No Indication Of Settlement In Southwestern Bell Strike

A leader of the union employes of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., who are on strike here, yesterday charged the company with complete responsibility for continuation of the strike.

W. S. Dow, steward of the plant employes here, said the piont of dispute which the union calls a "no-strike clause" which the company is trying to include in the contract is the only thing that is keeping the union from returning to work.

The clause objected to by the union would amount to a union guarantee of no work stoppages during the contract period. The company complains of 43 "quicky strikes" in the past three years.

Dow said that about 10 strikers of the Snyder office attended a meeting in Abilene Friday night of union members from this district.

"We definitely could not accept the no-strike clause in our new contract, because that would break the back of the union and make it a company union without any powers," Dow said.

Dow said that the company tried to "sneak the no-strike clause in on the union on August 24, shortly after the union and company had agreed on all previously expressed differences."

"The union was ready to go back to work, then the company brought this (the no-strike clause) up," Dow said.

Dow said that Southwestern Bell System unions have accepted the no-strike clause, and they see no reason why Southwestern Bell employes should not accept it too.

The reason Dow gave for Southwestern Bell employes not accepting the no-strike clause is that there are just "too damn many Texans in this union. We do not believe in giving up what we have been fighting for since about 1934," he said.

Truman Black, manager of the Snyder exchange, said that no new developments toward settlement of the strike had been reported to him by late yesterday afternoon.

However, Black said indications from St. Louis, where strike negotiations are taking place, are that the strike could end soon. However, the union steward here said, "It could be a long strike."

He said that the union and employes here would probably be willing to accept the no-strike clause in a modified from tnat would not take away union initiative in calling strikes over grievances.

Dow added that it is not union policy to cause violence nor destruction of property in any form during strikes.

The company has reported several distruptions of service in the Abilene district, of which Snyder is a part, but no distruptions have been reported in the Snyder area.

Company officials have not blamed striking employes for the service disruptions in the Abilene area.

Oil Well Completions Are Still On Decline

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Drilling operations brought in 185 oil wells this week, 37 less than the previous week.

The year's total advanced to 6,977, against the year-ago figure of 7,390, the Texas Railroad Commission reported.

Thirty-seven gas wells were completed, leaving the 1953 total five ahead of last year's 607.

Wildcat completions included 10 oil wells and one gas, with 82 dry holes.

Nehru To Play Benefit

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru and Vice President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan will lead opposing teams of members of Parliament in a benefit cricket match Sept. 12.

Nehru, 63, has not played cricket in 40 years, but agreed to take part since it was for the benefit of his flood relief fund. The players will include cabinet ministers, maharajahs and Communist leader A. K. Gopalan.

Line Cutting, Violence In Texas Among Phone Strikers

By The Associated Press

Long-distance cables southwest and west of Paris in North Texas were reported cut Saturday, the 10th day of a strike by 53,000 Southwestern Bell telephone workers in six states.

At St. Louis, where negotiations between the company and CIO Communications Workers were deadlocked, Southwestern Bell asked a special meeting with union officials, federal conciliators and Missouri's mediation chief.

Lamar County Sheriff Dan Bills reported somebody apparently using tree pruning shears snapped Southwestern Bell's trunk long-distance cables running southwest and west of Paris. The southwest cable connects Paris with Dallas.

The company said 14 individual circuits in each cable were interrupted.

The first cable was cut 10 miles southwest of Paris Friday night. The west cable was cut Saturday 10 miles from Paris.

The company has offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to conviction of anyone destroying its property.

The Paris cable cutting incidents followed reports of violence in San Antonio, Lubbock, and New Deal, near Lubbock.

At San Antonio, three Bell workers who quit the union and went on working when the strike started said they were cursed and roughed up by four men.

Samuel David Garner, 23, Lubbock union member, was arrested and charged on a felony complaint of cutting a telephone cable. Police said a companion of Garner would be charged later.

It was reported at New Deal that a cable was shot in two, but no arrests had been made.

Twenty-three thousand of the striking workers are in Texas.

Negotiations are snagged over a company proposed clause which Southwestern Bell said is to prevent "quickie strikes." The union called it a "no strike" proposal.

Manager For Pioneer Gets Assigned Here

James H. Babcock, assistant manager of Pioneer Air Lines' San Angelo station, has been named to the post of company manager in Snyder, Tom E. Nace, superintendent of stations, has announced.

Babcock, a native of Bangor, Me., joined Pioneer as a transportation agent in San Angelo in May, 1947. He was promoted to assistant manager of the San Angelo station on Nov. 1, 1948, Nance said.

A graduate of the Bangor High School, Babcock served for two and one-half years in the air corps during World War II as a pilot. Following the war, he became manager and foreman of the Getchell Aircraft Co. in San Angelo and later a flight instructor for the Southwest Air college in the same city. It was from this latter post that he joined Pioneer, Nance said.

Babcock and his family will move to Snyder in the early part of September prior to Pioneer's inauguration of service on Sept. 27.

GOP Test On Way In 1954, Johnson Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate, said today that next year's congressional session will be a "pay-off" test of the Republican leadership.

Describing this year's session "as a shakedown cruise," Johnson summarized it as "a few achievements and a few retreats."

"It is a session in which a new administration and a new congressional leadership tried its wings in a previously untested atmosphere," he said in a statement. "The 'pay-off' session—the session which will really give Americans an opportunity to judge this Congress — comes in 1954."

The Senate minority leader said that most controversial measures had been "avoided altogether" or put off until the new session that begins Jan. 6. Most of the things accomplished, he said, were extensions of legislation enacted under Democratic administrations.

Johnson listed controversial issues for the new session in this order: A long-term foreign trade policy; expansion of the Social Security program; basic farm legislation; revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act; formulation of a "bold, new" foreign policy; new tax legislation; a balanced budget and statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

TIPRO Study Being Ordered

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 — A special independent oil producer committee has been named to conduct a study of Texas crude oil markets as they are affected by production allowables of neighboring states and imports.

M. D. Bryant, San Angelo, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, has named to the committee Maston Nixon of Corpus Christi, chairman, R. L. Foree of Dallas, and Guy I. Warren of Corpus Christi. He requested that they report to him prior to the statewide hearing of the Texas Railroad Commission in Austin Sept. 18.

The study, beginning as Texas allowables are being reduced more than a hundred thousand barrels daily, is in response to recommendations that TIPRO urge other states and importing companies to adopt voluntarily the practice employed by the Texas Commission of regulating the supply to market demand.

Willard Paine

New Officer In Snyder Bank Elected Here

Willard Paine of Tulia has been elected vice president of the Snyder National Bank effective Tuesday, A. C. Alexander, president announced yesterday.

Paine, who assumes the position formerly held by George Frazier, now of Carlsbad, N.M., was cashier of the First National Bank in Tulia before accepting the Snyder post.

He was reared near Merkel and is a graduate of Merkel High School and Abilene Christian College. A veteran of World War II, Paine is a member of the Church of Christ. He was active in civic affairs in Tulia, Alexander said. He is now on the state directorate of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tension Mount Along Italian-Slav Border

ROME, Aug. 29 (AP)—Troops of Italy were reported maneuvering along the Yugoslav border tonight in the midst of a newly heated dispute between the two countries over the Triest free territory.

Earlier, Italy sounded an alarm to her Atlantic pact allies that Yugoslavia may be planning to seize the Slav zone of Trieste.

Other troops in northeast Italy were held on the alert in barracks, unofficial reports said.

U. S. diplomats in the Italian capital did not appear alarmed by the mounting Trieste controversy. However, an American spokesman said that U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, who is vacationing aboard a chartered yacht on Italian waters, had been informed of the situation and would be able to return to Rome quickly if necessary.

Reds Say They'll Free Prisoners Convicted Of Crimes In POW Camps

PANMUNJOM, Sunday, Aug. 30 (AP)—All United Nations prisoners who "insist on repatriation" will be returned to freedom, the Communists promised yesterday.

The promise was made at a Joint Prisoner of War Repatriation Commission meeting and was repeated by the Communists after American officers demanded to know whether it covered POWs sentenced for what the Reds have termed prison camp offenses against Communist law.

Today the Reds return another 400 U. N. prisoners, including 110 Americans, which would bring to 10,618 the total of Allied prisoners repatriated thus far. The Communists also are sending back today, 26th day of operation Big Switch, 250 South Koreans, 25 British, 4 Turkish, 5 Filipino, 3 French and 3 South African prisoners.

The Allies turned back another 2,400 North Koreans, for a total of 58,000 of the approximately 74,000 Reds the U. N. promised to repatriate.

A total of 2,159 Allied prisoners, including 636 Americans, are to be exchanged after today, based on the Reds original figure of 12,777 to be repatriated. The list included 3,313 Americans.

However, the Communists have reported that "more than 300 Korean" and "more than 20" non-Korean prisoners have refused repatriation and will be turned over to the neutral nations committee.

The Allies told the Reds at the repatriation commission meeting Saturday at Panmunjom that both sides are obliged to return all prisoners who want to be repatriated regardless of whether they have been convicted of crime.

The Communists replied: "Our side will . . . repatriate all those prisoners of war who insist on repatriation. The repatriation of POWs who insist on repatriation is now approaching the end. All the POWs under our custody who insist on repatriation will be returned to your side by the time the repatriation operation concludes."

Under the truce agreement, all prisoners desiring repatriation must be returned within 60 days after the armistice was signed July 27. The U. N. Command had hoped that the exchange might be completed by Sept. 3.

SET UP DROUTH AID

Shivers Says He Might Call Legislature Session Soon

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Texas' drouth may force a special session of the Legislature to help small cattle owners, Gov. Shivers said today.

His call for a special session probably would be limited to the drought problem, but the issues of teacher pay and state hospital and medical construction might be submitted, he said.

Shivers said he and school teacher spokesmen conferred today and "agreed to get together to discuss problems."

Final decision awaits further reports on the financial outlook and effect of recent and continuing rains, he said.

"The drouth, despite these rains, is still acute," Shivers said. "....I think the small herd owners are going to have a hard time this winter and fall than they've had this summer.

"They will need hay and roughage to maintain part of their herds."

He suggested the Legislature might set up "some sort of revolving fund to secure the purchase of hay and roughage."

Most surprising aspect of the special session possibility was that the session might be called this year.

Shivers previously had said he would consider calling legislators when and if the U. S. Supreme Court upholds constitutionality of the state's natural gas gathering tax.

The 53rd Legislature passed a bill calling for a $600 raise for teachers. This would have required an estimated additional 70 million dollars.

The money wasn't in sight, and efforts to pass a tax bill were unsuccessful.

Shivers said an uncompromising attitude on the part of Texas State Teachers Assn. officials prevented a solution that would have given the teachers some raise. The TSTA denied this, saying the administration had tied strings to its proposals which would have made the local burden of social financing too heavy.

Red China Is Sending Guns To Vietminh

HANOI, Indochina, Aug. 29 (AP)—Communist China, for the first time, is now sending big field guns into Indochina to help the Communist - led Vietminh, according to Gen. Rene Cogny, commander of French Union forces in Northern Indochina.

Cogny reported the Vietminh are now getting guns of 105 millimeter caliber from the Chinese. As far as is known this is the heaviest field piece ever delivered to the Vietminh, although they have used 120-millimeter mortars against French soldiers.

Along with the big guns, Cogny said, the Vietminh also are getting a lot of bulldozers from the Chinese to repair supply roads from China destroyed by heavy french bombings.

The French say it is quite likely that Chinese assistance will be increased, now that the shooting has stopped in Korea. And particularly if a firm peace is worked out.

