

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

STLAND County's citizens are pretty healthy, according to Dr. George W. Cox, health officer, who reports the results of the recent chest x-ray program, that a total of 5,987 chests were examined in Eastland County. This number, 240 persons notified to see the family physician for re-checks. Their pictures have turned up things that suggested a need for complete check. Some 78 showed evidence of non-tuberculosis but something that needed further checking.

TWO GIRLS who won top honors at Cisco High School this year will be offered scholarships by Southwestern Methodist University, according to our scouts. Miss Scripps and Miss Anita Carlin to Dallas on Tuesday to play tennis for the school. Scripps is a pianist and Anita plays the violin.

EXCITING summer programs for Miss Lovel Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. When she finishes the year's work at TWC, Fort Worth, she will go to work in a summer camp at the big lake country of Minnesota. Her grandmother owns Pike and trout fishing camp.

THE PRESS is going to be full of pictures of one of these before long. Mr. Shy Osborn, picture shooter, has just completed a baby contest. And he has the babies are just about the prettiest people he has ever seen. We're having engravings of the whole bunch — over a hundred. And we'll be having by edition pretty soon.

MR. JESS Proctor hands us a copy of a chaplain's address to the graves of marines who died at Iwo Jima. He thinks everybody ought to read it. It is before us lie the bodies of comrades and friends — men until yesterday or last week, and with us, joked with us, and with us.

Men who were on the same ship with us and went over the side with us. Men who fought with us and feared with us. Someone in this plot may lie the one who could have discovered the cure for cancer.

Under one of these Christian graves, or beneath a Jewish Star, David, there may rest now a man who was destined to be a prophet, to find a way for the world to live in plenty.

Now, they lie here silently in sacred soil and we gather to create this earth to their memory. To speak in memory of men is not easy. . . . These men have done their job well. They have paid the ghastly price of freedom.

If that freedom be once again as it was after the last war, the unforgivable blame will be on them. So it is we, the men who are here to be dedicated and consecrated. We state ourselves first to live like the way they fought and died in this war.

When the final cross has been set in the last cemetery, once again there will be those to whom profit is more important than peace, who will insist that it is better to trade with the enemy of mankind than, by crushing them, to lose their profit. To you who sleep here silently give promise. We shall not forget that if you were burnt with oil, came from American wells, many of you were killed by the fashioned from American oil. We promise that, when once men seek to profit at our expense, we shall remember how you looked as we placed you reverently in the ground.

Out of this will come, we promise, the birth of a new freedom for the sons of men everywhere.

Nine Sears Pigs To Be Given To County Club Boys

Nine Eastland County 4-H Club boys will receive registered Duroc Jersey pigs in the 1950 Sears Foundation pig program Saturday, May 20. The presentation is to be made at 10 a. m. at Fireman's Field two blocks north of the square in Eastland, according to Ed Steel, assistant county agent.

The Sears Foundation has sponsored this program for several years in the county. Each boy and his father sign a contract agreeing to feed and care for the pig properly according to instructions from the county agents office, to show her in the county show; to breed her to an approved boar at the proper time; and to return the best gilt of the litter to the program to go to another boy in 1951.

Chronic Diseases Present Biggest Health Problem

AUSTIN, May 18.—State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox believes chronic diseases represent the biggest problem facing health officials today.

Recent statistics compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health show:

1. One-third of all deaths among 15 — 29 year olds are due to chronic disease, with tuberculosis being the leader.

2. "Well over half" the mortality in the 30-40 age group is due to chronic disease, with heart trouble, cancer and tuberculosis being the leaders.

3. "Almost 8 out of 10" deaths in the 45-59 bracket are caused by this disease classification, with the proportion rising to 85 per cent for those 60 to 74 years old.

4. For those 75 and over chronic diseases cause 82 per cent of the total mortality. The slight decrease in percentage over age 75 is because of the high susceptibility to accident, pneumonia, and influenza among the aged.

