New Home Calls Election Election On School Bonds

New Home School District has ordered a bond election for Saturday, January 26, for a proposed $375,000 total for the purpose of erecting a new high school building, purchase of site, and repairs to other buildings and equipment.

Supt. J. L. Miller says the present buildings are "stuffed full" and there are only about 30 transient students at this time. He says the board has been studying the situation for several months, and they see no answer except for added classroom space.

A new elementary school building and a homelike cottage were built a few years ago, and a new high school building a few years before that, but enrollment has increased to such an extent that the school has had to remodel the old elementary building and all available rooms in this structure pressed into service.

Actually, in the bond election, voters will pass on two propositions.

The first would empower the New Home Consolidated Independent School District to levy an annual ad valorem tax at a rate not to exceed $1.50 on each one hundred dollars in valuation of taxable property.

The second proposition deals with the issuance of $375,000 in bonds for building, repair, etc., to be issued and to bear interest at rates not to exceed five percent from 1964 through 1968.

No one but resident qualified voters who own taxable property in the district and who have rendered the same for taxation are eligible to vote in the bond election.

Members of the New Home board are: E. M. Hudd, president; Robbie L. Gill, secretary; N. B. Hancock, George Sealy, Roy Blank, Edwin Nettles, and Frank Loomis.

Claude Coleman Rites Saturday

Claude C. Coleman, 56, a resident of Wilson area most of his life, died Thursday at 5:25 p. m. in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock, where he had been a patient since December 21.

He had been in ill health for some time, was taken to the hospital before Christmas for treatment, and suffered two strokes after entering the institution.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 2:00 p. m. in the Wilson Baptist Church auditorium with Rev. W. O. Rucker, pastor of Wilson Methodist Church, officiating. Assisting in the services were Rev. H. F. Scott, Baptist pastor, and Rev. Bill Kent, Crosbyton Methodist pastor.

Local Boy Caught Making Obscene Telephone Calls

New monitoring telephone equipment is now available to trace origin of calls made by people making anonymous calls and using vile and obscene language, according to local officers. General Telephone Co. is giving its full cooperation in such efforts.

Monday night, a local youth, age 14, previously charged in a probation from the court to his parents, was caught again in the act of making such a call to a high school girl. A hearing on revoking his parole will be heard in County Court today.

The youth is suspected of having made calls to other girls and ladies.

New monitoring and tracing devices now available and in use by General Telephone Co. can help officers in apprehending almost any person making similar offensive telephone calls, which are a violation of the law.

Citizens of Lynn county are being urged by every means possible to take the Type III Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine on Sunday, Jan. 27, from 1:00 until 5:00 p. m. in the Tahoka and O'Donnell school cafeterias.

Farmers are especially asked to see that all Latin American employees and families are informed of the program and that they have transportation to the clinics being held on that day.

This is the third and final dose of the oral polio vaccine that will be given in Lynn county, the first being administered in August and the second on Dec. 2, 1962.

Those who have missed either or both of the first two doses should go ahead and take the Type III vaccine, doctors state, and make up missed doses at other clinics being held in surrounding towns or from their personal physicians followed at six weeks interval between doses.

At O'Donnell, physicians have been obtained to conduct the clinic at the school cafeteria even (Cont'd. on Back Page)

ALTA HALE

School Girl Tells Some Advantages Of Home Trading

Among those receiving honorable mention in the essay contest sponsored by C. Edmund Finney, photographer, and the Lynn County News on the subject "The Value of Trading at Home" is eight-year old Tommy Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hale, Jr. Following is her essay:

My name is Tommy Hale. I like to trade in Tahoka because I like the people who wait on me, and I also know them.

And I like the nice clean stores. They have nice clean bathrooms. They have good shoes, and I also like their clothes. I like their toys because they are not as high here as in other towns. They bring you what you want in drug stores.

And they also have nice grocery stores, too. They also have good cakes and coffee. I like their sandwiches and chili too at the drug stores.

I like Finney's cat, too because she is so playful. I guess I just like Tahoka. They have everything nice here.

Firemen Work In Zero Weather

Tahoka volunteer firemen answered four fire calls last week end during the zero weather, all four to rural fires.

The first was to New Lynn at about 2:00 a. m. Sunday, when 16 bales of ginned cotton were badly damaged or destroyed when they caught fire while loaded on a truck at Rowland gin.

Saturday afternoon, the department was called to New Hope, where some boxes and lumber caught fire while some one was trying to thaw out frozen pipes at the Bill Balch warehouse. New Hope fire fighters had exhausted the last of 20 fire extinguishers just as a Tahoka fire truck arrived.

Sunday morning at about 2:00 a. m., the Tahoka firemen were called to Gordon gin, where six bales of cotton burned. On arrival, Tahoka's pump had frozen, but fortunately, both Slaton and Post fire departments had been called to the scene and the fire was extinguished by them.

Biggest loss of the week was Monday morning at Producer's Co-op gin at Grassland, where the firemen were called to help extinguish about 50 bales of burning cotton.

Tahoka has ordered a small auxiliary fire truck to augment the two big trucks and this new truck will be more suitable for rural runs. Fire fighting equipment is being installed on the truck at Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Jackson's Rites Thursday

Mrs. O. J. (Clyde) Jackson, 56, formerly of Tahoka, died at 5:30 a. m. Tuesday in a Pasadena, Texas, hospital. She was a resident of La Porte and had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church in Tahoka at 2:00 p. m. Thursday conducted by her grandson, Rev. Boyce Evans of Abernathy, and Rev. James Efrid, pastor. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Born Feb. 10, 1876, in Fulton, Kentucky, Mrs. Jackson was married to the late O. J. Jackson 67 years ago at Jewett, Texas. They came to Lynn county in 1924 from Stamford and farmed, later operating businesses in Tahoka. Mr. Jackson died 10 years ago. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. C. B. Evans of Levelland, Mrs. S. J. Cannon of Abilene, Mrs. Ed Hamilton of Tahoka, and Mrs. Calvin Compton of LaPorte; three sons, R. S. of Boulder, Colo., A. A. of LaPorte, and R. L. of Houston; 14 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren.