The possibility is never excluded by the French that the Chinese, by using the guise of "volunteers" as they did in Korea, might send soldiers to the aid of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh, leader of the Vietminh. But, Cogny said, thus far there have been no Chinese troop movements toward the Indochinese border.

Bell's Lines Are Cut In Tulsa Area

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 29 (AP)—Long distance service of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was disrupted temporarily at several cities today and the company offered a $5,000 reward for conviction of anyone destroying the firm's property.

Company officials said a cable was cut at Sapulpa, disrupting service in the Tulsa area. Service between Tulsa and Oklahoma City and Tulsa and Henryetta was partially cut off but was restored later by splicing wires.

At Lawton clothesline wire was woven into long distance cables, temporarily cutting that city off from all outside calls, a company official said.

Southwestern Bell employes have been on strike for 10 days while negotiations have gone on in St. Louis, company headquarters, between the firm and the Communications Workers of America (CIO) union. There have been no previous incidents in Oklahoma.

Referring to the Lawton incident, Harvey E. Rhodes, public relations director for Bell in Oklahoma, said:

"It was done by someone who knew just what they wanted."

Industrial Employment In State Down Again

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Texas industrial employment dropped for the second straight month in July, totaling 2,668,400, and labor disputes increased.

The number, not including farm labor, was 3,800 under the June level, the Texas Employment Commission said today.

Russia Turns Down Big Four Meeting Again

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Russia rejected again today a bid by the Western powers to hold a four-power meeting to seek conclusion of an Austrian independence treaty. The session had been set for London Monday.

The Soviets had refused previously to attend a meeting last May 27 for the same purpose.

A note received by the State Department today said the U. S. had not withdrawn a proposed short form treaty which together with Britain and France it had put forward more than a year ago in an effort to break the East-West deadlock over a regular Austrian treaty.

The Soviets had objected to the abbreviated pact. They also disputed the conference of a meeting of deputies.

The State Department in releasing the Russian note, accused the Soviets of "distorting the expressed willingness of the U. S. government to conclude an Austrian treaty on any basis which would provide for Austria's political and economic independence."

The fact is, a department spokesman said, "the Soviet government has once again demonstrated that it has no present desire to conclude an Austrian treaty."

Petersons Leaving For Los Angeles

HERMLEIGH — Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson are leaving today on the happiest trip of their lives.

They are going to Los Angeles where they expect to meet their son, Cpl. Carl D. Peterson, freed from a North Korean prison camp last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will travel with a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Davidson, and two younger sons, Max and Thomas. Another of Carl's brothers, Marine Sgt. Geral Peterson, returned to California earlier after spending a leave with his parents. Geral is also a Korean veteran, and is to be re-assigned to Washington but plans to ask a special leave in order to be with the family when Carl arrives.

A telegram sent by Carl from Japan Monday was delivered to the family by telephone Thursday night. It read:

"Dear Mom and all: Freed from Reds at last. Your prayers for me have been answered. Am in pretty good shape. Nothing wrong with me your cooking won't cure. On my way home by boat. Best wishes to all at home.

"God bless you all, Carl."

Mrs. Peterson said they did not know exactly when Carl's ship was scheduled to arrive but that they believed it would be Sept. 5. The news of Carl's release and homecoming has been so wonderful for all the family that they could hardly wait to see him, she said, and added that it had acted like a tonic for her husband. (He has been in ill health and unable to work.)

The Carl Peterson Appreciation Fund, started in Snyder by Glendon Bynum, was reported to be growing slowly. Contributions through noon yesterday totaled $60. Donors in addition to Bynum were Howard L. Hogue, $20; L. A. McClanahan, $2, and Elmer Vernon, $10. At least one civic club was reported to be preparing a donation.

Agitators Are Being Caught

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP) — West Germany federal police announced tonight they have cracked a large scale Communist attempt to smuggle Red agitators into the Bonn Republic before the critical Sept. 6 elections. Police arrested 700 suspects at this border check point.

The arrests were made in the last 24 hours on five westbound interzonal trains.

Police officials said it was possible that thousands of others slipped into West Germany before controls were tightened in view of the approaching election.

More than 250,000 East Germans have entered West Germany since the Soviet Zone regime eased interzonal restrictions earlier this summer. Many of them have not yet returned.

Police said the first arrests were made last night after a check showed some East German travelers carried skillfully forged travel documents.

They said many were issued for Solingen where West German Communist boss Max Reimann is running for a parliamentary seat.

Police said more than a ton of Communist election propaganda material was confiscated in the raids, along with instructions for Communist campaign stores.

City Budget Readied, Hike In Taxes Is Not Indicated

A budget for Snyder for the 1953-54 fiscal year that calls for no increase in the city tax rate has been proposed by B. J. Shelley, city manager, and copies are now ready for public inspection.

A public budget hearing will be held by the city council in the city hall the night of Sept. 8, in accordance with provisions of the city charter, Shelley said.

"Anticipated revenues consist of $153,295 from ad valorem taxes, $42,000 from miscellaneous sources to the general fund, and $269,700 to the water and sewer fund," Shelley said.

A review of what the city intends to do with its money this year is also given by the budget.

"Some of the expenditures are seal coating of approximately 22 blocks of city pavying at an approximate cost of $5,000, placing 600 street name signs at intersections covering about two-thirds of the town to cost approximately $3,600, and a 30-block paving program estimated to cost the city about $6,000," Shelley said.

Shelley said the street paving will be done only by 100 per cent petition of property owners along the streets to be paved, and that the city will pay an estimated 10 per cent of the total cost of the paving with property owners on each side of the streets paying the other 90 per cent. The property owners on each side of the street would have to pay about 45 per cent of the cost, and a financing plan for property owners to pay for it over a period of years can probably be arranged, he said.

Stop signs and other traffic directional signs estimated to cost $600 are also included in the budget. Present plans call for placing stop signs along Avenues V and E to make them through streets in order to move traffic to the southwest part of town when the new high school opens.

Fifty new street lights in various parts of town are also included in the budget. The lights would be furnished by Texas Electric Service Co. at no cost to the city, and could be placed on existing utility poles, but the city would have to pay the cost of electricity to operate the lights, Shelley said. They would be the open-blub reflector type lights, he added.

Extensions of the city's water mains to new additions was estimated in the budget to cost about $10,000, and about $14,000 for purchase of new water meters is budgeted.

Extensions of sewer service to areas not presently served is estimated to cost $5,860, the budget shows.

The budget also calls for salary increases to all city employes. Shelley said the increase would amount to about $5 per month for each employe.

Bond-fund expenditures for water works improvements were estimated in the budget to total $300,000. Included would be a new filtration plant, a one-million gallon ground storage tank, additional booster pumps, and larger distribution mains to the southwest and east parts of town.

A new city jail and police station estimated to cost $16,000 is also included. It could be built from bond funds.

The budget shows anticipated tax revenues to be $153,295 from a total estimated valuation of $1,207,000, at a rate of $1.50 per $100 valuation. The total tax revenue figure is based on an anticipated 90 per cent collection, plus collection of $2,000 in delinquent taxes.

Distribution of the tax money would be 75.2 per cent, or $115,295 to the city general fund, and 24.8 per cent, or $38,000 to the bonded indebtedness interest and sinking fund.

A summary of the general expenses and capital outlay for all the departments of the city made in the budget shows that $227,334 will be used for general expenses, and $58,035 for capital outlays.

A balance of $10,436.75 is estimated to have been accumulated in the city's bonded indebtedness interest and sinking fund by Sept. 30, 1954. The estimated balance on hand now is $27,128, and tax money used to pay on the bonds from current collections would be $38,000.

Actual requirements will total $54,691.25, with $26,000 being principal, $18,691.25 interest, and an estimated requirement of $10,000 expense on sale of $250,000 in general obligations bonds.

The delinquent taxes receivable by the city now total $21,991.28 accumulated over a period from 1919 to 1951. However, a state loan went into effect last week that places a four-year limitation on liability for such taxes.

The budget shows that the principal and interest on general obligation bonds of the city of Snyder will total $903,970 by the time the bonds are retired in 1981. The principal requirements will be $681,000, and interest $222,970.

Water and sewer revenue bonds requirements to retirement date in 1980 will total $1,030,612, with a principal requirement of $707,000, and interest requirements of $323,612.

Sale of $250,000 in waterworks improvements bonds is expected late this year. That amount would be sold from a total of $450,000 in unsold waterworks improvements bonds voted in 1951 when Snyder entered the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Continued Rains Cause More Damage To South Texas Towns

By The Associated Press

Floodwater ran three to four feet deep through Robstown in South Texas Saturday night. About 1,500 persons were evacuated.

At the height of the flood Saturday afternoon, a rain squall dumped at least another inch of rain on the unhappy town of 15,000 people 16 miles west of Corpus Christi.

No injuries were reported. But hundreds of refugees bunched uncomfortably in the National Guard Armory.

National guardsmen, some using high - wheeled Navy trucks from Corpus Christi, evacuated family after family.

The water covered about two-thirds of Robstown and much of its business district. Robstown is drained by a series of ditches. One of those ditches, its banks softened by 8½ inches of rain in 36 hours, gave way early Saturday. Flood waters poured incessantly through the break.

All flood danger was past at Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Falfurrias and Bishop, the other cities caught earlier last week in the swollen runoff of torrential South Texas rains. "We're hot and dry now," reported Howard Behrent, editor of the Falfurrias Facts.

But deluges still were striking without warning in South Texas and along the coast. A downpour at Galveston Saturday was heavy enough to stop city bus service for five hours. A Houston storm knocked out 700 telephones and flooded underpasses and streets in suburbs.

The two main highways into Robstown, U. S. 77 and 44, were closed. The water was streaming from west to east through the city. The floodwater was only a few inches deep in most of the business district. But in many residential areas it was 4 to 4½ feet deep.

A seven-inch deluge fell at San Benito between Harlingen and Brownsville Friday night and Saturday to bring total rainfall there since Aug. 16 to 20 inches. A few families were evacuated and several streets were flooded. But the high water ran off rapidly.

Police Chief Lester Newell of Robstown said between 400 and 500 families were moved out of the Bluebonnet and San Pedro subdivisions. Robstown got 5.80 inches of rain before dawn. During the day, skies cleared intermittently.

Robstown newspaper Carroll Keach told The Associated Press: "This whole town is virtually under water, except for two blocks in the business district."

But the heavy downpours spotted South Texas a seventh straight day and the U. S. Weather Bureau at Corpus Christi forecast more. The weather bureau warned of additional "considerable flooding of creeks with most over bankfull today and tonight."

Robstown evacuees huddled in National Guard Armory, the Knights of Columbus hall, schools and churches. Others moved in with friends with homes on higher ground.

Water was reported 4 inches deep in many homes and 3 inches in some department stores.

Team Is Fixing Fire Insurance Rates In City

A survey of all business and merchantile buildings, churches, schools, and public buildings is being made by the State Fire Insurance Commission to readjust fire insurance rates here.

The survey, which started Tuesday morning, will take about 10 weeks to complete, Bill Cogburn, crew chief of the inspection team, said.

It is the first such fire insurance rate-fixing inspection made here since 1936, Cogburn stated.

The five-member team of inspectors inspect all buildings except residences in their survey, and a new fire insurance premium rate will be set for each building inspected.

Cogburn said that buildings are inspected to determine construction type, occupancy, and cleanliness. "Fire insurance premiums will be raised on some buildings, lowered on some, and remain unchanged on some," he said.

The crew chief said that the main factors determining the amount of fire insurance rates for each individual building would be the construction classification, occupancy, the insurance key rate for Snyder, and the surrounding buildings.

Field Marshal Visits

LONDON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Field Marshal Sir John Harding, chief of the British imperial general staff, will visit Canada for 13 days starting Monday.

