

Constitution Change Shunned In Platform

PLANS FOR PROCESSING PLANT ARE PERFECTED

Papers Prepared For Charter At Meeting Thursday

Plans were perfected this morning by a group of stock raisers and local merchants for a meat processing plant to be known as the Howard County Marketing Association.

At a meeting in the chamber of commerce offices, papers were prepared for obtaining a charter and corporation papers and by-laws were approved.

According to discussions at the Thursday meeting, the organization is to be a cooperative proposition based upon certificate subscription of $25. Only one vote will be allowed a member, regardless of how many membership certificates he may hold.

Another meeting is to be called when the papers return from the secretary of state, it was decided.

Signing the charter papers were J. W. Allen, T. W. Ashley, E. F. O'Daniel, Grady Acuff, Otis Chalk, S. B. Cooksey and Samuel Greer.

Take Greer Property
The association will take over the property developed by Greer, prominent Glasscock county ranchman, last year at a cost greatly in excess of $10,000.

Greer erected four large feeding pens, loading facilities, a spacious feeding barn, slaughter house, caretaker's cottage and other details. The plant is located just east of town and is on the T. & P. tracks. It was constructed originally by Greer with the view of feeding out the stuff he produces on his Glasscock county ranges.

Preliminary plans are to begin processing, curing and slaughtering on a small scale. Several minor improvements and changes are contemplated before the association actually goes into production. The meeting was called after a group, under the leadership of Ashley, had made an exhaustive study of other small meat plants in this section and had contacted many local merchants and stockmen.

City Request Gets Results

Many Agree To Pay Back Taxes From Airport Sale Money

Letters sent out by the city to all stock and bond holders of the Big Spring Airport Corp., who owe delinquent taxes have produced good results, city officials said today.

Delinquent taxes amounting to $13,900 were owed the city by the stock and bond holders who were requested to pay their taxes when they receive payment for their stock.

Before the letters were mailed, according to city officials, several of the stock and bondholders called at the city hall to volunteer their payments be applied to their delinquent tax bill. Only hitch is that the majority of the taxes are owed by the smaller stock and bondholders.

Townsend Leaders Claim Membership Gains After Quiz

CHICAGO, June 25 (UP)—National headquarters of Dr. Francis Townsend's pension plan claimed in a statement today that the recent congressional investigation stimulated the group's membership campaign.

It said the organization had an "estimated" membership of approximately 10,000,000. Southern strength was put at one and one-half million.

Weather

BIG SPRING AND VICINITY—Fair tonight and Friday, slightly warmer.

WEST TEXAS—Generally fair tonight and Friday. Slightly warmer in the north and extreme west portions.

EAST TEXAS—Generally fair tonight and Friday. Slightly warmer in the north portion.

TEMPERATURES

	Wed.	Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.
1	90	90	90	90
2	92	92	92	92
3	94	94	94	94
4	96	96	96	96
5	98	98	98	98
6	100	100	100	100
7	102	102	102	102
8	104	104	104	104
9	106	106	106	106
10	108	108	108	108
11	110	110	110	110
12	112	112	112	112
13	114	114	114	114
14	116	116	116	116
15	118	118	118	118
16	120	120	120	120
17	122	122	122	122
18	124	124	124	124
19	126	126	126	126
20	128	128	128	128
21	130	130	130	130
22	132	132	132	132
23	134	134	134	134
24	136	136	136	136
25	138	138	138	138
26	140	140	140	140
27	142	142	142	142
28	144	144	144	144
29	146	146	146	146
30	148	148	148	148
31	150	150	150	150

A CONVENTION PRELUDE

Rep. Clarence Cannon (left), D-Mo., and James Farley (center), chairman of the Democratic national committee, shown in a hurried conference just before delegate contests got under way at Philadelphia. W. Forbes Morgan, secretary of the committee, is at the right. (Associated Press Photo.)

Payment On Bonus Bonds Spurs Local Volume Of Business

More Than Half Of Men Send In For Remittance

Payments received from bonus bonds given them as a final settlement on their adjusted service certificates has spurred local business forward this week, a check showed here today.

Almost without exception, every line of business felt the effect of the new money being poured into commercial channels as checks were arriving from Dallas where certified bonds were sent for payment.

Postmaster Nat Shick said that approximately 426 veterans, more than half the number eligible for bonds in Howard county, had sent in 2,982 bonds for a total of $149,150 by Wednesday.

Rush Still On
Nor was the rush over by any means. Assistant Postmaster Elmer Beatter indicated that remittance would be made daily to Dallas until the ex-service men slacken their march for certification of their bonds for final payment.

There has been a noticeable spurt in the number of new cars registered since the latter part of last week when the first money was received in payment of the certificates. A corresponding increase in total passenger car registrations was also noted.

Negroes Spend
Negro doughboys, getting their first real money in years, applied it lavishly on new and used cars and other luxuries.

General retail gains, while not so pronounced, were reported. However, most of the veterans are not turning their bond money loose as rapidly as might be expected.

Big Spring People Urged To Make Trip To Midland Rodeo

People who can make a trip to Midland for the opening of the West Texas rodeo Friday are requested to register at the chamber of commerce office.

The Big Spring municipal band will be on hand for the opening which swings its doors for a three-day run at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Posters and circulars are to be carried by the local delegation, advertising the local July Fourth show, and are to be distributed throughout Midland.

The first day of the celebration has been designated as Big Spring day according to the Midland officials.

The Midland plant is one of the best combination rodeo and race tracks in West Texas. Its second race meeting recently ended a huge success and the rodeo is due to attract rodeo fans from all parts of the southwest.

Pension Head Mails Notice Of Payments

200 Oldsters In This District Are Given Grant Amounts

Notice of grants have been mailed to 200 applicants for old-age assistance in this district by the district supervisor, George White.

While there was no official information as to what the average grants amounted to, it was understood that it was on a par with other sections of the state, if not slightly above.

The notices represented about one-tenth of the total due oldsters who have applied in this district.

White said there was no indication when other notices would be received by him from the state offices in Austin for dispatch to the patrons in this area. It is likely, he said, that more will be received here before July 1 when first payments are to be made.

He reiterated statements made previously that oldsters would be given their assistance payments as of July 1 regardless of when their first checks were mailed.

This, of course, was dependent upon their having made application for aid prior to July 1.

At the present rate, White predicted that his staff of investigators would finish their work in this district shortly after the turn of the month.

Practically the only delay now is occasioned by questions of naturalization. These are promptly referred to the legal department.

Several in this area alone have been blocked from old age assistance because they had not taken out citizenship papers.

Meanwhile, applications for assistance continued to be received by the office along with fervent pleas from old folks that their payments be rushed.

MOVING OFFICES

Clinic Will Occupy Entire Floor Of Building

Workmen were busily engaged Thursday in moving office furniture and equipment of Drs. Hall & Bennett clinic from the second to the entire third floor of the Petroleum building. The task was to be completed late Thursday, it was announced, and the doctors would be in their new offices Friday morning.

T. & P. Announces Schedule Changes

Schedule changes effective June 28 were announced today by the Texas and Pacific Railway company. Changes affecting Big Spring are: No. 4 will leave here at 12:30 p. m. instead of 1:50 p. m. and No. 12 will leave at 7:35 a. m. instead of 7:10 a. m.

Two Indicted On Spy Count

Japanese Naval Officer And Former Navy Officer Are Named

LOS ANGELES, June 25 (UP)—The federal grand jury Wednesday indicted two men, one of them identified as a Japanese naval officer, the other a former U. S. naval non-commissioned officer, on charges they violated the espionage act in conspiring to furnish the Japanese government with U. S. navy information.

The men named in the indictment were Toshio Miyazaki and Harry Thomas Thompson, ex-petty officer in the navy who is serving a sentence in the county jail for illegal wearing of the navy uniform.

Miyazaki, the indictment said, is a lieutenant-commander in the imperial Japanese navy and a former honor student at Leland Stanford university in Palo Alto, Calif.

The two, according to the indictment, were in league from the summer of 1934 to the following spring.

Disguised as a navy officer, the indictment charged, Thompson boarded battleships at San Pedro and San Diego and mingled with officers, obtaining information which he turned over to Miyazaki at a fixed salary.

Thompson was also charged with selling "documents, code books, signals, maps, models x x x and information relating to the national defense." These, it was set forth, were "to be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation, to-wit, Japan."

Naval authorities said they believed Miyazaki is now in the Orient.

Miss Eleanor Bryarley of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting Mrs. W. F. Cushing this week and next.

Presence Of Blacks Ires SC Senator

Sen. Black Leaves Demo Parley When Negro Minister Prays

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 (UP)—In a fiery protest of recognition given negroes at the democratic national convention, Senator Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina asserted that he was "through with the convention and sick of the whole damn thing."

While a negro minister—the Rev. Marshall Shepard, pastor of the Mt. Olivet Baptist church—was opening the afternoon session with prayer, Senator Smith, followed by a few other South Carolina delegates, left the convention hall.

Officials said that this was the first time prayer had been offered at a democratic convention by a negro. It was followed immediately by the playing of Dixie.

"Do Some Talking"
Presence of the negro clergy men and about 30 negro delegates led Smith to assert that he "was going home" and would "do some talking."

Claud Sapp, chairman of the state delegation, was in disagreement with Smith's attitude and said: "I don't care who prays for me, I'm willing for anyone to pray for me who wants to."

He attributed Smith's walkout to a "chip on his shoulder."

Will Not Support
Smith explained his views on the presence of negroes and said that "the situation in the south before and since the civil war makes it impossible for the south to recognize and accept the negro as an equal political factor."

He said that political equality meant social equality and that the latter in turn meant the mongrelization of the American race.

Smith added that "I will not support any political organization that looks upon the negro and caters to him as a political and social equal."

San Antonio Man To Head State VFW

Beaumont Chosen As Next Encampment Site, Local Men Honored

SAN ANGELO, June 25—Max C. Walz, San Antonio, holder of many positions in the state and national organizations, was elected commander of the VFW, department of Texas, at the closing sessions of the encampment here Wednesday. Beaumont emerged so strong on pre-ballooning checks that no other city actually put in a bid for the next encampment. San Antonio, Galveston, Austin, Kerrville, and Dennison delegates had initially sought the next convention.

Dr. C. W. Deats, Big Spring, was chosen as department surgeon, and W. H. Dugan, Big Spring, was named department inspector.

The Big Spring trio, composed of Mrs. Alma Blount, Mrs. Ruby Read and Miss Ruby Bell, appeared on the encampment program Tuesday evening.

Stratosphere Balloon Found Down In Ark.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 25 (UP)—Professor John D. Akerman, head of the University of Minnesota aeronautical engineering department, Wednesday night said he had been notified that the Picard stratosphere sounding balloon had been found near Huntsville, Ark.

Information regarding data contained in the stratosphere carried by the balloon was not given in the message received by Akerman from J. D. Smith who found the bag five miles northeast of Huntsville.

The balloon, designed by Prof. Jean Picard, was sent up from the university campus Wednesday morning but carried no human freight.

Among other delicate equipment, the balloon carried devices to send it earthward automatically at an estimated height of ten miles.

Welford Ahead On ND Primary Returns

FARGO, June 25 (UP)—Returns today from more than one-fourth of the 2,224 precincts in Wednesday's primary election showed Gov. Walter Welford was leading former Gov. William Langer for the Republican gubernatorial nomination by 9,807 votes.

John Moses, regular Democratic gubernatorial endorsed candidate, and Ole H. Olson, former acting governor and a "Progressive" group candidate, were running close on the first returns. James F. Morrow, independent, was far behind.

'BLACK MARIA' FOR SHORT-CLADS

Rosaleen Doherty and Bill Matthias, reporters for the New York Daily News, shown leaving a patrol wagon at Yonkers, N. Y., for booking at a police station for violation of the town's anti-shorts ordinance. They're escorted by Policeman John O'Hare. (Associated Press Photo.)

Lasting Benefits Claim Of WPA At Period's End

Road Projects And Other Improvements Are Cited

Many permanent improvements have been made in district 18 of the Works Progress Administration since last July, officials said today as they checked over projects completed and those nearing completion.

District 18 has completed one new construction project on the city hall and two improvement projects on school buildings. There have been four construction projects at the athletic field and one improvement project. One construction and one improvement project was made in the city park and on the golf course.

Besides the construction projects in the district there are nine sewing room units employing two hundred and fourteen persons, which have been very successful from an educational as well as a manufacturing standpoint.

Officials stated that projects in the district include 57 miles of road work, including 30 miles of surfaced roads. Sixteen miles of the surfaced and 13 miles of the unsurfaced was new construction. There are 26 miles of surfaced road and 120 miles of unsurfaced road under construction, of which 16 miles of the surfaced and 111 miles of the unsurfaced is new construction.

Twenty-two blocks of streets and alleys have been completed and 80 blocks are under construction. Thirty-nine hundred linear feet of sidewalk has been completed.

Ocean Outlets Soviet Aim

Russia Regards Interests In Asia As Vital To Welfare

MONTREAL, Switzerland, June 25 (UP)—Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff of Russia announced today that the Soviet Union wants freedom of passage through the Dardanelles for her warships to link Russia's naval bases with the various seas.

The announcement at the International Dardanelles conference was regarded as a warning that Russia considers her interests in Europe and Asia vital.

LANDON ON VACATION

Republican Presidential Nominee Gets Ready

DENVER, June 25 (UP)—Gov. Alf Landon, Kansas, republican presidential nominee, arrived here with his family today to start a vacation.

Governor Landon will rest at Estes Park, Colo., for a 11-day vacation of fishing, reading, resting and speech writing—before plunging into the campaign for the presidency.

Replying to a question in a brief press conference whether there will be "any woman in your cabinet," Governor Landon replied: "Yes, Mrs. Landon."

MIDLAND TO CLOSE FOR JULY FOURTH

MIDLAND, June 25 (UP)—"Air-light" closing of Midland stores July 4 appeared unanimous Wednesday when the chamber of commerce committee carrying a petition returned with names of merchants of all lines of retail business signed to the document.

The holiday was selected at a meeting Tuesday morning when business men voted on a date suitable to all.

Abolition Of Two-Thirds Rule Urged

President Prepares Speech Of Acceptance, One Of Major Addresses

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 (UP)—A platform, omitting a proposal for a constitutional amendment, was completed today by the drafting sub-committee of the democratic resolutions committee.

The agreement was reached by a predominantly new deal sub-committee shortly before the scheduled meeting of the full committee at 3 p. m.

Meanwhile, the rules committee voted 36-13 to abrogate the 194-year-old two-thirds nominating rule but as a concession to opponents prepared to recommend reapportionment of delegates at future conventions.

South Overridden
Southern objections were overridden by the Roosevelt rules committee in making the recommendation that the two-thirds rule be abolished, but the group delayed debate until the evening session pending the drafting of dissenting reports while platform makers struggled to settle their own difficulties.

Delegates unanimously accepted the reports of the credentials and permanent organization committees.

Whether any attempt will be made to dispose of the platform and rules committee reports tonight was uncertain.

Convention officials said they hoped the dissenters might be talked out of presenting a minority rules report.

Surprisingly, New York, Massachusetts, and Indiana sided with a bloc of southern states against future nominations by a simple majority.

Robinson Chairman
Adoption of the credentials report enabled the convention to complete organization and elect Sen. Joe Robinson of Arkansas as permanent chairman. The convention adjourned at 12:48 p. m. until 8 p. m. today.

Jesus Jones, chairman of the reconstruction corporation, still feeling "pretty shaken up" over his recent Texas airplane accident, arrived here today to attend a "few sessions" of the democratic convention. Jones is an alternate delegate-at-large.

Platform Planks
The platform was said to contain a currency plank bearing the endorsement of the administration and calling for a monetary system which could adapt itself to changing financial conditions as they occurred, made no mention of return to gold or immediate effort toward international stabilization of currencies, and made no reference to devaluation of further devaluation of the dollar.

Controversy arose over the munitions plank with many leaders working for a strong commitment for government ownership instead of a less sharp "non-profits" plank. Agriculture plank troubles hinged chiefly on Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace's demand for inclusion of crop insurance in the general statement approving the present soil conservation program.

All the while, President Roosevelt was putting into final form the renomination acceptance speech which is expected to be one of his major re-election addresses.

Counsel With FDR
The number and names of persons with whom he has conferred this week indicate he has sought the counsel and views of many factions of the democratic party in forming the address to be delivered Saturday night at Franklin field.

Political lieutenants and new deal administrative aides, numerous congressmen, governors and other political leaders from many sections of the country were White House callers.

John E. Black, former New York state supreme court justice, who will place the president's name in nomination at Philadelphia, conferred twice with Mr. Roosevelt.

Disposing of several important bills before leaving for Philadelphia, the president signed the $800,000,000 tax bill which appears certain to become a campaign issue.

Appellate Court Dismisses State's Criminal Appeal

AUSTIN, June 25 (UP)—By dismissing an appeal the state court of criminal appeals here Wednesday nullified the first attempt made since 1870 by the state to appeal from a district court ruling in a criminal case.

The attempt was made when the district court at Longview quashed the indictment against M. T. Wilson, an officer of Dominant Refining company, in an attempt of the state to collect gasoline tax. He had been indicted on the theory that the refineries are state agents to collect the tax. The district court decision was in effect that the tax is merely a debt not a trust fund.

RITZ

THURSDAY ONLY
"Buck Nite"

HEADLINE DRAMA!

WAS SHE GUILTY OF THE
"MERCY MURDER" OF HER OWN HUSBAND
?"THE CRIME OF DR. "
FORBES
WITH GLORIA STUART
ROBERT KENT
HENRY ARMETTA
A FOX
PICTUREPLUS:
"Midnight"
"Stop, Look, Listen!"

RITZ FRIDAY - SATURDAY

"Captain BLOOD"

ERROL FLYNN • SYLVIA de HAVILLAND
LIONELL ATWILL • ROSS ALEXANDER

LYRIC

THURSDAY
ONLYA sleepy little village re-lives the days of Jessie James!'MAN
HUNT,with Charles 'Chic' Sale
Ricardo Cortez
Wm. Gargan
Marguerite
Churchill

PLUS: Feature Shorts

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

Tom Tyler in

"RIDIN ON"

R-BAR NEWS

Crops are growing fast now but a good rain is a growing need in this sector.

Those visiting in the Clarence Fryar home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hull and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Musgrove and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rainey and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Coates spent Sunday with Bill Coates and family of Coahoma.

Mrs. Hazel Walker visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Eada Thomas.

Cleo Reeves was kicked on the head by a colt last week.
A wave of sorrow was occasioned last week by the death of Grandmother Reeves.

