REGISTRATION OF JOBLESS TO START TOMORROW UNDER PLANS OUTLINED BY FEDERAL AGENT

While we blush, J. C. Estlack declares in his Donkey County Leader that this writer is "astute, with the financial acumen equal to an un-canny Scot." Well, there are a few Scots on our family tree, but we aren't ready to give up columning and start offering advertising for sale.

"This is the time of year," say the SHAWNS in the Higgins News, "when mother begins to worry for fear last winter's clothing for her family will not last through until spring."

TOM WAGGONER snorts in his Claude News that "60 per cent of the votes voting August 26—and that means half of our qualified voters—expressed themselves as wishing to do away with the 18th amendment. Yet over half of Texas counties voted dry on local option."

That reminds us of the old saw: "You can and you can't, you will and you won't; you'll be damned if you do and damned if you don't."

Small ways of small towns are good enough, in the view of JOHN WHITE of the Priona Star, who notes that Priona's jail is most unpretentious in appearance and exceedingly diminutive in size, "but it is to be hoped that it will be large enough to hold all the culprits that will present themselves for admittance at any one time." If Priona catches a "big" criminal, the town can turn him over to the state troopers to permit him to escape!

"Possibly a better phase for safe driving would be 'courteous driving,'" asserts DAVID M. WARREN in the Panhandle Herald. But courtesy is difficult to time properly at 65 miles an hour.

American hog farmers should be worrying about the plight of their foreign customers, declares HOMER STEEN in the Floydada Hesperian, pointing out that "where there were 20 foreign customers for pork in the 1926-29 period there are only 8 left now." And, strangely enough, Wall Street took money from the small investors and lent it to foreign industries to make possible much of that 1926-29 business. More boot-strap stuff.

There is no class loyalty among farmers, opines MRS. SETH B. HOLMAN in the Hereford Brand, who says "cotton farmers in other counties are plowing up cotton, getting the money for so doing then coming into this county and preparing to plant wheat on new land." Mrs. Holman thinks "there ought to be a law, and there probably is" to stop it.

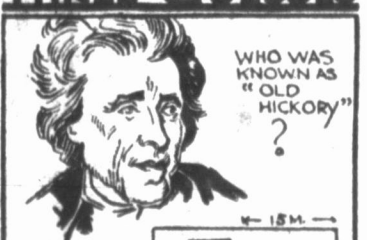

Here's a thought for our bone-hunters: "If you rob a new grave you are a criminal," cites MAX WADE in the Groom News. "But if you pick one old enough you are a scientist."

ALBERT COOPER announces in the Shamrock Texan that he has "acquired the circulation lists of the Wheeler News Review and the Mobeetie News, these two papers having been suspended for lack of advertising patronage." It takes much more than subscriptions to print a good newspaper.

H. H. L. in the Dalhart Texan declares that "Amarillo is too far from Dalhart for its citizens to be able to accurately and carefully present the conditions and needs of Dalhart and its territory to a federal relief investigator." The federal man was persuaded to go to Dalhart, and a branch office will be opened there instead of in Amarillo.

Mrs. R. M. Bellamy was able to return home from the Worley hospital yesterday after a major operation.

SCHNEIDER NOW HEADS GROUP—NEWMAN RESIGNS

REGISTRATION of every unemployed person in Gray county, including skilled workmen, will begin here tomorrow at the relief office in the city hall under a system installed today by David H. Orand, an agent of the national employment service.

Mr. Orand addressed the county board of welfare and employment and worked for a time in the relief office before leaving for Ochiltree county, where he will direct registration. He recommended use of two interviewers of labor here, so that neither many have to remember more than 35 men per day.

Skilled Men Needed
When the anticipated highway contracts are let for Gray county by the state highway commission, with funds to be partly from the $24,000,000, contractors may use only workmen furnished by the employment office. For this reason, it is imperative that both skilled and unskilled men be registered at once. Registration offices will be opened soon in other parts of the county. Ex-service men with dependents must, under the law, be given preference in awarding work.

Mr. Orand pointed out that unemployment registration is different from relief registration. Many able-bodied, worthy men are unemployed yet have not registered for relief. He added that contractors must depend on having good men sent them, hence the physical and mental ability of workmen must be carefully considered. He said the employment service was formed to "sell" labor and that it must maintain a reputation for being able to

Man Killed And Three Injured In Tulia Crash

TULIA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Floyd Gullidge, 33, of Big Spring, was killed and three others were critically injured last night in a head-on truck collision 12 miles north of Tulia on state highway No. 9.

The injured were Gullidge's employer, J. P. Harman, also of Big Spring and Perry and Roscoe Fort, brothers of Silvertown, who were operating the other truck.

Reports here said both trucks were loaded, and both were demolished. Gullidge and Harman were returning to Big Spring with a load of oil well casing from the Panhandle field. The Fort brothers were driving an oil truck.

Play Rehearsal Will Be Held On Wednesday Night

The first act of "Gold in the Hills, or The Dead Sister's Secret," Little Theater play will be rehearsed at the city club rooms tomorrow night, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. A rehearsal was held last night. Several of the players read know their lines. The work of Mrs. Roberta Guthrie, Mrs. Earl Powell, and Dick Hughes in the first rehearsal was praised by listeners.

Those who should be present tomorrow night are Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. Powell, Dick Hughes, Charles Barrett, Paul Camp, Frank Carter, John Ketter, and Emmitt Smith. The first and second acts will be practiced next week and the second and third acts the following week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Brown were to return this afternoon from Lawton where they have been visiting relatives.

INCREASE IN SCHOOL ENROLMENT INDICATES GREATER POPULATION

ENROLMENT in the Pampa independent school district was increasing so rapidly today that the figures reminded Supt. R. B. Fisher of the days of peak registration in 1931.

The total early today was 2848, including the school for negroes. The enrolment was distributed as follows: High school 767, Junior high school 532, Baker 362, Horace Mann 347, Sam Houston 380, Woodrow Wilson 312, Merton 109, Hoover 13, negro school 26.

By classes in the high school, the registration is as follows: Freshmen 236, sophomores 177, juniors

Aided Bailey?

FEDERAL charges of aiding Harry Bailey to escape from the Dallas jail have been filed against Tom Manion, above, jailer who last visited the notorious outlaw before he fled, only to be recaptured a short time later. Bailey is accused in the Urschel kidnapping.

NRA BOARD TO PROBE CHARGES OF VIOLATIONS

Employees in Offices of Professionals' Must Conform

AN interpretation governing non-professional employees in the offices of professional men, received by C. H. Walker today from the NRA interpretations division, provides that such employees are not "professionals" and that their minimum hours and wages must conform to the NRA regulations.

A compliance board to pass on local complaints will be organized within a few days. It is expected to have considerable work, since complaints are rather numerous. One complaint, to be investigated, is that a local cafe is working its cook and dish-washers nearly 70 hours a week for wages of less than $10 per week.

The national interpretations also include these answers to questions submitted from various parts of the country:

'Cuban Sandino' Takes To Arms—Civil War Looms

HAVANA, Sept. 19. (AP)—Confronted by incipient civil war, the new Cuban government today dispatched a trainload of troops and students to Camaguey province, where Capt. Juan Blas Hernandez, known as the "Cuban Sandino," has taken to the field.

Captain Blas conducted a long guerrilla warfare against deposed President Garardo Machado. Recently he spent several weeks in Havana, conferring with General Carlos Mendiolita, one of the principal leaders of the opposition to the present government.

The insurgent captain, who got his nickname because of the similarity of his anti-Machado campaign to that waged for years by General Augustino Sandino in Nicaragua, left for the interior yesterday at 11 o'clock.

