Changes mark new school year

By Ray Mayo
Editor

September 3 will mark the beginning of a new school year for students in Colorado City and Mitchell County.

Because of changes mandated by House Bill 72, there will be several new programs this year for Colorado City students, according to CISD Supt. Charlie Uselton.

"The biggest thing we have going right now is the pre-kindergarten program," explained Uselton.

The program, designed for four year olds as of Sept. 1, is for those children unable to speak or comprehend the English language and for those who come from low-income households.

The program will be for three hours only, with either an afternoon session or morning session. Uselton said if there are enough qualified children, then both an afternoon and morning session will be offered.

He explains that parents must arrange transportation and that lunches will not be served. He said, however, that if a child is attending the morning session, he may be able to ride a bus to school, but the parents will be responsible for picking up the child after the three-hour session. The same holds true for the afternoon session with the parent responsible for getting the child to school, but with the child riding the bus home if there is a bus route available.

Barbara Hammond will be teaching the pre-kindergarten class at Kelley Elementary School. The state, which has provided some funding for the program, has also provided the district with a curriculum program that includes the essential elements.

"The program is not mandatory, it's strictly on a voluntary basis," explained Uselton. "It's strictly up to the parents if they want their children to attend or not."

He said that there must be at least 15 registered for the class before it has to be offered, but anticipates that at least that number will sign up.

Another new program, also required by the state, is a computer literacy program for middle school students.

A computer lab with 10 Apple 2ES computers is in the process of being installed on the first floor of the middle school, said Uselton.

All middle school students will be required to take one semester of the course and will be required to pass a semester of computer literacy before leaving the school.

Uselton said about half of the seventh grade students will be offered the course this year and that eighth graders this year will be required to pass it. He said that if an eighth grade student taking the course takes the course the second semester and fails, then a summer course will have to be offered.

Debbie Goforth, who taught eighth grade history and coached last year, will be teaching the computer course. She has been trained in personal computers, explained Uselton.

A change in store for freshman and sophomore students at the high school will be the type of transcript they will receive upon graduation.

The high school students will be able to pursue a regular transcript or an advanced transcript. The advanced transcript will require more advanced courses. There will also be an advanced transcript with honors for those graduates who achieve

The contest is sponsored by the Opti-Ms. Club and the proceeds will be donated to the Pool and Park Fund. The bicycle is donated by White's Auto. Youngsters are reminded that all cans must be flattened.

Lawmen round up runaways

Law enforcement officers from Mitchell County and surrounding areas were utilized to round up four runaway juvenile males Tuesday afternoon near Loraine.

Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant said his department was notified by the Nolan County sheriff's department that the four juveniles, driving two stolen pickups, were three miles northeast of Loraine in a field. Two of the juveniles were taken into custody at about 2 p.m. The remaining two were taken into custody about 7 p.m.

"They surrendered without incident," said Bryant.

The four youths, all about 16 years of age, were taken to Mitchell County jail and then transferred to the Scurry County jail.

Byrant said the four ran away from a boy's ranch near Lubbock late Monday or early Tuesday. Apparently they stole a van in Lubbock and drove it to Hermleigh where they stole a pickup, abandoning the van. They then went to Inadale where they stole a second pickup. They also are throught to have burglarized a house in Scurry County.

Bryant said his department and the Colorado City Police Department assisted in the search along with officers from the Nolan County Sheriff's Department, the Scurry County Sheriff's Department, Department of Public Safety from Mitchell and Scurry counties, Sweetwater Police Department, Fisher County Sheriff's Department, Borden County Sheriff's Department, a Texas Ranger from Snyder, the Nolan County Sheriff's Possee and numerous citizens who searched on horseback. Two aircraft also aided in the search.

Park drive continues

Contributions of $300 have pushed the Pool and Park Fund to $37,469.49, according to Gay Houston, chairman of the finance committee of the Colorado City Park Board.

The board has set a goal of $125,000 in order to match a $125,000 grant from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The money will be used for the renovation of Ruddick Park as well as a new junior olympic sized swimming pool to replace the aging one now used by park patrons.

Besides the pool, other park improvements planned include new benches and tables, play areas for children, restrooms, sprinkler system (including water well) and a hike-bike trail.

Plans are continuing for a "Day in the Park" set for Saturday, Aug. 24. Civic groups and organizations have planned a variety of food, drink and game booths. "Crazy Ray" of the Dallas Cowboys will be on hand to sign autographs. A talent show is planned as well as a concert by the Colorado High School band. A bicycle, donated by White's Auto, will be given away to the person collecting the most aluminum cans.