Grandsons were pallbearers.

Assistant County Agent Is Coming

Valton Hoffman, a January graduate in agricultural education from Texas A. & M. College, will begin work here next Wednesday as a junior assistant county agent in the Extension Service training program, announces County Agent Bill Griffin.

Hoffman is married, both he and wife are from Ballinger, and they have one child, a son age 15 months.

D. C. Davis, 58, who has been seriously ill in Tahoka Hospital, has been showing much improvement the past several days, and has been able to be up some of the time.

Lynn county ginnings were close to a total of 151,000 bales Thursday morning, according to reports collected by The News, and there were approximately 1,900 bales of unginned cotton on the gin yards.

This year's ginnings which may reach close to 160,000 bales are far above all estimates made earlier, most of which estimates at the start of the season were from 120,000 to 130,000 bales.

However, the late crop turned out much better than expected over most of Lynn county, except in the Grassland area and other Eastern county areas, where the crop was exceptionally late. Even now, however, Grassland ginnings are turning out better than some predicted a few weeks ago.

Thus, Lynn county has come up with another $30-million crop, more than $20 million from the cotton crop. Grain men estimate average milo production at 1,200 pounds per acre, below normal.

Ginnings report that machine pulling is just about over, and possibly less than 10,000 bales remain to be ginned in the county.

The News contacted most of the gins by telephone Thursday morning. Close figures on ginnings in the O'Donnell area were furnished by the Index-Press and by farmers on the ginnings at one Wilson gin and the gins at Gordon and Hackberry.

Tahoka had ginned 26,096 bales up to Thursday, and there were about 520 bales of unginned cotton on the yards.

Grassland's two gins had processed 6,650 bales, with another 820 on the yards, and some cotton remaining in the fields.

O'Donnell had ginned approximately 33,000 bales, Wells 7,500, and Newmoore 4,500.

Draw reported 4,062 with possibly 100 bales yet to gin.

Gordon, Hackberry, and New Lynn had an estimated total of about 8,500 bales with some yet to be ginned in all three communities. About half of the Hackberry crop is from Garza county but lacks a lot of leveling off with losses to Pleasant Valley, Southland, and Slaton.

Wilson, exact reports on only two of the three gins, showed a total of about 15,800 bales, plus 6,310 at Wayside.

New Home had ginned a total of 18,462 and Lakeview 5,300 bales. Petty had ginned 6,257 and had about 250 bales of unginned cotton on the yard.

West Point reported 6,900 bales ginned and very little yet to be ginned.

Screwworm Program In Need Of More Funds

The Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program will be stopped on March 31 unless by that time livestock producers and sportsmen have raised the remaining one million dollars of their three million dollar goal, the board of trustees of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation announced at its meeting in Austin on January 3.

Foundation President Charlie Scruggs said the move could become necessary because the Federal Appropriation Bill specifies that federal funds cannot continue whenever non-federal funds are no longer available on at least a fifty-fifty basis. All of the non-federal funds will have been expended by March 31, and state funds, if appropriated, will not be available until after that date.

The trustees immediately issued an emergency appeal to livestock producers and sportsmen from all five Southwestern States to raise the required one million dollars. They voided their original policy of not asking producers to contribute more than once in an attempt to save the program.

In making the announcement, Scruggs remarked it would be a shame to have to terminate the program at just the crucial time when the screwworm menace is being brought under control. Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico experienced only a fraction of the normally expected number of screwworm infestations in 1952, while Arkansas had none and Louisiana reported only two cases all year (both of them shipped in from infested states). States east of the Mississippi River, which normally experience considerable screwworm fly movement from Southwestern states, reported only one case in 1952, Scruggs said.

The trustees pointed out that contributions from the livestock industry moved the three-year eradication program underway a full year ahead of schedule.

Local livestock men can help keep the program going by supporting the special effort being conducted by the Texas Livestock Auction Association and its member markets this month, states Jerry Church of Wilson, county animal health chairman.

Area livestock auction firms are collecting funds for the program through January, and the period of January 21-26 has been designated "S-O-S" or Stamp Out Screwworms Week in Texas. Part of commissions on sales will be donated by these auction firms to the program, and these markets are also collecting funds from individual farmers and ranchers.

Mr. Church appeals to all livestock producers to help out in saving this program, which is for their own benefit.

Grassland News

(By Mrs. O. H. Hoover)

It surely has been cold out here on these Texas plains. Sunday temperatures were from four to seven degrees below. Nearly everyone had frozen water pipes.

Mrs. George Spears entered the hospital in Tahoka Thursday. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Cooley attended the Grassland school in the 1920's. E. M. Ray and Bob Norman left here Saturday to attend the funeral services for her in Utopia.

The gins at Grassland are running full blast and have been for some time. Of course the cold spell slowed them down some. Farmers Co-op Gin has ginned 2,510 bales so far. Producers Gin about 3,600 bales and there is about 2,000 bales on the yards of the two gins at present. They estimate about 85 percent of the cotton has been pulled.

