Missile Hits 5,000 MPH For Record

(By International News Service)

WHITE SANDS, N. M., Feb. 25 — The Army disclosed today that the world's first "double" rocket has sped at a record 5,000 miles an hour to a world's record 250 miles above the surface of the earth.

The sensational shot was fired from the Army Ordnance proving grounds at White Sands late yesterday.

The "double" missile was made up of a German V-2 which took off with a smaller American-built WAC Corporal in its nose. When the fuel in the first rocket was exhausted the missile dropped away and the second rocket screamed on into space.

Shot By Remote Control

(Actually, it was the WAC Corporal which posted both marks. It was launched in the sky from the V-2 and carried on from an unstated height. The WAC Corporal was shot by remote control, The Associated Press reported.

(These achievements were announced today by Brig. Gen. Philip G. Blackmore, commanding officer at the White Sands proving ground, The Associated Press said. His disclosure was the first regarding success of two-stage rocket experiments, begun nearly a year earlier.

(The 250-mile altitude eclipsed a previous mark of 114 miles attained in the firing of another rebuilt German V-2 here Dec. 17, 1946.

(A statement by General Blackmore described this as the greatest height "ever reached by a man-made object," and added:

("At the peak of the flight the rocket was for all practical purposes outside the earth's atmosphere."

Rocket Is Hunted

(The new speed mark compared with 5,300 feet a second, or slightly over 3,600 miles an hour—which the 1946 V-2 reached in registering the former altitude.

(White Sands authorities explained that the WAC Corporal, normally weighing around 700 pounds, was substituted for what was the warhead of the V-2—the nose which the Nazis filled with explosive in rocket-bombing London and Antwerp during World War II.

(General Blackmore said the WAC portion of the double rocket descended 80 to 90 miles north of the White Sands launching platform, as tracked by instruments. Ground searchers had not yet found it late in the day.

(The rockets are fired from a point about 30 miles inside the southern boundary of the proving ground, which extends 150 miles north from Fort Bliss, Tex., into New Mexico. The target range is around 35 miles wide.

(In view of this, today's disclosure was viewed as amplifying official statements to Congress week before last that a 3,000-mile range now is required for

Large Section Of State Gets Heavy Rains

(By The Associated Press)

HEAVY rains sent streams out of their banks over Southwest Texas' creek-bed highways Friday, but ranchers were happy to stay home and think about the benefits to their stock.

Downpours soaked an area from Del Rio on the Rio Grande to Fredericksburg in the Hill country. Heavy to light rains were general elsewhere over the state.

A few freshly shorn goats in Val Verde county died of exposure to the unusual moisture, but ranchers said the light losses were outweighed by the value of the rain.

Their ranges already were well-soaked from gully washers Tuesday and Wednesday.

Farmers Jubilant

Jubilant farmers watched tanks and creeks filling the Central Texas area about Temple for the first time in nearly a year. Some streets were flooded briefly at coastal Beaumont and Port Arthur. Water covered some low-lying streets inland at San Antonio.

Near Cameron, in Central Texas, rain-slick highways contributed to an auto crash in which Charles Ramsey, 47, former mayor of San Marcos, was killed, and seven school students were injured.

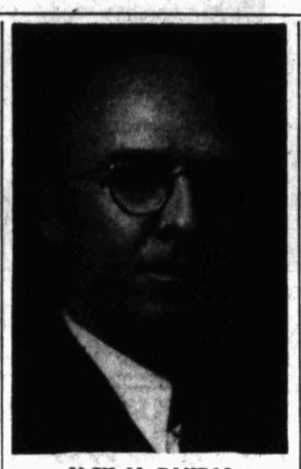

More showers were in prospect through Saturday for East Texas and from the Pecos valley eastward in West Texas Friday night. Temperatures continued mild.

In Southwest Texas at Del Rio, 2.59 inches of rain fell between 4 a. m. and 11 a. m. Sycamore creek rolled four feet above a low bridge 12 miles south of Del Rio on highway 85 to Eagle Pass. The Rio Grande rose to 18 feet, one foot above flood level, at the bridge three miles south of Del Rio to Villa Acuna, Mex. Traffic over the bridge was halted at 10 a. m. The highway department said it expected roads to remain closed overnight.

Uvalde Area Soaked

North of Uvalde, rainfall was estimated at more than four inches. Uvalde had about two inches of rain during the morning, but

GM To Make Price, Wage Reductions

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Feb. 25 — General Motors startled the auto industry today with a price cut tied mainly to a wage reduction for its 273,000 production workers.

The price cuts range from $10 to $40 on cars and trucks. They are effective immediately. The wage reduction commencing March 1, is two cents an hour. It is made automatically under the unique GM-CIO United Auto Workers contract that adjusts wages quarterly to the government's cost of living index.

Besides the hourly-rated workers some 68,000 GM salaried employes lose $10 of the $40 cost of living allowance they will receive during the next three months.

Large Saving Seen

General Motors ventured no estimate of the payroll saving the wage reduction will make. Authoritative sources, however, said it would total around $10,000,000.

Temporarily the reduction means GM production workers will receive about one cent an hour less than the industry-wide average of around $1.65. They will receive a three-cents an hour increase in their base rate on May 29, under their contract. This increase, described as an "improvement factor" does not fluctuate with the quarterly cost-of-living adjustments.

The next review of cost of living payments will be made in June, based on the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics index for April 15. The latest index showed that from Dec. 15 to Jan. 15, retail prices of goods and services purchased by moderate-income city families declined .03 per cent. It was the fourth consecutive month to show a decrease.

Reductions Given

Shortly before GM's price cut announcement, the UAW-CIO in announcing acceptance of the wage reduction, called for an immediate price cut. It said the index drop indicated "that prices are on the way down."

Carrying out the price reductions, Chevrolet cut all models $10;

Grim Manhunt Underway For Two Men Afoot In Rough Region Near Phoenix

(By The Associated Press)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 25.—An intensive search for two suspected killers of three persons in California narrowed down to a rugged area some 30 miles east of here at midnight after the police radio broadcast a running description of the high-speed pursuit of a car in which one of the men fled from converging patrol cars.

Earlier in the night, the widespread manhunt for the two Arizona badmen—who reportedly held a former Lubbock, Texas, woman, prisoner on their alleged bloody trail of murder and robbery—had spread all the way to Texas where a statewide alert for the men had been broadcast.

The tip on the suspects' whereabouts came late tonight when Miss Forence Margaret Chisholm, 31-year-old missing Phoenix riding stable manager, and former Lubbock resident, walked into a drug store at Scottsdale, seven miles north of here, and said she had been kidnapped by the ex-convicts who are blamed by the sheriff's offices here and at Needles, Calif., with shooting a woman and two men to death near Needles.

Woman Was Released

William Butler, proprietor of the drug store, said Miss Chisholm, who lived in Lubbock for several months in 1947 and whose brother, Earl Chisholm (of 1625½ Tenth street, Lubbock) is a senior geology student at Texas Technological college, had walked into his store and asked him to call Deputy Sheriff Al Frederick.

Butler said the woman told Frederick where she had last seen the two suspects, who allegedly kidnaped her from a riding academy near Phoenix where she was employed, carried her on their bloody trail of alleged murder and robbery, then finally released her.

A short time later, the police radio in Phoenix then broadcast the description of the running high-speed pursuit. The car being chased was occupied by Billy Ray Gilbert, 28-year-old Arizona desperado. It was found abandoned near the densely overgrown Salt River bottoms.

Other Man On Foot

A few moments before Gilbert leaped from the car and fled into the darkness a state highway patrolman was only two blocks behind. He broadcast that he could hardly see the fleeing automobile because of the dust.

Gilbert's partner, George Schmid, 22, also an Arizona robber not long released from the state prison, was reported on foot near forbidding Superstition mountain, some 30 miles east of here.

Butler said the woman told Frederick where she had last seen Gilbert and Schmid.

The police radio said she informed Frederick that she had gotten out of the car, driven by Gilbert, in Scottsdale, and that Schmid had left them earlier and set out on foot near Apache junction, a desert stopping place about 35 miles east of Phoenix.

Officials Jam Scottsdale

Immediately after Miss Chisholm's report a small army of heavily-armed sheriff's deputies jammed the one main street of Scottsdale, on the edge of the exclusive winter resort district near here.

Hardly had they moved in to corner their quarry than the car in which the trio drove here from Needles was reported speeding along a highway near the river south of Phoenix.

Officers did not immediately permit Miss Chisholm to make a public appearance.

Butler said she was "disheveled and nervous."

Deputy Al Frederick of Scottsdale said late tonight that Miss Chisholm had told him that she had witnessed the killing of a woman and two men near Needles, Calif.

Alert Sounded Here

Earlier, Texas peace officers from border to border had been alerted to be on the lookout for the two Arizona badmen.

Police radios in Lubbock and over the state carried a broadcast early in the night warning that the two men were believed loose in the state and that one report had placed them as having been sighted 40 miles east of Pecos on U.S. Highway 80 headed east at 3 p.m. Friday afternoon. The men at that time were believed headed for the

North Atlantic Pact Nearing Final Form

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 — Secretary of State Acheson disclosed today that the final draft of the North Atlantic security pact may be completed within a week.

Acheson told a news conference following a lengthy meeting with the pact ambassadors that as soon as satisfactory final wording is achieved the document will be referred to all home governments for approval.

The secretary's gathering with newsmen followed a declaration by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), that war is "more likely" than world peace if the U. S. arms western Europe under the pact.

Tough Sledding Likely

Acheson commented that he understood that Taft had given a premonitory little roar but hadn't made up his mind. The secretary said he would not want to prejudice the senator's mind by commenting at this point.

It was generally felt, however, that the GOP Senate policy leader's opposition might make rough sledding for the alliance in the Senate where it must be approved by a two-thirds majority.

Acheson said that at the meeting earlier today of the pact ambassadors he had suggested changes in almost every article of the present draft. He declared, however, that the meeting was most satisfactory and he hoped conclusion might be reached by

Oklahoman Is Given Tips On How To Get Bossy Out Of Silo

(By The Associated Press)

YUKON, Okla., Feb. 25.—Build a better cowtrap and the world will beat a path to your door.

All day long the world—or a good part of it—has been telling rancher Bill Mach how to get his cow out of the silo.

"I've heard from 44 to 45 states, as well as Canada," said Mach tonight. "Folks have telephoned and wired, and they've come in cars and airplanes.

"I can't get over it . . . just for one cow!"

Cow Is Unconcerned

But as the winter sun dipped under the prairie rim, Mach's $1,000 purebred Hereford was still in her 40-foot concrete prison chewing hay and cottonseed cake. She is unconcerned.

But it was an excited cow Tuesday that hurled herself away from a veterinarian into the silo through a tiny steel feed door 17 by 25½ inches. Now she can't get out and Mach knows no way to get her out—except in pieces.

Here are the latest developments:

The Denver Post, 700 miles away, is flying its farm editor here to liberate the cow with "secret cow-freezing equipment."

The Bangor Daily Commercial, 1,650 miles away in Maine, is running a contest for suggestions.

Another newspaper in Toronto, Canada, appealed for ideas in its editorial columns.

Spy Charges Denied By Ousted Writer

She is scheduled to appear before the grand jury again next Tuesday.

Dr. Strong told reporters she doesn't know why she was expelled from Russia but is aware that "I had done a darned good job of treading on the toes of minor officials."

Hiss' First Appearance Before Probers Brought Record Crowd

(Chief Investigator, House Un-American Activities Committee, 1938-1948; Edited by Bob Considine.)

THE first appearance of Alger Hiss before the House Un-American Activities committee, on August 5, 1948, drew perhaps the biggest turnout of reporters and spectators in the history of our inquiries.

No. 20

They sat restlessly through the extended remarks of Rep. Fred E. Busby, a former member of the committee who produced correspondence with the Civil Service commission concerning Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, who had been heard the previous day.

As Busby spoke on, I moved across the caucus room to Hiss, a boyish-looking man of considerable poise, and whispered:

"We're calling you next, Mr. Hiss. If you have a statement prepared, I'd be happy to submit it to the committe in advance."

TAHOKA, Feb. 25—America must have an all-out program of international relations, one which will help build a better world understanding if we are ever to have universal peace, Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall, president of Wayland college at Plainview, declared in a talk at the annual banquet of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce here Friday night.

Prior to Dr. Marshall's talk, Hubert Tankersley, a farmer who lives 15 miles west of Tahoka, was announced as the new president of the organization, the first time in history that a man from the rural area of Lynn county has served in the post.

Calls For Co-Operation

"Just like in chamber of commerce work, we must set our goal for peace," Dr. Marshall said. "You get everybody working together on a job and you'll soon get the job done. It's good exercise for us to work together on any task.

"We can't afford, any longer. to pull our skirts about us and say we're the only people in the world," Dr. Marshall continued. "We've got to seek out friendships of our countries like you people here in your community seek friendships of your neighbors.

"And let me say right here that we're going to need the friendship

GOP Charges Demo Split Delaying Action

HST Claimed Unable To Control Congress

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Republicans charged Friday that President Truman's threat to stump the nation for his legislative program indicates he is unable to control his own Democratic 81st Congress.

Administration leaders lauded Mr. Truman's Jefferson-Jackson day dinner address, in which he assailed the "special interests" and "pressure groups" for obstructing congressional action on the Democratic platform.

Senate GOP policy maker Taft, Ohio, led the Republican attack on Mr. Truman's speech, delivered at a $100-a-plate dinner in Washington Thursday night.

Taft said that the President "is all wrong in his criticism of the Taft-Hartley law, and I have hundreds of letters from working people to prove he is wrong."

Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) said that a "Democratic split" and not the Republicans is responsible for delay in action on a new labor law to replace the Taft-Hartley statute.

Morse made his statement as Chairman Thomas (D-Utah), of the Senate Labor committee, announced a week delay in action on a new labor measure. Morse said:

"The Democratic steamroller needs more fuel from the White House."

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) declared that "seemingly the President can't get along with any Congress whether it's Republican or Democrat."

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. Sought For Role In 'Thief Of Venice;' Filming Planned In Italy

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25—Douglas Fairbanks is expected back from his eastern tour Monday or Tuesday. When he arrives he will be asked to sign a contract for "Thief of Venice," which will be filmed in Venice by the Monty Schaff company.

Jesse Lasky, Jr., who had adapted the story from a comedy tells me that on March 15, Gordon Griffith and Lew Appleton will leave for Italy to make arrangements to start "Thief of Venice" in June.

I am told that Nat Waschberger, who was associated with Roberto Rosselini in making "Beggars of Rome," has put some money into this project, and will be associated in producing it.

Producer Came Here Broke

While on the subject of Rosselini, it is interesting that when he arrived in this country he had little money, because he was not able to take it out of Italy. Now his pockets are bulging with plenty of good old American dore-mi.

