Violent Earthquake Reported From Azores MOTHER SLAYS 4 CHILDREN AND SELF

FINANCIAL WOES PRESAGE TRAGIC DEATH FOR FIVE

FAMILY IN DEBT, FATHER OUT OF WORK, MOTHER TURNS ON GAS

(By the Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Aug. 31.—Mrs. Otto Fuller today asphyxiated herself and four of her children in a two room basement flat, after her husband, Otto Fuller, had sought vainly for employment for several days. A fifth child was saved by neighbors.

She Lays Thorough Plans

Mrs. Fuller put two of the children in one bed, and placed three more in a bed in another connecting room. She stuffed the doors and crevices in both rooms and lay down on one of the beds to die.

Neighbors smelled the escaping fumes and called the police. When they arrived four of the children were dead. Mrs. Fuller and the fifth child, Winifred, 11, were still alive. They were taken to a hospital, where the mother died.

They Owed Much Money

The Fullers were saddled with debts neighbors said. They were unable to pay the rent on their tiny apartment. Fuller was looking for work today when the tragedy occurred.

Coolidge Says No Change Necessary In Debt Payments

(By the Associated Press)

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Aug. 31.—President Coolidge knows of no reason for making any change in the government policy toward the foreign war-time debts owed the United States.

While he has not read the proposal of Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, for a revision of the debts or cancellation, it was said that the summer White House today that Mr. Coolidge believed the Washington government had taken an attitude in the matter that would not be changed.

All Plans Laid

All the great powers with one exception, it was added, had funded their debts to the United States and it is apparent to Mr. Coolidge that France will adjust its debt in accordance with the agreement reached by its duly authorized representatives in negotiation with Washington officials.

The money was emphasized will have to be paid by the American tax payers unless it is paid by the tax payers of the countries that borrowed it.

The president, respecting the sincerity and patriotism of Mr. Baker, yet he realizes it is something to be a person in private life, who is no longer charged with the responsibility of administering public affairs to suggest large expenditures of the tax payers' money than it is for those responsible for the collection of money, or payment of it out of the tax payers' pockets.

Spencer Wells First To Register As Lubbock's New $450,000 Hotel Opens Its Doors To Guests Today

In Baby Tragedy

The Lubbock Hotel, new six-story, 20 room, fireproof structure at the corner of Broadway and Ave. J, has been accepted by the Board of Directors, except for a few minor details in connection with some of the rental business property, and the building is now officially open for business. It was announced early this morning following a meeting of the Board of Directors shortly after noon. Spencer A. Wells, manager of Hemphill-Price Co., here and President of the Country Club, holds the distinction of being the first one to register following the formal acceptance of the building.

The date for the formal opening of the building has not been set pending completion of the refrigeration plant and other features in connection with the hotel proper, and it was said by officials of the operating company that this probably will not be held for thirty days. Some of the necessary parts for the refrigeration plant have not been received, but are enroute here from Dallas.

The hotel will be officially open in full blast Wednesday morning, the date set for the opening some time ago, but registrations will be received to-night following a rather stormy battle with clerks had with a few Monday night who demanded that they be accommodated. Such was not possible at that time, however, due to the fact that the building had not formally been accepted, and a few technicalities were in the way.

The banquet hall on the mezzanine floor will be open for entertainment of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at their meetings tomorrow and Thursday respectively.

The building, recognized as one of the best in West Texas, will relieve at least for a time the congested conditions that for several years have prevailed here in hotel circles, and assures the traveling public that accommodations can be had.

Work is still continuing on the rental property in various portions of the building, and these will be put in order also before the formal opening of the hotel.

"PA" CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY WITH ELABORATE ELECTION ALIBI

(By the Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 31.—Fergusonism is not dead and the Ku Klux Klan ran true to form in the second democratic primary Saturday former Governor James E. Ferguson, declared in statement issued today. He stated that out of the 750,000 votes cast in the election 210,000 favored and 540,000 opposed democratic voters for Governor Miriam A. Ferguson; that 131,785 democrats and 245,000 Ku Klux voted for Attorney General Dan Moody, the successful candidate.

Ferguson declared he was amused at the situation confronting Moody and said, "when Mr. Moody tries to hold Earl Mayfield, O. B. Colquitt, Tom Love, Atticus Webb, and Hiram Evans in the same bed—boy, he will be sorry if he can put it over. We all hear the rumblings."

It's Jim's Birthday

This is Jim Ferguson's 55th birthday anniversary and he said although he has had his fling, that he is consoled by a philosophy that tells him the worst only happens in the mind, and that though he may never run for office again that he expects to take an active part in politics in Texas, and that has reached the point where he can be of real service to his state. "No candidate," he said, "ever had a more loyal and devoted following than the Governor had in this last election. These 275,000 that went to the polls and voted for Governor Ferguson are without a doubt the best, the most and most independent aggregation of voters that ever participated in an election. It can be truthfully said that these voters were not controlled by any improper impulses or purpose. They were not members of any clique or Klan, and were not instructed or ordered to vote for anybody. They just believed the way they voted and if anybody thinks that Fergusonism is dead in Texas, just let them reflect over the number of this fearless band of patriotic people who did not get any

Priest Denies Mass Said Over Man's Leg

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Aug. 31. (AP)—The Rev. Francis Turk, pastor of the church of the Nativity, said today that no requiem mass was said over the amputated leg of Michael Rado, August 18, as reported, but that a blessing was said over the leg instead.