First National Observes 57th Anniversary In '63

First National Bank next month will be celebrating its 57th anniversary along with Lynn county's 60th, and is one of the oldest business institutions on the South Plains.

The bank was formed in March, 1907, when it bought out the old First State Bank of Tahoka, which had been organized the year before.

O. L. Slaton of Lubbock, uncle of Walter B. Slaton, was the first president. W. D. Nevels was cashier, and directors were Walter Posey of Lubbock, Jack Alley, E. D. Skinner, G. W. Coughran, G. W. Reed, and W. D. Nevels.

S. N. McDaniel a few weeks later became a director, followed by A. L. Lockwood, who soon became a vice president.

W. B. Slaton, at age 19, came to the bank as a clerk, advanced to cashier in 1912, vice president in 1920, and to president and major stockholder in 1956.

In the meantime, O. L. Slaton had served as president until the early 1920s, when Mr. Lockwood became president and served until his death in the 1940s, followed by Mrs. Lockwood, Mr. Slaton, and finally by A. C. (Charles) Verner.

W. B. Slaton suffered a stroke in 1956, following which Mr. Verner, who had been associated with D. W. Gagnat Hardware and Furniture, joined the bank and soon became the president. Mr. Slaton passed away August 10, 1961.

F. B. (Pete) Hegl came from Petersburg First State Bank in 1929, and has risen to executive vice president and cashier of the institution.

Mrs. W. B. Slaton is a major stockholder in the bank. Other directors at the present time include W. H. Eudy and J. W. Inklebarger, assistant cashiers, E. E. Ellis, L. O. Sparks, and W. R. Slaton.

Originally, all bank records were kept in longhand, but in 1912 the institution bought that modern invention, a typewriter. Since then, all the modern bookkeeping machines have been installed, including some of the latest electronic devices.

In 1912, the bank bragged of $25,000 in capital stock and $5,000 in surpluses. Today the institution has three-quarters of a million dollars in capital stock and surpluses.

Over all these years, the First National has been recognized as one of the strongest small town banks in the Southwest and was never in a "shaky" position due to sound management. Even in the "depression," when many banks were failing, the First National managed to keep its finances in order and was one of the few banks in the nation that continued to do business during the "bank holiday" of the early 1930s, when all banks were asked by the Government to close in order to stabilize their position and to prevent "runs" by depositors.

As a result, the First National gained in stature as a dependable place at which to do business, and has been a stabilizing influence in the economy of Lynn county.

"Any success we have had is due largely to our fine family of customers," states President Verner, "whom we are here to serve through various facilities, including sound loans when these customers need such."

This week, the bank has a page advertisement in The News in order to better acquaint the public with the personnel of the institution, home people who are interested in serving friends and neighbors.

CARGILE IS BACK HOME

Rambler Named "Car of the Year"

Winston C. Wharton, head of Wharton Motor, Inc., Rambler dealership in Tahoka, today announced that the 1963 Rambler has been named "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend magazine.

Mr. Wharton received official notification of the award at a zone meeting from Thomas A. Coupe, vice-president of automotive sales of American Motors Corporation.

The local Rambler dealer said he has available complimentary copies of the 26-page section devoted to Rambler in the February issue of Motor Trend.

The reprint includes complete road tests of the full 1963 Rambler line—Classic, Ambassador and American—an illustrated article on engineering and manufacturing, and a pictorial feature tracing the automotive history of American Motors.

Symbolic of the award is a five-foot silver and gold trophy which Charles E. Nerpel, editor of Motor Trend magazine has presented to Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors, at a ceremony in Detroit. In making the award Nerpel said:

"Each year sees more and more engineering and styling advances from more auto makers and through more model lines, and each year it is more difficult to select the product that best shows the most progress in design. However, based on close scrutiny to all features offered for 1963, American Motors' Ramblers are this year's best examples of outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership."

Mr. Wharton termed the award to Rambler a "singular honor" and "most gratifying because it represents the objective viewpoint of qualified technical experts after comparative evaluation of all the 1963 cars."

"The selection of Rambler as 'Car of the Year' substantiates our opinion that the 1963 Classic, Ambassador and Americans are outstanding in the vital consumer areas of performance, dependability, and value," he said. "Motor Trend's recognition of these merits will make the public more fully aware of the many benefits inherent in Rambler design."

Tractor Tune-Up Most Important

College Station — Tuning-up your gasoline or liquefied petroleum gas tractor can increase its power by 11 percent and fuel efficiency as much as 14 percent, says Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer, Texas A&M College. And this increased power and economy can mean savings in time as well, he continues.

LP gas and gasoline engines usually require a tune-up every 200 hours of operation and if these adjustments are not made when needed the engine cannot deliver the power it was designed to give and fuel will be wasted. Improper timing and carburetor adjustment can seriously harm an engine because of over heating and oil dilution from unburned fuel, O'Neal says.

Some of these simple tune-up procedures can be performed by the farmer with only a little extra equipment and the hand tools he has available in his farm shop. This equipment, a flat feeler gage, a round spark plug gap gage, 15-niton file, and a timing light cost a total of about eight dollars, the engineer says.

According to O'Neal, the Operator's Manual which outlines the procedures and furnishes to proper specifications for the engine, is the best guide to use when performing the engine tune-up.

Mrs. George McCracken underwent minor surgery in Tahoka Hospital Tuesday. She is reported to be doing fine.

C. E. Waldrip is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital. He was admitted Wednesday.

Freeman's Farmer Park Program Ready To Go

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said today the U. S. Department of Agriculture was "ready to go ahead" with public recreational developments in watershed projects as authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962.

