Producers Of Cotton OK Quotas

Scurry County cotton producers went along with the majority Tuesday in approving extension of marketing quotas.

In Scurry County, 197 farmers approved the quotas, while 30 opposed the quotas. At the same time, Scurry farmers voted against sale and lease of allotments outside the county by 71 to 57. Thus, sale and lease of allotments is permitted within the county only.

Over the nation, producers voted overwhelmingly to continue marketing quotas on upland cotton, rice and peanuts and by a smaller margin for controls on extra long staple cotton.

The controls are designed to prevent overproduction.

Marketing quotas have been in effect on these crops for many years. However, they have not been too effective for upland cotton. Supplies are at a record level.

Under the approved limitations, the department will allot planting shares to individual growers. In the case of upland cotton, rice and peanuts, the 1966 allotments will total the same as this year. For extra long staple cotton, a somewhat larger allotment will be assigned.

Besides tobacco, these are the only crops grown in this country which will be subject to mandatory controls next year.

Wheat and feed grains, on the other hand, will be produced under voluntary programs offering payments to farmers who reduce their plantings under special programs.

In the case of upland cotton, the department will offer payments to producers who underplant their allotments at least 12.5 per cent next year.

Results of the referenda included:

Upland cotton 196,476 to 10,729, a favorable majority of 94.8 per cent. Approved 34,615 to 4,729 in Texas.

Extra long staple cotton, 913 to 237, a favorable majority of 79.4 per cent. Approved 329 to 47 in Texas.

Peanuts—34,529 to 827, a favorable majority of 97.7 per cent. Approved 2,991 to 122 in Texas.

Rice—5,366 to 505, a favorable majority of 92.1 per cent. Approved 907 to 57 in Texas.

US Viet Nam Casualties Zoom To Record High

By RONALD I. DEUTSCH

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The battle of the Ia Drang Valley pushed American casualties in Viet Nam last week to 240 killed in action, the U. S. military announced today. It was nearly three times the highest total announced for any previous week.

The U. S. Command also reported 470 Americans were wounded during the week ending at midnight Nov. 20 and 6 were missing action.

A record number of Communist casualties also was reported — 2,262 dead and 136 captured. South Vietnamese forces reported 357 dead and 807 wounded, more than double the previous week.

The report today brought the total of U. S. casualties reported in nearly five years of fighting in Viet Nam to about 1300 dead and about 6,000 wounded. Half the dead and a third of the wounded were cut down in the past three months as U. S. combat troops who began arriving in Viet Nam in February took a bigger an bigger part in the war.

Before February the American role in Viet Nam was an advisory one, coupled with providing helicopter and other air support for South Vietnamese units.

The highest previous total of American casualties was reported for the week ending Nov. 13. It was 86 killed and 230 wounded. The week before the total was 70 killed and 237 wounded.

The average for the Korean war was about 210 American battle dead per week, although at times the number was far higher.

The jump in American and Communist casualties last week was primarily due to the hard fighting in the Ia Drang Valley 210 miles north of Saigon near the Cambodian border. Troops of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, division battled North Vietnamese regiments there all week.

It was one of the first times in the war that the Communists kept attacking American units despite heavy losses instead of stealing away. American officers believe the Communist commanders are anxious for a victory over the Americans to boost their forces' morale, to give their propaganda machine ammunition and to put them in a position of strength for any peace negotiations that might develop.

U. S. senior commanders in Viet Nam and officials in Washington are known to be deeply concerned about the effect in the United States of the steady rise in American combat casualties. But they consider the increase inevitable as the tempo of the war and the U. S. involvement increases.

'Evergreen' Funds Are Needed Now

Letters have gone out from the Chamber of Commerce to Snyder merchants urging participation in the "Christmas Evergreen Spectacular."

The event, which will run for four successive weeks, has been planned by the chamber's merchants' committee to stimulate interest during the Christmas shopping season.

Each participating merchant will contribute $40 which amounts to $10 for each of the four weeks.

Participating stores will display a "Christmas Evergreen Spectacular" emblem on the doors or windows throughout the period. Cash prizes, starting at $100 for the first prize, will be given away on three consecutive Saturdays, beginning Dec. 4, and on Christmas Eve Day, which falls on Friday. There will be 21 winners each week, with prizes decreasing from the top down to $10.

Merchants who plan to participate have been asked to forward their $40 fees to the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible, since the event must be launched next week. The funds must be on hand in advance so that the exact amount of prizes may be determined.

More Floods Due In West

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Saturated Southern California, plagued by flash floods in which at least 12 persons have died, braced today for a fresh storm expected to bring heavy downpours.

Rescue workers and cleanup crews feared new mud slides and torrents of water tonight and hoped for a respite Thursday, when only light rains were predicted.

In the heaviest November rains ever recorded in Southern California, flash floods in desert areas raked cars off highways and into washes and residents of hillside areas fought oozing mud as it inundated homes and yards.

The desert resort of Palm Springs, a winter mecca for smog-tired Los Angeles residents, was virtually isolated and cut in half by a flood that rushed down from the San Jacinto Mountains.

Witnesses said three persons were carried away in their cars and a man wading out to help was swept away in the torrent. Only one body was found; the others presumably drowned, authorities said.

Floods hit other areas in San Bernardino County between Los Angeles and San Bernardino, 60 miles east.

At rocky Cucamonga Wash, a roaring flash flood caught a dozen cars and swept them half a block, tumbling over and over, some with their lights still burning.

Hal Malloy, 19, saw a man swept away in the flood, then lamented: "I was so close. He finally was able to get out of the car. He was hysterical, saying 'Help me, help me.' I got to within inches of him and the cable snapped. His body flew up and disappeared."

Police said most drivers and their passengers managed to escape while their cars were tumbling along in the flood. But one man vanished, officers said, while trying to wade to safety.

CRMWD Board Prepares To Start New Lake Project

BIG SPRING—The Colorado River Municipal Water District is oiling machinery for its anticipated lake project at Robert Lee.

Tuesday directors authorized its rate committee to propose a tentative rate to the City of Midland. They also executed a contract for engineering services and authorized the president, Charles B. Perry, Odessa, to secure a fiscal agent for the impending revenue bond issue to finance the project.

In developing a rate to advance to Midland, the committee will follow the rate formulas under the indenture, plus some surcharge to be determined.

Freese, Nichols & Endress, Fort Worth firm which has done all the engineering for the district since its inception, was awarded a contract to prepare plans and specifications and supervise construction of the lake project at Robert Lee. The fee is stipulated at 5 per cent of contract construction, plus some expense of supervision.

O. H. Ivie, general manager for CRMWD, estimated that the over-all figure would be about 5.9 per cent.

S. W. Freese urged that the district resolve some factors as rapidly as possible in order to expedite the project. One is to determine if and to what extent Midland will participate; another is the cost of protecting 32 oil wells in the lake basin; still another is the cost of relocating about eight miles of the Robert Lee-Sterling City highway.

