BANKERS DENY RAIL REPORT

MORGAN GROUP TAKES NOTES FOR DEFAULT BY VAN SWERINGENS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 6—Reports that a banking group headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. had taken over the direction of the Van Sweringen railroad system as result of defaulted bank loans were stated in authoritative quarters in Wall Street today to be incorrect.

It was explained that these reports resulted from the filing of a protective committee statement with the federal trade commission, which described loans of some $40,000,000 against which stock of the Alleghany Corp., chief Van Sweringen holding company, had been put up as collateral, as in default.

Default "Technical"

Actually, however, it was explained that these loans are only technically in default, for the banking group, it was said, has made no move to take title to the collateral, and therefore could not be said to be exercising direct control of the Van Sweringen system.

It was pointed out that there has been no change in the loan situation since November of 1931, although at any time since then, the banks might have refused to accept notes in payment of interest, and taken over the collateral, representing control of the Alleghany Corp., had they desired.

POLICE SHOOT ROBBER IN GUN FIGHT

TRUCK DRIVER BADLY WOUNDED WHEN HE TRIES TO FLEE

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, March 6.—George Louis Patton, 24, identified as a robber, was shot and killed in a gun fight with police early today.

Patton, before running afoul of police, shot and seriously wounded R. M. Brown, 45, a truck driver, after Brown said he refused to drive Patton out of town following the holdup of two couples in different parts of the city. The robbery victims identified Patton in a hospital before his death.

Fled In Taxicab

After shooting Brown, Patton climbed into a taxicab, parked at the curb while the driver was collecting a fare, and sped away.

A police scout car picked up his trail.

A wild chase of several minutes through the city ended when Patton's stolen car plunged into a ditch while trying to take a corner. Captain W. D. McNellis and Patrolman S. D. Moore pulled up to be met with gunfire. Patton fell as the officers fired simultaneously. He died in a hospital 30 minutes later.

Brown said Patton climbed into his truck cab and told him to drive out of town. Brown complained that he didn't have enough gas, and when Patton pushed his request with a gun, Brown jumped out of the cab and ran. Patton shot him low in the back. Attending physicians said he probably would recover.

Two Couples Robbed

Robbery victims were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shores, and Elbee Reed and a girl companion, Pearl Strange. Both couples said Patton and another man robbed them. Patton was

BANK IS ROBBED BY LONE BANDIT

GALVESTON, March 6. —(AP)—Masked and dressed in coveralls, a young white man coolly held up the cashier of the Citizens State bank of Hitchcock, eluded a pursuer in a speeding coupe and escaped with $300 in cash today.

The man entered the bank and covered M. T. Booking, cashier, with a pistol. He ordered Booking to gather up all the cash, come outside of the teller's cage and slip the money in his pockets.

The man then ordered Booking to walk in the vault and locked him inside. Booking was able to release himself immediately and spread the alarm. A Mr. Rayburn of Wyoming, who had come to the bank to visit Booking, chased the bandit in an automobile but lost the trail at Dickinson, where the man escaped on a road leading to Houston.

DILLINGER TIP IS FOLLOWED

DESPERADO BELIEVED TO BE LURKING IN CHICAGO SECTION

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 6—Two fresh clues pointed today to the probability that John Dillinger, escaped desperado, is lurking in Chicago.

The motor car in which he and a negro companion fled after walking out of the "escape proof" jail at Crown Point, Ind., has been found in front of a north side apartment building.

Pursued By Police

Also, police disclosed that Dillinger was sighted here and pursued last Saturday afternoon. Policeman Lorimer Hyde said he spotted the gang leader and a woman riding in the car through the same north side district.

He gave chase, he said, but the car vanished in the traffic. Later he sighted it again, with the same result.

Dillinger, police believe, parked the machine outside the apartment Saturday night. Three squads of police kept a day and night watch over it, in the hope that the gunman would return, but he failed to do so.

Sheriff's Gun Found

The car is Sheriff Lillian Holley's. In a side pocket was found a revolver belonging to the woman sheriff, who is in command of the Crown Point jail from which Dillinger made his sensational walkaway with the air of a "pistol" he whittled from a broomstick.

Apparently the desperado scorned the revolver as a picayune weapon, for he has two machine guns which he took from the jail after cowing turnkeys with his toy gun.

Police believed the woman seen in Dillinger's company was Elaine Burton, sweetheart of Dillinger's henchman, John Hamilton. Miss Burton was suspected, police said, of being the woman who called at the Crown Point jail, posed as Dillinger's wife and talked to him in code.

JOHNSON SETS JOB GOAL IN NEW DRIVE

FURTHER CUT SOUGHT IN WORKING HOURS; OPINIONS AIRED

(Copyright, 1934, By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson seeks the immediate re-employment of at least a million more men in private industry. This is his minimum and immediate goal for the overhauling of NRA, which is now in progress.

As the assemblage of massed code authorities resumed its airing of clashing opinions today, it was learned on high authority that this objective was based on a survey just completed by Johnson's economic staff.

Shorter Hours Sought

The survey was reported to show to the NRA chief's satisfaction that fully 30 per cent of the more than 600 code industries now are able, and probably willing, to make a further cut in working hours without reducing the amounts in pay envelopes.

Such a work week reduction was figured wide enough to absorb approximately a million men.

Johnson hopes to get even more code groups to go along. He has tentatively proposed a ten per cent blanket hour reduction, balanced by a ten per cent increase of wage rates, with provision for immediate exemption for all industries unable to stand the gaff.

Johnson also was said by his aides to be counting, as a result of yesterday's federal reserve governors' approval for a capital credit expansion plan, on a steady employment gain in the heavy industries as soon as the money gets out.

Agree On Need

NRA and its critics both agree that revival in machinery, equipment and construction lines is the

WYNEKOOP TRIAL ARGUMENTS HEARD

CHICAGO, March 6. —(AP)—"The little book that doesn't lie" was cited today by Attorney Milton Smith in his closing argument for Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop in the operating table murder case.

In his plea he pointed out the part which he hoped a stenographer's notebook would play in saving his 63-year-old client from conviction on a charge of murdering her daughter-in-law, Rheta. It was the notebook from which the stenographer read to the jury last week a transcript of a newspaper story which she said Dr. Harry Hoffman, Cook county psychiatrist, dictated to her shortly after Dr. Wynekoop had signed a statement admitting chloroforming and shooting her son's wife.

Oil Field Workers Threaten "Holiday"

In addition to providing for a ships construction program, the estimates also make provision for increasing the naval personnel.

BLACK BLOTS OUT RED IN BUSINESS LEDGERS; ANNUAL STATEMENTS TELL IMPRESSIVE STORY OF IMPROVEMENT

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Black is blotting out red in corporation ledgers. Annual statements now appearing tell an impressive story for 1933.

Industrialists, as a group, got out of the vermillion. Rails almost made the switch from loss to profit. Utilities, the only one of the three major group that showed black figures for 1932, reported moderately reduced, although still substantial, earnings last year.

Here's the story in figures, as Standard Statistics company tells it. A tabulation of annual statements of 701 corporations, comprising industrials, rails and utilities, shows aggregate net income of $704,884,000 for 1933, as against $239,115,000 for 1932. This is an increase of nearly 195 per cent.

A total of 589 industrial companies showed net earnings of $391,600,000, as against a deficit of $20,194,000 in 1932. Fifty-five railroads, which had a deficit of $106,055,000 in 1932, showed a group loss of only $11,199,000 for 1933. Fifty-seven utility companies, rporting net of $365,364,000 in 1932 had net income in 1933 of $324,483,000. This was a decline of little more than 11 per cent.

Steel and iron companies still ran behind, but not so seriously. Statements of 31 companies shows a 1933 deficit of $58,826,000, compared with $137,098,000 in 1932. The largest aggregate net shown for any industrial classification in the tabulation last year was chalked up for 61 food products companies, and amounted to $90,063,000, compared with net of $53,014,000 for the previous period.

Eight makers of automobiles and trucks had net for last year almost as large, amounting to $87,926,000. That replaced an aggregate deficit for 1932 of $14,602,000. Fourteen makers of chemicals and fertilizers cleared net of $53,680,000, against $34,614,000 in the previous year.

BAER MAY BOX STEVE HAMAS

DEMPSEY, IN LUBBOCK, MAKES PLANS FOR FIGHT IN JUNE

Steve Hamas, ex-Pennsylvania gridiron ace, will meet Max Baer, the popular gong and dance man, in a 15-round bout at New York City in June, if present plans of Jack Dempsey materialize.

Dempsey, here to referee a boxing card last night, talked via long distance with Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, this morning relative to a Baer-Hamas fight under Dempsey's promotion, and was told that "Baer would be ready," and to "contact Charles Harvey, manager of Hamas, at once."

Favorable Reply Expected

Dempsey wired Harvey this morning and was expecting an early and favorable reply.

"It would be about the closest thing to a natural we could stage at this time," Dempsey said. "Hamas proved his metal by beating Schmeling, and he would naturally want a smack at Baer, who, in my estimation, is the class of the present crop of heavyweights."

The former world's champion was favorably received last night by the largest boxing crowd ever to turn out here. He referees a card tonight at Childress, Wednesday night at Clovis, Thursday night at Borger and Friday night at Plainview.