Father Turk pointed out that no requiem mass was said, but that an ordinary mass, having no connection with the ceremony for Rado's leg, was going on when Rado made his request for the blessing. This blessing was given without reference to a mass in any way.

"A requiem mass in the Catholic church can be offered upon only the spirit and not for the body," Father Turk said. "The body is only blessed before it is consigned to the grave."

CALUMET, Mich., Aug. 31. (AP)—Arthur Lawrence, 15, voluntarily killed himself with his rifle for what he thought was an unrequited crush on his part.

Part of Generator At City Plant Burns

Fire, believed to have originated from a short in some part of the municipal light and power plant here shortly before 6:00 o'clock Tuesday morning burned a portion of a generator on one of the battery of 300-horsepower motors at the plant.

About fifty coils in the generator were burned, according to Acting City Manager W. H. Perkins, and the damage can be repaired just as soon as new coils can be received here out of Dallas. During this time, the plant will be without the motor, but the peak load of the day was handled at noon today, and in the opinion of city officials, the plant will amply take care of the situation until the damages can be repaired.

Leahy Wins Fight Against Live Oak

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 31. (AP)—Harry J. Leahy, arrested here Saturday in connection with the abduction and slaying of Dr. J. A. Ramsey of Mathis, won his fight today to prevent being taken back to Live Oak county to answer a murder charge.

The Woman's Daily Editorial

HOW TO START CAREER WRONG

The editor-in-chief of a large western publishing house was still laughing when I walked into his office one morning.

"The Queen of England has just been crowned," he explained, "and I wish you could have been here fifteen minutes earlier."

"Who was it?" I asked. "A college graduate," he replied. "I'm going to give you a verbal on the opening you've just closed at me when she came in. You a college graduate? I'm going to write, and I thought I would begin here for the experience I should get in reading the manuscripts that come in."

"No by your leave—no hypothesis of any sort," laughed the editor. "Apparently I was being informed of what I might expect. I seemed to have nothing to say about it. Her presence of 'college graduate' she used as a sort of handily to knock me out first. And you'll never believe it, but dozens and dozens come in here with exactly the same manner and attitude, although their errands may be different. Invariably they begin, 'I'm a college graduate!'"

Naturally I expressed my surprise. I couldn't believe such ideas existed. This is a true story and as it did not happen more than two weeks ago, there has been little time for details to slip my mind.

"It's too bad," he went on. "I can't understand it. Of course, I don't mean that everybody who comes in here acts that way. But so many college youths and maidens have no intention of hiding their light under a bushel, and think they are honoring us by selecting our publishing house to let it shine on. I almost have a phobia against higher education."

I cannot account for it. A college education has certainly missed its mark if it convinces a boy or girl that he or she is the salt of the earth and the world owes him a living.

But if it instills into the recipient a conviction that his education is only a high-powered feather that prepares him for hard work and experience, it has gained its end. The battle is half won.

It matters not what lowly beginning you make. If success is in you it will come out. Remember the mouse trap. And remember the girl and the editor!

CONDITION—Tired looking eyes that have lost their sparkle and luster. DIAGNOSIS—Fatigue and a general lowering of vitality.

TREATMENT—You need rest, more outdoor life, and very likely your diet is at fault. To relieve the condition permanently, you need to build up general health. For temporary relief, so that you present a more animated picture, try this: Dip pads of cotton in very warm water and hold them over your closed eyes, changing as soon as they lose their warmth. After about five minutes of this, during which time you lie down and relax, use pads wrung out of ice water, and change as soon as they become warm. This impetus to your circulation will rest your eyes, tend to remove any dark circles, and beautify the eyes generally.

LUNCHEON—Cream of spinach soup, croquettes, sandwiches and cottage cheese, sandwiches, peach cobbler, milk, tea.

DINNER—Lima bean souffle, baked tomatoes stuffed with rice, apple-coriander cabbage salad, Escovitch pudding, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

This dinner menu is planned without meat. The meal is well balanced and nourishing and ideal for hot weather. The souffle is suitable for quite young children since the beans are put through a sieve which of course removes the thick covering.

Lima Bean Souffle. One cup cooked sliced lima beans, 3 eggs, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons bacon drippings, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, few drops onion juice.

Melt butter and bacon fat and stir in flour. Season with salt, pepper, and onion juice and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and remove from the fire. Add yolks of eggs and blend thoroughly. Add beans and fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven for twenty-five minutes or until the souffle is well puffed and firm to the touch. Bake at 350.

