GOP Group Calls For Bold Atom Program

Committee Critics Renew Charges Against Lilienthal, Policies Of AEC

BY ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. — Republican members of the Congressional Atomic committee declared today that the nation must have a "bolder, speedier and more effective" atomic program and sharply criticized David E. Lilienthal and two of his colleagues.

The GOP group charged that Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lilienthal and Commissioners Sumner T. Pike and Lewis Strauss are guilty of "indecision" and have permitted "waste," "inefficiency" and "loose security." The minority report was signed by:

Sen. Hickenlooper (R.-Iowa), author of "incredible mismanagement" charges against Lilienthal; Sen. Millikin (R.-Colo.), Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.), and Reps. Cole (R.-N.Y.), Ellston (R.-Ohio), and Van Zandt (R.-Pa.).

"Correction" Needed

The GOP group declared that President Truman's announcement that Russia has an atomic weapon "emphasizes the necessity for prompt and thorough correction" of AEC weaknesses so that "we can maintain and constantly expand our supremacy in atomic energy."

Hickenlooper's "incredible mismanagement" charge against Lilienthal was not repeated in the minority report, but the Republicans were bitter in their estimate of the atomic program under its present management.

A majority report submitted to Mr. Truman last week by Committee Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) exonerated Lilienthal and gave the entire commission a clean bill of health.

The GOP report alleged:

1. Atomic security "has been so loosely administered in violation of law that widespread opportunity has been provided for infiltration of subversives and for loss of secret information."

"Indecision" Rapped

2. The AEC aproach to the problem of adding to the nation's reserve of atomic materials has been "leisurely" and marked by "indecision."

3. The AEC in many instances has "failed to maintain adequate supervision" over area managers and contract operators and "this has importantly and adversely affected the security of the program and resulted in considerable waste of public money."

In discussing the security charge, the Republicans said the commission would have exchanged atomic information with certain other countries other than those who received shipments of isotopes. It

Union Leaders To Face Probe

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. — The Justice department today launched an investigation of non-Communist affidavits filed by 13 officials of the CIO United Electrical Workers union, including two men who have been identified as Communists before congressional committees.

A Justice department spokesman said that the inquiry will be pressed with a "view to possible prosecution."

Among the UEW officials who filed the affidavits with the National Labor Relations board were Julius Emspak, described in congressional testimony as "Comrade Juniper," to Communist "labor-union commisar" in the U. S., and James J. Matles, labeled an "old-time Communist."

Declared Communist

J. B. Matthews, former chief investigator for the House un-American Activities committee, told a House Labor subcommittee last year that "by any reasonable definition, Emspak is clearly a Communist."

Matthew. testified at the same time that Matles was Emspak's "only rival for complete power" in the UEW, and a Communist of long standing.

The un-American activities committee, in a report issued Dec. 23, 1948, called Emspak and Matles "Communist officers" of the UEW. As recently as last August, a former Communist official told the committee that Matles was a

Loss Heavy In Hobbs Fire

(Special To The Avalanche)

HOBBS, N. M., Oct. 24 — Damages estimated at $25,000 to $30,000 were caused here today when a spectacular explosion and fire destroyed the Hobbs Union Bus station along with two passenger buses.

The buildings and buses were the property of the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Bus lines company, with headquarters in Lubbock.

R. C. Bennett of Hobbs, said he was in the station waiting room when he heard an explosion at 10:40 a. m., the International News Service said.

The fire followed immediately, with flames shooting 40 feet into the air from the garage section of the terminal.

Cause Not Determined

Hurley Carpenter, assistant general manager of the TN&MO lines in Lubbock, said here tonight that it had not been determined what caused the explosion and resulting fire.

Some reports indicated that natural gas rather than gasoline caused the original blast, possibly set of by an electric spark.

Carpenter, who came to Hobbs upon being notified of the fire, tonight said that the company was seeking a new temporary bus stop until new facilities could be arranged.

New Stop Planned

A new stop in Hobbs will be announced, possibly Tuesday, he said.

Carpenter gave the estimate of $25,000 to $30,000 loss in the blast and fire.

He said that the two buses destroyed included a 25 passenger and 29 passenger vehicle of the type used on the TN&MO lines throughout the area, although not as large as those used on some routes.

Carpenter said that the fire was entirely accidental.

Government Halts Steel Strike Talks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. (AP)—Steel industry men said tonight they have been informed the government has suspended strike peace talks in New York with U. S. Steel Corp., officials.

These sources said the peace talks evidentally had gotten nowhere and Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation service director, had decided to call them off for the time being. Ching was reported en route back to Washington.

This raised a possibility that Ching next day may turn his attention to the coal strike dispute in an effort to break that stalemate. He has been concentrating on the steel deadlock for more than a week.

TO DISCONTINUE TRAINS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24. (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad today announced it will discontinue operation of 103 steam-hauled passenger trains, effective tomorrow night, because of dwindling coal supplies.

UN Cornerstone Rites Called Act Of Faith

HST Pledges Effort To Outlaw A-Bomb

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. — President Truman pledged American support today to any safe and effective plan to outlaw the atomic bomb.

"To assure that atomic energy will be devoted to man's welfare and not to his destruction is a continuing challenge to all nations and all peoples," he declared.

The President spoke at the United Nations cornerstone laying for its permanent headquarters.

He called the cornerstone rites "an act of faith — our unshakeable faith that the United Nations will succeed."

He addressed 16,000 persons at a flag-decked dead end of 42nd street on the East river.

About 750,000 New Yorkers lined Fifth avenue as he motored to the site.

Control Declared Necessary

Mr. Truman said control of weapons is a requisite to a peaceful world.

"Ever since the first atomic bomb was developed," he said, "a major objective of United States policy has been a system of international control of atomic energy that would assure effective prohibition of atomic weapons, and at the same time would promote the peaceful use of atomic energy by all nations."

He revealed work of the deadlocked UN Atomic Energy commission and endorsed again the Bernard M. Baruch plan that won majority approval but was rejected by Russia.

"Plan That Can Work"

"This is a good plan," he said. "It is a plan that can work and, more important, it is a plan that can be effective in accomplishing its purpose. It is the only plan so far developed that would meet the technical requirements of control, that would make prohibition of atomic weapons effective, and at the same time promote the peaceful development of atomic energy on a co-operative basis.

"We support this plan and will continue to support it unless and until a better and more effective plan is put forward."

The chief point of disagreement between the western powers and Russia on control of atomic energy has been the insistence of the West on an effective means of inspection to ensure that nations

Soviet Jet Planes Believed Capable Of Carrying A-Bomb

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 24. — Jane's "All the World's Aircraft" today reported Soviet Russia is building eight types of jet planes with two believed capable of lugging an atom bomb.

The 1949-50 edition of the recognized authority on military and civil aviation said the Soviet planes which may be able to carry the bomb are the German-designed Junkers 287 and the Russian Ilyushin medium bomber.

Both are four-jet planes of medium range and carrying capacity.

Mahon Tosses Chill On Carrier

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—(INS)—The congressman who holds the purse strings over House Armed Services expenditures threw a chill today over the Navy's renewed drive for a supercarrier which could launch bombers capable of delivering the atomic bomb.

Chairman George Mahon (D) Tex., of the House Armed Services appropriations sub-committee, said today that as far as he is concerned the question of the super-carrier is a "dead issue."

The carrier issue is expected, however, to be one of the first defense battlefields of the next session of congress.

Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., of the house armed services committe, has proposed a program which would make the super-carrier mandatory under special legislation.

Mahon, whose committe provides annual funds for the Army, Navy and Air Force, was asked for his views after strong support for construction of a super-carrier arose in the House Armed Services committee during its defense policy hearings. Mahon asserted:

"I consider that is a bridge that we have already crossed. I am willing to abide by the decision of the Joint Chiefs of Staff al-

Britain Gets Austere Plan For More Production, Less Spending

By GLENN WILLIAMS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 24—Prime Minister Clement Attlee tacked a 14-cent fee onto Britain's socialized medical service today as part of an economy program to save the government 280,000,000 pounds ($784,000,000) a year.

To pull the nation out of its economic spin, the prime minister also ordered a $400,000,000 cut in dollar imports.

In terse, dry tones of austerity, Attlee presented to parliament the Labor government's scheme for preventing inflation that might result from devaluation of the pound.

"We must reduce expenditure and increase production," Attlee told the House of Commons. The program he offered lopped off spending for national defense, capital investments, public relations and food subsidies.

Later in a radio fireside chat to the British people the prime minister declared the nation is "not yet going flat out in this fight for recovery." He called for more effort, more production, cheaper

Chief To Plead For Harmony

BY GLENN M. GREEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. — Gen. Omar Bradley will call the joint chiefs of staff into session Tuesday with an urgent plea for co-operation and a determination to forget bitter personal differences.

Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, spent today in concentrated preparation for the first meeting of the Army, Navy and Air Force commanders since the acrimonious congressional investigation of defense policies.

A spokesman for Bradley said: "The general is ready to go back to work and he expects the Army, Navy and Air Force chiefs to feel the same way."

To State Policy

It was learned that Bradley will tell Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief:

The outcome of the Navy-Air Force controversy now rests with Defense Secretary Johnson and President Truman; the top military leadership must get busy with vital preparedness problems.

Bradley's aides said he will make it clear to Denfeld that he holds no animosity toward the admiral, whom the JCS chairman singled out for criticism in testimony before the House Armed Services committee.

Likewise, the aides declared, Bradley will make it plain that he was not aiming directly at naval officers when he spoke scathingly of "fancy dans" who refuse to give their best efforts under unification of the armed forces.

The general's biting remark was said to have been directed at officers of any of the military services who oppose full unification.

Moreover, Bradley was pictured as being unwilling to make any move for ouster of Denfeld, who charged that present unification policies are worse than no unification at all.

High officers said Bradley believes that any decision as to the fate of "rebellious" admirals must be left up to the President and Johnson without any recommen-

National Guard Attacks Policies

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 24 (INS)—The Air Force and Defense department were accused today of trying to get rid of the Air National Guard and in other ways "hamstring" the country's National Guard.

The attack came at the 71st annual conference of the U. S. National Guard association which opened today in Montgomery.

Maj. Gen Ellard A. Walsh of Minnesota, president of the association, bitterly assailed the move to abolish the Air Guard. He told the 2,000 delegates:

Intend To Stay

"The National Guard has no intention of being read out of the party to which it has belonged for these many years and to which it has contributed so much. The National Guard was here first and here we intend to stay."

In a hurried reply to the attacks on the Air Force, Assistant Secretary for Air Harold C. Stuart declared that he believed if Air Secretary Symington and Air Chief of Staff Vandenberg find it necessary to federalize the Air National Guard in the interest of national defense, that "you are just as much for it as they or I would be." He added:

"Anything at anytime that we ever would advocate would be what, in our opinion, was for national defense."

Former Delta County Sheriff Sentenced For Murder Of Girl

GREENVILLE, Oct. 24—(AP)—Former Delta county Sheriff Nolan Maynard was found guilty tonight of murder in the death of Miss Dorothy Palmer of Cooper.

The jury assessed Maynard a five-year prison term.

Miss Palmer was shot to death on May 26, 1948. Maynard testified Saturday she shot herself with his pistol as they rode in his car between Cooper and Sulphur Springs.

The jury received the case shortly before 7 p.m. and returned its verdict shortly after 10 p.m.

Chief Counsel W. H. Crunk said he would file a motion for a new trial. If that is denied, he will appeal, Crunk said.

Chest Campaign To Be Speeded Today

Today is the big day in Lubbock's 1950 Community Chest drive, Earl Kerr, Chest manager, said last night.

"Although contributions have been slow and our total collected to date is only $13,600, today is the day we have been aiming for in our drive," he revealed. "Team captains will be contacted to speed up the campaign and workers will collect from many business firms that have completed solicitations."

While the campaign, which started last Tuesday and Wednesday, has fallen as yet much too far from the set $98,850 goal it is running just about like last year's drive in the elapse of time, Kerr said.

Workers and contributors were urged to "get on the ball" today by General Chairman J. Ray Dickey. "We had hoped to get at least 50 per cent of the goal reported by the close of the first week of solicitations in the drive," he said, "but we will have to have more action."

None of the teams in the drive thus far have made a complete report on the lists and districts assigned to them.

Michigan Farmer Wounds Nine Persons, Fatally Shoots Self

(By International News Service)

WATERFORD, Mich., Oct. 24.—A shotgun wielding Oakland county farmer wounded nine persons, two critically and then killed himself tonight in a wild, apparently unprovoked shooting spree on a Waterford street.

He took leisurely aim at a hotel window and fired, then in rapid succession sent a volley of blasts into the lobby before he turned and fired repeatedly into a tavern across the street, heedless of a priest's pleading to stop.

State police identified the assailant as Joseph Runyon, a somewhat mysterious chicken rancher known to Waterford residents only as "Joe the farmer."

The two critically injured victims are Mrs. Irene Zurowski and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Psciuk.

The other injured:

Stanley Zurowski, 28, owner of a bar through which several shots were fired and husband of Irene; Harold Meston, 28; Dale Alm, 28; Howard

Murray Discloses Plan To Set Up Strike 'War Chest'

BY HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, Oct. 24. — CIO President Philip Murray disclosed moves today to set up a huge CIO war chest at next week's convention to help the steelworkers in their strike for free pensions and insurance.

Murray said there was "a good deal of talk" among sister unions in advance of the annual conclave about creating a strike kitty. He said it was certain that the convention, starting next Monday, will act on a resolution dealing with the strike.

Of the 24-day-old strike by 558,000 workers against steel-making and steel fabricating companies, Murray said they would continue on strike indefinitely, and that he did not know what plans either President Truman or Conciliation Director Cyrus S. Ching may have for settling the strike.

No government representatives have been in touch with him since the strike began Oct. 1, the CIO leader told a news conference.

Murray hinted that when negotiations with the steel companies resume the original 12 1-2 cent hourly pay increase demand may be reinstated. He said the six-cent and four-cent hourly allowance for company-financed pensions and insurance would remain unchanged. But, he told reporters:

"I have no idea what will happen when we get into negotiations."

At the news conference following a pre-convention session with his vice presidents, Murray indicated he plans to purge the CIO of leaders who refuse to go along with general anti-Communist policy. He said he was standing on his executive board's policy declaration of last May.

That declaration, adopted 33 to 11, called for the resignation of any of its 51 members who did not carry out convention action —

Met Star, Lubbock Orchestra Receive Ovation At Concert

By MARGARET TURNER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lubbock Symphony orchestra played a well rounded concert to a near capacity house to open the 1949-50 season Monday night at Senior High school auditorium, starring Met baritone Leonard Warren, renowned in both opera and concert halls, as guest artist. There will be a repeat performance tonight at the auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Warren, whose voice is phenomenal, sang with such beauty and power that he received a wild ovation before intermission and by the time the program ended he had the audience clamoring for encore after encore, piano accompaniment for which was played by Willard Sektberg, an unusually dexterous musician.

Carrying out his promise to fit the concert programs to appeal to a cross section of the area, Conductor William A. Harrod alternated the symphonic selections with easily recognized classics. The program opened with Overture from "Abu Hassan" (Weber) and closed, unconventionally enough, with "Chicken Reel," being immediately preceded by "Overture from South Pacific" (Rodgers - Hammerstein).

Harrod, as usual, handled the baton with complete lack of strain and affectation. In "Andante" (Tschaikowsky) he allowed melodies and the slower episodes to take their time, letting their eloquence and songfulness come to full bloom. In Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" the sharper sequences often had explosive

Crews Clear Tracks For First M-P Train

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24—(AP)—Crews were clearing the tracks tonight for the first Missouri Pacific train to run in 46 days.

The train, freight, was scheduled to leave Texarkana, Ark., at 9 p.m. (CST) for a run to Little Rock.

When it steams out, it will formally mark the end of the longest—and probably the costliest—strike ever conducted against a major railroad in the United States

The Missouri Pacific, a 10-state 7,200-mile network, has been tied up by a strike of engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors.

Settlement came last night. The operating crews started back to work at 10 a.m. (CST) today.

The public has not been told what the strikers got out of the settlement. It was learned, however, that 219 of their 282 claims have been resolved.

The remaining 63 cases will be submitted to arbitration.

Applications For 6,000 Tickets For Lubbock-Odessa Tilt Made

TIMES were when not more than a couple of hundred or so ardent fans would travel 160 miles to see their high school football team perform, but these are not ordinary times—at least in Lubbock.

By 2 p. m. Monday, when he and seven assistants took time off from a flurry of incoming phone calls and personal visits that started at 6:30 a. m. that morning, the total number of applications for tickets stood, to his surprise, at more than 6,000!

Arriving at his office at 6:30 a. m., Lowrey was met by two men, anxious for reservations, the telephone already was ringing After answering the phone he turned to accept the two reservations, then answered his phone again. By the time he finished the second telephone conversation

Near Freezing Forecast Here

WHILE torrential rains pounded a wide section of Texas Monday, flooding many streams and causing at least one death, cooler weather moved in over the Panhandle and South Plains to send the mercury skidding, with a possibility of near freezing readings this morning and again Wednesday.

Heavy rain clouds, which had dumped from a quarter to more than an inch of moisture over most of the South Plains Sunday and early Monday, were dispelled by the cool front which moved into the area Monday and only partly cloudy conditions were forecast for today.

Frost Possible

However, with the arrival of the new front came a forecast for a low of 34 to 36 degrees this morning, and the possibility of light frost, the Weather Bureau station said early today. A reading of 32 degrees with an outside chance of a killing frost was seen for Wednesday morning, the Weatherman said. A fog blanket, moving in about 12:30 a.m. may keep frost away today, he added.

The mercury managed to get no higher than a chilly 49 degrees Monday with the low pegged at 40. A high of around 50 is forecast for today.

Meanwhile, the heavy rains which have pounded the state for the past 48 hours continued at several points late last night, the Associated Press said.

Two Men Feared Drowned

Two men vanished in a swollen creek at San Antonio and were believed drowned. Some 20 families on the west side of San Antonio were driven from their homes by flood waters.

Cotton at downstate points took a beating. Highways were blocked in some areas. South Plains cotton, although slowed in harvesting, was not believed to be hurt materially by the rain.

The Trinity river passed flood stages at Dallas Monday night. Flood warnings were issued from Dallas to the river's headwaters. The South Concho was rampaging near San Angelo, the Associated Press said.

Rain was still falling Monday night at Lufkin, Bryan, Waco, Dallas, Victoria, Palacios, Wichita Falls, Abilene and Austin. The weather bureau said the rains

Lubbock Man Is Held After Crash

A 31-year-old Lubbock man was being held in county jail Monday night charged on three counts after a head-on collision between a semi-trailer truck and a panel truck about 3 p. m. at Forty-seventh street on the Slaton highway southeast of Lubbock. None was injured.

Wayne Hamilton Edwards, jr., of the 1200 block Ninth street, was charged in county court with drunken driving and in justice of the peace court with leaving the scene of an accident without giving information and with driving on the left side of a public highway.

The semi-trailer truck driven by Edwards, going toward Slaton, collided with a 1947 Chevrolet panel truck driven by Arthur E. Hill, 32, of 1624 Eighteenth street.

The Highway patrol officer investigating the mishap said Hill was a salesman for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company. The patrolman said Edwards was picked up by Lubbock police at a cafe after a radio message.

Damage to the panel truck was estimated at $500, and about $100 on the semi-trailer, a 1947 International. The Highway patrol said it was trying to locate the owner of the truck driven by Edwards.

In another department of law enforcement, Lubbock police arrested 12 women Monday night on warrants charging vagrancy by

Television Seen As Holding Key To Future Of Movie Industry

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 24. (INS)—A top spokesman for the nation's movie exhibitors today welcomed the help of an alleged enemy—television—in the fight against a threat to the movie industry's business.

Gael Sullivan, executive director of the Theater Association of America, told International News Service that the exhibitors see the "handwriting on the screen" unless rapid action is taken on five danger spots.

Cooperation Urged

He said cooperation with television and the use of TV as an advertising medium may help out.

The onetime chairman of the Democratic National committee is in Charlotte for a meeting of the North and South Carolina branches of his organization. He said that the film industry's weekly mark of 90 million admissions is in danger of a significant drop unless immediate action is taken on these vital needs:

1. Better movies.
2. Finer theaters.
3. Relief from taxation, especially the 20 per cent luxury tax.
4. An effective "tie-in" with TV.
5. Elimination of censorship which "mangles" motion pictures.

Mass Appeal Threatened

Sullivan said that proof the movies have provided great mass appeal up to now is the fact that the motion picture industry takes 74 cents of each dollar spent on amusements in the United States.

But he warned that the theater owners are facing a narrowing of their profit margin and may have to curtail some extra services. In line with this, he said, is the industrys objection to the luxury tax. Sullivan asserted:

"Theaters are no luxury. Ninety million Americans go to theaters every week—that shouldn't come under a luxury classification."

Movie industry leaders, Sullivan explained, believe that TV may help business the same way radio did, by making the public more conscious of stars.

Sullivan said he was optimistic that the Federal Communications commission will grant special channels for use of large screen television in theaters.

Sullivan continued:

"We are looking for development of exclusive programming of sports and other day-to-day events on our screens. The industry is also working on television trailers in order to advertise our attractions over video."

New Charges To Be Filed At Whiteface

LEVELLAND, Oct. 24. (Special)—New charges were prepared today for filing Tuesday against Leo Nichols, 37, already charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting which resulted in the death of his wife, 28.

Sheriff H. D. Crockett of Cochran county said he swore out the new complaint at Morton before E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney. The complaint will be filed Tuesday with Justice of the Peace H. B. Robbins of Whiteface, Crockett said.

Nichols remained in county jail here in lieu of $20,000 bail set by Robbins on the assault charge. Mrs. Nichols died in Phillips-Dupre hospital here Saturday night after being shot once in the chest at her farm home near Whiteface on Oct. 14.