He could not speak a word of English when he came here a month ago. Now he is talking with the best of them.

The Howard Hughes contract was officially signed today, but Horward is not going anywhere near Italy while Rossellini is making the movie with Ingrid Bergman.

Rossellini has been living at the home of Ingrid Bergman and her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom. He makes no secret of his admiration for the Swedish actress whom he came all those miles to sign.

When Wendell Corey heard Hal Wallis couldn't find two kids who looked like him for "Thelma Jordan," he said, "I've got a couple at home who do."

He was joking at first. Then Hal insisted that he bring the two little Coreys to the studio. The result is that Lucy Robin, the little girl, four and a half years old, and Jonathan, the two-year-old boy, will be in this picture with their old man and Barbara Stanwyck.

But pappy insists, after this—no more movies!

Postal Picture Approved

Grandpa Charles R. Rogers was so busy receiving congratulations on the arrival of the twin girl and boy born to his son, John, that he wasn't even excited over receiving a final approval from Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson for his picture "The Leonard Street Roundup."

This story, taken from the files of the Postal department by Richard Landau, is a real thriller.

Frank Sinatra is going on a second honeymoon in July and has engaged the bridal suite on the Queen Elizabeth. His bride? Well of course, who else but Nancy Sinatra! They will go to Germany, too, for a visit with the GI's.

Betty Hutton is more jubilant than usual today. Reason—it is her birthday. She has an invitation to have tea at the White House when she and Ted Briskin go to Washington, March 19, for the Press Photographers ball.

Sweden may quit work on its international airport at Halmsjon, near Stockholm, this year, because of mounting costs of labor and materials.

Following a 8,000 gallon acid treatment in the pay at 5,025-5,242 feet in the San Andres section of the Permian, the development pumped a 24-hour potential of 50 barrels of oil.

Gravity of the petroleum was 26 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was less than 200-f. There was no water.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 40, Harrison & Brown survey.

Lubbock Cub Scout Group To Make Train Trip To Clovis

Jay Luther, Robert Hazlewood, Jimmy Sparks, Billy Sparks, Davis Ford, David Yocum, Bobby Jack Bryant and James West will make the trip by train. The boys have contacted friends in Clovis and plan to make a tour of the city.

Mrs. West said that the party would return to Lubbock tonight.

WIFE IS VICTOR

Chicago Man Signs 'Surrender' Terms

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (INS)—Carl Bryzek, 33, and his wife, Adeline, 28, were reconciled today in Chicago circuit court—but not until Bryzek signed an agreement promising to do everything his wife asked.

Attorney Harry X. Cole, representing Mrs. Bryzek, in turn told Judge Julius Miner the wife never again would "pack her husband's bag and tell him to get out."

Nine-Point "Pact" Signed

Here's the agreement Bryzek signed:

1. To wear his wedding ring at all times.
2. To tell his girl friend—a certain Evelina—in the presence of his wife that he does not love her and does not want to see her again.
3. To remain home five nights, playing cards and chess with men only the other nights in each week.
4. Pick up his clothes and newspapers and be orderly at home.
5. Stop lending money to his relatives.
6. Take his wife on all fishing and hunting trips.

Hiss Bluntly Denies Any Ties With Reds Before Committee

er at the birth of the United Nations, and adviser to President Roosevelt at Yalta, smiled amiably. He reached inside his neat coat but, instead of producing a statement, touched his heart.

Statement Is Issued

"What I have to say will come from here," he replied.

When he was sworn in, Hiss elaborated dramatically on what is normally the routine "I do." Hiss said, "So help me God. . . So help me God."

Then in his clear, perfect diction, he began:

"I was born in Baltimore, Maryland, on November 11, 1904. I am here at my own request to deny unqualifiedly various statements about me which were made before the committee by one Whittaker Chambers the day before yesterday. I appreciate the committee's having promptly granted my request. I welcome the opportunity to answer to the best of my ability any inquiries the members of this committee may wish to ask me.

"I am not and never have been a member of the Communist party. I do not and never have adhered to the tenents of the Communist party. I am not and never have been a member of any Communist-front organization. I have never followed the Communist party line, directly or indirectly. To the best of my knowledge, none of my friends is a Communist.

"AS a State department official, I have had contacts with representatives of foreign governments, some of whom have undoubtedly been members of the Communist party, as, for example, representatives of the Soviet government. My contacts with any foreign representative who could possibly have been a Communist have been strictly official.

"To the best of my knowledge, I never heard of Whittaker Chambers until in 1947, when two representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation asked me if I knew him and various other people, some of whom I knew and some of whom I did not know. I said I did not know Chambers. So far as I know, I have never laid eyes on him, and I should like to have the opportunity to do so." His voice rose in cultured indignation as he spoke the last sentence.

"I have known Henry H. Collins (Ed. Note: Named by Chambers as provider of the Washington apartment where the alleged conspirators reportedly met) since we were boys in camp together. I knew him again while he was at the Harvard Business School, while I was at the Harvard Law School, and I have seen him from time to time since I came to Washington in 1933.

Attended Same College

"Lee Pressman was in my class at the Harvard Law School and we were both on the Harvard Law Review at the same time. We were also both assistants to Judge Jerome Frank on the legal staff of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Since I left the Department of Agriculture I have seen him only occasionally and infrequently. I left the department, according to my recollection, in 1935.

"Witt and Abt (Ed. Note: Nathan Witt and John Abt, accused by Chambers as leaders of an "elite" spy ring to which he also linked Hiss) were both members of the legal staff of the A.A.A. I knew them both in that capacity. I believe I met Witt in New York a year or so before I came to Washington. I came to Washington in 1933. We were both practicing law in New York at the time I think I met Witt.

"Kramer (Ed. Note: Charles Kramer, also named by Chambers) was in another office of the A.A.A. and I met him in that connection.

"I have seen none of these last three men I have mentioned except most infrequently since I left the Department of Agriculture.

"I don't believe I ever knew Victor Perlo (Ed. Note: Named by both Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley as leader of another alleged Communist spy ring in Washington.)

"Except as I have indicated, the statements made about me by Mr. Chambers are complete fabrications. I think my record in the government service speaks for itself."

HISS then traced his dignified background but became curiously reluctant when Rep. Nixon asked him who, in addition to Judge Frank, urged him to come to Washington to work.

"Is it necessary?" Hiss asked. "There are so many witnesses who use names rather loosely before your committee, and I would rather limit myself."

Nixon, perhaps a bit offended by Hiss' answer, pressed him on the point, and finally Hiss said, "I am answering this only because you ask it—Justice Felix Frankfurter."

Continuing, he traced his progress through various government posts and his eventual appointment to the Carnegie Foundation, through the recommendation of John Foster Dulles, among others.

Rep. Mundt briefly reviewed Chamber's charges against him and ended the resume by wondering, aloud, why the Time editor mentioned Hiss.

"So do I, Mr. Chairman," Hiss spoke up. "I have no possible understanding of what could have motivated him . . . I wish I could have seen Mr. Chambers before he testified . . . The name means absolutely nothing to me."

I showed him a picture of Chambers taken several days before. Hiss shook his head.

"I would much rather see the individual," he said. "I have looked at all the pictures I was able to get hold of. If this is a picture of Mr. Chambers, he is not particularly unusual looking. He looks like a lot of people. I might even mistake him for the chairman of this committee."

The caucus room roared with laughter.

MUNDT brushed this aside and said, "You realize that this man whose picture you have just looked at, under sworn testimony before this committee, where all the laws of perjury apply, testified that he called at your home, conferred at great length, saw your wife pick up a telephone and call somebody who he said must have been a Communist, pleaded with you to divert yourself from Communist activities, and left you with tears in your eyes, saying 'I simply can't make the sacrifice.'"

"I do know that he said that," Hiss answered, easily. "I also know that I am testifying under those same laws to the direct contrary."

Hiss surprised the sympathetic crowd when he conceded, with aplomb, that in 1946 he had been directed by Secretary of State Byrnes to present himself at the F.B.I. for a loyalty test, growing out of a report from Capitol Hill that several members of Congress were going to name him as a Communist.

"I imediately went to my own office," he recalled, "put in a call for Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, and found he was not in town. I was courteously received by his second in command."

Hiss revealed that the first question asked of him by his F.B.I. interrogator was whether he had a statement to make.

"I said I was glad to make any statement upon any subject they suggested," he told the committee, "and they had no specific one initially. So I simply recited every organization I had been connected with, to see if that could possibly be of any significance to them. They asked me if I knew certain individuals. Among the names I remember was that of Lee Pressman.

"I told them how I had known him and the extent to which I had known him, as I have before this committee. They did not mention the name Chambers, I am quite sure."

Under questioning by the committee, Hiss then stoutly denied Chambers' charge that Mrs. Hiss was a Communist, denied that Chambers had ever come to his home to ask him to retire from Communism, denied that his brother Donald was a Communist.

He did not recall ever having met any of the accused at Collins' apartment, but he said he knew Lauchlin Currie "very well, and have a high regard for him." He also said he knew Harry Dexter White.

Speaking of his role in the diplomatic operations leading up to Yalta and the formation of the United Nations, Hiss said he lent his influence to the inclusion, in the draft of the U.N. charter, of the veto provision.

"That was practically the unanimous position of the American government, I might add," he amplified.

THE tone of the committee was semi-apologetic as the first hearing of Hiss neared its close. Mundt expressed the chair's "appreciation for your very co-operative attitude, for your forthright statements, and for the fact that you were first among those whose names were mentioned by various witnesses to communicate with us asking for an opportunity to deny the charges."

"And another thing," spoke up John Rankin. "I want to congratulate the witness that he didn't refuse to answer the questions on the ground that it might incriminate him, and he didn't bring a lawyer here to tell him what to say."

Hiss smiled cordially and said, "I think I have been treated with great consideration by this committee."

There was applause outside as he left, smiling for the photographers. The committee filed silently out of the caucus room. A few reporters approached me as I followed. "Strip," said my friend Mary Spargo, "you fellows have really put your foot in it this time."

In executive session the members looked at one another for a time, and you could have cut the gloom with a knife. "We're ruined!" one declared. There must have been a wish on his part, and that of others, to drop the whole matter and apologize to Hiss. But, as I pointed out, with the aid of Rep. Nixon, a prima facie perjury was somewhere involved. We had to carry on, if only for that reason.

Nixon and I felt vaguely dissatisfied with some of Hiss' answers, though it was difficult to place our fingers on the exact points. And we both felt that Chambers had mainly produced information only in answer to direct questions, and that he might have more to say.

Finally, a subcommittee was formed and empowered to go to New York to confront Chambers, in secret session, with the categorical denials of the distinguished man he had accused.

Seven Airlines Given $7,808,000 Back Mail Pay Under CAB Order

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (INS)—The Civil Aeronautics board gave seven U. S. airlines $7,808,000 in back mail pay today and disclosed a series of inquiries aimed at putting airlines on a "sound and profitable" basis.

The recommendations were contained in a lengthy major policy statement which stemmed directly from the fact that many carriers cannot pay their own way.

Covers 1948 Expenses

The retroactive pay which covers 1948 operating expenses is designed to keep the airlines flying until the agency can investigate their plight.

CAB said that it has "an obligation to foster the economic soundness of the individual carriers comprising the United States civil air transportation system."

These investigations were ordered:

1. Determine the cost to the carriers of carrying mail.

2. Ascertain why American, Eastern, United and TWA airlines, "the big four" of the industry, charge different rates for carrying U. S. mail. The board said it will try to find out if this is caused by "uneconomical and inefficient management."

Route Probe Ordered

3. Expand a probe of the route patterns of Western airlines to determine if these routes can be consolidated or merged. A similar study was also ordered in connection with Northeast airlines.

4. Study airline service linking major American cities including Washington, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The board also said it would look into the air freight cargo business.

CAB proposed to make these mail payments: American, $233,000; United $2,902,000; TWA, $2,748,000; Northwest, $1,340,000; National, $337,000; Northwest, $305,000 and Challenger, a "feeder" airline, $149,000.

These grants would enable the airlines to meet or nearly meet deficits arising from operations last year.

DARING STEP

Officials of the first American railway, in the 1830's, feared to assume responsibility for carrying mail for the government, and took what officials thought was a daring step when they put on night trains to speed the mail.

Four Burglaries Are Probed Here

Law enforcement authorities last night had announced no new developments in their investigation of four Thursday night burglaries, in one of which a safe containing $68 had been hauled away.

Reported burglarized were:

Hilton Supply Co., on East Broadway, where the cafe was removed; Standard Oil Company of Texas bulk plant, on East Broadway; Panhandle Steel Products company, on the Plainview cut off road; and Hobbs Manufacturing company, at 2809 Ave. H.

Safe Door Found Open

Delton O. Tapp, a clerk, told sheriff's investigators that nothing was believed taken from the steel products company. But a safe door that employes believed was closed Thursday night was found open this morning, officials were told. A window was broken out.

Entrance to Hilton supply was through a back door, after a hasp had been pried off. A short length of pipe was used to roll the safe out the back of the building, where it was loaded into a car or truck, evidence indicated. In the safe were 31 $1 bills in a money sack, more $1's and several $5's in another container, sheriff's deputies were told. The 20-by-20-by-14 inch safe contained nothing else of value to burglars, it was explained.

Entered By Window

The bulk plant was entered by a west window to the office, in front of the building. Nothing was believed removed, and there was no evidence of pilfering.

J. L. Palmer found two oxygen drums and a regulator and torch in the canyon east of the Santa Fe railroad before the Hobbs burglary had been discovered. He recognized the drums as a type furnished to accounts by West Texas Oxygen company, so informed officials of that company. They traced the drums in their records to the Hobbs plant. Total value of the property was listed at $170. Everything except one regulator had been recovered. It was theorized that the stolen equipment fell off a pickup truck that was used to haul it away.

Investigations Made

Officials who investigated the burglaries were Lee Rice, jr., and LeRoy Boling, jr., city detectives, and Deps. Sheriff Earl Horton, Tom Cannon and Frank Mitchell.

The sheriff's department said bond of $1,000 had been set in Upshur county for Arthur B. Hickman, 54, on a charge of child desertion. If it is not posted here, Upshur officials indicated they would come to Lubbock nd accepted custody.

Theft Charge Filed

Bond of $1,000 was set Friday afternoon by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, for Phillip Gant, 26, a negro, in binding the defendant over to grand jury action on a charge of felony theft.

The complaint, filed Friday morning by A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, upon oath of George Helmstetler, charged that Gant on Feb. 23 stole a car heater, sun visor and three automobile bumper guards from a car.

The car, the state was informed, had been repossessed from the negro, who allegedly went later to where it was stored and represented that he had permission to remove the property described in the complaint.