QUEEN

Last Times Tonight

HE'S THE MAN
GOD FORGOT"THE COUNTRY DOCTOR" SCORES
AGAIN!Jean HERSHOLT
'SINS OF
MAN'Don AMECHE-Alton JENKINS
Ann SHOEMAKER
20th Century-Fox PicturesPLUS:
"MELODY IN MAY"

Friday - Saturday

Justice!
Routless of the range trapped by a gun-totin' terror!Charles STARRETT
"THE MYSTERIOUS AVENGER"
with JOAN PERRYLandon Not Yet Guarded
By U. S. MenSecret Service Will Assume Watch Only When He Is Elected

WASHINGTON, June 25. (UP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon is still just an ordinary citizen in the eyes of Chief W. H. Moran of the treasury's secret service division and he will not have the benefit of any plainclothes detectives to guard him during the presidential campaign.

The secret service has no intention of guarding the republican nominee because there is no provision in its instruction code to watch over anyone but the president and his "immediate" family. Also, after November elections, a detail is requested to safeguard the president-elect until he takes office.

So unusual is the secret service's existence that there has never been a law entered upon the statute books providing for its creation or operation. It was started in 1865, immediately after the Civil war, expressly to stop counterfeiting. It was merely provided for in congressional appropriation bills and it has maintained the same legal status ever since.

Taft First to Be Guarded
There never was a provision even to guard the president until after President McKinley's assassination. In 1902, a squad was ordered to watch over the nation's executive and in 1916 the service's guard duties were expanded to include the nation's "first family" during their White House term.

President Taft was the first president-elect to be guarded. Until the November battle of ballots and then only if Landon is elected to succeed Mr. Roosevelt, the service will have nothing to worry about in addition to their present duties with the presidential family.

These have always been maintained a close secret. It is impossible to find out how many men follow the president around or if any travel with the first lady.

250 in Service
Altogether, there are about 250 men employed in the service. The appropriation provided this year is something less than $1,000,000. Because of the system of protection—which is maintained at a minimum, unlike those of many foreign countries—it has never been considered necessary to guard nominees of the various parties. Chief Moran would in such a case be forced to guard the candidates of the Socialist, Communist and other minor parties.

The only case that can be remembered at secret service quarters here of the need for guarding a president-elect was when an attempt was made upon the life of Mr. Roosevelt in February, 1933, in Miami, Fla. This resulted in the death of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago as he accompanied Mr. Roosevelt through Florida.

Lyric Offering Is Colorful Story Of Bandit's Capture
Margaret Churchill and William Gargan are starred together in the Lyric offering today, "Man Hunt," in a story built around the capture of an arch-bandit by a small town reporter and a school teacher, plus the assistance of a romancing ex-Mr. and Mrs. Noble Walker and children and Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Coates and children visited Mrs. Eada Thomas Saturday night. Little Muriel Coates, who underwent a mastoid operation in the Big Spring hospital June 1, is improving nicely.
Wave Coates spent Saturday night with his son, Grover Coates and family.
Saturday and Sunday preaching will be held here and everyone is invited to attend.

of most highway fatalities has been completed by the visual education department of Iowa State college and will be previewed by the safety leaders.

Reeder Will Speak
The initial address at the conference will be delivered by Earl J. Reeder of Chicago, safety and traffic engineer for the national safety council.

Other featured speakers are: Maxwell Halsey, assistant director of the Harvard university bureau of traffic research; Burton Marsh, safety and traffic engineer of the American Automobile association; Harry Stedman, traffic engineer of Des Moines; Harry Nestal, safety director of the Iowa department of the American Legion; Lew Wallace, superintendent of the Iowa motor vehicle department; John Hattery, chief of the Iowa highway safety patrol, and W. H. Cameron, Chicago, managing director of the national safety council.

Iowa State college will award prizes to groups which have made outstanding contributions in highway safety promotion.

SMITH'S
FEED STORE
GRINDING

Of All Kinds

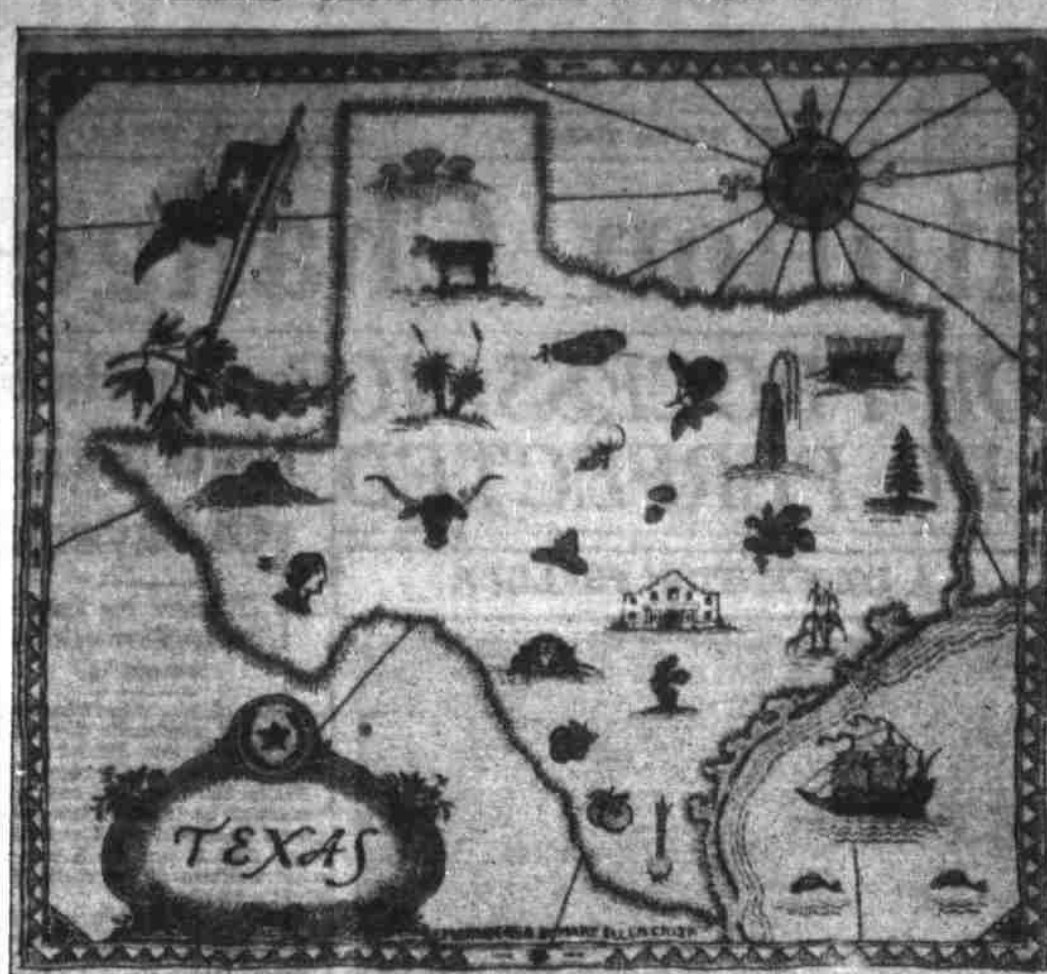

10c Per 100 Lbs.

Also Handling All Kinds
Of Feed
701 EAST 2NDWoodward
and Coffee

Attorneys-at-Law

General Practice In All
CourtsThird Floor
Petroleum Bldg.
Phone 381

TEXAS CENTENNIAL MAP-MURAL

In honor of the hundredth birthday of Texas, the unusual embroidered map of the State, shown above, is being published in color in the July issue of The Woman's Home Companion. Also, through the courtesy of Mrs. Ben C. Ball of Dallas, reader-editor of the magazine, the original of the map will be exhibited throughout the celebration by the James B. Buckner Bonham Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas. "The State has so many interesting features," says the editor of the Companion, "that we could not represent them all, but several of the geographical historic features and characteristic products are indicated in their respective localities. You will recognize the Alamo, the covered wagon reminiscent of pioneer days in the northeast corner, the stage coach down near the Rio Grande, El Capitan in the west, the pine woods of the eastern seaboard, Indian, longhorn, ten gallon hat and cactus express the Texas tradition. Then there are the wheat and steers of the Panhandle; the melons, cotton, pecans, oil, figs of the north and central parts, on down to the sugar cane of the coast; the onions, oranges and grapefruit of the tip. The Lone Star flag and the bluebonnet, State flower, have proper prominence."

Welding Clinic Is Given Here Today

A welding clinic conducted by a representative of the Linde Air Products company in cooperation with the Harry Lester Auto Supply company will be held Thursday from noon until 9:30 p. m. at the Bailey & Allred garage on South Scurry street. The public is cordially invited to attend, said Lester. Motion pictures, demonstrations, lectures, etc., will be part of the program, showing the different types of welding. The program is of especial interest to every welder in this vicinity, he declared.

Water Carnival
For Opening Of Balmorhea Lake

BALMORHEA, June 25.—Throwing open Lake Balmorhea to the tourists and pleasure seekers of the world, business men here have arrangements complete for a water carnival Saturday, June 27, that is expected to draw many visitors and result in making Lake Balmorhea one of the most popular bathing and fishing resorts in West Texas.

Featuring the program will be two nights of dancing, two days of fishing, many hours of swimming, a bathing suit contest, boat races, swimming races, and a real old-time barbecue with all the trimmings.

Incidentally, there will be speeches by orators of statewide reputation, including those dedicating the Balmorhea State park and Lake Balmorhea to the people of the entire country. The finest swimming pool in the southwest will be shown open to the public. San Solomon spring will be seen doing "its stuff" at the rate of more than 20,000,000 gallons of clear pure water each 24 hours. Visitors will be invited to catch crappie and bass in the main street of this thriving city, with a guarantee of a good string of fish or their money back. Dancing will start Friday night with a good orchestra making the music. The 900-acre state park will be open to autoists, and the $200,000 of improvements made in park, lake and spring will be visible to all who come.

Bridle Paths Demanded
SIERRA MADRE, Calif. (UP)—

Horse lovers of Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Arcadia and San Gabriel have organized a rebellion against the "automobile dynasty." The revolutionary movement will demand a portion of the gasoline tax funds now used for the construction of automobile highways for bridge paths which the auto cannot invade.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL
BACKACHE

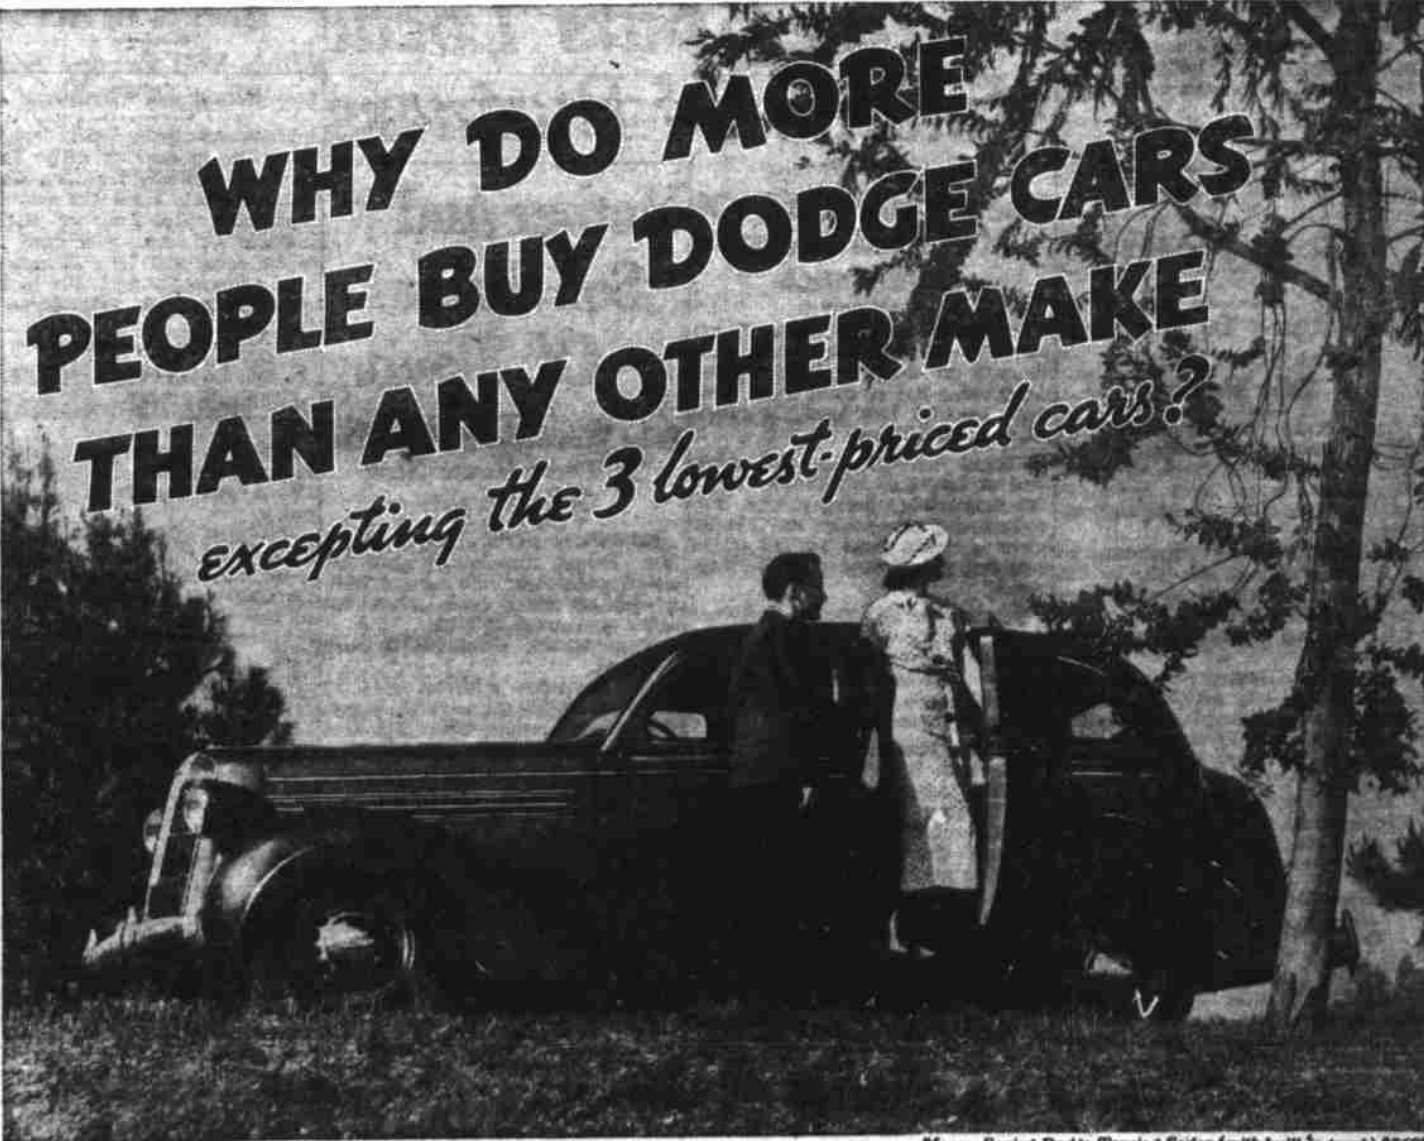

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

Money-Saving Dodge Touring Sedan (with built-in trunk) $760

Here's Why

They say the big, Money-Saving Dodge gives them 18 to 24 miles to the gallon of gas . . . saves up to 20% on oil . . . and can be bought for not much more than $25 a month

With thousands of owners, all over America, reporting Dodge as giving them from 18 to 24 miles to the gallon of gas and saving up to 20% on oil, it's easy to see why more people are buying this big, money-saving car than any other make, with the exception of the three lowest-priced cars!

But those are only two of the reasons! The great popularity of Dodge, which made it the fastest selling car in its field, has also made possible the low prices of only $640 and up, list prices at factory, Detroit. And at these low prices, Dodge is continually providing new thousands with big-car luxury, at an operating cost which owners themselves say is actually less than small, competitive cars! Consider, too, the many extra-value features

Dodge gives you! Safety-steel body . . . genuine hydraulic brakes . . . safety-beam headlights . . . equalized weight distribution . . . longer, more flexible springs . . . Chair-Height seats . . . patented Floating Power engine mountings . . . and many other advancements! And, now, under the new Commercial Credit Company low-cost terms, Dodge is so easy to pay for!

Stop at your nearest Dodge dealer today . . . inspect this new Dodge . . . Drive it . . . Make the free economy test . . . See—right before your own eyes—how Dodge saves gasoline . . . and see for yourself why more people buy Dodge cars than any other make, excepting the three lowest-priced cars!

DODGE
Division of Chrysler Corporation

"I'd heard a lot about the economy of Dodge," writes Ben W. Brer, Jr., Louisville, "but I only had to drive my Dodge a few weeks to have Dodge economy proved right before my eyes. I am getting nearly 24 miles to a gallon. I have certainly got to hand it to Dodge!"

"I wanted a smart-looking car," says Mrs. A. H. West, Philadelphia. "I wanted a car that was easy to handle, and I wanted a car that was not expensive to run. I have found all these things in my Dodge. I drive as high as 31 miles to the gallon of gasoline!"

Big MONEY SAVING DODGE at new low price only $640

WEST TEXAS MOTOR CO. OF BIG SPRING, INC.
FIRST & BUNKERS STS.

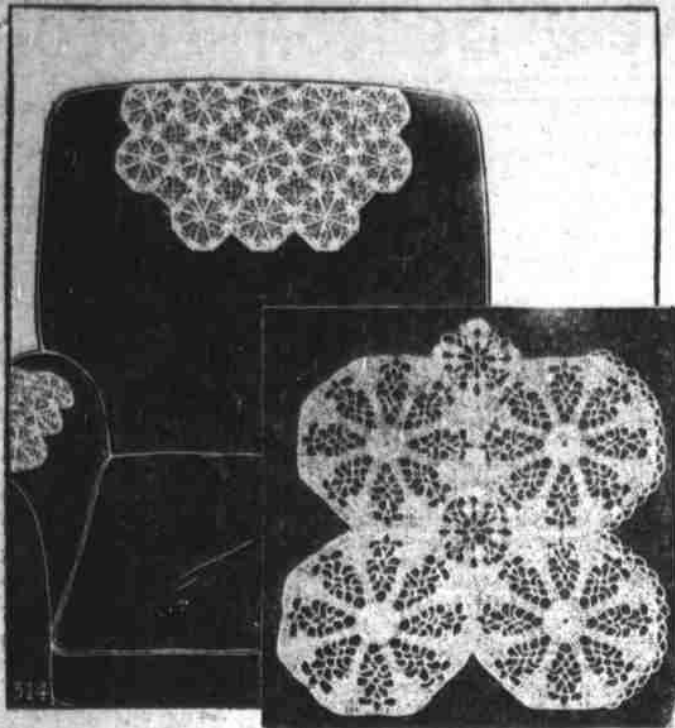

Why Gulf has a new Gas for June

JUNE IS THE MONTH of romance—and the month for a new Gulf gas specially refined for summer driving. For as the temperature climbs, the formula of your gasoline must be changed. Otherwise you don't get top mileage—part of your fuel blows out your exhaust unburned, wasted! Try This Good Gulf—it's "Kept in Step with the Calendar" so that all of it goes to work, none of it goes to waste. Sold at the sign of the Orange Disc.

