Robbers Turn Back Toward Kansas After Successfully Eluding Pursuers In Long Chase In Colorado

(By Associated Press)
CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 14.—(AP)—One Colorado officer was killed and three others wounded in gunfights with the trio of desperadoes who robbed the Manhattan, Kan., state bank of $4,000 today and turned back into Kansas tonight after adding their escape with two automobiles commandeered at pistol points.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Hickman of Eads was shot to death when officers sought to halt the robbers two miles east of Eads. Deputy Sheriff Bill Mosher was shot in the leg.

Sheriff Wounded
Five miles west of here one of several hurriedly organized posses in eastern Colorado clashed with the bandits. Sheriff William Cor was wounded in the left leg and Deputy Sheriff George Hollingshead suffered an arm wound.

In racing through other villages, the trio took the automobile of Fred Hadley, a deputized citizen and fled eastward into Kansas. Near the Kansas line they overtook two youths and abandoned their car for the one in which the boys were riding. At Kanorado they compelled a filling station attendant to fill their gasoline tank and near Huleton, about nine miles east on U. S. Highway No. 40, they passed a sheriff from Goodland, Kan., who was on the lookout for the car they had abandoned.

Pursuers Eluded
The trail led on past Colby, Kan., where several cars were in hot pursuit. The bandits eluded the pursuers, however, by doubling back to Colby and changing their course. It was believed they either continued on to the north or south.

Claim Conspiracy In Doheny's Case

Government Testimony In $100,000 Bribery Trial Attempts To Prove Agreement With Albert Fall

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 14.—(AP)—Testimony intended by the government to show that Edward L. Doheny conspired with Albert B. Fall, secretary of interior in the Harding cabinet, to get possession of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve was introduced today in Doheny's trial on a charge of giving Fall a $100,000 bribe.

E. C. Finney, solicitor of the interior department and first assistant secretary under Fall, testified that Fall personally executed the lease which gave the Elk Hills reserve to Doheny's Pan-American company. Fall apparently did not handle oil leases, he said, being done by subordinates. He testified that his lease and one granted the Mammoth Oil company controlled by Harry P. Sinclair were the only ones executed by Fall.

The defense scored when Justice William Hix sustained its objection to the introduction of a letter written by Fall to the senate oil committee, in which the cabinet officer said he received $100,000 from Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher. The letter was offered by the prosecution in an effort to show that Fall, in writing the untrue statement, was attempting to shield Doheny, who had sent him the $100,000 in cash.

Blonde Gungirl Goes on Trial

Dressed in black, Mrs. Irene Schroeder, "blonde gungirl," is pictured here leaving the courtroom at New Castle, Pa., where she is being tried for the fatal shooting of Corporal Brady Paul of the Pennsylvania state police, last Dec. 27. The state asks the death penalty.

Irene Schroeder Is Identified As Blonde Gunwoman

Holdup Victim Testifies In Trial Of Woman For Murder Of Highway Patrolman Brady Paul

(By Associated Press)
NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 14.—Irene Schroeder, on trial here for murder of Highway Patrolman Brady Paul, was identified today as the gunwoman who held up a motorist at New Castle, Pa., and stole an automobile a short distance from where the officer was fatally wounded. She was identified by the motorist, Ray Horton, of New Castle.

Horton said that about noon, December 27, his roadster was forced to the curb by a small coach. A man got out and demanded Horton's car, backing up the demand with a gun. As Horton stepped out the woman from the other car met him with a gun, told him to leave his motor running, forced him to hand over his money and his driver's license.

The man, Horton testified, brought a bag and a child from the smaller machine. As he left him to get in the roadster, Horton said she told him she would "plug" him if he moved. The roadster then was driven rapidly away and Horton notified police. Asked if the woman who held him up was in the courtroom, Horton said, "Yes, there she is," and pointed to the defendant.

New Senators Are Chosen On Prison Committee Friday

Advocates Of Rehabilitation Of Present System Gain Upper Hand When Senate Members Of Group Resign

Seek Compromise

Proponents Of Fifty Cent Sulphur Tax Favored In Preference To Proposed Tax Of One Dollar

(By Associated Press)
ASTORIA, March 14.—Advocates of rehabilitation of the penitentiary system rather than construction of a new industrial unit away from present-owned lands and proponents of a 50 cent sulphur tax in preference to a $1 levy held the upper hand in the legislature tonight, after the senate conferees on these subjects resigned and new members were appointed.

The new penitentiary bill conferees stood three to two, and probably four to one, for the house's idea of renovating and enlarging existing facilities without leaving the present properties, and it was likely the entire new contingent named to trade on a sulphur tax would vote against a levy in excess of 50 cents.

The new senate conferees: Penitentiary bill, Senators Tom DeBerry of Bogota; W. N. Martin of Hillsboro; Clint C. Small of Wellington; Chas. S. Garner of Bryan; and Julian P. Greer of Athens; sulphur, Senators A. J. Wirtz of Seguin; M. M. Moore of Greenville; Carl C. Hardin of Stephenville; Ed Westbrook of Sherman and Oliver C. Cunningham of Abilene. Senators DeBerry, Martin and Small were opponents of the proposal to centralize near Austin. Senator Greer's position was doubtful and Senator Garner was a proponent of the administration bill. Senator Cunningham was the only new sulphur conferee favorable to $1.

The senate refused to instruct its new conferees on either subject. A motion by Senator Wirtz to instruct the penitentiary committee against any plan to build an industrial unit away from existing properties was defeated 16 to 11 and a proposal of Senator Love that the sulphur conferees be directed to advocate a 75 cent tax as a compromise with the house advocates of $1.

America And Japan Nearing Agreement

Naval Conference Cheered By Word Of Approaching Settlement Between Two Nations At London

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 14.—The naval conference was cheered today by the news that an American-Japanese naval agreement had moved a step nearer.

Only one more step appeared necessary—final approval of home authorities, particularly Tokyo—for the compromise which is said to satisfy fully the desire of each country, including a solution of Japan's demand for a 70 per cent ratio of American strength.

Nothing Made Public
While there was much talk today of the agreement, nothing was made available as to whether its terms would be announced immediately after approval or held until included in the framework of the five power treaty, the goal of the parley.

The Franco-Italian deadlock remained the most critical phase of the conference, and the delegations hope that Andre Tardieu, the French premier, will bring some help toward solution when he arrives tomorrow.

Governor Blocks Attempt Of House To Jail Witness

Theodore Bilbo Of Miss. Issues Pardon To Lawyer Before Arrest For Refusing To Give Facts

JACKSON, Miss., March 14.—By exercise of his pardoning power, Gov. Theodore G. Bilbo today blocked the Mississippi house of representatives in its attempt to jail a witness who refused to give the facts of an $80,000 distribution to stop an anti-trust suit against a road material concern.

The house voted 111 to 10 to send Carl Marshall, Gulf Coast attorney, to jail because he refused to testify in full about the deal, but before the writ could be served on the lawyer Governor Bilbo issued him a full pardon.

Taken by surprise, the house adjourned until Monday to look up the law. Meantime, Marshall was free, but the investigating committee, headed by Representative Sam Anderson, will search for a legal opening around the governor's pardon.

Marshall said he was willing to tell the house committee the truth if he could get released from confinement, but he explained his friends would not release him. He refused to say if any part of the money was paid to any state official to prevent trial of the $100,000 anti-trust suit against the Warren Brothers, Boston, Mass., road material manufacturing concern. Marshall said he received $80,000 in $10,000 and $5,000 bills from a representative of the Boston firm in Memphis, last September, and that $10,000 was used as attorney's fees for himself and a Jackson law firm.

Time for Appeal
If McKenize is found sane at the hearing next week, the death sentence given him two years ago will become operative, and under the ordinary rules of procedure he would be transferred immediately to the penitentiary at Huntsville for execution. Under the present status there will still remain the unexpired portion of the 50 days granted to prepare the appeal.

Judge McCrory announced he would see McKenize is not executed until his appeal is disposed of.

Mrs. Ella Blake Reaches New York to Demand Royalties on Broadway Hit

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 14.—Mrs. Ella Blake, whose son, Robert Blake, was the author of a sketch, written while he was in the death house at Texas penitentiary while awaiting execution a year ago, on which is based the first act of "The Last Mile," current Broadway success, was in New York today.

She arrived last night from Amarillo, Tex., to consult John Wexley, author of "The Last Mile," concerning the share of the royalties she is to receive. Negotiations have been pending for several weeks. Wexley and his agents have offered Mrs. Blake ten per cent of the royalties, which would mean about $100 a week.

