TROPICAL STORM KEEPS UP HEAVY ASSAULT ON U. S.

22 DEATHS ARE REPORTED IN UNITED STATES AS COUNT IS MADE
(By The Associated Press)
Sixty seven deaths and property damage estimated at several million dollars was caused by the West Indian hurricane which originated in the Caribbean sea, swept across Nassau, tore up the Florida east coast and turned into Georgia, where today it is reported diminishing in wide force.
Fifty four bodies were washed ashore at Sangoa from the schooners Franciscany, Peaceful and Macoris, which were sunk off Sangoa Island, Santa Domingo.
Eight persons were killed by the hurricane at Nassau.

Other Deaths Listed

Four deaths in Florida and one in Georgia were charged to the storm.
Damage to property at Nassau was estimated at $5,000,000.
Miami fixed damage there at $100,- 000, largely to the Avocado Pear crop.
Damages in the greater Palm Beach area are estimated at two and a half million dollars, a large part of which was due to the number of small crafts sunk in the water.

Three Boats Sunk

SAN DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, July 29. (AP)—Many passengers were lost when the schooners Franciscany, Peaceful and Macoris, bound for the Windward Islands, were sunk off Sangoa Island in a storm. Fifty four bodies have been washed ashore at Sangoa.

8 Die At Nassau

MIAMI, Fla., July 29. (AP)—Eight persons are known to have been killed by the tropical hurricane that struck Nassau, Monday, according to the first direct report on storm fatalities received by the Miami Daily News today from Captain McDonald of the steamship Munamar. The message was received by the Tropical Radio Telegraph company from the Munamar lying at anchor off Nassau.
Property damage in Nassau alone will reach $4,000,000 or $5,000,000, Captain McDonald estimated. No reports have been received from the outlying islands, the message adds.

Charleston Damage Light

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 29. (AP)— Reports reaching here early today indicate that the West Indian hurricane which for the past two days has been sweeping the Florida, Georgia and S.
Carolina coasts, has caused only slight damage in the Charleston area.
The wind last night reached a velocity of 54 miles an hour at its peak.

Mayor Not Slain In Nichislan, Reported

MEXICO CITY, July 29. (AP)—Denial is made by the governor of the state of Zacatecas that Mayor Cervantes Nichislan of Nichislan was lynched there Tuesday because of an attack upon a Catholic priest.
The denial is contained in a telegram received by the department of the Interior. The governor asserts that there is no foundation whatever for the report of the lynching sent by correspondents of Mexican papers.
He says there has been no trouble whatsoever in the town of Nichislan.

42 Charged In Bills In Illinois Voting

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Three bills, naming 42 persons and raising the number of persons charged with vote frauds and various irregularities in the April primaries to 141, were voted today by the special grand jury.
A number of those named were women. Thirty-eight judges and clerks and three ward workers were charged with misconduct.

DOTY APPEAL DENIED

BEIRUT, SYRIA, July 29. (AP)—The appeal of Bennett J. Doty, of Memphis, Tenn., from a sentence of eight eight years imprisonment at hard labor for desertion from the French Foreign Legion, today was rejected by a higher military court.

Majority For Dan Moody's Is Assured Last Count Shows

DALLAS, Texas, July 29. (AP)—The noon tabulation of Saturday's primary returns by the Texas Election Bureau gives Dan Moody a majority of 2,816 and for the first time puts him over the 400,000 mark in the vote. George R. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture, has the highest vote of any candidate on the ticket, 452,197. The total vote received has gone to 902,428, by far the largest vote ever polled in a Texas election of any kind.
The tabulation from 250 counties, 187
complete, shows the count as follows:
For Governor—Davidson, 129,477;
Ferguson, 274,988; Johnston, 1,117; Moody, 402,622; Williams, 1,449; Zimmerman, 2,484.
For Attorney General—Allred, 125,- 131; Branchfield, 121,476; Christopher, 35,522; Hornsby, 56,298; Irwin, 102,441; Polhard, 134,122.

Mother And Priest In DYING BABE IS BAPTISED

MEXICO CITY, July 29. — A woman, her face stained with tears and with a wail wrenched about a baby which she hugged tightly to her breast, fought her way through the dense crowds in one of the churches of Mexico City.
There were indignant protests by those she had shoved aside, but finally she pushed her way to the front of a priest, "father, you must baptize my baby," she pleaded frantically. "You must baptize it instantly—baptize it ahead of all the others."
The priest replied that the woman must wait her turn.
"I can't wait," she wailed. "I wish I could wait; I wish death would wait—but it will not. My baby is dying."
Then the protests of the crowd became murmurs of sympathy.
The priest performed the ceremony. The woman walked away.
The crowd made room for her this time, and some of the women wept with her—for the baby she carried in her arms was dead.

Chicago Gangster Released by Court

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Alphonse
"Scarface" Capone, underworld overlord in Cicero and other western suburbs, who the authorities had professed to have sought up and down the country, was freed today of the charge that he murdered Assistant State's Attorney William McSwiggin, slain with two others last April 27.
Chief Justice Thomas Lynch dismissed the murder warrant after First Assistant State's Attorney George E.
Gorman said the state did not have evidence to support the charge.
Capone had surrendered yesterday to federal agents and spent one night in jail.

$65,000 Loot Taken By 3 Train Robbers

SALISBURY, Mass., July 28. (AP)— Train robbers obtained $65,000 in cash from the baggage master of a Boston and Maine train at the Salisbury Point station today. The money had been sent by the Federal Reserve bank in Boston to the Pawtucket National bank of Amosbury.
It was reported that three young men appeared in the baggage car just before the train stopped at the station and forced the baggage man to throw off the bag containing the money.
The police said that three pouches if they were taken, so that the loot might exceed that now known.

B. C. D. Directors In Session Today

The Board of City Development met in regular session this morning at nine o'clock. A number of important measures were brought up for discussion, among which was the apportioning of funds to be applied on the expenses of the delegates who will go from Lubbock county to attend the Short Course to be held in August at the A. & M. College. Miss Hummer, county demonstration agent, will receive $30.00 for the expenses of the girls who will make the trip, and if they were taken, so that the loan
might exceed that now known.

Countesses Win Suit To Stop Gossip

FOLLOW BRITISH KING'S EXAM-PLE AS THEY INVOKE AID OF COURTS AGAINST DETRACTOR Dowager Countess of Seafield (above), and Countess Nina.
By MILTON BRONNER,
NEA Service Correspondent
LONDON, July 29.—The example of King George the Fifth, who went to the law courts to suppress whispered little-tattle about him, has followed by two other famous Britannics.
Mary, dowager countess of Seafield, and her pretty daughter, Nina, have won verdicts in the King's Bench division of the British High Court of Justice against a detractor who was accused of questioning Countess Nina's right to her inheritance.
An apology in court by the defendant failed to save him from penalty.
He was ordered to pay 1000 pounds damages to the Dowager Countess and 500 pounds to her daughter.
The Dowager Countess is the widow of the eleventh Earl of Seafield.
Nina, the daughter, succeeded to the estates when her father died in 1915 from war wounds.
In the Scotch courts, Alexander Grant brought proceedings styling himself the legitimate heir of the seventh Earl of Seafield and contest-ing inheritance of the Seafield property by Nina.
Evidence in his behalf was given by G. W. Grant, who also wrote to a Scotch newspaper insinuating that Nina was not the Dowager Countess' daughter.
It was on this letter that the damage suit by the two ladies was brought. The defendant Grant made no defense beyond his formal apology.
Limoges by the score rolled up to the court to disgorge notables when the case was heard.
Society saw in the controversy a reminder of the ancient custom of having eye witnesses present when a royal child is born. This custom, still partially adhered to, was originated to prevent foisting of impostors on the British people as heirs to the throne.