Lads Drunk On Home Brew "Fined by Dads"

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, Aug. 31. (AP)—Mickey sticks and leather straps Tuesday began to play a prominent part in putting an end to beer parties among San Antonio youths.

It was started when five young boys, dizzy from the effects of the brew, were ushered into the woodsheds of their respective homes, and given the whiplings of their lives.

The boys, made bold by drink, were making merry in an auto on the Palo City road when surprised by a border patrol officer early Tuesday.

Instead of pinning them under arrest, the officer ascertained their names and took them before their fathers for punishment.

Legion Plans Big Delegation At State Meet

It is expected that at least twenty-five members of the local Post of the American Legion will attend the state convention of the organization at Amarillo September 8 and 9. H. D. Woods, Commander of the unit here said today, in announcing that he had been advised by officials of the Santa Fe railroad that a special rate of straight fare for round trip will be offered by the railroad to all Legionnaires who wish to attend the convention.

Identification certificates are now in the hands of Post officials, and those who wish to take advantage of the special rate must have one of these for presentation to railroad officials together with his membership card in the Legion before he will be permitted to buy a ticket. These certificates are in charge of Post Commander H. D. Woods.

A committee was named by Commander Woods some time ago to arrange for transportation of the Lubbock delegation to the convention, but this committee had not completed arrangements early this afternoon. It was first mentioned that the trip be made either in decorated trucks or on buses, but it is probable that these plans will be abandoned since an announcement of the special rate by the railroad company.

Contrary to reports, Amarillo will have ample accommodations for all who wish to attend, according to a bulletin sent out from the state Adjutant's office. Two entire floors of the Amarillo Hotel have been reserved exclusively for use of Legionnaires during the convention, other rooms have been arranged for at other hotels, and many rooms in private homes have been signed up in case of emergency, the bulletin said. It is expected that 5,000 or 6,000 will attend the convention from over the state. Special railroad rates will apply from all points.

Mrs. George Field will be hostess to the Idle-A-While bridge club at her home, 2113 13th Street, Thursday morning.

It was first mentioned that the trip be made either in decorated trucks or on buses, but it is probable that these plans will be abandoned since an announcement of the special rate by the railroad company.

Contrary to reports, Amarillo will have ample accommodations for all who wish to attend, according to a bulletin sent out from the state Adjutant's office. Two entire floors of the Amarillo Hotel have been reserved exclusively for use of Legionnaires during the convention, other rooms have been arranged for at other hotels, and many rooms in private homes have been signed up in case of emergency, the bulletin said. It is expected that 5,000 or 6,000 will attend the convention from over the state. Special railroad rates will apply from all points.

Mrs. George Field will be hostess to the Idle-A-While bridge club at her home, 2113 13th Street, Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Holt, 1918 Avenue N, have returned from Amarillo where they spent the week end.

FROM ANOTHER ANGLE

From time to time, especially during the past campaign, The Journal has seen fit to criticize the official actions of the Ferguson family. Today it is a different story. Yesterday the Associated Press carried a list of pardons, paroles and furloughs granted to convicts by Texas' woman governor. The Journal does not condone Mrs. Ferguson in her pardon record but it does "take its hat off to her" for one of the furloughs which she granted.

NOT MUCH SYMPATHY

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—See-sawing up and down Broadway I saw John Boles, who came from Greenville, Texas, where his father is a banker. . . . But he was headed for Broadway and not for Wall Street. . . . And, unlike most banker's sons who wait at the stage entrance for the girls, he went right into a musical show and met the chorines at first hand. . . . He's in the spotlight just now because Gloria Swanson picked him for her leading man. . . . He was doing his stuff in a current musical comedy when spotted by Al Parker, who directed the last Fairbanks picture. . . . Saw Harry Richmond, who came out of a honky-tonk in the west, where he banged the piano. . . . Now he's a $1,900 a week number in a revue and has his name in bright lights over a night club. . . .

Saw Mary Philipin, the prim, gray-eyed movie miss, who is making her first visit to Manhattan. . . . And she tells me one is likely to get stale in Hollywood, since the superfluity of movie studios gets one out of contact with the rest of the world and its people. . . . A most sensible miss, she seems to me. . . .

Saw the Deuel Sisters, who tip the tape measure at five foot-eleven, and who have become dance favorites of Broadway on a par with the Dolly sisters. . . . Yet, I am told, so great were they when they came to Broadway that when a manager asked them what they could do one of them answered: "I can dance a little, but I play a swell game of basketball. . . . They ball from Pueblo, Colo., where their father is a mining engineer. They studied at Carnegie Institute and Washington Seminary. . . . Which goes to prove that education and background does no harm, even to show girls. . . .

