SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By Wacil McNair

About 10 days ago, Frank Sweeney, field director for the National Real Estate Association, said it would take more than "tight" money to halt building in this area.

Sweeney's observation was substantiated by a tabulation of Snyder building permits for the first quarter of the year. "Starts" in building field for the three-month period represented projects costing an aggregate of $1 million. That includes building of all types, commercial, residential, alterations, remodeling etc., but it's still a healthy figure. This could be one of the biggest building years in Snyder's history, if the pace continues through the remainder of the year.

• • •

It was Sweeney, incidentally who told the story (a true one) about one of the larger cities which was on the verge of getting an industry employing 7,000 persons. The head of the industry was taken on an extensive tour of the city and was duly impressed. In fact he was prepared to close the deal.

However, while the city's attention was showered on him, his wife went on a tour of her own, escorted by an office boy. She inquired about the city's symphony orchestra, and the office boy said, "Lady, we ain't even got one."

Whereupon the lady said she would not permit her husband to move his plant to a city without a symphony——and he didn't.

• • •

Sweeney said he doubted that such an experience indictated that every city seeking industry should get itself a symphony. However, he said it did illustrate that many unsuspected factors may become involved when a city seeks industry. Invariably such things as churches, schools, homes, shopping facilities, civic initiative, etc., play a major role.

These are things Snyder residents should remember as they launch an industrial foundation. And they will be even more important after the foundation is organized.

The farmer-businessmen's dinner at Fluvanna last Thursday night was one of the most pleasant events of the season. These activities, strictly informal and noncommercial, help fill a community gap that has developed with "Modern living."

Policies Of Ike Blasted

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said today he expects a senatorial inquiry to demonstrate that the Eisenhower administration's monetary policies are "fallacious and hurtful to the general economy."

Agreeing with this, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said he thinks an investigation ordered by the Senate Finance Committee into the broad field of interest rates, revenues, credit, taxes and debts will show "the big difference between the Democrats and Republicans over monetay policies."

The two Democratic senators made it clear they believe the inquiry will help their party in next year's campaign for control of Congress. Many Democrats have contended that increases in interest rates have pinched home buyers, squeezed small business men and farmers and have increased the cost of government.

But Chairman Byrd (D-Va) of the Finance Committee said the broad scale investigation he personally will direct will be "strictly nonpolitical" as far as he is concerned.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES—High Friday, 33 degrees; low Friday night, 26 degrees; reading at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, 27 degrees.

West Texas: Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday with slowly rising temperatures. Scattered showers or thundershowers Monday afternoon.

WEATHER PROPHETS CAUGHT SHORT—The mesquite tree is a legendary weather prophet in West Texas when it comes to predicting date of the last freeze of the season, but some of the clan were caught with their leaves out Friday night when the mercury dipped to 26 degrees. Roy Hanson, left, and Henry Burchett examine the nipped foliage on a specimen. However, they observed that only the younger mesquite trees had budded out. The older and wiser heads probably knew the late cold spell was coming. Older mesquites have been known to "get caught," but such occurrences are rare. (Lee Watson photograph)

Snyder Area Whipped By Hard Cold Spell

A spring blizzard, the second to hit this season, stabbed the Snyder area with 26 degree temperatures Friday night.

The cold spell, which was accompanied at times by flurries of snow and sleet, caused considerable damage to young vegetation, made highway travel hazardous for a time, and interrupted communications facilities temporarily.

There was not enough moisture for ice to form on highways in the immediate Snyder area, but a glaze formed on roads in many West Texas points, and bridges were described as hazardous throughout the area Friday night.

Long distance telephone service was curtailed here when circuits to Abilene, Dallas, Big Spring, Midland and other points went out of order.

Truman Black, Southwestern Bell manager here, said winds popped lines together, and in many instances the lines "froze together." Normal service had been restored Saturday afternoon.

For a time Friday night, all long distance calls here were routed through Lubbock.

New foliage on trees, shrubbery and other vegetation was beginning to show the effects of the cold blast Saturday, although full extent of the damage could not be assessed immediately. Indications were that fruit trees, most of which held young fruit, suffered considerably.

The thermometer moved no higher than 33 degrees in Snyder on Friday, and the reading remained at 27 degrees Saturday morning. However, the mercury climed some during the day Saturday.

By The Associated Press

The northern part of Texas Saturday shook off a coating of ice that disrupted communications, slowed traffic, and damaged trees. The Weather Bureau warned a repeat performance was still possible.

The frigid air mass appeared stationary late Saturday and subfreezing temperatures with possible freezing drizzles were forecast for early Sunday.

At least two deaths were attributed to ice glazed roads. Hundreds of telephones were knocked out. Fruit trees suffered heavy damage in some areas.

The freeze line extended as far south as Wink, Midland, San Angelo, Abilene, Waco, Fort Worth, Dallas and northeastward to Sherman. At many points the temperatures were the lowest recorded for mid-April in many years.

Heavy cloudiness and scattered rains continued late Saturday but temperatures rose to a few degrees above freezing, melting the ice.

The deaths blamed on the weather occurred in the Fort Worth-Dallas area. Philip Finch, 18, a Naval Airman stationed at Norman, Okla., was killed in a highway crash near Lewisville Friday night. Wilberforce Tyiska died in a car collision on an ice-coated Dallas bridge Saturday.

The arctic air mass, which brought heavy snow to Oklahoma and other Great Plains states, moved into Texas Friday with snow flurries at Dalhart. Saturday it had covered the state and had moved into the Gulf.

Heavy rains fell in the south with Beaumont reporting 2.04 inches and Del Rio 1.03. Other rain was lighter. Fort Worth with .12 of an inch reported the most rain in the freezing area.

Top Medals Won By Choral Group

Vocalists from Snyder Junior and Senior High Schools won 41 first division medals in solo and ensemble contests held Saturday in San Angelo.

The Senior High students entered by Robert Clinton, director, brought home six first division solo medals and 16 ensemble medals, while the Junior High pupils of Mrs. Landis Lee, director, copped three first division solo medals and 16 first division ensemble medals.

High school soloists from Snyder who rated first division included Davie Floyd, Vondel Sumruld, Joyce Shoemake, Jimmy Pior, Roberta Selman and Dana Scarbrough.

The madrigal singers and the teenagers took first division ratings in the ensemble contest. The madrigal singers are composed of Davie Floyd, Jimmy Guy, Jimmy Pior, Joyce Shoemake, Roberta Selman and Pat Sullivan.

Singing with the teenagers were Sandra Boyd, Judy Broman, Molly Carroll, Louise Cate, Deanne Devers, Bottie Dugas, Paula Dupree, Dana Scarbrough, Beth Wiman and Joy Richardson.

Steve, Free, John Weaver and Sue Taylor were rated first division soloists in the junior high division.

Also rating first division from the Snyder Junior High School were the boys quartet, composed of Steve Free, Larry Patterson, Tommy Minton and Charles Merritt; and the girls ensemble, composed of Becky Perkins, Jan Moore, Pat Bills, Paula Keaton, Ginny Sims, Judy Rogers, Nonnie Rodgers, Ann Byrd, Brenda Pitts, Leatha Brice, Ellie Contella and Barbara Showmake.

TRICKS OF NATURE

Tornado Tall Tales Told

DENTON, Tex., April 13 (AP)—A professor who gathers tall tornado tales told today about a piano, airborne with its owner, that played "Nearer My God to Thee" on a merry twister ride.

Dr. Howard C. Key said it happened to Col. William Porter at Cisco, Tex., in 1893.

"He found himself waving his arms and legs somewhere in midair. Seconds later he slammed into some object. Then he heard music and decided he was either dead or dying," Dr. Key related.

"It was their new player piano, the kind that had to be pumped with foot pedals. The suction of the wind had somehow started it going and it was appropriately playing 'Nearer My God to Thee.'

"Both Mr. Porter and the piano were lodged in a big pecan tree 50 yards away. Neither was much damaged."

Dr. Key, professor of English at North Texas State College, has been gathering tornado folklore for 30 years.

Here are some of them:

The wind that yanked a farmer and his mule aloft, seated the farmer on the mule and landed them both right side up a half mile away.

The Kansas twister that some 50 years ago gathered a baby out of its cradle and deposited it unscathed in a haystack a mile away.

The one that tore an eastbound Northern Pacific locomotive from its freight cars and set it down full steam ahead on a parallel westbound track.

And one that turned iron washpots inside out in east Texas and Kansas.

"Tornadoes are pretty much like people," Dr. Key said in an interview. "They have their whims and ambitions, their impulses good and bad.

"The worst mistake they made was to venture into New England in 1954. Until then they'd been running wild and people in the rest of the country accepted them, like measels.

"But New Englanders set up a public howl. So now through the U.S. Weather Bureau, the awful eye of science has been turned upon these murderous intruders. And justice is about to be done."

Dr. Key seems optimistic about the results. He doesn't own a storm cellar.

New Leader Ends Crisis In Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan, April 13 (AP)—Abdel Halim Nimr, strong man of the Nationalist Socialist party, formed a new government late tonight ending the longest crisis in Jordan's history.

The three-day crisis had brought an armored regiment in from Syria and touched off anti-American demonstrations in this capital.

Nimr, the new premier, had failed to form a new Cabinet earlier in the crisis.

Nimr was deputy premier and defense and interior minister in the government of Premier Suleiman Nabulsi, Arab nationalist sacked by King Hussein after balking at U. S. economic aid.

Senate President Said Mufti, an independent, likewise failed to form a government and then turned mediator between the royal palace and the strong National Socialist party of Nimr and Nabulsi.

Mufti, a former premier, was the third man to try to form a government since Wednesday, when King Hussein demanded and got Premier Nabulsi's resignation. Nimr gave up his first effort for lack of political support late last night.

The Syrian troop movement came at about the same time an anti-American crowd demonstrated here in favor of the outgoing Nabulsi government.

Some Syrian and Saudi Arabian troops have been in Jordan since Israel's invasion of Egypt last fall. Some Iraqi troops came in at that time but later withdrew.

(There was no further information from Amman on today's troop movement, because of censorship, but in New York, a member of Jordan's U. N. delegation said that while he had no news, he supposed such a troop movement would be "normal replacement" of the Syrian troops already in Jordan. He declared, "it certainly does not mean war."

(Some Middle Eastern observers have been predicting, however, that King Hussein would fall within a fairly short time and that Syria, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Israel then would each try to take over some or all of Jordan.

(In Tel Aviv, Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir said Israel would "view with concern" any move of foreign troops to take a hand in the Jordanian crisis. She told a Mapai — Socialist Labor—party rally, "we will not look at it indifferently." But she did not say exactly what Israel would do if neighboring Arab countries tried to hack up Jordan. Predictions have been made that Israel herself would grab the part west of the Jordan river.)

Missile Is Clocked At Giant Speed

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va., April 13 (AP)—A huge two-headed research missile, first of its kind, was fired here this week to an altitude of more than 30 miles. Its speed was almost 3,500 miles an hour.

The 5,500-pound device, more than 30 feet long, roared off its launching pad with a violence so great it literally shook the earth.

Newsmen watching from behind shelters 200 yards away saw the device, its first stage a shiny silver and the rest a bright yellow, tremble at takeoff, and then whoosh upward trailing a furious blast of white-hot flame.

In two seconds it was out of sight, somewhere above and beyond the wisp of smoke it left against the bright blue sky.

It had been expected to climb to 80,000 feet and then fall into the Atlantic 20 miles offshore. At top velocity it would be moving at five times the speed of sound.

Conditions were so good that it rose instead to 110,000 feet and then disappeared off the radar charting table which had been adjusted for the anticipated 80,000-foot shot.

"It was still going strong at 110,000 and hit at least 150,000 feet, still traveling at twice the speed of sound," said Robert L. Kreiger, engineer in charge of this pilotless aircraft research station of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

"We'll have the exact altitude when we check our other instruments.

"It splashed about 38 miles out. It went higher and farther than we had planned. Its total flight from takeoff to splash was 3½ minutes. It was a highly successful shot."

Stokowski Contract

HOUSTON, April 13 (AP) — The Houston Symphony Society has extended its contract with Conductor Leopold Stokowski another year. Stokowski has completed the second year on an original three-year contract. The new contract extends through the 1958-59 season.

FOR DEEP CREEK

Flood Control Survey Planned

The board of supervisors of the Upper Colorado River Soil Conservation District is preparing an application for a preliminary survey to determine feasiblity of a flood control project for the Deep Creek watershed.