Oil Men Gather At Austin For Hearing

AUSTIN, March 6. (AP)—Hundreds of oil operators and owners of land on which petroleum is produced swarmed Congress avenue and through the state capitol today.

They came in special trains and by private conveyances to see Governor Miriam A. Ferguson about bills that would make it possible to stop the "hot oil" leak in Texas.

Those in town were favorable to the legislation. The governor planned to listen to the pleas in the house of representatives.

The principal bill would place refineries under supervision of the Texas railroad commission, conservator, as a means of checking production of "unlawful" oil.

FORT WORTH, Mar. 6. (AP)—A party in a residence on the north side culminated with the fatal shooting at 2:15 a. m., today of Doyle Cantrell, 45, who died in a hospital four hours later.

TWO OF EIGHT JURORS CHOSEN DISQUALIFIED IN ROBBERY TRIAL

Disqualification of two of the eight men selected Monday to try the case of W. E. (Bill) Doupe, charged with robbery with firearms, resulted in Judge Homer L. Pharr declaring a mistrial in 72nd district court shortly before 11:30 o'clock this morning.

The announcement came after a series of conferences between defense and state counsel and the two groups with the court. The entire morning was given over to a discussion of the perplexing question.

Set For Next Term

Judge Pharr announced that the next term of court would open May 21 and he advised witnesses to be prepared for a trial of the case during that term. The case probably will be set down for trial at the opening of the term.

Doupe was charged with robbery with firearms for the robbery of a grocery store here in October, 1932, in which Robert Tharp, an employe of the store, was shot and fatally wounded by Paul Mitchell, now serving a life term.

No members of the panel called for the case were questioned this morning. Nine men had not been questioned by counsel as to their qualifications.

Dan A. Blair, district attorney and Burton Burks, assistant, represented the state. George Berry, W. D. Benson, jr., and Tom B. Parkins

Mmmm! Piping Parker House Rolls And Muff-Puffs

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, March 6—Home-made rolls and muff-puffs (muffins by a fancier name!), piping hot, give the breakfast table, buffet supper party or afternoon tea that little personal touch that is both decorative and appetizing. They're quite easy to make and the family, as well as guests, are sure to appreciate this bit of culinary art.

Parker House Rolls

Parker House rolls are the champagne of hot breads. Here's a recipe: One half yeast cake, one-fourth cup lukewarm water, one egg, two cups of flour, one-half cup of scalded milk, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons sugar, two teaspoons of lard.

Dissolve the yeast cake in the water. Beat the egg, add salt, sugar and scalded milk. Mix the lard and the flour, add the egg mixture to it and then put in the yeast cake and water. Allow it to stand for four hours and then roll the dough to a thickness of about three-eighths of an inch. Cut out the rolls with a biscuit cutter and make a dent with a knife in the center of each one. Fold them on the knife lines and place in a buttered tin. Set the tin in a warm place and allow the rolls to rise for an hour. Bake in a medium oven for twenty minutes. Brush with melted butter after baking.

Muff-puffs are little muffins fit for a gourmet. This recipe will make 18 small ones:

Two eggs, one cup of flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two teaspoons sugar, one-half cup of butter and lard mixed, one-half cup of milk and two teaspoons of baking powder.

The eggs should be beaten, whites and yolks separately. To the yolks add the salt, sugar and lard and butter. Then pour in the milk. The flour and the baking powder should be sifted together before being mixed with the wet ingredients. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites, place in muffin tins and bake in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes.

Don't Get Up Nights

Make This 25c Test

You need a bladder laxative to drive out impurities and excessive acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Get a 25c box of BU-KETS, the bladder laxative from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. BU-KETS, containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., acts on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. If you are bothered with backache, or leg pains arising from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Bowen's Drug says Bu-Kets is a best seller. —Adv.

If you want safe relief from Constipation

Science says Today use a LIQUID Laxative

1. Regulate intestinal action gently—no "purging"
2. Measure dose to suit your individual needs
3. Avoid Bowel Fatigue and the laxative habit

Here's Why:

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys.

A doctor will tell you that the unwise use of harsh laxatives often does more harm than good.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains doubtful drugs, don't take it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. Its ingredients are on the label. By using it, you avoid danger of bowel strain.

The liquid test:

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels," but strong cathartics:

First, Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose you find is suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without any need of stimulation.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used. It contains senna, a natural laxative which is perfectly safe for the youngest child. Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

DRIVE ON BEER SALES SET

PADLOCKS AND TRIALS TO BE USED IN DRY CAMPAIGN HERE

A two-edged ax—criminal trial and padlock injunction suit—for use on sellers of light beer and wine was exhibited at a meeting of 21 Lubbock and Lubbock county peace officers with County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson at the courthouse late Monday.

Beer Is Refused

Lubbock county voters by a majority of 797 votes Saturday turned thumbs down on proposed legalization of sale of 3.2 beer and wine. Downtown restaurants that had ignored an earlier dry majority quit selling beer Sunday.

When Saturday night's tabulations showed a marked anti-beer victory, peace officers and the county attorney had issued warnings that the lid was on again.

Job To Be Difficult

They met Monday to discuss just how the lid could be kept on. From the outset, it was plain that the job was to be difficult, in many respects much more trying than enforcement of the laws against hard liquors.

As County Attorney Wilson, who will prosecute in 3.2 beer cases, explained, possession of whisky is, under the Dean law, prima facie evidence of possession for the purpose of sale. Not so with 3.2 beer.

No Violation To Buy

It is not a violation of law to buy the light beer, to drink it, to transport it.

"You can't prosecute a man for something that's not a violation of the law," County Attorney Wilson emphasized.

Beer and wine having more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by volume are penalized by the state dry law and resultant cases are tried in district court after grand jury action. Again, not so with the 3.2 beverages.

Penalties Provided

It is illegal to manufacture, sell, barter, or exchange 3.2 beer and wine in counties dry by local option, as provided in a state constitutional amendment last August. The offense, however, is a misdemeanor, and of county court jurisdiction. Both a fine and a jail sentence are provided as penalties.

Sheriff Tom Abel, Chief of Police Wiley L. Metcalfe and Constable L. M. Holt all expressed determination to enforce the beer law. Members of the three departments and the state highway patrol were present.

Commissioned officers also attended.

Jess Levens, City prosecutor, was there.

Lynn Sheriff Talks

In view of the difficulty in obtaining convincing evidence of sale, consensus seemed to be that the most effective way of regulating the established business place would be that of injunction. A place may be declared a public nuisance as a result of giving away or storing beer, while the trial route requires evidence of outright sale, County Attorney Wilson said.

Increase Expected

The trial method probably would be the only effective one in dealing with sales at residences and dives, a majority of the officers agreed.

An increase in sale of home-made beer, a brew of greater alcoholic content than 3.2, also was anticipated.

Eight Jurors Chosen

The eight jurors chosen Monday, in examination of about 50 talesmen, half of the venire, were:

E. R. Slater, Slaton; L. F. Reeves, Lubbock; A. A. Bruckner, nine miles southwest of Lubbock; G. C. Qualls, farmer; J. W. Gamel, Lubbock; W. L. Williams, farmer; T. J. Wages, farmer, Grovesville, and S. F. Cooper.

Forty-Four Disqualified

Forty-four members of the special venire were disqualified before the selection of the jury started, according to a list prepared by Charles B. Metcalfe, district court clerk.

Six of the 44 were teachers, two of them being members of the faculty of Texas Tech and one a Lubbock high school teacher. Six men were over age, 23 could not be served with a summons, and three were found to be out of the county, one was an active railroad trainman, two were deaf, one a mail carrier, one a minister and one a telegraph operator.

Ship Arrives With Fire Still Blazing

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Fire still blazing in her hold, the steamship City of Montgomery arrived in the harbor today, discharged her 33 passengers and was towed out into the middle of the Hudson river.

The ship was turned over to a tug which had accompanied her from quarantine. A call for land apparatus was issued when fire-fighters opened the hatches and saw the extent of the fire within.

The fire discovered early Monday when the ship was off the Virginia capes en route from Savannah, was in a cargo of resin, turpentine and cotton piece goods.

The ship later was warped back to dock so the land firemen could assist in fighting the fire.

Officers and passengers told of a dramatic race to keep the blaze imprisoned until port was reached.

Captain Bertrand H. Garfield said he looked very serious for a time. He said no difficulty was experienced with the passengers.

Many of the passengers told of being weakened by the billowing smoke and the scurrying of persons from their rooms.

CONFEDERATE OF SLAIN BANDIT TELLS DETAILS OF ATTEMPTED BANK ROBBERY

RUSK, Mar. 6. (AP)—Details of the ill-fated bank robbery attempt in which Fred (Slim) McClure was wounded fatally, were related to authorities today by Leo Spencer, alias Merlin French, his confederate.

In trying to escape from a trap set by officials of the Continental State bank at Alto yesterday, McClure was shot down and Spencer, who managed to reach an automobile the robbers had parked in the street, was captured when he wrecked the car a few block away.

City Marshal C. M. Earle was credited with bringing down McClure with a rifle bullet after Gus Rounsaville, president of the bank, had opened fire on the robbers with a shotgun, driving them to the street.

