashed a thrilling five-run rally, tying the score, and knocking Lefty Groves from the rubber. Tommy Thomas was rushed to the rescue and stopped the run-making after allowing one hit.

Baltimore, however, came back in its half of the ninth and scored the necessary run to win. Styles, Porter, Bishop and Lawry hit homers for the Birds, while Brief banged the ball from the lot for Kansas City in the ninth with two men on base. Good and Scott also made homers for the Blues.

A cold and biting wind blew across the field all during the game, making it uncomfortable for both players and spectators. Today's attendance was the smallest of the series, only 1,557 paying $2,520.60 to see the game.

The series now stands four for Kansas City and three for Baltimore. The score:

TRIS SPEAKER IS RETURNING HOME

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22.—Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland American league team, left here tonight for his home in Hubbard City, Texas, after a ten-day fishing trip in Canada. Speaker said the Indians would again train at Lakeland, Fla., next spring, adding that the older pitchers would again be sent to Hot Springs, Ark., about two weeks in advance of the other players' departure for Lakeland.

BOB QUINN TO GET RED SOX

By The Associated Press.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—President Bob Quinn of the Boston American league club, announced tonight that Lee Fohl, former manager of the St. Louis Browns, had consented to manage the Red Sox during the 1924 season, succeeding Frank Chance. Fohl was let out by the St. Louis Americans in mid-season this year.

OTTO MILLER LEASES ATLANTA

By The Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 22.—Atlanta will be minus the managerial services of Otto Miller, when the 1924 Southern association baseball season opening comes around. Miller, who lifted the Crackers from eighth place to fourth and within five points of third last season, resigned, presumably when he went to New York with Owner Jack Corbett to attend the World's series. He only had a one year contract.

Looks like Knute Rockne had constructed another "wonder" team at Notre Dame, judging by the performances which the South Benders have west had little difficulty in handing the West Pointers a 13 to 0 lacing, in a game for which the Army lads had been brought along quickly and especially pointed.

Akron university boasts of having the largest pair of football guards in the Ohio conference, in the person of Limbach, 260 pounds, and Brown, 220 pounds. Both are expected to play the position at least a portion of the time during the season.

VANDERBILT IS STILL WORKING

By The Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Ten., Oct. 22.—Coach Dan McGugin's Vanderbilt Commodores today were endeavoring to shake off their depression brought on by defeat from the Texas Longhorns Saturday in Dallas. Until dark the team was worked hard, straight football, preparing for a new foe Saturday—Tulane and for a succession of Saturday games which the Commodores are working to win by scores large enough to retrieve at least a portion of the prestige they left behind them in Dallas.

WARNING SIGNS AT SCHOOLS ASKED

Warning signs to be placed in the area of all pubile schools in the city asking motorists to drive carefully past the school buildings were recommended by Police Commissioner John Young at the city council last night.

Commissioner Young said the police department Monday took in more than $150 in fines. "This money goes to the street department. I would like to take one day's earnings of the city police court and put warning signs up near the school. I would rather do this now before some little child is run over by a careless motorist," Young said.

The council agreed unanimously with the street commissioner and told him to make an estimation of the costs of the warning signs and present it at the next meeting. The commissioner was also instructed to have parking zone signs and two hour limit warnings made.

GRID GAMBOLS

With the champion of district number 4, interscholastic league, yet undecided, and probably two weeks until such time, the contenders for honors in this district have been narrowed by suspension for two years of North Fort Worth Hi, a dangerous aspirant in the southern division. This means that one less opponent is left for the winner here, and may yet point to another play-off between Cleburne and Wichita Falls. Should such be the case, there are strong reasons to believe that the Coyotes will turn a different trick than the one wished on them at Cleburne last year. At all odds, the game would be due to be played here.

Cleburne, Electra, North Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Strawn and Wichita Falls were early picked as the strongest teams in district 4, recent elimination having placed two out of the running. The Coyotes yet have one game to show whether or not they are the class of this section.

Should Coach McCallum get the game here Friday with Dallas academy, it will no doubt prove a good match. There is much good experience to be gotten by the Coyotes in such a game, but fortune forfend that serious injuries do not take their toll!

There are still over one hundred schools in the race out of two hundred and seventy-seven to start the series, with the season a month old. Others may be added by increased percentage but this is seldom sufficient to bring a team into the finals. Next Saturday will see a large decrease in this list. Notable among those still undefeated, besides the six in this district, are: Amarillo, Lubbock, Abilene, Cisco, Stephenville, Dallas Forest Hi, Dallas Oak Cliff, Denison, Sherman, Whitesboro, Jacksonville, Texarkana, Midland, Mexia, Temple, Waco, Nacogdoches, Laredo, Austin, Georgetown, San Marcos, Madisonville, Beaumont, Galveston, Houston Heights, Fort Arthur, San Antonio Brackenridge and Main, Corpus Christi.

