South Texan Is Killed By Lightning

By The Associated Press

Lightning killed a farmer near Floresville while tornado funnels whirled overhead and drought-checking rain moistened other South Texas areas late Tuesday.

Searing summer heat eased off several degrees over the state.

A few light showers fell early Wednesday in the Pahnandle. Skies were clear to only partly cloudy elsewhere.

Lorenzo Marin, 63, had sought shelter from a thundershower under a tree just before lightning killed him on a farm two miles north of Floresville.

The shower brought .53 inch of rain at Floresville, first in 53 days.

State police reported one in a small flock of twisters over South Texas dived into a cotton field in Bluntzer, 10 miles north of Robstown.

Two funnel clouds appeared near Beeville, another close to Mathis and several in the Corpus Christi vicinity, but none touched.

Lightning was blamed for two range fires near Junction. Firefighters from Junction, Menard and Rocksprings battled one blaze, which had blackened a strip more than a mile long. Bulldozers controled the other fire.

A trace of moisture at Pearsall, between Laredo and San Antonio, provided the first rain in nearly three months.

Showers fell at a number of places in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Rain in the Panhandle measured up to .42 inch at Amarillo.

Long strings of rainless days in other sections, mainly in Central Texas, grew steadily longer.

Jacqueline's Villa Shaken

By DOMENICO GIORDANO

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — New earth tremors spread panic in southern Italy early today after a severe earthquake Tuesday night that took about 11 lives and injured at least 100.

No foreigners were reported among the dead and injured.

The earth shocks left a trail of damage from this port city to the Adriatic coast. Some of the deaths were attributed to heart attacks from fright. Many of the injured were hurt in panicky flights from swaying homes and buildings.

Jacqueline Kennedy's cliffside vacation villa at Ravello is only 41 miles southwest of the apparent epicenter of the worst quake. Only slight tremors were felt there and Mrs. Kennedy's 4-year-old daughter Caroline and the rest of the household remained calm, servants said.

The American First Lady was visiting in the garden of another villa across town. Only a slight tremor was felt there.

Premier Amintore Fanfani flew here today to help officials speed relief.

Thousands of frightened Italians spent the night in the open. New shocks at 4:10 a.m. and 7:11 a.m. followed Tuesday night's major quake at 7:30 p.m.

This Neapolitan city kept its public parks open for refugees. Police estimated a third of the 1,500,000 residents spent the night in the open.

Several bridges were wrecked, telephone lines knocked down, water and power systems in many communities cut off. Police patrolled glass-littered streets of stricken towns against looters.

Geologic disasters—earthquakes and volcanic eruptions—are not new in this area around Vesuvius, the volcano that buried the city of Pompei 1,900 years ago.

The worst shocks struck in an area between two cities that have felt disastrous quakes in the 20th century—Avezzano where 30,000 persons were killed in 1915, and Messina where 75,000 perished in 1908.

A Neapolitan woman was struck by a falling cornice stone and killed. Two other Neapolitans died of heart attacks. Single deaths were reported at Molinara, Salerno and Avellino. Naples hospitals admitted 60 injured.

The top floor of a hospital collapsed at Passo Eclano, 40 miles east of Naples and near the quake's center. Several patients were reported injured.

Homes and buildings collapsed in at least half a dozen communities east of Naples. Windows were shattered in Naples and walls cracked. A railroad bridge collapsed at Bari, on the Adriatic Coast.

Avellino, a town of 37,000, 30 miles east of Naples, was especially hard hit. The quake knocked out the town's water supply and communications. Buildings lay in ruins.

Church bells chimed wildly throughout the countryside as the ground rocked across the peninsula to the Adriatic.

A mild quake preceded the main half-minute shock by 11 minutes and drove many of Naples' 1.5 million residents into the streets. When the heavy quake came, tens of thousands fled toward the Bay of Naples and open areas in the hills outside the city.

Highway Bids Are Opened

Bids have tabulated by the Texas Highway Department for construction work on another segment of U. S. Highway 84 in Scurry County.

Opened Tuesday were bids for grades and structures on 6.3 miles from Snyder northwestward.

Submitting the low bid were M. E. Ruby, San Marcos, and Acme Bridge Co., Austin. They submitted a proposal of $635,378.

The section of U. S. 84 involved in the latest bidding will extend the present construction to a point about six miles northwest of town.

Johnson Is Off On Fence-Mending Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy starts Vice President Lyndon Johnson off today on a goodwill and fence-mending tour of six nations in southern Europe and the Middle East.

After a final word with Kennedy at the White House, Johnson, his wife and a party of 25 will be ferried by helicopters to Andrews AFB and their plane.

Johnson will visit Greece, Iran, Italy, Cyprus, Lebanon and Turkey.

Major Defeat Of Viet Cong Is Claimed

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —South Vietnamese troops today claimed 166 Red guerrillas were killed and 25 captured in their offensive to break the back of the Communist force in the Mekong River delta.

A communique claimed a major victory in what appeared the biggest battle of the civil war so far. A Viet Cong company commander was reported killed and a Red battalion dispersed in the fighting 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

Military sources said the government's 1st Airborne Battalion encountered a large concentration of Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday night a few miles south of the operation's command post at Bac Lieu, in southern Ba Xuyen Province.

An estimated 300 guerrillas ambushed the government battalion after U.S. Marine helicopters had ferried the South Vietnamese troops into the area. The paratroops fought their way out of the ambush and chased the fleeing guerrillas through the flooded rice fields.

Government troops counted 54 dead guerrillas. The Vietnamese air force claimed its follow-up strafing attacks on the fleeing guerrillas killed 80 more Reds. American sources could not confirm the government claims.

Government casualties totaled six killed and 14 wounded.

Government forces also captured a small store of Communist arms and fuel in the clash, the first time South Vietnamese troops have met a sizable Red force since they opened "Operation Big Pacification" last week.

The first phase of the drive to clean out or scatter the heavy Viet Cong concentrations controlling most of Viet Nam's southern tip ended last weekend in disappointment for its American planners.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam and Thailand, and his high command had worked on the planning for three months and were highly optimistic when it got under way. But for four days, 4,000 government troops backed by fighter planes, U.S. helicopters and navy units pushed through Ca Mau peninsula at the tip of Viet Nam without making contact with any Viet Cong concentrations.

The estimated 2,000 guerrillas in the region melted into the thick mangrove swamps. American sources reported the drive netted only 60 Viet Cong dead.

The operation's second phase opened Tuesday as the government force turned northward to the river delta in Ba Xuyen Province, believed infiltrated by some 1,600 Red guerrillas in recent weeks.

Professor Is Slain

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — Dr. Harris Livingston Russell, 54, a Sam Houston State College professor, was beaten to death today with an iron bar from a weight lifting set.

Sheriff Floyd Farris filed a charge of murder against Harold Russell, 19, a son of the professor and a student at the college's summer school.

Farris said the youth signed a written statement.

The father and son resided at the college's country campus, a former air force base northeast of Huntsville.

Russell had taught here six years. He previously taught foreign languages nine years at the University of Texas.

Farris said the son had been attending the University of Texas and planned to return there after the Sam Houston summer session.