Spencer, taken to Lufkin by Sheriff J. A. Smith of Rusk, told District Attorney Emerson Stone and other officers here that he and McClure planned the bank robbery and had stolen an automobile at Rusk Sunday night to use in carrying out their projected crime.

"I guess I didn't have the courage Slim did, or I would have shot it out with them," Spencer told the district attorney. "Slim emptied his pistol, reached in the car for a shotgun and then sort of slumped down on the sidewalk. I didn't know he had been hit. I was mad because he wouldn't get in the car. Bullets were buzzing around me so I started off."

"I wish I was in Slim's place now because his troubles are all over," the Louisiana youth added. "Well, I wrote my song, so I guess I got to sing it."

Spencer said McClure was an army deserter from New York and that he had met him recently in San Antonio. Questioned about other Texas robberies, Spencer said this was his "first job."

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady, 2 to 4 lower on indifferent cables and under commission house liquidation. Mch. unquoted; May 12.17; July 12.29; Oct. 12.42; Dec. 12.53; Jan 12.58.

Reports from Washington pointing to the possibility of speedier action by the house on the Bankhead bill came in for considerable comment and may have led to some scattered buying. At the same time general business seemed to be restricted pending further definite developments in that direction.

After selling up from 12.17 to 12.22 for may right after the call, the market was quiet and rather irregular. May was ruling around 12.18 at the end of the first half hour with net declines of 3 to 6 points.

Washington news that the house rules committee had reported a rule to call up the Bankhead cotton bill evidently failed to stimulate interest around midday and the market held within a narrow range with May selling at 12.20 and December at 12.53, or about 1 to 2 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 6. —(AP)—Cotton opened quiet and a share easier today, although Liverpool cables were about unchanged. Traders continued to maintain a waiting attitude. First trades here were one to six points down and some months declined further after the start, May trading at 12.15, July at 12.28 and October at 12.39, or 4 to 6 points under yesterday's close.

The market later recovered to to 4 points in sympathy with steady stocks, at the end of the first half hour being net unchanged to three points net down.

The market ruled quiet but fairly steady all morning, with traders waiting on Washington developments. Price fluctuations were narrow. The market eased off near the end of the first hour to 12.14 for May, 12.27 for July and 12.39 for October, down 5 to 6 points from yesterday's close. Later, when shorts sought to cover, prices rallied 4 to 7 points to 12.20 for May, 12.34 for July and 12.43 for October, or 2 points net up to two down compared with the previous close.

Near noon the market held steady near the highs.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Financial markets generally were enveloped in a speculative fog today and prices again displayed a moderately downward slant.

Stocks reflected complex hopes and fears of traders who apparently were groping for clues as to nearfuture trends. Declines ranged from fractions to a point or more, but extreme dullness was the rule in early dealings.

Grains and cotton offered no support to hesitant equities. These staples had an easier tone. Rubber and silver futures were fairly firm. International dollar rates were still relatively narrow Bonds were steady.

Homestake Mining shares, up 20 yesterday, dropped 7 points. American Tobacco B was off 2 and Liggett & Myers B yielded 1. U. S. Smelting and American Smelting were down 2 and 1, respectively, and other metals were soft. Most of the motors sagged, although Auburn advanced a point. The rails and utilities were a bit easier, but American Telephone showed resistance.

NRA JOBS

biggest recovery need at the moment.

The several thousand business men in the code sessions carried on their discussions today. Yesterday they launched a barrage of arguments against general hour shortening almost immediately after President Roosevelt declared for shorter hours.

In some spots the business men critics were aided by men within the NRA organization.

Johnson pitched into the argument last night at the session on labor questions, after finding one of his own economists, A. J. Hettinger of Detroit, in the midst of a speech expressing doubts of the economic feasibility of blanket hour shortening.

The administrator at once started a give-and-take cross examination. Hettinger held to his stand as Johnson suggested a flat cut with exemptions for industries unable to make the grade.

Then William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, reasserted his belief in shorter hours, saying:

"I challenge the leaders of industry to find a better way to put people back to work."

INSULL GIVEN FINAL ORDER

FORMER UTILITY HEAD MUST LEAVE GREECE WITHIN 48 HOURS

ATHENS, Greece, March 6. (AP)—Samuel Insull, former American utilities operator, was served today with a government order to leave Greece within 48 hours.

The government decided upon this stand yesterday, but delayed actually notifying the former Chicagoan, wanted in the United States to face charges based on the collapse of his farflung interests.

Given Travel Permit

Insull was given the necessary police travel permit.

If he fails to comply voluntarily with the order, government officials said, Insull will be forced to embark upon the first American steamer which passes through Greek waters.

There was no indication of what Insull's next move would be to avoid extradition to the United States. The Insull apartment was guarded, a police guard having been established last night for the first time since the 74-year-old fugitive sought refuge here in October, 1932.

It was said that all of Insull's attempts to find asylum in some country having no extradition treaty with the United States had failed.

Return To U. S. Expected

From London came dispatches quoting American official sources as believing Insull would return to the United States. Officials were quoted as having said the wide publicity given his case would preclude his obtaining refuge in any other country.

Two police officers attached to the alien control department delivered a letter from the minister of the interior officially informing Insull of the order.

The letter was handed to Insull as he lay in bed, where he has remained most of the time since his appeal against the previous expulsion order was turned down.

Of the possibilities discussed, it was considered most likely that Insull would embark on the Greek vessel Patris for Syria.

There were no American boats in the harbor.

FARMERS TURN UNDER SOIL

GROUND PREPARATION FOR SPRING PLANTING BEGUN IN AREA

South Plains farmers Monday began turning under soil in preparation of ground for spring planting.

Sharp pointed steel plows or heavy round discs turned the mellow soil upwards along long rows as farmers began taking advantage of recent rains that added moisture to long dry soil. It was the first rain of any consequence in months, since last fall. The ground had become very dry and although a good start in plowing had been made by many farmers, the work was not general.

Land Is Leased

Virtually every farm in the 18 counties of the South Plains area is to be worked this year, according to reports. Land owners have reported a general leasing of all available land in production.

The larger holders of land, such as insurance companies, banks in other sections of the country, corporations, holding companies and the like, all state they had many more calls for rent land than they could meet. Some local representatives said they had as many as ten to 25 calls for each property under their control.

Sales Are Made

It is said that a large number of sales of cultivated land have been made by insurance companies, savings banks and other corporations, to farmers who made payments of anywhere from a substantial cash down payment to the whole amount. Since last fall land has moved more freely than at any time in recent years. One or two real estate men have reported better sales of this type of land than since in 1927 and 1928.

Besides this sale, there has been a large sale of so-called "raw" land. Especially has this been true in Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb and parts of Lynn and other counties. Many large tracts of land have been sold out in these counties to tenants from other sections of Texas and from Oklahoma, as well as to farmers from this section.

FRENCH OFFICIAL OUSTED IN PROBE

PARIS, March 6 (AP)—The government's ax is beginning to fall in the rapidly-developing investigation of the Stavisky banking scandal.

Today it was Henri Hurlaux, assistant prosecuting attorney of the court of appeal, who had been ousted on the ground that there were relations between him and the late Serge Stavisky.

Attempts Suicide

This high official of the judiciary—who attempted to take poison when informed of the order—was dismissed after the discovery of a letter he was accused of writing to Stavisky, founder of the Bayonne municipal pawnshop which collapsed with losses of $40,000,000 to investors.

Minister of Justice Henri Cheron ordered Hurlaux's removal not, it was said, because he served Stavisky, but because he was "indiscrete" in associating with the so-called "master swindler."

England had cookbooks as early as the 16th century.

Sellers Asks Divorce — Accusing of unfaithfulness, J. A. Sellers filed suit for divorce in 99th district court Monday against Selma Sellers, who was charged with assault to murder after the critical wounding of a 15-year-old youth here Feb. 3. The boy, shot with an automatic pistol, was Charles (Tinker) Norris, who said he had shot himself accidentally. Statements that Mrs. Sellers had shot him unintentionally were obtained subsequently from the woman and her husband. A 72nd district court grand jury did not act in the case. Mrs. Sellers had been freed on bond.

FUNERAL HELD FOR HOODLUM

OFFICERS MINGLE AT SERVICES FOR SLAIN FORD BRADSHAW

VIAN, Okla., March 6. (AP)—Detectives mingled with a crowd of 400 curiosity seekers and hillspeople as funeral services were held in the midst of his native Cookson hills for Ford Bradshaw, slain outlaw, yesterday.

Muttered threats to "get" Bill Harper, roadhouse operator who slew the bragging Bradshaw, came from hill "pals" of the outlaw, officers said, as the Rev. George Mitchell, Baptist minister of Sallisaw, delivered the funeral sermon.

Slayer Is Charged

Bradshaw was killed Saturday by Harper when the desperado made an attempt to escape from officers at Harper's roadhouse near Arkoma, Okla. Harper, also a deputy sheriff, was charged with murder at Poteau, Okla., in connection with the case.

More than 1,000 persons came by horseback, wagon and automobile to view the body of the slain hoodlum at the rambling, ramshackle farmhouse of the Bradshaw clan.

The funeral was delayed for some time in the belief that Skeet Bradshaw, younger brother held for robbery with firearms at Muskogee, would be permitted to attend.