DOUBLE KILLING FOUR YEARS AGO IS RESURRECTED

SLAYING OF CHOIR GIRL AND PASTOR LAID AT DOOR OF WIFE
(By The Associated Press)
SOMERVILLE, N. J., July 29.—Mrs.
Edward Wheeler Hall, widow of the slain rector of St. John's Episcopal church in New Brunswick, N. J., was in the county jail today, held without bail accused of the murder four years ago of her husband and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, wife of the church sexton and singer in the choir.
Mrs. Hall was arrested last night at her home. She spent most of the night in a reception room on the first floor in the rear of the jail. Mrs. Edward Carpenter, her cousin, and Russell E.
Watson, attorney, were with her. Mrs.
Hall sat quietly, but Mrs. Carpenter paced the jail corridor nervously most of the night.
She Says "Ridiculous."
Mrs. Hall branded her arrest as "ridiculous," but would say nothing more.
Her cousin and attorney refused to talk. Nothing was forthcoming from the authorities to explain what was evidence in the mystery had brought about the arrest.
Immediately after the arrest, Timothy N. Pfeiffer, New York attorney who represented the Hall during investigation, was called. Shortly before dawn a note to Mr. Pfeiffer arrived at the jail in a New York taxi and was taken into the reception room.
Mr. Watson and jail attendants refused to give his name.
Warrants Sworn Out
Two warrants charging the murder of Mr. Hall and his pretty young woman companion were sworn out yesterday. Investigation of the case abandoned nearly four years ago, was renewed several weeks ago because of an indictment suit filed by Arthur S.
Riehl.
Riehl charged that his wife, formerly Louis E. Giesel, who had been a maid in the Hall household, had deceived him as to her past relationships with Mr. Hall before he married her in 1924. In an unsworn statement Riehl said his wife had received $5,000 for silence in connection with the murder.
The bodies of Mr. Hall and Mrs.
Mills were found September 16, 1922, in an abandoned orchard near New Brunswick. They had been shot with a pistol, and their clothes neatly arranged as they lay side by side.
Find Their Love Nest
A nearby vacant house was found to be completely furnished and showed signs of recent use. Love letters of the dead pair were found and published.

County Boxes All In But Tally Not Begun By Workers

In spite of the fact that all of the ballot boxes of Lubbock county are in the hands of the county committee, the vote will not be compiled until Saturday, the last day granted for tabulation by the state organization, W. W. Campbell, county chairman, said today. The Estacado box, the last to come in, arrived last night, but so no information concerning the count has been given out here.
A recount in the race for county tax assessor, where Rollie Burns, present incumbent, was opposed by C.
W. Payne, shows Mr. Burns with a total of 2,465 ballots to 2,419 for Mr.
Payne.
Emmett Whitteker, Lamesa printer-preacher, is leading J. K. Wester, Lubbock, for the state legislature in this section but returns from Terry county are not yet in and may change the standing in this race.
The work of counting the ballots is an all day job, Mr. Campbell said, in explaining why an official count had not yet been made here. His force will begin early Saturday morning on the tabulation, which will be given out as soon as completed.

Legislature Will Approve All Road Bonds, Kemp Says

DALLAS, Texas, July 29. (AP)—Suffered commitments have been obtained from members of the legislature to secure passage of road bond validating acts, J. A. Kemp, capitalist of Wichita Falls, said here today. He believes the legislature should not attempt any thing more than bond validation.
Mr. Kemp is chairman of a committee of citizens which for months has been seeking a special session to validate the bonds declared invalid by the United States supreme court.
Restoration of Texas credit, enhancement of valuation of Texas bonds, and millions in premiums to districts in Texas having bonds to market are seen by Mr. Kemp as the results of early passage of legislation clarifying the titles of road district bonds.
Attorneys Are Arranged
Mr. Kemp's committee, which waited on Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to ask for a special session several months ago, has procured the services of leading bond attorneys in the United States.
"These attorneys," said Mr. Kemp,
"whose word is final in these matters have drafted measures that will correct the present objectionable features of the Texas road district bonds and will entirely restore confidence of bond buyers."
The bills will be introduced early in the special session and the floor leaders for this movement will press their early adoption.

PASTOR TO FACE BAR OF JUSTICE IN MURDER CASE

MEACHAM RECALLED AS JURY DELIBERATES ON CASE THIS MORNING
(By The Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, July 29.—Rev. Dr.
J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist church and nationally known fundamentalist, was indicted today by the Tarrant county grand jury for the murder of D. E. Chipps, lumberman, in the church office on July 17.
Mayor H. C. Meacham, Chipps' friend, was called as a witness just before the indictment was returned after two weeks of investigation.

REV. DR. J. FRANK NORRIS

Nearly two scores witnesses, the largest part of them members of Dr. Norris' church, appeared before the grand jury. Other witnesses on whose testimony the indictment was returned included the ambulance driver, and city police officers and detectives. The 18 year old "mystery witness" who disappeared after the slaying and whose name has been withheld by the district attorney, was not called, although it was stated he may be a state's witness at the trial.

Guests were Addie Lee Allen, Loretta Lindsey, Mary Nell McElroy, Martha Dean Cooby, Margaret Cooby, Ethel Jean Seales, Margaretie Seales and Jeanette Barnett.

The Woman's Daily Editorial

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NEW FURNITURE—WHY NOT LIKE IT!

How often we furnish our houses with the spirit of the girl who viewed that Mack's as the gondola filled by and remarked with a sigh of relief, "Thank heaven, that's over!" We go to housekeeping, or we move, or we rebuild, or something happens that makes it necessary to turn our minds to new furniture, or more furniture, ever so often. As a usual thing we take anywhere from two days to two weeks to attend to the matter, and the thing's done. Then we take anywhere from a day to a fortnight to be sorry that we didn't give more time to the business.

The queerest part of it is that it costs the price of crown jewels to furnish even the most modest home. No, I'm not going to say "early American," and I am not going to say "period." How do I know what kind of a house you have?

Early American furniture may not suit your house any more than it would have suited the White House, which plan, I believe, has been given up in the new scheme of refurbishing. Most early American furniture suits best the simple type of country house. One associates it with honeysuckle and pink.

Even period furniture in its varying designs and divergent character must depend upon the size of your rooms, the height of your ceilings, the type of your plan. Study your house first, then plan. Buy a furniture book or two!

Impossible to get the real stuff? Almost. But there are authentic reproductions. And remember this—one fine piece is worth twenty shoddy ones. And speaking of sets—I don't know who invented sets of furniture, but anyway he is dead, and you need have no fear of hurting his feelings if your dining room chairs and table and buffet do not match, and your bed does not "go" with your bureau.

Menus for the Family

BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes with lemon, cereal, top milk, crisp broiled bacon, rye toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Carrots delicious, bread sandwiches, sugared cherries, caramel cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Sliced jellied veal loaf, baked new potatoes, creamed Swiss chard, stuffed green pepper salad, peach cobbler, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Sometimes the "kaffir" vegetables so unpopular with our families gain a pleasant greeting if served in unfamiliar guises. To this end, "carrots delicious" are suggested in the luncheon menu.

Carrots Delicious
Eight medium sized new carrots, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup carrot stock, 1/2 cup milk, yolks 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.
Wash and scrape carrots. Cut into thin slices. Peel and slice onion. Put prepared carrots and onion into saucepan, cover with boiling water and cook until tender. Add salt when carrots are half done. When tender drain, reserving 1/2 cup of the water. Melt butter, stir in flour and when blended add stock. Bring to the boiling point and add carrots and onion. Beat yolks of eggs well with milk. Stir into first mixture and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens around the vegetable. Turn into a hot vegetable dish, sprinkle with parsley and serve. ## Mesdames Spencer and Ballenger Entertain Thursday Madames Percy Spencer and C. M. Ballenger were hostesses at forty-two Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Spencer, 1625 13th Street. Summer flowers were used in profusion in decorating the attractive home of Mrs. Spencer for the morning. A basket of nasturtiums was presented the one winning high score at each table. Refreshments of green gazy sherbert and angel food cake were served. Nasturtiums were plate favors. The hostesses were assisted by Miss Mildred Bagley in serving.

Guests for the party were Madames J. L. Radloff, T. R. Pridemore, W. R. Atkins, W. C. Rylander, W. L. Baugh, Tom Stone, LaVerne Kershner, James L. Dow, R. H. Martin, C. R. Middleton, H. D. Woods, J. H. Jenkins, C. J. Wagner, J. H. Hankins, L. R. Wright, J. F. Bacon, J. R. B. Cooper, A. W. McKee, Pemberton and Miss Doris Bagesh.

Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Ballenger are entertaining at bridge Thursday afternoon.

Claims New Play

NEW YORK. — John J. Byrne, an unsung playwright of East Orange, N. J., claims that the play, "Sex," which is drawing about $15,000 a week, was plagiarized from his masterpiece and changed to make it so raw as to invite arrest. He is suing for an accounting.

He freed his bride by burning on the gas and dying.

Contempt Citation Issued In Probe Of Chicago Primary When Thomas W. Cunningham Refuses To Give Facts

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, July 29.—Flatly refusing to answer questions today before the senate campaign funds committee, Thomas W. Cunningham, of Philadelphia, was advised that he would be cited to the senate for contempt.

Cunningham testified that on April 5, 1926 he gave $25,000 to Thomas F. Watson, treasurer of the Vars organization.

"Where did you get this money?" Reed asked.
"Out of my own private funds," Cunningham replied.

At that point Ben Golder, said he had advised his client that in his judgment the committee had no jurisdiction to inquire into the Pennsylvania primary and that consequently he need not answer certain questions.

Other Inquiries Made.
Senator Reed then inquired as to the source of the $25,000 contribution.

"I refuse to answer to that question; that is a personal matter," Cunningham replied.

"Where did you keep that money?" Reed asked.
"That is another personal question which I refuse to answer."

"Did you give in cash or by check?"
"In cash."
"What is your salary as clerk of General sessions?"
"$3,000."

"Was this $25,000 savings from your salary?"
"That's another personal question which I refuse to answer."

"Is there anything wrong, or wicked or crooked about source of that money?" Reed asked.

"That's an unfair question, and I advise Mr. Cunningham to disregard it," broke in Golder.

Wrangle Is Begun.
Senator Reed and Golder got into a wrangle with the upshot that the chairman warned the attorney that if he did not maintain a respectful attitude toward the committee he would not be permitted to sit at the hearing table.

Golder protested the senator's questions were unfair.
"Did you give any other money in the campaign?" Reed asked.

"Yes," Cunningham replied. "On April 15, I gave $25,000."
Reed sought to develop the source of that money but Cunningham on advice of his counsel refused to answer. Likewise the witness refused to go into details concerning the vacation he took while the committee was sitting in Washington, investigating the Pennsylvania primary.

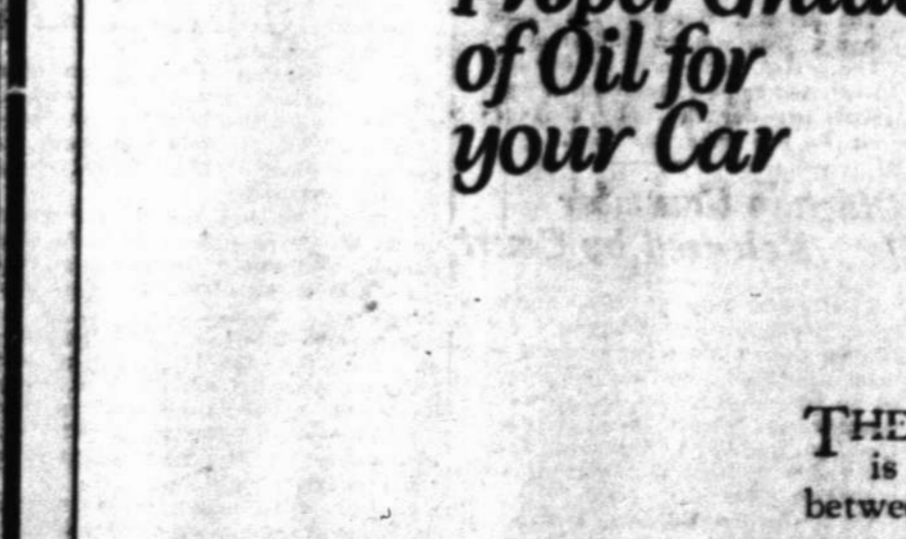

"Do you know a Mr. Powers?" asked Reed.
"Yes."
"Do you know Powers had a law partner who is head of a trust company in Philadelphia?"

Golder advised his client not to answer.
"That's getting to be sheer insolence," snapped Reed. "It could not possibly hurt this witness."

"I know, senator, but it might lead to other things."
Reed sought to develop in what bank Cunningham kept his money, but again Golder advised his client not to answer, as regard that it was a private matter.

MISS ANNA BRUCKNER, COUNTY health nurse, left this afternoon for the Liberty community, on business. Miss Bruckner was in Estacado Tuesday, where she made thirty-two home visits; and in Center yesterday, where thirty-five visits were made.

KIWANIS HEAR DUTTON AND A. P. DUGGAN AT MEET

W. T. C. C. PRESIDENT IS HEARD IN STATISTICAL ADDRESS HERE TODAY

Two interesting addresses were the order of the day at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club at noon. Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was introduced by Smiley C. Wilson, program chairman. Mr. Duggan told of the program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with special emphasis on diversified farm products.

Mr. Duggan pointed out that while there are millions of acres more in cultivation in Texas than five years ago, the percentage of tenant farmers is increasing, which is the chief trouble with the one crop system.

Texas spends $85,000,000 annually for pork products while the percentage of hogs in Texas is materially decreasing as well as are the dairy herds. There are 30 percent of Lubbock county farms occupied by tenant farmers according to Mr. Duggan who appealed for the aid of civic clubs in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce program of development.

Dr. Dehu C. VACATIONS FOR WIVES

"Wives," says a writer who evidently knows something about them, "take vacations. They should have two weeks every summer alone."

At first glance this seems to be a very good suggestion. But how is the woman who is raising a family, including a husband, going to get away for two weeks?

Provided it is financially possible, it is impossible for a woman to get away under the heading of "cruelty to husbands" that prevents a woman from leaving her husband at the mercy of dirty dishes, dusty floors and musty smelling rooms.

Working upon this theory, we questioned a lawyer. "No," he said, "we need such a law. But it isn't on the books."

This being the case, the only thing to be done for husbands whose wives fall for the vacation evil is a few suggestions along educational lines. If repeated closely they will ease the pain caused by an absent wife.

At bath towel is excellent for drying clothes.
The sugar is not in the salt bag.
To remove scratches from hardwood flooring, cover with wax.
A hat not found during the first five minutes search is stolen.

No matter how careful you are with flowers, they live only a few days.
When you don't know what else to do about the cooking, put in a couple of eggs and stir well.
An alarm clock thrown into the other room may be recovered more quickly than one tossed out the window.
A pint of bootleg will unstop the sink.
If your neighbor asks where your wife is, give her the wrong address.
Always buy your wife a round-trip ticket.

THE $,000,000 BACKWARD
There are $,000,000 retarded children in the United States. The economic waste caused by their backwardness amounts to millions of dollars. But what is more important is the terrific human loss represented there.

Poor eyes and poor light are blamed for most of this, according to Guy
A. Henry, director of the Eyesight Conservation Council of America. Neglected eyesight is largely responsible for backward pupils. The average cost of educating a school child is $64.16 a year. A conservative estimate of the proportion of retardation due to defective vision indicates a direct loss to the country of $120,000,000 annually.

That is but a small part of the total economic and human loss when future inefficiency, lowered earning power and less competent service of the individual are considered.
Twenty-five million workers have defective vision. About $30,000,000 of the annual industrial waste is charged directly to poor lighting.
Four eyesight develops when children are allowed to do close work under inadequate illumination. Eye strain brings on fatigue and inefficiency and waste of vitality, effort, time and material.
Watch the eyes and the light.

THE ICE-CARRYING TRIBE
Following the example set by Red Grange, numerous college football players are taking ice this summer in preparation for the fall gridiron campaign.
Among them is Barland Grange —brother of the illustrious Harold.
He will be watched more closely than any of his ice-carrying brethren.
While all ice-men may look alike to the casual observer, this young man is somewhat different. For it must be remembered that in him is the same blood that courses through the veins of the greatest ball carrier that ever pulled on a cleated shoe. He is of a royal family. He is somehow set apart.