Churchill Enjoys His Return Home

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill awakened refreshed and happy in his Hyde Park gate home today following his return from Middlesex Hospital.

"He had a good night," said a spokesman. "He seems well and happy this morning."

The 87-year-old warrior spent 54 days in the hospital after he fractured his left thigh in a fall in Monte Carlo. He went home Tuesday.

Soviet Cars Are Delayed

BERLIN (AP) —U.S. Military Police held up three Soviet armored cars for 45 minutes today at the border on the sixth day of rising tension in this front line city of the cold war.

A U.S. spokesman on the spot said they were refused entry but went through anyhow. Informants said the Russians were barred because of Soviet rejection of an escort.

When the Soviets first arrived at the checkpoint, an American jeep pulled out in front of them, blocking their way. When an American Army sedan got into position to escort the armored cars, the jeep pulled back into a courtyard.

At first, the Russians refused to get out of their olive drab cars, marked with the red star. Then two Soviet officers emerged and talked with a U.S. major.

A U.S. Army sedan trailed the Soviet convoy to the Soviet war memorial in the British sector.

The Russians returned about 45 minutes later and were quickly waved through the checkpoint into East Berlin.

The Russians have repeatedly rejected escorts while traveling in West Berlin despite the stoning by West Berlin demonstrators. They switched from buses to armored cars.

Earlier, East German border guards and West Berlin police fought with rocks and tear gas grenades across the Communist wall.

West police said the new clash erupted when the Red guards opened up with a rock barrage. They were driven back with tear gas grenades. No injuries were reported on either side.

The flareup came near Bernauer Strasse, scene of many daring escapes since the Communists built the barrier dividing the city.

During the night, West police rounded up 126 persons for identity checks in a hunt for Communist agents. The Western commandants have charged Red agents were fanning the demonstrations in West Berlin. All were released.

Heavy rains cleared the streets of West Berlin demonstrators during the night.

The Soviet war memorial sentries—stoned for three nights in a row—went to their posts in armored cars Tuesday night.

Showing no arms, the three Soviet armored cars and a Soviet staff car made the trip from Checkpoint Charlie to the Soviet War Memorial two miles away and back without incident.

American military police and West Berlin motorcycle policemen tailed the Soviet convoy while it was in West Berlin.

The Soviet switch from buses to less comfortable but safer armored vehicles came a night after a Russian soldier was bloodied in a bus stoning during the most violent outburst in West Berlin since the Communists began building their wall through the divided city a year ago.

"We have no objection to the Soviets coming in this kind of vehicle as long as they don't show arms," a U.S. spokesman said.

The Soviet sentries entered West Berlin more than four hours later than usual, possibly to try to avoid a Western escort. The Soviets refused escorts for their buses Sunday and Monday when they were stoned by West Berliners.

A Western spokesman said the Russians even threatened not to move a bus into West Berlin unless assured there would be no Allied escort and no West Berlin police patrols. The spokesman said the Russians' "obvious aim has been to embarrass the Allies and the West Berliners."

The U.S. Army stationed an ambulance staffed by three American soldiers at Checkpoint Charlie with orders to go to the aid of refugees wounded on the East Berlin side of the wall if it appears the Communists will not render aid.

Allied commandants in West Berlin stressed that the ambulance team will not help East Germans flee to the West.

U.S. officials in Washington hope there will be no occasion to dispatch the ambulance through the wall, but the officials are considering undisclosed countermeasures should the Communists keep the ambulance from entering East Berlin.

The Allied commandants in Berlin also spoke of other steps to halt violence at the Communist wall but did not disclose them.

Stationing the ambulance was an obvious Allied effort to placate West Berliners angered by the shooting Friday by East German border guards of a young refugee trying to scale the Red wall. The youth fell back into East Berlin territory and East German guards left him there to bleed to death while West Berlin police and American troops looked on from the West.

Hearing On Impact Case Set Oct. 31

AUSTIN (AP)—Supreme Court officials said today that a hearing will be held Oct. 31 on an attempt to clear the way for issuance of the first liquor store permit for Impact, an Abilene suburb.

Impact residents voted wet almost two years ago. Abilene has been dry for many years.

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and Abilene lawer Davis Scarborough asked permission Tuesday to request a court order (mandamus) against Dist. Judge C. V. Milburn of Odessa, members of the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals and the Liquor Control Board. The request was made in the name of CCH Inc., which has applied for a package store permit in Impact.

A long legal battle has been waged over Impact's incorporation.

The effect of today's state supreme court order is to freeze all action, both in Milburn's court on the package permit appeal and in the Eastland court on the incorporation appeal, until the Supreme Court hears arguments and decides if it should enter the legal battle again.

Claims Testimony Is Contradictory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., today charged former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and his associates in a multimillion-dollar stockpile nickel deal with deliberate misrepresentations and contradictory testimony.

With the explosive stockpiling hearings of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in temporary recess, Engle, a member of the group, carried the dispute to the Senate floor.

The California Democrat, in a prepared Senate speech of more than 10,000 words, cited numerous passages from Humphrey's testimony and records to backstop his charges.

Engle contended that the records established that Humphrey and the Hanna mining complex he formerly headed engaged in deliberate misrepresentations to overcharge the government on both nickel for the stockpile and costs of operating a government smelter.

He said the Humphrey family, through a 14 per cent ownership of Hanna stock, had made total windfalls and profits of $4,089,321 from the nickel contracts.

And, he questioned Humphrey's testimony denying earlier sworn testimony by a government auditor that certain Hanna records needed by the Senate inquiry had been destroyed.

"Now somebody is not telling the truth," Engle said. "I would draw no conclusion on this matter now, but this question will be resolved in one way or another—and we will find out just who is lying—when hearings on this matter are resumed."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chairman of the investigation committee refused to hear additional testimony by Humphrey and associates last Friday and accused Humphrey of impugning the motives of the Senate and its investigating group.

After suddenly recessing the hearing over protests of Humphrey and Republican members of the subcommittee, Symington underwent a hernia operation last Saturday. Aides said he is making a good recovery in a hospital here.

Orr Says He Wrote Checks In Estes Subterfuge Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Orr testified today he wrote checks for $25,000 and $510 last February to help Billie Sol Estes engineer a subterfuge to obtain cotton acreage allotments from the government.

Orr, president of the Superior Manufacturing Co., told the story at a hearing before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Orr is awaiting sentence in Texas now on charges of interstate transportation of fraudulent securities. Estes, indicted with Orr and others in that case, has pleaded innocent.

The Senate subcommittee is concerned primarily with determing whether anyone in government aided Estes' operations under federal farm programs.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Donald F. O'Donnell, the subcommittee's chief counsel, pictured the deals described by Orr as desperate efforts by Estes to wrap a cloak of legality around his disputed juggling of cotton acreage planting allotments.

Orr swore he could not recall whether anyone in the Estes camp had told him the check-writing deal—in which the $25,000 check disappeared with no cost to him—was designed as a test case for a scheme to bring apparent third parties into Estes' allotment deals and thus throw federal investigators off the track.

Orr testified that as a favor to Estes he wrote the two checks—both payable to Conway Majors, one of the farmers whose cotton planting allotments Estes is alleged to have illegally purchased with lease-back arrangements.

