

Be My, Uhhhhh---Valentine

Monday, Feb. 14 is a special day all over the world for lovers of all ages. For the younger set, such as Yordy Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Powell, and Kim Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Parker, Valentines Day can be made up of timid but enjoyable moments when it comes to face-to-face exchanging of valentines.

Mrs. Cowan Won't Run Decisions Put Light On School Election

The Colorado City city council and Colorado Independent School District board during their regular meetings Monday night will set details for elections for the two groups.

The school board election will come first on April 1--the first Saturday in April, if the board gives its approval as expected.

March 1 would be the filing deadline for candidates for two positions which are up for election. Those positions are now held by Tom Rees and Mrs. Kenneth Cowan.

Mrs. Cowan told the Record Saturday that she will not seek re-election. Rees, now serving as president of the board, said he has not decided if he will run again.

If the school board votes as expected, absentee voting will be held at the school tax assessor-collector office, 250 Walnut, March 13 through the 28th. J. W. (Bill) Randle will be election judge.

CITY ELECTION

The city election is expected to be held the first Tuesday in April--April 4, should the city council vote as expected.

Filing deadline for city council candidates is 6 p.m. March 3. Absentee voting will be held March 16-31 at City Hall.

Three city council posts for two-year terms will be up for election this year. Those posts are now held by Eddie Piland, Buck May and Trevlyn Kelley.

Kelley and May told the Record Saturday they are undecided about seeking re-election. Piland was out of town and not available for comment.

Other action scheduled for Monday night's city council election includes consideration of bids for two police cars and a fire truck.

The council also will hear a number of reports from City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr., on current activities of the city.

Contracts to be considered are those of administrative assistant Gary Gardner (whose new contract will include a proposal to change his title to assistant superintendent), athletic director Weldon Brevard, tax assessor-collector Jay Craddock Jr., and Principals Esten Blackmon, Jerry Reynolds, C. C. Burt, Donald Dulin and Wallace Price.

Also to be considered are the contracts of maintenance supervisor L. H. Harrison, cafeteria supervisor Mrs. Bonnie Blasingame and transportation supervisor Coy Adams.

The board is also expected to grant maternity leave of absences for Mrs. Martha Matthews and Mrs. Hontas Hines and the resignation of Mrs. Suzanne Bennett.

Superintendent Lloyd McKee has recommended that Douglas Lee Keese, Ira Lea Puckett and Mrs. Barbara Jean Jamieson to replace those on leave and the one who resigned.

Hudson To Okla. St.

Texas colleges and universities haven't fared too well in recruiting Colorado City gridiron stars.

Scott Hudson, all-district lineman for the Wolves, last weekend signed a letter of intent with Oklahoma State, a member of the Big 8.

Hudson visited the Oklahoma State campus last weekend and came home satisfied with what he saw.

Oklahoma State now only is an up and coming power in Big 8 football, but they also have a nationally rated rodeo team and an outstanding agricultural program, all of which interested Hudson.

Carl Devorce, a 1970 star for the Wolves, also attends Oklahoma State and is expected to start on the varsity next year.

This weekend, two other Wolves, Bob Benson and Dean Brooks, traveled out of state for a look-see at Eastern New Mexico State.

"Arsenic & Old Lace" Play To Be Presented Feb. 21-26

TOWN ALK

By MAC MCKINNON

Last year was a very good year for Colorado City.

If you sometimes consider saying some uncharitable things about our town, just stop and consider these facts:

Twelve new homes were built in Colorado City in 1971.

At least six new businesses opened their doors.

Several businesses underwent extensive remodeling.

Building permits for work costing $267,710 were issued by the city.

Renovation of the old Baker Hotel got underway.

Most of the downtown area now has new sidewalks.

There were several indicators that the population of Colorado City is on the increase.

An old downtown building was torn down and what might be called a "mini-park" is now in its place.

The Colorado City Playhouse was completed and used for the first time.

One of the city's newest and largest industries, Foam-Tex Inc., expanded following a fire.

Plans for facilities at Lake Colorado City State Park were announced.

The City police annex was completed.

Many businessmen say 1971 See TALK Page 7

This week will be a hectic one for members of the Colorado City Playhouse as they prepare for the opening night's performance Feb. 21 of "Arsenic & Old Lace," the group's second production in its new home.

The play will run through Saturday night, Feb. 26, excluding Wednesday, Feb. 23.

Tandy Curlee, director of the play, reports that the cast of 14 has been working hard to make this one of the best productions presented by the Playhouse group to date.

He promises that the people of Colorado City and surrounding area will be thoroughly entertained by the play.

