Former Mayor Of Borger Arrested On Liquor Charges

Bond Of $1500 Is Set For Glenn A. Pace At Stinnett

Sale And Transportation Of Liquor Charges Made In Indictment Against Former City Official

Will Be Released

Date Of Alleged Violation Set At September First Before Pace Was Deposed By Martial Law

STINNETT, Nov. 19. — Bond of $1500 for former Mayor Glenn A. Pace of Borger arrested tonight in Stinnett on a charge of sale and transportation of illicit liquor was approved tonight by Sheriff Moore. The indictment gave September 1 as the time of the alleged violation, while Pace was still mayor before he was deposed by the Borger clean-up law. Pace was to be released from the Borger jail as soon as his attorneys returned there from Stinnett.

Placed Under Arrest

The former mayor was arrested at the office of his lawyer, W. C. Wither, and held in jail for county officers.

Efforts to obtain bond for him tonight seemed due to fail, since the sheriff is not in the county, and in the words of Chief of Police Albert Mace, "there don't seem to be any deputies around who can read any write." Deputy Sheriff Forrest Stradley, only deputy in the county, could not be located by bondsmen.

On a bond prepared to secure his release, the names of Moe Stienberg, city commission, and J. E. Higgins, former city commission, deposed by martial law, are reported to appear.

Returns To Borger

Pace, said to have gone to Louisiana on a visit after being succeeded in office, returned to Borger shortly after noon today with Mrs.

Hoover Business Conclave Starts

Atmosphere Of Optimism Is Predominant In Initial Progress Conferences To Be Held By President

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — President Hoover's business progress conference got underway today in an atmosphere of optimism which is expected to go a long way toward removing apprehension and hesitancy in the industrial and commercial fields which are usually manifest after a collapse of prices in the stock market.

Railway executives in the forenoon gave assurances of cooperation in the maintenance of employment by pushing full programs of construction, and members of the advisory council of the Federal Reserve Board reported in the afternoon that business and banking in each of the 12 districts over the country were in sound condition.

So encouraging is the outlook generally that the bankers said the prospects were that money would be available at lower rates of interest to keep the wheels of industry and commerce moving.

Studes Expelled After Pro Row

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 19. — Twenty-one students of Illinois State University were expelled today at a meeting of the university council of administration and Gamma Eta Gamma, legal fraternity involved in last week's campus liquor scandal, was ordered to show cause why it should not be disbanded.

Eight members of the fraternity were among those ordered expelled. Among the charges against the students were drinking, possession and sale of liquor, and violation of the university no-car rule.

Wilson J. Sherman of Crown Point, Ind., senior in the law school, who was fined $300 after pleading guilty to possession of liquor found in his house in a sheriff's raid early Sunday morning, was one of those expelled on liquor charges.

Indictment Made Against Solon On Pro Law Charges

Representative Denison Is Charged With Possession Of Liquor; Leaking Suitcase Basis For Action

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. — The indictment of Representative Edward E. Denison of Illinois by a Federal grand jury today on a charge of possession of liquor added new force to the storm which has raged recently over prohibition enforcement in the capital.

A leaking suitcase and a trunk containing liquor addressed to John Layne, in care of Denison, were the basis of the indictment, which also named Layne, who was his secretary nine years ago. Denison said the indictment resulted from a mistake and Layne disclaimed any connection with the case.

Pro Agents Report

The grand jury action follows a report by prohibition agents November 8, that they had found a leaking suitcase at the Union station and later a trunk containing liquor at Denison's office last January 19, after Denison returned from a visit to Panama. He made the Panama trip accompanied by his nephew, Charles Layne of St. Louis, his secretary, Miss Lucile Lee, said.

Denison has been a consistent dry voter during his eight terms as representative of the 25th Illinois district.

Stabbing Victim Resting Better

Reports last night from the Lubbock sanitarium were to the effect that the condition of Iva Lackey, 21-year-old Mexican mother, who was stabbed Monday afternoon by her mother-in-law, Mrs. A. D. Stevens, was unchanged but that she was resting better.

Immediately following the cutting affair, which was said to have happened in front of the Lackey home on the main street of Morton, Mrs. Stevens was arrested and charged with assault with intent to murder. She was later released on $5000 bond.

Makes Statement

In a signed statement to District Attorney Durwood Bradley Monday night the young woman stated that the mother-in-law told her that "the baby wasn't her boy's, that she didn't know whose it was and that I didn't either."

Touch of Winter Felt by Lubbock

Ranging from 25 to 31 degrees, a variety of weather was offered Lubbock and vicinity Tuesday. The lowest gauge was registered early Tuesday morning and as the sun broke through a misty haze the mercury began a steady rise.

Late in the afternoon a cold blast was felt from the north and the mercury again started its downward journey. Early today the thermometer was hovering just below the freezing point with indications of a lower drop.

Reports last night to the Morning Avalanche from Denver stated that snow storms and freezing temperatures gripped the Rocky mountain regions. Snow was reported in Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, with the storm headed south into New Mexico and expected to reach that state sometime during the night.

A report also said that snow was falling at Borger.

'Everyday Idea Of Education All Wrong,' Says Sutton

BY CHARLES C. WATSON

Annual Banquet Big Success In Spite Of Blizzard

A STIFF norther, with its cold and biting wind, did not deter some 2500 to 3000 fathers and sons of the city of Lubbock, Lubbock county and numerous towns and communities within a 50-mile radius from gathering at the Texas Tech gymnasium last night for the second annual Fathers' and Sons' banquet and luncheon.

Long before 7 o'clock the gym was crowded and jammed with a milling mass of energy. Boys from six to 60 years of age romped and frolicked for perhaps an hour before the "cats" were announced. Then followed the stampede.

'Football' Played
A squad of former T. C. U. Texas, Baylor, A. & M., and S. M. U. football players, headed by George Duple, J. A. Raley, Homer Grant and Al Hill played the game of their lives in stopping the younger boys from the goal of first in line. A continuous stream pushed and shoved down the east side of the building past the "cats", which were served in buffet style.

Following the munching a number of songs were sung. Rev. L. O. H. Williams leading. George Duple, former judge of the Court of Civil Appeals here, came to the forefront tonight after a Travis county grand jury today indicted him for murder. Brady was charged with the stabbing of Miss Leilia Highsmith, capitol stenographer, November 9.

Sutton Talks
Dr. Willis A. Sutton, of Atlanta, Ga., made an address on the subject of "Just A Man." His remarks being directed principally to the boys.

"You are all interested in seeing every boy become a man," he said. "One of the great qualities of being a man is to have a strong body—able to work and to do work and to do it right. To be that, you've got to struggle."

"But, you've got to be more than strong. You must study. You must strong, must study. You must think, act right. The greatest need of this country today is for its citizens to think."

In a number of interesting stories, Dr. Sutton illustrated his remarks. Dr. Sutton illustrated his remarks.

Officers Unsuccessful In Attempt To Find Leader In Slaying Of Youths; Bodies Found In Well

(By Associated Press)
TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 19. — Temporarily unsuccessful in their attempts to locate a man believed to be the leader in the slayings of Lee Matson, 23, and his brother, Arthur, 19, whose bullet ridden bodies were found Monday at the bottom of an abandoned well, Miller county officials tonight prepared to question Ola Owens, 20-year-old sweetheart of an ex-convict held in connection with the murders.

J. D. Coburn, deputy prosecuting attorney, announced that the girl would be questioned, adding that he believed she would throw some light on the crime for which her sweetheart, Poos Coe, is held for questioning. The decision to question her was reached after an all-day search for a man named as the "key man" had failed.

'Bootleggers' War Feared

Bodies of the boys were found two weeks after they left home, expressing fear they would be killed. The Matson family gave officials the names today of the men they believed responsible for the slaying, which officials feared would develop into a bootleggers' war.

Officers expressed the opinion today that the execution took place at the still, said to be operated by the Matsons and Coe. They visited the still today but failed to find traces of the murderers, or of any conflict. They believed that Lee and Arthur left home to go to the still, where they held up at the point of gun, turned faces away from their slayers, and shot down.

No Murder Indictment Is Returned Against Man

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—D. H. Burden, 48, who was charged with murder November 13 in connection with the death of Claude C. Baird, 35, was no-billed by the grand jury here today.

Baird, proprietor of an automobile repair shop, was shot to death in front of a root beer stand operated by Burden.

Burden, in a statement after his arrest, told officers that Baird ordered cigarettes at his stand and that he refused to pay the girl attendant who waited on him. When his wife failed to get the money, Burden said, a disturbance started and he went outside to investigate, taking a pistol with him. When he approached Baird's car, he declared, Baird snatched up a crank and struck him to the ground with it as Burden regained consciousness, and while he was still on the ground, according to his statement, he fired one shot at Baird, the bullet taking effect in the abdomen. Baird died in a hospital the next day.

