Arabs To Invade Holy Land

Defense Head Doubts War Is Imminent

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 26—Secretary of Defense Forrestal said today that he doesn't think war is imminent. If it were, he said, he'd be asking $25,000,000,000 from Congress instead of $3,481,000,000.

The head of the nation's defense establishment found himself in the odd position of arguing against giving the military more funds than the lower figure.

He borrowed an old figure of speech on extreme preparedness: "If you leave it to the military, they'll fortify the moon."

66-Group Plan Favored

Forrestal testified before the Senate Appropriations committee in support of a program to increase the Air force from 50 to 66 groups. The House has voted for a 70-group force.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) asked the secretary if he considered a 70-group force as "fortifying the moon." Forrestal said he didn't, that he would like to have such a force in being.

He added, however, that the smaller force, balanced with Army and Navy power, is designed to get "the best military results if our budget is to be limited."

The $3,481,000,000 figure would be on top of the $11,000,000,000 armed forces budget for the year beginning July 1.

O'Daniel Asks War Question

Forrestal said that in view of inflation perils, military expenditures must be limited unless Congress slaps controls on prices and supplies.

Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas) said the people are concerned about the huge public debt. He said they are even more concerned over statements by military figures that "we are getting closer to war."

If the high command thought war was imminent, Forrestal replied, "we probably would be asking for about $25,000,000,000 in the first bite." That would be for the first year and he said the second year might call for another $25,000,000,000.

He said, however, "I do think we are in a state of tension which may last many years."

Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, said in confidential testimony which was made public Sunday that the chance of war with

Housekeepers Given 'Bird' By Plumbers On Housing Project

CHICAGO, April 26. (AP)—Some sentimental plumbers gave the bird today to a number of Chicagoans waiting to feather their nests.

The Chicagoans are awaiting completion of some apartments now under construction on the northwest side. They were stymied by a robin.

Mama robin established squatter's rights by building a nest smack on top of the open end of the apartments' main water pipe. As a clincher, three blue eggs appeared.

Work on the plumbing system stopped. The plumbers refuse to connect the pipe until the eggs are hatched and the little ones strong enough to fly on their own.

Deadline Set Saturday For All-Out Blow

JERUSALEM, April 26 — The regular armies of Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Egypt will launch an invasion of Palestine by Saturday, advices reaching Jerusalem tonight said.

A dispatch from Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, said King Abdullah personally will take the field against the Jews at the head of the armies of Trans-Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

Moving with him will be Egyptian army units which will cross the Holy Land's southern frontier in a coordinated action. The Egyptian command will be closely allied to Abdullah it was said.

Arab Leaders Alarmed

Arab informants in Cairo said Iraq and Saudi Arabia also have decided to throw their regular military forces into the fight to prevent the Jews from establishing a state of their own in the Holy Land.

Arab leaders reportedly are alarmed by the extent of recent Jewish military successes. Arab peoples in the Middle East have been inflamed by the arrival of Arab refugees from Palestine.

An invasion of the Holy Land by regular army troops would defy the British mandate, which is not scheduled to end until May 15, and the United Nations Security Council, which has ordered a truce in Palestine.

Troops Dispatched

The Cairo accounts said King Abdullah already has dispatched reinforcements of Trans-Jordan's Arab legion to Palestine.

The 15,000 legionnaires are well disciplined troops. British trained and adequately equipped, they are regarded as superior to the Arab volunteer forces which thus far have engaged the Jews in the Holy Land. Approximately 10,000 legionnaires already are in Palestine on security duty with the British.

The accounts telling of the massing of Arab armies on Palestine's boundaries came as 500 Arab volunteers rushed into strategic Alamein camp on the southern edge of Jerusalem and occupied it without firing a shot.

The volunteers made their move tonight as the last elements of the British Suffolk regiment pulled out. Members of Haganah, the

Move To Drop Tax Wins Test In House

Blow Is Struck For Repeal Of Oleo Tax

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 26—Northern city Republicans today teamed with southern Democrats and struck a blow for oleo.

When the shouting and tumult died away in the House, it was found that oleo had won a major round over butter, 235 to 121.

It was a day which produced a little of everything, including a proposal that margarine should be put up in tricky triangular packages.

House Okay Seen

The test itself was on a rather technical issue. Officially, the House voted to discharge its Agriculture committee from further consideration of bills to repeal federal taxes on oleo.

This means that the committee no longer can shelve the bills—as it previously had decided to do by a vote to 16 to 10.

It also means that the House, judging from today's vote, soon will pass a bill cancelling taxes on oleo. Debate was limited to three hours, with the final vote tentatively set for Wednesday.

It does not mean that the housewife soon may go to her favorite grocery store and buy her margarine already colored.

For the bill still must pass the Senate and then get President Truman's okay. And even if this is done, there still are more than 20 states with their own taxes and restrictions on oleo.

Generally the southern Democrats are yammering at their northern city brethren, and vice versa.

But it was a different story today.

The South had its interest: Cotton, peanuts, soybean and corn oil go into margarine.

The urban north had its interests; Housewives have protested to Congress they don't want to color their oleo any more.

The breakdown showed 139 Democrats, 94 Republicans and two American Labor party members from New York supporting the oleo cause.

Against it were 112 Republic-

Workers Call New Strikes

(By The Associated Press)

THE flow of beer from six major breweries in Milwaukee stopped Monday when CIO Brewery Workers called a strike in support of a demand for a 40-cent hourly wage increase.

About one-third of the unionists stayed on the job, however, to prevent spoilage of the brew. The present scale is $57 for a 40-hour week.

A 26-day bus strike in Akron, O., halted today when members of the International Association of Machinists (Ind) accepted a 15-cent hourly hike and fringe benefits offered by the Akron Transportation company. The CIO bus drivers accepted similar terms Saturday night.

Mine Pensions Delayed

Busses will roll tomorrow, but tokens and weekly passes will cost the public more.

A streetcar and bus tie-up was threatened in New York City by the CIO Transport Workers' union if demands for a 30-cent an hour wage hike are not resolved by the end of the week. The dispute involved five companies serving 3,350,000 passengers a day.

The United Mine workers were back in force manning the soft coal pits Monday, but the start of pension benefits was held up by opposition of coal operators. It was the pension dispute which sent the UMW members out of the mines March 15.

Railmen Negotiate

A strike of 10,000 CIO Fur and Leather workers against 750 New York firms become effective today. Most of the affected shops have been closed, however, since April 2 in what manufacturers termed a seasonal doldrums. About 600 shops were not affected by the strike over contract demands of the union.

In Chicago, three operating unions and railroad management continued negotiations as a 30-day cooling off period drew to a close. The brotherhoods, representing engineers, firemen and switchmen, will be free to strike after midnight, but union sources indicated there would be no immediate strike action.

The unions have rejected a 15½ cent hourly wage increase recommendation of a federal fact-finding board which the railroads accepted.

John L. Lewis failed to get his $100-a-month miners' pension plan rolling at a two-hour meeting of welfare fund trustees.

Police Corps In Palestine Urged

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, April 26 — France is reported sponsoring the creation of a heavily-armed volunteer United Nations elite police corps to safeguard Jerusalem. The proposal is said to have tentative approval of Jews and Arabs as well as a number of delegates.

The 500-to-800 man force as suggested by France might include at least 100 New York police volunteers, but no Russians if the western powers could exclude them.

Others could be drawn from among London bobbies, British Palestine forces, French mobile guards, and trained police from other countries around the globe.

Red Troops Not Wanted

Fifty Palestine policemen have notified the UN they would join such a force.

Observers speculated that any Russian volunteers might be kept off the proposed force through a screening process that would weed out undesirables on a basis of individual qualifications. The United States and other nations have been reported anxious to keep Russian troops out of any international force sent to Palestine.

The UN police would be equip-

More Than 30 Persons Injured In Red-Inspired Korean Riots

By JOHN RICH

OSAKA, (Japan) April 26—More than 30 persons were injured, three seriously, when a crowd of between 8,000 and 10,000 Koreans mobbed the Osaka prefectural government building tonight in a flareup of the Communist-inspired weekend rioting in Osaka and Kobe.

Four thousand Japanese police fired their pistols into the air and turned firehoses into the mob to break it up as it sought to rush the building. Three persons, however, were hit and seriously injured when police shot into the crowd.

Jails Are Jammed

Meanwhile, jails in the twin port cities of Kobe and Osaka were jammed by more than 1,200 suspected riot ringleaders and agitators rounded up during the day by Japanese police and U. S. Army troops. The arrested included several known Japanese and Korean Communists and Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, U. S Eighth army commander, charged that the riots were definitely Communist instigated.

The commander of the U. S. occupation troops, who flew from Tokyo to investigate the rioting personally, said after a day of inquiry:

"I was not sure yesterday but I an sure today that the Communists inspired these riots.

Red Leaders Arrested

"We have now under arrest in Kobe seven self-confessed Japanese Communists who have been positively identified as being involved in the Kobe incident. Further we have photographs of known Communists shown in the riot which took place at the governor's office in Osaka."

The Osaka flareup broke out anew after a three-hour conference between five Korean leaders and the prefectural governor failed to solve the Korean-Japanese educational difficulties which touched off the rioting Friday.

Gen. Eichelberger said that 800 Korean men and 100 Korean women were arrested, but other sources placed the arrests, including those made by Japanese police, as high as 1,200. The Korean women were later released.

The mass arrests, first of the occupation, jammed the jails and American negro troops in Kobe guarded the overflow placed in a vacant building.

Meanwhile, road blocks were established by American military and Japanese police around the cities, turning back several thousand Koreans who sought to enter by train and truck to join in the demonstrations.

Scores were injured in the ear-

Police Get New Lead On Gunman

DETROIT, April 26. (INS)—Detroit police hunting the ambush assailant of UAW-CIO chief Walter P. Reuther tonight went on the trail of a man alleged to have been "gunning" for Reuther the night he was shot.

Detroit Police Commissioner Harry S. Troy said the tip, supplied by a minor union official, will involve an out-of-town investigation.

The alleged gun-toter purportedly was after the red-haired labor leader before he was shot in his home Tuesday night

Ex-Union Officials Quizzed

Investigators also began a name-by-name check of UAW officials who left their posts after Reuther gained control of the union.

Approximately 150 names of former employes were supplied by the union executive board.

Detectives continued to follow the theory that the would-be assassin who felled 40-year-old Reuther in his home last Tuesday may have been one of the labor leader's political enemies within the union.

Carl Bolton, 37-year-old former UAW leader, was the latest of many ex-officials questioned by police. An ex-convict, Bolton was picked up yesterday.

The unsolved shooting also created an upheaval within the Detroit Common council when the corporation counsel's office ruled the lawmakers "exceeded their authority" in offering $10,000 for

Reds Lose In German Vote

By TOM AGOSTON
INS Staff Correspondent

FRANKFURT, April 26.—Communism was rejected and the Democratic center scored a clear-cut victory today in returns from Sunday's local elections in two states of the American occupation zone in Germany.

A strong rightist tendency also was noted in the results, which followed quickly on the heels of the Communist setback in Italy last week.

German Communists were running sixth in Bavaria and fourth in Hesse on the basis of incomplete returns.

Record Vote Set

German voters streamed to the polls to drown the Communist bid in record balloting, much as Italian voters defeated the Communists in Italy's record national elections April 18.

Two-and-a-half million votes were cast in Bavaria where returns available this evening gave the conservative Christian Social union a solid lead, with 43.4 percent of the total.

The Social Democrats were second with 22 percent.

The Communists were in sixth place with 2.7 percent.

Moderate and left Socialist candidates were leading in Hesse on the basis of early returns. Of the more than two million eligible voters, 81.2 percent cast ballots.

The Christian Democrats were in second place at this stage, the rightist Liberal Democrats were third, and behind them came the Communists.

Slav, Italian Killed In Border Shooting

VENICE, Italy, April 26 (AP)—A Yugoslav officer and an Italian soldier were killed, and three Italian soldiers were wounded today in an exchange of shots between Italian and Yugoslav patrols in Venezia Guilia, Italian military officials reported tonight.

The report said the shooting occurred today in the commune of Grimacco in Udine, northwest of the free territory of Triest.

The Italian fire killed the commander of the Yugoslav patrol, the report said.

The shooting occurred near Rauna Di Luico, a village on the border of Italian and Yugoslav occupied territory.

It began, the report said, when the Italian patrol of 18 officers and men reached a point which the Italian commander considered Italian territory. The wooden marker at that point had been shifted by the Yugoslavs, the report said.

Suddenly a burst of machine gun fire came from the Yugoslav patrol, striking the four Italian soldiers and killing one man instantly. The Italians returned the fire immediately.

Famed Speed Flier Sets New Burbank-To-Houston Record

HOUSTON, April 26 (AP)—Paul Mantz, famed speed flier, arrived here at the Municipal airport at 3:0956 p. m. three hours and six minutes and 36 seconds after taking off from Burbank, Calif., 1360 miles away.

Mantz had hoped to cover the distance in three hours and 20 minutes but bested this by 13 minutes and 24 seconds.

Mantz was flying his famous P51 mustang with which he has won two Bendix air races and established other records. His average speed was 435.6 miles per hour, it was said.

Vandenberg Bluntly Warns Russian Leader

Solon Says U.S. Will Not Give In To Reds

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 26—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said tonight he wants to tell Premier Stalin of Russia that "underlying everything else we shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, made an unexpected speech at a Michigan congressional dinner.

His comments followed a proposal by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) that a test case be brought to determine the legality of the Communist party in America.

"Munich" Unacceptable

"We are suicidal fools if we do not root out any treason at home which may dream of bringing world revolution to the United States," Vandenberg said.

The United States he added cannot accept a "Munich peace" because appeasors "merely precipitate the very disasters from which they seek to flee."

While reiterating the nation's desire for peace, Vandenberg said "we are realists. We do not propose to be isolated in a world that has been communized by force."

Wallace Scored

With emphasis, he also said "it cannot be a Wallace peace because the Communist fraternity sooner or later produces but one kind of fraternity—the kind Jonah enjoyed when he was swallowed by the whale."

Henry A. Wallace, third party candidate for president, has sharply criticized the bi-partisan foreign policy of which Vandenberg is a chief spokesman.

Ferguson told the gathering that on the assumption that the Communists are working for the violent overthrow of the government of this country, it appears that a 1940 law prohibits Communism in America.

Urging a test case against the national secretariat of the U. S. Communist party, Ferguson said if the case is successful, it would "destroy many of the Communist front organizations which plague us."

Vandenberg referred to the enactment of the European recovery program and said the outcome of the Italian elections last week "demonstrated some of the wholesome possibilities" of such help.

The senator emphasized the United States' willingness to cooperate with Russia in achieving a just peace, but, he said, "we cannot be driven or coerced into positions we decline to assume."

Pennsylvanians To Ballot Today

PHILADELPHIA, April 26. (AP)—Pennsylvania voters get their chance to say who they want for President tomorrow, but it's only a straw-in-the-wind affair.

Only President Truman's name is entered in Democratic or Republican primaries but ballot space for write-in votes offers a sampling of sentiment on top contenders. A 30 per cent vote is expected.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey dominated the write-in popularity contest four years ago then went on to win the Republican presidential nomination.

Vote Not Binding

The preferential vote is not binding on pivotal Pennsylvania's big block of delegates to the nominating conventions. The Republican delegation of 73 is unpledged while the Democratic state organization is backing President Truman. The Democrats have 74 delegates.

Prospects of a light vote stem from lack of statewide primary contests and only scattered sectional disputes.

Both parties pick convention delegates, nominate candidates for auditor general and state treasurer, all 33 U. S. representatives, 25 or half the state senate and all 208 state representatives.

There are 2,676,972 registered Republicans and 1,779,096 Democrats.

Court Orders Halt To Unusual Will

(By International News Service)

RICHMOND, Va., April 26.—The Virginia Supreme court of appeals today called a halt to the weekly delivery of "one perfect rose" to the sweetheart of an aviator killed during the war.

The high state tribunal ruled that the will of Tech. Sergeant Valentine Browne Lawless was improperly worded and that he could not, in effect, reach from the grave to put a "perfect rose" each week in the hands of the girl he loved for three years before Pearl Harbor.

Justice C. Vernon Spratle declared in the Appeals Court opinion that the two brothers and one sister of Lawless were entitled to equal benefits under his will.

It was decided that the approximately $3,600 left for what Lawless termed a "special surprise" should be used at the discretion of the three survivors.

Lawless had written a brother after joining the Air Forces that in event he did not return that the brother was to see that a perfect rose was delivered to the girl of his dreams each week.

Officers Probe 'Mystery' Case

Police last night were investigating the mysterious discovery of a woman found in a doped condition lying beside the road on the Brownfield highway. Also under investigation were two cases of assault and numerous other offenses.

The woman, about 37 years old, was found one mile from the city limits about 6:30 p. m. yesterday. She was mentally incoherent, and a witness told of seeing a man standing over her bod before officers found her deserted.

Description Of Car Given

A passing motorist told officers that she had seen a man standing beside his car nudging the woman with his foot as she lay on the ground. Shortly afterwards, the man drove off toward Brownfield in what appeared to be a green 1936 Hudson, the witness told the highway patrol.

Another motorist, J. G. McClusky, of Jones Trailer courts, stopped when he saw the victim lying on the ground and after the driver of the Hudson had departed. Officers also arrived soon afterwards.

They said the woman had a black coat spread over her body. Beside her was a green purse and a half carton of Bull Durham with

Pan-American Delegates Work Overtime To Wind Up Parley

BOGOTA, April 26 (INS)—Delegates to the riot-disrupted ninth Pan-American conference in Bogota worked overtime on incompleted business tonight in an effort to wind up the parley Friday.