USDA was authorized to help create, enlarge, or improve bodies of water within watershed projects to provide for a full range of water-based sports, and to assist in developing recreational areas bordering the water.

"The developments will help meet the growing demand for new outdoor recreational facilities, and at the same time broaden the scope and local benefits of watershed projects," Secretary Freeman said.

The recreational facilities would lure outsiders to the area, and would provide the type recreation that industrialists seek for their employees in searching for new plant sites, Soil Conservation Service officials explained. On nearby land, private landowners could develop supporting recreational facilities, such as weekend or summer guest cottages, hunting preserves, and ski slopes.

The development would bring town and country interests closer together, and thereby promote soil and water conservation activities which protect and improve farm and ranch lands, according to SCS. This, in turn, would contribute to an improved agricultural economy.

"The Department is ready to help local watershed sponsors develop these recreational areas," Secretary Freeman pointed out.

Funds are available under USDA's regular $60.8 million watershed appropriation for fiscal year 1963. Construction could begin on the first of these projects early in 1963.

USDA was authorized to bear up to 50 percent of the cost of (1) land, easements and rights-of-way, (2) construction, and (3) minimum basic facilities needed for public access to and use of the recreational area. This cost sharing and technical help would be provided through the Soil Conservation Service, which has leadership for USDA's watershed program.

Land bordering the water could be developed for picnicking, camping, hunting, or other outdoor uses. SCS would provide local sponsors with funds to cover up to half the land costs, and also would help local sponsors pay for the land inundated for recreational purposes.

Minimum basic facilities which could be cost-shared include: (1) boat docks and ramps, (2) beach development, (3) picnic tables and fireplaces, (4) parking lots, (5) public water supply, (6) sanitary facilities, including toilets and garbage disposal, (7) power facilities, (8) plantings and other shoreline or area improvements, (9) roads and trails, and (10) other similar or related facilities needed for public health, safety, access to, and use of the recreational area.

Local sponsors could charge an admission fee to meet their annual operating and maintenance costs. Watershed residents also would derive other benefits from the development.

"There has been a dramatic increase in the Nation's need for additional recreation areas during the past decade," Secretary Freeman said. "City dwellers and suburbanites are seeking the outdoors as never before."

"At present, some 62 million acres of privately-owned land are being used for recreation. Estimates are that by 1980 we will need 85 million acres for this purpose. Watershed projects can go a long way in helping fulfill this need."

The boys won by a score of 41-37 but the girls lost 30-26. Coach Milt Fitts' boys started the game with a 11-7 first quarter margin and stayed ahead 21-16 when the half time whistle blew. Idalou nearly caught up in the third with the Bulldogs only two points ahead, 28-26. Stanley Renfro took scoring honors with 17 points and Freddie Pierce made eight. After scored 16 for Idalou.

The "B" girls put up a good fight the first half of play, although Idalou led 16-9 at the end of the first and 24-17 at the half. The visitors shot ahead in the third and led 36-21 and continued their hitting streak in the final period. Three girls scored in double figures for the winners with 21, 17, and 10 points. Patricia Falls paced Tahoka with nine points and Dixie Ascraft and Ann Wright scored six each. This Thursday night the teams were playing at Frenship and next week will entertain Abernathy in Tahoka on Thursday night beginning at 6:00 p. m.

Letters From News Readers—

(The News welcomes letters from its readers on any current subject, not libelous, of course. All communications must be of reasonable length and must be signed. On request, the signature will not be printed. The Editor.)

Dear Mr. Editor:

Was I shocked to read the radical write-up from Perry Filippin in The News last week! I was stunned because Perry is a member of the Church of Christ. Only a few days before, I practically dared a person that NO MEMBER of the Church of Christ who knows the principles of Christianity would vote for Catholics. We are taught constantly in the Church against Catholicism and the dangers that confront our Church.

You know, he sounded like "Republican" is a dirty word. Perry, maybe you better look in your dictionary and see what it says about "liberals." My dictionary about Liberalism, Socialism, and Communism is so similar I can't separate them.

Perry, I am old enough to be your grandmother. I'm a member of the Church and I'm a DEMOCRAT, not a LIBERAL, but I voted Republican in 1960. And, if I ever have the chance to vote again, I'm sure I'll vote Republican, not a Liberal Republican, as a Liberal is a Liberal whether camouflaged as a Republican or Democrat.

Perry, ask some of your AOC leaders about "Liberalism," and I'll bet you get a bigger shock.

I just hope that you haven't been too infiltrated and have become as radical as your write-up sounded, that you see the light and turn away from this Socialism you are upholding. You know, Kennedy has never denied being a Liberal, or a Leftist, so why should you?

Perry, use a little common sense and sit down and figure out just who benefitted by the "Cuban scare." Or do you really believe Communists when they say they removed ALL missiles from Cuba? If you do, then you are not the man I have given you credit for being.

So, if you ever run for President, don't expect my vote—you wouldn't hold up.

Anti-Liberal, Anti-Socialist, Anti-Communist (Name withheld on request).

P. S. You know, Perry, if our country falls as fast these next two years as it has in the last two, you may think of the warnings that you have criticized. And, that's why we may fall, because you know the Bible says there's a bigger crowd going the BROAD way than the RIGHT (narrow) road. Wake up before it's too late. Really, it's later than you think. The Bible also says that the sheep (children of God) are on the RIGHT and the goats are on the LEFT. So, leave the goats and come back to the flock.

The four teams go to Abernathy Monday night with games beginning at 5:30 p. m.

Coached by Gilbert Hough, the eighth grade boys won over Frenship after leading 6-2, 18-7, and 28-9 at the end of the first three periods of play. Mitchell Williams scored 16 points and Milton Miller nine points for Tahoka, while Frenship's high scorer made 10 of his 13 points in the fourth quarter.