"When chronic disease is mentioned, all too many people think of the problem as being confined to the middle-aged or older," the health chief said, adding that such an idea was not consistent with the facts.

The term chronic, Dr. Cox explained, means the opposite of acute. When applied to a disease, chronic means of long duration. That would mean cancer or tuberculosis is chronic, while smallpox or poliomyelitis is acute.

"The significant thing," Dr. Cox indicated, "is that the chronic disease classification cause one-third of all deaths among young people in the 15 — 29 age bracket."

"Obviously, that makes the teen ages the first age at which the diseases assume a major mortality role."

Student Admits Other Robberies In Texas Cities

James A. Houghton, 24, Ranger Junior College student, has signed a statement admitting participation in some ten Eastland County burglaries during the past year, Sheriff J. B. Williams announced today. The ten robberies included that at the Cisco Lumber & Supply Co. last November.

The man was captured by the sheriff's office after he robbed the W. V. Gardenhire residence here several months ago. He was sentenced to five years in the Texas Penitentiary in 91st District Court in Eastland on charges of burglarizing the Gardenhire residence Wednesday.

Sheriff Williams said the cases in which the collegian had admitted participation were robberies, as follows:

Cisco Lumber & Supply Co.
Star Dry Goods Store, Ranger.
Ranger Junior College.
Globe Clothiers, Ranger.
Sims Tobacco Co., Ranger.
Joseph's Dry Goods, Ranger.
A&P Grocery, Ranger.
Golden Oak Feed Mill, Gorman.

Carbon Trading Co., Carbon.
Pipkin Grocery warehouse, in Eastland.

In addition to these, Sheriff Williams said the youth had admitted taking part in some 20 other robberies in the Panhandle and Central and East Texas. He has not as yet implicated others in the crimes, the sheriff said.

Beside the case in which he was convicted this week, Houghton will be tried on others in the county before being released to authorities in other counties, the sheriff said. Seven months will probably be required to clear up all the cases and conduct trials in them.

Two others were arrested with Houghton after the Gardenhire robbery. One of them, Thomas Bruner of Dallas, was given two years on a guilty plea in 91st District Court and has been turned over to authorities at Anson for prosecution on robbery charges there. The third, a 16-year-old boy, was released to probation authorities at Dallas.

Sheriff Williams said that his office has another man under arrest for investigation in connection with the robberies.

Houghton has lived in Ranger most of his life and is married and the father of four children, Sheriff Williams said. He is a veteran of World War II and had been attending Ranger Junior College for some time.

TRIBUTE TO AN EDUCATOR -

Stephenville, May 18 — Dean Emeritus J. Thomas Davis lies at rest today. Across the street from his beloved campus underneath a grove of trees Tarleton College's much loved dean is at peace. He suffered a heart attack at dinner Friday evening. He died at 9:20 p. m. in his beautiful brick home which he built when he retired as head of Tarleton. He had just turned 70.

Rufus Higgs called Dean Davis Stephenville's No. 1 Citizen. He liked that. Even as recently as last week he met with a committee investigating the possibility of a surface water system for Stephenville. Only a few months ago he led a successful county drive for polio funds.

Nor did he confine his benevolence and interests to Tarleton, Stephenville, and Erath County. He gained state and national renown. For two successive terms he was president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and in 1942 he was named Top West Texan of the Year. He was known throughout the South as an educator.

Many persons will long remember Dean Davis for his kindly advice. Students, faculty, friends, alike frequently consulted him on personal problems; and always from his vast wisdom he gave solace and cheer.