MAN'S LEG FRACTURED
Vincent Colter, employee of the Bridgeport Machine company, was taken to Worley hospital in a G. C. Malone ambulance yesterday afternoon and examination showed that he had a broken leg. Mr. Colter and two other men were loading some oilfield equipment on a truck when he slipped, allowing the weight of the machine to fall on his leg. Mr. Colter lives at 817 South Cuyler street.

AUDIENCE WITH ROOSEVELT IS GROUP'S PLEA

PRESIDENT INDISPOSED ON ACCOUNT OF A COLD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Unable to see President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace today to present their demands for inflation and higher cotton prices, the cotton states convention delegates heard a plea that the resolutions committee remain in Washington until they can obtain an audience with the president.

J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton association, and Thomas Linden of Atlanta, secretary to Governor Talmadge of Georgia, advanced the proposals.

"I don't think we'll get anywhere unless we see the president," Linden said. "We ought to let our committee get an answer from him."

Wannamaker made the statement at a hearing before George N. Peck, agricultural adjustment administrator, to whom Secretary Wallace referred the cotton convention delegates after they left a copy of their demands for inflation and 20-cent cotton with a White House secretary.

President Roosevelt could not receive the delegates personally because of a cold which kept him in bed.

When the group went to see Wallace, the agriculture secretary excused himself, saying he had a previous engagement with the budget director regarding a $10,000,000 appropriation he was seeking for the department.

"I don't want you to think I am running out on you," Wallace told the group.

Addressing the conference with Peck, Wannamaker asserted: "Secretary of agriculture is fiddling with the officials of the administration have refused to give us a hearing."

"Nero," it is said, fiddled while Rome was burning. "Our young secretary of agriculture is fiddling with a ten million dollar appropriation while the cotton farmers of the county knock at his door."

Wannamaker said it was "a disgrace" that the group should be in Washington "for three days and can't get a hearing."

Linden said: "With Secretary Wallace running out on us as he has, I favor adjourning this meeting back to the hotel and there constituting a committee to stay here in Washington until the committee can see President Roosevelt."

Five Arrested After Chase By City Officers

Five men were arrested at 3:30 o'clock this morning after a chase by police and D. C. Houck, manager of the Haggard apartments. Mr. Houck woke to see four men prowling around the apartment house. He called police and then stepped out of his apartment and then got into a car with a fifth man at the wheel. He shot at the car as it drove away.

Officers arrived a few minutes after the car had been driven away. They gave chase and overtook the car on West Francis street. Mr. Houck identified it and the five men were taken to the police station and booked as vagrants.

One of the men entered a plea of guilty this morning and he was fined $25 by Judge J. H. Blythe. The other men pleaded not guilty and their bonds were set at $50 each.

W. H. Toothman reported the loss of a car from his Dodge coupe, parked in front of the bus station.

A traveling bag was taken from a car, parked in front of the Henry Trust residence in the Cook addition last night.

F. E. Smith of Artesia, N. M., is a Pampa visitor this week.

Beleagured Cuban Officers Cook Own Meals

FIELD pieces and machine guns were trained on the National hotel in Havana, where these three captains and two majors of the Cuban army, with their guns handy, are shown preparing their own food. The officers are part of a group of between 300 and 500 who had barricaded themselves in the hotel and had demanding restoration of the de Céspedes government. Government forces have surrounded the hotel, permitting no one to leave or enter it. Later, a truce was arranged.

Women Throw Out Minister

Jonesboro Pastor Flees And Leaves Suspenders And His Bible Behind.

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 19. (AP)—A new minister's attempt to occupy the pulpit of the Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle, scene of bitter intra-congregation strife for weeks, ended last night in his flight from an attacking group of women, minus his suspenders and Bible.

The Rev. Doc Applegate, a former deputy constable and ordained minister, mounted the platform at tabernacle services and announced he had been sent to preach in place of the Rev. Dale B. Crowley, one of the rivals for the pastorate.

Immediately, according to reports to officers today, 15 or 20 women members of the Rev. Joe Jeffers faction, in possession of the tabernacle advanced upon him.

They seized Applegate, tore off his suspenders and part of his shirt and threw him off the platform, officers reported. He fled from the tabernacle, leaving his suspenders and Bible behind.

Whether warrants would be issued in connection with the new flare up in the church war was not announced.

Crowley, recognized by a chancery court order as the tabernacle pastor, has remained away from the building the past few weeks while members of the Jeffers faction held control. Jeffers, militant evangelist who sought to oust Crowley is in Miami, Fla., his place being taken by Jake Sharp, who has been chosen pastor in an election which Crowley contends was illegal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—The New York Yankees held to their mathematical chance of winning the American league pennant by defeating the Chicago White Sox 10 to 1 in the first game of today's doubleheader. Lou Gehrig hit his 30th home run of the season and Dicke Walker and Joe Sewell added two more circuit blows for the Yanks while Stoneham, a rookie outfielder, scored the Sox only run with a homer in the first inning.

BILL DEFEATED
AUSTIN, Sept. 19. (AP)—The house of representatives today rejected a resolution that would have requested Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to submit a bill proposing redistricting of the district courts of Texas. Representative Bob Long of Wichita Falls sponsored the resolution. It was defeated 56 to 62.

DOESN'T KNOW HIS OWN NAME BUT 'WIFE' SAYS HE'S ROBBER—IT'S NEW SERIAL

'Outrageous Fortune' Starts in The NEWS Today—Begin Its First Chapter Now.

Will the relatives or friends of Jimmy Riddell, Redell or Randal communicate with the Cottage Hospital, Elston? This man was found unconscious and is believed to be a survivor of the wrecked coastal steamer, Alice Arden. He appears to be suffering from loss of memory.

IT was this most ordinary message—frequently in the personal columns and police news—that started the strange train of events in "Outrageous Fortune," the new serial by Patricia Wentworth, starting in The NEWS today.

The apparent victim of a marine accident was brought to the hospital, unconscious but not badly hurt, obviously in a deep coma but mumbling incoherently of emeralds, murder, plotting and an indistinct name that led him to be targeted as Jimmy "Riddell, Redell or Randal." The only clue to his identity was the laundry mark "J R" on a shirt.

Nesta Riddell appeared at the hospital almost immediately after the authorities made their appeal. She was left alone, with the unconscious man a few minutes, heard his garbled mumblings, plumply claimed him as her husband, Jimmy Riddell, and took him home.

Five minutes later, Caroline Leigh appeared at the hospital hoping to find the unconscious man was Jim Randal, a distant cousin. Deeply disappointed at learning the shipwreck victim already had left with Nesta Riddell, his wife, Caroline turned to depart when the head nurse mentioned a significant fact: A bit of paper, apparently torn from the bottom of a letter had been found in the man's pocket. On it was one word—a signature Caroline.

That information sent Caroline Leigh's mind working in another direction. She had written her cousin recently, signed the letter "Caroline." It might be coincidence, she decided, but it would bear investigation.

Caroline then started to pick up the elusive trail of the Riddells, not knowing who they might be or where they had gone. It carried her into a strange series of adventures, a nightmare of suspense and directly to the discovery every girl some day hopes to make.

The first chapter of "Outrageous Fortune" appears in The NEWS today. Read it.

BLUE EAGLE DAY WILL BE HELD IN CITY

PAMPA'S observation of national recovery day, Sept. 25, has been officially designated as BLUE EAGLE DAY.

It will be an occasion for all persons and firms who believe in the Blue Eagle principles to do their full share to make the national consumer campaign a success.

For the stores, it will be an opportunity to display fall and winter and seasonal merchandise produced in Blue Eagle factories. And at prices, too, which cannot be duplicated in the market today.

The nation must increase purchasing to maintain the Blue Eagle campaign and to beat the depression. NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.