The preliminary survey would determine the size of the watershed, possible locations for detention reservoirs, plus the possibility of damage to farm land and to other property, both rural and urban.

Plans to make application for the preliminary survey grew out of a meeting held here last Feb. 8, at which time W. T. Moon of Temple, assistant state conservationist, explained procedure to obtain flood control projects under Public Law 566.

A preliminary survey is the first step in the procedure, and it determines whether the succeeding steps will be taken.

Such projects usually include the construction of a series of detention reservoirs, which would control the rate of runoff from the watershed into the channel of the creek.

The application will be submitted to H. N. Smith, state conservationist in the U. S. Soil Conservation Office in Temple.

In connection with preparation of the Deep Creek application, two members of the board of supervisors, Nolan von Roeder and Richard Brice, plan to inspect projects completed under Public Law 566 at Brownwood.

Empire State Beacon Will Be Turned Off

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — For the sake of the bird population, the stationary beacon atop the Empire State building's 102 stories will be darkened for a while this spring.

The light, which causes birds to become confused and crash into the building, will be turned off Monday until June 10, during the northward bird migration season. The plan was successfully tried out last fall.

The building's revolving beacons, however, will stay on. For some reason they don't seem to bother the birds.

Snyder Firemen Win Top Honors

Snyder walked off with almost all the honors in the annual spring convention of the Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association in Baird Thursday.

Bill Brown, vice president of the Snyder fire department, was elected president of the association which is composed of 12 West Texas city fire departments.

And a team of six men from Snyder won two first places in three events in races at the convention.

They won first place in the pumper race and in the six-man hook-up race. However, they did not place in the third race, a two-man hookup affair.

Representing Snyder on the race teams were Leonard Keller, Brown, Doug McGlaun, R. L. vonRoeder, Floyd Allmond and Bill Engler.

Brown succeeds Charlie Bennett, Rotan, as president of the association.

The same team of Snyder firemen will enter similar races in the district convention at Killeen May 5, then the state convention races in Waco in June.

Others from Snyder attending the convention were: D. A. Porter, fire cheif, G. L. Autry, N. W. Autry, Homer Cary, R. T. Howard and L. O. Bynum.

Water Turns Green, But It's Only Dye

SAN ANTONIO, April 13 (AP)—A peculiar substance which turned drinking water at North East Junior-Senior High School green yesterday was tentatively identified today as a harmless dye, probably put in a storage tank as a prank.

City sanitary engineer Fred Bell said Col. John M. Lukeman, chemist at the Fourth Army Toxicological Laboratory, Ft. Sam Houston, told him all tests so far indicated the substance was "an easter egg type or fruit coloring dye."

Goon Squad Tactics In Union Cited

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said today his rackets probers have evidence that some Scranton, Pa., labor union officials used "goon squad" violence to deprive union members of their rights.

McClellan said the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee which he heads will explore the story in public hearings starting here Tuesday, along with allegations that terror tactics were used against some employers in labor disputes.

The senator said there will be "a dozen to 15 witnesses," including Scranton officials of the Teamsters Union and some officials of the Scranton Building Trades Council. He named none of them in advance.

McClellan said the hearings also will explore what he termed "a right of certain Scranton union officials to hold office after having been convicted of crimes he said "should disqualify them."

"They are still in office—probably in just as much or more control of their unions," McClellan told a news conference.

He said the FBI is investigating threatening telephone calls one of the committee's staff investigators Lavern Duffy, received while in Scranton sifting evidence. Duffy was warned to get out of town or have his "head knocked off."

ELECTED FIREMEN'S PRESIDENT—Bill Brown, Snyder volunteer fire department vice president, was elected president of the Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association in a meeting at Baird Thursday. He is shown with two first place trophies won by a team of Snyder firemen competing with teams from nine other towns in the association. (Lee Watson photograph)

PICKUP DEMOLISHED—The 1956 Chevrolet pickup above was demolished when it struck the rear of a trailer-truck loaded with drill pipe three miles west of Snyder about 7:45 o'clock Friday night. Driver of the pickup, Richard D. Parks, who lives 12 miles west of Snyder on the Lamesa Highway, was hospitalized with injuries. The accident was one of three here Friday night and Saturday morning. (Lee Watson photograph)

One Is Hospitalized And Two Others Injured In Accidents

One man was hospitalized with injuries from an automobile accident Friday night, and two other men were slightly injured in two other accidents during the week end.

Richard D. Parks, 46, Arah Route, who lives 12 miles west of here on the Lamesa Highway, is in Cogdell Memorial Hospital where he was taken following the crash of his pickup into the rear of a trailer-truck loaded with oil-well drill pipe about 7:45 Friday night.

The accident occurred 3.3 miles west of Snyder on U. S. 180. The Canyon Trucking Co. truck involved was driven by Billy Mack White, 106 Thirty-fourth Street, Snyder. The 1954 International truck and trailer were damaged about $100 worth, highway patrolmen who investigated, estimated.

The 1956 Chevrolet pickup driven by Parks was totally demolished.

Parks was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bolger Ambulance. His injuries include facial lacerations, broken ribs, and cuts on the hands and arms.

White was not injured, but was badly shaken by the impact. Both vehicles were traveling west, Arthur Dysen, highway patrolman who investigated, said.

Earlier Friday, at about 11:15 o'clock Friday morning, a similar accident occurred three miles east of Snyder on U. S. highway 180.

In that accident, a 1953 Ford pickup driven by Joe Rylander, 50, a farmer who lives on Route 2, was struck in the rear by a 1950 Nash sedan driven by Doyle Aaron Blair, Jr., 19-year-old Odessa laborer.

Both vehicles had damage of about $200, highway patrolmen said.

The third accident occurred about 2:40 o'clock Saturday morning at the Colorado River bridge 13 miles southwest of here on the Big Spring highway.

A 1957 Ford driven by Billy Gene Wilson, 31, of 2805 Avenue Q, Snyder, skidded on ice frozen on the bridge, slid off onto the shoulder of the highway, hit a guard post, and finally skidded into a ploughed field where it over turned twice and finally ended upright, but demolished.

Wilson was thrown from the car and dazed by the accident, but not seriously injured. He was picked up by a passing motorist after walking some distance, and taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

His injuries were considered not to be serious, but he did have facial lacerations and a head injury, highway patrolmen stated.

Budget Bureau Blasted

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—The comptroller general was disclosed today to have ruled that President Eisenhower's Budget Bureau violated the law by allowing the Post Office to spend too rapidly the money voted it this year.

The comptroller general, Joseph Campbell, also found that the Post Office itself violated the law's spirit although staying technically within it.

Campbell heads the General Accounting Office, Congress' spending watchdog. His ruling, dated yesterday, was sent to Postmaster General Summerfield and Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee. Cannon made it public today.

Summerfield eliminated mail deliveries and ordered post offices closed today and on succeeding Saturdays until Congress votes him additional money he says he needs to run the service in the 2 months remaining in this fiscal year.

Cannon's committee voted yesterday to recommend 41 million dollars of the 47 millions Summerfield seeks. Congress is expected to go along.

But Cannon says the request indicates that someone violated a law which requires federal agencies to spread out their annual appropriations evenly to avoid having to come to Congress late in the fiscal year for more money.

Campbell's report said that on three different occasions—last July, December and February — the Budget Bureau decreased the Post Office's allotment for the fourth quarter of this year by a total of 30½ million dollars. The money taken out of the fourth quarter funds, he said, was allotted for use earlier.

Campbell said there is no penal provision applicable against a person for violating the law. He said responsibility for its observance rests with the Budget Bureau headed by Percival Brundage.

To Share In Gifts

DETROIT, April 13 (AP)—General Motors said today four Texas Negro colleges will share in a $35,000 gift to 31 schools in 12 states. They are Bishop and Wiley colleges at Marshall, Houston-Tillotson at Austin and Texas College at Tyler.

Would the couple with the two children who witnessed my husband's death at the local bus station on Feb. 22nd please help me by calling my mother, Mrs. Ollie Morrow at 3-6516.

Wilson Named CC Superintendent

Frank W. Wilson, director of curriculum for the Snyder School System, has accepted the position of superintendent of schools at Colorado City.

Wilson will complete the school year here, and his job at Colorado City becomes effective July 1.

He will replace Ed. E. Williams, Superintendent of Colorado City schools for the past 15 years. Williams will remain with the school system there as director of special services.

Wilson has been in the Snyder school system for six years as director of curriculum and instructions.

"The Snyder school system has seen much growth, many changes and improvements in the past six years," Wilson said.

At Colorado City Wilson has received a two-year contract, and will receive a substantial increase in salary, he said.

Some of his professional activities here have included organization of the first Scurry County Teachers Association, and he served as that organizations second president; membership in West Texas Adult Education Council, state director and secretary-treasurer of the Texas Association for Supervision & Curriculum Development, and is a past member of state textbook committee.

Some of his civic activities here include membership in and past president of the Snyder Kiwanis Club, and past member of board of directors and past first vice president of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

"We sincerely regret leaving Snyder, and appreciate the many good friends we have made here," Wilson said. Wilson has been instrumental in organization of such activities as career conferences, orientation programs for teachers, workshops for teacher both during the school year and summer months, and has led in programs of involvement of lay citizens in school activities.

Prior to coming to Snyder Wilson was principal of the senior high school in Pampa for five years, and prior to that was principal of junior high and elementary schools in Austin for four years. He was a bachelor of science degree from North Texas State College, and masters degree from the University of Texas. In addition he has one and one-half years college work toward a higher degree with the work having been done at Texas Technological College, West Texas State College, and the University of Chicago.

Airplane Is Used In Developing Cotton

PLAINVIEW, April 13 (AP)—Dr. Harold Loden is using the airplane to speed development time of a new stormproof cotton plant.

Instead of getting just one crop a year, the Lockview Farm seed breeder has two annual yields by using experimental plots near here and at Igula, Mexico.

Seed from 110 selections of the stormproof cotton raised last year here were flown in November for planting.

That crop is now about ready to be gathered. Dr. and Mrs. Loden leave Plainview tomorrow by air for Mexico. At Igula, 75 miles south of Mexico City, the scientist will select seed samples and bring them back here for spring planting on the Lockview farm.

French Plane On Tour

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—France's Caravelle swept wing jet airliner will be in the Houston and the Dallas - Fort Worth area May 21-23 on its first tour of North America.

Anthony Eden Operated On

BOSTON, April 13 (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden was operated on in New England Baptist Hospital today for a bile duct obstruction and surgeons said he withstood the surgery well and there was no malignancy.

Dr. Richard B. Cattell of the Lahey Clinic performed the operation. Observers were Sir Horace Evans, Eden's personal physician who flew in from London early today at Dr. Cattell's invitation, and Dr. John W. Norcross of the Lahey staff.

Dr. Cattell operated on the 59-year-old former prime minister in 1953 and inserted an artificial billary tube to aid Eden's recovery from a gall bladder operation performed earlier that year in London.

Today Dr. Cattell found the tube had gone—that it had passed into the intestines and out of the system. This occurs often, the surgeons explained. There was no way of knowing of this development before surgery because the artificial tube does not show up in X-ray.

A bulletin signed by the three doctors after Sir Anthony had been returned to his room said the site of the obstruction was found in the right "hepatic duct." Dr. James E. Fish, administrator of the clinic, explained this is a small duct near the right side of the liver.

The bulletin said the constricted area was dilated and that this condition was the cause of the recent attack of fever.

"It was not found necessary to insert a new tube," the clinic bulletin continued, "there was no inflammation of the colon and no malignancy."

Sir Anthony made a long flight from New Zealand—where he had been vacationing—to get medical attention for frequent severe attacks of fever. He arrived here last Sunday accompanied by his wife, Lady Clarissa, niece of Sir Winston Churchill. She visited him briefly after the operation and then returned to her hotel.

Tests and examinations took up the week until yesterday when it was announced the operation would be performed.

IN YOUNG DEMOS ADDRESS

Pressure Group Control Hit

DALLAS, April 13 (AP) — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson urged Texas Young Democrats today to help free their party from "control by pressure groups" and make it a forum that can command voter loyalty.

Wilson made the keynote address at the convention after liberal forces won control in bitter pre-convention maneuvering before the credentials committee.

He warned the delegates that political parties were rapidly becoming "more mechanical means of holding elections" and that a breakdown in party discipline results in groupings dominated by pressure interests.

"You must reverse the trend of having the political party be the captive of pressure groups," he warned. "You must make it a forum with tolerance for differing viewpoints. If there is no basic fairness, there can be no loyalty and you will see the breakdown of the party system."

