Fatal Highway Accident Echoed In Damage Suit

Question--? Will She Or Not

"Princess Alice" Is Cause For Wonder

BY KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Almost every one but Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth herself — and, of course, the republican political powers of the first Ohio congressional district — "nominated" the late speaker's widow to succeed her husband in the house.

ALICE R. LONGWORTH

The vogue for congressional widows which started with election of Mrs. Julius Kahn of California to fill the place long held by her husband, made that a natural bit of whatnext speculation.

Not After Office

The most authoritative pronouncement as to Mrs. Longworth's own attitude came from her brother, a declaration that she would not seek public office.

Yet it failed to satisfy Washington leaders who have know Mrs. Longworth since she was Princess Alice at the White House.

Mrs. Longworth has been an integral part of Washington official set all her adult life, and it is hard to think that the sudden death of Speaker Longworth could also remove Mrs. Longworth instantly and completely from the official life of the capital.

Interested In Politics

More than that, Mrs. Longworth has been credited for years with an interest in and understanding of the game of national politics greater perhaps than that of any member of her family unless it was her illustrious father.

Even young Theodore Roosevelt, who alone of her brothers has elected politics as his life avocation, is yet a bit of an amateur in comparison to his sister.

Not Unexpected

It is quite conceivable to capital leaders who have known her so long, however, that Mrs. Longworth may not desire a place in the house.

She has always shown a keener interest in senate than house doings, although her husband was a power in the house and versed in every whim and mood of that body. Only on rare occasions when something unusually dramatic and interesting was in progress in the house was Mrs. Longworth to be seen in the sepaker's family pew in the gallery. By contrast, she was almost always among those present in the gallery of the senate whenever anything of note was stirring there.

Personality Counted

Nicholas Longworth held his district in part by his own personality.

In more recent years prestige of the speakership helped him materially. He was not much of a hand at doing Washington chores for constituents.

Mrs. Longworth is not of the plodding, chore-doing type either.

Perhaps she would like a senate job. But the next Ohio senate chance will be in 1934 with Senator Fess no doubt running to succeed himself. That does not look promising.

Still, Alice Longworth has been a notable figure in Washington's offical life for 34 years. What other interest could she find now?

Two Women Fined Monday For Shoplifting From Store

Two women, who told officers they lived near Idalou, yesterday were charged with shoplifting in complaints filed in justice court by the county attorney's office.

The two women were charged with taking several small items, valued at approximately $2.50, from the Montgomery-Ward company store here.

Their fines were set at $1 and costs, totaling $13.15, each.

Deadly Buffalo Gnats Making First Appearance In Oklahoma

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., April 20. (AP)—Great swarms of buffalo gnats appeared today among livestock in this section of northern Oklahoma, apparently migrating, farm agents said, from Louisiana and Arkansas, where they caused a heavy toll among cattle and mules recently.

Hamp Scudder, Washington county farm agent, said no loss of life had been reported but stockmen generally were uneasy as much stock is on pasture in the Osage country. The agent said horses apparently were the most affected by the gnats.

Revenue Raising Tax Bills Passed By House

Levy Of Three Cents Package On Cigarettes

Bills Passed Monday Would Mean Annual Revenue Within State Of $10,000,000 To $15,000,000

Gas Tax Approved

Two Cents Per 1,000 Cubic Feet On Wholesale Distributors Of Gas Is Favored By Heavy Vote

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 20. — State revenues will be increased between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 annually if revenue bills passed in the house today become laws.

The house adopted a free conference bill to levy a tax of three cents per package on cigarets and a two per cent gross production tax on natural gas. Later it voted to levy a tax of two cents per 1,000 cubic feet on the wholesale distributors of gas.

Senate Adopts Two

It was estimated the cigarette tax would yield between $7,000,000 and $11,000,000, the gross production gas tax $600,000 and the gas distribtuion tax $4,000,000.

The senate adopted the cigarette and gas production tax report last week.

The tax on gas distributors was added to a bill by Representative Holder, to revise the general occupation tax laws. The amendment by Representative Farmer of Fort Worth, was adopted 76 to 32. On the basis of the 1928 reports, the tax would yield $3,520,000. Consumption since that time however, has increased materially, Farmer said.

Julian Seeks Postponement

Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Carrying Prohibited Weapon; Attorneys Of Defense And State Battle

(By The Associated Press)

LAREDO, April 20.—Brief delay was gained today by C. C. Julian, jaunty Oklahoma and California oil operator, who came here from Oklahoma City for the trial in his private airplane, as his attorneys battled the stubborn efforts of state prosecutors to bring him to trial on charges of kidnaping and attempting to extort $50,000 from Lamar S. Bolling, his former business associate.

Julian pleaded guilty this morning to charges of carrying a prohibited weapon—a pistol—and was fined $500. The smartly dressed oil man had hardly received the sentence of District Judge J. F. Mullally in that case before his attorneys moved to postpone his trial on charges of kidnaping, conspiracy to rob and assault with a prohibited weapon.

Asks Several Days

M. J. Raymond, one of his attorneys, told the court he had been busy with other practice, had not had time to study the charges against Julian, and asked for several days in which to prepare a motion for continuance.

District Attorney John A. Valls objected, saying Julian was not entitled to leniency or favors from the state because he had been represented by published news stories as giving an interview in which he

Lufkin Winner Of East Texas Meeting Fight

Coup By Houston Delegates Gives 1932 Gathering Of C Of C To Lufkin; Marlin Is Entertaining

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MARLIN, April 20. — A coup by Houston delegates gave Lufkin the 1932 convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce late today, as the convention closed the first day's session of its fifth annual parley.

Houston and Dallas had been locked in a close fight for the right to be the next host city when W. N. Blanton, representing the port city, leaped to the rostrum and shouted, "I warn you that you will never take the convention out of East Texas!" and announced that Houston withdrew in favor of Lufkin.

Make Vote Unanimous

The Dallas delegation plugged on, however, until the roll call—county by county—disclosed they had lost. Then the Dallasites joined in making the vote unanimous for Lufkin.

The first Methodist church, being used as the convention hall, was the scene of thunderous applause, blare of bands and the shouts and cries of delegates as the two big city candidates opened their pleas.

Bringing a big banner held aloft between two balconies, the Dallas group's invitation was presented by Congressman Hatton W. Sumners. Blanton, following sumners to the

Lubbock Bankers Today Will Attend Big Spring Meeting

Five Lubbock bankers are scheduled to leave early this morning for Big Spring where they will attend a meeting today of the South Plains Bankers' association.

Among the local men who are expected to attend the conference are France Baker, president; W. O. Stevens, vice president, and P. M. Hardwick, cashier, of the Citizens National bank; Roy Riddle, cashier, First National bank, and John Mitchell, cashier of the Lubbock National bank.

Mr. Stevens is to address the meeting, using as his subject, "Bank Expense."

Long Search For Bandit Ends In Capture Monday

Two States Seeking Man For Several Bank Jobs

(By The Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, April 20.—Authorities of Louisiana and Texas today sought custody of Jim Yarrell, 28, who was captured early today in the attic of a residence here, for Farmersville, La., officers on a charge of robbing a bank there September 22 of $11,000.

A posse of seven city detectives surrounded the house on a tip that Yarrell was hiding there. The fugitive was armed with an automatic pistol when the officers surprised him. He gave up without a fight.

Living In Beaumont

He had been living in Beaumont since he escaped from the Louisiana officers near Jonesboro, La., after kidnaping them and tying them to a tree. George Edwards, also wanted in the case, escaped with Yarrell at that time.

The men had been arrested in Silver City, Colo., and the officers were taking them back to Farmersville for trial. Yarrell recently had been married in Beaumont to a 16-year-old girl. When surprised a woman was in the house with him.

Wanted By Several

Sheriff Pat Murphy of Farmersville and deputies were en route to Beaumont tonight to take Yarrell, who has waived extradition, back to Louisiana. Queries by telegraph have been received by Chief of Police Carl E. Kennedy of Beaumont from authorities of Le Compte, La., regarding Yarrell. Robbers looted the bank there of $2,500 last week. Yarrell also is wanted for robbing a bank at Sherman, Texas, of $30,000 March 7. The state also wants him to finish a 35-year term which he was serving at Huntsville when he escaped.

Authorities at Mansfield, La., have indictments against Yarrell for robbing the bank at Logansport, La., and indictments have been returned against him for robbing the Farmersville bank.

Fire Destroys Home In City

More Than 2,500 Pigeons Die In Blaze Monday Night As Sheds At McCullough Home Go Up In Flames

Fire last night destroyed the residence and pigeon sheds of W. O. McCullough, in the 3700 block on Twenty-first street. More than 2,500 pigeons died in the flames, or were suffocated by the smoke which filled the long sheds.

Effort to save either the household furnishings or the birds, proved futile, according to members of the fire department. Only a small section of the pigeon sheds was salvaged. It is thought that all of the pigeons quartered in the section escaping the fire were suffocated by the smoke, or died from the heat.

Beyond Control

The fire was beyond control when the fire department reached the residence, which is located outside of the city limits, officials of the department said.

Although the exact cause of the fire had not been determined, Mrs. McCullough said that she believed it originated at one of two gas heating stoves, which were left burning while she and her husband were outside of the building caring for the pigeons.

Partial Insurance

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was noticed, she said.

"We saw a great deal of smoke in the neighborhood, but thought that it was coming from a trash pile nearby," Mrs. McCullough said. "When we went to the house, it seemed that the entire interior was in flames."

The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Police Find It Hard To Keep Turks From Shooting At Moon

SMYRNA, Turkey, April 20. (AP)—Police are having difficulty enforcing a law forbidding shooting at the moon during eclipses. The shots arise from an old Anatolian superstition that eclipses are caused by a celestial wolf which attacks and eats the moon. To save it chivalrous Turks for years have seized their pistols and shot at the wolf.

Despite the ban on the practice, many residents brought their weapons into play when they went to the rescue during a recent eclipse. So lively was the shooting that one person was seriously wounded by a stary bullet and 20 "defenders" were arrested.

French Honor Is Given El Pasoan

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, April 20.—Because he stormed and captured two German machine gun nests in the world war, Dock Tucker, mechanic of El Paso, today received the Croix De Guerre from the French government.

During a drive in the battle of Champagne, Sept. 4, 1918, the Americans were blocked by a line of machine gun nests, strongly placed in "pill boxes."

Sergeant Tucker, and four men flanked the nests, despite a vicious cross fire, and captured 13 prisoners and two guns. The same night one of his ribs was shot out by a rifle bullet as the Americans continued their advance.

Americans Are Protected In Two Countries

Naval And Merchant Ships Are Arrayed Menacingly Along Coasts For Protection Of U. S. Citizens

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20. — American naval and merchant ships were arrayed tonight along the coast of Honduras to protect 1,250 United States citizens from harm during the revolution in that country.

Each of the four main ports, centers of the economic domain of big American fruit companies, either had one or more American ships riding in the harbor or expected before dawn.

Cruiser To Aid

The cruisers Trenton and Marblehead, speeding from Guantanamo, Cuba, were approaching Trujillo-Puerto, Castilla and Purto Cortiz, respectively. At La Ceiba, largest of the seacoast towns, lay the cruiser Memphis. A steamer of the United Fruit company was anchored in Tela harbor to take aboard American women and children if necessary.

Other fruit steamers were along the coast ready to carry refugees if the spread of the rebellion against President Mejia Colindres made that action necessary. Wherever possible, American women and children were brought from inland plantations to the ports. Most of the 1,250 Americans in the danger zone are employes of the fruit companies or members of their families.

Winter's Grip Again Is Felt In Northern Texas

Temperatures Drop Rapidly In All Sections

(By The Associated Press)

COLD northerly winds, bringing a belated threat of snow, sleet, and freezing or near-freezing weather raked the Panhandle and northern Texas today. Ahead of the "norther," copious rains were falling in many sections, adding to the season in the ground and allaying complaints that some areas were becoming too dry.

Heavy spring showers, the first of the season, were reported in various parts of Texas Monday afternoon and evening.

Rain Reported

Rain had fallen in northern Texas from east to west border according to weather reports.

Gulf port towns still were enjoying clear warm weather.

Western Texas reported rapidly dropping temperatures with expectations of snowfall in many places.

Drop In Central

Heavy showers fell in Dallas, Fort Worth, and Waco in Central Texas. Fort Worth reported a drop of temperature from 78 to 54 in six hours.

Paris in northeastern Texas reported possible crop damage from the heavy lightning and thunder storm which swept the section.

No damage was foreseen to crops or orchards in the Panhandle despite near freezing temperatures.

The brisk norther striking the city yesterday morning sent Lubbock people scurrying for overcoats which were discarded three weeks ago after the severe cold weather which gripped the Panhandle for several days. The temperature dropped from 62 degrees, the maximum, to 44 edgrees in the afternoon, according to readings at the state experiment farm, east of the city.

Humble Announces Reductions Monday On Prices Crude Oil

HOUSTON, April 20. (AP)—Price reductions ranging from five to 20 cents a barrel, and posting of prices for East Texas crude, were announced by Humble Oil and Refining company to become effective at 7 a. m. Tuesday, April 21. At the same time the Humble Pipe Line company announced that it is reducing its tariff and delivery costs by approximately 20 per cent.

In posting new prices for crude and reducing tariff and delivery costs, the Humble Oil and Refining company is attempting to equalize all crudes at Seaboard, W. S. Farish, president, announced in a prepared statement.