And Monday, Sept. 25, will be a day of unusual buying opportunity. Remember, get out the old sock and show your faith in America by BUYING ON BLUE EAGLE DAY.

GRANDMOTHER TO TESTIFY IN URSCHEL CASE

LAWYER AVERS ARMON SHANNON SIGNED STATEMENT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19. (AP)—A 74-year-old woman, rolled into federal court today in a wheel chair, pointed with a feeble hand at Albert Bates as one of the men who plotted a kidnapping while staying at her farm home near Stratford, Oklahoma.

A physician accompanied Mrs. Coleman into the court room.

Her 18-year-old grandson, Gay Coleman, the first government witness, had testified just a few minutes before that he had heard Bates say at the Stratford farm that he was going "to pull a kidnapping" in Oklahoma City. The boy, who said his home was at Coleman, Texas, testified he had visited at his grandmother's farm July 20, 21, and 22.

Mrs. Coleman testified that strange activity on her farm Sunday morning, July 23, prompted her to ask Kathryn Kelly what Kelly and the man she identified as Bates were doing.

"She told me, 'they got a man kidnapped.'"

"I told her to get those men away from there as quickly as she could or I would scream and alarm the whole settlement. I got out of bed and when I was putting on my clothes I heard a car leave."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19. (AP)—Fury words poured from the lips of Herbert E. Hyde, youthful United States district attorney, as he detailed today the government's version of how Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire, was kidnapped and held nine days until ransomed for $200,000.

"This scene begins in Oklahoma City," Hyde began his opening statement to the jury in the trial of Harvey Bailey, Albert Bates, and ten other defendants charged with the abduction under the new "Lindbergh" kidnap law.

"It's going to be closed in this court room."

Hyde then began a dramatic story of "purple riders in the night, bearing machine guns as arms," to hold "one of Oklahoma's finest citizens."

"Society" attends trial.

As court opened no seats were empty, and the spectators chiefly were gathered from the upper level of Oklahoma society, attending to learn at first hand the true story of how the bodies of one of their members was invaded and the head taken from his family by force.

R. G. and Mrs. Shannon and their son, Armon, shifted slightly in their seats as Hyde got under way with his scathing denunciation of the crime.

Occasionally as Hyde spoke harshly of the kidnappers Mrs. Urschel, dressed modestly in dark blue near the rail dividing the court room, nodded vigorously.

"The evidence will show that Bates and his companion went into the home of Mrs. Urschel under cover of darkness," Hyde declared, "that they kidnapped Mrs. Urschel and sped into the night, out of Oklahoma county and into Potawatomi county, to the home of a relative of George Kelly."

Telegrams Traced.
Kelly and his wife are still hunted as fugitives in the case. Mrs. Kelly is the daughter of Mrs. Shannon by a previous marriage.

The proof will show that these two men were in Oklahoma City several days prior to the kidnapping and that they came here as the result of an understanding," Hyde continued.

"The proof will show that the defendant Kelly was on about July 15 or 16 in Dallas, Texas; that he sent a wire to his friend, Bates, who was in Denver, and the wire said 'when and where will I meet you in Oklahoma City?'"

NRA A SPLENDID STEP TOWARD BETTER ORDER OF THINGS

More and more it becomes clear that no matter what direction the great NRA program is taking us it can hardly be regarded as more than a tentative first step. If it fails, the second step will undoubtedly be productive of even more fundamental and far-reaching changes than those which have already taken place. We cannot cancel a year's endeavor and sit back to wait for something to turn up. We are committed to a course of drastic action; if the first act flops, we can only make the second one a double dose.

But we do not believe that the step will fail. And it is in looking ahead to the course we must follow if and when this program has succeeded that we shall have to call on all the brain-power that the country possesses.

The NRA program is admittedly an emergency measure. It is a neffort to surmount a crisis; as such, it has to meet the problems of the immediate present and let certain long-range objectives wait.

Taken altogether, it is a magnificent thing. But it does leave untouched the fundamental issue of the modern world—the queer, illogical way in which the tremendous increase in mankind's productive capacity has been accompanied by rising unemployment and poverty.

For the present we are trying to meet that problem by imposing sharp checks on production. We are spending vast sums to keep down our production of such basic commodities as wheat, pork and cotton. We are putting oil production under a curb; we are fixing things so that the great manufacturers may keep from making more goods than they can sell.

For the period of the emergency, such steps are good. Sooner or later, however, we must find a better way of meeting the problem.

It is physically possible now for the world to produce at such a rate that every mortal can have all that he needs of everything. Somehow, once a fair measure of prosperity has been restored, we must find out how to do that. We shall have to start thinking about increasing production instead of checking it—our fields, our mines, our factories and our wells must bring forth more instead of less.

That is the direction toward which the next step after the NRA program must carry us.

Markets

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—A late rally in metal issues again pulled the stock market out of a ditch today and enabled a number of the more depressed leaders to pare or cancel early losses of 1 to 3 or more points. The recovery was attributed partly to short covering by professionals following a sharp morning slump. The close was steady to firm. Approximately 2,650,000 shares changed hands.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Wheat advanced briskly in late dealings today, much more than overcoming the effects of sinking spells met with earlier.

Eastern buying support which developed on wheat price setbacks was associated with persistent efforts in various quarters looking toward currency inflation.

Wheat closed firm at virtually the day's top point 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 1/2-3/4 up, oats 1/4 advanced, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Amarillo Judge Refuses To Okay Howard's Bond

AMARILLO, Sept. 19 (AP)—O. D. Stevens, W. D. "Bill" May, and M. T. Howard, all of whom are held in jail at Fort Worth, were indicted by the federal grand jury here today for a $71,000 mail robbery in Fort Worth last spring.

A second indictment was returned against Stevens and his wife for possession of narcotics. The grand jury made a partial report, returning only the two indictments.

After the mail robbery indictment had been returned, Judge James C. Wilson refused to approve a $10,000 bond for Howard, presented by Arthur L. Moore, Fort Worth attorney. Judge Wilson said he would not approve a bond for any amount without careful investigation and added that the amount would be raised back to $15,000, the same as that set for Stevens on the same charge.

In a hearing before Wilson in Fort Worth Saturday, Howard's bond was reduced to $10,000. It was pointed out then that Howard had made $30,000 bond on a murder charge which the state contends was an aftermath of the mail robbery. Wilson said today, however, that he had been informed the state's bonds were not good. Stevens has not made bond in the murder case.

Wilson said that if any further action was taken by the court, it would be to raise rather than lower the bonds.

COTTON RISES
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19 (AP)—Ten-cent cotton made a spectacular reappearance in the southern market today as a late wave of general buying gave futures a boost of $1.70 to $1.80 a bale net, with closing prices slightly more than $3 a bale above the lows of last week.

The advance was resumed in a highly irregular and wildly fluctuating market with trading at a fast pace. Following a morning dip of about 75 cents a bale under yesterday's close, futures soared on the late demand from the trade and speculative sources to levels $2.70 to $3.25 a bale above the early lows, with October at $10.32 and December at $10.62.

Profit-taking sales scaled down the advance to $1.70 to $1.80 a bale net.

Eight trucks and one team were added Monday to the construction force grading highway 33 through South Pampa as Gray county's first relief project.

The work started Saturday in East Pampa but was transferred to the west end of the project Monday. The crew is just west of highway 88. Dirt being removed is being placed on a fill on the Borger highway near the Talley addition.

Alex Schneider was elected temporary chairman of the county committee this morning, taking over the duties of C. H. Walker, who has resigned. M. M. Newman of McLean, another member, also has resigned. Two new appointments will be made by the state relief office.

SIGNATURE OF PRESIDENT IS ON COAL CODE

30,000 PENNSYLVANIA MINERS STILL ON STRIKE

By The Associated Press

STRIKES still speckled the industrial picture today.