The conferees today chose Caracas, Venezuela, as the site of the next inter-American conference scheduled for 1953.

Many delegation chiefs already have departed from the Colombian capital and Argentina's Juan Bramuglia—one of the most active figures at the meetings—left by an Argentine military plane this morning. United States Secretary of State Marshall quit the parley Friday.

The consensus in conference circles is that the conferees will complete the formal work by Wednesday with final ceremonies for signing the parley instruments tentatively set for Friday.

Supreme Court Outlaws Cement Industry's System Of Prices

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The cement industry's "basing point" system of prices—under which all mills charge the same prices in any one market, no matter how far the mill is from that market—was outlawed today by the Supreme court.

The ruling, which upheld an order by the Federal Trade commission, may have a far-reaching effect on other prices in heavy industry in cases where a common system of delivered prices is in effect.

In particular FTC officials expected it to have a strong bearing on a case against the American Iron and Steel institute and its members, who are the country's leading steelmakers. This case still is in the hearing stage.

Glamorous Lana Turner, Tinplate Heir Topping Are Married In Super-Colossal Hollywood Style

By RUTH BRIGHAM
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 26—Lana Turner and tinplate heir Bob Topping were married today in a super-colossal Hollywood wedding that at one point proved so unnerving to the bride she burst into tears.

It was the fourth wedding for both the movieland sweater queen and for Topping, but Lana vowed that "this time it's for keeps" and a friend quoted her as saying she would "quit the movies if my career interferes with my marriage."

The glamorous Lana, a dream in champagne lace and an ankle-length satin gown, and the chubby, 34-year-old Topping became man and wife in a six-minute wedding at the home of best man W. R. "Billy" Wilkerson.

It was Wilkerson who announced that Miss Turner will get out of the movies if that's the only way she can stay Mrs. Topping for the rest of her life.

Lana's burst of tears occurred while photographers' bulbs were flashing just after the ceremony.

Sobbing into a handkerchief, the actress beseeched:

"Let's get off a little while, won't you? No more pictures right now."

The distraught bride was helped gently upstairs where she collapsed on a bed. But she came back down half an hour later and smilingly greeted guests.

Fourth Time For Each

The most ballyhooed Hollywood wedding since Shirley Temple and John Agar were hitched several years ago was the climax of a widely-heralded romance.

It was the fourth time the principals had taken marital vows—but Lana was trembling from the soles of her $90 shoes to the tip of her lacquered blonde hair-do.

Lana was nervous. Twice she

Charge Of Contempt Urged For Harriman

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Rep. Busbey (R-Ill) proposed today that W. Averell Harriman, former secretary of commerce, be brought before the House on contempt charges punishable by imprisonment.

Busbey also said in a statement that President Truman has "defied the will of Congress" in the case of Dr. Edward U. Condon. He said the President has had a part in "unholy acts of resistance to orderly processes of government."

The congressman proposed contempt action against Harriman for having withheld from the House an FBI loyalty report on Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards.

PEACE TOP ISSUE, PEDDY SAYS

Houston Attorney, Campaigning For U. S. Senate, Visits Lubbock

World peace is the paramount issue in the U. S. Senate race. That was the opinion advanced Monday by George Peddy, U. S. Senate candidate speaking before Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce members at a luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

Peddy, a Houston lawyer campaigning for W. Lee O'Daniel's Senate spot, arrived in Lubbock Sunday, visited informally with several friends, and called on prominent businessmen Monday morning, concluding his local visit with the luncheon speech.

Holds Press Conference

"I have strong feelings about the international situation," Peddy said in a press conference at the Hilton at 11 a. m. yesterday, a statement he repeated in the talk to the Jaycees. "Until a powerful United Nations can be built up, I believe that it is vital to our security and to world peace that our military strength be quickly restored and that we aid the nations of western Europe who are resisting the encroachments of Communism."

Peddy declared he believed the way out of our difficulties is to administer the Marshall plan wisely and to back it up with military strength.

"We don't have any oceans any more," he declared, "we're neighbor to neighbor with all the people of the world and isolationism that deceived us after World War I must not be allowed to gain foothold as it did before.

World Looked To Us

"When President Woodrow Wilson proposed his League of Nations, the world looked to us in hope and prayer to point the way to peace . . . They would have followed our lead . . .

"But that little group of isolationists took over and later they became economists and created an impossible economic situation in Europe that eventually led to world-wide depression and rise of the two dictators, Mussolini and Hitler.

"Those same economists who created that world situation, disbanded our army, sunk our battleships and reduced this nation to a state of military helplessness and impotency."

Peddy berated those who make light of the inferiority of Russian regimentation. "It's the same kind of talk we heard before the war and that sort of thinking will lead this nation to destruction," he said.

"Unwise and vacillating piece meal policy either on the economic or military front will be disastrous," Peddy said. "And we must awaken to the fact that Western Europe is not the only danger spot—that it will profit us little if we close the front door in Europe to the spread of Communism and leave our back door in China and the Far East open to Russian aggression.

"To build a strong America," Peddy says, "we should inaugurate the draft to bring our Army, Navy and Air Force up to authorized strength. This should be followed with passage of Universal military training to show the world that America will stand behind her commitments.

Strength Necessary

"Only through strength can we bring Russia to the conference table to plan World peace," he said.

The Houstonian, an overseas veteran of both world wars, said he was adamant against use of any hill-billy bands, shows or other cheap ballyhoo to stimulate his campaign.

"The decisions made in the U. S. Senate during the next six years will determine the destiny of America for generations to come, perhaps for eternity. In light of our serious position in an international struggle that means our very survival, I cannot allow myself to resort to any medicine show tricks."

The candidate visited here for the first time in 26 years, his last trip being in 1922 when he got 140,000 votes in a write-in campaign for the Senate.

Peddy was introduced by Marion Key. Prior to his talk, M. B. Morgan, Austin, state labor commissioner, spoke briefly, explaining the various duties of the commissioner's office. Teddy Waldrep was introduced as a new member. Pat Smith, Houston, was another out-of-town guest at the luncheon.

Chicago's Mother Of Year Once Saved Colorado Child's Life

CHICAGO, April 26 (INS) — Mrs. A. L. Elder, a gray-haired La Grange, Ill., woman in her mid-fifties, was honored today as Chicago's mother of the year. That's news which should prove of interest to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guys of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Last August Mrs. Elder saved the life of the Guys' year-old daughter. She administered artificial respiration to the child for two hours, the time it took for a doctor to reach the baby which had fallen into an icy mountain stream.

Officials who picked Mrs. Elder for the honor didn't know anything about the heroic role she played in the life of the Guys family.

Mrs. Elder, the mother of a 16-year-old boy and a girl of 21, was chosen because of her community welfare work. During 1947 the La Grange woman gave 1,680 hours of her time in volunteer service to her community.

She is a Camp Fire girl leader and an instructor in the suburban Chicago community.

Mrs. Elder received a $100 diamond pin and two dozen roses.

The average yearly rainfall on Formosa is between 75 and 80 inches.

Fort Worth Airport Funds Are Approved

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The Senate today approved $2,608,000 for construction of the greater Fort Worth International airport.

The money was included in funds voted for the Commerce department for the year beginning July 1.

The House cut the funds from the money bill it passed and also specifically prohibited use of any appropriations under the measure for the airport. The Senate deleted that prohibition.

Now the measure goes to conference between the House and Senate. Rep. Stefan (R-Neb.) who heads the House conferees, has told reporters he favors the money for Fort Worth.

$10,000 Suit Filed By Man Hurt In Kansas City Fight

KANSAS CITY, Kans., April 26 (INS)—A casualty in Friday's Kansas City meat strike violence today filed suit against the city for $10,000 damages under Kansas mob law.

The plaintiff, John Watrack, said he suffered injuries to his jaw, back and shoulders during the battle between club-swinging police and striking CIO-United Packinghouse workers.

Watrack, 58, said he was waiting for a bus in front of the union hall and had done nothing to provoke the attack. The union hall was wrecked in the fighting.

Under Kansas law anyone suffering injury from a mob, classified as five or more persons, may sue the supervising government for failure to provide protection.

Newsmen Ask Army To Clarify Directive

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 26 (AP)—American correspondents in Germany sought a further answer today to the question: "Is the U. S. Army trying to put new curbs on news?"

The new official answer from Gen. Lucius D. Clay's office in Berlin was "no." Dissatisfied, a majority of the correspondents in this Army headquarters voted to write Clay for clarification.

The Army's public information chief in Germany, Col. David M. Fowler, said there appeared to be a misunderstanding.

The cause of the dispute is a recent Army directive which says officers can refuse to issue information on "unclassified matters not of public interest, or of a privileged nature."

Old Order Rewritten

"Unclassified" is a stamp put on odd Army affairs which the Army does not regard as secret. Correspondents said today they recognized the right of the Army to stamp "secret" on matters which might threaten the Army's security, but they asked:

"What right does the Army have to decide what unclassified matters are, or are not, of public interest?"

The directive was issued April 9. Fowler said he rewrote it from an old directive which had been in force two years and which gave only two reasons for withholding information. These reasons were security and "information which would materially injure good relations with our allies." In the new order, the second reason was changed to "matters under diplomatic study."

"What this country amounts to depends on what happens to its homes" . . . That's why the life insurance companies and their agents are bringing you this series of messages from the nation's foremost authorities, to help you plan for happiness in the handling of your family money. (This is Message No. 35.)

Should wives work, too?

Every minute counts when you run a home and a job!

Can a wife have a paying job and a happy home, too? A well-known authority points out some facts that should be considered in each case

By FRANK J. HERTEL
General Director, Family Service Association of America

FRANK J. HERTEL

MORE THAN ONE IN FOUR American workers is a woman . . . and about one in three of these women workers is married! Some wives plan to work just a short time to earn extra money for the family. Others work because they enjoy their careers. Most of them must work to make ends meet.

Can wives work and run happy homes, too? In many cases, yes . . . but it takes careful management. Let's look at a recent case in which the advice of one of our family counselors was sought.

When Helen and Bob Bates (not their real names, of course), set up their home, they had to go pretty heavily in debt. Helen wanted to go to work for a while to help out, but Bob argued that "a woman's place is in the home." Helen finally persuaded Bob to talk it over with a counselor, and he felt better about her working after discussing the pro's and con's. They asked us how other couples went about it.

Both must do their part

We told Helen that a job and housework can be tiring—and that tired bodies can cause short tempers. That was something to guard against.

Work it out together!

We told Bob that he would have to give up some home comforts, and would have to help around the house.

How much extra money? We advised them not to count on all of Helen's pay as extra income. That's because her job would involve expenses that she would not have as a full-time housewife.

Who spends what? The best rule, we said, is to think of both pay checks as "our" money . . . and to manage it through a family budget, reserving small sums for each for personal spending.

Part-time work? If the wife finds her load too heavy, she might consider part-time work—often a good solution if she is a mother. Or perhaps she can find a less tiring job. Or perhaps there are still more short cuts in housework the wife can use?

Set a goal! In a case like Helen and Bob's, all the wife's income should not be used for day-to-day living costs. Some should be saved regularly for a definite goal. Helen and Bob figured that if she kept her job for two years, they could pay off their debt. After that they could decide if she would become a full-time housewife.

The important thing, in every case, is for the husband and wife to sit down and discuss the question fully . . . with facts, not emotions!

What's your actual money gain?

Don't expect the wife's entire salary to be extra income! To figure how much you both are really ahead, subtract from her pay:

1. extra money spent on clothes, carfare, lunch, laundry, pressing, etc.
2. addition to income tax
3. cost of substitute care for children and house
4. what she'd save as a full-time housewife, by more careful marketing, etc.

How to PLAN for Family Happiness

• Planning a smooth-running household when both husband and wife work is only part of sound money planning. You'll be more likely to have enough money on hand when you need it if you'll follow these few simple rules:

FOR TODAY . . . The first thing, for most families, is to take care of the larger fixed items such as rent, taxes, insurance, mortgage and installment payments, etc. So start by adding up all your fixed items for the year, divide by 52, and set aside that amount weekly.

Also, every family should have a "rainy day" fund equal to at least four weeks' income. Set aside a little every week until you have that much. Then you'll know how much you can spend for food, clothing, heat, light, amusement, and so forth.

FOR TOMORROW . . . We live in a changing world. Family needs and circumstances change . . . living costs . . . taxes. If you have not had your life insurance program reviewed lately, the chances are 2 to 1 that it should be brought up to date.

There are so many ways in which you can use your life insurance that you should have the life insurance you now own checked to see if it is suited to your needs. This is a service that comes with your life insurance.

The person best equipped to help you with this is the well-trained life insurance agent. Get in touch with your agent, or write your life insurance company. INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE, 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

New Tension Between U. S. And Yugoslavia Seen In 'Request'

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Further tension in United States-Yugoslavian relations appeared likely today in the wake of a Belgrade proposal that activities of the American consulate at Zagreb be curtailed.

Official sources indicated that the U. S. can be expected to shut down Yugoslavian consulates in New York and Chicago in reprisal if the U. S. Zagreb consulate is closed. Zagreb is the only Yugoslavian city outside of Belgrade where the U. S. maintains diplomatic officers.

Housing Said Reason

U. S. Ambassador Cavendish Cannon reported to the State department that Marshal Tito's government has asked the American embassy to give consideration to a reduction in U. S. personnel at the Zagreb consulate.

A housing shortage was cited as the reason for the Yugoslav request. An American consul, two vice consuls and six American clerks are at Zagreb. In addition, ten Yugoslavs are employed in various minor capacities. Aside from the consular branch of the Belgrade embassy, this government is otherwise unrepresented in Yugoslavia.

Officially, the State department announced that the request was only 'under consideration."

It can be stated authoritatively, however, that should the Zagreb consulate be forced to fold up, Yugoslav offices in the United States—aside from the Washington embassy—could expect similar treatment.

Officials Attend Trials

Tito's New York consulate is manned by three diplomatic officers; that in Chicago, by two. Also, Yugoslavia has a New York shipping office headed by two officers.

The State department was without immediate information on the extent of the housing shortage in Zagreb. Both New York and Chicago, however, are known to be suffering from such a shortage.

Officials here consider reasons given for a requested reduction in the American staff at Zagreb "rather sketchy."

One source recalled that U. S. representatives have been attending all recent public trials of Yugoslav citizens for opposition to the Tito regime.

The U. S. embassy at Belgrade is understood to be somewhat concerned about the ultimate destination of dollar remittances sent into Yugoslavia by Yugoslavs who have migrated to the U. S.

Impeachment Is Almost Unused

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Our rather elastic form of democracy calls for the power of impeac ment when the incumbent over-stresses the emoluments and appu tenances of office.

But it is rarely our legislative groups avail themselves of their powers of come-uppance and recall.

There was a time when a postbellum Prexy escaped impeachment by the fraction of a frog's gulp.

The disinclination of the lawmakers to go completely overboard may be due to the fact their own clothes would be on the wharf.

I know that prominent and powerful men have been fingered by the inquisitors in Washington. They either beat the rap or don't give .

It is probably that two-thirds constriction that hamstrings the judicial posse in its modulated hue and cry. Andrew Johnson came closer than polka dots in 1869 but emerged with a sore of confidence and the judge's watch.

Secretary of War Belknap was memorialized in 1876 for shaking down the Indian traders. He resigned in a body. And was later acquitted for lack of jurisdiction whatever that means.

We all remember Aaron Burr who refused to cop a plea and had no trouble outta ing the court. The sheep knuckles fell right f Burr wh came out the big end of the horn.

When John Pickering of the New Hampshire district courts was tagged with drunkenness and profanity in 1803 it was a serious smear against a Judge. It was a hanging jury and it hung out with Judge Pickering.

The portfolio was a bit thicker against Senator Blount of Tennessee in 1798. All the senator figured to do was transfer New Orleans from Spain to Great Britain contrary to the two-strike foul rule of diplomacy. This case was as open and closed as a speakeasy door in cold weather

But, Mr. Ripley, Senator Blount triumphed over lack of evidence and emerged much refreshed.

In making the punishment fit the crime the tailors made scraps of the material. In other words no hippopotamus could convict another hippopotamus of being a hippopotamus.

I could go on with these causes celebre for years and pages. But in trading space for time you are liable to run out of both.

MONEY SAVING DISHES

FOOD budgets are troubling many women these days, as a recent survey of Richmond homemakers showed. Just about thirty odd million women are finding it difficult to feed their families because of high prices and are looking for a little "know how." They want to know how to select the foods that give them the most for their money; how to make the best use of the foods they buy.

Fortunately for the limited-budget families, a food's price is seldom related to its nutritive value. One of the lowest-priced meat cuts—breast of lamb—gives about as much protein a pound as lamb chops, one of the most expensive cuts. (And protein is all-important for body building and upkeep.) Many a family could cut its meat bill perhaps a third, and still get just as much nutritive value from meat as before the cut was made. A ready means of doing this is day-to-day use of recipes and if you would like to have some help in preparing dishes and planning menus, perhaps you'd like to send for "Money-Saving Main Dishes," newly issued by the Department of Agriculture.

WE'VE seen a copy of the cook book and it seems to us to be quite a find for the homemaker of several children. There are 150 main dishes in the 48-page bulletin; practical suggestions on preparing meat, poultry, cooked and canned meats and poultry, fish, eggs, cheese, dry beans and peas, bread and other cereal foods, potatoes and lunch box main dishes.

