J. N. Maddux Dies At His Home After Lingering Illness

After an illness of about twelve months, Mr. John Nelson Maddux died at his home in West Junction last Thursday evening. The funeral service was held at the Methodist Church Friday afternoon, the Rev. Milton F. Hill officiating, after which the body was laid to rest in the Junction Cemetery by Woodmen of the World. A large crowd was present and the floral offering was beautiful.

Mr. Maddux was born February 19, 1863, in Little Rock, Arkansas. During his childhood his family moved to Texas, and his life has been spent in this state. The death of his mother left him as the oldest child with heavy responsibility for the rearing of his brothers and sisters, a responsibility which he met faithfully and well. Since early manhood he lived in Menard, passing through the experiences common to early frontier life in West Texas. He was engaged in the cattle business which he loved and thoroughly understood. Several times he went up the old cattle trail to Kansas, and underwent all the hazards and hardships of the old days. Business interests took him to Bridgeport, Texas, where he was in the ranching business for seven years. He moved to Junction in 1919, and has made his home here until his death.

He was married September 30, 1883, to Miss Ida Grace Ellis of Menard who has been his faithful companion during forty-seven years, and who has ministered to his needs during his year of sickness with unflinching care. Of the eight children seven survive, the oldest, Ivy Maddux, having died at the age of ten. Mrs. Willie Ragland, Mrs. Verda Wilson, Clay H. Maddux, Joe B. Maddux, Lee H. Maddux, Earl Maddux and Damon Maddux all have their homes in Junction and occupy a place of esteem in our community. There are six grandchildren. He is also survived by four brothers and three sisters.

On July 9, 1929, while apparently in good health he was stricken with paralysis, and for some time his condition was critical. After a heroic struggle against illness he partially recovered, but during the past year has been seriously sick several times and never entirely well. During his first illness he fulfilled an intention he had held for some time and made the full surrender of his life to his Lord and a little later united with the Methodist Church. His earnestness, patience, and the evidence of a deep and genuine Christian experience has been an inspiration and a blessing to those who have been with him. He came with the simple humility of a little child, and his faith was rewarded with an abundant assurance of God's love as he walked through the valley of the shadow he was ever conscious of the guiding hand of his Master.

The following served as pall bearers:

Active pall bearers—J. F. Hokekamp, Jim Massie, Joe Bissett, Jim Wright, K. G. Durst and Johnnie Graham.

Honorary pall bearers—The following were selected from the W. O. W. Camp No. 434 as honorary pall bearers: J. N. Hodges, M. E. Blackburn, A. B. Browning, R. N. Cowsert, H. Barker, E. Hokekamp, W. P. Riley, Pierce Hoggett, A. L. Mudge, J. S. Fleming, B. L. Smith, A. B. Hodges.

Mr. Roy Skaggs is improving slowly at his home on College Street. It will be some time before he will be able to leave the house. Mr. Carl Tibbitt, who was hurt in an auto wreck at the same time, is in a San Antonio hospital where his improvement is very slow.

District Court Will Be Convened Monday

Judge Joe G. Montague and District Attorney Edward Yarbrough will be here Monday to open the August term of the 112th district court. This will be the first term of the court to be convened in the new courthouse.

Everyone concerned will be pleased with the accommodations and conveniences of the new building. There may be larger and more expensive buildings, but it will be hard to find one more comfortable and convenient than Kimble County's new temple of justice.

In spite of the inclement weather last Friday evening, a good crowd was present at the formal opening and dedication of the building.

Short Ballot on Second Primary On August 23rd

County executive committees of the various counties of Texas met last Saturday and canvassed the returns of the primary election, but it brought no change in the state returns. The returns gave Mrs. Ferguson a vote of 240,000 and Sterling 170,000. Five other state races enter the August primary.

The returns made no changes in the county races. Sheriff Frank Patterson polled a majority over his two opponents for a second term and Roy King received a majority over his two opponents for county judge. The only local races entering the second primary is that of commissioner of precinct No. 1 and justice of the peace of election No. 1. According to the election returns, A. B. Hodges and J. L. Wright are pitted against each other in the commissioner race and E. M. Burt vs. Walter Buck for justice of the peace in the Junction precinct.

The ballot has not been received from Chairman Howell Wright, but it will likely be as follows:

- For Governor: Ross Sterling
- Miriam A. Ferguson
- Lieutenant Governor: Edgar Witt
- Sterling P. Strong
- For State Treasurer: Charley Lockhart
- John E. Davis
- For Attorney General: James V. Allred
- Robert Lee Bobbitt
- For Com. of Agriculture: J. E. McDonald
- A. H. King
- For Railroad Commissioner: Pat M. Neff
- Gregory Hatcher
- For Com. Precinct No. 1: A. B. Hodges
- J. L. Wright
- For Justice of Peace No. 1: E. M. Burt
- Walter Buck

CITY OFFICES MOVE TO NEW COURTHOUSE

The city offices moved last week to the basement of the courthouse. The stairway leading to the basement is found at the east door. In their new quarters the city has more room and invite those having business with the city to come to the new offices in the courthouse.

A letter from Mr. L. G. Brown from Kerrville states that he has not been doing very well during the hot summer months. He is anxious to get back to Junction.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Livingston and son, Warren, and Miss Vivienne Livingston returned last Saturday from a visit with relatives in San Angelo.

A. G. Farmer and daughters, Louise and Maurine, and Miss Austin Durst are visiting Carlsbad Cavern this week-end.

Revival Services Begin Sunday at Baptist Church

Mr. William Strickland of Fort Worth arrived last Saturday and the Rev. E. W. Marshall of San Antonio came in Monday to lead in the revival services that are now in progress at the First Baptist Church. Mr. Strickland is a good singer and an invitation is extended to all the singers of the city to join in the music.

Rev. E. W. Marshall is the pastor of the Prospect Hill Baptist Church in San Antonio. He is a good preacher and is bringing good messages at 10 o'clock a. m. and at 8:30 p. m. each day. The Rev. G. W. Crabb, pastor of the Junction Baptist Church, in behalf of the church, issues an invitation to everyone to attend the services. The messages in the morning are especially helpful to the Christian people. Christian people are urged to bring the unsaved with them to the meetings, especially the evening services.

Brother Marshall is not a typical evangelist and does not use sensational methods to get people out to church. He is bringing straightforward messages from the Bible and the people are invited to come out each day to hear him.

The singing is an interesting part of the worship each evening. Mr. Strickland is a good leader and with the co-operation of the singers of the different churches will develop a good choir. All children under fifteen years old are invited to join the junior choir.

Hi-Jackers Relieve T. S. Lewis of Cash

Hi-jackers got in their work near Roosevelt Sunday night about nine o'clock when T. S. Lewis, driving a truck belonging to the Busy Bee Fruit Store, was held up and relieved of about forty dollars. Just as Mr. Lewis drove out of the North Llano River a man stepped on his running board and commanded him to get out of the truck. He obeyed and was robbed of the money in his pocket which was between thirty-nine and forty dollars.

Mr. Lewis, who is a cousin of Mr. J. A. Barnes, manager of the Busy Bee, was permitted to come on to Junction, where the robbery was reported. Two men who had been released from the Kimble County jail were held for questioning, but were released. Mr. Lewis is not especially pleased with his experience.

PICNIC AND PAGEANT

The Presbyterians of the local church enjoyed a picnic and pageant at Price's Camp Wednesday evening. The supper was served at 7:30 and immediately following a pageant, representing mission work among the Indians, under the direction of Mrs. H. G. Hubert and given by Mesdames Sam Woodward, Guy Wynne, Cecil Craven, G. W. Crofoot and Misses Blix Hankins, Eloise Hardeman, Elsie Bessent and Mary Hubert was enjoyed by the crowd. The music for the pageant was rendered on the violin by Mr. I. W. Myers.

There were about twenty-five present.

Judge M. E. Blackburn was in Brownwood and Brady Tuesday on legal and professional business.

Mrs. Pearl Chadwell and daughter of Austin, Mrs. F. L. Paxton and little daughter, Barbara, of Buena Vista, Virginia, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hubert and family.

Mrs. Gregg Sawyer and daughters, Maryland and Cora Frances, have returned to their home in Independence, Kansas, after a short visit with their grandmother, Mrs. John S. Durst.

Formal Opening New Courthouse Is Well Attended

The formal opening of the new Kimble County Court House last Friday evening was a success, although the inclement weather kept some from attending who would otherwise have been present. A short concert by the combined bands of Menard and Junction was enjoyed by those present.

After the concert a brief program was rendered with Judge J. B. Randolph presiding. Elder J. S. Newman was in charge of the devotional. After a talk by Brother Newman he called upon Rev. G. W. Crofoot to read a scripture lesson, which was followed by a prayer by Rev. G. W. Crabb.

The principal address of the evening was brought by Judge Weaver H. Baker. His address on public buildings and what they mean to a community was well received. Judge J. B. Randolph closed the program with a brief talk about the new court house.

Following the program the combined bands played several numbers. In the absence of a director at Menard this summer the bands have combined under the direction of Mr. I. W. Myers of Junction. It is the plan for concerts to be held in Junction and Menard on each alternate Friday night. They will play in Menard tomorrow night and with a week intervening for rehearsals a return concert for Junction.

ROCKSPRINGS MEETS JUNCTION SUNDAY, 3 P. M.

Rocksprings will come to Junction Sunday afternoon to cross bats with the Junction boys at 3 p. m. The Junction boys have won four out of the past five games played and feel that they will have the big end of the score Sunday afternoon. This game will be played at the Firemen's Field just south of the Schreiner High School and the boys ask that a good crowd see this game.

WEATHER REPORT

Rain was falling when we went to press last Thursday. On the day before 23 of an inch fell and on Thursday 1.05 making the rainfall for July 1.28 inches as none had fallen until the last two days. On August 1 a good shower fell in Junction and just south of town more than two inches are reported. Some sections of the county have had more rain than others.

The following is the rainfall in Junction thus far according to reports kept by Mr. E. Hokekamp:

MRS. W. P. RILEY IS NAMED MOLEY OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

At the regular meeting of the Junction Volunteer Fire Department Tuesday evening, Mrs. W. P. Riley was unanimously elected Moley of the department. She has always proved to be a real friend of the boys and they have honored her by electing her to this position of honor.

She will be invited to accompany the boys, sponsor and maids of honor when they attend the conventions in the various towns of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Heyman and family of Menard spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Heyman. They were accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Grace Ray, who has been visiting here.

Buy a Tag And Feed A Visiting Fireman

Tags are now on sale by the members of the fire department to raise money to entertain the visitors when they come for the Hill Country Association which meets here on August 12. In this way everyone will have an opportunity to assist in entertaining the visitors when they come.

The association will be a heavy load on the fire boys and the chamber of commerce unless the people generally assist in entertaining the visitors. They will be served a luncheon at 12 o'clock and a dinner at 7. When you are asked to buy a tag do it cheerfully as the fire boys hope to entertain the visitors in a great way.

Program For Hill Country Meeting Is Now Complete

Chief John M. Hankins and his committees are working faithfully on the arrangements for the Hill Country Firemen's Association which meets here Tuesday, August 12.

The program has been arranged and teams from the various towns in the association are planning on bringing teams to compete in the contests. Pump-races, hose truck races and bucket water fights will furnish fun and amusement to the on-lookers and will be valuable to the boys taking part.

Chief Hankins has appointed committees to look after the registration of each town. This should be done as soon as they arrive in town as the business session will be held at ten o'clock in the morning. At twelve o'clock the local firemen will feed the visitors at the park. The various races will be held in the afternoon.

At 7:30 in the evening the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce will serve a dinner to all visiting firemen. Immediately after the dinner an interesting program will be rendered by invited speakers. This will be a worthwhile program and everyone should plan to hear this program.

Other forms of entertainment will be a swimming party at Kimble Courts. This is supposed to precede the dinner served by the chamber of commerce. The committee is planning a dance for those interested immediately after the program which will close about nine o'clock.

Letters have been written to the chiefs of the various departments each week, telling them of the plans and enlisting their co-operation. The cooperation of all the teams is needed to make this the success that Chief Hankins is expecting. Junction is looking for a large delegation from the different towns in the association.

San Angelo, Ballinger, Eden, Brady, Mason, Menard, Sonora, Rocksprings and Junction are the towns in the district and everyone will be represented in this meeting, according to reports from these towns.

MISS Blix HANKINS IS SELECTED SPONSOR

In the contest sponsored by the Junction Volunteer Fire Department to select sponsor and maids of honor, Miss Blix Hankins received the greatest number of votes and is the sponsor for the department, and Misses Vivian James and Mary Hubert are the maids of honor.

Mr. E. E. Bolt has been critically ill for some time and he was carried to San Antonio Monday night in the Schreiner-Hodges ambulance. His wife and children accompanied him on the trip. He is seriously ill and little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Mrs. Joe Felps visited in Alpine last week.

Kimble Courts Will Open New Club August 15

During the months of June and July much work has been done in the construction of Kimble Courts Club so that there now stands finished what is undoubtedly one of the finest country club buildings anywhere in the State. Some of the better ones are larger but none of them surpasses this latest creation in the development of Kimble County, either in beauty of architecture, appointments or workmanlike construction.

The building is 30x50, concrete pier and beam foundation, concrete sub-floor covered with soft pine underneath hard white maple, smoothed down and polished to a high lustrous. Hill & Combs had charge of the job from the plans to completion of the building. The taste displayed in the heavy timbered construction and trussed roof with high open ceiling and full casement windows throughout is a pleasing example of fitting style and skillful work. One of the best features about the club house is the perfect accommodation of music, for sound finds no clashing echoes. A powerful radio and electrical phonograph supplies delightful music for impromptu occasions.

At the south end of the club house there has been constructed a model kitchen, electrically equipped with many devices for refrigeration and cooking. Thus is provided a coffee shop that would be a credit to any city.

Built among those beautiful trees that drape sheltering arms and cast cooling shadows across its walls, it is indeed a spot of beauty. It is the final compliment to what is rapidly becoming known as the finest resort in the Southwest. Everyone in the county must surely feel a pride in what has been done at Kimble Courts, especially because it has been done by our own people. There is no better example of loyalty to the community nor has there been shown a greater faith in the future, than is found at Kimble Courts. The management of the institution insures the fostering of an atmosphere of refinement and propriety.

It has not yet been decided in just what way Kimble Club will be available to the public outside of resident guests, but an announcement of that will be made later. In the mean time, open house prevails and everyone is invited to inspect it. The grand opening dance will be held on August 15, and for that occasion a 12-piece colored orchestra has been employed—one that is famous and popular throughout the South.

NEW SIGNS ARE OVER COURTHOUSE DOORS

New door signs have been received and installed at the courthouse. When you have business at the courthouse you will no longer have to make inquiry to find offices as each one is plainly marked.

The ladies' rest room which is the first door on the left as you enter on the west side of the building, has a plain sign and is easily found. This is well furnished and the women will find it a real place to rest.

The mothers, wives, sisters, and in some cases, sweethearts of the local firemen are requested to assist in entertaining the Hill Country Firemen's Association which meets in Junction next Tuesday, August 12. Several women and young ladies are expected to be here for the meeting and the local women are asked to help entertain them during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson and daughter, Miss Catherine, of Houston are camping on the Boyd Jetton ranch. This is the seventh summer for Mr. and Mrs. Wilson in Kimble County.

BIG BILLING AT COOL ARCADIA IN KERRVILLE

Reginald Denny, one of the most engaging personalities in pictures, appears at his best in the role of a likable tramp in "What A Man," the Sono Art all-talking picture which comes to the Cool Arcadia on Friday and Saturday, August 8 and 9. It's full of swift moving fun, packed with interest, and tinged with just enough dramatic action to round out a talkie that promises to be one of the most entertaining pictures shown in a long time. Playing opposite Mr. Denny is Miss Miriam See-ear, a beautiful blonde. To round out the program is an all talking laughing comedy entitled "Western Knights." This is a Mermaid Talking Comedy, released by Educational Pictures.

The perfect picture that we have been waiting for is here. It is "Journey's End," coming Sunday and Monday to the Arcadia Theater, with drama so powerful that it takes your heart out, tears it to bits and gives it back to you with an understanding of this human play called "man" that you never had before and that you will never forget or regret. "Journey's End" without a woman in it, yet fraught with the romance of adventure, daring, death; riddled with overflowing with man's love for man, for peace, for home—spectacular, not in the way of stupendous sets, but in splendid deeds done by splendid men.

As a public convenience extra shows daily! Because of record attendance we have scheduled for four complete shows both days. Come early for better seats.

Arthur Lake, who played the role of "Harold Teen" in the picture of that name, has graduated from high school and is a college undergraduate in "Cheer Up and Smile," Fox Movietone romance of campus and night club life in which Dixie Lee and Olga Baclanova are also featured, under the direction of Sidney Lanfield. It will open Tuesday and Wednesday at the Cool Arcadia, the Hill Country's Perfect Talking Picture Theater.

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree, hero and heroine of "The Big Parade," play together again in "Redemption," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization of Tolstoy's tragic novel—and another of a Gilbert picture, Eleanor Boardman, of "Burdels the Magnificent" is her rival for his love. The spectacular drama of Russia, directed by Fred Niblo, will be shown Thursday only, August 14, at the Cool Arcadia in Kerrville. Elaborate replicas of gypsy villages and famous haunts of old Russia are among the fantastic backgrounds of this new production.

You can't win happiness by pursuing it.

CHURCH SERVICE AT IVY SUNDAY, AUG. 10, 8:15 P. M.

There will be a church service in the Ivy Schoolhouse next Sunday night at 8:15. G. W. Crofoot, pastor of the Junction Presbyterian Church, will preach. Everyone is cordially invited.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

(Meeting at present in the Episcopal Church)
OUR INVITATION—To you who would worship God, our Father; to you who would serve mankind, our brothers; to you who yearn for greater strength; to you who seek a broader vision; to you who desire forgiveness from sin, comfort in sorrow, victory over failure, and joy in living, in the name of Jesus Christ, our Saviour and Friend, we extend our cordial INVITATION.

Sunday School at ten o'clock. Morning worship at eleven o'clock.

There will be no evening worship.

The woman's Auxiliary meets every Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

G. W. Crofoot, Minister.

JACKSON-QUISENBERRY

Tuesday morning at eleven-thirty o'clock, Miss Rosalie Jackson and Mr. Frank Quisenberry were married at the home of the bride in Dallas. The impressive ring ceremony was read by Rev. Smith, uncle of the bride.

Miss Bessie Quisenberry of Corsicana, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Mr. Wilbur Dickson of Lubbock was best man. The wedding was attended only by relatives and close friends of the bride and groom.

The happy couple left immediately following the wedding for San Antonio and other points of interest in this section of state for a brief wedding trip. They plan to be in Menard the latter part of this week for a short visit with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Quisenberry.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Quisenberry and is a splendid young man of fine personality and sterling qualities. He is a graduate of Baylor University, and for the past two years has been teller in the First National Bank of Plainview.

The bride is not personally known to the writer, but comes of a leading family of Dallas where she is very prominent in social affairs.

The bride and groom will make their home in Plainview where the groom will continue his work with the National Bank of that place.—Menard Messenger.

Mr. August Kirchoff of the White Bluff community was a Junction visitor last Saturday. He is a member of the county executive committee and was here to assist in canvassing the returns of the primary election.

BEAVERS ARE WORKERS

Beavers are good woodsmen. In one case they are known to have cut through a balsam poplar 46 inches across the stump. A remarkable part of the work of beavers is the carrying they do, says the U. S. Biological Survey. On land they will drag heavy poles or good-sized branches, holding them with their strong incisor teeth. To carry stones they use their paws and arms, and often bring up from the bottom of a pond stones weighing 8 or 10 pounds.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 19 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Baringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

"Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts.

I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince anyone."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that last four weeks costs but 85c at the Heyman Drug Store or any drugstore in America.

LONDON LOCALS

Mr. Clem Jones was a London visitor Wednesday of last week. Clem is an old Kimble County boy and has many friends here.

Mr. John Smart of Menard was here last week improving his property at the N-E corner of the old town plot. Mr. Smart is a man of considerable financial experience and says in course of time all things will adjust themselves and normality will again prevail.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kothmann and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kothmann visited San Antonio last week.

The Community Hall trustees have used what money they had on hand to cell the wall and over the rostrum and as far as their money would extend. Messrs. J. F. Thurber and O. D. Price are doing the work. It is to be hoped this will help some as it was difficult to understand a speaker before the work was done. If it was not such hard times I would suggest the ceiling of the entire building, but we will have to wait a while.

Miss Eunice Brewer, who is spending a few weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mogford, of Long Mountain was up to see homefolks and friends Thursday of last week. She says she is really enjoying herself sewing, embroidering and other such harmless amusements. I'll bet Eunice even bathes her hands in dish-water for grandmother. She is just that kind of a girl.

Mr. Arch Metzger of the Mill & Light Co. of Mason was a pleasant caller Thursday of last week. Arch is still just a big grown-up boy, full of fun and apparently without a care. Arch says he is the one who put this London country on the map.

Mrs. Minnie Walton, postmaster at Swenson, is here visiting her mother, Mrs. M. E. Bell and other relatives and friends this week. Mrs. Walton states that everything is close in her section of state, caused by dry, hot weather and financial conditions.

Mr. W. S. Copeland and family of Brownfield are here visiting relatives and friends this week. Mr. Conland is brother to Mr. Ernest Copeland, Mrs. J. C. Goodman, Mrs. T. C. Black and Mrs. J. H. Black and at one time was a citizen of the London country.

Mr. Barney Martin and family of Gouldbusk are here this week attending a meeting now in progress at Little Saline conducted by Rev. Johnnie Jones of Mullin. Mrs. Martin is a daughter of Mrs. Zade Pearl and she has a host of relatives and friends here.

Gravel is being put on the ground for the new filling station to be erected south of the May dry goods and grocery store.

We are reliably informed that there was sold to some Johnson City parties here last week some 1000 head of sheep, price from $1.50 to $3.00 per head. We failed to learn who the purchaser was and the particulars of sale, but we are glad to see sheep move at any price as the range conditions are such that a heavy feed bill seems probable.

With a good rain the outlook for fall crop of feed and a fairly good crop of cotton is reasonable, but without the rain we will be compelled to tighten up our belts another notch or more.

State politics has resolved down to the issue of Ross Sterling vs. Jim Ferguson. A choice between these two men should be easily made. It appears to me if the people want a business administration, clear of personal politics, one that would start the State on its way to peace and progress, they have a chance to secure such a governor as is willing and capable of organizing the State Departments into such an administrative body. On the other hand, if they want the reverse, they have as good a chance as could be ever hoped for. I believe in the wisdom and judgment of the people of Texas, therefore I have no doubt of the result of the coming second primary.

No home can ever attain a higher degree of nobleness than the head of that home possesses. No State can ever reach a higher degree of respect in the eyes of the people of other states than its officials can command personally. So let Texas move on beyond and above the petty politicians and put men in office who cares to serve the State and her noble people instead of serving their own selfish interest.

LITTLE SALINE SAYINGS

Rain is needed in our community. There is preaching here all this week and several people from Gouldbusk are here attending the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Reichnau spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Pool. Miss Lorene Pool spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Reichnau.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock D'Spain dined with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Otte Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pool and family dined Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Dock D'Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Otte and daughter, Marie, of Mason spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Otte.

Mr. Philip Luthringer, who has been employed by a hardware company at Menard for several months, has resigned his place there and is now back in Kimble County where he is ready and prepared to do any kind of windmill work. He has an ad in this issue of the Eagle telling of his work and giving his telephone number.

Mr. Rex Lavelle of London, a member of the county executive committee, was in Junction last Saturday assisting in canvassing the returns of the Democratic primary.

MRS. WM. R. MCKEE IS HONOR GUEST AT TEA

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. John R. Martin and Miss Mary Martin complimented Mrs. Wm. McKee, nee Miss Tottie Martin, with a tea in the dining room of the Fritz Hotel. Mrs. McKee was a bride of the spring season.

Marigold and vari-colored zinnias were placed about the room. In the receiving line were Mrs. John R. Martin, Miss Mary Martin, Mrs. Wm. McKee, Misses Flora Mae and Mary Spiller and Lela Taylor.

At the refreshment table Mesdames C. T. Holekamp, Rowland Martin and Miss Elsie Martin served tea while Mrs. A. L. Mudge cut the cake.

The table was laid with a Maderia cloth and four crystal holders bearing pink tapers flanked the pretty crystal centerpiece which held pink zinnias. Salted nuts and pink mints were placed in crystal bon bon dishes about the table. The white two-tier cake was placed at one end of the table and was wreathed with pink gladioli and fern.

Mrs. John Martin was gowned in flowered chiffon. Miss Mary Martin wore pink chiffon and slippers of matching hue.

The honoree was charming in powder blue chiffon trimmed in lace. Blue slippers completed her costume.

Miss Flora Mae Spiller wore apricot organdy banded with silk net of matching color. Gold slippers were worn with her costume.

Miss Mary Spiller wore a gown of blue organdy with a full ruffled skirt, with silver slippers.

Miss Lela Taylor was costumed in eggshell chiffon trimmed with lace. Silver slippers completed her costume.

embroidered slippers. Mrs. Rowland Martin wore a blue lace gown and blue slippers. Miss Elsie Martin wore a green silk frock trimmed with ruffles. Mrs. A. L. Mudge was dressed in flowered chiffon.

Those in the receiving line and at the tea table wore lovely corsages of pink gladioli and fern.

Those present were Misses Lela Taylor, Flora Mae and Mary Spiller, Eloise Hardeman, Mary Hubert, Mary Phillips, Pat Secrest of Hamilton, Mary Ellis Blackburn, Mesdames Guy Wynne, R. E. Homann, U. D. Kindrick, H. G. Hubert, Walker Ragsdill of Rocksprings, Omer Wright, Pierce Hoggett, Dorothy Westmoreland, W. P. Riley, V. P. Emmons, J. B. Randolph, Clay Secrest, Lucy Motley, R. H. Spiller, Doug. Kimble King Is Name Of New Chicken Feed

Baldwin's Feed Store now has on the market its famous Kimble King Hen Scratch and the editor of the Junction Eagle acknowledges the receipt of a sack of this chicken feed. The tag which states that it is manufactured by Baldwin Feed Store gives the composition of the feed as yellow corn with the meal sifted out, wheat, milo, barley, sunflower seed. The guaranteed analysis shows that it is rich in those ingredients that make it a good feed for hens.

Mr. Baldwin is planning to enter into the manufacture of feeds on a larger scale as equipment is added. The Kimble King Hen Scratch is the first put on the market, but he has other feeds in preparation which he will place on the market soon.

Thank you Mr. Baldwin for the sack of fine chicken feed.

Miss Nobody from Nowhere

BY ELIZABETH JORDAN

ELEVENTH INSTALLMENT

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

A young woman who knows only that her name is "Eve" finds herself standing on a Fifth Avenue corner. She has no idea how she came there or even what city it is. There is nothing about her which with which to identify herself. While a policeman is talking to her a young man, Eric Hamilton, stops. Seeing that the man in trouble he tells her he has seen her at the hotel where they are both staying. He takes her to the hotel where they find that she has registered in French as "Miss Eve Nobody" of Nowhere. Hamilton volunteers to call in his friend Dr. Carrington, a specialist in nervous troubles. Eve, terrified, studies the doctor and through a French porter in the hotel, who says he once saw "Miss Eve" in a cheap apartment in the city of New York. In the next apartment lives Ivy Davenport, a cabaret dancer with a weak heart. She is friendly and persuades Eve to go to "Jake's" and take her place until she is better. Her job at Jake's is to wait on the other girls at the tables and to dance with them. The other girls there are not as kind and Eve finds the work not as difficult as she had expected. She is known there as Miss Benson. She meets a young man named Hank, who frankly tells her that she doesn't belong there. Eve does not like the atmosphere of Jake's but she does not know how to leave. She is able to get back to work she accepts the offer of a permanent position which Jake gives her. One evening when she is talking to the friendly porter, he tells her that the other girls tell her there's a man from the West whom Jake wants her to entertain. The man from the West is a total stranger to Eve, so far as she can recall. No memory of her past life has returned but the stranger acts and talks as if they were intimate friends. He tells her that he has some claim upon her, and Eve is terrified. Her instinct is to find Eric Hamilton, the one friendly figure in her new life. She escapes from Jake's by a back way and hurries to the hotel where Hamilton lives.

New Go On With the Story

"I really must be a rather good sport, somewhere under all this," she told herself. For the impulse was the unexpected one of walking in on Hamilton in all her garish finery when he came to her sitting-room, of making no explanation of it, and of watching its effect on him. "But I won't do it," she stoutly decided; and when his knock fell on the rangel of the outer door she hid her excitement and emotion by making her explanation while they shook hands.

"Don't look at me," she begged, trying to speak lightly. "I'm in the chambermaid's Sunday plumage, and it doesn't suit my style."

But he did look at her as they sat down together; and that look of sympathy and understanding brought the story of last night from her in a rush of words which he was careful not to interrupt.

"So you see, it comes to this," she summed up. "I'm even more afraid of knowing who I am than of not knowing it. I'm afraid of what's on the other side of my blank wall. He's there; I'm sure of that. And I'm sure, with nothing but my tongue to back the conviction, that he was the danger I ran away from. And yet, as I think of it, he doesn't look like a man one would fear. There was nothing cruel in his manner—quite the contrary. He seemed to be suffering; once he almost broke down. But all the time I was cold with fear." Hamilton nodded.

"There's something back of it," he said. "I've got several pieces of the puzzle to put with yours. We'll talk it all over later on. But first—" he saw the need of temporarily diverting her mind to other phases of her problem—"why did you run away from us?"

"I seem to be running away all the time," she said, "and today I suppose I'll end by running away again, notwithstanding all I've said." She shivered. "I suppose I shouldn't take the risk of being in the same city with that man, whoever he is."

"She had expected him to protest, but he nodded.

"Yes," he said, "they're evidently on your trail, whoever they are. Did this man arouse any memory in you . . . any sense that you knew him . . . had seen him before?"

"No memory—only paralyzing fear. But of course I must know him, and it was hideously clear that he knew me and felt himself in some sort of authority over me." She was struck by a sudden recollection. "What were the important things you said you wanted to tell me?"

He decided she was cool enough now to hear them. "The most important is about this. He drew a bill-case from his pocket and found in it a small piece of paper which he unfolded and handed to her. It was a cutting from a newspaper, and as she read it her face whitened. It ran:

WANTED: Information about a young lady who disappeared on August 30. Twenty-three years old, weight about one hundred and eighteen pounds, height, five feet five inches, gray eyes, small, regular features, bobbed, bronze-colored hair. When last seen she wore a green dress with gold cuffs and collar, a small green hat, patent-leather pumps, and champagne-colored silk stockings. A liberal reward will be offered for information leading to her return to her friends. Address X 50, in care of this newspaper.

For a moment she could not speak. He waited patiently. "When did that appear?" she asked at last.

"About a week after you left."

"Did you"—she seemed almost unable to bring out the words—"do anything about it?" "Nothing you would disapprove of," he told her, and added hurriedly. "That is, nothing that would give you away if you didn't want to be found. I've got to buy new clothes, of course. What I'll get will be the plain black dress and plain black hat and plain black pumps of a nice little waitress with quiet tastes. They will be cheap, which is my first reason, and is my second. But I don't know

"Yes," she admitted, "in my borrowed clothes. Margaret's wardrobe has given me an idea. I've got to buy new clothes, of course. What I'll get will be the plain black dress and plain black hat and plain black pumps of a nice little waitress with quiet tastes. They will be cheap, which is my first reason, and is my second. But I don't know

"He understood. "It's a subconscious fear," he agreed. "The chances are that your large friend of last night is back of it in some way."

"Tell me exactly what you did, and all about it."

"I wrote an unsigned letter to X Fifty, saying that you were safe and that some new friends of mine had made would like to know all the circumstances before putting X Fifty in touch with you. I signed the note with fake initials and gave the newspaper office as the address. I got a reply the same night, but it was mighty non-committal. X Fifty wasn't showing his hand any more than we were. He wanted to know all I could tell him (I'm assuming that it was a man, you see), and he was rather high-handed about it. That, of course, didn't make any hit with Carrick and me. We decided that a family circle wouldn't be so cautious. In fact, the whole situation they will be a disguise, which looked extremely suspicious to us."

"I can't see a family circle, either," she murmured. "But then—God help me!" she broke out with sudden passion, "I can't see anything. What have I done . . . what could I have done . . . to deserve this!"

"Sit tight," he urged, and the familiar injunction steadied her. She straightened with a quick breath.

"I beg your pardon," she said in a different tone. "I'm making harder for you, instead of listening and helping to think things out. Please go on, and I'll try to do better."

"Half a dozen notes were exchanged in the next few days," he told her, "each of us trying to draw out the other. Meantime the advertisement kept appearing. I was in regularly for a week. Since then I haven't seen it, or heard from X Fifty. It looks as if he had given up. So I decided to leave town, myself, and had made all preparations; but for some reason I hung on and—love!—how glad I am that I did!"

"He hasn't given up," Eve said, from the depths of a black abstraction. "He's just going at it in some other way." She had not observed his emotion, but now she noticed his silence and checked herself to meet his sympathetic eyes. "I wonder why I said that," she what I'll do about my hair," she added thoughtfully. "I suppose I'll end by dyeing it dark brown."

"Oh, don't!" "I'll have to do something," she reminded him. "My hair is rather unusual, you know."

"It is," he fervently agreed, watching her with eyes so eloquent that she refused to meet them. "It's the most beautiful hair I've ever seen. The lights in it—"

"That one detail might give me away," she went on, ignoring the compliment; but she made up for this in her next words. "You see, though I say I'm a trifle afraid of you, I'm trusting you with all my plans, as far as I know them, myself."

"I know you are, and I can't tell you how much I appreciate your confidence. That reminds me of something more."

He took a package of papers from an inside pocket and handed them to her. "These credentials I wanted for Carrick got here a few days after you left. I showed them to him, and I want you to look them over, too. Please!" he urged as she hesitated.

"I trusted you without them," Eye murmured, as she handed them back.

"I know you did . . . up to a certain point. Now I'm going to ask you to trust me all the way. I want you to promise to keep me posted from now on," he rushed along. "I haven't any right to ask, but somehow, I don't think I could stand another two days and nights like those I went through before I got your note. It wasn't alone the sense that I had lost you."

"I promised myself I wouldn't speaking till you were normal again. But your leaving that way, and now this new danger and your fear of it changes the look of things. I want you to know that it isn't just the interest and help of a friendly stranger I'm offering you. It's the interest and help of a man who loves you."

"When you're well, Eve," he continued steadily, "I'm going to ask you to marry me. I want to devote my life to making you happy, if you will take me. But in any case let me begin to look after you right now." He stopped an instant, then added: "I've said it all. I won't mention it again till you're well, or till you tell me I may speak of it."

"I don't know what to say to you," she murmured. I oughtn't to let you speak of such things. You're simply following a shadow. Why don't you keep out in the sunshine where you belong, and forget about me?"

"I like the shadows better, when you're among them," he said quietly. He pressed the hand she impulsively held out and went on in a new tone, quietly matter-of-fact.

"That's that, and I won't speak of it again. I just wanted to make it clear to you that some one to whom you're first in the world is standing by."

Eve left the hotel through the servants' entrance, as befitted her appearance, and walked across to Fourth Avenue. There she picked up a taxicab and ordered herself taken to the nearest large department-store.

Eve, keeping close to her new role, selected a simple black one-piece dress of good quality, a severe black coat, and a small black cloche hat.

"Could I go to movin' pictures with the minister in there?" she inquired as she revolved before the sales woman in the new outfit?

Rotary Clubs of U. S. Enlist To Reduce Illiteracy

The Rotary clubs of the United States have enlisted in the war against illiteracy. The National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, of which Ray Lyman Wilbur is Chairman, has just received resolutions unanimously passed at the convention of Rotary International. The approved plan provides that each Rotary club shall conduct a campaign in its own community among all known illiterates, to the end that such illiterates may be taught to effectively read and write. This gives the advisory committee on illiteracy many of the local contacts which it needs.

The Rotary Club will be assisted in its work by the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, which committee will supply to the clubs necessary instructions and material for the teaching of illiterates. Furthermore it hopes to supply lists of illiterates to be provided soon by the Census Bureau. It is expected that with the help of the Rotary clubs thousands of American citizens of voting age will be able, for the first time to assume intelligently the duties of citizenship.

The resolution unanimously adopted by the 21st convention of the Rotary Clubs of the United States is as follows: "WHEREAS the 1930 United States census has revealed an undesirable amount of illiteracy in various parts of the United States; and

"WHEREAS the United States government has inaugurated a campaign to eliminate or greatly reduce such illiteracy among the people in the United States and has invited the Rotary clubs of the United States to assume an active leadership in such campaign;

"IT IS RESOLVED by the delegates from Rotary clubs in the United States, assembled at the twenty-first annual convention of Rotary International, that they accept, on behalf of the Rotary clubs in the United States, the opportunity for service thus offered and requested by the United States government;

"IT IS FURTHER RESOLVED that while this opportunity for service may be brought clearly to the attention of the United States Rotary Clubs, and they may be urged to respond to it whole-heartedly, no club shall be under any obligation to do so if in its judgment the club is not in position to respond to the opportunity offered

The Rotary clubs plan to appoint community groups to assist in the work of state and county committees already appointed by the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy. Such Rotary committees will make a survey of local community problems and aid in the forming of classes and encouraging the attendance of illiterates at such classes.

Joyous Foot Bath Then Lift Out CORNS Root and all-Out to stay

Two tablespoonfuls of that amazingly refreshing and foot invigorating Radox to one gallon of water makes a footbath which after 3 to 4 night's soaking lifts out aching, maddening corns, callouses, too—root and all.

Radox softens the hard outer layers of corn—and oxygen which Radox liberates, enters the pores, each night penetrating further and further, carrying the salts right to root of corn which can be lifted out bodily.

Wonderful to take out pain and burning and refresh tired feet! Get a package of Radox at Heyman Drug Store or any drugstore and know the joyous comfort of corn and callous free feet—Radox is the modern, scientific method to remove corns which completely eliminates old fashioned plasters, dangerous cutting, skin destroying acids and obsolete methods.

PROPOSING A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON NOVEMBER 4, 1930

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 11 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows: Section 11. In order to enable the Legislature to perform the duties set forth in the foregoing section, it is hereby declared all lands and other property heretofore or hereafter acquired by the establishment and maintenance of the University of Texas, together with all the proceeds of sales of the same, heretofore made or hereafter to be made, and all grants, donations and appropriations that may hereafter be made by the State of Texas, or from any other source, shall constitute and become a permanent university fund. And the same as realized and received into the Treasury of the State shall be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, or counties of said State, or in school bonds of municipal, city, or in bonds of any city of the State, or in obligations and pledges issued by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, or secured by such obligations and other buildings for the use of the University of Texas, which bonds shall be issued under and by virtue of the Federal Farm Loan Act of the President of the United States, July 17, 1916, and amendments thereto; and the interest accruing thereon shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purpose declared in the foregoing section; provided that one-tenth of the alternate sections of the lands granted to railroads, received by the State, which were not appropriated to the establishment of the University of Texas, by the Act of the Legislature of February 11, 1930, entitled "An Act to establish the University of Texas," shall not be included in, or constitute a part of, the permanent university fund.

Sec. 2. Said proposed amendment shall be voted on at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1930. (A correct copy.) JANE Y. McCALLUM, Secretary of State.

PROPOSING A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON NOVEMBER 4, 1930

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 5 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows: Section 5. The Legislature shall meet every two years at such time as may be provided by law and at other times when convened by the Governor. When convened in regular Session, the first thirty days thereof shall be devoted to the introduction of bills and resolutions, acting upon emergency appropriations, passing upon the confirmation of the recess appointments of the Governor and such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor in special messages; that during the succeeding thirty days of the regular Session, the Legislature shall hold hearings to consider all bills and resolutions and other matters then pending and such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor in special messages; that during the following sixty days the Legislature shall act upon such bills and resolutions as may be then pending and upon such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor in special messages to the Legislature; provided however, either House may substitute therefor the order of business by an affirmative vote of four-fifths of its membership.

Sec. 2. That Section 21 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows: Members of the Legislature shall receive from the public Treasury a per diem of not exceeding $10.00 per day for the first 120 days of each session and after that not exceeding $5.00 per day for the remainder of the session. In addition to the per diem members

Junction Trade Notes

(By G. G. Co.)

Soil erosion is the most potent destroyer of our national resources and greatest enemy of the farm, according to facts presented to the farmers' meeting at A. & M. College. These facts explain the intensive movement for farm terracing and soil conservation measures, which have been stressed by County Agent R. E. Homann in his Kimble County work. . . . Press dispatches indicate a light pecan crop in many sections of Texas; in Gonzales County 10 to 40% of normal and similar report from Bastrop and San Saba counties. M. J. Nethery, one of the largest growers of improved pecans in Kimble County, makes a favorable report on his pecan crop, while in other Kimble County orchards there is said to be a fair crop in prospect.

Have you tried Pecan-Nut Butter, blended with peanut-Gann Grocery Company.

A number of ranchmen radiating in and out of Junction report fine rains last week, from 1 to 2 inches in many sections and light in others. Seasonable rains were reported on the ranches of the Hills, Watsons, Wright, Bundy, Thomas Bros., Beasley, Huffman, Dunderstadt, Allens, Fletcher Gardner, J. C. Baker, Dee Gibbs and a number of others. In Junction the rainfall registered near 1 1/2.

In stock: Martin's and Peerless worm medicine, and fly smear for repelling flies, Gann Grocery Company, "Stockaid" and other sprays for dairy cattle.

Mrs. J. H. Grinstead of San Antonio is at the Fritz Hotel for the summer. . . . A Houston party, taking their first summer vacation in the Hill Country, say they had no idea there was so delightful a place in Texas as Junction and the Llano. . . . Rev. F. S. Henderson, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Houston, and Mrs. Henderson were week-end visitors in Junction as guests of old acquaintances.

Motorists should look to their brakes. The Texas law requiring auto brakes be kept in working order has been upheld by Supreme Court, and the statute prescribes a maximum fine of $1000 for operating a car without proper brakes. . . . The business barometer indicates some improvement in industrial districts. In Detroit 200,000 laborers have been returned to work on 4-day schedule, while in Cleveland and other districts re-employment is under way.

The Livestock Experiment Station has announced the results of its study of the relative merits of shearing sheep twice instead of once a year and its report, in substance, is: While sheep sheared twice produced 7-10 of a pound more wool, such gain was offset by price of long wool, and shearing either once or twice a year has little or no influence on the ensuing year's crop. . . . And Vienna doctors have found that sheep blood taken daily is especially valuable for anaemic and tubercular patients, resulting in increased weight and heightening immunity to several diseases. Sheep blood, according to the Vienna doctors, enriches the hormones and combines with the pancreatic juices in a substance which attacks and destroys tuberculosis and other germs.

Feed and Cattle

Recent rains have enlivened the country and prospects are good for more rain. A fair corn crop has been made and much hay has already been baled. The rains will cause much of the feed to put on a second crop. Everyone who has any kind of stubble land should put forth every effort to get a second crop of hay this fall.

Feed can be marketed for a good price when fed at home. A recent demonstration in Mitchell County when eight calves were fed shows that the farmer received full market value for his feed and also a profit of $45.50 on each calf. In addition to the value of the feed and profit on the calves, the land is enriched by feeding at home.

We believe in a policy of living at home and encourage the production of feed on the farms and ranches.