Kept in Step with the CalendarTHAT
GOOD GULF
GASOLINE

Crocheted Motif Makes A Chair Set, Table Cloth And Other Things

By RUTH ORR
Pattern No. 514
Here's a crocheted motif that forms an octagon and so adapts itself well to the making of such smaller things as chair sets, dollies, table mats and the like. The pattern is close enough to form a protection for damask or tapestry on the back of a chair, and yet large enough to be attractive on a table. It is done in mercerized crocheted cotton No. 20, but could be worked in knitting and crocheted cotton to make a bedspread.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with diagrams to aid you, also what crocheted hook and what material and how much you will need.
To obtain this pattern, send for No. 514 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework Dept., P. O. Box 300, Station D, New York, N. Y.
(Copyright 1936, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

A Frontier Dinner Honors Albany Couple On 60th Nuptial Anniversary

There's a Difference in Ice Cream Sodas

—you can find out what that difference is at one of our fountains.

Kaylor Machineless Permanents are the most modern and natural waves. Paradise Beauty Salon, 209 E. 2nd St., Phone 628.

AUTO LOANS
Ask About Our New, Low Rates
ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE
R. B. REEDER INS. AGENCY
106 W. 3rd St. Phone 551

Free Delivery On Wines and Liquors
8:30 A. M. to 11:00 P. M.
Excepting Sundays
1403 Scurry St. Ph. 564
JACK FROST PHARMACY

Mrs. Ella Conrad entertained Tuesday at her spacious ranch home near Cuthbert with a "frontier" dinner, honoring her sister and husband, Judge and Mrs. J. A. Matthews of Albany. It was their sixtieth wedding anniversary.
About 40 guests were present to do them honor and wish them joy. A delicious feast was served. Mrs. Conrad gave a toast, a beautiful tribute to her sister, to which T. S. Currie added a gracious tribute. Mrs. Matthews expressed her appreciation in a few well-chosen words.
The afternoon was spent in renewing old friendships and greeting the newcomers.
*Guests were: Judge and Mrs. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Currie, Mrs. H. W. Caylor, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fee, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Price, Colorado; Mrs. Chester Jones, Colorado; Mrs. H.

Dress Winner Relates Experience

Mrs. Charlie Koehler, Lomax, Tells How She Made Clothes Closet

My year's work as wardrobe demonstrator has been a great help to me as well as a pleasure. I have always enjoyed sewing but did not see how I could spare time and expense to be a wardrobe demonstrator. But since my year of experience in the work I have learned not only important details in sewing but my first attempt in trying to make a clothing plan for my family has been very helpful.

The phrase, "put all clothing in good condition" almost scared me at first. I had never been a very faithful hand at patching and repairing but on starting out to put all our clothing in good condition I found that it really was not such a task. What a pleasure it was to find I could take some garments and repair them or work them over

Mrs. Morgan Is Shower Honoree At Surprise Affair Wednesday

Mmes. Everts And Scarborough Are Joint Hostesses For Evening Party

Mrs. Milton Everts entertained Wednesday evening with an unusually pretty summer party complimenting her cousin, Mrs. Eddie Morgan, the former Edythe Dow Cordill, who was married last week. Mrs. E. C. Scarborough, aunt of the honoree, was a joint hostess.

The party was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. O. D. Cordill, and was a miscellaneous shower.

Cut flowers decorated the rooms and the colors of pink and green that prevailed in the flowers were used in the refreshments.
The guests arrived before the honoree and piled their gifts, attractively wrapped, on the table. When Mrs. Morgan entered she learned that the affair was in her honor.

Present were: Mrs. B. H. Settles, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Cordill, her mother, and Mmes. J. Frank Doe, Wilbur Barnett, Bud Petty, Peter Morgan, J. M. Morgan and Kathleen Williams; Misses Justine Doe, Evelyn Scarborough and Katherine Happel.
Gifts were sent by Misses Charlene Williams, Ouida Hendricks, Jean Watley, Thelma Jane Moore, Vianna Sanders, Betty Pat Barker, Katherine McDaniels, Mary Louise Inkman; Mmes. Dudley Hall, Boyd McDaniels, Ollie McDaniels, Rowan Settles and Tom Buckner.

Mrs. Ed Allen Honors Sister With Party

Mrs. B. A. Douglas of Fort Worth was complimented with a theatre party Wednesday afternoon, her sister and hostess, Mrs. Ed Allen, doing the entertaining.

The guests met at the Allen home and went from there to the show. Refreshments were served at a pharmacy.
In addition to the honoree there were present: Mmes. Gene Wilson, R. H. Miller, B. P. Franklin, Watson Hammond, George Crosthwait, R. L. Terry, Richard Lytle, Poin-dexter, Lubbock, and Matson, Lubbock.

J. Y. Robb left Wednesday for Corpus Christi, where he will join his brother, H. B. Robb, and Ed Rowley for a tarpon fishing expedition at Aransas Pass. He was accompanied as far as San Antonio by Mrs. Robb and Mrs. M. H. Bennett.

S. Leon, Haskell; Mrs. Bill Hills, Rule; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Reynolds, 3-R ranch; Miss Lucy Watley, 9-R ranch; Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Farr and granddaughter, Patsy, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hanson, Mmes. Charles K. Bivings, F. H. Etheridge, John Hillberg, Chicago; John Brown, Colorado; Herman Spence, 9-R ranch; Messrs. John and Louis Conrad and Masters John and Tom Conrad.

Mrs. Glen Queen Gives Party For Idle Art Club

Mrs. Glen Queen entertained at the home of Mrs. Tommy Neel with a pretty party for members of the Idle Art bridge club. Miss Freeman made high score and was presented with the prize.

Playing were: Misses Veda Robinson, Imogene Runyan, Eleanor Gates, Emma Louise Freeman; Mmes. Fletcher Sneed, Searcy Whaley, Harold Lytle, Kelly Burns, Tommy Neel, and Franklin Nugent.

Miss Robinson will be the next hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thom left Thursday morning for Amarillo, where they will be joined by the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Land, for an automobile trip to Yellowstone park and other places of interest in the northwestern part of the country. They will be gone during July and August.

All-Day Party Is Given At Nugent Home Wednesday

Mrs. Franklin Nugent entertained with an all-day bridge party Wednesday at her home. The guests came at 10 o'clock and scores were kept during the morning and afternoon.

Miss Merrill was high scorer in the morning and Mrs. Lloyd Wasson in the afternoon.
A delicious fried chicken dinner was served at noon.
Playing were: Mmes. Randall Pickle, Lloyd Wasson, Fletcher

Sneed, Lewis Rix, Eddie Burke; Misses Evelyn Merrill and Emma Louise Freeman.

Ideal Club Holds Last Meeting Of Summer

Members of the Ideal bridge club assembled at the home of Mrs. Homer McNew Wednesday morning for their last summer party. The club will not meet again until September.

Mrs. Williamson scored highest for the members and Mrs. Broughton for guests.

Mrs. Ben Carter and Mrs. W. H. Broughton were the only guests. Members present were: Mmes. Hardin Wood, R. T. Piner, Fred Stephens, L. W. Croft, A. E. Service and Harvey Williamson.

Highway HD Gathering Postponed For Week

An entertainment planned originally for June 27 has been postponed until July 3 by the Highway home demonstration club. At that time the meeting will be thrown open to all candidates. The original date conflicted with the Luther candidate rally set for Saturday night.

SELL!
Through the WANT-ADS

EVERY ITEM is a LEADER at WARDS JUNE PARADE OF VALUES

Wards famous $2.00
Ringless Chiffons
REGULARLY 59c
June Sale 49c
Save 10c in the June Sale on these popular Ward hose. Full fashioned, of pure fresh silk, with garter run stops, reinforced feet. New Summer shades.
KNEE FREE Chiffons.
Ringless silk and all full fashioned. 47c

ANKLET Sale!
for women, girls and children
2 PAIRS 25c
Wards 15c and 19c anklets! All are mercerized cottons, in gay Summer stripes or solid colors. Tapered or shirred Latex cuffs. 13c pr., 2 prs. for 25c. Sizes 5 to 10 1/2.

5c saving on these White Socks
Fine rayon mixtures that would usually be 19c! "Gart" style, so comfortable for sports, because the Latex top keeps it up! Or full length socks. Summer colors as well as white. 10 to 12.
Special! 14c

Radio Sale!
World-Range Airline
12-tube Console
$59.95
$5 Down, $5 Month, Carrying Charge
REDUCED $19! All the features of a $125 radio! Metal tubes! Adjustable high fidelity! Instant dial, with 118 U. S. stations listed. See it, hear it.

Sanforized Shorts 29c
Made of good quality broadcloth! Cut full to prevent binding.
RAYON PANTIES
Novelty fabrics nicely tailored. Women's regular sizes.
15c
19c and 25c Quality

Sale!
Sheer Prints 88c
GOWNS OR PAJAMAS
Regularly $1—and bargains at that! Batiste in copies of costly styles. Women's sizes.

WHITE - a style leader!
Wards - Sale Price
84c
Made to Sell For $1! Everything you look for in Summer shoes! Cool! Smart! Easy to clean! Open-toe style of suede-finish fabric. Also fabric T-straps, all white or red or blue trimmed. 3-7. Save on them now!
Leather Soles—an outstanding feature at this low price. Buy them at Wards now! Elk-finish leather. Sizes 8 1/2 to 11, 11 1/2 to 12.
104
Men! Good looks and cool comfort in shoes you'll enjoy wearing all Summer. Nubuck finish. Buy Now! Wards Regular Low Price 2.59! Sizes 6 to 11.
244

Lowest Price We've Offered! 17c and 19c
SHEER PRINTS SALE .. 12 1/2c
BATISTE DIMITY VOILE LAWN
Bargains you'll appreciate for months! Pretty Summer prints in exciting variety. They're all firm, fine and tubfast. 36 to 39 in. widths.

Boys! Girls! JOIN THE BIKE PARADE!

TO BE HELD FRIDAY, JUNE 26
Win a Big PRIZE!
Hurry to Wards for full details! Anyone can enter! Register Now! Use your old bike—or better yet get a new one in this sale. Decorate it anyway you like. Prizes awarded for best and most originally decorated bicycles.
• $5.00 in merchandise FIRST prize!
• $3.00 in merchandise SECOND prize!
• $2.00 in merchandise THIRD prize!
HERE'S ALL YOU HAVE TO DO:
1. Come to Wards for instructions and to register. See the Hawthorne Bicycle on sale.
2. Decorate and enter your bike! Any make of bicycle can be entered. It's such fun!
3. Ride your bike in the parade. Beauty and originality count to win one of the prizes.

WARD'S HOUSE PAINT CONTEST GET YOUR ENTRY BLANK NOW!

MONTGOMERY WARD

PHONE 280

221 WEST 3RD ST.

This Bank's Friendships

—strengthen its ability to serve the people of this Community.

WE refer to the confidence and mutually helpful business relations this bank enjoys among its neighbors in this Community and to the various correspondent relationships and association affiliations with other banks.

These inter-bank friendships are typical of the American banking system. They help weld it into a sturdy, compact structure in which the strength of all adds to the strength of each. They augment the facilities of the individual bank to render broad all-around services to its own customers.

In our next advertisement we shall discuss further our State and National inter-bank relationships.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN BIG SPRING

HOOVER PRINTING CO.
Settles Building
Commercial Printing

R. C. OLIVER
Monuments
405 Johnson Street
Big Spring, Texas

MACHINELESS WAVES
—the very newest in Modern Hair Dress. Natural and Permanent.
$5.00, $10.00
CRAWFORD BEAUTY SHOP

Around And About

The Sports Circuit

By Tom Beasley

CITY MANAGER E. V. Spence and Munty Pro Charles Akey have a big peeve on everybody these days. The city installed lockers at the Munty pool after receiving requests from many swimmers and golfers, and now those same fellows refuse to take the lockers.

SAND GREENS are not very popular with the golfers during this hot weather. Charles Worley reports. Worley is spending most of his time working on a grass tee near the club house.

A VERY inquisitive young man at the swimming pool the other day inquired of his mother why the water was so blue. She gave this bright answer: "Why, my dear, that's bluing in the water to make it pure."

MUNY LINKSMEN have invited Lamasa golfers to be here Sunday for early qualifying for the first annual Munty course tournament. The field here is expected to be fairly large and fast, despite the fact that a large number of the hot-shots will pursue the elusive pellet around the Abilene course in the annual country club fracas there.

J. GORDON (Obediah) Bristow, known for a number of years as one of the longest and wildest drivers in the West Texas golf family, is no longer batting 'em in the bushes. Take Charley Akey's word for it, who says Obie will be hard to take out of the Munty league. Akey played a round with the great Bristow Wednesday and Obie got in the rough only one time.

BROWNIE HANSHAW, local wrestling referee, is the proud father of a seven-pound boy born Wednesday night. The lad has been named Michael Lownds.

OFFICIALS for the Munty golf tournament are to have a new system of awarding prizes. It will encourage the duffers.

VOTE on the northern division all-star team reported by Secretary Milton Price of the Texas league today was:

Pitchers—Fullerton (Dallas) 946; Baker (Dallas) 672; Johnson (Fort Worth) 512; Brillheart (Oklahoma City) 468; Glatto (Dallas) 421; Miltstead (Tulsa) 424; Klammer (Oklahoma City) 414.

Catchers—Renna (Dallas) 994; Suce (Fort Worth) 608; Warren (Oklahoma City) 262.

First base—Cohn (Tulsa) 544; Stebbins (Fort Worth) 376.

Second base—Mallon (Dallas) 806; English (Fort Worth) 280.

Third base—Stroner (Dallas) 1,086; Grimes (Fort Worth) 44.

Short stop—Brower (Oklahoma City) 306; York (Tulsa) 342; Level (Dallas) 340.

Utility infield—English (Fort Worth) 362; Kott (Oklahoma City) 202.

Left field—Harvel (Dallas) 490; Easterling (Oklahoma City) 216.

Center field—Tauby (Dallas)

W.J. COX TAKES EARLY LEAD IN BRITISH OPEN MEET

Oilers Defeat Continental, 35-13, To Tack Up New Season Record

2 STROKES AHEAD OF WHITCOMBE

HOYLAKES, England, June 25 (AP)—W. J. Cox, member of the British Ryder cup team, took an early lead in the British Open golf tournament with a 70, four under par, today.

It put him two strokes ahead of R. A. Whitcombe, another member of the Ryder team, and Jack McLean, Scottish amateur.

Gene Sarazen, favored American player, and Marcel Dallemagne, French pro champion, had 73's. Henry Cotton, favorite, and Alf Perry, defending champion, started late. Joe Esar of Waco, Texas, trick shot artist, scored an 82 after a miserable round.

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS (Games Through Wednesday)

National League
Batting—S. Martin, Cardinals, .370; J. Moore, Phillies, .358.
Runs—J. Martin, Cards, 56; Vaughn, Pirates, 52.
Runs batted in—Medwick, Cards, 85; Ott, Giants, 60.
Hits—Jordan, Bees, 97; Medwick, Cards, 87.
Doubles—Herman, Cubs, 27; Medwick, Cards, 21.
Triples—Goodman, Reds, 9; Camilli, Phillies, 8.
Home runs—Ott, Giants, 13; J. Moore, Camilli and Klein, Phillies, 12.
Stolen bases—J. Martin, Cards, 12; S. Martin, Cards, 11.
Pitching—J. Dean, Cards, 13-2; Carleton, Cubs, 7-3.

American League
Batting—Gehrig, Yanks, .398; Sullivan, Indians, .380.
Runs—Gehrig, Yanks, 80; Gehrig, Tigers, 83.
Runs batted in—Fox, Red Sox, 64; Goslin, Tigers, 62.
Hits—Gehrig, Yanks, 101; Gehrig, Tigers, 94.
Doubles—Rolf, Yanks, 23; Gehrig, Tigers, 22.
Triples—Gehrig, Tigers, 9; Cliff, Browns, 8.
Home runs—Fox, Red Sox, 19; Trosky, Indians, 18.
Stolen bases—Powell, Yankees, 12; Pict, White Sox, and Werber, Red Sox, 11.
Pitching—Pearson, Yankees, 10; Grove, Red Sox, 10-3.

AWARDS ON DISPLAY
Trophies and awards of all sizes and descriptions, destined to go to winners of the sports events here July 4, are being exhibited at the chamber of commerce.

Six tennis awards arrived Wednesday and were placed on display at the C. of C.

894; Myers (Oklahoma City) 102; Shelley (Fort Worth) 118.
Right field—Mosoff (Dallas) 648; Peel (Fort Worth) 98.
Utility outfield—Easterling (Oklahoma City) 262; Moser (Fort Worth) 244.
Manager—Gaston (Dallas) 644; Niehoff (Oklahoma City) 422; Peel (Fort Worth) 122.

U. S. MAY BE WEAK IN HURDLES

Rensa Draws North Votes For Catcher

George Tebbetts, Beaumont, Gets Southern Fans' Votes

(By United Press)

(This is another of a series of articles comparing players eligible to compete in the Texas league all-star game to be played at Dallas July 25.)

Texas league baseball fans seem to have no doubt in their minds about the ultimate selection of first-string catchers for the "north-south" all star game at Dallas July 25.

The "north" is voting heavy for George Rensa, 31-year-old Dallas catcher. George Tebbetts, Beaumont, is getting the majority of the "south's" votes.

Tebbetts—besides his natural ability to play ball, has youth. He is only 21 years old. He fields and bats right-handed.

He leads all Texas league catchers in batting, and ranks first of the "south" receivers in terms of assists, passed balls, bases allowed stolen, and men caught stealing.

Out of 58 games, Tebbetts has had 46 assists, 8 passed balls, 28 bases allowed stolen, and has caught 39 men stealing bases.