Graveside services for Mrs. Nichols will be held in Muleshoe at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Condition Of Injured Seminole Oil Field Worker 'Improved'

LEVELLAND, Oct. 24. (Spl.)—The condition of Sherille Dearing 27-year-old Seminole oil field worker who suffered a broken back in an accident near here Thursday, was "much improved" early tonight, attendants at Phillips-Dupre hospital announced.

Dearing suffered a triple fracture of the spine when a "doghouse," a heavy utility shack, fell on him during an oil rig stacking operation in a nearby oil field.

Early Lamesa Coal Shortage Ended By Action Of C-C Head

LAMESA, Oct. 24. (Special) Cold, damp weather and a temporary shortage of coal posed another threat to cotton farmers in the Lamesa area today, but quick action by Mrs. Matt McCall, manager of the chamber of commerce, has the situation under control.

The problem arose when a farmer in the area complained to the chamber of commerce that his Mexican pickers were threatening to quit because they were unable to get coal to heat their dwellings.

Mrs. McCall explained that the Lamesa firm, which heretofore has stocked coal to sell to transient workers, had decided to discontinue handling it.

She called A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock chamber, who referred her to the G. F. Hill Supply company. A load of coal was sent from Hill to the Barnett & Ayres Seed company of Lamesa, which has promised to handle the fuel for the Lamesa area.

Hill said that there was no apparent shortage of coal supplies for the South Plains, but pointed out that the early cold spell had created a demand for fuel which had not been foreseen. The greater percentage of coal demand comes from transient workers, he added, and oftimes the cotton crop is harvested and the workers gone before cold weather sets in.

West Texas School Group To Meet At Lamesa Wednesday

LAMESA, Oct., 24 (Special)—The West Texas Association of School Administrators will meet here Wednesday for a dinner program and fellowship hour, Joe C. Hutchinson, superintendent of the Littlefield schools and president of the association, has announced.

The dinner program will start at 8 p. m. in the Lamesa High school cafeteria.

Officers of the association are: Hutchinson, president; Sam Davis, Ralls superintendent, vice president; and C. E. Massey, Midland, secretary-treasurer.

Tech Selected For Counselors Meeting

The 1951 meeting of the Texas Association of Deans and Counselors of men will be held on the Texas Tech campus, Dean of Men James G. Allen announced Monday after returning from this year's session at Texas A. and M.

Dean Allen spoke at this fall's meeting, outlining results after one year of the college's dormitory counseling program. Many of the other schools represented at the meet plan to send representatives here to study the plan, he said.

Tech made its bid for the 1951 convention because it hopes to have its present building program complete by that time, including the construction of several new buildings. Next year's conference will be held jointly by Trinity and St. Mary universities in San Antonio.

The counseling program which Dean Allen outlined to the delegates is one by which students living in college dormitories are provided guidance and help by a fellow student whenever their grades or other phase of college life falls below average.

Meet Bill Freeman—Another "Do-it-yourself" American

Made his ideas add up!

No convincing William E. Freeman of Atlanta, Georgia, that a shop helper can't make himself new opportunities—today especially! Even with time out for three years' Navy duty in the war, Freeman worked up from truck repairman in 1939 to a supervisor's job with H. W. Lay Co. in 1946. He kept a sharp eye out for opportunities for plant improvements. And he made his ideas work! Without a high school diploma, he taught himself about machine layout, processing, packaging. For Freeman it all added up to a key executive's spot. Today at 37, he's plant engineer... and he got there on his own!

☆ It's the American Spirit!

BILL FREEMAN would be the first to tell you he's no exception; you'll find folks like him on every Main Street in the country. Folks who today are opening up "new frontiers" for themselves in the American "do-it-yourself" spirit. They're making their own energy and ideas add up to a better life for themselves and their families—and for America!

An example of the strength of this do-it-yourself spirit is all around you: 78 million Americans, wanting to take care of their own on their own, are providing for their wives and children through life insurance. Their life insurance serves another way, as well. It indirectly makes opportunities for more jobs, for better schools and highways . . . for better living. These opportunities come from life insurance dollars invested in industry and government, in homes and on farms.

Since life insurance does so much for so many, more and more people turn to it every year. While life insurance must grow to meet their needs, the business remains a personal business, too. For each of the country's 150,000 trained life insurance agents gives his individual service to the men and women in his community. These Agents represent 584 individual life insurance companies, each one competing actively to help Americans help themselves!

It's a Fact...

It's a fact that the earnings on life insurance assets are of direct financial importance to every policyholder... because:

- The premiums you pay do not cover all the costs of insuring you.
- Income earned by the investment of life insurance assets pays part of the cost. Out of each dollar of total income of all life insurance companies, about 80¢ now comes from premiums and about 20¢ from investment earnings.
- If the rate of interest available on prudent investments were higher, the cost of life insurance to you could be lower.

Life insurance is a service! Your agent is trained to help you use it most effectively. The Institute of Life Insurance—central source of information—60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

125 TEACHERS ARE EXPECTED TO ATTEND

Final Plans Are Mapped For District IV English Workshop Conference Here Friday And Saturday

Final preparations are being made for the second annual District IV English Workshop conference, which is to be held at Lubbock Senior High school Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, according to announcement Monday by Miss Glenys Honey, program chairman.

Attendance at the workshop-conference is open to all English departments in junior and senior high schools and colleges within District IV of the Texas State Teachers association.

More than 125 teachers of English in this district are expected to attend the two-day meeting, representing 38 or more English departments of junior and senior high schools and colleges in District IV.

The meeting will get underway at 2 p.m. Friday. The first session will continue until 5 p.m. A dinner meeting is planned for 7:30 p.m. Friday, and the Saturday morning sessions will get underway at 9 a.m. and continue until 12 noon.

Topics to be taken up at sessions of the workshop-conference are How to Improve Reading Comprehension, How to Increase the Quantity and Improve the Quality of Students' Reading, and How to Evaluate Reading Material.

Discussion leaders are being selected who will present the point of view of junior and senior high school and college teachers and of other educators concerned with the problems of reading, Miss Honey said.

A membership fee of $2 for each participating English department in District IV will be charged. Payment of this fee by the school or department enables each English teacher in the department enrolled to attend and to participate in the sessions of the workshop-conference. Advance payment of this fee is urged. Payment may be made to Miss Quanah Lewis, Department of English, Texas Tech.

The aim of the workshop-conference committee is to have full representation of the English teachers of the area at each of the three sessions of the conference. If it is not possible for all teachers to attend, English departments are urged to send at least one representative to participate actively in the sessions.

Part Of State-Wide Program

The District IV workshop-conference is a part of the statewide program of the Texas State Teachers association and the Texas Conference of College Teachers of English. It is directed toward the coordination and improvement of the teaching of English in Texas.

The program was initiated in 1945. Workshop conferences were held throughout the state last fall. The District IV meeting was held in Lubbock and was attended by more than 120 teachers representing the majority of the English departments in junior and senior high schools and colleges in this area.

Members of the workshop-conference committee for District IV are as follows:

Alan M. F. Gunn, Texas Tech, general chairman; Miss Honey, Lubbock Senior High school, program chairman; Miss Quanah Lewis, Texas Tech, secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the executive committee are Mrs. Nils Akeson, Plainview Senior High school; Mrs. J. B. Caldwell, Slaton High school; Mrs. V. B. Hall, Howard County Junior college, Big Spring; Miss Irene Armes, Lubbock Senior High school; and Miss Anne Louise Jones, Odessa City schools.

The full membership of the District IV committee is as follows:

Teal, Mrs. B. H. Warren, Miss Irene Armes, Mrs. J. W. Burleson, Mrs. Louise Hair, Mrs. Lois Keeton, Kline Nall, Mrs. Suttle Pursell, and Mrs. Charles Stewart.

West Texas C-C Warned Against Boosting Federal Water Control

MIDLAND, Oct. 24—(AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce was cautioned today against going all-out in favor of the federal government taking over Texas' water situation.

William L. Kerr, Midland attorney and counsel for the Red Bluff water control district, said the Red Bluff district is against delivery of its water supplies into the hands of the department of the interior.

Kerr made the statements in a letter to Paul McHargue and James N. Allison who last week were reelected as Midland directors in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

McHargue and Allison said Kerr's letter has been referred to John Mitchell, president of the WTCC. Both said the WTCC proposed water program must be studied carefully before it finally is acted upon. Neither of the Midland men are members of the WTCC executive board which has developed the program.

J. A. Krug, secretary of the Department of the interior, will address the annual meeting of the WTCC in Fort Worth, Nov. 22. The session will climax the organization's activities last year in seeking to provide and protect domestic water rights of West Texas.

No Bond Is Set For Hawkins In Illinois

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., Oct. 24. (AP)—Lenard (Lucky) Hawkins, who was arrested at Dalhart, Texas, Oct. 17, is being held here without bond on a murder charge in the slaying of Albert E. Clark, 23, Roise City, Okla.

A preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 1.

Clark's body, a bullet wound in the head, was found beside a lonely road Oct. 12.

In a statement, officers said Hawkins asserted Clark was killed by his own gun during a quarrel over a woman hitchhiker.

Hawkins, 34, was quoted as saying he and Clark and the woman, known only as "Mildred," were in Clark's car when a quarrel developed. Clark threatened him, Hawkins' statement said, and during the struggle for the weapon, Clark was shot through the head.

ELUSIVE MOMENTS

WE think one of the reasons people regard autumn as a time of melancholy and sadness is that you can't hold on to it for long. The best things of life are not only free but fleeting. You have a glimpse and they are gone.

You pass by the full blown cotton fields or look at the trees that are already losing their leaves or watch the sunset, tracing its fast-fading color, and you realize the beauty is a miracle and will be taken from you.

Have you ever driven to work on a fresh morning, after eight hours' sleep, and noticed a conjunction of cloud and color, or some sudden combination of objects that smacks you in the eye and for a moment you experience a small ecstasy? Does this go on all of the time? you ask yourself. Am I missing something?

You tingle, you tell yourself it is good to be alive, but soon you are trying to find a parking place, or you start across the street and a fast driven car flings mud on your best nylons and you come down from the plateau to every day. You resume where you left off. Things take on their wonted order. The telephone rings, you take notes on a story, write it and struggle over a headline.

The high moments hide. You cannot get them to come into the open at will. Autumn's fast fading beauty out here is an object lesson in appreciating worth and beauty before it is too late. You make a grab, but you hold only a shred.

SNOOZERS

THE "snoozing" husband, bane of many a wife's existence, may need a change of menu to keep him from dozing after dinner. There is every chance that the way a man eats is making a snoozer out of him, says food expert Victor H. Lindlahr.

Six times out of ten, snoozers who are otherwise in good health, may simply be eating too much. A man stuffed with food has as much ambition as a stuffed owl.

If the man of the house growls at the suggestion of going out, perhaps the wife would like this piece of advice from Lindlahr: Cut down on the heavy foods you feed your husband. Give him more fruits, vegetables and salads. These foods supply the enzymes that turn the heavier food he eats into energy. (Just how one entices a man to eat fruits and vegetables and salads when they demand meat, gravy and potatoes is not explained).

Unique 'Court Of Last Resort' Seeks To Free Innocent Persons Serving Time In U. S. Prisons

BY BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

SHAWNEE - ON - DELAWARE, Oct. 24. — Played golf down here in the autumnal glory of Fred Waring's golf course the other day with a man for whom perhaps thousands of innocent convicts offer a nightly prayer.

He is Raymond Campbell Schindler, the famed private eye. Together with Erle Stanley Gardner, one of the all-time masters of cops-and-robbers literature; Clark Sellers, the greatest living handwriting authority (of Hauptmann case fame); Dr. Lemoyne Snyder, medico-criminologist, and William W. Harper, California physicist and criminal investigator, Ray helps motivate a unique organization known as "The Court of Last Resort."

Seeks Innocent Convicts

The court's role in life is the springing of innocent men and women now serving long terms in the pens of the land.

"From everything we know and suspect, there must be several hundred men and women now serving for life, or most of life, for murders they didn't commit," Schindler, a demarkably industrious man, told us in one of his rare moments of relaxation.

"That may sound like a lot of innocently convicted persons," he went on. "But it's a fair figure, I'm sure. Matter of fact, there must be several thousand now up for murder, armed robbery, and other long-term raps, who are absolutely innocent. Our job is to find them, get the evidence needed to re-open the case, and free them."

Former Warden To Aide

The gentlemen in question, busy men with other jobs to attend to, now have a first class assistant named Tom Smith, former warden of the Washington state pen at Walla Walla and vice president of the Warden's association.

With the backing of Argosy magazine, which has been picking up some of the expenses in connection with this fundamentally altruistic work, Smith now is traveling from coast to coast — in search of innocent men for "The Court of Last Resort" to defend.

It all began over a drink in Nassau, the Bahamas, during the Demarigny trial, where Schindler was retained by the wife of the accused and Gardner was covering for U. S. newspapers. The talk turned to the innocence of Demarigny and the ease with which he might be convicted.

Old Quote Is Remembered

Schindler remembered an old quote from Homer Cummings, having to do with the refusal of many police forces to allow any evidence that does not fit the pattern they hope to put upon a crime. The two men decided then and there that they'd try to do something about it.

They and their associates, working without personal gain, have sprung two men thus far and have another about to be released in a week. The first was an elderly gent named William Keys, who was released from San Quentin last November after serving six years of a 20 year sentence (he was 62) for the "murder" of a neighboring rancher near Riverside, Calif.

The second was Clarence Boggie, who had served 14 years of a life sentence for "murdering" a Spokane saloon keeper. He was pardoned last December 23, went back free, married, got back his old job as a logger, and died of a heart attack shortly afterwards. But he died with his name cleared.

Man Found Innocent

The man about to be sprung is Louis Gross, who has served 16 years in the Michigan state prison at Jackson. The "Court of Last Resort" discovered, after months of tedious work, that he did not commit the murder for which he was charged, convicted and sentenced for life.

Schindler was telling me that mistakes are inevitable in the annals of jurisprudence. There are more than 200,000 Americans in prison today for major crimes against society.

A certain number were put away by overly ambitious prosecutors, blundering cops, scheming witnesses. Most of them were poor, were given inexperienced counsel, could never afford to corral the witnesses or hire the experts needed to acquit them.

"Court" Receives Help

The "court" digs up its innocents in a variety of ways. Gross was spotted by a rabbi; Boggie by an Episcopal chaplain. Curiously, the confirmed and 100 per cent guilty inmates are often of great help. They know when somebody is in with them who is innocent of the crime charged against him, and their testimony has often been helpful.

Schindler would like to see important changes made in the state laws concerning the defense of penniless, or needy, persons accused of major crimes. If, for instance, a major crime is committed on government property, the government will give the accused a wealth of help, legal and expert.

But most states give him nothing . . . and each year sees completely innocent men and women sent away to shocking servitude for crimes they could not and did not commit, simply because they lacked a friend of the nobility and perseverance of a Schindler . . . Gardner . . . Snyder . . . Harper and the others.

Irish, Army, Oklahoma Lead Nation

Rice Owls Rank Fifth In Voting

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (AP)—Idle Notre Dame still rules the roost as the nation's No. 1 football team according to 84 per cent of the voters in the fourth weekly Associated Press poll.

Despite an open date in the Irish schedule, 120 of the 143 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the balloting put Notre Dame on top for the third straight week. A week ago they received 146 of 179.

Army, on a 63-6 romp over Columbia, strengthened its runnerup position. The Cadets drew 12 first place votes and a flock of seconds and thirds for a point total of 1,218 as compared to Notre Dame's leading 1,387.

Oklahoma, another of the seven major unbeaten, united clubs in the top 10, moved up a peg to third on a 48-0 rout of Nebraska. Ten experts who apparently noted that the Sooners yielded only a net gain of four yards to Nebraska's ground attack, rated them first. They piled up 1,143 points, only 75 behind Army.

Baylor In Tenth

The other first ballot went to Michigan State which finished in 12th position.

Rice ranks fifth and Baylor tenth.

The wave of upsets had a telling effect on the rankings. Minnesota tumbled from third to seventh after dropping from the unbeaten ranks on a 14-7 loss to Michigan.

North Carolina's first setback, to Louisiana State 13-7, dumped the Tar Heels from sixth to 13th. Kentucky, tripped by Southern Methodist, 20-7, fell from seventh to 14th. Pittsburgh's surprising loss to Indiana, 48-14, dropped the Panthers right out of the rankings. Nobody voted for Pitt which was 16th a week ago. Northwestern suffered the same fate after bowing to Iowa.

California picked up added support on its 21-7 win over Washington and took fourth place with 919 points.

After Notre Dame, Army, Oklahoma and California there is a wide gap to fifth-place Rice, 17-15 conquerer of Texas. Rice has 468 points.

Michigan Comes Back

Michigan regained prestige by its victory over Minnesota. The Wolverines fell out of the top 10 for the first time in several years last week but now they're back in sixth position. Despite two defeats, Michigan now is ahead of Minnesota in the rankings.

Cornell, still among the nation's unbeaten after squeaking past Princeton, 14-12, on two points after touchdown, held eighth. Penn moved up five positions from 14th to ninth on its 28-7 victory over Navy and Baylor made the grade in 10th place on its 21-0 shutout of the Texas Aggies.

Michigan, Penn and Baylor are the latest additions to the top ten with North Carolina, Kentucky and Texas dropping to the second ten.

The second ten — 11, Southern Methodist; 12, Michigan State; 13, North Carolina; 14, Kentucky; 15, Southern California; 16, Missouri; 17, Louisiana State; 18, Ohio State; 19, Texas; 20, UCLA.

Junior Rose Bowl Contenders Named

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 24. (AP)—Officials of the Junior Rose Bowl today made public the first rundown on leading contenders for bids to the fourth annual National Junior College Championship game in famed Rose Bowl Dec. 10.

Kilgore (Texas) JC, which played and lost in the inaugural Junior Rose Bowl in 1946, boomed into the spotlight as a leading eastern contender following its victory over previously-unbeaten Tyler last weekend.

Little Rock, Arkansas, and South Georgia JC, Little Sugar Bowl participants last year, are very much in the running to come west, Art Hannifin, game chairman, announced. Burlington, Iowa, and McNeese, Lake Charles, La., are a pair of unbeaten and high scoring elevens.

FISHERMAN CATCHES GOOSE

CLEAR LAKE, Ia., Oct. 24. (AP) Don Hovey of Des Moines found the fishing extraordinarily good this year. Boat fishing on Clear Lake with Leonard Wagner, Hovey cast a plug and snagged a 4½-pound blue goose in the wing. He boated his catch.

Large Crowd Hears Pattison And Morgan At Quarterback Meet

Golden Sandstorm 'Jinx' Dispelled

An enthusiastic overflow crowd of over 500 persons heard two of Lubbock's winning football coaches and Davey O'Brien, former Texas Christian and Philadelphia Eagle star, speak at the weekly meeting of the Quarterback club in the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel.

Coach C. R. Pattison, Lubbock High school coach, received a deafening ovation as he came forward to tell about the Westerners' 47-7 rout of Amarillo.

"I know that all of you feel good about that victory," Coach Pattison declared, "but I feel as good about it as all of you put together!"

"Jinx" Is Punctured

Coach Pattison gave credit for the victory to the boys entirely. He said that he had told the boys a long time ago that they had to get over any question of inability in their own minds and also to forget about any so-called jinx.

He thought that they had done an excellent job of both. "I don't believe any Lubbock team ever will walk on a football field again and lose the game because of a jinx," Coach Pattison stated. "If a Lubbock team loses, it will be because either they were overconfident, or else lack of ability on their part."

The Westerner mentor related how he had met with a group of the players last January and outlined a list of objectives for them to keep ahead of them. One of those objectives has been accomplished and the other two, he declared, were nobody's business but the boys.

Scouts Praised

Discussing the game further, Coach Pattison said that he wanted to remember the game as a perfect one. "Not that the kids didn't make mistakes," he asserted. "They did. But they had so many good points to offset them that they more than nullified the few errors. And the big thing is that they accomplished what they set out to do."

The Lubbock coach also praised the work of the scouts, who had done such a fine job on Amarillo plays, but his biggest praise was for the boys, all of the squad, who did such a grand job.

Coach Dell Morgan, whose Texas Tech Red Raiders beat Arizona 27-7, opened his talk by praising the Westerners. "Nothing that has happened since I've been in Lubbock pleased me so much as that victory Saturday night," he declared. "I got to thinking back to the years when so many tried to do what these kids finally did and I thought of all those who had tried. I was right tickled."

Coach Morgan also warned the Westerner players, many of whom were present and introduced, to forget the Sandie game. "You can read all about it after the season is over," he said.

Coach Morgan Unhappy

In regards to the Raider game, Coach Morgan was most unhappy. He declared that it had been a terrible first half and one of the worst exhibitions of football he'd ever seen. He remarked that he had told his squad Tuesday that if they weren't prepared to play better than they had shown in practice, that they'd get whipped.

As it was, Coach Morgan declared that the first half was a battle between inferior players trying to see which could do the most things wrong. "We finally got some of it ironed out in the dressingroom between the halves," he declared. "And things went better the second half."

He briefly discussed the approaching Rice game, mentioning that the Raiders' only hope was that Rice was walking on its heels after beating Texas.

O'Brien, one of the game's greatest forward passers, said that he benefitted from athletics and that "I learned things in athletics I never learned anywhere else." He went on to say that while the coaches wanted to win as much as, if not more than, anyone else, they also instilled something that was more valuable than winning alone.

The diminutive FBI agent, who made a special trip from Dallas for the meeting, said that Lubbock had good teams, both at the high school and at Tech. He knew that, because not only were they doing what the public wanted, they also had fine men at each institution in charge of football. He referred to Coach Fred Taylor of the high school as one of the best ends that TCU ever had and to Coach Allie White of Tech as "the man who carried me for four years."

Pictures of the Amarillo-Lubbock game concluded the program, which was in charge of J. Ray Dickey.

Reserves Go Through Scrimmage

Westerner Varsity Holds Light Workout

A job well done (Lubbock 47, Amarillo 7) was rewarded Monday at Chapman field, and the Westerners went through a short workout in preparation for this week's district opener with Lamesa.

