WEST TEXAS PECAN ASSOCIATION MEMBERS HOLD MEETING HERE

All Fish Hatcheries In This County Now Open to Fishermen

All fish hatchery reservation on public streams in Kimble County are now open for fishermen, according to Frank Cowser, Game Warden of this district. Mr. Cowser stated that fishermen should remember that March and April are closed months for the taking of Bass and Crappie (White Perch) from streams in Texas. Also March and April are months in which a closed season is enforced on the use of artificial baits and lures. This includes flies and downjacks.

It is not known how long this order will be in effect which keeps these waters open to fishermen. Some of the best fishing places on the Llano are included in the fish hatchery reservations and this announcement is received by fishermen favorably.

The Llano Rivers are known all over the United States because of the excellent fishing grounds. People from all over Texas will be pouring into Junction soon for the summer vacations and the fishing which these streams offer is one of the main incentives to the tourists. The game wardens are striving to keep the streams supplied, and also protect the fish in order that everyone will have a chance at some of the "big ones."

Lecture on Cancer Is Given Tonight

Dr. E. D. Crutchfield, chairman of the State Medical Association committee for control of Cancer and state chairman of the National Society for control of cancer, will speak in the Methodist Church auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock, according to Dr. Liburn E. Standifer.

He subject of the address will be the control of Cancer. Dr. Crutchfield will speak before the Rotary Club at the luncheon hour at noon today. He is being presented to the public of Junction through the efforts of the Rotary Club and the Parent-Teachers' Association.

There will be no admission charged at this lecture tonight. Everyone is urged to attend this lecture.

Alarm is increasing in medical circles because of the continued increase of the cancer in America. There has been, however, much knowledge gained about the disease during these years of study and research, and Dr. Crutchfield will bring to you the fruits of these years of investigation and study of this most fatal disease, the Cancer.

Pecan Pruning Demonstrated By Willman

The quarterly committee meeting of the West Texas Pecan Association was held in the court house auditorium at Junction last Saturday. The meeting lasted throughout the day, and many visitors from Coleman County, Brown County and other points were present.

The meeting was called to order at 11 o'clock by Mr. A. J. Bierschwald, presiding officer. Brother N. H. Skaggs delivered the invocation. Following the invocation, the presiding officer called upon Judge J. B. Randolph to deliver the welcome address. During Judge Randolph's address he welcomed the visitors to Junction and extended the hospitality to them which only West Texans are capable of extending. While speaking Judge Randolph stated that 12 years ago when he was holding the office of County Judge, the Commissioner's Court set out six pecan trees on the court house lawn, five of which are living and producing today. He also spoke of the progressive nature of Junction and its work in road building. Kimble County has spent $400,000 on road building in the last ten years, and has one of the best road systems in West Texas.

Following the welcome address, Mr. G. W. Lucas, of Brownwood, made the response to the address. He emphasized the feeling of comradeship among the growers of pecans in West Texas.

A speech entitled "Co-operative Marketing of Pecans," which was to have been delivered by Mr. Roseborough of Texas A. & M. was canceled because Mr. Roseborough was unable to attend.

Mr. Lucas was then called upon to speak on the question of marketing pecans. This problem was analyzed by Mr. Lucas and narrowed to the problem of a co-operative marketing organization, and the advertisement of West Texas pecans on a national scale. He also emphasized the necessity of protecting the local growers from foreign shipments of pecans. He advocated a high protective tariff to secure this end.

Mr. Albert Rieck spoke next on the problem of marketing pecans. His idea was to get the people to eat more pecans. He also stressed the importance of advertising to the world the pecan.

After this speech the meeting was adjourned by the chairman in order that the members might obtain lunch.

More than fifty people attended the morning session. The afternoon session was called to order by Chairman Bierschwald at 1:30 o'clock. The first speaker of the afternoon was Carleton Wright, of Junction, who talked on the subject of "Where Pecans Are Grown." He made a good talk and gave much valuable information concerning the habitat of pecans, and stressed the point that Kimble County produced some of the best pecans in the state.

J. T. Stovall, of Brownwood, gave a few pointers on the question of the "Need of a Strong Pecan Association in Texas." W. C. Herpel, a banker from San Antonio, demonstrated how the banker can help the pecan growers. Then F. J. Willman, of Austin, spoke on native pecan groves and how to care for them.

The machinery is guaranteed against defects in material or workmanship for a period of six months from date of delivery and the A. B. George Machinery Company of Dallas, Texas, will during that time replace any defective parts free of charge f. o. b. factory. The parts claimed to be defective are to be returned prepaid to the factory where made, for inspection and if found defective the charge made will be remitted or cancelled.

At the order of the Court the foregoing proposal of the A. B. George Machinery Company of Dallas, Texas, was approved and accepted.

During the past ten years Kimble County has spent $400,000 on the improvement of the highways throughout the county.

Some years ago our county had a reputation for bad roads, and now we have one of the best road systems of any county in the state considering the population per square mile in the county. Only recently the Commissioners' Court had painted signs which marked the county line on every important thoroughfare in the county. Also signs were painted which warn motorists about certain dangerous places on the highways of the county. This work which the commissioners are doing for the improvement and up-keep of the roads in Kimble County is producing tangible results. The machinery just purchased will be used in the improvement and up-keep of roads in this county.