Rensa has almost as impressive a record. He is considered a good hitter. He leads the "north" with 61 assists, 5 passed balls, 30 allowed stolen bases, and 39 men caught stealing. He has played in 62 contests, which is more than any other catcher.

The "north" and "south" teams will each have two catchers. The second places was in doubt.

Seven receivers from both divisions are in a position to hold down the berths, although it is believed that Rensa and Tebbetts would be the regulars.

Others competing for the job behind the bat during the "dream" game, include:

North—Suce, Fort Worth; Brittain, Fort Worth; Warren, Oklahoma City; Fitzpatrick, Oklahoma City; Mealey, Tulsa, and Jackson, Tulsa.

South—Franks, Houston; Payton, San Antonio; Fabe, San Antonio; Cox, San Antonio; Conroy, Houston, and Mackie, Galveston.

In the "north," the second choice apparently will go either to Suce or Mealey. Mealey now is doing practically all the catching for Tulsa and is the only receiver in his division who is hitting .300.

Conroy arrived late in the circuit, but has begun to impress on-lookers who have accorded him a good vote.

Payton's ability to catch every game well past the quarter mark impresses many fans, although San Antonio has made him a second-string maskman.

WOULD RACE ON OLYMPIC TEAM

Glenn Cunningham, Kansas track ace, is training for a place on the U. S. Olympic team in the grueling distance events. (Associated Press Photo.)

Golfers Play Friday At CC

Women To Start Play On Country Club Links At 4 P. M.

Members of the women's golf association will meet at the country club tomorrow 4 p. m.

Pairings for the matches:

First flight—Hicks-Bloomfield; Phillips—Bristow, Stalcup—Rix; Browning-Worley.

Second flight—Bennett-Parks; Robb-Swartz, Ellington and Spence, byes.

It is no secret among Jake's friends outside of baseball that he had longed for the Yankee salary scale and a more frequent chance for world series cuts that would come with a Yankee contract.

Though, of course, only Jake himself knows the answer to the question, it has been thought that his smart play against the Yanks and his lack of team play this season has been brought about by his hope to be traded to Ruppert's gang. At any rate, it was quite evident that the Washington team was not getting the best out of Powell, in spite of the remarkable and daring base-running that has marked his play this season.

Besides his smart base-running, which has resulted in his scoring from second on a fly, scoring from second on a force play, short to second, taking two bases on an ordinary infield out, and leading the league in base stealing, Jake has resorted to rough tactics such as to incite an unfriendly attitude of opposing players toward the Washington club members.

Pist fights have narrowly been avoided a couple times after Powell's rough tactics on the bases, and naturally the Washington management isn't keen on letting its infielders spiked at cetera by opposing base runners as a form of retaliation.

But what they may have overlooked is the danger of having Powell himself dig into the ankles of the Nat inner guards with his spikes.

Powell's rough antics this year began when he collided with Hank Greenberg at first base in an early-season game, breaking the latter's wrist and putting him out of commission for an extended length of time. A bit later than this Tony Piet, of Chicago, gave Cliff Bolton a severe bumping at the plate, knocking the backstop out of the line-up, for which incident Powell undertook full responsibility of retaliation. Thus did the last eastern series between the Nats and White Sox resemble a Powell vs. White Sox infield tumbling match. Powell succeeded in knocking into the White Sox infielders when there was no need for such antics, and in turn was beaned by a pitch from Ted Lyons' right arm. This was, apparently, the last straw for Clark Griffith and Bucky Harris, who did not seem to be able to control Powell's attitude toward individualistic ball playing and rough base running in general.

For some reason never clearly made public, Chapman had a run-in with Powell.

Powell Shows Better With The Yankees

Trade Gives Washington Club Fastest Outfield In Baseball

NEW YORK, June 25—There is a whole lot behind that recent Powell-Chapman trade that isn't exactly on the open, and the circumstances in each of the players' cases seem to be much the same. In any and all the big league swaps, officials of each club involved would prefer to keep the fans of that fair city under the impression that the new-comer's ability, or type of ability, is better adapted to that team and its home diamond than that of the player for whom he was traded. But in some cases it is only the dull or disinterested fan who can see that there is no more than this to the deal.

For example, in the above-mentioned trade, the temperaments of the two players had much to do with the last-minute trading. Because of its many interesting angles, we'll expand a bit on the facts in this case, a typical "cover-up" deal.

On the face of things, it would seem that the Nats were foolish to give up a hitter with a .312 average in his first year (1935) for one whose record for the past season was .289 and for one who was hitting 30 points under his switch-hat for this season at the time of the trade.

With Chapman playing well, better ball with the Yanks. The Jakob began his baseball career with a happy-go-lucky spirit that netted him nothing in the way of revenue that he was able to save. Suddenly realizing that he was getting nowhere rapidly, Powell settled down to the serious art of baseball, and soon came up with the Nats. After making an immediate success with the Washington club, Powell came to the conclusion, and correctly so, that Clark Griffith, solely dependent on his American league franchise for the financial support of the club, would not be able to pay him the salary that would Jake Ruppert, team example, of the Yanks' front office.

It is no secret among Jake's friends outside of baseball that he had longed for the Yankee salary scale and a more frequent chance for world series cuts that would come with a Yankee contract.

Though, of course, only Jake himself knows the answer to the question, it has been thought that his smart play against the Yanks and his lack of team play this season has been brought about by his hope to be traded to Ruppert's gang. At any rate, it was quite evident that the Washington team was not getting the best out of Powell, in spite of the remarkable and daring base-running that has marked his play this season.

Besides his smart base-running, which has resulted in his scoring from second on a fly, scoring from second on a force play, short to second, taking two bases on an ordinary infield out, and leading the league in base stealing, Jake has resorted to rough tactics such as to incite an unfriendly attitude of opposing players toward the Washington club members.

Pist fights have narrowly been avoided a couple times after Powell's rough tactics on the bases, and naturally the Washington management isn't keen on letting its infielders spiked at cetera by opposing base runners as a form of retaliation.

But what they may have overlooked is the danger of having Powell himself dig into the ankles of the Nat inner guards with his spikes.

Powell's rough antics this year began when he collided with Hank Greenberg at first base in an early-season game, breaking the latter's wrist and putting him out of commission for an extended length of time. A bit later than this Tony Piet, of Chicago, gave Cliff Bolton a severe bumping at the plate, knocking the backstop out of the line-up, for which incident Powell undertook full responsibility of retaliation. Thus did the last eastern series between the Nats and White Sox resemble a Powell vs. White Sox infield tumbling match. Powell succeeded in knocking into the White Sox infielders when there was no need for such antics, and in turn was beaned by a pitch from Ted Lyons' right arm. This was, apparently, the last straw for Clark Griffith and Bucky Harris, who did not seem to be able to control Powell's attitude toward individualistic ball playing and rough base running in general.

For some reason never clearly made public, Chapman had a run-in with Powell.

On the face of things, it would seem that the Nats were foolish to give up a hitter with a .312 average in his first year (1935) for one whose record for the past season was .289 and for one who was hitting 30 points under his switch-hat for this season at the time of the trade.

With Chapman playing well, better ball with the Yanks. The Jakob began his baseball career with a happy-go-lucky spirit that netted him nothing in the way of revenue that he was able to save. Suddenly realizing that he was getting nowhere rapidly, Powell settled down to the serious art of baseball, and soon came up with the Nats. After making an immediate success with the Washington club, Powell came to the conclusion, and correctly so, that Clark Griffith, solely dependent on his American league franchise for the financial support of the club, would not be able to pay him the salary that would Jake Ruppert, team example, of the Yanks' front office.

TOWNS IN BEST OF THE GROUP

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—If even approximately duplicated in Berlin this August, the startling form manifest by our hurdlers, high and low, will suffice to heat anything the rest of the world has to offer in the Olympic games.

Such are the uncertainties, as well as the high percentage of mishaps in these scrambles over the barriers, that it is just as well not to wave the flag too briskly in advance. One of the interim risks involved in the possibility some of our best hurdlers will come a cropper in the final tryouts.

The U. S. A. may leave just as much top-notch hurdling talent at home as it possibly can take abroad, with a limit of three qualifiers for the 110-meter high hurdles as well as the 400-meter low.

Reading from west to south, the best high hurdling prospects are Phil Cope and Roy Staley of Southern California, Leroy Kirkpatrick of San Mateo Junior college, Sam Klopstock of Stanford, Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist, Al Moreau of Opelousas, La., and Forrest (Spec) Towns of Georgia.

If our memory for succulent statistics serves, one and all of these agile young men have done 14.3 seconds or better for 110 meters. Cope, Staley and Towns have touched the world record time of 14.1 and repeated. On paper, therefore, they loom as the all-star "triplets" of timber-topping but there's many a slip possible before the payoff.

Towns the Sensation
Towns is the year's most startling development in hurdling. Allen and Moreau, as well as Bowdoin's Phil Good, have records for consistency that cannot be overlooked in the clutch. Kirkpatrick, say our coast observers, is a potential world champion. Some bright day one of these lads is going to do 14 flat over the high sticks and jar the athletic world as vigorously as young Don Lash did with his two-mile romp at Princeton in world record time.

Least we become too patriotic on the subject, however, it is well to keep in mind that England has a young air officer named Donald Finlay who may show his heels to all our hurdlers. Finlay was third to the late George Saling of Iowa and Percy Beard, the world record holder, in the 1932 Olympics. His best time is 14.3 in a country where they don't worry about the stopwatch so long as they win. That is enough in itself to stamp Finlay as a first-rate threat and potential Olympic winner. He's just one against the U. S. A. but South Africa's Steve Atkinson beat three Yankee finalists to the tape in 1928. So it can be done.

Set Record But Lost
Glenn Hardin's return to form, based on what he showed at Princeton, is the most encouraging development in the 400-meter field. The rangy Louisiana holds the Olympic as well as the world record, but has yet to win an Olympic title. Four years ago he trailed Ireland's Bob Tisdall to the finish, enjoying the consolation of having his time of 53 seconds accepted as a new Olympic record after Tisdall's mark of 51.8 was nullified by a tipped-over hurdle. This obvious inconsistency prompted the international authorities to rule henceforth that no penalty will be attached to knocking over the barriers. Clearly it's a harder trick to win or crack a record by tripping over the hurdlers than it is otherwise.

Latest advice do not indicate Tisdall will defend the championship. He probably could not repeat over Hardin, anyway, and there appears no real foreign threat otherwise. So many athletes decided this spring that the low hurdles offered a gateway to making the American team that that may be a traffic jam at Randall's Island, July 11-12.

California's Tom Moore, Michigan's Bob Ongood and Princeton's Jack Irwin head the list of prospective mates for Hardin.

SCHEDULE SOFTBALL STANDINGS

SECOND HALF Games This Week
TONIGHT
Friday
Settles vs. Lab.
STANDINGS
	W.	L.	Pct.
Coden	2	2	0.1000
Shell	1	3	0.1000
Settles	1	0	1.0000
Continental	2	0	2.0000

MILK RATING
In publication of local milk permits Tuesday, W. G. Cole's rating should have read "A" grade instead of the "D" grade.

JONES ARGUES GOLF DECISION

HAMILTON, June 25. (Sp)—Dour Jones, young Big Spring golfer, lost in the semifinals of the Hamilton golf tournament here yesterday. But Jones did not go out without a wrangle. In fact, Doug disputed the decision most of the afternoon before the match was given to D. A. Harkrider of Brady.

Harkrider lost and won on the protest before it finally was definitely decided. The first ruling of the rules committee handed the hole to Jones. The ruling, however, was appealed and some three hours later another body reversed the first decision and handed the semifinal match to Harkrider.

The dispute arose on the eighteenth green, which Harkrider and Jones reached all square. After missing a long putt for a par four, Harkrider protested when Jones ran down an eight-footer for the hole and the match. He lodged the protest on the grounds that Jones had built up the sand around the cup, a violation of the rules.

Before the dispute crept into the match, Harkrider had rolled against Jones just as he did in defeating the medalist and favorite, J. T. Hammett of Eastland, in the first round. Three down and only seven to go, the straight shooting veteran grabbed 12, 13 and 14 to square the match. They halved 15, 16 and 17 and then came the argument.

It was on the edge of the green in three after missing a couple of short approaches and failed to get his putt down. Jones, to the right of the green in two, pitched in on three, eight feet away and knocked in the putt that caused the long wrangle.

With doctors earnestly advising an operation on his hip... the veteran Pop Warner may have to cancel his boat reservation for the Olympic games. Pop and Jim Thorpe—what a team, when big Jim was in his gridiron prime!

According to Jim Cunningham... a Dartmouth All-American of not too many years ago... Kirk Miller wears fancier hats... and more of them... than any sports editor in America.

Steve Hannagan was praise agent to Barney Oldfield... Miami Beach... Eddie Rickenbacker... and now to the new auto racing magnate... George Marshall.

While Steve has a marvelous memory for faces he's apt to strike out on names... but he'll remind you that he's sorry he can't recall yours... before you can chide him for forgetting it.

With the Dodgers taking the dust, two Brooklyn baseball fans fell to discussing the sad condition of their team. "They're terrible," moaned the first, "I never seen 'em worse."

"Oh, I dunno," countered the other, "what about 'em that year they had three runners on third base, one refusing to leave it, the second claiming it, and Babe Herman sliding into it, trying to stretch his two-bagger into three bases?"

Eddie Duchin... one of the tops among band leaders... is personally acquainted with more families of the owners of big racing stables... than any other old pilot waving a baton. They're ever alert to tip him off on their promising two-year-olds. But sometimes four of the leading stables run entries in the same race and then Eddie finds himself in a heck of a fix... he doesn't know which "inside tip" to string along with!

Harry Barnaby... a veteran Woodward Avenue (Detroit) fan... claims there's never been a baseball umpire with the crowd and player appeal of Tim Hurst.

Rowing in one of the big variety regattas... Oxford-Cambridge... calls for the longest sustained effort required of an athletic squad. Scarcely a let-up... a breather... stretch of 15 to 25 minutes. Just row... row... row... you hunkies... row... row... row! If he can continue his pace... as pinch-hitter... young Lovell Dean, of the Philadelphia Athletics... will set a new major league record for that department of the game. Just out of Duke university... the 21-year-old lad has hit safely... as a pinch-hitter... nine times. The season record is 22, held by Sam Leslie of the Giants. And Dean still has two-thirds of the campaign to go.

Four brothers of one family will be playing polo... as a team... on Long Island this fall. Bobby... Edward... and Henry Gerry... are playing on a winning four right now. When Ebby Gerry returns from his play with the American international four in England, he will join his brothers. And it will take nothing short of the best team that can be mustered... including Hitchcock and Guest... to beat them.

CHEMISTS, SHELL PLAY TONIGHT

Coden's Oilers set up a new season's record Wednesday night on the Munty diamond by swamping the Continental Pipelines, 35-13, for their second victory in the last half.

Hitting in every inning, the Codenites led from the start, but played loosely in the field to allow the Pipeliners the majority of their runs.

The Coden Chemists meet the hard-fighting Shell team tonight.

HOW THEY STAND

RESULTS YESTERDAY
Texas League
Houston 5-3, Oklahoma City 6-0.
San Antonio 4, Dallas 6.
Galveston 5, Tulsa 1.
Beaumont 3, Fort Worth 5.

American League
Philadelphia 3-2, Cleveland 4-14.
Boston 6, Detroit 7.
New York 15, Chicago 11.
Washington 7, St. Louis 4.

National League
Pittsburgh 3-4, New York 4-1.
Chicago at Boston, postponed, rain.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn, postponed, wet grounds.
St. Louis at Philadelphia, postponed, wet grounds.

LEAGUE STANDINGS
Texas League
Club—W. L. Pct.
Dallas... 44 30 .595
Beaumont... 39 28 .582
Oklahoma City... 41 32 .562
Houston... 38 31 .551
Tulsa... 40 36 .526
Galveston... 23 41 .360
Fort Worth... 27 45 .360
San Antonio... 25 49 .385

American League
Club—W. L. Pct.
New York... 42 21 .667
Boston... 38 29 .565
Washington... 31 31 .516
Cleveland... 33 31 .516
Detroit... 33 32 .508
Chicago... 29 32 .475
Philadelphia... 24 35 .387
St. Louis... 20 39 .345

National League
Club—W. L. Pct.
St. Louis... 39 23 .629
Chicago... 36 25 .590
Pittsburgh... 36 27 .571
New York... 35 27 .565
Cincinnati... 31 30 .508
Boston... 30 34 .469
Philadelphia... 21 42 .333
Brooklyn... 21 43 .328

TODAY'S GAMES
Texas League
San Antonio at Oklahoma City.
Beaumont at Tulsa.
Houston at Dallas.
Galveston at Fort Worth.
All night games.

American League
Philadelphia at Detroit.
New York at Chicago.
Boston at Cleveland.
Washington at St. Louis.

National League
Chicago at Boston.
St. Louis at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at New York.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.

Hearl on St. Louis' Broadway the other night:
Is it true, what they say about Max Baer? That he may fight again? Say it isn't so, Maxie!

Chlor is as necessary to a commercially successful athlete as it is to an actor. Sam (Junior) Parks won the National open golf set at Oakland last year... and cashed in on it for less than eight dollars. An able, likeable golfer is Parks, but lacking crowd magnetism, color. Tony Manero won the Open less than two weeks ago—pretzel! Before Tony was thoroughly cooled out, he was signed as pro for one of the leading Miami golf courses.

Warren Brown is for smaller purses for boxing champions... so their managers won't have to avoid matches on account of worrying about Uncle Sam income-taxing their "takes."

Much to the disappointment of three nationally famous Pacific Coast colleges... Eddie Frayne's strapping pride and joy has elected to enter St. Mary's... under Slip Madigan. Young Edward will take a pre-medical course—but not on the side, says Pa and Ma Frayne. Football is great, you know—but!

Mrs. J. W. McLaughlin of Austin will arrive Saturday to spend a month with her aunt, Mrs. John Clarke.

... A SURE "Sign" OF A GOOD STEIN

There are two reasons why "Coors on Tap" signs direct you to a good glass of beer. First—Coors Export Lager draught

FRED PERRY DEFEATS RYAN IN ALL-ENGLISH NET TOURNEY

ALLISON IS WINNER IN 3RD ROUND

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 25 (AP)—Fred Perry of England, bidding for his third successive All-English tennis singles title, trounced John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-2, 6-0, in the third round today.

Playing erratically, Wilmer Allison, American title holder, defeated Jacques Vandenberghe, Belgium, 8-6, 7-5, 7-6, while Adrian Quist, Australian champion, eliminated Jiro Itoh of Japan, 6-0, 6-0, 6-3.