For the first team the drill was light, but the rest of the squad went through a hard, rough scrimmage until each side had scored.

The workout followed a preliminary talk by Coach Pat Pattison, the team then going outside for calisthenics led by Freddy Gray and Douglas Wienke.

LAMESA TICKETS ON SALE
Tickets for this week's Westerner game between Lubbock and Lamesa may be purchased at the athletic office in Lubbock High school through Friday afternoon. Price of reserved seats is $1.50.

After this the number one bunch went through play practices while the two teams scrimmaged.

Both scrimmaging elevens played hard, with the coolness of the day adding fire to the action. Tackling and blocking was vicious, and the backs hit the line with determination.

A strong wind limited the number of passes thrown, and aerials were not effective. Offensive teams could not hold the defenders out of the backfield, and on many occasions would-be passers were dropped for sizable losses.

Halfback Mack Taylor was doing yeoman work, playing on both teams, and the hard-running of Billy Tooke, Don Rawls, Tommy Fisher and Charles McCown was noteworthy.

Fisher broke loose on a 50-yard gallop for the tally that sent the boys to the showers for the day.

Coach Pattison Impressed

An intercepted pass by Tackle Dale Young and 40-yard runback accounted for the other score earlier.

In the line, work was fast and heavy. Curtis Roberts, Sleepy Nelson, Ross Craig, Weldon Cobb, Frank Hill, Deverle Henslee, Bob Newell, Dick Cobb and Delwin Doyle contributed much to the offensive and defensive efforts of the two teams, and at ends Wayne Noland, Dean White, Lydell Ross and Jerry Van Pelt were outstanding.

Coach Pattison was very impressed by the great showing of his charges against the Sandies, and the team itself was bubbling with enthusiasm and pep.

The defeat last week of Lamesa by Pampa is not expected to put the Golden Tornadoes in a good frame of mind for this week's tilt with the Westerners, and the Lamesans are expected to produce a fighting aggregation come Friday night.

Open Season On Lubbock

The loss by the Tornadoes was the first of the season and followed five straight victories, and the team can be counted on to try for an upset over Lubbock.

In West Texas it is now open season on the Lubbock team, boosted to first place in the state poll of sports writers this week, and the remaining games with Lamesa, Odessa, Midland and Brownfield will be battles from the starting whistle, with Lubbock trying to maintain its undefeated position on the top of the pile and the other teams trying to add to their own glory by beating the Westerners.

A harder workout faces the Cowpoke squadmen today, and the remaining two days before Friday will be spent polishing the defensive and offensive games.

TAF Announces Playoff Sites

AUSTIN, Oct. 24. (AP) — The Texas Amateur Athletic Federation today established men's softball and basketball tournaments for church leagues and designated 17 Texas cities for various tournament playoffs.

Establishment of the church tournaments brings statewide competition in a field many cities have already set up locally, TAAF officials pointed out.

Tournaments were awarded as follows: Men's basketball to Lubbock, women's basketball to San Angelo, negro basketball to Austin, track and field to Fort Worth, women's volleyball to Texarkana, swimming to Tyler, boxing to Fort Worth, tennis to Galveson, women's softball to Galveston, boys' softball to Corpus Christi, men's softball to Temple, roque to Dallas, negro softball to Houston, horseshoes to Wichita Falls, men's baseball to San Antonio, junior baseball to Texarkana, badminton to Waco, church men's softball to Waco, and church men's basketball to Dallas.

Soccer was discontinued.

Baseball rules were relaxed somewhat to permit smaller communities to draw players from several smaller nearby communities.

Kramer And Gonzales To Start Net Tour

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (INS) — Loose-limbed Jack Kramer, reigning king of pro tennis, and 1948-49 amateur champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales will begin a two-year span of net competition tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

After Kramer initiates Pancho into the mysteries of the game as played for greenbacks instead of expense vouchers, the pair can look forward to approximately 24 solid months of competition.

The latest grand tour, under direction of Bobby Riggs, is committed to appearances in 100 American cities. Blueprints already are drawn also for a swing through England, France and probably other European countries.

Also by that time, it is expected that either Kramer or his new playmate will be established as the acknowledged superior. Whereupon, the loser can retire to count his money, while the victor embarks on a fresh junket against the newest marvel of the amateur ranks.

At least, that's been the pattern to date. In the present instance, this year's promoter, Riggs, was last year's opponent for Kramer.

Del Baker Accepts Offer To Manage San Diego's Padres

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 24. (INS)—Del Baker, who recently resigned as manager of Sacramento's Pacific Coast baseball team, today accepted an offer to manage the San Diego Padres, another member of the PC circuit.

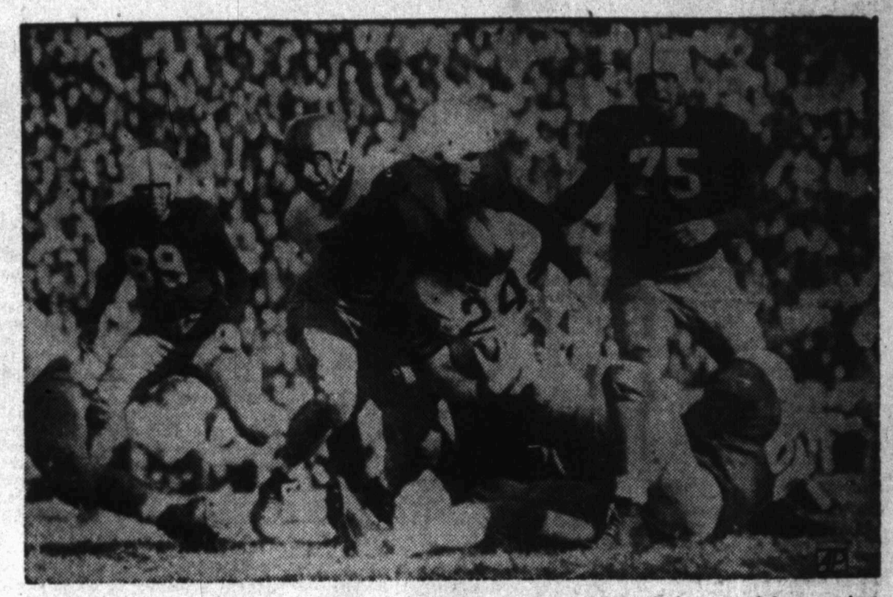

The deal was made in a telephone conversation between Baker and Padre president Bill Starr. Salary was not disclosed and the contract will run for one year.

Baker went to Cleveland as a coach in 1943 after managing Detroit for five years.

He will spend the winter at his home in San Antonio.

TCU FACES BAYLOR

FORT WORTH, Oct. 24. (AP)—The Texas Christian university football squad held a short offensive drill on a wet field today after hearing scout Buster Brannon describe Baylor, next Saturday's opponent, as "By for the best team we've met this year—in fact, the best team we'll play."

VANDERBILT STALLED AND BALKED — MacRobinson, Vanderbilt back, is smeared for no gain on a line play in the game at Nashville, Tenn., between Arkansas and Vanderbilt Saturday. The Razorbacks won the contest 7 to 6. Theron Roberts, Hog tackle, stops Robinson (24). It was one of numerous upsets that occurred Saturday in collegiate football circles.

H-SU, Miners To Clash Saturday

ABILENE, Oct. 24 (Special)—Hardin - Simmons will hope to prove that history doesn't repeat itself when they entertain the Miners of Texas Western in H-SU's own Parramore Stadium Saturday night at 8:00.

Last year the Cowboys and Miners ended up with a 27-27 tie. This year the Pokes have hopes of upsetting the Westerners in order to stay out in front in Border conference play. At the present the two schools are battling it out for the top honors with Texas Tech.

So far this season the Cowboys have defeated three BC teams, Tempe State 43-13, Arizona university 35 to 0, and the University of New Mexico Lobos 34-7.

During the last dozen years that the Cowpokes and Miners have met each other on the gridiron the Abilenians have won eight of the twelve games and tied one.

Head Coach Warren B. Woodson will be starting Wilton (Hook) Davis at the left half slot. Last year Davis was acclaimed an All-Southwest back along with Doak Walker, Lindy Berry, and Clyde Scott. Davis has amassed a total of 395 yards in the first four games.

Last season Davis scampered 1031 yards to rank second in the Border loop, behind Texas Western's Fred Wendt who was the last season's national ground champ.

Seniors who may be playing their last home game for H-SU are Bob and Howard McChesney, Ed and Paul Petty, Raymond Troutman, Strawberry Rowan, Elmer Biddy, Bob Surratt, Paul Frost, and Pat Bailey.

Bob McChesney, Rowan and Bailey are All-Border Conference men. McChesney ranked third in the nation last year in pass receiving and is starting in that direction this year.

Plans for the quarterback club's activities in connection with the Olton homecoming here Friday night with Anton were also discussed at the meeting.

BEARS DRILL INSIDE

WACO, Oct. 24. (AP)—The Baylor Bears ran through a light limbering up drill inside today as wet, cold weather blanketed Waco. The Bears Saturday play Texas Christian university, the only team they will play this season that will not use the T formation. The Frogs work off the single, double wing, and spread formations.

Heavy Rain Keeps Texas Aggies From Preparing For Arkansas

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 24. (AP)—Rains today kept the Texas Aggies from starting preparations for their next game against the University of Arkansas.

Co-Capt. Bobby Goff, right halfback who was used sparingly against Baylor because of a knee injury, may be kept out of this week's game. The Aggies received nothing more serious than the usual run of bumps and bruises in the Baylor game.

Berry Leads SWC In Total Offense

DALLAS, Oct. 24. (AP)— Lindy Berry, Texas Christian's perpetual motion man, has gone over 1,100 yards in total offense this year. He's so far ahead in two departments of Southwest Conference football statistics there is no contest.

Figures released today by James H. Stewart, Conference executive secretary, show the TCU quarterback to have rolled up 1,163 yards on 211 plays. Second in the Conference in total offense is Paul Campbell, Texas quarterback with 803 yards on 121 plays.

Berry leads in passing with an amazing 1,032 yards in six games, having completed 75 out of 142. And he has passed for eight touchdowns. Second is Campbell with 55 out of 105 for 881 yards and four touchdowns. Adrian Burk of Baylor is third with 58 out of 89 for 677 yards and eight touchdowns.

Bob Smith, Texas Aggie full back, moved back into first place in ball-carrying, running his total to 410 yards in 86 runs. This was made in six games. Leon Campbell, Arkansas fullback, didn't play last week, thus lost the leadership. Campbell has 384 yards on 44 runs. He has played in only three games. Gordon Wyatt of Rice is third with 376 yards on 65 carries.

In pass-receiving, Morris Bailey of Texas Christian is far in front. He has taken 28 throws for 412 yards and three touchdowns. Second in the number caught is J. D. Ison of Baylor, who has gathered in 24, but Ben Procter of Texas is second in yardage, snaring 21 for 373. Ison's yardage is 260.

Kyle Rote of Southerno Methodist has the great average of 49.6 yards in punting. It was made in last Saturday's game against Kentucky. Rote kicked six times. Dan Wilde of Texas Christian is second with 39.1 on 18 boots. Doak Walker of Southern Methodist is third with 38.6 on 11 kicks.

In punt returns, Wilde tops with an average of 25.2 on five runs. Rex Proctor of Rice is second with 20.2 on seven and Berry is third with 18.6 on 11.

Texas leads in team offense with 2,466 yards in six games — an average of 411. Rice is second with 344 average in five games. Texas also is the defensive leader with 218 yards average. Baylor is second, giving up 220 per game.

Irish, Tulane Will Break Off Relations

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 24. (AP)— Tulane university will break off football relations with Notre Dame after the 1950 game, the university reported here today.

Horace Renegar, director of public relations at Tulane, said "schedule consideration precludes continuing the Tulane-Notre Dame football series beyond the present contract of 1950."

Norte Dame will play Tulane in New Orleans on Oct. 14, 1950 as the final game under the existing contract.

Notre Dame handed Tulane a 46-7 defeat this year at South Bend, Ind., to topple Tulane from the unbeaten ranks.

The teams played a four-game series in 1944, with Notre Dame making a clean sweep, scoring 158 points to 12 for Tulane.

Abernathy, Ralls Tussle Is Moved Up To Thursday Night

ABERNATHY, Oct. 24 (Special) —Abernathy High school's football game with Ralls at Ralls Friday night has been moved up to Thursday night.

Fred Miller, superintendent of schools here, announced Monday that the shift in date had been made through mutual agreement with Ralls. Both cities have Hallowe'en celebrations scheduled and the game was moved to avert the conflict.

The starting time remains at 8 p.m. at Ralls.

THOMAS TINKERS WIN

Thomas Tinkers defeated Blue Flame, 79-59, last night in a basketball game played at Idalou, with Jake Broyles leading scoring with 25 points for the Tinkers. High for Blue Flame was Clark with 22 points. Deacon Johnson scored 12 for the winners and Sides 15 for the losers.

Coach Morgan Stresses Aerial Attack

Texas Tech's Varsity Reserves Scrimmage Against Fish Team

Texas Tech won a football victory yesterday, but it never will be entered in the official college records.

Varsity reserves, who saw only limited action Saturday in the 27-7 defeat of Arizona, went through a stiff Monday afternoon scrimmage against the varsity. The Red Raiders managed to eke out a 13-7 verdict, although they had their goal in jeopardy several times from a freshmen eleven that worked well.

It was a hard, bruising scrimmage on a wet gridiron, with a cold wind blowing from the north that didn't help the players. Several came up with minor bruises and cuts.

Reserves March For Score

With the freshmen leading by one point, the varsity reserves finally were able to march down the field for a score. Bill Lyman, working at the quarterback spot, had the team blocking well in front of him and his passes set up the winning tally.

But the Picadors, who were rained out at Roswell Saturday night, still had a punch of their own left. With Quarterback Don Seale of Idalou chucking, the freshmen marched downfield, only to have a reverse go bad. Halfback Waldo Young had a clear field ahead of him with the exception of Fullback J. W. Thompson. Thompson couldn't be thrown off and the drive petered out.

Picadors Hold

Moments later, the varsity started downfield and reached the freshman 15 yard line, where the Picadors held for downs.

The rest of the Raider squad worked out on the Jones Stadium turf, running, running and running. Coach Tipp Mooney was in charge of the session and work was light, with emphasis primarily on keeping the squad in condition.

Tech came through the game in good condition, with no major injuries. A few cuts, bruises and pains were the only aftereffects of the bruising, colorless game.

Morgan Stresses Aerials

Coach Dell Morgan, in preparing for the Rice game at Houston this Saturday, will stress an aerial attack this week. He has little hope of gaining through the line, where the Owls have mammoth tackles and guards, along with Center Joe Watson, one of the top pivotmen in the nation.

The freshmen, meanwhile, will be preparing for their second game of the year, since they were rained out at Roswell. Coach Allie White's squad is in good condition and ready for the game against Odessa Junior college.

The game, only Saturday afternoon tilt in Lubbock, will be played in Jones Stadium starting at 2:30 p. m.

Dempsey Says Louis May Try Comeback

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 24 (AP) —Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey said today he thinks Joe Louis may try a comeback.

Dempsey, in Wichita Falls on oil business, told Sports Announcer Sid Grayson of radio station KFDX he thinks Louis could and should fight Ezzard Charles to clear up the confusion surrounding the heavyweight championship.

Charles is the National Boxing Association champion, but he is not recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission.

Dempsey said he thinks Louis is taking on exhibition bouts in an effort to get in shape for a comeback try.

Lamotta Will Defend Title Against Cerdan December 2

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (AP)—Middleweight champion Jake LaMotta of New York today agreed to defend his title against Marcel Cerdan in Madison Square Garden, Dec. 2.

LaMotta, who won the 160-pound crown from the Frenchman in Detroit last June 16, and Cerdan, had been scheduled to meet in a return clash last Sept. 28. But LaMotta injured his right shoulder in training and the bout was postponed.

SPORTS Slants

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

To me, one of the most stunning features of Friday night's Amarillo-Lubbock game was that so many Sandie fans abandoned ship when it became apparent that the USS Amarillo was sinking.

Coach Howard Lynch's Sandie players, though soundly whipped, never quit trying. They were dead game to the bitter end — which must have been bitter, indeed, to a team so terribly (and justifiably) proud of its great record through the years.

But I cannot say as much for Amarillo's so-called "rooters." To use a good old West Texas expression, they "tucked tail and ran"— many departing early in the fourth quarter, when the Sandies (trailing by 21-7) still had an outside chance of pulling the game out of the fire.

Long before game time, the stands at Amarillo stadium were jammed with more than 17,000 spectators, the largest throng ever to witness a game in the Panhandle city. Of these, an estimated 12,000 were Sandstorm backers.

When the Amarillo squad came onto the field for its pre-game warmup, Sandie boosters cut loose with a blood-curdling yell that, for a fleeting moment, had me afraid that Joe Stalin's atom-bombers were paying the place a visit.

This enthusiastic exhibition continued through the early stages of the game, with Amarillo fans cheering anyone — Sandie, Westerner or referee — who moved in the direction of Lubbock's goal. In fact, I would have sworn on one occasion that they gave "Fifteen for Newby" simply because the star Sandie tailback stooped to tie a loose shoelace.

For a short while, I marvelled at this deafening demonstation of loyalty. But I soon discovered that Amarillo's support of the Sandies was strictly superficial; the fans were 100% behind the team, all right, but only so long as victory was in sight.

Apparently Amarilloans have little love, or even sympathy, for a losing Sandie club. Once the Westerners took charge Friday night, Sandstorm rooters became as quiet as a Ku Kluxer in Harlem.

Long before that final whistle, the stadium was less than two-thirds full. I assure you that those empty seats were vacated by Amarilloans, not Lubbockites (who, naturally, stayed to enjoy the last taste of sweetness from the long-awaited Westerner win).

In short, Amarilloans quit their team cold when it needed their support most. They had become so accustomed to seeing Sandie teams grind opponents into dust that they could not bear to see this operation in reverse.

It is altogether possible that the Golden Sandstorm will bounce back well from last week's humiliation. In fact, I expect Amarillo to win the District 1-AA title, a spirited Pampa club not withstanding.

But if the Sandies do come back, they will be given their backers better than they deserve. Fans who give up so easily are not worthy of a fighting team.

In closing, I'd like to present this "Ode To A Sandie Fan" (with apologies to Rudyard Kipling and Putt Powell):

"Roses are red,
The Sandies are blue.
But I'd like to know
'Wha hoppan' to you?"

Miners, Baylor Have Top Marks

(By The Associated Press)

Only two Texas colleges have undefeated, untied records as the football campaign rolls down the stretch.

Of the 29 that started, Texas Western and Baylor show unblemished records. But chances are good that both of them will be on the sidelines by next week.

Texas Western, for instance, plays strong Hardin-Simmons at Abilene Saturday night. Baylor engages touchdown-mad Texas Christian at Waco that afternoon.

Falling out of the unbeaten class last week was Hardin which lost to East Texas State 25-13 in an upset.

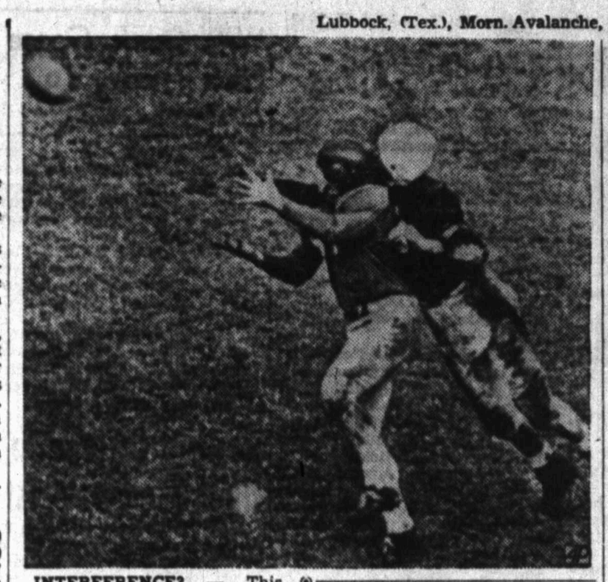

Texas colleges with the best records are:

Suit Filed Against Bowling Congress For Discrimination

CHICAGO, Oct. 24. (INS)—State's Attorney John S. Boyle today filed suit in superior court charging the American Bowling Congress with racial discrimination in limiting its membership to "white males only."

Boyle asked that the ABC's Illinois charter be revoked or that it be fined and made to amend its by-laws.

INTERFERENCE? — This play was one of several causing Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant to criticize officiating in the SMU-Kentucky game Saturday. SMU Back Frank Payne reaches for a pass, guarded by Kentucky End Ben Zaranka. Some observers say Payne was held down a moment later. Officials ruled pass interference and gave SMU a six yards gain on the play. The Mustangs won the game 20 to 7, thereby administering to Kentucky its first defeat of the season.

Injuries Hamper Rice Gridders

HOUSTON, Oct. 24. (AP)—Coach Jess Neely of Rice Institute is thankful he doesn't have to play a Southwest Conference opponent this week.

He's also thankful a pair of victories over Texas and Southern Methodist are behind him.

This week the Owls take on Texas Tech, their fourth and last non-conference opponent of the regular season. Neely lists these injuries as resulting from the final-minute 17 to 15 victory over Texas Saturday:

The starting guards, Carl Schwarz and S. J. Roberts, are nursing a sore knee and rib separation, respectively.

Suicide Attempt Puzzles Officers

HOUSTON, Oct. 24. (AP)— Police were having troubles today finding missing details of the suicide attempt of Allen Thomas Sturges, II, 26, New York society playboy.

A bullet, which police said was self-inflicted Saturday, remains in Sturges' brain. Hospital attendants said this afternoon Sturges still was unconscious. His condition was called very critical.

Detectives Are Puzzled

Homicide detectives listed these puzzlers:

There have been no replies to queries sent to Sturges' family in New York and New Jersey.