There's no charge for the book, by the way. If you are interested in receiving a copy, all you need to do is print only your name and address on a post card and address it to Food Conservation, Washington 25, D. C. It's as simple as that. You don't have to ask for the book by name.

THE MEDLEYS AGAIN

MR. and Mrs. Bill Medley, Lubbockites, who were presented in duo pianists recital at the Arkansas Polytechnic college armory last Tuesday, won the applause of their college mates and the prediction of the editor of the Russellville Courier-Democrat that they had a brilliant future. Since they have been enrolled in the muscial department during the last two years, they have been presented on several programs and have pleased Paul Shultz, who has been directing their talents.

As Harry Robinson wrote, "The two young people, as they walked upon the stage and took their places at the two grand pianos, fairly captivated the waiting audience with their fine personalities before they had played a note. This pleasing possession, together with a highly developed and carefully planned musical talen, provided an evening's entertainment seldom equaled in Russellville.

"Pat and Bill have been farsighted enough to combine modern music with that of the interpretation of the masters. We predict a glorious future for them."

Their Tuesday program was made up of the classics, ranging from Bach to Handel, Brahms, Schumann, Mendelssohn and Chopin.

HOME GARDENS

HERE are some points for those who are planning a small garden. Buy only simple, necessary tools; avoid planting vegetables which take up much ground and keep your plot growing things throughout the season.

These are excellent rules, but we have a hunch those who plant their own gardens will continue doing as they have in the past. They'll buy chromium-plated work savers, nostalgic Southerners will keep on planting watermelon seeds and come July and hot weather, husbands will do as they always have done; they'll decide things have gone far enough and stop planting anything.

Oil Experts Studying Program To Conserve U. S. Oil Supplies

DENVER, April 26 (INS)—Top-flight oil experts in Denver today were mapping plans to keep the United States from economic suicide by wasteful expenditure of irreplacable petroleum reserves.

About 3,000 oil productions and research executives from all parts of the world were present for the opening of the four-day conference, considered one of the most important of the year.

Meeting jointly were members of the American Association of Petroleum geologists, the Society of Exploration geophysicists and the Society of Economic palentologists and mineralogists.

Demand Shows Increase

The need for greatly expanded exploration was cited by Dr. Carrol E. Dobbin of Denver, president of the A.A.P.G. The total known oil reserve in this country now is about 24 billion barrels, he said, and since the war the oil industry has been hard pressed in keeping up with the unprecedented demand.

He explained that new oil reserves discovered during 1947 were little more than equal to the drain on known reserves.

The possibility that huge new and untouched reserve in the form of synthetic oil may be available within ten years was foreseen by V. F. Petty of Golden, Colo., U. S. Bureau of Mines engineer.

Petty predicted that "substantial amounts" of oil may be produced from the west's vast deposits of oil-shale by 1955.

Houston Man Heads Group

At an early meeting today, Dr. L. L. Nettleton of Houston, was elected president of the oil geophysicists. R. L. Gilmour of Tulsa was named vice president and E. V. McCollum, also of Tulsa, secretary-treasurer.

Tomorrow's agenda includes presentation of three national awards for outstanding contribution to oil sciences. Honored will be A. I. Levorson, dean of the school of mineral sciences at Stanford; Hugh D. Miser, chief of the fuels section of the U. S. Geological survey; L. L. Sloss of Northwestern university, and Dr. W. M. Laird, state geologist of North Dakota.

Island Lab To Fight Foot-Mouth Disease Will Be Selected

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—Government officials went into a huddle today to pick out a choice island on which to "exile" a score of U. S. scientists.

A government research laboratory will be built on the island in the hope that science can find a way to protect U. S. meat supplies against the dread foot and mouth disease.

The highly contagious disease invaded central Mexico more than a year ago, killing and maiming thousands of cattle there. U. S herds now are protected by quarantine lines. On the basis of present scientific knowledge, scientists and cattlemen agree that the threat to U. S. herds will remain until the disease is wiped out of Mexico.

Job Is Long One

President Truman on Saturday signed into law a bill authorizing construction of the island laboratory. Congress specified that the island must be separated from the mainland by deep sea navigation and must not be connected to the mainland by tunnel.

Officials said most of the eligible islands off the Gulf, Atlantic and Pacific coasts have been surveyed. The final decision may be made today or tomorrow, officials said, but it probably won't be announced for a week or two.

Living quarters on the island will be provided for the scientists and their families. Neither the scientists or the other employes who work in the laboratory with infected animals will be barred from visiting the mainland But until the problem is solved, the scientists who agree to work on it probably will spend most of their time on the island, officials said.

"It may be a 10 or 15-year job," one official said. "We'll be surprised if we come up with all of the answers we're looking for inside of 15 years."

Long-Range Jet Fighter Tested

By WILLIAM F. McMENAMIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 26 (U.P.)—Air Force strategists are watching with keen interest the progress of tests on their newest long-range jet fighter, the four-jet Curtis XP-87.

They are hoping that this big new fighter will solve some of the problems of providing long range escort for bombers like the B-29 and B-50. This job is now handled by the much slower twin Mustang fighter with conventional propellers.

Some idea of the size of the new jet fighter may be gained from the fact that it weighs as much as the B-17 flying fortress. It has a wing span of 60 feet.

Defensive Role Cited

Long range bombers on strategic missions at present would be at the mercy of an enemy's home-based fighters. The present combat jets like the P-80 and P-84 with full battle equipment can stay in the air only about two hours.

With a speed of around 600 miles per hour, the present operational jets can travel a maximum of about 1200 miles before they must land. In operating from U. S. bases, this confines them to a defensive role or escort on short range missions.

Curtis Wright, maker of the XP-87, also is at work on a new gas turbine engine, the T-35. It is supposed to burn less fuel and may vastly extend the range of jet planes.

Installed in a jet fighter such as the XP-87, these engines might extend the range of the plane until it could escort heavy bombers on long-range missions.

Range Extension Seen

The XP-87 now is powered with Westinghouse engines. It has shown up well in preliminary tests. But no precise data has been given out on its operational range. However, its range is reported to be more than 1500 miles. It has a service ceiling of 35,000 feet and a speed in the 600 mile an hour class. The Air Force has not yet placed any orders in quantity for this plane.

Air Force experts are confident that the range and staying power of the jet engine plane will be steadily increased. They point out that this is exactly what happened with the conventional propeller type engine.

Reportedly capable of operating under extreme weather conditions, the XP-87 is billed as an all-weather fighter. The Air Force uses the P-61 Black Widow for this purpose now.

German Women Sentenced For Concentration Camp Crimes

HAMBURG, April 26 (U.P.)—Ruth Closius, 28, former commander of the Uckermark concentration camp, women's division of the notorious Ravnesbrueck, was sentenced today to die on the gallows for war criminality.

Two other women, wardens at the camp, were convicted with Ruth Closius. Margarethe Maria Rabe was sentenced to life imprisonment, and Elfridge Hildebard Mohneke to 10 years imprisonment.

The three were accused of mistreating Allied women at Uckermark, and also of being connected with the gassing and burning of some 3,000 women of all nationalities at the camp.

Two other defendants in the trial, Johanna Braach and Lotte Toberentz, inspectors at the camp, were acquitted of charges of mistreating prisoners, and were released.

Judge Heads Committee Named To Appraise Stock Loss Claims

GALVESTON, April 26 (AP) — Brazoria county Judge Thurman Gupton will head a committee to appraise claims against the Santa Fe railroad for livestock losses resulting from arsenic poison accidentally dumped into a South Texas creek.

Ballinger Mills, Jr., attorney here for the railroad, said Judge Gupton had been asked to appoint two other committeemen, one from Matagorda county and the other from Brazoria county. The poisoned creek divides the counties.

The committee is expected to start work tomorrow.

The arsenic compound was dumped from a Santa Fe tank car into Little Linville creek. More than 500 head of livestock and great numbers of wildlife were killed. The Santa Fe assumed responsibility for the losses.

Efforts were being made to decontaminate the water but officials working on that project said that the process might require 30 days.

Felt So Miserable At Times He Could Hardly Think, Says Mr. Bert Pitra. Now Eats, Sleeps And Feels Like Different Man. Gives Retonga Full Credit.

BERT PITRA

"Before I had finished the second bottle of Retonga I was feeling more like myself again," states Mr. Bert Pitra, Class A aircraft mechanic who lives at 12422 Pacific Ave., Mar-Vista, Cal. He gratefully praises Retonga in his statement:

"I often felt so miserable I could hardly think," declares Mr. Pitra. "My appetite was shot to pieces. Food seemed to churn around in my stomach and cause awful gas pains which felt like they shifted around in me. I was constipated most of the time which made me suffer from awful headaches. I felt jumpy frequently and I seemed to never get a good night's sleep. My legs pained me sometimes until I could hardly walk.

"Before the second bottle of Retonga was used up it brought me relief from acid indigestion, gas pains, and those terrible muscular aches and pains in my limbs. I sleep like a top and my sluggish bowels are relieved. I never have to take harsh laxatives like I did. I don't feel toxic like I did and I have regained my appetite. I'll sure give Retonga full credit for getting me back in shape again, as the saying is."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at Mark Halsey Drug Stores and all other good drug stores. Adv.

Western Europe Considers Joint Standing Army As Warning To Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Western Europeans, progressing from economic union and joint defense agreements, are beginning to consider the possibility that a joint standing army may be the next step in warning Russia against continuing provocation.

The London Observer, adopting the idea, would have the Allied occupation troops, including the Americans, become the nucleus for such a force.

Public Reaction Quick

This increasing European desire for something tangible in the way of defense is an obvious factor in producing the feeling expressed by General Bradley and Secretary Forrestal that the situation is more urgent than it was a few months ago.

The firmer the stand the greater the impact when Russian expansion runs up against the West.

There was quick public reaction to the Bradley and Forrestal statements that they are not so sure now that there will be no early war. I am being asked whether they have serious information not available to the public, or whether they are just trying to sell a rearmament program.

Dangerous Moves Possible

Both questions carry unwarranted inferences. All of us have serious information. Nobody knows for sure that Russia doesn't plan a deliberate war, although many think not. As long as that could be, or as long as war could start by "acident," it is the business of Bradley and Forrestal to prepare. They are the ones who would be held responsible for another Pearl Harbor. Forrestal makes it clear that he wants only the minimum required by the situation.

The Russians could mistake preelection political disunity in the United States for diplomatic disunity. They could mistake our small military force in Germany for lack of determination. They might be emboldened to make a dangerous move anywhere along the world-wide line of Communist containment.

There is still good evidence that nobody wants war, and that it will come only if Russia makes a mistake about how far she can go. If Allied determination is made sufficiently clear—which apparently can be done only by a display of adequate force—such a mistake will be less likely.

Oklahoma Official Enters Senate Race

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 26 (U.P.)—Lt. Gov. James E. Berry, one of Oklahoma's most potent vote-getters, filed for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senate today only 10 seconds after the official filing period opened.

Berry's candidacy, first announced only last night, threw a big unknown factor into the five-way campaign with former gov. Robert S. Kerr's position most affected. Observers generally conceded that Berry would take more votes from Kerr than from any other candidate.

Berry's filing drew no immediate comment from the other Democrats seeking the nomination in the hope of succeeding Sen. E. H. Moore, Republican.

C. B. Akers, campaign manager for Kerr, said it was generally believed that Berry and Kerr would pull support from the same type of people, but added, "We aren't making any comment at this time."

The lieutenant governor, a Stillwater banker in private life, ran third when he sought the nomination for senator four years ago. Ahead of him were the incumbent, Sen. Elmer Thomas, and Wesley Disney of Tulsa.

Republican Will Seek Senate Office In Oklahoma Contest

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 26 (U.P.)—Rep. Ross Rizley, eighth district Republican, said today he has reconsidered his quit-politics decision and will seek the Republican nomination for U. S. Senate.

Rizley disclosed his new decision shortly before he called the state Republican convention to order in municipal auditorium. He said he had been talked into the race within the past 24 hours by party members gathered here for the convention.

Rizley, 55, was first elected to Congress in 1940. He will attempt to succeed Sen. E. H. Moore, Tulsa Republican, who has declined to seek re-election.

Quadruplets Born Prematurely To Wife Of Factory Worker

The babies—Joseph, jr., Mary, Margaret and Anne—were born at five minute intervals and weighed from 1¾ to 1¾ pounds each, according to Dr. Edward D. King, who delivered them.

Dr. King said they were placed immediately in incubators and their conditions are "just fair."

The mother's condition was reported good. The multiple births began at 8 a. m. and Anne, the youngest, was born at 8:25.

CHARLES B. ROBERTS

Dallas Man New Store Official

Charles B. Roberts of Dallas, who for many years has been prominently identified with the Sears, Roebuck and Company organization in this section, has been elected a company vice president, it was learned here Monday.

A frequent visitor to Lubbock, Roberts has a wide acquaintanceship among business and civic leaders. In his new capacity he will have supervision over a newly-established Southwestern territory which includes Sears retail and mail order operations in three entire states and parts of two other states.

The local Sears store will come under Robert's jurisdiction, W. C. O'Mara, manager, reports.

Is Native Texan

The establishment by Sears of this new territory, along with another territory in the midwest, completes a program of decentralizing the company's administrative activities which began in 1941, O'Mara explained.

Roberts was born in Dallas and for many years has been one of its leading citizens. His career with Sears began in 1912 when he was employed at the Dallas mail order plant as an adjustment clerk. His career was interrupted by World war I when he served with the U. S. Army. After his war service he returned to the Dallas plant where, after a series of advancements, he became general superintendent in 1926. He later carried out important mail order and retail executive assignments in the Midwest and in January, 1935, he was made retail field officer for the company's southwestern zone. He was elected a Sears director in 1936.

Roberts is a director of the Republic National Bank of Dallas, a director of the Texas Better Business Bureau; a trustee of Baylor university; a deacon and trustee of the First Baptist church in Dallas, and a brigadier general of the United Confederate Veterans. He holds memberships in the Dallas as well as the Texas Historical Society; the Dallas Citizens' council; Rotary International, and the Texas Farm Bureau.

Train Wreck Kills Three, 30 Injured

ADAMSVILLE, Ala., April 26, (U.P.)—Some 30 persons were injured but miraculously alive today after the locomotive and three cars of the fast Miami-to-Chicago train they were riding left the rails and hurtled over the edge of a 100-foot cliff near here yesterday. Two were killed instantly and a third died today from injuries.

The 13-car Sunchaser, Illinois Central passenger train using St. Louis-ss tween Birmingham and Memphis, met disaster as it rounded a horseshoe curve early yesterday morning.

Seven other cars were derailed but remained upright on the roadbed. Only the last three cars, all pullmans, stayed on the track.

The dead were listed as engineer W. B. Jones of Haleyville, Ala., and Emma Dahnke of Chicago, a passenger.

Ernest Mayhall of Birmingham, the fireman who was scalded along with the engineer, died in a Birmingham hospital today.

The injured were treated at a Birmingham hospital, 16 miles southeast of the scene of the accident. Six to eight were in serious condition.

James, the engineer, died in scalding steam as his locomotive plunged to the bottom of the 100-foot deep gorge. A mass of twisted steel was all that remained of the engine.

Volunteer Workers Clear Park Site In Continuous Operation

PEORIA, Ill., April 26 (AP)—More than 1,000 volunteer workers manning 115 donated power shovels, bull dozers and trucks finished last night a fast job of face lifting a 160-acre park site.

The workers and equipment began swarming over the sloping, rolling tract at 7 a. m. (CST) Saturday morning. At 11:30 last night their job was done, seven and one-half hours ahead of schedule. In the 40½ hours of continuous operations, they had moved approximately 250,000 yards of earth in leveling off the tract, which required a fill of about 30 feet at one end.

The civic project includes the building of a race track, fairground, athletic fields and playgrounds on the site.

All the labor, machines and gasoline were donated by contractors and labor unions. Some of the equipment was sent here from points 100 miles away.

Truman Grants Clemency To Two German Saboteurs For Service

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 26—The White House announced today that President Truman has granted clemency to two German saboteurs who landed in the United States from submarines in 1942 and later helped capture their fellow spies.

Both Germans—Ernest Peter Burger, under life sentence, and George Dasch, serving 30 years—have already been freed and returned to Germany.

Six other members of the especially-trained Nazi saboteur ring were put to death in the electric chair in Washington after conviction by a military commission appointed by the late president Roosevelt.

Valuable Information Given

Mr. Truman granted clemency to Burger and Dasch upon the recommendation of Attorney General Clark.

The White House said that Burger and Dasch arrived at Bremerhaven last Thursday aboard an American transport and were turned over to United States occupation authorities.

Burger had been imprisoned in the Atlanta federal penitentiary and Dasch was held a prisoner at Leavenworth, Kan.

Clark, in recommending that the men be released from prison, pointed out that Burger and Dasch not only helped in smashing the spy ring but also gave "valuable information" about conditions in wartime Germany.

Burger and Dasch stepped ashore from a Nazi submarine on Amagansett Beach, L. I., N. Y., the night of June 13, 1942, with Richard Quirin and Heinrich Harm Heinck.

Reward Not Promised

Another German U-boat landed a second party of four Nazis four days later on Ponte Verda Beach, Fla. Members of the second Berlin group were Herbert Hans Haupt, Edward John Kerling, Werner Thiel and Herman Otto Neubauer.

FBI agents subsequently arrested all eight saboteurs in New York City and Chicago.

The late president Roosevelt commuted Burger's sentence to life imprisonment and Dasch's to 30 years after they were found guilty by the commission of wartime espionage.