Donations to the Pool and Park Fund may be made at City National Bank, First National Bank, First State Bank in Loraine, First Western Savings and Loan and Homestate Savings.

Board studies budget, taxes

By Ray Mayo
Editor

Members of the Mitchell County Hospital District board of directors met for a budget work session Thursday as a preliminary step in approving the tax rate and budget for the coming fiscal year.

Mike Burt, chief appraiser for Mitchell County Appraisal District, discussed the current tax rate and the steps necessary to raise taxes if the board decides to go in that direction.

The current tax rate is 16.37 cents per $100 valuation. The effective tax rate (the amount needed to generate the same amount of tax funds as this year) will be 17.07 cents, Burt explained.

Root Memorial Hospital, like many other hospitals, continues to lose money each month even though expenses have been cut and the staff trimmed.

Board members Gus Armstrong and Bob Reily said they want to make sure every expense has been cut as much as

For The Record

By Ray Mayo
Editor

A couple of weekends ago, I had the opportunity to drive through Stamford on my way to a family reunion in Oklahoma.

It had been many, many years since I had been to Stamford, and the only things I knew about the town were that it is the home of Cong. Charles Stenholm and that it is a Main Street Project town.

Main Street Project, as you may recall, is a project of the Texas Historical Commission and is designed to renovate and revive the downtown areas of Texas towns. Sweetwater is also a Main Street town.

A few months ago, the city manager of Stamford and the Main Street Project coordinator made a presentation to some of our businessmen and community leaders about the project and the benefits derived from it. The slide presentation of before and after pictures was impressive, but still, I thought to myself, pictures never tell the whole story.

Stamford is somewhat smaller than Colorado City and the economic base isn't as strong as ours–not yet anyway.

But you ought to see Stamford's downtown. It truly is a downtown with what seems to be thriving businesses. The store fronts have been painted, fixed up and in many cases returned to their original appearance. The downtown square which holds the post office, is beautifully landscaped and well maintained. The streets and sidewalks were free of litter. There were very few vacant buildings.

As my wife and I drove slowly around the square, it made me sad to think of what Colorado City has become–a downtown with as many vacant buildings as there are occupied ones.

While I was bemoaning the fact that our downtown seems to be ever declining, my thoughts turned to our park project.

Ruddick Park is a historical landmark and has served the citizens of Colorado City and Mitchell County for many years.

It too, is in need of a facelift and new construction. The Colorado City Park Board has embarked on an ambitious, but not unrealistic plan, to raise $125,000 in order to match a grant from the state.

With $250,000, a new swimming pool can be built. New benches and picnic play areas can be constructed. A water well can be drilled that will provide water for an underground sprinkler system. This project, if completed in its entirety, can become an everlasting one.

I hope that Ruddick Park will become a shining example of what can be accomplished when the community supports a project from which everyone benefits.

Of course, very few projects have the entire support of its citizens. One complaint that I have heard is that the city should be spending money to pave streets and replace worn water lines.

Needless to say, better streets and water lines are important, but unfortunately the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission does not hand out grants for such projects. The commission has, however, given us an opportunity to spend $125,000 of state money, which came from taxpayers just like you and me, right here in Colorado City. I would hate to think that some other town will end up with tax dollars that could have been used for the betterment of our town.

Another complaint that I have heard is that we should be concentrating on getting new businesses and industry to town.

That, too, is a good project. But a city of any size has got to have something to attract new businesses and industry. I don't think a decaying downtown and a rundown park will do the trick.

If you already haven't contributed to the park fund, I urge you to do so. The Park Board desperately needs the $125,000 in local funding to make the park plans a reality.

The park is something that we can all be proud of. Hopefully that pride will spread to the downtown area as well.

certain grades in the advanced courses.

Uselton explained that the advanced courses are available to any student, regardless of the type of transcript he is pursuing.

Driver education will be given state credit for high school graduation starting this year, explained Uselton.

The gifted and talented program will be continued at Hutchinson Elementary with Mrs. Ethelye Lancaster in charge of the program on a half-day basis.

Mrs. Lancaster was previously teaching the gifted and talented program at Ranger for the past several years.

The tutorial programs at all schools will be offered again this year. The program is available to all grade levels in all subjects areas either before or after school.

The no-pass, no-play rule goes into effect this year as well, explained Uselton.

possible before taxes are raised.