Out of this number, Abilene, Cleburne, Waco, Oak Cliff, Temple, and Houston Heights are old strong contenders in the state.

Strawn, which team took Fort Worth to a hard upset, will still have to be counted by the Coyotes in this district.

Austin, Beaumont, San Antonio, are showing up strnog in their sections.

The 1922 champion Waco Tigers will probably have to beat Austin in that district, while Abilene, last year's runner-up seems to have the supremacy of the plains.

VANDERBILT MAY DROP MICHIGAN

Special to The Record News.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 22.—The Vanderbilt-Michigan game will probably be dropped when next year's schedule is drawn, it was indicated at the offices of Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at the University of Michigan today. The game played October 13, when Michigan was held to 3 points by the Commodores, barely winning by a score of 3 to 0, completed the contract between two schools.

TO MATCH ZEV WITH MY OWN

Mile and Three-Quarter Race at Latonia Is Now Being Arranged

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Zev, International 3-year-old champion, as a result of his decisive victory Saturday over Papyrus, the English derby winner, will settle his rivalry with My Own for American honors in the Latonia championship at Latonia, Ky., November 3, unless present plans go astray.

Samuel C. Hildreth, trainer of Zev, today announced the Rancocas colt would be shipped to Latonia next week for the big stake and as Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, owner of My Own, already had entered his unbeaten star, it seemed assured that these two thoroughbreds would settle their disputed question of supremacy.

"Nothing will keep Zev out of the race except a breakdown," declared Hildreth, who added that he had declined to enter his horse in the $25,000 Washington handicap, at a mile and a quarter, to be run as the closing feature at Laurel, Md., next Saturday. My Own is an entry in this event, but there was some speculation today as to whether Grayson might not withdraw his horse in anticipation of fulfilling at Latonia his desire to have the great son of King James match strides with Zev.

Should My Own and Zev meet at Latonia it would be a real test for both thoroughbreds, for the championship is at a mile and three-quarters, two furlongs longer than the international race.

Jack the Animal Killer.

"How doth the busy Dempsey
Improve each shining hour
By slapping some poor would-be
Upon his cauliflower?"

A wild bull, a fox, a carp (the poor fish), and Willard, the big elephant—these are only a few of the wild animals Jack has met—

Of course, if you want to add to the list of his victims call Brennan a bear and Billy Miske a Billy goat—but those trophies would never be as prominently displayed in Jack's collection as some of the others.

The question is—who's next? Will the mighty hunter continue on his way unhurt, or will some ripping, clawing beast get the better of him.

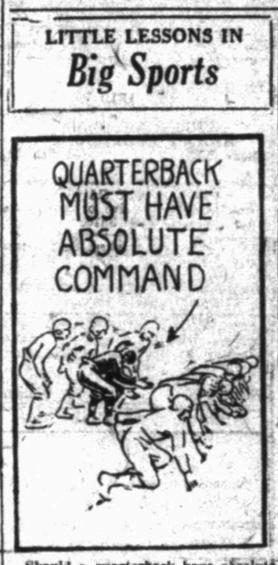

The Brown Panther has been waiting long crouched for a chance to spring—

The wild Bull is resting up for another chance—

Good Hunting, Jack!

Should a quarterback have absolute command of the team on the field?

Answered by

KNUTE ROCKNE

Coach of football, Notre Dame university. Famous for his fighting teams, beaten only twice in last four years.

A quarterback should have absolute control and command of the team on the field as regards calling of signals. He alone is highly trained along tactical lines and is responsible for a tactical error. The captain has charge of all matters pertaining to officiating, accepting or declining penalties, choosing to receive or kick, calling for substitutes, and telling the referee when ready to recommence after time has been taken out. In other matters the quarterback is the absolute czar. Nothing is more demoralizing to an offense than to have every member of the team a would-be quarterback. Authority must be given to one man and he must also bear the responsibility.

WASHINGTON U. MAY WITHDRAW

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 22.—"If we can't get more men out for football, and heavier, the only thing to do, as I see it, is to withdraw from the Missouri Valley conference and arrange games with teams in our own class," Coach Wimberley of the Washington university football team asserted tonight.

The remark was made in commenting on Washington's defeat by Oklahoma 62 to 7 Saturday. It was the worst defeat the local institution has suffered in its conference career, it was said.