Rescue Attempt Feared

Officers feared, however, there might be a rescue attempt of Skeet by the Bradshaw clansmen. Skeet reputedly had been an associate of his elder brother in several escapades.

Muted singing was interspersed with the sobbing of Ford's mother—an elderly and feeble woman.

To her he was only "my boy."

After the funeral services Bradshaw, Judge Clifford Braly, former district attorney at Dalhart, was the only judge the court ever had and Mr. Holmes was the only reporter.

FIRST NATIONAL LIQUOR SHOW IN 16 YEARS HELD AT CHICAGO THIS WEEK

CHICAGO, Mar. 6. (AP)—With an estimated $2,000,000 worth of liquor on display and a pledge from the industry that "the bootlegger and the 'blind pig' never will return" America's first national liquor show in 16 years opened last night.

Thousands upon thousands of bottles were ranged along a quarter mile or so of exhibit booths in the hotel Sherman. Some of the beverages on display, including an especially fine French cognac, were valued by their owners at $15 a drink.

Free Lectures Given

Twenty bartenders were available to call, and a sign read: "Name any kind of drink ever invented; we'll mix you one." Free lectures were being given in another hall at which the fledging bartender of the repeal era could learn new points and try his hand at the more difficult concoctions.

On display were rare wines, brandies, and cordials with yellowing labels of 50 years ago. China contributed a kind of liquor in which, the exhibitor insisted, a snake has been drowned during its preparation.

Public Barred

Detectives and uniformed police guarded the exhibits. The public was barred.

Frank A. Coleman, president of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers association which sponsored the convention, said 5,000 wholesalers, 1,000 distillers' representatives and 400 rectifiers would attend the convention before it closed Friday. Retailers will be admitted but one day only, Thursday.

Cooperation with the government in eliminating objectionable qualities from the liquor industry were pledged by Coleman in an opening address.

TEXAS ATTORNEY FALLS TO DEATH

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 6. (AP)—Randolph B. Russell, a member of the San Antonio bar, died in a hospital here Monday of injuries suffered when he fell from a window of his office on the 11th floor of a bank building to the roof of an adjacent two story structure.

An inquest will be held by Justice of the Peace John R. Shook.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence today, after which the body will be sent to Bainbridge, Ga. Russell is survived by his widow.

He had been in bad health for the past year, associates said. It was his custom for the past 12 months or more to work only a few hours in the morning.

Russell was a veteran of the Spanish-American war and before coming to San Antonio had filled several public offices. While residing in Marfa, Tex., he was elected county attorney and previous to that had been city attorney in Bainbridge, Ga.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Buzz-buzz-buzz!

In Washington, everybody buzzes. Here's some sample bussing:

CAPITOL: Buzz-buzz, accompanied by hush-hush! The flaming issue of the cloakrooms, lobbies, and corridors today is whether negroes shall be allowed to eat in Senate restaurants.

Southern senators blaze. Pat Harrison persuades a couple not to introduce resolutions, assuring them grimly that the matter will be taken care of.

Reporters interview Pat, who talks of "off the record." Argument rages, privately.

Negroes attended the anti-lynching hearings. Up jumped Jim Crow. Mabel Byrd, negro social worker, was thrown out of the office building restaurant. Copeland of New York, rules committee chairman, remembering hundreds of thousands of colored voters, says: "The U. S. Capitol is no place for Jim Crowism."

Next day two white Communists lunch with a negro newspaperman. All three are served. Copeland sets aside special table for negroes.

Southern senators and office staffs threaten boycott. No more negroes appear. Issue remains unsettled and buzzing goes on—but not, for publication.

Laugh at "Shakeup"

White House: A hundred correspondents buzz in groups over: 1. Hot contest for presidency of White House Correspondents' Association. 2. Published story of impending secretarial shakeup, which pits Secretaries Howe and Early against Secretary McIntyre. Howe and McIntyre urge one correspondent to ask F. D. about it at press conference, so F. D. publicly can laugh it off. Correspondent does not, for some reasons.

(Roosevelt, for first time in memory, today wears brown tweed suit, with dark brown tie and white collar-attached shirt.) A big, very plain wire basket on his desk holds telegrams, letters, and bills to be signed. F. D. uses the word "chisel" now. He's "horrified" at learning that only 73 per cent of crop reduction loans were repaid.

Buzzing resumes immediately after conference. Same topics. Gnome-like Louie Howe makes unaccustomed appearance among correspondents to offset reports he's sick and likely to resign. "Just wanted you fellows to know I wasn't dead," he cackles.

• • •

Farley and Brown

Airmail Hearing: Jim Farley on the stand. It's about the mysterious "personal remark" former Postmaster General Walter Brown says Farley, in private conversation, applied to Chairman Black. Farley denies it. Brown says he called Black "a publicity hound." Farley denies that.

Buzzing: Jim Farley talks too much for his own good. Brown was a so-and-so when he told the committee of the "remark." Jim, whom everybody likes, made a worse committee appearance than Brown, whom everybody dislikes. Asked for explanations of contract cancellations, he reiterates only that it was "on advice of counsel."

"I'm a layman, Jim insists, which is astonishing to those who thought everyone in Washington was either a lawyer or an economist.

Early week buzzing was largely: "When does Brown go to jail?" Now it's changed to "Well, I thought they had something on him."

• • •

Set for Pests

Charles Lee (Cookie) Cooke, State Department ceremonial officer, always meets unannounced visitors at his apartment with hat on head and coat on arm. He looks them over and decides whether to keep on going out.

The Black committee made a frantic search for Ed Martin, Brown's former patronage lieutenant. After a couple of days, someone thought of telephoning him at his home and there he was.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the Mint, received a letter from Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. It began: "Dear Sir:"

Margery Wilson, "charm expert" here to have tea at the White House says she wanted to put Chancellor Dollfuss on her famous list of the 10 most charming—"but there just wasn't room."

McKellar of Tennessee seems to be the only senator with a radio set in his office.

Ex-Senator Jim Reed of Missouri was visiting the Senate the other day, accompanied by his good-looking bride. He's thinking of running for office again.

The Life Of Our Lord

Written By Charles Dickens For His Children, 1849 And Kept As A Precious Family Secret For Eighty-Five Years

(Copyright for North and South America, 1934, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.; all rights reserved.

CHAPTER THE SECOND

WHEN King Herod was dead, an Angel came to Joseph again, and said he might now go to Jerusalem, and not be afraid for the Childs' sake. So Joseph and Mary, and her Son Jesus Christ (who are commonly called The Holy Family) travelled toward Jerusalem; but hearing on the way that King Herod's son was the new King, and fearing that he, too, might want to hurt the Child, they turned out of the way, and went to live in Nazareth. They lived there, until Jesus Christ was twelve years old.

Then Joseph and Mary went to Jerusalem to attend a Religious Feast which used to be held in those days, in the Temple of Jerusalem, which was a great church or cathedral; and they took Jesus Christ with them, and when the Feast was over, they travelled away from Jerusalem back towards their own home in Nazareth, with a great many of their friends and neighbors. For people used, then, to travel a great many together, for fear of robbers; the roads not being safe and well guarded as they are now, and travelling being much more difficult altogether, than it now is.

They travelled on, for a whole day, and never knew that Jesus Christ was not with them; for the company being so large, they thought He was somewhere among the people, though they did not see Him. But finding that He was not there, and fearing that He was lost, they turned back to Jerusalem in great anxiety for Him. They found Him, sitting in the Temple, talking about the Goodness of God, and how we should all pray to Him, with some learned men who were called Doctors. They were not what you understand by the word "Doctors" now; they did not attend sick people; they were scholars and clever men. And Jesus Christ showed such knowledge in what He said to them, and in the questions He asked them, that they were all astonished.

He went with Joseph and Mary home to Nazareth, when they had found Him, and lived there until He was thirty or thirty-five years old.

• • •

AT THAT time there was a very good man, indeed, named John, who was the son of a woman named Elizabeth—the cousin of Mary. And people being wicked, and violent, and killing each other, and not minding their duty towards God, John (to teach them better) went about the country, preaching to them, and entreating them to be better men and women. And because he loved them more than himself, and didn't mind himself when he was doing them good, he was poorly dressed in the skin of a camel, and ate little but some insects called locusts, which he found as he travelled; and wild honey, which the bees left in the Hollow Trees. You never saw a locust, because they belong to that country near Jerusalem, which is a great way off. So do camels, but I think you have seen a camel? At all events they are brought over here, sometimes; and if you would like to see one, I will show you one.

There was a River, not very far from Jerusalem, called the River Jordan; and in this water, John baptized those people who would come to him, and promise to do better. A great many people went to him in crowds. Jesus Christ went too. But when John saw Him, John said, "Why should I baptize you, who are so much better than I!" Jesus Christ made answer, "Suffer it to be so now." So John baptized Him. And when He was baptized, the sky opened, and a beautiful bird like a dove came flying down, and the voice of God, speaking up in Heaven, was heard to say "This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased!"

• • •

JESUS Christ then went into a wild and lonely country called the Wilderness, and stayed there forty days and forty nights, praying that He might be of use to men and women, and teach them to be better, so that after their deaths, they might be happy in Heaven.