Snyderite Proposes Bringing East Texas Excess Water Here

The September issue of the Texas edition of Progressive Farmer, which reached subscribers here Wednesday, carries a letter to the editor from Clemens von Roeder of Snyder, in which he propounds the idea of irrigating dry areas by pipeline from the East.

Von Roeder said Wednesday he did not know until then that his letter to the editor, Gene Butler, would be published, although Butler had asked him for permission to use some of the personal letter in the magazine.

Von Roeder said he wrote Butler after discussing the matter casually in a conversation with a man in Shreveport. Such ideas have been offered several times in the past several years, he said, but no such system has ever been put into use on any scale of considerable size.

"Some areas are using sea water, purified from its high salt content and sent through canals or pipelines for short distances," Von Roeder said, "but diversion of fresh water would probably be much more practical, and it would certainly be more economical than use of sea water on a long-distance system."

Von Roeder said that Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas had propounded the idea of using canals for diversion of water from large rivers to drouth areas. The cost of either canals or pipelines would be large.

Another cost would be that of a district for administration of such a project. This would be, at least in some ways, similar to the Colorado River Municipal Water District, of which Snyder is a member.

The letter as it appears in the Progressive Farmer follows:

"In the spring we had extensive and damaging floods in the eastern half of Texas while the western half of our state suffers from severe drouth. Now I wonder if it might not be feasible or practical from an economic standpoint to divert some of the flood-waters from areas where they do damage to areas where they could be very beneficial. If we could tap the Neches and Sabine rivers and possibly even the Mississippi, if necessary, we could get an adequate water supply for the lower tip of Texas.

"Is it economical? The oil industries have just completed a "bigger inch" pipeline to carry out West Texas oil to port at Nederland, Tex., which required a lot of planning from an economical as well as from an engineering standpoint. Probably a water line would not require nearly such sturdy construction.

"It seems to me that, although it would be a huge undertaking, it might be more practical than purifying sea water and pumping it to dry areas for irrigation. The legal aspect such as obtaining ownership of the water and securing right-of-way for bringing it across the country would in itself be immense, but the results over years might fully recompense for the undertaking."

PMA County Committee Set For New Year

All but one alternate member of the Production & Marketing Administration county committee were re-elected Friday to serve another year.

Elected to continue in office were Glenn Tate, county chairman; Charlie Bley, vice-chairman; Audrey Head, member; and Milton Winter, first alternate member. Henry Layne was elected second alternate, succeeding Blake Walker.

Delegates from the various communities in the county chose the committeemen. Chairman of the board of delegates was Buford Browning, and James Davidson was secretary.

The United States has about 10 per cent of the earth's forest area but produces about 50 per cent of the world's lumber, 42 per cent of the wood pulp and 58 per cent of the plywood.

Oil Poor Iran Is One Of The Hottest Potatoes In World

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Iran, broke, desperate and in danger, is tasting the bitter fruit of an anti-foreign policy which halted the flow of her oil riches to the outside world. Once oil-rich, the nation now is oil-poor.

Fallen Premier Mohammed Mossadegh bequeathed to the country a legacy of financial chaos, leaving her in danger of becoming a pawn for whatever diversionary power game her huge neighbor to the north—the Soviet Union—may decide to play.

To the Western world, the aged, weeping nationalist Premier left the vast problem of how to offset this danger, amid a fantastic mass of political - economic complications in which Iran and her oil are now involved. The situation for Tehran is full of a tragic irony.

More than two years ago Premier Mossadegh, on a wave of nationalist fervor, evicted the British from the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. properties in Iran. Since then the world's greatest refinery, at Abadan, has been idle and the flow of oil to world markets dried up.

Now the Western world, which once welcomed Iran's liquid gold, neither needs nor wants the oil any more. In the intervening time, internationally operating companies more than made up for the loss of Iran's oil. World markets are almost glutted. Now Iran's oil becomes a highly complicated problem, with ramifications involving the East-West cold war.

Without financial aid, Iran could become easy prey to the strong Tudeh (Communist) party, the only well organized group. It does not lack for funds. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi is back on the throne from which Mossadegh ousted him briefly.

Western statesmen do not find it difficult to imagine the Iron Curtain dropping around Iran if her economic situation is not eased. The Soviet Union, with an insatiable appetite for oil and a shortage of petroleum, could use the vast resources of Iran, provided Moscow found a way to overcome lack of transportation to get it to the U.S.S.R.

But Iran could be of much use to the Iron Curtain bloc regardless of whether it could use the oil at once. Iran could be used to upset the political and economic balance in the Middle East and provide a stepping stone to extend Soviet influence through the economic threat which could be posed. It is not for oil alone that the West wants to keep Iran out of Communist hands.

Russia needs all the oil it can get. Soviet production in 1952 was 47 million metric tons. (A metric ton is 2,204.6 pounds.) The Soviet fifth five-year plan goal is 70 million tons by 1955. United States production alone in 1951 was 307½ million metric tons, more than half the combined production of the rest of the free world. American oil and that of the free world goes to many civilian uses, but that of the Soviet bloc is all military, even to the exclusion of its use for fuel by many important industries. Nor does the Soviet Union export any of its oil. Moscow constantly is stepping up production by all means possible, for lack of enough oil could prove an Achilles heel.

Even though the Communist bloc might not immediately be able to exploit Iranian oil, Iran still would be a rich prize. Meanwhile, the Communist goal is to stir up chaos in the country, and with the natural contradictions of today's situation, some of the work is being done for them.

Ways out of the dilemma are being sought by statesmen in Washington and London, but it can be safely predicted that if settlement seems near, the Iranian Communists, bossed from abroad by leaders in exile in the Soviet Union, will go into action, attempting by any means to upset the applecart.

One way out may be the resumption of British-Iranian negotiations to clear the way for extension of financial help to the stricken country by the United States and Great Britain. The British express the opinion that the new premier, Fazollah Zahedi, might be willing to take up the talks where Mossadegh broke them off nine months ago.

Because of the fierce anti-British sentiment whipped up by Mossadegh, Zahedi would have to proceed cautiously toward any resumption of diplomatic relations with Britain, broken after the talks failed. There is this historic point, too: during World War II the British kidnaped Zahedi right out of his Iranian palace and held him prisoner for months.

British thinking at present indicates London is about ready to accept nationalization of Iranian oil as an accomplished fact. The talks would center on compensation to Britain for the Anglo-Iranian losses in return for British cooperation in getting Iranian oil flowing again.

But Iran's needs are immediate, and it would likely be six months or so before Abadan again was working effectively. Both the Shah and Zahedi have stressed Iran's urgent need for help now, from whatever source offers it.

Washington reports indicate U.S. emergency financial aid will be forthcoming provided the Shah cracks down on dangerous Communist activities and shows a willingness to reach a settlement with the British. It is estimated Iran now gets 50 million dollars a year in direct and indirect U. S. aid, including 23 million in Point Four technical aid and about 20 million in military aid.

Although the Shah and his new Premier have talked of no concessions to Britain in return for aid, the stipulation that Iran attempt a settlement with the British is regarded as highly important. Other oil concessions in the Middle East are at stake. The example of Iran would be telling if the country succeeded in nationalization without compensation. Other Middle East countries producing oil for Western operations will be watching the course of the dispute. It could even have an adverse effect on Britain's delicate negotiations with Egypt over the future of the Suez Canal zone.

Scout Council Election Is Set For October 8

The Buffalo Trail Council of the Boy Scouts will hold its annual election in October instead of in January as in previous years, it was announced by Lyle Deffebach, council president.

The Executive Board of the council took this action at its meeting this month. The reason for changing the time is to give the president-elect sufficient time to select the appointive chairmen of the council standing committees, numbering seven. The meeting will be held at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains 24 miles southwest of Balmorhea. This meeting will not replace the annual meeting held in January.

At the Oct. 8 meeting all eagle scouts of the past two years will be recognized by a special ceremony. In addition there will be a program of fellowship and entertainment.

All council members, numbering over two hundred, and their families are invited to the meeting along with other scouters desiring to attend.

Deffebach has appointed anominating committee composed of H. Lyman Wren, Snyder; R. A. Lipscomb, Wink; G. P. Foster, Colorado City; W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring and O. D. Albright of Odessa.

Teachers Have Workshop Set

Three days of pre-school activities for Snyder teachers and other school personnel will begin this afternoon with an informal reception for new teachers and their wives or husbands.

The reception is scheduled for 5 o'clock this afternoon at the cafeteria of the new high school building.

Another reception will be held tomorrow morning from 8 to 8:30 o'clock with registration of teachers, followed by breakfast. Then the first day of sessions will begin.

Tuesday and Wednesday sessions will be followed each day with work conferences and study groups, headed by consultants in various subjects.

Classes for students will begin Thursday with only half a day of school, and the first full day will be Friday.

School buses will be operated Thursday, as well as all other school days, but cafeteria service is not to begin until Friday, Cecil L. Yarbrough, superintendent, said.

Expedition Organized To Search For City

PUEBLA, Mexico, Aug. 29 (AP)—A newly organized expedition is searching for a lost city buried deep in Mexico's green jungles fringing the states of Puebla and Vera Cruz.

The city, said to have been centuries old when Columbus discovered America, was believed to have been headquarters for the Anohoa tribe of Indians, who preceded the Aztecs.

Heavy Season Facing Tigers For Second Year In 2-AAA

Football season will get into full swing this week when high school teams there—but the state begin workouts Tuesday.

For Snyder's Tigers, both A and B squad, activities will get underway at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning when they go to the new high school gym for medical examinations by Dr. Thomas Hartley and Dr. Carl Dillaha.

The Tigers will start workouts at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning and hold another drill at 5 o'clock that afternoon. That schedule will continue at the old practice field in Southeast Snyder until next week when daily workouts will be held at 3 o'clock each afternoon.

The first test of the Tigers' strength will come Friday night, when they go to Colorado City for a scrimmage with the Wolves. The next afternoon Rotan's squad will come here for a scrimmage.

Big Spring, with its 18 returning lettermen, many of them heavyweights, is considered one of the top contenders for the District 1-3A championship. The team ended the season with a 4-6 record last year.

Breckenridge, last year's state champ which was booted out of District 2-AAA and voted into this one, is also said to be a contender, although the Buckaroos lost most of their squad members last year. The team still has Ken Ford, all-state quarterback for two years, along with several other hustlers. The Bucks lost only one of 13 games last year.

Both Vernon and Snyder have 18 lettermen, including last year's reserves. Although Speedy Moffett's Tigers are still lacking in a few spots, they have more depth in the team than ever before with 10 regular linemen and eight backs. Moffett's squad wound up with a 3-7 record last year, while Vernon had 5-4-1.

Lamesa, the district champ last year, has nine lettermen returning, only two of them regulars. The team, like Snyder's still lacks size. After compiling an 8-3 season record last year, the team lost nine starters. Sweetwater is in much the same position, losing practically all its team after winning half its 10 games last year. The team has nine lettermen returning, five of them regulars.

Plainview, which sat at the bottom of the district with Snyder last year, does not appear to have much more this time. Nine lettermen are returning, only three regulars. The team won only one game last year.

While Snyder will continue with the split-T formation, Sweetwater will also use it, as will Breckenridge, which will also run off regular T, single wing, and spread. Big Spring will use the regular T and single wing, Vernon will use both single and double wing, and both Lamesa and Plainview will use regular T.

Sept. 25 — Big Spring at Pampa, Childress at Vernon, Snyder at El Paso (Bowie), Lamesa at El Paso (Jefferson), Abilene at Sweetwater, Plainview at Ysleta.