There are quite a few influential people in this country whose idea of a dangerous radical is a person who thinks Mexico ought to be permitted to have something to say about the management of her own internal affairs.—Ohio State Journal.

Hal Cochran's Daily Poem

BEGINNERS
I must admit it's made a hit, and has a snappy tone, but who the deuce, long since, turned loose the bloomin' saxophone?

I'm nearly wild. My neighbor's child each evening takes a lesson.
He toots away and tries to play, and has us all a guessin'.

The notes are sour, as, hour
by hour, his practice session's hurried.
He stops on time, but it's a crime. The neighbors all are worried.

It's not because he always does the thing he shouldn't do. He blows in right, but every night, it's wrong when it comes through.
At times he'll strike a tune ya like. You thrill a bit, and then, he swings about and what comes out is something else again.

I really yearn to have him learn just one easy, all his own. With that fair trick I wouldn't kick about his saxophone.

IN NEW YORK
SEE-SAWING UP
and DOWN BROADWAY
NEW YORK, July 29.—See-sawing up and down Broadway, I wandered in on several night clubs during the brief period while the 2 o'clock "curfew law" was in effect. And many were the amusing schemes by which the resorts managed to keep open until the peep of dawn. For verily Broadway "won't" go home until morning, whatever be the official rulings.

In one place, upon the stroke of two of the doors were closed and the musicians dismissed. Whereupon a quartet of soft-playing Hawaiians moved in. Through a peep-hole in the door could be seen the face of any new arrival. If he looked suspicious he was told there was "nothing doing."

"Ah, but there are many people inside," he would suggest. Merely diners who haven't finished their food, would come the reply. But were the visitor a familiar face the door opened and he was welcomed.

Another place issued "guest cards."
These went to all the "regulars" of the night life and their friends, to be presented at the door after 2 o'clock.
And, perchance, if a suspicious person arrived the doorman would glibly explain: "Ah, my friend, Mrs. Whatusit is having a little private party for her friends. I regret—but it is strictly private. I cannot let you in."

Then there were quick arrangements with nearby cigar stands, delicatessen parlors and stores. The joy seeker would be led through the back of the store, through a dark back lot, around a pile of cans and garbage and finally up a back stair into a jazz sanctum.

Suffice it—few places closed when the curfew tolled the knell of parting day.

Nothing pleases Broadway more than the arrival of a "mysterious" new spender. Particularly if the spender is unbelongingly lavish and general in his distribution.

Just now the "inside circles" buzz with the name of a "big oil and gusher man" from Texas, whose roll must indeed be large and awe-inspiring. On two consecutive Sundays he has taken the entire chorus and cast of one of the popular supper clubs to Atlantic City for a week-end "party" and, I am told, he has stood all costs from train fare to drinks. He has chosen to

Also I hear that, whatever the decision of the recent congress of dancing masters, the step which promises eventually to take the place of the Charleston will be the "meas-around." After all Broadway's verdict has more than a little to do with popular crazes in dance, music and drama.

Those interested in the "meas-around"
have been quietly getting their "stuff" under way and Tom DeLaine, the negro blues composer, has turned out the first of the "Meas-around" compositions, to be known as the "Louisiana Meas-around" and backed by a leading publishing house.

The dance is slower in tempo than the Charleston, being done to music which is similar to the old "blues."

Two Weeks of Pleasure

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

'JIM' REED, 'SUPER-SENATOR,' HAS 'SUPER-SECRETARY'

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, July 29.—Trust an extraordinary senator as James A.
Reed of Missouri to have an extraordinary secretary.

The fact is that Hicklin Yates is far more than a mere secretary, or even super-secretary. He comes pretty close to being an assistant senator.
Indeed, there are quite a few full senators who aren't as important as Assistant Senator Yates.

Reed is very proud of his secretary, or assistant, and he has reason to be.
Yates is a unique possession and extremely valuable.

Reed has so many interests and such strengths on one, he's on so many Senate committees and sub-committees and special investigations, he makes so many speeches, he's involved in so many fights, his time is so occupied and over-occupied that there simply isn't enough of him to go around.

As the saying is, he ought to be incorporated.

Well, in effect, so he is, with himself as president, engaged in mapping out broad general policies. Yates, as vice president and general manager, is in charge of the company's actual operations.

Helpful Health Hints

By DR. HUGH S. CUMMING
Director General U. S. Public Health Survey

It has long been recognized that various emotions are accompanied by special facial expressions. It is now known that certain kinds of feeling, especially the happy kind, help the proper functioning of the organs, while others have an unfavorable action.

Consider the matter of digestion of the foods we eat—the source of our energy and power. Studies have shown that the conditions favorable to proper digestion are upset when we experience vexation, worry and anxiety, or when emotion such as anger and fear are allowed to prevail.

Best When Happiest.
The nicest balanced reactions of digestion beginning with the watering of the mouth at the sight of food, and ending when a wonderful interplay of various gland secretions and chemical digestive agents have completed the process, take place best when we live in happy surroundings.

Excitement, whose observable effects, such as paleness of the face, rapid beating of the heart, increased respiration, and the stopping of the flow of saliva, all of which are well known, may also check the secretions of the glands of the stomach and intestines for some time.

Cool Off First.
The moral is that if we have experienced an outburst of passion or strong excitement, it is well not to take nourishment until we are "calmed down" and are willing to look at things good naturally or with a courageous pose.
This applies to man, woman and child.
If this rule were followed, there would be fewer nervous disorders.

Ductless glands, or glands of internal secretion, have to do with our emotional states. Of these the adrenals, above, the kidney and certain parts of other important organs are known to be active in our experiences of different kinds of feeling.

GENTLEMEN BUTTERFLIES PREFER BLONDS
By AUSTIN H. CLARK
Smithsonian Institution.

A choice of blonds or brunets as wives is open to the males of quite a number of different butterflies.

One of our very common butterflies almost everywhere is the black and yellow swallow-tail. The males are always black and yellow, and in the north the females, too, are always black and yellow, place best when we live in happy surroundings.

But in the south there are two quite different kinds of females, one black and yellow like the males, the other sooty black with a border of small yellow spots and a blue dusting on the hind wings.

The eggs from a single one of either of these two types of females will produce both kinds.

Several of our swallow-tails are in both sexes always black; but in the south many of the black swallow-tails that you see are really black females of the black and yellow kind.

With Our Contemporaries
The killing last Saturday in Fort Worth was the result no doubt of the heat of politics and the incapacity of both in not controlling their temperature. It is a dangerous thing for one man to go to another man's office to settle matters if both are mad, and yet no public man, paper or individual has the right to say things about other parties or individuals that might cause them to want to take their lives.

COTTON ACREAGE INCREASES
Notwithstanding the appeal of various organized agencies for a reduction in cotton acreage for this year, with the added influence of a prospective low price, if another big crop is made, the Government crop report informs us that there has been a small increase in acreage.

Whether there were any results from the smaller acreage campaign cannot be measured by this standard alone, however, because it is possible that if this campaign had not been waged we might have shown a heavy increase in cotton acreage, instead of only a negligible one.

No doubt there is always the temptation to individual farmers to increase their cotton acreage in the belief that others will decrease, thus insuring a higher price.

But we shall have the ill of a one-crop system as long as we continue to raise cotton in the South to the practical exclusion of all other agricultural activities. Cotton will perhaps always be our chief crop and it need not be a poverty crop, if our farmers plant a better grade of seed that will bring in a higher yield per acre, thus making possible an acreage reduction without a corresponding decrease in yield.

The land released from cotton acreage can be devoted to other crops and to other purposes. The chief trouble with our cropping system in this country is that the proceeds from our chief money crop soon vanish in payment for feed and food which could just as easily be produced at home. A diversified program of farming will do more to improve the condition of farming than all the laws our legislatures and Congress can pass.—Vernon Record.