Secret Guarded
Father Is Surprised At Mary's Wedding

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, April 20. — Secrecy with which Mary McCormic, opera and concert singer, veiled her marriage 10 days ago with Prince Serg Mdivani extended even to her immediate family, it was revealed today.

J. H. Harris, Amarillo groceryman and father of Mrs. Mdivani, appeared surprised when he was asked about the wedding of his daughter. He had heard nothing about it, he said.

"Mary promised to write me if she decided to do anything," he said. The last letter he received from her informed him she did not know whether she was going to get married or not. He said she is planning to visit him here soon.

Mrs. Harris, the mother, died last year. Two brothers, Odelle and Willard, are with their father here in the grocery business, while a third brother, Norborn or "Nobby," is with an exploring expedition in China. He is expected to return home soon.

"'Nobby' met the prince in Paris," Mr. Harris said, "and he wrote me he was a 'Prince of a man as well as a prince in title.'"

The Worm Turns And Now It Is The Woman Who Must Pay

LOS ANGELES, April 20. (AP) — It's the woman who pays in this case. So ruled superior Judge Guy Rush.

He instructed Mrs. Hattie E. Shuler, 53, and wealthy, to pay $65 monthly alimony to Chester E. Shuler, 54, real estate broker, who testified he is penniless.

Also Mrs. Shuler must provide lodging in one of her apartment houses for him, rent free.

They married in January, 1921, and separated in February, 1923.

Curtain Rolls Up Monday On First And Last Little Theater Play Here,

THE curtain rolled up on Lubbock's first and last Little Theater production of the year Monday evening when Booth Tarkington's "The Intimate Strangers" was presented at the Palace theater. Proceeds went to the Salvation Army and the United Charities.

While the audience, which practically filled the house, was attentive, there was no ecstacy of applause and no more than occasional hearty laughter greeted the comedy.

Men starred in the cast with Audrey Brown and R. L. (Bob) Stephenson sharing the honors. W. O. Daniels, whose role kept him almost constantly on the stage, had a hard evening from the beginning. For one who was naturally more ill at ease than the usual player, he carried his part through remarkably well. His acting called for one who was so fussed that he hardly uttered an intelligible sentence.

Setting for this comedy was simple, shifting from a wayside railroad station to a farm home shared by three kinswomen of

Negligence Is Charged After Eubanks Death

Wife Files Suit For $50,000 Against H. L. Schwalbe And Affiliated Company In Local Court Monday

Earning Is Cited

Eubanks Died After Auto Had Crashed Into Excavation Without Warning Signs, According To Petition

CHARGING negligence on the part of the contracting company in failing to post barriers and danger signs at the underpass excavation near Monroe, Mrs. Claudie Eubanks yesterday filed suit for $50,000 damages in 99th district court against H. L. Schwalbe and the Inter-State Contracting company, in connection with the death of her husband, Fletcher S. Eubanks, in an automobile accident at Monroe on April 9.

Mr. Eubanks was fatally injured when his automobile ran off into the excavation, the petitioner alleges. He was traveling toward Lubbock on the old highway No. 9, which lies east of the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway company, tracks, when he drove into the excavation being made for the new highway, the petition recites.

Although the ditch, which was approximately 20 feet deep and 60 feet wide, crosses the old highway, there were no barriers or signs of warning for the protection of motorists, according to the plaintiff. Such protective signs had been removed by agents of the defendant, she says.

Failure to provide such warnings and barriers was in violation of the contracting company's agreement with the highway department and jeopardized the lives of motorists traveling along the old highway, according to the petition.

Mrs. Eubanks says that she and her nine-year-old daughter were deprived of the love and affection of their husband and father through the accident. Mrs. Eubanks states that her husband's earning capacity as an accountant was $4,000 per year at the time of his death.

Sudden Illness Fatal To Woman

Mrs. J. T. Edgar, 70, died last night at 9 o'clock at her home ten miles south of Lubbock, following an illness of only a few hours. She was stricken with paralysis at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to members of her family.

Mrs. Edgar moved to Lubbock county with her husband four years ago from Dallas county. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, J. P. Edgar, 2305 Ninth street, and M. H. Edgar, route No. 6 both of Lubbock, and two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Paschall, of Mesquite, Texas, and Mrs. R. O. Mahres, of Eastland.

Pending the completion of funeral arrangements, the body will lie in state at the home of her son, J. P. Edgar, here. Arrangements are in charge of Bynum-Morgan funeral home.

"Remember The Alamo" Was The Cry Of Texans Just 95 Years Ago Today

(By The Associated Press)

TEXAS, nearing the centenial of its liberation from the rule of Mexico, prepared Tuesday to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, in which General Sam Houston and a hardy handful of Texas settlers routed the Mexican general, Santa Anna, and won their freedom, on April 21, 1836.

Schools, public offices, banks and many businesses were closed as citizens recalled the battle cry of Sam Houston's frontiersmen, "Remember the Alamo; Remember Goliad!" as they surprised General Santa Anna at his siesta hour. Less than 800 Texans engaged 1,500 Mexicans at Buffalo Bayou, killed, captured or put them to flight and captured General Santa Anna.

San Antonio prepared to start its annual six days of celebration of the Fiesta De San Jacinto, with the arrival of his majesty, King Antonio XIII formally opening the fortieth celebration of the historic event.

Optimism As Regards Business In America Is Expressed By Speaker

Walter S. Gifford Addresses Luncheon Of Associated Press

Faith In American Democracy Is Reaffirmed And Appeal To Continue Attack Started On Depression

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Optimism as to business was expressed today by Walter S. Gifford president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, speaking at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press.

"I want to reaffirm my faith in the continued progress of our country, in the common sense and ability of its people," he said. "In short, I want to reaffirm my faith in American Democracy—political, social and economic—and to add that the experiences of this depression have done more to confirm this faith than the experiences of the boom that preceded it.

Added To Freedom

"As our industrial development proceeded we have added to political freedom and intellectual freedom, freedom from economic want as one of our Democratic objectives. I know that there are right now several million men and women who want to work but are unemployed in this country. But as bitter a picture as that is, it does not change the fact that our industrial civilization has brought us within sight of a Democracy of well-being and has crystallized our intention to see it accomplished.

"Before machines added to man's ability to produce, the cycles of depression were caused by underproduction. Years came when there was not enough to go around—when people died of cold, hunger and disease in such numbers that the world accepted Malthus' theory. The condition of having people out of work in a country that has more of everything than it needs is, humanly speaking, a vast advance over having people without clothes, food or shelter in a country that has not enough of the essentials to go around.

To Go Forward

"In my opinion there is no use looking for any Napoleons to lead us on to economic Austerlitz—or to Waterloo.

"We are going to go forward out of this valley as we have from others before by the Democratic road—by the thought and efforts of thousands of intelligent able people—by the wisdom of the many.

"Whose depression is this? If, as has been said, a fundamental cause of it is greed, who are they that did not add their part to it. We are all in it—flapper, financier, newspaperman and manufacturers, laborers and politicians.

"We have with us those who want to return to the good old times. They are of the order of the wufus birds. As you know these interesting birds fly backward to keep the wind out of their eyes and they are not interested in where they are going, but only in where they have been.

Have Bolsheviks

"And then there are those who shout, from the housetops that if we do not take their particular medicine the Bolsheviks will get us. These folks, unlike the wufus birds, want to go somewhere. They want us to progress but they want us to progress from terror rather than by conviction. These people are wrong.

"Neither our ambitions nor our imaginations are dead and we intend to go much further forward from where we are now or even from where we were just before this depression, and we shall do it by our own particular methods.

"Are we getting anywhere? I think so.

High Standards

"We like to see wage scales maintained—we are committed to the theory of a high standard of living for all. In no other cycle of this kind have wages ever been maintained as they have in this. It is true all wage scales have not been maintained. Although the present scale of wages would be equivalent to a large increase if commodity prices and the cost of living should stay down, we ought, I believe, to make every effort to maintain the wage scale.

"I believe in the common sense and ability of the American people and I have, therefore, no fears of the present or the future. The immediate present, statisticians of the telephone company tell me, show signs of improvement.

"The mastery of depression is one of the challenges ahead of us. Let us continue to attack it.

"Tighthateritis" New Skin Disease Is Discovered

BALTIMORE, April 20.—Girls, if you have it, you'd better start wearing looser hats. Bloom Not Proof Fruit Tree Will Bear This Year

"Just because a fruit tree is blooming is no proof that it will bear fruit this season. Fruit buds may come out and spread their petals to high heaven, but if the pistil is black, all hope of fruit is gone."

That is the statement of Charles H. Mahoney, horticulturist and head of the department of horticulture at Texas Technological college.

"Lots of trees that had not bloomed when the frost the last of March came, are now blooming," Professor Mahoney said. "They were in bud then and the buds continued to swell and the tree blossomed.

Many Buds Killed

"That does not necessarily mean that they will bear fruit. If the pistil of the bud is black, it indicates that it is dead and there will be no fruit this year. Lots of buds were killed.

"Many of the apple and pear trees now blooming will have only a small proportion of the buds that will bear. This is due to the fact that the freeze got in its heavy work after the warm weather of the winter.

"It was not necessarily the freeze that killed the fruit," Professor Mahoney explained. "Too much warm weather in January and February had more to do with killing the fruit. The buds swelled and were unable to stand the cold. They could not stand the ordinary cold, let alone a temperature of 12 above."

Buds that have not been forced to swell by unseasonably warm weather can stand zero weather, according to Mr. Mahoney. Warm weather out of season is the cause of more fruit being destroyed than late freezes.

Cherry trees that were somewhat protected will have from two to five per cent of fruit, he estimated. Other protected trees also will have about as much. Trees that had good protection may have even more fruit than that.

Schools Urged To Use Cotton

State Officials Ask Graduates To Wear Cotton Clothes At Commencement Exercises In Spring

An appeal to Texas school graduates urging them to wear cotton garments at commencement exercises this spring, was contained in a message received yesterday by the chamber of commerce from J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture.

The appeal bears the facsimile signatures of ten state officials and is headed with Gov. Ross Sterling's name.

In a letter accompanying the message, Mr. McDonald stated that the movement was being initiated as a means of teaching the school children the significance of cotton to the economic well-being of the state.

The message from the state officials follows in part:

"Texas produces one-third of the cotton production of the United States. Cotton is the greatest of all textile plants. Its economic condition is fundamental to the general welfare of every Texan. We, as your state officials and public servants, would be delighted if Texas teachers and pupils would clothe themselves for the closing exercises of their schools in cotton garments, upon which are pinned bouquets of flowers plucked from the Texas prairies or gardens."

Mabel Fenton Ross, Favorite For Many Years, Died Sunday

LOS ANGELES, April 20. (AP)—Mabel Fenton Ross, 63, a stage favorite of several decades ago, is dead. She succumbed unexpectedly to heart disease here yesterday.

Mrs. Ross was born in Van Buren county, Michigan, and married Charles Ross in 1887. With him she made her first stage appearance shortly afterward.

Two years later the team of Ross and Fenton went to New York and for ten years played in the productions of Weber and Fields, Lillian Russell, Louis Mann, Peter Dailey, William Collier and other stars of that era.

Measuring 70 feet from tip to tip of its wings, the world's largest gliding plane is being built in Germany.

Missing Articles Are Being Sought

Officers here have been asked to aid in the recovery of five dozen pairs of women's undergarments, valued at approximately $45, stolen from the Sante Fe railway freight depot at Seagraves last Thursday night.

Dee Robinson, special agent of the Sante Fe, of Slaton, reported the theft to the sheriff's department here yesterday.

A safe in the Sante Fe station at Seagraves was knocked and a Phillips Petroleum company service station was robbed the same night, officers were told. Ten automobile casings and seven inner tubes were taken from the service station, Robinson said.

NEW LORENZO MARSHAL

LORENZO, (Special)—John Cook, who has been night watchman here for the past two years, was elected marshal by the city council at a meeting recently. He was sworn in at once and began his new duties.

Covering a ground area of 570 by 360 feet, a windowless factory will be erected in a Massachusetts city, elaborate lighting and ventilating systems being provided.

Prettiest girl in her set —but still single at 30

'B.O.' lost her every admirer until . . .

(Body Odor)

"SHE'LL marry at eighteen," people had said. But here she was 25 . . . 28 . . . 30 . . . and still single! Plenty of admirers, but no proposals—until she made a startling discovery.

For years she must have been offending—and didn't know it! Now she has adopted a simple safeguard against "B.O." (the polite term for body odor). And . . . she is buying her trousseau! Happiness has come at last—"B.O." is safely ended.

Face the facts!

It's foolish to think we can never offend. We can—without knowing it! Our sense of smell quickly becomes used to an ever-present odor. But pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste daily. Don't take chances. End "B.O." worries this easy, pleasant way. Wash and bathe with Lifebuoy, the health soap.

Its creamy, refreshing, antiseptic lather—so abundant even in hard or cold water—penetrates pores—removes all odor. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies.

Complexions grow lovelier

If Lifebuoy cost a dollar, it couldn't do more for your complexion. Its gentle, deep-cleansing lather frees pores of beauty-robbing impurities—makes dull skins glow with healthy radiance. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

The new PONTIAC

is a car of unusual grace and beauty . . economical . . powerful . . selling at only

DELIVERED $818* EQUIPPED

Owners of the new Pontiac are people who know from experience how to judge performance and quality. Theirs is no blind choice. They select Pontiac because it enables them to enjoy fine-car advantages at moderate cost. You'll appreciate these fine-car features:

NEW 60-HORSEPOWER MOTOR—An engine far above old ideas of quality performance possible at this price. Smooth, flexible, dependable—and decidedly economical despite its power.