Oct. 2—Brownwood at Big Spring, Abilene at Breckenridge, Quanah at Vernon, El Paso (Jefferson) at Snyder, Seminole at Lamesa, Sweetwater at San Angelo, Amarillo at Plainview.

Oct. 9 — Big Spring at El Paso (Austin), Levelland at Snyder, El Paso High at Plainview, Oct. 16—Plainview at Big Spring, Lamesa at Breckenridge, Snyder at Vernon, Northside (Fort Worth) at Sweetwater.

Oct. 23 — Vernon at Big Spring, Snyder at Breckenridge, Austin (El Paso) at Lamesa, Sweetwater at Plainview.

Oct. 30 — Breckenridge at Big Spring, Vernon at Sweetwater, Lamesa at Snyder.

Nov. 6 — Big Spring at Lamesa, Sweetwater at Breckenridge, Plainview at Vernon.

Nov. 13 — Big Spring at Snyder, Breckenridge at Plainview, Lamesa at Sweetwater.

Nov. 20 — Ysleta at Big Spring, Breckenridge at Vernon, Sweetwater at Snyder, Plainview at Lamesa.

Nov. 26 — Vernon at Lamesa, Snyder at Plainview, Big Spring at Sweetwater.

Some Schoolboy Grid Squads To Play With Little Practice

By The Associated Press

Texas' 890 schoolboy football squads start the long march Tuesday. At least 10 schools will play games with only three days of practice. They'll be trading touchdowns even before school opens.

While the bulk of the huge field does not go to the starting post until Sept. 11, one Class AA team—Weslaco—and four Class A elevens—De Leon, Premont, Elgin, Cushing and Roby—open the season Friday night.

The skimpy schedule has De Leon at Class B Gorman, Premont of Class A at Weslaco, Class B Lexington at Elgin, Class B Warren at Cushing and Class B Hobbs (Rotan) at Roby.

There are four divisions that play to state championships but the top class—AAAA—and the next—AAA—won't see game action until next week.

Championship favorites stick out like sore thumbs all along the line with Lubbock, twice Class AAAA titlist and with 26 consecutive victories behind it, again rated kingpin of its division. There are 20 returning lettermen in the ranks of the Westerners, including Jim Welch, the all-state fullback.

Austin is expected to be the team in the El Paso district, North Side in the Fort Worth district, North Dallas in the Dallas district, Waco in Dist. 5, Ray of Corpus Christi in Dist. 6, Lamar in the Houston district and Port Arthur or Baytown in Dist. 8.

Veteran Ray is labeled a state championship contender from the Southern bracket, meaning Lubbock and Ray are favorites for the finals.

Class AAA again has Breckenridge, the defending champion, as the No. 1 outfit. There are 11 lettermen back in Buckarooville with Ken Ford, the great quarterback, and runner Billy Dendy offering offensive terror. Ford is a mighty passer. Breckenridge also has won the state title twice in a row but didn't have unbeaten seasons.

Temple, finalist twice, should be a great contender again. Although the Wildcats won't have the passing and quarterbacking of fabulous Doyle Traylor, Coach Ted Dawson is optimistic that Bob Malinak, two-year letterman, will well replace Traylor as a field general and passer. He also has Rogers Bruce and Joel Honeycutt, a couple of fine backs. There are 14 letterman.

Cleburne, Gainesville, Texarkana, Palestine, Freeport, Edison, (San Antonio), and Edinburg are other top contenders and some think Edinburg may be a finalist. Harlandale might uproot Edison in the San Antonio district.

Phillips, Stamford, Olton, Childress, Spur, Monahans, Brownfield, Ballinger, Weatherford, Diamond Hill (Fort Worth), Graham, Hillcrest, Terrell, Mt. Peasant, Daingerfield, Jacksonville, Jasper, Ennis, Cleveland, West, Killeen, Cameron, Brenham, Bay City, Alvin, Edna, Falfurrias and Raymondville are top-ranked teams in Class AA. Terrell, the defending champion, isn't rated as strong as last year but there are 15 lettermen and Coach Leon Vineyard admits that his team will be good. He fears Van in his own district.

Wink, which won the Class A championship, has 17 lettermen back and again is to be considered a leader in the title fight. The team lost much of its blinding speed of last season, however, and may find the going rougher this time. Canadian, Springlake, Hale Center, Denver City, Iraan, Sonora, Ranger, Merkel, Crowell, Grapevine, Clifton, Richardson, Whitesboro, New Boston, Edgewood, Gilmer, Gason, Newton, Groveton, Cedar Bayou, Franklin, Hearne, Llano, Luling, A&M Consolidated, Sweeny, Palacios, Crystal City, Devine, Benavides and Lyford are other teams rated of district championship caliber.

Jackie Parker Is Smartest Player On Grid

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP) — Jackie Parker, quarterback of Mississippi State, was picked today as the potential scholarly football player of the year.

Parker led the All-America academic pre-season football squad of 33 players who starred in the classroom last spring and are expected to star on the gridiron this fall.

The squad is the brain child of Lester Jordan, sports publicity director of Southern Methodist University, who made his selections through nominations from newspapers, sports telecasters and college publicists from over the nation.

Parker not only made six A's in his studies last spring but last fall was named the most valuable player in the Southeastern Conference.

Twenty-eight universities are represented on the squad, which includes Dick Chapman, Rice; Melvin Brown, Oklahoma; Bob Kowles, Baylor; Marshall Harris, Texas Christian; Malcolm Wallace, Texas Christian; Darrell Lafiette, Southern Methodist; Dick Curran, Arizona State of Temple.

Those given honorable mention included: Bob Dirmyer, and Harris Cantrell, Texas Western tackle; Don Funk, Texas Tech.

Return Of Platoon System Is Predicted

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry Stuhldreher, one of the immortal Four Horsemen in the Notre Dame backfield, says the two-platoon system of the modern gridiron game will return in a few years.

The free substitution rule was abolished by the National Collegiate Athletic Association last winter. The move signaled the return of the double-duty era in football where a player must stand out on offense and defense instead of specializing in one phase of the game.

But Stuhldreher, quarterback in the Knute Rockne backfield of 1924, doesn't think the new rule will stand for long.

"Just as they once ruled out the fair catch and put it back again, so they will permit the double platoons in the future," he predicted.

The one-time Wisconsin University coach was in town on one stop of a tour he's making for a steel company as a human relations expert.

"Despite the change in the rule we are bound to see this season a much improved game," he continued.

"The reason is the men entering colleges are better than in the old days. They are more intelligent, they travel more and see more. They learn from movies and from television, and schools today are better. In my day, we entered school after following a plow.

"In the old days we had to remember hardly more than two plays. Today a football player has to have the intelligence to keep in mind from 15 to 25 plays. And they do it well, even in high schools.

"I prefer the use of more than one platoon because it enables more players to see action. Even in the good old days of the 'iron players' no man could play 60 minutes at full blast. He had to rest in the game.

"Under the present rule, coaches will have a lot of teaching to do. Since high schools are continuing to use free substitution, most of the players entering college will have to learn to play both ways.

The father of four sons, Stuhldreher said only one of those has enrolled at Notre Dame. He said Coach Frank Leahy at Notre Dame was "quite pleased" to hear that one would be coming to South Bend.

"What position does he play?" Stuhldreher quoted Leahy as asking.

"Tennis," was the reply.

"But we have too many tennis players on our football team already," Leahy said.

Attempt To Organize Bowling League Again

Organization for the men's fall bowling league has begun, according to members of the league, who say they are attempting to get 16 teams entered.

League play will begin about Sept. 15, running 28 to 33 weeks.

Entered so far are Snyder Wholesale and Goss Car Lot, who will meet in a practice match at 7:30 o'clock Monday night, Pasotex and Williams Jewelry, who will be matched at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Sun Oil Co. and Sun Pipeline Co. have both indicated that they will enter teams.

Clarkson And Frazier Close In Bat Race

DALLAS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Jim Clarkson, the slugging Dallas second baseman, edges in on Joe Frazier, the Oklahoma City hammerer, in the battle for the Texas League batting championship—but jolting Jim just doesn't appear to have enough time to make it.

With the race a little more than a week to run, Frazier has a 17-point bulge over Clarkson. The Oklahoma City outfielder dropped eight points during the past week while Clarkson maintained his pace.

Frazier is hitting .347 on 174 hits in 501 times at bat. Clarkson is batting .330 on 132 blows in 400 trips. Seven points back at .321 is Les Fleming, Beaumont first baseman.

Frazier also leads in three other departments—most runs with 102, the most hits and the most doubles with 54.

There are no other multiple leaders. Saturnino Escalera of Tulsa tops in triples with 19, Harry Heslet of Shreveport in home runs with 39 and Russ Burns of Oklahoma City in runs batted in with 116.

The stolen base leader is Forrest Jacobs of Fort Worth with 27.

There appears no chance for the league to have a 20-game pitching winner. The leaders are Red Murff of Dallas and Al Zillian of Oklahoma City, each with a 16-11 record. Wayne McLeland of Dallas and Don Fracchia of Beaumont have won 15 apiece. The strike-out leader is Rinold Duren of San Antonio, who has whiffed 176.

Season Tickets On Sale Here

Season tickets for Snyder High School football games will be available tomorrow morning at the office of Forrest Beavers, county superintendent, in the courthouse.

The tickets actually went on sale last week, when the Rotary Club began sales. The club is selling the tickets, then letting the buyers go to Beavers' office to pick their seats.

Six games will be played in Snyder this season, beginning Sept. 18 when Fort Worth Tech comes here. Other home games will be with Thomas Jefferson of El Paso Oct. 2, Levelland Oct. 9, Lamesa Oct. 30, Big Spring Nov. 13, and Sweetwater Nov. 20.

About 660 reserved seats will be available. The season tickets are $7.20 for the six games. Reserved seats for individual games, which will be on sale during the week of each game, will be $1.25. General admission will be $1.

Southwestern Conference To Open Tuesday

By The Associated Press

The thirty-ninth Southwest Conference football campaign, with Rice, Texas and Baylor in the hot seats, opens Tuesday with smaller squads and less veteran material but is expected to be as riotous as usual.

The seven camps will draw 428 candidates among which will be 143 lettermen. The athletes go through two-a-day practice sessions the first two weeks then taper off for one of the earliest starts in history. Five of the teams have games Sept. 19.

As the uniforms are laid out, physical checkups made and the trainers get in their huge supplies of tape, liniment, et cetera, the finger points to Rice and Texas as favorites for the title, with Baylor a shade behind. Defending champion Texas, with few veteran backs but bulging with experience in the line and with a bright sophomore crop isn't being picked for the title as much as Rice which comes up with a senior team that was a whirlwind in the last month of the 1952 race.

Baylor, with one of the finest backfields in the country and strong in the line but not too deep, is given the nod as the top contender if Texas or Rice falters. Southern Methodist, with 21 lettermen including a flock of seniors, is another strongly rated outfit. Texas Christian is expected to be troublesome but Texas A&M is still rebuilding and Arkansas is virtually unknown, with a new coach and a new system.

The largest turnout will be at Texas A&M where 75 candidates will greet Coach Ray George who has lost 25 pounds this summer worrying, so he says, about Aggie prospects. He will have 21 lettermen.

Sayles Named Head Of Dixie Series

ABILENE, Aug. 29 (AP) — Hal Sayles, president of the West Texas-New Mexico and Longhorn Baseball Leagues, has been named commissioner for the Dixie Series between the winners of the Texas League and Southern Assn. He was appointed by minor league president George Trautman.