D. J. Wyatt, Stockman, Dies at Ranch Home

Mr. D. J. (Joe) Wyatt, 65, banker and stockman, died of pneumonia at his ranch home on miles south of Sonora, Wednesday a week ago. The burial was at Sonora.

Celebration of O. S. T. Formal Opening Will Be Held in April

After thirteen years of work and effort, the Old Spanish Trail Highway has been opened across the continent and its dedication to American tourists will be celebrated in St. Augustine, Florida, April 2, 3 and 4. A monument has been erected marking the beginning of the highway at St. Augustine, and this city is reviving the Ponce de Leon Celebration of old Spanish pageantry as a part of the festival to proclaim the great construction project through the lands of the Spanish padres and conquistadores from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Sixty miles of ferriage was on the O. S. T. twenty-six months ago, and today two short ferries remain and they operate day and night. Two-thirds of the trail from Florida to San Antonio has been paved and the remainder is financed and in progress.

Junction is located on this great highway and has done its part in aiding its construction. The roads in Kimble County on the O. S. T. to the east have all been tarred, and work is in progress to get the part west of town paved. This highway is a great aid to Junction because it provides a good nationally known highway for tourists to use.

Mrs. E. R. Borden Donates Books To Library

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Junction met in the regular monthly session at the high school auditorium Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. Mrs. W. P. Riley, president of the association, called the meeting to order at 4:15. The song sheets of the National Congress of parents and teachers were distributed, and the audience sang America, the Beautiful, with Mrs. C. W. McCarroll at the piano.

Approximately twenty-five members were present at the meet. Mrs. Riley urged the members to be more active, and see that a larger number of parents attend the meetings. After the opening song, Mrs. Riley turned the meeting over to Mrs. E. R. Borden who was chairman of the program committee. After reading some verses from Proverbs, Mrs. Borden called upon the Rev. Milton F. Hill to lead the audience in prayer.

This program was given in honor of Founders Day and child welfare. This year marks the thirty-second anniversary of the foundation of the Parent-Teachers' Association. Alice McClellan Guernsey of Georgia founded the P. T. A. in 1897. In 1896 a call was given for a meeting to be held in 1897 in Washington at which meeting this organization was founded. In 1900 it was incorporated as the National Congress of Mothers, and in 1924 it was changed to the National Congress of parents and teachers.

A reading entitled "The Child" was presented by Miss Grace Hill. Following this reading, Miss Stella Bissett read an article named "Glimpses of Washington's Childhood Days." After this reading, Warren Livingston played two violin solos accompanied at the piano by Mrs. McCarroll.

The Rev. M. F. Hill delivered an address entitled "Child problems of our Community." He stated that child problems are fundamental problems of the community. This question enters into every question of the community. "If an enterprise is helpful to child life it is helpful to the community; if an enterprise is harmful to child welfare, it is harmful to the community," continued Brother Hill. He said that the future of the community is determined by the emphasis placed on child life in the community. He added that resources do not make a town or country great, but the people who live there are those who make it great or otherwise. Commenting further, Brother Hill said that Junction owed the children of the community a good public library where they could obtain good helpful books to read. He said that every town and city has a library and that it is one of the finest things which a town may boast of.

At the conclusion of this speech the meeting was turned back over to Mrs. Riley. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss Mary Willis, acting secretary. Mrs. Roy Blackburn gave the treasurer's report after the reading of the minutes.

Mrs. E. R. Borden made the announcement that she would donate seven books to the high school library. The association also voted to spend fifty dollars for purchasing new books for the library. A committee was appointed with authority to pur-

BILL REORGANIZES GAME SECTION LAW

Senate Bill No. 83 for reorganization of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Department, abolishing the office of State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner with six members to be appointed by the governor from different sections of the state, their terms to be overlapping, became a law last Friday without Governor Moody's signature. Under the provision of the measure it is not to become effective until September 1, 1929.

The bill was delivered to the governor on February 2 and the 10-day period allowed for executive consideration expired at midnight Thursday. The governor elected to allow the bill to become law without his signature and it automatically became a statute immediately after last midnight.

The bill was originally introduced in the senate provided for a committee of three members. The House increased the commission to six members and the Senate concurred in the amendment.

Reorganization of the Game, Fish and Oyster Department was sought for the purpose of making the department more effective with the view of increasing fish and game life in the state. The bill provided for the general reorganization is patterned after the Pennsylvania statute, and is similar to statutes now in effect in approximately 20 states of the Union.

The commission is to have the power, authority and duties which have been vested in the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner. The terms of the commissioners shall be six years. The chairman and each member of the commission shall execute a bond of $5,000. The commission will hold quarterly meetings in January, April, July and October of each year, and the commission is authorized to make such rules and regulations for the conduct of its work.

Provision is made for the appointment by the commission for an executive secretary and an assistant executive secretary. The executive secretary to be the active head of the department.

The bill as passed fixed no salaries for the commissioners, executive secretary or assistant executive secretary. These are to be fixed in the appropriation for expenses of the department. The original bill allowed the commissioners as compensation for their services a per diem of $10 each when acting on official business for the state, together with actual expenses in the performance of their duties. It also fixed the salary of the executive secretary at $5,000 per annum, and $4,000 for the assistant executive secretary. These provisions, however, were cut out of the bill by House amendments.

The executive secretary is authorized to appoint heads of divisions and game and fish wardens and other employees as in his discretion he may deem necessary to carry out and enforce the laws. The executive secretary and the assistant executive secretary are required to give $10,000 bond, the premiums on the bonds to be paid out of the special game fund.

