Council, hospital board elections Saturday

When Colorado City and Mitchell County residents turn out for the May 4 election Saturday, they will be considering three positions on the city council and three seats on the hospital district board.

Seats that are up for election on the Colorado City Council are those currently held by Gary Redwine, District 3; A. W. Rowe, District 4, and Patrick Parker, District 6.

Each of the three incumbent city councilmen face challengers in this election. Redwine is being challenged by TDCJ Wallace Unit correctional officer Jim Petty.

Rowe will face two challengers for his seat: community volunteer Leslie Scott, and medical worker Valerie Redwine.

Parker is opposed by Terrilyn Faye Ross, a Mitchell County Hospital lab technician who works at the prison.

All three of the incumbents on the Mitchell County Hospital Board are seeking re-election: Virgil Stone, Dale Geiger and Fred Thompson. They are being challenged for the at-large board positions by Tom Kelly, a Colorado Middle School art teacher and David Alvarez, a Loraine farmer.

Where to vote...

Voters will decide the races for Colorado City council seats and hospital district board positions this Saturday, May 4.

Colorado City residents can cast their votes at the Mitchell County Courthouse for district #3, #4,and #6 city council races and the Mitchell County Hospital District's three at-large board positions.

Loraine voters for the hospital district races will vote at the Loraine Senior Citizens Center. Westbrook citizens voting in the hospital election will cast their ballots at the Westbrook School Tax Office.

MCHD reviews ideas on facilities

...no action is taken

Mitchell County Hospital District board members took no action after reviewing three ideas from an architect for improving the hospital facilities during Tuesday's regular board meeting.

Bob Cox of Cox Designs presented a facilities analysis with cost estimates for renovating the existing hospital or constructing a new hospital to replace the existing facility.

Costs range from $3 million for the minimum renovation project to $5.5 million for a new hospital.

"The first alternative includes what we believe is a baseline minimum project which addresses primarily the basic statutory code requirements," said Cox.

Option one includes new roofing for the entire hospital, insulation, replacing the north wing with a new 18-bed nursing unit, and replacing the x-ray, labor and delivery and emergency room departments. Total project cost is estimated at $3,070,549.

"The second alternative focuses upon remaining at the present site and charts a process for becoming an accredited facility," he explained to the board.

Option two, with some new construction and some renovated space is estimated to cost $3,989,198 for the total project.

The second option includes new construction on a 30 bed nursing unit, labor and delivery, imaging and emergency and outpatient units. The facilities would be in full compliance with the Life Safety Code and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The third alternative would be a replacement facility at a new site with a 30 bed patient care unit. The new site would be able to accommodate future expansion and the inclusion of

Hospital board discusses employee pay raise policy

Tempers flared during Tuesday night's hospital district meeting after a board member questioned why almost 40 percent of the hospital employees did not receive raises last year.

Dale Geiger distributed handouts to board members with figures taken from the Mitchell County Hospital District's Cost Center Analysis records.

A table showed that 84 out of 213 hospital employees did not receive raises from December 29, 1994 to January 6, 1996.

During the same time period, five employees received a one percent raise; 11 received a two percent raise; 17 received a three percent raise and 19 received a four percent raise.

On the other end of the scale, one employee received a 37

CHS band receives Sweepstakes Trophy in Abilene

Senior Wolf Band members have had their sights set on achieving high honors in U.I.L. competition for several years. Last Thursday the 69-member band achieved that goal.

Competing in the U.I.L. concert and sightreading competition at Abilene Cooper High School in Abilene, the band received a superior rating from all six judges in the contest which qualified them for a special award—the Sweepstakes Trophy for 1995-96.

The Sweepstakes Trophy is only awarded to bands who have made first division in all contests held during the year.

The Wolf Band received first division in marching earlier this year and then first in Thursday's competition. Colorado High School Band Director Aaron Lewis pointed out that it has been 12 years since the band has achieved this high level of performance standards.

"They made up their minds to make a sweepstakes program happen and they reached it," he said. "I'm so proud of them. They've come so far in three years."

Lewis explained that the competition is like a TAAS test for music. The judges' evaluations show that they're meeting standards above expectations in their field.

The music selections performed by the band were difficult —so difficult that many college-age bands would hesitate to attempt them, explained Lewis.

The band performed Pentland Hills, a British style concert march by Major J. W. Howe; Castle, Loch, and Heath, a multi-movement Scottish piece by James Ployhar; and Havendance by David Holsinger. Havendance features french horns and alto saxophone sections throughout the piece and is made more difficult by the constantly changing time signatures, said the band director.

The band will perform the award-winning selections as well as popular songs at the end-of- year concert May 9th. The concert will

CIA successful again this year

Christmas In April, held last Saturday, involved around 400 people from throughout the community.

By the end of the weekend many volunteers echoed the feelings of Elizabeth Birmingham, who had led a youth group from St. Ann's Catholic Church in major repairs on the house of an elderly woman.

Despite sore shoulders and paint speckles on her glasses that defied removal, Birmingham said, "It's a wonderfully satisfying feeling to know that your work will make life a little better for someone else."

Jan Lemons, who organized the community's efforts, said that CIA was once again very successful.

"Even with all the volunteers, we wouldn't have been able to accomplish so much without the city, county and professionals who provide so much support," she said.

More than ever before was accomplished as a large number of

Cinco de Mayo celebration is Saturday

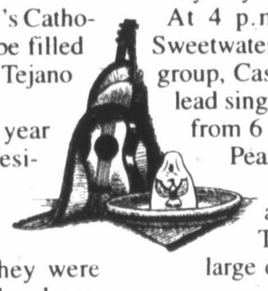

Plenty of entertainment and fun activities are planned for the Fourth Annual Cinco de Mayo celebration this Saturday at Lake Colorado City.

The festivities will begin at noon with an invocation by Father Ray Wilhelm of St. Ann's Catholic Church. The day and evening will be filled with a variety of music, from mariachi to Tejano bands.

"There'll be more entertainment this year than ever before," said Santos Reyes, president of the Cinco de Mayo committee.

Mariachi Flores, a seven piece mariachi band from Lubbock, will perform until 3 p.m. Organizers said they were pleased to have the talented mariachi band perform at this year's celebration.