V. L. Skinner, 31, of Odessa was fined $75 and county court costs, and his license to drive was revoked for six months, when he pleaded guilty Friday afternoon of drunk driving. Lubbock police, who had arrested him early Friday, said they overhauled him after a chase of six blocks, after first observing him backing his car on the FW&DC railway at the Ave. A crossing.

Wiley F. McCown, 22, of Lubbock, was ordered to county jail for 30 days after he had pleaded guilty of check law violation Friday morning, in the county court of Judge Walter Davies.

County Attorney Waggoner Carr said the conviction was under the enhanced penalty provisions. McCown, he said, was charged with having been convicted in a former check law violation.

Shirley Roy Belt, 23, of Sweetwater, was returned late Friday from Sweetwater by Deputy Sheriff Earl Horton. Belt us under indictment here for felony theft.

A .22 caliber revolver was reported stolen from the room of B. B. Bowen of 809 Ave. K, police said.

A bike was stolen from Bill Wilbanks of 3022 Twentieth, and R. W. Walker of 1503 Twenty-third said a sun visor valued at $33 had been stolen from his car.

Another man, 42, was fined $75 in three traffic cases, after he allegedly had driven his car into a signal block of the P&SF railway Friday.

Thefts Are Reported

Another chase produced arrest of a man who was required to pay a $25 fine for reckless driving, police said.

A bike was reported stolen from Mrs. Morys Hines of 1714 Thirteenth. It was valued at $30

Jim Ackery, charged with theft, pleaded innocent and bond of $400 was set by Judge Davies, county officials said.

Theft of a tire and wheel jack, total value $39, from Verne Singer of 2627 Ave. K, was reported to the police.

John H. McMenamin of 2108 Thirteenth said a flashlight was taken from his station wagon by a thief who passed up two expensive blankets and a fire extinguisher, among other property. Charley Walers of the same address said someone cut a hole in the top of his convertible.

The sheriff's department said a 100-pound butane bottle had been stolen from George Thomas of route 7.

Four Quintets Advance To Semi-Finals In Region One Tourney

Lubbock Cops Bi-District Title, 47 To 31

Favored Carey, Stratford Lose Out In Class B Tilts

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Carey's Cardinals, defending champions, and the Stratford Elks, highly favored to replace them, both were dropped by the wayside yesterday as the Region One, Class B, basketball tournament went into the semi-final rounds in Texas Tech gym.

Carey was dumped in the final game last night 48-35 by Vega, which will meet Miami in the second semi-final game this morning at 11:50. And Stratford went out of the tournament in the first game on the afternoon schedule, taking a 42-41 overtime licking from Samnorwood, eliminated in turn last night by Dimmitt, 35-32.

Stratford Is Upset

Samnorwood's defeat of Stratford definitely was the upset of the tournament. The Elks had licked several Class A and Class AA schools, including Lubbock's bi-district champions, and they were expected to be among the finalists here.

But a polished band of hustling Eagles from Samnorwood took their measure in the first game of the tournament, 42-41. It was an overtime game, with the Eagles fighting from behind all the way to tie it in the closing seconds of the tilt.

Stratford had taken an early lead and held it, going off the court with a 24-18 margin and keeping the six-point edge at the end of the third period, when they still were in front 33-27. Then Samnorwood, sparked by the clever floor work of Doug Payne and the shooting of Dick Overcast, overtook the Elks. And it took a free throw to knot the count at 40-40 and send it into overtime. In that stanza, the Eagles controlled the ball, going behind on a free throw, but taking the lead on a basket by Payne. That was the ball game, with Samnorwood freezing the ball successfully until time ran out.

Stratford had won 37 games and lost only two during the regular season, while the Eagles had won 25 and lost a pair. Overcast was high scorer with 18 points, while Billy Malone had nine to lead Stratford.

Shallowater Wins Game

Derrell Murphy paced the Shallowater cagers to their easy 52-34 victory over an outclassed Roaring Springs quintet. Murphy kept up his sensational scoring spree with seven field goals and seven free throws for 21 points. He had fine support from his teammates, who passed the ball around and worked in for shots.

It wasn't much of a game, with the Mustangs going out in front 4-2 in less than a minute. After that the Mustangs turned on the steam to leave Roaring Springs far behind. Shallowater held a 17-8 lead at the end of the first period, made it 29-13 at the half and shot into a 41-24 lead as the third period ended. Coach Charley Booz threw his reserves into the game seconds later and they traded point for point with Roaring Springs.

The losers were led by Dick Campbell, who had 11 points.

Vega and Spade, a pair of Longhorn quintets, had a nip and tuck game in which seldom more than four points separated them. They were tied 9-9 at the end of the first period, but Vega went into a 17-13 lead at the intermission.

Spade rallied to tie the score and for the remainder of the game, never more than two points were between the two teams and most of the time it was one point. The lead see-sawed back and forth, with Vega taking a 25-24 margin at the third period mark. A desperate last period rally almost pulled victory out of the fire for Spade, but Vega clung to its lead.

Wayne Richardson led the victors with 10 points, while Don Streety had 22 for the losers.

Miami Drops Dawson

Miami also won by taking an early lead and holding onto it, although the Dawson Dragons almost came from behind, losing 43-40.

The Warriors jumped into an 11-7 margin at the first period and upped it to 24-19 at the intermission. They increased their lead to 35-25 at the end of the third period, when Dawson rallied and threatened to overtake the Warriors. But the lead was too much for them.

Darrell Hocker, Dragon forward, had high point honors with 16, while Murl Benges had 12 for the winners.

Play Continues Today

Tech Winds Up Border Season Against H-SU

Texas Tech's Red Raider basketball team was scheduled to leave here this morning for Abilene, where tonight they will wind up their Border Conference play against the strong Hardin-Simmons Cowboy quintet.

Coach Polk Robison also will take along the freshmen team, which will play the Cowboy first year men in a curtain-raiser.

The Raiders went through a light workout yesterday afternoon at Chapman Fieldhouse and appeared eager to close out a successful season. They want to add a second victory over the Cowboys to the 42-40 win they already hold.

The Raiders need the victory to keep alive their last remaining hopes for no worse than a tie with Arizona's Wildcats for the Border loop crown. Arizona last night trounced Flagstaff 55-38 to maintain their full game lead over the Techsans. Arizona must lose two of its remaining three games, while Tech must get past the Coyboys tonight.

A Cowboy victory could end whatever hope remains for the Raiders, but a victory would keep a mathematical chance open. Tech showed Wednesday night against West Texas State Teachers college that they had regained championship form and they will need it tonight.

The squad is at full strength for the game. Coach Robison probably will start Gene Gibson and Whistle Banks, forwards; Don Grove, center; and Ardis Barton and either Wimpy Hill or Jiggs Jackson at the guards.

Golfer Metz Faces Disciplinary Action

HARLINGEN, Feb. 25. (AP)—George Schneiter, manager of the PGA tournament bureau, said Friday night in his opinion "disicplinary action will be taken" against Dick Metz, professional golfer, for statements he reportedly made regarding a controversy between tournament sponsors and golfers.

Schneiter said he had learned that Metz released the information "which was certainly anything but accurate."

His statement, made during the Rio Grande Valley Open Golf Tournament here, follows:

"I was completely shocked when I read this morning's San Antonio Express in which Dick Peebles made an attack on the tournamnet bureau. I have since learned that Dick Metz, one of our professionals, released the information which was certainly anything but accurate. Both sponsors mentioned in the story have expressed their views and they were upset to think that any individual, especially a professional, would erroneously quote them. Incidentally both sponsors have expressed their appreciation of co-operation by the tournament bureau and the professionals.

"This descrepancy will certainly not go unnoticed and all of the available information will be sent to the Professional Golfers' Association's executive committee. Since this is a violation of a tournament player's ethics and regulations I am of the opinion that disciplinary action will be taken."

Peebles said Friday night Metz was the man giving him the information on which he based the column that had the PGA officials and sponsors of the Rio Grande Valley Open in a turmoil.

Abilene Linksmen Will Meet Lubbock Country Club Golfers

Abilene linksmen will oppose a group of golfers from the Lubbock Country club here today, with 18-hole match play scheduled to start at 9 a.m.

Each country club will supply a six-man team for the inter-city match, which will be decided on a point basis, with one point for each victory.

On the Lubbock team will be Jack Whitehead, Clyde Mitchell, Jimmy Sexton, Jimmy Stewart, Fred Currie and Chuck Wilson.

Snuff users in Durban, South Africa, have formed a "Snifters Club."

Westerner Quint Captures Bi-District Championship

CHILDRESS, Feb. 25. (Special)—Lubbock's Westerners marched into the state basketball playoff tournament at Austin March 3, 4 and 5 by brushing aside a determined but outclassed Childress Bobcat quintet here tonight 47 to 31.

Jim Wilson, tall Lubbock center, played brilliantly to take high point honors with 27 points. Teammate Charles Galey swished the net for eight points. Farha, Childress guard, was highpoint man for the Bobcats with seven points. The victory gave the Westerners the bi-district title.

Wilson, Galey Open Up

More than 1,000 fans, most of them rabid Bobcat followers, watched as Childress took a 4 to 0 lead in the first minute and 45 seconds of the game, but Wilson hit with a field goal, and Galey slipped a goal through the net to tie the count at 4 to 4 with five minutes and 10 seconds remaining in the first quarter. Bob Rooker then sank a free throw to put the Westerners ahead 5 to 4, and the Lubbock five was never headed again although the Bobcat team played brilliant defensive ball at times.

Before the Childress team could curb the first quarter Lubbock rampage, Wilson had slipped 11 points through the net. The first period score was 16 to 4.

Wilson, Rooker and Jimmy Sexton hit the net for 10 points in the second period while Childress managed to gather six markers to make the halftime score 26 to 10. Wilson made six points in the second frame.

The Bobcats tightened their man-to-man defense the second half to prevent the score from growing more lopsided, and matched the Westerners point for point in the third quarter with both teams marking up 13 points. Wilson hit the net for seven points in the third period despite the grim Bobcat defense. The third quarter ended with Lubbock leading 39 to 23.

Lubbock was unable to increase its lead in the fourth quarter as both teams sank eight points. Lubbock continued to play its regular starters until the final three minutes of the game when substitutes began to take the floor. Gambling in an effort to salvage the game in the last minute, Childress refused to take four free throws and elected instead to take the ball out of bounds for offensive drives at the Lubbock basket. Wilson was held to three points in the last quarter.

Arkansas, Rice In SWC Tussle Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Arkansas' hopes for a clear Southwest Conference basketball championship hinges Saturday night on its game with Rice.

A three-way deadlock is possible should Rice beat the Razorbacks.

Two other Conference games are on tap Saturday night. Texas meets Texas Christian at Austin and Baylor plays Texas A. and M. at Waco.

Arkansas currently leads the hectic race with Baylor and Rice deadlocked for second place.

Baylor is a big favorite to beat A. and M. and its final opponent next week, Texas Christian.

Arkansas has only lowly Texas A. and M. to polish off next week and Rice also catches the Aggies in the Conference's final tilt.

Should the Razorbacks beat Rice at Houston Saturday, they will just about have the title clinched.

The race could be thrown into a three-way tie. Baylor would have to win its remaining games. Rice also would need to win all its games, including the Arkansas tilt. That would do it, provided Arkansas gets by A. & M. as expected.

There will be playoff to settle a tie should the Conference race end this way, James H. Stewart, executive secretary of the Conference said Friday.

(Special To The Avalanche)

CANYON, Feb. 25.—Abernathy and Sudan from the South Plains and Memphis and Shamrock from the Panhandle fought their way into the semi-finals of the Regional One Class A basketball tournament here this afternoon and tonight. Semi-final competition is slated Saturday morning and afternoon with the finals and consolation game slated that night.

Abernathy was forced into an overtime contest with Sundown after the Roughnecks had knotted the regulation game at 31-all with five seconds to go. In the overtime period, Abernathy crammed in ten points while holding Sundown scoreless. Don Blackman of Abernathy with 18 points was high point man for the night, with Sundown's J. Clark topping the losers with ten tallies.

In the second game of the day, Memphis edged out Phillips, 40 to 39, in an overtime thriller. LeRoy Greene of Memphis smashed in a goal in the last ten seconds of the regular contest for a 34-34 tie. In the overtime, Memphis slammed home the winning goal in the last half minute then froze the ball. Greene was Memphis high scorer with 14 points, Bill Hughes of Phillips leading for the night with 18.

In the third game of the day, Sudan battered Spur, 47 to 40, with Harlan Pickett topping the scoring for the winners with 15 points.

Bowie Drops Lamesa, 31-29 In 4-AA Meet

LAMESA, Feb. 25 (Special)—The Bowie Bruins of El Paso won the right to represent District 4-AA in the forthcoming state basketball tourney at Austin here tonight with a hard-fought 31 to 29 victory over the Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa. Bowie won the first bi-district tilt Thursday night by a 36 to 28 margin.

The Bruins took the lead in the first few minutes of the game and were never headed, although the Lamesans kept racking them up to remain a few points behind. Tinkers Drop Spade Five In TAF Tourney

Jake Broyles' nine tallies sparked Lubbock's Thomas Tinkers to a 30 to 23 triumph over the Panhandle All-Stars of Spade at Chapman fieldhouse last night in quarter-final play of the District 2, Texas Athletic Federation, basketball tournament.

The Tinkers led at the halftime, 20 to 14, and as the game progressed extended their lead behind Broyles' loop shots. The Spade five kept coming back and the game threatened to turn into a scoring battle. But the Tinkers employed a tight defense strategy and the All-Stars could only penetrate it for random off-hand shots. J. R. Chamberlain racked up most of Spade's counting baskets, ending up with a total of 11.

In the second encounter of the tourney last night, Matador gained a 48 to 36 victory over Anton's American Legion five. Matador took an early lead and never allowed themselves to be caught without a four-point margin. The score at halftime was 24 to 12 for Matador.

Porter Willis was the difference in the Matador team, although he received plenty of smooth-working help from his teammates. Willis hit the basket for a total of 18 points. Two players vied for high point honors for Anton. Ed Heart and Horace Baines each racked up 10 tallies for the losers.

Two games are scheduled tonight as the semi-finals get underway. In the first tilt at 7:30, Matador meets Blue Flame of Idalou and at 9, Primm Drug of Brownfield will tangle with Thomas Tinkers.

games tonight. Dimmitt, victors over Samnorwood, will play Shallowater, which turned back Roaring Springs 52-34 in the afternoon and Ropesville 57-47 last night.

Dimmitt's Bobcats will play Shallowater at 10:30 this morning in the opening semi-final game, with the Miami-Vega following. There will be no afternoon contests, with a consolation third and fourth-place game slated for 7:15 p.m. The championship game will go on at 8:45.