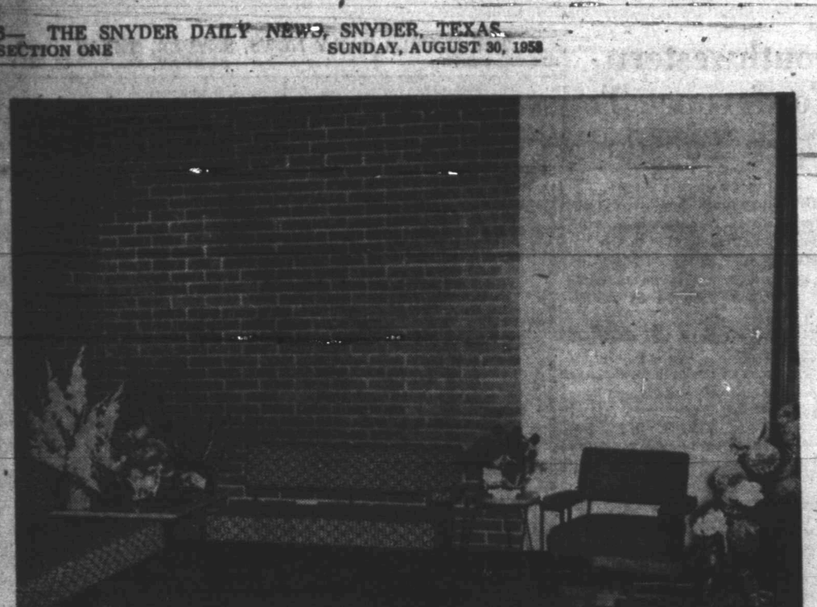
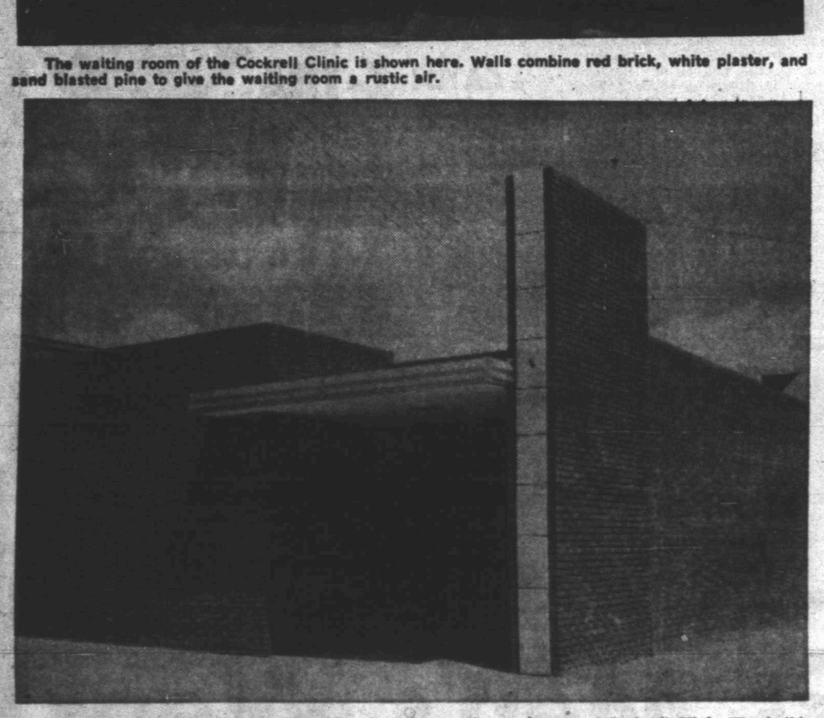
Snyder Doctor Returning To Practice; Opens Clinic Here



The waiting room of the Cockrell Clinic is shown here. Walls combine red brick, white plaster, and sand blasted pine to give the waiting room a rustic air.



The red brick building trimmed in white above houses the newly opened Cockrell Clinic. The building is unique for Snyder in that it has no windows. (Lee Watson photographs)

A new clinic was opened here last week, marking the end of three year's semi-retirement for C. R. Cockrell, 45-year-old doctor who has lived in Snyder 10 years.

Dr. Cockrell is giving up his full-time operation of ranching interests in West Texas to return to his profession. His clinic building is at 2612 Avenue R, a red brick building trimmed in white. The modern-design building has no windows and is owned by H. J. Brice of Snyder.

A general practitioner and surgeon, Dr. Cockrell owned controlling interest in Snyder Hospital (now Battenfield Hospital) for five years from 1945 to 1950. When he took up ranching he sold his interests to Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron who later sold to Dr. John Y. Battenfield.

The nurse is Miss Martha Donald, the clinical technician is George Wall, a new resident of Snyder, and the receptionist and bookkeeper is Mrs. Thomas W. Renfroe.

Facilities of the clinic include a modern waiting room, an office for the receptionist and bookkeeper, the doctors office, four treatment rooms, a laboratory, X-ray room, facilities where patients may rest before or after treatment.

Dr. Cockrell said that no surgery would be practiced at the clinic, but he will practice surgery at hospitals here. Only general medical practice will be done at the clinic.

The building is air conditioned both for winter and summer. It was constructed by Ray Keenan Construction Co.

Dr. Cockrell was born at Knox City, graduated from Abilene high school, took pre-medical training at McMurray College, Abilene, and was graduated from the University of Texas School of Medicine in 1933.

He did his internship at Herman Hospital, Houston, then practiced medicine at Baird for seven years before moving to Snyder in 1943.

In 1945 he acquired a controlling interest in the Snyder General Hospital Corp., an organization of local citizens who had built the Snyder Hospital in 1934. Dr. Cockrell remained at the Snyder Hospital until Feb. 1, 1950, when the Snyder General Hospital Corporation was liquidated and the assets sold.

Dr. Cockrell is married and lives with his family at 2311 Thirtieth Street. Dr. and Mrs. Cockrell have four children, Joan, 18; Barbara Lynn, 15; Charles Ray Cockrell, Jr., 13; and Susan, 11.

Scurry Men Are Due To Be Inducted Soon

Billy Harmon Kimmel, route 1, and Walter Alexander Wells, Jr., 506 Twenty-seventh Street, will be among a group of nine men inducted into the army on Sept. 29.

No other men from Scurry County are included in the September selective service call.

The board now has a total of 4,528 living registrants in Nolan, Fisher and Scurry Counties. Of this number, 148 are less than 18½ years of age. Four hundred sixty-one of the registrants are classified 1-A, and 74 of the registrants have been examined and found acceptable for military service.

Good Terraces Have Withstood Showers

Importance and effectiveness of good terracing was shown in Scurry County two weeks ago when hard rains fell in some parts of the county, according to Jake Hodges, chief of the Soil Conservation Service.

Hodges said that about four inches of rain fell in an area about three miles wide between Snyder and Ira and east to between Snyder and Hermleigh on Aug. 19.

In that area, where the hard rain fell in a short period or time, some terraces washed out, but only the ones that had not been properly maintained. Water ran over some terraces that needed building up, he said.

Hodges and his conservation crew did not see any terraces washed out where they had been maintained as they should be, he said.

Much of the area in which the hard rain fell was "rotten" land with a tight red bed subsoil and loose and sandy top, Hodges said, which washes easily in heavy rain. One area between Ira and Dunn is in that condition, while another near Lake Thomas is much the same, he said.

Such soil needs building with a cover crop that feeds minerals to the soil, the conservation chief explained, adding that both cover and terraces will help to hold water in hard rains. He said that he had seen some feeds still too small to make much grain but that it will make a good cover if it is not grazed or cut too closely.

Farmers in the plains area of Borden County, near O'Donnell, are now planting cover crops on recent showers in that area, Hodges said. He said at least 50 per cent of the farmland in that area has not been planted in anything before because of little rain.

The Dunn area is receiving more rain this year than the immediate Snyder area, Hodges said, while it had less during the last two years.

Figures compiled by Hoyt Murphy, who lives three miles east of Dunn, show that his area has had 12.64 inches of rain so far this year. Crops in that area are progressing better than in many other parts of the county, Hodges said.

Last year, Murphy's area had a total of 8.68 inches of rain, compared to 7.42 in 1951.

Unemployment Down

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—The U. S. High Commission reports that unemployment in West Berlin has been reduced to a new low—221,000, or about one of every 10 residents in the Western sectors. During the 1948-49 Soviet blockade, the number of unemployed was double that.

New Board Of Control Named By Governor

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—A new state Board of Control was appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers today under terms of a reorganization law passed by the 53rd Legislature this year.

Shivers retained only one member of the old three-man board, R. C. (Doc) Lanning.

Other appointees are C. F. McAuliff, vice president of the Texas Tie and Timber Co. and former purchasing agent for the Texas Electric Railway Co., Dallas, and H. M. Lingle of Buchanan Dam, retired purchasing agent of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., Houston.

The board of control is the state's purchasing agent.

Under the new law, the three members will serve on a part-time basis, employing a full-time executive director.

James A. Lands and T. B. Warden, the old members whom Shivers replaced, had voted 2-1 against Lanning this week on award of the state's tire and tube contract for the next year. There had been strong controversy over what company had made the best bid. Lands and Warden favored General Tire and Rubber Co. while Lanning preferred the Pennsylvania Tire Co.'s offer.

Shivers named McAuliff temporary chairman.

In 1952, 739 Belgians were killed and 30,975 injured in traffic accidents.

Woman Killed, 2 Men Injured In Accident

JASPER, Aug. 29 (AP)—A woman was killed and two men, both from Orange, were hurt seriously, in a head-on collision of two cars last night south of Bronson on Highway 196, about 25 miles from here.

Killed was Mrs. Florine Doyle, wife of W. H. Doyle. Doyle, of Groves, Tex., and Mt. Tyne, Ark., was critically hurt.

In the other car were Louis Cooper, 36, and Mendel Shapiro, 39, both of Orange. All were brought to a hospital here but later Doyle and Shapiro were removed to a Beaumont hospital.

This project showed for possible production when drillstem tests were taken in the Fusselman as that formation was being drilled.

No top has been called on the Ellenburger.

Location is 1,911 feet from north and 1,993 feet from east lines of section 32-39-G&MMB&A, 18 miles southeast of Andrews.

Last production tests in this project, which failed in the Ellenburger, were in the Devonian section from 13,010-030 feet and 13,040-060 feet.

During 24 hours of testing, the project made gas at the rate of 150,000 cubic feet daily and 90 barrels of distillate and acid water. After a 10,000-gallon acid treatment through the perforations the project showed gas at the rate of 60,000 cubic feet daily. No distillate flowed out with the gas.

Retainer will be set at 13,000 feet and the Wolfcamp tested above that point.

Location is 720 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 44-101-TC, and 25 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

A Tribute To . . . .
. . . . Back-To-School Day!

Young Americans all . . . they are trooping back to school. The kids. What a wonderful "crop" they are. Sturdy, young bodies and minds. Freckled-faced youngsters and sweet little girls in pigtails. True, they may not all be as enthusiastic about readin', ritin' and 'rithmetic as we oldsters would have them. But, bless them, they'll trudge back to school. . . and one day they'll thank us for washing their faces and packing them off to desks and blackboards. The hope of America lies in these kids. Let's give them everything they deserve. It is their heritage!

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scarborough, left, and Mrs. Herman Doak, right, discuss with Jack Youree, junior high school teacher, some of the problems that will face the PTA this school term. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Snyder, nearest camera, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Alexander, are shown practicing one of the games to be played at the Northwest Elementary School PTA unit's roundup to be held in that school the night of Sept. 8. The social get together will be the first activity of the unit for the year and will afford an opportunity for new members to get acquainted, Mrs. Snyder, president said.