McKenzie Denied Writ In Move To Delay Execution

Sixty Day Respite Granted From Electric Chair As Time For Attorneys To Prepare Appeal Of Case

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, March 14.—John M. (Pete) McKenzie, convicted slayer of Sam Street, detective chief, lost every motion in the 94th district court Friday, but delay incidental to the enforcement of the law stepped in and gave him at least 60 days respite from the electric chair, no matter what future events may develop.

Judge W. W. McCrory denied to issue a writ of coram nobis asked by McKenzie's attorneys, which would have reopened the case on as to whether McKenzie was insane at the time of his trial.

Overrule Motion
The court also overruled a motion to postpone the sanity test set for Monday morning, pending appeal from the decision on the coram nobis hearing.

Then the court granted the defendant's attorney 60 days within which to perfect an appeal. The sanity hearing will be held Monday. Judge McCrory instructed attorneys to be in court then, ready to proceed. The issue in that hearing will be whether McKenzie has become sane since his hearing last July, in which he was found insane.

Time for Appeal
If McKenize is found sane at the hearing next week, the death sentence given him two years ago will become operative, and under the ordinary rules of procedure he would be transferred immediately to the penitentiary at Huntsville for execution. Under the present status there will still remain the unexpired portion of the 50 days granted to prepare the appeal.

Judge McCrory announced he would see McKenize is not executed until his appeal is disposed of.

Woman Kills Hubby At Fort Worth In All-Day Row

(By Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, March 14.—After an all-day quarrel over a 15 cent ice bill, T. B. Thompson, 54, a farmer, was shot to death by his wife to whom he had been married 31 years, tonight. The shooting occurred according to Mrs. Thompson, 33, in the living room of their home on the C. B. Team farm, a mile north of the city limits.

"He grabbed me, threatened to beat me and then went to a closet for his shotgun before I picked up the pistol on top of the radio and shot him," Mrs. Thompson told Assistant District Attorney Rufus Lackland, police and a newspaperman.

She fired four shots at her husband, but only one of them took effect. It struck him in the back and he was dead when police and neighbors arrived.

Mrs. Thompson's story of having quarreled with her husband over the 15 cent ice bill was corroborated by Mlle Chandler, negro maid, who told Lackland that when the ice man delivered 25 pounds of ice in the morning, Thompson asked his wife to pay for it and she insisted he pay.

Throughout the day they revived the subject at numerous intervals and after dinner when their daughter, Mlle Ruth Thompson, 20, left home to attend a show, the quarrel was again taken up, she said.

Dr. Elliott M. Campbell, his physician, said he had shown no improvement during today.

Mission Work Is 'Holding Its Own'

Progress Reported In Both Home And Foreign Fields At Methodist Session In Amarillo On Friday

(By Associated Press)
AMARILLO, March 14.—Mission work of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, is "holding its own" in home and foreign fields, said reports prepared for presentation to the women's missionary council meeting here today.

The fact that requests have been made for 49 new missionaries in eight foreign fields for 1930 and 1931 was taken up by Mrs. Esther Case of Nashville, Tenn., in charge of foreign missions, as an indication that interest is higher than ever before. She said the demand was greater than the supply, as only 11 missionaries of the desired 49 were ready to go out this year.

Mrs. J. W. Downs of Nashville, home missions secretary, characterized her branch of the mission service as showing "greatly encouraging" progress. The present especial need, her report said, is development of the Christian social center, "as this type of institution meets the needs of a larger number of people than any other similar creation."

Advocates Of Pro Picture Improved Condition In U. S.

Second Week Of Testimony Completed By Dry Forces In Hearing; Witnesses Cite Amazing Changes

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 14.—Supporters of prohibition completed their second week of testimony against repeal of the 18th amendment here today, presenting to the house judiciary committee a picture of improved conditions among those who before prohibition were the world's outcasts. Men whose life work has been in the rescue missions of New York and Philadelphia asked that the dry laws be retained or strengthened. They said great good had been brought by prohibition to those who live in the Bowery in New York and similar sections of the great cities.

An amazing change has been wrought in the opinion of John Callahan, who for 16 years was chaplain of Tombs prison in New York and is often referred to as the "bishop of the Bowery," because of his 25 years of work with the Hadley rescue mission. He was seconded in this by John R. McIntyre, superintendent of the Whoseover Gospel mission of Germantown, Pennsylvania. John W. Helmhold of Camden, New Jersey and Frank Dippel of Philadelphia mission workers.

Say Repeal Unlikely
The committee also heard Raymond Robins, Chicago social worker, who held that repeal had not a "Chinaman's chance" because the major political parties are dry and there are no other alternatives.

Ralph H. White, of New Haven, Conn., concluded today's hearing by presenting the results of research done for the fact finding committee on law enforcement in Connecticut, with the conclusion that drinking had lessened in high schools and colleges and that prohibition laws were easy to enforce in his state.

Taxi Drivers Required To Obtain Permits; Naming Of New City Manager Is Considered Friday

IN MEETING yesterday at the city hall the Lubbock City Commission authorized the paving of south Avenue H, from the end of the present pavement at 19th street to the grade crossing of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad at 28th street, a distance of some seven blocks. This paving will be 50 feet wide and on a concrete base. As soon as detailed specifications are drawn advertisement will be made for bids on the project.

Highway Project
This paving, when completed, will join up with the proposed paving on state highways 7 and 9 which enter the city from the south.

Reports to the city commission by Drs. J. W. Rollo and Y. J. Allen, of the city health department, showed that general health conditions in Lubbock are satisfactory. Among other things the condition of Lubbock's water supply was found to be very good and discussion was held with regard to further insure the purity of the water supply by chlorination.

Tests which have been run on the supply are said to show no contamination of any nature but in the interest of absolute safety it is anticipated that a system of chlorination will be installed at a comparatively early date.

Inspection Progress
It was reported that work being done in dairy inspection is progressing nicely and that the city commission purchased an electric refrigerator to assist in making paper milk tests by the health department. A revised stock some ordinance was proposed and passed for its first reading, enlarging slightly the limits heretofore embraced by the existing ordinance. The city commission is of the opinion that from

Huston, Senator Blaine In Fiery Verbal Exchange

Question Of Introducing Records Causes Heated Argument In Hearing By Lobby Committee

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—Cassius M. Blaine, chairman of the republican national committee, became involved in a heated exchange with Senator Blaine of the lobby committee today over the question of introducing records of the Tennessee River Improvement association which committee members had asked for.

Huston lost the calm that has characterized his appearance before the senate lobby commission after Blaine had intimated he might object to a statement that the republican chairman said he wished to place in the record.

Blaine replied that it was not customary to permit witnesses to place statements in the record unless they were subjected to questioning concerning the statements. "All right, then, I won't do it," Huston retorted.

Feigning Illness Claimed. Worthington has been charged with feigning illness to escape questioning by the committee. He is in Detroit hospital.

Huston before the exchange with Blaine said he believed none of the proposals submitted for muscle shoals have been satisfactory to President Hoover. He added, however, he thought the bid by Henry Ford and that of the American Cyanamid company were satisfactory.

The improvement association, of which Huston is a former president and had advocated acceptance of the Cyanamid bid.

TAX REFUND OKED

Thirty-Million To Be Given Steel Corporation

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—Chairman Hawley of the joint committee of internal revenue legislation announced today the committee had approved a tax refund of $30,000,000 for the United States Steel corporation for the tax years 1918, 1919 and 1920, proposed by the internal revenue bureau.

An attack upon present methods of refunding taxes was made in the house by Representative Gardner, of Texas, democratic leader, in commenting upon the announcement of the refund to the steel company.

Gardner asserted the refunds should be decided by the courts and not by the internal revenue bureau and a joint congressional committee.

Police Hunt for Kidnaped Broker

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 14. (AP)—Police today were working to rescue Samuel Barron, wealthy real estate operator, from kidnapers, who seized him near his home at Interlaken, N. J.

Motive for the kidnaping, which occurred Wednesday night, was not apparent, as no demand for ransom has been made and Barron's wife and associates said they knew of no enemies he had.

Barron was waylaid as he walked toward his home from the Allenhurst station by three men who sprang upon him from roadside shrubbery. After a struggle he was subdued and lifted into an automobile driven by a fourth man.

Arthur Kelly, another commuter told police he was walking behind Barron and witnessed the attack and abduction.

Grundy's Past Activities as Lobbyist Now Threaten His Career as Senator; Fight Looms in Pennsylvania

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Writer

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—United States Senator Joseph R. Grundy, seeking nomination for the office he now holds only by virtue of appointment, may find his political career menaced by the Joseph R. Grundy who was a lobbyist.

Not that his cause is likely to be seriously damaged by his recent testimony before the senate lobby committee. Grundy was not a bit embarrassed in admitting that a magazine editor and "tariff expert" is in his personal employ.