John C. Bagwell, general counsel in the Agriculture Department, has testified that he advised Secretary Orville L. Freeman last April 11 that bringing third parties into deals similar to Estes' case would be legally supportable.

Bagwell said Freeman vetoed the idea and ordered a crackdown on Estes in which the Pecos, Tex., manipulator's disputed allotments were canceled and he was assessed civil fines totaling $554,000 as a consequence.

Bagwell said Undersecretary Charles S. Murphy, rather than Freeman, was the official who really ran the cotton program.

Snyder Student Heads Home Following Summer In Italy

A little bit of Texas is being left in Cremona, Italy, this week, just as a little bit of Italy is being brought to Snyder as Tommy Shelburne, Snyder senior high school student, begins his trip home. Tommy planned to leave Cremona on Aug. 17, and, along with all other AFS students in Italy, visit in Milan for a couple of days before going to Rotterdam to begin his homeward trip. He should arrive in Snyder around Sept. 1.

Tommy has written that he plans to share all of his experiences with the local AFS chapter, his fellow students in the Snyder schools, and other interested citizens. He is most enthusiastic about his trip and grateful for the privilege of spending this summer in Italy.

Recently, Tommy took a bus trip with the Cremona Youth Council, an organization made up of representatives of the youth organizations of the various Cremona political parties, i.e.: Communists, Fascists, Socialists, Liberals, and even Christian Democrats! Like all young people everywhere, these teen-agers found a way to communicate—they sang almost all the way on their trip. Tommy wrote that he sang "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You" for them. With his host family, Tommy has toured a steel mill, gone on a trip to the mountains, and visited Venice—among many other interesting things.

Mrs. M. H. Roe, Snyder AFS president, has announced that Mrs. H. C. Lowry has been appointed to schedule speaking appointments for Tommy and for Marta Burity, foreign exchange student from Brazil, who will arrive in Snyder on Aug. 28. Both students will be happy to visit clubs, church groups and school groups as time permits and as they are able.

However, Mrs. Roe pointed out that, according to AFS rules, Marta may visit organizations, but she will be unable to appear on programs as a speaker until after the first of the year.

Mrs. Roe also pointed out that the success of the Foreign Exchange Student program and the Americans Abroad Program in Snyder is dependent upon the continued cooperation of Snyder citizens. Contributions from both groups and individuals are welcomed and are particularly needed at this time. They may be given or sent to Joe Cargile, West Texas State Bank who is treasurer of the local AFS Chapter.

Orbital Adventure Requires Stamina

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Confident smiles to the contrary, it costs in terms of stress and wear and tear to make the kind of orbital adventures U.S. and Soviet astronauts are making.

There are tell-tale signs of stress but few of them are advertised or talked about openly.

U.S. space experts have detailed information about the medical performance of their astronauts. Little is known of the physiological reaction of Soviet astronauts to the rigors of space flight.

One critical sign of stress can be associated with weight loss, more specifically loss of large amounts of water.

Indications of this came from Tuesday's conference reviewing the technical details of Malcolm Scott Carpenter's flight May 24. It was the second orbital flight in a U.S. spacecraft.

Carpenter, a 154-pounder at flight time, dropped six pounds by the time he weighed in aboard the recovery ships 15 hours later.

Most people lose some weight in the course of a strenuous day. But there are indications water loss can be caused by hormonal activity—more specifically activity of adrenal gland hormones, believed to be indicators of stress.

The adrenal gland produces a variety of hormones, and some of them have been shown to be aids in the body's reaction to stress. Meeting a sudden challenge, adrenalin is released into the bloodstream and keeps alert every muscle. Other adrenal hormones regulate other body systems, including the release or retention of water, perhaps in response to other kinds of stress.

U.S. space doctors are concerned with how much water to permit astronauts to drink before and during spaceflight. The problem is keeping a proper water balance in the body. John H. Glenn Jr., on the first U.S. orbital flight, became slightly dehydrated. His water intake was limited, but his water loss was termed normal.

Carpenter lost about three times as much water as Glenn lost during a similar experience, indicating there may be broad personal differences. This is what flight physicians want to explore more fully. It could bear strongly on flights of long duration.

At a news conference Carpenter said he and his fellow astronauts are challenged rather than discouraged by the twin orbital flight by two Soviet cosmonauts.

Dr. R. Robert Gilruth, director of the manned space center here, said the Soviet flights should neither be underestimated nor overestimated.

Gilruth said he would not want to pinpoint the number of remaining flights to be carried out prior to Project Gemini, which will use a two-man spacecraft.

"I would say there will be at least one six-orbital flight and at least one 24-hour flight," he said.

The six-orbit shot is planned for September.

Slanted Well Tests Endure

AUSTIN (AP)—Testing for illegally slanted oil wells went on today in three East Texas fields.

Survey crews checked wells in the Quitman Field, newest area in the state investigation of underground oil theft; the East Texas Field, where 117 crooked holes have been found; and the Hawking Field, where 9 wells were found deviated.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's office said the state have severed pipeline connections of 525 wells in the East Texas field and 13 in the Hawkins Field.

The severance action cuts off from the market about 9,311 barrels of oil daily.

Wilson's office received a $10,000 contribution from Texaco, boosting to $284,275 the total donated for well tests.

Eighty-seven persons are expected to testify at a hearing in Dallas Monday by the House General Investigating committee, which also is studying well drilling practices.

Trunk Yields Second Body In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A steamer trunk has yielded a second body from under the cement floor of a garage in San Francisco's Ingleside district.

Police, who unearthed the trunk Tuesday night, said they assumed the decomposed body is that of Mildred Arneson, 58, wife of 70-year-old Jay Arneson, whose body was found about 12 feet away Monday night.

The bodies were found under two recently laid layers of cement flooring of the home of a couple police say took over the Arneson's Santa Rosa, Calif., motel after their disappearance.

Mrs. Arneson and her husband were divorced but she continued to care for him because he was an invalid.

Arneson, a World War I Army major, had been buried under the concrete in the garage of the modest frame house. Police said he had been strangled with a black belt still around his neck. They said they had not yet determined the cause of the woman's death.

Investigators arrested the owner of the house, Ralph Kroeger, 61, a hod carrier, and issued a warrant for the arrest of Kroeger's wife, Iva, 44.

Chief of Inspectors Dan McKlem said Kroeger also denied knowing the whereabouts of his wife. FBI agents said she had been seen nearby last Friday in the company of a boy, possibly her grandson.

Discovery of Arneson's body and the subsequent unearthing of the trunk climaxed a long police search for the Arnesons. Mrs. Arneson disappeared last December after telling friends she would sell the Arnesons' Santa Rosa motel and go to Brazil. Arneson dropped from sight in January.

Ex-Demo Leaders To Back Cox

HOUSTON (AP)—Wright Morrow, former national Democratic Committeeman, said today he and former Gov. Coke Stevenson will head a statewide Advisory Committee of Democrats in the campaign of Republican Jack Cox for governor.

Morrow, a Houston lawyer who supported Republicans in the last three presidential elections, said this is the first time he has backed a Republican for a state office.

"Connally can't be himself in this race," Morrow said. "He is just a satellite of Lyndon Johnson."