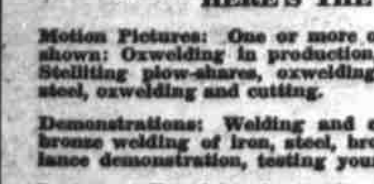

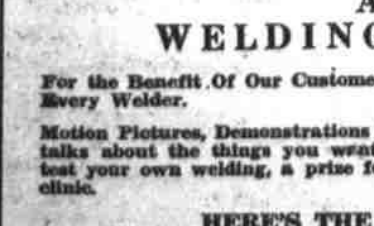

TEXAS LEAGUE LEADERS

Mosolf, Dallas	298	104	348
Peel, Fort Worth	223	77	346
Watwood, Houston	224	76	329
Martin, Houston	263	86	328
Moser, Fort Worth	158	52	328
Douglas-Mosolf, Dallas	27
Cullenbine (Beaumont)	28
Trilles-Watwood (Houston)	9
Martin (Houston)	8
Home runs—Stroner (Dallas)	17
Howell (Tulsa)	12
Stolen bases—Tauby (Dallas)	17
Brover (Oklahoma City)	17
Levey (Dallas)	15
Runs batted in—Howell (Tulsa)	69
Stroner (Dallas)	63

Class Sue Vastine, daughter of Mrs. T. R. Vastine, went home with her aunt, Miss Stella Covey, when she returned to Fort Worth.

GUS GULFSPRAY

HE ALWAYS GETS HIS BUG!

Powell

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4)

In with Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yanks a couple of years ago, and since that time a severe batting slump has marked his play, apparently a silent request to be traded. However, the peculiar angle to the Chapman part of the deal is the remembrance of Ben's run-in with Buddy Myer, captain of the Nats, and Earl Whitehill, dean of the Capital City pitching staff. Back in 1933; April 28, to be exact, Ben Chapman slid into Buddy Myer's station at second base with spikes gleaming at an unnecessary height, Myer narrowly escaping serious injury. The present (but not future) American league batting champ kicked at Chapman as he was picking himself up from the ground following the play, and a fist fight broke out that ended in suspension and fine of no little consequence to the team that had won the world's championship the year before and the team that won the American league title that year. Whitehill was drawn into the fracas when he addressed a few outland remarks at Ben following the Myer-Chapman tussle. The second fight was even a "bigger and better" one.

The question now is, "will Chapman's play return to its great heights of previous years under new management, or will his forced companionship with his former enemies prove a draw-back to his team play and hold down his performance?" Then again, perhaps Chapman's wanting to be traded was lessened considerably when the Yanks took over the league lead this year, and the switch to a team with a bare fighting chance for a first-division berth may not suit his temperamental taste at all, which would spell disaster for the Nats in the event that all goes well with Powell in the big city.

The trade, incidentally, gives Washington without a doubt the fastest outfield in baseball, an honor which they claimed even before the acquisition of Chapman. Chapman was fast enough to steal 61 bases his second year in the big show, and is still classed at the top in fleet-footedness. Johnny Stone was fast enough to be a member of his high school track team in Tennessee, and is still capable of moving around with the best of them. Jess Hill was a member of the Olympic team as a dash man, and starred in the 100-yard dash in his college days on the west coast. Carl Reynolds once raced Chapman for the unofficial title of speed king of the loop, and has lost none of his dashing ways since that time. Dee Miles has been rated the fastest player in the Southern Association has had in years, and Cecil Travis, the other outfielder, appears slow with his above-the-average speed only because of the ultra-speed of the other outfielders on the team.

The case of Van Mungo is indeed a tough one. Possessed of the fastest ball in either league by accurate measurement (at West Point), Van is relegated to the sorry Brooklyn team through no fault of his own, and, in order that that concern remain on its feet financially, is only drawing card in actual playing uniform must be kept from playing with a better team. Mungo represents the only streak of light in a sad looking roster and including only Bucher, Stripp, Hassett, Baker, and Jeffcoat along with Mungo having any major league future seeming definite. However, according to baseball law, which in its only test of legal character was found solid, Mungo must do what the Dodger management says or quit organized baseball. However, it might be that a trade carrying Mungo to a contending team would ruin his career, a la that of Danny MacFadden, who could always win for the then lowly Red Sox, but never for the Yanks. This should not happen in this case, however, with Mungo's speed apparently a thing to be feared for several years yet. But what with the Dodgers refusing a Leiber and Castleman for Mungo trade, it looks as though Van might be with Brooklyn for keeps.

Miss Colysta Fitzgerald of Lamesa and Miss Lela Boyd of Stanton have returned home after a visit here with Mrs. Jay Johnson.

OLYMPIC TEAM IS DUE TO BE A STARTLING RACE MIXTURE

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—There is plenty of indication that the United States Olympic track and field squad will be made up of a startling mixture of transplanted Irish, English, Swedish, German and other athletes, so it was fitting that the first to be named to the team should have been a native American—a full-blooded Indian. Ellison Brown, the Narragansett redskin, earned the right to represent the United States in the feature event of the program—the marathon—when he ran a flock of pale-face runners ragged and won a Boston race in April. Brown's trek of more than 26 miles covered the very territory through which his ancestors tracked deer and other game.

The presence of a full-blooded Indian on the American squad is certain to call to mind the fact that a few years ago we sent another native American to compete in the Olympics. Jim Thorpe was the fellow. He did very well, too. Back in 1912 Thorpe, a thoroughbred Sac and Fox Indian, out-ran, out-jumped and out-did all other candidates for Olympic glory. He walked off with the pentathlon and decathlon championships. He was easily the star of the show at Stockholm that year.

Made King Walt King Gustav of Sweden presented Thorpe with a flock of medals and trophies, but not until Indian Jim was good and ready to come and get them. After he had been proclaimed the greatest all-around athlete of modern Olympic games, the court chamberlain ordered him to appear before the Swedish monarch.

Jim was resting aboard the Finland, floating home of the American competitors, when the royal messenger presented himself. Thorpe informed the courier that he was perfectly comfortable right where he was. After all, his friends were all on board. And there was a sufficient amount of sweet and potent punch at hand to satisfy the demands of any Sac and Fox Indian. What did the king have to offer him that he did not already have, Jim wanted to know?

In due time Thorpe did appear, and if the Swedish monarch resented the Indian's slight he failed to show it. King Gustav greeted the great athlete most cordially. Jim collected his athletic spoils to the accompaniment of the cheers of the assembled thousands.

Maybe He Knew The noble redman might well have saved himself the trouble of claiming the trophies (perhaps subsequent happenings explained his reluctance to go and get them in the first place). A short time after he returned to this country the A.A.U. committee announced that Jim Thorpe had a past—a past that rendered him ineligible to compete against the world's amateurs for Olympic glory. The charge was that Jim had played a bit of baseball for money. Not much money—perhaps enough to cover his incidental expenses on the trip to Stockholm—but money, nevertheless.

All his Olympic prizes were packed and shipped back to Sweden. What eventually became of them no one knows. They stripped Thorpe of his trophies but they couldn't erase the picture of his all-conquering efforts on the cinder paths. To all who saw him, including King Gustav, the Indian remained the outstanding athlete of the 1912 Olympics.

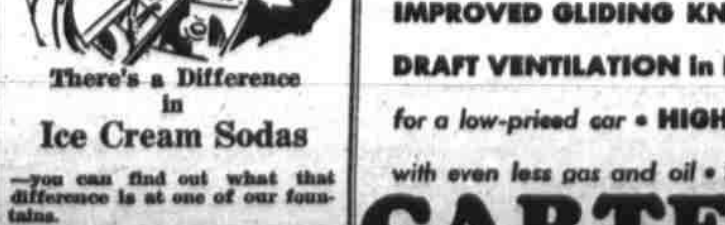

In the years that have followed, every all-around performer of merit has been compared with the great Sac and Fox. But there was only one Jim Thorpe—just as there has been only one Babe Ruth, one Bobby Jones, one Bill Tilden and one Johnny Weissmuller. Ellison Brown stands a fair chance of winning the Olympic classic—at least his chances are every bit as good as those of any of the men who will face the starter in Berlin. America has not won the Olympic marathon since little Johnny Hayes grabbed the laurel wreath at London in 1908 after the much-discussed finish in which the Italian runner, Dorando, was helped over the line ahead of the field.

Rosalind Rules Future Book At Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y., June 25 (UP)—Rosalind, 3-year-old filly who lost only two races as a juvenile last season, rules the future book favorite to capture the Hambletonian stake on Aug. 12.

Billy Dickerson drove the little bay sopper to a 2-03 victory in her last race in 1935 and he says Rosalind will not be beaten on the 1936 Grand Circuit.

Trotting fans will get their next glimpse of Rosalind in action when the Grand Circuit opens at Cleveland June 29. Easterners

By LARRY BAUER

Increased water over the northwest has left lakes and streams in better condition than they have reached at any other time since the drought of the early 1930's, according to Cy Platten, writer and sportsman, who knows the region.

From the Brule river to the haunts of pike in northern Minnesota, this season has found more than the average number of fishermen ready for the annual inaugural and, judging from reports, they are getting fish aplenty. A wide variety of fish attract the pictorial army. They begin on the shallow lakes of Dakota, prairies where the bullhead teams with the sunfish to provide outdoor recreation, and end with the muskellunge, known as the "tiger of both beats. Other reelinmen usually drop a horse into a pocket and save her till the stretch.

Deciding to reverse the usual procedure, Billy took Rosalind out in front and kept her there during the north," which lures fishermen by the thousands.

Trouting districts hold the spotlight for the fly artist. Along Michigan and Wisconsin streams may be observed the ardent Wal-tonite, hat strung or book filled with "floaters" and "sunkens," whipping his rod with a smile of satisfaction because there is something in his creed besides moss.

In the Minnesota-Wisconsin sector of the Mississippi nine-foot channel dam fishermen are praising the water-heads as a top-notch hang-out for the wall-eyed pike, a table favorite. Catches commonly are made of four- and five-pounders.

He Can Prove It This one was told by Herbert Woodcock. He has photographs and witnesses to prove it.

While fishing on the Neosho river in Kansas, Woodcock hooked a one- and one-half pound channel catfish. As he was pulling it in a yellow catfish grabbed the smaller one and Woodcock landed both. The larger fish weighed eight and one-half pounds.

Timberland Tragedy

Retreating winter disclosed one of nature's tragedies in the mountains near Etana, Wyo.—the death of 77 elk in a snowslide.

D. L. Roberts, boy scout executive, discovered the carcasses in a deep ravine. They had remained hidden beneath a snowbank until it was melted by warm weather.

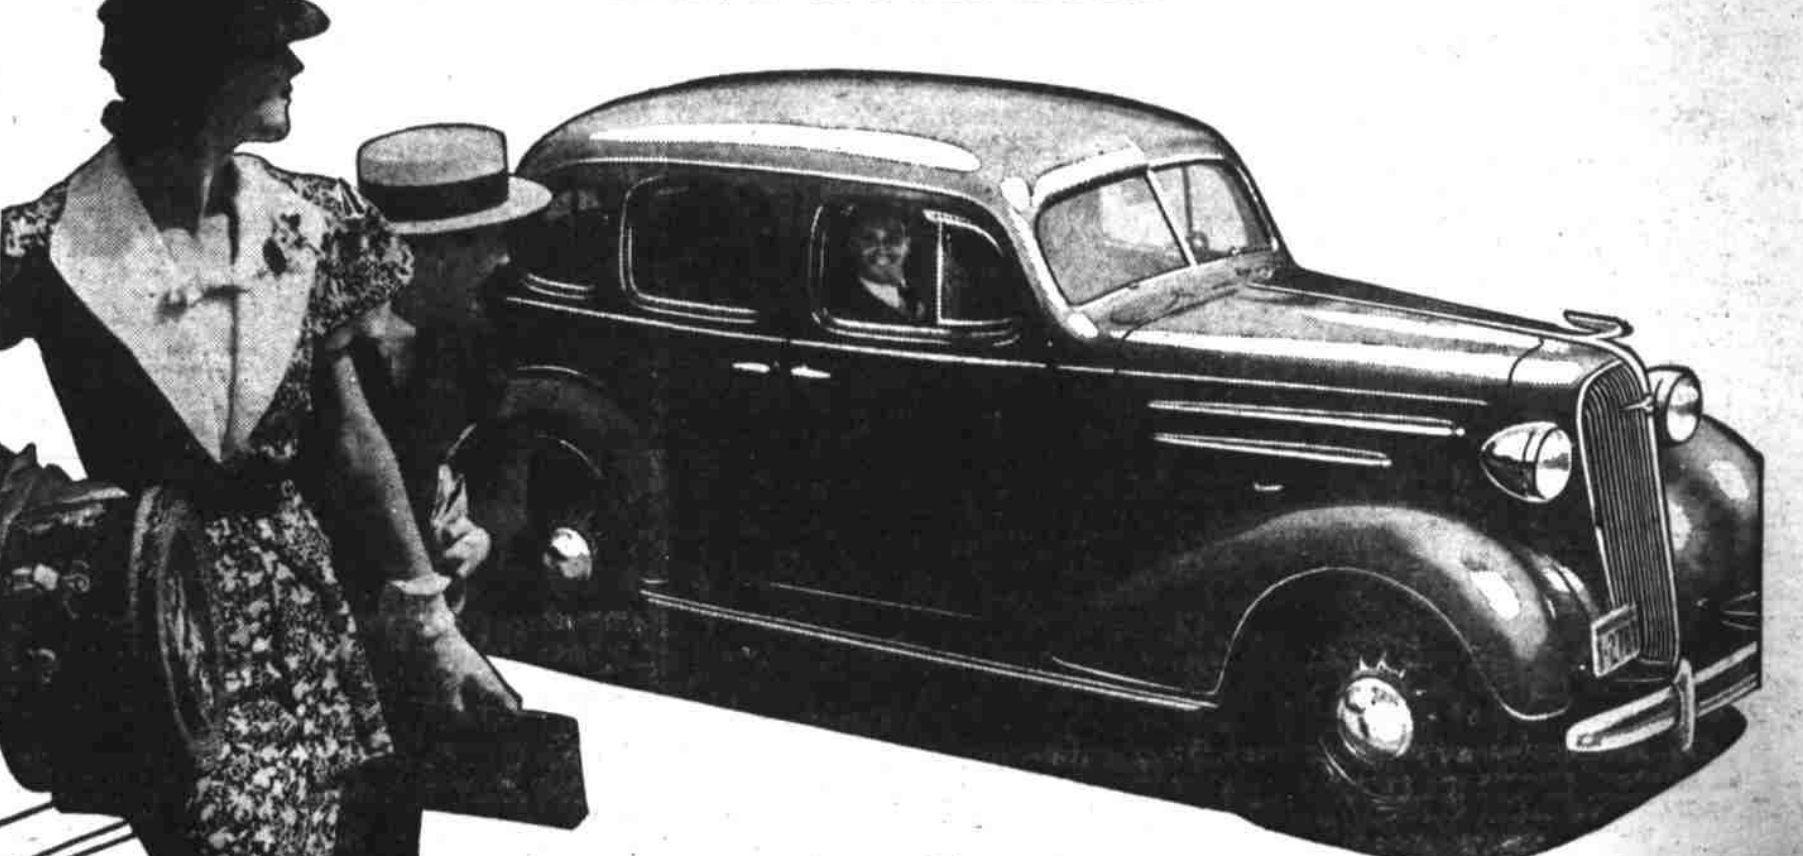

George Crain of Shreveport, La., has qualified as an expert at the age of 14 by designing a fly rod lure he describes as the "white rider." It is a colored minnow head with goat hair.

Mrs. B. W. Boyd and son and Miss Grace Wilkes have returned from a trip to various points in Louisiana.

P-R-I-N-T-I-N-G
T. E. JORDAN & CO.
118 W. First St.
Just Phone 488

MORE THAN 800,000 NEW 1936 CHEVROLETS have been sold

America is giving overwhelming preference to Chevrolet because it's The only complete low-priced car

MORE than 800,000 new 1936 Chevrolets have been built and sold—more than four-fifths of a million since announcement day—the largest volume of business that Chevrolet has enjoyed in any comparable period in its entire history.

Record-breaking sales always indicate record-breaking value, and that is why we are printing these figures. They are important, not because they establish a record, but because they carry the following message to all people who have yet to buy their 1936 cars.

America is choosing Chevrolet because America is convinced that Chevrolet represents the most motor car for the least money.

"The most motor car," because it's the only low-priced car with such vitally important features as New Perfected Hydraulic Brakes and Solid Steel one-piece Turret Top for greatest safety; Improved Gliding Knee-Action Ride*, Shockproof Steering* and Genuine Fisher No Draft Ventilation for greatest comfort; and a powerful High-Compression Valve-in-Head Engine for the most efficient all-round performance.

And "the least money," because Chevrolet's low purchase price, low operating costs and low maintenance costs make it the most economical of all cars to own.

America is saying these splendid things about Chevrolet with actual buying orders! Follow America's judgment. Place your order for a new 1936 Chevrolet—the only complete low-priced car!

NEW PERFECTED HYDRAULIC BRAKES (Double-Acting, Self-Articulating), the safest and smoothest brakes ever developed • SOLID STEEL ONE-PIECE TURRET TOP, a crown of beauty, a fortress of safety • IMPROVED GLIDING KNEE-ACTION RIDE*, the smoothest, safest ride of all • GENUINE FISHER NO DRAFT VENTILATION in New Turret Top Bodies, the most beautiful and comfortable bodies ever created for a low-priced car • HIGH-COMPRESSION VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE, giving even better performance with even less gas and oil • SHOCKPROOF STEERING*, making driving easier and safer than ever before

ALL THESE FEATURES AT CHEVROLET'S LOW PRICES

$495 AND UP. List price of New Standard Coupe at Flint, Michigan. With bumper, spare tire and tire lock, the list price is $520 additional. *Knee-Action on Master Models only, $250 additional. Prices quoted in this advertisement are list at Flint, Michigan, and subject to change without notice. A General Motors Value.

CARTER CHEVROLET COMPANY

Big Spring, Texas

Announcing--- A WELDING CLINIC

For the Benefit Of Our Customers A Program Of Interest To Every Welder.

Motion Pictures, Demonstrations by the Linde Service Engineer, talks about the things you want to know, questions answered, test your own welding, a prize for the best weld made at the clinic.

HERE'S THE PROGRAM:

Motion Pictures: One or more of the following pictures will be shown: Oxyacetylene in production, oxyacetylene for profit, Haynes Steeling, glow-shares, oxyacetylene piping, oxyacetylene structural steel, oxyacetylene and cutting.

