

Loan Bill Compromise Reached

Say Measure 'Strongest'

By BOB ROOKER

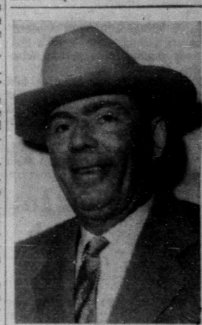

AUSTIN (AP)—A conference committee reached a compromise on the controversial loan shark bill today and reported what one conference called "the strongest bill in the nation."

... $94,500; to increase salaries of county attorneys who also serve as district attorneys; $73,500; $104,538 for the State Game and Fish Commission, and to provide 15 new juvenile officers, $77,350.

Other developments Wednesday: The Senate killed a House bill forbidding a voter to take part in the first primary election of one political party and then switch to vote in the runoff primary of another party.

The Senate refused to consider and thus also killed another House-passed bill setting up safety regulations for house trailers. The Senate passed and sent to the governor a bill allowing galveston, Brazoria and Wichita counties to hold elections on abolishing the county school superintendent's office.

A bill giving some users of natural gas for agricultural purposes the right to appeal gas rates went back to conference committee when the House refused to accept an earlier committee report.

HOWARD GRACEY
Gracey Seeks JP Office

Howard Gracey has announced his candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace in Precinct 1. Gracey has been a resident of this area for the past 18 years, and has been in business in Snyder since 1952. At present he is the operator of the Westex Division of the National Bonded Money Order Co.

Gracey attended Texas Wesleyan College for 2 1/2 years. He is a veteran of three years service with the Air Force, with a portion of that time spent in the Aleutian Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Gracey live at 3309 Austin Place. They are the parents of two teenage daughters, Susan and Barbara. Mrs. Gracey is the former Viola Nachlinger of Hermleigh.

If elected Gracey promised to perform the duties of the office efficiently.

Conference On Cuba Leaves Repercussion

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk headed for Washington today to report to President Kennedy on the hemisphere foreign ministers' conference on Cuba which already was arousing repercussions in Latin America.

The conference split on the crucial issue—immediate action to expel Cuba from the Organization of American States—already reported from conservative to the Argentine government, one of six which held out for a go-slow approach.

Argentina's military chiefs were reported furious at the soft line taken by President Arturo Frondizi's government. They reportedly served him with an ultimatum demanding a diplomatic break with Fidel Castro's regime and support of the next steps in the OAS Council to isolate Cuba from the inter-American family.

Sadler Not A Candidate For Governor
AUSTIN (AP)—Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler announced today he will not be a candidate for governor.

Some observers in Mexico feared the 20-nation condemnation of Cuban communism would spur leftist agitation in that country. Brazilian newspapers were overwhelmingly in favor of the condemnation of Cuban communism but differed on Brazil's refusal to support expulsion of Havana from hemispheric councils.

There was a general expectation of leftist pressure against the 13 Latin-American governments which joined the United States in voting the expulsion move. It was widely believed that the Castro-Communist combine would step up harassment of those governments both for revenge and to exploit the continental nervousness resulting from the 10 days of dispute.

Argentine Stand Under Heavy Fire

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi was reported under pressure from the country's military chiefs today to break diplomatic relations with Cuba and fire his foreign minister because of the Argentine stand at the Punta del Este conference.

Informed sources said leaders of the three armed forces served a virtual ultimatum on Frondizi in anger at the government's refusal to vote at the inter-American foreign ministers conference for the immediate expulsion of Fidel Castro's Communist regime from the Organization of American States.

While officials were silent, informants and the influential newspaper, La Nacion, said Frondizi's crisis may force Frondizi's hand in a wholesale government shakeup.

Father, 3 Children Perish In Blaze

NEW BOSTON, Mich. (AP)—A father and three of his four children were killed today in a flash fire which destroyed their home in this rural southeast Michigan town.

Charles Nutt, 37, his two sons, Charles Jr., 12, and William, 7, and a daughter, Bonnie, 10, died in the flames.

Nutt's wife, Phyllis, 35, and another daughter, Denise, 4, escaped by jumping through a window.

6,165 VOTERS ARE QUALIFIED HERE

SCURRY County's "visible" voting strength for the 1962 elections reached 6,165 before the county tax office closed last night.