Mountain Grown!

Coffees With a Flavor Unlike Any Known Before

MOST of the coffee that you get today—70% in fact—is of one common type, all grown in the same region—Brazil. That is why you notice so little difference in taste when you change from one brand to another.

But if you ask any coffee expert where the finest flavored coffees grow, he will point to the West Coast of Central America. High up in these fertile volcanic mountains, drenched by tropic rain and fanned by the breezes of two oceans, there grow coffees with a rare tang and rich mellow body, unduplicated by any other region in the world.

Only a small percentage of the world's coffees comes from these tiny mountain districts. The high prices they command prohibit their use in ordinary blends. Some crops we contract for from season to season while the trees are in blossom.

These rare mountain-grown coffees give Folger's a richness, a delicious satisfying tang that is entirely different from any other coffee that has ever come into your home. Never "thin" or "flat" or "tasteless". You'll notice the difference in the first rush of fragrance when you break the seal of the vacuum tin.

How To Test Coffee Flavor

Get a pound of Folger's Coffee from your grocer today. Drink it tomorrow morning. The next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning drink Folger's again. Then decide which you like best. If, for any reason, you do not choose Folger's, your grocer will gladly refund the full purchase price. We will pay him. That's fair, isn't it? You risk nothing—so why not order Folger's now for the test?

New Orleans Awaits "Mystery Girl's" Story As Baffling River Murder Trial Draws Near; Adventuress' Testimony May Clear Up Strange Death

Mississippi Waiting For Details of Slaying Case

By NEA Service.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19. —The mystery that was born at midnight when a man's body slid over the rail of the steamer Creole into the muddy Mississippi is still waiting for the ray of light that will make it plain. The death of Jack Kraft remains today what it was at the beginning—the most baffling puzzle New Orleans police have had to tackle in years.

The authorities have a matter of a fortnight or less in which to clear it up. On Nov. 25 they are to put John McGouldrick second mate of the Creole on trial for Kraft's murder. If they produce no more evidence against him than has been offered so far it seems he will go free and the death of Jack Kraft will remain what it is now—a mystery so involved that one gets dizzy trying to straighten it out. But authorities are going ahead with their plans.

Girl Is Real Mystery

To begin with there is "the woman in the case"—Irene Ord as the people on the Creole knew her or Gloria Rouzer as she was baptized. She drifted across Kraft's horizon shortly before his death came down from New York to New Orleans on the Creole with him and now waits for McGouldrick's trial to tell her story in public.

Her own part in the drama is nearly as mysterious as Kraft's death itself. She and Kraft were together constantly on shipboard and she often wore his white trousers and other articles of his clothing.

The daughter of a prominent New York family she had apparently turned rover. After living in France for a time she had gone to England, married a movie actor named Michael Powell left him and sued for divorce two months later returned to America and finally headed for the west coast with Kraft to illustrate a series of travel articles she was going to write. It happens that she is an artist of considerable talent.

Since Kraft's death she has told two stories.

The first one was that Kraft and she quarreled on the night of his

No movie actress, it seems, could be more capable of varying expressions and moods than Gloria Rouzer, better known as "Irene Ord," madcap adventuress-daughter of a prominent New York family, who is to be the key witness at the trial of John McGouldrick, second mate of the S. S. Creole, on charges of murdering Jack Kraft, her dashing traveling companion. Here is Gloria with her mother, Mrs. Gloria M. Rouzer of Westchester, N. Y., and in some of her moods—some carefree, others tragic. The three pictures in the circles show her as she viewed Kraft's body in its shallow grave on the river bank at the first autopsy, when she fainted a moment later and when she was being revived by a detective. New Orleans authorities have set McGouldrick's trial for Nov. 25.

Several persons were on the deck near Kraft and Miss Rouzer just before he went into the river. All swore no shot was fired. Yet when Kraft's body was found, examining doctors said there was a bullet hole through the heart.

Body Thrice Exhumed. Three times Kraft's body was exhumed for post-mortem examinations. The last one was made when McGouldrick's attorney suggested that Kraft had not been shot at all. By that time, however, the condition of the body was such that it was impossible to determine the question.

Gloria Rouzer was nervous and distrustful when first arrested. She fainted when they took her to view Kraft's body in its shallow grave on the river bank at the first exhumation. The police found a letter she had written to McGouldrick, expressing affection and remarking you and the thought of you are the only thing that keeps me from going to pieces." This seemed to give a hint of the solution of Kraft's death, with jealousy between Kraft and McGouldrick as the motive.

Lately, however, she has recovered her spirits. When her mother, Mrs. Gloria Rouzer, of Westchester, N. Y., came to visit her at the little jail in Point a la Hache tiny river hamlet, where she was imprisoned, the girl laughed and seemed light-hearted. She assured her mother, "I haven't any troubles." Mrs. Rouzer seems dumbfounded by the whole affair.

"This was the first time Gloria ever deceived me," she said. "I was stunned and shocked when I learned that she was in prison in Louisiana. I know that my girl is innocent of any wrong-doing. She is impulsive and emotional but she is a fine, clean young sportsman and has the best heart in the world. I never heard of this Jack Kraft whoever he was, until newspapermen in New York told me that Gloria was being held here as a material witness in his murder."

The mother is divorced from the girl's father, a former mining engineer in Mexico who now lives in Washington, D. C.

Kraft A Dashing Figure.

Kraft, incidentally was a romantic figure himself. He had been a pressman then a fencing master, then a free lance writer, and had roved the country widely during the last years of his life. He was good-looking, washing in personality and very popular.

Calling herself Irene Ord, Gloria tried hard to conceal her real identity as the daughter of a wealthy and prominent family and almost succeeded. Not until her real name was found on a locket among the pretty prisoner's effects did it become known and was her mother notified.

New Orleans, stirred to an intense interest by the case, is waiting eagerly for the trial of McGouldrick and for the mystery girl's story on the witness stand.

Kinsolving Heads South Texas C.-C. Organization Now

Former Abilene Man Named Leader; State-Wide Road Program Is Supported In Resolutions

BY FRED DYE

Associated Press Staff Writer. CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 19. (AP)—Grady Kinsolving, publisher of the Corpus Christi Times and Caller, today was installed as the new president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce after his selection last night at an executive session of the executive committee.

Kinsolving came to Corpus Christi about two years ago as publisher of the Times, severing newspaper connections at Abilene. This week, with the consolidation of the Caller and the Times, he became president and general manager of the joint enterprise. In his short stay in South Texas, Kinsolving has been recognized as the aggressive type young business man needed to head the three-year-old South Texas chamber.

Resolutions adopted. Resolutions read to the convention today after adoption last night included support of the proposed state highway bond issue of $200,000,000, sternly expressed opposition to a state income tax and support of the modernization and centralization of the state prison system.

O. W. Killman of Laredo, retiring president, and Ray Leeman, general manager, were praised for the present splendid financial condition and accomplishments of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Oppose Income Tax. Against a state income tax, the resolution said, "We believe a state income tax to be bad in principle, a burden on productivity and a discouragement to industrial development of the state."

Representative of the area in which the state prison system is located, the chamber's resolution concerning the prison system was unusually interesting. It termed the system "antiquated and unsatisfactory," and asserted that there was apparent need for the concentration and modernization along lines suggested in various public utterances by Governor Moody.

Another resolution condemned the farming out of tax assessments and collections in various counties and asserted money paid for taxes should all go for the development of communities in which they are levied.

Plan Publicity Work.

Other resolutions adopted dealt with applied publicity for the continued advancement of South Texas, acknowledged gratitude to Governor Moody and the Forty-First legislature for the establishment of the South Texas Teachers college at Kingsville, urged strict enforcement of the state aircraft act, supported the conservation of water, developed the "grave shortage of agricultural labor in all western and southwestern states" and requested President Hoover to appoint a commission to make a thorough investigation and submit recommendations for the alleviation of the present situation.

New Committee Named.

The new executive committee consists of Killman, H. B. Baldwin of Corpus Christi; E. K. Fawcett, of Del Rio; C. M. Malone, of Houston; Louis Mimmis, of Freeport; G. R. Sanders, of Pearland; John LeMay, of San Benito; O. J. Winterman, of Eagle Lake; V. J. Gruninger, of Cuero; C. O. Rockwell, of McAllen; Charles Mumm, of Laredo. Leeman was retained as general manager, and Joseph Evans of Houston was named first vice-president and E. H. Kifer of San Antonio second vice-president.

The two-day convention ended with today's sessions after the meeting was termed the most enthusiastic in the three years the organization has existed.

Oil Production Has Slight Gain

Daily Average Total Shows Only 7,109 Barrel Boost Over Past Week; West Texas Gains

(By Associated Press)

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 19. —Wavering under pressure still in effect on the Pacific coast, the estimated daily average production of light and heavy gravity oil in the United States during the week ending November 16 gained back but 7,109 barrels of the 201,723 lost in the record drop recorded during the week ending November 9, according to the Oil and Gas Journal.