Among them were:

Brooklyn—Shoe workers.

Pennsylvania—Coal miners, truckmen.

New Jersey—Silk workers.

Long Branch, Ont.—Relief workers.

New York—Underwear, doll and millinery workers.

Jersey City—Can co. workers.

Brooklyn—Cleaners, dyers.

Cape Cod, Mass.—Crabber pickers.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, head of the National Labor board, urged both sides to avoid disputes as much as possible and seek peaceful settlement before the board. In a statement published today he urged "patience, sincerity and efforts to make mutual concessions."

Now that the coal code bears President Roosevelt's signature, the question remained as to what 30,000 striking coal miners in Pennsylvania would do. Some strike leaders expressed belief the government "will see the code put into operation fairly." Others reserved comment.

Buckshot wounded a spectator when pickets and working miners clashed in North Scranton, Pa.

A strike of 5,000 teamsters, which would hamper flour, grocery and furniture delivery, was threatened in New York unless employers shortened hours. Truck operators in southeastern Pennsylvania refused to accede to demands of strikers for shorter hours, 1929 pay and union recognition. The dispute brought truck service to a virtual standstill in some parts of the area.

Talk of a cotton growers strike "if we cannot get relief otherwise" was heard in Washington at a meeting of cotton men and members of congress.

City Budget To Be On File For Public Study

City Manager C. L. Stine was directed to make up copies of the proposed city budget for next year when the city commission met last night.

The budget will be on file for public inspection 30 days before it is placed before the commission for a vote.

A plumbing ordinance was revised. Placing of kegs, boxes, signs, or other articles on sidewalks is a violation of a city ordinance, it was pointed out today by city authorities. Instances of recent violations were cited.

About 30 persons including employees, their wives and others enjoyed a sumptuous chicken dinner and cold drinks. Mr. Crites and his wife recently moved to Pampa.

Children Need a 'Protective' Diet

By MARY G. McCORMICK,
Supervisor of Health Teaching, New York State Department of Education.

The child's diet should be based upon the protective foods—milk, vegetables, and fruits, and it should also contain foods that supply extra quantities of proteins and carbohydrates, with a little fat.

Proteins can be obtained most satisfactorily from milk, lean meat, fish, eggs, cereals, and bread. Make plentiful use of bread in the child's diet. Either white or whole wheat bread may be used—both are good—whole wheat is better. Bread is an inexpensive and economical source of energy and most children like it.

The best desserts are fruits, including ripe bananas (they are ripe when the skins are speckled with brown), apples, peaches, grapes and oranges, and milk puddings such as rice pudding and tapioca pudding. Ice cream, sweet desserts, sugar or candy, are all right, but parents must be careful not to encourage their children to eat too much of the sweet foods, and when permitted, such sweets should only be taken at the end of a meal.

Directly connected with the diet is the question of whether the child has ample time to play in the sunlight. One of the important results of exposing the skin to sunlight is that it develops vitamin D, the bone and teeth building vitamin, directly in the body. When it is impossible to get plenty of sun, as in the case of school children, this deficiency must be made up in the diet by feeding some food rich in vitamin D. Among these foods are cod liver oil, irradiated ergosterol, and eggs, particularly the yolk of an egg.

Rev. Foote Heard By Jaysees Today

A stirring speech was made to the Junior chamber of commerce members today by the Rev. E. Gaston Foote of Amarillo, who is here conducting a revival.

Rev. Foote spoke on the "depression within us" and declared the nation needed a re-birth of personal courage, social confidence in the government, and of Christianity.

New members announced were J. W. Pyland, Art Crites, Dr. D. H. Massie, Byrl Sanders, John Sturgeon, B. G. Gordon and R. O. Johns.

Committees for handling activities of Fire Prevention week, beginning October 8, were announced. H. L. Polley, chairman for Santa Day, reported progress in outlining the event.

Several Jaysees will likely attend a state convention of the organization in Longview Friday and Saturday.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

Chapter One
MYSTERIOUS PATIENT

The August sun shone down upon the Elston cottage hospital. After a week of every possible kind of weather, the English summer smiled away the memory of a fog, cloud-burst, and storm. A handsbreadth of hyacinth-blue sea showed where a green cliff dipped and rose again.

It was a blue halycon sea. Impossible to believe that only four days ago it had flung its angry spray against that green hillside, had battered a ship to matchwood, and engulfed the wreck in the deep treacherous quicksands which lay beneath the sparkle and the ripple of its waters. After the storm, fog. And then, on a sudden, this exquisite, perfect day.

The man's ward was on the ground floor, with a veranda that looked upon the garden. At two o'clock in the afternoon the day nurse was getting the convalescent cases out, the light beds were being pushed along, and there was a good deal of chaff and banter.

"Nurse—can't I have the place by the wall? Billy Button's a-going to grow up it like a creeper if he has it much longer."

"Nurse—my 'air wants cutting something crool. What's the young lady visitors going to say when they sees me on the veranda looking like this?"

"You can have an umbrella," said the day nurse. She had a pleasant voice with a north country accent. She turned back to an old man with a merry wrinkled face. "Now, Mr. Giles, you'd better have that shawl your wife brought."

"Don't want no shawl," said Mr. Giles obstinately. "Hot as hot it is." He jerked his elbow towards the next bed. It had two red screens about it. A mottled muttering sound came from behind them. "Keeps on—doesn't he?" he said.

"Has he been saying anything?" said the day nurse.

Mr. Giles screwed up his face. "He've said 'Jimmy Riddell' twice, and Jimmy 'tis, sure as 'taters are 'taters. D'you think there'll be anybody a-coming to identify him?"

"I hope so," said the day nurse. "Now, Mr. Giles—if you're ready—" "I ain't," said Mr. Giles. "I want to tell you something first."

"What did you want to tell me?" "It wasn't art funny listening to that there radio message last night and him in the next bed. But Ma-tion shouldn't 'ave put no more than just Jimmy Riddell—those other names was all nonsense. It's Jimmy Riddell he keeps saying, and I will take my Bible oath to it."

"Now, Mr. Giles, I can't stop talking here."

Mr. Giles screwed up his face until it was a wrinkled mess. "And I'll tell you something else he said, too."

"Something else?" "Um—" said Mr. Giles. "Something most uncommon queer, miss nurse."

"Well—what was it?" Mr. Giles chuckled.

"First he said, 'Jimmy Riddell,' and then there was something about being clever, and then he said, 'Green—like a kid's beads.' Plain as plain that was, and then off he goes muttering again."

"Oh well—" said the nurse. "I can't stop talking here. I believe you're just trying to keep me, because you don't want to go out. You are a crafty old man, that's what you are—but out you go."

She pulled the bed away from the wall as she spoke, and taking it by the head, pushed it briskly down the ward.

Behind the two red screens the muttering voice went on. Outside, the sun streamed down.

Nesta Riddell got out of the car a little way down the road and stood for a moment with her hand on the door.

"Now, Tom, you'll wait here, and if it's Jimmy, and if they'll let him come, I'll come out and tell you."

"And if it isn't?" said the man at the wheel.

He was so like Nesta Riddell that strangers took them for twins. As a matter of fact, she was three years the elder and very much the better man. Tom Williams did as he was told, and with no more than sometimes a sulky look, and sometimes a jerk of the shoulders.

Nesta slammed the door and walked up the road towards the gate. It was going to be really hot. She had been in two misadventures wearing her new blue voile, but in the end she had chanced it. For all she knew, it might be the last opportunity she would have, because if this man who had been picked up in the fog wasn't Jimmy, then it was a hundred to one that Jimmy was drowned; and if Jimmy was drowned, she would have to go into black.