Ivie reported that Ken Esmond & Associates of Odessa had completed about one-third of the surveying on the lake area and that George Thompson, Sweetwater, had started land appraisals. The board adopted a resolution authorizing the purchase of land, clearing the way for first negotiations within a week or two.

In other matters, the board approved a request by Standard Oil Company for 420,000 gallons additional water daily for its repressuring project in eastern Howard and Mitchell Counties, but only as water, in the opinion of the board, is available. Standard currently contracts for 1,470,000 gallons daily.

The trustee was authorized to purchase the district's 1988 bonds with the residue of $33,500 from the 1958 construction fund.

A personnel policy, adopting the unwritten practices now in effect, was adopted by the board.

Ivie was instructed to write a letter to the Odessa Chamber of Commerce reviewing the rates for raw water to the City of Odessa, for the past five years, and implying that the district would take care of an Atomic Energy Commission rope's leading patronesses of installation needs within this approximate price range. Odessa is one of the 85 cities in the nation under consideration for designation as a site for a huge atom smasher the AEC plans to construct. An estimated five to six million gallons of water per day would be required.

Belgian Court Mourns For Dowager Queen

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Belgian court went into mourning today for Dowager Queen Elisabeth, a heroine in two world wars and one of Europe's leading patronesses of the arts.

The 89-year-old queen suffered a heart attack Nov. 4. She had another serious attack Tuesday night and died within a few minutes.

The funeral will be next Tuesday. The body will lie in state in the royal palace in Brussels Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Planes To Be Assembled In Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Mooney Aircraft, Inc., announced today it will assemble its new twin-engine turboprop MU2 business aircraft in San Angelo.

Mooney President Hal F. Rachal made the announcement as he signed a sales contract for 230 acres of land at the city airport, Mathis Field.

Rachal said the first plane should be assembled here by May.

"I expect we will produce about two a month to start, but in a year's time we should be producing six to eight a month," he said.

He said the plant will employ about 100 persons the first year and up to 300 within five years.

The airframe for the 7-place business airplane is manufactured by Mitsubishi Heavy Industries Ltd. of Japan. The two 529-horsepower engines will be supplied by AiResearch Co.

The company also employs 800 in building airplanes at Kerrville.

IN AMERICAN TRADITION

Thanksgiving Means Feast, Prayer

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

Rooted in American tradition is the menu for Thanksgiving day: turkey and pigskin.

As much as a time of football rivalries, it is also becoming a day for spectacular parades as a reminder that Christmas can not be far away.

But above all else, as it has been for nearly 350 years, Thanksgiving is a day for families and for giving thanks.

President Johnson, in proclaiming Thursday a day of national thanksgiving, called for prayers that "the forces of violence, indifference and intolerance may soon vanish from the face of the earth."

He asked all persons to give thanks for "the blessings that have been bestowed upon our nation during the past 12 months."

The Johnson family will sit down to a late-afternoon dinner at the President's ranch near Johnson City, Tex. On the menu will be turkey with cornbread dressing and giblet gravy, green beans, pumpkin, sweet potatoes with mini-marshmallow topping, a congealed, molded cranberry salad, ambrosia and angel food cake.

Similar meals — allowing for regional tastes — are being prepared in millions of homes across the nation.

In Massachusetts, where the Pilgrims started it all in 1621, the State Restaurant Association estimates half a million will eat out Thanksgiving.

Members of the First Congregational church of Braintree, Mass., will march behind drummer Robert Jenkins to festival services enacting the first Thanksgiving. Thousands are expected to visit historic sites at Plymouth and to climb aboard the Mayflower II.

In Virginia, which also lays claim to the first Thanksgiving, 700 persons turned out Sunday at the annual feast at Berkeley Plantation near Richmond commemorating the service held there Dec. 7, 1619.

Thanksgiving was once a day for college football rivalries, but Thursday's lineup is nearly as lean as a picked-over turkey.

Cornell and Penn clash at Franklin Field in Philadelphia, but the television spotlight this year goes to the Nebraska-Oklahoma game at Lincoln, Neb.

Virginia Tech and Virginia Military Institute meet in Roanoke for the 61st time. Texas plays Texas A&M, Colorado State University meets Tulsa and Bucknell plays Davidson at night in other encounters.

In the National Football League, the Baltimore Colts play the Lions at Detroit. In the American Football League, the Buffalo Bills play the Chargers at San Diego.

Victory Won't Come Easy

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned the American people Thursday against hope for an early military victory over the Communists in the Vietnamese War.

In an interview with Mutual Broadcasting System, the commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam said:

"When the American people read the headlines about victories which have been enjoyed in recent months there may be a tendency for them to exaggerate the magnitude of these actions. By and large, these tactical actions are small, involving relatively small numbers of troops and from these successes there may be a tendency to draw a conclusion that a battle or series of battles may end the conflict through a single or a combination of military victories.

"This is not that type of war. I do believe that there is a certain danger that we may be overwhelmed by a certain feeling of optimism and lose sight of what I consider a true appraisal of the situation."

Americans Ready To Up Strength

By LEWIS GULICK

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today he has found among hemisphere foreign ministers a broad consensus on the desire to strengthen, rather than weaken, the inter-American system.

"There were some differences about details of procedure but a broad consensus has emerged," Rusk told a reporter as he prepared to leave the special Inter-American Conference here.

Rusk scheduled a two-hour stop at Asuncion to call on Paraguay's President Alfredo Stroessner before flying back to Washington tonight.

Here in Rio, Rusk and 18 Latin-American foreign ministers have been discussing ways to update the hemisphere system [illegible] economic needs. The two-week conference is to end Nov. 30 at the [illegible] Rusk said he expects the conference to conclude "with important results" even though proposals requiring amendment of the charter of the Organization of American States cannot be enacted until a follow-up conference is impowered to make charter changes.

Rusk said he particularly welcomes what he termed general agreement that a foreign ministers meeting should be held once a year instead of at five-year intervals as now specified in the OAS charter.

The highlight of Rusk's week here was his presentation of the U.S. position Monday including a pledge by President Johnson of willingness to continue U.S. aid after the present Alliance for Progress ends in 1971, and a call on the American republics to expand [illegible] to combat communist subversion and [illegible] emergencies.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY—Where this ungracious custom originated, I back to him. (I say "should," do not know, but it is rapidly knowing full well that few do.) becoming popular in my community. At occasions where a gift is in order, a basket of tiny "scrolls" (paper rolled up and tied with a white ribbon for brides, silver for silver wedding anniversaries, gold for golden weddings, and so on) is placed on the gift table. As each person presents his gift, he is handed a "scroll." On this scroll is a TYPED "thank-you-for-your-gift" note. Then the honoree feels absolved from the task of writing thank you notes after the party. What do you think about this?

PROPER OLD LADY

DEAR PROPER: Not much. A "thank you" note of this kind has all the warmth of a smoked herring, and the tenderness of a hit-and-run driver.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am divorced and have been ever since my son was four months old. (He is now nearly three years old.) His father has remarried and hasn't bothered to come to see him since we were divorced, but he does send support money. I am only 23 and hope to remarry some day and give my son a real "Daddy," but in the meantime, a problem has come up.

