Directors Name Pickens Chamber's New Manager

Chamber of Commerce Board of directors has employed Sefton Pickens a home town man, as executive vice president and manager for the Chamber.

Pickens, 53, will begin his duties on or about June 1, according to Frank Deregibus Chamber president.

IT WAS HIRED by an unanimous vote of the board in its regular monthly meeting Monday night.

The action followed a special Chamber of Commerce membership meeting Thursday night when the need for a full-time professional manager was voiced.

Pickens, who has been serving as a Chamber director, is a native of Colorado City. He and Mrs. Pickens own and operate Colorado City's Retail Merchants Association and he has been on the sales staff of Craddock-Wilcen Ford.

For 17 years Pickens was a sales supervisor for Cudahy Packing Company and earlier was a bank examiner with U.S. Treasury Department.

DEREGIBUS SAID the board had the mangership under study since January — since the resignation of Mrs. Don Guitar who first served in a temporary capacity and then became manager.

"We believe we have met the problem squarly and effectively," Deregibus stated, "and the selection of Pickens has come only after extensive study meetings and discussions."

"The board believes the hiring of a mature, locally reared and orientated manager is a giant step in the right direction."

THE CHAMBER president said the board earnestly solicits a continuation and renewal of support, both financially and in personal service, from all the citizens of the community.

"This support is necessary," Deregibus emphasized, "because capable leadership, without adequate and willing workers, still cannot accomplish a successful Chamber of Commerce job."

Deregibus said the board had three applicants under consideration when it voted unanimously to employ Pickens. The new manager's salary, with auto expenses, will total $500 per month at beginning. Out of county travel expenses will be in addition.

Continuing as office secretary will be Mrs. Arlen Morris, wife of the postmaster, who has been the only personnel in the Chamber office for the last three months.

"THIS IS a challenging task," Pickens told The Record "and I pledge my very best effort for the success of our Chamber of Commerce and its program.

"I know the assets of Colorado City and I believe in the Chamber of Commerce as a planning and working force for the cultural and economic advancement of our community.

"I earnestly urge the support of every citizen so that we can work together effectively and successfully."

Council Silence Greets Crymes

No Trade, Dr.

Dr. Melvn Crymes, who has sounded off before on the city's paving program especially where his money is concerned, appeared before City Council again Monday night.

This time he offered to pay for the paving of an alley in the downtown area adjacent to his office property.

But he offered to trade a vacant lot for the paving assessment for the street adjacent to his residence.

Council turned down his trade offer . . . with silence. And Crymes retaliated with plenty of voice on his own.

"Damn if I'm going to pave it," he declared heatedly.

"I'm not going to pay for paving any of it . . . not one foot," he continued. "I'll take it to the Supreme Court.

"You can take it or leave it . . . damn if I am going to."

Then the doctor proceded with his opinion of street paving past and future.

"That street don't need to be paved any more than a lane on my farm.

"That paving around my house . . . I didn't order any of it.

"There never was any use for it," he added, "and it never was needed."

Dr. Crymes, in his offer to trade his vacant lot on third street for the money the city wants him to pay on the paving, said the lot had a water well on it.

"You can get water from the well," he said, "and sprinkle the streets.

"If you had a well you wouldn't need any paving."

Dr. Crymes was one of the more vocal dissenters when City Council had its first public hearings for the proposed paving improvements.

His loudest protest Monday night come after council heard his trade offer and Dr. Chinn, the mayor, replied:

"Doctor, we've discussed this before . . . and you don't seem to have any takers for your lot."

Crabtree Rites Held Tuesday

Mrs. B. S. Crabtree, 74, resident of Colorado City since 1923, died unexpectedly early Monday morning at the home of her daughter Mrs. Mary E. Hart in Odessa where she had been a guest for several days.

Born Leola Dell Bledsoe in Red River County, Oct. 9, 1892, she was married to Robert S. Crabtree in Clarksville in 1911. Her husband

In The Manager's Chair

Sefton Pickens tries out the manager's chair and desk for size in Colorado City Chamber of Commerce office with Chamber President Frank Deregibus looking over his shoulder. Pickens, filling a post which has been vacant for several months, will assume the duties of manager about June 1.

Lawyer Prepares Suit To Disannex

City and 21 property owners wanting 534 acres taken out of the city limits are going into 32nd District Court to settle their legal question.

That's the way it looked back in Feb. 13 when City Council first considered the petition for disannexation.

That's the way it shapes up now after City Council — a few days before the 90 day deadline stipulated by the petitioners — declined to grant the disannexation.

TOM REES, attorney for the property owners with interests north of Interstate 20 freeway between the city's east and western boundaries, told The Record that a suit would be filed.

"City Council's action necessitates the filing of a suit in district court based on the statutes and constitutional law," Rees, said.

CITY ATTORNEY John Worrell told councilmen Monday night that he had talked by phone with legal staff of Texas League Muncipalities in Austin concerning the disannexation petition.

In his own study and in the conference with the league's staff, Worrell said he could find no basis for the suit.

WORELL SAID a point in the property owner's demand for annexation is based on a state law passed in 1963 concering annexations by cities. The Colorado property in dispute was annexed in 1959 by a vote of 287 to 117.

"THE STATUTE (1963) is not applicable . . . it is not retroactive," Worrell told councilmen. "I know of no law under which the City Council can grant this application for disannexation."

However, Rees told The Record that it is the contention of the petitioners that the statute is retroactive.

"IF THIS interpretation is not right," Rees continued, "these persons have rights under the constitution and are due relief for the city's denial of these constitutional rights."

In the original petition submitted to City Council, the property owners claimed the city "had not provided, or caused to be provided" to the governmental and property service of the "standard and scope substantially equivalent" to those furnished in other areas of the city.

Property owners, who signed the petition Rees originally presented and for whom he informed council suit would be filed unless demands were met by May 13, are J. S. Craddock, A. C. Dillard, W. W. Cooper, Huron Dorn, James C. Williams, Jessie Wiggins, George W. Callender, A. A. Herrington, Ethelyne Bohannon, 9ra B. Heath, C. E. Mles (by Helen Morgan), Oren Lipps, Norman Hemphill, Clyde Linam, H. S Hickman, C. L. Grable, F. A. Fuller, A. K. McCarley, Jr., Les Fuller, Glenn M. Rogers and D. H. Davis.

CITY COUNCIL followed Worrell's advice and voted unanimously that it did not have legal right to grant the petition. Motion was by Councilman Henry Lewis with a second from Councilman Paul B. Hunter.