Wilson singled out "seating of delegates with differing views" as an example of the "basic fairness" and promptly touched the issue that had been the dominant factor in preconvention maneuvering.

The seating of delegates by a liberal - controlled credentials committee sparked the fight for control won by liberals.

The committee headed by Houston Clinton Jr. of Austin voted to seat 56 delegates holding 306 votes and denied seats to another 14 delegations holding 42 votes.

The committee quickly voted to seat 30 "old" clubs holding 220 votes but spent hours deciding on 40 "new" clubs organized by state Vice President A. L. Rhodes of Abilene. Twenty-six of the new clubs holding 86 votes were recognized and another 14 rejected.

Rhodes bitterly denounced the rulings and claimed the rejected clubs' only collective crime was their unwillingness to knuckle under to what he termed "labor rule."

Committee decisions were based on technicalities but included charges that many new clubs were "paper clubs" organized by the State Democratic Executive Committee and State Chairman Jim Lindsey in an effort to "infiltrate" the Young Democratic organization.

Thad Higest Spender In Senate Race

AUSTIN, April 13 (AP)—The secretary of state says Republican Thad Hutcheson was the highest spender in the April 2 Senate race. Winner Ralph Yarborough was second in spending.

Hutcheson reported he had received $88,212 in contributions and spent $77,245. Yarborough's expenditures were $54,106, with donations of $47,726. He reported a debt of $3,704.

The third highest spender was Rep. Martin Dies, who ran second. He said he spent $50,550 and received donations of $49,137.

State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston spent $43,564 and received $33,502. He had a debt of $10,000.

James Hart spent $39,449 and reported contributions of $24,302, with debts of $13,957.

John White, agriculture commissioner, said he spent $16,053, had contributions of $16,047 and debts of $4,203.

Yarborough contributions were $57,726. Contributors included W. M. Null, Wichita Falls, $500; William Foster, Conroe, $1,000; and James Boren, Wichita Falls, $2,000.

Hart contributors included F. R. Jackson, Longview, $500.

White contributors included E. White, Wichita Falls, $500; and P. Haskin, Midland, $500.

Change In Air Cargo Rates Is Requested

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—Slick Airways of Dallas asked the Civil Aeronautics Board today to develop a "more rational" air cargo rate structure.

The all-cargo airline's petition asked the CAB to come up with a new set of minimum rates "at a level which will bring air freight yields in line with costs.

Depletion Allowance Reduction Is Sought

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said today he plans to introduced a bill that would reduce or eliminate tax depletion allowances now granted U. S. oil companies operating overseas the same tax advantages as producers who operate in this country only," the senator said.

O'Mahoney presided over lengthy hearings by a Senate investigating group earlier. There he raised questions about income tax credits granted U. S. oil companies for payments they made to Saudi Arabia, Venezuela and other foreign governments.

He also criticized the practice of allowing for overseas operations the same 27½ per cent depletion allowance granted in this country for tax purposes.

Pasture, Crop Conditions Are Good

COLLEGE STATION, April 13 (AP)—Texas agriculture has been a many-sided thing this week because of rain, cold, high and damaging wind, and some favorable farming weather, the Agricultural Extension Service said today.

Moisture has kept farmers idle in East and North Texas. They are plowing and planting sorghum, corn and cotton in the Central, South Central and Gulf Coast areas. Cold and high wind have delayed activity and damaged plants in parts of the Panhandle, the west and south, Director G. G. Gibson of the service said on reports from district agents.

Pasture conditions and the field crop outlook still are very favorable in the eastern half of the state. Ranges in the western and southern areas are being sapped dry by wind which also is damaging plant growth. High wind also has been hard on tomatoes and other plants in East Texas.

Livestock conditions are improving and prices are stronger in much of the state as grazing becomes more plentiful and the outlook for production of a feed crop improves.

At Denton Ted Martin said: "Farmers are doing some silent worrying about finishing corn planting, but they aren't complaining about it being too wet to plow. Everyone in this section still is happy, but would like to get to work in their fields. Small grain and pastures are making excellent growth."

In South Texas, Joe Rothe at Weslaco said: "High winds have sapped surface moisture and damaged crops in almost all counties. Pasture grazing has been curtailed by a lack of moisture. A large portion of cattlemen are feeding."

At Ft. Stockton, Ray Siegmund reported moisture is inadequate in all sections except at Sonora and Rocksprings. Ranges are poor and stock is being fed. Goat shearing is about complete. Sheep shearing is on.

Farther east in the Edwards Plateaur, conditions appear improved, V. G. Young reported at San Angelo. Much goat shearing is complete. About 10 per cent of the sheep shearing is finished. Grazing is much improved. Prices of livestock have advanced.

Some farmers are able to get into fields in the Gulf Coast area, but there has been little grain planted and rice planting is late. Cattle are improving. There is some trouble with bloat. Vegetables are fair to good.

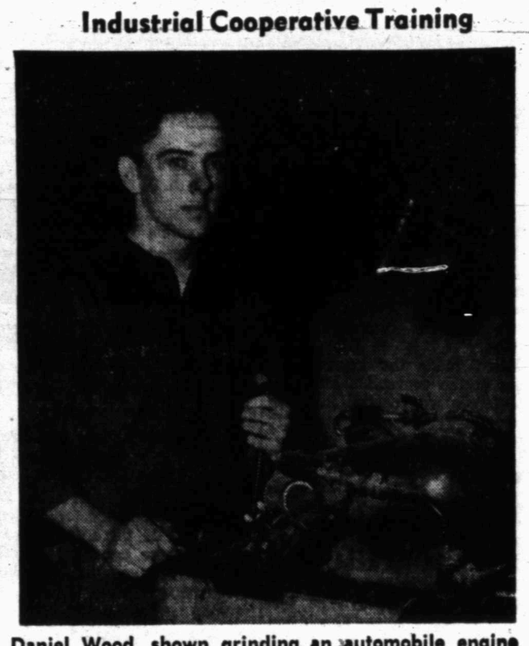

Panhandle wheat and grass are making slow growth. More moisture is needed. Cattlemen still are feeding.

ENTERTAIN—Western style music was provided for farmers of the Fluvanna area and Snyder businessmen at the second Farmer-Businessman banquet Thursday night. The banquet was held in the Fluvanna High School. Royce and Boyce Holder played fiddle and guitar music, a group of Fluvanna junior high school children put on a one-act play, and Jacqueline Martin gave a declamation reading she will use in Interscholastic League competition. State Fair Musicals Will Produce Their Own Shows

By MARSHALL COMERER
The Associated Press

The most ambitious musical observance of the Easter season thus far has been the performance of Bach's monumental "St. Matthew's Passion" by the Corpus Christi Symphony Orchestra on Saturday night.

The grand chorus of North Texas State College and five soloists assisted the orchestra in its 2-hour concert version of the work.

Jacques Singer, the conductor, hopes to make "St. Matthew's Passion" an annual Eastertime event at Corpus Christi, attracting persons from far and wide.

The State Fair Musicals of Dallas, which experimented not too successfully with national companies last season, is going back to producing its own shows this summer.

There is one exception. Judy Garland, whose own review has been a Broadway success, will be the opening attraction for two weeks starting June 10.

Following Judy will be these two-weeks shows: June 24, "Fanny," July 8, Jack Carson in a repeat of his 1951 musical hit, "Texas Li'l Darling;' July 22, Giesele MacKenzie in "Annie Get Your Gun;" Aug. 5, Patrice Munsel in "South Pacific;" and Aug. 19 Anna Maria Alberghetti in "Rose Marie."

The three winners of the young artists contest were featured on program of the Amarillo Symphony Thursday evening. They are Susan Biggs and Bill Holley, of Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Okla., and Stanley Potter, North Texas State pianist.

Among the children's theaters...

"The Red Shoes," a children's dramatization of the fairy tale by Hans Christian Anderson, was presented last week by the Junior Theater of Corpus Christi's Little Theater.

The Young Maskers of Midwestern University at Wichita Falls chose a mystery drama about spies for its second production. "Panda and the Spy" opened Thursday.

Around the Little Theater circle...

There was an authentic ring to the Wichita Falls Civic Playhouse's "Witness for the Prosecution." District Judge Graham Purcell played the role of Justice Wainwright. Asst. County Atty. John Mogan enacted the prosecutor.

The Greater Fort Worth Community Theater has selected "The Philadelphia Story" for its finale May 6-10.

The Perrin Players, a new group at Perrin ARB in the Sherman-Denison area, will give "Bell, Book and Candle" as its first performance early in May.

The San Angelo Community Theater's next play "Light Up the Sky" will be May 6-11.

Monday and Tuesday the Hardin-Simmons Players will present their last two performances of "The Conversion of Roger Williams."

CARROLL BAKER, as Baby Doll, comforts Eli Wallach, the stranger, in a scene from the forthcoming Elia Kazan production, "Baby Doll." The Warner Bros. film, Tennessee Williams first original for the screen and called his boldest, tells the story of a nineteen year old girl, caught in the conflict of an unfulfilled marriage, and an agreement, perhaps the strangest ever, between a man and his wife. Karl Malden also stars in the film.

Television Creating Stars For Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Tony Randall is the latest example of television's facility of developing stars for the movies.

Like Grace Kelly, Charlton Heston, Paul Newman and many others, Tony got his start on the stage and his seasoning in TV. Home viewers will remember him as Wally Cox's pal on the Mister Peepers show. And what a wonderful character he was—the gusty, hail-fellow type.

"No doubt about it, Peepers put me on the map as an actor," Randall admitted.

He's been covering the map very well ever since. He has bounced back and forth between the two coasts—performing in TV and on the stage in New York and in movies here.

Right now his movie career is getting into high gear. He's starring opposite Jayne Mansfield in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

Of the Peepers show, he says: "I loved that show. I thought it had some great fun in it. Maybe it sagged a little in the last year, but the ratings killed us. We were on only three times a month, with a spectacular taking the fourth week. Opposite us was Jack Benny every other week, and it was tough to match him."

Tony went on to appear in the H. L. Mencken role in the Broadway run of "Inherit the Wind." It's a showy part and he drew good notices and attention from the studios. Nunnally Johnson later cast him in "Oh Men, Oh Women."

Men Have Let Women Go A Bit Too Far

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—"You men," purred Eartha Kitt with a grin mixed of mischief and mockery, "made a mistake letting women get so far."

Broadway's sultry singer-dancer arched up on her toes, stared intently in the mirror, flecked a hand over cheek and hair.

She was busy explaining her first musical comedy, "Shinebone Alley," (which officially opened tonight), separating the off-stage Eartha from the on-stage Kitt, and commenting on more or less related matters.

"Women are too confused to have any philosophy other than a natural instince for survival," she continued, "but they're learning more than they used to.

"Now they know how to handle men—to neutralize them. That's where you men made a mistake."

Looking mildly pleased, she postured lithely into a new crouch on her chair.

Miss Kitt's catlike grace and aura is being applied in "Shinbone Alley" to portrayal of the famous Cat Mehitabel, who along with Archie the Cockroach, was immortalized in the alegories of Don Marquis. Archie is personified by Eddie Bracken in the show.

Eartha firmly distinguishes between herself and her stage incarnation.

"I think Mehitabel thinks more deeply than most women," she analyzes. "And she says, 'If you don't like me the way I am, to hell with you.' "

Picking the Winners: Awarding of citations for this year's outstanding Broadway players and dramas gets into full swing this week — with hardly a question mark anywhere in sight.

This is how the winners' circle looks in advance, for everything from the New York Drama Critics citations next Tuesday through the Pulitzer Prize windup in May:

TV Causing Conservative Men's Wear

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A fellow shopping in a clothing store recently complained to the salesman about the dark conservatism of men's suits these days. The salesman had one word of explanation: "Television."

Come to think of it, that salesman had a point. The commercial hucksters and quiz masters of television may be working a dark and stuble influence on even the clothing we wear, gentlemen.

There is a basic technical reason for dark suits on the home screen. They look better on camera. For some magical reason it even makes a man look thinner.

Well, this may be fine on television. But why carry it off the screen into the living room and the office? Why do so many wives want their husbands to dress like Hal March? Television can carry this regimentation too far.

It's the basic right of a man to look like an unmade bed if he wants to. Or to wear a red vest to the office if he wants to. But we're scared, men, we're yellow. After an evening of watching smoothly and conservatively tailored men on television, we rise in the morning and try to emulate them.