"Mariachi Flores is known as one of the best mariachi bands in Northwest Texas," said organizer Henry Reyna..

At 4 p.m. a conjunto nortieno band from Sweetwater will perform, followed by a local Tejano group, Castigo. The Tejano band Castigo features lead singer Ricky Molina. The band will perform from 6 to 8 p.m. Centella, a Tejano band from Pearsall, Texas, will perform from 8 to 11 p.m.

Don't forget to bring your lawn chairs and dancing shoes, organizers suggest. Those attending will want to try out the large dancing area which has been built at the

Colorado City council approves $3.6 million budget

Colorado City councilmen unanimously approved a $3.6 million budget during a called meeting Monday despite hesitancy by some council members about the proposed $20,000 day care expenditure.

The city has proposed borrowing $150,000 to construct a new day care to replace the current facility.

"Just because it's in the budget doesn't mean you have to spend it," pointed out City Manager Steve Shutt.

Councilman Gary Redwine, the most vocal opponent of the expenditure, said he didn't like the idea of borrowing the money to construct the day care when it appears that the city would be the only government entity shouldering the expenses.

"It's all priorities," said Redwine. "I'm not opposed to us getting a new day care. It's just that I can't see spending half a million dollars—partly on downtown, partly on the park, the lake, partly here and partly there, and then having to borrow $150,000 to build the day care.

"I agree with Gary. I don't want to have to borrow the money," said Councilman Sammy Contreras.

The Mitchell County Commissioners and Colorado City School Board of Trustees were approached earlier this year about contributing financially to building another day care facility. County commissioners said they would offer dirt work but did not offer a financial contribution. The CISD board trustees said they would have to get legal advice to see if it was possible to spend school dollars when People for Progress, Inc., PPI, would own the building.

PPI in Sweetwater, who operates the day care, have a $60,000 grant to use towards building a new facility.

"I'm going to have a serious problem with the city turning the building over," City Attorney Tom Rees told the councilmembers

COOK'S CORNER

by Sheila Plagens

A couple of weeks ago, I requested that should anyone have a recipe for a chocolate-peanut butter pie, I had a reader who was looking for one. Dixie Bond of Sweetwater was gracious enough to share hers with us.

Some of you may remember Dixie, she and her family lived in Colorado City from 1947 until 1969. Her husband was killed in a truck wreck five miles north of Ballinger in 1969. In 1970, she remarried and moved to Arkansas. She is now living in Sweetwater, close to her oldest son.

She comes to Colorado City often to visit friends. Thanks, Dixie, for sharing your recipe!

Chocolate - Peanut Butter Pie

from Dixie Bond

2	each	egg yolk
1/2	cup	sugar
1/4	cup	cornstarch
3	cups	milk
1 1/4	cups	creamy peanut butter
1	tsp.	vanilla
9	oz. box	chocolate wafer cookies
4	Tbs.	butter or margarine, melted
		whipped topping, for garnish

In small bowl, beat egg yolks; set aside. In medium saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch and milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Gradually whisk 1 cup hot milk mixture into egg yolks. Gradually whisk yolk mixture into remaining milk mixture. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils and thickens, about 5 minutes. Stir in peanut butter and vanilla. Cover and chill until cool, at least three hours. Meanwhile, reserve 4 wafer cookies for garnish. Crush remaining cookies. In 9 inch pie plate, combine crushed cookies with melted butter, press to form crust. Freeze to set, about 10 minutes. Spoon peanut butter mixture into shell. Garnish with whipped topping and cookies. Chill until ready to serve.

"Jobs for Youth" program is seeking employer participants

Responsibility, a strong work ethic and pride in a job well done are three of the strongest values adults can teach the youth of our community. The "Summer Jobs for Youth" program is a means of offering students the opportunity to learn all of these values, but they cannot do it without a commitment from the business people in the community.

This program was highly successful in San Angelo in 1995 and Representative Robert Junell is extending the program to Mitchell County this year.

Local businesses and agencies are being requested to create jobs of at least 20 hours a week, lasting at least six weeks and paying at least minimum wage for students 14-21 years of age.

Letters regarding this project have been mailed to many of the meployers and agencies in the county.

Celebrate MEXICAN HERITAGE ON CINCO DE MAYO

CHIEF LONE WOLF

BY JIM BAUM

From about 1923 until the early 1930s, the Colorado Bottling Company sold soda pops throughout a five-county area of West Texas. The Colorado City-based business was owned by M.C. Ratliff and his son, Harry. What happened to the bottling company and what caused it to cease operation?

Fortunately, left behind is a paper trail of correspondence which was saved by the Ratliffs and has been shared with us by Bob Ratliff, grandson of M.C. Ratliff.

To be sure, the bottling company struggled. Much of the correspondence concerns past due balances from the local bottler. Some of that can be attributed to the economic conditions.

On March 24, 1927, Harry Ratliff wrote one creditor, "With spring and summer business approaching, Mr. Ratliff [his father] will be able to borrow some money...."

Four days later, to another creditor, the Ratliffs were again answering the wolf at the door. "You don't and can't realize the situation that West Texas is now passing through," they wrote. "We received no money for our cotton crop and now the price of oil has dropped."

Adding to the problems of the Colorado Bottling Company was the fact that NEHI, from whom they had a franchise, wasn't satisfied with sales in the allotted territory.

In December of 1926, NEHI wanted to put a plant in Sweetwater, which would have required Colorado Bottling Company to give up some of its protected sales territory.

Harry Ratliff wasted no time responding. He made it clear he wasn't willing to surrender any of his sales area. "[We] have started working [Nolan County] since this Sweetwater highway has been made passable. The truck is in Roscoe today."

Adding to the difficulties faced by the Ratliffs was increased competition from such soft drinks as Coca Cola and NuGrape. "Wish you would rush those 3 x 5 signs," Ratliff wrote to NEHI officials. "I am needing them. Coca Cola and NuGrape are certainly shooting the big signs and to stick up a little sign by the side of theirs makes it look powerful small and sickly."

Also, Colorado Bottling was meeting resistance from some local retailers. "Several merchants in town want to handle it [NEHI], but will not on account of the deposit on the bottles."