After his retirement from administrative duties, Dean Davis became a familiar figure in the college recreation hall and in the nearby cafes, where over a cup of coffee he liked to visit. There, to students, to faculty, to friends, he talked of current questions, of his home, of his family. Often he spoke to his wife, to whom he attributed his success, and of his children — Willson, a fruit and vegetable dealer in San Antonio; William, head of the department of government at Texas Tech; Dorothy, wife of an Eden banker and ranchman. He loved, too, to talk of his grandchildren, Linda Lee and Willson Davis, Jr.; Jim Tom II, Carolyn and Donald B. Davis; Dorothy Anne and James William Green. He looked forward always to the summer, when it was customary for all of the Davis grandchildren without their parents to spend two weeks in the Davis home.

Never too old to be young, at the age of 65 Dean Davis bought a motor scooter and took to selling insurance along with his teaching duties. In his classes in current events, always filled to overflowing, he used the latest teaching techniques.

In his little black bow tie, as much a part of him as the shaggy eyebrows and erect carriage, the dean looked the great man that he was. It was not his rise from a poor Georgia farm boy to a college presidency nor his achievements as a college administrator, nor his books and articles, nor his speeches that made him a great man. For within himself he was great.

His last public appearance was in the beautiful college auditorium which was built during his administration. At an assembly, at which the college yearbook was dedicated, Dean Davis spoke of the spirit of Tarleton College. From the stage, where so many times he had addressed Tarleton assemblies, he told of the two college organizations whose purpose is to create Tarleton spirit. In the same auditorium Sunday afternoon his friends gathered for his funeral. It was a simple ceremony in keeping with his wishes. The flowers were beautiful. It would have pleased him to know that many faculty and friends, instead of sending flowers, gave to the J. Thomas Davis scholarship fund and that the Campus Cops and Maintenance Men made up a private fund for their dean, under whom many of them had served half a lifetime.

Rev. M. Marshall Smith, friend and pastor of the First Baptist Church, of which the dean was a member, offered a prayer, read the dean's favorite scripture, and said a few words. The choir sang two of his favorite hymns. Then to the strains of his favorite songs, "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" and "The End of a Perfect Day," his friends said goodbye. He was carried across his beloved campus, green and clean from the rain the night before. The flag flew at half mast. Across the street in the cemetery, where late that day he was to have dedicated the chimneys, Tarleton's beloved Dean Davis was buried.

An adult humming bird weighs less than an ounce but requires much more oxygen than a man.

Methodist WSCS Has General Meeting At Church Tuesday

Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met at the church Tuesday in a general meeting with Mrs. John Shertzer presiding. The meeting opened with group singing of "I Am Thine, O Lord," with Mrs. Claude P. Jones playing piano accompaniment.

The meeting was then turned to

Mrs. J. T. Anderson, program chairman, who presented Mrs. Philip Pettit, leader of the program, "God in Families." The song, "Faith of Our Fathers," was sung following which Mrs. C. A. Shockey read the scriptures used in the devotion which were Psalm 127, Deuteronomy 6: 1-13; Luke 24. The song "Happy the Home When God Is There," was sung by members preceding the meditation by Mrs. Shockey. Silent prayer was offered by the group and was closed audibly by the leader.

Mrs. Pettit discussed "Changing Family Throughout the World;" Mrs. W. M. Joyner told of "Changing Home in China and Christian Marriage;" Mrs. Clarence Moon gave the topic, "Educating the Family in a Christian Home in Africa;" Mrs. Joe Lovelady told of the "Evangelical Movement in Latin America;" after which Mrs. Pettit gave a summary of the program and spoke of the Christian Home Movement in which the church and home should work together. Mrs. Pettit closed the summary with prayer after which the group sang the Doxology.

A short business session was conducted by Mrs. Shertzer; and Mrs. B. J. Osborn was asked to adjourn the meeting with prayer. Those present were: Mmes. Joe

Cancer Society Cites Two Cases Cure From Early Treatments

HOUSTON, May 18.—The American Cancer Society, Texas Division, today cited two cured cancer cases as evidence that the No. 2 disease killer can be cured by early and thorough treatment.

One of the cases was that of J. V. Hopkins of Victoria, who had cancer many years ago. He was bothered with a sore throat. The condition persisted. He wound up with a diagnosis of cancer of the vocal cords.