A REAL MENACE
It is reliably reported that milk is being sold in Gainesville from tubercular infected cows. If this be true, it is a staggering menace to life and health, and as there is no local law requiring proper inspection of dairy cattle, it seems to be up to the individual citizen to find out if the cows from which his milk supply comes have been tested for tubercular infection. The cows in our larger dairies have no doubt been so tested—it would seem almost criminal to run a dairy without such tests—but a goodly proportion of our milk supply comes from small herds and parties having only one or two cows. Every cow from which milk is to be consumed, by the family of the public, should be tested for infection.

The presence of tubercular germs in cattle is much more prevalent than the public has ever suspected and constitutes a menace that can only be mitigated by frequent and thor-

THE VANITY CASE

BY CAROLYN WELLS COPYRIGHT 1926 N.E.A.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

In Harbor Gardens Long Island, in an elaborate bungalow, lived PERRY HEATH and his wife, Myra. Myra was wealthy and not in love with her husband, but she tolerated him. Heath for his part found amusement in his flirtations with other women, and, despite his unruly shock of brown hair and his ovalish tortoise shell glasses, they found him not unattractive. At the time the story opens the Heaths were entertaining two house guests: LAWRENCE INMAN, a distant relative of Myra's and, aside from Perry, her only heir, and BUNNY MOORE, young, vivacious, golden-haired, an old friend of Myra's. Myra Heath was a peculiar woman. She was cool-headed, sarcastic. She had never used rouge or any other cosmetics in her life. She never dressed in her colors—nothing but whites or grays or other neutral tones. She had a passion for collecting rare old bottles and her latest was a whisky bottle, which she was quite proud of and which aroused her artistic husband to scorn. There is a growing intimacy between Inman and Myra Heath and between Bunny and Perry. Myra becomes provoked at Bunny's infatuation for her husband and declares that she has made her will in favor of Inman, cutting Perry off. It develops that Perry is a candidate for presidency of the Country Club and his chief opponent is a man named SAM ANDERSON. Bunny, thumbing through a portfolio of Heath's drawings, runs across a card marked "The Work of Perry Heath." That night, after Bunny and Inman retire, Myra Heath alludes mysteriously to her husband's secret. When Perry goes to bed, Inman comes down stairs, and he and Myra are in each other's arms when Perry Heath discovers them. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IV It was characteristic of Myra that she showed no surprise or embarrassment. She remained in Inman's embrace and turned her face to her husband with a light frown of irritation at the intrusion. Larry, too, was apparently undismayed, and stood his ground, as he took his cue from Myra. "Then it's now a case of the time, the place and the loved one all together," he said lightly. "Go ahead, Perry, have your say." "There's not much to say," Heath lighted a cigaret. "Just as an interested bystander, I'd like to know what you two propose to do." "That's only natural, I'm sure," Inman remarked, "what are we going to do, Myra?" "You're going to do what I tell you," cried Heath, suddenly wrathful. "You, Larry, will go to your rooms at once, pack your things and get out of here the first thing in the morning." "And if I refuse to obey?" "You won't refuse. You are at my mercy. I have caught you down here holding a clandestine meeting with my wife. I find her in your arms. I have a right to shoot you!" "Why don't you?" asked Inman, with maddening coolness. "You're not worth it!" Heath glared at him. "Not worth the powder and shot it would take to kill you. Get out, I tell you! Go upstairs, and before I am down in the morning, you are to be far away from here and never come back! Get that?" "Yes, Heath, I get that." "Go then." And Inman went, and again the husband and wife were alone together. Mrs. Prentiss always sat down to her breakfast at half-past eight o'clock. If that were true, she would have probably started an earlier hour, but Harbor Gardens people were late risers, and eight-thirty was just about the earliest one could breakfast with decency. Most of the Gardeners liked nine o'clock better, and many were later still. This summer, her nephew, one Todhunter Buck, was spending the month of June with her. And as he was a docile and good-tempered chap, whom she had loved from babyhood on, she ruled him with a rod of iron, at least regarding his breakfast appointments. So Todhunter, whose awkward ancestral name had long since been reduced to Toddy, almost always beamed at his aunt across her matutinal table. In available weather, this table was laid on the pleasant bungalow porch, which gave on the Western landscape and commanded a fairly good view of the Heath home. Being on the north horn of the crescent shaped harbor, these houses faced south. "Toddy," said Mrs. Prentiss, as she poured the coffee, "there were queer doings at the Heath house last night." "So?" said the youth, with a perfunctory showing of interest. "Jazz!" "No, they're not that sort. Oh, I forgot you don't know them, of course, you having arrived only yesterday. But there's a girl over there that you'll like." "Pretty?" Toddy sat up. "More than pretty—a vision of angelic beauty!" "Gosh, Auntie, never heard you rave before!" "And she's a nice girl, too. Oh, flapper and all that, but with some sense in her silly head. But I was telling you about last night." "No you weren't, you hadn't begun." "Well, I will, if you'll be still a minute. I couldn't sleep." "Poor old auntie, I know. It must be awful to be so wakeful." "It's terrible, Todhunter. You've no idea what it means to lie with wide open eyes and hear the clock strike the hours and half hours all through the night!" "No. Why have a striking clock?" "No, I'll know what time it is stupid. Well, last night, I was prowling about my room—I do that when I just get worn out lying in bed awake— "Yes, go on. When does the pretty girl come in?" "Not at all. Be quiet, will you? The people next door all went to bed some time before twelve o'clock." "No." "Hush, Don't be silly. And then, a little later, say, about midnight, there was a small light, a dim one, in the studio. That's the room at this end of the house." "If I, I suppose the pretty girl came down to the library to get a book. They always do that." "Well, maybe. Then after a short time, there was a big light flashed on— "Of course. The hero of the story comes down and finds girl, in bewitching negligee, with her hair down— "Will you be still! Well, then, about one o'clock the lights all went out except for two tiny sparks, that looked like two candles." "And probably were. The two big sparks being the girl and the man." "Hush, I'm serious Tod. For after that, oh—half an hour after, the big light was flashed on again, stayed on for a short time, and then went off, leaving the two little dim lights again." "Got you, Proceed." "Then after another interval, comes the big light again, and then, later, that goes out and the two little lights stay there all the rest of the night." "Till what time?" "I don't know. I stopped watching and went back to bed about three. The little lights were burning then, and when I awoke it was broad daylight." "Well, Aunt Egg, I don't think you've detailed such a very astounding sequence of events after all. Lights on and off in a house, are not of unprecedented occurrence." "No. But what were the two little lights that stayed on through all the other ups and downs of the big lights?" "Night lights, I suppose— "None! I've lived next door to the Heaths since the first of May, and they never burnt night lights before." "Always has to be a first time. But what do you want me to say? I'll agree it's amazing, alarming, terrifying— anything you wish. But I don't get it." "That's just it, Tod, I don't get it either. I think something has happened over there." "Do you separate the letters of your words when you write, Auntie?" "You ought to know. I often write to you. Why?" "Yes, I know you do. I remember now. You write half a word, and then take up your pen and put it down a bit further on, to finish it." (CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGE)

NIGHT WORSHIP NOW FEATURE OF RELIGIOUS CONTROVERSY; MEXICO AWAITS ACTION AGAINST PRIESTS

DISFRANCHISEMENT OF PRIESTS WILL COME ON SATURDAY AND LAYMEN WILL TAKE CHARGE OF CATHOLIC CHURCHES

(By the Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, July 28.—Catholic churches will be open until 10 p. m. tonight, the last of the day. The day-long hours have proved insufficient to accommodate worshippers who are crowding the churches in anticipation of the suspension on Sunday of ceremonies conducted by priests. The suspension has been ordered by the church as a protest against the government's religious regulations.

Saturday has been proclaimed a day of prayer and penitence for Mexican Catholics—although for all practical purposes every day has been such for a fortnight. It is estimated that at least 15,000 Catholics will receive communion in Mexico City Saturday, preceded by confession.

Pontifical Mass Scheduled

There will be a pontifical mass in the cathedral at noon on Saturday. The 72 years old archbishop of Mexico, the Most Rev. Mora y Del Rio, will pronounce the benediction.

It is expected that clashes will be averted Sunday by reason of the decision of the Catholic authorities to refuse to sanction any counter demonstrations to the parades of the regional confederation of labor. These parades are planned as evidence of labor's support of the government's religious policy.