But on the eve of a primary campaign which promises to be even more bitter, if less expensive, than that which involved Pennsylvania in scandal in 1928, it is an open secret here that all the outspoken prejudices of Grundy against women voters, against social uplift legislation, and against labor in general will be revived to plague him.

Big Battle Looms

Lobbyist Grundy, by sheer power of campaign contributions and his position as president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association, is credited with having made governors, congressmen and legislators, but never before has he held public office. Hailed upon his senate appointment a few months ago as the first real contender for the giant toga of the late Senator Boies Penrose, Grundy today is the center of a factional maelstrom.

Leading the forces of opposition at the primary is William S. Vare, contractor-boss of the Philadelphia republican organization whom the senate rejected only to have Grundy get the place. No candidate himself is Vare, but his machine is united and well-oiled. He is backing, in the senate race, the very man of whom Grundy said in a politically historic utterance of 1921:

"I will not sit down at the same table with a man who carries a Union card in his pocket."

That man, who rose from an iron pudder among the rail stacks and blazing furnaces of Pittsburgh to a cabinet officer under three presidents, is James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor.

Grundy's curt refusal to break bread with a protagonist of organized labor was made in response to a dinner invitation from the late Gov. William C. Sproul. The remark was considered typical of the industrial car.

Joseph Rudgway Grundy was born a Quaker, and even now, at 67, he sometimes slips into the act of "thee" and "thou" when aroused. Of medium height, he is inconspicuous in appearance—white hair and mustache, gold-rimmed spectacles, pink-faced, lively, twinkling eyes.

He and his father before him were students of politics. The son inherited the Grundy worked mills in his home town of Bristol. He learned the business from the bottom up, and it has made him very realistic.

Republicanism and a high protective tariff for industry, particularly Pennsylvania industry, have been his ruling obsessions. No one doubted him when, on the witness stand in Washington, he said: "The tariff is next to my religion."

His political manipulations and alliances are far too numerous to mention. He and Vare have been good friends and bitter enemies half a dozen times. Grundy has not always won in his political distasteful, but defeat there never seemed to halt the efficacy of his lobbies. He commands huge sums of money. In the 1924 campaign alone, he and his committee raised "at least $700,000," according to his own testimony.

In the 1926 campaign, he backed John S. Fisher for the governorship and Pepper, previously an enemy, for the senate. Fisher won, but Vare defeated Pepper. So Grundy immediately switched over and became, for the time, an ally of Vare. But Grundy lost a lot of friends during this hectic campaign, and former Governor Clifford Pinchot, now trying to win back his old job, is said to be one of them.

Thus the fight in Pennsylvania today. Having lost the senate seat through the ousting of Vare, the Philadelphia organization demanded the right to pick the next governor. Its choice fell on the broad shoulders of Francis Shunk Brown.

Had any other man been selected by the Vare machine, it is believed, certain that Grundy, in need of Vare's support to insure his return to the senate, would have approved.

Defied Grundy's Will
But of all persons, Brown is the man who, as attorney-general of the Keystone state in 1915, defied the will of Grundy and helped force through the legislature a

Livestock Royalty Under Hammer of Auctioneer at Fort Worth Explosion

(By Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, March 14.—Livestock royalty was sold under the auctioneer's hammer at the Southwestern Exposition and Fort Stock Show Thursday and before the bidding was over one record had been set and a number of near record sales made. The record was made when the champion boys and girls club lamb, shown and sold by Lewis Beck, San Angelo, was purchased by the Star Telegram for $13.30 pound. Aron G. Carter did the bidding.

The grand champion steer, College Inheritor, shown by the Oklahoma and M. College, made the top figure when he sold on a bid of $2 to the Fort Worth National bank. He will be served in the bank cafe for the employees.

Largest Steer Sells
The reserve grand champion steer owned and shown by C. M. Largent and Sons, Merkle, was bid in for the Fort Worth club, at 75 cents a pound.

The grand champion load of steers of the show, entered by the Tarkio Molasses Feed company of Harkio, Mo., went to the Fort Worth and Denver city railway for its dining car service. The bid was 20 cents a pound.

The San Angelo Vocational Agricultural Club calf, a champion went to the Texas and Pacific dining car service at 76 cents a pound. This calf had been fed by Jimmie McManus of San Angelo, who headed him in the ring during the auction. His introduction to the crowd brought a round of applause.

The grand champion barrow of the show went to Tom Cross of Armour and company for 15 cents a pound. The champion club pig, fed and exhibited by J. B. Booth, Birdsville, was finally knocked off to C. S. Wiles of Montgomery Ward and company, Fort Worth.

workmen's compensation act, a child labor law, and laws regulating the working hours of women. Grundy, they say, never forgives or forgets. He would not accept Brown as his running mate, and that was that. All the urgings of mutual friends and state committeemen were in vain.

For his own running mate Grundy has selected Samuel S. Lewis, a former state treasurer. Lewis is credited with being unpopular with the women of Pennsylvania—as unpopular as is the senator himself, whose thrust delivered in Boston is now being duplicated to be flung back into his teeth.

Pensylvania has learned its lesson of big expenditures from the fate that befell Vare after the 1926 campaign, and the use of money doubters will be carefully limited on all sides.

Board Of Regents Of University Of Texas Face Probe

Investigation Of Actions In Connection With Oil Suits Proposed In Resolution By Solon

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, March 14.—An investigation involving the official conduct of the board of regents of the University of Texas faced the house as a possibility today. There has been introduced last night a resolution under which a house committee and the state auditor would investigate the connection of the regents with suits brought against oil companies, which resulted in leases being held invalid on university oil lands in Reagan county.

The resolution was sponsored by Representatives J. R. Long of Wichita Falls, Coke Stevenson of Junction, Grady Woodruff of Decatur and Harry N. Graves of Georgetown.

Referred to Committee
It was referred to the committee on public lands and buildings for determination as to whether it shall be considered by the house.

Long declared he had in his possession information which would recover for the state "a $300,000,000 oil field."

The resolution pointed out that the results of the investigation could be considered by any subsequent session of the forty first, or by the forty second legislatures.

Issued Leases in 1924
The resolution set forth that in 1924 the land commissioner issued leases on Reagan county lands to the Texas Oil and Land company of Delaware, the Texas Oil and Land company of Texas, group number one of corporation, group No. 2 oil corporation, and the Big Lake Oil company, and that these leases had been held invalid for the following reasons:

That the applications for transfer of interest in these leases were not filed in the land office within the time provided by law; that no document for oil or gas had been initiated on these lands within the required time; and that the permits were not grouped in the required manner; and that said companies have been, and are now, conducting their operations in such a manner as to evidence an intention of defrauding the university of royalties due the university permanent fund.

Charges Regents
The resolution charged the university regents with expending the available university funds contrary to law as follows:

By paying for, or contracting to pay out of the available building fund more than $80,000 for attorneys fees; to pay out of this fund "large sums of money" for audits and salaries; by placing to the credit of the available building fund the income from the university's share of the Reagan County Purchasing company.

It would determine whether the university has been, and is, receiving its share of royalties due from oil and gas leases; the validity of all university leases and whether

Actual Construction Under Way To Provide For Grain Storage Of 1,250,000; Capacity 500,000

Actual construction work on additional structures which will provide for grain storage of 1,250,000 bushels and more than double the present capacity of Burrus Elevators, 305 Avenue M, was started yesterday.

The work comes as completion of plans started several months ago between officials of the Burrus company and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Double Capacity
One of the largest grain elevators in West Texas will be created with the increased capacity. Present capacity is 500,000 bushels, and facilities are to be added for handling 750,000 more bushels.

Forty-eight huge storage bins will be added to the present plant. There are at present 50 storage tanks, but they are much smaller than those proposed.

Steel To Conform
Style of construction, steel and concrete, will conform to the present architecture. The new building is to be modern in every respect. The general contract has been let to Southwestern Engineering company, Springfield, Mo.

There are 10 elevators in the Burrus system. The largest, 1,500,000 bushels capacity, is located at Dallas.

Valuation of the improved plant will approximate $250,000.

UNCOMFORTABLE AFTER MEALS

Indigestion Troubles Relieved By Taking Pinch of Black-Draught After Meals.

Jefferson, Ga.—Mrs. C. L. Lance, of this place, was bothered with indigestion a few years ago, and recently described how she was relieved. "After meals I would be so tight in my chest," she explained. "There seemed to be a lot of gas. This made me feel so dull and stupid."

"I did not have an appetite. My mother advised me to try Black-Draught, which I did—a pinch after meals. I certainly did get relief."

"When I feel the least bit out of sorts, I know just to do—I take Black-Draught. I can recommend it for constipation, headache, gas and indigestion."

All people—young and old—need "Theodore's" Black-Draught when troubled with constipation, indigestion, biliousness, which cause so many disagreeable symptoms. Thousands of people have written to tell how these troubles disappeared after they had taken Theodore's Black-Draught.