He was operated on, he lost his voice. If not, the cancer would spread and he would have but a few years to live. He chose the former course. In 1929 was operated on in Orleans.

After the operation he tried to talk, but it was almost impossible. He thought of giving up his practice, but his brother physicians surrounded him. "Go ahead," they said. "See your patients. Write them notes." And that is what he did.

Finally, Doctor Hopkins found that if he would swallow air he could bring it back up and make a slight sound. He was enormously uplifted when that happened. He began saying the alphabet. "It has almost every sound you use," he explains.

Soon he was forming simple words. Then came the time when he could pronounce a two-syllable word.

Now and then he would trip on a word. . . think of the word, but he was unable to pronounce it. So he would pause, swallow and think hard — until he thought of a synonymous word.

In time other doctors sent patients with vocal cords removed to him.

"I saw a man who lost his vocal cords, just like you did," they would tell their hopeless patients. "See a man who taught himself to talk."

So they came. They would find Doctor Hopkins waiting in a room full of patients. He would be bustling around, cautioning them, talking in a rasping off-times hesitant, voice — talking successfully without his vocal cords!

Then, there is the second case: Four years ago doctors told W. E. Archer of the Texas Employment Commission in Austin that he had cancer. A malignant growth had developed in his vocal cords. Only removal of his larynx would save his life.

The operation was performed in August, 1946.

But later, he had to undergo a series of follow-up operations.

"If I had known anything about cancer and had gone to the doctor earlier, I might have been able to save my larynx, says Mr. Archer. "At least I wouldn't have found it necessary to have lots of surgery."

"The first sign of cancer of the larynx with me was hoarseness. I had been hoarse about six months and did nothing about it."

But Mr. Archer was treated, and he is now back at the employment commission leading a normal life. And he is talking again — handling claims and settling them.

Both Doctor Hopkins and Mr. Archer recommend that anyone falling victim to cancer of the larynx or vocal cords should seek adequate treatment immediately.

"Give the doctor a chance to do something about cancer," says Mr. Archer. "It can be cured, if you let him catch it in time."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Courtney went to San Angelo Sunday and visited their son, A. A. Courtney, in celebration of Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Mosley went to Abilene Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Opal Blackstock, and spent Mother's Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Blackstock.

Since there are as many different kinds of abstracts as there are companies producing them it stands to reason that some may be better than others. Main Points to consider are: Plant equipment, experienced personnel and the degree of responsibility behind the abstractor's certificate. A combination of these factors will give the customer reasonable assurance that he will get a dependable abstract.

NEWS FEATURES OF THE DAY

THIS LITTLE PIG'S GOING TO MARKET—Mrs. Tommie Brown, left, and Mrs. Paula McCord heave on a clothesline lasso they used to capture this 200-pound pig, ending his months-long reign of destruction in Atlanta, Ga. The wayward porker had been overturning garbage pails, rooting up lawns and chasing some residents, but the two local heroines managed to turn him right over to police.

UNHAPPY GOODBYE—When Pat Proctor, a supervisor at the Children's Pets Corner of the London, England, Zoo, left her position, she had a sad parting with Ricky, a three-week-old lamb. Ricky, a special favorite, didn't think he'd live to get over the shock.

COOL BRONZE—Bronze nylon organza, pleated from top to bottom, makes this cool and youthful cocktail dress by French designer Alwyn. The slim waist is accented by a wide patent leather belt in black, with the tucked-in bunch of orange marigolds. The dress is in the current fashion which features pleats.