We live with my parents, and my son calls my father "Papa" because he hears me calling him that. But he's just discovered the word "Daddy" and he's confused. What shall I tell him? I tried to tell him that he doesn't have a "Daddy" yet, but he doesn't seem to understand. How do I go about telling him why? And if that doesn't satisfy his curiosity, how should I explain it?

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Tell him the truth. And answer only one question at a time—as it comes up. Tell him that his Daddy and you do not live together any more. If he asks why, tell him that your marriage was a mistake, and you decided to end it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Often, in the movies, and also on television, I have seen a gentleman give a woman his handkerchief after she has had a crying session. I would like to know, Abby, just what does the woman do with the handkerchief after she has used it? It seems odd to me that she would give him back a dirty handkerchief. Or is it just taken for granted that she can keep it?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: The woman should take the handkerchief home and launder it. If she knows she'll see him again, she should return it in person. Otherwise, she should mail it knowing full well that few do.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "AWAITING YOUR REPLY" IN MANKATO, MINNESOTA: I do not believe that a "shotgun" marriage under the circumstances you described has much of a chance to succeed and, therefore, I would not recommend it. As for marrying to give a child "a name," good names (and bad ones) are earned by those who bear them.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bank Panel To Study Revisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking Committee will consider legislation to combine into one the bank regulating functions now carried out by three agencies, chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said today.

The importance of bank regulation has been emphasized by controversy over legislation to limit the role of the Justice Department in passing on bank mergers, he said in an interview.

If the department should have less than the decisive voice now given it by laws and court decisions, Patman said, the authority of the regulatory agencies would be correspondingly increased.

The congressman said he expects to conduct hearings on a bill to establish one agency to carry out federal regulatory functions for banks. These will be separate from hearings already set on the bank merger bill.

The regulatory agencies are the comptroller of the currency for national banks, the Federal Reserve Board for state banks that are members of that system, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. for banks it insures that are not otherwise regulated.

In addition, states have banking commissions to administer the laws relating to banks chartered under their authority.

UIL Panel Meets Here

The District 3-AAA Interscholastic League Committee made plans for spring sports programs Tuesday at a meeting here.

Also selected at the meeting was an all-district football team which will be released after the district's representative, Lamesa, is eliminated from the state play-offs.

Two tentative baseball schedules were drawn up, one for a four-team district and another for a five-team district. This action was taken when Sweetwater school officials advised there was a possibility that the Mustangs would not field a baseball team this year. If Sweetwater suspends baseball, the district will have only Snyder, Lamesa, Brownfield and Levelland competing for the title in that sport. Lake View and Littlefield have not fielded baseball teams in prior years.

US May Bow To Two-China Policy

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. officials are reliably reported to be taking a realistic look at the possibility of switching to a "two-Chinas" policy because of the growing movement to seat Red China in the United Nations.

One authoritative U.S. source has suggested that an alternative will have to be found by next fall to the 16-year-old policy of trying to keep the door shut to Peking. This source added that the seating of both Red China and the Nationalists might be the only practical course for the United States.

It is generally conceded at the United Nations that the Chinese Communists have been barred for the last time. The General Assembly voted 47-47 on the question last week and the pro-Peking trend is expected to continue. It is also doubtful if the United States will be able to win enough support next year to require that Red China's supporters muster a two-thirds majority to get Peking admitted.

The question now is no longer how to keep the Peking government out, diplomats say, but what to do about the Nationalist government which rules 12 million people on Formosa. Some delegates have been trying to launch a two-Chinas movement for several years but without success.

The idea is that the Peking government, representing the huge mainland population, would be given the seat now held by the Nationalists and that Formosa would be admitted as a new member.

The main obstacles so far have been the substantial opposition to seating Peking and the rejection of the two-Chinas concept by both Peking and Taipei.

Since Red China says it won't join the United Nations unless the Nationalists are expelled, the United States and other backers of Chiang Kai-shek's regime may be faced next year with the problem of preventing the expulsion of the Taipei government. This apparently is causing a number of countries to re-examine their policies.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg recently pointed out that Formosa has a larger population than 85 of the world organization's 117 members. He said it would be a violation of the idea of universality to expel such a government.

Many diplomats believe that the United States could persuade Chiang to apply for Formosa's admission as a new member, but no one has found a formula to avert a Communist veto. The admission of new members must first be recommended by the Security Council, where the big-power veto applies.

The successful implementation of a two-Chinas policy probably would have to be part of a deal agreed to in advance so that Peking would get in and the Nationalists would get a new seat without facing a veto.

One question being asked is whether it is not too late for such a deal now that Peking virtually has a foot in the door.

Red Court Sentences US Tourist

MURMANSK, U.S.S.R. (AP)—A Soviet court today sentenced a young American tourist, Newcomb Mott of Sheffield, Mass., to 18 months in a labor camp for illegally crossing the Arctic border between Norway and the Soviet Union.

The court rejected the 27-year-old book salesman's contention that he was "hot, tired and lost" when he crossed the border last Sept. 4.

Mott heard the sentence without any visible display of emotion.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman had no immediate comment, but said a statement probably would be forthcoming later in the day.

Just before the judge read the sentence, Mott closed his eyes for several seconds. Then, standing in the fenced-in dock, he opened his eyes and glanced at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mott of Sheffield, who had flown to Russia for the trial.

Mrs. Mott wiped her face with her right hand as the sentence was read but made no sound. She was dry-eyed as she left the courtroom a few minutes later.

The prosecutor asked for a 2½-year sentence Tuesday. The section of law under which Mott was tried carries a penalty of one to three years imprisonment.

Mott's Russian defense layer said the American should be given a probationary or conditional sentence because of his "sincere repentance and mitigating circumstances."

Mott told the court he had crossed the border through carelessness and without thinking. He had been traveling in Norway and was arrested Sept. 4 just inside Soviet territory near the town of Borisoglebsk.

Coed Hovers Near Death After Fiery Suicide Attempt

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — An attractive West Chester State College coed battled for her life today after setting herself afire on the campus by dousing her clothing with gasoline.

Patricia Ann Conway, 22, a junior major in elementary education, was reported in grave condition Tuesday night at Memorial Hospital. She suffered second- and third-degree burns over the upper part of her body.

"I did it because I love my God," doctors and school officials quoted her as saying. "I did it because of a personal thing."

She said that it had nothing to do with the world situation or Viet Nam, referring to recent cases of suicide by immolation in protest against government policies.

State police at nearby Exton said the Phoenixville, Pa., girl told them she had bought the can of gasoline last Sunday. They said she gave no indication, other than "personal reasons," why she set herself afire.

Her father, Joseph, told newsmen he knew of nothing that would lead her to such an act.

He described his daughter as a quiet girl who spent most of her time at her studies or at her part-time job as a student assistant to a West Chester dean.

He said his daughter had occasional dates, but was not serious about anyone as far as he knew.

Fellow students said they knew of no reason why she would want to harm herself. They described her as quiet and reserved and a good student.