Worrell before the motion, told councilmen he would like to have an official statement from the council in view of the impending court battle.

YEAR'S HOTTEST DAY

A Real Sizzler

If was the temperature, not your imagination.

Colorado City's official thermometer on Courthouse lawn registered a sizzling 103 degrees Tuesday — hottest day of a dry 1967.

At 5 p.m. — that's Central Daylight Time, of course — the temperature was still a hot 101.

Coolest temperature registered the night before Tuesday's sizzler was 65 degrees.

Mnday the day's high was 93 degrees, followed by 92 at 5 p.m., a repeat of Sunday's temperature.

The heat wave worked up over the weekend with Saturday hitting a high of 87 degrees.

Food List On Police Assigment

Wednesday's police radio log read like this:

"Six large bottles of catsup, 2 packages of coffee cups, two large vegetable salads, four potato salads, six homemade pies . . . "

It wasn't a burglary of a safe or anything like that.

Instead it was the check list for the fish fry Friday evening for families of City Police Deparment and County Sheriff's Department.

Police and police communicators were being notified what they were to furnish for the feast in Ruddick Park.

What about the fish? Well, that was handled mostly by Sheriff Lewis Claxton and Lake Patrolman Mardell Sheppard, who have a way of collecting more than enough to eat.

6 WEEKS WITH SCHOOL FINANCING

Board Likes Nix Plan For Summer Recreation

Colorado Independent School District board of trustees Monday night approved a versatile summer recreation program.

Unanimous vote, for the program, submitted by Coach Truman Nix and recommended by Supt. James O. McMath, also provided the $1,250 to pay the director and assistant director.

Plans for the new recreation program will be worked out by Coach Nix, who is expected to be director.

Tentatively, the program is expected to begin June 12 and continue for a period of six-weeks through July 21, Monday through Friday.

Suggested for the student age participants are track, tennis, archery, basketball, tumbling, weight training and girls' volleyball.

Table tennis, badminton and softball could be on the schedule, for boys and girls in younger groups, recording Nix.

We could set up a schedule that would include three activities per day and then alternate the activities so students wouldn't get tired of participation" the coach stated.

"I would like to see the track program conducted on a Summer Olympic basis," Nix continued "so we could enter the meets around us . . . and we also would be qualified to hold a meet of our own."

Nix said Colorado High's new asphalt track facilities is a major reason why this program should be continued into the summer.

Included in the $1,250 approved for the program is $200 ticketed for entering Summer Olympic type track meets. Also, the board okayed the use of school buses for transporting Colorado City participants to out of town meets.

"The program can be carried out for $1,250," Nix said, "and with only 40 students this is only $30 per student.

"I think this is a good investment . . . and I am sure with this type of program we could have more than 40 students.

"We have all the equipment necessary to carry on the program and only expense would be salary and transportation."

In addition to the daytime program, Nix said he could make the weight room available at night for older boys who will be working in the day.

Supt. McMath told the board that detailed planning would be accomplished to assure that a well-rounded program is designed to develop for all school children who enroll physical fitness, motor skills and desirable social attitude.

It is planned that the assistant director will be an adult supervisor for girls — possibly a teacher who will be employed as girls' physical education teacher next year.

Original suggestion was for the director to be paid $125 weekly ($750 for six-week period) and the assistant to be $50 per week ($300 for the six weeks). But the board favored changing the salary allocation to $100 weekly for the director and $75 for the assistant to better assure adequately trained personnel for the girls division.

Money for the program will come from a slight surplus within the district's student activities account.

"If this program proves successful," McMath said, "then we can put the summer program in the 1967-68 school budget.

"If we can't obtain the proper interest or the program does not prove satisfactory, then it can be terminated."

Board member O. B. Tullock suggested the change in salary scale to $100 and $75 for supervisory personnel, with immediate support from all the board.

Curtis Latimer, board president, and Warren Anderson also pointed out that it was the board's desire for the program to be "for all students, not just athletes."

Coach Nix, in his tentative outline for the summer recreation project, said that a demonstration of the activities could be scheduled for the public at the end of the six-week period.

Jarman Leads Roundup for Bays Ranch

Jas. O. Jarman is Colorado City's "wagon boss" for the 8th Annual West Texas Boys Ranch Round-up.

The roudup, which starts May 20, will conclude with sale of livestock at auction in San Angelo during the week of June 19.

Purpose of the roundup and sale is to help finance the ranch through donations of livestock, farm products or cash, according to Jarman.

General chairman for the '67 project is Roddy Peeples of Midland and wagon bosses have been named through scores of West Texas and West Central Texas towns.

West Texas Boys Ranch provides a home and educational program for boys for this entire area.

All money derived from the round-up goes directly to the boys ranch with no expense for special promotions, salaries or livestock sale.

Cowan Say's 'Yes' for AF Academy

Stetson Cowan has accepted the appointment to U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The salutatorian of Colorado High's 1967 graduating class already has mailed his acceptance to the academy. And he is scheduled to enter the academy June 26.

Cowan, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Cowan was notified of his appointment April 26, but was undecided for several days while considering possibility of attending another college.

CAROLYNN BAUMANN

Zetagathians Hear Artist Discuss Art Appreciation

Zetagathian Study Club meeting was held April 27, in the home of Mrs. Bob Reily.

After a short business meeting, in which Mrs. Ray Noble was elected Honorary Member for the coming year, the leader for the afternoon, Mrs. J. S. Craddock, introduced the program.

Miss Carolyn Baumann, art teacher at Colorado City High School presented a program on art appreciation. Miss Baumann stated that the beginning of art has been discovered in the cave drawings of Europe dating from prehistoric times. The best known Egyptian form of art was their brilliant sculpture. This was followed by the classic art of Greek and Roman times.

"However," she said, "it would be wrong to separate the Roman from Greek art because Roman art was created by captured Greek slaves."

Christian religious art had its peak in the Renaissance period, especially prominent in stained glass. Art at this point took on the third dimension.

"In the 17th century, beginning with Caravaggio, art became realistic, two components of this school being Rembrandt and El Greco she said. Art took a new form in the nineteenth century. With such artists as Monet, Van Gogh, and Rousault there came into being the "ism" art (impressionalism, cubism, pointalism)

"We have in the 20th century an art form called, Op Art, which sometimes consists of 20 foot billboards," the speaker noted.

Miss Baumann showed the brief history of art with slides marking the contrast between Renaissance art and modern art. She then showed the basic art forms, the cube, the sphere and the triangle and showed what can be developed from these with quick sketching.