It's a pleasure, therefore, to report a few holes appearing in the television conservative suit front. Dave Garroway should have received an Emmy award for resisting regimentation in the suit department. He wears what he pleases.

John Cameron Swayze, who used to dress as if he were going to pass the collection plate, has been more relaxed in his dress recently.

And let's not forget Bob Hope. Without having positive knowledge it appears to me that Hope has been wearing the same suit on television for three years. He grandly flaunts the modified teddy boy look for the wasp waist and the full shoulders. Excellent! If he ever changes his suit, he'll lose one viewer.

MAN OF PARADOXES—Red Skelton is a man of many paradoxes and the above photo with his wife, Georgia, highlights two of them. Skelton is often seen with a cigar, but never smokes. He loves to talk into a microphone, but won't answer a telephone. "I can't hear over those things. It always sounds like somebody is talking on the other end." Therefore Mrs. Skelton is taking the many congratulatory telephone messages as Red returns to the screen for the first time in three years to co-star with Vivian Blaine and Janet Blair in "Public Pigeon No. 1," an RKO film released by Universal-International.

Convention To Open

Group To Re-Enact Services

SANTA FE, N.M., April 13 (AP)—A toned down version of the Penitente ceremonies of years ago will be re-enacted again this coming Holy Week in some remote Spanish-American villages of northern New Mexico's mountains.

From Wednesday night, through Holy Thursday and Good Friday, members of the Penitente Brotherhood will commemorate the last days of Jesus Christ.

The Brotherhood is a Catholic layman's group once outlawed by the church because of its excessive penances. It returned to the Church's good graces in 1947 on the condition that its rites would be performed with moderation and subject to church supervision.

The Pententes continued their rites even after falling into disrepute with the church. No records remain of the actual date the group was outlawed and students of the Penitentes say they have found no evidence that any Catholic was ever excommunicated because of being a Penitente.

During the time the group was in disrepute it was considered dangerous for an outsider to attempt to view the rites. Now, however, observers may watch the ceremony from a distance.

Penitentes, an offshoot of the medieval European Third Order of St. Francis, were organized at Santa Cruz, N.M., in 1835. The aim of the members was year-long penance.

Members in the early years believed only blood could atone for their sins. For many years, prior to 1947, there were stories of members' beating each others' backs bloody, and scarring themselves.

In the background, too, were reports that the rites had gone so far as to result in death by crucifixion for the man honored by playing the role of Christ.

WHERE THEY WILL WORK—A group of employes of the Snyder National Bank inspect one of the main working areas of the new building at Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue R. The room above will contain the banks new and modern bookkeeping and records machines which have been ordered to go in the modern new building. The staff and facilities of the Snyder National Bank were moved during yesterday and today to the new building, and "business as usual" will be conducted starting at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the new building. IRA SENIOR PLAY PLANNED TUESDAY

The Ira senior class play, "You Can't Kiss Caroline," will be presented Tuesday.

The play is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. Admission will be 25 and 50 cents.

Money raised from the play will be used to pay for the anual senior trip.

Air Cadet Is Killed

DENTON, April 13 (AP)—Philip Finch, 18, a naval air cadet from Dwight, Ill., was killed and six other persons were injured in a three-car collision south of Denton last night.

Patrolman Felix Webster said a car in which Finch was riding glanced off the rear of one car and smashed head on into an auto of a Denton family headed north.

The injured are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garner and daughter, May, 11, of Denton; and Air Cadet George Ganje, 19; Kenneth Simmons, 18, of Dallas; and Franklin Wilson, 18, driver of the car.

The cadets were from the Norman, Okla., NAS.

The driver of the first car struck, Le Mason of Garland, wasn't injured, Webster said. He said the cadets' car was traveling fast and a safety belt would have saved the life of Finch, who was thrown from the car.

Vegetable Crop Is Estimated In Texas

AUSTIN, April 13 (AP)—The U.S. department of Agriculture said today that prospective production of spring crop vegetables in Texas is estimated at 25 per cent below last year.

Reduced acreages of South Texas onions and Lower Valley tomatoes account for practically all of the decrease.

Prospective production of snap beans, sweet corn and cuckbers is above last year.

The harvest of south Texas onions is active in all areas except Eagle Pass. A light picking of Lower Valley tomatoes is expected in late April but the bulk of this acreage was planted for a later than usual harvest.

Man Is Charged For Death Six Years Ago

SILSBEE, Tex., April 13 (AP)—Murder charges were filed yesterday against T. C. Cunningham, 40, in the death of a Beaumont man over 6 years ago.

The body of Frank Knight of the French School in Beaumont was found on a creek bed near here in September, 1950.

Cunningham, a former convict, was arrested on a disturbing the peace charge shortly after he returned to Silsbee recently. Officers said he had made a statement about Knight's death.

Styles Bridges To Speak In Houston

HOUSTON, April 13 (AP)—Sen. Styles Bridges (NH), chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, will speak here April 29 at a $100-a-plate Eisenhower victory dinner.

Jack Porter, Texas Republican committeeman, said the fund-raising dinner will help clear up the deficit incurred by the party in Texas in its successful campaign to carry the state for Eisenhower last year.

Porter is the new chairman of the Republican State Finance Committee. He assumed the duties when the former chairman, William Frances Jr., of Houston left for Washington recently to become assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower.

Rock 'N Roll Party Ended By Stabbing

HOUSTON, April 13 (AP)—A stabbing broke up a teen-age rock 'n' roll party at a north side home last night.

Richard Frank, 15, was knifed five times. He was in a serious condition.

A party crasher, 20, known as the California Kid was sought. Police took nearly 20 persons, mostly bop-happy kids, to the police station for questioning.

Mrs. Helen Weatherford, 35, mother of Helen Weatherford, 14, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace on a complaint of a neighbor.

The bop party was at Mrs. Weatherford's home.

"We were dancing to Elvis (Presley) and Fats Domino records," said one girl, "when somebody started punching Richard."

She said the California Kid, who was dancing at the time, joined "two of his friends, also party crashers."

Frank said from his hospital bed that "three oys jumped me."

The bop party was held on Helen Weaatherford's birtahday.

Tigers 3rd In Region Track Meet; Eagles 1st

3 Tigers Qualify For State Meet

BY BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

LUBBOCK, April 13—The Abilene Eagles, bolstered by substitute, Iran King, annexed the Regional 1 Conference AA track and field title in near freezing temperatures here Saturday.

The Eagles, getting 10 points from King who failed to qualify for the regional in his district meet, bested runnerup Odessa by nine points, the Bronchos winding up with 18.

Snyder rolled up 15 points to finish third in team totals, while Amarillo, with 14 1-3 was fourth, and San Angelo, with 14, finished fifth.

Coach Jim Stehley's Tigers failed to come up with an event winner but the Bengals piled up enough second, third and fourths to place high in the team standings.

Three Tigers won second place ribbons that qualified them for the state meet to be held in Austin, May 3-4.

Rex Wilson finished second in the high hurdles and tied for second in the high jump; Bud Morgan came in second in the low hurdles; and Bobby Pollard ran second in the 100-yard dash.

Times in the running events, especially in the dashes and hurdles, were far below par in the regional affair because of the foul weather conditions. The sprints and hurdles were run into the wind, thereby slowing down the times.

Abilene's King put the Eagles over the hump by winning the broad jump and the low hurdles. King failed to qualify for the regional meet at the District 2-AAAA meet but he was substitued for an Eagle who did qualify.

King set a new record in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 5½ inches and bested Morgan for top honors in the lows. King's winning time in the low hurdles was 20.3.

Three other Conference AA records were set. Bobby Cunningham of Littlefield lowered the mile run record by nine second, the Littlefield junior making the four laps in 4:31.3 The old regional record was 4:40.5 set by Walter McNew of Amarillo in 1954.

San Angelo bettered the mile relay record in 3:25 while Don Deshon of Odessa set a new mark in the 880-yard run in 1:58.3 The old mile relay record was 3:26.3 set by Amarillo in 1954.

The old 880-yard record was 2:01 set by Jim Parr of Amarillo in 1956.

San Angelo met ill fate in the meet here Saturday. First off, her fine quartermiler, Roy Eisenbach, couldn't compete because of a kidney ailment.

MORE

If that wasn't enough, the Bobcat sensational quartermile relay team was disqualified after winning first place.

The final Bobcat handoff was made past the required marker in the sprint relay, bringing on the disqualification. The San Angelo sprint relay team, prior to the region meet here, had turned in the best time in the state this season.

Mike Ellington carried most of the load for San Angelo by winning the 100 and placing second in the 220.

The Tigers won all but first place in the high hurdles, Wilson, Morgan and Powell Berry finishing second, third and fourth in that order in the highs. Wilson was nosed out by a "whisker" by Abilene's Bob Swofford for first place in the highs.

Wilson nearly finished in a four-way tie for first in the high jump. With the bar placed at 5-11¾, Wilson and three others, Dick Murphy of Odessa, Mike Smith of Big Spring and Billy Jim Simmons of Pecos were left in the running.

All missed at this level in the first two of their three chances. But Murphy skimmed over on his third try while the other three failed, leaving Murphy the winner and Wilson, Smith and Simmons tied for second.

Other first place winners today were Curtis Hart of Andrews in the 440; Jim Windham of Colorado City in the shot put; Jack Tayrien of Odessa in the discus; and a three-way tie for first in the pole vault between Bayless Bennett of Amarilli; Mike Smith of Big Spring; and Orlin Davis of Midland.

The complete standings of Conference AA are as follows:

Abilene 27, Odessa 18, Snyder 15, Amarillo 14 1-3, San Angelo 14, Monterey 11, Andrews 9, Littlefield 9, Big Spring 7 1-3, Colorado City 7, Tom S. Lubbock 4, Midland 3 1-3, Lamesa 3, Borger 3, Pampa 3, Brownfield 3, Pecos 2, and Phillips 1.

The summaries:

CONFERENCE AA

HIGH HURDLES—1. Robert Swafford. Abilene; 2. Rex Wilson. Snyder; 3. Bud Morgan. Snyder; 4. Powell Berry. Snyder. Time—15.1.

New York Edges Dodgers By 2-1

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees, who beat the Brooklyn Dodgers on home runs in the 1956 World Series, used the long blow again Saturday as the teams reopened the Brooks' Ebbets Field band box for '57.

Bill Skowron's eighth inning homer off young Don Elston did it this time, producing a 5-4 Yankee victory and assuring the world champions at least a tie in their spring competition with the Dodgers. The series stands 3-2 New York with the last game at Yankee Stadium today.

Even the weather was reminding of the fall, with chill winds and temperatures in the 40s greeting the 7,105 fans who watched the game.

Football-like weather prevailed elsewhere as Milwaukee beat Minneapolis in the north country 4-3; Pittsburgh's springtime fancies defeated Detroit 6-2 at Charleston, W. Va.; The Chicago Cubs edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 at Comiskey Park; the St. Louis Cardinals reopened Busch Stadium with a 4-2 whipping of Kansas City; Baltimore treated the home fans to a 7-0 rout of the Cincinnati Redlegs, and the New York Giants spilled Cleveland 5-2 at Knoxville, Tenn. One scheduled afternoon game, the Philadelphia Phils vs. Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park, was cancelled because of cold weather. Also cancelled because of cold was Washington's night game at Richmond, IL.

Four runs in the second inning off Sal Maglie, two of them unearned, accounted for the Yanks scoring against Brooklyn until Skowron powered his homer into the left center seats. Behind 5-2, Brooklyn came back with two runs in the eighth and had two men on base in the ninth when Charlie Neal popped out to end it. Art Ditmar and Bob Turley pitched for New York.

Lefthander Luis Arroyo went the distance for the Pirates, now 20-9 for the exhibition season, and checked the toothless Tigers on six hits. A three-run burst off Billy Hoeft in the fifth inning, triggered by a double by Hank Foiles and Ramon Mejias' triple, clinched it for Pittsburgh.

Shortstop Ed Winceniak's two-run homer and a bases-loaded pinch single by Ray Jablonski enabled the Cubs to square their spring record at 16-16. Youngsters Don Kaiser and Moe Drabowsky combined to limit the White Sox to seven hits. Jack Harshman, listed to start for the Sox in Tuesday's opener with Cleveland, worked the first six innings and gave up all four Cub runs.

Doubles by Don Blasingame, Ken Boyer and Bobby Gene Smith coupled with an infield hit and an error in the first inning counted three runs and put the Cardinal's in control against the A's. Murry Dickson and Larry Jackson handled the St. Louis pitching.