Mrs. Marion Bassham said she believes more cuts will result in decreased quality of care, something she or other board members do not want to see.

Burt told the board that it may raise taxes three percent more than the effective rate without a public hearing. He said taxes can be raised as much as eight percent, but with a series of public hearings. Anything above eight percent can be subject to a tax rollback.

Assistant hospital administrator Richard Murphy distributed budget projections which showed the amount of taxes that would be collected at various tax rates.

The budget project was based on an average of 13 patients a day, which has been the average for the past nine months.

Murphy explained that revenue requirements will be reduced with a higher tax rate.

The highest tax rate sample was 21.07 cents per $100 which would bring in tax revenues of $1,157,525 and would require operating revenues of $1,684,475. The projected revenues for this fiscal year is $1,642,801.

The hospital district is expected to end the year with a $292,128 loss, said Murphy.

The board will continue its budget discussions Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the hospital board room.

Go-ahead given

Colorado City Mayor Elmer Martin has received notice from the Texas Department of Community Affairs that the city has met environmental clearance requirements for the sewer line project in the south part of town.

The city was authorized to proceed with the extension of sewer lines in the south and southeast part of town using a $415,000 grant from the Texas Community Development Program.

Odell named American Legion commander

Herbert W. Odell of Fort Worth has been elected the 1985-86 Commander of the 84,000 member Texas American Legion.

The 57 year old, muchly decorated Korean War veteran, was selected over one other challenger for the top elective post in the state Legion when he received a substantial majority of votes among some 2,000 Legionnaires at the annual state convention in Houston, July 25-28. Odell succeeds John D. Morris of Houston, who will now serve on the state executive committee.

Odell, a retired Rock Island Rialroad conductor, was born in Great Neck, N.Y., but graduated from Hubbard, Texas High School. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps for six years, three of which were in Korea, where he earned three Presidential Citations, two Purple Hearts, five Battle Stars and other medals. Odell has been a member of south Fort Worth Legion Post 569 since 1955 and has served in various capacities at the Post, District, Division, State and National levels. He is also a life member of the VFW and a 32nd Degree Mason; has served as president of the Tarrant County Council of Veterans Organizations. In 1965, he formed the Marine Corps League of Fort Worth and served as first Commandant. A member of the Episcopal Church, Odell is married to the former Marian Dubose of Fort Worth.

Elected State Vice Commander was another Korean War-era veteran, 54 year old Howard Lee Marks of Beaumont, who succeeds Mike Saenz of Denison. Marks, now a disabled veteran, served four years in the Army during the Korean War Era, and was awarded the Defense Service Award. The Prairie View A&M graudate became a member of Beaumont Post 817, in 1965 and has served at the Post District, Division and State levels. Marks is a member of the Church of God in Christ, and also holds office in the Shriners organization.

Cotton crop - from bad to worse

COLLEGE STATION–It's enough to make a cotton farmer cry–the way the market is shaping up for the 1985 crop.

Although the acres planted to cotton in the U.S. are down slightly this year to 10.7 million, a good crop appears in the making. Thus the end result may be about 12.5 million bales, not much under 1985 production.

Add that to the fact that consumption may nosedive to around 9.5 million bales and the result is a snowballing carryover of more than 7 million bales. That's close to carryover stocks following the 1982 crop year–the year preceding the government's PIK program.

All this means that farmers will be hardpressed to find any sustained strength in the cotton market, says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"There appears to be little chance for the 1985 crop to move on the spot market at much above the loan rate," notes the economist. "With Strict Low Middling, 1-1-16 inch cotton set at an average of 57.3 cents under the loan, the price for most Texas cotton will be somewhat less. Farmers across the U.S. have averaged 54 cents per pound for their cotton during the first six months of the year, so a maximum deficiency payment target price minus loan rate for 1985 cotton of 23.7 cents is a real possibility."

Recent discussions about export incentives to lower the U.S. price of cotton on the world market also have had a weakening impact on futures markets, with December 1986 futures already trading in the low 50-cent range.

What can be done to improve this deteriorating situation in which cotton farmers find themselves?

"The U.S. cotton industry must take strong action to recover lost markets, both at home and overseas," emphasizes Anderson. "Export incentive programs are needed to counter export subsidies of other countries and to offset effects of the strong dollar that discourage exports and encourage imports.

"Without market recovery and development, the cotton industry will face the need for much greater production cuts in 1986," adds the economist. "Based on current conditions, half as much cotton acreage as this year would be more than adequate to meet projected market needs."