John Connally of Fort Worth, former secretary of the Navy, is the Democratic nominee for governor.

Morrow said he sent telegrams Aug. 16 to 100 conservative Democrats asking them to assist himself and Stevenson in forming the statewide committee.

He said response has been very gratifying. He made public a list of 84 persons he said had accepted.

The telegram said:

"Jack Cox stands for the fundamental Democratic ideals, including opposition to federal control of state and local government, freedom of choice, liberty of individual and the sovereignty of states, constitutioanl limitations power—all involved in this election."

Scientists View Heat And Wheat

By The Associated Press

Scientists cite progress in conversion of heat and wheat, and they work on a nuclear reactor monitor for use in space:

Electricity From Heat

Scientists say the thermionic generator, which converts heat directly into electricity, will become increasingly important on earth as well as in space.

Its fuel can be the intense heat inside a nuclear reactor or focused rays of the sun.

Dr. Robert W. Pidd of General Atomics Division, General Dynamics Corp., predicts the first important use of the generators will come from teaming thermionic cells with nuclear-powered plants generating electricity. They will produce current from temperatures ranging from 3,000 to 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit and boost plant efficiency by as much as one-third.

Later, nuclear-powered thermionic units may provide electricity for space vehicles and ocean vessels.

Thermionic converters work much like the familiar radio tube. Electrons boil off a heated element in a vacuum or in ionized vapor, are caught by a colder element and emerge as electric current.

A drawback with experimental ones has been a discouragingly short life, often less than 100 hours. But scientists and engineers at an energy conversion conference in San Francisco last week heard reports of three still going strong after 4,339 hours, 3,254 hours and 3,668 hours, respectively.

New Foods From Wheat

Wheat chips, wheat toffee and a chicken pilaf made with wheat instead of rice have been whipped up by food scientists at Stanford Research Institute.

They are seeking ways to boost consumption of wheat.

The average American, with 10 per cent more food available than he had 50 years ago, eats 250 calories less per day. He makes more money and buys more meat, fresh produce, luxury and convenience foods, less of the staples like wheat products and beans.

Institute scientists say they've developed a chemical treatment for wheat that makes it a practical substitute for rice in various dishes.

In the chicken pilaf it tasted remarkably like wild rice, they found. Wild rice is much more expensive.

The wheat chips and toffee have also won tasters' enthusiastic approval and more new foods from wheat are on the way.

The researchers say their wheat treatment process is simple and cheap. But they are not prepared to disclose it yet.

Space Eye on Nuclear Reactors

When the United States rockets its first nuclear reactor into outer space, close tabs will be kept on the reactor operation. A monitoring system is being designed and built at a General Electric plant in San Jose, Calif.

Readings on radiation from the reactor—now being developed to provide 500 watts of electric power for satellite instrumentation—will be transmitted to ground stations. The information will be used for further development of nuclear power systems for space.

Gang Linked To Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—A machine gun gang which held up a Lynn bank last spring and shot it out with police while escaping was linked today with the highwaymen who grabbed a record $1.5 million from a U.S. mail truck last week.

State police Capt. Michael J. Cullinane said Tuesday night he noticed a strong facial resemblance between composite pictures of two mail robbery suspects and descriptions of two of three men who fled the Essex Trust Co. branch in West Lynn last March 30 with $28,500.

In the West Lynn holdup, two masked bandits held 14 customers and 10 clerks at bay with a machine gun and a pistol and escaped in a car driven by a third man.

The composites of the two mail robber suspects are known as "Buster" and "Tony." Their faces were pieced together from information supplied by the driver and guard in the hijacked mail van.

The Boston Herald said today that a former contract driver for the Post Office was picked up on Cape Cod Tuesday night, brought to Boston and questioned for several hours by the FBI and postal authorities.

Delaware State, with fewer than 345 students, is the smallest land grant college.

Picture With Elusive Plot Is Top Conversation Item

BY INEZ ROBB

The surest way to get a party off the pad and conversation into orbit this season is to ask, "And how did you like 'Last Summer at Marienbad'?"

There hasn't been a conversational pepper-upper like this surrealist (well, that's the easy if not exact way to describe it) film since the flood (Johnstown). It is a picture that makes the controversial play of a few seasons ago, "Waiting for Godot," seem as simple, straightforward and nonsymbolic as "Cinderella."

As far as its meaning is concerned, "Last Summer at Marienbad" is a real do-it-yourselfer. Your guess is as good as mine and may be a whole lot better. It's every man for himself.

Once the question has been asked, the first man to get the floor is almost invariably the guest who asks: "Did you hear about the con in the French court who is charged with grand larceny? He and his witnesses all testified that the accused had been at the cinema seeing 'Last Summer at Marinbad' when the crime was committed.

"So the judge, to test the man's credibility, asked him to tell the plot of the picture. When the accused finished, the judge said: 'Ten years! Your'e guilty as hell.' "

At this point another man, usually my husband, mutters, "I'd have given him 20 years and indicted the producer."

"Well, I like it!" some woman is certain to say. "I had a dreamy feeling that it was made under water."

"Then why didn't they get Esther Williams?" another guest is bound to ask, and a third party, usually my husband, adds: "And a shark, too?"

"You'll have to admit the sets are gorgeous," a guest is guaranteed to declare. "I never saw anything so sumptuous as that old baroque palace turned hotel. But I never could understand why the Other Man, who is eternally trying to talk that limp-faced heroine into deserting her husband, was always knocking the place. What do you suppose he was griping about—the food or the service? I wish he had come right out and said."

Now, my theory of the central problem from which the whole film develops is that the heroine is suffering from foot trouble. A spectator can hardly ignore the fact she seldom wears more than one shoe at a time and is always carrying one slipper while she hobbles long with one shoe on and one shoe off.

Not until the second half of the film was my theory confirmed in a big, climactic scene in the heroine's bedroom. There she sits, silent and alone, the floor around her heaped with dozens of pairs of slippers, all with sharp, needle-pointed toes. That explains everything.

Why, that poor girl's feet are killing her! And it is my further hunch that the man who is trying to sweet-talk her into running away with him is, in fact, not the worldling he looks but a good-hearted chiropodist who just wants to help her.

However, my theory met opposition at a party a few nights ago. Another guest, a distinguished orthopedist, said: "Nonsense! That girls' trouble is lumbar, not metatarsal. Remember that funny, sway-back walk of hers? It's her back, not her feet, that are killing her, and that man who's always following her about is a chiropractor!"

"You're wrong!" declared the gentelman who remembers the days of the nickelodeon. "Believe me, he's a white slaver!"

And any number can play.

Managing Federal Debt Is Big Job

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—In a year marked by disappointments that some phases of the economy fell short of expected heights the U.S. debt is an exception. Just as billed, it has risen above $300 billion for the first time.

Managing this huge debt is a collosal task in itself, since it changes from day to day, with some part almost always about to mature, and since it influences interest rates and financing of many other forms of debt, from state and local governments to corporate, mortgage and personal debt.

And even the proper distribution of the federal debt among various types of investors—banks, corporations, institutions, individuals—can be a problem, changing as the business cycle does.