Mrs. Craddock and Miss Baumann then passed out sketch paper and pencil and the members were given the opportunity to investigate their artistic abilities. After a few of the results were viewed, the hostess served refresments to 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Eldon Mahon of Abilene. Members present were: Mmes. Ann Randle Davis, Sam L. Majors Jr., Benny Franks, George Witten, L. S. Girvin Jr., Bob Reily, Warren Anderson, J. S. Craddock Jr., Joe Burchard, Bob Fee Jr., Curtis Latimer, O. B. Trulock Jr., Harland Birdwell, and W. S. Five Teachers Resign Locally

First of the end-of-term teacher resignations have been submitted to Colorado City school administrators.

Supt. James G. McMath notified board members Monday night that the intial five included four at Colorado High and one at Junior High.

Resigning from the high school faculty, effective at end of the current term, are:

Billy Smith, former Wallace High head coach, who during the last year has been on the Colorado High coaching and physical education staff.

Mrs. Neelia Witherspoon, girls physical education instructor.

Miss Carmon Zamarano, Spanish teacher and Richard Lee, vocational agriculture instructor.

In other action Monday night, the school board:

Heard a report from Assistant Supt. Earl Cook Jr. that enrollment in Colorado City schools totaled 1,697 for the week ending April 28. This compares with 1,472 enrollment at close of the 1965-66 school year. Projected enrollment for next year is estimated at 1,775 — a gain over the current level. Current average daily attendance into April has been 1,608.66, according to Cook, in comparison with 1,699.14 at close of the 1965-66 school term.

Okayed request of Colorado City Playhouse group for use of Colorado High Auditorium from May 26 through June 8 for 13 rehearsals and three performances and cost was set at $90.90. $30 for the performances and janitorial fees for the rehearsals in accordance with adopted policy for use of school facilities.

Approved use of school baseball field and bleachers for the city's Teen Age Baseball program from May 29 to July 20. This will be under the joint program with schools furnishing the field and maintaining grounds, city paying the water bill and the Teen Age League paying the light bill, maintaining stands, cleaning up trash after each game, maintaining pitchers mound and operating concession stand.

Appointed Roy Davis Coles again as auditor for fiscal accounts and as consultant for Colorado Independent School District for the 1967-68 school year at fee of $500 on recommendation of Supt. McMath and schools business manager, Nick Farrar.

"DRIVE IN" PROGRAM

Pair Represent C-City At Teacher Conference

Two Colorado City teachers, Mr and Mrs. T. P. Fowler, were among 75 educationalists attending the Saturday teachers conference at Texas Tech Student Union Building in Lubbock.

Sponsored jointly by the Texas State Teachers Association and the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, a unit of the National Education Association, the "drive-in conference" was a facet of the NCTEPS" unique nation-wide project, the Year of the Non-Conference, which emphasizes the theme, "The Teacher and His Staff."

Lubbock was one of the cities in the United States hosting the sessions of the NCTEPS 100-Cities Assembly — Programs which were held in the 50 states of the nation, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.

The Colorado Independent School District, selected earlier this year as a demonstrative center for NCTEPS is one of the 50 school systems in the entire nation named as demonstration centers because of effective and imaginative innovation in their school programs.

The all-day session began at 9:30 a.m. with Dr. Berlie Fallon, Tech educational department professor, giving the theme setting address.

Dr. Fallon spoke on innovations in the teaching profession and of the need to conserve the teacher's time for more direct contact with the students.

From 10:30 to 11:30, pertinent problems and questions were discussed in four special interest groups. Following a noon luncheon, a film, "The Quiet Revolution," was shown. The film recommended various ways to assist classroom teachers through the use of auxiliary personnel computer services and other media designed to stimulate creativity and facilitate academic and extra-curricular enrichment.

The film illustrated instances where college students, parents and former teachers were utilized to assist the professional teacher with extra duties.

Dignitaries attending the conference were Dr. Morris S. Wallace of the Tech educational department; John Hill of Austin who represented the Texas State Teachers Association; Mrs. Mary Beth Dunn, Lubbock, president of District 13 of the TSTA; Mrs. Frances Watkins, Levelland, instructor at South Plains Junior College; Cullen Cranfill, Odessa psychology professor at Odessa Junior College; Sharon McDaniel, Odessa, president of Tech's Student Education Assn., and Dr. Robert Leigh Canyon, West Texas State University educational department professor.

Sunday Musicale Is Well Received

Spring musicale presented in Medallion Room Sunday afternoon by four artists from Texas Technological College, attracted an audience of 125 appreciative listeners.

Sponsored by the Cultural Committee of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce the concert presented mezzo-soprano Sylvia Taylor, violinist Don Lee Cherry, trumpet soloist Richard Tolley, and piano accompanist, Gene Pickens.

The pianist, assistant teacher and staff accompanist at Tech, is son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pickens of Colorado City.

Cherry, Jr. is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Croft, of Odessa who were here for the musicale as houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Worrell, Sr., Also here for the concert was Sandra McKinncy, niece of Mr. Pickens, of Crane.

The program was introduced by Curtis Baker, head of the vocal music department at Colorado High School and Junior High School.

After welcoming the audience, Baker praised the Cultural Committee of the Chamber which sponsored the musicale as a courtesy to music appreciators. He also noted that Mrs. Cherry is scheduled for a violin concert tour in Mexico, later in May.

Programs were presented by Robert Willbanks and Dana Baker who served as ushers.

Planned as first in a series of public affairs planned to accent the arts, the concert was enthusiastically received. Later events will include lectures, demonstrations, and other feature programs.

Chairman of the Cultural Committee is Mrs. G. D. Foster with Mrs. Curtis Baker as co-chairman, Mrs. Edwin Carlock as Chamber board of directors representative.

Juniors To Fete Seniors

Junior Class at Colorado High School will fete the members of the 1967 graduating senior class with the traditional annual junior-senior banquet here Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Theme of the banquet and its decorative setting is a closely guarded secret with the juniors.

Macea Findley, president of the junior class, will be master of ceremonies for a program of entertainment features including music by a combo.

Take a weekend trip with the money you save on Gas Air Conditioning.
Well... maybe your savings on gas air conditioning won't get you to the Sphinx, but they will mount up. Because one of the main advantages of gas air conditioning is economy. It costs you less to use. It costs less in maintenance, too. Gas air conditioners are built better. They last longer, and there are fewer moving parts to wear out. And Lone Star offers special summer rates for cooling. To get the details on this high quality equipment for your home, call your air conditioning contractor or LONE STAR GAS for a free estimate.