Many are the rumors that come to Broadway concerning Ed Gallagher. Remember "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean"? . . . Gallagher disappeared about a year ago following a nervous collapse. . . . The man who made millions laugh went from one sanitarium to another in a most pitiable condition. . . . Now he's back in the old Gallagher home on Long Island. . . . They say he's built a ship's cabin in one of the rooms and practically lives in it. . . . They say, also that the fortune he made being funny is long since gone to meet bills and that a loyal servant turned over all his personal earnings to meet doctor bills. . . .

Our weekly report on the fickle fancies of one Harry K. Thaw concerns a very charming dancer, who appears in a night club revue as Mlle. Jolander. . . . She came to town just a short time ago with a dancing partner, having been featured at one of the Long Island resorts. . . . Now, the eagle-eyed Harry seems to miss none of the attractive newcomers and it is said he has the head waiter that he inquired a once regarding who the dancer was and from whence she had come. . . . Night clubbers report that Thaw appears at the safe, sits through Mlle. Jolander's number and then leaves. . . . Fear not there's probably be a new attraction to report next time. . . . —GILBERT SWAN.

The Advantage of Not Being a World's Champion

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

PRESIDENTIAL HOPES ARE AT STAKE THIS NOVEMBER

By CHARLES P. STEWART NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Next November's election is only a Congressional election, but some presidential candidates are at stake in it, for all that.

President Coolidge's is one. If the democrats and insurgent republicans get Congress, or even the Atlee Pomerene.

Senate, away from him, his chances of a renomination will be mighty slim. His party primaries left him politically gray. A defeat in the fall would be almost sure to knock him out—in 1928.

On the other hand, let the voters rebuke the republican insurgents and re-elect all the regulars, and he'll come up strong for the ensuing round.

Just a moderate amount of insurgency, particularly in the corn belt, will play into the hands of farm candidates like Vice president Dawes and Frank O. Lowden.

A great wave of it might give Senator Crahan a look in.

This coming election means everything to Coolidge. It doesn't mean so much to aspirants like Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Borah, Duwes, Lowden, Speaker Longworth and Senator Watson, for even if Coolidge is eliminated as a 1928 possibility, they will still have a fight to scrap out between themselves.

It means this much to them, however — unless he's disposed of they won't be contenders at all. Their joint prospect will be improved by a republican reverse, coming now, just as Coolidge's will be spoiled.

In a slightly different way, the coming election signifies rather more to a number of democratic presidential candidates than it does to any republican candidacy, except Coolidge's.

It's plain what it signifies to Atlee Pomerene. Elected to the Senate from Ohio, he'll become, automatically, a strong possibility for first place on his party's ticket in 1928. Beaten, he won't be mentioned.

But there's more than that. Prohibition figures prominently as an issue this year. . . . By the election result looks pretty wet. It will make some difference to republican candidates but a great deal more to democrats, for it's a question on which they're more sharply split.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

LIVES AT BOTTOM OF SEA

By AUSTIN H. CLARK Smithsonian Institution, careful in color, marked with scarlet, green and lilac and with black radiating lines, this jelly fish is a most forbidding creature, for it is extremely poisonous. You are not likely to encounter it.

for it lives down near the bottom in water averaging 150 feet in depth. Its poisonous qualities I know from experience. Once while dredging in the Eastern sea southward from Nagasaki the net came up with great numbers of these creatures in it. As it swam aboard the water dripping from it fell on my back, but at the time I thought nothing of it as one gets used to getting wet at sea.

Some hours later after I had changed my clothes for dinner I felt a queer sensation on my back; by dinner time this had become still more puzzling and had changed into great multitudes of little prickling pains. After dinner these increased in numbers and intensity, and spread all over me.

I spent the whole night on the bridge walking back and forth trying vainly to forget those jelly fish. On the forepart were four sailors with the same idea in mind. All through the long, hot night I watched the glow from those sailors' pipes.

All the next day the pain remained about the same, but by the next night it had begun to lessen, and in a day or two it had almost gone.

Helpful Health Hints

NEW TREATMENT FOUND FOR PERNITIOUS ANEMIA

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene the Health Magazine.

For many years, the disease, pernicious anemia, has given concern to physicians who have been unable to determine its cause or to find a certain cure.

In this condition, the red blood cells which are normally from five to six million in number for each cubic millimeter of blood begin to decrease in amount. Since they are charged with oxygen carrying and with many other important functions, their diminution results in many disturbances in the body and gradually in death.

The most recent efforts toward benefit of this disease are striking in their simplicity. They seem to point to an origin of the disease associated with a lack of vitamin "A" in the food, which is either directly responsible or which results in a lowering of resistance of the body to infection, the latter perhaps being responsible for the diminution in red blood cells.

Tests Made. In any event, Dr. Koessler and his associates have shown that vitamin "A" starvation will produce in animals a condition closely resembling that of pernicious anemia, and that the use of foods containing large amounts of such vitamins produces marked benefit.