Miss Conway lived at the Russell House, a college-approved off-campus rooming house, where she shared a room with three girls.

Mrs. Karl Russell, who runs the house, said, "She is a very nice girl, a quiet one. She didn't seem to have any problems."

Pretty Peruvians Are Police

By DEAN JOHNSOS

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The girl must be attractive, weight at least 50 kilo (110 pounds) and stand at least 156 centemeters (4-foot-10).

Those are the minimum qualifications for Peruvian policewomen — the auxiliary of the Policia Investigaciones del Peru (PIP).

Some 300 young women with those qualifications move about Lima and its suburbs daily, performing tasks ranging from comparative shopping to thwarting purse snatchers.

The auxiliary begin in 1956 when officials decided that a selected group of girls — with training — could help battle crime. The initial force was 15.

The girls of the PIP learn judo, rifle and pistol marksmanship, fingerprint techniques and social work. They also staff the PIP's division of criminal identification.

Dozens of the brown shirt-and-skirt clad girls walk or drive in pairs in the Lima area daily, searching out lost or abandoned children.

Others dressed as housewives, shop in Lima's large open air markets. Their job is to note prices charged by vendors and make sure shoppers are not cheated.

To learn police work, the women of PIP attend school for three months. The regimen is long, beginning with judo classes at 7 a.m. and ending at 6:30 p.m. with marksmanship.

Last year more than 100 young women applied to become police officers. Only 20 could meet the high physical and mental standards and were accepted for training.

Personal Muddlings

THE RED AND THE GREEN. By Iris Murdoch.

The setting is Dublin. The time is the week leading into the badly muddled rebellion of Easter Monday, 1916.

Most of the people in the novel are muddled too, doing the wrong things for reasons more wrong. That could be one of the points of the narrative — the pigheaded Irish gift for foolish hatred of British.

The only character who glimpses the real score in the ball game is Pat, a young nationalist whose stubborn ardor cannot conceal his awareness of the fact that the Irish rebels are far better talkers than fighters. But he feels compelled to go ahead and make a martyr of himself, being worried only about keeping his foolish, teenage brother Cathal out of danger.

Pat also happens to be a misogynist, but even he feels some of the magnetism of the principal female in the plot, Millie — otherwise known as Lady Millicent though she is anything but a lady.

Millie just can't resist carrying on with all the men in sight. Under the pressure of imminent poverty she agrees to marry Christopher, a wealthy suitor who should know better, even while she is becoming more involved with old Barney, a henpecked failure and a clown, and Andrew, a dim - witted Anglo-Irishman who thought he was going to marry his childhood friend Frances, Christopher's daughter.

The first part of the book is saturated with the windy complexities of Irish politics, and many American readers will get lost therein. Those who survive such entanglements may or may not understand the action that follows.

Nothing Seen In Viet Nam But Long, Drawn-Out War

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Viet Nam the clock stands still and there is no repairman in sight. Time is not the same thing to a Vietnamese and a go-go-go American.

The American, anxious for an end to the killing, is baffled by the war's slow pace, the lack of any sign the North Vietnamese Communists want to talk peace.

But the Vietnamese as a people have been around longer than Americans and they learned to wait through centuries of trouble. They were in Southeast Asia before the Christian era.

The Chinese, taking them over in 111 A.D., held them in vassalage more than eight centuries before the Vietnamese shook loose. Meanwhile, through the centuries, they warred among themselves.

They defeated the armies of Kublai Khan in the 13th century, were taken as a colony by the French in the 19th and held about three-quarters of a century.

The Japanese drove out the French in World War II and the Vietnamese, under the Communist leadership of Ho Chi Minh, began fighting the French returning in 1945 and never stopped until they crushed the French in 1954.

No wonder the North Vietnamese, with this endless history of waiting and dragged-out fighting, are not pleading for peace because the United States bombs them and steadily builds up its forces in a ground war.

Perhaps some U.S. officials, who made quick survey trips to Viet Nam in recent years and came back drenched in optimism, also are baffled that they could be so ludicrously wrong.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara made a number of trips to Viet Nam, several times returned with rosy forecasts, and as late as January 1964 predicted U.S. forces could be withdrawn by the start of 1966.

He added: "I do not believe we as a nation should assume the primary responsibility for the war." That was before the United States got fully into the war and took on the responsibility.

As for his prediction on the withdrawal of U.S. forces: now the United States has, at least 160,000 men there, within a few months may have 200,000.

For weeks there has been buzzing about whether the Communists might have been willing to talk peace and whether President Johnson muffed the chance. Last April he proposed peace talks, without any prior conditions for starting them.

But Ho Chi Minh has just made hash of the suggestion.

Te Red Chinese Tuesday quoted him as saying there can't even be a start to such talks until all American forces are withdrawn from Viet Nam. This would mean American surrender to the Communists, a defeat.

Thus, while Johnson said there did not have to be prior conditions, Ho Chi Minh laid down conditions — the withdrawal of all American forces. At this moment there is nothing in sight but a war dragging on.

Junior Editors Quiz on DEPTH OF SEAS

QUESTION: How deep is the sea—and what is it like down there?

• • •

ANSWER: The deepest parts of the sea are not, as you might think, in the center of the ocean, but are found alongside islands containing mountains, whose sides drop far down below the water. Places more than 18,000 feet down are called "deeps" and are often part of a longer gash in the ocean floor called a "trench." The deepest spot is Challenger Deep in the Mariana Trench, 35,800 feet below the surface. The large arrow, pointing down, shows the location of this in our map. In 1960, the diving ship Trieste went all the way down to the bottom of Challenger Deep. As a diving ship sinks below 600 feet, it enters a region where the rays of the sun do not penetrate. Here, night and cold are eternal. No plants can exist. There are only a few animals such as the sperm whale and the giant squid. Below 9000 feet, the cold is close to freezing and the water pressure can be up to 6 tons a square inch. A few weird little fish, with luminous spots and long savage teeth, are the only living things. On the actual bottom, strange fish tiptoe on long pointed fins. Nodules, or lumps of metal, cover the bottom in profusion.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: The sea may prove of the greatest possible value to man in the future as we learn to change sea water to fresh and avail ourselves of the riches of food in the sea. See if your public or school library has something about changing sea water to make it drinkable. 11-24

But Who Will Carve The Turkey?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Thanksgiving crisis will come in millions of American homes when it is put upon the table.

It is a bird called a turkey, and it may weigh anywhere from 8 pounds to 30 or more.

It will be washed and plucked. Everybody in the family will come by and pat it fondly. Then it will be stuffed with sage and oysters and bread crumbs and put into the oven and basted and watched over until it turns a tender golden brown.

Then, accompanied by a myriad of vegetables, it will be placed upon the table by a wife whose warm-flushed face is a testimony of womanhood in glory.

As everybody stands around marveling, the wife will go into the kitchen and come back with a knife in her hand.

She will hold it out with a questioning look.

This is the hour of crisis.

This is the terrible moment of decision.

Who will carve the turkey?

This is the time that separates the man from his performance.

"You do it, Joe," says the host to a guest.