When He came out of the Wilderness, He began to cure sick people by only laying His hand upon them; for God had given Him power to heal the sick, and to give sight to the blind, and to do many wonderful and solemn things of which I shall tell you more bye and bye, and which are called "The Miracles" of Christ. I wish you would remember that word, because I shall use it again, and I should like you to know that it means something which is very wonderful and which could not be done without God's leave and assistance.

• • •

THE first Miracle which Jesus Christ did, was at a place called Cana, wehre He went to a Marriage Feast with Mary His Mother. There was no wine; and Mary told Him so. There were only six stone water-pots filled with water. But Jesus turned this water into wine by only lifting up His hand; and all who were there, drank of it.

For God had given Jesus Christ the power to do such wonders; and He did them, that people might know He was not a common man, and might believe what He taught them, and also believe that God had sent Him. And many people, hearing this, and hearing that He cured the sick, did begin to believe in Him; and great crowds followed Him in the streets and on the roads, wherever He went.

Jesus Questioning the Doctors, by Gustave Dore

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

REVISING THE CODES

The 12-point program of revision for existing codes proposed by General Johnson NRA chief, indicates the administrator is beginning to take a more sober view of the functions of this governmental agency, with the probability that some of its most glaring defects soon may be eliminated.

Not all of his proposals are of the kind which seem to be called for by present conditions. In the objectionable class must be placed his plan for a further reduction in working hours. This would place a hardship on many concerns, especially small enterprises. Numerous concerns of this kind, especially in the retail field, are finding it difficult to make ends meet under present regulations.

Other proposed reforms include "protection against monopoly, oppression of small enterprise and inclusion in codes of buying regulations to protect the small fellows."

More adequate consumer representation in an advisory capacity on code authorities also is among the proposed reforms. While General Johnson placed this point near the end of his list of 12 reforms, it is to be hoped its far removal from the top does no represent the degree of importance he attaches to it.

Whether the Johnson program will be put into effect completely will depend upon the discussions being carried on in the public meetings conducted to give the public an opportunity to voice criticism and suggest changes. The proposals show, however, that the administrator is intent upon eliminating injustices from the codes and placing the latter upon a more solid foundation.

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

by KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

© 1934, NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a handsome 17-year-old youth, works at the palatial Florida home of millionaire JIM FIELD.

The son of a titled Englishman and a servant girl, Pablito knows nothing of his parents. When a old he ran away from ANGELA, the heartless old crone in whose care he was left. Since then he has lived with NORRIS NOYES, a mysterious individual who has seen better days.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

• • •

CHAPTER IV

At the door of his wife's rooms Field paused and knocked. A maid he remembered admitted him and, as she saw him, her face grew hard and chill. He heard her murmur something about seeing if Madame could see him and he waited in the gray and silver sitting room. In a few moments Norma appeared and settled herself in a low chair. Field pulled another close to hers and dropped into it.

"I wanted to tell you, Norma, that I appreciate your attitude to Estelle about me."

She answered in a level undertone, her eyes on the rug at her feet. "I want to preserve for her as long as possible," she said, "all the illusions that make life happier. Then, too, you were not there—and I was. I couldn't very well say anything ill of you."

He did not fully understand this. She saw it and smiled a trifle wanly.

"You don't see much logic in that, do you?" she questioned.

"I see what you're getting at all right," he answered honestly, "but I think its bunk!"

"It is only decent."

He paid no attention to this but went on. "Norma—are you going to tell her now?"

She stiffened, becoming erect and tense. "I would kill all that I have done my best to nature in her," she answered with the first show of the old warmth and feeling he had heard in her voice. "We will have to present a great many things that aren't true and that I know now never were true."

"I'll try to make it easy for you," he promised a trifle thickly. He found himself close to unsteadiness from the relief her words had brought him.

"Jim," she began slowly and less confidently, "will you promise me to be careful about the things, the people—women I mean—whom she sees?"

"My dear Norma, I am less the gallant now. I am 50," he answered bluntly.

She nodded, her head a bit high, her eyes suddenly chill. Then she stood up with the manner of royalty at the moment of a dismissal. Presently Field found himself outside in the glare of the sunlight. The way Norma's head could lift, so proudly, had always made him feel himself to be crude and rough. This, with her dislike of scenes and her withdrawals into silence, had made him more crude and rougher.

She was still capable of the same trick, he realized; the trick of making him feel far beneath her.

"Damn it!" he thought, blinking in the sunlight. But there was a reason for him to endure it now. The reason was a slender girl who looked much as Norma had when he had married her with the intent to tame her and "bring her down a bit."

• • •

At the end of a dock which stretched long and black in the water Field saw Pablito swabbing out a fishing boat. He saw also the enchanting blue of the white-flecked water and the sway of the tall palms against the depths of an almost cloudless, silver-blue sky. Estelle would no doubt delight in such things, as her mother had before her. The camp had amazed her. Well, there was no other like it, he decided complacently.

He followed the dock which smelled of seaweed and salt and was always darkened and damp from spray and when he was near Pablito he spoke to him.

"Nice day, Smith."

Pablito stood erect, "Yes, sir. Fine," he agreed.

"Lord, you're a good-looking specimen," Field thought. He said aloud, "You usually run the "Silver Dart," don't you? I may go out in it later."

"Yes, sir."

Field turned then to go back to the land. Would Estelle go out with her father, Pablito wondered.

• • •

Norma Field stood in the gray and silver sitting room where her husband had left her, remembering the aftermath of one of their early estrangements. She had been stricken by remorse and returned to him, expecting to find him overcast by grief over her departure and alone. He had, on the contrary, been neither overcast—nor alone!

Then she remembered "trying again"; endless efforts at "trying again." She remembered the bruises which had come, oddly enough, from promises that were as weak as water. After that—some time after that—she had become old and lost her hold upon hope and at last the worst of his sins were but pallid beads in the long, dark chain that made her nights and days.

She had been like Estelle once, she realized, physically and mentally. Gentle to pain, hard in defending others from it. Kind to others but stern with herself. The woman she had become let her see the child she had been. A lovely child—the child Estelle echoed.

Norma Field stirred and moved toward her dressing room. She thought, "I don't ask much any more but—oh, he must be careful!" It was a blindly aimed prayer, the only sore she could say now, failing to believe in much of anything. She had cared a great deal for Jim Field in her pitiably young years, she realized. She hoped Estelle would never care for any man quite so much as she cared for herself.

• • •

That afternoon Pablito took Estelle and Jim Field for their first of their many rides together in the "Silver Dart." Estelle was stirred to silence by the riotous color, the salt languor of the air, the blazing yellow and the utter greenness of the shore.

"I think," she said slowly, "that I have never seen any place so beautiful!" As she spoke her eyes rested upon Pablito and, seeing him, she knew suddenly that she had never seen a young man who was so fine in form and face. She did not mention this. She could only wish, with a new hunger, that they might be friends. She was sure this youth with the blue eyes and straw colored hair would be a friend worth having.

The men in the boat saw her; nothing and no one else. Field watched her steadily with a slight smile lifting and softening his sometimes cruel lips. Pablito's eyes followed her with a breathless awe. He saw her as a rare mixture of child and woman. She had a dignity, unusual in American girls, which made her at times seem far beyond her years. At other times, with the faint showing of a soft trustfulness, she was sweetly young. Appallingly young Pablito thought, knowing Field.

"She knows everything of good," he decided tenderly, "and nothing of evil." And for a moment his heart turned cold as he wondered what lay before her.

Estelle's soft brown hair blew and color came into her cheeks which were a little thin because she had been growing so fast. He could not help watching her almost steadily. And again and again he found her face turned his way.

The hum of the motor and the swish of water as it broke to a white-churned froth kept Pablito from hearing much that was said, but one question of Field's shook his world for him because it brought her close.

Field said, "I think I'll have a fancy dress party for you here. Woud you like that?"

"Oh, yes!" Estelle answered and because she had been so suddenly warmly and vibrantly happy Pablito smiled without knowing it until she answered his smile. No woman or girl had ever smiled on him before unless tendering him, with her lift of lips, the wrong sort of invitation.

A barefoot boy who guards a drunkard does not hold the key that opens doorways into kindness. Now he knew kindness and the difference in smiles and the knowledge was so beautiful that it brought an ache to his breast. He thought, "I love you and it's not puppy stuff. You're beautiful and kind. I love you!"

And so came the love of a lifetime in a land where there is warmth and early ripening.

COLLEGIANS HELPED

AMES, Ia., (AP)—More than one-third of the Iowa State college student body either received loans from the college or had part-time employment during the 1933 fall quarter, the personnel director's records show.

If some of you are dying in a trench within the next decade, the cause will probably be the Manchurian question, the Polish corridor or the status of Austria.—Prof. Preston W. Slosson, addressing University of Michigan students protesting Austrian carnage.

PRACTICE UNDER WAY IN CALIFORNIA AND FLORIDA CAMPS

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 6. (AP)—Things are back to normal in the Philadelphia Athletics' spring training camp, with the squad whaling the ball heavily in batting practice and the doctor applying iodine to the first casualties.

"Indian Bob" Johnson, in camp after a trip from Portland, Ore., says he will sign his contract, leaving only holdouts Jimmy Foxx and Pinky Higgins without their signatures on the line.