Sue Woodall scored 10 points in the eighth grade girls game and Chloe Jan Huffaker added six and Leah Short four in defeating the visiting girls. High point for Frenship was Gloria Nelson with 12. Marsha Scoggin's girls team trailed 6-2 at the end of the first quarter, but picked up extra points to lead 10-8 at halftime and 16-11 at the end of the third.

The seventh grade boys, coached by Milt Fitts, had no trouble defeating the Frenship boys taking an 8-3 first quarter lead. Half-time score was 17-7 and the team held the visitors scoreless in the third stanza, that period ending with the score standing at 20-7. With seven players hitting the basket during the game, Cliff Thomas made 10 points and Richard White and Doyle Schneider made five each. Rudder was high for Frenship with four.

Frenship led 5-4 when the first quarter was over in the seventh grade girls game, but Irene Spears' team bounced back to take over the game 9-6 at halftime. Third period score was 18-8. Loretta Webb scored 12 points for the winners while Frenship's high scorer made six points. All

Ronnie Gurley Wins Promotion

Ronnie Gurley has been promoted to administrative director of the Travis County Juvenile Court at Austin which serves three district courts and employs about 60 people. His position becomes effective Feb. 1.

Gurley has been juvenile officer of Nolan county with headquarters in Sweetwater for three and one-half years and before that was assistant football coach at Colorado City.

His new duties will involve coordination and liaison work of the juvenile probation, detention home, child support payments division, and dependency and neglect division. He will also be associated with the public relations department of the organization.

Gurley was employed by Chief Probation Officer William F. Anderson and will work directly under him as administrative assistant.

He is currently chairman of the Board of Directors of the Texas Institute of Children and Youth and is past president of the Texas State Juvenile Officers Association.

According to the Sweetwater Reporter, juvenile delinquency in that county is at a low ebb since Gurley has been there and the school officials report a marked decrease in truancy during those years.

The Nolan County juvenile office was one of the first of its kind adopted in Texas and was created through a special act of the Texas Legislature in 1938. Several other such organizations have been organized and modeled after the Sweetwater plan during the past few years. All have been reported successful in their operations.

Gurley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Gurley, is married and has two children, West, four years

How Ford spent $100 million to give you more quality for your money

The Ford Motor Company spent $100 million in the past two years alone to bring you a combination of quality features found in no other cars. And here's how Ford quality pays off for you...whether you drive the big Super Torque Ford, the middleweight Fairlane, or the fun-filled compact Falcon!

Superior ride and performance. For example, $10 million was poured into the development of the Super Torque Ford's incredibly smooth new ride. Additional millions went to design 6- and 8-cylinder engines that let you choose sensational performance or spry gas economy...all with minimum maintenance.

More care-free driving. Millions more were spent to perfect Ford's twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance features...now in all Ford and Falcons. You save time and money. Example: you roll 36,000 miles between major chassis lube!

Greater safety. Brakes adjust themselves when necessary. Roofs are reinforced. Doors have safety locks.

Added luxury. Richer, longer lasting upholstery. Carpeting that wears up to twice as long as in some cars. Improved insulation insures a quieter ride.

Smarter styling. Ford's Thunderbird-inspired lines have set the trend that the whole industry now follows!

Greater resale value. From the big, important items like specially galvanized vital underbody parts and long-life batteries...to the "tremendous trifles" such as extended life light bulbs and stainless steel exterior screws...your Ford or Falcon will stand up better over the years. Will be worth more when time comes to trade.

And don't forget—Ford Dealers are quality dealers! We want to keep you happy after you buy...and this is your finest guarantee of value!

Clyde W. Shaw, 72, retired farmer and resident of northeastern Lynn county since 1907, died at his Slaton home at about 3:00 p. m. Saturday.

A native of Jacksboro, he farmed east of Wilson for many years.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:00 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Slaton with the pastor, Dr. Charles Wood, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. T. Bolden, assistant pastor of Lubbock First Baptist Church. Burial followed in Resthaven Memorial Park at Lubbock.

Mr. Shaw is survived by his wife, Celia Mae; one son, Jyles of Los Angeles; one daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Swann of Idaho; two stepsons, J. C. Stacy of Levelland and M. J. Stacy of Friona; a brother, Bryan Shaw of Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. D. H. Hatchett of Lubbock and Mrs. E. N. Milliken of Wilson, route 2; two grandchildren and five step grandchildren.

Mrs. Woolam Is Buried Saturday

Mrs. T. V. (Thelma Kathryn) Woolam, 47, of O'Donnell died at 6:00 p. m. Thursday in a Lamesa Hospital where she had been a patient about 10 days. She had been in ill health for two and one-half years.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell Saturday at 2:00 p. m. with Rev. Calvin Partain, pastor and Rev. Bill Burton of Friona officiating. Burial was in O'Donnell Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Mrs. Woolam was born Dec. 1, 1915 in Henderson county. She came to Lynn county in 1949 from Tyler and was married on May 3, 1952 at O'Donnell to T. V. Woolam, a prominent gin operator in that community. She was a member of the O'Donnell Baptist Church, and until her illness was bookkeeper at Woolam Gin.

C. W. Powell Of O'Donnell Dies

Clyde William Powell, 68 year old O'Donnell resident, was found dead at his home Sunday evening after he apparently died on Friday night.

A verdict of death by natural causes was returned. Mr. Powell apparently had a heart attack while working on a stove in the home where he lived alone. Below zero weather also could have been a contributor to his death, according to reports. His body was found by Deputy Sheriff Earl Calhoun, who went by his house to check on Mr. Powell.