"Naw, Jim," replies the guest to the host. "You do it."

They face each other with a look of equal cunning and equal dismay.

Each knows that if he takes the knife he will make a fool of himself—and of the festive occasion.

They may be chefs, butchers, brain surgeons, plumbers or lawyers.

But each knows, whatever his talent, it is inadequate now.

He knows that, if he accepts the knife, it will turn out to be dull. He will find the turkey tough. He will sweat and strain and wish he could attack the bird with a Boy Scout ax or put a dynamite cap in its middle and blow its junctures apart in a shower of gravy.

Finally, the hostess says in pretended exasperation:

"Well, you men! I don't know what the world is coming to. Sit down now, and I'll serve you."

Sighting in relief, the men sit down and shuffle their feet under their chairs, and the ladies sit down, too, and say ladylike things to each other such as, "My, doesn't the table look lovely?"

The hostess takes up the knife and skillfully attacks the bird. Swiftly she apportions the meat to the plates, and one of the children meekly suggests, "Shouldn't we say grace first?"

"You say it, Jim," says the guest to the host, knowing what the answer will be.

"No, Joe," says the host to the guest. "You say it."

"Okay," says Joe, lowering his eyes. "O Lord, we thank thee for Thy peace and fellowship at this table and...uh...what we are about to receive, forever and ever. Amen."

There is a moment of silence, as each guest reviews his blessings, and then Jim says rather loudly:

"Hey, that was okay, Joe. What'll you have—light or dark or both?"

And the flushed and smiling hostess, too excited herself to eat, sits before the turkey like an angel with a sword, ready to serve more.

Oklahoma Upholds Mixed Marriage Law

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — State law forbidding racially mixed marriages was upheld Tuesday by the Oklahoma Supreme Court.

It rejected a plea by Frances Jones, a Negro, and Jesse Marquez, a Mexican, for a writ to force the Canadian County clerk to issue them a marriage license.

The appellate court held that the U.S. Supreme Court has never ruled that miscegenation laws violate the Constitution.

Counsel for Marquez and Miss Jonse, from El Reno, said the ruling will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Gold Shades Black In Powder Puff Game

Snyder High School women athletes raised about $100 for the Humble-Smith School Tuesday afternoon in a Powder Puff football game as the Gold edged the Black, 14-12, in a close tilt that wasn't decided until the final 30 seconds.

The Black team scored first on a 10 yard run in the first quarter by Susan Ivison. A run for extra points was stopped short. The Gold went ahead 8-6, in the same quarter as Susan Boren returned the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown. She also ran over the extra points.

The Black went back ahead, 12-8, in the same frame as Susan Ivison sprinted 35 yards for her second tally of the game. This lead held up until the final 30 seconds when Susan Boren intercepted a pass and returned it 10 yards to put the Gold team ahead for good.

After the game, a spectator was heard to make the following comment about the two outstanding players of the contest: "They may be black eyed Susans, but they certainly aren't lazy Susans."

Coaches of the Gold team were Roy Kizer, Donnie Newmann and David Holt. Black Coaches were Jackie Rice, Keith Noble and Fred Wiman.

Buffs Fall, 59 To 87

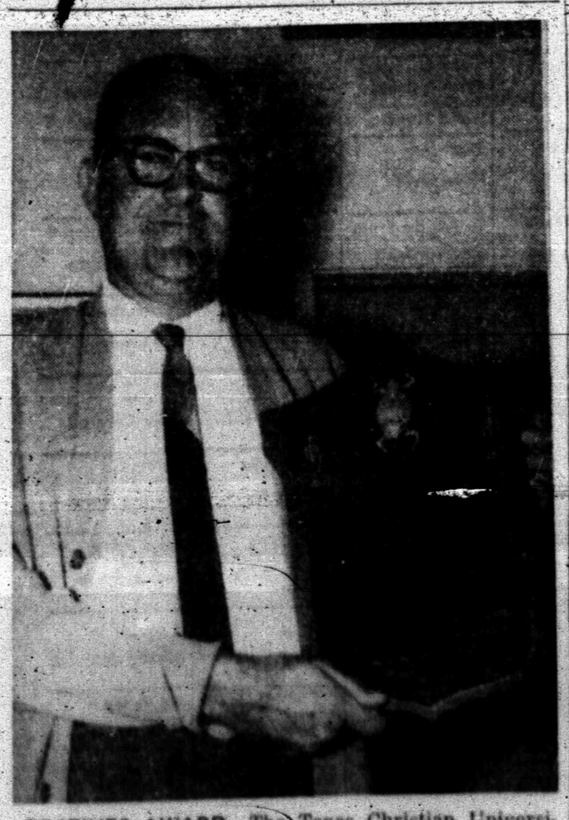
Colorado City clipped Fluvanna in two basketball games Tuesday night, the "B" unit claiming a 62-29 decision, and the varsity boys walking away with a 87-59 triumph.

Wilson netted 10 points for the winning "B" boys but had to settle for second in scoring behind Fluvanna's Butch White, who collected 13 points.

Colorado City had five boys in double figures in the "A" contest: Hillhouse (25), Snowden (18), Franks (16), Parker (12) and Bulter (10). The Wolves jumped off to a 24-14 first period advantage, but Fluvanna had closed the gap to 35-31 at halftime.

The Buffaloes pulled to within one-point, at 35-34, during the third quarter, but Colorado City slowly began to pull out of range thereafter, holding a 61-43 lead going into the final round of action.

Scoring for Fluvanna were: Bobby Hall (18), Joe Stansell (17), Joe Belew (10), Henry Contreras (12), and Butch White (2).



RECEIVES AWARD—The Texas Christian University Ex-Students Association presented Malven Stevenson, Snyder businessman, with plaque in recognition of "his many contributions to the TCU Horned Frog athletic program." The plaque was presented to Stevenson last week at Shady Oaks Country Club in Ft. Worth during a program honoring Frog supporters (Staff Photo).

Army Choice Over Navy

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Saying farewell to the college football season with the final batch of forecasts.

Last week's efforts resulted in an average of .628, making the season's figure .704.

Here's the last chance of the year to get healthy:

Army over Navy: The Middies have the more versatile attack but the Cadet defense is by far the better of the two. This annual battle will be your television fare on Saturday.

Nebraska over Oklahoma: You can watch this midland classic while digesting your Thanksgiving Day turkey. The Huskers have everything, including two quarterbacks and Walter Barnes, an outstanding lineman.

Notre Dame over Miami: Michigan State held Notre Dame to minus yardage but Nick Eddy and Bill Wolski make up for it at the expense of the Hurricanes. A Saturday night game.

Alabama over Auburn: The Crimson Tide seems as relentless as the ocean tide. A Saturday afternoon affair.

Texas over Texas A&M: Quarterback Marv Kristynik and linebacker Tommy Nobis play their final game for the Longhorns in this annual Turkey Day classic.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt: The Vols' only defeat was by a single point. It is scheduled for Saturday.

Mississippi State over Mississippi: The Mississippi Bulldogs get their second straight triumph over Ole Miss. The victory margin won't be great, however.