The grand total estimated production for the past week was 2,615,457 barrels as compared to 2,608,348 barrels for the week ending November 9. Light oil increased 1,322 barrels. A decrease in heavy oil production, however, lowered the final gain.

Oklahoma Gains. Oklahoma's total came back for a 28,513 barrel gain with the Oklahoma City pool supplying 20,270 barrels of this. The state's northern miscellaneous fields and the Seminole areas supplied the remainder.

West Texas advanced 8,000 barrels, principally in Yates area, while Kansas remained virtually constant. The total mid-continent area advanced 22,270 in light oil and remained constant in heavy oil. Gulf coast heavy gained approximately 5,400 barrels.

California lost 23,500 barrels distributed virtually even in Santa Fe Springs and Long Beach light oil areas. The miscellaneous fields of the state gained slightly. Heavy oil dropped 3,000 barrels. Kansas production was 10,410, compared to 109,915 for the previous week.

SAYS HER HEAD HURT ALL NIGHT

Georgia Lady Was Thin, Pale, Suffering, When She Began To Take Cardui.

Yaldosta, Ga.—Mrs. F. A. Mikell 615 West Magnolia Street, this city says: "About five years ago, my health wasn't good. I was pale and thin. I had a tired feeling—about as tired when I would get up as when I went to bed. "I found I was getting weaker instead of stronger. Lots of nights I would have headache all night and when I would get up in the morning (when I was able to get up), my eyes would look hollow and I would be very pale. "I knew that I must do something. "My mother told me she believed Cardui would help me. I was willing to try it. I felt much better by the time I had taken one bottle. Since then, when I needed a tonic, I would take Cardui. "Many other women have reported that they began taking Cardui on their mothers' advice, for this medicine has been in use so long its real worth is known by several generations of women. Get a bottle today. TAKE CARDUI Helps Women to Health. Theodore's Black-Drainage should also be used in connection with Cardui, at a laxative.

why smokers graduate to

CAMELS—

The phrase "I've Graduated to Camels" originated with a Camel smoker. It expresses the experience of millions who through Camels have learned to know real smoking pleasure.

As taste in smoking develops, it naturally leads toward better quality. New smokers may not be critical but when they once experience the true mildness and surpassing fragrance of the Camel blend, they realize that here is a real superiority. It is for smokers of such discernment that Camels are made... for them the choicest tobaccos are selected... and this quality is maintained for the millions who know genuine smoking pleasure.

Tweed Coat Good

Women are thoroughly emancipated from everything except fashion, according to Gilbert Seldes, who discusses women's dress and underdressing very entertainingly in the current "Mentor."

He makes the point that while we have had many dress reformers, who made themselves objects of ridicule in crusading against the long skirt and the corset in the days when they prevailed, that they really advanced the cause of sensible clothing but slightly.

Mary Tilton, who invented a costume that included "a bodice, loose trousers and a short skirt falling to just above the knee," Mrs. Bloomer with her bloomers, and Dr. Mary Walker with her man's attire which made her so popular with her own sex that they sided with her on her in the street, didn't get us our present freedom in dress.

For it we may thank the factory and the bicycle, the war and the motor car, tennis and the turkey trot.

A PLAIN CONSPIRACY

Seldes brings out this moot topic for discussion in his closing paragraph:

"No woman reformer ever sketched a pretty dress. Was their interest in morality so great they hated beauty? Or was it after all a mixture of motives so delicate we cannot disentangle them? For it takes a subtle mind to decide whether the wish of a plain woman to make herself invisible by making everybody wear the same clothes as herself isn't closely connected with the determination of the same plain woman to call attention to herself by wearing clothes so different, so ugly that she becomes conspicuous."

HOW IMPORTANT?

Personally, I have been inclined to think we over-estimate the importance of clothes, except the superior or the sub.

I used to attend a boarding school where, for occasions when we appeared in public together, we wore a uniform—visibly chosen for us by stern spinsters with the idea of making us all look as ordinary as possible. They did.

One spring, when nature was glad and gay, our uniforms included a Milan hat with a brim that was not wide enough to be seductive, or small enough to be smart, and a tailored suit of dull brown wool, and a white batiste shirt waist—try to cut anyone out in that outfit.

Well, most of us were total losses, and we knew it. We wore these things with about as much joy as if they had been haircloth shirts. But there was one girl who managed to pull that piece of dumb millinery down over her face so that it actually did things for her—it revealed one eye and hid the other, so she was striking in it. And in some utterly unexplainable way she injected life into that brown wool, and gave the hint of a seductive figure beneath. She wore the same uniform as the rest of us, but she didn't look like we did, and there was nothing the teachers could do about it.

BEAUTY DESPITE ALL

Another girl, I remember, with the face, though not the disposition, of an angel out of heaven, took that same chapeau and perched it on top of her madonna brow, so that it actually looked like a halo. Nobody else ever achieved that, either.

No, uniform or no uniform, the striking ones stood out. All it did for the rest of us was to cover us, and make us look like part of a herd. And after all, that's what most of us achieve—we look pretty much alike. And we are all afraid of not looking like someone else. That is why we are slaves to fashion, which is another name for uniformity.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MADAME RUBINSTEIN

Massage has a more prominent place today in the field of beauty culture than ever before, although it has always been important. Massage is now used for reducing, and in its more gentle forms, for the removal of signs of age on the face and throat. It is used for curing dandruff and keeping the scalp healthy. Massage is also used on the hands and even on the feet, to strengthen the muscles supporting the arch. In fact, I consider the curative value of massage to be so great, that I shall devote several articles to this subject.

In massaging the face, the greatest care has to be exercised, as the muscles are sensitive and responsive, and therefore easily stretched so facial massage must be exceedingly gentle. I cannot caution you enough against touching your fingers to your face until you have enough knowledge to proceed correctly. For every time you touch your face you are adding or detracting from your looks. The forms of massage which I shall give you are very simple and

Body Of Stewart To Cleveland For Funeral Services

Former Texas University Football Coach Will Be Buried In Ohio City; Meets Accidental Death

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19. (P)—The body of E. J. "Doc" Stewart, former University of Texas football and basketball coach, who was accidentally killed Monday afternoon by a load of buckshot while hunting deer 22 miles west of Kerrville was brought to San Antonio Tuesday morning in an ambulance and placed on a Missouri-Pacific train for removal to Cleveland, Ohio, where he will be buried.

The body was accompanied by his widow, Mrs. E. J. Stewart, and Mrs. Wm. James, wife of Bill James, University of Texas football line coach. James was a member of the hunting party with Stewart when he was killed.

Mistaken For Deer
The fatal shot was fired by J. W. O'Byrne, San Antonio oil operator, who mistook Stewart for a deer.

Stewart had been a football coach for 15 years, having coached the Oregon Aggies, the Clemson College team of South Carolina and others before coming to Texas. He retired last year after having coached the team of the Texas School of Mines at El Paso to a victory over the Simmons University on Thanksgiving day.

The University of Texas football players paused for two minutes in their practice this afternoon at about the time Stewart, formerly their popular leader, was shot to death yesterday.

World's Greatest Gold Mine Built by French Bank is Underground Fortress

BY MINOT SAUNDERS, NEA Service Writer.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Underneath a vacant lot, strewn with rubbish off the rue Croix des Petits Champs here, lies the world's greatest gold mine. It is a foot-proof, burglar-proof, bomb-proof, fire-proof, water flowing above and beneath it. A formidable fortress, it is the new strong box of the Bank of France.

Construction of this vault required three years, with night and day shifts of 1200 men. Access to it is gained through the Bank of France, only a few blocks from the Avenue de l'Opera. At the third sub-basement there is a wall of reinforced concrete 25 feet thick. A secret combination opens a steel door weighing eight tons, revealing a passageway four feet wide and eight feet high. This is blocked by a steel buffer of the same thickness as the wall, and to move this buffer towards or from the vault requires the force of an electric locomotive. Only rusted guards familiar with the mechanism can operate this machinery.

Arranged in Compartments.
Inside the fortress there are various sections separated by huge steel doors. On either side of long corridors are compartments in which the gold treasure is stored. Each compartment is capable of holding 5,000,000 francs in 100-franc gold pieces, but at present most of the compartments contain an equal value in gold ingots, chiefly American and English.

The concrete-walled cave is a labyrinth covering two and a half acres and is 150 feet deep. Sixty feet from the surface there is a layer of concrete 19 feet thick. Halfway down workmen found an underground stream that flows from the hills of Montmartre and empties into the Seine behind the Louvre. The waters were dammed back so as to allow the digging to continue through solid rock. Heavy concrete columns were planted to support the fortress and now the waters run above and below the case.