After NEHI inquired about taking Nolan County from the Ratliffs, a feeler was made by them about taking the Snyder area from the Colorado bottlers. Explaining that interests in Snyder wanted their own NEHI plant, Ratliff was asked point blank, "Do you want to give them Scurry County?"

Obviously seething with anger, Harry Ratliff fired back. "What's the idea of wanting us to give up Snyder and Scurry County? Where do we gain anything?

"You first ask us to give up Sweetwater and Nolan County, then come back and ask us to give up Snyder and Scurry County."

Ratliff bemoaned the fact that "we have fought, bled and died [for NEHI] and now, when it comes time for the harvest, you want us to step down. We can't do it."

Right back came a letter from NEHI. "Sorry you got so excited regarding my letter," an official wrote. "Don't be uneasy...just let me know your wishes and if you want the four counties in a NEHI franchise, I will make it out [and] send it to you." That was March 20, 1927.

Three days earlier, the Ratliffs had written NEHI asking for a copy of their franchise. There's no record of it ever being received by Colorado Bottling Company.

By July of 1929, NEHI was claiming the franchise of the Ratliffs had been "lifted" for failure to comply with certain terms.

Again, Harry Ratliff started burning the typewriter. "I would like to set you right about the franchise we turned over to your representative, Mr. Patterson." Ratliff stated that the local company had voluntarily yielded its Chero-Cola franchise in exchange for the NEHI franchise.

"We have asked Mr. Patterson several times for [a copy of] a franchise and he always promised he would send it, but to the present time has failed."

After that NEHI wrote a letter, dated January 30, 1930, saying a representative from their company would be coming to Colorado City "to see the matter closed."

Apparently, "closed" was the right word. Thirteen days later, Harry Ratliff was writing a short letter to Imperial Lithography Company, Milwaukee, Wis.

"We formerly bottled NEHI, but are going to put out our own line of beverages and we need advertising such as indoor-outdoor signs," he wrote.

Looking at the file of correspondence, some of which is now almost 75 years old, Bob Ratliff looks at the old letters, then looks up and says, "Granddad lost the NEHI franchise. They took it away from him and gave it to someone else."

The once proud Colorado Bottling Company limped along for another couple of years, then, "rather than fight it, they just closed it out," Bob Ratliff concluded. That was probably about 1931 or '32.

Today, all that remains of the Colorado Bottling Company are two buildings on Oak Street, now painted red, across from Costin Implement Company. And, occasionally an old Colorado Bottling Company bottle turns up. (Colorado Bottling is clearly stamped on the bottle.)

These old bottles are the survivors of a struggle against overwhelming odds. Should you ever find one, hang onto it for posterity's sake—and for its own interesting history.

Farm Bureau to host farm bill briefing by satelite

Farmers trying to make heads or tails of the new farm bill will have an opportunity in a special satellite briefing at the Mitchell County Farm Bureau office, located at 130 Walnut in Colorado City on the evening of May 6.

"Farmers have a lot of questions about the details of the new farm program and how it will affect them," said David Stubblefield, local Farm Bureau president. "The broadcast will try to answer as many of those questions as possible."

The broadcast will air from 7-8:30 p.m. that Monday evening and will include a question and answer session in which viewers' questions will be taken live on the air or read from faxed messages, Stubblefield said.

A brief overview of the development of the farm bill, the Administration's view of the farm legislation and taped comments from key Congressional leaders, including Texas Congressman Charlie Stenholm, Rep. Larry Combest and House Agriculture Committee Chairman Pat Roberts of Kansas will be included.

USDA officials will be on hand to give new farm program details, implementation information and conservation provisions.

"An important segment will be a discussion on what farmers can expect in seven years when the farm program ends, Stubblefield said.

Many Texas Agricultural Extension Service district offices are also serving as viewing sites.

Area farmers interested in participating in the May 6 broadcast may call the Mitchell County Farm Bureau office at 728-3408 for details.

Farmers have one chance to sign up for AMTA

The Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act was signed by the president on April 4, 1996. This act provides for the Agricultural Market Transition Act Program (AMTA) which replaces the Acreage Reduction Program of past years and is quite different.

The crops that are eligible for the AMTA program are wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats and upland cotton. The eligible contract acres will be calculated for each crop using the same formula that has been used to calculate crop acreage bases. The contract acreage calculated will remain with the farm's contract throughout the seven-year contract. The yields will be the established yields that were associated with the farm as in 1995.

Payments will be earned on 85 percent of the contract acreage times the established yield times the payment rate (which has not been determined at this time). The payments will be issued for a participating producer by crop and by farm. A 50 percent advance payment will be issued no later than 30 days after the contract is approved, and final payments will be issued no later than September 30, 1996. The 1995 Advance Deficiency Payments for all programs must be repaid, and will be deducted from the 1996 final payments.

To be eligible for participation in the production flexibility contract producers will be required to certify compliance with the conservation provisions on all their land. Contract acreage (sum of all bases on the farm enrolled in the production flexibility contract) may be planted to any crop except fruits and vegetables, any combination of crops or may be left idle. There will be no restrictions on haying or grazing on contract or non-contract acres on participating farms. The only exception will be on acreage enrolled in CRP.

Fruits and vegetables for harvest may be planted on contract acreage if there is a history of planting fruits and vegetables and an acre for acre reduction in payment will occur.

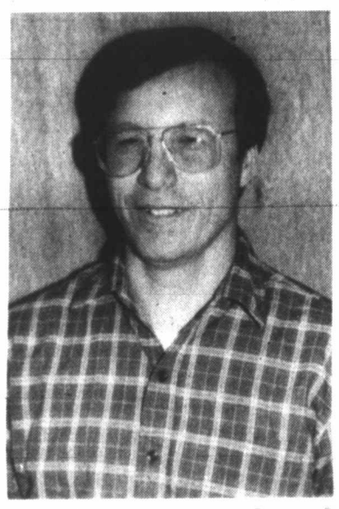

Producers who are eligible to enter into a production flexibility contract may be:

- an owner on an eligible farm who assumes all or part of the risk of producing a crop,
- a producer (other than an owner) with a crop share lease on an eligible farm, regardless of the length of the lease, if the owner enters into the same contract,
- a producer (other than an owner) who cash rents an eligible farm under lease expiring on or after September 30, 2002, in which the owner is not required to enter into the contract,
- a producer (other than an owner) who cash rents an eligible farm under a lease expiring before September 30, 2002.