She lifted the latch of the gate, pushing it open with a brisk jerky movement, and walked up the gravel path. The garden was bright with autumn flowers. Big heads of pink, and white, and purple phlox sunned themselves, but the cornflowers and Shirley poppies had been beaten down by the heavy rain and sprawling untidily on the wet, drenched earth.

Mrs. Riddell did not look at the flowers. She walked straight to the front door, rang the bell, and then waited, with her hands clasped rather tightly upon the red hand-bag which matched her beret. She was rather a handsome young woman, with a high color and dark hair that curled naturally.

Her grey eyes were a little too small and little too closely set, and there were lines between them and other lines about her mouth which might spell temper. She wore large pearl earrings and the latest choker necklace, also of pearls—enormous white ones. They made her throat look brown and rather strident.

She had rung the bell but the door stood open. She could see across the small lobby and down a long white-walled corridor. Two other passages went off to the right and left, and in a moment a fat, rosy-cheeked girl of eighteen, with a white cap and blue print sleeves rolled up, came flying around the left-hand corner.

Nesta Riddell began at once. "I've come about the message on the radio."

The girl opened blank round eyes. Mrs. Riddell's brows met in a straight line, a dark line like a frown.

"There was a radio message to say that a man had been picked up in the fog."

The rosy girl became rozier, and her eyes rounder. She was deeply interested and very nearly inarticulate.

She said, "I'll tell nurse," and bolted like a rabbit.

Nesta opened her bag, took out a sheet of paper, and waited. When the nurse came, should would know whether Jimmy had been drowned or not. What did it matter if he had been drowned? She didn't care.

There wasn't any manner of reason why she should care, only she wished that the nurse would come and get it over. That girl was next door to a half-wit; she looked as if she didn't understand a word you said to her. She wondered at their keeping a girl like that—but then of course it was just a cottage hospital.

The day nurse came round the corner—dark blue, and an apron, and a much more becoming cap—not young, but rather good looking.

Nesta Riddell said her piece again. "I've come about my husband. There was a radio message to say that a man had been picked up in the fog."

"Oh yes. And you think he is your husband?"

"My brother wrote the message down," said Nesta Riddell. "I do not have a radio myself, but my brother wrote it down, and I've brought it along."

She raised the sheet of paper and read from it:

"Will the friends or relatives of Jimmy Riddell, Reddell, or Randall communicate with the Cottage Hospital, Elston, Sussex. This man was found unconscious near Elston and is believed to be a survivor of the wrecked coastal steamer Alice Arden. He appears to be suffering from loss of memory. That's what my brother wrote down. Well, I'm Mrs. Riddell, and I want to know whether it was my husband that was picked up or whether it wasn't."

"Well, Mrs. Riddell—"

Mrs. Riddell took her up sharply. "That's the point, Nurse. Riddell—that's my name, and that's my husband's name—Jimmy Riddell—Jim—to his friends. And what I want to know is, what's all this about Reddell and Randall? Didn't he say who he was?"

"Well—no."

Mrs. Riddell took her up again. "Well, if he didn't say, who did? I mean, why Riddell, or Reddell, or

DRYS IN IDAHO CLAIM REPEAL WILL NOT WIN

By The Associated Press

New Mexico and Idaho were having their say about prohibition today—the former lachrymatically, the latter with a wider display of interest.

Clear skies, beckoning the rural vote to the polls, encouraged the drys in Idaho, home state of that long-time friend of prohibition, Senator Borah. Allied drys predicted a vote of more than 100,000 with "well over 50,000" opposing repeal.

William Healy, a repeal candidate, envisioned a 15,000 repeal majority out of a total vote of 75,000.

In New Mexico, foes of prohibition predicted at least a 2 to 1 majority for repeal. The voters, however, displayed much more interest in another matter on the ballot—the question of limiting property tax levies.

These two states, the only ones to vote on repeal this week, are the 30th and 31st to ballot on the question. The other 29 all have aping.

Randal? I mean, where do you get any of the names from?"

"This was a pushing young woman. 'Was your husband on the Alice Arden?'"

"He might have been. I don't say he was, and I don't say he wasn't. What I want to know is, how did you get hold of those three names?" (Copyright 1933, J. B. Lippincott Co.)

Nesta, tomorrow, has a few bad moments.

OIL PRODUCTION DROPS

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19 (AP)—A big drop in Texas production cut the country's daily average crude oil output by a total of 233,215 barrels last week, says the Oil and Gas Journal. The Texas figure was 985,467 barrels, or 200,787 barrels less than during the week ending September 9. In East Texas alone the drop was 166,558 barrels to 470,000 barrels.

TURNER BREAKS OWN AIR MARK; WINS BENDIX CUP

Nerves Never Waver

LOS ANGELES—Colonel Roscoe Turner flashed across the finish line here 11 hours, 30 minutes out of New York, breaking his own coast-to-coast record for the round-trip flight and winning the annual Bendix Trophy.

Forty-eight thousand spectators were on hand to greet the plucky pilot whose healthy nerves had carried him to victory. For a second time the coveted trophy was his. One of the Colonel's first victories was for a Camel. Asked by a man if steady smoking nerves, Turner said:

"I WATCH MY NERVES as carefully as I do my plane," Colonel Turner says. "I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette and I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

COLONEL ROSCOE TURNER, in discussing healthy nerves and cigarettes, says:

"Breaking air records is an exciting business—and a nerve-wracking one! I know because I have gone out after a whole flock of records—and managed to pick off quite a few. Like most pilots I smoke a lot—in fact, I enjoy smoking any time. But I watch my nerves as carefully as I do my plane. I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette, and being a faithful Camel smoker, I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

WORK OF MORE THAN HUNDRED H. D. CLUB WOMEN ON DISPLAY

Parent-Teachers Council Will Take Charge of Thrift Room to Clothe Pupils

EXHIBITS OPEN AT NOON TODAY FOR VISITORS

WINNERS ARE TO BE ANNOUNCED THIS AFTERNOON

Displays of the work of more than 100 home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls of the county were in place when the annual achievement day exhibit opened at one o'clock today in the Combs-Worley building.

Canned products and various types of handwork were shown, in addition to educational displays arranged by five demonstration clubs.

Judging began as the exhibit opened by Miss Bessie Sikes, Roberts county home agent. Winning products here will be taken late tomorrow to Amarillo and entered in the Tri-State fair.

Open to Public
The display will be open to the public through tomorrow. Women and girls participating in the event will be entertained tomorrow by two civic groups of Pampa. All who made a required number of entries will be guests of the Board of City Development at a luncheon at first Baptist church, and all demonstration club members will be guests of Pampa club women at a tea in the women's club rooms in the afternoon.

The banquet program will open with an invocation by John S. Mullen, Christian minister. Mrs. Joe Marshall will lead group songs, and Miss Stella Walker will sing a duet. Miss Kathryn Vincent will read.

Educational Displays

Clubs which have educational displays in the fair are Bluebonnet, showing articles from handkerchiefs to quilts made with sacks; Laketon, which displays articles made from orange crates; Busy Bee, with a "make for health" booth; Meriten, which emphasizes the need of farm homes for adequate water supplies; and Priscilla, with a clever "graveyard" where the buried farm women killed by inefficient house-keeping methods, farm children who died because of poor home sanitation, and a county demonstration agent killed by unnecessary work.

Miss Opal Pinnell, club girl from Hopkins, is displaying a model desk which she made for her prize-winning bedroom.

Reservations Due For Little Theater President's Dinner

Reservation for the Little Theater's first annual President's dinner must be made by Thursday. Members are reminded that the banquet is scheduled for Monday evening, and members may bring guests if they choose.

Tickets may be reserved by calling Mrs. Gilmore Nunn, Miss Peggy Arnold, or Mrs. Ruba McConnell.