Sport Snap Shots

Amherst is planning a big time for November 3, on the occasion of the Amherst-Wesleyan football game, for the reason that a well known American, Mr. Calvin Coolidge of Washington, D. C., expects to add considerable eclat to the occasion, through his attendance. This gentleman, by the way, is an Amherst '93 man, as you know the reason.

According to the dope emanating from the east, the Harvard coaches are in search of a quarterback who is qaulified to meet the Crimson requirements, these being simple, it appears. What they want is a field general pare and simple. Their ideal quarter is a man like Buell, who seldom ran with the ball. Coburn, it seems, is the likeliest prospect to date with Lee, who started the Yale game last year next in line. Akers, who showed well in the Middlebury game, cannot be overlooked.

Fortune is surely a fickle jade. Not many hours after Luis Firpo, he of the Argentine, had been lulled to sleep by one of Dempsey's ferocious paws, Young Peter Jackson, once the idol of the fistic world, was lowered into a pauper's grave at Baltimore, gone and virtually forgotten. Jackson, whose real name was Simpson Tompkins, was one of the cleverest boxers of his day, meeting, among others, Jack Johnson, Sam Langford, Joe Walcott and many others. He was also the spurring partner of Joe Gans.

We desire to compliment the Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Michigan City, Ind., who in a recent sermon declared, "One reason why the pulpit is not reaching more men is because it does not talk about the things in which men are interested. The first thing the average man turns to in his daily newspaper is the sports page."

World's series and the like with the Giants as one of the participants brings to mind the fact that at the close of the Western league season the Des Moines club took Iron Man Joe McGinnity on to pitch as a "circus attraction" against St. Joseph. The veteran lasted three innings, during which time St. Joe collected 13 hits for 12 runs.

Looks like the Big Three in eastern college football circles, namely, Yale, Harvard and Princeton, had machines that would do considerable mowing between now and Turkey day. The Bulldogs made short work of Georgia, which made a long trip to get trimmed 40 to 0; Princeton gave Georgetown a tasty lacing 17 to 0, while Harvard and Middlebury played themselves to a 6-6 tie. Stevens of the Yale squad is playing a particularly brilliant game.

SAUNDERS PROBE WILL BE PRIVATE

By The Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 22.—Counsel for Clarence Saunders, former executive head of the Piggly Wiggly corporation, which he is now seeking to have placed in receivership and attorneys for the corporation contesting the petition, will examine certain records and other papers dealing with the personal accounts of Saunders in private at the office of a firm of public accountants here instead of in open court, it was decided today at a hearing before C. L. Marsilliott, master in chancery.

Attorneys for Saunders opposed an open court hearing of Saunders' private account asserting that such proceedings would amount to an unwarranted delving into the personal affairs.

Mr. Marsilliott held that the corporation was within its rights in demanding the privilege of looking over certain papers and accounts in view of Saunders' contention that in various stock transactions he acted as the agent for the corporation, but it was agreed today that only the attorneys for the two sides should be present when the inspection was made.

A New Fall Pace-Setter for the Boys

The "Flag" illustrated above combines everything for which Excelsior Medal Shoes are noted—Quality—Workmanship—Service—Perfect Fit. It's a fine Tan Grain Bal, with just enough perforation to give it "character", and blind eyelets to add a final note of refinement.

fresh
Snowdrift
in a new blue airtight bucket

as easy to open as winding the clock!

DO YOU realize how much nicer cooking fat is when it is really fresh? Nothing but an airtight tin—as truly airtight as you would use to put up fruits or vegetables yourself—is going to keep a pure fat, like Snowdrift, fresh as the day it was made when you open it in your kitchen.

A truly airtight tin used to mean a knife or a can opener and some bother. It was worth that trouble to cook with fresh Snowdrift, of course—but the bother is gone now. Have you seen the new fresh bucket?

SOLO SINGERS FEATURE BAND

High Tribute Paid by Other Cities to Thaviu Band On Way Here

When Thaviu brings his band to Wichita Falls the evening of October 29, he brings not only a band of 32 pieces, but also eight ballet dancers and six grand opera singers.

The band comes to this city highly advertised and approved by the many audiences before which it has performed in America.

Of the soloists of the organization, the Muskogee Times-Democrat carried the following report. "The soloists of the Thaviu organization, finished professionals every one of them, were a bulwark of strength, keeping the chorus up to tempo and singing their arias and concerted numbers so that they were heard to the utmost advantage, even under the handicap of an out-of-doors appearance."

The same publication carried the following of the soprano soloist who sings the part of Aida. "The clear, high voice of Mrs. Cummings, soprano in the role of Aida, ever a favorite of those who know the Thaviu organization, was heard last evening at its best and carried wonderfully well through the great grandstand."