The signup period will be May 20 through July 12, 1996. This will be a one time enrollment. If you do not enroll the farm during this signup there will not be another chance. The only exception will be if you have an expiring CRP contract, then you will be abe to enroll the expiring acres in a production flexibility contract. All or only some of the farm's crop bases may be enrolled. The contract is a seven-year binding contract; however, revisions for change of producers or shares can be made annually.

Several informational meetings will be scheduled as more information is received. Those with questions may call (915) 728-2651.

Alvarez announces candidacy

David R. Alvarez

David R. Alvarez, a Loraine farmer, joins teacher Tom Kelly as a new candidate for one of the three at-large positions up for election May 4 on the Mitchell County Hospital District board.

Alvarez says that he is running for office because of the important issues currently facing the hospital board. If elected, he says he'd like to see that the hospital continues to be the fine hospital that it is.

Citizens and the board "are having to consider the building of a new hospital which is something that needs to be addressed considering the condition of the current one," he said.

Alvarez has lived in Loraine and the Lone Wolf Mountain area all his life. He attended Angelo State University, spent two years in Monahans and earned a technical degree from Western Texas College.

He is an active member of St. Ann's Catholic Church where he serves on a team that puts on youth retreats for area churches and a committee that oversees implementation of programs for area churches. The committee plans and recommends church objectives for the future.

Besides serving in a leadership role in his church, Alvarez's other qualifications include the business of farming— "running my own business for seven years, starting basically from nothing and building up in spite of the lean years in farming the last few years," he said.

Scott seeks position on Colorado City council

Leslie Scott

Leslie Scott is one of two challengers for the district 4 Colorado City Council seat held by A. W. Rowe.

Scott is a newcomer to the local political arena but has been actively involved in the community since she and her husband, Dr. J. Daniel Scott, moved here two years ago. She and Dr. Scott have three children, 8, 15, and 17.

"My past experiences of teaching and coaching in middle school, managing several businesses, community involvement and parental responsibilities have prepared me for this position," she said.

Scott is active in the Kelley Elementary PTO, Wolves Athletic Booster Club, Band Booster Club and serves as a homeroom mother at Kelley. She is also a member of the C.C. Garden Club and Wolf Creek Ladies Golf Association. She teaches fourth grade catechism and is in the lay ministry at St. Ann's Catholic Church.

If elected, she said her first goal would be "to encourage total community involvement in all community activities and promotions.

"Secondly, I would like to continue to promote the continued beautification of our downtown area, expanding upon that idea and carrying it to our neighborhoods," she said. "Finally, I would vigorously promote the economic development of Colorado City."

Scott was born in Houston and raised in the Dallas/Richardson area. She graduated from Texas Christian University in 1975 with a degree in physical education.

facilities for additional health care programs and services including a physician's office building, said Cox.

Total cost for the new hospital would be $5,513,400 with a 14 month construction period.

The architect firm's analysis on the present hospital found that structural renovations would be required to meet regulatory standards. According to the study, structural columns, beams, walls and corridors would need to be relocated.

Cox also recommended that a hazardous substance survey be done on the present hospital facility.

At the conclusion of the presentation, board members decided to discuss the various options during a called meeting and get input from the medical staff.

percent raise; one received a 32 percent increase; one received a 28 percent increase; one received a 27 percent increase; two received 24 percent increases; two received 22 percent increases and four received 20 percent increases.

"I don't think it's fair to give the high raises to those with upper incomes and keep them from those who make small incomes," said Geiger.

"In some departments nearly everybody got a raise and in some departments nobody got one," he told the board.

Hospital Administrator Wendell Alford countered with a 1994 Texas Hospital Association Wage and Salary Survey to show mean, minimum and maximum salaries for personnel in Texas hospitals with 1 to 49 beds.

Comparing survey figures with salaries earned by MCHD staff, Alford said, "I don't think any of these salaries are out of line for the positions these people occupy."

Department heads recommend raises, explained Alford.

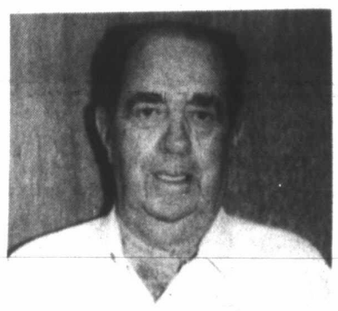

"They range anywhere from two to six percent unless that person has assumed another role or level of responsibility," said Alford. "We try very hard to maintain the wage and salary guidelines that were established by the 1993 board. If the board wants to change it that's fine, but let's change it in the board room not on the street."

Board President Fred Thompson served on the 1993 board. "We opted not to have an across the board raise simply because we wanted to reward excellence and didn't want to encourage mediocrity," he said, adding that the salaries had to be looked at on a case-to-case basis.

Geiger responded that the guidelines "were all right but they're not being followed."

When Virgil Stone said a previous hospital administrator had provided monthly employee records to the board, Alford snapped a copy of the employee salary reports in front of Stone. Kenneth Rogers then questioned Stone on how the records were useful to him.

Thompson closed the discussion by suggesting that the financial committee discuss possible revisions to the wage and salary plan.

A.W. Rowe

Rowe seeks re-election to city council

A. W. Rowe announced this week that he is seeking re-election for the place 4 seat on the Colorado City Council.

Rowe, an antiques business owner, has served on the council for the past two years. He worked for Amaco Production Company for 37 years.

Among his strengths that qualify him for the position, he lists management, budget and project experience.

"Knowing the value of money, how to spend and how to save," he notes are important qualifications for the office.

Rowe also serves as president of the Heart of West Texas Museum; an elder in the Presbyterian Church; past president of the Chamber of Commerce and member of the Kiwanis and Shrine Club.

He and his wife Gene have one son. Rowe was born and raised in Coahama and says he has been a Mitchell County taxpayer since 1961 and bought an older home in the city in 1976.

If re-elected to another term of office, Rowe says he'd like to "see that the projects we have going on are completed." Other goals include "cleaning up the town and helping mke our city grow."

during the discussion.

City Councilman Bob Reily responded that he had met with PPI director Gladys Gerst and believes he has worked out an agreement enabling the city to retain ownership but lease the building to PPI for 30-35 years.