PRACTICE BEGINS

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 6. (AP)—Practice begins today for Philadelphia's National league club with fifteen battery men on hand and all signed. The only pitcher not here is Ted Kleinhans, and President Gerry Nugent says he has the former Chicago Cub's signature.

Besides twelve pitchers and three catchers, including himself, Manager Jimmy Wilson has two outfielders with which to start spring training.

NERVIEST YOUNGSTER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6—(AP)—One of the nerviest youngsters who ever reported at the Braves training camp looking for a job is a lanky youth from Kalamazoo, Mich., who was ambitious to become the Tribal bat-boy.

After a look at the Braves' roster he told Buck Jordan he wasn't "so hot" with a batting average of .286.

Manager Bill McKechnie didn't have a chance to get the lad's name. He tossed him out in such short order.

"HI LEFTY"

SARASOTA, Fla., March 6. (AP)—Here's a tip for those who haven't met all the boys at the Red Sox training camp.

When in doubt, shout—"Hi Lefty."

It's sure to bring a response for there are eight port-siders among the moundsmen.

TWO STARTERS CHOSEN

PASADENA, Calif., March 6. (AP)—Lew Fonseca, field boss of the Chicago White Sox, already has decided on two of his starting pitchers, George Earnshaw, late of the Philadelphia Athletics, and Ed (Bull) Durham.

All the rest of the hurlers, even the veterans Ted Lyons, Sam Jones, and Milt Gaston, are on trial until they demonstrate ability as starters.

TO USE RECRUIT

AVALON, Calif., March 6. —(AP)—Augie Galan, purchased from San Francisco, will be the Chicago Cubs' second baseman until further notice.

Galin is said to be a better third baseman, but with Billy Herman still unaccounted for, Manager Charlie Grimm plans to use the recruit at second.

OKLAHOMA SLUGGERS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 6 (AP)—The tall story crown of the New York Giants' training camp goes to Dutch Prather, Nashville rookie who is one of four seeking Manager Bill Terry's place at first base.

He tells anyone who'll listen that the hardest hitters in the world come from the sand lots of his home state of Oklahoma.

"When Hubbell returned after the world series," he drawled, "we hit him so hard the kids went out to the vacant lots and picked up peach baskets full of lost base hits."

REASON TO SMILE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6—(AP)—Charley Ruffing, big right hander of the New York Yankees, has given Joe McCarthy his first real reason to smile this spring training season.

"Charley the Red" weighed 230 pounds at one time last season, but he has reported this year weighing only 209.

TITLE WON BY MANHATTAN

SMALL SCHOOL TAKES OFF HONORS FOR THE FIRST TIME

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 6. —(AP)—For the first time in history, little Manhattan college has won the team title of the intercollegiate 4-A indoor track and field championships.

The little school that belies its name by being located, not in Manhattan, but in the Bronx, scored 28 1-2 points in six of the 11 varsity events in Madison Square Garden last night and defeated New York university by four points.

Yale Ranks Third

Yale, the defending champion, was third with 20; Cornell fourth with 14; Columbia fifth at 11; and Harvard sixth at 8 1-2. Nineteen schools figured in the scoring.

Manhattan won only one individual championship—Frank McKenna running off with the 3,000-meter run—but Coach Pete Waters' youngsters pulled some unexpected points out of the hat to stand off all rivals.

The 1934 champions and their performances:

60 meter dash—Sam Maniaci, Columbia, .06.8.

50 meter hurdles—Walter Merwin, Cornell, .07.

1500 meter run—Bill Bonthron, Princeton, 3:57.4.

3000 meters run—Frank McKenna, Manhattan, 8:54.8.

16 pound shot—William Niblock, Bowdoin, 49 feet, 10 inches, new meet record.

High jump—George Spitz, New York university, six feet, 5 5-8 inches, new meet record.

Pole vault—Keith Brown, Yale, 14 feet, 7-8 inch, new meet record.

Broad jump—Henry Little, William & Mary, 23 feet, 9 1-4 inches.

35 pound weight throw—Henry Dreyer, Rhode Island State, 55 feet, 1-4 inches, new meet and collegiate record.

1600 meter relay—New York university, 3:22.2.

3200 meter relay—Columbia, 7:-6.1.

All times in the running events were new records since the meet was being run on the metric basis for the first time.

NO CHANGES SEEN IN CUP POLICIES

NEW YORK, March 6. (AP)—Announcement of the personnel of the United States Lawn Tennis association's Davis cup committee indicates there will be no change in the cup policies this country has followed in recent years.

The committee, headed by Holcombe Ward as chairman, consists principally of past and present officers such as Julian S. Myrick, Joseph W. Wear, Fitz Eugene Dixon, Samuel Hardy and Dwight W. Davis who donated the famous trophy in 1900.

Ward is expected to name the sub-committee which does the actual work of selecting and training the team in a few days.

George M. Lott, jr., Wilmer Allison, Frank Shields, Sidney B. Wood, Lester Stoefen, Frankie Parker, Bryan Grant and Cliff Sutter are regarded as the leading candidates for the team.

CLAIMS MAT TITLE

TULSA, Okla., March 6. (AP)—Leroy McGuirk of Tulsa, former Oklahoma A. and M. college mat star, claimed the world's light heavyweight wrestling championship today after pinning Hugh Nichols of Texia, Tex., for two falls in a title match here last night.

JACK DEMPSEY DRAWS LARGE RING CROWD

SIXTEEN HUNDRED AT ARMORY FOR FAST FIGHT PROGRAM

Attracted to the Armory by the presence of Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, 1,600 Lubbock and South Plains fight fans saw Jack Thompson of Amarillo pound out a 10-round decision over Mickey Dunivin of Oklahoma City last night in the main event of the local National Guard's boxing show here.

Dempsey was the third man in the ring for the prelim, the semi-windup and the main go. He received a loud ovation as he stepped into the ring to referee the Bradford-Wilson match, which resulted in the only knockout of the evening. Thereafter, Dempsey was kept humping about the ropes as the boys and girls and men and women warmed to his presence, recovered from their awe and hounded him for autographs. He autographed everything from scraps of waste paper to checks and gilt edged autograph books, never turning down a one as long as time allowed.

Wilson Takes Count

He made the usual glad-to-be-here speech and set about the business of counting out Jimmie Wilson, who in the second of a scheduled four-round preliminary, took a left jab to the jaw from Cecil Bradford and battered the back of his noggin on the hard floor. He couldn't get up. Bradford got the worst of the first round, and Jimmie was getting better. Bradford's lucky punch probably saved the day for him.

Harry Guthrie, champion of Texas Tech's light heavies, and Joe Vernon, billed out of Amarillo, fought to a bloody six-round draw. Vernon weighed in at 167, Guthrie at 173. They banged each other about the head in the final rounds until their faces were gory with life blood, and each had an eye on the verge of closing up for the holidays as the battle ended.

Judges Julian Williamson and Claude Hutcherson called the Dunivin-Thompson a draw, basing their ruling on the simple process of addition that gave, according to their score cards, Thompson three rounds, the fifth, seventh and eighth, and Dunivin 2, the fourth and ninth. The others were called even.

The Avalanche-Journal tally counted the first for Mickey, the second for Thompson, the third and fourth even, the fifth, sixth, seventh and eight for Thompson, the ninth for Mickey and the last for Thompson.

Jack Eggs 'Em On

It might have been a slow fight, in fact they all might have been slow, had it not been for Dempsey's constant urging on. He had to warn the main eventers to keep fighting several times, and once threatened to stop the fight if they didn't get to work. The answer was action, in large quantities, and the lads' endurance was something at which to marvel.

Dunivin's long, left jabs found their mark often enough to keep it interesting, while Thompson threw in enough rights to keep the southpaw in a jam most of the way. The more seasoned fighter, Mickey appeared to have the early advantage, and was going stronger at the bell. Thompson shot his bolt in the middle rounds, absorbing a lot of punishment as each round started but winding up by charging in to catch Mickey with enough upper cuts and right crosses to win by a good margin. He was the same way in the final round, which he won by a nose, but was groggy at the gong.

Battling Shapo Wins

The curtain opener saw a brace of dusky boys flail away at each other until the final bell was a distinct relief to them as well as the fans. Battling Shapo, a 165-pound buck, won a decision over Chock Patterson, his briefer but battling 160-pound antagonist. They made the first three rounds easily enough, and slung enough leather to fill a boot factory. Luckily for both, neither landed an effective long distance punch.

Shapo started his would-be haymakers from the ankle, and swung wildly at his feinting opponent, who missed blows capable of flooring an army mule.

JOCKEY STEALS SHOW

MIAMI, Mar. 6. (AP)—Earl Porter, jockey sensation of the year, stole the show at Hialeah park Monday, booting home four winners to run his total for the meeting to 30.

Porter scored with Fervid in the second race, with Crowning Glory in the fifth, Flaghorn in the sixth and Southard in the seventh.

SHRINE SOUGHT

GLOUCESTER, Va., (AP)—A movement has been started to make a national shrine of historic old Rosewell mansion, in which Thomas Jefferson is reputed to have made the first draft of the Declaration of Independence.