BILL TO LESSEN HASTY NUPTIALS SIGNED BY MOODY

Austin. — Gov. Moody placed his signature on the bill by Senator Julian C. Hyer of Fort Worth, requiring a notice of three days prior to issuance of marriage licenses.

The law will become effective 90 days after the present Legislature adjourns.

The original bill required notice of 10 days, but the House cut it to three days.

Proponents of the new law claimed it would eliminate "hasty marriages" and relieve the courts of many resultant divorce suits.

REDUCTION IN ELECTRIC RATES

Lower rates for electricity for domestic and commercial purposes have been made voluntarily by the West Texas Utilities Company. The cost per kilowatt-hour has been reduced and the number of kilowatt-hours in each block before the next lower rate applies has been lessened. Based on the number of rooms in residences the new rate gives the small householder the same advantages of a lowering scale, as consumption increases, that larger users enjoy. The new rate enables consumers to make economical use of the many convenient and labor saving electric appliances.

The New Rate for Residences

14 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the first four kilowatt-hours used per room per month.

9 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the next four kilowatt-hours used per room per month.

6 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for all energy used in excess of the above amount.

Minimum monthly bill $1.50 per meter

Determination of Number of Rooms

The room count is based upon the ordinary real estate rating, and in making the count, alcoves, unfurnished attics, bathrooms, cellars, hallways, laundries, closets, pantries, open porches, garages, barns and outbuildings will not be included. Premises with less than three rooms, real estate rating, will be classed as 3-room premises; those with more than seven rooms will be rated as 7-room premises. THE NUMBER OF OUTLETS AND APPLIANCES USED DO NOT AFFECT THE RATE.

TABLE SHOWING THE NEW NET RATE AND NUMBER OF KILOWATT-HOURS IN EACH STEP

Size of Residence	First Step 14 cents per kilowatt-hour For First	Second Step 9 cents per kilowatt-hour For Next	Third Step The new SIX CENT rate
3 Rooms or less	12 kilowatt-hours	12 kilowatt-hours	For All kilowatt-hours used each month over total of first and second steps, per kilowatt-hour
4 Rooms	16 kilowatt-hours	16 kilowatt-hours
5 Rooms	20 kilowatt-hours	20 kilowatt-hours
6 Rooms	24 kilowatt-hours	24 kilowatt-hours
7 Rooms or more	28 kilowatt-hours	28 kilowatt-hours

6c

You will note how few kilowatt-hours per month need be used before you reach the new low SIX CENT price

Commercial Rate

14 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the first 30 hours of maximum demand.

10 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the next 60 hours use of maximum demand.

5 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for all energy used in excess of the above amounts.

The new rate makes liberal use of electricity for all purposes in commercial establishments inexpensive. Minimum monthly bill $1.50 per meter.

Further explanation of the rates will be given gladly upon request.

These rates effective in Junction on the 15th day of December, 1928.

ALL ELSE HAD FAILED; SARGON BROUGHT BACK HEALTH, SAYS BENNETT

"Sargon restored my health at a time when I thought nothing would help me," recently stated Frank Bennett, of 905 Mason St., Fort Worth. His full statement follows:

"My troubles started two years ago when I commenced to suffer with indigestion. I lost my appetite and what little I ate caused me lots of misery. I suffered with gas pains around my heart, and could taste my food for hours. I seldom got a good night's sleep and was so nervous at times that I would shake all over. I felt tired, run down and worn out even before the day was half over. My liver was out of order, I was bilious and my vitality was very low. I took lots of medicines and treatments with no lasting benefit.

"Then I tried Sargon, and I knew almost at once that I had found the right medicine at last. My appetite returned and my strength and energy began to come back with the first bottle. Now, I sleep fine, eat anything I want and everything agrees with me. I am always hungry and enjoy my meals. My nerves are steady as a die, my headaches are gone and I feel like a man made all over again. I have gained nine pounds and just want to be on the go all the time."

"Sargon has built me back up so that I am stronger, and feel better than I have felt in years. I am a well man now, and the Sargon treatment is responsible for it."

Sargon may be obtained in Junction from J. A. Heyman. (Advertisement)

The last part of the program which was to have been an actual demonstration of Pruning and Top Work by E. V. Cook of Coleman, was carried out by J. E. Willman, of Austin. The P. T. A. is still working for the best interests of the local school system. Many of the improvements about the school are due directly to the work of this organization.

Many were grieved to read
of the death of Mrs. G. W.
Hardesty, who died at the family residence Sunday morning a week ago. She had been a resident of this community for many years.

With the passing of Benjamin C. Drago, of London, one of the brightest satellites among the pioneers of Texas smould-ered and died out. This man was one of the real pioneers who saw real action. His name will remain stamped on the memory of Texans long after his death.

The Girl's Basket ball team
of the Junction High School closed the season Friday a week ago. The girls played eight games and won all of them by large scores. It was a perfect record they made and one which will be hard to maintain. Such accomplishments as this, cause the community to receive favorable comment by surrounding towns.

A group of 11,500 goats will be filmed when they are transported across the Pecos River into the Big Bend country. These goats will be driven into the Big Bend country from the Edwards Plateau where they will be taken for grazing. Such enterprises will soon show the world that the sheep and goat industry in Texas is much greater than the average person believes it is. Ranchers from all over the country will attend
this event.