FISHER BODY CRAFTSMANSHIP—That inimitable beauty of design and styling which contributes so much to motoring pleasure—particularly when you have guests. Upholstery is fine, durable whipcord or mohair. Cushions are form-fitting. There is plenty of room for the comfort of all in the car.

RUBBER-CUSHIONED CHASSIS—A distinctly fine-car feature greatly adding to riding ease. Road shocks are absorbed by rubber insulation at more than 40 chassis points. Rubber-cushioned shackles, an important part of this insulation system, not only promote comfort and stability on the road, but eliminate lubrication at 12 points.

INSULATED CONSTRUCTION—A notable advance in snugness of body structure and insulation which shuts out heat, cold, dampness and excessive noise. Building the cowl and windshield pillars as a single piece prevents leaks and rattles.

LARGE, POSITIVE BRAKES—Brakes that evenly grip all wheels with a stopping power that gives every member of the family new confidence in driving.

If the new Pontiac is anywhere near the motor car price you have in mind, test its actual value for yourself. A demonstration will be arranged at your convenience.

* This is the price of the 2-door Sedan or Coupe delivered to you in Lubbock and equipped ready for use.

Equipment includes front and rear bumpers, shock absorbers, 5 wire wheels, and extra tire, tube and tire lock. Other models priced as follows: Sport Coupe $858, 4-door Sedan or Convertible Coupe $888, Custom Sedan $928.

Lubbock High Student Leaves Today For Amarillo To Enter Tournament

Russell Wilkinson, senior in the Lubbock high school, who won the local oratorical contest on Friday, April 10, to represent the school at the Amarillo contest on San Jacinto day, will leave this morning for that city where he enters the Globe-News contest.

"Personalities in the Constitution," was the subject of his oration. Since winning the local contest Mr. Wilkinson has been working over his address and he has sent a copy of it to the contest manager at Amarillo.

Twenty-One Enterd

There are 21 students in West Texas high schools entered in the contest being sponsored by the Amarillo newspaper. Winner will be sent to the zone contest at Kansas City in May. Winners from each zone later compete for a trip to Europe, with cash prizes to each of the other contestants. Expenses are being met by the sponsoring newspapers.

All contestants must meet in the Amarillo senior high school at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Four groups will be formed, with schools of approximate size in each section. Winners of the four groups will then go into the semi-finals.

Prizes Offered

Prizes for first place winners in each group are: first place official entrant in the Kansas City zone contest with all expenses paid; second $50 offered by the Amarillo Bar association; third, $35 from the American Legion post; fourth $15 by the Llano Estacado chapter of the D. A. R.

All second place winners in the four groups will be given $10, contributed by: B. and P. W. club, Little Theater, Speech Arts club and J. O. Guleke, all of Amarillo.

Out of town contestants and judges will be given a banquet Tuesday night at 6 o'clock. T. W. Johnson, managing editor of the News-Globe will be toastmaster. W. A. McIntosh, superintendent of Amarillo's schools and O. V. Vernon of the chamber of commerce will speak.

Thompson Chairman

Mayor Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo is chairman of the finals contest. Judges are: Hon Marvin Jones, congressman; J. O. Guleke, state board of education; C. W. Batcheldor, head of public speaking department, W. T. S. T. C.; Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, head of public speaking department at Tech; L. E. Sheffy, head of history department at W. T. S. T. C.

Contestants are: Lola Pascoe, Amarillo; Ila Collier, Abernathy; Ruth Crawford; Bushland; Ethel Rowland; Dalhart; Orice Webb, Dimmitt; Charles Bourne; Lockney; Russell Wilkinson, Lubbock; Lola Ruth Stanfield, McLean; Kathryn La Master, Perryton; Tommie Mae Boren, Memphis; Malcolm Carr, Pampa; Jensine Nelson, Panhandle; J. H. Kelly, Quanah; Marlene Vaughn, Tulia; Bill Swanson, Vega and Erith Grimes, White Deer. Contestants not announced yesterday were; Childress, Friona, Hereford and Stratford.

Preliminary judges are from W. T. S. T. C. They are, Dr. S. H. Conron, Dr. Charles McColley, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Miss Hattie M. Anderson, Dr. J. L. Duflot and Miss Mattie Swayne.

Call The Plumber
Safer Than Doing Job Yourself

NEW YORK, April 20.—No matter how many times the plumber goes back for his tools, it's generally a safe bet that his bill will be cheaper than trying to do the job yourself. Mrs. Sophie Sexton will tell you that. She tried to clear a clogged drain from her icebox with her finger. She got her finger in the pipe, but couldn't get it out. Police had to cut the ice box in half before they could get to her finger to free it.

CAMEL

CONTEST WINNERS soon to be announced

IT is expected the judges in the $50,000 Camel Cigarette Prize Contest will be able to render their decision within a short time and that public announcement of the prize winners can be made soon.

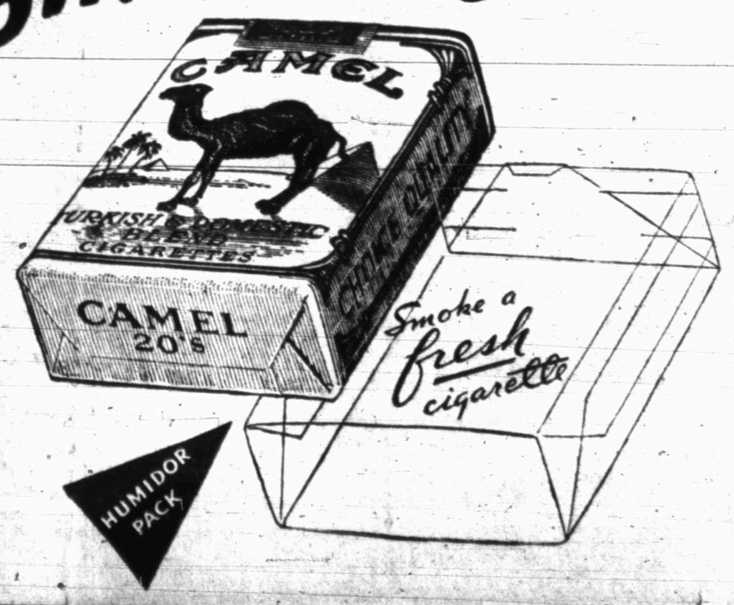

At this time the officers and directors of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company wish to thank the nearly a million men and women for their interest in entering this contest. We wish to assure you also, most emphatically, that every single letter received, despite the enormity of the task, is being carefully read and studied.

It is because of the extreme care being taken to insure the absolute fairness of this contest that we ask you to be patient just a little longer.

Entries in the Camel cigarette $50,000 prize contest were received so fast that it was more than a week after the close of the contest before all the mail could be opened. In this pile were more than 500,000 letters awaiting reading by the judges and their staff.

Smoke a fresh cigarette

IF you haven't tried Camels since the introduction of the new Humidor Pack, switch to this famous brand for just one day, then quit them, if you can.

An air-sealed wrapping of moisture-proof Cellophane keeps Camels always in factory-fresh condition. It keeps dust and germs out and all the flavor and natural moisture in.

No stale, dried out tobacco in Camels to sting the tongue or burn the throat. All the joys of choicest Turkish and mellowest Domestic tobaccos, in fresh, prime condition.

Church Women Of City Meet For Regular Programs Monday Afternoon

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

MRS. C. E. LOVE, 2317 13th street, has some trumpet vine that she would like to exchange for pink cannas. Her telephone number is 1798-W.

THE PREFERRED TYPE

GENTLEMEN may prefer blondes but about 900 cadets down at A. and M. college want their's with dark hair; while the old saw about nobody loves a fat man has its counterpart in the cadets' preferences concerning slim young things.

Preferences people list in questionnaires have little to do with their actual likes when it comes to marriage, but they make interesting material for speculations. And anyone who has listened to the blues song about the red-headed woman and her charms might be interested in knowing that of the more than 1,200 who answered these questionnaires, only 80 liked the Titian-haired. Blondes drew about 200 votes.

There's got to be something under those tresses, however, the cadets professed, saying that the ideal girl has some brains and uses them.

Since A and M. is a typical college these answers might carry some weight and some solace for those who prate about youth and its excesses. The ideal miss of the questionnaires doesn't smoke, she doesn't drink and she doesn't swear. She has a saving sense of humor, is a good mixer, loves children and her home, goes to church and knows how to cook a good meal. And she is a one-man girl who expects her husband to be a one-girl man.

They have other requisites, too, for this ideal girl. She dances like a nymph and carries a song on her lips as well as in her heart, she is a smart dresser, but economical. She plays bridge.

And a girl like that isn't hard to find.

OUR NEW SCARVES

WOOL lace scarves reminiscent of grandmother's "fascinator" are a new and smart spring fashion. The scarves of filmy wool are woven with a white or neutral background patterned in bright colors. They are worn closely about the throat, tucked inside the suit or jacket.

AS A FEMINIST

IT MAY be that I am just too old-fashioned but women bullfighters, baseball players and such never have any appeal. No matter how pretty they may happen to look there is always a feling that they are not feminine at all.

* * *

There's nothing wrong with women having rights and equality with men and all that sort of thing, but they might just as well refrain from using some of their rights. It's the same principle as for the head of the house to take the lap dog out for his daily airing. There's no reason why he shouldn't, but if I were a man I'd always find something else to be busy at when the dog had to be taken out.

YOU PRONOUNCE IT

THANKS to the medical profession we've discovered that all this spring fever is something besides plain laziness. It has a scientific name and all that—Anadrenalinemia. So the next time the boss comes around and finds you spending the hour between 1 and 2 o'clock in constant yawning, you can spring that on him.

* * *

Or maybe you'd rather suppress the yawn and forget the desire to go fishing than attempt to pronounce the name of the disease.

ANOTHER CLUB MEETING

OF LATE this column has run to federations of women's clubs. But another one is coming up this week-end and it should draw an attendance from the city of Lubbock as well as the county.

This is the semi-annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's clubs which is to be in Slaton next Saturday.

Among other things, a president is to be elected at this meeting to fill an unexpired term. Mrs. Nat Edmonson is acting president now and might go on in that capacity, since she is a vice-president in the organization, but she does not want the place and thinks that another woman should be elected.

* * *

This brings us around to the State Federation meeting here in the fall, again. But in selecting the County Federation president, this should be considered. The society wants a representative who can appear before the club women of the state in November. It is probable, of course, that any woman who is capable of serving as president of the county organization, will be able to make a favorable impression on the state club women when they are here.

MILLIONS ENJOY UNUSUAL THRILL IN RARE COFFEE

Patented Roasting Process Gives Hills Bros. Coffee Distinctive Flavor

By a radically different process of flavor-control, Hills Bros. have given their rare blend of coffee a flavor such as no other coffee has.

"A little at a time" is the basis of this patented process—Controlled Roasting. A constant stream of green coffee is introduced into the roasters in automatically measured lots of about three pounds, and passes through in a steady flow, roasting a little at a time. The heat is automatically controlled so any variation in the roast is absolutely prevented.

Such uniformity of the roast is not possible by bulk methods. In spite of watchful care some of the coffee is roasted too much—some too little. Flavor variation is therefore inevitable.

As fast as Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted, it is ground and packed in vacuum. By this process air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can, and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, will not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold everywhere by grocers.

Interest Centers In Study Of Missions And A Pageant

Mrs. Frazier McCrummen Is In Leading Role For Play Presented At Baptist WMS Meeting

Scores of church women in Lubbock gathered at churches or in homes Monday afternoon for regular mission programs. Reports were given of the Big Spring conference which several delegates from the First Methodist and Asbury Methodist churches attended two weeks ago. A pageant was presented at a meeting of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society.

Faith Is Theme

"Faith" was the theme of a program given at the meeting of the First Christian General Aid society at the church.

The meeting was opened with prayer and songs, and Mrs. Joe Coursey led the devotional period.

Mrs. Roscoe Cowart reviewed two chapters in the study book, "Towed In," and Mrs. Mary F. Hinton gave the closing prayer. Miss Pauline Phillips sang a vocal number with Mrs. Paul Morgan playing piano accompaniment.

During a business meeting it was decided for the Aid to sponsor a quilt show on May 9, at a place to be decided upon later. The committee in charge is composed of Mesdames M. H. Huckabee, Paul Morgan, O. A. Terry, L. E. Grimes, N. L. Benson and A. H. Eubanks.

These Are Present

Those in attendance Monday afternoon were Mesdames Joe Coursey, E. L. Pitts, Paul Morgan, S. B. Haynes, H. W. Moore, J. O. Ballinger, E. L. Williams, James Robinson, D. W. Robertson, George McCarty, L. E. Grimes, L. S. Mast, R. J. Keller, Fred Hokit, L. W. Squyres, E. C. Young, J. T. South, J. F. Abel, E. R. McCune, N. L. Benson, Arthur L. Brown, Hattie O'Hair, R. R. Stewart, T. Teal, J. B. Rhodes, M. H. Huckabee, J. A. Raley, jr., Townsen Waddill, R. L. Howell, J. R. Green, Roscoe Cowart, C. O. Marquart, W. T. Milam, Charles Crenshaw, Walter P. Jennings, R. A. Mills, H. D. Phillips and Pauline Phillips.

Twelve members of the Asbury Missionary society met at the church at 3 o'clock Monday to hear reports on the Missionary conference at Big Spring, which convened April 7-9, and a regular lesson program.