Councilmen Reily and Redwine are members of the PPI board of directors.

Towards the end of approximately an hour discussion before the final vote, Mayor Jim Baum said, "there are some things that somebody has to take a leadership role on. I don't think there would be any plan whatsoever on an improved day care if the city wasn't taking the initiative."

The Mayor added that day care is a continuation of the city's efforts at economic development.

He pointed out that new people moving in, such as prison employees, "say they like the atmosphere and they like the people here and they'd like to stay.

"But we're going to have to give them more reasons to stay," he pointed out.

"If we have day care centers, better recreation facilities; if we have more for them to do, then they're going to be more likely to stay here," he said.

BUDGET REFLECTS PLANNED IMPROVEMENTS

The 1996-97 budget involves major city improvements with no tax increase required for the additional expenses because of revenue from announced increases in water and sewer rates.

The $3.6 million budget is up $520,000 from last year due to water and sewer improvements, said City Manager Steve Shutt.

Shutt pointed out to councilmembers that it was a balanced budget that included ample contingency and reserve funds.

Capitol improvements of $370,000 include downtown, parks and street improvements; civic center and swimming pool repairs; airport construction and maintenance; downtown economic development; and a cemetery water line.

Several of the improvements are partially funded through grants with the city providing matching funds. The $1.3 million downtown development project entails a $200,000 city match and the airport improvement state funded project requires a $47,000 city match.

Major equipment purchases of $179,166 are also planned for the coming year. Shutt said that equipment had not been replaced for many years and employees haven't had the equipment they've needed to do their jobs. As part of a five year plan to replace equipment, the budget includes replacing trash trucks, the animal control vehicle, and one police car as well as other equipment purchases.

Most city employees will receive four percent pay raises Walter Mitchell, parks director, Connie Ponko, city secretary; and Steve Shutt, city manager, will get raises ranging from 10 to 15 percent.

Following Sammy Contreras's proposal Thursday to increase the salaries of city office staff by 50 cents an hour, Shutt said he would possibly be able to increase the salaries without increasing the budget.

state park since Cinco de Mayo was held there two years ago. There has also been additional lighting added for this year's event.

Activities that have been popular during previous Cinco de Mayo celebrations are also on this year's schedule, such as a talent show and children's fishing tournament.

Prizes will be awarded for winners of the talent show and fishing tournament.

The children's fishing tournament will be conducted by the local game warden, Randy Bullard. The tournament will be divided into two age groups—one for children under 12 years old and one for those between 13 and 16 years old. Prizes for the biggest fish and most fish caught will be awarded for each division.

The event will also include children's amusement rides, authentic Mexican food booths and several arts and crafts booths featuring a variety of items from sand art to Selena souvenirs.

Security will be provided by Mitchell County Sheriff's Dept. deputies and peace officers from state parks.

The entrance fee for the Cinco de Mayo celebration will be $8, which includes the fee to enter the state park. One dollar of the fee will be donated to Project Celebration, whose members will be manning the entrance booth; $2 will go to the state park and $5 to the event.

Admission is free for senior citizens and children 12 and under.

There will be plenty of parking available. The parking area adjacent to the festivities was enlarged by Wallace Unit inmate field crews in time for this year's celebration. Parking assistance will be provided by the Mitchell County Explorers Post.

Cinco de Mayo, or May 5, is the anniversary of the Battle of Puebla in Mexico, in which Benito Juarez and his Mexican troops reclaimed their land from the French in 1867.

the 30 homes repaired this year involved major, major rebuilding. There were more roofs repaired than ever before; a kitchen was replaced, and floors were pulled up and replaced.

In fact, the Wallace Unit field crews are continuing to work this week to complete eight Christmas In April houses.

There were only two minor injuries, Lemons said. One was a knee injury and the other required a tetanus shot.

The repairs have meant large expenses for materials.

"Even though we saved lots of money from help such as the prison field workers retrieving used lumber, we still had to buy a ton of supplies," said Lemons. "I'm out of money."

Lemons asked that anyone who has not sent in their donation do so as soon as possible to enable the project to continue operating in the black.

To the taxpayers of Place 4, Colorado City...

A.W. Rowe

During the past 2 years, our city has:

- Increased city reserves by over $500,000
- Replaced 15,000 feet of old sewer line in the city limits. (A $250,000 grant was acquired by TCDP)
- Building a new water treatment plant that will enhance the quality of water and allow the city to operate the facility more efficiently, thus saving taxpayers dollars while improving our water quality.
- Built a new sewer treatment plant that will enable the city to treat our sewage at a much lower cost and will allow our town to grow without spending additional monies.
- Continued to replace the city's old, worn out equipment, enabling the city to do a better job of serving the citizens.
- Continued to make beautification improvements to our parks.
- Put up new street signs throughout the city.
- Began tearing down old, unsafe buildings.
- Started a project to revitalize downtown.

I ask for your continued support. My re-election will assure you, the taxpayer, of our city's continued improvements, thus making this a better place to live and work!

State Board

State SWC board election slated

The regular election of a member to the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board to represent State District Two is scheduled for May 7 in San Angelo, in room 204 of the Houston Harte University Center, Angelo State University. The election will begin at 6 p.m.

The Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, an agency of government, was created in 1939. Unlike many state agencies and commissions whose policy-making bodies are gubernatorial appointees, the state board consists of five elected members.

State Board members are chosen in a convention-type election by delegates from soil and water conservation districts within the state district the member is to represent. Qualified delegates voting in the election must be landowners, reside in the soil and water conservation district they are to represent at the convention and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. Each soil and water conservation district in State District Two selects one delegate to attend the election.

Each State Board member serves a two-year term and represents one of five State Districts. Each member must own agricultural land and be actively engaged in farming or ranching.

State District Two, which consists of 51 counties in the Hill Country to the Western and Trans-Pecos region of the state has 44 soil and water conservation districts within its boundary. Collectively, Texas has 214 SWCDs within its statutory five state districts.

The Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board's chief responsibility is to coordinate the programs of Texas' soil and water conservation districts and assist them to develop and carry out their conservation programs. In addition, the TSSWCB is the lead agency in Texas for programs relating to abating agricultural and silvicultural nonpoint source pollution.