'Finland' Is Program Topic For Woman's Culture Meeting

The Woman's Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon at Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. Jodie Eyzum as hostess. Mrs. W. E. Tibbets opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. J. W. Clawson was leader of the program on "Finland". Mrs. M. L. Andress showed a colored film on Turku the first capital of Finland. Mrs. W. E. Doak also participated on the program and said: "Possibly you are wondering why Finland was chosen for study. Our State President asked study on this country. "Most Americans" it seems, know at least two things about Finland: it pays its debts and fights for its independence. Finland is one of the most northern independent nations in the world. "It is the third largest timber area in Europe, exceeded only by Russia and Sweden, the forest industry leads all others. It is divided into two major groups, the wood working and paper industries. "It is one of the copper producers of Europe, and all copper ware is made from domestic ore. This country delivers complete mill designs, saw mills, plywood factories, and other associated wood-working branches. "Also shipped abroad are cranes and trucks, excavators, road rollers, stone crushers, tractors, and all sorts of farm implements. Other things manufactured are lighting fixtures, incandescent and fluorescent lamps, electrical household appliances, measuring instruments and installation materials. "There are good foreign markets for Finnish food stuffs, chiefly cheese and butter. Canned meats and canned fish, such as herring and Baltic sprat are gaining in popularity. Crisp bread is the best known Finnish bread sold to other countries. "Of cotton, wool and sometimes linen raw materials used for textile work, 73 per cent is imported. Among the design products are certain materials which are hand printed, upholstering materials, and different wall coverings. In addition to all these there are carding and spinning mills, lace, ribbon and braid makers.

HIGH WIRE ACCIDENT—These members of the world famed Wallenda circus aerial act cling to high wire after an accident at Detroit, Mich., in which two of the seven members of the troupe were killed. Three male members of the troupe cling to wire and girl who was dropped into net with injuries. Two male members of the troupe not shown were killed. Grim Wallendas Perform On High Wire Despite Tragedy

By A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP)—Their faces grim, Herman and Gunther Wallenda Wednesday night walked the high wire from which two members of the great Wallenda troupe had fallen to death only 24 hours earlier.

There wasn't a sound in the huge state fair Coliseum as the 60-year-old Herman and his son, Gunther, 34, paid their tribute to the show business tradition that the show must go on.

With a substitute aerialist flown in to fill the gap left by death and injury, the two Wallendas performed feats of daring for five minutes above the concrete floor.

As on the previous night, there was no net between the Wallendas and the concrete. Herman and Gunther were the only ones of the seven Wallendas on the wire the night before who were not killed or injured.

Gene Mendez had flown in from Stockholm, Sweden, to be the third man.

All activity in the Coliseum stopped as the two Wallendas and Mendez climbed the poles to the slender wire 35 feet up to do their Shrine circus act.

Mendez was first on the high wire. He was followed by Herman, and then Gunther.

Gunther rode a bicycle across the wire and then teamed with Mendez, a former member of the troupe to carry Herman standing on a cross bar between them. In their finale, Herman stood on his head on the bar.

The three men walked the wire to a platform at one end. As soon as they stepped onto the platform, ending the act, the crowd of approximately 5,000 burst into thunderous shouting, whistling, hand-clapping applause.

Herman rushed to his dressing room. Gunther, remained outside to accept the congratulations of the performers and circus hands who swarmed to him.

The Wallendas have to decide on funeral plans for their dead: Richard Faughnan, 23, husband of the former Jenny Wallenda; and Dieter Schepp, 23, a nephew whom Karl Wallenda managed 10 months ago to rescue from Communist East Germany.

The Faughnans had two children, a son, Tim, 11, and daughter, Lilah, 9. The children were staying with their grandmother in Sarasota, Fla., while their parents were away. Jenny is Karl Wallenda's daughter.

Faughnan had called the high wire the "safest place in the world."

"I'll never die up there," he had assured his step-mother, Mrs. Charles Faughnan of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Schepp's 17-year-old sister, Christina "Jana," was atop the Wallendas' "human pyramid," about 51 feet from the Coliseum's concrete floor, when her brother made the fatal step that tore the pyramid apart.

Karl Wallenda, 56, head of the troupe, and Gunther managed to hang onto the wire and caught Jana as she fell. They held her by the hands until performers below stretched a blanket into a makeshift net. Jana hit the blanket, but bounced from it and suffered a brain concussion when she hit the floor.

Mario Wallenda, Karl's 22-year-old adopted son, plunged to the floor, his fall unbroken. His skull was fractured and doctors described his condition as "very critical."

Karl managed to make his way across the wire to platform, as did Gunther and Herman. Karl later was hospitalized with a possible broken pelvis and internal injuries.

Soviet Has Choice Seat For Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev's journalist son-in-law had a center aisle seat to observe "an ancient American custom"—a presidential news conference.

Then the visiting Russian, editor Alexei Adzhubei, of the government paper Izvestia, held an impromptu session of his own for newsmen who had just finished questioning President Kennedy.

The President opened his news conference with a welcome for Adzhubei and his wife who were seated with newsmen in the State Department auditorium.

Kennedy said Adzhubei, who is also a member of the Communist party Central Committee, "combines two hazardous professions, politics and journalism." He added he was glad to have the Adzhubeis "observe an ancient American custom."

With an interpreter sitting next to them, the visitors listened intently to question and answer exchange between Kennedy and the newsmen. Many of the questions involved U.S.-Soviet relations.

Adzhubei's news conference just happened. He was surrounded by newsmen in the lobby as he left with his wife.