Tributes were paid to Mme. Revuelta, the contralto who sings in the role of Amneris. The baritone voice is also highly spraised in the concert at Muskogee.

The ballet dancers are recognized by all who have seen them and by those who are critics of ballet dancing as among the very best artists. The little Russian girl, the solo dancer, comes here with as one of the best ballet dancers in America. Wichitans will have the opportunity of seeing her when Thaviu's band comes to Wichita Falls, Monday evening, October 29.

GRIEF COMES TO JAILBREAKER HERE

Two hacksaw blades neatly done up in an old-fashioned asafetida rag were found around the neck of "Slim" O'Meara, well-known police character here and wanted by Jones county officials for breaking out of the Anson jail 10 days ago, when Jailer W. W. Belcher put him in the county jail Monday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriffs Hawkins and Snider captured O'Meara here Monday at the home of the latter's father. O'Meara was found under the dining room table by Hawkins and Snider. The escaped prisoner has broken out of the city jail here and other cities several times. The hacksaws were sewed in the rag very cleverly and the jailer just happened to detect it when he searched O'Meara after the latter had been brought to jail.

O'Meara is wanted by the Jones county officials on a theft charge in addition to the jail-breaking charge. Anson officers were notified of O'Meara's capture and will come for him.

MANUAL TELLS ALL AUTO TAXES

The Automobile Reference Manual, a publication just issued by the state highway department for the purpose of expediting determining taxes on automobiles for 1924 was received Monday by Guy Raley, county tax collector.

According to Raley, the manual prepared by the highway department is going to be of great benefit to automobile dealers, owners and the tax collector in determining taxes. Raley sugests all the car dealers in the city communicate with him and get a full tax schedule on the make of car handled. Every automobile made in the United States is listed and a scale of tax rates laid down and made easy to determine exactly in a minute's time.

Girl Scout Week is here. The scouts are enjoying a week of interesting activity to celebrate the event. An attractive window in the Singer Sewing Machine Co., tells by posters what the scouts stand for, and a miniature camp site is cleverly reproduced. A real little tent flies Old Glory from the top, and a uniformed bugler ronses the sleeping camp. Down by the swimming pool is a canoe and a brown dog, evidently the camp mascot. A little duck swims on the pool and a life saver is ready for emergency on the bank.

A feature of special interest in the window is an engraved card from Mrs. Warren G. Harding expressing her thanks for the message of sympathy sent to her from Troop 1, Girl Scouts of Wichita Falls.

Eighth and Scott streets looked like Venice today. One tired business man stood on the corner of the City National Bank like a college freshman, and hawled across the street to a pal on the Kemp hotel corner to bring him a gondola.

With no gondola in sight the tired business man stepped on the bumper of a parked car crawled over the front fender, walked along the running board, crawled over the rear fender and holding onto the spare tire, he poised himself on the rear fender and jumped the remaining three feet of water, landing just on the edge of the puddle and splashing water all over himself, to the hilarity of the onlookers.

C. L. Sherman is in Tulsa on business.

E. C. Wills has returned from a short trip to Abilene.

Tom Cathcart is attending the Dallas fair.

R. G. Ruby is visiting his mother in Fort Worth for a week or ten days.

County Tax Assessor, Irvan Deaton and wife returned Monday afternoon from Del Rio, where they went overland Saturday and met their two daughters who are students in the University of Texas. The Texas-Vanderbilt game was attended and an enjoyable trip reported.

County Commissioner Kuntz who has been away from his duties at the courthouse because of an operation three weeks ago for appendicitis, was on the job again Monday.

A total of 116 poll taxes and 36 exemptions have been issued to date.

The county commissioners Monday authorized the purchase of a Russell grader the consideration to be $2150.

Judge Gibbs says the invention to keep a man from getting shot may some day be successful but that it won't keep him from getting "half shot."

NEW MEMBERS ARE DISCUSSED

Kiwanians Are Instructed on Obtaining New Ones at Luncheon

The question of membership was discussed by the members of the Kiwanis club at the weekly luncheon held yesterday at the Kemp. Frank Queisser, secretary, read the list of classifications from which members might be obtained, one or two members maybe taken from each of the classifications.

Each member of the Riwanis club is asked to bring or suggest a name for membership and a committee was appointed to see about getting new members.

One new member, Abe Marks, was taken in at the meeting. An address of welcome was given by Raymond Myers.

M. G. Catter asked that the Kiwanians bring on the first Monday of each month any clothing and wearing apparel that they did not need to Rex Walker at the J. C. Penny store, and from there they would be given over to the Salvation Army for distribution.