Reservations may be made by phoning 728-3491 between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday or tickets may be obtained at the Opera House during those hours. Tickets are $1.75 each.

3 Admit Marijuana Plead Guilty After Testimony

Three defendants decided to plead guilty to possession of marijuana after 3-day trial in 32nd District Court.

Pleading guilty to the offense and receiving probation from 2-year prison terms were Simon Medrano, 27, and two 17-year-olds, Joe Diaz and David Reyes.

A fourth person charged in connection with the same case, Louis Medrano, 17, has yet to appear in court.

The guilty pleas were heard before the 3-day trial, prosecuted by District Attorney Frank Ginzel, was ready to go to the 12-person jury. Judge Weldon Kirk heard the pleas and set the 2-year terms with probation.

The three guilty persons and the fourth defendant, Louis Medrano, were arrested at 11:24 p.m. last Sept. 29 at Rogers Rd. and West 17th St. by Patroimen Larry Tittsworth and Robert Henderson, both resigned from the police department, and Assistant Chief Jim Latham.

The two patrolmen had become suspicious of the car in which the quarter were riding when the auto's lights flashed on and the car drove away when the police car approached.

Members of the jury called

Local Fields Were Path To Oil's Hall Of Fame

Permian Basin Petroleum Hall of Fame is getting around to honoring "sweat and guts" pioneers of the West Texas oil industry.

And, they're putting the recognition sign on the right gang--a bunch who worked out of Colorado City back there soon after World War I.

All that resulted from their combination of determination, know-how and improvisation was development of the giant Permian Basin, one of the world's most prolific sources of petroleum which has been vital to the industrial, education and cultural development of all Texas.

One of these gents, H. P.

(Cap) Slagel, still lives here in Colorado City, where he came in July 1919 after serving as a captain in the 36th Division during World War I.

Oil field historians tell you that had it not been for the courage and determination of the late Wilbur J. (Bill) Thompson, his wife, Clara Thompson, their son, Robert G. (Bob) Thompson and Slagel the very first oil producer in the Permian Basin never would have been completed successfully.

Slagel was a tool dresser and cable tool driller in the Westbrook and Latare areas. His memories of those pioneer oil fields are proud and vivid to this day.

"It was different then," he recalled when notified of his Hall of Fame honor. "There was no pay until the well was finished."

"If you didn't have money, you had to have a store that would let you have groceries until pay time came around."

For the Underwriters Producing & Refining Company's Abrams (T&T Ry. Co. Land Trust) Well No. 1 near Westbrook, regarded as the first oil producer in the entire Permian Basin, this was a six months spread. The well was spudded Feb. 8, 1920, and completed about July 16, 1920.

"You worked 12-hour shifts," Slagel recalls. "If you were lucky it took only an hour each way to and from the well."

But the travel time--addition to the 12-hour work shift--sometimes stretched to 3 hours, sometimes 6 hours.

"And, sometimes we couldn't get there at all," Slagel said, referring to rain.

"I've left the Westbrook field at 1 p.m. and get here at 1 a.m. - 12 hours later. There were 5 cars of us. When one stuck, we would all help get it out. Then, we would repeat it over and over again with all the other cars."

"Usually, if we got 3 hours sleep a day, that was good."

Something else. If Slagel worked 18 hours, the pay when the well was finished was the same as if he worked his regular 12-hour stint.

Pioneering isn't a loose term for the oilmen of that period. Some of the Colorado City gang like Vinegar Bill Irwin and his sons, William Jr. and Herbert C. (Bert), worked the Pennsylvania oil fields when America first began to become aware of petroleum.

Just about all of 'em had started out drilling old salt wells, the forerunner of oil drilling. Some of the drilling with "rag rope" (really nitrogen gas) found in the Mitchell County Oil Corporation's W. H. Baggett No. 1, the famous

"We used rag rope some at Westbrook," Slagel remembers. "It had a lot of play and sheered a lot of pins, but we used it."

As progress came, rag rope was used more for spudding a well and drilling to several hundred feet before changing to wire. Some "rat tailed" it--splicing rag into wire.

Small, squat wood derricks were used, fired by boiler. In the Ira Field of Scurry County, where Slagel later worked in the 1920's, numerous wells were drilled by steam engines converted to "air" engines to utilize the force of so-called "air" (really nitrogen gas) found in the Mitchell County Oil Corporation's W. H. Baggett No. 1, the famous

"salt well" located in northern Mitchell County.

Slagel's work through Westbrook, Chalk and Ira oil fields is step - by - step path of oil history.