Some of his views:

Agreement may be reached in Laos, "very soon";

Americans and Russians can get together, at least in the area of extending cultural exchanges, if not yet on such knotty problems as Berlin and nuclear testing;

U.S. newsmen should not handle the "great events" he said are now taking place in the Soviet Union in the same way they deal with "the divorce problem of Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller"; and

"We'll see" if this White House luncheon with Kennedy will help ease tensions.

Then with a firm goodby in English, he was off.

But we, of course, are always hopeful and we are making every effort that we can to bring an easing of tensions, and that is why Mr. Thompson is pursuing his course, and that is why we are making other efforts that we can make."

Kennedy Skeptical Of An Early Visit

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today held open the possibility of a visit to the Soviet Union if he can make "significant breakthroughs" in his developing drive to improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

A visit under present conditions of cold war tension probably would not be considered useful by either Washington or Moscow, he believes, but "we are making every effort we can to bring an easing of tensions."

The President discussed U.S.-Soviet relations with newsmen Wednesday in a conference attended by Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev.

Kennedy warmly welcomed Adzhubei to the meeting but pulled no punches in denouncing Communist international activities, particularly in Cuba and Southeast Asia.

Kennedy expressed "satisfaction" at the action taken by the inter-American foreign ministers conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay, in denouncing Cuban communism.

In talking about Southeast Asia, he said the United States has increased its help to the government of South Viet Nam to help it maintain its position against the "subterranean war" which is supported and directed by Soviet-backed Communist North Viet Nam.

The President also expressed hope that Communist aid pro-U.S. forces in neighboring Laos will refrain from renewing hostilities.

Feather-Bedding Deplored By Ike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has called on Americans to "reputate feather-bedding and to glorify hard work at all levels."

Addressing more than 2,000 persons at a Chamber of Commerce banquet Wednesday night, he declared: "Wherever malingering in any group or class is condoned—whether in management, scientist or worker—progress is destined to be slow."

"Adequate leisure is not only desirable, it is healthy for mind as well as body, but unwarranted idleness in any part of the population cannot fail, corresponding, to slow up the rate of growth."

Eisenhower said the public grew suspicious of "make-work" projects—both public and private—during the depression years of the 1930s.

He added: "Later on, in the 1940s, huge demand for all varieties of goods and services led to inefficiency and to neglect of true productivity in work persons. Today, rules are not being in specific indications that we are drifting toward a feather-bed economy."

"In saying this," he continued, "I am not referring merely to the make-work rules adopted by some unions; rather I think we should be concerned with all the practices and trends in fields that may put present affluence above needed accomplishment — that may diminish incentive, stifle competition and, in the name of security, lessen opportunity."

Eisenhower interrupted a winter vacation at Palm Desert, 130 miles southeast of here, for a two-day visit to Los Angeles. He is scheduled to meet with Republican workers today and to address a private $1,000-a-ticket dinner tonight.

In his Chamber of Commerce address, the ex-president traced the development of the republic over the years and warned that "our form of government is still on test, with its long term durability yet to be proved."

Among weakening influences, Eisenhower mentioned "monopolies of any kind, pressure groups seeking selfish advantage at the expense of the whole and lethargy, indifference or ignorance on the part of the public."

He suggested the present might be a propitious time for overhauling laws and practices affecting the nation's economy.

He said laws now on the books were meant "to prevent monopoly, to sustain an atmosphere in which free enterprise can flourish and to foster and regulate labor unions."

"But there are grave doubts," he said, "that the present framework designed for these purposes really fits the problems of today."

VICTIM OF AUTOMATION—Andy West Jr., 36, former pinsetter was evicted from his four-foot galvanized pipe, located on the beach at El Segundo, Calif., that has been his home for the past nine months. West told officer Don Timoney, left, that automatic pinsetters had taken over his profession and he subsisted on odd jobs. Asked why he had been living there he said, "The rent is right. I'm crazy about the view, and I can't stand nosy chambermaids, gabby neighbors and fussy landladies." (AP Wire-photo)

Northeast U. S. Is Plagued By Miserable Cold Routine

February blew into the weather picture in the northeast part of the nation today with the same old dreary, miserable routine as January—snow and cold.

The Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast was unwelcome news for the winter-weary residents of the Northeast and the Great Lakes region: "Below normal temperatures."

The season's coldest weather gripped sections of New England. The icy air extended across northern borders into the eastern Dakotas. Readings ranged from below zero into the teens.

In the Northeast, it was below zero in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and upstate New York. In the Midwest, hammered by severe weather most of the winter, the mercury again fell below zero in sections of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and North Dakota.

The mercury slid to -25 in Caribou, Maine, and in northern Minnesota, it was a crisp -23 in International Falls. It was -8 in Burlington and Montpelier, Vt., and -1 in Lebanon, N.H.

In New York, the low marks included -15 in Massena and -10 in Watertown. Boston, which had its coldest day of the winter

Wednesday with 8 above, warmed to 22.

Snow fell in most of the cold air, which included northern sections of Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania. Heaviest snowfalls appeared confined to the northern Illinois-Wisconsin region with amounts expected to reach three inches or more.