Organization of a pre-school PTA unit is being discussed above by Mrs. E. N. Baker, president of the city council of parents and teachers, with Mrs. Robert H. Hargrove, while Kent Hargrove, 19-months-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Hargrove appears unaffected by all the talk. Mrs. Baker said that backyard playgrounds and story telling for the pre-school age children could be some of the unit's services.

Mrs. Lou Hertenberger, state PTA chairman of recreation, will attend. Attending last week's meeting from left were: Mrs. Myron Roe, Mrs. Bill Teaff, and Mrs. David Harlin. (Lee Watson Photographs)

by Alan Graham

Alan Graham, the American designer who has recently completed the fall collection for the House of Paquin in Paris, designed this dress before he left New York. His original creation was of soft crepe, dramatizing the almost monastic lines and flowing pleats. Wool or mat jersey are other fabric suggestions, but bulky materials are definitely not suitable. The pattern, No. 1124, is available in standard pattern sizes 10 through 16, with size 12 requiring four and three-eighths yards of 50-inch material. To order, send $1 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., Box 535, Dept. 163, GPO, New York 1, N. Y. The new pattern booklet, No. 9, will be included for an additional 15 cents.

Shorter Skirt Lengths Are Starting To Make Headway

PARIS (AP)—In the confusion and clash of opinion over fashionable skirt lengths caused by the "Dior revolution," only one thing is certain: They won't be any longer.

In the first published photographs of the sew models presented by the big Paris fashion houses for fall and winter, the women who will be the customers and the ultimate judges can see today what is happening.

Christian Dior, still the champion in the attention-getting stakes, lifted hemlines several inches above current skirt lengths. After this bombshell, the other haute couture showings were pretty much anticlimax for the writers and foreign buyers chosen to view the new offerings.

Going along with Dior for shorter skirts (actually each must have thought of the idea independently since they keep their designs secret until the shows) were Desses, Fath, Lanvin and Maggy Rouff. But none of these dared go as high as Dior.

Clinging to the old length and defending it as more flattering to most women were Balmain, Balenciaga, Heim, Griffe, Patou and Givenchy. Only Schiaparelli actually lengthened skirts—just a shade.

Two general trends in silhouettes were developed in the latest showing: (1) wide shoulders and narrow skirts and (2) a princess or redingote line with fitted bodice, waist and hips, and flaring skirt.

There also was a surprising use of printed materials, usually reserved for summer, in the winter-wear gowns and frocks displayed.

Of the American buyers, Sidney Gittper of Macy's plumped enthusiastically for the Dior short skirts and bought generously of them, saying:

"It's a real fashion revolution. Short skirts will be adopted in America by spring at the latest."

Mme. Odette Tedesco and Stella Hanania, buyers for I. Magnin of San Francisco, on the other hand, commented:

"We never pick freaks just because they're new."

Elizabeth Fairall of Garfinkels, Washington, and Andrew Goodman of Bergdorf, Goodman, New York, talked freely of the evening gowns and dancing dresses they had bought, but neither had much to say about what skirt lengths they chose for daytime wear.

Hattie Carnegie was frank in stating:

"I don't know whether American women will take to shorter skirts."

Hanah Troy of Hanah Troy, Inc., New York, was anti-short skirts. She said:

"They're uncomplimentary. I was quite surprised and disappointed by the Dior length, but, of course, we'll all buy. We have to."

But Dior claims a new cycle of fashions for women is launched every seven years. (His sensational "New Look" exploded on the women's clothing trade in 1947). He also asserts that women were shortening their skirts on their own several months before he showed his new numbers.

For the doubtful, there is the constant remainder that Dior never yet has presented an unsuccessful line.

Alfred Drake Will Leave Movies Alone This Time

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Alfred Drake, here for a pre-Broadway run in "Kismet," is warding off the movie offers that come his way. He doesn't want to repeat his film fiasco.

Drake presents a dazzling performance [illegible] the Oriental fantasy that will hit New York this fall. The former star of "Oklahoma!" and "Kiss Me Kate" has been talking to a couple of producers about picture work. But he expects to turn down their proposals.

"I like the stage," he explained, "and I think I'm fairly accomplished at it. I don't want to repeat the mess I got into the last time I signed for pictures."

Drake was snapped up by Columbia after he made his hit in "Oklahoma!"

"I was expecting to be drafted," the actor explained. "I thought I had better pick up some easy money before I had to leave for the Army. So I signed. Then it turned out that I was 4F. But I was stuck with the Columbia contract.

"Harry Cohn (Columbia boss) had me into his office. He asked me what kind of pictures I would like to make. I said that I wasn't handsome—I would never give Tyrone Power or those boys any competition. I told him I was at home in costumes. Perhaps this had something to do with the fact that my forebears are Italian or because of a juvenile idolatry of Douglas Fairbanks, Sr.

"I sat for 10 weeks, doing nothing but drawing a handsome salary. Then they told me I was going to do 'Tars and Spars.' They put me in a costume, but it was a sailor's uniform! I looked like a million other guys in the same fix.

"The only good thing in the picture was Sid Caesar. I was awful. After that, I turned down script after script, even though I had no right to do so under my contract. Still they kept me under salary.

"Finally Cohn called me into his office. 'Don't you want to make pictures?' he asked. 'No,' I replied. So he let me go."

Drake went back to Broadway and continued his string of successes. He may have another one in "Kismet." Most of the L.A. critics agreed the show has the elements of success and that Drake is tops on the musical stage.

"The show has reached the point where the people know the changes have to be made, but everyone hesitates to make the first move," Drake observed.

It would appear that he has confidence in the show. He grew his own beard for it, which would seem to indicate he thinks it will last beyond the eight-week tryout in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

"Actually, I grew it for my own comfort and safety," he said. "Having had experience with a variety of beards on the stage, I know how they can itch.

"Besides, I read about a singer at the Metropolitan who swallowed his mustache not long ago. Damned near choked to death."

Borden County Is Really In A Drouth

Scurry Countians believe they have had a bad drouth, but residents of Borden will someday look back to the drouth in the 1950s with wonderment.

In the last two years, beginning in September, 1951, Borden County has had a total of 16.23 inches of rain, as measured at Gail by George Sealy, county agent and official weather observer.

In the same period of time, Snyder has had a total of 27.33 inches, or about 11 inches more, as measured at Snyder by Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, official weather observer.

Last year, Scurry had practically no crops and a total of 15.13 inches of rain, almost as much as Borden has had during the entire drouth period. Borden had no crops and only 7.76 inches of rain last year.

In 1951 Borden had no crops. Figures from September through December of that year show that the county had only 1.66 inches of rain. It had heavier rains from June to August in 1951, but it was too late to aid farmers much.

So far this year, Scurry County has had 9.32 inches and has prospects for at least a small crop. Borden has had a total of 5.07 inches of rain. In the plains area of that county, where most of its farmland is located, farmers did not have enough rain to plant money crops this year.

By months this year, Borden County has had none in January, .61 in February, .64 in March, 1.46 in April, .83 in May, .06 in June, .82 in July, and .65 in August.

Last year, the county had .08 in January, .23 in February, .42 in March, .23 in April, 1.58 in May, .01 in June, one inch in July, .49 in August, 1.53 in September, none in October, 1.39 in November, and .81 in December.

NOT FORGOTTEN

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — In 1895 Charles Montgomery saved the life of J. A. Stewart while swimming in a reservoir. After Stewart had been dragged from the water he thanked Montgomery, telling him he would always remember.

Shortly afterwards, Stewart left to make his home in New York. Recently, Montgomery, now 78, was notified through a bank that Stewart had died — and left him a $500 bequest.

What is a fast pastry that I can prepare for morning coffee? E. C. B.

Cinnamon coffee squares will cook in about 10 minutes. You will need one 1-pound loaf of unsliced bread, ¼ cup melted butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon. With a sharp knife, remove the crust from a loaf of bread. Cut in half, lengthwise. Make a lengthwise cut in the center of each half and divide into eight sections. Do not cut completely through lower crust. Spread top and sides of each half loaf with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Combine sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle it evenly over each loaf. Place loaves on a greased cookie sheet and bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes.

Full Moon Brings Out Some Strange Sides Of Humans

By HAL BOYLE

WOODLAND, N. Y. (AP)—The full moon is often man's enemy in the city.

It stirs in him an old disquiet, an ancient tumult of the blood, and whispers in his heart:

"What are you doing here, city child? How can you breathe in all this steaming concrete? Have you forgotten the feel of the wind on a hill?"

This silent message sends a surge of restlessness through the sad, grownup children of the city. The meekest wives start quarrels with their husbands. The mildest men look around for a cop to pick a fight with. Lovers weep without reason and wonder how long love lasts.

Ask many a veteran police sergeant or bartender what the full moon does to people, and you'll get the answer:

"It makes them crazy. I wish they'd all leave town."

That's not a bad idea. If everybody left town during a full moon and went out to the countryside, all mankind would be happier.

For in the country a full moon is both man's nurse and spiritual adviser. It takes him back home to nature, the lost mother he ran away from long ago and has been homesick in his soul for ever since. it gives him a shining peace, a mystic ecstasy, a sense of being where he belongs, a quiet gratitude for the deep privilege of breath.

So it is with me. And isn't it with you?

The night has a million voices, and it is as if I had an ear for every sound—from a field mouses footfall to every sleepy bird chirp. The moon floods me with a warm feeling of kinship for all the hidden life around men, a brotherhood of darkness and moonlight.

I feel myself a part of them, and yet apart from them, too, as you do when you look down from the Empire State Building at the human ants in the streets. They are the actors in a hundred exciting dramas, and I the only audience.

But in the vaudeville show we call living nobody can stay out of the act long. I heard a familiar buzzing, slapped at and missed the mosquito on my forehead, felt the lump he left.

"That's life for you," I said aloud to the surprised man in the moon. "The innocent bystander always gets stung."

"Then a voice I always obey—well, almost always—called sleepily from inside the cabin:

"Are you going to stay up all night out there talking to yourself? Don't you know that's a sign of age? My feet are cold."

Mrs. Shield Home From Two Months In Alaska

By DOLORES KETCHERSIDE

Mrs. EUPHA SHIELD returned home Thursday from an almost two months stay in Anchorage, Alaska, where the temperature never rose above 79 degrees and stayed around 50 degrees most of the time.

Mrs. Shield, who teaches third grade at central primary school, was visiting there with her daughter and husband, Lt. L. H. SPENCER. Lt. Spencer is stationed at Elmendorf Air Force Base. Mrs. Spencer, the former Mary Jo Shield, is a 1940 Snyder High School graduate.

Although Mrs. Shield didn't go into the far north regions of Alaska where most of the Eskimos live, she saw influences of their customs even near Americanized Anchorage. An Eskimo graveyard, clearly marked with keep out signs, consisted mostly of structures resembling dog houses. Crosses were not plain white ones, but instead carved with designs.

She also saw an Alaskan cache which is a small house built up on poles. There the people store foods so they will be out of reach of marauding animals. But the igloos, prominent in the Yukon days, are obsolete now. Eskimos, like Texas cowboys, don't wear distinguishing clothes but look like anyone else on the street, Mrs. Shield said.

The residents of Anchorage thought they were having a drouth too, Mrs. Shield said shortly after the volcano, Mt. Spurr, erupted, ashes blew about 80 miles to settle on Anchorage. It was worse than any West Texas dust storm and got the darkest it ever got while she was there, she said. During this period no rain fell for about six days, where usually it rains every two or three days, she said. In September the rain turns to snow, she said.

During her stay there Mrs. Shield ate King Crab, the largest ones of which weigh about 10 pounds. They are dropped in boiling water to cook to be used in salads, but are fried like shrimp if eaten alone, she said. Although she was served fresh salmon while visiting there, she prefers it canned.