Buy Bonds where you work.

They do.

They work in Vietnam — for freedom. They're helping to pay the bill for freedom, too. Like many of our servicemen overseas, they're investing in U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds are a good deal. A good way to save up for college . . . or for a home . . . or just for a future that's free and worth having. There's a good way to show these men you're on their side. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds where you bank, or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll walk a bit taller.

U.S. Savings Bonds

Bond facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 in only seven years . . . are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen . . . have special tax advantages . . . can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

cipating in the unanimous vote Monday night included Deregibus, Sam L. (Buzz) Majors, Trevlyn Kelley, Eddie Piland, Bob Ratliff, Truman Bodine, Larry Kinard and Jimmy Harrison. Absent from the meeting were three others — Mrs. Edwin Carlock, James Kelley and A.C. Benson.

Naming of Pickens to the managership will require the appointment of a successor to his place on the board of directors — a three-year term which began this year.

PICKENS OPERATED a dairy here before moving from Colorado City in 1947 to a dairy farm near Cleburne. After a stint as a bank examiner he became associated with Cudahy Packing Company and resided in Valley Mills. He returned here two years ago after purchasing Retail Merchants Association.

He is a graduate of Colorado High and attended Hardin - Simmons University (then Simmons U). He is a Bible Class teacher and member of official board at First Methodist Church, a member of Lions and has just been appointed to Colorado City Public Housing Authority.

He and Mrs. Pickens, the former Aldred Bodine, are parents of a son, Steve, personnel manager for a Dallas firm; Rusty a freshman at University of Texas at Arlington, and a daughter, Mrs. Terrence Duffy.

died in May, 1958.

Mrs. Crabtree was a member of the First Baptist Church and was active in the Dorcas Sunday School Class.

Funeral service was conducted in First Baptist Church at 4 p.m. Tuesday by the pastor, the Rev. M. A. Smith Jr.

Surviving are one son, Woodrow Crabtree, Colorado City businessman; three daughters, Mrs. Hart of Odessa, Mrs. Joe Doescher and Mrs. Bobby Buckholt, both of Collinsville, Okla.; and 10 grandchildren.

Burial was in Colorado City cemetery under direction of Kiker & Son Funeral home. Pall bearers were Dennis Fortenberry Leonard Morris, Don Hardegree, Gwan Strange, Jack Pharris and Tom Grant.

Dr. Bennett Honored By Tech

Dr. Byron J. Bennett, PhD was one of four outstanding graduates of Texas Technological College honored with the first annual Distinguished Engineer Awards Saturday, at a luncheon in Tech Union building.

Dr. Bennett, graduate of Loraine High school, received his bachelor of science at Tech, then earned his master's and his doctor's degree at Stanford University. He is son of Mrs. Lily Bennett of Loraine who attended the luncheon in his honor.

Dean of the engineering school at the Montana State University, Dr. Bennett is also a staff member of the university's electronics research laboratory. He has worked as a test engineer for General Electric and as radio engineer for Philco and was associate professor of engineering at Tech in 1943-44.

He holds membership in the Scientific Research Society of America, Sigma Xi, Alpha Chi, and Tau Beta Pi.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

FORGOT to remind you that this is National Music Week!

From the dawn of creation, music has been part of the story of mankind. Story of his hopes, his disappointments his loves and his sense of humor. From the first little lullaby hummed just outside the Garden of Eden, until the last crash of the cymbol on the Tonight show, music has lived in the human heart. The gifted ones have shared their melodies with the world.

Glad songs of praise and thanksgiving. Sad songs, the dirge for the dead. Love songs full of moonlight and romance and promises sung just before the bride walks slowly down the aisle.

Marching music of the band. Dance music. Stately hymns. The world is full of music if you have ears to hear it. And aren't you glad?

* * *

AS EARLY as we have any record, writers praised the word music. Samuel Pepys' Diary, for instance notes "Music is the thing I love most."

The German philosopher Nietzsche put it like this: "Life without music would be a mistake."

American poet Longfellow's singing lines Night shall be filled with music . . . And the cares that infest the day . . . Shall fold their tents like the Arabs . . . And as . . . silently steal away" is one of his most widely quoted verses.

EVER notice that music and love are kin?

Think of the lyrics of almost any popular — or once popular — song you know. You'll remember phrases like "And the agnels sing."

"You smile, the song begins . . . you speak and I hear violins."

"Seems to Me I've Heard That Song Before."

"There Goes That Song Again!"

It's a good game to play with yourself and could last all through this National Music Week.

For instance, there's the old "And the Band Played On," and "Play Gypsy Play" best done by violins.

TELL me the kind of music you love best and I can tell you within a few years about how old you are! And when you learned to dance too.

Music is the index to a number of things. That old superstition that it's bad luck to sing before breakfast just isn't so.

Sing when you feel happy, whatever the time of day! Listen when you feel sad. It's soothes the ache.

"There's music in the air" for the taking . . . for the turning of a knob. There's music on the record-player. There's music you can make yourself, via piano, organ guitar, ukelele, harmonica even the old saw.

Best music of all, of course, is music in the heart.

"A heart that sings forgets its stings" wrote a minor poet and country columnist here on this National Music Week.

JUST as surely as appreciation of music — or lack of it — tells about you, so does your appreciation of beauty in any form.

SHOULD like to cite the lovely flowers planted by Velma (Mrs. L. L.) Comer in that narrow little strip between Berman Hotel and the sidewalk.

Her little flower garden is worth passing by just to see the pink poppies in the morning.

Proving that beauty is not always where you find it. Sometimes it's where you make it.

SEEN LATELYS were the Max Bermans in a lunch duet at the Villa . . . Ditto the Bennett Scotts . . . The Howard Coxes . . Billy (the Rev.) Wilkinson and his pretty wife Louise.

Saw Pat (Mrs. Jim) Kelley who had with her Dawn Lemons, curly-haired daughter of Jan and Bobby Lemons.

HEAR TELL that Violet Moeser and her brothers Eddie Moeser and Bill Moeser, who lives at Big Spring, have just returned from Corpus Christi where they went to see their seriously ill cousin. Their cousin is Miss Violet Hughes who was born here in Colorado City daughter of an early-day contractor.