Scurry museums to have new exhibits

The Scurry County Museum and the Diamond M Museum in Snyder will be holding openings for new exhibits from 1-4 p.m. Sunday afternoon and invite the public to attend.

Featured in the Scurry County Museum will be an exhibit of county courthouse photographs on loan from the Library of Congress. The Diamond M Museum will show wood engravings after sketches by the famous western artist Frederic Remington.

Sunday hours in both museums are 1-4 p.m. and there is no charge for admission.

An added attraction in the county museum will be the first presentation of a booklet containing biographical sketches of men who have served Scurry County as district judges since 1885. The material was prepared by Wayland G. Holt, himself a former district judge. Judge Holt will be guest of honor at a reception from 1-4 in the county museum and will autograph copies of the new booklet for those who wish him to. The booklet is titled "The First 100 years."

The Scurry County Museum is located on the south side of the Western Texas College campus. The Diamond M Museum is in the Diamond M Building at 909 25th Street.

Motorists-be alert for buses

It is nearly back-to-school time, and those big yellow school buses will soon be taking to the streets and highways once again.

"With the increase in the number of vehicles on our highways, it is more important than ever that motorists be alert for the return of the school buses, "said Highway Department District Engineer Roger G. Welsch today. "Motorists have had a summer vacation of sorts, too, and are not accustomed to seeing the school buses pulling onto the highways or stopping to let schoolchildren on and off."

State law requires drivers to stop when meeting or overtaking a school bus from either direction, on highways not separated by a median, when the school bus has stopped and is displaying a visual signal. The driver shall not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or the bus driver signals to proceed. This does not apply when the driver and the school bus are on separate roadways and where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadways.

In an effort to increase school bus safety, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation sponsors special schools for bus drivers and even for student riders. A typical region trains upward of 215 drivers in safe bus driving operations each year. Last year, statewide, some 810 drivers and 70,000 students underwent safe bus procedures training.

And the training is paying off. "When you consider that school buses traveled more than 3 million miles in Texas last year and there were only 11 fatalities, the record is pretty good," Welsch said. "At the same time, the number of accidents is on the rise, primarily as the result of having more vehicles of all types on the highways."

"That is why it is so important that Texas motorists become aware that the school buses are about to return to the highways, and that they know the rules about stopping. Perhaps with the motorists' cooperation and a little luck, we may reduce the fatality figure to Zero for this year," Welsch concluded.

Watson designated appraiser

Jess Watson of Colorado City has been designated master senior appraiser (MSA) and master farm and land appraiser (MFLA) by the National Association of Master Appraisers, according to Dr. Marvin T. Deane, the national president.

The designation master senior appraiser, the highest professional designation granted by the association, was conferred after completion of all the qualifying procedures of the organization. Requirements include intense educational courses in appraising residential, farm and land and commercial property and the preparation of appropriate demonstration appraisals.

Requirements for the master farm and land appraiser designation include intense educational courses in farm and land appraisal and the preparation of appropriate demonstration appraisals as well.

Each member of the National Association of Master Appraisers has agreed to subscribe to the highest professional standards of conduct required by the organization's code of ethics," said Deane.

The National Association of Master appraisers designates only those members of the real estate professions who have attained a high degree of excellence in the art and science of real estate appraisal. It also encourages specialized education in real estate appraisal through cooperating schools, to provide the industry with fundamentals courses, educational seminars and workshops. Such educational courses are designed to insure the public will have qualified professional real estate appraisal services when buying or selling farm and land property.

Robertson family reunites

The children of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Robertson met Sunday, Aug. 3 at the Colorado City Housing Authority building at Fifth and Oak streets for their 20th annual reunion.

Those attending from out-of-town included J. W. and Fay Adams of Brazoria; Lester and Connie Singleton of Kemp; Bob and Vivian Harington of Beaumont, Calif.; Claud and Jackie Robertson, Buddy and Vera Robertson of Big Spring.

Anne Alford

Cook's Corner

Alford enjoys cooking for groups

Helping in the kitchen is how Anne Alford learned to cook.

She baked cakes and cookies when she was growing up and by the time she was a teenager, she was preparing the whole meal.

"The meals I prepared weren't very complicated, they were pretty simple."

Mrs. Alford took Home Ec in school and "I really enjoyed that."

She watches the kind of meals she prepares, using a lot of chicken and fish.

"We eat beef once a week and eat a lot of fresh vegetables."