Postal Service food drive set for May 11

On May 11 the Colorado City Postal Service will once again join the National Association of Letter Carriers and the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association as a major participant in the NALC's national food drive.

This is the biggest food drive in the nation. Thanks to the postal people, a record donation of 45 million pounds of food was provided by postal customers for millions of needy families and individuals last year.

The Postal Service is asking the people of Colorado City to place canned goods in their mail boxes on May 11 for pickup by their carriers. The food will stay in the town for distribution to our local needy.

Those who would prefer may drop it off at the post office any time before May 12.

Last year over 400 pounds of food was received. This year the goal is to triple that and surpass Snyder and Sweetwater. The Postal Service asks that we open up our hearts to those less fortunate.

FHA chapters attend Conference

FHA chapters from Colorado High School and Middle School recently attended the 1996 State Leadership Conference in Austin.

Members were challenged to set goals for success through FHA/HERO projects involving creative and critical thinking skills, family communication skills, practical knowledge and vocational preparation.

CHS freshmen Angela Leanos and Amy Farmer placed third in the Interpersonal Communication Star Event.

Megan Merrell and Amy DeLoera, CMS seventh graders, won first place in the junior division of Interpersonal Communication and will compete in the National FHA meeting in St. Louis, Mo. the week of July 6-13.

"We are proud of all our FHA members who competed at regional and state," said Mrs. Judy Merrell, FHA sponsor.

Student art show to be held May 5

The Heart of West Texas Museum will be the site of a special event when Colorado High School seniors Sandy Garza, Alyssa Finley and Virginia "Gina" Wood exhibit their artwork on Sunday, May 5 from 2-5 p.m.

This exhibit is the culmination of four years of art classes at CHS and is part of the requirements for their Art 4 class. The public is cordially invited to come to the art show. There is no charge.

Alyssa Finley is the daughter of Diana and Landus Finley. She has a younger brother, Michael. A lifetime resident of Mitchell County, Alyssa has spent four years at Colorado High School.

She lists her favorite medium in which to work as pencil and her favorite subject for drawing is people.

Upon graduating from CHS, Alyssa plans to attend Oklahoma Christian University and major in art education at the university level and graphic design.

Sandy Nell Garza is the daughter of Doris Fernandez of Colorado City and J.R. Garza of Waco. Sandy has lived in Colorado City for the past nine years and spent her high school career at CHS.

Sandy says that her favorite media to work in are clay, watercolor and pencil. Southwest motifs and tigers are the subjects she most enjoys depicting.

After graduating from high school, Sandy plans to move to Waco and pursue a career in art.

Virginia Elizabeth Wood is the daughter of Marcy Helen Wood. She has three older siblings, two sisters and one brother.

Virginia, better known as Gina, was born and reared in Mitchell County and has attended CHS for four years.

Gina's favorite media in which to work are pencil and acrylics. She enjoys painting and drawing people, animals, plants and "most anything."

Her plans after graduation include going to work in child care.

BRADLEY LOWRANCE with his race car "Little Bit Dangerous"

11 year old "Bad Brad"...

Lowrance enjoys drag racing

Bradley Don Lowrance knows what it's like to be strapped into a dragster, taking the best West Texas has to offer. At only 11 years of age, Bradley is doing what many adults only wish they had the nerve to do—driving a race car!

Bradley began his drag racing career with a bang. In only his first try in the world of competition, he finished second place in a field of many experienced drivers. Not content with runnerup position, Bradley returned to Idalou Motorsports Park near Lubbock to again take on the competition.

He proved that his first time out was no fluke by defeating the entire field of racers. He claimed first place in only his second outing with his "Little Bit Dangerous" dragster. This dragster is not only a winner at the race track, but also placed second in the first car show in which it was entered.

Bradley is a fifth grade student at Hutchinson Elementary. Donny Lowrance, Bradley's dad, has used the racing as an incentive to keep Bradley motivated in his classes—Bradley must maintain good grades in order to compete in his dragster.

Bradley's dad, Donny; his sister, Katelin; and his mom, Laurie, support him in his racing and make bi-monthly trips to Idalou to cheer him on. Bradley is the grandson of S.R. and Bobbie Wilkinson of Colorado City and Doyle and Pat Lowrance, also of Colorado City.

Perkins wins goat showmanship award in San Angelo

Each year for the past three years a Colorado City FFA student has won the senior showmanship award in the goat division of the San Angelo Stock Show.

In 1994 Lesli Turnbow, daughter of Ricky and Brenda Turnbow, won the award and in 1995 and 1996 Carrie Perkins, daughter of Leslie Perkins, took home the award.

Both girls were awarded belt buckles for their showmanship.

FAR RIGHT: 10 1/2" footed 1996 exclusive artisan vase $275

Perfect for Mother's Day, Sunday, May 12.

Becoming a Waterford Master Artisan

The eight long years it takes to become a Waterford Master Artisan require vigorous training in one of the Waterford disciplines - blowing, cutting, or engravin.

The first five years are spent working under the guidance of a mentor - a master craftsman whose skills the apprentice will practice daily to duplicate. At the end of his apprenticeship, a test must be taken to prove that this skill set has been mastered. The apprentice then becomes a "Qualified Master". It will take an additional three years before he truly becomes a Master Artisan.

It takes so long to master the art of Waterford because it is an art. A cut too deep, a breath too short will be told in the vase or bowl that emerges. While exact duplication is never possible - nor desireable - in a product made by hand, perfection of form is.

Waterford crystal is not only the most brilliant crystal in the world, it is the most painstakingly crafted. As each Waterford craftsman has earned the right to be called a Master Artisan, each vase or bowl he produces has earned the right to be etched with the famous Waterford mark.

CHS track teams travel to regionals

The CHS track teams finished a successful season by sending 10 participants (seven boys and three girls) to the regional track meet in Odessa's Ratliff Stadium last weekend.

Although Colorado City had no qualifiers for the state meet, the Wolves and Lady Wolves received strong efforts from everyone who went.

One of those was Aerian Emerson, who finished third in the 200m run and just barely missed going to state.

It was also a good meet for long distance runner Philip Castro and the sprint relay team. Both Castro and the relay team posted their best times of the year.