Lubbock Chamber Of Commerce To Aid Cotton Co-Op

Cooperation Will Be Awarded Moser In Campaign Here

B. C. D. Directors Vote To Aid Membership Drive In Texas Association; Head Coming Next Week

Upon his arrival in this city next week for purpose of inaugurating a membership campaign for the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, C. O. Moser, of Dallas, will be given every cooperation by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, according to an announcement yesterday following a meeting of directors of the organization.

Yesterday's meeting was attended by Dean A. H. Leighton, of Texas Technological college, a member of Governor Moody's market board, and R. E. Overstreet, director of the Texas Farm Bureau. Plan of the cooperative association was explained by the two men.

State Divided
Texas has been divided by the association into six districts, according to information placed before the board of directors. The district in which Lubbock is located is bounded on the south by Mitchell and Nolan counties and on the east line by Hardeman, Foard and Knox counties.

Directors of the chamber of commerce will make every effort to have Lubbock established as headquarters of the West Texas district. The headquarters will bring many employees to the city and hundreds of farmers here to transact business, it was pointed out.

Support Pledged
The directors pledged support to Southland to work in every way possible to have the state highway between Slaton and Post routed so that it will pass through the former city, as at present. This action was taken after committee from Southland had previously asked support, in response to rumors that that state highway department is making a survey to route the highway in such a manner as to pass by that city.

MacDonald Looks Forward To Fight
Government Facing More Dangerous Impending Tilt When Coal Mines Row Is Resumed

LONDON, March 14 (AP).—The government of J. Ramsay MacDonald, victor in one fight with its opposition, today looked forward to an impending more dangerous tilt a week from now, when the coal mines controversy is resumed.

A conservative motion of censure, blaming the government for the general depression, failed to pass the house of commons last night after a lengthy debate by a vote of 308 to 235, a majority of 73 for the government.

In opening the debate, Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader, predicted the government probably would win, and about 25 conservative members absented themselves from the house just before the division was taken.

Sir Herbert Samuel, speaking for the liberals, in an opening address announced his party would support the government, but the predicted unemployment would "wash away" the government.

Inclusion of the safeguarding, or protective tariff issue, in the conservative motion of censure alienated liberal support.

Hoover Prepared To Make Decision On Justice Post

Successor To Late Edward T. Sanford To Be Named By Hoover Soon; Host Of Names Confronted

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON, Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP).—President Hoover is prepared to make an early decision on the choice of a successor to the late Associate Justice Edward T. Sanford of the supreme court.

Confronted with a host of names, the president is believed by those who have conferred with him still to have an open mind. They also lean to the belief he is scanning the southland first. Justice Sanford came from Tennessee.

Republicans in Lead
Justice Sanford was a republican, but even should a democrat be named in his place it would leave the makeup of the court, five republicans and four democrats.

Several names are before the president from the south, including

Senator George of Georgia, Judge Samuel Sibley of the federal court for the northern district of Georgia, Walter C. Stacy, justice of the North Carolina supreme court, and Judge John J. Parker of the federal circuit court of appeals, fourth district. All of these are democrats except Parker.

To Avoid Extremist
White House callers also have gained the impression that the president will seek to avoid a man aligned with the extremist ranks of either liberalism or conservatism.

Another section believed to be receiving the president's attention is the third circuit, including the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. This area is now without representation.

NEW TRIAL DENIED
CORPUS CHRISTI, March 14 (AP).—A motion for a new trial for Mrs. Maude Long, sentenced to 25 years imprisonment for the poisoning of her husband, was overruled by Judge A. W. Cunningham at Kingsville today. Her attorney gave notice of an appeal.

New Plan for Division of U. S. Radio Facilities Among States Submitted

By MARGUERITE YOUNG, Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP).—The Federal Radio commission has submitted to congress a new plan for a division of radio broadcasting facilities among the 48 states.

Abandoning the present policy of allotting broadcasting privileges on a basis of population—laid down by congress in the Davis amendment, the plan would provide a formula for the division based on population, area and a so-called "principle of state's rights." The latter factor would give each state an equal part of one-fourth of all available facilities.

The proposed revision is before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee. Senator Dill, democrat, Washington, is writing it into a bill that would set up a federal commission to regulate all forms of communication.

Dill said today he would complete this section of the measure this week. The committee has ended extensive hearings on the bill, and will report it as soon as the tariff debate is over. Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, author of the bill and chairman of the committee, asked the radio commissioners to suggest a plan after they had testified that present regulatory provisions of the radio act were unworkable.

MAY PROSECUTE "Hot Dog" Mayor Opposed To Broadcast Ruling

DALLAS, March 14 (AP).—J. Ward Tate, "hot dog" mayor of Dallas, today threatened to attempt prosecution of the Texas Baseball league under the peonage laws unless the league permitted local radio stations to broadcast out-of-town games during the approaching season.

"I have written President Alvin Gardner of the league and asked him to retract the anti-broadcast order," said the mayor. "It is an outrage."

Some muscles caused postponement of the scheduled intra-club game.

CUB YANIGANS REST
WACO, March 14. (AP)—The Waco Yanigans, after defeating the Cubs for the second time Thursday afternoon rested on their laurels today, but will meet the regulars in a scheduled game again Sunday afternoon. Manager Pratt declared there would be no more cuts for a while.

The Waco skipper seems well satisfied as his regular outfielders, Bob Mangum, who showed great form in the spring last year, but wilted as the weather grew warmer, is again displaying great form with the stick.

CAT HURLERS SHOW ZIP
MINERAL WELLS, March 14. (AP)—The first game of the exhibition season is more than a week away but already Skipper Snyder is looking about for hurlers to work in that contest for Fort Worth. Bill Clarkson began to shoot the ball across the plate with a lot of zip this afternoon and Snyder immediately added him to the list. For the first time since he reported, Clarkson was cutting loose, putting something on the ball.

Other pitchers who appear well loosened up and ready to do a little mound duty in the practice series with the Orioles are: Dick Whitworth, veteran who was the first to get into shape; Dick McCabe, still a trifle portly but ready to toss a few; Mack Egan, the New Orleans adonis with a smooth motion on the mound and a fast ball that smokes on even chilly days and Paul Grubbs, the southpaw from the Sally League who appeared ready to pitch the first day and has been doing better every workout.

Fredie Schupp rounded into condition in a hurry and would have been on this list, but was stiffened up the last few days with stiffness on this veteran's south arm.

The University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech will share jointly the University of Pittsburgh stadium. SETS NEW RECORD

Miss Helene Madison Swims 100-Meter In 1:9 2-5

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 14. (AP)—Miss Helene Madison of Crystal Swimming club, Seattle, Wash., set a world's record for the 100-meter swim here today in the National A. Miss Madison sprinted the distance in a try against time in one minute, eight seconds.

Josephine McKim, Los Angeles Athletic club, established a new mark of three minutes, 49 seconds in the 500-yard swim. Officials ruled she swam the distance in one minute and eight seconds. The former record was set by Gertrude Ederle of New York in Miami Beach in 1925, but after a conference changed their decision. They ruled Miss McKim's time was nine and four-fifths seconds better than a record established by Miss Ederle at Brighton Beach, N. Y., in 1922, which was recognized as official.

Rejuvenated Club Has Started Off Program With Zip

'Run In And Run Out' Is Order For Redlegs; Stars Imported From American League Add Punch

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
ORLANDO, Fla., March 14. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds do not believe in signs reading "Walk, don't run." They plan to do a lot of running during the National league race and have started their program with a rush.

Howley Gets Results
Howley brought the St. Louis Browns from seventh place to third in the American league by running and he believes the same tactics will be effective in the senior circuit.

"If you are hustling every minute you will get a break," says Howley. "So we will run in to hit and run out to field, no matter whether we are a mile ahead or a mile behind."

There seems to be no question that the current edition of the Reds, under new management with Sidney Weil as president, offers a stronger front than that presented by the seventh place club of last year.

Club Has Power

Power has been added in the big bats of Harry Heilmann and Bob Meusel and the defense was strengthened with Leo Durocher, a sensational fielding shortstop, was imported, also from the American league.

The Reds will be able to put practically two teams in the field, one boasting a big punch and the other carrying a scoring and fielding edge. If the powerful guns of the offense pile up a lead, the defensive stars can be rushed into the game to hold it.

New manager is feeling his way cautiously at first, but every indication points to a starting outfield lineup of Meusel in left, Evar Swanson, one of the game's fastest runners, in center and the clouting Harry Heilmann in right. This trio will be supported by Ethan Allen, Curtis Walker and perhaps Earl Webb, the former Chicago Cub.