Baltimore also scored three first-inning runs and rode to victory behind the strong pitching of Ray Moore and Don Ferrarese. Moore went seven innings and allowed the normally hit-happy Redlegs two singles while striking out five and walking three.

Hermleigh, Hobbs Qualify Pair For State

ODESSA, April 13—The Hermleigh Cardinals placed fourth in the Region 2B track meet here Saturday with 16 points.

The meet here today combined classes A and B. The three schools finishing 1-2-3 were Class A schools. Junction won with 28 points followed by Sonora and Merkel.

Two athletes from Hermleigh gained a state meet berth, Morris Light and Billy Mac Davidson.

Light placed second in the high jump, third in the high hurdles, fourth in the low hurdles and ran a leg on the third place sprint relay team.

Davidson was second in the 220-yard dash and ran a leg on the third place sprint relay team. The other two members of the sprint relay team were Larry Denson and Clyde Wilcox

Wilcox, in addition, placed a close third in the 880-yard run.

Two other athletes from the Snyder area, Hobbs, won a trip to the state meet in today's region meet.

Doyle Hayes of Hobbs won first place in the discus while George Gantt tied for first in the pole vault.

TIGER-SAN ANGELO TWINBILL CALLED

The scheduled doubleheader between the Tigers and San Angelo yesterday at San Angelo was postponed because of cold weather.

It was the second straight day the Tigers had been weathered out. The Bengals were frozen out of a game with Tom S. Lubbock Friday.

No new dates for the postponed games have been set as yet.

Next on tap for the Tigers is against Midland at Midland Tuesday. The game was orginally set for Snyder but was changed to Midland at the request of Midland.

Midland only switched home sites for the next two games with the Tigers. The Bulldogs will come to Snyder May 7 instead of Tuesday.

Return Bout Granted To Deaf Mute Boxer

MILAN, April 13 (AP) — World bantamweight boxing champion Alphonse Halimi of France has agreed to give deaf mute Mario D'Agata a return bout, Italian sports promoter Vittorio Strumolo said today.

Halimi lifted the title from D'Agata in a 15-round bout at Paris April 1. Prior to the bout, the winner had agreed to fight Mexico's Raul Macias within three months. Macias is recognized by the U.S. National Boxing Assn. as world champion.

There was no indication whether it is planned before or after Halimi fights Macias.

Squad Game Ends In 6-6 Deadlock

Next year's Tiger "Seniors" and "Underclassmen" battled to a 6-6 tie in an intra-squad game that wound up the first week of spring football drills.

Quarterback Dickie Martin scored the lone touchdown for the Seniors while Jimmy Allen tallied for the Underclassmen, both made on short runs.

Neither team was, successful on their extra point tries.

Coach John Conley said both teams looked pretty good on defense. Nothing outstanding, however, was noted on offense, Conley said.

The Seniors controlled the ball better on offense. The Seniors scored their touchdown on an extended drive.

The Underclassmen scored their lone touchdown after recovering a fumble on the Senior 10.

Longest gainers of the session were 25 yard scampers by Eddie Dyer of the Seniors and Johnny Drake of the Underclassmen.

Center Bill Rinehart, guard Gene Williamson and tackle Bill Phillips and end Dwayne Merritt were the line standouts for the seniors.

In the ball carrying department, drawing praise were Drake and Allen of the Underclassmen and Mickey McGrew and Israel Hinojos for the Seniors.

McGrew, actually, is an underclassman but he was placed on the Senior team at fullback since the Seniors had no experienced fullback.

Another squad game is set for next Saturday although the squad may be split up differently.

Chicago White Sox Trim Their Roster

CHICAGO, April 13 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox trimmed their roster to 30 players today, one above the opening day limit by assigning three men to minor league clubs.

Norm Larker, first baseman, who was drafted from Montreal last year, was returned to the same club on claim while right-handed pitcher, Roger Howard, was sent to Indianapolis.

The third player was infielder Tom Brown, returned to Nashville.

Jon Haaven, star University of North Dakota basketball player, once scored 52 points for his Fort Devens, Mass., Army post team.

SMU Whips Aggies, 2-1

COLLEGE STATION, April 13 (AP)—Southern Methodist's Mustangs eked out a 2-1 victory over the Texas Aggies today as Carl Schlemeyer got the nod over the Aggies' Dick Munday in a brilliant pitching duel.

Munday gave up only two hits—both singles—but they were enough to give the Ponies two unearned runs for the Southwest Conference victory. The A&M senior righthander and captain walked one and fanned five in facing only 33 batters.

He retired 15 in a row after the fourth inning.

Schlemeyer gave up only four well-spaced hits, fanned eight and walked two.

Major League Nines Set For Season Openers

Traditional Game In Capital Monday

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — Major league baseball — threatened by possible Congressional restraint and probable continued domination by the New York Yankees, but anticipating another attendance-boosting scrap for the National League pennant — opens the 1957 season Monday.

Actually, Monday's opener is just the customary sneak preview put on by the American League each year at Washington. Things don't get going on a full scale until Tuesday, when eight games are scheduled — one a Brooklyn at Philadelphia night game.

A crowd of about 28,000 is expected in Griffith Stadium Monday to see President Eisenhower throw out the first ball as the Senators and Baltimore Orioles get the jump in the battle for position in the American League's second division.

Except for the color and tradition involved, about all that can be said for the early opener in the nation's capital is that it gives an opportunity for a first-hand look at the "sport" by those members of Congress who feel baseball is a business identical to the Supreme Court's ruling on pro football and should be regulated accordingly.

It also gives Washington or Baltimore a chance to lead the AL Monday, probably for the only time this season. And it may be the only day of 1957 that the world champion Yankees do not hold at least a share of first place.

This is the season Casey Stengel shoots for his eighth pennant —and seventh world championship —as manager of the Yankees. And even Case admits he has the flag in the bag, although maybe not as easily as the experts think, what with another powerhouse topped by Mickey Mantle, the kid with the Golden Bat, and Whitey Ford, the stubby, southpaw ace of his pitching staff.

The National League, still talking of last season's first three-team, season-long battle for the flag since 1908, figures to have more of the same. The same trio is involved, the Milwaukee Braves, Cincinnati Redlegs and Brooklyn Dodgers, who won the pennant on the last day of the 1956 season.

If the triple threat comes off, the NL can count on another banner year attendance-wise. Last year's total — 8,649,567 — was almost a million over 1955 and the top "normal" (non-post war) year ever.

Here's the full schedule, with estimated attendance in parentheses):

MONDAY

Baltimore at Washington (28,000)

TUESDAY

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Washington at New York (20,000)
Boston at Baltimore (35,000)
Chicago at Cleveland (35,000)
Detroit at Kansas City (31,000)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn at Philadelphia, night (25,000)
New York at Pittsburgh (35,000-37,000)
Milwaukee at Chicago (35,000)
St. Louis at Cincinnati (33,000)

THE WING'S OKAY—Bob Nieman, Baltimore Orioles outfielder, expresses his glee after doctors learn, by X-ray, that his shoulder was not broken in a tumble during an exhibition game. Nieman arrived in Baltimore for a complete examination and apparently will be ready for the season's opener, although his shoulder is still sore. (AP Wirephoto)

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE MAJOR LEAGUES open fire Tuesday and sports scribes, broadcasters and John Q Fan across the country are busy picking their favorites for the 1957 campaign.

We filled out an Associated Press questionaire several days in ranking the eight teams in the two leagues right down the line.

It wasn't a difficult task to pick the American League champ. Don't believe there's a team in sight who can derail the Yankee express.

But it was a different story in the National League. The way we see it, four teams stand a good chance of emerging with the pennant. That would be the defending champions, the Dodgers, and the Braves, Redlegs and Cardinals.

The coming National League chase is shaping up to be another "dog fight" right down the wire. It was a three-team chase down the wire last year between the Dodgers, Braves and Redlegs. The Braves finally handed the pennant to the Dodgers by losing two of their last three games. The Braves entered the final three days of the race leading by a game and could have done no worse than a tie for the pennant by winning at least two of their last three games and could have won it by sweeping the three games.

Braves Bent On Revenge

But the Cardinals turned spoilers by clipping the Braves twice in those last three games, thus handing the flag to Brooklyn.

The Braves haven't forgotten that late collapse and are bent on slipping in with this year's flag.

And from here it looks like the Braves will do just that. The Braves are back intact while the Dodgers lost a valuable player in Jackie Robinson.

The Redlegs still don't have the pitching to go with their power so we don't believe they'll be able to head off the Braves.

The Cardinals definitely must be tabbed as "sleepers" since several of their players are question marks at this time. If these questionable players come through, the Cardinals could be tough.

These four teams definitely, barring a miracle, will make up the first division in the National. The Cubs, Pirates, Phillies or Giants just don't have it.

Yankees All The Way

Here is the way we see the National race:

1. Braves.
2. Dodgers.
3. Redlegs.
4. Cardinals.
5. Pirates.
6. Cubs.
7. Phillies.
8. Giants.

As aforementioned, we don't see any team in the American League capable of heading off the Yankees this season.

Detroit's Tigers are being given some chance ofdoing it but the Tigers are still a year or two away. We believe the Tigers are too youthful to finish ahead of Mickey Mantle and Co.

Cleveland, with a new manager, could surprise. But the Indian hurlers, who have been "carrying the load" the past few seasons, are getting old and we believe the 20-game seasons are over for most of the Tribe staff.

Then, too, the Indians will be without Al Rosen who has retired from the game.

The Red Sox and White Sox are strong in spots but don't have the overall balance that is needed to be a pennant winner.

Our prediction on the American League race is as follows:

1. Yankees.
2. Tigers.
3. Red Sox.
4. White Sox.
5. Indians.
6. Athletics.
7. Senators.
8. Orioles.

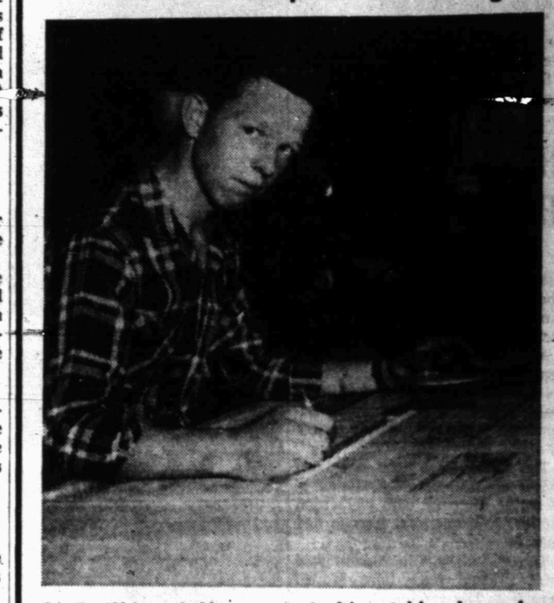

The AP questionaire also included a blank on who would win the World Series.

To this we answered "Milwaukee Braves."

CITY OF SNYDER

Another Thrilling Race Seen In NL

By WARREN C. GILES
President of the National League
Written for The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 13 (AP)—It is customary each year at this time for a league president to look forward hopefully to an exciting, hard-fought pennant race, the kind which stimulates fans, players and the league as a whole.

This year, it is not necessary for me to make any such prediction concerning our upcoming season. That has been done for me by all quarters and it seems almost a certainty that the National League is in for another "spine-tingling" race, like the one which captured the attention of the entire nation last year.

Of course, it is almost too much to hope that the NL will see a repeat of last year's melodramatic race in which three clubs were still in contention on the final weekend of the season. Yet, who can say it won't happen again?

Certainly, the three 1956 contenders have not been weakened. Brooklyn, Milwaukee and Cincinnati are rated practically even by all observers to whom I talked in Florida and it is the consensus that at least three of our other clubs will be stronger in 1957.

Judging by what I saw in Florida, it is going to be harder for any 1956 first-division club to finish as high as it did last year. Though I realize you can't draw definite conclusions from Grapefruit League games, I did get the impression while watching our clubs knock each other off in exhibition games. The six clubs which trained in Florida were fairly well bunched in the Grapefruit League standings and that situation could carry over into regular season play.

I didn't get to see the Giants and Cubs this spring but followed closely all the written reports. Both clubs are in the process of rebuilding and are enthusiastic about a number of their young players who will be given the opportunity to earn a major-league job. This usually makes for a very interesting team.