It was a disappointing meet for discus thrower Tim Edwards, however, as he scratched on all three throws. His best throw of 161" would have earned him a trip to the state meet.

Other results are as follows:

Aerian Emerson, third, 200m dash. Aerian Emerson, Terry Green, Chris Fambro, David Emerson, 400m relay prelims, 32.03.

Tim Edwards, shot put, scratched. Lynn Boyd, discus, 46' 8-1/2".

On the girls side, freshman Wendy Sullivan had a strong showing, placing sixth in the 800m run and 10th in the 3200m run.

Girls results are as follows: Wendy Sullivan, 10th place, 3200m run, 13:18.29 and sixth place, 800m run, 2:35.55.

Lupita Zermeno, 13th place, 3200m run, 13:47.75.

Mica Merrell, 11th place, high jump, 4' 10".

"I'm really proud of everyone who went," track coach Phillip Ritchey said. "We should look forward to next year and use our performance this year as a building block."

The track teams will be loaded next year. Seven of the 10 regional qualifiers are underclassmen.

JV Wolves lose heartbreaker

The JV Wolves have had the Greenwood Rangers' number all year, defeating them 11-10 in both prior meetings.

This time, it wasn't so easy.

It was a pitcher's duel in the early going. Starting pitcher John Erwin pitched a great game, keeping the Wolves in it until the end.

The Rangers scored three runs in the top half of the eighth inning after the game went into extra innings.

The Wolves didn't give up, though, scoring two runs with two outs. The Wolves even had the run on second that tied the game when Armando Rocha struck out, ending the game.

"It was a tough loss," Coach Doug Boone commented, "But overall, I think we played well."

CHS golfers compete in Regionals

The CHS boys golfers traveled to Odessa April 22-23 for the regional tournament.

The Wolves entered the 16-team regional tournament as district champs, but a windy day and a difficult course proved challenging for the CHS golfers.

After the first full day of competition, the Wolves found themselves 26 strokes behind first place Abilene Wylie and tied for seventh place.

The Wolves shot a 341 as compared to Wylie's 315.

On the second day of competition, the Wolves made a comeback, shooting a 327 but it was too late.

Wylie shut the door with an outstanding 198 and Colorado City finished fifth.

"It was just one of those days," Coach Sandra Phillips said. "We did a great job all year long and I think seniors Cole Lindsey and Drew Finch were a little disappointed, but we'll be all right.

We're sitting real good for next year and everyone better look out for us when we go back to the regionals," she added.

Cody Carpenter finished sixth in the medalist standings after shooting a 154.

Cody Thiebaud also did well, finishing in seventh place. He shot a 156.

The Wolves should be in great shape next year. All five freshmen on the JV team have really improved. They will join Cody Carpenter, Cody Thiebaud and Chris Bolin on next year's team. The kids are already dedicating next year to getting to the state tournament.

Whitney Bassham finishes fourth in tennis regional

The I-AAA Regional Tennis Tournament was held in Odessa March 24 and 25.

Whitney Bassham, who had won first place in District 8-3A, represented Colorado High well by placing fourth in the 16-player tournament. This was her first regional tournament.

Whitney defeated Clint 6-0, 6-2 and Dimmitt 6-2, 7-6 (T.B. 7-3). This win placed her in the semis against Breckenridge. Whitney lost that match to the regional champ of last year and this year, 6-3, 6-2. This was Whitney's best match of her career against an extremely strong player.

Whitney played against Regan County and lost 6-3, 6-3 and this put her fourth in the region.

Whitney finished the season 28.2 in 3-A and she is among the top 16 players in 3-A schools in the state.

SPORTS MEDICINE BRIEFS

Are you working out too hard? The answer is just a heartbeat away.

"Your pulse is one of the best fitness indicators, and it can tell you if you're pushing your body too hard," said Dr. John Cianca, a sports medicine expert at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

To use your pulse as a workout gauge, a baseline must be established.

"Each morning for a week, take your resting pulse before you get out of bed," Cianca said. "Count the number of heartbeats in 10 seconds and then multiply by six. Doing this for a week will establish your average resting pulse. It can then be used as a measuring stick."

The ability to concentrate can be improved through practice.

"The successful athlete concentrates on the task at hand and filters out everything else," said Dr. Francis Pirozzolo, chief of neuropsychology at Baylor College of Medicine. "When our minds are focused on the past or future, we cannot be as effective in our present performance."

Concentration involves not only paying attention to what is relevant, but also being able to ignore the irrelevant.

Regardless of the sport, treat some practice or training sessions just as seriously as a competition.

"For example, while warming up by playing catch, baseball or softball, pitchers can work on refining their attention skills by throwing to a specific target," Priozzolo said. "A simple game of catch becomes an opportunity to practice concentrating and increasing accuracy."

"Exercise is key to keeping tendons, ligaments and bones strong, and it can also help people overcome arthritis," said Dr. Sandra Sessoms, associate professor of medicine at Baylor College of Medicine. "Studies show that a walking program for moderately advanced osteoarthritis of the knee can be helpful."

Walking and cycling are both excellent exercises for preventing and treating osteoarthritis, which is the most common form of arthritis. Osteoarthritis takes aim at the joints' connective tissue, such as cartilage, ligaments and tendons. The knees and hips are especially susceptible.

Exercise strengthens connective tissue, making arthritis less likely. Lack of movement may lead to weak tissue and immobility.

Cory Woddell

Cory Wooddell headed to state track meet

Austin is becoming a familiar destination for Loraine sprinter Cory Wooddell.

Wooddell ran a 22.2 in the 200m dash at the Region I 1-A track meet in Abilene last weekend. That time was good enough to earn him a second place finish and another trip to Austin.

Wooddell made two trips to Austin last year as he took fourth in the 200m dash and helped the Bulldogs reach the state semifinals in baseball.

He also competed in four other events and just missed a chance to compete in the 100m dash at Austin as he took third in a photo finish.

Wooddell placed fourth in long jump and high jump, then ran a leg for the sprint relay team.

Here are the individual results:

Event	Length	Place
Long jump	21' 11"	4
High jump	6' 0"	4
100m dash	10.7	3
200m dash	22.2	2

Loraine Bulldogs squeak by Midland Christian

The Loraine Bulldogs squeaked out a 5-4 win in non-district action April 23 against Midland Christian.