George Kelly, first baseman, not so fast as he was but still a long distance hitter and great thrower, has no opposition. Hughie Critz, one of three in any rating of second basemen, is again available, with a capable substitute in Tony Cuccinello, the Columbus recruit.

Ford At Shortstop

offraced Ford, who played shortstop last year, will start again in the position, but with Durocher ready to dash in on a moment's notice. The third base competition between "Jersey Joe" Stripp and Charlie Drensen may continue for some time.

The pitching rests in the hands of the baseball fates. There are an even dozen in the camp and every one has a chance, although only 10 can be retained after June 1. Fred (Red) Lucas, one of the best pitchers and all-around performers in the league, will head the right handers and the accomplished but outkicked Jackie May is a capable lefthander.

With this start, Manager Howley will have to select eight others. Pete Donohue, a veteran with nine years service in the team behind him although he is not 30 years of age, is 22 pounds heavier this year than ever and as he has never carried the weight his 6 feet, 2 inches demanded, this should make him a better performer. Eppa Rixey, approaching 35 and with 17 years in the National league, may not start many games, but he will be in at the finish of a number.

McWeeny, A. Prospect.
Doug McWeeny, a big fellow with a fast ball, who did Brooklyn little good last year, is a good prospect, as are Benny Grey, up from Nashville, Silas Johnson, who spent last season on option at Columbus, and Archie Campbell, purchased from St. Paul. Campbell has had two American league trials and shows promise.

Ray Kolp, who is seldom at a loss for something to say, Marvin Gudat, a left hander, Ken Ash and Rube Eckhardt, were members of the pitching staff of last year but were not called to the mound so often as the other fellows. They may see more activity this season.

The Reds have only two catchers, Clyde Sukerforth and Johnny Gooch, but both are good offensively and defensively. A third will be added before the season start. Sukerforth hit .364 last year, his first season as a regular. Gooch, formerly with Pittsburgh and Brooklyn, will share the burden with his younger colleague.

Howley makes only one promise: "We will run," he says.

Staked Plains Group To Gather In Sweetwater On March 22 To Make Final Settlement On Plan

Representatives from Texas Tech and five other prospective members of the proposed Staked Plains Athletic conference will meet in Sweetwater on March 22 to determine the fate of the new loop for West Texas and New Mexico institutions of higher learning.

Invitations have been mailed to Simmons University, the West Texas State Teachers college, Texas School of Mines, University of New Mexico and New Mexico A. and M. to attend the confab at Sweetwater by W. L. Stangel, Texas Tech professor, who is chairman of the arrangement committee.

Locals Take Lead
With the local college officials taking the lead, the meeting a week from tomorrow will be the last opportunity for the schools mentioned for membership to take action on the proposed new conference.

A constitution and complete set of by-laws will be drawn up at the session for the acceptance or refusal of the institutions in attendance. To matter of a football schedule for the 1930 season will not be brought up, since the majority of the prospective members have already arranged games with each other—enough to award a first-year championship.

Pete W. Canthron, newly elected director of Tech athletics and head football coach, has been invited to attend the meeting next week.

Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Parables of the Kingdom.

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 13:31-33, 44-46.

31. Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

32. Which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33. Another parable spake he unto them, The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

44. The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking goodly pearls;

46. And having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, cast into the sea, and gathereth of every kind;

48. Which when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away.

49. So shall it be in the end of the world; the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the righteous.

50. And shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

51. Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea.

52. And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, who bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

Golden Text. The Kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Rom. 14:17.

Time: Autumn of A. D. 28, in the second year of Christ's ministry.

Place: By the Sea of Galilee, perhaps at Capernaum.

Introduction. The parable seems to have been a favorite form of discourse with Jesus when he wanted to convey impressively some important teaching; and, shall we say, to fasten it in his hearers' memories. The people whom he addressed, moreover, were accustomed to parabolic teaching; it was an easy way of "getting at them." Jesus' parables never fail to adorn the lessons they convey; even when they carry hard truth they still are beautiful from a literary point of view. The parable, with its single great moral, was particularly adapted to his purposes. Some of his bare words escape us, but when once we have seen the truth in one of these vivid language-pictures, of this divinely masterful story-teller-teacher, we see that truth forever. "Earthly stories with heavenly meanings." Jesus' parables have been called.

The Parable Of the Tares.

vs. 24-30, 34-43. This parable, like that of the four kinds of soil, our Lord explained in response to his disciples' request. He was himself the farmer, the field being the entire world.

The wheat was the members of the kingdom of heaven. The enemy was the devil, sowing as tares the members of his own kingdom of evil.

The harvest was the end of the world, the judgment, and the reapers were the angels, who alone would have discernment to separate the tares from the wheat.

Then the members of Satan's kingdom would go to their own place of woe and torment, and the members of the kingdom of heaven would go to the home of the Father, there to shine forth as the sun forever and ever. Such was this marvellous little story, so full of solemn warning for the wicked and of radiant hope for those who are trying to follow the Lord Jesus.

"If we are to believe our Bible, Satan is no shadow, nor essence, nor power, but a person, as distinct as God is a Person. As a personal devil hates us, plots against us, tries to ruin us. The devil's special object is to spoil what God made fair and good."—H. J. Wilmore-Buxton.

The Growth of the Kingdom.

vs. 31-33. As the parables of the tares and of the net are complementary, so are those of the mustard seed and the leaven. Both have to do with the growth of the church, but the first pictures the outer and the second the inner aspects of that growth.

The disciples and other Jews, clinging to the notion of a vast and splendid earthly kingdom, would think it very strange that Mes-siah's reign should begin so quietly and on so small a scale; and in this parable, that of the mustard seed, and that of the leaven, our Lord wishes to impress it upon them that though small in its beginnings, the Messianic kingdom was destined to attain a vast extent. We see the original circumstances under which the parable was spoken well reproduced now, at the first of Christianity into some great heathen nations. Not only the heathen themselves, but irreligious sailors, merchants, and travellers from our own country, often meet at the idea that a few insignificant men, by means of so feeble a thing as preaching, should expect to change a mighty people. Yet it is from similar small beginnings that there has gradually grown up the Christianity and the civilization of Europe and America at the present time."—John A. Broadus.

When Robert Morrison, the first Protestant Missionary to China, was on his way to begin his work there, the ship owner asked him, "Do you really expect to make an impression on the idolatry of the great Chinese Empire?" Then Morrison made his famous answer. "No, sir; I expect that God will."

The Parable of the Leaven, v. 33. Though very brief, this is one of the most interesting and significant of all Christ's parables. "The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven." The comparison is remarkable for everywhere else leaven is used as a symbol for what is evil, probably because it was regarded as corruption, and because leavened bread was forbidden during Passover.

Both these parables, that of the mustard seed and that of the leaven, illustrate the gradual growth from small beginnings of the kingdom of Christ. The contrast between the tiniest of garden seeds and the spreading plant in whose branches the birds dwell has its parallel in the development of his kingdom from a very insignificant beginning until it shall cover the earth. Doubtless that seemed an audacious prophecy to the contemporaries of our Lord, but how nearly has it already been fulfilled. There is scarcely a land anywhere that has not been touched by his spreading kingdom. Similarly the contrast between the small lump of leaven and the large quantity of meal in which it is inserted illustrates how the influence of the kingdom of Christ spreads through human society, gradually, if slowly, transforming its life. Think of all the widespread movements for the betterment of the conditions of human life, both individual and social. Now the striking fact about all these things is that they are most in evidence in just those parts of the world where the authority of Christ has been most cordially accepted. The leaven of the kingdom is still working its action is not spectacular, but it is pervasive and powerful.

The Value Of The Kingdom.

vs. 44, 45. The Value of the Hidden Treasure, and The Pearl of Great Price.

Again we have two parables to illustrate the same truth. They are found only in Matthew. In antiquity, where there were no banks and because the tenure of property was insecure, burying money and treasures, and hence the digging for and finding of them, were very common. Because this is a parable and not an allegory—the honesty of the man who buys the field is not taken into account. In the Parable of the Pearl-merchant we are taken back into an age when wealth was largely in the form of jewels, and such precious objects. Cleopatra had two pearls valued each at $400,000. In both parables there is a reflection of the joy that breaks upon many a man when first he gets a revelation of the redeeming mercy of God in Christ; a hint, also of the sacrifice, the price that one usually must pay to acquire the treasure of the kingdom (cp. 19:21).

Bunyan says that the Valley of Humiliation is a place where pearls are found. Notice that in the first of these parables a man stumbled upon his joy, "found"; the second man discovered his by unremitting quest ("like a man seeking"). We do not all find Christ in the same way. The moral of both the parables is however the same. "The kingdom of God is the ultimate blessing whose glory makes all other riches of nothing worth."—G. A. Butterick.