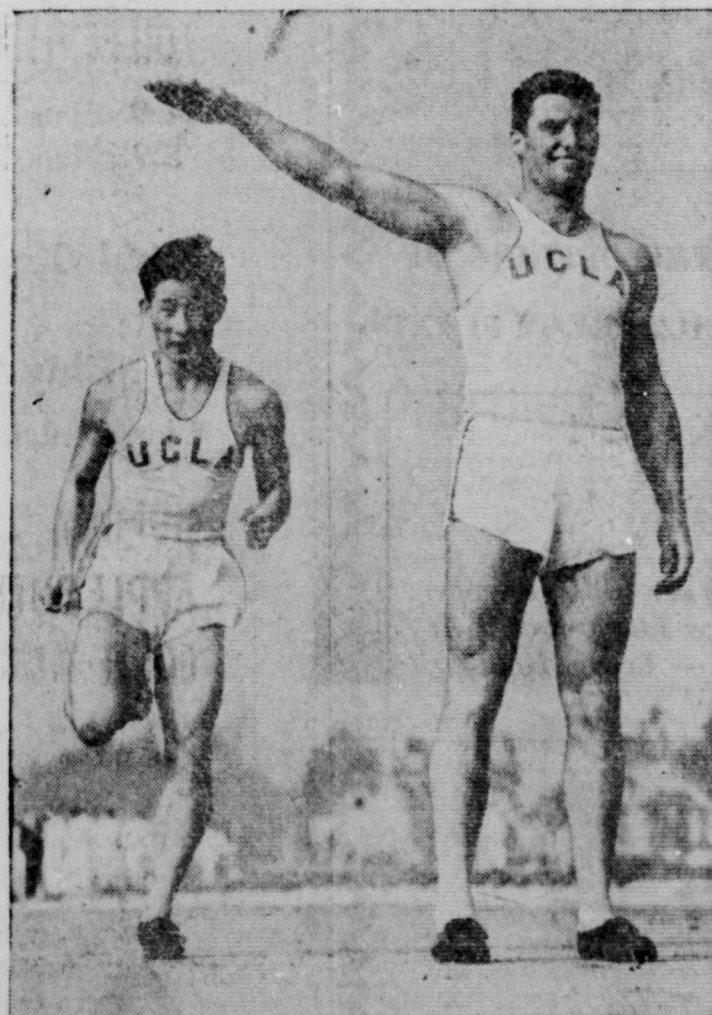

SHE'S DADDY'S GIRL—Sgt. K. Collins of the Royal Army Medical Corps, sweeps his three-year-old daughter, Ann, up for a dockside reunion in Southampton, England. Back from Hong Kong, the soldier arrived aboard the troopship Empire Orwell, which brought troops back from Far East duty.

LOOKING THINGS OVER—Cornelia Bonaffon, two, left, had been on a visit to her family home in Atlanta, Ga., and Patricia Ann Branson, four, of Gaspar, Wyo., was going to visit grandparents as they arrived at Southampton, England. Cornelia's father is a railroad official now living in London.

A REAL "SEE" DOG—When little Alberto Svevo, of Brazil, and his sea-going dog, Brandy, arrived in New York, they didn't intend to miss anything of interest as the boat docked. The tot and the family pet had been on a trip to Trieste, Italy, and perhaps they're just showing their eagerness to get back home.

LONG AND SHORT OF IT—Now that six-foot-three Bob Wilkerson, right, UCLA's 1950 All-American end candidate, is running on Ducky Drake's Bruin track team, he has a new running mate, diminutive five-foot-five Bob Watanabe, in Los Angeles. Last year, Wilkinson established himself as the greatest end in Pacific Coast Conference history.

UNUSUAL COMBINATION—Dolly, a nanny goat in Monee, Ill., isn't letting her head swell up with vanity, even if she is getting famous. Her quadruplets, shown when they were four days old, were fathered by a Nubian goat; Dolly is a Toggenburg.

AUCTION GOERING'S TABLE SET—The French Government auctioned off this 357-piece golden table service in Paris. It was made for Hermann Goering during the Nazi occupation of France and bears his family crest. Valued at $30,000, a prospective bidder gets a close look at the set under the watchful eyes of a policeman.