Chicago, which recorded one of the heaviest amounts of snow in history in January with 20 inches, sent out its snow removal equipment this morning to clean streets of the blowing snow. Normal snowfall for January is 7 1/2 inches.

An inch or more of fresh snow powdered most of New York State and the snow belt from the Upper Mississippi Valley to the East Coast was expected to dip southward into the Ohio Valley.

Considerable fog again was indicated in the valleys of the plateau region and along the Pacific Coast. Eleven farm laborers were killed Wednesday night when a Southern Pacific freight train and a bus collided in dense fog at a railroad crossing in Mendota, Calif., 50 miles west of Fresno. The fog in central California was blamed for 37 traffic deaths since Sunday.

Icebreaker Finds It Cold At Home

BOSTON (AP)—USS "Arka," a Navy icebreaker, found herself out of one deep freeze into another Wednesday.

Arka returned to her Boston home port far more heavily iced than a wedding cake.

Members of her crew said Boston's near zero temperature was worse than anything they experienced during a 24,000-mile cruise to the Antarctic on her fifth participation in Operation Deep Freeze. They said Antarctic temperatures usually were about 22 degrees.

Bermuda includes more than 150 islands, only 20 of which are inhabited.

JFK Uncorks New Political Punches

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has uncorked some new political punches that seem aimed at keeping his Republican and Democratic critics off balance.

With Young Republicans holding a leadership conference here and party members staging a series of dinners across the country tonight, Kennedy observed Wednesday at his news conference that he doesn't know "who is giving the leadership direction but I am sure that they will have a varied program."

The President also jabbed at Republicans and Democrats who contend his proposed cabinet-level department of urban affairs will infringe on states rights.

Kennedy said he did not believe such a Cabinet position would interfere with the states. Instead, he said, it would supplement their efforts.

Kennedy added: "There is a responsibility which the states have for various, and each city has, for certain important functions in the light of every citizen, but the federal government also has one."

Republicans also have charged Kennedy with injecting the race issue by announcing he would name housing administrator, Robert C. Weaver, as the first Negro Cabinet member if a new department is established.

Kennedy countered with praise of Weaver. The President said Weaver was "the very successful able head" of the biggest division that would go into such a department. This, Kennedy observed "may have played some part in some decisions in regard to the matter."

Shifting quickly from offense to defense as questions were popped at him, Kennedy defended his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, from attacks leveled by Reps. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, and Bruce Alger, R-Tex.

Gross said that because of his scheduled visit to Moscow Salinger had "emerged as the new secretary of state." Alger called Salinger a "young and inexperienced White House publicity man."

There were always some people, the President replied, who thought that Americans were always young and inexperienced and foreigners always able and tough negotiators.

He got a laugh when he added: "Also, as I saw in the press, it said that Mr. Salinger's main function was to increase my standing in the Gallup Poll. Having done that, he is now moving on."

Cattle Bring Top Prices

FORT WORTH (AP)—Buyers from other states paid the top prices as 43 polled Herefords sold for $33,000 at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Wednesday.

The auction followed selection of a 1,025-pound Angus yearling owned by James Mailander of Wiota, Iowa, as the show's grand champion steer.

Exhibitors from Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas shared prize ribbons in judging of Brahman cattle and a special Hereford heifer division.

In the Texas Polled Hereford Association sale, Tom Lively of Gunnison, Colo., purchased the highest priced bull, JFG Domestic Mischief 384, for $4,000 from Jim Gill of Coleman.

The top female, Gold Crownette, was bought from the E. E. Coleman Ranch of Houston by Frank Croslin of Engleville, Tenn. Thirty one bulls brought $26,145 and 12 females $6,885.

Workentin Ranch of Lawton, Okla., exhibited the champion and Walter Martin and Sons of Chickasha, Okla., the reserve champion in the Hereford heifer judging.

Louisiana State University showed the grand champion Brahman bull, J. D. Hodgins of Hungerford had the reserve champion bull and all the female champions.

Perennial Surplus Troubles Village

CATSKILL, N.Y. (AP)—This Hudson Valley village has a problem many larger communities wish they had: a perennial surplus in the treasury.

A state audit for the years 1958-61 noted: "In each year, general fund revenues were in excess of expenditures, resulting in operating surpluses."

The cause, the audit report continued, was "underestimating revenues and overestimating appropriations."

38 Whoopers Now At Winter Refuge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department reports a record 38 wild whooping cranes have arrived to spend the winter at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas coast.

There are 33 adults and five young birds in the flock. This is two more than the previous high of 36 counted in 1960-61.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"I will bless the Lord at all times; his praise shall continually be in my mouth...O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together!"

Psalms 34:1-3, (read the Psalm)

How many people that you know bless the Lord at all times? And what about you? It is mighty peculiar that we put ourselves on the back and talk about how good we are or how Christian we are, yet how little we really worship and praise Him whom we proclaim.