Treasures New and Old, vs. 51-52. "Have ye understood all these things?" No one is a teacher unless he teaches. I. e., makes his pupils understand; if he does not do that he is a mere lecturer. Every true teacher will make sure, before he leaves a subject, that his pupils understand it. The Moslem laws required scribes to teach them; so Christ implied, does the kingdom of heaven—a new set of scribes for a new set of laws. The Jewish scribes dealt only in the old, in precedents, examples, ancient laws. The scribes of the kingdom of heaven are to use both old and new. "They are to proclaim new truths concerning the kingdom: which the world otherwise would never know, and they are to proclaim the truths in new forms even as Jesus taught in parables to make clear his message; and the are to teach old truths in new relations. The gospel is the same in every age, but each age demands special applications of this

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.
For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit.—1. Corinthians, xii, 7, 8.

BUSINESS GETTING

WHEREAS the news columns of any newspaper constitute what is known as the "soul" of the publication, there is an ever-growing appreciation on the part of its readers for the important part modern-day advertising plays in our economic structure.
Honest, straight-forward advertising has come to occupy a place of paramount importance to the thousands of consumers who turn to the newspaper for information concerning what to buy and where to buy it. Leaving aside the remunerative factor connected with newspaper advertising, which, incidentally, makes possible the operation of any publication, the advertiser, from the smallest country sheet to the largest metropolitan edition, and the weeklies on down the line, are doing an invaluable service to the reading public in devoting space for the announcements of business enterprises.

The Morning Avalanche is fully aware of the responsibility that goes with efficient and authoritative advertising. It is a responsibility that reaches out beyond the mere financial success of its business clientele.

"Well directed advertising can do more than any one factor to hasten economic recovery in the United States," says no less an authority than Roger Babson, eminent business statistician, whom every business man and industrialist regards with respect. Mr. Babson, speaking from the detached viewpoint of one who is not connected with a newspaper and is not personally interested in enlarging the field of advertising.

As an observer, as a student of business and economics, as a shrewd judge of business performance, past, present and future, he speaks his mind in accordance with what his present observations indicate to him in the light of his experience.

"Business men must have the courage to maintain their advertising appropriations in the face of business recession," Mr. Babson continues.

"The time to advertise is when sales are hard—contrary to the general practice of advertising chiefly when business is good and sales are easy."

"Advertising offers two-fold opportunities: first, it enables individual business men to meet effectively and unusually severe competition of the present period, and second it renders the country a great economic service. The value of widely directed advertising in overcoming sales resistance is too well known and too fully proven to require further comment."

"From a purely selfish standpoint it pays to keep up one's advertising as thousands of individual experiences have proven. The general economic benefits to the country as a whole, however, are just as real, but are not so generally recognized."

"In 1929 we spent about two billion dollars on various kinds of advertising. This seems like a huge sum. However, when we consider that this two billion dollars advertising was a prime force in moving about 40 billion dollars' worth of goods to the consumers the proportion does not seem large."

"Estimates place the cost of advertising about three per cent of the cost of goods which people consume. As a matter of fact, advertising has reduced prices rather than increased them. It has done this by making possible mass production and mass distribution. You cannot have one without the other. Machinery brought the mass production, but only through advertising have we achieved mass distribution."

"Standardized package goods could never have been marketed, and hence never produced on the present wide scale, had it not been for advertising. The reduction in costs resulting from large scale production of standardized articles is passed along to the consumer in the form of lower prices. Hence, instead of being a factor to increasing the cost of living, advertising has been one of the most potent factors in reducing it."

"Advertising has been largely responsible for the growth of our new industries, including radio, new foods, rayon, cellulose products and many others. It will continue to develop new industries, and also to promote new uses for the products of existing industries. All this means additional employment for those who are deprived of their jobs either by business depression or by labor-saving machinery and methods. Hence by assisting employment, advertising gives a vital impetus to business progress."

"These are truths well known to men in direct contact with intelligent, well-directed advertising. They know it gets business and strengthens the prestige of institutions. It builds for today, tomorrow, and the next day. It pays for itself, and earns a profit besides. It is the merchant's best salesman and his cheapest."

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

HOW OVER 'LAME-DUCK' SENATORS WHILE APPOINTEES CALMLY SERVE

By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 14. — "Lame-duck" senators may be just as undesirable as folk of progressive political ideas contend.

A tolerably good case can be made out against them, anyway. After a new lawmaker has been elected in November it certainly seems like a long time for him to wait, while the one he is to supplant hangs onto his seat until the ensuing March, through a whole three-month session of congress.

Perhaps it was all right in the old days, when the trip to Washington had to be made by stage coach, but it is perfectly ridiculous now, when it can be made by airplane.

The people are entitled to be represented by the men of their most up-to-date choice, as soon as the latter can get here.

And of course the same sort of a case can be made out relative to the members of the lower house of congress, as well as the senators. "Lame-duckism" merely is not quite so noticeable among the representatives, because there are so many of them that the cripples are lost in the crowd. In the senate they are conspicuous.

All of which is not a new argument. The only point in repeating it is to wonder why such a rotten system is maintained. The presence of "lame-duck" senators, whereas no row whatever is raised about the prolonged absence of senators who occupy their seats on the strength of appointments from their governors, without having been elected at all.

A "lame-duck" at least can plead that he was elected originally.

Some years ago the voters grew tired of having their senators picked for them by their state legislatures so they changed the United States constitution, in order to do their own choosing, at the polls, as dog catchers are chosen—or any other candidates.

Surely it is even less democratic to leave such a selection to the whim of some governor than to have a legislature make it, nevertheless, it appears to be considered entirely the correct thing. Filling an emergency vacancy by appointment possibly is necessary—but how long should an emergency last? Emergencies are supposed to be brief. The appointed senators' terms average all of a year.

Appointed senators, too, are more numerous than one might imagine, without a count of noses. There are eight of them right now.

Eight make a fairly sizable block in a body of 96 members—enough to cast the deciding ballots on a lot of questions, when the senate is as evenly balanced as at present.

It is extremely seldom that there are as many as eight "lame-ducks" in the senate at once.

Of the eight, Senator John M. Robinson of Kentucky was appointed in January, this year, which gives him less than 10 months in office before facing his electorate next November.

Senator Henry J. Allen of Kansas, however, dates back to last April, and Senator William E. Brock of Tennessee also will get in more than a year up to Nov. 4. Senators David Baird, Jr., of New Jersey, Joseph R. Grundy of Pennsylvania, Roscoe C. McCulloch of Ohio and Patrick J. Sullivan of Wyoming will miss a year by a little, but not much.

Senator Daniel O. Hastings of Delaware was named in December, 1928, so that his score will be almost two years.

Meanwhile, at one of the most important sessions of congress in a decade, the octet of statesmen help to make laws for the country on the say-so of one single individual per each of their senate votes.

Oh, it is strictly according to Hoyle—exactly as prescribed by the statutes of their respective states. If it suits Delaware, Kansas, Kentucky, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Wyoming maybe it is none of the other states' business. For all that, the eight do have their influence on legislation which distinctly is of interest from Alabama to Wisconsin, alphabetically clear down through the list.

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Most people know that sleep is necessary to health, but few people have any real knowledge of the real factors that govern sleep. Few people realize that the average person is likely to change his position anywhere from thirty to forty times a night when sleeping alone and even oftener when sleeping with someone else.

Apparently little stimulus is required to awaken the average person or to cause him to change his position during sleep. The depth of sleep is usually measured by the amount of some given stimulus that is required to awaken the sleeper. One man tested the depth of sleep by placing a metal ball to fall on a metal plate from various heights.

When a person goes to sleep, he reaches the maximum depth of sleep fairly promptly and then gradually becomes less and less deeply asleep so that the curve of intensity is less toward morning. An Austrian investigator found that in children there are two depths of sleep, one being reached in the first or second hour after going to sleep and the other about the seventh to the ninth hours.

Various methods have been developed for testing the amount of movement during sleep, recording this automatically by various devices, depending on stimulation of a writing needle by an air-filled tube or by electrical contacts. In children the amount of movement is increased in case the child takes caffeine or tea or coffee which contain this drug, before going to bed.

The blood pressure usually falls during the first two hours of sleep and rises gradually later in the night. There may be a slight rise in the blood pressure before the person wakes up. Breathing is usually slower in quiet sleep than when waking. The temperature of the human body varies throughout 24 hours, being highest in the late afternoon between 4 and 6 p. m., and lowest in the early morning between 1 and 3 a. m.

The maximum variation in temperature is about 1.1-1.3 degrees F. In night workers who sleep by day a reversal of this order occurs. No one knows just how sleep effects this change, but the fact is established that the change actually exists.