St. Louise, rated a "dark-horse" last year by many, could be just that this year. The Cardinals jumped from seventh in 1955 to fourth in 1956 and obviously, need improve only that much again to be right in the thick of the battle. The Phillies' pitching could take the club a long way. Many pitching "experts" rate the Philadelphia staff as potentially the best in baseball.

The club uncovered several excellent young prospects in Clearwater this spring and its "big four"—Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Harvey Haddix and Jim Hearn—stacks up with any in the majors.

Pittsburgh, the 1956 surprise club could be an even bigger surprise in '57. The young Pirates are maturing year by year and there's no telling how far they might go if they get that winning momentum.

Summarizing, it looks like another great year in the NL. Brooklyn as the defending champion, will be difficult to unseat but the Braves and Redlegs (and a couple of other clubs) are determined and confident.

Major Loop Stars Began At Bottom

By GEORGE M. TRAUTMAN
President, National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues
Written for The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 13 (AP)—Sometimes in the golden glow of a spectacular athletic event the man in the grandstand may forget in his excitement that his heroes of the field were not always at the top.

Let's go back to a bright summer day in Washington, D. C., last July 10. It is baseball's high moment of the season to date and a legion of fans has packed flag bedecked Griffith Stadium.

Now, if you will, look over those power-packed starting line-ups. Up to the plate strides scrappy Johnny Temple, the second baseman from Morganton, N.C., 1948. The pitcher, cool lefty Billy Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., 1945, toes the rubber and the game is on.

To me sitting in this historic old ball park and watching the exciting events of that afternoon unfold, I saw down there on the diamond the "grass roots All-Stars of America." I tried to picture in my mind each player, not as a poised and polished big-timer, but as a roughcut rookie just beginning his days in professional baseball.

Look at the rest of that "grass-roots" All-Star array. After Temple, who cut his professional baseball teeth in the old Western Carolina League in the '48 season came big Frank Robinson, the left fielder, who was destined to be Rookie of the Year. Robinson, Tulsa, Okla., '53 had come up so fast he hadn't even rated a place on the roster of his team at the start of the '56 season.

Next in the batting order was an ex-pitcher, a fellow named Stan Musial, Daytona Beach, Fla. '40 and he was followed by his teammate, Ken Boyer, Lebanon, Pa., '49.

Right fielder Musial, making his 13th appearance in the mid-summer classic, was named that day as player of the decade, a far cry from the kid who almost quit baseball at Daytona Beach because of a broken shoulder. His young teammate, third baseman Boyer, was the defensive star of the game, shining more brightly than at any time since his career began in the North Atlantic League in 1949.

To go on with that line-up, next came center fielder Gus Bell from Keokuk, Iowa, '47, long a proud address in the Three I League which is celebrating this season its golden anniversary in the minors. Dale Long, the first baseman who emblazoned the baseball scene with his feat of eight homers in eight games during May, came to bat as an alumnus of Lima, Ohio, '45 and was followed by kid catcher Ed Bailey of Ogden, Utah, '50. Stylish shortstop Roy McMillan, Tyler, Tex., '47, batted eighth ahead of starting pitcher Bob Friend, Waco, Tex., '50.

There was that same grass roots flavor in the other line-up. Ex-collegian Harvey-Kuenn, the shortstop, another Three I Leaguer from Davenport, Iowa, '52, led off and little Nellie Fox, the second baseman, class of Lancaster, Pa., '44, followed.

The slender slugger, Ted Williams of San Diego, away back in '37, was next to flex his muscles and then in came that double-duty beauty, center fielder Mickey Mantle of Independence, Kan., '49.

Catcher Yogi Berra, Norfolk, Va., '53 batted in next and then came the only player on the field never to have donned a minor league uniform, Al Kaline of Detroit. Kaline's presence in this array of stars served only to emphasize the importance of that apprenticeship in the lower echelons of baseball for it is rare indeed when a young man can step, as he did, from the sandlots of his Baltimore high school team directly to a big league diamond.

Trouble Sighted If Bums Go To LA

By JIM KENSIL

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—The bosses who looked upon night baseball as the savior of dying grandmothers might yet be in for trouble.

The possible culprit: Walter O'Malley, a fellow executive in his capacity as president of the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League.

His possible cronies: The television networks.

As the majors and minors took to the night air more and more during the past two decades, springtime absentee lists dwindled in factories and offices throughout most of the country.

Now here comes Mr. O'Malley with a threat to move the Dodgers to Los Angeles if the Brooklyn city fathers don't chip in and help build a new ballyard for his Dodgers.

So they won't play night ball in LA?

You bet they will, and therein lies the rub.

From the Rockies to Atlantic City, office boys who formerly pleaded for grandma and thousands of workers who caught the springtime sniffles might be showing up bleary-eyed many a working morning.

Here's the pitch, and it could be a big fat one, dollarwise, for the taker:

If the Dodgers trek to California, games would be starting around 8:30 p.m. on the coast—three hours later than in the TV-Saturated East and two and one hours later, respectively, in the Rocky Mountain and Central time zones.

Television networks could pick up the Dodger games on a nationwide basis and might knock the ratings of the late movies and variety shows. And most of all the telecast time wouldn't interfere with the established network shows with all-round family appeal. Of course, regional daylight saving time differentials and problems concerning repeating of kinescoped and taped shows in some areas would have to be considered, but these are not new hurdles for the networks.

That network baseball is a gold mine is unquestionable. CBS has been televising a "game-of-the-week" on Saturday afternoons for five years, and this season NBC is matching it head-on with a 26-week series of its own.

Only Kansas City will fail to bring a game into the living room, and of the 15 clubs participating in telecasts, who will air the most games?

Try the "GIT" of the Century

(What a Dream Car to Drive)

IF YOU RE ONE who goes for spirited performance, you'll find the vivacious 1957 Buick CENTURY speaks a language all your own.

Because, this year, we wanted to bring you even finer performance. Engineered a brand-new V8 engine with the "power-pack" built right in, at no extra cost—and teamed it up with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that's instant in response.

Get behind the wheel and you'll understand why we say this 1957 Buick is the dream car to drive.

You sit there with 300 horses at your beck and call, complete control at your finger tips, and the surety of powerful new brakes at your toe touch.

You smooth your way over hills that seem to lose their tops.

You ride relaxed and composed—in creature comfort and supreme command.

But the CENTURY—like all 1957 Buicks—speaks also of fresh, new styling—the look you like, the longer you look. And of new luxury—inside and out. New stretch-out roominess—new solid torque-tube steadiness of travel. New buoyancy of ride, and a glorious new ease of handling.

Come let this magnificent new Buick do its own talking. You'll find it sweet listening—right down to the price-talk.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Man Is Killed By Rig

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church in San Angelo for Joseph Winston Pearce, 45, who was killed early Friday when high winds toppled an oil rig near Bronte.

The falling rig crushed the car in which Pearce was sitting.

Pearce had been at the site of the well for only about 15 minutes when the high winds blew the derrick down. No one else was injured on the job.

Pearce was a native of Baird, and had lived in Snyder for about three years before moving to San Angelo about five years ago. While in Snyder he was employed as a tool pusher for the Brooks-Turner Well Service Co.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Irene Gordon Pearce of San Angelo.

Rains Boost Rio Grande

MCALLEN (AP) — Rains have caused rises in the Rio Grande above Falcon Dam but no official measurements or estimates of the increased flow are available.

At least one good-sized rise was reported on the Pecos River near its junction with the Rio Grande. Rain reports indicated other tributaries would be pouring water into the Rio Grande.

The inflow at Falcon has been below normal all week. Releases of water from the dam have been off all week but total storage had only increased 3,600 acre feet.

The Boundary Commission said total storage today was 264,700 acre feet. The amount of available U. S. water as of last Sunday was 185,900 acre feet.

Grazing Need Is Outlined

ABILENE, April 13 (AP)—Berl Godfrey, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, asked Secretary of Agriculture Benson yesterday to extend grazing privileges on wheat acreage reserves in the soil bank.

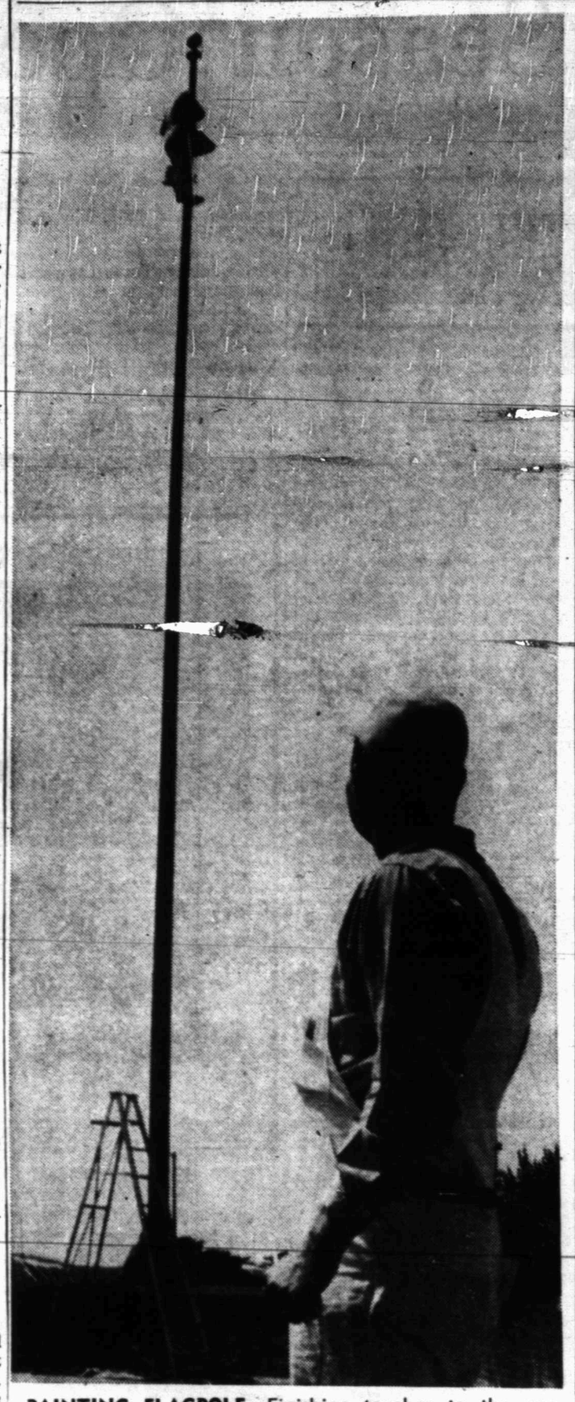

He said regulations require all grazing on soil bank wheat lands ended April 15. Godfrey said the wheat in the program does not have to be plowed up until May 10.

"Our farmers and ranchers will have an added 25 days of grazing for their cattle if Secretary Benson will grant this extension," Godfrey said.

He said it was a critical period for livestock in West Texas and the nutrition in wheat would sustain the cattle during this time.

Premiums Offered

DALLAS, April 13 (AP)—The tate Fair offered today premiums of $86,095 for the Pan-American livestock Exposition and Junior Livestock Show Oct. 5-20.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 7, NO. 297 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, APRIL 14, 1957 SECTION B

Members who have attended Civic Music Association concerts in other towns include the quintet above. From left standing are: Mary Lou Devenport, and Mary Kelso; and seated from left: Mrs. Billie Youree, and Mr. and Mrs. Silas Devenport. All above attended concerts in Sweetwater this year in addition to the Snyder concerts. Membership cards entitle members to attend a total of seven CMA concerts—the ones here or in surrounding towns.

Civic Music Association has a good representation from the county area around Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sorrells, left, and Mrs. Ella Ritcher, above, are three of the 10 members from Knapp who bought tickets for this year's series.

Civic Music Association Focuses On Members, Concert

Paula Redwine, six-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Redwine, Denson Avenue and Forty-second Street, was discovered to be the youngest member of Civic Music Association here. "And you know," commented her mother, "she loves the concerts.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dennis, of Gail, probably travel farther than any other members to attend the Snyder Civic Music Association concerts. They are pictured above in Cogdell Memorial Hospital with their daughter, six-year-old Lisa Dennis, who holds an ice pack to a sore throat following a tonsilectomy last Monday. Season memberships are $6 for adults and $3 for children. (Lee Watson photographs)

TO REVIEW THE FINAL CMA CONCERT MONDAY NIGHT—Mrs. George Kubala, piano teacher, native of Snyder and owner of the second Steinway grand piano in town (the other belongs to the Martha Ann Women's Club House) will review the violin concert by Julian Olevsky on Monday night, 8 p.m., Snyder High School Auditorium. (Lee Watson photograph)

Mrs. Kubala To Review Final CMA Series Here

Recently Mrs. Lucille Kubala was asked if she would review the violin concert to be put on by the "brilliant young violinist" Julian Olevsky, who will present the final Civic Music Association performance of the season on Monday night 8 p. m. at the Snyder High School auditorium.