VINES AND TILDEN BEAT FRENCHMEN

DETROIT, Mar. 6. (AP)—The United States touring professional tennis team of William T. Tilden II, and Ellsworth Vines ended their Detroit appearances last night with a clean sweep over their French rivals, Henri Cochet and Martin Plaa.

The program, consisting of two single matches, saw Vines defeating Plaa, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 and 6-2, and Tilden defeating Cochet, 6-3, 6-3, 9-11, and 6-1.

Tilden was his old self as he unleashed a smashing service against Cochet who has won the only match thus far credited to the French team. He took the first two sets easily but dropped the third set after Cochet put on a thrilling rally as the score stood 9-all. Cochet and Tilden had fought stubbornly throughout the set but the Frenchman finally broke through the American veteran's service to win.

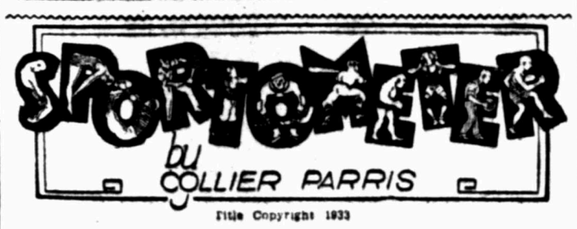

Tilden finished his match with Cochet in thrilling fashion, whipping over a series of lightning fast and accurate shots to make it a love game.

Before the blade of the windshield wiper is brought into action, the windshield should be wiped off with a soft cloth to prevent the scratching of the glass.

From Drive To Dive

Title Copyright 1933

Boxing fans were pleasantly surprised last night. They went to the Armory until the Armory was nearly full; they went for the purpose of catching a first hand glimpse of Jack Dempsey. They saw Dempsey, and they saw something they hadn't anticipated much—a series of fast boxing bouts between well-matched opponents.

The National Guard didn't put on a dollar and a half worth of boxing, to be sure, but we haven't heard anybody grumbling. They paid their dough to see Dempsey and they weren't disappointed. Dempsey did something besides tell the boxers to break. His presence in the ring, inspiring the fighters to do their best, and his constant low-spoken words of encouragement and threat kept them going.

So the army boys deserve a salvo of staccato cheers for their offering last night, (1) for making it possible for the folks to see Dempsey, (2) for matching a bunch of better than average fights and (3) for the manner in which they handled things. That new ring is a dandy, the seating arrangement showed that plans had been made, and the whole show conducted in an appreciable manner. Smoking was held to a minimum, much to the comfort of fighters and non-smoking fans.

Judges of last night's fights were correct in their decisions, all but one, which is a pretty good average. They missed the semi-final, however. Harry Guthrie, champion of the amateur light heavies who come to town or stay in town, took a pretty bad beating from his middleweight opponent, Joe Vernon. Vernon probably was fighting above his head, trying to overcome the chagrin of recent defeats, and he fought against great odds last night to beat Guthrie, who lives a life of training and fighting.

If you didn't see Dempsey last night, he'll be in Plainview Friday night to officiate a boxing show. Woody Windham, the punching lightweight from Abilene and one of the scrappiest fighters ever to work here, is on the main event at Plainview. The match is being promoted by Claude Hutcherson. The program is booked for the city auditorium, which is capable of seating about 2,500 fans comfortably.

Dempsey, still the most popular name in the boxing game, turned out to be everything one expected of him. He's a grand guy, and you don't have to wait for him to tell you to know it. In fact, he talks less about Dempsey than about anything else, and he can converse in the language of the intellectuals or of the man in the street, and he gets across with everybody.

His pet peeve, naturally, is Madison Square Garden, upon which he hangs the reason for the decline financially and morally, of the fight game. Greater than any St. Louis Cardinal chain-store system is the Madison Square Garden organization. It is as if the Cards or some other baseball club had control of every baseball park in the major leagues, and dictated the kind of baseball and the type of players to carry on the national pastime. Thus does the Garden have the boxing game sewed up, and they plan it and foster it according to their own wishes.

We asked Dempsey if he planned to toss a bomb into the organization and attempt to get boxing back on the high plane it rested upon when he was at his height. No, not now at any rate. It would take dollars, millions of 'em, to overthrow the Kingdom of the Garden, who own and operate the only indoor arena in New York City worthy of housing a championship fight. Anybody who bucked them would have to build a new house and a new organization, and it takes shekels, more shekels than Dempsey has or ever will have.

But what about some other locality for a championship fight, say between Max Baer and Primo Carnera? No matter where you go, you run into Garden control. The Garden owns and operates the best arenas in the country, and it's next to impossible to work without its permission. And if you did find a suitable location, a satisfactory house and could arrange a fight, what would happen? The Garden would raise the ante, offer a guarantee that no other man or organization could buck, so there you are. But why doesn't Madison Square Garden get across? Well, there are certain libel laws which this newspaper and this columnist don't care to tantalize, so you figure that one out.

Circus Will Close Run Here Tonight

Tonight is the last time to see the Olympia boys, Gladys Le Tourneau, and other performers of an indoor circus—the Eastern States appearing at the Auditorium under American Legion auspices—ending a six-night stand.

The Olympia boys, who have performed in Ringling Bros. circus and motion pictures, have two acts in the Eastern States circus, one on the trapeze and the other the parallel bars.

Miss Le Tourneau's outstanding execution in her performance on a high trapeze is a forward somersault-heel catch.

TIRE OF BANKRUPTS

PARIS (AP)—The city of Nice and the department of Alpes Maritimes have petitioned the chamber of deputies to pass a law whereby "any foreign merchant established in France who goes through bankruptcy three times, shall be expelled."

A body of matter with a weight of 191 pounds at either of the poles of the earth would only weigh 190 pounds at the equator.

BAER MAY GET A CHANCE AT CHAMPION

MANAGER THINKS NEXT 48 HOURS TO SETTLE FATE OF FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6 (AP)—Ancil Hoffman, manager of Max Baer, California heavyweight, said today he expects to know within the next 48 hours whether a Baer-Primo Carnera title fight in New York next June "is in the cards."

Hoffman said he had been advised by Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, that the Garden "is ready to make a deal for the match."

Johnston informed him, Hoffman said, that the Garden also is ready to consider a proposition with Jack Dempsey, heretofore mentioned as a possible promoter of the match. Hoffman said he insisted that Dempsey be connected in some manner with any arrangement that is made.

Runyan And Smith Favored To Repeat

MIAMI, Fla., March 6 (AP)—Favored to repeat last year's victory, Horton Smith, of Chicago, and Paul Runyan, of White Plains, N. Y., the "fire cracker twins," had to whip Walter Hagen, of Detroit, and Tom Creavy, of Albany, N. Y., in the semi-finals of the $3,500 international four-ball golf tournament today.

Densmore Shute, of Philadelphia, the British open champion, and his partner, Al Espinosa, of Akron, Ohio, faced a veteran Brooklyn pair, Wiffy Cox and Bill Mehlhorn, in the other side of the bracketing.

Small sawmills for farmers as a means of earning money in off-seasons are being urged by Texas A. & M. college.

FORMER TEXAS TECH ATHLETE MEETS DETTON IN LUBBOCK MAT HEADLINER

An ex-Texas Tech athlete returns to the local sport wars tomorrow night when Ken Gaston of Roswell, N. M., meets Dorry Detton of Lubbock in the main three-fall match of Promoter Sled Allen's regular Wednesday night rassle rodeo at the Auditorium.

Otis Clingman, one of the mightiest matmen of this circuit, meets Sailor Jack Woods, of Littlefield, in the thirty minute time limit special event.

Sailor Jack, who looked bad last week in a prelim, is out to redeem himself this week by taking a crack at Clingman, who is himself an ex-gob. Both Clingman and Woods are claimants to navy wrestling titles, so they should have an added incentive tomorrow evening for making a battle of it.

Kodrick vs. Heard

The pocket edition Hercules, Louis Koderick, of Strasburg, Austria, returns to Lubbock for the second time, meeting little Charley Heard, of San Antonio, in the curtain-raiser which may very easily swing the show.

Koderick looks and acts enough like Dutch Mantell to be his son. Always with a plug-ugly expression on his face and very unorthodox in his tactics, the little Austrian's performance here a few weeks ago was greeted with almost as many barnyard noises as an appearance of the Amarillo Apeman provokes.

Welterweights are scarce in this section, but in Heard, Koderick will find a very suitable opponent.

A close battle, with Detton a slight favorite, is expected in the main event. Gaston is a swift and dangerous wrestler, but he is not as full of tricks as Dorry.

CONQUER ILLITERACY

MOSCOW, (AP)—Mikhail Kalinin, president of the all-union central executive committee, who heads the drive against illiteracy, has issued a circular saying that the end of illiteracy is to be achieved this year. It orders the last 3,000,000 illiterate adults sent to schools this year.

"The Bachelor's Dream"

Do you suffer from it? Nightmares in which you go about, cutting sleeves down so they fit? Many a man with a 15 neck and a 32 arm does. Of course it's foolish and unnecessary, because everybody knows we carry "out" sizes, big and small. And our prices are like our shirts—Right!

WHY SHAVE
In A Shadow?