New business houses are opening up in Junction continually. Two new cafes are about to open, and the Ramsey Variety Store is preparing to open soon. As long as new business firms continue to come to Junction, it's a sure sign that we are growing.

Happiness that you make for other people, usually makes you happy too.

The Kimble County Chamber of Commerce has recently financed the project of securing a large electrically lighted sign board just a few miles out of San Antonio on the O. S. T.
Highway towards Junction. This sign will give much publicity to Junction and no doubt bring some summer tourists to the best little city in the Hill Country. One of the best assets to any town is a live Chamber of Commerce that accomplishes something, and we have one here.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A GOOD TOWN?

What does it take to make a good town? That has been a question ever since American life began to drift to urban centers; it has been discussed over the back fence in every little town in America; it has been argued by every chamber of commerce in every city; and it has been expounded through the magnificent polemics of every preacher who holds a pastorate in the small community. But till the question has not been answered to the full satisfaction to some people. You who do not know what constitutes a good town, read this:

Humans are erratic beings by nature; they are queer, peculiar,
and they are always doing things and then wonder why they did them. But collectively they are well meaning, especially the inhabitants of the small towns of this country. If they were not well meaning they would go to the cities where vice is waiting with outstretched arms for them. In a small town one has to look for places of vice; they do not look for him.

But the first requisite of a good town is an urbane citizenry, a people who are friendly, lovable, God-fearing, and a kindly people; a people who are interested in the successes and failures of their neighbors. Not a people who are entirely critical and merciless, not a people who pick out the flaws in everything that a neighbor does,
but a people who are willing to live with the idea that at least in a small town the principle of democracy is a healthy criterion to follow.

Good homes, good schools,
good churches, and good business houses in addition to good streets and clean premises make a town good as far as the physical aspect is concerned. But the most architecturally perfechomes, schools, churches, and the smoothest thoroughfares cannot make a good town if the hearts of the people who use these things are not right.

When the poorest woodcutter can meet the richest citizen of the town on the main street and exchange warm fraternal greetings in view of a hundred onlookers; when the pastor of a church in the little city is seen talking with the business men, and when little children can walk unmolested on any street in the city, then the town is approaching the ideal.

A town with a breadth of view that builds for the future,
is a town worth living in.
The rural dweller nor the city dweller has any conception of the joy and peace which the small town inhabitant enjoys.
It is an existence to itself. The small town resident enjoys nearly all the advantages offered by the big city and nearly all the comforts and privileges of the rural district. It's a great life, this living in the small town.
Somehow it grows in the blood and few who were bred in the small town ever leave it permanently. They will drift away to the city or elsewhere, but always just as the robin comes in the spring, they will return to the small town of their youth. The small town is just another of America's niceties.

The sacred principles and ideals of the small town should be maintained, and will be maintained for the future.
And furthermore, if the small town has a good newspaper, it's still a better town, because the community paper comes next to the home in influencing the lives of the people. Many of those "who made good" received their inspiration from reading the old home-town paper. More scrap books have been filled with clippings from community newspapers than you can imagine. Turning through the old family Bible there will be a musty clipping from the home paper which bore the account of the birth of "a fine boy;"
then another clipping will give account of the marriage of a "certain boy and girl," and finally there will be a black-edged clipping which will recount the "passing to a more glorious home" the soul of a certain man who was still a "boy" to his mother. And these brief sketches penned by a hard working editor of the community paper, are the only written history of that "boy" who gave to his mother so much joy and pain.

Yes, the small town is the place where honest men and women live and sacrifice their lives for others, rear children,

GENERAL SAM HOUSTON

Saturday is Sam Houston Day
in Texas. On March 2, 1793, Sam Houston was born near Lexington, Virginia. After his father's death the family emigrated to Tennessee, and the boy later went to live among the Cherokee Indians, where he was adopted by Chief Oolooteka
as his own son. In 1811 Sam returned to his family, and two years later he enlisted in the army. He served under General Jackson and in 1817 aided in the negotiations with the Cherokees.

Finally he returned to Nashville, Tennessee, where he studied law and soon opened a law
office at Lebanon, Tennessee.
He served in Congress from 1823 to 1827 and was then elected governor. After three months he resigned the governorship and returned to his friends, the Cherokees. There cause was later represented by him in Washington where he drew upon himself national recognition again.

In 1832 he went to Texas
and soon became the leader of the Texas colonists. He was a member of the convention in April, 1833, which attempted to form a constitution for the state. After the Mexican trouble continued until war was declared, Houston was made commander in chief of the Texan forces. With an undisciplined band of soldiers he conducted the military movements which led to the defeat of Santa Anna in the famous battle of San Jacinto, April 21-22, 1836. This victory brought the independence of Texas and in September Houston was elected president. He served three years and was the chief force in bringing about the admission of Texas to the Union in 1845.
He sat in the U. S. Senate for twelve years and in 1859 was elected governor of Texas. At the outbreak of the Civil War,
he retired to Huntsville, Texas,
where he died two years later.

JUNCTION MEN ATTEND
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
MEETING AT LONDON

The C. of C. at London held a very enthusiastic meeting at Tuesday night, February 26, at which the ladies of the P. T. A. served a banquet. Those attending from Junction were:
Messrs. W. P. Riley, president of Junction State Bank, C. T.
Holekamp, president of the Kimble County C. of C., Frank Patterson, sheriff, and H. W. Bierschwale, secretary of the Kimble County C. of C.