Yesterday afternoon's games were played to over 1,000 fans, but the night games played to an almost capacity gym. Almost every team in the tournament had supporters present.

Top upset yesterday was Stratford's defeat. The Elks had won 34 games and had lost only to Borger of District 1-AA. Samnorwood came into the tournament with a record of 25 victories and two defeats.

Lead Changes Hands

Dimmitt was extended in beating Samnorwood last night, even though it was the second tough game of the day for the Eagles. The lead changed hands throughout, with Samnorwood holding a 10-9 lead as the first period ending, the Dimmitt crew getting an 18-14 margin at the half and losing it 24-23 at the third period. Then Dimmitt heighth and freshness told and they shot into a lead that they held halfway through the last canto.

The lead zig-zagged back and forth until Lonnie Rice hit a field goal for a 29-28 margin. Charles Martin followed with a field bucket for 31-28 and the Dimmitt gang was ahead to stay. They froze the ball for the final minute and ten seconds.

Doug Coleman's 13 points paced the losing Samnorwood quintet, while Carl Jowell had 13 also for the winners and Martin ran a close second with 12.

Shallowater's Mustangs had little trouble taking Ropesville in stride. The Eagles never had a chance, with Derrell Murphy sparking the winners. Murphy pitched in 11 of his 25 points in the first period to lead the Mustangs to an 18-5 margin. They relaxed the second period, but still maintained a 33-15 edge at the half.

Vega Operates Smoothly

The Ponies upped this edge to 44-25 as the third period ended and Coach Booz took his entire first team out of play. Murphy's 25 points was high for the game, while Donnie Reynolds had 18 to pace the losing Ropesville five.

Lays Down Seven Under Par 64 At Halfway Mark

Glenn Teal Takes Over Lead In Rio Grande Valley Tournament

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARLINGEN, Feb. 25.—Glenn Teal, 29 year old professional from Jacksonville, Fla., making his third tour along the PGA golf trail but never winner of a tournament championship, today shot into the lead in the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley Open with 131 for 36 holes.

Teal, who has made only $303 this year thus far, laid down a seven under par 64 to pace the field at the halfway mark.

Tied for second as the field was cut to the 60 low scorers and ties for the final 36 holes were Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., Al Smith of Winston Salem, N. C., and Ky Laffoon of St. Andrews, Ill., each with 132. Hamilton and Smith had 67's today while Laffoon registered a 65.

46 Shatter Par

Forty-six payers shattered par 35-36—71 over the 6095-yard Harlingen municipal course today.

It required a one over par 143 for 36 holes to land in the playoff tomorrow and Sunday.

Four players were tied for fifth pace. They were Otto Greiner of Baltimore, Rod Munday of York, Pa., Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., and Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., each with 134. Middlecoff was the day's sensation—next to Teal—as he did the first nine in 29—six under par. It was the record for the outgoing nine on the course.

Tied at 135 were Harold Otaman, of Norfolk, Va., Jimmie Demaret of Oaji, Calif.; Skip Alexander of Southern Pines, N. C., and E. J. Harrison of Little Rock.

Another Wrangle Arises

Last year the tournament here was rent with dissension among the pros over the rules of play and two professionals, Henry Ransom of America and Norman Von Nida of Australia, came to blows. Today another wrangle arose over a column written by Dick Peebles, sports editor of the San Antonio Express, in which he quoted a golfer he named as Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., as saying there was dissension among the golfers and sponsors. George Schneiter, PGA tournament chairman, indicated disciplinary action against Metz might be instituted as he and sponsors of the tournament vigorously denied the assertions.

Teal replaced the first round leader, Dave Douglas of Wilmington, Del., who slumped to a 76 today, falling down to 139. Douglas had shot a sensational 63 yesterday to tie the competitive course record.

Teal rammed down a 10-footer for an eagle on No. 3 and was on his way to his great round. He birdied six with a one-footer, sank a three-footer for another on eight, sent down a 4½-footer on No. 9 for a third, sank a one-footer for another bird on No. 12 and got a six inch putt for a birdie on No. 18.

Sixty-seven players go into the final 36 holes. Not an amateur could make the top 20.

The final game of the night was over before it began, with Vega's smoothly operating quintet charging to a 12-6 margin in the first period. They went off the court with a 25-10 margin at the half and the final two stanzas saw them continue to coast.

Vega's Longhorns were lead by Wayne Richardson, who had 17 points, and By Dick Harwell, who caged 16. George Burns paced the losing defending champions with 16 points.

A TANGLE IN CHICAGO—Sonny Lewis, right, of Evansville, Ind., and Valentina Luna, Austin, Texas, get tangled up in a clinch in their Feb. 23 Golden Gloves 126-pound bout in the Chicago stadium. Luna, a member of the Fort Worth, Texas, team, took the decision.

South Plains Spelling Makes Poor Showing

Brake out thoas blew-backed spelers, boys and gals—we've got to defend the onner of the South Planes.

No fooling, it looks like spelling is becoming a lost art on the South Plains—if, as they say, figures don't lie.

The Texas Employment commission here gives scores of spelling tests to job-seekers every year.

Last year in Lubbock 51.5 per cent of the persons taking the tests made D. Another 30 per cent made E. Fortunately, nobody flunked it completely and made F, which is rather hard to do anyway.

That record is considerably below the national norm, figures indicated.

Here, only 1.4 per cent of those tested made A in spelling. The national average is 7 per cent. Only 2.8 per cent here made B and the national average is 24 per cent. Only 14.3 per cent made C, and the national average for C is 38 per cent.

But in the low brackets, we really shine. With 51.5 per cent here making D, the national average is only 24 per cent, and with 30 per cent here making E, the national average for E is only 7 per cent.

And what's worse, officials at the office here think those taking the tests were a pretty fair cross-section of the South Plains population.

What's the reason? You tell us.

Dinner Gong Is Favored To Cop Santa Anita Handicap

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP) — Dinner Gong stepped into the role of favorite to win the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap tomorrow as an array of 14 thoroughbreds was named today to compete in the rich race.

The four-year-old chestnut, whose fame has yet to range east past the Rockies, drew the top role mainly because a muddy track is in prospect and he whipped some of these same rivals in a mud duel just two weeks ago in the $50,000 San Antonio Handicap.

Hialeah Park has added "length marks" on the inner rail so that patrons may easily determine the margins between horses.

Search Party Finds Body Of New Mexico State Patrolman

ALAMORGORDO, N. M., Feb. (Special) — The body of Bill Speight, 42, member of the state police who maintained headquarters here, was found yesterday after a three-day search by his state police buddies and friends, in a snow-packed trail leading to the tip of a peak near Cloudcroft where the state police force is erecting a radio transmission tower.

Speight apparently had gone to the area on an inspection trip to the tower. He had driven part of the way up the peak, as far as he could get in his car in the deep snow that covered the peak, then had walked on up a trail about a half-mile where he apparently sat down to rest .

His body was found in a sitting posture yesterday afternoon. Doctors who examined it said he apparently was a victim of a heart attack. It was believed the high altitude may have contributed to the attack.

Speight's wife died about a year ago. His only immediate survivor is a daughter. Funeral services had not been announced today, but probably would be held here Saturday.

Former Lubbock Woman Released By Two Men Sought In Slayings

Abilene-Fort Worth area.

However, the later information from Arizona indicated that the men had not yet evaded Arizona officers.

At the time the broadcast was made here, Lubbock city police, State Highway patrol officers and Texas Rangers were working on the assumption that the men might be headed toward the Lubbock vicinity.

The former Lubbock woman was believed with the men at that time.

Had Robbed Station

An intensive manhunt was touched off in Arizona today after a filling station was held up. A trio fitting the descriptions of the trio looked for after the California slayings were seen at the site.

The bodies of the California victims were found Wednesday.

Belief had been expressed that Miss Chisholm was accompanying the men against her will.

The wanted men were identified by Arizona authorities as Billy Ray Gilbert, 28, and George Schmid, 22. Both are former inmates of the Arizona state prison.

Two brothers of Miss Chisholm, John, of Pampa, Tex., and Earl of Lubbock, Tex., arrived at Phoenix Wednesday after being notified of the disappearance of their sister.

Bodies Were Found

The men were said to be armed with weapons, believed to have been taken from the riding stable.

The girl lived in Lubbock several months in 1947. Her brother, Earl, is a student at Texas Tech college now.

The parents of the Chisholms now live in Wichita Falls, Tex.

The bodies of Ernest Winsted, 21, a Needles city employe; his wife, Frances, 22, and their neighbor, Willis Pugh, 70, were found Thursday in a field near Pugh's ranch. Each had been shot through the head.

The search shifted to Phoenix when a service statio.. attendant reported he was held up and robbed early Friday by two men he identified from police photographs as Gilbert ad Schmid. Kimball reported the attendant, Francis Thompson, said the woman at the wheel of the robbers' car fitted the description of Miss Chisholm.

Officers said they believed the men might attempt to shoot it out if cornered.

The weapons, the sheriff's office said, were taken from the riding stable by a man with whom Miss Chisholm left Tuesday.

The man identified as Gilbert was reported by Needles authorities to have spent some time at Pugh's ranch recently. He was said to have left several days ago and to have returned with a man and a woman Wednesday. The three met Mr. and Mrs. Winsted and Pugh and left Needles with them for the ranch.

Gilbert escaped from the Kingman, Ariz., jail three weeks ago.

Was Believed Kidnapped

Earlier, Earl had told a reporter that he believed his sister had been kidnapped.

Earl, 27, a student at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, and his brother John, Pampa, arrived Friday after they had been notified of Miss Chisholm's disappearance.

"I am certain she was forced to accompany the person with whom she left the riding stables Monday night," Earl said. The Carter family, with whom she was staying, also feel certain she was taken away against her will.

"Miss Chisholm managed the Weldon Carter riding stables and lived in the Carter home. Earl and John are guests at the Carter home now.

"The Carters said Florence had lived with them 18 months and during that time had grown to like her a lot. They said there was nothing irregular about her habits or work," Earl said.

Florence was last seen by an employe of the riding stables Monday night when she got into her car with another man who had appeared a few moments earlier to ask for a glass of water.

Guns Were Taken

The employe said the man appeared to have forced Miss Chisholm from the steering wheel and drove the car himself with Miss Chisholm at his side.

Two pistols, two shotguns and a deer rifle in addition to $50 from a cash register were missing, Carter told police.

(In Lubbock, Earl's wife told The Lubbock Morning Avalanche that Miss Chisholm had lived in Lubbock for several months in 1947 and had attended either Draughon's Business college or Texas Tech or both. Later, Earl indicated in a telegram from Phoenix that his sister had attended Tech.

(Earl's wife, who resides at 1625½ Tenth street in Lubbock, said that Miss Chisholm had not at any time worked in Lubbock, having gone to Phoenix to take up the job with the riding academy there upon leaving Lubbock.)

Auto Crash Fatal

by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Card married about three years ago. She was the widow of Gordon Dickinson, member of a pioneer family here, who was killed in a plane accident at Hobbs in September, 1941.

Sheriff Wayne McCommis at Alamogordo told newsmen the accident happened a few miles north of Orogrande, which is about midway between El Paso and Alamogordo.

The Card family, riding in a 1947 Cadillac, crashed into the rear of a light car being driven in the same direction, occupied by a Mrs. Gomez and her son. The sheriff said Card told him he was meeting a southbound car with bright lights, and did not see the car in front of him until he was almost upon it.

Swerved Car Sharply

He swerved sharply to the right, toward the roadside ditch, but the left front fender of the Cadillac caught the right rear of the light car, sending the light car out of control and down the highway for about 65 yards, and rolling it several times.

The Card car headed for the roadside ditch, was somehow rammed together by the impact, and came to rest in the ditch, but did not turn over, the sheriff's account said.

Neither of the Mexican occupants of the light car was hurt except for minor scratches and bruises, the sheriff said.

The Card family had been living recently in El Paso, where Card operated the Card Paint company. They owned a ranch near Lovington, where they had lived, and were planning to return. It was not learned immediately whether this was the same ranch on which her father and mother now live since he retired and moved from Lubbock several years ago.

Was Pastor Here

The father, Rev. A. A. Collins, was pastor of Cumberland Presbyterian church for several years before his retirement.

Mrs. Card, the former Ollibel Collins, was widely known in this area. She attended school in the lower grades here, and was in high school at Floydada. She took her college work at the University of Oklahoma, where she was a major in journalism and was a member of Chi Omega sorority.

She married Gordon Dickinson, son of the late W. K. Dickinson, early day resident here, in Marshall, Mo., in 1933. Her people lived at Marshall at that time, but she had been working in Oklahoma City.

After moving to Lubbock, she was a charter member of the Lubbock Junior Welfare league and served as its first vice president in 1935. She later served as vice president of the league from 1942 to 1944.

Served In Legislature

Her career also included at least one term in the New Mexico legislature, after the family moved to Lovington, but date and details of this were not known here.

Mrs. Collins, mother of the wreck victim, who had been here with Mr. Collins for a visit, left by plane Friday morning for El Paso to be with the family. Mr. Collins was at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Jordan Grooms at Levelland, who was ill. A brother, Pedro, lives at Lovington.

of our Latin neighbors," he said as he reviewed briefly the atomic age developments."

Directors Are Named

During his talk, Dr. Marshall told of the work his college is doing toward promotion of international friendships and co-operation and how young people from many lands are now studying in the Plainview school as a direct result of the program.

In an election of directors, Maurice Bray, Terry Thompson, Vernon Brewer, Bill Strange, sr., and Ronald Sherill were named to the posts for the coming year.

Prior to Dr. Marshall's talk, Clint Walker, secretary, reviewed briefly accomplishments of the organization during the past year which included promotion of the livestock show, a softball league, soil conservation tour, WTCC district meeting, erection of highway signboards, town forums, Christmas lighting contest and program, free express delivery service and numerous other projects.

Two Wayland faculty members, Shelby Collier, music director; and Sam Allen, track coach, gave several vocal numbers, accompanied at the piano by Lynn Whitten, Amarillo student.

Vernon Brewer, school superintendent, was master of ceremonies at the banquet, attended by approximately 75 persons in the school cafeteria. Dr. Marshall was introduced by Frank Hill, Tahoka newspaperman.

Army Will Double Forces In Alaska

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (INS)—The Army disclosed tonight that troop strength in Alaska will be more than doubled and personnel throughout the Far East, except Japan, will be reduced.

At the same time, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army deputy chief of staff, said American forces will fight if Japan is attacked.

Collins told newsmen in announcing a worldwide re-distribution of troops that "the same thing is true in Europe."

The Alaskan outpost will be increased from the present 6,000 to 13,200. Troops in Europe, the U.S. and the Far East, except Japan, will be reduced.

Troops stationed in the U.S. will be cut from 456,000 now to 418,000. In the Far East, manpower will be reduced 2,000 and in Europe and the Pacific, 1,000 each.