The federal debt is expected to go on rising for a time, perhaps reaching a peak in midwinter then drop as the Treasury's seasonal flow of tax collections increases.

Beyond that is the possibility of even higher peaks for the debt—if tax rates are cut next year as now proposed, and if government expenditures should rise notably to combat a recession which some economists think probable in 1963. Other contingencies, which the Treasury must always keep in mind, are sudden international events which could increase expenditures for defense or for the race in space.

Already the Treasury spends more than $9 billion a year for interest on the debt. It has a very practical concern with the trend of interest rates.

The prospect is bleak enough to the traditional American way of thinking which labels debt as wrong and balanced budgets as a fixed goal. Individual experience is that personal budgets long out of balance lead to disaster.

But there is a new school of thinking, growing more articulate, which holds that a $300-billion government debt isn't as bad as it seems to some, and that balanced budgets under some conditions are harmful.

This school compares the $300-billion debt not with past levels of indebtedness but with the national income and with total national assets. This way the debt shows a smaller percentage now than in some past eras. It is smaller per capita than in the previous debt peak at the end of World War II because the debt has grown at a slower rate than the population.

In other words, these economists hold that we can afford a $300-billion federal debt.

But the immediate problem for the Treasury is this: It must keep eternally at paying it off, even when it is going further into debt.

At the individual's level this shows up in the sale and redemption of U.S. savings bonds. These activities go on constantly, with the ratio between them changing from month to month—and thus affecting the size of the total federal debt.

Each week the Treasury must also pay off more than a billion dollars worth of short-term bills coming due. It does this by offering new ones, and as often as not offers more new ones than old ones, thus raising new money—and the total debt.

Also longer-term notes and bonds mature at frequent intervals and must be paid. Here also the Treasury usually offers to swap new ones for old—and sometimes raises a little more money to boot.

That's how the debt grows. And the changes in interest rates paid each time, the types of offerings—long- or short-term—and the type of investor to whom they appeal all affect the economy by touching its very sensitive nerve: the money market.

Junior Editors Quiz on FISH

QUESTION: Why do fish swim in schools?

ANSWER: Scientists find that in the case of fish which travel in schools, schooling begins when the tiny fish, or "fry," are very small. If one fry sees the tail of another in front of him, he lines up with it. Soon others join and schools are formed. Many fish live in such schools for the rest of their lives. Fish which travel in schools are the most successful at staying alive. Some of the best known are the herring, the mullet and the mackerel. Several advantages of schooling have been suggested. As seen in the circle, a big school of fish from a distance looks something like a sea monster and this may scare away enemies. But the most important reason for schooling seems to be that general movement of water made by a school enables the fish to swim more easily and rapidly, so doing a better job of escaping from their enemies. The fish may know this instinctively.

Quarterback Club In First Session

Jack Hoffman was elected and installed as the 1962 Snyder Quarterback Club president in the organization's seasonal kick-off session held in the high school cafeteria last night. He succeeds Joe Williamson to the post.

Other officers named included Ed Schulz, vice-president; Wacil McNair, treasurer; Roy Meador, secretary; Dr. B. J. Weaver and Jim Kincaid, three-year directors; and James Wall and Vestal Boothe, two-year directors. Among that group, Meador is the only holdover officer, being named to continue in his secretarial position.

The first item to come before the new administration had to do with the watermelon feast, which is given annually for all the football players in the Snyder System—from the seventh grade on up through high school. It will be held this Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Towle Park Pavilion.

Boothe was chosen to be chairman in charge of the feast. His assistants in the project are Virgil Walton and Freddy Bullard.

Tiger head coach Horrace Bostick addressed the group as a highlight of the meeting, giving a thumbnail sketch of each gridder currently being carried on the roster during this, the first week of workouts. He stressed that the team is short on weight, has only "average" speed both in the line and backfield at present, but has the most determination and desire of any Tiger outfit in several years.

Bostick also announced and introduced his staff of coaches. His varsity assistants are V. V. Shearburn and Jim Stehley, while heading up the "B" team are Bill Hartsfield and Roy Carter.

Travis 9th will have Wayne Tyrone and Speedy Moffett at the helm; Travis 8th has Charley Sparks and Hal Holladay; and Travis 7th Larry Roberts. For Lamar Junior High, Ace Amos will coach the 9th, Ned Underwood and Tommy Echols the 8th, and Bob O'Day and Dub Holt the 7th.

Echols and Roberts are the two newcomers to the local coaching setup.

The Tigers have a pair of practice scrimmages lined up prior to the start of the season on September 14. The first will be in Seminole August 31, and the other here in Snyder against Midland the weekend following.

The final item of business on the club agenda for the evening served to touch off the membership drive. A large group of men signed up at that time, and the membership doors will remain open to all interested men within the area who desire to join the organization.

Hayward TKO Victim

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Ramondo Torres, seventh-ranked junior welterweight from Reynosa, Mexico, beat Art Hayward of Port Arthur on a technical knockout in the ninth round Tuesday night. It was Torres' 50th victory in 53 fights.

Dolan To Be Honored In Weekend Race

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Trials for one of the richest horse racing stakes on record—the $250,000-estimated All-American Quarter Horse Futurity—and finals of the $19,550 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Derby promise to stir up the most commotion of the meeting here this weekend.

Honor of inaugurating one of the biggest three days of racing this summer will fall to a pair of well-matched thoroughbred fields Friday honoring journalist George Dolan, famed "This Is West Texas" columnist of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and the fine television coverage of Roswell's Station KSWS.

Both at six and one-half furlongs, the "George Dolan" figures to find Mrs. Carl Craig's Butch's Charm, close-up to good ones in Sunday's "Cree Meadows" purse, a probable post-time favorite over such other good 3-year-olds as Doctor Phillips, Emma W., Bluff Me, Rare Deal, Twincup, Gay Al, Lawdy Boss and Fair Macy.

In the "KSWS," Floyd Jones' Head Charge, somewhat overmatched last Saturday after a most auspicious debut the previous weekend, may get the punters' nod over hard-knockers like Patsy O'Sullivan, War Sahu, Catch Rope, Itsnotrouble and Katy's Khal.

Dupas Drops Dallas Boxer

BEAUMONT (AP)—Ralph Dupas, the high ranking welterweight from New Orleans, was solidly on the comeback trail today toward another shot at the title.

Dupas lost to champion Emile Griffith last month at Las Vegas. He started on the way back Tuesday night as he outclassed Henry Watson of Dallas in 10 rounds. Dupas won a unanimous decision before a capacity crowd of 1,300.

Dupas said he wants to fight at least every three weeks and hopes for another shot at Griffith later this year.

Weighing 146, Dupas had an easy time against the natural lightweight Watson, who had built himself up to 143 for the fight.

Randall Beats Odds

HOUSTON (AP)—Rip Randall, 145, of Tyler used a stinging right hook to the body to beat favored Guy Sumlin, 149, of Mobile, Ala., in a matching of ranking welterweights Tuesday night. Randall won a unanimous decision.

Tom Brown of Maryland led the Atlantic Coast Conference in hitting last spring with a .449 average. Roger Coon of Wake Forest led in hits with 40.