In pointing out that Burger and Dasch furnished valuable information other than about their fellow spies, the White House emphasized that the two aided the U. S. without any promise of reward.

Burger testified in 1942, 1943, and 1944 for the government in trials of various persons charged with treason in New York and Chicago.

These included Hans Haupt and five others, in 1942; Halmut Leiner in 1943, Anthony Cramer in 1943, the second trial of Leiner for trading with the enemy in 1943 and the second trial of Haupt for treason in 1944.

Navy Midshipman Killed When Plane Hits Tree Near Airport

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (AP)—A midshipman, identified by the Navy as Oswin William Moll, 20, of Quakerstown, Penn., was killed last night in the crashing of a PB4Y2 plane at Moisant International airport here.

The plane, carrying ten men, struck a clump of trees near the airport and skidded about 1,500 feet to a landing on a runway.

Moll, co-pilot of the plane, was hit by a tree branch which pierced the plane. The pilot, Lt. (jg) Harvey M. Walden, Jr., 22, of New York, received minor cuts and bruises. The Navy credited Walden with "doing a marvelous job" in controlling the damaged plane. The other men escaped injury.

Albuquerque Dukes Batter Hubs, 14-10

Rally By Lubbock Nine Fails To Overcome Lead; Clodfelter Loses

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Lubbock Hubbers leave town today for a six-game road trip, secure in the knowledge they can't do much worse than they have in four games at home.

The local baseball team made a strong effort last night, but it wasn't enough to catch the Albuquerque Dukes who, with a shaken up batting order, slammed out 18 hits good for a 14-10 victory.

Hubs Stage Rally

The Hubbers made an effort to overtake the Dukes in the ninth inning, but Joe Behl, who held them at bay for four innings, was tight enough to shut off their rally after two runs were in. Behl, who became the winning pitcher, hit one batter, had an error behind him and gave up two hits good for two runs. It was too late and too little to win the game for Lubbock.

HUBBERS HIT ROAD

The Lubbock Hubbers hit the road this afternoon at 1 for a six-game road trip to Clovis, N. M., Albuquerque, N. M., and Pampa, returning to Rosenthal Field Monday night. The Hubbers open against Clovis tonight at 8, with Lefty Herby Pitts the probable starter.

The Dukes didn't waste any spare efforts last night, getting to Bob Clodfelter early, with one run in the first on two hits and three more tallies in the second on one blow. A combination of walks and errors didn't help the Lubbock cause.

Faced with a four-run deficit, the Hubbers came to life in the fourth to tie the score. Manager Jackie Sullivan scratched a hit through the box after Virgil Richardson worked the count to two and two, he bashed one over the left centerfield fence for two runs. Charley Scarborough beat out a slow bounder down the third base line for a hit, although Kelly fumbled the ball and couldn't get a throw off. Chick Fowler, with two balls and a strike, connected for a fourmaster into the left field netting.

Dukes Go Ahead

Albuquerque promptly went ahead in the fifth on two runs and a similar number of hits, only to have Lubbock counter with another cluster of four runs.

Smith poked a hit through the box and went to third on Frank McAlexander's single to right field. Sullivan flied to the centerfielder, scoring Smith. Richardson picked up a double, but McAlexander could go only to third on the play. Scarborough again scratched a hit to the third baseman, loading the sacks.

At this point, Manager Herschel Martin ejected Butler and inserted Behl. Fowler topped a ball to the third baseman, who fired home to force McAlexander. But Frank Boothe, hitless in two trips, plopped a double to left field to empty the sacks and send the fourth run over the plate.

Bowen Gets Homer

Irritated by this power technique, the Dukes won the game the next inning with Lubbock's weapon, the home run. Dick Dawson singled through short and moved on a walk to Len Attyd. Ron Bowen, without a hit yet, picked out a one and two count pitch, driving it into the scoreboard in left center for a three-run homer. Martin grounded out, but Wilbur Dixon gained life on Smith's error. Frank Gosney calmly took a count of three and one, then hitched into the next toss for a drive into the left field netting.

That was the ball game, although both teams had a last effort left in them. Albuquerque scored a trio of useless counters in the top of the ninth and Lubbock came back with two.

The two teams put on a rare display of batting, making a total of 33 hits good for a total of 51 bases. The Dukes owned 18 of these hits good for 27 bases and the Hubbers claimed the rest.

And, as seems to be customary this spring, neither pitcher was able to go the route.

Lamesans Drub Pioneers, 16-14

LAMESA, April 26 (Special)— Lamesa's Loboes won their third straight West Texas-New Mexico league game here last night, downing Clovis in a 16-14 hitting spree.

The win gave the Lobo nine a season league record of four wins and one loss.

The lead see-sawed throughout the tilt with Clovis finally dropping behind toward the latter part of the game. Not to be denied, the Pioneers staged a five-run rally in the seventh, adding another in the eighth. But the Loboes meanwhile came back in their half of the seventh to add two more tallies and ice the game.

Bottarini, Fiarito and Murphy sparked the game's offensive with circuit clouts.

Indian Says Treaty Protects Right To Fish At Anytime

FALLS CITY, Neb., April 26 (INS) — Nebraska officials were confronted today with a problem in which an Indian contends he has the right to hunt and fish at anytime "as long as water flows and grass grows."

The situation developed when Raymond Campbell, a Rulo, Neb., commercial fisherman of Indian descent, was charged with illegal net fishing in the Nemaha river.

Upon arrest, he pointed out that he merely was exercising his rights under an old Indian treaty with the government.

At a preliminary hearing, he told County Judge Albert Maust that he is an Indian ward of the government, and that the treaty permitted him to fish on land allotted to Indians "to hunt and fish as long as water flows and grass grows."

The judge continued the hearing for a month, and Indian service officials, game wardens and county officials went into a huddle in the case.

Jackie Neel Hurls No-Hitter

Bluebonnet-Sunbeam Clips Jewelers, 5-0

By CARLTON KEEDY
Avalanche Sports Writer

Jackie Neel hurled a no-hit, no-run game at Jumbo Webster field last night to give the league-leading Bluebonnet-Sunbeam team a 5-0 victory over Thomas Jewelers.

In the opening half of the twin bill, Golden Light Coffee Capitalized on Cloverlake errors to gain a 6-4 win.

Whiffs Twelve Batters

Neel proved himself the nemesis of local softball, not only blanking the Jewelrymen, but by whiffing 12 batters to bring his strikeout total to 72 in 36 innings of South Plains Softball league hurling this season.

The Sunbeam win last night was the fourth in four league starts, giving that team a definite lead over the second-place Jewelers who now have two victories in three starts.

Cloverlake In Cellar

The first game saw a battle between two teams trying to keep out of the league cellar. Golden Light moved into a next-to-last place in the league with Baldridge Bakery. Each has one win in three starts. Hapless Cloverlake commands cellar spot with three defeats in three games.

Golden Light pushed across two runs in the bottom half of the second inning on one hit, aided by three Cloverlake errors. The Coffee nine followed this up in the third frame with three runs on one hit, two walks and a hit batsman.

Sunbeam Goes To Work

In the nightcap feature, G. W. Warden had things going his way for five innings, allowing the Sunbeamers only one hit and whiffing five men. But Sunbeam got to work in the hectic sixth, with Fowler reaching first on an error. Abbot joined him along the same route. Ralph Earhart, one of the league's leading sluggers, booted a lazy single behind the infield, moving one Sunbeamer in for the first run. Roy Butler belted a double to bring in two more tallies, then Willis James settled the affair with a home run over the left centerfield wall.

Fielding Sparks Tilts

Holder relieved Warden on the mound in the seventh, and would have set the Sunbeamers down in order except for a runner reaching first on an error.

Both games were sparked by fielding extremes. But fans were treated to some spectacular fielding when Golden Light's Centerfielder Howell made a shoestring catch of Simpson's fly near the wall in the seventh.

Holds Onto Ball

In the nightcap, Sunbeam's Centerfielder Floyd Lawhorn went after Billy Kelly's fly close to the infield, and held onto it after falling to the ground. Warden showed speed in going over to third base to grab Neel's pop fly in the third frame.

Probably the most spectacular catch of the night was made in the fourth stanza of the nightcap when A. J. Collier of Thomas Jewelers made a one-hand catch of Willis James' hard grounder, then tossed to first to catch the speedy Sunbeam backstop.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Henry Iba, the nationally-known cage mentor of the Oklahoma Aggies, was the speaker at the annual Globe-News banquet for the first and second team All-District 1-AA basketball selections Sunday afternoon at Amarillo and, while Hank probably gave his routine "banquet circuit" handout, some of the things he said were extremely interesting to the sportswriters and average fans.

Probably the most startling statement made by Iba was that, "There is no such thing as a real offense in basketball today. Sure, some teams rush their men down the court in a fast break—hoping to arrive there before the other team—and others bring the ball down and wait for an opening. But no team has an acceptable offense that will work when the fast break fails to catch the other team off balance, or when the defense is too tight to work set plays against."

Iba also refuted the popular misconception that a quintet must have a good offense if it scores a lot of top-heavy victories. "Oh sure," Iba said, "I had an offense when I had Bob Kurland, (a near seven-foot All-American cager, and Adolph (Rupp) has a 'good offense' at Kentucky this year. But how many Kurlands, Beards and Jones are there? That's why I say that there is no such thing as a real offense in basketball. The game is still wide open."

* * *

Iba also advocated the enlargement of school athletic setups in order to provide more and better training for youngsters of elementary and Junior high school level. "Teach these younsters how to hold a tennis racket, how to play basketball, how to throw a football and how to play baseball and you'll make them better students and better citizens," Iba declared. "We must admit that giant athletic programs in high schools and colleges are set up for the benefit of big gate receipts and the alumni," Iba said, "and it's time for us to remember that athletics are supposed to be for the benefit of the student body and the school."

Of special interest to South Plains cage fans was Iba's hint that he may feature a faster attack with his Aggies than the "ball control" type of offense of the last few years. "I will have some boys next year that can really go," Iba said, "and we may surprise someone."

Fossil 230 Million Years Old In Chicago National Museum

CHICAGO, April 26. (U.P)-When the Aulacocephaledon left the ocean and wriggled onto dry land, it was a "most momentous occasion," according to the Chicago National History museum.

"Aulie" was one of the early amphibians and his fossil remains are now on exhibition at the museum.

The museum said that "aulie's" adventurous spirit gave rise to the age of dinosaurs. Then came the mammals and finally man.

"Aulie" and the clumsy Cacops and Erycops and Trematops had their heyday about 230,000,000 years ago. Some of the early ones reached a length of six and one-half feet and looked more or less like crocodiles.

Henderson TKO's Ayala For Third Pro Fight Win

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 26 (AP) —Bill Henderson, Levelland lightweight, picked himself off the floor twice in the first round tonight to stop Angel Ayala of New York in the third round of their scheduled four-rounder at the East Parkway ring here.

Henderson weighed 130¾, Ayala 129.

It was the first metropolitan appearance for the Texan, a young hard-hitting agricultural student at Texas Tech and a stablemate of Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich.

Henderson Goes Down

Joe Vella, Lesnevich's manager, described his newest protege as "a fighter of great promise."

Ayala banged Henderson to the canvas twice in the first round with ponderous righ hands. But Henderson bounced up without a count each time and plunged more doggedly into the fray.

The Texan rallied in the first round to mete out a lot of punishment before the canto ended.

Referee Halts Fight

In the second round, Henderson battered away at his opponent at will with a furious two-fisted attack that several times seemed to have the New Yorker on the verge of surrender.

Early in the third round Henderson nailed his man with a left hook and crossed with a right that sent Ayala to the floor. Ayala took a count of four, then rose on wobbly underpinnings to try to resume the fight.

Henderson unleashed another merciless attack that brought Dr. Arthur Boiger, the referee, to Ayala's rescue. The referee stopped the fight in 1:28 of the third.

Raider Tennis, Golf Teams Upset Horned Frog Squads

Texas Tech's potent tennis team upset a favored Texas Christian university net squad, four points to three, in a duel meet Monday at the Tech courts. The victory for the Techsans avenged an earlier defeat by the Frogs at Fort Worth—the only time this season that the Raiders have been defeated in a regulation six match tourney.

Jake Broyles, Tech's smooth-stroking threat for a Border conference title, paced the home netters by defeating Hap Manning of Texas Christian, 6-1, 6-1, in the feature singles match. Broyles teamed with Glenn Ivy to trounce Manning and Jack Levinson, 6-4, 7-5, and the win in the No. 1 doubles gave the Raiders the match championship since the setto counted two points as a result of the three-three match deadlock.

Ivy Wins Match

Ivy gained the other victory for Tech by defeating Levinson, 6-4 and 7-5, in the No. 2 singles bout.

The Frogs took their first win in the No. 3 singles when steady John Baker edged past Carl Schmidt, 6-3, 4-6, 6-0; then versatile Carl Knox routed Joe Wheatley, 6-0, 6-4.

The other Christian triumph was chalked up in the No. 2 doubles when Baker and Knox nosed out Schmidt and Ed Scudday of Tech, 7-5, 3-6 and 6-3.

Tech's rapidly-improving links squad also gained revenge for an early season defeat at the hands of the Froggies by sweeping a match with the Christians 4½ points to 1½, Monday at Lubbock Country club.

McKinney Is Defeated

The Raiders' E. H. McKinney was defeated by Jack Williams of T.C.U., 2 and 1, but Tech's Jerry Stoltz gained an easy decision over Jim Lacy, 4 and 3.

Ted Forsythe of Tech defeated Bill Craig, 1 up, then E. C. Feagan split with Doyle Malone.

Stoltz and McKinney defeated Lacy and Williams for low-ball score and Forsythe and Feagan gained a decision over Craig and Malone, 1 up.

Ross Mitchell Back In Lubbock; To Get Tournament Awards

Ross Mitchell was back in Lubbock today, his dreams of a state high school golf championship rudely interrupted by the brilliant shooting of Billy Maxwell of Abilene.

Maxwell's putter ended the state medalist's hopes of victory Sunday in Dallas, the Abilene boy shooting coolly and calmly to go four-up at the end of 18 holes in the morning. He returned to add more holes in the afternoon and to terminate the match on the 28th hole, when he went nine-up with eight to go.

Mitchell, who took medalist honors in the championships, will receive a runner-up trophy and also a trophy for his medal honors.

Stanky obtained sweet revenge on his former mates by contributing a triple, a single and a walk, and by performing in accustomed style at second base.

COALTOWN NOT SLATED TO START

Citation Top Favorite In Derby Trial At Churchill Downs Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 26 (AP) — As if he had not already scared enough horses out of the Kentucky derby, the wondrous Citation is scheduled to flex his muscles again tomorrow in the Derby trial at Churchill Downs.

It is considered almost a foregone conclusion that the Calumet farm's long-striding beauty will run all over several competitors in the one-mile event and possibly reduce the Derby field even further. It's down to about seven now.

Citation's almost equally noted stablemate, Coaltown, is included in the list of five entries for the trial—last serious tune-up for Saturday's storied race—but nobody really expects the second half of Calumet's one-two punch to reach the barrier.

Escadru Is Threat

Ben Jones, general manager and trainer emeritus of the Calumet string, practically has admitted that the streaking Coaltown will not have his eagerly-awaited "match race" against Citation until they both face the starter as an odds-on entry in the $100,000 mile and a quarter derby on Saturday.

That being the case, Citation likely will be asked only to outleg W. L. Bryann's Escadru, A. C. O'Neill, jr.'s Galedo and Howard Wells' Eagle Look. Citation and Escadru will be even weighted at 118 pounds, while the other two will come in at 110. Coaltown, if he should start, would pack 115.

Both Escadru and Galedo, as of tonight, were included among the seven probable starters in the Derby, with Eagle Look only a vague possibility. What Citation does, or does not do to them tomorrow might go a long way toward making up their owners' minds.

Arcaro To Ride Favorite

Escadru seems almost certain to take part in the run for the roses, even if Citation gives him a blistering. He has been here almost a week now getting ready, ever since he licked Better Self in a test at Jamaica.

Eddie Arcaro, who will steer Citation on Saturday, is here to get the feel of the "big" horse for the third time. In two rides at Havre de Grace, Md., Eddie has gotten Citation beaten once, by the surprising Saggy, and has ridden him to an easy victory. Arnold Kirkland will be atop his derby mount, Escadru.

The start of Derby week found Louisville awaiting the expected arrival tomorrow of Ben Whitaker's My Request—the only horse that is given much chance of making Citation and Coaltown stretch out and run on Saturday.

Small Field For Derby Predicted

NEW YORK, April 26. (U.P.)—The smallest field in 34 years today was considered a definite possibility for the Kentucky Derby on Saturday with only six to 10 horses likely to start.

Of the eligibles still in training among the 109 originally nominated for the roses run, nearly all have been driven to cover by Calumet farm's one-two punch. Citation and Coaltown. Thus the 74th Derby may have the fewest starters since Gallahadion beat seven rivals in 1940 or Ole Rosebud whipped six others in 1914.

No matter how many go to the post, the Calumet comets were seen as sure to be even money or odds-on choices.

My Request Is Challenger

Those "certain" to oppose this pair are William L. Brann's Escadru and R. W. McIlvain's Billings, both of them already on the scene at Churchill Downs; and C. V. Whitney's My Request, winner of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica last Saturday.