Mrs. O. H. Cline and Mrs. Paul Williams, delegates, brought interesting reports from the conference.

Talks on the lesson were made by Mesdames T. L. Biggs, Dee Puckett, J. F. Thomas, Paul Williams, B. L. Williamson and G. P. McCollom.

Business Is Discussed

Mrs. Jerome Smith presided during the business session conducted when members in St. Paul's Episcopal auxiliary met with Mrs. J. Bradner Moore.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. S. Penney at 1319 14th street.

Members of Circle one in the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society had charge of a program presented at a general meeting of the society at the church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Pageant Is Produced

Mrs. W. H. Trice was leader for the program which centered around a pageant "The Spirit of Truth" with Mrs. Frazier McCrummen taking the title role.

Others taking parts were Mesdames B. T. Jordon, Carter, G. A. Gunn, B. B. Travis, A. T. Cocanougher, and Ney Hunt.

A trio composed of Mesdames Z. L. Wright, G. M. Pearson and Fred Litton sang, accompanied at the piano by Miss Hazel Kokanour.

During the afternoon, an offering was taken to be sent to Buckners' Orphans home at Dallas.

There was a good attendance.

New Member Received

Mrs. Jesse Cox led the devotional lesson at a meeting of Circle 5 in the First Methodist Woman's Missionary Monday afternoon with Mrs. W. D. Aycock, 2023 Broadway. Eleven members were present and Mrs. C. B. Smith was received as a new member.

A social hour was enjoyed and light refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. M. H. Sneed at 1702 Avenue R.

Mrs. Catt Reads

Mrs. C. E. Maedgen, 1823 Broadway, was hostess to members of Circle 2 in the First Methodist W. M. S. Monday afternoon. The devotional was led by Mrs. Carroll Thompson and Mrs. Reeves Catt read "What is the Gospel According to You?"

There was an attendance of eight women at the meeting.

Plans were made to sponsor a food sale Saturday morning at Meinecke Brothers Hardware store.

Today's Events

A meeting of the O. E. S. is called for 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic hall.

A Texas Day theme is to be the feature of a program presented at a meeting of the Daleth Delphian chapter at 7:30 o'clock on the mezzanine floor of the Hilton hotel.

Members of the Rebekah lodge will meet for regular session at the IOOF hall beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Senior High Parent-Teacher association is to meet at the high school building at 7:30 o'clock.

Members of the Junior Twentieth Century club are to meet at the Tech home economics building at 3 o'clock.

Six members and one visitor were present.

AIR DOESN'T WEIGH MUCH

WHEN you buy soap, the only way you can tell how much you're getting for your money is by the weight of the package. Size means nothing. A large carton full of soap flakes or bubbles can contain actually less soap than a carton of White King Granulated Soap half its size!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is condensed. It packs closely in the carton, like sugar. And it's absolutely pure and safe . . . for blankets, dishes or lingerie. It's made from fine vegetable and nut oils.

White King Granulated Soap is not only the safest but the most economical soap you can buy. A little of it goes a long way. A teaspoonful to the basin of water, or a cupful to the tub—no more! Your grocer has it.

Produces Play

FISKE MILES

Play Will Be Repeated Here

Three Act Drama Staged At Methodist Church Sunday Will Be Presented There Tonight

Initial presentation of "The Rock", three-act religious drama, at the First Methodist church Sunday night attracted a capacity audience and because so many people were unable to attend it has been decided to present the play again.

The first curtain rises promptly at 8o'clock, according to those in charge.

Miles Director

The play, which is under the direction of Fiske Miles, is presented under the auspices of the young peoples department of the church. Settings of the drama are taken from Biblical times and scenery is under the direction of Doris Baugh and Evelyn Sowell. Music is furnished by the church orchestra, directed by J. B. Galland.

Leading roles are taken by Richard Cavett, who plays the part of Simon Peter; Melbria Pirtle, the wife, Adina; Evelyn Sowell, the mother, Deborah; J. W. Timmons, jr., the uncle, Ucal; and Eileen Graves, Mary Magdala. Other roles are taken by Garland Smith, who plays the part of Pandira, a Greek; Carroll Thompson, a Roman officer, and Preston Conner, a physician.

The play reveals the development of the character of Simon Peter and each event in the production centers around his life.

Concerts Are Study Cours

Instruments Are Explained To Children; Recital Is Attended At Church Last Friday

Children in public school music have attended three programs recently as a part of their training in proper behavior at concerts. These were given under the supervision of Mrs. L. J. Von Tungeln, public school music supervisor, with the assistance of teachers of music in the schools: Mesdames Willi Smith, C. Draper, E. E. Key and Misses Roberta Rowley, Dimple Watson and Margaret Stone.

The last of these was an organ recital given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Mamie I. Neal at the First Methodist church. She explained the workings of the organ and gave the children an opportunity to inspect it.

The first program was several weeks ago at the high school auditorium and was by the high school orchestra under the direction of F. A. Anderson, Principal instruments were explained and played alone for the children.

The next program was given by the children with each school furnishing two numbers. It was at the high school auditorium.

Tech Rifle Team Beats El Pasoans

Texas Technological college rifle team yesterday closed its 1931 season with a victory over the Texas University School of Mines, of El Paso, in a closely contested shoulder to shoulder match here. The score was 848 to 845.

High point honors went to James Ord, of the College of Mines, who defeated L. W. Chapman, of Texas Tech by one point. Ord's total score was 151.

The match was held at the Technological college range, located in the canyon east of the city. The teams competed in four positions: standing, kneeling, sitting and prone. Because of adverse weather conditions, only five shots, rather than the customary ten, were fired standing.

Members of the teams were: College of Mines — Mulcahy, Dupree, Lockbridge, Ord, White, and Faust; Texas Tech—Chapman, Rogers, Langford, Ayres, Hudson, Kuhn, Redinger and McWilliams.

Bryan Grant and Wilmer Hines, coming tennis aces of Dixie, led the team to victory in the first match of the year.

Williams college has 85 per cent of its students engaged in organized sports.

The strongest of all woods is the African teak oak, which will stand a pressure up to 855 pounds.

Spudder Pitcher May Not Recover

WICHITA FALLS, April 20. (AP)—Fred Vincent, righthanded pitcher with the Wichita Falls Spudders, was reported in an extremely critical condition at a local hospital Monday following an operation necessitated by an attack of acute appendicitis. The appendix had ruptured, hospital attendants said. Vincent was stricken during the forenoon and was taken to the hospital immediately.

Milton Steengrafe, another member of the Spudder hurling staff, also is under the care of a physician after a back muscle had been torn loose in the opening game of the season.

Baseball bats, made from wood lighter than ash, but said to be as tough, are being manufactured this spring at Athens, Ga.

Rufus King Leads Angelo Trapshoot At Half Way Mark

SAN ANGELO, April 20. (AP)— R. A. King of Wichita Falls breaking 239 out of a possible 250 clay pigeons led the field at the half way mark today in the San Angelo gun club's annual spring invitation shoot. H. A. Hausmann of LaGrange was one point behind King. Thirty-five trapshooters, the majority visitors, are participating in the meet which will close Tuesday afternoon. Purses total $600.

In the 150-target, 16-yard singles today, Hart Shoemaker of Comanche was first with a score of 148. Bill Morton of McCamey and R. A. King of Wichita Falls tied for second each with 147. Morton registered 100 consecutive breaks, the best run he ever made.

At 22 yards, Morton was first in the 50-target handicap with a score of 49. Hausman at 23 yards was runner up with 48. in doubles 50-target event J. F. Barnes of Waco was first with a score of 47 and R. A. King was second with 46.

Foxx May Return To Lineup Tomorrow; Leg Is Improved

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Jimmy Foxx, slugging first baseman of the world's champion Philadelphia Athletics, today said his injured knee was feeling so strong he expected to return to the lineup Wednesday.

Foxx injured his knee at Washington last week in rounding second base. It was thought then that he would be out of action two weeks or more.

Phil Todt, acquired from Boston last winter, has been filling in for Foxx at first.

Tech Athletic Council Names Eight Men To Receive Basketball Letters

Entire Team Returns For Varsity Play Next Season

Eight members of the 1930 Texas Tech Matador basketball squad were named yesterday by the Tech athletic council as having performed capably and for a sufficient number of minutes to warrant recognition for outstanding play and to therefore receive lettered sweaters as awards for last season's work. The players were recommended to the council by Coach W. L. Golightly.

Letters will be awarded later this spring to the eight men provided scholastic grades made by the athletes are of passing quality.

The eight men were announced as follows: Captain Clarence Hodges, Abilene, forward; Captain-elect J. H. Tadlock, Amarillo, guard; Leon Fisher, Memphis, center; Harvey Dunn, Ralls, guard; Alvin Crews, Wilson, forward; Haden Moody, Becton, forward; Howard Baker, center, and A. F. Darr, Melrose, N. M.

Coach Golightly announced that all of the above men, without an exception, would be eligible for varsity play next season. The men have resolved to return to Tech for another season of basketball.

J. H. Tadlock, recently elected captain for next season, is credited with playing more minutes than any other member of the 1931 team. His record for matched play is 812 minutes. Harvey Dunn, Tadlock's guard mate, played 790 minutes during the recent season. Hodges, high scorer and captain, turned in a card of 785 minutes, and Leon Fisher, center, played 760 minutes. No other player approached this record, though Crews and Baker, at forward and center, played more than any of the others not listed.

Tulsa Loses Ball Club Of Western League To Topeka

TOPEKA, April 20. (AP)—Permanent transfer of the Tulsa club of the Western League to Topeka was announced late today by Dale Gear, president of the circuit, who said failure of Tulsa to provide a playing field resulted in the change.

The club will be owned and operated by Frank Isbell, one-time Chicago White Sox first baseman and former president of the Wichita and Des Moines Western League clubs, who obtained the franchise recently.

Gear's announcement assured Topeka a Western League berth for the third year in succession. Last year the St. Louis Browns, former owners of the Tulsa franchise, transferred the club to Topeka when they were unable to make satisfactory arrangements for a playing field in Tulsa. The old Amarillo club played in Topeka in 1929.

Eight Auburn basketeers have changed their uniforms for other sports, including baseball and track.

The Duke University tennis team has 14 matches on its card for this season.

First Campus Track Meet To Start At 4:30 On College Track And Field Today; 4 Teams In Campus League

The first of a series of intramural track meets is to be held over the Texas Tech track and field this afternoon, beginning at 4:30 o'clock. Russell "Dutchey" Smith, Tech track coach, announced yesterday. The date was formerly set for Monday but postponed one day when ill weather set in. The Aggies and Army teams will compete for the day's honors.

More than 50 track men answered the first call for intramural track last week and reported to Floyd Woolridge, ex-varsity grid and track star, who shall direct the intramural program. Track as an intercollegiate sport was abandoned by the Tech athletic council for this season due to a lack of finances. The season of intramural track and field events will be prolonged through the regular college season.

The meet this afternoon, open to all student and town spectators will include nearly all the events of a regular meet. Track events include high and low hurdles, 100-yard, 220-yard and 440-yard dashes, 880-yard run, mile run and half-mile relay. Pole vault, broad jump, high jump, discus throw, shot put and javelin throw constitute the field program for today.

No admission will be charged to any of the intramural events. Varsity trackmen of last year have been assigned to coaching positions in this season's lay out and four departments of the school will compete for the campus championship.

Officials for today's meet are as follows: E. J. (Pinkey) Lowrey, official starter; W. L. Golightly, Del Morgan, P. W. Cawthon, Ben Conday and H. C. Pender, judges; Floyd Woolridge, and Carl McAdams, clerks; Hershel Tadlock, J. H. Dallas, and Swede McMurray, in charge of all field events.

Westerner Golfers Drop To Sandies Of Amarillo High

A belated report of the golf matches last Saturday at Amarillo between the Lubbock High school Westerners and the Amarillo Sandies has it that the latter won the dual meet, taking four of five matches.

Manhell "Little Sled" Allen, Amarillo High school champion, led the Sandies against Lubbock, shooting 77 to match E. Doherty's 77 on 18 holes and then winning over the Lubbock entry on the extra hole.

In the stiffest match of the afternoon, Ralph Alkire defeated L. Doherty, one up, at the 21st hole.

Bell, Westerner golfer, won Lubbock's only match when he defeated Glen McDavid, 6 and 5. Gene Brown lost to Joe Shull, 2 and 1, and Shropshire lost to Mann, 8 and 7.

The Westerners have a tentative engagement with the Plainview High school golf team this week-end and a return series with the Amarillo golfers on the following week-end. Amarillo will play here May 2, according to present plans.

Conferences were held recently in Chile to find a way to settle the country's foreign debt.

Former Mentor At Notre Dame, Gets Recalled

Harper Remembers Coaching Knute Rockne; Left Notre Dame In 1917, Succeeded By Late Irish Mentor

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 20.—Jesse Harper, who preceded the late Knute Rockne as director of athletics at Notre Dame University, today accepted an offer to resume the position. Harper formally accepted the position in a telephone conversation with the Rev. Fr. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the university. Harper is at Ashland, Kansas.

Harper, University of Chicago star until he was graduated in 1904, became athletic director and coach of all major sports at Notre Dame in 1913 and remained until after the 1917 football season, leaving to assume the management of a ranch at Sitka, Kas.

Had Good Record

His Notre Dame football teams won 33 games, lost five and tied one, and his other teams made strong showings. Rockne played under him in 1912, and 1913 and became his assistant in 1914. When Harper left Notre Dame Rockne became director of athletics upon Harper's recommendation.