Treasure Is Safe
The electrical plant, brilliantly lighting the corridors and rooms, is safeguarded against any emergency. There also is a great kitchen capable of feeding 2,000 workers and soldiers, and also sleeping quarters in case of a siege. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the gold treasure against attack of any kind.

In the first place the pools of water increase the safety of the huge vault because if mobs got control of the streets they would have great difficulty in digging down. In an extreme emergency the chambers of the vault could be flooded and in that way save the treasure.

Officials of the Bank of France will not discuss the reasons for such an elaborate structure for depositing its gold but it is certain that the vault is proof against heavy gun fire and any bombs that might be dropped in an aerial raid. Workers down below could hold their fort for weeks, even months, and remain perfectly healthy because of a secret ventilating system. Even if rioters could find the gateways to the cavern, they would have little chance in blasting even the outer wall and no possible chance of solving the combinations of the doors.

The French gold reserve value now amounts to nearly two billion dollars, which is an increase of approximately 25 per cent since the beginning of the year. American and English ingots may be seen in piles in the compartments along the corridors. It is a gold mine that even the most fantastic-minded adventurers scarcely could imagine. It is common knowledge that the Bank of France is stronger now than at any time since the outbreak of war and its gold fortress bears material evidence of its strength.

Most of the gold in the French reserve that has been drawn from England has been transported to Paris by air. This is regarded as the safest route by insurance companies because the tri-motor planes rarely fail and the air passage offers little possibility of robbery.

Matadors Lose 14-0 Decision To Howard Payne Crew

Powerful Texas Conference Eleven Uncorks Brilliant Running Attack In Defeating Fighting Tech Outfit

McCarver, Gibbs And Baker Lead Assault On Crimson Aggregation In Tuesday Skirmish; Crites And Hodges Set Pace For Tech

By ALLAN CARNEY
Avantage-Journal Sports Editor

Paced by the fleet Nig McCarver and the pile-driving Paul Gibbs, the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets overpowered Texas Tech's Matador eleven on the college gridiron here Tuesday afternoon, running over and around the Higginbotham-Payne aggregation for a 14 to 0 decision. It was the last home appearance of the Scarlet-clad crew for the 1929 season.

The Texas Conference leaders, depending solely on a versatile quartet of ball carriers and a hunky forward wall, employed little more than straight football but displayed the most powerful running attack seen on Tech Field this year. Although repulsed on numerous occasions by a stubborn Matador defense, the striped-jersey hunkies from Brownwood were clearly the masters of the situation, piling up a total of 16 first downs as compared to 8 for Tech.

Jackets Score In Second

Howard Payne scored first in the second quarter on a sustained drive, aided by a 20-yard pass, and again in the final period following a Tech fumble on the Matador's 25-yard line. It was Nig McCarver that quipped across for both counters and Baker who converted both extra points from placement.

The Matadors' most serious threat came at the beginning of the third period when four successive first downs carried the pigskin to the Jackets' 15-yard line. Here the Howard Payne line stiffened and the drive was halted.

Tech got a break at the outset of the contest when McCarver fumbled on his own 37-yard line and Payne recovered for Tech. Crites picked up five yards on two running plays but passed over the goal line on the fourth.

Matadors Halt Drive

The Jackets proceeded to march down the field but the drive was stopped cold after they had penetrated Tech's 20-yard line. McCarver fumbled through the line and out into the open, running 29 yards before he was hauled down on the Matador's 44-yard line. Gibbs and Baker added 3 more yards on off-tackle smashes, and McCarver broke loose again, this time for 10 yards across Tech's right flank. Baker clipped through for 9 yards and McCarver made it first down on Tech's 15-yard line.

It was here that the Matadors bowed their necks and halted the hard-driving Jacket quartet. After three thrusts at the line and a pile-up that failed to gain, the Matadors were in possession of the ball on their own 16-yard stripe.

Brothers kicked out to his own 46-yard line and the Jackets started snarling again. Gibbs began sniping off at the line and a pile-up, but when the 15-yard line was reached again, a rock-ribbed Crimson line stiffened and the ball went over for the second successive time.

This time Brothers kicked on the first down, but only a short distance and the Jackets again were in possession of the oval on Tech's 33-line.

Fumble Ends March

From here McCarver, Baker, Gibbs and company started another determined drive that had all the earmarks of a touchdown, but Gibbs fumbled when Tech's 13-yard line was reached and Dewitt, recovered for Tech as the first quarter ended.

After the teams had changed ends, a punt was kicked, with Gibbs of Tech and Baker of Brownwood in the kicking roles. The ball changed hands six times before the Yellow Jackets started the drive that resulted in the first touchdown of the game.

Starting on their own 44-yard line, the visitors began a relentless march that would have bowled over the majority of college teams in the state. Three successive first downs, with McCarver and Gibbs in the starring roles, pushed back the Matadors to their own 24-yard line. Here the Tech forwards dug in and halted the running attack and the visitors took to the air.

McCarver Goes Over

A pass, Baker to Cloninger was incomplete, but the next heave was good for 20 yards. Baker sending one of his beautiful spirals into the arms of McCarver, who was brought down on the Matadors' 8-yard line. Fields made two yards in two attempts to pierce the Tech line, and then McCarver spun through Tech's right tackle for his first counter of the game. He crossed the final stripe standing up. Baker booted a perfect kick from placement and the score stood 7 to 0.

The Matadors opened up with a punting attack in the closing minutes of the first half that bode hard times to the Jackets but the sun ended the fireworks. After Payne had returned Howard Payne's kick-off, Green took Crites' pass on the dead run and was downed in the middle of the field. The next heave was even more spectacular, Green taking the pellet-pass over his shoulder. This was good for 7 more yards and the gun sounded.

At the outset of the second half, the Matadors started off as if the coaches had told them something. After forcing the Jackets to kick, the court-clad warriors electrified the partially-filled stands with a brilliant attack that netted four consecutive first downs. Harold Crites was the big gun in the Matador drive down the field. He was aided by Clarence Hodges, substitute Tech fullback, who turned in some of the longest runs for the Crimson.

Hodges' stride, hunkies from his own 37-yard line when he dashed through the Jacket line for 10

Star In Tech's Last Home Game

Standing out in Tech's final home skirmish of the 1929 season Tuesday afternoon were H. C. "Chubby" Dewitt, veteran Matador guard, and Harold Crites, brilliant sophomore halfback. Dewitt, snarled play after play started by the Yellow Jackets while Crites was the chief ground gainer of the day for the Bull Fighters. It was the last appearance of Dewitt on Tech Field in a regularly scheduled game. Both will likely be seen in action here Dec. 6 in the post-season game with the West Texas Teachers from Canyon.

Matador-Jacket Sidelights

The Yellow-Jacket backfield displayed the smoothest running attack seen here this season—not excepting that of Texas Christian University. In Gibbs, McCarver and Baker the Howard Payne eleven boasted a clearly above-average trio of ball toters.

Nig McCarver, whose consistent ground gaining made him a shining star yesterday, lived up to advance notices. An all-Texas conference halfback, McCarver spins through the line and knifes the tackles in a scintillating fashion that would make position on any backfield in Texas, all press agencies not to the contrary.

The line play of H. C. (Chubby) Dewitt, co-captain and veteran Matador guard, was one of the shining lights of the game. Dewitt made a number of nice tackles as Howard Payne backs attempted to cross his side of the Tech outer wall. Jack Durham, Matador center, and Ameral Payne, end, also turned in a nice game defensively, although Payne played only the first half.

Harold Crites, with the able assistance of Clarence Hodges, made some nice gains over the Jacket tackles. Although he injured his ankle and had to call time out in the third quarter, Crites came back and on two occasions riled gained 12 yards, knifing the enemy tackles.

Julius Bergelt, the Fort Worth Irishman, finally got a call in the fourth quarter and played a highly satisfactory game, both offensively and defensively. Bergelt has been a candidate for the Tech team for a long time and coming from the way he showed his wares yesterday will see some action in the Simmons set. Hodges played nearly the whole game at fullback as Charlie Woodbridge, starting line-backer, was out of the game from the press box, the victim of a number of minor injuries which made his playing against the Jackets an impossibility. Dennis Vincent, regular Tech wingman, was also in the press box, out of hostilities with a trick knee.

Few if any more than 1,500 souls—students included—viewed the Tech-Jacket game as a northern snarl down, making the playing field cold as Amarillo. Shivering scribbles in the press box had one ray of as their teeth chattered in a delightful staccato. "Doctor" W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Tech athletic council, saw the game from that vantage point, wrapped in a blanket, and at the conclusion of the contest promised faithfully to glass the press box in by the time another season rolls around.