In the class of "probable" starters are Mr. John Payson Adams' Grandpere and C. A O'Neill, Jr.'s Galedo, both now training in the blue grass country. Another trio must be listed only as possible" starters—Joseph M. Roebling's Macbeth, which may join at Camden, N. J., the same car in which My Request will ship from Jamaica today; C. V. Whitney's Mount Marcy, the surprise second of the Wood; and Robert J. Kleberg's Better Self

Hirsch Opposes Entry

Trainer Max Hirsch is reported against the shipping of Better Self to the downs, but he may be overridden by Kleberg.

The Wood did much to "housecleaned" the entry list. Better Self proved a disappointment and so did Kilroy. The latter, regarded as a "mystery" colt, was heavily backed but finished out of the money. Mount Marcy was hard-driven to take second behind the loafing My Request and Trainer Sy Veitch can't make up his mind whether or not his horse is Derby material.

Macbeth finished fourth in last Saturday's Trenton handicap at Garden State, but was only a length-and-a-half away from the winner, Double Jay, over the mile-and-an-eighth and was far from disgraced.

Grandpere and Galedo were unimpressive as they lost a six furlong race to Mel Hash at Churchill Downs. Admittedly both were conceding weight to the winner, but a Derby horse, it is figured, should have been able to overcome that.

Meanwhile the day draws nearer—when the owners will have to plunk down $1,000 to keep their horses in nomination. That stiff fee, plus the Calumet entry, is likely to make the '48 Derby a very exclusive affair.

Maxim Will Battle Berlier In Bout At Houston Tonight

HOUSTON, April 26 (U.P.)—Joey Maxim of Cleveland, one of the nation's leading contenders for the heavyweight crown, will enter the ring in Houston tomorrow night against Whitey Berlier of New Orleans.

Maxim, who will weigh in at 182 for the 10-round feature event, is ranked third by the National Boxing association, and he has a win over Jersey Joe Walcott to his credit.

Berlier has made a fine showing in Houston during the past few months, and he won a decision over the favored Lee Campione of Chicago in a recent 10-round battle.

Cleveland Gets Fifth Triumph

CHICAGO April 26 (INS)—Eddie Robinson's second home run of the game and a fireball relief job by Bob Feller today kept the Cleveland Indians undefeated via a 14-inning, 12-to-11, conquest of the White Sox.

Robinson's 14th inning circuit smash was the seventh homer of a wild ball game which was tied at 11-11 in the ninth when Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau got his fifth hit of the day, a double that drove in two runs.

Trailing 12-11 in the last of the 14th, the White sox put men on first and second with none out. At this juncture Feller came on to relief Russ Christopher and become the seventh Cleveland hurler of a day that saw 37 hits for 68 total bases.

Feller smoked called third strikes past Bob Kennedy and Cass Michaels then got Jimmy Delsing on a game-ending fly to center.

Christopher was the winner and Earl Caldwell, fourth Chicago hurler, the loser.

Early-inning homers by Indians Larry Doby, Robinson and Ken Keltner—fifth of the young season for the latter—were balanced by White Sox circuit blows from the bats of Michaels, Tony Lupien, and Dave Philley.

A crowd of 5,965 witnessed the event.

Pitcher Fred Sanford won his own ball game with a double in the sixth. He scored on hits by Bob Dillinger and Chuck Stevens to break a 1-1 deadlock.

The Browns broke into the lead in the fourth inning when Dillinger walked, moved to second on an infield out and scored on Whitey Platt's double. Bob Swift rapped out his first homer of the season in the fifth to tie the score.

Cats' Player Is Suspended

DALLAS, April 26 (AP)—President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league handed a suspension and two fines to the Fort Worth Cats today—the second time within a week the Brooklyn farm club had been assessed penalties for its attitude toward umpires.

This time Gardner suspended Maurice D. Atwell, jr., Cat catcher, indefinitely and fined him $100 after receiving a report from Umpire Carl Sandt. He also fined Manager Lester Burge $50 for "failure to control his players."

Report Is Given

Sandt said he was crouched down low at the plate Saturday night in a game with Tulsa and that after he gave his decision calling a runner safe, Atwell "jumped up and threw his arms around my neck and as I raised up from my crouching position his feet left the ground as he was holding on to me; he then let go of me."

During the action between Sandt and Atwell another Tulsa runner scored. Burge protested the other runner's being allowed to come in, saying time had been called. Sandt said he told Burge he couldn't call time "with Atwell hanging around my neck."

Second Cat Fine

"I regret having to take the action and want to say that Atwell is a fine young man and that he just lost his head," Gardner said. "I know Atwell regrets it very much.

Gardner said President John Reeves of the Cats had called to inquire when Atwell might be allowed to resume playing, saying his suspension put the Cats short on catchers. The league president told Reeves he couldn't even discuss the situation for six weeks. Atwell will not be allowed to work out with the club during his suspension.

Last week Gardner fined Gene Costello $25 and Robert Austin and Don Runge $10 each for abusive language to an umpire in a game at Oklahoma City.

Amarillo Holds Lead In 1-AA Flag Chase

District 1-AA's confused schoolboy baseball championship race enters the second phase of competition this weekend with Amarillo, winner of three consecutive games, firmly entrenched in the loop lead.

The Golden Sandies passed their toughest test of the new season Saturday night at Amarillo, defeating the highly-rated Lubbock Westerners, 7-6, in thirteen innings; although Lubbock Coach Fred Taylor officially protested the contest on the grounds that the Sandies' relief hurler, Junior Palmer, was too old for competition under Interscholastic league rules.

Produce Birth Certificate

The Sandstorm officials produced a birth certificate that reportedly indicated that the hurler was eligible, but Taylor refused to back down on his protest. Reports from Amarillo regarding the situation are that Palmer's age was advanced a year when he started in school, but that his parents corrected the date when they found that he would lose a year of eligibility. Final decision on the issue will probably be made by the district executive committee.

Pampa's Harvesters, winners over Plainview, 9-0, in their only encounter, hold the runner-up slot in the standings. Lubbock, with a single triumph over Borger and the loss to Amarillo, is in third place with a .500 average; while Brownfield, Plainview and Borger battle for the loop cellar.

Tussles Are Carded

At least five tussles are scheduled to be unreeled this weekend, including Borger at Lubbock Friday night, Brownfield at Pampa Friday and Brownfield at Borger Saturday, but confusion clouding game dates will have to be cleared in several cases, officials have reported. Coach Harold Crites of Brownfield said Monday night that he believed the Brownfield-Pampa date was not clear and that the slate might have to be revamped.

At least two Westerner home games carded in May conflict with Hubber and district tilts here.

OILERS GET PLAYER

HENDERSON, April 26 (AP)—Johnny Stone, centerfielder, rejoined the Henderson Oilers today. He led the Lone Star league in hitting and home runs last season and was sold conditionally to Atlanta of the Southern Association. He was returned by Atlanta.

Dillard Voted Top Performer In Meet

DES MOINES, Ia., April 26 (U.P.)—Harrison Dillard, generally rated as the top hurdler of the year, was picked by sportswriters today as the outstanding athlete of the 39th annual Drake Relays here Friday and Saturday.

Dillard, who tied his last year's record of :14.1 in the 120-yard high hurdles, received 28 of 31 votes cast in a poll of sports scribes.

The display of talent revealed at this year's edition of the Relays should gladden the heart of Dean Cromwell, who will coach the U. S. Olympic team in London this summer.

Parker Winner Of Net Tourney

HOUSTON, April 26. (AP)—Frankie Parker, the Los Angeles court veteran, wore the River Oaks tennis tournament men's singles crown again today.

Parker, champion in 1933, defeated William F. Talbert, New York-Wilmington, Del., yesterday, 9-7, 6-2, 6-1, for the title.

Gertrude Moran, Santa Monica, Calif., won the women's singles championship with an upset decision over Dorothy Head, San Francisco, 6-2, 6-4.

Talbert and Francis X. Shields, New York, beat Earl Cochell and Sam Match, San Francisco, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4, in men's doubles and Head and Moran beat Peggy Ebby and Mary Jane Donnalley, Houston, in women's doubles, 6-3, 6-4.

J. Gilbert Hall, New York, won the veterans singles championship on a 6-0, 6-0 victory over Lamar Baker, Texas City, Tex.

Junior doubles went to Jack Turpin, Rice institute, and Dixon Osborn, Texas Christian university, over Bobby Alexander, Rice, and Herbert Karren, Southern Methodist, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

Arabs Announce Invasion Plans

Jewish militia, were deployed on two sides of the camp, but never had a chance to make a bid for the position which commands the entire southern approach to Jerusalem.

The Arab fighters, under command of Fedel Bey Jamal, a high officer of the Arab Judean army, went into Alamein camp from three sides. They sliced through a narrow corridor between the camp and the Jewish emplacements.

An Arab commander said the camp will be readied for occupancy by some 1,500 Syrian and Iraqi troops of the Yarmuk army's Third division under command of Abdul Hamid Raway. The Yarmuk troops are due in Jerusalem tonight or early tomorrow.

Prepare For Battle

Grim battle preparations south of Jerusalem apparently indicated that both sides were getting ready for a major battle for Jerusalem.

Fighting was resumed along Palestine's coastal plain. The Jewish extremist group, Irgun Zvai Leumi, struck again from Tel Aviv against the neighboring Arab city of Jaffa. In doing so the Irgunists acted in defiance of broadcast orders by Haganah, the regular Jewish militia.

Fist fighting broke out between members of the two Jewish groups when the Irgunists refused to remove a block on a street leading to the battle zone. Passersby swarmed in and broke up the fighting after a few shots were fired into the air.

Strong automatic weapons fire covered the Irgunists' drive against Jaffa. Answering Mortar and machinegun fire indicated the Arabs were putting up stiff resistance.

Lana Turner Marries

had to clear her throat before she could answer "I do" to Dr. Hugh MacLennan, pastor emeritus of Hollywood Presbyterian church.

Resounding Kiss

But when the couple was duly pronounced man and wife, and Topping planted a calm but resounding kiss on her lips, the blonde actress regained her composure.

She exclaimed:

"This time it's for keeps!"

Best man W. R. (Billy) Wilkerson, who staged the highly-touted marriage, then threw open the French doors of the spacious drawing room.

Eighty newsmen, photographers and Hollywood columnists who had been herded into a patio 100 feet from the Georgian mansion, thundered into the flower banked room.

Lana Begins Crying

Lana refused to re-enact the kiss with her smiling bridegroom.

She said:

"We save our kisses for our own privacy."

And after a barrage of photographers' flashbulbs began exploding through the jammed room, Lana began crying.

Topping then led his bride to a far end of the room and shielded her from the cameramen.

When the photographers persisted in taking her picture, Miss Turner begged for more time to compose herself. She sobbed:

"I can't see! I can't see!"

Topping, Wilkerson and the bride's mother then led her from the room and helped her up the circular staircase that she had descended only minutes before.

13 Witness Ceremony

Exactly 13 persons witnessed the ceremony that had been ballyhooed as "simple and quiet."

Dr. William E. Bransh, Lana's personal physician, gave her away. Mrs. Sara Hamilton, who accompanied the actress on a South American tour last year, was matron of honor.

The marriage itself climaxed one of the most widely heralded romances of the decade. And the climax of the wedding—a reception after Topping slipped the ring on his bride's left hand—was a reception to end all receptions.

The lavish buffet spread on a veranda, just outside the heavy-scented drawing room, reportedly included $9,000 worth of high-pressured chow.

Champagne flowed by the gallon, following the motif of Lana's champagne wedding gown. And there was every other type of liquid refreshment imaginable.

The groaning boards featured king-size statues of the principals carved from chunks of ice. Other ice statuettes of billing and cooing doves and love birds decorated the tables.

Political Test Vote

in Pennsylvania but there was a last-minute drive among a number of state GOP leaders to pile up a favorite-son vote for U. S. Senator Edward Martin.

Republican leaders are watching to see if Harold Stassen follows up in this industrial stronghold his victories over Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft in Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Four years ago Dewey came out with 146,706 write-in votes while Stassen drew 1,502.

While Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party was ineligible for the primary election, there is considerable interest in the number of voters who will write-in his name on the Democratic side.

Taft Sees Stassen Loss

Some write-in votes also are expected on both ballots for General Dwight D. Eisenhower although he has insisted he is unavailable for the presidential nomination.

Other political developments:

Ohio—Taft, campaigning for the GOP nomination in his own state, said that he believed Stassen "probably reached his peak in Nebraska and Wisconsin on election day, but here in Ohio he reached that peak 10 days before election day and now is on the downtrend."

Taft said he would make about 30 speeches before the May 4 Ohio primary. Stassen is contesting for 23 of Ohio's 53 convention delegates to be chosen then.

Massachusetts Votes

Oregon — Stassen opened his bidding for Oregon's 12 GOP delegates, who will be chosen May 21 in a preferential vote. This first test of Stassen in a far western state pits him against Dewey. Dewey plans a 10-day Oregon tour starting May 1.

Rhode Island — Republicans chose Monday their eight convention delegates, all unpledged. Sentiment among them was reported sprinkled among Dewey, Stassen and Taft.

Massachusetts—The 35 Republican delegates will be elected by popular vote today and are to go to the Philadelphia convention unpledged. They have three possible favorite sons — House Speaker Martin, Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. However, several prospective delegates have talked approvingly of Dewey as a second choice and a few have expressed liking for Stassen.

New Jersey Talks Set

Of the 36 Democratic delegates to be chosen from Massachusetts, Mr. Truman is assured of the support of 35. The objector is Mayor James Curley of Boston.

Oklahoma—The state's Republicans met yesterday to select four delegates at large to the national convention. District conventions earlier picked 16 uninstructed delegates, who said they will back Dewey.

New Jersey—The far-traveling Stassen arranged to speak Wednesday at Princeton. Taft is due in New Jersey in May. Senator Smith (R-NJ) said it is planned to have all the party's presidential possibilities talk with his state's delegates, who are unpledged.

New Jersey's 35 GOP delegates are expected to vote for Gov. Alfred Driscoll as a favorite son in early convention roll calls.

Oleo Wins Test

ans and nine democrats.

Cotton Threatened

One of the largest galleries of the session—larger even than the one for the debate on European recovery loans—was on hand for the noisy arguments.

And old friend of the dairy cow breathed fire at southern oleo backers during the debate. Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), chairman of the Ways and Means committee, said that if oleo taxes are abolished, quotas which now limit shipments of foreign cotton into this country will be abolished too.

"I am chairman of the committee that can do it," he shouted.

"You say you want to repeal the oleomargarine tax to bring down the cost of living," Knutson continued. "Well, you can bring down the cost of clothing too, while we're at it."

GOP's Called Saps

Then he returned his attention to Republicans supporting oleo.

"You poor saps," he said. "I want to pay my compliments to the sap Republicans. The New Deal Congress had 16 years to do something about this, and it was too hot for them."

At one time, legislators from the dairy country were shouting so angrily that Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) arose and asked:

"Are you about ready to declare war?"

Everybody laughed, but a minute later the fight was on again. Before picking on oleo, said Rep. Mitchell, some members of the butter industry ought to refine their own products. He quoted from federal reports to show that some butter had been found to contain: Insects, parts of insects, hair, moth scales, and something with a Latin name.

Okayed For Armed Forces

"Where do you find all that stuff?" asked Rep. Rivers (D-SC) —as if he hadn't heard.

"Butter, my friend," roared Mitchell.

But Rep. Stevenson (R-Wis) eulogized butter as "one of nature's masterpieces." He called oleo an adulterated product, the normal color of which is a "tattle tale gray."

The House floor wasn't the only place where butter took a licking today. A House Armed Services subcommittee voted unanimously to permit the Army, Navy and Marines to buy and use oleo. Now, by law, they're compelled to buy butter.

But the butter boys had one consolation.

When the oleo supporters went down to eat in the House restaurant, they ate butter.

Defense Plans

Russia has increased since the first of the year. Senator O'Mahoney said today he had heard from an ex-naval officer that Russia has built 8,000 modern planes since the war.

"I have some reservations about any such figures," Forrestal replied. "There is no question, however, that they are building all they can build."

Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) has said that Forrestal's 66-group program would simply bring old World War II planes out of storage rather than provide modern jet jobs.

Asked about this, Forrestal said it would not be "a mothball fleet" at all, but "the best in the world today." He agreed that it wouldn't stay the best without constant addition of new types.

In asking a "balanced program" Forrestal is supporting increased strength for all services, plus a peacetime draft and universal military training.

In this connection, Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) hinted today that Congress may try to solve military manpower problems "by offering incentives for a volunteer army."

Wherry spoke at a meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He said the incentives might be "augmented by a limited selective service, to be used at the option of the President, to guarantee the required number in the event the voluteer system is inadequate."

Senator Gurney (R-SD) added another item to the defense list today. He introduced a bill to halt sale of all government war plants, machine tools and other equipment that might be needed for a possible emergency.

General And Former Chauffeur In War May Meet In City

A reunion of two World War II campaigners, one a more or less obscure "citizen soldier" and the other a world famous professional, may take place when Major GeneralAndrew D. Bruce, deputy commander of the Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston, arrives at Texas Tech May 2 for the dedication of Memorial Circle.

The meeting will be between Gen. Bruce and Sgt. Jame L. Hudson of Route 2, Morton, who was assigned as his personal chauffeur while he was stationed in Korea, and will be by the General's request.

In a telephone conversation with Lt. Col. O. V. Adams, professor and head of military science and tactics at Texas Tech Gen. Bruce stated that Hudson was "one of the swetest boys I have ever known and I would like very much to see him when I come to Lubbock." A letter has been sent to Hudson by Col. Adams inviting Hudson to the dedication ceremony but as yet no reoly has been received, he stated.