All I can say is "Brother, you better be prepared to put your money where your mouth is, come the judgement day!"

Bar Association Is Set To Alert Sensible Americans

BY INEZ ROBB
At long last, a rational, nationwide program of anti-Communist education designed to alert and attract the vast majority of sensible Americans, while answering the fanatics of the extreme left and right, is getting under way in the United States.

The influential American Bar Association within the next 18 months plans anti-Communist seminars in each of the 50 states, followed by permanent groups of citizens to foster education in the American heritage and threats to its health and continuity.

Christened "Project Bar Leadership," the program is the baby of the A.B.A.'s Committee on Communist Tactics, Strategy and Objectives. Its initial seminars, in Cincinnati and St. Louis, have already proved a welcome antidote to the "I Spy" Everyman is a Communist. But Mr. Look Under All Beds' approach of semi-secret extremist organizations that even suspect the patriotism of former President Eisenhower.

"Our object is to provide intelligent, sophisticated instruction on Communist tactics instead of polemics," said Whitney North Seymour, immediate past president of the American Bar Association, when I started making inquiry about the A.B.A. plans. "We believe that persons who have studied what the Communists are up to, who are authorities in the field, should serve as instructors at our seminars," Seymour continued. "Our speakers must have an adequate background and the balance to determine where the greatest danger of communism exists. That danger is certainly not from persons who believe in the fluoridation of water!"

"The Communist infiltration of Cuba and Africa and the ideological assault on the rest of the world is a prime danger."

The Richardson Foundation has granted the American Bar Association a sum to support its anti-Communist program.

A spokesman for the Foundation said the grant had been made on the basis that the American Bar Association seminars and continuing work in the anti-Communist field, to intend to confront extremists of both left and right and to "unify the great American middle."

"The A.B.A. is a good group who have interested in such a project," the spokesman continued, "and assures a sane confrontation of the lie with the truth."
Irwin S. Rhodes, prominent atorney of Cincinnati and chairman of "Project Bar Leadership," agreed with the above, adding that "emotional answers" to the Communist menace were no answers at all.

"Our program is intended to be on the highest plane possible," Rhodes said. "We won't have anything to do with distorted views from any direction. We want to put intelligent and factual information into the hands of community leadership."

"This project is only four months old. One of its objects is to promote a teaching program on communism, with a contrast between liberty and communism in action. A brochure on this subject is now in preparation."

In general, local bar associations will be in charge of seminars in their territories, Rhodes said. The present plan is that members of such associations and their invited guests shall attend the anti-Communist lectures.

There are also plans to train volunteer speakers on the subject. Following preliminary seminars for lawyers and invited guests, there is envisioned a wide variety of seminars and institutes for business and professional people, civic leaders, teachers and other interested groups.

At last, a nationwide organization with prestige and manpower is in the field to answer the crackpot crusaders.

Singer Looks Forward To Lullabies

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Andrews, whose bell-sweet soprano has enchanted millions, is looking forward to singing a few soft lullabies to an audience of one.

Then she'd like to build up the audience to two, three, four—maybe more.

"I'd like very much to have some children," she said. "It's very much in the air."
"How many? Oh, I'm not sure. One at a time—but a large family."

Julie won world fame in eight years in 3,000 nights and matinees playing three musical roles—a flapper, a cockney flower girl, and a mother. But her heart now is set on essaying the lifetime offstage role of motherhood.

On Feb. 11 she starts in an NBC-TV special. On April 14 she will bow out of her latest hit show "Camelot," in which she plays King Arthur's wife.

Then she hopes to take a long holiday with her husband, Tony Walton, the theatrical designer, and settle down for a while in the comfortable privacy of being an English housewife.

"I think I'd be a very good cook," she said lightly. "but so far I've never seemed to have the time and just the right ingredients."

Julie came here as a shy and somewhat bewildered unknown in a British musical, "The Boy Friend," in 1954. She won instant recognition, enlarged it immeasurably with her spectacular triumph as Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady."

"So much has happened in those eight years," she smiled. "I didn't know what I was going to be or do."
"I was terribly green. America was an opening door to me. I suddenly began to grow up."

"I sometimes wonder what kind of person I would have become if I had stayed home and lived a quiet village life. I suppose half of me would never have awakened."

But happy as she is with success, Julie's only major production plan now "is the hope of the baby."

Both she and her husband are set on the idea of having a large family.

Earl Warren Jr. Changes Parties
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Earl Warren Jr., son of the chief justice of the United States, has switched his political registration from Republican to Democratic because "I just think the Republican party is drifting away from dad's brand of republicanism."

Warren made the change Wednesday, his 32nd birthday. He said he also timed it so he can work for the re-election of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other Democrats in the coming election. He is a Sacramento attorney.

Earl Warren Sr. was Republican governor of California three terms and was Republican nominee for vice president in 1948.

Junior Editors Quiz on POCAHANTAS

QUESTION: Whom did Pocahantas marry?