At the same time, Drs. Minot and Murphy have reported that they were able to produce general improvement in patients with this disease by feeding diets consisting largely of cooked liver and lamb's kidneys. These substances are known to be extremely rich in complex proteins and in iron. They also found that a good diet must contain an abundance of fruits and fresh vegetables, and be relatively low in fat.

The diet suggested by Dr. Koessler and his colleagues also demands an ample quantity of food with an exceptional richness in vitamin "A".

Drink Milk. This was supplied by giving a small dose of cod liver oil four times daily, and urging the use of a quantity of good butter with whole wheat bread, whole milk and cream.

It was suggested that at least six glasses of milk and one-half pint of cream should be drunk each day. Eggs, tomatoes, spinach, carrots, fresh string beans, dandelion greens, cauliflower, and sweet potatoes and Hubbard squash are particularly recommended.

Among the meats, liver and kidney contain the largest amount of vitamin "A" and "B", whereas sweet-breads and brains stand next in vitamin richness. While these studies are not conclusive, they are suggestive, and the effects of the diets on patients have been extremely beneficial. Indeed, such diets are beneficial for all body growth.

Anemia have from time to time been met by temporary improvement of their patients into the belief that they had discovered a certain cure. The present investigators make no such claim. They do claim, however, that their investigations have been remarkably suggestive.

With Our Contemporaries

MONUMENT TO WEEVIL

Over in an Alabama town there is a monument to the boll weevil. The monument represents the gratitude of that particular community to the insect which forcibly freed it from the shackles of the one crop cotton system, and forced diversified corn, live stock, and other money-making products.

West Texas has been bothered but little by the weevil, but it may some day take similar action for the worm. The farmer who sees his crop disappearing down the voracious maws of these pests may not feel grateful at the moment, but our greatest blessings are sometimes so disguised they are not recognized until long afterward—perhaps not at all.

But a five dollar advance in price due to insect ravages is not an un-mixed evil, at that.—Temple Telegram.

ADOPTING OUR METHODS

King Albert, now financial dictator of Belgium, urgently invited holders of six billion francs of national floating debt, in the form of treasury bonds to exchange them for preferred stock in a corporation formed to take over the state railways. France in a like manner proposes to transfer the business and assets of the national tobacco monopoly to a private corporation, which will issue bonds to pay half the outstanding national debt.

American railroads, under a management that pay $1,000,000 a day in taxes in addition to earning reasonable dividends. These same railroads under 25 months of Federal control during the World War, cost the taxpayers $1,600,000,000 to cover deficits of Federal operation, according to statistics.

American public utilities are owned and controlled by over 2,000,000 stockholders, and collectively pay taxes around $150,000,000 a year.

There is hope for Belgium and France if they will get their industries out of politics, and under private enterprise, allow them to operate on money making and tax paying basis, rather than on the present paternalistic tax consuming plan which impoverishes the nation.—Vernon Record.

A THOUGHT

Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.—Matt. 5:42.

When you ask for a back again, you find a friend made an enemy by your own kindness. If you begin to press still further, either you must part with that which you have intrusted, or else you must lose that friend.—Plautus.

POT LUCK

The kids are left alone awhile, and don't know what to do, 'till Johnny gets a happy hunch, and whispers it to Sue. She listens quite attentively, then says that will be dandy, and soon they're in the kitchen, mixing things for makin' candy.

"Let's see—one cup of sugar, an' a bit of butter, too." Then sister asks her brother what's the next thing they should do. He pours a cup of milk in. He remembers mother's ways. They add a bar of chocolate and put it on the blaze.

They try 'it in some water, an' at last 'it, they're daff. Of course they take their turns at lickin' up the bit that's left. You surely can imagine that the kid's 'er havin' fun. Then suddenly, one shouts aloud, "turn out the fire; it's done."

"Course Johnny does the stirrin' 'till his arm and hand are sore, while sister watches closely. Then she says, 'it's time to pour.' 'Toss fudge they started makin', or some other kind of truck. But what's poured from the cookin' pot is really just pot luck.

THE VANITY CASE

BY CAROLYN WELLS COPYRIGHT 1926 N.E.A.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MRS PRENTISS sees mysterious lights in the Heath household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog over the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune and BUNNY MOORE, beautiful, vivacious, to whom suspicion points because of her strange actions.

Myra Heath never used cosmetics, never wore colors, yet when her body was found she was heavily rouged. She was a collector of glass, and it was a rare old bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet; nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath."

The strange thing about Heath's disappearance is that the windows and doors were locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Fingerprints of Bunny and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Meanwhile TODD HUNTER BUCK, Myra's Prentiss' nephew, has met Bunny and fallen in love with her.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Heath. He phones her again, saying Inman is the murderer. Bunny faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, and Inman confides to Buck that he saw Bunny ascending the stairs after the murder. Mott questions all the servants and tells them to keep quiet.