No changes will be made in the Trieste and Caribbean areas.

Cow Leaps Into Silo

Fort Worth flew in, grabbed on-the-scene shots, and flew out again.

Even Oklahoma's governor Roy J. Turner got in the act. He is a farm boy who made a fortune in oil and now raises prize Herefords.

"She should be given an anesthetic," said the governor. "Then she'll be relaxed and can be put back through the little door."

Mach isn't turning any suggestion away.

"They tell me I'll be getting some letters, too," Mach said.

He and his brother Charles, who run a herd of 100 Herefords on their 1,280 acres, have debated several hundred solutions.

"We thought of grease, but that door's too small—only terror ever got her in," Bill Mach said. "We could knock a hole in the wall, but the silo is made of interlocking concrete blocks. We might knock the whole thing down on top of the cow."

The cow's name, by the way, is "Grady."

"Don't ask me why," said Mach, "we don't remember. She's purebred but we never registered her and got a fancy name."

Compromise Federal Housing Plan Reaches Senate Floor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—A compromise housing program reached the Senate floor today sponsored by 11 Democrats and 11 Republicans. Senate passage was confidently predicted.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) met it with a blast of criticism and said he would strive to write into it an amendment barring segregation and discrimination in public housing.

The bill calls for a maximum of 810,000 public housing units in six years; a $1,500,000,000 grant-loan slum clearance program, and a $265,500,000 grant-loan rural housing and building program, along with housing problem research.

Poland Joins Russia In Putting Pressure On Scandinavian Lands

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 25. (INS)—Poland joined Russia tonight in putting pressure on Scandinavian lands to keep them out of the projected North Atlantic defense pact with the United States.

The Polish legation in Copenhagen, capital of Denmark, announced that Polish envoys to Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and Finland were recalled several days ago to Warsaw for a high-level conference.

The announcement said that Poland is vitally interested in Scandinavia and that the Baltic sea must not be the target of western "imperialistic plans."

Release Of Bikini Report Predicted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (INS)—W. T. Holliday, president of the Standard Oil Co., of Ohio, predicted tonight that President Truman shortly will release a top-secret report of the Bikini atom bomb test.

Holliday is one of a group of the nation's top businessmen and scientists who came to Washington to urge release of the document which they consider essential to intelligent preparation for defense in event of an atomic attack upon the U. S.

President Truman told his news conference some time ago that the report, believed to detail the effects of the atom bomb blasts in naval tests in the summer of 1946, is on his desk and will remain there.

Tennessee Inventor Develops Modernized, Accurate Sun Dial

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 25 (U.P.)—A Memphis inventor has come up with a new-type sundial.

The idea is that of Robert G. Amo, a retired Kansas oil lawyer now living in Memphis.

Aided by Dr. Robert W. Hartley, astronomer and mathematics professor at Southwestern university, Amo has devised a sundial with 110 different faces to tell accurate time each day of the year.

Not only that but he has come up with a sundial wrist watch and a pocket watch for the same purpose.

Amo has applied for patents on his invention and believes they will be fool-proof——if the sun shines when you want to know the time.

Realizing that regular sundials, one of man's oldest methods of telling time, were exact only twice a year, Amo worked from there.

Since sun time changes only about a minute every three or four days, he produced a series of sundial faces on a belt. The faces were dated and each time the sun changed the belt is rolled over another notch, thus giving the correct time on a regular schedule.

HINGHAM, Mass. (U.P.) — Miss Katherine Hennessy celebrated her 41st anniversary as a newsdealer by giving away free copies of her buyers' favorite papers. Sales which averaged fewer than 50 papers a day when she opened the newstand with her father now are past the 1,000 mark.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP) — Ten possible starters were named today for the $50,000 Widener to be run at Hialeah tomorrow. Calumet Farm's triple-threat entry of Coaltown, Faultless and Free America headed the list.

Clergymen Enter Pleas Of Guilty

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 25. (AP)—Two of 15 Protestant churchmen charged with treason pleaded guilty at the opening of the trial Friday and said they had spied for the United States.

The others are to be called to the stand later, one by one.

The Rev. Nikola Naumov, a Baptist minister, said he began espionage work for western powers in 1938. He said "I am guilty."

The Rev. Yanko Nikolov Ivanov, a short, bald Methodist pastor, followed him.

"I plead guilty," he said.

Churchmen 'Repentant'

(A Washington report—from a source that diplomatic officials said they deemed credible—said Ivanov, who has a withered leg, was tortured by being forced to stand under guard without support during pre-trial questioning. He normally uses canes. Methodist Bishop Paul N. Garber declared in Geneva Tuesday that a reported confession of Ivanov "could only have been secured under duress and torture.")

Naumov told the court "the time of Communism has come."

"A new world is being created for social justice," he said.

"I am sorry for my acts. I confess sincerely to the Bulgarian people and I repent my activities." He talked for two hours, detailing his alleged spying.

American Accused

It was a statement in open court such as the Communist government announced Thursday had been made in writing by Naumov and all the others in pre-trial examinations to the charges of treason, illegal currency dealings and espionage for the United States and Britain. The pre-trial examinations are standard practice in eastern European nations.

Naumov, 49, is a member of the Supreme Council of the United Evangelical churches of Bulgaria—Baptist, Methodist, Congregational and Pentecost.

Naumov declared Cyril Black was "the center of American espionage activities in Bulgaria after 1944." Black was secretary of the U.S. political mission in Sofia at the time. The minister said he had worked for American espionage agents and delivered military and other information to Black.

Charges Said 'Fantastic'

(Now a Princeton professor, Black has declared the charges "fantastic." Similar comment has come officially from the United States and British governments.)

Naumov was the first of the 15 churchmen to take the witness stand.

His fellow defendants were brought into court with him for the opening formalities, then excluded while he testified. All 15 have been in jail for weeks.

News reporters worked from a special box opposite the bench, but photographers were barred.

Official American and British observers were present.

Naumov said the World Council of Churches—which he identified as an American organization—had opposed Communism in Bulgaria.

"Behind the Methodist church stand the American magnates," he said. "Behind the Baptist church stands Rockefeller."

Atlantic Pact Draft

the end of next week.

The secretary said a bill authorizing American armament of the North Atlantic powers, once the alliance is formalized, is under consideration.

He emphasized that this legislation will be separate and distinct from the pact. He noted that the armaments measure would apply to nations outside the Atlantic alliance, but whose security is deemed essential to the United States.

Changes in the draft proposed by the Senate Foreign Relations committee were reported to have been accepted by all governments involved — Canada, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

More Latitude Given

The alterations reportedly concerned clarification of U. S. military commitments if one of the signatories is attacked. The foreign relations committee wants assurance that the constitutional right of Congress to declare war will not be usurped.

One change was believed to give the U. S. some latitude in determining whether another member of the alliance had been "attacked." This was to prevent the mere declaration by a signatory that it had been "attacked" from plunging the U. S. into conflict, when the "attack" might be a mere border incident.

Taft, who has affirmed support for an Atlantic security pact, declared that he did not favor actual supply of arms by the U. S. to other members of the alliance. He said:

"I believe that arming European countries, particularly Norway, is more likely to lead to a military attack by Russia than contribute to the peace of the world."

Taft believes any pact should follow the lines of the Inter-American defense agreement, which leaves choice of recourse against aggression entirely to the individual governments.

Acheson is expected to submit the draft to the Senate Foreign Relations committee for approval after the next meeting of the pact ambassadors.

He then will report on the status of the historic document.

Thereafter, it was reported, some time will be taken in drafting less controversial sections of the pact, which will be lengthy. Publication will follow quickly.

Acheson is anxious to have the pact formally signed as soon as possible, preferably by the foreign ministers of the seven nations.

It was said to be undecided still whether the pact will come into force when a majority of states have ratified it or will await ratification by all.

Truman Talk Scored

recalled Mr. Truman's denunciation of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress during the presidential campaign as one of the "worst" in history. Brown declared:

"It is interesting that he condemns his own Congress almost as severely as he did the Republican Congress.

"This is certainly a do-nothing Congress, although not doing anything about the President's program might be a good thing."

Senate Democratic leader Lucas, Ill., said that if the 81st Congress doesn't "do a single thing we will have accomplished more than the 80th Congress did."

HST Said 'Ungrateful'

Sen. Brewster (R-Me.) commented that the President "was pretty tough on his Democratic Congress." Brewster added:

"It may nose out the 80th Congress for Mr. Truman's title of 'the worst.'

"We Republicans also have been critical of the Democrats for not getting out some of the legislation. Mr. Truman said it could be enacted in 15 days. It now has been 60 days with nothing done.

"Incidentally, I though Mr. Truman was a little ungrateful—the Congress did at least raise his salary."

Co-Operation Seen

House Democratic leader McCormack, Mass., said that the President "is a man of his word, and he will carry out his program." McCormack asserted:

"I am satisfied that the House will co-operate with him and I am confident that the Senate will cooperate as well."

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) called the dinner a misnomer and a "reflection on the memory" of Jefferson and Jackson. He said:

"Jefferson repeatedly said that government is best which governs least. Jackson made a record for paying off the public debt."

Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), ranking GOP Appropriations committee member, said if Mr. Truman's program has "bogged down the President and the Democratic party can assume responsibility."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said "there is no evidence" that Republicans are opposing legislation in either House "for the purpose of simply blocking the program."

ACTION ON TAFT-HARTLEY REPEAL DELAYED WEEK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (INS)—Sen. Thomas (D-Utah) announced today a full week postponement in consideration of a Taft-Hartley act repealer despite President Truman's criticism over delay in wiping out the Republican labor statute.

Thomas, chairman of the Senate Labor committee which concluded hearings on a labor law substitute Wednesday, said there would be a full week delay in the unit's consideration of a Taft-Hartley repealer.

His action came directly after President Truman, who made repeal of the controversial labor act the keystone in his election campaign, blistered Republicans for opposition to the administration's labor bill.

Brazilian Speaks

Lamesa and Texas is a direct result of Rotary's friendship."

"I had heard of Texas, yes; who hasn't heard of Texas?", he said. "And let me say that the best product you have here in Texas is its people. We have Texans in my home town and we all love them so much; they're always jovial and pleasant to meet."

Then Montiero sketched briefly the economy and agriculture of his country and predicted that the day was not far off when American capital would make heavy investments in Brazil.

"I think you Americans shouldn't consider Latin - America as a whole," he declared. "Each one of its 18 countries has a different economy, a different degree of development and possibilities."

The Brazilian's talk followed brief remarks by Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Avalanche-Journal, who called on the speaker after declaring that in Lamesa he was visiting an "average West Texas town, but far above the average in hospitality that cannot be surpassed."

Weldon Lindsey was program chairman and introduced the Lubbock editor. Irving Jones, Harry Morris, Dean James G. Allen, Elmer Tarbox and Rex Webster, also of Lubbock were guests at the luncheon. Jones, who met Montiero in Brazil, spoke briefly and presented the visitor with a pen and pencil set as a token of friendship from the Lubbock club.

Rocket Soars To Record Height

rocket research, according to the Associated Press.)

Immediate significance of the achievement is the upper-air scientific data which was gained from instruments installed in the rocket which radioed findings back to earth.

Long-range importance was explained in Washington by Maj. Gen. Henry B. Sayler, chief of Army Ordnance research, who said the flight "brings closer the time" when man-made satellites may be driven to the point where the earth's gravitational pull is balanced to circle endlessly in space like tiny moons.

Gen. Sayler declared that "this successful flight is significant in a number of ways. It emphasizes the fact that we have jumped far ahead in the development of high altitude missiles."

The Curtis-Wright corporation revealed recently it is working on a rocket engine for a 10,000 mile-an-hour "space ship" which would drive through the atmosphere into the "satellite vacuum." This area is believed to begin about 50,000 miles out from the earth.

Rocket scientists in Washington today estimated that speeds of 5,000 to 25,000 miles an hour would carry a rocket 50,000 miles if a missile could be built large enough to carry sufficient fuel.

Rains Soak State

the sun broke through in the afternoon.

Nueces and Leona rivers and Camp Wood creek were on the flood in the Uvalde area. Highways 117 and 83 were closed, and the Painter bus line was unable to operate on its route from Del Rio through Uvalde to San Antonio.

Gillespie county agent Henry Grote at Fredericksburg said 1.33 inches of rain "made everyone happy," with the possible exception of fruit growers who are trying to get young trees set out. Grote said the rain would get the Hill country's small grain crops off to a good start.

At Austin, 1.76 inches of rain fell during the day, and the Weather bureau said it probably would continue until Saturday afternoon. The rain filled stock tanks and reservoirs. Lawns were turning green and trees were beginning to bud at Austin.

Surface tanks were replenished by a good rain in Llano county. The Lano river rose five feet Thursday night, but it receded considerably Friday.

Trinity Takes Slight Drop

At San Saba, near the center of the state, the rainfall was 1.54 inches, with rains near three inches reported over some parts of the county.

In North Texas, the Trinity river, flooded by Wednesday's downpour, receded six tenths of a foot from its morning mark of 36.6 feet at Dallas. But the Weather bureau said rain that started about noon should keep the Trinity from dropping further. Flood stage at Dallas is 28 feet. Levees have kept the flood waters in check, but south of Dallas much land was under water.

Port Arthur's streets were flooded by a two-inch downpour Friday. Houston had its ninth straight day of rain, and fog closed in the municipal airport for 45 minutes during the morning and closed the Houston ship channel below Morgan's Point.

Amarillo Gets Shower

A total of 1.51 inches fell at Beaumont. San Antonio had 1.96 inches in a 24-hour period. Damage was slight when a dozen streets in low-lying areas there were flooded. An emrgency crew maintained for flash-flood relief was alerted at noon, but the alert was cancelled when the rain stopped in the afternoon.

By 2 p. m. Temple had .89 inches, with rain still falling. The fall there since Sunday totaled 1.41 inches.

Amarillo registered .16 of an inch as light rains fell in that Panhandle area. Drizzles were forecast for the night.

Houston had 1.04 inches of rain Friday—ninth consecutive day of rain there. It was still raining heavily at Houston at nightfall.

Rain reports came during the day also from Big Spring, Presidio, San Angelo, Midland, Tyler, Abilene, Wichita Falls, and Corpus Christi.

A thunderstorm struck Galveston late in the day. The rainfall at Fort Worth between 9:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. was .47 of an inch, bringing the three-day total there to 3.73 inches, and more rain was in prospect Saturday. The year's total to date at Fort Worth was 10.20 inches, nearly a third of the yearly average of 33.12.

Man Killed, Seven Children Hurt In Car Accident Near Cameron

CAMERON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Charles Ramsey, 47, former mayor of San Marcos, was killed and seven school students were injured when an auto slipped off wet pavement and smashed into a bridge railing near Cameron Friday.