Hear, too, that Jack Selcraig former First Baptist pastor now of Houston has an article about the late and magnificent George W. Truett in the most recent Baptsit Standard.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought short talks with M. A. Smith, Jr., First Baptist preacher . . . Nadine Gordon wife of Gerald high school journalism teacher . . . Attractive Dorothy Cupp Roland wife of Bryan and mother of Charlotte, our new meter maid downtown.

T. P. Fowler, visiting teacher was another office visitor . . . Also Mrs. B. B. Lee . . . Buzz Majors . . . and Elmer Pickens.

Talked a minute to Henry Bilberry . . . Cute little Alderd Pickens wife of Sefton . . Ruth Barnett.

LETTER from New York City, on fancy stationary from the hotel Consulate 9th St. West of Broadway turned out to be from Arla Jo Payne

It was written while she was in New York for another Amatuer Hour TV contest.

"Please express my sincere appreciation for all the support C-City has given me," Arla Jo wrote — meaning thanks for the many cards mailed in from her hometown viewers of that show taped in Dallas.

"Altogether this trip (to New York via plane) has been terrific. Almost too much for this Cinderella," she added. Arla Jo also included a vivid description of her visit to the Statue of Liberty. "I felt a great sense of pride, even reverence," she wrote.

4-County Meeting For Co-op Grain Operation

Proposal for cooperative feed mill, grain elevator operation and farm supply center will be detailed Friday night at an area-wide meeting in Roscoe.

The meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. in Roscoe Grade School and will point out the potential of the operation for grain producers, cattlemen, feed lot operators and farmers.

A steering committee with representatives from Mitchell, Nolan, Fisher and Scurry counties has been studying the cooperative program since last December.

This committee is ready to present the proposal based on purchase of two elevators which adjoin each other in Roscoe, plus the construction of a modern push-button type feed mill.

Three prominent Colorado City farm and ranch leaders — L. S. (Bunky) Girvin, Ross Hargrove and Tom Neff are members of the steering committe.

Others on the committee are J. R. Cooper Jr., Phil Haynes, Gene Howard and R. H. Whorton of Roscoe; Herbert Williams of Westella; Keifer Cauble and Foy Mitchell of Roby, W. T. Martin of Sweetwater and John Schattel of Inadale.

Letters have been mailed to a large number of farmers, ranchers and cattlemen from the four-county area of Mitchell, Nolan, Fisher and Scurry to attend the Friday meeting.

"The committee is ready to resent a detailed proposal of the potential of such a group cooperative for consideration of interested agricultural people who could benefit from this venture," the steering group informed the Colorado City Record.

The meeting will be open to the public and will offer opportunity for discussion, questions and suggestions beneficial to such a cooperative business venture, the committee said.

"If there is sufficient interest shown by the area people in attendance," the committee emphasized 'steps will be taken to proceed with a formal organization."

Three divisions — mill, elevator and supply center — are proposed to compliment each other in the total operation, but with patronage dividends being maintained separately.

The facilities — the two present elevators in Roscoe and the new feed mill to be built — would be used in storing and processing an expanded feed crop that may result from continual cutback in cotton production, the committee said.

"With the changing condition in agriculture," the committee explained, "the development of such a proposed project could be a significant advancement to the economy of this area."

Initial meeting preparatory to the committee study and Friday night's meeting was in early December with a meeting of persons from the four counties discussing the economic need for an organization which could serve the needs of a wide segment of area farmers and ranchers.

This discussion pointed into three fields — future outlook for crop production, future outlook for feed opreations, and coordination of a program.

The group recognized the fact that grain and forage crops now are of secondary importance to cotton in this area's agriculture, but they took the view that this trend could be reversed unless the consumption of short staple cotton is increased.

Any reduction of cotton plantings would necessitate these acres being planted to a grain or forage crop, the group

At the same time, the group expressed the view that the great majority of present feed production now is shipped to terminal elevators for storage or processing.

"This grain storage revenue could increase the income of the producers if it was stored in an area cooperative elevator," the steering committee stated. "And processing revenue from a cooperative feed mill could be returned to consumers of feed stuffs."

In the discussions concerning feed lot operations, it was admitted that feed lot operators are looking to West Texas as a favorable environment for conditioning and feeding livestock.

Good transportation facilities, moderate and semi-arid climate, access to feed supplies and availability of feeder cattle are among the advantages for expanding feed lot operations in this area.

But the meetings, according to the steering committee, pointed to these two disadvantages:

1. Yack of access to a high volume modern and efficient feed mill capable of producing a wide variety of high quality feed rations at reasonable cost.

2. Availability of feed grains on a year-around basis, not just at harvest time.

"These in attendance at these meetings," the steering committee stated, "were cotton and grain farmers, ranchers, dairymen and feed lot operators of both cattle and hogs.

"These men expressed a need for an organization that would better coordinate the activities of the producers and consumers of feed supplies."

From this expression came the steering committee and study which resulted in the special public meeting Friday night in Roscoe.

Carr Club Makes Gifts

WESTBROOK Mrs. Don Henderson was hostess to members of Carr Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon, May 5, when roll call was answered with "Why every club member should hold office."

Mrs. Henderson led the song. Mrs. T. A. Rees voiced the prayer and directed the recreation. Mrs. Tom Jackson, vice-president, presided during a business meeting.

Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Ben Ellett were in charge of the program, making gifts for children in the hospital.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Jackson, Ellett, Rees, T. L. McKenney and the hostess. Mrs. McKenney will host the next meeting, May 19.

Good News –
That's good news about toll free phone service between Colorado City and Westbrook.
The service — although it is months and months away — will be convenient and helpful to all of us both here and in the Westbrook community.
Our communities in Mitchell County are interwoven personally as well as economically. And as we can accomplish projects like this, the more we can accomplish together for all of our county.
Let's hope that Loraine wil be next for toll free service. Our communities need it.

CHS AUDITORIUM

Choralette & Junior High Choir Concert Set Friday

In recognition of National Music Week, May 7 to 14, the Vocal Music Department of Colorado High School will present its eighteenth annual Spring Concert this Friday evening, May 12, in the high school auditorium, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

This year's Spring Concert will feature the Colorado High School Choralettes. This terra's group of girls, though not many in number, has distinguished itself this year for the fine quality of music being performed including a rating of excellent at the recent University Interscholastic League contest festival.

Choralettes will be assisted in this concert by the "growing-est" choir of the school system the Girls Choir of Colorado Junior High.

The more youthful choir, both in age and experience, numbers fifty-four and has made much progress musically this year.

High point of the year for the young choir was the winning of a superior rating in concert at the UIL contest held recently in this region, and this is the first "superior" rating that any choir from the local Junior High has ever achieved.