Some of the projects that are being sponsored by the London
Chamber of Commerce were discussed at this meeting, among which was the organization of a bank to be located at London.
This goes to prove that the people of London are real enterprising business people and are beginning to realize the possibilities that London has, and are putting forth every effort to bring into prominence the good features of London and its surrounding territory.

Secretary Bierschwale talked to Mr. Bryant, who is interested in the development of oil in the London territory, and he seems to think that there is every indication of oil. There will be several oil tests made in the near future, it is reported.

The visitors from Junction wish to express their appreciation of the courteous treatment and the sumptuous banquet that was served and to say that the London ladies certainly know how to put on a feed.

A GOOD RESOLUTION

My city is where my home is; where my business or job is located; where my vote is cast; where my children are educated; where my neighbors dwell and where my life is chiefly lived. It is the home spot for me and mine.

My city has a right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I must support it. My city wants my citizenship—not my partisanship; my friendship—not dissension; my sympathy—not antagonism; my intelligent support—not thoughtless indifference.

My city supplies me with law and order, trade, friends, education, recreation and all rights of a freeborn American.

I should believe in my city and work for it.

And I will.

CONSULT YOUR BANKER

Your banker may not have progressive ideas concerning same phases of agriculture. Some of them haven't because they have been trained to be conservative to the nth degree. But, there is one thing you can generally rely upon, and that is good advice when it comes to making investments in industrial stocks and bonds.

Not long ago a Texas lady came into possession of quite a fortune in gilt-edged securities. Dividends came with regularity. Some crooked bond dealers heard of her good fortune and cultivated her acquaintance. After establishing themselves as good friends, they induced her to trade her securities for other securities which they promised would pay twice as much. She later found that her alleged friends had moved to other parts and that she was out her fortune. Had she consulted any banker she would have learned that the securities offered her were worthless.

The crooks always read the mortuary columns. Widows are their victims. After a few days have elapsed and she had time to collect the insurance on her husband, they descend upon her with flattering offers of investment. They are smooth-tongued artists. Many of them just stay within the letter of the law and keep out of jail, but they are succeeding in swindling widows out of millions of dollars annually. A telephone message or a personal visit to some good banker would save them from an investment mistake. Why take risks when good advice from reliable business men can be had for the asking?—Farm and Ranch.

PASTURE POINTERS

Here are some pertinent points for permanent-pasture mixtures. First, choose only grasses and legumes adapted to the soil and climate. Some of the grasses should be long-lived perennials, so that the pasture will not deteriorate too fast after the first year. Some turf-forming grasses are desirable; they keep out weeds and make a firm footing for livestock. Grasses with a large number of basal leaves are preferable; leaves are more nutritious and palatable than stems. When possible, include some grasses that will germinate quickly and make a heavy growth the first year. Always include legumes; they furnish protein and minerals and preserve the nitrogen in the soil. Plan the pasture mixture so as to make the grazing season as long as possible. Finally, a varied mixture will provide variety in the ration.

Texas produced 8.6 per cent of the total value of all crops produced in the United States in 1928, showing an increase of $45,389,000.

The value of Texas cotton for 1928 was placed at $450,625,000.

Sanitation

One of the greatest factors in the successful raising of baby chicks is sanitation. Too many people overlook the importance of this. Before any chicks are put in a brooder house, or any other place, it should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. It is a good idea to start two weeks before the chicks come off, giving the house and brooder a good cleaning first and then a good disinfecting and another good disinfecting two or three days before the chicks are to be placed in the house. By thorough cleaning, we mean exactly that and no half hearted job. Use any good disinfectant you can buy locally. The house and brooder should be spotlessly clean before start disinfecting. The drinking vessels should be washed, cleaned and scalded daily. While the chicks are small, say the first week, it may not be necessary to clean the entire house, we recommend cleaning out from beneath the hover each morning and replacing dirty litter with clean material. Do not use moldy or musty litter. After the first week or ten days the entire house should be cleaned daily and disinfected once a week or oftener. Damp litter is exceptionally harmful to chicks. Dampness around drinking vessels encourages such diseases as coccidiosis. We doubt wisdom of using disinfectant in drinking water, because it may cause them to use less drinking water which is very injurious.

Litter For Chicks

The kind of litter to use depends some on the kind of brooder you are using. If oil burning brooders are used, it is wise to use sand, around burner to an extent of 3 or 4 feet all the way around the burner beneath the hover. This will be some protection from fire. Any clean hay, not too coarse, may be used in balance of house. Cheap prairie hay, clean cut straw all are satisfactory. We repeat, guard using moldy litter. Dusty litter or sand is not desirable. The first two days after you place chicks in house make sure they do not eat any of the litter.

First Feeding

It has been said not to feed chicks until they are 72 hours old; we prefer to amend that by saying from 48 to 72 hours. If chicks are raised in storage brooders they should be fed when 48 hours old. Chicks should not be fed too soon, but starving them too long and forcing them to eat litter and other indigestible material is even worse. Eggs set on Monday, three weeks the following Tuesday should be all hatched. They may be fed Wednesday afternoon. If you hatch your own chicks or get them from a local hatchery, keep them in regular chick shipping boxes, in a room with a temperature of 60 to 70 degrees, until they are 48 to 60 hours old and ready for the first feed and water. If chicks are shipped to you, in most cases you may feed and water them as soon as you receive them.