Most commercial gold mining is done with gold dredges, but there are still a number of prospectors panning in the streams there. Although Alaska is out of the pioneer stage, it is still being developed, she said. Mrs. Shield's brother-in-law is wildcatting an oil well. In some parts of the country oil is reported to be seeping out of the ground, she said.

Anchorage has all the markings of a boom town, but it is trying to cater to tourists by building adequate living quarters, she said. Boat passages, however, must be booked six months in advance. The number of tourists has evidently decreased, since some boats are being taken off the lines, she said.

During the cold months, the inhabitants can ski or participate in other winter sports. In the summer they swim or fish. Mrs. Shield's fishing expedition was cut short because of the number of mosquitos. Although the group had planned to stay two days, they left after two hours, she said.

Included in the souvenirs she brought back is an Eskimo doll clothed with six different kinds of fur. The doll itself is made of ivory. She has jewelry made of copper and another mineral popular there called black diamond.

Mrs. Shield's son, BILL SHIELD, and his family will come to Hardin-Simmons University this fall where he will work on his masters degree in physical education. At present he is athletic director at Scott Air Force Base in Illinois. He graduated from Snyder High School in 1940.

IN CAST

Mrs. J. L. CROW of Arah route came home from her vacation in a cast. The second day she was gone on a trip to visit friends and relatives in Arkansas she strained ligaments in her leg. Although somewhat hampered, she, her husband and two daughters, MADOLYN and GWENDOLYN, toured the capitol grounds at Little Rock.

SEES CELEBRITIES

Persons wanting to shake the hand that shook the hand of the president of the United States can line up at Mrs. ROBERT F. WASSON'S home. When she was visiting in Denver, Colo., last week she was invited to the Cherry Hill Country Club to watch an invitational tournament. There she met President Eisenhower whom she found looking older than his pictures. Secret servicemen were thick at the club. Like other golfers they carried golf clubs, but their bags also held guns and walkie-talkies, she said.

None of the gallery was allowed to take pictures of the president. Celebrities on the green included Bob Hope, Gordon McCrea, Governor Allan Shivers, Governor Dan Thorton, Fred Waring and Phil Harris.

At Central City, Colo., she saw Shirley Booth in the stage play "Time of the Cuckoo."

COMMENCEMENTS

New sheepskins will be displayed in offices in the Snyder school system next term. Miss KATHERINE NORTHCUTT, teacher and annual sponsor at high school, received her masters of education degree at McMurry College Thursday night. At Texas Technological College Wednesday night the same degrees went to two Snyder principals, JOE GLASS and SILAS DEVENPORT, and an Ira teacher, Mrs. GLENN HOLLADAY.

BACK HOME

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McDOW and daughter, ELOISE, returned this week from a vacation in Colorado and Kansas. In Anson they visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. WOOD. Other visitors in the home was a former Snyderite and her son, Mrs. J. H. TRUSSELL.

LAST WORDS

Friday afternoon I put the cover on the typewriter at the Daily News for the last time and left for Galveston where I will report for work on the Galveston Daily News. I hope I find the residents there as friendly and cooperative as Snyderites have been.

JOE DAVE SCOTT was host to a party Wednesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. SCOTT to afford me a chance to say good-bye to a few friends.

Miss MARY ERVIN, lately of the Brownfield News, will be at this desk as of Sept. 8. Mrs. ALINE PARKS and the male staff will be subbing until that time.

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the files of THE SCURRY COUNTY TIMES for Aug. 30, 1928.)

The run-off primary passed off in splendid fashion with very little demonstration until some of the county bulletins were thrown on the screen at the public square Saturday night.

Scurry County people seemed to be interested mainly in but two battles, the U.S. Senate and district judge battles. While Mayfield carried Scurry County, the state vote buried him under an avalanche of votes for Congressman Tom Connally, the winner. Judge Fritz R. Smith had 5,014 votes to Judge Mauzey's 4,250 according to unofficial count.

Borden County, it was announced, held no primary.

FLUVANNA NOTES

Strange and surprising beyond measure is one of the latest fashion fads. The level-headed, thinking person of a modest turn is surprised, astonished even to the point of bewilderment when he begins to wake up to the fact that some high school girls and grown women are beginning to go without stockings. A little while ago it was flesh-colored and invisible hose. It looked then as if that was the limit—especially when the extreme short skirt is taken into consideration. But, alas! The end of extravagance along this line was not yet, and the Lord only knows what the next move in feminine attire—or lack of attire—may be. This recent shock to common modesty and decency is already leading to law suits in some quarters. Surely, if these extravagant fads go much further, we will be getting near the level of the social order of old benighted Africa. What a pity!

Still Another Crack At FBI By Governor

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today the FBI has investigated at least 100 cases in state institutions of Texas the past three years without notifying the proper state authorities.

"And, as far as I know, nothing has resulted out of any of their investigations," Shivers said today in a renewal of his charge earlier this week that the FBI snoops into civil liberties cases without notifying local officials.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover has challenged the statement and asked Shivers for specific details.

The governor said today a specific example was the FBI's entry last year into a case involving a 16-year-old girl who claimed she was whipped at the Gainesville State School for Girls.

Shivers said the FBI went to the school, showed credentials to the superintendent, and made an investigation.

He said he felt the FBI should have given advance notice either to the board responsible for the school's administration, to the governor's office, or to the State Department of Public Safety.

The governor said he couldn't understand the FBI being so touchy about his remarks at Lufkin last Tuesday. He said the panel discussion of FBI invasion of states' rights at the governors conference in Seattle earlier this month was a lot rougher on the federal agency than what he said.

THIS DEER W AS TOO SLOW

This 12-point buck embedded in the wrecked front end of an automobile owned by attorney Prentiss M. Brown, Jr., of St. Ignace, Mich., was the victim of bad timing. He darted in front of the car before Brown could swerve or stop. The deer was killed instantly.

Model Snubs Movie Contract Offer To Become Bullfighter

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 29 (AP) — Beautiful New York models get bitten by many bugs—the stage career bug, the television bug, the marriage with a home and kids in the country bug.

But the strangest bug ever to bite a shapely brunette from the Madison Avenue circuit is what is known down here as "mal de montera." Its victim is stricken by an overwhelming desire to become a bullfighter.

It's the bug which bit 23-year-old Bette Ford, who stands 5 feet 3 and weighs 115 pounds. She comes from McKeesport, Pa.

For four years Bette modeled for a noted bathing suit manufacturer. She appeared in radio shows like "Pepper Young's Family" and "Modern Romances," on such TV programs as the "Jimmy Durante Show," "Texaco Star Theater," "Star Theater" and "Ford Theater."

But she couldn't forget a modeling assignment to Bogota, Colombia, where somebody coaxed her into seeing a bullfight. That was where the bug bit her.

She read all she could about the sport—"art," she calls it. She collected gaudy Spanish bullfight posters and plastered them on the walls of her apartment.

Not long ago she made the big break. She turned down a movie contract and came to Mexico City to study the profession of bullfighting.

A pretty American matador is a ready-made drawing card for the plazas of Mexico. But Bette is refusing all offers until she is certain she's ready.

"I want to be really good before I start fighting," she says.

Her teacher is Alfredo Aguilar, one of the most respected men in the profession. Several others of importance are convinced of her ability and sincerity.

She trains hard, studies hard, visits ranches where she practices with calves and larger animals. Almost daily she and Aguilar work out in an empty ring.

Her teachers think she'll be ready for her first fight in about eight months.

Other American girls have turned to bullfighting recently, though none abandoned a promising theatrical career as Bette did.

Pat McCormick of El Paso, Tex., has been appearing for some time in border rings. She was gored recently, but plans to return to the arena. Mexican matadors are impressed by her courage. Tucson-born Georgiana Knowles made her debut here earlier this month and won cheers. Sloane Simpson O'Dwyer, who got the idea here, has been practicing lately in Spain.

Mrs. True Bowen, an American from Cleveland who has become one of Mexico's most authoritative critics of bullfighting, says of Bette Ford:

"She has the rhythm, the gracefulness, the artistry and the personality of a great matador-in-the-making."

Quite a jump from "Pepper Young's Family."

Government Talks Decrease In Veterans' Medical Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has suggested that Congress consider cutting down on the free medical aid given to veterans for ailments not connected with military service.

Otherwise, says Budget Director Joseph Dodge, the government will have to spend hundreds of millions of dollars more annually to handle a growing number of these cases.

Dodge and Lindsay Warren, comptroller general, asked a House veterans' subcommittee to reconsider "the extent of the federal government's responsibility toward veterans with non-service illnesses."

Dodge suggested that admission to Veterans' Administration hospitals for non-service illnesses be limited to veterans requiring treatment for more than 90 days. This, he said, would eliminate about 60 per cent of the cases now being treated.

Warren suggested that Congress specifically prescribe the illness which would be treated, or that all veterans receiving treatment for non-service ailments be required to pay for the first seven days.

Veterans now obtain VA treatment for non-service illness, when beds are available, if they certify they are unable to pay for regular treatment. They receive treatment for service connected ailments as a right, which is not under question.

Both officials said the present "paupers' oath" for non-service treatment does not screen out those able to afford civilian medical care. Warren said he has uncovered "manifold abuses."

Dodge said there now are 20 million veterans, or about 40 per cent of the adult male population. In time most men "will be veterans," he added, "and the federal government will be confronted with a critical problem in attempting to provide them with hospital care."

Hospital facilities and those nearing completion will have about 130,000 beds, Dodge added. Two-thirds of nearly 100,000 patients now in veterans hospitals, he said, are being treated for non-service ailments.

If the trend continues, the government will have to add another 30,000 beds, at a cost of 600 million dollars, and by 1975 will be paying 700 million dollars yearly to run the enlarged hospitals, Dodge said.

West Germans Hold Election Next Week

BONN, Germany, Aug. 29 (AP)—Twenty-five million West Germans vote Sunday, Sept. 6, in elections deciding who will rule this critical area in the East-West struggle for the next four years.

During those four years such vital issues as German unification and rearmament and Germany's relations with the West and with the Soviet Union may well be resolved. There are those who call it the most important election in Europe since World War II.

Moscow's strategists, determined to wreck Western plans to tie West Germany to the free world, are intervening in efforts to defeat pro-Western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov himself has publicly and repeatedly denounced Adenauer and called for his defeat. The Kremlin alternates with lures and threats to sway the voters.

The Western Powers are keeping hands off the election to name a new 484-member Parliament. But they are clearly anxious 77-year-old Dr. Adenauer, champion of German collaboration with the United States and Western Europe, will be returned to power.

The key man in the election is this poker-faced, stiff-backed old man, who has become a world statesman of the first rank in only four years. When the German federal government was formed in 1949, Adenauer, obscure former mayor of Cologne, became Chancellor (prime minister) by the margin of only one vote—his own.

But so great and so fast has been his rise and West Germany's in the councils of the free world that few people remember that his emergence came on so slender a thread.

Adenauer is the last of the great postwar Christian Democrat triumvirate who conceived and pushed the idea of European unity. Italy's Alcide de Gasperi and France's Robert Schuman have been tossed on the political scrap heap, at least temporarily.

It is Moscow's fondest wish that Adenauer go the same way.

The future status of Germany is the dominant issue in this second national election for the Bonn republic.

Adenauer espouses German alignment with the West as the best method of achieving the hoped-for unification of this divided country and rescuing communist-held East Germany "in peace and freedom."

The No.2 party, Adenauer's powerful Socialist opposition, opposes his program for alliance with the West. Although strongly anti-Communist, the Socialists claim that Western alliance will split Germany forever. They want immediate 4-power talks to try once again to come to agreement with Russia on the unification issue.