Workouts And Physicals Set In Jr. Highs

Coach Ace Amos announces that all Lamar Junior High gridders in the three grades are to report to the school's gym tomorrow morning at 9:30 for the purpose of being issued equipment and starting light workouts.

Physical examinations for all junior high footballers within the city are also scheduled soon. The Lamar boys will be given theirs at 9 o'clock Monday morning, while Travis is to follow up at the same hour on Tuesday with theirs.

Boys taking the physicals have been asked to report in to their respective gyms on the mornings designated, from where they will be transported by bus to the clinic.

Oakies Upset Texans, 7-6, In Oil Bowl

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Dwight Johnson of Norman kicked the extra point after Oklahoma's touchdown and it meant a 7-6 victory over Texas in the Oil Bowl football game Tuesday night.

Texas dominated the game in everything except the score, running up 290 yards in total offense and holding Oklahoma to 77.

But Mickey Upton of Stillwater dashed 16 yards for a touchdown and Johnson kicked the extra point in the second period. That made Oklahoma the winner in three of the last five meetings. It was the second in a row for the Sooners.

Texas came storming back to drive 75 yards for a touchdown, scored by Wayne Bell of Bayfown with a 3-yard smash, but an attempt to run over a two-point conversion was halted by a battling Oklahoma line.

The deepest penetration Texas could make after that was to the Oklahoma 11-yard line with four minutes left, and the Sooners held for downs. Texas later regained the ball but Bill Pennington of Duncan intercepted a pass at midfield to wipe out the last chance.

Bell was named outstanding back of the game. Alonzo Edwards of Tulsa was picked as outstanding lineman.

It's Back To Tech For Agan

LUBBOCK (AP)—Johnny Agan, the Albany all-state halfback who signed a letter of intent with Texas Tech and then said he was going to Oklahoma, has changed again.

Agan came to Tech Tuesday and agreed with Coach J.T. King that he would enroll in the fall.

Edwin Hall, Eden guard, and Agan both had signed with Tech when they announced, while being given summer employment by a friend of Oklahoma, that they were changing schools.

King said over the weekend he received a telephone call from Agan's father asking if the boy could see the coach about enrolling at Tech.

"Johnny, financing his trip himself, arrived Monday and called me to see whether a scholarship still was available," King recounted Tuesday.

"Today he came by the office, and we shook hands on our agreement for him to enroll this fall on an athletic scholarship."

Agan said he felt greatly relieved "to stick by my earlier agreement with Texas Tech. My future is in Texas and I know I can become well prepared for it in Tech."

The Southwest Conference investigated circumstances of the summer employment, Tech having claimed that the boys received higher pay than the prevailing scale. This would violate an NCAA rule.

It was denied that the boys received more than others at similar work.

The conference has not announced its findings.

Hall has made no announcement that he contemplates a change.

The Dallas News said Agan, from his home at Enid, Okla., denied a report that Oklahoma officials, wary of an NCAA study, had recommended he enroll at Texas Tech.

Osuna Rejects Offer To Turn Professional

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The newspaper Ultimas Noticias said Tuesday that Rafael Osuna, Mexico's best tennis player in years, has been offered $40,000 to turn professional.

It said the offer came from Jack Kramer and Osuna turned it down to continue with Mexico's Davis Cup team and to finish his college career.

McMurry, Louisiana Tech To Vie In Tiger Stadium

College football will be on display in Snyder's Tiger Stadium on November 17 when McMurry College of Abilene and Louisiana Tech of Pineville (La.) clash in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

The game is being brought here under the auspices of the Snyder Optimist Club.

Coaching the McMurry eleven is a familiar figure in local sports circles—Grant Teaff. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teaff of Snyder, and starred as an all-round athlete while in Snyder High School.

Tommy Ivison is the Optimist in charge of arrangements.

Yanks Storm Past LA In 10 Innings

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Rigney's disorderly stomach was doing the Mt. Vesuvius twist today to the accompaniment of 76 trombones.

That, at least, should be the state of Rigney's harassed internal system after the beating his Los Angeles Angels took from the American League leading New York Yankees Tuesday night.

The Angels' manager, just out of the hospital for treatment of a stomach disorder, watched his scrappy club tie the powerful Yankees in the ninth, then had to witness a seven-run explosion in the 10th inning that gave the front-runners an 11-4 victory.

Rigney suffered a soft jolt when Bill Skowron drove in the tie-breaker. Two severe quakes followed on run-producing hits by Tony Kubek and Clete Boyer. Roger Maris' grand-slam homer got the twist music going.

The victory in the opener of the key three-game series boosted the Yankees lead to five games over the Angels and Minnesota Twins, who moved into a tie for the runner-up spot by defeating Washington 5-2 on the combined four-hit pitching of Jack Kralick and Ray Moore.

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit belted Cleveland 10-1 while Jim Bunning hurled a four-hitter, Robin Roberts pitched Baltimore to a 9-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox and Boston walloped Kansas City 11-6.

In the National League, Cincinnati shut out the Chicago Cubs 2-0, Milwaukee edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings, Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from Houston, 5-3 and 7-4, and Pittsburgh and New York split, the Pirates winning 8-6 before the Mets came back and took the nightcap, 5-4.

A pair of bases-empty homers by Lee Thomas were the big blows as the Angels pulled out to a 3-1 lead over the Yankees after five innings. A two-run shot by Elston Howard in the sixth tied it. The Yanks moved out front in the seventh, but the Angels battled back to throw it into extra innings on a walk and singles by Billy Moran and Leon Wagner in the ninth inning. The deluge followed, making Bud Daley (6-3) the winner and former Yankee Ryne Duren (2-9) the loser.

Kralick (9-8) had the Senators blanked on two hits until the eighth inning when a two-run single by Don Lock brought on Moore. Moore struck out Jim King to end the uprising. The Twins jumped on Dave Stenhouse (10-9) in the fifth when singles by Bernie Allen and Zoilo Versalles, Kralick's sacrifice and Lenny Green's single got two runs across. Allen's run-producing single and a sacrifice fly by Versalles in the sixth put it out of reach.

Bunning (13-8) was backed by a 14-hit attack while allowing the Indians only run on a first-inning homer by Al Luplow. The Tigers moved out front in their half of the first with Dick McAuliffe's two-run single the key blow of a four-run rally. McAuliffe had four singles for the night and drove in three runs. Steve Boros homered for the Tigers as the Indians went down to their 32nd defeat in the last 44 games. Jim Perry (9-10) lost it.

Roberts (8-6) limited the White Sox to seven hits and didn't allow a run until Floyd Robinson homered in the ninth. The Orioles did their damage early against Early Wynn (6-10), who was seeking his 299th victory. Wynn forced in a run with a bases-loaded walk in the first inning, then was tagged for a grand slam by John (Boog) Powell. Roberts' triumph was his 242nd. He's third among active pitchers, behind Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Wynn.

AAWU, Big Ten Exchange Wedding Vows

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of all New Year's Day football bowl games, again has become an official family affair between the Big Ten and the Athletic Association of Western Universities.

They formally certified a continuous contract Tuesday whereby the Big Ten's "most representative" team will appear in the Pasadena classic yearly against the AAWU champion. The West Coast group is made up of Southern California, UCLA, California, Stanford, Washington and Washington State.