Demonstrations: Welding and cutting steel, H-test welding, bronze welding of iron, steel, bronze, aluminum welding oxygen lance demonstration, testing your weld.

Lectures: Repairing for profit.

This clinic will be held in cooperation with the Linde Air Products Co., by the

Harry Lester Auto Supply at Bailey & Allredge Garage

South Scary Street From Noon Until 5:30 P. M. Thursday

QUEEN MARY OF ENGLAND AND HER GRANDCHILDREN

This exclusive new portrait shows the queen mother of England with the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret, children of the Duke and Duchess of York, and the baby Prince Edward, son of the Duke and Duchess of Kent. (Associated Press Photo—World Copyright, 1935, by The London Times)

JIMMY AND BETTY EUROPE BOUND

Jimmy Walker, former mayor of New York, shown boarding the liner Normandie with his wife, the former Betty Compton, to sail for England where he'll represent several clients in legal matters. He said he would support the Democratic ticket in the coming presidential contest. (Associated Press Photo)

FIVE WOUNDED IN OHIO STRIKE VIOLENCE

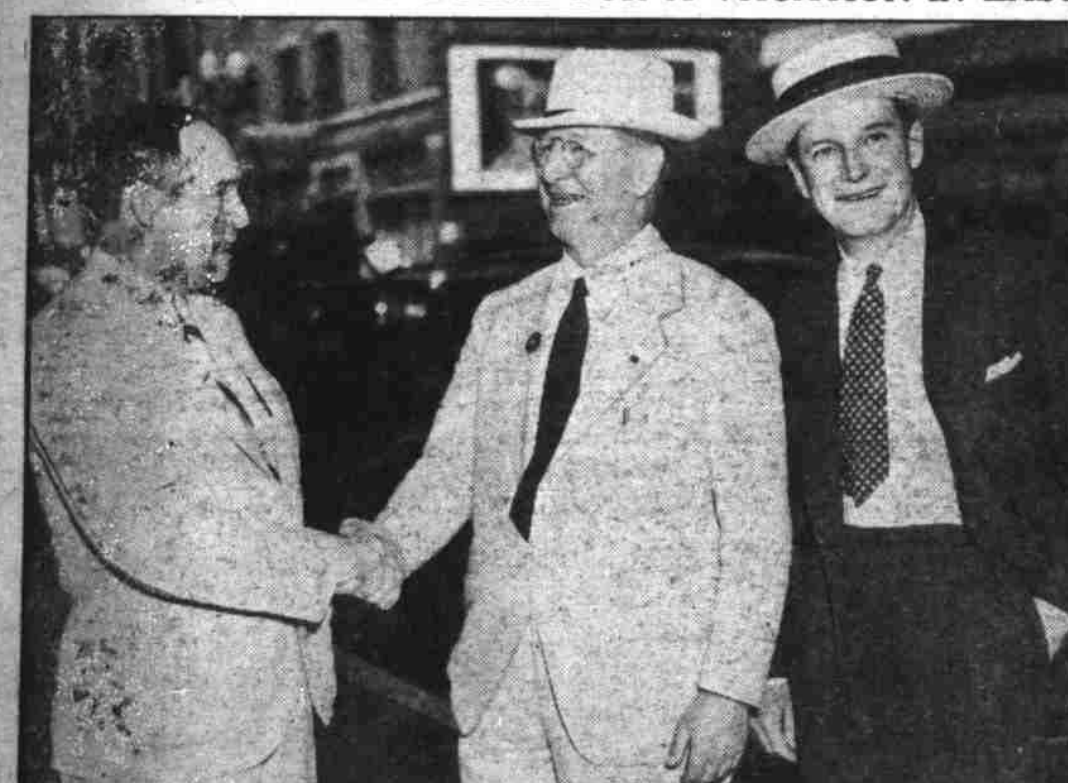

Embattled union workers kept the Black & Becker plant at Kent, O., besieged for four hours under a hail of rifle fire following a tear gas barrage flare-up. Five men were wounded. A section of the "firing line" is shown above. (Associated Press Photo)

G. O. P. LEADERS—PAST AND PRESENT, CONFER

Charles G. Dawes (left), former Republican vice-president, Frank O. Lowden (center), former governor of Illinois, who turned down the nomination in 1924, and Col. Frank Knox, the 1936 G.O.P. vice-presidential nominee, shown as they took lunch together at the Chicago Union League Club. (Associated Press Photo)

KNOX HOMEWARD BOUND FOR A VACATION IN EAST

Oscar Stauffer (left), Arkansas City, Kas., publisher, shown as he greeted Col. Frank Knox (center), G. O. P. vice-presidential nominee, on his arrival in Kansas City for a luncheon. John D. Hamilton, new G. O. P. national committeeman (right), accompanied Knox to Kansas City after conferring at Topeka with Gov. Alf M. Landon, presidential nominee, on plans for the coming campaign. (Associated Press Photo)

ZEP TRIP EDUCATIONAL FOR BABE

Mrs. Melvin K. Whiteleather and her 6-month-old son, Alan Kerr, shown disembarking from the Zeppelin Hindenburg at Lakehurst, N. J. Mrs. Whiteleather, wife of a member of the Associated Press' Berlin bureau, said the air voyage forced the baby to learn to drink from a glass. The nipple to his bottle was lost early in the journey and another was not to be had. (Associated Press Photo)

FAMOUS GEMS SOLD TO HEIRESS

These gems shown being worn by Ganna Walska (above), Polish opera singer and former wife of Harold F. McCormick, are the Napoleonic emeralds which she is reported to have sold to the Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, Woolworth Heiress, the price reported to have been $1,200,000. (Associated Press Photo)

Admits Strangling

Albert Walter, Jr. (above), of New York, shown as he smoked a cigarette in the glare of a police spotlight after leading San Francisco officers to the body of Blanche Cousins, 28. Police said he confessed the silk stocking strangulation because his conscience bothered him. (Associated Press Photo)

BONUS WHOOPIE ENDS IN TRAGEDY

Harry Olson (right), was arrested at Salt Lake City after his mother, Mrs. Christine Olson, 72 (left), was killed by an automobile he had purchased with bonus money. Police said Olson apparently backed over his mother who admonished him not to drive after celebrating bonus payment. (Associated Press Photo)

EXIT THE 'BROWN BOMBER'

Joseph Louis Barrow, who came from an Alabama cabin to the fringe of fame in the squared circle, found the downhill road steep and straight. Like a fugitive from justice he cringed behind his straw hat (above) as he left Yankee stadium in New York after losing by a knockout in the twelfth round of his battle with Max Baer. (Associated Press Photo)

Latest in Beach Wear

Miss Marjorie Brooker of New York (above), is shown wearing the latest word in 1935 summer beach fashion wear exhibited at the fashionable Longshore Club, Westport, Conn. She is carrying a surf board and brightly colored beach bag. (Associated Press Photo)

WIFE SLAIN IN MYSTERY CASE

Mrs. Eleanor Feely (left), 30, wife of Martin Feely (right), University of Pittsburgh instructor, and her two small children were found slain in their home under mysterious circumstances. Feely, returning home from a New Jersey boys' camp, believed they had been murdered. (Associated Press Photo)

'Down She Comes!'

A 200-foot brick stack at an old Lowell, Mass., was wait on the way to oblivion when this photo was snapped. Workmen who pulled out foundation supports to raise it had to make a quick sprint to safety. (Associated Press Photo)

LOBBYIST GIVES HIS FOE EARFUL

William B. Shearer (left), the big navy lobbyist, shown as he bearded Senator Hugo Black of Alabama, foremost senate foe of lobbies, at a pre-convention encounter at Philadelphia. The meeting was in a hotel lobby. (Associated Press Photo)

Senator Clark Out To Avenge His Father's Loss Of The Presidency

Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, as chairman of the rules committee for the democratic national convention, demands the death penalty for the "two-thirds rule" that cost his father, the late Champ Clark, a presidential nomination in 1912. Father and son are shown together above.

WASHINGTON, June 25. (UP)—A son will avenge the defeat of his father for president if the democrats scrap the "two-thirds rule" at Philadelphia.

The son is Bennett Champ Clark, United States senator from Missouri. The father was the late Champ Clark, speaker of the house who lost the democratic nomination at Baltimore in 1912 after receiving a majority of the votes on early ballots.

Senator Clark, as chairman of the rules committee for the national democratic convention at Philadelphia, will report the resolution calling for abrogation of the 104-year-old two-thirds rule.

Invented by Jackson "To say that it will give me a sentimental pleasure," says Clark, "is putting it mildly. I've been hoping it up to do away with that thing all my life."

Introduced at the first democratic convention in Baltimore in 1833 as a move of Andrew Jackson to impede John C. Calhoun, the rule requiring a two-thirds vote to nominate has prevented two majority candidates from winning a presidential nomination.

On the 10th ballot Clark mustered 136 votes, 11 more than a majority, to Woodrow Wilson's 352. Yet eventually Wilson was nominated and subsequently elected president.

That defeat embittered Champ

There's a Difference in Ice Cream Sodas

—you can find out what that difference is at one of our fountains.

"BIG SPRING'S SWEET AIR DENTIST" DENTAL DOLLAR DAYS!

LAST DAY TODAY, ENDING JUNE 25
Dr. Harris Offers These Marvelous High Quality Dental Values.

WHY!
1. To fill a community need of placing the best in dentistry within reach of each and everyone requiring such work.

2. To celebrate the return of prosperity to West Texas, Dr. Harris offers his PROSPERITY SPECIAL!

Extraction Special
ANY TOOTH EXTRACTED With Or Without SWEET AIR

$1
(Wisdom Teeth Excepted)

Filling Special
PORCELAIN OR AMALGAM

$1
(Limited One to Each Patient)

Plate Repair Special
Not More Than One Break

Not More Than One Tooth Missing
$1
(Limited One To Each Patient)

FOR TEN DAYS ONLY!
DR. HARRIS
215 MAIN ST. DIRECTLY OPPOSITE WOOLWORTHS

Hours 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Daily Except Sunday

THIS DOLLAR SPECIAL ABSOLUTELY CLOSING JUNE 25 "BIG SPRING'S SWEET AIR DENTIST"

Sports Fodder

NEW YORK, June 25.—The votes of 70,000 baseball fans will pick the players to make up the American and National league All-Stars teams which meet July 7.

Eugene Fitz-Dixon, former captain of the United States Davis cup team, has purchased a one-third interest in the Philadelphia professional football team which went $48,000 into the "red" last fall.

Schoolboy Rowe is blaming his arm trouble on bad teeth. There is a six-hole golf course on the infield of the Indianapolis speedway.

Philadelphia promoters are offering James J. Braddock $300,000 to meet Leroy Haynes in a title defense bout.

Eddie Rickenbacker now gets nervous if the speedometer gets up around 60 miles an hour. . . . On May 24 and 25 the New York Yankees scored a grand total of 62 runs. . . . Ralph de Palma holds the record for Indianapolis auto races, covering 4,061 miles in 10 starts and being alive to talk about it. . . . Kneekers at the National Open golf tournament were seen only on Horton Smith, Ky. Laffoon, Johnny Marion, Joe Egan and Gene Sprasen. . . . Marvin McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt, once used a lawn mower to trim away a piece of "rough" in searching for a ball out of bounds on the Miami Biltmore country club golf course. . . . Leslie Madison, of the Hollywood, Calif., country club, taught Keneaw Mountain Landis and Gene Tunney how to play golf and is now instructor to the movie star, Ruby Keeler.

Carrying the ball in modern football style was originated by William Webb Ellis (1825), who as a Rugby college soccer player ran with the ball once in a soccer game. . . . Bob Harlow, tournament bureau chief of the Professional Golfers association, and formerly manager of Walter Hagen, is again syndicating a golf column. . . . The New York Giants are raking the minor leagues for a good pitcher. . . . The feud between Gene Sarazen and Henry Picard, pro knights of the fairways and greens, was caused by the former's remark that Picard is "just a flash in the pan."

OAK HARBOR, O. (UP)—Because of a 50 per cent increase over last year in the number of cavalry troop officers stationed at the Erie proving grounds government range, men will be quartered in rooms in Oak Harbor, seven miles away.

Watson Hammonds Eight o'Clock High Scorers

Mrs. Frank Rutherford extended the hospitality of her home to members of the Eight o'Clock bridge club Wednesday evening with a pretty bridge party.

The Watson Hammonds scored highest for couples and Mrs. Crosthwait won the bingo prize.

Playing were Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. George Crosthwait, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allen, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Miller, and a guest couple, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Percy.

The Crosthwaits will entertain next.

In 1900 the buggy manufacturing industry was a billion dollar industry.

Tax Taken Profit Due

DENVER (UP)—State Treasurer Charles M. Armstrong has increased his stock of sales tax to tens with an eye toward reaping a profit for the state. He estimates the state will receive $1.49 a thousand and sells them for $2.

Aerial Trade Junket Tried

FRESNO, Calif. (UP)—The old-time commercial club excursion in a special train is giving way to aerial junkets. One sponsored by a wine association put thirty privately owned airplanes in the air for a four-day trade-boosting trip to Bakersfield, Calif.; Las Vegas, Nev.; Salt Lake City, Utah, and Reno, Nev.

Dist Harned for Death

WICHITA, Kan. (UP)—A Kansas dust storm is blamed for the death of Harold Edward Mische, whose wife was suing the Metropolitan Casualty Insurance company to recover damages on a policy. The widow charges the dust storm caused a streptococcal infection which resulted in the death of Mische. She asks $1,000.

Synthetic Volcano Planned

CALISTOGA, Calif. (UP)—California is tired of waiting for Mount Lassen and other local and presumably extinct volcanoes to spout. Contracts have been let to stage the best imitation possible from the crater of Mount Saint Helena on the Fourth of July.

FOLLOW THE CROWDS TO PENNEY'S

OPEN HOUSE

TO MEET PENNEY'S NEW MANAGER

Our store and personnel has been reorganized to better serve our needs and give the service that the public has a right to expect.

Friday and Saturday
June 26th and 27th

A business get-together, of course, but a very happy occasion for value wise shoppers. NEW MANAGER'S FEATURES in every department . . . and he aims to get off on the right foot! Come in and look over these unusual bargains.

Week End CASES

Sturdily Made! Value!

98c

11" in size. Two nickel locks post leather handle, grained fibre cover. Pocket in lid. Buy now!

New Manager's FEATURE

Boys' Shirts and Shorts

2 for 25c

While They Last

Men's DRESS SHIRTS

49c

Fast Colors
Sizes 14 to 17

Men's Rayon Socks

Sizes 10 to 15c

While They Last

Men's Blue Work Shirts

Blue Chambray 29c

While They Last

Men's Broadcloth Pajamas

87c

Fast Colors, Full Cut, Well Made

Men's Oxfords

Sizes 6 to 11 Solid Leather Soles and Counters

2.98

While They Last

Men's
'Kerchiefs

6 for 19c

While They Last

Men's Work Shoes

Solid Leather Insoles and Counters

1.49

While They Last

Boys'
Wash Pants

Sanforized Sprunk . . . 98c

While They Last

Men's Harvest Hats

5c

While They Last

PLENTY OF ICE COLD WATER

Turkish Towels

20 x 36

9c

Colonial Bed Spreads
Jacquard Design

98c

Cool! Crisp! Summery!
BLOUSES

49c

Women's

RAYON PANTIES

2 for

33c

Women's and Children's ANKLETS

Low Priced At

10c pr.

A big variety of colors and patterns, in cotton, mercerized, or rayon plaid anklets. 5 to 10.

FACIAL TISSUE

500 Sheets to Box

19c

All White

Women's Acetate Dresses

98c

Sizes 14 to 42

Women's Novelty
Organdie
Dresses

88c

New Shades and Patterns
Sizes 14 to 42

TOWELS

Size 20 x 36

9c

White with Colored Borders

Weeks of planning and preparation with the cooperation of the district manager and our New York buyer has enabled us to bring to you the greatest selling event ever brought to this store.

We hope that we have enough for all but due to the unusual value of many of these items we suggest that you come early so as not to be disappointed. Doors open 8 a. m. Thursday.

New Manager's FEATURE

Flour Sacks

98 Lb. Size
Just the thing for Tea Towels 5c

While They Last

Unbleached Sheeting

2 1/2 Yds. 42c

While They Last

Solid Color
Towels

Size 19 x 36 . . . 12c

While They Last

600 Yards
Unbleached
Muslin 5c

While They Last

300 Yards
Dress Prints

Fast Color 7c

While They Last

Ladies' Rayon Slips

California Top, Lace Trimmed . . . 45c

While They Last

9 A. M.
Dress Special

Fast Color Wash Dresses . . . 25c

While They Last

Porto Rican Gowns

Good Quality . . . 19c

While They Last

MEET YOUR FRIENDS HERE

PENNEY'S

J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Incorporated

WHERE BIG SPRING SHOPS AND SAVES

Big Spring Daily Herald

Published Sunday morning and each weekday afternoon except Saturday, by

BIG SPRING HERALD, Inc.

JOE W. GALBRAITH, Publisher
 ROBERT W. WHITNEY, Managing Editor
 MARVIN K. HOUSE, Business Manager

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS
 Subscribers desiring their addresses changed will please state in their communication both the old and new addresses.

Office 210 East Third St.
 Telephone 728 and 729

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
 DAILY HERALD

One Year	Mail	Carrier
$2.00	$5.00	$5.00
Six Months	$2.75	$3.35
Three Months	$1.50	$1.75
One Month	$1.50	$1.50

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE
 Texas Daily Press League, Mercantile Bank Bldg., Dallas, Texas
 Lathrop Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., 180 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, 270
 Lexington Ave., New York

This paper's first duty is to print all the news that is fit to print honestly and fairly to all, unbiased by any consideration, even including its own editorial opinion.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in any issue of this paper will be cheerfully corrected upon being brought to the attention of the management.

The publishers are not responsible for copy omissions, typographical errors that may occur further than to correct it the next issue after it is brought to their attention and in no case do the publishers hold themselves liable for damages further than the amount received by them for actual space covered by the error. The right is reserved to reject or edit all advertising copy. All advertising orders are accepted on this basis only.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All right for republication of special dispatches are also reserved.

LOOSE THINKERS—WILD TALKERS

Reports from eye and ear witnesses of the Democratic convention at Philadelphia bear out the previous belief of the average citizen who gave the gathering any thought, that while it is primarily a gathering to nominate Roosevelt and Garner for another term it has proved to be an arena in which various and sundry ambitious politicians, male and female, are struggling for prominence.