The telephone company has found no record of a long distance call which reportedly tipped the New York Journal-American of the suicide attempt at least four hours before Sturges was found unconscious in the home of a pretty airlines clerk.

Hospital attendants said Sturges has had no visitors since he was placed in an eight-patient ward late Saturday.

Sturges was on an operating table over two hours Saturday night. Surgeons decided not to remove the bullet.

Few Signs Of Life

Reporters said the only signs of life today from the hospital bed was the twitch of a shoulder muscle and the clinch of a fist.

Sturges was found slumped in a chair in the bedroom of Miss Marion Yturria, 23, member of a prominent Brownsville and South Texas family.

The bedroom was in a private home in Houston's highly restricted River Oaks residential suburb.

Worked At Brownsville

Mutual friends in Brownsville, where young Sturges worked about three months on a construction job, had given him Miss Yturria's name.

The airline employe told police Saturday night she had had lunch twice with Sturges last week and had become suspicious of him when she discovered he had registered under an assumed name at the Shamrock hotel here.

She had told her family of her suspicion and it developed Brownsville police were looking for the young man on two charges, swindling by check and removing mortgaged property, a Buick automobile, from the county.

Ticket Requests

a small line of people had formed.

As time went by the situation grew worse, and soon Lowrey had seven students helping him record the ticket requests. At noon the condition cleared somewhat, and at 2:15 p. m., when tabulation of the reservations was made, it was found that more than 6,000 applications had been received.

At this point Lowrey quit taking calls, except for holders of season tickets for all home Westerner games, and these lucky persons will get first priority when the ducats do arrive.

Holders of the Westerner season seats will not be allowed to reserve a large block of tickets, however, and unless there are tickets left they will get only the same number of tickets as they have reservations here. The 1,000 tickets alloted for Lubbock students were not included in the reservations.

"It is doubtful if reservations for those persons appearing after 8: 30 Monday morning for tickets can be accommodated," Lowrey said, adding that Odessa officials would not send any additional tickets to Lubbock unless sales starting there Wednesday were exceptionally slow. And that is improbable.

As it now stands, Lubbock will get 4,150 ducats, including adult and student tickets.

Near Capacity Crowd Attends Tech Students' Presentation

A crowd of 80 persons nearly filled the speech building auditorium at Texas Tech Monday night for the first of four nightly performances of the Shakespearean comedy Twelfth Night, presented by speech students.

The performances will continue through Thursday night. Admission is 75 cents and reserved seat tickets may be obtained through the speech department.

Directed by Miss Cecilia Thompson of the speech faculty, the play as produced by the Techsans is not divided into acts and runs approximately an hour and a half. All costumes and props were made by the students.

John Upshaw of the speech faculty is technical director. As the auditorium seats only 100 persons, reservations for the play are being taken.

Remains Of Five Fliers Killed Near Midland Are Recovered

EL PASO, Oct. 24. (AP)—Remains of five fliers killed in the crash of a B-26 bomber have been recovered, Biggs Air Force base officers said today.

The crash occurred yesterday on a ranch 20 miles southeast of Midland. Two explosions tore the plane to bits.

Biggs Field said the bodies will be sent to the following places for burial:

Lt. Col. Charles J. Lutz, 34, of El Paso, Fort Bliss National Cemetery, El Paso.

Capt. James R. Butler, of El Paso, New Albany National cemetery, New Albany, Ind.

Capt. Billy H. Miller, 27, of Fort Worth, to San Angelo.

Capt. Thomas M. Hillman, 31, of Grand Junction, Ia., to Grand Junction.

Sgt. Robert E. Lee, 21, of Biloxi, Miss. to Mebame, N. C.

A recently developed device makes possible the use of an ordinary garden hose as a fruit tree sprayer.

Heavy Rains Fall

might stop by tonight.

In some places, the fall since Sunday night measured more than five inches.

During the day, 2.95 inches fell at Fort Worth, 2.75 at Dallas, 2.07 at San Antonio, 2.02 at Ozona, 1.93 at Austin, 1.90 at San Angelo, 1.64 at Victoria, 1.86 at Wichita Falls, 1.85 at Texarkana, 1.60 at Tyler, 1.30 at Palestine, 1.24 at Lufkin and 1.10 at Bryan.

Many places had lesser amounts of rain.

E. T. Spain was killed at Dallas when a cement plant roof collapsed under the weight of cement dust soaked with rain.

Johnny B. Ford, 27, and his brother, Rittles, 25, jumped into a home-made boat floating on a San Antonio creek. A witness said the boat immediately capsized and the swift, 14-foot-deep stream swallowed up the men. Their bodies had not been found Monday night.

The heavy rain flooded two San Antonio creeks. The families who evacuated had two to five-feet of debris-littered water in their houses.

Towns around San Antonio also had rain, and many dirt roads were washed out.

The late cotton harvest in North Texas bogged down in mud, but ranchers said the water was good for their range. Dallas county farmers said the rain sent their cotton down at least one grade. They said damage would be very serious if the rains kept up two more days.

Nearly five inches of rain fell at Rockwall, above Dallas on the East fork of the Trinity. The river rose to 10.4 feet there Monday night and spilled into rich bottomland farms near Rockwall.

At Gainesville, on the Trinity's Elm fork, nearly four inches of rain flooded lowlands.

Flood Stage Hit

The river reached 29 feet at Dallas, one foot above flood stage. The weather bureau expected the river stage to build up to 34 feet at Dallas early Tuesday, with a crest of 37 to 38 feet sweeping down the stream Wednesday. However, Dallas was believed in no danger because of stout levees.

The weather bureau said it was too early to issue flood warnings Monday night for areas along the Trinity below Dallas. It said warnings would be issuesd Tuesday.

Some Dallas streets were flooded during the day. The weather bureau reported a 3.21-inch overnight fall at Fort Worth, and that was several hours before the 2.95-inch daytime total was announced.

Rain was general in West Texas. Cisco reported a weekend fall of 5.4 inches.

At Ozona, 85 miles south of San Angelo, 5.8 inches fell since Saturday. The South Concho river at Christoval, 18 miles south of San Angelo, was running over the highway bridge.

Austin Gets Rain

Heavy rains also fell on the lower Colorado watershed. The 48-hour fall at Paint Rock measured 4.51 inches. Rains ranging from two to four inches fell on streams flowing into Lake Buchanan. Austin had 1.25 inches Monday.

Thunder, lighting and rain drove a UN celebration indoors at Austin.

At Marshall, where Gov. Allan Shivers was awarded a degree by East Texas Baptist college, a street parade was canceled and the scheduled out of door ceremony was moved inside because of a heavy morning rain.

Other points getting rain included Bronte, Mertzon, Sonora, Rocksprings, Bonham, Abilene, Waco, Del Rio, Galveston, and Mineral Wells.

More rain was forecast for most of the state today.

At Amarillo the weatherman said temperatures would drop in the Panhandle. He forecast freezing weather for the Panhandle by this morning.

Light Over Area Monday

Meanwhile, rains which gave the South Plains a soaking Saturday and Sunday had virtually ceased by Monday, with only a few scattered light showers and intermittent drizzles reported for the first part of the day.

And the Weatherman was correct on another count: Sunday night he said a mass of cool air was moving into the area which would dispel the rain, but which would keep temperatures down throughout the day.

A spot-check over the South Plains area late last night by The Morning Avalanche revealed that only in scattered localities had any moisture been received Monday to add to the precipitation of the two previous days.

Heavy In Matador Section

At Matador,very light showers fell intermittently until about noon Monday, bringing the total rainfall for the weekend to 1.34. Floydada had a very light shower Monday morning. Precipitation there totaled about .7.

No additional moisture was reported Monday at Ralls, Crosbyton, Littlefield, Morton, Levelland, Brownfield, Lamesa, and Plainview In a few of the above communities, an extremely light drizzle fell, but was said to be insufficient for measuring; hence was considered negligible.

Among the towns and communities in the area receiving the most moisture during the weekend rain flurry were Brownfield with .72, Crosbyton with 1.04, Idalou with .75, Lamesa with .93, Lubbock with .99, Post with 1.20, Ralls with 1.00, Slaton with .60, Muleshoe with .63, and Snyder with 1.00. Rains at most other points ranged from good showers to half an inch or more.

GANG UNDER ARREST

DALLAS, Oct. 24. (AP) — Five members of a six-man gang which specialized in stealing sewing machines from school houses in five states were under arrest today. Sheriff Bill Decker said. The gang netted an estimated $10,000 from the sale of the sewing machines, adding machines, typewriters and cash registers, which they peddled all over the midwest.

Wild Duck, Geese Halt Traffic To Longview Airport

LONGVIEW, Oct. 24. (AP) —Wild ducks and geese landed and tied up the Gregg airport last night when they mistook the moonlit runway for a lake.

Hundreds of birds milled on the runway and more circled overhed. Three incoming passenger flights were diverted to Tyler.

The control tower operator at the East Texas town watched the birds with disgust and moaned, "and here I am without a shotgun."

Reward Offered In Hunt For Geologist

HOUSTON, Oct. 24. (AP)—A $500 reward was posted today for discovery of a small plane which disappeared Friday while carrying a prominent Houston geologist and his pilot to Houston from Tulsa.

The reward was offered by Mrs. George H. Harrington, wife of the geologist. The pilot of Harrington's plane was Orville A. Sweitzer, jr., 31, also of Houston.

Mrs. Harrington also offered a $100 reward for any authentic information leading to discovery of the plane.

Bad weather across northeast Texas today hampered an air search for the missing plane by the Civil Air patrol.

goods and more saving.

To the already austerity-weary Briton it all meant that many of the goods they have to queue up for would be even scarcer. Gasoline and some foods would cost more. They would have to pay the 14-cent fee for medicines they now get free under the national health program.

Cuts Announced

Before a jammed and tensely waiting audience in the House of Commons Attlee announced these cuts:

National defense — 30,000,000 pounds ($84,000,000). Most of the savings to be in administrative costs.

Capital investment—140,000,000 pounds ($392,000,000). Hacked off of long-term projects such as improvement of fuel and power output and the building of roads, schools and hospitals.

Housing — 35,000,000 pounds ($98,000,000). Cuts an estimated 20,000 houses off the government's program to build 180,000 annually.

Other building — 35,000,000 pounds ($98,000,000). Represents a general tightening up on controls over construction.

Prescription Cost Set

Medical service — 10,000,000 pounds ($28,000,000). Achieved by charging up to one shilling (14 cents) each for prescriptions instead of taking the cost out of tax money collected from the public for the socialized medical service.

Food ministry—8,700,000 pounds ($24,360,000). Achieved by firing about 300 civil servants and economizing in administration.

Education—5,000,000 pounds ($14,000,000). Gained by adding a penny to every school child's one-shilling lunch fee and by trimming school bus services.

Ministry of supply — 6,000,000 pounds ($16,800,000). Reduces the work of government arms factories slightly and saves in administration.

Other Savings Planned

Ministry of agriculture—6,000,000 pounds ($16,800,000). Savings in administration.

Proposed costs of 1951 Festival of Britain—1,000,000 pounds ($2,800,000).

Public relations — 1,000,000 pounds ($2,800,000). Cuts public relations departments in various ministries.

Miscellaneous savings—1,500,000 pounds ($4,200,000).

The prime minister said fish prices will be freed from control thus probably hiking them considerably. Government subsidies to food producers instituted by the Labor government to keep down prices, will be abandoned next spring.

Urges More Production

Nevertheless, Attlee declared once more the government's intention to hold down prices, wages and profits. He called for more production and declared:

"Devaluation has given the opportunity—it may be the last opportunity—of restoring our position as a trading nation without drastic lowering of our standard of life."

The pound was devalued from $4.03 to $2.80 Sept. 18. It was a move to lower the cost of British exports and thus to bring in more dollars to pull the nation out of the economic quicksand.

Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister and opposition leader, was the first to react to the Attlee pronouncement. Jumping to his feet when Attlee was finished, the Conservative party leader said:

"The first question we must all ask ourselves is: Are these proposals adequate to the need in which we stand?"

Sir Patrick Hannon, president of the National Union of Manufacturers, declared the program was "totally inadequate to meet the gravity of the situation."

In the London stock market prices recovered sharply toward the close. The general belief among brokers was that cuts in government expenditure announced by Attlee would, in the long run, help business recovery.

Mahon Tosses

though of course some change in the world situation may alter things and the joint chiefs might reverse themselves.

"In that event, it would be difficult for us to say 'no,' but I hardly consider that likely."

Services Set Today For Mrs. B. H. Benton

GOP Critics Report

continued:

"Such action halted only by congressional protest would put the circulation and use of such information beyond our control."

Countries Not Identified

The report gave no hint of the identity of the countries to which it said the AEC wanted to send informaiton but the phrasing of its charge was considered guarded.

The GOP committeemen said they felt they would "fall short of our obligation to Congress and the American people" were they to "gloss over and excuse weaknesses in the 'atomic program'."

In citing security lapses the report said that thousands of alleged emergency employes have been cleared for access to restricted atomic data without prior FBI investigation.

It said that radioactive isotopes have been shipped abroad for industrial and military research and that known Communists were admitted into AEC's educational programs.

The GOP committeemen said they directed their criticisms against the AEC as a whole but that they were excepting Dr. H. D. Smyth and Gordon Dean from the charges because they became commission members after the hearings were initiated.

Inquiry Ordered

Red party member.

Robert N. Denham, NLRB general counsel, referred the affidavits to the Justice department for "appropriate action."

The affidavits were filed with the NLRB last week by Albert Fitzgerald, UEW president, whom the labor subcommittee called a Communist "collaborator;" Emspak, who is secretary-treasurer of the union; Matles, UEW organization director, and 10 vice presidents.

Prior to the filing of the affidavits, the UEW had been denied access to the NLRB machinery for settlement of labor disputes because the union had ignored the Taft-Hartley act provision requiring union officials to swear they are not Communists.

On Dec. 20, 1948, the un-American activities committee recommended that Emspak and Matles be cited for contempt of Congress because of their refusal to state whether they were Communist party members. No action was taken on the recommendation.

Last Aug. 11, Joseph Zack Kornfeder, ex-Communist leader who broke with the party, told the committee that Matles was a member of the party's New York state district 2 committee in 1931 and 1932.

The labor subcommittee declared in an official report that Emspak and Matles were "either members of the Communist party or under Communist control."

The subcommittee also said that Fitzgerald "collaborated with the other international officers of the UEW in maintaining the substantial control of the Communist party over the policy of the union."

Guard Raps Policies

mid-afternoon that the Air Force is trying to "hamstring" a bill designed to put a greater number of National Guard officers on active duty status with the National Guard bureau.

He said another bill blocked by the Air Force would put an inactive National Guard status on the air side of the guard.

The third block came, Reckford said, in consideration of a bill which would give all reservists a common federal commission. The association's legislative officer added that the reason for the opposition was that the guard would not give into an Air Force demand that it be able to order the men of the Air National Guard to active federal duty for 45 days or more a year.

Reckford said that badly-needed legislation to secure National Guard armories did not materialize because it was blocked by the Department of Defense.

Reckford declared the association "should indicate to Secretary Johnson that we are tired of being kicked around on this matter."

Reckford added that the association should go over the heads of the Defense Department and present its problem to President Truman in an effort to get speedy budget bureau action for new armories.

In his report Walsh recommended a $500-million, 10-year building program to take care of the guard and reserve corps.

NEWS BRIEFS

Slight damage was reported by firemen who answered two alarms Monday. At 108 East Broadway, a neon sign became short-circuited and set fire to a roof, about 5:30 a. m. Three hours earlier, an electric motor began smoking at Plains Ice Cream company, at 2230 Nineteenth.

Melvin Simmons of Lubbock has gone to Albuquerque to attend funeral services at 10 a. m. today for his brother, Doyle, who died there Sunday night after a brief illness. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Annie Simmons of Wolfforth.

Speeches by Joe Torrence, C. W. Ratliff, Tom Murphey and Dr. O. W. English featured the regular dinner program of the Toastmasters' club at the Hilton hotel Monday night. A. B. Watkins, club president was topicmaster in a discussion of a proposed new world calendar. Critics were Dr. Mina Watkins, Hugh Anderson, Warren Faller and Kenneth D. Moore, general critic. Lou Walker acted as toastmaster at the dinner.

Lubbock motorists may be a bit careless or reckless, but they are lucky. There were 15 collisions investigated by or reported to police on Monday, but not a single injury to occupants of the vehicles.

Jeff Chandler, about 75, of 611 Ave. L, was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital by McDonald Funeral home ambulance at 10 p.m. Monday after suffering a heart attack at his residence. Attendants said at 1 a.m. today that his condition was "fair."

Nine Persons Shot

Stites, 25; Kenneth Friesner, 39; James Grant, 60; Ben Prunty, 49.

The shooting scene was reminiscent of the tragedy which struck Camden, N. J., Sept. 6 when war veteran Howard Unruh shot and killed 13 persons with a revolver he brought back from battle.

Hears Final Shot

Louis Dorman, jr., co-owner of a nearby tavern said he heard the final shot fired as he approached the street on which Runyon went berserk and began firing.

He said:

"That was the one he finished himself with."

Father F. S. Delaney said he was driving up Dixie highway and stopped for a traffic light opposite the Waterford hotel when he saw Runyon aiming the shotgun at the hotel window.

He said:

"I didn't think much of it at first because I felt he might be a hunter and they do a lot of sighting like that.

"But suddenly I heard a report. I opened the car door and yelled at him—thinking, then, that he was a drunk and would drop his gun. He turned toward me and I got my car out of there and stopped at a nearby garage."

Father Delaney said he used the garage phone to call the state police and sheriff's office and, while doing so, "somebody ran in and yelled there were four people on the floor at Stanley's bar."

"We rushed over there and when I saw the victims I hurried back home to get the oil and administer last rites."

First To Reach Body

Dorman, who was the first person to reach Runyon's body, said a fellow townsman named Jim Grant ran out of the hotel and down the street, his face bleeding profusely from a shotgun wound.

He caught Grant and guided him to an ambulance while Father Delaney tried to comfort the other wounded.

Five ambulances sped the victims to Pontiac's General hospital, where the emergency receptionist said the Zurowski women were in grave condition but the others were not in immediate danger.

State police and a squad of sheriff's deputies arrived from Pontiac, nine miles to the south, after Runyon had taken his own life.

They were prepared to meet resistance as did Camden police when they attempted to capture Unruh, who exchanged fire with police before he surrendered.

Unruh subsequently was declared insane and committed to an institution.

Lubbock Rabbit Breeders Group Holds General Meet

Twenty five members of the Lubbock Rabbit and Cavy Breeders association last night attended a general meeting at the Agricultural Adjustment administration office.

The group discussed the forthcoming national convention to be held in San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 6 to 10. Delegates from the Lubbock organization are L. E. Settle and C. M. Harmon. Both plan to attend the meeting.

Future meetings of the group, it was announced, will be held at the FFA room at Senior High school. J. D. Goodmin, 716B Ave. N, was listed as a guest at the session.

Steve Matthews Named Vice President At State Meeting

Steve Matthews, Lubbock city manager, Monday was named a vice president of the Texas City Managers association. The Associated Press reported last night from Galveston.

The association met in Galveston in connection with the convention of the Texas League of Municipalities, at which Mayor Delesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans was guest speaker.

Named vice presidents of the Texas City Managers association in addition to Matthews were the City Managers of San Antonio and Waco. V. C. Thompson of Weslaco was elected president.

The association selected Kerrville as the site for its annual spring meeting

Negro Cotton Puller Is Shot Near Morton

MORTON, Oct. 24. (Special)— A 30-year-old negro cotton puller from Terrell, James Rocher, was brought to West Plains hospital here tonight with a bullet lodged in his left lung after being shot about 9:15 p. m. on the Reba Farmer farm operated by Jimmie Hill, 10 miles northwest of here.

Sheriff H. D. Crockett of Cochran county said a negro suspect, 38 years of age, was being held held in connection with the case.

Attendants at the hospital said Rocher was in "good" condition. The bullet struck his left arm, breaking a bone, and then entered his chest.

Crockett said a charge of assault with intent to murder would be filed Tuesday against the suspect. The sheriff reported that the suspect was apprehended nine miles northwest of here shortly after the shooting. Crockett Deputy John Goswick and a Texas Highway patrolman stopped the man in a car.

The sheriff said a .32-.20 pistol was found in the suspect's pocket, and 11 pints of liquor in the car. A liquor possession charge also will be filed, Crockett said.

French Horn Solo Included

In the opening theme from the Tschaikowsky symphony, Frank Herring was heard in a French horn solo and William A. McClatchy did the clarinet cadenzas in the Rhapsody.

In "Dance of the Cammorists" (Wolf-Ferrari) and the spiritual "Go Down Moses" (arr. by Morton Gould) the orchestra showed it was never too driven by the climax ahead to neglect the details where polish and restrained tempo were needed.

"Cuban Holiday" (Donald Phillips), a number with a Xavier Cugat touch about it, was roundly applauded.

The guest artist, displaying exemplary diction, ease and experienced style gained with years of experience, sang "Eri Tu" from Verdi's "The Masked Ball" and the ever popular prologue from the opera "Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo) before intermission. Returning, he offered the brilliant and rapid aria, "Largo al Factotum," from Rossini's "The Barber of Seville." The best applauded number was "On the Road to Mandalay," in the repertoire of baritones the world over.

Encore numbers, with Sektberg at the piano, included "A Little Bit of Heaven," "Mr. Jim," "Mattinata" and in conclusion, "The Lord's Prayer" (Mallott).

Tickets for tonight's program are on sale at Adair's and Varsity Book stores and will be available at the box office.

Murray Discloses

This also would require the CIO's 40 unions to oust any executive who declined to co-operate.

Murray's decision indicated he was determined to fight it out in the convention Monday with the pro-Communists and left-wing leaders who have been sharply critical of his leadership and his steel strike.

The spearhead in the anti-Murray bloc of 12 left-wing unions is the United Electrical Workers. Its president, Albert J. Fitzgerald, was the only CIO vice president absent from today's opening salvo. Fritzgerald was reported detained in New York.