Ramsey, an insurance man who also was a former county judge of Hays county, was bringing the students here from San Marcos to see regional high school basketball playoffs.

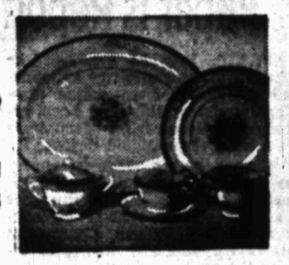

His daughter Mackey 15, son, Charles, jr., 13, and Ross King, 13, were injured seriously. Four other students, less seriously hurt, are Rita Jean Cook, 14, Moselle Kelly, 14, Jeannette Ottmers, 14, and Joe Roady, 13.

The accident occurred on Highway 77 about three miles south of Cameron at 12:30 p.m. The injured were taken to Cameron hospital.

When Rev. William McClurkin, San Marcos Episcopal pastor, heard of the wreck he rushed toward Cameron in his automobile. On the way it overturned, but he was unhurt.

Wood's Criticism Of School Plan Scored

AUSTIN, Feb. 25. (AP)—Rep. George Nokes of Corsicana hit back Friday at state school Superintendent L. A. Woods' criticism of the Gilmer-Aikin bills on education.

Woods said Thursday that many rural schools would be closed if the Gilmer-Aikin bills passed.

"It is unbelievable that a public official would make this assertion," Nokes said Friday in a statement. "There is nothing in the Gilmer-Aikin bills which would harm the rural schools of Texas. I personally represent a district which has many rural schools and would strongly oppose any measure causing harm to these schools."

Large Lake Texhoma Excursion Boat Is Destroyed By Fire

DENISON, Feb. 25 (AP) — A 90-foot sternwheeler anchored 300 feet offshore burned and sank in Lake Texoma during the night.

No one was aboard the diesel-powered excursion boat when fire broke out shortly after midnight. The cause was not determined.

Frank and Henry Wilburn of Denison owned the boat. Frank Wilburn estimated the loss at $100,000 in cash "plus a year of sweat and tears." It was insured for $40,000.

It was to have made its official debut as an excursion boat early in March. The name of the boat was the Wanderer.

The boat was piloted here from Greenville, Miss., via the Mississippi river and the Red River, last summer in 41 days.

Conservation Awards Banquet At Fort Worth Is Postponed

FORT WORTH, Feb. 25 (LH) — Date for the "save the soil and save Texas" statewide conservation awards banquet here has been changed to April 30, it was announced today.

The change from the originally-scheduled date of May 7 was made to obtain Louis Bromfield, author and conservationist, as chief speaker.

Hundreds of cooperators and supervisors from soil conservation districts throughout Texas will be present. The statewide banquet will touch off a series of award dinners in various parts of Texas on a regional basis.

The program was originated four years ago by the Fort Worth Press, and this year will present awards totaling $13,000. The two other Scripps-Howard papers in Texas, the Houston Press and the El Paso Herald-Post, are co-sponsors of the program.

Scattered Measles Cases Reported Here

Lubbock has a few scattered cases of measles at present, but the situation is far from epidemic frequency, the city health officer and local school authorities indicated Friday.

Dr. L. B. Woods, city health officer, said today that there are "just a few sporadic cases, with no indications of an epidemic."

An attendance survey in Lubbock elementary disclosed that absences currently are slightly above average, perhaps due to measles.

Peak Apparently Passed

Mrs. Dennie Sanford, elementary school nurse, said the present "run" of the diseases apparently has passed its peak, and that it was never of epidemic proportions.

She added, however, that measles "are tricky", and that a new outbreak is always a possibility. She also pointed out that it is difficult to check the causes of all school absences, since parents do not always report them.

R. W. Matthews, Lubbock public school superintendent, said that all students who have measles are asked to remain out of school for the allotted time of three weeks, unless they havea doctor's certificate permitting them to return earlier.

POLITBUREAU FACES CRACKDOWN

Editor Of French Communist Paper Is Reported Arrested

PARIS, Feb. 25 (AP) — The French Interior ministry announced tonight that an editor of a Communist weekly has been arrested while carrying "documents involving the national defense."

Earlier a government source said authorities had begun legal action against the 84-member Politbureau, or central committee, of the French Communist party for allegedly trying to incite the army to revolt.

The reported legal crack-down was neither confirmed nor denied by the Defense ministry. Such an action had been expected, however, since the bitter coal strike last fall.

The editor taken into custody was identified as Jacques Firedland of the publication "Regards." The Interior ministry said he was picked up while leaving Communist headquarters last night.

Security police have been alerted for some time about efforts of several persons to obtain information on national defense, the ministry said.

Police raided the offices of three Communist publications, including Regards, and a publishing house. They did not disclose the number of arrests made. One afternoon newspaper said eight men were picked up and will be brought before a military court.

The government source said the complaint against the Communist central committee was filed by Defense Minister Paul Ramadier with Justice Minister Robert Lecourt. The action was based on statements made in posters and in the Communist newspaper L'Humanite during the miners' strike.

The Communists have repeatedly stated recently that France would never fight Russia and the French people should welcome the Soviet army as liberators if Russia ever occupies France.

The national Assembly, lower house of Parliament, denounced Communist leaders for those statements. Premier Henri Queuille told the Assembly that no one has the right to "undermine the morale of the nation and the army." He promised legal action.

May Lift Immunity

The justice minister asked for a lifting of the parliamentary immunity of the aged French Communist leader, Marcel Cachin. It was explained that Cachin, as director of L'Humanite, could be held responsible for the fact that the paper printed the statement: "The French people will never make war against Russia." Parliamentary debate in Cachin's case is scheduled for next Friday.

Requests for lifting the immunity of Maurice Thorez, Communist secretary-general, and other Communist members of Parliament are expected to follow. Deputies deprived of immunity would be subject to possible arrest.

Thorez and Cachin are members of the French Communist Politbureau.

The law against inciting soldiers to disobey their officers carries a penalty of one to five years imprisonment and a fine of up to 3,000 francs ($10).

Another statute, dating back to 1832, provides for penalties including the death sentence for acts against "the security of the state" and incitement to civil war.

The shooting occurred Dec. 2. Wilson pleaded self defense.

Details For Truman's Plan Handed UN

U.S. Asks Help Of Organization

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 25.—The United States called on the United Nations today to assume a major role in carrying out President Truman's "bold new program" for developing backward areas of the world.

Assistant Secretary of State Willard L. Thorp presented the initial blueprint for the President's "peace and plenty" plan before the 18-nation Economic and Social Council and urged all countries to join in coordinating these efforts through UN.

It was disclosed at the same time that President Truman, whose inaugural address cited the strengthening of UN as part of his program, will lay the cornerstone of the permanent UN headquarters in Manhattan on April 10.

Curtain Lifted On Plan

The President accepted the invitation sent jointly by Secretary General Trygve Lie and the U. S. representative at UN, Warren R. Austin. Mr. Truman will deliver an address during the ceremony, to be attended by scores of foreign diplomats in New York for the second part of the General Assembly.

Lifting the curtain on President Truman's plan—still in its initial stage—Thorp revealed that a desired objective is the use of all UN facilities and specialized agencies as a primary vehicle in carrying out the program.

In his speech Thorp indirectly sought to allay American fears that the President's program in its immediate concept will call for an outlay of billions of dollars of taxpayers' money. He indicated that the main hope for financing is for drawing vast amounts of private capital into backward areas, thus making them productive.

Private Capital Sought

Thorp suggested that private American investments, which he estimated at $38,800,000,000, should flow more into foreign fields.

Thorp declared that "the bulk of the effort, the drive, the organization, the planning and much of the financing must come from the people themselves and from their governments."

Russian opposition to the U. S. proposal in UN already is certain from previous pronouncement by Soviet bloc speakers. But Thorp said to the Economic and Social Council:

"Here is a field in which genuine co-operation can expand and flourish. No country has a monopoly of skills, knowledge or available personnel. Certainly the United States has no monopoly. The amount of technical assistance will begin to approximate the

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE
Lubbock, Texas, Saturday, February 26, 1949

Laymen's Day Is Set Here Sunday

Laymen of Lubbock Methodist churches will take part Sunday in the annual church observance of Laymen's day.

Laymen's day is observed yearly in the church on the fourth Sunday in February. Last year an estimated 100,000 laymen participated in the nationwide program, and this year an even wider observance is anticipated.

Theme Of Observance

General theme for this year's observance will be three appearances by Ray H. Nichols, of Vernon, president of the board of lay activities of the Methodist churches of the United States.

Nichols, who is also lay leader of the Northwest Texas conference of the church, will deliver two Sunday morning sermons, at 9 and 11 o'clock, at St. John's Methodist church.

He will be at Asbury Methodist church Sunday night to deliver the sermon at the 7:30 o'clock evening service. At this service, the men's chorus of the church will occupy the choir.

Others To Take Part

At Overton Methodist church, Frank Elkins, veterans' guidance employe at Texas Technological college, will deliver the Sunday morning sermon at the 11 o'clock service. Laymen will also be in charge of the evening service at 7:30 o'clock, at which J. K. Salser, visual education director of the church, will show a sound movie based on a religious theme.

Laymen's day observance at the First Methodist church has been postponed until March 13, church officials have announced. On that date, Charles Dean, Plainview attorney, is to deliver the sermon.

In addition to the special programs listed above, local Methodist churches will observe other regularly-scheduled services Sunday.

TIRE-CHANGING MADE EASIER

WEIRTON, W. Va. (U.P.)—Tire-changing is not the arduous task once presented by detachable wheel rims, but a local inventor, Walter E. Schultz, wants to trim still more of the hard work connected with the job. He has invented a hub-engaging wheel shoe mounted on a spring tube to support the weight of a wheel and tire and simultaneously adjust it on the hub bolts.

Petitions To Be Sent To Washington

Group Here Protests Controls On Rents

Approximately 80 Lubbock landlords, most of whom have rent property subject to rent controls, last night met in the county courthouse and signed a petition protesting continuation of such controls.

The group also drafted telegraphic messages to be sent to Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson and Representative George Mahon as further measures of protest.

No Big Increases Seen

The petition was prepared by Max Coleman, Lubbock attorney and long time resident here who retired from practice several years ago because of ill health.

The petition, rather lengthy, said that the Lubbock group opposed rent controls as they were and pointed out that many landlords were receiving the same amount for rental units now as during the war although maintenance and other costs have gone up considerable. Both the petition and telegrams were similar in this argument. Congress was asked to either drop the controls completely or at least make provisions for increasing expenses for property holders.

Last night's meeting was called by J. A. Mullins, of 502 Ave. R, in cooperation with Coleman.

J. F. Hankins, local resident who owns both business and residential property here, told the gathering that "even if rent controls are kept, it does not necessarily mean that Lubbock must keep them." He pointed out that other Texas cities, among them Abilene, are now without rent controls and have suffered no adverse effects.

He further pointed out that it was his belief that most landlords would not "go overboard" in raising rents if controls were lifted, since "the renter is entitled to fair treatment the same as we are," he declared.

At the meeting, also, Senate bill 434, regarding rent controls was explained briefly.

SOLONS MAKE PLANS TO PASS NEW LAW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP) — An unannounced, closed door session of House banking committee Democrats was reported today to have produced "a general understanding" to try to put more teeth in rent controls, and to continue the rent law for 15 months.

But the Democrats apparently are not ready to make the law as tough as President Truman wants, or to continue it as long as he has requested.

Those who attended the meeting declined to discuss what points had been discussed, but that general sentiment seemed to be about like this:

1. To continue rent controls 15 months.
2. To include strong curbs on eviction of tenants.
3. To refuse the administration's request for new authority to extend rent controls into new areas.
4. To refuse a request that criminal penalties be put into the rent law.
5. To give the administration the power it has requested to sue property owners for three times the amount of any charges above rent ceilings, but without authority for the government to sue on overcharges already made.
6. To write in a provision to encourage decontrol of areas as the pressure for rental housing eases.

Three Announce For City Offices At Spur

SPUR, Feb. 25 (Special) — City politics warmed up this week with the announcement of three candidates for the positions of mayor, street commissioner and water commissioner.

Seeking the office of mayor is Ned Hogan, local clothing store operator, and former mayor of the city. Bynum Britton, local manager of the Dickens county REA has filed for the place of street commissioner, with Edgar C. McGee announcing for re-election as water commissioner.

Martin Pope, present mayor, and Spencer Campbell present street commissioner have announced they would not be candidates for re-election.

The city election has been called for April 5, and candidates must file by March 5 in order to get their names on the ticket.

Wildcat Test In Scurry Scheduled

An Ellenburger wildcat is scheduled for extreme Northwest Scurry county by Intex Oil company of Dallas and Superior Oil company as their No. 1 R. H. Jordan.

The drillsite is 660 feet from east and 2,652.4 feet from north lines of section 579, block 97, H&TC survey, about three miles northwest of the town of Fluvanna.

Projected depth is 8,700 feet with rotary tools. Operations are to begin in the near future.

On 15,800 Acre Block

This prospector is staked on a block of approximately 15,800 acres in Northwest Scurry and Northeast Borden county, which was acquired by Intex in December from Richfield Oil Corporation for a cash payment of $505,000.

Intex has sold an undivided half interest in the block to Superior. The wildcat will be drilled as a joint venture.

It is reported that royalty under sections 578 and 579 sold for as high as $250 per acre.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Perriman, one and one-half mile west extension to the Canyon lime production in the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county, has been officially completed for a 24-hour, natural flowing potential of 241.03 barrels of 44.6 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 446.1.

The production is from the lower Canyon between 7,050-70 feet.

The discovery well in the North Snyder field gets its oil from the upper Canyon. However, two outposts to the field opened have shown that they have commercial oil in both the upper and the lower zones of the horizon. The upper pay zone is barren in the Humble extension.

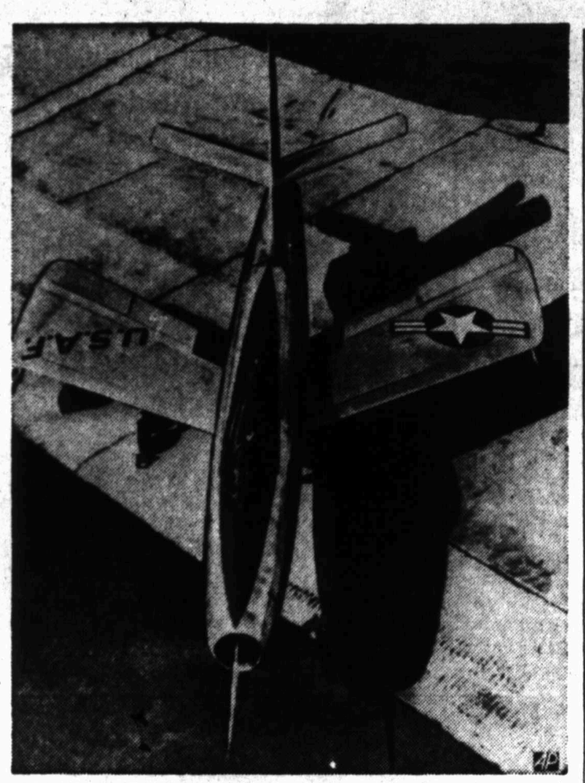

It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 438, block 97, H&TC survey.