As a tool dresser and cable tool driller worked on the early exploration wells of the Permian basin, in addition to the Abrams No. 1 near Westbrook.

The Travelers Oil Company's Landers No. 1 on Landers Ranch, southeast of Colorado City, which started in 1919 finished in 1920 at 4,008 feet.

The Underwriters Producing & Refining Company's Zilpha Morrison No. 2, which completed as the second, but best oil producer in Westbrook field about March 2, 1922.

The Owen - Sloan Oil Company's Conoway No. 2, southwest of Westbrook, which was completed 3,368 feet.

The Nat Smith No. 1 on west bank of Morgan Creek, about 5 miles west of Colorado City, 4,000 feet.

The S.A. Loan et al Smartt No. 1, which extended Westbrook field to the north in Mitchell County.

The S.A. Sloan et al H.C. Miller No. 1, completed about Sept. 6, 1923, as an extension See HALL OF FAME Page 7

pids and love and such. The old days of comic and sometimes critical and cruel cards are rarely ever with us any more,
thank goodness.

Funny valentines are fine, sometimes delightful. Just so they are not meant to be mean.

However, here with these cold, misty days comes a great temptation to sound off by sending just a few with no hearts and flowers—only comments and questions.

SOLEMNLY tempted to send one to a Mr. Dick Cavett, late-night TV show master of ceremonies.

But Cavett and Coffey are not on speaking terms again. Tuned him out and stopped listening to his cute chatter for a solid year after he allowed Peggy Cass to say and say again a word decent people do not use after they are two years old and headed for the bathroom.

A recent night Cavett decided to have as guests Alan King who gets less funny than he used to be all the time.

He also invited Bob Hayes
and Roger Staubach, Texas Cowboy pro football stars. King tried to belittle Tom Landry, Cowboy coach, Cavett concentrated on interrupting Hayes and Staubach. That's funny or entertaining?

Would like to suggest as Cav-ett's valentine greeting that he take time to read at least one sports page and watch at least a few pro games before he tries to play football with cunning words if not plain ignorance.

TEMPTED to send a valentine, short if not sweet, to President Nixon. It would go something like "Is you is or is you aint gonna raise taxes if you don't have to move out of the White House?"

"The way you're speaking lately makes me doubt." But then Nixon and this Texas Democrat are not exactly on speaking terms, either.

WOULD like to send a valentine to Phyllis Diller congratulating her on her new look.

She spent $4,000 having her face lifted and her nose snipped a little. Pictures of the change show her much prettier. Only. . . while she was at it. . . why didn't she have the surgeon cut out at least some of that crazy cackle?

Oh well. There are all kinds of ways to make a living and if Miss Diller can do it with her cackle who's to say her nay?

NOTE that Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin made the front page with his face lifting job which was supposed to be his secret.

It did not stay a secret because he started appearing in public with two black eyes after having skin under his eyes tightened to take out the sag.

Like most men, the senator does not know how to keep a secret. Any woman with two black eyes would hide out at home for weeks and weeks if necessary.

Black eyes can cause tales of brawling and a man smart
as Proxmire ought to know that. What if some thug mistakes him for a fellow thug and challenges the dignified (if vain) senator to a fight on the steps of the capitol?

SO MUCH for the perverse valentines which comes to mind though there must be plenty of others handy.

Sending hearts and flowers is nicer, anyhow. Here's one sent with love to Frank and Carol Prewitt.

It would take a whole edition to send special love to all the people here who have been kind just recently.

Therefore, here's love to all Record readers along with repetition of the little old kindergarten song, "Who will be my valentine? I'll be yours
if you'll be mine."

Happy Valentine Day!

SEEN LATELYS are fewer this time. Been accenting getting well and sassy again.

Did see Alice (Mrs. Roy D.)
Coles who brought a fragrant load of fresh home-baked bread along with her generous self. . .
Annie Dixon came visiting and left little red flowers topped with a lifelike cardinal, knowing me and red birds.

Had a lovely visit with Lillian (Mrs. Glenn) Thomas, little neighbor across the street with Lela (Mrs. Oscar)
Price. . . and Bea (Mrs. Pint)
Richards.

Grace Doss Shelton (Mrs. Bob)
was here from Tyler on business. . . Saw Bob Ratliff at the Don Safford getting beautiful.

G. D. Foster was happily hoping for a visit from daughter George Maedell, her husband, Dr. Jim Takemoto and the couple's baby girl Kathleen, weather permitting this weekend.

Visited briefly with Record

tion go to several F.P. (fav-headed for the post office.