"Well I suppose so," Mrs. Kubala replied hesitantly, "I'm perfectly willing to help you out but I want you to understand what you are getting. You see I've only had a half year of violin and that was more years ago than I care to think about."

It was then explained to Mrs. Kubala that the town had been searched for violinists, and none had been unearthed with the exception of Bill Williams who admitted having done considerable violin at one time, but hadn't thought about it in years, and begged off, "because I just don't think I've kept up musically." At least it was felt that Mrs. Kubala was keeping up musically.

"Keeping up?" and she gave an engaging laugh, "I suppose I am doing that since I've concerned myself with music in general and piano in particular ever since I was five years old when my mother Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, started teaching me to play the piano right here in Snyder.

When asked about her musical background, she said that after two years with her mother she took lessons for 10 years from Mrs. E. B. Barnes and then majored in music at McMurry, receiving a BS degree, and then a Bachelor of Music degree from the Chicago Conservatory of Music.

When asked why Snyder had no violinists she said, "You see, to begin with we have no violin teacher. Oh, yes, piano comes first in a study of music and that isn't just my opinion but a pretty accepted idea among musicians. All the same one can't underestimate the importance of the study of stringed imstruments, because without them Snyder can never hope to have a symphony orchestra of its own.

"Let me say right now that studying the violin is extremely difficult. Not only do you have to start young, but it requires many hours of practice to become good, and on top of that you have got to have perfect pitch, or at least relative pitch, because you tune your own instrument, and are completely responsible for the tones you make.

"What exactly is perfect pitch? Well, the international standard states that it is 440 vibrations per second. Now a person with perfect pitch, and there are few of them, can tell immediately when a piano is the slightest bit out of tune. No, I don't have perfect pitch, however, I think I've developed pretty good relative pitch."

Mrs. Kubala was then asked if she had seen an increase in interest in music here in Snyder since her girlhood.

"Yes, indeed, a great deal, and I believe there will be more interest shown as time goes by.

"In the early days here there simply wasn't the time to take an interest in the arts. Life was too hard and there was too much to do just to keep going. Take my grandparents, it wasn't that they didn't have the desire, but it just wasn't the time for such pursuits.

"That is no longer true. We have money here, and we have a great deal more leisure. We have the means now to go in for the arts, and I think we will—after all there is nothing better for us, nor more rewarding. Let's put it this way, man cannot live by bread alone, his spirit needs food too."

Sunday School Class Meets

The Fellowship Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. P. J. Collins, 3608 Avenue U.

Mrs. E. N. Inman was co-hostess for the meeting.

Mrs. Ola Leath conducted the business meeting. Plans were made to help with the luncheon for the Association meeting on Tuesday. A schedule for prayer meetings next week was presented.

The class voted to have a friendship basket for the coming month to stimulate fellowship.

After a social period, refreshments were served to one guest, Mrs. J. D. McBrien of Floydada, and 11 members. The meeting was closed with a prayer led by Mrs. Luther Corbell.

A course in nuclear energy is the latest addition to correspondence studies, the National Home Study Council reports.

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken fro the files of the Scurry County Times, April 14, 1932)

The Yard and Garden Contest committee has been named as follows by The Times, which is sponsoring the city-wide beautification movement: Mrs. C. F. Sentell, entries; Mrs. C. R. Buchanan, prizes; Mrs. Max Brownfield, publicity; Mrs. Joe Strayhorn, judging; Mrs. Roland Bell, educational (information on planting).

"I believe there's an oil field in Scurry County, and I'm going to keep on drilling here." That dose of optimism coming from M. Z. Dibble, who began operations here in 1929, makes a fitting background for the belief of many leading Scurry County citizens that this section of Old Mother Earth's bosom is loaded with "black gold" in supper-paying quantities.

• • •

Application is being make by the Snyder High School for membership in the National Honor Society according to R. L. Williams, principal. The officials and faculty members, with Superintendent C. Wedgeworth, are confident that the coveted honor will come.

Grady Hamrick, candidate for state representative, announces this week that he has officially withdrawn from the race. He is superintendent of the six-teacher Pyror School in Scurry County.

• • •

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, unavoidably delayed last week in their membership drive, Wednesday evening mapped definite plans for the canvassing, and will be on the job within the next day or two.

• • •

Two hundred and forty farm loan checks had been received here yesterday, and another substantial batch is expected this weekend by Harvey Shuler, county secretary.

Day Camp Training Scheduled Tuesday

Several from Snyder are expected to attend a day camp training course at Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater Tuesday.

The course will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Those who wish to help at day camp are urged to attend.

For all needing transportation, cars will leave the girl scout house in Snyder at 8 a.m. Those attending are asked to bring a lunch.

CMA GUEST NIGHT SET

Directors of the Snyder Civic Music Association have announced that "guest night" will be observed for the final concert in the 1956-57 series Monday night.

Each member of the association is requested to bring one guest free of charge.

"We have first rate professional artists and we would like for anyone interested to come to our concert tomorrow night," said Art Nicholas, CMA president.

Nicholas noted that each guest must be accompanied by a member, but reminded "there's no law against phoning up a member and asking if you can be his guest."

There will be a renewal desk in the lobby Monday night at the High School auditorium, so that CMA members may renew their memberships for 1957-58. Any guest who desires may join at that time.

Julian Olevsky, noted violinist, will be presented in concert on the final 1956-57 concert.

Nurse Group Will Meet On Monday

A meeting of district 15 of the Texas Graduate Nurses Association will be held here at Cogdell Memorial Hospital tomorrow night.

ON LAST LAP—Mrs. Kitty T. Millican, standing, of Chattanooga, Tenn., shows her aunt, Mrs. H. G. Moore, who lives on Thirty-seventh Street here, one of the many souvenirs of Mrs. Millican's round-the-world tour which she will complete on May 11, when she reaches her home again after more than nine months of travel. (Lee Watson photograph)

Life-Time Dream Of Trip Around World Comes True

A life-time dream of Mrs. Kitty T. Millican, Chattanooga, Tenn., for a trip around the World will be realized May 11, when she reaches her home after more than nine months of travel.

She is now on the last lap of the trip and is spending a few days with relatives here. She is visiting Mrs. H. G. Moore, Thirty-seventh Street, an aunt while in Snyder.

After her visit here she will continue on the tour late next week.

Mrs. Millican's trip ticket which took her about 25,000 miles through almost every continent in the world.

Most of her traveling was done by air, but much was by less convenient or conventional means. In Egypt she traveled from Carlo to the land of the Pyramids and Sphnyx by camel, and on elephant back in South Africa and India.

The pleasure tour also included visits to Methodist missions and with missionaries all over the world.

Mrs. Millican retired last year after 35 years employement with Southern Bell Telephone Co.

On Waikiki Beech at Honolulu, Hawaii, she visited Donald Eades, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Eades of Snyder. He is stationed at Schofield Barracks in Hawaii.

Shortening Is Used For Much Cooking

Did you ever stop to count the number of ways a shortening is used in meal preparation? In baking it is used for pies, tarts, cakes, cookies, cream puffs, biscuits, bread and rolls.

For frying, lard is used in the preparation of croquettes, doughnuts, fritters, eggs, French-fried potatoes, and meat to name just a few. Lard is an economical shortening, too.

Mayor, City Manager Speak To Women Voters Thursday

"When approximately 5000 people are eligible to vote, and only 192 actually go to the polls, as was the case in Snyder's last city election, that is in reality minority rule," Harold Bennett, Snyder mayor, told a general membership meeting of the provisional League of Women Voters Thursday night.

The mayor and Roy Dunlap, city manager, addressed the group informally at a dinner meeting at the Hilander for members and their guests. Both men spoke from the viewpoint of their respective jobs in connection with the league's first study project, "Know Your Town Government".

Bennett gave a brief history of Snyder, and outlined the development of Snyder's city government, its character, operation and function. He emphasized the many problems connected with Snyder's rapid and phenomenal growth from a town of approximately 4800 population in 1948, to a city of 16,000 today. "Our present student population", he said, "outnumbers our total population of less than ten years ago".

Bennett paid special tribute to city leaders who served the community during the boom period. He described Snyder's city charter, which was written and approved during that period, as one of the best in his experience, and praised the local pioneer spirit and unselfish service which made Snyder's growth so orderly.

Under the present form of city government, he said, only one city employe is under the direct authority of the city manager. That employe is the city manager, who is responsible for the operation of all city services.

Bennett compared the city to a corporation, with the taxpayers as stockholders and the city council as the elected board.

League members were reminded that the councilmen and mayor serve the community without pay, and that they welcome the interest of all citizens. All city council meetings are announced in the newspaper and on the radio, he emphasized, and the public is invited to attend at any time.

Dunlap continued the discussion with an explanation of the organization and function of the city manager form of government. The city manager carries out the dictates and policies of the city council and mayor, in accordance with the city charter, he said.

The city's 72 employees are responsible to the respective city department heads, who are in turn responsible to the city manager. There are eight departments, five of which are on duty 24 hours a day.

Dunlap praised the efficiency and devotion to duty of Snyder's city employees, and said that many departments are functioning effectively with minimum staffs. The city, he said, work closely with the county and school district, but has little direct contact with the state. He expressed appreciation to the county, in particular, for its many contributions to the city through the use of its equipment and services.

Both Dunlap and Bennett pointed out that the people are responsible for their government at any level, whether city, state or national, and asked for their interest and support.

Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Dunlap were guests at the meeting.

A brief business session was held following the addresses. Mrs. Bill Butler, president of the local group, reported on her recent trip to Austin to attend the League's presidents' council. She urged members to write to State Representative Robert Patterson, on House Bill 695, which will codify the existing juvenile measures. She also reported that League representatives had visited the last school board meeting and the last city council meeting as observers, and expressed appreciation for the courtesy with which they were received.

Mrs. H. S. Lowry, finance chairman, gave a report from the budget committee, submitting a tentative budget which was approved.

Two study units were set up under the direction of Mrs. Harold Kelley, unit chairman. The first unit will meet at 3 p.m. on Tuesday, April 23, at the home of Mrs. Butler.

The evening group will hold its first meeting Thursday, April 25, at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. W. B. Lee, Jr. Miss Ethel Roberts will act as discussion leader for this group.

Mrs. Irene Knight was introduced as the new second vice president, replacing Mrs. E. A. Brooks, who has resigned.

Course Scheduled At Snyder Church

Mrs. Oscar Kelley of Spur will conduct a teacher's training course at the Church of Christ, 1411 Twenty-fifth street. Tuesday.

The course begins at 9:30 a. m. and will continue throughout the day. She will use illustrations and handwork to demonstrate lessons.

Mrs. Kelley will begin the course with the story of creation in the book of Genesis. She will go through the Old Testament in her instruction.

Try Making Egg Mosaics This Easter

If you're the artistic type but never get around to paints, brushes and canvas, why not try Easter egg nosaics? Instead of discarding those colorful Easter egg shells after the eggs have been eaten, why not save them for mosiac decoration?

The ancient art of mosaic decoration (inlaying surfaces with small mieces of colored glass and stone in patterns) may become a modern art with egg shells. Their soft matte finish makes them ideal for the purpose.

When peeling your egg remove the shells in as large segments as possible, keeping the various colors separate. (Jars come in handy for this purpose.) Make a drawing on gray or tan paper that will not be too complicated to be filled in with mosaics. Or trace a black and white photograph from your newspaper or use a colored one from a magazine for background colors.

After you've organized a design, glue the paper to a panel of tallboard or plywood. Comfortable dimensions with which to work are about two feet by a foot and a half.

Determine your color scheme from the shells on hand, and give it some consideration before dying the eggs so that you will have enough compatible colors. Use medium shades and pale colors, as well as dark colors to emphasize lines. Fill in the pattern lightly with crayons in corresponding colors.

Break shell pieces into fragments about one-quarter of an inch at the widest point, if possible. (Experienced artists may vary shell sizes for textural interest and perspective.) Glue shells to the drawing, paving areas according to the color guide. After the panel has been completely filled in shellac or varnish the mosaic to preserve it.

If you are stumped for color ideas, follow the basic scheme of a painting or a piece of chintz or a wallpaper when picking out your egg dyes. Use prepared dyes for coloring eggs. (Eggs dye best when hot, farm specialists say.)