The "High School Had It" when it came to officiating, three men doing a nifty job of calling the play. Ab Curtis, former Texas university star, refereed. He is now coaching at North Fort Worth High. He was assisted by Harry Holton, Wichita Falls coach, as umpire, and by Del Morgan, Lubbock high coach, as head linesman.

Howard Payne had much the heavier team. From tackle to tackle the visitors averaged 190 pounds to the man, while Tech's forward wall is pushed to average 170 pounds.

turned in a strong defensive game, with Dewitt, Durham and Payne standing out in starring roles. Crites and Hodges shared honors from the offensive standpoint. The current grid campaign for the Matadors will be wound up on Thanksgiving Day at Abilene against the Simmons Cowboys. A post-season tilt between Tech and Canyon has practically been clinched with the date set on Dec. 6.

Amateur Body May Be Formed In This State

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19. (AP)—The amateur Athletic Union closed a stormy session today by re-electing Avery Brundage of Chicago to the presidency for a second term, ratifying the selection of Pittsburgh for the 1930 national track and field championships, and picking Washington, D. C., for the next annual meeting.

The A. A. U. completed the program of reconciliation with the national collegiate A. A. after a long standing controversy, by changing its constitution to permit certification of athletes by their colleges and universities for competition in A. A. U. meets.

The hottest fight of the convention took place before Boston was finally voted the custody of the 1930 national senior boxing championship. St. Louis made a victorious bid for the title attraction.

George Godfrey Gets Suspension

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—The New York State Athletic commission today suspended George Godfrey, negro heavyweight, in connection with the action of the Massachusetts boxing fathers because of an unsatisfactory bout with Jimmy Byrne, of Louisville. Vince Dundee, middleweight brother of former welterweight champion, Joe Dundee, was placed on the list and unavailable, but until he recovers from hurt-and-illness a contract to box at Madison Square Garden.

Favors Leniency Toward Athletes

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—The fact that a man is an athlete is no reason for penalizing him. Dr. King, president of the Southwest University of Georgetown, told the Austin Rotary club today.

"I have no sympathy with the wholesale panning of players we read about in the papers today," Dr. King said. "Because a man goes in for intercollegiate sports is no reason he shouldn't enjoy life."

Italian Refuses Offer

The spinning of Paul Gibbs and Nig McCarver, Jacket backs, was a revelation to the bugs. Those lads served in the cavalry since they twisted through the line and many tacklers were shaken off as the visiting horsemen performed hula-hula antics.

WEST POINT, Nov. 19. (AP)—The cavalry got a boost when Major Ralph Sasse was named to succeed Captain "Biff" Jones as head coach of the Army football team.

Major Sasse, who will take charge of the Cadet squad in 1930, has served in the cavalry since he graduated from West Point, with the exception of the time he spent with the 301st Heavy Tank Battalion during the World war.

A native of Wilmington, Del., Major Sasse was an all-around athlete in high school. While attending National Preparatory Academy he coached his own football team with marked success.

Only a few of the athletes were affected Monday but by Tuesday afternoon half the squad was feeling badly.

Unless an immediate cure is effected the team will be badly handicapped Saturday when it invades Waco to meet the powerful Baylor Bears.

Vernon Lions On Friday Grid Menu For Lubbock Crew

Twenty-Five Members Of Squad Leave Tonight For Scene Of District One Encounter Friday

Following a final workout on their home field this afternoon, the Westerners of Lubbock High school will leave here tonight, 25 strong for Vernon where Friday they will tackle the Vernon Lions on the latter's arena as another step toward their quest of second place in the district standing.

Confident of laming the vicious Lions but at the same time fully aware of the strength of the Well-coached aggregation, the Westerners will be off on their last road jaunt of the season tonight when the climb aboard their chartered pullman on the Denver tracks. Coaches Henry Franks and Del Morgan will accompany the squad.

Hold Brisk Workout

A brisk north wind served to put a snap into the high school gridders' workout Tuesday afternoon on the school campus. Coach Franks sent the squad through a snappy signal drill, after which the squad members were taken to Tech Field to witness the Tech-Howard Payne scrap. Following the game, the Westerners returned to their practice field for another session.

Today's workout will put the finishing touches on the club's attack for the Vernon fray and Thursday afternoon the locals will take a light limbering-up exercise at the scene of battle. The train is due to arrive at the Lion stronghold shortly after midnight tonight.

Reaching their season's peak in the hard battle with the Amarillo Sandles, the Westerners fought hard to ward off the let-down jinx. The victory over Wichita enabled them to pass this stage but Vernon's surprising loss to Plainview caused the Lions' stock to drop considerably and the resulting overconfidence cropped out in the Westerner camp.

Hard Battle Ahead

Reports from Lion headquarters indicate the locals will have anything but an easy time Friday afternoon against the Japs. Coach Heine Weir has been driving his charges at a fast clip this week and the squad has responded unusually well.

Last year Lubbock pined up a commanding lead over the Vernon eleven, only to let up and allow the visitors to come back and threaten their lead. Coach Franks is guarding against such a recurrence this season and will send his full strength out to battle the Will-barger county lads.

MURDER TRIAL BRIEF

H. P. Webb Freed In Death Of Oil Worker

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—In one of the briefest murder trials in the annals of Harris county, H. P. Webb of Chambersville, Texas, was cleared today of charges in connection with the death of Ed Morrissey.

The latter, an oil field worker, was found dying in a local hotel Sept. 5. An autopsy revealed that death was due to a blow on the head with a beer bottle, according to County Physician Ernest Wright, who held an autopsy.

Only two witnesses testified during the actual trial, which consumed more than an hour.

The defense was based on the contention that the evidence against Webb was purely circumstantial and that no testimony had been adduced to show that Webb struck the fatal blow.

"Married Life" Not Worth While

Blames Wives' "Nerves"

Weak nerves, said a New York doctor recently, "in my estimation wreck more happily married lives than any other cause."

Besides making the sweetest disposition sour and irritable, nervousness is a terrible drain on your vital forces—it saps your youth and your strength and dulls your beauty. What a difference from the bright-eyed, vibrant girl he married. No wonder married life seems unbearable!

But you can get rid of your nervousness—speedily too—and become the steady, serene, radiant woman you once were. Try the effect of Tanlac after meals and before going to bed, and you won't soon make a new woman of you.

Doesn't it sound like a new woman of you? Doesn't it sound like a new woman of you? Go to your druggist now and get a bottle of Tanlac. Millions of folks have started back on the road to youth, health and happiness with this world famous tonic and there is no reason why you, too, can't begin today to rebuild your worn-out tissues and revitalize your entire system.

PERPETUAL CARE

REASONS WHY!

The purchase of a cemetery lot is an obligation that sooner or later will have to be met. Being indispensable, it is better attended to when we may, than when we must. The time to make such choice is when there is abundant opportunity for deliberation and wise selection; not to wait until distracted with grief or worn out with weary watching and care in a sick room.

It is a comforting thought to the survivors to have a place of interment already secured at beautiful Memorial Park. Prudence suggests that we look forward to future requirements, as the purchase of a lot should be but once in the history of the family.

Interested persons are solicited to visit and inspect beautiful Memorial Park.

Woman And Two Men Are Being Held At Levelland For Investigation In Connection With Hold-Up Near City

No Definite Information Is Obtained By Officers In Quizzing Of Trio In Robbery Of Constable

(Special To The Avalanche)

LEVELLAND, Nov. 19. — Though two men and a woman, who are being held for investigation here in the Hockley county jail in connection with a hold up near here last night, have been quizzed today by officials, no definite information has been obtained. County Attorney Carl Ratliff is conducting the investigation and tonight stated that he hoped to have the matter cleared tomorrow.

A. P. Odell, city marshal and constable, together with H. C. Bowlin, principal of a Lubbock ward school, were the victims of the hold up last night, and Odell was relieved of $20 and his pistol.

Staged Near City.

The hold up was staged about a half mile south of here on the Brownfield highway. The two men were returning from Bowlin's farm when they saw a handbag lying in the road. Bowlin stopped the car and the constable got out to investigate. As he walked away from the car two men and a woman emerged from the darkness and told him to put up his hands.

When Bowlin saw what was happening, he started the car and sped to Levelland for help. A search was quickly started and the three, now being held for investigation, were found about an hour later.

Throughout today's examination both the men and the woman have emphatically denied knowing anything about the affair and no charges have been filed.

Champions Chosen In Livestock Show

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19. (AP) — Blue ribbon by the yard found its way to the sleek backs of cattle, hogs and sheep here again today as new champions were inspected and approved by judges at the 31st annual American Royal Livestock and Horse show.

The grand championship of senior and junior bulls in the Aberdeen class were awarded yesterday, the former going to Harrison and Ryan of Harlan, Iowa, on Ellenore 15th, and the latter to Miss Irene Brown of Rose Hill, Iowa, on her Revolution 84th. Oklahoma A. and M. college placed two grand champion entries, its Duroc Jersey barrow, Wing 3rd and a pen of Hampshire barrows.