ANSWER: Pocahantas was an Indian girl, the daughter of the Indian chief, Powhatan. Legend says that when she was a young girl about twelve, she saved the life of Captain John Smith, the leader of the settlers in Jamestown, Virginia. Pocahantas often visited the white settlement, until Smith returned to England in 1609. Then she married an Indian tribesman, and wasn't seen for the next three years.

During this time, war broke out between the Indians and the colonists. Pocahantas was captured in April, 1612, and held as a hostage by the Governor of the colony. In 1613, she was converted to the Christian religion and baptized with the name of Rebecca. In April, 1614, she married John Rolfe, the first white man to discover a method of curing tobacco. This marriage made the Indians friendly towards the whites, and brought peace to the colony. Two years later, Pocahantas and Rolfe became the parents of a son, Thomas. Afterwards, they went to England, and Pocahantas was introduced to society as an American princess. A year later, the Rolfes were ready to return to America. However, Pocahantas became ill on the way and died in Gravesend. Her son moved to Virginia when he was a young man. Some of his noted descendants are the Randolphs of Virginia and Edith Bolling Gault, the wife of President Wilson.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up the rescue of Captain John Smith in your old history books. How many versions do you find?

(David Martinook of New Britain, Conn., wins $10 for this question. Mail your question in a postcard to Junior Editors, in care of this newspaper. If duplicate questions are received, AP Newspapers will select the winner.)

Gradual Change Is Noted In Kennedy

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—There's a slow change in President Kennedy. He's becoming more aggressive, more politically active, more determined and, perhaps, more self-confident.

This has shown up in his dealings with Congress last month and at his news conferences. He held his third of the year Wednesday. How much change there is should become clear these next few months.

This evolution in the presidency could be Kennedy's response to criticism that he was following too easy a course. Last week's decision that, having tried mildness, he'd do better being tougher.

All through 1961 he acted very much like President Eisenhower. Careful not to needle or needle his political opponents in Congress.

Say Request For Probe Out Of Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Home Loan Bank board's 1958 probe of the Alice, Tex., Savings & Loan Association, a lawyer said Wednesday.

Thomas Creighton, the board's general counsel, said the matter should first have been referred to his office. He appeared before a House Government Operations Subcommittee.

Creighton said the decision to ask FBI help was made by H. H. Chestain, the board's chief regional examiner in Little Rock, Ark., and examiner Gottlieb Schmoeker, also of the Little Rock office.

The request, the subcommittee has been told, was made at a time when board examiners were investigating operations of the Texas association.

Creighton and other board officials have appeared before the subcommittee in its investigation of policies and procedures followed by the agency in relations with the savings and loan association in Alice and elsewhere.

The subcommittee has received complaints from some associations that board examiners harassed them in enforcement of board regulations under which they must operate.

William Butler, assistant U. S. attorney at Houston, and Dan Kennerly, a Houston lawyer who held a similar post during the Alice probe, also testified.

Kennedy said the FBI failed to substantiate some of the complaints voiced by Schmoeker, to the effect that he encountered personal difficulties in Alice while trying to carry on his investigation.

East Texans Make Pitch

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Seventy-three members of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce were hosts to about 60 Milwaukee businessmen at a luncheon Wednesday.

C. Truett Smith of Wylie told the guests East Texas is not trying to take any industry away from Milwaukee. Instead, he said the group was trying to familiarize Milwaukee industrialists about Texas so they'll have the facts when times comes to tap this growing market with a branch plant location.

Fred Pool of Longview, executive vice president of the East Texas chamber, narrated a slide show on the resources and growth of the area.

Harry Hoffman, president of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the visitors and told them: "It is our fond hope, of course, that you will not leave town with several dozen of our major employers committed to a wholesale movement to Texas."

Hoffman commended the East Texas chamber, and said his organization is studying similar plans with the hope of interesting businessmen in other sections of the country on the advantages of Milwaukee and Wisconsin.

(in his case the Republicans) or precipitate quarrels. This nice approach, as it did with Eisenhower, paid off handsomely in public opinion. Polls showed both men extremely popular.

But the basic question remained: Does a president get the most done being nice all the time? It had been suggested last year that whenever a president shows a willingness to compromise he winds up having to compromise whereas the real role of a president is to lead, even if it means making enemies.

This was pretty much accepted as Kennedy's reasoning in 1961: Although his Democrats have a big majority in Congress, any time the conservative Southern Democrats team up with the conservative Republicans the balance of power shifts and the President is stopped cold.

By this reasoning it could be understood why in 1961 he refrained from making good, for example, on his 1960 campaign promise to offer civil rights legislation as one of his first acts as president.

If he had pushed for civil rights in Congress, it might have angered the Southern Democrats and jeopardized some of his other programs.

As late as the last days of December in Palm Beach men who talked with him there reported he still indicated reluctance to have a head-on clash with Congress over civil rights.

They also reported: He was reluctant to hit Congress with a reorganization plan to create a new department of urban affairs and housing, preferring to let Congress in its own slow way handle the problem in the form of the usual bills.