Later today in New York, the UE's executive board announced plans for a fund-raising campaign among its locals in behalf of striking steel and coal workers. This was one of several recent signs that the UE will not secede or withdraw from the CIO on its own initiative.

The US adopted an ultimatum at its convention here last month. It called on Murray to fire CIO officers — specifically Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey, right-wing former UE president — who persisted in criticizing or helping raid the UE.

Bradley To Ask

dation from the chairman.

The general was quoted as reiterating that he believes the Navy-Air Force feud to be strictly a side issue in relation to the immediate problems confronting the joint chiefs.

Bradley, as JCS chairman, has no vote in the decisions arrived at by the Army, Navy and Air Force chiefs.

It is his duty, however, to arrange the agenda for the joint chiefs' meetings, ordinarily held twice weekly, and to report any important disagreement to Johnson for settlement.

Naval sources indicated that Denfeld is ready to attend Tuesday's meeting and to participate in discussion of current problems in a spirit free of the animosity that marked the congressional hearing, which is in recess until Jan. 3.

No further discussion of the Navy's demand that the Defense department order forbidding construction of a super-aircraft carrier be rescinded is expected at this time.

Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.), of the armed services committee, indicated that the congressional group will explore the carrier matter further when the inquiry is resumed.

President Truman is the thirty-second president of the United States.

prostitution, an action which appeared to signal the beginning of a drive against prostitution here.

The department had picked up 12 women Sunday night, and another came to the police station Monday afternoon. All entered pleas of guilty and paid $25 fines.

However, fines levied Monday night were of the $50 variety. The increase in fines, coupled with the fact that raids had been made on successive nights brought forth speculation that a drive was underway.

Fines May Go Higher

Police Chief Lewis Kittrell said that while the two raids in a row were "not a special deal, they may be picked up again tomorrow night and the fines may go higher."

Five of the Monday night group entered pleas of guilty, and four of these appealed their cases to county court. They were released after posing $200 bonds each. The other pleading guilty was held in jail.

The other seven entered pleas of not guilty. Five of these were released after an attorney posted $100 bonds for each. The other two women were released to another attorney, who pledged to post $100 bonds for them today.

A variety of other cases occupied the attention of the courts and law enforcement agencies here on Monday.

Mexican Is Charged

Alfonso (Pancho) Urtado, 21, of 100 block North Ave. M, was charged with assault with intent to murder in the Sunday knifing of Thomas Garibay, 26, of New Deal.

Urtado was released after posting $1,000 bond. Garibay was attacked in a cafe in the Mexican section of town, but was released from the hospital Monday. The shallow knife wound extended from Garibay's neck behind his left ear to a point over his right collar bone.

In the theft line, police were informed that a purse owned by Earlene Taylor, a negro woman employed by the Broadway Church of Christ, had been stolen from the church. She said the purse contained $9.95.

M. L. Gardner, of 2312 Broadway, told police that a red bicycle valued at $50 had been stolen in the 1100 block Texas Ave.

Burglars Enter Home

Burglars, apparently hungry, broke into the home of Mrs. Rita Parrish at 1706 Ave. E sometime between Sept. 1 and Monday, it was reported to police.

Mrs. Parrish said that six pints and eight quarts of peas, and 40 quarts and pints of plums, grapes and peaches were missing when she returned home Monday after leaving on Sept. 1.

She also said that five insurance policies and service papers on her son, Eldon Newton Parrish, had been taken. Police were continuing their investigation last night.

Ray Sooter of 2706 Maple complained to police that two spinner-type hub caps had been stolen from his car.

The sheriff's department Monday night took into custody Walter Harry Jones, 22, of 1700 block Eighteenth street, charged with child desertion on a warrant issued at Odessa in Ector county. Jones was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Three Men Fined

In county court action, Judge Walter Davies levied fines and court costs against three men who entered pleas of guilty to charges against them.

They were Jimmy Hawkins, $200 fine and costs, violation of liquor law; Arroll J. Redman, $25 and costs, aggravated assault; and Domingo H. Vasquez, $75 and costs, drunken driving.

Bert Thornton said his store, Thornton grocery, at 1511 Eighth, had been "torn down" at the rear, but nothing had been missed. He said he doubted if anyone entered it.

A car, a 1941 green Oldsmobile sedan, license AS 455, was stolen from Charles A. Adams, jr., of 2101 Seventeenth.

Five "wetback" Mexicans were arrested for deportation to their homeland. They allegedly entered this country illegally.

Four employes of a carnival were reported fined $38.15 each, including costs, and released by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace. Two of them, gypsies, were charged with vagrancy, two others with gaming after a Lubbock person had complained of the theft of money from him. The gypsies "left town" after their release, officials said. Arrests were by the sheriff's department.

In the justice of peace court of C. E. Lynn, eight gamblers were fined a total of $373.30.

The Mason and Dixon line was surveyed by two Englishmen Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, 1763 to 1767, to settle disputes between the Lords Baltimore and the Penn family.

Baptists Hold Rally To Discuss Wayland

About 300 Baptist ministers and laymen last night attended a rally of District Nine to discuss the enlargement program of Wayland college at Plainview. The meeting was held at the First Baptist church here.

Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland college, explained to those attending the rally how the college faculty has grown from 11 to 45 and the student body from 200 to 500 in the last three years. He reminded the group that the institution has recently been accredited as a senior college, necessitating many more expenditures.

New Income Needed

It was pointed out that the majority of Plain's Baptist churches removed the college from their budgets several years ago at denominational suggestion and the school must look elsewhere for income.

Rev. A. A. Brian, of Plainview, has been released from church duties for a two-month period, beginning Oct. 10, to tour the area as director of a campaign to raise a goal of $50,000 for the college.

"No collections will be taken in any of the area's churches during this drive," Rev. Brian emphasized. "The collections will come from interested individuals of means who wish to help the college. A Major Gifts committee will be set up at each of the churches visited and this organization will contact the proposed donors between Oct. 10 and Dec. 10."

Lubbock Pastor Speaks

Dr. J. Ralph Grant, Lubbock pastor, spoke on the problems faced in this transitional period of denominational life.

The International choir, a 40-voice group of many different nationalities, from Wayland college under the direction of Shelby Collier, head of the college voice department, presented a program at the rally.

Dr. Marshall, Dr. Grant and Rev. Brian, accompanied by the choir, will present similar programs Wednesday in Big Springs and Thursday in Amarillo.

Representatives from eight Baptist associations attended the meeting. District Nine includes the territory from this side of Canyon to south of Post and from Dickens to Brownfield.

would keep their pledges to outlaw the bomb.

The Russians have rejected every proposal which contains provisions for inspection.

Mr. Truman emphasized the major differences between the nations. "The controversies which divide us go very deep," he said.

But, he declared, "no single nation can have its own way, for these are human problems, and the solution of human problems is to be found in negotiation and mutual adjustment."

The President also said that respect for human rights and promotion of economic development were requisites "to the kind of world we seek."

After the hour-long celebration, center-piece of a worldwide celebration of the fourth anniversary of the day the UN charter became effective, the presidential party went to Mayor O'Dwyer's Gracie mansion "White House" on the upper East river front for luncheon.

Chats With Vishinsky

The President chatted there about five minutes with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky before lunch.

Mr. Truman told the luncheon gathering:

"I don't want to see another war. I am trying with everything I have to prevent another war. All I am working for is peace in the world for all the people in the world."

Mr. Truman left Pennsylvania station by special train at 3:25 p.m. (CST) for Washington.

His speech at the UN day dedication ceremony was the President's first statement on foreign policy since he announced on Sept. 23: "We have evidence that within recent weeks an atomic explosion occurred in the USSR."

The first UN building is to be completed early in 1951.

Construction is to begin soon on other buildings on the $8,500,000 site, donated by John D. Rockefeller, jr.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wearing a little bright red hat, was seated with the other members of the U. S. delegation in front of the blue and white draped rostrum.

Also in front of the stand was Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex).

Supreme Court Fails To Act On Any Major Cases

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)— The Supreme court failed to act today on any of the major cases before it, possibly because of the absence of Justice Douglas.

Its third business session of the new term produced no decisions on whether or not it will review half a dozen major labor and civil rights cases.

There was some speculation that Douglas' absence was a factor. He is recuperating from injuries he received when thrown from a horse while riding in the state of Washington Oct. 2.

Hungarian Reds Hang Former Top Army Officer For Treason

BY ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUDAPEST, Oct. 24. — Lieut. Gen. Gyorgi Palffy, formerly Hungary's highest army officer, was hanged today for treason in a Titoist plot.

Three other army and police officers also died on the gallows, among them Bela Korondy, a police colonel and former Hungarian army major.

Palffy and Korondy were convicted of treason together with Laszlo Rajk, former Hungarian foreign minister, in Budapest's big trial last month in which eight defendants were accused of plotting with American and Yugoslav agents to assassinate top-flight Hungarian Communists and overthrow the government.

Rapk and two other defendants were hanged Oct. 15.

An official announcement said Deszo Nemeth, an army staff colonel and former Hungarian military attache in Moscow, and Otto Horvath, a police colonel, also were hanged today.

Nemeth had testified against the Rajk trial defendants and had been accused by the state as an accomplice of this group. The charge against Horvath was not immediately disclosed.

Palffy and Korondy were convicted by the same Budapest peoples court that found Rajk and five other defendants guilty. The court, however, had left the sentences of the two military defendants to the determination of a court martial.

Proceedings Kept Secret

No announcement of the court martial proceedings was ever made until today after the executions.

Presumably the executions were carried out at a military prison.

Executed with Rajk on Oct. 15 were Dr. Tibor Szoenyi and his deputy who had charge of the rank-and-file membership of the Hungarian Communist party.

They were refused clemency by a court of appeals which also rejected the appeals of three other defendants who were given prison sentences.

All had been accused of engaging in a Balkan-wide plot with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to set up governments which would be Yugoslav vassals. •All had confessed readily at their trial, and Rajk declared it was the intention to make himself the "Tito premier of Hungary."

Cochran Man Given Two-Year Sentence

MORTON, Oct. 24 (Special)—R. E. Starr, a 21-year-old Cochran county negro, was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty of burglary, court officials said this afternoon.

He waived trial by jury and entered his plea before District Judge Dan Blair.

The charge accused him of breaking and entering Forrest Lumber company at Morton July 9, 1948.

Another case, charging I. G. Golden, an elderly negro, with murder with malice, was passed when defense counsel did not appear. The attorney lives in another section of the state.

E. G. Pharr, an assistant district attorney of Lubbock, represented the state.

Judge Blair will try civil actions this week in Cochran county.

Delegate's Enthusiasm Overrules Caution

Dallas Faces Sad Situation; West Begins At Fort Worth

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 24—Big D (that's Dallas, Tex.) has to face it. The west really does begin at Fort Worth.

Dallas has lots of cowboys but is short on ranches—cow ranches that is.

Members of Sigma Delta Chi, a journalism fraternity, came to this rueful conclusion in the last few days. Last year one of the Dallas "cowboys" got into his western gear and attended his fraternity's convention in Milwaukee.

"You all come to Dallas with your 1949 convention," he declerad with a flourish of his ten-gallon hat and an obligatto tinkle of his spurs, "and we all shore will throw a yippee-yi-ay ranch party."

Dallas got the convention but Dallas hasn't been able to produce the short grass ranch promised by its spokesman. With the delegates scheduled to arrive Nov. 16 for a three-day stay, Dallas members of Sigma Delta Chi got busy and came up with a compromise.

The party on the evening of Nov. 17 is going to be staged on a ranch but it will be the Variety club's famed boys ranch, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Ted Barrett, president of the host fraternity chapter, thinks the visitors will be so impressed by the work Variety is doing with underprivileged boys that nobody will miss the cow critters ordinarily associated with ranches.

"If the convention had been scheduled four weeks earlier," Barrett moaned, "we could have shown them some ranch beef, at the State fair. Now, if somebody insists on a steer we'll just have to go over to Fort Worth and borrow one for the evening."

UN Week Observance Is Held At Wayland

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 24 (Special)—Observance of United Nations week was begun at Wayland college today with a chapel address by Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, a member of the Texas Democratic Executive committee.

The pitiless spotlight of world publicity is turned on the general assembly and "world opinion is what keeps the members in line," said Mrs. Walker.

She said she shares the general dislike among Americans for Russian methods but that she found Andrei Vishinsky of Russia was the most convincing speaker she heard at meetings of the United Nations she attended.

Mrs. Walker, a graduate of Texas State College for Women and past president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, discussed the organization, functions, history and future of United Nations.

"For a time United Nations seemed bogged down on problems in Korea, Palestine and the Balkans," she said. "However, a way out was found by special investigating commissions and large scale war has been averted."

She urged her audience of 500 Wayland students and faculty members to go "all out" in support of world peace.

She was introduced by Bobby Rine of Quanah, president of the International Relations club at Wayland.

Famed Mental Wizard Postpones Scheduled Performance At Tech

Franz Polgar, nationally-known mental wizard, will not make his scheduled appearance at Texas Tech this week, Dean of Men James G. Allen announced.

The performance was cancelled in order that Polgar might appear on a television program in New York Friday night, Dean Allen said. The hypnotist will appear here some time in March, he said.

Had RHEUMATISM So BAD That He Had To Quit Working

*Caused by dietary deficiency.

Mr. Jerry Watkins, chief of detectives of the city of Hot Springs, Arkansas, suffered with rheumatism so much and the aches and pains were so terrible that he had to quit working in an effort to regain his health after he had tried everything which his friends recommended.

Detective Watkins is well known and his countless number of friends throughout the country will rejoice to know that he is now healthy, free of rheumatic aches and pains and now working hard.

Mr. Jerry Watkins

"For several years," Mr. Watkins says, "I suffered from a rheumatic condition in the hip and leg. I was very nervous and finally developed migraine headaches. I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good. I seemed to be growing worse and worse and was finally advised to take a leave of absence from my work on the police force in an effort to recover my health."

"The pains in my head sometimes were unbearable. I suffered tortures and I was miserable. At night particularly I lay awake and could not sleep."

Mr. Watkins said that someone finally persuaded him to try HADACOL, and after taking the first bottle he said he could see an improvement in his general condition.

"On January 14th of this year," he said, "I felt so much better I decided to go back on the job. The examining doctor told me I was in perfect health. Now I am working from 8 to 12 hours daily and I am able to sleep as any normal person. I have taken six large size bottles of HADACOL and all my friends know I owe my good health to HADACOL."

Mr. Watkins is one of the many thousands of people who suffered from a deficiency of the B vitamins and the minerals that HADACOL contains and who, therefore, found relief in HADACOL.

It is a well-known scientific fact that the lack of only a small amount of the B vitamins and certain minerals in your system will cause certain bodily disorders such as nutritional neuritis, which causes the aches and pains commonly known as rheumatism, and there is no known cure for the ailment except the administration of the needed vitamins and minerals. This is why people who suffered for years and years never were able to obtain any relief until they took the vitamins and minerals the lack of which was causing the disorders.

HADACOL does not contain only one but has five of the B vitamins and four necessary minerals. It comes to you in liquid form so that it will be easily absorbed by the blood and, therefore, carried to the parts of the body which need them most.

So, it matters not where you live—no matter who you are—if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, you should be fair to yourself and give this wonderful preparation, HADACOL, a trial. And if your disease is caused by a lack of the B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains, then don't go on suffering—don't continue to make your life so miserable. Temporary relief for you is not enough. Take HADACOL.

Sold at all leading drugstores. Trial size only $1.25, but save money; buy the large family economy size, only $3.50. If your druggist does not handle HADACOL, order direct from The Le Blanc Corporation, Lafayette, La., and when the postman brings your package, just pay the amount plus the c.o.d. and postage. If you remit with the order we will pay the postage.

The if you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer.—Adv.

Baby Sitter Beaten, Burned With Coals

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 24. (U.P.)—An attacker who bludgeoned a 13-year-old baby sitter with a claw hammer and then shoveled hot coals over her helpless form was sought by police today.

Patricia Ann Black, was hospitalized in critical condition. Her skull was fractured and she suffered painful burns on the face, arms and chest.

The girl was minding her two young brothers last night when the assailant entered through an unlocked front door, police said, and tried to rape her as she slept on a couch.

Patricia fought furiously with him, they said, until the intruder found a hammer in the kitchen and beat her on the head with it.

As she lay helpless on the floor, the man went again to the kitchen, took a shovelful of hot coals from the stove and let them slide onto her body.

The girl was found unconscious when her parents returned home, police said.

Neither of her two brothers was hurt.

Control Of Dairen Wrested From Chinese By Reds, Official Claims

By SARAH PARK
INS Staff Correspondent

SEOUL, Oct. 24—The director of the defunct American consulate at the key Manchurian port of Dairen said today the Russians have wrested full control of the city from the Chinese.

Paul Paddock, U. S. consul in Dairen until he was withdrawn Friday, said the city—supposedly administered under treaty by botn the Chinese and the Soviets—is actually ruled with an iron hand by a Moscow-trained puppet.

The consul, who arrived in South Korea yesterday after being bottled up in Dairen for 15 months, described the Russian claim that she recognizes Chinese sovereignty in Dairen and all of Manchuria as "pure fiction."

Provisions Pointed Out

Paddock pointed out that civilian control of Dairen was to be jointly administered by the Russians and the Chinese and that the important waterfront city was to be recognized as a Chinese port.

The consul, who arrived at Inchon aboard a British ship with his vice-consul several days ago, said the Russians began cementing their control of the city immediately after they signed their treaty with the Nationalist government in 1945.

He said that in 1946, the Russians set up a joint administration of Dairen and Port Arthur which had been ceded to the Soviets in the treaty, and that on April 10 the Chinese Nationalist flag was withdrawn from public buildings and replaced by the Red flag.

Puppet Commands City

He said the city's administration is now headed by Han Kuang, who was trained in Moscow and came to Dairen in 1945 as secretary of the Communist party in 1945 when it was still supposed to be operating underground.

Paddock declared that under Han, the Soviets have set up an extensive system of uniformed Chinese gendarmerie which have the authority to "investigate the population" and the right to enter any home by day or night.

He said that the night before his departure they entered his home but left when he telephoned the Russian military commander in the area. Paddock cited the instance as evidence of his claim that the Russians have achieved direct control of the city.

Paddock said the closing of the American consulate leaves only the Soviet consulate functioning and he predicted this would have a disastrous effect on the some 120 foreigners remaining in the city.

The official said 76 of these are Germans, mostly women and children.

Paddock, his vice-consul Paul Gleysteen, two women and their three children left Dairen Friday for Inchon and Seoul. He will leave for Tokyo and the United States shortly.

The consul said that the rest of Manchuria is virtually inaccessible to foreigners and that they cannot leave the city limits without passes that are almost impossible to obtain from the Russian commandatura.

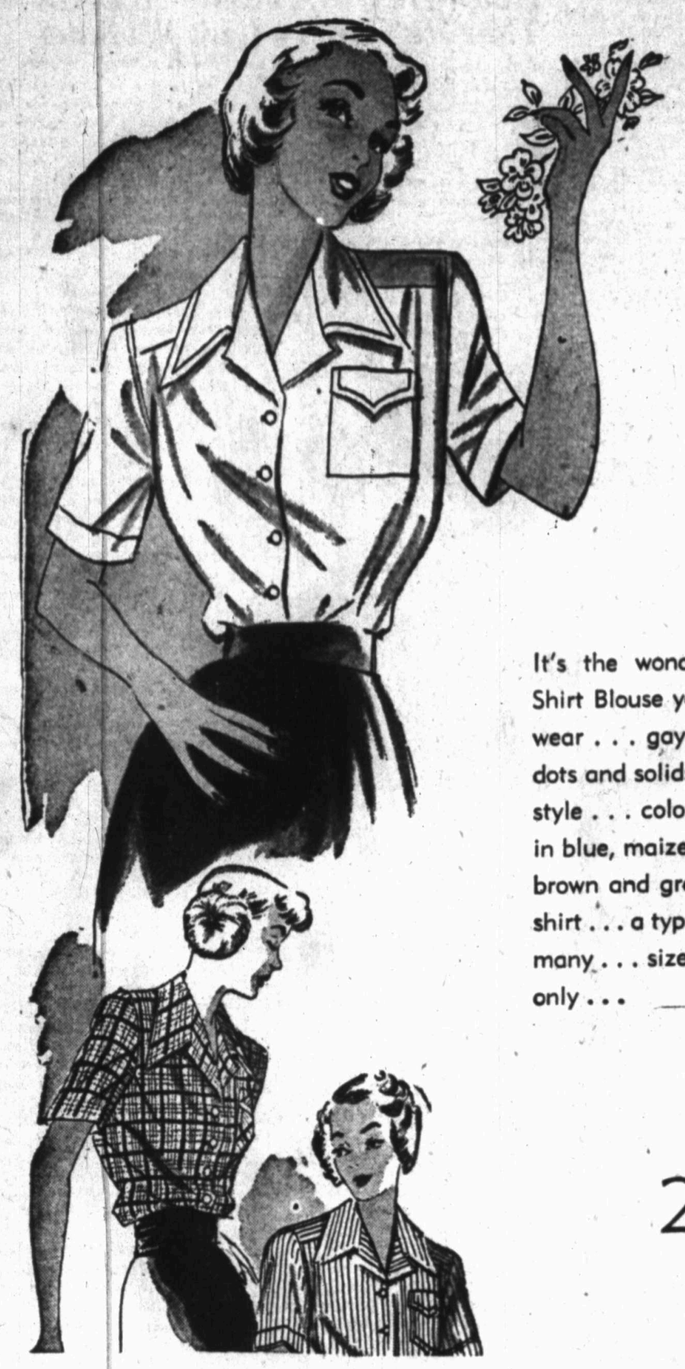

Paddock said the most regrettable thing about his departure is that there now is no non-Russian diplomatic observer left in Dairen to report measures being taken by the Soviets.