During the time that was not taken up with the discussion of membership, Roy Grimes gave a talk on road paving. He discussed the process of making bitulithic pavement, and compared present road building processes with those of ancient days. "Road building is an old art. The first road of any importance is the Roman road, the Appian Way, which was built before the time of Christ. Some of it is still in a good state of repair. The second road was made in 1830 when MacAdam made the paved way, now called the macadamized road. Then later, George Warren mave a pavement, the bitulithic which is similar to the macadamized road."

In telling of the process, Mr. Grimes said, "Small stones covered with a mineral substance of asphalt making a hard surface. The asphalt comes from Mexican crude oil with an asphalt base. It is heated to a temperature of 325 degrees and put on the dust and rock while it is still hot. It is then crushed with a roller and is ready for use within an hour's time."

The meeting was in charge of Mr. Grimes. Announcement was made that at the next meeting of the club, H. F. Sanderford will make a talk on shoes, the second of the classification talks of the season.

COPS SCARE NOT KIDDIES HERE

Local Children Friendly With Force

Contrary to the rule in most cities, the children of Wichita Falls are not afraid of policemen. It is usually the custom of mothers to tell their little Bettys and Billies that if they are not good "the policemen will get them."

Acording to Chief George Hodgins and several of his patrolmen, the children of Wichita Falls like the policemen very much and local cops tell of many little friends on their beat who play with them and talk to them and relieve the monotony of the daily beat.

Little lost children usually grab gratefully the big hand that a patrolman holds out to them, and they tell him their story without fear, accepting at once this new found friend that has come to help them find "mother" or the way home. If, however, the little chap is very tiny and very frightened, it sometimes takes a stick of candy or a sack of popcorn to quiet him and bring back the smiles.

Four cases of lost children were handled by the local force Saturday as a typical days work. Most of the cases are found in picture shows, though some wander away from stores. In every case a detailed description of the child is in the hands of every patrolman on the force within 10 minutes of the time the case is reported. Very little trouble is experienced in finding lost children, but sometimes it is difficult to locate parents of a little tot who does not know who he belongs to.

Mothers are usually far more upset than the children lost, and the little wanderers are royally entertained at the station for sometimes hours until the mothers call for them. As nursemaids, the cops are no slouch, and all the little Wichita Falls kiddies love them.

EASTERN STAR DELEGATES ARE RECEIVED HERE

Delegates including Past Worthy Matrons and Past Worthy Patrons on the special train over the Fort Worth and Denver railway, more than 275 in number, were entertained by the two local chapters of the Eastern Star during their three and one-half hour stay in this city Sunday afternoon. During the dinner hour when the guests were served at the various cafes, cafeterias and restaurants, they were serenaded with guitar duets given by Misses Josephine and Glenore Fisk.

Further entertainment was provided at the local chapter hall in the form of a musical program and an address given by Judge Guy Rogers. Punch was served to the delegates before they left the city en route to Amarillo where the 41 annual convention of the Order of the Eastern Star is now in session.

The delegates from Faith Chapter, U. D. include Mr. and Mrs. Aca Vermillion, and Mesdames H. J. Newman, W. E. Rutledge, and W. E. Bishop. Those representing Chapter 237 include Mr. E. V. Friburg, Estelle Karrenbrock and W. T. Milliro. Faith Chapter expects that the charter to the organization will be granted at this meeting.

CENTURY FINDS MANY WRITERS

Editor Took Delight in Reading All Mss. Sent In

There is some comfort for the beginner in literature in the reminiscenses of L. Frank Tooker, for 28 years one of the editors of The Century Magazine. They are now running serially in the magazine.

"The Century early gained the reputation of being peculiarly hospitable to unknown writers and of having been happy in its discoveries," he writes in the November issue, in the course of an article that discusses with charming candor an editor's problems. "The tradition," he states "is still cherished in its editorial rooms."

"Dry rot," Mr. Tooker continues, "will surely come to the magazine that is edited by its check-book or that pays too great a heed to the writers who have gained their reputation elsewhere. To be known as hospitable to newcomers and to have a keen eye for unpublished talent are still great assets of success."

The editor's references to the bales of manuscripts through which he has labored are especially interesting. "Year after year," he reports with just a tinge of weariness, "I read nearly every manuscript that came to the office and sifted the wheat from the chaff."

"I early came to know all the traps that authors who suspect that their offerings are not read set to catch unwary editors and at first took a boyish delight in placing my marx upon the discovered devices, ringing with a blue pencil the bits of paste that had held the edges of two pages together, or lightly pasting down the threads that would be found between other pages.

"It seemed to me then highly humorous."