Under the reorganization plan method—once he offered it—he would simply go ahead and create the new department if, within 60 days, neither House nor Senate by a majority vote opposed it.

And those who talked with him also said he was reluctant to tear into the Republicans—although this is a congressional election year—at least until this session of Congress ended and the campaign had begun.

Before the end of January he had done just the opposite on all three. Reversing his do-nothing performance on civil rights legislation in 1961, he has now openly backed it.

He has thrown his reorganization plan for a new urban affairs department at Congress. And he has started ripping into the Republicans for trying to block a reorganization bill to set up the department.

All these moves were a switch in tactics. Both Southern Democrats and Republicans started crying in protest.

What really counts in all this, of course, is not just these preliminary steps by Kennedy but how much follow-through he's willing to give when a little later this year in Congress the going gets lots rougher.

It's too soon therefore to say he has now decided as a fixed policy that a much tougher line is the better part of wisdom. But at least there has been a beginning.

Ruling Party Of Italy Is Turning Left

By PIERO DE GARZAROLLI
NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Italy's ruling Christian Democratic party swung to the left today in a move to give the country a new government backed by Pietro Nenni's Socialists, former allies of the Communists.

The Christian Democratic party congress, after five days of debate here, voted on Premier Amintore Fanfani's plan to scuttle his middle-of-the-road government and replace it with a center-left cabinet that could win Socialist support for a more vigorous domestic program of economic, social and school reforms.

The resolution put before the party delegates, although approving the "opening to the left" Fanfani has urged since 1956, pledged the party to maintain Italy's pro-Western foreign policy as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It also rejected any move toward outright communism or fascism, declaring that any government backed by the Christian Democrats would work in full independence of every totalitarian influence.

The rightist faction of the Christian Democrats conceded defeat in advance by accepting only 22 of the seats on the party's national council. The rest went to backers of the opening to the left.

"Don't be afraid," ex-Premier Mario Scelba of the rightists told the congress majority. "Wherever you go, we shall go for the sake of party unity despite the fact we disagree with the (Fanfani) line."

The Christian Democrats are the largest party in Parliament but do not have a majority, and Fanfani since August 1956 has headed an all-Christian Democrat government backed also by the Republicans and Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists on the left and the Liberals on the right.

Fanfani now hopes to form a coalition cabinet of Christian Democrats, Saragat Socialists and Republicans which in the words of the party resolution "could be assured the direct or indirect support" of the Nenni Socialists.

Fanfani's plan is that the Nenni faction will have no seats in the cabinet but will back the government on domestic issues and abstain on foreign policy votes.

It was a major switch for the Christian Democrats whose first great postwar leader, the late Alcide de Gasperi, threw the Socialists and Communists out of his government in 1947. The Socialists split and Nenni's larger party worked with the Communists until the Hungarian uprising of 1956, when Nenni turned his back on Moscow.

The rightist faction of the Christian Democrats, opposing the alliance with Nenni, put forward a rival resolution noting that the Socialists still worked with the Communists in hundreds of local governments. The resolution also asserted that the Socialists' neutral foreign policy favored the Soviet Union in the long run.

Suggs New Chairman Of Mo-Pac

HOUSTON (AP)—J. T. Suggs of Dallas will succeed Russell Dearmont of St. Louis Feb. 22 as chairman of the board of the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Suggs is president of the Texas & Pacific Railway Co., a part of the Mo-Pac system. He will retain that post and continue to reside in Dallas with offices in Dallas and St. Louis.

The board members met here Wednesday while on an inspection tour of facilities in Texas. They went to Corpus Christi and the lower Rio Grande Valley today.

Missouri Pacific President Downing Jenks said Dearmont's resignation was accepted with reluctance. Dearmont will be 71 on the date it is effective.

"Fortunately, the board has had the benefit of his counsel, advice and dedication for a year beyond his 70th birthday, and he shall now continue to be of great service as a director and executive consultant," Jenks said.

The board elected C. Jackson Maurer of St. Louis controller, Mark Henneley of St. Louis general counsel, and William McDowell of Dallas general counsel for the railroad's Southern lines.

Directors also approved expenditure of $1,881,000 for 95 freight and mail storage cars.

A 60-cent dividend was declared for each share of Class A stock, payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 18.

Jenks said the recent freeze in the Rio Grande Valley has caused a downward revision of an anticipated 6 per cent increase in carloadings this year in that area.

"Because of the weather, we must anticipate several thousand cars less this year from that region," he said.

Vessel Is Turned Over To Ethiopia

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A U.S. Navy seaplane tender converted at a cost of $3 million into a state vessel for Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie has been turned over to the Ethiopian navy.

The USS Orca, renamed the HMS Ethiopia, was delivered to Prince Alexander Desta, a grandson of the emperor, at the San Francisco Naval Shipyard Wednesday. Desta, 27, is deputy commander of the imperial Ethiopian navy.