X-Ray Survey Is To Start Today At Tech

Examinations To Be Offered Free

A Lubbock county X-ray survey will open this morning, when Texas Technological college students, faculty members and their families and college employes not on the faculty will begin reporting for X-ray examinations in the agricultural auditorium on the college campus.

The state health department moved a mobile X-ray unit onto the campus Monday. Representatives of the state department will give the examinations, under cosponsorship of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association and Hub City Kiwanis club.

The survey is designed to include every person in Lubbock county 15 years of age and over by Nov. 12. Examinations will be free and will require only a few seconds.

Women will be asked to remove costume jewelry and men will be asked to remove their coats.

College students with last names beginning with letters A through F have been asked to report today. Those with names beginning with letters G through L are to report Wednesday; M through R, Thursday, and the remainder on Friday. If they cannot report conveniently on those days, however, they may come at the time convenient for them.

The X-ray unit will be in operation from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. today, Wednesday and Friday, and from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Thursday.

Downtown Tests Planned

Residents of the county other than those associated with the college may obtain the examinations Nov. 2 through Nov. 12, when the unit will be situated in a downtown location to be announced later.

Those receiving examinations give their names, addresses and names of family physicians. If the test has negative results, individuals will be notified directly by card from the state health department.

If the examination indicates possible presence of tuberculosis, the announcement will be sent to the family physician.

The examination will be given as a free public health measure—not a charitable measure.

The tuberculosis association has pointed out that the disease must be detected early to be cured and that the best way to find out is to obtain a chest X-ray.

FORT WORTH MAN VISITS HERE

Formation Of Texas Tourist Association Urged By Author

Formation of a Texas Tourist association to advertise the scenic beauties and vacation and recreation spots in the Lone Star state was advocated here Monday by Dr. Rex Z. Howard of Fort Worth, Author of the Texas Tourist Travel Guide, written under the pen name of Howard King.

HOWARD

Dr. Howard, who has had more than 20 years experience publishing tourist guides and magazines on Mexico, has toured Texas for more than 40 years collecting information and photographing interesting things in Texas.

Dr. Howard is making a swing of the principal cities of the state in developing interest in organizing the Texas Tourist association, whose purpose will be to collect information on Texas, advertise Texas to the world, and to persuade Texans, themselves, to see the wonders of Texas.

Is Author Of Column

He writes a column "You Auto See Texas," under his pen name, for the 700 member papers of the Texas Press association.

Howard King's "Texas Tourist Travel Guide" is the first and only guide ever written about the wonders of Texas interesting to tourists. It covers the whole state and is not a guide of the economic resources, etc., of the state.

It is designed for the use of tourists from outside Texas as well as Texans themselves, so that they can tell others about their state.

It is not unusual for a visitor to say that he or she "likes Texas" or "does not like Texas" when they have only seen one small area, Dr. Howard said. The guide recognizes Texas as a great empire, divides it up into sections with explanations of the attractions of each and tells the traveler what to see as he travels over the state.

Centers Of Interest Pointed Out

The guide gives enough history to explain locations of old things of historical importance and items of interest are described along certain well known highways so that it is easy for tourists to plan trips.

Visitors are acquainted with the interesting Texas-Mexico border and interesting stories are told about Texas and Texas people. Even typical Texas foods are described and recipes given for them.

The guide has 138 pages, 167 photographs, a usable index and sells for only $1. It is published by the LoRay Co., Grand Prairie, and has been especially designed for distribution by chambers of commerce, civic groups and for sale in hotels, book stores, bus and railroad stations.

It is not a joke book, but a useful reference text for information concerning the attractions of Texas. It was prepared so as to be especially valuable to school teachers and students of Texas. It is used as a reference book on Texas by three of the largest universities in the nation.

Health Building Fund Is Approved

A decision to contribute $5,000 toward construction of a building to house a City-County Department of Public Health was voted Monday by Lubbock county commissioners court.

The county's funds will add to $11,000 pledged by the City of Lubbock.

The building will be placed south of Fourth and east of Ave. A, commissioners were told, and construction will commence immediately.

Otherwise, commissioners:

Transferred $2,000 to the City-County Welfare association; authorized payment of $13,299.24 to Joe Telford, contractor, for construction of the Monroe park clubhouse; transferred $6,500 from the general to the officers salary fund; and, after canvassing the votes, ordered consolidated the independent school districts of Estacado and Lorenzo as favored by a 48 to 26 vote in the districts Saturday.

County Judge Walter Davies presided. Commissioners are R. O. Short, George G. Green, Ottis Isom, and Pat Corley. All attended. County clerk Louie F. Moore, ex-officio clerk of the court, took minutes of the proceeding.

Building Total Is Given Another Boost

Lubbock's 1949 building total reached $12,689,626 Monday afternoon, spurred mainly by eight permits for residences issued to Johnnie Arnold, builder, at a total cost of $48,000.

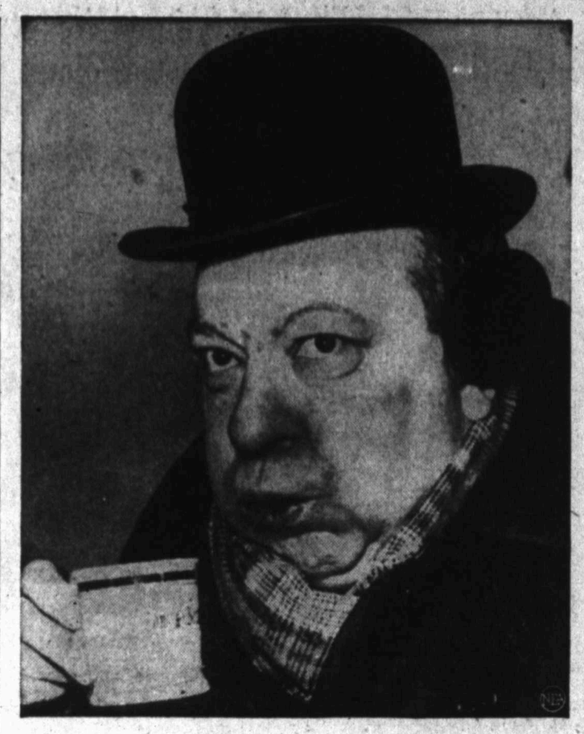

The October total climbed to $1,576,821, bringing assurance that October will be one of the largest building months of the year, records of Lloyd Ross, building inspector disclosed.

The eight residences to be built by Arnold will be located in the 1300-block of Fortieth and Forty-first streets, the records showed. Of typical frame construction, they will contain four rooms and bath each.

B. L. Williamson, owner, and Joe Telford, contractor, received a permit to construct an addition to a feed and seed store at 335 Ave. H, in the amount of $7,000. D. E. Waters received permit for a residence at 2608 Thirty-eighth, $7,600.

JAYCEES HEAR STATE SENATOR

Morris Blames Indifference For Loss Of Rights In Speech Here

Senator G. C. Morris, acting lieutenant governor of Texas, Monday told Lubbock Jaycees "indifference by voters within the state is why we are losing our state's rights to the federal government."

Speaking at a luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel, the veteran lawmaker said "the trouble with Texas is that one voter does the thinking for the other three citizens of the state when it comes to expressing political desires."

He pointed out that only 990,000 Texans voted in the 1948 gubernatorial election of 4,000,000 potential voters.

Overspending Explained

"The coming election Nov. 8 when Texans will vote on 10 constitutional amendments will find only one of every 10 Texans at the polls," he predicted.

In rapid fire order, Senator Morris berated fellow office holders by saying "the state needs higher caliber public servants" and "many of our office holders need to do right from moral and spiritual standpoints."

However, he said the overspending of some legislatures was due to groups who let their wishes be known.

"The most powerful force in the world today is not the atom bomb but public opinion," he declared, "and unless the majority of the citizens of this state make their wishes known, the legislators will go right on listening to those small groups who at least take a stand."

Jaycees Commended

Senator Morris also stipulated "it is false economy not to meet the present needs of our eleemosynary institutions. Those institutions are in such deplorable condition that Texas will face a national scandal within a year unless something is done in the near future," he warned.

He commended the Jaycees for their participation in promoting higher salaries for school teachers and for improvements of the Texas prison system.

"I know of no organization with more vitality of potentiality than this group of young Texans," he said.

In a lighter vein of thought, the senator apologized for his speech inasmuch "as it should be made to an older group of men. You

Jaycee Fund Aids Children

Three children wore warm clothing to school Monday and ate something besides crackers for breakfast after being the first children aided in the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce youth welfare program.

One little boy had been wearing torn jeans and the helmet he wore in the 1948 Soap Box Derby, in which he won in his division. One of his sisters had been wearing jeans cut down to fit her and another sister had been wearing a frayed dress and worn shoes.

The clothing was provided at cost by Dunlap's.

The money used is part of the proceeds the Jaycees obtained as result of sale of tickets for the Rogers Bros. circus. Proceeds the Jaycees received will be used in the new youth welfare program, which will not be limited to race or creed or color or to type of need. Clothes, food, medical care or other help will be given in needed cases involving children.

In addition to providing clothing for the three children who were the first to benefit under the program, the Jaycees are providing food for consumption at home and are arranging for lunches in the school cafeteria.

The children range from 6 to 14 in age. Jaycee investigation showed the father had left them. The mother has been picking cotton to support her family.

The youth welfare committee is composed of Dustyn Norris, chairman, Hill Baggett and George Seagler.

The committee will not give money to persons aided, but will pay bills for food or clothing or other items provided.

Persons knowing of children who need help under the program may call Norris, 2-0969; Baggett, 2-5531, or the Jaycee office, 6861, it was announced Monday.

The committee is seeking to locate a food store which will aid in the program, either in providing food for cost or other arrangement.

south and slightly west of Seminole, had reached 11,812 feet in Simpson sand and shale, and was boring deeper.

This venture topped the McKee sand of the Simpson at 11,720 feet on an elevation of 3,332 feet.

It took a one hour drillstem test at 11,690-760 feet. Recovery was the 3,000-foot water blanket and 230 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

The prospector is due to continue to 12,500 feet to test the Ellenburger.

It has shown for possible production in the lower Permian and also had a thin streak of the Devonian which showed for a possible 40 barrels of oil per hour during a drillstem test.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19, block A-24, psl survey.

SCURRY COUNTY WELL IS TAKING SURVEY

L. M. Lockhart of Corpus Christi, No. 1 B. M. McHaney, one mile south of the nearest completed producer from the Canyon reef lime on the southeast side of the North Snyder field, in North-Central Scurry county, topped the reef at 6,748 feet, according to an unofficial call. Elevation is 2,397 feet. That gives it a datum of minus 4,356 feet.

The venture is bottomed at 6,788 feet and was taking an electric log survey. Operator probably will take a drillstem test when the survey is completed.

The project should have approximately 150 feet of section above the Canyon water level.

70-Plane Search For Lost Flier Continues

WITH THE WESTERN TASK FORCE OFF HAWAII, Oct. 24 (INS)—A 70-plane search continued today for a missing Grumann Hellcat night fighter and its pilot who crashed off the Hawaiian islands last night.

The search was directed from the flag ship of "Operation Miki"—the huge armada of transports and Navy fighting ships converging on Hawaii to oust a mythical aggressor in the nation's biggest peacetime amphibious practice maneuver.

The carrier-based fighter crashed while engaged in fierce mock air battles with the aggressor defenders of the islands who are assumed to have captured them on a surprise strike.

The name of the pilot was withheld until his family can be notified.

The tempo of the "invasion" whose personnel are deadly serious, picked up as the 100-ship western fleet moved into striking range of the enemy-held islands.

The "aggressor" countered with steadily intensifying air attacks on the armada in an effort to sink the transports carrying a division of shock troops which will attempt the actual "invasion" in about two days.

Up to midnight, the "United States" force had "shot down" 24 enemy planes and "sunk" 13 submarines.

One of the attacking planes, however, hit the flagship USS Eldorado with two 500 pound "bombs" and theoretically put her out of commission for an hour.

Trial Of Aged Wooer Of Wealthy Widows Begins In Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 24. (INS)—Dapper Sigmund Engel, the notorious "knave of hearts" for whose attentions many wealthy widows in many lands opened their hearts and purses, went on trial today on a charge of swindling Mrs. Reseda Corrigan of $8,700.

Mrs. Corrigan is the red-headed Chicago widow who helped bring Engel up short and within target range of the law.

Thirty-nine-year-old Mrs. Corrigan claims that Engel has returned but $5,000 of the $8,700 she alleges he took from her.

Engel Cavorts In Court

Sigmund, gay as a lamb in the meadow with his recently-won freedom, bowed and cavorted in Judge George M. Fisher's criminal court.

The old mesmerizer flashed those wicked and blazing 82-year-old eyes and said:

"I'd love a jury of women. Bless their stupid hearts."

And Sigmund was holding his own.

Of eight jurors chosen thus far, four are women.

Engel came in with amazing bounce for an old gaffer. He sported a loud, flowered tie, and a fancy grey suit.

Appearance Defies Claim

The self-styled heart-breaker looked far from being ill. His wife, Mrs. Pauline Langton Engel, of New York, had pleaded Sigmund was too ill to appear in court.

Police have charged that Engel's "cash and carry" record is international in scope and includes scores of wealthy women victims.

Mrs. Corrigan charged the aged Lothario took her money while promising to marry her.

She but echoed the complaint of several women and James A. Brown, assistant state's attorney, said he expected to put on the stand widows to back up the swindling charges.

New York Critics Blamed For Failure Of Hollywood Troupe

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24 (INS)—A train load of pulchritude arrived in Hollywood today, crying the blues over the rough treatment handed them by New York drama critics.

The gorgeous gals are members of Ken Murray's "Blackouts" revue which folded after only 51 performances on Broadway. The show previously had been a smash hit in the film capital for 7½ years.

Heading the parade of lovelies was Pat Williams, who replaced shapely Marie Wilson as leading lady. She moaned:

"The critics killed us. Audiences were wonderful, just like they were in Hollywood, but the critics panned us. And we closed."

The redcaps at Union station just stared at the girls and mused:

"Can't see a thing wrong with them."

Happy Students Crowd Houston Streets

Unofficial Holiday Enlivens Rice Victory Over Texas U.

HOUSTON, Oct. 24 (U.P.) — Rice institute's jubilant football frolics overflowed into downtown Houston today as students took an unofficial holiday to celebrate the 17-15 win over the University of Texas.

The campus at 9 a. m. was almost deserted. Football heroes were lofted onto the shoulders of some 500 students who surged down busy Main street, tying up traffic as they loudly chorused their alma mater, "Rice's Honor."

Dr. William V. Holton, Rice president, declined at first to say it was a school holiday.

But he grinned broadly when he and other members of the faculty found campus gates barred with logs and crates, making entry hazardous.

Holiday Is Granted

Later, greeted by tumultuous scores of students that should have been in class, he relented.

"It's your holiday. You deserve it. Enjoy it. The Texas victory jubilee is getting to be an institution," Dr. Houston said. "Once it was an exceedingly rare occasion. It comes more frequently of late."

Dean of Students H. S. Cameron found himself surrounded by "captors" at the campus gates. "How could I be angry," he laughed.

Out on Main street the delirious mob demanded speeches from Coach Jess Neely and several Rice stalwarts.

"To give credit where it's due, I'd have to go all down the line, all over the backfield, and down the bench. They were all great," Coach Neely shouted.

Houston Police Busy

Slightly less jubilant were Houston police, who hurriedly formed blockades on both sides of a line of cars belonging to celebrating students. The cars were parked on Main street in front of the Rice campus.

Officers handed out 30 traffic tickets to students for "obstructing traffic," and one patrolman returned to his motorcycle to find the tires deflated.

Spreading the gospel, small groups of Rice students swept onto the University of Houston campus just before noon. The university students greeted the celebrators courteously, cheered their own Cougars first, and then let out a few whoops for the Owls.

Coach Jess Neely made no mention of the "holiday 'atmosphere.

"I'm anxious for things to settle down to normal again," he said. "We've got Texas Tech ahead this week and then a rough conference schedule in which anything can happen."

Unemployment is on the increase in Northern Ireland, Belfast reports.

Thieves Roll Out Carpet To Protect Feet During 'Job'

WILTON, Eng., Oct. 24 (AP)—One hundred yards of red carpet was found laid across the muddy yard of the Wilton Royal Carpet factory today.

Thieves used it to keep their feet dry as they carried away £418 ($1,170.40) worth of rugs.

Bodies Of Two Texas Soldiers Washed Ashore In Maryland

EDGEWOOD, Md., Oct. 24. (U.P.)—Funeral services were held at the Army chemical center here today for three soldiers whose bodies were washed ashore during the weekend.

Army authorities said the three men were reported missing last Monday when they failed to return to the post after the weekend.

They were identified as Privates Patricio M. Pena, of Laredo, Tex.; Richard Avila, 18, of San Antonio, Tex., and Juan B. Duran, 19, of Santa Fe, N. M.

Officials said the three men apparently were drowned. However, an investigation is being conducted to determine whether any violence may have led to the deaths.

Plane Delayed

Morris, who was introduced by Homer Wright, chairman of the Jaycee Americanism committee, arrived at the luncheon at 12:30 p. m. because of delay to his plane trip caused by inclement weather.

Bill Tinney presented man-of-the-month awards to L. B. Smith and W. Thelburt Miller for their work on the agricultural committee in handling the first bale of cotton event here during August.

Jack Blankenship, who was program chairman, introduced Eddie Lennox of the Adair Music company, who played an Organo, an instrument that looks like a piano but plays organ music.

The publication contains eight pages printed on slick paper.

Frank Bernson gave the invocation and R. S. Wilkinson presided.

A special guest at the meeting was Preston Smith, state representative from Lubbock.

Permit Sought For Crosby-Hope Oil Test

W. A. Moncrief, sr., of Fort Worth, Bob Hope and Bing Crosby of Hollywood, Calif., and Paul Teas, of Dallas, have filed an application with the Railroad commission requesting a permit to drill their No. 1 E. S. Wilkinson as a direct north offset to Standard-Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 Wilkinson, recently completed discovery between the North Snyder and Kelly fields in Central Scurry county.

The drillsite is to be 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of the southwest quarter of section 17, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

It is to drill to 7,000 feet to explore the Canyon reef lime, using rotary tool.

House Hearings Bare Dispute Over Best Way To Fight Reds

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 — A story of bitterness and friction in the armed services has been unfolding in Congress. It amounts to a story of deep disagreement over the best way to lick Russia in case of war.

Lives and billions of dollars and the safety of the nation are at stake.

What started all the fussing? Why are great war heroes, distinguished Americans, calling names and throwing rocks? What are the main issues and argument?

And what comes next?

Some Answers Found

Nobody has all the answers. But some of them came out in two weeks of hearings by the House Armed Services committee. And signs appeared that pointed, perhaps, to others.

Basically, the dissension has grown out of the Navy's feeling that it is being slighted. It thinks the Army and Air Force have ganged up on it. It thinks the Air Force, especially, is getting a better deal in money to spend on a kind of warfare that is wrong, a kind that goes in for intercontinental atom bombing.

The Army and Air Force say they aren't trying to sink the Navy.

The present fight dates back to efforts to push an armed forces unification law through Congress. The Navy, for the most part, was against it all the way. It finally went through in 1947.

Congress revised the law this year to give Secretary of Defense Johnson more responsibility and power.

Memorandum Turns Up

An anonymous memorandum turned up on Capitol Hill last spring. It hinted at frauds and use of political pull in the developments of the B-36 bomber program.

The Armed Services committee ordered an investigation that uncovered Cedric R. Worth, then a Navy department official, was the author. The committee decided unanimously there had been no political conniving or corruption in connection with the B-36.

Then Navy Captain John C. Crommelin burst out with a statement saying the B-36 affair was only a symptom of bigger troubles. He said Pentagon policy makers were ruining Navy morale and fighting efficiency and Congress ought to look into it.

He followed up by slipping to the press confidential letters in which some of the top admirals endorsed views about like his own.

Crommelin is under suspension, facing prospects of a court martial.

That was the backdrop against which the House committee held its hearings.

Top Brass Is Heard

Every top admiral, active and retired, gave his views. Then the committee heard the Army and Air Force chiefs, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the policy-making joint chiefs of staff, Secretary Johnson and finally ex-President Hoover.

What will the immediate results be?

On the basis of committee and Pentagon reaction, it looks as if:

1. Denfeld may be booted out as chief of naval operations and naval representative on the joint chiefs of staff. Other officers also may be cut back. But there have been pledges there will be no reprisals against the Navy, only efforts to put somebody on the team who will work with the team.

2. The Navy won't get its supercarrier.

3. The Air Force will go right ahead with its B-36 and plans for strategic bombing.

4. Johnson is going to run things pretty much his own way at the Pentagon and keep on trying to economize.

5. Congress intends to horn in a bit on some of the strategic planning.

6. The confidence of the people in the military high command may be weakened until there are signs of better cooperation.

SENATORIAL SEAT AT STAKE

Gabrielson Challenges Truman To New York Campaign Swing

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Republican National Chairman Gabrielson today challenged President Truman to stump New York in behalf of former Gov. Herbert Lehman's campaign for John Foster Dulles' seat in the U. S. Senate.

Gabrielson issued his challenge while it was learned that Democratic National Chairman Boyle will conduct a survey in New York to determine whether a Truman speech is necessary.

Lehman, Truman Confer

Lehman conferred Sunday night with Mr. Truman at the White House. A highly-placed Democratic spokesman remarked:

"We expect victory but we don't expect any runaway in New York."

Gabrielson sent out his challenge from New York, where he is working with Dulles' campaign managers. Gabrielson said:

"If Mr. Truman decides to come to New York to try to defeat Sen. Dulles, the issues will be more clearly drawn than ever — free government versus statism.

"That is what we Republicans want as a prelude to recapturing Congress in 1950.

Campaign Weakening Indicated

"We would welcome it if the President comes here. The fact he is considering it again indicates a weakening of the Lehman campaign.

"The record of Sen. Dulles is splendid and rock-ribbed, and enough to win on. With the other issues, we are confident of victory which the President could not stop."