Funeral services were held in White Funeral Home chapel in Tahoka at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Ray Martin, pastor of Wells Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in O'Donnell cemetery.

Mr. Powell was born Nov. 27, 1894, in Henrietta, Texas. He was married to Roxie McGahae June 12, 1923, in Deaf Smith county. She passed away about six years ago. Mr. Powell was a retired farmer and a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Laura Mae McBride of Dallas, Mrs. Laura Mae James, Mrs. Lucille Denton and Miss Inez Powell, all of Abilene; three sons, Joe, Glenn and Walter, all of Abilene; one sister of Floyd; and 10 grandchildren.

Pallbearers were members of the American Legion post in O'Donnell.

Former Tahokan Writes Of Cruise

Mrs. George Wright and family recently received an interesting letter from Mrs. Odessa Henderson Powell, formerly of Tahoka who still owns land here.

Mrs. Powell wrote from Rio de Janeiro, South America, while on a tour aboard the S. S. Del Norte, cargo ship of the Delta Lines. The following excerpts will be of interest to many of Odessa's old friends here:

"U. S. S. Del Norte, made in Mississippi, is a fine ship, cargo ship, only 32 passengers, crew of 135 plus captain, two engineers. We loaded lots of Texas cotton (some of ours, maybe), farm machinery in New Orleans and Houston, headed out for Buenos Aires, Argentina.

"Stopped at Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Bahia (all black slaves of old days—slave market). Rio was cold, foggy, but we rode up cable car to see the Christ the Redeemer, lighted up cross at night.

"I like Buenos Aires best of all. Beautiful city of 4.5 million people, all white, magnolia trees, gardens, roses, jackdaniels, and has widest streets in world.

"Money situation bad here, they say—800 pesos to $1.00 American money one day, next day 700 to $1.00. People who live here, natives, don't care, I guess. But Americans who live in Argentina hate it. Can't get out, no value to their money; many American companies, the guides tell us, pulling out. Many could pull out and still have plenty. Every American company you can think of is represented here, all car companies. Rents cheap, labor cheap, fruit and flowers galore. Yet, I would not want to live here. I'll take Texas and California. Although taxes are high and food is high we are the best, I guess."

HERE FROM NEW YORK

Henry Maasen Dies In Lamesa

Henry A. Maasen, about 60, formerly of Tahoka, was found dead in his bed Thursday morning at his home in Lamesa, where he had lived for several years.

Details of his death or funeral arrangements were not available here Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Maasen was a long time resident of Tahoka, operating a feed store here for 32 years. He sold out to Dale Thuren in April, 1948, and moved to Seymour where he and his brother-in-law, Roy Taylor, operated a fishing camp at Lake Kemp. About two or three years later, he and Mrs. Maasen, the former Miss Julia Taylor, moved to Lamesa where he was in the furniture refinishing business for a few years and then went back into the feed store business. He sold his interest in the Lamesa Farm and Ranch Store last spring.

While in Tahoka, Mr. Maasen served on the school board and was very active in civic affairs. He was a member of the Church of Christ. His only son, Henry A. "Ham" Maasen, Jr. was killed during World War II while serving as a Marine pilot in the Pacific theatre.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Hubert (Joyce) Henry of Littlefield; one grand daughter; and other relatives.

though Dr. Noble Rumbos has moved from there to Richardson. Reports are that O'Donnell citizens are working hard toward a good turnout there.

All churches, civic organizations and merchants are helping to publicize the program in Lynn county and a better reception is anticipated for the third dose than on the first two doses. In fact, this program has been entered into by more citizens of Lynn county than any kind of program ever attempted, and thus far, the Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine in this county has been considered a marked success.

About 6000 persons took Type I, and 6000 took Type II. With the U. S. Public Health Service approval on the vaccine, increased attendance is expected for Type III. Local doctors say that programs such as this will prevent Texas from having 242 cases of polio during 1963, as it had during 1962.

On Friday night, Jan. 25, from 7:00 to 8:00 p. m. a trial run will be held at Tahoka school cafeteria for local workers. However, there will be no trial run at O'Donnell.

Bulldogs Start Conference Play

The round robin conference schedule for the Tahoka basketball teams will begin this Friday night when the Sundown "A" and "B" boys and "A" girls invade Tahoka with the first game starting at 5:30 p. m.

The Bulldogs, who are shaping up better with each game, meet the Roughnecks, O'Donnell, Seagraves, Wink and Plains in conference games.

However, all the schools do not have girls teams and the varsity team coached by Marsha Scoggins will play only Sundown and O'Donnell for the district title.

The Bulldogs go into conference play with a record of 13 wins and 5 losses thus far this season and the girls tackle their conference foes with an 8-11 record.

Another Oldtimer Dies At O'Donnell

F. M. Vaughn, 87, of O'Donnell, passed away on January 5 in a Lamesa nursing home. He was one of the pioneer settlers of Lynn county, coming to this area early in the century.

For some reason The News was not informed of the death and failed to note his passing in the daily press.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, Jan. 5, in the First Baptist Church of O'Donnell, with Rev. Calvin Partain officiating, and burial was in O'Donnell Cemetery.

Survivors include two sons, Walton of Perryton and Lee of Albuquerque; two daughters, Mrs. Jewell Jennings of O'Donnell and Mrs. Winnie Gentry of Santa Monica, Calif.; 12 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Tahoka Upsets Slaton Tigers

The Tahoka Bulldogs upset the Slaton Tigers here Friday night 57-50, but the varsity and "B" girls lost their games. The Tigerettes took a 38-34 victory and the visiting "B" team won 33-26.