The nomination of the present incumbents of the presidency and vice-presidency was a foregone conclusion. They had already been endorsed by an overwhelming majority of the states, with no mention of others, so all that was left was for the delegates to act as the claque for the spotlight seekers.

Glancing over the roster of the resolutions committee, which is named to draw a platform, one finds that it is composed largely of senators, representatives and presidential appointed office holders. So that the platform instructing members of congress what the party stands for, is supposed to be made by those members, and naturally they will make it easy on themselves so far as they are able. The platform seems however to have been drawn at the White House and in view of past events it is probable that this draft will be reported out with little if any change. Then it will be enthusiastically endorsed by the hundreds of delegates, a small percentage of whom will be able to tell what is in the document for which they vote.

Probably that is the way conventions have to be conducted nowadays, and probably it is the best way, everything considered, for it does appear, from some of the suggestions that are put forward from time to time, that this country is woefully deficient in what we used to call statesmanship, and long on loose thinkers and wild talkers.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Until the WPA came along, most New Yorkers had not heard of the Lafayette theater, although they had heard of Harlem, to be sure.

But any night of late one might think all New York had come to crowd itself—7,000,000 strong—into the Lafayette theater.

Was it hot swing music or hot swing dances that lured them?

Was it dusky belles in a rhythmical review?

Not at all.

It was a play.

By William Shakespeare.

A little thing he tossed off, called "Macbeth."

With a colored cast.

If you haven't seen the Lafayette "Macbeth" you don't know your Shakespeare. It is possible that after seeing it you still won't know your Shakespeare.

You remember the witches on the heath? Under the ministrations of New York's colored brethren, this becomes a jungle voodoo number, with Hecate as a witch doctor. And is it wild, hot and weird!

As for Macbeth, he wears a uniform that is a negro's dream of a uniform—all color and sashes and shining boots and glittering pieces of brass here and there. The whole cast, in fact, is attired in a variety of uniforms that range from the national guard of Liberia to the dazzling holiday attire of officers who are dukes and barons. The whole stage seethes with color.

An innovation is blunderbuss-pistols (they look like automobile horns, and probably are) with which about half a dozen of the characters are bumped off on the stage, instead of in the traditional manner, with sword and dagger.

The banquet at which Banquo's ghost appears to trouble Macbeth becomes a scene such as might have been seen in pre-war days at a Viennese rout, with dazlingly attired officers and their ladies dancing. To give this scene an original air, a dusky little maid moves about with a tray, dispensing highballs. This panicked the house.

It was remarked by several members of the town's intelligentsia that Shakespeare is so wonderful that he breaks through with his great lines, the force and drama and poetry of his genius, no matter what treatment he is given on the stage. Aside from this, on purely technical grounds, much praise was lavished—deservedly—on the costuming, stage direction and lighting which made this production of "Macbeth" a treat that lured downtowners and midtowners to the heart of Harlem.

(It was reported that a London producer had wired an offer to the entire cast to bring the production, lock, stock and barrel, to England.)

Incidentally, WPA plays in this city have been breaking records all along. "Triple A Plowed Under" played to standing room and extended its run because of the demand. "Murder in the Cathedral," by T. S. Eliot, was a literary and theatrical event of the young season. If this be boondoggling, so be it.

Mal Hallett, the orchestra leader, probably holds all the travel records in this country. . . . In the last 10 years he has led his band over 50,000 miles of rail, playing from coast to coast and back again a dozen times. . . . He has appeared in every city, town, middlesex and village in New England.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

PHILADELPHIA—A little drama enacted during the closing hours of congress is causing the behind-the-scenes boys of this convention more secret agony than any debate over two-thirds rule or platform. Ruefully they admit that this dramatic play may lose Pennsylvania for Roosevelt, may also swing Ohio and West Virginia away from him.

It happened while the senate was racing toward the wind-up. Seated in the gallery were John L. Lewis, powerful pro-Roosevelt chief of the United Mine Workers, and William Green, quivering head of the American Federation of Labor, who bitterly oppose each other in the conflict between craft and industrial unionism.

Both were sponsoring bills vital to their interests. Green was backing the Walsh-Haley bill applying NRA code standards to government contracts. Lewis was backing the new Guffey coal bill permitting price-fixing and thereby union wages in the coal industry.

Suddenly, with no warning, Senator Pittman, president pro tem, called up the Walsh-Haley bill, and without half the senate knowing what he was doing, yelled: "Without objection the bill is passed. The ayes have it." Senator Hale, Maine republican, called for the "ayes and nays," but Pittman overruled him.

Thus Bill Green's bill was made law. Simultaneously, Bill Hushing, chief lobbyist of the A. F. of L., was busy lobbying against John Lewis' bill.

New deal politicians, who knew what the Guffey bill meant to the coal miner vote, threw duck-fits.

White House Appeal

John L. Lewis is the staunchest labor supporter Roosevelt has. Not only did he buy $5,000 worth of advertising in the convention book, but he also bought $12,500 worth of books, and paid $1,000 for a ring side box at the convention. His 500,000 mine workers are counted upon by Jim Farley to swing Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia.

So, during the closing hours of congress, Jim Farley called the White House from Philadelphia, told Presidential Secretary Marvin McIntyre that the Guffey bill must be passed.

"If necessary, hold congress in recess until the convention is over," Jim urged. "Otherwise we lose the state of Pennsylvania."

Other master minds in Philadelphia also called the White House, emphasized how serious would be the mine's political reaction.

What the White House did is not known. McIntyre spent part of Saturday afternoon in the cocktail lounge of the Mayflower. Twice, however, he called John L. Lewis, urged him—of all people—to do something about Senator Hastings, republican opponent to the bill. (Lewis and Hastings get along like two wildcats.)

In the end, Sen. Joe Robinson, the man whom Roosevelt went all the way to Arkansas to bless, got the floor at 10 minutes of midnight and moved the concurrent resolution adjourning the senate.

The Guffey bill did not pass. To force its passage, the administration could have begun real work on it a week before, or congress could have been held over.

Instead, a spokesman for Roosevelt telephoned Lewis to say that the democratic platform would include a plank favoring the Guffey bill.

"That's mere lip service," Lewis replied. "It will take eight months or a year to pass a new bill, and during all that time what becomes of my men?"

A few minutes later, another phone call came from Philadelphia. One of Farley's assistants informed Lewis that Norman Thomas and Gardner Jackson were planning to picket the convention with striking share-croppers from Arkansas. He wanted Lewis, who has given encouragement to the share-croppers' strike, to call off the picketing.

"Why in hell should I pull your chestnuts out of the fire?" Lewis growled in reply. "What have you fellows done for me?"

"Well, it isn't going to help you and it will only hurt us," Farley's man replied. He also promised that Jackson and Thomas could have a conference with Joe Robinson, "czar of Arkansas," in Philadelphia in order to adjust the share-cropper dispute.

This message, when relayed to Norman Thomas by long distance telephone, received this response: "Well, that may be very nice for the democrats, but I'm running for president of the United States on the socialist ticket and I'm going ahead with this."

Meanwhile, leaders of the share-cropper movement are drafting a plank for the Coughlin-Lemke third party which would put it categorically on record for the emancipation of the tenant farmer.

No wonder that, between coalminers and share-croppers, new deal master minds who know Roosevelt must get the labor-farm vote to win, are worried.

Merry-Go-Round

Signs over a door at democratic national committee headquarters: "James A. Farley, chairman"—and directly under it a framed notice reading, "pink room."

The presence of the democratic host means nothing to the die-hard stalwarts of the Union League club. Blasting over the front of the old rock-ribbed republican stronghold, across the street from the democratic headquarters, is a huge electric sign with these words: "London and Knox in 1936. Love of the country leads." "Chip" Robert, former assistant secretary of the treasury, had a very "touching" welcome to the city of brotherly love. The first night he was in town, his room was entered while he was asleep and his wallet stolen.

Girl Crack Pistol Shot

WOODLAND, Cal. (UP)—Gloria Jacobs, 12-year-old daughter of Capt. Henry R. Jacobs, is rapidly earning a record as the crack pistol shot of the state. In the latest competition here she won two gold medals with a score of 192 out of a possible 200 in the women's class and a score of 269 out of a possible 300 in the men's class.

Honolulu Protects Blind

HONOLULU (UP)—Blind persons in Honolulu now are each armed with a cane and a whistle as a protection against motorists. When they toot their whistles and wave their canes, white with red tips, motorists must yield the right of way under penalty of a fine.

50 Year Trust Fund Grows

TOLEDO (UP)—A trust fund founded in 1923, is to be used from 1973 to build a Masonic home for the Toledo area. Olin Avery Browning established the $500,000 fund, which already has grown to nearly $1,000,000. Twenty-one Masons for mite directorate for the money, and a bank is the trustee.

Mosquito War In Films

ALAMEDA, Calif. (UP)—Motion pictures have now been made of Alameda county's military operations against the mosquito. Best shots include that of the motor cycle, killing equipment, equipped to deal destruction to millions of mosquitoes by spraying oil on breeding pools.

Warrent Uncaashed 30 Years

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP)—Mrs. Augusta Smith La Rue found in a trunk and presented to the proper authorities for payment a school election warrant for $3 issued to her father 30 years ago. The board of education is pondering the question of its right to authorize payment.

A 15 per cent increase in retail business was registered in Birmingham, Ala., during 1935.

How To Torture Your Wife

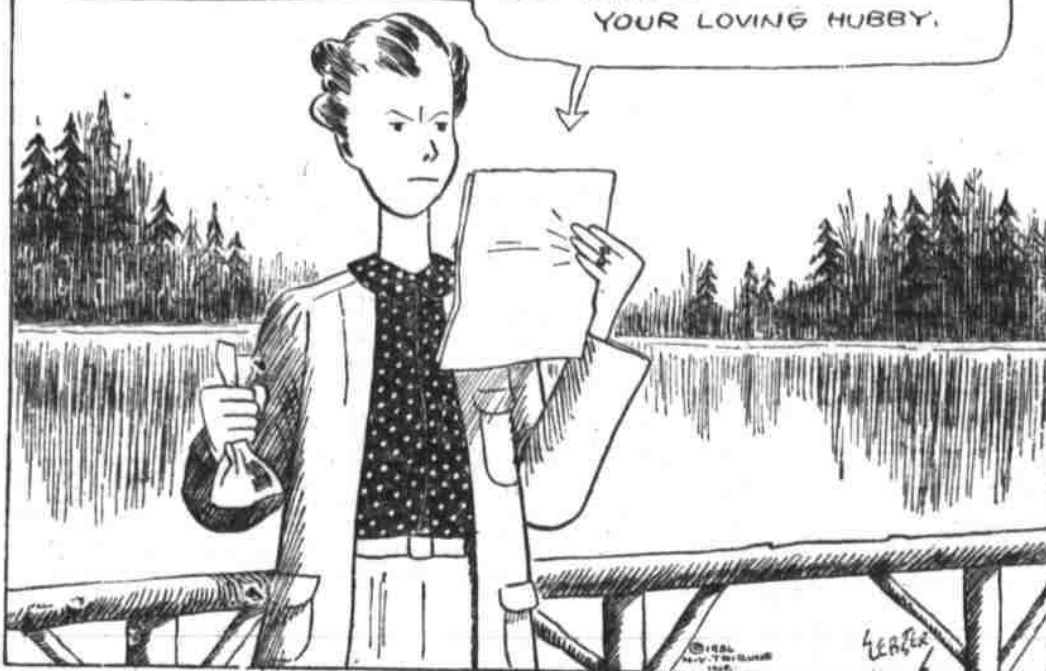

—I'M SORRY I'VE BEEN SO SLOW ABOUT ANSWERING YOUR LETTERS, BUT THERE HAS BEEN REALLY NOTHING TO WRITE ABOUT, AND BESIDES, I'VE BEEN AWFULLY BUSY.

TOM'S SISTER-IN-LAW IS VISITING THEM. YOU NEVER MET HER. HER NAME IS DOROTHY, BUT WE CALL HER DOTTIE. SHE IS A VASSAR GIRL AND HAS BEEN ON THE STAGE—MUSICAL SHOWS. SHE'S QUITE A GAL—DRESSES WELL AND IS EXTREMELY RESTFUL TO THE RETINA. NOT ONLY THAT, BUT SHE'S ONE OF THE FEW WOMEN I KNOW WITH AN ADULT SENSE OF HUMOR. I HOPE SHE IS HERE WHEN YOU GET HOME, FOR I KNOW YOU WOULD LIKE HER.

TOM, MAY, DOTTIE AND I WENT TO A SHOW MONDAY NIGHT. THE PLAY DIDN'T AMOUNT TO MUCH, BUT WE HAD A GOOD TIME AT A NIGHT CLUB AFTERWARDS. YOU SHOULD HAVE HEARD THE CROWD HOWL WHEN DOTTIE AND I DID A SOLO RHUMBA.

DOTTIE PLAYS A SWELL GAME OF GOLF AND THE FOUR OF US ARE PLAYING WEEBURN THIS AFTERNOON. WE WILL STAY THERE FOR DINNER AND THEN SHOOT SOME BRIDGE. DOTTIE AND I TOOK 3.75 FROM TOM AND MAY LAST NIGHT. I MISS YOU A LOT, MY DEAR, BUT YOU MUST STAY UP THERE UNTIL YOU ARE THOROUGHLY RESTED. IT IS STILL AWFULLY HOT HERE IN TOWN.

YOUR LOVING HUSBY.

DAILY CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS

- Scene of action
- Oriental tower
- Brilliant meteor which explodes
- Century plants
- American Indian
- Those who talk foolishly
- Skip over water, as a stone
- Romans date
- Feminine name
- Before
- Without hair on the head
- Chief Norse god
- Shortening of a syllable
- Young sailors
- Type measures
- Greek letter
- Improve
- Quick and irregular changes of pressure
- Feathered vertebrate
- Location
- Salutation
- Constellation
- Unclose
- Promise solemnly
- Apparatus for measuring minute changes of pressure
- Piece cut
- Kind of mineral
- Small tower
- Abandon
- Rise to the feet
- DOWN
- Dwelling
- Turning, as a wheel on its axis
- Run away secretly
- Symbol for nickel
- Diminished
- Optical illusion
- Rhyme out
- Measures of length
- Called forth
- Moldena again
- Persian poet
- Anger
- Groove
- Sun god

Scution of Yesterday's Puzzle

R	O	T	O	R	S	T	A	R	D	A	M	S
O	V	I	N	E	T	U	N	E	E	X	I	T
M	E	R	E	S	E	M	I	L	I	T	I	O
P	R	E	S	I	D	E	N	T	A	I	O	R
H	A	R	D	E	R	E	N	T	E	R	E	R
E	R	I	E	R	O	D	E	L	A	P	S	E
M	I	S	L	A	I	S	T	A	B	L	E	S
S	A	T	I	N	E	S	T	E	L	E	A	N
R	E	H	E	A	T	E	A	L	O	E	E	L
A	L	A	R	T	R	I	A	N	G	U	L	A
C	U	B	A	E	O	N	S	A	R	E	N	A
E	D	I	T	S	T	E	T	L	A	N	E	S
R	E	T	E	T	E	D	S	E	L	A	T	E

POLITICAL

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Daily Herald will make the following charges for political announcements (cash in advance):

District Offices . . $25.00
 County Offices . . $15.00
 Precinct Offices . $ 5.00

The Daily Herald is authorized to announce the following candidates, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July, 1936:

For State Representative,
 91st District:

PENROSE B. METCALFE

For District Attorney, 70th Judicial District:

CECIL C. COLLINGS

For District Clerk:

HUGH DUBBERLY

JACK EDWARDS

MILNER HARRIS

MRS. N. W. MCLESKEY

HANK MC DANIEL

For Tax Collector-Assessor:

JOHN F. WOLCOTT

For Sheriff:

JESS SLAUGHTER

FRANK HOUSE

For County Judge:

H. R. DEBENPORT

J. S. GARLINGTON

CHARLIE SULLIVAN

For County Treasurer:

E. G. TOWLER

R. FLOYD (Pepper) MAR-

TIN

E. M. NEWTON

MRS. J. L. COLLINS

For County Clerk:

R. LEE WARREN

GEORGE MIMS

For County Attorney:

WALTON MORRISON

WILBURN BARCUS

For Commissioner Pct. No. 1:

FRANK HODNETT

REECE N. ADAMS

J. E. (ED) BROWN

For Commissioner Pct. No. 2:

ARVIE E. WALKER

A. W. THOMPSON

S. I. (SAM) CAUBLE

L. M. GARY

MARTIN E. TATUM

PETE JOHNSON

For Commissioner Pct. No. 3:

J. S. WINSLOW

H. H. (HUB) RUTHER-

FORD

J. O. ROSSER

DAVE LEATHERWOOD

A. G. HALL

MACK BURNS

For Commissioner Pct. No. 4:

T. J. (TOM) MCKINNEY

ED J. CARPENTER

W. M. FLETCHER

J. L. NIX

S. L. (ROY) LOCKHART

J. W. WOOTEN

EARL HULL

W. L. POE

T. E. SATTERWHITE

For Constable Precinct 1:

J. F. (JIM) CRENSHAW

J. A. (DICK) ADAMS

J. W. TAYLOR

SAM M. STINSON

HERALD WANT-ADS PAY

One insertion: 8c line, 5 line minimum. Each successive insertion: 4c line. Weekly rate: $1 for 5 line minimum; 3c per line per issue, over 5 lines. Monthly rate: $1 per line, no change in copy. Readers: 10c per line, per issue. Card of thanks, 5c per line. Ten point light face type as double rate. Capital letter lines double regular rate.

CLOSING HOURS

Week Days 11 A.M.
 Saturday 4 P.M.

No advertisement accepted on an "until forbid" order. A specific number of insertions must be given. All want-ads payable in advance or after first insertion.

Telephone 728 or 729

For Justice of Peace Pct. 1:

J. H. (DAD) HEFLEY

JOE FAUCETT

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Lost and Found 1

LOST—Gold bar pin set with rubies, Monday morning between 910 Scurry St. and First Baptist church. Finder please return to 910 Scurry, Reward.

LOST—Ten dollars ($10.00) in paper money, Monday morning in downtown district. Reward. Phone 654.

2 Personals 2

BEWARE LOW VITALITY! I feel easily tired, nervous, exhausted. Take OSTREX Tonic tablets. Contain raw oyster extractors. Put new life in every part of body. If not delighted, maker refunds few cents paid. Call, write Collins Bros.

4 Professionals 4

Ben M. Davis & Company
 Accountants—Auditors
 817 Mims Bldg., Abilene, Texas

9 Woman's Column 9

MRS. TERRY's laundry does family bundles for $1 finished. First house east of Shipley Camp, West Third St.