Anderson invites Cunningham to his house and there, while waiting for his host, Cunningham is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who disappears as mysteriously as he had appeared. Shortly afterward, Anderson comes in, and he reproaches Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXV

"Oh, I suppose it was just the old story of two men and one woman. I don't think the baby girl was on the scene at all. I believe if she was seen coming or going on the stairs, it was after the whole show was over. I believe that Heath and his wife and Inman quarrelled. Then nobody can say just how that thing happened. It might well have been accidental. Perhaps one man attacked the other and Mrs. Heath threw herself between them in an effort to help one or the other, and received herself the blow meant for one of the men."

"I never should have thought of that! But it's darned plausible! I believe that's just what did happen; for that supposing Inman held the bottle, would make Heath loath to appear against him. If Heath knew that Inman killed Mrs. Heath, but did it by accident, by her intercepting the blow meant for Heath, then I can see Perry doing just as he did do. Go away, rather than testify to the truth. But when the girl, Bunny, is implicated, then Heath had to come back and do what he could to save her. Oh, by Jove I see! Heath is sure this story will get to the ears of Inman, and then Inman will know that Heath is on his track and if he doesn't confess, or at least, if Bunny isn't set free of all suspicion, Heath will turn up again, and give Larry what for!"

"Yes, that's logically thought out. Then, in that case the sooner we make public Heath's story, the better. Al, right old man, as you say, it'll keep till morning, anyhow, we'll go to see friend Mott. You must go with me, of course, and we must put it to him straight."

"Shall you go to tell Inman, too?"

"No, I think we'd better let Mott do that. Indeed, I don't see that we need figure in the matter at all except to give the dope to Mott. It's his business after that, and if he doesn't make Larry Inman stand up and take his medicine, then I think Perry-Heath will materialize again. And I hope I'll get a peek at him next time. If he comes to you, tell him I'm crazy to meet him."

"You take it all so lightly, Sam. I believe you have no heart or real emotion."

"I haven't, much to be frank with you. To me, old son this is just a case and interests me only as a story book would. The Heaths, as you know, were very intimate friends of mine, and if I'm interested in the little Bunny, it's only as in a pretty and unprotected child. I scarcely know the girl, personally."

"All right, then old man. See you in the morning. Good night," and Cunningham strolled away.

But if Al Cunningham was not making much headway in his detective work, Todhunter Buck began to feel that he was getting along almost too well.

After Larry Inman had told him of coming downstairs at night and discovering his cousin's dead body, still warm—Buck was miserable with apprehension. It was all very well to assure himself that nothing—no sort or kind of evidence would ever make him believe in the possibility of Bunny's guilt, but even if the girl had no hand in the murder, she must have known about it when she came up stairs, white and trembling, as described by Inman, and with vanity case dangling from her hand.

Much as he wanted to do so, Buck couldn't believe Larry was lying, or even misrepresenting in the slightest degree.

One of Toddy's faculties was a real flair for the truth. All his life, he had almost invariably been able to tell when any one spoke falsely. It was a sort of insight or second-sight, that told him at once of a speaker's insincerity.

This trait of itself, was a strong asset in the matter of detective work, and the only trouble was, it was working against Toddy's own desires and intentions.

He wanted to clear Bunny from the faintest breath of suspicion, but every effort he made seemed to result in further evidence of her implication in the tragedy.

He sat on his aunt's porch in the increasing darkness of the evening. He had almost invariably been able to tell when any one spoke falsely. It was a sort of insight or second-sight, that told him at once of a speaker's insincerity.

He wanted to clear Bunny from the faintest breath of suspicion, but every effort he made seemed to result in further evidence of her implication in the tragedy.

Sales 4,000 bales, 2,400 American. Receipts 2,000 bales, American, 3,000. NEW ORLEANS COTTON NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31. (P)--Although Liverpool cables were better than the cotton market here opened barely steady with first trading showing losses of 2 points to gains of 3 points. The initial showing was attributed to the absence of rains in the belt. The market soon rallied upon publication of two bullish crop reports, one making the condition 52.1 and the crop 14,650,000 bales, the other condition 58.4 and crop 14,280,000 bales. October traded up to 17.8c and December to 17.8c or 19 to 20 points above the opening. Towards the end of the first hour prices eased off 5 to 6 points on realizing. The market ruled quiet all morning and prices fluctuated within the earlier range at 17.25c for both October and December. While professional sentiment continues bearish prices were supported by the unfavorable crop account, evidence of a broadening spot demand and more or less trade buying. Advances from the interior as to the condition of the crop, continues bullish, particularly the report from the south. The market after ruling comparatively quiet for a time after mid-session turned firm under increased trade buying due to later reports of crop deterioration and insect damage. Encouraged by a private crop estimate of 14,610,000 bales all active months made new highs with October and December at 17.59 and January at 17.8c or 19 to 23 points above the early lows and 17 to 24 points above the previous close. Near the beginning of the final hour the market was firm and at the highs.