The combined choirs will sing four numbers, two of which are antiphonal, that is "answering." Tech choir will then sing numbers from their sacred and secular repertoire including the songs used at the UIL contest this year.

Attractions in the Choralettes secular group will include the Oscar winning song, "Born Free," and a medley of four numbers from the popular "Sound of Music."

There will be no admission charge for the concert. The public parents, school patrons and all interested persons are invited to attend, said Curtis Baker, director of vocal music at Colorado High and Junior High School

Bill Harris On Tech's Prize Team

Bill Harris a Texas Tech student from Colorado City, was a member of the Tech team which captured the National Soils Judging Contest at Cornell University with a total of 1796 points.

Tech beat out Oklahoma State University for first, Purdue was third, Michigan State fourth, and Penn State fifth.

Harris was fourth-man in scoring individual points with 460 points. Tommy Hallmark student from Snyder, was high man with 636.

Tech won first place in the regional contest last fall at Texas A&M University.

Road To College Opening For More With Federal Programs

New roads are opening up for college education under federally supported programs.

This is a financial fact high school juniors and seniors should keep in mind today as they look to the future.

Infact, a member of your family or a relative may be able to obtain financial assistance through one of these four federal plans.

Dr. C. V. Galbreath, director of high education for Region V-7 U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Dallas, is urging high school seniors — who are planning to attend college this fall and who need financial assistance to educational costs — to contact the financial aid officer at the college of their choice.

"They should apply now to the financial aid officer for a job, loan, grant or other assistance for which they may be eligible," Dr. Galbreath told Colorado City Record.

The four major Federal programs of financial aid to students, available to eligible students in any field of study, are: The National Defense Student Loan Program, the Educational Opportunity Grants Program, and the Guaranteed Loan Program.

During the 1967-68 academic year it is expected that these four programs will assist about 1,175,000 undergraduate students throughout the nation to attend institutions of higher education, at a total cost of over $1.1 billion.

National Defense Loan — "Most colleges and universities in the United States take part in the National Defense Student Loan Program, the oldest major program of Federally supported student assistance," Galbreath said.

Under this program students borrow directly from their colleges. Repayment and interest do not begin until after the student has ended his studies, and may be extended over a 10-year period. An undergraduate student may borrow up to $1,000 each academic year to a total of $5,000. Graduate students may borrow as much as $2,500 per year to a maximum of $10,000. There is a special cancellation provision for student borrowers who become teachers.

For the academic year beginning this fall, an estimated 16,550 students in Texas in attendance at 84 institutions of higher education, will borrow an estimated $11,600,000.

College Work-Study — The College Work-Study Program provides jobs on campus or off campus for students who need employment to help pay for college expenses.

During the present school year it is estimated that more than 184,000 undergraduate students are employed in this program, earning an average total salary of about $700 a year.

During the present school year an estimated 9,980 students attending 77 colleges in Texas were employed in College Work-Study programs at an approximate Federal cost of $6,550,000.

Educational Opportunity Grants — "Educational Opportunity Grants," Dr. Galbreath said, "is a new program that began operation in the fall of 1966. It is intended for undergraduate students in such extreme financial need that without the grants they could not attend college."

In its first year of operation, $58 million in federal grants enabled 134,000 students to attend college. These students, so long as they remain in good standing, are eligible to apply for grants for each year of undergraduate study. The grants range from $200 to $800 a year.

During this school year 5,037 students are attending college in Texas with the help of Educational Opportunity Grants.

Guaranteed Loan Program — The Guaranteed Loan Program, which began operation in the summer of 1966, provides a means for students to borrow directly from their bank, credit union, savings and loan association or other eligible lender. While any student may borrow, the program is intended primarily to ease the heavy burden of educational costs for middle-income families.

For students whose adjusted family income is less than $15,000 a year the federal government pays the entire interest (6 per cent) during the school years, and half the interest (3 per cent) during the repayment period, which begins when studies are terminated. The loans are "guaranteed" by a state agency, or a private nonprofit agency designated by the State.

"In spite of the 'tight money market' which existed as the program got underway, and still exists," Dr. Galbreath said, "between July 1, 1966 and February 28, 1967, throughout the nation more than 260,000 students borrowed a total of more than $206 million in loans. During this time, 7,725 students in Texas borrowed $5,167,290 for their college expenses."

"A few years ago a college education was a luxury reserved for the child of affluent parents or youngsters with outstanding scholastic ability or athletic skills," Dr. Galbreath said, "but fortunately for our young people and for our country's future this situation has changed."

Dr. Galbreath urged citizens throughout Texas to look for talented young people who might not know of these opportunities for higher education and to encourage them to finish high school and go on to college.

Looking At Protests

Burleson With His Own Protest

By OMAR BURLESON
U. S. Congressman
17th District

While attending a luncheon at the White House for General Westmoreland, pickets out front on Pennsylvania Avenue could be observed through the window.

A young man without beard, and cleaner looking than the others dropped his sign "Get Out of Viet Nam" between his knees and cheered General Westmoreland as he passed in his car. He was just a little overcome but quickly recovered and again raised his sign.

It just might have been he was a hired marcher and "protester." There is now a business organized by three 18 and 19-year-old boys at George Washington University, called "Proxy Pickets." Now, anyone can have his own picket. If there is something going on which we do not like, these people will do our griping and protesting for us. If the weather is too bad, if we are too busy or too lazy, Proxy Pickets will furnish the protest.

It is reported that for $17 five pickets will march anywhere, protesting anything for an hour. For $154, fifty pickets will spread the gloom Proxy Pickets have a good location, being handy to the White House, the Capitol and other places where protesting is popular.

The overhead should be fairly reasonable. Many of the signs can be used over and over again, which simply say, "I protest." Participants in some demonstrations seemingly need no reason — they just "protest" anything. We are entitled to ask who pays the expenses.

The advertisement of the organization concludes, "Exercise your Constitutional rights of self-expression." Evidently it does have its principles because they say they will conduct only peaceful protests and that there will be no violence, no burning anything, and they will not picket for the communists.

Many "Protesters" have "protesters." Those protesting the protesters, however, are usually not very well organized and the cause they represent is usually not as well known.

Thus far there has been no organized protest march against the inflamatory statements of Martin Luther King, Stokely Carmichael or Cassius Clay. Those which have occurred have been on the fringes of other protest demonstrations.

Legal and orderly protests can be made other than by street demonstrations.