Harper previously had indicated he would not accept the place if it were offered, but yielded to the urging of Father O'Donnell and Notre Dame alumni.

Harper Is Pleased

ASHLAND, Kas., April 20.—Jesse Harper will take up his duties as director of athletics at Notre Dame University May 1, he said here today.

Harper, who served in that position from 1913 to 1917, said "of course, I am very much pleased after being away so long to be asked to come back again."

He said it was his intention "to continue the policies" now pursued at Notre Dame.

His Kansas ranch is "efficiently managed" and will not suffer from his absence, Harper said.

George Malicky Hurls 6-Hit Game To Win; Two Contests Rained Out At Wichita Falls And Fort Worth

BEAUMONT, April 20. (AP) George Malicky, who was released by San Antonio last year, pitched bang-up ball against his former mates, winning a 4-1 game there today to start the series. Moore hurled good ball for the visitors but timely blows gave the Exporters the victory.

Henigan Wins In Boston Marathon

BOSTON, April 20. (AP) After failing 10 times, James P. Henigan, little 39-year old Medford runner, today won the 35th running of the Boston Athletic association marathon from the best field the famous classic has attracted in many years.

Smiling Jimmy, father of five children, ran and walked the 26 odd miles from Hopkinton to Boston in 2:46:45 2-5, the slowest winning time since J. J. McDermott of New York, won the B. A. A.'s first race, a 25-mile affair, back in 1897. Henigan broke the tape two minutes ahead of Fred J. Ward, of the Millrose A. A. New York, who made a gallant finishing drive, coming up from fifth to second place during the last five miles.

Bears Rout Owls By 15 To 1 Count

WACO, April 20. (AP)—The Baylor Bears made a faster one out of Smokey Kleaner's fast one at Katy Park this afternoon before a large crowd, mutilating the Feathered Tribe from Houston by the overwhelming count of 15-1.

Daring Woman Genius Braves Many Hazards To Obtain Her Photographs

ONE OF a group of photos Miss White made in Soviet Russia

Margaret Bourke-White "shooting" from a difficult position.

BY EDNA ROBB WEBSTER
Central Press Writer

NEW YORK, April 20.—Margaret Bourke-White, the daring new genius of industrial photography who climbed the Chrysler tower in New York and made pictures more than 1,000 feet above the ground without being tied or assisted, has accomplished an even more hazardous task.

Having gone through enough red tape to supply several stock market tickers, she went to Russia to photograph the story of Soviet industry, and returned with the photos.

Only three years out of Columbia university, Miss Bourke-White has achieved an unusual success, besides establishing a new profession in art. Her work for one magazine, alone, is said to pay her $12,000 a year, and the remainder of her time, devoted to various clients, is even more remunerative.

Where She Finds Art

She has found art in steel mills, packing plants, grain elevators and all of the places where art is least expected to be found, and has opened up a new avenue for photography that pays splendid returns.

Miss Bourke-White has followed the paper industry from the lumber camps of northern Canada — where she worked in a temperature of 20 below zero, the automobile industry, watch making, oil production from the wells of Texas and California, steel manufacture — where she photographed molten metal at 4000 degreed F., Great Lakes transportation and many other interesting lines. She recently moved her studio from Cleveland, O., to the sixty-first floor of the Chrysler building.

Miss Bourke-White was so concerned with the fact that no accurate pictorial record of Soviet Russia had been obtained, that she decided to undertake the task. Before going abroad, she met President Hoover, who had become interested in her work, particularly her Russian project. Being an engineer, he was much impressed with her original and artistic conceptions of industry, and suggested titles for several of her most famous camera studies.

After spending five weeks in Russia, Miss Bourke-White came out with some 60 of her famous industrial photographs.

Food Not Plentiful

Miss Bourke-White found folk earning plenty of money in Russia, but that there is a decided limit to the food which can be purchased. She carried a trunk full of canned food with her, and lived for several days at one time on cold baked beans.

Her visit convinced her that in spite of the fact the Russians have adopted our up-to-date American factories and equipment, they have not yet achieved American efficiency and speed.

Prior to going into Russia, Miss Bourke-White passed two months in Germany and France, where she was accorded several unusual privileges. She is the only woman ever permitted to enter the plant of the I. G. Faber Chemical company at Leuna, Germany.

At one time she spent several hours in a German jail after having been arrested as a French spy for photographing a factory in the valley of the Ruhr. But she got her picture.

BOY'S LEG BROKEN

TAHOKA. (Special). — Val Lemastur, employed at the Bovell bakery, suffered a broken leg when a car in which he was driving turned over a mile and a half south of town. Robert Benson, Clifton Janak and Liff Taylor, in the car, were cut and bruised. The lights of the car were out of commission and the boys failed to see the turn in the road.

OFF FOR OIL FIELDS

TAHOKA, (Special).—O. J. Jackson, local cafe man, has gone to Kilgore with a load of restaurant equipment and plans to open a cafe in the new East Texas oil town. The fixtures were formerly of the City Cafe here. Mr. Jackson may stay temporarily in Kilgore and operate the business, he said.

Given Sentence For Mail Fraud

FORT WORTH, April 20. (AP)—On a plea of guilty an indictment charging use of the mails to defraud, John D. O'Mara was sentenced to Leavenworth prison for a year and a day by federal district Judge William B. Sheppard today.

An additional five year sentence was suspended.

E. B. Tinsley convicted Thursday on a mail fraud charge, was sentenced today to 16 months' imprisonment in Leavenworth. Tinsley will appeal. O'Mara was given a 30 day stay of execution to permit him to arrange his affairs here. Tinsley was given a week's stay.

The indictment against O'Mara and Tinsley grew out of oil promotion activities.

The trial of W. A. Graves, charged with use of the mails to defraud in connection with oil promotion, was started today.

Body Of Man And Children Located

SYRACUSE, N. Y. April 20. (AP)—The bodies of Webster L. Wainwright, 64, and his three small children whom he killed before hanging himself, were found early today in his home.

Police were questioning his wife, Mary, 31, and Harry Blanchard, 35, a chauffeur, who were mentioned in notes left by Wainwright.

The notes reevaled the children had been poisoned before dawn yesterday. He also had clubbed and hanged two of the children, Rosalind, 11, and Richard, 9, Jacqueline, 4, died of the poisoning.

In a note addressed to the police Wainwright said he decided on the act because his wife had left him and because she had threatened to take the children away.

Boys' Week Is Carded Friday

Programs Will Be Officially Opened At Court Of Honor And Special Days Set Aside For Features

Boys' Week will be opened formally in Lubbock Friday night at the monthly meeting of the Boy Scout court of honor, the Lubbock district committee of the South Plains Boy Scout council decided Sunday afternoon at a meeting held at the First Presbyterian church.

George W. Dupree, chairman of the court, will be in charge of the Friday night observance which will feature the loyalty motif, according to D. T. Jennings, scout executive. Saturday, the first day of the Boys' Week, has been designated as loyalty day.

Churches Observe

Sunday has been designated as boys' day in the churches. Members of the Lubbock Ministerial association attended a call meeting yesterday morning in the minister's study at the First Methodist Episcopal church and decided to devote the evening services next Sunday to boys. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and president of the ministers' association, will be in charge of general arrangements for the special programs.

The boys will be escorted through Lubbock's industrial plants next Monday, industry day, and will receive instruction in the operation of plants. J. T. Trigg will be in charge of arrangements.

Special Programs

M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, has announced that Tuesday—school day—will be observed by special programs in the schools.

The program set for Wednesday will be combined with Saturday's activities, the committee announced. Wednesday is called entertainment and athletics day on the national program.

Parents will be urged to spend Thursday evening with their boys. That day has been designated as health-and-evening-at-home day.

City Will Aid

Friday is boy's day in citizenship. Mayor J. J. Clements will be in charge of that program, which will include visits to city and county offices.

Details of Saturday's program have not been determined. It will be called out-of-doors day. Coaches of Lubbock High school and Technological college probably will supervise athletic events. Lubbock Boy Scouts, and scouts from neighboring towns, are scheduled to parade through the downtown district at 2 p. m. Saturday.

A father and son meeting will be held at a Lubbock church Sunday, May 3, the committee decided.

R. D. Moxley, chairman of the district committee, presided at Sunday's meeting.

LIFE IS AGAIN WORTH LIVING

Can Anyone Wonder Why These Texans Are Rejoicing That They Found Konjola

Sufferers want actual relief; not promises. Konjola, all its 29 ingredients working together has brought glorious relief, times without number, after all else tried had failed.

Think over the words of Mrs. Texann Tennison, 1101 N. Fifth street, Waco: "It was a lucky day when I found Konjola. After meals food soured and gas formed. I bloated terribly, and suffered for hours after every meal. But now, thanks to Konjola, I eat anything I like; this is the most wonderful medicine I ever took".

Mrs. Texann Tennison

And see how Konjola came to the rescue of Mr. John M. Williamson, 3509 Worth street, Dallas, who declares: "For 40 years I had rheumatism in my right leg. Pain was almost unbearable, and for six weeks before I started on Konjola I could not work. I have taken four bottles of Konjola with miraculous results. All pain is gone, and my entire system has been built up."

Mr. John M. Williamson

Then think over the statement of Mrs. Mary F. Guhl, 1204 W. 25th street, Fort Worth: "After seven years of stomach trouble I was weak and run down and nervous. Gas pains followed meals and I lost weight and strength. Konjola gave me the surprise of my life. In four weeks I gained five pounds and felt like a new person. Both my husband and I think Konjola is wonderful."

Mrs. Mary F. Guhl

Now, what will you do about Konjola? Surely the experiences of tens of thousands should mean something to you. Resolve to put Konjola to the test. Demand Konjola, and refuse a substitute.

The Glory Of San Jacinto

NINETY-FIVE years ago today, as men reckon time, a courageous band of patriots met and vanquished the horde of Santa Ana upon the blood-drenched field of San Jacinto. Under the never-to-be-forgotten Sam Houston, the patriots completed their victory with the capture of Santa Ana, the surrender of the Mexican forces and it was there, at San Jacinto, that the Republic of Texas took its first certain place as a land of free men.

Histories tell us that the Republic had already been proclaimed. It had been proclaimed—but it really came into being on that day, nearly a century ago, when right conquered might and valour reigned supreme.

It is a far cry to that day of glory. No man lives to tell, first hand, the deeds of the patriots who rallied to the cause of freedom, against the heel of depression. Bluebonnets grow today where gore weltered on that memorable occasion and visible remains of the conflict have all but disappeared. But there is an intangible something we sometimes call "will", or "character", which persists in Texas—Texas, whose Lone Star is now proudly displayed along side the stars of 47 sister states.

It was a long time ago when Sam Houston accepted the sword of Santa Ana, but the years melt away as the mist before the noon-day sun when we consider the principle which prompted the early Texans to strike for home and honor. Their courage, expressed on the field of battle—their ideals, which gave birth to the thoughts of a republic—their example of "all for one and one for all"—all these are tories.

The men who bled and died at San Jacinto bled not, died not in vain. Texans of 1931 like to imagine them, peering at the Texas of today from that other, with Texas today as it pushes ahead to other vic-happier world—proud that their unselfishness played a part in the welding together of what now has become a great commonwealth.

Heroes of San Jacinto: Texas salutes you!

Heroes of Goliad, Texas sings your praises.

Heroes of unsung deeds—patriots who played undiscovered parts in a great drama of freedom—Texas glories in your service!

And today, as Texas turns to the further building of the empire that is here, she pauses to swell with pride at a past as filled with glory as the future—whatever it may hold—can ever be!

Practical Health Problems

BETTER VENTILATION IN PLANES

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

BEFORE the Royal Society of Medicine, Captain Martin Flack of the British Air Forces recently compared airsickness and seasickness.

These conditions have certain common factors. In both cases there seems to be some relationship to the mechanism of the internal ear, some disturbance in the relationship of sensation in the eyes, the internal ear and the muscle, some effects due to stuffy atmosphere, smells and lack of adequate ventilation, some disturbance due to apprehension or nervousness, and some response because of the general lack of tone of abdominal muscles of the individual who is affected.

Airsickness is still so recent a complaint that adequate studies of the condition have not been made. Thus no statistics are available as to the number of sick passengers arriving at various airports, or people traveling under more or less the same air conditions in different types of machines. DR. FLACK is convinced that defective ventilation of the cabin plays a large part in airsickness. It is pointed out that pilots who are accustomed to flying in open machines have their first appearance of airsickness when in a cabin.

The preliminary investigation shows that the ventilation of airplane cabins needs improving. People are packed so closely together that if one becomes sick his fellow passengers see him and that serves to "set off" the others. Moreover the smell of the vomited material passes from persons sitting in the back of the cabin to those in the front. It has been concluded that for adequate ventilation the air should pass from the front of the cabin to the back, drafts should be excluded and there must be no offensive smells.

Apparently in airsickness as well as in seasickness, the general health of the person affected is important. In a joint investigation made between the air service and representatives of the Cunard Company the conclusion was reached that true seasickness is predominantly due to stimulation of the internal mechanism of the ear by the movement of the ship. Such stimulation causes contractions of the stomach through a reflex mechanism, which acts promptly particularly in people who are sensitive to movement.

The confusion between the various senses that have been mentioned is due to the fact that the eye and the deep muscle impressions indicate to the persons affected that the ship is going up while, owing to slowness of conduction of sensation, the impression from the internal mechanism of the ear is that the ship is still going down.