Mrs. Alford prepares balanced meals and usually has enough left over for lunch the next day.

She prepares a lot of food when she has a dinner party.

"We like to have people over and that's about the only time I prepare a lot of food."

Mrs. Alford likes to cook and try new recipes. She also changes them up.

Her family were not picky eaters and her husband is not a picky eater.

Mrs. Alford usually doesn't prepare sweets, because "we're not sweet eaters. I keep them for the grandchildren when they visit."

"When the family gets together, Robert and I usually get in the kitchen and cook together.

"When all the kids come home, it usually takes both of us, because we prepare a lot of food.

"Robert is a good cook and it's a lot of fun when we cook together."

Mrs. Alford is married to Robert and they have three children–Rob of Rowlett, Lydia of Breckenridge and Greg of Richardson. They also have four grandchildren.

Today she is sharing four of her recipes with RECORD readers.

GERMAN PIGS IN THE BLANKET

1 pound ground beef
¾ pound sausage
¾ cup uncooked rice
1 medium onion, chopped
½ cup catsup
Salt and pepper

Wilt one head of cabbage (large) in boiling water while mixing all of the above ingredients. After mixing thoroughly, shape into balls about the size of a large egg. Wrap each one in a wilted cabbage leaf. Left over cabbage should be wedged and cooked with pigs. Put pig wedges in large, heavy pot. Add 2 cups water and cook over low heat about 2 hours.

OLD SETTLERS BAKED BEANS

½ pound ground beef
½ pound sliced bacon
¼ cup minced onion
One-third cup brown sugar
One-third cup white sugar
¼ cup catsup
¼ cup barbecue sauce
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons molasses
½ teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 can red kidney beans, 15 oz.
1 can butter beans, 15 oz.
1-22 oz. can Pork & Beans

Chop bacon. Brown bacon, beef and onion together and drain. Add seasonings to meat and mix. Add beans and pour into 2½ quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Can be frozen before or after cooking. Serves 10.

CINNAMON ROLLS

Two-thirds cup sugar
Two-thirds cup Crisco
2 eggs
2 packages dry yeast
2½ cups warm water
2 teaspoons salt
6 cups flour

Mix sugar and Crisco, then add well beaten eggs. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add to sugar, Crisco and egg mixture. Add salt and flour. Let rise until doubled, then punch down. Divide in half and roll out. For each half, melt one stick of oleo and spread over. Sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon and chopped pecans. Roll up (as a jelly roll) and slice. Let rise again. Bake at 350 degrees 25-30 minutes.

FROSTING

Melt 1 stick of oleo and cook long enough to brown. Add 3 tablespoons milk. Bring to a boil; add powdered sugar. Pour over rolls while still warm. Repeat for second half of dough. (Makes 60 rolls).

BLUEBERRY BAVARIAN CREAM PIE

1-9" graham cracker crust (better if homemade)
1 banana
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
1 cup sugar
1-8 oz. package cream cheese, softened
1-21 oz. can blueberry pie filling

Line bottom of pie crust with sliced banana, whip cream and add sugar gradually. Add cream cheese to whipped cream and blend with electric mixer. Pour mixture over banana slices and top with blueberry pie filling. Chill, serves 8.

New girls coaches look toward season

By Tony Franco
Sports Editor

When the 1985-86 school year does roll around, Colorado High school girls athletics will have at least two new faces in first year coaches Will Gollihar and Cindy McMillin.

Gollihar, who has been the head girls coach and assistant football coach at Hawley the past three years, will be the head girls coordinator at CHS.

Gollihar will be the head coach for girls basketball and track and will be the assistant volleyball coach in addition to teaching History.

The 28 year old 1979 graduate of Tarleton State University brings with him coaching experience from the Meridian, Eola and New Castle school systems. He hails from Santo.

Gollihar, a bachelor, said he learned of the CHS job through George Martin, a former CHS coach now at Haskell, which competes against Hawley.

"I moved here the 15th of July," said Gollihar. "I've been opening the gym at night and meeting some of the kids. I'm very excited about getting started. I've been impressed by the kids' attitude."

McMillin, also single and age 29, will be the head volleyball coach and assist Gollihar in other sports.

She is a graduate of San Angelo Central High School and a 1979 graduate of Texas Tech University.

McMillin brings with her coaching experience from Tech and La Grange, Buena Vista, Imperial, Jim Ned and Tuscola high schools.

She last taught at Hereford where she was the head volleyball and assistant basketball and track coach.