The ship will be commanded by Norwegian Capt. Rolf Henningsen who said the HMS Ethiopia will sail next month to join six other ships given to the Ethiopian navy under the U.S. mutual assistance program.

Romantic Dancers To Seek Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Veloz sued Yolanda for divorce Wednesday.

The romantic dancers, married since 1928, have appeared in ballrooms and night clubs around the world.

Frank N. Veloz brief complaint charged extreme cruelty. It said community property exceeds $250,000, and added that Yolanda should have custody of their minor children. Their children are Nicholas, 21; Anthony, 18; Yolanda, 16, and Guy, 12.

The "old city" section of Jerusalem belongs to Jordan. It is a third of a square mile in area.

Yardmaster Is Arrested

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—A railroad yardmaster was under arrest Wednesday because a train blocked a crossing so long that a girl was born in her parents' waiting car.

Mrs. William Blankenship, 28, gave birth to the baby Tuesday night while her irate husband was trying to get police to clear the crossing so he could get his wife to a hospital.

The baby was taken to a nearby fire station, and the switching Indiana Harbor Railroad train also delayed the ambulance called to take mother and baby to St. Margaret Hospital.

Mainstreet said the crossing on Susy Calumet Avenue was blocked 42 minutes, and Robert Mansell was charged with blocking a crossing.

Wins Race With Stork

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Filipino star Donald O'Connor dashed from work to St. John's Hospital early Wednesday arriving in time for the birth of his fourth child.

Work was 300 miles away — in Las Vegas, Nev.

After finishing his first show at the Sahara Hotel Tuesday night, O'Connor received word his wife had gone to the hospital. He found a replacement for the second show and booked a plane flight. He arrived as his wife was being wheeled into the delivery room.

It was a boy, Kevin, 7 pounds, 11 ounces. The O'Connors also have Alicia, 4, and Frederick, 2, and he has a daughter by a previous marriage.

Well-Muscled Pair Involved In Robbery

NEW YORK (AP)—The pair who held up a vending machine firm Wednesday and escaped with $4,500, had to be well-muscled.

The robbers lined up the manager and employees of the Coleman Vending Machine Co., and then struggled off with the loot—all in nickels, dimes and quarters.

WINS HOUSE SEAT—State Senator Ray Roberts and Mrs. Roberts give a victory sign at their McKinney, Tex., headquarters after he won the U. S. House seat of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn. Roberts, a Democrat, won over R. C. (Bob) Slagle Jr., of Sherman, Texas. (AP Wirephoto)

Co-Champion Horses Picked

FORT WORTH (AP)—Judges found two animals so evenly matched they named co-champions in the open cutting horse contest at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Monday.

The winners are Booger Red, a sorrel gelding owned by Manuel Kulwin of Chicago and ridden by John Carter, and Poco Mona, a bay mare belonging to Choupique Ranch of Orange and ridden by A. J. West of Sulphur, La.

Both are registered quarter horses. Third place went to Red Sulphur, owned by West and ridden by Dub Dale.

In competition among cowboys, interest centered on the steer wrestling. Buddy Bramwell, a Marlow, Okla., Negro, jumped into the second go-round lead with a 6.8-second clocking Wednesday night.

Former world champion bulldogger Benny Combs of Chickah, Okla., and Bill Feddersen of El Reno, Okla., went ahead temporarily on identical times of 8.5 seconds in the afternoon.

Film Producer Is Out Of Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film producer Mervyn Leroy went home Wednesday from Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Leroy, 61, was admitted to the hospital Sunday night after collapsing at a banquet honoring Los Angeles Dodgers President Walter O'Malley.

A hospital spokesman said Leroy apparently fainted from fatigue.

Wind Erosion Is Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that 244,930 acres of land in the 10-state Great Plains area have been damaged in recent months by wind erosion.

This is comparable to the number of acres damaged during the same period a year ago.

Damaged areas included 197,292 acres of cropland, 41,958 acres of range and 5,680 acres of other lands, the department said.

About 91 per cent of the damaged land was in the Northern Great Plains states, where the percentage of damage was larger than in former years. The largest acreages were in Montana and North Dakota.

The department gave these state estimates of the total acres damaged:

Montana 105,340 acres, North Dakota 71,000, Nebraska 25,750,

South Dakota 5,940, Wyoming 14,000, Colorado 2,000, Kansas 400, Oklahoma 1,000 and Texas 19,500.

There was no listing of land damage by the 10 counties in New Mexico making reports.

The department said 4,620,836 acres were in condition to blow. Emergency tillage was applied to 88,500 acres. Such treatment probably was applied to many more acres, the department said, but many counties did not include this information in their reports.

Phone now... save 1/3 with station-to-station

Keep in touch the easy, personal way. You can telephone more often by taking advantage of low station-to-station rates. Just call the distant number instead of a particular person. Why not call someone tonight?

FAST, EASY WAY TO CALL: Give the operator the area code number for the distant city you want to call... next, the number you're calling... then wait. When the operator asks, give her the number you're calling from.

Call by number... it's twice as fast