EMPLOYMENT

12 Help Wanted—Female 12

MIDDLE aged white lady for housekeeper. To stay or go home night. Apply 210 E. 2nd St.

ELDERLY woman wanted for housekeeper of bachelor quarters. Write Box XYZ, c/o Herald. Leave address.

Gypsy Weather

By MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

Chapter 32 CURIOUS VISIT

Devine said the hat and coat he had picked up on the table again. Dirk went upstairs, where he found Mary in the hall. Mary said that Mrs. Joris was awake.

Dirk assured her that Mrs. Joris must be prepared.

"Say to her, 'Your father, the Rev. Devine, is here.' Just that. Then if she wants to see him, he may go in. Tell her that I telegraphed him. Not because she is terribly ill, but because I thought it would do her good to have him here. You see, if it won't do her good, if she doesn't want to see him, there'll be no sense in his going in."

Mary looked so mystified at Dirk's insistence on this tactful (Mrs. Joris wasn't so ill that she needed to be reminded who her father was) that Dirk added:

"Perhaps I'd better tell her, myself."

"Oh, no, sir!" said Mary. Of course she wouldn't tell Mr. Dirk, but Mrs. Joris had asked that very afternoon that he be kept out of her room.

She repeated the words to Hope a moment later. Hope lay a passive atom in the great bed. The shadows beneath her drooping eyes were blue as bruises. The eyes flew open, dark, incredulous.

"Who?"

"Your father, Ma'am. The Rev. Devine."

Hope sat up.

"Dirk did this?" she whispered.

"He telegraphed."

"Mister Dirk wired him that you were ill."

Hope, sitting up in bed, appeared to be thinking, thinking fast.

"I'll see him," she said. "Please say to Mister Dirk that I'll be glad to see him. Glad. Do you understand?"

"I do, Ma'am."

They seemed very careful about the message they sent each other.

"My clothes," said Hope. "Get me by clothes."

She was out of bed, standing white, looking a little dizzy.

Mary, who had not anticipated that sudden move, drew her back, pressed the covers about her.

"But Ma'am, your own father! He will come in here. He will come to you!" breathed Hope. "He must come in quite alone, and remain in here, alone. No one else. No one. See that Dirk understands that. And that I'm glad . . . glad to see him. How does he seem?" with a little catch of the breath.

"I mean . . . does he seem kind? Merciful?"

"I haven't seen him, Ma'am. But I know that everything will be as you would like it. Otherwise, he would not have come . . . And now . . . don't talk any more. Except to him. I will brush your hair, and we will put on the bed-jacket with the roses, and all the little lace pillows behind you."

There were dozens of these. Hope lay enthroned like a pale queen when Mary stole out to summon the Rev. Devine. Dirk was waiting in the hall.

"How was it?" he asked.

"She's glad, sir. Glad to see him. Glad he's come—just as I knew she would be."

Dirk was relieved. Mary added:

"She must see him alone, sir. Quite alone."

"Of course."

"And he must be kind, sir. He must be forgiving. She's a little . . . nervous about that, sir."

"I've cautioned him," Dirk said. "But I'll speak of it again."

The Rev. Devine, when cautioned again, repeated that he understood. He came with Dirk upstairs. Mary admitted him to the room, and withdrew.

She said to Dirk in the hall:

"I'll fix up the south room, shall I, sir? Mr. Devine may wish to stay the night."

Dirk assented, and Mary prepared the room. She was sleeping in Rupert's room now, occupying a cot that had been placed in the passage between that room and Hope's. The door was closed to night, but Mary, making ready for bed, could hear faintly the voices of Hope and the visitor.

Dirk wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, he said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

ZELL EATON WINS ILLINOIS OPEN

Zell Eaton (left), of Oklahoma City shown at Decatur, Ill., as he received a cup and check from James Girard, tourney official, after winning the Illinois state open with a record smashing 139, five under par. (Associated Press Photo)

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

"She don't want even me to know," thought Mary, and answered soothingly:

"His leaving so soon, Ma'am. Mary hoped this was true. She

with closed eyes. Mary felt the small quick pulse, rubbed the cold hands. Her thoughts were profane. She drew the covers about Hope's shoulders, and raised a window to air the room. . . . How would she even tell Mister Dirk that her prescription had acted like this? . . . She didn't. . . .

"There now, it's not worth it. It's not worth worrying over." Mary patted the shoulder underneath the cover.

"Go to sleep, poor lady. It will all be right in the morning. I've seen many a hard father in my day."

Mary wanted to add, "But this is the worst of the lot." Instead, she said, "They all lived to be sorry. They did, indeed."

Hope's dark gaze moved up to her face.

"What do you mean? Why do you say he is hard?"

Billions of Crickets to Die
 (UP)—Officials estimate 10 car loads of crickets will be killed in a statewide drive against the pests. The crickets are lured up against a 20 mile iron fence which forces them into especially bug holes where they are either incinerated or given earth burial.

Fishing Taught in School
 MEDFORD, Ore. (UP)—With fishing a leading state industry, school students are being taught that a bent pin and fish worm are not the best means for increasing the state wealth. School courses are being offered in fly casting. Enrollment in the courses is large.

Cowboy Rides Down Coyote
 MILES RIVER, Mont. (UP)—The latest test for a cowboy is his ability in the saddle to run down a coyote and knock it over with a rock from his hand. Cowboy Helmer Tom is the first to claim the state bounty for a coyote killed in this manner.

Fort Worth Celebration Dates Fixed

Centennial Attraction To Open Gates July 18 For First Time

FORT WORTH, June 25.—Definite date for the opening of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial was announced today by Billy Rose, producing director, and the board of control.

The entertainment extravaganza will open its gates to the public on July 18 with four big shows and a carnival world of lesser attractions scattered over the 162-acre festival grounds.

Setting of the date for the opening, was purposely deferred until it could be determined when the entire Frontier Centennial grounds would present a complete and finished appearance, will be a red-letter day in the whole history of entertainment.

Along the Frontier Village street, where historical collections will be housed in a replica of a pioneer town, an assortment of town characters will enliven the place with picturesque entertainment.

Major shows will be the Casa Manana, or cafe-theatre show, a mammoth musical extravaganza, "The Last Frontier," a wild and whoopee show based on the story of the old west, and Billy Rose's "Jumbo," imported from the New York Hippodrome. As interesting as any of these, though, will be the free show in the Pioneer Palace, to be given from a stage set in the wall above the mirrored bar. With mirror background, lusty old ballad music and a new one by Billy Rose, the Pioneer Palace show will follow the tempo of the gold rush, the frontier, the gay nineties.

Much-Married Barber On Trial For Rattlesnake Killing Of Seventh Wife

LOS ANGELES, June 25 (UP)—Robert S. James, much-married barber, collapsed when the body of his last wife, Mary, was found in the fishpond of their suburban home last August, testimony in his trial showed Wednesday.

James, who told one state alienist he had been married seven times, is accused of killing his wife by thrusting her bare leg into a box containing two large rattlesnakes and then drowning her in a bath tub.

The state charges that he took out $20,000 insurance on her soon after they were married July 19, 1935.

Viola Pemberton told how she and her husband had been invited to the James home on the day the body was found.

When James found the body, yellow hair tangled in lily pads, he exclaimed: "What will I ever do without her," said Mrs. Pemberton.

State Nears Close Of Case In Trial Of Houston Youth

CUERO, Tex., June 25 (UP)—The state neared the close of its testimony in the trial of Vince Boss, 22-year-old Houston youth, Wednesday after introducing a statement from the defendant that he killed R. W. Albert, Brenham cheese salesman, with a tire tool.

The statement, signed by Boss but afterward repudiated, said Albert was killed as he stood beside the road at Fairbanks, 10 miles northwest of Houston.

Albert was struck several times with the heavy iron tool, the statement said. Then he was put in the rear compartment of the truck Albert used on his route and beaten and slashed some more.

Boss, according to the statement, then took the money from Albert's billfold, drove the truck to the outskirts of Houston and abandoned it.

China Charges Japan Furnished Armaments For Kwangsi Revolt

NANKING, June 25. (UP)—The Chinese government charged officially Wednesday that Japan supplied arms and ammunition to rebellious Kwangsi province, whose armies are demanding the overthrow of General Chiang Kai-Shek on the grounds that he has failed to prevent Japanese invasion of China.

Nanking officials vouched for the authenticity of reports that Japan loaned Kwangsi $5,000,000 (silver). The loan was secured by Kwangsi magnesium mines. The agreement under which it was negotiated gave Japan special preference in making investments in Kwangsi.

Part of the loan, officials said, was in the form of 10,000 rifles, 20 airplanes and 10,000 barrels of cement. The loan contract provided that Japan would give Kwangsi "material assistance."

PUBLIC RECORDS

Building Permits
 Community Ice and Produce Co., 711 E. 3rd St., to construct a sign, estimated cost $100.

Marriage License
 Alfredo Larez and Miss Victoria Lopez of Big Spring.

New Cars
 Dr. D. E. Richardson, Dodge dealer.
 George Handley, Buick coupe.
 J. F. Flock, Ford coupe.
 V. T. Butler, Pontiac coupe.
 J. B. McDonald, Ford tudor.
 C. E. Watson, Ford tudor.
 W. G. Page, Chevrolet coupe.
 C. E. Russell, Chevrolet coach.
 J. L. Stewart, Ford tudor.

Millionth Visitor To Centennial Will Date With Dancer

DALLAS, June 25. (UP)—The millionth visitor to the Texas Centennial exposition—if he is a man—will be given a "date" with Milla Corrhine, sensational blonde apple dancer.

If the lucky visitor is a married man, before accepting the date he must get a release absolving the exposition or Milla Corrhine from damage in the event of alienation of affection.

If a woman holds the 1,000,000th ticket, she will be offered a date with the pick of the bachelors in Camp Stephen F. Austin.

If a child is the lucky one—all the candy, and the necessary escort or oil, its parents will allow.

FT. WORTH NEWSBOYS EN ROUTE TO CAVERNS

Thirty-seven Fort Worth Star-Telegram carriers and newsboys stopped here this morning en route to Fort Worth after a trip through Carlsbad Caverns. This was the fifth Carlsbad Cavern tour conducted by the Star-Telegram for circulation contest winners.

The group was in charge of District Managers Ray Stokes and W. W. Lambersh and City Circulation Manager Keith F. Pumphrey.

Group Boosts Local Affair

Sixteen Men Publicize July 4th Celebration Over Wide Area

Sixteen local citizens, traveling in six trucks, deployed through West Texas Wednesday on a good-will trip to advertise the sports and water carnival here on July 4.

They covered a territory from Fort Stockton, Lubbock, Brownwood and San Angelo, distributing posters and circulars advertising the various events to be staged here.

"We found a great deal of interest," W. T. Strange, manager of the chamber of commerce, said. He accompanied a group south with a sound truck loaned for the occasion by the R. and R. theatres.

Miss Laura V. Hamner, Amarillo, area supervisor of the WPA writers' projects, returned to her headquarters Thursday after inspecting the work done by the local district Wednesday.

Joye Fisher, left Thursday afternoon for McCombs where he will spend today and Friday on business.

Personally Speaking

Dave Tobolsky returned today from a trip to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Wasson and daughter have returned from Corpus Christi, where they have been for several weeks on a visit to relatives and friends. Wasson left Saturday by car to bring them back.

GAS MAIN FIRE

Firemen aided in controlling a gas main fire Wednesday in an alley near the Crawford hotel. Gas in a high pressure line became ignited and threatened to burn a small storage building and telephone poles.

Old Cemetery Discovered

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (UP)—A cemetery dating back to Revolutionary days is believed to have been unearthed here. Workmen who discovered bones called Coroner Andrew Calyer.

Family Keeps Same Post

YREKA, Calif. (UP)—The office of city clerk appears to be hereditary in both the male and female lines of the dynasty. When U. K. Brown retired, after 40 years of service, his wife, Mrs. Katherine Brown, succeeded him.

Efficient Start Practice
 PORT CLINTON, O. (UP)—Practice for the National Rifle matches at nearby Camp Perry this summer already has started. A U. S. marine corps reserve team has been firing practice rounds.

Mauch Chunk, Pennsylvania town, derives its name from the Indian "Mauch Tachunk," meaning Bear mountain.

There's a Difference in Ice Cream Sodas

—you can find out what that difference is at one of our fountains.

Rebuilding Sale

The A.M.F. Co. says 'Thank You'

The Albert M. Fisher Rebuilding Sale is this store's way of saying Thank You for making possible the New A.M.F. Co., by your generous patronage in years past... and now we must say Thank You again and again for your tremendous response to the opening of our Rebuilding Sale.

WOMEN'S HATS, All To Go

This includes all our summer hats. Straws and felts of every description. Some hats have not been in stock more than 15 days.

to 3.95 Quality 1.49 — to 5.95 Quality 2.49

STRING and PICNIT GLOVES

Made by Van Raalte. Exquisitely designed and beautifully colored especially to wear with this summer's dress and ensemble

65c

$1 Quality 2 for 1.25

PURSES, in Patent and Beads

Black, white and all the pastel shades, in patent leather. Beaded bags in colors of many hues. A goodly selection.

1.95 Quality 1.29 — 2.95 Quality 1.89

SILK HOSIERY, Perfects

Every one bears a nationally known brand which you will identify as standing for standard of quality... yes sheers and full fashioned.

Summer shades 59c

79c Quality, Sale

$1 to 1.95 SILK HOSIERY

Sheer, clear and perfects. All from our regular stock... America's best brands.

Good shades 89c

3 Pairs for 2.60

SUMMER WASH FROCKS

Dotted piques and swisses, printed dimities and voiles, laces, eyelets and batistes. A wide selection of beauties for your choosing.

1.95 Dresses 1.59 Up to 8.50 Dresses 2.59

6.50 Pumps, Straps, Sandals

A great selection in black, brown and blue. This price group includes fabrics in white, white kids and red calf sandals.

3.95

All Regular 7.50 Novelties

A group of our better shoes. Black and white patent leathers, white Doakins with London tan trim and a selection of patent leather Sandals in pastel shades. Made by Johansen

4.45

6.50 Red Cross Shoes

Here is a chance to buy these nationally famous and popular Red Cross shoes at a very low price... Straps, Pumps and Oxfords in black, brown, white and brown combinations. (THIS DOES NOT INCLUDE OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF RED CROSS)

3.95

SNYDER KNIT SUITS

Values to 19.75

Your wardrobe is not completely made up if you do not have a Snyder Knit suit. They are cool and smart. It is seldom that you have this opportunity to buy genuine Snyder Knits at a sale price

$8

HIGH TYPE SILK DRESSES

The same good quality and style that has won for this store the confidence of Big Spring women, in A.M.F. Co. dresses. Every dress we show has been "hand picked" for quality of material, workmanship, color and smartness in style. Our season's remaining stock is unbelievably marked down to these low prices.

VALUES	TO 10.75	$6
VALUES	TO 17.75	$8
VALUES	TO 29.75	$12

Women's Man-Tailored SUITS and COATS 1/2 PRICE

Full length and swaggy length sport coats. Trotter length and mannish tailored suits. The materials are delightfully good. They will be as important next season as they have been. They are twice as fine as their price.

Quality	5.37	12.95	Quality	6.48
Quality	10.75	19.75	Quality	8.87
Quality	49.50	Quality	24.77

MEN'S SUMMER SUITS

Kuppenheimer, Michael Stern, Devonshire

This is the opportunity you have been looking and hoping for if you are in need of a summer suit. Now you can own a good looking, high-style summer suit for the price that ordinary summer clothing costs. Don't delay, make your selection today.

19.50 TROPICAL WEIGHTS, SALE 15.85
 Extra Pants 2.50

$25 TROPICAL WEIGHTS, SALE 19.85
 Extra Pants 3.50

29.75 TROPICAL WEIGHTS, SALE 24.85

GODCHEAUX LINENS AND MASPELL BROS. GABARDINES

REGULAR 15.75 SUITS 9.95
 Extra Pants $2.50
 Small Change for Alterations
 No Exchanges — No Refunds

$1 MANSCO POLOSHIRTS, SALE 77c

Sports neck, waffle weave, slip-over, half sleeve, handy pocket... white, canary, powder blue, navy and ecru.

Straw HATS, Knox & Dunlap

1/2 PRICE
 3.50 Quality 1.75
 5.00 Quality 2.50
 Other Straws As Low As 75c

8.75 Men's Florsheim Oxfords

They come in black and brown calfskin. You know the quality. The styles are right

$6

Albert M. Fisher Co.

Get a New Dress for the 4th

During UNITED'S Great Mid-Season CLEARANCE OF STYLISH NEW SILK DRESSES

Nothing Reserved—Every Dress Must Go!

IT'S TRUE! OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF SMART SILK DRESSES IS ON SALE. YOU'LL FIND SIGNS, SMART FLECK AND SMALL PRINT DESIGN, A HUNDRED AND ONE DOT PATTERNS OF TRIM THAT MARK THEM AS STYLES YOU CAN WEAR NOW... OR LATER IN THE FALL... AGAIN NEXT SEASON.

Don't Miss This Opportunity! Restock Your Wardrobe NOW!

$1.39 $3.39 $5.39

While They Last—Our Entire Stock LINEN SUITS Included in This Great Saving Event!

COMPLETE YOUR WARDROBE WITH ONE OF THESE EXTRA SMART LINEN SUITS. YOU'LL NEED ONE TO WEAR TO THE MOUNTAINS OR COAST... AND THE DESIGNS ARE SO SMART YOU'LL FIND THEM EQUALLY FASHIONABLE NEXT YEAR.

The UNITED

Smart Values For Your 4th of JULY Ensemble!

LADIES' HOSE

Full fashioned chiffon hose, in the newest of summer shades. Very slight irregularities of much higher priced hose.

Special 49c

LADIES SUMMER SHOES

Two specially priced groups of shoes. Pumps, air-cooled sandals, and oxfords. Correctly styled and built. Wide selection of heels and styles. Special

$1.49 and $1.69

LADIES' SLIPS

An outstanding group of shadow panel, lace trimmed, rayon taffeta slips. In tea rose only. All sizes. Special

49c

LADIES' HATS

New summer creations of Felts, Stretched Crepes, and Fiques; in smartly tailored chic styles. Special

$1.00

LADIES' PANTIES

An extra ordinary selection of broadened rayon, ribbed, fancy waist, and air cooled tank stitch panties. All sizes. Tailored and lace trimmed. Special

25c

You Are Always Sure of Better Values at The UNITED