This election, to name a new Bundestag (lower house of the federal Parliament), is considered primarily a contest between Adenauer's 3-party coalition and the Socialists.

But for the first time since Hitler lost the war, unregenerate Nazis are making a bid for a political comeback on a national scale. And their clamor is catching eye and ear of the world.

HUMAN COWCATCHER

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Engineer Earl Wahlund saw a calf caught in a fence, with its mother bawling helplessly.

So he stopped his Northwestern Pacific passenger train, freed the calf and arrived here 10 minutes late.

Reprimanded? No, because NWP Superintendent A. G. Bays, who happened to be in his private car on the train, praised Wahlund for his "hunanitarian action."

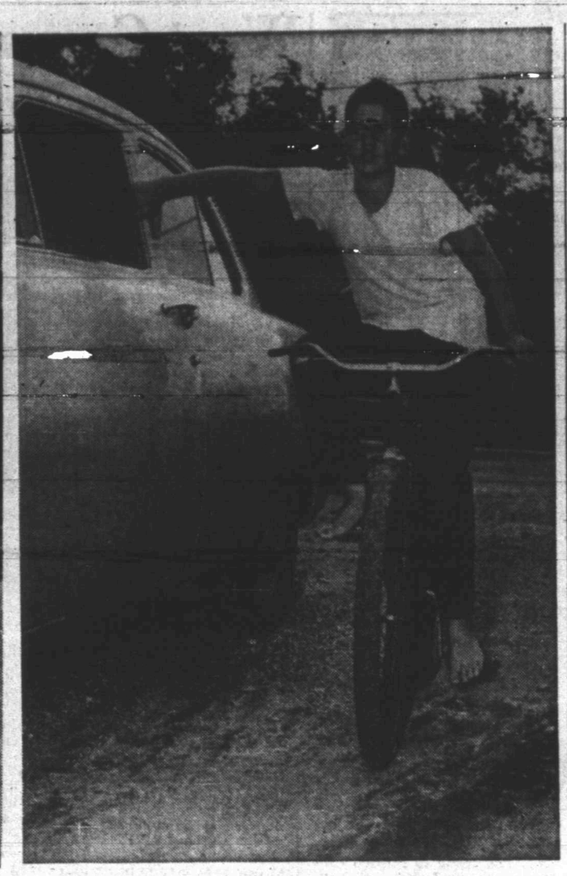
Tommy Thompson here shows one of the bicycle riding tricks that is dangerous if tried on a public street. Thompson said, "Trick riding is all right in an open field, but an accidental fall on a street could be disastrous if a car or truck were passing at the time."

A very dangerous practice every year is demonstrated above. Tommy Thompson, 1010 Thirty-third Street, and Michael Sesemore, 1009 Thirty-third Street, and one that causes many injuries on the handlebars, demonstrate.



One of the things that should not be practiced by bicycle riders is demonstrated by Kenneth Elrod, 1007 Thirty-third Street, above. Hitching free rides by holding to cars or trucks is one of the most dangerous things a cyclist can do.

Man Is Known By His Cooks

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

BELGRADE (AP) — For king or Communist, there's no substitute for a good cook. And even in Redland, rank has its privileges.

Man's mind may be affected by a political ideology. His stomach usually remains impersonal.

That's why here, even in Communist Yugoslavia, the age-old pratice of servant snatching still operates with no holds barred.

Recently Vice President Edvard Kardelj, in charge of foreign affairs, dropped in for dinner at a restaurant frequented by Yugoslav bigwigs.

The meal was excellent, the cooking superb, the sauce divine.

Kardelj called for the cook, a young woman of German ancestry who had learned her spices in various Balkan countries.

A shade short of the usual diplomatic approach, Kardelj pulled his rank. "You will work for me," he said.

The cook demurred. She had a boy friend in the neighborhood, and a contract with the enterprise operating the restaurant.

"It will be arranged," said Kardelj. It was. A van arrived a few days later to collect the cook and her luggage. She was ensconced in Kardelj's kitchen. All was well and Kardelj, as well, was well fed.

Well fed for a few months, that is.

Then the cuisine-proud foreign minister invited Marshal Tito and Tito's third wife, Jovanka, to dinner.

The meal was fit for a king—or Communist ruler. Kardelj beamed, but not for long.

The cook now works in Tito's kitchen.

SANDSCRIPTS

By FRANCES BROOKS

This interview was conducted at 9 a.m. on our back doorstep.

The interviewee, in faded blue denim shorts, was perched on the storm cellar door. Now and then he casually scratched at mosquito bites on his browned legs. His responses were frank and prompt, his interest veering off only once when a striped lizard flipped past.

• • •

I had put down the dust rag when I heard Black Dog yelp. "Goodness, Black Dog hasn't barked so hard since Robin went off to camp." Last week he only snarled once at the septic tank cleaner man. For that encyclopedia salesman his barks were just dutiful ones. No friends calling had been held at bay, half way down the road. We had worried about his growing old and jaded—Black Dog is pure mongrel and so completly common that he's lovable. When my husband brought him home from the office, he wouldn't eat a thing except sandwiches and salted peanuts, which the hands had fed him from lunch pails. Now he's so fully adjusted to family life, he can hide a stew bone under a rock and have fun looking for it for days.

• • •

Sure enough, Black Dog's frenzied roar meant the advent of our 7-year-old neighbor, Robin. Black Dog could only slink jealously around the corner of the house when my boys tore out to escort in the returned cosmopolite.

• • •

"Camp Trojan in Colorado should make a good column—or it if won't, Robin will," I figured, hunting up a black crayon and sitting down with the back of my grocery list to scribble on.

Robin is one to enter into the spirit of a thing.

"I whupt a kid nine and a half," he proffered. "He was little for his age, though," he supplied truthfully.

I clucked encouragingly.

He went on, "My best pal was Jordan Rogers. He's from Beaumont, which isn't around here. It was Bill from De Leon up so much by me. I threw him out of the cabin ten times."

I decided to leave the vanquished Bill bleeding, "Did you do basket weaving?"

"Gees No!" yelled Robin, stung. (I couldn't blame him—that dated me utterly. Camp Fire Girls wove baskets and fried eggs on hot rocks when I was small.)

"Well, what was the Most Fun of All?" I ventured.

"I rode a train going there." He chewed a forefinger thoughtfully. "I believe I had the most fun in the restroom on that train."

I moved on quickly, "What else interested you on the train?"

"Oh, the water fountain," said the traveler whose interests appeared to run toward plumbing. He executed a gleeful aerial jump, just in memory. "I could squirt three straight streams out of my mouth at once. See!"

I glanced into the void. Three missing teeth, all right.

• • •

"Move, Burke, I'm bein' interviewed." He shoved at my two, his hosts, who were hovering over the proceeding, enviously taking it all in.

"What ja eat?" broke in Burke, no longer able to restrain himself. He even stopped stroking his horned toad's belly.

"I had cheese toast every single meal." Burke looked dubious. Robin patiently explained, "I LIKE cheese toast, SEE! Ah, I guess some ate vegetables."

"Me and another fellow cleaned the cabin once ever two weeks, our turn, which is a very hard job."

I prompted, "Did you make the beds?"

"Yeah. We twisted the sheets on pretty tight. It took us all morning on that cabin, which is a hard job."

• • •

After an exciting discourse on gunplay, Bruce pushed him and they loped off down the hill, hooting. "I shot a .22," Robin shrieked over his shoulder, "which takes a steady hand."

"Mother," said Burke, inching up glumly. "Just say in the paper he shot a 21, won't ya?"

HAPPY BATH-TIME . . . With her own bubble bath and soap kit designed especially for little ladies.

Safety Urged Near Schools

"Streets around all schools in Snyder will be patrolled as much as possible by city policemen," Walter Suttle, police chief, said.

Suttle said that it will be impossible to maintain patrolmen at all the schools all the time. For that reason he is asking the cooperation of all citizens in making the streets around the schools safe for the school children, and asking the children to cooperate by staying off the streets except when necessary.

Suttle said that parents should be especially careful when unloading children at school or picking them up after school.

"Be sure that the children leave and enter the car from the right side, nearest the side walk, and park so that the children do not have to cross the street," he said. "Then before moving the car in any direction, be sure that there are no children in the way."

Suttle said that police patrolmen will patrol the streets around schools at the beginning and end of the school day and during the lunch hours, and that speed limits will be strictly enforced around the schools.

Britain No Police State

NOTTINGHAM, England, Aug. 29 (AP)—Superintendent Christopher Williams of the Rynton Police College told a recent meeting of criminologists that Britain has about one policeman to every 650 inhabitants, while in Russia the figure is one to about 80.

Kilday Says Anything Can Happen In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Paul Kilday, Texas Democrat from San Antonio, believes war is not imminent in Europe but that anything can happen in a hurry.

A ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee, Kilday returned to Washington yesterday after an European tour and said there should be no reduction in American forces across the Atlantic.

The San Antonio representative said he still feels that the major interests of this country lie in Europe rather than in the Orient.

D.A. Appointed By Governor

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Appointment of William H. Scott as district attorney for the criminal district court of Harris County, effective Sept. 1, was announced by Gov. Allan Shivers today.

Scott has been serving an elected term as criminal district attorney for Harris County, but the name of his office was changed by the 53rd Legislature. This made the appointment necessary.

Shivers also announced three other appointments.

He named Harold Clark, Odessa industrial engineer, to the Texas Aeronautics Commission for a six-year term, succeeding Virgil Musick of San Angelo.

Dr. Don W. Tobin of San Antonio and Dr. Louis A. Blumer of Amarillo were appointed to the state Board of Chiropody Examiners, both for six years. They succeed Dr. Kenneth L. Rice of El Paso and Dr. Owen C. Murphy of Tyler.

HERE'S PROOF OF PACKARD ECONOMY!

"DON'T LET FALSE ECONOMY FOOL YOU" The original cost of a car does not always mean the complete economy of a car. You have to prove the economy of a car not only the original cost, but the road cost. The mile per mile basis. The new 1953 Packard Clipper is one of the most economical cars in America. It is in the medium price field and is built for many thousands of trouble-free road miles. The up-keep is low compared to other low priced cars. When you purchase a new car, be sure you have all the facts —the original cost, the driving and riding comfort and dependability of the car over many thousands of miles.

"THE NEW CLIPPER" offers you all these in the medium price field. And the trade-in value is more than you think. So—over a period of months and thousands of miles compare the economy of this car with other cars in the low or medium price field. It offers many features found only in big cars. You get all the comforts of big cars and all the enjoyment of driving and riding pleasure at less cost. Don't take our word for it — Come out and get behind the wheel of this "Clipper" and see for yourself, then you can see the difference. "Ask the man who owns one."

Prove It For Yourself -- Come Out And Drive The "CLIPPER"

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newsfeatures

HERE IS A FLEXIBLE plan for what the architect calls a "magic all-purpose house," A folding partition or sliding wall can make the den serve as a fourth bedroom, or allow it to merge with the living room in a sweep of almost 40 feet. Broad picture windows at the front and in the dining room at the rear afford a through view. This is Plan 3247 by William G. Chirgotis, 968 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, N. J. The house covers 1,800 square feet—a convenient figure for rough local estimates.

CERTIFIED BEARS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Wolves may be all right in Hollywood, but a new law will make sure they are not glorified on the California State Flag.

In the past, State Finance Department officials have complained, the animals on the state flag resembled everything from bare-fanged werewolves to cuddly teddy bears instead of the noble California grizzly they were supposed to represent.

So, Governor Earl Warren has signed a bill which says the bears must look like bears on all flags ordered by the state.