Negotiations Begin

The church authorities have authorized the committees which will take over the churches when the priests depart to negotiate with the municipal authorities, who have been ordered by the government to appoint their own committees to take charge of the churches.

It was thought that if the priests negotiated directly with the municipal authorities some friction might arise and there might be some arrests of clergymen. Now it is expected trouble will be averted by committees of laymen appointed by priests doing the negotiating in each town to determine whether the lay committees or the mayor's committees shall take charge of the churches.

Churches To Remain Open

Unless entirely unforeseen conditions arise all the churches will remain open after Sunday, although no priests will function. Worshippers will be able to enter at all times.

Worshippers will congregate and read from their prayer books as though the priest was before the altar saying mass. A layman will lead the worshippers in the rosary.

Sacraments to be suspended Sunday will be communion, confession, confirmation and consecration, all of which would require the functions of a priest. But the modified masses, marriages and baptisms will be continued by laymen.

Reaffirm Ceremonies

Priests will reaffirm these ceremonies, when they resume their functions. The archbishop Rica announces that while the priests are absent from the churches a sincere act of repentance will be considered equivalent to confession necessary for death and marriage sacraments.

At the archbishop Rica it is estimated that in Mexico there are between 20,000 and 25,000 priests in the 12,000 churches. They minister to probably 10,000,000 parishioners.

Today the people continued to make their way to the cathedral and other places of worship to pray or to have their children confirmed or baptized. As on recent days, the shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe was thronged with devout worshippers.

Appeal To Mrs. Calles

A plea for a change in the government's religious policy is contained in a letter sent to Senora Calles, wife of the president of the republic, on behalf of a Catholic women's organization known as Pro Patria.

The letter appeals to Senora Calles, who is a staunch Catholic, to plead with her husband for this purpose. Pro Patria appoints her a defender of our cause.

The government is continuing its investigation of the National League for the defense of religious liberty, some officers of which have been arrested on charges that the league's economic boycott manifesto incited the people to disorder. The government officials say the league's files reveal that an appeal was made to the American Knights of Columbus for assistance in opposing the religious regulations in Mexico.

Courts Question Priests

The Mexico City district courts are questioning priests recently cited for failure to register with the municipal authorities, as they had been ordered to do. Four priests were dismissed by the authorities yesterday, and it seems certain that all those cited also will be let go on the execution that they did not register because they considered the archbishop Rica the proper source for the information that the municipal authorities desired.

The regional confederation of labor has asked permission from the war and navy department to conduct lectures and conferences at all barracks among soldiers and sailors for the purpose of presenting "the true picture of the religious situation."

The federation announces that it will not permit the proposed economic boycott of the league in defense of religious liberty to cause any federation worker to lose his job or to have his wages cut.

The federation's statement says such a boycott would create a serious situation and calls for the dismissal of many workers.

A party of 20 Americans headed by Alva W. Taylor, national executive of the social service commission of the church of the disciples, and including eleven protestant ministers, has arrived here to study the situation.

Can He Do It?

Federal Judge Louis H. Burns, who has been hearing cases at New Orleans, has been transferred to New York for the summer and his friends are eager to see if he will wage war on the bootleggers there as intensely as he did in New Orleans. He is believed to hold a record on the federal bench for the conviction of liquor sellers, and young first offenders are the only ones with whom he ever is lenient.

FREAK WEATHER STATISTICS BIG HOBBY OF LANDIS

FORT WORTH, July 28. (AP)—Compiling freak weather statistics is one of the several hobbies of D. S. Landis, forecaster-philosopher, who on August 6 will round out a quarter century of service with the United States weather bureau, practically all of which has been in Fort Worth. For instance, he computes that since his arrival computer rain has fallen over Tarrant county to float a ship drawing 65 feet of water.

Landis, whose initials stand for Dennis Steche and not Dry Satire as his friends insist, has been some noteworthy extremes in weather here, almost justifying the legends of changeability which has traveled northward since the days of the conquistadores.

Within a few hours he has seen the temperature drop 25 degrees. It went down from 85 to 30 degrees on November 11, 1911, which gives a color of authority to the tale about the Texan who lost two oxen the same day—one by suffocation at 11 a. m. and the other by freezing at 3 p. m. In all he has seen an extreme temperature range of 128 degrees—from 112 above to 16 below.

"That's official," he explained with a smile, and goes on to add that he has seen the wind blow a straight gale of 78 miles an hour in spurts and of 68 miles an hour for five minutes straight. He has seen practically as much rain, 17.84 inches, fall in the month of April, 1922, as fell in the whole year of 1918, which recorded only 17.97 inches. The wettest year he has witnessed was in 1914, when 46.64 inches was recorded.

Landis entered the forecasting business on August 6, 1901, at Phoenix, Arizona, coming here Dec. 24, 1902. He has seen, since the former date, a son born, grow up, receive his appointment as assistant in the observatory, outgrow that job and move on to another department of federal service.

In his more than 25,000 days of service, Landis has composed at the rate of two-thirds of one a day, 6,000 epigrams, many hundreds of which have been published, some of them nationally. His meditations in his aerie have also given him material for some curious scientific and pseudo-scientific articles which have brought him considerable recognition.

But his philosophy is far from abstract, Landis insists, and explains that in 25 years of giving out reports over the telephone he has never drawn an ugly word, no matter how dissatisfied the "customer" was. "That's a practical application," he declares. He knows more voices over the telephone than he does faces on the streets.

Landis is almost 64 years old and is the picture of health. He sees no reason why he should retire at 70 and expects to take advantage of the 10-year extension Uncle Sam allows when a medical examination shows fitness.

VANITY CASE

Carolyn Wells

"Well, what of it?"

"Only that it means that the writer has intuition to a marked degree. So my adored Aunt, I believe your assumption is right, and something did happen next door, last night. Your intuition is doubtless correct. What do you suppose the happening was?"

"Today, you are a trial. I never know whether you're interested in what I'm saying, or just poking fun at me."

"Both, dear. That is, I'm interested in the pretty girl. Tell me more about her."

"Oh, she has yellow hair and blue eyes and a skin like peaches and cream. She's a friend of Mrs. Heath's, and I think she has bewitched Mr. Heath. She would bewitch any man not totally blind!"

"You like her, Aunt?"

"Yes, she's a dear girl. Sort of home-like and gentle-mannered with older people. She's younger than the Heaths, then?"

"Yes, Bessie is twenty-two. The Heaths are both over thirty."

"So for the Bessie! Why the kitchen name?"

"Her name is Bessie. But she's always called Bessie."

"Oh, well, it's just as lief call her that as anything. When can I see her?"

"Today, probably. They'll all be at the Grethams' this afternoon, and we'll be there, too."

"All right, but I'll hang about outside this morning, and hope to catch a glimpse of the unversal sal charmer."

"You'd have finished his breakfast, lighted a cigar, as he glanced over the Heath house."

"But he saw no sign of the occupants nor even any servants about, opening doors or windows."

"And then, just as aunt and nephew rose from the table, there came to their ears a loud scream from the house next door."

GINNERS READY FOR 1926 MEET

Abilene Will Be Mecca For a Large Number of Cotton Men This Week-end

(Special To The Journal)

ABILENE, July 28.—One of the largest gatherings of industrial manufacturers ever held in Abilene is anticipated in the annual convention of the West Texas Ginner's association to be held here Friday and Saturday of next week, July 30-31. Attendance would run into the hundreds while the association convenes at the West Texas Fair park in the first session the morning of the 30th.

Insurance rates, improved methods and general conditions are scheduled as the subjects of major importance for the discussions of Friday the 30th, the day of the more formal part of the convention. The second day will be taken up with purchasing of machinery from salesmen, who will be in the city for the convention.

The program for the two days follows:

July 30—Morning.

Meeting called to order by president at 10 a. m.

Invocation.

Welcome address by Mayor C. E. Coombes.

Response, Jack Moss, Clisco.

President's annual address, W. Homer Shanks.

Fire insurance rates and elimination of hazards, Hon. Dabney White, Tyler.