Sleeplessness is a serious symptom. The prevention of sleep has been used as a form of torture and it has been reported that investigators of crime have resorted to this form of control of criminals in order to obtain confessions. Animals deprived of sleep become vicious and unmanageable.

Murder Backstairs

AUTHOR OF "THE AVERAGE PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.
©1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
THE CRIME: Doris Mattheus, lady's maid, murdered Friday night in summerhouse by blow with heavy perfume flask; body rock-weighted, dumped into lake on estate of millionaire Berkeley.

DETECTIVES: Bonnie Dundee, guest at time of crime and discovered of body; Captain Strawn of the homicide squad. MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE: HOLD: Mrs. George Berkeley, social climber; George Berkeley, opposed to his daughter CLORINDA's engagement to SEYMOUR CROSBY, New York society widower and a close friend of Mrs. Berkeley's; social secretary, MRS. LETTIE LAMBERT; CLORINDA Berkeley, engaged to Crosby; GIGI Berkeley; DICK Berkeley, drunk Friday night, and so infuriated with Doris that he had forced her to agree to meet him later, although she was engaged to EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur.

WICKETT, better, formerly in employ of both Mrs. Lambert and Crosby.

While detectives scour the estate for Dick Berkeley, missing from his room all night, Dundee reconstructs crime, which he believes was impromptu, and committed by a member of the household, because of the perfume flask used as a weapon. Strawn announces his intention of searching for garments smelling of the perfume, but Dundee tells him that every person in the drawing room Friday night had been splashed with it by Gigi—including the Butler.

"Very little," Dr. Price answered. "There wouldn't have been any splashing of blood, if that's what you mean. Not from a scalp wound like that. As you can see from the remains of the stain—and he pointed to the brownish spot on the floor—there was a small pool of blood, which collected while the body lay there, during the time the murderer was gathering the stones and hiding the skirt. But I should say it is entirely possible that the murderer got none on his clothes. Probably the wound and the hair was swabbed off with the same cloth used to wipe up the floor."

"Damn!" Strawn growled. Then he brightened. "Shoes! I don't suppose that little pet, Gigi, anticipated everyone's shoes, as well as dinner-coats and evening gowns, did she? Well, then, if I can find a pair of shoes stinking with this stuff, their owner's going to have a lot of explaining to do."

"Of course, there is a bare possibility that the murderer was an outsider—some intruder who found the girl waiting here for her sweetheart, not knowing he couldn't meet her." Dundee offered doubtfully. "Any evidence of an attack upon the girl, Dr. Price?"

"None whatever," the coroner answered. "As I expected," Dundee nodded. "We couldn't hope this case would be as simple as that. Furthermore, a chance intruder would scarcely have taken the time and the trouble to dispose of the body. He would simply have beat it as quickly as possible, fairly sure of many hours to escape before the hue and cry was raised. And still furthermore, such an explanation would entirely fail to account for the flask of perfume. . . . No, it seems to me that it's fairly obvious our murderer is a member of the Berkeley household, which includes all servants and guests, of course. . . . By the way, where is Crosby?"

"I sent him to the house, along with two of the boys—Wilkins and Cain. Wilkins was to stand guard downstairs, to keep anyone from busting in on us down here, and Cain was to watch Crosby. Hey, boys!" he called to the three plain-clothesmen and a uniformed policeman who still awaited orders. "Which one of you can swim?"

"All right, Collins. Come along with us. Detective Dundee will lend you his bathing suit. I want you to bring up a pile of five stones you'll find on the bottom of the lake about five or six feet from this summerhouse, and then dive until you find a little white apron tied about some broken glass. . . . You can remove the body now, Dr. Price. I see the morgue ambulance has come. . . . And let me have your report as soon as possible, Carraway," he added to the fingerprint expert. "Be sure to include the fingerprints of the corpse, too."

"The chief of the homicide squad hesitated for a moment, frowningly rubbing the grayish stubble on his massive jaw. Then: "Barnes, you and Peters are detailed to go over this section of the lawn and the lake's edge with a fine tooth comb. Bring in anything and everything you find that shows people have been here—cigar or cigarette stubs, burnt matches, handkerchiefs, and so on. . . . You, Clemmons," and he addressed the only remaining plainclothesman, "come along to the house with us."

Strawn, Dundee, Collins and Clemmons were setting off for the big stone mansion when a hallo stopped them. It was Detective Payne, followed at some distance by the two men he had chosen to help him search for Dick Berkeley. "Sorry, Chief!" he panted. "But no luck. We've been through every building on the estate, except the big house itself, and beat the shrubbery till a rabbit couldn't have escaped us."

Strawn frowned and shrugged. "Guess he's got away, all right, but he'll be a marked man, unless he's managed to change his clothes. See anybody at all?"

"A deaf old man who said he was the gardener, and a boy of 17 or 18 who was helping him in the far east corner of the estate," Payne answered. "The boy told me they both live in town, and come to work at 8 o'clock."

"All right! Come along!" Strawn growled. And the cortege was augmented by three somewhat disheveled and sweating detectives. The chief halted it again, how-

"Isn't it terrible to have to return to drab reality after show like that?"

Cotton Erratic; Bears Control Market

Values Close At
Net Advances Of
One Dollar Bale

General Market Closes At Boost In Prices; Good
Buying Support Appears
Late In Session.

NEW ORLEANS, March 14. (P)— Cotton was again erratic in today's trading but good buying support developed in late trading and values closed at a net advance of over $1 a bale. May contracts after closing to 14.24, rallied to 14.66 and closed at 14.61 or 23 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net advances of 23 to 23 points.
Liverpool cables were about as due and the market here opened unchanged to 2 points up. Following a gain of 3 to 4 points, the market weakened, July fell 14.54 and October 14.66. Later the market strengthened. May rallied to 14.
60, July 14.81 and October 14.98 or 28 to 29 points up from the lows.
This advance encountered selling but offerings were at setbacks of 11 to 12 points and the market rallied again on renewed covering.
Active positions made new highs with July at 14.85 and October 14.
97, or 31 to 32 points above the lows.
The close was 3 to 5 points under the top.

Advances Follow
Cotton Declines

NEW YORK, March 14. (P)—
Slight early declines were followed by advances in cotton today. May sold up from 14.56 to 14.96, or 29 points net higher and more than $4 per bale above the low level of Monday on covering and trade buying. May closed at 14.86 with the general market closing very steady
at net advances of 17 to 23 points.
The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 4 points. The market closed at 3 points. There may have been some selling on the indifferent late cables from Liverpool. The census report placing domestic consumption for February at 495,304 bales, a decline from 500,000 in January, above the forecast although it made a bearish comparison with last year's consumption of 504,720
bales for the same month.

Wheat Values Are Turned Up Friday

CHICAGO, March 14. (P)—Unusually warm weather and south, especially drought dangers and Russian fly pests, turned wheat upward today for prices earlier had suffered material breaks.
Close quotations for wheat were irregular, 1 3/8c to 1 1/8c up compared with yesterday's finish. Corn touched new low price records for the season, but closed unchanged to 3/8c higher, with oats at 3-5c decline to 1 1/8c advance and provisions ranging from 37c drop to a rise of 3 to 5c.
Evidence of better cash demand for corn rallied the corn market quickly from early declines that came about through weathering of futures. Favorable weather for field work pointed to cessation of rural shipments until after corn planting. Oats followed corn.

Cash Wheat Price
One Cent Higher

FORT WORTH, March 14. (P)— Cash wheat prices on the grain market here today were one cent higher, but the trade was still unsettled over future prospects and buyers were reluctant. Mills were shipping 11.00 to 1.10 for No. 1 ordinary milling wheat. The farm board agent was reported obtaining a little that would meet his requirements.

City Paving

time to time it will become necessary to revise the stock zone ordinance to fit the growing condition of the city.
Permits Required
An ordinance was passed at the meeting making it compulsory on operators of buses, taxicabs or other public carriers to secure a permit for such operation from the city and to file with the city a liability insurance covering indemnifying the city or others from claims which might arise incident to its operation as a public carrier.
Satisfactory progress was reported on the underpass now under construction at the intersection of Avenue H with the Santa Fe tracks.
It is expected that this project will be completed by the middle of May.
To Open Crossing
In order to facilitate transportation from the north during construction of the subway, the city and the Santa Fe have agreed to open a temporary crossing on Texas avenue at the intersection with the tracks. This crossing, however, will be closed at the time the subway is opened. It is thought that two weeks will be required to make this crossing.

CONDITION SERIOUS

DENVER, Colo., March 14. (P)—
The condition of Sheriff William Coe was characterized as "serious" at the hospital to which he was taken tonight following the shooting affray near Cheyenne Wells with Manter, Kan. bank bandits.
A bullet had struck Coe in the left groin, ranged downward shattering the bone and had emerged from his left leg. George Hollins-head, his deputy, had not yet arrived at a hospital.