The dinner, honoring I. A. Freeman, president, will be at the city club rooms.

FIFTH AVENUE FASHIONS

By ELLEN WORTH

Double on Sleeves And Fabric for Chic

Ribbed crepe and sheer wool make one of the smartest fabric combinations this season. To double on sleeves is a new trick—and a grand one. Many dresses today wear a long fitted sleeve under a puffed elbow-length sleeve. This frock does its sleeve-doubling with capelets—and it's easy!

Those long paneled lines will make you look tall and slender. Notice the band at the neck. It forms a charming little V-opening in front and ties in a bow at back. The tucks on the shoulders are just another proof that every line of this frock is expertly designed.

Choose white, pale blue, or dusty pink for the top. For the skirt coppery brown, bronze green, gun-metal gray and black are all smart. You'll find many other bright ideas for the family sewing in our new Fall Fashion Book—see the coupon below.

Pattern No. 5343 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 bust.

COMMITTEE TO PERFECT PLAN IS APPOINTED

WORK FORMERLY DONE BY CITY WELFARE BOARD

PRELIMINARY plans for opening a "thrift room" in charge of Parent-Teacher associations here, to receive and distribute used clothing for needy school children, were made at a called meeting of the city Parent-Teacher council yesterday afternoon.

This service has been performed by the city welfare board, in charge of Mrs. W. H. Davis. Increased duties have made it necessary for her to have assistance, and the council was asked to direct this phase of welfare work.

A committee with a member from each city Parent-Teacher association was appointed by the council president, Mrs. Claude Lard, to definitely plan the thrift room. Members are Mesdames J. H. Hulm, C. F. Buckler, C. T. Hunkapillar, J. D. Lawson, Roy Holt, W. B. Murphy, C. E. Nelson, and J. M. Daugherty.

Cooperation of each association will be asked in carrying out this work, which is necessary if many children are to be kept in school.

Felt Much Better By Taking Cardui

"I took Cardui at two different times for a run-down condition," writes Mrs. P. M. Deason, of Tyler, Texas. "I would get nervous and could not sleep well. This would make me feel badly in daytime. I read about Cardui and thought it would be a good idea to take it. I took eight bottles one time and six another. I felt much better after taking it and was able to sleep. If you are weak, run-down, nervous, take Cardui, for women."

ROADRUNNERS NOSE OUT HOUSE OF DAVID TEAM IN TENTH INNING 7 TO 6

FIVE DOUBLE PLAYS WEAKEN WHISKERS PEP

LISTER GETS A TRIPLE AND TWO DOUBLES DURING GAME

A double by Ike Lister with McLarry on second in the tenth inning won a 7 to 6 ball game for the Roadrunners from the Danziger Roadrunners at Danziger park. Previous to that time the Roadrunners had "double-played" the bearded boys to death. The Pampa team completed five at critical times.

Lister connected for two doubles and a triple on his six trips to the plate. Jake Leggett and Chuck Carroll followed in distance hitting with a double and triple each. McLarry connected for a triple and single and Manager Aaron Ward hit a double and single. Whitey Vaughn and Lefty Bulla were the only members of the Roadrunner team that failed to hit.

Vaughn tried his best to lose the game for the Roadrunners when he loafed in the field to let a single go for a triple and again when he caught a fly, hit by himself, as it was returned to the infield. Lister scored from third after the catch but Vaughn's "childish" play sent Lister back. The play turned out all right because Ward hit in the pinch to score Lister again.

Hill, diminutive House of David catcher, led the attack for his team with three singles. Talley hit a triple and single and Grover Cleveland Alexander connected for a double to score the first run of the game in the first inning. Lowrance, second baseman, worked Bulla for four passes.

David Score First
The House of David scored in the first inning when Hutson, first man up, walked. Lowrance and Tucker went out but Alexander hit a double to score Hutson. The Roadrunners evened things in the second inning when Newsome walked and Leggett hit a triple to score Alexander and Leggett's double.

The Roadrunners went two up in the fourth. Ward, first man up, hit a double. Newsome went out but Cox singled Ward to third. Leggett then came through again when he hit a triple over the center fielder's head. He died at third when Bulla filed out. The Roadrunners saved themselves the same inning when the first three bearded batters got on base with none out. Tucker, next man up, fielded to the catch and Wykoff hit a long fly to Newsome in left field. Before the ball had hardly touched his glove, Newsome threw for home, picking Hunter off by inches.

The Roadrunners went three up in the fifth inning when Lister hit his first double. He scored on Carroll's long double. The bearded boys added two in their half of the fifth when Hill hit a single and Hunter did likewise, only to have Vaughn let the ball roll through his legs for a triple. Hunter scored on a long fly. Lowrance walked but Tucker hit into a double play.

Pampa appeared to have the game on ice with two more counters in the seventh. Lister, first man up again, triple. Carroll followed with a double and scored on Newsome's single after two men were away.

FORDHAM HAS BIG MACHINE

Thirty-One Lettermen May Be Moulded Into Scourge Of East Under Crowley

(This is another of a series on prospects of major college football teams.)

BY EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP) — A pleasant, round-faced fellow with the suspicion of a bulge in the waist region of his white sweat shirt grins a little as his eyes wander over 40 or 50 of as fine looking football players as ever delighted the heart of a head coach.

"We should," murmurs Sleepy Jim Crowley, "beat the first two anyway. Don't you think so?"

His eyes never leave the Fordham football squad and the amazing legacy of 31 lettermen left him for his eastern coaching debut by the late Major Frank Cavanaugh. There is everything a coach could desire on that practice field—a host of big, fast, powerful backs, two of them among the best kickers in the east, several of them fine passers; heavy, agile tackles and guards; brawny centers and ends.

They never let up for a moment and the whistle that sends them into action at top speed rarely leaves Crowley's lips as he moulds his fine material into the Notre Dame system in which he rode famously as one of the "four horsemen."

The cry, "Hit 'em, hit 'em," rings up and down the field as they block and charge for hours, laying the foundation of what should be a devastating machine. It will start rolling against the "first two," at the end of this month. They're the

MAJOR LEAGUE PENNANTS MAY BE WON TODAY

GIANTS EXPECT TO END NATIONAL RACE BY NIGHTFALL

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Baseball properly, represented by the National and American league pennants, was just around the corner today for the New York Giants and Washington Senators, rivals in a dramatic world series just nine years ago.

All the Giants needed to clinch the National league flag for the first time since 1924 was one victory for themselves or a defeat for their only rival, Pittsburgh. Washington, seeking the American league bunting for the first time since its two-year reign in 1924-25, was just half as well off. The Senators needed two victories, two New York Yankee defeats or a combination of one triumph and one Yankee reverse.

It was possible neither flag would be clinched today but the Giants, slated to play their final game at St. Louis while the Pirates tangled with the Phillies in a double-header, expected to end the National league race by nightfall.

They let just such an opportunity slip through their fingers yesterday but the 4-3 decision they dropped to the St. Louis Cardinals worried them less than the narrow escape "Fat Fred" Fitzsimmons had from serious injury.

The veteran right hander held a 2-1 lead with two men out in the second inning when a line drive from Bob O'Farrell's bat cracked him on the neck. Fitz went down in the dirt and lay gasping as his teammates rushed to his aid. Soon he staggered to his feet and was led to the clubhouse where an examination revealed he had suffered no serious hurt.

Herman Bell then took up the burden and the Giants gave him a two-run lead in the fourth on Carey Drennon's double, a sacrifice and Bressy Ryan's single.

Herman couldn't stand prosperity and retired in some disorder in the fifth after O'Farrell and Pepper Martin had singled. That brought Carl Hubbell to the mound and for once the slender southpaw was not equal to the occasion. George Watkins' double drove O'Farrell across the plate and in the tenth inning O'Farrell's third straight single, a walk and another safety by Martin tied the score. The Cardinals then won the game in the eighth on Leo Durocher's triple and a single by Tex Carleton who gave the Giants only two hits in the last five innings.