The Bulldogs lost no time in taking a margin on the scoring and led 15-9 at the end of the first quarter, but lost some ground in the second period although they hung onto their lead at the end of the half, 23-21. The third quarter saw them surge ahead again 39-28, but the final period held a few doubtful moments as the Tigers came within four points at one time. With all team members scoring no less than seven points, the combination it takes to win, Craig Leslie made 14 points and two others scoring in double figures were Andy Bray and Jerry Forsythe with 10 each. Ronnie Jones took game honors with 17 points, Smith added 14, and Weber Telfer 10.

The Tahoka girls had the upper hand in the first half of play, leading 6-5 at the end of the first and 17-13 at halftime. Slaton came back the second half to overcome the deficit and go ahead to lead 29-23 at the end of the third before winning by four points. Glenda Bownds and Jane Thompson scored 15 and 14 points respectively for the winners while Louella Tomlinson and Linda Thomas hit for 13 and 12.

The score was tied up 9-9 after eight minutes of play in the "B" game but Slaton pulled away 16-11 at the half. Continuing to control the score board, the visitors were ahead 23-14 at the end of the third. Cindy Clark made 13 points and Kathy Claiborne 11 for the winners. Joy Thomas and Ann Wright each scored seven points for Tahoka.

Abbe Tells Of Tax Changes

New features of the income tax laws were explained by Robert Abbe in a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

In regard to tax reductions, he said wage earners and salaried people got no break, but self-employed people do get a slight break.

Principal changes noted this year include regulations relating to investment credit, travel and entertainment, and pension and profit-sharing plans.

Taxpayers will receive a little better deal on "investment tax credit," based on new equipment bought. This does not apply to livestock or buildings, however. He declared the new regulations "are a real mess" but are designed to encourage industry to expand. Along with the tax break on new equipment bought, new depreciation schedules will be set up doing away with an item-by-item schedule.

Restrictions have been tightened on deductions for travel and entertainment, and now a businessman must have complete records of expenditures on any travel and entertainment item above $25.00.

A tax break to self-employed has been given for those setting up pension and profit-sharing plans, but this is of benefit principally to people in the high income bracket.

Most interesting part of his talk was that dealing with Co-op stock. A farmer must now pay income tax on any stock or dividends received from a co-op organization whether he receives cash benefits or not.

Mack Mauldin, program chairman for the month, introduced the speaker.

President Calloway Huffaker appointed Dr. K. R. Durham chairman of a committee to raise funds and purchase a piano for use in the City-Legion building, stating the present piano has about "seen its day."

Student guests, Roger Renfro and Jimmy Wright, were introduced by Harold Green and Robert Abbe, respectively.

81 Rural Crashes During Year 1962

The Highway Patrol investigated 12 rural accidents in Lynn county during the month of December, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for four persons injured and an estimated property damage of $6,076.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Lynn county from January through December of 1962 shows a total of 81 crashes resulting in 4 persons killed, 49 injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $46,622.00.

When the final reports are tallied in March of 1963, it is estimated the death count will be approximately 4 percent about the 2314 killed in 1961. This increase should be a challenge for every individual to put forth his best efforts to prevent accidents for the new year.

The Veteran Patrol Supervisor cautions all motorists to beware of icy patches at bridges, underpasses and in shadows. Reduce speed before you reach the slippery areas.

Every day is safety day.

Sometimes we think our lot in life is a little bad, having to work most of the time and having little time for vacations or hobbies. Over at the City water department, the men don't have it so bad a lot of the time. But, then, along comes a day like Saturday morning—zero weather—and there were Pat Hines, Evon Wilson, and others of the department out bright and early repairing frozen water mains in order that we people huddled up in warm rooms could have that liquid stuff to drink, use for washing, bathing, and flushing the commode. These men deserve a pat on the back. What would we do without them?

Then there are the twenty volunteer firemen who give their time free as a service to the community. They are ready on call anytime, day or night, rain or shine, and last week end they had to make four fire runs when the temperature was around zero—and that was a-o-l-d! On many such runs they get their clothing dirty, sometimes absolutely ruined. But, we have never heard one of them whining about having to perform this service for people of Tahoka or for farmers scattered over the county. Anything we can say or do for the firemen is not enough. Tell them you appreciate them.

Tahoka Fire Department, under Chief Pat Patterson, has been taking all steps reasonable to improve equipment at minimum cost, holding weekly training sessions, conducting surveys, etc., in order that our town may have better protection and a lower fire

You can't write 10,000 to 20,000 words a week, in between working in the back shop, answering the telephone, waiting on customers, and figuring out income tax papers without making a few mistakes. In fact, we make 'em every week.

We pulled a terrible boner last week. We spelled Governor John Connally's name with two "o's". This wasn't too bad, we thought. But Bob Connolly (two "o's") does. Anyway, this is to inform our readers that the John Connallys (an "o" and an "n") is an entirely different breed from the Tahoka Connollys (two "o's"). Bob says they are as different as Smith and Jones. In fact he is not even on speaking terms with the Governor.

A long time ago Bob and Keith worked a little at The News mailing the papers on Thursday, along with a couple of the B. L. Parker boys. One night, one dabbed a little ink on another boy, Homer Parker, we think. Homer wiped a little more on Keith, whereon Keith reached in the ink bucket and got a whole gob and slung it on Homer—and a real ink battle was on! Next came a whole dipper of ink, and the smudges are still visible on the brick walls in the alley behind The News. Of course, Bob never got into any mischief and he MAY have been just a bystander.