During Lehman's conference Sunday night with Mr. Truman the possibilities of a presidential campaign speech were discussed.

Speech Called Unnecessary

After the White House meeting, Lehman told reporters Mr. Truman had offered to make a campaign speech, but that he told the President he thought it "unnecessary."

Lehman received the backing of the American Federation of Labor while in Washington, and the Democrats feel that he can beat Dulles with the support of organized labor.

The former governor is an ex-chief of the old United Nations relief and rehabilitation organization and was a close friend of the late President Roosevelt.

Wagner Post At Issue

At issue is the Senate seat of former Sen. Wagner, veteran "liberal" Democrat, who quit the upper chamber because of ill health. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey named Dulles to serve in Wagner's stead until the special election could be held Nov. 8.

Political experts view the New York race as a contest neither party can afford to lose in view of the forthcoming 1950 congressional campaigns.

They pointed out that a Dulles victory would rocket GOP confidence of recapturing control of Congress in 1950.

On the other hand, they said, a victory for Lehman would make the Democrats confident they can retain control of Congress next year.

Motor Freight Line Hearing Set Nov. 3

Hearing on the application of the Curry Motor Freight Lines for an extension of its Odessa to Amarillo line into Borger has been set for Nov. 3 here by the Railroad commission. The application was made approximately two months ago by R. C. (Art) Jordan, president of Curry Motor Freight Lines.

The main points emphasized in his application are that the proposed route to run over Highway 36 from Amarillo to Fritch, Sanford, Borger and Phillips, gives Borger competitive motor freight service. It also counted by day and night one-line service the Permian Basin ports of Odessa and Midland with freight hubs like Lubbock, Amarillo, and Borger, the distribution point for the Panhandle oil and gas fields and for the giant Anadarko Basin. Interchange of freight which is now necessary for motor freight going into or out of Borger often results in damages and delays, the application points out.

The new route would give shippers in all cities between Odessa and Borger fast one-line hauls to their customers.

The Curry lines were established in 1927 between Plainview and Amarillo. They now offer day-and-night service between Amarillo and Odessa and a looping S curve off their north-south mainline serves the South Plains points from Plainview south and east to Ralls, Lorenzo to 2.oLa Lockney, Floydada, Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo, to Lubbock and thence from Lubbock to Brownfield and into Lamesa or from Brownfield to Odessa.

Federal Jury Convicts Man In Lake Tahoe Boating Mishap

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 24 (AP) — A federal jury today convicted Oakland automobile dealer Phil Davis of negligence in the speedboat accident on Lake Tahoe in which 14-year old Imogene Wittsche lost both feet.

The jury of eight men and four women brought in its verdict after one hour's deliberation.

Four Die In 'Needless' Gun Battle Over Son

BLAIR, Kans., Oct. 24 (AP)— An unemployed war veteran who killed three persons and was slain himself in an attempt to regain custody of his son, had been told "you can have the boy" just before he opened fire, officials said today.

Galen Woods, 29, killed his former wife's sister and her husband Saturday, then was slain in an exchange of gunfire with his former father-in-law, who also died of bullet wounds.

Shots grazed his 28-year-old ex-wife and injured Frank Freiburg, Bern, Kans., a family friend.

The shootings occurred at the farmhouse of the father-in-law, Oscar Tarter, 60. Mrs. Woods moved there after obtaining a divorce last week on grounds of gross negligence.

Authorities said Woods threatened to wipe out the family unless he was given Sammy, his elder son. The divorce court gave Mrs. Woods custody of Sammy and Danny, four months.

Tarter told Woods "you can have the boy." But Woods fired anyway.

The first shot killed Mrs. Woods' brother-in-law, John Sharp of Elwood, Kans. Freiberg was struck in the side before Woods fired at his former wife, then killed Sharp's wife.

Tarter seized his rifle and he and Woods killed each other in an exchange of shots.

Sheriff Frank Carter described Woods as a "pretty tough boy who didn't support his family."

SOLVING PROBLEMS

The Airport Huddle

AN example of what the spirit of give-and-take can produce when fair-minded men meet for a face-to-face discussion of difficult problems was supplied the other day in Lubbock.

The problem concerned the uses of Municipal airport by planes of the re-activated Lubbock Air Force base along with commercial airlines, private pilots and for the Texas Tech aviation training course. The problem was, and is, to work out an arrangement which will be safe and efficient for all those purposes. Correspondence, telephone conversations and other contacts failed to produce a solution.

Then representatives of LAFB, the City and the Airport committee of the Chamber of Commerce went into a huddle. Each discovered that all the others wanted to be reasonable. None had any desire to curtail any of the uses to which the airport is or will be put.

Thirty minutes of face-to-face discussion made more progress than many weeks of correspondence. The details of coordinating the uses of the airport still remain to be worked out — and some of them are difficult. But no one doubted that they would be worked out to a high degree of satisfaction to everyone concerned.

The results were a concrete demonstration of a happy relationship between the LAFB personnel and the City of Lubbock which is pretty sure to mean much in terms of a greater base and a greater Lubbock. They demonstrated the spirit of unity which assuredly will translate into greater strength and greater achievement for both.

Lucky To Be Alive

AMONG the luckiest people of 1949 are the 11 Communists upon whom Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, of New York, passed sentences last week following their recent convictions on charges of advocating the overthrow by violence of the government of the United States.

Judge Medina slapped 10 of the Reds with the worst penalties he had authority to impose — five years in prison and a $10,000 fine in each case. The remaining defendant got off with three years and $10,000.

Even so, these hoodlums are lucky — lucky they are in the United States; lucky to be alive. In Soviet Russia, the model for the terroristic dictatorship they conspired to impose upon this nation, the bare suspicion of similar conspiracy would have meant their "liquidation" long ago — and that of their lawyers who did everything they could to turn the trials into a chaotic mockery of justice and judicial procedure.

Judge Medina, meanwhile, has emerged from the proceedings with nationwide recognition as one of the most distinguished and most courageous jurists in the federal judiciary. During the nine months of the trial, he endured the personally contemptuous conduct of the defendants and, more particularly, their lawyers. He kept the proceedings going when the lawyers did everything they could to force the declaration of a mistrial, which would have meant indefinite delay in disposing of the cases and added enormously to the huge costs involved — paid, of course, by the taxpayers. He subordinated all other considerations to the one purpose of making sure that the Reds were given a trial — a fair trial — when they sought by every means possible to prevent.

Due largely to Judge Medina, 10 of the accused now face sentences as severe as the law will allow. Most Americans will be entirely content to accept his judgment that the remaining defendant deserved lighter punishment.

But many Americans undoubtedly will concur in the regret that U. S. laws limit the penalties in such cases to fine and prison. There will be certain regrets that the punishment for these violators are not like those of their beloved Russia, where the suspicion of conspiracy against the tyrants usually means a firing squad.

There's no Forgotten Man during election year.

Jenny becomes the mother of twins. Tod graduates from college and they are invited to live in the guest cottage of an old friend, Rick Morris, until Tod finds a place in the city. Tod is sullen, suspecting that Rick is in love with Jenny. Even Jenny's friend, Nina Cushman, advises against this move, but Jenny likes the place. Tod's moods grew more disagreeable as he is unable to adjust himself to commuting. Jenny accuses him of grumbling.)

XX

"OH, so I grumble!" Tod said bitterly. "Who wouldn't! I slave in that hot office all day and then drag home on that jolting old bus in the heat, breathing carbon monoxide fumes all the way, eat dinner, go to bed, get up and do the same thing all over again the next day."

"But darling, we'll find some place to live in Capitol City soon. Meanwhile, why don't we try to be contented here."

"Why shouldn't you be contented?" he exclaimed. "You sit here in the cool cottage all day, eat a leisurely lunch, nap when the twins do, go for a swim with Rick—"

"If that's the sore point, I can tell Rick that you—"

"That's not the sore point!" he snapped. He pushed away from the table. The screen door banged after him.

Jenny got up and stood in the doorway, watching him stride down the driveway and then off across the park. Every time they quarreled he went off like this and after a while he'd come back and everything would be patched up.

However, when Tod returned on this evening an hour or so later, he was still sullen. He came into the cottage and flung himself down in a chair and lit a cigaret before he spoke to her.

"I ran into Ma downtown today," he said. "She looked terrible. I'm worried about her. She wants me to stay with her during the week and come down here weekends."

There was a stubborn set to his jaw. "I told her I'd think about it. And I've decided it might be a good idea. Commuting is getting me down."

"But Tod, the twins and I will be here alone, and surely you—"

"You know you can always depend on Rick."

Anger swept through her in a fierce rush. "Tod, you're being deliberately hateful."

"All right, I'm being hateful. Ma needs me. She's all alone and she's not well. I'm concerned about her. I see no reason why I shouldn't stay with her during the week instead of riding back and forth on that beastly bus. If you really needed me here evenings, it would be different. Besides, like Ma said, I'll have some time to look for a place for us. She said she'd help me find something."

Jenny bit her lip to keep it from trembling. "You—you will try to find a place."

"I said I would, didn't I?"

JENNY wondered if Rick and his mother believed her when she said Tod was going to stay in town to try to find a place.

Jenny tried not to feel resentment toward Tod's mother and she reasoned that the temporary separations would draw Tod and herself closer together. But before long, she began to have a panicky feeling that instead, a gulf was widening between them. One hot evening in August Tod phoned from Capitol City to say that he wouldn't be home for the weekend. Ma was sick. "Ma needs me."

Jenny's eyes filled with quick tears as she hung up the phone.

That wasn't the real reason he was staying away. He had never been contented in the cottage. He seemed to resent Rick. Jenny left the twins with Mrs. Morris that Saturday morning and borrowed Rick's car to drive up to Capitol City, resolved to rent the first place she found that she could live in.

It turned out to be a basement apartment on a shabby side of town. It smelled a trifle musty, but on the south there was a row of windows.

There was a fireplace, too, wonderful for cold winter evenings and dismal afternoons. Aside from those two advantages, however, there was little to be said for the apartment. The kitchenette, a converted closet, was dark and damp and smelled of mice and roaches. The tiny bedroom's window opened on an alley. And the rent was far too much, $65.

A basement would be damp, Jenny mused, and probably not too good for the twins, but she could take them for long walks in the sun to make up for it. She'd have to keep them off the floor, but it wouldn't be long until they'd be out of the crawling stage anyway.

ONCE she'd made up her mind to take it, she felt elated. Tod was surprised when she phoned him. "But Jenny, whatever made you take it into your head to drive up and look for a place yourself?"

"When you said you weren't coming home this weekend, I couldn't stand it," Jenny answered. "I felt that any place, no matter how shabby or inconvenient it was, would be better than our being apart. I hope you like it. It's not bad, really!" Her voice grew hoarse with excitement, her weariness over the long day's search gone now completely. "It even has a fireplace."

"That's wonderful, Jenny."

"It's not in a very nice part of town, but—"

"Well that doesn't matter too much. After all it's just temporary."

"I'll see about renting a truck to move our things up Monday."

Jenny walked out of the phone booth on winged feet. Another fresh start for them, she thought happily. Everything would be all right now.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

THIS column is being written in a hotel room in Baltimore, Maryland.

It is the living room of a beautiful suite which costs seventeen dollars a day.

Now please don't think that my column pays me enough to stop in seventeen-dollar-a-day suites when I go traveling.

BRANDEIS

And even if it did, I certainly wouldn't pay seventeen dollars a day for an overnight bed, unless what happened to me last night should happen again — or unless some stick-up man took the money away from me at the point of a gun.

But it simply was impossible to get a decent room anywhere between Philadelphia and Washington last night.

So I had to take the only thing I could get—and this is it.

The reason I am in Baltimore —is that yesterday I gave a talk to a group of about 100 women at the Country club in Norristown, Pa., and this afternoon I have to be in Washington.

So here I am.

In case you never stayed in a seventeen-dollar-a-day suite, let me give you a little description of this one.

First of all, there are nine floor-lamps in this layout, in addition to the dome lights. When I got in here, dead-tired last evening, I spent several pleasant minutes just trying different combinations of these lamps. It was wonderful. Green and red, blue and yellow—all sorts of possibilities for a fancy dance with light effects.

There are two radio sets in my suite, one in each room. I tried them both. They worked fine. But the trouble was with the programs. The same old programs you and I enjoy turning off at home.

I even played both at the same time—a political commentator on one, a beebop band on the other.

It didn't make them any better, so I turned them off and went to bed.

But I must tell you a little more about the rooms.

The parlor is a dream. Or, perhaps, I should say a nightmare. The most gorgeous fur-

DP Bill Okay Seen

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Although the bill to increase the number of Displaced Persons entering the United States was placed back in the deep freezer in the closing hours of the Senate, it is scheduled for renewed debate early in the 1950 session. Members of Congress from states with many voters of foreign extraction dare not face the electorate without trying to get action then.

It was lost by a margin of 36 to 30 in an Upper House depleted by end-of-session absentees. But Senators still in Washington engaged in scenes of unusual bitterness. At one period five angry solons were on the floor at once yelling at one another.

One reason for the tense situation surrounding the legislation is that it is loaded with racial and religious dynamite, two volatile subjects which always inflame political emotions.

JUMP: Chances of fairly swift passage next year are excellent as full membership will be at hand. Recent opposition came mostly from three sources: (1) Diehard anti-foreigners and isolationists. (2) Objectors to the manner in which it was sprung from the Judiciary Committee without adequate hearings. (3) Senators who wanted to go home and feared that a filibuster would rob them of their trip.

Many in the latter two groups are likely to swing over to the proponents in January. Perhaps not more than 25 or 30 in all will vote "no" in the final decision.

Advocates want to jump the D.P. rolls from an authorized 205,000 to 339,000 of whom 18,000 would come from the stranded Polish Army in Britain, 15,000 recent refugees from Iron Curtain countries, 4,000 from exiles in China and 5,000 orphans. Up to September 30, 1949, only 90,000 have arrived or are en route.

POPULATION: To many this seems like a drop in the bucket for a nation of 150 million people to absorb. But the bill's foes think otherwise. They point out that Uncle Sam has accepted more than four and a half million immigrants since 1921 and that much larger numbers came before the bars were raised in recent years. Our own population has jumped 18 million five hundred thousand since 1940. New births and newcomers, they say, are pushing old timers out of jobs.

Senator Langer of North Dakota, whom some consider narrow-minded, nevertheless, expresses the hostile sentiment of many in the Prairie States, in charging that quite a few D.P.'s aren't what they are cracked up to be. Instead of being eager to fit into our scheme of life, the critics assert, large numbers are smugglers and chisslers.

One western farm family hired a maid. She objected to the long hours of farm life. She learned only enough English to say she was through. Another poor family in the Middle West took their D.P. on a vacation. The women of the family were startled to find that she had all-alligator luggage, a luxury none of the Americans could afford.

DIAMONDS: Two international waifs arrived at a modest home in the Middle West. They unpacked a fur coat valued at a thousand dollars. Next day they asked what was the market price of sterling silver and where they could sell a couple of diamonds.

A careful check, however, shows that these cases are exceptions. Most of the newcomers are worthy people, who, like our earlier immigrants, will grow to be fine American citizens, grateful to the land that gave them liberty and opportunity. Seventy five per cent come in family groups and 84 per cent are under 44 years of age, young and physically able to put their shoulders to the American wheel.

Among those who would be welcomed under the bill are 18,000 veterans of the General Anders' Polish army, who fought beside our troops in Italy. They helped free Italy but they lost their own country when the Communists moved in.

WITNESSES: Senator Dulles of New York recalls how hard Molotov tried at the Council of Foreign Ministers in London in 1945 to get them in his clutches. He demanded that they be sent back home—sent back so Red firing squads could reward them for defending Poland against Russia. "Molotov didn't want them loose in a free world as witnesses of Soviet Communism," declares Dulles.

"I twice visited Buchenwald and Dachau," says Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts. "I saw the misery and the fear of concentration camps. Two years ago I inspected European D.P. units. Many of Hitler's victims were still there without homes. I believe we have a moral obligation to keep our word and give them real freedom."

FAVOR: President Truman strongly favors letting them in. So do many Republicans like Taft, Ives, Baldwin, Lodge, Ferguson, Knowland and others from the industrial states. These Republicans are moved by pity and a desire to fulfill our pledge of liberation.

They are shrewd enough to realize that the D.P. issue is one means of offsetting labor antagonism to the G.O.P. By championing the exiles, most of whom have relatives here, the Republicans can win favor among groups of foreign stock, who normally are Democratic chiefly because of labor. It is a case where charity pays off in votes.

"Hopi Indian priests thrust a live rattlesnake in the mouth and prance around the ceremonial ring in a plea to the Gods for rain." Personally, we would rather bring rain by washing the car or planning a picnic.

A conservative is the man who adds the dinner check and counts his change.

As the usual thing, the fellow with an ax to grind already has his wits sharpened.

Another trouble with the country is that many people think an education without integrity is important.

Heredity is usually something upon which we blame our weaknesses.

Slick propaganda is the kind that is tasteless when swallowed.

Members and guests of the 1928 Bridge club were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leo Edwards, 2317 Fourteenth.

A Hallowe'en motif was used in decorations of the home, and Hallowe'en novelties were given as plate favors. High score prizes were won by Mesdames Vernon Brown and Dick Skelton.

Those attending the affair were Mesdames Newma Roberts, O. H. Harris, Mike Brennen, W. D. Harrold, Dick Skelton, M. N. Hale, J. C. Powell, J. R. Bush, R. W. Crowder, jr., C. D. Wiley, Dewey McClellan, J. A. Phillips, jr., E. L. Pitts, Lee Ragland, Dan Barrier, Vernon Brown, J. G. Porter, and Fred Childress.

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the George M. Hunt school was held Thursday afternoon at the school building with a large number of the members attending.

A short playlet, "Hallowe'en At the Back of the World," was presented by the younger children of the school. M. H. Duncan, superintendent of the Lubbock public schools, made a short talk.

Believe It Or Not -

NAVAL GROUP PUSHED FIGHT

Navy Also Split Over Dispute

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. (NEA)—There's no question that Capt. John G. Crommelin is playing the role of hero and martyr as far as all naval aviators are concerned.

But there is no such certainty that all of the Navy's "mud-hookers" think so. In fact there is some evidence of a small revolt among them. A "mud-hooker" is the somewhat disdainful name which all Navy fliers use for anyone in the non-flying branches of the service. Actually, it's a sort of revolt within a revolt.

So far the naval aviators have done practically all of the feuding with the Air Force and with the Department of Defense officials. Crommelin is one of the most ardent defenders of naval aviation of them all.

Older Officers Alarmed

Up until now the mud-hookers have been more or less content to go along with the arguments of the fly-boys. A big fraction of the surface fleet exists to support the air arm. To that extent mud-hookers and fliers have pretty mutual interests.

But now many of the strictly seagoing admirals and senior officers are beginning to drag their feet in the fight. They don't all approve of the tactics which have been used by the aviators in getting their side of the fight laid before Congress and the people.

The Navy's tradition of strict adherence to orders of officers appears to be more deeply ingrained in the surface and submarine boys than it is in the newer aviation branch of the Navy. The more conservative old line officers are shocked at such tactics as Crommelin has used. None of them will speak out and openly criticize him. But privately they admit that the dispute reached a stage where the whole Navy might be more seriously injured than its air arm can be helped.

ADM. LOUIS DENFELD, chief of Naval Operations, also happens to be the Navy's No. 1 mud-hooker. He's primarily a submariner and battleship man. For that reason his spot is twice as hot. He's caught between the whole Navy and Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson's office on the one hand, and between the fliers and the mud-hookers inside the Navy on the other.

Denfeld's apparent obeisance to Johnson on the key issues in the dispute, such as the order for the cancellation of the giant carrier by the joint chiefs of staff which was signed by Denfeld, and the big recent personnel cut which hit naval aviation hardest, has weakened Denfeld's hand in trying to control his fliers. Many naval aviators have long been muttering that Denfeld has deserted their cause. Although many of the fliers will also argue that Denfeld hasn't represented the Navy as aggressively as he might on the joint chiefs of staff, most of the mud-hookers take his side on this issue.

It rankles a lot of the non-fliers how the aviators have tended to steal the show in the Navy during and since the war. And they point out that the world military situation today tends to minimize the relative importance of aviation in the Navy. Russia is the only possible enemy and she has no aircraft carriers or much of a surface fleet, as far as the best intelligence reports indicate. So there is no imminent threat of a seaborne air attack on the U. S. in case of war.

Soviets Build Up Subs

Russia's big naval threat is under the water with its powerful fleet of German-type submarines. It is pointed out that the most effective weapon against an enemy sub is another sub. That's one of the main reasons why the submarine branch of the Navy has been the only one to have its appropriations consistently increased since the war, while the other branches have taken cuts.

Of course, the real reason for most of the bitterness in the Navy is the cancellation of the big carrier. This was to have put it in the thick of offensive atomic bomb warfare. This is proved by the statement which Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the Navy's No. 1 flier, was finally able to make in an open committee of Congress.

HE devoted his entire appearance to a condemnation of the B-36 bomber, calling it "useless as a defensive weapon and inadequate as an offensive weapon." It was the success which the Air Force claimed for the performance of the B-36 which ultimately led to the cancellation of the big carrier. Apparently Radford feels that if he can convince Congress that the B-36 isn't capable of delivering A-bombs to Russia, there is still a chance that the big carrier might yet get built.

But the mud-hookers are beginning to wonder if the big carrier is worth all the trouble.

Stable French Government Sought As Marshall Plan Deadline Nears

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

For France, as far as politics are concerned, tomorrow can always be another day. Georges Bidault is attempting to form another government. Tomorrow another French leader may be trying.

The French have been without a government since Oct. 6, when Henri Queille quit. His government had run the show for 13 months. The longest time any French group had stayed in power since the end of the war. Since Oct. 6 three men have tried to set up a new government — Jules Moch, Rene Mayer, now Georges Bidault.