OIL ORDER TODAY

AUSTIN, Sept. 19. (AP)—The three members of the Texas Railroad commission announced today they would leave tomorrow for Washington where they will confer with the President's advisory committee. They planned to leave a permanent order, probably late today, continuing in effect the per field proration of the 975,200 barrels daily allowable production allocated to Texas by the committee.

The North Carolina state prison usually 60 per cent of its appropriation during the last fiscal year. Two Jimmy expects to beat, Albright and Muhlenberg.

WITH THE HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

Of course I may be talking through my hat, but in my opinion the game at Harvester park Friday afternoon will be one of the toughest the Harvesters will have this season. That McLean team, although a Class B organization, is good enough right now to step into Class A competition. As Coach Odus Mitchell remarked after McLean had defeated Wheeler 7 to 0 Friday afternoon, "That team is in mid-season form right now."

Pampa is backing McLean to go through with flying colors this year but I am a little skeptical. The team is far too much advanced and by the close of the season, the boys are apt to be stale and lose to an inferior team. I have seen it happen often. "Take care, Coach Rush, don't get those kids overtrained because I am looking forward to seeing the championship game right here in Gray county this year. In fact, I am looking forward to see a couple of championship games."

The Harvester backfield is the least of my worries. I believe the ball toters will come through with flying colors. Line Coach Argus Fox and I are lying awake nights doing a little worrying over the line problem. We have everything in that line but can we get it clicking in time? My hat is off to Coach Fox if he can get those boys drilled to hold and dig holes when needed. The boys have plenty of ability but they are awfully green. I am hoping for ability to break through.

The Harvester schedule this year is a dandy. There will be three potential state champions as opponents before the conference season opens. They are Cisco, Big Springs, and Muskogee, Okla. And don't forget Capitol Hill of Oklahoma, runner-up for state honors last year. Capitol Hill will be here for a game next Friday with eight veterans in the lineup.

It was in Oklahoma last year that so many Harvesters were injured. Those boys play a hard game of football and they don't care where they hit or how. Jim Lookabaugh, well known wrestler, is coach at Capitol Hill.

Salvation Army To Leave Pampa

Close of Salvation Army work in Pampa is announced by Envoy Clarence Brown, who has been in charge. The corps will withdraw from the city following final services Sunday.

Lack of financial aid is given as the reason for the move. Envoy Brown made the following statement:

"We wish to thank our friends in the city for their cooperation and help, but during the trying times of depression, due to the outstanding pledges we were unable to collect, we have been unable to receive enough financial aid to pay our rent and other necessary bills."

"I am very sorry to leave the city, for I feel that we have some very good friends. Those of you who have been faithful and generous, we wish to thank from the bottom of our hearts, and pray God's blessing upon you."

PELICANS WIN FROM MEMPHIS IN LAST GAME

TO MEET MISSIONS IN DIXIE SERIES ON WEDNESDAY

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19. (AP)—The New Orleans Pelicans, jubilant over the smashing 12 to 3 defeat handed Memphis yesterday in the final game of the Southern Association play-off, swung into Texas today for the start of the Dixie series with San Antonio tomorrow night.

San Antonio, winner of the Texas League pennant, will cross bats with the Pelicans in their home city in three games before the teams renew hostilities here beginning Sunday.

The Southern play-off, deadlocked at two games, all before yesterday's contest, was terminated with a barrage of hits and a parade of runners across the plate as the Pelicans overcame Memphis' three-run lead. The victory gave New Orleans its first pennant since 1927, and its ninth in the history of the Association.

But the game yesterday decided more than the winner of the 1933 title. It ended the season-long dispute of the two teams in the split season.

New Orleans battled up near the top in the first half, only to trail Memphis by a few games at the close. The Pels forced to the top in a courageous drive in the second half, and edged out Memphis by only a few percentage points as the teams battled in a spectacular season-end series.

Dave Bauer will be chairman of the senior membership committee, assisted by Harry Hoare and Fred Lamb.

Although only tentative plans were made at the opening meeting, it was suggested that membership be set at $10 for permanent membership or $5 a year to those who do not desire the full life membership. Also that a small yearly assessment of one or two dollars be charged for upkeep, although that point will be left open for discussion when the organization is perfected.

Mayor W. A. Bratton and City Manager C. L. Stine attended the meeting after the city commission had adjourned. They were enthusiastic about the club and offered every assistance.

Others who are active in the organization of the club are Dr. R. A. Webb, Ed Vicars, Dr. R. M. Johnson, Rev. Joseph Wonderly, Gilmore N. Nunn, Dr. H. H. Hicks, Earl O'Keefe, R. C. Sturgeon, Olin E. Hinkle, George Christopher, W. C. Dillman, and others.

Mrs. R. E. Warren entered Worley hospital today for a minor operation.

Mrs. F. R. Gilchrist was dismissed from Worley hospital yesterday following a major operation.

PURSES IN ARLINGTON DOWNS RACES WILL TOTAL $125,000

The Waggoner Handicap of $2,500 Will Be Richest Races of 21-Day Meet.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 19. (AP)—Approximately $125,000 in purses will be distributed during the 21-day race meeting at Arlington Downs, near here, October 19 through Nov. 11, it was announced today by Paul Waggoner. The minimum purse will be $600 with a scattering of $800 events during the daily seven-race programs.

Several handicaps already have been arranged in addition to the annual Texas breeder's futurity, a classic for Texas bred and foaled 2-year-olds.

The latter race was started four years ago and has been continued since in the annual one-day meet at Arlington Downs.

The Waggoner handicap, a $2,500 added race, is the richest of the handicaps already arranged. It will be for 3-year-olds and up over one and one-sixteenth miles.

Other handicaps are: Inaugural handicap, 2-year-olds and up, $1,200 added, six furlongs. Fort Worth handicap, all ages, $2,000 added, six furlongs. Texas derby, 3-year-olds, $2,000 added, one and one-quarter miles. Dallas handicap, 2-year-olds, $2,000 added, three-quarter mile.

The handicaps are expected to draw many of the leading stakes horses of the country. Among those already entered are Mr. Sponge and Pari-Mutuel of the Leroy King stables of Memphis, Tenn. Another is Liqueur, owned by H. C. Rumage of Kansas City.

Pari-Mutuel, a 5-year-old Fair Play Chance gelding, won $8,000 in stakes as a 4-year-old in 1932.

Liqueur, a 3-year-old Supreme Triple Sac gelding, won the gold state claiming stakes and Wilmette claiming stakes in 1932, rewarding his owner with $3,540. Both victories were at Arlington Park, Chicago.

Grid Fans May See Scrimmage On Wednesday

Football fans will be admitted to Harvester park tomorrow afternoon to see the Harvesters scrimmage for the last time before they meet the McLean Tigers at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at Harvester park.

Coaches put the team through a back-breaking practice yesterday and another was scheduled for this afternoon.

Every boy still out with the first string was given his big chance yesterday and will get more this afternoon. The squad will be split before the McLean game and the coaches do not want to send any boy to the Grids who should be given a chance with the Harvesters.

Coaches expect to make a starting lineup after tomorrow's scrimmage, scheduled to be long and hard. The wise birds have already got their starters on paper but they may be crossed up because some of the excellent showings the last few days.

The boys are handling their assignment in an improved style but they still have rough edges to be polished off. Blocking is on the list of better achievements and the ball toters are using their power and shuffling nicely, which makes the backfield the least of the worries. The line is fairly big but only one thing is going to make it click and that is practice and more practice. Most of the boys are new to their positions and they are having to learn from the ground up.