The two things necessary for a comfortable and refreshing shave are a good razor and a good light. Shaving before a bathroom mirror where the light comes from one side, leaving half your face in shadow, is something of an acrobatic trick, something of a mystic rite and something of a risk. It is more apt to bring grunts and imprecations and an occasional nick to lips than a cheery humming song.

The modern bathroom has two mirror lights, one on each side of the glass, so that both sides of one's face are equally well lighted. If your bathroom has only a center ceiling light or a single mirror light, you can have your electrician put a simple fixture on both sides of the glass at nominal cost. Then you will know new ease and joy in the morning and the evening shave.

WIN

A Month's Free Ticket to The Lindsey or Palace

This calendar names such pictures as "Roman Scandals," "Hold That Girl," "Wild Cargo," "Orient Express," "Lady Killer," and many others. You must make "funny" sentences from these titles, for example:

"Jimmy, The Gent" took "Queen Christina" a "Gallant Lady" dressed in "Fashions of 1934," to see her "Long Lost Father," "David Harum." They met the "Meanest Gal in Town" and several other "Little Women" trying to get from "Broadway to Hollywood," etc.

The entries will be judged from the standpoint of neatness, originality, uniqueness, and number of titles used.

The person submitting the BEST entry will receive ONE Guest Ticket to the Lindsey Theater, which will entitle the bearer to see all pictures shown at the Lindsey in March, while the person submitting the second-best entry will receive ONE guest ticket to the Palace for all the month of March.

CORRECTION
Due to error in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal we stated that each winner would receive TWO GUEST TICKETS—this was incorrect, as each winner will receive ONE guest ticket.

All entries must be at the Avalanche-Journal Classified Ad Department before 6 P. M. Tuesday, March 6th.

BEATTY RITES TO BE TODAY

BODY OF PIONEER TO BE TAKEN TO BRADY FOR BURIAL

Funeral services for George L. Beatty, 89, who as a youth followed the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy, subsequently became a Kentucky sheriff and Texas judge, and came to West Texas as a pioneer lawyer, were to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The rites were to be read at the Beatty home at 1317 Avenue N, where the aged attorney died unexpectedly late Monday morning.

Burial At Brady

Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mr. Beatty was a member, was to officiate. The body was to be taken to Brady for burial there Wednesday, Rix-Bynum Funeral home announced.

Pallbearers, all lawyers here, were to be:

George R. Bean, W. D. Benson, sr., W. F. Schenck, W. H. Bledsoe, Roscoe Wilson, and J. E. Vickers.

A widow survived Mr. Beatty, who had lived in Lubbock county 42 years. He came here in 1892 as a young lawyer soon after the county was organized.

FLASHES OF LIFE

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

Hot And Cold

RIDGETOWN, Ont. — Miss Vera Scafe plunged her hands into cold water—and got them badly burned.

Miss Scafe, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Scafe, was on her way to work when she slipped and fell, dirtying her hands in the slush of the street.

She went to a rest room to wash them. She said she turned on the cold water and plunged her hands into the basin. Instantly, she withdrew them and fled, crying hysterically.

Dr. W. E. Lake found that the palms and backs of her hand had been burned badly.

The cause of the burns remained somewhat of a mystery. One theory advanced was that they were due to an electric current in the water lines. An electrical apparatus was being used to thaw frozen water pipes in the vicinity of the rest room.

Hydro officials expressed doubt of this, because they said the apparatus was using only 20 volts. However, they discontinued the thawing until an investigation can be made.

He Didn't Hear

KANSAS CITY.—Mrs. Harry Bisbee, on her way home from the union station, told the taxicab driver, Charles A. Wills, to turn west. The cab turned east.

Puzzled, she repeated the instructions. Then she grabbed the wheel just in time to prevent the cab from crashing into another machine. Stopping the cab, she turned to the driver. He was dead, of heart disease.

Recompense?

MILTON, Ore.—The Lowell Cheavers, who a year ago lost their one year old boy, have another one. They found a day old boy on their doorstep. It was wrapped in a woman's night gown and a blanket.

The horn will prove more effective if it is occasionally treated to few drops of very light oil.

ADMINISTRATION EXPECTED TO START ACTUAL PURCHASING OF FARM ACRES

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first story of a series explaining the land utilization plans of the government, one of the most vital problems of the Roosevelt administration.)

* * *

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6. (AP)—The Roosevelt administration is expected to inaugurate in this first week of its second year the actual purchasing of acres in its program of land utilization.

Men who have been studying the problem since long before Mr Roosevelt became president estimate that between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000 acres of land is definitely "sub-marginal."

"Should Be Retired

For the good of the individuals living on it and the nation as a whole, they feel this vast acreage should be retired from production permanently.

L. C. Gray, land economist of the department of agriculture, likens the indiscriminate giving of lands by the federal government in past years to the spending of a "coal oil Johnny." As for the result, he says:

"We find most of our timber resources swept away and our oil and gasoline being squandered in an incredible orgy of waste, hundreds of 'ghost' towns and villages, scores of millions of acres of good farm land ruined by erosion, 25,000,000 acres in abandoned farms, some of the nation's finest beauty spots and recreational resources subject to private exploitation, thousands of farmers waging a hopeless battle on unfriendly soil or with inadequate acreage, an overexpanded farm plant, and millions crowded in congested centers of population."

Funds Provided

Such conditions cannot be allowed to continue, the Roosevelt group has decided.

From Public Works administration funds they have been given $25,000,000 and other funds will be forthcoming as needed.

The federal government, acting as the coordinating agency with states, cities, counties, and township governments, will buy up large tracts of land, move the people on it to other areas, destroy roads, schools, and drainage ditches now largely useless, and build up an entirely new structure suited to the needs and welfare of the people.

In answer to the cries of "communism," these men reply, in effect "if it's communism make the most of it."

Over 82,000 Acres Are Leased To U. S.

A total of 82,508 acres of cotton leased to the secretary of agriculture for 1934-35 was shown in the latest report of cotton acreage reduction, P. T. Montfort, county agent, said Monday.

Total contracts checked were 1,969, covering 206,624 acres. A few more contracts are out and Mr. Montfort believed they will bring the total to slightly over 2,000.

Average lint yield per acre for 1,683 of the contracts shows 183 pounds per acre.

A considerable amount of recheck work is yet to be made before a final report is ready for submission to the district review board. Mr. Montfort said he hoped the report will be ready by Wednesday or Thursday.

A French steamer took on 1,000 tons of oak staves for wine casks at Beaumont, Tex., consigned to Algiers and other trans-Atlantic ports.

BAPTIST DRIVE BEGUN HERE

SUNDAY SCHOOL GAIN IS CAMPAIGN GOAL OF ASSOCIATION

With 15 churches participating, an association-wide Baptist Sunday school enlargement campaign is being conducted here this week, with headquarters at the First Baptist church, J. D. Riddle, educational director at the First church, announced.

Representatives of churches are to meet each afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church for assignments made by Rev. J. W. Lites of Dallas. Schools are being conducted at the various churches each evening.

Forty workers representing 10 churches met at the First Baptist church for conferences Monday afternoon. The first courses of study were to begin last night.

Enlarge Enrollments

One of the objectives of the campaign is to enlarge church school enrollments, Mr. Riddle said.

Directors in the courses at local churches, who will discuss methods of teaching, will be Dr. W. F. Fry, who will be at College Avenue Baptist church, the Rev. Dee Carpenter at the Calvary Baptist church and Mr. Riddle at First church.

In addition to the three local Baptist churches in the campaign, churches from the following places are being entered: Abernathy, Acuff, Estacado, Fairview, Idalou, Levelland, Liberty, Lorenzo, Post, Shallowater, Southland and Whitharral.

Commencement exercises are scheduled for next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church. At this time a banner will be presented to the church that makes the highest percentage in enrollment in the classes in proportion to the church membership.

Many Divorces In Mexico "Illegal"

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, Mar. 6. (AP)—At least 37 per cent of the divorce decrees obtained in the state of Morelos by Americans in the last six months are fraudulent and legally worthless, a high American source said today.

Eighty-three American couples are known to have been victims of a "mail order" divorce mill in that time, it was said, and further investigation is expected to reveal others.

The informant asserted it was likely many of those who thought themselves legally divorced have since remarried.

Members of the ring were reported to have obtained the bogus decrees by inserting duplicate and triplicate blanks under sheets containing records of genuine divorces, which were signed by the proper authorities.

PADDING PROBED

HOUSTON, March 6. (AP)—A state senate committee Monday began a statewide investigation of possible padding of the scholastic census rolls. The committee planned to remain here today and to go next to San Antonio. Dr. J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb is chairman of the group.

Arch Morgan Tried On Murder Charge

MIDLAND, March 6. (AP)—Arch Morgan went on trial Monday for the slaying of Phil Dawson here last October.

Jones planned to plead that Rutland made a threatening move.

CONCHO GOES "WET"

PAINT ROCK, Mar. 6. (AP)—Concho county went into the "wet" column of Texas counties by a majority of 68 votes in a week-end local option election. The vote was 497 to 429. The Paint Rock and Millersview precincts remained dry while the Eden precinct voted wet.

How One Man Lost 22 Pounds

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now feel like a new man."

To lose fat safely and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—an 85c bottle lasts 4 weeks.—Get it at Mark Halsey Drug, or any drug store in America.