McMillin has coahced three district volleyball champs and has coached 11 All-District performers and four All-State players.

McMillin grew up at Big Lake and considers this area her "old stomping grounds."

Former CHS coach Laura Wiley told McMillin about Colorado City, where she will also be teaching health.

"I like the town," said McMillin. "I played against C-City while at Jim Ned. I've been impressed with the program and am happy to be here. The kids seem ready to get started."

Former head girls coach Mark Merrell has moved back to his former position at Colorado Middle School while former assistant coach Linda Mathis will stay on at CHS as a teacher.

"I believe THE PRODIGAL may be the most powerful film ever made to reach people for Christ."
—Billy Graham

"How long I've longed for films of this caliber to be produced—the realism of the story line—the dialogue—the relevancy of the lyrics of the songs—all of it is first class—plus the incredible message."
—Joyce Landorf, Author

"THE PRODIGAL is a profound commentary on our present condition...a mirror in which we all see ourselves. It is a Christian film in the best and deepest sense. I hope and pray it will reach a wide audience."

Local coaches share dislike for new rules

By Tony Franco
Sports Editor

Practice makes perfect.

If the Texas Board of Education has its way–and it appears it will–perfection through practice faces extinction and you can thank Governor Mark White for it.

Last spring the board of education, with the governor's blessings, imposed an education reform bill aimed at bringing Texas' public schools up to par with the rest of the nation.

Under the bill, officially known as House Bill 72, a student is limited to eight hours of practice time for any extra-curricular activity. The eight hours include only after school hours from Monday through Thursday. Friday afternoon and weekends do not fall into the school week.

Travelling time is counted as part of the practice hours and the bill also says a student involved in an extra-curricular activity must pass all courses or face a six week banishment from participating in the activity.

Those two main points of the no-pass no-play rule (also known as Mr. H. R. Perot's perogative) are what has at least three local coaches sharing a dislike for the bill.

"I haven't seen anything as far as quality education, just higher taxes and more paper work," said Colorado High School head football coach and athletic director, Tom Ramsey. "I haven't seen anything that helps a student become a better student."

"The bad thing is the length of time a kid is punished," said Ramsey. "As soon as you're passing everything, why not become eligible?"

"Say a kid fails a class at the end of a six week period and brings it up to passing within a week. It's quite a punishment."

"They assume a 16, 17 year old is going to run home and study. They're not being realistic."

Ramsey said the no-pass no-play clause and the limit on practice time "is making it harder to teach. Teachers need time for students, not more paper work."

"It's going to be rush, rush, rush because you've got to get everything in. Football is getting more complex, but it's going to effect everything because you just have to shut it down."

Ramsey said the limit on time also erased any hopes of bringing back baseball as a CHS sport.

"It's not an ideal sport because of the travel time and practice limits. It probably hurt baseball the hardest. Very few West Texas schools play it. Some are moving it to weekends and a lot are just giving it up."

"The no-pass no-play rule is not law, it's an interpretation by the state board of education," said Ramsey.

"Governor White did away with the elected board and appointed all members to the board of education. Anytime you take a vote away from the people, you're saying people don't know what to decide."

"As a citizen, I take it as a slap in the face. I do think you need to pass and encourage kids to pass."

"What's unfortunate is that I voted for Mark White. I won't do that again. The state board will again be elected in 1988 and the legislature doesn't meet until 1987 so we're probably saddled with it until then."

"We now have a problem with kids not wanting to take the classes that prepare you for college. A group in Houston has taken it to federal court and said they'll take it to the Supreme Court. That's the only hope of getting it changed. Mr. White and the board have not been sympathetic."

Loraine High School head coach R. L. (Sandy) McSpadden sees the bill as an honest effort to better education, but feels it's unfair to those students who do participate in activities.

"Texas has always wanted to be number one and if we've fallen out of it, naturally some action will be taken. Personally I don't feel House Bill 72 is the answer."

"Six weeks obviously takes a kid out of the activity for good, so there's no incentive to get back in."

"Kids that don't participate are not effected in anyway. They're cracking down on kids that will be your community leaders."

"I do think it has made our young people more aware that they must study and pass and I have seen positive results in our young people as far as trying harder to make their grades."

"Most people that are civic minded participated in activities while in school. I think we will se a drop off."

"Activities have been a front-runner in keeping kids off the street."

Westbrook High School coach Jim Hill had a few, but very clear thoughts on the subject.