Gen. Bruce has also announced a change in the subject of the address he will deliver at the ceremony. Instead of "The Importance of the College in a Community," he will speak on "National Security."

The circle on the Texas Tech campus is being dedicated under sponsorship of the Tech War Veterans Association to all whose service has brought honor to college and country and will apply to both those in the past or who shall render such service in the future.

two nickel boxes of matches.

She was taken to St. Mary's hospital by Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home ambulance and later transferred to Lubbock Memorial hospital. Examination showed no injuries, but she seemed to be in a 'doped' condition, according to the hospital. She was later released to officers for questioning.

Meanwhile, the highway patrol continued a search for the mystery car, which had allegedly been observed at the scene before officers were notified of the incident.

Officers were also investigating two cases of assault and various other offenses.

D. C. Fair, 41, negro porter, was charged last night in connection with an assault on Edward Anderson, of Littlefield, at a local hotel about 7 p.m.

Anderson and two other Littlefield men checked into the hotel late in the afternoon and ordered 'some things' from the porter. An argument followed, officers said.

Shortly afterwards, the men were in the lobby with some soft drink bottles, officers were told. A fight occurred in which the porter claimed he used a weapon in self defense.

Anderson was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital for a shallow wound on his left side. Seven stitches were taken.

Man Seriously Hurt

Police learned from West Texas hospital that W. W. Reeves, about 50, of Whitewright, Texas, was not expected to live as result of an attack in the 600 block of Broadway late Sunday.

Another man told officers that he struck Reeves, after advising him 'repeatedly' not to come into a place of business. He said he acted in his own defense when he thought Reeves made a motion toward a pocket.

Reeves was struck down, his nose was broken, and skull possibly fractured, according to police.

He remained unconscious at the hospital last night, with diagnosis incomplete.

The sheriff's office was notified that a Mr. Roberts had picked up a man and a woman near Lamesa yesterday and that they 'rolled him' for $60. The man was described as about 35 years old, wearing work clothes and boots, and about 5 feet 6 inches tall. The woman was described as about 30 years old and wearing blue slacks and blouse.

The office was also informed that a blond Pekingese dog valued at $100 was stolen at Shallowater from a Mr. Calvert. It was said to be a female and answers to the name of 'Toots.'

Loss of merchandise valued at $495 in a Friday night burglary of Baker's Jewelry and Loans, at 1316 Texas Ave., was reported yesterday to police.

Investigators, studying clues Saturday, had said a window was broken, but that a list of property taken had not been compiled.

Officials were informed that three wrist watches, one pocket watch, three automatic pistols, three rhinestone rings, a man's diamond ring and a woman's diamond ring had been taken.

would say what the snag was. They agreed to meet again Wednesday at 3 p. m. (CST).

"No statement of any kind," Lewis, chairman of the pension fund, told newsmen afterward.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee, and Ezra Van Horn, representing the mine owners, declined comment.

Argument Given

Van Horn has asked the courts to prevent a Lewis-Bridges pension agreement from taking effect. It would grant pensions of $100 a month to miners 62 or older who have worked 20 years.

This, argued Van Horn, would illegally provide pensions to miners whose employers did not contribute the 10 cents a ton royalty by which a $33,000,000 welfare fund has been amassed. He said also that it would break the fund and leave nothing for other benefits.

The walkout started after Lewis informed the miners that the operators had "dishonored" their contract by not putting a pension plan into effect. It ended after he told them of the agreement with Senator Bridges, and messaged that the contract was thereby honored.

Amidst all this, Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough fined the union $1,400,000 and Lewis $20,000 for contempt of court.

The proposal was said to be ready for action by the UN trusteeship council tomorrow at 9 a.m. (CST).

Swiss Said Favored

An informed source said a Swiss army officer, a Colonel Gonnard, 50, was favored by the French for police chief for Jerusalem. It was said the Swiss government had agreed to make Colonel Gonnard available to the UN.

The partition battle ground on in the 58-member political committee during the afternoon; the Arab higher committee told the UN the Arabs would set up an independent nation covering all of Palestine on May 15 unless the UN partition scheme is scrapped.

The second special UN assembly on Palestine formally directed the trusteeship council today to consider promptly what can be done to safeguard the holy places of Jerusalem.

Delegate after delegate warned here that the Assembly must act to save Jerusalem at least.

Assembly delegates noted with interest reports from London that Britain will not consider helping police Palestine for the UN until Jews and Arabs agree to stop fighting.

The British have demanded from the start of the Palestine debates in the UN that anything they do must be conditioned on agreement by the Jews and Arabs.

lier weekend outbreaks which protested closing of Korean national schools. Three prefectu al and city officials had been held incommunicado in Kobe Saturday inside the government building as hostages for 70 arrested Korean leaders. The officials were released when the leaders were freed but the 70 were rearrested in the roundups today.

All public demonstratuons were ordered banned today but this was relaxed to permit the gathering in a park fronting the prefectural building inOsaka. The demonstration turned into a riot when negotiations failed to solve th Korean problems.

Gen. Eichelberger met with Japanese authorities and assured them "I will help you in any way to get this straightened out." He charged that the demonstrations had "degenerated into mob action to such an extent that civil government ceased to function" for a time.

He said that the U. S. Army will prosecute persons responsible for cutting off of telephone communications, which he said threatened the security of the occupation.

HARRIMAN NOMINATION OKAYED

Six European Nations Qualify For Marshall Plan Assistance

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—Six of the sixteen Marshall plan countries—France, Italy, Norway, Denmark, Austria and the Netherlands—have qualified to start getting full assistance from the Economic Cooperation administration, Paul G. Hoffman, ECA administrator, announced today.

They did so by filing letters of intent with Hoffman. The letters declared the readiness of each country to sign separate agreements with the United States, guaranteeing compliance with the aims and policies of the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program.

At the same time, the Senate confirmed the nomination of W. Averell Harriman as ECA's $25,000 a year ambassador-at-large to western Europe. Harriman resigned as secretary of commerce last week to take the roving assignment. The Senate acted by a standing vote. One member, Senator Langer (R-ND), asked that his vote be recorded in opposition.

Signing of the letters of intent also set in motion a vital part of the recovery plan—the deposit of foreign currencies in "special accounts" in each country, in amounts equal to the dollar value of the goods furnished under ECA grants.

These deposits, built up by the sale of ECA supplies, will be used to meet the cost of administering the program overseas and for "such other purposes as may be agreed to between the two governments," Hoffman said.

Supreme Court Dismisses Appeal Of Texas Negro Facing Death

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The Supreme Court dismissed today any appeal on behalf of Gaither ("Red") Lovelady, a Texas negro sentenced to death for the fatal shooting of a Lexington, Texas city marshal.

The court announced the dismissal was granted on request of Lovelady's attorney. The reason for the request was not made known. The court several weeks ago had agreed to hear arguments on a question raised by the attorney involving the makeup of the grand jury in the case.

Dallas Pastor Hits Gambling Increase

DALLAS, April 26 (AP)—The American social structure is being undermined by amateur gambling at football games, in private clubs, on the radio, in public schools and at some churches, Dr. Marshall T. Steel told Highland Park Methodist church members yesterday.

It is just as lawless for a wealthy church member to participate in a lottery in the wealthy park cities adjacent to Dallas as it is for a poor man to play a slot machine in the poor section of West Dallas, he said in two sermons yesterday morning.

He said that students sold tickets, in a lottery for a carnival at Highland Park Junior High school to raise money for band uniforms.

"If it is wrong for negro boys to shoot craps in Deep Ellum (a Dallas section), it is wrong for our school children to sell chances to try to win a motor scooter," Dr. Steel declared.

Athletic programs in schools and colleges had the building of character as their original purpose, the pastor said. But now, he declared, a coach who makes a decision on the basis of good sportsmanship sometimes is hooted by those in the grandstand whose main interest is not the game but their wagers.

He said that clubs now seem to think it necessary to attach financial arrangements to recreation such as cards and golf. He asserted that radio, instead of developing entertainment talent, seems to be drifting more and more into the "get something for nothing" channel.

Ancient Egyptians and Assyrians used enamelling on brick and pottery, achieving effects of magnificence never since equalled.

Errol Flynn Sues Magazine For Article On 'First Screen Kiss'

HOLLYWOOD, April 26 (INS)—Screen actor Errol Flynn sued for $300,000 today claiming a movie magazine falsely wrote about "his first screen kiss" with actress Olivia De Havilland.

The romantic-lead actor alleged he did not write or authorize an article in the May Issue of Movie Stars Parade entitled "My First Screen Kiss, by Errol Flynn."

He called the story "untrue and harmful to his professional standing."

Filed by attorney Jerry Giesler, the article said in part:

"I had looked over the script before I met Olivia De Havilland so I knew there was a love scene of some intensity in the picture—after I had met Olivia, I looked forward to tender passages with the same placid approval that a wolf lavishes on a herd of spring lambs. "Yee-ow!"

Flynn also seeks an injunction against alleged unfair trade practice and invasion of privacy.

Hearings Are Completed On New U. S.-China Commercial Treaty

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 26.—A Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee completed hearings today on a new streamlined commercial treaty between the United States and China.

The pact is slated for speedy ratification by the upper chamber as a new gesture of support to the Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek

Superceding the basic treaty of 1844 and other trade and navigation agreements concluded with China during the past century, the pact was signed at Nanking nearly a year and a half ago.

Marshall Urged Ratification

Secretary of State Marshall, while at the Bogota conference, telegraphed Chairman- Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, urging that the treaty be ratified as soon as possible.

Alfred Kohlberg, chairman of the American-China Policy association, told a subcommittee, headed by Sen. Thomas (D-Utah) that the treaty should be ratified quickly to strengthen the hand of the Chinese nationalist government in the civil war against the Communists.

"This is a critical moment in China. The government is slowly losing the war, and needs every encouragement."

U. S. Communists Blamed

Kohlberg charged that original opposition to the treaty was inspired by the Communists, and directed in the United States by the Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy, which he described as a Communist front organization.

Miss Maud Russell, of New York City, executive director of the Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy, charged that the treaty "encourages American imperialism, and would make China an economic colony of United States." She declared:

"People in China regard the treaty as another aspect of American aggression."

Miss Russell predicted that the Chiang Kai-Shek government would be out of power in a few months, and said that a new coalition government, including the Communists, would repudiate the American treaty if it is put into effect now.

Chiang Attempts To Settle Vote Dispute

NANKING, April 26 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek tonight personally urged the disguntled Gen. Li Tsung-Jen to get back into the muddled race for China's vice presidency.

The two conferred at length shortly after Li told a dinner meeting of his supporters, "I am through and heartbroken."

Amid mutual recriminations and charges of political sharpshooting, Li and the other two candidates, Sun Fo and Gen. Cheng Chien, withdrew their candidacies Sunday.

Chiang, head of the Kuomintang (government party), to which all belong, immediately started putting pressure on them to reconsider.

Sun and Cheng told separate meetings of their supporters tonight that they would not resume active campaigning but would accept election.

General Li, however, reiterated that he would not have the vice presidency as a gift. He was angry at anonymous attacks on his loyalty and at apparent support for Sun by Chaing Kai-Shek.

Chiang was reported to have urged him to stick around, lest the outside world conclude that the government had been spit while menaced by the Communist war.

Eisenhower Speaks On World Problems, But Refuses To Discuss U. S. Politics

WICHITA, Kans., April 26 (U.P.)—Dwight D. Eisenhower refused again yesterday to discuss politics but still managed to sound like a presidential candidate in a speech on national and international problems.

The former army chief of staff spoke before the 12th annual convention of the Kansas Chamber of Commerce.

He emphasized that the United States must follow a course of internationalism in order to maintain its position and save the world from chaos.

World Is Interdependent

"Nothing is so important in the world than that the United States shall do its job," he said.

"We must realize that without getting things from abroad we cannot exist. America has no rubber, no nickel and no manganese and we cannot build a wall around the United States.

"The key to solving all nations' problems is interdependence. We cannot achieve success at home while there is thunder abroad."

Americans, he said, want freedom of worship, freedom to work as they please, and freedom to keep what they earn. Then he paused, grinned, and added: "Subject to taxes."

Ike Given Ovation

Then he invited questions from the floor subject to one exception —the big one on whether he might accept a presidential nomination despite his rejection last January.

Nevertheless, E. J. Smith, vice-president of Freight Ways, inc., rose to commend Eisenhower as a leader and express the wish that he would "represent us." The 500 Chamber of commerce delegates whistled and cheered.

The Columbia university president was obviously moved by the ovation. He said that every American should have the nation's welfare "at heart."

"Whatever I do, that will be uppermost in my mind," he said.

Split In New Mexico's GOP Delegates Seen At Convention

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 26. (INS)—Delegates to the New Mexico Republican state convention in Albuquerque Wednesday were reported ready to split votes three ways in selection of delegates to the national convention.

Of the state's eight delegates to the Philadelphia convention, it was predicted tonight that four will be pledged to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Two were expected to be named to support Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and two for Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Order Restored At Texas Prison

Warden Quiets Rebellious Men

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, April 26. — Texas prison system officials said prisoners at the Ramsey farm, Brazoria county, were quiet and orderly today after 18 of the system's most desperate inmates ran amok Saturday night.

General Manager O. B. Ellis said the 18 men, despite being well confined in an individual cell block, destroyed equipment in their cells and chased a guard from the farm building.

Equipment Is Destroyed

He said the guard fled when the prisoners began tearing up their bunks, commodes and wash basins and throwing pieces of metal and porcelain around the building.

Ellis said he rushed to the farm immediately after being informed of the disturbance and that the men quieted down after he talked with them.

He said he took all reading materials from the cells and put the inmates on bread and water after warning them that another such incident would be stopped by use of tear gas.

No gas was used Saturday night.

Criminals Among Toughest

The general manager said 36 of the system's toughest criminals from Darrington and Retrieve farms, where repeaters are held, were transferred to the new cell block at Ramsey several weeks ago.

The prison official explained that the Saturday disturbance began when one of the men broke a leg from his bunk and began beating on the wash basin and commode in his cell.

Seventeen others quickly began similar destruction of equipment within their cells.

"I understand the guard just walked out of the building after the men began throwing the porcelain around," Ellis said. "The building has other guards around it, however, and there was no particular danger of the convicts getting away."

He said he ordered all bunks and plumbing fixtures removed from the cells.

"Cells for such men should have steel bunks built into the walls, steel commodes and steel wash basins," he commented.

TRIAL TO START

California Fruit Controls Asked

AUSTIN, April 26 (AP)—Conflicting views on whether California citrus fruit should be shut out of the Rio Grande valley because of danger of spreading "quick decline" disease today brought promise of a diligent investigation.

State commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald promised to make the study after a conference with representatives of the Texas Citrus Advisory council developed that:

1. There is general "fear" throughout the Texas citrus industry of the spread of quick decline disease through California fruit brought into the state.

2. There is no evidence in State Agriculture department files to show that the disease can be transmitted by the fruit itself, but there is evidence to indicate that it cannot be so transmitted.

Disease Is Mystery

The disease, a virus infection, has been causing rapid decline and unproductiveness among California citrus plants, particularly among sweet oranges grafted on sour stocks. Cause, spread and cure of the disease is still much of an agricultural mystery.

McDonald recalled that he placed a quarantine on fruit from California three years ago because of the disease but removed it a year later. He said he had been convinced by entomologists and research reports that there was no danger of transmitting the disease through the fruit.

Growers Fear Spread

Not so convinced, however, were council chairman C. L. Skaggs of Weslaco, Paul T. Vickers of McAllen and Vernon Hill of Mission, who called on McDonald to follow up a resolution passed by the council asking McDonald to quarantine fruit shipped into Texas from California.

"The resolution pretty well represents industry desires," Skaggs told the commissioner.

Hill said, "I've had a lot of experts on the witness stand and I think we can produce testimony which would justify the quarantine from an entomologist standpoint."

Vickers noted there were "18,500 persons directly interested and a hundred-fifty-million-dollar industry involved."

"The hazard is too great to take a risk," Vickers declared.

State Convention Is Held At Houston

Texas Group To Back Wallace Organized

BY JOHN HARTZELL
United Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, April 26—Texas followers of Henry Wallace were united within the ranks of the "Progressive party" today.

At a one-day state convention here yesterday, the third party boosters gave themselves a name and contributed $8,513 to get their organization going.

They sang anti-Truman and pro-Wallace songs and passed resolutions.

A spectator at the gathering was James Green, secretary of the Texas Communist party.

Resolutions Are Adopted

Some 300 persons from 14 of the state's 31 senatorial districts attended to elect officers, adopt resolutions and a constitution, and hear two speeches.

O. John Rogge, former assistant U. S. attorney general and keynote speaker, spent most of his 30-minute speech attacking the House committee on un-American activities, loyalty checks on government workers and deportation of labor leaders.

Resolutions adopted asked that negroes and whites attend the same schools in Texas, and took a stand against Texas' owning the tidelands off its shores. Selective service, universal military training and labor laws also were opposed in resolutions.

Herman Wright, Houston attorney and chief organizer of the Texas Wallace supporters, was named state chairman of the new party. Mrs. Stacy Adams, wife of a Dallas negro minister, was elected vice-chairman.

Mrs. Harriet Leary of San Antonio and Sam Goldberg of Dallas were chosen as the national committee representatives.

J. Frank Dobie, former University of Texas professor, was named an honorary chairman of the party.

The delegates set a goal to raise at least $50,000 before the November elections to aid the campaign of Wallace for president and Sen. Glen T. Taylor of Idaho for vice-president.