Protests have been made to the Justice Department to enforce what Laws we have against the desecration of our Flag, the burning of draft cards and the incitement of crowds by inflamatory statements. A Law is on the books against draft card burning, and legislation has been introduced to make the desecration of our Flag a clearer offense and carrying a greater punishment.

The Justice Department replies to written inquiries with the opinion that "Any individual who calls upon his fellow citizens to disobey our Country's Laws who advocates violence or who seeks to set one race against another does his Nation and himself a grave disservice." But, they say that whether statements made by these men can be suppressed depends on whether they fall outside the protection accorded to freedom of speech by the First Amendment to the Constitution.

It is pointed out by an Assistant Attorney General that, "Congress shall make no Law abridging freedom of speech." Decisions involving this issue are quoted under the doctrine of freedom of speech and of the press, susceptible of restrictions only wher necessary to prevent grave and immediate danger to interests which the Government may lawfully protect.

Justice Holmes stated it this way, "The question in every case is whether the words used are used in such circumstances and are of such a nature as to create a clear and present danger that they will bring about the substantive evils that Congress has a right to prevent. It is a question of proximity and degree."

The Department ends its response to a written inquiry that they are appreciative of the seriousness of the matter, and with judicial principles as a guide are reviewing actions by Carmichael and others to determine whether any applicable Federal Law is violated.

LAKES AND RIVERS

Tragedy Lurks In Recreation

Water recreational deaths increased over one-half from 41 on May 1, 1966, to 62 for the same period this year, according to unofficial records by the Texas Parks and Wildlife department.

Thus the tragedy rate generally associated with swimming, fishing and boating follows the pattern set last year when 36 or more persons drowned than in 1965, for an outdoor play total of 236.

The combination of fishing and boating has been the most deadly, as monitored by department reports.

Several multiple fatalities occurred when small boats bearing anglers upset, such as three in Galveston Bay, and two in Falcon Lake.

The safety angle, or lack of safety angle, figured in many tragedies. People perished because they did not wear life preservers although available in their boats.

A water skiier who could not swim drowned when his life belt strap broke from striking the water.

Dangerous risks that proved fatal included a college student shooting the Swollen San Gabriel River rapids on an inner-tube but without a life preserver.

The perennial trap of trying to swim after a wind-blown small boat cost the life of a San Antonio man on the coast.

Overloaded boats were deadly in several instances.

The seasonal frolics incidental to school class parties in strange waters were marked by at least three drownings of youngsters.

One young man who could not swim lost his life when he successfully went to the aid of a distressed companion and then succumbed to exhaustion.

There were four deaths from wading.

The department cautioned outdoor recreationlists about swimming in unfamiliar areas, taking unnecessary chances in trying to display their aquatic prowess and also about swimming alone.

Fishermen and boaters were advised to not only have life preservers available but to keep them on, or to have them within easy reach.

Redistricting Problems

State Legislature Has Plenty of 'Em

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Redistricting bills are ready for test votes in the House.

A court reapportionment measure which would add 16 courts, eliminate two and provide for district realignment, was reported favorably by the House Committee on Judicial Districts.

Bill would provide two new courts each for Dallas, Harris Bexar, and Tarrant Counties Single courts would go to these district: Hidalgo County, 200th District; Comal and Guadalupe Counties, 201st District; Duval, Jim Hogg, Zapata and Starr Counties, 202nd District; Randall County, 203rd District; Collin County 204th District; Gregg County, 205th District; Croskett, Schleicher, Menard, Sutton, Kimble, Edwards Real, Kerr, and Bandera Counties, 206th District; and Wharton, Fort Bend, Matagorda and Brazoria Counties 66th District.

It would combine district courts serving Hill and Freestone Counties with other counties. It provides for abolishing the 88th District Court, effective January 1, 1970 and the 82nd District Court effective January 1, 1971.

Candidates for the new judgeships would run for office next year, taking over on January 1, 1969.

A congressional redistricting bill required by an order of the federal court, is complete. But it has been held back dut to controversies.

Congressional redistricting as drawn by the House Committee would require no incumbent congressmen to run against another incumbent. Committee Chairman Gus Hutscher of Brenham said the bill would carve 23 new districts which vary no more than five per cent in population.

Mutscher indicated that the redistricting measure for House seats is virtually complete and will follow congressional reapportionment by about 10 days.

* * *

HORSES GALLOP — In less time than it takes a fast stepping thoroughbred to romp a mile, the House Committee on Counties approved, on a local-option basis a bill to legalize pari-mutuel horse race betting in Texas.

House sponsors said they are not sure when they will ask for a floor vote.

Here's what the House bill proposes: Racing would be permitted in counties where voters want it, with 85 per cent of the betting pools going to betters, two per cent to counties where tracks are operated and 13 per cent to be split between the state and the track operators. State would, in turn, divide half of its share (on a population basis) among the counties having no tracks. Bookmaking and off-track betting with bookies would be made a felony.

Senate bill has been out of committee since February but, so far, the sponsors haven't brough it to a floor test.

* * *

"OPEN MEETINGS" — A bill to outlaw closed-door meetings of goverment agencies passed the Senate unanimously.

However an amendment would exempt departments, agencies and political subdivisions not supported by or spending tax funds.

Misdemeanor fines are provided for violations, and "any interested persons" may launch court action for mandamus or injunction against closed meetings.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena handled the measure in the Senate. It now goes to the House where Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville is sponsor.

REVISION PLANS — House overwhelmingly passed a resolution proposing a method of state constitutional revision. A 20-member commission assisted by a 20-member citizens advisory committee would report recommendations to the next Legislature for submission to voters.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria is author of the House resolution.

Senate State Affairs Committee approved a bill to establish a 45-member constitutional revision commission. Under this bill, by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, the commission would be limited mainly to recommendations. It would offer suggestions to the Legislature for eliminating obsolete and depetitive sections.

POLLUTION — House passed the Senate bill to strenghten water pollution control and establish a new Texas Water Quality Board as a separate agency. Amendments will send the bill back to the Senate.

Meanwhile, the Senate has approved a bill to provide the mechanism for enforcing air pollution control measures. An amendment would allow the Air Control Board to set different standards for agricultural processors (including cotton gins) than are set for industries.

GRANT APPROVED — U. S. Public Health Service has approved a $315,659 grant to Texas for a statewide immunization program.

Funds will be used for immunization campaigns in cooperation with local health agencies and medical societies against measles, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Project will continue through April 30, 1968 An additional year has been tentatively provided for with a $325,000 grant. Supplemental budget of $35,775 for polio vaccine has been requested.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY — House and Senate both have passed the compromise occupational safety bill. It now awaits Gov. John Connally's signature.