SIXTY-ONE FAILURES REPORTED IN JANUARY

Austin.—Commercial failures in Texas during January numbered 61, or the fewest for a January since 1920, when 29 bankruptcies were reported, according to Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"These figures compare with 54 failures in December and 66 in January, 1928," Mr. Nichols said. "Normally, January is the high month of the year, so that a large gain from December to January is expected. The increase this year was but seven, whereas there was a gain of 24 last year and of 20 two years ago between the two months. From the standpoint of numbers, therefore, the showing is very encouraging. On the other hand, the liability showing is not so favorable. Liabilities of the 61 failures amounted to $1,181,000 against $1,571,000 for the 66 defaulting companies in January last year. Liabilities of the average failure are running about $20,000. This is about in line with the trend over the past few months."

MOTHER KILLS SIX CHILDREN AND SELF

New York.—A 35-year-old mother tucked her six children into bed for a morning nap and then, when they were all asleep, she turned on every gas jet in the apartment, including those in the stove.

Jose Pazos returned to his West Street apartment on the Hudson River front at noon to find all the children dead in bed and his wife lying dead on the kitchen floor. The children ranged in age from 1 to 13 years.

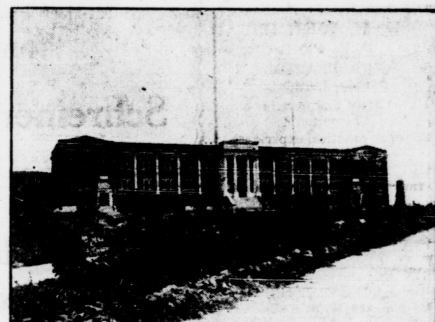

Doctors said that the children had evidently died in their sleep and from this fact police reconstructed the case as best they could. They believed that the mother, having made up her mind to wipe out the whole family but Pazos, had told the older children to stay home from school and then on some pretext or other had put them all to bed for a nap.

A curious individual, desirous of finding out just how interesting the average visitor in museums is in the objects which are on exhibit, took a stopwatch and timed them in the Pennsylvania Museum, Philadelphia. His report is that the average "art-lover" tarried just three seconds before a painting or a piece of sculpture.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES SERVES PIPE LINE

Abilene.—Contract for the electrification of a new pipe line running from McCamey oil fields to Houston was signed with the Dutch Shell Pipe Line Company by the West Texas Utilities Company, it was announced from the general offices of the Utilities here.

The Dutch Shell will double the capacity of its pumping stations at McCamey and Iraan and operate three additional stations, one near the World Pool, another a few miles northwest of Eldorado and a third north of Junction. Each pumping station will be equipped with one or two electric pumps of 600 horsepower.

The new line will have a capacity of more than 40,000 barrels daily and will extend a distance of about 500 miles. Work already has begun on the laying of the new line and work of installing the stations will be carried on as rapidly as possible with a view of having all ready for operation when the last foot of pipe line will have been laid.

There will be no eclipse either of the sun or moon visible in Texas in 1929.

The total volume of water flowing into the Gulf from Texas streams is approximately 26,913,000 acre-feet a year.

TOO BUSY TO BARK

The man was trying to sell his dog. "You see," he said, "I bought him and trained him myself. I taught him to bark if a person stepped inside the gate, and I thought I was safe from burglars. Then my son wanted me to train him to carry bundles, and I did."

"If I put a package in his mouth the dog would keep it there until someone took it away. Well, one night I woke up and heard some movements in the next room. I got up and grabbed my revolver. Two men were there—and the dog."

"Didn't he bark?" interrupted the man.

"Never a bark; he was too busy."

"Busy? What was he doing?"

"Carrying a lantern for the burglars."

Premier Hereford Sale

Horned and Polled Bulls

35 to 50 HEAD

At Premier Ranch, Mason County, Texas

Arrange your plans and attend this sale, for you will find here one of the most valuable offerings of bulls that will be sold during the Spring of 1929.

The consignment consists of bulls of serviceable ages, ranging in age from more than 14 months to two-year-olds past, on sale date.

These animals are sired by bulls of proven merit, and their dams are select matrons from a cow herd that is excelled by few. Many of these youngsters qualify as superior herd bull prospects, while all are the kind and type that will work improvement wherever used.

These bulls are particularly valuable, not only because they are individually good and are the product of matings of animals of outstanding qualities, carrying the blood of noted ancestors, but also because they have been developed under natural conditions. They have been raised on pasture and may be turned loose on your ranges without fear of having them deteriorate when placed on good range.

These bulls have fair development; they have been raised to rough it, and know how to rustle and take care of themselves. Will be presented in good range condition.

Ten Commandments of Agriculture

1. Prepare a deep and thoroughly pulverized seed bed, well drained; break in the fall to a depth of 8, 10 or 12 inches, according to the soil, with implements that will not bring too much of the subsoil to the surface. (The foregoing should be reached gradually, if the field is broken with an ordinary turning plow. If a disc plow is used, it is safe to break to the above depths at once).
2. Use seed of the best variety, intelligently selected and carefully stored.
3. In cultivated crops give the rows and the plants in the rows a space suited to the plant, the soil, and the climate.
4. Use intensive cropping during the growing period of the crops.
5. Secure a high content of humus in the soil by the use of legumes, barnyard manure, farm refuse, and commercial fertilizers.
6. Carry out a systematic crop rotation with winter cover crops on Southern farms.
7. Accomplish more work in a day by using more horsepower and better implements.
8. Increase the farm stock to the extent of utilizing all the waste products and idle lands of the farm.
9. Produce all the food required for the men and animals on the farm.
10. Keep an account of each farm product in order to know from which the gain or loss arises.