Some people learn to move the head to stop this impression and thus bring the sensations into common accord. In general, those who have a tendency to disturbances of digestion are more likely to be seasick than those who are not.

People who become abroad after a big farewell banquet, particularly accompanied by large amounts of alcoholic liquors, are likely to be sick promptly when the ship starts, but it is a question whether what they suffer from can fairly be called seasickness.

Role Is Revealed

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20. — Lord Macaulay, writing of Horace Walpole a century or thereabouts ago, spoke of the subject of his essay as possessing "merits of a very rare, though not a very high, kind."

If his lordship were alive yet and some editor had assigned him the other day to the job of getting up an obituary of Nicholas Longworth, it seems to me that he could not possibly have done better than to dig up this old comment of his concerning Horace Walpole and adapt it to the late speaker of the house of representatives.

To my notion, most of the accounts of Speaker Longworth, published since his death, have erred in describing him as a great man, which is claiming entirely too much, whereas there is no doubt that he was a most remarkable one.

* * *

IF EVER the opportunity to achieve greatness was offered to any individual, it was offered to Nicholas Longworth.

He had "family," wealth and exceptional natural abilities.

Already broadened by a liberal education and extensive travel and with a strong flair for public life, the career which he was to follow for more than three decades opened to him when he was still in his twenties.

HE HAD the backing of a wife who was an incalculable help to him.

This is not to say that he ever was merely "Theodore Roosevelt's son-in-law" or "Princess Alice's husband."

He never was overshadowed. He was not the man to BE overshadowed.

But aside from that, his wife "played him up" to perfection.

Perhaps the most brilliant woman of her generation, except socially, her "solons" were famous, but always with emphasis on the fact that they were a part of Nick's menage; she remained strictly in the background.

She declined a place on the Republican national committee.

Her refusal to utter one word for publication lest it distract a little of the attention from her husband, was the despair of every Washington correspondent and of editors throughout the country; she would have made such magnificent "copy," but it was useless to ask her.

INDEED she had the reputation of "nigh hating" the press—which struck the newspaper fraternity as strange in her father's daughter, and in view of the easy accessibility of the uniformly accommodating Nicholas; but how account for her many years of haughty silence otherwise?

Yet when the speaker lay dying at Aiken (S. C.) with his friends minimizing the seriousness of his illness, it was Mrs. Longworth who informed the reporters of his extremity, immediately upon her arrival at his bedside. It was at her order that they were signalled the news of his death (a) before servants in the house were aware of it) by the quick raising and lowering of a window shade the instant Dr. R. H. Wilds had announced that all was over.

While her husband was able to speak for himself she would not speak for him by a syllable; he was 100 per cent his own man, as a public character. The moment, however, that he was helpless her sense of responsibility for him asserted itself.

* * *

WITH ALL the enormous advantages in his favor, Speaker Longworth was satisfied (he certainly seemed modestly but adequately satisfied with himself) to round out his life as a marvellously charming, cultured, accomplished gentleman and an ultra-adroit politician; a statesman never.

Not a piece of constructive legislation bears his name, as a memento of the 28 years he spent in the house of representatives.

The repeal of not a bad law, through his effort, stands to his credit.

He did, as speaker, jam through a vast deal of his party's business. He successfully obstructed an equally vast deal of the business of the opposition party and the insurgents.

IT IS NOT a great man's record, but it is an efficient one's—as a matter of smooth party politics.

For practical purposes (leaving statesmanship out of the question) the Ohioan's combination of the qualities needed by G. O. P. "regularity" in the speaker's chair was so nearly perfect that it is doubtful if an even measurably satisfactory substitute can be found for him, assuming that the Hamiltonian element has the necessary majority to elect the representatives' next presiding officer.

Republican sentiment appears to be crystalizing upon Col. John Q. Tilson of Connecticut—but not because the colonel is deemed ideal; simply because he is considered the best available.

NEVERTHELESS Colonel Tilson comes closer to greatness, maybe, than did Nicholas Longworth.

The colonel is not a great man, either, but I think he could score more points, in an effort to qualify as one, than an impartial judge would have allowed to the late speaker, and if the question had been put up to the members of the last house of representatives, I believe they would so have voted.

But for all that, there can be no argument that all would have agreed on the vast superiority of Nick's equipment for the speakership. Nick's merits were "of a very rare, though not a very high, kind," and they were exactly suited to the job of wielding the gavel in the house of representatives under the circumstances which prevailed during his term as its presiding officer, in order to attain the results which he attained while wielding it.

All glory departs, and it is only a question of time until we shall read a foot-note: "Batted for Ruth in the ninth."

Yet a square peg in a round hole can fit in with complete success if it will develop in the right way.

The real burdens of society are persons who thought that good luck could take the place of hard work.

Few business practices are unethical except to those whose pockets are picked.

SNOW SET FIRE TO A CAR OF IRON.—During the winter of 1900, while employees of the Trigg Shipbuilding company, Richmond, Virginia, were loading a car of iron filings and lathe cuttings for shipment to a smelter, the car and contents caught fire during the night and burned. Snow blew through the openings of the car causing rapid oxidation of the newly cut iron and steel; from nascent water of the melting snow, which resulted in the firing of the car. This was witnessed by Clarendon Ions, Realty Board building, Miami, Fla., who assisted in loading the car.

THE MAN WHO COULDN'T TALK WITHOUT LYING.—The Civil War veteran, who, until his recent death, lived in Letohatchee, Alabama, had a bullet lodged in his throat in such a way that the pressure affected his voice. Unless he lay flat on his back he could not utter a word. his unique case is attested to by Mrs. A. E. Perry of Manitour, Colorado, who sketched the drawing.

AN APPLE WAS ORIGINALLY "A NAPPLE."—Brocket gives "napple" as the ancient English spelling of the word "apple". There are several such words beginning with "a" the spelling of which underwent a similar transformation. Thus "apron" was originally "naporn", "orange" was "norange", etc.

A THRILLING MYSTERY STORY — by MILES BURTON

READ THIS FIRST:

Dick Penhampton, young friend of Sir Edric Conway, police commissioner, after the theft of the famous Hardway diamonds and the murder of Inspector Brooks is put on the trail of the gang headed by a person known as the Funny Toff, who no one has seen, but who is identified by his maniacal laughter. Dick, who is in love with pretty Alison Weatherleigh, has never told her of his dangerous mission. Dr. Weatherleigh, Alison's father, a collector of antiques, arrives in London, and Dick has been invited to meet him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER 21

Dick Penhampton was shown in, and greeted Dr. Weatherleigh with considerable deference. He was anxious for a conversation with Alison's father, and had eagerly accepted her suggestion that he should call for her at the Magnificent. But, now that he had arrived, he sat tongue-tied, seeking in vain for some topic with which to begin.

Dr. Weatherleigh solved his difficulty for him. "I happened to see your name in the paper today, Mr. Penhampton," he said conversationally. "You appear to have performed a most unpleasant duty with considerable credit to yourself."

Dick grinned foolishly. He had read the report of the inquest on Pussy Herridge in the papers, but he had hoped that it had not yet come to the ears of the old antiquary. Not that very much had been said about his own exploits. He had merely given evidence of the findings of the body and reporting it to the police. The coroner had sat without a jury and had been coached by Sir Edric, who had hinted that it was not in the interests of justice that any questions should be asked as to Dick's business on the marshes at that hour of the night. The reports had merely recorded the bare fact that a Mr. Richard Penhampton had found the body in the ruined house.

"Why, Dick, what have you been up to?" inquired Alison, a shade of anxiety in her voice.

"Mr. Penhampton was compelled to give evidence at an inquest, my dear," replied her father. "Merely a formal matter. He happened to be the first to find the body. An unpleasant experience and one that is better not discussed. I hear that you and my daughter are dining together, Mr. Penhampton. I trust that your evening will prove more amusing than mine. I have an engagement to attend a meeting of the Royal Neolithic Society."

The conversation took a more general turn, and after a while Alison left the two men together, on the plea that she wished to explore the condition of her father's wardrobe. She had not left the room many moments before Dick made up his mind to the plunge. "Look here, sir!" he exclaimed abruptly. "I want to marry Alison."

He seemed to expect that Dr. Weatherleigh would be completely taken aback by this astounding declaration. If this was the case, he was destined to disappointment, for the antiquary merely smiled at him, as he would have smiled at some new type. "May I say that I have long expected something of the kind?" he replied.

Dick heaved a sigh of relief. This was not the sort of parent who was likely to throw difficulties in the way. "Then you approve, sir?" he asked diffidently.

"Yes, I approve," replied Dr. Weatherleigh. "I approve because I happen to know Alison's feeling in the matter. Let me tell you that, compared with my daughter's happiness, the ordinary material considerations have no weight with me. She may marry whom she pleases, so long as she can convince me that it is for her own happiness. Needless to say, I am extremely thankful that her choice has fallen upon a man of your character and position. I know nothing of your financial status, nor do I wish to know. I am thankful to say that I am in a position to provide my daughter with an income sufficient to any position she may wish to maintain."

"It's awfully good of you to take it so well, sir," said Dick in heartfelt relief.

Dr. Weatherleigh could not repress a smile of amusement.

"My dear boy," he said, you speak as if you had just broken a severe

BY MARSHALL FORMBY,
Tech Correspondent

TO JUDGE AT AMARILTO

Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, acting head of the college speech department, will act as a judge today in a final oratorical contest at Amarillo. The contest which is an international one is sponsored at Amarillo by the Amarillo News-Globe and four students are in the finals.

All the orations are to be on the "American Constitution." The winner of the Amarillo contest will go to the zone meet in Kansas City and the winner of that meet will compete in other contests.

TO REPRODUCE PLAY

Because of the many persons turned away from the first production of "The Rock," religious play presented at the First Methodist church Sunday evening by Tech students, the play will be given again tonight, it was announced yesterday. The play will be given in the auditorium of the church, it was said.

Nine Tech students are in the cast which is directed by Fiske Miles, religious director of the church. Special scenery and costumes will be available for the second production. Students and town people are invited.

VISITS ON CAMPS

Holmes Webb, 1930 of the Tech annual, La Ventana, and graduate of the college, was a visitor on the campus yesterday. Webb has been spending the past year at his home at Abernathy.

SURVEY COURSE GIVEN

A survey course is being given this term to home economic students, who intend to become interior decorators, by Miss Jean Dorrel. Twenty-five co-eds are enrolled in the class, according to home economic officials.

The group spends two hours each week making trips to apartment houses, duplex homes and private homes in Lubbock getting new ideas on decorating. Several persons who are authorities along this subject are to speak to the students this term.

WILL BE SPLIT TEAM

What is likely to be the last debate for this school year is being planned with the West Texas State Teachers college of Canyon, debate officials have announced. The engagement will be on the tariff question and debated by a split team.

The Tech girls will be selected and two Canyon boys. One girl and one boy will present the affirmative, while another girl and another boy will defend the negative. The event will be held at Canyon.

OFFICERS NAMED

Officers named during the recent election of the Tech Association of Women Students include Hazel Gruver, president; Alice Beckett, vice-president; and Ruth Thompson, secretary. The officers were chosn by a popular vote of the women students.

Miss Gruver will represent Tech at the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students convention at Ann Arbor, Michigan April 22-28. It was decided some time ago to send the new president to the meet.

ETCHINGS ON DISPLAY

Belgium color etchings are now on display in the auditorium of the engineering building and students and town people are invited to view these sketches, Professor F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the architectural department has said.

The etchings were received by the departmental head sometime ago, but were not to be on display until this week.

SIDWELL IS ILL

Dr. Raymond Sidwell, member of the Tech geology department, is reported ill. He will be absent from classes for several days it was said yesterday.

WORK ON EDITION

The Toreador this week is being edited by the home economics department. Special articles portraying the work of that department will be featured in the edition. Frank Emison, editor of the Toreador, has announced that the edition will appear Thursday.

ROSWELL, N. M., April 20.—(Special—Four of the 20 checks which business men sent out in cooperation with the Roswell Dispatch to each pay off 25 $10 debts have been returned to the banks with that number of endorsements. The checks represent a total indebtedness of $1,000 that has been cancelled.

The firms receiving checks were: The Model, Joyce-Pruit, Louis Falconi and the Southwestern Public Service company.

Sixteen othr checks are to be paid at local banks when each has 25 endorsements. The total of $200 was to retire $5,000 in local obligations.

Tech Students To Aid League Meet

Class work in Texas Technological college will be suspended between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. Friday in order that the faculty members and students may aid in the annual District Interscholastic League meet that afternoon. Dr. Paul W. Horn made the announcement Monday afternoon.

Only lecture classes will be dismissed, President Horn said, laboratory work being continued on regular schedule.

The professors and students are to act as judges in the preliminiary declamation, debate, extemporaneous speaking and other contests during Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

THEATER ROBBED

Cotton Trading Active Through Monday — Livestock Curtailed Supply Stimulates Demand — Grain Wheat Reports Cause Declines

Cotton

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Cotton was quiet but generally higher today on continuation on the trade buying and covering which had developed in the market here toward the end of last week.

Traders apparently paid little attention to relatively easy Liverpool cables, while there may have been some buying on prospects for less favorable weather in the south and reports of rallies from an early decline in the stock market. July contracts after selling up to 10.60 early, reacted to 10.58 but later sold up to 10.63 and closed at 10.56. The general market closed steady at net advances of 3-6 points.