As finally passed, the bill is a compromise among labor, management and the governor. It would create a Division of Occupational Safety as a part of the State Department of Health.

DOS would have the power to make and enforce rules and regulations on safety, plus authority to inspect places of employment. A qualified safety engineer would be hired to administer the program.

REGULATE RAINMAKERS — Senate has passed and sent to the House a licensing bill to regulate weather modifiers — or would-be modifiers — under the Texas Water Development Board.

Apparently the bill is aimed more at encouraging research and development in the field of legitimate weather modifying than at bogus rainmakers.

Board would be given full control over the entire field of water modifying including annual licensing and permits.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally named Carlos Castillon of Laredo as 49th district attorney to replace Oscar M. Laurel who recently accepted a federal post in Washington.

Connally named to the Dallas-Tarrant board of park commissioners W. T. Overton, Jack Evans, David Bruton Jr., O. B. English George A. Icoud Jr. Vernon S. Smith and T. W. Norsworthy of Dallas. Also Ernest J. Willemon of Arlington and Murray Kyger, David O. Belew Jr., John L. Lewis, James C. Fuller and Dick Lowe of Fort Worth.

Dr. Bevington A. Reed, formerly of Cisco and Alpine, now chancellor of the Board of Minnesota State College, was named assistant commissioner of Texas Higher Education for Senior Colleges and Universities.

WATER PROJECTS — Texas Water Development Board has asked federal agencies for $40,500,000 for recreational facilities at the U.S. Corps of Engineers water projects and $2,800,000 for investigative studies of 16 projects suggested by President Johnson.

Board is seeking $55,000 from the $810,000 appropriation the president recommended for water pollution study. Among other projects urged were these: A $25,000 study of the Red River above Denison Dam; $25,000 for the Canadian River and tributaries; $100,000 for the Nueces River and tributaries study; an increase for modification of Lavon Reservoir near Dallas and east fork channel improvements; $750,000 to begin construction of Cooper Dam in Delta and Hopkins Counties; $150,000 to initiate planning of the Arkansas-Red River above Denison Dam; $25,000 for the Canadian River and tributories; $100,00 for the Nueces River and tributaries study; an increase for modification of Lavon Reservoir near Dallas and east fork channel improvements; $750,000 to begin construction of Cooper Dam in Delta and Hopkins Counties; $150,000 to initiate planning of the Arkansas-Red River chloride control project; and $75,000 for flood control work on the Pecos River.

SHORT SNORTS — Senate passed the revised consumer credit code bill, which now returns to the House.

Wendell Bedichek, assistant to the executive director of the Texas Research League in Austin, has resigned to become executive director of the newly formed West Central Texas Council of Governments in Abilene.

Vernon McGee of Austin, former tate Legislative Budget Board director, has been retained as research consultant for the Republican Party of Texas to work with GOP's eight "task forces" on major state problms.

According to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, Texas' draft call is going up next month to 975 men, the state's share of the national call of 19,800.

Sermon Of The Week

-- "FRIENDSHIP WITH JESUS" --

By LARRY LAKEY
Pastor, First
Assembly of God

In Psalms 23:1, there is a very precious scripture, that most of us know by heart: "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

How wonderful it is to know that we have a friend in Jesus who will be with us in all the hours of this life. He is there when the way is stormy and dreary, he is there when our hearts are full of joy.

I BELIEVE we were created by God to have fellowship with him. And when we cease to have fellowship with him; our entire schedule is all messed up. He wants to commune with us and lead us in the ways of this life.

Notice, the scripture says "The Lord is my Shepherd," this does not mean that God is some high being that rains down wrath upon us, but he is a shepherd, he goes before, he guides, and leads the way.

The Good Shepherd is the one who loves the sheep so much, he is willing to give his life for the sheep.

* * *

THE PICTURE that I have in my mind of my God, is the one that is painted in the Gospel according to Matthew.

Matthew 11:28-30, Jesus streches out his arms and beckons. "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

"Take my yoke upon you and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light." Oh, how wonderful to have fellowship with such a friend as this!

IN OUR CHURCH78' hymn book there is a very lovely old song that I love to sing, "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms." The first verse is especially inspiring, "What a fellowship, what a joy divine, leaning on the everlasting arms, what a blessedness, what a peace is mine, leaning on the everlasting arms."

One of the greatest needs in our world today, is that men should come to know Jesus, not in just name, but in a friendship. To know him is life eternal. When we know Jesus as a friend our entire perspective of life is changed, we look at others in a different light, we desire to serve others and love others, because Jesus is our best friend and he gave himself for everyone. Therefore, when we are friends with Him we want to be like Him.

FAMILY LAWER

Speeding For Legal Justice

Back in frontier days, a stern judge in Ohio used to keep a live bomb on the floor of the jury room. When he sent the jurors into deliberate, he would call their attention to the fuse leading outside of the room.

"Bring me a verdict in five minutes," he would thunder, "or by heaven I will light the fuse!"

Needless to say, his juror didn't dawdle. And it is still true today that jurors even though not spurred on so persuasively, sometimes do bring in their verdict fast.

Quite naturally, doubts may arise. Did they really give fair consideration to the evidence? Can a trial that lasts for days be decided in minutes? Time and again, a person who has been found guilty of a crime will raise such questions by appealing to a higher court for a new trial.

But almost invariably, the court has ruled that speed alone does not prove that the verdict was unfair. For, after all, there are perfectly sensible reasons why a jury while conscientiously doing its duty, may still bring in a speedy verdict. Thus:

When a jury took only eight minutes to convict a man of drunk driving, the court found nothing improper — because there was just one simple issue for the jurors to decide.

BIG BOOK

The atlas is quite an armful. Chip had a time lugging it down off the shelf, but he wanted, once again, to look at some of the fascinating pictures.

He's a small boy for such a big book. Maybe he doesn't understand all of it. But it whets his curiosity, and the curiosity of a small boy is truly insatiable.

Even as Chip glances at the pictures, questions are racing through his mind. And to whom will he address these questions? To you!

When youngsters ask questions, it is up to us, supposedly "grownup" and therefore wiser, to try to give them the right answers. In this day of sometimes dubious and changing values, that isn't always easy. We must first make sure that we have the true basic answers ourselves. There is no surer way of doing this than by arming ourselves with the faith and wisdom found in the Holy Scriptures and in our churches.