POULTRY COLUMN

(By F. W. Kammner)

Feeding Baby Chicks

There is no question, but that the best way of feeding baby chicks is to purchase some good grade of baby chick feed and then follow the instructions coming with the particular feed you are using. Baby chicks do not eat very much, hence the cost need not be an objection. The average good grade commercial baby chick feed is much better than any home mixture you can prepare. Baby chicks need a well balanced ration and one easily digested. The average home mixture, as a balanced ration is 100% guess work, and only too often anything but easily digested. Would you expect a baby to eat food grown people eat? Why then expect baby chicks to do that and live? Just a little common sense in this respect, will do much to keep thousands of chicks from dying before they are 3 weeks old. A good baby chick feed must contain all the ingredients necessary to maintain body health and growth. Crooked breast bones in chicks and turkeys often are caused by faulty feed, in that the ration is not properly balanced. Chicks that are stunted at that time, even for only a short period, will never overcome the handicap. Chicks grow very fast, hence a balanced ration is of great importance. Pure drinking water in clean vessels and a fresh baby chick starter, properly balanced will do wonders in promoting the growth of the chicks.

Green Feed

We recommend giving growing chicks, once a day all the fine cut, tender, juicy, fresh green food they will eat. They should be given some green food after they are ten days old. Chopped green lettuce, green cabbage, green oats, bur clover, bermuda grass, barley, sudan, all are desirable. Anything green, tender and succulent will do. A little planning ahead will make it possible to have this green feed for the chicks.

Water and Milk

Chicks of course must have plenty of water to drink at all times. A chick will suffer sooner for a lack of water than for a lack of feed. There should be plenty of drinking vessels so they will not have to crowd around them. Never let them go dry. More than one-half of the chick's body is nothing but water. Water is cheap, so why not provide it in abundance and in such a way they cannot get into it, to soil it and get wet and chilled. The water should be provided in special containers suitable for chicks and made for this purpose. We are talking about clean drinking water for the chicks, and replacing often enough to be kept clean. If you have milk of most any kind, be sure and give it to the growing chicks instead of the hogs or dogs. There is nothing better than milk for growing chicks. It is best to give the milk sour. Buttermilk also is very good.

Feed Requirements

It is sometimes desirable to know about the amount of feed consumed by chicks up to a certain age so that feed may be purchased in the proper quantities. It will take about 1 1/2 lbs. starter or baby chick mash and 1/2 lb. grains to feed a chick up to 6 weeks old. It will take an additional 8 lbs. to bring the chicks to maturity.

"WEARY RIVER"

The Aztec Theatre of San Antonio is showing the debut of Richard Barthelmess in Vitaphone sound, talking and singing pictures starting Thursday, February 28, and running continuously for nine days. "Weary River" is the title of this entire into the "talkies" by the popular Dick.

The story of "Weary River" is one that is typical with Barthelmess photoplays. It far surpasses his efforts in "The Noose" and in "The Patent Leather Kid." The critics in moviedom have pronounced the picture as the greatest effort that Dick Barthelmess ever put forth.

In this Vitaphone release we have the opportunity of hearing the Barthelmess rich baritone voice, raised in golden notes singing "Weary River" and the talented Dick plays his own accompaniment. Supported by Betty Compson and a superb cast of distinguished players "Weary River" goes down in picture history as an epoch of this or any other year.

Our Cows Retain Old World Habits

It is generally known that our leading types of dairy cows are European immigrants whose ancestors were brought over to America anywhere from one to three centuries back. But it is an interesting and not so well-known fact that these breeds today thrive best when kept where the climate and general conditions are similar to those of their ancestral homes.

Holsteins, having originated in Holland, still are regarded as best adapted to a flat country of rich pastures, where the summer are not too hot. They most easily uphold their reputations as quantity producers of milk under these conditions.

The Jerseys and Guernseys, originated on those misty islands in the English Channel from which they take their names, developed as a small but hardy breed which produces less milk but decidedly more butterfat than the Holsteins.

The Ayrshire, from Southern Scotland, is adapted to hilly ranges and can stand comparatively cold weather because of its well-padded, beefy build, but is distressed by extreme heat.

The Brown Swiss, one of the oldest types, but uncommon in America, comes from the lake country of Switzerland, where its ancestors through centuries learned to stand a wide range of temperature. Their milk, with that of the Ayrshire, averages about 4 per cent butterfat, the standard of present-day dairy tests.

Upper Galilee must be a wonderful place for an artist. "Surely no corner of the earth has such colors, such mountains, such contrasts of scenery, such charming villages and towns," writes Anna S. R. in The Courier.

ON CLEANING HARNESS

A thorough overhauling, cleaning and oiling of the harness once or twice a year will prolong its life. Take the harness apart so that all parts can be overhauled, and soak it for a quarter of an hour in lukewarm water in which some mild soap has been dissolved. Scrub and rinse it well. When nearly dry, rub edge blacking on the leather where needed, clean the metal parts, and make necessary repairs. Oiling the leather should be done while damp, using neat's-foot oil, castor oil, or a prepared harness oil. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says that a very good mixture for heavy harness is neat's-foot oil mixed with tallow to make a paste of about the consistency of slightly warmed butter. Rub the oil well into the leather and let it dry slowly away from fire or sun. When the oil has dried, rub the straps with a lather of white castile soap or a good harness soap, to remove any surplus grease.