Aid Deadline Unlikely

The worry for Americans is that we have poured billions into France since the war in the hope of getting a stable, anti-Communist government. We would like to stop our help by 1952, but Marshall planners say every French political upheaval, such as is going on now, makes that deadline more unlikely.

French soil is considered an important anti-Communist beachhead by some people—not all—in both the State Department and the Defense Department.

What is the trouble?

Top Problem Cited

State Department men, the French embassy, Marshall planners all agree there is only one top problem right now—French prices have risen so much faster than French wages. Trade union leaders don't like it, and workers don't like it. They want higher wages the minute prices threaten to go higher.

Two things have occurred to drive French prices upward in two months:

A drought this year. French farms produced less. Food prices threaten to go upward.

The French government devalued the franc. That will mean France must pay more for everything it buys here, and Frenchmen will have to pay more for every product that contains American raw materials.

niture your grandmother ever laid eyes on. But no two colors match.

When I woke up this morning and went into the parlor, I thought that something had gone wrong with my eyes. I wanted to ask whether there is a good eye doctor in Baltimore.

But when I got used to the dazzle, I realized that it was the color combination and not my eyes.

WITH all this magnificence, I couldn't find a place to put my portable typewriter. The maid had never heard of such a thing as a typewriter stand.

So we took one of the lamps off a little gate-leg table, (I said 'we,' because it took the two of us, the maid and me, to lift that lamp), took the glass top off it, and on went the typewriter.

No chair in the room was the right height, so now I am sitting on the Baltimore telephone book (classified section up), composing my column.

I shall be ready to leave here in about ten minutes.

But I am not going to. I am going to stay until exactly three o'clock this afternoon. That is checking-out time, and, at seventeen dollars a day, I am going to get my money's worth right to the bitter end.

By the way, I am looking out of my window into the offices of an insurance company.

It it ten-thirty in the morning, but five girls are standing at the window in animated discussion. I wonder whether they are discussing the possibility of asking for time and a half for not working.

Shivers Given First Honorary Degree By East Texas College

MARSHALL, Oct. 24. (U.P.)—Gov. Allan Shivers today received his first honorary degree since he became chief executive last summer after the death of Beauford H. Jester.

East Texas Baptist college bestowed the degree of docter of civil laws upon the governor. Dr. H. D. Bruce, president of the school, conferred the honor.

'Cut For Thyselves'

Shivers said he spoke as a Baptist who also happened to be governor of Texas. He chose as his text the 17th chapter of Joshua in which Joseph declared to his tribe who wanted more land that "if thou be a great people, get thee up to the wood county and cut for thyselves."

He declared that the American and Texas heritage was dedicated to christian principles and called on the people to continue to dedicate themselves to the Christian religion as a bulwark against communism and fascism.

The ceremony was forced indoors because of inclement weather. It was held before a jam-pack crowd in Scarborough Memorial chapel. An early morning parade was cancelled because of rain, but a breakfast was held in honor of the governor and Mrs. Shivers, and a noon barbecue was held in the college dining hall.

Dr. Bruce was assisted at the degree awarding by Dr. Glynn Brooks and Dr. Stephen E. Smith, both of the East Texas Baptist college faculty.

Dr. James W. Wesley, dean of the college, made the welcome address; Col. Byron G. Blalock, former national Democratic executive committeeman, made a welcome address on behalf of the city, and Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive-secretary of Baptist General convention, made one on behalf of the Baptists.

Son Of Hollywood Comedian Enters Hospital With Polio

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24—(INS)—The 6-year-old son of comedian Parkyakarkus, was under treatment for infantile paralysis today at Los Angeles county General hospital.

The boy, Stewart Einstein, was reported to have a light case of the type of polio that affects the limbs.

He was sticken last Saturday and admitted to the polio ward the following day.

Separated Couple Reverses Pattern In Film Colony

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24 (INS)—The trial separation of Phil Silvers and Jo Carroll Dennison found the film and stage comedian moving in with his mother-in-law today and the Miss America of 1942 renting a bachelor apartment.

The comedian said that he liked his mother-in-law, Mrs. Carroll Dennison, so much that he wanted to stay with her.

Jo Carroll, on the other hand, was so miffed at her mother for siding with her mate that she insisted on living apart from both of them.

Dog Accompanies Comedian

Thereupon, Silvers rented an apartment for Jo Carroll near Hollywood's fabulous Sunset strip. He then took the family dog and moved into Mrs. Dennison's home in Westdale village.

Explained Silvers.

"I've got the best mother-in-law in the world, she understands me better than anyone else. She now has complete custody of both me and the family dog.

"I only hope that Jo Carroll soon will realize that the separation is all a mistake and will come home to mother too."

Mrs. Dennison described Silvers as the swellest guy in the world." She said that she was delighted that he had moved in with her.

Striking Oil Workers Reject Bid Of Houston Chemical Plant

HOUSTON, Oct. 24—(AP)—Striking oil workers international union members have rejected a proposal by an international official to return to work.

Some 200 membems of local 227, OWIU, unanimously decided yesterday not to return to work at Mathieson Chemical corporation unless they have a contract. They have been on strike 14 weeks.

Ivan B. Haven, OWIU international representative, made the back-to-work proposal.

Haven was sent by union President O. A. Knight after Knight ordered the dismissal of two officials of Local 227, local President Billy Kieke and Secretary-Treasurer Arthur Hajecate.

The executive board of the local voted to back Kieke and Hajecate and directed them to remain in office.

Attorneys for Knight and other international officers and 13 members of Local 227 took the inter-union row into district court Saturday.

An injunction suit petition seeks to have Kieke and Hajecate removed from the local's headquarters and to keep them from collecting union dues and writing checks on union funds.

Know the store behind your diamond!

Few of us, unless we're gemmologists. . .can tell the difference between two diamonds even after the most thorough examination. Two diamonds of the same size that appear exactly the same to the layman may in fact be hundreds of dollars apart in value. Frequently, a large diamond that appears perfect is actually worth much less than a smaller stone that is flawless in color, cut and clarity. Carat weight alone does not determine the value of a diamond. Color, cut and degree of perfection all influence the value greatly. This is why it is important that you KNOW THE STORE BEHIND THE DIAMOND YOU BUY. . . .YOU KNOW ANDERSON BROS., LUBBOCK'S OLDEST AND FINEST JEWELERS, who has not departed from their old tradition of offering you the highest in quality, the best in value, and the most courteous in friendly service.

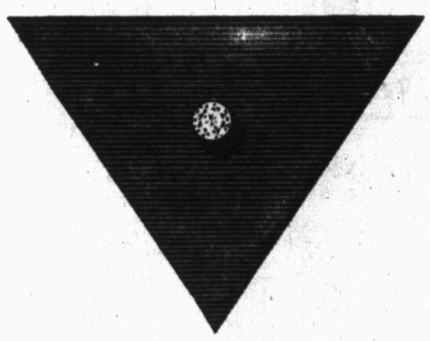

Which is best?

¾-CARAT—PERFECT
400.00

Now On display in our store are 2 diamonds of the same size.... both perfect, yet at the same percent of markup there is $350.00 difference in cost. We cordially invite you to come in and test your knowledge to see if you can determine which is the better. There is no obligation. It's educational! It's fun! It's free! Do come in and permit us to show you why the reputation of your jeweler is your best protection.

¾-CARAT—PERFECT

Anderson's

Sell more FINE d i a m o n d s than any other jeweler on the South Plains. For 26 years, Anderson Bros. has enjoyed the confidence of the buying public. Our policy still stands. IF YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH THE QUALITY AND VALUE OF YOUR PURCHASE FROM ANDERSON BROS., NEITHER ARE WE SATISFIED, AND WE ASK THAT YOU BRING YOUR PURCHASE BACK. Anderson's are never higher, and in most instances for the same quality merchandise our prices are substantially lower than elsewhere.

Court Postpones Smithwick Trial

BELTON, Oct. 24. (AP)— Judge Wesley Dice today ordered the murder trial of Sam Smithwick postponed until Dec. 12 because of the absence of several defense witnesses.

Smithwick, 61, sat in court all morning just a few feet from Mrs. W. H. (Bill) Mason, widow of the man he is charged with murdering.

Mason, 51, a veteran newspaperman and radio announcer, was shot near the heart in his car on an Alice street July 29.

Widow Urges Speedy Trial

"You know, when other women's husbands die they can grieve and not have to go through all this," Mrs. Mason said. "I wish we could get this over with."

She is an attractive blonde woman and today wore a small black velvet hat, multi-colored print silk dress and grey tweed coat.

She sat at a table with District Attorney James K. Evetts of Bell county and District Attorney Sam Reams of Jim Wells county, of which Alice is the county seat.

Smithwick sat right across the same table with his three lawyers.

"I feel all right," he said. He had a worried look on his face and most of the time stared into space.

Witnesses Are Absent

Henry Taylor, sr., of Temple, attorney for Smithwick, told Judge Dice that the defense was not ready this morning. Sixteen state witnesses were present but only two of 13 defense witnesses called were here.

"The defendant alleges the absence of several witnesses material and competent for the defense," Taylor said.

He asked the judge to quash the venire — a special venire of 97 men present in the courtroom today — and to continue the trial until the January term of court.

Judge Dice overruled the motion to quash the venire and granted the postponement only until Dec. 12. He instructed the same veniremen to report back then and not to discuss the case with anyone in the meantime.

Sits With Attorneys

Smithwick sat with his three attorneys this morning — Taylor, Byron Skelton of Temple, and H. M. Wilder of George West. He wore dark blue trousers, wool coat, sweater and tie and a blue and white striped shirt.

He went back to the Belton jail where he said he "just sits — my glasses are out at the ranch still and I can't get them."

The youngest of his seven children — Robert, 19 — was here today with his bride of less than a month but went back to Alice right after noon.

Mrs. Mason has been staying with friends in Alice since her husbands death. She and a companion who came with her yesterday, Mrs. W. A. Swope of Alice, said they would go on up to Dallas for a few days' visit with more friends and then go back to Alice.

H. Duveen, 70, oldest blood donor in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, says it has done him good and cured his rheumatism.

Progress In Traffic Safety Claimed As Illusion By Official

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—(INS)—Vice-President Norman Damon of the Automotive association charged today that the United States is making no progress in traffic safety and will never do so until the public "bestir itself to break this awful chain of cynicism and apathy."

Damon told delegates to the 37th annual convention of the National Safety council in Chicago:

"We have not claimed and cannot claim any real progress so long as each year we count 32,000 traffic dead and more than a million injured, with some of these permanently crippled, and some $2,800,000,000 economic loss.

Safety To Remain Illusion

"Until the American public bestirs itself to break this awful chain of cynicism and apathy, traffic safety in the United States will remain an illusion."

Damon disagreed with those who would attribute death tolls to "differences in population density, vehicle registration, geography and climate." The Automotive association president said that it was his belief that the high tolls resulted all too often because autoists were paying a mere lip service to safety, rather than making a sound and resolute effort to avoid accidents.

Nation's Weaknesses Cited

Damon said that among weaknesses in the nation's traffic safety program were inproper licensing of drivers, lack of followup of chronic violators, lack of statewide uniformity of police enforcement and traffic court administration, lack of adequate instruction to beginning 'teen-age drivers, and soft punishment for reckless drivers and drunken drivers.

Earlier, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, also told the 12,000 delegates that one of the most difficult problems in accident prevention is the apathy of the American public.

Other officials estimate thde nation's traffic death toll since the atom bomb was dropped on Hiroshima at 400,000—or almost triple the number who perished in the Japanese city before the world's most lethal war weapon.

School Officials Hear Gloomy Report On State Mental Health

AUSTIN, Oct. 24. (AP)—A gloomy picture of the mental health of Texas school children was presented here today at a meeting of the Association of Secondary School principals.

Out of every classroom of 40 children, three will spend part of their lives in a mental hospital, the schoolmen were told by Dr. Lester A. Pierce, director of the University of Houston's psychological center.

Speaking on the need for a system of profesional guidance and counseling in junior and senior high schools, Pierce added that an additional four children in a classroom of 40 will have serious emotional disturbances and eight others will have serious problems of various nature.

Pierce said Texas schools are on a par with those of other states in providing proper counseling but the procedure is nevertheless "haphazard" in most cases.

He urged the employment of one full-time professional counselor in each secondary school plus a part-time counselor, and homeroom teachers selected for their interest in such work.

Wall Street

MARKET IS ACTIVE

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (AP)— Stocks didn't move very far from their starting point today, but considerable activity was churned up in the process.

Losses were confined to fractions and gains ran up to a point among leading issues.

The net results was a virtually unchanged market on average with the plus and minus signs almost in balance.

The steel and coal strikes have gone on longer than most traders felt would be the case when they started weeks ago.

Wall Street felt their ace in the hole for ending the strikes would be President Truman's intervention to force a settlement of some kind. The White House so far has said nothing. And results from labor-management negotiations have been nil.

Another cause for caution at this time is the schedule of dividend meetings this week including U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, and Standard Oil (NJ). What kind of fourth quarter outlook will these and other directors report! What about dividends?

Standard Steel Spring Co. declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents as against 30 cents paid the previous quarter. It closed up ⅜ at 18¼.

Gold mining shares generally were higher.

Douglas Aircraft, which was strong Saturday, started higher early in the day and reached a new high before it turned around and closed off ½ at 71½.

Activity was pronounced in Warner Bros. pictures which closed unchanged at 13, the second most active stock in the list.

In fact, out of the 15 most active issues, seven were unchanged, seven were up by ¼ or less, and one lost ⅛.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 67 although the utilities component gained .1 of a point.

The volume of business was 1,240,000 shares. Of 1,013 issues traded, 274 were higher and 361 were lower. On the way up 42 new highs were set and on the downside there were 3 new lows established.

Small gains were made by U. S. Steel at 24⅝, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 61¾, Chrysler 53⅝, Boeing 22¼, Philco 30¼, American Smelting 47½, Allied Chemical 193, Santa Fe 100, Southern Railway 32, Gulf Oil 68½, Celotex 17⅛, U. S. Gypsum 100½, United Cigar 3⅜, Childs Co. 3¼, and United Corp. 5.

Similarly small losses were registered by Republic Steel 31⅛, Studebaker 24⅛, Lockheed 22¾, Radio Corp. 12⅝, Zenith 28½, International Telephone 9⅛, Kennecott 47⅛, International Nickel 28⅛, American Cyanamid 45¼, Westinghouse 28⅝, Philip Morris 48⅛, American Woolen 24½, American Tobacco 71½, Union Pacific 80⅛, Texas Co. 62¼, and Johns Manville 42¼.

The curb market moved narrowly for the most part.

The bond market was a mixed affair with trading the lightest in about three weeks.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady in slow trading today. Most of the demand came through mills in the nearby deliveries, with New Orleans buying the new crop months which are selling at a discount to the old positions. Hedge selling was limited.

Heavy rains in parts of Central Texas overnight were expected to slow the harvest and lower the grades.

Cotton closed steady.

FEDERAL DEPARTMENTS AID

Drive To Ease Unemployment In Threatened Areas Given Boost

By RICHARD M. PALMER
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The Defense and Labor departments today paced an administration drive to ease unemployment in areas where industries are being hit by slumping business and lack of jobs.

Contractors handling Army, Navy and Air Force orders were asked by defense officials to subcontract such orders with firms in distressed areas wherever possible. The department explained that the step was taken in line with President Truman's program to alleviate unemployment in distressed areas.

Labor Secretary Tobin asked the governors of the 48 states to set up state and local committees charged with making plans to combat joblessness wherever it exists.

The secretary told state officials that by "following wise policies we can hope to maintain economic activity at levels which will prevent a general unemployment problem."

Tobin suggested that management, labor, local government and the public be represented on the committees. He pointed out that 36 labor market areas are classified as having "very substantial" labor surpluses. A new report on this situation is due about Nov. 1.

The coal and steel strikes have sent unemployment soaring across the manufacturing heart of the nation, and government and industrial leaders have predicted that millions will be idle if the strikes stretch into Dec. 1.

In addition to Tobin's move, surveys of the jobless situations are being conducted by the Commerce department and the bureau of employment security.

Investigators are trying to determine exactly what industries and firms are contributing to jobless pools in their areas.

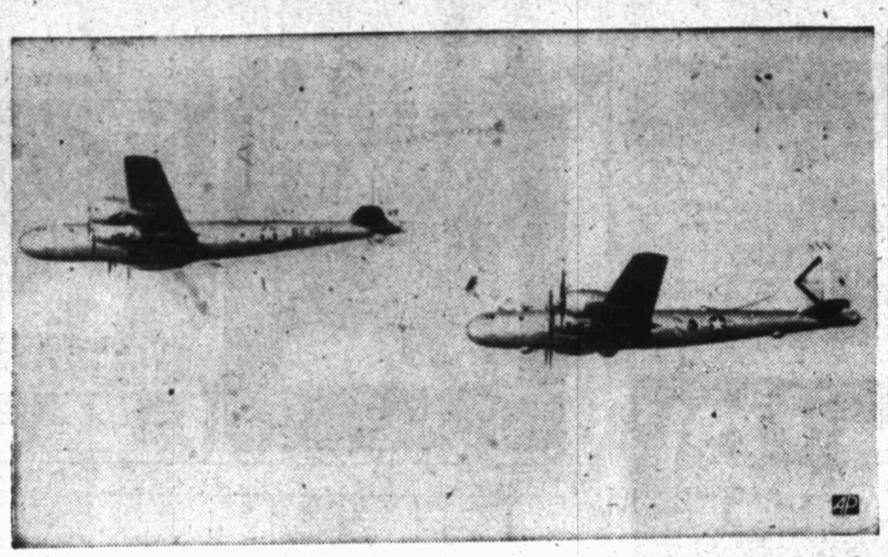

They also are seeking to find out whether the government can do anything about the situation by stepping up its commodity purchases in commercial markets.

The budget bureau has ruled that agencies may advance their buying instead of spreading purchases out over the entire fiscal year.

The Army already has decided to step up its purchase of textiles in an attempt to aid in that industry.

Corporate profits have been reported by the Commerce department to have declined for the third straight quarter during the second three months of 1949.

Second quarter profits were estimated at $6.6 billion or 12 percent below the previous three months.

Five Are Injured As Bus Hits Ambulance

HOUSTON, Oct. 24. (U.P.)—An ambulance on an emergency call collided with a city bus early today, injuring five persons, one seriously.

Ambulance driver Joe L. Deleon, 24, was pinned under the ambulance and had to be extricated with a wrecker.

Three other persons in the ambulance were identified as Petronilo Guajardo, Gonzales Suacedo and Matilda Sanchez, the patient. The fifth casualty was Steve Nix, 33-year-old driver for the Houston Transit Co.

Witnesses said the bus was moving through traffic on a green light when the collision occurred. Both vehicles were hurled into a service station, the bus shearing off a gasoline pump at ground level.

Mexican Paper Declares Vast Gold Smuggling Ring Operating

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24 (U.P.)—Almost 1,000 pounds of gold are smuggled into the United States from Mexico each month, according to the newspaper Ultimas Noticias.

The newspaper reported yesterday that the vast smuggling operations are costing Mexico about $200,000 (U. S.) a month from losses in export taxes.

Noticias said smugglers buy gold from miners who fail to report their diggings from the state mine supply in Chihuahua, and sell it at a profit of from $10 to $15 an ounce.

Bodies Of Drowning Victims Recovered

AMARILLO, Oct. 24. (U.P.) — Emergency crews braved rough waters of chilled Buffalo Lake today to recover the bodies of I. E. Hanson, 34, and his nephew, 11-year-old Jerry Hanson.

The body of young Hanson was recovered at 6 a. m. Search crews waited for the churning waters of the lake to calm somewhat, then returned two hours later to find the body of the boy's uncle.

Harris Grand Jury Rules Man Wrong In Argument With Police

HOUSTON, Oct. 24—(U.P.)—A Harris county grand jury ruled today that socialite Stanly D. Tinsley was wrong in his argument with traffic police last Oct. 8, and indicted him for speeding, careless driving and use of abusive language.

Tinsley, 28, and his just-married bride, the former Peggy Sanguily, 23, had their honeymoon abruptly postponed when officers stopped them near the Shamrock hotel, engaged in hot verbal exchanges and then took the couple off to jail.

It was the day of Houston's 10-inch rain and subsequent flood, and officers claimed they stopped Tinsley's car at Shamrock hotel "for his own protection."

Tinsley promptly asked a grand jury hearing, charging "brutality" on the part of the four policemen. The officers countered with a charge that Tinsley was intoxicated, was a second offender, and should be indicted on a felony charge.

The jury, however, refused to indict Tinsley on the felony charge, even though a dozen or more officers testified and later told reporters that Tinsley was intoxicated when he was taken to jail.

An indictment was also returned against 97-pound Mrs. Tinsley, charging aggravated assault on officer H. L. Yarbrough, one of the arresting officers.

Mrs. Richard, a resident of Brownfield since 1942, died about 7 a. m. Sunday in Hobbs General hospital. She had owned and operated a cafe on the Tahoka highway in the eastern part of town.

Whisky Drinking Messenger Charged With Being Drunk

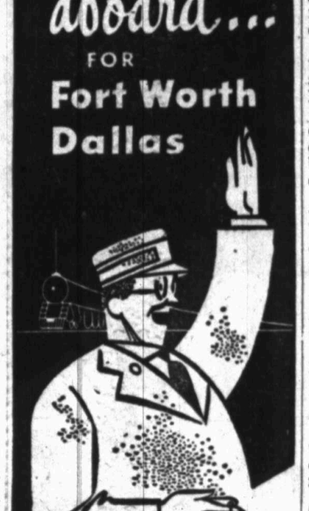

Call a cop! That's what a Lubbock negro did Monday, complaining that he gave another negro $5 to go get him some whisky and the messenger drank it.

Police went to a store in the 200 block Eighteenth street, where the original owner of the $5 said the messenger had refused to make good the money.

Asked by police if he wanted to give back the money, the man said yes, and did.

Police then took the 29-year-old messenger to jail, where he was filed on for drunkeness.