H. L. McMillan, now of Plainview, still laughs about the time The Printer was up on the press fixing something, stepped down and stepped right in to a 10-gallon bucket of printer's ink, half way to his knee. Printer's ink is about the same consistency as real, real thick sorghum molasses and ten times as nasty—so you can imagine the time The Printer had cleaning up. Or, did we ever get cleaned up? We think we still carry in the pores of our skin some of the first ink we ever encountered.

One of the nicest compliments, Mae thinks, was one she received in the form of a note of appreciation recently from Mrs. E. H. (Amy) West, who says she enjoys the paper, but more especially she said she enjoyed the Christmas edition of The News so much that she read ever advertisement "from kiver to kiver." Thanks, Mrs. West, and the rest of you who have expressed your enjoyment of this one big annual special paper.

Attendance in the local schools has jumped 200 in a year. Most of the new children seem to be permanent. And the school board is faced with a major problem, as many rooms are too crowded and no additional rooms are available. Board members are considering asking for a bond issue for a new building. They see no other alternative.

We haven't heard from Waymon Smith and John Saleh, but our good friends John F. Thomas and Calloway Huffaker are each threatening to sue The Printer for ever mentioning their names in the same paragraph.

Federal deficit spending amounts to $6 billion or more annually. Did you ever stop to think how much money we are going in debt as a nation? It amounts to $16.7 million a day, $700,000 an hour, $11,600 a minute, $2,000 every time your watch ticks. But, our Federal government is spending 16 times that much, and has to pay one and one-half times that much in interest alone. If we just saved the interest, we'd have $9 billion a year with which to play Santa Claus to the rest of the world and foreign aid wouldn't cost us a dime. Or, would it?

One thing for certain, those who don't like this column are not forced to read it.

Tahoka still has a rent house shortage in spite of the fact that possibly 100 houses have been built in the last two years. Some pipe line construction workers are having to go elsewhere because they can't find a place to live.

A. L. Shepherd brought us a copy of the Timpson Times, Shelby county, where he was raised, in which we found this story from Georgetown:

"Rev. Lively Brown said last week the community's dry weather might be the result of church members not paying the preacher, and urged them to drop more in the collection plate. The next Tuesday it rained. It also rained Wednesday and Thursday. On Friday, lightning struck the church steeple."

And this one on table manners: "When in doubt whether to use the fork or spoon, use the knife and remove all doubt."

"One of the most tactful men I ever knew," says a speaker, "was the man who fired me from my very first job. He called me in and said, 'Son, I don't know how we're going to get along without you, but starting Monday we're going to try.'"

That reminds The Printer of a true story that happened to him. While working for W. M. Curry and Roland Bell on the old Snyder Signal back in the early 1920's. The Printer, like many employees, didn't think he was getting enough pay, and asked Mr. Bell for a raise. Mr. Bell frowned and asked, "Do you think you deserve more?" Naturally, we replied that we did and he told us, "Well, we have a difference of opinion. I think we are paying you too much now. That was that! Anyway, we didn't get fired."

Edgar Hayes in Lockney Beacon: "Jimmie Hoffa has won an other round with the federal government. We're wondering if Brother Robert is putting as much vigor and enthusiasm into the battle to 'get Hoffa' as he did to get Meredith into the University of Mississippi. We know this much—he isn't using nearly as large a force."

Junior: "Dad, what makes an elephant so big?"

Father: "I don't know."

Junior: "Why is a lion dangerous?"

Father: "I don't know, son."

Junior: "Am I bothering you with questions?"

Father: "Not at all. You never learn anything if you don't ask."

"Mom, how much am I worth

The Lynn County News, Tahoka, Texas Friday, January 18, 1963

to you?" asked the little girl. "You're worth a million dollars," Mom replied, and the little girl asked, "Then could you advance me a quarter?"

MRS. HARRIS WRITES FROM SAN ANGELO

Mrs. W. M. (Clara) Harris, who recently moved to a room in Baptist Memorial Geriatric Hospital, San Angelo, writes The News that she is missing her good friends in Tahoka "but still think I have done the best for myself; this is a wonderful place." She and her late husband sold the local telephone exchange in 1926, not 1936, and at the same time bought the G. E. Lockhart home and the hardware business from George Small, taking Jack Applewhite as a partner. Harris and Applewhite divided the business in 1936, Mr. Harris keeping the store and Mr. Applewhite taking the tractor and implement part of the business. The News had a little mix-up in dates in the story two weeks ago.

Kind words never die—they just become victims of ingratitude.

CHEVROLET...the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

"Even when I remove a plate from my wall there's no mark. This proves to me the cleanliness of ELECTRIC HEATING!"

says MRS. CHARLES J. BLACK,
300 W. Cherry, Amarillo, Texas

Sandy and Candy are inseparable pals. That is, except when Sandy, 6 years old, is playing with her dolls. You can tell by her smile that she's happy in her electrically heated home.

Mr. Black, an avid hunter, is passing the benefit of his experience on to son, Chuck, age 9. Here, he instructs him in safety handling of firearms.

The den of the Black home is lined with exciting trophies, ranging from elk to antelope. Here he admires a 1958 deer that field-dressed 250 pounds, placing it in the trophy class.

Mrs. Black, and her family, are completely happy with their electric heating. Their home is not only heated, but is also cooled by an electric heat pump. They are impressed with the over-all warmth throughout the house. Mrs. Black is particularly happy with the cleanliness of electric heating and the "wall" test she is making in the top photograph proves it. You, too, can now enjoy electric heating in your new home or you can convert your existing home with little inconvenience.