FOR GOOD EATING

Check your pantry and refrigerator supplies, for here's a pie you probably can make without venturing out to the grocer's. It's a rich whipped cream pie flecked with chips of candy. Pantry shelf items such as vanilla wafers, marshmallows and candy bars plus refrigerated whipping cream are the main ingredients.

Here is the recipe:

CANDY WHIPPED CREAM PIE
(9-inch pie)

16 marshmallows, quartered
1-3 cup milk
3 candy bars, finely chopped
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Crust:

1 1-3 cups finely crushed vanilla wafer crumbs
1-3 cup melted butter

Combine marshmallows and milk in top of double boiler. Heat over boiling water until marshmallows are melted. Cool. Fold in candy, vanilla and whipped cream. Pour into crumb crust. Chill thoroughly. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream and coarsely chopped candy.

To make crust combine ingredients and press onto bottom and sides of buttered pie pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 5-8 minutes. Cool.

Mrs. Everett Describes Life In India For Club

"The Golden Key To Understanding" was the title used by Mrs. W. R. Everett when she spoke to the Altrurian Daughters Study Club Wednesday at the Marth Ann Woman's Club.

Mrs. Everett, who is currently president of the Abilene District Presbyterial, was born in Bombay, India, where she lived until she came to live with her maternal grandmother in New York, at the age of 17. When India was a colony of Great Britain, there were two departments of English people living in India, the Indian Civil and the Indian Medical. England sponsored both of them.

Mrs. Everett said she is proud of a 200 year heritage from the civil group. Her father was an engineer in India.

While many people say that England took all and gave nothing to India while she was a colony, Mrs. Everett does not believe so.

"I believe in giving due where justice is due," she said. "England gave her irrigation, transportation and industry of many kinds."

When India asked for independence she did not realize that the Moslems and Hindus would split. That is the real cause of the trouble and strife in India today, Mrs. Everett said.

In India there are definitely two class of people, the very wealthy and the poor, or untouchables, she explained. She remarked that in India one is born an untouchable and remains so, just as one is born a Hindu. The high class Brahmin never talks to an untouchable.

Mrs. Everett recalled that because she was English, she did have contacts with different people, and especially many Americans, because most of the YMCA workers were Americans, and certainly all the dentists.

The English maintained schools for their children where every subject which we have in the United States was taught. Children of native Indians were allowed to go if they paid twice the tuition of the English, and studied all the subjects, even Scriptures, or Bible, as it is called in America.

Through that channel many Indians have been taught the Christian religion. There were several Indian natives in Mrs. Everett's graduating class.

Mrs. Everett lived through many strikes in Bombay, which is an industrial city. "Indians are a violent people. Mr. Nehru talks non-violence," she said. "But everything he undertakes ends in violence. We must remember that while India has a very old culture she is still a very young nation, and is having growing pains. One speaker has remarked that every train coming out of India is laden with dissatisfied natives, but they will return, she believes, because she has faith that Nehru is a great leader with a good English education——causing perhaps a conflict of Indian and English thinking on his part."

Perhaps if the Nationalist movement had not been goin on Mrs. Everett would have remained in India, or else returned to England and would have been a European.

She closed by saying "I'm glad I'm an American. I love America and I love Texas."

Thirteen members of the Altrurian Daughters Club attended the meeting, and Mrs. E. E. Spears Jr. was hostess.

Meat Gives High Protein At Breakfast

A good breakfast means a good morning and a good day ahead.

An adequate breakfast is one that supplies us with ¼ to 1-3 of our daily intake of protein, vitamins, minerals and calories. Substantial breakfast are those that include meat, eggs and milk product citrus fruit and cereal and, or, bread.

Reba Staggs, well known food specialist, states that meat is one of the richest sources of high quality protein and should be included in the breakfast menu as well as at other meals.

To break a monotonous breakfast pattern and to tempt breakfast skippers to the table, try serving some of the seemingly unusual breakfast meats, such as steak, meat base soups, lamb patties and of course, the typical meat fare — bacon or pork sausages.

Now with warmer weather just around the corner, try planning some special breakfasts that will temp both little tot as well as teenage appetites.

An adequate breakfast prevents mid-morning slump and has a staying power which helps eliminate craving for high calorie mid-morning snacks and also over-eating at lunch.

Shiny Glaze Makes Easter Ham Fancy

Plans for Easter are in the offing, and doubtlessly you're thinking about Easter dinner menu ideas.

Reba Staggs, meat expert, comments that ham is well-liked by almost all age groups. Of course, if a whole ham is too large for your family needs, consider a smoked ham, shank half or butt half.

Give this elegant pork cut a dressy appearance with a shiny fruit glaze, either a spiced apricot or peach glaze. Cooked at 300 degrees F., in a slow oven, the ham will have a delicately browned exterior that's ideal for glazing. Allow the ham to cook 20 to 25 minutes per pound, if using a shank half...18 to 20 minutes per pound for a whole ham.

The glaze is applied about 20 to 30 minutes before the end of cooking time. When planning a roast for dinner, allow between 15 and 30 minutes for the roast to "set" after it comes from the oven.

The meat will become more firm and easier to carve.

Spiced Apricot or Peach Glaze

½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons spiced apricot or peach juice

Mix ingredients thoroughly. Spread mixture on ham and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 to 30 minutes or until glaze is set.

Railway Is Completed

HONG KONG, April 13 (AP) —Red China has completed a railway from Yingtan to Amoy, connecting the mountainous coast with the interior. The line doubtless will serve to increase military pressure on the offshore islands held by Nationalist China, since previously military supplies had to be trucked to Amoy over bad roads or shipped in small coastal vessels.

More than 4,000 seagoing ships, with gross registry of 20 million tons, were lost in World War 2.

So Now He's Got His Orangutans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fleishhacker Zoo's directors wanted two orangutans.

For trading purposes, Director Carey Baldwin offered 3 Japanese sika deer, 4 European fallow deer, 3 Borneo muntjac deer, 4 South American llamas and 2 young tigers, all born here in captivity.

Louis Goebel, proprietor of an animal farm at Thousand Oaks, Calif., accepted—all of them.

There Was A Sign

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP)—A new sign at the east end of the bridge identifies the river as the Luxapalilla. The new sign at the west end says it's the Luxapalillia. The State Highway Department's own maps agree with other authorities that it's really the Luxapalila.

WHAT TO DO?

Gladys Doesn't Like School

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE

"Want to know something?" announced Gladys. "I'm not going back to school. I'm through with this idiodic education."

"Well," said Dad, "that's a bit startling. What are you planning to do?"

"I'm going to get a job—in fact I've already got one. I'm going to earn some money and have a few things that are worth having. What earthly good is it ever going to do me to know geometry or chemistry? I hate school and there isn't any sense in it anyhow."

Gladys' parents were stunned. They knew she was an average student and they suspected that something other than dislike of geometry and chemistry was back of this revellion.

They didn't say, "No, you can't leave school." But they did say, "Let's talk this over a little." What they discovered jolted them out of their complacent feeling that they'd been good parents and were free of "those adolescent problems" they'd heard their friends moan about.

Gladys was 15 and had this fall entered senior high school. The family lived in a middle class suburb of a small city and Gladys' schoolmates were from families in more or less the same economic position as hers, with the exception of one small clique whose families were in a higher income bracket. Gladys was on the fringe of this group, she ached to belong to it. She'd gone home with Mary after school last week and spent the afternoon in envious admiration of Mary's wardrobe. Mary's brother Steve came in and Gladys thought he was the handsomest, smartest boy she'd ever seen. Steve had taken her home in his Dad's convertible and asked her to go to the movies with him Saturday night. She'd accepted before she thought that she had no clothes that could come up to what he would expect her to wear.

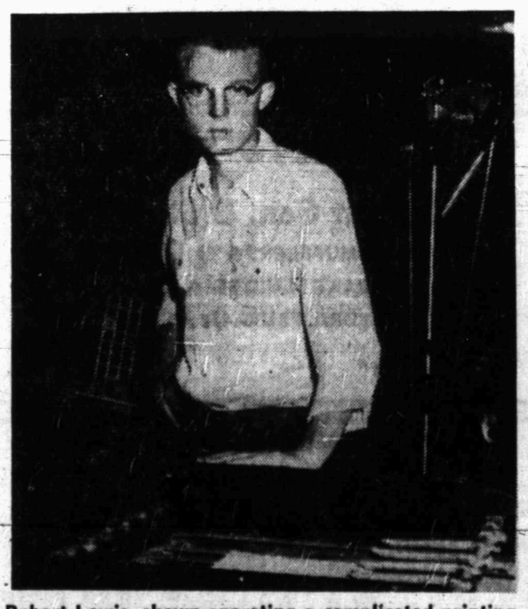

Gladys' completely unrealistic idea was that she was going to work and get enough money to keep up with Steve and Mary. As the talk with her parents went on even Gladys began to see that her plan wouldn't really solve her dilemma.

"We can afford to get you one new dress to wear on your date," said Dad, "but there is no way I know of jacking up my income to match Jack Ashwood's and I'm afraid that your earnings in that dress shop would only be a drop in the bucket. Of course it would be nice to have a big fat income, but you know, Gladys, we have a pretty good life in this family. I'm very well satisfied with my wife and daughters."

"You know what?" said Mother. "There's something I've wanted to do ever since you children grew up enough to be out from under my feet. I've wanted to go take a course in dressmaking. Suppose, Gladys, you and I do it together. We're plenty smart enough to make our clothes and have a lot more than we have now without spending any more money."

And so the immediate problem was solved. Gladys felt much better toward her parents for their warm, loving discussion of her problem.

State To Observe San Jacinto Day

HOUSTON, April 13 (AP)—Texas will observe San Jacinto Day April 21 with a look at the past 121 years and with positive action toward future defense.

San Jacinto Day ceremonies traditionally sponsored by the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas will be held at the San Jacinto Battleground State Park. A Civil Defense ground observer post will be dedicated aboard the battleship Texas, anchored permanently at the Battleground.

Russell Kendall, persident of the San Jacinto Chapter of the Sons of the Republic, said the ceremonies will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Texas Postmasters Nominated By Ike

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower has nominated these postmasters for Texas:

Benjamin Pearce, Center; James Wheeler Jr., Garland; Roland Davie, Grand Prairie; John Summer, Itasca; and Clarence Wagner, Round Top.

No Dayton Newspaper

DAYTON, Ohio, April 13 (AP) — Dayton had another day without newspapers today as mechanical workers continued to honor a picket line set up by 25 striking janitors and maids of a Teamsters local.

The United States has approximately 3,300 miles of toll highways.

Milk Plans Being Urged In Congress

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP) — A move has been started in Congress to make it easier for Midwestern dairymen to sell milk in the big Eastern markets.

Backers of the move contend that many of these markets — acting under demands of all milk producers—have set up sanitary and other regulations which greatly restrict the sale of outside milk.

Rep. Johnson (D-Wis) has introduced a bill which would establish uniform sanitation standards for milk and milk products moving in interstate commerce. He is enlisting the aid of other lawmakers from Midwestern states which produce a surplus of milk.

The standards would be ones which have been proposed — and adopted by some local markets — by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Complaints against restrictive local regulations have been particularly sharp in the Midwest, where dairy men must depend heavily on the manufacture of butter, cheese, dry milk and other dairy products as outlets for their milk. These outlets pay less than dealers in fitid milk.

Backing the move to set up federal regulation is the National Creameries Assn. The National Grange, one of the major general farm organizations, has criticized the present setup. In a 1955 study Grange gave a number of examples of how local sanitary regulations had been used to develop what it called barriers against the free movament of quality milk.

Well To Be Refilled

FORT BUCKNER, Okinawa, April 13 (AP) — When the communal well in Heshikiya village in east Okinawa went dry, U. S. Marines brought water in tank trucks to fill the village's storage tank. They are going to dig a new well, too. Their aim is to halt profiteering by merchants selling water by the gallon.

REALM OF THE KNOWN

The realm of the known has become widely extended. No longer is it possible for one man to master all sciences. A lifetime may be required to learn all there is to know about one small phase of science. Pharmacy is no exception. It has many ramifications. Pharmacognosy, pharmacology, toxicology, and pharmaceutical chemistry are only a few. As retail pharmacists we have studied all phases of pharmacy. Our specialty is compounding prescriptions. It is our lifework. Our study has been exhaustive. We are well prepared and eager to serve you when your physician prescribes.