NEW YORK COTTON NEW YORK, Aug. 31. (P)--The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 4 points and sold up to 17.33 for December before the end of the first hour, the general market showing net advances of 17 to 21 point. The advances met a good deal of realizing and a little southern hedging, but the market was fairly active and firm on buying stimulated by bullish private crop reports, relative to Liverpool cables, further complaints regarding the Egyptian crop outlook, and prospects for further showers in the belt. The early advance extended to 17.33c for December or about 20 to 25 points net higher, but considerable realizing was encountered as prices reapproached the 18 cent level and there were setbacks later in the morning. Except for profit taking offerings were restricted by the prospects for further showers in showers in some parts of the belt and the market showed a steady undertone. At midday December was selling around 17.37c or about 18 to 21 points net higher. Realizing sales were absorbed on mid-day set backs of 8 or 10 points and the market was firm later on renewed covering, which seemed to be prompted by private cotton crop figures. December sold around 17.8c, the market showing net advances of 20 to 25 points.

CHICAGO FUTURES NEW YORK, Aug. 31. (P)--Cotton futures opened steady; October 17.70c; December 17.70c; January 17.78c; March 17.86c; May 18.12c. NEW ORLEANS FUTURES NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31. (P)--Cotton opened steady; October 17.71c; December 17.69c; January 17.64c; March 17.33c.

ESTIMATE MEXICAN COTTON BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 31. (P)--Estimates of the Mexican cotton crop received here today place the total at 325,000 bales, of which about 200,000 bales will be available for export.

CHICAGO REPORT CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (P)--Potatoes steady; Wisconsin sacked round whites 2.00@2.25; Minnesota sacked round whites 1.90@2.20; Idaho sacked early Whites 1.90@2.00; Nebraska, Colorado sacked round 2.10@2.35.

CHICAGO REPORT CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (P)--Wheat, No. 2 red, 1.32 1/4 @ 1.33; No. 2 hard, 1.33 1/4. Corn, No. 2 yellow, 77 1/4 @ 77 3/4; No. 2 white, 77 1/2. Oats, No. 2 white, 38 @ 38 1/2; No. 3 white, 35 3/4 @ 37.

CHICAGO REPORT CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (P)--Influenced by wet weather over the Canadian harvest region wheat averaged a little higher in prices today during the early dealings. Another element of firmness was the fact that September liquidation in all grain had apparently spent its force. Opening 1/2 off to 3/4 wheat rose all around to above yesterday's finish. Corn and oats and provisions were also inclined upward, corn starting unchanged to 1/2c lower but soon scoring a material gain.

WICHITA REPORT WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 31. (P)--Cattle, 1,000; steady; grass fed yearling steers $9.50; grass fed heifers $8.50; 7.50; butcher cows $4.50@5.50; bulls $5.00@5.50; veal calves $12.00. WALL STREET REPORT NEW YORK, Aug. 31. (P)--Heavy buying of the oil and rail shares featured the firm opening of today's stock market. Union Pacific and Texas company opened at new high levels for the year and initial gains of a point or two were recorded by DuPont, Atchafson and General Electric. Blocks of 1,000 to 2,000 shares were quite common in the early trading. The reduction of over $11,000,000 in brokers' loans last week, while not as large as expected in view of the sharp decline in prices, was generally regarded as bullish. The large volume of funds available yesterday despite the heavy month end demands, also tended to encourage pool operations on the theory that if a stringency does occur at this time it will only be temporary. Oil gave one of the best demonstrations of group strength. Standard Oil of California being elevated to a new high. Atchafson, Missouri Pacific and Delaware and Hudson being added to the list of new 1926 highs before the end of the first half hour. Tobaccos started upward again under leadership of tobacco products, which was quickly bid up to a new maximum quotation. Foreign exchanges opened firm, French francs jumping six points over night to around 2.93 1/2 cents, the highest price since the Poincare government took office. Demand sterling ruled firm around $4.84 3/4.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE NEW YORK, Aug. 31. (P)--Foreign exchanges firm; Great Britain demand 4.84 1/2; cables 4.85 1/2; sixty day bills on banks 4.80 1/2-1 1/2. France demand 2.93, cables 2.94; Italy demand 3.25 1/2; Belgium 2.78 1/2; Germany 23.1; Tokyo 48.12 1/2; Montreal 109.17 3/16.

1212 AVENUE J.

Paso, Grayson, Harris, Travis, Hunt, Potter, Hidalgo, Johnson, Bell, Jefferson, and Tarrant, Moody received 136,845 votes and Governor Ferguson 37,587. A majority of over 99,000 votes in thirteen counties. As is well known, every one of these counties are big Klan controlled counties, with the exception of Bexar county, and it is now not denied of course, that the 9,000 majority polled against the Governor there was the result of the political boss of that town having made a coalition with the Ku Klux to vote for Moody. Every Ku Klux in San Antonio and there are at least 5,000 of them voted for Moody.