Lenny Back In Groove

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — When Lenny Moore was given the game ball after Baltimore's eighth straight victory Sunday, a newsman grabbed Lenny's hand.

"It's like old times," he said to the Colts' halfback.

"Yeah," grinned Moore. "And it's about time, isn't it?"

Moore had been something less than sensational for the Colts this season after leading the National Football League in scoring with 20 touchdowns last season.

It was Moore's best day of the season when he scored twice against Philadelphia Sunday, caught seven passes for 163 yards and carried 10 times for 54 — an offensive total of 217 yards. As a result The Associated Press named Moore the Offensive Player of the Week in the NFL.

Guy Rodgers Shoots Like Roy

NEW YORK (AP) — The newest gun in the West — that's Guy Rodgers, whose blazing shooting has the San Francisco Warriors riding high in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

Rodgers, an eight-year veteran who has spent most of his career like any respectable 6-footer in the NBA would — feeding bigger men for baskets — continued his sudden splurge against New York Tuesday night, scoring 46 points as the Warriors overcame the Knickerbockers 134-125.

Ira Bulldogs Meet Christoval Thursday

The Ira Bulldogs of Coach Jerry Miller will meet Christoval at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Sterling City in a Bi-District (Six-Man) football game. The winner will advance to the regional round the following week against Ft. Davis—a team which drew a bye in the opening round.

Both teams in Thursday night's tilt are undefeated in 10 games, although the Bulldogs have a gaudier scoring record to advance to the Regionals.

Wiggins is one of the better quarterbacks in the region, while Payne will be opening at left half. Right halfback is Holladay. Crawford is the center, and Lindsey and Poe will hold down the left and right end posts respectively.

Probable starters for Christoval: LE Steve Chapman (155), C Fred Dooley (175), RE Manuel Duke (155), QB Abby Galan (130), LH Bobby Menchaca (145), and RH Philip Montalvo (180).

Cage Competition Close In Big 10

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — For a team that finished runner-up to UCLA for the 1965 national collegiate basketball championship and has All-America Cazie Russell and eight other lettermen back, you would think Michigan would be a shoo-in to repeat as Big Ten champions this season.

Not so. While the Wolverines generally are favored to repeat, many believe Minnesota or Iowa will beat them for the conference title in the season opening one week from today.

Minnesota has lost Mel Northway and Don Yates, but Lou Hudson and Archie Clark are back. In addition the notices on 6-foot-7 Tom Kondla, expected to fill Northway's shoes, are terrific. Iowa, which threatened for a time last season, has four starters back, including Chris Pervall and George Peeples.

Kansas, with 6-11 Walt Wesley, and Kansas State, with 7-1 Nick Pino, are expected to battle it out for the Big Eight crown. Oklahoma State, the defending champ, has lost four starters.

Bradley, with all its starters back plus 6-7 sophomore Joe Allen, is the choice to replace Wichita as champion of the Missouri Valley Conference. The Wheatshockers and Louisville are regarded as the top contenders.

Ohio University and Miami of Ohio figure to battle again for the Mid-American Conference championship, with Kent State a contender.

Creighton has four of its high scorers back, including Neil Johnson, and is expected to be one of the top independents along with Oklahoma City, Xavier of Ohio, Dayton, Chicago Loyola and Detroit also are expected to be high up among the independents. Not much is expected from DePaul and Notre Dame.

Evansville, which prefers to be classified in the small college ranks although it plays many major teams and beats them, is expected to be strong as usual. The Aces were unbeaten last season and won the NCAA College Division title.

Chena Throws In Towel

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—One of the most colorful sports figures in the Southwest, Claude (Chena) Gilstrap, stepped down as Arlington State head football coach Tuesday.

He remains director of athletics at the college.

"You don't like to quit when you're winning. You don't like to quit when you're losing. There's just no good time to quit," the veteran coach said.

Gilstrap's Rebels closed their football season last week. They won six games and lost three, tying for second place in the Southland Conference.

School spokesmen stressed the decision was Gilstrap's and said they considered him one of the country's finest coaches.

His successor has not been named.

Since gaining senior college status, Arlington State has won 34 football games, lost 31 and tied one in seven seasons.

In 1956 and 1957 the Rebels played in the Junior Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., and became the only team to win two games.

Gilstrap said he felt football prospects at the growing school are "pretty good" and the "cycle has come back on better days."

The Rebels capped their season Saturday night with a 31-21 upset of Southland Conference champion Lamar Tech.

Ross Is Co-Captain

FORT WORTH (AP)— Ross Montgomery of Midland and Rick Sheddy of Wichita Falls were named co-captains of TCU's undefeated freshman team Tuesday.

Fullback Montgomery gained 453 yards and had three games in which he totaled more than 100 yards rushing. Sheddy, an outstanding defensive tackle, was at his best against the SMU Colts. The Colts were held to 20 yards rushing.

Ira Wins 10 Straight

Ira closed out the 1965 football season with a perfect record, winning all ten of its regular season games. Other area teams also posted good records with Hobbs losing only to Ira during the campaign to finish second in its district.

Gail finished a week earlier with a 5-5 mark while Hermleigh, the ony 11-man team in the area, barely missed a .500 season with a 4-5-1 mark.

The final area record:

AREA TEAMS

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	Opp.
Ira	10	0	0	527	182
Hobbs	9	1	0	366	182
Gail	5	5	0	230	130
Hermleigh	4	5	1	64	112

Local 11's Close Season

With the final games complete Lamar 8th grade finished the 1965 football season with the best overall record among Snyder gridiron teams. They were half a game better in the standings than the "B" team, which closed out with a 6-2-1 record.

The Lamar 9th grade also recorded more victories than defeats, finishing with a 5 - 3 reading. The other teams finished the season below the .500 mark. The varsity just missed a break-even record with a 4-5-1 mark.

The final standings:

SNYDER TEAMS

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	Opp.
Lamar 8th	6	2	0	154	110
"B" Team	6	2	1	204	107
Lamar 9th	5	3	0	116	107
Varsity	4	5	1	114	140
Travis 9th	3	6	0	86	120
Travis 8th	2	6	0	52	136

Phil Ace Wins

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — John Boozer of the Philadelphia Phillies pitched a five-hitter for his sixth Winter League baseball victory as Ponce whipped San Juan 9-2 in the first game of a doubleheader Tuesday night. San Juan won the nightcap 6-3 behind Tommy John, Chicago White Sox left-hander.

SOUTHERN CAL STAR WINS HEISMAN TROPY

By FRANK O'REILLY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When it was announced that Southern California halfback Mike Garrett had won the Heisman Award, USC Athletic Director Jess Hill said:

"He is one of the finest gentlemen ever to play at USC."

Garrett, named Tuesday as the season's best college football player, has been a team leader since his high school days at Roosevelt in Los Angeles and has won the respect of teammates and opponents alike.

USC Coach John McKay said:

"I've said a lot about this boy, but I can't say too much. He's the best I've ever seen and the best boy I've ever been associated with. This award is richly deserved."