COURT BATTLE IS OPENED

Pro-Truman Group Challenges District Court Ban On Purge

FORT WORTH, Feb. 25. (AP)—Pro-Truman Democrats challenged in the Second Court of Appeals today the right of a District court to enjoin a purge of anti-Truman delegates at last September's state convention of the party.

The temporary injunction against the purge was taken under review by the appeals court. Afterwards attorneys for both factions conceded privately that the case ultimately will reach the Supreme court.

Tarrant county pro-Truman Democrats appealed from an injunction issued by Judge Walter Morris in 67th District court last November.

Judge Morris held that Neville G Penrose and Mrs. Bennet Smith, named in 1946 as Tarrant county representatives on the state Democratic executive committee, still held the offices.

He ruled that the Truman-controlled September convention was not regularly organized, insofar as Tarrant county was concerned, and that Jack Carter and Mrs. J. W. Douglas had not been properly elected to succeed Penrose and Mrs. Smith.

He enjoined Carter and Mrs. Douglas from attempting to hold the office.

Ernest May, attorney for the loyalists, said the conservatives "were trying to take over the machinery of the party to defeat the party."

Gillis Johnson, attorney for the conservatives, called the Tarrant county loyalists "Sears Roebuck Democrats," a term he defined as meaning a person of "elastic philosophy."

May, in support of his appeal, argued: that the District court had no jurisdiction and hence was without authority to enjoin the defendants; that "purely political" nature of the case placed the convention's actions beyond the purview of equity courts; that the courts had no control over the self-contained power of the party to discipline its officers, and that the court was without jurisdiction to try title to executive committee membership.

Lamesa Trial Date Reset

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Feb. 25—A motion for continuance was granted today in the trial of R. D. Taylor, a farmer being tried on a charge of aggravated assault against a Lamesa school official.

The trial was reset for March 16.

Taylor, who with his brother-in-law, Jack Aldredge, has been charged with aggravated assault against Ray Culp, Lamesa school principal, went on trial this morning, but soon after the jurors had been sworn in the defense attorney, George Thomas of Big Spring, filed a motion for continuance.

The motion was based on the illness of Mrs. J. H. Aldredge, who is the mother of Mrs. R. D. Taylor, a material witness in the case. Mrs. Taylor currently is with her mother in Abilene.

It developed on presentation of the testimony of a defense witness, Ted Aldredge, and of a medical certificate signed by Dr. W. R. Snow, Abilene physician, that Mrs. J. H. Aldredge is suffering from lobar pneumonia and a chronic heart ailment. After hearing the testimony, County Judge R. W. Herndon granted the motion following a noon recess.

Approximately 300 people were in the courtroom today to witness the trial, which has aroused considerable interest here.

Taylor and Jack Aldredge allegedly severely beat Culp on the front porch of Culp's home last Friday night, after the principal reportedly had whipped Taylor's son with a piece of quarter inch soft rubber tubing earlier that day as a matter of school discipline.

The two defendants have been free after posting bonds of $1,500 and $1,000, respectively.

ENLARGE SENATE?

It's Too Big Now!

ABOUT the only support Sen. J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, can expect for his proposal that each State be allowed three U. S. senators instead of two is from those who may believe the arrangement would give them a better chance of getting into the upper house.

The Senate is unwieldy even with its present membership of 96. And there is no logic in the contention that conditions would be improved if 48 more voices should be added to the senatorial Babel. With 48 more senators to think up new laws, new ways of spending money and to sound off about everything that might come up, Congress inevitably would become even more inefficient than it is now.

It is a virtual certainty that little popular support will rally behind the McGrath proposal. But it might cause a good many Americans to wonder whether two senators from each State might be one too many for law-making efficiency.

Not Worth Denying

IT IS SOMEWHAT regrettable, that Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. ambassador to Russia, has dignified by denial certain charges made against him in a book widely publicized and circulated in the Soviet Union.

Credited to the doubtful authorship of Annabelle Bucar, American-born former employe in the U. S. embassy at Moscow, the tome accuses General Smith of having acted as a sort of master mind behind black market, profiteering, espionage and other culpable operations in Russia.

The extremity of the charges is sufficient proof to any thinking person of their absurdity. Not even intelligent Russians are likely to believe any person could be as bad as General Smith is pictured.

The motive behind the publication is obvious. Dozens of refugees from Russia have published their personal stories of the tyranny behind the iron curtain. Several of the books have become best sellers. These, without exception, have been supported by documentary and circumstantial evidence which removed all reasonable doubt as to their truth. The Communist overlords needed something as a rebuttal to the stories of dozens of Russian refugees—hundreds are available—published in the U. S. So Russia finally dug up just one book which may or may not have been written, either voluntarily or under compulsion, by a screwball American woman who is a voluntary exile and fugitive from her homeland.

General Smith might have been wiser to ignore the whole thing. No one worthy of consideration will place slightest credence in the charges, and his denials serve chiefly to give added publicity to them.

Before We Let Out Too Much Gas—

Beware Of Romance

By ROBERTA COURTLAND
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

XXXV

IT WAS late in April when Merry came home from the movies and a soda at the Sweet Shoppe with some of her chosen friends to find a long, low, expensive convertible with a New York license tag on it parked in the drive.

For a long moment she sat perfectly still, staring at it, and even before she went into the house and the visitor stood up from the deep chair in which he had been facing Aunt Jane, she knew who it would be. It was Mike, of course.

"Well, stranger," he greeted her casually, though the leaping delight in his eyes, the warmth of his tone, the way his hand closed tightly over hers, was anything but casual. "It's been a long time. But you're more beautiful than ever."

By now she had her breath back and could stammer, "But, for goodness sake, what are you doing here? And why didn't you let us know you were coming?"

"Oh, I was driving up from Florida, and I was studying the road map for a route that would avoid some of the larger cities, and I happened to see 'Marshallville,' and I thought to myself, "Why, that's where Merry lives. Why don't I drive by and say hello to her?' and the next thing I knew, here I was."

"And very welcome, too," Merry assured him eagerly, and turned to Aunt Jane. "This is Mike Channing, Aunt Jane."

Aunt Jane grinned.

"We've met," she said dryly. "He came a little after 3, and since he wouldn't let me have you 'paged' at the movie, he and I have been entertaining each other—I hope!"

"I found it most entertaining," said Mike happily.

Aunt Jane twinkled at him pleasantly.

"You two sit down and have a chat, while I see to dinner," she urged hospitably. "Lizzie will be all of a twitter at the idea of cooking for a young man from New York."

"If you're sure it isn't too much trouble—" Mike protested politely.

"IT'S a pleasure," said Aunt Jane. "I've tried to tell him, Merry, that we have all sorts of spare rooms and we'd be delighted to have him as our house guest."

"But of course."

"Thanks, but I really couldn't impose."

Merry laughed. "You have absolutely nothing to say about it. Haven't you heard about Southern hospitality? If we can't get our guests any other way, we kidnap them."

"I couldn't think of a grander way to be kidnapped," Mike gave in willingly.

"Good," said Aunt Jane, and bustled out.

Merry curled up in a deep chair and demanded eagerly, "And now, tell me all about everything. When did you last see Dad and Lissa?"

"They were in Palm Beach for a couple of weeks, looking wonderful and having such a good time they are a walking advertisement for the joys of matrimony", said Mike. Then he added quietly, "I've missed you, Merry."

"I've missed you too, Mike."

"Enough?"

"Enough for what?"

"Enough to be glad I'm back and to want me to sort of hang around a spell? I'd be glad, Merry, if it would help you make up your mind. I've no place I particularly want to go; nothing I especially want to do. Acquiring you as my wife strikes me as one of the most exciting and simulating projects any man could take up."

Merry said shakily, "Please, Mike, I'm sort of all mixed up. Could we just not talk about it for a little while?"

MIKE'S handsome face stiffened just a little and some of the light went out of his eyes, but he answered quietly, "Of course, child. I don't think I ever quite realized just how young you really are. In New York, there was a shimmer of sophistication over the engaging and charming youngness."

Merry said huskily, "That was Lissa. She has such superb taste and she was so generous in outfitting me."

Mike nodded as though it weren't very important. "Could be, I suppose. I think, too, it's a part of New York itself. People just seem to sort of grow up faster there. But here in your own home—and by the way, what a perfectly swell place to grow up in. It's got an atmosphere—I can't quite explain it—but just coming into it, you feel it."

"A place where two or three generations have lived and loved and grown old and finally passed on," said Merry.

Mike looked at her sharply.

"Yes, I suppose that could be it," he admitted slowly, as though he found the idea strange and a little alarming.

He looked around the big room with its old rubbed furniture; its chintz draperies that had faded a little so that clusters of roses and cornflowers and tulips had melted into pastel shades. At the deep-piled dark green rug, and the two or three well-chosen pictures on the wall.

"Yes, I can begin to understand you better, Merry," he said after a moment, and there was a look in his eyes that somehow, crazily disturbed her.

"I've just remembered something," she said hurriedly, scrambling to her feet and avoiding his eyes, all of which was perfectly silly, as she knew to her own secret rage. "I have to telephone. Will you let me show you to your room? Dinner will be in about an hour."

"Thanks," said Mike, and there was a tiny gleam in his eyes that was not quite a twinkle but that told her he was a little amused because he had read that sudden, crazy uneasiness in her mind.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

I HAVE said several times in this column that the women of America have done little with their political prerogatives since they gained what they had been fighting for these many years.

Consequently I should not praise my wife for being practically illiterate in a political sense, nor should I express my admiration for a friend of hers, with whom she had a most enlightening political conversation a couple of days ago.

BRANDEIS

I couldn't help eavesdropping.

This friend of hers and my wife were jabbering away while I was reading my newspaper.

First I didn't pay any attention.

Then I heard a remark that made me sit up and take notice.

I really don't remember whether it came from my wife or from Hazel, her friend.

"If I were President," was the remark, "I would do away with Communism in less than a year. It's the simplest thing in the world."

That remark hit me like a bombshell.

Here we have been trying to do that very thing for months and months.

We talk about it in Congress. We hold meetings. We appoint committees and commissions. The whole FBI is after the Communists and when it finds them nothing is being done about it.

In New York and Hollywood avowed Communists harass our Courts and make asses out of our judges.

And then I hear in my own living room, "It's the simplest thing in the world"!

WHAT'S so simple about it?" I heard Hazel ask, so it must have been my wife who had made that remark.

"If I were Truman," she replied, "I would propose a law making Communism a crime, punishable by death.

"I would use my influence upon Congress to pass that law in a hurry. And, the way it looks at present, Truman can get pretty nearly everything he wants from Congress.

"If I were Truman I would go on the radio and on the platform and I'd shout and shout to the people as loud as I shouted to be elected.

"I would prove to the people that Communism in America is not a political party but treason. I would prove to them a Communist by the very words of our Constitution cannot at the same time be a citizen of the United States."

"So far so good," said Hazel.

"After that law is passed," my wife continued, "I would arrest every Communist and every lawyer who defends a Communist and who by his very defense would then be a criminal himself.

"I would not fill our jails with Communists, but shoot every one of them as he is arrested.

"In one year there wouldn't be any more Communists in this country."

Have you a better solution, Mr. Truman?

ON FILIBUSTER CURB

Bitter Showdown Set

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The Senate is moving slowly but relentlessly forward for a showdown on a new proposed rule to shut off endless debate.

Action expected next week is likely to precipitate a filibuster against the anti-filibuster measure. For if the door is pushed open, various civil rights bills, which the Southerners do not want, will crowd into the Upper Chamber.

TUCKER

The initial clash between Dixiecrat sympathizers and those who seek to stifle marathon oratory will not be on civil rights legislation itself. The attempt will be made to eliminate certain technicalities in Senate procedure, which now leave loopholes for anyone prone to spout until the cows come home.

RULE: Ever since World War I days the Senate has had a cloture rule by which two thirds of the members can muzzle a talkative brother. But the wording is vague. A clever parliamentarian can sidestep the ban.

The rule applies to "any pending measure" but not to motions. Since no measure can be brought before the Senate except by motion it is obvious that in reality there is no cloture at present.

Four Republican leaders, Senators Knowland of California, Ives of New York, Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Ferguson of Michigan, have jointly submitted Senate Resolution 13 which puts teeth in cloture and have demanded that this resolution be placed on the Senate calendar.

Democratic leaders, who control the Senate machinery, have said they are willing to allow discussion on this initial curb.

Senator Knowland is determined to prevent stalling. "We will not permit the question of a defect in Senate rules to be brushed under the carpet of legislative procrastination," he warns, "as a poor housekeeper might brush dirt under a rug."

DETOUR: When the 81st Congress opened a great many people in the country thought that the ruling Democrats would carry out Candidate Truman's promise to enact civil rights by first clearing away the filibuster obstruction. At heart most of the President's followers on Capitol Hill want to do this. But they also have no desire to alienate associates from the Deep South early in the game when so many Administration measures need Southern votes.

Senator Scott W. Lucas of Illinois, Democratic leader, shrewdly devised a procedure to make a virtue of dilly dallying. He said that he would be duty bound to set aside any consideration of rules changes whenever he felt that "vital" bills in the Truman legislative program should take precedence.

This sounds noble. But in practice Lucas can label as emergency legislation every bill that stems from Truman messages. Thus he can detour reform indefinitely. Liberal Democrats, aided by most Republicans, do not intend to let him get away with it.

POWER: Senator Russell of Georgia and other Dixie stalwarts, of course, are fighting the rules amendment because they seek to stop anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills. But the reformers maintain that enactment of civil rights is not their only objective.

They argue that in a national war emergency one Senator alone could hold up defense measures. "Through delaying tactics," says Knowland, "he could exercise more power than a President can with a veto. Time is priceless in a war emergency. The Netherlands were overrun by the Nazis in five days, Belgium in 19 days and Poland in 28 days. Speedy action is essential in an era of rocket planes and atomic bombs."

ROADBLOCKS: Filibusters in the past have been roadblocks to Senate action. "Pitchfork" Ben Tillman of South Carolina once started to read the entire text of Lord Byron's "Childe Harold's Pilgrimage' and threatened other literary dissertations unless the House agreed to vote on a long-standing South Carolina claim for $47,000. No limitation rules then were in force. After weary hours the House gave up and took action on the claim.