Willing To Cooperate
"If Mr. Moody is finally elected, the people will have a chance to try out the virtues of the invisible government and no stones should be thrown in the way to give the people an economic administration of their affairs. So far as I am personally concerned, I am willing to cooperate toward the purpose of governmental efficiency, and if the opposition wants peace, it is in their power to have it. I understand that always in political campaigns temper and feeling run high. Many intemperate expressions are indulged in that are properly forgotten after the election, or at least, should be.

EXCHANGE HOLDS FIRST MEETING IN NEW HOTEL

The Exchange Club of Lubbock enjoyed one of the best programs since organization several weeks ago, when it met in regular weekly session in the coffee shop of the new Lubbock Hotel Tuesday at noon. The meeting, originally planned for the banquet hall of the hotel, was held in the coffee shop due to certain technicalities in connection with the building that prevented opening of the banquet hall. Lunch was served in the coffee shop, and following this, the group adjourned to the mezzanine floor where the program was conducted. W. C. Rylander, Kiwanian, brought a tribute from his club to the newly organized civic body and on behalf of the Kiwanis Club, wished Exchange much success.

One of the most enjoyable features of the program, and a feature that to date the club has been forced to do without, was a solo selection and encore by Miss Theresa Lemmon, daughter of Dr. W. N. Lemmon, member of the club, with accompaniment by Miss Louise Jennings.

Dr. V. V. Clark, another Kiwanian, and visitor to Exchange meeting, spoke a few words of encouragement to the membership, saying that there is need for the organization and that the other two similar clubs in the city have repeatedly voiced their sentiments and best wishes for another active club.

It was announced that all meetings in the future will be held in the new hotel, and that arrangements will be completed by the hotel management for the luncheon in the banquet hall next Tuesday.

LOCAL LEGION OFFICIAL GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY

MARTIN HART FETED BY LEGIONNAIRES HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Allen Bros. Post No. 148, local unit of the American Legion, and the Auxiliary, have bid farewell to the Adjutant and Secretary respectively of the two organizations. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hart were honor guests Monday night at two separate functions one sponsored by the Legion, and one by the Auxiliary who were held at the officers' home in Amarillo.

Mr. Hart was feted at the private dining room of the Tech cafe when about a dozen energetic members of the Post gathered to show their appreciation of the work done by him for the Legion since coming to Lubbock the first of the year, and to express their regrets at his departure.

Post Commander H. D. Woods paid high tribute to Mr. Hart and his efforts on behalf of the Legion here, saying that Mr. Hart was largely responsible for the forward strides made by the Post this year. Homer L. Pharr spoke briefly on behalf of the Post as a whole thanking Mr. Hart for his efforts, and included in his talk a nice tribute to Commander Woods.

Mr. Hart responded with a few words of thanks, saying that he would never forget the many favors shown especially by the Legion, closing with the remark that he will not be very far away, and hopes to have the privilege of meeting with the Post here often.

Commander Woods then called a short business session, and announced that a nominating committee would place the name of Vaughn E. Wilson before the Legion at its next regular meeting Monday night as a successor to Mr. Hart.

One other important matter brought up for discussion was the possibility of erecting a permanent home for the Legion here. Round table discussion was engaged in, but definite action was held up pending further investigation of the situation. Such a place, if the opinion of Legion officials, will do more to cement the spirit of comradeship and perpetuate the ideals of the Legion than any other one thing, and it is the avowed plan to proceed with plans for the home as soon as possible although a plan for financing the institution has not yet been worked out. Mr. Hart, an attorney, has been following his profession since coming to Lubbock several months ago, and will pursue his legal aspirations at Amarillo.

County's First Bale of Cotton Brought In

Another record has been broken in Lubbock county. O. A. Roberts, one of the county's most progressive farmers who lives about 15 miles northwest of this city brought in a bale of cotton Tuesday morning that, so far as records show, is the first bale ever ginned in the county during August. The bale weighed 385 pounds, and was ginned by the Farmers Gin at Shallowater late Monday evening.

Falling to get an offer on the bale in Lubbock, it was taken back to Shallowater, and was bought by T. C. Calley, gin man of that place for 20c. It is understood that a premium has been offered at Shallowater.

Coleman-Putman Case Called In Court Here

The case of M. M. Coleman vs. J. A. Putman, involving a half section of Plain land, was called in civil district court here Tuesday morning. The case was tried here in 1924, and judgment rendered by the Court favoring the plaintiff, but upon appeal the decision was reversed and remanded, and the case is now in its second trial. It was said by court attaches that the case probably will consume two or three days. Four days were consumed in the first hearing.

French Refusal To Spain Is Complete

PARIS, Aug. 31. (AP)—France's reply to the recent Spanish memorandum flatly rejects the demand by the Madrid government that the international district of Tangier be included in the Spanish zone of Morocco. While rejecting the Spanish demand, the note is couched in sympathetic terms and recalls that French and Spanish soldiers were brothers in arms against a common foe in the Rif for many months.

The reply is understood to express surprise that the Spanish demand should have been presented to Italy, which, it says has an interest in Morocco.