Accident Victim Will Be Interred At Stephenville

Body Of A. L. Patterson Is Sent From Here Tuesday Night; Brother Of N. M. Accompanies Casket

The body of A. L. Patterson, 35, car-crash victim who died in this city Sunday night, was shipped last night at 10 o'clock, to Stephenville where funeral services and burial will be held, probably Thursday. A brother, I. M. Patterson, of Rogers, N. M., accompanied the body from Lubbock.

Following a state-wide search for relatives the dead man's brother has been located at Tola, Texas, and a brother at Stephenville.

Another Injured.

The accident, in which Patterson, together with Walter Breedlove, was injured, occurred last week near Roundup when the car in which they were riding struck a truck and overturned.

Patterson's death followed fracture at the base of his skull. Breedlove is in the Lubbock sanitarium in a critical condition also suffering fractures. His recovery is uncertain, according to attendants.

A third occupant of the wrecked automobile has not been found.

ASKED TO RESIGN

Mrs. Hayes One Of Proudest Women In Amarillo, Says

"I'm Certainly Grateful For The Happiness Orgatone Has Brought To My Home"

"I am one of the proudest women in Amarillo today, and I just want to tell the people it's all because of what this Orgatone has done for my husband," said Mrs. O. R. Hayes, of 119 N. E. Fifth, St. Amarillo, Texas.

"He had suffered so much during the past four years," she continued, "with stomach trouble that he had almost given up hope of ever finding anything to give him relief. His appetite was fairly good but what he did eat would just stay in his stomach and make gas and misery for him. Constipation bothered him continually and his liver was very sluggish."

"He had tried many different kinds of medicines and treatments, but everything failed to help him until he began on Orgatone. He began picking up right off when he began taking Orgatone and his sluggish worn out feelings soon disappeared. He has such a big appetite now that he can hardly get enough to eat and his digestion is fine. He has already gained in strength and says he never felt more peppy or better. He sleeps good every night and goes to his work bright and cheerful all the time. I'm certainly grateful for the happiness Orgatone has brought to my home by restoring my husband's health. I honestly believe it will help anybody."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowers Drug Store.

FACING EXPULSION

Students May Be Ousted As Result Of Liquor Raids

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 19. (AP)—The liquor raid upon the Gamma Eta Gamma law fraternity house is ended as far as the law is concerned, but those involved today faced possible expulsion from the university of Illinois.

One of the three fraternity members arrested in the raid, W. J. Sherman of Crown Point, Ind., senior in the University Law school, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of possession and was fined $500 and costs.

Sherman's plea brought dismissal of charges against the other two students taken in the raid: Alfred J. Withers of Hibbing, Minn., and Ernest Longbons of Marion, Ill.

Why Is an Overcoat?

If overcoats were worn simply for warmth, a blanket, a shawl or a rug would be quite adequate for the purpose. But precisely because we know style is as important in an overcoat as warmth we give as much attention to balance, drape and line as we do to weight and grade of fabric.

$24.75

And a J. C. Penney overcoat has even more than style and warmth to recommend it. Behind the distinction of smart styling lies the appeal of sound value . . . the kind of value that only the buying prestige of over 1400 J. C. Penney Stores can make possible. Every overcoat on display has been made in accordance with our own exacting standards of quality materials and finished workmanship.

Prize-Winning British Beauty Lands In London Prison For Playing In World Of Make-Believe; Shy Of Flattery

Maude Hall Is Now
Missing Acclaim
She Shunned

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Writer.

LONDON, Nov. 19. — Dresses to the left of her, dresses to the right of her, sparkled and shimmered—diaphanous ball gowns, clinging, delicate dinner dresses, clothes for afternoon teas, for the golf links, for the grandstands at the famous English race courses.

But Maude Hall, who has been called the most beautiful girl in all England, didn't wear the dresses for parties and sports. When she locked the door to her poor little room in the Catford district of London, she put them on and played make-believe. As the wife of a French nobleman, she would sweep down the grand staircase of a fine chateau; as the chateleine of a great house in England, she would pour tea for the bearers of historic names.

But now another door has been locked behind her, and the dream castles have been crashing down. For Maude is a prisoner of His Majesty's government and is charged with the theft of 113 dresses. For the next three months, she will have ample opportunity to think earnestly of the might-have-beens.

Won Beauty Contest.
It's all because Maude is very beautiful. A few years ago she was a hard working, happy girl, living with her parents in Catford. Then a beauty contest was organized. Maude entered it and won the first prize over 50,000 competitors from all over England.

Her pictures were printed in all the papers. She was inundated with all sorts of flattering offers. A French nobleman wanted to marry her. Indian princes wanted to send her jewelry. Film producers wanted her to go on the screen. Stage managers offered her goodly engagements.

But Maude turned them all down. She was too shy and timid. When she rode on a bus or a train people recognized her and pointed her out as the Catford beauty queen. She took to hiding her face behind a newspaper. Then after a while, no more offers came to her and people stopped noticing her out.

Only two things remained—the fact that she had won the prize, and the shy dreams this had awakened in her. Since she had not actually gone on the stage or into the films, since she had not accepted any of the flattering marriage offers that had been made to her, she would play the same of pretend.

Stole 113 Dresses.
Maude worked in a big London department store and the lovely clothes she could not afford to buy, she took. Suspicion fell upon her and a search of her room at home showed that she had 113 dresses.

Maude never tried to sell the clothes, and she never dared wear any of them outside. She simply spent her evenings after 9 o'clock trying on the pretty things.

When presented in police court, she pleaded guilty. Her attorney agreed her offense was a serious one, but said it was due to a girl's vanity and nothing else. She had always been a good girl. So the judge gave her three months imprisonment in the second division, the lightest he could inflict.

INQUIRY DELAYED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Absence of Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, caused postponement today of the senate agriculture sub-committee inquiry into speculation on cotton exchanges, but it is expected to start tomorrow.

Man Confesses to Attack in Texas

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19. (AP)—Arrested here today on suspicion, the confidence man, Jack Bennett, 23, of Dallas, Tex., confessed to police a number of crimes in which he participated.

"My conscience is troubling me," Bennett told police. "I want to atone for my wrong doings." Bennett said he was wanted in Dallas for an attack upon a 14-year-old girl. In 1923, he claimed, he and three others held up the suburban bank of Los Angeles, obtaining $9,000.

Bennett was held as a fugitive. His roommate was held pending investigation.

WOOFER DISCOMFOTED
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—A slight discomfort today caused by throat irritation. It was said that the president did not have a cold and the ailment was expected to yield to treatment rapidly.

AMENDMENT REJECTED
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—At the request of the finance committee the senate today rejected a committee amendment to the tariff bill which would have imposed by 10 per cent unbleached cotton cloth.

Rival Lobbyists

Lobbyists for opposing sugar interests, Edwin P. Shattuck, above, New York lawyer, and Royal D. Meade, below, of the Domestic Sugar Producers' association, each testified before the senate lobby investigating committee in Washington that he'd received approximately $20,000 for attempting to influence national legislation. Shattuck, counsel for the United States Sugar association, sought lower duties on foreign sugar while Meade worked for a higher tariff.

Fall's Ranch Goes To Edward Doheny

Tres Ritos Becomes Property
Of Oil Magnate Tuesday;
Note Foreclosure Is Made For Ranch.

(By Associated Press)

ALAMOGORDO N. M., Nov. 19.—The Tres Ritos ranch, once the pride of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, today was the property of Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate.

An action described as an untangling of affairs of the Tres Ritos Land company resulted in Doheny's acquisition of the ranch at a special master's sale yesterday. Representatives of Doheny paid $132,461.81 for the Tres Ritos. Under a court order, following a foreclosure action, the sale was made to satisfy a note given to the oil man on December 20, 1928, for $124,000 at 6 per cent interest. The note covered a personal mortgage held by Doheny.

Consideration Unknown.
Signed by Emma Fall, wife of the former interior secretary, as vice president of the Tres Ritos Land and Cattle company the note held by Doheny was endorsed by Fall. It could not be learned here, however, just what connection the note bore to the private affairs of Fall, nor was it evident why the note was given Doheny.

Fall, in broken health, is in El Paso, Texas. Representatives of Doheny and Fall pointed out the transaction was a mere formality with the view of keeping affairs of the land company legally straight. They reiterated Doheny has specified Fall may have his residence on the ranch and a part of the property as long as he cares to live on it.

Another Page In Diplomacy

Arthur Wilson Page, above, son of the late Walter Hines Page, former American ambassador to Great Britain, will serve as an aid to Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, during the forthcoming naval arms conference in London. He also has been mentioned as possible successor to Nelson T. Johnson, who resigned as Assistant Secretary of State to become Minister to China.