And a lacy loving one to Prin-

Delta Kappa Gamma Hears Miss Naredo Talk Of Cuba

Miss Rita Naredo outlined Cuban history for Delta Kappa Gamma members Monday evening when they met in the home of Mrs. W. D. Price. "The original name of Cuba was Juana," Miss Naredo, a native Cuban, said.

"Cuba is its Indian name,"

The speaker related how Cuba came under the dictatorship of Major General Fulgencio Batista and his ultimate resignation in 1959.

"Thinking that nothing could be worse than Batista's corruption," Miss Naredo said, "the young people welcomed Fidel Castro, former leader of strong student opposition."

"Castro became premier after Provisional President Lleo dissolved the Cuban Congress and removed governors, mayors and aldermen," she continued.

In describing drastic economic and social changes, Miss Naredo said "Hundreds of dissidents were murdered and the moderates were ousted from their jobs and homes."

"A communist type government composed of a directorate, headed by Castro, began a reign of terror."

The Naredo private school was confiscated by the government, the young Kelley Elementary School teacher explained, and all except one member of her family fled to the United States.

The new American citizen emphasized how wonderful the country is, "not because of an abundance of material things, but because we are free at the present."

Concluding her remarks she expressed her opinion that "if America ever falls, it will be from inside."

In a business session Mrs. A. G. Furlow Jr., president, announced that local Delta Kappa Gamma members will assist in making favors for the International Delta Kappa Gamma convention in Houston next July.

An important message for people who prepare their own income tax returns.

Maybe you've been cheating yourself all these years.

Every year, between January and April, millions of people sit down to do battle with Uncle Sam. Some are "self styled" accountants. Others think they can save a few dollars doing it themselves—so why not?

The sad truth is, however, no matter what their reason was for starting, many of them end the same. On the short end.

You see, when it comes to income taxes, amateurs should depend on H&R Block. We have all the facilities to help you make "income tax time" a pleasant experience. To begin with, H&R Block now has over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained personnel who are anxious to help you. They'll sit you down over a free cup of coffee and show you some things about your income tax that you might never have known existed. For example, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? And maybe you aren't aware that if your income increased last year, you may be able to save tax dollars by "income averaging."

Well, when it comes to income taxes, H&R Block is aware of just about everything because we're a company that eats, sleeps, and drinks tax returns 365 days a year.

Yes, maybe you can save a couple of bucks by doing your own return but it really may be costing you a lot more by not having your return done by H&R Block.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

of the Westbrook Field. At that time it was the field's best producer.

The Owen-Sloan Oil Company's Otis Chalk No. 1, the discovery well for the Chalk Field in Howard County.

That's just a partial account. Because Slagel, as a driller or independent operator, drilled or caused the drilling of numerous wells in the Ira Field of Scurry County as well as producers on Foster Ranch near Latah.

Slagel was named to the Hall of Fame with Bert Irwin, the Lockhart Brothers and Sam A. Sloan - a sizeable part of the Colorado City pioneer oil gang. Only Cap and Bert are believed to be alive now.

Bert is wintering in California and Cap lives here in Colorado City.

It's probably inevitable that Slagel turned to oil after his Army duty and a short career as Wells Fargo messenger between San Antonio and Houston.

His dad started him on the path to the oil patch when he took his son with him early to drill salt wells in West Virginia.

was their best year in years if not their best year ever.

The list could go on and on, but I think you get my point.

Speaking from my experience of having visited in many Texas towns and cities during the last two years, Colorado City is head and shoulders above many towns.

And from the way 1972 has started out, it could be an even better year than 1971.

Wolves Down Sweetwater

The Colorado City Wolves Friday night reached the mark of having won 20 games this season as they defeated the Sweetwater Mustangs 88-80, with 7 points, David Matthews, 6, and Welvin Ross with 2.

The Wolves built up a six point lead in the first quarter and led by seven, 46-39 at halftime. The Colorado City team added the eighth point to their lead in the third quarter.

In other district 3-AAA action Friday night, Lamesa slipped past Dunbar, 68-62, Brownfield downed Lake View 83-79, and Snyder trampled Estacado 80-55.

It now appears that Snyder, winner of the first half of district play, and Lamesa, who seems to have won the second half of the district competition, will play-off for the over-all championship.

The Wolves junior varsity didn't fare as well against Sweetwater Friday night as they lost 61-55.

Melvin Jackson led the way for the Wolves in the varsity game as he scored 31 points.

Others scoring for Colorado High School were Jerome Hopkins with 25 points, Randy Wright with 17, Skeet Kimbrell