No particular factor in the day's news was generally mentioned in connection with the advance. Weather conditions reported in the south were considered favorable but the outlook for rains with lower temperatures in some sections may possibly have brought in some covering. There was further May liquidation, which appeared to be quite readily absorbed by the trade. May closed 63 points under October compared with a difference of 60 points at the close of last week.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 20. (AP)—Trading was more active in the cotton market here today and the price trend was moderately upward due to increased trade buying and shorts covering, owing mainly to the prospect for a cold wave in the belt preceded by unsettled weather. Cables came in a shade lower than due but soon advanced and caused a steady opening in the market here. Prices rallied right after the start on the weather outlook gaining 7 points from the opening figures. Later in the morning prices eased off 8 points from the early highs owing to some weakness in stocks and on a private report claiming that good progress had been made in planting but near noon prices rallied again to levels 10 points above the opening prices in good trade buying and shorts covering.

ed to cease for a time at the Alamo, as his majesty placed a wreath in the shrine of Texas liberty in memory of the 182 immortals who lost their lives in the Alamo nearly a century ago. Nearly 5,000 school children were to make their silent pilgrimage to the Alamo for the ceremony.

At Houston the celebration began with a costume ball and historical pageant Monday night at the city auditorium and was planned to conclude Tuesday with impressive ceremonies at San Jacinto battle ground.

tributed, was defeated. It was offered after the bill was engrossed and received 56 ayes to 55 noes. It needed two thirds, however, to be adopted.

The gas distribution tax would be paid monthly. Farmer declared it would be impossible for the gas companies to pass the tax to the consumers and that it "would force the Lone Star Gas company to pay its just share of the burden of government."

The Lone Star Gas company is the principal wholesaler of natural gas in Texas.

Chick Hafey Still Holding Out; Cards Refuse Terms

ST. LOUIS, April 20. (AP)—President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals announced today there was no change in the status of Chick Hafey, holdout star outfielder. Breadon said he received a telegram from Hafey last Friday and had replied that there had been no change in the club's terms. Since then, nothing has been heard from Hafey.

Under baseball law, if Hafey has not signed by next Friday he will be automatically suspended.

The vehicular bridge under the Mersey river at Liverpool will be the largest of its kind in the world, providing for four lines of vehicles and a railway.

Stock Market A Hit And Miss Affair On Monday; Late Rally Fills Holes

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The stock market was a hit and miss affair today. A last hour rally filled in some of the holes made by indifferent earlier selling and prices closed irregularly higher; volume dwindled to last week's low levels, aggregating 16,000,000 shares.

The Saturday advance proved to have been only a flash in the pan so far as its effect on today's early quotations was concerned. Initial quotations did offer a slim majority of small gains, but the covering movement which the previous session's upturn had suggested did not develop. Instead, prices soon began to ease. It was notable, however, that the leaders, with two or three exceptions, were reluctant to decline and a break by United States steel to 129 3-4, a new low, was virtually ignored by other pivotal stocks. Steel showed a net loss all day and the loss of 3 1-4 points represented exactly the amount of Saturday's gain.

speaker's platform, shouted "We in Houston were on speaking terms with you East Texans when you were poor." "Pour it on 'em, fight 'em," the Houston contingent encouraged.

Poration Aired

Sumners had contended that the last three conventions had been held in the northern part of the state and that "common decency" dictated that the next one be held in Dallas.

The retiring president, Guy Blount of Nacogdoches, brought up directly the issue of oil proration in the new East Texas field. He said that the section would "be perpetrating a crime" unless it "ratably produced" oil.

"What do you want to do with it —throw it out, give it away?" he called out.

Blunt's main address dealt with progress of the organization during the year. He said that despite general depression, there had been no lessening of work or of the personnel of the chamber. He told of various activities and achievements of the organization during the year.

Julian

said $50,000 was "like chicken feed" to him and that the charges against him would never be brought to trial.

Denies All Remarks

After a conference with Raymond, Julian made a verbal statement denying the remarks attributed to him.

Bolling sat outside the bar, flanked by two officers. He had claimed that two men came to his hotel room in Laredo several weeks ago, demanding $50,000 at pistol's point, and when he refused the demand, packed his belongings and prepared to check him out at the hotel. As they stood before the hotel clerk's desk, a state highway patrolman noticed Bolling kick him on the ankle.

The patrolman overheard a man tell Bolling to "come through or I'll give it to you."

The patrolman seized the man's arm and jerked his hand from his coat pocket, still clutching a gun, the officer asserted.

C. C. Boren, and Clay Mann, also under charges in connection with the alleged kidnaping and extortion attempt, were in court today. Mann, former employe of Julian, sat beside his attorney, Louis J. Wardloy of Fort Worth, but did not speak to Julian or go near him.

Counsel for Julian was given until tomorrow to prepare the continuance motion.

Protection

foreigners had been injured had been received.

Secretary Stimson and Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, conferred on the progress of precautionary measures which they had ordered yesterday on receipt of news of the outbreak of the Honduran rebellion.

The three American cruisers, carrying a total of about 120 officers and 1,300 men, were under orders to confine their operations to the coast towns and maintain strict neutriality between the revolutionary and the government forces.

In the development of the banana producing region, American concerns have invested approximately $66,000,000, $40,000,000 in plantations and equipment for handling fruit for the market and $26,000,000 in communications, including railroads from the ports into the banana growing plains.

Through Minister Julius G. Lay at Tegucigalpa, the American government promised representatives of European nations the American forces also would protect their nationals in the north coast towns.

WOMAN IS BETTER

ABERNATHY, (Special).—Mrs. R. Schroeter, wife of the manager of the Struve Cheese factory, who has been very ill, is reported some better. She was taken to the West Texas hospital at Lubbock for emergency treatment and later was brought home.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, April 20. (AP)—Curtailed supplies of cattle around the eleven market circuit stimulated demand for killing classes with prices steady to 25 higher. Demand was materially improved for light weight fed steers and yearlings and the better grades took the full 25 advance. No South Texas grass steers of consequence were available. Aggregate receipts estimated at 49,800 were 39,000 short of a week ago.

The hog market was somewhat spotted with prices at some centers steady to as much as 15 higher while other points reported weak to 15 lower values. Total offerings were around 107,000 against 121,-388 last Monday.

A liberal run of sheep resulted in a 25-50 decline in fat lamb prices while mature killing classes ruled weak to 25 lower. City butchers and shippers in Chicago bought choice fed wooled lambs up to $.75 and at Kansas City Arizona springers realized 10.25 on shipping accounts. In St. Louis 100 lb. clipped Texas wethers cashed at 3.90. The supply approximating 106,700 was 3,000 more than a week ago.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, April 20. (AP)—Hogs—1,300, few truck sales steady; packer market mostly 10 lower. Truck top 7.50; good light weight rail hogs 7.40; bulk better grades light and medium weight truck hogs 7.35@7.40; few 117 lb. butcher pigs 7.00; packing sows mostly 6.25 or steady.

Cattle—4,100, including 500 calves. Improved demand for most classes cattle and calves slaughter steers, yearlings, slaughter calves and stock yearlings around 25 higher; slaughter steers 4.25 to around 6.50; good to choice fat yearlings 7.75@8.00; few fat cows 4.25; butcher grades 3.00@3.50; strong weight low cutters up to 2.75; good light weight stock steer yearlings 7.25, heavy fat Brahma calves 6.00, other weight averages around 5.50 down.

Local Markets

These prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock; Dairy Products—Ball Ice Cream company and Mistletoe Creameries; Grain—S. B. Slaying Of Girl Is Being Probed

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 20. (AP) Coroner's surgeons announced today an autopsy on the body of Louise Teuber, 17, whose nude body was found hanging from a tree near La Mesa yesterday, had revealed human skin under the fingernails of the dead girl as evidence a struggle preceded death.

At the same time it was stated evidence had been found the girl had been struck a heavy blow behind the left ear and the force of this blow was probably sufficient to have caused unconsciousness.

It was indicated the girl was either dying, or dead, when the slaper placed the noose about her neck and pulled her body to the limb of the tree.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 20. (AP)—Confronted by at least a partial breakup of drouth conditions in the spring wheat belt and by unsettlement of the securities market, grains slid downhill today. Bearish sentiment was increased by talk that the 1931 winter wheat crop would equal in size any ever raised in Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma, and that Texas, Missouri and New Mexico production would excell all records. Substantial decreases shown both in the United States and Canadian wheat visible supply totals failed to act as a counterbalance.

Wheat closed newous 1-8 to 1 3-4 cents lower, corn 1-4 to 7-8 down, oats 1-4 to 1-2 off, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents.

three generations. Miss Alene Spears, as Florence, a 19-year-old; Mrs. Alfred B. Strehli, as Isabel Stuart, a young woman of uncertain age, and Mrs. W. C. Rylander, as the Aunt Ellen of a more remote generation, were the three inhabitants of the farm house where the last two scenes of the play took place.

Of Lubbock's Little Theater plays, this one showed unusually good directing and there was little stuttering or forgetting by those who had parts. An unexpected comedy feature was provided the audience in the properties which were inadvertently left on the stage or forgotten entirely. Enunciation of the actors was excellent so that there was no difficulty in following the action.

Probably the weakest point in the entire evening was the lack of any entertainment between acts and the quiet which descended over the audience at these times was so heavy that even the comedy of a Tarkington play had some difficulty in lifting it. Between the first and second acts, Wesley Read, financial head of the Little Theater, tendered thanks to those who assisted in making the production possible and expressed regret that The Plainsman, Charles A. Guy, could not speak, as had been planned. There was no appearance between the next two acts.

Although he appeared only in the first act, Mr. Stephenson managed to star in his role of the station master. His voice, dress and actions were entirely appropriate and had almost the tone of a professional. Mr. Brown, as a very young man in love, was good in his part. Aside from his lines, his slouch, his manner of getting about the stage were indicative of his part which he is young enough to make quite genuine.

Of the women there was no outstanding player, although they were all suited to their parts. Mrs. Strehli probably was the best of the group and she was entirely at ease in her action and at home on the stage. Mrs. Rylander and Mrs. J. H. Eubanks, the latter having the part of the maid, had minor roles but they were well cast as characters.

Another player who had little opportunity to show his ability was O. W. Ribble, who was cast as a servant about the farm house.

Failing to draw uproarious laughter or applause, the play was yet well received by an audience which seemed too lethargic for the occasion.

Arthur L. Brown, who has had a stage experience dating over a number of years, directed this play, which is the only one that will be presented this year by the Lubbock Little Theater.

No announcement was made last night of the amount that will be available for charity through this performance, however the entire proceeds are to go for these agencies as everything was donated for the performance.—B. E. B.

Playlet Will Be Presented

Campfire Girls To Appear At Luncheon Program Of Lions Club Today In Interest Of Cleanup Campaign

Eleven girls of the Akipsia Campfire Girls group are scheduled to present a playlet today before the Lubbock Lions' club in the interest of the "cleanup and paintup" campaign, which was formally opened in the city yesterday.

The play will be pertinent to cleaning and painting and will be under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Conner, guardian of the group. All members of the cast will be in costume.

A feature of the opening day of the campaign was an inspection of the city by representatives of seven women's clubs, aided by Lubbock Boy Scouts. An eighth inspection group is to inspect its district today. The women reviewed the sidewalks and front yards and the scouts inspected the back yards and alleys.

Second inspection will be made April 28 and final results will be tabulated April 30, when a third inspection of the districts of the city is made April 30, the closing date of the drive.

Mayor J. J. Clements yesterday issued a proclamation urging Lubbock citizens to cooperate in the drive and aid the city in maintaining its record established last year, as the first ranking city in Texas in the clanup and paintup campaign.

Today has been designated as front yard day; Wednesday as flower-bed day; Thursday, paint day; Friday back yard day, and Saturday, vacant lot day. The same daily program will be followed next week, according to W. B. Atkins, chairman of the general steering committee of the campaign.

Report blanks were distributed yesterday among all of the children of the grade schools. The blanks are to be filled out by the children's parents and will show the amount of work done in the homes.

Two hundred posters, calling attention to the drive, were placed in downtown store windows yesterday by members of the Campfire Girls group.

Spanish Depositors Will Be Subjects Of Strict Measures

MADRID, April 20. (AP)—Seeking to stop heavy withdrawals of Spanish cash and securities, the government today decreed that depositors must restore their money to banks within thirty days or "strict measures will be taken against them."

Minister of Finance Indalecio Prieto said in an interview: "The government invites those people to restore their moneys to the banks and gives them four weeks to do so. After that strict measures will be taken against them."

Wounded Fugitive Is Found Late Monday By Authorities

MARLOW, Okla., April 20. (AP)—Guns blazed on a dark street here early today and three desperadoes fled, leaving one peace officer dead and another wounded. Tonight one of the fugitives lay wounded in a Duncan, Oklahoma, hospital and officers were close on the trail of his companions.

Found late today in a farm house near Duncan, Jack Allred about 25, Quail, Texas, admitted, officers said, that his friends had left him there following the gun fight in which night constable, James R. Hill, 50, was slain and Ike Veatch, night police chief, wounded.

Joint Conference Sought By Rotary

PLAINVIEW, April 20. (AP)—More than 800 Rotarians here for the 41st district convention will vote tomorrow on a resolution which proposes a joint conference of three Texas Rotary districts for 1932. The resolution provides that the district will revert to its regular convention after the 1932 joint session.

Other business includes nomination of officers and nomination of cities for the 1932 convention. The meeting place will be determined at a district assembly in July.

Members of the Lubbock Rotary club and the Texas Technological college band, who left yesterday for Plainview to attend the forty-first district Rotary convention, are expected to return late today at the close of the the two-day session.