Spending in excess of $2,000,000,000 for gasoline in 1923, motorists also contributed more than $280,000,000 to the county's highway building funds through the gasoline tax, conservative estimates show. This gas tax money was largely used for constructing first class highways which, happily, reduced car operating costs by an amount greater than the entire gas tax outlay.

Full approval of railroad plans to consolidate virtually the entire express business of the country in the hands of a single corporation, the Railway Express Agency, Inc., was given last week by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

NOTICE

We, the undersigned Trustees of the Schreiner High School, at Junction, Texas, desire to notify all persons interested in the success of our school to aid and assist Mrs. Roy Williams, who has been appointed by us to take the scholastic census for the next school term. It is very necessary that all children between the ages of seven and seventeen be enumerated. This notice is given in order that you may know that it is your duty under the law to see that no child is left off the rolls, and especially those under your care and custody.

All working men consolidating effort, we hope to increase our scholastic census above any year in the past. We have living in our school district quite a few strangers and it is well for those of you who know them to inform the enumerator of their whereabouts.

People who are living in our school district that happen to have children away from home, temporarily attending school or otherwise, should bear in mind that it is their duty to enumerate these children where the family resides.

Our school is growing by leaps and bounds, much faster than ever before, and a very great effort is being made by your school officials to finance the school without a raise in taxes, so those of you who are so bitterly opposed to a greater school tax should help us increase our scholastic census, as every child will bring to us about $16.00.

Our experience has taught us that it is very hard to enumerate every child in the district.

In conclusion we wish to place

LONDON LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Horn of Fredonia was visiting at the home of Mr. Horn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Horn, and his brother, Howard Horn, and family last week.

The receipts of the entertainment given by Mrs. Brown Thursday night of last week was very satisfactory. Over $40.00 was taken in, and all who attended speak in praise of the performance.

Mr. Harden, a life insurance man of Corpus Christi was working London territory last week.

Mrs. Johnnie Garner, Dist. Deputy of the Woodman Circle, worked in and around London last week. Mrs. Garner expressed satisfaction with the results of her efforts, leaving Sunday for Mertzon.

The oil fever is raging here now. If you don't want to catch it you had better not come in too close contact with it because it is sure enough contagious. Even the women have been attacked by it, and when the women of London become interested in any matter things move because they believe in putting things over; therefore we feel sure we will be able in the very near future to announce something definite in regard to a drilling campaign.

One section of the Shell Pipeline crew passed through town Friday, moving to a new camp about 8 miles southeast from London. There were 8 trucks and several cars.

Mason ball team defeated our school team the 22nd. We always hate for our girls or boys to suffer defeat in anything they undertake, and always rejoice with them when they win a victory even in a ball game.

The observance of Washington's Birthday by our school was well attended by the patrons. Judge J. B. Randolph and others made talks which were encouraging and helpful. All who have expressed themselves in our presence declare an enjoyable time was spent.

A large crowd attended the play given by Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Price Friday night. A gay good time was the way they describe it.

The London Chapter of the Eastern Star and the Masonic Lodge jointly celebrated the birthday of George Washington on the 23rd by a general get-together program. Refreshments were served. Weaver H. Baker was the speaker of the evening and well indeed did he perform. All present enjoyed that speech. No orator could have said more and said it better in the few minutes taken than did he. The occasion was enjoyed by all present and many said we must arrange for another gathering of the kind in the future.

Harvey Pearl of Yates was in town Monday. Mr. Pearl informed us that he had sold his farm south of the river. The price paid being $40.00 per acre. Mr. Pearl sold a bargain because this was a good place. He sold to a gentleman by the name of Bowman. Mr. Bowman no doubt considers the place worth the money. If you want a home in the beautiful Llano Valley you had better get it now. Year by year this land will advance in price because it will continue to be in demand. Remember this, a few years hence $75.00 per acre will be cheap for just such land as Mr. Pearl sold to Mr. Bowman, and that will be just the beginning of the advance in this valley farm land. You had better buy you a home now. I have no land to sell, but wish I was in position to buy.

AFTERNOON CARD CLUB

A pleasant occasion was the bridge given Thursday afternoon by Mesdames E. G. Hill and Aubrey Hill, complimenting the Ladies' Afternoon Card Club, the Merry Wives Club and a coterie of friends, at the Hodges Hotel.

The patriotic motif, suggestive of George Washington's birthday was carried out in the decorations and party appointments. A miniature cherry tree laden with cherries adorned the buffet, while a "vixen" prohibition hat was placed in the tree.

Mrs. Arthur Thompson won the Lat-A-Lot prize while the Ladies Afternoon Club prize went to Mrs. C. T. Holekamp. Exquisite little colonial bells were awarded both ladies. A pretty colonial puff box went to Mrs. Irvin Jarvis for high score and a similar trophy was presented to Mrs. Joe Watson for cut prize. Miss Ruth Beasley was consoled with a bag of cherries.

Chicken salad wafers, potato chips, olives, tea and white cake decorated with cherries were served at the close of the afternoon to Mesdames Arthur Thompson, Clifford Hamer, A. L. Mudge, S. O.