Slaton Child Is Rushed East For Removal of Seed

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19. (AP)—After being rushed here by airplane and train for an operation to remove a watermelon seed from her left lung, two-year-old Jane Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Austin of Slaton, Texas, was under observation by physicians at a hospital today. Latest reports said she was resting comfortably.

The child was brought here yesterday and examinations indicated it would be desirable to allow three or four days for preliminary measures before making an attempt to remove the seed by use of a bronchoscope.

DAM GIVES WAY
MEXICO, D. F., Sept. 19. (AP)—More than 50,000 acres of cultivated land north of Ciudad Victoria were under water today as a dam gave way under the force of floods resulting from Friday's storms. The number of dead grew to 135 as streams receded and soldiers recovered more bodies in San Luis Potosi and Tampico. Sugar plantations and factories in the flooded zone were destroyed.

Killed. Indications point to a long trial. More than 35 volumes of 250 pages each were needed for the state's charges. The prosecution has announced 110 witnesses would be summoned.

EX-CHAMP IS WHALED AROUND—ALMOST KNOCKED OUT

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—King Levinsky, Chicago West Side batter, today had his eye on Primo Carnera's world heavyweight boxing title following his defeat of Jack Sharkey, former champion, in a rough and tumble battle at Comiskey park.

Matchmaker Nate Lewis of the Chicago stadium, much impressed by Levinsky's marvelous showing against Sharkey last night, said he would open negotiations with the Carnera management at once. The bout, if arranged, will take place in the Chicago stadium this fall. Carnera has met and defeated Levinsky twice.

The defeat practically eliminated the ex-gob as a heavyweight threat although he has another bout booked with Tommy Loughran at Philadelphia on September 27. However, his share of the receipts in both is $25,000.

Sharkey entered the ring a favorite, but the money of his backers went glimmering in the first round. Levinsky rocked Jack with a hard right and followed with another that floored the ex-champion for a seven count. Later in his dressing room Sharkey admitted that he never recovered from that first blow. King had Sharkey staggering in the second when he again scored with rights.

When the bell ended the third round, the Boston fighter was so dazed from the constant hammering of Levinsky's fists that he walked to a neutral corner and had to be helped to his seat.

Sharkey was unable to use any boxing science against the bull-like charging Levinsky and hit low in the fifth round. The seventh was the only round that Jack won. He appeared to have recovered somewhat and peppered the King's head with his left and shot hooks to the body. King came near scoring a knockout in the next round with his wild swings and won the last two by wide margins.

Sharkey weighed 201 and Levinsky 4 1/2 pounds more.

Former Sammy Wolff announced the show was a financial success. The attendance was 20,317 and the gross receipts $52,996.40. Sharkey received $25,000 and Levinsky about $8,600.

A. A. U. W. IS SPONSORING AN EMPLOYMENT AGENCY FOR GIRLS DESIRING WORK AFTER SCHOOL

The American Association of University Women is sponsoring an employment agency for high school girls desiring work after school, in the evening, and on Saturdays. The work will include housework, caring for children, and the like.

Girls interested in obtaining such work should see Mrs. J. B. Massa or Miss Mary Idelle Cox, A. A. U. W. faculty adviser for girls. Women who desire girls to work for them are requested to call Mrs. Roberts at the high school office during school hours, or Mrs. J. B. Massa after school hours at 1036-J. Calls should be made during school hours if possible so that girls can be notified.

Effort is being made to give only responsible and deserving girls this sort of work. This will enable many girls to continue their school work and will also be a real service to the community.

First Game To Show Caliber Of Harvesters

Friday the Harvesters will meet the powerful class B team from McLean. It is reported that the McLean boys are in tip-top condition and are broadcasting the fact that they are going to teach the Harvesters some football. The Harvesters seem to be convinced that this is false and are ready to put up a fight to keep that pigskin in their own hands. What they lack in experience they make up in pep and determination.

The team needs the support of all Pampa in this first game. A good crowd is expected as the game will be fast and snappy. The pep squad and band will be there one hundred percent.

The game is called for 4 o'clock at Harvesters' Park. Admission will be 25c for students and 50c for adults.

Council Ranks Among Best In 9th Scout Area

That the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council is well up in the front rank of councils of the ninth area, comprising the states of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and part of Arkansas, according to Executive C. A. Clark, who returned Sunday from a five-day fall conference of executives at Mineral Wells.

This council is strong in new troops and new Scouts, but needs to advance many of its boys from the Tenderfoot rank in the coming months.

All the executives of the ninth area attended the conference, which was attended by four national officials. An intensive study course was taken and a check made on progress in the 10-year program of Scouting. The intention of enlisting and keeping in Scouting one in each four boys reaching the age of 12 years is being reached in part, with this area progressing as well as any in this section of the country.

and spent the remainder of the summer at her home in Bridgeport. Mrs. Lou Roberts, registrar, attended Texas Tech at Lubbock this summer.

BEGINNING AGAIN

The Little Harvester is the only publication of Pampa high school, and it is our aim to make it a real part of student life. Its staff is chosen from among those who are joining the Journalism club, show their interest in newspaper work. We welcome school news from everyone, however. Interesting clippings from other school papers and original bits of sense or nonsense for the columns are always in demand.

Organization of the club and the selection of a staff for the Little Harvester for this year have not yet been completed. Miss Fannie May will again sponsor the paper and the club. If you are interested in taking part in this school activity, see her sometime in the next few days in Room 205.

And speaking of school activities reminds us that now is the time for every boy and girl in Pampa high school to line up with at least one school activity. If you are athletically inclined, go out for football, tennis, or volleyball or enroll for gym. Every girl in P. H. S. should belong to the Pep Squad. Why not take up Journalism or dramatics or join one of the musical organizations, the band, the orchestra or the glee club? You will never get the fullest enjoyment out of your school life or catch that old Harvester spirit unless you enter actively into the life of the school and give as well as take. Incidentally, it's the best way for new students to get acquainted.

Hyde bore down on the name Shannon, with especial emphasis.

Hyde told of evidence he said would show that Urschel, upon his arrival at the Shannon farm near Paradise, Texas, was queried about a possible intermediary.

Shannon Boy's Statement

The victim, Hyde said, was asked if he had a pastor who might arrange negotiations. Told that Dr. S. M. Gibson of Oklahoma City was the old man's pastor but was out of town, the matter was dropped for a time. Hyde said the evidence showed.

The prosecutor said the government will present a written statement by Armon Shannon telling how the kidnapers offered him $10,000 to watch over Urschel at his home after the victim had been removed from the home of R. G. Shannon on the same farm.

While his attorney, James H. Mathers, scribbled notes during Hyde's statement, Bailey glared his eyes on the notations. Mrs. Shannon whispered into the ears of her attorneys, her eyes showing fight for the first time since she was brought into the court room.

Her gray-haired husband, one foot in his chair, listened to the prosecutor's voice without a change of expression. The youthful son looked straight toward the jury without conferring with his parents or counsel.

"Efficiency", said Aesop 4,000 years ago, "is coaxing a cat across the room instead of pulling him by the tail."

If you've been taking hours to bake the morning biscuits and fry the dinner chicken, and wind up feeling as though every kitchen in the world ought to be at the bottom of the South Atlantic; we have a most pleasant surprise in store for you. For intriguing, delicious foods can be "coaxed" together in hours less time than you ever imagined. There are all sorts of little time-savers and wife-savers on your pantry shelves, in the spice-cans in your cabinet, in scraps that you've always thrown away.

And these efficiencies are so simple, practical and easy! That's why we've planned our cooking school — just to show them to you. We know you'll enjoy every minute of the cooking school, and we urge you not to miss a single second. Come as our guest.