Garrett is a 21-year-old sociology major who has already begun to help youngsters. Last summer he ran a football clinic for the Recreation Department of Culver City, Calif.

Stocky at 5-foot-9, 190 pounds, Garrett has speed and balance, but Pitt safetyman Mickey Depp explained the USC star's success, saying:

"His determination and courage get him an awful lot of yardage."

This season Garrett's yardage — 1,328 on 243 carries — is good enough to lead major college rushers, and he has one game remaining, a home contest Saturday against Wyoming.

In his career he has set five school records and three in the Pacific Athletic Conference. And 58 yards in his final game will give Garrett the all-time career record, surpassing the 3,166 gained by Ollie Matson in 1949-51 at San Francisco.

At a news conference Tuesday, Garrett said:

"I can thank about 6,000 people for this award. I want to thank my teammates, the coaches and everybody."

He then expressed his disappointment that the Trojans did not make the Rose Bowl this year.

Garrett, asked about the possibility of professional football, replied:

"I was concentrating so much on this season I haven't really thought about pro ball. I think I could make it, but I really don't know what my plans are."

Garrett, his parents, Coach McKay and USC President Norman Topping will go to New York next Wednesday for presentation of the award Thursday at the Downtown Athletic Club.

Neiman Marcus Plans New Houston Store

HOUSTON (AP) — The Neiman-Marcus Co. says it will build a $6 million store in Southwest Houston at an intersection where there are a Sakowitz store and a Joske's store.

The firm announced Tuesday that the store will contain 200,000 square feet of floor space and will be part of a specialty-office-hotel complex embracing an additional 300,000 square feet.

Construction on the store on the southwest corner of Aestheimer and South Post Oak, about five miles from downtown Houston, will begin late next year.

Draft Is Common Problem Of Men Around The World

LONDON (AP) — From Moscow to Jerusalem to Saigon, young men face the same problem that provokes discussion in the United States — the military draft.

Conscription is more the rule than the exception in a deeply divided world, a survey shows.

Britain, Canada, India and Pakistan are among the few big countries that rely solely on voluntary enlistments. Quarreling India and Pakistan lack officers or equipment to handle the hundreds of thousands who would enlist if they could.

Israel, surrounded by hostile Arab countries, drafts both men and women. In Mexico, training is on a Sunday-only basis.

The United States draws from men in the 19-26 age group, with Selective Service to furnish 36,450 men this month. That's the highest call since the end of the Korean War and some states expect to start inducting childless married men to fill their December quotas. Washington plans to strengthen the military forces by 340,000 men for a total of about three million.

How does the U.S. conscription policy compare with those of other countries? Tougher than some, more lenient than others, the following survey of representative countries indicates:

SOVIET UNION — Strict universal military training calls for induction of all youths 17 and 18 who have completed secondary school. When they reach 19, they're drafted even if they have not finished secondary school, but college students are exempt. Draftees must serve two to five years, depending on the branch to whichothey are assigned.

Draftees' pay is $3.30 per month. Leaves are granted only for emergencies or outstanding service.

BRITAIN — With neither universal military training nor a conscription system, Britain took its last draftees in 1960. Since then the regular army has been below strength. It is now 15,000 under the goal of 181,000 men. Britain's Territorial Army is the reserve force, composed entirely of volunteers, mostly former servicemen.

FAR EAST — South Vietnamese youths face three years of military service under a draft law that covers all men 18-35. The women's army corps is voluntary.

In India and Pakistan, food, uniforms and housing made military service such a privilege there is no need for conscription. India could raise an army of millions if it had the equipment and training cadre; Pakistan's applicants for service exceed the number that can be accepted.

Japan's Self-Defense Force of 245,000 men is voluntary and conscription is virtually outlawed since the national constitution bars war as an instrument of national policy.

Red China has a bottomless pool of manpower to draw upon. Its selected standing military force is estimated at 3.5 million men and available standby militia is estimated at 20 to 30 million men and women. The militia usually is poorly armed and sometimes not given arms at all except for training purposes. Under Mao Tze-tung's military theories "all the people are soldiers."

Nationalist China on Formosa has much the same draft system as the United States. Everyone is subject to call-up at 18 but college students get deferments and can take reserve officer training. Compulsory service in the army is for two years, and the navy and air force require three years because of technical training.

DOWN UNDER — Australia and New Zealand are gradually boosting their military training programs. Australia, with troops fighting guerrillas in Southeast Asia, will draft 4,200 men for two years of military service this year. The 1966 target is double that figure.

Viet Nam War Very Real To Georgia's City Of Victims

By LISA BATTLE
The Columbus Ledger

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Residents of this west Georgia city are reminded often that Columbus is the home of Ft. Benning and the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division.

But it's not a pleasant reminder. Telegrams arriving almost daily from the Defense Department bring the sad news that soldiers from the base and the division are dying in the war in Viet Nam.

Perhaps no other city in the nation sees more of its population dwindle each week because of the fighting in Southeast Asia. On this Thanksgiving Eve perhaps no other city is more unified in sorrow for its citizens.

Monday the Defense Department sent 11 telegrams to Columbus telling widows and parents their loved ones died in bitter fighting in the Ia Drang Valley last week.

Tuesday six more telegrams told of Columbus soldiers "killed in action."

Today . . . ?

A week ago Imogene Ferrell read of the heavy fighting by the 1st Cavalry at the foot of a mountain named Chu Pong in Viet Nam.

"I walked the streets all day," she said. "I don't know why I wasn't run over. When I got home, I tried to tell my children, 'You know your father is in the thickest fighting? He might not get back.'"

A list released by the Defense Department Tuesday of 39 men killed in the war read: "Sgt. William A. Ferrell, husband of Mrs. Imogene Ferrell, Columbus, Ga."

"He did everything for his family," she said. Then she smiled. "But we were second to the Army. A neighborhood boy called him the 'Old Sarge.'"

Ferrell was a member of the presidential honor guard for the inauguration of President Johnson and his widow tells proudly of his Army record which was "without a black spot."

The many widows here are reacting in different ways to news of their husband's deaths.

Sara Elliott was informed Sgt. Billy Elliott was killed when a grenade exploded at his feet.

In her grief, she still took time to take clothes and dishes to a family whose trailer home had burned.

Community concern has arisen in various ways.

A trailer court street's name is now changed to honor Sgt. Travis Foss, who was killed last week.

The Columbus Baptist Association said it was ready to help the victims' families "at any time."

A newspaper columnist asked his readers "to do the things that have to be done — to let it be known that Columbus cares."

Impounded Funds May Be Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has taken the first step in an effort to release $850 million in oil money impounded pending a final decision in the Louisiana tidelands dispute.

The Justice Department filed a motion Tuesday with the Supreme Court asking that $203 million of the impounded money be released, with $170 million to go to the government and $33 million to the state of Louisiana.

Former solicitor general Archibald Cox, now a special assistant to the attorney general for the tidelands case, said the Justice Department will file another motion soon asking for the release of the rest.