WICHITA MAN KILLED

DALLAS, April 26 (AP)—Lt. Tony R. Royster, 26, of Wichita Falls, naval reserve pilot, was killed yesterday when his fighter plane crashed and burned six miles southwest of the Dallas Naval Air station. A witness said the plane went into a spin before crashing. Survivors include the flier's wife.

Two Abilene Men Are Sentenced To Prison

MORTON, April 26 (Special)—Three years in the state penitentiary was the assessment of Judge Dan Blair in each of two felony trials here today.

Defendants were Walter Lee Matthews, 23, and Jack Timothy Wilson, 20, both of Abilene.

Indictments charged the two men with theft of a camera valued at more than $50, from Lois Igo, Dec. 27 at Morton.

Owing to illness of Fred Chandler, defense counsel, the murder case charging I. G. Golden, 62, a negro, with another negro's shoting, was continued.

The remainder of the felony docket was passed.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin represented the state.

The Lubbock law firm of Denton and Salyars represented the Abilene men.

Plan To Remove Remains Of Famed General Is Assailed

SACKETS HARBOR, N. Y., April 26 (AP)—Any attempt to remove the remains of General Zebulon Pike to Pikes Peak, Colo., from the military cemetery here will be resisted by "an armed guard," Mayor Carl Jackson said today.

"We have taken a liking to the general, and we're going to keep him up here," Jackson siad.

Officials of the Army cemetery's branch had announced earlier that the famous explorer's body would be removed to Colorado on request of Pike's next of kin. Pike, for whom the peak near Colorado Springs was named, was buried here after being killed in the war of 1812.

"If anybody tries to move General Pike from here, we'll have an armed guard waiting for him. They'll do it over my dead body," Jackson said.

Army officials said the Rev. C. W. Harrison of Gainesville, Tex., a great-great grandson of Pike, had requested the transfer.

Disease Line Pushed South

MEXICO CITY, April 26 (AP)—The joint U. S. - Mexico commission combatting foot and mouth disease announced today the infection has been pushed to 328 miles south of the Texas border at its nearest point.

At its height, the disease spread to within 250 miles of the U. S. border. It was the second southward movement in two months.

The commission reported the shift in the quarantine line after herd by herd inspection over a 57,757 square mile area in north-central Mexico. Only a few isolated outbreaks of foot and mouth disease were found in the inspection, and these were eliminated by slaughter and burial of animals.

Quarantine Line Set

The new infection limit reported by the commission runs from the Gulf of Mexico at the northern boundary to Veracruz state west through northern Hidalgo, Queretaro and Guanajuato states. It curves south through Jalisco state to Colina state on the Pacific which still is within the infected zone.

Dr. Maurice Shanan, U. S. co-director of the campaign, said the newly cleared area of about 3,668 square miles, plus a 4,102 square mile area cleared two months ago represents a total slaughter of "fewer than 20,000 animals." Part of these were among the 500,000 killed and buried before the mass slaughter program was abandoned because of opposition by many peasants.

Vaccination Program Pushed

The commission reported progress in the program to vaccinate cattle against disease, but said there is not enough evidence to show which among many European and South American vaccines is the best. It has ordered 300,000 doses of vaccine from Argentina, and 100,000 were received here by plane yesterday.

Mexico is pushing construction of laboratories to produce vaccines here.

Oscar Flores, Mexican campaign director, said 60 miles of jungle land in northern Veracruz state has been cleared for construction of a proposed 90-mile fence to help check the disease. Shortage of barbed wire has delayed fence construction, he said.

ORANGE, April 26. (AP)—A petition was circulated by the Parent Teachers association here today asking the three-man board of trustees of the Bancroft common school district to resign. Meanwhile a strike of students at the school, which began Friday, continued.

The petition was circulated following a PTA meeting at the school today. Students of the school, in suburban Orange, struck apparently in opposition to new school rules and after the trustees failed to act on a proposal for a new building.

Less than half of the 130 pupils enrolled were at their desks today, Miss Inez Wallace, principal, said.

COMMISSIONERS OKAY ACTION

Lubbock County Goes Into Oil Business With Lease Of Land

Lubbock county Monday went into the oil business—in a limited manner.

The county commissioners court authorized County Judge Walter Davies to execute and deliver to C. A. Pierce an oil, gas and mineral lease on regular Texas standard form "88," with pooling and gas recycling clauses, on behalf of Lubbock county, under these terms and conditions:

A regular 10-year commercial form of lease, upon payment of an agreed $50 bonus, annual rentals of $1 an acre, a total sum of $3 in rentals to be deposited to credit of the lessor county each year, and a one-eighth royalty.

Small Area Involved

But only three acres is covered in the lease agreement to be executed—out of the southwest corner of the southwestern quarter of survey 9, block D-7, a dry lake bed which was deeded to the county in 1929 by C. M. Clark.

The land is approximately two miles north of Idalou.

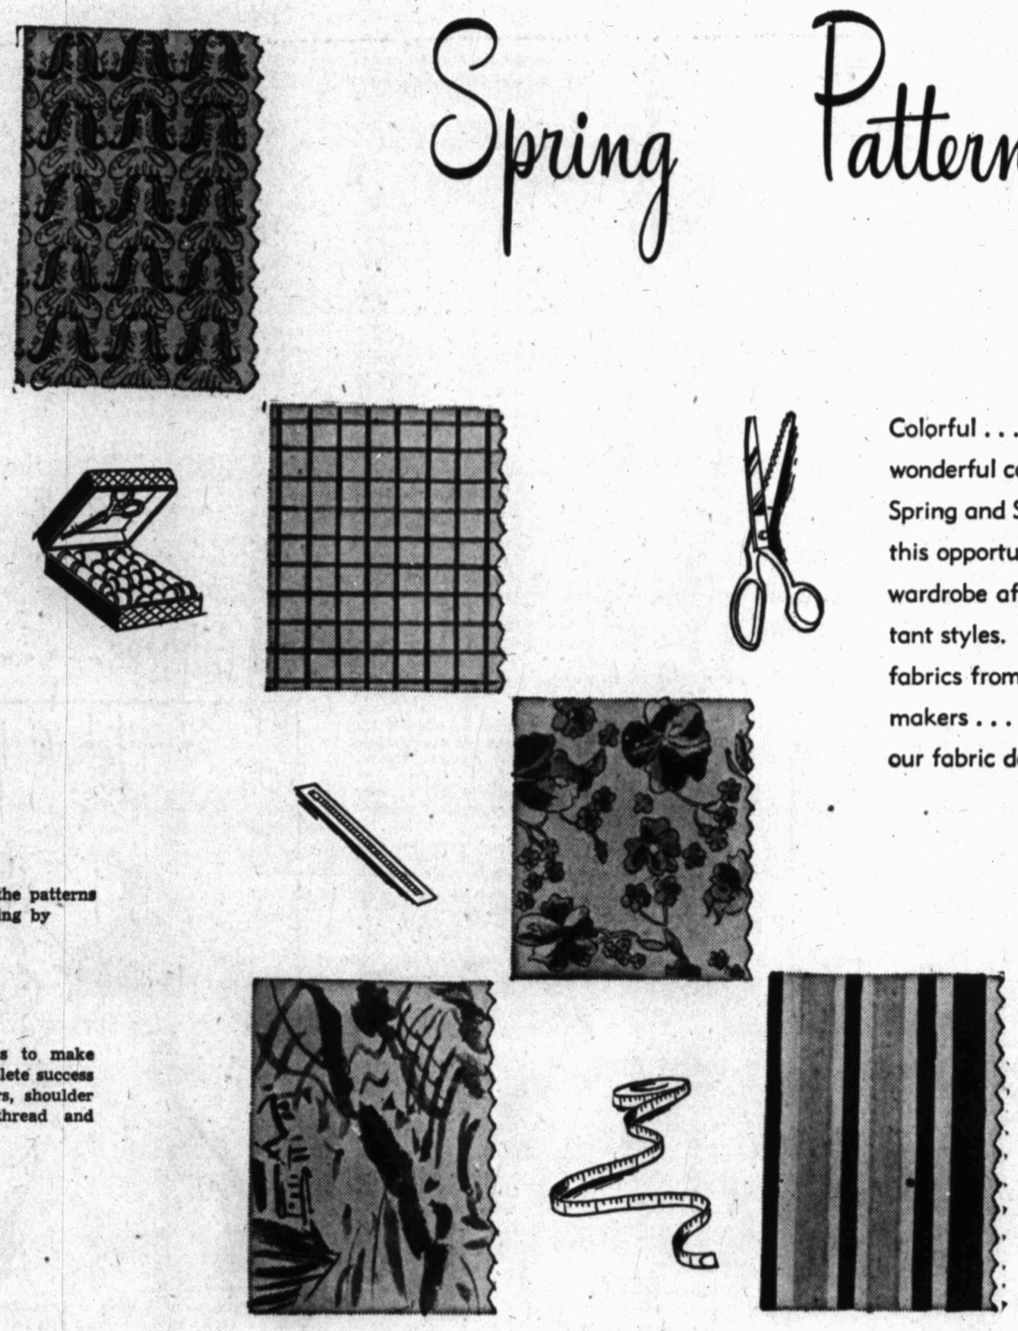

Commissioners also:

Approved payment of $338.53 to Southwestern Associated Telephone company for moving poles and wire to clear space for construction of an underpass on highway 87; $181.88 to South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., for moving three and a half miles of REA lines for a road widening program north of Wolfforth and $246.69 for moving six miles of lines in northwest Lubbock county for the same purpose.

AN AMAZING FIND

Lawless Americans

THE Federal Bureau of Investigation, currently checking federal workers under a Congressional mandate seeking to make sure of the loyalty of Uncle Sam's employes, has run across a rather amazing condition, i. e., that 8.5 per cent of the people who are working for the government have had one or more charges of law violation lodged against them.

"The great majority of charges," FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says, "were on felonies. Only a very few were misdemeanors."

The fact that one U. S. employe of every 12 has faced charges of serious law violation doesn't necessarily mean that 8.5 per cent of federal workers are criminals. Nor does it mean that the percentage of government employes charged with law violation at one time or another during their lives is any greater than the percentage of people in all forms of employment.

The statistics do mean, however, that Americans charged with law violation are much more numerous than most people would have guessed before learning of the findings of the FBI in the government's "loyalty check."

And that is not good.

Essay On Beauty

ON the back page of the bulletin of First Presbyterian church recently appeared an essay entitled "Beauty."

Because the essay's message is not denominational in any sense of the word, and because it is one men need to read, we are pleased to reproduce it here.

The essay read:

"Of surpassing beauty are the flowers of Spring. Some literally blanket the ground with color. Others modestly hide themselves in the grass or under larger plants and shrubs, while still others, numbered by the millions, seem to unite in an effort to conceal the colorless branches and twigs of trees otherwise devoid of beauty. When in full bloom the cherry tree, the wild crab apple, the dogwood, the redbud and the peach tree are all ravishing in their beauty. We watch and admire them from day to day, stand before them in near reverence. Then one day comes a gust of wind, and another. Like snowflakes the petals flutter to the ground. Not for another year will this loveliness again appear.

"There is another type of beauty more exquisite than this, one that need not fade or disappear, that may grow and develop, like a flower everlasting. This is the beauty of the soul of a child, living and growing in the atmosphere of a Christian home, where love and tenderness, courtesy and purity are the dominant daily influences. Take the hand of such a child and look gently into the trusting little eyes. There you will see the ultimate in human beauty, the soul most nearly the image of God.

"True, this beauty too may fade and disappear. But it need not. Not if the Spirit of Christ reigns supreme in the home. Not if the church, through its program of instruction, will keep burning the love of the Savior in the heart of the child.

"Just now is the time when every church should ready its plans for an interesting and instructive vacation church school. The heart of the child is sure to warm to the story of the life and love of our Lord Jesus Christ, taught by a teacher of ability and consecration."

THE sudden and shocking death of Tommy Bishop was accepted in the town with a lethargy that was surprising when you considered how avidly most details about the Forresters were hashed and rehashed. Tommy's engagement to Laurie (if you could even call it that) had never been a formal one; to most of the townspeople he was simply "that nice young man that stays out at the Forresters." There was a general feeling of sympathy, a genuine regret that it had happened but the entire affair was accepted quietly.

Sam Blanding, the sheriff, was of the opinion an inquest wouldn't be necessary. Tommy Bishop died as the result of an accident, Sam Blanding said; his tone implied that any fool could see that much so what was the use to put the county to the expense of an inquiry?

He talked at length with Rush Thursday night and Friday morning drove out to Tophill to talk with the others, the family and the maids.

Ann, with apprehensive eyes, watched his arrival from her bedroom window, watched Rush go down the porch steps to meet him. An hour ago she'd been eager to see the sheriff, dreading his arrival yet at the same time aching to get it over with. Now she was caught again in indecision, unable to make up her mind, not knowing how to start, what words to say.

For she had to talk. She couldn't keep still any longer. Two men had died because of her—that was putting it honestly enough surely—and she could no longer seek refuge in silence.

* * *

THEY were coming up the porch steps, Rush and the sheriff, when she got downstairs.

"Good Morning, Mrs. Bancroft," Sam Blanding said in a subdued voice. "I'm sorry to disturb you at a time like this."

"That's all right, Sam," she said quickly and opened the screen door and came out onto the porch.

"You understand I got to do some checking? Just formality, of course, but that's what the county pays me for." Sam Blanding gave her his slow gentle smile. "And I'm real sorry to have to bother your sister, Mrs. Bancroft, but I'm afraid I'll have to ask her a question or two."

"Of course. Surely," she said. "It won't amount to much," he assured her. "Seems t'be pure accident, all the way through."

She wondered if she heard a faint question in his voice but she couldn't be sure and Rush said at once, and easily, "Of course it was, Sam. A doggoned shame, too. Tommy was a nice kid."

Sam Blanding looked at Rush from underneath his colorless eyebrows. If he thought the epitaph casual he made no comment.

He said instead, "Mr. Bancroft says you weren't home when it happened?"

She wished her mouth wouldn't persist in being so dry.

"No, I wasn't." She shook her head. "I'd gone into town. I had to see Mr. Barton on business. Enos Barton, our attorney," she explained, although she was sure the explanation wasn't necessary.

"He'll be here in a few minutes," Rush said unexpectedly. He turned to Ann. "Not to verify your story darling, but—" and Sam Blanding said, slowly, carefully, "Why would it need verifying?"

Rush paused only briefly.

"I thought it wouldn't be a bad idea to have Enos here. We aren't familiar with the technicalities of a situation like this and—"

"Sure, sure," Sam Blanding said amiably, and Ann couldn't help thinking that Rush was being too insistent that Enos Barton's coming was of no importance.

"You want to wait for Mr. Barton?" Sam Blanding asked. "Or can we start without him?"

"Oh, there's no reason to wait for him," Rush said. "I'll get the girls."

IT seemed to Ann that Rush was gone an exceedingly long time. The minutes stretched endlessly as she sat there on the porch with Sam Blanding. The sunshine was warm and enervating; she felt a lassitude creeping through her and knew she had to fight it. She had to care enough to tell the sheriff the whole story.

Her heart kept pounding in great tremendous beats that made her dizzy and she thought, I should tell him now. Right this minute. I should take advantage of the fact that we're alone.

Yet when she opened her lips and tried to speak the words, they would not come. She lacked the strength—or perhaps the courage—to say the words that would catapult all of them into the full horror of a murder investigation.

Everything would change at once.

Sam Blanding wouldn't sit there, placidly smoking his pipe, with that pleasant look on his face. His blue eyes would narrow and fill with doubt, his expression would harden, the very air about them would be filled with distrust and suspicion.

Or she could hold her tongue, not breathe so much as a whisper of distrust, and everything would go on just as before. Sheriff Blanding would ask his questions and then go away in his old rattletrap car and that would be the end of it.

Except that it wouldn't be the end.

There wouldn't ever be an end to it until she was dead or—

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

ONE thing that impressed me particularly on my recent trip through thirteen of our forty-eight states was the dilapidated condition of many of the Honor Rolls that were put up with much noise and fanfare for our boys who took part in the last war.

BRANDEIS

In many of the towns you can hardly read their names. In some of the plots there were weeds and rubbish, and it was quite evident that the heroes of yesterday are the forgotten men of today.

We ought to be ashamed of ourselves for being so neglectful and for having so soon forgotten our promises to those who were willing to die to keep us free and to those others who did die in fulfillment of their pledge to you and me.

At St. Thomas Church in New York they held a memorial service for Sergeant Donald Shore Candlyn.

Sergeant Candlyn was nineteen years old when he was killed in action in the Battle of the Bulge in December, 1944.

The rector of St. Thomas told his congregation that the kid must have had a foreboding that he wasn't going to come back.

He made a will, and in it he left some money to his church where he had served in the choir and where his father is organist and choirmaster.

At the service for him they dedicated a newly installed section of the organ for which young Candlyn's bequest had paid.

During the dedication Dr. Brooks, the rector, read the closing sentence of the will:

"To everyone my thanks for everything and God's blessing to you all."

Dr. Brooks added solemnly, "at nineteen years of age!"

THAT'S the kind of kid in whose honor those Honor Rolls were put up.

There were thousands of them who had in their hearts nothing but gratitude for the blessings this country had bestowed upon them and who prayed to God to give you His blessings in return.

I well remember the speeches and the solemn rites when those Honor Rolls all over the country were dedicated.

I remember how conspicuously the most prominent people of the different communities sat there and acted as sponsors for those Rolls and for what they respected.