LOWER RATES SEEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Prospects that money will be available over the country at lower interest rates for business were reported by members of the advisory council of the federal reserve board at a conference this afternoon with President Hoover.

Sylvester Plumlee of Olney, Ill., has filed suit for what he expects will be his ninth divorce. Plumlee's first divorce was in 1900.

Lions Club Told Of Chest Benefits

Henry Clark Addresses Club In Luncheon Program Tuesday; Club To Aid Lions At Littlefield

The Lubbock Lions club, in regular weekly luncheon session yesterday at Hotel Lubbock, had as an added feature to the program, Henry Clark, educational lecturer for the Lubbock Community Chest. In a short address he explained the work of the chest movement and urged the Lions to give their support in the coming drive.

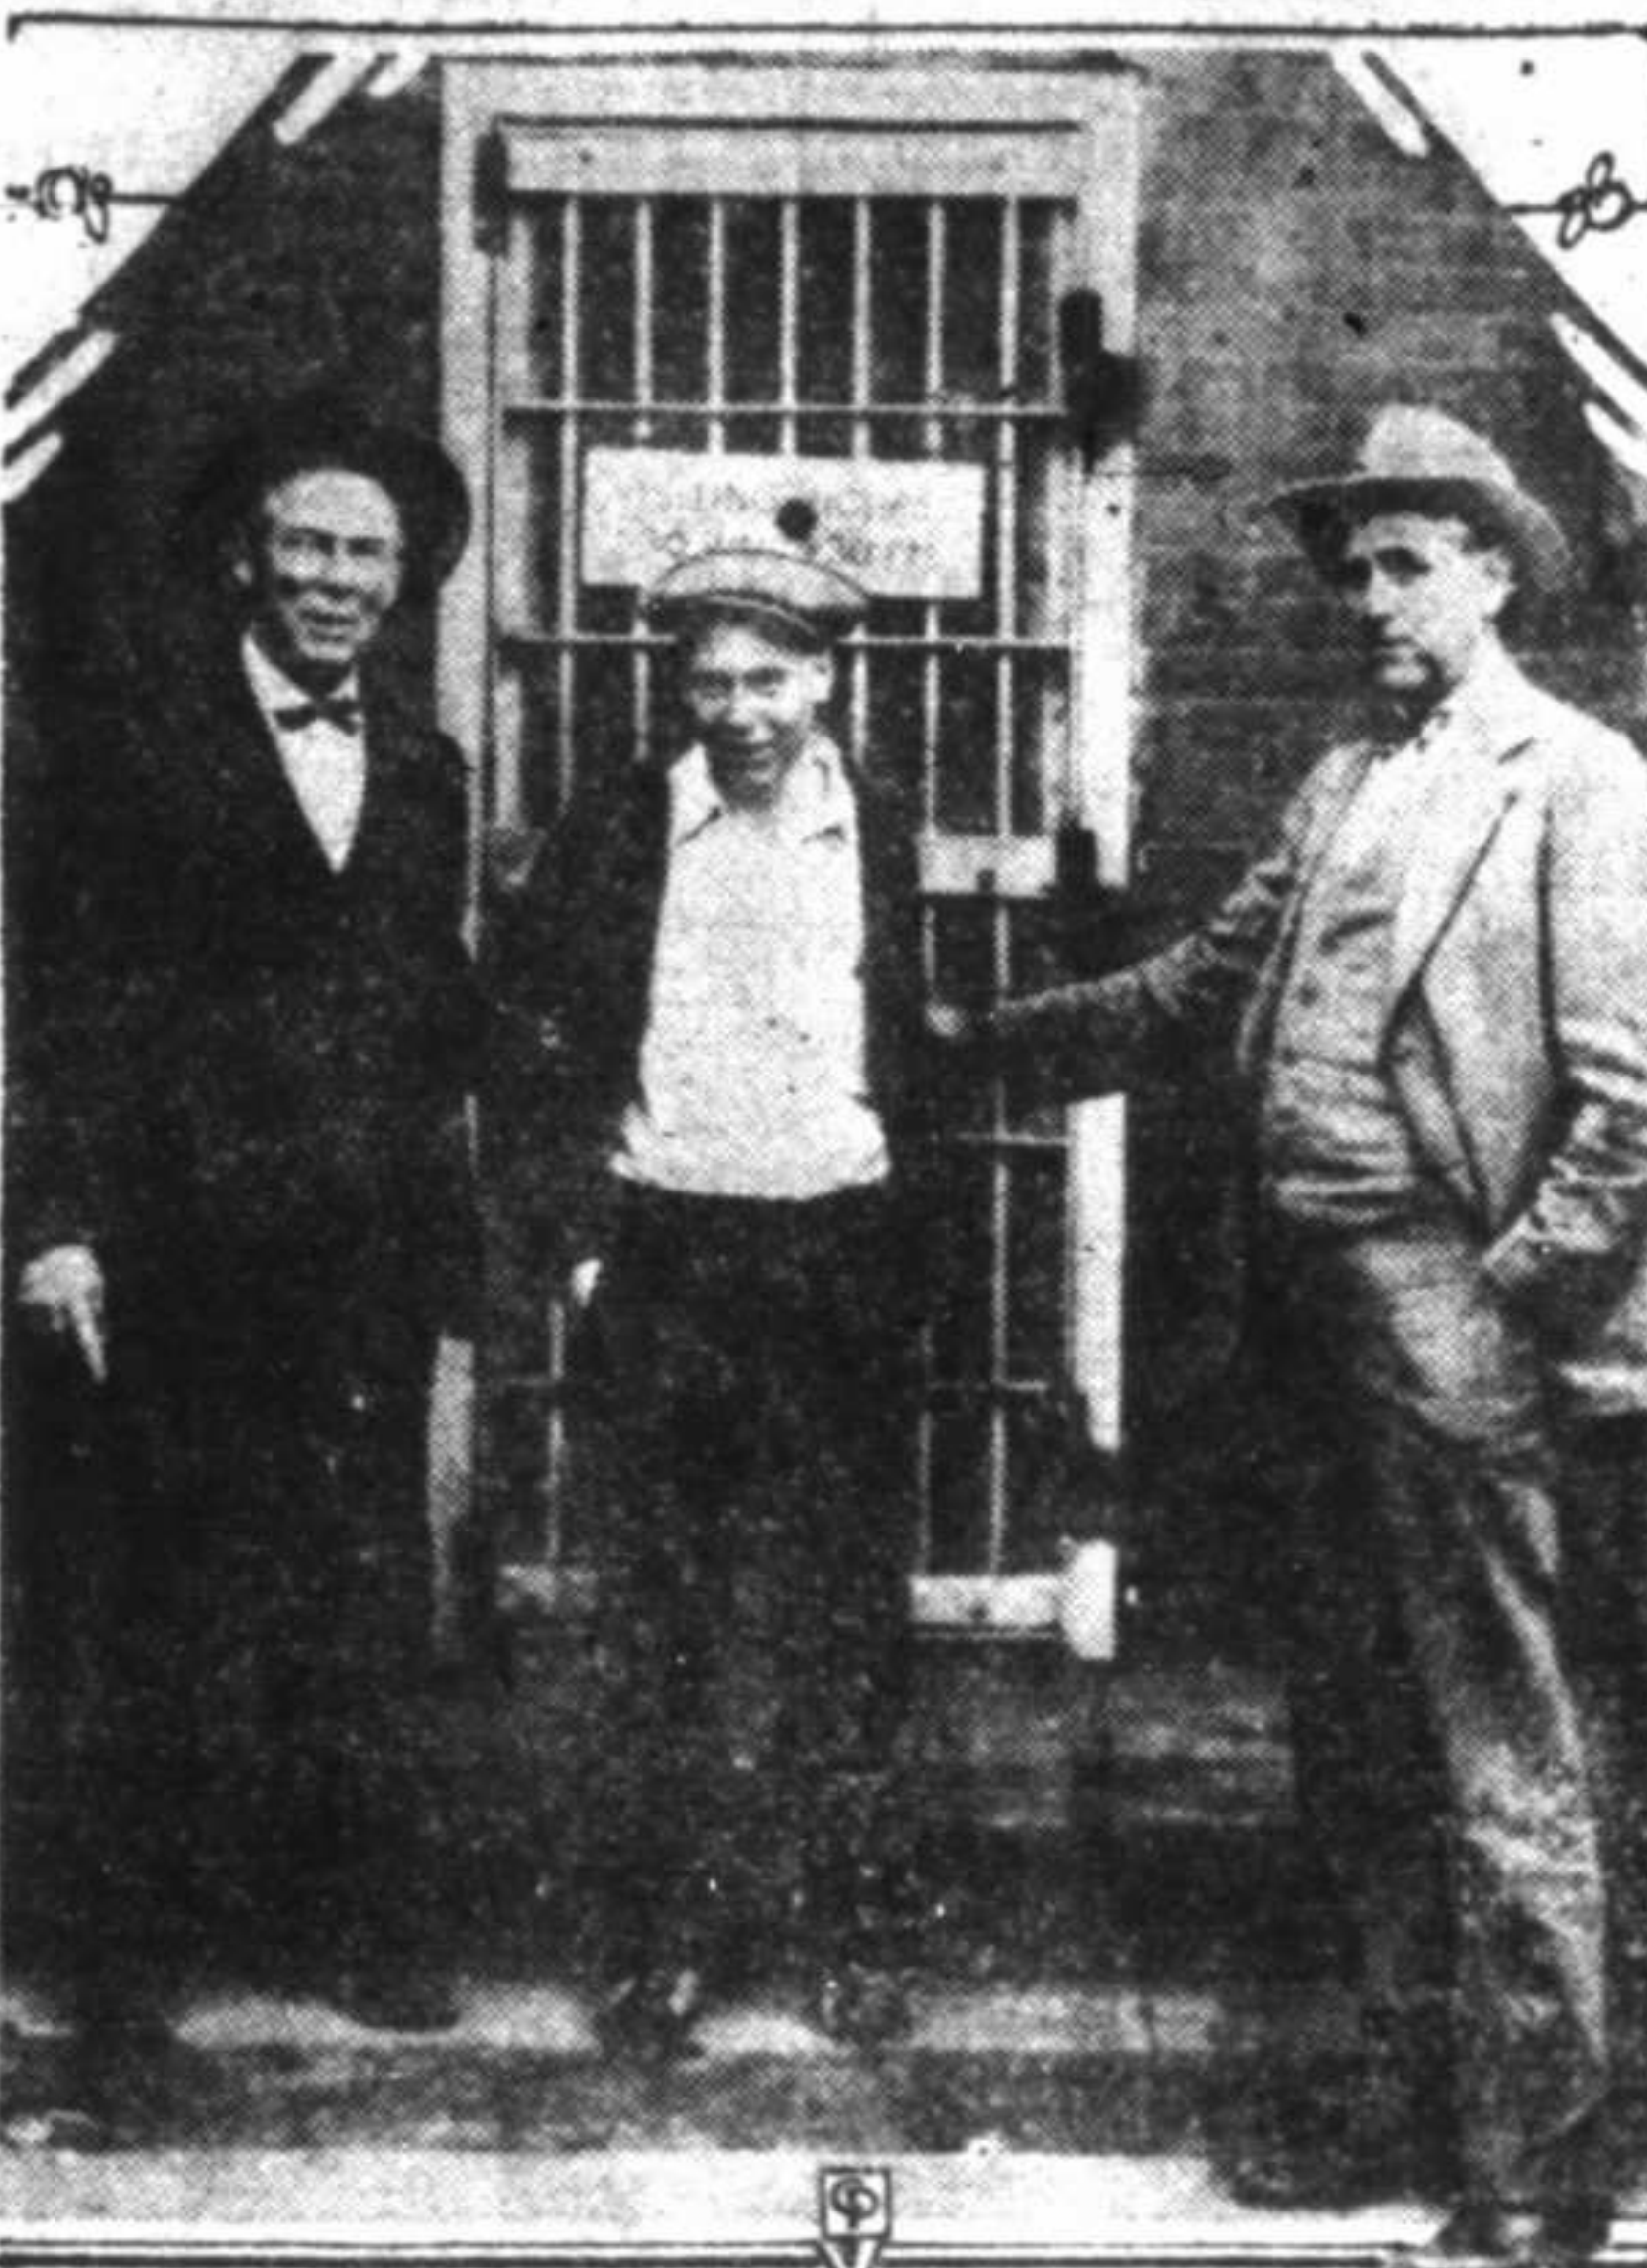

In connection with his talk he gave a short history of the Community Chest idea, stating that 11 years ago there were only 14 cities in the United States where the community chest had been tried. At this time there are more than 330 cities of the nation using the plan.

1,000 Subscribers. Last year in Lubbock, approximately 1,000 persons subscribed to the six agencies which this year are cooperating in the community chest. These include the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, Salvation Army, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

The budget for the ensuing year has been set at $30,000 and the speaker told of other cities the same size as Lubbock where the budget was many thousands of dollars more than here.

Announcement was made by President C. F. Drexel that the Lubbock club would go to Littlefield Friday noon to assist in putting on a program for the new Lions club there.

Judge Struggles Through His Docket Of Feminine Bootleggers On Trial

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 19. (AP) Struggling through his docket of feminine bootleggers, created by a drive last summer against women who sold liquor, Federal Judge Frank A. Youmans arranged to try a 19-year-old bride of six months today.

A 76-year-old man and three of his daughters pleaded guilty yesterday. The man, O. K. Cox, told a story of poverty. One of his daughters had been deserted by her husband, he said, two others were widowed, and a fourth had recently been crippled for life. The judge postponed the sentence.

Negro Sentenced. Eva Smith, negro, was sentenced to 90 days in jail on her plea of guilty.

The case of Mrs. Clyde Little, the bride, was called next. Her husband pleaded guilty, but denied his wife had had anything to do with his illicit trade.

Mrs. Velma Brown, widowed mother of three children, pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for two years with Mrs. Arthur

Temple of Texarkana.

Ten Plead Guilty.

Ten women, all of whom pleaded guilty to bootlegging will be sentenced today. They are Mrs. Marie Youngblood, Bernice Little, Mrs. Ruby Farris and Mrs. Maggie Parsons, white, and Hazel Grant, Elizabeth Canady, Elizabeth Roberts, Mattie McKnight, Edna Ames and Eva George, negroes.

STOCKS RALLY

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP) Stock prices turned upward today after a earlier period of selling had carried many issues down 10 to 15 points. The market was relatively light in volume.

Grady accumulation of U. S. Steel common, with advance, $2.91 a share to $3.25 before the midday mark of the three-hour session was reached helped to revive confidence.

Call money renewed at five percent, the lowest since Oct. 29.

Move To Speed Up Tariff Action Is Rejected Tuesday