"I think it's a bunch of crap really. It's hurting more than helping. If you're playing and passing, you should be able to practice as much as you want to. Now they're telling you how much to practice.

"I think it discriminates against small schools. They've been trying to do away with small schools and this is just one way to get it done."

"A committee met with the governor. Nothing was changed and nothing will until something drastic happens."

Tell me and I forget, teach me and I remember, involve me and I learn.

Keen is hostess at meeting

Baptist Women Night Group of First Baptist Church met Monday, Aug. 5 in the home of Sue Keen, hostess.

A poem, "What God Hath Promised" was read by Anna Staats. Catharine Morris presented a report entitled "Lasers" which told of locating, cultivating, penetrating and establishing ethnic and language work in the United States. Mrs. Morris also presented missionaries with birthdays on Aug. 5 and intercessory prayer was offered by Virginia Dearen.

The names of the yearbook and nominating committees were read again and the Christmas in August project was brought up to date.

Thank you notes from Frances Cooper and Mark Kimmel were read.

After the offering for projects was taken, the program, "Eyes on Hong Kong and Macao," was presented by Margaret Bodine, Earline Sellier and Betsy Aycock.

Hong Kong was leased to England in 1898 for 99 years. Because Communist China doesn't recognize the early treaties, Hong Kong will be returned to the People's Republic of China in 1997. The Baptists have 70 or more missionaries there and due to the recent pledges from the Peking government, are hoping that believers in Hong Kong can maintain ties with religious groups in other countries and missionaries can stay in Hong Kong.

Refreshments of homemade ice cream, chocolate and pound cake, coffee and tea were served to Catharine Morris, Billie Margaret Harrison, Louree Upton, Margaret Bodine, Billie Roenfeldt, Jean Hardee, Earline Sellier, Betsy Aycock, Virginia Dearen, Joy Piland, Anna Staats, Sue Keen and one guest, Joan Staley.

RATIOS

A ratio is defined as the comparison of two similar things. Erik is 20 years old. Nathan is 10 years old. The ratio of Erik to Nathan is written either of these two ways:

a) Erik $\frac{20}{10}$ or $\frac{2}{1}$
Nathan
b) Erik:Nathan or 20:10 or 2:1

PROBLEM 1.
A tree is 30 feet tall. A telephone pole is 25 feet tall. What is the ratio of the tree to the pole?

PROBLEM 2
A diameter of a circle is 16 inches. Another circle's diameter is 4 inches. What is the ratio of the larger circle to the smaller circle?

PROPORTIONS

A proportion is the comparison of two equal ratios. Proportion is usually written in this form, 1:2 as 8:16 and is read "1 is to 2 as 8 is to 16". When solving the proportion, it would be written this way.

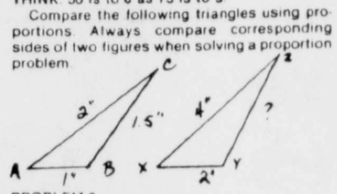

$$\frac{1}{2} = \frac{8}{16}$$

Some proportions will have an unknown for which you must solve. Remember this rule: THE OUTSIDE VALUES MULTIPLIED EQUAL THE INSIDE VALUES MULTIPLIED.
For example, 25 is to 3 as 100 is to x.
THINK: 25 and x are the outside values.
3 and 100 are the inside values.

a) $\frac{25}{3} = \frac{100}{x}$
b) 25 times x equals 3 times 100
c) $25x = 300$
d) $x = \frac{300}{25}$
3) $x = 12$

PROBLEM 1
Tom runs a 50 yard race in 6 seconds. At the same rate, how long will it take him to run 75 yards?
THINK: 50 is to 6 as 75 is to s.

Compare the following triangles using proportions. Always compare corresponding sides of two figures when solving a proportion problem.

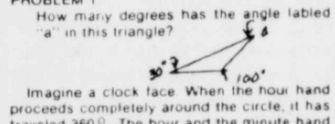

PROBLEM 2
Find the length of ZY
THINK: AC is to XZ as CB is to ZY
PROBLEM 3
A tree casts a shadow 60 feet long, at the same time that an 8 foot high post casts a shadow 12 feet long. How high is the tree?

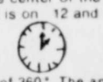

CONCEPTS FOR FURTHER PROBLEM SOLVING

1. An angle (∠) is formed when two straight lines meet. Angles are measured in parts called degrees (°). Larger angles have more degrees than smaller angles.
2. A circle has 360°.
3. A half circle has half of 360° or 180°.
4. A right angle has 90°. It can be thought of as a quarter of a circle, having a fourth of 360°. Remember that a right triangle has one right angle. ⌊
5. All angles of a triangle add up to 180°.