The "open end" pact, similar to the one the Big Ten had with the Pacific Coast Conference before its demise in 1960, requires that cancellation by either party be on such a date which would permit two more games to be played.

The Big Ten will continue to enforce its rule that no team can appear twice in succession.

New Champ Crowned

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Paul Alba of Austin is the new Texas featherweight boxing champion. Alba, 123, beat Chuck Waugh, 124, of Midland on a technical knockout in the 10th round as the two scrapped for the vacant title Tuesday night.

Comeback Is Staged By Simpson

By BOB LEERIGHT

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Former Gov. Milward L. Simpson, 65-year-old Cody attorney, staged a political comeback and won the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate in Wyoming's primary election.

His opponent, Kenny Sailors, 41, Jackson Hole dude rancher and star, conceded defeat.

In the November election, Simpson will run against Democratic Sen. Joe Hickey. Hickey was unopposed in the Democratic primary but polled 25,626 votes in returns from 572 precincts.

Simpson led Sailors 17,878 to 11,709 in returns from 473 of 662 precincts.

At stake will be the four years remaining in the term of the late Senator-elect Keith Thomson, Republican, who died a month after the 1960 election. Hickey, governor when Thomson died, appointed himself to the Senate.

Acting Gov. Jack Gage, 63, who succeeded Hickey as governor, held a lead of Will (Scotty) Jack, 70, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Returns from 572 precincts gave Gage 17,134 and Jack, 13,329.

Clifford P. Hansen, 49, Jackson rancher, won the Republican nomination for governor. Returns from 572 precincts gave Hansen 23,391 votes; Charles M. Crowell, Casper attorney, 14,122; and former Cheyenne Mayor R.H. Cheever, 3,620.

Rep. William Henry Harrison, a grandson of former President Benjamin Harrison, won the Republican nomination for a fourth term as Wyoming's only member in the U.S. House.

Lou Mankus, 39, Cheyenne attorney held the lead for the Democratic congressional nomination over former Laramie Mayor Stephen Moyle, 12,903 to 3,812.

Ex-Prisoner Has Feast

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—When Edward R. Shore Jr., came home after more than a year as a prisoner of pro-Communist forces in Laos, he feasted on mom's cooking and took a long nap.

It was a joyous homecoming Tuesday for the lanky Tennessee farm boy who spent 15 months in a thatched hut prison.

Shore, who celebrated his 30th birthday in the prison, was captured by Pathet Lao guerrillas May 15, 1961 when his helicopter was forced down behind Red lines by mechanical failure. He was released Friday.

After a three-week rest Shore will go to Washington to discuss his future with Air America, the private firm for which he was flying in Laos.

That Ninth Car Was His Downfall

LIVINGSTON, Tenn. (AP)—A teen-ager, who police said bet $50 he could steal 10 cars and not get caught, is in jail—charged with stealing nine cars.

Sheriff Alec Carr said Raymond Burks admitted stealing the nine cars but would not name the person with whom he bet.

ROMANCE

Some of our foreign policy is like some rich old man trying to romance some young woman. He spends all his wealth, mortgages everything he owns and borrows all he can. The young woman runs off with some bum and the old man's kinfolks work the rest of their life paying off his debts. We can stop this in November, let's march on with Republican Cox.

ALIVE WITH REASON TO KICK

Ex-Senator Reports From Great Beyond

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gerald P. Nye, one-time senator from North Dakota, arose from the grave in which a magazine article prematurely buried him and gave notice today that:

1. He is alive and kicking.

2. He knows where a certain body is buried, or rather where a truly-dead ex-senator's ashes were strewn in the long ago. In fact, Nye strewed them himself, under a tree on the Capitol grounds.

What brought Nye back from "the Great Beyond," was an article in the September issue of Pageant magazine entitled: "The Only Man Buried on Capitol Hill."

It's a heart-tugging tale about Henry Clay Hansbrough, a publisher-politician who helped "tame the West, a pen in one hand and a sixgun in the other." When North Dakota entered the Union, he became its first representative in Congress and from 1891 to 1909 was U.S. senator.

Although still tall and handsome and although his handle-bar mustache still glistened, the aged Hansbrough felt a premonition of the end in 1933. Visiting the office of his friend, Sen. Nye, he said he loved Washington and wanted to remain on Capitol Hill forever.

Pointing out a window, he said: "When I die I want you to bury my ashes under that elm tree."

Now Nye knew it was against the rules to bury anybody on the Capitol grounds. But for old friendship's sake he consented.

A short time later the old man died, and a box bearing his ashes arrived at Nye's office. According to the magazine article, Nye gathered a few friends and colleagues, proceeded to the tree and buried the box with a simple whispered prayer.

Versions of the incident leaked out, writes the author of the article, Edward Hymoff, but:

"Sen. Nye himself carried the secret to the grave with him. Today, no one—barring possible survivors of the burial ceremony—even knows which elm tree the senator is buried under."

Nye, who is now 69 and a Federal Housing Administration specialist on housing for the elderly, got off a 1,500-word letter Tuesday to Howard Cohn, executive editor of Pageant. It wasn't as rough a letter as Nye might have written back in the days when he was a fire-eating isolationist whose Senate career (1925-1944) stirred many a controversy.

In fact it was a mellow epistle datelined "Over here in the Great Beyond." Death must have been painless, he said, for he never noticed it. It could have been caused by those three wasps that stung him a while back in his garden.

But he wanted to set the record straight; he did not bury the box with Sen. Hansbrough's ashes; with his own hand he strewed them out of the box — "a plain everyday shoebox."

For years thereafter, he wrote, "the ground covered by the scattering produced the greenest grass on Capitol Hill and, at the time of my last observation, before coming Over Here, the tree, feeding upon the ashes of Henry Clay Hansbrough, was the healthiest looking of all the neighboring trees."

In conclusion, Nye gave Pageant a description of life "Over Here." It is much like life on earth, he said — gardening, churchgoing, work.

"I even draw pay for my services as though it were not known that I had departed life," he said.

Many things are much the same as on earth, he said — including bills to pay and "taxes, taxes, taxes."

Editor Cohn told a newsman he was deeply embarrassed. "I'm glad to hear Sen. Nye is alive," he said, "and if he's kicking it's with good reason."

Author Hymoff said he thought he had checked his article thoroughly but guessed he had checked some of it "in the wrong places."

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

9:00 CBS "Steel Hour" tells the story of three Korean War veterans who vow to avenge the physical breakdown and eventual death of one of their buddies. When they are ready to put their plan into effect, they discover that the intended victim has been fatally shot. James Daly, Mona Freeman, Harry Towne, Ralph Meeker and Simon Oakland are starred in "Murder on the Agenda".

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

6:30 NBC "Wagon Train". A cowhand is determined to marry a pretty young member of the train, even though her father has admitted to wagonmaster Christopher Hale that he would shoot the boy rather than let him marry the girl. Gary Clarke, Lynn Loring and Frank Overton are featured.

7:00 CBS "Window on Main Street". When a 12-year-old girl says she writes poetry because of a strange voice she hears while sitting in a tree, Cameron Brooks is completely bewildered, until he visits a small gypsy restaurant near the girl's home.