Plan Of Short Cut To Disposition Of Bill Turned Down By Senate; Rumors Of Adjournment Heard

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP) — Their plan of a short cut to disposition of the tariff bill flatterly rejected by the western independents the "Young Republicans" of the senate today found more trouble in the offing in the indefinite form of rumors of a second attempt to bring about an adjournment at the end of this week.

A proposal by Allen of Kansas, "Young Guard" member, that the tariff measure be passed immediately with industrial rates generally restored to the level of the present law and the agricultural increases already agreed upon retained was turned down yesterday at a meeting of the independent group.

Rates Unsatisfactory. Through Senator Borah of Idaho, the latter served notice the present industrial rates were unsatisfactory and no compromise could be affected. In this attitude, the westerners were joined by Senators Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democrat of the finance committee.

The present law, he said, is being used by the democrats as a guide and basis for individual amendments, but his colleagues "will not hesitate" to readjust rates up or down as it thinks necessary.

"Young Guard" Opposed. The "Young Guard" will oppose determinedly the indicated effort to adjourn the senate on Saturday. Its primary purpose is to keep the body in session continuously and working away at the tariff bill in an effort to obtain passage before the close of the special session, now less than two weeks away.

The group first came to notice when an attempt was made last week to pass a resolution of adjournment, which had the support of their party leaders. Deserving the nominal leadership, the members of the group voted with the independent for continued session and were successful in defeating the proposal.

Negro Found Not Guilty of Charge

A verdict of not guilty was handed down last night after a jury in the 12th district court in the case of Will Bruce, negro, charged with violation of the prohibition law. Proceedings were held before Judge Homer L. Pharr.

Ray Odum was given a three-year suspended sentence by a jury in the court earlier in the day following a plea of guilty and request for suspended sentence.

Odum was also charged with pro law violation.

For the first time in history the death rate in Jamaica has just dropped to below 20 a thousand.

Railroad Prexys Talk With Hoover

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP) — Railroad presidents who conferred today with President Hoover were unanimous in their determination to cooperate in the maintenance of employment and business progress.

A White House statement issued after the conference said the railroad presidents had stated the railroads which they represented "would proceed with full programs of construction and betterments without any reference to recent stock exchange fluctuations; that they would canvass the situation as to further possibilities of expansion, and that amongst these particular railroads it appeared the total volume of such construction work already indicated an increase during the next six months over the similar period of last year."

The conference lasted for little more than an hour during which individual reports were made by the railroad presidents.

Besides the president, secretaries Mellon and Lamont and Chairman Lewis of the Interstate Commerce Commission attended the meeting.

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (AP) — W. A. Frame, 47, of Amarillo and his daughter, Miss Jeanette Frame, 18, were injured in an automobile collision here last night. Although they required hospital treatment, neither was believed seriously hurt.