PROBLEM 1
How many degrees has the angle labled "a" in this triangle?

Imagine a clock face. When the hour hand proceeds completely around the circle, it has traveled 360°. The hour and the minute hand form an angle at the center of the clock face when the hour hand is on 12 and the minute hand is on 1.

That angle is $\frac{1}{12}$ of 360°. The angle is 30°.
PROBLEM 2
On the clock face, what is the angle formed by the clock hands at 3:00?
PROBLEM 3
On the clock face, what is the angle formed when the hands read 6:00?

WRITING SKILLS

WRITING EFFECTIVE PARAGRAPHS

A paragraph is a group of related sentences with a single unified idea that has been adequately developed. The paragraph usually has a topic sentence that states the main idea; one or more sentences that develop the main idea; and sometimes a clincher sentence that concludes the paragraph by summarizing the idea.

EXAMPLE
You can usually tell something about a person by the papers in his briefcase. If they are untidy, he is probably disorganized. However, if the papers are neatly filed or stacked, you can be sure he is a very systematic person. A neat and orderly briefcase symbolizes a well-organized person.

In the paragraph above the first sentence is the topic sentence. The second and third sentences develop the main idea and the last sentence summarizes the paragraph.

PROBLEM 1
The sentences in the following paragraph are not arranged correctly. Arrange them in a logical order by arranging the sentence numbers in the correct order.

1. As the concern grew, many counties passed laws to protect endangered wildlife and set aside reserves where the various species would live in safety. 2. Throughout history, many kinds of wildlife have become extinct or have decreased greatly in number. 3. However, even though sincere efforts to preserve endangered, threatened, and rare wildlife continue to be made today, the future of many species remains uncertain. 4. In the late 1800's people in various parts of the world became concerned about the problem. 5. As a result of this action, many endangered species have been saved.

Divide the following passage into three paragraphs.

For many years the ability to travel from place to place came from muscles. People used their muscles to walk, to carry bundles, and to push plows. If they rode on animals, the animals' muscles supplied the power to travel. Wagon trains hauled people and freight from the East to the West. It was easier to travel by water. The rivers carried ships with people and freight downstream. The muscles of people and their animals provided the power when going upstream. The wind on the sails pushed boats across the lakes and ocean. Muscles could rest. However, travel on both land and water was slow. Depending upon traveling conditions, a wagon could only go between five and twenty miles a day. Sailing ships might travel as quickly as fifteen miles an hour if the winds were strong. But if the sailing conditions were not good, the ship might have to wait for hours or days.

Study the lessons and complete the problems. Participants should either call 728-2392 between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday for the answers.

Possession charges filed

Colorado City Police Chief Bobby Sparks said Thursday that charges of possession of a controlled substance (marijuana) were filed against four people as a result of a search warrant being executed on July 17 at a Front Street house.

All four have been charged and released on bond, according to Sparks.

Charged were George Edward Miles, 30, and his wife, Emma Miles, 19, occupants of the house located at 734 East Front Street. Also charged and released on bond were Michell Williams, 22, and Roy Templton, 24.

Sparks said six baggies containing marijuana were taken from the residence. Several prohibited weapons were confiscated as well, he said.

Sparks said a search warrant was executed after his department received a tip.

Assisting the police department in the raid were several members of the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department.

"DO YOUR OWN THING"

Rev. John Mikow — First Christian Church — Colorado City, TX

Modern individualism proclaims this message--"Hey, man, do your own thing." It claims that individuals can do as they desire without anyone telling them how to run their lives. Their life is theirs and they do not need any father, mother, teacher, officer or preacher telling them what to do.

Individuals are created with a unique life of their own. God's given a distinctive character to each person that is expressed in special ways. This expression becomes "our own thing."

God also meant for individuals to live and worship in community. Faith in Christ forms individuals into congregations where each person's "own thing" is shared.

Sure, we can be with God out alone by ourselves in a field, by the sea or on a mountain top. There he speaks to us in mighty ways and enables us to "do our own thing." He also intends for each of us to share what he has done with the community of faith.

Won't you share "your own thing" with others? Find a community of faith that fits your special expression of "your own thing" and in their midst tell what God has done for you.

("Come and hear, all you who fear God, and I will tell what he has done for me." Psalm 66:16)