I remember the flags and the flowers—

But today? Names almost obliterated. Weeds instead of roses. Rubbish instead of flags.

Common decency and a few dollars a month would maintain those Honor Rolls.

Have we so soon forgotten those awful years just past?

Must we be mercenaries until danger and sacrifice of others make us patriots once again?

STASSEN POSES THREAT

GOPs Also 'Feudin"

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Republican rivalry for the presidential prize has become so keen since the unexpected upsets scored by Harold E. Stassen that friends of the various candidates have begun to indulge in some mild mud-slinging, which tends to offset the harsh remarks directed against President Truman by major and minor members of his own party.

The tirades are not particularly vicious, but they are undignified, and they forecast a mean, petty campaign.

TUCKER

The candidates themselves are not guilty of these offenses, although there is no evidence that they have bridled voluntary or involuntary spokesmen. Nor have the innuendoes been uttered on a public stage or distributed in official or semi-official literature.

The barbed stories, suggestions and anecdotes are heard in Congressional cloakrooms, at dinner parties, cocktail get-togethers, hotel lobbies, and wherever people with a professional or amateur interest in politics gather. And in Washington that is everywhere, inasmuch as the Capital is known as a public whispering gallery.

SOUTHERN: Mr. Truman's difficulties with the Southern wing, for instance, are blamed on his vocal eagerness to picture himself as a Dixie Democrat both before and after he entered the White House. His promulgation of Civil Rights legislation would not have caused such a commotion below the Mason and Dixon Line if he had not represented himself as a son of the South as soon as he landed in Washington.

He himself, according to the cocktail commentators, parlayed into political payoffs the remark of his mother when, as a new National Guard recruit, he returned home in a blue uniform. 'Take that uniform off, Harry," she said, "and don't ever enter this house again in such a getout.' He also used to tell with chuckles how, when she first visited the White House, she could not believe that he would retain Abraham Lincoln's bed, which she regarded as a Yankee abomination.

Mr. Truman, according to these stories, informed all and sundry, both as a Senator and President, that his sympathy and temperament were Southern, and that Dixie would have a friend in him forever. Naturally, these autobiographical illuminations lead Southern politicians to feel that they have been double-crossed by the man in the White House.

FAVORED: For obvious reasons Mr. Stassen is the next most illustrious target of this as yet undercover warfare. His friendly enemies have abandoned joshing references to him as "the young man in too much of a hurry," the one-world reformer" and the "baby-kissing candidate" since they discovered that these slighting aside did not hurt him with the electorate.

Now he is depicted as Wall Street's favored candidate, as Wendell Willkie was in the last, desperate hours of the 1940 pre-convention tussle. His enemies charge that he has been financed, publicized and supported by the international financiers because his general foreign and domestic policy satisfies them as completely as Mr. Willkie's did.

SOURCE: In support of this indictment, they recall that, after delivering the keynote address at the 1940 convention, he became the Willkie floor manager, although he had promised the Taft-Dewey forces that he would remain neutral, "Childe Harold" as they call him, discovered then that no man can get far in presidential politics if he does not have the blessing of the Board and Wall Street clique.

Noting that Mr. Stassen has travelled at least 90,000 political miles since he quit the Navy in 1945, his critics ask the source of the funds to finance such costly campaigning. They do not believe that fees from lecture tours and magazine articles were generous enough to underwrite travels that took him into forty-two states of the union.

ELDERLY: Senator Vandenberg, who is regarded as the most likely beneficiary of Stassen's show of strength, has not escaped these pre-convention digs. In attempts to decry the prominent part he has played in shaping a bi-partisan foreign policy, he is described as an elderly figure who, after serving as an obedient and routine party servant, has decided to make a death-bed repentance.

But the new attacks center upon his age and supposed poor health. He has furnished inspiration for this kind of desparagement by saying that, if elected, he would serve only one term.

Now his enemies have him in such a stage of decrepitude that, according to them, he must sleep at least ten hours a night. He cannot step out after dinner, they add, except for duty occasions. Such an invalid, it is pointed out, could not endure White House hardships even for one term.

Anti-Vandenberg dinner party gossips conclude these jibes with Mrs. Vandenberg's reported remark: "I would rather have a live husband than a dead President."

PRAISE: Senator Taft is damned with great praise on all sides. His detractors say that "he is so brilliant that he is stupid." What they mean is that, in Senate debates and public appearances, he is apt to forget or waive aside the silly amenities of parliamentary and political discourse. Thus his honesty and bluntness are turned against him.

He is labeled a "reactionary" by labor for his co-sponsorship of the Taft-Hartley Act. Yet he is condemned as a "radical" by many Republicans for his co-authorship of measures for federal financial aid for education, health and housing.

Even Mrs. Taft's active assistance in his campaign is used against him on the ground that she would be "another Eleanor Roosevelt" if he ever sat in the White House. The truth is that there was never a less socially or politically ambitious or a more "homey" famly in Washington.

The fact is that Bob and Martha, as they would undoubtedly admit, would like to see the male member of the team in the big chair because they consider him the best qualified man for that awful assignment.

PENALTY: Even popular Speaker Martin gets kicked around. When it is suggested that he might be the darkest of dark horses, politicians and correspondents retort: "What, 'little Joe' in the White House! He's a grand guy, but I can't see him as President of the United States!"

Speaker Martin is paying the age-old penalty for his friendliness and for the fact that, since he entered the House in 1924, he has never tried to look or pose or behave like a President. No more than Calvin Coolidge or Warren Harding did!

All these behind-the-scenes railings against the key candidates will be uttered and published in one form or another before the gavels bang at the two conventions. But you don't have to believe more than ten per cent of the indictment, and even then, you might be wrong!

Russia appears to be a country where they would divide everything equally—that is, if they had anything to divide.

STASSEN'S TACTICS IMPRESSIVE

Taft On Defensive In Campaign

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

CLEVELAND — A tour here and there in Ohio alternating between Senator Robert A. Taft and Harold Stassen afforded a contrast in the two men, their methods, and the atmosphere each creates that offers perhaps as good a clue as any to the probable outcome of what may prove a very decisive presidential primary.

STOKES

Senator Taft attracts smaller and less enthusiastic crowds generally. His mere appearance here and there causes little excitement. The senator, of course, has long been a part of the scenery of Ohio, is somewhat old shoe, which his campaign managers emphasize in a pamphlet on the front of which is a pair of well-worn shoes and the slogan, "he wears well." But in this campaign he is visiting folks in the byways and hedges where he has not campaigned for ten years—because that was unnecessary up to now—and it is perhaps significant that so few come out for another look and show no real interest in the distinguished Senate leader and native son whose prestige has grown so great nationally. The senator is not an actor, or a dramatic figure, to be true, but prosy and prosaic.

Stassen Attracts Crowds

Leaving this listless sort of performance to travel about here and there with Harold Stassen, you feel the change immediately. There is an alertness and eagerness in the people who are always waiting before hotels for the newcomer to appear, and about the entrance of halls to see him come and go, and an electric, vibrant quality about the meetings, themselves. The young man, himself, exudes confidence and the impression of success.

Senator Taft can walk in lonely isolation through hotel lobbies, as he does, attracting no attention. Harold Stassen is always the center of a crowd in such places and radiates his personality.

This contrast reflects also the basic nature of the two campaigns here. Senator Taft has the regular organization and regular organization people, both as delegates and as workers, familiar folks long known and classed as "politicians." On the contrary, Harold Stassen has working for him the same sort of zealous "amateurs" that achieved so much for the late Wendell L. Willkie back in 1940 about this time and were derided by the professionals. For his workers and as candidates for the 23 delegate places which he is contesting out of the 53 delegates for the state, the interloper has prominent local individuals, women active in civic affairs, businessmen who never before have participated in politics, many of them young, but all on fire. They proudly confess they are "amateurs." But they are working day and night among their friends, knocking on doors and arranging meetings on behalf of the 41-year-old candidate who has had such a meteoric rise with his twin victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska, and seems so surely on the way now.

Yet, amateurs as are his rank and file workers, there is a professional touch to the Stassen campaign, in the arrangements, in the candidate, himself, than whom, incidentally, there is no smarter political operator extant today. This is lacking in the Taft campaign, even though it is directed by professional organization people.

Taft Hits Campaign

The contrast between the campaign methods of the two men is striking. Senator Taft is bluntly frank and direct. Harold Stassen is suave, polished and complete master of his audiences and of any situation. For example, when in the question sessions after his meetings—a technique he has borrowed from the younger man—Senator Taft is asked about universal military training, he says simply that he is against it with a big round period. Asked the same question, Harold Stassen goes into a long rigmarole in which he gets on every conceivable side of the issue. The senator, himself, bolls this performance down rather accurately and concisely by saying, "Mr. Stassen says on military training that he is for something less than compulsory and something more than voluntary, whatever that means." Harold Stassen, however, does it all so smoothly and adroitly that it seems to satisfy. He has trick answers on other issues, as has been pointed out here before some weeks ago and as Senator Taft points out in this campaign.

Yet, as you leave a meeting, you will always hear people saying to each other, beaming with the discovery:

"He didn't dodge a single question—answered everyone."

That technique still pays off in politics in our country.

He never misses a trick in other particulars as when, for example, he stepped up to the radio for an address in a crowded hotel ballroom where some were standing around the edges and said for the benefit of the listening audience:

"I'm sorry so many of you people haven't got chairs.

All of this and his way of saying with poker face to an overflow audience, "this reminds me of the crowds in Wisconsin and Nebraska which I visited recently," and his praise of Senator Taft coupled with a statement that he will not attack the senator and has enjoined his people not to attack him—all of this has put the senator on the defensive, and that is not a pleasant place to be in a political campaign.

Fisherman Rescues Unconscious Youth With Fishing Pole, Hook

KANSAS CITY, April 26. (AP)—A fisherman rescued an unconscious 18-year-old youth from 30 feet of water by snagging him with a hook and line on a bamboo pole.

The youth, John C. Moses, fell 20 feet from a rock ledge into Indian creek while fishing yesterday. Nearby was Elvin A. Holker, 42.

Holker carefully dropped the fishing hook and line and caught Moses' clothing just back of the neck. Then he towed the youth-stream about 40 feet where he and other fishermen could reach him.

Holker applied artificial respiration and revived Moses.

Kansas Prohibition Law Is Attacked By Jaycee Group

WICHITA, Kans., April 26. (INS)—The Kansas state prohibitory liquor law today came under fire from the Kansas Junior Chamber of Commerce, the first major group to advocate outright repeal of the statute.

Delegates to the state Jaycee convention in Wichita have voted unanimously for a resolution stating that "the proposed (repeal) amendment should be adopted by the citizens of Kansas."

Formation of a "workable plan" for legal control of liquor was left to the state legislature.

The delegates also charged that the prohibitory law was "flagrantly and openly disrespected and violated by a substantial segment of the state's citizens."

STOCKS IN SLUMP
NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—Steady selling in today's stock market dropped leading shares fractions to an extreme or around 4 points lower.
The average decline equaled the sharpest setback security prices have experienced since Feb. 10.
Rails, farm implements and oils were principal victims during most of the session, but skidding tendencies spread in the final hour to 100 motors, steels and metals. Final prices in some instances were narrowly above the lows of the day.
Customers who had accumulated profits on the extended advance of the last few weeks continued to cash in on them. Lightening of accounts was general.
Several first quarter earnings reports were less favorable than anticipated. Concern was widespread over outcome of wage negotiations in several industries.
The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .9 at 67.1. A similar drop on March 16 was the only other decline of such size since early February. Of 1,063 issues traded there were 671 losers and 213 gainers.
Sales of 1,410,000 shares were far below the 2,470,000 traded in the last previous full session Friday.
Corn products was off 3 points at 62 as first quarter net was reported equal to 43 cents a share against $1.89 a year ago. North American was off narrowly.
Down a point or more were Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Texas Co., Mission Corp., U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Smelting and American Woolen.
Plymouth Oil touched a new 1948 high before slipping fractionally lower. Holding narrow gains to the close were Atlantic Coast line, Allied Chemical, Spiegel, United Aircraft and American Can.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, April 26 (AP) — More rain in the winter wheat belt sent grains down again today on the board of trade. The market opened lower and never was able to get back up to Saturday's close, although small scale rallies started at times.
Wheat closed 1¼-2⅛ lower, May $3.38¾-⅞, corn was 1⅛ to 2 cents lower, May May $1.07⅛-¼, and soybeans were unchanged to a cent higher, May $3.96.
The Kansas City Commodity Credit corporation reduced its buying price for wheat by 3¼ cents, offering to pay 9 cents over Chicago May priced at $2.38. The CCC announced it bought 2,065,000 bushels at Kansas City and 211,000 bushels at Chicago last Friday.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, April 26 (AP) — Cotton futures sold lower today on liquidation, with the decline accentuated by stop-loss selling. Losses extended to more than $2.50 a bale before the market steadied on mill buying.
Confusion over the foreign aid program and to what extent they will tighten up old crop cotton supplies, accounted for some selling.
More favorable weather reports from the cotton belt, including needed rains in Oklahoma and Texas, brought some pressure on the new crop deliveries.
Futures closed $2.45 to $3.50 a bale lower than the previous close.

Changes In Nation's Economy Seen As Spending Is Slowed

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The new competition among commodities reflects the extents to which reconversion has made items which were unattainable during the war available to civilian customers.

Thus, increased buying of homes, durable household appliances, and automobiles with the high cost of food, much less of the customer's dollar has been allocated to furs, jewelry, night clubs, liquor, books, flowers, and other quasi-luxury items.

While total sales at retail have remained high, there have been significant changes of pattern within the aggregate figures. Thus, readjustment has gone on actively without creating the overall slump or bust which the academic planners of the New Deal predicted.

In order to understand what has occurred, it should be borne in mind that during the years of government restrictions on civilian goods while civilian dollar incomes were at very high levels, the flow of family incomes into entertainment and luxury goods and services was adnormally heavy. The boom in such items in part was a function of the inflationary gap; that is, the excess of money incomes in the hands of civilians over the availability of the type of civilian goods and services normally desired.

The important fact is that with the return of competitive conditions there is a revival of the normal pattern of competition for the limited funds of customers. The need and desire for certain goods, the demand for which became cumulative during the war, have absorbed funds, which otherwise would have been used for items and services less urgently desired. Of the latter items in many instances, inventories in hands of consumers are still heavy.

But in spite of the large national income, the need for discipline in the family budget is again obvious. Families must choose how to dispose of their limited income, and in turning thumbs up on some, they necessarily must turn thumbs down on others. Thus, advertising, selling and merchandising are coming back into their own in the scramble for customer favor.

Unless these cross trends within the high aggregate sales are understood, then the observer of the totality situation is confused.

On top of this readjustment has recently been superimposed new influences growing out of federal spending for accelerated military preparedness, on the one hand, and for Marshall Plan aid to other countries, on the other. In a sense, there is a mild countertrend to the readjustment toward normalcy, increasing the tendency of abnormally heavy governmental spending to perpetuate shortages of materials and manpower. Prior to this, the diminishing prospect of shortage was altering the buying decisions of customers.

Rogers C. Dunn, of the Dunn's survey at Greenwich, Conn., challenges the Republican majority in Congress to demonstrate that it is not captivated by the late Harry Hopkins' doctrine of "spend and spend, tax and tax, elect and elect."

He points to the lack of vigor of the majority in cutting down federal personnel to the prewar level. Mr. Dunn asks challengingly whether the Republicans hope to use the payroll vote as a means of staying in office the way the New Dealers have.

Irrespective of politics, it is desirable from an economic standpoint to cut down the inflated cost of government. With the new military and foreign expenditures, it becomes more urgent than ever to effectuate offsetting economies in other directions. Otherwise preparedness may be weakened by insidious inflation.

Information On Communists Sent To Police, Clark Says

PHILADELPHIA, April 26 (U.P.)—U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark revealed today that the Justice department has sent secret information to police chiefs throughout the country on Communist agents in their areas.

Stating that America "does have a Communist menace, although not as great as some would have you believe," Clark said there was always "a threat by a group of fellow travellers sent here by Russia to organize Communist attacks on government."

Clark, here on a visit to judge an artshow, said dossiers were sent to Philadelphia police on 55 Communists in this area alone.

Methodist Men To Change Meeting Time

The Methodist Men's club voted at its luncheon yesterday at Hotel Lubbock to change its meeting time from Monday noon to a breakfast session each Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, and in a board of directors meeting that followed it was decided the meeting will be held at the church instead of at the hotel.

The club's action, taken after long discussion of a time and place that might serve to help stimulate attendance and interest, was made subject to satisfactory arrangements with the hotel management.

It was announced following the board meeting that doughnuts and coffee will be served free from the church's kitchen. First meeting under the new plan is to be held May 4.

The club voted an appropriation of $150 toward financial needs of a junior baseball club to be sponsored this year in the city-wide recreation program for the summer.

Clarence Whiteside, club president, was in the chair, with invocation by T. C. Root.

Houston Police Make Arrests In Mystery Shooting Cases

Three youths were under arrest. One was charged in two cases of assault to murder and also with carrying a pistol.

Three men who were shot by a mysterious assailant identified pictures of 17-year-old David Garza. Garza was charged in the shootings of Celso Cesares, 21, early this morning in downtown Houston.

A 19-year-old youth and a 16-year-old boy were arrested after homicide Capt. George Seber questioned Garza.

Garza was identified through pictures by L. J. Williams, 26, and Salvadore Loero, 26. Loero and Williams are still in the hospital as a result of the shootings.