Benefits of state and district organizations, Hon. W. M. Seelingson, former state president, Goliad.

Noon.

The coming of the ginner to the Plains of West Texas, Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of Murray, college.

Afternoon.

My views on an ideal gin as to machinery, territory and employes, Fred T. Sanders, Haskell.

Some bad business among West Texas ginner, Hon. J. S. Yeager, former state president, Putnam.

Compensation insurance and how to reduce it, Dr. E. B. Blalock, former state president, Marshall.

Recent accomplishments of your state association, Hon. C. B. Hunt, secretary state ginner's association, Dallas.

Five minute talks as to general conditions by all.

July 31.

This day will be given over to purchasing from machinery subgroups of new machinery and repairs, etc. There will be a representative from all leading Texas machinery houses present during the convention and ginner's can meet them all at Abilene.

Officers and committees for the meeting are named as follows:

W. Homer Shanks, president; Robert W. Maxwell, vice president; Roy S. Curtis, secretary.

Executive committee: R. W. Maxwell, Abilene, chairman; John Reed, Sylvester; J. E. Smith, Stamford; Sid Ross, Odessa; H. W. Lyles, Winters; H. E. Smith, Abilene; U. B. Newmon, Sweetwater.

The legislative committee: C. Koenig, Winters; J. W. Williams, Big Spring; J. E. Johnson, Spur; Ed Day, Ballinger; Fred Sanders, Haskell; Or Coffman, Govee; Roy S. Curtis, Abilene.

FIRE BOYS HAVE THEIR VACATION

Nothing Much Doing But Two Weeks of Rest May Be Terminated Soon

Abilene quiet around the fire-hall, according to Chief Twitty, whose bunch of flame-eaters haven't had an alarm since July 17th, nearly two weeks.

Seven alarms have been turned in during this month, of which four have been fires, with the others false alarms. Concerning the latter, Chief Twitty said that under close investigation, it was found that boys and girls were responsible for the turning in of the alarms, and these youthful offenders of the law are definitely known, with the places that the alarms were turned in from. It was a significant fact, he said, that all of the addresses given for the fires were at quite a distance from the station, and not far off the pavement.

Police Department Watchfully Waiting

Traffic violators in the city are watching their step rather closely, as only four speeders have been hauled before the desk sergeant this week. However, there have been some violators of other nature, so the police department is keeping busy withal.

The man who coined the expression "glorious war" never fought in one—Warren Tribune.

The 29 leading theatres of New York city are said to average $450,000 a week at the box office, and most of it is for glorifying the effrontery of the female of the species.—Lafayette Journal and Courier.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 29. (AP)—The cotton market was somewhat irregular early today. It opened steady, one point lower to one higher, and after displaying temporary strength, due to rumors of an impending bullish crop by one of the leading local and southern houses, during which prices rose six to eight points above the previous close, reacted sharply.

Selling by local interest based on the clear, warm weather in the southwest, and less apprehension over the tropical storm, weakened the market 12 to 16 points under the top, October falling to 17.75 and January to 23.90, representing three to seven points net loss, by the end of the first hour. Later the market became firm, reflecting fears of more rain in the southwest and reports of heavy precipitation in parts of Georgia. Prices had advanced 8 to 9 points from the lows by noon, or 1 to 3 points above the previous close.

It continued very steady in the early afternoon being helped by reports from the cotton gods district to the effect that new business was in progress at firm prices. Around 2 o'clock the market was within a few points of top for the day. Jkts.—Second Add Chicago Grain. What slowed strong, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 net higher, corn to 1/2c up. Oats, unchanged, to 1/2c off, and provisions varying from 25c decline to 10c advance.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 29. (AP)—The cotton market opened quiet but steady today with Liverpool worse than due and first trades showing no change to 3 points decline. Prices eased off right after the start, however, October trading down to 17.64 and December to 17.50 or 7 to 9 points under yesterday's close. The market soon rallied, October advancing to 17.90 and December to 17.84. At the end of the first hour the market was steady and 2 to 3 points under the high. Mkts.—First Add New Orleans Cotton. The market improved during the morning owing to the heavy and general rains reported in the Atlantic coast states as a result of the storm. Active months made new highs at 17.45 for October and 17.84 for December. Around mid-session the market was steady and within a few points of the highs. The market ruled quiet steady after mid-session and in the early afternoon prices made new highs on a wave of buying and covering which carried October up to 17.87 and December to 17.78. There appeared to be no new developments behind the rally and after the buying had run its course prices eased off six to 7 points from the highs. Exports for the day totalled 5,637 bales.

Grain Markets

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Wheat made quick early upturn in price today, as a result of unexpected firmness of Liverpool quotations, less favorable weather conditions in Canada, and much reduced estimates of the probable Canadian yield. Opening 3/4 to 1c higher, the wheat market here reacted somewhat, but soon scored material fresh gains. Corn was firm, oats easy, and provisions inclined to sag, corn starting unchanged to 7-8 higher, and rising all around.

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Assertions that spring wheat yield in the Canadian northwest will be 100,000,000 bushels less than last year have a decided lift to wheat values today. Lack of rainfall in Canada tended also to strengthen wheat prices here, and so likewise did an unexpected upturn in Liverpool quotations. Besides, the cash trading basis for wheat at the Gulf of Mexico showed half a cent a bushel advance.

CASH REPORT

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Cash: wheat No. 2 hard $1.44 1/2@1.46; No. 2 mixed $1.44. Corn No. 2 mixed 56c; No. 2 yellow 57 1/2@58 1/2. No. 2 white 43@45 1/2; No. 3 white 43@44 1/2.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, July 29. (AP)—Wheat, No. 2 hard $1.35@1.43; No. 2 red $1.38@1.40. Corn, No. 2 white 84 1/2@87; No. 2 yellow 85 1/2@88 1/2; No. 2 mixed 85@87. Oats, No. 2 white 42@44; No. 3 white, 42 1/2@43.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Potatoes receipts 97 cars; total U. S. shipments 581, on track 290; trading fair, market steady on sacks, stronger on barrels; Kansas and Missouri sacked cobbles 1.75@1.90; Virginia barrel cobbles 4.25@4.50.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Butter steady; receipts 10,081 tubs; creamery extras 28 1/4c, standards 28 1/2c, extra firsts 27c@27 1/2, firsts 25 1/2@26, seconds 23c@24. Eggs higher; receipts 11,256 cases; firsts 27c@28, ordinary firsts 25 1/2c@26.

Stocks And Money

WALL STREET REPORT NEW YORK, July 29. (AP)—Bullish demonstrations were continued with increased vigor at the opening of the stock market today in response to reports of heavy mid-summer business and expanding earnings. General Motors again was the feature of the initial dealings, mounting 3 points to a new high record around 13.2, while numerous gains of 1 to 4 points included U. S. Steel, East Iron Pipe, Loose-Wiles Biscuit, and Gonzoletum.

With speculative enthusiasm fanned by the spectacular advances in General Motors and other leaders to which the upward movement gathered momentum in the subsequent dealings, U. S. Steel sold within a point of the year's top price and most of the independents made correspondingly good showings, reflecting the summer prosperity of the industry. Motors, already fortified by a satisfactory half year, began to anticipate increased sales through the introduction of new model

Galli-Curci Swayed by the Seer of Sweden

Prima Donna Gives Wonderful Interpretation of the Writings of Emanuel Swedenborg—

HENRY FORD'S Dearborn Independent publishes a remarkable article on Galli-Curci and Emanuel Swedenborg, by Clarence W. Barron of the Wall Street Journal.

Then answer to yourself the number of years that ought to be required to master these thirty-two volumes. More than Any Other Books.

Mr. Barron, still credulous, continued his correspondence with Madame Galli-Curci for some months. He learned that soon after she lost her dear mother she had sought the Writings of Swedenborg in a desire to know more about the other world.

Mr. Barron is chairman of the Rotch Trustee, who acting under the will of Lydia S. Rotch of New Bedford, Mass., began in 1872 a modern translation of the Theological Works which Emanuel Swedenborg wrote and published in the Latin tongue, and deposited in the libraries of the world 150 years ago.