7:30 NBC "The Rebel". Johnny Yuma meets a man (Royal Dano) who fakes madness to save himself from the savage Kiowas, who will not kill an insane person. When the Indians appear, the "madman" is safe but Yuma is imperiled.

7:30 CBS "Checkmate". Guest star Dana Andrews has the role of a judge whose brilliant legal reputation and his life are threatened when one of his famous murder trials is re-enacted in a law lecture he conducts. Lori March appears as the judge's wife in "Trial by Midnight".

8:00 NBC "Mystery Theatre". The owner of a North African gambling casino refuses to help an agent and a police captain who are trying to break up a passport counterfeiting ring. Rod Taylor, Akim Tamiroff and George Macready join Desi Arnaz in "Thunder in the Night".

8:30 CBS "Dick Van Dyke". Sally thinks she will have to spend her birthday alone until she gets a phone call from an old school friend. George Neise is seen in this rebroadcast.

Austin Has Driest Spell Since 1921

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)— This is the longest dry spell for the Austin area since 1921.

Three more days without rain and it will be the driest since 1903.

Other Central Texas spots are in the same shape. Teasing showers the past two weeks are all that keep a number of south central, Rio Grande Valley and coastal points from joining the list.

"Critical summer drought conditions dominated farm and ranch activities in most areas of the state as hot, dry weather held on," said the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service Tuesday. "Moistures is needed over the entire state; however, drought conditions approaching the severity of a few years back, are the most pronounced in Central, South and West Texas."

Acting state climatologist Olive Owens agrees that many areas are dry, but says other points have received almost as much rain for the first half of this year as they would in a full normal year.

There has been seven consecutive weeks of no rain in central Texas but 12 consecutive weeks of showers in the Panhandle.

This may turn out to be the beginning of a serious drought but 1962 probably will not be a record drought year, Owens said.

Premiere Slated For 36th Reunion

The world premiere of an exciting new television dramatic series about men in war titled "The Gallant Men," will be held during the 1962 reunion of the 36th Division in Abilene.

The reunion will begin at 10 a. m. Sept. 3 and continue through a memorial service at noon Sept. 2. All present and former members of the 36th Division have been invited to attend.

Robert McQueeney and William Reynolds, stars of the television series focusing on the 36th Infantry Division in World War II, will appear at the premiere. Produced by Warner Bros., the series detailing the personal stories of the men rather than the broader aspects of war will be presented on the ABC television network on Friday evenings beginning Sept. 28.

Encephalitis Claims Two More Victims

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Two more deaths among 10 new probable cases have been reported in another outbreak of encephalitis in Pinellas County.

Dr. Harry C. Oard, communicable disease officer for the county health department, said the latest cases raise the number of deaths to six among 34 strongly suspected cases which have occurred since July 31.

This is the third outbreak of the illness, commonly known as sleeping sickness, in Pinellas County in four years.

West Germany is increasing its production of television sets. In 1960 nearly two million sets were manufactured, as against 1,600,000 in 1960, and radios produced rose from three million to 3,400,000.

New Explosion By Soviets Registered

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) —A new Soviet nuclear test explosion in the atmosphere was registered today by Uppsala University's Seismological Institution.

Uppsala scientists put the strength of the explosion at about nine megatons—equivalent to nine million tons of TNT. That would make it the No. 3 blast in size of the five explosions set off in the current Soviet series.

A DAILY VIEW From me to you

One can not improve on the words of Jesus. One can only comment or explain so that the meaning is perfectly clear. But occasionally there come those words of Jesus that need no explaining—they need only to be read and heeded. Thus the following words of Jesus taken from the NEW ENGLISH BIBLE, Matthew 5: 43-48:

"You have learned that they were told, "Love your neighbor, hate your enemy." But what I tell you is this: Love your enemies and pray for your persecutors; only so can you be children of your heavenly Father, who makes his sun rise on good and bad alike, and sends the rain on the honest and the dishonest. If you love only those who love you, what reward can you expect? Surely the tax-gatherers do as much as that. And if you greet only your brothers, what is there extraordinary about that? Even the heathen do as much. You must therefore be all goodness, just as your heavenly Father is all good."

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 46 proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of Texas by adding to Article III a new Section to be known as Section 49-d authorizing the Texas Water Development Board to acquire and develop storage facilities in reservoirs and to dispose of such storage facilities and water upon such terms as the Legislature shall prescribe, providing for the use of funds received from the disposition of acquired storage and water; providing that any enabling Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character; prescribing the form of ballot and providing for the necessary proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new Section thereto to be known as Section 49-d, as follows:

"Section 49-d. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of Texas to encourage the optimum development of the limited number of feasible sites available for the construction or enlargement of dams and reservoirs for conservation of the public waters of the State, which waters are held in trust for the use and benefit of the public. To this end, and with the approval of the Board of Water Engineers or its successor, the proceeds from the sale of State bonds deposited in the Texas Water Development Fund as provided in Article III, Section 49-c of this Constitution, may be used by the Texas Water Development Board, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the additional purposes of acquiring and developing storage facilities, for the conservation and development of water for useful purposes in and from reservoirs constructed or to be constructed or enlarged within the State of Texas or on any stream constituting a boundary of the State of Texas, by any one or more of the following governments or governmental agencies: by the United States of America or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by the State of Texas or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State; by interstate compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party; and by municipal corporations.

"Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, the Texas Water Development Board may also, with the approval of the Board of Water Engineers or its successor, execute long-term contracts with the United States or any of its agencies for the acquisition and development of storage facilities in reservoirs constructed or to be constructed by the Federal Government. Such contracts when executed shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as State bonds issued under the authority of the preceding Section 49-c of this Constitution, and the provisions in said Section 49-c with respect to payment of principal and interest on State bonds issued shall likewise apply with respect to payment of principal and interest required to be paid by such contracts. If storage facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the State's investment.

"The aggregate of the bonds authorized by said Section 49-c, plus the principal of the obligations incurred under any contracts authorized hereunder, shall not exceed the Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) in bonds authorized by said Section 49-c of Article III of this Constitution.

"The Legislature shall provide terms and conditions for the Texas Water Development Board to sell, transfer or lease, in whole or in part, any acquired storage facilities or the right to use such storage facilities at a price not less than the direct cost of the Board in acquiring same; and the Legislature may provide terms and conditions for the Board to sell any unappropriated public waters of the State that might be stored in such facilities. As a prerequisite to the purchase of such storage or water, the applicant therefor shall have secured a valid permit from the Board of Water Engineers or its successor authorizing the acquisition of such storage facilities or the water impounded therein. The money received from any sale, transfer or lease of storage facilities shall be used to pay principal and interest on State bonds issued or contractual obligations incurred by the Texas Water Development Board, provided that when moneys are sufficient to pay the full amount of indebtedness then outstanding and the full amount of interest to accrue thereon, any further sums received from the sale, transfer or lease of such storage facilities may be used for the acquisition of additional storage facilities or for providing financial assistance as authorized by said Section 49-c. Money received from the sale of water, which shall include standby service, may be used for the operation and maintenance of acquired facilities, and for the payment of principal and interest on debt incurred.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1962, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:
