Ask Us

Q. — What is the situation at 30th St. now and when might the street be reopened for traffic?

A. — City officials said the base material for the street addition had dried sufficiently by Monday afternoon to resume work. Tuesday morning, crews were re-grading this dirt base in preparation for the "prime" layer. If dry weather holds and it is allowed to dry sufficiently, they say the paving could be completed by the end of this week.

Turnout heavy; polls open till 7 p.m.

A heavy voter turnout — and in some cases slow moving voter lines — was reported in Scurry County Tuesday morning as local residents joined the nation at the polls.

A spot sampling of the county's 15 voting precinct areas indicated what may turn out to be a record turnout here.

This was first shown as absentee balloting indicated approximately one-tenth of the registered voters had already cast ballots.

Absentee voting is expected to exceed 900 votes with 9,322 residents registered.

Most election workers contacted by telephone indicated that local voting was heavy for the morning hours.

A worker at the Scurry County Health Unit (Pct. 16) said, "The voting's been running slow, primarly due to the election amendments."

Decisions regarding eight proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution are only a few of the choices offered Scurry County voters.

In addition to two locally contested races, they must choose in the Presidential race between Ronald Reagan and his Democratic opponent Walter Mondale and the hotly contested U.S. Senate race between Lloyd Doggett (Dem.-Austin) and Phil Gramm (Rep.-Bryan).

Closer to home, the decisions will decide races involving the 132nd District Judge's post and Scurry County Commissioner for Pct. 3.

Candidates for judge are Lealand W. (Pete) Greene, the Democratic nominee, and Gene Dulaney, the Republican candidate. Both Scurry and Borden Counties will vote in this race.

Residents of Pct. 3 here will choose between incumbent Commissioner Bernhard Bartels, a Republican, and C.D. Gray Jr., the Democratic nominee.

Other local candidates on the ballot — all Democratic nominees unopposed — are Ernie B. Armstrong, district attorney; Gary R. Terrell, county attorney; Rona Sikes, tax assessor-collector; Keith Collier, county sheriff; Eldon Perry, county commissioner for Pct. 1; and Bill Love, constable for Pct. 1.

The two national elected offices on the ballot involve the presidential race — which includes independent candidate Lyndon H. LaRouche — and the U.S. Senate seat being sought by Gramm and Doggett.

There are also several state-level races. Those with more than one candidate are:

—Railroad Commissioner: Mack Wallace (D); and John Thomas Henderson (R).

—Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 1: Sam Houston Clinton (D); and Virgil E. Mulanax (R).

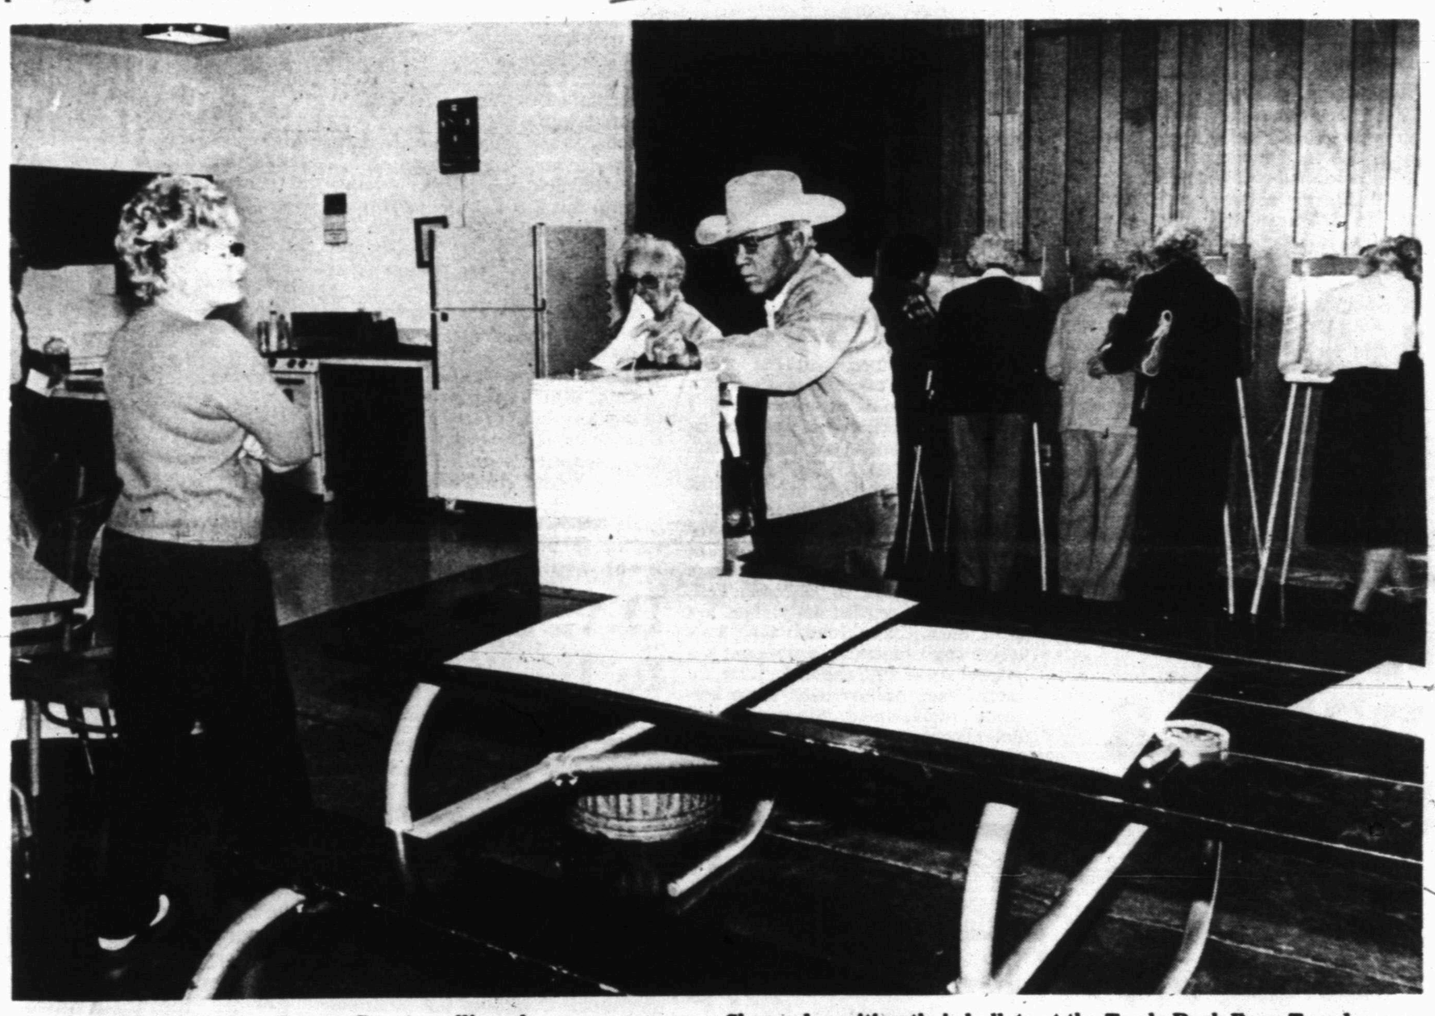

Both state representatives for Scurry County, Sen. Ray Farabee (Dem.-Wichita Falls) and Rep. Steven Carriker (Dem.-Roby) are seeking new terms and both are unopposed.

The ballot includes also eight proposed amendments to the state constitution. These include:

—Proposal 1 — to provide state banks the same rights and privileges as national banks.

—Proposal 2 — to create from the general revenue a special higher education assistance fund for construction and related activities to restructure the Permanent University Fund, and to in-

VOTING UNDERWAY — Scurry County polling places were reporting a brisk pace this morning with lines reported at most ballot spots. The polls will remain open until 7 p.m. and the SDN will report all available results with a special morning edition Wednesday. Shown depositing their ballots at the Towle Park Barn Tuesday are Panch and Rosa McDonald. The election clerk is Betty Benson. (SDN Staff Photo)

'Space' buy-back proposed

An updated contract between the City of Snyder and the Scurry County Appraisal District was approved Monday — a document which expands on the options open to both if either elected to discontinue the sharing of computer services.

Equipment updates on the city-owned computer system have been jointly financed by the city and district.

In return for its investment — now estimated at some $35,000 — the district has been given access to the city computer, but no ownership guarantee to any specific pieces of equipment.

The new agreement approved Monday now outlines a method through which the district could recoup some of its investment in the event the computer space was no longer available.

This addition was requested Oct. 4 by members of the district board.

A new contract prepared by City Attorney Ernie Armstrong now specifies the city will return a portion of the district's investment in the event the contract is to be nullified.

The amount of repayment will

Youth shot

Eighteen-year-old William Cotton of Ira was listed in guarded but stable condition at Cogdell Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning after undergoing surgery Monday evening for an accidental gunshot wound.

According to sheriff's officers, Cotton and a group of friends were at the Thomas Bills' residence two miles east of Ira Monday evening when a .22 caliber pistol he was examining discharged.

He underwent surgery for a bullet wound to the lower abdomen.

Seek suspect

Police and county law enforcement officers spent Tuesday morning searching the Eastridge addition for a suspect after an apparent illegal home entry here.

According to preliminary reports, the suspect apparently entered the rear door of a residence on Eastridge drive and fled after being confronted by the owner of the home.

Grid guesses

Last week's SDN Football Contest winner was again decided by the tie-breaker score, as both first and second place winners missed only three of the sixteen games.

Kevin Dollins of 3205 40th captured first place by predicting 20 total points in the Snyder-Lakeview game, which ended with 22 actual points being scored.

Susan Lee of 3604 Kerrville won the second prize money.

Another contest appears in this issue of the SDN.

Set program

Bruce Carter, Social Security manager of the Big Spring office, will present a program on Taxation guidelines for 1984 at Texas Electric Reddy Room, at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

This program is open to the public and is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Youth 'problem' pointed to

A Snyder resident and homeowner appealed to Snyder city council members Monday to consider some future city action addressing what she called unsupervised and "problem" children.

She singled out the neighborhood areas surrounding Central Elementary where she said large groups of children in their teens and younger are allowed to roam freely after school hours.

Many of these youngsters, she said, are becoming involved in vandalism incidents in the neighborhood.

She noted also the danger present for the youth themselves, who could fall victim to adults.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Politicians used to promise us a rose garden. Now they just deliver the fertilizer."

John and Fern Portis last month celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. A host of friends and relatives were on hand for the occasion.

A lot of men say their wife married them for their money, but John Portis says he has proof. "I was the only man in Scurry County with $12."

John, a native of this area, was a member of the national guard in 1924 and once every three months, he received a quarterly paycheck for 12 bucks.

Portis claims when Fern learned he had $12 cash, she agreed to marry him. Portis, however, is no big spender, and for an anniversary dinner he treated Fern to a hamburger and milkshake at the Dairy Queen.

About the same time, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thompson also celebrated an anniversary. They just last week moved from Snyder to Mineral Wells and are working on their 70th year of marriage.

These days, 50 or 70 years is a pretty good record in marriage. Some wonder what has happened to the American family, but we still find good examples here in West Texas.

Speaking of the family, we heard about a research organization which made a study of juvenile delinquency. The organization telephoned about 50 homes just between 9:30 and 10:30 p.m. to ask parents if they knew where their children were.

The results were revealing. Half of the calls were answered by children who didn't have a clue where their parents were.

Did you hear about the Aggie coach who was trying to get a player into A&M. The president was resisting the player's application because of grades.

Finally, the Aggie coach dismissed the player so he could make a more emotional appeal to the president. The college head stood firm, "He's just not smart enough."

To prove the point, the president called the boy back in and asked, "What's 7 plus 7."

The Aggie responed, "Thirteen."

"See, I told you," said the university president."

Good grief," said the Aggie coach. "He only missed it by two."

Deferred judgement ends case

A 24-year-old suspect was granted a deferred adjudication in 132nd District Court Tuesday morning after paying restitution in connection with a felony theft indictment returned Monday by a Scurry County grand jury.

According to court officers, the defendant — a former employee of Ira Pump and Supply — was indicted for theft at the conclusion of a four-month investigation by officers of the Scurry County sheriff's office.

Investigators say the suspect was allegedly pocketing checks sent to the company by customers in payment of their bills.

The amount of restitution, fines and damages paid by the defendant Tuesday morning totaled

Five face felony charges after Monday grand jury

A Scurry County grand jury, meeting for its regular November session Monday, returned five felony indictments against five defendants.

Alvin Into Koski, 37, of 2405 30th St. was formally indicted for one count of indecency with a child.

He was arrested by city police Oct. 30 in connection with an incident reported the previous day. He remained in Scurry County Jail in lieu of a $2,500 bond Tuesday morning.

Also having bond set at $2,500 was Charles Sanders — thought to be of the Austin area — who was indicted on a charge of felony theft.

Sanders was charged after Julia M. Hays of the Arah Rt. filed a complaint with court officials alleging she had paid him $15,000 in advance for the construction of a barn in November of 1983.

The barn was reportedly never built.

Sanders remains at large pending arrest on a warrant issued subsequent to Monday's indictment.

Kenneth Ray Stephenson of 2710 Ave. K posted a $2,500 bond Monday afternoon after the jury returned an indictment against him for felony criminal mischief.

Stephenson is accused of vandalizing a 1983 GMC pickup owned by Bobby Hataway, Jr. of Snyder. The incident was reported last weekend.

Indicted on felony possession of marijuana charges brought by Snyder City Police was 25-year-old Eric Knight Heasley of California and 17-year-old Daniel Bryan Bullard of 1609 Ave. E.

Bullard was arrested at his residence Oct. 18 and remains free on a $1,500 bond. Heasley was arrested Oct. 25 and remains jailed in lieu of a $3,000 bond.

Troop estimates were higher

NEW YORK (AP) — A retired officer testified in Gen. William C. Westmoreland's libel suit against CBS that enemy troop infiltration into South Vietnam was higher than the official estimates, but said his superiors may have had more accurate information than he had.

Westmoreland's attorneys contend Lt. Michael Hankins had incomplete information, but that CBS relied on him, through second-hand reports, for information about enemy infiltration.

Westmoreland, retired commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, filed his $120 million libel suit over a January 1982 CBS Reports documentary, "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception," which said he concealed reports of increased infiltration by North Vietnamese troops in the months before the Tet offensive.

As a result, the broadcast said, President Lyndon B. Johnson, the public and the Army in Vietnam were unprepared for the size of the offensive.

Hankins' testimony, taken in a sworn deposition before the trial, was read aloud to the U.S. District Court jury because he was unable to appear in person.

Hankins said he "screamed bloody murder ... telling everybody that our data was misleading" when he decided in late 1967 that 20,000 to 30,000 North Vietnamese a month were infilitrating South Vietnam — a figure that was far above the official military estimate.

His testimony offered the first evidence in the case supporting the infiltration figures that CBS reported.

But the former intelligence analyst, now an Army civilian employee at Fort Lewis, Wash., said his superiors may have had access to other, better information.

Dr. Lamb

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Food is good potassium source

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a problem with low potassium. I have been on medication for it for several years. At present I take controlled-release tablets. I used to take a liquid, but, since I travel a lot, it is more convenient for me to take these.

But the tablets seem to pass right through me, with the medication still inside the outer coating. The doctor suggested I dissolve them in water, but I found that takes 12 hours. These time-release tablets upset my stomach, anyway.

My last potassium count was 3.5. I'm taking one HydroDiuril and one Dyrenium daily.

DEAR READER — It is probably not a good idea to take medicines that your system doesn't absorb completely, since you never know how much of what you really got.

Your medicines must be based on your blood tests. HydroDiuril will cause your kidneys to eliminate both sodium and potassium, but Dyrenium causes the kidneys to retain potassium and acts as a diuretic. It may even raise a person's potassium level. This is a good example of the differences in actions of various diuretics that people take. They do not all have the same actions. This is also why I can't just tell all people who take diuretics that they should take potassium: Those taking potassium-retaining diuretics would get into trouble if they did that.

In your case, if your doctor wants you to have potassium, you simply should eat potassium-containing foods. They'll do more for you than those pills that don't dissolve. An 8-ounce glass of orange juice contains more potassium than the standard potassium pill, and three glasses a day will give you a great deal of potassium. Other citrus fruits are good sources of potassium, as are bananas.

I have included a list of the foods that are high in potassium and those that are high in sodium in The Health Letter 10-12, Salt: Your Vital Sodium and Potassium Balance, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a male, almost 67. My wife, who is several years younger, has gone through menopause and is reluctant to have sexual relations once or twice a week, as I would like to.

Since I'm trying to be a considerate husband, could you please advise me if there is any medication that would slow me down and decrease my sexual desire? I hope you will not consider this a silly question.

DEAR READER — It is perfectly normal for a man your age to want to have sexual relations once or twice a week. Some men want it more frequently, and others less. There is a lot of individual difference, and I would not recommend your taking anything to change your normal reactions.

However, your wife does need to know why she is not interested in having sexual relations that often. Women also have a lot of variation, but I'm concerned that she may have some problems related to estrogen deficiency. Some women don't enjoy sex after menopause because they have lost normal vaginal moisture and it is painful, or at least uncomfortable, for them. They usually need some hormone replacement. Since hormone deficiencies are associated with bone loss, it is important for other medical reasons to be sure what is happening.

Dear Abby

Senior Swindlers Should Be Sent Someplace Besides Home

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I recently became a victim of a con game I think the public should be made aware of.

A couple who appeared to be in their mid-60s came to our door saying they were soliciting funds for the American Diabetes Foundation. They showed us a plastic enclosed sheet of credentials and wore diabetes-alert necklaces. They said they were selling ballpoint pens to pay for their insulin shots and assured us that they were registered with the local police department.

I was suspicious of them, so I bought some pens (for evidence) and wrote down the license number of their car (out of state). As soon as they left, I called the police chief and asked if these people had been issued a permit to collect in our neighborhood. He said they had not, but he would check into it.

Later that evening I called the chief back (this is a small town) and asked if he had caught up with that couple yet.

He said, "Oh yes, they're on their way back to a neighboring state. We picked them up about the same time last year for collecting money in this area." When I questioned him further about what action would be taken, he said, "Just consider it a donation to the poor."

Abby, these people drove a late-model car and looked anything but poor. Our law enforcement officials seem to think it was OK as long as those running the scam were old enough to be on Social Security and collected only a few dollars from each call.

It just doesn't seem right to me to let these people use the name of the American Diabetes Foundation to collect money under false pretenses.

Abby, please tell your readers not to buy anything or make any donations without checking first to see if the solicitation is on the up-and-up.

WARY IN THE MIDWEST

DEAR WARY: Your letter is a valuable public service, and I thank you for it. But why did you withhold the name of your town, after telling me your law enforcement officials looked out the window while these cheats canvassed your neighborhood?

It's OK to conceal your own identity, but failure to disclose the name of your town in effect protects law enforcement officials who are shirking their duties or are possibly crooked.

DEAR ABBY: I enjoy soup, but whenever I have soup, my girlfriend corrects me when I tilt the spoon toward me. She says I should tilt the spoon away from me.

Will you please tell us who is correct, and why?

S.P., BEDFORD, MASS.

DEAR S.P.: Your girlfriend is correct. Why? Because when you dip "away" you reduce the chances of dripping on your lap.

Personally, I wouldn't care which way a person dipped his spoon while sipping his soup as long as it was done quietly.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks to "In Love in Oregon"—the Romeo who wrote to say he had a "fabulous" weekend at Harris Beach with a nice girl from Grants Pass, but he didn't catch her last name—now I know where my wife went last weekend.

She's a Dear Abby fan, so after she reads this, she might want "In Love" to come back and help her pack.

Bridge is a game of vicissitudes. Sometimes, for example, the contract with the best chance of making will fail, while the inferior contract comes rolling in. So it was with today's deal, but it did not become unstuck without some astute declarer play.

Most aggressive North-South players reached a good six-spade contract. That ship sank when the spades divided badly. In the given auction, South opted for six no-trump — a foolish choice in my estimation, but differences of opinion are part of what makes the game interesting.

The opening diamond lead was covered by the queen, king and ace. Declarer immediately played a low club to the jack, won by the queen. Although a spade back would now wreck declarer's transportation, East made the more obvious play of the diamond 10. South now played four rounds of hearts, discarding two spades from his hand.

On the second heart, West threw a diamond. On the third heart, West sluffed a spade. And on the fourth heart, West threw in the towel. If he let a club go, declarer's last little club would be a winner. If he shed another spade, the last little spade in dummy would make the contract.

Your Birthday

Nov. 7, 1984

Someone who has been lucky for you in the past will be even more so in the year ahead. Keep in close touch with this valuable ally.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll be easy to get along with today, provided everyone does things your way. You won't respond congenially to those who oppose you. Major changes are in store for Scorpios in the coming year. Send for your predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Possibilities for personal gain look good today, but be prepared to work hard for what you hope to get. Don't look for handouts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Even though people you are not fond of may be present, don't turn down an invitation to a social gathering today. It will work out OK.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be hopeful today regarding the outcome of events, even if it appears Lady Luck is totally ignoring you at the starting line.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't waste your breath today arguing with an acquaintance who has a closed mind. There will be others eager to accept your ideas.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do not ignore financial situations that cry for attention at this time. Lady Luck will assist you if you take diligent and prudent measures.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may be quite fortunate today in situations where you function independently. Joint ventures could hold you back if your associates are pessimistic.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Instead of asking others to handle important assignments for you today, do them yourself. You're apt to experience breaks that will be denied them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try to pal around today with friends with whom you have much in common. Steer clear of pesty little cliques that caused you trouble previously.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Career advantages can be achieved today, provided you don't exert too much pressure. Assert yourself, but know when to stop pushing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try to treat whatever occurs today philosophically. Keep a cool head and don't let yourself blow small mishaps out of proportion.

THIS EMPEROR LIKED CHOCOLATE

NEW YORK (AP) — Montezuma II, the last Aztec emperor, was probably the greatest chocoholic of all times, according to an article in Chocolatier magazine.

It says that according to historical accounts, Montezuma drank 50 golden goblets of the beverage known then as "chocolatl" every day.

1 tablespoon safflower oil
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped tomato
13 cup raisins
¼ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
¼ teaspoon ground allspice
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 ½ teaspoons lemon juice
13 cup finely chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons dry white wine
4 fish fillets (about 1 ½ pounds)

In a medium saucepan heat safflower oil until hot. Add onion; cook gently until wilted. Add tomato, raisins, salt, pepper, allspice, cinnamon and lemon juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until tomatoes are softened, about 5 minutes. Off heat, stir in walnuts. Place fish in a single layer in shallow oiled baking pan; sprinkle wine over fish. WTC tips Cisco, 90-81

Charged by Victor Spencer's first-half effort of 17 points, the Western Texas College Westeners nudged the Cisco Junior College Rangers 90-81 here Monday night.

Spencer, a 6-1 sophomore from Lamesa, also played an impressive defensive game with six of the Westerners' 16 steals. The Wranglers, however, put a lid on Spencer in the second half and the starter from last year's national tournament team ended the night with a total of 19 points.

Taking the game's scoring honors, however, was Cisco's 6-5 sophomore Melven Jones who scored 15 field goals and six free tosses for 36 points.

Early in the first half the game was tied once and the lead changed hands three times. Cisco had an 8-2 advantage with 17:38 to go in the first half when steals by Lorand White and Spencer turned into buckets that brought the Westerners within a point. Spencer again brought the locals to within a point with 12:46 remaining.

At 12.27, Spencer picked off a pass and tossed under the basket to Ed Teal who turned it into a three-point play and a WTC lead, 16-15.

Cisco tied the game 23-23 with 8:58 remaining in the first half but a series of steals and a three-point effort by Spencer gave WTC a 40-27 pad that the hosts never gave up.

WTC ended the game with 53 percent from the floor, but cooled in the second half. The Westerners' free throw average was an impressive 66 percent.

With 13:51 left in the game, WTC had a 65-57 advantage and then saw the margin erode when Cedric Ellis pulled off a three-point play. Auldon Robinson pulled down the rebound and went up for two points to bring the visitors to within three points. Spencer fouled Robinson on the play and he sank the charity toss to bring Cisco to within two points. Ellis sank a 20-foot jump shot with 12:12 remaining to tie the game.

With 8:37 remaining, WTC once again started to pull ahead when Vince Turner got a tip-in followed by a steal and basket by Alvin Hicks.

Cisco again tied the scored, 73-73 with 6:19 remaining. Floyd Singleton got four of his seven field goals in the final five minutes to pace WTC in the stretch.

Singleton was the second high scorer for WTC with 18 points while White added 13. Also in double digits was Alvin Hicks with 11 points. Billy Chambers had eight points while James Dawn contributed seven. Teal and Turner had six each.

Others assisting Jones with the Cisco scoring were Ellis with 13 points and Robinson 11 while Lloyd McArthur had 10. Anthony Bryant had six points while Bryant added six. Jack McCrimmon had three points while Delton Harper contributed two.

The Westerners are 3-0 this season and will enter the McLennan Classic Friday and Saturday in Waco.

Booster club meets Wednesday

QB gamble gives Redskins triumph

WASHINGTON (AP) — A little sleight of hand and a successful gamble by quarterback Joe Theismann has the Washington Redskins sitting in the pack at the top of the stairs in the National Conference's Eastern Division.

The Redskins downed Atlanta 27-14 in a National Football League game Monday night to join Dallas, St. Louis and the New York Giants atop the division, each with 6-4 marks.

The Redskins were nursing a 7-0 lead midway through the second quarter when Theismann engineered a drive from the Redskin 30-yard line to the Atlanta one.

Atlanta twice stopped John Riggins for no gain, but Redskin Coach Joe Gibbs elected to try again on fourth down.

"I called a power play for John off tackle," said Gibbs. But Theismann had other ideas and tossed the pass.

Dusters run past Lady Wranglers

WTC's Clara Campbell, after being held to four points last week in the Dusters first loss of the season, rebounded with 28 points Monday night as the Dusters pounded the Cisco Lady Wrangers 69-62 in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The Dusters of Coach Joe Cushing collected their third victory of the season against a single loss and travel to Ranger tonight for a 6 p.m. encounter with the Ranger women's basketball team. The Dusters will compete in the South Plains Tournament in Levelland beginning Thursday.

The win came in the first home outing for the Dusters, and was chalked up in spite of a cool shooting percentage from the floor. The Dusters hit 28.5 percent of the field goals attempted but made up the difference at the free throw line where the team hit 64 percent.

The Dusters got off to a slow start as Cisco jumped off to a 4-1 lead. With 14:14 left in the first half, Campbell tied the game 8-8 on a three-point play after being fouled by Ingrid Mitchell.

Campbell, a 6-2 sophomore from Dallas, hit nine field goals for the night and added 10 free shots to pace all scorers.

WTC then jumped out front with 13:06 left in the first quarter on a Campbell bucket under the basket, and WTC never again gave up the lead. At intermission, the Dusters enjoyed a 30-27 advantage.

In the second half the Dusters stretched their lead to 10 points on two occasions. Cushing substituted freely and the WTC pad was trimmed to six points with 10:20 remaining the second half.

The WTC starters returned and pushed the margin to seven points on three different occasions. With 5:21 remaining, a 1 and 1 foul toss by Campbell gave WTC a 12-point lead, 62-50.

With 4:57 remaining, Sudan's Judy Wise stepped to the line for two more charity tosses and upped the WTC advantage to 14.

Patti Hayes was the second high scorer for the Dusters with 11 points and eight other Dusters got into the scoring ledger.

Rhonda Chisum had six points while Wiseman and Renvy Evans contributed five each. Lyndy French, Rhonda Hoelting and Lenetta Richardson each had four points while Diana Quincy and Renee Ramaekers both scored a single point.

For Cisco, Valerie Barnett paced the scoring with 15 points followed by Ester Mendez with 13. Close behind was Ingrid Mitchell with 12 points.

DRIVES FOR TWO--Renvy Evans, sophomore from Midland, drives for two points against Cisco defender Laurie Mosley (22). The Western Texas College Dusters won their third game of the season with a 69-62 victory Monday night in the Scurry County Coliseum. (SDN Staff Photo)

Poland...

Controversy continues in priest's death

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Rev. Jerzy Popieluszko apparently was still alive when his abductors threw him into the reservoir in northern Poland, an informed source said today. The autopsy results have not been made public, but there have been a slew of reports and rumors attributed to family, friends and priests saying Popieluszko's body bore marks of torture and severe beating.

An official who took part in the autopsy told the AP earlier that Popieluszko had been bound hand and foot with a noose around his neck so he would choke if he struggled. The official also spoke on condition of anonymity.

The well-informed source said today that the 37-year-old Roman Catholic priest died of asphyxiation, but that it was unclear whether he drowned or choked oo death. Popieluszko had been gagged and had rope burns around his neck, the source said.

Blood in his lungs indicated the priest suffered internal injuries from a beating, the source added.

Friends who saw Popieluszko's body said his eye was badly swollen and his face appeared to have been beaten. The official who took part in the autopsy said there was blood and water in his lungs.

It was not clear whether the priest was conscious when thrown into the reservoir where police frogmen found his body Oct. 30, 11 days after he was abducted.

Spring incident prompts arrest

Snyder police arrested one man on a criminal mischief charge and were called to investigate a misdemeanor theft Monday.

According to reports, a 21-year-old man was arrested at Western Texas College around 5 p.m. Monday on a misdemeanor arrest warrant issued last spring.

The suspect is charged with one count of criminal mischief in connection with the vandalism of a pickup truck owned by WTC Dorm Director David Harr.

City officers were called to the Plaza Truck Stop at 8:22 p.m. Monday by employees reporting a misdemeanor theft.

Police are now looking for two men who left without paying for dinner at the restaurant.

Minor wrecks noted Monday

Two minor traffic mishaps, neither involving injuries, were reported in Snyder Monday.

Involved in the day's first mishap, a two-vehicle collision at the intersection of 25th St. and El Paso Ave. at 8:25 a.m., were a 1978 Chevrolet driven by Wanda Johnson of Rt. 3, Snyder and a 1984 Buick driven by Donald Ray Murdock of 4104 Eastridge Dr.

The Santa Fe Railroad crossing in the 900 Block of College Ave. was the scene of the day's second accident at 9:49 a.m.

According to reports, two vehicles — a 1983 Chevrolet pickup driven by Jack Allen Stack of Ira and a 1980 Mack tractor-trailer rig driven by Merle Alton Elam, also of Ira — were struck by the crossing barrier which apparently lowered prematurely.

Damage to the crossing barrier was estimated at $700.

Charges against five are reinstated in 'Twilight Zone' case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Moviemakers should be more safety conscious after 75 years of filmmaking, said a judge who reinstated all charges against a director and four other defendants in the fiery "Twilight Zone" movie set deaths of actor Vic Morrow and two children.

"This is a case to be tried," Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer said Monday.

"This isn't nickelodeon time anymore. I would have thought that after 75 years somebody might have thought it inappropriate to put Lillian Gish on an ice floe and send her into the middle of Niagara Falls to make a movie," Ringer added. Miss Gish starred in the 1914 film classic, "Birth of a Nation."

Ringer's ruling left director John Landis facing five counts of involuntary manslaughter. He is the first Hollywood director charged with crimes arising from a movie accident.

Morrow, Myca Dinh Le, 6, and Renee Chen, 7, were killed July 23, 1982, when a hovering helicopter gunship crashed on them amid special effects explosions as Morrow ran across a stream while holding the children.

Harland Braun, Landis' lawyer, argued that the charges should have been thrown out because the technical cause of the helicopter crash was unforeseeable. Therefore, no one should be held criminally responsible for the accident, Braun said.

Deputy District Attorney Gary P. Kesselman said the cause of the crash was irrelevant.

"The underlying theme of this case is that you don't fly helicopters into or near fireballs or special effects explosions," Kesselman said.

Prosecutors said the children were hired without work permits, worked late at night and without supervision of a state-licensed welfare worker.

Ringer reinstated two counts of involuntary manslaughter citing child endangerment against Landis, and three charges of involuntary manslaughter based on recklessness.

City officers investigate 5 minor weekend wrecks

Police were called to investigate five minor traffic mishaps Saturday and Sunday.

Douglas Stapp of Lubbock filed the first report at 12:24 p.m. Saturday.

According to the report, a 1977 Ford driven by Stapp had sustained minor damage when it collided with a low hanging tree branch in the 100 Block of 26th St. on Oct. 29.

Also filing a belated accident report Saturday was Tami Wishert of the Eastridge Apartments.

She told investigators that her 1979 Chrysler had been struck by a 1971 Chevrolet driven by Kathryn Mitchell — also of the Eastridge Apartments — while it was parked at her residence Nov. 1.

Police took the weekend's third minor accident report at 9:30 p.m. Saturday in the 3400 Block of Ave. L.

Involved in this mishap was a 1974 Chevrolet driven by James Earl Powell of 106 33rd St. which struck a Texas Electric utility pole.

Cecil Vineyard of Rt. 3, Snyder filed a hit-and-run report at 9:43 p.m. Saturday.

He told police that his 1982 Chevrolet had apparently been struck by an unidentified vehicle while it was parked in the 4100 Block of Denison Ave. earlier in the evening.

Investigators later reported that the Vineyard vehicle had actually been damaged by a hit-and-run driver earlier in the weekend while it was parked outside the city.

A single minor mishap was reported shortly before noon Sunday.

According to reports, a 1978 Chrysler driven by Eunice Glasgow Davis of 116 24th St. was in collision with a 1978 Chevrolet driven by Jose Martinez of 2612 Ave. U in the 1300 Block of College Ave. at 11:45 a.m.

No injuries were reported in any of the weekend mishaps.

Tom's Marine handles Kero-Sun heaters for Snyder area

Cool mornings and evenings are here and winter is just around the corner. Now is the time to start thinking about the Kero-Sun portable heater.

Efficiency is the key word in describing a Kero-Sun heater. These portable heaters give out instant heat for only pennies an hour. And since the Kero-Sun uses only clean-burning kerosene fuel, you get over 30 hours of warmth on less than two gallons of fuel. That means more pennies in your pocket.

Tom's Marine is the exclusive carrier of Kero-Sun heaters in Snyder, and Tom offers many different models of heaters to choose from and can help you find one to suit your needs.

All Kero-Sun heater models have been tested for combustible by-products. They can be operated continuously with complete safety. They burn with no soot or smoke and for complete peace of mind, every model is equipped with a unique shut-off device which instantly puts out the flame in the event of a tip-over.

Another feature of the heater is the push button lighting system. Press a button and a battery powered electric igniter automatically starts glowing right above the heaters wick. Each heater comes complete with batteries and a fuel syphon pump for easy filling.

With all these features: easy to start, clean operation, advanced safety features no chimney installation, long running, easy to fill, economical kerosene fuel and extremely simple maintenance, what could be a better way to help keep your homewarm this winter?

Let Tom Machen and David Cunnington of Tom's Marine set you up for the chilly autumn and cold winter ahead with a Kero-Sun heater. They also have all the accessories for the Kero-Sun heaters if you are in need of parts.

NOT LOOKING FORWARD TO COLD WEATHER? Tom's Marine is ready to help keep you warm with a Kero-Sun heater tailored for your needs and easy on your pocket. Tom's Marine carries a full line of Kero-Sun heaters (SDN Staff Photo)

The first Jaguar automobile was officially exported from England to the United States in 1948. Today, the U.S. accounts for more than half the sales of Jaguar cars sold throughout the world. Nearly 16,000 were sold in the U.S. in 1983.

be based on a current market value determination — which will be reached after soliciting at least three appraisals.

The district would then be paid based upon the percentage of space it has paid for — calculated in megabytes — using this current market value estimate.

Representatives of both the council and appraisal district board commented to the fairness of the agreement Monday.

At the regular November meeting, the council also approved four new two-year appointments to the board of electrical examiners. Those chosen were Randy Rinker, Jim Severs, Phil Covington and Tommy Pherigo.

They replace members with terms due to expire Wednesday to include Rodger Sullenger, Bobby Nolan, Larry White and Jimmy Kiker.

Council members attending Monday's meeting were Don Osborn, Mickey Nunley, Troy Williamson and Tommy Davis in addition to Mayor Roy Waller. Two council members were absent, Gene Thomas and Truett Bryan.

In other city business, the council:

—Approved on second and final reading a Lone Star gas rate hike equaling some 4.2 percent. It is projected to raise the average residential customer's monthly bill about $2.47 in winter. The increase — the first requested by Lone Star for the past three years — is expected to go into effect in December.

—Approved on second and final reading a SCAT rate increase request upping the base cable TV rate from $9.50 to $10.46 per month.

—Approved a preliminary plat for a 37-lot development proposed in the city's Cedar Creek addition. The proposal brought no protests Monday from either council members or other affected property owners in Cedar Creek. The development has been proposed by H&H Developers of Lubbock. Their representative, Bob Hagdel, was present Monday.

—Approved a preliminary plat review for a two-lot development proposed at Colonial Hill North — an area located between 35th and 32nd Sts. The request was submitted for property owned by John Greene.

—Approved the city's financial reports for Fiscal Year 1983-84 and okayed transfers from under and over-budgeted accounts. With all funds considered, the city overbudgeted some $34,103, it was noted.

—Approved on first reading an ordinance to adjust city payments made into the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

—Approved a request from the chamber of commerce to purchase new Christmas decorations. Some $4,135 was asked for from the city's motel tax fund.

—Approved on first reading a zone change request submitted by Jimmy Don Fox, who requested changing a section of property beside Ave. Y — between Huffman and Gilmore Ave. — from R-3 (residential) to C-2 (commercial. The change — which prompted no protests from other property owners — will allow him to open a woodworking shop on the property.

—Approved on second and final reading an ordinance allowing the closing of Ave. J between 21st and 22nd Sts., a request submitted by Lynn Smith. It was noted the dedicated "street" is actually a vacant lot unsuitable for vehicle traffic.

—Approved on second and final reading a change in speed limit at the eastern city limits on State Hwy. 180.

—Awarded a low bid of $24,967 to Wilson Motors to purchase three 1985 police cars. Other bids were submitted by Donelson Chevrolet ($28,942); and Snyder Motor Co. ($27,400).

—Awarded a low bid of $12,984 to Wilson Motors to purchase two 1985 pickups for the water distribution department. Other bids were submitted by Donelson Chevrolet ($14,026); and Snyder Motor Co. ($14,359).

—Awarded a low bid of $8,597 to Wilson Motor Company for a 1985 pickup for the animal control warden. Other bids were submitted by Donelson Chevrolet ($8,610); and Snyder Motor Co. ($8,617).

—Approved the minutes of several meetings to include the regular council meeting Oct. 1; a special council meeting Oct. 4; a planning and zoning board meeting Sept. 24; the electrical board meeting Oct. 1; the builders board of appeal meeting Oct. 15; the board of adjustment meeting Oct. 15; and the planning and zoning meeting Oct. 29.

Resident notes youth problems

cil was Sharyon Bond.

She said Snyder police officers respond to all requests when problems with these children are reported. But she noted police are limited in what they can do when it comes to follow up work.

She noted also that child welfare workers in Snyder are already overburdened with case loads and that they cannot devote sufficient time to address the situation.

Possible responses from the city she pointed to include the implementation of some type curfew here — as an axample prohibiting children age 9 or younger from being out after dark without supervision — or possibly city funds to assist the state's welfare worker staff.

Following her presentation, council members asked for further information regarding the situation, specifically some type of report from local police to indicate the extent of the problem.