Mr. Barron says: "My astonishment was intensified. Familiar over many years with Swedenborg's general theological writings, I had set out to read the entire thirty-two volumes preparatory to an advertising campaign for the sale of this edition.

Mr. Barron continues: "As an economist writing state papers on weights, measures, coinages and currencies, Swedenborg is easily comprehended. As an engineer transporting ships overseas he is easily visualized. As a government official in the great mining industry of Sweden, writing practical books on mining and smelting, declared to be the foundation of modern metallurgy, he is of interest in the encyclopedia of scientific history.

Then answer to yourself the number of years that ought to be required to master these thirty-two volumes. More than Any Other Books.

Mr. Barron, still credulous, continued his correspondence with Madame Galli-Curci for some months. He learned that soon after she lost her dear mother she had sought the Writings of Swedenborg in a desire to know more about the other world.

Mr. Barron is chairman of the Rotch Trustee, who acting under the will of Lydia S. Rotch of New Bedford, Mass., began in 1872 a modern translation of the Theological Works which Emanuel Swedenborg wrote and published in the Latin tongue, and deposited in the libraries of the world 150 years ago.

Mr. Barron says: "My astonishment was intensified. Familiar over many years with Swedenborg's general theological writings, I had set out to read the entire thirty-two volumes preparatory to an advertising campaign for the sale of this edition.

the heels of the pastor's statement the last night that he had employed as counsel, which followed by a few hours the announcement from Dr. Norris' office over the signature of Marvin B. Simpson, that the latter had been retained to represent the minister. No reason was given for the change in plans.

Chippa was shot three times Saturday, July 17, when he went to Dr. Norris' office to protest, the pastor's statement to the district attorney said against attacks on Mayor H. C. Meacham made by Dr. Norris from his pulpit and in The Searchlight, organ of the church. Chippa died in an ambulance without making a statement.

Dr. Norris was arrested and taken to the district attorney's office, where he was released on $10,000 bond signed largely by members of his congregation, after making a statement in which he pleaded self defense.

Since then several statements have been issued by the pastor's public relations director, J. J. Mickie, in several of which the existence of a religious conspiracy against the life of Dr. Norris was charged.

Forty minutes after return of the indictment was announced, Marvin B. Simpson, issued a new statement in the presence of Dr. Norris which he said represented the one he issued last night announcing that he had been retained in the case. This statement was practically identical with the one of last night except that instead of asking the public to withhold judgment, it stated that the public "has already overwhelmingly rendered its verdict of acquittal and exoneration."

Meacham is Called FORT WORTH, July 29.—Mayor H. C. Meacham, friend of D. E. Chippa slain on July 17 by Rev. Dr. J. Frank Norris, was called as a witness this morning by the grand jury investigating the slaying. Dr. Norris' statement to the district attorney said Chippa came to his office to protest against attacks on the mayor.

In a statement made following the slaying of Chippa, Mayor Meacham stated that the former had visited him in his office about an hour and a half before he was slain, but that he had been there on business unconnected with Dr. Norris and had given no indication that he intended to call on the minister.

Norris Charge Bared The attacks on Mayor Meacham were made in connection with a street extension project in which some land was to be purchased from Saint Ignace Academy, a parochial school. Dr. Norris charged that the mayor wanted to open a way to his department store and that he was seeking to pay an exorbitant sum for the property to be purchased.

Meacham's 32 Volumes Read in a Single Summer "Now I understand," she said, and asked me for explanation of other things. Her intelligent questions, as well as her statements, left no manner of doubt that Galli-Curci had performed the stupendous feat of reading the thirty-two volumes of Swedenborg in a single summer season.

A Help in Her Work Galli-Curci understands the writings of Swedenborg even better than theologians, because she puts them into practice in the broadest life of loving helpfulness.

All Fear Vanishes "The more you do—the more you give forth—the more life and energy is poured into you, and you are stronger and not weaker for the doing, the working and the singing. I always feel stronger; I am not exhausted at all by my singing. Swedenborg shows the reason and how life comes in as you pour it forth usefully to others. You don't have to try or worry or fret; You know it is not you but that it is just being done through you."

Speaking further of the help Swedenborg had been to her in her work she said: "One gets so much more confidence. The other world and the due life, that comprehends all life, becomes reality and all fear and worry vanish."

TROPICAL STORM DOUBLE KILLING KEEPS UP HEAVY ASSAULT ON U. S. IS RESURRECTED

MIAMI, Fla., July 29.—The havoc wrought by the tropical hurricane at Bilimi was described in the Miami News in an interview on the arrival here of the storm battered yacht Zuleta II. Her commanders Captain G. F. Grey and Captain R. M. Hutchins, stated that practically all structures on the island were demolished.

Hurricane Drives On SAVANNAH, Ga., July 29.—High seas and wind of increasing intensity along the Georgia coast early today presaged the advent of the tropical hurricane, which, thundering up the Florida east coast since Monday, has left damage and destruction to shipping, property, communication lines and crops which may run into millions of dollars.

Heavy Seas Pound Islands Heavy seas rolling in on the highest tides of several years, pounded at the sea islands along the lower Georgia and upper Florida coast line. At Brunswick, Ga., a wind velocity of forty miles an hour, accompanied by driving rain, was reported.

Sudden squalls and torrential rains deluged Savannah with five inches of rain last night. The encampment of the 12th Georgia infantry was moved from Tybee Island at Fort Screven when rain flooded the island encampment.

Florida today took toll of the destruction caused by the three day ravages of the hurricane.

Palm Beach Hard Hit Greatest property damages were reported at Palm Beach and West Palm Beach, where shipping, buildings and a bridge across Lake Worth were wrecked, with an estimated loss of more than $1,600,000. Approximately forty small yachts and house boats were reported wrecked when a pier at a fashionable yacht club gave way before the pounding waves. Hotels and resorts were flooded.

A radio message at St. Augustine reported rescue of the Italian steamer Ansaldo San Giorgio Secundo, which was taken in tow by the steamer West Marlow, and is proceeding to Jacksonville. Despite a disabled rudder, the Ansaldo rode out the storm since early Monday. Twenty-four men were aboard the ship, in addition to the captain and three passengers.

General Butler entered a hospital in San Diego to have "knee" work done on his left knee. "Maybe it wouldn't be a bad idea to have his tongue operated on"—Wilmington Every evening.

Shed Acquaintances declared that Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills contemplated sleeping to Japan, indications were they had been in embrace when shot. Authorities investigated one theory that they had been killed by a jealous woman.

This theory was strengthened upon examination of the bodies when it was found that Mrs. Mills' throat had been cut. She had been shot three times in contrast with one shot for the clergyman, and her face had been scratched. It was recalled that his eyes had not been closed, while Mrs. Mills had not.

Attention is Diverted Attention was diverted by the arrest of Clifford Hayes, 19, who was accused by Raymond Schneider of having shot them in mistake for Pearl Palmer, 14, and her step-father. A fund was raised for the defense of Hayes, a war veteran. Schneider later retracted his charge and in December, 1922, was sentenced to two years in the reformatory for perjury.

Mrs. Jane Gibson, a farmer's wife, said she had seen Mrs. Hall and a man quarrel with Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills on the night of the murder and that she saw the slaying. Mrs. A. C. Frinley, a widow living with her daughter in a nearby farm house, corroborated parts of Mrs. Gibson's story.

No Action Taken Mrs. Hall demanded that the grand jury hear her story. Her brother, Henry Stevens, named as the man with her, claimed an alibi. The grand jury examined fifty witnesses and, despite the stories of Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Frinley, took no action.

Bishop Paul Matthews, of the Episcopal church, of New Jersey, protested against "crucially unjust insinuations against Mrs. Hall." The widow was given a $600 annuity from the Episcopal pension fund.

Mrs. Hall sailed for Europe in February, 1923, and returned more than a year later.

Another Arrest Made. SOMERVILLE, N. J., July 29.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, owner of a pig farm near the scene of the Hall-Mills murder four years ago, was taken into custody this afternoon by State Trooper McManus for questioning. She figured prominently in the investigation at the time of the murder.