The Bulldogs, who lost to Midland Christian earlier this year, would not be dealt the same fate this time.

Loraine scored four runs in the bottom half of the first inning and added another run in the second, which was enough for the win.

The Bulldogs had to survive a late rally from Midland Christian, but Loraine's Bear Cooper pitched his way out of the jam to preserve the victory.

The Bulldogs are now 7-7.

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine.

Who knows what to think of the weather thus far this year?

I wonder if this is a taste of how it will be from this year forward? "Learned weathermen" seem to think there are several reasons for this erratic weather behavior—El Nino, gradual destruction and elimination of rain forests, global warming and wind bearing pollutants caused by man.

Higher food prices are projected (weather-related). We might could help ourselves by planting a vegetable garden, but who knows when to plant one? December or June?

We certainly can't depend on that little varmint, the groundhog. I have a feeling he's laughing at us this year while running back and forth from his winter home in Florida.

It's not so bad, really. We can always wear summer "longjohns" or winter shorts.

Joy Dickenson recently returned from Oklahoma, where she attended her school homecoming.

On Sunday, April 21, Romy Mays from Coahoma visited with his niece, Bea Looney, here in Loraine. Bea said he was 82 years young and heavy on the young!

Rev. and Mrs. James McCloud just recently welcomed a new baby girl into their family. Her name is Lisa Nicole McCloud.

Rev. McCloud was pastor here at Loraine not long ago.

Darlene Hamrick returned to Loraine after spending several days in Oklahoma, visiting with her mother and sister there.

While in Oklahoma, she got the news that she was a grandmother again.

Her youngest son Bryan and his wife Karla had a baby girl born Easter Sunday. She weighed in at 6 lbs. and 2 oz. The parents named her Hannah Elise Hamrick.

Bryan and his family live in San Angelo. Yes, Darlene has already been there and rocked a lot while talking baby talk. She came back with some real cute pictures, too.

This past Friday, Bea Looney had her sister Pat Berry from Lubbock to visit, and also a nephew, Capt. Tom Klies from Germany.

If the big dumpsters downtown on the lots near the post office are any indication of how well the city cleanup went, it went very well indeed. They all appear to be brimming full.

Dwight and Carla Aston and boys of Abilene came to visit Christine Britton Sunday.

Visiting in the home of Millie Rose this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Theo Harris from Pomona, Calif. While here, Millie said they drove around Texas as much as possible and the Californians thought Texas looked good....

Millie also reports that her son Sylvester has finished his tour in Turkey and will be stationed in Oklahoma. Oklahoma is a lot closer to Mom than Turkey.

Kenneth Rose came up to see his mother last week, also.

Last Sunday, Ralston Bruce visited in the home of Ronald and Nelda Bruce, along with their oldest son and his family, dining out and enjoying the day.

The F.C.E. Clubs are sponsoring a book review May 16 to be held at the C.C. Thompson Room.

Refreshments will be served. Everyone is welcome.

Mr. Aaron Dubose from Canton, Texas, along with a friend, visited in the home of Royce and Margaret Mahon last week.

Mr. DuBose is Margaret's uncle.

Our condolences go to the Guerrero family, as Mrs. Ruby Guerrero passed away last Thursday in the Mitchell County Hospital.

Dusty Hall of Austin spent the weekend with his grandmother, Irene Kidd.

While in town last week, Steve, Debbie and Joshua Zabica, along with Kenneth Brame and his wife, invited Margaret Brame, along with the Saturday afternoon spinner domino group, to dine out at Mulberry Manor in Sweetwater to help celebrate several birthdays.

Birthday girls were Margaret Brame, Effie Richburg, Eva Wells, Jimmie Jacks, Amy McKee and Annie Belle Jones.

They all reported having a wonderful luncheon and enjoyed each other's company.

Senior Center News

Last Tuesday night the 23rd of April, the center had an evening makeup meal and once the attendees had eaten, we sat back and enjoyed listening to a gospel quintet from the First Baptist Church, Loraine, along with Heather and Gloria Lucas.

Making up the quintet were Kirby Ellis, Danny Butler, Rick Lucas, Roland Graham and Nancy Ellis.

Vida Mae McDaniel accompanied all the singers on piano.

The singers and the music were wonderful and everyone asked for more.

Some of the song titles were, The Next Time He Comes, Just a Little Walk with Jesus, My God is Real, Learning to Lean, Mansion over the Hilltop, That's the Man I'm Looking For.

Move over, Stamps Quartet!

Please come back and thank you, one and all.

* * *

Aubrey Wilson, along with his Western Band, came over from Snyder to play for us last Friday. We always enjoy their good music and singing.

Visitors to the center lately have been Lavern McKeehan, Juanice Wilkins, Beverly Johnson, Bernice Patterson, Ruth Myers, Maxine and Eugene Welling, Tom Revis, Andrew and Estelle Rivera, Marge Toombs, also Ila Jones, Bernice Curry, Elnora Marber and Vila Evans.

* * *

We are looking forward to having the graduating seniors come down and have lunch with us next week. There are only six this year.

Last Wednesday the attendance at the birthday party day was near 100—not counting homebound deliveries.

Funny Bones

A bee stung my friend's puppy on the nose, and before long his muzzle was swollen. His little eyes were almost shut and it was hard for him to breathe.

I called the vet for her and he advised us to bathe his muzzle in warm soda water. He added, "He will soon feel better."

My friend called the vet back, pleading, "Isn't there something more I can do? He's suffering—would an aspirin help?"

The doctor told her it might help for her to take two and give the puppy one.

Three deaf gentlemen were on a train bound for London.

"What station is this?" inquired the first man, at a stop.

"Wembley," answered the guard.

"Heavens," said the second man. "I thought it was Thursday."

"So am I," said the third gentleman. "Let's all have a drink."

Applications being accepted in Sweetwater

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by the beet armyworm infestations, which occurred from August 1 through August 29, 1995 and continuing in Coke, Concho and Runnels counties, are being accepted at the Farm Service Agency (FSA) office in Sweetwater.

Mitchell County is one of nine contiguous counties in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the disaster.

Farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 3.75 percent.

As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FSA emergency loan. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until October 28, 1996 but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing.

FSA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FSA in Sweetwater is open from 7:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.