The Lubbock delegation was headed by T. A. White who was chairman of the local club's "On to Plainview" committee.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech was one of the four laymen who Sunday spoke in Plainview churches.

Construction Work Started On New Lamesa Legion Home

LAMESA, April 20. (Special) — At 10 o'clock this morning dirt was broken for the new American Legion home of the Houston Allen post. The first shovel of dirt was thrown by Mayor J. R. Lowrie. An appropriate program was given on which appeared Judge J. E. Garland, W. W. Evans, J. D. Dyer, Mrs. Sam James and Mayor Lowrie. S. Richardson, post commander, presided. Invocation was by C. Baldwin.

Sunday Blue Laws In England Not Favored By House Voting

LONDON, April 20. (AP)—Members of the house of commons who expressed themselves as anxious the British Sunday be observed with all the rigor laid down in ancient blue laws, suffered a reverse in the house of commons tonight.

After a hot debate that proceeded entirely along nonparty lines, the bill empowering local authorities to grant licenses for moving picture theaters and certain other places of amusement to remain open on Sunday passed by a vote of 258 to 210 on second reading.

King Alfonso In London On Business; Family In Paris

PARIS, April 20. (AP)—Alfonso of Spain, waiting in exile for his people to call him home, is to live on Fontainebleau among the ghosts of the historic past.

Tomorrow, his queen will take their children there, putting up at the Savoy hotel for the time being while Alfonso is in London for a few days on business. He will join them when he returns and later perhaps they will establish a more private residence.

Slight Damage Caused By Earth Shocks In New York

ALBANY, N. Y., April 20. (AP) — Upstate New York and part of Massachusetts trembled to earth shocks today. No serious property damage was reported.

The area in which the tremors were felt was not definitely outlined, but they seemed to center about the Albany-Schnectady-Troy area.

OVERRULES APPLICATION

LAREDO, April 20. (AP)— Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly late today overruled a habeas corpus application seeking the release of Charles Schwartz, alias Victor Miller, to avoid trial at the present time on charges of conspiring to commit a felony in another state, now pending in the district court of Webb county.

M. Fontan, of Toulon, France, the first surgeon to put stitches in the heart died recently.

Liquor Taken In Raids Here

Whisky And Beer Confiscated By Officers Sunday While Six Are Under Arrest On Pro Law Charges

Lubbock officers confiscated nearly 18 gallons of whisky and 100 bottles of beer and arrested six people on prohibition law violation charges here Sunday.

Those charged in complaints filed before Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter were O. A. Pruitt, Joe McBride, Boyd Robinson, Ruby Morris and two negroes, Isaiah Venters and Phil Harper. All waived examining trial and their bonds were set at amounts ranging from $350 to $1,000.

Pruitt and McBride were charged with possession for purpose of sale and transportation of intoxicating liquor. Condemnation proceedings were instituted against an automobile, a new coach bearing a New Mexico license, which officers said was occupied by the two suspects and contained five gallons of whisky. Their bonds were set at $1,000 each.

Robinson and Ruby Morris were arrested by county officers on the Lubbock-Slaton highway about two miles from Lubbock. They were charged with possession and transportation of 24 half gallon jars of liquor. They waived preliminary hearings and bond was set at $1,000 each.

The negroes, Venters and Harper, were charged with possession of beer and sale of whiksy, respectively. Officers said that they found 100 bottles of beer and a half gallon of whisky in Harper's home, in the 1700 block of Avenue C. Harper made $500 bond and was released last night. Venters failed to make a $350 bond.

Harlan Carter Found Guilty Of Murder; Gets Three Years

LAREDO, April 20. (AP)—Verdict of guilty of murder without malice aforethought was returned by a jury tonight against Harlan B. Carter, 17, in connection with the death of Ramon Casiano, 16. The jury had been out 93 hours. Carter was assessed three years in the state penitentiary.

REACH AGREEMENT

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—An agreement designed to immediately "stabilize the oil market in East Texas" was reached here tonight between officials of the East Texas Lease Royalty and Producers association and leading proponents of proration. It was understood that a 60-day truce had been agreed upon insofar as the Estes injunction suit was concerned.

Now Radio Planning To Pick 'Em Beautiful Through Use Of Television; New Crop Of Pretty YoungSingers And Actresses Being Cultivated

Here are some of the beautiful young stars recruited by the broadcasting companies as a guarantee that when television becomes perfected you won't be disappointed when you both see and hear the artist. Top row, left to right, Ethelyne Holt; Natalie Towers; Dorothy James. Lower row, Georgia Lee Hall; Olive Shea; Sue Reed; and Thelma Choat.

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, April 20.—They're judging radio talent at its face value now. A new crop of pretty young singers, actresses and even dancers, is being cultivated in preparation for the day when television will carry both sight and sound from the studio-stages to the nation's fans.

To little Natalie Towers, New York actress, goes the distinction of being the first person chosen especially for the new medium of entertainment, Columbia Broadcasting System, after testing scores of particularly vivid types not only for their photographic qualities, but for their speaking and singing voices, has decided that Natalie is just about the ideal. She already is appearing before the televisor, but in tests which are not yet being broadcast.

Many others have cast their lot with radio in the hope of being starred in the new visual art when it appears. There's Ethelyne Holt, a graduate of the Boston Civic Repertory and the New York Theater Guild. You have seen her in some of the illustrations of James Montgomery Flagg. You have heard her on the air in various dramatic roles, mostly French and German. And she'll go on soon with Irene Bordoni.

Helen Choat and Sue Reed are two pretty youngsters who are newly popular in radio. Olive Shea, another, has been a movie actress and a dancer since she won the title of "Miss Radio" in 1930. Now she's back on the air and waiting for television. So is Georgia Lee Hall, whom Broadway promised a bright future in legitimate drama.

Both stage and screen were the losers when Dorothea James began broadcasting. Her professional career began in the movies when, as a child, she was starred with Wesley Barry in "School Days."

ELIZABETH ARDEN'S PREPARATIONS ARE OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE TO FASHION

"CONSIDER what HAPPENS behind your FACE!" says ELIZABETH ARDEN

"FACES are not the only things being relentlessly exposed by the abbreviated new hats. The back of the neck is coming into full view. As high collars give way to spring neck lines this will be only too apparent."

Begin at once to follow the counsels of Elizabeth Arden and be assured that every added inch of exposed throat or neck is added loveliness. Miss Arden can transform even backs-of-necks (usually so awkward) into something quite special and nice. Bleaching, softening and firming treatments will work wonders. Don't wait for the summer season to surprise and embarrass you. Start now to give yourself the simple care that will prepare you for the most revealing of hats, or frocks.

These are the preparations you should use, in accordance with the famous Elizabeth Arden home method of treatment.

"Inside" Story Of Battle Of San Jacinto Told In Missive

Description Of Historic Incident Just 95 Years Ago Today Revealed In Relic Of Texas U. Library

AUSTIN, April 20—Colored with personal feeling, the "inside" story of the Battle of San Jacinto, which occurred 95 years ago tomorrow, is told in a letter written by one of the Texas participants to his father just two months after the historic combat which actually set Texas free from Mexican rule. The letter, written by J. W. Hassell to his father, Jesse Hassell of Fleetwood, Miss., is now in the possession of Mrs. W. R. McClellan, mother of Mrs. H. J. O'Hair of Coleman, former regent of the University of Texas. Mrs. McClellan recently loaned the letter, among others of the Hassell family, to the University library in order that photostat copies might be made.

In this letter Hassell tells of the preliminary skirmishes between the Mexican and Texas armies, one of which resulted in a treaty between Colonel Fannin of Texas and General Santa Anna of the Mexican Army. This treaty was utterly disregarded by Santa Anna, Hassell relates in pictuesque language, and the Mexican leader had the man and officers whom he had imprisoned taken out and shot. He then traces the activities of the Mexican army as they reassembled in Mexico and marched on the colonists in three divisions, how the Texans finally made a stand on the San Jacinto river, precipitated a pitched battle, and won victory. But the story follows in Hassell's own words:

Three Divisions

"The Mexican army then marched for the Colonies in three divisions. We then had about 400 men in the field to contend against their forces. Our army was then on the Guadaloupe river. Our army had to retreat. We retreated east of the Colorado river and there encamped while the Mexicans came on the other side. We lay there for several days then retreated east of Brazos, the enemy still in pursuit. One division of the enemy crossed the river below us, of about 800 men still keeping up the line of march for the east. Our General then took up the line of march after them. We headed them on the San Jacinto. We were 1,100 strong. We left our sick and baggage with about 400 men. We marched with the balance to give them battle. We met with them the next day, and cannonaded each other a little without any loss on our part and but little on theirs. In the evening of the same day their cavalry and ours had a samart skirmish. We had men's thighs broken who died some time after. The enemy sustained some loss by the operation. This was on the 20th day of April. On the 21st they received a reinforcement which augmented their numbers to about 1,500 strong. Our number about 800. We were encamped there within half mile of each other in plain view. Our officers determined to give them a battle at 4 o'clock in the morning. According at the above stated time the drum beat a general parade which was cheering to enough men. We then marched up with 763 men and formed the line of battle within 200 yards of the enemy when they stood up in good order to receive us. We then marched up within good rifle shot. Our men and officers pleased, cool and as brave lions. Firing then commenced from both sides. Our Colonel then ordered Yankee Doodle played and beat in double quick time and we were commanded to charge and it appeared to me that we were among them in an instant and it would have done your heart good to have seen them fall. Our cannons, our muskets, our rifles and pistols played it appeared to me the most delightful tune that ever I heard since the world commenced. I have a first rate rifle and about this time I was using her, sir, with all my might. She run about 40 to the ground, and shot first rate. I took notice to some of the big yellow bellies when Betsy would bore a hole in them. The blood would gush out as large as a corn stalk. One big fellow I remember who I shot in the neck and it appeared too that it had near cut his head off. I shot old Betsy 6 times and a large Holster pistol one time. In the 7 shots I know that killed four. It may appear strange to you but no less strange than true. It seemed to do me more good at that time to see them shot or a bayonet run through them and it appeared to be the prevading feeling of sentiment.

Goe Very Near

"Well sir, I must tell you that when we got so near them as to shake hands with them they could not bear that. They appeared rather bashful at such a meeting as that and turned their backs upon us. About that time we were slaying them like corn stalks. This was an open field fight. We gained complete victory over them in about 16 minutes. We took about 700 prisoners, a large number of which was wounded, a great number of which proved mortal. We took all the officers except two. One Lt. Colonel, and one captain made their escape. The monster Santa Anna who can have men taken out, murdered, without a change of countanance or the least remorse of conscience after making solemn and sacred treaty! Such conduct could not be expected from savage heathens, much less by a nation who pretend to be enlightened, civilized and Christianized. But we have this Great Santa Anna now a prisonef with three other of his geenrals with officers to the amount of of about 30. There were many officers killed. We have six men killed, two died from their wounds. We had about 25 men wounded most of which were very slight. None mortal except the above mentioned two. The people are determined to kill Santa Ana and I expect with all his principal officers. I told you the Mexicans marched in three divisions. We defeated Santa Ana. Hostilities then ceased and an armistice was entered into."

Loans Are To Be Discussed

Quicker And More Complete Repayment Of Federal Agricultural Loans Object Of W. T. C. C.

Quicker and more complete repayment of federal agricultural loans by West Texas farmers than by farmers of any other section of the United States is an object of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to O. P. Thrane, of Snyder.

A group conference on this project is being organized for the thirteenth annual convention of the regional chamber in Lubbock May 14, 15 and 16, with Mr. Thrane as chairman and Jerry W. Debenport of Childress as secretary.

The West Texas chamber is actuated by the thought of demonstrating that West Texas agriculture is self-supporting and that the territory can "come back" sooner and stronger than any other farming section in the United States, Mr. Thrane declares.

The leadership and efforts of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have been accorded credit for securing the production loan appropriation, and he points out that it is as important for the loans to be paid back as it was for them to be made available.

Cooperation of the extension service department of Texas A. and M. college has been pledged to the program by O. B. Martin, dirtctor, who also is chairman of the Texas Drouth Relief committee.

"I certainly like your idea of putting forth special effort," Mr. Martin says, "to have the federal loans repaid. That will be the best advertisement for West Texas that could be devised. Prospects are good for normal crops and if the seasons keep up, most of the crops will be above normal. If prices are fair, it will be easy enough to these notes in full.

"If the efforts to live at and sell to the family table and local markets are successful in proportions, the debts will be and reforms will be started will be far-reaching in the

Associations Facing Trials

President Of Texas Group Is Of Opinion That Building And Loan Associations Will Have Rocky Road

SAN ANTONIO, April 20. (AP)—In the next three years building and loan associations of Texas will be sorely and severely tried J. Wilkie Talbert of Wichita Falls, president of the Texas Building and Loan league, which opened one day conference here today, predicted.

He said: "Business in Texas building and loan associations in 1930 dropped two million dollars under that of 1929 and this despite the fact that every year since 1916 to 1929 showed an average increase of fifteen million.

"And the road during the next three years will be even rockier if Texas companies do not lay up greater reserves for withdrawals. This is one of our weakest points, and now is the time to correct it."

The meeting today preceded the two-day conference of the southwest states group building and loan league, representing seven states, which will open tomorrow.

Officers here for the Texas group meeting are Talbert; W. W. McAllister, San Antonio, vice-president; Miss Jo Grace Payne, Wichita Falls, secretary-treasurer; O. W. Boswell, Paris, vice-president.