SHOT BY BANDITS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14. (P)—
Police Corporal Eugene Egan, 50, was probably fatally shot today by two young bandits who held up the Hayes and Divisadero street branch of the Bank of Italy and escaped in a stolen automobile with $2,719.
Egan, off duty and in civilian clothes, was waiting at the corner for a street car to carry him home when he heard a pistol whistle and saw the two men dash from the bank and leap into an automobile.
He whipped out his pistol, but before he could fire was dropped by a shot fired by the fleeing bandits.
Egan, from the ground, fired twice at the fast disappearing car as it sped screaming and fled for shelter.
The bullet struck Egan near the heart, and at the emergency hospital staff hope was held for his recovery.

Turned Back in Mid-Ocean

At sea, Europe-bound, Chief Engineer Frank Battam, above, of the steamship Cranford, learned by radio the tragic news that his wife and son had been killed and his daughter perished fatally injured in a fire and explosion in New Orleans. Then, though mountainous seas raged about his ship, Battam was transferred in mid-Atlantic to the liner America and brought back to New York. The daring change of ships was effected by Chief Officer Manley of the America, hero of several sea rescues.

Aggressive Fight Launched Against
Copper And Food

Automobile Industry Will Raise Prices And Refrain
From Changing Models It Is Indicated In Market

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER,
Associated Press Financial Writer.
NEW YORK, March 14. (P)—
Bears took advantage of the stock market's disappointingly indifferent response to the cheapest money in recent years today to launch an aggressive attack against the copper, food and other selected shares which turned prices irregularly lower in the final hour of trading.
Prices were working higher under leadership of oils when blocks of 5,000 shares were dumped on the market. Trading was in large volume, the day's turnover approaching 4,000,000 shares.
Call money renewed at 3-1/2 per cent for the first time in nearly four years. Time money and bankers' acceptance rates were also shaded. The cheapness of money was accentuated by the piling up of funds at the banks against the March 15 income tax payments.
That the automobile industry is planning to cope with a lessened consumption this year by raising prices and effecting savings through refraining from model changes was indicated by the heads of the General Motors and Chrysler. Returning to Miami after a yachting trip to the West Indies, President Sloan of General Motors said, "We shall discontinue a good share of business but cannot expect it to parallel last year's output. However, general business conditions are on the upgrade and will continue to be."

Peters to Arrange
W.T.C.C. Conclave

STAMFORD, March 14. (P)—J. E.
T. Peters, secretary of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce since 1925, has been selected to manage the 28th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Arlington, May 29, 30 and 31. D. A.
Benderson, general manager, announces today.
Peters has resigned his Cisco position and will establish headquarters in Arlington March 17.
Work of arranging details of the program for the convention will begin Monday, when W. B. Hamilton, Wichita Falls, president of the regional convention, will hold conferences in Arlington with Benderson and Peters.

TWO MEET DEATH

Airmen Killed When Plane
Crashes At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, March 14. (P)— Crash of a cabin monoplane from a height of 1,500 feet cost the lives of two aviators near Cleveland airport today. The victims were David Bumlin, airplane salesman, and Richard R. Braggins, 22, pilot, both of Cleveland and employees of the Curtis-Wright flying service.
Bumlin was a "Wop" war flyer, had spent 17 months in France as an American army aviator, and had soloed in the air more than 2,000 hours. Braggins formerly was an army flyer.
The two men had gone up for a test flight and were seen by George Wagner of Alameda Falls making several loops. They flew upside down. Suddenly the plane went into a tail spin and crashed in an apple orchard on the farm of John Kaminski.

Rain Visits West
Texas Area Friday

AMARILLO, March 14. (P)—The longest dry period on record here was broken by rain which totaled an inch tonight. The rain extended northwest to Channing, southeast to Clarendon, south to Plainview, northeast to Borger, and east to Sayre, Okla. There had been no trace of precipitation here since Jan.
31.
ABILENE, March 14. (P)—Light rain, ranging from a sprinkle to a fifth of an inch, fell in this section, today, over an area including Stamford, Haskell, Snyder, Albany, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Coleman and Cisco. The precipitation will be of little aid to crops, unless continued.
Slight moisture in the form of intermittent showers fell in Lubbock yesterday afternoon, but the precipitation was too slight to be of value to crops of this section.

Plan Search for Missing Aviator

SALT LAKE CITY, March 14. (P)—
An intensive search for Maurice Graham, Western Air Express pilot missing since January 10, when he was lost in a snowstorm en route from Las Vegas, Nevada, to this city, will be started next week by the post office department. It was announced here today by Charles P.
Dutton, inspector.
Dutton said the search will be conducted by some 300 men, including the entire staff of the post office inspectors' office postmasters in Washington and from counties, all available members of the forest service, local peace officers and volunteers.
While postal authorities were resistant as to the value of the mail cargo, carried by Graham's ship
when it disappeared, the Salt Lake Telegram today said it was known to have been "a large amount."

IN HOPELESS SNARL
STUDY NEW PLANET

Little Hope For Settlement
Of Tariff Problem
WASHINGTON, March 14. (P)—
Obstacles in the way of an equitable distribution of tariff protection to the hide, leather and shoe industry threw the senate tariff framers tonight again into an apparently hopeless snarl.
After five hours debate the question was put off until tomorrow without a decision and, as a brief session is in prospect then, it is highly improbable that a settlement will be reached before next week.
More than a week ago the senate voted 46 to 28 to keep hides, leather and shoes on the free list after attempts to arrive at duties on the latter two which hide protectionists would approve.

COTTON CONSUMPTION GIVEN

WASHINGTON, March 14. (P)—
Cotton consumed during February was announced today by the census bureau at 485,204 bales of lint and 60,923 of linters, compared with 577,335 and 62,393 in January and 594,720 and 68,208 in February last year.
STUDENT PILOT KILLED
POCATELLO, Idaho, March 14. (P)— Merrill P. Morgan, 30, Pocatello student pilot, was killed early last night when the plane he was flying went into a nose dive at an altitude of 1,000 feet and crashed near the airport. The plane burst into flames and Morgan's body was burned.

Woman's Efforts to Halt Animals From Fighting Prove Fatal to All

(The Associated Press.)
CASSLE, Germany, Mar. 14.—A woman lion tamer's heroic attempt to separate a battling lion and bear in a circus menagerie wagon proved fatal to herself and to the beasts today.

The tamer entered the cage armed only with a wire whip and succeeded in wrenching the bear from the lion's deadly claws. Suddenly the lion leaped upon the woman and clawed her fatally. Her dying cries attracted the attendants who succeeded in dragging her from the cage only after shooting the lion. The bear died from his injuries.

The battle between the beasts started after the lion had crushed a wooden partition in the cage.

(By Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, March 14. The bill proposes a tax of one cent a barrel on oil.

Sanders charge was made at the end of a long committee hearing at which much testimony was heard and no action taken.

Earlier in the evening the committee disposed of the proposal to place a tax on carbon black by tabling the bill offered by Representative Sanders for a one-fourth cent per pound tax.

Debts Settlement Causes Discussion

LONDON, March 14. (P)—The possibility of asking the United States government to interfere in settling the accounts of eight southern states which owe 78,000,000 pounds (about $379,000,000) to British bondholders was pointed out today in the house of lords by Lord Ponsonby.

He was replying to a question by Lord Redcliffe, who had asked whether the British government would consider taking up the matter with the United States government, saying that the defaulting states now were in same position as Russia—namely "a financial leper."

Lord Banbury, supporting the motion, declared that the United States had insisted on prompt payment of war debts by Great Britain but when the United States is the debtor she takes no steps to make settlement.

Oil, Gas Company Named Defendant

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 14. (P)—The Universal Oil and Gas company of Oklahoma City was named defendant in a civil suit brought in United States district court here today by F. W. Strang of Port Worth, Texas. Richard Sherman, deputy attorney general of New York, recently questioned Richard Enright, former police commissioner of New York City, in connection with the use of Enright's name in advertising the Universal company.

Strang, in his petition, alleged that the company made a contract with him to purchase leases on about 2,000 acres of land in Eastland and Comanche counties, Texas, and that H. A. Kroger and S. E. J. Cox, officers of the company, agreed to pay him $15,000 for his part in the purchase. Of this amount, he said, the company paid him $8,075, but later stopped payment on a check for $5,750. Strang asks a judgment of $8,425.

Republicanism Is Unlikely In Spain

The Duke of Alba so expressed himself today in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press.

He believes, too, that the prospect for tranquility in Spain is such that the present government will adhere to its determination to hold general elections as soon as possible, restoring the parliamentary government which the Primo De Rivera dictatorship abandoned.