In 1908 the elder LaFollette of Wisconsin held the floor for 18 hours and 23 minutes. He managed to snatch a few moments of rest through the assistance of 32 quorum calls.

GAG: The present cloture rule was adopted in March, 1917, as the consequence of a filibuster in the previous session that blocked Woodrow Wilson's attempt to arm merchant vessels. At the time the President growled, "A little group of willful men representing no opinion but their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

In 32 years, 28 attempts have been made to apply this gag but only four have been successful. Agitation for civil rights began a decade ago. Cloture was unsuccessfully tried six times. In 1946 the proponents received their first majority vote to end debate but they still lacked the necessary two thirds.

PUNISHMENT: One of the longest filibusters was over the Sherman silver purchase law in 1893, consuming 42 days. Another talking endurance test was the two months speech-making over the Oregon bill in 1846. In 1935 the late Senator Huey "Kingfish" Long quoted Scripture and telephone books for 15 hours and 25 minutes, pausing only long enough between sentences to gulp down glasses of milk or orange juice.

Senator Morse of Oregon rambled on for one minute less than 10 hours in 1947. Last year Senator Taylor of Idaho, later Wallace's running mate, might have filibustered to a record had he not lost the floor on a technicality.

Senator Longer of North Dakota pounds the desk so hard in a filibuster that Senate pages pile up books to prevent his fist from doing damage. But the other day they forgot this precaution and while driving home a point in an ordinary speech the Senator cracked a desk.

Even if the cloture rule passes and ever is used, each Senator after its application still will be entitled to one full hour of debate before the final vote is taken. So the human ear is in for punishment no matter what happens.

There were "taxes" 20,000 years ago, says a historian. It appears there never were any "good old days."

The average man can find most anything except the particular shirt for which he is looking.

"Russia to lend gold to Czechoslovakia."—Head-line. It seems Uncle Joe is also running a capitalistic nation.

CAPITAL IS CLAIMED TENSE

War Preparations Are Assailed

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Now that Congress is at the point of legalizing our spies and setting up a radar system around the country like an electric chastity belt and laying out a 3,000-mile range for testing guided missiles—with all that we ought to feel most secure.

With the atom bomb, too. And with General Harry Vaughan safe in the White House despite Drew Pearson. And with General Ike Eisenhower back in the Pentagon, to which sprawling building, incidentally, the fussy and old-fashioned State department has become figuratively a mere appendage, somewhat like the modern college of liberal arts, so-called, that is attached to a football stadium.

We ought to be very set-up about it all.

Capital Is Tense

There are other protections, too, such as the wall of steel we are going to build across western Europe with guns from our plentiful store, and the North Atlantic Alliance to make it certain. Then there's our big, fat purse which seems to have no bottom with which we can encourage the friendship of our poorer neighbors across the ocean.

We ought to be very happy and content. For happiness can be bought, can't it?

Yet, with it all, we are perhaps the unhappiest, most discontented, most jittery and most frightened nation on earth today. At least that's the impression you get in this city, which is the touchy nerve center of it all. Everything seems unreal here these days and completely out of focus. The very atmosphere over our heads in a-buzz every so often with the new fast planes that streak low above government buildings to reinforce the alarms cried out by our generals and admirals who seem to have us well in hand.

If you don't keep hold of yourself you are likely to see hobgoblins chasing about in broad daylight—without benefit of I. W. Harper. It would be very discouraging if you thought the people out in the country were becoming infected with the madness, too, and it is hoped this is not true.

When we get all dressed up in our armor we cast an ominous shadow that scares us.

It was said that we are perhaps the most jittery and frightened nation on earth. Maybe that should be qualified. There's another which, judging from its strange actions, seems about as frightened. That, of course, is Russia. It acts like a fellow in a conniption fit, mumbling a meaningless jargon reminiscent of medieval times such as might come from a mind gone astray from trying to figure how many capitalists could dance on a bayonet point. Fantastic are the mental contortions to justify its own actions and misinterpret those of others.

Russia strikes out against writers and painters and musicians and scientists, and its satellites strike out at religion and discover mysterious plots within their borders, exhibiting the uneasy state to which frightened dictators finally come. Out of all that, with some help from us on this side of the world, there is developing a middle age religious war in the 20th century.

Suggestion Is Given

It's bad to have two of us at large in the world today, particularly since, between us, we control the world.

There's a suggestion about what we, on our part, might do to calm things down a bit that comes from some of our saner minds which are disturbed about what goes on. That is to call off the continual military show which rumbles over the radio and in our newspapers until you feel as if you were living in a gun factory with trip hammers jarring eternally on your nerves.

One good reason to call it off is in the interest of national defense. We give away, free, daily to any spies who may be among us—and there must be some—exactly what we have and what it can do. For another reason, the bluster may give us a bully complex. And, finally, it must look to anybody watching it even from afar, say in Russia, that we are about to go to war next week, when we know our people have no such thought. At least, it gives the Kremlin constant topics for its purposes.

All of this is just plain good public relations, as we call it in our modern world, which someone might suggest to the military over in the Pentagon—politely, of course, with no offense intended.

Prosecution Of U. S. Communist Leaders Slated To Open March 7

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina today set March 7 as a starting date for actual prosecution of 11 indicted U. S. Communist leaders.

Since the trial opened Jan. 17, nearly all court sessions have been taken up with efforts by the defense to prove that the way federal juries are picked here is discriminatory.

The oyster feeds itself by drawing in water and filtering out microscopic plants and animals.

UN PRAISES ISRAEL, EGYPT

Palestine Armistice Encourages Efforts At 'Cold War' Solution

By GABRIEL DE SABATINO
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 25 —UN Secretary General Trygve Lie declared today that the signing of the Israeli-Egyptian armistice agreement should encourage efforts toward a peaceful solution of the East-West conflict.

Lie said he had sent congratulatory messages to the foreign ministers of Israel and Egypt and to Acting Mediator Dr. Ralph Bunche, whom he praised for steering the Rhodes peace talks to a successful conclusion.

The UN chief disclosed to newsmen he had conferred lengthily last weekend with Egyptian and Israeli representatives at Lake Success. He said he had held the conference at the request of Dr. Bunche prior to the signing of the agreement.

Lie said of the armistice:

"This achievement is a good example of the kind of influence the United Nations is best fitted to exercise during the present severe tension in the world—that is, to act as a mediating and conciliating influence for peace." He added:

"I think all men who believe in the achievement of real peace throughout the world—especially all who believe in working for a peaceful settlement of the conflict between the great powers—should take heart from what has been accomplished by mediation and conciliation on the island of Rhodes . . ."

In his telegrams to Israel and Egypt, Lie said:

"This agreement is an important milestone in the extensive efforts of the United Nations to assist in finding a peaceful solution to the problems of Palestine.

"In considerable measure this achievement is due to the patient and conciliatory attitude of both delegations during the strenuous weeks of negotiation.

"In reaching this agreement you and your government have made a significant contribution to the cause of international peace."

UN Help Is Asked

need only if all nations contribute to the joint effort."

Thorp Outlines Program

Thorp outlined his program as follows:

1. "A concrete program for enlarging the activities of the United Nations and the specialized agencies in the field of technical assistance for economic development."

2. "Ways and means for arranging for financial expansion in connection with such projects."

3. "Recommendations for the coordination of planning, execution and control in this field."

He said the program should be worked out by the economic and social council for study at its next —ninth—session. Thorp added:

"The timetable for the attainment of these objectives of economic development is measured in decades, not in years."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—A sharp run-up in May wheat and May corn gave a firmer tone to the rest of the grain market today. Both contracts advanced in active dealings in the latter part of the session, May wheat gaining around 5 cents and May corn around 2 cents at one time.

Cash dealers bought both the May contracts, and the upturn was helped along by short covering. The government again was willing to pay 41 cents over the May wheat future at Kansas City for cash grain. It was getting more wheat at this price.

Wheat closed 1 to 4⅛ higher, May $2.19¾-2.20; corn was unchanged to 1⅝ higher, May $1.31⅛-⅝; oats were ⅛ lower to ⅝ higher, May 68½-⅝; rye was 1 cent higher, May $1.30, soybeans were ¼-1⅝ higher, March $2.33¾-2.34¼, and lard was

STOCKS CONTINUE SLUMP

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—A midday rally in stocks blew up today and the market finished lower for the sixth session in a row. The market on the average was at a low since last March.

Closing prices disclosed a clean-cut majority of losses running from fractions to a point or more. A fair number of issues managed to salvage part of earlier gains but improvement was mostly fractional. New lows for a year or more were posted on 34 issues.

Business was sluggish on the way up and on the way down. Turnover was 830,000 shares.

The General Motors price reduction and automobile wage cut was rated favorably in downtown Manhattan. Observers claimed that GM had made a smart move in its relations with labor and consumers by reducing prices immediately after announcement of the wage cut. The stock showed no reaction, closing ¼ lower at 56⅝.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .2 of one point to 61.4, the lowest since 61.2 was touched on March 18 last year. The rail component declined only .1 of one point but at 32.5 was at a new 1948-49 low.

Of the 981 issues which changed hands, 420 dropped and 292 advanced.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas preferred rose 1⅝ to 18⅝ and the common added ⅝ at 4⅝. The advances were associated with reports that the railroad will announce a plan affecting its securities within the next month or two.

Fractional gains were posted for Southern Pacific at 40, Great Northern Preferred 37, and Union Pacific 78⅛. Lower were Santa Fe, Northern Pacific.

Air Line and aircraft companies stayed in plus territory. Higher were Pan American, American, Eastern, United, TWA, Boeing, Douglas, and Lockheed. Curtiss-Wright, the most active issue, rose ⅜ to 9⅜, a substantial gain for a stock in that price bracket.

Ending lower were U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Consolidated Edison, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Radio Corp., Superior Oil of California, and Gulf Oil.

Spur Man Is Found Guilty Of Assault

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 25 (Special) — A Lamb county district court petit jury returned a verdict of guilty about 6:30 p.m. today against J. A. Jones, 31, of Spur route 2, and recommended punishment of two years in the state penitentiary for assault with intent to rob.

Indictments naming Jones and a nephew, Howard Jones, 22, of Lubbock, charged that they on Oct. 30 sought to rob Hodges grocery and service station here.

New Trial May Be Asked

J. A. Jones, through his attorney, Herbert Martin, indicated he would file a formal motion for a new trial.

Howard Jones, also scheduled to be tried today before Judge C. D. Russell of the 64th judicial district, testified for the state in the trial of his uncle. Trial of the younger Jones was postponed to a later date because of lack of time today.

District Attorney Joe Sharp and County Attorney Robert Kirk represented the state in the Jones trial. Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr of the 72nd district, of Lubbock, assisted in the prosecution.

J. A. Jones posted $2,500 bond in Lubbock county Jan. 10, on a car theft charge in 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair. On Dec. 7, he posted $1,000 bond on a forgery charge in 99th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue there.

Howard Jones, also listed on Lubbock jail records under aliases of O. M. Sanders and Howard Girdley, posted $1,000 bond in Lubbock Dec. 9 on a forgery charge in the 99th court.

U.S. Moves To Apply Truman's World Program In Middle East

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United States is moving to apply President Truman's "point four" to the Middle East, and, perhaps, rebuild some American forces in Islam which were torn down during the Palestine dispute.

First modest steps are being taken toward the cooperation of a score of federal agencies to develop a basic program for health, educational and agricultural facilities.

Preliminary plans call for the dispatch of teams to teach sanitation and improved agricultural practices, and to attack illiteracy and promote manual training.

Other Propects Foreseen

This probably will be followed by a program for irrigation, industrial and farm projects. This is being approached as a long-term idea requiring slow development and the participation of private industry. The immediate projects are similar to ones already developed on a fairly broad scale in Latin-America.

Lessening of American-Arab tension as the conflict over Palestine wanes has also been accompanied by government approval for resumption of work on the 1,000-mile pipelines across Arabia, Trans-Jordan, Syria and Lebanon. During the Jewish-Arab war the project had been held up by the U. S. Steel shortage and the question of whether it was militarily defensible under the circumstances.

Financial Agencies Active

The Export-Import bank and the international Balfor reconstruction and development (the so-called world bank) also are active in the Middle East, surveying possible financing of local projects. The Export-Import bank already is backing copper and chrome concentrating plants in Turkey costing $2,500,000 which are being built under American technical supervision.

Egypt also is starting a program for processing more of her raw materials at home and is likely to be another field for the early application of Truman's "bold new program."

The United States has made it clear that private enterprise must do most of the work, after a program has been developed. It also stresses that local government, not exploitation, is the keynote.

But if political gains and friendship can be produced as a by-product as seems possible in the Middle East, the profits of the program become that much greater.

Three Tech Students Named To Council In Runoff Vote

Roy Trice of Texarkana, Marshall Gettys of Amarillo and Bill Gillespie of Lubbock were the winners of the election runoffs that were held at Tech Thursday, according to Clint Formby, student body president.

Trice will be a representative from the Arts and Science division to the Student council. Gettys will serve with the Engineering representatives on the Council. Gillespie is from Business Administration. The three were elected in a special voting to determine who would serve in the place of students who were graduated at the end of the last term.

Formby said that the three would serve for the rest of the semester only. Students that will hold office next fall will be elected in the regular elections that will be held in April.

Black Fly Claimed Invading New Citrus Area In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25. (U.P.)—The black fly, a tough, voracious fruit pest, has invaded citrus fields in Hidalgo state near Jacala, reports from the region said today.

Hidalgo state officials have sent technicians into the infested area and asked the Ministry of Agriculture for federal aid.

The invasion of Hidalgo state is a new step in the spread of the pest over central and northeastern Mexico.

Meanwhile, as U. S. and Mexican technicians continued studying methods for fighting the black fly, a miner in San Luis Potosi reported that burned sulphur was an effective antidote against the pest.

Reports from the northern city said that sulphur gas resulting from a mine fire "thoroughly cleared surrounding trees of the black fly."

FOE OF CONTROLS — New chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which will act on President Truman's anti-inflation program, is Sen. Burnet R. Maybank, South Carolina Democrat. Maybank, an avowed foe of price controls, says he doesn't believe controls, even on a "standby" basis, will be needed this year.

Man Convicted Of Liquor Law Violation Requests New Trial

A new trial motion was filed Friday afternoon by Charles W. Spencer, 38, of 307 Ave. M, who late Thursday was convicted of liquor law violation by a county court jury that recommended punishment at a fine of $100 and imprisonment in county jail for six months.

Burton S. Burks, of the firm of Burks and McNeil, said in the motion that the verdict and judgment should be set aside and a new trial granted because, among other causes cited, the court had erred in failure to instruct the jury on the presumption of innocense as required in all criminal cases.

Judge Davies said late Friday he had not studied the motion, but would do so today.