The money represents leases, royalties and bonuses collected since 1956 from firms working in disputed areas of the oilrich tidelands. In 1956 the government and Louisiana signed a temporary agreement under which the money from the disputed area was impounded.

The battle began in 1948 when the government sued in the Supreme Court for title for all tidelands up to the coastline. The government won its case but in 1953 Congress passed the Submerged Land Act granting the states title to submerged lands up to three miles from the coastline — and up nine miles, if the state could prove historic title.

In a subsequent law suit, the Supreme Court ruled in 1960 that Louisiana's claim was limited to only three miles offshore.

Cox said the cash distribution recommended Tuesday was based on the court's 1960 decision. The controversy since 1960 has been based primarily on the question of just where the coastline runs between the inland waters and the ocean.

Wright To Reveal Plans

LUBBOCK (AP) — "Any good Democrat with a clear understanding of national problems could beat Republican Sen. John Tower," said Rep. Jim Wright, himself a potential candidate.

Wright said Tuesday night he probably will reveal his intention in December.

"The question is whether the people of Texas really want me to extend my services to the rest of the state. I am not out to force myself on anybody. I do don't have to," the Fort Worth congressman said.

He has served from Fort Worth for 11 years.

Wright spoke to Democrats in connection with the John Connally-Waggoner Carr rift over the announced candidacy for Texas governorship.

Graham Adds To List Of Converts

HOUSTON (AP) — "We in this generation are just as guilty of idolatry" as were the people of ancient Judah, Billy Graham told a crowd of 29,022 Tuesday night.

Discussing "the most wicked man who ever lived," the evangelist said the Judahites were made to worship idols by King Manasseh, who ruled for 55 years and filled Jerusalem with innocent blood.

Graham described an idol as "anything that comes between you and god." He said many people worship social prestige, economic security or pleasure.

People spend more time reading a newspaper every day than they do the Bible, they spend more time in the theater than in church and they spend more money on cosmetics, gambling and drinking than they give to the church, he said.

Many are as guilty of murder as Manasseh because "you can kill another's reputation with an ugly story," he said.

Jerusalem was destroyed by an enemy from the north who captured Manasseh and imprisoned him, Graham said, but Mapasseh, repented and was forgiven by God.

"Think of it! Every little child burned by Manasseh, every man he had murdered, every lie he had told, every immoral thing that he had done was wiped out as though he had never committed them," Graham said.

God restored Manasseh to his throne, he said.

After the sermon 1,099 persons went forward at Graham's invitation, making 7,114 who have taken that step through the first five days of a 10-day crusade in the domed stadium.

Forgery Ring Is Probed

DALLAS (AP)—An organized ring apparently forges and cashes checks on several major firms here, the Dallas News reported today.

Attributing its information to reliable sources, the newspaper said police and the district attorney's office have been seeking kingpins of the operation in a secret probe.

The News said the Dallas Crime Commission's president, John McKee, learned about the ring from an ex-convict and relayed the information to authorities. It said McKee fixed a time limit for officers to break the case before he made the same disclosure to newsmen.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said 110 persons have been charged with forgery and six have been convicted. His office was not aware the defendants were involved in a ring until they received this information from the newspaper, Wade said.

The News reported a Dallas businessman is under surveillance in the case.

Army Lieutenant Faces Courtmarial

EL PASO (AP) — A general courtmartial has been ordered for an Army lieutenant arrested after an anti-Viet Nam war demonstration here Nov. 6.

Second Lt. Henry Howe Jr., stationed at Ft. Bliss, was charged with violating the code of military justice. The courtmartial is tentatively set for Dec. 13.

LBJ Readys For World Problems

By JACK BELL

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, busy at shaping fresh domestic programs, is laying the groundwork for broadened attention next year to world problems.

Because Viet Nam has demanded so much concentration on his part, Johnson has not had the time in the last few months to grapple in depth with the threat of the weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization posed by French President Charles de Gaulle's nationalistic policies.

While there can be no presidential relaxation of supervision of the Viet Nam effort, on the basis of the massive legislative program passed by the first session of Congress, it appears the President may be able to relegate some domestic issues to lower priorities.

The signs now point to a determined effort by the President in 1966 toward recementing Western Europe's defenses, improving East-West relations and halting the quarreling between India and Pakistan.

The White House announcement Tuesday that Johnson will meet with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson Dec. 17, following a Dec. 2-3 conference with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, put European problems at the top of the list in this ground-laying period.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers had only a "can't say" to reports in Washington diplomatic circles that India's Prime minister Lal Bahadur Shastri might come to this country about the third week in January and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan about mid-December.

Moyers made it clear that the two leaders are welcome but the timing of their visits is largely up to them.

It was evident that the meeting place for conferences with Erhard and Wilson will depend on whether Johnson wishes to leave the Texas climate, which he finds so bracing, to return to Washington.

Moyers said Johnson's physical activity Tuesday was not strenuous. But he said the President found the climate and the relaxation at the LBJ Ranch helpful toward regaining full strength after his gall bladder-kidney stone operation of Oct. 8.

Wilson said in London Tuesday that he will discuss terms and conditions for a general Viet Nam peace settlement in his meeting with Johnson. While this was expected, the White House obviously had only lean hopes that any meaningful negotiations with Hanoi and the Viet Cong would develop soon.

North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh was quoted Tuesday as saying that U. S. troops would have to be withdrawn from South Viet Nam before any negotiations could start. Johnson has said many times that the United States will not withdraw.

To Study Suspensions

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Three judges will study charges that students have been unjustly suspended from West San Antonio schools.

"Ringworm, dandruff and vermin in the hair" were listed among the reasons given for the suspensions, said Plafon Lerma, a member of the West Side Civic Action Council.

The council and other civic leaders presented the complaints and the county juvenile board named Judge James McKay, County Judge Charles Grace and Dist. Judge Archie Brown to review the charges.

"Is this an epidemic?" Lerma asked. "Children have been in school since September and sent home."

He said some parents told him disciplire at one of the schools was too harsh and children were scared to attend.

Cub Den Has Busy Week

Den 5, Pack 37 Cub Scouts, sponsored by West Elementary School P-TA, had a busy schedule last week.

On Tuesday, they made a field trip to the airport where they viewed planes in the hangars and various mechanical devices.

On Saturday, their week was climaxed by a hike planned by the Den Chiefs, Star Scout Randy Gay and First Class Explorer Dennis Kennedy, along with the Den Dad, George Patterson. At the hiking point they had roasted weiners and marshmallows for lunch and then explored hills in the Lloyd Mountain area. They passed through a spectacular canyon which yielded many rock samples for their collections. They concluded their hike at a cave which was completely lined with a glistening white formation.

Making the hike were Mrs. Dorothy Harder, Den Mother, Mrs. Rhoda Board and Cubs Roy Bennett, Mike Board, Robert Erwin, William Erwin, Paul Gilbert, Phillip Harder, Greg Patterson, Max Snider and Mac Wellborn.

Activities of Den 5 are typical of Cub Scouting, which is a family program. Youngsters interested in joining Cub Scouts may call David Parkhill at HI 3-4558.
